Wilson also brought in a fiery red-head, Mrs. Barbara Castle, 53, former chairman of the Labor party, as minister of overseas development. This, too, was a surprise appointment.

Wilson announced his second group of ministers in his streamlined cabinet Saturday afternoon. The first seven were named Friday night and were sworn in Saturday at a Privy Council meeting attended by the queen. Junior ministers will be announced Saturday, completing the government.

Kremlin in Business As Usual; K Fading

MOSCOW (UPI)—An atmosphere of "the king is dead, long live the king" prevailed Saturday in Moscow. Former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev faded further into obscurity and the Kremlin proclaimed business as usual.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda which described him Friday night as "harmless" significantly omitted any mention of his name in a tribute to the 20th anniversary of the liberation of the Ukraine from the Nazi armies.

In an apparent mistake on Thursday—the day of Khrushchev's retirement—Ukraine Pravda had called Khrushchev, a Ukrainian, a "top war commander and political leader."

But Saturday even the history books were being rewritten to play down his role in the Khrushchev era.

Chinese Cheer Breakthrough in Nuclear Blast

TOKYO (UPI)—Thousands of persons cheered and stamped their feet in the streets of Peking Saturday in celebration of Communist China's first atomic bomb explosion.

Newspapers in the Communist capital hailed the breakthrough as "an important achievement in strengthening national defense and an important contribution to the defense of world peace."

They said Communist China under no circumstances would be the first nation to use nuclear weapons.

Chinese leaders, in a message of congratulations to the scientists who worked on the bomb, boasted the test had struck a "powerful blow" against the Western nuclear monopoly.

"This successful test marks China's entry into a new stage in the modernization of its national defense," the New China News Agency quoted them as saying. "It is a powerful blow at the U.S. imperialist policy of nuclear monopoly and nuclear blackmail and a great encouragement to all peace-loving people of the world."

But Japanese scientists concluded the nuclear device must have been extremely small as the blast was not detected on their monitoring equipment. They expected fallout from the test to start reaching Japan Sunday.

Nationalist Chinese intelligence sources in Taipei, Formosa, said they believed the bomb was exploded deep inside China where the provinces of Tsinghai, Kansu and Sinkiang meet.

Condition Better For Pampan in Amarillo Hospital

Albert E. Branscum of Pampan was listed in serious condition late Saturday night by attendants at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, the first significant change in his condition in the past 10 days.

Branscum had been listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit of the hospital.

Attendants say he was transferred out of intensive care Friday night due to improvement in his condition.

Branscum, 35, accused in the slaying of his 29-year-old wife, is suffering from two gunshot wounds in the head.

Pampa officers charged that Branscum shot to death his wife on the morning of Oct. 8 and then shot himself in the head twice with the .22 pistol.

Crowds Expected On Foliage Tour

Hundreds of persons from over the Southwest are expected to head toward Canadian today for the annual foliage tour near Lake Marvin.

Officials of the State Parks and Wildlife division said that the color of leaves should be at its best this weekend.

The foliage tours will be conducted each weekend by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce until the latter part of October.

The foliage tour consists of a 15-mile drive to and around Lake Marvin. The road is lined with huge cottonwood trees whose leaves are taking on autumn's bright hues.

The tour begins about 10 miles east of Canadian on Highway 60.

Reporter's Version of Fall Backstage During Khrushchev Ouster

EDITOR'S NOTE: UPI correspondent Richard H. Growald has pieced together from Kremlin statements, diplomats, Russians and other sources the first inside story of the fall of Nikita Sergeevich Khrushchev. His detailed dispatch follows.

By RICHARD H. GROWALD MOSCOW (UPI)—Nikita S. Khrushchev fledged nervously in greeting French Minister of Science Gaston Palewski.

The Frenchman was surprised. He had come to Khrushchev's Black Sea retreat of Pitsunda expecting one of those six-hour lunch and talk sessions the mightiest Communist made a part of his regime. He did not know Khrushchev had just been fighting for his political life.

From crisp Kremlin statements, from diplomats, from Russians, from sources who must remain anonymous has come this version of the fall of Nikita Sergeevich Khrushchev.

Khrushchev, very much "the boss," hammed it up in a nationally televised ground-to-space telephone conversation with the three cosmonauts looping earth in the Soviet cosmic passenger space ship.

He laughingly jostled his old crony, President Anastas I. Mikoyan, over taking turns speaking to the spacemen.

Khrushchev Careless But Khrushchev had been careless.

He was operating out of his vacation retreat of Pitsunda on the Black Sea. Also on holiday was his personal aide and son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei. His aide, Mikhail Kharlamov, chairman of the state television committee, had flown to Oslo to arrange a television exchange.

Editor Pavel Satyukov of the party newspaper Pravda a loyal lieutenant, was visiting Paris. Other members of the Kremlin brain trust had left Moscow on various errands.

No one was minding the store.

His critics—those high-ranking Communists grown weary of a bragging, boastful, earthy leader who dared make off-the-cuff pronouncements to the world without consulting the party central committee—felt their time had come.

The other members of the 11-man central committee's presidium—that most powerful Soviet body—had gotten into the habit of meeting in the Kremlin without Khrushchev. Tuesday, the black Chaika limousine—the status symbol of Soviet power—rolled up tree-lined Staraya Boulevard and stopped at No. 4.

There, in the central committee headquarters, a mile from the Kremlin, deputy party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, First Vice Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, party ideologist Mikhail Suslov and the others looked to

Premier Wants to Take War to North

By MICHAEL T. MALLOY

SAIGON (UPI)—South Viet Nam reported Saturday its troops killed a record 195 Communist guerrillas Friday, most of them in two major victories. At the same time Premier Nguyen Khanh proposed once again the war be carried to North Viet Nam with U.S. weapons.

The biggest victory claimed by the Vietnamese was in Bac Lieu Province where 87 guerrillas were reported killed along a canal bank 120 miles south of Saigon. It said 13 Viet Cong were captured along with three light machine guns, 34 rifles and other weapons.

Government losses were put at six killed and 19 wounded.

Dead Carried Away

In the second major engagement government troops killed at least 70 Communists, the government said. In addition, a large number of dead and wounded were carried away from the battle by their comrades. The government losses were announced as 16 killed and four missing.

This battle broke out when a force of tanks and infantry set out from Ben Cat, 25 miles north of Saigon, in an effort to break a two-week-old Communist stranglehold on the main highway running north from the capital.

Holds News Conference

General Khanh repeated his hopes of carrying the war to North Viet Nam at a press conference at Pleiku, 240 miles northwest of Saigon.

He said his embattled nation could not win out over Communist subversion by present tactics and that alternate plans including bombing or even expanding the war to the north were under consideration.

Miss Wiederkehr refused to talk about her flight with Ashley. She said her lawyer said she could be interviewed only after she talks with the district attorney and an insurance company.

Atom Tests Again Delayed by AEC Due to Weather

BAXTERVILLE, Miss. (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission again postponed an off-delayed underground nuclear test near here today because of unfavorable wind conditions.

The AEC said the earliest possible time for the explosion to be set off would be Monday. Officials will take another look at the weather Sunday.

On numerous occasions during the past three weeks the AEC and the Defense Department have evacuated the scattered farm families near the spot where a five-kiloton nuclear device was buried 2,700 feet deep in a salt deposit five miles in diameter.

But weather conditions ranging from errant breezes to hurricane Hilda delayed the explosion beneath the sandbagged ground zero point.

The explosion was the first of three in a new series called Dribble, designed to help U.S. scientists improve the art of detecting underground tests by unfriendly nations.

ward Mikoyan. The vote came. It was not unanimous. But Khrushchev lost. Brezhnev, Khrushchev's political lieutenant, was chosen as party leader. Kosygin, Khrushchev's government chief aide, took the premiership. Late Wednesday, word was reportedly flashed to all Communist capitals, including Peking.

Mikoyan presided over a supreme Soviet (parliamentary) presidium meeting Thursday to make everything legal. They unanimously "granted" Nikita Khrushchev's desire to retire because of "old age and deteriorating health."

The presidium decided to summon the 330-member central committee to back them up. Out went the call. Most members lived in or near Moscow. But some, the ambassador in New Delhi, the envoy to Paris, the head of the science academy in Novosibirsk, lived far away. And one, Nikita S. Khrushchev, was at Pit-sunde.

Khrushchev, with the rest, got his summons for the Wednesday meeting.

From his cushy nouse at Pit-sunde, you hear Russians now talking about "those American toys he had sent there for his grandchildren" — Khrushchev began mustering his forces. He had little time.

Wednesday morning, only a few hundred Russians knew the drama being acted out against the background of a Moscow preparing for the cosmonauts' welcome. The newspapers bubbled about the cosmonauts. But Khrushchev already was being downgraded.

Khrushchev's name did not appear in Wednesday's editions of Pravda and Izvestia. His name vanished from Moscow radio and television.

Suslov, that tall, gaunt, cool strategist of Communist ideology, spoke for the presidium. He read off the indictment. Khrushchev must go. Suslov spoke a reported five hours.

Khrushchev replied, speaking four hours. He defended his record. Was it not he who destroyed Stalinism and its evil work? Was it not he who gave Russians the greatest measure of material goods in Soviet history? Was it not he who devoted his entire life to the good of the party?

Khrushchev's critics acted. According to reports, they laid down a set of "ground rules" — no calling in secret police, no forcing everybody must abide by the vote, majority rules, and as good Communists, all must bow to the will of the party.

The central committee members agreed. The vote came. It was not unanimous. But Khrushchev lost. Brezhnev, Khrushchev's political lieutenant, was chosen as party leader. Kosygin, Khrushchev's government chief aide, took the premiership. Late Wednesday, word was reportedly flashed to all Communist capitals, including Peking. pendent on the results of this year's drive. They are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Milk Fund, Red Cross, Salvation Army and Welfare Index.

Approximately one-half, $34,693.93, of the quota has been turned in by the advanced gifts and special gifts divisions. More is expected to be reported this week.

General campaign drive chairman Norman Henry, in issuing a challenge to both workers and donors, said, "The United Fund goal this year is $70,000. This is a realistic goal to fill the needs of the six agencies. This goal was decided upon after 14 budget meetings of the fund board. Each agency budget was examined and in some cases resubmitted several times before being approved by the board."

He added, "We could do without all of these agencies if you are willing to sacrifice the many services to your children and your community. No one wants to be without these so they must be supported either by one fund raising campaign or six separate drives. This is a community project and must be supported by the whole community or its efforts will fail."

Concluding, he said, "We can reach our goal only if everyone accepts his own responsibility and is willing to do something about it. The challenge is yours."

5TH

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WEALEY
Gray County Agent

We have had a few questions concerning the procedure for displaying products at the Tri-State Fair. We have never taken time to explain this to exhibitors.

On request, each County Agent in the Panhandle region will be provided space for a booth to display the products grown in his particular county. In addition, space is also provided for the display of individual exhibits. A total of 50 different agricultural and horticultural products can be entered for competition in the judging. A County Agent may have a booth and not enter any products at all in the competition. However, as a courtesy to the people in the county, we have always volunteered to be responsible for taking products to the Tri-State Fair. We have always advised exhibitors that we will not be responsible for returning products. Most people don't care to have the products back after they have been handled for two or three days or during the duration of the Fair. You see why it would be impossible for the County Agent to return the products that some 40-60 exhibitors enter. This year, we had two sets of judges — one working on the agricultural products and one on the horticultural. They were calling for products so fast that we failed to get two or three different items judged due to a mixup. We never act as judges, and attempt to enter everything in the competition.

After the judging we try to select products that will make a balanced booth. All products receiving a ribbon are displayed. In general if a product is a perishable product it will deteriorate to such an extent within a short time that it will take away from the appearance of the booth. Therefore, we either put them in the individual exhibits booth or sack them up and give them to a guard that has been assigned to the agricultural booths.

As the time draws near for the Bangs Testing Program we find a lot of details to put together at this hour.

Monday night we are having a meeting of all people that will be working directly with the program.

At this meeting we will work with the line-up men and officials of the Texas Animal Health Commission and others in planning the testing program.

We are surprised that quite a large number of breeders plan to have their entire herd tested. Only 20 per cent or 50 head, whichever is greater, is all that is required.

Even though testing will not get underway officially until October 26th, we have a few herd test that is on the Gray-Wheeler County line. John Haynes, McLean, will have about 200 cows tested in the central part of the county.

County SCD News

By VAN MILLS

Harry Youngblood of Stinnett has completed an irrigation well on the place he operates north of Lefors. Harry plans to establish irrigated pastures. Stan Kretzmeier has just completed leveling a field for irrigation on his place northwest of Pampa.

The value of stubble mulch farming was noted following the recent rains. Moisture penetration checks made by Soil Conservation Service technicians where there was far too good wheat stubble, the moisture was down to 16 inches. Where the wheat stubble was destroyed by onewaying, the moisture was down to 8 inches. Other benefits of stubble mulch farming are: reduction of wind erosion, reduces soil erosion, and reduces accidents caused by blowing dust.

The value of litter left on the surface is also important on rangeland. One inch of rainfall over one acre of land weighs approximately 216,000 pounds, or enough water to produce about 540 pounds of blue gramgrass. This is enough grass to feed one cow for 18 days. Over grazing can be costly in many other ways.

Curtis Schaffer and Billy Davis presented a watershed program to the McLean Lion's Club at their last meeting. They emphasized the need for developing a watershed protection program on the McClellan Creek. They also pointed out the benefits of a watershed dam for municipal water and recreation to the city of McLean. Milton Carpenter and James Clieft of the Gray Co. SCD also attended the meeting.

Curtis Schaffer Elected SCD Supervisor

By ARNEAL SCOTT

Curtis Schaffer was re-elected as supervisor to represent subdivision No. 1 of the Gray County Soil Conservation District. Subdivision 1 is the southwest part of Gray County. The election was held at the Grandview school.

Curtis was first elected to the board in 1954 and this is his third, five year term. Curtis served as chairman of the board for several years. Schaffer when interviewed: "I am proud that I have been elected by the farmers and ranchers of this subdivision as their representative for this important job." He further stated, "It is my wish that every landowner could serve a term as a supervisor of his SCD. It sure brings a fellow a lot closer to the problems of conservation and to the efforts that our Soil Conservation Service technicians, County agents, and others put forth to help us solve our conservation problems. Everybody in this SCD should know the services available thru the district. I encourage everyone who does not have a conservation plan on their farm or ranch to contact the SCS office in Pampa, myself or one of the other supervisors." The other supervisors are Stan Friend, W. C. Epperson, Milton Carpenter and James Clieft.

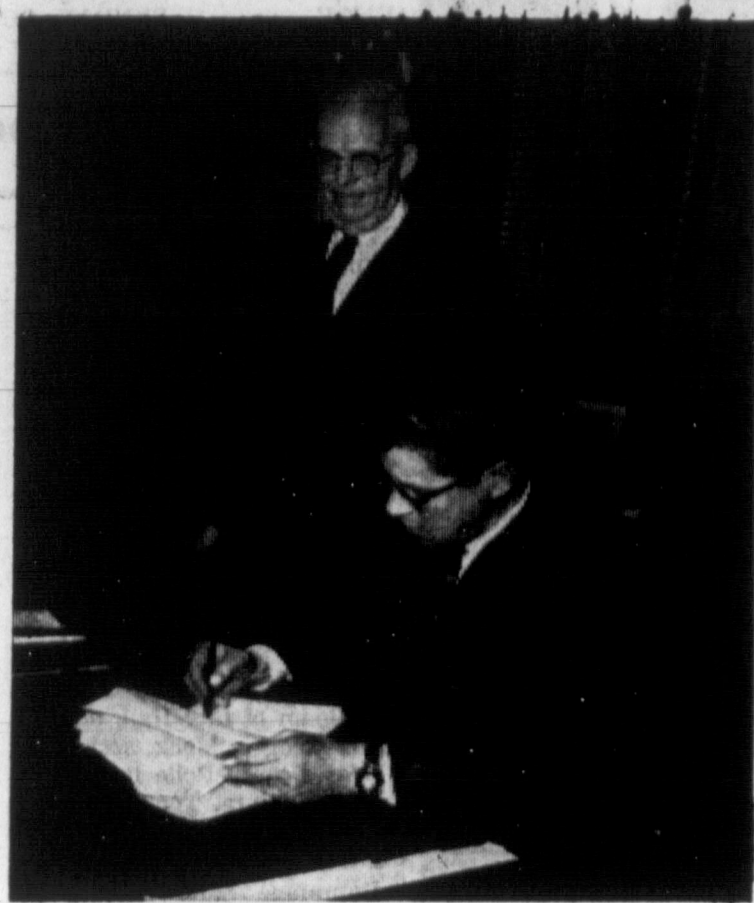

Screwworms Set To Invade Texas

MISSION (Spl) — Screwworms are on the move again in Texas, and with favorable, moist weather and ranching operations creating conditions ideal for the insect's development and migration, screwworm eradicators consider few areas of the state completely safe from the threat of outbreaks.

Since late September, when a 53-day screwworm-free period in Texas was ended, infestations have been reported in southern, western and northern sections of the state. How severe a buildup can be expected will depend largely on whether livestock producers use protective measures on their animals, and report infestations to eradication headquarters so that emergency treatment can be started.

Although the buildup in infestations began several weeks later than during most years — shortening the time screwworms will be a major problem before cold weather limits their activities — damage can still be extensive and control cost high.

SCD PROCLAMATION — Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman recently signed the Gray County Soil Conservation District's Revised Basic Memorandum of Understanding. Shown looking on is D. A. Williams, administrator of the government's Soil Conservation Service. The memorandum entitles the local SCD to technical assistance for the Conservation Service.

Texans Vote Nov. 3 On 3 Amendments

Three proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution to be voted on November 3 of this year have particular significance to Farm Bureau members. The first proposed amendment would remove the present authorization granted to the Legislature to transfer not more than one percent annually of the permanent school fund to the available school fund.

Amendment No. 2 relates to legislation concerning conservation or reclamation districts and requires notice by publication prior to introduction of such legislation. The third proposed amendment would provide medical care for persons over 65 who are not recipients of Old Age Assistance but are unable to pay for needed medical services.

As usual, there are arguments for and against each of the three amendments, and perhaps a brief look at these arguments will contribute to an informed vote on these issues.

School Fund Issue
Those favoring removal of the authority of the Legislature to transfer one percent of the permanent school fund to the available school fund advance the following reasons for their position:

(1) The transfer privilege was granted back in 1891 when public lands and the trust fund established from them appeared to be inexhaustible. Today, the one percent transfer would add such a proportionately small sum to the available school fund that it wouldn't be worth depreciating the principal of the permanent school fund and thus jeopardizing the trust fund from public lands. Amendment No. 2 would require notice by publication not less than 30 nor more than 90 days of intent to introduce legislation to create a new conservation or reclamation district or to amend terms of an existing act pertaining to a particular district. It would also require that a copy of the notice and the proposed bill be delivered to the Governor who, in turn, would submit both to the Texas Water Commission for review.

Proponents of this amendment argue that:
(1) The public notice would give those who would be affected time to study the proposal and help prevent taxation without representation.
(2) Review by the Texas Water Commission would assure that new districts would be created or old districts altered only in accordance with needs of the area and to the benefit of the

Organic Matter Helpful to Soil

Organic matter helps soil hold more moisture and makes it easier to work, says Foster Whaley, County Agent. And compost piles are excellent sources of organic matter for your garden soil, he adds.

A compost pile is easy to make and increases farm efficiency by making use of leaves, grasses, seeds and discarded plants from the garden. However, make certain that materials used do not contain disease organisms. Whaley warns. Scraps of vegetable matter, sawdust, sod, soil and manure can also be used.

As materials become available, place them in layers on the ground, keeping the top of the pile lower in the middle than on the sides, so it can be watered and kept moist. A mesh wire or board pen will keep the compost from scattering, points out the county agent.

Layers of manure and commercial fertilizer should be applied from time to time, the agent suggests. Also, for each 50 square feet, spread about one pint of 16-20-0 fertilizer over each 6-inch layer.

Compost can be made at any time of the year, but the decaying process is slowed in cold weather. During dry periods, the pile must be kept moist for best decaying action. The material should also be turned and mixed occasionally, Whaley adds.

Be sure the pile is thoroughly tilled before it is applied to the garden to prevent growth of foreign plants and weeds.

It is our hope that the OYF program will result in a better understanding and appreciation of the role the farmer plays in our daily lives.

The judging of the OYF will be on the basis of career progress, conservation practices and community service.

The winner will be announced at the farm - city banquet, to be held November 19, 1964 in the Robert E. Lee Junior High Cafeteria. This event is sponsored by the Gray County Farm Bureau. In this case farmers and their wives invite businessmen and their wives.

Outstanding Young Farmers from local communities enter the state competition and the state winner advances to the national finals to be held in Fort Collins, Colorado, April 11-13th.

Darrouzett Gets Wheeler Mad

WHEELER — Cocky Darrouzett one-yard line and got the Wheeler Mustangs Adams kicked the extra point. Fordes stamped over them, Darrouzett let the kickoff roll into the end zone, but it stayed there, and Billy Overcast fell on it for another Herd TD. Porter ran the conversion for 29-0.

Wheeler had a 43-0 lead before four minutes were gone in the period, getting the next tally as Vanpool jetted 41 yards. Adams kicked the point. Darrouzett got nowhere with the kick and punted out. Vanpool taking it on his 30 and going down the left sidelines untouched behind gang blocking.

Adams again kicked the point. Wheeler started funneling in reserves and they took over where their elders left off, as pint-size Mike Goad heaved a 20-yard scoring pass to Danny on a pass FROM Little Bobby Dorman, in the third quarter, Adams doing it again.

Before that tally however, trouble galloping around, ever red-headed guard Gene Watson and through the Longhorns. Darrouzett tried to fake the horses out on the opening play. With an onside kick, but it backfired as Wheeler downed it on the Horn 45 and quickly converted it to a touchdown, sneaking over from the one. Vanpool then passed to Villard Hunter for the conversion.

Wheeler kept on running, with Don Burks climaxing the second drive with a three-yard scoring sprint. As the quarter ended, then kicked his fifth PAT of the Dunk. Porter rode 45 yards to even.

Follett Outscores Lefors in Wildie

By KEITH GEISLER
News Sports Correspondent

LEFORS — A pair of toothless kittens turned into fangarmed Tigers here Friday night as the Follett Panthers clawed their way to a wild - scoring 34 - 26 victory over the Lefors Pirates in a district B game.

The two teams, which had been winless heretofore and had scored a total of six touchdowns between them, went all out in their effort to secure a win from somebody their own size.

Follett won out on the flashing speed of fullback Lonnie Appel, who scampered for four touchdowns, but the hitherto punchless - Pirates found a new scoring weapon in the person of quarterback - turned-full back Bill Nichols.

Nichols, biggest starter on the squad at 160, was switched in a hurry when regular fullback Dickie Sims came up with a broken arm, with understudy Terry Sanders taking over as the man - under. Nichols found a permanent home when he smashed for 125 yards in 18 carries and two touchdowns.

Follett banged Lefors in a hurry as they took an apparently insurmountable 20-0 lead on a part of Pirate presents. Lefors fumbled the opening play on their 35 and Follett recovered, Appel scoring from six yards out eight plays later. Keith Jernigan stopped a conversion run.

Follett took a punt on their 30 and three plays later Appel went 49 yards through the middle, running downhill all the way. He was piled on the conversion run.

First play following the kick-off saw the Bucs bobble again, with the Panthers recovering on the 30. Two plays later, Gerald Piersall ran 30 yards for the tally and George Trenfield ran the conversion.

Nichols then took a hand, and a pair of fast feet, in matters,

END OF THE LINE — Steve Fuller of McLean sinks slowly to the ground under the "persuasion" of Monte Hawpe (23) and Gary Smith (11) of White Deer as Lynn Mays (50) looks on. Two more Bucks come in to help, including Danny Lane (54) while George Green of McLean (79) appears disgusted with the whole thing. The Bucks took the win in a 12-6 struggle at McLean Friday night.

SPORTING SIDELINES

By JEFF COHANE

I, FOR ONE, am glad to see the World Series over. Even though my prediction was wrong, I am very happy with the winner. However, the happiest thing is that now the gamblers will stop calling. Every day during the Series, this department got telephone calls asking what the odds were on the game, the Series, etc. Figuring I was paid as a sportswriter, not as a bookmaker, I passed. Then the "pot" bettors started calling... what were the total runs in each game, series to date, etc. (I dunno, always figured a good gambler kept track of the play)... worst thing was, these people didn't even consider they were gambling. Neither did some college basketball players when they started shaving points! Kay, our lovely receptionist looked at me wide-eyed and asked if everybody didn't bet, even the ball players? Honey, when they start doing that, it's time to stop running sports!

SOBBIN' JACK York, the famous (or infamous) coach of Groom, is the proud papa of a baby boy. The notorious blues singer, a former West Texas quarterback, says proudly that his boy is going to be one of them there signal callers. We hope he grows up to be a tackle, that'll larn him! Seriously, congratulations to the Yorks, and there better be a cigar ready next visit.

(Editor's note: Before we went to press, the Sobbin' One came in to town and not only gave us TWO cigars, but bought the coffee too. Maybe we won't be x him too badly then, just see the young 'un turns out a fullback.)

JUNIOR GOODWIN apparently real mixed up since the Oklahoma - Texas game. He gave us the dates for the OU - OSU freshman game to go to and we haven't been able to figure out whether the game is this month or next month! Junior and family and a good - sized crowd of loyal Harvester fans at Lubbock. Also present was an old friend, ex - coach Jack James of Clarendon, recently moved to Lubbock.

As far as that game was concerned, I, for one, was real proud of wearing a Harvester jacket that night. Even though we lost by a conversion, it was a comeback to be proud of. We started a comeback like that in Lubbock last year which led to three straight wins. Let's do it again!

A great many of the sports arouse little or no interest on the part of. Of course, we realize that what's sauce for the goose, etc. . . many sports which are disregarded here are of major interest, in the rest of the world... soccer for example... and many of our sports must bounce off others, which is why we dominate certain athletic endeavors. However, a long list of so-called Olympic sports could be compiled which interests only a handful in any country... examples at heel - and - tie walking (should only be shown in

With less than a minute to go, Smith intercepted a pass on the Cat eight and ran it across. Moring kicked the extra point.

Yanks Expected To Pick Up More Medals Sunday

TOKYO (UPI)—Uncle Sam's aquatic stars have their last opportunity to raise the U. S. gold standard Sunday and they'll need all they can get to help stem an expected Russian gymnastics onslaught this week.

The U. S. has qualifiers in the men's 200 meter butterfly and 800 meter free style relay, women's 400 meter free style and medley relay and men's high diving that should swell the current Yank output of 23 gold, 15 silver and 14 bronze for an overall total of 52 medals. Russia is second with 33—11 gold, nine silver and 13 bronze medallions.

An additional boost may be forthcoming in the broad jump — a Ralph Boston specialty, the men's 100 meter hurdles, where Hayes Jones, Blaine Lindgren and Willie Davenport are expected to sweep and in the hammer throw, where Hal Connolly hopes to regain the title he lost in Rome four years ago.

Three gold medals were chalked up in track and field Saturday and one in swimming that brought the U. S. harvest to 23—11 short of the 34 earned by the Yanks in Rome. Russia sauntered off with the honors in that Olympiad with 43 gold awards.

Perhaps the most nerve-shattering occurrence was in the pole vault, which Fred Hansen of Cuero, Tex., won after nine and a half hours of competition.

Hansen Soared
Hansen, a Rice University pre-dental student, soared to 16 feet, 8 3/4 inches on his final try under stadium lights to beat silver medalist Wolfgang Reinhardt of Germany.

Henry Carr, a lanky Detroit-er, won the 200 meter dash in 20.3 seconds to match Hansen's Olympic-breaking record and two more Olympiad standards were cracked when Dallas Long heaved the shotput 66 feet, 8 3/4 inches and swimmer Donna de Varona of Santa Clara, Calif., led a 1-2-3 U. S. sweep in the women's 400 meter individual medley with a clocking of 5:18.7.

"It's the longest, hardest day I've ever put in," Hansen said of his marathon pole vault exploits. "But I guarantee you it was worth every minute of it."

Hansen had to make the 16-8 3/4 height, for he passed up the 16-6 3/4 that Reinhardt negotiated successfully.

Paul Drayton of Cleveland followed Carr across the finish line in the 200-meter run for a silver medal as the U. S. completed a slam of the sprint events won by the Europeans in Rome. Bob Hayes of Florida A&M, previously captured the 100-meter dash in world record-tying time.

U. S. Swim Sweep
Splashing after Miss de Varona in her victorious performance was Sharon Finneran of San Gabriel, Calif., and Martha Randall of Wayne, Pa., for the third U. S. sweep in this year's Olympics.

Randy Matson of Pampa, Texas, was second to Long in the shot with a heave of 66 feet, 3 3/4 inches.

John Nelson of Pompano Beach, Fla., earned a silver medal in the 1500 meter men's freestyle when he trailed Australia's Robert Windle across the finish line. Roy Saari of El Segundo, Calif. was a disappointing seventh.

Army Lieutenant William Morris of Russell, Kans., snared a bronze medal in clay pigeon targets after a shoot-off with Lliano Rossini of Italy. Ennio Mattarelli of Italy won the event and Pavel Senichev of Russia was second.

Russia picked up two gold medals when Irina Press broke her world record in the women's pentathlon with 6,246 points and Vladimir Golovanov won the middle heavyweight weightlifting crown with an Olympic lift of 1,074.9 pounds.

Confeds Cop Over Poodles
The Lee 7th grade Confeds took the opening kickoff 60 yards for a touchdown Friday, and made it stand up for a 6-0 win over visiting Houston Borger's 7th grade Poodles.

Big run on the opening drive was a 30 - yard scamper by Steve Scott, setting up Calvin West for a 10 - yard scoring plunge up the middle.

Two more first - half drives ended in fumbles.

The Poodles took the second-half kickoff and ground out the entire third quarter with it, moving to the Confed 25, where Scotty King intercepted a pass to kill the threat.

Defensive standouts in the shutout were Bobby Jeffers, Kevin Parker and Eddie Reames. On offense, it was West, Scott and Wyatt Earp.

Virginia Stuns Kaydets, 35-14

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va. (UPI)—A thundering Virginia line, led by end Nicholas Ridgely of Rising Sun, Del., forced Army's backs into mistakes that set up four touchdowns and gave the Cavaliers a 35-14 victory Saturday over the astonished Black Knights.

In the final minute, Virginia's backfield caught the same fire the line had from the start and turned the game into a rout of the humiliated Cadets.

It was Virginia's greatest victory since the salad days of coach Art Guepe when the Cavaliers beat Duke 30-7 in 1951. Despite dreary weather, 26,500 artisan fans enjoyed it immensely.

Heroes of the day were muddy, bruised linemen, obviously stung by criticism of their defense that allowed 97 points in four earlier games.

Their names, besides Ridgely, were end Don Parker, guard Jim Winget and center Jim Donley.

The one-sided victory was even more surprising since Army scored on the first play of the game on a 75-yard run by Roger Stichweh.

It was Virginia all the way after that. Virginia's next four scores were set up by a bad pass from the Army center, an intercepted pass, a bad punt by a harassed Army back and a recovered fumble.

Tech Takes It

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Quarterback Jerry Priestley rifled four last period passes to end Mike Fortier, the last for a 21-0 victory Saturday to pull 8th-ranked Georgia Tech to a 7-3 victory over Auburn.

Borger Bops Pampa 8th

BORGER — Borger Houston's 8th grade grabbed a 28-0 lead in the first quarter and then held off a Pampa 8th rally for a 50-20 victory here Thursday.

Borger scored on the first play of the game on a Reaper fumble on the next, on a Reaper bad snap and made two more scores in the first frame. They scored three more times in the third quarter before Pampa broke the ice.

Pampa scored when Borger, back to punt in their end zone, got a bad snap, with Roger Liphan recovering the ball.

Phil Long's passing got Pampa their last two tallies in the fourth quarter as he passed 40 yards to Liphan down to the Houston three, and then carried it over for the TD and then the conversion also. Long then passed 30 yards to Joe Roth to score.

Rice Edges SMU On Conversion

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer
DALLAS (UPI)—Inconsistent Walt McReynolds found his targets consistently enough to guide Rice University on one sustained drive Saturday night and Larry Rice capped it with a true conversion kick for a 7-6 victory over Southern Methodist.

McReynolds drove the Owls 73 yards with the second half opening kickoff and hit Billy Hale, Gene Fleming and Howard Ayres for four passes good for 43 of those yards and contributed a key three-yard first down of his own to set up the 23-yard scoring pass to Hale.

Rice's surge and SMU's 79-yard scoring march with the ensuing kickoff were about the only bright spots in the dull Southwest Conference opener for both clubs in which the two teams managed but six first downs between them in the first half.

SMU also used the overhead route to get on the scoreboard when Jimmy Taylor, on an end-around running pass, hit Rogers Reinowski in the end zone from 19 yards out. But, the Mustangs' little 150-pound stout-foot place kicker, John Cravens, skittered the extra point try wide of the goal posts and that was the game.

The win, Rice's second victory against SMU, was coach Jess Neely's 200th of his career and it came in his silver anniversary season at Rice.

The victorious Owls threatened twice, once in each half, but the first one ended in a wide field goal effort from the 27-yard line in the first quarter by Rice and an interception by SMU linebacker Jim Sittin squelched the other one in the final period after the Owls had driven to a first down on the SMU 26-yard line.

McReynolds hit but 8 of 16 passes for a total of 100 yards, but came through in the clutch drive and contributed 30 more yards to the Owls' 124-yard rushing total.

Froggies Flip Ags For First

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Junior quarterback Kent Nix Saturday led Texas Christian to its first 1964 victory, a 14-9 decision over winless Texas A&M.

Coach Abe Martin's Horned Frogs put two touchdowns on the board in the first half on a 26-yard pass from Nix to wingback Bobby Sanders and a fumble that TCU sophomore linebacker Joe Nayfa covered in the Aggie end zone.

A&M did all its scoring in the third quarter with a safety and a 10-yard roll out touchdown by second-string quarterback Eddie McKaughan that capped a 52-yard drive.

The Aggies were celebrating the 25th anniversary of their 1939 national championship, but the Horned Frogs left them little more than memories of better days.

The Aggies received a serious blow when senior quarterback Dan McIlhenny, the Southwest Conference's leading passer, went out early in the second period with an injured knee.

TCU scored on its first possession with less than three minutes gone in the ball game. End Joe Ball intercepted a McIlhenny pass on the Aggie 39, and two plays later Nix hit Sanders, who was wide open, with a 27-yard toss. Sophomore kicking specialist Bruce Alford added the first of two successful extra points.

In the second quarter, Aggie junior Phil Scoggins was back to punt on his own 5. He fumbled a low pass from center, tried to run and then tried to lateral. The ball bounced off TCU player into the end zone, where Nayfa recovered.

The Aggies' sophomore tackle Harvey Ermis broke into the scoring column for A&M by tackling TCU halfback Jim Fauver in the end zone after Fauver took a wild pitchout from second-string quarterback Randy Howard in the third quarter.

McKaughan's Aggie touchdown capped A&M's only sustained drive of the afternoon. The Aggies went 52 yards in nine plays after receiving a TCU punt on their own 48. Sophomore Glynn Lindsey kicked the point.

Arkansas Stuns Texas, 14-13

AUSTIN (UPI)—The giant-killing Arkansas Razorbacks stunned top-ranked Texas 14-13 Saturday night, snapping the defending national champion Longhorns' winning streak at 15 in a row.

Tom McNelly, the Arkansas kicking specialist, provided what proved to be the difference when he successfully converted after both Razorback touchdowns.

Texas scored with less than 2 minutes to play and tried for a 2-point conversion and a victory. But quarterback Marvin Kristynik's pass was batted away and the Razorbacks had won.

The fleet-footed Razbacks put their touchdowns on the scoreboard with two big plays—an 81-yard punt return for a score by Kenny Hatfield and a 34-yard clutch third-down pass from quarterback Freddie Marshall to end Bobby Crockett.

The Razorbacks, who now move into the spotlight as the favorite to win the Southwest Conference crown, chalked up their fifth straight win of the year without a loss. Arkansas was ranked 10th nationally before the game.

Texas was held scoreless until the fourth period. Wingback Phil Harris went over from the two to climax a 46-yard drive for the first touchdown and fullback Ernie Koy scored the second from the one to end a 70-yard last-gasp Texas drive.

It was after Koy's touchdown that Coach Darrell Royal, preferring the possibility of a loss to a 14-14 tie, sent in instructions to go for the two point conversion.

Texas' ace placekicker David Conway stayed on the bench. Koy came out and was replaced by Tom Stockton. Kristynik took the snap and sent tailback Hix Green to the right for a pass, but the ball was batted to the ground.

Arkansas held onto the ball until the clock ran out the final 1:27 minutes.

It was the first time since 1960 that Arkansas had defeated Texas. That score, too, was by one point—24-23.

Texas went through the 1963 season undefeated, was crowned national champions and beat Navy 28-6 in the Cotton Bowl on Jan. 1. The last previous time they lost was to Louisiana State 13-0 in the 1963 Cotton Bowl.

The Longhorns opened the 1964 season by blanking Tulane 31-0, and it looked as if it would be 1963 all over again. Texas went on to beat Texas Tech next 23-0, then beat Army 17-6 and Oklahoma 28-0 for its 15th straight win.

But the Razorbacks came to Austin with something in mind—to beat Texas—and they did in the only thing that counts—the final score.

Texas, however, dominated the statistics.

Colorado Cops

AMES, Iowa (UPI)—Ted Sommerville sped 93 yards with an intercepted pass to set up Colorado's winning touchdown as the Buffaloes won their first game of the season, 7-0, over Iowa State's saving Cyclones Saturday.

Sommerville, a senior halfback from Greeley, Colo., pilfered the ball from an intended Cyclone receiver on the Colorado 3 yard line and bolted down the sidelines to the Iowa State 4 before he was shoved out of bounds.

Three plays later, quarterback Bernie McCall plunged over from the 3 and the conversion kick by Frank Rodgers gave Colorado its winning 14-7 margin.

FSU Holds On

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI)—Florida State needed a 20-yard touchdown pass deep in the fourth period to edge the inspired Georgia Bulldogs 17-14 Saturday and keep its unbeaten record intact.

Junior Scores

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Junior Coffey plunged on yard for a touchdown late in the second period Saturday and that was all the Washington Huskies needed to defeat fumbling Stanford for the sixth straight time, 6-0.

Nebraska Rips KU

By CHARLES E. WIESER
LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Nebraska's Cornhuskers—rated sixth in the nation—put on another explosive offensive show Saturday and shot past Kansas State 47-0 in a Big Eight game.

Playing before a delighted homecoming crowd of 45,800, the Cornhuskers also put up another stout defensive showing by twice repulsing Wildcat bids for scores near the Nebraska goal.

Nebraska blasted to a 27-0 lead at the halfway mark, added two more touchdowns in the third, and one in the fourth in fashioning its fifth consecutive victory and its 12th in a row.

Halfback Kent McCoughan, a gold medal sprinter in the Big Eight, got the Cornhuskers scoring midway through the opening period when he shook loose on a 69-yard run. A few minutes later he scored another touchdown on a four-yard sprint.

Sophomore quarterback Bob Churchich notched the second period touchdown on runs of one and five yards.

Coach Bob DeVaney, who ran his record to 59-13-5—best among major college coaches in the nation—started dipping deep into his reserves during the final 20 minutes of play. It made little difference. Sophomore halfback Ron Kirkland scored once on a three-yard run, senior end Preston Love picked off a pass by quarterback Ed Danieley and outscored the field on a 65-yard scoring burst and Ron Pogge-meyer, another reserve, scored from a yard out.

The Cornhuskers while explosive on offense and taking advantage of just about every scoring opportunity, also came up with another very strong defensive game.

In the first period, the Wildcats' Larry Condi blocked a Kirkland punt on the Nebraska 2, picked the ball up on the bounce and would have scored except for stumbling on the Nebraska 7. Three plays later, the Wildcats were still on the 7 and a field goal attempt on the 11 by Jerry Cook was wide.

In the third period K-State's Al Anderson recovered a Nebraska fumble on the Husker 24. The Wildcats stormed to the Nebraska 3 in three plays but several plays later sophomore halfback Kaye-Carstens of Nebraska picked off a Danieley pass on the Nebraska goal line and returned it to the Nebraska 17.

Jim Grisham, Oklahoma's all-America fullback, ran and blocked the Sooners through a 14-point second period and a 14-7 halftime lead that stood until the closing seconds.

Baylor Bears Bombard Tech

By PRESTON MCGRAW
WACO (UPI)—Baylor University, helped along by Texas Tech's mistakes, penalties and a charging fullback named Tom Saturday night for its first victory, beat Texas Tech 28-10.

Davies scored two touchdowns and kicked four extra points. In addition to having the superior offense, Baylor also bottled up Tech's running aces—halfback Donny Anderson and fullback Jim Zanios.

Baylor scored early in the first period but Tech came back quickly and before a crowd of 22,000 evened the score, then went ahead 10-7 on a field goal in the second quarter.

But Baylor got the ball when Anderson, trying to kick from his own 10, took a bad pass from center and was brought down on his own three.

Davies drove the three yards in two tries and kicked the extra point to put Baylor ahead to stay.

Two-thirds of the way through the third period, Baylor mounted a drive that progressed 42 yards in eight plays.

That drive featured an 18-yard pass from Baylor quarterback Terry Southall to halfback Lawrence Elkins. At that point, Tech was penalized nine yards from the 18 to the 9 for holding.

Davies took it over in four plays and kicked the extra point. His touchdown run went one yard.

Halfway through the fourth period, Baylor drove 59 yards in 11 plays for its final touchdown. Southall took it over from the one yard line for the fourth Baylor touchdown and Davies kicked the extra point.

Baylor unveiling a surprising passing game in scoring its first touchdown. Baylor went 79 yards to the goal in 13 plays, six of which were passes.

The touchdown play was a 12-yard pass from Southall to right end Ken Hodge.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Purdue stopped Michigan quarterback Bob Timberlake one yard short of pay dirt on a two-point conversion try that enabled the Boilermakers to upset the fifth-ranked Wolverines 21-20, handing them their first loss in four games.

The victory was the third in four starts for Purdue, and upped the Boilermakers' Big Ten record to 2-0. Michigan has a 1-1 league mark.

Booker B Hits Hornets

BOOKER — The Booker B team exercised a 1-1 control throughout the second half to hold off the Mobette Hornets and take a 28-12 victory here last night.

Booker's Bill Trosper opened the scoring in the first quarter with a 20-yard jaunt, followed by a two-point conversion. Mobette came back to score 25 yards came back to score in the second quarter as Eddie Ray Hodges passed 25 yards to Bradley Trout.

Trosper passed to Larry Willis for two yards and a touchdown to make it 14-6, and the Hornets cut it to 14-12 as Joe Kelley went over from two yards out before the half ended.

The second half was all Booker as they exercised ball control, grinding out a third quarter score by Trosper from the two yards out, and then a fourth-quarter tally as Trosper passed to Willis six yards, also hitting him for the conversion.

Missouri Soars Over Falcons

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—Pass-and-run quarterback Gary Lane paced Missouri to a 17-7 win over fading Air Force Saturday before 29,315 fans.

The Falcons' only score came in the first quarter—their fifth touchdown in five games this year. The Tigers went ahead with a field goal and a touchdown in the second quarter and added another touchdown in the third period.

Lane passed for one touchdown and ran 19 yards for the other after being nearly thrown for a loss while trying to pass. His 24-yard toss to Gus Otto set up the field goal by sophomore Bill Bates.

Bowling

By GIL BURGUND

Starting this week with last Sunday's Traveling week, they had some awfully good bowling too, a 259, two 244's, two 242's and more in the 230's, bowled at Garden Lanes last Sunday.

Those traveling league bowlers are really a dedicated bunch. They drive from as far as Beaver Oklahoma and bowl nine straight games and love every bit of it.

We are listing the top ten high games and series, both ladies and men, for this week.

The Women's Hi Plains Travel League bowls again this Sunday at Spearman and Guyman.

Harvester Bowl has only 3 losses for the season, staying in top place. Good Bowling, gals.

Men's Hi Scores: Gerald Vaughn, 630; Jesse Smartt, 633; Darrell Lain, 605; Red Watson, 602; Bill Branum, 597; John Snuggs, 597; Ron Havens, 586; Cliff De Barr, 565 and J. Burgin, 554.

Men's Hi Game: Gerald Vaughn, 239; Jess Smartt, 239; Darrell Lain, 234; Bill Branum, 236; Cliff De Barr, 231; Dick Abernathy, 221; Ron Havens, 215; A. Powell, 213; Red Payne, 211 and Pat Patrick, 211.

Women's Hi Series: Helen Low, 552; Belva Harris, 538; Peg Kastein, 537; Dot Osborne, 518; Eve Boyd, 517; Nadine Fletcher, 515; Eloise Sharp, 510; Vesta Parker, 512; Agnes Robbins, 512; Mary Ray, 509; Paullette Gilbert, 506.

Women's Hi Game: Belva Harris, 221; Paullette Gilbert, 210; Eloise Sharp, 204; Irma Beck, 202; Helen Low, 199; Peg Kastein, 197; Nadine Fletcher, 197; Lois Hutchison, 195; Keitha Clifton, 189 and Francis Grove, 189.

Those scores are all pretty good, but looking at the scores of the Bowling Belles this week, a beginners league, the greatest consolation is things just can't get worse they just gotta get better. Jean Stevens found that she could bowl a little bit better without that cast on her foot and proved it by bowling 152, 145, 132 the day the cast was removed.

Isn't it a shame that Agnes Robbins just got her name on the board with a 515, and the next day Evelyn Boyd erased it with a 517. I like it that way, tho as long as the scores go up.

Buddy Newton, in the Juniors, keeps boosting his average each week, and believe me, a 165 isn't a bad average at all. Jackie Clark with her 121 average and going up a 11, the time is giving all the rest of the girls something to shoot at. By the way, do twins always do the same thing? Sharon and Karen Riddle both are carrying a 95 average.

A near miss on a triplicate for the women was Lucille Fords 116, 118, 116 and for men Roy Sparkman had a 143, 142, 142. Someone showing real progress tho was Karen Garrett who went from 87, 137, 166 in one series and at that rate of progress should hit 300 pretty soon.

You can certainly tell that the bowling season is in full swing by the number of bright new shirts the different teams are wearing and believe it or not we are in the seventh week of schedules already.

Let's not forget to boost bowling all the time, and get more and more people into the fun of bowling. See you all bowling.

USC Stopped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Hard-hitting Ohio State struck for a touchdown the first time it had the ball Saturday and then relied on a cast-iron defense to turn back Southern California, 17-0, before a crowd of 84,315 and a national television audience.

"IT WASN'T A SOUR note from my singing that broke the goblet," claims W. G. McComas, manager of the local Montgomery Ward store. "It was probably the volume from our loudest non-electric guitar in the world." The rugged, handsome Fiberglass guitar now available in the store, produces a new sound with the crisp tones folk music requires. A special resonator and tone Chamber make this instrument perfect for Hootenannies on the beach, campus or backyard where volume is needed but electric amplifiers cannot be used. (Adv.)

Medical Units Start Education Program

The Texas Medical Association, and the state's 11 county medical societies and their 9,200 member physicians today launched an intensive education program to acquaint the people of Texas with the broad range of health care available to the elderly.

In the Pampa area, the program is being coordinated by J. R. Donaldson, M. D., president of the Top of Texas County Medical Society. Dr. Donaldson said: "The medical profession has undertaken this educational program because so many people are not aware that help does exist for those over 65 who need it in paying for health care, that the means of helping them is available right now in Texas and every other state in the Union."

"We call these programs Health Opportunity Programs for the Elderly, and there are many of them, local or state, by which everyone over 65 who needs health care and can't pay for it can get it. One of these State programs, for example, provides a paid-up health insurance policy to over 229,000 elderly citizens who are recipients of Old Age Assistance. This is over 30 per cent of the entire population that is 65 years of age or over. Other programs in

Wildcatters List Four Oil Strikes

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas wildcatters had four oil discoveries but no gas finds last week, the State Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

The activity gave the wildcatters 284 oil completions so far this year, compared with 272 at this date last year. Gas finds stand at 670 this year compared with 512 in the same period in 1963.

Regular drillers completed 147 oil and 20 gas wells last week, giving them 7,783 oil and 2,218 gas completions to date this year, compared with 7,057 oil and 1,965 gas wells to this date in 1963.

The oil finds were two in the Kilgore district and one each in the Corpus Christi and Midland districts.

The educational program in Texas is being conducted in conjunction with a national program inaugurated by the American Medical Association.

Brown Will Provides Museum

Provisions for a museum in Pampa perpetuating pioneer life in the "Top O' Texas" area have been provided in the will of the late M. K. Brown, filed in the Gray County Clerk's office.

Other bequests included sizeable amounts of cash to relatives living in England and Canada. A nephew, Bernard H. K. Brown of Kings Langley Herts, England benefited by $100,000 cash, the largest single cash bequest. Another nephew Paul K. Brown, Bristol, England, was benefited by $50,000 cash.

Longtime friends, relatives and associates of Brown were given variable cash stocks bequests.

In his will, Brown directed that the White Deer Land Co. building at 116 S. Cuyler be used for "keeping available for public history pieces or records pertaining to this section of the country and a portion of the building shall be used for a museum."

Plans already are under way to remodel the brick building, one of the oldest in Pampa, to house the museum.

Also, in the will, Brown provided for the establishment of THE M. K. Brown Foundation to benefit various churches, civic clubs and establish scholastic scholarships.

In setting up the foundation, Brown's will stated: "All of the rest and residue of the remainder of the estate, after payment of all debts, leave to the M. K. Brown Foundation. It is my wish that in use of the income and principle of this bequest, preference be given to organizations of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, St. Matthew Episcopal Church and for scholarships for the education of deserving students." The bequest directed that $5,000 annually be used for scholarships.

Several Pampa churches also received various bequests. St. Matthew Episcopal Church was benefited $20,000 cash, First Methodist, First Baptist, First Presbyterian, and First Christian were all benefited by $10,000 cash each.

Brown, affectionately called "Mr. Pampa," died Sept. 10 of injuries received in an automobile accident on N. Hobart. The will was filed in the Gray County clerk's office and probated by Judge William J. Craig.

Why Pay Twice?

You already pay taxes to support a generous federal-state medical program for those over 65 who need it. Why pay again for a plan that isn't needed?

Surprised? Chances are you never heard of the Kerr-Mills Law, passed by Congress in 1960. We call it...Health Opportunity Program for the Elderly.

This program enables individual states, with federal assistance, to guarantee to every elderly person who needs it the health care he or she requires. Thousands of people every day are being helped by its broad benefits.

Yet, the supporters of the proposed Medicare Tax would have you believe that its passage is urgent...that persons over 65 are deprived of needed medical care because they can't pay for it.

NEW CONSTITUTION

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—A new, provisional constitution already has been drawn up and approved for embattled South Viet Nam. But its draftsmen still have not decided who will lead the new government, authoritative Vietnamese sources said Wednesday.

The sources said the 17-member "high national council," charged with creating a new constitution, would unveil the document formally as soon as they made up their minds who would be head of state of the provisional government.

BLAST KILLS CADETS

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—A series of explosions at a hand grenade training range killed eight police cadets and sent 12 others to the hospital Friday.

Midget Footballers Clash on Optimist Field

Crisp Autumn days provide perfect weather for football and the cracks and thumps of football pads resound across the field of Optimist Park as the midget sized footballers give the game their wholehearted effort while each side of the field is lined with cheering spectators.

More than 150 fifth and sixth grade boys with a few of the larger fourth graders thrown in for good measure compete in the Optimist Club's first year of tackle football. The new uniforms and helmets glisten in the afternoon sun with the spirit of the contests reaching that of any football game in the world.

Each of the six teams in the newly formed tackle league is composed of about 25 players and each head coach is a member of the local Optimist Club. Heading the league are Charlie Hammond of the Evening Optimist chapter and Vinson Simon of the Sundown Optimist chapter.

Games are played at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday with two tilts slated for Tuesday night sessions. Rules in the grid tilts are the same as those found in high school football with the exception of a few penalties. For instance, boys grabbing face guards or playing in an unsportsmanlike manner may be ejected from the game.

SNAP BALL — Members of the Optimist League Football teams line-up ready for the snap in a Thursday afternoon grid contest. The team on the left of the top right picture are the Redskins and the Browns are the opponents. In the background are Optimist members who serve as officials for the games and run the chain.

FEMININE FANS — Checking the roster for their favorite players' number are these two girls who are on the sidelines of Thursday's game. The two girls attended the game to see neighbor boys play football. The girls, top left photo, from left are Debra Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Butler and Pam Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Mayer.

STOPPED — A member of the Redskins is stopped cold by two Browns in a grid contest at Optimist Park in the lower left picture. Spirit and team effort are the most important part of the midget football program. The young gridders make every effort to pattern their football teams after the more experienced and older teams but many times their size limits the effectiveness of the play.

BIG HEAVE — Younger brothers and sisters join their parents in watching brothers play football. During the contest many of the younger set grow restless and start a game of their own on the sidelines. In the lower right photo two-year-old Todd Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Mitchell, struggles with a full size football. The giant ball comes more than Todd could handle at times as he drew back for a long pass of three feet. Todd's father is the coach of the Browns.

Sunday Passing Show

By PEGGY JO ORMON

PAMPANS HAVE BEEN busy this week, despite the World Series. . . . The Boyer family, brought into prominence by having a son on each team, brings to mind the Arthur Teeds, who probably know something of the Boyer dilemma because of the recent Army-UT and UT-OU games. Son John was a UT graduate and Jerry attended OU prior to his appointment at West Point. No doubt Dorothy and Art are glad that Don's alma mater, Arizona, doesn't play UT, too. Allan Evans was seen rooting for Austin of Borger at the Pampa Lee-Borger game recently. Allan, a PHS graduate, must have had mixed emotions while standing beside brother Clinton and nephew Dean while doing his cheering. But things turned out fine for all. The game ended in a tie. Guess it takes a home game at Texas Tech to keep students on campus for the week-end. Last weekend found Tommy and Sue Ann Thompson, John Holloway and Arnold Phillips home visiting, just to mention a few. Ginger Heaston has been seen at home from WTSU more than one weekend, driving around in a blue Mustang.

ELEANOR BRALY AND TOM and Harlene Rose will host a reception for Community Concert board members and guest baritone, Theodore Upman, this afternoon following the concert. Pampa concert members look forward to seeing out-of-town friends at the concert, among them Juanita Haynes and the Miles O'Laughlins of Miami, who are always there. Hear the O'Laughlins' son, Milo, is improving from the results of injuries received in an auto accident last winter and believe this 'gritty' youngster is attending UT and working hard despite the injuries. The Ed Vincents and four girls from Lefors were seen in Pampa last week. Think the little ladies names are Shirley, Ann, Carol and Lea. Saw Inga (Mrs. Bruce) Pratt the other day looking very attractive in a pink skirt and sweater. Understand Inga does a lot of knitting and no doubt knitted that beautiful sweater. Bob Meador, son of Betty and J. Meador and student at TCU, underwent knee surgery last week in Fort Worth.

OOPS, MY SLIP is showing. The Hobart Fatherees are the parents of two sets of twins sharing a common birthdate, Sarah and Timothy, 9, and Millicent and Matthew, 5, not the Clyde Fatherees as reported in last Sunday's column. The Clyde Fatherees are 'just' the proud grandparents. And Stormy was happy to have wife Lillian home from the hospital in Temple, but the Lillian was Lillian Jordan, not Lillian Snow. Sorry. Saw Lois (Mrs. E. E.) Shelhamer and 'son' Peter Kaddaoum, an AFS student from Rio De Janeiro, downtown shopping. Jean and Foster White spent last week in Las Vegas. Luke and Aline McClelland are vacationing in Nassau. Mrs. Walter Purviance has returned from Fort Campbell, Ky., where she visited her granddaughter and family, Lt. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson, and great-grandson, Blake Preston. Mrs. Wilson is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Akright, the former Janice Purviance of Pampa, who lives in Oklahoma City.

CAST MEMBERS OF "Skin of Our Teeth," directed by Virginia (Mrs. Don) Myers, Danny Turner, Patsy Lou Holloway, Sam Bryan, Rita School, Gary Steger, Jan Cook, Kenneth Baxter, Carol Akst, Harold Thompson, Pat Spears, Billy Haynes, Pam King, Marion Neslage, Pam Ludeman and Julie Hofess, plus the many other members of PHS drama department, did a fine job. Patsy Lou Holloway, daughter of Russell and Zenobia Holloway, played the leading role and gave an outstanding performance. Some Pampans will remember Mrs. Holloway from their own high school days when she was a teacher of shorthand and typing in PHS. Must have been Pampa night at Supten's in Borger the other night when our 'foreign correspondent' recognized the Bill Ledbetter, Ray Jordan family, Kermit Lawsons and Sam Williams and date.

This is the season when merchants go to market. Among the Pampans in Dallas this week are Frank and Mildred Smith and Flossie (Mrs. Grant) Anderson.

JUST CAME TO my attention that Texas and Peru are partners in the Alliance for Progress Partnership Program. The president of Peru is a UT graduate. Too bad more local organizations weren't aware of this when Pampa's own W. C. Hutchinson Jr. was home for a visit. Bill is a resident of Lima, Peru, and has been for a number of years. Seems that Ed Riley was sojourning for Cabot in Franklin, La., when Hurricane Hilda started her approach. And speaking of Hilda. Imagine what an inopportune moment, psychologically, it was for about ten Pampa families to be notified they would be transferred to Franklin the day the TV was full of hurricane evacuation pictures of that city. The past week was quite exciting for Cabot people. Can't begin to mention the names of all the interesting men attending the conference meetings, but do know they not only attended from U. S. plants, but from foreign countries as well. Caught a quick glimpse of Ed Eaton and Bill Loving of Boston as they dashed into the Hughes Building and the tall blonde man seen talking to Dub Steele was Randy Antousen of Boston. Also learned the tall brunette is Serge Martini of Argentina.

ICIE (MRS RAYMOND) Harrah journeyed to Dallas to visit son and family, Raymond Jr., Marie and three and one-half year old Leslie Ann. While there Icie will also visit a cousin, Mrs. S. G. (Eula) Oprendeck, a frequent Pampa visitor and they will go to Tyler for the Rose Festival, see the National Arabian Horse Show and Meredith Wilson's play, "Here's Love," at the State Fair Grounds. Bill and Chris Campaigne have been in Denver visiting daughter Mrs. David Roop, who is the former Heidi Schneider. Ed and Lucille Weiss, former Pampans now living in Dallas, arrived in town last week. Lucille will remain here this week while Ed joins Julian Key and brother Joe of Roswell, N.M., Frank Culbertson, Joe Gordon, George Scott and Farris Oden of Amarillo on the groups annual pheasant hunting trek to South Dakota.

TWENTIETH CENTURY Club members were delighted to have Mildred (Mrs. Paul) Harbaugh with them again at the club meeting Tuesday. Dr. and Mrs. M. McDaniel, the Leon Holmes, L. P. Forts and Jim Nations have returned from Dallas where the group attended the Texas Municipal League Convention for city officials. The ladies reported having a good time attending a luncheon and style show presented by Neiman Marcus and a banquet in the Grand Ballroom of Statler Hotel where over 1,500 officials and wives gathered to hear Admiral Moot from Washington, D.C., speak and to be entertained by Vaughn Monroe. City Manager and Mrs. Harold Schmitzer also attended the convention. Mrs. Schmitzer also has been visiting their children in East Texas. Katherine (Mrs. N. Dudley) Steele will go to Sweetwater Thursday to review John Steinbeck's "Travels With Charlie" for the Sweetwater Book Review Club. Natha (Mrs. L. W.) Patterson, a former Pampans, is president of the club.

JUST LEARNED that the A. J. Carrubis Jr. have moved into the house with the tall green columns and door out on Grape. Curious to know how many levels reach from that double front door. Ruth and J. G. Morrison have purchased and remodeled a summer home at Red River, N. M. Ruth went to O.K. the completed remodeling job of the 'dream house' before going on to Dallas for the UT-OU game and returning home with son Don Morrison and family. Enjoying the autumn splendor of Eagle Nest the past week were Tom and Jean Braly and David and Sue Tucker. Leora Rose, the Bill Davises and the Bus Baldridges and others in their party made a gay group at the Pampa Club Saturday night. Ditto to the Bitz Hoovers. Didn't see who the Hoovers were with, but Janie had on a stunning white dress. Peppy Gus (Mrs. Gris) Rogers is busy preparing for a coffee for Bob Price next Thursday.

Middleton-Horton Wedding Vows Read in Candlelight Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony read at 7 p.m. Oct. 10 in First Church of the Nazarene Threasa Middleton became the bride of A-3C Douglas Horton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Middleton, 637 N. Banks and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Mitchell of Houston.

Rev. Rex Newkirk performed the double-ring vows beneath a wrought iron archway flanked by candelabra and baskets of white gladioli.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride was gown in a floor-length gown of imported French chantilly lace over slipper satin. Designed with a moulded bodice with a scalloped scooped neckline and long tapered sleeves which came to bridal points over the hands, the gown had a bouffant skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was secured by a crown of tear drops. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a cascade arrangement of white roses tied with white satin streamers.

ATTENDANTS
Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Shirley Davis who wore a blue sheath dress with matching jacket and a matching pill box with circular veil. Miss Davis carried a bouquet of white feathered mums tied with white streamers.

Claude Middleton, brother of the bride, served as best man to the bridegroom. Ushers were Bobby Trolinger and Earl Middleton, brother of the bride, who also served as candlelighters. Mrs. Ruth Land provided traditional nuptial selections at the organ and was accompanied by Ricky Land as she sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Middleton was attired in a sheath dress fashioned of royal blue complemented by black accessories. Mrs. Mitchell selected a sheath dress in beige accented by black accessories. Corsages for both mothers were of miniature tropicana roses.

RECEPTION
A reception followed the wedding ceremony in the church dining hall. The brides table, covered with a white lace cloth over blue, was appointed with the four-tiered wedding cake. Miss Diane Newkirk presided at the punch bowl and Miss Donna Newkirk served the wedding cake while Miss Janelle McDonald attended the guest register.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Pampa High School. The bridegroom attended Houston schools and is presently serving with the U.S. Air Force at Killebuck Air Force Base at Albuquerque, N.M., where the couple will make their home.

Twentieth Century Culture Club Presented Program on 'Happy Living'

Twentieth Century Culture Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Doyle Osborne, with Mrs. Weldon Carter co-hostess, for the initial meeting of the new year.

Following the social hour, the president, Mrs. N. D. Steele, called the meeting to order and the club collect was led by Mrs. Rufe Jordan.

Mrs. Steele introduced a guest and honorary member, Mrs. F. E. Leech of Abilene, and welcomed a new member, Mrs. A. L. Wagner.

During the business meeting plans were made for entertaining the Senior Citizens on Oct. 15. Mrs. Carter was elected club reporter.

Mrs. J. R. Donaldson and Mrs. Fred Stockdale presented the program on "Let's Look at the Club Year" and "Happy Living." Mrs. Donaldson introduced the hands as the symbol of the new year and the activities of the hands as the theme and quoted Mark Twain saying that "God puts something good and lovable in every man His hands create."

Mrs. Donaldson read the anatomy of the hand stating that only human beings or apes have true hands with thumbs that can be moved against the fingers and that man's progress would have been greatly hampered if he did not have an opposable thumb. By brains and hands man excelled over all other species. The brain developed the hand, but in each one of us many of our mental processes have developed from the feeling and movement of our hands.

The speaker cited Helen Keller's and The Rev. Dr. Dale C. Recker's hands as examples of learning hands in that Miss Keller's whole life was opened up through her hands and the Rev. Recker, after losing his sight over 15 years ago, in September, 1963, became secretary for the blind for the American Bible Society which distributes the Bible in Braille and on records.

Knowledge of shapes, textures, building and the arts has been gained through the hands and hands are used in expressing emotions. Mrs. Donaldson concluded by relating the various types of hands to each program throughout the year.

Mrs. Stockdale stressed happy hands through happy living by bringing suggestions, rules, and recipes for happiness.

Beginning by listing man's inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, Mrs. Stockdale said "As we grow out of childhood into maturity we must consciously take control of our lives and live according to a fixed purpose. It is possible to so build characters, develop abilities, and discipline moods, that a person can attain an integrated personality which no change of fortune can permanently affect."

"Happiness is an attitude that must be developed and cheerfulness is a debt owed to society. Four factors by which a person can live a full, rich, complete life are work, play, love and worship. The speaker stated that without a part of each of these life cannot be complete. If we hold our minds to the highest we know, and open our hearts to the best we feel, (See TWENTIETH, Page 18)

Mrs. William Ellis Gives Twentieth Century Forum Study Club Program

Twentieth Century Forum Study Club held the first meeting for the 1964-65 club year Tuesday in the home of Mrs. M. McDaniel, 1801 Charles.

Mrs. Arthur M. Teed, president, welcomed Mrs. Robert West and Mrs. Jack Dennis as new members of Forum.

Mrs. Aubrey Steele, program chairman, presented the study theme for the year, "... But westward look, the land is bright," and introduced Mrs. William Ellis, speaker for the afternoon. Mrs. Ellis presented a paper, "The Course of Empire" by David Lavendar and other sources.

Transplanted from the Missouri River in the early 19th century by the violent trade wars to control its commerce, Charles and William Bent teamed with Ceran St. Vrain to form a company whose heart was on the banks of the Purgatory River in Southeastern Colorado. The three built a huge mud fort, the size of a modern football field, where the Indians came to trade and from which traders took their wares to Indian villages.

Ceran St. Vrain became a Mexican citizen and handled the company's business at the Santa Fe end of the Trail. Charles Bent became the first territorial governor of New Mexico, and was murdered and scalped for his efforts in the southwest's behalf. William Bent was resident manager of Bent's Fort and subsidiaries, such as Ft. Adobe on the Candian River. Bent's Fort, for 15 years, dominated the plains by preachment. (See MRS. ELLIS, Page 18)

Warren Hasse Serves as Master of Ceremonies at Altrusa Club Meeting

Altrusa Club of Pampa met in regular session in the Coronado Inn at noon Monday, with 33 members and three guests present. Emily Coston, president, presided.

After the blessing given in unison, Viola Jordan introduced the September Altrusa girl, Carole Akst, who in turn presented the October girl, Molly Gunter. Miss Gunter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gunter, a senior in high school, works in the office and is a member of the Spanish and Latin clubs. Miss Gunter expects to attend Texas Tech and study for a degree in education.

Among committee reports, J. Flanagan stated that the yearbooks were being distributed at this meeting. Floy Heath reported on the Founders' Fund grantees, and Marian Jameson, treasurer, reported a balance of $1,181.14.

A clever and informative program, patterned to the form of a radio broadcast was given by the international affairs committee led by Fidelia Yoder, chairman. Mrs. Yoder introduced Warren Hasse of KP'DN, M. C. for the program, who announced, "This is radio station ALTRUSA, broadcasting from the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn in Pampa, Texas. For our listening audience we have a panel of women who are going to bring you some very interesting information on a subject dear to all Altrusans. October is Grants-in-Aid month and this group is going to tell you what this program really is and what its goals are."

Mrs. Yoder led the response, "Grants-in-Aid—a unique opportunity to build international friendship and understanding! A plan whereby students of many foreign countries may receive financial aid for further education. Its the only thing of its kind! It financially rescues graduate women from Asia, Africa, Australia, Latin America, New Zealand and the Middle East, at a time when the funds they thought would see them through are depleted. CIA provides emergency funds that enable them to finish their educations and return home with scientific, professional or welfare skills needed to better living conditions in their own countries."

The other members of the committee, Mmes. Lora Dunn, Maxine Ethridge, Dorothy Tool, Lena Pearl Hobbs, Lalar Wilkerson and Mildred Prince, introduced by skillful questions from the announcer, brought case histories from seven of the 81 persons from various countries who have been helped by GIA.

Fidelia Yoder, in answering the announcer's final question, said, "The Pampa club has adopted a grantee who is Mary Kwan of Hong Kong. Miss Kwan is studying to be a doctor at present, is doing research at Northwestern University, Chicago. We assist her by gifts and money."

Radio Station ALTRUSA signed off.

Mrs. Fred Carl Wadley
... nee Marion Vernet Rose

Miss Marion Vernet Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Rose, of Amarillo, formerly of Pampa, and Fred Carl Wadley of Ft. Campbell, Ky., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wadley of Hollis, Okla., were married recently in the Church of Christ in Amarillo.

Marion Ginn, minister, read the double-ring service at an altar decorated with baskets of gladioli and flanked by candle-labers.

Miss Becky Rose was her sister's maid of honor. Fred Kirby was best man and Kenneth Wadley, brother of the bridegroom, ushered.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of ivory peau de soie appliqued with alencon lace. Her tiered veil of English illusion fell from a cluster of roses and she carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, Patsy Rose of Pampa, aunt of the bride, served punch and Mrs. Kenneth Wadley, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served cake.

Mrs. Wadley is a graduate of Palo Duro High School and is employed by State Farm Insurance. The bridegroom was a graduate from Arnett, Okla. High School and was employed by International Harvester prior to entering the U. S. Army.

The new Mrs. Wadley is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rose of Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Werth of White Deer.

God fills our minutes with magic content. We must decide in advance what we want to do and what must be done, then handle our time wisely in order to accomplish these things. She said that the worth of a man is the sum total of his service and helpfulness to mankind and not the sum total of his financial status.

Mrs. Stockdale concluded by giving this recipe for happiness.

- 1 cup of good thoughts
- 1 cup of kind deeds
- 1 cup of consideration for others
- 2 cups of sacrifice for others
- 3 cups of forgiveness
- 2 cups of well-beaten faults

Mix these thoroughly and add tears of joy and sorrow and sympathy for others. Fold in 4 cups of prayer and faith to light on other ingredients and raise the texture to great height of Christian living. After pouring all this into your daily life, bake well with the heat of human kindness. Serve with a smile.

Mrs. Steele adjourned the meeting.

Members present other than those mentioned were: Mmes. D. W. Bond, Ross Buzzard, R. E. Dobbin, L. H. Hart, W. L. Hasse, V. L. Hobbs, E. E. Sheldhamer, Otto Specht, Michael Wilson and L. J. Zachry.

Texas Culture Program Presented to Varietas Study Club by Mrs. Thomas

Mrs. Ralph Thomas presented the program on "Introduction to Texas Culture," to members of Varietas Study Club when the group met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. J. E. Kirchner, 1910 Mary Ellen.

Mrs. R. W. Lane, president, presided over the business meeting which was opened by members repeating the club collect.

Two new members, Mrs. Fred Cary and Mrs. W. E. Abernathy, were welcomed into the club and a visitor, Miss Mary Rose Weaver from Dallas, was introduced.

Mrs. Thomas stated that "To know, understand and enjoy culture, a study of the past is necessary. All that is left today of the great civilizations of yesterday is the cultural contributions.

"The Republic of Texas was born in the revolution of 1836 and maintained independence for almost ten years before joining the union. In the minds of Texans, this phase of Texas historical heritage has marked the state as a region apart. This frontier democracy was made up of many types of people from many parts of the country, the educated and the uneducated.

"In the early days, in spite of the difficulties in providing the necessities of life, the desire for cultural things wasn't forgotten. The basis of the modern Texas school system was provided by Congress in granting four leagues to each country for the creation of common schools and academies. The first public school was established in Houston.

The speaker continued by saying "Texas had a part in laying the foundation for the distinctive American literature of 'Tall Tales' with its exaggerated humor which was frequently used to make light of the conflict of man with his environment.

"Painting and sculpture languished in the United States during this period. The Republic of Texas was a singing country, and along this musical frontier were found fiddles, flutes, guitars and a few pianos. All forms of music were welcomed by the frontier people.

"Discovery of oil in Texas has had a side affect on all its people," the speaker continued. "Money from oil was used to benefit many worthy causes and also to enrich the whole culture of Texas through music, art, schools, hospitals, etc."

"Federated Clubs began in 1897 and much must be attributed to these organizations in furthering Texas culture."

Mrs. Thomas concluded with this quote from Gov. Connally, "New York is 200 years away from its frontier while Texas is only 50 years away from its."

Members present were Mmes. Cecil Dalton, Price Dosier, S. C. Evans, J. E. Kirchner, R. W. Lane, C. L. McKinney, Otis Nace, Luther Pierson, J. R. Spearman, Ralph Thomas, W.

Responsibilities of Alert Citizen Told to Civic Culture Club Members

Mrs. H. S. Alexander was hostess to Civic Culture Club members in her home Tuesday.

Mrs. Emmett Osborne, president, conducted the business meeting at which time members voted to have a rummage sale Nov. 6 and 7.

The program on "The Wheel of Future Hope. An Alert Citizen," was given by Mrs. J. B.

Townsend who stated that "Alert means watchful, vigilant, watchful in vigilance. Using this definition enables one to see that in alert citizen is awake and actively living."

"Alertness is something learned in infancy and used throughout life and without which one will die mentally and physically. Children are taught to be alert to dangers, bumps, burns and other things encountered in life and as they grow older the dangers are multiplied and they become aware of these dangers either through experience or hearing of others not so fortunate.

"Upon becoming mothers, women teach children to be alert and become more alert themselves as added responsibilities of guarding and raising children to become good American citizens are assumed. After children are grown and take on these same responsibilities, women are not released from being alert. This is something which must be practiced throughout life."

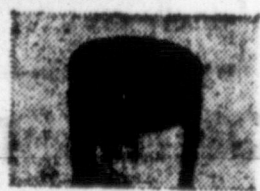

The speaker continued with "An alert citizen takes advantage of their head by using their mentality to the best of their ability; their heart by devoting themselves wholeheartedly to the task and their hands by using them to help others and doing the things one can find to do."

"A good citizen's first responsibility is the recognition and devotion to God. The next responsibility is the home which is not only the seat of individual happiness, but the foundation of ones being, country, patriotism and life. Third most important responsibility is our native land. Patriotism seems to have grown a bit old fashioned but as citizens of the most wonderful country in the world, we need to be alert in teaching, practicing and setting examples in patriotism."

Continuing, the speaker stated, "Much has been learned from experience. Think and talk honestly and integrity and in (See Responsibilities, Page 24)

A tape recording of this portion of the program was presented to Mrs. Roots.

During the social hour, refreshments were served to one guest, Mrs. Kenneth Ehler of Borger, and the following members: Mmes. Bob Andis, G. F. Branson, W. R. Campbell, F. M. Culbertson, Jack P. Foster, J. W. Gordon, Paul Harbaugh, Raymond Harrah, V. J. Jamieson, Albert Knox, Lorene Locke, David McGahey, Fred Neslage, Bill Roots, Tom Rose, R. H. Sanford, R. W. Stowers, Jack Stroup, H. R. Thompson, David Tucker and Harry Vanderpool.

Members of the Electoral College are not legally obligated to vote for the winning candidate in their state.

Miss Gayle Gist, Kenneth Steward Are United in Candlelight Ceremony

Mrs. Kenneth Steward
nee Gayle Gist

Miss Gayle Gist became the bride of Kenneth Steward with double-ring vows said at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 3 in Hobart Baptist Church.

Rev. A. G. Purvis officiated for the exchange of vows, which were repeated in a setting of a wrought iron archway with greenery entwining the arch and two large wrought iron candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gist, 1056 Huff Rd., and Steward's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clead Steward of White Deer, formerly of Skellytown.

Miss Dianne Thomas, Skellytown, organist, provided traditional wedding music and served as accompanist for Miss Carolyn Steward, sister of the bridegroom as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer." The bride sang "I Love You Truly."

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I in the name of the Lord" avowal, the bride chose a white formal dress of chantilly lace, with a scalloped round neckline with iridescent sequin flowers around the neck. The basque bodice was designed with a deep point at the lower waistline and the long lace sleeves were tapered. The bell-shaped skirt ended in a chapel train with the bride as maid of honor, wearing a street-length gown of blue brocade satin designed with round neck and three-quarter length sleeves and full skirt. Her head-piece was of white satin with matching short illusion veil. She carried a fan-shaped cascading bouquet of white feathered carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Connie Erickson of Denver, Colo., and Miss Karen Gist, sister of the bride, who were dressed identically to the maid of honor.

Best man to the bridegroom was Phillip Gist, brother of the bride, and groomsmen were Charley Coleman of Skellytown and Gerald Rasco.

Candlelighters were Dianne Gist, sister of the bride, and Phyllis Keyser, dressed identically in blue brocade satin dresses.

Isle cloth pullers were Billy Keel and Truitt Gobin.

Ushers were Ross Coleman, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Larry Brown, of Skellytown, and Tommy Buchanan and Lindy Sandlin of White Deer.

Flower girl, Kathy Keel was dressed as the bride in a floor-length gown of white lace and veil. Ring-bearer was Terry Black.

The center isle of the church was roped off with a white satin ribbon and each pew was marked with wrought iron candelabra.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Gist, chose a teal blue two-piece suit with tapestry shoes and a bag and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Steward selected a dress fashioned of blue and pink with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

RECEPTION

A reception, following the ceremony, was held in the dining hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a floor-length white net cloth, with a double ruffle at the bottom hem over orchid. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white mums in a crystal holder flanked by tall crystal holders with white tapers. Mrs. Ross Coleman, sister of the bridegroom served the four-tiered wedding cake and Miss Carolyn Steward, sister of the bridegroom presided at the punch bowl.

For a wedding trip the bride chose a two-piece navy suit with a white blouse and black accessories and the orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet. (See GAYLE GIST, Page 21)

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

California Real Test Tube

There are three reasons why the rest of the country will keep an eye on the voting in California next month and one of them isn't a close presidential election.

By way of the initiative process, in which a petition signed by a certain number of voters can place an issue on the ballot, three amendments to the state constitution have been proposed. Each of them could have repercussions beyond the borders of California.

Proposition 14, backed by real estate interests, would forbid the state or any subdivision or agency of the state from interfering with the "absolute discretion" of an individual to sell, rent or lease — or refuse to sell, rent or lease — his property to anybody he chooses.

The measure is a direct reaction — a backlash, if you will — against a fair housing law that barely passed the last legislature.

Proposition 15, initiated by movie theater owners, would outlaw subscription television in the home as "contrary to public policy" while allowing it in theaters.

Opponents of the proposal argue that the decision for or against pay-TV should be made in the market place by the free-enterprise method. If passed, this amendment would mean that it is possible for one business to have a competitor outlawed.

Proposition 16 would give a private monopoly control over a proposed state lottery and would permit its promoters to rake off up to $100 million a year from the proceeds.

This would be almost 20 times the total amount wagered in New Hampshire's state-controlled sweepstakes.

The initiative was originally conceived as a check against a tyrannical or unresponsive legislature. Woodrow Wilson described it, and its companion device, the referendum, as "a gun behind the door" — but in the people's hands, not those of special interests.

The several states of the Union have been described as individual "sociological test tubes" in which such experiments as the initiative, prohibition, legalized gambling, female suffrage could be tried out. If found good, they might gradually be adopted by other states.

But seldom have there been stranger concoctions than those now boiling in the California laboratory.

Portraits in Mud

Who do you like for president?

Do you prefer a "raving, ranting demagogue" who is the trigger-happy leader of "reckless and rejected extremes" and who would steer a "callous course"?

Or will your vote go to a "bar" . . . a crafty millionaire who amassed a fortune in a manner that must cause him some sleepless nights . . . a political schemer who deliberately sets up international crises so he can show off . . . who uses his high office to threaten citizens with exposure as income tax cheaters unless they come across with real money for his party's campaign fund?

Who in the world would dare to say all those things about our presidential candidates? Our presidential candidates would have, that's who — about each other, of course.

They might not have kept it so friendly and might even have stooped to saying something unkind, had it not been that both parties have signed the Fair Campaign Practices Code. Everybody, you see, wants to keep this campaign nice and clean. You might think that the comments being exchanged by the two pals just possibly are a bit exaggerated, until you remember that they are being uttered by men whose official stature and grave responsibilities suggest caution, restraint and accuracy as fundamental tools of their trade.

The inescapable conclusion has to be that if either of these gentlemen is reasonably close to facts in his evaluation of the other, the United States is in for rough sledding the next four years.

For one of these men is going to lead our country through critical, nervous times which would seem to call for talents and qualities somewhat different from those the candidates have attributed to each other.

Let us hope that the American people — old pros at sweating it out through election campaigns — can wipe away the mud and see through the fog that regardless of who wins, the Stars and Stripes will still fly as always over a nation strong enough to withstand the political wind and storms we are now enduring.

Mrs. Bobby Baker's Job

It had slipped our attention, but a couple of alert readers called to ask if we knew who was in charge of the records for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

It seems that when Bobby Baker, Lyndon Johnson's Senate protégé, was out on the West Coast and his wife were on television. It was disclosed by Mrs. Baker that she was in charge of records for that committee, even though her husband had been removed from his job with the Senate.

A Freedom Newspapers editor wrote Willard Edwards, the reporter for the Chicago Tribune Press-Service who broke the story about the State Department ordering field investigators' files destroyed, to ask for verification.

Mr. Edwards informs us that Mrs. Dorothy C. Baker, wife of Bobby, is "records manager" of the committee and has been for at least 10 years. Records show she draws $11,757 a year of taxpayers' money.

Recently when the Matt McCloskey affair was being discussed, Ohio's Sen. Frank Lausche brought up the fact of Mrs. Baker's employment by the Senate subcommittee. Sen. Karl Mundt said he was glad Mrs. Baker wasn't on the staff of the Senate Rules Committee which is supposed to be investigating Baker.

Still More Bureaucrats

What has happened to the economy program of the Johnson administration?

Sen. Harry Byrd, the Virginia Democrat who has criticized both Democrat and Republican administration spending programs, has released the monthly report of the Senate Committee on Reduction of Non-essential federal expenditures.

The report showed that during August of this year there was an increase of 3,543 in the number of civilian employees of the federal government.

At the end of July, reports Byrd, there were 2,492,061 civilian federal employees, and at the end of August the total had increased to 2,495,604.

Smart Kids

Countless generations of kids have known it intuitively, but at last there is scientific proof: Some people are allergic to contact with water.

Two physicians in Philadelphia, writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, told of studies of three patients who developed hives after contact with water or sweat.

That's the rub-er-itch, kids. Unless you can break out in a rash, may as well face the fact that you and that bathtub are going to have lots of encounters.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "Can a government — local, state, federal — make an immoral or harmful act — which grants special privileges to some and not to others — moral, good and beneficial to mankind on this earth?"

ANSWER: This has been tried since the beginning of time. Since principles and morality do not change but only man's ideas about principles, axioms, and morals change, the government cannot make an immoral act moral and beneficial to mankind.

It seems our trouble is that people do not recognize the difference between what is legal-manmade laws — and what is universal, ethical, moral and just.

The Great Teacher said one cannot serve two masters. When the individual begins to try to serve the state and universal natural laws, he runs into trouble.

Our confusion comes from legal laws, attempting to make immoral acts moral. It simply cannot be done.

A good illustration is the government attempting to regulate the value of money. It cannot regulate or control the value of money. It can fool the people by issuing irredeemable paper money which gives the government purchasing power to buy votes, but it robs one class of people for the benefit of others.

Reducing direct taxes without reducing income and adding taxes by inflation is a good example of an attempt to make an immoral act moral. Inflation is the most cruel form of tax and it is the result of the government meddling into something that they should have nothing to do with. The Constitution states that Congress has the right to coin money and regulate the value thereof. That simply meant that it could certify the true weight and percent of alloy in the unit of money but it couldn't regulate the value. But most people think it means that it can regulate the value. If any person is deprived of the right to help establish values then we have no true value. That is a true democracy of the market, not a political democracy.

No government cannot make an immoral act moral or beneficial. It can only confuse the public and impoverish them and make crime increase. If we could only learn that the government cannot make an immoral act moral and there is a universal single standard of right, we could change the trend from collectivism and socialism to respecting private property and individual responsibility.

You might think that the comments being exchanged by the two pals just possibly are a bit exaggerated, until you remember that they are being uttered by men whose official stature and grave responsibilities suggest caution, restraint and accuracy as fundamental tools of their trade.

The inescapable conclusion has to be that if either of these gentlemen is reasonably close to facts in his evaluation of the other, the United States is in for rough sledding the next four years.

ANTI-MISSILE GIFT

(California Feature Service)

Although it was dismissed as conservative extremism at the time, opposition to this nation's signing of the nuclear test ban is gaining some rather frighteningly documented support.

According to Electronic Design, a technical magazine, many top electronic experts are deeply concerned over the potential effects of Russian high-atmospheric tests completed in defiance of a previous moratorium, just before the Reds agreed to the ban treaty.

According to these experts, it is highly probable that the Russians discovered that such high-level blasts would create an electronic umbrella capable of damaging the guidance or arming systems of our missiles, causing them to fall undetonated, or at least outside key target areas.

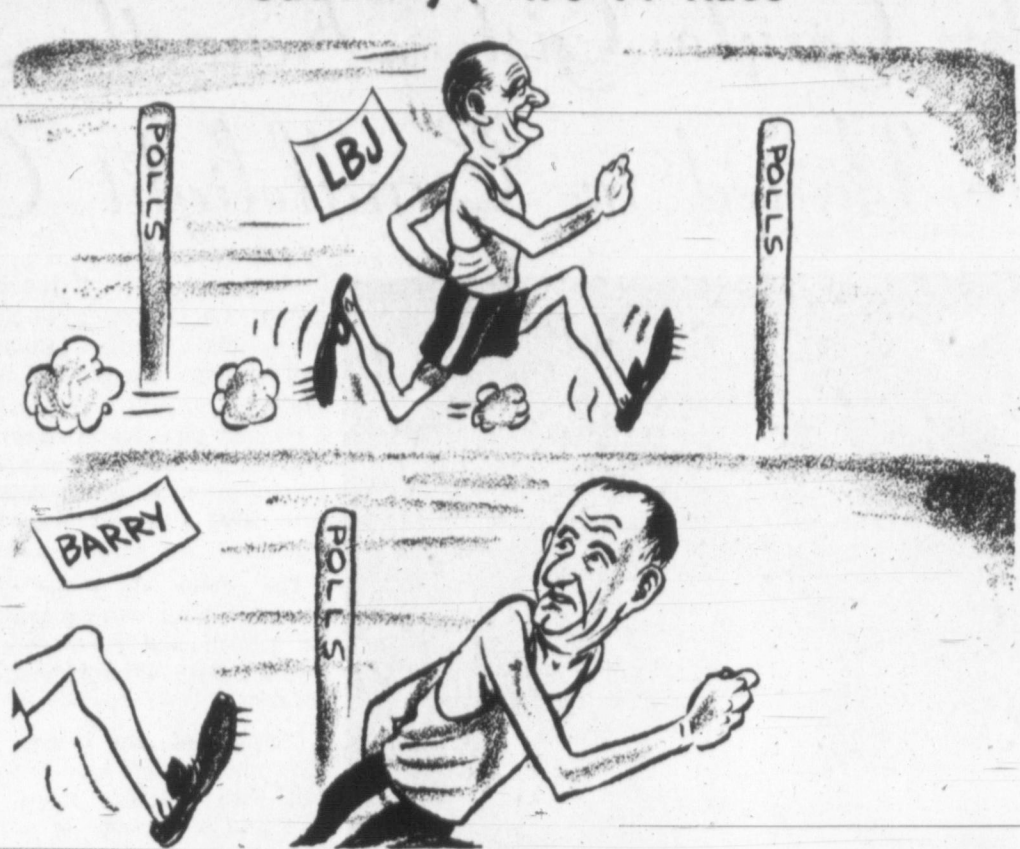

American scientists know all about the electronic effect called "electromagnetic pulse," or EMP, which the high-altitude blasts set up. But without further actual tests we cannot be sure that we know the exact techniques of cheating it. And being honorable men, we won't break the treaty promises we so eagerly made. The Russians of course already have what they want, because of our rather naive diplomatic generosity.

All of which might indicate that moderation in our enthusiasm to accommodate Russia is no vice; extremism no virtue.

State Department Indifference to Warnings Blamed for 3-day Kidnaping of Smolen

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Negligence by high-placed officials in the State Department, apparently is largely responsible for the 3-day kidnaping of Lieutenant Colonel Michael Smolen.

Congressional investigators have been informed that State Department and Central Intelligence Agency authorities were warned by reliable sources at least ten days in advance that Venezuelan Communist terrorists were planning to seize a member of the U.S. embassy staff, probably a military officer.

This warning went unheeded. The congressional probes have been unable to uncover any evidence that either the State Department, Defense Department or CIA did anything about it.

Most perplexing aspect of this distressing bumbling is that Ambassador C. Allan Stewart knew about the threatened Red outrage, but blandly ignored it.

His Caracas staff was not advised, and no special safeguards were taken to protect them — despite the fact that the warning came from excellent sources, and that last year the Communists abducted Colonel James Chennault, then deputy chief of the U.S. Military Mission, and a Spanish soccer star and held them for nine days. The kidnappers were never run down.

Secretary Rusk, Defense Secretary McNamara and Assistant Secretary of State Thomas Mann, in charge of Latin American Affairs, also knew about the warning. But the congressional investigators have found no indication they did any more about it than Ambassador Stewart.

This astonishing indifference is attributed by State Department insiders to high-level belief that the resolution adopted by the Organization of American States to break relations with Castro has solved the Communist problem.

"Secretaries Rusk and Mann are so exuberant over this OAS resolution," said one veteran Department official, "that they are believing their own statements that this piece of paper will put an end to Communist terrorist and other activities in Latin America."

"Rusk and Mann are forgetting that the resolution was mainly a face-saver to cover up their failure to induce the OAS to really do something about Communist espionage and subversion. When the intelligence warning came to their desks that the Reds intended to nullify another kidnapping, they just didn't believe it and took no precautions. The blame lies squarely on them."

NEW POWER GRAB — Backstage sparring between Defense Secretary McNamara and CIA Director John McCone is not improving the circulation of important information in policy-making circles of the Johnson administration.

McNamara, in keeping with his penchant for expanding his authority, is steadily enlarging the size and scope of the Defense Intelligence Agency, which is directly under his control. McCone is not enthusiastic about that — to put it mildly.

He made that pointedly clear in a conference with McNamara at which Secretary Rusk was present.

The Pentagon chief, backed by the head of the State Department, urged McCone to send certain intelligence reports direct to them rather than through the National Security Council as required by law.

"You are working for us," contended McNamara.

"I am working for the President," sharply retorted McCone. That ended the argument.

Backstage relations between the two officials have been cool since the 1962 Cuban missile crisis when McNamara staged his televised press conference on the reputed withdrawal of the Russian nuclear weapons. McCone disapproved of this public airing of intelligence techniques also, because of lack of "hard information" that all the missiles had been removed as Khrushchev promised.

PROTECTING GOLDWATER

In the closing days of the recent congressional session, House Republican leaders proposed providing Secret Service guards for their presidential ticket, but nothing came of the matter because of Democratic objections.

This previously unreported backstage disagreement revolved around what the Democrats considered an excessive Republican demand: Following is what happened:

At a private meeting, the GOP leaders told Democratic chiefs that a "full detail" of Secret Service guards should be provided for Senator Goldwater and his running mate, Representative Miller. Such protection had never been furnished before, and a special act would be required.

Speaker John McCormack, Mass., balked at a "full detail." He pointed out this would require hiring 40 additional Secret Service men at a cost of upwards of $250,000.

"We'll be glad to support a nonpartisan bill for two guards each for Goldwater and Miller," said McCormack. "But a full Secret Service detail is out of the question. That's an exorbitant demand and wholly out of line. The law specifies only that the President be provided with Secret Service guards. No such provision has ever been made for presidential and vice presidential candidates. Senator Humphrey doesn't have such protection, and we have no intention of asking for it."

McCormack suggested the Republicans think their plan over and let him know if they were willing to accept a compromise of four Secret Service guards.

"If that's agreeable to you," declared the Speaker, "I'll make it a bipartisan measure and it will be assured of passage."

Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 200 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed.

Editor:

Can President Johnson really expect the American people to swallow his anti-poverty bill as a boon to mankind? As anyone who is honest will tell you it is probably the slickest vote-getting measure yet. Of course it will be paid for by our taxes, not from the Democratic campaign funds.

This bill is an example of what has won for Johnson the title, "Wheeler-Dealer." Let's put a stop to such foolish federal spending. Let's support Barry Goldwater and give back to the states the power that has been stolen away from them.

For the sake of all the good, old-fashioned Democrats, who may read this, I want to add that Johnson is not a true Democrat. His running mate is an ADA'er (American for Democratic Action). Both are dangerous to fundamental American principles as we have enjoyed them down through the years of our nationhood.

Mrs. Ona Richter

age. We'll put it through before we adjourn."

That was the last heard of the matter. The Republican leaders said no more about it, and Congress quit without the question being publicly raised.

Goldwater has received a number of threats since the start of the campaign. The Republican National Committee has hired guards for both him and Miller, and they accompany them everywhere they go.

FEELING HIS OATS — Bobby Baker apparently is cockily confident the latest Senate probes of his operations will prove as ineffectual as the previous widely publicized investigation.

That made a lot of headlines, but Baker is as chipper as ever. Lately he has taken to lunching with friends and newsmen, and boasting assuring them, "Nothing is going to happen to me any more than last time."

The one-time high-powered secretary of the Senate Democrats is telling press friends that the Senate Rules Committee will get nowhere in its efforts to grill Don Reynolds, Silver Spring, Md., insurance executive who figured prominently in the charges against Baker.

"I understand the committee staff can't find Reynolds," Baker is saying. "I've been told by certain officials that he is missing."

Senator John Williams, R-Del., the noted "one-man investigating committee" who sparked the explosive Baker investigations, has a very different view about Reynolds. Williams has informed the Rules Committee that any time it wants to interrogate Reynolds, he will be produced on one day's notice.

"I just talked to Reynolds a few hours ago," Williams told this column. "Whenever the committee wants him as a witness, I'll have him there the next day. That's a flat guarantee."

Cannel At Bay

By Ward Cannel

Football Fan, Wife Tangled Up in Ivy

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (NEA) — Golden autumn painted the Wesleyan University campus like a metaphor from English Composition (3-4). A small dog chased a big dog across the football field. And somewhere a traditional New England steeple clock intoned an ancient note signifying that the time was exactly 1:07.

The stands were starting to fill up with those downy-cheeked college men and their pale young ladies one reads about so frequently in the surveys.

"You'll have to tell me again," the wife said. "Who are they playing?"

"Bowdoin College," we said. "Touch or tackle?" she asked, watching the two dogs race across the goal-line and up a hill toward the observatory.

"Don't be that way," we said. "A bargain is a bargain."

"Well honestly," she said. "It's not even a regulation-size football field."

"Certainly it is," we said. "And the purest kind of college football. Two fine, small New England schools. Ivy. Scholarship. Leadership. . . ."

"Oh dear," she wailed. "I've forgotten the name of the other school."

"Wesleyan," we said. "No, the other one," she said. "The one I'm supposed to root for."

"Bowdoin," we said. "But you're not supposed to root for anybody until after the half. That's the whole idea of coming here — not to make up your mind until you see for yourself which side deserves your cheering."

"I think," she said a little louder than we thought was necessary, "this is the most absolutely idiotic idea you have ever come up with."

"A bargain is a bargain," we said, putting an end to the discussion and standing up for the kickoff.

We will admit that it is somewhat trying to watch a football game without taking sides. The jumping and thumping look a little peculiar when your allegiance is not engaged.

But in that regard, it has been a particularly hard season on the allegiance. You simply cannot continue to root against the New York Yankees without showing the strain. Especially in an election year. And with Mrs. Rockefeller vs. Dr. Murphy. And Walter Cronkite vs. Huntley and Brinkley.

It has been almost more than an ardent fan can withstand. And you end up without enough energy to take sides on General de Gaulle, the Warren Commission Report or the other national games.

The only solution, as we see it, is the use of right reason rather than passion. Consequently, at half time with the score Bowdoin-7, Wesleyan-0, we told the wife:

"All right. Now choose your team. But you have to have three good reasons."

"Bowdoin," she snapped. "Why?" we snapped back.

"Because they're a better team," she said. "Because they are going to win. And because I know you're rooting for the other team and this is the most idiotic idea you have ever come up with."

"Bowdoin," she snapped. "Why?" we snapped back.

Warnings Up For More 'Viet Nam'

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — An unpublished government study on what crises the United States will face world-wide in the decade ahead can be summarized as follows:

We'd better learn how to win the type of war we're fighting in South Viet Nam, because we're going to run into more and more such guerrilla wars in the years ahead.

These wars are going to become more difficult to win as the Communists improve their techniques. Numerous spots in the world — in Africa, Asia and Latin America — are ripe for such outbreaks. Any such wars we lose will make the rest much more difficult to win, because native peoples will lose confidence in our will to back them up.

The government study outlines the situation in Africa as an example of a continent ripe for insurgencies. It says:

"Economic growth is slow and many economies are virtually stagnant."

"The countries of northern Africa are overpopulated in terms of available resources; the race problem will cause great troubles in southern Africa; nearly everywhere development capital is scarce and qualified people are few; expectations are rising and unlikely to be fulfilled; many cities are full of semiliterate unemployed people who are still uneducated and complacent."

"Many situations, such as those in Algeria, the Congo and the Horn of Africa, are very fragile."

"Nkrumah is an unstable man who has created and will create considerable instability in West Africa."

"Even nations led by mature and able leaders such as Nigeria and Senegal have deep divisions."

"Developments of the type which recently occurred in East Africa probably will be repeated elsewhere. 'Reliable' regimes left behind by the departed colonial power will be thrown out and the succession will be a source of conflict between leftists and moderate nationalists."

"Some of the new states in Africa may continue to be relatively stable and may even grow in strength. But in most of the continent the picture appears much more clouded than it did a year or two ago. There are likely to be many more eruptions of violence and perhaps some changes of a major character."

"By and large, the drift seems to be toward political and social chaos. Although revolutionary forces of a serious and dangerous character remain largely undeveloped or unorganized, the milieu is one in which these forces may become suddenly generated and difficult to control."

"The area is certainly becoming increasingly vulnerable to meddling from the outside."

Sino-Soviet rivalry for control of portions of Africa, Latin America and Asia will spur the trend toward guerrilla wars.

But in addition to the Sino-Soviet motivated insurgencies, the experts see a series of "wildcat" guerrilla wars in the coming decade. They say:

"Individuals and groups calling themselves Castroists or Communists might stage revolutionary attempt or initiate guerrilla movements, not on the orders of Moscow, Peiping or Havana, but in the hopes of gaining their support."

All in all, the study concludes, it's going to be a rough decade.

Librarian Likes Behind Scenes

By Peggy Jo Ormson

A person who likes to work behind the scenes is Mary Lee Cooper, head librarian at Lovett Memorial Library.

Miss Cooper feels that's the most efficient way to supervise the staff of five and keep books coming and going to the best interest of Pampa readers.

Miss Cooper learned when she was a child the enjoyment that books offer. She made the decision to become a librarian when a teen-ager. A native of Dallas, the librarian attended the University of Texas and is a graduate of Oklahoma University with a degree in library science.

Coming to Pampa as head librarian last July 16, Miss Cooper has the background to keep Pampans' reading interest at a high level. Prior to coming here, Miss Cooper was head librarian of the Fort Bend County Library for more than 16 years, where she organized the library. Although the library building in Richmond, a town near Houston, a book-mobile supplies reading material to many residents in an 862 square mile area.

During the early organizational years of the Fort Bend County Library, Miss Cooper traveled with the book-mobile,

Mary Lee Cooper
... Head Librarian

which took three weeks to make stops at Missouri City, Sugarland, Rosenberg, Orchard, Simonton, Fulshear, Needville, Long Point and other smaller communities.

Previous to the Fort Bend County Library position, Pampa's new librarian was assistant librarian at Highland Park Library and children's librarian with duties in the adult department at Midland County Library.

At present the head librarian and other members of the staff are taking inventory to determine the basic collection of books at Lovett Memorial. Miss Cooper tells of plans to add new books to meet the interest of Pampa readers as soon as it is determined what Pampans' enjoy most. Christmas books also are being prepared for circulation and the story hour for pre-school children five and six years old is being continued.

Most people think of a librarian as the person who checks out books or checks in returned books. These duties do take a great deal of time, but many more things are required of a librarian.

The most important and time consuming duty of the head librarian is selecting books to be purchased and placed on the shelves for readers. Twice monthly Miss Cooper receives advance notices concerning books to be published from various library services, complete with reviews. From these notices, new books to be purchased must be chosen and an order placed for books wanted about six weeks before publication date.

This one important step is what basically makes a good library better, Miss Cooper stated. She added that 20 steps are taken from the time a book is selected until it is placed at the disposal of library users.

Another duty which helps fill a librarian's day is typing and filing of catalogue cards which contain the author's name, birth date and date of death, if deceased; where, when and by whom the book was published, number of pages and subject headings. "Late" notices have to be written daily for overdue books and a circulation report compiled each day. The circulation report is comprised of the number of fiction and non-fiction books checked out. These are totaled each month and at the end of the year, the report goes to the board of directors of the local library and a copy is sent to the State Library at Austin.

Even in a library, many telephone calls are received daily. People wishing to re-check a book or wishing to ask the librarian's help in answering a reference question, are only a few samples of telephone queries.

Helping readers select and find books they want is another duty the librarian happily performs.

Pampa's new librarian says Lovett Memorial Library has books to interest the youngest pre-school reader right on up through the senior citizen. Miss Cooper has found that not only do Pampans enjoy the fiction books found on the local library shelves, but many junior and senior high school students and a few college students supplement school work at the library.

Pampa children have proven to be avid readers in their particular interest spheres.

Miss Cooper stated that a slow trend shows that readers, nationwide and in Pampa, are leaning more toward non-fiction than fiction in their reading habits.

"Coming to Pampa has been a most interesting change in communities and people," Miss Cooper stated. "The people of Pampa are extremely friendly. I like the phrase our library most Pampans use when referring to Lovett Memorial Library. The library is for the enjoyment of the people and an open invitation is out to make full use of 'our library.'"

DEAR ABBY...

Time Will Sideline Sport

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a college instructor. He's wonderful in almost every respect, but he's a nut on sports. He's 7 and I'm 26. He was raised on a farm and his dad never let him go out for sports in school because farm chores came first. He's on two softball teams, and when he isn't playing, he's practicing. When softball season is over, it's football. After football, it's basketball. (He plays golf in between, and he's good at everything.) He likes hockey, too. Don't tell me to find myself something to do. We have two boys. One is two years old and the other is three months. I try to be a good kid and go to watch my husband whenever he plays. I sat in the bleachers at a hockey game when I was a week overdue with my second, and chased my 18-month-old all over the gym. Someone called my husband to be on a bowling team and I overheard him say, "My wife is unreasonable when it comes to sports!" I ask you... WHO is unreasonable?

INFORMED

DEAR SPORTS: Your husband! Be patient. Time will sideline him soon enough, and then he'll learn you're the best sport he has.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to see your apology for lambasting the clergyman for asking the bride if she were pregnant when she and her fiancé came to him to discuss their marriage plans. This is a standard question now, and I am sure the clergyman meant no personal offense. If a priest learns that the only reason a couple is getting married is to give a child a name, he will recommend a civil ceremony rather than a religious one.

DEAR ABBY: You disappointed me when you "begged forgiveness" for criticizing the clergyman for asking the bride if she were pregnant.

If a clergyman had asked ME such a question in the presence of my fiancé, my fiancé would have asked him to take his collar off and step outside. When an innocent person is accused of shoplifting, and is subjected to the humiliation of a search, he has a case against the store, you know. I am not a thief, and no one has the right to ask me to prove that I didn't steal something. The principle is the same.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN

DEAR ABBY: A psychiatrist once told me that a man who beats his wife was probably beaten by his mother (or a female figure of authority) when he was a child. If more mothers knew this they wouldn't be so quick to hit their sons.

Multiple Listing Service

MEETS TWO DEMANDS
THE SELLERS THE BUYERS

AS A SELLER:

You simply list your homes with the MLS member of your choice, specifying that you want your property multiple-listed. The facts about your property go into Multiple Listing and are rushed out to the brokers and salesmen members. They contact their prospects and work to sell your home (or income property or vacant lot) as quickly as possible.

AS A BUYER:

You make sure the real estate firm you call is a member of the Pampa Multiple Listing Service. (His ad will either use the symbol or have some other reference to the MLS) He will consult the Multiple Listing File. Within five minutes he will give you facts about many homes — prices, locations, sizes, age, etc. You save days of home-hunting, and the need to call on a long list of real estate firms. You'll be sure of a selection from the choicest listings, offered at fair prices.

MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE

IS AVAILABLE TO YOU AT NO EXTRA COST!

You don't pay a penny extra for this extra service. So make sure you use it next time you want to sell or to buy property. All you have to do is make sure you are dealing with a member of the Multiple Listing Service. And if you are a seller be sure to specify that you want your property Multiple-Listed.

SCHOOL GIFT — A victory flagpole was presented to Pampa High School Friday afternoon by Richard Fatheree, president of the student council, on behalf of the Student Council. The new pole is decorated with the Harvester sheaf of wheat on the top and is located at the rear of the school. During a ceremony Friday afternoon the Victory Flag was raised while the Harvester band played. Cheerleaders led the students present for the ceremony in cheers for the football team.

Former Cabinet Officer Talks To Carson Farmers

PANHANDLE (Sp) — Charles Brannan, former U.S. secretary of agriculture and author of the Brannan Plan, addressed some 100 members of the Carson County Farmers Union and their wives at a lunch here Saturday.

Brannan gave a brief history of the Farmers Union and urged those in attendance to support and re-elect the present administration in order to retain their subsidies. If elected, Sen. Barry Goldwater, Brannan said, would cut out present subsidies and ultimately bankrupt one out of five farmers.

Art Britten of Groom, president of the Carson County group, presided and introduced Vice President J. J. Berg of the Texas Farmers Union, who introduced the speaker.

Brannan now lives in Denver and is chief counsel for the Farmers Union.

Colleges Face Fight For 'Prestige' Names

By JAMES M. SHEVIS
LUBBOCK (UPI) — If you think there's nothing in a name, visit the campus of Texas Technological College in Lubbock or Texas Western College in El Paso these days. You'll find there's a whole lot in a name — mostly controversy.

Both schools want to change their names, and for the same reason: To gain more prestige. But at Lubbock especially.

Young Republicans To Meet Tuesday

Discussion of the upcoming Nov. 3 general election will be the main topic of business at the regular monthly meeting of the Gray County Young Republican Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Paul Simmons, president, urged that all members be present and invited any interested persons to attend.

The meeting will be held in the Citizens Bank Hospitality Room.

there's stubborn opposition. Texas Western wants to change its name to the University of Texas in El Paso. Texas Tech, as it is better known, prefers the name Texas State University.

50th Anniversary
"There could be no finer recognition of Texas Western College, its growth and accomplishments, than to designate it as the University of Texas at El Paso during this 50th anniversary year," Mayor Judson F. Williams told the UT Board of Regents at its annual meeting last May.

Williams is a member of Mission '73, a citizens committee which last year drafted a 10-year expansion and improvement plan for TWC, a branch of the University of Texas. The name change was one of Mission's recommendations. Originally founded as the Texas College of Mines, TWC took its present name in 1949. The co-educational school has an enrollment of 6,735.

"For years, we have been a step-child of the University of Texas," a spokesman said. "We want to become legitimate. Students and faculty members favor the change. So does President Joseph M. Ray. It would give us greater recognition."

The Board of Regents adopted a tongue-in-cheek attitude. It offered to consider the proposal, but otherwise gave little real encouragement.

Students Demonstrate
Unlike the situation at Texas Western, the pot has boiled over at Texas Tech where the heated name change battle last spring erupted into a student demonstration.

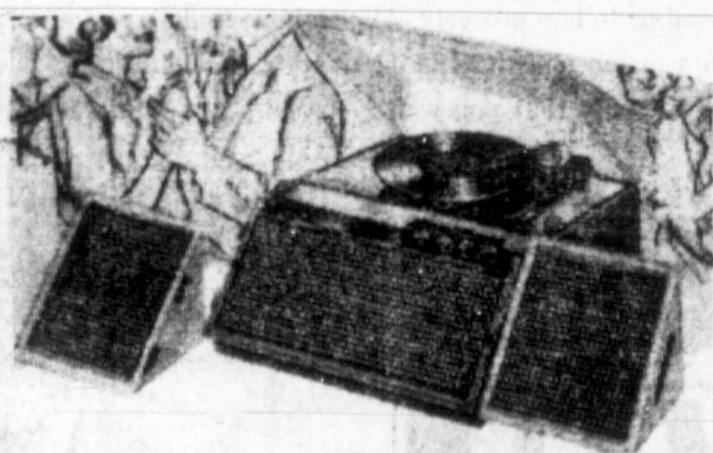

The lid blew off in February when the school's board of directors, through chairman Manuel De Busk of Dallas, announced it would ask the state legislature to change the name of the college to Texas Tech University.

A howl of protest immediately went up from students, faculty and alumni who for years had favored the name, Texas State University.

A dummy of De Busk was hanged on campus. 1,000 students staged a demonstration, and a joint Name Change Committee was up "to block the proposed."

West Berlin's 8,400-acre Grunewald Park once was a royal hunting ground.
