BREAK UP SCUFFLE — Police officers break up scuffle amid demonstrators outside South Boston High school today, on the first day of a court-ordered busing

Pleas For Pardons Rejected By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the last days of his presidency, Richard M. Nixon received urgent appeals for pardons from former aides H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman. The Washington Post reported today.

Quoting informed sources, reporters Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward wrote that Nixon rejected both requests and deeply resented the tone and character of the pleas.

The story said Nixon was especially upset by Haldeman's request, which was described "threatening" and tantamount to blackmail. It said one source said the request implied "he'd send Nixon to jail if he didn't get a pardon."

GENEROUS Haldeman's lawyer, John J. Wilson, told the Post that he was unaware of any pardon request but did not believe that Haldeman would use a threatening tone because of his "generous and kindly attitude" toward Nixon.

Haldeman's wife said in California that her husband could not comment on the story because he is under court order not to discuss Watergate-related matters. Ehrlichman could not be reached for comment.

Haldeman and Ehrlichman go on trial with four other defendants in the Watergate cover-up case Sept. 30. Ehrlichman already faces a prison term of 20 months to five years on his conviction in the Ellsberg break-in.

MEANWHILE, the lawyer for two convicted Watergate figures says his clients will take quick advantage of President Ford's newly clarified offer to study pardon requests individually.

"We do intend to submit an application," Daniel E. Schultz, attorney for Bernard L. Barker and Eugenio R. Martinez, said in a telephone interview on Wednesday.

Barker and Martinez, both members of the anti-Communist Cuban community in Miami, pleaded guilty for their roles in the original Watergate burglary and were convicted by a jury in connection with the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Luxury Ship Afire

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Flames erupted deep in the bowels of the luxury liner Cunard Ambassador today, forcing most of the 290 crewmen aboard to scramble onto life boats lowered into the Gulf of Mexico.

Within two hours, a rescue vessel was plucking the crewmen out of their rafts and boats, bobbing in gentle swells about 39 miles southwest of Key West.

IT'S SERIOUS

There were no immediate reports of injuries and the 486-foot liner was carrying no passengers at the time of the fire.

"The fire's in the engine room and it's serious," said Coast Guard Lt. George Johnson in Miami. "They tried to put it out themselves and couldn't." Fifty fire fighters remained aboard but the engine room blazed raged out of control, he said.

The naval ship Tallulah, with only a small crew reached the burning vessel shortly after the men abandoned ship. It was unable to get too close to the liner because it was carrying aviation gasoline.

The liner, owned by Cunard Lines Ltd., reportedly was leased to Bahamas Cruise Lines, whose officials in Miami were holding an emergency meeting. Most of the ship's crew are British.

The luxury liner, built in 1972, had left Miami at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and was en route to New Orleans to pick up cruise passengers, a spokesman said. The ship can hold a maximum of 650 passengers.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor leaders at President Ford's second economic mini-summit have echoed economists in calling for an end to tight money policies. A similar call for easing the policy which has forced interest rates to record highs came at the first mini-summit held Sept. 5 for economists. However, administration officials have resisted changing this policy.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An elaborate publicity effort that risked tipping off persons targeted for arrest accompanied the largest single drug bust ever conducted by federal narcotics agents. But officials of the Drug Enforcement Administration said that despite one leak, apparently nobody escaped. The operation was a success, they said, so they will probably try the Madison Avenue approach again.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gearing up for a possible 1976 presidential bid, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace has raised and spent more than $1 million this year, according to his finance reports. The reports say that all but $40,000 of the money came in small gifts of under $100. The money is being spent as fast as it comes in to work up computer-written lists of names and addresses of persons who will support him.

DETROIT (AP) — The American-made $3,000 car came closer to becoming a relic of the past with announcement of a tentative $2,800 price for American Motors 1975 Gremlin, its smallest model. The Chrysler Corp. also announced Wednesday that its lowest-priced 1975 compact will carry a base price of $3,246. General Motors and Ford have put the base of their lowest-price models at about $2,800. Auto industry sources say final cost of these cars will now exceed $3,000 in most cases, including such popular options as radios. The price of the average American auto went up in the 1974 model year by more than $400.

NEW YORK — Arab countries that made billions with higher oil prices may be returning some of it to the United States as investments designed to make more billions. One reason is the Arabs and other oil exporting countries have more money than their economies can absorb — one estimate is it will be $60 billion more by 1980. Among investments already made or being considered in the United States are a California cattle ranch, a South Carolina resort island and U.S. Treasury bonds.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Cigarette smoke may be a major source of human exposure to pesticides, a University of Kentucky scientist said today. Dr. H. Wyman Dorough told an American Chemical Society meeting that smokers and nonsmokers who breathe in the smoke can be harmed by pesticides used in tobacco production.

Chenault Convicted Of Killing King, Deacon

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Superior Court jury today convicted Marcus Wayne Chenault of the murders last June of Mrs. Martin Luther King Sr. and a church deacon.

Chenault, 23, a black college student from Dayton, Ohio, clapped his hands and threw kisses to the jury as each member was polled individually.

His attorney, Randy Bacote, immediately began a plea for mercy to the jury, which was to begin deliberating on the death penalty.

TAKE NOT The state has asked for the death penalty for Chenault, who pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

"Take not that which you cannot give — life," Bacote said.

In his charge, Superior Court Judge Luther Alverson told the jury if it found that Chenault suffered from "delusional compulsion" or was unable to distinguish right from wrong, it should "stop at that point and find him innocent by reason of insanity."

LORD'S PRAYER The defendant also is charged with murdering Edward Boykin, a deacon of Ebenezer Baptist church, and with wounding a woman in the congregation.

Mrs. King 70, mother of slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was shot last June 30 as she played "The Lord's Prayer" at the organ.

Chenault contends he is innocent by reason of insanity.

Two psychiatrists, the only defense witnesses, testified Chenault was insane on June 30 and still is. But under cross-examination both said Chenault can distinguish between right and wrong, the test for a person criminally responsible under state law.

PLAYS GAMES Prosecutor Lewis Slaton said in his summation argument he viewed the former Ohio State University student as "a one-man Symbionese Liberation Army."

"He's put on an act throughout the whole court proceedings," said Slaton, referring to such Chenault antics as Nazi-like salutes, imaginary games of cards and the shooting of imaginary guns.

"He didn't do that at the homicide office or the jail," Slaton said.

Defense attorney William H.H. Jones referred to testimony by Derek King, Mrs. King's grandson, who said Chenault seemed to have a seizure, with his eyes rolled back and foaming at the mouth after the shootings.

"This boy is mentally ill," said Jones. "The human approach is to put him where he'll get proper treatment but don't fry him."

Committee said it had been forced into its action because the emperor refused to hand back billions of dollars he had invested overseas, and because of crimes he had committed against the Ethiopian nation and people over the past 50 years, a pooled news dispatch said.

Unofficial estimates put Selassie's wealth abroad at $10 billion, making him one of the world's richest men.

TO BECOME NEW KING — Crown Prince Asfa Wossen, 58, above, son of deposed Emperor Haile Selassie, will be recalled from Switzerland and become figurehead king without any authority, according to a military committee that has been running Ethiopia for several months.

Escaped Certain Death By Fleeing Into Jungle

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Sen. Ruben Figueroa escaped certain death Sunday by fleeing into dense jungle during a shootout between Mexican troops and his guerrilla kidnappers, a government source said today.

Two guerrillas went to a hut where Figueroa and three companions were being held moments after the shooting and began looking for the 66-year-old millionaire legislator, the source said.

When the guerrillas were told that Figueroa had fled into the jungle, they opened fire on his two male companions, killing one and seriously wounding the other.

The source said Figueroa's secretary, Gloria Brito, who is five months pregnant, was spared.

CARTED OFF FROM PALACE

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Ethiopia's soldier-reformers deposed Emperor Haile Selassie, the world's oldest and longest reigning monarch, and placed him under arrest today.

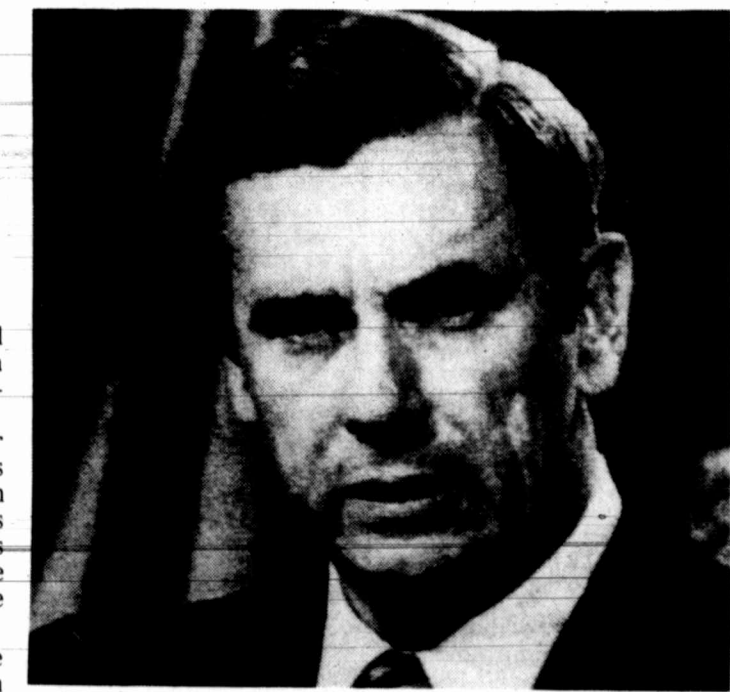

An American witness said Selassie was carted off from his marble-lined palace in the back of a blue police car to a ramshackle military headquarters building near the railroad tracks.

SUFFERED STROKE The arrest, in the name of the Armed Forces Coordinating Committee, ended the 82-year-old monarch's half century of rule.

The committee said it was recalling the emperor's 58-year-old son, Crown Prince Asfa Wossen, from Switzerland to be crowned king, but made it clear he would not have any real authority. The prince suffered a stroke nearly two years ago, and he is still partially paralyzed and spends much of his time in a Geneva hospital.

The military takeover was complete. Parliament and the constitution were suspended and a military tribunal was established to try persons without appeal.

Nearly 200 high civilian and military officials were already under detention awaiting trial on charges of corruption,

GOVERNORS CHAIRMAN — Gov. Reuben Askew, D-Florida, who easily won renomination in his home state on Tuesday is shown at the Southern Governors' Conference in Austin Wednesday where they elected Askew as their new Chairman. Next year's Southern Governors' Conference will be held in Florida.

EFFORTS MISFIRE 'Human Bomb' Holds Off IRS

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Victor Lester brought along eight sticks of dynamite when he sought a solution to his federal tax problems. But his efforts misfired and he landed in jail.

The balding 57-year-old resident of Rawhide Flats, Calif., also used a pistol to hold Internal Revenue Service agent Eugene Neri hostage in the Stockton IRS office on Wednesday.

TAKES MEDICINE For 3 1/2 tense hours, the owner of several plastics firms sat on the floor of the conference room, carefully taking medicine for a heart condition as he talked with IRS and FBI agents.

FBI agent Robert Anderson came down from his office one floor above the IRS office to negotiate with Lester, who sports a goatee.

First Lady Tours Temple

(AP) — First Lady Betty Ford toured the new temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) here and described it as "a truly great experience for me."

Mrs. Ford was escorted by church members through the massive white building for a 90-minute tour on Wednesday.

The temple will be dedicated in November and then closed to the public.

District Supervisor Frank Browitt in San Francisco. Lester finally surrendered to the FBI and heavily armed police who had cordoned off the area around the two-story federal building in downtown Stockton.

DYNAMITE "We will review his tax problems," James Stanley, a supervisor in the Stockton IRS office, told reporters.

Lester, whose businesses are in the Sonoma, Calif., area, has a number of tax problems with government, officials said.

Sacramento FBI agent Cliff Harriman said the dynamite could not have been exploded by Lester.

"There was no detonator, just eight sticks of dynamite and a six-volt battery," Harriman said.

Lester was arraigned in Sacramento late Wednesday on a charge of assaulting a federal officer — Neri — with a deadly weapon.

Military Construction Funds Okayed In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $3 billion spending bill for construction projects at U.S. military bases throughout the world has passed the Senate.

Senators voted 82-3 Wednesday to send the measure to a conference committee with the House, which approved projects totaling $2.97 billion Aug. 9. The Nixon administration sought $3.3 billion for the projects at 263 bases.

A separate 83-0 Senate vote approved restrictions recommended by the Senate Armed Services Committee on expenditures for expansion of the U.S. Naval Station on the British-owned island of Diego Garcia in the Indian Ocean.

The House has approved the Navy's request for $29 million to build facilities at Diego Garcia capable of supporting a carrier task force.

The Senate also adopted an amendment by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., to permit the Defense Department to construct facilities to enable women to be enrolled at the U.S. Military, Naval and Air Force academies.

Rodriguez, Jones Perform In Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE — A star-studded cast of country western recording stars will join men and women convict performers at the 1974 edition of the Texas Prison Rodeo to be held here in the prison stadium each Sunday in October, beginning at 2 p.m.

The opening event Oct. 6 will feature Johnny Rodriguez, followed by Willie Nelson Oct. 13, Johnny Bush Oct. 20, and George Jones and Tammy Wynette Oct. 27. The recording stars will be introduced each Sunday by Bill Bailey of Radio Station KIKK, Houston.

For the third straight year, the show will highlight women contestants from the Gorie Unit, an event receiving the approval of the crowds who come from near and far to witness this unusual entertainment highlight.

Hoot Crawford, rodeo supervisor promises to have the toughest cowboy and cowgirl riders competing for prize money, doing their level best to tame the bruising rodeo stock in the large arena.

Reserved seat tickets may be obtained by mail by writing Texas Prison Rodeo, Box 99, Huntsville, Texas 77340, or from Sears retail stores in a host of Texas cities. Tickets are also available at all Foley stores in Houston.

Tickets are priced at $3, $4, $5, and $6, with net proceeds from ticket sales earmarked for rehabilitative services for nearly 18,000 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections.

Dub Pearson Chairs Century Club Here

About 30 members of the newly formed Century Club of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce adopted their constitution and by-laws and elected members of the executive committee at their first meeting Wednesday in the Chamber office.

Newly elected Executive Committee Chairman W. S. (Dub) Pearson said that the purpose of the club is to promote the expansion, development and effectiveness of Webb Air Force Base and to promote and develop good will through continued base-community relations.

He added that with the formation of the Century Club, the Base-Community Council is reconstructed to form a branch of the Century Club.

Grand Entry Opens Rodeo

A grand entry composed of all interested motorcyclists will start the Hi-Noon Optimists' Motorcycle Rodeo at the Howard County Fair 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Anyone may join the grand entry on a motorcycle. Participation will get you in free.

Persons interested in entering events must apply through one of the local motorcycle shops. From these applications, contestants will be chosen. Mini bike riders particularly are needed.

New events include the tag team race on mini-bikes, girls' pole bending, goat sacking competition between Webb Air Force Base and local representatives, jumping for distance off a dirt ramp and wheelies.

Show director is Bill Tune.

One-Way Alley May Be Voted

Among the items to be considered at the next regular traffic commission meeting will be making the alley behind central fire station between Third and Fourth streets one-way going north.

This has been requested by the city water department. They will also consider erecting yield signs on Runnels, Johnson, Nolan and Goliad streets at their intersection with N. 6th. North 6th was paved in the last paving program from Gregg to Goliad and is being used by local traffic as a through street.

The police department has requested yield signs on La Junta at Alamesa. The meeting to consider these items will be at 9:30 a.m. on Sept. 27.

Hostages Released

HOUSTON (AP) — Four North Americans held hostages by a guerrilla group in Ethiopia since March 26 may be back in Houston today, a relative said.

The four—three employees of Tenneco Inc. of Houston and a United Nations geologist—have been released, the company confirmed Wednesday.

But a company spokesman refused to discuss reports that a ransom had been paid to gain release of the men. There had been reports that the Eritrean Liberation Front, a separatist movement seeking independence for the hewn Ethiopian province of Eritrea, had been seeking $3.1 million in ransom.

"We aren't discussing that," a Tenneco spokesman said when asked about the ransom.

The four men released are all reported to be unharmed. They are Powers Cayce, 36, of Plainview, Tex.; Motta Tavela, 52, the UN technician, Clifford M. James of Walkerton, Ontario, Canada; and James William Rogers of Greenwich, Conn.

The Canadian Foreign Ministry announced Wednesday that the four men were to have been taken to Khartoum, the Sudan, for a direct flight back to Houston.

Rogers' father, Paul Rogers of Childress, Tex., said Wednesday "They have asked us not to discuss it, but there may be something tomorrow."

N.W. Freeman, chairman of the board of Tenneco, released a statement which said in part, "Plans for reunions of the families will be effected as quickly as possible."

Unfortunately, communications are such that at the moment we are unable to determine exactly when that will occur.

Mystery Shrouds Jetliner Smash

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Eastern Airlines jetliner had cleared its approach and passengers settled back for an apparently normal landing. Then, seconds away from the expected safe landing, the craft mysteriously plunged into a cornfield, killing 69 persons.

The DC-9-30 disintegrated and burst into flames as it bounced from the cornfield into a wooded hillside. Thirteen persons survived the crash on Wednesday, including a stewardess who walked away from the wreckage.

"There was no warning," said Charles J. Weaver of Charleston, one of the survivors. "It looked like a normal landing approach. I looked out and saw the ground and I knew we were going to crash."

Cause of the crash of Eastern flight 212 from Charleston, S.C., remained a puzzle as federal aviation investigators began their work.

Authorities said there were pockets of fog in the crash area, about two miles south of the Charlotte's Douglas Municipal Airport, but no definite evidence that poor visibility hampered the pilot's approach.

Federal authorities hoped the first officer, James M. Daniels Jr., who also survived, could shed some light on the crash.

Rosh Hashanah Approaching

Rosh Hashanah, New Year's day in the Hebrew calendar and Yom Kippur, Day of Atonement, will be observed here by the closing of at least one firm, Prager's Mens and Boy's Wear.

The business will be closed on Rosh Hashanah, which falls on Sept. 17, also on Yom Kippur which falls on Sept. 26.

The days in between the dates are observed as Days of Repentance by Jewish tradition.

National 55 MPH Speed Limit Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation-wide high-speed limit would be set permanently at 55 miles per hour under a measure given 85-0 approval by the Senate.

The speed-limit provision was part of a highway bill okayed by the Senate on Wednesday and sent to the House.

The provision would make permanent a temporary 55 m.p.h. limit that was enacted in the midst of the energy crisis last winter but which is to expire June 30, 1975. As in the temporary measure, the permanent limit would be enforced by cutting off federal highway aid to states that refused to set their limits at 55 m.p.h. or lower. Advocates said the reduced speeds have resulted in large savings of lives and gasoline.

The bill also would increase from 73,280 to 80,000 pounds the maximum allowable weight for vehicles on the Interstate highway system. Supporters said it would lead to more economical trucking operation while the Automobile Association denounced it as a hazard to motorists. The Senate also went on record in favor of killing a requirement that cars be equipped with an interlock system to prevent them from starting before seat belts are fastened.

Senators adopted that amendment, 64 to 21, but the sponsors, Sens. James I. Buckley, Con-N.Y., and Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., then withdrew it.

Still Passing By

The other day Harold Whitley had a heart attack while on a superhighway at Nashville, Tenn. His wife frantically sought to get help, but more than 50 cars whizzed past before three motorists stopped to offer help. Before they could obtain it, Mr. Whitley was dead.

Whether this failure by motorists to stop was induced by fear of trickery, harm, or calloused indifference, only they could say. It may still be part of a feeling that it's safer not to get involved.

Commenting on this episode, the Waco News Tribune observed that "the tragedy is more than that a man died. It is tragic, also, that 20 centuries after Christ told the parable of the Good Samaritan, people are still passing by on the other side of the road."

The paper went on to add: "Such episodes are not uncommon. Yet we have the feeling that motorists would be less hesitant about stopping if something comparable to the distress signal used at sea could be devised for highway travel. . . . Suppose there were some universally recognized signal — a flag or distinctive color, or something of the sort — to indicate urgent need for help. Wouldn't that serve as a catalyst promoting a decision to stop and offer assistance?" This is no guarantee against trickery, and there would need to be rules of restraint on using the emergency sign. Yet penalties might be employed for those deceitfully or frivolously using the signs as a ploy. The idea needs more refinement, but it is worth thinking about.

Time On Our Hands

Daylight Savings Time is about to be ended for winter months, but it is interesting to note results of an opinion survey conducted by Nation's Business magazine.

Surprisingly, about half of those asked whether they favored daylight saving time the year around answered in the affirmative. Predictably, those in the northern part of the country and New England generally sided with the year-round DST pattern; those in the South and Southwest didn't favor it as an annual dose.

The idea of the year-round pattern was to save energy. So far, there has been no clear proof that this was the result. Oddly, not a few respondents said they favored more daylight in the evening hours, conservation or no. So obviously, this isn't the last time to fight the time battle.

Behind The Scenes

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

A local housewife was telling me all about her favorite soap opera the other day. She was so upset because somebody had died on the program that she felt like baking a pie and taking it somewhere.

"Why don't you write a soap opera?" she asked. I had to laugh. I'd do better trying to write a comedy series on newspaper offices. I got to thinking that over. It might even make a good drama series, or one of those old time serials where you are hanging on the cliff and the serial ends until next week.

THOUGHTS ON THAT subject led me to remember the time at one small weekly that a tape setter was having a mad love affair with a printer, mostly in the furnace room. This was a small room with a melting pot where they melted down the hot lead and it was a real "hot affair."

They both began to do a lot of night work, until one night, the printer's wife came in the back door with a 12-gauge shotgun and the tape setter almost made a hole in the wall getting out the front of the building.

Twice in my life, at two different papers (neither of which was the peaceful Herald), I saw two men fight alongside of a hot letter press while it was chugging away. Now that was as good as a cliff hanger any old day.

ON ONE OCCASION, both printers were fired. On the other occasion only one fellow was fired, because the other one owned the paper — and could fight by his press if he wanted to.

Now I'm not even going to mention the time that the publisher's five-year-old son dropped the bolt on the press and broke the pressman's thumb, or the time that a linotype operator who had changed jobs came back in when he was "in the cups" and cracked a bottle of beer over a machine and said "I christen this machine Methusala."

We won't even think about the paper boys who have managed to throw papers through picture windows, into yard lamps, into trees, into sprinklers, on to the roofs and down the drain pipes.

We won't try to remember mistakes in ads such as shirts for sale with the R missing or blooming plants that turned into blooming pants.

EVERYBODY SEES the mistakes in the editorial portion of the paper, but nobody knows all the drama that goes on behind the scenes.

Come to think of it, it wouldn't make a good television series. It would get too exciting and nobody would want to take a break to watch the commercials.

You know the kind, "My deodorant is better than your deodorant because it's stronger, drier, and sexier." So be it.

The Pardon

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Concerning the Presidential pardon, a few observations:

1) IT IS OBJECTED that Richard Nixon has not shown a proper contrition, that he did not "apologize." I do not think this is the fact. "No words can describe the depths of my regret and pain at the anguish my mistakes over Watergate have caused the nation and the Presidency, a nation I so deeply love and an institution I so greatly respect." What do they want from him? He even went to far as to revise his earlier animadversions on his critics. "I know that many fair-minded people believe that and actions in the Watergate affair were intentionally self-serving and illegal. I now understand how my own mistakes and misjudgments have contributed to that belief and seem to support it. This burden is the heaviest one of all to bear."

2) IT IS OBJECTED that as things now stand, the record doesn't establish whether Richard Nixon was actually guilty. Stuff and nonsense. There isn't anyone around who believes that Richard Nixon wasn't in fact guilty of complicity in the cover-up. To demonstrate it before a jury would be a venture in redundancy. When Eichmann was seized and tried in Israel it wasn't because it was required that his guilt be "proved." What the Israelis wanted for reasons altogether understandable, was a show trial. What some of Nixon's critics want is a show trial. These jacobinical passions President Ford has declined to appease, and he is right in declining to do so.

3) THE ARGUMENT that it is now established that all men are not equal under the law is superficial. We are governed under a Constitution that gives the President the "Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offenses against the United States." Perhaps Executive clemency should be done away with altogether. But no one is saying that. So long as the prerogative survives, it is precisely a call to discrimination President Lincoln, commuting the sentence of death for a lonely private on one occasion in the Civil War, would not have denied that he had discriminated in favor of the object of his compassion. If it is required to be proven, before an Executive can extend clemency, that everyone else in identical circumstances also receive clemency, the instrument could never be used, because research into the question would be endless, and conclusions ambiguous.

4) IT IS NOT CORRECT to say that Mr. Nixon's confederates are to be punished even as Mr. Nixon gets off scot-free. Mr. Nixon's principal offense was a political crime. He lied, systematically, to the American people. The June tape that was the proximate cause of his resignation revealed only that he maneuvered while in the White House to discourage an investigation, pleading national security.

That was an utterly trivial offense. It was magnified by Mr. Nixon's public posture. For this he has been brutally — though fairly — punished. Ejected from the White House, exiled from the esteem of the countrymen who had given him the greatest vote in Presidential history: that was his punishment. So we want to send him to jail for double parking? His confederates were not publicly elected personnel, and their punishment can only come from a court of law. If the jury decides that the official pardon granted to Nixon is itself grounds for declining to convict the confederates, well let them go ahead and make that decision. Who's going to stop them?

5) THE HYSTERIA shown by, for instance, the editorial writer for the NEW YORK TIMES ("President Ford has failed in his duty to the republic, made a mockery of the claim of equal justice before the law, promoted renewed public discord, made possible the clouding of the historical record, and determined the humane values he sought to invoke" etc., etc.) is an ugly phenomenon. Moreover it is self-justifying.

The Constitution authorizes the President to make up his mind respecting clemency, and my own feeling is that President Ford has acted honorably, prudently, and charitably.

Skinny Base

Robert Novak

CINCINNATI — Although President Ford wins an almost unanimous "favorable" rating from middle and upper-income voters in two strongly Republican suburban precincts here, the shocking fact that these same voters say they know scarcely anything about the man or his policies carries the threat to his popularity of rapid deterioration.

THIS APPARENT CONTRADICTION stems from the unprecedented way Mr. Ford became President — not following a long presidential campaign which made previous Presidents well known to voters in advance, but by appointment to vice president and sudden accession to President. That means Mr. Ford, despite phenomenal popularity during his presidential honeymoon, lacks the hard constituent base — party workers and millions of voters who cast their ballots — which his predecessors brought with them when they entered the White House.

A CINCINNATI business man in suburban Madeira, asked whether Mr. Ford would do better on the economic crisis than Nixon, summed it up: "I could not begin to answer that question because I don't know enough about him. I don't know anything about him."

The lack of a durable constituent base, requires speedy, successful performance — particularly on spiraling inflation and threatening economic disaster.

The demand for just such swift performance, but lacking real confidence, that Mr. Ford can produce it, underlined our interviews with 55 voters in tree-shaded suburban Norwood and Madeira in company with pollster

Patrick Caddell of Cambridge Survey Research.

WITH INFLATION and the economy labelled the most important national issue by 54 of our voters, only 24 voters — well under half — said they had "more confidence" in Mr. Ford's ability to deal with the economy than in the disgraced former President. Indeed, even among 1972 Nixon voters who call themselves Republican, Mr. Ford's confidence ratio on handling the shaky economy was only marginally higher than Nixon's. Ten of the 25 Republicans who voted for Nixon said they had "more confidence" in Mr. Ford, while three said they had less.

LIKEWISE, NOT ONE of the six Democrats in our sample who voted for Nixon agreed that with President Ford in office, the economy would improve over what it might have done with Nixon still President.

ONE OUT OF EVERY three Nixon-Republican voters of 1972 did say they would be "more inclined" in the post-Watergate era to vote for Republican candidates for Congress. But independents who voted for Nixon in 1972 — the obvious target for broadening the Republican party — told us Mr. Ford's accession would make "no difference."

That suggests only limited Republican gains in the November election. Republican dissident voters, who could not stomach Watergate and either voted Democratic or stayed home during the disastrous Republican showing in the special congressional election here last spring, are returning to the party. However, this trend stops far short of showing any new Republican increments.

"Oh, how cute! He's inviting us down to an economic summit conference."

Hungry Sleepers

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I was very surprised to read in the newspaper last week that Mrs. Ford said her family was cutting down on their food bills as a way of fighting inflation. The reason why I was surprised was that Mrs. Ford has teenagers, and there is no way under the sun that you can cut a food budget when you have teenagers living in the house. It isn't the immediate family that costs money — it's feeding everyone else's children that sends your food costs skyrocketing.

IN THE PAST most of us could get away with giving a strange child a glass of milk and a cookie. But in recent years we seem to be sustaining large masses of youth, which I have dubbed, for the want of a better name, the Sleeping Bag Generation.

Last month my grocery bill for a family of four on Martha's Vineyard was $791. This is what happened.

THREE SLEEPING BAGS showed up at the door. A voice from one of the sleeping bags said, "We're very good friends of your daughter Hilda, and she said we could camp on your property when we got here."

"I have no daughter named Hilda," I said.

"What's her name?" a voice from another sleeping bag asked.

"Jenny."

"That's it," the voice said. "We're good friends of Jenny, and she said we could sleep on your lawn so we won't be arrested and tortured by the police with chains and rubber hoses."

I GAVE PERMISSION for them to camp out on the lawn. When my daughter came home I informed her that three of her dearest friends had arrived and set up camp.

"Boys or girls?" Jenny asked.

"How would I know," I replied.

It turns out that sleeping bags require large amounts of nourishment. While those of us who lived in the house could get by on bluefish or eggs, the sleeping bags had to be fed steak, ham, imported cheeses, French bread, butter and a good brand of beer.

EVERY DAY MY DAUGHTER, who never did find out their names, carried down provisions to the sleeping bags. The zippers would open up automatically and they would consume $60 worth of groceries at a feeding.

In exchange for the food, the sleeping bags strummed music on a guitar in our living room while I was trying to watch the evening news.

AFTER THE SLEEPING BAGS departed, a group of sleeping bags arrived and said they were friends of my son Edward, but the nearest son I have is named Joel. While it bothered me, it didn't seem to bother Joel. He took all the sleeping bags to Kronig's grocery store where they charged everything to me for a picnic they were holding.

Now that I'm back in Washington, the sleeping bags are starting to show up here. If I refuse hospitality for them I am considered an ogre by my children, Hilda and Edward, or whatever their names are. But if I let them spread out on the grass I'm going to get another $800 grocery bill.

Watergate No. 1?

NEW YORK (AP) — The malfunctioning economy may in theory be the nation's No. 1 problem, as President Ford has indicated, but once again Watergate has preempted the position.

For one month it seemed that inflation, recession and the other related specters that have haunted every household would be exposed by enlightened discussion, and eventually routed by decisive action.

Those who held that view now aren't so certain. Whereas the pardon of President Nixon was decisive and absolute and required no conference, the number one problem, the economy, remains in the discussion stage.

In fact, the nature of the beast has not yet been ascertained, and nobody seems to know whether to plunge the spear into the hide or the heart.

The President already has indicated that it is now too late in the congressional session for enactment of anti-inflationary legislation, whatever form it might take.

Meanwhile, the battle of the economy is being fought with much the same attitudes of the former administration, led by a chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers who was actually chosen by Nixon.

Alan Greenspan, the chairman, has reiterated his belief that the money supply must remain tight, despite the consensus of economists at a White House meeting Sept. 5 that the money supply should be eased.

Disposable Diapers

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A woman told how this child developed a terrible diaper rash and asked if disposable diapers could cause it. You said you doubted it, but regular changing would help.

I am afraid I must disagree. My little boy had the most awful raised blisters until I changed to (a different brand). — Mrs. P.P.

Thank you, and my thanks to others who wrote. I omitted brand names from your letter, but I do want to retract my remark about disposable diapers.

There have been enough letters from others to make it clear that the disposables do cause a diaper rash in some youngsters. Although it doesn't always seem to be the same brand, yet switching to some different brand has been a successful end to the problem in most if not all the cases reported to me.

Enclosed please find 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Please send me your booklet, "How to Control Emphysema."

P.S. Here is a hint on how to stop smoking that might help some people, if they'd care to try it.

I tried to stop cold and couldn't so when I'd light up, I'd force myself not to inhale. Each time, I would try to go a little longer without a cigarette. It took me two weeks to stop inhaling, and about 2½ months to stop smoking altogether. I haven't lit a cigarette for three weeks and I don't crave one. — Mrs. L.H.

Good for you.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could you please explain the difference in training between an osteopathic doctor and a medical doctor? What types of problems could one consult an osteopath for, and which should be handled by a medical doctor? — M.C.S.

Years ago osteopathy was more theory than science — a belief that skeletal manipulation, particularly of the spine, could be the basis for curing whatever ailed you.

But experience convinced thoughtful osteopaths that treating human ailments wasn't that simple, that drugs and medications and surgery and other elements of therapy all had their parts to play in appropriate cases.

In school, D.O.s. and M.D.s. have comparable training. While some fanatic rivalry persists, regrettably, and many D.O.s. want to retain their identity as a separate group and fear being "absorbed" by the M.D.s, I still must say that the osteopaths are competent physicians and surgeons, and I would not want to draw any distinctions as to what type of problem you should take to each. After all, we are all doctors.

My Answer

Billy Graham

What does the Bible mention temper, or temper tantrums? Are we born with a temper? And what is the best way to overcome it?

An avid reader of the Bible, the word temper is neither good nor bad. It refers basically to one's disposition — a state of feeling — a frame of mind. Thus it can be positive and good, or negative and bad.

Your use of it, however, seems to imply anger, and that subject does come up in the Bible. In the book of Proverbs men are dissuaded from anger (15:1) and those "slow to anger" are commended (16:32). In the New Testament Christians are asked to put away vindictive anger (Ephesians 4:31) and cherish no desire of personal revenge (Ephesians 4:26).

While an aroused temper and an angry spirit display themselves in a variety of ways, most typical is the language we use. Our vocabulary yields first to the temptation of anger. How good, if we could all pray like the Psalmist in 141:3, "Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth."

If you live in subjection to God's Spirit, and seek to do His will, you will find the handling of a temper somewhat automatic. If you don't, your trouble will multiply because a man's venom poisons himself more than his victim.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brethren, you did it to me." Matt. 25:40
PRAYER: O Christ, give us eyes to see persons around us as you see them. May no one suffer because we fail to love. Amen.

The bidding:
North East South West
Pass 1 ♦ 1 ♥ Pass
4 ♥ Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: Seven of ♦.

As a hand progresses, the odds on a particular line of play may change drastically. Consider the case where a player starts with ace-queen of a suit. The odds of winning two tricks with this combination are 50%, for half the time the players to his right will have the king and the finesse will succeed. However, if the bidding and play suggest that this is not probable—that the odds on a finesse are closer to zero rather than 50%—declarer should look for other ways to make tricks in the suit. Today's declarer put this principle to good use to land an optimistic game contract.

However, he led the top card of his partner's suit. East won the ace and returned the queen, declarer winning with the king. A low heart was led to the king, and when both defenders followed, South paused to consider his prospects.

At first glance, the fate of the hand seemed to rest with finding the king of clubs in the East hand and the ace of spades with West. In that case, declarer would lose only two spades and a diamond. But East's opening bid made it most unlikely that West held an ace, so declarer planned an endplay to avoid leading up to the king of spades.

The queen of clubs was led and run, and when it won, declarer could virtually claim his contract. He led a heart to the ace to draw the outstanding trump, cashed the ace of clubs and ruffed his remaining diamond in dummy. Now he led the jack of clubs and, when East played the king, South presented him with the trick by discarding a spade.

East was trapped. A diamond return would give declarer the opportunity to discard another spade while ruffing in dummy; a spade would be up to the king and would limit the defenders to one spade trick no matter which defender held the ace. In bridge parlance, South's maneuver is known as a loser on loser play. In effect, South exchanged a club loser for a spade loser so as to insure a spade winner he could not otherwise have gained.

'Harry O' And Daft Maiden Produce Joy

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — The premiere week orgy of new network TV series resumes tonight, with ABC and NBC each setting loose two new ones. I'd have to say ABC's "Harry O" with David Janssen is the best of the lot.

Then comes ABC's "Paper Moon" and then NBC's "Sierra" and that one just because of the scenery. Judgment is temporarily withheld on NBC's "Movin' On" because advance peeks weren't possible before deadline time.

"Harry O," about a former cop retired on disability pay because of a bullet in his back, is in the genre French for third-generation imitations of those fine old detective movies of the 1940s.

You know the kind — the private eye walking down the misty street, hard-eyed, puffing on a cigarette, his off-screen voice saying, "No matter how hard I tried, I couldn't get the Stromboli affair out of my mind."

Same deal with Janssen's new series, in which he plays a somewhat seedy private detective in San Diego who usually takes buses — a TV first, a blow for ecology — en route to solving various crimes.

Tonight's salvo has Harry at his beach house, working on his rancid boat. The phone rings. Probably a client. "Harry O" sighs. His off-screen voice says, "Where I wanted to be was Idaho Falls, Idaho because that was where the circus was playing that day."

I gave the show a Grade-B at that point. It could do no wrong from then on. And it didn't, as it whimsically rambled through a yarn about a daft maiden — nicely played by Julie Sommers — and her search for her AWOL Navy brother, he accidentally involved in a jewel smuggling caper.

"Harry O" may not be the mightiest show on earth, but it's a pleasant way to blow an hour and I'm sure that all a decent person would ask of it. "Paper Moon," based on the movie of the same name, has Christopher Connelly and Jodie Foster at large as a charming con man and his 11-year-old partner in rube-swindling, 1930s-style.

Tonight's episode is flim-flam flimsy and concerns how she cons him into buying a house and how he swindles the cash — and settling down. It all comes to naught and justice is served, but the funny lines are few.

It's a fair opening try, but far more script work is needed.

NBC's "Sierra" comes from the Jack Webb works, is filmed in the Sierra Nevadas and has the usual Jack Webb cast of young, competent, but undistinguished actors, this time playing dedicated forest rangers. The scenery is breathtaking, but the generally laggard script may cause you to exhale and change channels before the rescue commences. The show could be a passable 30 minutes, but it seems too long at an hour.

It doesn't make the Dog-Alert advance warning list of bad shows only because I can't knock the Sierra Nevadas.

Zina Johnston, a member of Big Spring Assembly 60, Order of Rainbow for Girls, was honored at a program Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple. Miss Johnston holds the post of Grand Representative from Florida to Texas.

Rhonda Riley, worthy advisor, presided, with Mrs. Paschal Odom present as mother advisor.

The program, "This is your Rainbow Life," honored Miss Johnston, as Mrs. W. C. Fryar, past mother advisor, served as mistress of ceremonies. Participants, who lauded the honoree on her Rainbow accomplishments, included Mrs. Milton Knowles, advisory board chairman; Mrs. Don Williams, past mother advisor; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jack Johnston, the honoree's parents; Mrs. Odom and Rainbow girls, Kerry Sue Knox, Sandra Dickenson, Miss Riley, Della Nobles and Mary Jane Wright.

Out-of-town speakers were Miss Jean Sauze, Grand Visitor; Kathy Eubanks, Grand Representative from Canada to Texas; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sauze. All are of Midland. Each speaker placed a symbolic coin or nugget in a "pot of gold" which was presented to Miss Johnston as "treasures of memories and friendship."

Scrapbooks, albums and mementoes of Miss Johnston's work in Rainbow were displayed on a table covered with a green and blue cloth and centered with green and blue flowers.

In assembly business, Beverly Beil was elected Faith, and Miss Nobles was elected recorder.

Line officers will serve as chairmen for the project of selling programs at this year's football games, and advisory board members and parents will operate concessions. Jill Odom announced that personal items will be delivered Friday to Westside Community Center as the climax of her charity project.

Preceding the meeting, there was a salad buffet, and tables were decorated in the honoree's chosen colors of lime green and blue.

Supreme Pictures To Tell Assembly County's History

Upcoming

Three members of the Social Order of the Beauceant will attend the Supreme Assembly in Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 22-28 according to plans made at the local meeting Monday in the Masonic Temple. Those to make the trip are Mrs. W. C. Fryar, Mrs. Albert Davis and Mrs. Lee Porter.

Mrs. Fryar, the presiding officer, spoke briefly on a trip she made to the Holy Land. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ervin Daniel, Mrs. Joe Hoard and Mrs. C. A. Nichols. The next meeting will be Sept. 23.

Builders Display

Plans for the Organic Soil Builders' booth at the Howard County Fair were discussed by members who met Monday evening at the home of Johnny Johansen. Vegetables grown by organic methods will be displayed by members at the booth.

The host served yellow-meated watermelon that was grown in organically-enriched soil.

HD Club Will Do Crochet

Learning to quilt and crochet will be the project of members of the Lees-Drumright Home Demonstration Club for this club year. Six members and a guest, Mrs. L. W. Smith, met in the home of Mrs. Helen Glass Tuesday and practiced crocheting squares for afghans.

Bridge Club

Mrs. Max Nichols scored high, and Mrs. Jim Swann was low when the Hi-Lo Bridge Club met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Loyd Wolf, Coahoma. The next meeting will be at 7 p.m., Monday in the home of Mrs. J. F. Gibson, 901 Saunders.

Plans for a booth at the Howard County Fair were discussed by Howard County Historical Society Tuesday evening. Historical pictures of Howard County will be shown from 6 to 10 p.m. at the booth. They will include pictures of the area where Capt. Marcy traveled on his westward trip.

Bridal Shower Held For Ronda Hooper

Miss Ronda Hooper, bride-elect of William David (Billy) Clackum, was honored Monday evening with a gift shower in the home of Mrs. Jim Shaw, 2709 Rebecca.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Byron Conway, Mrs. Stanley Lewis, Mrs. Cecil Arnold, Mrs. Willis Burchett, Mrs. James Baird, Mrs. Jim Shaw, Mrs. Walker Reed and Mrs. Louise Cunningham.

A bouquet of red roses centered the refreshment table, which was laid with a red lace cloth and appointed with crystal and silver.

The honoree was attired in a mint green empire dress accented with white polka dots. She was presented a corsage of red roses, as was her mother, Mrs. Johnnie Hooper, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. S. E. Clackum.

Truck Stop

The Fina Truck Stop at IS 20 and Refinery Road has started a benefit fund for a local woman, the mother of eight children, whose mobile home on Midway Road was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night.

No one was in the home when the fire occurred, but all furnishings and personal belongings were ruined. The woman was at work and her estranged husband had picked up the children earlier. The eldest son is in military service. Persons who can donate clothing for the children are urged to take the articles to the Fina Truck Stop or call 267-9137 for more information.

Silver Tea Is Slated Sunday

The 25th anniversary of the Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association, will be observed in conjunction with the Hand of Friendship Tea Sept. 15.

The affair will be held in the First Federal Community room from 2 to 4 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Esther Trantham, tea chairman.

Bridge Play To Resume

Beginner's duplicate bridge games will be resumed at Big Spring Country Club at 10 a.m. Friday.

Five and a half tables were in play for the games Wednesday with first place going to Mrs. Morris Rhodes and Mrs. Henry Bell. Other winners were Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, second; Mrs. Elvis McCrary and Mrs. A. Swartz, third; and Mrs. Birt Allison and Mrs. Auriel Lafond tied for fourth and fifth places with Mrs. D. A. Brazel and Mrs. Ray McMahan.

Nurses Act Resolution Explained

The Nurses Practice Act, as it will be presented to the state legislature, was discussed at the Tuesday evening meeting of Texas Nurses Association, Dist. 24.

The meeting was held at Big Spring State Hospital. Sister Janice, a member of the legislative committee, presented the resolution on the aspect of legalities as it might be offered to the State Legislature. The group discussed the article and expressed opinions.

The nurses will work in conjunction with the American Heart Association in the blood pressure booth at the Howard County Fair. This group will be on the booth Sept. 21 from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m.

Plans for the year's programs were approved.

Marcy Plans Fall Festival

More than 300 members of the Marcy P-TA attended the initial meeting of the year Tuesday evening at the school.

Colors were presented by the Safety Patrol.

Mrs. Ronnie Reeves presided and Jim Holmes, principal, introduced the teachers. The P-TA officers were presented by Mrs. Reeves who announced 371 paid memberships in the association.

Members agreed to place the project monies of the association in a fund to air-condition the school. Robert Thompson will serve as chairman of the committee. Mrs. Timm Stalling will be chairman of the Fall Festival in November and will be assisted by Mrs. Richard Everett.

Mrs. Richard Smith's third grade class entertained with a playlet, "The Little Fish That Got Away."

Awards for room count went to Mrs. Tom Adams' kindergarten, Mrs. Smith's third grade and Mrs. Ken Harrington's sixth grade.

The devotion was by Jerry Yarbrough, Church of Christ minister.

Selling Bells

The Airport P-TA will sell cowbells as a fund-raising project at the football game between Big Spring and Hobbs, N.M., Friday at Memorial Stadium.

Dear Abby

Gifts to Wife Bother Husband

DEAR ABBY: My wife (I'll call her Ruth) has a sister I'll call Peggy. Peggy's husband is loaded with money, and Peggy spends a fortune on clothes.

Ruth and Peggy wear the same size, so Peggy sends Ruth boxes of dresses, coats and shoes that she's tired of. All the stuff is just like new, and Ruth looks like a million dollars in them.

Maybe I shouldn't feel this way, Abby, but it bothers me when I see my wife all dressed up in her sister's clothes. Although I can't afford to buy my wife the kind of clothes Peggy sends her, she wouldn't exactly go around in rags if she dressed in clothes that were within our income.

I've come awfully close to asking Ruth not to accept any more clothes from her sister, but I'm not sure it's the thing to do. I suppose it's selfish of me, Abby, but a guy can't help how he feels. What do you think?

POOR WORKING STIFF

DEAR STIFF: I think you should tell your wife what you've told me. Talk it over, and maybe you can reach an agreeable compromise. You're right, a guy can't help how he feels, and I, for one, can understand your feelings.

DEAR ABBY: My grandmother was one-sixteenth black. She married a white man. Neither she nor any of her children had Negroid features, and they all married whites.

The problem is my wife. I told her of my ancestry before we were married, and it didn't seem to make any difference. But now she refuses to have any children for fear one might be coal-black.

What are the chances of this occurring?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: Zero. A child will be no darker than his darkest parent.

DEAR ABBY: I am blind at age 14, and take my Seeing Eye dog Juniper with me everywhere I go.

Kids will often try to pet Juniper. I like kids, but Juniper is trained not to be friendly with strangers. If he growls, the mothers grab their children and scream, "what a vicious dog!"

Abby, please print this so parents will tell their kids to stay away from Seeing Eye dogs.

JENNIE AND JUNIPER

DEAR JENNIE: Thank you for your informative letter. This might be a good time to warn people against trying to be friendly with ALL strange dogs. Many dogs are used for protection these days and are trained to attack strangers who come too close.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MY READERS. Are you properly registered in order to cast your vote next November? If you don't know where to register, phone ANY political party's headquarters (they're in your phone book) and inquire. May I remind you (with a quote from Edmund Burke) that "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing."

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope please.

IOOF Meeting Slated Here

Committee chairmen for the West Texas IOOF Association meeting here Oct. 12 were named Tuesday evening by Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284. They are Mrs. Earl Wilson, seating; Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, food; Mrs. Travis Melton, registration; and Mrs. L. A. Griffith, gifts. Mr. Dwite Gilliland presided, and Mrs. Mildred Collins conducted lodge instruction.

By CLARK LESH

For the first time around, Parent's Night will be observed Friday. This is to take place just before opening kick-off of the Big Spring-Hobbs game at 8 p.m. at Memorial Stadium.

Bob Burris, Steer head coach announced all varsity parents will be introduced as a group. The mothers will wear gold mums with son's number in the middle of the mum. Fathers are to wear son's white game jersey with his number.

Burris stated this is the varsity way of honoring parents. "From coaching concept, thankful for sons or wouldn't have them in program."

Old news is sometimes new news. Talked over the phone with Percy Johnson, father of Charlie, Denver Broncos quarterback. Mr. Johnson said he talked with Charlie some two weeks ago. "Charlie abided by the strike until it was lifted. He seems to think they will win it all," Mr. Johnson chimed.

With all the surgery Charlie has had on his knee he plans to play two more years. Then retirement. He works on the off-season for Don Crawford Enterprises, Houston, as a sales representative.

Charlie graduated from Big Spring High, 1956, attended New Mexico State, then on to the pros.

John Smith, 6-1, 170, freshman defensive back, is listed on North Texas State's football team. He played cornerback and split-end in high school under Burris.

The Big Spring Quarterback Club's meeting Tuesday had some 100 people in attendance. This 1 year is tops for a second meeting. Hope more will make plans for the third one.

I'm still working toward a sell-out for the Hobbs contest. If the weather stays nice and warm, what better place could one enjoy a night's entertainment. Cheer the Steers!

Hobbs tickets can still be purchased at the district office up until 2 p.m. Friday. Pre-game prices for students, 75 cents, and at the gate, $1.50. Adults can pick up their single pre-game ticket for $2.50, or at the gate, $3.00.

Season tickets sell for $10. Don Green, assistant business manager, says there are still choice reserve seats available though some areas are rapidly dwindling down.

NFL ROUNDUP

More Veterans Receive Notice

By The Associated Press

The 26 strike-plagued National Football League teams — reduced to their final 47-player rosters — have dropped another dozen or so veterans in late moves to make room for rookies and free agents.

The flurry of transactions Wednesday capped last-minute roster shuffling of about 200 players and left a handful of lingering veterans out in the cold on the verge of the 1974 season.

Washington, wheeling and dealing under coach George Allen, waived three well-known veterans: Roosevelt Taylor, Myron Pottios and Walter Rock. The Redskins also cut Joe Sweet.

Allen, however, recalled veterans Deacon Jones, John Wilbur and Ray Schoenke after temporarily placing all three of them on waivers.

Among other veterans dropped were Earl McCullough and Jim O'Brien of Detroit; John Mooring of Miami; Leroy Kelly and Bob Brown of Oakland; Fair Hooker of New Orleans; and Leland Glass of Green Bay.

Technicalities involving the NFL waiver system and other transactions, however, left some of the final team rosters temporarily in doubt. Late trading was also a factor.

Detroit waived wide receiver McCullough, a seven-year veteran, and O'Brien, whose field goal gave Baltimore the 1970 Super Bowl title.

In moves involving two veteran receivers, New Orleans dropped Fair Hooker and Green Bay waived Leland Glass.

Steers Meet Eagles In Home Opener

By CLARK LESH

The Big Spring Steers receive their No. 2 chute call at 8 p.m. Friday at Memorial Stadium as they come in contact with flashy out-of-state Hobbs.

Fresh off a 16-6 victory over Andrews, the Steers open their 1974 home stand against an Eagle squad that finished runner-up in New Mexico football finals last year.

Hobbs appears to be a quick moving outfit if scores indicate anything. Against Permian in a pre-season drill, the Eagles lost to Permian, 18-12. But when season play started, Hobbs easily handled Lovington 26-7 last week.

The Eagles, from a spectator viewpoint, have the ability to score points in the early stages. Against Lovington, Hobbs scored 19 points in the first half.

Hobbs the winner of the 35th Lovington game of the 47-game series rushed for 289 yards on the ground and only 17 airborne. The Eagles defense held up well as Lovington gained just 93 yards total offense.

John Barber is feathered as a well-coached quarterback. The senior field-general can set up plays well and is an outstanding ball carrier.

Barber usually calls most of the plays himself from huddle.

LaTrail Jones is another flashy back in the Hobbs camp. A senior, weighing only 156 pounds, shows speed and is a tricky mover.

The Eagles line tips the scales around 190 and have two big tackles on defense, 220-pound category, similar to Andrews' husky arrangement.

Hobbs' primary offense power is centered around a power sweep series.

Bob Burris, Steer head mentor, figures the Hobbs contest to be labeled a tough game. "No question about that."

Burris added the Steers will have to be able to control the offensive game. "In order to achieve that," Burris continued, "we will have to correct mistakes made in the Andrews game."

Big Spring will be in better shape injury wise. Joe Mathews and Ronnie Mullins who suffered drill injuries are reported ready for Hobbs.

Burris quickly pointed out, "We have a lot at stake, playing an out-of-state team, and representing 5-AAAA, the best district in Texas."

Big Spring hopes to develop more polish as they will need to improve punt coverage and punt returns to check Hobbs. This was broken down in both areas against Andrews.

Burris anticipates only one Steer offensive line-up change. Jesse Doss, 5-11, 205-pound sophomore will start ahead of senior Lonnell Banks.

Bulldogs Host Antelopes In Friday Night Contest

By TROY BRYANT

COAHOMA — The Post Antelopes are riled this week, therefore Coach Norman Roberts' Bulldogs will be on the lookout Friday night as they host the Post team for the first time in memory. Game time is 8 p.m.

Post lost to Lockney 7-3 last Friday night in a tough battle between two of the South Plains' top AA teams, and Post will be out to avenge that loss.

Roberts noted that Post has a good team, and should have a much better team this week since their number one quarterback missed most of last week's game. He should be healthy for Friday's encounter with Coahoma.

"Without him, they are mediocre," Roberts said. Roberts said that Post has a lot of experience in six offensive and eight defensive starters from last year's 7-3 team which went undefeated in the first seven games.

About the Bulldogs, Roberts said, "We can't fumble this week as much as we did against Big Lake and expect to remain respectable. But, we always fumble a lot in the first game."

He said that the Bulldogs came out of last week's 20-6 win over Big Lake with a good attitude, and things would likely be different this week.

Despite the fumbles, the Bulldogs rolled up 311 yards against the rugged Owls, and the backs averaged six yards per carry.

Perhaps the most surprising part of the Bulldogs game was the defense. They allowed only 70 yards to the Big Lake team and would have shut them out except for a fumble setting up their touchdown.

District 6-AA teams fared well in the first week of play, confirming guesses that district play will indeed be tough.

Six of the district members scored wins over other foes, while only Stamford was in the losing end of the score, falling to Breckenridge 33-0. Hamlin scored the most points of any district team during the first week.

stomping lowly Rotan 62-0, while Anson defeated Haskell 25-0. Ballinger edged Brady 7-2. Colorado City defeated Slaton 13-6 and Winters defeated Clyde 12-6.

Coahoma faced perhaps the toughest opponent of the district 6-AA teams, and came away with a 20-6 win over Reagan County.

Coahoma's Putt Choate is tied for third place in scoring in district after one game as he scored two touchdowns for 12 points.

Anson's Booker scored four touchdowns to hold the lead with 24 points and Hamlin's Jones scored three touchdowns for 18 points. Choate is tied with Willis of Hamlin with 12 points.

This Friday, Anson is at Rotan, Reagan County is at Ballinger, Hamlin is at Haskell, Stamford is at Clyde, Winters is at Merkel, Colorado City is at Sweetwater, and Post is at Coahoma.

WIN 6-2

Rangers Edge Closer To Top

CHICAGO (AP) — The second place Rangers edged closer to the lead in the American League West as they defeated the Chicago White Sox 6-2.

Wednesday night's triumph was the Rangers' fifth in six games and moved them within 5½ games of the division-leading Oakland A's, who lost to Minnesota 5-3 in 10 innings.

Jim Bibby pitched a four-hitter for his 19th victory of the season as Jim Spencer drove in two runs with two singles to lift the Rangers past Chicago.

Chicago rookie third baseman Bee Richard committed two errors on the same play as Texas scored twice in the first inning.

After Cesar Tovar tripled and scored on a passed ball for the Rangers' first run, Mike Hargrove grounded to Richard, who fumbled the ball and threw wildly to first as Hargrove went to second. Spencer followed with his first RBI hit.

Spencer's other RBI came in the Rangers' two-run fifth inning. Tovar and Jeff Burroughs had the other run-scoring hit.

Burroughs' RBI was his 113th of the season, extending his major league lead.

Bibby surrendered only one hit over the first eight innings, a single by Bill Sharp with one out in the first. The White Sox scored in the ninth, when Carlos May singled and Ken Henderson hit his 17th home run of the season. Tony Muser's single after the home run was the only other White Sox hit.

Bibby departed after Muser's hit. Steve Foucault, the Rangers' bullpen workhorse, then made his 64th relief appearance and got Brian Downing on a game-ending grounder.

The Rangers collected 11 hits off three White Sox pitchers. Texas scored four runs, two of them unearned, off loser Jack Kueck, 1-2.

SAN DIEGO (AP) —

Dan Spillner has discovered a new pitch and another of San Diego's 22-year-old rookies, Mike Ivie, has realized a lifetime dream.

Spillner, 7-10, hurled a three-hit, 2-0 victory over Houston Wednesday night after approaching catcher Fred Kendall before the game and saying: "I haven't tried it in a game all year, but I think I can throw a fork ball."

"I've been hoping all season that he could come up with another pitch and his fork ball made a big difference," Kendall said after Spillner struck out 10 Astros and walked only one.

"I called for it on four of his first five pitches and we got two ground-ball outs so I called for it a lot the rest of the way. It made his fast ball even faster."

However, Spillner, who hurled a one-hit, 1-0 victory at Chicago June 19, was locked in a scoreless duel with veteran Houston right-hander Wilson, 10-12, until the seventh inning when Ivie hit a two-run homer, his first in the majors. It came after a walk to John Grubb.

"That was something I've waited for all my life," said Ivie, a $100,000 bonus baby who twice has quit baseball since being signed as the nation's No. 1 draft choice in June 1970.

"I was in such a daze I don't even remember touching all the bases."

The Big Spring Bass Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 tonight at the First Federal Building.

Item to be discussed is the tournament to be held Saturday and Sunday at Lake Sweetwater. A family picnic in conjunction with the tournament is slated at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Tonight's program will be presented by Falcon Marine on Boat Motor Maintenance. Plastic worms will be awarded as a door prize.

Game Site Is Changed

GARDEN CITY — Greg Henderson, football coach, announced that the regular scheduled game with Sterling, there, Friday has been changed.

The contest still scheduled for 8 p.m. will be played here. Garden City's first five contests are 11-man with district pursuits, eight-man.

Season ticket prices for adults, $1, students, 25 cents. At the gate, tickets will sell for $1.50 for adults, and 50 cents, students.

The switch in the game site came about as a result of Sterling's lights not completed.

Pittsburgh Steelers Striving Toward Superbowl

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Steelers hope to be busy playing — not watching — football on Jan. 12 in New Orleans at Superbowl IX.

And they have the luxury of three drivers to get them there.

Joe Gilliam won a three-way battle for the starting quarterback position after losing for an NFL-high 11 touchdown passes in the preseason and leading the Steelers through their first undefeated exhibition schedule.

"We'll go with Joe in the regular season opener with Baltimore," Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll said after Thursday night's 41-15 blitz of the Dallas Cowboys. "I'm not displeased with anybody but Joe has just been tremendous."

It might be hard to convince quarterbacks Terry Bradshaw and Terry Hanratty that they're No. 1 while they're sitting on the bench.

Wide receivers Ron Shanklin and Frank Lewis are back, challenged by impressive rookies Lynn Swann, the Pacific Eight's all-time leading pass receiver, and John Stallworth, Alabama A&M.

Franco Harris, a 1,000-yard ground gainer in 1972, was hampered by injuries last season while rushing for 698 yards, tops on the club. After rough going in the early preseason, Harris had his best game of the year Thursday night, rushing for 72 yards on 10 carries.

Even with injuries to key players last year like Harris, his running mate John Fuqua, and quarterbacks Bradshaw and Hanratty, the Steelers still managed to score the second most points in the NFL in 1973.

The Steelers' reputation historically is for defense and it's well deserved. This season should be no different; no team in the division gave up fewer points last year.

Cleveland Browns last season was the first time in three years that the Browns missed the NFL's annual playoff party.

Most of Cleveland's problems were on offense, where the Browns ranked 23rd in the entire

NFL.

Gone are the days when the main Brown was Jimmy Brown, who would lead a devastating rushing attack. Last year's main Brown was Ken Brown, who rushed for a team-leading 537 yards. But he never scored a touchdown and his longest jaunt from scrimmage was 17 yards.

Leroy Kelly, the former All-Pro running back, was grabbed by the Oakland Raiders via the waiver route early in preseason.

During Kelly's premier seasons, he was the Browns' breakaway threat. Now the Browns hope second-year pro Greg Pruitt can pick up the slack. Pruitt averaged six yards per carry in 61 attempts last year.

Quarterback Mike Phipps, starting his fifth NFL season, again will be in control of the Cleveland offense.

In the past, the only superstar on the Cincinnati Bengals has been their coach. His name is Paul Brown and he has a reputation for raising football teams into championship ones.

He did it with the Cleveland Browns a generation ago and he is on the verge of doing it with the young Bengals, who only came into the National Football League in 1968.

PASSENGER CAR TIRE GUARANTEE
Montgomery Ward guarantees each of its passenger car tires for a specified number of miles when used on passenger cars or station wagons, except taxis. If your tire does not give you this mileage because of:

- defects in material or workmanship,
- normal road hazard failure,
- premature tread wearout (2/32 inches or less remaining).

Montgomery Ward will:

1. During the first 10% of guaranteed mileage, replace the tire free.
2. During the remaining guaranteed mileage, replace it for a prorated charge based on mileage used.

Nail punctures repaired free during the entire guaranteed mileage.

For guarantee service and adjustments, return tire to any Montgomery Ward branch with the Guarantee Booklet issued at the time of sale.

Charge after first 10% of guaranteed mileage based on selling price in effect at the time of return at branch to which returned, including federal excise tax.

Passenger tires used on taxicabs, and motor vehicles other than passenger cars are guaranteed on the same basis against defects in material and workmanship only.

Miss
Texas
Selected

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Phyllis Lynne Barger, 20, Miss Houston and third runner-up in the Miss Texas Pageant, was named the new Miss Texas today.

She will be crowned next month by Shirley Cothran, recently named Miss America and former holder of the Miss Texas title for 1974-1975.

Barger, however, will assume the role and duties of Miss Texas before the official coronation.

Becky Bloomer, first runner-up, decided to turn down the Miss Texas title "due to the opportunities that have opened up of a show business nature."

Amy Griggs, the second runner-up, is appearing in a Fort Worth dinner club production and said, "I feel obligated to fulfill my commitment to them."

Miss Barger, a lithe brunette, is majoring in ballet at Texas Christian University, and was Miss Richardson in the 1973 pageant.

"This is fantastic," she said, "since there was no way that I could imagine this would ever happen to me. I consider it a great honor to represent the state of Texas."

"I am attending school solely through beauty pageant scholarships. The Miss Texas title means that I can finish my education. I have always entered for the scholarships."

Miss Barger, who said she has no plans for graduate studies, said she hopes to get work as a coreographer when she finishes college.

She said she will not have to drop out of TCU this year to fulfill her Miss Texas commitments.

This marks the second time in four years that a runner-up has succeeded to the title of Miss Texas.

In 1971, Bellinda Myrick, first runner-up, accepted the title when Phyllis George became Miss America at the Atlantic City, N.J., pageant.

Evel's $6 Million
Check Pure Rubber

NEW YORK (AP) — Remember that $6 million check that Evel Knievel was waving around before his rocket launch into the Snake River Canyon? Well, it was a fake.

The promoters only gave Knievel a $250,000 advance. The check was pure rubber — part of the publicity that both Knievel and the promoters dreamed up.

STILL FLOATING — There's another thing that is still floating around in their minds: the actual amount of money the whole extravaganza earned.

The promoters have released various estimates of the gross, but so far nobody has produced any firm figures. All that is known is that Knievel probably earned a lot of money — millions by his account — but nobody is sure.

But if current estimates work out, Knievel's rocky quarter-mile ride earned him $6,666.67 per foot — before taxes and expenses, that is. Reached at his home in Butte, Mont., Knievel says he believes between one million and one and one-half million persons watched him fall into the canyon, at an average cost of $10 a person in closed circuit theaters throughout the country. Gate receipts at the canyon itself came to about $600,000.

Robert Arum, the New York lawyer who heads Top Rank, Inc., the promoter of the motorcycle jump, has guaranteed Knievel the larger of either $6 million in cash or 60 per cent of all receipts, including the theater gate, promotional sales and other income, minus various unspecified promotional expenses to be paid to Top Rank.

ABOUT $9 MILLION

In the days before Knievel's "Sky-cycle" tumbled 700 feet into the canyon, he had been displaying the $6 million check, offering, for instance, to pay for a round of drinks with it. That was a promotional gimmick, it was later revealed. The check was a fake.

On Wednesday, Arum reiterated his earlier estimate that theater receipts would total about $15 million with promotional sales and other monies bringing total revenues to some $21 million.

That's $21 million lower than Arum had predicted only days before the jump, however, and even the revised figure may be on the high side.

After promotional fees are subtracted, Arum says Knievel's share of the gross will be about $9 million.

If that figure holds, then Knievel's net earnings would come to between $3 to 3.5 million after the 50 to 60 per cent taxes he expects to pay, plus the $1 million he has already laid out for the launching ramp, three "Sky-cycles," leasing the canyon and other expenses.

Plans Firm
For Event

The Howard County Youth Horsemen made plans for their trail ride and their awards banquet at a club meeting Monday night.

The club slated the trail ride for Saturday beginning at 9:30 a.m. when the riders will meet at intersection of the Gail Highway, Snyder Road and F.M. 700.

They will ride 14 1/2 miles to the Robinson Ranch, stopping for lunch at the home of Louise Sneed.

The overnight ride is open to all interested horsemen and each rider is expected to furnish his own meals, bed rolls and horse feed.

The awards banquet was slated for October 26 in the Howard County Student Union dining room.

Trophies will be awarded to the high point winners of each of the club's point playdays, and belt buckles will go to the best all-around cowboy and cowgirl.

Beating Death
Triggers Suit

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A $450,000 damage suit has been filed against the sheriff's department and county commissioners in connection with the beating death of a jail inmate.

Mrs. Birdie May Fields of Abilene filed the federal suit Wednesday charging Sheriff Lou Evans and the county commissioners with malfeasance, omissions and neglect in the death of her son.

The youth, Kenneth Wayne Robinson, 17, was beaten to death last March in the Tarrant County Jail.

Inmate Gerald Douglas, 21, pleaded guilty to the beating death and was assessed a 20-year prison sentence.

Mrs. Fields noted in her suit that Douglas had been convicted in 1971 in connection with the beating of another man in the Fort Worth city jail.

Crash Death

ANDREWS TEX. (AP) — Anthony Kennard, 23, of Mission, Tex., died Wednesday of injuries suffered in a car-truck collision on Andrews County at the intersection of Farm Road 181 and Texas 115.

Russel Jameson, 25, the truck driver, suffered serious injuries. He resides in Odessa.

Weather

NORTHWEST AND SOUTHWEST TEXAS: Considerable cloudiness and cool north portion tonight and increasing cloudiness and turning cooler elsewhere. Mostly cloudy and cool Friday. Foreign Aid Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford told congressional leaders today sharp cuts in military and foreign aid complicate U.S. assistance to Israel and Egypt.

Emerging from a White House meeting, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said Ford urged full restoration of the assistance as foreign aid legislation passes through Congress.

Scott, however, said it may take late for definitive action this session. He suggested a continuing resolution might be used to maintain aid at current levels until Congress is able to reconsider the issue next year.

Scott said the President mentioned a figure of $450 million.

Scott and others at the meeting said there was no discussion of Ford's controversial pardon of former President Richard M. Nixon. Participants described the session as friendly and cordial.

Murder, Rape
Suspect Jailed

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Police have arrested and charged Ricky D. Ray, 18, in the knife slaying Monday of a teen-age boy and rape of his 15-year-old companion.

Police said that Frank Grady Stone Jr., 15, was slain and the girl assaulted in Ray's southeast side apartment.

A justice of the peace set bond at $50,000 on each of the charges.

Brown Earns
Second Degree

Roosevelt Brown, Jr., son of Mrs. Viola Merritt and the late Roosevelt Brown, Sr., and stepson of Charlie Merritt, received his Master's Degree in Business Management and Finance from the University of California at Los Angeles, with a grade point average of 3.2.

He received his B.A. degree in political science in 1971 from UCLA.

He is a member of the Alpha Kappa Psi and was named outstanding political science student in 1970.

On Horseback

TREMONTON, Utah (AP) — Steven Ford, 18, son of President Gerald Ford, has been learning Utah history from horseback in a two-week visit at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, long-time friends of the Ford family.

Steven went on a horseback ride in western Box Elder County with Sheriff Warren Hyde, who told of the area's history, as he did during a similar ride with then-Vice President and Mrs. Ford and the Browns in June.

CLEANING TIME — Leanna Pape slid through a small opening in a 10-foot high wine barrel at a Cedarburg, Wis., winery while Thomas Wilson hosed down the floor. The vat was being cleaned and sterilized before being filled with a new batch of cherry wine, which will be beaged for a year.

Panel Intends To Trim $850,000 Bid For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee intends to trim the $850,000 request for former President Richard M. Nixon's transition to private life, the chairman says.

"You can safely say it will be cut considerably," said Chairman Tom Steed, D-Okla., of the House executive offices appropriations subcommittee, which takes up the matter today.

"The paring knife will be working all through this thing," said Steed.

EMOTIONAL THING

He said many congressmen "don't want to approve a nickel" for Nixon because of President Ford's pardon for him.

But Steed said Nixon, as well as any other former president, deserves transition money and said he hopes his subcommittee can cut it to expenses so well justified that Congress will approve it.

"This is an emotional thing," Steed said. "Unless we're able to bring out a tight, well-documented bill it will be in serious trouble. And from the tone over in the Senate I think it may be in serious trouble there, too."

He referred to the subcommittee hearing on Wednesday, at which Chairman Joseph P. Montoya, D-N.M., told General Administration chief Arthur F. Sampson he was "given a snow job" by former Nixon aides.

Innocent Pleas By Six In Prison Break Case

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Six men pleaded innocent Wednesday to charges they helped in an unsuccessful prison break which left four persons dead Aug. 3. All but one of the men are convicts. A seventh man named in the indictment is still at large.

Immediately after the arraignment, prosecutors and court-appointed defense lawyers huddled to decide when pretrial hearings may be conducted.

Innocent pleas were entered by Lawrence Hall, Fred Paraless, Adolfo Alonzo, Pedro Alonzo, Benito Alonzo and Ignacio Cuevas.

The seventh men, George Cisneros, has not been captured.

The seven were accus-

Criminal, Civil Dockets Bigger

Both criminal and civil dockets in Howard County's 118th District Court increased during August.

With 13 indictments returned by a grand jury, the number of cases pending on criminal docket increased from 178 to 185 during August.

Of the eight guilty pleas, two were entered by defendants waiving their right to grand jury consideration. Pending cases are not counted as part of the court caseload unless and until an indictment is been returned.

Probation was granted in seven cases.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton revoked probation in eight cases upon the recommendation of District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III. Committed to prison were six persons.

During August, 96 civil suits were filed here and 61 cases disposed of. The number of pending cases grew from 993 to 1,028.

Also, Caton entered judgments in connection with three applications for writs of habeas corpus.

No action was taken on juvenile court, over which Caton presides. There were four juveniles on probation at the end of the month and 16 cases under advisement.

To Write Out Archie Bunker?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Can it be the same without Archie Bunker in "All in the Family"?

Norman Lear, executive producer, said Wednesday that if Carroll O'Connor does not report for work on Thursday he will be written out of the popular CBS comedy series.

O'Connor refuses to cross a picket line of striking electricians at CBS. Taping of the show has been suspended since Aug. 21.

Lear said an alternate script without Archie is in rehearsal and will be taped Friday night if O'Connor does not appear.

O'Connor's current absence is unrelated to an earlier walkout over a contract dispute.

White Parents Vow To Keep Children Home

BOSTON (AP) — A threatened white boycott appeared to have taken effect and at least one school was the scene of a white outburst today as Boston schools opened for the first time under desegregation busing plans.

A phalanx of 20 helmeted policemen kept a crowd of about 200 whites back from predominantly white South Boston High as black pupils were bused to the school under court order. About 60 blacks arrived on buses and a piece of wood was thrown at one of the buses.

BOOED, JEERED

Whites booed and jeered when six buses carrying the blacks arrived. At one point, part of the crowd had to be pushed back by police.

Otherwise, integration of city schools began peacefully as most white pupils involved in the busing appeared to be honoring the boycott.

A predominantly black South Boston-Roxbury High only two white students showed up in buses and only three other white pupils showed up for classes. John Siccone, a school aide, said 600 white pupils were there this morning.

KEEP CALM

City officials urged calm as city schools opened officially, though thousands of parents vowed to keep their children home because of court-ordered busing to achieve integration.

Police Commissioner Robert J. DiGrazia escorted black pupils off buses and into South Boston High, where only a few white pupils reported. The mayor's office said there had been one arrest. No injuries or property damage was reported, although stones were thrown at a bus as it passed a South Boston intersection.

Eileen Dunner, 16, one of the white juniors who arrived at South Boston-Roxbury, said she came on her own because "I've only got two years left (of school), and I want to finish."

School officials said they expected high absenteeism from the protest. Some parents have promised a two-week boycott to force dropping of the busing plan.

MORE FORCE

Police said they had enough officers to handle any incidents.

"We have plans for every possible situation," said deputy police Supt. Paul Russell, adding that police would try to stay out of sight.

Deputy Mayor Robert Kiley warned, "Any person or group who attempts to interfere with the right of a child to go to school, particularly with his right to enter school property, will be dealt with forcefully."

There were unconfirmed reports that as many as 200 were killed Tuesday after the collapse of a white settlers' rebellion against the Portuguese government's agreement to give control of the government to Frelimo, the black guerrilla movement that has fought the Portuguese army to a standstill.

Blacks celebrating the end of the rebellion went on a spree of looting and violence in the ramshackle slums on three sides of the city. The chief target of the looters were small shops owned by

Troops Seal Off Parts Of City

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP) — More looting has been reported in the slums of Lourenco Marques, but reinforced Portuguese troops appeared to be getting control of Mozambique's seaside capital.

Hundreds of soldiers were flown from central and northern Mozambique throughout the day on Wednesday.

The troops sealed off parts of the city shortly before midnight as sporadic looting broke out again in the African quarters. But military authorities said the situation was calmer than on Tuesday night.

200 KILLED

Authorities at Miguel Bombarda Hospital, where most civilian casualties were taken, said 21 persons died at the hospital and the bodies of 29 others had been brought in since Tuesday. All but nine of the dead were blacks, he said.

Portuguese and Asians.

171 WOUNDED

A hospital spokesman said 171 wounded were hospitalized and 200 more were treated and released. Many refused to leave the hospital because they were afraid, the spokesman said.

The hospital said most of the injuries were inflicted by knives, stones or machetes, but there were also several shotgun wounds.

The downtown business section escaped most of the violence but was virtually deserted on Wednesday as the whites took refuge in their homes and hotels. Offices, shops, restaurants and banks were closed despite appeals by the military authorities to reopen. The airport was closed to civilian traffic. Only a few cars were on the streets.

The white rebels scattered after their movement foundered, but officials said many were arrested.

SERVICE

THIS ELEGANT but easy entree, breasts of chicken gently poached in low fat milk and a variety of seasonings, will offer a change for the hostess to spend most of her time with guests and still show off her culinary skill.

Chicken Loaf Gives Oldsters Diversity

As we get older our physiological needs remain the same but our equipment to handle them changes — one reason why chicken is ideally suited for geriatric diets. Chicken is an excellent source of protein, the fundamental structural elements of every cell in the body. Body cells are constantly being broken down and built up again.

A high protein diet is especially needed by older adults because their total food intake is lessened and the normal process of cell rebuilding has been slowed. The protein in chicken is of the highest quality because it contains all the essential amino acids, the chemical units of which proteins are made, according to the National Broiler Council.

Many of the dietary problems of older people center on their inability to digest long-fibered foods. Because chicken is a short-fibered meat, it's easy to digest, and especially easy to chew, a real blessing to those who have poor teeth or dentures. Its moderate cost is also important to people living on restricted incomes.

GO-TOGETHER
Chicken is the perfect "go-together." It combines with so many other ingredients, older people can have it as often as three times a week. Chicken Loaf With Lemon Sauce is the perfect main dish for a family where older folks are living with younger adults and children. The combination of chicken with lemon gives this dish enough robust flavor to satisfy everyone.

Easy Chicken Hash lives up to its name because it's a breeze to prepare, very important to those who have neither the energy nor the inclination to fuss around the kitchen. Tabasco, onion flakes and Parmesan cheese are the ingredients that give this hash a genuine "wake-up" taste.

It's a medical fact that as we get on in years our taste buds become less sensitive. To help them come alive, try Citrus Chicken Breasts — a delightful combination of broiled chicken marinated with a tangy orange sauce. It involves very little work, just the thing for older people who like to entertain friends.

CHICKEN LOAF WITH LEMON SAUCE
2 eggs
1/2 cup chicken broth
1 cup milk
2 cups fine soft bread crumbs
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper

1 tsp. grated onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
2 tps. finely chopped pimiento
1 tsp. lemon juice
3 cups ground cooked chicken
Beat eggs in medium bowl. Add chicken broth, milk and bread crumbs; let stand until bread absorbs liquid. Add salt, pepper, onion, celery, pimiento, lemon juice and ground chicken; mix well. Turn into greased foil-lined 8-inch loaf pan. Bake in 350 degree F. oven for 55 minutes. Cool in pan 10 minutes before turning out. Serve with Lemon Sauce.

LEMON SAUCE
1 tsp. butter
1 tsp. flour
1 1/2 cups chicken broth (see recipe for Chicken Forcemeat)
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup light cream
4 1/2 tps. lemon juice
Melt butter in saucepan; remove from heat and blend in flour. Gradually stir in chicken broth. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Beat together egg yolks, cream and lemon juice; gradually stir into mixture in saucepan. Stir over low heat until sauce is heated and slightly thickened.

EVERYONE IS HAPPY when a family meal features chicken loaf with lemon sauce and French-style beans. This chicken dish is ideal for older people who require easily digested foods.

Chicken Is Party Fare

For a gourmet dinner that fits the bill for a special occasion or just 'company' dinner, try Poached Chicken Parisienne, breasts of chicken gently poached in a skillet in low fat milk and a variety of seasonings.

This elegant entree, complete with a creamy, seasoned sauce, can be prepared in about a half hour, giving the hostess the whole glorious day to spend with friends. Heat the milk in a skillet with onion powder, dill weed and cayenne. Place chicken in hot milk, cover closely and simmer 20 to 25 minutes, until chicken is tender. Blend cornstarch with a tablespoon of cold water, and stir into milk in skillet. Cook, stirring, until sauce thickens. Blend in mustard and Worcestershire, stirring gently. Mix in pimiento and parsley. Serve with peas, asparagus or baked tomatoes. Makes four servings.

To make the gourmet sauce, use a little cornstarch to thicken the remaining poaching liquid. Once it's thickened, mix in your seasonings — mustard, Worcestershire, pimiento and parsley — and Poached Chicken Parisienne is ready to serve.

A rich entree like this might be accompanied by buttered peas, a baked tomato, or asparagus, and a crisp tossed salad vinaigrette.

POACHED CHICKEN PARISIENNE
4 half breasts of chicken
1 tsp. seasoned salt
1 1/2 cup low fat milk
1/2 tsp. dill weed
Dash cayenne
4 tps. cornstarch
1/2 tsp. prepared mustard
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup chopped pimiento
1 tsp. chopped parsley.

Bone and skin chicken. Sprinkle chicken with seasoned salt. Heat milk in skillet, on low heat, with onion powder, dill weed, and cayenne. Place chicken in hot milk, cover closely and simmer 20 to 25 minutes, until chicken is tender. Blend cornstarch with a tablespoon of cold water, and stir into milk in skillet. Cook, stirring, until sauce thickens. Blend in mustard and Worcestershire, stirring gently. Mix in pimiento and parsley. Serve with peas, asparagus or baked tomatoes. Makes four servings.

Mexican Dish

A new version of an old favorite, Mexican Chicken is made with raisins, stuffed olives and sherry.

MEXICAN CHICKEN
4 chicken breasts, halved
1/2 tsp. garlic salt
3 tps. butter
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup golden raisins
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 cinnamon stick
1 can (10 1/2 ozs.) condensed chicken broth, undiluted
1/4 cup dry sherry

Wash and dry chicken; sprinkle with garlic salt. In a 12-inch skillet over moderate heat, melt the butter. Add chicken, skinned down, and brown; turn and add onion; lightly brown underside of chicken and the onion. Add raisins, olives and cinnamon stick. Mix broth and sherry; add. Cover and simmer until chicken is tender, about 30 minutes.

Chicken On Pasta

A change from the usual pasta topping is a creamy chicken sauce seasoned with garlic and Parmesan cheese.

PHYLL'S SAUCE

2 tps. butter
1 medium onion, finely diced
1/4 lb. mushrooms, finely diced
1 lg. clove garlic, minced
2 cups finely diced cooked chicken
1 can (10 1/4 oz.) condensed cream of chicken soup, undiluted
3/4 cup heavy cream
2 tps. finely diced pimiento
3 tps. minced parsley
3/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

1 pound thin spaghetti, cooked and drained
In a medium saucepan melt the butter; add onion, mushrooms and garlic and cook gently, stirring often, until onion is tender — about 5 to 10 minutes. Add remaining ingredients except spaghetti; mix well and heat thoroughly but do not boil. Serve sauce over spaghetti. Pass a pepper mill so eaters can top with freshly ground pepper. Makes 6 servings.

Boning Is Easy

Boning chicken thighs is a snap. There's just one large bone to cope with. To bone, cut along thinner side inside of thigh to the bone, slashing thigh the length of the bone. Holding one end of the bone, scrape the meat away until bone is free. Cut off round pieces of cartilage. Now you have a "cutlet" to cook flat or roll.

Combine Lemon And Soy Sauce

A new flavor combination is made by combining lemon juice and soy sauce for broiled chicken.

LEMON-SOY MARINADE 1 FRYING CHICKEN

(2 1/2 to 3 lbs.), cut up.
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 large garlic clove, crushed
2 tps. sugar
1 tsp. ground ginger

Place chicken in a shallow container in 1 layer. In a small bowl stir together the remaining ingredients until sugar and ginger are dissolved; pour over chicken. Allow to stand at room temperature, turning chicken several times in marinade, for at least 1 hour. Arrange chicken, skin side down, on foil-lined broiling pan without the rack. Broil, about 9 inches from high heat, regulating distance of heat so that chicken is well browned after 20 to 30 minutes. Turn, skin side up, and continue broiling until well browned and tender — about 20 to 30 minutes. Baste several times with marinade during broiling.

Juices in pan will taste good over rice. Makes 4 servings.

Try Curry On Fowl

Cut up chicken is cooked in a curry sauce.

2 1/2- to 3-pound frying chicken, cut up

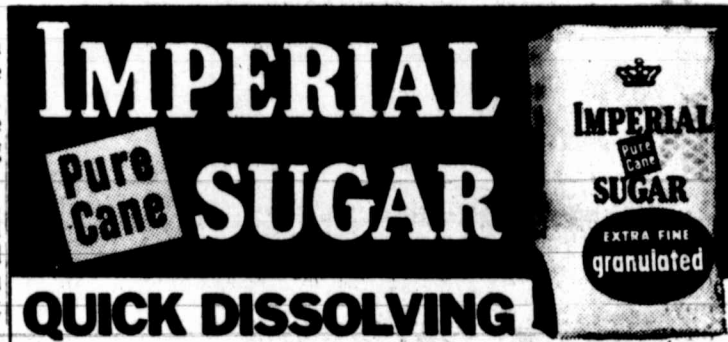

Salt and pepper
1/4 cup butter

2 small onions, finely chopped (about 1/2 cup)

2 medium apples, peeled and diced (about 1 1/3 cups)

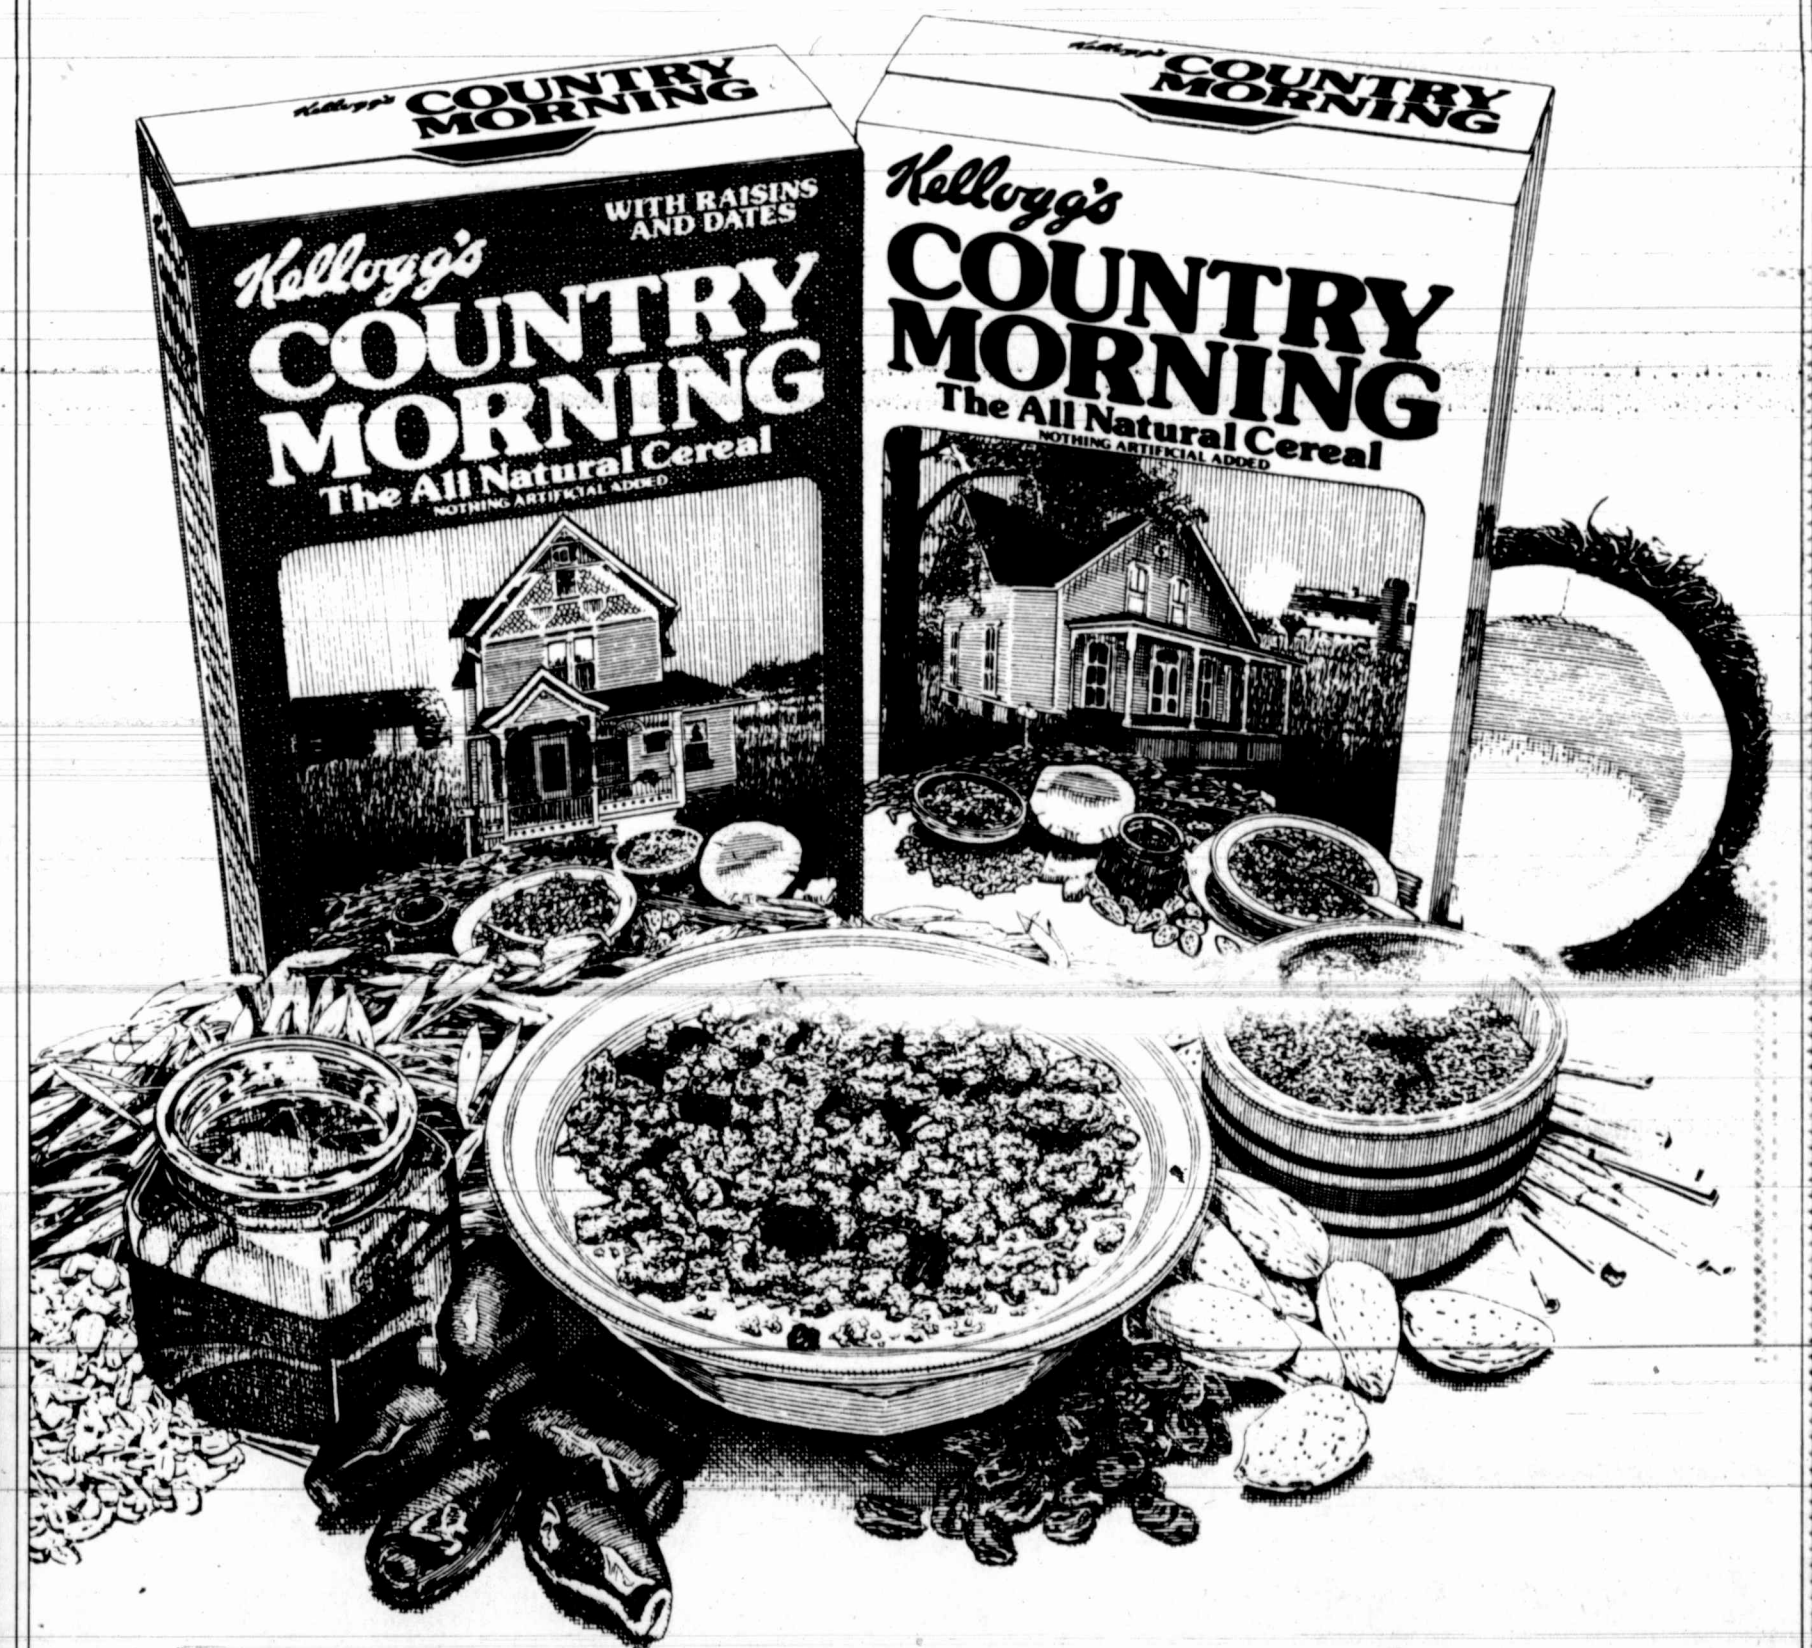

2 tps. flour
2 tps. curry powder
1 1/2 cups fat-free clear chicken broth

Wash and dry chicken; sprinkle with salt and pepper. In a 12-inch skillet heat butter; add chicken and over moderately high heat brown on both sides. Remove chicken. To drippings in skillet add onion and apples; cook, stirring often, about 5 minutes. Stir in flour and curry powder, then chicken broth; stirring constantly, bring to a boil. Sauce will thicken. Replace chicken in skillet. Cover and simmer until chicken is tender — 30 to 40 minutes. Stir often to keep sauce from sticking. If sauce is thicker than you like add a little more broth. Makes 4 servings.

Firemen Get Well In Hurry

HOUSTON (AP) — Firemen were back on the job here today after ending a three-day sickout when faced with a state court order to return to work.

Paul Carr, fire information officer, said firemen came back to their posts Wednesday night after District Court Judge Arthur Lesher granted a temporary restraining order sought by the city against the illegal strike.

TAKE OFF

Carr said 210 firemen had remained off their jobs during the day shift Wednesday about 45 per cent of the shift. Officials covered the city with non-strikers on overtime.

A City Council resolution Wednesday authorized the filing of the suit, saying, "An unlawful work stoppage poses great peril to the lives and opportunity of the citizens."

A hearing on the case was set before Judge Lesher for Sept. 19.

One of six leaders of the sickout named in the suit, Carroll Gallien, 50, said the men taking part in the job action "felt like they accomplished their mission. The men are going to sit down and negotiate with us."

Lester W. Tyra Jr., president of the firefighters union which did not support the strike, told the council Wednesday, "These men didn't put their jobs on the line for any petty grievance. They have been oppressed for many years, doing a first class job and getting second class treatment."

$10,067 A YEAR

The firemen taking part in the sickout demanded a 20 per cent pay hike, shortening the work week from 56 to 52 hours, and the separation of the firefighters and paramedics into different divisions. Firemen with medical training operate the emergency ambulance system here.

Beginning firemen now earn $9,711 a year. Their salary jumps to $10,067 a year when fully trained.

Major Fred Hothelz said the fire fighters have legitimate grievances, and that prior to the sickout he had been talking with union representatives about them. Those talks have been suspended, he said.

"I don't intend to negotiate with anybody who has engaged in an illegal strike or aided and abetted a strike," he said.

State law prohibits strikes by firemen or police officers.

Hothelz said disciplinary action will be taken against the firemen who failed to heed instructions to return to work.

ADDS THE LIGHTER TOUCH—Rudy Dockery is one of the clowns who will try to keep the crowds laughing during the Sept. 17 Shrine Circus at the Rodeo Bowl here. The circus will offer performances at 3:15 p.m., and again at 8 p.m. Twenty-five different displays make up the circus act. Tickets for both performances are being sold by members of the Local Shrine Club.

Fire, Rescue Vehicle And Shelter Are OKed

The Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission board gave favorable comment to a Federal Aviation Administration grant to Howard County Airport at a cost of $73,500 for an emergency fire and rescue vehicle and shelter for the vehicle.

The county will furnish $73,500 for the project, which totals $91,000. The vehicle and shelter is necessary in order to remain eligible for any type of commercial airlines.

In other action, the board approved widening of FM87 just outside Andrews near that city's new Community Building and approved $46,000 for the Ector County Youth Center which is set up for 20 juveniles recommended for rehabilitation that are not yet considered hard-core cases.

They also approved $42,000 for funding a second year of stipends for 10 law enforcement officers to take advanced law enforcement courses at the University of

Lion's Meal Is Serving

Carry-out service will be part of the Evening Lions 16th annual Kick Off Barbecue set for 5 p.m.-8 p.m. Friday.

The club has staged this meal as a traditional part of the first home football game of the season. This year's edition will be at the high school cafeteria with the barbecue prepared by Al's.

Whether eaten at the cafeteria, where scores and scores of fans will be gathered, or taken home (or to the game), the menu will include barbecue, beans, salad, the trimmings and drinks. The 8 p.m. closing is being observed so that those delayed can grab a bite, or else take their plates and drinks to the stadium.

All net proceeds go to the club's humanitarian projects.

Center Slates Event Friday

The Center Point Community Center has scheduled a covered dish dinner to begin at 7 p.m. Friday, Mrs. Maxine Anderson said all area families are invited to attend and that the dinner will be over in time for those participating to go on to football games. Other officers of the center are Roger Miller, president, and Lois Ray, vice president.

Eagles Plan For Supper

The Fraternal Order of Eagles, will have a Salad Supper Friday 8 p.m. at the Aerie 3188 hall on the Settles mezzanine.

Toby Cunningham, president, urged all members to attend and to bring a guest.

He also called attention to the regular business meeting set for Wednesday evening at the Settles. The lodge has acquired 2 1/2 acres of land on the Snyder highway and is considering building a new home on the site. It is important for members to take part in the discussion, said Cunningham.

Swindlers Are Busy

AUSTIN — State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie has reported that fast-talking, high-pressure operators are at work swindling elderly Texans through bogus insurance deals.

Christie said the State Insurance Board would cooperate with law enforcement officials in providing technical assistance on insurance matters in the prosecution of criminal charges.

"We have reports that men represent themselves as agents and sell hospitalization and medical insurance as well as an automobile warranty plan which supposedly covers all repairs done to the victims auto for a number of years," Christie said.

"Salesmen have also conned victims into believing that they represent legitimate agricultural concerns with the use of picturesque, canned sales pitches describing potential insurance benefits to farmers and ranchers.

Neiman-Marcus Eyes Credit Practices

DALLAS (AP) — Neiman-Marcus Co. is conducting a review of its credit practices, Tom Alexander, senior vice president of the Dallas-based department store chain, says.

Neiman-Marcus was charged Wednesday along with a number of stores with failing to refund overcharges to customers on their credit accounts. The overcharges were credited to customers but never used.

Alexander said refunds will be made to customers in those cases overcharges are discovered.

Alexander said the type of transactions described by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) amounted to less than two cents out of every $100 worth of credit sales in 1973.

Allen Refkin, an FTC lawyer, said this percentage could amount to a large sum of money because one of the stores cited by the FTC did over one billion dollars last year in credit business.

Several Area Men Honored

Several young men from or with Big Spring connections are included in the current listing of Outstanding Young Men of America for 1974.

Included are Adolph Frank Supak, 1609 Kiowa; Douglas G. Kent Is Retired

Texas Highway Department District Engineer, Roger Welsch, has announced the Oct. 31 retirement of longtime highway veteran and Howard County Maintenance Foreman, Clint Kent. Kent has served as Maintenance Foreman of the Big Spring Office for 16 years, being appointed to the position in May of 1958.

Kent, 59, began his career with the Texas Highway Department in Nov. 1, 1934 as a laborer at 35 cent per hour. He moved from there to special foreman in 1959 and ultimately to maintenance responsibility of the entire highway system in Howard County. Prior to serving in Big Spring, Kent worked at the district headquarters as a special assistant to the District Maintenance Engineer and before that was Jones County Maintenance Foreman from 1950 to 1956.

Replacing Kent as Maintenance Foreman will be Darwin Webb. Webb has been employed in the Howard County Main-

SECOND BIGGEST INCREASE IN 28 YEARS

Wholesale Prices Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices leaped 3.9 per cent in August, the second biggest monthly increase in 28 years, the government reported today.

Exploding prices last month ranged across almost the entire economy. There were substantial increases for everything from farm products to industrial goods.

Wholesale prices have risen at an adjusted annual rate of 46.8 per cent.

Kent was born in Sweetwater, and graduated from Newman High School there. He served in the U.S. Army Air Corp from 1942 to 1946 as a sergeant. He married Oleta Helen Warren in 1936 at Colorado City. The Kents presently reside at 2106 Johnson.

37.3 per cent over the past three months. The August rise of 3.9 per cent works out to a staggering annual rate of 46.8 per cent.

PRICES JUMP

The August increase in prices — following a rise of 3.7 per cent in July — was the second biggest in any month since November 1946, when prices jumped 4.2 per cent.

The only bigger increase was last August's jump of 6.2 per cent following the lifting of the government's freeze on prices.

statistical variety of goods that cost $100 in the 1967-base period.

LITTLE RELIEF

All figures are adjusted to account for seasonal differences.

Consumers seemingly can expect little relief in the coming months from the worst inflation in years since wholesale prices usually are quickly reflected at the retail level.

Detailing its price report, the Labor Department said agricultural products were up 7.6 per cent in August, following a rise of 6.4 per cent in July and a decline in each of the four preceding months.

Industrial commodities continued to rise rapidly in price and were up 2.5 per cent in August, a rate only slightly less than the average monthly increase of 2.7 per cent that has prevailed throughout most of the year.

CONSUMER GOODS

Consumer finished goods, those products in the wholesale chain nearest retail outlets, rose two per cent.

Sharply higher prices for grains, livestock, oil seed and processed food and feeds accounted for much of the rise in agricultural prices last month. Processed foods and feeds were up 8.2 per cent while raw farm products rose 6.7 per cent to push over all agricultural prices up 7.6 per cent at wholesale last month.

Shoppers can expect more price hikes ahead at supermarkets with the 3.2 per cent increase in consumer foods last month.

Consumer foods — those prepared for sale on grocery shelves — rose in price chiefly as a result of increases for meats, edible fats and oils, sugar products, processed poultry and eggs.

EXAMPLES

Some examples: meats, poultry and fish were up 1.5 per cent; processed fruits and vegetables were up 3.2 per cent; sugar products 9.6 per cent; animal fats and oils 23 per cent; and manufactured animal feeds 39 per cent.

Soaring prices for machinery and equipment, trucks, commercial furniture and railroad equipment accounted for the rise in producer finished goods. Also up sharply last month were metal and chemical prices. Soft coal prices jumped another 4 per cent last month and were 66.8 per cent higher than a year ago while refined petroleum products increased 1.9 per cent in August to a level 87.2 per cent above a year ago.

Skylab Astro Pogue Gains OBU Degree

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Skylab astronaut William B. Pogue has received an honorary doctor of science degree from his alma mater, Oklahoma Baptist University.

He was graduated from OBU in 1951 with a bachelor of science degree in education.

During the ceremony Wednesday, Pogue was described by OBU President William G. Tanner as "our graduate who has gone farther than any of the others," a tongue-in-cheek reference to Pogue's 34.5 million-mile, 84-day Skylab 3 trip which ended early this year.

He also was being honored for his church work in Houston, he is a deacon at the Nassau Bay Baptist Church.

Pogue told the students he could "sympathize with the kids today who don't know exactly what they want to do because that's the way I was, too."

The astronaut said he is engrossed now in the space shuttle program. He conceded that cost is a paramount concern with NASA these days.

"We only worry about finances 24 hours a day," he said. After more visits with students today, Pogue departs for Washington. He will deliver a lecture at the Smithsonian Institution next Wednesday.

News Editor Of CBS Killed

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — John Merriman, 50, a veteran television and radio writer and news editor of the CBS Evening News, was killed in a plane crash Wednesday. Merriman started with CBS in 1942 as a page. His coverage of the Apollo flights earned him an Emmy in 1972.

Daughter Born In Houston

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gingrich, Houston, announce the birth of a daughter, Kelli Elizabeth, Sept. 10, weighing 6 pounds, 10 ounces. The couple has one other daughter, Kristi Ellen, 15 months. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smoot, 204 Jefferson, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Gingrich, Roseburg, Ore.

Future Looks Better For Blind Veterans

Science may never be able to restore sight for some 650 Vietnam veterans, but the promise of easier reading and mobility looks brighter as the result of a number of aids being developed through Veterans Administration research. In addition to a recently patented device which "reads" ordinary print and pronounces the letters audibly, VA is funding further development on many other aids including a lighter weight laser cane that will warn a blind user of objects in his path. Also being refined is an ultra-sonic eyeglass project that could enable the blind to perceive objects in much the same way that sonar permits ships and submarines to detect undersea objects. Even more important, according to Russell C. Williams, VA's Chief of Blind Rehabilitation, is training for the blind person and his family in the techniques and attitudes for coping with blindness.

Williams, a combat injured veteran of World War II, has extended this training beyond VA hospitals with the help of the Blinded Veterans Association. BVA and VA are cooperating in a field service program that supplements the work of 72 VA Visual Impairment Service teams throughout the country. "The family's level of expectation for the blinded veteran is usually much lower than is warranted," Williams explained, "and this is usually reflected in the community unless steps are taken to offset it." For this reason, the most closely related member of the family is brought into the program for the blinded family member at each of the three VA Blind Rehabilitation Centers. While the veteran patient is being counseled and taught mobility techniques, the family member is also taught. The wife, for example, can see her blinded husband safely operate power machinery, type and perform other office functions.

Male Chauvinist Terms In Proposed Textbooks?

AUSTIN (AP) — Education for Women testified before Education Commissioner M. L. Brockett.

They cited pages of examples, including: "Ruth turned around and looked at me. She had big brown eyes like my dog. Only these eyes had tears in them. (All girls can hold their breath until tears come.)"

KNOWN FACT The response to this paragraph in Addison-Wesley Publishing Co.'s "Two Blades of Grass," for seventh and eighth grades, was: "It is a well-known fact that girls are superior to dogs (despite the resemblance around the eyes) because not all dogs can hold their breath until tears come."

In Houghton Mifflin's "Diversity," for the same grade, appears this sentence: "A man needs a girl's nice letters when he's sufferin' with the homesick."

To which the task force commented: "Some males beyond a self-determined age refer to themselves as 'men' and to females, irrespective of age, as 'girls.' This convenient manipulation of the language allows the male to see himself as an adult and the 'girl' as a child, whom he is then justified in 'protecting' and/or controlling."

In J. B. Lippincott Co.'s "Basin Reading," occurs this sentence: "Jo Carr, the author of this story, lives in Lubbock, Texas, and is the mother of four children."

UP TOWARDS BEAUTY — Few words are needed to describe this beautiful scene. With summer vacations over for the school youngsters, this late evening ride on the roller coaster at a Denver, Colo., amusement park will last until school's out next year. Photo taken this past weekend.

Big Thicket Destruction

DALLAS (AP) — Towering longleaf pine trees and rare forms of plant life are being destroyed by a trailer park developer in an area of the Big Thicket proposed for a national preserve, a key environmentalist said Wednesday.

Maxine Johnston of Beaumont, president of the Big Thicket Association, said the 668-acre Hickory Creek Savannah south of Woodville in Southeast Texas is being hacked apart by a developer who has cleared, drained and marked the area for lots.

"This is why we have been begging Congress to act. While Congress delays and makes excuses we have been losing more and more of the original wilderness. And now this!" said Dr. Pete Gunter of Denton, determining just which acreage will be included.

Meanwhile, even more of the unique Big Thicket area is endangered by real estate promoters.

"They are bringing out logs right now in the Lance Rosier unit which totals 25,000 acres," Gunter said.

"The Hickory Creek Savannah is of outstanding value to botanists and naturalists because of the remarkable variety of herbaceous plants it contains. The different species here number in the hundreds and include many rare forms including members of the orchid family. The loss of this biological gem points up the necessity for immediate government ownership of the Big Thicket Reserve once it is created," he said.

$4 Million Pot Caper

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The arrest of a McAllen, Tex. man on charges of conspiring to bring into the country nearly $4 million worth of marijuana from Colombia has been announced by federal officials.

Spokesmen for the Drug Enforcement Administration said Tuesday that Frank Joseph Zambito of McAllen and three other persons were arrested and two are still sought.

Five were arrested at the time agents confiscated a DC-4 plane loaded with the illegal marijuana when it landed at Chester, S.C. on June 23.

DEA spokesmen said that the latest arrests were those of Ben K. Tatum of Gainesville, Fla.; Zambito, Arturo Velasco of Pampa, Fla., and Charles Moody.

Bonds for Zambito and Velasco were set at $500,000 each. Bonds for the others were set at $250,000.

Fund Still Is Growing

Several additional contributions to the High School Bible Fund have continued to come to the Herald since the appeal formally was closed.

Included are Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Brown, $10; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith, $10; Woodine Winn, former resident who now lives at Ft. Lyon, Colo., and wrote "thank you for the opportunity to participate in the Bible fund," $20; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Holley, memory Robert Currie, $25; Ruth Class, First Baptist, memory of Bob Bradbury $10; and Chaplain (Col.) and Burnice Ramsey Hope who sent in a check for $100 from Ft. Meade, Md. This brought total to $6,209.50.

Repeaters Boost U.S. Crime Rate

By OMAR BURLISON, M.C.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — "Law and order" has been a favorite theme of politicians for the last several years. Until recently, the claim was made that there had been a considerable reduction in the crime rate across this Nation but reports now show crime on the rise at an alarming rate.

Of all the reasons for crime increase, one is pretty obvious. In the more serious offenses, almost three-fourths of those arrested are repeaters. Imprisonment can be for only two purposes. One, of course, is for punishment and the other is rehabilitation but it seems the later is, in most instances, woefully lacking. All sorts of studies are going on for prison reform but whatever has been done shows little result.

The dockets of both federal and state courts are terribly overcrowded. In most instances, both State and Federal Courts are overwhelmed by a growing backlog of untried criminal cases. The old adage applies: "Justice delayed is justice denied." If a person charged in a criminal case is guilty, society demands that he be tried, convicted and sentenced. If he is not, he deserves to have the charges removed from his head as quickly as possible. Those people who are victims of crime are forced to watch the guilty go unpunished for long periods of time. In many cases, the criminal is never brought to trial.

One reason the federal dockets are crowded in both civil and criminal cases is the many laws passed by Congress, which at one time, was in the jurisdiction of State Courts. The Congress itself has placed a burden on the Courts and since it has, it is up to Congress to do something about it.

A bill in the United States Senate requires that all criminal cases in Federal Courts be tried within sixty days of indictment. It permits an additional thirty days between the time of arrest and action by a Grand Jury. The measure provides a phase-in over a seven year period and when fully effected, charges are mandatorily dismissed if a trial is not held within these time limits.

Whether this is the answer is questionable but it does have a good intent and places a burden on the Courts and prosecutors to act or explain their lack of action.

This alone is not the total answer by any means. For ten years efforts have been in progress to reform our State and Federal criminal justice systems. Many prisons are overcrowded and proper help for rehabilitation must be neglected out of sheer inability to even apply the theories of reform.

Chief Justice Burger of the Supreme Court, along with other Justices, have made certain recommendations for Court reform. The study is now out for critiques by judges and the bar associations. Hopefully, better answers can be found for our Courts to better guarantee the American people and those accused of crime the right to a speedy trial.

Girl Treated After Wreck

Jennifer Rhene Zapp was treated at Hall Bennett for possible head injuries and a minor leg injury after a collision at the intersection of FM 700 and Westover at 5:37 p.m. Tuesday.

A car driven by Mrs. Annie Hart Fairchild of Forsan turned in front of the vehicle driven by Miss Zapp, according to the report of the investigating officer. The second vehicle then struck a vehicle driven by Flossy Williams Land, 4202 Dixon.

The car driven by Mrs. Fairchild ended up halfway into the culvert at the intersection.

Bus Driver Is Death Victim

TOYAH — A Greyhound bus driver from Abilene died, apparently of a heart attack, a few miles west of here at 9:30 p.m., Monday while en route from El Paso to Abilene.

He was Farris Leon Layland, 61. When he was stricken, a fellow driver assumed the wheel. He had been with Greyhound for 31 years.

Services are scheduled at 3:30 p.m. today in Elliot-Hamill Funeral Home in Abilene. Burial will be in Elmwood Memorial Park.

Talbot Named

Peace Justice Walter Grice has named Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney, to investigate for inquests.

Term Probated For D. Thomas

Darrell Bruce Thomas, 26, Route 2 Box 128, today pleaded guilty in 118th District Court to burglary of Carver's Pharmacy shortly before midnight Aug. 24.

Responding to information from the police dispatcher, Patrolman Howard Kloss found Thomas inside the pharmacy with a sack containing amphetamines and barbiturates, a statement read. Thomas refused to identify others who took him to the pharmacy in a car.

Thomas was given 10 years of probation and ordered to pay $100 in restitution to the pharmacy today.
