Speak at Gruver

W. T. Fleeson and Rev. Martin T. Pope Address Community Meeting

Martin T. Pope, minister of the Christian church, and W. T. Fleeson, secretary-manager of the Perryton C. of C., attended a mass meeting of the citizens of the Gruver community on last Monday evening. A chamber of commerce for Gruver was formed at the meeting. Mr. Fleeson and Mr. Pope assisting in the details of the organization. Gruver is a new town located about fifteen miles west of Spearman in Hansford county. It will be on the Rock Island railroad when that road is completed from Amarillo to Liberal. Gruver is located in the center of a prosperous fertile farming section and should make a hustling little city.

Another meeting was called for Wednesday, October 5, at which time election of officers and actual organization will take place.

HUNTOON STORE OPEN SATURDAY

HUNTOON MERCANTILE UNDER MANAGEMENT OF A. C.
EMBERSON IN OLD
COOK STORE

The Huntoon Mercantile, under the management of A. C. Emberson, will open for business at Huntoon next Saturday in the building formerly occupied by the O. A. Cook store. They will handle a full line of groceries and notions and will add hardware as soon as stock arrives.

Mr. Emberson, the manager of this new business, is an old resident of the Huntoon community. He has been living in Alva, Okla., for a number of years where he was engaged in business. He owns a farm near Huntoon which he bought a few years ago. Mr. Emberson will also operate a produce station, paying the highest price for eggs, poultry and cream. Mr. Emberson informs us that he will operate on a strictly cash basis, paying cash and selling for cash.

Redecorate Interior

Panhandle Lumber Company Adds
Textone Walls to Front
Office

The front office of the Panhandle Lumber Company has been beautified with the addition of Textone walls with multi-tone blending, light tan predominating. A white ceiling of the same material has been added.

This not only adds to the beauty of the room, but it also serves as a splendid model to show prospective home builders who might be interested in finishing with this new material. The Textone is put on over plaster board, giving a very finished appearance.

R. C. Johnson, Liel Lewellen and Ray Thomas were Oklahoma City visitors last week.

DEDICATE NEW SCHOOL TENTH

DR. J. A. HILL, PRESIDENT OF
WEST TEXAS TEACHERS COLLEGE AND OTHER
NOTABLES HERE

Every room of Perryton's new $75,000.00 high school building will be completed and ready for occupancy at the dedication services to be held on Monday, October 10. Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas Teachers' College at Canyon, has accepted an invitation to be present. He will take a prominent part in the services. Other foremost educators will attend.

The contractors will have the building finished to the last detail. Electricians are now putting the finishing touches to their part of the contract. The plumbing and heating fixtures are now being put in place. Most of the painting has been completed. Workmen are now busy uncrating and setting up the school equipment for the manual training rooms.

The Inland Utilities company has donated two electric ranges to the Home Economics department for use in their classes. The Home Ec girls have purchased bath room fixtures, a dining room and a living room suite, and draperies for the entire department. These will be paid for out of funds raised from class activities.

JONES TO OPEN NEW BUILDING

UNLOADING TWO CARS FURN-
TURE IN NEW STRUCTURE.
RECENTLY FINISHED;
OPEN SOON

J. A. Jones is making plans to open his new business house to the public in the near future, having only recently received two car loads of furniture which he is unpacking and setting up in his new building.

Construction work on the building is practically completed with the exception of small interior finishing jobs which will probably be ended this week. The work of unpacking and arranging the new stock will no doubt occupy considerable time.

Mr. Jones expects to be open to the public this week end and will be able to show part of his stock, but the grand opening of the new business house will not be held until Saturday, October 8.

STANSBERRY MOVES SHOP

J. H. Stansberry, proprietor of the Stansberry Electric company, is preparing to move his shop from the small building he occupies just north of Pursell's store to the old telephone building, north of the court house.

NEW LAW PASSED BY THE 46TH LEGISLATURE

A law passed by the Fortieth Legislature but not generally understood by most of us relating to buying, selling or trading second hand cars is as follows: "An act providing that whoever shall sell or trade a second hand motor vehicle shall have in his actual physical possession the tax collector's receipt for the license fee for the year in which the sale or trade is made and shall deliver to the purchaser the said copy of same. "Also that whoever should buy or trade for a second-hand motor vehicle, shall demand and receive the tax collector's receipt for the license fee for the current year.

"Failure to comply with this law shall be punishable by a fine of not less than ten nor more than two thousand dollars, or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both."—Spearman Reporter.

J. E. Biggs, field man for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was here Thursday in conference with W. T. Fleeson, secretary-manager of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce and also secretary of the newly formed northern division of the W. T. C. of C.

Miss Mattie Maude Guthrie, who is attending school in Amarillo, visited over Sunday with her mother, Mrs. J. T. Guthrie. Miss Fern Leatherman, who has been visiting with Miss Guthrie at Amarillo, accompanied her home.

Announces Wedding

Approaching Ceremony Expected
To Be Largest Fete Ever
Held in Perryton

The Home Economics club of the Perryton High school announces the approaching marriage of Dave Shanks, the blushing bride, and "Shorty" Horne, the bridegroom, principals in a womanless wedding to be staged in the school auditorium on October 14, at 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

Attorney Jack Allen will perform the ceremony and tie the nuptial knot, however, not acting in his official capacity. The other members of the bridal party, numbering thirty-five in all, will be announced next week.

AWARD PRIZES THIS SATURDAY

MEMBERS PIG AND POULTRY
CLUBS EACH WIN PRIZE;
RIBBON FOR OTHER
EXHIBITS

Saturday, October 1, is to be exhibit day in Perryton, the date selected for the judging of the pig and poultry club projects. According to Guy R. Sheets, county farm agent, every contestant in these two contests will be a winner, enough prizes having been donated by Perryton merchants to assure something for every boy and girl having stock in the show.

In addition to the club exhibits, a small exhibit will be made of garden truck and farm products. Ribbon awards will be made to winners in the various departments. Much interest has already been shown in this exhibit and Mr. Sheets is very anxious to have a representative showing of the county and section.

Sam Martin, county farm agent of Hansford county, has consented to judge the pigs while Geo. E. Voss, superintendent of the Dalco schools will judge the chickens. Three local judges will award the ribbons in the other events.

The exhibit will be shown on the west side of Main street between Talley and Wilsey streets, this section being reserved during the afternoon and no parking being allowed. A large crowd is expected for the street exhibit.

GRAND OPENING GREAT SUCCESS

CARAVAN DELAYED BUT PARTY
GOES ON; OLD TIMERS
DANCE IS ENJOYED BY ALL

Eight hundred people, young and old, attended the old timers dance held in the new Donley building, Tuesday evening, and revived the quaint old dances of years ago, encouraged by the old time fiddlers who assembled for the occasion.

Although the Chevrolet Caravan that was expected to arrive and play an important part in the grand opening of the new garage building, was delayed on account of a washout and heavy rains in the south, yet the party went on and was greatly enjoyed by the hundreds that gathered from far and near for the fete.

In the old fiddlers contest, Mr. Wright, of near Canadian, was awarded first place by the three judges, Will Glasgow, D. T. Layton, and B. C. Trosper. J. W. Sherrill of the Blue Mound community in Oklahoma carried away second honors and Milo Blodgett of the southwest part of the county placed third.

Despite the coolness of the weather and the heavy rains to the north a record breaking crowd was in attendance at the first old timers dance held in this community for years. Among the old timers present who have been in this section of the country for twenty years or more was Dell Tallaferra, Milo Blodgett, Jimmie Greer, Bert Custer, Gould Mears, Calvin Flowers, Grant Couch, Horace Lackey, Jim Dodson, A. L. Dowers, Arthur Slavvin, Alfred M. McAfee, Raymond Bowen, B. C. Trosper, Otis Shearer, Loyd South, Frank Keith, W. M. Glasgow, John Lovett and W. W. McLarty. Many others whose names were not noted were also present.

SEWER PROJECT IS UNDER WAY

BIG DITCHING MACHINE NOW
IN MAIN PART OF CITY
MAKING GOOD TIME
DISPOSAL END

C. L. Burt, contractor for the sewer system which is now being installed in Perryton, is making excellent headway. The big ditching machine is now nearing the main part of town. The ditch has been completed, pipe laid and refilled from the disposal plant south of town to the ditcher. It is an interesting sight to watch the big machine at work, digging a uniform and true ditch over twenty feet in depth. All refilling is done by power equipment. The main sewer runs in the alley one and one-half blocks west of Main street. This ditch will be completed first, the laterals being laid later. The main sewer will be twenty-six feet in the ground at the deepest place, which is just back of the Methodist church.

Property owners who expect to tap the sewer now or at a later date should make arrangements with Mr. Downer, for the installation of risers. The sewer contractors will place these at the time of digging ditch for very little compared to what the cost would be later. Watch the ditcher and when it gets close to your property, have the risers placed.

RATTLER BITES BOY, AGE FIVE

SMALL SON OF W. E. TANDY
BIT BY HUGE SNAKE,
FRIDAY; LAD
RECOVERS

Roger Tandy, age 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tandy, was attacked Friday morning at 11:00 o'clock by a huge rattlesnake on the Tandy ranch in the south part of the county. Roger was going with his father and Sid Talley to inspect some cattle when the snake bit him.

First aid treatment was applied as soon as the lad could be rushed to the house and he was then brought to Perryton, twenty-two miles, and placed under a physician's care. Roger returned to his home the first of the week, well past the crisis and considered out of serious danger, although not entirely recovered from the bite.

Mr. Talley killed the snake and reports that it had thirteen rattles and a button.

Rise up, O men of God!
Have done with lesser things;
Give heart and soul and mind and strength
To serve the King of kings.
Rise up, O men of God!
His kingdom tarries long;
Bring in the day of brotherhood
And end the night of wrong.

Rise up, O men of God!
The church for you doth wait,
Her strength unequal to the task;
Rise up, and make her great!
Lift high the cross of Christ!
Tread where His feet have trod;
As brothers of the Son of Man
Rise up, O men of God!

Visits Many Towns

Secretary W. T. Fleeson Covers East
Half of Trans-Canadian District Last Week

Traveling 785 miles and visiting every town in the eastern half of the new Trans-Canadian district in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, was the lot of W. T. Fleeson, secretary of the convention to be held in Perryton, Monday, October 10.

J. E. Biggs and W. W. Bennett, officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are visiting the towns in northeastern New Mexico, this week, while Mr. Fleeson will leave this week end to visit the towns in the western half of the Texas and Oklahoma territory.

According to Mr. Fleeson, the organization is endeavoring to have every town in the district, regardless of size, represented, and is taking steps to organize a chamber of commerce in communities that do not have such bodies.

ATTICUS WEBB HERE TUESDAY

STATE ANTI-SALOON HEAD TO SPEAK AT PERRYTON M. E.
CHURCH ON TUESDAY
OCTOBER FOURTH

Dr. Atticus Webb of Dallas, Texas, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, will be in Perryton on next Tuesday, October 4th. Dr. Webb will speak at the Methodist Church at 7:30 Tuesday evening, taking for his subject the general theme, "Law Observance."

G. H. Lewis, formerly of Little Rock, Arkansas, making his headquarters in Dallas as assistant to Dr. Webb, was here last Monday making the arrangements for the speaking date here.

Atticus Webb has won national fame in prohibition work. His tireless fight on "booze" as the head of the Anti-Saloon League of this great state has been responsible for making Texas what it is today, one of the driest of the dry states of the union. There is no doubt, in writer's opinion, but that prohibition comes nearer being enforced in Texas than in any of the other states. Especially is this true of Ochiltree County and the entire North Panhandle.

FARNSWORTH POST OFFICE NOW MONEY ORDER OFFICE

Effective October 1, 1927, the postoffice at Farnsworth, Texas, will be in position to issue money orders, according to B. L. Rogers, postmaster. This service has been secured by Mr. Rogers and will be of great benefit to the people of that community although it will necessitate more work on the part of the postmaster.

Farnsworth, while a new town, has an old postoffice. The old office of Rogerstown was established twenty years ago on the place now known as the F. P. Rogers ranch. This was discontinued and moved to Farnsworth with the building of the railroad several years ago.

Address, Judge W. H. Sewall, Follett.

Address, Stacy Wells, Beaver, Oklahoma.
Following the morning session, luncheon will be served by the home economics department in the new high school building at 12:30 o'clock. Henry Ansley of the Amarillo News-Globe will act as toastmaster at the luncheon where the following program will be given:
Song by audience, "America"
Music, Male Quartet.
Address, Judge H. E. Hoover, Canadian.

Address John E. Hill, president Panhandle Lumber Company, Amarillo.
Two Minute Talks, Representatives Various Towns.
During the afternoon session T. B. Gallagher, general passenger agent of the Santa Fe railway will give an address. Following will be a report of the resolutions committee and the selection of the next meeting place of the convention.

Following the adjournment, the dedication exercises of the new high school building will take place. Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, taking charge of the services.

Mrs. Edith Glasgow Holt of San Denis, California, came in last week for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Widmer and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Holt is a daughter of Tom Glasgow, a pioneer citizen of this county.

C. D. Rowles left Monday for South Texas where he will stay during the winter months looking after land interests.

Valda Lackey came up Saturday for a few days visit in the home of his brother, Horace Lackey, Valda is with the Poole Drug company of Amarillo.

New Electric Plow in Use

H. L. Roe of New Castle, Pa., has attracted national attention with his electric plow, as he experiments on the 600 acre farm of Donald Woodward at Le Roy, N. Y. As shown in the photo a double plow is used—one positive and the other negative. The high voltage passing-plow to plow through the damp earth, is said to kill insects, worms, and weeds, thus giving the ground basic fertilizer—nitrogen.

Mr. Leisure Cures Discouragement By Dr. Frank Crane

When I am discouraged, when my toe aches or my eyes bother me or something happens to make me feel sorry for myself, I like to think about Mr. S. M. Leisure who lives in a little town near me.

Mr. Leisure was seventy years old the other day and he was out mowing the lawn. This is really quite remarkable when taken in connection with the fact that since he was thirteen years old he has been without arms.

"No matter what happened," he said, "I was always able to paddle my own canoe. Why cry over losing two arms or two legs! The joy of living is just as sweet."

I hear and read of many people who are having rough sledding. They have housemaid's knee or dandruff or some other trouble that makes them think there is no use going on.

I have had several letters from people seriously contemplating suicide because events were all conspiring against them.

It would do them all good to go out and see this gentleman. He out to build a circus ring and charge admission, somebody would probably go and see him. It wouldn't need any preaching nor anybody to point the moral. Just looking at him would be enough.

To me he is equivalent to a good spanking. I want to brace up and tighten my belt; wipe my nose, pull down my vest and try again.

If this man with no arms for almost sixty years is still cheerful and hopeful, goes out and mows the lawn and otherwise paddles his own canoe, why shouldn't I?

There are lots of brave people in the world and it takes more courage and "intestinal stamina" to go on and keep your chin up and look pleasant than it does to go out in the garden and eat worms or select a nice telephone pole and hang yourself. Anybody can quit, and self pity is the easiest bog to slip into.

But me for the man with the indomitable spirit, the man who refuses to be licked and the man who takes with a grin whatever Fate sends him and buckles in and makes the most of what he has left.

These are the people who are the backbone of the country, and the people who win wars, the people who present an unbroken front against the assaults of pessimism.

What this world wants is cheering up and bucking up. It doesn't need anybody to teach them how to weep, nor anybody to make them feel sorry for the human lot.

The fellow who tries to get across ahead of the train usually gets a cross.

Nothing can now be done in Mexico that isn't put up to-Morrow.

Seth Brown's son didn't miss his goal so very far. He intended to go to Europe on a scholarship—but went on a cattlehip.

Chauncey M. Depew has the first $100 he ever earned—and it has grown to be $1,100—earning $1,000 for him in 66 years deposited in a savings account. Almost enough to have bought a ringside seat in the 113th row at the Dempsey-Tunney fight. It pays to be thrifty.

Sell School Idea

"If Lincoln had only a dozen books and Garfield learned to read while riding a tow-path mule, what can the child of today do with present school equipment—if he really wants to?"

Publisher J. P. O'Furey of the Cedar County News, and member of the school board at Hartington, Nebr., puts the above question in clinching his argument for greater vision in handling of our educational system. He contends that we complain of high taxes but go merrily about the job of building up propaganda which leaves the child with the impression that "school" is a monster destroying his liberties.

Current cartoons on the opening of school, which almost in every instance put the wrong emphasis on what school really means to the child, brought forth this most interesting comment from Mr. O'Furey.

"While we are complaining of high taxes I wonder how much useless expense is caused by impressing upon the minds of children that school is destroying their liberties?"

"And what does the mental opposition cost the country?"

"And how much worry does it cause school authorities, while the kiddies are young, and to civic authorities as they grow older?"

Isn't it about time we all start "selling" the school idea to our children?"

One Hundred Years

On a 1,000 acre tract near Baltimore there will soon be shown the history of American railroading, from the beginning, with locomotives and cars from various epochs—all in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

The Baltimore & Ohio, first in the United States "to handle for the public passengers and freight," reminds you that this country is gradually becoming respectfully ancient. Two big stores in New York City, Hearn's and Arnold Constable's, have just reached the respectable age of one hundred. And the age is less important than the marvelous improvements of one hundred years.

The next step will be the flying machine, with rearrangement of man's living habits, recasting of population centres and land values. Buy the right hill and mountain tops within two hundred miles of big industrial centres now, and your grandchildren will bless you.

Now We Ask You!

Too many noisy marriages, too many quiet divorces, says the Rev. Dr. Stetson, rector of New York's Trinity church, that looks from Broadway down Wall Street to a convenient dock on the East River. Dr. Stetson fears that we may imitate Soviet Russia, "where divorce is granted without question," and that our Government will some day make polygamy legal. He also deplores the power of sex appeal.

Scientists, on the other hand, say the one danger threatening the human race is the possible dying out of that same sex appeal, in which case there would be no more children and the race would fade away. What power was it, or what appeal, that, in Dr. Stetson's opinion, brought about the marriage of Adam and Eve long ago?

Four out of five married men are suffering from matrimonial dyspepsia. Their wives don't agree with them.

170 acres of land on two islands in the North Platte River, Nebr., are being opened to homestead by Uncle Sam—the principal product being cottonwood trees. Here's an opportunity for some New York boy to go west and get into the cotton business.

"Science will characterize the second period in the nation's agricultural life," says Dr. C. J. Galpin of the department of agriculture. All right, Doc. Now tell us, scientifically, how to get $10 for that hog which it cost us $16.80 in corn to raise.

Stunt Flying

By Albert T. Reid

This Week

By Arthur Brisbane

LET THEM FLY SCIENCE AND MONEY GIRL BABIES BEST WHERE REAL WEALTH IS

President Coolidge wisely decides to move slowly in forbidding ocean flights. Army and navy authorities say to officers: "You shall not fly across the ocean."

WHY NOT? Flying machines can be developed only by USING flying machines. The deaths of ten or a thousand brave fliers in experimental work NOW, might mean, because of quick airplane development, the safety of millions in case of war.

There will be no war but an air war, this nation should be ready for it, and courageous young army and navy men should be ALLOWED, not FORCED, to risk their lives, if they choose, in the good cause.

An automobile fight is coming, and when the dust settles you will find all those that understand the automobile business selling more cars than they ever sold.

With big wages and prosperity, the two car man and the four car family are increasing. Thirty million new cars will take the place of twenty-two million old cars now running in the United States.

Dr. Mees, who directs Mr. Eastman's scientific laboratories in Rochester, says science will end war by making it too deadly and too expensive.

Another force greater than science in our civilization is working to end war, and that force is ORGANIZED MONEY.

Money has discovered that war kills more dollars than men, that it creates heavy income taxes, and other troubles. Organized money knows that future wars would result, at the very start, in confiscation of capital to meet expenses. Organized money, which usually gets what it wants, doesn't want war—a cheerful fact.

A young man who had been pronounced dead was brought to life fifteen minutes later by an injection of adrenalin, a life substance secreted by one of the mysterious glands. Doctors hope that many apparently dead may be saved. They even hint at artificial creation of life. They may create that which may be called life, but how will they create THOUGHT? The great Darwin, explaining much by "evolution," was baffled when it came to explaining the development of the eye and sight.

Japan's Empress has a baby girl, and the young Japanese Emperor is doubtless disappointed. Vanity leads men to value sons, not daughters. Yet, as Galton shows, Japanese girls have made the greatness of Japan, as other girls have made the other nations great. There would have been no Charlemagne without his greater mother, "Bertha of the Big Feet," as Villon calls her in his "Neiges d'antan."

There would have been no Abraham Lincoln without six-foot tall Nancy Hanks; no Alexander the Great without the wild Olympias, dancing with snakes wrapped around her naked body.

Mr. John E. Madden, ablest horseman in America, will tell you, "quality comes through the dam."

The State of Nevada is progressive. Night before last, at Reno, the last remaining street car in the State rolled into the barn to be scrapped. Surface cars vanish from Nevada, with motor buses taking their place. Big cities in the East, West and Middle West take notice.

One single American city, New York, in its public schools last week received 1,100,000 children. The real wealth of the United States, its hope and future, are stored away in those eleven hundred thousand young minds and in the millions of others in many thousands of blessed public schools all over this country.

Wealth is not in mines, factories, crops, buildings or stocks, but in thought, free and untrammelled. From that all other wealth springs.

About you Heal

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gahan

DYSENTERY

A most unwelcome ailment if not a dangerous one, must in no way come from a good family physician; but the layman better posted in emergency is the God of the advantage to all concerned. Disease-germs are responsible for most attacks of dysentery. Quantities and kinds of food react violently when combined. All grades of severity are countered, from slight indigestion to the profuse, irritating cholera. Better sanitation have rendered the epidemic of dysentery a relic; the elimination of the pest has more than repaid the effort. Pure food and good cause disease, when taken judiciously.

Given an attack of dysentery, the first step is necessary: to clear the bowels of the offending substance, and highly-excited parts of the body may be vomiting, with even bloody evacuations.

It is necessary to apply opium, mustard or castor oil to the stomach. A large dose of Magnesia, or of castor oil administered as soon as possible, is of great value. No violent purgative, of unknown content, should be given.

Once the bowels are emptied, the patient should be given till the appearance of blood in the evacuations should be discontinued, if he has not been summoned; fever should be watched.

Lime-water and milk, in proportions, is the best diet during the attack. It is easier to give too much than to give too little. All food should be cooked; boiled water is a safe precaution in preparing drinks.

be safe than sorry.

Edwin I. Meredith, former Secretary of Agriculture, seemingly has been thrust into the shoes vacated by Wm. G. McAdoo, as dry leader and Democratic presidential candidate.

gent manner, Elijah called upon God. He spoke to a personal God. He asked something definite, and asked according to the will of God. "Let it be known that thou art God, and that I am thy servant and have done these things at thy word." God could not but honor such earnestness and such childlike faith.

The fire fell. "It was Elijah's prayer," says John Foster, "converted and returned in flame." The people bowed themselves to earth and cried: "The Lord, He is God" (v. 39). The modern reproduction of the test of Carmel can be witnessed in the powerlessness of all schemes of social reformation and rationalistic teachings, in contrast with the old Gospel which remains "the power of God unto salvation." God still answers by fire, for "our God is a consuming fire." Who burns out sin and sets the souls of men aflame with holy zeal and spiritual fervor.

PITH AND POINT

Every church has its religious limp (v. 21). The man of faith need not fear to risk his all on the honor of God (v. 23). One way to unmask error is to allow it free opportunity to do its best (v. 25).

FARMING AND FINANCE
By P. F. B.

Prices in Dispute
Forest Park, Mass. (Special).—The probable cotton crop around the world will be more, with considerable weather, less.

Exports for the crop year, July 31, have been 10,922,222 bales, a larger quantity than in any year since 1911. Part of this was bought by the U. S. at the low prices of the spring and stored for future use.

It is urged, will be reduced, export demand there were, on July 31, on this country 3,702,029 bales, 1,542,560 a year ago, the remaining demand is not particularly heavy.

Why some persons now understand how these figures are above 19 cents, and are unobtainable for cotton at 23 cents, though the weather has been adverse to cotton growth and the weevil has been destructive in destructiveness.

Bread and Families
The United States, says Stanley, the average income is relatively large, except for and consumption of bread is not fluctuate closely with flour prices.

Europe, on the other hand, the income is small, bread is an important part in the diet, and the expenditure per family for bread is large. Since European bread is more largely of flour, bread prices fluctuate with the prices of flour.

Bread prices in Europe mean the replacement of other family items or recourse to distasteful substitutes, but in the States they are scarcely noticeable.

Do not marvel at the interdependence just now in agriculture, if he or she will but stand that vast areas in the States are dependent for their power on the success or failure of agricultural pursuits, and our lives would be vastly changed if it were not for the wonderful productiveness of our rich country.

Crop Damage vs. High Prices
Crop damage is a big word in the farm dictionary just now. One hears talk of rust, weevil, drouth and frost. It must, of course, be recognized that if a farmer's crop has been nearly destroyed by weevil or rust, by flood or drouth, the ensuing high prices do not help him much, consequently areas of extensive crop damage will reap no benefit, yet the net result of the present price trend remains in favor of the average agriculturist.

Some Substantial Farm Buying
Certain
Regardless of the rest of the crop year, there has been sufficient progress already in some farming districts throughout the United States to warrant the conclusion that at least some substantial buying by farmers is coming right along.

Nor would one be risking a great deal in a guess that names such as Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington in the Northwest, as well as Texas in the South. The former states are in a position to benefit materially from an excellent spring wheat crop, while the boll weevil damage to the cotton crop of Texas is reported on the increase, but the large cotton acreage planted and the high average level of prices that farmers may be expected to receive for their crop assures a distinctly favorable income this fall.

Farmers and Immigrants
By reason of the restricted immigration now to this country, of course, our farmers cannot rely as they use to on securing cheap farm labor from this source. Other sources for farm labor are at the same time growing scarcer every year.

Chief Charley Challenges

Charles K. Price of Forest City, N. C., challenges the claim of Layton Mitchell of Fawhuska, Okla., as being the youngest Chief of Police in the U. S. Chief Price is four months or from February to June, younger than Mitchell. Both are 27 years old.

Canada is seeking farmers strenuously though immigration. We are not. When steamers are packed with immigrants from foreign shores, this suggests excellent business conditions in the U. S. and high prices for labor. This, however, like everything else, can be overdone, and too large arrival figures foretell a depression. Conversely, when departures are large in number and when immigrant traffic is small, it is a good sign that U. S. business can get no worse.

THE BUSINESS WEATHER

By P. F. B.

Stores Relying on Fall Business
Babson Park, Mass. (Special)—As one goes around at this time discussing the business weather with store people, one is impressed with the reliance that is being placed upon the next three months. It is quite apparent that summer business among the stores has been poorer than usual in many cases.

This Fall, it looks as though some of the larger stores in the bigger industrial centers will be most concerned over the problem of increasing sales.

Perhaps this is not surprising when one realizes that the tendency towards greater unemployment is most noticeable among the industrial workers. Such unemployment is by no means serious at this time, but there seems little doubt as to it being an important factor in the smaller sales shown by some stores during the past few months.

Stores catering more to the farming districts should show gains in sales this Fall. This will not hold true in all parts of the country this year but it should hold true in most of them.

Treasury Financing Interests
Large Investors

The United States Treasury offering of six months Treasury Notes at 3% marked a new low point in interest rates on this type of loan. The lowest previous rate was 3 1/2%.

Coincident with this short term financing another offer was made to holders of Second Liberty 4 1/2% to exchange their bonds into an issue of 3 to 5 year 3 1/2% notes. According to the terms proposed, the Government will pay interest on the Liberty 4 1/2% up to November 15 and on the new notes from September 15. The equivalent price for the new notes, less the premium of 1/4 and adjusting interest concessions, is 99.41. The yield at this price for a five year period is 3.72% and for three years is 3.70%.

It is apparent that institutions and other large investors in government bonds will consider the offer attractive and that a large part of the Second Liberty 4 1/2% now outstanding will be exchanged during

Want Flood Control and no Politics

Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas want flood control and little politics. Here are members of the Tri-state flood control board, as they left the White House last week. They are Mr. Garsaud of La., Gov. J. P. Martineau of Ark., L. O. Crosby, Back row, Gen. J. R. Fordyce, J. P. Butler, Oscar Johnson, and H. E. Couch.

Money Drugging the Market

During recent months the amount of foreign gold in the United States has grown uncomfortably large.

With the greater efficiency of industry, indicated by automatic production methods and quicker turnover in trade, cash has accumulated the demand for commercial credit has declined and money rates have eased off to current levels which are the lowest since the spring of 1925.

Today we have the spectacle of moderately prosperous industrial conditions, an improving farm outlook and, at the same time, a financial situation where money is a drug on the market.

Significance of Falling Railroad Earnings

The compilation by the Commercial & Financial Chronicle of the gross and net earnings of the United States railroads for the month of July makes an unfavorable showing in both the gross and the net earnings as compared with the corresponding period a year ago, but in much more pronounced fashion and to a greatly increased degree.

Railroad earnings really serve as a double barometer of business. The gross earnings act as a good indicator of the general business activity. Net railroad earnings, while very important, serve a different purpose as a barometer; they reflect more directly the financial condition of the railroads themselves.

Just as bank clearings represent the total volume of purchases made in the United States, so do railroad earnings indicate manufacturing and industrial activity. Most of the goods bought must be transported by the roads.

Falling Commodity Prices Significant Too

The leading commodity indices that have so long pointed downward, now show distinct signs of an upturn. The strength, indeed, is mostly in agricultural products, but an important increase in farm buying power cannot fail to bring more business to practically all lines of industry.

The weak point in this support is the probability that among the bulk of industrial commodities only price firmness or very moderate advances are to be expected.

Internal remedies are ineffective in removing external pests, such as lice and mites, from livestock, says the United States department of agriculture. Since there are many dips and other preparations that will control such parasites when applied externally, much uncertainty and delay may be avoided and best results obtained at least cost by using only tested and proved methods. Use external remedies for external parasites, and internal remedies under proper prescription for internal parasites, most of which are worms.

Cows normally lose flesh for three or four weeks after calving because they can not consume sufficient feed to provide adequately for both the milk flow and maintenance of body weight. It is important that the cow carry considerable flesh at time of calving to prevent undue thinness afterward. Cows in good condition at birth of calf will start off the lactation period at a higher level of production than thin cows. This results in a larger yield of milk for the year. There is no economy in having a cow thin at calving time.

Every lot or field in which hogs are kept should be supplied with running water, or a system should be installed whereby water is available whenever they want it. Many hogs get their supply from a dirty trough filled once or twice a day. This is inadequate and insanitary.

was black. The rain whispered companionably among the jack pines. The twisting track was firm and free from standing water. He saw no person but a pair of fiery eyes stared upon him from behind a bend in the road, and as the car rushed past, he could see the mild and shaggy head of a bear, who was standing on his hind legs in a patch of blackberries.

When the last ridge had been surmounted he gave a start of surprise. A light was shining from the windows of his cabin. He shut off the power and brought the car to a stop some distance away. The thought of the motor-tramp came into his mind and he went forward cautiously to reconnoiter. He crept stoppingly, keeping out of range of the windows until he could peer into one of them from the corner. Two small panes had been broken out so that the unbidden guests might unloose the sashbolts. After a single glance he went to the back door and thrust it open.

The three occupants of the cabin, Jake, Culley and Oscar, looked up in surprise. They were quite at their ease, as much so as in their own homes, or a stable. They had eaten a bountiful meal from his provisions, as the disordered table showed. A plate had been broken, and the pieces carelessly kicked aside. Now Culley was chewing tobacco, as the brown splashes where he had spat on the floor showed. Others were smoking. And a tall black bottle, partly full, stood in the center of the table.

They had removed their outer clothing. Caps and mackinaws were thrown on one of the bunks. Across them lay three belts to which were attached holsters, each holster containing a large calibre automatic. "Hello, kid!" greeted Culley, jovially. "Didn't find you home, so we came in."

"So I see," returned Eddie. "This rain'll hold up the ship maybe till noon tomorrow," volunteered Oscar, "so we thought we'd eat under cover. Good grub you got here." He began indolently to roll a cigarette.

Eddie's self-control was suddenly broken. He snatched a shotgun from its pegs over the door. The barrels were loaded only with birdshot, it is true. But birdshot will serve admirably at three feet. "You hogs!" he growled. "You leaky, filthy crooks! Get out of here—quick!"

Men who live by violence are usually educated. They know when an adversary is bluffing and when he is dangerous. They have the courage of their careers, and they will take ruthless steps against the bluffer. But they bow to the dangerous man. So the trio rose. Here was danger personified. A false move would mean the discharge of the shotgun and two dead men. They had no desire to speculate as to who might be spared.

Keeping them covered, Eddie stepped back until he secured the belts. He removed the pistols with one hand and threw the belts to the floor. Backing again, he pulled open the front door. They saw his intention.

"Aw, say, kid," remonstrated Culley, his voice between a whine and a snarl, "don't throw them gats away." His answer was to hurl the pistols one by one, out into the darkness. And Culley spoke again: "What's the big idea, anyway? You claim to be a freind—"

The bulky guard happened to be nearest. Eddie thrust the gun against his flabby stomach so that the twin muzzle dented deeply into the soft tissue. "Shut up and get out!" he commanded.

mensely powerful, stood humped under their tarpaulins like strange, prehistoric animals. Their guards and drivers walked restlessly up and down or huddled under protecting canvas aprons. Three skiffs floated by the dock in the bootleggers' cove. There was an attitude of expectancy and impatient waiting over the score of men making up the expedition.

It was well past noon on the first of September. Yesterday's rain persisted, although the large drops had now dissolved into many smaller ones, and a thick white mist threw a blanket over them. It was impossible to see farther than a short distance. Bad weather, fog and a high sea had delayed the Canadian rum-runner. She was hours overdue.

As the men stamped their feet and talked insensibly the atmosphere became lighter. The mist, little by little, began to dissolve. A cold wind came up and swept away the remnants. The clouds turned from a dreary grey to a lighter shade. They became fleecy; patches of blue sky appeared. The rain stopped.

"There she is!" several voices cried at once. Only a few hundred yards away, heading straight inshore, was a squat, broad-beamed fishing tug. She was low in the water, there was a bone in her teeth and spray dashed over her square bows.

A plume of steam arose from the craft, and a single inquiring note of her siren rolled over the water. One of the men raised a long bamboo pole on which was a square of white cloth and waved it vigorously. It was the "All clear!" signal.

For everything was all clear, of course. The runners would be unmolested up here in this jumping-off place in the barrens. The tug drove on. The canvas which swarthed her sides to a height of ten feet was being stripped off. It could be seen that the deck was piled high with pine boxes of handy size. They were cases of Canadian liquor, hundreds of them retailing at current quotations at one hundred and twenty-five dollars per case. The cargo was worth a fortune.

The skiffs put out from the dock, rowed briskly by two men in each. A man in the bow of the tug raised his hand and shouted. She had come inshore as far as it was safe and, with the reversal of her engines, the forward motion ceased. The crew gathered at the rail, removing the final lashings. As the skiffs came alongside and were made fast, they handed down the cases.

The small boats came back cautiously to the dock, laden to the water's edge. The waiting group formed a chain. The cases were passed from hand to hand until they were piled up on the nearest truck. In a few minutes the skiffs were empty, and were rowed to the tug again.

Two motor boats shot out from a notch in the shoreline, just above the cove. High banks on either side of the shelter and thick, overhanging vegetation had effectually concealed them before. The boats were long, high in the bow and equipped with roaring engines that sent them flying through the water at racing speed. Each was manned by half a dozen young men, in the forest-green uniform of the Michigan state police. Every man was armed, and a machine-gun thrust an ominous snout forward from the bow.

All hands went up on the tug and the skiffs. There was no hope. The tugs were too slow to run away and her crew could not hope to stand off this superior armament. The completeness of the surprise made the thought of organizing resistance out of the question.

The crowd on shore looked on the flying craft with horrified amazement. The jig was up—most emphatically. It was every man for himself. The trucks furnished them with a means of escape and they turned frantically to the waiting vehicles.

They faced a skirmish line of forest green. More troopers had arisen from among the sand dunes. These were armed with rifles and automatics. And each held a dark metal object, about the size and shape of a goose-egg, in his right hand. The line was a fearsome one. Over each head was drawn a dull cloth bag that fitted tightly around the neck and ended in front in a sort of elephant's trunk. Two great staring glass disks were turned forward like merciless eyes.

Only one man was not so equipped, but his mask rested on his head, ready for adjustment. He stepped forward toward the huddled, doubtful booze-runners. "Gas-bombs, boys," he announced quietly, holding up his own goose-egg. "No false moves, or—" He drew back his arm slightly. "And it's a painful way to die!"

The truck crews were made up mainly of men who had dodged service in the great war. They had abundant courage and would have shot it out with the troopers. But they knew nothing of gas, and they feared it with a panicky fear. Every hand clutched at the sky, including the plump, tapering figure of a rotund person with silky brown beard who stood in the foreground.

Every hand? Not quite. A man on the wharf, protected in part by the trucks above, raised his automatic with a desperate gesture and fired at the leader of the troopers. He missed. But the sergeant who answered it did not. The man on the dock clasped his arms about his stomach and fell into the shallow water.

"Steady!" commanded the leader. "He's done. Don't throw men."

Eddie Forbes ran from among the troopers, throwing aside his gas mask as he came. "I'll get him out!" he cried. For the runner who had fallen was too valuable to be drowned. It was Scoots Libbey, whose mishandling of a liquor truck months before had started all his trouble.

Turn the key! and your Buick is Double Locked

No lock could be safer! One turn of the key locks both ignition and steering wheel. But merely turning off the ignition does not lock the wheel. You may shut off the engine and coast, if you like, and still have your car under perfect control.

And no lock could be more convenient! It is illuminated and located within easy reach, where the steering column meets the dash.

The Buick double-lock is an exclusive Buick feature—one of many important refinements which characterize Buick for 1928.

Sedans $1195 to $1995 Coupes $1195 to $1850
Sport Models $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

STRANGE! HEREDITY GETS LITTLE BLAME FROM THE OLD FOLKS FOR YOUTHS' CUSSINESS

Personally Tested
Rastus, is my bawth warm? Yass, Massah, it's de warmest Ah wuz evah in!

BLONDE BESS OPINES
Cleopatra had nothing on Sallome. In fact, neither appears to have had very much on at any time.

Subtle, Boys, Subtle
Reporter—Why do you produce nude shows?
Producer—Vy? Few close!

So's Your Old Man
Prof—Is this wrong? I have et. Stude—Yes.
Prof—What's wrong with it? Stude—You ain't et yet.

Prideful Reply
Joe—Bill, I won't have it! For the last time, I ask you, will you keep away from my girl?
Bill—Thank the Lord, that's the last time I'll ever hear that question

This Way Out
Help you out, why certainly, said the millionaire as he tossed out the panhandler

Purposeful Canine
Insurance Examiner—You say you never had an accident? How about the time you were bitten by a dog?
Thompson—That wasn't an accident. The dog did it on purpose.

'Twon't Be Long Now
Do I bore you, asked the mosquito politely, as he sank a deep shaft into the man's leg
Not at all! replied the man, smashing the mosquito gently over the head with a book. And by the way how do I strike you?

Facts of the Case
Reporter—Were you and Murphy cool and collected after the explosion yesterday?
Flaherty—Well, you see it was this way. I was cool, but Murphy was collected.

Family of Impersonators
You keep a dog don't you? No, if we hear a noise in the night we bark ourselves.

Fast, Fast Worker
A bonnie little lassie named Daisie Drove all the laddies plumb crazy. But what was her system— Whether she hugged 'em or kissed 'em— It's on this very point that I'm hazy.

Everything Relative
She—Isn't that blonde girl next to us pretty?

He—Next to you anything is pretty.

AMBITIOUS
Why did you turn down the offer to be president of the company? There wasn't any chance for advancement.

WHILE THERE'S LIFE THERE'S HOPE
Old Maid—I wish God had made me a man.
Grandma—Don't worry dear, you may find one yet.

LOW DOWN
Dat dere new boy am down right mean—ah done saw him holdin' de lantern while his old mammy chops de wood.

It is said that underground passages are the only way to save the pedestrian's life. That's the trouble—there are too many of them underground now.

HE MEANT WELL
Clerk, Well sir what can I show you? Rastus hunting for a new overcoat. Well I done wants one o' dem long black coats—ah guess dey calls 'em English ulcers!

CERTAINLY MADAM
Bride on phone—Hello—Jones butcher shop? Please send me a pound of mince meat, and be sure it's a nice young mince.

RESULTS!
Thursday I lost a gold watch which I valued very highly, as it was an heirloom. I immediately inserted an advertisement in your Lost and Found column, and waited. Yesterday I went home and found the watch in the pocket of my other suit.

God bless your paper!

Other Reasons
Barber—Your hair is getting very thin on top, sir. Have you tried our wonderful hair tonic?
Customer—No, it isn't that.

How it's Done
I'm having my face lifted yelled the flapper softly, as her cave man handed her an uppercut.

Man to Man
I'm leaving tomorrow for Paris to have my eyes treated.
Send me a few pictures.

That Settles It
Little Fellow—Pa, it's raining.
Dad—Well, let it rain.
Little Fellow—I was going to, Pa.

An actor famous for his kras. Was socked in the eye by his Mrs. He groaned aloud
When he faced the crowd For instead of applause he got hrs.

I Am the Master Salesman

Lo, the people of the earth do me homage. I am the herald of success for men, merchants, manufacturers, municipalities, nations. I go forth to tell the world the message of service and sound merchandise. And the world listens when I speak.

There was a day long ago, when by the weight of superior merit, a business could be above the common level without me, but that day has passed into oblivion.

For those who have used me as their servant have gathered untold millions into their coffers.

I Sell More Merchandise

—per dollar of salary paid me than any other salesman on the face of the earth. The fabled lamp of Aladdin never called to the service of its master genii half so rich and powerful as I am, to the man who keeps me constantly on his payroll.

I Hold the Business of the seasons in the hollow of my hand. I command the legions of fashion, mold the styles, lead the world withersoever I go. I drive principled business to cover, and sound death-knell of inferior merchandise. Fraught are afraid of me because I march in the bright light of day.

Whoever Makes Me Their Servant

for life takes no chances on drawing down depends from my untold treasures bestowed upon a lavish hand.

I have awakened and inspired nations, millions of men to fight the battles of freedom beyond the seas, and raised billions of dollars to foot the bills. Nations and kings pay homage and the business world bows at my feet.

I sow broad fields for you to reap a golden harvest.

I am the Master Salesman at your service
