YOUTH CONFESSES PLAINS FORGERIES

EX-COLLEGIAN TELLS WILSON ENTIRE STORY

CHECKS ARE GIVEN IN FOUR PLAINS CITIES ATTORNEY FINDS

An orgy of forgery depredations in this city and several other cities of the South Plains is believed to have been ended Wednesday afternoon with the arrest here of Robert L. Logan, 18, former Texas Technological college sophomore.

Logan has signed a confession stating that he has obtained money on three worthless checks in Lubbock and two at Plainview.

The confessions were made before County Attorney Vaughn Wilson.

Hale county officers took the youth to Plainview last night, after he was arrested on warrants charging him with two forgery violations in that city.

Logan confessed to forging and cashing a $14 check at Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company; $12 check at Heepy-Cheepy store; $17.60 check at the Acorn store, all in this city, and two checks, one $17 and one $26.70 at the J. C. Penney store at Plainview, Prosecutor Wilson said.

Names of Gray Brothers Construction company, Carson & Boone Construction company, and Simpson Construction company had been forged, he confessed, and each check specified in the lower left hand corner "for labor."

The former college student told officers that he had also forged checks at the "M" system store at Tulia and the Panhandle Lumber company at Slaton.

Delay In Subway Plans Explained

THE WORST IS YET TO COME

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—The National Barber and Beauty Supply Men's association boldly announced today the American he-man is secretly very fond of perfumery.

Lilac is the scent that sends man on his way rejoicing. He likes it on his face and his hair. Its popularity, the association agreed, is based on its reputation as being "mannish."

The gentle scent of violet is in bad odor with males, the barbers said, classifying it as "too dainty;" but rose in hair tonic goes over big. Men-about-town, whatever they are, have a leaning toward jasmin; and ordinary fellows, untutored in the art of personal perfuming, prefer the potpourri of scents provided by bouquet.

REUNION PLAN OF CIVIL WAR VETS TABOOED

G. A. R. TABLES MOVE FOLLOWING SNEED'S SUGGESTION

(By Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 12 — The proposed reunion of veterans of the North and South came before the 63rd National encampment of the G. A. R. today.

The committee on resolutions "disapproved" the resolution for such a reunion and after a vote it was laid on the table.

SUGGESTION SENT FROM LUBBOCK

The decision of the veterans of the Northern army, in refusing to consider a joint reunion with the few remaining Confederates, came as a result of a suggestion made by wire from Lubbock last Sunday by Richard A. Sneed, commander of the United Veterans of the Confederacy.

Mr. Sneed, treasurer of the state of Oklahoma, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Fred Snyder, of West Nineteenth street, here.

Commander Sneed was engaged the early part of this afternoon and could not be reached for a statement. It is expected, however, that he will be disappointed at the decision reached at the G. A. R. encampment.

COMMISSION WAITS TO HEAR FROM RAILWAY, MAYOR AVERS

The City Commission has been awaiting for some time the action of the Santa Fe railway company with reference to starting work on the Avenue H subway in North Lubbock, Mayor H. D. Woods announced at noon today in reply to querries received from residents north of the Santa Fe tracks.

"The bulk of $90,000 bonds for street improvements, approved Monday, represents the City's 50 percent of estimated cost of the underpass," said Mr. Woods. "The commission has been ready for some time to proceed with letting of the contract and plans for the project have been completed."

Delay Is Explained

"The necessary delay," he continued, "has been occasioned by inability of the Santa Fe to complete details of an agreement for the remaining portion of the total cost. The railway company, however, has appropriated in this year's budget the amount adequate for installaion of the subway.

"The City Commission, and, I'm sure, the railway officials, regret that the concrete work on the proposal could not have been well under way at this time. We are ready to start work when agreement details are formed."

Much of the City Commssion's discussion this afternoon, during regular session, will center around the subway project, he indicated.

AGREEMENT IN NAVAL CUT IS DRAWING NEAR

AMERICA AND ENGLAND AWAIT REPORT IN FEW DAYS

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Highly important developments in Anglo-American disarmament negotiations are expected here within forty-eight hours, according to well-informed circles. By that time the American reply to Great Britian's naval disarmament proposals will be in Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's hands.

The nature of this reply will largely determine whether the labor leader will leave for Washington o nSeptember 28 or whether his visit will have to be postponed until a much later date.

Reserve Is Marked

Extreme reserve continues to be maintained on this side of the Atlantic regarding the Anglo-American negotiations. It is understood, however, British proposals postulated a minimum cruiser tonnage of 340,000 tons, it is understood the reaction of the American government to the proposals, which is expected to be outlined in the reply Downing street hopes to receive before the week-end, will have important bearing on the naval power discussions. It is considered in authoritative quarters as extremely unlikely that Prime Minister Mc Donald would go to Washington immediately unless agreement in

DRUNK, DRUNKER AND DRUNKEST!

There must be degrees of drunkenness!

Now, for instance, take the case of I. M. N. Inebriate, who was arraigned Wednesday in city corporation court of a charge of drunkenness. He was perhaps only slightly unbalanced, and was fined $5.

Consider now the case of Ima Boozer, who had taken a few more drinks than his colleague above mentioned and was fined $14.

Records in the city hall reveal a wide range of fines on charges of drunkenness. Of nine charged yesterday two paid $10 fines, one paid a $7 fine, two $15 fines, one $11 fine, one $15 fine, one $5 fine and one $13.75 fine.

A total of $136.70 was paid into city coffers Wednesday, as result of violations. Seven were charged with traffic violations and three were charged with disturbances.

U. S. EXPERT REPORTS ON CONDITIONS IN STATE OF TEXAS

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 12—Heavy rains since September 1 will be beneficial to crops not yet made, H. H. Schutz, statistician with the United States Department of Agriculture, said in a report issued today.

"Owing to the long duration of the drouth, conditions during August have not been so good as usual," he said. "Cotton in Texas on August 1, had good prospects for a fair crop except in portions of the south, but the extremely high temperatures and lack of rainfall during the month caused deterioration seldom equalled in rapidity or severity. Insect damage over the south half of the state has been rather injurious, while other areas have suffered only nominal losses.

Mussolini Drops Seven Positions

BENITO MUSSILINI

ROME, Sept. 12.—Benito Mussolini, Italian dictator, today relinquished seven of the eight cabinet posts he held in the Italian Fascist government. He remains premier and minister of the interior.

A royal decree announcing the action also contained notice of replacement of two other ministers, those of public instruction and of national economy.

Another Post Changed

The undersecretary for the interior ministry, which portfolio the Duce retained, also was changed in the move, which comprised probably the most sweeping reorganization of the Fascist government since its inception.

This reorganization was thought to be for the same reason as the last, namely that the Duce wished to rotate the best men in the Fascist party through offices in order to build up an elite skilled in government.

SENATE FIGHT ON TARIFF IS OPENED TODAY

SENATOR SIMMONS IS FIRST CRITIC TO BE HEARD

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Nine "outstanding objections" to the pending Tariff bill were enumerated in a speech in the Senate today by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who opened fire on the republican measure for the democrats by declaring it would add billions of dollars to the annual tax burden imposed upon the consuming masses.

Aiming his castigation not only at the administrative and special features of the bill but at proposed increased rates as well, the minority tariff leader gave the following reasons why he could not support it:

"Too Many Rates"

"It contains many rates and increases upon agricultural products that are useless and ineffective.

"It is replete with exorbitant rates on articles which farmers buy.

"It contains numerous instances of higher rates on articles used by the masses than on articles of identical use, but purchased principally by persons of wealth or of more than average means.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Vacation time is over, and jobs, schools and colleges are started on another new year. Most of us go back grudgingly, regreting the necessity. We shouldn't, should we? We don't get all the fun out of life that we can when we do.

Even when our job is not just to our liking, we can get a lot of good out of it and a lot of valuable contacts, if we choose. And, as for school and college, they may seem an awful grind, but you will forget that part in later years, and remember all the friends you made and the good times you had, or the friends you did not make and the good times you let slip. So try every day to make more friends—or, rather, to be good friends—and get every bit of pleasure you can out of the fleetly flying school years to make your later—as well as your present—years glad.

* * *

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I wonder if you would help me decide an important question. I am a girl of 17 years old and am in need of advice. I am expecting a young man guest, also 17, whom I met but once before in his own home. Would it be all right to offer him my class pin to wear when I have known him such a short time? I know he would like to wear it and that he wants me to wear his class ring, but is too bashful to ask first. Please let me know soon. LUCKY."

Oh, Lucky, dear, I was away on vacation, and I am so afraid my advice will come too late. But I hope the young man spunked up enough to ask for the pin, with your encouragement, as it does seem as if he should. However, if you had to ask him it was perfectly all right, and I hope the visit was a satisfactory one.

* * *

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: My girl friend is going with a man ten years older than herself. She is deeply in love with him and he is married and has a child. His wife knows who she is.

"Virginia, my girl friend is a real nice girl and was innocent as a saint and pretty before she met this man. He has a bad reputation. I have asked her why she won't give him up and go with some nice young man her own age. She says it isn't true about her going with a married man and she didn't care what people said. Virginia, can you tell me a way to have her stop going with this man?

"RAMONA."

It's a pretty hopeless task, Ramona, and a thankless one. Why does she deny that she goes with a married man? Is it possible that you could be mistaken about it? If it's true, you could arrange a meeting between her and the wife, and let her see the child? If she is really the sweet girl you say, she will realize that she is doing them a wrong and give him up.

The trouble is, most men who step out with other women represent to the girl that their wives don't understand them, and that they are so unhappy, the poor deluded girls think it is true and they must be the comforters.

* * *

LAST ROSE OF SUMMER: That's an odd cognomen for a young man, isn't it? Faint heart never won fair lady, you know, so if you really love the girl continue to court her until you are sure there is no hope. Only she can tell you if she loves you. Most people fall in love some time in their lives. I don't know how much truth there is in phrenology. Some people believe the bumps will tell positively what kind of character you have, others rely on the lines of the hand, and still others on handwriting. There is a little truth in all these alleged sciences, I suppose, but how much I could not say.

* * *

DISGUSTED: Parents, even the best of them, do "pick on one" occasionally, or seem to. But if you could read some of the letters I get from girls who have no homes or mothers and fathers you would realize that perhaps you are blest in having them, even if you feel you are discriminated against.

Suppose you make up your mind that your lot might be worse and that you are going to be a happy girl in spite of it. Instead of thinking of suicide or running away, try to have a good time with the baby and with all with whom you come in contact, and see if the sun won't shine and the sky be bright for you.

* * *

VIRGINIA: My dear child, do you think I keep young men in assorted sizes and complexions in my desk? I certainly don't, and charming chaps, good looking and everything, such as you describe, don't have to pick up chance acquaintances through a newspaper column. They have plenty of friends of their own. You will gradually get acquainted as you live in town longer, and can choose your own friends. And, if you read the column carefully you know that I never undertake to bring young people together through it. It's altogether too risky.

* * *

BLUE EYES: Bless your heart, dear, I don't know how you can get acquainted with a young man who goes by your house in a brown truck. And why don't you learn to spell, dear, while you're too young to go with the boys?

NEW ORLEANS MAYOR SCORES USE OF GAS BOMBS IN CAR STRIKE

TEAR PINEAPPLES USED BY COPS AS CAR IS BLOWN UP

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12—Use of tear gas bombs by police and a United States deputy marshal in dispersing a crowd at the scene of a street car dynamited last night three hours after the local car men's union rejected a tentative strike settlement, today brought sharp criticism from acting Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley, a victim of the gas.

"The bombing was outrageous, and under no condition will we tolerate such affairs," he declared, "but I consider the conduct of the United States marshal and the police just as reprehensible in throwing tear gas bombs into the crowd. One landed within two or feet of me. I saw one thrown at the feet of a woman with baby in her arms."

No One is Hurt

The crowd, including the mayor, was attracted to the scene as the members left a neighborhood political meeting seeking city drainage relief from rains. The dynamite cracked a car wheel, but the crew and passengers, a white woman and two negroes, were uninjured. Police threw gas bombs when bricks hurled from the crowd smashed in the car windows.

Four sticks of dynamite were discovered on the Tulane belt tracks three hours later by Motorman U. S. Langston, who stopped his car in time to avert an explosion.

With the board of directors of the company declaring it would complete its organization by filling 400 positions previously held open pending settlement of the strike, the city was faced with an indefinite traction strike called July 2.

Wont Accept Pact

During balloting yesterday, the carmen stood 1,009 to 87 against accepting the agreement reach by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and A. B. Paterson, vice president of the New Orleans Public Service and approved by W. D. Mahon, president of the International Carmen's union.

When terms were announced in New York, union men generally were favorable toward acceptance, although they disliked the lack of compulsory membership in the union of the employes. The board of directors of public service accepted the agreement, and members of the union were called upon to express themselves in secret ballot.

Edwin Peyroux, president of the local union, said the men would have accepted the New York terms if the public service had been specific about provision to take the old employes back "as rapidly as conditions will permit."

JUST WHY DOES HE NEED A BARBER?

MILLIONAIRE KENNY, WHO TRANSPORTS PET TONSORIALIST TO FRANCE, NEARLY BALD!

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The problem of getting a proper hair cut for William F. Kenny, New York millionaire contractor, is raising almost as much dust in England as the Anglo-American naval negotiations. The British immigration officials have been brought into the case, holding that the New York barber who was summoned to London by Mr. Kenny must obtain an official permit before he can apply the shears to his client's head. Several newspapers have pointed out the lack of hirsutical adornment on Kenny's scalp. They asked why he should find difficulty in getting a proper hair cut from British barbers in view of the rather limited field offered for this skill.

Meanwhile Louis Arico, a New York barber, is steaming toward London to care for Kenny's hair.

TAX QUESTION IS DISCUSSED

EX-GOVERNOR LOWDEN, ILLINOIS, TALKS FOR FARMERS

(By Associated Press)

SARANAC INN, N. Y., Sept. 12—A revolution in the national and state attitude toward agriculture, resulting in a "better way of life" for the farmer, said Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, in an address here last night, probably "would enhance the prosperity of all."

"The time has come," said Lowden at the conference dinner of the National Tax association: "when we must strive to equalize conditions of living upon the farm and in the towns and cities. We shall be unable much longer to maintain a double standard of living in the United States, as we have in recent years."

Touches On Taxes

He declared ownership of property no longer is a satisfactory test of ability to pay taxes. The ownership of property, both tangible and intangible, he said, produces not more than 20 per cent of total net income, while the census bureau finds that 75 per cent of the revenue of the states and local units of government is derived from the general property tax.

While the general property tax unduly burdens all real estate," he said, "it bears especially heavy upon farm lands."

"... go out and watch New York's famous 'Old Seventh' Regiment take the concealed name cigarette test. We will publish your eye-witness story word for word"... So here it is.

By Floyd Gibbons

CAMP SMITH, Peekskill, N.Y. Aug. 17th.—I have shared the soldier's cigarette in pretty nearly every corner of the world, and I know how set in his ways an army man can get when it comes to knowing what smoke he likes. So frankly the idea that a two year old cigarette—even if it did have the name OLD GOLD—could win this test over three old time brands seemed unbelievable.

But the thing worked out. At Camp Smith, where I witnessed the test, OLD GOLD put the bee on 506 Yanks of the Old Seventh New York regiment.

The Old Seventh went OLD GOLD with 195 bull's-eyes as against 144 for the next brand, with the two other old timers rating scores of 81 and 86.

What's more, this concealed name test is as square as a regimental parade ground.

Thought For Today

He who has it in his power to commit sin is less inclined to do so. The very idea of being able weakens his desire.—Ovid.

It is easy if you take care to give the driver behind you an exact idea of what you intend to do when you extend your arm. You can point straight to the left indicating a left turn; you can motion the following driver to pass on your left, indicating a right turn; you can extend the palm down in such a way that anyone behind you will know you are going to stop. It is quite simple.

But does it work out that way? It does not. Each driver has his own notions. You drive down a street and presently you see a hand dangling out of the window of the car ahead. It hangs limp and inert; or perhaps it points benignly toward the sky and it may mean anything. The driver may be preparing to turn to right or left, he may be knocking the ashes off a cigaret, he may be pointing out the beauties of a tall building or he may be reaching his hand out to see if it is, perchance, raining.

The left hand signal could be extremely useful. Our carelessness however, often makes it more confusing than no signal at all.

Food And Morality

The importance of proper nutrition in the life of the individual is emphasized in a report just issued by Commissioner John McMillan, who commands the central territory of the Salvation Army.

Commissioner McMillan, pointing out that more than 60 percent of the unwed mothers cared for in Salvation Army rescue homes, and 93 per cent of all men given aid by the Army, were victims of undernourishment in their youth, declares flatly that the majority of these unfortunates probably never would have "gone wrong" if they had always had proper food.

"It is as criminal for a parent to allow a child to choose what he or she wants to eat as it is to allow the child to play with loaded firearms," says Commissioner McMillan. "The boy who is undernourished is handicapped before he starts in the game of life, since he is rendered doubly susceptible to disease of mind and body."

The Trains

Aviation has done much in the last few years to provide us with quick transportation over long distances. But the railroads it appears, are about ready to do a little fast traveling on their own account.

A writer in the current World's Work magazine reveals that the Canadian National Railways are about to install oil-electric locomotives capable of speeding regular passenger trains across America from coast to coast in 60 hours without a stop.

Such locomotives the writer says if put on the regular New York to San Francisco run, could cut from 24 to 36 hours off existing schedules and come within 12 hours of the time made by the new air-rail service.

There is no doubt but that the next few years will see amazing developments in railroad speeds. Railroad executives are far too wise to let their service fall behind in the modern procession.

The Sexes

The women contestants in the recently-completed aerial derby from Santa Monica to Cleveland were unanimous in making one protest about the affair. They object to being spoken of as "women pilots," and to being obliged to race only with members of their own sex.

"Why not just call us 'pilots' and why not let us race in the men's races?" one fair competitor asked. "A woman can fly a plane just as well as a man. Why pretend that she can't?"

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says she's found the difference between an ant and a wasp. The ant can lift three times its weight in raw meat or cake while a wasp can raise a full grown man three feet most any time it sets out to do so.

How they do it in Chicago:

Come out and see me and the Missus some time, old fellow. We just live a bomb's throw from the loop!"

* * *

Just to get this dissertation started, here a quotation from Judge, the humor magazine, which fits Lubbock county's climate during the week just passed:

"The rain is raining all around;
It rains on roads and streets.
On highways and on boulevards—
And those in rumble seats!"

All of which prompts The Plainsman to wonder how the folks feel who voted against the two Lubbock county paved road projects?

* * *

Here we've been, the last week or so, mud-bound. Bus lines have been stopped at times and once down near Post, even the Santa Fe passenger train had to lay on a siding a while—all due to inclement weather. Some of these days South Plains folks are going to get all smartened up and realize that they need paced roads. Then they'll vote 'em and eventually get 'em—but they'll wish like the very dickens that they had had presence of mind to see that they were needed years ago.

* * *

Every time The Plainsman passes along Hale county now he thinks about how the folks up that way are making us look like a bunch of chumps. Some of that north-south paving on highway number 9 is already in and it won't be long now until it is all in. When that time comes Lubbock business houses won't have to be told the paving is in use. Some of the cash register receipts will inform them of the fact.

* * *

If you think Hale Center and Abernathy folks are going to plow through mud or bump over the ruts and chug-holes of our famous Lubbock county dirt highway system in order to spend their dollars here you're kidding yourself. They'll get on that paving and ride comfortably into Plainview. And The Plainsman for one, doesn't blame them if they do. This may be calling a spade a spade but if you don't agree with these ideas you can stick to your own and there'll be no hard feelings.

* * *

There's some talk about calling another bond election soon and, as usual, some are for it and others are "again it." Not being a prophet, or anything like that, The Plainsman hasn't any idea whether the project would pass or not but he's here to opine that to build a system of paved highways in Lubbock county would be a good investment, whether the crops turn out good, bad or indifferent.

* * *

You can mark it down on your cuff that one of these days Lubbock county will decide that paved roads are needed. When it does we'll always wonder why it took the public generally so long to find it out. You can cry about taxes, expenses and whatnot but did you ever hear of a county going broke paving its highways? If you know of any such instance send it in and this column will see that the fact gets to the palpitating public.

* * *

Living out in what some of the smart-clicks like to call "the hinterlands" has its advantages, after. The Plainsman is going to save some money in October, all because of that fact. If he were in or near Chicago or Philadelphia he'd feel like he'd just have to see the world series and see the world series from anywhere but a box seat would be just the same as not seeing it at all. A box seat costs $6.60 and in order to get one you have to buy it for all the games at any one of the two contesting cities. By the best known calculations, living in Lubbock instead of Chicago or Philly will enable at least one hard working gent to save all the way from $13.20 to $19.80—not allowing for the purchase of cushions, peanuts, soda and balloons.

The way that 18-day diet on grapefruit, alone has been catching on, it's a wonder any of us has an eye left in his head.

We Are Using Our Forests So Rapidly That We May Have To Live In Adobe Houses Soon, Rodney Dutcher Opines

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—In 20 or 25 years the privately owned forests of the country will be exhausted and an era of adobe huts is likely to begin in some communities.

This gloomy prediction probably can be regarded as fact. It comes from Major George P. Ahern, one of the outstanding authorities on forestry, and is supported by Gifford Pinchot and other eminent foresters.

Depletion of the national wood supply has most of the alarming aspects of the draining of American oil resources and two of its main causes are the same—uncontrolled overproduction and waste. But while oil wells can not be made to refill themselves, forests can in time be regrown. And there is an immense amount of waste in forestry fires which is not duplicated in oil fires. The trouble is that little if anything is being done about forest replacement and the annual forest fire loss has been rapidly increasing.

Studies in Every State

With inexorable statistics and facts which do not appear to have been controverted by any other expert, Major Ahern has been engaged in a campaign to save forests. He presented his statement early this year in a pamphlet called "Deforested America," of which 10,000 copies were printed by the government and which has been praised by foresters everywhere as an accurate summary. He is now engaged on a series of individual surveys of the forest and lumber situation in each of the 48 states.

"Timber is being cut several times faster than it is being reproduced," Ahern says. "Reforestation and industrial forestry are negligible. One-eighth of our original virgin forest area now remains. Half of that is publicly owned. National forest timber supplies but three per cent of our demands.

"Destructive logging practices and forest fires, making large additions annually to our devastated areas, and reducing second growth possibilities far below minimum requirements, are thereby seriously menacing our principal hope for future wood supplies. Our most urgent need is to stop destructive logging practices and forest fires.

"In 1920 there were 28,000 forest fires which burned 3,500,000 acres of forested land. This destruction has risen until in 1928 there were 177,000 forest fires which burned 34,000,000 acres. The years from 1923 to 1928 averaged 114,000 fires annually and 28,000,000 acres of burned forests." These figures could be very radically reduced if congress would appropriate adequately for the fighting of forest fires.

"The depressed lumber industry is rapidly liquidating its remaining assets. Lumbermen insist that better logging methods, efficient fire control and reforestation are almost impossible because of the cost. The chief interest of the lumber industry is not in the forests, but in markets, better manufacturing and such matters as elimination of manufacturing waste."

Government foresters agree with Ahern's views, but do not care to reiterate them publicly, perhaps through fear of reprisals from the lumber industry.

Ahern says that when the forests give out the farmers will be the first to be hard hit. Operating on a small margin of profit—if any—they cannot afford to import brick, steel and cement. Farmers are now using eight or ten billion feet of lumber a year for homes, barns, hen houses, fences and similar purposes. And Ahern suggests that if drastic conservation measures are not taken they may have in time have to go back to the old adobe houses.

Wrecked Midwest States

"The 'cut and run' lumberman wrecked Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota years ago and then rushed to the coast," he says "Today the bulk of our lumber production comes from Washington, Oregon and Idaho and a small group of states in the south whose production is decreasing and whose wood exports will have practically ceased by 1937. Michigan now imports more than half of the wood it uses.

"Although production from the northwest is increasing in the face of dwindling reserves, total national production is dropping. Privately owned forests will disappear in 25 years."

Major Ahern proposes a national forestry commission to study available adequate facts, recommend necessary legislation, policies and machinery for forest preservation and center public attention on the critical situation.

In New York With Swan

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—New York's policemen and hotel bellhops find the army of strangers here at their loneliest.

In the mid-Forties and Fifties, so a number of Gotham's "finest" tell me, they are stopped at least once each evening by some yearning out-of-towner who insists on opening his watch and showing a picture of a baby, wife or sweetie.

More often than not it's the picture of a child, however, and the policeman is expected to agree that this is one of the loveliest children ever placed upon the earth.

Bellhops tell me that the delivery of ice-water in the mid-night hours results very often in the necessity of listening to the stranger's "story of his life."

The visitor, fortified with a bit of Manhattan's assorted brew, becomes garrously melancholy and insists on talking of home. The other night, so I was told, the bellhop happened to be a young man who had but recently arrived from a small town in the middle west himself. Upon listening in on the guest's life tale, the "hop" joined him in a few "quick ones" and was soon pouring out his own heart. Hours later the bell captain found them exchanging reminiscences of the old home town.

The patient police are called upon to listen while some heart-broken oaf reads passages from the girl "back home" who threw him over. Waitresses in the lower priced cafes often land husbands by lending sympathetic ears to home-sick strangers.

The traffic officers in mid-Fifth Avenue and Broadway get the greatest variety of foolish questioners. One of them tells me that at least one woman a day asks him where the best bargain sale on Fifth Avenue may be found, and dozens think that a Broadway copper should know the best show on the street. As a matter of fact, most of them do, keeping posted because of the innumerable times they are asked. Furthermore, they become acquainted with box office conditions in the farious theaters by noting the crowds gathered in the foyers.

Broadway hears with amazement that the world's most spectacular play failure is to take another chance this winter at losing more money, or staging a come-back.

This drama—as theater followers already know—is "The Ladder", which was financed by M. Davis, the Texas oil millionaire. It has made half a dozen valiant starts; seats have been given away and seats have been sold; it has been rewritten four times, and it, has been rewritten again for the next production. More than a million dollars was dropped on it at its last appearance. The same theater in which it ran for a year at a steady loss has been secured. I am told, and many of the original performers will be re-engaged.

Along the East Side highways certain blocks begin to blossom now with gay buntings and festoons of electric lights. Italian candy peddlers and vendors of paper flowers and toys clog the curbings. It is the season for festivals to many of the saints.

The ceremonies are much the same as in the homeland, though difficulties are faced by the passing of taxis and trucks.

Shrines are built against the bare, ugly faces of the tenement. In years agone a waxen figure of the saint was placed in the street. But this summer, I notice, the saint is in a window, so that the summer rains, heat and dirt will not inflict damage.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

NURSING BABIES REQUIRE VITAMIN B IN THE DIET STIMULATE APPETITES

Gaining Weight

"Dear Doctor: Recently the specialist to whom I take my babies, changed the food to be used in the milk for my seven-months-old, to a wheat-germ sugar which is especially rich in vitamin B. You could not believe such a sudden change possible! The baby eats and eats, all she is supposed to, and a few ounces of milk extra a day. She is beginning to stand, although I try to keep her from it, and is gaining much faster than the weekly four ounces.

"Now, if vitamin B in extra quantities will do this for a baby, why could it not for an adult? I am almost five feet tall, just 30, and weigh not quite 93 pounds. I live in the country, spend much time in the sunshine, sleep outdoors, drink a quart of whole milk each day, eat quantities of eggs, much butter and cream and have the necessary fruits and vegetables; yet I cannot gain. I average seven hours of sleep, but am constantly on the go through all the days of the year. I simply cannot rest, and I hate to try to. Now what diet must I use to calm a nervous temperament? If I rest physically I don't mentally.

"Enclosing 10 cents in coin and self-addressed stamped envelope for your pamphlet of gaining instructions. MRS. B."

It is now being realized that babies should have special foods giving the vitamin B, just as they have vitamins A and D in cod liver oil and vitamin C in orange juice.

Vitamin B is the anti-neuritic and appetitite stimulating vitamin, so it has to do with growth (as all the vitamins do, in fact). It has been found that even in the nursing babies, and especially if the mother's diet is deficient, the addition of vitamin B is necessary. This vitamin is high in the whole grains, especially in the germ and the bran, and as this sugar you speak of is made of the germ of the wheat, it is high in the vitamin B.

Vitamin B is very high in tomatoes (raw, canned or dried), alfalfa, beans, fresh cabbage, fresh spinach, yeast and yeast extracts, and the whole grains.

Those of you whose babies are thriving on their formulas so you don't want to change the sugar, can give them a little broth every day made of the yeast extracts. These can be purchased in the grocery stores under various names. One-half teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes a nice broth. With young babies, this of course, should be diluted still further until they are accustomed to it.

Children need a large proportion of the energy foods—breads and cereals—in the diet, and because a large share of the vitamins, mineral elements and the best of the protein (building and repair food) is taken away by the refining process, the whole grain breads and cereals should be used. This applies not only to children but to adults. It is true that if the deficiencies of the refined flours and cereals are made up by the taking of liberal amounts of milk, green vegetables and fruits, they can be used. However, the average family, and especially the one with limited means, is not apt to do this.

Now your problem, Mrs. B.: Perhaps you need more vitamin B, but certainly you need more sleep and rest. You say you average only seven hours of sleep. An underweight person should have at least nine hours of sleep. During the daytime you should lie down for an hour or so. You get the benefit from this even though you are active mentally, for it is physical activities that use up the calories. If you read, read something that requires no great concentration. It would be better, of course, if you could sleep at this time; but if you can't, you should rest, anyway.

It may be possible that you are taking too much milk so that you are not getting enough solid foods. How about nuts? You could take two ounces of nut meats a day—that would be 400 calories added; and you could take eggnogs made of milk and cream and egg yolks and sugar. Gee, I wish I had to gain! I sure do like nuts and eggnogs.

The gaining and reducing pamphlet has been sent to you, and I hope that by now you have begun to profit by it.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. If she considers your questions of general interest, they will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and two cents in coin for each; for the pamphlets on "Reducing and Gaining" "The Kidney and Its Excretions" and the "Hygiene of Women," 10 cents in coin (for each) and fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. (These charges are to cover the cost of printing and handling). Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

BY ARTHUR M. HYDE, Secretary of Agriculture

(Arthur M. Hyde was born at Princeton, Mo., July 12, 1877. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and the State University of Iowa. From 1900 to 1915 he practiced law at Princeton, Mo. He was mayor of Princeton from 1908 to 1910. In 1915 he moved to Trenton. From 1921 to 1925 he was governor of Missouri. He was appointed secretary of agriculture by President Hoover.)

The forestry problem in Michigan is indeed a most serious one. Magnify it many times and you have the forestry problem of the United States. That problem consists in finding ways to keep one fourth of our land area productive, to supply about 25,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood a year, to perpetuate industries that employ over 1,000,000 men and turn out products valued at more than $2,000,000,000 a year, to obtain the full benefit of forests in conserving soils and waters, and to preserve the important social values of forests.

ARTHUR M. HYDE

One of the most important elements of the farm problem is the proper utilization of land. Our national heritage covers 1,903,000,000 acres. Of this 505,000,000 are classed as improvel farm lands, capable of producing crops. Only about 350,000,000 acres are actually producing crops. On those 350,000,000 acres American farmers, the most efficient in the world, are annually producing vast stores of foodstuffs which not only supply the demands of our own 120,000,000 people, but overrun domestic need into the markets of the world.

It is hardly too much to say that American farmers could, by using intensive methods on the whole, 505,000,000 available acres of farm lands, double the crop. This would result in an enormous surplus and disastrously break the price. The question of land utilization is therefore important. The threat of possible surpluses too great to handle is always present.

Bare watersheds add to our national flood menace. Reforestation should not be considered solely from the standpoint of timber supply. Great social and recreational values are involved. The waste of national resources forms an important element. Flood control is another. It is worthy of thought whether the reforestation of every capable acre of publicly owned land and the purchase and reforestation of many privately owned submarginal lands upon our watersheds would not be a sound and practicable measure of national economy.

"I am so happy that the last pimple is gone"

EVERY evening thousands enjoy themselves at dinner-parties, dances, theatres, games, clubs. Many thousands more are denied the joy of such merriment and happiness.

Maybe this denial is due to a skin trouble. First impressions cannot be good without a clear skin—first impressions are quickly made and are not soon forgotten. Old friends may excuse pimples and secretly sympathize, but new acquaintances may not be so charitable. Skin blemishes are not inviting. Neither can they be covered up. They embarrass. Hold people back. Steal away joy and happiness.

A lovely—clear skin—is within the reach of all. To those who have lost it, hope is offered. You, too, may have a beautiful skin, rose-petal in texture, pretty as a picture and without a single pimple.

Many thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking S.S.S. It is Nature's own blood tonic for raising the body's power of resistance to disease, improving the appetite, building firm flesh, and clearing the skin.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

Take S.S.S. at meal-time. You will be delighted with its blood building and tonic effect.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"That tree fell with a loud kerplunk, but how are we to move the trunk?" said Clowny. "It is pretty big and we're not very strong. Perhaps we'll find another road that's strong enough to hold this load. Of course if we should fall, we'll come right where we belong."

The Tinymites then looked around but not an opening was found that led off of the main road. Trees were thick as they could be. And bushes, too, grew up so high there was no chance at passing by. So bushes, trees and shrubbery was all the bunch could see.

"It is no use," wee Scouty said. "We may as well go right ahead and see if we can move that trunk. I think I have a plan. We'll take a rope and tie it tight and then we'll pull with all our might." So off to get bit of rope one of the Tinies ran.

They shortly had it 'round the tree and when 'twas tight as it could be they all began to pull real hard. The big trunk stood stock still. Again they pulled, but all in vain. Said Clowny, "This gives me a pain. The three of you can pull some more, but I have had my fill."

All of a sudden Coppy had a plan that didn't seem so bad. "Let's take our auto pull this trunk out of the road," he cried. "Oh, fine," exclaimed the happy bunch. "That's surely a brilliant bunch." The rope was fastened to the car and Scouty jumped inside.

"Chug, chug," the little engine cried. And then the trunk began to slide. 'Twas shortly dragged away and they were on their way once more. It wasn't long until they reached an open space and Clowny screeched. "Oh, look ahead! I see a house. I wonder what's in store."

TROOPS WITHDRAWN

JERUSALEM, Sept. 12 (AP)—Quietness in Palestine where Jewish-Moslem disturbances have continued for almost a month, has resulted in the withdrawal of detachments of British troops from quiet areas. An official bulletin today said apart from incidents the situation has considerably improved.

LIVESTOCK AND POULTRY BREEDERS FROM WIDE AREA WRITE INTO FAIR HEADQUARTERS FOR NEW CATALOGS

Requests from livestock and poultry breeders for catalogs from a radius of 50 miles have been received by officials of the Panhandle South Plains fair this year, which indicates that the success of the fair is well known among the leading breeders and that a large group of exhibitors will have their top herds and exhibit fowls here at the sixteenth annual fair, September 30 to October 5, inclusive.

Catalogs have been sent out by B. C. Dickinson, president and A. B. Davis, manager, of the fair in response to all these requests.

To Be Biggest Yet

Every indication points to a bigger fair than was held in 1928 when 120,197 people marched through the turnstiles, according to B. C. Dickinson, president. Free attractions and fire works are to be much better than any previous year. Six free football games will also be offered the fair crowds this year in addition to the free acts. Many of the premiums and prizes have been increased, and other added attractions and features will be offered the fair crowds this year.

L. G. H. Williams is superintendent of the Boy Scouts department which offers numerous prizes to scouts for winning exhibits.

Eaton Heads Counties

D. F. Eaton is superintendent of the county exhibits departments with $200 for the first prize and other appropriate prizes for all counties having an exhibit here. Community exhibits will have $50 as first prize and other suitable prizes offered.

H. J. Bower is superintendent of the individual exhibits which have good prizes for all kinds of agricultural products.

R. M. Mullholin, county agent of Hale county, is to be general superintendent of the livestock department with W. L. Stanley, superintendent of Hereford cattle; Roy E. Davis, superintendent of dairy cattle; Dr. Y. J. Aiken, superintendent of horses and mules; Douglas Pounds, superintendent of swine; Dr. L. Jones, superintendent of sheep. Prizes in the livestock department are in line with the leading state and regional fairs of the southwest and the field for sales in the South Plains section is attracting many livestock exhibitors who want to show here to get a contact with farmers and stock raisers of the plains.

Prizes for Youngsters

D. F. Eaton, county agent and Miss Louise Baird, home demonstration agent, are in charge of the boys and girls' club departments at the fair which carry good prizes and premiums for exhibits of club work and club projects products.

Ray C. Mowery is superintendent of the poultry department. Pure fowls from all over the southwest have been entered. Lubbock and the South Plains offer a good field for poultry breeders due to the increasing interest in the poultry raising industry. Here in Lubbock three incubators, one with a capacity of 161,000 eggs at a hatch, are being supported by the poultry raisers of the section and three poultry producing plants are located here to prepare the poultry for market. One of the plants, the Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, has just recently occupied a new $200,000 plant which is the largest in the southwest.

Women's Department Strong

The women's department at the fair will be better than ever before, according to Mrs. Hub Ono, director. Mrs. Jones, general director, will be assisted by Mrs. F. F. Friend, Mrs. W. B. Price and Mrs. R. Q. Pierce, assistant directors, and Mrs. S. J. McFarland, superintendent of textiles; Mrs. J. S. Johnson, superintendent of culinary; Mrs. W. O. Stevens, superintendent of plants and cut flowers; Miss Delia Wilkinson, superintendent of art, and Mrs. W. F. Schenck, superintendent of relics, antiques and curios.

Commercial exhibits in the industrial building where retail and wholesale firms have their exhibits and in the machinery shed will be of the most attractive type this year.

Six free act programs will be performed twice daily. Each night a mammoth firework program will be given free. Each afternoon a free football game will be staged. The Cotton Belt Shows, one of the leading carnival companies in Texas with nine rides and a number of good shows, will be here for the fair. A number of the leading bands over the South Plains will be engaged to play at the fair on various days. Each day some good band will be here to give concerts over the grounds.

Grid Games Plentiful

The football games will be played by the following high school teams: Lorenzo vs. Lubbock second team; Brownfield vs. Ralls; Crosbyton vs. Levelland; Tahoka vs. Littlefield; Post vs. O'Donnell and Slaton vs. Plainview.

As a special feature of the fair program, Sherman Inman of Tahoka, here on the South Plains of Texas, will show a trained horse through a bunch of tricks and stunts that the horse has been trained to do by the South Plains boy. Reports from Tahoka indicate that the trained pony will rival the best of circus horses in this performance.

Booster and good will trips are being made by Lubbock citizens to every town on the South Plains in order to advertise the fair and to invite them to come here to see the exposition. Officials expect the 120,197 attendance figure of last year to be shattered before the fair gets near the finish this year.

STUDENTS TO MEET

CANYON, Sept. 12.—The West Texas State Teachers college will maintain a meeting place for ex-students and friends of the college during the entire time that the Amarillo Tri-State Fair is going on. This announcement was made by President J. A. Hill today to Wilbur C. Hawk, manager of the Fair.

Waggoner Awaiting U. S. Prosecution

NEW CASTLE, Wyo., Sept. 12.—Seemingly unconcerned as to his future, C. D. Waggoner, president of the small bank of Telluride, Colo., awaited quietly in his cell here today the next action of federal authorities who charge him with a half million dollar fraudulent financial coup.

Unconcerned by the furore caused by his manipulations which placed to his credit $500,000 belonging to six New York banks through receipt of faked telegraphic orders, Waggoner told of his financial dealings.

Dairy Herd Placed On Exposition Site

Preparing for exhibits at the Tri-State exposition at Amarillo and the Panhandle South Plains fair in this city, County Agent D. F. Eaton has assembled a dairy herd of 15 at the livestock building on the fair grounds east of this city.

Those who have stock in the herd are Fred Fite, Shallowater; W. H. Blackmon & Sons, Hardy; J. W. Duncan, Hardy; W. E. Spencer, Lubbock; T. C. Cauley, Shallowater and J. B. Meador, Acuff.

The stock will be fed here to be put in condition for the fair at Amarillo September 23-28 and will be shown here later at the Panhandle South Plains fair.

FUR FLIES IN MURDER TRIAL

LAWYERS WRANGLE AS MRS. PANTAGES IS FACING COURT

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12— Four persons, two of them described as able to give surprise testimony, today remained on the list of prosecution witnesses in the trial of Mrs. Alexander Pantages on charges of second degree murder growing out of the death of Juro Rokumoto after an accident involving Mrs. Pantages' car.

A verbal clash among the attorneys which required intervention of Superior Judge Carlos Hardy, enlivened proceedings yesterday.

Attorney W. I. Gilbert, for the defense, protested the prosecution was not acting in good faith in placing police officers and other persons on the stand to testify that Mrs. Pantages was intoxicated at the time her limousine crashed into a small car driven by Rokumoto. Gilbert jumped to his feet after four policemen and two eyewitnesses had testified as to Mrs. Pantages' condition and shouted:

"If the state is acting in good faith why don't they bring in physicians and surgeons who treated her to testify concerning her condition?"

Makes Flat Statement

When Gilbert's remarks were termed as an "insinuation" by prosecution council the attorney declared: "It is not an insinuation. I make the bold statement—I do not believe you intend to bring in any physician or surgeon who can testify she was drunk."

Prosecution attorneys then indicated they later would call expert witnesses to testify as to Mrs. Pantages' condition.

The testimony which resulted in the exchanges started when Mrs. Dorothy S. Clarke testified Mrs. Pantages' eyes "were droopy, half closed and rather glassy" immediately after the accident and that in her opinion the woman was intoxicated.

Police Officer Thomas M. Malone testified Mrs. Pantages "knocked my hat off twice while I was trying to place her in an ambulance. I would say she was drunk."

Fireworks At Fair Will Be A Feature

One of the largest open-air fireworks attractions ever brought to this state, "The Festival of Fire," will headline each evening's entertainment program at the Panhandle South Plains fair this year, according to contracts which have been closed by fair officials.

According to the outline given out today by Byron C. Dickinson, president of the fair, "The Festival of Fire" will present every type of feature now embraced in the world of modern fireworks. Quadruple repeating rockets, battle shells, set pieces of dazzling beauty and color, wierd aerial bombs that shriek and howl as they zig-zag across the sky—these and scores of other entirely new types of pyrotechnics will be mingled in profusion with historical features.

The earliest attempt to construct a two-wheel vehicle which would run under its own power—the birth of the modern motorcycle—was made by W. W. Austin, of Winthrop, Mass., in 1888.

"PINK OYSTER" GIVEN CLEAN BILL

Chemists Declare Food Is As Wholesome As Those Of Normal Color; "Bilirubin' Causes It All

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 12 (AP)—The "pink oyster", after undergoing ten years of investigation, today received a clean bill of health from the state.

It's as wholesome as those of normal color, chemists of the Department of Agriculture reported.

Dealers said the department were afraid of the pink bivalves, usually throwing them away or destroying the whole consignment, so the chemists investigated the private life of the oyster, to determine just whiy it changed color.

Some persons attributed the permanent blush to the presence of yeasts. The chemists studied sixteen samples, and said "No." Then it was suggested the pink might be due to red plants which the oysters had consumed. Again chemists set to work, and again their answer was "No."

The went to work then on the oyster's liver. They isolated crystals of coloring substance by the aid of solvents.

"Bilirubin!" they cried triumphantly.

TARIFF TAKES SENATE STAGE

VARE SEATING IS PUT OFF TO SPEED WAY TO DECISION

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—With consideration of the three-year old question of seating William S. Vare as senator from Pennsylvania postponed until December, the tariff bill today held undisputed right of way in the senate.

By a vote of 41 to 34, the Vare case was deferred until congress meets in regular session, so no time would be lost in getting into the tariff battle.

Provisions to Be Debated

Administrative provision of the bill drawn up by the finance committee majority were open to debate under an agreement which placed these ahead of the sections dealing specifically with rate schedules. They were made the initial order of business under a motion of Senator Simmons, ranking minority member of the finance committee, approved yesterday.

Several highly controversial clauses of the tariff bill were up for consideration at the very start, including the flexible provisions, the tariff commission and the proposed substitution of domestic for foreign values in assessing ad valorem duties. To speed up debate, it was agreed initial reading would be dispensed with.

Save $2 to $15 per Tire

ALL tires look good . . . when they're new. And they are good. But the big question that concerns the buyer is—"How Good?"

To that question . . . names, claims, differences in price, do not offer the final answer

So far as we know, there is only one thing that does answer the question: a definite, specific GUARANTEE of the minimum mileage your tire will deliver. . . .

That is the basis—and the ONLY basis—on which automobile tires are sold by Montgomery Ward & Co.

The names RIVERSIDE and WARDWEAR are as good as any other tire names. But we do not advance names as the reason why you should buy from Ward's. Our tires are built by nationally-known manufacturers—of the finest materials and by the most modern methods . . . yet that is not the chief reason why millions of motorists are today riding on RIVERSIDES. We also claim that these tires represent more value per dollar than any other tires built . . . yet similar claims are offered on behalf of other brands.

None of these things decides the question of QUALITY . . . So—we offer you Ward's three guarantees . . . 30,000 miles unconditionally on the Super Service RIVERSIDE; 16,000 miles on the First-Quality RIVERSIDE; 10,000 miles on the WARDWEAR . . . as instant indicators of the tire quality you can count on when you buy from Ward's.

TWO WORKOUTS ON SCHEDULE FOR MATADOR ELEVEN TODAY

FAST RUNNING ATTACK SHOWN BY HIGH CLUB

LOCAL TEAMS BUCKLE DOWN TO STIFF GRID WORK

The Matadors of Tech donned their moleskins this morning with the prospect of having two lengthy workouts today and going forward with the offensive training started Wednesday afternoon.

Rain throughout the morning Wednesday kept the Tech gridders indoors and as a result a spirited crew of candidates took the field in the afternoon to go through a strenuous grass drill and take their first signals.

Coaches Higginbotham and Payne gave the Matadors their first formations of the camp and drill was begun on the style of attack that will be used against the Wayland College Jackrabbits here on Sept. 28. The first backfield that stepped through the signal practice was composed of Brothers and Crites at halves; Cappleman at quarter and Hodges at fullback.

Late arrivals Wednesday swelled the number in camp to more than forty. Several of these, however, are new recruits, who are being allowed to work with the varsity candidates.

Two score of ambitious Matadors rose this morning with every muscle aching with soreness. Two days of grass drill and running on the field were enough to exercise all muscles that had gone idle for almost a a year. Several more days of training is figured to rid the candidates of all soreness and put the squad in shape for actual football combat.

With the prospect of Ransome Walker, Tech's foremost ground gainer, out of the picture for at least another ten days, Coach Higginbotham has started whipping together a corps of backs to send against the Jackrabbits and Sul Ross Loboes. A wealth of backfield material is on hand around which a varied attack may be framed. Plenty of speed and drive can be found in the following: Hodges, Wooldridge, Hill and Bergfelt at fullback; Brothers, Crites, Chenoweth, Alexander, Dallas and High at halfback; Waller, Cappleman and Williams at quarter.

A bitter fight looms for the Matador forward wall position, which promises to be made up of big, powerful huskies from end to end. Four experienced pivot men are out for the center post. These are Durham, Swift, Stanhiser and Jones. The veteran Chubby Dewitt will likely have a capable running mate at the other guard post with a host of heavy hopefuls in line for a position in the center of the line.

Coach Payne will undoubtedly be well fortified on both flanks of the line with such men as Sides, Simmons, Coppage, Ray Waller and Edmonds on hand for the tackle jobs. Three letter men are back for the wing positions in addition to a number of squad prospects. Vinsant, Payne, Tadlock and Whiteside have filled the extreme posts for Matadors of old and will likely make a determined fight for the first eleven this year. Strickel, Taylor and Roberts also show promise.

EARLY COACHING IS EASILY APPARANT

A powerful running attack, led by effective interference came to the surface at Merrill Park Wednesday afternoon in the form of the Lubbock High school Westerners of 1929.

The results of almost a month of careful coaching was clearly in evidence yesterday as the high school gridders continued their scrimmage practice. With each member of the squad performing his duty in unison, the plays were run off with lightning speed and power.

Camera Is Broken

Cut short by another seige of picture making, the Westerners failed to get in their usual three hours of training. Other members of the squad had their wrath appeased by the photographer after the occurance Monday in which "Moon" Leaverton is alleged to have broken the camera.

Leaverton appeared on the field Wednesday under a rapid-fire assault of tongue lashing by his mates. Several more hours of work on the camera will be necessary after poses yesterday by Greer, Frizzell and "Cherry" Foster.

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Greatly underweight and showing the strain of an extended period of illness, "Handsome Ransome" Walker made his appearance on the Tech athletic field Wednesday and watched his mates go through their paces under the direction of Coaches Higginbotham and Payne. The outstanding cog in the Matador grid machine for the past three years, Walker has returned for his last year of college football, but will be forced to remain out of training for at least another 10 days until he can regain strength lost during a severe attack of fever.

WALKER

The Tech backfield ace will thus be kept out of the first game of the season here on the 28th with the Wayland College Jackrabbits and possibly the second tilt with Sul Ross, Oct. 5. Loss of Walker would be a severe jolt to the hopes of the Matador eleven. Considered one of the outstanding ball carriers in the Southwest, Percy was headed for the greatest season of his college career, and will be forced to step fast to catch up with the remainder of the squad when he starts training.

At O'Donnell Saturday a flock of candidates for the Lubbock Westerner eleven will get their first test of the season under the scrutinizing gaze of Coaches Frnka and Morgan. Practically every candidate for that uncertain high school line will be shoved into the fray in order that Coach Frnka may size up the prospects for the gaping holes that loom in the 1929 forward wall. The showing of the gridders in this practice affair with the Lynn county Class B eleven will carry considerable weight in the final selection of the first string linesmen for the coming season.

With both guard positions and at least one of the tackles yet to be filled the fight for these posts promises plenty of fun before the first conference game is played. Big Greer Frizzell is practically assured of holding his post at left tackle, but a capable defender of the left flank has yet to prove his superiority over the remainder of the candidates. A stiff fight looms for the pivot position with three capable candidates working daily. Joe Leaverton appears to hold the inside track at the present time with Fred Kerr giving him a close battle. John Crawford is the other candidate for center and shows promise of making a valuable pivot man. The battle for the wing positions continues to wage fiercely, with Bob Rich and Yancey Price standing out as the most capable pair of ends Lubbock High has had in many moons. Despite the showing of Rich and Price, Will Ed Watson and R. E. Hardberger stand excellent chances of making the club as reserves.

Indications are that the Westerner backfield will be made up of returned letter men from last season. Watkins and Teal at halves; Lawson at full and Smith at quarterback seems to be just about the best combination Coach Morgan will be able to find. All have the advantage of previous experience and show worlds of improvement over their performance during the 1928 season. Martin, Britton and Green stand out as the most promising ball toters from the ranks of the recruits. Green displayed football ability of real merit during spring training, while the other two joined the squad since the opening of fall training.

Although the Westerners must play their two hardest games away from home, their schedule for the coming grid campaign has been wisely laid out. Games with Class B teams are sandwiched in between the first three conference tilts. Following the first conference contest with the Quanah Indians, the locals meet Slaton, according to the original schedule issued. Then comes Electra and after the battle with the Tigers, the Westerners tie up with Olton. This game with Coach Carter's boys should give the Lubbock gridsters just enough action to put them on edge for the all-important clash with the Amarillo Sandies on Nov. 2.

Anticipating a bitter battle with the Sandstorm brigade, Coach Frnka has so arranged the program that the Westerners will have two weeks' rest before the fight for district honors is resumed here Nov. 16 with the Wichita Falls Coyotes. A practice game with some near-by club may be matched, but this is improbable, since the rest is figured to be the most valuable thing at that stage of the season.

Buffs Buy Rookie From Mid-Atlantic

HOUSTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Fred Ankenman, president of the Houston Buffs, today announced the purchase of Frank Crompton, outfielder, from the Scottdale club of the Mid-Atlantic League. The Buffs paid $2,000 cash.

SOUTHWEST GRID FANS OPEN HUNT FOR HERO

RANKS OF NEW STARS LOOKED AT CAREFULLY

SUCCESSOR TO FORMER IDOLS MAY BE YOUNG IN GRID WARS

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Sept. 12.—Not in recent years has the Southwest conference football training season opened with fame beckoning so alluringly to some young, unheralded flash who can stand the circuit on its ears.

Almost always there has been on one of the seven squads one fellow who was marked before the season opened, who gained almost as much personal publicity as the remainder of his team.

It Used To Be Hume

Last year it was Redman Hume, the brilliant Southern Methodist university halfback. A cracked ankle put him out early in the conference race and, possibly, prevented his living up to the dreams of publicity that had been his. Before that the scribes centered their portables on Jerry Man, the Mustangs' "Little Red Arrow," and on Joel Hunt, Aggieland's premier quarterback. Before that there was Big Oscar Eckhardt, the Longhorns' great running back.

But the pedestal is unoccupied this year. There are some fine ball players among the 350-odd candidates who reported to conference coaches Tuesday, but there is not one whose play was so outstanding last season as to make the mentors of six rival schools stay awake these nights figuring out how to stop him. The season may produce one; probably will.

Sophomores Shine

If the Mustangs are to produce another outstanding star like Hume he probably will come from the sophomore ranks. Those who have watched the Pony squad work out for two days are predicting that Bruce Kattman, a shifty halfback from Houston, will follow in the footsteps of Mann and Hume. He can punt, pass and run equally well.

Baylor has two candidates for the spotlight in Jake Wilson and Virgil Gilliland. Both proved themselves backfield stars of the first water before the 1928 season expired. Gilliland's serpentines dashe across the goal line were highlights of several week ends, while Wilson's punting and generalship were not eclipsed in the confrence.

Shelley Draws Comment

Dexter Shelley, the Longhorns' darting ground gainer, will be one of the most feared men in the conference. He is a terror in an open field and many observers predict he will be the loop's leading scorer this fall. Pap Perkins and Nona Rees, another pair of Steer backs, also are candidates for the "all" berth.

Tom Mills, quarterback and captain-elect, may take the place of Joel Hunt, the departed "mighty atom," at Texas A. and M. Mills was a star last year and is due to be better this season. G. H. Zarafonetis, the Aggies' chunky fullback, has the ability to reach the heights, many believe.

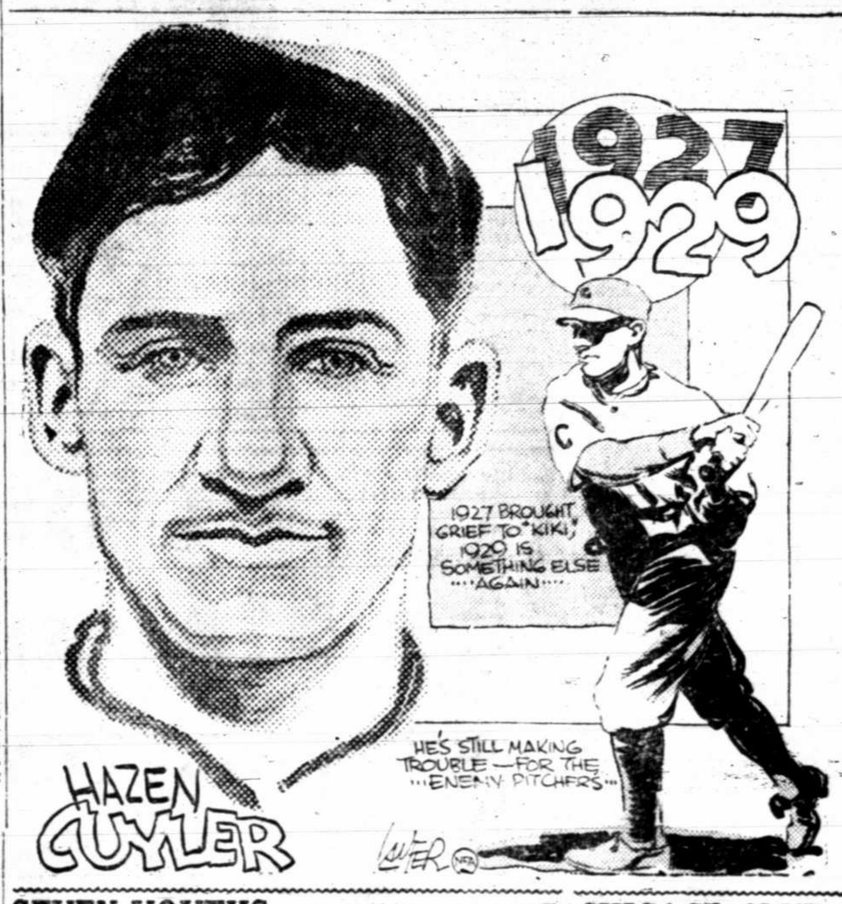

Texas Soldier Wins Marksmanship Meet

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Sept. 12 (AP)—Sergeant J. B. Jensen, U. S. cavalry, Fort Bliss, Texas, today defeated 1,637 crack marksmen of the United States to win the National Individual Rifle championship match.

Sergeant Jensen was one of three men who shot a score of 281 out of a possible 300, but Jensen sent most bullets into the inner circle of the bulls eye.

Second and third places went to Sergeant F. Paugh, 114th infantry, National Guard of Sommerville, N. J., and Captain J. Leinhard, U. S. Marine Corps, Quantico, Va., respectively. Both men had 281.

At Last Luck Turns To Kiki Cuyler

HE'LL NOT BE ON THE BENCH DURING THIS WORLD SERIES

By WERNER LAUFLER
NEA Service Sports Writer

Two years ago the Pittsburgh Pirates were desperately engaged with the then powerful New York Yankees in the world series.

On the Pirate bench sat a star outfielder, a natural .350 hitter, one of the best base-runners in either league. He ate his heart out while his teammates were going down under the heavy guns of the Yanks in four straight games.

From the stands and bleachers came the cry of the fans, "Give us Cuyler!" and "We want Kiki!"

Donie Bush heard but was obdurate. Cuyler sat through that world series on the bench. Cuyler's own sensitive, high-strung nature had brought about a breach between his manager and teammates that made him an outcast. They needed him but chose to go down to defeat without him. Even when a substitute runner was needed, Cuyler, ace of the paths, was not given a chance. He sat in silence. Cuyler never was a squaker.

His Opportunity

But Kiki Cuyler's luck was changed. When, and if, the Cubs and Macks square away for the world championship this fall, Hazen Cuyler will have his long deferred chance. He has at last found the surroundings in which to fulfill the earlier promises of his becoming one of baseball's great men.

Before he came to the Cubs, Cuyler's career had been threatened with disappointment. When Pittsburgh brought him up in 1923, he was proclaimed as great a youngster as ever had broken into the league. He had the physical and mental requirements to become another Cobb. He was a natural ball player—one whom the other players envied—a ball player's ball player.

His record in the majors is far from bad. A life-time batting mark of .327 is something many a successful player would give his second largest diamond stick pin to possess. But in Cuyler's case it is a disappointment. Every player and manager in the old league will tell you .350 is more like his gait.

Injuries Play Part

Injuries have played a part in keeping Cuyler from the dizzy heights of stardom. Several times in his past, just when he had struck his stride, he was laid up by a chance-taking slide or a collision with a wall in pursuing a drive from the enemy's bat.

In 1927, his last year with the Pirates, Cuyler started the season with a rush. He batted viciously, and ran bases at a furious pace. But bad luck stepped in and benched Cuyler with an injured leg. When he came back to the lineup in a somewhat weakened condition naturally Donie Bush, the Buccaneer pilot, had someone else in Cuyler's old batting position.

Kiki was inserted farther down in the batting order until he could regain his full strength. Cuyler couldn't understand this. His ambitious spirit resented it. They say he sulked. But it is more probable that it was his sensitiveness that brought about his unhappy standing with the Pirates. Cuyler is not the sulking type.

Ask Joe McCarthy, manager of the Cubs, about Kiki.

"There was never a more valuable team player in baseball," is the way McCarthy sizes him up. "A trouble maker? He gives the pitchers in this league all the trouble they want. We'd like to have a lot more trouble makers like Cuyler."

This has been one of Cuyler's most successful seasons in the big leagues. The world series will come as a fitting climax to his work of this year.

He is batting over the .350 mark and leads the league with 33 stolen bases. Evar Swanson, highly touted speed merchant of the Reds, of whose base stealing you have been reading all summer, has 27. Cuyler's work in the field has kept pace with his offensive offerings. He has one of the best throwing arms in baseball and he knows how to use it.

SPUDDERS AND SPORTS CLING TO TOP RUNGS

SECOND HALF PENNANT LOOKS CERTAIN FOR WICHITA FALLS

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Although they marked up their seventh consecutive victory at the expense of Waco, 7 to 6, the Sports yesterday saw the Texas League flag slip a little further from their grasp. If Phelan's nine had timed its drive a little sooner there might have been a different story to tell.

The Spudders, fully recovered from last week's slump that saw them drop three out of four to Waco, rang up their fifth straight by tripping the Buffs, 9 to 4 in their series opener. Their two and one-half game lead was intact today, with only four days to go. They need only two more triumphs to clinch the second half, even if the Sports breeze through their remaining contests.

Red Bennett Homers

A homer by Red Bennett with two on featured a five-run Spudder rally in the third that drove Joe Brown to cover and sewed up the decision. Gullic, the leader's new slugger from Tulsa, also rapped one over the fence. White allowed the Buffs 13 blows, but he held the Dixie champs scoreless until the last two frames.

Leo Casey's circuit smash in the ninth with one on broke up a mound duel between Jim Chaplin and Sarge Connally at Dallas and gave San Antonio a 5 to 3 win in their opener. Every so often the Tribe does win one.

Larry Cox slammed a homer with two aboard at LaGrave Field, but the Panthers dropped their inaugural with Beaumont's Exporters, 6 to 5. Cox's blow off Vaughn tied the count in the fifth. The Shippers got to Meadows for the winning run in the seventh.

SEVEN YOUTHS IN NET FIGHT

BUT BIG BILL TILDEN IS CHIEF CONTENDER FOR COURT LAURELS

(By Associated Press)

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 12—If Big Bill Tilden's drive for his seventh national tennis singles championship is to be stopped, the stopping will have to be done by one of seven players.

In addition to Big Bill himself the quarter-final round bracket today composed Johnny Van Ryn, of East Orange, N. J., No. 6 in the national ranking list; Johnny Doeg, of Santa Monica, Calif., rated No. 8; Henry Austin, of England, lone surviving foreign contender; Wilmer Allison, ranked No. 5, Texan who put George Lott out of the running; Fritz Mercur, Bethlehem, Pa., No. 7; Frank Hunter, Tilden's old friend and comrade, No. 2 and Richard N. Williams of Philadelphia, champion 12 years ago.

Van Ryn, bracketed with Tilden in the quarter-finals today, defeated hi mlast winner in an indoor match, but on the basis of his recent play in singles has only an outside chance to defeat the Old Master.

SOBRIETY SURPRISING

HAVANA (AP)—Sobriety among Cubans, in the face of cheap and plentiful alcoholic drinks, surprises visitors here but is explained by the Cuban sweet tooth. Demi-tasse coffee always takes three spoonsful of sugar and other drinks are in proportion. The large consumption of sweets is said to supply the system with the required alcohol.

WELL-EQUIPPED

PARIS (AP)—French police are to be equipped with steel skull caps to be worn under the regulation kepi in riots, as protection against stones and bottles. In recent riots several police received fatal head wounds.

CHICAGO CLUB PLANS SERIES

CUB OFFICES CLOSED TO PUBLIC AS SALE OF DUCATS OPENS

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—One of the busiest club offices of organized baseball locked the door from the inside today, it was so busy. The Chicago Cubs were getting ready for the world's series.

Telephones were dead, so far as series conversation was concerned. The mail man was the only intermediary between the Cubs and their ticket-eager public. The only things that talked were certified and cashier's checks and money orders. Even the green and golden currency of the republic was being turned down.

Club Protects Fans

Those who hope to see one or more of the Chicago games were, in a way, "put on the spot" by the ball club, but it was for the fans' own good. The club had figured out what seemed to it to be the fairest method of distribution.

"As long as six or eight persons can not sit in one seat at the same time, we had to find the best possible alternative," explained President William Veeck.

This is how it is to be done:

Prices for the Wrigley field games will be $6.60 for boxes, $5.50 for grandstand, $3 grandstand standing room and $1 for bleachers, taxes included.

Sell Tickets in Series

Tickets will be sold in series of three for the first, second and sixth game. Should the third Chicago game be unnecessary, the price paid for that ticket will be refunded after the series is over. The only single game admissions to be sold will go on sale the days of the game.

Precautions against ticket scalping have been taken by a ruling which provides that not more than two tickets shall be sold to one purchaser. With each application for tickets also the applicant must sign his name to the following:

"I agree that any world series ticket resold by me shall be absolutely void and that the Chicago National league club shall refuse admission and shall take up and cancel the ticket."

Stoner And Cox In Sale To Pittsburgh

FORT WORTH, Sept. 12 (AP)—Sale of Lil Stoner and Larmon Cox to Pittsburgh was announced today by Ted Robinson, president of the Fort Worth Baseball club. Both were cash considerations. They will report to the Pirates next spring.

FLIER IS UNHURT

AUSTIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—Cadet F. H. Griswold of Kelly field was uninjured when he made an emergency landing in a plowed field near here, Wednesday night. The propellor of his plane was broken. He made his landing by the light of flares dropped from the plane.

CUBS AND ATHLETICS MOVE AHEAD AS GIANTS COP TWIN BILL FROM PIRATE CREW; RED LUCAS WINS 18TH BATTLE

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Another day of campaigning along the Major league fronts resulted all to the favor of the front runners in need of only four victories to clinch its championship.

In the American League, the Athletics clipped the White Sox 7 to 4, and the Browns whitewashed the Yankees 5 to 0. The National league battling saw the Cubs come home in front of the Phillies 5 to 2, and the Giants defeating the Pirates 2 to 1 and 10 to 5.

McGraw Opens Drive

Of even more interest than the progress of the leaders was the opening of John McGraw's hand-to-hand fight with the Dreyfus Dragoons for possession of second place, which McGraw usually has occupied when he has failed to win the pennant. The charge had gone up in the west that this Giant team was lifeless.

Red Lucas registered his 18th victory as the Reds shaded the Robins 4 to 2 at Cincinnati. Buck Neymoe, a rookie, pitched the first seven innings in a creditable if losing Major league debut. The Cardinal whaled the Braves twice 11 to 4 and 7 to 1.

Grove Opposes Lyons

Mose Grove attempted his twenty-first victory as the White Sox opened their final series in Philadelphia, and drew Ted Lyons for an opponent. A pitchers' battle was in prospect, and one developed, but not until Messrs. Grove and Lyons had been led away mumbling incoherently to themselves.

The White Sox showed little enough respect for Grove to score four runs on five hits in the first round, and the Macks returned the compliment to Mr. Lyons and Mr. McKain in the home half of the same session in the form of seven hits and seven runs. With that accomplished, Bill Shores and McKain went through the next eight rounds without allowing a run.

Boston rallied to shade Detroit 8 to 7 in ten innings, scoring six of its runs in the last three rounds. Washington stopped the Indians, 5 to 2.

LUBBOCK REAL ESTATE
Is just as fine an investment as it was ten years ago, and you know how fine that was. Those two encumbered lots we have to trade for unencumbered land at $20,000 carry a great opportunity. Ten years from now they will be worth $50,000 and you will hear somebody say, Yes sir, I remember when those lots sold for $20,000. How often we hear expressions like that.
Those two lots in Highland for $650 are also wonderful little bargains. They are worth not less than $900.

STOCKS START STRONGER DAY

IMPRESSIVE OPENING OF NEW YORK CURB IS NOTED

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP).—The stock market opened today with an impressive demonstration of strength. Several blocks of 5,000 to 18,000 shares changed hands in early trading. Westinghouse electric opened nearly 3 points higher. U. S. Steel comman 2 1-4 and Radio, United Corporation, National Cash register, North American, Pennsylvania and Bethlehem Steel showed early gains of a point or more. Standard Oil of New Jersey, which led the late upturn yesterday, opened fractionally lower but Standard Oil of New York opened with a block of 18,000 shares at 47, up 5-8 and duplicating the year's high.

Lowering of the call money rate to 7 per cent yesterday, coupled with the fact that the Bank of England again made no change in its 5 1-2 per cent discount rate had a bullish effect on speculative sentiment.

Gasoline Cut Hurts

Establishment of a new high record by freight car loadings in the week ending Aug. 31, brought fresh buying into railroad shares, but early gains were held to a point or so. Oils were again under heavy accumulation, recent gasoline price cuts along the Atlantic seaboard apparently being offset by a drop in crude oil production last week. Standard Oil of New York crassed 48 to a new 1929 high. Sun oil moved up 3 points and Pan American B, Standard Oil of California, Texas corporation and a few others advanced a point or more.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with cables unchanged at $4.84 23-32.

COTTON OPENS STRONG TODAY

FAVORABLE CABLES IN NEW ORLEANS SHOW SLIGHT INCREASE

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—Favorable cables were reflected in an opening gain of 1 to 5 points in the cotton market here. As New York opened rather firmer the market rallied, October trading up to 18.55, December 18.86, and January 18.92, or 7 to 9 points down from the highs. Towards the end of the first hour the market was steadier and had recovered 7 to 8 points of the loss.

NEW YORK OPENS AT SLIGHT ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 2 to 8 points with active months showing net gains of 4 to 12 points during early trading on covering, combined with some local buying promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables. December sold up to 19.02 and March to 19.21 but demand was supplied at these figures, and prices later reacted under southern hedging and renewal of liquidation. By the end of the first half hour, December was off to 18.86 and March to 19.08, or 4 to 6 points net lower.

Early declines seemed to bring in more trade buying while offerings tapered off and prices rallied later on covering. December sold up to 19.08 and March to 19.26, with the general list showing net advances of about 13 to 16 points at midday.

TARIFF FIGHT

Hoover's request for increases on industrial products only when there has been a slackening of employment due to imports. In many cases increases have been granted to industries which have been very prosperous under the presnt tariff act.

"It is full of inconsistencies and unfair dischiminations.

"It increases rates on many articles even though the imports under the present tariff act have been negligible.

Encourages Inefficiency

"It entourages inefficiency by many of its increases in rates.

"Its excessive increases on many articles imperil our trade with European countries.

"By its liberalization of the flexible provisions, enlarging the powers and discretion of the President the latitude allowed the President in the imposition of additional duties is dangerously expanded."

Declaring the amendments to the present law made by the House and those proposed by the finance committee majority were not fixed upon a basis of the difference in cost of production here and abroad, but were determined "largely in response to the appeals and demands of the beneficiaries of the high and excessive rates" proposed, the North Carolina Senator challenged the contention of the majority that the cost of production measuring rod was no longer practicable of application.

Other than Mr. Collier, members of the committee soliciting automobiles for the motorcade are Alfred Crosby, D. Jarrett, B. F. Hodges, O. E. Brashear and J. R. Dickey.

With only a few automobiles signed early this afternoon, Mr. Collier issued a plea for cooperation on the part of car owners who will be able to make the trip. "If the auto owner is unable to make the trip, he could do a great favor by affording transportation to employes of his store or to a group of his friends," said Mr. Collier.

Those who can furnish automobiles are requested to notify the Chamber of Commerce offices this afternoon, or report at the city hall tomorrow morning at 6:45 o'clock.

NAVAL AGREEMENT

POSITION OF U. S. TO UNDERGO REVISION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—(AP) — A revision of the American position on disarmament facilitating an agreement with Great Britain and bringing such an accord very near is believed to have resulted from a protracted series of conferences between President Hoover, Secretary Stimson, Secretary Adams and the General Board of the Navy.

Information from an authoritative source was that Ambassador Dawes had been kept advised of the trend of the discussion, which yesterday filled most of the day and evening. In addition, it was confidently expected that in the near future, perhaps within the next twenty-four hours, new instructions would go to Mr. Dawes for presentation to Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald.

To Please England

Inlications were the President's conferences had to do with a readjustment of the 15-cruiser construction program effecting a re distribution of tonnage, gun-power and other elements, to conform with the wishes of the London government.

The impression has prevailed in naval and diplomatic circles in Washington that a rebalancing of the cruiser program might be effective in bringing closer the positions of the United States and Great Britian on the naval question.

Study Has Been Complete

During the past week the American naval experts have been engaged in a study of a possible shifting of the various elements which enter into a naval program such as is contemplated under the 15-cruiser law. Naval circles have pointed out that factors in this program in addition to tonnage involve speed, armor, gun-power and other technical and intricate phases. Certain schools of thought are known to exist in the navy and also in diplomatic circles in Washington that believe a shifting of one or more of these elements, or basis factors, might well pave the way for the basis of a naval understanding between the United States and Great Britain.

HAM APPEALS TO AUDIENCE

PERSONAL WORK NEED OF CHRISTIANITY, REVIVALIST SAYS

In an appeal for personal services in Christian work, Rev. M. F. Ham talked this morning on "Healing the Paralytic" at the union evangelistic meeting in the tabernacle at 16th street and Texas avenue.

The evangelist emphasized two points in his sermon this morning, saying that the secret of the healing of the paralytics was in the faith of the four workers, particularly, rather than in the faith of the afflicted men.

One hundred and fifty men declared their acceptance of Jesus Christ as their saviour and pledged to line up with churches of this city following the evangelist's sermon last night on "God's Last Call," the same message he delivered to women Monday night.

Postal Men There

Post office employes and letter carriers attended in a delegation, and there were large representations from trades and crafts of the city.

Tonight's services will honor Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions clubs of the city and telephone girls, wholesale and retail grocer employes, department store employes and B. Y. P. U. The subject will be "Why Men Go to Hell."

Heaven" Tomorrow

Friday morning's subject will be "Heaven" and tomorrow evening's subject will be "Why Men Do Not Come to Christ." The city administration, automobile men, garage and filling station employes are to be honored at tomorrow evening's services.

Saturday morning the evangelist will speak on the subject of "Resurrection" and will speak on the courthouse lawn at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon on "The Second Coming of Christ."

"Lessons for this Age Drawn from the Sinking of the Titanic" will be Sunday afternoon's subject, and "The Great Salvation" will be the subject of the closing sermon Sunday night.

Grandjury Recesses After Busy Session

After returning 34 indictments, the grand jury of the 99th District court has adjourned until the early part of October, Judge Clark M. Mullican announced Wednesday evening.

Four of those charged in the indictments have been arrested and are in jail. They are: Jake Hill, charged with violation of the prohibition law; E. C. Townsend, charged on two counts, theft and burglary; G. T. James, now in prison at Ardmore, Okla., charged with swindling; Sam Taylor, negro, charged with violation of prohibition law.

ROGERS TRIAL

As Mrs. Rogers' trial for holding up the Buda Farmers National bank was resumed today, the prosecution was mulling over ways and means to compensate the somewhat sensational reversal it had suffered in the testimony of F. A. Jamison, cashier of the bank and one of the chief state witnesses.

Defense Is Bolstered

Jamison swore his observations of Mrs. Rogers in two prior trials, along with the nonchalont boldness of her "job", had convinced him she had no realization of the seriousness of her offense. The declaration had the effect of bolstering the defense contention the former Texas university co-ed was mentally irresponsible.

Sheriff George Allen of Hays county, in which Buda is situated, told a two-hour story of Mrs. Rogers' asserted confession, her first decision to plead guilty, ask leniency and a parole and her explanation of how she mailed the proceeds of the robbery to herself by a devious route, hoping to have disposed of the money before her possible arrest.

Played Newspaperwoman

Former State Representative L. L. Carter's testimony largely was supplemental of Jamison's who also described to the jury Mrs. Rogers' impression of a newspaperwoman to gain his confidence, her holdup of him and another employe and her solicitude for them after she had shut them in the bank vault.

The 24-year-old defendant's acceptance of employment in San Angelo that she might nurse her tubercular husband, young Otis Rogers, back to health also was described.

Leo Brewster, of defense counsel, said that if the state rested its case today, transcript testimony by Dr. K. P. Barton, Austin preacher, would be offered first in behalf of the former University of Texas co-ed.

Dr. Barton, pastor of an Austin Methodist church, knew the defendant when she was a student at the State university there and later when she accepted employment as a stenographer in the Texas attorney general's office while Governor Dan Moody was in charge.

Non-expert witnesses who will detail in a chronological order a story of Mrs. Rogers' life from the time she was 12 years old will be introduced after the pastor's testimony, Brewster announced. The early part of the defendant's life will be told by Mrs. Fannie Coffey, former district clerk of Tarrant county and a long-time friend of the Bradley family, the attorney said.

Amarillo Groceryman Now Gives His Endorsement

Says His Wife Had Suffered For Twelve Long Years —Troubles Overcome By Orgatone

Edwin Morley, well known groceryman, whose store is located at 1408 East Third Street, Amarillo, Texas, and who resides with his family at 302 Mirror Street, is enthusiastic in his praise of Orgatone, the medicine that is accomplishing such remarkable results throughout the South and West.

Mr. Morley, in conversation with the Orgatone representative a few days ago, said:

"I'm convinced from the great benefits my wife has obtained from the use of Orgatone that it is without an equal. Mrs. Morley suffered for twelve long years, and found nothing in all that time that would give her any permanent relief. In fact, her condition kept getting worse until she begun taking Orgatone. She couldn't digest anything she would eat and the gas forming on her stomach caused her to have sick dizzy headaches, and fainting spells. She suffered about all the pain and distress indigestion can cause and was so nervous she could sleep but little. Her kidneys bothered her a great deal and she had severe pains in the small of her back and was so tired and worn out from one day's end to the other she did not feel like doing her own housework.

"She had almost lost faith in all medicine, as she had tried so many and got no relief. But after reading and hearing so many good things about Orgatone, she asked me to get it. She started taking it several weeks ago and she has had the most gratifying results. Mrs. Morley can now eat and enjoy her food for the first time in many a day, and she has no gas on her stomach or dizzy headaches. She is not nervous now, and her sleep is sound and refreshing and she is like a different woman. We'll take pleasure in telling anyone what we know by actual experience about Orgatone."

A PARAMOUNT COMEDY

HOOVER NOMINATES TWINS FOR WEST POINT; WHICH IS RAY AND WHICH IS ROY WILL BE PUZZLE FOR OFFICERS

READING Pa Sept 12—Ray and Roy Anderson 17-year-old twins of Womelsdorf, near here, wore the same kind of tiny frocks when they were babies. Ray's play-suit was exactly like Roy's on the day, in 1918, that word came to Womelsdorf that their father had been killed in an Allied raid on the German trenches along the Marne river, near Chateau Thierry.

Townspeople couldn't tell them apart when they were in basketball or baseball garb last year, playing on the Womelsdorf high school teams. And now they may don the same blue-gray uniforms and brass buttons of West Point cadets.

President Hoover has nominated Ray and Roy for the military academy, making them eligible to take the examinations at New York next March and, if successful, to enter the academy as "plebes" next July. Their appointment is believed to be the first designation of twins ever made. In selecting them, the president acted under a recent law which permits him to name 20 candidates at large for West Point and Annapolis. The statute was passed especially to benefit sons of war veterans.

Father Missing in Action

If the Andersons pass their tests next March they will take with them to the academy vague memories of a father killed in action in the World War. Ray and Roy were only six when the news came to their little home that their father, Corporal Martin L. Anderson of Company A, 28th Regiment, Third Division, A. E. F., had been killed in action in an Allied raid upon the German lines along the Marne. His body never was found.

Their own inclinations as well as the military history of their father made West Point attractive to the twins. Roy spent the last two summers at Fort Howard, Maryland, in the Citizens' Military Training corps. Ray went to the Citizens' Military Training camp at Fort Eustis, Va., last year. Roy earned the grade of sharpshooter and Ray a marksman's medal.

Carrying their inseperable companionship onto the athletic field at the Womelsdorf high school from which they were graduated last June, Ray and Roy in athletic garb mystified the townsfolk more than did Ray and Roy in identical gray suits, blue ties, gray hats and black shoes on the streets of the little borough. If the first baseman on the baseball team jumped several feet into the air to "collar" a hot liner, it was Ray who did it, but in all probability it was Roy who would be credited with the out. If the third baseman whanged out a homer, the chances were Ray would get the credit. The twins in baseball uniform only deepened the mystery of "which is which?" Ray was left forward and Roy right forward, and what a time the official scorer had.

To College This Fall

"It's going to be tough to tell 'em apart if they make the grade at the Point," their uncle Dr. W. Ray Klopp, Womelsdorf druggist, says. "Nine-tenths of the people right here in town don't know them apart even now, and putting them into duds as much alike as the West Point uniforms certainly isn't going to simplify matters."

It was through Dr. Klopp that the twins received their appointment. For weeks he was in touch with Brigadier-General C. H. Bridges, U. S. A., through whom the appointment was made.
