IF FEDERAL GRANT SECURED

County to participate in 'public defender project'

The Garza County Commission Court Monday voted to participate with three other counties in a "public defender project" for the 106th Judicial District Court area if a federal grant is secured for the project.

The court agreed that Garza County will participate for the next two years and will contribute not less than 25 per cent of its pro-rata portion of the cost of the project. Other counties involved are Lynn, Gaines and Dawson.

The project would pay the costs of an attorney, hired to serve as a public defender for those who are charged with crimes and who cannot afford an attorney of their own.

In other actions, the court:
Agreed to "re-advertise" for bids for construction of the new "law enforcement complex" to a void conflict in bidding dates. The bids now will be received through Oct.
30.

Appointed Maritta Reed as deputy county treasurer on a part-time basis at a salary of $2 an hour to fill the office of treasurer during the illness of County Treasurer Pauline Coleman.

Named Commissioner Ted Aten
as county representative to serve on a city-county-hospital district committee "to resolve ambulance difficulties."

The tour ends at Kerrville Saturday night.

"It looks like a lot of fun," Julian Smith, local flyer, commented after visiting with the group. Earl Chapman was in charge of the Chamber's airport reception for the air tourists.

The air tourists who came received a friendly welcome from some 30 Chamber, city and county officials and local business men who turned out to shake hands, chat

City to take 'hard look' at phone service charges

Fees unregulated by City Council

The Post city council at its regular October meeting Monday night authorized City Attorney Pat N. Walker to take a "hard look" at service charges made here by General Telephone Company to the Southwest.

The authorization came after Walker told the council that neither they nor the general public were aware of the "exorbitant" rates charged by the company for some of its services.

"Furthermore," Walker continued, "the telephone company's service rates are an area completely unregulated by the council.
The company can, and does, raise these service rates at its own discretion."

"It is a matter I would like to see the council get its teeth into before it gets worse," the city attorney said.

As an example, Walker said, a phone user can have his house wired at his own expense for an extension telephone, but when he plugs in the extension phone he is charged $10 by the phone company.

The city attorney also told the council that the telephone company demands deposits from its customers but pays no interest on the deposits.

Walker furnished each councilman a copy of a sheet of General Telephone's schedule of service charges on both residential and business phones.

The council authorized the city attorney to request the telepho-n company to have a representative meet with it at the next regular council meeting in regard to the service charges.

The council also voted Monday night to readvertise for bids on a sanitation truck in order to raise the figure of the gross weight average in the specifications. Three bids were opened and read on the truck before the decision was made to readvertise for bids.

The city attorney and council briefly discussed the junk car ordinance, vacant lot weed ordinance, fire zone ordinance and a proposed industrial zoning ordinance, and Walker was authorized by the council to continue his study on proposed amendments to make some of the ordinances more applicable and more effective.

The city attorney told the council he had written the Texas Municipal League for minimum requirements on some of the ordinances.

"Apparently you don't have to enforce ordinances, you're just required to have them," the city attorney commented.

The council accepted the Pak-Mor firm's bid on a refuse collection unit for the new sanitation truck. The successful bid was $3,540, which was approximately
$1,000 lower than the only other bid submitted. Pak-Mor has promised delivery of the unit from within 45 to 60 days.

Also approved was payment of the bill from SPAG (South Plains Association of Governments) for the city's participation in the association unit for the new sanitation truck. The successful bid was

$3,540, which was approximately
$1,000 lower than the only other

SUPERINTENDENT EXPLAINS WHY

School district ends up with big surplus

The Post Independent School District came up with a whopping $113,948.18 anticipated surplus for the school year which ended Aug.
31. Supt. Bill Shiver told school trustees at their October meeting Monday night.

"It was an unusual year," Shiver explained to The Dispatch later.
"We were breaking up our school accounting system into funds, which took a lot more work than I anticipated, and made it difficult to pinpoint the surplus in the rush to get the new year's budget prepared in time for equalization and budget hearings."

Shiver took to the blackboard to explain to trustees just how the big surplus came into being.

He said $27,915.94 of it came from taxes received from the former Justiceburg school district after it was consolidated last fall only a couple of weeks before school started and after the Post school budget had been approved.

Another $24,764.85 came in the collection of delinquent taxes—through the delinquent tax collection drive of Pat N. Walker—which had not been included in the budget.

A third surplus-causing item was $12,000 budgeted for summer maintenance, including the painting of the junior high school building, which Shiver reported did not get accomplished because Ben Owen
"didn't get around to it."

Another $9,000 was saved that wasn't anticipated when the Texas School Agency approved state aid for another teacher. Another item was $6,000 budgeted for purchase of a new school bus that was not ordered.

A sixth reason was a $15,000 cut in spending, launched Jan. 15, 1972, in anticipation of higher costs for the new educational program being introduced into the schools.

Seventh was a $5,000 subsidy put in the budget for the operation of the school cafeteria which wasn't needed after a small boost in lunchroom meal charges.

That left $14,267.89 of the surplus created when expenses did not come up to amounts anticipated.

Shiver told trustees he wants to confer with school auditors before the final amending of last year's budget.

The school administrator told The Dispatch that the financial procedure now will be to amend the new school budget to include any added expenditures as the school year progresses.

Shiver told this newspaper that the school system is trying to get a dollar value for every dollar spent, and he would rather be criticized for not spending all the money available than just about anything else.

Trustees were not perturbed by the anticipated surplus and decided to go ahead with two improvement projects, long needed, now they could be afforded.

The two projects include insulating the ceilings of the high school building to make the building cooler in spring and fall, and to get the bandhall and cafeteria areas
"out of the mud" by blacktopping them. The school bus parking area along the north side of the practice field also will be blacktopped.

Trustees instructed Shiver to ask

Fluvanna's gymnasium is destroyed by fire

A late Sunday night fire of unde-

Snyder about 10:30 p.m. It ap-and he didn't know if either caused the blaze, or if it came from an electrical short or some other until all danger was past at 2

called by the Snyder department,

Neal Clary said.

Fluvanna has a complete water

Post, brought in to Planters Club here last Thursday what is believ-

The cotton was not ginned at the time Sanchez brought it in because the gin was shut down install-season.

Sanchez said the load of dried cotton, weighing 4,200 pounds, was gathered from over about an acre

Let's keep it 'Oil Progress Week'

This being Oil Progress Week, at least as far as The Dispatch is concerned, we would like to offer our readers some thoughts about oil—American oil, that is, and our use of it, yours and mine.

Since this edition last year, ever mounting American gasoline consumption, coupled with the industry's unsuccessful search to find enough new oil in this country to meet that need, has produced what can best be described as a "shortage."

We are becoming more and more dependent upon imported oil to meet American requirements. No longer is foreign oil exactly "cheap oil" either. The rulers of the undeveloped countries are asking more and more for their natural riches. The cost of transportation over oceans is rising like the cost of almost everything else.

One oil economist the other day predicted that the more we become dependent in America upon foreign oil the higher the cost of gasoline will rise at the service station pump.

He predicted it would double.

While this may sound like a "scare story" to you, anybody who has been to Europe—either in war uniform or as a civilian vacationer—well knows that the cost of gasoline in Europe, a continent basically dependent almost completely on importation, is nearly double that of the fuel in this country. And it has been at least for the almost four decades since we first visited that continent.

So, what are we doing about it. In Europe everybody drives little cars and fights for an extra mile of gasoline consumption. Here we drive big luxurious "highway yachts" with more conveniences packed into them—all at the cost of higher gasoline consumption—that most of us enjoy at home.

But that's been going on for years.

What else is new?

For one thing, there is a big battle in our courts which has delayed the construction of an oil pipeline from the frozen wastes of Alaska, "new rich" in oil, back to the United States. The ecologists are opposing it by every legal means. The blunt truth is, we desperately need that oil, and the need will grow more desperate by the month and year. There is no denying of course that the automobile engine is an air polluter and has hung a cloud of yellow waste over almost every American city. Acting under the principle that for both health and ecology reasons, smog "has got to go" the public has demanded action so loudly that our Congress has imposed a 1975 deadline on car makers for a smog-free auto engine.

But every effort to make the gasoline engine more pure in its emissions has upped our demand for gasoline, hence our demand for oil.

Out here in West Texas the smog problem is relatively non-existent. Of course, they have "cracked down" on our cotton gins, but that's about all.

Admitting a solution to smog for the cities is a must, maybe some other means needs to be pursued. Maybe solving one problem is only going to make another vital problem—the supply of oil—even greater.

Maybe the mass transit systems for the cities are the answer. Maybe tough laws for only city car owners is a better approach then, or maybe for smog, plus a lot of other reasons, we should start "breaking up our cities" and re-distributing our population back across our open landscape into the smaller towns.

We don't know the answer. The only thing we know is that the right answer hasn't been found yet and ecology isn't the only thing we should be considering.

And then, you come back to that depletion allowance. The liberals have been trying to rid the country of this for years—at a time when we need to encourage oil exploration, the costly search for new oil with which to meet our oil demands.

It's not just a get-rich scheme for oil millionaires, it's a tax incentive means to a goal the nation needs to reach for the good of all of us.

Nape, we're not the "answer man" to all of this.

But it isn't hard to see we haven't been solving a growing problem with some of our current approaches. This Oil Progress Week is a good time to take a hard look at our oil situation, or next year or the year after The Dispatch may be publishing its Oil Dilemma Edition.—JC

TALK ABOUT history, two Garza County sites are among the more than 200 relating to historic water supply systems located by Texas Tech researchers with the help of the Historic American Engineering Record and other support.

The two Garza County sites singled out are the old Post Water Works and Lake Justiceburg. Both are considered historic engineering efforts, says Joseph E. Minor of Texas Tech's Department of Civil Engineering.

"THE STANDARD western movie to the contrary, America's West was not won so much by six-shooters and sheriff's possees as by the things men built — bridges, railroads, water supply systems and mine shafts," Minor said.

"Civil engineers conceive, plan, design and construct the basic facilities for a culture," Minor continued, "and our early culture was particularly fortunate in having many truly great engineers."

THE MAN up the street says if it gets to where there is a job for everybody, a lot of folks are going to be unhappy.

This is National Newspaper Week which reminds me that "anybody can write" just like "anybody can paint pictures." Of course, it doesn't hurt to have a little going for you upstairs to begin with, coupled with a little training.

MOST OF THE "newswriters" The Dispatch has broken in, seem to start out with the idea that if you can write at all, you can write all right for it to be printed in The Dispatch.

So, most of these beginners become a little frustrated at the way Publisher Jim and I keep after them to write what they write in newspaper style. While neither Jim nor I claim to be experts at writing, we do know the newspaper "style" of writing, and that it is the only way anything should be written before being set up into type and put in the newspaper.

WHILE IT HAS taken longer on some than it has on others, we haven't yet failed to come up with what we consider a "winner" as far as writing newspaper style copy is concerned.

It isn't only our new reporters with whom we have trouble getting their copy "written up" in newspaper style, but also some of the writers of news releases, many of whom are more proficient at sending us "free stuff" to run in the paper than they are at writing it. This goes for one college press agent whose news releases reach our desk regularly. Some of the mail copy we get goes into the wastebasket because it is so poorly written that it can't be edited and we don't have time to rewrite it.

ALL OF WHICH reminds me that a bulletin of the Minnesota Newspaper Association printed a set of rules for writing, which are easy to live with — even though they're not to be taken too seriously by the beginning newspaper writer.

So here they are, "Rules for Newspaper Writers":

1. Don't use no double negative.
2. Make each pronoun agree with their antecedent.
3. Join clauses good, like a conjunction should.
4. About them sentence fragments.
5. When dangling watch your participles.

6. Verbs has to agree with their subjects.

7. Don't write run-on sentences they are hard to read.

8. Don't use commas, which aren't necessary.

9. Try to not ever split infinitives.

10. Its important to use your apostrophe's correctly.

11. Proofread your writing to see if you any words out.

12. Correct spelling is essential.

13. Ending a sentence with a proposition is not the fondest thing you should be of.

14. Don't be repetitive. Don't repeat. Don't keep on saying the same thing.

Someone asked sculptor Frank Polk out at the O. S. Ranch Art Exhibit, "Can you tell me how to sculpt a horse?"

"Yeah," Frank replied, "you take a block of granite and you chip away everything that doesn't look like a horse."

Beyers and Lester are homecoming royalty

By TOMMIE WILKE.

Angels from "deep in the heart of country." If you listen enough, you can hear them popping open. The weather has been beautiful.

Friday night was Southland's homecoming, and even though the homecoming was still quite a few days away, the football game was still quite a few days away. The football game was still quite a few days away. The football game was still quite a few days away.

District battle inspires spirit

By RAFAEL RIOS

School spirit rose high this past week for the football team's first district game.

Tuesday afternoon the cheerleaders met on the practice field and boosted the spirit of the Antelope by doing numerous yells serving refreshments to the players after practice.

The pep squad spent Tuesday and Thursday afternoons preparing for decorating the halls. After the decorating, almost everyone agreed the halls looked better than they had all season. Also adding to the spirit was the decision to have a spirit stick. The stick will be given each week to the class with the most spirit.

Letters to the Editor ...

AFTER GAME EATS

Dear Editor:

Will you please print the following announcement in your newspaper sometime between now and Oct. 13?

The Women's Division of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce will be serving pie or cake and coffee or cocoa after the Post-Slaton ball game. This will be at the county clubhouse at 750 W. Garza (five blocks due west of the city square) and there will be a charge of 50 cents. We are helping to raise money for a Christmas decoration project for downtown Slaton.

We hope all students, parents and football fans will join us immediately after the game.

Thank you.

Yours very truly,
Women's Division C of C
Slaton C. of C.

VISITORS IN POST

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnston last week was Harold's father, J. P. Johnston of Roaring Springs. Also visiting over the weekend were their daughter and son-in-law, Steve and Jane Smith of Temple. The Smiths also visited Mrs. Vergie Smith.

Sunday after learning that Donald's cousin, Pete Pennell, was in a wreck early Sunday morning between Post and Southland. Pete was in the car quite awhile before anyone found him and he is in very serious condition in the intensive care unit at the hospital.

The Stolle reunion was held this past Sunday at Van's Catering between Slaton and Lubbock. Approximately 87 guests registered from Wharton, Columbus, Freeport, Bastrop, Houston, Lake Jackson, Slaton, Shallowater, Lubbock and Carrizo Springs. Van's catered a bar-b-q dinner at noon and there were many other goodies brought by different families. The reunion will be held at Columbus next year.

Sherri Wilke has moved to Lubbock where she is still attending LCC and working for Dr. Mayes. Until next week, be good and please call or bring me some news.

Coach Kennedy in Hospital

Coach Dan Kennedy was ill with food poisoning recently, and spent one night in Garza Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Paul Winterrowd was substitute teacher for his classes for two days.

Yearbook News

Bob Vincent, Taylor Publishing Co. yearbook representative, recently visited our journalism class and presented helpful information about producing a yearbook. Work has begun on the Southland "Eagle's Nest" yearbook. Staff members are: Connie Abshire, editor; Kyle Shankles, financial manager; Sue Beyers, assistant editor; and Maria Shelton, secretary. Other staff members are Ray Valdez, Joe Edd Eckert and Joe Beyers. Mrs. Irene Kuykendall and Mrs. Laura Jo Wheeler are co-sponsors. Connie Abshire, Sue Beyers, Maria Shelton and Mrs. Wheeler sold ads for the yearbook Tuesday. Mrs. Paul Winterrowd substituted for Mrs. Wheeler's classes on that day.

Teacher's Meeting

School was dismissed last Wednesday at 2 p.m. for a teachers' meeting. Plans were made for the writing and updating of all curriculum study guides. School will be dismissed early on the first Wednesday of each month for teachers' work session.

Booster Club Meets

Mrs. Lottie Shelton, vice-president, presided at last week's Booster Club meeting in the school auditorium. Plans for a Halloween Carnival, sponsored by the club and the school, were begun. The club and the school will share the profits. Max Chaffin, Max Courtney, Mrs. Sherry Haire, and Mrs. Shelton were appointed to represent the Booster Club in carnival plans. This group will work with a school committee, composed of Mrs. Anne Chaffin, Mrs. Carolyn Courtney and Mrs. Laura Jo Wheeler.

Homecoming

Fifteen pep squad members attended a poster party last week to make posters for Homecoming. The posters looked nice, girls. The cheerleaders worked very hard to make Homecoming a success. A huge bonfire set off spirited sparks last Thursday night before Homecoming on Friday. A new public address system was used during the football game with Flower Grove. Max Chaffin and David Mock were the announcers. The football sweetheart was Sue Beyers, and Gregg Lester was chosen as the football hero.

A large crowd attended the open house in the school building after the football game. Coffee and cookies were served visitors. Classroom teachers greeted the guests in the individual classrooms.

Potluck

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

When the Women's Liberation Movement is discussed in mixed company, I've noticed that the men generally dismiss the subject with a sneer, a loud belly laugh, or comments such as "Oh, sure, let's suit 'em up and ship 'em out to fight the Cong". The women usually don't say anything. They're thinking. Like me.

Item: Earl and I used to play ping-pong. Now, I am not a well-coordinated person but ping-pong has always been one of the few games that I could play well, and I usually won. One night, I was leading 20 to 16, and instead of serving the ball in the regular manner, Earl tossed it up, and smashed it right between my eyes. "Your game," he said. We don't play ping-pong anymore.

Item: We decided to take up chess. Earl was by far the better player, and he almost always won. Then we bought a chess book. One day I told Earl that I was going to study the Queen's Gambit Declined, and he should do the same. "I don't need to," he said. He lost in seven moves, picked up his king, and, as usual, smashed it right between my eyes. We don't play chess anymore either.

Item: We were driving back from Lubbock one night, and the car began making strange noises. "Let's stop, honey," I said. "I think the wheel's falling off." "Rosemary, wheels don't just fall off cars," he said. About that time it did. Really. He wouldn't talk to me for a month.

Item: Earl got a cold. He said he was dying. He also said that it was all my fault. He also needed a handmaiden. "Bring me the aspirin, bring me some orange juice, bring me a chocolate malt, rub my back." Just like in the old Roman days.

Item: I caught his cold the next week, only Earl said that mine was all in my imagination. I went to see the doctor, and it was a relief to find out that I was really sick. When I got home I said, "It's real, Earl. Doc gave me a shot in the hip, two bottles of pills, and a bottle of cough medicine." "Huh," he replied. "That kid never did know what he was doing."

Item: Etc., etc., etc. Why go on? The point is, we women may not seem militant and we may not be talking much, but the next time the men are getting their kicks at the expense of Women's Lib, they ought to take a look around. Silence is not always golden. You never know what might be coming out of chute No. 5 on Dynamite.

(Publisher's Note: Rosemary, why do women always capitalize woman's lib? Editor Charlie never does. Is it because he is a man?)

Mary Ann Norman and Mark Terry honored

By GLENDA NEWDIGER
Mary Ann Norman and Mark Terry were elected "Citizen of the Week" last Friday. They are both sophomores at Post High School. Mary Ann is in the Top Twenty, choir, band and she is planning to join the Science and Math Club. Her favorite teacher is Mr. Harris. Mary Ann likes being around people and talking to them for her pastime. When asked what it meant to be a Citizen of the Week, she said, "I consider it a great honor and hope I can live up to this title. . . this week only, of course." Her plans for the future are to attend Baylor University.

Mark Terry plays football and is in FFA at Post High School. His favorite subject and teacher are history and Miss Holder. His favorite pastime is riding motorcycles. When he was asked how it felt to be elected Citizen of the Week, he replied, "It is a great honor and I am very proud."

Pep rally full of Antelope spirit

Last Friday's pep rally started off with the Antelope fight song and enthusiastically led the student body in some Antelope yells. The twirlers then twirled to the band music which enlightened everyone.

For the final outcome, a skit was given to show what Antelope stands for. One person would take "A" and tell what it stood for and so on down the line. Finally the letters all spelled "Antelope" and also showed the student body what it stands for.

The school song was then played and the Antelopes marched vigorously out the gym door.

Preparation for parenthood object Home Ec course

By ANITA CRIADO

The Home and Family Life course began last year during the second semester. The course is offered to juniors and seniors only. Both boys and girls are eligible for the course. It teaches one to have a better understanding of one's self, so you can understand and appreciate other people.

Mrs. Wheatley, the instructor in the course, says, "This will be carried out further in selecting a mate, and in raising our children. The future of our country depends on stable, happy homes, and the background received in this course should help the students to be more perceptive to their own needs and the needs of the family members, culminating in the needs of society."

Presently, the Home and Family Living students are preparing packets for individual study. The packets are composed of planned activities, behavioral objectives, and a rationale. The topics of each packet deal with the area of selecting a mate, adjusting to marriage, and general steps from courtship to married life.

Did you know our school is sheltering a machine that swindles innocent people (like me)? If you're wondering what I'm referring to, it's the Coke machine on the breezeway, that took 45 cents of my money. (in just two days) last week. I was beginning to think that it just had a personal grudge on me — until I saw five of her people (or rather victims) lose their money too. Our Citizens of the Week are from the sophomore class: Mary Ann Norman and Mark Terry. Keep smiling, freshmen, next week it'll be two people from your class!

The proud winners of the Spirit Stick last week were the sophomores. Congratulations, sophomores — now if everyone else would pep up a little.

I noticed several of the girls are learning how awkward it is for a boy to ask a girl for a date. By asking boys out for Twirp Night. I think Jan Burkett's experience is the most interesting — maybe she should write a book about it and teach all of us her new technique. She could entitle it "How to Ask Someone for a Date Using as Few Words as Possible" and "Quick Exits".

You know for years I've wondered why the teachers always stand out in the hall and "size things up" between classes — but I've finally figured it out. They stand out there and try to over-hear our juicy gossip, so that they'll have something to talk about when they get

This week's novel is "The Song of Bernadette".

A 14-year-old French girl, Bernadette Soubirous, was gathering kindling near a cave. Then there appeared before her a beautiful woman, yielding an aura of love and compassion. Bernadette was so impressed and overwhelmed that she fell down in prayer. When the news of Bernadette's vision reached the town she was thought to be an ignorant, superstitious, dangerous girl. But her faith in the vision sustained her against the skeptical world. This book expresses the need of faith in everyone, and illustrates how the concrete faith of the girl Bernadette brought on a healing to the people.

The book was written by Franz Werfel, a German, and was translated by Ludwig Lewisohn. This book is a novel, but not entirely fiction. Bernadette Soubirous really lived and was proclaimed a saint in 1925.

Will we STRIKE OIL-

That's the question an independent oil operator asks himself every time he drills into the earth. Yes, drilling for oil is risky business.

Exploring and producing is the part we play in America's progressive oil industry. Like thousands of other independent companies—large and small—we compete to supply you with the oil products you need.

America's future growth — in both population and prosperity — will be so great that today all producing and exploration companies are hard at work searching for new supplies of oil. You and your family will need more oil than ever in the future and we've determined that you'll get all you need . . . when you need it.

If your six year old saw something like this, would he know how to phone for help?

It's too important a question to leave to chance. That's why we're running this ad. If there are any six- or seven-year-olds around your house, teach them how to report emergencies. Tell them to dial "0", give their name and tell our operator where they are and what's wrong. With older children, train them to dial emergency numbers direct, since that's the fastest way to call for help. But don't stop there. Copy down the emergency numbers listed on the inside front cover or first page of your telephone directory. Add your family doctor's number. And the number of the nearest hospital. Next, tuck up the list near your phone. Then get your kids to memorize it, in case it gets lost. By the time they're through memorizing those numbers, they're going to have every grownup in the house knowing them, too. Which is also why we're running this ad.

Those Slaton Tigers have had a miserable year to date with five straight losses, but three of them have been pre-district clashes with strong AAA schools, another was with tough Littlefield, and the last one to open District play was a whacking by none other than Denver City's powerful Mustang herd.

But they have good personnel. They have a lot of potential.

Still and all, Post stands a fair chance to get back on the victory trail both in district play and their Slaton series with a win Friday night. They'll need some strong fan support though. So be there at the kickoff whistle in Slaton's Tiger Stadium Friday night.

or bids on both projects. Shiver estimated the insulation of the high school building will cost in the neighborhood of $6,000 and the backtapping around $15,000. Neither will put a real "dent" in the surplus.

The board also authorized Shiver to obtain bids on a new pickup or the school's maintenance department. The present vehicle is a 1965 model which is beginning to require mounting repair costs.

The superintendent also was asked to "look into" cost of putting better night lighting around the schools both to discourage vandalism and prevent accidents by people tripping over steps and curbs.

The administrator reported to the board that the county school board had approved the request of the Post school board for the added bus route initiated last month as an emergency because wet weather made a dirt road between two paved roads virtually impassable and dangerous.

It's up to the Texas Educational Agency which foots the bill on approved school transportation over the state to consider it now the county board has approved, but it doesn't look like the state will take any action until state representatives come out and run the bus routes in question sometime during the current school year.

The trustees were read a copy of a letter from Richard M. Cummins, director of state school transportation, to County School Superintendent Dean Robinson saying that at present the state has approved only the eight routes for the Post school district, and pointed out that the school district would be operating the ninth route at its own expense until such time as state representatives again "review the connecting road during this school year."

School trustees approved dismissal of classes Oct. 27 so that teachers can attend the TSTA meeting in Lubbock if they so desire. Shiver told the board, "In order to do this we must have school Nov. 10 which is set up in the school calendar as the TSTA day."

Supt. Shiver told trustees that the new educational program development initiated this fall in Post schools is proceeding well and that Dr. W. E. Barron has agreed to visit Post late in May and furnish trustees with his evaluation of program changes and related spending for the Post schools.

a fire hazard, but a 30-day extension had been granted at the owner's request. Nothing was done by the owner during the extension period to have the property improved or removed, the council was informed.

The council discussed a request of Don Noel for a sewer line extension to the Western Lounge on South Avenue F, and Pete Maddox, superintendent of public works, was authorized to determine the route of the extension from existing city lines.

Maddox told the council in response to complaints that dogs had been allowed to starve to death in the city pound, that "it won't happen again." He said members of the city police department have been instructed to inform him when dogs are put in the pound so he can see to it that arrangements are made for their care until they are called for by their owners or disposed of.

Mayor Giles C. McCrary and the councilmen reiterated the city's policy that someone at the city hall or the mayor's office be notified by any member of the city police department who finds it necessary to take a city police car outside the city limits.

The mayor said if the proper city personnel cannot be contacted when a police car is being driven outside the city limits, the policeman should radio the police dispatcher and ask that the city be notified of the out-of-town trip.

"In other words, it is imperative that some of us know it anytime a city police car is taken out of town for an emergency, or for any other reason," the mayor said.

These Oil Facts Tell Garza Story!

More than $15,257,388 of economic stimulation for Garza County flowed from its oil and gas wells last year. This is an INCREASE of almost a million dollars over 1970.

Of this total, county land owners and others with mineral interests received royalty payments of $1,907,174.

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Garza County in 1971 produced 4,287,011 barrels of crude oil valued at $15,090,279 and 1.1 billion cubic feet of natural gas valued at $167,109.

Garza ranks 79th among 190 producing Texas counties in production.

Texas Employment Commission figures for 1971 show some 130 persons were directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county with an annual payroll of $996,172.

The state treasury received $694,153 in production taxes from Garza wells in 1971 on crude oil production and an additional $12,533 on natural gas.

Drilling expenditures in Garza County last year totaled $2,145,408 with $884,028 being lost on dry holes. Drillers completed 32 oil wells and 12 dry holes.

GARZA'S Oil Industry

has "plenty of muscle" with over 1,800 producing oil wells —and production worth over $15,000,000 annually. The Bond Operating Company is proud to be a part of this important industry, composed of many production firms as well as a large variety of service companies.

Slumping Antelopes hope to stampede Slaton Tigers

Post seeks 'road win' after 3 home defeats

If we can't get 'back up' for the Friday night, it's hard to see what kind of season we'll have. Coach Bobby said Tuesday in commenting on the Antelopes' game with a trail team last Friday night at Slaton. Our record right now should be 2-3, the coach said. We're losing 27-0 to Slaton here last Friday night in District 5AA opener for both teams. The Cooper defeat was the third consecutive loss at home for the Lopes after two wins on the road.

In addition to having the home field advantage Friday night, the Tigers of Coach Bill Curry will have the added incentive of being "hungry" for a victory after five straight defeats, the most recent of them a 33-0 shellacking at the hands of the Denver City Mustangs last Friday night in another District 5AA opener.

One thing in the Antelopes' favor is that they are not catching the Tigers on the latter's Homecoming night, as they usually do. Homecoming in Tigerland isn't until Nov. 3 when they play Cooper. Slaton has lost to Brownfield and Kermit, both Class AAA teams, to Portales, one of New Mexico's top-rated Class AAA eleven, and to Littlefield and Denver City, both Class AA clubs.

The Tigers reportedly played their best game against Portales, losing 20-14 after threatening the Rams' goal line repeatedly throughout the final quarter.

Slaton runs its offense off a pro and a pro "I" set, Coach Davis said, and passes about as much as it runs. In their last three games they have had at quarterback a 145-pound sophomore, Eddie Jones, who "can throw with accuracy up to 60 yards," according to scout reports.

Coach Curry, in his first year as head coach at Slaton, is expected to start the following offensive unit: Lupe Valadez, 150-pound sophomore, split end; Ramon Gonzales, 190-pound junior, left tackle; Jerry Hopper, 155-pound senior, left guard; Dan Butler, 190-pound senior, center; Dewayne Mosser, 160-pound junior, right guard; Tom Heinrich, 170-pound junior, right tackle; Eddie Jones, 145-pound sophomore, quarterback; Kenny (See Slaton game, Page 10)

PIRATES DOWN 'LOPES, 27-0

Cooper makes district bow with Post victory

Things started out good for the Post Antelopes here last Friday night, but they went from there to bad and then to worse, and before the worm had time to turn, the Cooper Pirates had walked off the turf with a 27-0 victory — their first ever in Class AA play.

The game was the first District 5AA contest for both teams, and the outcome left Cooper undefeated in five starts and Coach Bobby Davis' Antelope gridders with a 2-3 record.

The Antelopes outfoxed their opponents on the first play of the game when Jay Pollard's on-side kick was covered by Danny Lee on the Cooper 47. But, as noted above, good fortune did not stay with the 'Lopes long.

On Post's first play from scrimmage, tailback Kenneth Price couldn't find the handle on quarterback Jerry Tyler's bad pitchback, and the 'Lopes lost 12 yards to their 45. Tyler's pass to end Randy Kennedy overshot the mark, and an 18-yard blast through the line by fullback Robert Mindieta was rubbed out by a five-yard penalty against Post. Price got the five yards back on a run, but there still was a long ways to go, and Lee punted out of bounds on the Cooper 20.

The worm turned a little at this point, with Cooper drawing a 15-yard penalty to their 40 for roughing the kicker. Post still needed three yards for a first down, and Mindieta was able to get only two, with the ball going over to the 'Lopes on their 35.

Cooper made two first downs to the Post 35, but Roger Pace threw tailback Martin Aleman for a two-yard loss, with quarterback Bobby Caudle passing incomplete the fourth down to give the ball back to the 'Lopes on their 35.

Mindieta gained four yards in two stabs at the line, and Kennedy lost eight to the 31 on an end-around play that Cooper appeared to read perfectly. Caudle returned Lee's punt eight yards to the Cooper 43.

Aleman picked up seven yards and Caudle kept for three and a first down on the Post 47. After a forward pass had misfired, Aleman swept the right side of his line for nine, three and eight yards, and wingback Todd Hammond took it the rest of the way on a 27-yard sweep of his left end for the first touchdown, with 1:50 of the first quarter left on the clock. Ronnie Jones kicked the extra point, and the Pirates led, 7-0.

Misfortune continued to dog the Antelopes as the second quarter opened. Price returned the kickoff 23 yards to the 'Lopes 33. Halfback David Conoly gained two and Price bucked the line for three, but there was no gain on a pitchback from Tyler to Conoly. Lee retreated to punt, but the snapback from center went over his head. He retrieved the ball, but was thrown on the Post 28 trying to run it back upfield.

The Post line began to get tougher, with Aleman getting only one yard in two carries, but Caudle's pass was right into wingback Junior Martinez's arms on the 10 and he went on in for the touch down with only 1:15 of the second quarter gone. Jones split the uprights with his placekick, and Cooper held a 14-0 lead.

At this point, the Antelopes made a big effort to get back into the game before it was too late.

Price returned the kickoff 29 yards to the Post 29, and Conoly broke through the line for 11. Mindieta bulled his way for 13 more, but the gain was nullified by a five yard penalty. Tyler kept for five, and halfback Albert Varela went for five more. Mindieta made it to the Post 49 for a four-yard gain, and tailback Donnell Harper, on fourth down, went for six and a first down on the Cooper 45.

Varela, Harper and Conoly made it to the 34 for another first down, and Mindieta shot through center for 14 yards to the 20. The hard-running fullback suffered a knee injury on the play and had to leave the game.

SEES WIN OVER SLATON

Football forecaster stays with 'Lopes

Pigskin Pete (not to continue to be confused with some other Petes around town) guessed correctly on 12 games last week and missed on six for a .666 percentage.

His season percentage dropped from .786 to .735, with a total of 61 right and 22 wrong.

Last week, Pete missed the outcomes of the Post-Cooper, Floydada-Littlefield, New Deal-Idaho, Shamrock-Tulia, Haskell-Olney and Winters-Brady games.

Still trying to keep up his percentage, Pete picks them as follows this week, his choices in capital letters:

POST at Slaton, Antelopes will keep Tigers' losing streak going.

DENVER CITY at Cooper. Pirates not all that tough.

TAHOKA at Frenship. It's hard to believe what Tahoka did to Class AAA Levelland Friday.

ROOSEVELT at LITTLEFIELD. Non-conference game for both teams and should be close.

Anson, open date.

BALLINGER at COAHOMA. Coach James Williams' team going against real toughie.

HAMLIN at CHILDRESS. Someone really lined up a tough schedule for Hamlin.

HASKELL at Clyde. State-ranked Indians, upset by Olney, to bounce back here.

STAMFORD at Quanah. Bulldogs getting tougher they proved last week against Childress.

WINTERS, open. Pete really missed in picking Bilzards over Brady last week. Oh well, you win some, you lose some.

KRESS at DIMMITT. Bobcats having hard time getting untracked, but this game should help.

DALHART at FRONA. Picking Chiefs in tough non-conference tilt.

7th, 8th grade teams lose two games at Slaton

With neither of them performing up to par, according to their coaches, the Post 7th and 8th grade football teams dropped a pair of games at Slaton Tuesday evening, the 8th grade, 28 to 14, and the 7th grade, 20 to 0.

Three long Slaton passes were big factors in the 8th grade's defeat, according to Coach Joe Giddens. One of the passes was caught near the Post goal line after being deflected, with the receiver not even being the player for whom the pass was intended.

Tailback Kyle Duren gave Post fans something to cheer about in the third quarter when he broke off tackle, cut back and went 60 yards for a touchdown, then ran over the extra points. Post's other touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a short run by quarterback Jimmy Dorland.

Coach Giddens said a new boy, Jimmy Light, turned in an outstanding job for the Post team at three different defensive positions.

Coach Don Black said his 7th grade team's only real scoring threat came when they moved the ball to about the Slaton 10-yard line on a sustained drive, only to lose it on a fumble.

"We played a fair defensive game, but we didn't move the ball well at all," Coach Black said.

The junior high teams are to play Frenship at Antelope Stadium here next Tuesday, with the 7th grade kickoff set for 5:30.

Post JV's come from behind to defeat Cooper

Post came from behind in the final two minutes to jar Cooper, 14 to 9, last Thursday in a junior varsity game on the Cooper gridiron.

Trailing, 9-8, going into the final two minutes, the Post team won on a 15-yard touchdown run by freshman Edward Price.

After battling to a scoreless draw the first half, Cooper took a 9-0 lead in the third period on a touchdown and a field goal, leaving the Post team to play catch-up in the fourth quarter.

They did just that, with freshman quarterback Bryan Davis going 35 yards to score after an off-tackle fake. He passed to fullback Sammy Gutierrez for the extra points, and Post trailed by only one point, 9-8, prior to Price's go-ahead touchdown.

Both teams went mainly with freshmen, with the scheduled freshman game between the two schools called off.

Eagles down Dragons in Homecoming game

SOUTHLAND — The Southland Eagles made Homecoming a big success last Friday night by romping over the Flower Grove Dragons, 34-14, in a six-man district game, the first of the season for both teams.

Flower Grove got on the scoreboard first when Jerry Ross returned the opening kickoff 70 yards for a touchdown, but it didn't take Southland long to catch up.

Joe Edd Eckert ran 50 yards for a first quarter Eagle touchdown and Ray Garza booted the extra points to put Southland ahead, 8-6, the Dragons having missed their extra points attempt.

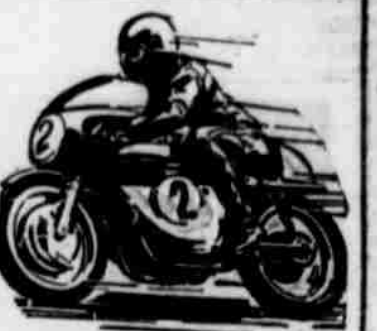

The Eagles widened the gap still further in the first period when Eckert scored from 10 yards out, but the extra points try failed.

The only second period score was on a seven-yard run by Eckert. In the third quarter, Flower Grove's Ross scored his team's second touchdown, this one also on a 70-yard kickoff return, but the extra points try failed.

The Eagles continued to roll in the third period, with Steve Buxkemper scoring on a 65-yard run and Joe Bevers passing to Jerry Winterrowd for the extra points. Eckert scored Southland's final touchdown on a five-yard run — no extra points.

Trailing 34-12, Flower Grove made it just a little bit closer in the final quarter when Southland's Bevers was tackled in the end zone for a two-point safety.

Among the defensive standouts for Coach Dan Kennedy's Eagles were Gregg Lester, Joe Bevers and Frankie Tuttle.

In addition to being a good ball carrier, the 205-pound fullback, Schuette, is an outstanding place-kicker, "good anywhere from the 35-yard line in."

Bartley also is a good ball carrier and was the team's passer until replaced by the sophomore Jones at quarterback.

Coach Davis said the Antelopes more than likely will be without the services of starting fullback Robert Mindieta, who also is a starter on defense. Against Cooper

Friday night, Mindieta reinjured a knee that was operated on last spring and is not working out this week. He will be replaced by Robert Varela, 153-pound senior at the fullback position.

Otherwise, the coach said Tuesday, the 'Lope squad is in good physical condition for the Slaton game. They had good workouts Monday and Tuesday, and are getting "back up" mentally to where they should be able to beat Slaton Friday night and get back on the win trail, the coach indicated.

Slaton won last year's game, 28 to 0, and by a 13-7 score in 1970.

kicker penalty gave them new life on the Post 30.

Cooper worked the ball down to the Post five, but a 15-yard holding penalty set them back to the 20. Caudle kept for 13 to the seven, and after Aleman had picked up another yard, Caudle pitched back to Hammond who went over for the TD with 3:24 of the quarter remaining. Jones kicked the point, and it was 27-0, Cooper.

Late in the third period, the Pirates stopped a Post drive when John Johnson, in at quarterback for Tyler, had his pass intercepted on the Post 47 and returned to the 40. Cooper drove on down to the five, but a clipping penalty on a double reverse set them back to the 35. The Pirates' Rick Greer missed a field goal try from the 35 to give the ball back to Post on their 20.

Later in the period, Greer got another chance at a field goal. This time from the 35, but the snapback from center got away, and the ball went to Post on their 42.

A five-yard penalty set the 'Lopes back to the 37, but Mindieta got three of it back at the line. Johnson passed incomplete, then was thrown back to the 28-yard line on another pass attempt, and Lee punted to the Cooper 47.

A personal foul penalty set the Pirates back to their 32, and Conolly returned a Cooper punt 20 yards to the Post 40.

The game's third roughing the kicker penalty gave Post a first down on the Pirate 45, and Johnson passed to Mindieta for 13 yards to the 32. Johnson lost to the 39 trying to find an open pass receiver, and Cooper was penalized five for jumping offside.

An interference call on a pass from Johnson to Kennedy gave Post 11 yards and a first down on the 28, but Johnson lost another seven yards trying to pass. His next

DON'T TAKE RURAL TEXANS FOR A RIDE...

...AND DON'T TAKE US FOR GRANTED.

HERE'S WHAT NIXON IS DOING TO
RURAL AMERICA

WHEAT SCANDAL - Giant wheat exporters made huge profits at the expense of individual wheat farmers, many in Texas, on Soviet trade.

TAXES - Wall Street Journal says federal laws favor the corporation or investor who farms on the side for a tax write-off.

FARM ISSUES - Under Nixon, parity dropped the lowest since 1933. Nixon held up payments of nearly $400 million for feed grains in 1970, forcing farmers to borrow at highest interest rates in history.

CONGLOMERATE SCANDALS - Big Business first, the public second - that's the Republican philosophy. Anti-trust suit against ITT dropped at the same time ITT pledged $400,000 to finance Republican Convention.

Harry S. Truman said, "The Republicans admire our government so much they want to buy it."

Let's face it. The Republicans just haven't changed much since the days of our grandfathers. They still favor Big Business over the average working men and women. And while they're taking us for a ride, they keep telling us what a "dangerous radical" Senator McGovern is.

That's what they said about Harry S. Truman.

HERE'S WHAT McGOVERN IS DOING FOR RURAL AMERICA

HIS STANDING - George McGovern has been elected time and again as a Democrat from a Republican farm state... because they know where he stands.

TAXES - His tax proposal would end the loopholes for tax-loss farming by giant corporations and the wealthy individuals who compete unfairly with family farmers. McGovern's proposal calls for the same tax on capital gains as on earnings.

FARM ISSUES - He sponsored and cosponsored: Meat Import Limitation Law; Dairy Import Act; Wheat, Feed Grain, and Soybean Emergency Reserve Bill; Rural Development, Rural Job Development, and Rural Telephone Acts; Farm Credit Act; and other pieces of important legislation.

HIS BELIEFS - George McGovern knows that the answers to many of our most pressing problems in America today can be found by developing genuine opportunities for everyone in our small towns and rural areas throughout the country.

Let's not be taken for granted by the Nixon Republicans. Rural America has always fared best under a Democratic administration. If you want to stand up and do something good for rural America, the answer is to help put a Democrat in the White House. We need George McGovern... and George McGovern needs us.

Oil Well? Maybe!

The search for oil is one of the world's riskiest businesses! For every successful oil well drilled in new territory eight prove to be costly dry holes. That's why it's always great news for everybody when an oil producing company like ours brings in a successful oil well.

Yes—good news for everybody! You see, every new oil well means more gasoline for your car, more heating fuel for your home and more of the hundreds of oil products that make today's living so much more comfortable.

In America's competitive and progressive oil industry, everyone has a special job. It's our job to produce ample oil supplies for your future.

SALUTING Garza's Oil Industry

The Postex Plant This Oil Progress Week wishes to salute a sister major industry of Garza County—the Oil Industry—and wish it new growth.

A UNIT OF BURLINGTON INDUSTRIES

The oil power for your tomorrow...

...is in the wells we find today!

By 1976, Americans will use 3,000,000 more barrels of oil every day—and we'll have it ready for you!

America's future growth—in prosperity and population—will be so great that we must begin now to discover and drill the wells that will power America's future.

It's a risky business... this drilling for oil. The chances are much greater that we won't find oil than that we will. But drill we must—even if we must drill almost two miles into the earth.

When 1976 rolls around there will be 12 million new homes, 14 millions more cars and trucks. We'll be ready for you. We'll be ready with more oil than was ever dreamed of before... and we'll be ready because we're starting right now.
