JUST HERE and THERE

We sure get a big kick out of the "service" publications that are sent us with the compliments of our good friends who are in the fighting forces in all parts of the globe. Got a copy of "The Yank," the "down under" edition, from Cpl. Wilbur Holland. Thanks, Wilbur, and speed the day when you come back from the Southwest Pacific and we can thank you in person.

Had a copy of the "Stars and Stripes," published for the Mediterranean area, the other day. It was sent by Cpl. Walter Nies, then in Africa. We understand that Walter is back in the states and hospitalized in Alabama.

We also want to thank Elsa Kutch, S.C. 3/c, for the copy of the Seabee newspaper published at the Port Hueneme, Calif., base.

Had a letter from Ken Rayzor, an old Perryton boy now with Lockheed at Burbank, Calif. It was written Feb. 16, but we're just getting around to passing it on to you. Here's what Ken says about buying bonds and we're just hoping that many others felt the same way.

"As a regular investor in War Bonds by way of payroll deduction and by purchasing an extra bond during the Fourth War Loan campaign, I was willing to let it go at that and feel that I had fulfilled my patriotic obligation until I read your editorial on page one of last week's Herald captioned, 'Is This Ochiltree County's Answer to Dowers, Tucker, Fuelscher and Hoch?' I think this is the best article I have read in regards to bond investments. After reading this, I felt pretty ashamed; I went and bought another extra bond and now I feel a lot better."

Capt. Ted Lehman Missing in Action Over Holland, Feb. 22

"The Secretary of War desires to express his deep regret that your son, Capt. Theodore Lehman, has been reported missing in action since Feb. 22 over Holland. If further details or information are received, you will be promptly notified." The above telegram was received Monday by Mr. and Mrs. John Lehman of the Gray community, parents of Ted.

On the same day the "missing in action" telegram was received, the Herald received a special dispatch from the Public Relations Office of the European Theatre of Operations, telling of "the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Captain Ted. He had previously been awarded the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters."

Captain Lehman was cited for "extraordinary achievement while serving as a bombardier navigator on a B-26 airplane on 25 bombardment missions over enemy occupied continental Europe. The last letter his parents received from Ted stated that he had completed his 33rd mission."

"Captain Lehman's professional efficiency and steadfast devotion to duty played a major role in the bombing of enemy targets with telling effect. His untiring energy and soldierly resourcefulness exemplify the highest traditions of the Army Air Forces."

"Of the 25 missions, Capt. Lehman recalls with greatest satisfaction, the aerial offensive against a Nazi airdrome in France in which

The men who were burned to death were sleeping in an upstairs bedroom. It is thought they were suffocated by smoke and never had a chance to escape before the flames reached them. Both bodies were burned badly.

Mrs. C. H. Russell, her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green; and a granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Gilbert, escaped from the blazing inferno in their night clothes.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert were awakened by a small bull dog sleeping in the room with them. Mrs. Russell was aroused at about the same time by the sound of something falling, presumably a part of the burning house.

Two other roomers, Albert Caswater and Vernon Gilbert, were at a picture show at the time. At first, it was thought they were also trapped in the upstairs sleeping quarters.

The dwelling house was partially covered by insurance. No insurance was carried on the contents of the house.

Hearne, better known as "Kiddo", has worked as a common laborer around Perryton for many years. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church in Adams, Okla., at 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Gilbert, whose home was in the Hardesty community, was employed by Townsend's Market. He had been working there for about three weeks. Funeral services were held at the Boxwell Bros. Funeral Home, Wednesday morning. The remains were taken to Moscow, Kansas, for burial.

EDITORIAL

REFORMATION

If you aren't helping to make this old world better, you are helping it to be worse.

There isn't any use to grumble and complain, because it's as cheap and twice as easy to be happy and spread sunshine wherever you are. After all, no one is helping himself unless he is helping others along life's way.

Life is made up of big and important virtues, and of great sacrifices and duties; but it is the little things—smiles, kindness, and small obligations that make this world worth living in. If these minor qualities are not possessions of yours, make it your business to obtain them early in life.

Does loose talk, minor accusations, or criticism sway your moral standing and leave a thought of bitterness and unforgiveness in your mind? If they do, just remember—little minds are too much wounded by little things; great minds see all, and are not hurt.

What do you get out of life? Does it simply mean a burden trusted in your hands? On every side of life's pathway, there is so much to inspire gladness of life—the beauties of nature, the sweetness of friendship, and the joy of service. With all the priceless possessions at your command, you should start every day off with a greater determination to make the most of life.

Life is like a mirror. The kind of a person you are, is the kind of character that will reflect back on you. The infallible receipt of happiness then, is to do good.

Is greatness and fame your desired ambitions? Well, here's your chance. The greatest man is he who renders his service to the human race. Service is the finest of fine arts.

Stand up for what you believe is right, have a backbone and a mind of your own. Be alert and make yourself useful. Being everlastingly on the job beats carrying a rabbit's foot for luck. You can't do anything well if you are saving yourself. It is quality that makes a man great, and not knowledge.

As you travel on down life's way, just remember this—It's the songs ye sing, and the smiles ye wear, that's a-makin' the sun shine everywhere!

Junior Play is Well Underway

"That Crazy Smith Family," the junior play, is well underway. Miss Mary Dean Dozier, the director, states that it is indeed, "That Crazy Smith Family," and that it is progressing nicely.

It is a lively three-act comedy. Professor Slattery, played by Jack Hurter, is the absent-minded professor, and he is too bashful to pop the question to the old-maid aunt, Sue Ratliff. Does he finally gain courage? Sally Smith is crazy about art. The youngest daughter, Betty, the football hero is vamped by a vamp, but what happens when his home town sweetheart turns into a glam-or girl? As Tony expresses it, who makes the goal? As for the rest of the family, well they are just crazy!

Jack Hurter, a member of the cast, sums up the play by saying, "It's going to be funny!" The performance will be given the last of March. Watch for the date, and don't miss a most enjoyable evening of entertainment!

Library Notes

The first essentials of an active school library are making books and library materials available for children and young people, who are learning to read, in order that they may enjoy and use books for recreational and informational reading. The school library should be the work center for the entire school.

Before a school library can perform all of its services, the teachers must know its resources and realize how its work leads to and develops from their work. The enthusiastic teachers for books of reading guidance. The teachers who teach with and through the library are enriching and extending interests, making school work vital, and helping their pupils gain worth-while skill in acquiring information and using it.

From the Joint Committee of the tools of scholarship—From the Joint Committee of the N.E.A. and A.L.A.

The Senior High School library has received 50 new books which are in circulation now and should receive that many more if the orders are completed. The Junior High School library has added 68 new books, most of which were ordered, but some have been donated, and a few more that were ordered have not been received yet. Some of the new elementary school library books have been received also.

The Senior High School library is the proud possessor of a new magazine display stand, which was made by Mr. King, and on it are found the latest magazines as they arrive each month. Also the appearance of the library has been improved by the new drapes at the windows, which have been put up this week. The librarian has commented on the improvement made in the prompt returning of all books, especially the new ones, by the students lately, and hopes that the improvement continues.

Meet the Seniors

He has black hair and brown eyes, and is noted for his good humor. That's right, it's Johnny Dunlavy. Johnny says that photography is his hobby, and apple dumplings—rates tops in food. He doesn't have any special book, but says he likes the "Readers Digest." "Northwest Passage" is his favorite movie, and Spencer Tracy is a special actor. Anne Sheridan is his favorite actress, "because she is from Texas." Swimming is Johnny's favorite pastime. He thinks bookkeeping is tops of all subjects in school. Johnny started his football and basketball career under the capable leadership of Coach McLeary over in grade school. He has been in the heart of all kinds of sports. Johnny plans to attend Texas University, majoring in Business Administration, minoring in girls.

Wilfred Durham was born Oct. 7, 1926, in Stella, Mo. He has brown hair and blue-green eyes, and his favorite pastime is reading. He is a lover of the out-of-doors, as he likes to hunt and fish. English is his favorite subject, and Wilfred likes all kinds of sports. Steak rates high in food. When asked what his dislike was, he replied "lectures." Wilfred plans to become a pilot in the Air Corps.

A very attractive and popular girl, born April 17, 1927, in Marshall, Okla., is Margaret Hearn. Margaret has brown hair and green eyes, and her hobby is collecting cards, letters, and the school papers for a scrap book. Margaret said, "strawberry shortcake" rates tops in the line of food. When asked what her favorite movie is, she quickly replied, "Gone With the Wind," and "Blossoms in the Dust" is her best-liked book. James Cagney, Bette Davis, and Greer Garson rate tops in movie stars. Her favorite subject is Speech, and she quickly replied that "snobbish people" are her dislike. Margaret's ambition is to become a registered nurse and then be an airline hostess. She plans to get her training in the Cadet Nurses Corps.

El Juego

With the coming of warm weather many athletic-minded students of P.H.S. are growing restless in the study halls. With still about a month and a half before football spring training begins, it looks as though some other sport should be taken up to get the boys in good shape for football.

Many of the boys want to start a track team. With the growing competition between the Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores it looks as though several good intra-squad battles could be arranged in track.

It is still two months off, but the traditional Senior and Junior classic in football is already getting plenty of thought. The teams will be about on an even level, with neither team having any advantage. Coach Tom Slack has seven lettermen and a number of returning squadmen to build the 1944 Ranger team around. For the past six years the Seniors have come out victorious in all of these battles, except in 1938, when the game was played to a scoreless tie. The Juniors are working hard to upset this splendid record made by the Seniors. The Seniors will play their last battle on the Ranger gridiron, and they will be planning to end it in a glorious fashion by drubbing the Juniors, and adding another victory to the Seniors' string of victories in this traditional gridiron battle. More will be said about this game at a later date.

Another star athlete left the Perryton schools last week to join up with the Navy V-5. Billy Parker, two-year letterman in basketball, will be missed by all the athletes of P.H.S. Billy was one of the hardest working members of the Ranger cagers, playing both guard and forward. This season Billy played some excellent basketball. Billy is gone from P.H.S. but he will never be forgotten. His clean, hard fighting ability on the basketball court and that courteous smile of his won him friends wherever he went. The members of the Perryton school want to wish Bill the best of luck as he enters a more important battle. Coach Tom Slack's condition is improving and we are looking forward to seeing him back on the campus before very long.

Hard winds and a heavy shower hindered the boys in finishing the tennis courts last week, but in the next week or two these courts will be ready for plenty of action.

With this thought in "that the times you are knocked down, never count, it's the times you get back up," the Sports of P. H. S. signs "30".

Play Safe, Son! Don't Fly Your Kite Near a Power Line

KITE flying is great fun but danger lurks when kites are flown near power lines. Many a child has lost his life by using wire for kite string or climbing a pole to get a tangled kite. Don't take any chances. Play safe by following these suggestions:

Rules for Safe Kite Flying

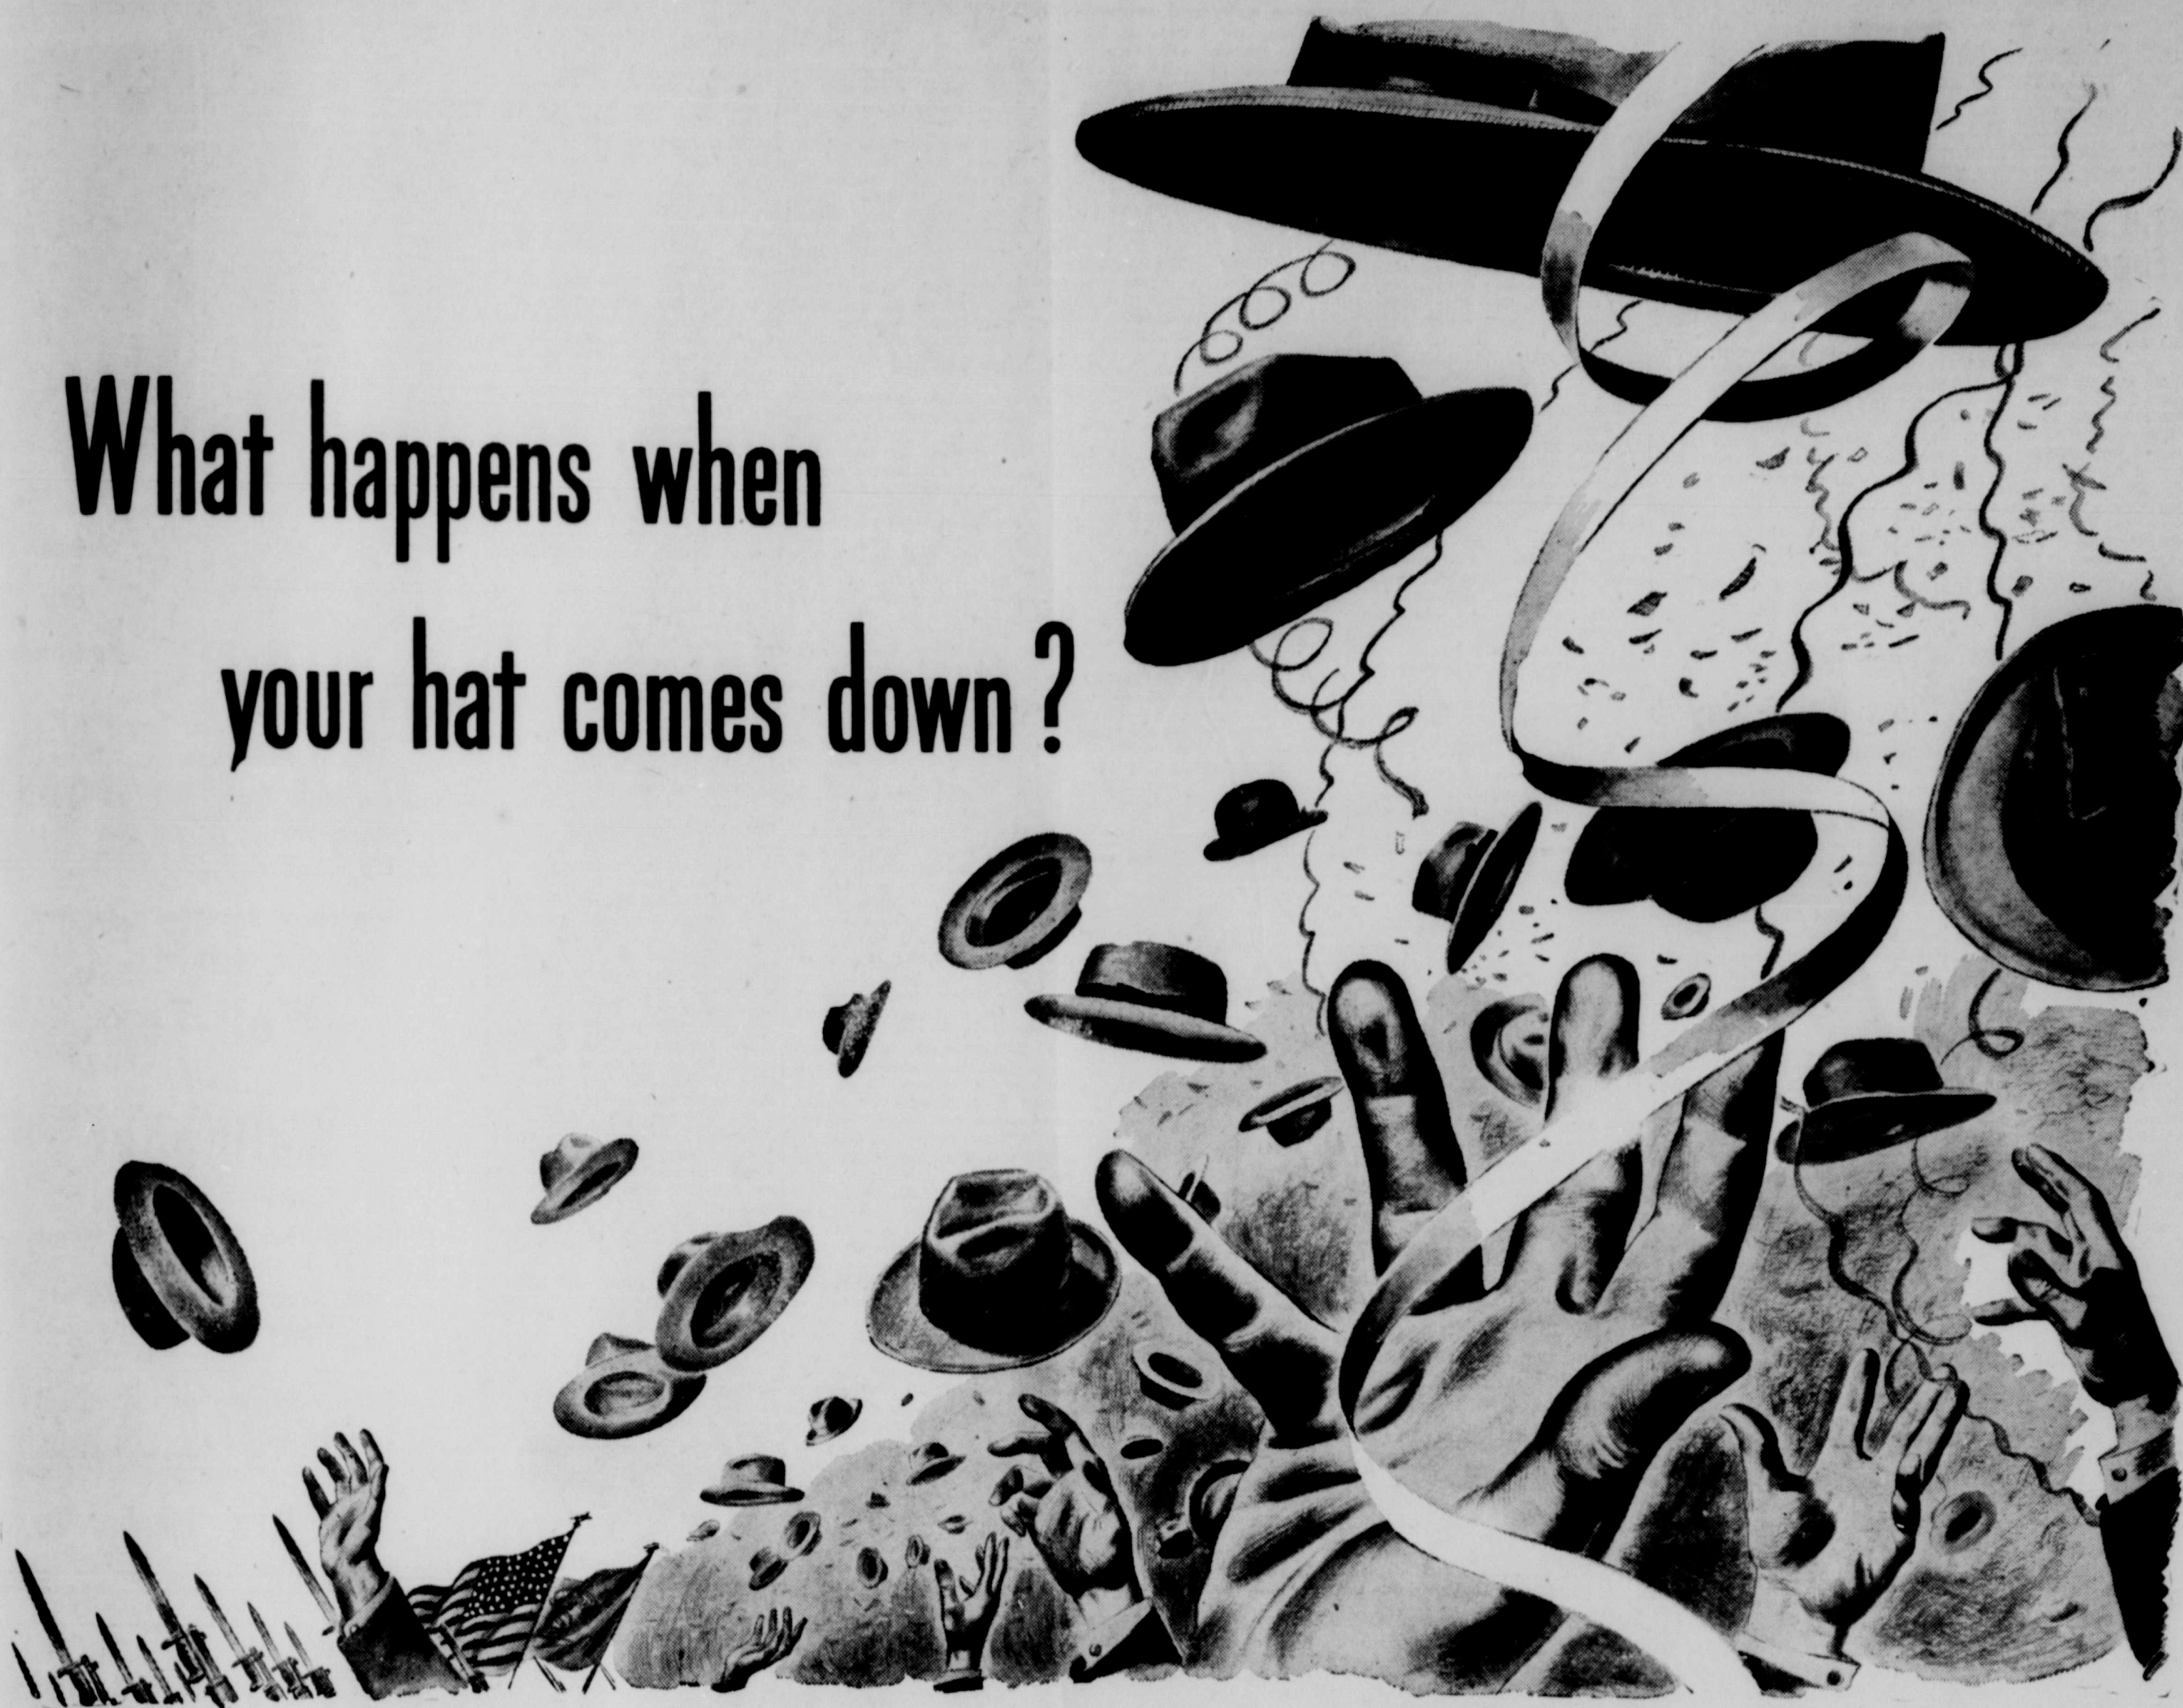

1. Don't use wire or metallic kite string.
2. Don't fly your kite with wet string or in damp weather.
3. Don't use metal kite sticks.
4. Don't climb poles to get tangled kites.
5. Don't poke sticks at tangled kites or try to pull them down by their tails.
6. Always fly your kites in open fields away from power lines and busy highways.

If your kite becomes caught in electric wires, call our office. We know how to remove it safely without causing a service interruption.

Your Red Cross Is at His Side! Give to the 1944 War Fund

What happens when your hat comes down?

SOMEDAY, a group of grim-faced men will walk stiffly into a room, sit down at a table, sign a piece of paper—and the War will be over.

That'll be quite a day. It doesn't take much imagination to picture the way the hats will be tossed into the air all over America on that day.

But what about the day after?

What happens when the tumult and the shouting have died, and all of us turn back to the job of actually making this country the wonderful place we've dreamed it would be "after the War"?

No man knows just what's going to happen then. But we know one thing that must not happen:

We must not have a postwar America fumbling to restore an out-of-gear economy, staggering under a burden of idle factories and idle men, wracked with internal dissension and stricken with poverty and want.

We must not have breadlines and vacant farms and jobless, tired men in Army overcoats tramping city streets.

That is why we must buy War Bonds—now.

For every time you buy a Bond, you not only help finance the War. You help to build up a vast reserve of postwar buying power. Buying power that can mean millions of postwar jobs making billions of dollars' worth of postwar goods and a healthy, prosperous, strong America in which there'll be a richer, happier living for every one of us.

To protect your Country, your family, and your job after the War —buy War Bonds now!

"Clean your sewing machine at least twice a year," stated Miss Sadie Seward at the Waka Home Demonstration Club which met Tuesday, March 7, in the home of Mrs. O. S. Shear. Mrs. James Brillhart hosted.

A screwdriver, crochet hook, tweezers, brushes and a little kerosene is all you need to make your machine run like new. It will last much longer and serve you better with a little care. Never put just any oil on your machine. Be sure it says on the can that it won't gum up. Let's all say, "As a Victory Demonstrator doing my best to help win the war, I will take good care of everything I use."

Those present were Mesdames L. R. Conner, Mart Wagner, P. E. Rhine, Don Teater, M. J. Groves, Dan Manning, O. C. Rogers, A. N. Hamilton, P. W. Wernicke, H. N. Elledge and the hostess. Visitors were: Mrs. Leon Shrader, Mrs. O. S. Shear and the County Home Demonstration, Miss Sadie Seward.

Christian Science

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 12.
 The Golden Text is: "The invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead" (Romans 1:20).
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart" (Jeremiah 29:13).
 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Through many generations human beliefs were attaining diviner conceptions, and the immortal and perfect model of God's creation will finally be seen as the only true conception of being" (page 260).
 "The redeeming feature of our democratic government is that when congressmen try everything else, they finally give up and do the sensible thing," says a well known writer.

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION

According to Moritz Gottlieb, who recently made a 32,000 mile tour of the Pacific battlefields on behalf of the Jewish Welfare Board and the USO, American soldiers returning home after the war will present a challenge to the churches to keep pace with them in the virility and tolerance of their religious views. Men living and dying together, Mr. Gottlieb says, have stopped thinking of themselves as white or black, Christian or Jew, Irish or Italian; instead they judge each other on the basis of character, courage, humility, and willingness. The chaplains, he found, are rendering service to men without any regard to difference of faith or creed.

"G.I. Sunday" is the name given by American soldiers in the South Pacific to the non-Sunday days when religious services are held by army chaplains who travel by jeep, ski, boat, airplane and by primitive methods to reach them in isolated spots. Because the Japanese stage air raids on Sundays so as to try to catch men off guard, and because there are not enough chaplains to reach all the men on Sunday anyway, services are now held on any day of the week—and that day becomes "G.I. Sunday."

The Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Cyril Forster Garbett, Archbishop of York, Primate of England and Metropolitan, is expected to visit the United States shortly after the Eastern season and to spend some weeks in conferences and in speaking engagements across the continent. The Archbishop's visit will help strengthen relationships between his church and the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, and also the interests of the World Council of Churches.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. Ferrell Pledger, missionaries of the Methodist Church in India, now spending a year's furlough in Hartford, Conn., are preparing to return to India shortly to carry on Christian work among the Bhils, a primitive tribe of peoples numbering more than one and a half million, living in the mountain fastnesses north of Bombay. About 2500 years ago, "when our forefathers were still nomads," the Bhils lived in walled, fortified cities. But the coming of many civilizations into India drove them gradually into the Vindhya and Satpura range of mountains, where they remain a proud and separate people never conquered by either Hinduism or Mohammedanism. Dr. Pledger will supervise religious, educational and medical work among the Bhils.

A pledge against racial and religious intolerance, recently proposed by Dean Howard M. LeSourd, of Boston University, has aroused much interest in church circles and has many signers. The pledge reads: "Realizing that unity is indivisible—that the man who speaks against one American on the basis of race, religion, or color, speaks against all—I pledge these things: that I will not give ear to words of racial or religious hate; that I will not be misled by rumors or reports aimed to stir up prejudice, and will not spread either about my fellow Americans; that I will use my voice, for whatever value it may have, to condemn openly and on the spot, any expression, in seriousness or jest, along the lines of racial or religious hate."

Would your car take-off and fly with 100-OCTANE GASOLINE?

"I had a strange dream last night," said the A-Card Driver. "Somehow I got a tankful of 100-octane gasoline; and when I left the gas station, my 1939 puddle-jumper had such fantastic pep and power that it took-off and sailed right over the head of the traffic cop."

Strange dream is right! Because strange as it seems, today's 100-octane aviation gasoline will not greatly improve the performance of today's cars. Your present engine was designed for the gasoline which was available at the time you bought your car, and 100-octane would add little or nothing to its satisfactory operation.

When victory comes, however, automotive designers will undoubtedly develop smaller, much higher compression engines which will deliver remarkable mileage and power with post-war super fuels.

When that day arrives, Phillips will be ready... because Phillips was one of the first, and remains one of the largest makers of high octane aviation fuels. Phillips present production of 100-octane gasoline could fuel enough Flying Fortresses to drop 600 tons of bombs on Berlin daily. And soon the figure will be stepped up to an equivalent of gasoline sufficient to drop 800 tons of bombs per day on the German capital.

Actually, this American super fuel is not gasoline made by ordinary refinery processes. It is a true synthetic chemical, made by chemical processes which rearrange the petroleum hydrocarbon molecules.

That is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

ministers are now in the armed services, more than 300 more are being asked to join. The Committee urges churches to provide the difference between a pastor's salary and his chaplaincy pay, and also to continue the minister's family in residence in the manse.

Post-war reconstruction of Christian institutions in other continents through an ecumenical cooperation of American Protestantism is being planned by the Church Committee on Overseas Relief and Reconstruction. In Europe the work is being done under the auspices of the World Council of Churches, according to Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, and in Africa and Asia by the International Missionary Council. America's churches will be asked primarily to give assistance to the churches overseas that will enable them to recover from the war's desolations. Dr. Cavert says that Protestantism will seek to provide a stimulus to new vigor and to a spirit of fellowship and reconciliation, thus ministering to the needs of the soul as the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration will care for needs of the body.

Camp White, Oregon
February 27, 1944

Dear Mr. Stewart:

The fog almost lifted enough to see the sun today and made me think of Texas, so I'll use this time to catch up on my correspondence. Of course the fog isn't bad all the time, but this certainly would be the ideal place for a break in those London fogs.

Briefly I would like to tell you about my outfit. The old 35th Engineers, then a regiment, worked on the Alcan Highway for 18 months and they usually get a good laugh from the articles and movies about the road. The living conditions there must have been bad, but most of the men would like to return. Especially since they had to take basic training over here.

As for my job I am a motor officer. I have charge of the vehicles and equipment for the Battalion, but as the army game goes there is always a Sgt. to do the work.

I see the former Mary Sherman of Perryton here quite often and it certainly is good to talk about home. I hear there are several from Spearman here, but haven't been able to find them yet.

I can't begin to tell you how much I enjoy the paper so I will close by saying, thanks.

Sincerely,
Robert V. Skinner

Feb. 28, 1944

Dear Van:

It looks like I am settled for a while, so I will send you my address, as I am anxious to get the paper and see what is happening up there. They shipped me down here from Ft. Sill, last Friday to take my basic. They told me today I would start next Monday, so it looks like I have another week of rest. That is all I have done for the past three weeks and I am just about fed up on it.

My traveling orders stated that I had been selected for assignment as instructor in the special training unit. I am supposed to be sent back to Ft. Sill and stationed there when I finish here, but you know the army. I'll probably land in Kalamazoo.

I like army life fine. If I could just have my family with me I would be perfectly satisfied. There is very little chance for advancement, but who in the heck wants to advance in the Army.

It's nearly time for chow and that's one thing I never miss. Give my regards to everyone and send the paper to the following address:

Brainchild Given Rough Treatment

"Willie the Shake" is the title of one of the gay songs featured in "Casanova in Burlesque," a Republic picture showing at the Ellis next Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Willie the Shake," in case you're wondering, refers to none other than the austere William Shakespeare, who would turn over in his tomb if J. could witness the treatment meted out to his brainchild. "The Taming of the Shrew" by comedians Joe E. Brown and June Haver in "Casanova in Burlesque."

The story deals with the dual life of one Casanova Kelly who is a prim professor of Elizabethan drama in the winter months and a burlesque hooper in the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Beck, Buffalo, Mo., were visiting with friends in this community the first part of the week. They were enroute to California to make their home. Mrs. Beck will be remembered at Miss Jennie Seitz.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bechtold, Booker, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Phillip, north-west of Perryton.

Mrs. A. R. Hogland and daughter, Miss Virginia, went to Amarillo Sunday. On Monday, Miss Virginia took the plane for Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, where she has been employed by a construction company.

Gene Cary and John Wayne, in a scene from "The Fighting Sea Bees," playing this Sunday and Monday at the Ellis. This thrilling, authentic picture concerns the heroic Construction Battalion, little known to the average civilian. They are, quite literally, the "men in front of the man behind the gun." Sorry, Mr. Motorist, but this tire situation is still critical — and will undoubtedly remain so for many months to come! To keep your car on the road means you must preserve the tires you have. Drive only when necessary, and when you drive — drive carefully!

Let Allen's Do Your Recapping

Conserve your tires by having them recapped as soon as possible when recapping is necessary. Allen's have the equipment—and the expert workmen—to give you the utmost in mileage from your tires.

Add Thousands of Miles to Your Tire Life with Expert Recapping

Your tires are thoroughly checked and repaired from start to finish . . . buffed by skilled mechanics before tread rubber is applied with strong adhesives. Then they are placed in our modern molds and cured at rigidly controlled temperatures. The result is a durable, non skid tread that will give you many thousand safe tire miles.
