Lake Controlled By P&W, Not City

The city council Tuesday night in the regular monthly meeting will again discuss some type of regulation for boating and skiing on Lake Colorado City, but this time, according to city manager James Campbell, with a better understanding of the council's responsibility.

Campbell has had time to dig through agreements made with Texas Electric Service Company and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. According to the original agreement with TESCO, made March 1, 1949, the city had full jurisdiction over the use of the waters of the lake for recreational purposes.

Subsequently, when part of the lake became a state park, the city still retained jurisdiction over the recreational use of the lake and the Parks and Wildlife Dept. became a third party.

In October, 1971, the agreement was again amended, the city relinquishing any control over recreational use to the P&W.

Campbell said this last agreement was put away somewhere and not found until the past two weeks after he had contacted the director and assistant director of the P&W.

He said the issue of regulating boating and skiing at the lake was first raised by the law enforcement part of P&W and he assumed that division had no knowledge of the 1971 agreement.

Ronnie Aston, game warden in Mitchell County, had appeared before the council in June, requesting that the city pass some type of ordinance that would regulate boating and skiing on the lake.

The issue then became a heated controversy between those wishing some type of regulation and those wanting none. Large delegations from both sides appeared before the council in both July meetings of the body, presenting their views.

The council reached a decision in their last workshop session to instruct drawing up an ordinance which would limit skiing and fast boating to the main body of the lake, imposing a five - mile-per-hour-no-wake speed limit on Morgan and Cherry Creeks.

Campbell said that the council will probably pass a resolution that will recommend the Parks and Wildlife Dept. follow their suggestion that the creek areas be used only for swimming and fishing, restricting skiing to the main lake area. Also included in their resolution will be a suggestion that boat motors be muffled and no airboats be allowed on the lake.

It will be up to the Texas P&W to take action on the matter, he said.

The department has the power to set rules and regulations governing the health, safety and protection of persons and property within state parks and lakes included in the state park system, which would include all the waters in Lake Colorado City.

The power was granted the state parks department by the Texas legislature in March and it becomes effective September 1, 1975.

All activities of park users is included in the enabling act, including camping, swimming, boating, fishing or other recreational activities, plus a clause regulating the conduct of individuals which endangers the health or safety of park users or their property.

A lengthy agenda for the council meeting also includes discussion of an ordinance setting gas rates in the city.

Campbell said that Lone Star Gas Co. is requesting an increase of about 16 per cent, from the present rate of $2.4169 for 1,000 MCF to $2.6149, an increase of .1980 cents (almost 20¢).

The gas rate in 1972 was $2 for the first 1,000 MCF (thousand cubic feet of gas) and with the automatic gas cost adjustment approved by the Texas Railroad Commission, has risen to the present rate of $2.4169 for the first 1,000 MCF.

Information about the rate increase request has been compiled by local Lone Star manager W. W. Turner in a letter to Campbell.

Other items on the agenda include:

--Ordinance creating certain speed zones around the hospital and nursing homes.

--Presentation of the 1974-75 audit by Joe H. Morren.

--Contract with Mitchell County Community Action Program Inc. concerning rental of the Community Center on 10th Street.

--Approval of a contract with Earl G. Taylor, caretaker of Fisher Park on Champion Lake.

--Closed executive session concerning discussion of property.

Resident Engineer Wilkinson Retiring

Ben Wilkinson, for 23 years Resident Engineer in Colorado City for the State Department of Highways and Transportation, will retire August 31.

Wilkinson, a 37-year veteran with the department, went to work in August of 1930 but took a leave of absence in July 1942 to work with the U.S. Engineers on the Pan American Highway in South America.

He returned to the Department in July of 1943 but left in November of that year to accept a commission in the U.S. Navy Construction Battalion. He returned again to service with the department in 1946.

Wilkinson resigned from the department in 1951 to enter business for himself as a consulting engineer in Colorado City. His company designed many of the present streets in the city.

He returned to the state in 1954 as a resident engineer. During his tenure, Wilkinson was in charge of most of the interstate construction through Mitchell and Howard Counties.

Born August 1910, in Throckmorton, Wilkinson attended public schools in Throckmorton and business college in Fort Worth. He received his engineering license in 1948.

Wilkinson and his wife, the former Mildred Parrott, have one son and three grandchildren. They live at 1916 Locust in Colorado City.

"Present plans are for Joe Smoot, Big Spring Resident Engineer, to assume the duties of Resident Engineer in Colorado City. He will continue to live in Big Spring and manage that office as well," said District Engineer Roger G. Welsch of Abilene.

Government Wants Plane

The U.S. Government is seeking a court order to get permission to take control of the twin-engine aircraft used in February to deliver 1,500 pounds of marijuana that resulted in a giant drug raid at Colorado City.

Three men were arrested and convicted in connection with the incident after Mitchell County sheriff's office shot at the plane holding a huge shipment of marijuana on Feb. 2.

On June 10 the men were sentenced after pleading guilty before 32nd Dist. Judge Weldon Kirk. Anthony Thomas Baldi Jr., 27, of Austin and Bruce A. Mettler, 26, of Las Cruces, N.M. both received three-year prison sentences and $5,000 fines.

Baldi was charged with delivery of marijuana, and Mettler was charged with felony possession of marijuana. The third man, Roy T. Boyd, 28, also of Las Cruces, received a two-year term and $5,000 fine for delivery of marijuana.

The government in a complaint filed in U.S. District Court in Abilene seeks to have the 1961 twin-engine Aero-Commander condemned and forfeited to the U.S. The plane is still being held at Colorado City-county airport.

Sorenson Moving

Bill Sorenson, district manager for Dowell, Division of Dow Chemical office here for the past nine years, is moving to Alice where he will take charge of the Dowell district that stretches to the valley. He and his wife, Frankie, have two sons-Tony will be a freshman business major at Texas Tech this fall and Rick is a junior law student at the University of Texas after receiving his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech.

Dockrey said that a meeting originally set for Snyder earlier this year was postponed and a Snyder group, has already stated their intention to attend.

No admission is charged for the meeting. Refreshments will be served during a break between program sections.

Dockrey said that anyone interested in the program is welcome to attend the meeting which will be centered around a clarification of density altitude's effects on take-off and landings and a discussion of pilot responsibility regulations.

A Good Way To Confuse The World

Have you ever been driving along when a car whizzes by and you, being the civic minded person you are, think-I'm gonna turn that person in!'? So you ready your mind to absorb the license plate number and the 'number' reads, PD#1 or CO. COP. Slowly it dawns on you that the person that just passed you is the Chief of Police or the County Sheriff.

The type of license plate that you saw is commonly known as 'personalized or prestige' tags. In an age where everything is becoming more impersonal and ordered by numbers it seems that more people are turning toward this type of self advertising.

Whether it's a conscious or subconscious outlet, it's there and it makes for more interesting driving.

In Mitchell County alone there are around 22 of these tin badges on cars to let the other drivers know what kind of wit they are passing or is passing them.

Some of the tags are bought for commercial reasons. They either name a product or a store.

Local examples of commercial wit and wisdom are found in such tags as KATFISH for Cultured Cat Fish Inc. on Highway 80; FOAM TX for the plant that processes carpet padding; the four SPADE licenses that the Renderbrook Spade Ranch has. This, according to Bob Northcutt of Spade Ranch, helps to identify the insignia on the sides of the Spade vehicles.

The commercial bit also affects the farming part of the county. Ever see a melon on wheels? Travis Turner, who has raised watermelons for the last 18 years, has one. Really it's his tags that read 'MELON'. After 18 years of raising them what else could he put?

Chemicals also get into the act. W. A. Findley sells Thimet, a cottonseed chemical. His tags read 'THIMET'. Which isn't unusual, if you are familiar with cotton chemicals.

For the most part the main reason for the license plates are because they are 'personal'. Where else could one tell the world off and not get into trouble? Where else could one's friends and family put messages that no one else can understand?

These types of tags are a true outlet for a quick wit or deep philosophical thoughts.

Some of the quick wits around town are found on cars of such personages as Charles Root, hospital administrator. If ever you see a man driving a Jaguar car with plates 'SENILE' attached to it, it's Root. The tags were a joke from Dr. Kenneth Cowan.

Another personal one says 'GET OUT'. It belongs to the Crouts who own/run Maniss Office Supply. Crout's favorite expression is "get out." He may not mean it but he'll say it. Whenever he and his wife go to a party they enter the room to a chorus of "get out."

Several license plates have scrambled or coded thoughts. One belongs to David and Linda Marion. Once seen it will cause one to ponder. Well ponder no more, here's the anser to their mysterious plate--TAMC65.

She explained that it stands for 'Texas A&M College, class of 65'.

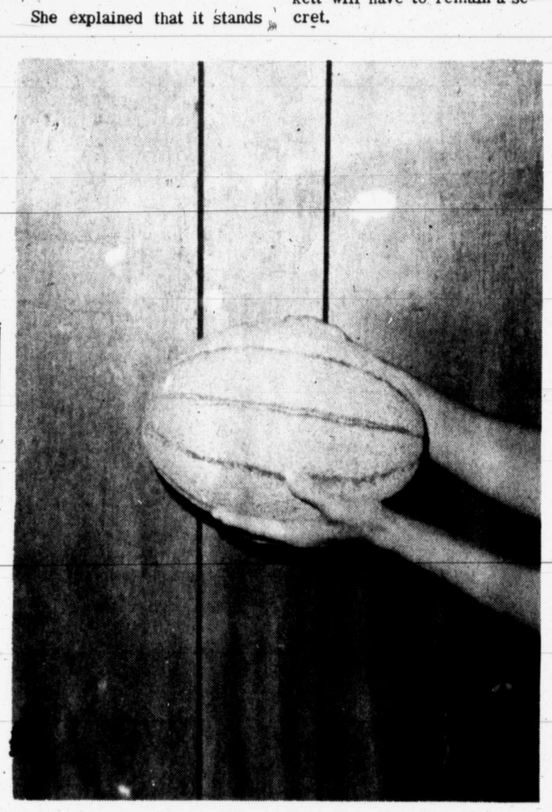

Other mysteries around the county are owned by such people as John Martin with his five 'J's' and one 'M'. The plate looks like 'JJJJJM'. What could it stand for?

Another is SPROTT on one tag and OMALEE on another. It's owned by James Sprott. A good guess is that it's their names but don't bet on it.

'WBCE' owned by Bill Crockett will have to remain a secret.

There are others that catch one's eye and hold it. One owned by Bruce Crockett--BSHROD (could that be a new spelling for bushrod?) and 'OOGIE2' carried by A. K. McCarley would keep a prophet wondering for years.

But that's the fun and satisfaction of these tags. It's nice to know that in a world becoming more and more controlled by numbers, there are still places that each person can be an individual. Even if it is on just a piece of tin.

Childrens Clothes Fun, Functional

Young children's clothes can be fun and functional--and at the same time help children develop social and physical skills, Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist, said this week.

"Clothing that's easy to get on and off helps a child develop self-confidence and encourages independence in dressing.

"Learning to dress is not an easy task for a child, and he may become inpatient if dressing takes too long, or if he must ask for help," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

A self-help garment is one which the child can put on and take off with little or no help from an adult.

"They should have adequate armholes, sleeves and necks which are large enough to get into easily; stretch fabrics; elastic waistbands and wristbands; and distinct front and back openings or openings which have the front and back marked as with contrasting thread on the inside.

"Also left and right marks as in shoes and gloves; attached belts and sashes (avoid separate belts which often get twisted and are hard to handle, as well as sashes which tie in the back) and shoes which do not have to be tied, such as those without laces or with elastic laces that stretch when putting shoes on."

F. F. Brown of Midland and family caught a large string of crappie fishing off the Fish-A-Rama.

Mr. Walker of Colorado City left the lake with a basket of crappie caught off the Fish-A-Rama and James Harris of Odessa also landed a bunch of crappie.

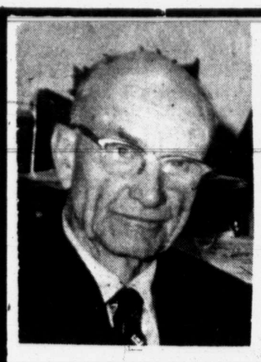

Thompson and family loaded up on crappie weighing from 1 1/2 lbs. to 2 lbs.

LOUIE'S LAKESIDE LODGE- No report.

CHERRY CREEK - No report.

FISHER PARK - The park also reported a number of crappie being caught.

The only good size fish reported was a 4 1/2 pound black bass caught by Mrs. Floyd Renfro.

GOD IS LOVE

Bobby Chaney

Pastor

Christian Temple

Colorado City

"And I have declared unto them thy name and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them." (John 17:26)

In this passage of scripture, Jesus has given us a truth that needs to be applied to our lives today. John 17 gives us a view of Jesus praying to the Father for every believer. He closes the prayer by asking the Father to put the same love in us that the Father has for the Son. This says to us, if we belong to Jesus, that the Father's love should be manifested through us. How many of us are really walking in the love of God? I haven't seen many Christians walking in the Father's love.

The Father's love for the Son is great; yet, He sent Jesus to die for you and me. This gives me the hint that God really loves you and me. In fact, the Bible states that he loved us even before we loved Him. We did not draw the Father's love by our loving him. His love has always been there for us! If God loved us in this manner, we ought also to love one another. We should love those that do not love us. If we love those in the manner the Father loves, the Father will draw them to us in love. The love that God bestows upon a person cares for the needs of others, and draws them to him. We are not to just pat them on the back, and say be well fed; but we are to give ourselves to supplying that need.

In sending His son to die for us, the Father shows that he loves us as much as the Son. 1 John 3:1 states: "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God; therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew Him not." Brethern, we are the sons of God! Let that soak into our minds and hearts. God so loved you and me that he has made us His sons. We are His children! I tell you, our lips should be shouting forth praise unto our Father because we are the family of God.

How do we obtain sonship? "For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God." "For you have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but you have received the Spirit of Adoption, whereby we cry, abba (father, daddy), Father. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God. And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ, if so be that we suffer with Him, that we may be also glorified together." (Romans 8:14-17). We become the sons of God when we say, "yes, Lord, I will follow you; and will let your Spirit direct my paths." At that moment, we are released from bondage of fear, and from the law of sin and death; and receive the Spirit of adoption. We are not alone any longer. God has placed in us His spirit that we cry out to Him rejoicing, Abba (father, daddy), Father. If you have a longing in your heart, God has outstretched arms calling unto you: "Come, and be my son." When we become children, we become heirs of God and joint-heirs with Christ. So, what the Father has given the Son, He gives to us through Jesus Christ our Lord.

If we are the sons of God, then the love of the Father is evident in our lives. The Father's love is brought forth clearly in 1 Corinthians 13 in the Amplified: "The Father's love endures long and is patient and kind; love never envious nor boils over with jealousy; is not boastful or vainglorious, does not display itself haughtily. It is not conceited--arrogant and inflated with pride; it is not rude (unmannerly), and does not act unbecomingly. Love (God's love in us) does not insist on its own rights or its own way, for it is not self-seeking; it is not touchy or fretful or resentful; it takes no account of the evil done to it--pays no attention to a suffered wrong. It does not rejoice at injustice and unrighteousness, but rejoices when right and truth prevail. Love (God's love) bears up under anything and everything that comes, is ever ready to believe the best of every person, its hopes are fadeless under all circumstances and it endures everything (without weakening). Love never fails--never fades out or becomes obsolete or comes to an end."

"Beloved let us love one another, for love is of God; and everyone that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for GOD IS LOVE."

Family Vacation Tips

Parents can help make vacation travel with young children a pleasure rather than a hassle, Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist, said this week.

"Whether the vacation involves a trip to the lake, Gulf coast, or a visit with relatives, chances are part of the traveling will be by automobile," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted.

She suggested some ways for making travel with young children more enjoyable for everyone.

"Tell the children in advance about trip plans. Let them know where they will be going and what the family will be doing. If possible, involve the children in planning some of the activities for the trip."

"Young children will be excited about plans for a trip. They may also become upset sooner and tire more easily. A good travel schedule should include plenty of short rest stops so children will not become too restless.

"Plan to stop for meals as close to your family's regular mealtime schedule as possible. Stop early enough to get the children clean and relaxed before supper and then into bed at about their normal bedtime."

Co-Op Meeting

It was announced during the meeting that Nelda Garrett (right photo), long-time employee of the Co-Op and office manager, will be retiring in January.

Boat Questions Answered

Texas' 460,000 boat owners ask the Parks and Wildlife Department numerous questions each year about the use of their boats.

Some of the most frequently asked questions, and the answers, are:

"Do I have to register my 16-foot canoe?"

No, not unless a motor is installed. If you plan to take your canoe to other states, check on their canoe registration requirements.

"I have an inflatable rubber boat and am planning to use an electric motor on it for fishing. Do I have to register it?"

Yes, the Texas Water Safety Act requires registration of all boats propelled by a motor (even inflatables) regardless of motor type, horsepower or length of boat.

"My brother is visiting Texas this summer and is bringing his boat. Will he have to register it in Texas to use it here?"

No, if the out-of-state visitor has his boat properly registered in his home state, Texas will honor that registration, as will other states when Texans visit them with their boats.

"How do I register my boat?"

Boats can be registered at most Texas Parks and Wildlife Department offices, or by obtaining the proper form, completing it and mailing it with fee to the department's Austin office.

"I have a 55-horsepower motor on my boat. What is the registration fee?"

Horsepower has nothing to do with cost of registration in Texas. Boats are divided into four classes according to length, and fees vary from $6 for motorboats less than 16 feet to $15 for boats of 40 feet and over. Certificates of Number are good for two years from date of issuance and then must be renewed.

"I have a 16-foot motorboat. What type of life-saving equipment do I need?"

Safety equipment requirements vary for the four classes of boats, but a Coast Guard-approved personal flotation device (PFD) is required for each person aboard any motorboat in Texas. On all boats 16 feet and longer there must be a wearable PFD for each person aboard, and in addition, at least one throwable PFD is required. The operator of any boat less than 26 feet long must require every passenger 12 years of age or under to wear an approved PFD while the boat is underway.

Popular Demonstration

Reeves Junkin, Department of Public Safety marksman, demonstrated his shooting abilities for the enjoyment of the crowd attending the Law Enforcement Appreciation Day barbeque last week. Assisting with the demonstration was Colorado City DPS officer Buddy Hertenberger, right.

Cleanup Project

The city work force has been aided by summer workers funded through West Central Texas Council of Governments Manpower program. A crew was busy last week at Ruddick Park, getting the grounds cleaned up and trash hauled off. Other crews have been cleaning up alleys in the downtown area and painting street markers on curbs.

Pres. Ford To Speak At Museum Ceremony

President Gerald R. Ford will speak at dedication ceremonies for Midland's new Permian Basin Petroleum Museum Saturday, Sept. 13.

News of the President's coming has awakened curiosity as to what he may say regarding domestic energy policy and also as to what the museum itself is all about.

Only the White House has the answer to the first question, but museum leaders have plenty to say about the second.

Russell J. Ramsland, vice president of J. C. Barnes Oil Co. and president of the museum, calls the latter "a colorful, imaginative place that doesn't hide its pride in the petroleum industry's people, history and scientific accomplishments."

Emil C. Rassman, Midland attorney and chairman of the Board of Executors, refers to the museum as a "first-class educational institution that will benefit us, our children, our grandchildren, and on into the future."

Museum people quickly kill any notion that the museum idea was cooked up after the nation's energy difficulties began. It had nebulous beginnings about 10 years ago, got a non-profit charter in 1967 and began fund-raising in 1969.

With all exhibits in final construction stages, the shape of what visitors will see is evident.

For one, there's a "Living Map" exhibit that shows highlights of geologic and oil history in the Permian Basin, (which, by the way, covers much of West Texas and four southeastern New Mexico counties).

A sequence of historical exhibits is built around a collection of paintings by such artists by Tom Lovell, East Norwalk, Conn., and Frank Gervasi, Alpine, Texas.

The museum has re-built the floor of a cable-tool drilling rig and has contrasted it with a beautifully-scaled model of a rotary rig that works.

"Boomtown rooms" call up the mid-1920's, with store fronts, boardwalks and a mesquite tree.

The world's largest marine diorama, created by an artist-paleontologist named Terry Chase, will show the West Texas sea-floor as it looked 230 million years ago.

The museum will have cost an estimated $1.7 million when it opens to the general public during the days following President Ford's dedication.

All of the money, according to Ramsland, was raised "the hard way - by asking for it." There have been more than 800 donors and the bulk of the funds came from foundations, independent oil producers, local businesses and "a miscellany of folks."

The museum will open still owing "something less than $100,000," Ramsland says. "We're continuing to count on public support to pay us out, build up an operating reserve and eventually help us expand."

Card Of Thanks

To the citizens of Mitchell County, the Sheriff's Department would like to thank all the people present for the Law Enforcement Appreciation Day barbeque and program and especially to the people who organized and co-ordinated the event. Our deepest thanks and we will pledge to improve our department and our service to the wonderful people of Mitchell County.

Just a few days left and summer vacation will become a memory for area school students.

There will be no more sleeping-in and enjoying the long days -- just back in the routine of about nine months of school days, homework, activities, tests. . . .

With school just around the corner, kids will be cramming the week with as much fun as they can.

Althought, it won't be all fun since there are necessary things to do to get ready for school.

Students will be getting registered for their classes, preparing their wardrobes with all sorts of "snazzy" duds and the seniors at Colorado High School will have their pictures taken for the school annual.

CISD school students will be pre-registering all this next week with the first day of classes set for Monday, August 18.

Middle School registration for eighth graders will be Thursday afternoon in the old Junior High School building.

Friday morning seventh graders in Middle School and elementary students in Kelley and Hutchinson will register.

Sixth graders in Middle School will register Friday afternoon in the old Junior High building.

High School Freshmen and new students will also register Friday with the senior boys registering at 9 a.m. and will also have their pictures taken at this time.

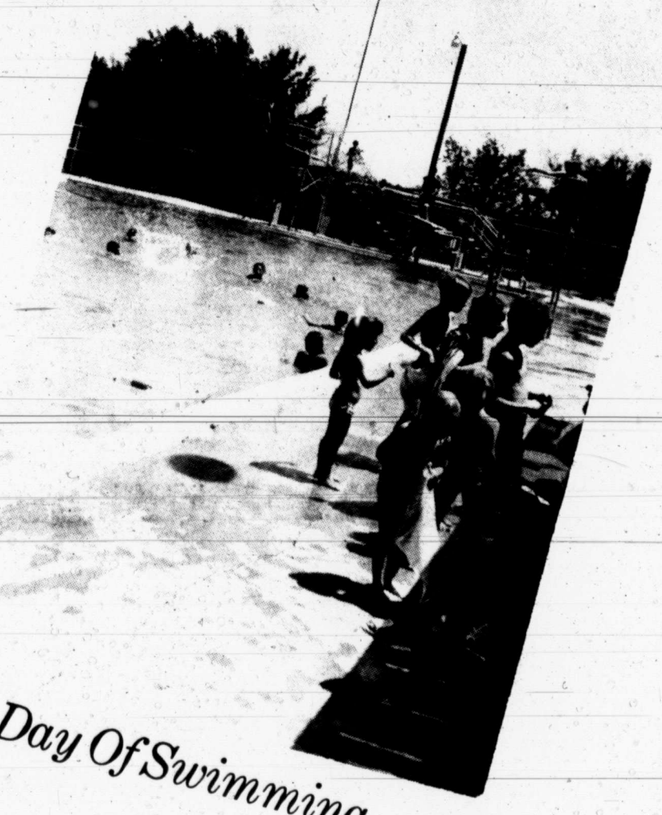

Senior girls will register Friday afternoon beginning at 1 p.m. and will also have their pictures taken during the registration hours.

Loraine High School and Junior High students have already registered with that being taken care of the last day of school in the last school term.

Students in Kindergarten through sixth grade will be registered Tuesday and Wednesday and new students to the school district will register Wednesday afternoon between the hours of 2-4 p.m.

Thursday will be the first day of classes for the Loraine school district.

Westbrook students will start their new school year Monday August 18 and they will not pre-register. Students will sign-up in their classrooms when school starts Monday.
