

1968 Commodity Program Sign-up Now Under Way

Farmers in Collingsworth County were reminded today that signups now are under way for participants in the 1968 feed grain, wheat and cotton programs.

All commodity program sign-ups are being held at the county office of ASCS during the period Feb. 5 through March 15.

Tom Birchfield, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee, urges that farmers who wish to take part in the programs file their applications early. The applications indicate the farmer's program intentions, including the extent of his participation. The later the filing, the more likely the office is to be crowded with resultant delay in the whole process. Only 25% of the farms in the county had signed up through Feb. 15.

Under both the feed grain and cotton programs for 1968, farmers may earn diversion and price-support payments as well as qualify for price-support loans on their crops; feed grain diversion payments will be available to all program participants in 1968. The wheat program provides price-support loans and marketing certificates which bring returns up to full parity for the part of the wheat crop allocated for domestic use; no diversion payment is available for wheat.

Producers may receive an advance payment on 50% of the cotton and feed grain diversion payments at the time he signs up if he so desires.

Quail, Norwood Play in District 9-B Tournament

Quail and Samnorwood basketball teams will play in the District 9-B Tournament at Memphis Thursday and Friday, Feb. 22 and 23.

This is the first year Memphis has played host to the young cage teams.

Quail Bobwhites will be the first county team to see action when they meet the Groom girls at 3 p.m.

Samnorwood Eaglettes will play the Hedley girls at 7 p.m.

The two county boys teams, the Eagles and Quails, play their first game against each other, and that action is set at 8:30 p.m.

Action will continue through Saturday with the winners in both boys and girls divisions to be determined Saturday night.

Office Ransacked

Burglars Enter Three Dodson Firms Thurs.

Burglars entered three Dodson business firms Thursday night, Feb. 15, but in each place, small sums of money or small items only were taken, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

Entered were the Farmers Co-op Gin office, the Enco Service Station, and J. C. Howell Grocery.

The burglars broke a glass panel out of the front door and unlocked it from the inside, the sheriff said. They broke into the candy machine and took an undetermined amount of change, and a Dr. Pepper machine, where an estimated $8 to $10 was taken, he continued.

According to Sheriff Rainey, the remainder of the office was ransacked, desk drawers were pried open and the contents rifled.

Entry was also gained into the Enco Station by breaking a glass door panel, unlatching the night lock and prying off an outside lock. Mr. Rainey said approximately $5 was taken from a candy vending machine and $3 or $4 from a pop box. Again papers were piled on the floor.

A glass pane in an unused front door of the Howell Grocery was broken to give entry,

WELLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL STAGE BAND

Wellington's Award Winning High School Stage Band will compete in the annual Brownwood Festival Friday, February 23. This is the group that will play. Standing, from left, are George Porter, Chris Hubbard, Billy McAlister, Jamie Larson, David Groves, Billy Isbell, Kathy Tyler, Jerry Bowen, Becky Burba, Tommy Campbell, Brad

Death Takes Mrs. J. C. Whisenant Sunday Morning

Mrs. J. C. Whisenant, a woman whose work in behalf of the beautification of Wellington has helped to bring lasting changes, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 18.

She had become ill while visiting in Florida last fall, and her condition failed to improve. She entered the hospital here Dec. 31, her 78th birthday.

Mrs. Whisenant had lived in Wellington since 1932. From the first, she devoted her time and energy to her church, First Baptist, working in its various departments and especially was she active in the women's work.

In recent years another great interest entered her life. As a member of the Wellington Garden Club, she was one of the group who have created living monuments to their work. First, there was the improvement of Ellison Park. But more important was the beautification of Wellington's cemeteries. Mrs. Whisenant worked untiringly at this, helping to form plans, then carry them out.

In her personal life, her love for flowers was one part of her desire to make life around her more beautiful, and whatever she touched seemed to grow.

Mrs. Whisenant was born Anabel Monsola, the daughter of Erasmus and Ellen Cruse Monsola.

Stage Band Enters Brownwood Festival Friday, Saturday

The Wellington High School Stage Band will compete in the 17th annual Brownwood Stage Band Festival Friday and Saturday, Feb. 23 and 24. Director James Larson has announced.

The Wellington band will open Class AA competition at 9:30 a.m. Friday.

"A lot of luck is involved this year," said the director. "We have a good group, but Class AA has more good bands than the other classes. We will be competing with 16 bands and all of them have won a contest somewhere or they wouldn't be there."

Seven or eight are considered outstanding by Mr. Larson. Among these are bands from Atlanta, Oklahoma City, Hamlin and Bridgeport.

The Wellington band will play the same program with which it won top place at the recent Canyon Stage Band Festival, and these numbers will include "Theme" and "Cookin'" by Ralph Mutchler, "16 Bars of Blues" by Paich, and "Tennis Shoe Waltz" by Barone.

Mr. Mutchler, from Colorado State University, will be one of the judges at the Brownwood Festival, along with Matt Betton of Kansas, Dr. Gene Hall of Stephen F. Austin College, Nacogdoches, and Leon Breeden of North Texas State.

Class A and AA bands will play Friday and AAAA bands will play Saturday. The North Texas State University Laboratory Band, directed by Mr. Breeden, will present a concert Friday night and awards will be presented in the classes that have finished competition.

This is the fifth year the Wellington Stage Band has competed, three in Class A, during which it brought home a first place, and two years in Class AA.

Band members include: Saxophones: Carlos Hatch, Gary Mike Gulley; tenor sax: Carol Burba and Jacqueline King; baritone sax: George Kopp; flute: Jane Thompson; Trombones: Jamie Larson, Chris Hubbard, Tommy Campbell, Jerry Bowen and Bill Isbell; French horn: Judy Porter; trumpets: David Groves, Billy McAlister, Kathy Tyler, Becky Burba and Benny Stallings; Piano: Elaine Karnes; bass guitar: Sammy Hicks; rhythm guitar: Clyde Harper; and drums: George Porter, Sidney Duncan and Brad Kopp.

Beyers Named Lubbock Judge

Denzil Beyers, a Lubbock attorney, has been appointed to serve as judge of County Court at Law No. 2 in that city until the November general election.

He is also the only candidate to file for that same post subject to the May 4 primary election. He replaces Mrs. Pat S. Moore, who resigned to run for the office of judge of the 72nd District Court. Mr. Beyers' appointment is effective March 1. Reared at Wellington, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Beyers. He was graduated from the University of Texas Law School, practiced law at Wellington, and served as Collingsworth County attorney before going to Lubbock to practice.

Snow and Cold Return to Area Early Wednesday

Winter blew back into Collingsworth in the early hours Wednesday, Feb. 21, bringing with it snow that drifted in some spots and left others bare.

All of the county's four schools were closed Wednesday.

Temperatures dropped sharply when the wind hit. Tuesday's high in Wellington was 70 degrees, and in the early morning hours Wednesday it registered 16, according to Felix Handley of the U.S. Weather Station.

Due to the blowing, it was difficult to determine how much snow had fallen by mid morning when it stopped.

Theodore Ressel, in charge of maintenance for the Highway Department, said at that time that the snow was blowing off all east-west roads, but the north-south highways were icy in spots.

J. L. Alexander, who came in from Samnorwood early Wednesday, said all roads in that area were open, although they were icy in spots.

Similar reports came from Supt. E. P. Haynie at Quail, and Albert Motsenbocker, Dodson school principal.

Church Names Music Leader

Miss Bobby Stewart of Clarendon has been hired as music director of Quail Baptist Church the Rev. Elvis Pitts, pastor, has announced.

Miss Stewart teaches piano lessons in Quail each Saturday, and also is an instructor in voice with 10 years experience, Rev. Pitts said.

She was graduated from Memphis High School and attended Clarendon College and Amarillo College.

She will be at Quail each Sunday morning and evening and for special services, and she will direct both the adult and junior choirs.

Grand Jury Called

District Court Opens Here Monday

Both the grand jury and petit jury of the 100th District Court will be called at a session set for Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 26 and 27. Judge Charles Reynolds of Childress will preside.

Sheriff John Rainey said the grand jury will be called at 10 a.m. Monday and added that District Attorney John Gillham of Clarendon told him that several matters will be presented. The docket call for all jury cases will be held Monday at 10 a.m., according to Lorene

Beef Cattle Meeting Slated Here Feb. 28

An information-packed, one-afternoon Beef Cattle Short Course is slated for Wednesday, Feb. 28, and is planned for both those who have stocker steers and beef cattle programs.

The meeting will be held in the conference room of the Farm Bureau building, and is sponsored by the Extension Service. It will be one of the major programs of the year.

It will start at 1 p.m. and last until 5.

County Agent Sammy Helmers will be in charge.

Four Extension Service specialists will speak, and all have West Texas backgrounds as far as the beef cattle industry is concerned.

The program will include: "A Forage Program to Increase Cattle Numbers," by Paul Marion, superintendent of the Spur Experiment Station at Spur.

"Protein Supplementation of Beef Cattle and Increased Income Through Crossbreeding," by L. A. Maddox, Extension Beef Cattle specialist, Texas A&M University.

"Backgrounding Beef Calves, Health Hazards, and Handling of Stocker Cattle from the East," by Dr. Lowell Shaker, area livestock specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Lubbock.

"Internal and External Parasites of Beef Cattle and Their Control," by Lyndon Almond, area entomologist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Lubbock.

Mr. Marion has spoken here in the past in connection with the local research demonstration program experiments.

"In the fast-changing beef cattle industry, our stock men need all the information they can get to keep abreast. This meeting, like the others the Extension Service holds, is directed toward helping the beef cattle people of Collingsworth make more profit," Mr. Helmers said.

Each of the speakers will have one hour to handle his discussion.

The information presented in this four-hour meeting will include as much as is usually carried in a full day's program.

The Collingsworth area is considered one of the prime sections in the Panhandle for development of both a stocker and beef program, Mr. Helmers pointed out.

Conservation Essay Award Winners Named

Collingsworth County winners in the annual Save the Soil and Save Texas essay contest were announced Friday, Feb. 16 by Billy Moseley, contest chairman for Salt Fork Soil Conservation District. Cash prizes totaled $165.

An overall winner was named for each of three participating schools, and each received a $25 cash prize.

Billy McKinney was the winner from Wellington; Jan Colson from Samnorwood, and Paula Langley from Quail.

A winner was also named from each class participating and these awards were $5 each.

Wellington class winners were Barry Johnson, Sammy Hicks, Pamela Kersten, Earl Hartman, Mitzi Pendleton, Leisley Bailey, Dale Thomas, Karen Jones and Joye Hudspeh.

Winners at Quail were Darrel Colson, Donita Pitts, Redgie Souder and Jerry Langley.

Samnorwood winners were Kyle James, Kay Snead, Kenneth Wischkaemper, Robbie Dwight and Rita Lackey.

A total of 267 essays were entered in the contest, which is a part of the statewide Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program. Essay subject this year was "Conservation, Key to Texas Prosperity?"

This is one of the largest number ever to enter a contest in the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District. All essays were forwarded to the state office of the awards program, to be judged in the state contest.

The essay contest is open to all Texas boys and girls 19 years of age or younger, in or out of school but not a high school graduate.

Entering the contest does not affect Interscholastic League eligibility.

It is the biggest division of the Fort Worth Press Conservation Awards Program.

Quail School Names Principal, Sets Election

The Quail School Board, in a meeting Tuesday night, Feb. 13, re-elected Mrs. Lewis Morris as principal for the 1967-68 school year.

Supt. E. P. Haynie, who was re-elected by the board at an earlier meeting, said that the remainder of the faculty probably would be elected at the next regular meeting.

The board also called the annual school trustee election for Saturday, April 6, at the school, and named John Bishop and George Stephens to hold the election.

Three trustees will be elected. Those whose terms expire are Palo F. Cummings, Raymond Barton and John Carson. Mr. Haynie said that the board endorsed six men as candidates for the three places: Delbert White, Raymond Ross, Loyd Langley, D. L. Langley, B. J. Patterson and Dan Guthrie. The first four have already filed.

Considerable repair work has started at the school, the superintendent reported. New lighting fixtures are now being installed, the school's water well is being improved, and roof repair has started.

The school also will be painted and new science equipment will be installed.

Fertilizer Meet Slated at Quail

Quail Young Farmers are sponsoring a meeting on fertilizers Monday, Feb. 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the school agriculture building.

Jim Gillen of the Olen Mathieson Company will be the speaker.

This is an open meeting and all farm owners and operators who are interested are welcome said Loyd Langley, president of the Young Farmers.

Norwood Teams Split Games With Groom

By Jan Colson

The Samnorwood Eagles and Eaglettes split games with the Groom teams Tuesday night, Feb. 13 at Norwood, with the girls winning by the exciting score of 37 to 36. The strong Groom boys defeated the Eagles 64 to 41.

The Eaglettes and Tigerettes game brought a display of excitement through all four quarters.

Groom led much of the time, with a 13 to 6 margin at the end of the first period and 23 to 16 at the half. The Eaglettes were behind only 4 points at the end of the third quarter.

During the fourth, the Eaglettes presented good work, both offensively and defensively to push ahead and take the game by one point.

The defense held the Groom forwards to 4 points in the last period.

CJC to Offer Condensed Business Training Course

A new secretarial training course will be offered at Clarendon College in the 1968 fall semester. Entitled Concentrated College Training for Business, (CCTB) the course is pioneered by Clarendon College, South Plains Junior College at Levelland and West Texas State University, Canyon.

It provides a concentrated series of business training courses for high school graduates who do not wish to study for a degree. It does, however, carry college academic credit.

The CCTB intensified course was Rita Lackey with 18, while Jan Christner had 11. Hanz was high for Groom with 14.

The Norwood Eagles displayed good offensive play during the first quarter and were able to stay with Groom. However, the Tigers maintained the lead in the second and continued to widen the margin.

High pointer for the Eagles was Ron Warmack with 13 and Larry Waters made 12. Bob Goodlett of Groom made 20.

lasts from 9 to 12 months, depending on the student's high school curriculum. It includes typewriting and shorthand at beginning, intermediate and advanced levels; business English and mathematics, machines, record keeping, introduction to business, secretarial and officer procedures and data processing.

Students will attend class for a minimum of 6 hours per day, 5 days per week until they have satisfactorily mastered all phases of the training. They can earn 24 to 30 semester hours credit. Tuition will be the same as for any other academic course of study.

Motor Vehicle Owners Reminded of Inspection

April 15 is the deadline to have your motor vehicle inspected. During the past five and one-half months approximately 2,000,000 or 35% of the approximately 5,750,000 registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves 3,750,900 vehicles to be inspected in approximately two months.

Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol supervisor for this area, reminded car owners that under the new provisions of the law there will be additional inspection this year including: steering, wheels and rims, and front seat belts where the anchorages are part of the manufacturer's original equipment.

Motorists who wait until the last weeks of the inspection period may find that they will need to install seat belts. With the last minute rush, there may not be enough seat belts kits to take care of the demand.

Mrs. Vaughan Returns Home

Mrs. Henry Vaughan has returned home after four weeks in St. Anthony's Hospital, where she underwent an iridectomy, which was necessary due to glaucoma in both eyes.

With her during the time she was in the hospital was a niece, Mrs. T. S. Metcalf of Waco. Another niece, Mrs. C. J. Szenasy of Dallas is with her now.

Arnett 4-H Has Meeting

The Arnett Senior 4-H Club met Wednesday, Feb. 7, with Bruce Rumbaugh presiding.

Steve Carter, vice president, led the ritual and a demonstration on decorating vases was given by Cathy Carter and Cynthia Brewster. Cathy then gave a talk on "What 4-H Means to Me."

Rockets Win Two

Rockettes Lose to Electra 59 to 53

Wellington Skyrockets and Rockettes closed out their 1967-68 schedule with games at Iowa Park Tuesday, Feb. 13 and at Electra Friday, Feb. 16.

The Rockettes lost their first game in two years to the Electra Tigerettes, 59 to 53, and a post-season play-off Thursday night, Feb. 22, at Crowell will determine the winner of the District 2-AA girls division.

They defeated Iowa Park girls 55 to 47 in their second meeting of the season.

Wellington boys defeated Iowa Park 73 to 61 and Electra 64 to 54.

In the Tuesday night game, Wellington girls had a cold first quarter and Iowa Park jumped out ahead and got a 18 to 8 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Rockettes played a little better ball in the second quarter and closed the gap to two points.

From there on, Wellington took command of the game and squeezed out the 8-point victory.

High point for Wellington was Carolyn Kilgore with 26, and high for Iowa Park was Scotta Lavender with 30.

In the game Friday, Electra played a good game and the score was tied 14-14 at the end of the first period. The Tigerettes got a lead in the second quarter and Wellington never could catch up. The Rockettes came on strong in the fourth quarter, scoring 24 points to Electra's 9, but that wasn't enough.

High point for Wellington was Carolyn Kilgore with 25, and Nancy McCulloch had 32 for Electra.

Rocket Games

The Skyrockets rebounded from their loss to Quannah and defeated Iowa Park boys 73 to 61 in the Feb. 13 game.

"It was a good game from the standpoint that both teams hit the basket well," said Coach James Stavenhagen.

"Wellington was able to get a good lead in the first half and we didn't relinquish this lead. The boys played rather well under the circumstances."

Wellington led only 2 points, 14 to 12, at the end of the first period, but widened this to 17 points at half time, and continued to hold a substantial margin.

High point for Wellington was Harold Jones with 16 and high for Iowa Park was Rocky French with 13.

"The Electra boys played real good basketball, for they really wanted to beat us to close out their season," Coach Stavenhagen commented regarding the Friday game.

"Wellington was able to get a little lead in the fourth quarter and this was the difference in the outcome."

This evenly matched game saw Wellington ahead 1 point, 17-16 at the end of the first period, but Electra was ahead 22-30 at the half. Again, Wellington led by only one point, 44 to 43, at the third period.

Kent Clark was high for Wellington with 19 points, while Rice scored 26 for Electra.

Baylor Sets Baseball Camp

Dr. Lloyd O. Russell, chairman of the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and supervisor of the Baylor Recreational Camp, has announced the dates of the summer camp sessions and the baseball school.

Recreation camp sessions are June 9-22, June 23-July 6, July 7-20 and July 21-August 3. The Baseball School under the direction of Baylor baseball coach E. E. (Dutch) Schroeder, will be in session August 4-17.

The Baylor Recreation Camp is a 650-acre facility on the north Bosque River near the new Lake Waco dam, for boys and girls 7-14 years old. The baseball school provides training in baseball skills for boys 8-15 years old.

"The camp facilities continue to grow, but this is not our primary concern," said Dr. Russell. "Basically, we want to help young people develop—intellectually, physically and spiritually and we believe it is the staff that most strongly affects this development."

Assembly of God WMC, Missionettes, Will Hold Annual Service Sunday

Members of the Women's Missionary Council and its auxiliary, the Missionettes, of the Assembly of God, 8th and Dahlhart Streets, will join several thousand other groups of Assemblies of God women in observing the 17th annual National WMC Day Sunday, February 25.

The service will begin at 11 a.m. Sunday morning, according to the Rev. James R. Jackson, pastor.

Participants will include the WMCs and Missionettes of the local church.

"Live ... Today ..." is the theme for the annual recognition service of women's ministries in the church, Rev. Jackson said. The program will show how a radiant Christian life is relevant to the times and within the reach of every person today, he continued.

The local women's groups are part of the national organization of Assemblies of God Women's Missionary Council, with headquarters in Springfield, Missouri.

Local groups throughout the United States provide for approximately 2,500 members of Assemblies of God home and foreign missionary families. Combined WMC and Missionettes giving for world ministries exceeds two million dollars each year.

Officers of the local WMC directing plans for the February 25 service are Mrs. Thomas Jesse, president; Mrs. Jim Hayron, vice president; and Mrs. James R. Jackson, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Max Phipps and Mrs. Jackson are sponsors of the Missionettes.

The public is invited to the service.

Consumer Clips

• Sliced, boned, hashed or other cooked meats should not be kept at room temperature for more than an hour after cooking.

• Here's a tip on freezing "planned-over" meals. Do not overcook foods to be frozen. Foods that are to be heated before serving are best if only partially cooked. Meat should be tender but still firm; vegetables slightly underdone.

• In freezing foods, use seasonings sparingly as some of them change during storage. For instance, pepper gets strong. Add most of the seasoning when reheating.

• The U.S. Department of Agriculture says that the nutritive value of properly frozen food is nearly equal to that of fresh food.

• Meat inspection specialists say that frozen meats may be cooked with or without previous thawing. Allow for longer cooking time if meats are frozen. For example, frozen roasts require about 1 1/2 times as long to cook as they otherwise would.

Miss Merle Hays of Wichita Falls brought her mother, Mrs. J. L. Hays home Friday. Mrs. Hays spent last week in Wichita Falls visiting her daughters, Miss Hays and Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Biter and children.

Mrs. Burt Brinson, Brooks and Boyd, of Fritch, spent the first part of this week in the home of Mrs. J. L. Burt.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Page Osmond Greene of Odessa, Texas announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Harriette, to Jennings Woodrow Wells, son of Mrs. Jennings Woodrow Wells and the late Mr. J. W. Wells of Wellington. Wedding vows will be exchanged April 13 at St. John's Episcopal Church, Odessa. Miss Greene is a junior at the University of Texas at El Paso, majoring in art education. Her sorority affiliation is Chi Omega. Mr. Wells is also a junior at the University of Texas at El Paso, majoring in political science.

Shower Given at Norwood Honors Miss Suzy Bentley, a Winter Bride

Miss Suzy Bentley, the bride elect of Paul Range of Shamrock, was honored with a bridal shower held in the cafeteria of Samnorwood School on Wednesday, February 7.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Leon Myers, Mrs. Noble Elder, Mrs. John Dwyer, Mrs. Donald Coleman, Mrs. Loyd Stephens, Mrs. Bond Ward, Mrs. Robert Dwight, Mrs. Wood Coleman, Mrs. Floyd Tate, Mrs. Worth Shields and Mrs. Bart Martindale.

The hostesses alternated at receiving the guests and presented them to Miss Bentley, her mother, Mrs. Pete Bentley of Abilene community, and Mrs. Byron Range of Shamrock, the mother of the prospective bridegroom.

The bride's colors of orchid and lime green were used in the room decorations.

The serving table was laid with a lime green cloth overlaid with white lace. An arrangement of white chrysanthemums and tiny orchid flowers formed the centerpiece and appointments were silver and crystal. Mrs. Myers served the cake and Mrs. Stephens poured.

Brenda Bentley, cousin of the honoree, registered the guests. Approximately 60 friends called between four and five-thirty in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Young, Jr., and Beverly of Altus joined Mr. and Mrs. Duggie Jameson and Danna on Sunday for a birthday celebration in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Young, Sr. They honored their father, Jess Young, Sr., who was 68 years of age.

Mrs. Tommy Beam and children, Cameron Brent, Leigh Ann and Linda, of Amarillo, were here over the week end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson, and her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hunter and Steve.

DKG Meets at Childress

Members of Delta Kappa Gamma heard a program on "Values: Caught? Taught? or What?" when the Childress group was host February 10 in First Methodist Church.

Participating in the program were Mrs. Jack Lowry of Samnorwood, Mrs. Charley Hill of Wellington, Edna Smith, Alma Bruce and Zola Donald.

During the remainder of the meeting, Cassandra Deaver of Memphis was initiated into the society; a White Elephant Sale was held to raise money for the DKG scholarship; and the date of the April meeting was reset for Saturday, April 6.

Hostesses were Mrs. Dora Diggs, Mrs. Mary Jo Gage, Miss Ernestine Collier, Mrs. Bobby Kilcrease, and Miss Edna Smith.

Attending from Wellington were Miss Maudie Coffee, Mrs. Sam White, Miss Sara Jones, Mrs. Vernon Peters, Mrs. Lowry, Mrs. Rufus Sweat, Mrs. Charley Hill and Mrs. Chester White.

Quail Club Has Annual Dinner

The annual February party, with their husbands as guests, was sponsored by the Quail Friendship Club in the school homemaker cottage Thursday evening, February 15.

The Valentine motif decorated the rooms. The supper was served buffet style and games of dominoes followed.

Mrs. Tom Crabtree, a charter member of the club, was honored with birthday gifts and a cake.

CHECK FIRST!

Every year a few unscrupulous sellers — often from out of town — cost Wellington area people hundreds of dollars — sometimes thousands.

Their Mistake Is Not Investigating

Don't be hurried. Shy away from any proposal that cannot be delayed one day for investigation. Any reputable firm will welcome investigation.

Don't sign any papers presented by strangers on first contact, or fall for the idea that yours will be a "model" or display home entitling you to a rebate or commission, or that a special offer will soon expire. These are merely pressure gimmicks to get you to act immediately.

Don't rely on verbal promises or guarantees, and DON'T MAKE CASH PAYMENTS TO STRANGERS.

Do know what you are buying. In the case of improvements such as roofing or siding, the seller's prices and terms may be good, but they may estimate your needs far in excess of what your house actually needs. In this manner you pay for more squares than you need. Sometimes the excess is never delivered.

Do get a comparison price! Generally you can buy the same product from a local taxpaying firm at the same or LOWER PRICE. This is because door-to-door selling is a costly form of selling that requires high salesman's commission which you, the customer, must pay.

Do know what you are signing and whether both materials and labor are to be furnished. Look for penalties which may be charged for delayed or missed payments.

Do get cash price and if you need installment financing make arrangements with a reputable financial institution or check to see that the terms they are offering you are not out of line. Availability of loan will not guarantee the reliability of the seller.

Do insist on time to consider the need for the product; whether you can finance the project without losing your ability to meet other obligations.

Call The Chamber of Commerce

If you do not know the solicitor or salesman call the Chamber of Commerce to see if the salesmen and solicitors have registered with the C of C. The Chamber of Commerce does not guarantee the reliability of the company or the representatives who call on you. Others who will give you information are banks and lawyers. Do not be rushed into something you will regret.

The following colors are year in and year out favorites: red, yellow, clear green, clear blue, white and black. These colors tend to fluctuate; pink, brown, ivory, beige, tan, gray, gold, rose, medium green and blue. Purple, orchid, chartreuse, turquoise, orange and dark colors come and go but never stay long.

Consumers have indicated through their purchases that colors are important. Several factors have influenced the craze for color by consumers. One is a more spendable income. Second the increased communication exposes the consumer to colors and third while being exposed to more color the consumer has become adventurous and explorative in her selection of colors for the home and for clothing.

The desire for the same colors in home furnishings as in fashion apparel usually are parallel, but the average consumer does not discard her living room carpet, or refrigerator every couple of years. However, the consumer is influenced in part by colors that are promoted by the fashion world but in the back of her mind she knows what colors she has tired of and what she wants next.

Consumer desire for color is expanding to more products every year. Large appliances were first seen in colors around 1955 — the colors used then were pink, aqua and yellow. Today, consumer preference for color includes a wide range from wood tones to copper, gold and avocado. Avocado, which first became popular in home furnishings is at present one of the most preferred colors for kitchen and bathroom accessories,

Mrs. Gary L. James

Kay Ann Gray, a Former Resident, Weds Sgt. Gary James at Abilene

Miss Kay Ann Gray and Sgt. Gary L. James exchanged marriage vows Saturday, February 10, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Gray, 1117 LaSalle, Abilene.

The bride, whose family formerly lived here, is the granddaughter of Mrs. J. F. Holley and niece of James Holley.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. James of Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Willard E. May, minister of 16th and Vine Church of Christ officiated.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of peau de soie with jeweled lace appliques and train of matching material. Her bouffant veil was attached to a peau de soie headpiece.

Mrs. Larry Smith was matron of honor. She wore a blue raw silk sheath dress with a jeweled neckline and cap sleeves. A white circlet held her veil.

Clay Colpitts was best man and the bride's brothers, Mike Gray and Pat Gray, seated the guests.

After March 1, the couple will live at Salem, Oregon.

The bride is a graduate of Abilene High School and is a member of the May graduating class of McMurry College. She is a member of Theta Chi Lambda social club and McMurry Changers.

The bridegroom is a graduate of South Salem High School and is stationed at Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene.

Kathy Roberts

Roberts-Lindley Engagement

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Kathy Roberts and Wayne Lindley of Samnorwood was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Roberts of Altus. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Lindley of Samnorwood are the parents of the prospective bridegroom.

The couple will be married at eight o'clock Saturday, May 25 in the First Baptist Church at Altus, with the Rev. C. E. Garrison officiating.

The bride-elect is a 1965 graduate of Altus High School and is currently enrolled as a student nurse at Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, where she is a member of the Orian Social Club, Bisonette Glee Club, Nutrix and the Oklahoma State Student Nurses Association.

In high school she was a member of KAY Club, Spanish Club, All-State Chorus, Melodians Trio and Varsity Choir. The prospective bridegroom is a 1964 graduate of Samnorwood High School, where he was a three-year basketball letterman, a class officer, active in dramatics, and a member of Beta Club and the FFA.

He attended West Texas State University and is presently enrolled as a pharmacy student at Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Oklahoma. There he is a member of the Baptist Student Union and the American Pharmaceutical Association.

The couple plans to make their home in Weatherford.

Mr. Cotton Vandivere of Phillipsburg visited last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford. Mrs. Vandivere is convalescing from major surgery and Mrs. Ford has been with her at her home earlier. Mr. Vandivere came for her during the week end. Other guests in the Ford home over the week end were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Ford and 16-year-old twins, Dedra and Danny, of Borger.

Marqueitta Bell and Bruce Hobbs Mary in Amarillo Ceremony Feb. 17

Miss Marqueitta Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bell, 4625 Parker, Amarillo, became the bride of Bruce Hobbs in a ceremony held Saturday, February 17, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Whitaker, 5123 Crockett. Min. Sid Wyatt of South Side Church of Christ officiated at the double ring ceremony at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Margaret Hobbs of Amarillo is the mother of the bridegroom.

Candelabras and arrangements of pink and white flowers were used as decorations. Traditional wedding music was played.

The bride wore a white linen princess dress in street length. A crown of pink roses held her scalloped veil and she carried pink orchids on a white Bible.

Byron Bell, brother of the bride, lighted the candles.

A reception followed the ceremony. Guests were served by Miss Judy Whitaker and Miss Carol Whitaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs will be at home in Lubbock, where he is studying architecture at Texas Technological College.

Gadget Shower Honors Bride

Mrs. John Paul Waggoner of Lubbock, the former Donna Allred, was honored recently with a gadget shower in the home of Mrs. Larry Oswald.

Sharing hostess duties were Mrs. Kent Holland of Amarillo, Mrs. Leigh Carter of Canyon, and Mrs. Creed Hill.

The centerpiece was made of matching gadgets for the honoree's kitchen. The avocado green tablecloth matched the color scheme.

Guests were served cake and punch.

Those attending were Mrs. Jim Henard and Sandy Lynn, Mrs. Edd Henard, Mrs. Eddie Roy Brown of Weatherford, Oklahoma, Mrs. Wayne Cudd, Mrs. Jimmie Strickland and Mrs. Frank Light.

Club Holds Lincoln Study

The Good Neighbors Club met Friday, February 16, in the home of Mrs. Ray Clubb. Red hearts and white gardenias formed the living room decorations.

Mrs. Leonard Karnes gave the program, "The Tall Man," the life of Abraham Lincoln.

Those attending were Mrs. C. A. Wilbur, Mrs. Doshia Dix, Mrs. Leonard Karnes, Mrs. Merritt James, Mrs. G. E. Van Pelt, Mrs. Paul Hardy, Mrs. Coy Vaughan, Mrs. Willie Smith, Mrs. Nell Cook, Mrs. Bob Stephenson, Mrs. Robert Karnes, and the hostess, Mrs. Clubb.

Two new members were elected, Mrs. Cicero Gulley and Mrs. Earl Alexander.

Mrs. R. C. Johnson of Dalt was here last week visiting Dr. and Mrs. J. Frank Johnson.

Kern Aldridge of Santa Fe is here for a few days with his father, W. D. Aldridge who is in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mrs. Patricia Bowden of Dallas is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ford were their son, John, a student at North Texas State University, Denton, and Miss Gail Nichols, student at Texas Woman's University, Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Owens of Seagraves visited during the past week with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scott.

Donna Nunnelley Honored Friday

Mrs. Donald Nunnelley was hostess at a birthday dinner honoring her young daughter, Donna, on her fifth birthday Friday evening, February 16.

Decorations were centered around the comic strip characters of Linus and Peanuts. Games were played.

Attending were Karen Goforth, Joel Slay, Cynthia Reeves, Teddy Reeves, Vera Parker, Elizabeth Brewer, Lisa Hartman, Lisa Nix, Darwin Nix, Tina Nunnelley, Pat Nunnelley, Lynette Spillman, and the honoree, Donna Nunnelley.

Future Teachers Meet Monday

Wellington High School Chapter of the Future Teachers of America met Monday, Feb. 19, and during the business session, directed by Cherry Lewis, plans were made for a tea to be given the teachers on St. Patrick's Day.

Those on the program were Chris Hubbard, chaplain, and Nancy Sikes, who discussed "What Is a Teacher?"

Refreshments were served to 42 members by Kathy Kiker, Glenda Kiker, and Nancy Sikes.

YOUNG PEOPLE

The United States today is largely a nation made up of young people, yet in 1790 nearly half of the nation's population of four million were under 16 years of age.

Mrs. Bill Warrick and Sam of Hereford were her over the week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Jenkins, and Mr. Warrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Velman Warrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons III and sons, Sandy K. and Paul, of Dimmitt visited over the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Wright.

Wellington Asks for Grant

Smith Favors Small Town Air Program

AUSTIN.—A $1,000,000 State aid program to build and develop airports in towns under 50,000 population in Texas was advocated today by Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith.

"In view of the late start in the development of an adequate air transportation system in this state and the tremendous growth and increasing economic importance of aviation, I think one of the important items that must be considered at the forthcoming special session of the Legislature is a greatly accelerated airport building program," Smith said.

The Lieutenant Governor pointed out that $500,000 was appropriated at the last session of the Legislature for this purpose.

"However, this is a comparatively insignificant amount since there is only enough money for 25 towns and there are several hundred towns that demand and need adequate airport facilities," he said.

Wellington is one of the 63 Texas towns that have filed requests for grants with the Texas Air Commission.

There are at least 64 towns in Texas that are "eager and ready" to build airports or to make their facilities adequate, and only lack of money was holding back the projects. A $1 million appropriation will make a sizeable dent in this list, Smith said.

All 64, he said, had formal applications pending before the Texas Aeronautics Commission and "I know personally of at least 150 other towns that would formally file for state funds, if there was some indication funds would be available," he continued.

The Lieutenant Governor said an accelerated program of $1 million for the year 1968-69 would not cost the taxpayers "one thin dime."

"The funds used for the development of aviation and aviation facilities come from unclaimed refunds on aviation fuel."

"The amount of these unclaimed refunds varies from month to month, but will average out to around $50,000 a month."

"Right now, there is a surplus of $450,000 in the unclaimed refunds funds, and between now and Sept. 1, 1968, the start of the new fiscal year, another $400,000 surplus, it is anticipated will be in the fund, and by the end of Sept. 1969, the full $1 million will be available for appropriation to the proposed program."

Smith said another half a million dollar appropriation would be entirely inadequate, and that he would personally urge and campaign for doubling this amount.

"We are at the cross-roads of building an air transportation system in this state, and unless we speed up now, we will never get an adequate system, because applications for funds will increase, not decrease, as more and more towns become aware of the importance of an airport in attracting and keeping industry and tourists."

"The air age is here to stay. We must meet the challenge headon."

Smith said state aid to build airports was not by any imagination a "give-away program."

"In the first place, it is the people who fly who buy aviation fuel," he pointed out.

"In the second place, the airport aid program is a mutual assistance program. The state gives a helping hand to towns that do not have the resources to raise sufficient money locally to obtain a grant from the Federal Aviation Administration, which requires half the cost of a project be paid for with local or state funds. Without state help, many towns will never be in a financial position to build an airport."

Smith said the 64 towns that have formal applications for grants pending before the TAC are:

Brownwood, Port Mansfield, Edinburg, Brady, Giddings, Stanton, Hillsboro, Silsbee, Overton, Daingerfield, Bryan, Tahoka, Graham, LaPorte, Foltz, Ranger, Rockwall, Honey Grove, Hempstead, Hamilton, Miami, San Benito, Vega, Sherman, Smithville, West Columbia, Eagle Pass, Abernathy, Atlanta, McGregor, College Station, Harlingen, Georgetown, Teague-Fairfield, Winnsboro - Mt. Vernon, Wellington, Longview-Kilgore, Fort Stockton, Navasota, Morton, Center, Sulphur Springs, Temple, Marlin, Cameron, Eldorado, Kingsland, Jasper, Canadian, Winters, Olton, Koutze, Bridgeport, Cotulla, Carthage, Seguin, Cleburne, Palestine, Dumas, Nocona, Del Rio and Devine.

Square Dance Set Saturday

A square dance will be held Saturday, Feb. 24, in the National Guard Armory, under the sponsorship of the Square Dance Club.

Aubrey Brown of Amarillo will be the caller.

Both newcomers and old timers are urged to attend. The event will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Two Ag Flyers Attend Meet

Cliff Hartman and Duggie Jameson of Wellington Flying Service were in Stillwater, Oklahoma, recently to attend a two-day insecticide school at Oklahoma State University.

The meeting was given over to new and more effective insecticides and fertilizers, the men reported.

Dr. and Mrs. John D. Coleman are the parents of a son, James Scott, born February 19, in a Pampa hospital. They returned recently to live at the family ranch in the northwest part of the county after several years in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman are the grandparents.

Merlyn Carter Recognized for Soil Conservation Achievement

Merlyn Carter, honored by Salt Fork Soil Conservation District and the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce for his outstanding work as a conservation farmer, lived on the same farm two miles west of Dodson from the time he was 6 years old. All the farming he has ever done was on this place.

Mr. Carter has been selected by Salt Fork SCD as the district's Outstanding Farmer and entered in that category of the state-wide Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program. The C-C honored him with a plaque at the recent annual banquet.

All his land was bought from his father, the late W. W. Carter, the first in 1919 and additional acreage in 1937 and 1949.

He recalls those early years. "The hours were long and the pay was cheap," he sums up those early years of farming, remembering especially the many days he walked behind a horse and plow. Cotton, wheat and maize were his main crops.

He recalls also the depression years of the 1930's. Many of his neighbors had to leave, but the Carters managed to stay on, getting much of their spending money from selling eggs and they also traded wheat for flour.

Mr. Carter became a co-operator of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District early in its existence, 1949.

His outstanding conservation program is based primarily on the terrace system he has put in since that year to check erosion.

He used conventional terraces until the 1960's when interest began to grow in parallel terraces. He has installed these since entering the Great Plains Program in 1965.

The latest conservation project was construction of a 15-acre grass waterway to carry off excess water.

Merlyn Carter also has a number of head of cattle, and besides his small native pasture, he relies on wheat pasture in the winter, canefields, and the bermuda grass pasture which the waterway provides during the summer. An alfalfa field supplies hay.

"Mr. Carter is a firm believer in permanent type conservation practices such as terraces and waterways," said Gary Reed, work unit conservationist of the soil conservation service.

"He also realizes the value of management practices such as a conservation cropping system, rotation of high residue crops with cotton, use of soil improvement crops such as guar, crop residue use and contour farming."

"In summary, the Carter farm is a showcase of soil and water conservation."

Growing up as he did in the Dodson area, Mr. Carter attended Fairview and Dodson schools. He and his family have long been active in the Dodson Nazarene Church. He belongs to the Farm Bureau and Mrs.

Employed Wives vs Unemployed Wives

COLLEGE STATION. — Your wife's employment may not be as financially helpful as you thought. Although most wives are employed for economic reasons, extra expenditures directly related to the wife's job can subtract up to half her salary.

A survey, conducted in North Carolina, showed that the wife's net income — her earnings minus direct and extra job-related expenses — amounted to about three-fifths of the original pay check for a family with school-age children. However, if the family had pre-school children the employed wives netted only about one-half their pay checks.

The extra expenses varied with city and country families, said the management specialists. The average directly related expenses totaled about $850. This includes taxes, transportation to and from work, meals and snacks at work, and gifts and donations at work.

Extra expenditures made by employed wives for paid services for doing homemaking tasks averaged about $360 for those with pre-school children and about $120 for those with school-age children and about $27 for an all-adult household.

Extra clothing and personal care added to these figures.

Use Baking Soda to Fight Grease Fires

To guard against the danger of grease fires, on or in a stove, it's a good idea to keep a plentiful supply of baking soda on hand.

Burning grease will not be extinguished by throwing water on it, says the American Insurance Association.

The best remedy, after first turning off the heat, is to throw baking soda on the burning grease. Another recommended method is to place a large, flat cover over the pan, using a long-handled fork to set it in place.

In order to prevent this type of fire, the Association suggests that broilers, ovens and top-of-stove burners be kept free of grease, and that grease containers be placed far from stoves.

Carter to the Dodson Home Demonstration Club.

It has now become necessary that they leave the farm, and Mr. and Mrs. Carter now have a home in Hollis.

The couple has two children, Mrs. Gordon Long of Youngstown, Ohio, and Billy Gene Carter of Amarillo.

Watch Public's Eating Habits, Farmers Warned

Farmers like to shoot for numbers in marketing. The more people who eat their product the better. Numbers will always be important but W. E. Black, Extension marketing economist believes farmers should start paying more attention to the kind of people who eat what farmers produce. Eating habit change and demands for food soon reflect them, says the economist. Therefore, it's important for producers to know the kind of people who eat their products.

Cotton Growers Expand Use of Weed Chemicals

COLLEGE STATION. — The use of agricultural chemicals for grass and weed control is listed by Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist at Texas A&M University, as the most significant development in Texas cotton production over the past six years.

In a year-end report covering activities of the 7-step Cotton Program, Elliott said pre-emergence chemicals were used last year to treat 1,396,681 acres while post-emergence chemicals were applied on another 768,278 acres. These chemicals were used, he said, on almost two-thirds of the state's harvested acreage.

In 1962, only 46,389 acres in the state were treated with pre-emergence chemicals and his questionnaire which was answered by county agricultural agents did not carry a query on post-emergence chemicals.

Also in 1962, spot oiling and spot treatment for Johnson-grass control and lateral oiling for weed and grass control in cotton were applied to more than 660,000 acres. By 1967 this total had dropped to less than 300,000 acres, Elliott said, reflecting their replacement by more effective and easier to apply chemicals. But, perhaps more important, he said, is the ability of the newer chemicals to get the job done over much longer periods of time—that is, control weeds and grass in cotton fields.

UNUSUAL NAME COMPLEX

Researchers have found that children, particularly boys with unusual names, are more likely to suffer emotional disturbances than children having ordinary names. Names are significant. A child tends to identify with his name. He reacts according to whether his companions approve or disapprove.

There Is Big Potential for Beef Cattle Program in Area

Collingsworth's potential as a beef cattle area is already recognized, and we are moving in the direction of that industry to which we are so ideally suited.

Beef cattle will be underscored again in a short course offered here Wednesday, Feb. 28, when the latest developments in several phases of beef cattle production will be presented by the Extension Service.

Big feedlots have held the public attention for several years, but there is big opportunity for the small operator, or the man who wants to use a few beef cows or stocker steers to supplement farming operations. Space is no longer an important consideration. Neither is a mother cow program necessary.

Some of the things that are important are forage production, where again we have such a potential; cross breeding, a field in which Collingsworth has a lead; supplemental feeding, health hazards and disease control.

It is the aim of the Extension Service to give Collingsworth men who may want to go into the beef cattle business or who are already there, information that can help them make a profit. There will be lots of worthwhile information packed into four hours Wednesday afternoon at the Farm Bureau Building.

OTHER EDITORS SAY . . .

How Much Does it Cost to Rear a Child?

"Hey uncle, how much does it cost to rear a child?

You allow us taxpaying parents only $600 a year to feed, clothe, house and train a youngster. In your Federal Government Job Corps you spend $7,000 a year!

Now which is the correct figure. Either we're allowing you too much or you're not allowing us enough.

You allow taxpaying parents a $600 deduction for the care and feeding of each child.

Yet under the Cuban refugee program you assume minimal upkeep requires $1,200 a year—and if the Cuban boy or girl is attending school—an extra $1,000 a year.

How come you shortchange the homefolks?

In the austere environs of federal prison, you have discovered that it costs—to maintain one person with no frills no Dad's car—$2,300 a year!

By what rule of the thumb do you estimate that Mom and Dad can do it for one-fourth that amount?

Under Social Security, you will pay $68 a month to maintain the elderly. What makes you think we can maintain our young'uns on $50 a month?

And Uncle, your VISTA Program Volunteers in service to America spent $3.1 million last fiscal year to turn out only 202 trainees. That indicates that the cost of maintaining one youth for one year is more than $15,000.

Then how come we taxpaying parents get an exemption of only $600 to maintain, and train one youth for one year?

Or let's see how much you spend upkeeping one youngster in military uniform. Housing $55.20 a month. Clothing upkeep $4.20 a month. That comes to $1,076.04 a year.

How in the world do you expect parents to provide all these things plus clothes, recreation, books, medicine—for $600 a year? With your own figures you admit it can't be done.

It is possible, Uncle that you expect us parents to manage more efficiently than you, because we usually do.

With all our prosperity, you, Uncle, are still spending per year $2.9 billion more for relief than during the depth of the Depression. So it may be that you are uncommonly extravagant.

But, however we try to rationalize and explain you and excuse you, it is still a hardful affront when you allow us hardworking, dues-paying homefolks only $600 a year to rear a legitimate child.

While you, under ADC, will pay more than $800 a year to upkeep an illegitimate one.

A Time for Faith

AUSTIN.—State attention continues to center on the embattled Texas Liquor Control Board. Speaker Ben Barnes appointed a special subcommittee to study possible changes in the election laws. Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, committee chairman, also heads the subcommittee. Other members are Reps. James Slider of Naples, Bill Clayton of Springlake, Cleatus Davis of Houston and Roy Garwood of San Antonio.

Cory stressed that the committee will not investigate operations of the Board. It will look into cumbersome liquor laws which have not been modernized since they were first adopted in 1935. Chairman Cory says the panel will be ready with its recommendations (which conceivably could include legalization of liquor-by-the-drink sales) "whenever Governor Connally calls a special session of the Legislature."

LCB itself has drafted a set of recommendations which include the provision that no private clubs, veterans or fraternal organizations can serve liquor over the bar in dry areas without local-option election approval.

A veteran lawman, O. N. (Newt) Humphreys, Jr., was chosen by the Board to take the vacant job as assistant to Administrator Coke Stevenson, Jr. Humphreys, 43, is a native of Brenham. His father was chief of police there. The new LCB assistant chief has been with the Texas Department of Public Safety since 1948 and for 11 years has been head of its intelligence division.

His selection led to speculation that the LCB might in a few months move Humphreys up to administrator. But Stevenson said that he has no intention of resigning while the agency is under fire.

Gov. John Connally's declaration that state legislators have been involved in "influence peddling" efforts with Stevenson, and his refusal to grant special treatment kept his salary down, led to some checking.

A study of the appropriations laws for the past 10 years shows that Stevenson's salary was generally held to about $4,000 less than those of comparable department heads. It was only last Sept. 1 that his salary was brought to within $1,000 of two other agency heads.

Special Sessions Talks

With all the 1968 candidates now on the line and campaigns still in low gear, favorite capitol speculation is the date of the upcoming special legislative session.

Gov. Connally must call one in order to pass a 1969 budget and a new tax bill. This has to be done before Sept. 1, start of the next fiscal year. Otherwise there will be no money for continuation of state services.

Big question is when?

It has been widely assumed that Connally will wait until around June 3 when the primary elections will be over. Since the governor said that he may ask legislators to consider liquor-by-the-drink legislation and conflict-of-interests curbs, speculation on the session's date has flared anew. It is felt that he may have an earlier date in mind, like maybe March 4. Senate Secretary Charles Schnabel "predicted" this starting time in a Valentine Day letter to senators. Later he said he wrote with "tongue in cheek" and wasn't really serious.

Arguments run something like this:

—FOR JUNE: Legislators will not vote for a big tax bill with elections staring them in the face, and will resent having campaigns interrupted. Early sessions would put friends as well as foes on the spot and might result in defeat of some. Lawmakers are reluctant to vote for tax measures until the last minute, anyway; and along about July and August, they can't put it off any longer.

—FOR MARCH: After their election lame duck legislators would be rebellious toward any tax program or other controversial measures submitted by the governor. More time might be needed to pass a major tax bill than would be allowed by a June session. New Democratic nominee for governor will be known by June, and the legislators may be inclined to look to him for leadership and ignore Connally's proposals.

Only man really in position to know is John Connally. He says he hasn't made up his mind—and might not for several weeks. But adds: "Any date is a possibility."

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court has held that: Cities should not license door-to-door insurance salesmen (in a case originating in Hillsboro); City of Beaumont and its music commission are not responsible for injuries to a woman who fell while attempting to return to her seat at a concert in the city auditorium; Henderson County district court must consider a land vacancy claim; A jury trial must be held in an Amarillo man's suit against a railroad after the driver of a car in which he was a passenger crashed while trying to avoid hitting a train.

High court also agreed to hear arguments on March 27 in a San Antonio case involving a father's right to prevent a divorced wife from legally changing the name of their child.

Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the death penalty assessed 19-year-old Johnny Rudy Enriquez for murder of a Beeville nurse — one of five persons he was accused of slaying within six hours April 25, 1966. Trail of death extended from Corpus Christi, through Beeville and into Wilson County.

Oil Demand

Continued blockage of the Suez Canal and the TAP pipeline in the Middle East again has zoomed demand for Texas oil.

Railroad Commission increased February oil production allowable from 47 to 49.6 percent of potential, retroactive to Feb. 1. Commission set March factor at the same level, responding to demand by producers.

New allowable will permit maximum production of 3,732,485 barrels a day, compared with 3,588,958 under the 47 percent factor.

Attorney General Rules

State Department of Public Welfare is required to make "medicaid" payments direct to doctors and hospitals for medical care of welfare recipients, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

In other recent opinions, Martin held that: Public junior colleges are local educational agencies, providing "public free" secondary education at public expense and subject to public supervision and direction; and the State Insurance Commissioner does not have authority to approve an amendment to an insurance company's charter which, in effect, transforms it into a commercial corporation required to have a charter from the Secretary of State.

Draft Quota Up Sharply

Texas draft boards next month must furnish the largest monthly quota of young men for military service in nearly two years.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said the local boards have been called on to provide 1,948 men—most since the 2,012-man quota of November 1966. Low point in the interim was 674 men last February.

This year's monthly quotas have been 1,165 men in February and 1,659 in January.

National call for March induction is 39,000 men. All are for the Army.

Fire Rate Cut Proposed

State Board of Insurance proposed its first cuts in seven years (average of 3.6 percent) in statewide fire, extended coverage and home owners insurance premiums.

Rate experts suggested 4.4 percent reduction in fire premiums, 3 percent in extended coverage, and 3.1 percent average for home owners.

Fire and extended coverage rates are set statewide, and homeowners rates are figured on a three-region basis due to weather hazards.

If adopted, rates would be effective June 1. Biggest money saving on home owners' premiums would be in 10-county Sherman area where rates are now high.

Fishing Agreement Signed

Texas and Louisiana fishermen soon will be able to fish in boundary waters of the two states with license or exemption from either.

Parks and Wildlife Commission signed such an agreement

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

It says in the papers that England's Prime Minister Wilson has just taken time off with pay to come to Washington and give advice and counsel to President Johnson and his co-workers.

This is highly appreciated, of course, and a splendid, neighborly gesture, when an expert in any field is willing to share his knowledge and experience with beginners.

And Mr. Wilson and his socialist party are proved and demonstrated experts, and exactly the right people to help our own social engineers to do an efficient job of making a strong country weak.

D. E. SCOTT.

with Louisiana officials. It takes effect in 30 days and applies to Sabine Pass, Sabine Lake, Toledo Bend Reservoir, and Caddo Lake.

PWC Chairman Will Odom said this reciprocal arrangement climaxed two years of work. He expressed hope that Texas can work out similar pacts with Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Odom said that no two-state reciprocal hunting licenses can be adopted.

Texas Exes Hold Annual Meet March 2

On March 2, University of Texas Exes all over the world will be meeting together for the basic objectives of fellowship and service. The day is Texas Independence Day and is the time for all UT alumni to unite.

The Texas Exes Club of Childress, one of the best in the state, will meet this year in Childress at the Ranchhouse Restaurant. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will include a delicious steak dinner and a program brought by Dean Byron Fullerton from Austin. Cost for the evening will be $3.50 per person.

The Childress club includes former Longhorns from Childress, Memphis, Wellington, Paducah and Quanah. Exes as well as friends from anywhere are invited to attend.

Reservations and inquiries can be made with Jack B. Boone of Memphis, president, and Kenneth Fink, of Childress, secretary.

The speaker, Dean Fullerton, has been assistant dean and the first director of continuing legal education for the University of Texas Law School since Sept. 1, 1963. He also is an assistant professor of law.

Mr. Fullerton's primary duties include coordination of the law school's statewide legal institutes and conferences, business management of the Texas Law Review, and work with the Law School Foundation. He also is faculty advisor for several student groups in the Law School.

A native of California, Mr. Fullerton grew up in Kingsville where he graduated from high school and attended Texas A&I College. He received academic and law degrees from the University of Texas and a master's degree from the University of Colorado. He taught at high schools in Kingsville, Brownsville and Beaumont for five years, and was an assistant attorney general of Texas from 1957-1961. From 1961 until he joined the law faculty in 1963, he was in the private practice of law in Austin as a partner in the firm of Proctor, Maloney and Fullerton.

Mr. Fullerton received national recognition in 1960 when he originated and helped produce the "Trial by Jury, U.S.A." program for the Austin and State Junior Bars. The program for high school students was acclaimed by the American Junior Bar and adopted as its nationwide program. It subsequently won a Freedoms Foundation award in 1963.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Delta Theta Phi, and two State Bar of Texas committees.

Mr. Fullerton is married to the former Marilyn Arnold. They have two sons.

More than 60,000 members of Future Farmers of America each year get leadership experience by serving as officers of local FFA chapters.

Mrs. Roberson Home from Visit

Mrs. W. C. Roberson, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. David Curfman of Lubbock, returned Thursday evening from a week's visit with relatives.

Going first to Richardson, they were guests of Mrs. Roberson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carter, who formerly lived here.

At Wharton they visited Mrs. Roberson's son, the Rev. Wayne Jones, pastor of First Methodist Church, and his family.

Returning by Ranger, they spent Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Matthews. The latter will be remembered as Clara Frances Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carter, who live east of Dodson.

Their last stop was at Chillicothe, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jones.

Check Tax Return Before Mailing It

DALLAS.—Here's a word of advice from the Internal Revenue Service: After you prepare your 1967 Federal income tax return, it is a good idea to set it aside for a day or so and then give it a thorough review before you mail it.

District Director of Internal Revenue Ellis Campbell, Jr., said that North Texas taxpayers who heed this advice often find omitted income or deductions, or errors in arithmetic. A review of the return may disclose that the taxpayer failed to provide his address and zip code, omitted his social security number or listed it incorrectly, did not attach all copies of Form W-2, or forgot to sign the return.

This review will be time well spent as it may prevent delays in processing the return and will speed up any refund due, Campbell said.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Ira Laidig, representative of the Highway 83 Association, was in Wellington last week. This former school superintendent lives in Oberlin, Kansas, and devotes his entire time to the promotion of this highway. He is full of optimism about the prospects for future development. It is the longest highway in Texas, running from Perryton to Laredo and on to Brownsville and eventually it will be a major north and south traffic artery running from Hudson Bay in Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Of more importance, in the opinion of Mr. Laidig, is the possibility of having Highway 83 designated as one of the major north and south Interstate Highways. This is the fastest, shortest, all paved highway through mid-America from Canada to Mexico.

Last week as we drove toward Dodson we saw a fair-sized yellow animal standing with upraised head in the middle of the highway and could not tell whether it was a dog or wolf; but we knew instantly when he started to move off with the effortless lope of a coyote — they run differently from a dog. This was about seven miles east of Wellington. A number of people in town have remarked about hearing the song of the coyote at night and the familiarity with which the undaunted skunks paddle up and down the alleys has been observed more than once. Badgers and coons and sometimes bobcats continue to be country animals; but it makes you wonder if wildlife is not increasing in the Wellington countryside.

Conformity can be dangerous. In my case it was a triple danger. In other years I have refused to burn off my lawn because a better turf results from leaving the old grass mowed at a two inch height. This year all my neighbors burned their lawns and my Ever-Loving suggested that we set a torch to our own dry grass. It was fifty years ago that I set fire to a small batch of mesquite grass only to have a gust of fire created wind whip it across the road and burn off the eastern side of the town section.

With two hoses running full nearby, I set fire to a small plot of grass in the backyard and with Louise manipulating one hose we worked this burn-off with ease. She went into the house and I started the same procedure on the north lawn. The Simpsons had burned their lawn previously. I was careful to have two hoses running full ready and I soaked the pampas grass and its environs until the ground was muddy; but a vagrant trail of fire about two inches wide crept underneath the pampas grass and suddenly a ball of smoke exploded ten feet in the air from the south side of the clump. The water from the hose overhead would not penetrate the dense grass as fast as the fire could consume, so I had to part the razor sharp grass with my bare hands to get the second hose in to the heart of the fire and this travail finally came to a quiet end.

Success breeds confidence and sometimes dangerous lack of caution. I was determined to take all due precautions when I burned the grass in front of the evergreen shrubs on the front lawn—the fire bug had me by the throat and I could rationalize any inconsistency with my frenzy to get on with the burning. I was an arsonist and a fireman wrapped in one. I wet the evergreens topside and put a spray underneath long before the grass was set ablaze. Again the treacherous ground blaze of grass crept underneath the wet evergreens. It was then the flames burst through the shrub to lick at the bottom of the giant Arizona spruce and I knew that the house would go if the spruce turned to flames. I called for help and there was no answer. I kept on using both hoses, one above and one underneath and finally the nightmare ended.

My firebug urge had not ended with two near disasters. I continued the burning on the south part of the lawn; but I made certain that the telephone pole would not be set on fire. The pole was watered from six feet up to the bottom before the grass was set on fire. The pole was old and riddled with cracks and was soon smoking but the struggle to extinguish it was not as hectic as the evergreens. This will be the last year I will burn the lawn.

Teacher Attends In-Service Meet

Mrs. Dee Coleman, home-making teacher in Wellington High School, attended an Area I in-service conference for vocational home-making teachers at Plainview Feb. 10.

She was accompanied by Patricia Thomas, a senior, who went to the Area I FHA officers and advisors conference.

Mrs. Coleman was a hostess at one of the sectional meetings.

The outstanding address of the conference she considered to be "The Teen Ager and His Problems" by Dr. Jerry Dawson of Wayland College.

Among the teen-agers problems he listed as his inability to laugh, his basic inability to trust, and his inability to define a purpose, for adults no longer expect him to set up a goal.

Other problems were his inability to remain a child, for he is pressured by parents to grow up, and his inability to become an adult.

The young person has not the ability to overcome his problems by himself and he should not have to, the homemaker teachers were told.

On Friday, Feb. 23, Mrs. Coleman, Patricia Thomas and Susan Coffee will attend an Area I meeting in Lubbock where applications for state degrees will be evaluated.

County Student High at LCC

Jay Wischkaemper, a freshman in Lubbock Christian College, made the highest grade point average possible for a student, 4.0, during the first semester.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wischkaemper who moved to Slaton several months ago, he was graduated from Samnorwood High School in May, 1967 as salutatorian of his class. He holds two scholarships, one received as salutatorian, and the other given to him as a pre-ministerial student. The latter was increased by $50.00 at the end of the semester, according to his father. Wischkaemper also drives a college bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Wischkaemper have two other sons enrolled in Tech. Bill Wischkaemper is a full-time employee of Bell Telephone Company and carries a 16-hour course. Mike Wischkaemper, employed full time at Kimbell Wholesale Grocery, is taking two courses. Their youngest son, Phillip, is in the Slaton School.

Mrs. Ingram Breaks Hand

Mrs. Homer Ingram received two broken bones in her left hand Thursday morning, Feb. 15, when she slipped on the ice and fell near her home.

Men In Service

Roger Norman Black

Pvt. E-2 Roger Norman Black was graduated from the Quartermaster School of the United States Army at Ft. Lee, Va., on Feb. 15, and he is now stationed at Atlanta Army Depot, Atlanta, Ga. He will be there for three months, and after that he will be sent to Saigon, South Vietnam.

His wife, Barbara, who is presently staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Black, plans to join her husband at Atlanta and stay there until he goes overseas.

Yeoman Danny Harrison, USN, has been in Wellington several times during the last week visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Richards, his great grandfather, T. H. Rainer, and other relatives, while on leave.

He recently completed boot camp at San Diego, Calif., and is now assigned to the USS Hanson, a destroyer, out of San Diego.

During his training, Harrison was a member of the 120-voice Bluejacket Choir, which in addition to his appearances on the base, also sang at Los Angeles and for off-base appearances in San Diego. The choir also sang for both Catholic and Protestant services each Sunday as well as for Christmas masses and candlelight services. Shortly before he left the group, the Bluejacket Choir made a recording of spirituals.

Harrison, a graduate of Amarillo High School, will also enroll for college courses while in the Navy.

Harrison is spending his leave with his mother, Mrs. Jack Winslett in Shamrock.

Students Go to FTA Convention

Nine Wellington high school students will be among the 6,500 delegates to the Texas Future Teachers of America convention who will crowd into Dallas Friday and Saturday, Feb. 23 and 24 for their annual convention.

This group includes Cherry Lewis, Susan Coffee, Vikki Saunders and Deborah Peters, who are seniors; Connie Hughes, Vickie Sherman and Waleen O'Hair, juniors; and Susan Oney and Janice White, sophomores. Accompanying them will be Mrs. Bernice Welch, sponsor, and Mrs. Carthel Lewis.

TFTA is composed of high school students who plan careers as teachers and it is sponsored jointly by the Texas State Teachers Association and the National Education Association.

Keynote speaker for the opening session will be James O. Reese, an Odessa stockbroker and civic worker.

Special convention guests will include Marilyn Van Derbur, a former Miss America, and the reigning Miss Teenage America, Stephanie Crane.

Rainey at Boys Ranch Meeting

Sheriff John Rainey, a director in the law enforcement officers organization which lends support to Boys Ranch, was in Amarillo recently when the board began plans for the annual Boys Ranch Barbecue on May 9.

He said that the organization has built one dormitory and contributed part of the cost of the school, and this year bought a drivers education car for the ranch.

Members of the organization include sheriffs, deputies, Department of Public Safety employees, Texas Rangers, judges and chiefs of police.

Mrs. Rainey accompanied her husband to the meeting.

Caliph is the name given the successors of Mohammed.

A State "Representative" Is Exactly That . . . His Business Is To "Represent" His District!

In 1965, Incumbent J. M. Simpson voted AGAINST HJR 79—a plan to lift excessive taxation off farmers and ranchers who live too close to towns and cities—or got caught within the extended "corporate limits."

But the fair-minded people of Texas reversed Simpson's decision. In November 1966, they voted that so long as land is being used for agricultural purposes — even though it is in the sphere of a city — it should be assessed for taxes as FARMLAND. How many thousands of Texans would still be on the land if they had not been forced to leave because farm prices will not support city taxation?

Marsh Receives Yearling Award

Troy Marsh, Wellington representative of the South Coast Life Insurance Company, received the Amarillo General Agents and Managers Conference coveted Yearling Achievement Award for his results during his first full calendar year in the life insurance business.

In announcing that Mr. Marsh has received this award, Art Lara, manager for South Coast Life Insurance Company in the Panhandle area, said that out of forty-plus agencies whose new agents were eligible to receive this award, there were only six recipients.

Mr. Marsh joined the South Coast Life Insurance Company in August, 1966. He was previously Deputy Sheriff and Police Chief in Wellington.

At present he is in Houston on an intermediate training school held in the company's home office.

Missionary to Speak Here

The Rev. H. D. Musgrove, a missionary to Chile who is now on furlough, will preach at Fundamental Baptist Church on Sunday, Feb. 25, at 11 a.m., the Rev. J. E. Young, pastor, has announced.

While in the United States, Rev. Musgrove, his wife and their three children, are living in Oklahoma City.

The public is invited, Rev. Young said.

During this week, Rev. and Mrs. Young and their son, Jerry, are in Elk City, where he is preaching in a revival at the Bible Baptist Church.

The services began Monday night, Feb. 19, and will continue through Sunday, he said.

Plains Artist to Teach Here

Leona Turner, Amarillo artist, will begin classes Monday, March 4, at Corky's Flower and Gift Shop.

The sessions will be 1:30 to 4:30 and 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Monday for a 10-weeks period, according to Mrs. Hubert Bowen. Special attention will be given to the study of landscape painting.

Mrs. Turner is a commercial artist for White and Kirk and formerly was on the art staff of the Amarillo Globe News. She is the wife of George Turner, now an artist with that newspaper.

She has exhibited her work at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon with the San Antonio Area Arts and Crafts Association. Mrs. Turner did commercial drawings here during the last County Fair.

BIG EXCITEMENT AT CH. 7

News Department Comes on Strong

A spy ship is seized . . . an earthquake rocks a distant island . . . a president is shot.

There is no major happening throughout the world that KVII-TV viewers won't know about within minutes, according to Bob Izzard and Tom Martin, Channel 7's experienced news team.

"A flick of a switch is all it takes to bring any emergency or major news event right into the living-rooms of our viewers," Izzard said. Martin, an award-winning commentator and nationally-recognized magazine writer, observed that "the viewer is never out of touch with significant events while watching his favorite program."

The KVII-TV news staff is being doubled to add strength to the department, and additional equipment has been added to provide faster coverage of local and area events.

One major addition is a Jamieson Color Film Processor.

"Normally it takes an hour to process color film for newscasts," Izzard said, "but with the new processor we can go from dip to dry within 20 minutes and handle up to 1,000 feet of news film at a time. This means that a story can break 15 minutes before any news program, and before the newscast is finished we can have the filmed story on the air."

The news staff works with a motto constantly in mind: "Get It First; Get It Right."

Both Izzard, 44, and Martin, 42, are experienced reporters and observers. Izzard, a University of Illinois graduate, has worked in radio and television news since 1948. On the first television newscast in Amarillo, he coined the phrase "Golden Spread," a term now widely used by all media.

He has covered several major stories in Amarillo and throughout the nation. He covered the Tex Thornton murder in Amarillo; the Alaska earthquake; Project Gnome, the atomic device blast near Carlsbad, N.M., to name a few.

Izzard, reared in Amarillo, was a fighter pilot during World War II, and flew 105 missions in P-47s over Europe. He had a special interest in his coverage and participation in a B-52 mission over Vietnam, the capture by the First Cavalry of a cave on the central highlands of Vietnam, a F-100 mission and two air control missions in the Mekong Delta.

Izzard has traveled the world over, and his first hand knowledge of conditions in troubled spots gives him an edge over many newsmen in the area.

Martin, author of "Dynasty: The Longs of Louisiana," was assistant bureau chief for Newsweek Magazine in Los Angeles and Southwest bureau chief for Time Inc. in Dallas prior to entering the television news field.

He distinguished himself while working for the Houston Press and the Houston Post as an investigative reporter. Exposés became his forte, and he exposed a massive insurance scandal in Texas that resulted in changes in the state's insurance laws. He found corruption in the Internal Revenue Service in Texas and in the city government in Houston, both resulting in changes in officials and laws. His exposés earned him the Headliner Award for Investigative Reporting.

Martin was editorial director at KFDD-TV, and won the National Sigma Delta Chi Award for his editorial comments. He also freelances to several national magazines, notably among them The Saturday Evening Post.

He is married and has two children.

High Powered Engineers Work on Picture Problems

No military operation ever worked with more precision than when KVII-TV changed hands three weeks ago.

The transfer was made at noon, and the ink was hardly dry on the final signature before John Tyler, the new general manager, was on the phone calling in a picked team of engineers to cure the ills plaguing the now locally-owned station.

"By 8 p.m. that day, they had flown into Amarillo airport, and by midnight they had rolled their oscilloscopes and other electrical paraphernalia into the transmitter room. We all felt a sense of urgency. We wanted to get things done, and fast! And we did!"

The engineers were Bill Cannady, Channel 7's director of engineering, described by Tyler as someone "who knows more about television than those who invented it;" Bill Smith, a highly competent field service engineer with General Electric in Dallas, and Bill Green, a mechanical expert and KVII-TV's chief engineer.

"They worked all night, were at it again by noon the next day and at the transmitter for another all night session. I've never seen people so picky before," Tyler said. "They probed, prodded, pulled apart and put back together nearly every piece of equipment we have, and after they finished, they said, 'Let's check it just one more time.' Unbelievable!"

One of the major problems was the tower. It's 757 feet tall and the 77-foot antenna brings the over-all height to 834 feet. Twenty guy wires hold it in place. Cannady pointed out that the tower was out of plumb.

"This is about the most disgusting thing that can happen to a viewer, particularly at some crucial time. We've corrected this through replacement of parts which were malfunctioning in the transmitter."

Well, John, what about the now and future? He outlined his plans like this:

1. "We're doubling our news staff, and will make it more mobile by buying additional cars. We're providing them with all the equipment they need to provide the kind of coverage viewers expect from a first class news program."

2. "We'll introduce some children's programming."

3. "We're going to sign on earlier and sign off later, and we'll start running a late show on Friday and Saturday nights."

4. "We'll have more movies in color, and they'll be of more recent vintage than some on the air now."

5. "We will have a weather show that will be like none other ever seen on the Plains. It will be more accurate, more visual and more understandable. It will become more valuable to those who make their living farming and ranching. We'll have devices similar to those used by NASA in its space program and

"Fish in the Canadian River were getting better reception than most people were. You wouldn't think a few inches could make much difference in reception, but with the tower out of line by 10 inches, the station's donut-shaped beam was tilted high-low, overshooting Amarillo and viewers south, and slanting nearly into the river north."

The Channel 7 tower wasn't exactly the Leaning Tower of Pisa, but Cannady said that "being off just a little was enough to cause a blizzard on most screens to the south and poorer reception generally."

The engineers set up their transit on the east, north and south, taking sightings from the bottom of the tower to the tip of the antenna.

"We sent a man to the top, and he twisted the antenna in its collar, 15 feet inside the tower. That helped line the antenna up some. Then we started on the tower. It took us about three hours to straighten it," Cannady said.

With the adjustments, an increase in power and a plumbed tower, the KVII-TV transmission improved. Viewers noticed it as calls to the station indicated.

"It all should have been done a long time ago," Tyler observed.

COMPLETE K-7 PROGRAM SCHEDULE INSIDE used by companies such as Jet Propulsion Labs, one of the nation's firms that need the most accurate weather information available."

What about staff changes? "We're adding, not subtracting," he said. "We've got a good staff now, and we're beefing it up with some more competent talents."

Fingering the last sesame seed off the plate, he added: "You know, the viewer is King, the Boss. Not the guy on Madison Avenue as some believe. We want to know what our viewers want, and we're studying the programming now to design it for the people in our part of the country."

Another staff meeting ended the interview, but I checked John's credentials before I left. He's a director of the Texas CATV Association, and has been on the staffs of KTAL-TV, Shreveport, La., KTVT, Fort Worth, and KFDD-TV, Amarillo. Every location is better off for his having been there.

I walked out, not skeptical, but believing what I saw. KVII-TV ISN'T the same station, and I say Cheers to that!

Area Viewers see immediate improvement in K-7 picture quality. See back of this section for picture story of how it happened.

KVII GOES UNDER MICROSCOPE

Reporter Sees Effect of Change

By JERRY SINISE
Freelance Writer

"Making changes here is like sitting on a bed of ants. You don't know where to swat first, because you're getting bitten in a new place every second."

That was John Tyler's opening line to a three hour interview about KVII-TV, its new ownership and his plans as general manager.

Between phone calls, consultations with his staff and a cooling hamburger on a sesame seed bun, he said: "It's not the same station any more. Things are different. They're getting better all the time."

Newsmen are trained to be slightly skeptical of chamber-of-commerce type statements, so I must have sounded somewhat ho-hum in answering: "Of course."

That stopped him in the middle of his attack on soggy lettuce. "Don't take my word for it. Ask anyone."

I did. Tom Martin. As one journalist to another I asked him to level with me.

"For the first time," he said, "everyone feels we're finally in the ballgame and can compete all the way. There's an intense excitement and contagious enthusiasm at KVII-TV that hasn't been noted around here for years. John's right. This isn't the same station."

This ebullience is new. I'd been around the station when a lethargic staff was walking on its lower lip, watching the seconds tick away so it could go home and forget the whole day ever happened.

So, I asked John why the sudden happiness in the atmosphere.

"The change of management and the sale of the station to local ownership have generated a spark of optimism throughout the whole organization. We're going places, and we know it!" he emphasized.

KVII-TV now is owned by Mrs. Estelle Marsh, Stanley Marsh III, Tom Marsh and Michael Marsh, all of Amarillo.

"The Marsh family has been associated with successful Amarillo and area businesses for many years, and they want to see KVII-TV succeed, and they're doing those things necessary to see that it does."

What things, I wanted to know, figuring a put-up-or-shut-up attitude here would get the best results.

John pointed the half eaten hamburger my way, and said: "You know that if anything happens on the High Plains, the switchboard here lights up like a pinball machine gone berserk, and that's been happening ever since the Marshes bought the station."

"One viewer summed up all the calls when he asked what we did to the picture. We didn't know whether to panic, pull the plug on him or what, but we told him we'd improved the color and image 100 per cent or better. You can say that again, he told us. So we did."

Tyler, using a limp french fry as a pointer, said three topnotch engineers combined their talents to sharpen the blurs and strengthen the signal. They were KVII-TV's Bill Cannady, director of engineering; Bill Green, the station's chief engineer, and Bill Smith, district field service engineer with General Electric.

Laughing a little, Tyler said one of his callers, someone who lived outside Amarillo, told him he was surprised to find the Big Valley really wasn't filmed in a continuous snow storm. "He had a well-how-about-that sound in his voice."

"Seriously, we recognize that KVII-TV has had several problems in the past that were picture-related. The picture was inconsistent. The reds might go pink and the pinks, red, but this problem has been permanently cured with the addition of the latest solid state microwave transmission equipment."

"We had a weak signal, and this resulted in more than the usual amount of snow in some areas outside Amarillo. This has been corrected by bringing our transmitter up to full power of 316,000 watts, the maximum allowed by the Federal Communications Commission. The station had been operating on reduced power until a couple of weeks ago."

I brought in one of my pet gripes, having the station go off the air at the most inopportune moment.

1. Just hours after the new owners take over, electronics experts Bill Cannady and Bill Smith jet to Amarillo to tackle the station's picture problems. Manager John Tyler briefs the two as they formulate a plan of attack.

2. By midnight the station is crammed with sophisticated electronic testing gear. It's late, but the long search begins.

3. The team of specialists probe and analyze. Coffee cups are filled and re-filled. Hopeful moments turn into disappointment.

4. By 4 a.m., no solution. Not even a hint. Weary eyes examine complicated diagrams. The steady hum of high-voltage equipment is hypnotic.

5. Fighting fatigue, the bleary-eyed team takes a breather at daybreak. Cannady notices something suspicious about the tower. "Bring a transit!" he orders.

6. "The tower's out of plumb," he declares. "And the antenna's leaning." Somebody has to climb the tower—757 feet up! (front page)

7. Hard muscles strain against massive wrenches, inching the tower into position. If a cable snaps, the whole tower could come crashing down.

8. At last it is straight. Then come exhaustive tests for picture quality. It has worked. The picture really is better! Now they can go home and sleep. For awhile.
