Rosas faces time in federal prison

LUBBOCK -- Bank robbery suspect Edward Rosas of Loraine was denied bond in a Wednesday appearance before United States Magistrate J. Q. Warnick.

Rosas, a 22-year-old former prison guard who is charged with witness tampering in connection with the July 15 robbery of First Bank of West Texas in Loraine, could face up to 35 years in a federal penitentiary.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Tanya Pierce said his case would be considered on Wednesday, Sept. 16, by a federal grand jury in Lubbock.

Indictments will be considered for attempting to influence the testimony of a witness in the case, committing the robbery and carrying a firearm during its commission.

He is being held in Lubbock County Jail.

Ms. Pierce said a silver-plated .22-caliber semi-automatic pistol was taken into custody when Rosas was arrested by county, state and federal officers in the late afternoon of Sept. 3 at his 317 W. Pacific Ave. home in Loraine.

The two female bank employees who were robbed told officers that the suspect brandished a silver pistol.

Ms. Pierce said Rosas could be sentenced to up to 20 years for the robbery, 10 years for witness tampering and five years "for using or carrying a firearm during a crime of violence."

In the federal criminal justice system, she said, a jury finds only on guilt or innocence and the judge then sets the sentence according to sentencing guidelines.

Sales receipts jump for county and city

Mitchell County enjoyed a 200-percent increase over its September 1997 county sales and use tax receipts and is running 39 percent ahead of last year's payments to date.

Colorado City showed a 4.3-percent increase and Loraine a 137-percent jump.

"Sales across nearly all of Texas picked up the pace in July," said State Comptroller John Sharp in Austin.

"Rebates to cities and counties are up 10.7 percent over the first nine months of last year."

Comptroller Sharp's September payments included $44,234 to Mitchell County, an increase of 200.18 percent over last September's $14,736.

The county's sales tax receipts to date this year are $168,399, a 38.98-percent hike over 1997's $121,162.

Sharp just paid Colorado City $36,742, a 4.28-percent increase over the $35,232 it received a year ago.

Loraine's September payment was $979, 136.57 percent more than the $414 of last year.

Magician set for fair

...brings 50's nostalgia act

Using a 1950's nostalgia theme, Lubbock magician Monte Holder will bring his "Magic by Montgomery" show to the Mitchell County Fair for two Saturday afternoon performances.

With his longtime assistant De'Lila, Holder will give 35-minute shows at 2 and 5 p.m. onstage in the southwestern corner of the fairgrounds off East Hwy. 80.

A $2 gate admission entitles you to see both shows.

Junior Britton of the Sweetwater Jaycees will give rattlesnake-handling demonstrations on the stage at 10:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Saturday, and his organization will have a booth with snakes.

"I know that a lot of people look at magic as being an art just for kids, but we try our best to make it a family event, not so adult that the kids don't understand it and not so kiddie that adults don't enjoy it," Holder said in a Friday telephone interview.

"De'Lila performs in her hoop skirt, and I'm in jeans and a leather jacket. A lot of the stuff we do has music involved in it."

In a computer-oriented age like this one, he said, the charm and simplicity of the '50's have a special appeal.

Describing his work as primarily "visual magic," he said, "I like to take tricks that have already been established and put a new twist in. We concentrate a lot on the '50's venue."

"We have worked awfully hard on this act."

One of Holder's publicity photos shows De'Lila and him inside the Jukebox Diner in Lubbock with old vinyl records, musical notes and a poster of Elvis Presley singing in a pink jacket and white slacks.

He has toured nationally and in the Southwest with magicians Max Armstrong and Fred Story, and he performed at a convention of the Society of American Magicians last year in Massachusetts.

He will have a five-minute segment with a touring group of Las Vegas, Nev., magicians in their "Vegas Magic" road show Sept. 29 at the Lubbock Civic Center.

The full-time entertainer said he first became interested in magic as a confidence-builder after he was diagnosed with dyslexia, a reading disorder, in his early grade

Fire chiefs request burn ban revision

Mitchell County commissioners Monday revised the county-wide "burn ban" that they enacted on May 11 -- the longest burn ban the county has ever enforced.

Fire Chiefs Tommy Guelker of Colorado City, Steve Rollins of Westbrook and Donnie Phillips requested the modifications so that people who need to burn dead foliage and other materials may do so.

County Judge Ray Mayo was given the authority to issue waivers to citizens who first gain the approval of their local fire chief.

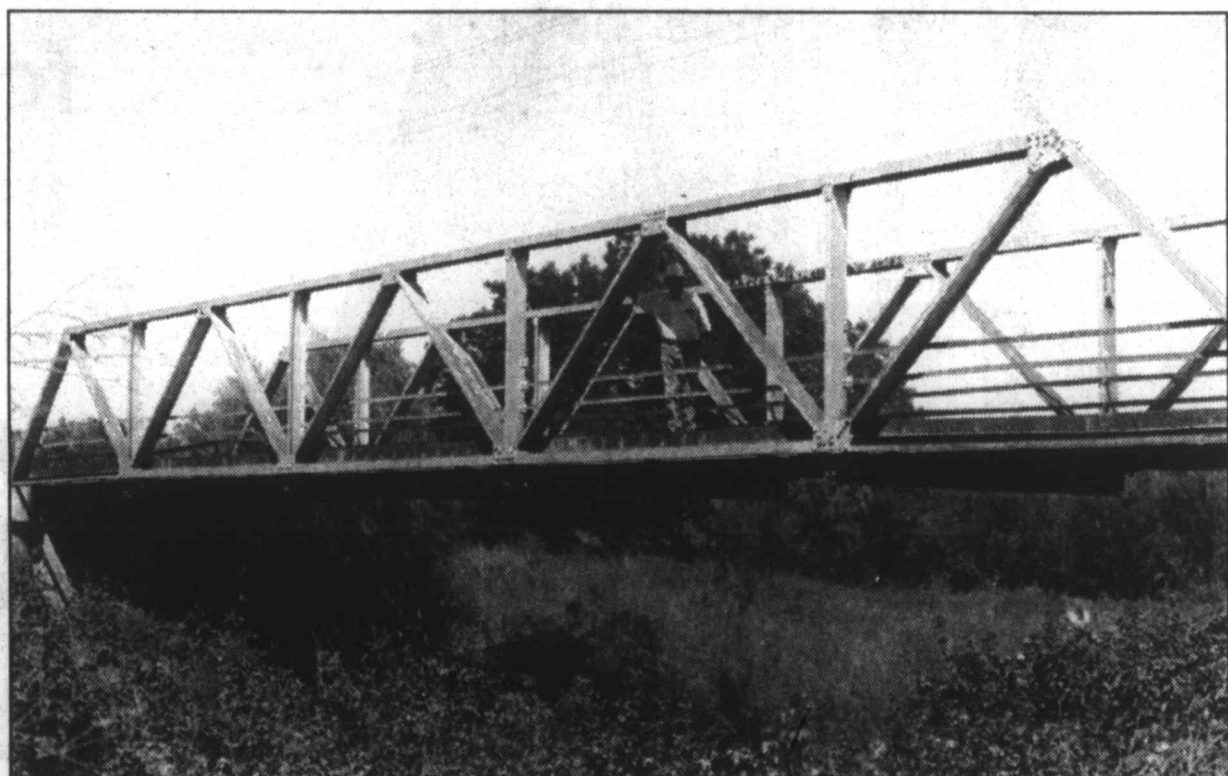

Judge Mayo said the two main criteria will be the availability of water at the scene and the question of whether or not anything else could ignited.

The ban was enacted because of fire officials' concern that intense heat and lack of rain had greatly increased the general fire hazard.

"This is the longest we have ever had a burn ban in effect, to my knowledge," Judge Mayo said.

FROM THE 1920'S, a steel bridge south of Colorado City on County Road 125 is scheduled to be moved into Ruddick Park to become a footbridge. The Texas Department of Transportation will replace it with a new bridge. Pct. 1 County Commissioner Ed Roach is helping to plan the project.

Antique bridge bound for Lone Wolf Creek

Where it is now, an old one-lane steel bridge on County road 125 five miles southeast of Colorado City isn't much more than a curiosity or a nuisance.

Where it's going, it will be a historical artifact and a tourist attraction, a quaint addition to Ruddick Park that some visitors might even find romantic.

Pct. 1 County Commissioner Ed Roach had been wanting to remove it for many years because trucks and tractors must detour around it on dirt roads to avoid caving it in and ending up in Champion Creek.

So Commissioner Roach went to the city council last spring and proposed moving it to Ruddick Park in eastern Colorado City as a footbridge over Lone Wolf Creek.

Now the Texas Department of Transportation has put the project on its list of things to do, primarily to build a modern bridge over the creek.

Hutchinson principal bemoans job delays

Capt. Pete Barrera of the military-style STAR program for troublesome students in Snyder told Colorado School Board members Monday night that staying in close contact with the students' parents has been a key part of his success.

Capt. Barrera said his father was a cowboy near Sonora and he often cites his background as proof that "you don't have to have a lot of money to get an education."

Since the Snyder program started a year ago, he said, he has learned that parents must be involved and sometimes threatened with court action to gain control of their children.

Barrera said he had one woman jailed for contempt of court for four days because of her lack of cooperation with court-ordered supervision.

The leader of Snyder's three-man STAR staff said he is considering hiring a service veteran in Colorado City and the man could transport students from here to Snyder.

school years.

A preacher's son showed him some basic tricks at a church camp, and he kept at it during his years at Lubbock Christian High School.

"Magic was something I enjoyed that no one else could do, and I felt a confidence about it," he said. "From then on, instead of mowing lawns, I entertained kids at birthday parties."

Because he is concerned with "quality, not quantity," he said, he does eight tricks per show.

Holder has performed at the South Plains Fair, Texas Tech Coach Marsha Sharp's Lady Raider Basketball Camp, the Lubbock Junior League's "Holiday Happening," Christmas breakfast and other events.

"It's not your normal show," he said. "I feel that when people see a magic show, they expect to see the classics of magic as well as anything else you may have."

"I use very few props from catalogues or magic stores. Either I have it built or I build it."

The fair will open at 6 p.m. Thursday with free gate admission for Family Night.

Mickey and Minnie Mouse will lead a sing-along from 6:30 to 7:15, and a clown will give away balloons from 7:30 to 8:15.

The Pickwick Players of Midland Community Theater will perform a number of songs.

A Tip Top Amusements carnival from Las Cruces, N.M., will be there all three nights.

The fair will be open from 10 a.m. to noon Friday for schools and nursing homes only and then be re-opened from 5 to 10 p.m. with two bingo sessions as the marquee events.

More than $1,000 in prizes will be given during bingo games from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and 8 to 9:30 p.m.

A $2 admission ticket entitles you to take part in any of the events except the carnival rides, which are $1 apiece until 5 p.m. Wednesday and $1.50 after the fair starts.

Advance carnival tickets may be purchased at the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce office at 157 W. Second St.

Saturday offers a full slate of attractions as Lorenzo chainsaw artist David Cox will perform between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. and a team roping will begin at 7 p.m. in the nearby rodeo arena.

The team roping has been moved from Friday to Saturday night.

It wouldn't be a good county fair without arts and crafts, food and agricultural exhibits, and those will be accepted at the ag show barns on the west side of the fairgrounds from 7 to 10 a.m. Thursday.

The barns will be closed from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. for the exhibits to be judged and placed, and they will be open to the public Thursday and Friday nights and all day Saturday.

Fair Chairman Justin Harris asks that all exhibits be picked up between noon and 3 p.m. Sunday.

He said the 30 STAR cadets he has now arrive at 5:30 a.m., take physical training, shower, undergo an inspection and go to school at 8 a.m., then train for 90 minutes after school is out and go home under house arrest.

They train and do community service on Saturdays and Sundays.

"They think it's harassment," Barrera said. "It's really just good behavior reinforced."

He puts electronic ankle monitors on students who are on probation and gets a computer read-out on their movements, and he said students who disobey instructions or threaten their supervisors are sometimes handcuffed.

Barrera spent 21 years in the Army, the last four attached to the ROTC program at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

He was invited to address the board, and board members Elizabeth Hernandez and Rosanne Jameson asked a number of questions.

Supt. Russell Merket said in a discussion about STAR before school started that the program could not be instituted this school year.

County Juvenile Probation Officer David Maner attended the meeting.

Other business in the 7 p.m. meeting included a report by Hutchinson Elementary School Principal Beau Rees about renovations now six weeks past their scheduled completion.

Rees said his 440 Cedar St. school's third grade restrooms have been completed, except for the sinks, and the fourth grade girls' restroom is now operational.

The fourth grade boys and fifth grade boys and girls still don't have their restrooms, he said.

Referring to the contractor, Wardrup & Associates of Lubbock, Rees said, "They have been telling me it'll be another three weeks every week for the last six weeks, so I don't know what to say except three more weeks."

"But it's doubtful," he said the school's library has been re-carpeted and its cafeteria floor re-tiled.

Board member Jesse Munoz Jr. he has been impressed to see Rees' students "high-fiving" him in the hallway and that the school's morale and instructional program are good.

"They've got respect for him, and they feel like they've got a friend," Munoz said.

The first item of business was an introduction to board members of most of the district's new teachers.

Kelley Elementary School Principal Kitten Arthur introduced her new special education teacher, Toby Frausto, and Rees presented third grade teachers Catherine Gainey and Tammy Jackson and fourth grade teacher Traci Collins.

Colorado Middle School science teacher Sheila Barrett was introduced by Principal Mark Merrell.

High School Principal Buddy Compton presented teacher-coaches Dan Gainey, Frank Johnson, Brian Collins and Barry Kimball and trainer Sherry Meadows.

A contract for the district's unleaded gasoline and diesel fuel was awarded to the low bidder, the Matlock Co. of Colorado City, which offered 85 cents per gallon for gasoline and 49 cents for diesel with a five-cent price differential.

Business Manager Geneva Findley reported that 97.5 percent of the district's 1997-98 property tax revenues, or $3.7 million, were collected by the Aug. 31 end of the fiscal year -- a slight improvement over last year's 97.2 percent.

The board approved a projection of 1998-99 revenues of $9 million and adopted the new tax rate, $1.53 per $100 in valuation, which is a four-cent decrease under last year's rate.

Contracts were awarded on a low-bid basis to three companies for 54 different categories of custodial and maintenance supplies and equipment.

The companies are Basco of Odessa, City Janitorial Co. of Sweetwater and SJS of Snyder.

Bus routes were approved for the new school year.

Burglary investigated

City police are investigating a break-in last Friday at the State Farm Insurance Co. office at 137 W. Second St. in which an undisclosed amount of money was taken.

Sgt. Richard DeLaCruz said Tuesday that entry was gained by forcing open the front door.

Helen Baucum reported the break-in at 8:19 a.m.

Other recent police business has included a 1:47 a.m. Friday report from John Pharris of 506 N. Hooper St. in Westbrook that two wild dogs had attacked his dogs and then attacked him.

Pharris said he then frightened the dogs away by firing a shotgun at them.

"I just have a scratch," he said.

City police referred the report to the county sheriff's office.

James Sprott of Big Spring told officers at 12:52 p.m. Monday that several items had been stolen from a house at 833 E. 12th St. here.

They are a riding mower, a front-end tiller, a push mower and a sweeper.

Sentencing is usually done six weeks to two months after the trial, she said.

The usual procedure is for the judge to order a presentence report concerning the defendant and his record.

In the hearing before Judge

Warnick, federal public defender Helen Liggett of Lubbock was appointed to represent Rosas.

Ms. Pierce said the case will be carried from grand jury to trial "unless they want to plead guilty."

U. S. District Judge Sam Cummings of Lubbock is scheduled to try the case if Rosas is indicted.

Rosas is a former correctional officer at the Montford Unit psychiatric prison south of Lubbock, where he worked for less than a year, leaving in 1997.

He had been arrested three times in Mitchell County in the past three years prior to his arrest for witness tampering.

He was arrested by Colorado City police in connection with a 1995 incident in which he shot himself in the abdomen or side and was taken into custody on a disorderly conduct charge in September 1997.

Rosas was arrested on three charges last March outside Loraine -- evading arrest, public intoxication and possession of marijuana.

McCloud to recall early C-City scene

Mary Anne McCloud liked Colorado City so much when she was growing up that she returned with her new husband a decade after high school graduation to teach school and live here another 12 years.

She will be here on Saturday, Sept. 26, as the featured speaker at the Mitchell County Reunion in the Civic Center at 157 W. Second St.

She is a member of the Colorado High School Class of 1948, and like many of her classmates who will observe their 50th anniversary during the reunion, she might be remembered better by her maiden name -- Mary Anne Kelley.

She is the daughter of the late Frank H. Kelley, an early day Mitchell County oilman for whom Kelley Elementary School was named, and Mabel Kelley.

Asked in a telephone interview from her home in Eastland if she had decided on a topic, she said, "I'll talk about growing up in Colorado City and loving it."

"I remember the warmth of the people, the caring. I had lots of friends of all ages."

"And I want the show to come back," she said, referring to the two movie theaters that operated here then, The Palace on Walnut Street downtown and The Ritz in the 100 block of East Third Street.

"It's going to be a time of seeing old friends. I feel like I know everybody in town."

"We live in such a fast-paced world today that we don't always get to see the people we want to."

Mrs. McCloud, wife of retired 11th Court of Appeals Chief Justice Austin McCloud, said she will especially enjoy seeing Sissy Merritt, her fourth grade teacher.

"Colorado City was a booming place," she said, noting that Mrs. Merritt's father and brothers, the Majorses, owned two jewelry stores here.

"We just had everything. The prison has made such a difference helping the economy and with projects."

She finally moved away for good when her husband was elected to the Eastland court. He is a Lubbock native.

Married for 46 years, the McClouds have two daughters, Melinda Musselman of Midland and Sharon Burgher of Dallas, and six grandchildren.

Judge McCloud said Monday that he will also attend the reunion.

It will begin with the annual Cowboy Breakfast from 7 to 9:30 a.m. at Kiwanis Park at East Second and Chestnut Streets.

Tickets are $4 and may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce in the Civic Center building. Information is available at 728-3403.

Orange juice, coffee and cookies will be served as the reunion moves to the Civic Center for a 9:30 business meeting.

David Stubblefield of Colorado City will cater the noon luncheon, for which tickets are on sale for $6.50 with City National Bank officer Shirley Delaney at 728-5221.

Advance ticket purchases are encouraged to help organizers plan the meal.

Luncheon entertainment will be by drummer Gus Armstrong of Loraine, pianist J. T. Williamson of Snyder and Ben Sparks and Sarah Gohery, both of Colorado City, on tub and organ.

Mrs. McCloud will speak following the luncheon about 1 p.m.

More than 300 people are expected to attend, with 187 invitations having been mailed several weeks ago to Mitchell County natives who now live elsewhere.

One of the reunion planners, Ray Anne Carlock, said the Colorado City Garden Club met Sept. 6 and decided on a "Harvest Home" theme to decorate the Civic Center.

Mrs. Carlock said collector's item placemats will be used again this year, featuring photographs of early day Colorado City under a reunion agenda.

Retired Postmaster Arlene Morris is reunion chairman.

Mrs. McCloud graduated from Texas Tech University in 1952 and did graduate work at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene and the University of Nevada.

She taught elementary school in Remerton, Ga., Waco and Houston, where her husband worked with the Fullbright & Jaworski law firm, before teaching fourth grade here and helping to develop a reading program that the federal government put into use nationally.

She taught here from 1961 to 1970.

Mrs. McCloud was a member of the Mitchell County Library Board when the new library was built at 340 Oak St.

She has been a board member of the M. D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston since 1979, and she is serving an appointment until 2001 as a commissioner with the Texas Commission on the Arts.

She and her son-in-law, Henry Musselman of Midland, originated the popular "Polo on the Prairie" polo matches each spring near Albany to raise money for the Houston hospital.

C-COURT

at 9 a.m., included the purchase of $68,700 in computer software from the Data Net Co. of Austin to adapt the county's computer systems for the year 2000.

Data Net representative Chris Onley attended to explain that the software will keep systems from "crashing" when the triple zeroes of the new millenium click in.

It will be used in the offices of Tax Assessor-Collector Faye Lee, County Treasurer Ann Hallmark and County Auditor Susan Buckalew, all of whom attended the meeting.

Pct. 3 Commissioner Wendy Inman was authorized to buy a used $140,000 Caterpillar bulldozer from West Texas Equipment Co. in Abilene.

The matter was tabled last week to give Commissioner Inman time to evaluate three bids.

West Texas Equipment is giving the county a three-year "buy back" option under which it will purchase the dozer for $105,000.

Sheriff Patrick Toombs' recommendation to make no changes in sheriff's fees for 1999 was accepted.

The fees are $40 for subpoenas, summonses, show cause orders and other court notices and citations; $75 for writs of attachment, sequestration, garnishment, possession and restitution; $100 for orders of sale and writs of execution; $50 for a forcible detainer; $30 for small claims and peace justice court citations and $15 for sheriff's jury fees.

Honor Society sells CCR subscriptions

The 18 members of the Colorado High School Honor Society are gearing up their annual subscription drive for the Colorado City Record and will attempt to sell 25 subscriptions each.

Faculty sponsor Joan Lemons said the project has both financial and educational benefits.

"It's the fourth year we've been doing it, and it has been good for us," she said, explaining that the group made more than $800 for itself last fall.

"They have a tendency to want to sell to their families and friends, but when they make contact with someone who is elderly and alone, I think it kind of opens up their eyes."

"When they talk to someone who is really rude, they learn how to respond to other people, how to say no without being rude."

Ms. Lemons said the high school seniors last year made enough money to finance some educational extras to their spring trip to San Antonio and were thereby able to visit SeaWorld and Fiesta Texas.

CHS students may not join the Honor Society until the second semester of their junior year, when they must have compiled a 90 average and gained recommendations from teachers about their character and leadership.

So the members who work in the CCR subscription drive are always seniors.

NHS members this year are Jamie Alvarez, Kendra Anderson, Kristen Browning, Lisandra Bueno, Edwina Ceballos, Julie and Jeff Ellis.

Also, Justin Hill, Brett Hoyle, Ann Marie Scott, Mandi Strain, Matt Thackerson, Staci Turnbow, Jamie Mason, Laurie Miller, Chris Myers, Justin Matthews and Monica Rodriguez.

Subscriptions are $24 per year for citizens of Mitchell County, $30 for Texas residents who live outside the county and $37 for people who live outside the state.

College subscriptions are available for $16 per year.

Call the newspaper at 728-3413 and an Honor Society member will contact you for a new subscription or a renewal.

COLORADO CITY ARTIST Leola Anderson shows one of the hundreds of paintings she has done since going to college after her family was grown. The work shows the individualistic style she has developed, along with the influence of the French impressionists.

Left to her own resources, painter had something to say

Like many parents, Leola Anderson was at a loss for what to do with her time after her youngest child graduated from high school and went to college.

Unlike many, she went to three different colleges and became an artist.

Mrs. Anderson, a 1946 graduate of Colorado High School, "had done little doodlings" but never considered painting seriously until studying at Western Texas College in Snyder.

She took an associate degree at WTC in 1974, a bachelor's degree in art at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin in Odessa in 1976 and a master's in fine arts at Texas Tech University in Lubbock in 1986.

Eleven of her paintings are being exhibited in an art show at UTPB through mid-October, and one she did in the late 1970's decorates the Colorado Middle School teachers' lounge.

Her husband is Warren Anderson, who farms northeast of Colorado City.

"After the four kids were gone and the youngest started to college, I needed to fill a gap," she said.

"I decided I would take a few courses over there," she said, referring to WTC. "I was there 2 1/2 years. Since I enjoyed it so much, I wanted more."

"I had focused on art by then, and I started at UTPB and got a degree in art. Warren built a studio in the backyard, hoping to keep me home."

"But I wanted more, so I went to school at Tech for 2 1/2 more years and got a master's of fine arts in painting and drawing."

Mrs. Anderson said she works quickly and intuitively, starting with a full pallet of colors but only using those that seem most apropos.

She has done thousands of paintings, primarily in oils but lately some in acrylics, and she says a painter must do scores of paintings to discover a style and purpose.

She works a lot from photographs, studying people's postures, facial expressions and other characteristics that reveal their personalities.

Before doing the CMS painting, which was displayed at the school district's administrative headquarters for many years, she took numerous photos of children "doing what they do, building a kite, licking an ice cream cone, fighting with their brother."

"Some people say there is no way you can paint until you have done at least 100 paintings," she said. "I think you have to paint a lot."

"You learn from every painting, from your own work and from other people, too."

She still likes to draw, and three of the paintings in the UTPB show were made from sketches she made while she and her husband were at M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston, where he underwent successful cancer treatment in June and July.

She also works in clay, leather and ceramics and has sculpted a lifesize figure of a man. Her husband sometimes models for her.

She worked as an operator for Bell Telephone Co. in Colorado City for about a year after high school before she and Anderson married.

They have four children, Kathy Cash of Howe, Okla., Woody and Randy of Colorado City and Les of Sweetwater, and nine grandchildren.

Harvest Aid Speeds Cotton Harvest

With cotton harvest, timing is everything. Harvesting a week late can mean nearly $30 an acre in yield and grade loss.

Judy Collier
Zeneca Ag Products

As long as weather and field conditions permit, cotton continues to produce foliage, flowers, squares and bolls. A harvest aid product, such as CYCLONE, acts as a defoliant, which stresses the crop and forces the transfer of nutrients from the leaves to the bolls to accelerate maturation. This allows growers to harvest a more mature cotton with open bolls earlier in the season.

In addition, Cyclone also acts as a desiccant. It kills foliage abruptly so leaves fall from the plant and weeds, halting further growth. Cyclone reduces unwanted cotton foliage and kills weeds for a cleaner, faster harvest.

When used in a harvest aid program, Cyclone herbicide allows growers to:

- increase cotton yields by cracking more mature, unopened bolls
- schedule cotton harvest and reduce harvest problems
- reduce regrowth of cotton foliage after cutout
- eliminate late-season weed problems
- improve lint quality and gin turnout by reducing levels of green foliage at harvest

General recommendations and guidelines for Cyclone include using an adequate spray volume for good coverage, a nonionic surfactant and higher rates if weed or vine infestations are heavy or dense.

In addition, do not make more than two applications of Cyclone or exceed a total of 2.5 pints per acre. Apply a tankmix of Cyclone with phosphate or chlorate defoliants when bolls are 80 percent open and the remaining bolls to be harvested are mature.

When tank mixing with other defoliants such as Defol, Folex, Dropp, Harvade and Prep, treat when bolls are 60 percent open and remaining bolls are mature. After cotton has been properly defoliated, use Cyclone to open mature bolls and desiccate green weeds when 75 percent or more of the bolls are open and remaining bolls are mature.

Let Cyclone help you plan your harvest aid program. The better you time the more lint you'll put through the gin.

Hobby, Rylander contend for term as comptroller

Paul Hobby

Democrat Paul Hobby of Houston and Republican Carole Keeton Rylander of Austin are running a spirited race for state comptroller, with both candidates reflecting the public's heightened concern about education.

Hobby, son of former long-time Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, said in a telephone interview from Houston that it "is just a strange year in so many ways that anybody who's waiting for coattails or some other political dynamic to help them is crazy."

"You've got to go do this yourself," said an attorney who said he was going to be in Sweetwater and Abilene last Friday and will be campaigning in West Texas between now and the Nov. 3 election.

But he said the state's traditional Democratic bastion, East Texas, is crucial to him this year and he will concentrate on it more than any other region.

"Ms. Rylander claims to be a reformed liberal," he said. "I never was one."

"She was a very shrill Democrat, and she's a very shrill Republican. The office of comptroller is not well-suited to a shrill partisan of either party."

Asked if his father's name is helping his campaign, Hobby said, "At the beginning, I didn't know what all that would mean. 'It's really pretty simple, as it turns out."

"It gives people a comfort level so that they'll listen. It doesn't mean they'll vote for me because of that."

"They know where I come from and what kind of public service history my family has. It does break the ice."

"The exciting thing about my candidacy is that it has brought out so many young people and young parents who figured out that they have to care what happens in Austin. They just want somebody with personal integrity that they can support."

"What we all want is a high-skill, low-tax state. That's the Holy Grail issue."

Hobby proposes using state lottery money to fund "Excellence in Education" grants to schools based on improvements in academic performance and graduation rates.

He also wants to increase teachers' pay by raising state per-pupil distributions from $21 to $24 and reduce the negative impact of the "Robin Hood" law by increasing the recapture threshold to $310,000.

He would apply the first $250 million in annual net lottery proceeds to the Excellence in Education grants.

Hobby said Ms. Rylander has shown "hypocrisy" by running for comptroller while she continues to serve as a state railroad commissioner -- a tactic for which she has criticized Democratic candidates in the past.

Ms. Rylander, a former public school teacher and Austin School Board member, said last week that she wants to be the "education watchdog" in Texas.

The primary responsibility of the state comptroller is to collect state taxes and disburse sales and use tax revenues to cities and counties.

Speaking at a Wolfforth school in Lubbock County, she said school districts statewide average spending 52 percent of their budgets on instruction and that percentage should be increased.

"Nothing is more important than education," she said.

Although the comptroller's office does cost and quality audits of school district budgets and operations, she said, only three to eight districts are audited each year.

Ms. Rylander said she would peruse Texas Education Agency data on districts' spending and performance and increase the number of audits based on two factors:

-- A district's performance in the school accountability system and how much it spends directly to improve students' learning.

She said those districts would then be audited.

The candidate said she

Carole Rylander

would apply her "Yellow Pages Test" to lower the costs of education by contracting with private companies when they could perform a school-related service more cheaply than a school was doing it.

"Government should do no job if there is a business in the Yellow Pages that can do that job better and at a lower cost," she said.

Recent statewide polls have shown Ms. Rylander with a slight lead over Hobby, 35 percent to 30 percent with the other 35 percent of the electorate still undecided.

(Next week: The candidates for lieutenant governor, Republican Rick Perry and Democrat John Sharp.

Roach expects the project to be completed sometime next year with the state and county dividing the expense by 80 to 20 percent.

The main part of the bridge weighs 17,000 pounds, and the commissioner says parts of it will probably have to unbolted for it to be moved in pieces.

"They will have to build some piers to put it on," he said. "You can't just set it on dry ground."

The bridge is about 100 feet long, counting the approach to the main part of it.

Roach said he has been working with TxDOT construction supervisor David Elmore of Big Spring to get the project on the department's list of future projects.

The bridge is believed to date from the 1920's and was a one-lane even when Model T's and Model A Fords were the premier automobiles of the day.

Mauro takes on Gov. Bush

By Garry Mauro,
Democratic nominee for Governor

At the Texas Democratic Party Convention, I promised to lead an effort to knock on one million doors before Labor Day.

And after personally talking to more than 7,500 families in 65 cities and towns, my conversations have confirmed what independent polling has consistently shown: I beat Gov. Bush on the issues.

When I am on someone's front porch, people tell me over and over that education should become our No. 1 priority in Texas.

They say we should tear down every single temporary classroom.

They say that teachers should not simply teach the TAAS Test, they should help students learn how to read, write, think creatively and learn with computers.

They say their local schools have a lot of teachers who are not certified to teach their courses, schools are filled with "permanent substitutes" and their children are in classes with more than the legal requirement of 22 students per teacher.

Every student should be in a permanent classroom, and overall performance, not standardized tests, should determine who is promoted.

Teachers should be paid at least the national average, and every K-4 child should be in a legal 22:1 classroom.

Texans don't trust HMO's.

Parents say they must spend hours or even days arguing with HMO "gate keepers" about whether they can take their fever-ridden child to an emergency room over a weekend.

When I am governor, HMO's will be accountable, ensuring that doctors make medical decisions and guaranteeing that every Texan has the right to choose his or her own family doctor.

Parole officers tell me criminals are being released when Texas could and should be keeping them in jail.

They tell me the governor has a "revolving door" for criminals, letting them out after only a third of their sentences have been served.

Ninety percent of their time is spent processing -- and following -- Bush's 60,000 early-release felons.

When I am governor, we will end mandatory early release for every criminal in this state and hire 10,000 more police officers to help our neighborhoods fight street gangs.

Person by person, we are restoring faith that government can listen again.

Person by person, they are seeing that I share their concerns for better health care and education, safer neighborhoods and tax relief.

That is why our grassroots campaign is catching fire across Texas.

From El Paso to Texarkana, I have walked with 361 Democratic candidates who will be on the November ballot.

I have reconnected with real households and given them powerful reasons to think that someone does care more about their families than about their campaign contributions.

While I go out into 100-degree heat every day, Bush is holding carefully scripted rallies with carefully screened audiences and lots of lots of money.

THE BIGGEST PANCAKES IN TEXAS

By Tumbleweed Smith

The City Cafe in Sterling City has a sign painted on the window that reads THE BIGGEST PANCAKES IN TEXAS. I went in and visited with the owner, Wesley Turner.

"They've been called wagon wheels, barrel lids and saddle blankets. They're exceptionally large. They are at least an inch thick. Sometimes I make 'em two inches thick."

The pancakes are approximately fifteen inches across, about the size of a large pizza.

"We encourage our customers to share," says Wesley. "We really do. For a buck fifty you can feed three or four people. The other day a family of four came in, husband, wife, and two children. The kids ate more than the parents, but I fed them all with one pancake."

The City Cafe in Sterling City has been serving the giant pancakes about six years.

"One morning it was exceptionally busy," says Wesley. "My kitchen is real small and a lot of times I'll be doing two or three things at once. You have to when you're the only cook and you've got a house full of people. I keep my batter in a big yellow bowl with a handle on it. I went to pour the batter onto the grill and I swung around to get some bacon or something. When I turned back around I had poured about half that bowl of batter onto the grill. I thought there was no sense in wasting it, I'll go ahead and send it out and people might get a kick out of it."

The people who got the pancake had entered the cafe with a frown on their faces. When they left, they were smiling. Wesley thought to himself, "Hey, this might be a cool thing to do."

If you eat three, you get 'em free!

I went back to the kitchen and watched Wesley prepare one of the huge pancakes. He poured enough batter to nearly cover the entire grill. He uses a regular size spatula to turn the pancakes, putting it gently underneath the edges, then at the proper time, when the batter has reached the right consistency, he flips it over.

He invited me to try one of the pancakes. It tasted delicious, but I couldn't finish even a fourth of it. A pancake fifteen inches across and at least an inch thick is BIG, man. Takes lots of syrup.

He sells very few stacks of the giant pancakes.

"I've got a spatula back there that has about seven or eight notches carved in it from people who tried to eat three. If they can't finish them, I mark a notch in my spatula. I've had only two people finish a stack. One was a 90 year old lady, she was here practically all day, but she ate them all."

Two teenage boys came into the cafe one day and tried to eat a stack. Wesley told them if they ate everything on the plate, he would buy them some new fishing gear. They tried their best, but couldn't finish the stack. Wesley bought them new rods and reels anyway.

PCT. 1 COMMISSIONER ED ROACH grew up near the rocky Seven Wells area of Lake Champion, which has been exposed by months of drought and a falling water level in the lake south of here. Seven Wells was popular for swimming and picnicking in the 1930's and '40's.

Seven Wells revealed

Seven Wells is a name with a lot of resonance for early day Mitchell County residents, a place where boys and girls went to swim, picnic and, of course, flirt and perhaps fall in love.

The sandstone rocks today on the northeast side of Lake Champion still bear the declarations of fidelity that were scratched into them, although they're generally hard to read. Seven Wells is usually under the water of Lake Champion, but it has been exposed by the long drought and falling water level.

The area was covered when the lake was created in the late 1950's.

Pct. 1 County Commissioner Ed Roach grew up on a farm just north of there, about five miles south of Colorado City on the west side of Hwy. 208, and yes, he was one of the youngsters who went there to swim at any time of the day or night.

But the Mitchell County youngsters of the 1930's and '40's didn't discover Seven Wells.

The sandstone had been carved out deeply by North and South Champion Creeks at the point of their convergence, and it was a place where buffalo came to water and Comanche and Kiowa Indians gathered to camp and kill buffalo.

Roach pointed out several big holes in the rocks where he said Indian braves would hide and wait for a buffalo to come along and drink so that they could lean over and use their bows.

He said landowner Bert Lee Wulfjen, whose descendants still own the land, built a private road into the north side of Seven Wells and Wulfjen allowed free access to anyone 24 hours a day.

"He was a good man," the commissioner said.

The most popular area of Seven Wells was a big, open pool called Dead Man's Hole because a man was believed to have fallen into it and drowned in the early years of the county.

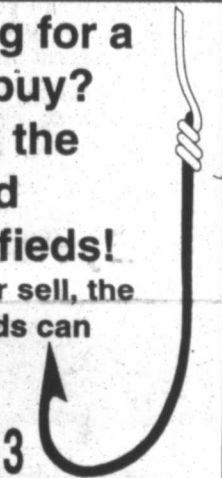

Dead Man's Hole is again visible because of the drought.

Roach said he saw a young man dive into it one day without checking first to see where the rocks were. The man hit a flat rock underwater, "busted his head wide open" and had to be helped out, Roach said.

He said the level area west-northwest of Seven Wells was a popular camping place for Indians back when the country was untamed.

COOK'S CORNER

By Sheila Plagens

This week's recipes were submitted by Janet McCright. She received them in the mail a while back and has been saving them to try. Now we can all try them! Thanks, Janet!

CARROT CAKE WITH CREAM CHEESE ICING

Cake:
2 cups all purpose flour
2 tsp. ground cinnamon
1 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp salt
2/3 cup butter, softened
1 cup granulated sugar
3 large eggs
2/3 cup milk
3 medium carrots, grated
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Icing:
1/2 cup butter, softened
4 oz. cream cheese, softened
1 tsp. vanilla extract
2 1/2 cups confectioner's sugar

Topping:
1/4 cup finely chopped pecans
2 Tbs. firmly packed brown sugar

Preheat oven to 350°. Grease a 9 inch round cake pan. Dust with flour. Mix together flour, cinnamon, baking powder and salt. Beat together butter and sugar at medium speed until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. At low speed, alternately beat flour mixture and milk into butter mixture. Stir in carrots and nuts. Pour batter into prepared pan. Bake cake until top springs back when lightly touched and a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean, about 40 minutes. Transfer pan to a wire rack to cool for 10 minutes. Turn cake out on rack to cool completely.

To prepare icing, beat together butter and cream cheese at medium speed until completely smooth. Beat in vanilla. Beat in confectioner's sugar until well blended. To prepare topping, mix together nuts and brown sugar. Place cake on a serving plate. Spread icing over top and sides. Sprinkle with nut mixture.

ALMOND STREUSEL CAKE

Streusel:
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 cup sliced almonds
1/4 cup all-purpose flour
3 Tbs. butter or margarine, melted

1 tsp. grated orange zest
Cake:
1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened

1/2 cup granulated sugar
3 large eggs
1 tsp. grated orange zest
1/2 tsp. vanilla extract
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 tsp. baking powder

1 tsp. baking soda
2/3 cup orange juice
Glaze:
1/2 cup confectioner's sugar
2 1/2 tsp. orange juice
Preheat oven to 350°. Grease a 9 or 10 inch tube pan. To prepare the streusel, in a medium bowl, mix together brown sugar, nuts and flour. Stir in the butter and zest.

To prepare cake, in a large bowl, using an electric mixer set on medium speed, beat together butter and sugar until fluffy. Add eggs, 1 at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat in zest and vanilla. In a large bowl, mix together the flour, baking powder and baking soda. Reduce mixer speed to low. Alternately beat flour mixture and orange juice into egg mixture, beginning and ending with flour. Spoon half of the batter into prepared pan. Sprinkle with half of the streusel. Top with the remaining batter and streusel.

Bake until a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean, 30 to 35 minutes. Transfer pan to a wire rack to cool completely.

To prepare the glaze, in a cup, stir together confectioner's sugar and orange juice until smooth. Turn the cake out onto a serving plate, placing it right-side up. Drizzle with the glaze.

Loraine School receives reading grant

Loraine School received confirmation Sept. 3 that the school would be receiving the Academics 2000 Reading grant.

The amount of the grant is $62,950.50.

Loraine ISD partnered with Aspermont ISD, in Stonewall County, through Education Service Center XIV in Abilene to pursue a collaborative grant that totaled $150,000 for the two school districts.

The grant focuses on improving reading scores in grades PK-4 through developing a long-range plan for teaching reading and implementing a research-based PK-4 reading program.

Loraine School will accomplish these goals through staff development for school personnel, improved home-school connections, and a campus partnership with Aspermont Elementary.

Loraine School plans to use the grant funds to expand even more the technology gained through the recent TIF grant award that put computers on the campus.

Other expenditures are planned to purchase reading software and numerous books for the classrooms and the library.

Loraine School Principal Tanya Sorrells stated, "We had heard rumors for a long time that we had received the grant."

It was exciting to actually have the paperwork in hand. This grant will help us to serve our students even better and give us an opportunity to work with Aspermont ISD."

Ms. Sorrells continued, "There is still a lot of work to do to meet the specifications of the grant. The good thing is that this is a renewable grant, and Loraine is eligible to receive the grant for three years."

School Superintendent Ken Kendall added, "I am excited about receiving this grant. The staff worked throughout the spring on this reading grant, and we will continue to work to bring more grants to our school."

Kelley Elementary is starting a new garden project this fall.

We are asking the community to donate Iris, Tulip, Daffodil or Lily bulbs from your gardens.

If these bulbs have historical or special significance, we would like to know so that our flower beds will be filled with Mitchell County History.

If your grandparents brought some of these plants to Mitchell County and you would like to share the memories, please contact us.

We will be glad to come collect the plants and document their history for future students to learn about.

JV-black defeats Stamford

The Colorado Wolves JV black football team went to Stamford last Thursday and came away with an 18-6 victory to give them a 2-0 record on the season.

Standout running back Tony Leanos ran back the Bulldog kickoff 50 yards into Bulldog territory. Then on the third down, DJ Rivera connected with receiver/quarterback Andrew Spear for 34 yards to make it first and goal at the one.

Leanos then scampered in for his third touchdown of the season. The PAT kick failed making the score Wolves 6, Bulldogs 9 early in the first quarter.

Stamford answered with a 40 yard pass and a 15 yard touchdown run right before halftime to knot the score 6-6 at the break.

In the second half, the Wolves' Leanos scored on a one yard run. The two-point conversion attempt failed, giving the Pack a 12-6 lead.

Rivera took the snaps in the first half and Spear was given the reigns in the second half.

After successfully orchestrating a drive to the Bulldog 16 yard line, Spear rolled left and sped to the endzone for six.

Again, the PAT failed, making the final margin 18-6 in favor of the Wolves.

Notes from the Colorado Independent School District

By Kitten Arthur, Principal Kelley Elementary

If your child's teacher has mentioned ADHD/ADD to you as a possible reason for his/her distractibility, behavior, or academic struggles, plan to attend the ADD/ADHD workshop to be held at Kelley Elementary on Monday, September 28, 1998, at 5:15 p.m. This is a workshop for parents with children of all ages, and any interested family member is invited to attend.

Attention Deficit Disorder with or without hyperactivity (the "H" in the label) is a term increasingly being used by educators, psychologists, and physicians. It is not a "catchall" phrase to be used lightly, and the educators at Kelley have all been trained in identifying characteristics of the disorder. More importantly, the staff has been trained in individualizing their curriculum to assist ADHD children in the classroom.

What do we know about Attention Deficit Disorder? Plenty. Experts estimate that approximately 20% of all children have ADD or ADHD, and that boys are more likely to have it than girls. Some of the easily identifiable characteristics of ADD are distractibility (getting off task easily), daydreaming, the inability to follow a series of directions, irritability, and frustration with long term assignments. In cases of ADD with hyperactivity, you can see constant squirming or movement, playing with anything close at hand, hitting or kicking objects or people, and outbursts of uncontrolled anger. We also know that most ADD children are bright, and that they are usually not learning disabled, a common misconception.

There is no "cure" for the disorder, but with knowledge, you can teach your child to understand and organize his or her life to manage quite well. Medication is available and successful in many cases, but new diets strong in protein or even herbal remedies are flourishing as well. Recognition and knowledge of the disorder are the main tools to help you and your child have a productive year.

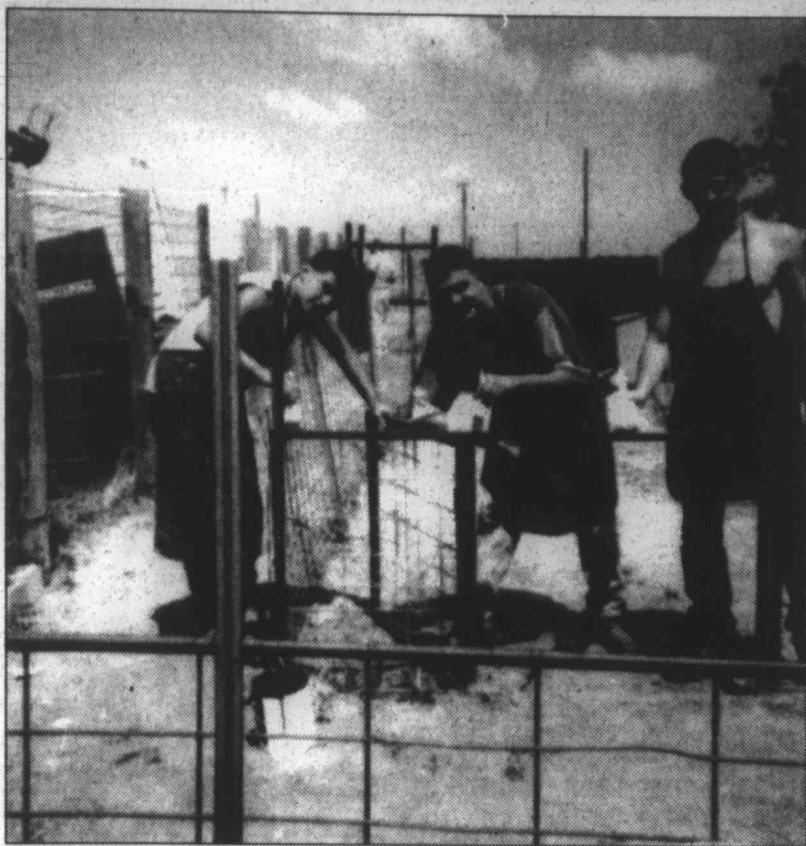

The workshop on Sept. 28 is designed to offer parents some quick tips in arranging home life to ensure their child's success in the classroom and at home. You'll have a chance to interact with other parents and the staff in a question and answer format in an informal setting. Watch for the flyer which will be coming home with your child. Babysitting and snacks will be provided. Hope you will join us for the evening!

Texas author to speak at Hutchinson Tuesday

Texas author Herm Marlow will be at Hutchinson Elementary in Colorado City Tuesday morning, September 15, 1998. Herb is the author of TWISTERS, BRONC RIDERS & CHERRY PIE, DILLON'S REVENGE, GHOST HORSE, and COUGAR!, all children's adventure books. The author presents programs at schools, libraries, bookstores, and other public events.

In the program, Herb tells stories from his books, but he is more than a storyteller. He encourages kids to write and to become authors themselves. He shares a secret with all children: "Anybody can write a book - and that means you!"

The author tells the children that "all writers are readers first - so keep on reading!" As Herb feigns roping a calf or being bucked off of a horse, his listeners hang on every word and gesture. Everyone loves this author's presentation. He is funny, yet he has a message for all, using the tools of his trade - words.

Drawing from his experiences and his imagination, this author has been telling stories most of his life, and now Ozark Publishing, Inc., and Four Seasons Books are publishing Herb's stories in book form for the pleasure of his readers. These books will be available at the presentation for everyone to purchase and have autographed.

As a former classroom teacher (listed in Who's Who Among America's Teachers), who holds a Ph.D. in Pastoral Counseling, Herb Marlow is a true friend to education. To complement his adventure books for children, Dr. Marlow also writes professional books: WHAT EVERY TEACHER AND PARENT SHOULD KNOW ABOUT ADD & ADHD, addressing problems and solutions for Attention Deficit Disorders and TIME OUT FOR TEACHERS: REFLECTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS, a manual to help teachers bring peace to themselves and to troubled situations in their classrooms.

Herb has also published stories and articles in several national publications, including, Country People, The Navy Times, The United Methodist Reporter and Western Digest. Wholesome reading material for teachers, children and families has long been a priority of this author. Everyone enjoys Herb's stories and books. Make plans today to come to this special event.

Wolves preparing for tough Stanton team

The Colorado City fighting Wolves travel to Stanton this week hoping to go 3-0 against a strong, state-ranked Buffalo team.

The Wolves have not started the season 3-0 since 1984, when the Pack went deep into the playoffs before being stopped in the regional contest with Littlefield.

To reach the 3-0 plateau this season, however, the Wolves must beat the defending 2A state champions, in their stadium.

Stanton, not surprisingly, are 2-0 after beating Greenwood 35-14 in week one and crushing Midland Christian 53-9 last weekend.

The Wolves will have their hands full handling second-team all-state quarterback Kyle Herm as he has a great line again this season.

In their first two games,

Stanton has amassed 636 yards rushing and 219 passing.

They are averaging 427 yards of offense per game thus far.

So far, the Wolves have only allowed 230 yards rushing in their first two games. The Pack has only allowed 181 yards passing.

Head Coach Gerald James knows that his guys are in for a battle as the Buffalos have won two out of three over the last three years.

"Stanton is gonna be a fight. They are the defending state champions and they look like it," says James.

"Their quarterback is one of the best I've seen."

If the Wolves want to break their 14 year streak of starting the season 2-1, or worse, they must go into Buffalo stadium and break an 18 game winning streak to do it.

Wolves 7th grade ties Stamford

THE SEVENTH GRADE COLORADO WOLVES had the Stamford Bulldogs hustling to make up lost ground last Thursday at Wolf Stadium, where the contest ended in a 6-6 tie. Chris Spear, No. 21, with the ball, had turned the corner with the help of No. 64, Chris Martinez, No. 31, Zach McPhaul, and No. 12, Nolan Cornutt.

The Colorado City Wolves seventh grade football team opened their 1998 season last Thursday in Wolf Stadium against the Stamford Bulldogs.

The young team begins their CISD football career with a 0-0-1 record as they tied the Bulldogs 6-6 in an exciting ballgame.

Offensively for the Wolves, quarterback Jacoby Russell was quite the leader as he passed for over 100 yards and rushed for another 18 in his debut behind center.

Fidel Silva picked up 12 yards rushing and Chris Spear added another 14 on the ground.

Sam Crockett had a couple of 14 yard runs for 28 yards net rushing and Sam Crockett caught a 45 yard pass from Russell to set up the team's only score from the three yard line.

The Wolf defense was solid in the tie as the only substantial Bulldog yardage came on a 90 yard touchdown run with 1:04 left in the third.

Linebackers Joel Jones and Jeremy Ragalado plugged holes and made tackles all day.

Chris Martinez, playing at defensive tackle, caused a fumble which the Wolves recovered to stop a potential Stamford scoring drive.

Nolan Cornutt had a good day for the Pack as he gathered three tackles in the game.

The seventh graders will play their first away game this Thursday in Stanton at 5 p.m.

Wolves 8th graders sneak by Stamford

The Colorado City Wolves eighth grade football team began the 1998 season with a solid 20-14 victory over the Stamford Bulldogs last Thursday in Wolf Stadium.

The Wolves' opening game victory continues a winning tradition by this group as they went 4-0 in district as seventh graders to win it all last year.

The victory was extra sweet for the guys as they had to come back from a 6-0 halftime deficit to win.

The Pack received the opening kickoff and Wolves' quarterback Jonathan Spear had a rough start as the 'Dogs intercepted at the Wolf 20 yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, the Bulldogs ran it in for the score.

The Wolves' John Ring blocked the PAT making the score Bulldogs 6, Wolves 0 with 5:59 remaining in the first quarter.

The kickoff was returned by Andre Wallace for seven yards to the Wolf 22.

Spear handed off to Kinji Johnson who brought the crowd to its feet with a rousing 17 yard burst. Johnson gained another eight yards on the next two plays to set up a third and short.

Quarterback Spear then got busy as he nailed two passes, for 20 and 24 yards, to Landon Graham, setting up a first and goal at the eight.

But the 'Dogs intercepted in the endzone and ran it back to their 45 yard line.

The Bulldogs turned the ball over on downs after one first down was allowed by a constantly improving Wolf defense.

But Spear and the boys got unlucky and had another pass picked off. No problem. The Wolf defense came in and got the ball back.

However, the Wolves went three and out to end the first half.

The Bulldogs returned the Wolf kick to their own 35 where, on the next play, a speedy little Bulldog raced 65 yards for the score.

All of a sudden, after the 'Dogs converted for two, the Wolves were trailing 14-0 with 7:37 left in the third.

After Wallace returned the kickoff 26 yards to the Bulldog 44, Spear found receiver Josh Ritchey for 21 yards.

Two plays later, Spear threw to Ritchey who made a great catch and run for an 18 yard score.

The two-point conversion failed, making it 14-6 Bulldogs with 4:07 left in the third quarter.

With the momentum going the Wolves' way, the 'Dogs fumbled the kickoff and Wallace recovered giving the Pack great field position at the Bulldog 32 yard line.

After an incomplete pass and a loss of four, Spear connected with Oscar Martinez for a 36 yard touchdown on third and 14.

Ritchey caught Spear's pass for the conversion with 2:56 left in the third making it a tie ballgame, 14-14.

The young team then started to put it all together as defensive halfback Johnson intercepted a Bulldog pass and then ran it in on the next play from 19 yards out.

The two-point conversion failed, but the Wolves led 20-14 with 1:15 remaining in the third quarter.

The Wolves, hungrier than ever now, gang tackled the 'Dogs' returner at the 16 yard line.

The Stamford kids displayed a lot of heart as they held possession throughout the fourth quarter and drove downfield to the Wolves' one yard line.

But the Wolves put on a display of determination themselves with a magnificent goal-line stand.

On third and goal, Ritchey tackled the runner for a seven yard loss making it fourth and goal from the eight with 25 seconds left in the game.

The mighty young Wolves held and got the ball back with 19 seconds left. Game over... Wolves 20, Bulldogs 14.

Coach Jerrold Epperson was pleased with the play of this talented group citing the efforts of QB Jonathan Spear and tailback Kinji Johnson.

Spear went 6-13 passing for 118 yards, two touchdowns and three interceptions.

Johnson collected 63 yards and a touchdown on the day.

The next battle for the 1-0 squad will be in Stanton Thursday, September 17 at 7 p.m.

Volleyballers sweep Mustangs

On Tuesday, Sept. 8, the Colorado Lady Wolves eighth grade volleyball teams traveled to Sweetwater and took both matches from the Lady Mustangs.

The B team took the court first and soundly defeated Sweetwater (15-6) (8-15) (15-0).

Ashley Gonzales led all scorers with 14 points as Melissa Rivera was hind with eight.

Theresa Cobb had six points and Misty Pineda squeezed out four points in the match.

Jessica Thompson added on three points as teammates Andrea Hoback, Jennifer Garcia and Shawna McGwire had one a piece.

The A team started out with a loss in game one, but composed themselves to win the match in games two and three (13-15) (15-9) (15-1).

The girls were led in scoring by Stephanie Boyd with 16 points as Jacki Davila wasn't far behind with 14.

Amanda Ramirez had five

The teams hosted Crane on Monday, Sept. 14 in Colorado City and didn't fare as well as the previous week.

The B team got to go first and lost in two, (3-15) (1-15).

Coach Mathis had asked the girls to use this technique for her.

Ashley, Andrea, Theresa and Heather Barr all had one point in the match.

In the A team match, the girls lost in two games as well (9-15) (5-15).

Sullivan runs in Chicago

Wendy Sullivan, a 1997 graduate of Colorado High School, participated in a cross country meet for her new school, the University of Chicago.

Wendy attended the North Central Invitational meet in Naperville, Ill. on Sept. 11.

Sullivan, a gifted track star while at CHS, is continuing to succeed in sports and represent her hometown with pride.

Wendy finished fourth out of 150 runners in the meet as her team also finished fourth out of 15 teams entered.

Wendy and her new teammates will participate in the University of Wisconsin-Parkside Invitational in Kenosha, Wisconsin this Saturday.

High points for the match were by Stephanie Boyd, who had six, followed by Terri Phariss with four.

Jacki Davila had three and Kotia Russell had one.

Coach Mathis saw some things the girls need to work on during the match.

"We came up on the short end, but we had a lot of long volleys. Our serving hurt us,"

7th grade Lady Wolves split Sweetwater games

The Colorado Lady Wolves seventh grade volleyball teams traveled to Sweetwater last Tuesday and split matches with the two Sweetwater teams.

In a truly back-and-forth match, the B team girls performed well and reluctantly lost the contest (15-1), (1-15), (10-15).

High point servers for Team B were Shalynn Harris and Nina Herrera.

The A team won their match against Sweetwater's A team (15-8), (12-15), (15-8). High point servers for the A match were Sarah McCombs, Ashley Wright and Sandra Leija.

On Monday, Sept. 14, the girls hosted the two Crane teams at Kelley gym in Colorado City.

The Lady Wolves B team lost in two games to the Crane girls (4-15) (10-15).

High points for the B match were Olivian Villian with two points in game one and Valerie Gonzales with seven points in game two.

The A team lost in a tight, three-game match to the mini-Cranes (6-15) (15-12) (14-16).

Coach Linda Mathis was pleased with the effort of all the girls.

"There were good passes by all the girls. Hannah Bassham and Sarah McCombs really made some good sets," says Mathis.

High point server in game one was Amanda Guerrero with four. Amanda and Ashley Wright had high points in game two with five and four respectively.

In game three, Ashley and Hannah had high points with five and four.

The girls' next match will be Monday, Sept. 21 at Kelly gym versus Big Spring.

The B team will play at 5 p.m. and the A team begins at 6 p.m.

GIRLS

Kendra Anderson leads the team in attacks with a whopping 77 kills. Kendra has 266 successful attacks out of 300 attempts and is poised to make another all-district run.

Rivera, another all-around player, is closest to Anderson with 10 kills on the season.

Jamie Mason leads the team in digs with 48 as Anderson is close behind with 42.

As a team, the girls are successful 60 percent of the time with this difficult defensive tactic.

District play and the road back to the playoffs begins Sept. 26 in Seminole for the fighting Lady Wolves.

Varsity volleyball team split games last week

The Colorado Lady Wolves varsity volleyball team played host to Midland Christian and Odessa High last Tuesday at the Pit.

The ladies split the two-match outing as they beat Midland Christian (15-5) (15-11) and lost to a salty OHS squad (13-15) (6-15).

In the match against Midland, dig numbers continue to climb as all the girls had successful dig attempts.

Randi Redwine, Kendra Anderson and Edwina Ceballos combined to go 10 for 19 on digs.

Margaret Ann Jameson continues to put up great numbers setting the ball as she went 51 of 53 for a 96 percent success ratio.

With a team serve percentage of 88 percent, Liz Rivera and Jamie Mason led the girls as they combined to go 17 of 21 with only two errors each.

Anderson led the attack with 21 attempts, four kills and no errors.

She was followed by Rivera, Redwine and Shari Ritchey. Liz and Randi were nine for nine on attacks and Shari was four for five with one kill.

The Odessa High match featured Anderson on the attack again as she produced five kills out of 22 attacks.

Staci Turnbow had a solid performance at serve with 14 attempts, one ace and no errors.

Blaine Conner had high percentage in digs with a 100 percent ratio on her two for two outing.

Miss Jameson led the girls at setting going 46 of 51, as Ann Marie Scott went three for three.

The girls travel to Lubbock Christian Tuesday before heading back to the panhandle this Saturday for a 2 p.m. match against Tahoka.

The Bulldogs took over at their 36 but went three and out with a punt on fourth and 15.

Byington returned the punt to the Wolf 39 with 4:14 left in the half.

On first and ten, the Wolves' offensive line moved Stamford out of the way and cleared Green for his 61-yard touchdown romp.

Byington's kick was good, giving the Pack a 14-0 lead with 4:02 left in the half.

Randy's kickoff went into the endzone and the Bulldogs had a first and ten on their 20.

After tackles for no gain by Potter and Robbie Atkins, Martinez sacked the quarterback for a six-yard loss and forced yet another Bulldog punt.

With great starting position at the Bulldog 45, Hill hit Jaime Alvarez in the numbers for a sure six points, but Alvarez dropped the pass and the score at halftime remained Wolves 14, Bulldogs 0.

Stamford came out in the third quarter ready to remove the goose egg on the scoreboard.

Set up by a 26-yard pass reception to receiver Dillon Cobb, the determined Bulldogs scored on fourth and goal from the 12 with a pass across the middle to Richardson.

The PAT was good, making it Colorado City 14, Stamford 7 with 7:29 remaining in the third.

Green returned the ensuing kickoff 20 yards to the Wolf 31 to begin a 48-yard scoring drive.

Hill passed to Green and Hoyle for 11 and 18 yards as Rocha and Green combined for 20 yards rushing to set up a 37-yard field goal by Byington.

With 4:25 left in the third, the Wolves were up 17-7.

After another Byington kickoff into the endzone, the 'Dogs started at their own 20 again.

Running to Chris Valenzuela's side was a bad idea for the Bulldogs as Chris stuffed them twice, forcing yet another three and out punt.

On this series, the Wolves burned valuable time off of the clock with Green rushing for 42 yards.

However, after penalties for delay of game and intentional grounding, Hill found himself in a third-and-30 hole.

Hill's pass to Byington was then tipped and intercepted by the Bulldogs at their 34-yard line.

The Wolves didn't budge, though, allowing Stamford only six total yards on this drive and the next.

With four minutes left in the game, sophomore Chase Pharris came in to get some snaps at quarterback.

Pharris, who started the first week's winning effort against Ballinger, threw into coverage and was picked off at midfield with 2:59 left in the game.

But Hoyle and company did not give up any more points as Brett sacked the quarterback for a comfortable 17-7 victory in week two.

Ortiz wins Jackpot Football

Carrie Ortiz of Colorado City won this week's Jackpot Football Contest with only seven misses.

Carrie will receive $50 in football bucks to spend at any of the fine merchants sponsoring the contest.

The "bucks" come in $5 coupons which can be picked up at the Record Office by the winner.

This week there were six runners-up in the contest who may pick up their goodies at the Record also.

These contestants will receive coupons for burgers and fries at B & B One Stop.

Runner up contestants were Gabriel Garcia, Terry Bates, Ismael Silva, Randy Anderson, Phil Ball and Dawson McGuffin.

Look on page 12 of today's edition and try your luck at picking the winners.

The contest is a lot of fun and costs absolutely nothing to play.

Westbrook rolls Trinity

The Westbrook Wildcats traveled to Midland last Friday night and had a strong second half to beat Midland Trinity 46-26.

The first quarter was Trinity's as Westbrook was down 13-8 when the second quarter began.

The Wildcats took control, though, as they scored 13 points in the second quarter to up at the half 21-19.

After the break, the Wildcats would continue to roll in the third with 12 unanswered points.

Westbrook added 13 more in the final period to come out with a pretty solid victory.

Roland Matos led rushers with 117 yards on 14 attempts with one touchdown.

James Matos had 89 yards on nine carries as he added another twelve points for the Wildcats.

Ubaldo Guterrez scored two touchdowns for the Cats, one coming on a 30 yard screen pass from Sam Harless.

Chris Chambers and Brad Hale scored a touchdown each in the Wildcats' first win.

Quarterback Harless was 11-19 passing for 162 with one interception and two touchdowns.

Brad Hale went five for nine passing for 49 yards and one pick.

Chris Chambers was two for two for 28 yards and a score and gathered 78 yards and a score on 11 attempts rushing.

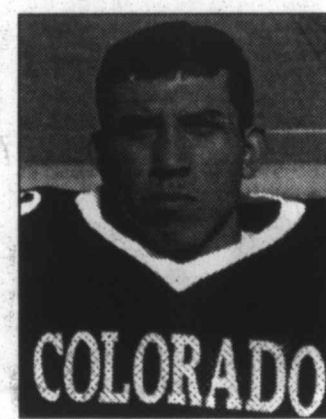

Coach Jim Hill knows his team has a few things to work on, even though they won.

"I felt like we played more physical. Sam is throwing the ball better and making better reads. We need to work on our defense and kicking game."

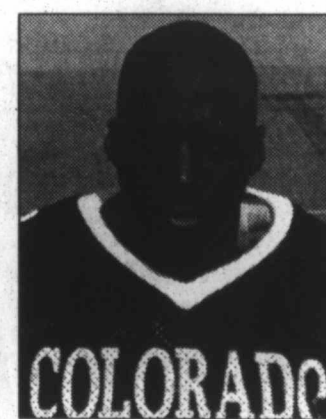

"Going two for seven on extra points can hurt. Our defense needs to step up this week," said the coach.

loraine news

Loraine loses another close one

Lueders-Avoco used a punishing ground game to wear down the Loraine Bulldog defense and claiming a 44-28 win over the air minded "Dogs" in a football contest played in Loraine last Friday night.

Loraine's defense held Lueders-Avoco on a fourth and one situation on the Raider's opening possession but after that they would only be able to force them to punt one more time the rest of the game.

The Raiders drew first blood when Scott Anders scored the first of his four touchdowns of the night on a 12 yard run with 3:25 left in the initial period. The PAT was good, putting the Raiders ahead 8-0.

Early in then second stanza Loraine returned the favor when junior Rene Garcia plunged in from the 1 yard line to bring the Bulldogs to within two after the failed kick attempt by Mike Rico. Less than three minutes later the Raiders increased their lead when Anders scored again, this time on a 6 yard run.

The PAT was again good, putting Lueders up 16-6 with six minutes left to go in the first half.

It only took fourteen seconds for the Bulldogs to get on the scoreboard again. This time Luis Rico hooked up with Leonard Williams on a play pattern that resulted in a 38 yard touchdown. The extra point kick by Mike Rico was true to the mark, bringing Loraine to within two points again at 16-14.

The Raiders once again used their bruising ground game to march the length of the field coping the drive on Anders 1 yard touchdown plunge. The PAT failed leaving the score 22-14 in favor of Lueders.

The Raider's defense stiffened on the Bulldogs next possession forcing Loraine to punt.

Not content to run out the clock before half-time the Raiders once again ran the ball at Loraine with quarterback Jody Hawey culminating the drive on a 7 yard touchdown run with 29 seconds to go in the half. Howey then tossed a pass to Clay Jones for the extra point to close out the scoring in the first half of play.

The second half would turn out to be a defensive battle with Lueders only outscoring Loraine 15-14.

Lueders scored on their first possession of the second half on Scott Anders fourth touchdown of the night when he carried the ball in from the 4 yard line. Anders kick was good, stretching the Raiders lead to 37-14.

Phillip Davis would close out the Raider scoring for the night when he raced in to score on a 16 yard run with 48 seconds left in the third quarter of play. Anders extra point run was good stretching Lueders lead to 44-14, the longest of the night.

The final period however belonged to Loraine.

With 4:24 left to go in the game Rene Garcia scored on a 7 yard run. Jesse McDaniel's extra point attempt failed leaving the Bulldogs down 44-20.

The Bulldogs forced the Raiders to turn the ball over on downs and with 28 seconds left to in the game, senior Josh Wooddell plunged in from the 1 yard line after a Luis Rico to Wooddell "Hail Mary" pass set up the score. This time McDaniel's kick was good to close of 44-28.

Loraine attempted an onside kick in order to get the ball back but Lueders recovered the ball and ran out the final seconds to secure the win.

"It's the same old story," said Coach Jeremy Miller. "We still were unable to put two halves together."

"We didn't have a good week in our practices and I was a little afraid we might have a let down," said coach Miller. "We just didn't play with the intensity level we did last week and it showed. All we can do now is get ready to play Midland Trinity next week," he concluded.

Bulldogs prepare for Midland Trinity

The Loraine Bulldogs take to the road for the first time this season and hope it will be kinder then playing at home.

The Bulldogs have dropped to 0-2 after their first two games played at home. This week they travel to Midland to take on private school Midland Trinity, a team still looking for their first win also.

While Loraine was losing 44-28 to Lueders-Avoco last week Midland Trinity was getting dredged by the Westbrook Wildcats 46-26.

Loraine did get a look at what they can expect when the two teams tangled in a pre-season scrimmage in which the "Dogs" dominated 5-1.

"We really need to go to Midland and come back with a win," said Loraine head coach Jeremy Miller.

Game time for this week's contest will be 5 p.m.

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

Greetings! I hope you had a good week with some interesting things to do.

I haven't heard a word about snakes, the weather or war in foreign places since television viewing is the name of the game in recent days.

TV news coverage is saturated with everything one will ever want to know about infidelity in high places and then some (day in and day out!).

I do like to stay fairly well informed about important matters happening in our country, but I doubt this story will end for a long time.

It might be like a soap opera, miss your story for a year, then catch up in a few short minutes. Let us hope not!

Royce and Margaret Mahon spent last weekend in Sherman visiting with James and Sandra Mahon and family. They also visited with daughter Susan and Tiffany.

Virgil and Geraldine Parnell spent Labor Day weekend in Big Spring and then in Ackerly to visit Geraldine's brother, Edgar Herm and his wife, Oma (Richburg) Herm.

Chris Hall and family from Brownwood have been in Loraine visiting relatives and his grandmother, Chrystene Hall in the Sweetwater Hospital.

This past week, Tommy Jean (Riden) Atchinson and her husband, Charles, were here and in Sweetwater.

Visiting in the home of Juanice Butler last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hughes of Carlsbad; Louise Hart Crenshaw of Fort Worth; Scott and Michael Irwin, Waco; Kennie Irwin, Houston; Ruby Homad, Houston; Danny and Pam Butler, Loraine; Paul and Dawn Dropp, Abilene; Chrystal Butler, Abilene; Cathy Vanderender, Clovis, New Mex.; Anita Irwin and Rita Beights McGaughey, Richardson.

Also Mary Beights Landfred, Roscoe, Harry, Doris and Jim Dockery, Colorado City; Ed and Janice Hammon, Monahans; Truitt and Betty Butler, Houston; Homar and Dorothy Nance, Midland; Peggy Hall, Midland and Jay and Lamone Hart, Midland.

We have concerns at this time for Laura Stewart and Chrystene Hall.

Fonda, Donnie and Brad O'Bannon welcome triplets into the world Wed., Sept. 9 at 10:02, 10:03 and 10:04 a.m. at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock.

Dillon Grant weighed 4 lbs, 8 oz. and was 17 1/2 inches long. Hope Audianna weighed 4 lbs., 3 1/2 oz. and was 16 1/2 inches long.

Dane Griffin weighed 4 lbs., 12 oz. and was 17 inches long.

Narl and Joan Long are the proud grandparents. They scrubbed down, put on gowns and received permission into intensive care for newborns to see the babies. The mother is fine and babies are healthy and beautiful.

Just ask Joan if she has pictures!

Jack and Mary Love Allbright visited with Syble Walker at Loraine Manor last Sunday, also taking her to the celebration for Juanice Butler's 80th birthday.

Debbie Zabica and Joshua were in Loraine again last Friday visiting Margaret Brame. The family group came to the center to socialize and have lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Piatt, Nathan, Tyler and Faith of Keller, Texas, along with Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Merket, Garrett and Amber Kay of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Merket of Lubbock, Derrick and Cassie of Colorado City, Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Merket and Ryan of Lamesa visited Narl and Joan Long on Labor Day. Everyone then went to Champion for the golden wedding anniversary of Jimmy and Dorothy Merket on Sept. 6.

Lay reader Jason Kendall delivered Sunday morning's worship service last week at United Methodist Church due to the absence of Pastor Glenda Johnson.

SENIOR CENTER

Dexter and Dorothy Norwood, Charles Dunn and Gus Armstrong entertained us at the center with beautiful music last Friday. They have a great sound - we like their musical selections.

It was nice to have Vida Mae McDaniel back at the center to have lunch and visit friends and neighbors.
