OF A COUNTRY EDITOR

BY JOHN C. GREGG

STRAW VOTE SATURDAY

A lot of interest is being expressed over the state in "straw vote" polls. We have been planning one for several weeks and intended to hold it last Saturday in connection with the school election. However, after Truman decided to take his name out of the picture, we decided to wait and see what the developments were for another week.

So this week we are going to take our "straw vote". We would like for every qualified voter in the Santa Anna area to express their opinion as to who they would like to see elected President of the United States; United States Senator from Texas; and Congressman from the 21st Congressional District to the United States House of Representatives.

All the known candidates for the above mentioned offices are listed on a ballot printed on page one of this newspaper. If you care to, you might clip the ballot, mark it in the usual way, marking through all the names except your choice, and mail it to "Straw Vote", Santa Anna News, Santa Anna, Texas. We are also setting up a voting box at the News Office and extra ballots will be printed and if you had rather, you are invited to come by the News Office and cast your vote.

This voting will have absolutely nothing to do with the election of candidates, but is primarily to give us an over-all picture of who the citizens of this area would like to see elected as their choice for the high offices.

Results of the voting will be tabulated and published in next week's Santa Anna News. If you mail your vote, be sure that it is in the mail not later than Saturday. Votes will not be counted if they are post-marked after Saturday, April 12.

AN APPRECIATED LETTER

We received the following letter recently, and needless to say, we appreciate letters of this kind. When we are wrong, we expect, and like, to be corrected. The letter follows:

The Editor
Santa Anna News
Santa Anna, Texas
Dear Editor:

Each week I anticipate with great interest the arrival of the Santa Anna News, which I receive from my father, E. L. Steward of Rockwood, in lieu of a letter from him and my mother. The coverage of local news is excellent and it keeps the homes of those of us who have been away for these several years a little more closely knitted than would be otherwise possible by letter correspondence.

With no idea in mind of being critical I wish to bring to your attention an error which I noticed a few weeks ago in your paper and which I know you will be glad to correct. This was one article concerning the successor to the Presidency in case of the President and the Vice President. Your paper stated the next in line would be the Secretary of State. I believe if you will check this, you will find that the Speaker of the House would become President in case of death or removal of both President and Vice President. In other words, our own Sam Rayburn would be next in line for the Presidency. I bring this to your attention, knowing that you have overlooked the error. (Editor's note: Upon checking with reference books at the Santa Anna High School, we find Major Steward to be correct. In 1949, the United States Congress passed a bill that would make

Trickham Cemetery Meeting Well Attended Tuesday

BY MRS. A. L. ODER

There was a very large attendance when the Cemetery Association met at the Trickham Cemetery Tuesday.

Upon arrival the view showed the spacious grounds to be in fine condition. Much work has been done since last meeting, charting the cemetery and re-mourning graves. Unknown graves have been numbered and as they become identified, the names are placed on a map that has been made. Much progress is being made in identification.

The Cemetery Association was organized in 1948, and has done a fine work.

The meeting opened at 11 o'clock with the president O. R. Boenicke presiding. Walter Stacy led in the singing of several songs. Rev. J. B. Weathers and Rev. Howell Martin offered Prayers. Rev. Fred Cox gave a splendid address. Miss Lou Featherston the secretary-treasurer read the minutes of last year's meeting, reported on the work done during the year and gave a fine financial report.

Rev. Weathers presided for the election of directors. O. R. Boenicke, Lige Lancaster and Albert Cole were all re-elected. These have done a great work in cooperation with other interested persons of the community and elsewhere.

At the noon hour a great old time basket dinner was served on the long table prepared for such events. There was plenty of ice and hot coffee to accompany the feast.

After the dinner many took advantage to walk through the cemetery and some other identifications were made. Nearly

Plans Complete For Sunrise Easter Service

The annual Sunrise Easter Service will be held in the Ranger Park, on the East Santa Anna Mountain Sunday, April 13. Plans are complete and the grounds are ready for the biggest gathering thus far for the Santa Anna Easter Service. Roads to the site have been graded and grounds have been cleared off. Several loud speakers will be installed and the local National Guard is making preparations to serve free coffee and doughnuts immediately following the service.

The program will start at 5:30 a. m. with a special music program and the annual sermon will be delivered by Rev. Carroll H. Thompson, pastor of the local First Methodist Church, beginning at 6:06 a. m., just as the sun begins to rise.

Every church and denomination in Coleman County is participating in the annual service. Every one desiring to attend a service of this kind is invited to attend this Easter service. The loud speakers will be installed in such a manner that you may sit in your car and hear the service, or you may join the group around the large lighted cross, where the service will be held. The site can be easily seen from U. S. Highway 84, one mile east of Santa Anna. There is plenty of parking space.

Mrs. R. B. Archer is visiting this week with her daughter, Mrs. Huey Williams in Abilene. Mrs. Carl Ray took her aunt, Mrs. Alfred Herring, of Talpa, to Temple Monday, where Mrs. Herring is receiving treatment in a hospital.

Mrs. A. D. Donham, Sr. and son A. D. and Janice, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Campbell and Linda were in Grandview Sunday to attend funeral services for a relative, Mrs. D. Donham.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowe spent Sunday in Winters with her mother, Mrs. G. W. Bailey.

six hundred persons, many of them pioneers of this area, have been buried on that hallowed spot of ground.

Nearly all of the nearby communities were well represented and others were there from Cross Plains, Walnut Springs, and other distant places.

The writer enjoyed renewing acquaintance with old friends, and meeting others. Glad my good friend Mrs. C. F. Shield got back from New Mexico in time to be present. She enjoyed the occasion seated in a car.

I was also glad to see Mrs. Joe Clark able to be present and enjoy the proceedings in her wheel chair.

The writer made the trip with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haynes and could have gone with Mr. and Mrs. Lanham Cole and Mrs. James, also Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCrary. Isn't it fine to have good friends and neighbors?

PTA TO MEET TUESDAY AT WARD SCHOOL

The Santa Anna P. T. A. will meet in the Ward School Auditorium on Tuesday April 15th. Supt. R. K. Green will speak on "What Makes Good Schools" and pupils in the 1st and 2nd grades will render a program.

"Straw Vote" Poll Saturday

The Santa Anna News is going to take a "straw vote" poll of candidates for elective offices in Washington, D. C. Saturday, April 12. Listed on the ballot will be names of men who have announced their intentions as being candidates for the Presidential nomination, plus a few other hopefuls, and the ones who have announced their candidacy for the United States Senate and the U. S. House of Representatives from the 21st Congressional District.

A voting box will be set up at the entrance of the Santa Anna News and ballots will be printed for the occasion. This ballot is not like, or even similar to, Official Ballots. All that is on the ballot is the names of the candidates and the voter is not requested to sign the ballot. Elsewhere on this page is printed the "straw vote" ballot and if you do not care to come by the News Office and vote, you are invited to mark the ballot and mail it to "Straw Vote", Santa Anna News, Santa Anna, Texas. We would like to have a good representative vote of the citizens of this area and we cordially invite each of you to cast your vote. No one will know how you voted unless you are interested in letting them know.

We are not primarily interested in how the individual voter votes. We just want to know what candidates the general citizenship of this area are catering to. We would prefer you to be a legally qualified voter, but we are not restricting the voting in any manner. If you would like to vote, either clip the ballot and mail it or come by the News office between 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. Saturday, April 12, and cast your vote.

Names appearing on the ballot are: For President, Dwight D. Eisenhower (R), Robert A. Taft (R), Harold E. Stassen (R), Douglas MacArthur (R), Earl Warren (R), Aldai E. Stevenson (D), and Robert S. Kerr (D). For United States Senate Price Daniel and Tom Connally are the only announced candidates; and for Congressman, 21st District, Ira Gallaway and O. C. Fisher are the announced candidates.

We would appreciate every qualified voter taking a few minutes to cast your vote in this "straw vote" balloting.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

FIRINGS, RESIGNATIONS, PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S decision, the pending steel strike, Tidelands, cherry blossoms, and the Queen of the Netherlands, all figured in Washington news last week.

Charles E. Wilson, the demobilizer, handed in his resignation in protest against the President's refusal to follow his advice to refuse WSB's proposed settlement of the steel argument. WSB has recommended 26c an hour increase for Phil Murray's union, and Wilson said this will adversely affect the nation's economy and would probably lead to another round of wage and price increases, hence more inflation.

Wilson, in his first public appearance following his resignation talked to the Texas delegation at our weekly lunch last week. He pulled no punches. He pointed out that while the cost of living index is dropping Phil Murray is demanding an increase that will reverse that trend "as sure as God made little apples".

He cautioned that if Murray's demands are continued, "the cost of that labor by 1960 will reach $4 per hour and the cost of steel will jump to $200 a ton!" Steel labor has had 5 raises in 5 years, not counting the ones they are now demanding.

"Phil Murray — and also one or two other union leaders — now has more power to control the fate of this Nation's economy than does the President of the United States", he reminded. "Murray can shut down the steel mills tomorrow, along with scores of other industries. But do you think the President of the United States has the power to start them up again the next day? Emphatically not."

TIDELANDS

Texas — and the nation for that matter — scored a victory last week when the Senate passed our tidelands bill by a vote of 50 to 35, with 7 of the absent Senators being recorded as favoring the measure. One absentee, Senator Kefauver, had himself recorded as being opposed to it.

Since the bill is not on all fours with the House bill we passed last summer, it will have to be acted upon again in the House. That will be done soon. The House will be able to override a veto. It is a bit doubtful in the Senate, though there is a distinct possibility that a veto can be overridden by the Senators. Up to now it has been a major victory for Texas and for fundamental rights of the States.

MORRIS GETS OUT

When the President announced the appointment of Newbold Morris as a choice to ferret out any corruption in government — thus carrying out the pattern set by many members of Congress in exposing crime and corruption where it can be found — he was acclaimed by the exposing element on Capitol Hill. But it soon developed that Morris' law firm had been entangled in some big ship profits, which while legal at least raised a question with regard to his fitness for the clean-up job.

Then, last week the pay-off came. Attorney General McGrath said he had made a mistake in approving Morris' appointment, didn't like the way he was handling his job, and proceeded to fire him. A few hours later President Truman gave McGrath his walking papers. Thus, two months after the appointment of a clean-up man, it all fizzled. The total results: zero.

It can be assured, however, that the independent members of Congress will not retreat. Those of us who have supported the exposure drive during the past year or so will keep right on exposing and bringing to justice all who can be found betraying their public trust.

Health Officer Gives Way To Control Polio

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is always more prevalent during the summer months.

Until recently it was generally believed that this infection is transmitted by means of discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis is primarily another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must emphasize clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Strict sanitary measures must be observed in all communities. Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the housefly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitoes and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Safe water supplies must be assured. Where adequate community sewage disposal systems are available or feasible, it is important to build and properly maintain sanitary septic tanks. In the event a water carriage system of sewage disposal cannot be secured it is important that at least an approved pit type toilet be constructed and properly maintained.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from flies, filth, and insects. All eating and food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State Law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils.

Every effort should be made to secure approved milk. Rats and mice should be eliminated. Maintain in the home the same sanitary standards that are necessary in community life. Particular attention should be paid to personal hygiene. Excreta from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

The Risen Lord

Lesson for April 13, 1932

IN all the chorusing Easter music, in all the multitudinous many-voiced "I believe . . ." in the midst of the Easter lilies, is it hard to believe? Some find it so; and feel ashamed that in the presence of others' bright faith their own doubts rise darkly dim, their faith once clear and warm now grown opaque and cold. It is at Easter time that such a person finds his case most tragic. Doubt, that echoes a universal loss of faith is almost natural; but why must doubt stand like a dark rock in a sunny meadow, cold in the midst of flowing springtime?

The Man of Dark Mind

TRAGIC such loss of faith may be; but not new. For in Christ's first Twelve—we must say first Eleven, for Judas had sold himself to another—even in that choice company there was one who, on the First Easter, when the voice of all his friends spoke as one: "He is risen!" could only answer, "Is he risen, indeed?"

The church has given the name of Saint to these eleven men; they will not deny it to Saint Thomas. For sainthood is not confined to those who have never wrestled with doubt; saints are not only those in whose eyes God and his ways have been always clearly seen.

High in the roll of Christian saints is the name of Thomas, a man of dark but honest mind. His doubt was very like him. He was not a man who most easily believed what was most pleasant.

When Jesus had set his face to go to Jerusalem, the other Ten looked for a throne, and thrones for all; Thomas alone looked for death. Yet in the very hour, cheered by no bright illusion, Thomas could say what no other did: "Let us go too that we may die with him."

In the upper room at the Last Supper, again the voice of Thomas bespoke his dark mind. "We know not whether thou goest; and how can we know the way?"

So it could have been small surprise to the Ten that when they went to Thomas with the glad news of Easter Day, he was slow to believe.

The Last Beatitude

NOW the Lord Christ did not rebuke this man Thomas, when at last the two came face to face once more; nor did he praise him. He knew that Thomas had acted as a Thomas will.

But our Lord also looked down the centuries, to us and beyond. Thomas had not asked the impossible; but soon, soon would come the time when a request like his could not be granted.

Not forever could Christ be seen on earth with the visible eye. To only a few would be granted even the dream or vision of what Saint Thomas could have touched if he had dared.

The time was shortly coming when men must believe, if they believe at all, without seeing. Easter days would come and go, the voice of faith would rise in a thousand songs: He is risen! But not on any Easter, for twice a thousand years at least, would Christ return to break bread with his friends in such a way that doubt could no longer be. Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet—

The Risen Lord

SO Saint Thomas was wrong, and right. He was wrong if he thought: I cannot believe unless I see. The Christian way is not the seeing that is believing; it is the believing that is seeing.

But he was right if he thought: I must believe for myself, I can take no other man's faith for my own. And he was right at the last: "My Lord and my God!"

Was Thomas only a man of temperament, a man easily blown from depth of doubt to height of faith? By no means. He knew what afterwards Easter makes, once the truth of it comes home to a man's mind.

It is the message of Easter is not that Christ is dead, rather Jesus is dead and there is no Christ; his brain is dust, his dream a cobweb.

In the wind of death. But if the message of Easter is true—and the whole Christian church is witness that it is true—then Christ who lived again on Easter morning lives forever past all the mornings of the world, lives to be man's only king, reigning from the very right hand of God.

If Easter is not true, we shall walk softly as befits those in mourning on the return of a day of sorrow; if Easter is true we shall say and sing with Thomas and all the saints: My Lord and My God!

COURT RULES PROTECT RIGHTS AND INSURE FAIR TRIALS

Many people regard rules of legal procedure as mere tools of delay, of concern only to lawyers and judges. Far from this, they are instruments of justice, and of real significance to all of us. Procedure is the lubricant which makes the machinery of uniform justice run smoothly.

The law is composed of two parts—the substantive and the adjective law. The substantive law defines rights, duties and remedies; it enforces contracts and rights wrongs; it describes crimes and sets up penalties. People can usually see the value of substantive law. Adjective law deals with legal procedure and describes the steps a person must take to invoke the substantive law.

Some of our most important rights are to be found in the body of procedural law. For example, as a people who want justice to prevail, we like to think that every man, rich or poor, shall have his day in court. This is an important right, for a day in court implies more than merely the right to have your say before a judge and jury.

Your day in court implies that you shall have the right to be properly represented, to have your case presented before an impartial jury and an unbiased judge, and to have a reasonable time to prepare for the trial. It holds that you shall have proper notice of the action against you; that the complaint or indictment shall state a clear cause of action. It means that you shall be confronted by your accusers; that you shall have the right to cross-examine them; that you shall be able to present evidence in your own behalf.

Finally, the law governing procedure tells you how you may appeal your case to higher courts when you feel that you have not had a fair trial or that a pre-judicial error has been committed in the trial court.

Much of our procedural law comes down from centuries of experience in the courts of other lands. It was inevitable that through the centuries some of the procedure would become cumbersome, obsolete and difficult. For this reason the his-

SEED TESTING AND CERTIFICATION — I

Farming today is getting complicated—sometimes it makes a person long for the "40 acres and a mule" of a hundred years ago.

But 100 years ago 85% of the U. S. population was engaged in agriculture. Today only 15% of the people are left on the land, and they have to produce enough for all Americans and some for export.

To get bigger yields, we are planting better seeds. But seed testing and certification, while helping us improve the quality of our seed stock, is one more complication in 20th Century farming. Seed samples submitted to the State laboratories indicate there is some confusion as to procedures. The following notes should help clear things up:

"Certified" seed, bearing a Certified Seed Tag, is seed which meets high quality standards. Certification is not required by law.

A grower wanting his seed certified files an application with the State Department of Agriculture and pays a $10 annual fee, plus a 5c to 50c fee per acre for most seeds.

"Registered" seed is like certified seed, except that it meets higher quality standards.

More than 1,000,000 bags of high quality registered and certified seed passed into the Texas channels of trade last year.

"Tested" seed is seed tested for purity and germination. It is required by law for field seeds offered for sale.

The State Seed Laboratories in Austin and Lubbock provide free testing for field seeds. Tested Seed Labels cost 1c each.

Samples should be identified with kind and variety, name and address of sender, lot No. or other stock identification, year grown, test desired (whether purity or germination or both).

Samples should be 2 oz. for small seed like white or alsike tory of procedure has been characterized by great periods of reform. In America we have experienced many advantageous changes in our laws governing the procedure of courts and administrative agencies. There is a growing custom in the United States of giving the courts the power to revise their rules in certain fields.

Our Texas rules of civil procedure are made by our state Supreme Court. The Court is constantly striving, with the recommendations of the practicing lawyer, to improve these rules. The aim of the Supreme Court is to provide a uniform and relatively simple set of rules for dispensing justice with a minimum of delay.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

clover; 5 oz. for seed the size of red or crimson clover, alfalfa, ryegrass, bromegrass, millet, flax and rape; 1 lb. for seed like sudan grass, sorghum, proso and hemp, and 2 lbs. for large seed like corn, cotton, cereals and vetches.

The state laboratories tested 14,818 samples last year, and sent out 3,614,086 Tested Seed Labels.

Early Detection Aim Of Cancer Crusade

One-third of the cancer deaths during the past year could have been prevented if the disease had been detected early, Frank C. Smith of Houston, president of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society, told state Cancer Crusade leaders on the eve of the 1952 drive.

The Crusade for funds to fight America's number two killer will begin in Texas Wednesday, April 2, with a special "kick-off" broadcast from the State Capitol.

"The April Crusade is not just a drive for money," Smith, a cancer survivor himself, said. "The Crusade offers an opportunity for extensive education. Remember that every solicitation made is a chance to save a life."

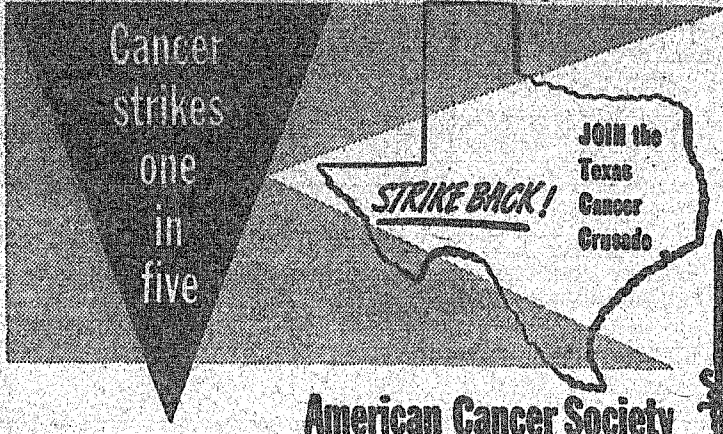

Smith urged Crusade workers to distribute pamphlets giving the danger signals of cancer as they seek funds for the American Cancer Society's programs of research, education and service.

"The greatest weapon we have to supplement the doctor's work is education of the public," Smith said. "We must drive home the fact that early cancer can be cured — that the rate of cure declines with the progress of the disease."

This year the state goal is $600,000, of which 60 per cent will be spent in Texas and another 25 per cent spent nationally on research. Of the remaining 15 per cent, a considerable part will be spent in Texas on educational material. The drive will be sparked by the theme, "Cancer Strikes One In Five, Strike Back!"

Mrs. Ernest Dossey returned to her home at Lockhart last Saturday after a visit of several days with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Dossey.

Servicemen Voting Rules Sent To All County Clerks

Austin — Rules governing absentee voting by servicemen of Texas have been sent to all county clerks by Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd.

The instructions list the various qualifications servicemen must meet to vote without a poll tax and outline the procedure to be followed.

Shepperd said he hoped the instructions would eliminate the confusion prevailing for the past few years.

The instructions point out that any member of the reserve on extended active duty, selective service draftee or member of the National Guard, on duty with Federal forces, and members of the Maritime service and Merchant Marine is qualified to vote without a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate provided he was at least 21 years old on the day of the election, a citizen of the United States, has resided in Texas at least a year next preceeding the election and for 6 months within the County in which he offers to vote. Time spent in the military service after the beginning of the above periods may be counted in determining if these time limits have been met.

To qualify to vote a serviceman cannot be a member on active duty of the regular or permanent military establishment of the Army, Navy, Air Force or Marines.

The Democratic Primary in Texas will be held July 26, the run-off August 23 and the General Election November 4th.

Sunrise Easter Service At Mercury

At Mercury, Texas one of the unique Sunrise Services will be held out on a rugged hillside, overlooking the live oak tree which marks the geographical center of Texas.

The special Easter observance is held in a natural amphitheatre which has been cleared of brush, cactus and other vegetation. Last year's registrations revealed that people attended from 17 states and Canada.

Thousands are expected to throng the hillside this Easter morning. In the foreground they will see the old rugged cross which is lighted for the occasion.

The compact Easter Worship has as one of its features, a most worshipful atmosphere. There will be audience participation and a distinguished choral group to bring the musical numbers on the program. Prof. Fred C. Frecht is the director of the Lutheran Hour Chorus of Springfield, Illinois, which will sing. The special Easter message will be presented by Dr. Eugene R. Bertermann, St. Louis, director of the International Lutheran Hour. Words of greeting will be given by Gov. Allan Shivers by transcription. Paul Brandt, Fort Worth, will have charge of the introduction of the governor. The program will be broadcast over the Mutual Broadcasting System as a delayed broadcast at 8 a. m. CST.

Small white crosses will be given as souvenirs for the occasion. Special Easter Worship programs will be given those attending. The event will be free to the public.

For the early arrivals there will be a feature program beginning at 4 a. m. The new color motion picture, "The Life of Christ" will be screened at that hour.

Fred Thorman, owner of the Heart of Texas farm and ranch, and president of the operating committee of the Easter Worship invites all Texans to attend the Easter Worship.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Conley and Sherry of Temple, visited last week end with his mother, Mrs. Eva Conley.

4-H Roundup Set For June

College Station. — The annual Texas 4-H Club Roundup will be held at Texas A. & M. College on June 9-10. The statewide gathering, sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, for years has been recognized as one of the highlight meetings for 4-H Club members.

According to information released by Extension Director G. G. Gibson, each county may send as official delegates two boys, two girls and two local adult leaders. This number does not include members who will participate in the many judging and team demonstration contests. Only one team from each Extension district may participate in each of the 14 announced contests. District winning teams are to be selected in district contests.

Since the annual Extension Conference will be held later in the year, only a limited number of county Extension agents will attend.

In addition to the contests, delegates will participate in recreation programs, assemblies, training meetings and visit points of interest on the college campus. The State 4-H Council will meet during the Roundup to make plans for other activities covering the remainder of the year.

Motorists Urged To Get Cars Inspected Before Late Rush

Austin. — "Get your vehicle inspected and avoid the delay and inconvenience of having to wait in line," said Chief G. W. Busby, Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, Department of Public Safety, Austin, Texas.

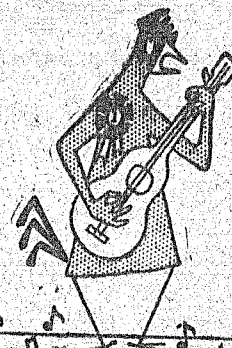

The 2700 official inspection stations licensed in Texas so far are inspecting some 50,000 cars per week and in order to inspect all the cars in this state by the deadline, September 6th, the number of cars inspected per week will have to be doubled.

There can be no further extension of the deadline and operators of vehicles not inspected on September 7th will be subject to arrest. The law provides a fine of not to exceed $200.00 for any person guilty of operating a vehicle after September 7th when such vehicle has not been inspected and approved.

Safety Precautions For Boat Riders By Army Engineers

Numerous new man-made lakes in Texas, including Hords Creek Lake, created by the Fort Worth District, Corps of engineers, this year will draw hundreds of visitors interested in fishing, boating, picnicking, and other recreational activities.

These vacation meccas are for you — the public — to enjoy. And so it's up to you, the people of the Lone Star State, to make safe and sane use of the recreational benefits offered there.

By applying some basic safety measures, you'll find these new lakes will afford you much pleasure, whatever may be your choice of activity. But if you forget or disregard these rules of safety, disaster and tragedy may be the net result.

Take boating, for example. Undoubtedly a Number One pastime for most outdoor enthusiasts, probably more accidents result from it than from any other lake activity.

And yet, most — if not all — these mishaps, can be side-stepped simply by keeping in mind a few basic safety precautions.

Unfortunately, a great many people who will take to Hords Creek Lake in their craft during the coming months don't know the fundamentals of safe boating. Others, sad to relate, who do know the rules of safety won't always bother to put them into practice.

Of course, one of the primary safety steps all you enthusiasts should take is to make sure your boat is in tip-top shape. Be sure it's that way before you take it out.

Find out, too, how many persons it will safely hold. Test it to find out its maximum load, then don't exceed that limit, because one of the easiest ways to bring about a mishap is to overload your boat. If you pack too many people aboard, leaving only an inch or so of freeboard, sooner or later it will be swamped. Someone will shift his position, or a passing powerboat will throw out some big waves, and down will go your craft.

But if you should have an upset, don't lose your head. Most boats will float, upside down, with you and a couple or three other people hanging on — at least until help arrives. If you can't hang onto the boat, grab the gasoline can or anything that floats.

All boats should be equipped with life belts or life preservers, oars or paddles, and bailing equipment. That's as essential as equipping your automobile with a spare tire and jack!

If a member of your boating party accidentally falls overboard, here's a word of caution about helping him back into the craft. Lift him aboard at the stern — or rear of the boat. There's far less danger of upsetting the craft that way.

Watch the weather! If there are high winds or threatening clouds, it's well to stay on shore, especially if you have a light boat. If a storm comes up while you're on the lake, put in to shore without delay. Better to interrupt your fishing or your boat ride than to risk the possibility of tragedy!

Now, here are some miscellaneous tips on safe boating:

Distribute weight evenly over the boat to guard against an upset. Don't stand up or walk in the boat — stay where you are, and stay seated. Don't use your craft for picnic purposes — a boat in the middle of a large lake is no place to eat, especially when you can find a better spot on shore.

Above all, don't be a "show-off" when you're away from shore. A boat is not a proper place for cutting capers, so save the comedy and practical jokes

THE AMERICAN WAY

But the aroma (?) lingers on until you're safely back on land. You're endangering the lives of others by your clowning. If you're in a power boat, high speeds or reckless "driving" may endanger the people riding with you as well as those in lighter craft nearby. Many accidents in the past have occurred in just this way.

So keep in mind that your carelessness or recklessness might easily be the cause of a tragic mishap for some innocent person.

Keep in mind, too, that the slogan, "if you drink, don't drive" can apply to boating as well as to driving an automobile.

Remember, the Corps of engineers wants you to enjoy the recreational advantages offered by these new lakes. In the interest of safety for all who visit there — whether to fish, picnic or boat — rules and regulations for the use of the reservoirs and lakeside areas have been formulated and are posted in conspicuous places.

Remember, too, that these rules won't work unless you make them work! So it's up to you — whether you prefer to follow commonsense and the rules of safety to insure an accident-free outing, or to take unnecessary risks and gamble with tragedy.

Think it over — and take the safety route!

Mrs. Annie Weaver returned home last week from Dallas, where she had spent the winter.

12 Cities Get Awards For Good Sanitation

Twelve Texas cities have won awards from the Texas State Department of Health, and twenty-three others have been recognized for maintaining municipal water supplies which conform to State Health Department standards.

The awards — loving cups and plaques — are presented every year by State Health Officer George W. Cox to cities making outstanding progress in water and sewage treatment plant operation.

Named to the 1951 Honor Roll were:

Jefferson County Water and Improvement District at Groves for having the highest percentage of its population connected to the public water system.

Marshall for having the best water plant for control. The Marshall plant daily performs bacteriological and chemical analyses of its water.

Fredericksburg, for having the highest percentage of its population connected to the sanitary system. No outdoor toilets exist in Fredericksburg.

Del Rio for having the highest ratio of sewer connections completed last year. Del Rio made 450 connections in 1951.

Burnet was designated as making the most advantageous use of its sewage effluent for irrigation.

San Angelo was selected for making the best use of its sewage sludge. San Antonio was designated as maintaining the best sewage plant laboratory. Modern facilities are available at this plant, Dr. Cox said, and competent personnel are in charge.

Crockett County Water Control District at Ozona won a loving cup for keeping the most attractive water plant, and Baird won a cup for making the most improvement to its water system.

Loving cups were also presented to Bandera for having the most attractive sewage plant; Mason for making the best quality sewage effluent; and to Longview for making the greatest improvement to its sewage plant.

Cities which won Departmental approval for their water systems are: Alice, Arlington, Arp, Bellaire, Conroe, Corrigan, Corsicana, Donna, Graham, Hico, LaGrange, Lamesa, Lampasas, Liberty, Lindale, Mont Belvieu, Rosenberg, Schertz, Schulenberg, Smithville, Taylor, and Troup.

Mrs. Fred Turner and Gay had as visitors over the week end, a daughter and sister Mrs. J. Robert Griffin of Fort Worth, also a sister-in-law, Mrs. R. D. Moore of Ft. Worth; a sister of Mrs. Turner's, Mrs. R. E. Williams, and a friend, Mrs. Kathryn Yates both of Dallas. All these helped to make Mrs. Turner's birthday a happy one.

Mrs. Dessie Rushing had as guests, a part of last week, her nieces, Mrs. Ola Newman of Millersview, and Mrs. Lora Luther of Ft. Worth.

Mrs. Hatton Laxson of Balinger was a visitor last week in the Ed Jones home.

An Ideal Character From The R'wood Home Dem. Club

By Mrs. Marcus Johnson

Rockwood Home Dem. Club. A beautiful woman of astonishing ability, and an inspiring personality is a lady who is a wife, mother, and grandmother, and is better known more affectionately as "Miss Fannie".

She is graceful with her homelife, orderly and efficient, because she has time, energy, and interest left for all activities of the community. She is an excellent leader with an influence for better things.

One of her most winsome traits is her interest in friendship. She creates a joyous sense of fellowship when around others, because she seems never to be tired or bored.

One never knows a more interesting person with so many talents; and one wonders how she gets around to all of them. Outside of her home-life she talks brilliantly about most any subject. She grows prize flowers and brings them out so that others might enjoy them also. She plays most any game as though she devoted her life to it. She has said that sewing was her hobby and most all newborn babies of the community receive one of her dainty handmade baby garments, and most all of the little girls wear one of her extremely beautiful hand-smocked dresses.

She is a devout Christian and the faithful painist of the Methodist Church. If there is a special occasion at the church she can always be depended upon for her presence and willingness to do anything that she is asked to do.

She possesses the qualities of tenderness, sympathy, and patience in nursing the sick, and she is very attentive to the old people.

She has had deep sorrow in her life, but she seems to have regarded it as only an incident in onward going life and as a triumphant adventure.

Because Mrs. Tom Bryan does her work with a joy and interest, she has acquired knowledge and skill that makes human happiness and an IDEAL CHARACTER.

Mrs. John Dawson, who has been quite ill for some time seems to be improving slowly.

Mrs. Smith Pate and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Pate and son Donnie Ray, of Sheppard, were week end visitors with Mrs. Smith the Speaker of the House of Representatives the President in case of the removal of, death of or the inability of the President and Vice President to act in that capacity. Next in line after the Speaker of the House would be the President Pro-Tem of the U. S. Senate, followed by the Secretary of State and other Cabinet Officers. Thanks for the letter Major Steward and we stand corrected.)

Pate's brother, Tex Jeffcoat and family. Use the News want ads. They get results.

MEETING IN COLEMAN

Your editor and Ford Barnes, secretary of the Community Chamber of Commerce, attended the weekly meeting of the Coleman Kiwanis Club Tuesday of this week as guests of John Will Vance, and heard Ted Stewardson, President of the Santa Anna National Bank, give details on plans now being worked out to increase the average rainfall in a 24-county area in the watershed of the Colorado River.

Stewardson has attended a number of meetings concerning this project of increasing the rainfall throughout this area, and gave some very enlightening information on the project. He is one of the four directors elected to get the project started in the area.

Stewardson said this was not a rain-making project, but instead a rain-increasing project. Under the proposed plan minute particles of coke saturated to a certain degree with silver nitrate are projected into the air when conditions are right. These conditions are determined by men trained in the profession and reports given at meetings he has attended seemed to prove beyond any reasonable doubt that through the process rainfall can be increased from 20 per cent to 50 per cent. He told of one case where statistics showed rainfall had been increased 450 per cent, but the usual increase is between 20 and 50 per cent.

Stewardson said that plans are being made for a number of public meetings to be held in the 24-county area to show and explain in detail to everyone interested, the process in which this operation works.

The meeting was very enjoyable and we wish to express appreciation for the hospitality of the club, and the members.

Rites For John
Fowler Tuesday

Rev. W. M. Feay, and Dan Fogarty officiated at the services.

Mr. Fowler, a member of the First Christian Church of Coleman was born in Collin County and had been a resident of Coleman County since 1892. He was a retired cotton buyer.

Survivors include three brothers, W. F. Fowler, Edwin C. Fowler of Coleman, and A. L. Fowler of Brownwood. Two sisters, Miss Lizzie Fowler of Coleman and Mrs. J. H. Moore of Rockwood and many other relatives.

Burial was in the Rockwood Cemetery. Relatives attending the services from Santa Anna were, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Snodgrass.

Methodist Revival
Ends Sunday With
Re-Dedications

Evidences of a genuine Spiritual Revival were seen and felt during the Pre-Easter Services held in the First Methodist Church here during the week of March 30th through April 6th. The Reverend Wm. M. Greenwaldt, from the Methodist Church in Mart, Texas was the preacher for these Revival Services, and Mr. Louis Jordan from Brownwood led the singing. Large crowds were in attendance at both the Morning and Evening Services, with almost every service witnessing the renewed dedication of individual lives to the Christian Way.

On Saturday night of the Revival, twenty young people and their adult leaders came from Ballinger, where one of the finest revivals in many years had just closed — and these young people, representing various churches, gave earnest and inspiring testimony as to their new found faith in the Christian Life.

So contagious and challenging was the witnessing from these youth of Ballinger, that on Sunday morning the altar of the Church here was filled with youth of Santa Anna, kneeling in rededication of life and spirit, with one young lady responding to a call to Special Service. Two people were received into the Church by profession of faith and Baptism and one by transfer of Church Certificate.

The great inspiration of the Revival, however, is to be found in the rededication of individual lives, along with a profound renewal of enthusiasm and interest.
