Chalmers To Reopen Plant In Milwaukee

Government Asks Factory To Resume Full Operation

MILWAUKEE, March 27 (AP)—The Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. strike-bound since Jan. 22, today instructed some of its production workers to report for duty this afternoon in order that full operations of $45,000,000 worth of national defense orders can be resumed tomorrow morning.

This was the company's answer to the federal government's demand for immediate cessation of the strike. Which threw 7,800 production men out of work and has delayed construction of 25 destroyers for the U. S. navy and powder mill operations.

The government's order was dispatched from Washington by Secretary of Navy Knox and William S. Knudsen, director of the office of production management, late yesterday. Repeating by telegram, the company said today that it would comply with the request which it has made in the interest of national defense.

All of our employees are being called in to report for work. Some are being called in for work this afternoon so that the plant may be in full operation by tomorrow (Friday) morning.

"As you suggest, negotiations will be continued with the union bargaining committee (representing local 248 of the CIO United Automobile Workers union) while all men are at work, and such pay increases as are finally agreed upon will be made retroactive to the day operations are resumed."

The telegram was over the signature of Max W. Babb, company president.

RICHMOND, Ind., March 27 (AP)—After a bloody, head-bashing battle between local police and pickets at the gates of the International Harvester plant here this morning, state police raided the downtown headquarters of the CIO Farm Equipment Workers organizing committee and arrested all those in the headquarters on assault and battery charges.

Those arrested included Clifford Kerr, president of the FEWOC local, and Robert Foley, an organizer.

Captain Walter Eckert, who led the state police, said about 160 of his men had been concentrated at the Richmond in anticipation of disorders in connection with the reopening of the Harvester plant, closed since the FEWOC called a strike Feb. 17.

Some state officers formed a double line on the sidewalk in front of the plant.

KPDN Schedules Red Cross Quiz Broadcast

"What the Red Cross is doing" will be the subject of a question and answer program to be presented over Radio Station KPND, Pampa, on Saturday morning between 8:45 and 9 o'clock.

Taking part in the program will be Dey's Osborne, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter, and Mrs. John Ketter, chairman of the local chapter.

The local chapter has an ambitious program of furnishing articles of clothing for the needy in war-ridden countries, cooperating with the national defense program by keeping parents in contact with their sons in the army and navy.

Disaster relief, first aid programs, and relief for the needy not taken care of by other agencies.

FDR Signs Seven Billion Dollar Bill

AT OAKLAND, U. S. S. BENSON AT SEA, March 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt, aboard the yacht Potomac on a fishing-vacation cruise, signed the seven billion dollar British aid bill at 10:50 a. m., EST, today.

His action makes the huge fund immediately available to establish the United States as the "arsenal" of nations fighting aggression.

Accentuating the record-breaking speed with which congress voted the money, the bill was sent by airplane to the President's yacht cruising in Florida waters a few hours after legislative action was completed Tuesday. Bad weather, however, delayed delivery until today.

Even before the signature made the measure final, defense officials were bending to the task of channeling the funds into America's mushrooming munitions industry. In its broad outlines, the bill earmarked the fund in the following categories and amounts:

$1,343,000 for ordnance, armor and ammunition; $2,064,000,000 for such vitally needed weapons as bombing and pursuit planes; $362,000,000 for tanks, armored cars and other motor vehicles; $629,000,000 for ships and all types of water facilities needed to turn out the materials; $200,000,000 for repairing British war vessels and other defense equipment; $1,360,000,000 for agricultural, industrial and other supplies, including such things as cotton and tobacco and $260,000,000 for miscellaneous military equipment and supplies.

Although officials said the fund was the largest single cash outlay authorized by congress in peacetime, it was exceeded more than once during the World War.

Classes To Be Formed For Wholesale And Retail Workers

Meaning and purpose of distributive education will be explained at a meeting tonight in the high school building beginning at 8 o'clock. Distributive education is a vocational education for workers in wholesale and retail distributive occupations.

Tonight's meeting will be open to everyone working in a distributive occupation in the city.

The evening classes to be organized are primarily for the purpose of providing extension training to distributive workers who have left the all-day school and have entered into employment. Eligible to attend will be anyone over 16 years of age and employed in a distributive occupation.

Although all courses available will be discussed at tonight's meeting, only classes in English and mathematics will be organized. Other classes to be organized will depend on the interest shown at tonight's meeting.

BERLIN, March 27 (AP)—Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka called on Adolf Hitler today and they were reported to have engaged in "thorough-going, conversations" covering questions confronting the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis.

'Shoot Hell Out Of Nazis,' Urges Glass

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—With Germany's unrestricted sea war zone extended to the edge of the American hemisphere, Senator Glass (D-Va.) called today for the use of United States navy convoys if Nazi surface or submarine raiders attempt to sink lease-lend shipments of military supplies bound for Britain.

The peppery Virginian minced no words. "If they interfere with us," he told reporters, "we ought to shoot hell out of them. I am for convoys if Germany sinks our goods."

The stand taken by the 83-year-old senator, however, found no ready backing among his colleagues on the Foreign Relations committee. Most of them ruled out convoys, barring an imminent or actual state of war.

DOCTOR STARS IN LIONS SHOW

Pampa's own "Al Jolson," Dr. Calvin Jones, is one of the stars in the entertainment crammed annual Pampa Lions charity minstrel, to be staged on the nights of April 1 and 2 in the high school auditorium. Dr. Jones scored a hit in the 1940 show. He will sing "When I Take My Gal A-Dancin'" in the 1941 production. Dr. Jones is one of the eight end men, four of whom are doctors. Dr. Malcolm Brown, Dr. H. L. Wilder, Dr. H. H. Hicks, Dr. Jones, and Dr. Curry, Hal Lucas, John Hessey, and Bill Browne.

County commissioners, welfare workers, chamber of commerce secretaries, and representatives of the food industry and banks in the five counties are to attend the meeting, at which H. D. Kreeger of the food stamp division will preside.

Attendance of a delegation from Gray is imperative if this county is to be included, according to a telegram received here by County Judge Sherman White from James S. Allen, regional director, food stamp plan, Dallas.

Efforts were being made today by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce to secure a delegation to attend the area meeting.

Ray Hagan is chairman of the food stamp plan committee of the local chamber of commerce.

The meeting called for tomorrow at Childress follows a request for a food stamp survey for Gray county made by County Judge White, and the activity of Rep. Worley.

In a letter to the Gray county judge, dated Tuesday, Rep. Worley wrote that he had been in contact with the food stamp division of the department of agriculture, and that, although "competition with other sections of the country has been keen," he was "glad to say that our prospects of securing the plan in Gray county are picking up and I hope to be in a position to give you

New Trial Asked By Negro 'Doctor'

Frank Smith, negro, found guilty of unlawful practice of medicine in a county court jury verdict returned Tuesday night, was released yesterday on approval of a $1,000 bond he posted.

County Judge Sherman White today was considering a motion for a new trial, submitted yesterday by the defense attorneys, Newton P. Willis and B. S. Via.

In the application for the motion, the defense alleged that the court had committed numerous errors, which "for lack of time they were unable to elucidate," except that the court "erred in refusing to sustain the motion of the defendant to quash the indictment and challenge to the array of the jury panel," and that "the verdict and judgment are contrary to law and evidence."

Smith had been indicted on March 12 by a 12-man district court grand jury and his bond set at $1,000. The case was later transferred to county court.

Basis of the charge was the allegation that Smith, on July 1, 1940, had treated Mrs. B. J. Lane, and that he was not a licensed physician.

Members of the Lane family testified that Smith had diagnosed Mrs. Lane, and had used a flashlight in making an examination, cautioning those in the room at the time to be quiet.

They also testified that Mrs. Lane had been told by Smith that he would treat her if she went to no white doctor, that she took treatment for three months, paid him a sum of money.

Testimony was also made that Smith had told Mrs. Lane she did not have cancer. Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr., testified that the woman died of cancer.

John O. Pitts was foreman of the county court jury that heard the case.

Texan Book Review Assailed In House

AUSTIN, March 27 (AP)—A book review in The Daily Texan, University of Texas student newspaper, was denounced on the house floor today by Rep. Joe Ed Winfree of Houston.

The house unanimously voted to print Winfree's remarks, with copies to be sent to President Homer P. Babey and the regents of the university.

"For eight or ten years," said Winfree, "I've been hearing about crazy ideas at the University of Texas, and now a part of them are being put in a book. The Trojan Horse in America."

"This book and Mr. Dies' committee," the article said, "is living proof that Huey Long made at least one true statement during his hectic life when he said that Fascism would never invade America as Fascism but as Americanism."

Mayor Greeted Baptists At Convention

The fourth annual session of District 10 Baptist convention opened this morning at the First Baptist church with several hundred of the expected 1,000 delegates registering before the noon hour adjournment. Dr. C. Gordon Bayless, president of the gathering, reported.

Following the song service conducted by H. Paul Briggs, Pampa's mayor, Fred Thompson, welcomed the convention delegates, and A. S. Veasley of Dumas responded to the mayor's address.

Dr. T. C. Gardner, state secretary of the Baptist Trainee union, spoke on the need of training Baptist young people and challenged his hearers to return home to enlist their church members in definite Christian service in order to help put "the church at its best at a time when the world is at its worst."

The featured speaker of the opening session was Dr. A. D. Foreman, youthful pastor of the First Baptist church of Amarillo. Dr. Foreman was to have addressed the gathering at the afternoon session, but due to the late arrival of Dr. W. A. Criswell, Muskogee, Okla., who was scheduled to speak at the morning hour, the Amarillo pastor took the Oklahoma pastor's place on the program. Dr. Criswell will speak at each of the remaining sessions.

Dr. Foreman spoke on "What Churches Owe the World." The young minister told his hearers that there needs to be a united front on the essentials of Christianity as the church was the only institution that was the dynamic force for good in the world today.

The convention speaker declared that church members should see that the church had its rightful place in the community as it should, and that the church was the guardian of the democratic way of life—when Christ is proclaimed from the pulpit. The Bible was said to be adequate for

Sun Shines, Snow Melts But Clouds Friday Forecast

The sun came back to Pampa today and the weatherman promised fair weather tonight and Friday for West Texas except for increasing cloudiness over the north portion tomorrow. There will be little change in temperature.

In downtown Pampa, snow was melting rapidly as the thermometer rose to 38 degrees early this afternoon. Wednesday's maximum was 36, minimum 27.

Practically no dirt roads over the country, the melting six-inch snow of yesterday made roads muddy and hard to travel. A difficult time was experienced by one man living near Almarred in reaching Pampa this forenoon.

First Of Two Concerts To Be Given Tonight

The first of two concerts to be given by Pampa students will be presented at 8 o'clock tonight in the high school auditorium, when bands, sextets, choirs, glee clubs, a vocal trio, and a saxophone trio, representing Sam Houston, Woodrow Wilson, and the high school, will be heard.

Contest numbers, the selections to be played in the regional contests at Amarillo on April 3, 4, and 5, will be featured in the programs, both tonight and tomorrow night.

B. M. Baker, Horace Mann, and Pampa Junior High schools will participate in Friday night's concert. Admission to the concerts will be free.

Pretty Girls Feature Of Lions Minstrel

No stage show is complete without pretty girls—and the Pampa Lions club has 25 of Pampa's prettiest for the chorus of its annual minstrel charity show to be held in the high school auditorium, April 1 and 2.

The girls are a part of the cast of 65 that will take part in the hour and a half production, which is tops in songs, settings, dances, and entertainment.

Running at a lively pace, the show opens with the song by the chorus, then follows with specialty numbers, solos, dances, and concludes with the patriotic finale song "Wave, Wave, Old Glory."

Typical of the high quality music in the show are the arrangements of Jerome Kern's "Old Man River" and "Lonesome Road."

Prince Flees; Many Killed In Rioting; Alliance Rejected

(By The Associated Press) Yugoslavia's 17-year-old King Peter II overthrew his pro-Axis regency and took the reins of government today after a wild night of rioting against the kingdom's adherence to the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance.

Officially confirmed London reports said the first act of King Peter's new government was to reject the Axis. This was supported by the fact that the new government which took over from the regency's "capitulation" cabinet included two ministers who resigned in protest against yielding to Germany.

Gen. Dusan Simovic, army chief of staff, quickly formed a new government with himself as premier.

Reports reaching Budapest said Regent Prince Paul had fled the country. Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic and Foreign Minister Aleksander Cincar-Markovic, who signed the Axis pact in Vienna only 48 hours ago, were said to be under arrest with other cabinet members.

Belgrade reports said many persons were killed and wounded in night-long fighting which preceded the coup.

The new government's reported action in throwing off the Axis yoke—possibly providing an excuse for German troops to march into the turbulent kingdom—coincided with a Belgrade radio broadcast ordering all reserve officers to report to their garrisons at once.

Yugoslavia is said to have mobilized 1,000,000 men in recent weeks. All night long, great crowds milled in the capital and provincial towns, carrying British and Soviet flags and shouting:

"Long live Britain and Russia! Down with Germany and Italy!"

After the coup, thousands gathered outside the Serbian Patriarch's palace, shouting:

"Long live King Peter!"

In Berlin, the Nazi foreign office was unwilling or unable to give an early interpretation of the Yugoslav revolt.

In London, Prime Minister Winston Churchill greeted the coup with the fervid declaration:

"The Yugoslav nation has found its soul!"

"A revolution has taken place in Belgrade. . . . Arising from the wrath of a valiant and warlike race who had their country betrayed by the weakness of their rulers and foul intrigues of the Axis powers."

LONDON, March 27 (AP)—Britain will back the new Yugoslav government with her navy, army and air force to lay open the right flank of the German thrust.

Pact To Be Repudiated, Winston Says

LONDON, March 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill predicted today that the new Yugoslav government would repudiate the country's pact with the Axis.

"Though I don't know what will happen and one cannot be sure of anything," he said, "I believe that it is reasonable to expect that we shall have a government in Yugoslavia which will repudiate the pact signed the day before yesterday and will be ready to defend the honor and frontiers of Yugoslavia against aggression."

Churchill spoke at a trade union congress luncheon.

Earlier he had told a meeting of the Conservative party central committee that Yugoslavia had "found its soul" in "revolution" in Belgrade.

The prime minister told the party meeting that there "is a supreme event more blessed than victories, namely the rising of the spirit of the great American nation and its even more intimate association with the common cause."

The labor luncheon at which he spoke was attended by United States Ambassador John G. Winant.

"It was breaking all our hearts to see the gallant Serbian and Yugoslav people signing away their souls over the counter through weak and cowardly rulers to those who, once they had them in their grip, would have shaken the life and independence out of them," Churchill said.

"I rejoiced when I heard just an hour before this luncheon that a revolution had taken place in Belgrade and that the ministers who signed this pact had been arrested."

The prime minister said "this is the time when we may have good hope of the results of this war."

"The final result is perhaps distant but it may be much nearer than we suppose. You can't tell x x x."

"I remember that (in the last war) . . ."

AAUW To Sponsor Review Of "The Family" On Monday

Nina Fedorova's $10,000 Atlantic prize novel, "The Family," will be reviewed next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the city club rooms under the sponsorship of the American Association of University Women. Miss Mildred Matteson of LeFors will be the reviewer.

Published last September, "The Family" still ranks high on the list of current best sellers in fiction. It is the story of an exiled white Russian family living in the British concession in Tientsin at the time of the outbreak of the present war between China and Japan. Critics have spoken of "its richness of spirit, its unusual people, and colorful setting," and called it "one of the most engaging stories in years—a litting song of warmth and joy."

Miss Matteson, a teacher in the LeFors public schools, will be remembered for her review last spring of Lin Yutang's novel about China, "Moment in Peking."

The public is invited to attend this review, which is one of the series of monthly arts programs sponsored by A. A. U. W. There will be a small admission charge.

VFW Auxiliary Entertains For Contest Winners

Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary held its fifth essay contest party Tuesday night when the contestants were guests at the American Legion hall.

Proceeding the program a brief business session was held with Mrs. John I. Bradley presiding, at which time it was decided to give a program for the veterans at the hospital hospital Friday night, April 4, at 7:15 o'clock. Verna Via, hospitalization chairman, will have charge of arrangements.

The quilt for the national orphans home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, was displayed and a vote of thanks was given Nell Hansen and her friends for quilting it.

Bertha Chisum, who was introduced as local chairman of the essay contest, presented the program which included the salute to the flag and the singing of "Star Spangled Banner," Mrs. Chisum outlined the purpose of the essay contest on the subject, "One Nation Indivisible," and stressed the fact that the auxiliary is instilling patriotism into the children's minds of the land.

Jacque Farnum, band director of Sam Houston school, presented Mrs. F. L. Stallings as accompanist for the evening. Dan Stallings played a baritone solo. Maxine Holt, winner of third place, was unable to be present, and Jane Hatfield, whose essay won second place, gave an illustrated essay on patriotism. Mr. Farnum presented Garnet Reeves, Jr., who played a cornet solo after which Marcene Berry, first place winner whose essay will be sent to the state contest, gave information concerning various activities going on in the United States in the essay. Donald Thut played a clarinet solo preceding the presentation of awards to winners and a gift to Miss Margaret Jones for her assistance in the contest.

Dora Lawson and Dixie House carried out the patriotic theme in the refreshments which they served with miniature forts topped with American flags as favors.

Guests attending were Miss Margaret Jones, Marcene Berry, Jane Hatfield, Mrs. Sarah Hatfield, Mrs. F. L. Stallings, Jacque Farnum, Frankie Foster, Tolene Davis, Nona Lee Kirby, Jess Lloyd Walker, Roland Bailey, Dan Stallings, Garnet Reeves, Jr., and Donald Thut.

Members attending were Mmes. Bertha Chisum, Agnes Rose, Violet Kenney, Thelma Beall, Minnie Fisher, Lillie M. Showers, Ethel Kiser, Verna Via, Alice Franks, Dora Lawson, Dixie House, and Deane Bradley.

Seven Circles Of First Baptist WMS Meet For Programs

Margaret Fund programs were presented at the meetings of seven circles of Women's Missionary Society of First Baptist church this week.

At the meeting of circle one in the home of Mrs. C. H. Schalkuy, a special prayer service for the revival which is to begin Easter Sunday, was held preceding the business session conducted by Mrs. O. C. Brandon and the devotional by Mrs. C. Gordon Bayless.

The program was presented by Mmes. Boyd, Tommie Stone, and O. C. Brandon. Ten members were present.

Mrs. G. H. Anderson was hostess at the meeting of circle two which was opened with a song and prayer by Mrs. W. E. James. The devotional by Mrs. Fletcher preceded the discussion of Bernice Fund by Mrs. Baker Henry. Refreshments were served to 11 members.

Members of circle three met in the home of Mrs. C. L. McKinney for a program opened with a song, "Help Somebody Today," and prayer by Mrs. C. W. Hill. Following the devotional by Mrs. Tom Duwall, the program was given by Mmes. C. D. Miller, Ira Westbrook, Joe Hunter, and L. H. Greene. After a special prayer service for the coming revival, refreshments were served to 11 members.

A meeting of circle four was conducted in the home of Mrs. C. C. Matheny with the members joining in a song preceding a prayer by Mrs. Lewis Davis and the program given by Mmes. F. H. Beard, R. W. Tucker, and E. L. Tarrant. Mrs. F. B. Edwards gave the devotional and Mrs. R. W. Tucker had charge of the business. A special prayer service concluded the session which was attended by 12 members.

Circle five members met in the home of Mrs. A. N. Thorne with Mrs. Fred Forrester leading in prayer following the opening song. Taking part in the program were Mmes. Clyde Martin, Ellen Chapman, and Fred Forrester. A special prayer service followed. Twelve members were present.

At the meeting of circle six in the home of Mrs. M. O. Meek, prayer by Mrs. N. E. Ellis preceded the program and special prayer service. Ten members were present.

Mrs. P. O. Gaut was hostess at the meeting of circle seven where a prayer was led by Mrs. Don Egerton and the devotional was given by Mrs. Craddock. Presiding over the business session was Mrs. Homer Doggett, chairman. The program given by Mrs. Charles Miller and Mrs. Bob Allford preceded prayer for the revival. Refreshments were served to 17 members.

Book Taught For Mary Martha Group
Mary Martha circle of Woman's Missionary Society of Central Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. Roy Hillman this week.

PIANIST

Helen Marie Hagerty, above, is among the students to be presented by Mrs. Lilly Hartfield in a recital at the First Baptist church Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock. Helen Marie, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hagerty, will play "Spring's Approach," by Kroeber.

Anniversary Of Club Celebrated On Guest Day

Celebrating the tenth anniversary of Twentieth Century Culture club as well as guest day, members and guests of the organization met in the city club rooms Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Foster Fletcher, Mrs. Joe Key, and Mrs. John Haynes were hostesses.

The receiving line were Mrs. L. L. McCollm, president; Mrs. Ewing Leech, only charter member and second president of the club, and the three hostesses.

A rainbow color scheme was stressed in the hand-painted book in which the members and guests registered as well as in the sweet pea corsages presented to each.

Answering roll call, members told what they were doing 10 years ago and introduced their guests who also told what they were doing at the same time.

A review of Isabel Scott Rorick's "Mr. and Mrs. Cugat" was presented by Mrs. H. H. Hahn after she had been introduced by Mrs. T. A. Perkins, who spoke of the life of the author.

Following the review, tea was served at a long lace covered table centered with a crystal bowl of sweet peas and tall white tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. Leech poured tea, while Mrs. Haynes played numerous piano selections.

Guests registering were Mmes. Carrol Wood, J. C. Richey, M. K. Griffith, J. Lloyd Bennett, C. Gordon Boyd, R. O. Overwood, W. G. Wichita Falls, Fred Ridenour, Bryant Caraway, C. E. Hart, W. S. Dixon, Carlton Nance, R. B. Allen, S. A. Hurst, Alvin Bell, Paul C. Jones, and C. R. Baker.

Members attending were Mmes. J. M. Collins, Frank Dial, W. F. Fletcher, H. H. Hahn, V. L. Hobbs, R. M. Johnson, John Ketter, Joe F. Key, Ewing Leech, L. L. McCollm, T. A. Perkins, O. R. Pumpavey, Garnet Reeves, D. E. Robinson, and John Haynes.

Husbands' Night Observed By 20th Century Members
Members of Twentieth Century club entertained with their annual husbands' night in the city club rooms this week.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. R. J. Hagan, president; Mrs. Clifford Braly, Sr., Mrs. Roy McMullen, and Mrs. Paul Kasishke, who were hostesses for the evening.

Following the reading of the club collect and the introduction of guests, Frankie Lou Keehn entertained with two tap dance numbers, "Bugle Woogie Rumba Tap," and "Mecotom," with her mother, Mrs. Frank Keehn, playing the accompaniment.

A one-act play, "Happy Journey," was presented by students in Kenneth Carman's dramatic classes. In the cast were Philip Silcott, Clara Mae Lemm, Wayne Fade, Charles Erickson, Doris Jean Caldwell, and Jack Fade.

Mrs. Joe Gordon was leader with Mrs. Lester Benge as assistant leader of the program, which was conducted with the singing of "God Bless America," led by Mrs. W. A. Bratton, with Mrs. F. L. Stallings at the piano. Music for the program was arranged by Mrs. Kasishke.

Carrying out the Easter theme, the table was centered with an arrangement of pastel spring flowers. Tiny yellow chickens perched upon the green, yellow, and orchid nut cups dotted the lace cloth as favors. Ice cream Easter lilies on green doilies were served from a large silver tray and individual white cakes were topped with sweet peas in pastel shades. Mrs. Hagan presided at the coffee service.

B-PW Club Dance Will Entertain Members, Guests

Business and Professional Women's club members and their guests will be entertained at a dance to be given this evening in the Southern club with Pinky Powell's orchestra playing for the event. Tickets may be obtained from any club member or by calling 1198 or 377.

Final arrangements for the event were made at a program meeting of the organization Tuesday evening in the city club rooms.

Julia Kelley, public affairs chairman, had charge of the program on "Our Government," which was opened with the singing of "America." Members representing the city and county officials, members, and city departments and duties took part with Avis Thompson speaking to the group on "Evaluating Government."

"Although the services we require of government today may seem bewilderingly complex, it is not difficult to break them down into a few general groups: Serving all such as persons, property rights, health, and well being; serving the worker, serving business and agriculture, and serving the home.

"Our responsibility as citizens is to decide what we want from government and to see whether we are getting the results desired," Miss Thompson stated.

"Making democracy work means informing ourselves as to our government—city, county, state, and national," Mrs. Julia E. Kelley pointed out.

It was announced that on April 3, the house passed the bill on jury service for women with a vote of 163 to 29. The members were asked to write their senators from this district in regard to the matter.

A bingo party was given last week in the club rooms for members of the club and their friends.

Attending the program were Ruth Walstad, Clara Lee Shewmaker, Julia Kelley, Laura Belle Cornelius, Lillian McNutt, Ruba McConnell, Maurine Jones, Myrtle Simmons, Gypsy Malloy, Letha Northup, Avis Thompson, Ida Mae Jones, Lillian Jordan, Audrey Fowler, Mable Goe, Rowena Watson, Lela Mann, Helen Windsor, Tommie Stone, Madeline Murray, and Madge Rusk.

Lottie Moon Circle Meets For Program

Members of Lottie Moon circle of Woman's Missionary Society of Central Baptist church met this week in the home of Mrs. M. C. Mercer.

A prayer by the hostess preceded the business session in which Mrs. H. E. Johnson presided in the absence of Mrs. G. A. Jones, chairman. The lesson was taken from King 1-2; a prayer by Mrs. C. C. Miller followed.

Present were Mmes. John Brown, J. R. Young, H. E. Johnson, C. C. Miller, E. A. Harris, Wood Overwood, all the hostess, and one visitor, Mrs. Goldie Zimmerman, of Shidler, Oklahoma.

BASQUE BEAUTY

Petite junior figures look so attractive in the basque style—no wonder it's in such high favor! This tiny-waisted charmer, with rippling skirt and youthful square neckline, will be so pretty in polka dot, plaid, striped, linen or plain chambray, touched at the points of interest with bright tie-dye braid.

Pattern No. 8920 is designed in odd sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, 19. Size 13, 4 1/2 yards 36-inch material; 6 yards of braid.

Personality Topic Of Discussion At Hostess School

If you have noticed any of your women acquaintances giving you "the once over" this week, it is possible that they attended the Perfect Hostess School, conducted by Byron E. Lopp, noted analyst, on Tuesday and Wednesday in the city hall auditorium, and are "eyeing you up and down" to determine whether you are a muscular or triangular type.

At the closing session of the school, Mr. Lopp reviewed the characteristics of the four types, fat, muscular, triangular, or oblong, and discussed human relations.

"We pride ourselves in being judges of human nature," Mr. Lopp stated. "Happiness is a state of mind; you cannot be happy without thinking about it," he added.

In discussing personality, the speaker stated that personality is an accomplishment. It is an outward expression of what we think and do. Also habits build personality. Mr. Lopp continued.

Gifts were presented to six local women by Wayne Phelps, who introduced the speaker. These gifts, which were given by local merchants, were presented to Mrs. Audrey Fowler, Mrs. Charles Madeira, Mrs. J. A. Moses, Mrs. Herbert Hudson, Mrs. C. M. Harshaw, and Mrs. E. M. Dean. Also awards were given to three women coming the greatest distance to attend the school.

Couple Honored At Two Events Given On 25th Anniversary

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brickel on their silver anniversary, two social events have been given by friends of the couple this week.

A surprise dinner-bridge was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hollenbeck where the dinner table was decorated with a large white wedding cake, an arrangement of sweet peas, and tall candles. Individual corsages of sweet peas were presented to each guest.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brickel, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Kitchings, and Mr. and Mrs. Hollenbeck.

Gifts of silver were presented to the couple by the group.

On Tuesday evening a surprise bridge party was given at the home of the honored pair. The guests presented a silver pitcher to Mr. and Mrs. Brickel. Piano numbers were played by Jean Brickel during the evening.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Messrs. and Mmes. Floyd Hollenbeck, Bob Sigwell, Ralph Sigwell, Bokk Record, Frank Hunt, Walter Hill, Doc Kitching, and L. E. Brickel.

Great delicacies in China are cooked bamboo shoots, sharks' fins, and beche-de-mer—a species of sea slug.

Crystal Shower Given As Post-Nuptial Courtesy To Mrs. Taylor This Week

As a post-nuptial courtesy to Mrs. Don Taylor, who was Miss Mary Walton before her marriage last Friday morning, Mrs. J. W. Spangler entertained with a crystal shower at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Attractive arrangements of spring flowers decorated the rooms. A large corsage of pink and white sweet peas tied with pink and white satin ribbon was presented to the honoree and smaller matching corsages were worn by the guests.

A game was played in which the honoree was asked to pay a forfeit by hunting her gifts of Rose Point crystal which were wrapped in pastel colors and arranged on a large table.

Carrying out the honoree's colors of yellow and white, refreshments of angel food cake iced in yellow and topped with a yellow tulip, mints, and tea were served by the hostess.

Guests, registering were Mmes. Fred Radcliff, W. L. Godfrey, Charles Hickman, Hugh Anderson, Johnson, Larry Trenary, Margaret Taylor, Mary E. Walton of Wichita Kan., C. F. Walton, the honoree, and the hostess.

TEL Class Has Monthly Study And Social Meeting

MIAMI, March 27—T. E. L. class of the Baptist Sunday school held their monthly study and social meeting in the home of their teacher, Mrs. C. T. Locke, this week, with Mrs. Bert Smith as co-hostess.

The devotional was presented by Mrs. J. G. Ramsay, after which Mrs. Glenn Jackson taught the lesson from the regular study course.

The refreshment plate featured a hint of the spring season. Eighteen members and one guest, Mrs. W. M. Byers, were present.

During the social hour a wedding gift was presented to Mrs. J. E. Kersey by the class.

Oil Industry Will Protest Taxes Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 27 (AP)—Spokesmen for Texas' gigantic oil industry, which yields a sizable portion of the nation's petroleum supply, guarded themselves today for assaults on heavier taxes proposed by the state legislature.

Booked for a public hearing before the senate committee on state affairs tonight were provisions of a house-approved $25,500,000 omnibus tax bill which would boost the 2 1/2 per cent barrel processing tax to 4 1/2 per cent and amend the gasoline motor fuel levy to include liquefied gases.

The committee last night heard arguments against increased levies on utilities, telephone companies and liquor and a newly-suggested tax on automobile finance companies. No one appeared to protest a proposed levy of five cents a share on stock sales.

Industry representatives based their attacks on the proposal on mounting national defense taxes in addition to assertedly burdensome current levies and intimated their types of business might face bankruptcy if the bill were finally approved in its present form.

A liquor industry spokesman warned increased taxes would drive a portion of that business into illegitimate channels and an automotive industry representative asserted the tax on auto finance companies would hit those persons least able to pay since it would not affect those who could purchase cars with cash.

The bill, slated for hearings Monday on gas and Wednesday on sulphur, carbon black, soft drinks, oil well cementing, wholesalers' gross receipts, franchises and other tax-yielding sources would provide funds for bigger old age pensions, aid to the needy adult blind, aid to dependent and neglected children and teachers retirement. If passed, it would levy the first state tax increases since 1936.

No indication came from the committee on whether it would eventually send the proposal to a sub-committee as was done in the house. Several amendments were accepted but not discussed or acted upon.

In other legislative labors, a bill proposing minimum wages and maximum hours was referred to a sub-group by a house committee after a hearing, a $5,000,000 general relief appropriation was subjected to a hearing in a senate committee, a $1,750,000 appropriation to combat cancer was sent to a house sub-group and another senate committee again recommended for confirmation. Reuben Williams, appointed state life insurance commissioner by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel.

Also approved by the committee for senate confirmation were Claude Williams, director of the Unemployment Commission, Marvin Leonard of Fort Worth and Frank S. Roberts of Breckenridge as members of the state board of public welfare and J. S. Murchison of Corsicana, director of the welfare department.

A house committee recommended passage of a bill to regulate the practice of chiropractic and a proposal abolishing the state auditor's office and replacing it with a budget director. Another group approved a proposal exempting mail carriers using automobiles from commercial registration requirements.

In the tax hearing, J. M. Harris of Austin, representing light and power companies, asserted "private power companies are engaged in a dying struggle" because of government-financed power production. He added that additional taxes might force some firms into bankruptcy.

C. C. English of Dallas, telephone company attorney, said that it was not the companies' object to escape a fair share of taxes. He contended the companies were paying the "highest of all taxes." He also disclosed the federal government recently had required padlocking of manholes and cross-crossing of lines to protect communications systems.

Warren J. Collins of Dallas, objecting to a provision limiting to 2 per cent of gross proceeds the amount cities could levy on utilities. He asserted the provision would double current taxes of that type.

T. J. Green, Spur city manager, asked the committee to authorize cities to charge utilities rentals. J. W. Penland of Dallas objected to increase taxes on liquor and W. A. Williamson of San Antonio argued against the automobile finance levy.

Doctor Reports At Least 100 Cases Of Measles In Pampa

There are at least 100 cases of measles in Pampa but only nine are under quarantine, Dr. R. Malcolm Brown, city health officer, estimated today. The reason the rest are not under quarantine is because parents of children with the disease are not calling in their family doctor or there is a laxness in reporting the cases to Dr. Brown.

Doctors or parents of children having measles or any other communicable disease are required by law to report the cases to the city health officer. Close quarantine is the only means of keeping measles and other contagious diseases from reaching epidemic stage, Dr. Brown declared today.

There are several cases of mumps and a few cases of scarlet fever in the city, Dr. Brown said. The scarlet fever cases are under quarantine. Chicken pox are also numerous but they are not under the quarantine law.

The annual spring upswing in measles prevalence is evident from reports to the State Health Department by more than 300 city and county health officers, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, reveals in his report. The prevalence of measles was 338 per cent higher than normal prevalence last week, he announced.

Since measles is a disease which should always be given careful nursing, with isolation of the patient to protect others against the disease, and since it is characteristic of the disease that it usually becomes more prevalent in the spring season, the State Health Department issues this warning to the parents of Texas children—guard your children against measles, and if they contract this disease, put them to bed immediately, call your family physician, and see that cases are promptly reported to the local health officers, and that your home is properly placarded.

The stage of measles preceding the eruption is frequently mistaken for a common cold, and as the disease is highly communicable at this stage the germs are widely spread because, as a rule, we take no common-sense precautions either in treating or protecting others from a common cold. Measles causes a highly communicable inflammation of the respiratory tract, the delicate membrane that lines the eyelids and the accessory sinuses—these conditions make complications of the disease fairly common. Complications may take the form of bronchitis, pneumonia, and acute inflammation of the middle ear.

Highway Employees To Receive Raise

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—Because of a very substantial increase in the cost of necessities of life generally over the state, the highway department maintenance employees will receive wage scale increases up to five cents an hour starting April 1.

The highway department announced the raise for its road workers yesterday after completion of a "careful survey" showing national defense preparations had created problems in housing and other matters "not heretofore experienced."

The wage boosts were adopted "in spite of the very limited revenues" available to the department for improvement of the highway system and will be based on merit and service records.

American Bovines

According to estimates, there are 25,334,000 milk cows and 5,433,000 heifers on American farms, an increase of 246,000 cows and 308,000 heifers over the 1939 figure.

Rainey To Attend White Inauguration

ABILENE, March 27 (AP)—Dr. Homer Price Rainey, president of the University of Texas and the heads of other Texas colleges will speak at the formal inauguration of Dr. W. R. White as president of Hardin-Simmons university April 27-29.

The inauguration will climax the Hardin-Simmons spring golden jubilee program. Other speakers include Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Tech; President Paul M. Neff, of Baylor university, former governor of Texas; Dr. L. R. Scarborough, president of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary; Dr. Humphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university, and

Dr. Charles E. Friley, president of Iowa State college.

Dr. White was named to succeed the late Dr. J. D. Sandefur, president of the university from 1909 until his death March 22, 1940.

Wage And Hour Bills Rest With Committee

AUSTIN, March 27 (AP)—Highly controversial legislation proposing minimum wages and maximum work hours in intrastate businesses rested today in a house sub-committee. Assailed as a measure that would hurt rather than help the working man and upheld with arguments that labor should be worth 30 cents an hour the bill was referred to a labor committee sub-group yesterday following a public hearing. Representatives of numerous Texas industries spoke in opposition to the proposal, some contending no additional laws shortening hours should be enacted during the national defense emergency.

G. H. Zimmerman, Waco lumberman, declared the national wage-hour act still was in a "state of confusion," and that it would be unwise to pass a state law at this time. The bill would set a minimum hourly wage of 30 cents for the first six years, after which it would be increased to 40 cents. The maximum work week was fixed at 44 hours for the first year and 40 hours thereafter. Employers would have to give time and a half pay for overtime work.

Von Ribbentrop And Matsuoka Confer

BERLIN, March 27 (AP)—Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka conferred with Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop for several hours today and reached "full understanding on all problems of the three-power act," an official announcement said. The conference was said to have been conducted "in an atmosphere of cordial understanding." Immediately after the meeting, which took place in Von Ribbentrop's official residence on the Wilhelmstrasse, the Nazi foreign minister drove to the Reich chancellery to report to Adolf Hitler. Matsuoka previously had paid tribute to Germany's World War dead by laying a wreath on the memorial to the unknown soldier in a solemn ceremony in Unter Den Linden.

American Airplane Output Increased

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—Secretary Stimson disclosed today that American aircraft factories have been turning out a substantially increased number of combat planes in the last two months. Stimson was asked at a press conference whether airplane production had remained virtually unchanged for the past three months, which would put it at a level close to 1,900 planes monthly. He replied that February and March had seen "a very satisfactory increase" in aircraft output and that the situation was much improved in regard to "tactical craft."

Texas Company To Hold School Here

Retail gasoline dealers handling Texas company products will meet in the basement of the Schneider hotel at 7:30 o'clock tonight to hear Van J. Smith of Dallas speak on salesmanship, service and initiative to secure new business. C. D. Hall of Childress, district representative, will also be present at the meeting. Similar schools are being conducted in all parts of the country.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Rallying power returned for industrial stocks today's market as speculative investors took a more hopeful view of the war news and domestic labor shifts. The list exhibited rising tendencies at the start although utilities continued to hang around their low marks of the year. Rails were a bit different for a while but they eventually resumed their forward move on a more restricted basis. The common and Pere Marquette preferreds managed to get into new high ground for 1941. Gains for favorites ranged from fractions to more than 2 points at the best. Prices slipped a shade in some cases at the close. Dealings were lively at intervals. Slow-downs were frequent but transfers for the full proceedings approximated 650,000 shares.

Transports Damaged Italian Report

ROME, March 27 (AP)—German warplanes have seriously damaged two British troop transports in the eastern Mediterranean, the Italian high command reported today. On the African war front, the daily war bulletin declared, heavy fighting continued yesterday in the Cheren sector of Eritrea, with the Italians counter attacking after throwing back British assaults with heavy losses.

In north Africa Italian and German troops were said to have cooperated in occupying the Libyan desert town of El Aghelia, 150 miles southwest of British-occupied Bengasi. Occupation of the town was announced by the Germans Tuesday. The British said yesterday Germans and Italians had entered the town after their troops had withdrawn, but declared the operation was of no military importance.

STEEL STRIKERS OVERTURN WORKERS' CARS

Photo shows automobiles belonging to men still working in the Bethlehem Steel plant at Bethlehem, Pa., resting in a marsh on the banks of the Lehigh river near the steel plant. The cars were pushed there by strikers who objected to their owners working in the plant.

HEADS BASHED

(Continued From Page 1) of a stairway leading to the second floor headquarters of the union while others entered the building and herded all those inside the headquarters to waiting police cars.

A score or more of these taken away were blood-stained bandages. The raid came shortly after the wild melee outside the Harvester plant where local police battled about 100 pickets to clear a path for workers who responded to the company's published announcement and the company.

Headed by John V. Riffe, assistant SWOC director, the strikers' representatives entered the office of W. L. Trumbauer, Bethlehem Industrial Relations director, at 9:35 a. m. (CST).

It had been reported the meeting was arranged "under pressure" by federal conciliators, concerned over any delay in production of defense materials, but they did not attend.

Meanwhile, under the supervision of patrolling state police, pickets were reduced to a dozen at each gate of the plant today as the moves for a negotiated settlement of the strike called three days ago got underway.

Troopers, who smashed massed picketing Tuesday night, were out duty near all gates. More than 200 stood guard. The pickets were kept strictly in line and in an allotted area beside each plant entrance.

The pickets, shouting, "We will not be moved" and waving ash clubs, blocked the entrance to the plant as the vanguard of a long line of workers formed four blocks away from the factory.

The police started to shove them aside and a general free-for-all began. Furious fighting lasted for 10 minutes, with about six policemen holding half of the pickets to one side where the other officers battled back and forth with the remainder. Clubs were flying through the air, and numerous heads were gashed.

The workers took no part in the melee and steadily pressed into the factory. H. H. Duckett estimated about 600 workers got inside and promptly at 7 o'clock (CST) the whistle blew and the gates were closed.

The pickets had gathered in front of the entrance early this morning. Many of the pickets carried posters mounted on clubs. Hundreds of spectators began gathering some distance from the entrance, but 20 minutes after the fight started, everything was quiet.

A number of injured pickets were taken away in police cars along with several policemen.

About a hundred special deputies had been sworn in by local authorities, but they took little part in the fighting. State police were reported concentrated near Richmond, but none were seen at the plant. However, several state police in plain clothes were reported at the scene as observers.

PARADE OF

(Continued From Page 1) the committee, was called upon to give his impressions of the sales promotion and the merchandising program of Pampa as compared with other cities in which he has recently visited.

"Your town is far ahead of the average town as to stocks, displays, and other facilities and far, far ahead in potential trade because of the enormous oil and gas field surrounding you," Lopp declared.

"But I believe the trouble with many merchants in Pampa is that you have grown fat and lazy because of the comparative ease you have in getting business here."

"Modern highways are drawing down carrying and closer together and we find today our competition is not the merchant across the street, but the merchant in a town 50 and 100 miles away."

"You've got to keep your sales people on their toes and you've got to keep your own attitude right to progress," Lopp declared.

"This program is one of the best things you can do. If the majority of merchants will join in the effort wholeheartedly you will find there is no limit to the possibilities for increasing your business and your trade territory."

MAYOR GREET'S

(Continued From Page 1) this and any age, and that its precepts were as potent as in the days of the early church.

The afternoon session was scheduled to begin at 1:30 p. m. Special Sunday school conferences for each group were to be held.

The evening session will begin at 7 p. m., and especially prepared musical numbers will feature the program along with the training union conferences and keynote address of the convention to be delivered by Dr. W. A. Criswell.

CIO And Bethlehem Try To End Strike

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 27 (AP)—A basis for settlement of the strike at the parent plant of the Bethlehem Steel company, busy on a billion dollars of defense orders, was sought today in a meeting of representatives of both the CIO steel workers organizing committee and the company.

Headed by John V. Riffe, assistant SWOC director, the strikers' representatives entered the office of W. L. Trumbauer, Bethlehem Industrial Relations director, at 9:35 a. m. (CST).

The pickets had gathered in front of the entrance early this morning. Many of the pickets carried posters mounted on clubs. Hundreds of spectators began gathering some distance from the entrance, but 20 minutes after the fight started, everything was quiet.

A number of injured pickets were taken away in police cars along with several policemen.

About a hundred special deputies had been sworn in by local authorities, but they took little part in the fighting. State police were reported concentrated near Richmond, but none were seen at the plant. However, several state police in plain clothes were reported at the scene as observers.

Although the new German decree pushed the blockade farther west along Britain's North American life line, unofficial sources here were inclined to regard it as a formality that was not likely to exert an influence one way or the other on the question of American convoys.

These authorities, agreeing with British opinion, said that Germany would attack British supply ships wherever encountered, without waiting until a vessel entered some specially proscribed sea area. They declared that no American ships have been carrying cargoes to Iceland, and only coast guard cutters have been transporting necessary supplies to Greenland.

Discussing the Glass convoy proposal, Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Foreign Relations committee, declared he opposed such a step without first declaring war.

The use of convoys, he asserted, would be an act of war. However, he said that the administration properly might lend British ships for such use.

Relief Funds Urged For Million Texans

AUSTIN, March 27 (AP)—Designed to provide relief funds for an estimated 1,000,000 Texans declared unable to live in common health and decency, a proposed constitutional amendment remained in a senate committee today.

Submission of the joint resolution by Senator W. C. Graves of Dallas was urged by county and federal officials at a hearing yesterday. It would authorize the legislature to appropriate a maximum of $5,000,000 annually for general relief purposes, to be matched by counties.

H. P. Drought, state WPA administrator, endorsed the principle of the proposal but disagreed on the matching feature by county governments.

"My experience has shown that where the greatest destitution exists the county government is broke," he declared. "Poorer counties should not be required to match state relief allotments."

Under questioning, Drought suggested a state income tax as a source of state revenue for the project.

10 Americans May Be Held By Japs

TOKYO, March 27 (AP)—Fifteen persons, including at least eight and perhaps 10 Americans, were reported to be held in Korea today on charges of campaigning against Japan's war in China.

The Japanese foreign office assured U. S. Embassy Secretary Benninghoff, who presented a protest on behalf of Ambassador Joseph Grew, that the Koreans under arrest, but these later were declared erroneous.

FDR Plans To Consolidate Defense Units

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt, it was learned today, has under consideration an administrative reorganization which would centralize national defense agencies under the office of emergency management.

There would be four main divisions:

- 1—The present office of production management;
- 2—A price-control agency;
- 3—A "home defense" section;
- 4—An "economic defense" unit.

The process of consolidating all defense activities outside of war and navy departments is already under way, informed officials reported.

They said Mr. Roosevelt probably would appoint an active director soon for the office of emergency management to facilitate matters.

This man would not, they explained, be a "defense czar," but a defense coordinator whose chief job would be to speed up contacts between President Roosevelt and the defense agencies.

Centralization of defense work under the office of emergency management, officials said, would mean the disappearance of the national defense advisory commission, the original seven-member organization set up last May when the rearmament program began.

Already, it was pointed out, the office of emergency management takes in the office of production management, headed by William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman. Both originally were members of the NDAC, Knudsen for production, and Hillman for labor. Edward R. Stettinius, the materials member, also transferred to OPM.

Leon Henderson, the price-control member, and Miss Harriet Elliott, the consumer representative, both would move, it was proposed, into the price-control agency, which would combine both their activities.

Ralph E. Budd, the transportation member, and his work have been slated for assignment to OPM, while Chester Davis and his agricultural representation would go to the home defense division.

Strikes At A Glance

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Ind.—Bloody fighting between police and pickets took place at the reopening of the International Harvester company plant which had been closed by a CIO strike since Feb. 17. Police said about 600 workers entered the plant. State police later raided the downtown CIO headquarters and arrested those found there on charges of assault and battery.

NEW YORK—CIO shipbuilders at three large Bethlehem Steel company shipyards set tomorrow for voting on an immediate strike, contending eight weeks of negotiations with the company had broken down. Wage increases and non-interference with union activities were asked by the shipbuilders.

MILWAUKEE—WASHINGTON—Interest centered on a virtual demand by Navy Secretary Knox and Defense Production Chief William S. Knudsen that Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company resume operations. The company has $45,000,000 worth of defense contracts and has been closed since Jan. 22 due to a CIO strike. A company official predicted compliance with the request but a CIO spokesman said the strike would go on unless the union votes otherwise, with a meeting set for Saturday.

BETHLEHEM, Pa.—Workers entered the Bethlehem Steel company's parent plant without molestation though CIO pickets, on strike, stood at each gate. Union representatives and company officials were scheduled to discuss a settlement during the day.

CHICAGO—Mayor Edward J. Kelly sought a quick determination, through an election of the legal bargaining agency at the International Harvester company's McCormick works. A CIO union is on strike, but AFL union members and non-affiliated workers are on the job. Company officials claimed 4,164 workers of a normal shift of 5,344 were on duty yesterday, but the CIO contended only 800 worked.

It Was A Poor Excuse
HOLLY RIDE, N. C., March 27 (AP)—Jess Coble, building superintendent at Camp Davis, $10,000,000 anti-aircraft firing center being built here, received this long distance telephone call from one of his workers:

"Very sorry, boss. I just can't make it to work today. I don't have 50 cents for bus fare."

But just before that the boss had heard the telephone operator say, "Deposit 55 cents please."

Manacled To Negroes
NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Manacled to two negro prisoners and guarded by two deputies, Earl Browder, former chief of the Communist party in the United States, left on a Seaboard Line train for Atlanta, Ga., to serve a four-year sentence in the federal penitentiary for passport fraud. Browder surrendered yesterday, several weeks after his conviction was upheld by the U. S. supreme court.

Pythians To Have Program Tonight

A varied and interesting program will be presented at tonight's meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge. The meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock with a buffet supper.

Principal speaker will be the Rev. E. Lee Stanford, pastor of the First Methodist church at Miami. Other numbers will be accordion solos by Bill Haley, reading by Mrs. Claudia Bengel, and a picture on old time comedies, presented by Dave Bauer. Max Lee Fann will preside.

Tests Being Made Of All Oil Wells

Operators in the Panhandle oil field are making tests of all wells to determine whether or not they will make their daily allowable. The deadline for filing the reports is April 25.

In an order issued last month the railroad commission required a well status report of the wells in the Panhandle, East Texas, McCamey, Hurdle and Crane-Cowden fields.

Some operators believed the order meant a potential test of all wells. But yesterday Bob Huff of the local office of the Texas Railroad Commission received word that wells were to be tested only to prove that they will make their allowable.

If a well will make its allowable in one hour it need not be tested further. If it requires a well 22 hours to make its allowable the test need not be continued, according to Mr. Huff.

GARDENING FOR HAPPINESS UTILITY, BEAUTY OF HERB GARDENS RESTORING THEM TO PUBLIC FAVOR

Herb gardens lend themselves, as shown here, to beautiful designs

BY HENRY FREE

The Pampa News Landscape Consultant

The herb garden dates back to the fourth century, but it was not until the sixteenth, when the printing press came into being, that a knowledge of herbs became general. We have one William Turner, an Englishman, to thank for the desire to include herbs in the garden. Studying plants and their habits, he made field trips through Europe and upon his return, published—not in Latin, as were all books at that time, but in English—the first authentic treatise on herbs. Turner is known as the "Father of Botany" in England.

In earlier times each monastery had its physic garden from which were dispensed a variety of herbs to alleviate the suffering of the people. In those days enjoyment of plants for their beauty alone was secondary to their more practical uses. The garden of the Middle Ages was usually laid out on simple, formal lines with narrow paths and trim edges.

The early colonists brought with them many herbs and the knowledge of how to use them. In no time these old familiar plants flourished in little New England door-yard gardens. During the last century interest in herbs declined and the herb garden became an almost forgotten thing of the past. Recently, however, interest has revived and many gardeners again enjoy the quaint charm of the herb garden.

Herbs are usually divided into several overlapping groups. The aromatic herbs are grown for fragrance; the culinary herbs are used as flavoring in cooking; and the medicinal herbs are still used in present-day medicine. Many herbs also give us some of our most beautiful dyes.

As a rule herbs grow best in full sun in a more or less poor, gravelly, well-drained soil. If the soil is too rich, the plants lose their fragrance and flavor, although their foliage becomes most luxuriant. A few need a moist soil and some partial shade, but they are in the minority. Herbs should be cut just as the flowers are about to open in the early morning after the dew has dried, but before the hot midday sun strikes the plant. At this time the essential oils are most abundant and the fragrance or flavor is at its highest. Herbs harvested for their roots should not be dug until the top is through growing. An attractive herb garden is one in which the design is paramount. Design and arrangement must conform to the characteristics of the herbs. With most of them, preciseness of pattern is important. This means neatness and exactness, with the plants properly spaced where they can be reached without undue effort and without trampling on others.

Brinkley Counsel Says All Just Claims Will Be Paid

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
DEL RIO, March 27. (AP)—Reams of testimony concerning the shifting of Dr. John R. Brinkley, now in bankruptcy after golden years of political flings and operation of hospitals publicized by the world's most powerful radio station, were in the hands of a bankruptcy referee today.

Sixty days from now final objections to the discharge of the colorful man who started medical broadcasting back in Kansas some 18 years ago must be in the hands of Referee R. O. Huff of San Antonio.

Creditors of the man who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy concluded yesterday a three day investigation of the maze of yachts, airplanes, radio station, hospitals and sundry enterprises covering many years.

Shortly after the hearing ended, Dr. Brinkley's chief counsel, Carl Rice of Kansas City, Kas., assured creditors of Dr. Brinkley—the ones holding "just claims"—they will be paid. But he won't pay "unjust claims."

He did not elaborate.

The appearance of Mrs. Minnie T. Brinkley, his wife and former factor in the many enterprises over the years, as the last witness at the hearing failed to develop the dramatics expected.

Questioning of Mrs. Brinkley was limited strictly to the affairs of her husband introduced into previous evidence and attempts by interrogators to stray into the web of transactions covering many years were halted by Referee Huff.

Only a few days ago Mrs. Brinkley was declared, in involuntary bankruptcy by an Arkansas court. Her attorneys have filed a motion to have the adjudication set aside.

Referee Huff warned attorneys that Mrs. Brinkley would be brought to his hearing only under the guarantee that she would not be served with a summons in any other lawsuit.

She had been hunted by the U. S. marshal for a day before she suddenly appeared in the courtroom.

Testimony in the hearing revealed that Mrs. Brinkley receives $100 weekly as a broadcaster for the Brinkley Hospital, Inc., and also is paid $300 monthly as the hospital's hostess.

But, it was repeatedly testified that neither she nor Dr. Brinkley have an active interest in the hospital.

Texans Killed As Car Overturns On Oklahoma Curve

CHICKASHA, Okla., March 27 (AP)—Ben J. Fortson, 31, Fort Worth, Tex., was killed and J. H. Clayton, Corsicana, Tex., was seriously injured today when their automobile plunged off a highway on a curve near here, overturning three times.

Fortson was in the oil business in Fort Worth and the lumber business in Oklahoma City.

His widow is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kayser of Chickasha, and was visiting here at the time of the crash.

Other survivors include his mother, Mrs. E. J. Fortson, a brother, Earl Fortson, and a sister, Carolyn Fortson, all of Fort Worth.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Some African savages still believe that white men are the ghosts of black men, that all deaths from disease are caused by evil spirits, and that apes are a race of human beings.

Rev. Denning, Radio Evangelist, Offers Praise For Hoyt's

Popular Radio and Pulpit Evangelist of Texas and New Mexico Says Hoyt's Compound Ended Torture From Stomach Trouble.

Evangelist John R. Denning, 1904 28th St., Lubbock, Texas, says: "I was tortured for years with a stomach disorder caused by overwork.

REV. JOHN R. DENNING

Nervousness and poisons caused a contracted condition in my stomach, and I couldn't eat for as long as 72 hours at a time. I had headaches and severe spells of nausea.

"But since taking Hoyt's Compound, I can eat comfortably, my headaches have gone, and I feel a great deal better. I enjoy my meals now as I haven't been able to do for years. I am well, though I still speak from once to five times a day, just as I did before."

Evangelist Denning's constant mission in life is to help others, so why not be guided by his important statement? Try Hoyt's today! Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Creney Drug Store and by all leading druggists everywhere.

Dam Fund Approved

WASHINGTON, March 27. (P)—The largest single Texas item in the civil functions bill introduced today in the house was $10,000,000 for continuation of the huge hydro-electric flood control dam on the Red River near Denison. It was the only Texas flood control project recommended.

New rivers and harbors improvements planned in Texas totaled $2,086,500; maintenance and operation expenditures planned totaled $2,904,000.

The first United States census was taken in the year succeeding Washington's inauguration as President.

As Independent Democratic newspaper, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times and supporting in its editorial columns the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those questions which it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics.

Common Ground

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress unless the masses of each nation are united in common purpose. The God-given right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

DO UNIONS HURT OTHER WORKERS?

A critic of this column and a man who seems to think that labor unions can do no wrong, contends that I have said a great many mean things about labor, but he gives no specific evidence. Because a man challenges the selfish things that labor unions do, gives no honest, intelligent man the right to contend the critic of labor unions is saying anything mean about labor in general.

The man who makes this kind of a statement shows he does not understand the English language; or he has no regard whatever for the truth; or that he is more interested in seeing his name in print than he is in trying to enlighten his fellowman.

The same contributor quotes from Henry George to the effect that workmen can advance their wages by combinations and not at the expense of other workmen.

Because Henry George makes this statement is no evidence of its truth. And Henry George continues the statement by saying, "except as it may affect his fixed capital or current engagements," Henry George on page 195 in "Progress and Poverty" says, "Capital is not a fixed quantity."

In every case, labor unions lower the profits which could be turned into capital. Thus George's statements do not apply.

Of course, if we were only considering temporary rewards, then giving excessive wages would raise the standard of living of the workers, just as we could have more eggs to eat for the moment if we allowed none of them to be hatched into chickens.

These men who contend that one group of workers can, by threats and force and intimidation, compel an employer to pay an arbitrary wage and not rob other workers, will not answer the question by what impersonal rule wages should be established, if not on a free market basis.

Would Like to Believe

I would like very much to believe that wages can be raised for different groups in this way simply by setting arbitrary wages, without lowering the living standards of others. It certainly would be very pleasant and very agreeable, but my reason prevents me from accepting this wishful thinking.

Wages set by force by labor unions not only lowers the wages of other workers but in the long run lowers the wages of those who are temporarily benefited. It does this because it greatly reduces production by putting men out of the work God intended them to do.

SOME IMPORTANT PIECES OF DEFENSE EQUIPMENT

Around Hollywood

By LUCIE NEVILLE
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 27—Eleanor Powell is trying to do what she does in every picture: figure out something that never has been done before by a dancer, and do it. If every body tells her it's impossible, she knows it's worth trying, and if she hasn't got much skin left on her feet when it's over, that's okay.

In "Born to Dance," she slid down a 55-foot pole; last year's "Broadway Melody" had her whirling and tapping up a flight of unevenly spaced, curving stairs, wearing a mask with "eyeballs" which didn't let her see where she was stepping. Now, in "Lady Be Good," she's working less for acrobatics, more for novelty in her three numbers.

One's a fast, riotous affair with a spotted, flog-eared pup for a partner. Another's the "Pair of New Shoes" she did, without music, for Toscanini when he was visiting Metro and asked her to "make for me the dance with the noise"—a dance that so delighted the great man that he wept happily and swore her feet were a symphony. The third number is hottest, darkest boogie-woogie, with five pianos rumbling an accompaniment.

She has had plenty of time in the past year to plan steps that her feet couldn't then—she spent impatiently in a hospital bed. When I saw her, she was bundled up in a wool sweater, shift and slacks, staying off a case of bronchitis while she rehearsed all day long. If that sounds as though Miss Powell were sailing to pieces, it's like to say that her energy is something terrific. Sonja Henie's the only actress who can compare with her.

Something new for Dancer Powell is a love scene, with John Carroll—a regular Lunt-and-Fountain sofa-suffle—and a face-out in his arms instead of dancing like mad in front of a chorus. What really pleases her, the actress said, is that she doesn't have to be "sweet and drippy" or sit sedately. She has a lot of gag lines, and while she wears a top-hat in the finale, there are no flapping sequined pajamas or Pierrette costumes.

At a penthouse party, she's asked to dance and murmurs languidly, "Well, of course, I'm really not prepared, but—" Meanwhile, she's shaking bracelets and unzipping her skirt, then discovers with a pretty show of confusion that her tap shoes in her evening purse, and goes into her dance.

It's the "New Shoes" number, an intricate thing of suddenly changing tempo. She has rehearsed it every day for two years, hoping it would be used in a picture, but the studio always rejected it because it wasn't flashy enough.

When she danced it for me in the bare rehearsal hall, her hair was streaming out from under a rubber band; she had on the cumbersome woolen sweaters and slacks, and ugly black Oxford. No lighting, no music except the piano—and, for my money, it was one of the most exciting things I ever listened to.

The boogie-woogie number isn't finished, and it's the toughest—so tough that no dancer ever has attempted to work out a routine to it. Pianist Walter Rutik, who hunted septa Central avenue's hotspots for months beforehand, said that this improvised, funless rhythm never has been played on more than three pianos, so they're using five.

Miss Powell has had a free hand in the sense that she has to figure out routines, stage settings and music. When she asked the producer, "How do you want me to end the number—with the chorus, or solo?" he answered, "I don't know, but I want it to be good."

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Churches are odd when you think of it, aren't they? All of them right; all of them based on the Bible. First there was the Catholic church, and for 1,400 years there was no other Christian church. But look at them now. And churches are constantly changing too. I remember when I was a boy the Fullingim clan and there was a whole raft of them, counting second, third, and fourth cousins, and kindreds of kindreds—they all used to go to Oak Grove Methodist church (M. E. South, if you please) near Deatur, which was founded by my grandmother in the 1860's. Well, at Oak Grove they'd call for mourners, and women would shout up and down the aisles until their hair came down, and a dozen would be praying at once, and they'd tell their experiences and stand up for the Lord, and they'd pray and testify and their voices would become choked with tears, and so everything seemed vaguely familiar; the other day at McLean where I attended T. L. Lovelace's 163rd birthday party at the Church of the Nazarene, they told their experiences and they stood up and testified and they prayed at once, except those who periodically shouted or murmured "Amen!" and they sang "Amazing Grace" and "There Is a Fountain Filled with Blood" and they had dinner on the ground and services in the afternoon, and when they began testifying I got up and told them that their church was like the Methodist church I knew as a boy, and they all agreed with me, and said that when the Methodist church began to change they founded the Nazarene church to take its place. I wonder if the Oak Grove church has changed and Mrs. Jessie L. Stroup of The News who went with me to McLean wondered the same thing about her old Methodist church at Simmer, Ill.

Anyway, thanks Phil Brock and the Lovelace family and the others for the songs and the memories that were stirred.

These two stories also are the only ones in which town life has much part, and they are both very slight stories. One is an elaborated anecdote about a bridegroom delayed by a snowstorm; another is a frail piece in which a boy buys cigarettes and is tortured with the fear that he may be called up to testify before a grand jury against the man who sold them to him illegally.

But with Miss Roberts this restricted field is deliberate, and quite likely it was chosen for a specific purpose—that is, to withdraw her characters from the world of sensitive to enable them to speak in a curious, semi-poetic way, and to make them stand as symbols. Miss Roberts is every girl adjusting herself to living; Perry is every girl hopelessly faithful to her husband-to-be; Rhody is every girl benumbed by the implications of the physical aspects of marriage; Perry is every young girl who has been married too young to a man too old.

These and other things will keep almost all of Miss Roberts' work a timeless quality which will give it a long after most of our contemporary writers have been forgotten. They do not necessarily make her work great, but they make it memorable.

"NOT BY STRANGE GODS," by Elizabeth Madox Roberts; (Viking; $2.50). This was being written Elizabeth Madox Roberts died in Orlando, Fla., where she had gone to escape the Kentucky winter cold for a certain time each night. They are asked, "How do you like it here when we say they are young, beautiful and not dumb. . . . One is blonde, the other brunette. . . . One is a Yankee, the other a Southerner. . . . You can't learn their names, but they know company rules for them to divulge that information. . . . They go by 'No. 1' and 'No. 2.'"

Miss Roberts liked to write of people whose experience of the world was small, and people whose orbits were restricted in a physical sense. All the people she included in the new book are Kentuckians who never had left Kentucky; not all are backwoodsmen, but only two of the six stories deal with people in what the world would call even moderate circumstances—"I Love My Bonnie Bride," and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

These two stories also are the only ones in which town life has much part, and they are both very slight stories. TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeWeese

MUCH has been written about the loss of sleep and what causes it. Snowed in the other night, we were reading in a magazine quite a dissertation by a professional sleeper who posed the question: "What are the 20 worst wreckers of sleep?" Well, he had his own ideas about it, but so far as we're concerned loud radio playing in the hotel room next to you is all 20 of them. . . . In this same magazine was an article by a matrimonial expert on "How to Start a Wife Out Right." The author wrote this: "At the first sign of unreasonableness from my wife I gave her a good spanking, and have had no trouble since." This is passed on to prospective bridegrooms and new husbands for what it's worth.

One of our war correspondents slips us a little human-interest story in which he states that Nazi bombers swooped down on a London residential district and left it in ruins. . . . From one wrecked house the rescue squad saw emerging a woman and a little dog. The dog looked around and trotted to a nearby lamp-post which had survived the raids. . . . The dog looked up at the lamp-post and began to wag his tail vigorously. . . . "It's his favorite lamp-post," explained the pup's owner.

We went on record with the Admiralty Happiness Girls last night. . . . That is, we all had ourselves recorded on radio wax for posterity or something. . . . Incidentally, those of you who have met the Happiness Girls will know what we're talking about when we say they are young, beautiful and not dumb. . . . One is blonde, the other brunette. . . . One is a Yankee, the other a Southerner. . . . You can't learn their names, but they know company rules for them to divulge that information. . . . They go by "No. 1" and "No. 2."

"NO. 1," the Yankee blonde, is the captain. . . . They travel alone in their own automobiles. . . . No man is allowed to enter their cars. . . . They cannot have lunch with one or two men. . . . It must be a group of men. . . . They are not permitted to have dates. . . . They must be in their hotel room by a certain time each night. . . . They do not smoke nor drink. . . . They are model young women, and they are very business-like. . . . "When do you have any fun?" they were asked. . . . They get a vacation every now and then and they have fun then. . . . That's the way they answered that one. . . . Their home is in Houston, and they enjoyed yesterday's snow, spent time making their own pictures, wading in it, etc. . . . Incidentally, they think Pampa's a swell place and that Pampans are tops.

HENRY Ford says that a popular-priced two seater airplane soon will be on the market, and the flyer will have four type plane features, making it easy to handle, park, etc. . . . Take-offs and landings will be possible in your front yard. . . . So it appears that one of the answers to that old question, "little man, what now?" will be "come with me, Josephine, in my flying machine." . . . This prospect is looked forward to with pleasure, but with the air full of flying japs, what flyer breaks down in mid-air? . . . Will you drop smack-dab in a crowded street, through somebody's roof, or what? . . . Maybe somebody will figure out how to put a net over the country, like they do for the trapeze performers in a circus.

Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray, Thee, Lord, my soul to keep.

When in the morning light I wake, Lead Thou my feet that I may take The path of love for Thy dear sake.

That's a revised version of a well-known child's prayer, eliminating the "if I should die before I wake" line, to which many parents object.

THERE has been much demand lately, we understand, for a change of prayers for children. Maybe a book of children's prayers would have a good market. The Boy Wonder used to say the one with the

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The reported overthrow of the Yugoslav government which signed the pact of adherence to the Berlin-Rome Axis is such a natural development that it scarcely is surprising.

Still, were it not for British Premier Churchill's categorical announcement of the news, one would be inclined to proceed slowly in reaching conclusions. The early report of this momentous development came from Hungary and since that country is a member of the Axis there was always the possibility that the story was propaganda to pave the way for Nazi occupation of Yugoslavia to "preserve order."

In any event, Hitler may seize the opportunity for just such a move. Deterrents might be the million Yugoslav troops already under arms and the warnings which have been going out of Moscow for the Germans to go slow.

The really astonishing thing about this whole tense drama is that Prince Regent Paul and his cabinet should have allowed Hitler to stampede them into overriding the will of their people. The fierce cries of "down with the Axis" and "long live the king" which swept the country from end to end were ample warning to the government.

So now these liberty-loving folk of the fighting breed are said to have raised to the throne their adored young King Peter—who still is a bit this side of his majority of eighteen years—and are preparing to defend their independence. It is reported that he has designated his army chief of staff, General Dusan Simovic, to head his government—a significant appointment as indicating the determination of the Yugoslavs in this hour of crisis.

Whether London's publication of the situation is justified must depend on further clarification of the situation, especially as to the purposes of the new government. There seems to be no doubt that Churchill believes that Yugoslavia is prepared to fight against the Axis if necessary and has pledged that if a worthy government is formed it will "receive from the British government, and I doubt not in its way from the United States, all possible aid and succor."

If things work out the way he hopes, then the whole Balkan situation will be altered, with a heavy swing in favor of the Anglo-Allies. The possibility of united action by Britain, Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia against the Germans will have been greatly strengthened. Should that happen it would relieve the pressure on Britain from the Nazi blitzkrieg.

In view of developments it is worth noting that Prince Regent Paul, whose mother was Russian, hasn't been popular with the masses who don't look on him as a real Serb because of his Russian connection. Also, while Paul is forceful and has done his share in war, he is a nobleman of the renaissance, stepped out of the pages of history.

Young King Peter is an attractive chap with a quick and pleasant smile. He is a big fellow and a good all-round athlete who is keen on sports. His training for kingship has been stern, and he long has been rumpling his hair over foreign languages and constitutional and administrative law.

My impression in traveling about Yugoslavia was that his people were particularly keen about their king and were looking forward eagerly to the time when he could assume the throne.

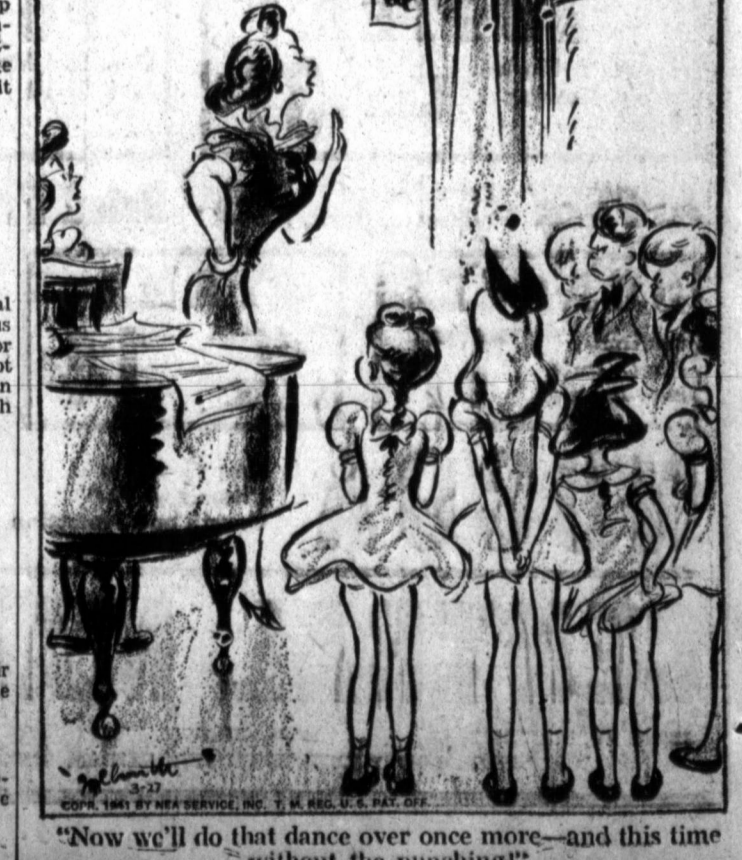

"If I should die before I wake" line in it, but he has changed it up and now has one he learned from his teacher in pre-school class which goes like this:

I love You little stars, dear God; They seem to twinkle so— And, so, goodnight, I'm off to sleep, And in Your care, I'm off.

Man has done more in the last 5000 years to alter the earth's surface than Nature has done in 5,000,000 years.

Filling Station Attendant Fatally Beaten By Negro

DALLAS, March 27. (AP)—A 30-year-old negro was held today after he admitted, Inspector of Detectives Will Fritz said, that he fatally beat Willis S. Jones, 25, filling station attendant, during a robbery. The negro said he had been a part-time employee of the filling station and had been sleeping in the attic. Yesterday, Fritz quoted him as saying, he came down from the attic and decided to rob the station, obtaining a jack handle and striking Jones twice, then taking $24.80. Jones was found unconscious by a customer. He died last night. The negro had been scheduled to leave last night for training camp as an army draftee. Tidal Discovery The Phoenixians are credited with the discovery of the relation between the tides of the sea and the motions of the moon.

"German" Uniform Causes No Concern

LONDON, March 27. (AP)—Unchallenged, a man wearing a German army officer's uniform and trappings strolled London streets for hours yesterday, looked over busy Scotland Yard, and peered through Buckingham Palace's fences. His was merely another uniform to Londoners accustomed to the varied garb of British, Dominion, Colonial, Dutch, Czech, Norwegian, free French, and other allied forces. The "German officer" was Donald Collins, film actor employed by the Daily Sketch to point up its editorial campaign urging closer surveillance of aliens.

McPARTLAND TO REPORT FOR SPRING TRAINING

Frank Grabek Drafted For Army Service

The Pampa Oilers received both good and bad news today. The good news was word from California that John McPartland, left handed pitcher, will be here for spring training. The bad news was that Frank Grabek has been called by Uncle Sam and he will report for medical examination next Monday.

Manager Dutch Prather of the Oilers is in Sacramento, Calif. where he will meet Leon Bills, rookie third baseman from Seattle, Wash., who has signed a contract. Bill comes highly recommended as a third baseman and a good hitter.

Prather will leave Sacramento tomorrow and will go direct to El Centro, Calif. where he will look over the San Diego Padres and select three or four players who will return with him early next week.

Owners of the Oilers sold Rex Dilbeck and Gus Halliburton to San Diego for a cash consideration. At the same time they received assurance from San Diego to turn over three or four players to the Oilers. Prather plans to watch the Padres in action and select the best boys who will not be retained on the Padre roster.

With the signing of McPartland, Manager Prather believes his left-handed pitching worries are over. He, and several other managers in the league, believe McPartland is a real prospect and that his will be a 20-game winner this season.

Grabek wired today that if he is deferred he will leave on Tuesday for Pampa.

Other pitchers and catchers will start working out next Tuesday with the rest of the squad to report April 5.

NYA Advisory Board For County Named

AMARILLO, March 27—The appointment of several Gray county residents as members of an advisory board of the National Youth Administration to participate in a program designed to meet the immediate and long-term needs of local youths, was announced today by Harold V. Hamilton, Amarillo, area I director.

Accepting the appointments in Pampa were Archer Pullingim, city editor of The Pampa News; C. N. Gunn, Frank Monroe, and Claude Roberts, Pampa businessmen; the Rev. Robert Boshen; and Jimmie Dodge, president of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The committee will hold regular meetings with National Youth Administration officials to voice their opinion on such matters as types of projects best suited for the community, youth relations with education, youth management, labor, employment services, agriculture, health, coordination with community agencies, etc.

The first regular meeting will be held within the near future.

12 Fights Scheduled At Lefors Tomorrow Night

LEFORS, March 27—Lefors' last boxing match of the season will be staged Friday night in the high school gymnasium with the Wellington Skyrocks providing the opposition. First bout will be at 8 o'clock.

Music before the fights and during intermission will be furnished by the Sims Brothers.

Twelve fights will be on the card as follows, Lefors boys named first:
65 pounds—Dunn vs. Crowley.
75 pounds—Cooper vs. McPherson.
85 pounds—Benefield vs. Smith.
145 pounds—McLaughlin vs. Winters.
105 pounds—Cheek vs. Christy.

115 pounds—Vanlandingham vs. VanPelt.
125 pounds—Jackson vs. Cummings.
135 pounds—Stevens vs. Young.
135 pounds—Hughes vs. Cook.
145 pounds—Twigg vs. Montague.
155 pounds—Nipper vs. Egram.
155 pounds—Barrick vs. Thompson.

Harvesters To Box In Borger Tomorrow Night

Coach Oscar Hinger will take his high school boxing team to Borger tomorrow night for their last fights before the big tournament here Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of next week, when north and south champions will be crowned. The winners will meet in a Tournament of Champions on April 8.

Coach Hinger plans to take a dozen boys to Borger but he doesn't know how many will be matched. When Borger came here two weeks ago the Borger coach would match only nine of his boys against the Pampans.

When the flurry of gloves have subsided, Pampa had won nine bouts and Borger one. Borger has announced that the story will be different tonight. The Borger coach thought he got "robbed" here.

Pairings have not been announced because the Borger coach has not furnished Hinger with a list of his boys.

Girls Injured In Rough Games At St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 27 (AP)—Any doubt that girls' basketball as played today is a sissy affair was removed in the quarter-final round of the 1941 Women's National A. A. U. tournament.

Mary Bradley, captain of the Pittsburgh, Pa. Westinghouse six, was carried off the floor and taken to a hospital for treatment of a severe bruise and charley horse.

Marycille Shiever, all-America forward, with the Little Rock Ark. Flyers, was dumped to the floor so hard she will be unable to play in the remaining games because of a re-injured back.

Doris Jones, chaiter box guard with the Shiner, Ark. Hornets, suffered a cut over the left eye which required a stitch to close.

Those were the casualties in the four games that determined Nashville, Tenn., will meet the Des Moines, Iowa, A. I. B. six in one bracket, and the Davenport, Iowa, Stones will tangle with the title-defending Queens from Little Rock in the other.

An all-Iowa victory Friday night became a possibility with the A. I. B. victory over Pittsburgh. The Pennsylvanians list three stars of the 1939 Galveston, Texas, Anicos in their lineup.

Last night's results:
Little Rock Flyers 24, Dallas Hornets 14.
Davenport Stenos 38, Des Moines Thompkins 21.
Des Moines A. I. B. 24, Pittsburgh Westinghouse 12.
Nashville 31, Denver Dry Goods 16.

Baylor Will Play Baseball At Rice

HOUSTON, March 27 (AP)—Baylor's Bears and Rice's Owls open the Southwest Conference baseball schedule here today, the first of three games for each team this week-end.

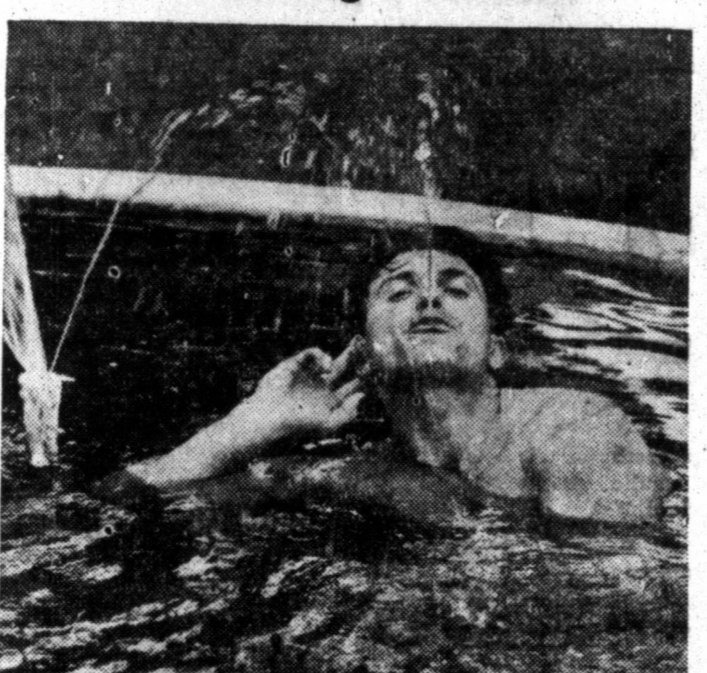

Baylor, winner of a couple of tilts with McMurry college, and Rice, which has yet to play a game, are due to use Joe Terry and Fred Pepper, respectively, on the mound.

The four other conference teams swing into action tomorrow—Texas Aggies meeting Baylor at College Station, Southern Methodist University tangle with Texas Christian at Dallas and Texas battling Rice at Houston.

The teams play again Saturday.

Indians Talking Pennant

Jeff Heath. . . Cleveland believes he'll tunk the turnip with old ferror, sadly missing last two years, to give club plenty of power in garden. Indulges here in little training camp horseplay.

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Service Sports Editor

PT. MYERS, Fla., March 12—As exclusively predicted by Cleveland supporters 20 years ago and virtually every spring since, the Indians will win the American League pennant this season.

To a greater degree than ever, the Tribe's front office and Cleveland sports writers start with the assumption that they have the best club.

Maybe they have, but if there is a slip-up somewhere along the line, which there has been for two decades, the good people of the lakefront are again built up for a terrific let-down.

This is particularly unfortunate in this instance because Roger Peckinpaugh is back as a major league foreman for the first time since he was removed in mid-season 1933 and Smith—repeat their performance of 1940, there'll be loud cheering in Cuyahoga county.

James Bagby, Jr., and Harry Eisenstat should be of some help, and the old blokes, Clint Brown and Joe Heving, are staunch relief workers.

Joe Kraskauskas won eight games from the Yankees in three campaigns and as a Washingtonian annoyed the Indians.

Bill Zuber and Nate Andrews are still around, and Cleveland acquired bright prospects in Dewey Adkins and Millard Howell, strapping right-handers.

Adkins, in his first year out, struck out 150 in bagging 15 white losing 8 for the last-place Pine Bluff array of the Cotton States League, and then copped 7 of 8 for Oklahoma City.

Dixie Howell, recalled from Wilkes-Barre, looked more than all right in a couple of relief appearances last fall.

MUCH DEPENDS ON JEFF HEATH
Rollie Hensley only has to carry on to give Cleveland superb catching, and will be ably spelled by Gene Desautels, Young Jim Hegans' batting improved under Rogers Hornsby in Oklahoma City.

The infield is set, with Comrade Hal Trosky, Ray Mack, Lou Boudreau and Ken Keltner, and few clubs possess reserves as accomplished as Oscar Grimes and bespectacled Russ Peters.

If it is true that John Geoffrey Heath's two poor years were due to his inability to understand Jitterbug Vitt, Cleveland will ride high.

Jeff Heath perhaps could come closer to making the Redmen a flag winner than any other individual. He would take the club a considerable distance by throwing a year.

Gayle Talbot Picks Yanks To Win Flag

TAMPA, Fla., March 27 (AP)—If nothing serious happens to them between here and there, those old familiar New York Yankees should win the coming American league race by about five games—maybe 10.

Next October (this is strictly a hunch), we'll all be sitting around the dressing room in Yankee stadium, redolent of oil of wintergreen, and asking Joe McCarthy: "Well, Joe, how does it feel to win five times in six years?"

And Joe, never a man to do a lot of talking in such historic moments, will clear his throat and utter the following immortal words: "Swell!"

All of which is heresy, of course, and asking Joe McCarthy: "Well, Joe, how does it feel to win five times in six years?"

Watching them play down here, it is difficult to understand what happened to the Yankees last year. It must have been a concerted let-down as a result of the affliction that took the great Lou Gehrig from their line-up. If that was it, they are over it now. They look again like the Yankees.

Not only are the Yankees hitting again, but their fielding has been spectacular and their pitching better than good. Even the veteran Lefty Gomez is threatening to make a comeback. The young pitchers, upon whom a lot depended, came through brilliantly as the club won 12 of its first 15.

All this is put down in full realization that Phil Rizzuto, the sensational rookie shortstop who is hitting over 400 at the moment, might be drafted into the army at any time. If and when he goes, Joe Gordon can be shifted from first base to short.

Tommy Henrich brought in from the outfield to hold down first, and the Yankees go rocking right along, with little, if any, loss of strength.

In other words, the team they were talking about "breaking up" only appears to be on its way again after a one-season layoff. Cleveland had its supreme opportunity last year, but it missed it. Detroit, which finally staggered through to the pennant and then lost to Cincinnati in the world series, figures to give Cleveland a hard fight for runner-up honors this time.

The Yanks are a-coming.

'Are We Going To Deliver Goods?' Donovan Asks

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Americans, in the opinion of Col. William J. Donovan, must recognize the danger of attack from Nazi Germany, and "take up our minds about delivering goods to Great Britain."

"We are going to mean nothing in winning the war unless the goods we produce and ship reach their destination," he declared last night in a national broadcast address. "But due to thinness of protection, ships are sunk and goods are lost. x x x

"Are we going to deliver the goods?"

Donovan, an attorney who fought with the "fighting 69th" in the World War, returned recently from an observation tour through the European and African war zones. Although he had no official status, Donovan talked with President Roosevelt upon his return.

He asked his listeners if they were prepared to take the chance which would accompany delivery of goods to Britain.

"There is a danger, and whatever we do we must recognize that the danger of attack exists."

"The United States," he asserted, "has no choice as to whether it will be attacked."

"That choice is Hitler's," he said, "x x x our only choice is to choose whether or not we will resist. And to choose in time, while resistance is still possible; while others are still alive to stand beside us."

Germany's aim as absolute domination of the whole world, and warned that the reich should not be underrated.

He said that England now is "much stronger" than in the summer of 1940 after the fall of Dunkirk.

Nazis Claim Huge Shipping Losses

BERLIN, March 27 (AP)—The German high command reported today that Nazi planes sank two British merchantmen totaling 7,900 tons off the Faroe Islands yesterday, which with 31,500 tons of shipping previously declared destroyed, brought the day's total to 39,500 tons.

In the Mediterranean German aircraft was said to have scored hits on two transports in a convoy south of Crete and possible damage to 10 merchant ships totaling 44,000 tons was reported as a result of attacks in the waters around the British Isles.

"Three modern factory layouts" were declared attacked by Nazi daylight raiders over southern England and hits were reported on the assembly hall of an airplane factory. Planes on the ground at two airports were dive-bombed, the high command added.

Texans Star In Chicago Golden Gloves Matches

CHICAGO, March 27 (AP)—Westerner boxers stood out today as the best in the land on the basis of a 10 to 6 victory over the finest amateur talent of the east in the 14th annual New York Chicago Golden Gloves contest before 19,305 spectators in the Chicago stadium last night.

Present Football Best Says Yost, Nearing End Of Career

By EARL HILLIGAN

CHICAGO, March 27 (AP)—The good old days in college football? Fielding H. Yost says they were all right, but take it from him, the game as played today is "the best we have ever had, the most interesting for the spectators and the kind the boys who play it enjoy most."

Michigan's grand old man of the gridiron sport is well qualified to express an opinion on the subject. On April 30 he will be 70 years old and next June 30, at the end of the academic year, he'll retire as Michigan athletic director, a post he has held two decades. And as Michigan's football coach for a quarter-century, he produced some of the greatest individual stars and teams in collegiate football history.

"Outside of the forward pass," Yost said, "football hasn't changed much over the years. Years ago we had a spinner play at Michigan. Today every team has about 90 of them but there isn't much difference in the fundamentals. Today there are a lot more good coaches and a lot more good players, but when you analyze it, all winning teams still have to be able to block, tackle, pass and kick."

Yost, guest of honor last night at a banquet given by the Michigan Club of Chicago, leaves the Michigan Club setup with a deep sense of personal pride in the part he played in building the great Wolverine athletic plant. During his 20-year term as athletic director, he said, total revenues from athletics were $8,742,145. The school, he said, financed its athletic program almost entirely from its own athletic gate receipts.

His greatest team, he says, was the 1925 eleven which lost to Northwestern 3 to 2. . . . He won't pick an all-time All-American anymore, but names Jim Thorpe, Ted Koy, Willie Heston (greatest back he ever coached), Germany Schultz, Fudge Heffelfinger, Ernie Nevers, Bronko Nagurski and Tom Harmon as about as good as they ever come. Punters? . . . He says his own Louis Gilbert of the mid-twenties was all-time all-around tops, but that Harry Kiprke produced the finest afternoon of punting he ever saw against Ohio State in 1922, when Harry punted 11 times and the Buckeyes were able to make only one return.

Head Declines Post
DALLAS, March 27 (AP)—Baptist headquarter here announced today that Dr. E. D. Head, pastor of the First Baptist church of Houston, had declined election as state executive secretary.

Dr. Head, former professor of Bible at Baylor university, was unanimously elected to the post recently vacated by Dr. R. C. Campbell at a meeting of the state executive board here March 17.

A meeting of the board was called for Tuesday, April 1, at 10 a. m., in Dallas, to consider the matter again.

Jackson Justifies U. S. Aid To Britain

HAVANA, March 27 (AP)—Attorney General Jackson declared today that "the governments of Germany, Italy and Japan violated a right and affected the interests of the United States" when they resorted to war in violation of their treaty obligations.

As a consequence, he asserted in an address prepared for the Inter-American Bar association conference, modern international law provided his country with "ample and practically unlimited basis for discriminatory action" by aiding the countries they have attacked.

Aside from the new concepts of international behavior which flowed from the Kellogg-Briand pact and the Argentine anti-war treaty of 1933, Jackson said that the United States had "another sound basis for our action" in the principle of self-defense.

"There can be no doubt that the political, territorial, economic and cultural integrity of the western hemisphere is menaced by totalitarian activities now going on outside this hemisphere," he said.

"In this situation the principle of self-defense may most properly be invoked, and we in the Americas are invoking it in relation to the facts as we know them and as we, in our best judgment, can foresee them in the future."

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

BY EDITH ELLINGTON

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Anthony kissed her and they realize they have fallen in love. He cannot understand this new thrill. Kissing never meant so much before. Like happy children they swing in the dark. "This is our world!" He knows it.

SO THIS IS LOVE

CHAPTER XV

"ARE YOU getting cold, sweet?" Anthony asked.

"Oh, no! I could stay here forever!"

She slipped out of the swing and put her hands on his shoulders. "Tell me, Anthony, doesn't this frighten you a little? Everything's changed now. The things you told me about wanting to be a merchandise man, getting ahead . . . do you know that some part of the drive you gave them will be lost?"

"I mean, when you're in love, when you want to spend every minute of your time with someone, you— you don't give ambition all the strength and force you've got." It was difficult to put into words this feeling growing inside her that she wouldn't be good for Anthony.

"Don't be foolish, darling. Loving you will make me work 10 times harder." Yet, illogically, he hurried on, "Let's not even talk about work now. Let's sit by the lake."

There was a little slope of hillside, above the lake where people rowed on sunny afternoons. With its back against a clump of bushes, they found a bench. "We'll surely slide off!" she said.

"I'll hold you tight."

"THE water below was still and black, and the bushes at its edge made soft, rustling noises in the wind. Beatrice let Anthony draw her head down to his shoulder. So they sat, content, until she murmured, "Funny, how we never thought of anything like this when we were fighting, in the store, you didn't think anything special about me then. I was just a new girl who was stubborn and dumb, wasn't I?"

"No, you weren't. I wondered right away, what a girl with those eyes, and hair like yours, and that self-confident, lovely poise was doing in Eudora's shop."

"Bee, you're simply not being there! You're like a flawless diamond on a dime store counter." His lips moved in her hair. "Did you think anything special when you first saw me?"

"I thought you were the most earnest young man I'd ever seen," she admitted. "I wondered how you kept your face so straight, listening to all those ridiculous customers. And I wondered— she laughed deliciously— I wondered if you were as smug and polite down inside."

"I usually swear in three languages, inside. Lucky I studied Spanish. It's useful for swearing."

"What's the other? French?"

"Yes. They rocked with foolish merriment."

"Later," said Beatrice, "I wondered why you didn't simply punch Miss Dane in the nose. And still later, of course, I wondered how Huntington's could be so blind as to keep you down there. Now if they'd put you right in the front entrance, all the women would flock in! And if they made you general superintendent . . ."

"They ought to put you in the window, in that case. They'd never find anything half so lovely to exhibit."

"But I'm not for sale."

He became suddenly sober. "If you were, I couldn't pay the price tag. I've got my nerve, expecting you to care for me. Why, Bee, I'm just a chump. A penniless sucker. I haven't got a thing but two hands and a strong back and a lot of gall to even dare to want a girl like you."

"He stared off into the darkness. A girl like you shouldn't be working in the store. You don't belong there. You were made for lovely clothes and furs and jewels and a life like a dream. You were made to be cherished and spoiled with luxury."

Beatrice put her fingertips quickly against his mouth. "Don't! She'd had all those things all her life, and they hadn't been enough. Anthony caught her hands, kissed her palms. "You're too good for me."

"You don't know anything about me."

"GUILT and a self-accusation that was strange to her, who had never blamed herself for anything, gnawed at her. She thought, wildly, that maybe if she broke down right now and told him the truth, he might understand. He loved her. It wouldn't seem unkind and sneaky now, on this bench, with the sweet spell of tenderness still around them. But the moment passed. She couldn't tell him. It would spoil everything. If, indeed, he believed her at all. She shivered.

"You are cold!" he accused. "Take my coat."

He bundled it around her masterfully. "Sure you're warm enough now? Maybe I should take you home."

"No. Not yet. I— I don't want this night ever to end."

"Tell me about yourself, Bee. It's funny, how little I know."

"I don't know anything about you, either," she said softly. "I wish I'd known you when you were a little boy. You must have been one of those heartbreakingly sober little boys, with big innocent eyes. The kind that takes clocks apart and cures sick dogs."

"I was a revolting little boy. Always fighting. We lived in one tough mining town after another, and I had to fight, because I was always marked sissy before I got there. My father was an engineer, and their fathers called him 'boss' . . ."

She thought bleakly, "I've been tagged sissy, too. Because my grandfather was boss."

Anthony was saying, his voice ragged, "My father died in a mine cave-in. I was in prep school. I came home and saw my mother go to pieces. After she went, if it hadn't been for the old man who was my father's best friend, I'd have been all alone."

"I'm alone," Beatrice told him. "I don't even remember my mother and father. My grandfather brought me up. He was everything to me, mother, father, and the best friend a girl ever had."

She wanted to show Grandfather to Anthony as she had known him. "He had a loud, blustering voice, Anthony. He'd shout at me, and wave his arms around, and say 'I'd never amount to a hill of beans. . . . But he was the kindest, sweetest man who ever lived."

"He was always doing things for other people. Swearing he didn't believe in charity, vowing he had his own troubles, couldn't be bothered. And all the time he had found a job for some unfortunate man, and sent money to a woman with children. You know. That sort of thing."

She saw again Grandfather's ruddy, lined face, his twinkling blue eyes. Her own eyes were wet. "He hated dressing up. He'd sit it a lot of fol-de-rol. He'd call around in his shirtsleeves, his thumbs stuck in his suspenders, with his shoes off."

She caught herself. Almost she had told Anthony of the disapproving countenance of the stiff English butler Grandfather was always threatening to fire.

"CLOUDS scudded across the moon's face. The wind was stronger, and Beatrice's toes grew cold. But she didn't want this hour to end.

"A policeman, whacking the bushes and throwing the beam of a powerful flashlight into odd corners in a businesslike inspection, drove them away at last.

"Ape!" muttered Anthony. They got up reluctantly.

McLean FHT Holds Finance Meeting

Special To The NEWS
McLEAN, March 27.—The McLean chapter of the Future Homemakers of Texas met in the home economics department at McLean High school Tuesday.

Maxine Goodman was in charge of the program and the theme was "Finance." Ways and methods were discussed to raise money to send the club delegate to the state rally to be held at San Antonio in April.

Members elected to serve on the finance committee were Margie Price, Billie Wilhelm and Frances Huddetz.

Those attending the meeting were Elva Blankenship, Oma Lee Hardin, Betty Jo Bailey, Betty Jo Polly, Jean Burr, Zora Petty, Jewell Lane, Emma Rensau, Pauline Gordon, Pat Cobb, Maxine Goodman, Frances Huddetz, Colleen Burrows, Billie Wilhelm, Dora Mae Overton.

Maudie Dell Woods, Nadine Boyd, Etta Mae Mullins, Louise Farris, Bessie Langham, Thelma Whiteley, Louise Wyatt, Cleo Shelburne, Ione Price, Ida Mae Stockton, Earlene Green, Shirley Glass, Wanda Phillips, Lois Hunter, Dorothy Kemper, Grace Washburne, Cleo Jones, Junita Earls, Margie Price, Lorene Reeves, Ora Beesinger, Wanda Lane, Jean Cooper and Claudine Sparlin.

Truck Owners Told Fee Bill Not Passed

There isn't likely to be any advantage to Gray county truck owners to wait on the bill providing for a lower fee on light trucks, in anticipation of the April 1 deadline on securing new licenses.

This was the advice today of the county tax office.

F. E. Leach, county tax assessor collector, said the bill providing for lower fee is separate from the one passed providing for a 38,000-pound gross weight.

The measure for the lower fee has not passed either the Texas house or senate.

Second Mercy Ship Sails For France

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The American Red Cross vessel Exmouth, her sailing delayed 10 days to allow German and Italian authorities to inform their warships and submarines of safe passage agreements, is scheduled to pass through war zone waters and arrive at Marseilles, France, shortly before the middle of April, it was announced here.

The Exmouth carries a cargo of milk, clothing and medicines valued at $1,250,000 for distribution under Red Cross supervision in unoccupied France. The vessel was loaded at Jersey City, N. J.

In announcing the passage of the Exmouth, Chairman Norman H. Davis of the Red Cross stated:

"This dispatch of American Red Cross supplies to unoccupied France, as well as previous shipments of milk, children's clothing and medical supplies, has been made possible through cooperation of the British government, which has agreed to the passage of such shipments through the blockade for distribution under the immediate supervision of the American Red Cross."

The Exmouth carries some 12,000,000 pounds of powdered and evaporated milk; 150,000 children's garments, and a large quantity of drugs. Medicines include 500,000 units of insulin, 20,000 bottles of vitamin concentrates, operating room supplies and a large assortment of other urgently needed drugs.

Upon arrival at Marseilles, the Exmouth will be met by Richard P. Allen, head of American Red Cross relief in France. Distribution of supplies will be handled by a staff of American Red Cross relief workers under Allen's direction.

The Exmouth carries two 12-foot red crosses, freshly painted on each side of the hull. They were flanked by the U. S. ensign and the words "S. S. Exmouth, American Red Cross."

Mobeetie Holds Boy Scout Drive

Special To The NEWS
MOBEETIE, March 27.—Monday was set aside in Mobeetie by the Adobe Walls council as the day for this town to raise its part of the finances for the 1941 budget of this scout organization. This was the annual drive for the sustaining membership roundup of the Adobe Walls council.

Two groups of men were selected to conduct the drive. H. L. Flanagan was captain of the Bar-Nothing squad. His members were M. D. Blankenship, O. W. Elliot, and Jack Miller. L. D. McCauley captained the Doublecross group. His members were J. H. Scribner, Bob Leonard, and Charlie Mixon.

A 5 p. m., Monday evening McCauley's "XX" group was leading Flanagan's "O" squad by a large margin and looked to be certain winners. J. H. Scribner was high man with approximately $50. At this time $154.50 had been raised, with about ten or twelve cards yet to come in.

Troy Israel has been stationed at Shamrock since June, 1940 as field scout executive for this section.

Ground School Training Helps Future Pilots

Making of a pilot for one of Uncle Sam's "Wings Over America" is an interesting business at the "West Point of the Air" at Randolph Field, Texas, and at other primary and basic training schools maintained by the air corps. Flying cadets learn a good many things, however, which are not, strictly speaking, simply flying.

Sergeant Harvey M. Gist, post-office building, Pampa, said today that "ground school" work has played an increasingly important part in flying training at the air corps schools. Not only must a cadet learn how to get his ship off the ground and put it down again, but he must learn how to work, how to navigate it, what its potentialities are and what its function is as a part of combat unit.

Even the cultivation of the flying cadet's voice and speech was not overlooked. Radio is important in military flying. Squadron and flight leaders command their units by radio and ground bases are continually in contact with air forces through radio. Thus, a flying cadet must learn the technique of talking clearly over a microphone. Also he learns how to operate a telegrapher's "bug," the key with which dot and dash messages are sent.

When a flying cadet has finished his training, receives his commission in the air corps reserve and embarks upon active duty with the army, he knows much more than simply how to fly his plane. During the seven months of his training he has become versed in radio repair, mechanics, aerodynamics, navigation and kindred subjects and, at the same time, has learned to be a good soldier and officer.

Sergeant Gist said that vacancies for flying cadet appointments are open and asked eligible men to call upon him or to write to the adjutant general, Washington, D. C., for complete information.

Flying cadets must be unmarried, at least 21 years old and not more than 26, in good physical condition and equipped with two years of college education or prepared to pass an examination proving its equivalent.

The lancelet, a creature once regarded as a fish, can swim both backward and forward, and breathes by means of vibratory hairs.

Government Buys Eggs In Quantities

CHICAGO, March 27.—Disclosures of the extent of recent large scale direct country purchases of eggs by government agents helped to stimulate buying in the egg futures market today that carried prices up to new three-year highs. Prices of several other farm commodities, including wheat, corn and land, were at highs for the year.

October refrigeration egg futures rose about 1/2 cent to around 22 1/2 cents a dozen. In the spot market, prices rose 1/4 to 3/4 cent, fresh graded extra firsts selling up to 20 cents in cartons. Storage packed extras were up to 2 1/4.

The federal surplus commodities corporation purchases 22,244 cases of eggs under March 25 contract, bringing total purchases since country buying began to 36,400 cases, or 1,082,000 dozen.

Wheat prices rose more than a cent a bushel. May futures selling around 90 cents a bushel, highest for any contract since last December.

Judge Greene To Give Lecture On Christian Science

Speaking on the subject, "Christian Science: The Government of Divine Law," Judge Samuel W. Greene, C. S. B. of Chicago, will give a lecture at the city hall auditorium Friday evening at 8 o'clock.
