Even Hatless President Endorses Men's Chapeaux

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is National Hat Week, and hat lovers are throwing their soft felts, their sombreros and their high silks joyfully into the air.

For the National Hat Council reported today that Allan Webb a hat salesman and a close friend of John F. Kennedy since their wartime PT-boat days, has gotten this presidential endorsement, "A man is not well dressed without a hat."

This may sound like a dubious victory, since President Kennedy rarely is seen wearing a hat, although keen observers occasionally spot him carrying one.

But a man from the council said reassuringly: "Kennedy wears a hat more than you might imagine."

And here he produced a picture of Kennedy, well hatted and well dressed. Unfortunately, the caption showed that the picture was taken while Kennedy was President-elect, which is quite a way back for celebrating National Hat Week 1963. But you can't have everything.

If the council is on uncertain ground with Kennedy, it is better off with his predecessors.

Pictures show Dwight D. Eisenhower beaming broadly from underneath a broadbrimmed hat. Harry S. Truman with a light colored semi-Western hat. Herbert Hoover wearing a hat almost jauntily. Franklin D. Roosevelt waving his hat gallily.

Indeed a hat was almost an FDR trademark, and the one he wore in his first campaign, sweat-stained and battered, was later sold for $3,200 at a Hollywood benefit.

One thing seems clear from the old photographs: When campaigning, hats are great for waving purposes.

ABOUT CHRIST

We hear a great today about accepting Christ. Just what does it mean to accept Christ? The very statement suggests that Christ has been offered, or that he has made an offer. Both are true. He has made an offer of salvation to lost men. He said to certain ones: "And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life" (Jno. 5:40).

Christ also offers himself to us. He says, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him and will sup with him, and he with me" (Rev. 3:20).

We accept the Lord by loving and obeying him. He said,

If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him" (Jno. 14:23).

In view of this Scripture, no one ought to think that he can accept Christ by just believing on him. Christ is the author of salvation to them that obey him (Heb. 5:9).

Showers Taunt Panhandle As Feed Aid Is Requested

By The Associated Press

Light and lonesome showers spattered the Texas Panhandle's north edge Wednesday.

The moisture was so meager, however, it only accentuated the growing severity of drought conditions in all sections of the state.

Skies were clear to partly cloudy elsewhere. Fog hugged the ground at Lufkin, Beaumont, Houston, Alice and McAllen in early morning.

There was another teasing touch of rain late Tuesday in the west edge of Houston, where marble-sized hail preceded a briefly heavy downpour.

Other parts of Houston remained dry. The city's airport weather station has gauged just .02 inch of rain this month and 21.66 inches since Jan. 1, or 14.26 inches below normal.

San Antonio checked the records and found itself even shorter on moisture: The Alamo city has received no rain since Sept. 20, a mere .02 in the past month and 13.03 this year—11 inches less than normal.

Underscoring the demands on municipal water supplies, every major city in the state has measured less rainfall than usual.

At Fort Worth the Tarrant County Agricultural Drought Emergency Committee appealed for the government to make feed grain available at reduced cost. It also urged lowered freight rates on hay shipments from other areas.

A spokesman for the Tarrant group said pasture conditions and hay supplies are about 20 per cent of normal. If federal authorities heed the plea, surplus government stocks of feed grain could be made available to livestock owners at about $1.60 per 100 pounds, compared to a current price of about $2.40.

Fire continued to flare, meanwhile, in dangerously dry wooded areas of Northeast Texas. One of the biggest blazes was reported 7 miles west of Texarkana and about 2 miles outside the village of Nash.

While no deluges appeared likely, weather forecasts were somewhat more cheering than usual. They promised a few showers, continuing into Thursday near the upper Texas coast, in the south edge of South Central Texas and in the mountains of Southwest Texas.

Wichita Falls again recorded the state's top temperature Tuesday with a high of 91 degrees. Junction was the coolest spot with a maximum of 79.

The bidding:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Deuce of ♠ North opened the bidding with one club. It should be pointed out that this was not intended in any conventional manner. It was simply the most convenient way in which to get the bidding under way. South responded with one spade, and North raised to two spades. South might at this point have proceeded to game for his hand becomes valued at 13 points when partner offers a raise. South chose however to bid only three spades, and North in consideration of the fact that he had opened a minimum hand declined his partner's invitation to proceed.

West opened the deuce of diamonds. East played the ace and another diamond which West ruffed. The shift was to a heart, since this was the only suit in which East could possibly have a card of reentry. Declarer put up the ace of hearts from dummy, and paused to consider his prospects.

It may be observed that, if South, in his haste to extract trumps, leads spades immediately, he will go set. West plays the ace of spades and then puts his partner in with a second heart to obtain another diamond ruff.

Declarer foresaw this possibility, and he devised a method for cutting his opponents' line of communications. He first cashed the ace of clubs and then continued with the queen. When East followed with a small club, South discarded his losing heart. West won the trick with the king of clubs and returned a heart. Declarer ruffed and now drove out the ace of spades. West was in again, but there was no way to reach his partner to obtain another diamond ruff. When South regained the lead, he drew the remaining spade and claimed his contract.

South's lead of the queen of clubs from dummy was a form of "loser on loser" play that cost him nothing in the attempt. If East has the king of clubs and covers the queen, declarer merely ruffs in his hand and then makes an effort to take advantage of a trump break.

'Bridey Murphy' Still In Dispute

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Remember Bridey Murphy?

Many people do, although whether this particular Bridey Murphy ever lived outside the dreams of a Colorado housewife under hypnosis is a matter for considerable argument.

Morey Bernstein, Pueblo business man, student of parapsychology and author, insists she did. He said Bridey will be re-born again next year—in print.

Bernstein, who wrote "The Search for Bridey Murphy" nine years ago, said his new book will prove that Bridey was not a hoax and will supply new evidence for his contention that man's consciousness survives death.

and the subject of reincarnation.

FORGET IT

Mrs. Tighe, who lives now in a Denver suburb with her husband and three daughters, made it clear she would just as soon forget all about Bridey Murphy.

She said she had nothing to do with hypnosis since the experiments with Bernstein during which, armed with a tape recorder, he hypnotized her six to eight times over a period of 11 months. Each time Mrs. Tighe assumed the role of Bridey Murphy.

She and her husband were appalled by the amount of publicity resulting from the book. "It was a real nightmare for a time," Mrs. Tighe said. She still gets indignant over reports she and Bernstein cooked up the Bridey Murphy thing as a means of making money.

She was paid a small royalty from the book sales, she said.

Asked if she believes that under hypnosis, her subconscious mirrored actual events in the life of an Irish girl named Bridey Murphy, Mrs. Tighe said: "I'm not unsold—I have an open mind about that."

Neither Mrs. Tighe nor Bernstein had been to Ireland.

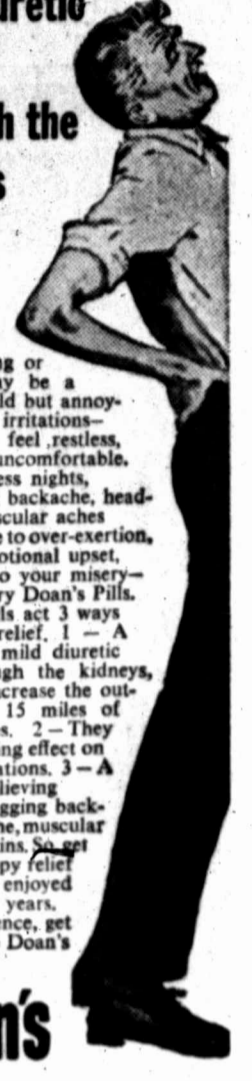

Bernstein said his new book "will be a counterattack at all levels—the hoax matter, the so-called scientific charges, the psychiatrists."

On the basis of this and later sessions with Mrs. Tighe, who appeared in the book as "Ruth Simmons." He said the book was published in 30 countries with 205,000 hard-cover copies and 775,000 paperbacks. It was made into a movie.

DEAR ABBY

Confident - But Also Ridiculous

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who tells his wife that he KNOWS he could win any woman in the world if he were given an introduction to her? This man is not rich. He is definitely nothing to look at. And unless he is in a very good mood, he is lousy company. So please tell me where he gets ideas like this. HAD IT win any woman in the world if he were given an introduction to her? This man is not rich. He is definitely nothing to look at. And unless he is in a very good mood, he is lousy company. So please tell me where he gets ideas like this. HAD IT you introduce him.

DEAR ABBY: My mother keeps "lending" me out to the neighbors to baby-sit for nothing. Very often I have had to change my plans at the last minute because my mother tells me she promised someone in the neighborhood that I would sit for them. Other girls my age get paid for sitting for these same people, so now they are mad at me for sitting for nothing, because they look greedy when they take the money. My mother is the kindest soul in the world. Abby, but do you think it is fair that she should offer my services to the neighbors for nothing?

SWEET AND SOUR 16 DEAR 16: Bless your mother's heart. She means well, but she isn't being fair to you. She shouldn't promise your services without having first checked with you. And she shouldn't expect you to sit for nothing.

DEAR ABBY: Why do men have to wear DARNED socks? Do you know any women these days who would wear a darned stocking? Men's socks don't cost any more than women's, so why, when a woman finds a wee hole in her husband's sock, does she try to "save" it? Let her throw it in the rag bag along with her own.

LOVING WIFE DEAR LOVING: Just keep crusading for equal rights for men and you'll soon write a DEAR ABBY letter with a husband problem. Come to think of it. I haven't seen a darned egg since the depression.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Don't Discard Old Nylons

Dear Heloise: How many of your readers have ever used discarded nylon stockings for pillow stuffing? It is absolutely terrific!

Wash and sort your light-colored stockings and cut down the back of the stockings, removing the seam. Then stuff your pillows with the stockings.

These pillows can be washed in the washing machine, run through the wringer and dry quickly. They are always "springy," never get musty and are a delight to use. It takes lots of stockings to stuff a pillow, so you girls start saving now!

MARILYN MAXWELL

Muscles Lose Tone In Period Of Illness

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—"Use or lose" was just a phrase to Marilyn Maxwell until she became seriously ill and was confined to her bed for five months.

"When I was allowed to get up, every one of my muscles was flabby," she told me. "They lost their tone from lack of use, but my doctor told me that the body has a marvelous facility to repair and remodel itself with proper use, your muscles, bones and all your vital processes can be stimulated. How fast you develop your potential depends on how correctly you work."

"I worked hard, but I had good instruction. When I began, I looked as flabby as a frito who had lost 60 pounds. I began by lying on the floor and to a slow count of eight I raised my legs to a 45-degree angle. I held them for a count of eight, and then I lowered them to a count of eight. Then you repeat this exercise, but this time pointing your toes. You do another set, pulling your heels in with your soles up, always to a count of eight.

"When you lose your health, you value it as never before, and those months I lay there, I had time to think and to form new values. I realized that our emotions are the great destroyer of our well being. I believe that every great illness has its inception in some friction or problem. I have been working very hard to have more control on my destructive reactions. No good comes from the eye-for-an-eye philosophy. When you become angry you upset your whole system. You don't have to worry about getting even with anyone; the law of life is that we reap what we sow, and he will punish himself.

Marilyn was making an appearance on the "Red Skelton Show" in a beautiful new wig.

"They are a great investment. I am not a natural blonde, and now I don't have to have my hair bleached nearly as often. Wigs come to the rescue for special occasions and can be cleaned and dressed so that you can't tell them from your own hair. Your hair sets the key to your personality, and you can't go out and have a good time if your hair is a mess. Your appearance influences the way you feel toward yourself and the way others feel toward you. To make the effort to put your best foot forward at all times is deeper than vanity."

NEW LEAFLET
Leaflet M-112, "Routine for Firming Muscles," contains all the exercises that Marilyn Maxwell used to regain her strength and beautiful figure after her long illness. Time For Plants To Adjust To Indoors

In the early days of autumn, house plants that have enjoyed a summer vacation outdoors should be taken indoors so they may adapt to the environment there before artificial heat is turned on in homes.

Plants that haven't thrived outdoors during the lush days of summer, aren't likely to improve indoors. Therefore, these "weak-sister" plants should be replaced.

House plants that have benefited from the warm, moist weather outdoors need a period to become adjusted to the indoor climate again before homes are artificially heated. Otherwise, the abrupt change to hot, dry air of heated homes will be harmful to them. Plants should be sprayed with an insecticide to rid them of any insect pests, and the outdoors of all pots should be scrubbed with a brush and water.

The top soil of plants, still actively growing, should be removed and replaced with a mixture of two parts garden soil, one part thoroughly rotted manure, and bone meal at the rate of a teaspoonful to each six-inch pot.

Plants should be placed near windows, at either the sunny or shady locations they prefer, and they should be given routine care during winter months.

GREEN THUMB PLAN
In replacing discarded potted house plants, follow these guidelines which will help you to develop a "green thumb."

The top soil of plants, still actively growing, should be removed and replaced with a mixture of two parts garden soil, one part thoroughly rotted manure, and bone meal at the rate of a teaspoonful to each six-inch pot.

Plants should be placed near windows, at either the sunny or shady locations they prefer, and they should be given routine care during winter months.

Learn the particular needs of the particular varieties selected, as to light, humidity, soil, soil food.

Learn the proper way of keeping the leaves of these varieties clean of dust, and the plant free of insects and other pests.

Learn to recognize the signs that house plants give when they begin to get "sick," and take prompt remedial action.

Popular flowering plants that can be grown indoors include African violets, begonias, farneas, flowering bulbs, geranium, gloxinia, tuberous rooted begonia, and roses.

ADAPTABLE
There are many hardy foliage plants. Philodendron, for example, is extremely hardy and adaptable. The most popular small foliage plants include baby leaf ivy, golden pothos, marble queen pothos, variegated nuphytis, assorted ivies (including grape, ripple, English, geranium, and gold dust), assorted cacti, variegated peperomias, sansevierias (including sansevieria zeylanica, gold striped sansevieria and sansevieria bird-nest or dwarf sansevieria), and white vein fittonias.

Among the most popular large display-type foliage plants are philodendron pertusum, ficus decora (red rubber plant), assorted dieffenbachias, philodendron cordatum totem poles, philodendron hastatum, assorted large leaf philodendron such as dubia, panduriforme, and selloum.

worried about age?

here's truth about hormones for face, neck and hands

NEW YORK (Special)—Reams have been written about hormones. Will they make women of 75 look 45 again? Absolutely not. Will they make women of 60 feel like they were 20 again?

To know the truth about hormones you need to learn just two simple facts: (1) The beauty of a woman's skin starts breaking down as signs of age begin, because the female organs fail to supply enough estrogenic hormones to feed the skin—less and less as you grow older. (2) Estrogenic hormones can be supplied to the skin by rubbing on a penetrating formula containing the hormones.

Here is a test reported in a scientific journal, one of many that showed similarly sensational results: Twenty-five women applied hormones to one side of the face and neck, and to one hand. On the other side and the other hand, a similar preparation containing no hormones was applied the same way.

These are the reports in simple words: Skin lines (or dry-skin wrinkles) quickly dimmed or disappeared from sight as creases and hollows filled.

Blotches and "old-age freckles" faded on hands, face and neck. Skin was softer, clearer, seemed to lose its chronic dryness and take on a revived freshness and vitality.

All these amazing things happened on the side where the hormones were used. Meanwhile, no comparable changes occurred on the other side. The same withered, lifeless complexion.

Now to select a good estrogenic hormone preparation. Here is what you need to know: The strength of the hormone preparation must appear on the label! The recommended monthly allotment for the skin is 20,000 International Units. The base should be as rich as possible in penetrating Sesame Oil and moisturizing Lanolin and when "rubbed in" your skin should not feel greasy or sticky. On first application, your skin should feel a fullness and refreshment.

An extra good buy in hormone products today is a preparation called HORMONEX Beauty Serum. It is made by a trustworthy 50-year-old laboratory.

It is inexpensive to use. A 100-day supply costs only $3.50. Look younger quickly. See these dry-skin wrinkles smooth out, starting today!

Bomb Victim Is Recovering In Darkness

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Four weeks ago today Sarah Jean Collins, 12, was eagerly awaiting the start of school. Now she lies in darkness at a hospital.

Sarah Jean was injured in the blast that rocked the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church Sept. 15. Four Negro girls were killed, including her sister, Addie Mae, 14. Sarah Jean's eyes were cut by flying glass.

Sarah Jean's daily existence now is through sounds. She can't do what she likes the most—to read.

Her right eye is covered by a patch; her left eye is uncovered, but swollen and she cannot see through it. Doctors say she will probably regain useful vision.

Nurses say Sarah Jean has moments of deep despondency, and at other times peeps up. Never will she volunteer to talk about the bombing.

EYES HURT

"Sometimes my eyes hurt," she told a visitor Tuesday, running her fingers back and forth across the bandages.

Sarah Jean says she heard about the deaths of the four other girls over the radio. With the others she was getting ready to sing in the choir when the blast went off.

She has a special friend in University Hospital, C. S. Norton, a young Negro who works in the radiology department.

TALKS TO HIM

"She adopted me as her brother, and I've adopted her as my sister," he said. "She talks to me, but she's quiet with most everybody else."

Sarah Jean was asked how she feels about the church bomber now that a full month has passed. Her lips moved once but she said nothing.

Norton answered instead. "Speaking for Sarah—you don't mind if I speak for you, do you Sarah?—she would love to thank people who have been nice to her, for the gifts, dolls, cards and beautiful flowers. I'm sure everyone is praying that she gets her sight back."

"As for the bomber, people are praying for him. We wonder what he would be thinking today, if he had children. No one knows who bombed the church but God. . . . He will face God. We turn this problem over to God, because no one else can solve Birmingham's problems. We leave it up to God to solve them."

Hamilton Fixes Fund Dividends

Over two million dollars will be distributed to Hamilton shareholders or reinvested for them in additional shares on Oct. 31, 1963. The board of directors voted to declare a dividend of 3 1/2 cents per share to all shareholders of record Sept. 30, it was announced by Hamilton President A. R. Tyrone today. This is the 63rd consecutive dividend paid by Hamilton, and continues an uninterrupted record of quarterly payments since the Fund first offered shares more than 15 years ago. The dividend will be paid to more than 250,000 investors most of whom will have the distribution automatically reinvested in additional shares. Total net assets of Hamilton Funds, Inc., on Oct. 1 were more than $315 million.

Hearst's New York Mirror Bows To Financial Distress

NEW YORK (AP)—The financially distressed New York Mirror has ceased publication after 39 years and some of its assets have been sold to the New York Daily News.

"It takes everything I've got to keep from crying," said John Hearst Jr., grandson of the Mirror's founder, the late William Randolph Hearst, when the morning newspaper's demise was announced Tuesday night.

"If we could have economized," added Hearst, associate editor of the Mirror, "we would have done it. Most holes have a bottom, but this one did not seem to have any."

LAST EDITION

The Mirror's last edition rolled off the presses at 2:17 a.m. today.

The death knell had been rumored for months. The confirming announcement came at around 6 p.m.

Wilfred Alexander, president of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild's New York local and shop steward of the union's Mirror unit, read the announcement to 75 editorial employees in the city room. He criticized what he termed the "callous and cold-blooded way this was kept from you."

SEVERANCE PAY

About 1,400 employees lost their jobs. The Mirror said it will distribute in excess of $3 1/2 million in severance pay to them and set up an employment office to help them find new jobs.

Walter Winchell and at least a half-dozen other Mirror columnists will appear in the afternoon New York Journal-American, also owned by the Hearst Corp.

The Hearst Corp. said in announcing the Mirror's sale: "The name, goodwill and other intangible and physical assets of the Mirror have been sold to the New York News."

Drouth Care For Stock Is Outlined

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—The Agricultural Extension service said today that the current dry weather is hitting Texas livestock hard.

Cattle and sheep are wandering around on powder-dry pastures that are not even supporting a good weed crop. Ranges in the driest areas of the state are beginning to look like they did during the seven-year drouth of the 1950's, the Extension Service reported.

Stockmen are particularly worried because of the dry spell's lateness. Fall rains usually produce grass for winter. But this fall, moisture is short and feed supplies are scanty and high priced.

can be taken, however. U. D. Thompson, animal husbandman with the extension service, says the first basic step to take is to get the animals into a pen or trap and feed them if the pasture is gone.

"Generally, it is more economical to feed high-energy feeds, which are higher in cost, than low energy lower cost feeds," Thompson said.

Only the strongest and most valuable stock should be kept under severe conditions. Calves and lambs need weaning as early as possible, and late calves should be sold to prevent cows nursing them during the predicted rough winter coming up. It is easier to winter dry stock than wet stock.

Recruits Pouring In For Algerian Mobilization Call

ALGIERS (AP) — Thousands of Algerians streamed into army barracks today in answer to President Ahmed Ben Bella's general mobilization decree to meet the threat of war with Morocco.

The mobilization decree was issued Tuesday night after more fighting in the disputed outposts after two days of bloody skirmishes.

Ben Bella ordered all former soldiers — estimated to total 30,000 — to report for army service.

Minor Blazes Are Snuffed Out
Firemen extinguished two blazes Tuesday.

A burned out rear axle caused a fire in a car owned by Walter Knox about 3:15 p.m. while the vehicle was on East Third near the Holiday Inn. A rear seat and one tire was damaged.

Fire of undetermined origin caused smoke damage to the floor of a vacant house at Mesquite and Airport Road about 4:45 p.m.

Retired Railroad Man Dies Of Gunshot Wound

Harry Walter Guy, 63, 409 E. 2nd, a retired railroad worker, shot himself to death with a pistol shortly before midnight Tuesday. Walter Grice, justice of the peace, ruled suicide.

The nominating committee includes John Burgess, chairman, Daryl Hobertz, Mrs. Roscoe Newell and R. W. Whipple.

TV Cables Shot
Police Tuesday were investigating complaints that juveniles have been shooting TV cables in the Kentwood Addition with "B-B" guns and pellet rifles. Considerable damage has resulted, according to a police report.

Taking Custody
Sheriff Miller Harris and deputy Bill Whitton are in Fort Worth to take custody of Ralph M. Shahan, wanted here on a worthless check charge.

at the same time efforts continued to negotiate a settlement of the dispute.

Those who answered the mobilization call included numerous young volunteers carried away by the officially whipped-up war fever. Many were clearly too young ever to have fought against the French.

Algerian sources said Ben Bella's call to arms was answered "with spontaneous enthusiasm." Several thousand men reported at the former French Orleans barracks in Algiers.

Despite the atmosphere of crisis, it seemed unlikely that the governments would allow the dispute to degenerate into war.

Mohammed Yazid, former Algerian information minister, and Slimane Hoffman, an aide of Defense Minister Col. Houari Boumediene, flew back to Algiers Tuesday night after a day of talks in Marrakech with King Hassan II of Morocco and other Moroccan leaders.

The two emissaries immediately went into conference with Ben Bella. They took off again at dawn to resume their talks in Marrakech.

There was no official word on the negotiations, but informed sources said little real progress had been made.

Reports from the Sahara said fighting had subsided.

Ditches Cross Birdwell Lane
City water department crews have dug a series of 12 ditches from west to east across Birdwell Lane to connect houses on the east side of the street with water and sewer pipes on the west side, according to Ernest Lillard, public works director.

"When the pipe fittings are completed the ditches will be filled in," Lillard said. He estimated it would be three weeks before installation is completed.

"Paving of Birdwell Lane will not begin until the water and sewer lines are connected onto the main trunk lines on the west side of the street," Lillard said.

Strahan for their exceptional service before retiring from the board. He also lauded Patrick J. Ryan, chamber manager, and Mrs. E. H. McBee for their unstinted service to the chamber and community.

Dinner music was played by Mrs. Lavoy Miller, who also accompanied Michael Connolly, accomplished young baritone, in three numbers. Invocation was by the Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, First Baptist pastor.

FACT BOOK
Among the accomplishments of the past year listed by Snell were completion of the industrial fact book about Lamesa (and in this connection he mentioned the manufacturing plant set up by Charles Burton), a highly successful beautification campaign, highway improvements, airport improvements including base for paving of taxiways, entertaining the 50 Mexican campsinos recently in a goodwill project, joining with the SCS in protesting oilfield brine disposal in open pits, agricultural development including search for deep water.

The Jaycees Miss Lamesa pageant, the girls activities committee, the service of local news media.

Last year, said Clark, there were 1,500 plants in the United States which were installed and could be considered as "industries." Of these, locations were predetermined in 750 instances; another 225 were allocated on a regional basis, leaving 425 open for general competition. Hence, the field is highly competitive.

BETTER JOB
This does not mean the average community can't compete, but it does mean it must do a better job in convincing management that a plant location in that community will yield good returns on investment.

He urged consideration of development of local industrial enterprises which might grow into something big. More consumer based industries are needed. Community appearance and attitude are important, too.

There were visitors present from Midland, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Seminole, Slaton, Andrews, Brownfield, Abilene and Waco. From Big Spring were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Beale, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pickle and David, Mel Stinson, Carlton Chapman, R. L. Heath, Elmo Phillips, Bob Schaff, Bill Read, Carroll Davidson.

Another County Case Settled Without Trial

For the second time this week, a scheduled county court civil jury case has been terminated by agreement, just hours ahead of trial time.

The State of Texas vs. A. P. Kasch et al, a suit over land taken for highway purposes by condemnation, was scheduled to open today in Howard County Court.

The principals met Tuesday night, reviewed the case, and came to an agreement on how to settle their differences. As a result, the jury panel called to report to the court found no work awaiting them and were excused for the week.

Judge Lee Porter had set a number of civil cases for disposition in the weeks ahead.

Earlier this week a trial over a debt, slated for trial Monday terminated, in an agreement making a jury unnecessary.

Roundtable Set Thursday Night

Plans and program assignments for the fall Scout Camp-O-Rec, set for Nov. 2, south of Big Spring, will be outlined at the Scout Leaders' Roundtable at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the old student union building at HCJC.

E. G. Patton will be in charge. Demonstrations of skills will be shown, Bill McRee, Scout executive, said Wednesday.

Club Meeting
KNOTT—The Knott Boys Club met Monday night at the Lloyd Robinson home with 24 present, including seven adults. A short business session was followed by a yard party.

Erhard Officially Takes German Chancellor's Post

BONN, Germany (AP)—Ludwig Erhard, who directed West Germany's miraculous postwar economic recovery, was elected chancellor today to succeed Konrad Adenauer.

West Germany's lower house, the Bundestag, voted 279-180 to elevate the 66-year-old Erhard to the top government spot left vacant by Adenauer's reluctant retirement Tuesday. There were 24 abstentions and one invalid vote.

Erhard needed 250 votes to win. His Christian Democrats were joined by their partners in the coalition government, the Free Democrats. The Socialists voted against him.

The chancellor will go before the Bundestag later today to take the oath of office. He will present his new Cabinet to President Heinrich Lübke Thursday.

Erhard has been economic minister throughout Adenauer's tenure as West Germany's only chancellor since the Federal Republic was created in 1949. Adenauer made no secret that he felt Erhard incapable of filling his shoes. He retired at 87 only under extreme pressure from other leaders of his party.

Erhard has promised to follow Adenauer's basic foreign policies of support for the Western Alliance, demand for German reunification and reconciliation with France.

But he is expected to show less resistance to U.S. efforts to ease cold war tensions and to open up the European Common Market to trade with the rest of the free world. That will be the big difference.

Barring the unexpected, Erhard will serve the two years until the 1963 general election. But in that campaign he will face a tough battle trying to regain a Bundestag majority for the Christian Democrats. Opinion polls show the Socialists have become the country's most popular party, although Erhard personally is strongly approved by the voters.

DAILY GUIDE—Either make up your mind to rest more or slow down a little on this last day of the waning moon, or, if you have to push through some extra work, don't dillydally. You can count on its being more difficult to bring off swimming against the tide.

But do remember that it is possible to go against the tide if you are strong enough, skillful and confident. If you haven't got what it takes don't attempt it with the odds against you.

Big projects that have been in the making could fail today, so watch the news for developments of world events.

Librarians should work through others who could give them opportunities. Arians might bring off something important, but they had better use their best judgment or they could lose the gamble.

Some nervous concern for hidden matters could be increased in the summer, when either extra work or worry over your health or work could bring difficulties. Finish financial details this week, then be extra careful of spending next June.

Plans Discussed For Observance

Tentative plans were made Monday evening for this year's observance of Veterans Day at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital.

Six representatives from the various Veterans Service organizations of Big Spring were on hand for the meeting at the VA Hospital.

The observance will begin at 10 a. m. Nov. 11. Gold Star Mothers will again be guests of honor and escort service will be provided for patients who wish to attend. A social hour immediately following the ceremony will be sponsored by the Veterans of World War I Auxiliary.

Arrangements for a speaker, color guard and band will be announced when they have been confirmed.

Jury Finds Lopez Guilty, Gets Five Year Sentence

By SAM BLACKBURN
Jose Nunez Lopez, 38, admitted ex-convict, Tuesday night was found guilty of murder without malice and his punishment fixed at five years in the state penitentiary.

A district court jury, after deliberating nearly six hours, found Lopez guilty of the death of Gloria Gomez, and fixed his penalty at the maximum possible on a murder without malice conviction.

The jurors apparently did not believe the story that Lopez told from the stand Tuesday afternoon—that he had slapped Gloria, "the woman I loved," two times with his open hand when she called him a "dirty name." They obviously preferred to accept the story of Carol Ann Thomas, 16-year-old Negro girl who lived next door to the Gomez woman.

HEARD SCREAMS
She told of hearing screams from the Gomez apartment on the evening of March 23. She went to the door of the apartment, she testified, and, looking into the room, saw a man she said was Lopez astride Gloria on the bed, pummeling the woman with his fists.

Gloria, both eyes blackened, her face a mass of bruises, was found dead three days later in her bed. An autopsy showed death had been caused by massive blows injuring the brain.

Annie Mae Thomas, 15, a sister of Carol Ann, was the final witness heard in the case. She was presented as a rebuttal state witness.

Gil Jones, district attorney, had asked Lopez in cross examination if he had talked with this girl about the case after Gloria's death. Lopez denied such a meeting.

Annie Mae said that a few days after the death of Gloria, she was emptying trash into the garbage can when Lopez approached her.

"He asked me if I was the one who saw him up at Gloria's house," the girl testified. "He said if I wouldn't tell it was him — at Gloria's house — he would pay me if I would say it was her husband."

The "husband" mentioned was Rito Gomez, actually Gloria's brother-in-law. Her husband is in prison, it was said, and Rito was living with her.

Lopez sought in his testimony to imply that Rito was the man who had fatally beaten the woman. He told of the man asking him if he was "seeing" Gloria. Lopez said he told Rito that he was and that "Rito said he would take care of the matter."

Lopez said that on March 23, the day of the fight he had with Gloria, that he and the woman began drinking at 8 a.m. They had consumed three fifths and two pints of wine between them during the day, he said.

He said Gloria called him a "dirty name" when he was reluctant to get more wine and that he slapped her twice with his open hand. She grabbed a pair of scissors, he testified, and sought to stab him. He said he twisted the scissors out of her hand. Then, he said, he left. He denied he beat her as the Thomas girl said he had. He also insisted that he did not see the Thomas girl nor did he talk with her sister later about the case.

The final testimony in the case was heard at 4 p.m. The charge was drawn up and read and the argument by the attorneys closed at 6:30 p.m. The jury began deliberation at that hour.

It reported at 11:30 p.m. it was ready to hand in its verdict. The court accepted the verdict and discharged the jurors. The jury included two women and 10 men.

STARTED MONDAY

The case had been started Monday. Lopez was the third of three defendants accused of murder whose cases had been tentatively docketed for trial this week. His case had not been expected to come up however—the plans had been made for the state to try James Monroe Steward for the murder of Travis Hicks. This case failed to be ready and was passed. The second matter on the docket, that of George Ives, charged with the murder of Loma Flippen O'Neal, was also passed when the defense moved for a continuance, pleading insufficient time to prepare their case.

This brought Lopez before the bar as the sole defendant ready for trial.

Down, But Up
This big truck and trailer skidded during a heavy rain storm near Pismo, Calif., Tuesday, smashed through a heavy cement guard rail and wound up doing a head stand. Highway Patrol officers said a chain which connected the second trailer to the truck kept it from rolling over. The second trailer lies on its side on the highway above. The driver, Harold Almanrode, 52, of Danville, Calif., suffered a broken wrist and multiple contusions. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Farmer's Sheep Get Warm Coats

CASTLE CARROCK, England (AP) — Farmer William Wilson is putting his 2,000 sheep in sheep's clothing for the winter.

The sheep are being clad in special coats of jute sackings, made to Wilson's design at 70 cents each at an Edinburgh factory.

He whipped up such coats to protect the best sheep of his flock during last winter's severe weather and liked the results.

"They not only keep the sheep snug and warm," he said, "but they make the fleece thicker and softer."

Club Given Tax Briefing

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, Howard County Tax Assessor - Collector, told Rotarians about the poll tax situation at Tuesday's meeting.

"The constitutional amendment, to be voted on by Texans Nov. 9, is to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting but not for the tax itself. A 25-cent fee for registration will be charged if the amendment passes. If you pay your poll tax beforehand you can get no refund. If the amendment is defeated, and if two more states ratify the amendment to the federal Constitution, we can issue a tax receipt for federal voting which you cannot use for state and local elections," she said.

"If the amendment does pass you will have to register between Oct. 1 and Jan. 31 in the county in which you live. If you move to another county you are given an opportunity to transfer within a certain length of time. Exemption certificates, issued to those over 60 years of age, will be handled as formerly."

Dave Duncan used the remaining time to give members an "IQ" test. Right or wrong, the person giving answers to questions, was "fined" 50 cents or $1 and the money turned to the Heart Fund. Approximately $30 was collected.

Two new members were introduced to the club. They were J. M. (Johnny) Hill, and Alex Farrah.

Ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's. (I Corinthians 6:20.)

PRAYER: O Lord, help us to realize how great is Thy love for us. Teach us to have reverent hearts filled with love and gratitude. May our lives find expression in dedication and service to Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Impossible Job

Who among us can name offhand President Herbert Hoover's secretary of agriculture—Arthur M. Hyde? On the other hand, who can forget the secretary of agriculture who has succeeded Hyde?

It is a list of prophets without honor. Henry A. Wallace, Claude R. Wickard, Clinton P. Anderson, Charles F. Brannan, Ezra Taft Benson, Orville L. Freeman. Even in retirement they have heard their names used in vain.

The cause is not hard to find. The date coincides with the moment in our history when the farm problem was lifted bodily from the economic sector of the economy and placed squarely in the political sector. Ever since then farmers have been loved to death by politicians and have joined with a wide variety of individuals to denounce the cause of the farm mess; The current secretary of agriculture, Congress seldom gets blamed, of course, and the President even more rarely. But the secretary always.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and an articulate critic of farm policies for as long as many farmers can remember, summed up the situation recently when he was asked if he would be interested in serving as secretary of agriculture.

"I'd run so fast they couldn't catch me," Shuman said. "I don't think any living man can be a success as secretary of agriculture with farm legislation in its present patchwork state." The record speaks eloquently for itself.

Shadow Of Der Alte

Autumn, a time of transition, has special meaning and significance this year for West Germans. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, undisputed architect and conscience of post-World War II Germany, has retired.

His successor, Ludwig Erhard, too long a bridesmaid, is now, finally, a bride. The two have had sharp disagreements in the past. The opportunity for many other sharp public disagreements have come and gone in recent weeks, unexplored by Erhard in the euphoria of Adenauer's leave taking.

But there have been ominous signs of late. Adenauer has prepared a suite of offices in the Bundeshaus. Secretaries have been employed. The dark suspicion arises that he will not break cleanly with the government of West Germany. He has retained the chairmanship of the Christian Democratic Union. He is beginning to act like the mother-in-law who won't go home.

For his part, Erhard, an aggressive, dynamic and often ruthless individual obviously expects to be master in his own house. That he may not be complete master undoubtedly has occurred to him. But he cannot know the full consequences of succeeding so awesome an individual as Adenauer.

There is every reason to believe that Adenauer will not hesitate to meddle whenever the mood strikes him. It is a cross that Erhard will not bear in silence. Therefore the "temporary" capital of Bonn will probably be enlivened by the old schoolmaster stricturing his pupil and his pupil responding resentfully.

An end of an era is at hand in West Germany this fall. But the prospect of a "new" Germany, refreshed by new and invigorating ideas, of a willingness to test new approaches to East-West tension, will be clouded for some time by the powerful reviving looks and word of the old patriarch. Erhard can only hope with the poet that if winter come, can spring be far behind?

Bungling In The Kremlin

WASHINGTON — When the Soviet troops blocked United States armored units on the way to West Berlin a few days ago and suddenly increased tension, there were two schools of thought here. One was that the step was deliberately undertaken in Moscow to warm up the "cold war"—an alleged act of duplicity. The other view, which this writer shared, was that the episode arose because in the top-heavy bureaucracy in Moscow the left hand doesn't know what the right hand is doing. The whole thing was apparently the result of the cumbersome and clumsy methods of handling the relations between the Army and the policy-making committees in the Kremlin.

FOR IT WAS hardly plausible that, while Foreign Minister Gromyko was in Washington conferring with President Kennedy about improving relations between the two governments, anybody high up in the Soviet government would choose this very time to bring about a new crisis over the routine passage of United States armored cars and troops to Berlin.

The Soviet government is in most respects a one-man government, but the Kremlin has committees which endeavor to function upon the basis of detailed "party-line" plans or outlines of policy. Often instructions issued to the Army, for instance, are not revised or changed in time to meet new diplomatic developments.

SOME OF THE erratic courses of action which emerge are never explained to the outside world. Thus, for example, the Soviet government functions under an internal censorship. The censors on some occasions take a little time to find out whether they should suppress or allow publication of certain news. Just recently, when news was flashed around the world that the United States might be willing to sell wheat to the Communist bloc countries, the Soviet newspapers on the following day printed nothing about it. A few days later, all of them were praising the idea.

Billy Graham

I want to be in the will of God, but I am afraid I will be changed emotionally if I go to Christian meetings.—M. J.

The statement which you made, "I can't seem to commit myself to God," is the key to your difficulty. You say you are afraid of being changed emotionally, and yet it is obvious that you need to be spiritually transformed. It is a paradox to say that you want to be in the will of God, and in the next breath say that you can't commit yourself to Him. God has given you a will, and you have the power to exercise it for good or for evil. Our Lord taught: "If any man do this will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God."

As to your fear of being changed emotionally, I would say that with the uncertainty you harbor, you need to have your emotions changed. Never fear that any change which God works will be damaging. The change that He will bring will be for the better, for "He doeth all things well." Put the weight of your faith in Christ. He has never disappointed anyone who came in full commitment and dedication.

Go-Slow Is Congress Policy On Tax Cut

James Marlow is on vacation. In his absence his column will be written by Washington and New York Associated Press Staffers. Today's column is by writer Wick Temple.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Everybody would like to get a pay raise. That, in effect, is what the bill to cut federal taxes by $11 billion would amount to — more take-home pay. So, impatient taxpayers, weary of delay, may be excused for asking:

Why does the Senate Finance Committee have to go over ground already covered by the House Ways and Means Committee in nine months of work on the bill? Why couldn't the Senate and House committees meet jointly, and whip the whole thing together at the same time? Or why couldn't the Senate committee go to its separate work in advance of House passage of a tax bill?

TAKING THESE things in order: Tradition — Legislation dealing with taxes has to originate in the House — the Constitution requires it — and senators traditionally have hung back until the House finished its work.

This has been true not only of the present Senate Finance Committee under Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., but also of committees in previous Congresses, under Republican as well as Democratic chairmen. Practically — Until the House Ways and Means Committee finishes its public and executive hearings, there literally isn't a tax bill in existence. The House hearings are held on the President's tax message, not a bill.

BYRD and other chairmen have contended it would be a waste of time for the Senate committee to hold hearings on something that may not be in the House bill at all. Until the House sends over a bill, interested witnesses have no clear idea of what the Senate has to deal with.

The Senate acts as a sort of court of appeals for officials of the executive branch of the government and others who want to ask changes in what the House has voted. In this situation it makes sense to wait and see what various interests might want to appeal.

VANITY AND Prestige—The House Ways and Means Committee is a powerful one, and proud of it. Its members would hardly be eager to hold joint sessions with senators, as senators have something of a reputation for stealing the show when they get a chance.

Hal Boyle

Orval Meets Civilization

Hal Boyle is on vacation. Today's column is by Associated Press Staff writer Joy Stille.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—You get a frantic phone call at the office from your extrafrantic wife, who says, "Well, they just got Orval."

In addition to anger and concern, you are filled with curiosity. The methods "Orval" might use for getting "Orval" are important because you have never been able to get him yourself. "How did they get him?" I asked.

"They shot him. He has three bullet holes in his side."

YOU ARE enraged. You call the sheriff and get him on the way to extract three bullets from the side of a brown and tan, sway-backed, cross-eyed, top-croked, bow-legged dog who should have happened to someone else.

It turned out Orval hadn't been shot. The yet said he had been in an argument with another dog. Seventeen stitches put him back together and ran his repair bill past $50.

Two weeks earlier he had caught a Volkswagen. After stitching, he appeared to have been cut in half and put back together, and he still looks that way.

ORVAL spent his first six months as a free agent in Gay Woods. Finally he made his way to the city and was about to be impounded when we gave him refuge. He made a fine pet. He was gentle and playful. But he never lost the wildness of his youth. A backyard fence (no small purchase) wouldn't hold him. He dug under until we had to reinforce the base of the fence with logs.

Then he learned how to paw open the back screen door, dash through the house, throw a body block on the front screen door, and roll call. Once he was out, he paid no attention to calls and he was impossible to catch. I consulted the vet. He decided Orval had emotional problems, brought on by lack of proper upbringing. He suggested various kindnesses and painstaking training.

IT DIDN'T work. The neighborhood was giving not-so-tactful suggestions about what should be done with him.

They one day as we were ready to leave on a trip, Orval pulled his through-the-house and away trick. I was angry. I went after him. Rage gave me superhuman speed. The chase led three times around the house, across the road and through a patch of thick woods. Finally I made a flying dive and nailed him, and when he looked meekly up at me, I knew Orval was tamed.

In those big brown eyes I saw respect, the trademark of civilization. And as I carried him home I felt a little triumphant, a little sad, and a little guilty.

To Your Good Health

More Answers About Anesthesia

This is the second of a series of three articles about anesthesia.

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. We'll continue to answer questions posed in yesterday's letter from Mrs. E. W. H., the woman who had such a worrisome time with anesthesia and her operation.

Q. Why is a "saline solution" given intravenously?

A. The salt water, injected into a vein, bolsters the blood pressure which tends to decline under anesthesia. An injection also is a convenient method of giving sugar (calories) and various medications to the patient while he is either unconscious, or needs rest, or may be too ill to take them by mouth.

Q. Pentothal brings unconsciousness very fast. Is it a hypnotic drug? Does the patient just sleep or does he respond to commands? Is he apt to be talkative?

A. Yes, pentothal brings unconsciousness rapidly. Depending on the amount given, the patient might be talkative (it is one of the drugs which is used in small quantities as a "truth serum"). Although it doesn't necessarily force the truth, it makes lying difficult. With increased quantity the patient responds to commands; a little more, and he "goes to sleep" entirely, in which case he won't respond.

A light dose often is used for short surgical procedures, such as opening a carbuncle or removing a cyst. The advantage is brevity of effect; the patient quickly regains consciousness, and the shorter the time one needs to remain under anesthesia, the better.

Q. Why do some people fight anesthesia—even those who are normally cooperative?

A. There are various phases of anesthesia. The first is excitement and over-activity. The patient may seem to resist the anesthesia. This is normal. If you used a stop watch, you would find this phase to be very brief. As the anesthesia takes hold, the patient yields and relaxes into sleep.

Q. What is the purpose of the tube in the throat? Should it be inserted while the patient is awake, even though some discomfort is involved?

A. It has two main purposes. One is to prevent the tongue from blocking the airway in the back of the throat. The other is to permit "intratracheal anesthesia," which is used generally in some instances, but more particularly when surgery involves the throat, neck or mouth.

There are times when the tube should be inserted before anesthesia; other times the reverse. I decline to stipulate which, any more than I would try to set down a rule for a quarterback to follow on an "option play," or else to advise a woman when she can handle her husband best by "blowing her top" or by using the "coax" technique.

Tomorrow, the rest of the questions from Mrs. E. W. H.

Dear Dr. Molner: What good may be derived from drinking six ounces of sauerkraut juice before breakfast?—W. C.

I can't think of any—and will counter with my own question: Who said it would?

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Coming Around Full Cycle

Adorning the lobby of our post office is the first all fresco mural done by the celebrated artist, Peter Hurd. It is good enough that it attracted Life magazine on one occasion to make a faithful color reproduction. Numerous other publications and amateur photographers have sought to capture its effectiveness.

ASIDE FROM Peter Hurd's skill, which needs no promotion, one of the reasons for the mural's fame is Hurd's understanding of the subject matter. His own background is rooted in the Southwestern frontier, and he looks and acts more like a cowboy than what some imagine a painter to be.

The scene centers around the family and its humble abode on the prairie. This was the dugout, the sod house.

Our own part of the country settled so rapidly, once it did attract settlers, that the dugout wasn't too common for too long. It seemed as if overnight the Indians had been pushed out, the buffalo herds decimated, and the country opened and fed by a railroad.

BUT THOSE HEARTY souls who came ahead, and those who lived far away from the settlement took refuge in what was the quickest, easiest and most economical shelter to be had. Frequently, particularly among those batching, the answer was simply a hole in the ground. It was a dugout, pure and simple. It was dusty, musty, dark and creepy. Light came from a lantern, lamp or candle.

Couples and families required something a little better, when it could be arranged, and the half-dugout represented a step up the housing ladder. Lacking materials for walls, blocks of sod were laid much like we lay concrete blocks today. Crude openings were left for shutters, and hewn poles covered with a thatching and more sod probably formed the roof.

THE SHELTER, however, was relatively warm during the bitter blue northerners and blizzards, and despite a lack of circulation, it was comparatively cool in summer until by late afternoon it had soaked an unbearable amount of heat.

As transportation and fortunes both improved, the simple box structure took over from the sodhouse and dugout. It was indeed a box with strips nailed vertically across the cracks. This slowed—and only slowed—the sand and wind.

IN TIME THERE came the porch, then the two-story house with its gables, and the steep pitched roof, and the high ceiling. By the 1930's, the roof line began to come down and after the war better insulations—with help of air conditioners—helped to flatten or almost flatten the roof pitch. Windows were raised again to chest height, the walls nestled to the ground. On steep terrain, split levels sometime put part of the house partly underground. Makes you wonder if the sodhouse and dugout are on their way back.

She'll Hear From Goose Bay

Once upon a time, and it seems light years ago, the traveler who flew back and forth across the Atlantic with any degree of regularity was thoroughly at home at Gander, Newfoundland, Stephenville, Nova Scotia and Goose Bay, Labrador.

These were the lonely bases, the Northern airfields on which the old propeller-driven planes, flying the Great Circle route across the Atlantic, set down to refuel on both the eastward and westward journeys.

THOSE REFUELING bases were seared into the traveler's very soul, for the simple reason that he hated them with a passion worthy of a better cause. They were bleak, windswept, solitary and usually consisted of Quonset huts or other barracks architecture.

To have to spend a night at Gander in the old days, if the weather across the Atlantic was terrible or there was some mechanical difficulty with the plane, was comparable to a sentence to Siberia. At least, that's the way the passengers carried on.

POOR GANDER! Since most of the old props stopped there rather than at Stephenville or Goose Bay, it shared a reputation with the Black Hole of Calcutta. But, then, Gander pulled herself together and built a beautiful air terminal, with charming and comfortable facilities for passengers. It was completed the very year the jets began to span the Atlantic in one single hop!

In the ensuing four years Gander has ceased even to be a legend. Goose Bay and Stephenville have faded from travel memory, too. I never gave them a thought two days ago when I took off from Copenhagen for New York in one of Scandinavian Airlines System's DC-8s. It was to be only an 8½-hour flight compared to 15 hours in the prop age.

BUT, EVEN as in the prop days, SAS still nails the passenger's accustomed feet to the plane floor and stuffs him like a Strasbourg Goose, with delicious food from take-off to touch-down. Passengers were happily destroying slabs of roast beef when the pilot came on the intercom to announce that we had been battling a 150-mile-an-hour headwind for three hours and would stop at Goose Bay to replenish the fuel consumed in the duel with the wind.

TOWARD GOOSE Bay, as the sun set, we flew over the gloriously fascinating icecap that is Greenland, a white world punctuated only by fjords of steel water, icebergs and granite peaks swept bare by the wind. It is one of the most beautiful and awesome flights in the world.

By the time the plane settled down on the Goose Bay runway, it was dark. The DC-8 door was opened by a mechanic who seemed overjoyed to see all 105 of us. The truth is, he was. Planes don't come into Goose Bay nowadays, and it gets kind of lonely.

EVEN THE LIGHT over the main door of the old barracks waiting room was dark and he rushed ahead to turn it on. (And no health officer to scrutinize us and our vaccination cards as in the old days, either.)

Well, sir, it was a new world in the Far North. The passenger lounge had been halved. The dining room had vanished. There was not even a coffee counter to still passenger clamor for a hot drink, despite all that food on the plane. And certainly there was no bar.

The only person in the old passenger terminal was a discouraged-looking young man behind the six-foot counter of a small souvenir shop. His goods looked dusty and shoptown. He quickly sold out his small stock of chocolate bars and Life Savers. A few souls bought Goose Bay pennants of pseudo-felt at 50 cents each.

GOOSE BAY was never Times Square. But in the old days, when a plane came in to refuel, it was at least lively. Now, it seemed sad and dingier than ever.

When the plane was refueled there was a rush to climb aboard. And some wit muttered, "It may be all right to live in Goose Bay, but I wouldn't visit there if you gave me the place."

Sticking Our Fist Into The Ground

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Nobody at President Kennedy's recent press conference, when he announced the Wheat Deal with Russia, had the nerve or the handy knowledge to ask his comment on this very pertinent statement by Lenin:

"It is necessary," Lenin declared on Dec. 21, 1920, "to bribe capitalism with extra profit... and we will get the basics (equipment) with the aid of which we will strengthen ourselves, will finally get up on our feet and then defeat it (capitalism) economically."

HOW THE President would have explained our willingness to fall into this well-marked trap, I do not know—for there is no rational answer: The greedy monkey which reaches into a gourd, clamps its fist around a bit of food, and thus gets captured because it is unwilling to release the bait and withdraw its paw, has no rational explanation either.

Yet, I'm afraid, there is an historical answer which the history-minded President could have given. When it was contemplated in the 1840's to annex Texas; at the price of war with Mexico, Sen. John C. Calhoun warned us that we were reaching for "forbidden fruit" by conquest. When Treasury Secretary McAdoo in Wilson's Administration arranged to insure American ships in the Atlantic trade and thereby insure "profit," it was another example of taking the fast dollar and ignoring the consequences.

THERE ARE, alas, too many such examples from American history when the money seemed more important than the principle and the long-range outcome. The Mexican War, along with our seizure of the Panama Canal Zone, is still proof positive in Latin America that we are imperialists—and the reputation will not die, because our enemies will not let it die. The lucrative arms-trade of 1914-17 brought profits of $13 billion, as estimated by John Dos Passos in his book called "Mr. Wilson's War." But the disastrous consequences of our entering that European War are still being spun out.

WHAT WILL be the consequences of the Wheat Deal? There is a good deal of ready evidence to show what happens whenever the Western World has been beguiled by money-making into selling useful goods to the Soviet Union.

Likewise, during and after World War II—up to about 1947—the U. S. A. poured not only war supplies but a billion dollars worth of industrial tools into the Soviet Union, as Mr. Gwyer told the Senate subcommittee. No doubt, this contribution helped to make possible the Soviet Sputnik triumph of 1957. And now, to Russia, has come another time "to bribe capitalism with extra profit." A crisis has occurred in Soviet industry and agriculture, requiring outside help. It is help we would never give, as we give foreign aid, for the frank purpose of uplifting another nation's economy.

NO, WE ARE doing it for very wrong reasons—to unload our wheat surpluses and to get gold. If, like the greedy monkey, we find ourselves captured, with a clutched fist around the bait, history will have to write that Lenin warned us—but that President Kennedy did not.

Montgomery Ward's Service Personnel

Larry Boggs, left, TV service; Leon Cain, service manager; Joe Whirley, general repair service, and Peggy Freeland, service clerk, stand beside one of the company's new service trucks to speed up calls to homes or to pick up and deliver appliances needing repair.

Ward's Service Handled By Three Trained Men

Montgomery Ward's service department has three men trained in technical service to handle service on all types of appliances and equipment. The company provides the technical training for the service, and the men have been with the firm for several years.

Leon Cain, service manager, has been with Montgomery Ward 26 years. His technical training is on refrigeration and he can repair most makes.

Joe Whirley, service man, is trained in refrigerator repair, gas engine products, laundry equipment, and small appliances. He has been with Montgomery Ward seven years.

Larry Boggs, who has been with Montgomery Ward three years, is trained in electronics, and is qualified to service black and white, or color television sets, and radios, including all makes.

The service department clerk is Peggy E. Freeland, with Wards one and a half years.

Extended warranties are available on most major appliances sold by Montgomery Ward. These are sold to eliminate the worry of unexpected repair bills. When the repairs are necessary, however, rates are fair, and the purchaser doesn't have to pay cash. The service charge is simply added to his account.

Two new service trucks speed the men to homes to repair large appliances. Those which cannot be repaired in the home are picked up and delivered by Ward's.

Montgomery Ward stocks all kinds and types of appliances,

Driving Fun Increased With Royal Master Tires

If you've never tried the U.S. Royal Master "The Safety Tire You Never Have to Replace," you have missed the real pleasure of driving. They are sold locally by Phillips Tire Co. Fourth and Johnson.

It is the tire U.S. built to "keep in the trunk." The tires are available for passenger cars, and trucks, and carry a comprehensive service guarantee. They will pay for themselves with 56 per cent more mileage than other tires.

The famous U.S. Royal method of bonding rubber to fabric insures the tenacious hold that will not "turn loose" and "let you down" on the road at high speeds. The low profile Master prevents costly accidents, improves car handling, and increases riding comfort in the car. It has the greatest stopping power on the road, and furnishes the greatest blowout protection at all speeds.

Ted Phillips, at Phillips Tire Co., invites car owners interested in extra safety to come by the store and "talk tires." Truck and tractor owners may also get guaranteed tires, for all sizes of vehicles, at the store.

For all types of service, pertaining to tires, the Phillips Tire Co. can satisfy the most exacting owner of any kind of vehicle. The better the service rendered the less expensive it becomes for all vehicle owners. It adds to the feeling of safety.

Phillips Tire Co. also furnishes all services where tires are concerned. Your old tires may be recapped if the carcass is good and will give you many more miles of excellent service.

If the wheels on your car are out of balance, causing tires to wear, Phillips can remedy that. If you have an old jalopy, on which you do not want to put new tires, the company has a good line of used tires.

U.S. Royal manufacturers adopted a bonding agent which keeps treads from turning loose from the fabric on tires. The famous four-inch bonded strip-tread, in which a standard automobile was lifted 15 feet off the ground, and held while a helicopter flew in a circle, resulted in U.S. Royal's adoption of the method.

The living record of history as it happens is at your finger tips every day — in your daily newspaper. It tells you in words what is going on, and it shows you who makes news — and how they do it — in pictures.

WORLD NEWS

WORLD EVENTS

World happenings, as well as national, state and local events, are recorded in depth and detail, for your hasty scanning or leisurely study. And, like other history books, all is permanently recorded for future reference.

Thousands of trained, alert journalists throughout America and around the world search out the news that it is your right to know. They dig out the facts to keep you informed. And your newspaper, through its wire services and its own editorial staff, produces your daily history book.

There is one thing that everyone, everywhere, has in common, and that is the constant hunger for news. It is a hunger which must be satisfied every day — a hunger which is expressed in this one absorbing question — What's happening today?

LOCAL NEWS

You must know what is happening in your own town. You must know what is happening in politics, sports and society. You must know what is happening in your city hall, in Washington, in the capitals of Europe.

You can depend on your newspaper for complete, objective news reporting. It's the best way to keep abreast of all the news, every day.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Lee Has Come Long Way, Says Baird

Big Spring's next football foe, Midland Lee, is a club that has come a long way since the 1962 season began and is destined to go a lot farther.

So says Roy Baird, who scouted the Rebels for the Steers last Friday night against Abilene Cooper.

The score of the Lee-Cooper game was enough to forewarn the Steers that trouble will be brewing when they take the field against Lee Friday night in Midland.

Lee all but ran Cooper out of the park, winning by a score of 42-13. Previously, the Rebels had lost to Lubbock High, 7-0, and Amarillo Tascosa, 18-8, and won over El Paso Austin, 22-6.

Baird says Lee's best running backs are Bucky Kimble, who has been playing halfback but who piled up plenty of experience at quarterback last year; and Scott Rogers. Rogers missed last year's game with Big Spring due to an injury.

The Rebels' top linemen, according to the Big Spring scout, are Kim Hammond, 182-pound tackle; Terry Schreiner, 189-pound center; and Tommy Casbeer, 195-pound guard.

Bill Newton, 169 pounds, has been calling the signals for the Lee team and has been doing a creditable job. Chuck Loftin, a good blocker, is the other Lee back.

Baird says the Rebels have tremendous team spirit and incentive. According to Roy, the

OU's Dismissed Halfback

Joe Don Looney, halfback on the University of Oklahoma football team, who last year led the nation in punting and was fifth in yards gained rushing, has been dismissed from the team by coach Bud Wilkinson. Wilkinson said the decision to dismiss Looney was the result of an accumulation of incidents and that he had been concerned with the halfback's attitude toward practice. Looney said, "I admit I loaf some of the time—not always." (AP WIREPHOTO)

Joe Don Was Fall Guy, Says Poppa

By NORMAN ROWLAND
NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson, obviously upset over charges that he was looking for a scapegoat when he dismissed halfback Joe Don Looney, said "It was just something that had to be done."

Looney said if he had had a good day against Texas, and if Oklahoma had won, "everything would have been okay." And his father, Don Looney of Fort Worth, Tex., a former star at Texas Christian said, "somebody's got to be the fall guy for losing to Texas. I guess Joe Don is it."

Wilkinson disagreed Tuesday. "I don't think Joe Don lost the Texas game for us," Wilkinson said. "No individual is going to lose a game by himself."

Wilkinson said the decision to oust Looney, who led the nation in punting last season and was fifth in yards gained rushing, resulted from an accumulation of incidents.

But the final decision, he said, came when several team leaders came to his office Monday morning.

"They told me they thought the presence of Looney on the squad was hurting the team," Wilkinson said.

"Until then, I had no intention of kicking Joe Don off the team," Wilkinson said. "But I had an understanding with the team leaders that if Joe Don's attitude became infectious and began hurting the team, he would have to go."

Wilkinson said he had been concerned with Looney's attitude toward practice ever since the 224-pound speedster transferred to Oklahoma from Cameron Junior College at Lawton, Okla.

"I tried to talk him into leaving the team after last season," Wilkinson said. "I told him I didn't think he would be able to

Celts Will Miss Cousy, Says Coach Auerbach

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Damn right we'll miss him," storms Red Auerbach. "How could we not miss him? How do you lose No. 1 and not feel it?"

Auerbach, fiery coach of the Boston Celtics, was replying to the oft-asked question about how the Celtics are going to do without the services of Bob Cousy, the backcourt ace and team leader of the National Basketball Association champions.

Cousy, the Celtics' "Mr. Basketball" and sparkplug of the team that won a record five straight league championships, has retired after 13 seasons.

The absence of the 13-time league all-star, two franchise shifts and a new league commissioner provide a new look to the NBA as the league opens its 18th season.

New look or no, the old question remains: Who's going to beat the Celtics?

They won the Eastern title by 10 games last year and are favored to repeat. Cousy is gone, Lee team is fast jelling as one of District 2-AAAA's most potent teams and he feels it is better to meet them now than later in the season.

Lee makes good use of the traps and cross blocks, something that has given the Steers trouble for a long time now.

Baird reminded the Steers that the Rebels had 18 lettermen back from last season and, in addition, benefitted from the promotions of an undefeated B team—regarded last year as the best in West Texas.

The Big Spring scout, however, said he thought the Rebels could be beaten if the Steers got off the deck following their 12-6 loss to Odessa High last week and showed the kind of fight they displayed against Snyder and Wichita Falls. Anything short of maximum effort will not get the job done, Baird warned.

The Steers haven't recovered from their injuries suffered over a period of several weeks. Johnny Hughes, who underwent an appendectomy, is definitely out this week. His punting will be missed, although DeeRoby Gartman filled in well at that position against Odessa.

Rica Flores, a two-year letterman, probably won't play against Lee. His ankle is still bothering him. He tried the leg Monday but with discouraging results.

Don White, a fiery center, is still favoring a leg injury he suffered on the first play of the game against Odessa. Larry Jones, defensive tackle, probably will get to play this week against Lee although he is still bothered with his ankle. He didn't even suit out against Odessa.

Rickey Earle suffered, an ankle sprain against Odessa and is a doubtful starter against Lee.

The coaching staff moved Dick Irons to the middle line-backer's spot, replacing Gartman.

The Steers are due to go at it hard again today, then taper off with light drills Thursday.

Ross Montgomery, Midland High, continues to lead the District 2-AAAA football scoring race with a total of 46 points.

Bill McKinnon, Abilene Cooper, is relatively close to Montgomery, however, with 38 points while two boys, Bucky Kimble of Midland Lee and Mack Lawrence, Midland High, are third with 28 points each.

Willie Pep Is Named To Hall

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Pep, a dapper, dandy dancer whose flying hands and feet earned him the world featherweight title and the nickname "Will o' the Wisp," is the latest addition to Boxing's Hall of Fame.

"It is nice news," said Pep when advised of his selection. "I was surprised that I got it now."

Now a sales representative for a radio company in Brockton, Mass., Pep said "I miss boxing very much. It was an exciting life and it gave you a chance to meet a lot of very nice people."

Light-footed Willie, now 41, was one of the fastest, most clever boxers in modern history. He won the featherweight title in 1

Scribe Picks Hogs To Topple Texas

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A normal football season usually is made up of an equal number of hills and valleys. The Texas University team was at the top of the hill last week when it defeated Oklahoma and took over the honor of being rated the nation's No. 1 college team.

Arkansas was down in the valley, dropping its second of the fall season. The defeat this time was by Baylor and the two setbacks were by a total of five points. This Saturday Arkansas gets revenge by beating Texas. That's this week's blue-plate special. Last week's menu almost was devoid of attractions with 34 correct picks and 15 losers for .694. That dropped the season's total to 143-57 for .715.

Other selections for the coming week: Wisconsin over Iowa; Brandt of the Badgers may not outpitch Fred Riddle of Iowa, but the Wisconsin star will get more help from his teammates. Pittsburgh over West Virginia: The West Virginians too big for their own good.

Mississippi over Tulane: Tulane has been shut out in three of four games this season while Mississippi's potent defense has held three opponents to only 13 points.

Southern California over Ohio State: The Trojans get back on the winning track after their loss to Notre Dame.

Oklahoma over Kansas: The disorganized Sooners pull themselves together.

Illinois over Minnesota: The surprising Illini display their talents at homecoming.

Georgia Tech over Auburn: Billy Lothridge of the Engineers can run, pass and kick.

Alabama over Tennessee: Both teams were disappointed last weekend but Alabama will recover more quickly.

Navy over Virginia Military: This game features the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk and Roger Staubach is the prize pearl of the Middies.

Northwestern over Miami of Ohio: Tommy Myers finds the range.

Air Force over Maryland: Terry Isaacson is the difference in an aerial battle.

Baylor over Texas Tech: Coach John Bridgers has his pro-style offense clicking.

Duke over Clemson: Duke has found a passer, Scotty Glacken. Syracuse over Penn State: They'll need a mile of bandages after this bruiser. A hesitant nod to the home team with its power backfield.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

SOUTHWEST: Tulsa over North Texas State, Southern Methodist over Rice, Texas Christian over Texas A&M.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

Whoa there! Who said the life of a country club golfer is easy? Most duffers think it's all cans of cool beer between leisurely rounds of 18 holes. But you're wrong, buddy. Those are fighting words to JERRY GREEN.

Green is an expert on the subject. He's the guy with the likable smile behind the counter at the Big Spring Country Club. You know, the one who always smiles so sweetly while he's selling you tons of merchandise. He's a great guy really, you've just got to know him. And when it comes to dedication, no one can match him.

"I love the work," he admits candidly. "And I like it here in Big Spring real well. I'd never dream of doing any other job although it's not an easy life. It's hard to find people to work for you because of the long hours. I don't have any aspirations of going to Dallas or Fort Worth to a bigger club. That's a fast way to ulcers and I've got enough at this small club to keep me busy all the time. Why, I only get to play golf twice a month."

In the winter it's 10 to 12 hours a day from 7:30 in the morning until 6 at night. Summers are even longer—14 hours is average. From 6:30 a.m. until 9 p.m. The only day of the year that he doesn't open the pro shop is Christmas. But that's just one of the hardships.

JERRY GREEN

He's responsible for 36 golf carts that he must keep running for the mad mob that hits the fairways each day. Although all but four of the machines are electric, daily maintenance is a must on each motor. He spends about 25 hours a week as a golfer—turned—mechanic.

Blowouts are common and Jerry fixes on the average 18 flats a week—in the summer the number is sometimes as high as two dozen every seven days. And incidentally, this can run into money—the tires and tubes cost anywhere from $17.50 on up to $22.50.

And there's keeping the gas-operated models in fuel. One of the machines, with a four-gallon tank, will go 54 holes, while the other three gas machines have only one-gallon capacities and will barely manage 18 holes.

A constant repair job must be done on the steering columns. They're constantly being broken by careless drivers.

"These things will go about eight miles-an-hour," he said, "and they're dangerous unless the people on them are responsible and know what they're doing. That's why I never let any one under 18 have a cart. We've had a lot of accidents but luckily never any injuries. One kid got the accelerator stuck and panicked and went three feet into the club house when he rammed it. We just had to patch up the wall."

"These carts are really revolutionizing the game of golf. On a lot of courses, they provide enough revenue to meet the entire golf course expenses. They don't do it here, yet, but if we had more players they would. Someday they'll pay for it all. They've also made it possible for a lot of people to play that couldn't otherwise—like the ones with bad backs and bad legs. They're making the caddy almost obsolete—when you rent a cart you ordinarily don't spend any more than you'd pay a good caddy."

Things you probably wouldn't know if Jerry didn't tell you:—THE SET of 18 nylon flags, one for each green, costs $35. The metal sticks that each flag is attached to costs $7.

—THERE'S ABOUT 2,000 players who register to play in a month at the country club. Twenty-five per cent of the rounds played are by women.

—JERRY SELLS 10 brands of balls and three brands of clubs.

—HE HAS to buy 20 cases of soda pop every week in the summer and five cases in the winter. Beer goes at a rate of five to 10 cases a week in the fall and faster in the summer, especially during tournaments.

—EACH GREEN originally costs around $2,000. They're considered some of the best in West Texas because under each putting surface lies an underground tile drainage system. This almost completely eliminates the possibility of standing water after a rain.

It was time for Jerry to go back to work. That's not unusual. It's not unusual to see him with a smile, either. That's just Jerry.

Judy Hurt scorched the nets for Garden City, scoring 41 points. Defensively, Sharon Jacob and Tavie Daniel did a good job for Garden City.

Appleton Leading SWC Candidate

DALLAS (AP)—Giant Scott Appleton, who plays from sideline to sideline, is the top candidate for All-America from the Southwest.

The regional committee went almost solidly today for the 235-pound tackle of the Texas Longhorns, who, incidentally, was named Associated Press Line-man of the Week coincident with his designation as the No. 1 All-America candidate.

Appleton is great because of his ability to move so fast for a man that big, commented Ves Box of KRLD-TV, Dallas. "He can change directions faster than anybody."

Walter Robertson of the Dallas News said Appleton proved that he was the No. 1 lineman in the country with his performance against Oklahoma. "He is quick, agile and has the size and

Drought, Forest Fires Plague Many Regions

CHICAGO (AP) — Drought and woodland fires continued to plague many parts of the nation today.

Drought conditions in some areas in the eastern half of the nation appeared near the critical stage. Hundreds of fires burned in the tinder-dry forestlands in the Northeast and Midwest sections.

Summer's lush green pasture lands in much of the Western rangelands and in other areas were dry and brittle. Hay shortages were reported. There was a heavy decline in feed for livestock. Milk production sagged. Marketing of cattle was higher than normal for the season.

Water levels on most of the Great Lakes and many major rivers and streams were below seasonal levels. Water shortages developed in some communities and restrictions were ordered.

NO ESTIMATE

No accurate estimate of the damage the drought and fires have already caused in the past several weeks was available. But the Wabash Valley Association in Indiana said that drought damage in Southern Indiana and Southeastern Illinois alone may total between $35 million and $50 million.

There appeared no immediate, general break in the long dry, mild spell across much of the eastern half of the country. Record high temperatures have been set in scores of cities in the first half of October, with readings in the 90s and upper 80s.

However, some heavy thunderstorms erupted in the Central Plains and Mississippi Valley. Thunderstorms accompanied by lightning struck West Central Kansas with the first rain of consequence since Sept. 2. Lightning set fire to about a dozen homes in the four-hour storm which dumped 2.55 inches of rain on Hutchinson. All the fires were minor. Hail also fell, but little damage was reported.

In the Southeast, 1.02 inches were recorded during a six-hour period in Miami, Fla. Thunder showers also fell on many other parts of Florida.

Temperatures changed little from Tuesday with most of the Northeast reporting the 40s and 50s. Elsewhere, the 60s were common with some 70s in the South.

Hundreds of acres of forestland in more than a dozen states were recorded during a six-hour period in Miami, Fla. Thunder showers also fell on many other parts of Florida.

FIRE-FIGHTING VOLUNTEERS LEND A HAND
Workers help clear lane through blazing New York woodland

Volunteers Hike, Sleep On Ground To Help Halt Fires

LAKE GEORGE, N.Y. (AP)—They came from New York City, Albany, Syracuse, Fort Edward, Clemons, Hadley and nearby farms—the hundreds of men and boys who, off and on, for more than a week have battled the flames eating into New York's vast and valuable forestlands.

These volunteers are engaged in a near-continuous effort to contain the fires cropping up in tinder-dry woods.

Today about 75 fires were reported burning in woodlands across the state. Showers were forecast for some areas but the Weather Bureau held out little prospect of a good soaking rain.

Some of the firefighters, including six teen-aged boys who had to hike for about 30 miles with scarcely a ride, slept on bare ground without blankets. When they could stand it no longer in the 30-degree temperature in the Adirondacks, they walked a mile to a house where they were taken in.

Who comes to fight fires and why?

A professor in Albany telephoned the Conservation Department office near here to ask directions to fire-fighting headquarters at the foot of Spruce Mountain, 25 miles to the northeast.

A Conservation Department supervisor, Robert E. Richards, asked why he wanted to come. The professor replied that he loved the Adirondacks.

Some come for the excitement others to save property. It's hard work and there is plenty of confusion.

One group, armed to fight a fire, missed it and walked right by to the next hamlet.

The volunteers are paid 55 cents an hour. They generally work a 12-hour shift. Some leave after one stint. Others want to stay. Since the state has no shelter for them, they must go elsewhere or sleep on the ground. Most have transportation of their own.

Program Delayed Spring State Hospital, has been postponed. Reason for the indefinite delay is a failure of the awards to arrive as contemplated. The announcement of the new time will be made later.

The volunteers awards program, scheduled originally for Thursday evening at the Big

Harry Truman Choice For Judging Mule Show

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman likes to boast about the miles he walked behind plow and mule on a Missouri farm in his youth. So he was a natural choice to present the ribbons to the winning mules in the American Royal Livestock Show.

But the 79-year-old former president declined an invitation to judge the age of a mule by examining its teeth.

"I wouldn't want to put on airs," he explained.

LONDON (AP)—"Men are incapable of choosing their wives' clothes. A man cannot judge clothes until he sees the finished product, that is, on his wife or girl friend.

"If a woman follows the advice of experts she can look elegant no matter how old she is or what size her figure."

Who's giving all this advice? An expert, of course.

Norman Hartnell, Queen Elizabeth's dressmaker, passed the word at a London fashion show.

NEW YORK (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Irving Saypol has let it be known he doesn't fancy the fancy hats of attorney End Gerling.

Miss Gerling is fighting a contempt citation for refusing to take the stand to determine if she should withdraw as counsel for a man accused of carrying a gun.

She showed up in court wearing a large, floppy, velveteen chapeau. This prompted the judge to file a memorandum saying her "conduct in the pattern of hats, bizarre and tending to courtroom disruption and perversion is something no self-respecting judge can tolerate."

"You humiliated me as a lady and as an attorney," complained Miss Gerling.

"Don't become personal and offensive," the judge replied.

LONDON (AP)—"If Russia marched on the West," says Lord Montgomery, (Red) China would walk in at her back door.

In a speech at a banquet in his honor, the hero of the World War II Battle of El Alamein, said:

"There will be a billion Chinese, who in due course will be armed with nuclear weapons, at Russia's back door. Any idea that Russia would march west and have her country devastated by China, is just not on (with it)."

"I am convinced that in some way we have got to reach an accommodation with the Russians."

LONDON (AP)—The condition of Lady Churchill, admitted to Westminster Hospital Tuesday, is in no way serious, says the hospital.

A statement said the 78-year-old wife of Sir Winston Churchill is in the hospital for rest and examination and added: "In view of the fact that her condition is in no way serious, it is not the hospital's intention to issue any further bulletins."

Goal Within Reach

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico will easily reach its goal of 34,175 miles of all-weather highways by the end of 1964, Minister of Public Works Javier Barros Sierras predicted Tuesday. He said this will include 2,748 miles of paving.
