

CASH ON BARREL HEAD FOR PARDONS, CHARGE

$100,000,000 CREDIT IS AVAILABLE FOR COTTON IN SIX STATES

WORKING CAPITAL OF TEN MILLION IS OPEN TO FARMERS

COMPLETION OF TEXAS PLANS ADDS FINAL TOUCH

TO RETIRE COTTON

FOUR MILLION BALES CAN NOW BE HELD FROM MARKET

(By The Associated Press) DALLAS, Oct. 27.—With the completion of plans for a Texas cotton finance corporation here Wednesday, six states are now organized with a total capital of $100,000,000, which means, it was stated, that a working fund of $100,000,000 of credit becomes immediately available through the federal intermediate bank and the United States Farm Loan Board for the retiring of 4,000,000 bales of cotton for a period of 18 months.

Texas leads with the formation of a $20,000,000 corporation, which forms the basis of $50,000,000 of credit or half of the total for the south. North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and Louisiana and southern Mississippi have formed corporations of $1,000,000 each.

"Success Assured" Meyer issuing a statement after the meeting in which he said that the action taken, in his opinion assures the success of the plan whereby the storage of 25 per cent of the 1926 crop, estimated to be the approximately surplus above this year's consumption requirements of American cotton, will be financed for such a time as may be needed to restore normal marketing conditions.

Formation of the Texas Corporation was authorized by a special committee of the Texas Bankers' Association, which held over from Tuesday's state meeting, after it had met with Eugene Meyer, chairman of President Coolidge's cotton committee, who arrived in Dallas early Wednesday from Birmingham. He was accompanied by A. C. Williams, chairman of the federal farm loan board, who assisted him in outlining the plan adopted.

Low Interest Rate The plan, as presented, makes possible borrowing money at a very low rate of interest from the intermediate credit bank and issuing $10 worth of credit for each $1 of actual capital subscribed to the corporation. This will make available a $100,000,000 working fund for the retiring of the cotton for from 18 to 24 months or longer on warehouse receipts surety and proper insurance subject to the immediate supervision of the federal farm loan board.

The committee which will be appointed by President Charles A. Fisk of the Texas Bankers' Association will work out the details as to what sum will be advanced the growers upon delivery of their cotton to the corporation. It will be not less than $45 to $50 a bale, it was stated.

It was pointed out that while almost all of the cotton crop of Central and South Texas is out of the hands of the farmers, that of West, East and North Texas is not nearly picked, and the retirement movement will appeal to the country bankers who want to see the cotton price stabilized and perhaps to rise when a sufficient number of bales over the south have been retired in a similar manner.

All Pullmans Sold Out for Football Train to Ft. Worth

The last reservation out of the four pullman coaches guaranteed by the Avalanche-Journal for the special train that will take the Tech Matadors and their followers to Fort Worth for the game against T. C. U. Saturday has been sold, and others who make the trip have one of three selections. The first of these is to call at the Santa Fe depot here for reservations and if sufficient number apply, another coach may be added. The second is to induce some friend to share a berth with you, and the third is to ride the train in the chair car with the balance of the "noise makers." Tickets for chair car accommodations may be secured until time for the train to leave Friday evening, but it is wise to purchase tickets before this time if possible. A fare of $12.41 round trip is being offered. The Avalanche-Journal guarantees assures four pullman cars and two chair cars, but it is probable that the train will be made up of ten cars, including six pullmans, three chair cars and a baggage coach. The train will leave immediately after the Lubbock-Amalillo High School football game.

HALE-RAMSEY CASE TO JURY TODAY

DEFENSE OF ALLEGED OSAGE MURDERERS CLOSURE ITS TESTIMONY

(By The Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 27.—The defense in the trial of W. K. Hale and John Ramsey, who are charged with the death of Henry Roan, an Osage Indian, closed its case here late this afternoon, after three days of evidence. The government has tried to prove that Hale paid Ramsey to kill Roan so Hale might collect a $25,000 life insurance policy on the Indian's life. The case will probably go to the jury some time tomorrow. The defense also spent three days in presenting its evidence.

TWO ARE BILLED ON CHARGES OF DRUNKEN DRIVING

GRAND JURY INDICTS TWO IN RECKLESS DRIVING WEDNESDAY

BOTH OUT ON BOND

CONVICTION CARRIES UP TO TWO YEARS IN STATE PRISON

R. A. Brown and A. H. Hoffman, held on charges of driving automobiles while drunk, were yesterday indicted by the Lubbock county grand jury, which is still in session, and later released on bonds of $1000 each.

Conviction of driving while drunk carries with it a sentence of not more than two years in the penitentiary, or not more than ninety days in the county jail, or a fine of not more than $500, or both of the latter, according to County Attorney Owen W. McWhorter.

Si Hamilton and Grady Burch, at liberty on bonds of $2000 each on charges of assault with attempt to kill W. L. Knight, aged filling station proprietor, have not yet been indicted.

Search Party Raised The grand jury is expected by officers to take some action in the case of two men and a woman arrested by city and county officers Tuesday night, in what was alleged to be a disorderly house and speakeasy near the business portion of the city. However, an official word has come from the grand jury in regard to this case.

City police had been watching the place raided for several weeks, they say, and after deputy Sheriff Vernice Ford had seen a man leaving the house with a bundle alleged to contain liquor, county and city officers climbed into the house through a window and arrested the trio, who were held for investigation.

REFUSES BAIL TO EIGHT

Labor Leaders Held for Open Shop Man's Death in Frisco; Kept in Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27. (AP)—Police Judge Sylvain Lassus today refused to admit bail to eight men said to be members of a union who are charged with murder in connection with the death of a carpenter employed on a so-called "open shop" construction job. After denying a motion asking that the defendants be admitted to bail, the court set next Friday for the arraignment of the prisoners.

New Bath of Blood Threatens Herrin as Liquor Gangsters Barricade Selves in Roadhouse All Ready to Shoot It Out

(By The Associated Press) MAHON, Ill., Oct. 27.—Armed to the teeth, members of the Birger liquor faction tonight were fortified at their roadhouse near here to "shoot it out" with the rival Shelton brothers gang. Two members of the Birger faction were slain Monday night in a new outbreak of the warfare which is said to have cost seven lives so far. "There is going to be a battle between the two factions," Charles Birger, faction leader, told reporters at his roadhouse late today. "We are not going to elude out, we have stood as much as possible

WANTS GOVERNOR OFF BOOK BOARD

"OK AS LONG AS GOVERNOR IS GOOD" SAYS MARRS

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, Oct. 27.—The state text book law should be revised so as to take the Governor off the state text book commission, S. M. N. Marrs, superintendent of public instruction, Wednesday told the house investigating committee, under the present law, the Governor is chairman of the text book commission, and of the state board of education. Approves Own Deals "Under the present arrangement, we have the anomaly of the Governor, as a member of the state board of education, approving contracts she helped make as a member of the text book commission," Marrs said. "Of course that would be all right, if we always had good governors. "The secretary of state should NOT be a member of the state board of education. During my experience as secretary of the board, the secretary of state, an appointee of the Governor, has never failed to vote with the governor. Therefore you have a state board of education controlled by the Governor, as the only other voting member is the comptroller. "The school business in this state has grown too big to be handled by ex-officio boards. "The business man, required by law to be appointed to the text book commission, should be taken off. He knows nothing about text books."

O'ROURKE DENIES IT

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—Emphatic denial that he had told J. P. McAfee to advise prisoners to "put the money on the barrel head" to get pardons was issued Wednesday to the Associated Press by Frank O'Rourke, secretary of the prison commission. "I have talked to McAfee only one time," he said.

OVERTON SAYS CITY WOULDN'T ACCEPT PARKS

TESTIMONY STARTS IN A THREE-CORNERED FIGHT FOR LAND

WANTS LAND BACK

SAYS TRUST BROKEN

Testifying that he had tried to give blocks 26 and 46 of the city of Lubbock to the city for park purposes and that the mayor had refused them, and that later, while he was out of town, he had conveyed them for no consideration, in trust to be offered to the city by W. H. Bledsoe and T. T. Price, Dr. C. M. Overton occupied the stand in the 72nd district court the greater part of yesterday in the three cornered fight of the Dr. Overton, the city of Lubbock and Price and Bledsoe to get title to the land in question, now valued at approximately $40,000.

Dr. Overton claims that Bledsoe and Price did not offer the land to the city, and that therefore, by violation of the trust agreement, the title reverts to him. He introduced documentary evidence to show that Bledsoe and Price had not rendered these two blocks for taxation when they rendered other property sold to them by him at the same time.

The two blocks, each about 200x600 feet, one in the north portion of town, and one in the south, were fenced and beautified for presentation to the city, Dr. Overton testified.

CITY CASE TODAY

The city now wants possession of the lots and will begin testimony today to prove their claim, while Bledsoe and Price, who at present hold the title, are trying to retain the land. Charles Overton represents Bledsoe and Price, Lockhart and Garza, the City and Bean and Klett, Dr. Overton.

Amos Howard and W. B. Powell testified briefly for Dr. Overton yesterday.

Flivver Capital Proves Itself to Be Trouper's Hoodoo

(By The Associated Press) DETROIT, Oct. 27.—Detroit is down in the trouper's book now as a hoodoo town.

Within the past few years the following have happened: Bert Williams collapsed during a performance at the Garrick Theatre, dying a few weeks later. Al Johnson contracted such a severe cold when he played here last that his voice never has fully recovered from the effects.

Frank Timmy became so ill following a performance here a few weeks ago that for days his life was despaired of. He still is in a Detroit hospital fighting for strength.

And now Houdini, the magician and escape artist tonight lies in a hospital, gravely ill following an operation for appendicitis and the subsequent development of peritonitis. Houdini's condition was somewhat improved tonight after a restful day.

McAFEE SAYS CONVICTS GOT THE MONEY, BUT NO PARDONS

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, Oct. 27.—J. P. McAfee, assistant manager of the Ramsey prison farm, Wednesday testified before the house investigating committee, that Frank O'Rourke, secretary of the prison commission, told him to tell the prisoners on his farm that pardons would be forthcoming if the prisoners would put the money on the barrel head.

O'Rourke told me that a party headed by a daughter of governor Miriam A. Ferguson soon would be on the farm, and that a certain man in the party would take the money," McAfee stated. "He did not tell me who this man would be."

O'Rourke Denies It Earlier in the day, O'Rourke had denied making any such statement to McAfee.

O'Rourke told me that it would be easier to get pardons for "short terms," such as met in one to two years for bootlegging. He said that if the men were not pardoned they would get back their money."

McAfee related this conversation with O'Rourke took place at the funeral of Col John A. Herrin, who was chairman of the prison commission at his death.

"I told Joe Mauldin, my house boy, to tell the boys what O'Rourke said," McAfee said.

Shortly thereafter, a woman from El Dorado, Ark., brought $300 in the hope of obtaining a pardon for her brother-in-law, and Mike Martel received a cashier's check for $300. McAfee stated, adding that the woman and Martel turned over the money to him to keep for them.

Returns Money "Several weeks ago I returned the money to the woman from El Dorado," McAfee said. "Her brother-in-law is yet in prison. Martel received a pardon last week. Upon his release I paid him $250—that was left of the $300, as he had drawn against the fund for small amounts. I didn't want to be bothered by the funds, but kept them as personal favors for the prisoners."

Ernest Caviness, a trusty who was about one month more of a two-year sentence with clear record to serve on the Ramsey farm, and whose prison record is clear, testified that Mauldin, McAfee's house-boy told him of O'Rourke's alleged statement to McAfee.

"Mauldin told some of the boys that Mr. Frank O'Rourke was going to have a representative come to the farm and get the money off the barrel head," Caviness said. "I asked Mr. McAfee about the report, and he said that he was not going to have anything to do with it."

Gets C-C Check "A man named Hawkins from San Saba, was the only one I know of who 'rotted' the money. He received a cashier's check from a San Saba bank. After waiting for some time for developments, he asked me to send the check back to the bank, which I did."

Caviness said he knew nothing of a rumored sum of $8,000 raised by the prisoners on the Ramsey farm to get pardons.

Mark Wheeler, who served several years of a five to twenty-year sentence for robbery with firearms, and who was pardoned last week, testified that when on the Ramsey farm he was approached by "three inmates with reference to raising money for pardons," and that he replied he was not interested.

Wheeler, who succeeded a man named Palmer, as convict book-keeper on the Eastman farm, at the time S. G. Granberry, now prison commissioner, was manager, denied he had raised a $7.29 check for $70.28. Granberry said that either Palmer or Wheeler had raised the check; and that he believed Wheeler did. "I never saw such a check," Wheeler said.

Novel Bag

This pigskin shopping bag owes its novelty and attractiveness to its distinctive cylindrical shape.

The Woman's Day

The girls will like this one. It happened in England, praise be! A radio studio was asked why it did not employ women as announcers. The management answered that "only one woman in 100,000 is sufficiently educated in general problems of the day to be able to read the news dispatches properly."

It's true, the girls better get busy and demand some time off to catch up! Reversible fur and cloth coats are being shown by the ritziest shops. The furs used are the soft variety, such as gazelle, squirrel, mole, lynx. The idea is to wear cloth coats when you like, fur coat the rest of the time. For some reason or other, such coats are not much more expensive than a cloth coat only.

Are the youngsters teasing about Halloween? You might be thinking of the "costs" possibilities in oyster stew, deviled crab or lobster au gratin, with rabbit on toast, fruit salad in apple jack lanterns, doughnuts, pumpkin pie, gingerbread with yellowed whipped cream, molasses cookies, popcorn balls, toasted cheese sandwiches. A wiener roast with all the fixings would solve the outdoor menu.

Maybe the old ladies in the workhouse at Folkestone, England, will get their short skirts at last. One of the women guardians on the board recommended that the women inmates be allowed the modish length skirts. Dissension in the ranks as another worthy female opined it would be unnecessary to permit the old ladies to show their knees, but that ankle-length skirts might be permitted, as they would save material.

Oh, pennies, pennies, what deeds of kindness are performed in thy sacred name.

The return of the wasp waist as noted on a new fall frock is agitating the same worthies who bally-hooed so long and lustily about rouse, powder, and the short skirts of the flapper. The wasp waist throw-back to grand-mama's times serves 'em right for their former yelping when a girl's ideal of beauty was health and not delicacy. Now we'll have them swooning all over the place, probably!

Another of the many "behind the scenes" books, talks quite frankly about Mrs. Gladstone's general dress untidiness. It seems that once upon a time the queen herself was giving a dinner for the prime minister and his lady, and was forced to send a maid to Mrs. Gladstone's room to tell her that the meal was served. The minister's wife rushed forth, hooking herself as she went. On the way down the stairs she lost a lace doo-dad from over one ear which was picked up by a lord-in-waiting and slipped under the lady's dress. Remember the time you kicked that tight pump of in the restaurant, got panicky when you couldn't find it, and had it kicked back near your foot by the handsome gallant stranger?

The dressmakers are helping out the hostesses who do like to have a smart looking crowd of guests. Not only will the big style houses send a crowd of fifty mannequins to be introduced as guests, but they pay the hostess for privilege. They do say that many a "Keeping Up With Lizzy" is able to meet her bills this way. The trick is for the supposed guest, really a mannequin, to be asked "where did you get that lovely frock?" She tells them.

Mrs. Dewey Campbell Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Dewey Campbell, 1511 17th street, entertained with a birthday dinner Wednesday for her son, Bobby, who is one year old, and for Hubert Allen, Jr., who is three years of age. Halloween decorations were used on the table and in the home. There were two birthday cakes and each little boy blew out his own candles. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Denton, Perry Denton, Mrs. Hattie Stoker, Mrs. H. L. Allen, Dorothy Allen and Hubert Allen, Jr.

Mrs. Dyke Cullum Is Hostess at Bridge Party Tuesday

Mrs. Dyke Cullum was hostess at a bridge party Tuesday afternoon complimenting her guests, Mrs. Don Webb, of Slaton, and Mrs. Conrad Newburn, of Mineral Wells. Halloween decorations were used in the house and on the tables. The guests received their tallies from a pumpkin held by a senesceer at the door. After five games, Mrs. Clifton Lindsey received high score and Mrs. Russell Robertson, the low score favor. Each of the hostesses was presented with a favor. Date nut pie, nuts, mints and coffee were served.

The history of furniture is the history of civilization. The household articles with which man has surrounded himself through the ages have reflected his taste and his interests at each period of his progress. It will always be possible to judge a household by the furniture it gathers around it. Not only because impeccable taste will reflect credit on the home maker, but also because it materially adds to the enjoyment of the home, is it necessary for the mistress of the household to study furniture before she makes her choice. Architectural line fundamentally important in furniture. Wherever possible it must follow to some extent the architectural type of the house itself, and the structure of the room. Harmony of line and color and scale is far more important than a strict adherence to "periods."

Germaine Contrives to Find Really Different Sport Clothes in Paris

PARIS, France, Oct. 27
My Dear Constance:
You ask me to send you something different for sport wear, just as casually as if you did not know that really distinctive costumes for sport are hard to find. However, since there is nothing I enjoy more than shopping for the unusual, I undertook the commission with joy, and began the assignment by going to Longchamp to the racetrack where the newest clothes are always exploited.

M. Perrone and Aunt Louise were with me, and though my suite was most devoted, and Aunt Louise particularly brilliant and witty, I kept my mind occupied with clothes as well as compliments, and I think very little escaped me sartorially, though I may have missed a lion's foot or so.

The costume that I liked particularly were photographed and I enclose them. With a little shouting on my part I was able to find where they were made and I have ordered you these costumes, one a bolero affair and one with a sleeveless velvet coat and pleated skirt.

The bolero, which is my favorite, is made of beige crepe with a bolero of golden brown velvet. The skirt is trimmed with circles of the brow velvet, and the jacket has applied circles of the crepe. It is very Spanish in feeling and I believe you will love it.

Perhaps the charm of the other lies in the color as well as the cut. Over a silk jumper suit of a grayish rose crepe is worn a vestette of rose velvet, one a shade or so darker than the silk. It is bound and trimmed with silk bands a few shades lighter than the skirt. The harmony of colors is quite entrancing.

Matching turbans and scarfs of child silk are very smart here, and I had one made up for you to wear with this costume in shades of gray and rose. It will not complete the idea and be ideal for you at the southern winter resorts you always frequent.

My friend Jacques has received his interest in me since M. Perrone is showing me so much attention. And it has not been completely on my part, but really I have had very little time for Jacques lately.

I must say I rather enjoy his discomfort, because really he quite forgot me this summer while the lovely Argentine lady was in Beauville. He has become quite humble again, and in times shows symptoms of becoming as humble now as he was when Jimmie occupied so much of my time—and my thoughts.

However, I have decided never to let Jacques—or any other man—make me so miserable again. I am going to treat them all with sublime indifference. When I see anything that looks like trouble appearing on the horizon, I shall resolutely face the opposite way. I think I shall not marry until I am very old—perhaps not until I am 25. Do you agree?

Devotedly,

you will not hesitate to use a Chinese lacquered cabinet in a Queen Anne room. If you know that the Queen Anne period actually introduced Chinese furnishings into England and Holland, as a result of the opening of the great Oriental trade routes.

Laquer may be adapted to many types of rooms, because its rich color and design add pliancy and variety, without interfering with the general scheme.

"Sets" of furniture have, happily, gone the way of many conventional sets things. Even dining rooms are being furnished, and are benefiting greatly by the innovation. The arrangement of furniture is almost as important as its selection. The decorator must first draw a sketch to scale, of the room he is working on. Then he must mark the large spaces and decide what the heavy pieces shall go into them. The smaller pieces then can be grouped more easily.

Observe the principles of balance in plotting your floor and wall space. Do not overload one side of the room with heavy pieces, leaving the other side almost empty.

These large articles of furniture in relation to the architectural lines of the room. For example, in a long, narrow room, place youravenport along the long side of the room, rather than crosswise in the center, where it would cut the room in two. Of course, if the room is very large, or almost square, this crosswise placing would be correct.

Antiques? Be Careful! A heavyavenport placed against the shorter wall is liable to overwhelm the other end of the room.

And now about antiques? Do not fall into the snare that unscrupulous dealers are setting daily for American buyers everywhere. Remember that only a fraction of the "antiques" sold in America deserve the name, and that it takes an expert to distinguish the real from the spurious. Good reproductions, however, are to be desired. In fact, I consider a good reproduction far superior to an original, unless the original is in a state of exceptionally good preservation, or is a family heirloom, in which latter case, of course, its sentimental value is incalculable.

W. M. S. of Christian Church Gives Play Tuesday Eve

Meedames Knov Thomas and S. H. Haynes played exceptionally well Tuesday evening when the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Christian church staged "Cindy's Chances," a play under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Watson, at the church in the evening. The scene was laid in the mountains of Eastern United States and the scenery and costumes of the players were in keeping with the region. A free will offering was taken, the proceeds to be used by the society in its work. Special numbers were given by the church orchestra, which is directed by R. J. Shepherd, in addition to songs and readings.

Mrs. S. M. Haynes, who was cast as Granny in the play, wore a home spun dress which was made more than 100 years ago. Among the special numbers, Katherine Howell gave a reading, Harold Bea-smith and Jean Shelby Jennings read. A free will offering was taken by Misses: Prancilla Watson, Frances Snyder, Rosemary Leaverton and John Anna Boyd, Carolyn were Raymond Barrie, Benton Teal, Charles O'Neil and Cecil Davis.

The cast was as follows: Granny, Mrs. S. H. Haynes; Cindy, Mrs. Knov Thomas; Mr. Miles, Sally Ann; Mrs. N. L. Benson; Susie, Mrs. Lone Hooper; Mollie, Mrs. Paul Barrie; Jane, Mrs. T. Toal; Katie, Mrs. Leland Mast; teachers, Meedames Lawson Howell and J. D. Walker. Flowers were presented the director and Mrs. Haynes at the close of the play by Pauline Barrie and Bedford Riley.

The executive committee of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Christian church will meet at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon with Mrs. W. P. Jennings, 1916 17th Street.

MANUSCRIPT SENT OFF FOR NEXT BULLETIN

The manuscript has been sent off for the next bulletin of the college which will be volume 2, No. 4. Four of the bulletins are published every year and this one will be the final of 1926. The regular catalog will be off the press some time in January. The bulletin which will be sent out in the next few weeks will contain general information concerning the school, a revised list of the faculty and other similar matters.

TREADERS OF FOR FT. WORTH

The Tech Treaders, one of the most popular student orchestras of the college, left yesterday for Fort Worth, where they will be backing the team. They went in a stage car and will make stops at various towns along the way, playing for dances and entertainments. They played at Sweetwater last night, and will play in Breckenridge tonight, and Cisco tomorrow night. Saturday night they will broadcast over the radio along with the Tech band and other student organizations.

The Treaders, the oldest student orchestra in the Tech, is composed entirely of students. Franklin Eideridge, Tubak; Perry Holder, Raymondville; Hill Armstrong, Lubbock; Bill Lewis, Halls; Bailey, Irland, Shallowater; Lloyd Eysatt, Aspermont; Chuck Collins, Colorado Springs, Colorado; Sewell Hughes, Lubbock; and Alton Hutson, Lubbock, manager.

ANOTHER LINK ADDED IN TECH HISTORY

With the presentation of the minutes of the first meeting of the board of directors of the Tech to the library yesterday by H. M. Chitwood, the history of the Tech which is being compiled and kept by the library will be more complete. The minutes are bound in leather with a gold binding and are on display in the bulletin board of the library. The Tech history which is being kept by the library starts with the bill which created the college and every detail is being recorded and placed in the library. The bills submitted by the 28 towns applying for the Tech is one of the features of the history; the library having the original of each one.

PRESS CLUB HAS GOOD MEETING

Discussions on the current situation and the cartoons featured the meeting of the Press club last night with Tom C. Morrison and Wilbur Edlemann in the limelight. Both made good talks on their subjects which were greatly enjoyed by the club members. The next business meeting consisted of appointing a committee for drawing up a constitution and by-laws, and other minor matters. New members will be voted into the club next meeting and old members who have not attended this year will be dropped from the roll.

The club this year is composed of a number of the best students in English and journalism of the Tech and many things are being planned for the work of the club. Otis Koen, president was highly elated over the showing of the club so far this year and stated that he expected some of the best publications of the state to be sent out from the Tech.

At the first formal meeting of the Psi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society at the home of Dr. J. C. Granberry yesterday afternoon, 15 students were admitted as charter members of the local chapter. The chapter here now has 21 faculty and student members. A committee was appointed composed of Dr. W. A. Jackson, W. P. Clements and H. B. Carroll to draw up a constitution and by-laws and nominate officers which will be presented at the next meeting. The next meeting will be held next Friday night and the organization completed. New members will be admitted until that time provided they pass the qualifications. Members admitted yesterday were: J. E. Carroll, Mrs. M. D. Buckner, Orval N. Burroughs, Albert Fikes, Lois Mae Rossell, Bessie Beth Bennett, Annie Wood Howell, Sylvia Wilson, Claude Danham, Myrtle Alexander, Dahlia Hemphill, Eula Howard and Ned Camp.

Dr. J. C. Granberry is one of the national vice-presidents of the order and a member of the publication staff of the national magazine. He stated yesterday that he was well pleased with the showing made by the students already and the prospects for a lively organization seemed exceptionally bright.

AGGIES READY FOR ENGINEERS

At a meeting of the agriculture club of the school of agriculture last night, 24 men eagerly volunteered to defend the colors of the school against the invasion of the engineers on the gridiron. W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry, was elected as coach of the team and practices will start this afternoon in preparation for the first inter-collegiate football game in the Tech. The game will probably be played just before the Howard Payne game here, November 18. The aggies were enthusiastic over the prospects for a team last night and displayed an eagerness to meet the boys from the northern part of the campus. Every one of the 24 members of the club have pledged their undivided support of the team. The members last night also voted to reserve a page in the annual for the pictures of the club members.

EDWARDS TALKS TO ROTARY CLUB

DENTON PUBLISHER, ROTARY GOVERNOR, GUEST AT MEETING

W. C. Edwards, Denton newspaper publisher and governor of the 41st district of Rotary International, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lubbock Rotary club here Wednesday, talking about the aims and purposes of Rotary and the motto of the word "Service" the motto of the club. The speaker pointed to Rotary and its ideals as one of the big factors in permanent peace in the world, and impressed the membership the importance of their cooperation in carrying out these ideals.

After a careful survey of the work done by the Lubbock club, following a banquet at which he was honor guest Tuesday night and a conference with directors of the organization, Mr. Edwards was high in his praise of the accomplishments of the club, saying that this is undoubtedly one of the best units in the state, and that the city is in keeping with the club activities in its progress.

Among other visitors who attended the meeting were Arthur P. Duggan, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, of Littlefield, Mrs. Nel H. Wright and Mrs. W. L. McKnight, of Lubbock and several business men from Littlefield, Lamesa and Brownfield, who were here seeking information regarding organization of clubs at these places.

COTTON GIN RUNS DAY AND NIGHT AT ACUFF

Sam Adams, manager of the Acuff gin, twelve miles east from Lubbock, was in the city yesterday afternoon transacting business. Mr. Adams stated the gin at that place was running twenty-four hours, six days in the week, and had already passed the 1999 mark. He stated that there were seventeen people picking a bale of cotton per acre.

WET AND DRY

One of the latest novelties in South Australia is a "tetotal" bowling club. The new organization is following the example of a larger club in Victoria, British Columbia.

The United Kingdom Alliance, the leading political temperance organization in England, has arranged to field another campaign during the coming winter in support of local option for England and Wales, according to the Ayrshire (Scotland) Post.

The wets of Glasgow, Scotland have challenged the dries of that city by obtaining requisitions which demand a poll in two of the three dry wards of the city. A spirited contest is expected.

According to General Andrews, head of the government's prohibition forces, the smuggling of liquor into the United States has been practically stopped. Only a small quantity of the whiskey now being sold, he states, is imported contraband. Industrial alcohol remains the big source of the bootleggers' supply, but this, he believes, General Andrews predicts, will be stopped soon.

possession of liquor under certain circumstances. The ruling carries a fine of not to exceed $200 or imprisonment not to exceed 180 days, or both.

Drinking in "smart" New York City society is becoming the exception rather than the rule, is the opinion of a New York society "engineer" who specializes in providing professional entertainment for society hostesses. A demand for a higher standard of entertainment for social occasions has followed the disappearance of wine and cocktails.

Commenting on the propaganda of the opponents of prohibition, the New Orleans Item says: "Today most of the news and propaganda before the people is wet news and wet propaganda. There are really a great many dries in the country, some voluntary and some the unwilling victims of the efficacy of prohibition."

The Liquor Commission of British Columbia, according to news reports, has prohibited beer parlors at points on the international boundary lines between the United States and Canada.

SONGS THAT LIVE

One hundred years ago there was born near Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Stephen Collins Foster, whose best known songs have stirred the emotions of four generations, and live today in the hearts of his countrymen as do those of no other American composer.

MISPLACED SYMPATHY

How a smooth crook may play upon the sympathies of his fellows was again illustrated the other day, when a forger on the eve of detection made a dramatic confession, threw himself upon the mercy of his community and asked for prayers.

A POTATO-CURING PLANT IS NEEDED

As we pass down the line, and note the advantages and drawbacks to this country and both are here, we have noticed that the production of potatoes are one of the very promising things in this section.

The Board of City Development has seen the necessity of this and have appointed a committee to look into this matter and see what can be done.

they can depend on in the matter of the supply available. At the present time there are not enough potatoes in the country to supply the demands of the wholesale houses of this city, and without the potatoes being in an uncured condition could not handle them even if there were plenty in the country.

We are now buying potatoes in New Mexico and we are sure that is no better, and we doubt as good as this country, but the thing that has put the potato industry in New Mexico to the fore, is the fact that curing plants have been established and the farmer has been assured a market for the product.

Since it has been definitely proven that there is too much cotton being planted in the South, and since it has also developed that the South Plains is so well adapted to the raising of so many different products of food, that are more profitable to the grower, we can see no reason that we should not go right ahead and establish a plant here that will take care of both the buyer and the seller.

HEALTH

Health is one of the greatest things in the world. It furnishes more happiness than possibly anything else. One can be rich in gold and silver, diamonds, land, oil, cattle and sheep, but without they have health, they are not happy.

Men who have been working on this line of activities in the schools have ample proof that this is possible in every school in the United States. They have ample proof too, that where such programs of health have been put into the schools that the health department has paid its way, or in other words the effect that the improved health had upon the pupil saved enough money within a year's time to offset any additional expense that the department would create.

The exponents of the health program in the schools show that a child with money of the common ailments that children are afflicted cause children to fail in their studies, and the number that have to be carried over on account of these ailments costs the country enough to pay for this health department, which with it in effect, would brighten the minds and pep up the physical body to the extent that they would not have to remain in school so long, would reduce the operating expenses the following year enough to take care of the health work, and at the same time would improve the health of the child, and eliminate the suffering of the children at the same time.

This part of the program deals altogether with the physical ailments of the student's body, but there is another phase of the schools that is often overlooked and that is the condition of the school buildings and the grounds. We do not believe that this latter part will apply to Lubbock schools, for we believe the sanitary conditions are all that anyone might ask or expect or require, but in some of the school buildings that we have been in, there is much room for improvement. In many places it is a well-known fact that the water systems in use in many of the rural schools are very unsanitary, and very conducive to typhoid fever and numerous other diseases.

Is the water hazard all? Well, no, but it's enough to cause us to act. What about those open-back, uncrened, fly-breeding toilets which are a menace to public health, not only at school, but for the entire community? No public school should be allowed to open its doors this fall until the sewage disposal and water system have met with the approval of the county health physician, or a local physician. Your child's health is worth more than the few dollars necessary to insure sanitation in these two major items.

The name of Calvin McVey meant nothing to the present generation of American boys under 70. But his recent death in San Francisco at the age of 76, recalled the fact that he was the Babe Ruth of his day, a great slugger of the National League in the late '70's. He was captain and manager of the Cincinnati Reds in 1879, later playing with Boston and Chicago. He was given a life pension by the National League in 1922.

OUT OUR WAY

LAUGHS

Poor Cows "Mary, I'm thinkin' er marryin' again. Them pore cows ur mine havin' n' know the 'ouch uv a woman's hand since Martha died."

Not Quite Time "Guest--"I suppose I can sit here until I starve." "Waiter--"Hardly that, sir! We close at 11 o'clock."

Did You-- "Ever see a stone step? Or a sardine box? Or an apple turn over? Or a peanut stand?"

Deranged Courtesy "Would you like to take a nice long walk?" she asked. "Why, I'd love to," replied the young man, joyously. "Well, don't let me detain you."

The Tables Turned "What's the matter, little boy?" said the kind-hearted man. "Are you lost?" "No," was the manful answer. "I ain't lost. I'm here. But I'd like to know where mother and father have wandered to."

A Natural Question A man entered a jewelry store to buy a clock. The jeweler showed him the different styles--one in particular he said was an eight-day clock. "What do you mean?" "After the jeweler had explained that it would run eight days without winding, the man exclaimed: "For the love of Mike, how long would she run if you did wind it?"

Take a Tip from Sally Mrs. Jones is the best dressed woman I know. That's the reason her husband knows she's in earnest when she does get mad.

SO THINK WE

We think Lubbock is possibly the most talked of city in the Southwest, that does not have a big oil boom to boast it about. Lubbock is here because men of vision have built it.

We think that Lubbock is a good place to live in, but we also think again, and conclude that we can make it a much better place in which to reside.

We think that Lubbock should at once begin working on the public playgrounds problem, for they are going to come soon.

We think if there is one thing that we can be thankful for and that is when you hear one of those windy arguments you may know that it is very easy to puncture.

We think Lubbock needs very badly a municipal auditorium, or at least we certainly need a place big enough for the people to meet and have sufficient seating capacity.

We think courtesy should be cultivated for its own sake and not altogether as a business proposition.

We think that if every husband would be as nice to his wife now as he was before he was her husband that there would be much more happiness in the home, and now we will turn this story right square around. It will work both ways and will then be a double success.

We think that we have never seen much in history about the fellow who always moved that we put it off till tomorrow.

We think the fellow who does not have courage to fight for his own convictions never had anything close to fight for.

We think the reason that Lubbock is as fine a place as she is, is because there has always been enough folks here to express their opinions about things to get over some mighty fine things.

We think that if a fellow depends altogether upon his surroundings he would be in a bad fix on a real dark night.

We think if the manufacturers take a year off and let the people of the nation wear out all the second hand cars it might be a very prosperous nation very soon.

We think that a divorce is merely a dissolution of a state of mind that never existed, except in a very vague imaginary way.

We think that living within one's means is one of the greatest secrets in the happiness had contentment that one can possess.

We think the health of the children of the State possibly costs the State enough each year to carry on the school system for five or six months each year.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that Amarillo is still raving about the fact that he was the Babe Ruth of his day, a great slugger of the National League in the late '70's.

It is reported that many of the boys of this town are great lovers of milk from the number of kicks we hear about them taking milk off the porches of many of the people of the city.

It is reported that Amarillo is coming strong for the South States. Possibly they will go away strong to the Westward.

It is reported that 27,000,000 bales of cotton does not excite the fellow that has hogs and chickens and plenty of milk and butter on the farm.

SO THINK WE

It is reported that an Oklahoma Indian died while trying to get a number over the telephone. From the way some folks run and snort while the central girl is doing her best to get the party on the other end of the line to answer the phone, we are just a bit uneasy that something like that may be reported in Lubbock soon.

It is reported that the Lubbock gas tax case is attracting more than the usual interest in the state, and considerable comment has been noted by the state papers on the case that is now up on hearing in the appeal court, and many people are looking forward to the decision with a good deal of interest.

It is reported that the bank robbers don't quit making such big hauls they will have all the cash, and then how can we all go on a cash basis.

It is reported that some people who want to go to Fort Worth have not yet secured their tickets. They will find second and get left yet, if they do not snap into the deal.

It is reported that the T. C. U's are already putting out propaganda that some of their best men are not at their best since their tax game. They are possibly starting an ailment in order to not fall so hard when the Matadors strike.

It is reported that the fellows who are trying to help the farmers seem to be beginning at the wrong end of the game. They are trying to tell them what to do next year. What the farmer wants to know is what he is going to do now.

It is reported that Lubbock needs several miles of sidewalks leading to the several schools and to the Tech College. There is not one single sidewalk that is continuous to the college.

It is reported that one Lubbock citizen got angry because once one of the Westmore team put a sticker on his automobile wheel which had the words "best Amarillo." Probably he would prefer a sandstorm.

It is reported that scientists have officially selected twelve additional names for fish. This was probably done in order to name some of the different kinds of snappers in the world.

It is reported that Florida is coming back--possibly not so strong however.

It is reported that King snakes and Gopher snakes make good pets. Possibly so, but from what we have been able to see of Jake snakes, they are very poor company.

SOUTH PLAINS PRESS

FAIRS Supt. H. S. Smith After the protracted season of rain and unsettled weather, Saturday dawned bright with sunshine and weather conditions continued ideal for Gaines County's Fair, which was held at Seminole Saturday.

A new feature of the fair which proved to be a revelation to the public was the individual booths, a space six by eight feet being allowed each farm family. These booths would make a creditable showing in any country. Not only did they contain an excellent variety of farm products, but were artistically arranged, the judges found considerable difficulty in discriminating between the contestants.

Seminole was possibly the last county to hold a fair, but when she did not up one it showed that there had been some real farming going on in that part of the Southwest. Fine specimens of farm and orchard produce was in evidence, and the individual booths gave a touch of genuine individuality which brought forth the very best that was in them. Fairs always hold, and the very best that a country produces is seldom ever seen by the public without a fair.

Every-Day Needs of Every U. S. Family Reflect Importance of Our Ships

By Wm. C. REDFIELD Former United States Secretary of Commerce

Among the many reasons for securing and maintaining an adequate American merchant marine is one that rarely occurs to the average man, this is because of the curious persistence among us of the idea that we are free from actual dependence on any other country. When the man in the street says, "We can get along ourselves; we need no help from others," thousands among us rise up in voluble ignorance to say "amen" and count themselves patriotic.

Our people are hardly to be commended for such an attitude because writers at home and abroad have joined in preaching the gospel of American economic self independence. It is a false gospel. Its teachings are illusory and misleading. They can only lead to a sad weakening on the part of a deceived public.

Dependent on Others In my recent book, "Dependent America," I have tried to make the facts about our daily relations with the world so plain that the truth must be accepted and its reasons heeded. It may be well, however, to restate briefly factors which show the dependence of every American home on other lands for ordinary supplies.

Let us then assume to enter a modest farm house in our central west--selecting that part of our country because it is farthest away from the sea and presumably, therefore, has open to foreign relations.

"This far," let us ask as we look about us, "is this American household dependent--strictly dependent for its necessities on foreign supplies?" Let us seek the answer in simple things: carpets or oilcloth, the daily newspaper, the personal clothing of the owner, the table knives, the tinware in the kitchen, the phonograph, the telephone, the family shoes and hats. None of these things are, or can be, supplied from the unaided resources of the United States of America.

Some of them could not be supplied at all, others only in part. We do not produce carpet wool in the United States or materials for either men's or women's felt or straw hats. They come from Australia, Asia or Europe.

India sends the jute that is the basis of oilcloth and linoleum, and some of the steel from which the oil used in lamps, comes from Argentina.

The tin in our Malaya or the Dutch Indies and in making our tinware, palm oil from Africa is utilized. For newspaper paper, or pulp or pulpwood, for making it, we have become dependent on Canada, though we bring much from Northern Europe.

The steel in our cutlery requires manganese, which we get from the Caucasus. Our clothing, such as comes from Australia, New Zealand, or Argentina, for our native supply is not sufficient either in quantity or quality.

The phonograph records as the telephone mouthpieces depend, as do many other necessities, on shells

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

When all is said and done, And every sage is heard, Though deep truth's channels run Not by the spoken word, Nor by the drums and cymbals, For each his truth must bear, And each must trail meet.

Still waits this choice for all, Which way is best to go? On just what lives may fall The peace men strive to know? Which man wins more delight The noble or the base? And knowing wrong from right, Which gains the happier place?

For life is lived with men, And men must work and learn, Which way is better then? The trust of men to earn? Would any sage declare The drunkard to be right? For other men and fair, Who does his duty well?

Through all life's loss and gain, In every place and hour, This truth must still remain, In decency is power. The happiest life he lives, Who walks in honor's way, Is clean of hand and gives His best to every day.

WESTERNERS WILL BE READY FOR GOLDEN SANDSTORMERS AFTER ONE MORE DAY OF LIGHT SIGNAL WORK

With one more day of work, which will be a very tight signal practice, the Westerners are fully ready for the contest. Expecting a hard fight, the Sandies, the mentors have eluded all reports of a crippled team from Amarillo and have made the local fans see that there is a fight on hand. Every step has been taken to lift out the confidence that the Westerners might have gained with the victory of the Clovis team over the Sandies last week-end.

Babe Ruth reveals that he only aspires to be a jockey. Perhaps this explains why he gives the ball such a long ride.

AS a widely hounded menace to the white race, Harry Wills was a formidable personage, but as a fighter, he proved to be a terrible bust.

IT appears that Wills devoted too much time to becoming a menace and too little time to becoming a fighter.

THEIR is nothing else for the boys to do, but to get out and beat the other fellows. The boxing game never seems complete without one.

ON the other hand, how that the brown jockey has turned out to be nothing more than a stuffed dummy, maybe Dempsey, Tanney and the rest of the fearless whites will be ready to take him on.

THE major test in that Brooklyn fight was to determine whether Joeey Paul Cusker was entitled to the use of the name Jack Sharkey. When it was all over even the Irish devils brought in a favorable verdict.

WORTH IN SPORT KNOWING

Attention John L. McCarty, sports expert, Amarillo, Texas, will you please explain if you can, the difference between a professional athlete and one accepted as an amateur by the A. A. U.?

Since reading a recent article of yours, we have been greatly in doubt concerning who chased who how many times around the walls of what.

Another clarifying article from your trusty typewriter would probably explain the matter nicely. What do you mean by "semi professional football"?

Over 125 pullman reservations had been signed up for last yesterday evening for the Fort Worth trip. Apparently there will be some 400 to 500 to accompany the Matadors on the first encounter with a Southwestern Conference eleven, the T. C. U. Horned Frogs.

The backfield of the Matadors, which is expected to prove a flash for the fans of the game will consist of "Red" Hamilton, "Woodruff," "Stanley" Hill, Percy Walker, Archibald, "Windy" Nicholas, Cappelman, and ran under the direction of "Duke" Lassiter at quarter.

Marty Bell, coach of the Frog crew reports a long list of injuries for the Saturday clash; but it is generally thought that a greater part of that list will be in the traces against the Matadors Saturday.

Much interest is being manifested in the week-end tilt of the Christians and Matadors through-out the state. The college officials of the Tech have considered this game the "banter" contest for the 1925 performances.

Daring Athletes Most Popular Men, Like Cobb, Ruth, Johnson and Hagen Held in High Power in Sports

WALTER HAGEN, BILL TILDEN, BABE RUTH, JACK DEMPSEY

By BILLY EVANS The athletes who dare are the most popular in the sport world. Those who favor "take-a-chance" rather than "safety-first" are always held in higher favor by the sport-lovers.

Overnight the name of "Moore" Clabaugh was featured in every newspaper that boasts a sport page. Major league clubs immediately began to bid for his services. Brooklyn landed him.

Walter Hagen is the biggest thrill master in golf because he is always doing the unexpected, has a penchant for coming from behind and in the crisis usually pulls some phenomenal shot that proves to be the turning point in the match.

Walter Johnson's power to throw the ball a trifle faster than any other pitcher has made him outstanding runs off rival pitchers.

Bill Tilden of tennis fame is not unlike Hagen in his methods. He is most spectacular in his play and seems to do his best when hardest pressed.

FIND MURDERED WOMAN'S PURSE

TOLEDO CLUBBER STILL IN THE CITY, CLEW TELLS POLICE

Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 27. (AP)—Recovery of a purse that was taken from Miss Lily Dale Croy, 28, murdered school teacher and the finding of a heavy iron bar, believed to be the instrument with which she was beaten to death, brought the police nearer today to Toledo's notorious clubber.

The young woman's purse was found on a sidewalk downtown. It had been dropped, police believe not more than half an hour before a pedestrian picked it up. This convinced detectives that the clubber still is roaming the streets here.

The purse was engraved with Miss Croy's name and address. When she left her home Monday night to attend classes at Toledo University, she had $2.00 in the purse. The money was missing as well as the automobile keys and calling cards which she carried.

An iron bar, about a foot long and weighing between 6 and 8 pounds is believed to have been the clubber's weapon. It was recovered today by James Harrison, negro on a refuse pile. The refuse pile was in the vicinity of Washington school where Miss Croy's body was found under a fire escape early Tuesday morning.

A suspect reported wearing a coat with blood spots on it was taken into custody today but subsequently was released when it established that he had no connection with the slaying.

Post mortem examination has revealed that Miss Croy was struck on the head eight times and criminally assaulted. Her death has attributed to the clubber who murdered three Toledo women last year.

Rewards for the capture of the slayer reached $3,500 today. Patrolmen who failed to break in to the home of Mrs. Mary Alden, 47, after the report of a shooting there yesterday morning, were called before police officials today for questioning. They left the house when they found it locked. The woman's husband found her shot to death last night. Authorities announced today that the clubber had no connection with the slaying of Mrs. Alden.

PANHANDLE TOWNS ARE ADVERTISED

W. T. C. OF C. PUBLICATION FEATURES CITIES OF THIS SECTION

(Special To The Avalanche) STAMFORD, Tex., Oct. 27.—More than a score of Panhandle towns are featured in the special North Plains edition of the October number of "West Texas Today," official publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce released from the press last week.

Opening with an article on the flourishing condition of the north plains country, special stories on McLean, Sandston, Dalhart, Wheeler, Tampa, Abilene, Pecos, Spearman, before Panhandle, White Deer, Mallett, Miami, Texline, Groon, Vega and other towns follow. In addition to these special articles and to general items on West Texas, two regular sections are run, "Who's Who in West Texas," conducted by Frank Hennel, assistant manager, and "Secretarial Service Department." A new section was begun with the October issue, "Newspaper Notes," designed to cover activities of interest to those in the journalistic field.

The October issue of "West Texas Today" inaugurated the policy of the paper in placing up special districts in the regional organization. The North Plains edition will be followed by an issue devoted to the Red River district and an itinerary for staff writers of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is already being planned for the collection of material for the November magazine.

Miss Hazel Hammer, county home demonstration agent is proceeding her work of reorganizing the fifteen girls' clubs in the county, despite the fact that on December 1, under a recent ruling of the county commissioners' court, her office is to be discontinued. Yesterday she talked to the girls of the Posey community. Since all the schools of the county are out and the girls are picking cotton, actual organization of the clubs must wait until the school recesses and the girls can be gathered together.

The protest of women of the county to the commissioners' discontinuance of the home demonstration work will be heard at the next regular meeting of the commission in November.

DRIVER OF CITY TRUCK ARRESTED

CHIEF MAY HIMSELF CHASE MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEE AT 55 MILES

"I was making fifty-five miles per hour, all my car would make, and then he beat me to the stop over a block," said Police Chief T. E. May, Wednesday afternoon as he brought a young man into police station for speeding and running over stop signals. Chief May says that complaints have been coming into the station about the city truck running over stop signals and speeding.

The young man arrested was driving the city truck and had started from where the city construction crew is working on Nineteenth street to the city store room for some supplies. As he started, he was given instructions to make it snappy.

He set his toe on the accelerator and mashed it to the toe board and here he went. When he hit Avenue Q, Chief May spied the speeding machine and started after him, and the race was on. According to Chief May, his speedometer registered 55 miles per hour and then the truck was out-dancing him from one to two blocks, and it was not until they drew up at the city storage room, did the Chief overtake him. Three charges were filed against the driver: speeding, reckless driving and running over three stop signals.

HIGHLAND CATTLE ARE MOVING FAST

TRAIN LOAD PER WEEK IS SHIPPED FROM ALPINE BY ONE MAN

(Special To The Avalanche)

ALPINE, Tex., Oct. 27.—O. A. Sachse, inspector of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, stated recently that he was greatly impressed with the excellent range conditions of the Highland Hereford section, and that in his opinion there is no cattle country like the Highland Hereford district, which is producing some of the biggest steers in its history this year. He says that the cattle here are as fine as any in Oklahoma or Kansas. The opinion expressed by Mr. Sachse who makes this district regularly, is voiced by many of the stockmen and buyers who come to the Big Bend to purchase fine stock.

Moving of fat cattle to several markets began in Alpine last week and among the large shipments are a train load of approximately 200 cattle each week by H. L. Kokernot & Son, the first trainload left about the fifteenth of October. A recent shipment of the Kokernot cattle averaged 1184 pounds for each steer. One steer was cut back and weighed 1400 pounds, and tipped the scales at 1400 pounds. The big steers are being shipped to California markets.

Ben Pruitt, representing Peyton Packing Company of El Paso, bought two cars of cows and one car of the yearlings from Kokernot & Son this week. Harmon & Jackson have been making a large number of shipments lately, including three carloads shipped from Marathon to Ft. Worth, also two loads of cows and one of yearlings and calves from Alpine to Ft. Worth markets, which left Alpine Saturday.

Other shippers were Joan P. Wilson and George Benson. Some local cattle deals have been made here this week.

A number of California buyers are here and it is expected that some very large cattle deals will be consummated in the next week or ten days.

(Special To The Avalanche)

ALPINE, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Alpine Public Library which was started two years ago by the Brewster County Chamber of Commerce, with one book donated by Congresswoman Claude B. Hudspeth, has grown to be so large that it has outgrown its present quarters in the Chamber of Commerce office. A move will be started very soon to secure a Community House or Library building, as the growth of the library is demanding more spacious quarters. The Alpine Public Library is outstanding among small town libraries of Texas, for the reason that not a volume of the thousand has been purchased, but all books have been donated from the libraries of the progressive citizens. The library now has 1200 books, and other equipment is valued at $2,500 and donations of books are coming in lots of from ten to a hundred. Alpine people have given the very best, some of the leather bindings are very expensive.

The most recent additions to the library are two beautifully made book cases with a capacity for 100 books each. Mrs. C. Bowles presented several sets of theological works in nice binding and a large number of miscellaneous books—all nicely bound and like new—137 in all. Mrs. A. A. Newell sent about fifty books, and within the past month, a number of patrons have given from one to five books. The free distribution of magazines will go over a thousand this year. The library is accomplishing much for Alpine in keeping young boys and girls employed in profitable reading in many of their leisure hours.

ORDERS POUR IN TO TO ALPINE FOR EGGS

(Special To The Avalanche)

ALPINE, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Highland Poultry Association with headquarters in Alpine, is already receiving orders for large quantities of the "Highland Eggs," one out of state order amounting to thirty dozens a week, but owing to the fact that between $15,000 and $20,000 worth of eggs are shipped into the three Highland counties each year, the home consumption will take care of the production for some time yet. With and other purchases negotiating, it is expected that the new industry will get off to a good start by the New Year. The first poultry show is being worked up to take place in Alpine probably early in December.

COTTON SELLING FAST IN ABILENE DESPITE PRICE

ABILENE, Oct. 27.—Cotton is rolling in as if nothing had happened with the price. Receipts yesterday were 100 bales, bringing the total for the season to 7,400 bales. The weather has been propitious for gathering since Saturday, when the last shower fell. The price was off considerably today. The State free employment service is still unable to supply the demand for cotton pickers, though the demand is not now quite so insistent as a month ago.

WEST TEXAS POULTRY ASS'N. SETS WINTER SHOW DATES

ABILENE, Oct. 27.—The West Texas Mid-Winter Poultry Association at a session last night elected officers and set December 16-17-18 as the dates for the winter poultry show here. D. H. Jeffries was elected president, F. P. Kirk, secretary; J. R. Masterson, equipment; and B. N. Claxton, treasurer. Around 1100 in preliminary is expected to bring about 2,000 birds this season.

Labor problems, high cost of living and often times farming ideas were united in a recent strike in Austria when workers in several scythe factories demanded higher pay to meet mounting living costs, and were locked out.

He Tells Why

F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, tells Senator James A. Reed and his co-investigators why the Illinois primary campaign why the League supports C. Frank Smith, Republican senatorial nominee. This shows him in the witness chair at Chicago.

WAR EXPLOSIVE READY FOR FARMS

A AND M SHIPS PYROTOL IN CAR LOAD LOTS FOR FIELD CLEARING

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 27.

Texas farmers who are interested in securing explosives for land clearing purposes are advised by Chas. H. Alford, director of the Extension Service, A. & M. College of Texas, to order pyrotol, the surplus war explosive which is distributed from Barksdale, Miss. in car load lots only. It is not distributed by local shipments from College Station.

The explosive is sold only to farmers in minimum car loads of 1000 pounds net. It is stronger than dynamite, pound for pound and has no toxic after effect. In a fifty pound box of pyrotol, there are from 150 to 160 cartridges, each equal approximately to a cartridge of 25 per cent dynamite. The cartridges are the same size as dynamite cartridges and are handled in the same manner. They are fired by a No. 6 cap, either electric or fuse type.

Pyrotol should be ordered through the Extension Service. The cost is 7c per pound, at Barksdale, Wisconsin. In ordering, a list showing the names addresses and amounts in the wanted by each individual should be accompanied by Bankers' Exchange. The freight charges added to the 7c rate make the explosive cost approximately 11 1/2c a pound, delivered at Texas common points. In estimating freight charges, freight should be figured on 135 pounds for each 100 pounds of explosive, the extra 35 pounds being weight of containers and packing.

Caps will be furnished free at the rate of one cap for each two pounds of pyrotol, as long as the supply of caps lasts. No fuse is furnished. The caps and fuses other than those furnished, can be bought from any explosive company, but cannot be obtained from government agencies.

STUDIES BITUMIN

Aggie Professor Issues Bulletin About Asphalt in Texas Limestone; of Interest to Highway Workers

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Oct. 27.—Dean F. C. Bolton, director of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, A. and M. College of Texas, has announced the publication of Bulletin 33, styled "A Study of the Fluxing of the Bitumen Contained in Limestone Rock Asphalt" by J. T. L. McNew, professor of Highway Engineering at the College.

The publication discusses in detail the characteristics of various fluxes used with Texas rock asphalt on pavement construction in the State, and shows by means of numerous curves and diagrams the amounts of flux necessary to produce the most desirable paving mixtures. The information is in such form that the publication should prove of great value to highway engineers, contractors and others engaged in highway work in the Southwest.

Copies of the publication may be obtained upon request to Director F. C. Bolton, Texas Engineering Experiment Station, at College Station, Texas.

MAKES APPLES PAY

Clyde Farmer Started Raising Fruit Eleven Years Ago and Makes $2,000 An Acre

(Special To The Avalanche)

CLYDE, Tex., Oct. 27.—Eleven years ago, Lon Childress of this place took chance "wildcatting" as he termed it, and started an unknown precedent for this part of the country in the foundation of a small apple orchard.

This year eight-year-old trees in his orchard will make him $2,000 an acre, and some of the old plant will yield as high as 20 bushels. Childress is past the experimental stage, he is on proven ground.

Experiments no longer, the fruit grower has found these five apples successful on his 15 acre plot: Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, King David, Wealthy and Mammoth Black Twig.

During the Texas Fair season in September, Childress displayed some of his Red Delicious apples averaging 11 inches in circumference. About 45 of these filled a bushel basket and graded 17 cents on the market at retail price.

NEW GRASS IS STUDY SUBJECT

A. AND M. ISSUES BULLETIN ABOUT ANGLETON GRASS FOR DISTRIBUTION

(Special To The Avalanche)

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has announced Bulletin No. 542, devoted to the new plant introduction, Angleton Grass, as being ready for distribution to the public.

This grass has made a good record at the Angleton Station since 1916 for both hay and grazing. More than 6 1/2 tons per acre has been the average during the past six years, and in 1921 the average of cured hay ran past 13 tons.

Two or three years are necessary to bring the meadows up to full production, and very heavy yields may be expected thereafter. The grass is propagated by transplanting root tufts, as the seed do not germinate well here. It is cut for hay during or before the flowering stage. The hay is readily eaten by stock which selects it in preference to other grasses in a mixture. This grass is recommended by the Station where the rainfall is 20 inches or more, or where irrigation is available.

This grass has long fibrous roots and stays green much longer than the natural grasses at the Angleton station in a dry season. It has choked out Bermuda grass, but it is easy to eradicate as it has no rootstock. It is perennial and did not winter kill at a temperature of 10 degrees. At Lubbock the roots remain alive through the winter, though the stems are killed by frost. The grass yields two to four cuttings of hay each year, and cures quickly, making it desirable where rainfall is likely to interfere with the curing process.

His Sorrow

A male quartet was singing plantation melodies at a concert in New York. As the affair proceeded, a man in a front seat was seen to wipe his eyes and a few moments later burst into tears. The manager of the quartet, who had observed the incident, slipped round and touched the man on the shoulder. "Sir," said he, "our quartet deeply appreciates the compliment you have paid it by this display of emotion. You are a southerner, no doubt." "No," gulped the man, "I am a musician."—The Country Gentleman.

by mosquitoes that he could not sleep

The next morning he said to the negro servant, "Doesn't the colonel have any mosquito screens in his room?" "No, sah." "Well, how on earth can he stand it?" "Well, sah," came the reply. "I reckon it's jes dis way. In de foh part ob de night de colonel's most generally no 'toxicated he don't pay no 'tention to de skeeters an' in de las part ob de night de skeeters is so 'toxicated dey don't pay no 'tention to de colonel."—Pennsylvania Farmer.

THE PAPERS SAY By Knick

DAILY MARKET

NEW YORK COTTON. NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The cotton market was quiet today with fluctuations rather irregular. After selling off to 12.15 for January contracts in earlier trading, prices ruled generally steady with that delivery selling up to 12.25 and closing at 12.22. The general market closed steady at a decline of 1/4 to 1/2 points under overnight selling orders which seemed to come largely from the south, combined with local and commission house selling on the fairly favorable weekly report of the weather bureau and rumors of an earlier spot basis in the eastern belt.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON. NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27.—The cotton market was fairly brisk today and prices fluctuated rather freely within a moderate range but without any apparent definite trend. Following an open dip of five to six points the market weakened further on continued good weather in the belt, soon dropping to levels 13 to 17 points below the previous close. Later in the morning the market rallied on trade and foreign buying, recovering all of the early loss and prices at noon were ruling at exactly the same levels as at yesterday's close. Prices soon eased off to within 2 to 4 points of the early losses on selling by some traders but rallied again in the early afternoon to the highs of the morning on most months and to new highs on December and May owing to large exports and expectation of a large weekly mill takings. After easing off again in the late afternoon to the earlier lows the market rallied at the end again reaching the highs and closing near the top at net losses for the day of only 2 to 3 points.

At the start Liverpool being about as due the market here should have opened steady but first trades showed losses of five to six points. Prices soon eased off further to 12.15 for December 12.15 for January and 12.37 for May of 12 to 13 points below the previous close.

Later in the morning the market rallied on trade buying and covering. December trading up to 12.25, January to 12.25 and March to 12.50, or 13 to 17 points up from the lows and back to yesterday's closing figures. After easing again nearly to the lows, the market rallied in the early afternoon to 12.30 for December and 12.71 for May, but soon slipped again making new lows at 12.21 for December and 12.35 for March but recovered all the losses in the final trading, closing at or near the top.

Exports for the day totalled 62,362 bales. Exports today 67,483, making 2,242,612 so far this season. Port receipts today 45,922 United States port stocks 2,239,313.

WANTED. WANTED—Room and board in private home by working woman. Prefer north of Main and East of N. Must be reasonable. Phone 92, Box 215.

FIRST WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27.—No quotable strength developed in the live stock market here today despite the fact that the range was active. All classes seemed to be wanted and with very moderate receipts offered, shippers disposed of their wares readily. The market was called steady to all divisions.

Receipts called for 2500 grown cattle, 1000 calves, 700 hogs and 100 sheep.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Continued views about the due effect of reports indicating likelihood of prompt settlement of the British coal strike led to rapid advance price changes today. In the end, the Chicago wheat market, although nervous, closed at the same as yesterday's finish to 2-8 cents higher, corn unchanged to 2-8 cents up, oats a shade higher to 1-4 cents advance, and provisions varying from 7 cents drop to 1/2 cent rise of 1 cent.

Corn was relatively strong today from the outset. May in particular owing to broader demand with news that husking returns are poor. Vessel room was chartered for 500,000 bushels of corn to Buffalo and 200,000 bushels in narrow limits.

Provisions were easier on account of scattered selling. Cash demand was light.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Coffee futures opened today at an advance of 7 to 22 points in response to relatively steady Brazilian cables. March selling up to 12.25 in early trading on cover and trade buying. Reactions of 15 or 20 points followed under realising but were partially recovered. March closing at 12.13. The general market closed steady at net advances of 3 to 7 points. Estimated sales 51,000 bags. Closing quotations: December 15.11; Jan. 13.55; March 12.13; May 14.65; Jul. 14.31; Sept. 14.74.

Spot coffee futures in 100 lb. sacks at 20% to 25% cost and freight offers included port Bourbon as usual at 12.40 to 12.50.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Raw sugar was steady and fairly active today with sales of 45,000 bags of Cuban to local and out port refiners, and 110,000 bags of Cuban to local refiners on cover and trade buying. Reactions of 15 or 20 points followed under realising but were partially recovered. March closing at 12.13. The general market closed steady at net advances of 3 to 7 points. Estimated sales 51,000 bags. Closing quotations: December 15.11; Jan. 13.55; March 12.13; May 14.65; Jul. 14.31; Sept. 14.74.

The refined sugar market was quiet as to new business, although good contribution through withdrawal continued, fine granulated was unchanged at 5.80 to 6.00.

FREIGHT RECORD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—A new high record for freight on the Washington-Baltimore route was established during the week ending Oct. 16. The American Railway Association announced today this represented an increase of 23,152 cars over the previous record and 25,301 cars above the preceding week.

W. F. Dick, a British timber merchant, recently made a business trip to Lubbock, Texas, via airplane, visiting eight cities in England, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Finland and Estonia, in twenty-eight hours, having transacted his business by appointment at the accommodations.

The use of dialogue, sound effects and an orchestra, the moving picture story of "The Greater Glory" was told over the radio from Manchester, England, recently, and so successful was this first effort to have radio fans visualize a film that others will be tried in the future.

As a result of a recent conference of railway officials of Germany and the Baltic Provinces, Germany will have better facilities for shipping.

Being Ready For the Peak Load
Is Necessary In Community Building
At any hour of the day or night customers of this company may have electric service, instantly in response to a gesture. That is a necessary part of a public utility service—to be able to meet the demand when it comes.
At some hours there is little demand for service. At other hours the demand is very heavy. Plant equipment must be maintained to meet the heaviest demand.
The community is growing and its needs for electric service are increasing. It is necessary that the facilities of this company be built ahead so that when the increasing demand calls for more service it will be ready for the people.
This feature of our service is important and worthy of being understood by our customers. Through understanding comes cooperation in building the community with good electric service—and the community can not grow without good electric service.
