Crucial Primary Test Is Carded Today

Roosevelt And Al Smith Will Ask Delegates

Challenge Of 1928 Standard Bearer In Hands Of Voters Of Two States; Decision Is Thought Significant

Campaigns Closed

Smith Supporters Are Looking To Bay State While Those Of Roosevelt Think Keystone State Is Certain

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 25. — The long-awaited test on Alfred E. Smith's challenge of Franklin D. Roosevelt's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination tonight was in the hands of Massachusetts and Pensylvania voters.

With 112 Democratic delegates to the national convention at stake in the two eastern primaries tomorrow —36 in Massachusetts and 76 in Pennsylvania—partisans of the two New Yorkers brought their furious campaigns to a close with expressions of confidence.

Alaska Will Vote

Smith chieftains predicted their principal gains would come from the bay state, which gave the former New York governor its electorial vote in 1928. Roosevelt supporters looked to the keystone state to provide the biggest in his delegate total —now 267—and to end the "stop-Roosevelt" movement.

In addition to the 112 delegates to be chosen in these two states, the Democrats also will name six in a primary tomorrow in far-off Alaska. The Roosevelt camp long has forecast victory there.

Republicans Active

Affording less popular interest, the Republicans tomorrow will select 118 delegates in three primaries and two conventions—34 in Massachusetts, 75 in Pennsylvania, two in Alaska and four each in Arkansas and South Carolina.

President Hoover, who has 423 delegates pledged and claimed for him to date, faces little opposition in the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania voting. A slate of delegates pledged to his renomination is opposed in only three district contests in the bay state.

Controlled By Vare

Virtually all of Pennsylvania's 75 emissaries to Chicago are expected to be friendly to the president and controlled by William S. Vare, who turned the tide for Hoover at the Kansas City convention in 1928.

Former Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, Mr. Hoover's only

Cripple Would Give His Life Blood For Brother

Charged With Stabbing Victim But Hopes For Recovery; Bare Hope Held For Life

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, April 25.—Stabbed Sunday afternoon, Jack Barton, 27, was near death in a local hospital today, while his crippled brother, R. D. "Spec" Barton, 29, charged with inflicting the wounds, offered from the city jail to undergo a blood transfusion to save the injured man's life.

Attending physicians said Jack stood little chance of recovering, although they hoped a blood transfusion to save the his life. "Spec" and four others had undergone blood tests in an effort to find suitable blood. The crippled brother, under police guard, sat with other members of the family at the bedside.

Jack was stabbed several times in the chest and throat when he and his brother engaged in an affray at a filling station operated by the former.

"Spec" was charged in police court with assault with intent to murder.

He has refused to discuss the affray. He berated officers for taking him to jail and refusing him permission to accompany his brother to the hospital. He hobbled into the hospital on crutches today, saying he hoped his blood would save Jack's life.

The brothers, both welders by trade, lived together.

Court Declares Murray Acted Without Authority And Wentz Still Holds Title To Office

Ousted Highway Member States That He Is Saddened By The Court Decision As It Means He Must Take Job Again

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 25—A two-judge district court ruled today that Lew Wentz, wealthy Republican member of the Oklahoma highway commission was ousted by Governor W. H. Murray without authority and retains lawful title to the office.

Judges Lucius Babcock and Sam Hooker held that Miss Maude Thomas, appointed by the governor to succeed Wentz, had "no prima facie title to the office of highway commissioner." The decision in effect meant that the rich oil man was not legally removed, that he remains highway commissioner and that Miss Thomas, also a Republican, cannot enjoin him from going about his duties in the position.

Wentz Saddened

Wentz said he was "somewhat saddened" by the decision, because it "meant I must go back to work on the arduous duties from which I had hoped to be relieved."

Governor Murray declared the decision was a "dogfall, which leaves the situation unchanged." Miss Thomas' attorney indicated an appeal would be taken.

J. Berry King, attorney general, declared he was not surprised by the ruling "because the attorney general's office reached the same conclusion during Governor Holloway's administration."

Wentz was appointed for a six-year term by Governor Holloway in 1929. Subsequently, when Holloway sought to remove Wentz, he referred the question to King, who advised against it.

Locusts Plague African Fields

(By The Associated Press)

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, April 25.—Countless billions of locusts, moving inexorably forward at the rate of 100 miles a day, are laying waste to great sections of West Africa and adjoining parts of the Union of South Africa.

In some places, farmers living in the affected district said, the insects seemed to be moving in a cloud 500 miles wide and three times that long.

Attempts were made to attack them from motor trucks, but they soon outdistanced the trucks. Airplanes also were used, without effect, and the authorities declared all they could do was to wait until the locusts began and then attack the swarms separately.

Officers Hot After Gunmen

Car Believed Stolen At Hobbs After Shooting Affray Last Week Is Recovered At Raton; Driver Escapes

(By The Associated Press)

LOVINGTON, N. M., April 25. — The automobile belonging to Yates Brothers of Hobbs, N. M., which was believed to have been stolen by two gunmen who escaped last Monday after a fight with officers, was recovered today at Raton, N. M.

The driver, who previously had held up a filling station at Cimarron, N. M., a few miles southwest of Raton, made his escape in a truck. He was being pursued by sheriff's deputies, according to reports from Raton and his capture was expected.

J. B. Baker, who was wounded in the fight at Hobbs, and who has been in the hospital there for a week was removed today to the Lea county jail here. J. J. Kearns, who was less seriously injured, also was held. The men were to be questioned in connection with a bank robbery at O'Donnell, Texas.

Youth Burned On Face, Arms In Hotel Oil Burner Blast

Foy Rogers, 24, assistant engineer at Hotel Lubbock, was resting at West Texas hospital Monday night after treatment for second degree burns about his face and arms suffered when an oil burner "flashed back" about 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Rogers' condition is not regarded as serious. W. H. Hall, chief engineer, said the youth was attending the burner, a part of the hotel's heating system, when the flame flashed out. Rogers has been employed at the hotel nine months.

Five Dead As Storms Sweep Across States

Score Or More Are Injured By Terrific Storms Smashing Through Farm Communities Monday Morning

Property Damaged

All Deaths Are Reported Near Memphis; Woman Weighing In 200-Pound Class Is Carried Through Space

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 25.—Tornadoes killed at least five persons in farming communities of this vicinity today, injured a score or more, and also did extensive damage in other sections of the state and in Arkansas and Kentucky.

Several communities in northern Alabama were damaged by hard winds last night.

All In Tennessee

All of the deaths so far reported were in the Millington, Kerrville and Rosemark communities in the northern end of Shelby county, of which Memphis is the seat.

Mrs. T. J. Dale, 65, a farmer's wife, was fatally injured as the storm wrecked her home near Kerrville.

"The storm hit our house with a terrific roar and the home seemed to lift for a second and shake," said her husband, who was slightly injured. "Then, with a deafening noise, everything seemed to pile around me and on top of me. I was stunned for a few seconds."

Other Dead Listed

The other dead were:

Robert Harris, 65, negro, Millington.

Dick Spigee, negro child, Rosemark.

Kethel Adams, negro, Millington.

Unidentified negro of Rosemark.

The storm apparently swept across the Mississippi from Arkansas after striking in the eastern section of that state. Eight negro farm hands were injured near Osceola, Ark., and property damage in that vicinity was reported heavy. Two cotton gins were

Party Leaders Facing Battle

Omnibus Retrenchment Bill To Come Before House; Efforts To Block Drive Open While Party Lines Break

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 25. — Under unusual procedure and in the face of bitter factional opposition, party leaders will seek Wednesday to force through thee house the $200,000,000 omnibus retrenchment bill as a rider of the $20,000,000 legislative supply measure.

Party lines began breaking up today as leaders of the anti-federal wage cut movement began to form a coalition in a desperate effort to block the drive of party chieftains for procedure they hope will secure passage of the economy measure virtually intact.

Factional leaders plan to unite their divergent forces for a big push against the proposal. Representative La Guardia of New York, Republican independent, served notice in the house that both Republican and Democratic opponents would join in "voting it down."

Shaver Named As Marrs Successor

AUSTIN, April 25 (AP)—C. N. Shaver of Huntsville was appointed Texas state superintendent of public instruction by Governor R. S. Sterling today. Shaver, superintendent of schools at Huntsville and former member of the legislature, will fill the unexpired term of the late S. M. N. Marrs.

The appointment will hold until Mr. Marrs' successor, to be elected next November, qualifies next January. It is expected that Shaver will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination in July.

The governor had been urged by some to appoint Mr. Marrs' widow for the unexpired term.

Four Criminal Cases To Be Tried In Court During Week

Four criminal cases are set for trial before Judge Clark M. Mullican in 99th district court Thursday and Friday, District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley said Monday.

James White and R. W. Davidson, indicted for armed robbery, are to be tried. White and Davidson, accused of a series of robberies, were arrested in Ardmore, Okla. Returned to Brownfield, where they were wanted for automobile theft, they escaped the Terry county jail. After a citizens posse captured the men, the suspects were brought to Lubbock for safe keeping.

Other cases are: Emily Hawkins, theft from person; A. T. Block and Frank Green, both for pro law violation.

Agitation For Russian Trade Gets Underway

Rainey Contends That Failure Of U. S. To Recognize Soviet Government Is Nothing But An "Economic Crime"

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Agitation for American recognition of Soviet Russia may get formal consideration in the house as the result of a statement today by majority Leader Rainey terming failure to recognize the Moscow government "an economic crime."

The Illinois Democrat made this assertion in an interview. A little later Chairman Linthicum said he would discuss tomorrow with members of his foreign affairs committee the advisability of taking up the Sabath Soviet recognition resolution.

Robinson Favorable

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, last week took a stand favoring Russian recognition, a course which Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee has long advocated.

Rainey's attitude is based principally upon things he saw in Russia last summer.

"Russia is the greatest market in the world," Rainey said, "covering one-sixth of the earth's surface and with 160,000,000 people to whom we could sell things, but we won't admit it exists.

Others Recognize Russia

"It is short-sighted statesmanship that keeps us from selling goods in Russia and it is up to the administration to recognize her. We recognize a revolutionary junta in South America two or three days after it has won a uprising.

"Nearly every other country in the world does recognize Russia. They're all working to get her trade, yet we sit back and let our factories stop running and our people stay idle. That is foolish."

Rainey held the major restraint on trade now is the Hewley-Smoot tariff act provision barring imports made by forced labor. He denied there is forced labor in Russia.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

LAS CRUCES, N. M., April 25. (AP) — Melquiades Espinosa, charged with the murder of his wife, Filomena, who was slain with six other members of his family, today pleaded not guilty when arraigned before a justice of peace and was returned to jail without bond to await a preliminary hearing May 3.

Twenty-Three Boys Are Nominated For City Positions

WITH 23 candidates proposed for five municipal posts, city "politics" at Lubbock High school were becoming heated Monday. The winners in the election, Wednesday morning, will be sworn in Saturday as Lubbock officials-for-a-day.

Saturday's program, in which boyhood will take over control of city government, will start the Boys' Week program here. It will be concluded Saturday, May 7, with a joint field day meet at Matador field at Texas Technological college.

Five Are Nominated

Three seniors and two juniors were named as candidates for mayor by study hall groups Monday at high school. Dan W. Powers said. They are Layton Lawson, R. L. Stovall and Eugene Brown, seniors; and O. H. Britain, jr., junior class president, and Louis Spears. Spears, junior student, was named by two study hall groups.

Eighteen candidates for the four commission places were named, study halls duplicating six, Principal R. W. Matthews said.

To Vote Wednesday

Voting will be early Wednesday morning by ballot in the home rooms, said Supt. M. H. Duncan. Ballots are being prepared, and at least 1,000 votes are expected, it was said.

Civic clubs next week are planning to take part in the observance, with each of the four groups directing the program one day. As many boys as possible will be the guests of the clubs at luncheon.

Plans for the field day meet—which is to be a dual affair for scouts and non-scouts—were discussed at a meeting of W. O. Daniels, Weldon Chapman and Scout Executive D. T. Jennings Monday afternoon.

Events for scouts and non-members will be interspersed. A variety of races, contests and stunts are planned.

Eight Plains Cities Send Officials To Dedicatory Dinner Held In Lubbock

CITY officials, chamber of commerce representatives, and business and professional men of eight or more South Plains towns attended a dinner at the Lubbock hotel last night in connection with the dedicatory program of radio station KFYO, which was to complete a 72-hour broadcast at 4:45 o'clock this morning if no mishap occurred.

Mayor J. J. Clements of Lubbock was toastmaster. The program was broadcast by remote control from the ballroom over KFYO, Douglas Doan, formerly of the Pacific coast unit of the Columbia broadcasting system at San Francisco, being the announcer. Eleven men made short talks following the dinner, which began at 8:50 and ended at 9:20 o'clock. The registration lists showed that Crowell, Levelland, Littlefield, Lorenzo, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Ralls, Slaton, and Tahoka were represented.

Cecil Flyn and his orchestra played during the dinner. Blue crepe streamers dipped from the ceiling of the moderately lighted ballroom.

T. E. Kirksey, owner of KFYO, was introduced by Mayor Clements in opening the program. J. W. Hale, secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, was the next to be introduced. He stressed the inter-dependency of South Plains counties and towns in cooperation necessary to mutual welfare.

Mayor Clements commented that "the Hub of the South

J. A. Cunningham, 68-Year-Old Pioneer Of Motley County Is Buried Monday After Ax Beating Of Saturday; Officials Study Will Leaving Estate To Suspected Housekeeper

By J. SAM LEWIS
Of The Morning Avalanche Staff

FLOYDADA, April 25.—"Yes, I know why mother killed Mr. Cunningham. She did it defending me, after he tried to attack me! I saw her hit him once with an ax. She hit him over the left ear. After that I covered my face with my hands."

Seated on a cot in an unused cell in the Floyd county jail here Monday afternoon, pretty Edith McComas, who says she is 13 but who looks more like 16, told in a straight-forward manner the events leading up to the killing of J. A. Cunningham, wealthy Motley county ranchman. Cunningham, who would have been 68 years old had he lived to see tomorrow, was slain Saturday morning at his ranch headquarters, ten miles east of Matador. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Ruth McComas, Cunningham's housekeeper, and her daughter Edith, surrendered to Motley county officers and were placed in jail at Matador.

First Statement Made

After her arrest, Mrs. McComas, who formerly resided in Lubbock, told officials that her daughter had slain Cunningham while resisting an attack. The woman said she was away from the ranch headquarters at the time. Murder charges were filed against the child but officers continued to hold both mother and daughter, bringing them to the jail here Sunday night.

Dissatisfied with Mrs. McComas' first statement, State's Prosecutor A. J. Folley, attorney for the 110th Judicial district of Texas, began questioning the woman early Monday in jail here. Aiding him were Sheriff J. M. Wright, of Floyd county, and Ed Russell, of Matador, former sheriff of Motley county. Between 3 and 4 o'clock Monday morning Mrs. McComas broke and made a second statement in which officers say she admitted the slaying and declared her daughter guiltless.

RETURNED TO MATADOR

(Special To The Avalanche)

MATADOR, April 25.—Mrs. Ruth McComas, being held in connection with the ax murder of J. A. Cunningham, was returned from Floydada to the Motley county jail here late Monday night.

Edith McComas, her daughter, charged with murder, was set free on a $1,000 bond but is remaining with her mother, according to C. B. Whitten, county attorney, who said that an examining trial in the case would probably be heard here Tuesday afternoon.

G. E. Hamilton, Matador attorney, is counsel for the defendants and Farris Fish, also of Matador, has been retained as a special prosecutor to aid Whitten and District Attorney A. J. Folley, of Floydada.

Funeral services for the dead rancher were held here Monday afternoon and interment followed in a local cemetery. His former wife, now remarried, a daughter residing in Los Angeles and two brothers are survivors.

Slight Change Made

The only major change in the two statements was that which affected the actual killing. Mrs. McComas continued to allege that the slaying grew out of Cunningham's efforts to assault her daughter.

Officers located a will, recently drawn up by the dead rancher, in which Cunningham left his entire estate, with the exception of a small sum which was to go to a daughter residing in California, to the housekeeper. Prosecutor Folley said today that the will was in his possession, that it set forth that the estate should go to Mrs. McComas should she remain in Cunningham's employ until after his death—"except in case of Mrs. McComas killing the rancher."

Cunningham has resided in Motley county for the past 40 years and among other properties owned a 2,000 acre ranch upon which he lived and the killing occurred. Mrs. McComas came to Motley county about three weeks ago, assumed her duties as Cunningham's housekeeper and was shortly joined by her daughter.

Little Edith told her story here this afternoon before Sheriff Sterling Price, of Motley county, T. T. Hamilton, Floyd county deputy, and the writer. She talked freely of her past life and experiences, of the wanderings of herself and her mother from town to town, of her work as a housekeeper and her schooling.

She answered questions in a child-like air that unmistakably gave the impression that she was willing and ready to tell the whole, sordid story.

Child Tells Story

"It happened about 10:30 Saturday morning, as near as I can recall," she explained. "I was mopping a floor and went into another room, where Mr. Cunningham, was to get some soap. He grabbed me and tried to force me onto a bed. I fought him off, as best I could, and screamed.

"Mother ran into the room where we were struggling and saw us. She was defending me. She hit him over the left ear with an ax, then I covered my face with my hands and did not see the rest."

Officers here said Cunningham was struck with an ax at least 10 times and that "any three of the blows would have resulted in his death.

Child Takes Blame

After the slaying of Cunningham, the child said she told her mother that she would take the blame "on account of the will, and everything." "I didn't want the property," she declared. "I wouldn't take it on a silver platter. But I told mother I would take the blame."

The mother and daughter went into Matador, discussed the affair with G. E. Hamilton, an attorney, and at Hamilton's advice surrendered to officers. Mrs. McComas made her first statement, in which she said the daughter did the killing, and a murder charge was filed against the girl. Skeptical officials, however, continued to hold both mother and daughter.

Got Job Through Ad

Edith said her mother had secured the job as housekeeper for Cunningham in answer to an advertisement that had appeared in the Wichita Falls Daily Times about a year ago. "She answered the ad, but did not hear from him for almost a year," the girl said. "We lived at Graham when mother answered the advertisement."

For eight months prior to the coming of mother and daughter and two other children in the family to Matador, they had been at Santa Fe N. M. "We were there about eight months," she said. "I went to school there a part of the time. I was in the ninth grade. The rest of the time I was keeping house. Mother also kept house. I had to stop school in order to keep house."

Visited In Portales

The girl said she went to Portales and visited a relative there for a week before she came on to Matador and joined her mother who had gone ahead.

Mrs. McComas is the daughter of H. H. Stephens, a farmer living about seven miles from Graham, Texas. The girl said she first went to school at Graham and also at Indian Mound, a rural school about seven miles from Grahain.

"We lived in Lubbock about two years," she said. "I attended the Junior High school on Fourteenth street and was in the seventh grade. We first lived on Avenue U. It was either 134 or 143. I don't know. Those three numbers were in it.

"Then we went to Brownfield and I went to school there one term. We came back to Lubbock and we lived on Avenue P. I don't know the number.

"While we lived in Lubbock mother got her divorce from father. His name was John McComas and he was a truck driver a part of the time.

"I have a younger sister, Margaret. She is nine years old. I have a brother, Griffin. He is six years

GALVESTON—An old man who sits around the library and docks in Galveston is an interesting figure in this town and has been the inspiration of many legends—some of which may be founded on truth, as most people seem to know little about the fellow.

He is distinguishable because he invariably wears a brown derby hat and an overcoat—regardless of the weather conditions. How long he has worn this particular hat and coat no one seems to know just as it is uncertain why he wears the coat. One explanation to me was that he is just cold enough to wear one. Another was that he has very little under the coat. This theory was exploded by a listener who said that he wears a full suit under the coat, which he wears simply because he is eccentric.

The old fellow is supported by the county at present but there is a tradition that he belonged to a once wealthy family. Now he is thought to be without relatives and I was told that his memory has failed so that he can give little information about himself. He sleeps in a chair in a cigar store, usually, and spends his days hanging around the library or around the wharves.

THE FLOWER'S NAME

IN A recent column I discussed the oleander—the same plant that Lubbock people grown in tubs and carefully protected from cold weather. There is a legend about how the oleander gets its name.

It comes from Greek mythology. Hero, a beautiful young woman of that country, lived on a promontory on the Hellenic coast. The place was rocky and dangerous to ships but each evening a handsome young Trogan, Leander, swam the channel that separated him from his love in order that he might press his suit. One evening as he was crossing the waters, however, a furious storm broke and he was dashed in angry surf and drowned. The next morning Hero found her lover's body, broken and cold on the rocks beneath her home. In his hand he carried a beautiful flower that she had never seen before.

She rushed to the prostrate figure crying "Oh, Leader" and henceforth the flower he held in his hand was called Oleander as a tribute to the love of these two.

A SUGGESTION

THE end of another year for the City Federation of Women's clubs should be a time for Lubbock women to measure the benefits of the program that has been carried out during the last year.

This season has been marked by an innovation for the Federation here. In addition to civic work and other business, a program of talks on various countries in the world has been given. Countries of which we are reading much in the newspapers have been discussed by people who have lived in these places or who have made a particular study of some phase of the life there.

It is virtually impossible for us to lack interest in other nations. Their political, financial and social situations affect us even though we have no direct contact with the people. With intensive study we can have a general knowledge of these places.

Through talks such as have been given this year, club women have had an opportunity to hear the opinions of well informed people in Lubbock and to get a slant on their viewpoints. These programs have been appreciated by the women who have attended and this attendance has been better than that at Federation meetings in the past.

While the chief aim of the Federation may be the bringing together of representatives from the various culture clubs of the city with an aim to coordinating their activities, talks of general inferest such as have been sponsored during the last nine months can become an important item in the monthly programs. Whether or not general program plans have been made for another year I do not know, but unless someone can suggest a better plan, it seems that these talks might profitably be continued for another season.

Man Is Facing Robbery Count

Ralph Fults Is Being Held In Wichita Jail In Connection With Kidnaping And Robbery Of Three Men

WICHITA FALLS, April 25. (AP)—Ralph Fults, brought here from McKinney Sunday night in connection with the kidnaping of four Electra men April 14, was charged with robbery with firearms for the theft of a pistol from Police Chief J. T. Taylor of Electra, one of the four men kidnaped.

The complaint was filed here by Chief Taylor this morning. Physicians who examined a gunshot wound in the prisoner's arm, suffered in a battle with Kaufman Officers who captured Fults April 14, said the wound was healing and that no infection had set in. The wound caused the youth considerable suffering following his long automobile ride Sunday.

Chief Taylor identified Fults as one of the two men who kidnaped him and two Electra citizens April 14. A third man ran away when Chief Taylor approached the two bandits on that day and is believed to be one of the men still being held in the McKinney jail.

After releasing Taylor and the other Electrans on a Wichita county ranch the two bandits stopped a mail carrier, took his car and carried him into Oklahoma where he was released on a lonely road.

The pistol taken from Chief Taylor was recovered by Denton county officers while arresting suspects in the Celina bank robbery case.

Seven Men Face Murder Charges

TISHOMINGO, Okla., April 25. (AP)—Seven men were held today on charges of murder in connection with the death of Jim Wood, wealthy Indian farmer, while officers investigated charges the slaying was by an organized forgery and stolen bond gang.

Sheriff Fred Hunt said he had information the men who killed Wood were part of an international ring which has been dealing in bonds, diamonds and Canadian liquor. He charged the gang had men in Oklahoma City, Tulsa and Enid and in Fort Worth, Texas, who reported to headquarters at Kansas City.

Wood was killed April 5 when four men drove to his farm at night and shot him when he was unable to tell the whereabouts of a former farm hand.

The men held here are George Davis, M. W. Newman, Floyd Strapp, Buster Brannon, Roy L. Denmark, Wilmer Spears and Leroy Kirklin.

Mrs. Matilda Hiller, aged 72, who is a grandmother, and Arthur Wilkinson, 74, both of Crewe, England, who were married recently, first met in a cemetery.

Burkett To Make Trip Over Plains

Candidacy of Joe Burkett, former state senator, for congressman-at-large from place No. 3 will be extended into the Panhandle this week. Burkett, of San Antonio, left Lubbock Monday for Farwell, Dalhart and other Panhandle towns, after spending the week-end here.

The former senator reported "generally bad financial conditions and an evident political unrest" in parts of Texas he had visited. Burkett said he believed "the money question is the one big issue of the campaign," and advocated "immediate inflation of our currency."

"The drastic deflation of our currency within the past two years has just about made paupers and peons out of us in a land of plenty," ex-senator Burkett remarked. "An immediate inflation of our currency to the extent of about four billion dollars—enough to pay the soldiers' bonus and pay our current federal deficit—is imperative if we are to make any progress out of the present "slough of despond". There is really only about $10 per capita actually in circulation at present, which makes money outrageously high and commodities and labor ruinously low. I favor cheap money and high wages and high commodities. It is absolutely impossible for the farmers, stockmen, laborers and small business men to pay high debts with cheap commodities and cheap labor. I believe free silver would go a long way towards ending the panic."

Annual Concert Scheduled On Tuesday Is Postponed

CANYON, April 25. (Special.)—The annual concert of the Canyon Madrigal club which was placed for Tuesday evening, April 26, has been postponed to a later date because of the illness of D. A. Clippinger of Chicago, who was to be guest conductor for the occasion.

It has been necessary to recall the invitations which had been made to all music teachers and music lovers throughout the region. The deferred concert will take place shortly after the middle of May according to Wallace R. Clark, director of the Madrigal club and head of the music department of the West Texas State Teachers college.

Firecracker Case Set For Thursday

Trial of Joe Murphy, cafe employe, charged with disturbing the peace by exploding a firecracker, is set for Thursday, Justice H. K. Porter said Monday.

The case was set for trial today, and the postponement was asked by attorneys, the justice said.

An exploding firecracker at the feet of street-corner gabbers at the southwest corner of Broadway and Avenue H led to the complaint against Murphy, who has indicated he will plead not guilty. Store operators of the vicinity had complained to police about the blocking of the sidewalks.

M. Jean Borotra, the French lawn tennis player, and also director of a gasoline manufacturing company in France, has just joined the board of a British company operating along the same lines.

WE THANK YOU ----

To My Old Customers and the Buying Public:

I take this method in expressing my deepest appreciation and sincere thanks for the way you have fallen in line in following me in opening my grocery store.

My reason for re-entering business is to give jobs to some who would otherwise be unable to obtain same, and also after the strong solicitation of the majority of my old customers which went far beyond my expectations on the opening day.

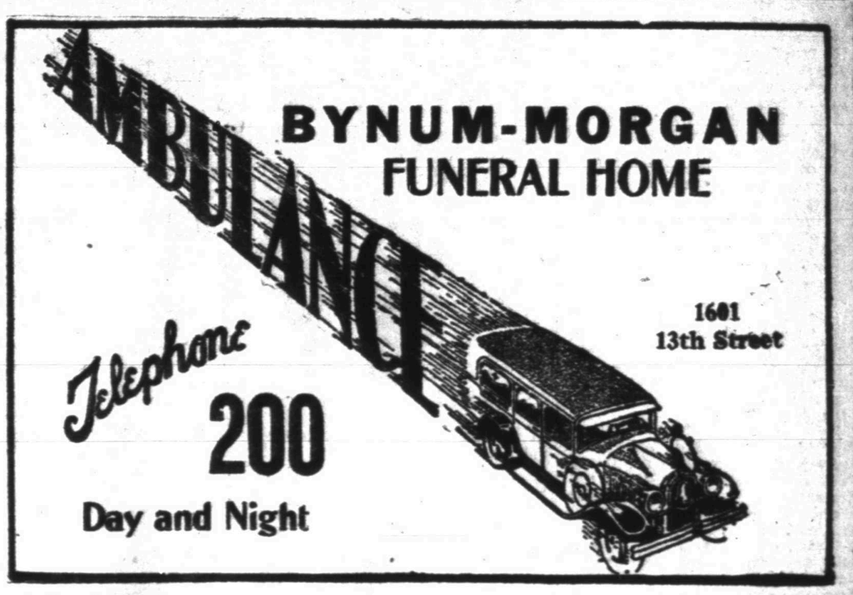

And I want also, by this method, to assure each of you that you will find at all times prices as low or lower than the rest, both in staple and fancy groceries, and the most courteous treatment to be found.

We deliver any amount at any time. If you desire it we extend credit ten, fifteen or 30 days.

Respectfully,

After All

it does matter . . . the kind of cigarette you smoke!

YOU DON'T pay so much for your cigarettes but what you can afford to smoke the best. It's a question then, of what is the best.

CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes are different from other cigarettes. They're unlike all the others, in that they're milder.

CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes taste better. That's to say . . . they are not raw . . . and neither are they over-sweet.

CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes have a fine aroma and a taste that's altogether right.

CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes are pure. Everything that science knows is done to make them pure. They are just as pure as the food you eat . . . just as pure as the water you drink.

CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes come to you just as fresh as if you went by the factory every morning.

RESERVE

Strength Is Needed In A Storm---

Adversity seldom gives advance warning, but neither does a storm at sea. Trimming canvas may help a vessel to ride out a hurricane for a time, but only reserve strength, built into the ship from the start, will save it from foundering under continued strain.

Forced economies—the drastic trimming of expenses—may help you for a time in unexpected misfortune. But there comes a time when only reserve financial strength—in cash—will keep you afloat.

Maintain a liquid cash reserve. Let it grow in a savings account in these strong banks. It's always here when you need it.

The manager of the Washington Senators is cautious about counting the Macks out of the American league race. He has learned by bitter experience they won't "stay put." But he has hopes.

They'll Never Beat Us

"A team that's been in the habit of winning like they have can't take a lot of beating," the big train explained. "Unless their pitchers get going right away and Mr. Mack gets his infield straightened out, they'll never beat us out this year. They can't win without Earnshaw and Grove at their best, and they can't win with those youngsters, Williams and McNair, on second and short.

"Frankly, they looked mighty poor against us yesterday. Not at all like they did last year. It might be that the beating the Cardinals gave them in the world series had its effect. They don't seem to have the same spirit."

Can Beat Yankees

As for the Yankees, Johnson has plenty of respect for their hitting but doesn't consider them as well balanced as his own club. He has a hunch his team has improved sufficiently to beat them out this year.

Much of Johnson's confidence in his Senators is based on the fine work of his flippers thus far. Alvin Crowder, Bob Burke, Carl Fischer and the rookie Monet Weaver have turned in exceptional work.

Cleveland Indians Beat St. Louis Browns, 10-5

ST. LOUIS, April 25. (AP)—Cline Brown held St. Louis to six hits as the Cleveland Indians took the second of the series with the Browns, 10-5, in the only American league game played today.

Ferrell slapped out a homer in the second for the initial score of the day and to give the Browns a good start, but St. Louis was having a poor time both in pitching and hitting. For the rest of the contest the Indians held a lead. Vosmik contributed a home run in the seventh so that the teams divided four-base honors.

Sam Gray, who had won two of the three games he had opened this season, started for the Browns, but he gave way in the eighth to Herbert, who in turn was replaced in the ninth by Blaeholder.

Tom Jenkins, St. Louis rightfielder, drew the hard luck prize for the day.

In the ninth inning Cleveland loaded the bases with two out. Pitcher Brown was at bat and dropped a nice fly to Jenkins that should have retired the visitors. But Jenkins dropped the ball and the three Indians on base scampered home to give their team a five-score margin.

Jenkins had one chance to redeem himself. He was the first St. Louis player at bat in the last half of the ninth. But he struck out on the offerings of the same Pitcher Brown, whose fly he had dropped.

Golf as the STARS play it

by ART KRENZ

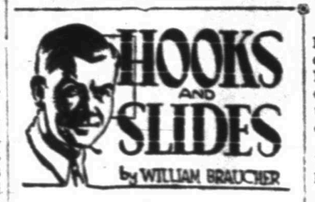

Many pitch shots fail because the player fails to hit the shot hard enough. Correctly executed the shot requires more force than the pitch and run or the chip shot for the same distance.

Harder hitting imparts more spin on the ball. This also is an aid to better direction and finer control of the ball in flight.

A common belief, and an erroneous one, is that height of the shot and backspin go together. Backspin does not depend on the height of the ball, but on the speed of the descending clubhead. A low shot with plenty of backspin holds the green as well as the high pitched ball.

Keep the right hand from rolling over the left, as this frequently causes a topped, smothered or hooked shot. Keep the club face open until the ball has been hit.

New Golf League Officially Opens As Lubbock Club Wins Over Post

It has been solemnly announced, as news, that Jack Curley is going in for theatrical promotion. In-asmuch as Monsieur Curley has been staging wrestling matches for years, it is not such hot news at that.

John McGraw is not one to injure the feelings of the great unseen audience. Called upon at the Polo Grounds the other day to mumble a few well chosen words over the radio, John put a fine finishing touch to the performance by tipping his hat at the mike.

Max Carey soon will begin to understand the magnitude of the managerial assignment in Brooklyn. Every time the Brooklyn boys lose the lead, the fans start screaming for the return of good old Uncle Robbie.

To Burt Shotton

Burt Shotton's recent declaration that in Hurst, Mallon, Bartell and Whitney the Phils have the best infield in baseball would have sounded much less like inspiring elocution if he had saved it for September. It was not the best infield in baseball last year by 10 lengths.

Madison Square Garden may have the best intentions in the world toward building that nice new stadium for which ground was recently broken, but 99 per cent of the stadiums started in New York in the last 20 years have turned out to be castles in the air.

There's just a chance that Al Smith's tirade against Democratic demagogs was not directed at Governor Roosevelt, after all. He may have been talking about Jack Sharkey.

Why Doctor!

The recent public utterances of Jack Kerns, to the effect that Jack Dempsey was one of the very great fighters of all time, confirm a suspicion that you must have had yourself. When Kearns and Dempsey split some years ago, the Doctor gave public utterance to the belief that Dempsey was a mugg of a fighter he had helped to put over with splendid ballyhoo.

Dr. Coleman Griffith, psychological research director of athletics at the University of Illinois (which must be some job, by the way), says a golfer with a headache plays a more natural game than one without. A number of baseball managers, however, will deny that the same theory applies to their athletes.

The only drawback to the successful operation of the theory is that the golfer doesn't get his headache until he adds up his score.

The Old Fight

John McGraw urges his players to show more of the old fighting spirit, believing that more people will pay to see scrappy athletes than mechanically perfect robots. Mr. McGraw is a fighter himself, and you don't even have to ask Umpire Bill Klem to make sure of that, either.

Al Spohrer, Boston catcher, spoke too soon. The day after he said Hack Wilson was an easy out because he was a sucker for a fast ball when he stood erect, and a mark for a curve when he crouched, Hack came up and broke up a ball game by hitting one of the Boston pitchers' high hard ones for four ...es.

With four golf clubs of the South Plains league failing to appear Sunday, due to a stinging sand storm, Lubbock defeated the Post country club 16 to 8 in the only match of the three scheduled for the official opening of the league's season.

The Meadowbrook Golf club of Lubbock won by forfeit when Tahoka failed to appear here, W. G. (Bill) McMillian of the Meadowbrook club said. Littlefield and Slaton who postponed their match for Sunday by agreement probably will meet sometime this week, according to C. W. Taylor of Slaton.

Two Shoot 81's

Despite the sandstorm, Charles Quails, West Texas Golf Association champion and a member of the Post eight-man team shot an 81 in -8-holes on the windswept Lubbock Country club course to lead Post to victory.

Jo Dick Slaughter of Lubbock chalked up an 85 in his match with Quails, but the title holder captured all three points in the match. Crump of Post also completed the course in 81, playing opposite Ross McWhorter, who had an 89, and Post had another three points. The winner of the first nine holes in each twosome received a point, of the second nine holes a point, and of the 18-hole match a point. The two 81's were good under the conditions.

The other six pairs scored as follows, Post players being named first:

Ray, 86, and John Edmisson, 82 and three points; Samson, two points, and V. O. Jennings, one point; Stewart, three points, and J. O. Smith; Hundley, two points, and Lawrence Bacon, one point; Hundley and Henry McLarty, three points; Collier, three points and Tipps.

South Plains Golf league teams are composed of the first eight ranking players of each club.

Local Polo Team Beats Big Spring

Before an estimated crowd of several thousand, Lubbock's Motorcycle polo team booted a field goal in the last three minutes of play here Sunday afternoon to take the game from Big Spring 9 to 8. No serious injuries were reported during the game.

A special attraction for the several thousand visitors Sunday afternoon was the crashing of a board wall by Tommy Hendricks, Lamesa rider and member of the Lubbock polo five. It was the twelfth time Hendricks had ridden a speeding machine through a solid wall without injury.

Sunday's starting lineup for Lubbock, coached by Roy Lynch, was: Otton Flynn, left forward; Clarence Rogers, right forward; Tommy Hendricks, center; Virgil Delaney, right guard, and Robert Howard, goal keeper. Stewart Champlin, Clem Clutter and Wade Anthony, reserves, were used.

Bill Boadle refereed, assisted by Milton Atkisson and Jack McCreary. Henry Lemons was time keeper.

The Lubbock riders will seek a game here with a Wichita Falls or Dallas quintet, Lynch said. The games are played under American Motorcycle association regulations.

SOAP SHORTAGE

MOSCOW—No wonder the Russians are noted for their beards. There is now a shortage of fats in this country and Soviet chemists are laboring to recover soap chemically so as to save the fats used in making it. They filter all suds and rinse waters from laundries and restaurants. The filtered soap is then treated with acids to separate the fats. These are then purified and made into more soap.

Fort Worth Grabs First Game Of Their Texas League Home Stand As They Beat Sports; Pitchers' Duels Staged

FORT WORTH, April 25. (AP) — George Grant held the Shreveport Sports to seven scattered hits here this afternoon and the Fort Worth Panthers grabbed the first game of their Texas league home stand, 3-1. Home runs accounted for three of the four runs, Alex Hooks and Ulmont Baker getting four baggers for the Panthers and Best clouting out one for the Sports.

Charlie Biggs hurled for the Sports and was effective most of the afternoon. Outside of the first inning, when Jeanes' double scored Krause from first, Biggs was master of the situation except for the two home runs. Best's homer hit the flag pole in left field and dropped outside the park.

Spudders Beat Steers In Eleven Innings

WICHITA FALLS, April 25. (AP)—The Wichita Falls Spudders defeated the Dallas Steers 4-3, in 11 innings here today to open their three game series. It was a mound duel between rookie Tom Conland who beat the Steers at Dallas last week and Spec Erickson. A home run by Bob Puss put the Spuds back in the game in the ninth, after Dallas had scored in the eighth to break a 2-all tie. The Spuds scored in the 11th when Badgro scored from third on Erickson's wild pitch. Badgro, who had walked after two were out, reached third when Green's pop fly fell fair between a nest of Steers, each of whom thought the other had it.

Beaumont Wins From Santone In Pitcher's Duel

SAN ANTONIO, April 25. (AP) — Back from their double triumph at Houston, the San Antonio Indians were halted by the Beaumont Exporters in the opening game of the series here today.

The score was 4-2.

It was a pitchers' duel between Bob House and Luke Hamlin.

In the sixth inning, Reiber walked and Clifton singled to center, and as Fitzgerald threw the ball to Schofield, Reiber went on to third and scored as Schofield threw to Brewer, beating the ball to the plate on Brewer's belated throw to Bradbury.

President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league was in the stands on a tour over the circuit.

Cincinnati Reds Swap Places With St. Louis Cardinals On National League Cellar Steps As Cards Win

CINCINNATI, O., April 25. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds swapped places on the National league cellar steps today, the Cardinals mounting one by virtue of a 4-2 victory, and the Reds slipped farther down.

Until the sixth inning it seemed Cincinnati would get the best of a pitching contest. Chick Hafey's triple in the second, followed by Morrissey's double, gave the Reds a run which Lucas seemed able to hold.

Then in the sixth. Frisch singled, and Bottomley followed suit past Harry Heilmann. Collins doubled and Mancusco's pop out and Gelbert's single were enough to make it three runs for the inning.

Minus Two Aces

Late game rallies went to the well too often for the Reds. Hafey walked and Heilmann singled in the eighth but the lineup went down in order, still two runs short.

The Reds played without two aces, Babe Herman and Mickey Heath. Herman was out with a cold and Heath was found to be ill and underweight after his poor showing yesterday.

Phillies Beat Braves In Twelve Inning Battle

BOSTON, April 25. (AP) — Losing his control after two were out in the twelfth inning, relief pitcher Ben Cantwell walked pinch-hitter Douglas Taitt to force in the winning run and give the Phillies a hard-earned 4-3 victory over the Braves today. It broke a six-game winning streak for the McKechnie men.

Aggies Win Over A. C. C. In Meet

COLLEGE STATION, April 25. (AP)—Second places enabled Texas A. & M. to defeat Abilene Christian college, 71-51, in a dull track meet here today. The Aggies took seven first and twelve second places to the invaders' nine first and two second places. The high jumping performance of Worth Watkins, rangy A.C.C. sophomore from Holliday, featured the meet. He jumped 6 feet, 5 7-8 inches, 2 3-8 inches higher than the Southwest conference mark and 2 5-8 inches lower than the World's record.

Captain Bill Weems, A.C.C. senior from Temple, was high scorer with 11 1-4 points. He won the 220 and 440-yard dashes and was a member of the victorious mile relay team. Honk Irwin, Aggie sophomore from Kosse, led his teammates with 10 points, winning the shot and discus.

Sound, traveling at the rate of 1,136 feet a second, would take 32 hours to encircle the globe.

Texas Christian Strengthens Grip On First Place In SW Conference; Kinsey Allows Only Six Hits

FORT WORTH, April 25. (AP) — The Texas Christian University Horned Frogs strengthened their grip on first place in the Southwest conference baseball race today defeating the Texas Aggies, 5-2, in a game at Texas Christian university.

A better defense and ability to cash in on scoring opportunities won for the Christians.

Hersel Kinsey allowed the Farmers only six hits but he was wild and the six bases on balls issued kept him in trouble most of the afternoon.

Buggs Moon, the Aggie southpaw ace who pitched seven innings hurled a fine game but ruined himself with his defensive efforts. He made two errors and a wild pitch to aid the Frogs to runs.

Kinsey on the other hand defended his position beautifully. In fact he handled half the infield chances making no less than 10 assists without an error. He had the Farmers topping the ball most of the afternoon and the infielders ran up a total of 20 assists and 25 putouts. The score:

Texas Aggies ....001 100 000—2 6 4

WACO, April 25. (AP)—Five home runs were clouted as the Baylor Bears nosed out the Rice Owls here today, 8-7. Euck, Koch and Hammett parked the ball for the Owls while Shelley and Wells did likewise for the Bears.

"Smokey" Klaerner, the Owls pitching ace, had difficulty getting started. The Bruins made all their runs in the first five stanzas. Jimmy Parks started for Baylor but was removed in the sixth for a pinch hitter and "Uncle Abe" Barnett finished in great style. Baylor got 12 hits off Klaerner while Parks and Barnett yielded 11.

SUMMER-IZE your car with MAGNOLIA 7 POINT SERVICE

GET THESE 7 PRECAUTIONS

1 Drain, Flush and Refill Crankcase with Proper Grade of Motor Oil.
2 Correctly Lubricate Your Car for Summer Driving.
3 Drain, Clean and Refill Transmission with Summer Grade Lubricant.
4 Drain, Clean and Refill Differential with Summer Grade Lubricant.
5 Fill Gasoline Tank with Magnolia Summer Grade Gasoline.
6 Check Battery, Put in Fresh Distilled Water, Remove Corrosion, and Grease Terminals.
7 Drain, Clean and Flush Radiator.

HOT weather driving calls for sturdy lubricants, capable of resisting the fearful heats of high-speed driving. The thinner, quick-flowing winter lubricants in your crankcase, differential and transmission need to be changed now.

Your last grease job has served its purpose and worn away. Your radiator probably needs a good cleaning. Your battery ought to be checked.

All these things are corrected when you have your car SUMMER-IZED by Magnolia. Study the 7 important points covered in a Magnolia SUMMER-IZE job. Then drive in today and get this much needed protection.

Convention Is Almost Ready

Fourteenth Annual Gathering Of WTCC Will Be Staged At Sweetwater; Many Features Being Planned

(Special To Avalanche)

SWEETWATER, April 25.—With the fourteenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce three weeks, off preparations and plans for it are nearly complete.

Sweetwater has all arrangements made to entertain the largest crowd in the history of the organization. A gypsy girl revue in which every town is asked to participate will be given each of the first two nights of the convention. Those who are to participate in the show are practicing and getting ready under the direction of competent directors. The local registration committee is all ready to go. The biggest dance in West Texas has been arranged for the two nights.

Program Complete

The convention program is practically completed. Nearly every place on the program has been assigned, and a definite acceptance obtained.

Towns are being urged to send in the names of their new directors, their home town speaking contest entrants, gypsy girls, and exhibit entries. They are being received daily, and by the time of the convention each should be larger in number than in former years.

Thousands of letters of invitation, announcements, and instructions have gone out over West Texas during the past two weeks from the convention headquarters about every phase of the program, and the convention.

As a result delegations are being reported daily to the convention offices, and West Texas cities are getting to participate in the convention to the fullest extent.

Like Father—Like Son

Directors Being Named By Cities

SWEETWATER, April 25. —The election committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Walter E. Yaggy, chairman, already has nominations from twenty-seven towns in West Texas, and is urging all West Texas towns and cities to nominate them at once.

The committee will present the nominations to the convention at Sweetwater for election.

Towns Are Listed

Towns that have nominated so far and their directors are: Abilene, C. M. Caldwell, Max Bentley, and Price Campbell; Breckenridge, A. M. Smith; Bronte, Robert Knierim; Canadian, H. E. Hoover; Canyon, W. R. Clark; Denton, L. A. McDonald; Dimmitt, T. A. Singer; Eastland, Milburn McCarty; El Paso, C. N. Bassett, O. C. Coles, W. H. Peterson; Fort Davis, C. E. Eaton; Graham, D. H. Bolin; Farwell, James D. Hamlin, Joe L. Culbertson; Henrietta, J. T. Petro; Matador, C. L. Glenn; Menard. Joe Whaley; Muleshoe, R. E. Brown; Plainview, Fred H. Madison; Portales, G. W. Carr; Post, A. C. Surman; Quanah, F. W. Kennerly; San Angelo, Houston Harte, Walter Yaggy; Seymour, F. H. Davis; Slaton, Claud P. Anderson; Tatum, E. J. Fox; Van Horn, J. P. Provine; and Vernon, R. H. Nichols.

Several have notified the headquarters office that their directors would be named at meetings of the chamber of commerce during the next week. Two hundred cities have been asked to name directors.

Agents Especially Invited To Meet

SWEETWATER April 25.—County agents and home demonstration agents of West Texas are being especially urged to attend the fourteenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Sweetwater, May 12, 13 and 14. An agricultural and livestock group conference under the chairmanship of Vice-President Wilbur C. Hawk of the regional chamber is to be conducted.

Rail Presidents Being Condemned

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP) — Railroad presidents were condemned in the senate on complaints they were inspiring a campaign to reduce government salaries.

Senator Long (D., La.) read a letter to employes of the Kansas City Southern railway company by C. E. Johnston, president, suggesting they write to members of congress demanding reduction in salaries of government employes.

The Johnston letter contained the list of senators and members of congress in the states of Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. It also contained various form letters to be used.

"I just want to show the inspiration behind these letters we are all receiving," said Long. "It is the railroad presidents."

Senator Shipstead (F.-L., Minn.) asserted "it comes with poor grace from those who represent the railroads to talk about the government deficit and demand that the people make it up."

In his letter to employees, Johnston said in part: "If you and the leading citizens of your community or among your acquaintences feel that it is right that government employes should take a fair reduction in compensation wire or write and tell your congressman."

Heavy Loss Is Sustained In Floydada Fire Monday

FLOYDADA, April 25. (Special)—A loss estimated at $15,000 was caused early today by fire originating in the Floydada Drug company building.

A doctor's office and a beauty parlor were swept by the blaze. The First National bank building was damaged by smoke and water. The drug store's loss in stocks, fixtures and building was in excess of $12,000. Effective action of the fire department prevented the blaze from spreading to other structures in the business district.

EGGS IN DEMAND

BRADY, April 25. (AP)—Demand for Brady turkey eggs has been brisk the past seven weeks, officials of the Brady Cooperative Poultry Association report.

Approximately 12,000 eggs have been shipped during March and April at an aggregate cash revenue of $2,000. Shipments will continue until late in May. Orders for May delivery have already been received.

PARK DONATED MULESHOE

MULESHOE, April 25. (AP)—The Santa Fe railway has given a five acre tract of land in Muleshoe for a city park. Plans are under way for its beautification and equipment.

WHO PAYS for Advertising?

29 Years Ago

Model "E" Sold for $850

Now, advertising has brought about the modern car, many times more powerful, more beautiful and much safer to operate—yet selling at the same price or less. Advertising pays for itself!

ANNUALLY, America spends about two billion dollars for advertising. Who pays this bill—manufacturer, dealer, consumer?

None of these. Advertising pays for itself! Countless specific proofs can be found that advertising lowers the cost of goods to the consumer—stimulates consumption, speeds up production and creates enough additional wealth to pay its two billion dollar bill many times over.

We could compare advertising with a high-speed truck which a manufacturer uses, instead of an army of messenger boys, to deliver goods to his customers; or to a labor-saving machine which speeds up production and reduces costs.

To illustrate further, a recent study of comparative price trends of advertised goods and of unadvertised goods between 1913 and 1930, according to a recent study made by the Advertising Federation of America, showed that the average price of those groups of commodities affected by advertising had increased by 10 per cent, as against a 20 per cent price increase for all commodities combined, including both advertised and unadvertised goods.

Moreover, it can be conclusively shown that the percentage of advertising cost to the total price of all merchandise sold is negligibly small. In 1927, according to government figures, the annual gross sales of all corporations was 142 billion dollars. Our two billion dollar advertising bill in that year was, therefore, less than one and one-half per cent of the total sales.

In other words for every ten dollar purchase we make, we pay the nominal amount of 15 cents for advertising!

So we stop once more to ask: Who pays for advertising?

No one could possibly pay for the manifold blessings it has brought in its train!

There is no black magic about it—only a marvelous economic paradox by which you reverse one of the oldest adages, making it possible for you to have your cake and eat it too.

In these days of business timidity, advertising is the Moses to lead us out of the wilderness of fear.

We have plenty of productive facilities. What we need is a consumption, and one of the greatest urges to consumption is increased advertising.

That Senseless Tax Again

WHILE The Morning Avalanche dislikes to crow "we told you so," we cannot forego the satisfaction of calling public attention to the fact that the altogether unfair and impractical cigaret tax law is not bringing into state coffers anywhere near the amount its proponents said it would.

Probably the first—and if not first, one of the first—of Texas newspapers to brand the tax bill as a "foolish piece of class legislation saddled upon an already suffering public," we drew only upon the reservoir of common sense tuo forecast its failure. We are not surprised—and will risk another forecast now, that being: Texas will get less and less cigaret taxes every year until a broader, more intelligent and sympathetic treatment is given the problem.

The Abilene Reporter-News, in a recent edition sounds an "amen" to our own opinion which sums up the case pretty well, as it now stands. Under the caption "Evading The Cigaret Tax," The Reporter-News declares:

"Tax evasion isn't confined to the selling of bootleg gasoline, it appears. The state comptroller's department, reporting a decrease in the sales of cigaret stamps, says part of the drop in such sales is due to the practice of using the stamps more than once.

"The San Angelo Standard contends that smokers who buy from 'bootleggers' or who order their cigarets from out of state dealers are mainly responsible for failure of the tax to render the maximum return. Undoubtedly this is the correct view. This practice deprives merchants of legitimate business and the state of revenue. In addition, a great many smokers have turned to non-taxed forms of tobacco, such as pipe tobacco, cigars and roll-your-owns.

"It is difficult to follow the legislative logic which would single out cigarets for special taxes while exempting all other forms of the filthy weed. Cigarets already bore a federal tax of six cents a package. On top of that, there are various occupation taxes involved in their manufacture and sale.

"It probably will be difficult, if not impossible, to repeal the cigaret tax. Once a tax is levied, it is next to impossible to get rid of it. But there is nothing to prevent the legislature from levying a comparable tax on all other forms of tobacco, thereby treating all tobacco users alike and destroying to a large extent the evasions of the cigaret tax now being practiced by Texas smokers."

TOO MUCH PULSE-TAKING

It is generally taken for granted that business and industry cannot have too much information in the form of statistics, graphs, figures, estimates and indications of trends upon which to build for prosperity. There has been an enormous expansion of this sort of thing, both official and private, and it is commonly believed that the more the better.

Is it possible that this minute and detailed measuring and gauging may have the effect of obstructing natural growth and development? Is American business like "a chronic nervous invalid—having its temperature and pulse taken every hour and its weight every week, running from one statistical psychoanalyst or economic chiropractor to another, looking every day for some new miracle or catastrophe?"

No one will deny, of course, the usefulness of the statistical method—in its place. But there may be such a thing as having too much of a good thing—of paying too much attention to vitamines and calories.

Practical Health Problems

STUDY OF NERVOUS SYSTEM MAY BRING STUTTERING CURE

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

IT has been said by Smiley Blanton that speech is an index of the mind, because speech constitutes the manner in which the mind expresses itself externally.

Therefore, the child should never be permitted to leave school or discontinue its education with a defect of speech if it is possible in any way to remedy the defect. Stuttering especially demands the attention of teachers because it represents a blocking or hesitation in speech and is associated with a disturbance of the emotions so serious that it interferes with clear thinking.

Dr. Blanton feels that there is no dividing line between the person who stutters and who shows blocking and hesitation and the person who exhibits nervousness and timidity when called on to express himself in public.

The psychiatrists emphasize the fact that stuttering is a symptom of failure of the individual to adjust himself to his daily life. It may be caused by fear, by timidity, or by some sort of resentment toward people in general.

In order to get at the basis of this disturbance it is necessary to make a most careful study of the mental life of the person concerned. One analyzes his emotions and the factors which arouse them. It is also necessary to study his nervous and muscular system to find out whether there is co-ordinated control.

In the treatment of stuttering it is not possible to rely on any one technic exactly as it is not possible to rely on any one track system of healing in the care of any disease. Therefore the more psychologic study of the patient will not cure himself of his condition; he may require special training as well.

Speech represents a series of muscular movements controlled through nerve centers in the brain. Breathing, chewing, coughing, and vomiting are other nervous muscular mechanisms controlled through similar centers. When for some reason the control of the higher centers in the brain over the lower centers is blocked, each of the lower centers acts independently instead of being co-ordinated.

This, the psychologists believe, determines whether the stuttering consists of repetition of sounds, a blocking change resembling the act of vomiting, or perhaps a suckling movement.

As an example of the way in which inco-ordination is associated with stuttering, modern investigators who attempt to modify natural left-handedness into right-handedness may set up stuttering as an alternative mechanism.

Expressions Are Weighed

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 25.—So astonishing is the transformation in Al Smith that a weird story actually is in circulation representing him as engaged in an effort to discredit himself, with a view to leaving a clearer avenue open for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, in his race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Alfred E. Smith.

Of course the idea is ridiculous. That such an interpretation of his latest utterances is current at all, however, is indicative of the bewilderment, in the ranks of his waning group of political friends, at the change which has come over the one-time "happy warrior" since his campaign of four years ago.

OBVIOUS as was the genuineness of Al's attack, unmistakably directed against Governor Roosevelt, at the Democrats' recent Jefferson day banquet in Washington, it is true enough that many competent judges believe it will prove to have been, in effect, distinctly to the governor's advantages.

It cannot be said that it extinguished Smith's own chances as a presidential nomination aspirant at the Jeffersonians' June convention; that prospect already was too remote to be seriously considered.

It did unquestionably greatly weaken him as an influence in any "stop Roosevelt" combination at the coming Democratic gathering.

Not only is it evident that he has lost considerable support; he also has rendered himself a dubious associate for other candidates whose interests run counter to the governor's—Speaker John N. Garner, Governors Albert C. Ritchie, "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and George White, ex-Governor Harry F. Byrd, et al.

INDEED, the whole line-up of the dark horses is disorganized as a result of Smith's Jefferson day speech. Smith, it will be recalled, attributed a demagogue's motives, by inference, to his brother New Yorker for suggesting that "the little fellow" was "forgotten" in the adoption of economic rehabilitation plans such as the bankers' pool, the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the Glass-Steagall device for credit expansion.

Whatever may be the merits of the position of the 1928 standard bearer, the certainty of its widespread unpopularity (for "the little fellow" is numerous) is fully apparent to those who had been expected to join him in an effort to utilize the Democrats two-thirds' rule as a means of blocking the Roosevelt presidential ambitions—each, naturally, in the hope of carrying off the prize in the ensuing confusion.

Smith's aid was particularly relied on by members of the coterie from the circumstances that he was not regarded personally as a very real contender; but most emphatically none of them can afford to be identified with anything smacking of a reactionary conspiracy—or, perhaps worse yet, as inspired by spite or jealousy.

SMITH'S seeming failure to foresee this peril is spoken of at the headquarters of the various Democratic favorite sons as incomprehensible in so astute a politician.

It hitherto has been assumed that his opposition to Roosevelt would be based upon dissatisfaction with the clarity and vigor of the governor's declaration in favor of prohibition modification. This would have been an objection in which Ritchie, at least, could have concurred heartily. Some of the others might not have been prepared to indorse it so unqualifiedly, but they could have accepted it as Smith's reason, while assigning reasons of their own in explanation of an alliance, including him, on a program of obstruction at the Democratic convention.

The typical "rich man's" speech made by Smith in Washington on April 13 (ill-omened date) is a different matter.

HAD IT BEEN MADE, for example, by Ritchie, an avowed conservative, it would not have involved the same embarrassment.

Coming from Al Smith, for whom such progressives as Senators George W. Norris of Nebraska and John J. Blaine of Wisconsin fought in 1928 (and especially considering Smith's close relations since then with multi-millionaire acquaintances), it has created an almost impossible situation for presidential aspirants whose purposes previously promised to be served by temporarily uniting forces with his, in an attempt to stop the Roosevelt steam roller.

Briefly, Smith has made himself politically dangerous to co-operate with.

If he has shattered the coalition, it is difficult to think of any other single act by a single individual which could have improved Governor Roosevelt's presidential nomination prospects more materially.

French socialists are accusing the government of advancing millions to banks and neglecting the common people. News from Washington to Paris must travel fast.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

Oh, Lordy, Lordy, how Susan did hate getting up! She yawned deeply, burrowing her head under the covers and trying to shut out the sound of Aunt Jessie's nasal call: "Susan! Sus-an! Get up, this very minute. Breakfast's getting cold."

Shuddering, blinking at the light, the girl swung her feet over the side of the big bed which groaned in sympathy. Its springs were old and sagging. She stood in the middle of the little room with its bravely painted dresser and white ruffled curtains. She was slim and youthfully curved, exquisite in her thin cotton night-gown, limp from many washings.

"Su-u-san!"

"Coming!"

Aunt Jessie was grumbling as Susan came into the kitchen. She continued to grumble as she poured coffee from the spout of the old blue enamel pot and slapped thick slices of bread on the toaster. Susan liked thin toast but Aunt Jessie didn't believe in catering to young folks' whims.

"No egg for me, thanks," Susan remonstrated.

Aunt Jessie began to scold with fresh vigor. "You girls nowadays—never know when you're well off—string bean shapes—no vitality—"

Susan had heard it all so many times before that she scarcely listened. She was thinking; if I press my dark blue georgette tonight I'll walk over to Rose's. Post-mortems on parties were always rather fun. Maybe the Miltons would tease her about her catch, Ben Lampman, the young man who had seemed so smitten. That would be exciting for Susan Carey had never had a beau. Not that she liked the young man particularly. He was too dark and intense and sort of—well, sullen—to attract her. But he was a young man. A potential admirer. She was tired of having the other girls crow over her. Even a Ben Lampman, moody and musical and taciturn, would be better than nobody!

Thus Susan's thoughts.

"You're not hearing a word I'm saying," grumbled Aunt Jessie. "Can't think what gets into you these days! I said it's 10 past 8 and you'll be late again if you don't run for the car."

Susan came out of her daze and gulped the last of the coffee. She rushed down the hall and flung on her last year's hat. It wasn't at all like the ones in the shop windows but Susan couldn't help that. Her glowing gray eyes, richly curling hair, and the color that came and went fitfully in her heart-shaped face triumphed over the handicap of last year's millinery.

She hurried back into the kitchen to say goodby to Aunt Jessie. The dishwater was making an obbligato in the chipped tin pan as Aunt Jessie furiously turned on faucets and swirled an aged dish-mop. Aunt Jessie did everything energetically. It was her way.

She pecked at Susan's cheek and muttered: "You'll be late, sure's you're born. Never did see such a sleepyhead. You take after your mother's folks, that way."

She was still grumbling as Susan ran down the back stairs to take the short cut to the corner where she caught the surface car. The girl sighed, clinging to a strap. Why was Aunt Jessie such a grouch? She loved her—Susan knew that! Hadn't she nursed her through diphtheria during her first year in high school? Hadn't she brought her back to life when practically everybody had given her up for dead? Oh, Susan knew Aunt Jessie really cared for her but she had such a queer way of showing it. That, thought Susan shrewdly, was Aunt Jessie's generation. Uncompromising, hard on others as well as themselves. They couldn't help it. "I was raised right and I'm going to see you are the same," Aunt Jessie often said grimly when the young girl complained of strictures.

"Raised right" meant going to bed early; having very little fun, made-over clothes, putting money in the bank, quoting "handsome is as handsome does" and thinking the devil lurked in a wineglass. Well maybe they were right, but Susan thought there must be more in life than just that. She hoped so, anyway.

Her heart sank when she thought of the day before her and she flipped the pages of her book as she swayed and jerked to the uncertain rythm of the street car's progress. "Up in front there, up in front" droned the conductor as more and more passengers crowded in at every corner.

It promised to be a warm day. The freshness of early morning was vanishing as they neared the downtown district. The odors of asphalt under sun, of gasoline fumes, of human bodies and cheap scents mingled together. Susan hated it.

She wondered how that fastidious looking young man, Robert Dunbar, rode into town. Probably on a comfortable suburban train with room enough to stretch his long legs and read his morning newspaper. She envied him. He seemed to be a visitor from another sphere with his fine linen, his well fitting lounge suits.

At one of the downtown corners, amid a clangor of street car bells and whine of hastily applied brakes she alighted and began swiftly to walk east. It seemed good to be alive and young this morning. The sharp breeze on Lake Michigan teased her hat brim and blew her skirts. Susan walked very rapidly. Miss Allen was sure to deliver a scathing rebuke if she should arrive late. The clock in the bank on the corner said 10 minutes to 9. Susan fairly ran the last few yards, and crammed herself into an already packed elevator.

She said "Excuse me" to an un-

Letters To The Editor

Ferguson Impeachment And Murray Telegram Bases For Letters From Two Lubbock Readers Of Avalanche

EDITOR OF THE AVALANCHE: Having enumerated in chronological order some of the outstnading achievements of James E. Ferguson as governor of Texas, we now come to the tragedy enacted by the Senate's trial and impeachment which was held in the capitol in Austin during August and September, 1917.

The record of this trial, a book containing some nine hundred pages of court records, is too voluminous to consider only in a cursory manner.

The House of Representatives preferred 21 articles of impeachment and of this number the Senate sustained only 10. The remaining 11 were carefully considered but were discarded for lack of merit. In other words, after three weeks of arduous labor and aggressive work to secure evidence that might embarrass the governor, the political foes succeeded in securing only 10 vulnerable points of attack.

The two most outstanding Articles were Articles 11 and 15.

Article 11 charged James E. Ferguson with securing a loan of $156,000 from a source which he refused to divulge. The Senate held that his refusal to answer constituted official misconduct and his failure to give names of friends who made the loan was in contempt of court. Ferguson, however took the position that he was acting within his own personal rights and refused that information. The transaction concerning his borrowing the $156,000 was open and above-board; an honest day-light transaction between himself and gentlemen who were not interested in anyway in legislation, departmental matters, or any other like questions. He, Ferguson, considered the loan as a private, personal transaction, and the fact that he had given his word that he would not disclose the names of those who loaned it to him, is a tribute to his determination to keep his word inviolate. The charge which was sustained, wholly failed to show that it was an impeachable transaction, and failed even to show that it was an impropriety.

When further demands were made by the committee on rules that he make answer he reolied that he had rather surrender the office of governor than to betray the confidence of his friends. This refusal is in striking similarity to that of General U. S. Grant who promised the great Robt. E. Lee that he, Lee, would not be imprisoned upon surrendering. The enemy however, imdertook to destroy, humiliate, and imprison the matchless and chivalrous Lee. Grant came forward and said: "By the Eternals, you must not place him in prison, I gave my word and my word must not be broken." We should respect men who respect agreements and we should appreciate Gen. Grant for the part he played in saving from humiliation our own Robt. E. Lee. But a Texas Senate impeached, next to Jim Hogg, the greatest governor that Texas has ever had, because he refused to break a private agreement with honorable men.

Article 15 concerns the University of Texas appropriation and the refusal of Governor Ferguson to allow in the budget $5,250 for two offices that were included but did not actually exist. His inquiries into the university's expenditures and his refusal to O. K. the appropriations until corrections be made by the Board of Regents caused a storm of indignation among the regents, faculty members, and the student body. This storm gathered fury as time passed and the strength of these three factors induced a special session which session involved itself into one of 6 to 24 to sustain Article 15.

The fact still remains that James E. Ferguson could have avoided the impeachment if he had been more of a politician and less of a statesman; more of a demagogue and less of a patriot; more of a time server and less a benefactor.

EXPLAINS TELEGRAM

Editor, The Avalanche: On the front page of Saturday's Morning Avalanche appeared an article headed: "'Alfalfa Bill' Appears To Be A Thrifty Man". This article should never have appeared as the facts are these: I, at the request of Mr. T. E. Lirksey, personally talked to Governor Murray over long distance telephone inviting him to the formal opening of broadcasting station, KFYO, and specifically requesting Governor Murray to wire his final decision collect and he did. Mr. T. E. Kirksey has paid the $1.41 to Mayor Clements.

In view of the fact that The Avalanche gave front page publicity to the fact that Governor Murray did wire his answer collect we ask that you publish in your paper these facts as we feel that an injustice has been done Governor Murray.

Sincerely yours,
C. A. Sheffield, Manager,
Hotel Lubbock.

(Dear Mr. Sheffield: Thanks for your explanatory letter. I disagree with you in one point, however, when you say "this article should never have appeared." In the newspaper business, as I suppose in the hotel business, there are some principles not gnerally understood by the laymen, and this appears to be one of them. At the time we secured and printed the story, no explanation was available concerning why Mr. Murray's telegram came collect. Mayor Clements didn't know anything about your conversation with the governor; the telegram was sent him rather than to you. As the facts stood then—as far as anyone but you knew—they made a good story, one in which many people got a chuckle, and as facts were when our story was secured and published no injustice was done the Sage of Tishomingo. Never-the-less, I am glad to publish your new light in the matter. Sincerely, The Editor.)

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 25 (AP)—Cotton was fairly active and decidedly erratic today fluctuating mainly with stocks and cotton although there was some May liquidation, as tomorrow will be the first notice day for that month. After declining 2 to 5 points during the morning the market closed was steady at or near the best, the general market showing net gains for the day of 4 to 6 points. Late in the late trading shorts covered freely and prices were advanced to new highs for the day at 6.04 for May, 6.23 for July and 6.45 for October or 10 to 11 points above the earlier lows. The close was at or near the top. May and Oct. showing net gains for the day of 9 points, July gained 6 points net.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—A slight early decline in cotton under a renewal of near month liquidation was followed by rallies on covering and trade buying which carried the price of July contracts from 6.11 to 6.21 in today's late trading. Fluctuations were rather nervous and irregular, but the undertone gradually improved, with the market showing increased strength in the late trading when covering became fore active. May advanced to 6.03 and October to 6.45 making net gains of 6-8 points and the close was within a point or two of the best levels.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK, April 25—
STOCKS steady; pivotal issues rally.
BONDS irregular; U. S. governments steady.
CURB steady; some utilities advance.
FOREIGN exchanges irregular; sterling heavy.
COTTON higher; steady cables, trade buying.
SUGAR steady; Cuban buying.
COFFEE quiet; foreign buying, steady Brazilian market.
CHICAGO:
WHEAT firm; further decrease visible stock, firmness Winnipeg.
CORN steady; decreace visible supply, better eastern cash trade.
CATTLE irregular.
HOGS lower.

Gains And Losses Are About Evenly Distributed During Monday Session

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—Supply and demand balanced rather nicely in today's stock market and net changes of most leaders were limited to minor fractions. Gains and losses were about evenly distributed.

It was the dullest session since September 1, 1931, for only 841,200 shares changed hands. Whether the market felt that it had discounted unfavorable action on U. S. Steel's common dividend was not clear, but at least traders were disposed to await tomorrow's announcement calmly. The imminence of that event plainly helped to restrict trading.

By early afternoon the market was mending under leadership of Standard Oil of New Jersey and some stocks sold a point or more net higher. Late selling of Allied Chemical on word that first quarter earnings had fallen short of the $1.50 dividend requirement proved moderately unsettled and the market eased from the highs.

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, April 25 (AP)—Demand for corn and oats on the Fort Worth cash grain market for the week started was reported slow but other offerings were well absorbed.

Quotations Monday ranged as follows, basis carloads, freight paid, delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 60 1-2—61 1-2; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 61 1-2, 62 1-2; 14 per cent 63 1-2, 64 1-2; 15 per cent 65 1-2, 66 1-2, 16 per cent 66 1-2, 67 1-2. Barley, No. 2 white kaffir 71-72.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 3 mixed 40-41; No. 2 white 41-42, No. 2 yellow 47-48.

Delivered Texas common points, Oats, No. 2 red 28.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 25 (AP)—Radically unfavorable crop reports from Kansas, Nebraska and southwestern Iowa did much to strengthen wheat prices late today.

Sharp decrease in the United States wheat visible supply total was also a bullish factor helping to overcome the unsettling influence of a crash in corn an oats prices to low levels unequaled in many years. Farm board rejection of all offers of private dealers for purchase of the board's surplus wheat was not generally known until after trading had ended.

Wheat closed firm at the day's top prices, 3-4—1 1-8 above Saturday's finish, corn 1-8—1-4 off to a shade advance, oats unchanged to 1-4 down, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2 cents.

Bible Drama Will Be Given Tonight

"Ruth," biblical drama, is to be presented at the First Methodist church tonight at 8 o'clock by the Wesley players. Fiske Miles is directing the production.

Miss Eileen Graves is playing the leading role of Ruth and Tom Watson is to take the character part of Boaz. Others in the cast are Misses Gwendolyn Thompson, Melbria Pirtle, Dorothy Rushing, Messrs. Charles Maedgen, Layton Lawson, Moody Hale and Lawrence Kahn.

The parts of elders, gleaners and reapers are taken by Misses Dorothy Clements, Artelle Appling, Mary Repass, Mae Tom Howell, Nancy Favor, Dollie Clements, Freddis Adkins, Sammie Marie Hitt, Roma Gause, Florence Anderson, Messrs. Claude Brown, Lee Carter, Lud Brown, Lloyd Glover, David Powell, Vance Vannoy, Coy McCullough, Trenton Davis and H. P. Hargis.

The play is in four acts.

This production was to have been given April 13, but was postponed because of the death of Dr. Paul W. Horn.

A small admission is to be charged.

avowed opponent for the Republican presidential nomination, is the lone candidate for the preference vote in Pennsylvania, where the Republican senatorial nomination race between Senator James J. Davis and Major General Smedley D. Butler, of Marine corps fame has stirred up the most din.

Tactics Denounced

"Buffoonery and rip-snorting tactics," have been denounced by Davis in his anti-prohibition compaigning. Butler has assailed "that damned Philadelphia gang" in championing the cause of prohibition.

The Smith-Roosevelt clashes will be the first since the 1928 standard bearer inferentially charged Roosevelt with "Demagoguery" in calling for aid for the "little fellow at the bottom of the economy pyramid" and Roosevelt's reply that he favored relief for all classes.

Hoover To Speak

This phrase bobbed up in the Oklahoma Republican state convention today with Secretary Hurley, the keynoter, declaring every item in Mr. Hoover's program was "aimed at improving the lot of the little fellow."

The president announced a decision to speak Wednesday before the governors' conference in Richmond, where his potential opponent for the presidency, Gov. Roosevelt, arrived last night to deliver a speech on state problems.

Plains wouldn't do anything if it were not for the spokes."

The remainder of the program, which was completed at 10:10 o'clock and was followed by a dance, follows:

Nasal solo and a story by George Meiser of Lubbock, a talk by T. L. Mullican of Levelland, a dialog by Wayne Hand and Haskell McElroy, and talks by R. P. Weathers of Tahoka, A. R. Ellis, superintendent of schools at Slaton; Percy B. Ralls of Ralls, R. R. Durham of Lorenzo, T. B. Richmond, jr., of Crowell, M. J. Whitsett of O'Donnell, and C. A. Sheffield of Lubbock. Mayor T. M. George of Slaton gave the invocation.

Self-consciousness before the microphone usually wore off before a speaker sat down, after being beckoned toward the mike as a reminder that the program was on the air. As the dinner ended, the men filed by the microphone and were introduced by Doan.

Those rigistering were:

W. E. Singleton, O'Donnell; Charles Cathey, O'Donnell; M. J. Whitsett, O'Donnell; Vic Bennett, Lubbock; L. Freed, Lubbock; L. A. Wicks, Ralls; A. L. Others attending included A. B. Davis, manager, and Garnet Reeves, publicity director, of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Two Are Named To Map Out Itinerary For Candidates

Mrs. Floe Swenson and W. E. Lavender were named by a group of county candidates meeting Monday night at the courthouse to map out a speaking itineary.

Fred Spikes, who called the meeting, presided, and between 15 and 20 persons attended. Mrs. Swenson, secretary, said last night the report would be made as soon as the dates could be arranged with school officials in county communities. Mr. Lavender is assistant secretary.

Warren Kerr's Matadors Win In Morning Glory Contests

Warren Kerr's Matadors defeated Possum Blackwell's Ramblers, 17 to 14, in a Morning Glory league basketball game Monday morning at Lubbock High school.

Rayburn Hale, Matador forward, was high scorer, having nine points. Blackwell and Skinner, Rambler forward and guard, respectively, led their club with four points each.

Lineups in the intra-mural game were:

Matadors—Jackson and Hale, forwards; Kerr, center, and Speer and Quinlon, guards; Ramblers—Blackwell and Bumpass, forwards; Jaines center, and Skinner and Shook, guards. DeLashaw was substituted for Blackwell.

old."

The girl said she also went to school in Jacksboro, Weatherford and Wichita Falls.

Edith says she does not know where her father is. The last time she saw him, she said, was last summer, in June or July, when he went to the funeral of his mother. This was at Graham. He came up to her and spoke to her once, she explained.

"I don't know much about my father," she said.

Mother In Ill Health

Mrs. McComas, her daughter indicated, has not been in the best of health and has been subject to spells of hysteria. "Mother has been operated on three times, the last time two years ago," she said. "She hasn't fainted much but she did this (Monday) morning."

As far as Edith knew, her mother did not know Cunningham until she went to Matador to begin her work and had never heard of him before seeing and answering his advertisement in the Wichita Falls paper.

Immediately after making her second statement Monday morning, Mrs. McComas became highly nervous and lost control of her emotions, Dr. V Andrews, Floyd county health officer, was summoned and administered a sedative.

Calls For Help

As soon as Edith finished her story she left the unused cell and went to another where her mother was being held. A few minutes later she called for help.

"Mother has fainted," she cried. "Come and help!"

The officer ran to the cell and picked Mrs. McComas from the floor where she lay, apparently in a faint. The child calmly took a towel from a nearby rack, wet it and applied it to her mother's face. The woman regained consciousness and Doctor Andrews was again summoned to give treatment.

Received Divorce In 99th Court

Mrs. McComas Nov. 20, 1930, received an uncontested divorce from John McComas, a trucker, in 99th District court. She was given custody of the three children, Edith, then 11; Margaret, then 7; and Griffin, then 5.

The petition, filed Oct. 17, 1930, alleged cruelty, and charged that McComas beat her with a razor strop in October, that year. It was set out that they were married June 3, 1916.

Hits Near Memphis

Shortly after the storm struck in eastern Arkansas, it hit in the northern end of Shelby county, about 20 miles from Memphis.

A woman who weighs 200 pounds was picked up from the kitchen door of her home east of Millington and carried through the air several hundred feet. She landed unhurt in soft mud.

A number of injured in the Shelby county communities were taken to Brunswick, also in this county, for treatment. Newspapermen, after a hurried survey, said at least 12 negroes were injured at Millington. A check-up of the injured was delayed because the storm ripped communication lines.

Ambulances Called

Ambulances were sent to the area from Memphis. Some physicians went there by airplane and others by automobile.

Mrs. Perry Duringer, 23, was injured critically when the storm wrecked her home near Millington. Trees were uprooted, houses uprooted and farm buildings wrecked.

It was the second meteorological disturbance in 24 hours for the Osceola, Ark., vicinity. Hail, wind and lightning struck in that section last night, uprooting trees and breaking out window panes.

Bowling Green, Ky., reported a severe windstorm this morning in half a dozen or more counties in southern Kentucky. One man was hurt in Warren county and another shocked by lightning in Adair county.

Extensive damage was reported from Portersville and several other communities in that section of northern Alabama, where a storm struck last night. Housetops, crops and automobiles were damaged by hailstones in the area of Birmingham.

A tornado early today damaged several buildings in Sweetwater, Tenn., but injured no one.

Belated reports from Shivers in Simpson county, Mississippi, said a twister struck there early today, demolishing two farm houses and uprooting trees along a patch a quarter of a mile long. No one was injured.

It came and went like a flash, although high winds preceded it and residents were warned to find refuge in storm cellars.

commissioner have been opposed by Governor Murray and the two Democratic commissioners, Sam Hawks and J. F. McKeel. Although Murray and Wentz never have met, they have carried on a prolonged feud through frequent exchange of statements.

Although the commission has authorized a number of highway projects with Miss Thomas voting as a member since the governor ordered Wentz' removal and appointed her April 1, none of its acts can be invalidated by today's decision, as records show the commisison voted unanimously.

Last week, chairman of the commission, announced restoration of $2,600,000 in federal aid funds, withheld by the federal bureau of public roads because of an alleged breach of agreement by the state commission. The federal funds muddle came to a head about the time Wentz was ordered removed. He charged the majority commisison members with causeing the trouble, by "inefficient procedure."

On the other hand, Hawks and McKeel blamed Wentz for the order withholding the federal funds and Governor Murray linked Wentz' name with President Hoover's in a statement charging the national administration for trying to embarrass him in his presidential campaign.

NEWS BRIEFS

The April Boy Scout honor court for Lubbock will be conducted Friday night at the courthouse, Scout Executive D. T. Jennings of the South Plains area council said Monday.

Boys will appear for first and second class review Tuesday night at the city hall, and for merit badges Wednesday night.

Everett Morehead of Abernathy and Miss Frances Bryan of O'Donnell were married by Justice W. S. Clark Monday afternoon at the courthouse.

G. C. Wright, about 19, of Shallowater, who was injured when his automobile struck a sandbank near Shallowater Sunday while he was en route to attend a birthday dinner, was treated at Lubbock sanitarium for lacerations of the head. A sandstorm contributed to the causes of the accident, it was said.

A Chevrolet coach, owned by M. C. Butler, was stolen from Avenue J between Broadway and Thirteenth street about 6 o'clock Monday night. Highway license number of the black automobile is 880-350, and motor number is 2,279,458.

Inspection Of City Is Made

Tuesday Is Flower Bed Day In Clean-Up Campaign Here And Citizens Are Being Urged To Clean Premises

Tuesday is Flower Bed Day in Lubbock's third annual Clean-up and Paint-up campaign, and citizens are urged to cut lawns, prepare gardens and flower beds for planting and to clean walks and gutters.

The drive, which is to continue through May 4, was opened Sunday, and yesterday inspections were conducted by members of women's clubs participating.

The Campfire girls will present a play, "Willie Dreams," at the Lion club luncheon at Hoitel Hilton today.

Report blanks and campaign buttons were distributed at schools Monday. Citizens were urged to cooperate with the drive by filling out the blanks.

Boy Scouts will inspect alleys, making two tours. Seven pup tents will be given to the boys in connection with a contest on neatness, completeness and promptness of the reports. The city has been divided into eight districts for inspections.

Monday was Fire Prevention Day on the campaign program, and many citizens cleaned basements and attics of rubbish, greasy rags, waste paper, and other fire hazards.

W. B. Atkins is chairman of the steering committee. School children are competing for American flags, and pupils from the sixth through the eleventh grades are taking part in essay contests for cash prizes.

F. M. Roberts And Son Make Bond Monday; Bostick Held

F. M. Roberts and his son, Hollis Roberts charged with possession of liquor for sale, were released on bond Monday, the sheriff's department reported.

The father made bond of $1,200 fixed by Justice H. K. Porter, and the son was released on $1,000 bond. The Robertses were arrested at a farm eight miles south and west of Lubbock when 21 gallons of whisky was uncovered.

W. D. Bostick, charged with transportation and possession of liquor, last night had not made $1,000 bond. A suit to confiscate the automobile in which Bostick was arrested has been filed.

Mrs. Herman Horton Dies At Residence Here Monday

Mrs. Herman Horton, about 25, of 1414 Avenue E, died at the residence of heart disease at 7:05 p. m. Monday after an illness of about 45 days. Mrs. Horton, wife of a city employe, had been seriously ill since 1 a. m. Monday.

Funeral services will be held at the Calvary Baptist church at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning with the Rev. C. J. McCarty officiating. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery by Bynum-Morgan funeral home. Mrs. Horton had lived in and near Lubbock ten years. Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Lavelle, 7, and Nell Rose, 5; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Clements of Lubbock; two brothers, Ray Clements of Lubbock and Allen Clements of California, and one sister, Mrs. R. R. Sloan of Amarillo.

Rail Protests Withdrawn At Hearing Staged Monday

DALHART, April 25. (AP)—Protests against discontinuing Rock Island trains No. 13 and No. 14, operating between Texhoma, Okla., and Bucklin, Kas., have been withdrawn in view of service offered by a revised schedule.

Withdrawal of the protests was made here today at a hearing held by the state railroad commission.

Miners Win Close Decision In Spring Grid Battle With Tech

Matadors Lose 10 To 7 Monday Night At El Paso; Crites Carries For Long Gains And McKeever Goes Over

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, April 25.—A field goal kicked from placement by Shorty Key in the second quarter proved the margin of victory for the Texas School of Mines over the Texas Tech Matadors in a spring football game here tonight. The final score was 10 to 7.

Coach Mack Saxon himself was one of the outstanding stars of the game. Under prearranged rules, anybody was eligible to play, and substitutions were frequent. Saxon, Miles coach, backed up the line as quarterback and did half the ball carrying for the Miners.

McKeever Goes Over

McKeever, substitute Tech back, went over for the only Matador touchdown late in the fourth quarter after Harold Crites, had advanced the ball 60 yards in four plays. Ross Ayers kicked the goal for extra point.

Mat Hitchcock, end, and Truett Owens, tackle, were stars in the Tech line, with Moffett and Crites doing the backfield honors.

Brumbelow A Power

Lester Brumbelow, El Paso High school football coach, was a power in the Mines lines. Andrews, Weaver, and Key, with Saxon, did just about everything a backfield is expected to do.

Both teams featured strong and well trained defensive systems. Blocking and tackling was particularly good. First downs were even at eight each. New football rules were observed.

Local Students To Leave For Mineral Wells Rally

Four Lubbock High school home economics students and an instructor, Miss Gertrude Watson, will leave Wednesday noon for Mineral Wells to attend the annual Homemaking Educational rally.

The students are Frances Campbell, Pauline Yeager, Nannie JotHaymes and Maxine Burrus, Miss Campbell will exhibit tailored costume and will judge children's play suits. Miss Yeager's entry will be a party costume and she also will take part in a family dietary contest. Miss Burrus will enter a foods contest and will judge tablek. A school costume will be displayed by Miss Haymes.

The rally was held in Lubbock last spring.

The most publicized man of the scheduled program, Paul Rilling of New York, did not appear. He is ill in a hospital at Philadelphia, said J. W. Harris of the Morrison company.

Speakers yesterday included: Walter Wilson, Mary Knifel, and E. A. Reinhard.

A style show will be staged at Lindsey theater Wednesday night as a climax for the show and school. Models of all the latest hair dressing styles as well as facial types will be shown.

Forbess Selected As Fire Marshal

D. A. Forbess, 2603 Twenty-First street, was named city fire marshal and electrical inspector Monday, City Manager Will H. Rodgers announced.

Forbess, who has lived in Lubbock six years, began work yesterday, succeeding Wiley L. Metcalfe, who was named chief of police. The new marshal named from a field of 21 persons who made written applications, is a building contractor. He came here from Carlsbad, N. M.

In making retrenchments last summer, the city reduced its force by discharging an electrical inspector. An agreement made then with the state insurance commission was that an inspector would be replaced at the suggestion of the department. Forbess will handle both positions.

Body Of Montana Senator Is Found In Wrecked Airplane

MALTA, Mont., April 25. (AP)—The body of J. W. Schnitzler, Froid, Mont., banker, state senator and Republican national committeeman, was found today in his wrecked plane seven miles southwest of Chapman, about 50 miles northwest of Malta.

Deadline On Crop Production Loans But Five Days Away; 623 Farmers Of Section Have Received First Checks

With the deadline on federal crop production loans only five days away, it is estimated by P. F. Murray that 700 farmers in Lubbock, Lynn, Terry, Cochran, Yoakum, and Hockley counties have made application for more than $100,000. Murray is district representative.

All applications, to receive loans, must be approved by the county committees not later than Saturday, April 30.

A total of 623 farmers Monday had received first checks, Murray said. Checks have been received by counties as follows: Lubbock, 111; Lynn, 220; Terry, 50; Cochran, 42; Yoakum, 35; Hockley, 65. Lubbock county has had 139 applications.

"In every county in Texas there are hundreds of cases not yet touched by publicity, contact or action by the average county committee," Owen W. Sherill, regional director, of Dallas, has written local representatives.

"Some of these farmers, for many reasons, have not applied for loans which they actually need while others have been discouraged and have not received a deserving loan.

"I urge that unnecessary loans be discouraged and over-loans be reduced; but that needy and urgent loans be taken care of in all cases. May we hope before April 30 to secure 100 per cent cooperation by all business interests and other agencies."

Hart Schaffner & Marx Suits

As Low As $25

As Advertised in the Saturday Evening Post by Hart Schaffner & Marx

Smashing A 16 Year Old Value Record

Not just lowering prices—but raising the quality is the big news about these suits. Fine, sturdy, long wearing worsteds in monotone cords, diagonals, stripes and basket weaves—all with the trustworthy Trumpeter lable. And that means something—and that something is what you'd better have if you respect your hard earned dollars.

Gulf weights—coat, vest and trousers—they're ideal for the Plains, light enough for summer but suitable for all year wear. Remarkable worsteds in greys, tans and blue. And prices are back to 16 years age which means

$35.00 Two Trousers

Dixie Weaves—coat and 2 trousers. We are hearing loud cheers from men who like the cool comfort of Dixie Weaves. And also more cheers from the men who like to be Scotch with their dollars and make them do extra work.

Stolen Machines Stripped In City

Thieves who took two Lubbock automobiles Sunday night and early Monday subsequently left the machines stripped, the police and the sheriff's departments were informed.

A Ford coupe owned by Jack Barr, 2002 Seventeenth street, and stolen Sunday night from that address was found a mile south of Thirty-fourth street. A Ford sedan owned by W. H. Dziewas, 1812 Eighteenth street, taken from that address Monday morning, was found two miles south and half a mile east of College avenue. Dziewas estimated it would cost $100 to replace parts taken from his machine.

Gasoline Stolen

A pump at a Magnolia Petroleum company filling station at 2105 Avenue H was found twisted off and 40 gallons of gasoline was missing, police reported, after answering a call there by J. E. McAlester, operator, early yesterday.

Police answered a call to K. Carter school at 6:40 o'clock on Monday and found that the principal's office had been entered, after a screen was cut, and although a desk was battered and papers were turned topsy turvy, nothing was found to be missing, the break-in evidently having been effected to get money.

McDonalds Named Home Caretakers

Commissioners court Monday named Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McDonald as caretaker for the county old folks home, now under construction. Salary for both will be $75 per. month.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald about two months ago were tentatively accepted as caretakers. The court action Monday affirmed the appointment.

Commissioners Claude Denton and Claude A. Burrus and Miss Evelyn Richter, executive secretary of the City-County Welfare association were named to buy equipment for the home.

County tax valuations on two tracts of real estate were lowered. Valuation of Cheri Casa house near Texas Technological college was reduced $25,000 to $14,000, and on an unknown 15 acres near Lubbock, in section 7, block B, and abstract 94, the reduction was from $3,500 to $1,000.

Tax saving on the Cheri Casa property, which on city rolls is valued at $28,000, is estimated at $160. Previously, county and state taxes on the property, on lots 21 and 22, block 98 of the Overton addition, had exceeded city taxes.

MOVES TO LUBBOCK

RALLS, (Special) — C. E. Dean, well known gin man, who has lived here since the town was started, has moved to Lubbock. Mr Dean was formerly with the Bird and Dean Dry Goods store here, a pioneer store. He has sold his gin interests here and has more now west of Lubbock than in Crosby county. For that reason Mr. and Mrs. Dean moved to Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Collier bought their home here.

Europe's largest dam, 600 feet long, has just been completed at Kleinan Bieiloch, in Thuringia.

Doubly Beautiful

Just twice as pretty as most beauty contest winners are the Senoritas Rosita and Lolita Agramonte, darkeyed twin nieces of a former Cuban government official. Judges saw double and awarded them two first prizes in a beauty show held recently in Madrid, Spain.

The first repertory theatre to be established in the East End of London has just been opened with Patrick Hamilton's "Rope."

Nevada's state debt is only $842,000. Only $5,000 of this amount is held by persons outside the state.

Local Officials To Attend Meet

At least three and possibly four members of Lubbock county Commissioners court will attend the semi-annual convention of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association meeting Thursday and Friday at Midland.

Commissioner and Mrs. Claude A. Burrus will leave Wednesday afternoon and will spend that night in Big Spring with Mrs. J. E. Kuykendall, sister of the commissioner.

Judge E. L. Pitts and Commissioner J. T. Pinkston will leave Thursday. Commissioner W. L. Brashear probably will attend, also, he said Monday.

The association was formed in Lubbock. Amarillo is bidding for the fall meeting, local officials have been informed.

An "Inverness halfpenny," dated 1796, was found by a boy in Buckie, Scotland, recently.

Two Men Are Indicted For Murder Of Resort Bouncer

DALLAS, April 25. (AP)—Acting speedily through fear that state witnesses might be intimidated, the county grand jury today returned murder indictments against Frank (Red) Callan and R. S. (Sam) Murray for the killing of King Watson, asserted "bouncer," at a resort near Buchman's dam the night of April 17.

The true bills were returned shortly after Mrs. Harry Goodman, 29, wife of the resort operator, appeared before the jury and related her version of events leading to the shooting.

Mrs. Goodman spent the week-end in the women's ward at the county jail at her own request. She told officers her life had been threatened and she wanted to be safe until the two men had been indicted.

CAFE MAN HELD

ODESSA, April 25. (AP)—A charge of murder was filed today against Howell Reincier, cafe operator, for the shooting of Lucien (Lam) Dunne, 28-year-old rodeo performer. Dunne was killed by a bullet which struck him in the forehead yesterday. Reincier declined to comment on the shooting after his surrender to officers.

American Is Arrested In South Africa In Kidnaping

JOHANNESBURG, Union of South Africa, April 25. (AP)—An American citizen arrested here last Friday at the request of the attorney general of the state of Missouri was identified today by the police as John Long.

They said this may be an alias. It was understood American authorities sought him as Martin Depew the kidnaper of Mrs. Neil Donnelly, wealthy garment manufacturer, of Kansas City, Mo.

Kansas City advices yesterday said the state department at Washington had been asked to seek the arrest of a man believed to be Martin Depew at Durban, South Africa.

The man was arrested by four detectives who found him in bed. He was on an American ship when it arrived recently at Durban.

Dr. Halewauder, inventor of the three phase current motor, has died at Freiburg, Germany, aged 72.

One Man Is Killed And Two Wounded In Shooting Affray

GROVETON, Texas, April 25. (AP)—Lent Reynolds, 27, of the Creek community, near here, was charged with murder here today in connection with a shooting Saturday night at Friendship, 14 miles north of here.

William Parker, 20, was killed and Clyde Gibbons, 19, and Doc Westbrook were wounded in the gun fight which Constable H. C. Brunson said, was the result of an old grudge.

Gibbons joined the affray to aid Parker, Brunson said. The Westbrook youth, a bystander, was shot accidentally.

England has barred potatoes from France because of the Colorado beetle scare.
