Showdown Set On Rent Bill Today As Deadline Nears

House Group Demands Aid For China

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 28—The House Foreign Affairs committee tonight demanded aid for anti-Communist China as administration leaders stepped up their drive for quick passage of the European recovery bill.

The committee asked for House passage of a $54 million program to continue Chinese aid for "a few months" and a review of the whole situation with a view to providing further assistance.

Sen. Lucas (D-Ill) majority leader, announced at the end of a day of debate that the Senate will be held in night session tomorrow in an effort to pass the $5,580,000,000 measure to continue the European recovery program.

Taft Urges Slash

Lucas said his aim is Senate passage of the bill before House leaders call it up Wednesday. Administration chiefs are striving for final action on the legislation before European recovery funds run out early next month.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) charged during the Senate debate that Britain is asking the United States to "underwrite" its public health program with ERP funds.

The GOP policy leader said he will support a slash of up to one billion dollars in the ERP total, which is intended to continue the program for another 15 months.

Chinese Aid Continued

The China aid bill approved by the House committee would continue an assistance program for the Nationalist government until Feb. 1950.

It would extend authority to use funds that otherwise would revert to the treasury with the expiration of Chinese aid at midnight Saturday. The committee took the position that this small sum was "better than nothing."

It insisted that the United States should adopt the principle that it is "important to its own national interest to continue a program of economic assistance in China so far as conditions make it practicable and appropriate to do so."

More Funds Sought

The group declared that the U. S. should persist in supporting "the principle of international respect for China's territorial and administrative integrity."

The committee said U. S. aid during the last year has been of value in keeping a bad situation from getting worse "and in minimizing unrest in coastal areas under control of the Chinese government."

Republican members of the committee sought a more substantial assistance fund for the Chinese, but finally agreed on the measure to continue existing funds.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) denounced the entire bipartisan foreign

HST Plans Fight On Appointment

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—Despite his lieutenants' advice that the chances look dim, President Truman was reported today to be insisting on a fight to save the Mon C. Wallgren appointment.

The fight may not begin immediately, however. The President is said to have decided to let the whole matter rest for a few days while he sees what can be done toward outmaneuvering some of Wallgren's opponents.

Associates said that if other means fail they expect the President to urge Chairman Tydings (D-Md) to take the lead in a fight to take away from the Senate Armed Services committee and place directly before the Senate Wallgren's nomination to head the National Security Resources board.

GOP Discusses Wallgren

Tydings told a reporter he has not been invited to discuss the matter with the President, but would be willing to talk it over if Mr. Truman desires.

The armed services committee put Wallgren's nomination on ice recently by a 7 to 6 vote to table it. Senator Byrd (D-Va) joined with six Republicans to form the majority for that action.

The effect was to deny the administration a Senate vote on the President's appointment of his former senatorial colleague and fishing trip crony — unless the committee vote can be changed or the matter taken out of the hands of the armed services group.

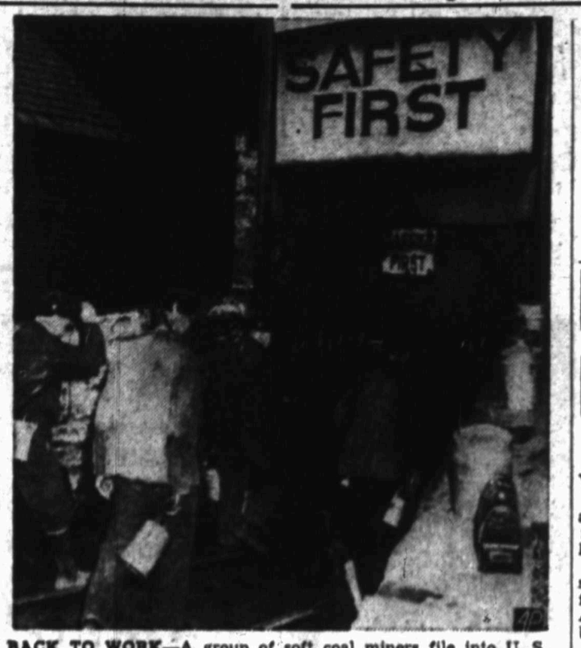

Committee Republicans discussed the Wallgren appointment informally during the day and were reported to have come to the conclusion to stand pat on their tabling vote.

INDIAN OFFICIAL OKAYED

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—The Senate confirmed today President Truman's appointment of John R. Nichols of New Mexico to be Commissioner of Indian Affairs, suceeding William A. Brophy, resigned.

Walkout Costs UMW $55,000,000 Wages

Production Rises As Miners End 'Holiday'

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, March 28—The nation's coal production rose rapidly toward normal today after 463,000 UMW hard and soft coal miners ended a two-week work stoppage east of the Mississippi.

The return to work was orderly and uneventful. Some operators said it would take them a day or two to reach the pre-shutdown operating levels.

Most miners were happy to be back in the pits. They had felt the loss of an estimated $55,000,000 in wages during the shutdown.

State after state in the coal regions reported virtually all miners working.

Railroads Perk Up

The walkout was ordered by UMW President John L. Lewis to protest appointment of Dr. James Boyd as head of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. He said it also would be a memorial to dead and injured miners.

Coal mining in western states was not stopped by the Lewis order. Lewis said severe climatic conditions there made it necessary to continue to mine coal.

Coal-carrying railroads affected by the mine closing perked up quickly at the end of the work stoppage. Some roads announced plans to recall furloughed workers. At the height of the mine shutdown, more than 70,000 railroad men were laid off.

Gets Back Pay

In the soft coal regions, the miners will work only three more days before another day of idleness rolls around. That's John Mitchell day, a contractural holiday in honor of an early UMW leader who is credited with winning the eight-hour day. The same holiday is observed in October in the anthrcite fields.

The coal mine shutdown ended with the man Lewis opposed sitting firmly in the post from which the union leader fought nearly two years to keep him. Dr. Boyd's appointment as bureau director was confirmed by the U. S. Senate just halfway through the work stoppage. He had served many months without confirmation—and without pay. Following the Senate action he began drawing his $10,000 annual salary and received back pay to December, 1947.

Shed An Extra Tear Today For The Boss; He's A Lonely Man

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 28.—If you have a spare tear handy, let's shed it today for your boss.

Nobody loves an executive. He's the loneliest man in the world.

The workers think he's a hard man, a Simon Legree in tweeds. The directors think he's a soft man, not quick enough at jacking up the company profits.

And so, the Association of American Executives has been formed.

Few people ever have worked up much of a lather over the plight of the downtrodden executive. But Carl Henry Monsees told me today that executives are the most neglected group in American life.

Works Like A Dog

Monsees is staff director for the House Committee on Governmental Operations, and is chief idea man and president of the executives' association.

The way he figures it, the executive's life isn't all "take a letter, Miss Fullenkamp," and fat bonuses.

Look at it the Monsees way:

The guy works like a dog to make a go of his job. Something goes wrong. He gets fired. The workers don't care. The people in the industry don't care. He's been too sharp a competitor.

"The poor guy always thought he had friends," said Monsees. "He didn't have friends. He had acquaintances."

The association is just beginning, but if all goes well, Monsees thinks it will become a clearing house of news for and about executives.

TO REVIEW CASE

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—The Supreme court agreed today to review the conviction of Harold R. Christoffel, former Milwaukee CIO union official, on a charge of testifying falsely he had never been a Communist. A federal jury here found Christoffel guilty of lying to the House Labor committee. He was sentenced to two to six years.

Texas Officers Returning From Colorado With Kidnaping Suspects

PUEBLO, Colo., March 28. (AP)—G. K. Beeman and his brother, Horace, were being returned tonight to Ozona, Texas, where they are charged with kidnaping G. K. Beeman's wife and son.

Mrs. Beeman and her two-year-old son left here today to return to Ozona with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Joslin. A few hours later, Sheriff V. O. Earnest and Deputy H. R. Laws left with the two men.

Mrs. Beeman is suing her husband for divorce. Earnest said the final decree would give her custody of the child. The suit is scheduled Monday in Ozona.

Meanwhile, District Attorney O'Neal Dendy of San Angelo, said G. K. Beeman had been charged with passing worthless checks in Paint Rock, Concho county, Texas.

CONSTRUCTION COSTS DROP SEEN

Committee Slashes $80 Million From Truman's Interior Budget

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 28—The House Appropriations committee cut 13 per cent from President Truman's interior budget today on the theory that construction costs will be lower than formerly estimated.

All building figures for reclamation irrigation and power projects were slashed a flat 15 per cent with a promise that the money will be restored next year if lower costs do not materialize.

The committee slashed $80,593,112 from the $616,805,020 which the President requested for the Interior department.

Most of the figures left in the committee bill were still substantially larger than those appropriated by the last Congress, and no projects or objectives were eliminated.

The Interior cuts brought to $389 million the total which the committee has recommended for elimination from Mr. Truman's record peacetime budget totalling nearly $42 billion.

For the southwestern power and national parks administrations, the committee allowed the full amount requested. Other major items were reduced from Presi-

HST To Delay Pact Approval

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28—President Truman today ordered a "breathing spell" before securing Senate ratification of the North Atlantic security treaty.

The President mapped this strategy at a White House conference with Secretary of State Acheson and his top congressional leaders.

Senate majority leader Lucas (D-Ill) upon leaving the executive offices announced that Senate consideration of the Atlantic pact would be delayed "until most of the pending domestic legislation" has been acted upon.

Count Carlo Sforza, Italian foreign minister, meanwhile arrived in the United States in the vanguard of the 10 other western foreign ministers who will sign the historic security alliance on April 4. He will see Acheson tomorrow.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, now aboard the SS Queen Mary together with the foreign ministers of Belgium and Luxembourg, is due in New York on March 30. Arrangements are being made for Bevin to have White House and State department conferences on March 31 and April 1.

The President will entertain the foreign ministers at a dinner in Washington's Carlton hotel next Monday after the treaty is signed.

Present at today's White House conference in addition to Acheson and Lucas were Vice President Barkley and House majority leader McCormack (D-Mass).

Cost Is Studied

The secretary of state is understood to have advised the congressional leaders that his department will have the European rearmament program ready for submission to Congress at about the same time the treaty goes to the Senate. The program is designed to put teeth into the Atlantic alliance.

State department officials and the budget bureau are now in a huddle on the cost of this program. It will need some final decisions by President Truman before it is formally put together.

There was an intimation that the unofficially forecasted cost of two billion dollars in the first year is too high.

Meanwhile, the department an-

Margin Limit In Trading Reduced

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Federal Reserve board tonight cut the cash down payment required on stock purchases from 75 to 50 per cent of the price of the securities, effective Wednesday.

This action had long been demanded by securities dealers and by New York Stock Exchange President Emil Schram, in the hope that it would lift markets out of doldrums that have kept trading at an unusually low level for months.

The reserve board explained it was relaxing the margin requirements "in the light of the general credit situation."

Credit Outstanding Is Low

This was a strong indication that the board believes that inflation has ceased to dominate the economic situation.

Earlier this month, the board had relaxed controls over installment buying credit, giving a longer term for installments on purchases of automobiles, furniture, refrigerators, washing machines, radios, and several other household items.

The 75 per cent margin requirement on stock transactions had been in effect since Feb. 1, 1947. For the 11 months before that, the margin had been 100 per cent—meaning that stocks had to be paid for entirely in cash.

The board was authorized by Congress to fix the minimum cash down payment to prevent "excessive use of credit" in the stock markets across the country.

Officials said credit outstanding on stock transactions now is at near an all-time low. The market for weeks on end has been practically asleep, with daily turnover averaging only about 700,000 shares, as was the case today.

Buckingham Palace Scheduling Public Engagements For King

LONDON, March 28 (INS)—Buckingham palace announced today that public engagements are now being scheduled again for King George because of the steady improvement in his condition.

A palace bulletin said the king, who recently underwent a nerve operation to improve a deficient blood supply to his right foot, "is making good progress and is feeling much fitter."

Lubbock Leads Texas Counties In Production Of Cotton In 1948, Official Census Report Shows

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

LUBBOCK led all other Texas counties in the production of cotton in 1948, the Bureau of Census report issued this week reveals. The official figure, not counting linters was 126,413 bales. This compared with 180,939 in 1947.

Lubbock county which was fourth in the nation in 1947 dropped to 15th place in 1948. An Arkansas county (Mississippi) led all producers with 291,286 bales. California was next with Kern county, 281,794 bales and Fresno county, 262,863. Counties in Arizona, Mississippi and Missouri also topped Lubbock's figure.

Other top producing Texas counties were Hidalgo, 117,502 bales and Cameron, 111,919. Hidalgo's crop was an increase of 35,000 bales over 1947. Cameron had almost the same identical production reported in 1947.

Some counties doubled their ginned cotton total. Among these were: Anderson, Cherokee, Erath, Hamilton, Henderson, and Starr. Most of these counties were small producers.

On the other side of the picture there were several counties whose crop was half or less than the 1947 figure. These counties were for the most part in the Panhandle, Plains and South Plains region: Bailey, Cochran, Coleman, Crosby, Dawson, Garza, Karnes, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Terry and Wilson.

Hail damage and blowing dust and sand accounted for part of this large decrease. The prolonged dry spell also took its toll in the unirrigated fields.

The total number of bales for Texas was 3,062,493 in 1948 as

Light Freeze Seen For Area

FREEZING temperatures coupled with strong winds and possible showers were forecast for the South Plains tonight and Wednesday morning.

A brisk cool front which last night was strung out along a line running from Clayton, N. M. to Dalhart, to Guymon, Okla., was expected to move across the South Plains about noon today, the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport said, and bring a sharp drop in spring temperatures.

The mercury will reach a high of 68 degrees today before the front arrives, the station predicted, and then will tumble to 56 degrees as the cold air spreads over the area.

Light Showers Possible

Light showers possibly will follow the cold air on its southward drive, the weatherman said, although last night indications of precipitation were scanty.

(Light to moderate snow fell in a wide belt Monday across the central Rocky mountains, The Associated Press reported.)

Killing frost Wednesday morning is not anticipated because of a cloud blanket overhead and a high humidity reading, the station reported, although the mercury probably will tumble to 30 degrees by sunrise tomorrow.

Winds Forecast

A steady rise in temperature will follow the 30-degree low, and a maximum of 65 degrees is expected by midafternoon tomorrow, the forecaster said.

Southerly winds ranging from 20 to 25 miles an hour are forecast for this morning. These winds will switch to the north and hold a 20 to 25 mile an hour velocity this afternoon and tonight, the station predicted, but will diminish Wednesday.

Temperatures Monday ranged from a low of 41 degrees to an afternoon high of 78 degrees. A low of 48 is forecast for this morning.

German Paper Says Stalin's Heart Condition Is Worse

BERLIN, March 28 (INS) — The Social Democratic newspaper Montag's Zeitung said today that well-informed British sources have reported that Premier Stalin's heart condition became suddenly worse a few weeks ago.

They added the Soviet leader, who is 69, is receiving 'constant treatment" from heart specialists.

According to the newspaper, the British informants, who were not identified, also reported that Stalin had instructed the powerful politburo to get used to the idea of making its own decisions without depending on his advice.

Johnson Sworn In To Replace Forrestal

New Defense Chief Promises Security

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 28—Big, blunt-spoken Louis Johnson was sworn in today as Secretary of Defense and promised to "make America secure by discouraging any potential aggressor."

He also pledged that the Army, Navy and Air Forces will be "united as one" in the service of the nation.

An estimated 15,000 spectators witnessed the colorful oath-taking ceremony in the five-acre garden court of the Pentagon, and with it the farewell to the retiring secretary, James V. Forrestal.

Johnson, 56, a former Clarksburg, W. Va., lawyer, told the throng:

"The size of the defense job we have is not of our choosing. It has been thrust on us by the tension of the world today. America is committed to defend its own national interest and the principles of world democracy.

"With God's help we are determined that American youths will not again have to take part in the tragedy of war.

"We want peace, if we can humanly get it with honor and freedom. But if there is aggression, we are clearly confident that we can stop it. In this faith, I enter on this high office in the service of the nation."

High Officials Attend

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson of the U. S. Supreme court administered the oath that made Johnson the civilian chief of all the armed services, responsible only to the President and Congress.

In the audience were members of President Truman's cabinet, congressmen, Army Secretary Royall, Navy Secretary Sullivan, Air Secretary Symington, and top ranking officers.

As Forrestal and Johnson came to the platform, the military band sounded four ruffles and four flourishes of drums and trumpets

Thereupon the court sentenced Vetter, 44, to five to 10 years in Sing Sing on a third-degree forgery charge. Vetter admitted forging a check for $30.

College Building Bill Resurrected

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—A proposed amendment to distribute part of the university permanent building fund revenue among all state colleges was resurrected this afternoon.

The House Committee on School Districts voted 5-4 to send it to a three-man subcommittee, two members of which had supported the amendment.

Change Approved

Previously the House Constitutional Amendments committee had sent the proposal to an unfriendly subcommittee. The author, Rep. James Norton of Nacogdoches, obtained consent of the House to send it to the school districts committee.

Under the measure, unencumbered revenue from the permanent building fund of the University of Texas would be divided among all 16 state-supported schools on the basis of scholastic enrollments.

Gibb Gilchrist, chancellor of the A. & M. college system, and Dr. T. S. Painter, president of the University of Texas, were among the witnesses today speaking against the proposal.

Taft, Bricker Oppose Plan

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 28—The Senate tonight postponed action until Tuesday on a compromise 15-months rent control extension bill which would assure landlords rent increases to provide them with a "fair net operating income."

The bill was agreed upon earlier in the day by House-Senate conference committee and called up in the Senate near the close of a day of debate on the foreign aid measure.

Administration leaders announced plans for long sessions, if necessary, to jam the measure through both houses before rent control expires at midnight Thursday.

Action Expected Tomorrow

Senate action is not expected until late tomorrow. Leaders are taking time out from consideration of the foreign aid bill to rush action on rent control, although European recovery is backing up against an early April deadline.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), GOP policy leader, said he will oppose the conference committee bill because the compromise plan for granting landlords rent increases "doesn't mean a thing."

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), one of the conference group, said he will oppose the bill and may move to have it returned to the conference committee to be rewritten.

Break Deadlock

Any unusual delay in passage of the bill admittedly would endanger rent control if not kill it outright. There has been no threat as yet of a Senate filibuster.

In reaching an agreement, the conferees broke a weekend deadlock. They rejected Senate provisions for two five percent increases and adopted a plan where rent boosts would be granted on a showing by landlords they were necessary to a "fair net operating income."

The conferees had been deadlocked over the wording of this formula.

Other provisions of the bill:

1. Authorize incorporated cities, towns and villages to end rent controls if the governor approves.

Thefts, Other Crimes Reported

Richard M. Andrid, 23 - year - old Mexican of 1410 North Third street, was fined a total of $35 in corporation court after allegedly leaving the scene of a minor accident at Eighteenth and Texas Ave. last night.

Later apprehended at a used car lot, Andrid pleaded guilty to having no operator's license and failure to leave information at the wreck scene. Fines of $10 and $25 were assessed and paid.

Law enforcement agencies yesterday were investigating two burglaries reported over the weekend.

Burglaries Reported

Paul Duncan of 1414 Eighteenth informed city police that a $45 radio and a $5 cigaret lighter were taken in a burglary there.

Coleman Steen informed the sheriff's department that his filling station and garage at 2701 East Ave. K had been broken and entered by someone who had removed two batteries, a quantity of tools, two tires and wheels, and "all the cigarets in a cigaret vending machine."

Thefts Are Reported

Several thefts also were reported.

A light tan 1948 Chrysler New Yorker, license AT 1275, was reported stolen from the garage of Bill Mead, at 2801 Twenty-eighth.

Bikes were taken from Lee Payne of Myrtle drive and Roger Garrett of 413 Third, police were informed.

French Swinging To Right, Election Shows

PARIS, March 28 (AP)—Interior Minister Jules Moch said today the French contonal (county) elections showed the nation is swinging to the right.

The Communists took a drubbing in the Sunday balloting. This was interpreted as signifying the French people are moving toward closer solidarity with other Western nations and have been encouraged by the North Atlantic pact, the Marshall plan and the Berlin airlift to stand up against the left.

The Communists who campaigned against the Atlantic treaty dropped 147 of the seats they had in the "general councils," advisory local governing boards.

Moch's own Socialists, who in the early post-war days played ball with the Communists, also were big losers. They dropped 150 seats.

Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Rightist Rally of the French People (RPF) gained 223 seats.

In all, 1,507 local councillors were elected.

DEATH TAKES TOLL OF PATIENTS BECAUSE OF CONDITIONS

Neglect, Lack Of Funds Prove Stumbling Blocks To Decent Treatment For State Hospital Inmates

By J. P. PORTER
Special Correspondent

"MURDER without malice" is the charge against Wichita Falls State Hospital.

A patient died there last March 9. The district attorney charges two hospital attendants beat the victim, a 49-year old man, to death. It is these two men who are formally charged. But in a larger sense the entire hospital and the system which operates it must stand trial.

No. 8

The charge reads "without malice" because it wasn't personal resentment that caused the beating. The attendants had known the newly admitted patient only a few minutes. The action occurred according to Texas Rangers who investigated, when the patient tried to break a minor rule. He objected to being given a bath.

Others Victims Of Neglect

Another report hit the daily papers this month from Austin State Hospital. An attendant shot and killed his wife and a patient who happened to be in the line of fire, and then slashed his own throat.

At Abilene State Hospital, death caught an epileptic patient several months ago when he plunged down a flight of steep steel steps in an epileptic seizure. Here no human factor was involved—except neglect and indifference which leave the Abilene hospital without even the money to buy rubber matting, much less to replace the ill-designed buildings.

Fortunately these are exceptional incidents. Much valiant and often sacrificial work is being done in Texas' seven state hospitals. But violence, brutality,

UN Official Says Atomic Controls Necessary In Spite Of Dangers

ST. LOUIS, March 28 (U.P.) — Frederick C. Osborn, U.S. representative to the United Nations Atomic Energy commission, said today that the world must risk violations of the proposed plan to set up a "co-operative" for nuclear energy rather than hazard the creation of an armed force to protect its atom piles.

In an address at Washington university, he outlined the American-sponsored plan approved by the General assembly last fall, calling for the establishment of an international agency to own all uranium mines and plants. The agency would apportion Atomic energy under a quota proportionate to that nation's share of the world's uranium.

Violations Possible

"Under such a plan," Osborn said, "there might be two serious types of violation. One, a continued refusal of inspection indicating an attempt at a large-scale clandestine operation. The other, the seizure of one of the plants of the agency, so as to use the nuclear fuel in the plant to make bombs.

"The plan does not provide for any armed forces at the disposal of the Atomic Energy commission to protect on punish violators . . . the world is not ready to be run by a centrally directed force of arms.

"Modern weapons are of a highly centralized nature. If any group of men were ever once put in possession of a monopoly of fighting airplanes, bombs — whether high explosive or atomic—guided missiles and fighting ships, they and their successors could control the world with little effort and no danger from any oppressed peoples, so long as this group of men were tough enough in their methods.

Hitler's Power Cited

"Do we think that the world does not today produce men tough enough to use as highly centralized power of this sort, and in their own interest? Have we soon forgotten the lesson of Hitler? Or do we keep our eyes closed to what is actually going on today?

"With three-quarters of the world wholly unable to take part in governing themselves, we must expect that there will be dictatorships for a long time to come. And if there were established a centralized armed force, the dictators of three-quarters of the peoples of the world would be dull indeed if they were unable to make use of their predominence in numbers to seize control of anything which would give them a monopoly in modern weapons.

"Once such a group got control, I can myself see nothing but a long period of darkness ahead and, finally, the emergence of an ant-like state."

The grasshopper jumps a height of more than 100 times its own length.

Eisenhower Leaves For HST's Vacation Spot In Florida

WASHINGTON, March 28 (INS) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower left Washington today in President Truman's private plane to recuperate from a severe stomach disorder at Mr. Truman's Key West, Fla., vacation spot.

Eisenhower, on leave as Columbia university president to serve as acting chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, told reporters he hopes to have the staff officials come to Key West for "a long weekend."

Praises Joint Chiefs

The general praised the joint chiefs — Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff; Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, and Air Force commander Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg. Eisenhower said:

"I do not feel our true worries can be traced to human or professional differences of these three. There are faults in our system and trouble in the world today."

Eisenhower was assisted to the plane by his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder. He greeted newsmen sitting in a reclining chair in the plane.

The five-star general praised retiring Defense Secretary Forrestal. Eisenhower said:

"I think Forrestal has been a great public servant and I can think of no greater accolade.

"I am confident that Louis Johnson (who took the oath as Forrestal's successor) is coming in to do a job."

Railroad Commission Reports 182 New Oil Wells During Week

AUSTIN, March 28 (AP)—Last week brought 182 new oil wells and 16 new gas wells in Texas, the railroad commission reported today.

Fifteen of the oil wells and one of the gas wells were wildcats. Forty-seven other wildcats ended up as dry holes, the commission said.

Total oil well completions for the year climbed to 1,922 up 414 over the comparable period a year ago. Gas well completions for the year totalled 182, leading last year's 159 for the comparable period.

Daily crude allowable as of March 26 was 2,249,309 barrels, up 12,705 over a week earlier, the commission said.

High Percentage Of Eggs Imported Here

Lubbock Residents Consume Over 4 Million Eggs Weekly

If all the eggs consumed in Lubbock each week were mixed in one huge omelet, it would fill Texas Tech's Jones stadium.

More than 11,500 cases containing some 4,140,000 eggs are brought to this city each week, according to figures in the office of D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent. These eggs are consumed in homes, cafes and for manufacturing purposes.

That tremendous number of eggs represents a lot of "hen-hours" of labor. For the mathematically inclined, it figures to about 62 eggs for every man, woman and child in Lubbock using recent population figures released by the Chamber of Commerce. So far none has been found who has claimed or eaten his share of the breakfast fruit although there are many who devour a large amount.

It w uld be safe to assume that Lubbockites are getting some help in stowing away all of these eggs and its a good indication of the trade enjoyed from the metropolitan area. Only 20 per cent of these eggs are produced in the county. The rest come from South Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma. (Local hens please note).

Plans For Modernization Of Houston Rail Facilities Revealed

ST. LOUIS, March 28 (U.P.)—Plans for the enlargement and modernization of rail terminal facilities at Houston were revealed today when Federal District Judge George H. Moore handed down an order authorizing the Missouri Pacific lines to lease a part of its Houston terminal facilities to the Houston Belt and Terminal railroad.

Rail officials said that terminal improvement contracts were ready for signature by leading Texas railroad companies.

Participating in the operation of a new freight yard in the north Houston area by the H. B. & T. are the Belt line's owners—Missouri Pacific lines, Santa Fe, Rock Island lines and Burlington.

Joint application to the Interstate Commerce commission seeking approval of the terminal unification project will be filed immediately by the four interested railroads.

Opponents Of Atlantic Pact In U. S. Fear Possible 'Grabs' By Reds

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Congressmen and others who are not sold on the Atlantic pact are asking what happens to the alliance, and to America's investment in it, if Communists should grab control of some members, such as France and Italy.

A similar question was asked regarding the Ruhr when the Allies began to revive its industry for the benefit of the Marshall plan. What if Russia decided to take it over after it was rebuilt? The answer was that there was no intention to let Russia do any such thing.

Red Opposition Beaten

A similar answer has just been given by the French people and the Italian parliament. The former, in their cantonal (or state) elections have demonstrated that they are opposed to Communism by an overwhelming vote. The Italian lawmakers have ignored Communist opposition in approving the alliance.

The prospect that the Communists can stage a coup over either of the countries is diminishing day by day.

In both countries the true strength of the Communists is represented by the extent of their control over labor organizations. Failure of their strike calls in recent months and open revolt against their methods in many unions indicates that this strength has been cut drastically in the past two years.

Pact Offers Guarantee

There are 2,000,000 party member Communists in Italy, and nearly 7,000,000 voted the Communist ticket in the last general election, but only about 100,000 of these constitute the hard, militant core which would be expected to support international Communism (Russia) as against their own native land in case of war.

The Atlantic pact itself is being interpreted as offering the best of all guarantees against Communist hegemony among any of its signatories. Not only is it expected to assure the feeling of security without which recovery cannot be completed, but two of its clauses, taken together are being interpreted as a direct guarantee against Communist coups.

Co-Operation Pledged

Article 3 guarantees self-help and mutual aid to develop the individual and collective capacity to resist armed attack. In the next breath article 4 promises co-operation to maintain "political independence."

In other words, an attempted political coup by international Commmunists would call the forces of the pact into play just as would an armed invasion. Fear for the future of France and Italy is the very type of fear which the pact is designed to allay.

Lt. Col. Durham Assigned To Duty At St. Louis Army Center

MANILA, March 28 (Special)—Lt. Col. George W. Durham, son of Mrs. Dora Durham of Lubbock, has returned to the United States to assume duties at the Army Finance center, St. Louis, Mo. Until recently, he was finance adviser of the U. S. Military advisory group to the Philippine Republic.

A graduate of Lubbock Senior High school and Texas Technological college, Lt. Col. Durham entered active service in 1935. In civilian life, he had been employed in the circulation department of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

In the army, he has served at Fort Bliss, Texas; Moffett field, Calif.; Fort George Wright, Wash.; Ninth Service command, Salt Lake City, Utah; Sixth Army, San Francisco; and in the Hawaiian islands, prior to his assignment to the Philippines.

He wears the Army Commendation Ribbon and holds the permanent rank of captain in the Regular Army.

His wife, Grace, and three sons, George, Richard, and Rodney, accompanied him on the return voyage to the U. S. aboard the Army transport General Blatchford.

Egyptian Official, Divorced Wife Of Shah Of Iran Wed

CAIRO, March 28 (INS)—Beautiful Princess Famzia, divorced wife of the Shah of Iran, was married today to Ismail Sherine Bey in a simple palace ceremony which a royal Egyptian bulletin ascribed to "Allah's will."

The ceremony was followed by a wedding luncheon. Then the newlyweds prepared to move into their newly - purchased home in Cairo's fashionable suburb of Meadi.

The 30-year-old sister of King Farouk and the British - educated Egyptian government official were married under Moslem rites which permit the bride to remain away from the ceremony.

King Approves Marriage

Farouk shook hands with his new brother-in-law after the ceremony. The king's chief chamberlain, Abdul Latif Tallat, and Mohamed Neguib Salem, chief of the royal household, were among those present.

The rector of El-Azhar university, font of Moslem religious authority, conducted the ceremony and obtained consent to the marriage from the king.

After reading from the Koran, the Moslem bible, the rector pronounced the couple man and wife.

The princess, the former empress of Iran, was divorced by the Shah after a 12-year marriage. Announcement of the divorce last November came as no surprise. She had borne no son to inherit the throne, which can be filled only by male heirs. Her young daughter remained in Tehran when she left.

King Farouk, at the time of his sister's divorce, announced his own divorce from Queen Farida who also failed to bear any sons.

The bridegroom, who served as secretary of Egypt's United Nations delegation last year, recently was a liaison officer in the armistice negotiations between Egypt and Israel.

New York Driver Dies Of Heart Attack After Running Over Child

NEW YORK, March 28 (INS)—George Biermesser, 62-year-old milk truck driver, ran over a 22-month-old boy today and died while carrying the child into the latter's home.

The boy, Perry Lent, suffered a possible fracture of the right arm and pelvis and internal injuries. He was removed to Fordham hospital.

Police said Biermesser suffered a heart attack.

Marylee Hahn
CAMPUS QUEEN
Meet lovely young Marylee Hahn—1948 Queen of the St. Lawrence University Carnival. Presentation of this coveted crown is a dramatic part of the colorful pageantry that marks this annual, midwinter college prom.

In a recent test of hundreds of people who smoked only Camels for 30 days, noted throat specialists, making weekly examinations, reported
NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS

MILLIONS who have smoked Camels for years already know—and hundreds upon hundreds who have made the Camel 30-Day Test now know—Camels are MILD!

Yes, with smokers who have tried and compared—with smokers who know—it's Camels for Mildness!

If you, too, want to know just how mild and flavorsome a cigarette can be—make your own Camel 30-day test. Smoke Camels and test them in your own "T-Zone" (T for taste, T for throat). Let your own taste tell you about the rich, full flavor of Camel's choice tobaccos, properly aged and expertly blended. Let your own throat report on Camel's cool, cool mildness.

Money-Back Guarantee!
Try Camels and test them as you smoke them. If, at any time, you are not convinced that Camels are the mildest cigarette you've ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund its full purchase price, plus postage. The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

(EDITOR'S NOTE: During the two months that Margaret Turner is in Europe, the Woman's Angle will be written by Ellen Miller, a member of the Woman's staff.)

Thirteen items in every woman's wardrobe should be chosen for their classic lines and long-wearing qualities, and the very best garments of their kinds should be purchased, in the opinion of better dressed women of the nation.

These basic items rarely change in style. Therefore, it is better economy to splurge frankly when buying them, and get the kinds you will be happy to wear season after season.

Coats and suits head the list, along with tailored silk shirts, sweaters and tweed jackets. Simple skirts and casual felt hats are also mentioned. In the accessory department: Fine leather handbags, pearls, string gloves, walking shoes and pure silk scarves. And, also included, is the important black slip.

After these basic items are in the wardrobe, the remainder of the clothing budget may be spent for afternoon frocks, frilly hats and other frivolous wearables, destined to be discarded after a season's wear.

MIDNIGHT MOO

This tale isn't strictly women's news, but farmers' wives might find it interesting.

A certain Tech professor, who requests that we do not use his name, says that time means nothing to a cow. We consider him an authority. He owns a cow.

The professor lives near the outskirts of town, and says all his neighbors milk their cows about 7 a. m. and 7 p. m., but that early morning rising is too much for him. Staying on the 12-hour schedule, the professor milks his Jersey at noon and at midnight.

And he says the cow doesn't seem to mind.

DECORATOR'S NOTE

You don't have to build a new house in order to get modernistic curved walls in a room.

A local lumberman tells us that sheetrock panels can be bent to form the curved lines so often wanted as backgrounds for curved sofas and other furniture arrangements. A panel of one-fourth inch sheetrock can be bent to a five-foot radius lengthwise or a 15-foot radius widthwise. One-half inch sheetrock can be curved to a 20-foot radius lengthwise and to a 15-foot radius widthwise if two one-fourth inch boards are used to achieve the one-half inch thickness. Curves of smaller radius may be achieved by wetting the paper covering before bending. The board will have its original strength when it dries.

QUICKY POLISH

An old aluminum pan and some salt and soda in water are all that's needed to polish silver flatware quickly and thoroughly, home economists say.

Dissolve one teaspoon of soda and one teaspoon of salt per quart of water, pour it into the aluminum pan in which the silver has been laid. Boil from two to five minutes, and chemical action of the salt, soda and aluminum will do the rest.

The silver should touch the pan during the process, and should be covered with solution at all times. It should be placed in clear water for rinsing immediately after boiling.

Knives with hollow handles should not be polished in this manner, as the boiling water will loosen cement. Neither should silver with oxidized or French gray finishes be treated with this method, since chemical action will remove the soft finish and make the entire piece shine brightly. However, for other pieces, this technique is said to be easier on the silver than with old-fashioned rubbing.

Six homes are to be visited and tea will be served at the home of Mrs. R. O. Bennett at 1901 Thirty-first. On Wednesday, five homes are to be visited and on Thursday, the final day of the tour, six other homes will be shown.

Tickets may be secured by calling Mrs. George Berry at 9205 or by contacting one of each day's hostesses after 12 noon. The Wednesday tea is to be served at the W. G. McMillan home, Levelland road, and the Thursday tea will be served at the R. H. Fulton home, Levelland road.

Mrs. W. C. Wood is general chairman of the tour. The advisory committee, assisted by others, is in charge of ticket sales.

The Marion Leftwich home, 1716 Twenty-seventh, which was shown in Sunday's paper as one of the houses to be seen on Tuesday was erroneously listed as the J. D. Leftwich home.

Green-Eudy Vows Read

Miss Cleo Eudy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Eudy of Turkey, became the bride of William L. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Green of Slaton, in a ceremony read Sunday night at 6:30 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage in Turkey. Rev. C. W. Parmenter performed a dougle ring ceremony.

The bride wore a navy blue suit with navy and white accessories and an orchid corsage. For something borrowed, she carried a handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Bert Degan; for something new, she wore rhinestone earrings; for something old, she wore a pin belonging to her grandmother; and for good luck, she put a penny in her shoe.

Miss Dorothy Wynn of Lubbock, maid of honor, wore a light blue suit with pink and navy accessories and a pink gardenia corsage. Jon Appling of Slaton served as best man.

After a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Slaton where Mr. Green is employed by Santa Fe Railroad company. He attended Slaton schools and the Sparling School of Deep-Sea Diving in Wilmington, Calif., and he served two years in the Navy. Mrs. Green is a graduate of Turkey High school and attended Draughons Business college.

Out-of-town guests included Misses Chichi Meadors and Gloria Cagle of Lubbock.

Tuxis Class Meets For Dinner Party

Tuxis class of the First Presbyterian church held a dinner party in Fellowship hall at the church recently. Morys Hines directed games.

Attending were Mssrs. and Mesdames Elmer Haass, Jim Milam, R. K. Harty, J. L. Davies, Alan Yaggy, Ralph Gray, W. H. Bannister, Don King, Thurston Mallard, Jason Gordon, Tom Stenis, O. L. Fredricks, G. N. Manning, Victor S. Smith, Morys Hines, C. C. Watson, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Young, Mrs. R. C. Douglas, Mrs. Mary Ellis and Mr. Cecil Ayers.

Britain increased its candy ration.

Today's Town Talk

DR. AND MRS. Roy Riddle, jr., 2436 Twenty-second, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moxley, 3117 Twenty-second, were hosts Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Hilton hotel when they entertained at a dinner for 17 couples.

A centerpiece of acacia and iris was arranged in a brass container, and yellow tapers burned in brass candelabra. Easter eggs were used as place cards.

After dinner, the group went to the Riddle home, where Jimmy Roberts showed moving pictures of Mexico City and Guatemala.

Mrs. John W. Lynch, 2826 Twenty-seventh, left Saturday by train for Los Angeles, Calif., where she will spend a week visiting with her husband.

Mr. Lynch is on the West Coast convalescing from an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Mills of 2627 Twenty-second, and Lamar Jackson, Tech senior, returned Sunday night from San Antonio, where they attended a five-state regional meeting of Alpha Chi, national scholastic fraternity, at Incarnate Word school.

Lamar is president of the Texas Tech chapter of the fraternity, and Mr. Mills is sponsor.

George P. Livermore, 1713 Thirty-first, local oil man, has returned from a month's stay in Santiago, Chile. His Pan-American flight was 28 hours from Chile to Fort Worth.

Mesdames Russell Denison and L. D. Marshall were hostesses Monday morning at 9:15 o'clock for a pre-bridal breakfast honoring Miss Barbara Leon, fiancee of Walter S. Scheef of Houston. Forsythia was used in decorating.

Guests attending were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. H. C. Leon; the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. M. T. Leon; and Mesdames E. L. Lansford, Wayne Martin, Sam H. Batton, C. A. Bickley, L. E. Settle, and J. E. Crawford.

Mrs. J. Ray Dickey, 2007 Sixteenth, entertained with a coke party in her home Monday at 4:30 p.m. as a courtesy to Miss Sylvia Whitacre, bride-elect of John Hampton.

Guests were Misses Jo Ann Simmons, Shelley Furr, Paula Fix, Bobbie Hampton, Louise Elliott, Alyce Howell, Barbara Jackson, Martha LaRoe, Jane Loflin, Judy Pierce, Jean Parkhill, Betty Quinlan, Bettye Thomson, Betty Jenkins, Lam McKay, LaVaughn Bearden, and Mesdames Don Raines, Keeton Hughes and Don Taylor.

Las Vivarachas will stage a formal initiation of six new members tonight at 6:30 o'clock in the Hilton.

A mock initiation was held over the weekend at the home of Johnnie Sue Hudson in Earth.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Witte, Tech students, have as their house-guests, Mrs. Enrique C. Aguirre and Mrs. Mariano Muro of Mexico City. The visitors made the trip to the States by automobile, and plan to remain in Lubbock until Wednesday night to attend the performance of "Joan of Lorraine," in which Mr. Witte will play a major role.

Mrs. Aguirre is the mother of Mrs. Witte and Mrs. Muro.

Wedding Is Set Today

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Niblack were hosts at a rehearsal dinner given Monday night in their home, 1628 Ninth, for their daughter, her fiance, J. C. Brockman, and their wedding party. The couple will be married this morning at 10 o'clock at Broadway Church of Christ.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth and decorated with an arrangement of apple blossoms. Bouquets of snapdragons will decorate the living room.

Mrs. J. H. Pruitt and Mrs. Robert Olson assisted the hostess with serving 30 guests.

NEW PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wiggs of Nashville, Tenn., are the parents of a daughter born March 21. Mrs. Wiggs formerly worked here at Lubbock Sash and Door company. She is a graduate of Lubbock High school.

Public Is Invited To Violin Concert At School Tonight

The public is invited to hear Robert Pipkin, violinist, who will be presented in a concert tonight at 8 o'clock in O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium. Mrs. Pipkin will accompany her husband on the piano, and will present a number of piano solos as part of the program.

Mr. Pipkin's appearance is sponsored by Allegro Music club, Lubbock Music club, Music Appreciation club and the Organists guild. There is to be no admission charge.

LIVES IN TRIPOLI—Mrs. William Thaman, jr., daughter of Mrs. Jim C. Bray, of Route 5, Lubbock, is living in Tripoli, where S/Sgt. Thaman is stationed. She, Sgt. Thaman, and their daughter, Sandra Gail, pictured above, have also lived in Japan. Mrs. Thaman is the former Miss Jewel Bray.

Organization Is Initiated

At a meeting of business women at First Christian church Sunday, plans were made to form a West Texas Area organization of Business and Profession Women's guilds and circles of Christian churches. Mrs. O. P. Hankins directed the discussion on the organization and Mrs. D. Drew of Plainview was named chairman of the area.

Approximately 50 representatives from Lubbock, Big Spring, Hereford and Plainview attended. Mrs. Bessie Hart of Fort Worth, executive secretary of Texas Society of Missions and Education, guest speaker, discussed the topic. "The New Look Within." Miss Dorothy Tomlinson, also of Fort Worth, led an open forum on the subject, "The Work of Texas Business and Professional Women's Guilds." Devotions were brought by Miss Iris Ferren and Mrs. Chester Gleason.

The musical program was presented as follows: a duet, "Ivory Palaces" by Mrs. Elois Elliott and Miss Marya Hooten, accompanied by Mrs. Jimmie Yates and a solo, "O Divine Redeemer," by Miss Rosalynd Lawrence, accompanied by Miss Ferren. A consecreation service directed by Miss Tomlinson concluded the program.

Miss Joardis Park is chairman of the local Business and Professional Women's circle.

In New Delhi, 265 refugee vendors won the right to set up stalls on the Parade Ground, following a seven-day Indian satyagrahs (show of passive resistance).

Women's Church Groups Hold Monday Meetings

Mrs. Russell Denison presented the yearbook program, "Paradise of the Pacific," for a meeting of Asbury Women's Society for Christian service in the church parlors Monday afternoon.

Opening song for the meeting was "In Christ There Is No East or West." Mrs. J. E. Crawford led the devotional, and Mrs. J. E. Walter, vice-president, was in charge of the business session. Reports were presented by Mrs. George Holman, recording secretary; Mrs. Lillian Steeley, treasurer; and Mrs. N. M. Lowery, secretary of Christian social relations of local church activities.

CHRISTIAN CIRCLES STUDY EASTER

Four circles of First Christian church studied "Good Friday and Easter," when they met Monday in various homes.

Mrs. C. H. Cale was hostess to Circle 1 in her home, 2703 Twenty-second. Fourteen members attended. Mrs. Dave Leaverton, jr., presided at the business session. Mrs. Harry Sharp presented the devotional and Mrs. L. O. Armstrong gave the lesson.

Seventeen members attended a meeting of Circle 3 in the home of Mrs. J. H. Hackfield, 1705 Twenty-ninth. Mrs. J. W. Klob was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Grady West offered the devotional and Mrs. Isabel Garrison gave the lesson.

Mrs. Fred Childress presented the lesson for Circle 4 in the home of Mrs. Steve Etter, 2120 Twenty-first, attended by 11 members and a guest, Mrs. J. F. Hunter, of Santa Fe, N. M. Mrs. Lester Grimes presented the devotional and Mrs. O. J. Snow was in charge of the business meeting.

Mrs. Vera Salmon was hostess to Circle 5 in her home, 3016 Twenty-second. Mrs. Jeff Watson presented the lesson. Mrs. Salmon gave the devotional and Mrs. N. H. McClure conducted the business meeting, attended by 17 members.

Members of Circle 2 studied "What Is Man?" when they met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Keeton, 2811 Twenty-third. Mrs. H. G. Bedford gave the devotional and Mrs. Frank Hayden taught the lesson. Mrs. Floyd Read presided at the business meeting. Seventeen members and two guests attended.

FIRST BAPTIST WMU MEETS AT CHURCH

Mrs. A. E. Cook, president of the Women's Missionary society, presented a standard of excellence for group discussion at a WMU meeting attended by 72 members at the church Monday afternoon.

Resignation of Mrs. Roy Bass as program chairman was accepted, and Mrs. Gerald Schantz was named to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. F. C. Stanley offered the opening and closing musical prayers. Mrs. W. H. Trice presented the devotional, "The Holy Spirit."

The program also included a song, "Holy Spirit, Light Divine," by a quartet from O. L. Slaton Junior High school, directed and accompanied by Miss Imogene Webster. Quartet members are Clarence Whiteside, jr., Ray McLarty, James Sides and Bruce Willis.

REV. CRANDALL PRESENTS LESSON

Rev. E. H. Crandall presented the fourth and last lesson of a series on the book, "Newness of Life," when members of the WSCS of the First Methodist church met Monday in the church chapel.

Mrs. M. B. Hilburn, president of the Northwest Texas conference of WSCS, spoke on "Church Work of Women." Mrs. Bob Fuller led the opening meditation. A Lenten prayer service, led by Mrs. A. B. Austin, chairman for spiritual life in the WSCS, preceded the program.

Musical Program Is By Charles McClure

Charles McClure, senior student at Texas Technological college, played piano selections following a dinner in Drane hall Sunday night. Approximately 100 women students and a number of guests heard the program.

HALLMARKS ON TRIP

Mrs. C. N. Hallmark, 2402 Thirty-second, accompanied by her sons, Sam and Bill, visited friends in Tyler from Thursday until Sunday. Mrs. Hallmark reports that azalea, dogwood and redbud are in full bloom in the Tyler area.

An average farm will use about 2,000 board feet of lumber each year.

Food Rations Slashed Because Of Low Funds For Mental Institutions; Need For Buildings Urgent

and sudden death will be a part of the state hospital scene as long as there is overcrowding, inefficiency, and antiquity. The conditions go hand in hand.

NEGLECT and indifference are the culprits. Their handiwork is seen in low salaries, long working hours, slum living quarters, and back-breaking tasks. These force hospitals often to hire unqaulified personnel, and sometimes even the best personnel break under the terrific strain.

The personnel problem is one of three basic handicaps. The others are shortages of buildings and of operating funds. Lesser problems are related to these three. Note this relationship in the following example:

Because of low salaries (operating fund shortage) hospital employes must be given other considerations, such as weekends off, even though this leaves only a skeleton crew (personnel shortage) which cannot operate the hospital on a normal pattern. This understaffing causes weekend visitors to be discouraged at all the hospitals, and forbidden at several. These visits are often important to the mental patient's recovery, but many parents and relatives can make such trips only on weekends. When they do come the visit usually must be made inside the ward, because reception rooms are filled with beds (building shortage).

More Funds Needed

The three basic shortages are based on lack of funds. Buildings needs and operating expenses are outright money problems. As for personnel, increased salaries would be a big part of the solution; the rest would be in the environment which a decent budget would provide: better living quarters, shorter hours, recreation facilities, plans for self-advancement, and eventual retirement.

Consider first the building needs. Approximately 400 mental patients sleep on floors because no beds are available. And it isn't just a problem of getting more beds. There isn't the floor space to accomodate them.

When California's Governor Earl Warren recently found 700 mental patient sleeping on the floors he ordered emergency cots from the National Guard. In Texas, Governor Beauford Jester would have to requisition National Guard barracks as well.

An $11,500,000 construction program included in the proposed budget now before the legislature would provide space for 4,000 beds. But at least that many new patients are expected during the next two years. Overcrowding would not be whittled a whit.

This would be a starter however. It would give hospital administrators a toenail hold from which they could work into position for some real action.

THIS action must mean now buildings as well as new hospitals. Five of the seven Texas hospitals now have over 2,000 patients. San Antonio and Austin each have 3,000. Most doctors and hospital administrators (including the Army and the Veterans Administration) feel that a hospital reaches its efficiency peak at 1,500 patients.

A special problem is posed by Texas' great size. Hospitals should be scattered throughout the state so each patient may be as near home as possible to encourage the all-important visits of relatives and friends. Recent population jumps in several areas have accented this need.

MORE —

The most important task during the next two years is the development of a detailed, long-range expansion plan.

Experts must study today's problems and try to anticipate those of tomorrow. Hospitals must be planned from location to population; from bricks to broomclosets. This must be done so there will be no repetition of the staircase deathtraps at Abilene, firehazards at Wichita Falls, or the unsteady foundations at Terrell.

Board Should Make Check

As a starting point in the long range planning, the State Board of Control should do some neglected stock-taking. Administrators have sandbagged the overflow of patients by a flexible definition of the word "capacity." As used in Texas "capacity" means the actual number of beds in a hospital rather than the number of patients that can be decently cared for. Those in a position to act must clear away such cobwebs as these before they can see clearly into the future.

Chairman Hall H. Logan and the present board have taken a positive and laudable attitude toward the senile problem, a main cause of overcrowdedness. Many aged who jam the mental hospitals would be happier and receive better care in senile homes.

There are plans to expand facilities for the aged at Austin's Confederate Home and at Mexia. This is important because a third of all patients in state hospitals are seniles. If most of these were placed elsewhere the space problem would be all but solved.

Besides the old folk, there are others who should be taken out of the mental hospitals. An estimated 600 epileptics should be in their own specialized hospital. The chronic alcoholics could get better individual treatment in a separate sanitorium. By all means the criminally insane should be segregated in a separate hospital.

THESE building problems are easily tied down. Not so the second major difficulty—that of personnel.

It's simple enough to see the dire shortage of doctors and attendants. It's harder to do something about it. It's more than a question of increased salaries. State hospital jobs must be made attractive to get doctors who are competent, and attendants who are trustworthy.

The need for salary boosts is self-evident. Last year the national average income of a private physician was $17,476. The present top state hospital salary for a general physician is $3,444. A ward attendant makes $90 a month by working the regular 12-hour day, or $81 for an 8-hour day.

If the new budget is approved the Board of Control figures to increase general physicians to $3,900. All ward attendants would go on 8-hour shifts at $100 a month.

These are piddling raises when compared with incomes available elsewhere. Nobody expects a state doctor's salary to be $17,000, but it obviously should be more than $4,000—even with free room and board.

Food Allotment Law

The personnel problem runs into so much confusion that it's hard to get a foothold to start corrections.

The heart of the problem lies in creating an atmosphere that will attract qualified people. The complexity of such a task, as well as its abstractness, is at once evident. Just what kind of environment is needed to keep attendants from roughing patients? Always there is the need for individual adjustment.

Some of the less abstract elements of a good hospital environment tie in closely with the third hospital problem; the shortage of operating funds.

Hungry patients don't make for pleasant surroundings. Nor is slow starvation considered good therapy for the mentally ill. But a food allotment averaging 39 cents a day for each patient writes its own ticket. The concentration camp complexion of Texas mental patients is not entirely due to a lack of sunlight.

The cost of living hit hospitals hard. Their food appropriation was made two years ago, and based on 1947 prices. Every hospital has scrapped bottom for months. Their only salvation was to dig into other funds for food.

Thus at San Antonio straw instead of cotton mattresses; at Abilene 43 cents per patient for each days food and three cents for medicine, clothing, building repairs, and all other operating expenses except salaries. It doesn't give the doctors much to work with.

THE food shortage has become symbolical of the accumulated troubles which have piled one on the other during the past decade. It is slow starvation in every phase of activity.

In the words of Board Chairman Logan: "We can't perform miracles and produce bread and fish to feed the multitudes. We can't wave a wand and produce a building."

Tremendous strides have been made nationally in the care and understanding of mental illness. Texas is getting some of that understanding. Money will help, but it is not a cure-all. With more money must go expert planning and wise spending. And first, last, and above all there must be a willingness in the people to accept as their duty the humane care of those who live in a helpless and forgotten world.

Raider Squad Preps For Texas Relays

Tech's Strongest Team Enters

Coach Maxey McKnight threw away his griping machine yesterday, took a deep breath and sent his Texas Tech track squad through anything but a typical Monday afternoon workout.

McKnight, stymied by a cold spring and strong winds, took advantage of yesterday's summer-like qualities and had his squad going through its paces. He didn't indicate whether he liked what he saw or not, but he wasn't unhappy.

The Red Raiders go into action for the second time this year Friday and Saturday at one of the nation's biggest track and field meets, the Texas Relays in Austin. Along with the Penn, Kansas and Drake Relays, the Lone Star State's meet attracts nation-wide prominence. Runners and field men come from all over to attend and this year's event is scheduled to be the largest in history.

By the same token, Coach McKnight intends to have Tech's strongest teams in the running. That means the Raiders have no desire to finish fifth, as they did at the Fort Worth meet. They were nosed out by Arkansas and SMU, schools that they could have beaten with only a few more points.

Pinnell Will Run

Coach McKnight believes that he has picked up the few more points necessary to finish high up in the Texas Relays. Not in the Fort Worth meet was Charley Pinnell, who last year won the high hurdles at Fort Worth. Pinnell, who played basketball, was not in shape this year, but is now. He will run the high hurdles and jump in the high jump.

Ed Clepper will head the Tech squad at Austin. The Mobeetie senior has been a standout the past two years in the hurdles and high jump and wants to have his best year in 1949. He finished third in the high hurdles at Fort Worth, tied for second in the high jump and was on the sprint relay team that finished third.

Certain Events Favored

Charley Reynolds, sprint king, has been slow in getting into shape and didn't place at Fort Worth. He's just about ready now for some good sprints and will go after both the 100 and 220 yard dashes, as well as running on the mile relay team.

McKnight says that he intends to concentrate much of Tech's strength on winning the sprint and medley relay events. Both quartets are strong and, with a break in the weather, should develop enough to make Tech's threat strong.

Publinx Golfers Win From Amarillo Team

Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club members won their first inter-city club match of the year Sunday, beating the members of the Ross Rogers Municipal course in Amarillo 18½ to 15½.

A return match has been set for April 10 at the local links. Paul Jones, Meadowbrook Publinx pro, said that Amarillo plans to bring upwards of 60 men here for the match.

A group of Meadowbrook players will leave Lubbock Thursday morning for Lamesa, where they will take part in the West Texas Pro-Amateur Golf association's first match of the season.

Results Sunday included Harry Delashmitt, Amarillo, over A. B. Holton, 1-0; H. L. Bradley, Amarillo, over Bob Ewerz, 1/2-0; Fred Hinson, Lubbock, over Cecil Smith, 1-0; Bob Dowell, Amarillo, over Carl Nail 1½-0; J. R. Also, M. P. Tobin, Amarillo, over Ken Holton, 1-0; Paul Jones, Lubbock, over Paul Smith, ½-0; Houston Trammell, Lubbock, over Colby Davies, 1-0; Davis Medley, Amarillo, over Bill Prince, 1½-0; Sid Oglesby, Lubbock, over Jack Robinson, ½-0; Dave Lawson, Lubbock, over Jack Robinson, 1½-0; Dick Slalcup, Lubbock, over Joe Witt, 1-0; Chet Mitchell, Lubbock, over W. C. Hunt, 1½-0.

Also, Jim Witt, Amarillo, over W. L. Carson, 1-0; Len Felton, Lubbock, over L. C. Whatley, 1-0; Buster Holton, Lubbock, over Don Gatlin, 1½-0; C. W. Nance, Lubbock, over W. C. Rogers, 1½-0; Jeff Jeffreys, Lubbock, over L. W. Cristy, 1½-0; A. M. Fleming, Amarillo, over Preston Baumgardner, 1-0; W. D. Jones, Amarillo, over A. E. Davis, 1½-0; B. W. Hayden, Amarillo, over Sloan Fortenberry, 1-0; Jack Craig, Amarillo, over M. D. Thomas, ½-0.

Also, Sled Allen, Lubbock, over Charles Whatley, 1½-0; Manse Allen, Lubbock, over Cliff Rogers, 1½-0; O. M. Ramsey, Amarillo, over Frank Wilson, 1½-0; and Bill Martin, Lubbock over R. Brown, 1½-0.

Four matches were draws, between Bob Ewers, Lubbock, and H. L. Bradley, Sam Cobb, Lubbock, and Jack Phillips, Allen Orr, Lubbock, and Bill Batson, and J. F. Nicholson, Lubbock, and Thurman Gholston.

Arena Fight Ducats Will Go On Sale This Afternoon

Tickets for the fight card April 8 at Sled Allen's arena, in which Bill Henderson of Lubbock will be featured in the 10-round main event, will go on sale this afternoon.

O. C. Foster, promoter, said that tickets can be secured at his gym from 1 p.m. today on. Three price scales have been announced, with ringside tickets going for $3.60, reserved seats at $2.40 and general admission at $1.80.

Henderson meets Paul Guerrera of Juarez, Mexico, in the main event, with three local boys in supporting roles, Bill Pollard, Charley Neff, and Gene James.

Notre Dame Awards Tony Zale Bengal Bout Recognition Award

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 28 (INS)—Former middleweight champion Tony Zale tonight became the first recipient of the Bengal Bout recognition award as "the man in boxing who has contributed the most to the youth of America by his example and competitive spirit."

COULD BE FLAGRANT PROSELYTING—Bill Stewart, veteran National League umpire, is shown wearing the uniform of the Boston Braves, National League champions. He's lecturing the pitchers on the new rules in effect this year, particularly in regards to the balk. It might be interpreted as a case of trying to get the ump on your side, but in reality, Stewart is making a swing of all the camps to explain the rules.

Two TKO's Highlight High School Division

Hale Center Boxing Tournament Finals Get Underway Tonight

HALE CENTER, March 28 (Special) — Fourteen matches were fought here Monday night at Watley Memorial gym in the Hale Center High school invitational boxing tournament.

Two technical knockouts in the high school division highlighted the program. Clinton Williams, 145, scored a TKO over Leonard Harris, 146, New Deal, in the second round. Another second round TKO was won by Jimmy Lamb, 124, Hale Center, from Kenneth Foster, 123, of Cotton Center. In the other high school fight, Larry Smith, 123, Hale Center decisioned Kenneth Rourland, 120, Cotton Center.

The finals will be fought Tuesday night, and about 25 fights are on schedule. A team trophy will be given first and second place teams; a gold miniature boxing glove goes to the winners in the high school division; and silver gloves go to first place grade school winners. Other awards will be given second place winners.

Hale Center led in points with seven; Spring Lake had five; and Hart gained two points. New Deal and Cotton Center are also entered.

Grade school results are:

Much Interest Shown In Tech's April 9 Intra-Squad Grid Tilt

If telephone calls are any indication of public interest, there will be a capacity, or near capacity, crowd at the Texas Tech intra-squad football game April 9.

Many calls came in yesterday on where tickets for the game could be procured and when they would go on sale. Most persons indicated that they intended to buy several.

Ducats On Sale Wednesday

Tickets will go on general sale at the Tech athletic office in Jones Stadium Wednesday and can be obtained there daily from then on. In addition, a ticket booth will be installed in the lobby of the Hilton Hotel and members of the Women's Ex-Students organization will man it. Tickets at the Hilton will go on sale next Monday.

Some business firms already have said that they intend to buy a block of from 20 to 50 tickets to give to customers and employees of the firm. Football players will visit local firms in an effort to sell tickets. They won't be high-pressuring anyone and merchants are urged not to feel that they must buy one or more. However, there's no law against buying as many as each firm thinks it can bear.

Plans Shaping Up

Plans for an extensive program are shaping up rapidly and it appears that the paying customer will be treated to both a good football game and a fun night unequaled in years. D. M. McElroy's committee is lining up local talent that is experienced and there has been nothing but enthusiasm so far.

Funds raised from the fun night and game will be used toward construction of a new separate athletic dormitory at Texas Tech. The college needs such a building badly and proceeds from this game will go a long way toward accomplishing the task.

Ladies' Bowling Finals Are Held

The final rounds of bowling in the Women's City Association Bowling tournament were held Sunday at Lubbock Bowling club in singles and doubles divisions.

At Playmor Lanes Saturday, Russell Hardin Tailors won the team championship by toppling 2,660 pins. In second place was Hub Laundry with 2,580, and Hemphill - Wells scored 2,572 pins for the third position. A mathematical error had placed Hemphill-Wells in second place earlier.

Singles competition was very close, and only four pins separated the first and third place bowlers. Polly Buckner won the first position with a 592 series. in her first game she polled 239.

Just two pins back was Faola Patton with a series of 590 for second place. Taking third place with 588 was Aleene Hilton. Her high game of 246 was good for individual game honors.

The doubles event was won by Helen Henkel and Gail Tyson with 1073. In second place with 1061 was Margaret Cowan and Jo Nita Jenkins, and Lenora Roberts and Nora Lee McCasland placed third, rolling 1059

Faola Patton took the all-events trophy with a 1,665 score.

All prizes and trophies to the first place winners will be awarded at the annual dinner-dance April 20 at Hotel Lubbock. The last meeting of the Ladies City association will be to elect officers and will be held April 1 at Southwestern Public Service Company.

The minimum rate of interest on loans paid by farmers in the Chittagong Hill Tract area of East Bengal, India, now is reported to be 75 per cent.

West Texas State Teachers College Will Get New Gym

CANYON, March 28 (AP)—Burton gymnasium, site of many important athletic events, is to give way to a new structure.

Plans are being drawn for a new gym at West Texas State Teachers college that will seat 3,000 to 4,000. It will be modern in every respect.

"It won't be a hangar, but something for the folks to drive by and see," Athletic Director William A. "Gus" Miller said.

The new gym is expected to be ready for the 1950-51 basketball season.

Westerners Enter Big Spring Meet

Preparation for the fifth annual Big Spring Relays began yesterday for the Westerner track team as they went through a light limbering-up practice at Chapman field track.

Coaches Fred Brown and Pat Ferris will probably take a squad of 21 boys to the Big Spring meet Saturday, April 2, and 13 events will be entered.

Wayne Stroud will make the trip, but it is not known if he will be in condition to run. Otherwise the team should be in good shape as far as injuries are concerned.

In an effort to get more speed in the 440-yard dash, Eddie Goetze will be entered in that event, rather than the half-mile. He has failed to gain speed in the longer run but has the endurance necessary for the shorter distance.

Time trials will be run in nearly every event today, and a big day is ahead of the boys. With the aid of sunny weather the boys should be in condition to take more first places than they did last week at Odessa when the team finished third behind Amarillo and Odessa. Both teams may be at the relays.

Following the same procedure set last week, the squad will leave Lubbock early Saturday morning by chartered bus and reach Big Spring in time for the preliminary events which begin at 9:30. About 15 teams are expected at the meet, and competition should be rugged.

Tentative entries in the relays are:

880-yard relay: Malcolm Young, Danny Boone, Douglas Weinke, and Jerry Denny.

100-yard dash: Charlie Williams, Donald Decker, and Wayne Stroud.

440-yard dash: Eddie Goetze, Kent North, and Cecill Caddell.

220-yard dash: Williams, Boone, and Young.

440-yard relay: Decker, Young, Williams, and Stroud.

220-yard low hurdles: Decker, Donny Ralls, Denny, and Deanny McGuire.

Mile run: Don Hancock.

Mile relay: Goetze, North, Caddell, and Henry McDougal.

Pole vault: Alfred Adair, W. J. Blake, and Caddell.

Broad jump: Williams, Boone, and McDougal.

Shot-put: Morris Moyers, Dale Young, and Teddy Vaught.

High jump: Adair, Richard Allen, and Young.

Discus: Douglas Ross, Adair, and Decker.

Boys Club Diamond Squad Downs Slaton High School Nine, 8-1

Boys Club defeated Slaton High, 8-1, yesterday at Boys Club diamond behind the one-hit pitching of three Boys Club pitchers.

The only batter to hit safely for the Slaton team was the pitcher, Carl Willis, who singled in the last inning. Joe Hall and Jackie Martyn pitched hitless innings.

Leading the eight-hit attack of Boys Club was Royce Jones with two singles in two trips to the plate and Bennie Scott with a double and a single in three times at bat.

M. D. Stevens and Jackie Cook divided the time behind the plate for the locals.

Thursday afternoon at Boys Club diamond, the clubbers will play Tech independents.

Miss Panama Named Champion Quarterhorse In Tucson Running

TUCSON, Ariz., March 28 (AP)—Miss Panama, owned by L. M. Blackwell of Amarillo, Tex., is the new world champion quarterhorse racer.

She won the title here yesterday by upsetting a field and winning the 1949 quarterhorse world's champion race.

Miss Panama went the 440-yard distance in 22 4/5 seconds and paid $15.

An El Paso horse, Miss Bank, placed second. She was an odds on favorite to win. Miss Bank is owned by D. V. Land.

Lubbock High Edges Morton Nine, 8 To 7

The Westerner baseball team squeezed by Morton High school Monday, 8-7, when Dean White singled with the bases loaded in the bottom of the ninth inning to send Norman Bantz home with the winning run.

Both teams committed errors with surprising frequency, but the Westerners made 10 miscues to six for the visitors. And the hitting was very poor although seven hits were made.

Most of the regulars were replaced in the sixth inning with substitutes, and up to that time the first team had made four runs from two hits and three Morton errors. One hit was a home run by Jessie Fullerton in the first inning.

Morton broke loose in the sixth inning for seven runs on four errors, three walks, and two hits. Pitcher Bennie Day had not given up any hits to the visiting club in the preceding two innings, but after striking out the first man to face him in the sixth the support from the field failed and the runs started pouring in.

Probably the most costly error for the Westerners was the muffing of a fly ball by White which allowed two runs to score.

Jimmy Hamilton started for the locals and allowed one hit in his three inning stint while striking out two men. He also picked two men off first base. He was followed by Day who suffered by poor fielding, striking out five batters.

Coming on in the seventh inning, Jim Wilson limited the Morton team to one hit, struck out eight batters, and allowed no runs, although three errors were made while he was pitching.

Westerner runs were scored by Fullerton in the first; Jimmy Sexton, Day, and Jimmy Richards in the fifth; Hamilton, running for Borgess, in the sixth; Bantz and Morris Turner in the seventh; and Bantz in the ninth.

High-Low Golf Meet Now In Second Week

Play in the High-Low golf tournament at Lubbock Country club divided the field by almost half the past week, and seven other teams will be eliminated this week. Three drew byes.

Bad weather interrupted play several days last week, but the elimination continued. In matches this week, the schedule of play has Bill Tatum and Hiram Parks Vs. Jack Markham and Robert Moxley; C. E. Fish and Jack Stone Vs. Roy Cooper and Wilkie Talbert; Dr. R. T. Canon and Jake Warnick Vs. Hugh Anderson and Kyle Rattiseau; F. L. McRee and J. V. Powers Vs. Harris Underwood and Jake Hassell; Bill Bartley and Bob Lavender Vs. Weymond Newton and F. L. Lindsey; Raymond Marshall and K. N. Clapp Vs. C. C. Caldwell and Dr. C. B. Batson; and Olen Stewart and Tom Pendergraff Vs. J. A. Raley and Dick Green.

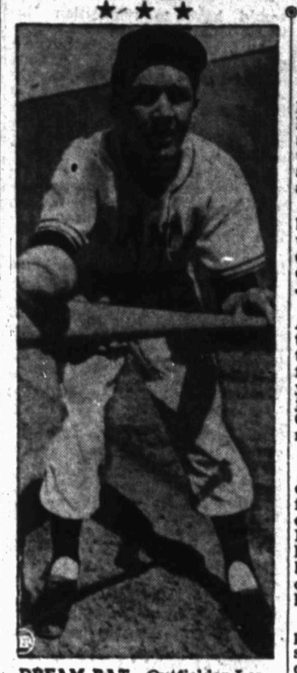

Three defaults marked the matches last week. H. M. Chick and R. J. Cheatham defaulted to Markham and Moxley; John A. Bell and E. R. Howell lost their match by default; and T. L. Sampson and H. D. Delaney failed to appear for their match.

Cooper and Talbert advanced by winning a tough match from G. E. Taylor and B. E. Adair, 3-2. And Melvin Best and Dr. J. R. Harris lost to Tatum and Parks, 2-1. Another 2-1 match was won by Biggers and Campbell over Ted Tipps and Dr. Dave Haymes.

The other matches were won, 1 up, Fish and Stone defeated O. A. Terry and Troy Peeples; Charles Townes and H. D. Allen were defeated by Canon and Warnick; Anderson and Ratisseau downed H. J. Patterson and Orville Stewart; McRee and Powers were victors over John Trout and W. S. Moncrief; Cecil Horne and Dr. J. M. Reynold won over S. R. Forsythe and O. A. Brock.

Bartley and Lavender downed Dr. W. A. Schaal and Chas. A. Guy, Jr.; J. K. Bradshaw and L. O. Neill fell to Newton and Lindsey; and Stewart and Pendergraff defeated Lindsey Telford and Guy Brown.

Top Stars To Hold Spotlight In City

DREAM BAT—Outfielder Les Layton, rookie Giant, wishes he could use a bat as large as this one appears in the trick shot taken at the Giant's training camp in Phoenix, Ariz. Layton is one of the promising players on the New York roster and probably will be seen in action next Tuesday, when the Giants play the Cleveland Indians here at Rosenthal Field.

Texans Hartung, Tucker To Appear

A week from this afternoon the New York Giants and the Cleveland Indians will take the field at Rosenthal Field for an exhibition game that promises to have all the thrills major league fans are used to having every day.

The Indians, world champions, have a score to settle in Lubbock with the Giants. A year ago they came here with a strong team, only to run into Rookie Sheldon Jones, who beat them 10 to 2.

Cleveland went on to win the American League pennant and the world's championship, while the Giants stumbled, faltered and fell in the senior circuit. This year the Indians appear to have just as strong a club, while the Giants have made some improvements.

Durocher To Be Here

Of course the center of most eyes will be Lippy Leo Durocher, fiery manager of the Giants and erstwhile Brooklyn Dodger pilot. Durocher is attempting to instill his same rambunctious playing habits into the Giants and there's certain to be plenty of fireworks here.

Lou Boudreau, the outstanding player in the majors last year, still is managing the Indians. He's done a fine job since holding the reins of the Indians and playing shortstop, a position he seems to own. And he teams with one of the greatest second baseman in the business, Joe Gordon, to give the Cleveland nine an outstanding Keystone combination.

There's a pair of Texans returning to Lubbock this year who also will be more than somewhat in the limelight, Clint Hartung of Hondo on the Giants and Thurman Tucker of Midland on the Indians.

Tickets On Sale

Hartung was purchased from Minneapolis in 1943, after busting down fences in the American Association. He didn't make it as an outfielder with the Giants, but was converted to the pitching staff and has done well enough to stay with the club. Last year he won and lost eight for a .500 record.

Tucker is one of the lesser heroes of the Indians, a player whose playing has been overlooked, to a large degree. Tucker's record is not outstanding, but his presence in the lineup seemed to spark the Indians and while he played, they won 38 games of 53 for an amazing .719 mark.

The bespectacled Tucker, nicknamed "Joe E" by his teammates because of his resemblence to the comedian, led the Texas League in stolen bases while playing with the Fort Worth Cats. He stood ont on a weak Chicago White Sox club and has been more than dependable for the Indians. A catch of his in the World Series was one of the top fielding gems of the series.

Tickets still are on sale at the Hub Clothiers at $1.20 each, with no reserved seats. About half of the tickets already have been sold and the remaining 4,000 probably will go before Tuesday.

Tahoka Enters Oil Belt League

Full strength was reached recently in the Oil Belt league when Tahoka gave notice that a baseball team would be organized there. With this addition, eight teams are now in the league.

At a meeting in Lubbock March 13, representatives of the teams already in the league voted to accept one other team and to have a 35 game schedule, beginning March 24. Since that time Tahoka had been contacted, but it was not until last weekend that the organization of the team was completed. Frank Larkin of Tahoka will act as business manager.

Other teams are Levelland, Post, Sundown, Denver City, Slaton, Brownfield, and Seagraves.

Games will be played on Sunday afternoon and Thursday night. Night games will be played at towns with lighted fields. Sundown and Post now have lighted diamonds, and Slaton and Levelland plan to install lights soon.

Ring Officials Suspended

NEW YORK, March 28 (INS)—Robert Villemain of France won a "moral victory" today over Jake Lamotta when the New York State Athletic Commission indefinitely suspended the referee and judge who awarded an unpopular decision to Lamotta Friday night.

The commission, following precedent, refused however to upset the verdict made after the fight in Madison Square Garden last week.

In a closed meeting, the Commission acted against referee Harry Ebbetts and Judge Harold Barnes after noting the nod to the Bronx contradicted the view of practically everyone who saw the bout, "especially members of the commission."

Before the Commission meeting, both suspended officials continued to maintain the correctness of their decision, although the press and customers had been overwhelmingly against them. Ebbetts insisted:

"If I was to referee Villemain against Lamotta tomorrow night, I would still vote the same way I did Friday."

"Lamotta," Barnes said, "landed the most damaging, effective punches."

Along with winning the crowd support and a 20-1 edge of reporters at the ringside, Villemain received the vote of the other judge, Charles Shortell.

The Commission statement, issued after the closed meeting said there had been no reports or any information of "any influence of any kind that might have biased the official judgment" of Barnes and Ebbetts.

Jean Bretonnel, manager of the French middleweight who has been blanked in his two American starts, will receive an official hearing before the Commission tomorrow on his protest.

The incident occurred in the final inning of a game with St. Paul, which the Dodgers won 9 to 4.

Bonus Rules Changed In Class AAA And AA

CINCINNATI, March 28. (AP) — The baseball rules were changed today to put Class AAA and Class AA league clubs on the same footing with the majors in the amount of money they may pay a man before he becomes a bonus player.

Under the rule change, a player given $6,000 or more by a major league, Class AAA or Class AA club to sign a contract becomes a bonus player.

Until today, Class AAA clubs could not pay more than $4,500 to a player to sign a contract without the bonus player tag being hung on him for the rest of his baseball career.

The limit for Class AA clubs was $3,000 until major league magnates, by mail vote, announced today by baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, decided on the changes.

The American Association, the International league and the Pacific Coast league are the Class AAA circuits. In Class AA are the Southern Association and the Texas league.

PITTSBURGH, March 28 (INS)—Two baseball fans filed a $50,000 suit against the Pittsburgh Pirates today, claiming they were injured when another patron fell from the second tier seats and landed on them.

They are Robert L. Dodson, 26, and his brother-in-law, Charles Marr, 32.

Idalou Wins County Meet

Idalou High school beat tennis squads from Shallowater and Frenship High schools yesterday afternoon at the Texas Tech tennis courts, winning the Lubbock County tournament for District 7-B schools.

Idalou had 43 points, Shallowater 38 and Frenship 6.

Shallowater and Idalou staged a close race for first place in the tournament, but Frenship upset the Mustangs in girls junior doubles and Idalou won the girls senior doubles to turn the tide.

Don Seale of Idalou won the senior boys singles, Jerry Brock of Shallowater won the junior boys singles, Clydene Whitaker of Shallowater won the senior girls singles and the junior girls singles went to Shirley Giles, also of Shallowater.

Shallowater won the senior boys doubles and junior boys doubles, while Idalou won the senior girls doubles and the junior girls doubles went to Frenship.

The tournament was under the general direction of Dee Hancock, Shallowater, with G. D. Taylor in charge of the seniors and Charles Booz in charge of the juniors.

Medals were given to the first three places in each event.

The results:

SENIOR BOYS DOUBLES
Darrell Murphy-Hulin Fowler (Shallowater), defeated Wayne Ramsey-Gerald Isabel (Frenship), 6-3, 6-4; Murphy-Fowler defeated Billy Ray Caconougher-Billy Ross Armstrong (Idalou), 6-3, 6-3 (championship).

SENIOR BOYS DOUBLES

SAM HOUSTON WINS

HOUSTON, March 28 (AP)—Sam Houston State scored seven runs in the third inning today and coasted to an easy 11 to 4 victory over the Rice Owls.

BAYLOR GAINS 14 TO 3 VICTORY

Bears Drop Southern Methodist To Open Southwest Loop Race

WACO, March 28. (AP) — The Baylor Bears used 11 hits and nine walks to wallop Southern Methodist university, 14-3, here today in the first Southwest Conference baseball game of the season.

Clyde Robinson and Fred Copeland teamed to hold Southern Methodist to six hits.

Kyle Rote's single scored Doak Walker in the first inning to give Southern Methodist a brief lead.

Baylor tied the score in the second inning when Dutch Schroeder doubled Chad Sneed home. The Bears exploded for seven runs in the fifth inning to take a big lead, then added to the margin in the sixth frame with a four-run outburst.

Schroeder walloped a four-run homer in the big fifth inning for the Bears.

Southern Methodist's last two runs came in the third, when Joe Szekely doubled Chuck Devereaux and Jack Redding home.

Lamesa's Gun Club Stages First Shoot

LAMESA, March 28 (Special)—Lamesa's Gun club staged its first shoot Sunday afternoon with nearly 100 members testing their skill, despite high winds and dust.

A new skeet range, described by M. A. Garrett, arms company official who helped install the traps, as "one of the finest of its kind anywhere" was recently completed on the Sam Allen Ranch. The traps are electrically operated.

Many of the club members tried their hand at skeet shooting for the first time. Top scores for 25 targets included Bob Huff and Dr. U. H. Zee, club president, 19; Tommy McAllister, 18; Duward Williams, 16; Lex Carrell and Connally Baldwin, 15.

Next regular shoot will be held April 3. Non-members will be allowed to shoot later on and will be charged a set fee. Applications for membership must be passed on by a membership committee.

Tentative plans are underway for the joint construction of an outdoor rifle range near the skeet layout by the gun club and the local National Guard.

Sam Snead Captures Greensboro Tourney

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 28 (AP)—Sam Snead proved a superior mudder today to defeat Lloyd Mangrum by two strokes in their playoff for the top money of $2,000 in the Greensboro Open golf tournament.

The veteran slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., posted a 35-34—69 to win the event for the third time in its 10 stagings.

Mangrum, the defending champion from Chicago, stayed with Snead for nine holes, turning in 35, but he slipped to 36, on the way back over the par 71, Starmount Forest country club course, a 6,630 yard strip.

The two played in a steady shower that developed into a hard rain as they toured the last two holes.

The two had tied yesterday at 276 for 72 holes.

The $1,400 he picked up for finishing second boosted Mangrum into the top money position with a total of $8,607.50. Snead moved up into fifth place with a bankroll of $6,360.83 for the year.

It was the season's first tournament triumph for Snead, whose best previous efforts were a second in the Texas Open and a tie for third at Phoenix.

North Texas Relays Slated For Friday

DALLAS, March 28 (AP)—The first annual North Texas High school relays have been reset for next Friday.

They were to have been held here last Friday and Saturday, but rain interferred.

Dal-Hi stadium will be the site.

Preliminaries will be held Friday afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock. Finals will be at night, the first event to get under way at 7:30 p.m.

"Teams not entered in any other meet this weekend, are welcome to file entries in the North Texas Relays," P. C. Cobb, athletic director of Dallas schools, said today.

Several teams that were to compete last week probably will drop out to compete in the Texas Relays at Austin.

Lubbock County Leads In Cotton

against 3,300,073 in 1947. This represents a decrease of some 246,580 bales.

Undaunted by this decrease Texas cotton growers, especially those on the South Plains, have declared their intention to plant a record acreage to cotton. The soil and moisture conditions have been very favorable up to this time and as planting season nears, the majority of the planters are optimistic for the coming year.

Mississippi Second

More acreage has been brought under irrigation and several thousand acres will be switched from the grain sorghums to cotton to get under the anticipated 1950 cotton growing restriction. Present surpluses and prospects for more cotton in storage failed to halt the rush to cotton planting. The majority of growers and buyers believe that foreign markets will help absorb the surplus if the domestic market cannot take up the slack.

Texas had little competition for first place in cotton in 1948. Mississippi was in second place with a total of 2,274,864 bales. This was 787,629 bales under the Texas crop. It was, however, three-quarters of a million (757,611) bales more than they produced in 1947.

Mississippi not only increased her over-all crop but had two counties that topped 200,000 bales and two more that came close to that figure. Mississippi had an unusually fine growing season with plenty of moisture spread out fairly evenly over the entire season.

Cotton States Listed

California had two counties whose production exceeded 200,000 bales. Several in California, Arizona and Mississippi went over 150,000.

Other cotton states and their production totals were:

and to a business establishment here, and his billfold containing $4 and papers.

Police investigated and found the trousers and shirt in an alley behind Lawson's residence. Remaining property had not been reported found.

Negro Is Held

Police said they held a 32-year-old negro man in connection with informal charges of another negro that the suspect was guilty of assault with intent to rape a negro woman, wife of the complainant. The woman subsequently identified the suspect, police reports said.

The sheriff's department said a deputy sheriff left Monday for Dallas to accept custody of D. W. Black, held there for Lubbock county on a misdemeanor check charge. Dallas County Sheriff Bill Decker telephoned that the man had been arrested.

Three judgments were taken in county court: Robert E. Dunson, 34, of East Broadway was fined $150 and costs on a plea of guilty of liquor law violation. Frank Bradley Price, 39, of Lubbock was fined $75 and costs on a plea of guilty of drunk driving, and his driver's license was suspended six months. C. A. Talley, transferred here Saturday as an inspector of the liquor control board, arrested Dunson.

Suspect Returned Here

John Lee Wilson, 21, of Idalou, pleaded guilty of a charge of theft and was fined $25 and court costs and sentenced to one day in county jail.

Three women, arrested last night at a small downtown hotel, pleaded guilty in corporation court of vagrancy by prostitution and were fined $25 each. Another woman, also charged with the same offense, and a man charged with vagrancy by association with her, entered innocent pleas and were released on bonds.

K. E. Middleton, 31, charged with car theft, was returned here Monday afternoon from El Centro, Calif., in custody of Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank.

The deputy flew to the coast and returned in a car which the complaint, filed in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, alleges was stolen March 10 from E. E. Mosley of Lubbock. The prisoner had waived extradition.

Bond of $1,000 was set by Lynn in binding Middleton over to investigation of an April 4 grand jury in the court of 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue.

Final Services For Lubbock Vet To Be Conducted Sunday

Last rites for Pfc. Newman Lee Fisher, who was killed Feb. 7, 1945, at the age of 21 in Germany, will be conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday in Plains Funeral home chapel, Dr. M. Norvel Young officiating.

Burial under direction of Plains, will be in Lubbock Memorial Park cemetery, with the Veterans of Foreign Wars in charge of military graveside rites.

The body of the combat veteran is scheduled to arrive here Thursday morning, the funeral home said. Fisher was born in Paris, Texas, and had lived in Lubbock for 17 years prior to entering the Army.

His mother, Mrs. Blanche Patterson, lives at 207 Ave. T, it was reported.

Uruguay, which sold $25,000,000 of linseed oil in 1947, now can't find a market.

dent Truman's request as follows:

Reclamation bureau — from $373,328,500 to $317,790,037, a cut of $55,538,463.

Bonneville power administration—from $18,150,000 to $15,427,500 in funds earmarked for construction. The administration's total cash budget for Bonneville was put at $29,927,500, a cut of $3,072,500, and its contract authorizations at $15,725,000, a cut of $2,775,000.

Little Opposition Seen

Missouri river basin — from $87,150,000 to $73,822,000.

Central valley project, California—from $63,000,000 to $53,550,000.

Columbia basin project, Washington state—from $69,500,000 to $59,075,000.

Colorado—Big Thompson—from $21,500,000 to $18,275,000.

Smaller irrigation and power projects, affecting nearly all the states west of the Mississippi, were cut in proportion.

There appeared little likelihood of major floor opposition to the reductions if an actual drop in building costs can be shown.

Committee members said that many of the cuts can be justified on the basis of price drops that have already occurred.

Ex-U. S. Employe Indicted On Treason Charges For Aiding Nazis

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted Herbert John Burgman, 52, former employe of the U. S. embassy in Berlin, on treason charges.

He is accused of broadcasting Nazi radio propaganda during the war.

Burgman, a native of Hokah, Minn., was employed for 20 years as a clerk and statistician in the Berlin embassy prior to the outbreak of World War II.

The indictment charges that after Pearl Harbor Burgman refused to return to the United States with other American diplomatic personnel.

Instead, it said, he sought and obtained employment with the German government radio service.

The indictment set out 69 separate alleged treasonous acts in connection with his alleged management of the Nazi radio propaganda broadcasting facility known as "Station Debunk, the station of all free Americans."

Burgman is the 25th American to be indicted for treason during World War II—and the 13th to be indicted for assisting in enemy propaganda broadcasting.

Twin-Engine Planes Acquired For Use Of Reserve Squadron

Two AT-11 twin-engine training planes are now available to all eligible members of the reserve unit of the 707 Bombing squadron VH, according to Capt. C. E. Jennings, assistant operations officer of the squadron.

The trainers which are based at the Lubbock Army air field may be flown anytime in the week except Monday and Tuesday Capt. Jennings said. Plans are being made with the proper authorities in Washington, D.C., to move this reserve unit into a higher grade which could result in reserve pay for enlisted men who are members.

Capt. Jennings said the planes were flown here from Hensley Field in Dallas. There were already two AT-6 single engine trainers stationed here.

The reserve unit of the 707th meets on the first and third Thursday of every month in building 62 at the base. All reservists are urged to attend.

Showdown Set On Rent Bill

States could also end federal controls without taking the initiative. This provision was considered the administration's greatest setback in getting a strong rent bill approved.

Provisions Given

2. Decontrol "luxury" apartments if in the judgment of the housing expediter they could be broken up into two or more dwellings.

3. Give the housing expediter authority to control evictions. He now has limited authority.

4. Recontrol permanent accommodations in trailer camps.

5. Permit the housing expediter to recontrol areas on which he may lift ceilings after Thursday. Those decontrolled before that date can go back under rent ceilings only if local boards so recommend.

Passage Indicated

Rep. Gamble (R-NY) said that while he thought the conference agreement would ease through the House, a coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans could defeat it.

He added that "much will depend" on whether Rep. Brown (D-Ga) decides to make a fight against the conference agreement.

Brown, one of the conferees, said he will wait until he can study a printed copy of the agreement tomorrow before deciding whether to oppose it.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said that if the bill agreed upon in conference is rejected, he could not see "any hope for further extension of rent controls."

GOP May Lead Fight

However, Sparkman said he "thought" the Senate would pass the bill. Rep. Spence (D-Ky) likewise predicted the House would approve the legislation.

Republican members of the conference committee in both chambers are expected to take the floor to lead the fight against the bill.

The conferees broke a weekend deadlock over the rent increase formula at a morning session.

They had already agreed on practically every other difference between the House and Senate bills.

Opinions Differ

Sparkman said the new provision merely writes into law a formula already used by the housing expediter in adjusting rents in hardship cases.

He predicted there would be quite a number of rent increases under the provision. Spence disagreed and said he thought they would be few in number.

However, Sparkman predicted that most of the increases would go to small landlords rather than large landlords. He termed the conference agreement a "better bill" than approved by either House or Senate.

Conferees removed some of the teeth they had put into their local option" provision for lifting controls. They decided against making a city, town or village "substantiate" its finding that rent controls are no longer needed.

Battle Seen In Senate

Senators said this was done to prevent the housing expediter from vetoing a decision of a local community to end controls.

Incorporated cities, towns and villages can end controls if their governing bodies "make a finding" that a housing shortage no longer exists and the governor agrees. States also can end federal rent controls under the bill.

Senate minority leader Wherry (R-Neb) predicted a battle over the bill in the Senate, which is expected to be the first to act on it. He said Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), a member of the conference, will be a leader of the opposition.

Rep. Gamble (R-NY) disclosed that three House members, himself included, voted against the compromise on rent increases. He said the three probably will not sign the conference agreement.

Gamble said that while he thinks the House will approvpe the agreement, a coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans could defeat it.

Solons Ask 'No' Vote On Texas Labor Bill

AUSTIN, March 28 (AP)—Rep. Blake Timmons' bill to modify restrictive Texas labor laws was sent to the House today with a committee recommendation that it not pass.

Rep. Otis Lee of Port Arthur, House labor leader, immediately gave notice he would bring the bill out for floor consideration on a minority report.

The committee's unfavorable action was by 14 to 5 vote. This indicated Lee had just enough support to secure a minority report. Five votes are required to gain recognition of such a report from a 21-man committee.

Unfair Tactics Charged

Rep. Douglas E. Bergman of Dallas sought to delay action on the bill, but committee members who said they wanted the legislation to have a fair chance would not go along with him. This motion to return the bill to subcommittee was defeated, 14 to 4.

Lee charged Bergman with using "unfair" tactics when the latter made a motion to adjourn before the committee took action on the subcommittee's report.

Timmons' proposal would repeal 11 labor laws and substitute an all-inclusive act which labor leaders consider less harsh. It would also set up a state mediation and conciliation system and provide for arbitration by written agreement of both management and labor.

New Members Join Legion Post Here

Thirteen new members were formally initiated into the American Legion Monday night at a meeting of the Allen Bros. Legion pots at the Legion hall, 910 Texas Ave.

Initiates were David Parham, Doug Galey, Frank Darden, P. W. Reven, Edward E. Ward, Louie Flowers, Warren Waldrup, F. G. Hefner, R. S. Feiden, Joe M. Hefner, Henry Wilgus, T. L. Smith, and Lester E. Noblett. The initiation was conducted by Fred Young.

At the general meeting, which was held beginning at 8 p.m., plans were discussed for the district Legion and Legion Auxiliary convention, to be held here Saturday and Sunday.

Announcement also was made at the gathering that a meeting of the Forty and Eight, an honor society of the American Legion, is to be held at the Legion hall Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and is to be conducted by the Plainview voiture of the Forty and Eight.

An executive meeting was held at the Legion hall prior to the general meeting, at which it was voted to continue for another month the drum and bugle corps instructions under sponsorship of the Legion post. Also under discussion was the matter of contracting for Christmas trees by carload lots next Christmas.

At the meeting, J. R. Eagan, commander, was in charge.

Verdicts Given In Trials At Levelland

LEVELLAND, March 28 (Spl)—A two-year sentence, two four-year sentences suspended and one mistrial were the result of four trials held here today in the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, said.

Don R. Hull was found guilty of a charge of theft of a trailer from A. L. Stone and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Jimmy Collins, 17, was found guilty on a charge of forgery and was given a suspended sentence of four years. A similar sentence was assessed against Carl Phelan, 19, after he was found guilty of receiving and concealing stolen property, $60 belonging to Harold Combs.

After four hours deliberation, a jury in the trial of G. E. Brown, charged with theft of a saddle from C. B. Hightower, failed to return a verdict and Judge Blair declared a mistrial. The jury was deadlocked at 11 for conviction and one for acquittal, the foreman announced to the court.

Court will convene Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock for the trial of Wade Germany, a negro charged with assault with intent to rape a small negro girl, Croslin said.

News Briefs

Approximately 300 persons attended a Missionary rally Sunday afternoon at First Assembly of God church, 2103 Ave. O, at which John F. Hall, missionary who returned last year after serving 12 years in French West Africa, was principal speaker. Members of Assembly of God churches from over the area attended. This week, the missionary is to speak in a number of towns, including Lamesa today and Seagraves Wednesday. He also spoke Monday night at Lamesa.

Mrs. Ella Moore, of 904 Ave. K, was advised last night that slight improvement has been noted in the condition of her sister, Mrs. Bettie Barber, who is a patient in Kahan Memorial hospital in Marshall. Mrs. Barber suffered a stroke last Friday. Mrs. Moore had been notified Sunday night that the sister was in serious condition.

John Harvey Austin, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Austin of 2117 Thirtieth, received emergency treatment at West Texas hospital last night after he was hit accidently in the right eye with a belt buckle. The accident occurred while young Austin was engaged in playing a game with other members of Scout Troop 3 at First Baptist church last night. Hospital attendants reported that further examination of the injury would be made today. It was feared the injury might be serious. Young Austin remained in the hospital.

Gordon Sanders, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanders of Lubbock route 4, underwent surgery at St. Mary's hospital early Sunday for removal of a BB gun pellet, hospital reports showed. The pellet was fired from a gun in the hands of a playmate, it was reported, and struck the victim just under the left eye. He later was released from the hospital.

House Okays Bill Requiring State Bodies To Hold Open Meetings

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP) — The House sent on to the Senate today a bill requiring all state boards, agencies and bureaus that spend state money or form public policy, to hold open meetings.

The bill by Rep. Preston Smith of Lubbock passed the House by a 118-4 margin.

"Everyone knows practically all our boards have been holding closed meetings and not informing the press of their meetings," Smith said. "This bill makes them allow the press to be there. If we can't go down to the meeting we can read about it."

Boards would be required to give written notice of their meetings. Penalty for violation of the act would be automatic removal of the guilty board members.

A person removed from office for such an offense would be ineligible for reappointment. Any person knowing of such a violation could make complaint to the attorney general.

Road Projects To Be Speeded

AUSTIN, March 28 (AP) — The Highway commission plans to put into immediate motion the new farm-to-market roads program authorized by the legislature, Commission Chairman Fred Wemple said today.

Thirty-four public hearings before the commission have been scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday with requests accenting farm roads.

"We believe it to be the intention of the legislature that this program be expedited in order to place the funds under the wheels of traffic as early as possible," Wemple said.

Hearings Are Announced

Recommendations for improved and new rural roads will be submitted to the commission through its engineering staff and district engineers by June 1, Wemple said.

Roads constructed under this two-year program will be two-lane dustless roads and will be maintained by the highway department after construction, Wemple said. Necessary right-of-way will be furnished free of cost to the state.

These road requests, by counties, are set for hearing Wednesday:

Potter and Moore — Requested improvement of U. S. 87 and 287 from Amarillo to Dumas, by Rex B. Baxter, Amarillo Chamber of Commerce manager.

Reeves — Requested reconstruction of State 27 and U. S. 290 from intersection east of Balmorhea through that town to Toyahvale, by County Judge Richard C. Slack.

Solons Urge Hike In Funds For Education

AUSTIN, March 28 (AP)—A $69,587,909 appropriations for higher education for the next bienium was recommended today by the Senate's finance committee.

The figure is 53 per cent higher than funds available for the current biennium.

All institutions shared in the recommended increase.

Senator G. C. Morris of Greenville, subcommittee chairman, said boosts to colleges were 50 per cent of their increase requests.

Additional money was provided for new buildings at the Texas state university for negroes at Houston. Experiment stations were given a 30 per cent increase.

Building Funds Granted

The bill would allow the negro university $1,000,000 for a new dormitory, $1,500,000 for a new science building, $250,000 for a law school building, $30,000 for a pharmacy lab and $600,000 for other buildings.

Senators Jimmy Phillips of Angleton and W. R. Cousins jr. of Beaumont stormed over the cut in the $100,000 request for funds for the Rice experiment station at Beaumont. The bill called for a $19,000 appropriation.

Morris explained that the committee had "done the best we could" for everybody with the money available.

A motion by Phillips to up the Rice appropriation was voted down and the unchanged bill was voted recommendation for Senate passage.

policy. He contended the U. S. is "squandering" its way toward bankruptcy. The senator added that to continue foreign aid on the present scale would lead to "fascism" in the U. S.

The proposed cuts were opposed by Sen. Smith (R-NJ) who said the Economic Co-operation administration will be a "definite block to the creeping paralysis of Communism" in Europe.

Taft said "the British want their health service." He added:

"If we had their program we would be spending five billions a year.

"I don't criticize their right to do this. But they are asking us to underwrite their plans."

Debate Set Wednesday

Across the Capitol, the House Rules committee cleared the lower chamber's ERP bill to the floor for debate next Wednesday. Debate will be limited to four hours before the measure is opened to amendment.

During Senate debate on ERP, Jenner charged that "vast amounts" of Marshall plan material have fallen into Russian hands.

Jenner said that "fascism is dead ahead" if heavy foreign spending and the program to rearm western Europe go through. The senator declared:

"If we send modern military equipment to Europe, specimens of every one of the weapons will be put into the hands of the Kremlin immediately by the Reds and fellow travelers who honeycomb European governments."

Jenner stated that he does "not believe in bipartisanship" in foreign policy. The midwesterner said:

"I am of the firm opinion that had the Republican party taken the issue of foreign spending to the people in the 1948 elections there would have been a far different result from the balloting."

Noted Houston Pastor Dies Of Heart Attack

HOUSTON, March 28. (AP)—Dr. Paul Quillian, pastor for the world's largest Methodist congregation, died suddenly late this afternoon, only a few hours after his successor at Houston's First Methodist church had been named.

Dr. Quillian had resigned several weeks ago, effective June 15, and was to have joined the Perkins School of Theology faculty at Southern Methodist university, Dallas.

Bishop A. Frank Smith today had announced the appointment of Dr. Kenneth Pope, pastor of the First Methodist church at Austin, as Dr. Quillian's successor at the downtown Houston church.

Dies Of Heart Attack

Dr. Quillian died about 5 p. m. of a heart attack at the River Oaks Country club as he started to change clothes to play a few holes of golf.

Mrs. Quillian, ready for the game, was waiting for him at the first tee.

Dr. Quillian was 53 years old last December 19.

He was ordained as a minister in 1923.

Besides Mrs. Quillian, his survivors include a daughter, Mrs. R. E. Goodrich, jr., wife of the pastor of the First Methodist church of Dallas.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

South Americans Ask Apology For Action Of New Orleans 'Bride'

NEW ORLEANS, March 28 (UP)—New Orleans' multi-million dollar wooing of South America today threatened to turn into an estrangement as serious as that of "Miss New Orleans of 1948" and her air-line pilot husband.

A Colombian newspaper has already demanded that New Orleans apologize for the "scandal" involving 18-year-old Barbara Jean Floyd Cauthen and her husband Capt. George Cauthen.

They were married in Medellin, Colombia, while Miss Floyd was on a goodwill tour of South America as a representative of New Orleans.

Sought Transportation Home

The whole thing threatened to boomerang this weekend when the bride announced that she doesn't want to be one. She said she married Cauthen, assistant chief pilot for a Colombian subsidiary of Pan American airlines, just to get free transportation back to the United States.

The couple met in a hotel lobby here after Cauthen flew from Colombia to confirm reports that his bride wanted a divorce.

She left him in no doubt. By the time their "meeting" was over, she had bitten and scratched him and torn his clothes, and he turned her over his knee and gave her a spanking.

Bogota Newspaper Objects

Barbara claimed she "won" the fight. The spanking didn't hurt, she said, because she was wearing her girdle.

But the reports and news pictures of the affair did hurt, when they reached Bogota, Colombia. The newspaper Espectador in that city said city authorities ought to apologize.

The paper pointed out that Metellin, where the Cauthens were married, is Colombia's most Catholic city and that a marriage there is not taken so lightly.

New Orleans has spent millions building up goodwill with Latin America. Barbara's tour was meant to be part of that program.

Presbyterian Women Install Officers

Mrs. Otto Fredricks was installed as president of Women of the First Presbyterian church at the annual installation meeting of the organization last night in the Fellowship hall of the church.

Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor, installed Mrs. Fredricks and the following other new officers: Mrs. Ben P. White, vice president; Mrs. Elmer Haass, secretary; Mrs. Herbert Bannister, treasurer; and Mrs. T. R. Prideaux, historian.

Reports were made by Mrs. J. T. Shaw and Mrs. Victor Smith on the meeting of the women of the El Paso Presbytery, held in Big Spring last week. Mrs. Sam W. Martin reported on the achievements of the women's circles during the past year.

Mrs. R. T. Bucy, retiring treasurer, reported that $3,100 had been raised by Women of the First Presbyterian church during the past year for all the causes of the church.

For the organization's new year, which opens April 1, the women are divided into 10 circles. Circle chairmen are Mrs. John Duncan, Mrs. Frank Baker, Mrs. Jason Gordon, Mrs. H. W. Sharp, Mrs. Don Jones, Mrs. J. M. Gegg, Mrs. J. M. Hall, Mrs. William H. Foster, Mrs. W. B. Price, and Miss Frances Wilson.

Reburial Rites Set Today For Cpl. Cecil B. Brown

BROWNFIELD, March 28 (Special)—Funeral services for Cpl. Cecil B. Brown will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Brownfield First Methodist church with Rev. A. J. Frank in charge of the services. Rev. Frank will be assisted by Rev. H. L. Thurston also of Brownfield.

Brown was killed in action April 13, 1945 at Aachen, Germany. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown of Brownfield; three sisters, Mrs. Glenn Mason, Mrs. Willie Hillman and Mrs. B. C. Briscoe all of Brownfield and three brothers, W. H., jr., of Sundown, L. K. of Brownfield and M. B. Brown of Dallas.

Graveside services will be conducted by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Burial will be under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral home in the Terry County Memorial cemetery.

Pact Delay Ordered

nounced that Acheson will go to New York on April 5, the day following the treaty signing, to be present for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly.

Others of the western foreign ministers may do likewise. In any event, Acheson will shuttle back and forth between New York and Washington if necessary for a series of running conferences with them on situations vital to implementation of the defense alliance.

In agreeing on a "breathing spell" before seeking final ratification, administration leaders are not changing their schedule for submission of the treaty immediately after its signing.

Formal Meeting Set

Lengthy hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations committee are in prospect. They will be in progress while domestic legislation is disposed of, and thereafter the pact will be brought to the Senate floor for final debate.

On Saturday, April 2, all of the foreign ministers will assemble at the State department for a formal meeting in Acheson's office.

This session may produce a round-table discussion of mutual problems, but department attaches are billing it as an assembly to make final arrangements for the April 4 ceremonies.

British quarters say no decision has yet been reached as to whether Bevin will attend the UN Assembly meetings. He is planning to sail back to England on April 8 and is known to want to visit Canada before that date if possible.

He will, in any event, hold major conferences with Acheson and other western spokesmen while here.

destruction in eight states.

Twenty-eight persons were killed, about 200 were injured, and scores were made homeless. Property damage was heavy, but no one had attempted to estimate its total.

The storms struck mainly in sparsely populated rural areas. They ranged from Texas on the southwest to Kentucky on the northeast. In fury they varied from Arkansas, where 17 persons died and 98 were injured, to Louisiana, where one person was hurt.

Next to Arkansas, the chief sufferer was Mississippi, where eight were killed and 48 injured.

The toll in other states:

Oklahoma — two dead, 20 injured.

Texas — one dead, 26 injured.

Tennessee — several injured.

Kentucky — six injured.

Missouri — five injured.

In Washington the Red Cross made a preliminary allocation of $100,000 for the storm-stricken areas. From reports of 15 disaster workers in the field, the agency estimated that at least 300 homes had been wrecked or damaged.

Services Are Conducted For Mrs. J. R. Sills In Anton

Optimist Groups Hold Installation

A talk on the subject "What Constitutes Leadership?" by Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Technological college, highlighted last night's annual installation banquet of the Optimist and Opti-Mrs. clubs in Hotel Lubbock.

Speaking to some 140 members and guests, Dr. Jones described a great leader as "one who can get a few policies indelibly fixed in his mind . . . and see that these are carried out."

As for the specific qualities which produce true leadership, Dr. Jones listed consistency, proper delegation of authority, respect for lines of authority, proper delegation of responsibility, and the ability to serve as a "lubricant" for human relations.

Explicit Faith Necessary

Dr. Jones, citing the late President Woodrow Wilson as an example, pointed out that a great creative mind is not necessarily great in an executive sense. One of Wilson's greatest shortcomings as a leader, Dr. Jones said, was the fact that he worked alone too much.

"A real leader need not have faith in humanity as such, but he must have explicit faith in at least a few men," Dr. Jones stated.

His address was punctuated with frequent anecdotes and examples by way of illustration.

Prior to Dr. Jones' speech, Mrs. Joe Kelly, accompanied by Mrs. Marlin Smith at the piano, sang two songs, "Spring Is a Lovable Lady" and "Song of Songs."

Officers Installed

Incoming officers were installed by O. W. McGuire in a brief ceremony. New officers are G. C. Stewart, president; Winston Clark, first vice-president; Billy Davis, second vice-president; L. G. Pierce, jr., secretary; H. P. Watkins, treasurer; and C. H. Cummings, L. O. Neill and J. E. Speer, members of the board of governors.

Charles Cobb, as retiring president, automatically became chairman of the board of governors. Also on the board of governors is A. G. Oberg.

Cobb briefly expressed his thanks to club members for their cooperation during his tenure as president, and Stewart gave a brief speech of acceptance.

Guests Attend Banquet

Opti-Mrs. officers, also installed by McGuire, included Mrs. O. W. McGuire, president; Mrs. Hudson Burke, first vice-president; Mrs. Homer Hunt, second vice-president; Mrs. J. Holland Cox, third vice-president; Mrs. L. B. Millsap, secretary; Mrs. Charles Musson, treasurer; and Mrs. L. G. Pierce, jr., and Mrs. Herman Williams, board members.

Representatives of other service clubs who were guests at the banquet included Dr. and Mrs. Fred Sparks, Kiwanis; Mr. and Mrs. George Dale, American Business club; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jones, Rotary; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Ward, 20-30; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cathey, Exchange; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Henly, Lions; and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson, Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Other guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles James, Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Rabun, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Liner.

Capt. William C. Neubauer was toastmaster, with invocation by J. W. Chapman.

Members of the banquet committee were A. G. Oberg, chairman, and J. B. Adams, D. P. Pinkston, A. W. Young, Mrs. C. H. Scales, Mrs. Don Reeder, Mrs. C. R. Rodgers, Mrs. Judd Morrow and Mrs. W. C. Mauzey, jr.

Johnson Sworn In

in welcome salute to the new "boss" and in goodbye to the retiring chief.

Forrestal was the nation's first defense secretary. He had held the post since it was created by the armed services unification act in June, 1947.

In his speech, Johnson emphasized the importance of both defense and unity in the armed services which at times have resorted to squabbling over prestige and power.

"Our defense policy," he said, will consist in mustering the maximum of strength, within the limits of our economy and our democracy, to back up (our) foreign policy. . . .

"Ike" Praises Johnson

"To achieve that, we shall attain the necessary measure of strength in all three branches of national defense. They will be united as one in the service of the nation. The American people expect it, and they shall have it."

Even as Johnson spoke, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was flying to Key West, Fla., after telling newsmen he believed this country's defense is in good hands.

"I think Mr. Forrestal has been a great public servant," Eisenhower said. "I am confident that Louis Johnson is coming in to 'do a job.'

"I am pretty hopeful," he went on. "This is a strong country, and we have some pretty good men."

The five-star general, temporary chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, flew to Key West to recuperate from an intestinal illness that had kept him in bed for a week.

MONTANA SOLON RAPS ALLOY IMPORTS FROM RUSSIA

Officials Deny Administration Is Neglecting To Develop Nation's Manganese, Chrome Deposits

WASHINGTON, March 28 (INS)—Interior department officials today denied charges made in Congress that the administration is neglecting to develop U.S. deposits of strategic manganese and chrome ore.

The charge was made by Rep. D'Ewart (R-Mont) in House Appropriations committee hearings on the Interior department appropriation bill. The hearings were made public today.

Officials declared that the American deposits of these highly important steel alloys are of extremely low grade and "terrifically expensive to process.

Soviets Supply Alloys

The alloys are imported in large quantities from Russia. There have been reports that Russia is cutting down or eliminating entirely the shipment of these industrial "lifeblood" materials, but government officials say they have no clear proof or confirmation of this.

D'Ewart said "Russia has or may cut off our supplies of manganese," and added:

"To me it is absolutely ridiculous for the government of the U.S. to carry on a conflict, cold or otherwise, with a foreign supplier of essential war materials and at the same time make little or no efforts to develop domestic sources of the same materials."

He said the administration "has permitted the almost complete deterioration of the chromite development in Montana where 75 per cent of our American chrome resources is located.

Solon Scores WAA

The congressman accused the War Assets administration of selling "certain properties" at a chromite mine site near Columbus, Mont., which were built at great expense during the war.

He declared the WAA sale "ignored completely the importance to our national security of these vital chrome reserves."

Interior department officials said this whole issue had been thoroughly rehashed at congressional hearings at which D'Ewart was an interrogator.

They said that during the war large sums were spent in an effort to make domestic manganese and chrome deposits usable by industry, but that "the problem has not been licked as yet."

Congress, they declared, has not provided sufficient funds to carry on the development work at a rate necessary to bring any prospect of early success. But one official said he thought the problem eventually will be solved.

The trouble now, he declared, is twofold—the high cost of processing the low-grade ore and the fact that often the processed product is not of a quality which meets the requirements of steel mills or U.S. stockpilers.

He said that processing the low-grade ore under present methods "is like sifting a few pennies out of a hay mow."

Knights Of Columbus Hear Talk Stressing Necessity Of Religion

More than ever the youth of the world needs the guidance of good Christian leadership to combat a trend away from God, R. Conroy Scoggins, prominent Houston attorney and state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, declared in a banquet at the Hilton hotel Sunday night, climaxing an all-day initiation of the Lubbock council.

Bishop Laurence J. FitzSimon of Amarillo was also a speaker at the banquet, attended by approximately 300 persons from an area extending from Amarillo to Odessa.

Teaching Trend Assailed

Under the guise of academic freedom, teachers in many institutions are saying there is no God and that the only people who believe in God are children and old people, Scoggins said.

"Christian people and God-fearing people have got to stop this trend; it's going to be necessary for them to save the world," he declared. "I have no fear for Christianity; I have no fear for the world. . . I may not live to see it, but my children will live to see the day when the iron curtain of Russia will be raised again."

In a world of conflict; in the rise of modern intellectualism, the challenge today to lay apostles of the Catholic church is in a different field than ever before in the history of the church, Bishop Fitz-Simon said.

"The battle today is not so much with the sword as with the pen," the bishop told his listeners. "The call today is for all the people. The layman must help row the boat. . . trim the sails."

Miss Carolyn Schaefer, accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Treadaway, sang three numbers during the program.

Paul G. Schaeffer, grand knight of the local council, was master of ceremonies. Address of welcome was by Rev. Wm. F. Blakeslee, pastor of St. Elizabeth's church.

A total of 45 candidates were initiated into the order during the day's ceremonies, staged in Blakeslee hall, adjoining the church. Degree teams were present from Amarillo, Hereford and Fort Worth in addition to members from a dozen or more towns of the area.

Munich Elephant Can't Forget Old Salute To Nazis

MUNICH, March 28 (INS)—Officials at the Munich zoo today tried to make an elephant forget his embarrassing habit of saluting with his trunk when he hears the words, "Heil Hitler."

The case of the pachyderm with the Fuehrer complex is the second de-Nazification problem confronting the zoo keepers.

They also have on their hands a parrot, named Laura, who persists in shouting the once-popular greeting despite repeated efforts to break the habit. Laura has been stolen from the zoo but recently was returned.

Hundreds of German school children gathered around Stefi the elephant on Sunday, yelled "Heil Hitler" and won salutes from the animal.

Officials at the zoo say that die-hard Nazis must have taught the trick to Stefi.

Water Drained From Flooded Areas North Of Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, March 28 (AP) Little but mud and memories was left of the Mississippi river flood near here today.

Floodwaters had drained from all but the lowest portions of a 20-square-mile area originally inundated by a levee break Thursday. The Red Cross closed its refugee camp north of Baton Rouge, across the river from the flooded plantations, and said everyone would be back home today. Plantation hands were getting back into the sugar cane fields, with hopes of saving most of the crop. All roads were open.

U. S. engineers cut off the flood with an earth, timber and sandbag temporary levee just before midnight Saturday. They were working today on the permanent defenses of Mulatto ben, five miles north of here on the opposite bank.

House Group Okays Request For Probe Of Texas Optometry Board

AUSTIN, March 28 (AP) — The House Public Health committee today approved a request calling for an investigation of the State Board of Optometry.

The resolution, by Rep. Miller Walker of Beaumont, asked the speaker of the House to appoint a five-man investigating committee. It called for no appropriation.

"There has been some question whether the examinations given by the board are fair to applicants for licenses," Walker told the committee. "Since a large part of the exam is oral, it appears the applicants can not appeal to the courts."

Walker said the board had invited the House to make the investigation "in order to clear up any doubt in anyone's mind."

Rep. Lamar Zively of Temple said he had been authorized by the Texas Optical association to say that the association was not opposed to the investigation but denied the charges of unfair examinations.

Houston Puts Clamps On Unsanitary Cafes

HOUSTON, March 28 (U.P.)—"Clean up or close up" orders went out today to Houston cafes and other eating establishments, as the city health department announced it would meet unsanitary conditions will all the weapons at its command.

Simultaneously, Charles Heider, chief food inspector, said charges had already been prepared against 10 Houston night spots, and that they would be filed today.

Violations, he said, consisted mainly of employes working without health cards and of improper sterilization of glassware.

The "get-tough" policy of the city health department was announced by City Health Director Dr. Fred K. Laurentz and Woody Fife, jr., head of the food inspection division. They announced that all places convicted of health violations would be rechecked, and explained that the "close up" order would apply primarily to proprietors who failed to make corrections after being convicted.

The department currently is in its fourth week of a sustained drive to cleanse Houston's eating establishments.

Six Enter Race For School Board Posts At Hale Center

HALE CENTER, March 28. (Special)—None of the three incumbent trustees of the Hale Center Independent school district will seek re-election when their terms expire this year, and voters will find the names of six others on the ballot, Saturday, April 2, Rayburn Karrh, board president, and one of the three men retiring, said this week.

The other two who indicated they would not serve again but wanted "to see the job passed around," are Grady Shepard and Jack Eason. Listed on the ballot will be these six, who are vying for three positions on the board: Jay Cannon, Escar Parker, Doyle Moore, Roger Woodard, Charlie Pollock and Orville Jones.

House Group Recommends Funds For Southwest Power Projects

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) The House Appropriations committee rejected private utility company pleas and today recommended $4,000,000 in cash and $5,000,000 in contractural authority for the Southwestern Power administration in the year starting July 1.

This is the first construction appropriation approved for SPA since 1947. The committee recommendation included all but $800,000 asked in the budget to continue the long-range, multi-million dollar program.

Utility Firms Protest

The committee action came after renewed and vigorous protests from private utilities in the southwestern states and equally strong approval of the entire program voiced by rural co-operatives and some congressmen in the same area.

The committee cut $800,000 from the budget recommendation for contract authorizations. The report said the reduction was "in the expectation that conductor and other materials will become available earlier than the time contemplated."

It increased from $100,000 to $300,000 the continuing fund for emergency expenses to insure continuous operation of electric services.

Estimate Submitted

If Congress approves the committee recommendations, the funds will be used to start construction or to contract for future work on a network of lines from government hydro-electric power plants to points in Arkansas, Louisiana and parts of Kansas, Missouri, Texas and Oklahoma.

SPA Administrator Douglas Wright submitted an estimated construction schedule that calls for the start this December of a survey for a transmission line from Bull Shoals to Marshfield, Mo. Wright said construction contracts would be awarded next May and the work completed in May, 1953 at a cost of $2,288,000.

Contracts made or proposed with preferred customers, Wright said, will require the output from Norfolk dam in Arkansas, and from the dams at Bull Shoals, Tenkillerferry, Fort Gibson and Denison.

The projects at Table Rock, Blakely mountain, Long Rock and Narrows, he said, will be needed to meet fully expected commitments.

He told the committee that efforts had failed to reach a power contract agreement with a group of private companies. He did not believe their proposal was "fair" to the government.

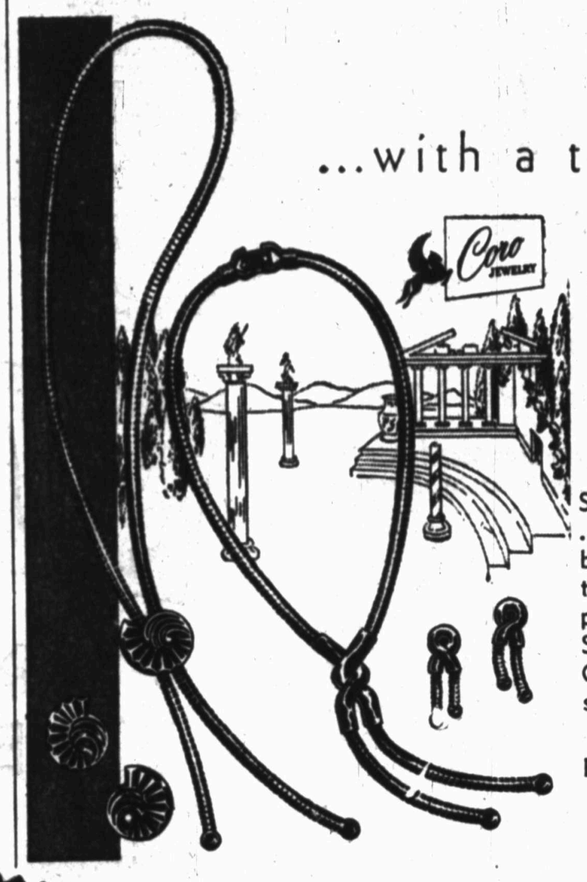

Wright added that he did not believe that the SPA program would drive the private concerns out of business.

"Duplication" Pointed Out

R. K. Lane, president of the Oklahoma Public Service company, Tulsa, again asked the committee to deny SPA any funds to "duplicate" existing lines and to withhold authorization for construction for which the taxpayers would have to pay in the future.

He asked Congress to direct SPA to continue negotiations with 11 private companies operating in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. These companies have offered to purchase SPA's hydro-electric output.

Lane argued that the private companies pay taxes, have large investments, are expanding, have 15,000 employes and 300,000 investors. The companies, he added, serve 88 REA co-operatives at low cost and average about the same as SPA's rate level "A." He contended there is no power shortage in the area.

Tech Building Is Damaged By Fire

A Sunday morning fire in the agricultural engineering building at Texas Tech caused extensive damage to a tool and supply room.

Total damage was estimated at "several thousand dollars" by Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department at Tech.

The fire, origin of which was not known, was reported to the fire department shortly before 8 a. m. Sunday. Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said the fire apparently had burned two to three hours before it was discovered.

Class rooms and offices in the building escaped damage.

City firemen helped eliminate possibility of a serious explosion at Nineteenth and Ave. N at 8 a. m. Monday. More than 100 gallons of gasoline had spilled onto concrete runways at Griffin and Eaton Service station. Firemen were summoned to wash the gasoline into sewers, and the danger was minimized promptly, O. F. Eaton, partner in the station, said.

Chief Twitty made an emergency run to Levelland Saturday night in a vain attempt to save the life of R. S. Craddock, 16, a heart attack victim. Twitty carried a respirator to Phillips-Dupre hospital, where the youth was a patient, reportedly covering the 30 miles from Lubbock to Levelland in 21 minutes. The respirator was immediately put to use, but the boy died about six hours later.

POPLIN SEEKS PUBLIC'S HELP

Liquor Board Official Asks Information On Bootleggers

Any bootlegging going on next door or up the street from you?

W. G. Poplin, deputy supervisor and commanding officer of the Lubbock district of the Texas Liquor Control Board, told newsmen Monday:

"We're not looking for publicity, but we were sent here to enforce the law. That's what we intend to do. So, if anyone knows of any bootlegging here or over this district I'd like to be informed about it.

Information Is Checked

"This department will accept such information in confidence. We will work out the cases and, if we find that our information is correct, will raid suspect premises—first taking careful precautions to guard against error."

Poplin, who with three inspectors was transferred here Saturday, said:

"We frankly are asking for help of the public. The public knows who is doing the bootlegging. We don't—yet. We don't always move immediately upon receipt of such information, but do after we have weighed and sifted it to be sure that we are not acting upon erroneous information innocently given—or given through spite."

Further, the board official said, "We are looking for the big bootleggers. That doesn't mean the little ones will be overlooked. There are only five of us and we are expected to work 23 counties, but we'll act as soon as possible on whatever information we get."

Funeral Services Conducted In Sundown For High School Youth

SUNDOWN, March 28 (Special)—Funeral services for R. S. Craddock, 16, Sundown High school student who died unexpectedly early Sunday, were held this afternoon in Sundown High school auditorium.

Rev. C. C. Hardin, pastor of the Sundown Baptist church, officiated.

Burial was in Tech Memorial park, under direction of Plains Funeral home of Levelland.

The youth, who was to have been graduated from high school in May, suffered a heart attack Saturday evening in Levelland. He was taken to Phillips-Dupre hospital for emergency treatment. A respirator, brought to the hospital from Lubbock, was put to use, but the boy died at 6:04 a. m. Sunday.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Craddock; a sister, Barbara Jane; and a brother, David Alden.

Three College Bills Approved

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 28.—Spending slowdown warnings went unheeded as the House today approved three college bills calling for expenditure of $5,500,000.

The action was a flat challenge to the Senate Finance committee's plan of delaying action on such single-purpose measures until the necesary big money bills are disposed of. It brought the showdown on the spending-taxation issue one step nearer.

Finally passed and sent to the Senate were the bills appropriating $3,500,000 for a branch of the University of Texas Medical college at Dallas; $1,000,000 each for a medical branch at San Antonio and to make Lamar Junior college at Beaumont a four-year college of technology.

Both House and Senate knuckled down and turned out this additional major business:

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill establishing a real estate commission to administer laws now handled by the State department. The vote was 22 to 7.

Separate bills setting up a Sabine River authority were approved by both House and Senate and sent to conference committee for adjustment of differences.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill requiring open meetings of all boards, agencies and bureaus spending state money.

A House bill requiring a universal big game hunting license to cast $2.15 advanced to final reading, but the House refused to suspend the rules for immediate final passage.

The House finally approved a measure permitting the Rural Electrification administration and similar agencies to build power transmission lines along state and county road right-of-way.

The Senate gave Kyle Vick of Waco permission to introduce three proposed constitutional amendments that would set terms of office of the governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general at four instead of two years. They could not run for reelection.

The House passed a bill changing the name of North Texas State Teachers college to North Texas State college, giving it a separate gove.ning board and divorcing it from the teachers college system.

Another top development was the decision of backers of a plan to rewrite the state's surface water code to drop their fight this session, and ask for a between-sessions committee to study the matter.

The House passed the college money bills after a plea from Rep. William S. Jameson of El Paso,

Courthouse Plan Report Sought

Lubbock County Commissioners court today will continue a business session that occupied most of Monday.

Among matters on the agenda may be an effort to commit architects, Haynes and Kirby, to a definite date when the court may expect to get plans and specifications for a new courthouse.

Commissioners asked County Judge Walter Davies, presiding, to telephone the architects and make a report to the court today on what time must elapse before the plans are completed.

Assistant Clerk Okayed

Monday's session, commissioners said, resulted in:

1. Routine allowing of regular bills and accounts;
2. Approval of reports;
3. A resolution that the county judge write the state highway department in regard to surveying and locating highway right-of-way from the traffic circle on highway 87 south of the city to Wolfforth, so that no construction will be placed on the route of highway eventually to be constructed;
4. A resolution authorizing the employment of an assistant clerk for the district attorney's department at the legal salary of $187.50 a month;
5. Approval of special bills totaling $6,177.26 for equipment and supplies for the four commissioners precincts, including asphalt, asphalt tanks, a truck, culverts, and right of way.

Commissioners are R. O. Short, George G. Green, Ottis Isom, and Pat Corley.

Minutes of the proceeding were taken by Louie F. Moore, county clerk and ex-officio clerk of the court.

School Board To Meet Tonight To Elect Teachers For New Year

Members of the board of the Lubbock Independent school district will meet tonight in the school business office, 1007 Texas avenue, to elect teachers for the 1949-50 school year, R. W. Matthews, superintendent of schools, has announced.

In addition to the election of teachers, other routine matters will be discussed by the board, it was indicated.

$100,000 Suit Is Postponed In Lamesa

LAMESA, March 28 (Special)—A $100,000 civil suit to establish damages against the Texas Electric Service company, brought by Dewey Koslosky, Lamesa, was postponed until Wednesday in 106th District court this morning.

The suit charges that the company erected a power line through the Forrest Park addition. A new subdivision in south Lamesa which is owned by Koslosky, without permission or proper condemnation action.

Claim Upheld

The Supreme court upheld the claim for damages on an appeal. The suit was filed in the amount of $100,000 and the amount of damages to be paid will be set as the case is tried on its merits here.

A suit against the same company filed on similar grounds by Fred Henderson, Dawson county farmer, was also postponed today.

Representing Koslosky are Karl Cayton, Lamesa, and E. L. Kelt and Doyle Justice, Lubbock. Carl Rountree, Mas Wassell and Raymond Renner, Lamesa attorneys, are representing the company.

Proposed VA Hospital At El Paso Would Benefit Area, Is Claim

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 28. — Veterans in the confines of the Lubbock regional office of the Veterans administration would be served by the erection of a neuro-psychiatric hospital in El Paso, Quintus Camp, Washington representative of the Disabled American Veterans, told the Senate Public Welfare sub-committee recently.

The committee headed by Sen. Claude Pepper, Florida, is investigating the need for restoring hospitals cut out of the Veterans construction program recently. The proposed 500-bed hospital at El Paso, to serve West Texas and other nearby states, was recently dropped.

The long distances from West Texas cities to the nearest other facility, Waco, were repeatedly stressed before the committee by G. Ward Moody, Austin, adjutant of the Texas American Legion department, and by Warren Hoyt, El Paso, commander of the United Veterans council there.

Hoyt abhorred what he said was the present necessity of keeping neuro-psychiatric cases in jails for want of hospitals.

For every Veterans hospital bed in Texas, there are 15 to 20 applicants, Col. George E. Ijams, director of National Rehabilitation service, Veterans of Foreign Wars, told the committee.

Answering a Veterans administration statement that the cutback was caused by the decline in the population of veterans hospitals, and in applications for beds, Senator Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota, member of the sub-committee, said it looks to him as if there was a "very tight situation in Texas as regards the number of available beds and the number of veterans presently occupying them."

Hoyt said the number of neuro-psychiatric cases among area veterans was increasing. "While we are alarmed at the present, we are terrified at the future," he said.

Nicaragua Offers Air Bases, Facilities For Canal To U. S.

By CARL KUPFER
INS Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY, March 28 — Nicaragua offered tonight to lease air bases to the United States for 99 years and grant facilities for immediate construction of a Nicaraguan canal linking the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Nicaraguan Defense Minister Anastasio Somoza, who has been urging construction of the canal to fulfill a 50-year-old goal, said the air bases would help defend the proposed ocean link and strengthen continental security.

99-Year Option Offered

The Nicaraguan leader declared in a radioed statement to International News Service in Mexico City:

"Nicaragua will give an option of 99 years to the United States for construction of a canal and necessary and just bases in the Gulf of Fonseca (on the Pacific) and the Corn islands (in the Atlantic).

"The bases and facilities are available if the United States begins the immediate construction of the canal.

"Nicaragua, as during the last war, will always be allied with the United States and with the greatest pleasure would offer facilities for the construction of bases for defense of the canal and for continental security."

Plan Gains Support

Proposals to build a canal across Nicaragua have been advocated by many American and Central American officials for decades.

They were laid aside temporarily when the Panama canal was erected across the narrower Panama isthmus during the administration of Theodore Roosevelt but have come sharply to the fore again recently.

These proposals envisage an 11-mile cut through a narrow neck of land across Nicaragua connecting the Pacific with Lake Nicaragua.

Vessels negotiating the 60 mile trip across Lake Nicaragua then would proceed another 90 miles down the San Juan river to the Atlantic port of Greytown.

Supporters of the Nicaraguan canal plan point out it would save nearly 1,100 miles for vessels which must make the trip to the Panama canal from the United States.

The Atlantic side of the proposed canal is 300 miles closer to the United States and the Pacific side is about 800 miles.

U. S. Expected To Have Heavy Crude Imports By 1956

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Commerce department said today the United States, steadily shifting from coal to oil for fuel, probably will have to import about 195,000 barrels of oil a day by 1956 to meet increasing demand.

U. S. supplies or oil will be too small by then, a department report said, to meet a domestic demand stimulated by (1) large-scale production of autos and trucks, (2) railroad shifting from coal to diesel oil engines, and (3) increased use of fuel oil for home and office heating.

Only a "drastic change in the price relationship between oil and coal—could apparently halt the 'substantial rate' of increase in the use of oil," the report said. It gave no indication that such a change is expected.

Imports Fill Gap

In order to meet the expected gap between U.S. oil production and use after 1956, the U.S. will have to rely upon "imports from such surplus producing areas as the Caribbean and the Middle East," the report said.

"The increase in imports will necessarily mean use of more tankers," it added. "In view of the very large reserves of oil discovered in the Middle East, it seems likely that the United States will require increasing quantities of petroleum products from that source."

This comment shed some light on why the government recently resumed licensing of shipments of steel pipe to the Middle East for use in transporting oil to the sea from inland wells.

Shipments of pipe for a big Middle Eastern oil line had been held up after congressional protests that it would cut the supply of oil pipe line for this country. It also was contended that use of the Middle Eastern line probably would be lost in event of a war with Russia.

Lubbock Man Receives Letter From Son After Five Years

E. B. Cordell of Lubbock was happier Monday than he has been in a long time, for he had heard from one of his two sons for the first time in five years.

He received a letter Saturday from his younger son, Clyde Cordell, 34, who now lives as a civilian in Fort Smith, Ark. The last letter he had from him was written from Hilo, Hawaii, March 26, 1944, when the son was in the Army there.

At that time the son was transferred to forward area, and in the meantime Cordell himself moved about the country quite a bit. He and his wife had been separated since 1928 and the sons and two daughters had lived with their mother.

Now Cordell is hoping to hear from his elder son, Thel Burton Cordell, 36. His wife and two daughters now live in California.

"It's the best feeling I've had in years to know that both my boys are alive," Cordell said. "Clyde says he and his family are thinking about moving to Lubbock."

Brownfield DeMolays Receive Degrees In Ceremonies Here

First degrees on a newly-organized chapter of the Order of DeMolay at Brownfield were conferred by the E. Y. Lee chapter of Lubbock at the Masonic hall here Sunday afternoon.

Thirty youths from Brownfield presented themselves for initiation. They were accompanied by approximately 35 Masons and their Masonic advisers, Dr. Gordon E. Richardson, advisory council chairman, and Dr. W. A. Roberson, chapter dad.

Jimmy Kennedy, master councilor of the Lubbock chapter, presided in the initiation ceremonies.

DeMolay in Brownfield is sponsored by the Brownfield chapter No. 309, Royal Arch Masons of which John J. Kendrick is high priest.

Officers of the DeMolay chapter will be announced after the group's first organization meeting later this week.

Filipino Is Refused Visa By Australia

TOKYO, March 28. (INS) — The Australian government re-affirmed its refusal today to permit a Filipino corporal to visit his Australian wife in Melbourne but offered to pay her passage to the U. S.

The action was a repetition of answers to repeated pleas by the soldier, Cpl. Lorenzo Gamboa, a naturalized U. S. citizen, that he may be granted a visitors permit to enter Australia to see his family.

The Australians, despite the intercession of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who said he "remembered Gamboa well" from the Bataan campaign in 1941, declared that Gamboa was "ineligible for permanent entry."

Fears Precedent

The message, delivered to Alva Carpenter, chief of MacArthur's legal section in Tokyo, said a temporary permit would "lead to complications and establish a precedent for other non-European husbands of Australian women who married uring the war."

The cable suggested that Gamboa meet his family in the U. S. and offered to pay the passage of Mrs. Gamboa and her two children to America.

(The Philippine foreign office in Manila meanwhile denied that it planned to retaliate against Australia's "all-white" immigration policy by suspending Australian applications for Philippine visas.

(The denial, made by Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs Felino Neri, followed reports that the government would take such action.

(Philippine newspapers reported that the island republic's congress has been asked to prevent the entry of Australians and to order closings of the Philippine consulate in Melbourne.)

Record Price Set For Winter Fed Lambs On Chicago Market

CHICAGO, March 28 (AP) — Lambs pushed to a new record price for winter fed kinds of $31 a hundred pounds today. This was up 25 cents from the previous high for the season made last Wednesday.

All time lamb high for this market, however, is $32.50, set last summer for spring lambs. A year ago fed lambs sold at a top of $22.00, while seven weeks ago, at the bottom of the February dip, peak price on lambs was $22.75.

Livestock traders attributed the steady advance in lamb prices to a shortage of supplies in relation to the advancing wholesale market and the approach of the Easter season.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

TEN NATIONS MAP CONSTITUTION

General Agreement Reported On Council Of Europe Organization

By JOHN CAMSELL
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, March 28 — Representatives of ten nations reached a "large measure of general agreement" today on a draft constitution for a Council of Europe designed to bring unity to western Europe.

It was the first time nations outside the Brussels treaty participated in the Council of Europe talks.

Many Details Unsettled

The nations participating through their ambassadors or other diplomatic officials are:

Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — Brussels powers—and Italy, Eire, Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

After two private meetings at the British foreign office, a British official announced:

"The conference began an examination of draft proposals for a Council of Europe.

"There was a large measure of general agreement on the main principles of the proposed organization, but main matters of detail are still to be settled."

The draft constitution for the council, which will embrace a minister's executive committee and an assembly, was drafted by the permanent commission of the Brussels treaty powers.

More Discussion Slated

The questions of powers for the council and Germany's eventual admission are among those to be discussed.

Also due for the discussion are such matters as the number and allocation of assembly seats.

The conferees are prepared to spend at least a week on their talks, leading to a conference of foreign ministers in about three weeks to give the draft constitution final approval.

The foreign ministers are expected to make final arrangements for the first session of the full Council of Europe.

Originally, the foreign ministers had been scheduled to meet at this time to tackle the problem but most of them are in Washington or en route to participate in the Atlantic pact signing ceremonies.

Truman Awards Distinguished Service Medal To Forrestal

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—James V. Forrestal received the Distinguished Service Medal from President Truman in a surprise ceremony today when he called at the White House to say goodbye.

The citation read by the President said that as first secretary of defense, Forrestal "materially advanced the security of the nation."

A few hours earlier, Forrestal had turned the cabinet post over to Louis Johnson.

Canada To Organize Television Centers

OTTAWA, March 28 (AP)—Canada announced today television will be organized in this country at once under government control.

J. J. McCann, minister of national revenue, said production centers and broadcasting stations will be set up first in Toronto and Montreal. Parliament will be asked to provide $4,000,000 for initial costs of installations and development of service.

The government, McCann said, will also grant a license to establish one private station in any city of Canada.

Eleven Schools Plan Entries In Hale Center Interscholastic Meet

HALE CENTER, March 28 (Special)— Eleven schools from four counties will have entries in the District Class B Interscholastic league literary and field meet here Friday and Saturday April 1 and 2.

Ribbons and trophies will be awarded individual winners and schools making most points in the contests in which regional meet entries will be determined. Schools indicating they will have entries in the two-day meet are Petersburg, Hale Center, Cotton Center, Dimmitt, Happy, Wayside, Kress, Olton, Springlake, Hart and Nazareth.

NEW BILL BOARD

Hidden Policemen To Lose Advantage

PITTSBURGH, March 31 (U.P.)—The billboard of tomorrow will plague speed-trapping motorcycle police.

Carnegie Tech art students have designed one you can see through. It's a stylized, three-dimensional signboard that uses a minimum of written message and a maximum of eye-catching, interest-holding display force.

Fort Worth Men Jailed During Pursuit Of Pet Parrot Released

FORT WORTH, March 28 (U.P.) The case of the delinquent parrot was closed here today with release of three men from city jail.

The trio entered a salvage yard yesterday in their chase of the escaped bird and a burglar protection alarm was set off. Police arrived and jailed them for burglary after the parrot, sitting in a nearby tree, eyed them reproachfully and refused to talk.

The bird's owner later appeared at headquarters to explain his parrot had escaped and the men were seeking to recapture it for him.

NOT WILD ABOUT HARRY

BOSTON (U.P.) — John proved to be the most popular name for Boston's 2,594 boys born last year. The name was given to 160 babies, while Robert was second with 158. Other popular names were William, 130; James and Joseph, 102 each; Richard, 96, and Michael, 81. President Truman's popularity with the "plain people" was not reflected in the tally. Only three boys were named Harry.

It usually takes 4.6 bushels of corn or its equal to put an additional 50 pounds on a 225-pound hog.

Bodies Of B-29 Crew Recovered On Luzon

MARIKINA, Philippines, March 28 (AP)—A ground team began emerging from the mountain jungles of Luzon today with all the discoverable remains of nine airmen killed in the crash of a B-29 flying tanker March 1.

Capt. M. O. Beck of Compton, Calif., who led the party on the harrowing 12-day trip to the wreck on 4,800-foot Mt. Caladang, said seven bodies had been identified from belongings or name tags but none was recognizable.

Filipinos In Party

Beck, 14 other Americans and 16 Filipinos in the party appeared today in the valley at the foot of the cloud-covered mountain 25 miles northeast of Manila. Others were still struggling down the mountainside.

A helicopter, in which this correspondent was a passenger, met the leaders in a dry creek bed and flew out two of the bodies to Ft. William McKinley.

Beck said there was no doubt that all of the nine men of the B-29 were killed instantly.

Prayers Offered

The plane, from Davis-Monthan air base, Tucson, Ariz., crashed only a dozen feet from the mountaintop after having successfully refueled the around - the - world B-50 Lucky Lady II. Beck said the crash site was a jagged rock with knife-like edges.

At the creek-bed rendezvous, amid high wind and rain, Father Thomas F. Shea, chaplain from Waterbury, Conn., said prayer for the dead.

The ground party showed the ordeal it had gone through.

The bearded, weary men were thirsty and hungry, for bad weather had prevented regular air drops of supplies. They drank eagerly the iced beer that the helicopter had brought in.

Their faces, arms and legs were cut and scratched, and they had suffered from blood-sucking leeches. Some had worn out three pairs of shoes.

A MANUFACTURER'S HONESTY IS MIGHTY IMPORTANT TO YOU

Without honesty as the keystone of a manufacturer's policy, no product is continuously good and dependable. Steadfast integrity is therefore a priceless ingredient in any product. Admiration has had the benefit of 30 years adherence to a policy of strict honesty—honesty in its manufacture, in its sale, in its obligation to loyal thousands. Its exquisite goodness, costly blend, rare flavor, mature strength, and full-bodied aroma have been maintained uniformly from pound to pound for over a generation.

30 YEARS OF HONEST FULFILLMENT

That is why we say in celebrating our 30th anniversary—"3 Decades of Honest Fulfillment." We have fulfilled within our power to do so every obligation, real and implied, to the public, even in wartime. We are proud to have been able to do it.

SENATOR FEELS 'NO REGRETS'

Solon Believes Atlantic Pact Marks U. S. Abandonment Of UN

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 28 — Sideglances at celebrities:

Sen. Estes Kefauver, the scholarly young man who beat the Crump machine and won a seat in the upper house, tells friends that the impending Senate ratification of the Atlantic pact will be the most important step this country has ever taken in a time of peace and will mark our abandonment of the UN.

"It is an infinitely more important document than the covenant of the League of Nations and the charter of the United Nations," he says. "It means that isolation is no longer a policy of the United States. It is our final recognition that we cannot stay out of European wars.

Feels No Regret

" By signing it we are abandoning the United Nations organization but I feel no especial regret. UN just isn't enough to preserve the peace. Nor should we worry about Russia's criticism of the pact, on the ground that it is inconsistent with the promises we made as a UN signatory. It is inconsistent, but we should remind Russia of the 22 pacts it has made which are equally inconsistent."

He will plug for all out endorsement of the pact, or none at all. Kefauver predicts that Russia will attempt to take over control of UN by watering down its use of the veto and making overtures to pro-U.S. nations not invited to join in the pact.

"You can say what you want about the pact," the Tennesseean says, "but if one like it had been in existence ten years ago Hitler would not have dared to make his move."

No Managerial Ambitions

Monte Stratton, the amputee baseball pitcher whose life story has been filmed by Saw Wood, for MGM, was asked recently if he intended to seek a managerial job in the game. He shook his head.

"It's my leg that's made of wood, not my head," he answered.

The remarkable old blade Somerset Maugham, the world's most successful writer over the past 50 years, has another opening tonight at New York's Sutton theatre. His newest movie "Quartet" — made by J. Arthur Rank from four Maugham stories — will be previewed with all proceeds going to the Overseas Press club's fund for indigent or battered foreign correspondents.

The brisk but blase old boy figures he has made more than $3,000,000 from his writings, which includes 22 novels, 27 plays, about 100 short stories and his autobiography. He is sick of the labor and research involved, but remains an incurable traveler, having journeyed from the Riviera to San Francisco last January to keep a dinner engagement with an old friend, Bertram E. Alanson. Seems he had promised Alanson, on his (Maugham's) 50th birthday, to break bread with him on his 75th.

Literary hacks may be interested to learn that Maugham spent four months in India and read 40 books on the Yogi culture to prepare himself for writing a single chapter in "The Razor's Edge." Then he rewrote it four times. His inevitable advice to fledglings who ask him how to become a great writer. "By writing," he answers.

Which ain't true.

Composer "Haunted"

One of the things that haunt Dmitri Shostakovich, the Russian composer who managed to get out of the Communist party's doghouse by abjectly promising to stop leaning toward "decadent western" melodies, is that people yawn at his recitals.

Before the spunk was kicked out of him he sometimes used to leap up from a piano stool, after playing a new composition for Soviet concert-goers, and shout, "I'll play it again, perhaps you did not understand it."

In his earlier days he used to leave his wife Irina, after a new symphony flopped, and their child Kolya, and disappear for days. Mrs. Shostakovich eventually discovered that the best place to find him was a soccer match. He is a rabid football fan; once composed a piece he called "Football" and was enraged when soccer fans thought it dull.

The siege of Leningrad, through which he lived, gave him the spark that made him world famous. Then he was accused of hitting the wrong keys — and of making sounds recognizable by the west. He has crawled back to favor, shouting repentence, but he is the most haunted looking of the delegates at the "cultural and scientific conference for world peace." By and large, he just sits there and stares through his little horn-rimmed glasses with the eyes of a frightened owl. It is a shocking sight to behold.

Jaycee Luncheon Features Songs By Youth Talent Contest Winners

Winners in the recent "Youth Talent Contest" were featured on the program at Monday's weekly Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

Sandra Pritchard, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Pritchard, sang three songs in the Al Jolson style which won first place for her in the local contest earlier this month.

Lloyd Thomson, jr., runnerup in the recent contest, sang three Irish ballads.

Both were accompanied by Lawrence Ivy at the piano. Ivy also played a piano solo at the conclusion of the program.

The two singers were introduced by Pete West and Melvin Best, program co-chairmen.

Club members briefly discussed a proposal to sponsor a professional fight card here next month. A final decision on the project probably will be announced within the next week, Horace Gearhart, president, indicated.

One out-of-town guest, Joe Holmes of Amarillo, and two new members, Sonny Cato and Harold Hoppe, were introduced.

Weldon Gibbs presided, with invocation by Homer Hensley.

Levelland Jaycees To Sponsor Two Singers In Talent Contest

LEVELLAND, March 28. (Special)—Levelland Junior Chamber of Commerce will have two contestants in the district talent contest sponsored by the Lamesa Junior Chamber of Commerce in the high school auditorium there Friday night.

Shirley Pearson, 13, and Hershel Homer, 17, both singers, will represent Levelland. Miss Mary Ann Vaughan, Lions club sweetheart, will furnish the piano accompaniment.

Talent committee of the Levelland Jaycees is Lois H. Vestal, chairman; Pen Bailey and Gene Yeager.

GETS UN POST—The United Nations announced the appointment of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz as administrator of a plebiscite to decide whether the Indian state of Kashmir shall become part of India or Pakistan. Leaving soon for Jammu, Kashmir, the admiral will supervise the balloting among 4,000,000 inhabitants of the mountainous princely state.

Postmen's Association, Auxiliary Conduct District Meeting Here

More than 100 members attended the District 3 meeting of the National Association of Letter Carriers and its auxiliary, held Saturday in the county courthouse.

After business meetings of the two organizations Saturday afternoon in the courthouse, members attended a banquet in Luby's cafeteria.

George A. Bangs, of Omaha, Nebr., a member of the national board of trustees of NALC, was the principal speaker at the banquet. He urged those present to actively support legislative measures which would be of benefit to postal department employes.

Albert Ammonds, master of ceremonies, introduced Lyle W. Graham, of Dallas, state NALC president; Gay Carter, of Amarillo, state vice-president; Jack Bryant, of Abilene, state secretary; Amos Howard, Lubbock postmaster; Ernest Thaxton, supervisor of mails for the Lubbock postoffice; and C. K. Johnson, superintendent of mails at Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Merlin Willson, local auxiliary president, introduced Mrs. Lera McCulley, of Wichita Falls, state treasurer, and Mrs. Jack Bryant, of Abilene, state secretary.

Members of the cast of Texas Tech's Varsity show provided entertainment at the banquet. The group was under the seupervision of Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, with Joe Meador as master of ceremonies.

Buford Terrell, local president, opened the banquet program with a welcoming address.

Fire Causes $250,000 Loss In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, March 28 (UP) A three-alarm fire early today gutted six Fort Worth business houses causing estimated damage of $250,000.

Fourteen fire companies and 150 off-duty firemen were called out at 2:56 a. m. to fight the blaze in which one fireman was injured.

Capt. H. C. Skaggs, 40, suffered a broken left ankle and injured elbow when a poorly-braced ladder slipped and he fell 15 feet to the sidewalk.

The blaze was believed to have originated in the rear of the Eighth Avenue Drug company. A tar-and-gravel roof temporarily prevented the fire from going upward and it spread to buildings on either side.

The cause was not determined, although it was thought defective wiring may have started the blaze. Firms with gutted interiors were R. C. Cox & company, (home appliances); C. V. Lancaster Refrigerator shop, Chapman's Barber shop; the drug store; Bake Rite bakery, and Cook's Paint and Wallpaper company.

Parkway cafeteria escaped the full extent of the blaze because of a brick fire wall. However, the cafeteria attic was damaged.

Former Officer Relates 'Arabian Nights' Story Of How He Obtained Fortune In Gems In Japan

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28 (INS) — A former American occupation officer in Japan told an Arabian nights tale in San Francisco today of how he acquired a valuable hoard of diamonds—the stones he was convicted of stealing from the Bank of Japan.

The officer, Col. Edward J. Murray, said at a federal court hearing he thought the jewels, valued at from $90,000 to $200,000, were given to him for saving an elderly Japanese from two hijackers on a Japanese highway.

Sentenced To Five Years

Murray is seeking his release from a five year prison term imposed on him by a Yokohama court martial in 1947. He claims the court, which found him guilty of stealing the diamonds while he was vault custodian at the bank, was prejudiced.

Murray testified that on a night in the fall of 1945 a slender oriental speaking faultless English delivered an envelope to him in his Tokyo hotel room.

The officer declared it contained 500 unset diamonds which he learned later in the U. S. were worth $80,000.

Murray said he believed the "gift" stemmed from a strange episode some time earlier on the highway between Yokohama and Tokyo.

Witnessed Attack

The officer declared that while driving the highway he had encountered two men attacking a third. When he approached to investigate, the attackers fled.

Murray said the third man was apparently the driver of one of two cars parked nearby and that its occupant, an elderly, courtly Japanese thanked him profusely.

Murray declared "I was puzzled and I asked what had happened." The officer added:

'Chaotic' Conditions Described

"He said, 'oh nothing, just a slight misunderstanding, that's all.' Then he asked me my name, thanked me again, and drove off."

The officer explained "I believe the two men who ran away were hijackers and that the elderly man sent me the diamonds as a reward for scaring them away."

Earlier in the hearing Murray described "chaotic" conditions in Tokyo when occupation forces moved in, saying that valuable minerals such as gold and platinum were shoveled into the bank from the backs of trucks.

Final oral arguments on his petition for a writ of habeas corpus will be heard May 2.

B. E. Mixon Dies Of Injuries In Fire

B. E. Mixon, 54, of 1904 Sixteenth, Lubbock barber who was critically burned last Tuesday morning in a fire in Lancaster Barber shop at 1512 Ave. H, died about 1:05 p. m. Monday in West Texas hospital.

The fire in the barbershop was discovered about 7 a. m. by the operator of a nearby cafe, who called firemen. Mixon suffered third and fourth degree burns on the back and left hand and wrist.

Funeral services and burial will be at Hamlin Wednesday afternoon, Plains Funeral home reported, but a definite time had not been set last night.

Survivors, in addition to Mixon's wife who lives here, include a daughter, Mrs. Jack Holt, Hamlin; a son, Leo Mixon of Wilmington, Calif.; and one grandchild.

Georgia Youth Has Goal Set On Governor's Post; Now Publishes Paper For Small Town

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 28—I know a politician who would rather be assistant ward-heeler than President.

My man is Frank Pidcock, III, editor, publisher, reporter and columnist for the Coolidge, Ga., Enterprise.

Frank, a handsome, blond 17-year-old, was in Washington on a two-fold mission. First, to have a look at the political situation. Second, to attend the International Key club convention, sponsored by the Kiwanis for bright young men about the country.

The boy didn't get to meet the President, but like any good reporter he read the newspapers.

Serious About Future

"I don't see how Mr. Truman stands the strain," said Frank. "I hope some day to be governor of Georgia and after that maybe a U. S. senator. But I'd rather be a big duck in a little puddle than the head man. Maybe a ward committeeman, or even dog catcher. You live longer."

Frank's home is in Moultrie, Ga., which is 14 miles from Coolidge. He got to thinking the village of 700 people needed a newspaper and so he gave 'em one. He puts out four printed pages twice a month. Gives them away.

"The ads pay the freight," he said. "I'm learning the ropes. After all, I've been a newspaperman for seven years. I used to put out a mimeographed neighborhood sheet."

You couldn't blame the kid for puffing his chest a little.

Like most of the other 2,200 boys here at the convention, Frank is deadly serious—about the present and future.

Wanted Own Paper

Right now, he's up to his ears in politics. He "trades" papers with Gov. Herman Talmadge, who publishes a political paper.

"But mostly," said Frank, "I get my ideas from reading the political writers on the Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Constitution."

The head man on The Enterprise sticks to politics and leaves the rest of the paper to Gene Sirmans, his feature editor, and Eddie Oxford, the "expert" on sports.

Of course, all staffers, have a column.

Frank takes great pride in the fact that he can lick his sports editor at golf (Frank shoots in the 70's) and would like you to know he once shot part of a round with Bobby Jones, the former boy wonder of the links.

"We halved two holes and Bobby won one," he said.

And the future:

Frank's a senior in high school now and plans to attend Emory university in Atlanta next year. He's going to take a little journalism—to round himself out, as he says—and some law.

"A man's got to know something about the law of libel, you know."

When all that's over, he would like to try his hand in the big newspaper league in Atlanta for a few years and soak up some of the atmosphere of the city room.

From there on, it'll be politics with maybe owning a little newspaper on the side to keep his hand in.

Frank doesn't think the jump from ward heeler to governor will be too great and besides governor's don't have as many headaches as presidents.

Good Luck, governor!

Forty-One Japs Hurt As Fire Hits Atom-Bombed Hiroshima

TOKYO, Monday, March 28 (AP) Fire raged for two hours in atom-bombed Hiroshima yesterday. Forty-one Japanese were injured, three seriously.

Hiroshima police officials told The Associated Press by telephone that the blaze was extinguished yesterday afternoon after destroying a small railway hospital and 155 combination homes and shops in the cluttered market district near Hiroshima station.

They said original Japanese press reports, which put the total at an estimated 700 buildings destroyed, were exaggerated.

The fire did not spread to the center of the city near the epicenter of the atom bomb blast. In this area is the main shopping district and the larger Red Cross hospital.

Police said six unidentified Australian soldiers, spending a Sunday holiday in the city, were instrumental in bringing the fire under control.

Horticulturist Warns Against Early Pruning Of Rose Bushes

Rose garden fanciers should resist the lure of fast-topping rose bushes and pruning shears these bright spring days, Dr. W. W. Yocum, professor of horticulture at Texas Tech warns.

"You can't have bountiful roses and cut the bushes down before warm weather is here to stay," he explains. "The danger period for pruning is not over until after the threat of frost or more specifically this year, until after the middle of April. Then is the time to do a little pruning, but even then, don't get too enthusiastic or you will find your bushes bearing only a few roses. For quantity, prune sparingly, for every time you clip roses you are pruning

A few handsful of powdered su[illegible] around the bushes will be about the only soil service needed in this area, he said, since the soil here is rich enough for roses. He warned again not to burn up rose gardens with too much fertilizer. Organic matter such as leaf mold placed around rose bushes is beneficial because it will help hold water that otherwise drains off around the plants.

Cooper High School Seniors To Sponsor Band Program Tonight

The Cooper High school senior class will sponsor a program by the "West Texas Whirlwinds," a string band directed by Ford Greenshaw, of Lorenzo, in the school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Proceeds will go into a fund to finance a trip for members of the graduating place during the summer. The destination has not been decided, but Colorado is being considered. Admission prices will be 20 and 35 cents.

LEGISLATIVE STUDY IS URGED

Bitter Opposition Stalls Plan To Change Surface Water Laws

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 28 — A plan to rewrite state surface water laws was abandoned today in the face of bitter opposition from several sections of the state.

Backers of the proposal, introduced in both the House and Senate, said they would ask the legislature for an interim committee to continue a study of water laws.

The recodification of water laws was drawn by the the Texas Water Conservation association. Both bills are in House and Senate subcommittees.

Investigation Asked

"We could come out with a bob-tailed bill, but that wouldn't get the job done," J. E. Sturrock, TWCA manager, said today.

Rep. Abraham Kazen of Laredo, who organized opposition against the bill in both Senate and House committee hearings, said the TWCA recommendation "means we killed the bill."

Guy C. Jackson of Anahuac, TWCA president, sent a statement to top state officials and members of the legislature. He asked the legislature for "a full scale investigation of the need for a thorough-going revision of our laws affecting water."

He predicted that a final solution to state water problems would be found "not in any proposal, but through full and complete discussion by many factions from all sections and the resolving of many proposals and views."

Four lengthy hearings were held on the proposal — two in each house. Proponents of the measure said it would give Texas a set of up-to-date water laws. They said the bill would allow unused and abandoned water claims to be cancelled and new appropriations could be issued.

Opponents said the present water laws were satisfactory, with maybe a few changes. Large delegations from the Rio Grande valley contended the plan would take away water rights granted years ago by Spain, Mexico and the Republic of Texas.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce filed 17 protests against the bill when it was first presented. They said it would not protect water supplies of West Texas towns and cities. After two compromise meetings with TWCA officials, The WTCC agreed to support the bill if six amendments were attached to the original proposal.

Lubbock's Ben Brown Gains Third Spot In Bowling Meet

Three local keglers went to Fort Worth the past weekend for the annual Cowtown Roundup, singles bowling competition, and Ben Brown of Lubbock finished in third place.

Top score in the four-game match was bowled by Don McClure of Dallas. He had a total of 919 pins, an average of almost 230 per game. The second place score was 836, and Brown won the third prize of $125 with 813.

Other bowlers going to Fort Worth were Jay O'Keefe and Bill Nelms.

Rescue Teams Slowed In Efforts To Reach Crashed B-26 In Japan

TOKYO, March 28 (INS)—Two American rescue teams battled a heavy snow storm today in attempts to reach the wreckage of a B-26 bomber which crashed with four men aboard on Mt. Fuji yesterday.

An army helicopter located the plane at the 8,000 foot level and reported no signs of life about the wreckage. There was no indication of survivors.

A cavalry unit which tried to reach the crash site was forced back temporarily by heavy snows. A paratrooper team was also participating in the rescue attempt.

The names of the crewmen, who were on a routine training flight, have not been announced.

Fort Worth Man Assumes Duties As Head Of Osteopathic Group

FORT WORTH, March 28. (U.P.)—Dr. J. R. Thompson, Fort Worth, took over today as president of the North Texas Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, succeeding Dr. Hugh Betzner, Dallas.

Named president-elect at a meeting of the association here yesterday was Dr. Sherman Sparks, Rockwall. Dr. Charles Still, Dallas, was named vice-president, and Dr. Lester Hamilton, Fort Worth, secretary-treasurer.

Eight delegates to the state convention April 27-29 in San Antonio were selected, and included: Drs. Robert E. Morgan, Sam Sparks and Robert Lutz, all of Dallas; J. O. Carr, Phil Russell and D. D. Beyer, all of Fort Worth; Sparks and Noel Ellis, Denton.

Warnings Ignored

member of the Appropriations committee for a two-week delay.

Jameson said the immediate outlook is for a $36 million deficit on the major appropriations bills, not including such measures as the Lamar college bill.

Rep. Jack Brooks of Beaumont told the House that "we're not asking for much money" and that the school is vitally needed.

"We can't wait until the last week to pass all these bills," Rep. William A. Miller of Houston urged the House. "Whether we're long or short at the end of the term shouldn't determine whether we'll pass this bill."

The Senate Finance committee has asked for a slowdown on these so-called "single-purpose" appropriations until the necessary measures for public schools, departments and other established state services can be approved. It also wants the legislature to make appropriations only for one fiscal year, instead of the usual two, then come back into special session next January.

At that time it could pass bills to finance the second year of the fiscal period, and act on a new tax bill if state revenue continues to decline under present levies. The move is regarded as an effort to stall off new taxes.

H. B. Glover, Former Lamesa Resident, Dies In New Mexico

LAMESA, March 28. (Special) — Word was received here today of the death of H. B. Glover formerly a Lamesa resident and a rural mail carrier here. Glover died this morning in a Hot Springs, N.M., hospital.

He had been operating a tourist camp in Hot Springs for several years and had undergone an emergency appendectomy there about a week ago.

The body will be brought overland to Lamesa by the Higginbotham Funeral home and will arrive here some time Tuesday morning.

Funeral and burial arrangements are incomplete. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Annie Glover, and his mother, Mrs. W. B. Glover of Lamesa.

Error In New York Newspaper Announces Abolition Of Taxes

ITHACA, N. Y., March 31 (U.P.)—Ithaca Journal readers thought things were just wonderful when they saw a headline: "Plans Formed to Keep City Free of Taxes."

But, their joy was short-lived. It turned out that a Journal compositor had changed two letters from "Fo" to "Ta," and the story really was about rabid foxes.

The Journal took so much ribbing, it finally printed some of the joshes, topped by a headline: "To Our Readers—Please Stop Taxing Us For Our Foxiness."

SCHOOL CENSUS

The 'Last Round-Up'

WEST TEXANS interested in their public schools—which means just about all of us—will require no urging to cooperate as much as they can with the effort to make the scholastic census now nearing its end as complete as possible.

The annual enumeration was started March 1 and must be finished by April 1. The next few days will be "mop-up week," when efforts will be made to obtain the names of all scholastics who may have been overlooked for any reasons earlier this month. Every name secured will mean $55 for our schools from the State. Every name missed will mean $55 lost—and our schools, hard-pressed to finance the expansions and improvements demanded by rapid growth—cannot afford such losses.

The success of the final mop-up will depend in large degree upon the public cooperation received. Each district is entitled to credit, and $55, for every boy and girl residing within it who has reached his or her 6th birthday next September 1 and still is under 18. It makes no difference whether the child actually is in school. It should include all who may be away temporarily in school, at work, in the military service, or for other reasons. All should be reported.

The safest and surest plan to follow is this: If you have children of scholastic age, or know of any, who may not have been reported, visit or call your school district's business office. In Lubbock, it's 1007 Texas avenue, phone 9396.

If the names already have been obtained, no harm is done. If not, each name will mean $55—and all our schools need the money.

Action Needed Now!

THE MORNING Avalanche and several other leading newspapers of Texas have been publishing a series of special articles recently by J. P. Porter pertaining to conditions in mental institutions of the State.

The conditions described in many instances doubtless have been shocking—perhaps revolting at times—to some reading tastes. The chief considerations of The Avalanche in presenting them were: First, the conviction they would interest the great majority of readers; and, second, and of greater importance, the desire to perform the constructive public service of laying before people of this area information they should have.

The series, we believe, demonstrates beyond the possibility of challenge the existence of conditions which, in the name of humanity, demand correction without avoidable delay. We do not propose to attempt any blame-placing here except the negative remark that all the fault does not fall upon those charged with supervision and operation of the various institutions. On the whole, they appear to have done as well as could reasonably be expected, considering what they have to work with.

If objectionable conditions and practices are to be corrected effectively, most of the responsibility rests upon the Legislature. And, in this instance, we do not believe the legislators have been guilty of anything worse than omission—or of neglect of a problem which has not been drawn to their attention as effectively as might have been done.

If readers share the view that corrective steps should be started with all practical haste, we suggest that their interest and desires be expressed in a note or card to their State representatives and senators. Nothing could get action and results quicker than an avalanche of this sort to mail to legislators.

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, March 29, 1928.)

In spite of inclement weather, Lubbock's building urge was responsible for $11,500 in building permits being issued yesterday by D. J. Schlag, city building inspector, boosting the total for March to $341,278. The year's record stands at $1,122,668. Two hundred permits have been issued since January 1, of these 58 being recorded in March. Below are listed yesterday's permits: Dr. Sidwell, 2610 Twenty-second street, six room brick veneer residence, $5,500, G. E. Walker, contractor. S. J. McFarland, 1913 Twenty-third street, five room brick veneer residence, $6,000, W. W. Nelson, contractor.

They're Trying To Start Trouble With Me

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, vacationing at a swank resort, witness the death of a mysterious man named Homer Anglin. Later the Conovers' cottage is occupied by Faye Jordan, due to a "reservation mixup" and their luggage is searched when it is moved. The searchers don't find a cipher message in a mechanical pencil which Anglin slipped into Johnny's pocket before he died. Johnny is taken to a gambling ranch by Faye where he is drugged. Meanwhile, Sin found herself in company with Sagmon Robottom, an archeologist, who frightens her by telling her not to "interfere." Sin breaks away from Robottom and runs to her cottage.)

SIN flung herself across the bed. She was still panting with fright. And exertion.

Their clothes were scattered haphazardly around the bedroom. The two big suitcases yawned toothless on the bed. Sin had locked herself in the cottage and was obeying Sagmon Robottom's warning as quickly as possible. She gathered up an armful of lingerie and hurled it into the emptier suitcase.

When she picked up her husband's brown dress shoes, her lip commenced to tremble. Where was John Henry? It wasn't like him to dash off like that without a word unless—Sin's heart thudded faster than ever—unless he had learned something about the murder. Why did he insist on getting mixed up in things that were none of his business?

Sin wrapped the shoes in tissue paper she had saved from the unpacking the night before. Surely nothing could have happened to him in a crowded resort like Azure. Yet he was so dumb sometimes about the most obvious things.

The shoe wrappings rustled as she laid the package on her stack of slips. She caught herself watching the redwood desk in the outer room—the desk that held the mechanical pencil and the cipher. There was always the police. Sin turned her back defiantly on the telephone. If she started the police looking for John Henry and he was perfectly all right, he'd be angry about all the fuss. Nevtheless . . .

Sin was still pondering the question perturbedly when she heard a door close softly in the next cottage.

She got up off her knees from atop the suitcase, letting the straps slip free. That was Miss Jordan's cottage next door and if she had come back then John Henry . . . Eagerly, she peeked through the slats of the window blind.

IT was not John Henry who had pulled the blue door to gently behind him and paused on the porch of Cottage 15. It was Gayner, his cadaverous face peering cautiously up and down the line of silent cottages. Then he stepped off the porch and started walking quickly down the flagstone path back to the hotel.

Sin opened the front door to her own cottage and stepped outside. Gayner had already vanished around a turn. Without reason, Sin began to run, anxious not to lose sight of him. Gayner was a tangible link between her and the tangled web that might have enmeshed her husband again. The assistant manager certainly was privileged to inspect the cottages whenever he chose — but something furtive in Gayner's manner warned her that this had been no official visit.

Gayner was just going through the glass doors into the Las Dunas lobby when Sin reached the sunken patio. She slowed her pace as she crossed through the gay umbrellas and lolling guests.

Somebody called her name behind her. Sin turned quickly, a hopeful smile beginning on her generous mouth. The smile aborted. It was Sagmon Robottom, his bronze face stern, sauntering toward her from the pool. Sin whirled and fled. "Mrs. Conover!" Robottom called again.

She rushed up the steps and into the lobby. Gayner had gone past his registration desk without pausing and was now going down the front steps and crossing the driveway. His walk was brisk and purposeful.

"YOU look like you're in a hurry," Thelma Loomis said in her semimasculine voice, as the two women dodged around each other at the front entrance.

"Thanks," Sin said automatically and kept going. Mr. Trim was just getting out of the elevator [illegible] as if to beckon Sin closer. She gave him a tight smile and didn't slacken pace. Vernon laboriously forced the glass door open for her.

Gayner's brown - suited back was still in sight through the driveway border of palms and tamarisks. He was about 50 yards in the lead. This had been cut to 25 by the time the assistant manager reached Coachella street. Sin loitered behind the concealing bole of a palm while Gayner looked up and down the peaceful street. Then he darted across and went hurriedly down the hill toward the center of town.

Near the corner of Cahuilla street, a block away from the Las Dunas, Gayner sidestepped suddenly and disappeared from sight. Sin's pulse quickened but she made herself amble along in a tourist gait. If Gayner had realized he was being followed, she didn't want to appear suspicious. She could just keep on going downtown.

However, Gayner was apparently oblivious of his tracker. When she reached the spot where h[illegible] She found he'd merely angled sharply into a narrow alley. As she walked past, Gayner was 20 or 30 yards up the alley, opening the back door of one of the buildings.

The place looked familiar and it came to Sin why it should. Homer Anglin had died there. Gayner was letting himself quietly into the Ship of the Desert.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

WILL you explain something to me, please?

Because I don't get it.

The chairman of our Red Cross drive here in our little town reports that at the end of the drive for our quota of $10,000 only $6,500 has been raised.

BRANDEIS

The president of our local Y.M.C.A. has just announced that the annual dues will have to be increased because although an energetic campaign for $11,000 has recently been conducted, only $7,314 was contributed and there is a substantial deficit.

However, when the "Friends of Marigny" not long ago tried to raise a certain amount to restore that French village's bombed-out church, they got more money than they asked for, and only last week they collected an additional $150 in a couple of hours through a "Snow Sculpturing Contest" at which refreshments were served to the assembled guests. A good time was had by all.

I wonder why our hearts go out so readily and so warmly to needy French and Italians and Chinese and Zulus and Hottentots, but remain so cold toward our own.

Why is it that starving Indians in faraway Asia touch us more deeply than those frightfully neglected Navajos in our own country.

Could it, perhaps, be the same sort of psychology that urges us to make darn fools of ourselves over any old phony or rundown aristocrat who comes here from Europe and endears himself to us by insulting us and telling us what crude barbarians we are?

THIS is the open season for charity drives and I am apparently on every "sucker" list in the world.

But I won't give one single nickel of my hard-earned money to any foreign charity as long as there is one needy person in my own country. For instance, I feel sorry for the Austrian school children in whose behalf I was solicited a few days ago.

Certainly they should have milk and eggs and the happiness to which all human beings, and particularly all children, are entitled.

But I can afford to give only so much to charity, and that little mite of mine first of all does its bit here at home.

In New York State alone almost a quarter of a million "cases," as human beings are called officially when they need help, received public assistance in one single year.

In your own state the proportion is probably about the same, particularly if your state be an industrial one.

The total amount was close to two hundred million dollars.

With all that poverty in our midst why is it that we have so much to spend to relieve poverty abroad?

Has it not long been said that "Charity begins at home?"

FOR MIDDLE EAST

New Alliance Talked

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The British Foreign Office is exerting quiet but strong pressure on the United States to assume the lead in organizing an anti-Soviet Pact in the Mediterranean and Middle East area, even before representatives of Western Europe and Scandinavian nations have scrawled their John Hancocks beneath the North Atlantic Treaty.

TUCKER

Foreign Minister Bevin is expected to renew diplomatic discussions in person with Secretary Acheson, when he visits Washington to affix his name to the document in early April.

His argument has been that it is useless to encircle Russia to the West, if she is permitted to break loose in the strategic and oil-rich territory extending from the Dardanelles to the Persian Gulf.

SPONSOR: Bevin wants this country to stand sponsor of the proposed alliance, as it has for the North Atlantic arrangement, for hard-boiled, practical reasons. It is not alone because only the U.S. has the prestige and the material resources to undertake this venture.

He points out that we are already committed in this remote region because of our current financial and military assistance to Greece, Iran and Turkey. But he argues, quite logically, that England is none too popular with such nations as Turkey, Italy, Palestine, Iran and Egypt, whereas the U.S. still enjoys a high rating among these sensitive peoples.

SAFEGUARD: Bevin wants Spain and Portugal in the new, anti-Stalin setup but, here again, he cannot afford to take a leading role. He would antagonize his labor supporters if he dared to deal with such dictators as Franco and Salazar. He thinks that the U.S. or France should act as international salesman at Madrid and Lisbon.

Whitehall would also like the formation of a South Pacific alliance as a safeguard against a possible Russian penetration of that area, where powerful fifth columns are now aiming to undermine the local governments. But Secretary Acheson, no matter how he may react to April proposals for a Mediterranean coalition, has turned his deaf ear to this suggestion.

SMARTER: Although President Truman was accused of playing domestic, vote-getting politics with his hasty recognition of Israel—and perhaps he was—world experts believe events will prove him to have been far smarter than his British counterparts—Professor Attlee and Longshoreman Bevin.

The new Jewish state may become the West's rampart in this potentially turbulent bridgehead between Europe and the East.

Mr. Bevin was informed by his military experts, including Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, current commander of the Western European allies' armies, that 40 million Arabs would wipe out a handful of Jewish fighters within a few weeks. That information, together with England's historic friendship for the Arabs, led London to bet on the wrong horse.

BELIEF: Israel is expected to become a strong nation, militarily and economically. It can be the most powerful influence in westernizing the Middle East. Although the Mapam Party, which favors Moscow, got 14.54 per cent of the vote in the recent Palestine elections, Israel leaders realize that Stalin hates their nationalistic and Zionistic spirit. He seeks to use the Jews for his own selfish and aggressive ends.

In view of these developments, there is a general belief that President Truman may look more kindly on Bevin's proposal for another, far-flung alliance than Secretary Acheson.

The latter has been warned by prominent members of the Senate that there is a limit to the guarantees and commitments, military, political and financial, which the U.S. can make in these disturbed days.

BITTER: Senator James E. Murray, Montana millionaire, has represented himself as a friend of man ever since he landed on Capitol Hill. He has sponsored public health and power projects, and he has always voted on the side of labor. He might have been defeated last fall if it had not been for the all-out support of workingmen, especially miners.

But Senator Murray ran out on his friends, especially John L. Lewis, a few days ago. When the nomination of James Boyd for Director of Mines was before the Senate Labor committee, Senator Ed Johnson moved that action on Mr. Boyd be deferred until the committee had considered and held hearings on his measure for making the Mine Safety Bureau a separate agency under Interior, instead of a unit in the Mine Director's bureau.

John L. is so bitter against the Boyd appointment that he called his special two-week "mourning" strike in protest. The Johnson proposal would have left Mr. Boyd as head of Mines, but would have permitted President Truman to name a more practical and experienced man for the safety job. It would also have delayed the committee's subsequent ten-to-one vote in favor of Mr. Boyd.

DESERTION: The vote was six to five against the Johnson proposal, with Mr. Murray absent. It would have been a tie if he had been present. John L. will never forgive him for his desertion at this critical moment

Senator Guy Cordon, Oregon Republican, was also missing. He would probably have voted for the Johnson motion because he headed the Senate committee which investigated the Centralia coal-mining disaster that cost 111 lives. But this failure to appear, since he is a conservative Republican, did not disappoint the liberal bloc so much as Senator Murray's walkout.

The man from Montana will have to work—or talk—fast to regain his reputation as a friend of the common man.

"The best way to hold a job is to cultivate a pleasing personality," says a psychologist. In some cases, maybe so. But there are still thousands of old-fashioned employers who hold the quaint notion that doing a little work now and then is of prime importance.

In this country there is little hate or envy of superiors, because few Americans feel inferior to anybody.

PRESSURE GROUPS FEARED

Local Control Claimed Weak

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—During the last few days here in the nation's capital we have been treated to a discouraging public confession in Congress of weakness and inadequacy in American local government which, when pondered, is disturbing.

Whether accurate or justified or city and state governments have been represented in debate or action, or both, as rather easy marks for special-interest lobbies. Nor has Congress, itself, shown up too well. Issues involved were rent control, veterans' pensions and confirmation of Dr. James Boyd as director of the Bureau of Mines of the Interior department which John L. Lewis fought so bitterly.

STOKES

Why did champions of effective rent control try so vigorously to prevent return of jurisdiction to local authorities?

Local Politics Seen

The answer came very bluntly from Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.), himself formerly the mayor of a great American city, Minneapolis. After pointing out that the real-estate lobbies "really began to feel their strength" in 1947 and 1948, he told the Senate:

"I say in all reverence, may God pity the city councils and may God pity the mayors of all cities if the Fulbright amendment (for conditional return to local control) shall be agreed to. Rent control will become the plaything of local politics. Effective rent control can be destroyed by this amendment."

Mayors from all over the country meeting here at the time in national conference bore him out by opposing return to local control.

What this seems to be is a confession that local governments can not, or will not, stand up for the general public interest against special interests. That, of course, was influential in the transfer of authority for some functions from city and state governments to the federal government in recent years, though in some other cases federal rather than local control was regarded as essential because of the growing complexity of our industrial civilization; in short, an adaptation to changing conditions.

All of this explains why special interests resisted transfer of authority here, in the first [illegible], which was a running battle during the new deal regime, and why they have constantly tried since to get functions transferred back to local authorities. The latter could be approached and handled more easily. It explains also why special interests have set up elaborate and expensive headquarters here in recent years to bring pressure upon Congress and the federal government directly, as well as building fires back home locally.

It is a depressing commentary on the status of local government. There are problems that local governments could and should handle. But if they fail to protect the public interest, then the people look naturally to Washington. In the final analysis the people, themselves, must accept the blame, because they elect the officials. The conditional return to local control in rents should offer a test, and perhaps it will wake people up to their own civic responsibilities, especially in the field of economic matters, such as rent control, where local politicians seem so susceptible to pressures by local financial and business interests.

Solons' Action Also Hit

In another issue of the past week, John L. Lewis's complaint against Dr. Boyd included, among other things, enforcement of mine safety regulations. But it was clearly brought out in Senate debate that the Bureau of Mines director lacks power in that respect. That is a matter for state governments and coal operators. How the states have failed is revealed now and again in investigations, most recently in the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster which disclosed the political influence of coal interests.

But the most farcical exhibit in the last few weeks was that scene in the House of Representatives during consideration of the veterans' pension bill when many members, in a species of political St. Vitus dance, were voting one way when their names were recorded on a roll-call and another when their identity was safely concealed—all because of what veterans organizations might do to them back home come the next election.

What ever the shortcomings of local government, it is doubtful if few, if any, city councils or state legislatures ever put on such a political hide-and-seek performance as that. The sour public reaction probably had its influences in the House's subsequent act of absolution in sending the pension bill back to committee.

Maybe reform could start here simultaneously with that in local governments back home.

Woods Charges Special Interests Seek Control Of State's Schools

AUSTIN, March 28 (AP)—State School Supt. L. A. Woods charged today that the Gilmer-Aikin bill abolishing his elective office is a device of special interests who seek absolute control of public educatioon.

Dr. Woods hurled the strongest and most serious accusations he has made to date against Senate Bill 115 in a memorandum to members of the legislature. The measure, by Senator Jim Taylor of Kerens, is the keystone bill in a trio of proposals calling for revolutionary reorganization of education in Texas.

The three bills have been passed by the Senate, approved in amended form by a House education committee, and are scheduled to come before the full House this week.

"We know that in reality the original proposals did not bubble up from the masses, but were imposed subtly from above, in complete accord with the preconceived purposes of the inspirers of the Gilmer-Aikin committee bills," Dr. Woods said.

He observed that the cost of public education surely will go up sharply with increased cost of living, "with the greatly increased school enrollments" expected in the next few years, and "with the increasing demands of the people for a greatly expanded school program."

Claimed Blow At Taxes

"It is quite natural and understandable that the special and powerful interests of this state simply want to protect themselves as much as possible from increase in taxes by getting into absolute control of public education, which already costs annually about 37 per cent of all state expenditures," Dr. Woods reasoned.

He questioned why sponsors of the three bills have been willing to "compromise most of their original plans and objectives whenever and wherever it may have appeared absolutely necessary to gain needed support—except the one point of pushing me out of this office."

Taylor's bill would make a state commissioner of education appointive. It would eliminate the state superintendent from office after the law became effective and an elective board of education would name the commissioner.

MARKET HOLDS GROUND

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—The stock market stirred around in its sleep today but never woke up.

Small gains added early in the day were shaved off in later trading, leaving the list as a whole unchanged on average.

Some of the leading issues swung out of the narrow fractional range at times for gains or losses of a point or two.

The market as a whole did virtually nothing. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 68.3. The industrial component was unchanged, rails lost .1 of a point and utilities advanced .1 of a point.

Among the gains throughout the list were Bethlehem Steel ⅛, General Motors ⅝, Montgomery Ward ⅜ (new high), Sears Roebuck ⅜, J. I. Case ½, Boeing ¼, Electric Power and Light ⅛, Western Union ¼, American Can ⅛, General Electric ⅛, Owens Illinois ⅛, Union Pacific ⅛, Great Northern preferred ⅛, Standard Oil (NJ) ⅛, and Greyhound ⅛ (third most active).

Losses included Santa Fe 1, Nickel Plate ⅛, Consolidated Natural Gas 1⅛, Anaconda ⅜ (new low), Kennecott ⅛, Air Reduction 1⅛ (after a Supreme Court decision resulting in higher taxes), Westinghouse ⅛, Allied Chemical 1 (new low), International Paper ⅛, Glenn Martin ⅝ (on an adverse earnings report), and Woolworth ⅛.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 28 (AP) — Grains recovered from an early selloff on the board of trade today. Prices dropped rather sharply in active dealings in the first half hour, but then started a slow, persistent upturn. Before the close practically everything had gone above Saturday's finish.

Initial selling came mainly from commission houses, represented a continuation which got underway Saturday and appeared to be based upon doubts concerning the government's wheat buying policy. But the Commodity Credit corporation said it was still in the market for wheat "in-store," which some traders had doubted.

Wheat closed ⅝-1⅛ higher, May $2.12⅝-2.14⅝, corn was unchanged to ⅛ higher, May $1.32-1.32⅛, oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher, May 68⅝-⅞, rye was 1.59, 2¼ lower, May $1.59¾, soybeans were unchanged to 1⅛ higher, May $2.14-2.14½, and lard was 25 to 27 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.25.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 28 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.40¼-46¼.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP) — Cotton futures moved lower in slow trading today. Scattered liquidation and hedging were absorbed through mill buying and short covering. Quiet conditions in spot cotton and textiles markets, the tendency to await the parity announcement scheduled Tuesday, and action on more ECA funds, restricted interest to futures. A 12-point decline in the mid-March cotton parity compared with the February figure was generally anticipated.

Futures closed 30 to 35 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS, March 28. (AP)—The average price of Middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at 15 designated southern spot markets was 32.61 cents a bale, lower at 32.61 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 30.45; middling 15/16ths-inch average 30.62.

IT'S A DEAL

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Republican and Democratic councilmen here made a deal. Francis M. Costello, Democrat, urged the council to buy a tiger for the city's zoo. Albert T. Hollenbeck, Republican, agreed, provided that Costello votes with the Republicans when they decide to buy an elephant.

GOVERNOR SETS SPECIAL WEEK

Appeal Made For Texans' Help In Aiding Cerebral Palsy Group

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 28.—The governor today gave a boost to the crippled and twisted children victims of cerebral palsy.

April 3-10 will be known as Cerebral Palsy week in Texas, Gov. Beauford H. Jester announced.

"The war against crippling diseases is a vitally important part of our effort to protect our children and provide for a strong citizenry in the future," Jester declared.

The Texas Society for Crippled Children is sponsor of 12 treatment centers throughout the state. Nine more are in the formative stage. Most of the finances comes from the sales of Easter seals.

Sales Of Seals Urged

Appealing to the generosity of Texans, Jester said: "I urge every citizen to buy generously of Easter seals so that every crippled child in every community may have his chance as an active healthy citizen."

The child crippled by cerebral palsy may never be normal, Texas society workers explain—"all we can hope to do is bring them closer to normalcy."

And so they work—strengthening twisted muscles with rhythmic exercises, putting braces on twisted legs, showing a child how to put one foot in front of the other and walk.

Cerebral palsy is caused by an injury to the brain. It may come before the baby is born. Sometimes at the moment of birth, for instance when the birth is extremely fast. Later, some blow on the head, or even high fever may injure a part of the brain.

Treatments vary for the three main types of cerebral palsy. The spastic is tense and rigid and his fingers refuse to bend. The athetoid is in constant motion; he over responds to any stimulation. The at cia has no sense of balance and walks with a swaggering gait because he plants his feet far apart.

The Texas Society for Crippled Children works with county societies which in turn are direct sponsors of the local treatment centers. These are in Greenville, Paris, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, El Paso, Port Arthur, Corpus Christi, Houston, Baytown, Waco, Austin, San Antonio and Fort Worth. Plans are to establish others at Amarillo, Beaumont, Gregg county, Marshall, Abilene, Big Spring or Odessa, Texarkana, Sherman and in the Rio Grande valley.

Crew Rescued After 'Ditching' Navy Plane

HONOLULU, March 28. (INS)—A rescue ship carrying the 11-man crew of a Navy flying boat "ditched" 600 miles southwest of Johnston island in the Pacific was headed today for Kwajalein island.

The crew was taken off the slowly foundering PBY shortly before midnight last night. It crash landed in rough seas.

The rescue was reported to Honolulu by radio about seven hours after the PBY pilot Lt. Comdr. W. C. Hartman reported that he was going to "ditch" because of engine trouble.

His plane was enroute from Kwajalein to San Diego.

He reported the crash-landing was "fairly rough" but that none of the crew members were injured. The last message said the plane was taking water in the radio room but that it could stay afloat for several hours.

The rescue ship, the LSM 448, was only 25 miles from the scene when the crash was first reported.

Two B-17's and three PBY's from Honolulu and 11 PBY's from Kwajalein participated in the air search for the plane.

Tests On Jet-Assisted B-36's Continue At Fort Worth Base

FORT WORTH, March 28. (AP)—Tests of jet-assisted B-36 flights will continue here this week, said Ray O. Ryan, division manager for Convair.

Last Saturday a B-36 made a three-hour and 15 minute jet-assisted shakedown flight. Ryan described it as "most successful."

The B-36 had twin jet engines mounted on each wing to supplement the 21,000 horsepower developed by its six conventional engines.

During the shakedown flight the jet-assisted ship climbed to 40,000 feet. Security restrictions prevented announcement of speed attained.

It cost $2,000,000,000 and 2½ years intense work by 100,000 physicists and chemists to perfect the first atom bomb.

Dam Project To Aid Southwest Industry

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 28 (AP)—The Southwest will soon get a stimulant to industry and wealth.

The stimulant will come in 1950, engineers said today, when waters of the Colorado river are turned into the penstocks of the nearly - completed Davis dam, about 75 miles south of this desert-sea resort city.

The effect of the massive Hoover (Boulder) dam, located at the end of the Grand Canyon, already has brought millions of dollars in increased property value to the Southwest.

The Davis dam, unlike the concrete Hoover dam, consists principally of earth and rock fill which will rise about 138 feet above the river bed. It will be 1,400 feet across the canyon at its base and will be 1,600 feet long at the top with a width of 50 feet to accommodate a two-lane autotmobile highway. It will not affect the splendor of Grand Canyon, which is miles below the scenic wonder.

Engineers said that present plans provide for the allocation of 50 per cent of the dam's powerhouse energy to go to Arizona and 25 per cent each to Nevada and California.

The dam is expected to be finished by August 1, but a few months more work will be necessary on the spillway structures and a still longer period for the installation of the power units. The power actually will be available in 1959, according to the latest estimate.

Spain bought 740 war surplus freight cars from the United States.
