Soviet Official Hints Reds May Now Have Atom Bomb

Dewey, HST Renew Fight Over 'Unity'

(By The Associated Press)

GOV. THOMAS E. DEWEY urged Friday night that Americans unite for peace — but President Truman said the Republican brand of "unity" means "a headlong dash toward another depression."

The Republican and Democratic presidential candidates were thousands of miles apart in their speaking spots and not much closer together on what "unity" means.

At Cheyenne, Wyo., Dewey said that peace depends on "how united the people of America are" in a world where "Communism is on the march."

Dewey Sums Up Stand

At Charleston, W. Va., Mr. Truman said American voters can "achieve unity" by electing Dewey and a Republican congress—unity in what the Democratic candidate called a gallop toward hard times.

Mr. Truman said that Gov. Dewey has praised the record of the 80th Congress and "apparently he will be glad to help deliver a lot more of the same kind of blows you got from the 80th Congress. But bigger blows and faster and more of them."

Both candidates were near the end of strenuous transcontinental campaign tours.

Dewey's Cheyenne speech was in some respects a sum-up of what he has been telling audiences across the country. On the big domestic issues, he said:

Production Urged

"In all the confusion of political debate over inflation and high prices, the simple and obvious steps for a competent government that wants to remove this threat to our strength and our progress remain to be taken."

The thing to do, he added, is to stimulate production and end "wasteful" government spending.

Dewey was silent on word from Paris that he has asked his chief foreign adviser, John Foster Dulles, to fly home from the United Nations meeting for a conference in New York on Tuesday.

President Truman, who has been getting information direct from Secretary of State Marshall at Paris — and from Ambassador W. Bedell Smith in person — is to return to the White House this morning.

Senate Races Talked

Giving further emphasis to foreign policy matters was a Friday news conference held in Washington by Senator Connally (D-Tex).

Connally said "some supporters" of Dewey want to inject foreign

Coke's Suit To Stay On Docket

(By The Associated Press)

A suit by Coke Stevenson against Lyndon Johnson will stay on the docket at Fort Worth while the U. S. Supreme court considers a stay granted Johnson, Federal District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson said Friday.

Stevenson had obtained a temporary injunction in Davidson's court keeping Johnson's name off the general election ballot as Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate. Johnson secured a stay of that injunction from Justice Black of the U. S. Supreme court, permitting Johnson's name to go on the ballot.

The high court is to consider Justice Black's action when it convenes in Washington Oct. 4. Stevenson's attorneys will try to persuade the court that it should not uphold the stay.

Reports To Be Made

A hearing which Judge Davidson had scheduled for Saturday in Fort Worth had been called off. The judge said Friday that the case would "stand on the docket for final order. I won't dismiss the case just yet."

He said if Justice Black is overruled he will reopen the case. If Justice Black is upheld he will dismiss the suit and affix costs.

The judge had set Saturday as the date for receiving reports from two masters he appointed to investigate charges by Stevenson that there were second primary vote frauds in Zapata, Jim Wells, and Duval counties.

Justice Black's action stopped

Hurricane Threat Is Feared Developing In Caribbean Area

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 1. (INS)—A close watch was kept today on a new hurricane threat that may be developing in the eastern Caribbean.

Army and Navy planes, in cooperation with the Miami Weather bureau, are watching the new squall wave which is similar to one that last week "flattened out."

Observers hope that the new development will also ease off before becoming an actual danger.

Would Cost Added $672,500,000 A Year

Railroads Ask New Freight Rate Boost

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—The nation's railroads today asked the government to let them boost most freight rates eight per cent.

This would cost shippers an extra $672,500,000 a year but the railroad industry says it badly needs these added millions to meet soaring operating costs.

Carriers contend the 25 per cent freight rate increase granted them by the Interstate Commerce commission earlier this year—on July 29—was not enough.

All Items Affected

Today they asked a flat eight per cent increase on everything except fresh fruit, vegetables, lumber, sugar, coal, coke and iron.

The rate increase on these items would depend on the distance shipped. On short hauls, the boost would be around eight per cent; on long hauls, less.

Specific dollar and cents maximum rates were proposed to cover these items:

Fresh fruits and vegetables—maximum increase (on short hauls) of eight cents per 100 pounds.

Lumber and sugar—five cents per 100 pounds.

Iron (2,000 pounds) and 34 cents a ton (2,000 pounds) and 34 cents a gross ton (2,240 pounds).

Plea Not Emergency

Iron ore—25 cents a ton, net or gross, with the exception that no advance be made on iron ore moved to upper Great Lakes ports for shipment by water.

The new rate, if granted, may not go into effect for several months. It usually takes that long fo. hearings to be completed except in emergencies. The rails did not place today's plea on an emergency basis.

In its petition, the railroad industry said operating costs have gone up 75 per cent since 1946 and are still soaring. Rate increases in the same period, they said, have totaled 40.8 percent.

(When the ICC granted the last rate hike it estimated that freight charges have gone up about 44 percent since 1946.)

The carriers today said that operation costs have jumped $3,503,000,000 in the past eight years (since 1939) and that increases in charges for all types of railroad services have fallen short of that outgo by about $625,000,000.

They forecast a drop in revenue for next year from $9,632,000,000 (1948 estimate) to $9,511,000,000. And they said operating costs would climb from an estimated 1948 total of $7,435,000,000 to $7,443,000,000 in 1949.

During August the railroads had asked for rate advances on coal, coke and iron ore only. In offering the new petition, which includes these, the industry withdrew its previous application.

Has Russia Atomic Bomb? Hints Keep World Guessing

(By The Associated Press)

Have the Russians an atomic bomb?

They threw out another teaser Friday in Paris during the United Nations deliberations. But like the broad hints of the past, it didn't go quite so far as to say they possessed the A-bomb.

Two years ago Prime Minister Stalin himself declared Russia had no atom bomb. Since then it has been a game of "now you see it, now you don't," winding up in yesterday's statement by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky that it would be dangerous for the United States to think it has a monopoly on the weapon.

No Bomb, Reds Admit

Stalin declared on Oct. 29, 1946, that Russia had no A-bomb. He said this in a statement urging rigid international control of atomic energy. Since then Russia has been blocking American efforts for international control.

Seven months later, Andrei A. Gromyko, then Russia's chief UN delegate, also admitted, by implication, Russia did not have the bomb. He said then the American monopoly on the bomb was "temporary in character" and really an illusion.

Last October, Warsaw quoted Andrei A. Zhdanov, a high Moscow politiburo member, as telling the Communist International Information bureau, which he organized, that the Soviet Union still was not in possession of an atomic weapon. Zhdanov, often considered next to Stalin in power, died last Aug. 31.

New Approach Made

The Russians dropped this approach, however, in what appeared to be a shift keynoted by Foreign Minister V. M.

States' Righters Are Assured Of Place On Georgia's Ballot

ATLANTA, Oct. 1 (AP) — States' Rights Democrats today were assured a place on Georgia's presidential ballot today but they lost, temporarily at least, the advantage of a listing as regular Democrats in Louisiana.

A special Georgia legislative session completed action on an election reform bill opening the presidential ballot to all candidates except Communists. The action was unanimous.

The net effect was to help States' Righters, Democrats, Republicans and Progressives already had taken steps to appear on the ballot.

Georgia voters thus will get a free hand but there is no guarantee that their choice will receive the state's 12 electoral votes. Dominant legislative forces of governor nominee Herman Talmadge refused to pledge presidential electors to vote for their party nominees.

Gov. M. E. Thompson has indicated he will sign the measure tomorrow, although he may take a few pot shots at the assembly for striking his proposal to pledge electors.

Lubbock Man, Wife Slain

(By The United Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 1—Charlie Joe Norton, 50-year-old Fort Worth and Lubbock real estate man, and his estranged wife, Mrs. Irene Pence Johnson Norton, 50-year-old secretary of a Dallas oil man, were victims of a murder and suicide shortly after 7 a.m. today.

The shooting started in the yard and ended in a bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cole, a middle-aged couple of a fashionable Oak Cliff residential section.

Homicide detectives reconstructed that Mrs. Norton had left her home at 1225 N. Edgefield Ave. to take a bus to her downtown office. They believed her husband was waiting for her in a parked car at the intersection of Edgefield and Colorado, directly in front of the Cole home.

Flees Into House

Mrs. Cole said she was laying in a front bedroom when she first heard shots. Her husband was asleep in a rear bedroom of their Austin stone home.

Apparently Mrs. Norton attempted to flee as she recognized her husband. She ran across the Cole yard and stumbled upon a porch and inside the door to Mrs. Cole's bedroom, where she fell with bullet wounds just above the right and left hips.

Mrs. Cole told officers that Norton put his foot in the small of his wife's back, held her down and fired one shot into her left temple. Then, Mrs. Cole said, he turned a .38 caliber revolver and pointed at his own head and fired one shot.

He fell across the body of his dead wife at the foot of Mrs. Cole's bed, where Mrs. Cole lay screaming.

Five Shots Fired

City homicide detectives who investigated said five shots had been fired from the gun.

They said there was a definite imprint bruise on the small of Mrs. Norton's back where her husband had placed his foot as she atempted to get up after fleeing into the bedroom.

One bullet nicked the door facing the Cole bedroom. Police, unable to find the bullet, believed

Robbery, Beating Reported Here

Cash and checks totaling at least $57 were taken in the robbery of Ince Oil Co. at 2803 Ave. H about 10:27 o'clock last night, and less than an hour later a 30-year-old suspect was in custody of police.

Jarman A. Freudiger, attendant at the station, gave police the name and description of a man who he said had taken the loot from a cash drawer at the station and fled on foot. Two checks, in amounts of $10 and $7.50, a $20 bill and two $10 bills were reported to be missing. The offense allegedly happened while the attendant was outside the station.

Ralls Man Beaten

Capt. Gilbert Newton of the police department arrested the man about 11:10 p.m. in 3300-block of Ave. H after receiving a tip on the suspect's location from a local cab company for whom the man worked.

At police headquarters, Freudiger and Earl Ince identified the suspect and the checks taken from the station. The man had $43.45 in cash in his possession at the time of his arrest. Charges are to be filed today, it was indicated.

A 48-year-old Lubbock man was in custody of police last night and another man was being sought, both suspects in a bloody assault on L. E. Holtman of Ralls.

RFC Announces Program To Boost 'Cold Rubber' Output

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance corporation announced a $3,500,000 program today to step up the production of "cold rubber", which it said offers about 30 per cent longer mileage in tire treads.

The new synthetic is produced at temperatures approaching the freezing point of water. The expansion program entails installing refrigerating equipment in eight government-owned synthetic rubber plants.

The material already is being produced in four plants, at the rate of about 21,000 long tons a year. When the expansion program is completed, production is expected to rise to 283,000 long tons.

All Premiums To Be Paid In Full, Officials Announce

Good Turnout Seen For Closing Programs Of Fair Here Today

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

PREMIUMS posted in the 1948 Panhandle-South Plains fair will be paid in full and most checks will be ready for issuance after 6 p. m. today, fair association president Chas. A. Guy announced late Friday.

The prizes were offered with the stipulation usual to nearly all fairs that they could be reduced in proportion to any operating losses suffered by the 31st annual exposition. But the 1948 fair maintained the unbroken record of Panhandle-South Plains expositions of paying all premiums 100 per cent.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Press day; Paducah, Matador, Spur, Dickens and Roaring Springs day.
8:30 a. m.—Gates and exhibit buildings open.
9 a. m.—Second annual South Plains Rabbit and Cavy show open.
Noon—Luncheon honoring visiting editors and publishers in the Hilton hotel.
Noon until midnight—Carnival midway in operation.
2:15 and 8:15 p. m.—Final performances of the "Water Follies of 1948" at the grandstand.
5:30 and 11:30 p. m.—Seldon stratosphere act on the midway.
Midnight—Fair ends.

"Follies" In Final Showing

Association officials said they will not know definitely for several days just how the 1948 fair came out financially. Expenses have been by far the heaviest of any fair in history. But President Guy said the association has enough cash on hand to pay premiums in full. So they will be paid.

Officials are hoping and expecting today to be one of the biggest of the week, because it is likely to determine whether the 1948 fair makes or loses money. Optimism is encouraged by the fact that closing days usually have attracted some of the largest crowds at previous fairs. Last year's final day turnout was 14,126, boosting the total for the 1947 fair to 107,817.

As preparations were made for a closing rush today, officials emphasized the reminder that this afternoon and tonight will afford the final opportunities to see the "Water Follies of 1948."

Entertainment Is Tops

Few attractions ever have been brought to Lubbock at greater cost. It is top-flight entertainment of a kind never presented before in this portion of the Southwest. It is colorful, tuneful and filled with comedy which clearly has delighted those who have seen it.

Yet the light attendance has been the one disappointing feature of the 1948 fair. However, business picked up considerably last night and an estimated 3,000 spectators were in the grandstand. Association officials are hoping the final performances, at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. today, will attract audiences of the size merited by entertainment of such quality.

The 11,116 attending Friday was somewhat below expectations, but boosted the total for the five days to 94,271. The figure for the first five days last year was 93,691, so the prospects are encouraging that the total gate for the week will set a record for post-war fairs. It will be far short, however, of the pre-war expositions, including the record total of 145,273 set in 1935.

None of the attractions will be missing because this happens to be the last day of the 1948 exposition.

The Forsythe & Dowis carnival midway will be operating full blast until the gates close for the last time around midnight. It will swing into action when enough people are on the grounds to justify, and the early turnout usually is heavy on closing day.

Seldon, "the stratosphere man," will present his free act on the midway at the usual times—5:30 and 11 p. m. It is one of the most spectacular acts ever signed for a fair in the Southwest.

Special guests today will be

State Continues Questioning In Milk Anti-Trust Hearing

AUSTIN, Oct. 1. (AP)—The state continued today to build its anti-trust case around the testimony of one witness in an effort to secure a temporary injunction against the South Texas Producers association and six milk distributors.

The defendants allegedly have violated the antitrust law through creation of a milk monopoly and fixing of milk prices.

Attorney General Price Daniel had not finished questioning B. E. Stallones, manager of the producers association, when Judge Charles O. Betts adjourned the 98th district court until Monday.

SOVIET POLICIES ATTACKED

Army Says War 'Inevitable' If U. S. Troops Quit Berlin

By JOHN DRUCKENBROD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—The Army officially predicted today that withdrawal of American troops from Berlin would "inevitably lead to war."

The Army also charged that the Kremlin is trying "to win control of all Germany" before the Marshall plan succeeds.

The Army made these statements in an eight-page attack on Soviet policies in Germany, distributed to soldiers in an information bulletin titled, "Armed Forces Talks."

U. S. Intends To Stay

The Army asserted that the Russians tried to push the Americans, British and French out of Berlin at least two months before their blockade of the besieged city in late June.

The report told U. S. troops that the Russians hope to gain control of Berlin and then all Germany in order to "be in a position to challenge the world."

The Army reiterated, however, that the United States intends to stay in both Berlin and the rest of Germany despite "the knowledge that an incident or series of incidents could conceivably lead to the outbreak of hostilities." The report said:

Red Policy Outlined

"We intend to stay there (in Berlin) because we believe that, if we leave under Russian pressure, further pressures will be exerted that will inevitably lead to war."

In blunt, uncompromising language, the Army added: "The purpose of the Soviet Union in following its obstructionist economic policy in Germany and in violating agreements solemnly entered into with the other powers is all too evident.

"The longer Germany can be kept in economic doldrums, the

Spur Man Killed In Car Mishap

SPUR, Oct. 1. (Special) — James E. Ritchie, 43, of Spur, was killed at 7:30 p.m. Thursday when the late-model Mercury he was driving overturned at the intersection of State Highway 70 and the old Spur road.

Investigating Highway patrol officers reported that the car was almost demolished. Ritchie was apparently driving into Spur, and failed to see the curve to the right of Highway 70, and started down the old Spur road, which goes straight. It was believed that it was in trying to right this mistake that he turned the car too sharp, the machine then overturning.

Probers Investigate High City Official For Alleged Espionage

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1— The House Un-American Activities committee was reported today to be investigating a high official of an eastern seaboard city for possible espionage activities.

The committee is being aided by Robert Gordon Switz who figured in the headlines in the 1930's when an international spy ring was trapped in Paris. Switz helped authorities crack the case.

Under questioning by the House spy probers, Switz was understood to have testified that in 1932 a man named "Carl" sent him to Panama to provide a person there with a secret address in New York City to which confidential mail could be sent.

Probers have questioned the man who lived at the New York address.

He was reported to have testified that a man who is a "high official of an eastern city" told him to let his house to be used as the "mail drop" for confidential matters.

Committeemen are understood to be interested in finding out if the "high official" is also the man named "Carl."

PARIS, Oct. 1.—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky bitterly attacked President Truman and Governor Dewey today on the atomic issue and hinted twice the United States no longer has a monopoly on the deadly bomb.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister accused the United States of having atomic "war aims," and also struck at David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the United States Atomic Energy commission. He called statements by Truman, Dewey and Lilienthal "a shame."

The American delegation announced that John Foster Dulles, a UN delegate and foreign affairs adviser to Dewey, would fly to New York Sunday at the suggestion of the Republican presidential candidate for conferences on American-Russian relations.

Must Tell World

Vishinsky spoke for two hours before the United Nations Assembly's 58-nation political committee. That group is debating the failure of Russia and the western powers to agree on international control of atomic energy.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin said he would not reply immediately. British minister of state Hector McNeil declared:

"We do not know whether Russia has the atomic bomb or not. . . . Everyone knows the United States is ready to give her know-how to the rest of the world.

"We must make it plain to the whole world who's to blame not only for robbing mankind of the potential benefits of atomic energy but of threatening mankind with all the consequences of the atomic bomb. We have the obligation to tell the world, for we cannot tell the world afterwards if there is no world left, why the use of the atom was not controlled."

Vishinsky said President Truman described the atomic bomb demonstrated at Eniwetok as an improved model which marked progress over the bomb exploded at Hiroshima in Japan. He shouted:

"Apparently the President of

Reds Dive On British Plane

BERLIN, Oct. 1 (INS)—A British spokesman said tonight two Soviet Yak fighter planes had "mock-attacked" a British plane flying in the air corridor to Berlin.

American pilots also reported that Yaks were darting in and out of the clouds in their corridor in continued harassing tactics.

The British verbally protested to the Soviet control officer in the Berlin air safety center, pointing out that fighter planes are prohibited in the Berlin control area.

U. S. Planes Not Endangered

These incidents occurred on the 100th day of the aerial ferry service which has angered the Russians by its effectiveness.

The Russians and their German Communist followers had declared at its inception the air lift would fail.

The British said their "Wayfarer" plane was dived on by the two Soviet fighters in simulated attacks. They said it was flying at 1,000 feet five miles northwest of Schoenewalde within the Berlin control area and was getting ready to land at the British airport of Gatow.

Capt. Vincent Gookin, U. S. chief controller at the air safety center, said the American planes were not endangered by the cloud-darting tactics of the Russians because of visual flying.

If they were on instruments, he said, it would be dangerous.

Gookin also reported that the Russians conducted a 23-minute air-to-ground gunnery practice northwest of Brandenberg in the western corridor to Bueckeberg, but said U. S. planes were not molested.

Closer Understanding Between Educators, Business Men Urged

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Technological college, in contrasting the different atmospheres and conditions under which educators and business men exist, cited the need for a closer understanding between the two in a talk at the luncheon program of the American Business club at the Hilton hotel Friday noon.

Dr. Jones said that college professors move in a realm where decision is under pressure while in business a man is required to make up his mind in a matter of minutes.

He declared that the dropping of the Atomic bomb was the beginning of a new age brought about through years of research by educators.

Out-of-town guests at the luncheon were Grover Whipker, Fort Worth; Edgar Bowden, Oklahoma City, and Merlin Allison, St. Joseph, Mo. George Cade was introduced as a new member.

South Plains Oil Men Invited To Meeting At Odessa Today

A. S. Donnelly of Midland, vice chairman of the Permian Basin chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, Friday invited South Plains oil men to attend a meeting at Odessa today.

The meeting, featured by two talks by Geo. Clarke, managing director of the Texas Safety association, Austin, and R. D. Rosser, chief safety engineer for the Humble Oil & Refinery company, will be held at 6:30 p. m. in the county auditorium. It will be devoted chiefly to the subject of safety.

Following the meeting, a barbecue will be served by the Odessa Chuck Wagon gang. For the barbecue an assessment of $1.50 will be made, Donnelly said.

Commercial Oil Production Is Reported In Gaines Test

Commercial oil production has been reported found in Argo Oil Corporation No. 1-N Jones, explorer 10 miles southwest of Denver City in northwest Gaines county.

This exploration, located 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 496, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, ran a drillstem test in that formation at 11,070-175 feet.

The tool was open for two hours. A 1,530-foot water blanket was used.

Recovery was the water blanket, cut with oil, and 2,300 feet of oil, and oil cut drilling mud. There was no formation water.

The wildcat was due to have drilled to 11,205 feet, and to be running another drillstem test at the time this report was prepared.

Speedy Austin Maroons Hand Lubbock Westerners 13 To 0 Defeat

Power-Laden Austin Eleven Gains 332 Yards Rushing

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche Sports Writer

HOUSE PARK STADIUM, AUSTIN, Oct. 1.—Austin High's speedy Maroons, working behind a giant, hard-charging line, pushed across third and fourth quarter touchdowns to hand the Lubbock Westerners of 1-AA a 13-0 drubbing here tonight before approximately 10,000 wildly cheering fans.

The size of the score did not indicate the real margin of the Austin triumph. The Maroon backs, including some of the top sprinters in the state, piled up 18 first downs as compared to five for the Westerners. Austin rolled for a net gain of 332 yards on the ground, while the Lubbock eleven was held to 112, chiefly on two runs by Wingback Donald Decker and a single 63-yard gallop by Fullback Malcolm Young.

Lubbock Lacks Power

The Westerners only had possession of the ball eight times in the entire game, mostly in their own end of the field. They had two excellent scoring opportunities, but the Lubbock offensive, with the stellar tailback, Bobby Brown, hobbling in and out of the game on an injured ankle, just didn't have enough power.

The Lubbock schoolboys had their best chance to tally in the third quarter, with the scoreboard reading 6-0. Brown returned the second half kickoff to the Lubbock 15-yard line, then an end sweep by Wingback Wayne Stroud took the Westerners to the Lubbock 22. On the next play, Young broke over left tackle, picked up two key blocks and raced down the sideline toward pay dirt.

Frank Kohutek, sprint specialist, who plays in the Maroon backfield on defense, started after Young just as the Westerner fullback moved into the Austin secondary, and raced down the field at a slight angle. At the Austin 20-yard line he was only a step behind and he brought Young down with a diving tackle on the 12. But two running plays failed to gain, a pass was incomplete and a fourth down toss was only good to the Maroon seven.

The Austin gridders took over on downs and started their first touchdown drive. Tailback Bill Clemons and Fullback Howard Zuch alternated on line smashes to carry to the Austin 31. Then Wingback Johnny Salyer picked up two at tackle. Zuch, Clemons and George Hill moved all the way to the Lubbock 39 in three plays, Zuch blasted up center for two yards, then Clemons swept right end for a first down on the Lubbock 18. Zuch, behind perfect blocking, bulled his way to the Westerner seven and, after two running plays failed to gain, Hill faked an end sweep and connected on a lefthand pass to Clemons over the goal line. Guard Bill Johnson's conversion attempt went wide, but the Maroons led 6-0.

Line Smashes Count

Lubbock and Austin were both unable to move again until midway in the final quarter, when the Maroons took over on their own 42. John Cavileer, Maroon halfback, who took third place in the state 100-yard dash finals this spring, teamed with Salyer to move to the Lubbock 42 in five plays. Then Clemons made seven yards in two tries. Hill circled left end for nine yards and Cavileer smashed to the Westerner three in five carries. Hill was held on the six on fourth down, but Young's booming punt was returned all the way to the Lubbock 25. Five line smashes in the final minute of play gave the Maroons another counter, with Cavileer carrying six yards over right tackle for the touchdown. Johnson converted the extra point.

The victory was the second consecutive triumph for Austin in non-conference play and officials were unanimous in the opinion that the Maroons played their best game of the season. And that may well be true, because the home eleven gave a brilliant offensive and defensive exhibition. It was poor consolation for the Lubbock gridders, who found their line outcharged all night by the Austin forwards.

Smith Scores, Sets Up Two Others

Slaton Tigers Drop Tahoka Squad, 25-7

By JOE HITCHCOCK
Avalanche Sports Writer

SLATON, Oct. 1.—Driving behind powerhouse Tom Smith, 153-pound fullback, the Slaton Tigers toppled the Tahoka Bulldogs in a surprising 25 - 7 victory here tonight to win their first conference game in the southern half of district 4-A.

Although Smith was credited with only one touchdown, he set up two others during the second half attack which pushed the Tigers off the short end of a 6-7 half-time score.

Tiger Halfback Laurence Morgan, 140 pounds, broke away on a 44-yard gallop for the first tally of the contest and during the first time Slaton possessed the ball. Kick for extra point failed.

The Bulldogs leveled off in the second quarter with a series of laterals on left and right end sweeps by halfbacks Farr and Small, driving from the Tiger 49 to the 2-yard line. Quarterback Boyd plunged over right tackle for the tally, and Carter kicked the extra point.

Both Teams Muffed

Both teams were within scoring distance a second time before the half ended, but both muffed their chances with fumbles.

In the third quarter the Tigers took a Bulldog punt on their own 12-yard line. Smith carried up to the 48 in three plays. Plunges by Halfback Bobby Taylor, 120 pounds, and Morgan, and an offsides penalty against the Bulldogs put the ball on the latter's 18-yard stripe. A wide left end sweep by Smith took the pigskin to the 2-yard mark. Quarterback Cecil Bybee plunged over. Three attempted kicks for extra point failed. Two of the tries were called back for offsides against both squads.

Again in the fourth period Capt. Smith sparked a vicious drive from his own 46-yard line and in six plays, with excellent blocking, fell on the two-yard mark. He carried over the goal on the seventh trip. A pass for extra point was incomplete, making the score 18-7.

Smith Sparkles

With about three minutes left in the game, a Tiger fullback by the name of Smith intercepted a Tahoka pass on the Bulldog 40. The same Smith then plunged to the 26 and then the 10-yard stripe. Back Ed Willis, on the standby Tiger lateral, end sweep, then skirted right end and crossed the goal standing up. Extra point was good—kicked by Smith.

The Bulldogs tried in vain to regain their first half position with two or three passing rallies. The good yardage gains chalked up by all four backs, Boyd, Farr, Small and Chandler were checked by a steady Tiger line sparked by End Alton Perry and Tackles Leon Moore and Carl Williams.

Outstanding in the Tahoka line were Stevens, center, McNelly, right tackle, and Carter, end. Stevens plunged through to break up several Tiger plots.

Both squads were hard-pressed with fumbles.

Slaton turned in 12 first downs to seven for Tahoka.

Techsans Will Face Smooth Working Passing Machine

DALLAS, Oct. 1. (Special)—An underdog Texas Tech football team, not physically at full strength, but mentally more than ready, arrived here this afternoon on the eve before their meeting with the powerful Southern Methodist university Mustangs tomorrow afternoon at 2 in Owenby Stadium.

Buffaloes Beat Tech Frosh, 6-0

Dorman Williamson, Buffalo right end, grabbed a lateral pass midway through the second quarter yesterday afternoon and raced six yards across the Texas Tech goal for the touchdown that beat the Red Raider first year men, 6-0.

The West Texas State Teachers college freshmen, playing heads-up ball, outplayed the Raider yearlings offensively and three times buckled down to hold the Raiders within the ten-yard line.

Tech had an opportunity to score right after the kickoff, when Tackle Jerrell Price recovered a Buffalo fumble on the kickoff. But the yearlings couldn't gain and the Buffs took over on downs.

After that play see-sawed back and forth, neither team presenting any serious threats and both showing good defensive power with little organized offense. What little offense was mounted was accomplished by the Buffs, who consistently gained through the Raider forward wall.

A small crowd, mostly students, watched the two teams battle in the opening game of the year for both elevens.

Several players on the Raider first year squad showed promise of developing for the varsity next year. Price, who was the outstanding tackle in the high school all-star game, showed to good advantage at tackle, while a pair of guards, Rex Pinson and Jackie Cockburn, also showed up well.

In the backfield, Bobby Close of Shamrock turned in a sparkling offensive gain, showing speed and power, and Judson Brawner of Atmore, Ala., also showed power and finesse. Eural Ramsey and J. C. McClellan shared quarterbacking duties and gave indications that they will aid future Raider elevens, while Aubrey "Red Phillips of Fort Worth Tech looked good on defense.

The Raider freshmen drove twice within the 10-yard line in the last half, but could not muster a scoring attack. Once they held the ball on the four-yard line and were repulsed, and once they had the ball on the nine, but could not tally. And a recovered fumble late in the game was wasted on the 10-yard marker, when a Tech fumble lost the ball and their last chance to score.

GOLF TOURNEY SET

A senior tournament will be held at the Lubbock Country club under handicap basis, with qualifying rounds today and Sunday for all men over 50 years old. Matches will begin on Monday, with one match a week.

Hold Light Drill

The Raiders arrived here late this afternoon and went to Owenby Stadium, where tomorrow afternoon they will test the vaunted SMU attack. A brief workout, designed to limber up stiffened muscles picked up on the bus trip, was followed by a skull session at night.

Tech's biggest task will be stopping five backfield men rated among the best in the nation. In addition to the fabulous Walker,

WILL BROADCAST GAME

The Texas Tech-SMU football game Saturday afternoon will be carried over a network of Texas stations that includes KFYO, the Avalanche-Journal station in Lubbock. The game begins at 2 p. m. and Charlie Jordan will broadcast the play by play, going on the air at 1:50 p. m.

there is the highly heralded sophomore, Kyle Rote; the passing machine, Gil Johnson, who last week completed nine aerials in as many attempts; Paul Page and Dick McKissack, two other demons in the SMU offensive attack.

Speed Sparks Attack

But against these famed players, Tech will throw speed and deception. The quick-opening attack will feature Cal Steveson, Glenn Lewis, Walter Maloney, Charley Reynolds and Hatch, while Bud Conley, J. W. Thompson and Earl Jackson are available to pound the Mustang line. Ernest Hawkins, the elusive, slippery, ball-hiding hawk, will direct the attack, with assistance from Bill Lyman and Shaft DeGaish.

Tech's line, which performed magnificently against the Texas Aggies last week, again is counted on heavily to open holes on offense and to stop the SMU running attack. Against the Farmers, the Tech line consistently opened up holes over the center for the pounding backs and as consistently stopped the Aggies, especially in scoring territory.

Defense Is Key Cog

There's no question that Tech is the underdog going into this battle. Most experts have rated them from three to five touchdown underdogs, although there are no comparative scores. However, Coach Morgan has worked all week to perfect a defense against SMU plays and if the players carry out their assignments, the Raiders could stop the vaunted passing and running attack.

At the same time, Tech advanced through the Aggie forward wall and that line consisted of experienced, topnotch men in the Southwest Conference. Coach Polk Robison, who scouted the Ponies, declares that the SMU line is not as good as the Aggie forwards, although they are faster. And SMU reserves are said to be no stronger than Aggie reserves.

A sellout crowd was assured for this game over two weeks ago and the thousands who jam their way into Owenby Stadium are liable to see an offensive battle, with the breaks possibly deciding the game.

Olton High Wins Easy 48-7 Victory Over Amherst Squad

OLTON, Oct. 1. (Special)—Olton hammered out an easy 48 to 7 district 3-B conference victory over Amherst here tonight.

Outclassing their visitors all the way, Olton racked up two counters each in the first, second and third periods. Jackson Dodd, Olton fullback, scored two touchdowns and one extra point, Bob Gullet, Olton quarterback, scored three times and made one extra point, and Halfback Wills marked oue touchdown and one extra point. All touchdowns were made on power plays through the line.

Amherst made its lone touch in the last three minutes of play when Halfback Wright tossed 20 yards to End Bryant, and Bryant ran 10 more yards for the score. A plunge made the extra point.

TRUMAN'S ALIBI:

It Won't Stand Up

NO CANDIDATE in the present Presidential campaign has made any statement more inconsistent than Mr. Truman's challenge to Republicans the other day to produce "real evidence" of Communist activity in the U. S.

The efforts to provide that evidence have been continuous over a long period. Most Americans, unquestionably, share the opinion that much proof has been produced.

But one of the most difficult obstacles in the production of evidence has been Mr. Truman, himself. Instead of co-operating in the effort to expose whatever dangers may exist, he consistently has attempted to deny access to records of possible vital bearing upon the subject. He has been so much the friend, comforter and champion of the red and radical cliques that he has the political support of all practically not bound to Henry Wallace.

An appropriate answer to the President's challenge would seem to be that much "real evidence" of Communist dangers has been produced, and he has done practically nothing about it. His record does not encourage hope that evidence even more conclusive would receive better treatment at his hands.

Tip To Railroads

ONLY THE railroads could have found cause for unhappiness in the announcement by Capital Airlines, inc., this week of reduced "sky-coach" fares designed to compete with rail day-coach rates. If the plan works for Capital, other airlines probably will adopt it, quickly.

Even now, distance traveling is as cheap by airlines as by rail with Pullman and dining car meals, and is very much faster. But most people who travel don't use Pullmans. If the airlines can cut off a big slice of this mass business for themselves, then other forms of transportation really will have something to worry about.

Capital's announcement also has a psychological timeliness. The railroads are now in the process of seeking another rate hike. With the present Interstate Commerce commission, it seems, about all the rail lines have to do in order to boost rates is to ask for them.

Consequently, there seems to be little hope of rate relief from the ICC. But a new prospect is more encouraging. If the airlines can cut fares to competitive levels, it is a safe bet the railroads will discover suddenly, that they also can do a bit of slicing, and still make money.

Bad Legislation

A CLEVELAND, Ohio, lawyer got a little publicity for himself a few days ago by suggesting a constitutional amendment providing heavy penalties for those who fail to vote on election days.

The idea isn't new. Similar proposals have been made many times. None has gotten to first base. Neither will this one.

No one denies that all eligible Americans should exercise the right and privileges of the ballot when elections occur. Those who fail to vote in any election usually are somewhat apologetic.

But there is no logic in the supposition that compulsory voting might result in improvements. On the contrary, the supposition is logical that the compulsion which might be used to drive people to the ballot box also could be used to dictate the manner of their voting.

If people are so lacking in interest and the consciousness of duty to vote, it is just as well that they remain away from the ballot box. It would be senseless to enact a compulsory voting law which would be neither enforced, nor enforcable, without creating policing agencies prohibitive in cost and dangerous in powers susceptible to abuse.

The Far Cry—

Tryst

By ELSWYTH THANE

Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: A mysterious locked room on the top floor of Nans Farthing, a rented country house, fascinates dreamy 17-year-old Sabrina. Father and Aunt Effie tell her the room belongs to one of the owner's sons and they are not to have the use of it. One rainy day Sabrina, overcome by curiosity, picks the lock. She finds a comfortably furnished man's room, filled with books. The place enchants her. Mrs. Pilton, the housekeeper, surprisingly offers to leave the door unlocked henceforth. Sabrina gets to know the room so well, it is almost as though she knew its owner. She tries unsuccessfully to find out his name from papers in his desk.)

"WITH rifles and ammunition, ready to move within a week's time. The Mullah was at X, the stores at Y. Dalton knows the rest."

He signed his name and the date with a very unsteady hand—Hilary Shenstone, June 5, 1938—on the last of those precious pages; figures and diagrams and a hasty map in pencil on a few smudged leaves torn from a pocket notebook. And a hot wind scattered sand across the ink as it dried.

The plane lay on its back, shining in the desert glare. Two long skid marks led up to it, deepening towards the spot where it had finally dug its nose into the sandy ground and somersaulted. Its trim military lines showed little damage except for a crumpled wing-tip.

In its protecting shadow Hilary lay propped against the bundle of an unused parachute. He wore an ordinary civilian khaki shirt and shorts. His left side from above the waist downward was caked in his own blood round the bandage on a two days old bullet wound, and his breathing had become difficult. He reached for his khaki coat on the ground beside him, and began to go through its pockets methodically.

A silver cigaret case and lighter, which he laid across his signature as a paper-weight; a bunch of keys, a pocket-knife and a bottle-opener, a nail-file a handful of coins, a compass, a small leather-bound engagement book, a tin box of peppermints, a pipe and tobacco pouch—he came at last to his wallet and its few papers. Two thin letters with English air-mail stamps he laid to one side. A three-cornered butterfly-envelope made of a ruled notebook page came next, labeled Roadside Near Kohat—Junonia, and enfolding a male of that species destined for his collection at home.

A PICTURE cut out of the Tatler was next—a fair girl in her presentation gown and feathers. With only a brief glance he placed it on the letters, his eyes caught and held by the snapshot which was beneath it, and which showed a curving drive shaded by old trees, leading to a stone house with pointed gables and rows of casement windows. The edge of a well-kept lawn was visible, and flowers bloomed. And yet the house stood somehow barren and bleak, with a bare hillside rising behind it.

He had not been there for two years. On the top floor in a long, L-shaped room was all his boyhood. Not a very luxurious room, furnished with odds and ends left over from downstairs. But the casement windows opened above the garden to the south, the armchairs were comfortable, his desk was Chippendale, and the mantelpiece, displaced from the drawing room a hundred years ago by a vulgar piece of Victorian marble, was Jacobean oak. Not a very luxurious boyhood either, if it came to that, shadowed by the Great War, and dominated by the ruthless, abiding knowledge of what was expected of him when he grew up.

He stared down at the snapshot, his teeth clenched against the flood-tide of emotion which took him unawares at sight of it. He was not often homesick, not since his Spartan schooldays had imposed an agony of longing for the privacy and solitude of that gable room. And for the past 10 years, at least, he had been pretty busy, all over the world, wherever his job took him.

YET often he had thought of England, when he was half across the world—tenderly, as a man may think of his mother, striving in his small and solitary way to keep her safe as she was, protected, and provided for. Yes, he thought of England . . . But he had never before experienced anything like the persistent nostalgia which had begun to dog him recently, drawing him back, not just to England, but to that gaunt house in the Mendips.

True, he had left it in a great hurry, at a sudden call from the Home Office. He had not stopped to put anything away in his room at the top of the house. His country clothes were left hanging in the wardrobe, his books were strewn about, he had not even locked up his letters and papers. Worst of all, he had left his favorite pipe behind.

He tried to suppose that this was what worried him, and why he felt such a nagging need to return. This, and some subconscious premonition that today was coming; his wound, the crash, and now the final check-up of his belongings and affairs. He should not have left home in such a hurry. It was untidy and careless and not like him. But the Home Office had been urgent on the telephone and he had packed an overnight bag and caught the London train from Wells in less than 30 minutes. It was only for a conference, they said. But in less than 30 hours he was crossing the Channel in an India Mail plane. That was June, 1936, and since then one thing had led to another for two years.

He must get back home. But why? His mind fumbled over it futilely for the hundreth time, and he wondered if fever was making him muzzy.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

THE happiest time of life is between the ages of 20 and 30, according to a study just made by Syracuse university.

The study is based upon examining 300 persons, aged from 20 to 80, men and women, married, single, divorced and widowed.

To me there is quite a bit of nonsense in that study, just as the Kinsey report on the sexual behavior of the male is partly nonsense.

BRANDEIS

Can you imagine getting the truth out of people when you ask them a lot of embarrassing questions about their most intomate life?

Can you imagine anyone being able to give a worthwhile answer to the question "What were the happiest years of your life?"

What is happiness, anyway?

Even the dictionary contradicts itself. It defines happiness as 1) good luck; prosperity, 2) a state of well-being.

I can picture a very prosperous person who has gained much of his prosperity by good luck (and what is good luck, anyway?) as completely unhappy. I can also picture another person who is not at all prosperous and never had any so-called luck in his life, completely happy and contented.

Happiness?

Look up a hundred philosophers, poets, or what have you, and you'll get a hundred different definitions.

Thomas Browne wrote: "To enjoy true happiness we must travel into a very far country, and even out of ourselves." Flaubert, the famous French writer, maintained that "the only way to be happy is to shut yourself up in art, and count everything else as nothing."

So much for that.

Now let us go back to that study on happiness.

A number of those questioned admitted that they also had some unhappiness between 20 and 30.

WELL, as far as I am concerned I had more unhappiness between 20 and 30 than at any other time of my life—and I am quite sure you had the same experience.

Between 20 and 30 you are most apt to fall in love. Ecstasies, yes. But what awful agonies as well.

Between 20 and 30 most of us try to get ahead. We push and we pull and we worry about our jobs and our future and we scheme and plan and lay the foundation for wrecking our nerves and our hearts.

If we are girls we begin to worry about getting a husband during those years, and when the thirties approach and a husband-to-be is not yet in sight, we are scared stiff of becoming what used to be called old maids.

Oh, yes, there is lots of fun, too, between 20 and 30. Glorious fun, wonderful thrills! It's the merry-go-round period of our lives.

But, for the epitome of happiness, for the happiest time of my life, give me today. Today the sun is shining. Today the zinnias and the asters are in bloom. Today is warm and there is love in my heart and love in my wife's heart for me.

I can think of only one other time of my life that may be happier than today: Tomorrow.

CLAIMED BLOW AT HST

Garner's Views Given

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Although written by a Democrat about one of the most prominent Democrats of modern times, Bascom Timmons's Garner of Texas, which Harper published this week, should be another nail in the Truman coffin, and an effecive political tract for the Thurmond-Wright States Rights Party.

TUCKER

It may be all the more effective in the presidential campaign because it was not written with any such malign intent. Save for a biographical outline of Mr. Garner's early days, the book consists of the political, economic and philosophic expressions of the former Speaker and Vice-President as recorded by his closest newspaper friend at Washington, Mr. Timmons, over a period of thirty years.

BLESSING: Since Mr. Garner, as the author explains, has destroyed all the papers and records of his more than forty years in public life at Austin and at Washington, the Timmons masterpiece will be accepted as the famous Texan's last will and political document.

In a note to the author, whom he refused to help in preparation of the book, Mr. Garner gives it his blessing.

To those of us who were lucky enough to know Mr. Garner well during his service on Capitol Hill, it reads like authentic Garneriana as distilled and censored by Mr. Timmons, who is the closest living counterpart to Will Rogers—humble, witty and wise.

SERVITUDE: Long before Dixie launched a Thurmond-Wright party in revolt against the Truman Civil Rights program, Mr. Garner told "Tim" that it would be to the political, social and economic advantage of the South to quit its blind and historic servitude to the Democratic Party, and to establish a two-party system below the Mason and Dixon line.

This statement, which will undoubtedly be used to great advantage by the Thurmond-Wright apostles, was not an empty remark. It was based on Mr. Garner's long legislative experience at Washington, when he frequently found himself in agreement with G.O.P.-ers across the aisle rather than with his party comrades.

His closest friends and colleagues on Capitol Hill were the wealthy and aristocratic "Nick" Longworth of Ohio, and "Frijole" La Guardia of New York.

CHILLINESS: Mr. Garner's reasons for his growing political chilliness toward Franklin D. Roosevelt, whom he admired and liked as a warm and engaging individual, will furnish sustenance to the Dewey-Warren slate as well as to the Thurmond-Wright faction.

The factors which drove them apart were, in chronological order:

(1). The Roosevelt Administration's recognition of Russia.

Mr. Garner warned "the captain" at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue that Moscow would not pay her debts or keep her nose out of our domestic affairs (Roosevelt-Litvinof conditions for recognition) and that Stalin could not be trusted to keep any promise. Mr. Garner made this prediction in 1933.

(2). The spend-lend-and-tax policy of President Roosevelt, Harry Hopkins, and Harold L. Ickes. Although Mr. Garner sponsored the first P. W. A. measure in order to relieve unemployment in the Hoover Administration, his thrifty spirit was irked by excessive use of public funds after the worst years of the 1929-1933 depression.

COURT: (3). The attempt to "pack" the Supreme Court. Mr. Garner, like most of his Democratic colleagues in House and Senate, were "shocked" when F.D.R. read the proposal to them at a White House conference, after previously promising that he would propose no new or controversial legislation for the 1936 session of Congress.

Mr. Garner blames F.D.R.'s change of heart on his tremendous victory in 1936, when he carried all states save Maine and Vermont over Alf Landon. He does not believe that such catastrophic triumphs are good for the President or the nation.

Unlike F.D.R., who gloated over 5-to-4 Supreme Court decisions, Mr. Garner prefers a more decisive ruling such as six to three. He takes comfort from the fact that few members of this body have behaved in accord with the wishes of the Presidents who originally appointed them. Nine men so situated, he says, are a law unto themselves, and will always quarrel.

He has a sneakin hunch that it will make them more human and less Olympian if they shed their black gowns and sit on the bench in "civvies."

PURGE: (4). President Roosevelt's 1939 attempted "purge" of about ten Senators and members of the House griped Mr. Garner, then Vice-President, as greviously as it did his closest big-time, political friend, James A. Farley.

Although a stickler for party loyalty, which also led him to frown on F.D.R.'s playing political "footie" with Henry Wallace, Harold Ick and other ex-Republicans, Mr. Garner recognized every man's right to vote his conscience.

Moreover, he secretly sympathized with the purgees' attitude, and he told the "captain" that he would lose out in this vendetta. Again, he was right.

INTRIGUE: The book is well worth reading even for those who take only an amateurish spectatorial interest in national intrigue, government and politics. But for Mr. Truman's sake, it is too bad that Bascom, who was also Jesse H. Jones' closest newspaper friend at the Capitol, did not defer publication until after the November election.

Note: Mr. Jones's influential newspaper, The Houston Chronicle, has declared for Dewey.

CREDIT: Many readers have sent in questions on the origin of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, based presumably on the recent announcement that the F.D.I.C. is now on its own financially, having repaid the amount advanced by the government.

"I have seen credit for this organization given to the late President Roosevelt," writes C.R.B. of St. Matthews, S. C. "It is my impression that Senator Vandenberg was res, sible for that bill, possibly with Mr. Roosevelt's disapproval."

Answer: C.R.B. is correct, F.D.R.'s attitude on this proposal was about the only thing for which the banking community praised him, although it is probable that a majority of the nation's financiers now approve it. Mr. Roosevelt feared that insurance of deposits would operate to the disadvantage of the more efficient institutions.

A strong believer in the Vandenberg Bill was Garner, and in Timmons's biography, mentioned above, the Texas statesman tells of his efforts to win Mr. Roosevelt to the legislation. He also notes that Mr. Roosevelt subsequently took credit for F.D.I.C.

GOP CLAIMS CREDIT FOR FUNDS

Dewey In Strong Bid For West

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WITH GOVERNOR DEWEY — Governor Dewey's effort to win the West, in which he literally has gone overboard with flattery and lavish promises, suggests that that vast section is not too easily wrenched from its long and profitable affiliation with the Democratic party under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This coincides with information gathered at various points, which indicates that the Truman-Dewey battle in the mountain and Pacific coast states is much more of a nip-and-tuck affair than it appears to be in the East and Middle West.

STOKES

The Roosevelt name is identified with vast development projects and farm relief. It still is magic in the West. President Truman recognized that by frequent mention of his predecessor on his recent western tour, and always to arouse an enthusiastic response.

Blasts HST's Program

Governor Dewey's technique is interesting. He sings the praises of the West and its people in passages that at times approach the lyrical and that hint the presence of at least a minor poet on his staff. He builds up the ego of the people by lauding their initiative and their independence and says surely they would not want to be considered "in vassalage" to Washington, meaning the Democratic party; that he knows they do not want to depend on "handouts" from Washington; that they don't have to depend on any party, least of all the Democratic party, to save them. He refers to President Truman's courting of the West by saying, "I've been listening to those frantic appeals that you'll have to vote Democrat or the Republicans will git you."

After these encomiums on the self-reliance and independence of the West, he goes on to identify the Republican party with various original federal statutory measures to benefit the West, such as the homestead act after the Civil War and Reclamation act and others.

Then he brings out the wallop, which is to announce solemnly in a hushed voice that the 80th Republican Congress about which, he reminds his hearers with an arch smile, "you have heard so much lately," appropriated more for reclamation than any Congress in history, including the Democratic Congress that immediately preceded it—$389,000,000. That is a fact. But he stops there. He does not go into the background to tell the whole story, to tell how the Republican Congress appropriated that amount only after various protests from the West over cuts in recommendations submitted by President Truman and constant prodding from the White House.

The President told the whole story when he was in the West. The facts are that the President requested an appropriation of $160,000,000 for reclamation at the first session of the 80th Congress in 1947 as the minimum amount necessary to carry forward reclamation on an economical basis. The Republican House Appropriations committee knocked nearly $90,000,000 from that. The West howled and, finally, largely through the Senate, Congress raised the amount to $104,000,000. As a result of the cut in the President's $160,000,000 estimate of needs, work on a number of big reclamation and power projects had to be curtailed and some big jobs actually were stopped. The West howled again, and a supplemental appropriation finally was put through so this work could continue.

GOPs Slash Funds

At the second session of the 80th Congress, President Truman recommended an appropriation for $285,000,000, the largest such request in history. The Republican Congress whittled $40,000,000 off that and, as the President also pointed out, it was in this appropriation bill that Republicans inserted restrictions on further extension of transmission lines from government power plants on reclamation projects under pressure from the private utilities.

In every election year, of course, the people expect half-truths, distortions and exaggerations, and nobody perhaps should get excited. Both sides do it. The West is well-acquainted with what actually went on in Washington. This perhaps explains, partially at least, why Governor Dewey had to make such a strenuous campaign in that area.

His task was more difficult because of the wraps he is under. One is the 80th Congress. He referred to it only by citing the total reclamation appropriation. He cannot, of course, criticize the Republican Congress, nor does he want to offend its leadership because he must deal with it later, if elected.

Similarly, he is under wraps on the public-power issue in the West and, accordingly speaks only in general terms, without discussion of specific controversial phases. The utilities are enlisted among his support for the presidency.

Demonstration Of Cement Surface Casing Set Today

A cement surface casing for oil wells will be demonstrated at a Sunray lease, two miles west and four locations north of the Fairview store, 10 miles southwest of Levelland at 10 a.m. today.

Chas. E. Knox of Enid, Okla., designer and inventor of the cement pipe, informed H. Klaus of the Klaus Exploration company of the demonstration by long distance telephone Friday.

The casing is used as a liner to protect the domestic water supply and replaces valuable steel pipe for this purpose, Klaus said Knox told him by long distance telephone today. Knox operates the Knox Refinery at Enid in addition to other oil investments.

MARKET TRADING SLOWED

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—In the slowest and most restricted trading of the week, the stock market today moved slightly higher.

A final spurt by oils and rails nudged the list along for net gains of fractions to around two points.

Railroads asked the Interstate Commerce commission for an 8-percent freight rate increase which if granted would amount to about $672,500,000 additional revenue on the basis of estimated 1949 traffic. The requested raise applied to fresh fruits and vegetables, lumber, sugar, coal, coke, and iron ore.

Barnsdall Oil Co. announced an increase of 35 cents a barrel on the crude oil it purchases in South Texas pools. Earlier in the week Phillips Petroleum Co. made a like increase. After the Phillips rise most major operators said they had no immediate intention of raising prices unless forced to by competition.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .6 of a point to 67.5, exactly where it was a week ago. Average advances in three out of five days of trading this week wiped out the sharp 1.6 drop of last Monday which had put the list down to the April 14 level.

The industrial section of the averages gained .8 of a point, rails went up .7 and the utilities were unchanged.

editors, publishers and all others connected with South Plains and Eastern New Mexico newspapers. A luncheon in the Hilton hotel at noon will honor them.

A special invitation has been extended by the association to the Spanish-speaking itinerants in the area to help with the cotton harvest to visit the grounds. Thousands of them usually visit Lubbock and other towns of the area on Saturday afternoons.

Visitors to the grounds Friday included an estimated 3,000 school children from the area. Among them were the colorfully uniformed Whiteface and Lockney High school bands, which played several times during the day.

Texas Technological college students were much in evidence on the midway during athe afternoon and evening. The day was dedicated to college students of the area.

The agricultural exhibits and th second annual South Plains Rabbit and Cavy show attracted many visitors. Exhibits in these departments will remain on display today.

Index Of Wholesale Prices Hits 1948 Low

(By The Associated Press)

The Associated Press index of wholesale commodities dropped to a new 1948 low today for the fourth time this week with textile and foods accounting for a large share of the decline.

The figure today was 181.77, compared with yesterday's 182.26. A week ago the index stood at 184.42.

Major commodity futures markets were irregular with corn among the largest declines and cotton on the upside.

At Chicago, wheat was ⅛ of a cent a bushel higher to a cent lower. Corn was 1⅜ cents to 1½ cents a bushel lower. Oats were unchanged to ¼ of a cent lower.

At New York, cotton futures were up 15 cents to $1.20 a bale and wool tops were four to 4½ cents a pound lower.

DeGaulle Makes New Call For Elections In France

PARIS, Oct. 1. (AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle told a news conference today the French people must have a chance to elect him back to power or he will take other means to "save France."

He said the present regime was "sterile," attacked the five-nation Western European alliance as "not worth much," and said the western powers were handling the crisis with Russia over Berlin in "deplorable" fashion.

The alliance, which France has joined with Britain, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg, he declared, was centered in London and "it is wrong to center in London the defense of Europe."

He said he did not want the western powers to evacuate Berlin, "above all I do not want them to surrender Paris," and said the first interest of England would be defense of itself.

Alleged Friend Of Nazis Named Head Of Arab Palestine Group

TEL AVIV, Oct. 1. (INS)—Haj Amin El Husseini, former mufti of Jerusalem and alleged Nazi collaborator, was elected president today of the newly-formed Arab Palestine "government."

The regime, which is backed by Egypt and denounced by King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, met at the Egyptian-held southern Palestine town of Gaza in a development that has split the Arab league ranks.

Haj Amin had a British price of $100,000 on his head during the early stages of the war when he was exiled in Iraq and Syria, scene of an anti-Allied uprising crushed by British and Free French troops.

The slippery Palestinian had fled there after the abortive pre-war Arab revolt in the Holy Land.

Spur To Vote On $155,000 School Bond Issue Today

SPUR, Oct. 1. (Spl)—Voters of the Spur Independent School district will go to the polls Saturday to vote on a proposed $155,000 bond issue for the purpose of construction of new school buildings and repairs to existing buildings.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. The election will be held at city hall.

The election was called to finance construction of an additional 10-classroom and auditorium building, an additional four-classroom negro school and for repairs to existing buildings in the school plant.

No increase in the school tax will result, however, officials said. The valuations of property in the district were raised in a board of equilization meeting in July in order that the bonds could be issued without additional taxation.

TYPHOON LASHES IWO

GUAM, Saturday, Oct. 2. (AP)—A typhoon lashed Iwo Jima with winds up to 170 miles an hour Thursday, causing thousands of dollars worth of damage, a brief message from the tiny island said today. There were no casualties among the small American garrison, which had received ample warning.

Russia Assails U. S.

the United States described as progress now a bomb which will kill half a million people. That is what they call progress."

Turning to Dewey, he said the Republican presidential candidate in a speech at Phoenix, Ariz., declared America has exclusive possession of atomic secrets.

Vishinsky quoted Lilienthal as saying the United States wants to prolong its monopoly on atomic energy as long as possible.

Reds Oppose Control

Summing up with sarcasm, the Soviet delegate cried out:

"One leader tells us that the essential work is to improve the monopoly. Another (Dewey) says it is necessary to maintain this monopoly. These are the statements of a party which wants to be in power. Another speaks of an improved bomb.

"This is their pride—it is not instead their shame?"

Vishinsky said flatly again the Soviet Union would not accept international control of the production of atomic raw materials because the international control organization offered in the American plan would be "an American organization because they have a majority."

He said the original United States plan put forward in 1946 by Bernard M. Baruch was designed to give the United States "unlimited control of the economy of the world through the diktat (dictate) of the atomic bomb."

Hints Reds Have A-Bomb

Last year both Vishinsky and his chief, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, sought to give the impression Russia has the secret of the atomic bomb. But they never have gone beyond hints.

Vishinsky appealed to the majority powers to show their good faith now and "ban the hell of the atomic bomb."

"It is a mistake," he shouted, "to think that there is just one state which has a monopoly over atomic energy and the atomic bomb. It is useless to think of such a thing. It is useless to hope for that because this is fraught with dire and dangerous consequences and miscalculations.

"As long as we are looking for a solution not a single state should manufacture the bomb. China told us today that she cannot make the bomb and perhaps some others will tell us that they cannot make it. But there are some states who will not say that they cannot manufacture the bomb because that would not be true.

Soviet Stand Hit

"The United States go on stockpiling under the illusion that they are still monopolists."

Just before attacking President Truman, Gov. Dewey and Lilienthal, Vishinsky made his second hint with this statement:

"It is clear that the United States in respect to the atomic question carry out a dictatorial policy under the illusion they still have a monopoly on atomic energy."

The basic difference between the U. S. and Russia is this:

Russia wants the bomb outlawed immediately with controls to be worked out afterward. The United States, and the majority, demand adequate international controls before the U. S. surrenders the bomb secret.

Dr. T. F. Tsiang of China opened the debate by declaring that the American atomic plan was "only a mild step in the limitation of national sovereignty but even that mild step was repected by the minority (Russia)."

"The world will condemn the minority position as reactionary," he said.

Lumber, Paper Mill Workers Join Fight On Forest Fires

LUFKIN, Oct. 1. (AP)—Crews from lumber and paper mill companies backed forest service personnel today in fighting fires eating through parts of East Texas' tinder dry forests.

Fire swept across areas in Polk county, and threatened Hardin and Tyler counties. A few blazes were in the crown fire stage in an area between Livingston and the Alabama-Coushatta Indian reservation.

Texas Forest service headquarters here said 15 fires were burning this morning in the Woodville district, most of them in Polk county. The same report showed nine fires in the Conroe district.

Even as old blazes were stopped, new smoke signaled more fires to air patrols. The woods were dry from the summer's drouth.

Man On Probation Must Go To Church, Forego Intoxicants

BANGOR, Pa., Oct. 1. (U.P.)—Women and song may be all right for 23-year-old Arlington Harris but he can't afford the wine. Not when it might cost him 10 years in prison.

Harris was arrested on two burglary charges but instead of being sentenced he was put on probation for 10 years. During that time the judge decreed, the young man must abstain from all intoxicants. The judge also added that Harris must attend church regularly and get a job.

While Harris was awaiting trial several friends, his parents and his fiancee interceded on his behalf. In recognition of their petition for leniency, the judge placed the youth on probation.

Charness, who was in private law practice here a short time after his discharge from the service, plans to remain in Lubbock, but has not announced details. He was disabled in military service and received several decorations, including the Purple Heart. About 35 co-workers were present at the Friday luncheon.

Patton, head of the Geology department. He said that although the direction appeared to de due west, it was quite possible that the disturbance may have been southwest or northwest.

Billy Snider, member of the New Deal High school football team, was admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital about 11 p. m. Friday for treatment of head injuries received while his team was playing the O'Donnell High school team at O'Donnell Friday night. An attendant at the hospital said that his condition was not serious, although he was "hit pretty hard."

G. H. Craig, of 2201 Twenty-sixth, who operates an auditing and accounting firm here, was reported resting but still in serious condition in West Texas hospital Friday night. He had recently been released from the hospital and was taken home, but was returned to the hospital when his condition became worse. Members of the family said doctors have asked that he not have company.

Molotov.

The secret of the atom bomb, Molotov said last November in a speech marking the Bolshevik revolution's anniversary, "has long ceased to exist."

But he did not say Russia had the bomb. Neither did he say she had not.

Soon after this, reports began to appear in European capitals that the Russians had tested a bomb in Siberia the previous June. British military men doubted it and insisted Russia still didn't have it.

New Times, the authoritative Russian periodical, threw another hypothesis in to the mill last Nov. 19. It did not say Russia had a bomb; it said Russia had the "economic might" to produce a bomb.

Vishinsky yesterday said "it is a mistake to think there is just one state which has a monopoly over atomic energy and the atom bomb."

The committee is said to know the identity of the "high official."

Meanwhile, both Senate and House members were weighing the possibility of changes in the law to strengthen the nation's atomic security.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) chairman of the Senate-House Atomic committee, disclosed he is studying the question of whether laws affecting atomic security can be and should be strengthened. He said he has submitted inquiries on security legislation both to the U. S. Atomic commission and leading scientists. He said he saw "no cause for alarm in the present situation."

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) of the House un-American Activities committee, said that fundamental changes in American jurisprudence may be necessary to permit atomic espionage trails without disclosing vital military secrets.

McDowell said such a revision might be included in the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill which is due to be re-introduced in the next Congress.

Spy probers, in the probe of the unnamed official of an eastern seaboard city, have been told that the man who permitted his home to be used as the "mail-drop" is a friend of Victoria Stone.

Miss Stone was one of five New Yorkers named in the report of the House unit.

The committee said it believed the five constituted a "Communist echelon, even higher than the highest echelon" in the open Communist party.

The Army represented Soviet leaders as hoping that "the Western Allies if faced with these misfortunes in their zone, might get tired of struggling."

The report said that the Kremlin's motives also are "to make public opinion in the United States, resent the continued outlay of money for the support of western Germany.

In addition, the Army accused Russian authorities of illegally "siphoning off" to the USSR products and industrial plants from their sector of Germany.

The official report asserted that this violated the Potsdam agreement and has made it necessary for the U.S. to undertake "the job of feeding the western zones to the tune of 700 million dollars a year."

Man, Wife Slain

it had been the one which pierced Norton's head, traveled through and glanced off the door.

Both victims had been married once before.

Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg returned a verdict of murder and suicide in the shooting.

Norton had two suicide notes in the pockets of his gray suit. One was written in ink and one was typed. Neither bore a signature.

One note, typewritten at a Fort Worth hotel, asked that his body be sent there and that his family be notified. The other note, written in longhand and dated "Friday a. m." said in part:

"God forgive me. I had to do this. She was not satisfied to break up my home and marry me. She thought she had married a man with money. Her ways were such no man could live with her. Now, I am broke—homeless. My former wife and girls are destitute, thanks to her. She turned me loose when she got what she wanted. Let this be a lesson to those who take a married person from the one to whom he belonged. It will not work."

The Nortons were married in March and separated after three months.

EX-WIFE, DAUGHTERS LIVE IN MINNESOTA

C. J. Norton, who died early Friday in a double-shooting in fashionable Oak Cliff, Dallas, for years had operated a real estate and morgage loan business here. He had business connections in Wichita Falls and worked both there and in Lubbock up to the time of his death.

He, his first wife and their three daughters lived here until approximately three years ago, when they moved to Minneapolis, Minn., friends said. Two of the daughters, Patricia and Marilou, graduates of Lubbock's Senior High school, entered the University of Minnesota, and the other, Mrs. Joann Handorf, lives approximately 75 miles from the university.

Wed Again In March

The Nortons were divorced after moving to Minnesota, and Norton went to North Texas, where he was married in March to the second Mrs. Norton. Mrs. Nancy Ponce, mother of Mrs. Norton, lived with her daughter. Mrs. Norton was a secretary for a Dallas oil company.

Lubbock friends who were identified with Norton in business said he entered Texas Christian university in 1917 as a freshman. He, known as "Puny" then (he was a big, powerful tackle), played football with the Horned Frog eleven in 1918, and took Army training in the SATC.

He left TCU in 1918 and became associated with the First National bank of Wichita Falls, eventually working upward to first assistant cashier.

Resigned In 1917

In 1927 he resigned to become a broker with the Wichita Falls Building and Loan association, of which J. Wilkie Talbert, a realtor of 1902-A Fifteenth in Lubbock, was president. He was sent to Lubbock in 1928 and made mortgage loans until 1933, when the financial depression caused him to leave. He worked in Tyler and Austin and other East Texas cities until 1936, when he returned to Lubbock and established his private real estate and mortgage loan business.

For years he was recognized as a church official who made important financial and work contributions to the church. His late brother, W. E. Norton of Wichita Falls, a sister, Mrs. Ben G. O'Neal, who is widely recognized as a club member, and his mother, Mrs. J. Norton, of Fort Worth, also were well known in West Texas, it was said here. Norton also is survived by two other sisters, Mrs. Gladys Duggan, Dallas, and Mrs. J. L. Hard, Fort Worth.

Norton lived at a modern apartment house on Seventeenth and at a downtown hotel here.

Robbery In City Is Investigated

scene of the fight at 1314 Ave. C. The victim suffered multiple lacerations and abrasions about the face and head, and both eyes were swollen closed, the injuries allegedly inflicted by the two suspects by stomping and kicking with high-heeled western boots. An attending physidian at the hospital said it was believed that no fractures or concussions were suffered by Holtman, but that condition of his eyes could not be determined until swelling decreased.

The office of Sheriff Sam Floyd at Tahoka reported to Lubbock authorities that in a burglary at New Home a number of firearms and a camera had been taken. A suspect was being sought. Included in the stolen property were a Browning automatic rifle, a Remington .22 caliber rifle, a .30:06 caliber Mauser rifle, two boxes of shotgun shells and the camera.

An 18-year-old youth was being questioned Friday in connection with a Thursday night burglary of L. O. White's service station at Sixteenth and Ave. Q, police said.

George Hall and Peter Hubbard, radio patrolmen, arrested the man, allegedly an employe of the station, after studying clues at the scene.

"We have recovered $39 that he admits taking after breaking in through a window," Hall said.

Sentence Is Assessed

Yack Spriggs, an Amarillo negro who already was under five years from Potter county and two years from Lynn county, both convictions for burglary, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary after had pleaded guilty of burglary of Slaton property. The sentence was assessed by 72nd District Judge Dan Blair, who appointed Waggoner Carr to represent the defendant. The state was represented by assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars. Another assistant district attorney, E. G. Pharr, prosecuted and obtained a conviction against the defendant 10 years ago in Delta county, on a similar charge.

Chief of Police Martin Davis of Uvalde was here and at Tahoka Friday morning on a West Texas "search for Vincente Valdez, about 33, a Mexican who allegedly left Uvalde last week after his black bulldog had bitten three Uvalde children."

Reward Is Offered

"I am offering a $50 reward for information leading to immediate detention of the dog," Chief Davis told officials here.

He said Uvalde physicians are "seriously alarmed" over the possibility that the dog may have rabies. The Mexican, Davis said, had been ordered to tie the dog up, but "left in defiance of orders before we could observe the animal the required time. Time is almost up and one of the children, a 5-year-old girl, is delicate. Doctors hate to commence giving her shots if there is any way to get the dog first and observe his condition."

The Mexican, who had a "small mustache," said before leaving that he was headed for Tahoka and Lubbock, was driving a 1936 Ford truck, probably with a green body, with license number MP 4033," Chief Davis said.

He warned that the suspect "should communicate immediately with my office in Uvalde or with the nearest sheriff's office."

Purchase Of Steel, Iron Scrap From Western Germany Okayed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—The United States and Britain tonight took a big step to boost steel production by giving their industries permission to buy immediately 500,000 tons each of steel and iron scrap in war-wrecked western Germany.

At the same time, they set aside 225,000 tons of scrap for the scrap-short countries of western Europe, mainly Italy, Belgium and Sweden.

Scrap is used in making new steel products.

The steps were announced jointly by the U. S. and Britain in a statement which expressed hope a total of 2,000,000 tons of scrap could be removed from bizonal Germany in the next 12 months.

Government officials termed the agreement one of major importance, since it assures a new supply of raw materials to the critical steel industries in both countries.

Mountain Lakes Singing Tower, near Lake Wales, is located on the highest point in Florida. It was donated by Edward W. Bok and dedicated by President Calvin Coolidge.

Gaines And Scurry Tests Make Show

A Gaines county well, the Argo Corp., No. 1-N Jones, in the northwest part of the county, and 10 miles southwest of Denver City, appears to have found commercial oil production in the Devonian.

The exploration ran a drillstem test in that formation at 11,070-175 feet. The tool was open for two hours. A 1,530-foot water blanket was used. Recovery was the water blanket, cut with oil, and 2,300 feet of oil and oil cut drilling mud.

The wildcat is due to have drilled 11,205 feet, and to be running another drillstem test at the present time.

In South-central Scurry county, Magnolia Petroleum Co., No. 1 Winston, four miles southwest of Snyder, swabbed 49 barrels of oil, with a shakeout of 4.4 per cent basic sediment and acid water, in 21 hours, from pay section at 7,385-7,405 feet, in the Pennsylvanian.

That production was after the perforated section had been washed with 500 gallons of acid, and treated with 1,500 gallons of regular acid. Operator was trying to re-treat the same interval with 3,000 gallons of acid, and then test further. The zone showing for the possible discovery of a new oil field is in the Pennsylvanian lime.

policy into partisan politics. Connally did not name names, but did say he was not talking about Dulles or Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich).

In their travels yesterday, both Mr. Truman and Gov. Dewey gave particular attention to Senate races.

Dewey told a crowd in Green River, Wyoming, that Senator Edward V. Robertson (R-Wyo) has been doing a "swell job" in Washington. Robertson is opposed for re-election by Gov. Lester C. Hunt, Democrat. Dewey spoke on the need of a "new competence" in government.

Majority Is Narrow

Mr. Truman, entering West Virginia after a folksy day of campaigning in Kentucky, turned his attention to, among ohter things, the effort of Democrat Matthew Neely to take over the Senate seat held by Chapman Revercomb, Republican.

The present Republican majority in the Senate is narrow; whoever is elected president in November would like to have a party majority to help him with his program for the next four years.

Dewey's last major speech of his current tour was at Cheyenne, Wyo., last night. His specific topic: Prospects for western livestock. His travel east today scheduled only trainside talks as his train crosses Kansas and President Truman's home state of Missouri.

Demo Record Praised

President Truman, on the way to a Friday-night talk at Charleston, W. Va., talked politics in horse racing terms to Kentuckians.

It isn't important who is ahead at one time or another in either an election or a horse race, he said at Lexington.

"It's the horse that comes in first at the finish that counts."

Earlier, at Shelbyville, Ky., he declared that the Republicans don't "dare tear up" what the Democrats have done while they controlled the presidency. The issue, he said, is whether the people or "special interests" shall rule.

Wallace In California

Among the minor party candidates, Henry A. Wallace of the Progressives flew to California for a week of campaigning. J. Strom Thurmond, the presidential candidate of the States Rights party, was in Maryland on a vote-hunting tour.

Vice-presidentially, the Republican candidate, Gov. Earl Warren of California, campaigned in Pennsylvania prior to a weekend sojourn in Baltimore. Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, Mr. Truman's running mate, carried his campaign to western Pennsylvania with a speech at Pittsburgh.

mittee also meets tomorrow to name Democratic electors. Most observers expect the candidates to be pro-Truman. But they also said some members of the committee were banking either on a victory by States' Righters in the state, or failure of any candidate to get a majority.

Injunction Issued

In the latter case, the Georgia legislature would reconvene in November to choose electors itself.

In Baton Rouge, La., a district judge temporarily restrained the Louisiana secretary of state from listing States Rights Democratic nominee as regular Democrats.

Judge Charles Holcombe of the Democratic state central committee urged the injunction.

The committee majority and the Louisiana legislature have approved listing States Righters as Democrats—a helpful boost in traditionally Democratic Louisiana. The legislature in a special session last Sunday also put President Truman on the ballot, but not as a Democrat.

If States Righters lose their Democratic tag, they still can remain on the ballot in their own name.

PLEDGES ARE MAILED

HOUSTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—Requests that county and precinct Democratic officials sign loyalty pledges to party nominees are being mailed, John C. Kennedy, Austin, committee secretary.
