JFK Proposes Record Income Tax Slash

FAULTY ELECTRIC WIRING was given as the probable cause of a blaze reported at 9 p.m. Sunday at 1906 Coleman. The fire was reported by Bob Cole, an occupant of an upstairs apartment in the four-apartment building. The fire itself was confined to the apartment of the building's owners, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. McCarver, who were out of town at the time of the fire. No estimate of the smoke damage to the other apartments or to the McCarver apartment had been made this morning. Firemen fought the blaze for two and one-half hours.

Be Peaceful, Soviets Told

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called on the Soviet Union today to walk the path of peace with free nations. But he said any Western hopes raised by the increasing strains between Russia and Red China must be tempered with caution.

In his State of the Union message the President coupled his conciliatory bid to Soviet leaders with a sober warning that "I foresee no spectacular reversal in Communist methods or goals."

He told Congress and the nation in his review of world conditions that the end of agony may be in sight in the Congo, and although danger remains in the Cuban situation "a deadly threat has been removed."

Throughout his discussion of foreign policy he implied—though he never said it in so many words—that the United States and its allies are winning the cold war at this juncture in history. He pointed to Western success in maintaining "the frontiers of freedom from Viet Nam to West Berlin."

The President said the winds of change are blowing more strongly than ever in the world today.

He suggested that the rift in the Communist bloc and shifting world conditions could lead to changes in Soviet policy.

Declaring that the dispute between Russia and Red China has created disarray in the Communist empire, Kennedy asked leaders of the Red bloc to realize that their ambitions for world dominion cannot succeed.

Several times he warned that favorable developments in the global struggle must be viewed with caution. He applied this specifically to the row between Moscow and Peking.

"What comfort can we take from the increasing strains and tensions within the Communist bloc?" he said. "here hope must be tempered with caution. For the Soviet-Chinese disagreement is over means, not ends. A dispute over how best to bury the free world is no grounds for Western rejoicing.

"Nevertheless, while a strain is not a fracture it is clear that the forces of diversity are at work inside the Communist camp."

The recent Cuban crisis and Red China's attack on India, contrasting with Western policies for freedom in Africa and elsewhere, have helped neutralist nations, Kennedy said, "to realize more clearly that the issue in the world struggle is not communism versus capitalism, but coercion versus free choice."

Kennedy said that Western Europe "is entering into a new phase of its long and brilliant history."

Three Annual Steps Urged

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy proposed today the biggest income tax cut in history—a $13.5 billion slash to take effect in three annual steps between now and 1965.

At the same time the President called for tax reforms to recoup $3.5 billion, for a net reduction of $10 billion in revenues.

Individual taxpayers eventually would save about $11 billion a year under the top priority program which Kennedy unveiled in his State of the Union Message to Congress. The rest of the benefits would go to corporations.

First-stage rate cuts proposed for 1963 would total $6 billion—roughly equivalent to the biggest tax reductions of the past.

Kennedy said he wants individual tax rates whacked from the present range of 20 to 91 per cent "to a more sensible range of 14 to 65 per cent." He asked Congress to lower the top corporate rate from 52 per cent to the pre-Korea level of 47 per cent.

About one-fourth of the resulting revenue losses would be recouped through tax reforms, Kennedy said.

"This lifting of the wraps from the long-awaited tax package was the high spot of the 4,500-word message, broadcast live on all national television and radio networks, in which Kennedy also:

—Implied the United States and its allies are winning the cold war at a time when Sino-Soviet frictions reveal "the seeds of internal disintegration" in the Communist camp.

—Challenged the Soviet Union to make a choice between continued conflict with the West and "the path to peace." The United States is ready for either eventuality, he declared.

—Revealed the bare bones of a legislative program which, apart from taxes, ranges from the proposed creation of a domestic peace corps to enactment of the medicare plan.

Congress arranged a special joint session in the House chamber to hear the President deliver the address.

Kennedy described his tax package as "a fiscally responsible program—the surest and soundest way of achieving in time a balanced budget in a balanced full employment economy."

Although precise details won't be revealed until later this month, it was apparent the tax bill has been carefully tailored in an effort to meet anticipated opposition from congressional conservatives.

Besides calling for gradual rate cuts, to lessen the adverse impact on federal finances, Kennedy advanced two companion proposals that would aim in the same direction:

1. The enactment of tax reforms recouping $3.5 billion of the revenues that would be lost through lower rates. Reforms would begin going into effect next year.

2. A plan to gradually speed quarterly tax payments by large corporations in order to boost revenues by $1.5 billion without changing corporate tax liabilities.

Kennedy also emphasized a desire for haste in congressional consideration of tax legislation.

"Now is the time to act," he said. "We cannot afford to be timid or slow. For this is the most urgent task confronting the Congress in 1963."

The President did not specify any particular date on which he believes the initial rate cut should take effect. He merely said the first reductions should come this year.

Neither did he indicate the first-year impact on the federal budget.

Kennedy's new budget, for the 1964 fiscal year starting July 1, will go to Congress Thursday. It is expected to call for spending approaching $99 billion.

In one of his few references to the budget, the President said it will allow for "needed rises in defense, space and fixed interest charges." But he said it will hold "total expenditures for all other purposes below this year's level."

To do this, Kennedy said, he will call for "the reduction or postponement of many desirable programs," plus payroll and other economies.

These were among other highlights of the message:

—The state of the Union is good; "the recession is behind us."

—The state of the world is improving; "steady progress has been made in building a world of order."

—"But we cannot be satisfied to rest here. This is the side of the hill, not the top. The mere absence of war is not peace. The mere absence of recession is not growth. We have made a beginning—but we have only begun."

—At home, Kennedy wants aid to education; help for unemployed youths; an expanded health program; strengthened guarantees of voting rights; increased competition and decreased regulation in transportation; a local mass transit program; a new farm program; more parks and recreation area.

Cold Spell Eases Its Grip On Texas Today

By The Associated Press

Numbing cold eased a bit over most of Texas and occasional light snow—a rare spectacle on the coast—fell in the Beaumont-Houston area Monday.

Protective clouds which had threatened to depart held position, however, to spare the lush Lower Rio Grande Valley a further damaging freeze.

The bitter weather was blamed indirectly for at least two asphyxiation deaths and three in fires since the polar air started muscling into the Texas Panhandle four days ago.

A cloud cover in the Lower Rio Grande Valley kept temperatures in the 30s after a tentative forecast of the 20s had been made.

Extensive damage did occur to Valley vegetable crops Saturday night, but citrus trees escaped serious harm.

Temperatures dived to 12 below zero at dawn Monday at Dalhart, 2 below at Amarillo and Perryton and zero at Lubbock.

El Paso had 12, Alpine 16, Midland 13, Wichita Falls 13, Abilene 13, San Angelo 15, Dallas 15, Texarkana 11, Austin 24, San Antonio 29, Laredo 30, Corpus Christi 35, Brownsville 33, Houston 29, Galveston 30 and Beaumont 25.

This was notably less frigid than Sunday marks of 18 below zero at Dalhart, 17 below at Levelland, 16 below at Lubbock and 8 below at Amarillo.

Forecasts called for further slight warming in all sections during the night with a good bit of cloudiness in the south and clear to partly cloudy skies in the north.

The full extent of damage to winter vegetables and possibly to citrus groves remained to be assessed in the semi-tropical Lower Rio Grande Valley, where readings ranged down to 25 degrees Sunday.

Most of the citrus fruit had been gathered but growers feared harm to young trees and recently pruned trees which suffered heavily in a hard freeze just a year ago.

Smudge pots had burned for two nights and farmers irrigated heavily in efforts to offset the blighting cold. They said there nevertheless was damage in all parts of the Valley, particularly to tomatoes, lettuce, cabbage, onions and beets.

Except for a slight warmup, little change in Texas weather was in prospect for the next day or two.

Temperatures Sunday afternoon ranged from 22 degrees at Dalhart and Lubbock in the sub-zero belt earlier in the day up to 42 at Laredo.

Personnel Named To County Boards

The commissioners court met this morning in regular session. The major business of the court was the appointment of persons to the various boards of directors of county activities.

Appointed to the library board to fill the place of O. B. Paty who has moved from the county was Robert E. Cribb. Appointed to replace Mrs. J. C. Ezell, who had declined reappointment, was Mrs. Robert H. Melton. Reappointed were Frank Patterson and Jake Greene.

Members of the library board whose terms did not expire are Mrs. V. T. Tracy, Mrs. R. R. Patterson, Mrs. Gene Dulaney, and Mrs. Paris McPherson.

The commissioners also approved a request from the library board that sick leave be granted Mrs. Mary Nell Smith, head librarian, and that Mrs. Wayne Tyrone be appointed acting librarian during Mrs. Smith's absence.

Airport board appointees this morning were Dr. E. A. Rogers, to fill the place presently held by Jimmy Thompson, and Roger Mize, to fill the place held by Bill Atwood. Reappointed was Lyle Alexander who was appointed last year to fill the unexpired portion of the term of G. B. Clark who resigned. Holdover directors of the airport board are H. C. Denson and Theo Lamb.

On the hospital board Paul Keaton was appointed to the place held by Sam Chorn who had requested he not be reappointed, and Jess Everett was appointed to the place held by Lester Moore who also had declined reappointment. H. D. Moreland accepted reappointment. Holdover directors are Herman Doak, Hugh Taylor, and Howard Hogue.

Appointment of the welfare board was postponed until this afternoon.

Meeting with the commissioners this morning was Miss Marjie Crow, child welfare worker from Plainview. Miss Crow was present at the public meeting last September at which time the possibility of placing a child welfare worker in Snyder was investigated.

Miss Crow told the commissioners that Howard Masden, assistant director of child welfare division for the state would come to Snyder from Austin if the commissioners would like to talk to him. A meeting was planned for next Monday.

France Turns Down Offer

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle said today France cannot join the British-American agreement made at Nassau establishing a multinational Polaris missile force.

De Gaulle, speaking to his first news conference since last May, responded to a question on whether France might accept President Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles:

"I do not believe that anyone thinks that we can subscribe to the accords of the Bahamas."

De Gaulle said the U.S. offer to France following the pre-Christmas Nassau agreement had no current importance to France and added:

"We will build and employ ourselves our own atomic force.

"I have several times indicated publicly French policy on defense and the armament which France feels necessary for her own defense. I repeat that France in defense. France can conduct a world war on its own" and went on:

"The need to have allies goes without saying. But to have also the free disposition of one's self and to keep it is also a necessity for a great people."

He declared it would not be useful for France to buy Polaris missiles from the United States since it does not have submarines to launch the missiles or nuclear warhead to attach to the missiles.

He added, however, that if France some day does have the submarines and nuclear warheads "perhaps we will have our own missiles."

De Gaulle said he was not refusing technical or strategic cooperation, but that he felt the French and British positions were different now on nuclear matters. Britain has accepted the Polaris offer.

12 Slant Well Cases Delayed

GILMER, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge Looney Lindsay postponed today trials of 12 East Texans accused in slant oil well scandals.

Eleven trials were postponed until 30 days after the legislature adjourns, probably in May, because Reps. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs and Robert Fairchild of Center are lawyers for the men.

The trial of Pete Davis of Gladewater was set for Jan. 28. His lawyer said he would file a motion to quash the indictment.

Four defendants were absent today. They are H. L. Bissell, W. A. Hewell, F. C. Deutsch and W. C. Deutsch, all Longview oilmen.

Present were Davis; L. D. Murphy, dismissed Railroad Commission employe from Kilgore; E. W. Scates, W. E. Mitchell and Arthur Vaugh, all Longview oilmen; C. S. Starr of Gilmer, Robert Mathews of Kilgore and J. A. Tyner, Tyler lawyer.

Area Expects Thaw Today

Above-freezing temperatures were in prospect for the Snyder area today for the first time since Thursday.

The mercury dipped below the freezing mark before midnight Thursday and through this morning had not climbed above 29 since the cold spell hit.

Saturday night readings failed to reach the depths predicted. The low Sunday morning was 8 degrees, leaving the 3-degree mark of Saturday morning the season's lowest.

This morning's low was 12 degrees, and bright sunshine was expected to send the mercury upward into the high thirties or low forties this afternoon.

Pair May Struggle For Power In Togo

LOME, Togo (AP)—A struggle for leadership of this tiny West African country appeared to be developing today in the wake of a sergeants' revolt and the assassination of President Sylvanus Olympio.

Two men emerged as possible heads of a new government—former Premier Nicolas Grunitsky 49, and Idrissou Antoine Meatchi, 27, a former opposition leader in the Togo Assembly.

A military revolutionary committee that engineered the Sunday coup reportedly appealed to Grunitsky, a brother-in-law of the slain president to return from exile in neighboring Dahomey to form a government.

Rumors spread that Meatchi was already back in Lome from exile in Ghana, which also borders Togo. He had been accused by the Olympio government of aiding exiled political conspirators.

Meatchi, a French-educated Moslem and former civil servant, had been arrested in 1960 for conspiracy. He went to Ghana after his release in mid-1961.

Gunned down on the street outside the U.S. Embassy early Sunday, Olympio apparently was the only casualty of the fast-paced revolt. Gunfire was heard in the streets around 2 a.m. The 60-year-old president's bullet-riddled body was found outside the unlocked embassy gate at dawn.

The body was taken into the embassy. Later Olympio's family removed it.

Most of the other members of his government were arrested. They were reported unharmed and hid at a military camp outside Lome.

Olympio visited the United States on an aid-seeking mission last March and President Kennedy praised him as "an exceptional figure on the world scene." The London-educated Olympio was the only African head of state with a command of both English and French, and he also knew some German. His language skills earned him an influential position in African councils.

Togo, a country of 1½ million people, is about the size of West Virginia. It was a French U.N. protectorate when it gained independence in 1960. Before World War I it was a German colony.

The main opposition to Olympio's government consisted of the Progress party and the allies, Juvento movement, two groups accused of plotting against the regime with aid from Ghana.

President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana has been the target of several bomb plots and his government had accused Togo of harboring Ghanaian conspirators.

The Dahomey government, concerned over the Olympio assassination, sent its foreign and finance ministers to Accra to appeal to Nkrumah not to intervene in Togo.

Pair Picked For Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. W. Pat Jennings of Virginia and Rep. Ross Bass of Tennessee won coveted seats on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee today in a secret ballot of Democratic House members.

The loser in the three-way race for the two seats was Rep. Phil M. Landrum, D-Ga., who had administration backing for the post. The action therefore was a blow for the prestige of House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass.

Jennings and Bass are considered to have liberal leanings, while Landrum had a reputation as a conservative Southerner.

The vote was reported to be 169 for Bass, 161 for Jennings and 126 for Landrum.

In an earlier fight, Landrum switched his previous position on enlarging the House Rules Committee and swung the 10-man Georgia delegation behind the administration on that crucial vote.

Tougher Junketing Rules Announced

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House committees plan crackdowns on congressoinal junketing.

Before they are through, they may pry out of the State Department heretofore secret information on how congressmen traveling abroad spend foreign currencies owned by the United States and received through various U.S. aid programs. These currencies are known as counterpart funds.

Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., of the Rules Committee said he plans to scan thoroughly all requests this year by House committees for authority to travel outside the United States. In order to obtain travel authority, committees must get a special resolution passed by the House itself. These resolutions originate in the Rules Committee.

Smith indicated that unless committee chairmen fully justify their need for travel authority and explain how it has been used in the past, he may be hesitant to approve new requests.

State Department officials may be asked to give the Rules Committee details on how counterpart funds have been used. The department parcels out the funds under the foreign aid law and keeps records on how much each traveler was given and how much he spent. The records filed with congressional committees are sketchy and devoid of detail. They usually show only how much each committee spent in the aggregate, but not how much each member used.

Chairman Omar Burleson, D-Tex., of the House Administration Committee joined Smith in calling for tighter curbs on congressional traveling.

All expenditures of congressional funds for travel must be approved by Burleson's committee, but it has no control over counterpart money. The Rules Committee simply okays the travel requests.

U. N. Emissary Is Going To Kolwezi

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—The United Nations prepared today to send a special emissary to Kolwezi to demand that President Moise Tshombe surrender his stronghold or face U.N. attack.

Diplomatic informants said they believed the Katanga president was rallying his followers for a last-ditch stand to try to hold what remained of his secessionist domain.

The emissary was to warn Tshombe that if he did not peacefully surrender Kolwezi—center of Katanga's mining industry—the United Nations would fly in a Gurkha battalion to take it by force.

Tshombe also was to get notice that if his followers carried out threats to blow up the mining installations and electric power dam in the area, he might be sent to Leopoldville for trial by the central Congo government as a war criminal and saboteur.

Last reports said a U.N. ground force had advanced from Jadotville to within 50 miles of Kolwezi.

Sources at U.N. headquarters in New York reported that Indian U.N. troops have taken over Shinkolobwe, once Katanga's biggest military base, 15 miles southwest of Jadotville and about 90 miles southeast of Kolwezi.

The base, which once accommodated 2,000 to 3,000 men, was reported almost deserted. The sources said "enormous quantities of arms and ammunition" were found.

Rail service was reported restored between Elisabethville and Mokambo, near the border of Northern Rhodesia, and trains began moving over it Sunday with badly needed food supplies from Rhodesia to the Katanga capital.

The United Nations occupied Mokambo Thursday after Tshombe drove ahead of advancing U.N. troops calling on his tattered forces not to resist. The United Nations went on Saturday to Sakania on the Rhodesian border.

Tshombe slipped back into Kolwezi Saturday night after a one-day visit to Northern Rhodesia. Some sources believed he had returned to try to dissuade diehard members of his Cabinet from dynamiting the city. Others felt that Tshombe was convinced a unified Congo would doom any political future he might have and was determined to make a final stand.

Counterfeit Ring Broken

AUSTIN (AP)—Secret Service agents arrested five men and confiscated $15,000 in fake $20 bills over the weekend.

They said this broke up one of the largest counterfeiting operations ever uncovered in the southwest.

Three of the arrests were made in Austin. The others were in Houston, where one of the men is John L. Meeker, 29, a city policeman.

Meeker, arraigned on charges of conspiracy to commit counterfeiting and possession of counterfeit money was released under $5,000 bond. Hilton Smith, 31, of Houston, accused of possessing counterfeit money, posted $1,000 bond.

Smith's cousin, Herbert Smith, also 31, Ronald Preseley, 26, and Thomas Glenn, 47, all of Austin, were arraigned at Austin. Smith and Preseley were released under $3,000 bonds.

Lane Bertram, agent in charge of the Houston Secret Service office, said the first counterfeit bills turned up during the Christmas season.

The actual printing of the money was done in Austin, he said, the bills were brought to Houston and 70 to 75 were passed during the holidays.

Bertram said $10,000 in fake money was found wrapped in foil and stuffed in a shallow hole on a Houston lot. The other $5,000, some chemicals, a cutter and an offset press were found in Austin by agents from the San Antonio office.

Bertram decline to say whether others were implicated.

City Firemen Kept Busy

The Snyder fire department answered four calls Sunday. Two were false alarms.

A trash fire at the VFW clubhouse was mistakenly reported as a fire, and a pilot light in a clothes dryer at the Floyd Laundromat on the Big Spring Highwas was also mistaken for a fire.

The department extinguished a blaze at 1906 Coleman at 9 p.m. and a small closet fire at 1901 Avenue M at the J. R. Pinkerton residence Sunday afternoon.

This morning the fire department answered a call at 8:50 to a large well house on the Leo Schattel farm six miles northeast of Snyder, and also answered a call at 9:30 to the Snyder Co-op gin where a burr fire was reported.

Fanfani Gets Panel Backing

ROME (AP) — The Italian Socialist party's Central Committee has voted down a pro-Communist move that would have overthrown Premier Amintore Fanfani's coalition government on the eve of his departure for talks with President Kennedy.

The committee voted 45-35 Sunday to continue backing Fanfani until general elections which must be held by the end of May. The party's pro-Communists demanded an immediate break with the premier.

The Socialist support for Fanfani, which followed three days of debate, was qualified by sharp criticism of his Christian Democrat party's delay in passing Socialist-backed legislation to create regional governments in parts of Italy. Right-wing Christian Democrats fear the Socialists will again support their former allies, the Communists, for a leftist capture of power in some regions.

The Socialists' qualified support for Fanfani and the attack on his party was seen as an indirect warning that the premier, who leaves for Washington Tuesday, should be careful in his talks with Kennedy. The Socialists are neutralists and opposed to the North Atlantic Alliance to which Italy belongs.

Cotton Plan Change Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif., renewed today a plea to President Kennedy for major changes in the federal price support and production control program for cotton.

With the administration expected to send recommendations to Congress soon for new legislation, the assistant Republican leader of the Senate wrote the President that California growers favor less stringent acreage limitations and lower price supports in order to meet foreign competition and resist trends toward use of synthetic fibers.

"There is continuing concern in my state," Kuchel wrote, "about the threat of demoralization to all phases of our cotton-based economy."

Kuchel advised the President that California producers favor a national acreage allotment of 19 million acres and a basic price of 30 cents a pound.

He asked the President to consider the program of the Western cotton growers association, which includes a proposal to spend part of the savings from lower price support payments on intensified research, payment-in-kind incentives for producers who surrender their acreage allotments, an equalization fee to encourage greater domestic consumption, and removal of all restrictions on growers who wish to produce without loans or supports.

Virginia Law Struck Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court struck down today a Virginia law which the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said had curbed its participation in litigation over racial discrimination.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., writing the court's main opinion, said that while the case was brought by NAACP, the high tribunal was not deciding it with any consideration of race or racial discrimination.

Rather, Brennan said, the court condemned the state statute as a violation of the federal Constitution's guarantee of free speech.

NAACP contended the law barred it from underwriting the costs and providing counsel in suits begun to test validity of state-imposed discrimination. The statute calls such activity unlawful fomenting and solicitation of legal business. Lawyers taking part in such cases are declared guilty of malpractice.

Aerial Exodus Of Refugees Halted

By JOE McGOWAN JR.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The aerial exodus of refugees from Fidel Castro's Cuba has halted, following an airlift of 89 Cubans and Cuban-Americans to Miami Sunday. At present there are no plans for resuming it.

Red Cross officials announced there will be no more flights carrying ransom supplies to Cuba. Pan American World Airways, which suspended its twice-daily Miami-Havana flights at the onset of the Cuban crisis last October, is not anxious to resume the unprofitable service.

The Pan Am DC6B that made Sunday's refugee flight had taken 15,000 pounds of medicines to Cuba as another installment on the $53-million ransom guaranteed Castro for release of the 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners.

The American Red Cross said all future shipments of ransom supplies will be made by ocean freighter. The steamship Shirley Lykes presently is being loaded at Baltimore with 6,500 tons of food, drugs and medical supplies for delivery in Havana.

The Shirley Lykes will stop at Port Everglades, Fla., to load an additional 1,000 tons of supplies. She is expected to reach Cuba no earlier than Jan. 18.

A tearful, yet joyous scene unfolded at Miami International Airport when the 89 refugees arrived at 5:20 p.m. Sixty-eight of the group were Cubans possessing American citizenship. The other 21 were Cuban nationals but either the husband or wife had U.S. citizenship or their children were born in this country.

The U.S. Immigration Service refused to release names of arrivals.

The Cuban-Americans had lived in the United States previously and for one reason or another—mostly homesickness—had returned to their native Cuba.

They said they were returning to America because of problems in Cuba, including food shortages, inability to get work, and disillusionment with the revolution.

Jesus Azoy, a barber who left Tampa, Fla., and returned to Havana 18 months ago, said, "We were told it was good there under the revolution."

But Azoy said, "It was a mistake to go back. It wasn't nice after all."

Azoy was accompanied by his wife and two sons, Alexander, 4, born in the United States, and Jesus Jr., 8 months.

Amparo Lopez Medina, 84, was the oldest of the arrivals. She said in Spanish, "I am happy to be here."

Dock Strike In 23rd Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The Atlantic and Gulf Coast dock strike entered its 23rd day today with federal mediators hopeful of resuming joint negotiations.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and federal mediators stood by during the weekend, to be on hand if any change came in the positions of the ship owners or the Longshoremen's Union.

The strike by 60,000 longshoremen has idled an additional 20,000 non-striking seamen and truckers in ports from Maine to Texas.

Federal mediators held separate meetings with both parties Saturday.

Following those meetings, Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, said, "everything is the same."

Wages are a principal issue in the dispute. The strikers seek a 50-cent hourly package, including 26 cents in wages, over two years. The industry has offered 22 cents over two years. The prestrike basic wage here was $3.02 an hour.

Four Deaths Blamed On Major Fires

By The Associated Press

Major weekend fires caused at least four deaths and did widespread damage in the nation.

Two firemen died in Philadelphia when a wall of St. Elizabeth's School, a parochial institution, collapsed and crushed them as they tried to extend a ladder.

One man was killed and four other persons were injured as fire swept through a two-story frame house in Arlington, Va., a suburb of Washington, D.C.

At Pine Bluff, Ark., a construction worker was killed and another was reported missing in a fire at the International Paper Co. plant.

At Peoria, Ill., fire destroyed laboratories, a theater, records and other facilities in Bradley Hall, a building on the Bradley University campus. The building was closed at the time the fire broke out, and no one was injured.

At Salt Lake City, Utah, fire destroyed one of the nation's largest collections of theatrical costumes at the Salt Lake Costume Co. Among the lost treasure were said to be a dozen Civil War cavalry uniforms and personal possessions of Brigham Young, Mormon leader.

At Shenandoah, Va., three two-story buildings were burned out in what officials called the Page County community's worst fire in 35 years. An exploding oil stove was believed to have touched off the fire, which did damage estimated at $100,000.

At Tuscola, Ill., three firemen were injured in a fire that destroyed three two-story brick buildings in the business district. Estimates of damage ranged up to $300,000.

At Medina, N.Y., fire did an estimated $125,000 worth of damage to a six-lane bowling center.

At Norman, Okla., fire destroyed the Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity house and students' personal belongings. Fifty-eight University of Oklahoma students were driven from the ultramodern, two-story building. The loss was estimated at $250,000.

Two Pleas Heard In County Court

Two pleas were heard in county court this morning.

Melvin Kellner pleaded guilty to a worthless check charge and was fined $15 plus costs of $26.35. The check had been given to Star Discount.

Clarence V. Robertson pleaded not guilty to a DWI charge. His trial was set for Jan. 16. The case was filed by the sheriff's department.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I, too, am "irritated" with school teachers who punish the entire class when she doesn't know who is guilty. It's time we investigated our school teachers. What other job starts at 9 A.M. and ends at 3 P.M. five days a week? Who else gets a week's Easter vacation and two weeks at Christmas and THREE MONTHS' paid vacation in the summer? No wonder everyone wants to go into the teaching profession.

I. M. WISE

DEAR WISE: Sorry, but you are not "wise" — you are otherwise. A good teacher's working day starts well before the first bell and lasts long after her pupils (and often their parents) are snoozing. Most are required to use summer months for added study (at considerable expense)... and many teachers (of both sexes) have financial responsibilities few know about. A good teacher is worth more than she earns. And the really poor ones don't last long at any price. You're down on what you're not up on, Friend.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Why do people charge so much for baby-sitting? It's not hard work and doesn't require any brains. I offer to baby-sit free for some young couples who can barely scrape up enough money to go out, let alone pay a sitter. What happened to the spirit of giving?

FREE SITTER

DEAR SITTER: That's a good question. I think it vanished about 23 years ago. That's the last time our milkman gave my mother a calendar for Christmas.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: After ten years of marriage and four children we were divorced. My ex-husband wanted me and the children back so I went back to him and we raised the children together. They are all married with families of their own now. No one knows that the Mister and I never renewed our marriage vows. So where does that leave me legally? Everything is in both names (property and insurance) but I have not been his legal Mrs. for 5 years. We can't get married again because a public notice would be disgraceful, as everyone took us to be married all along. Can you give me some advice?

DIVORCED BUT "MARRIED"

DEAR DIVORCED: Your clergyman can marry you privately and quietly, and file it in the church records. This is a LEGAL marriage and no one need know that you have not been legally wed all along. Good luck and God bless you.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ATHENS": A man does not usually look behind a door unless he has stood there himself.

Meredith Is Still Facing Opposition

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Officials at the University of Mississippi again have cracked down on student demonstrations against Negro James H. Meredith, 29, but the campaign aimed at him continues.

The latest harassment came Sunday when Meredith returned from an overnight trip to Memphis, Tenn., and found a tire slashed on his 1952 automobile.

The car was parked in front of the dormitory where Meredith lives. Army troops are on guard there constantly.

Meredith issued a statement a week ago saying he would withdraw at the end of the semester "unless very definite and positive changes are made to make my situation more conducive to learning."

Meredith said he felt the renewal of open demonstrations had been touched off by the arguing of university officials and the Justice Department.

Several students were apprehended Thursday night by campus policemen following a demonstration both inside and outside the campus cafeteria when Meredith ate supper.

One of the students was taken before the Student Council the following day for disciplinary action. The university administration announced Friday night that the student, whom it did not identify, had been suspended.

Valley Area Farms Escape Big Damage

By BOB M. GASSAWAY

McALLEN (AP)—Farmers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley were relieved today when they found temperatures had dropped to only the mid 30s after the low 20s had been predicted.

The mercury fell to 33 and 34 degrees in Starr County in the upper valley, but elsewhere in the normally [illegible] area, the readings were 35, 36 and 37 degrees.

The Weather Bureau at Brownsville forecast highs of 43 to 45 for today as a warming trend appeared to be getting the upper hand over a cold front which has gripped the Valley since Friday night.

Lows forecast for tonight are 38 on the coast, 36 mid-Valley and 34 in Rio Grande City.

Forecasters said the temperatures stayed in the 30s because of a cloud cover.

Valley vegetables sustained extensive damage Saturday night when temperatures dropped into the high and mid-20s. It will take several days to assess the damage fully.

Carl Schuster, who farms 800 acres of vegetables at San Juan in the middle Valley, said:

"I'm just real happy. Maybe we squeaked through this time. I think the Valley ought to be real happy."

Will Wallace of Wallace Fruit and Vegetable Co. in Edinburg agreed.

Schuster said the Saturday night freeze destroyed the last of the fall pepper crop and most of the fall tomatoes and canning tomatoes. These were all small acreage crops.

"The lettuce and cabbage suffered some damage, but they should throw off the damaged leaves and be allright," Schuster said.

Citrus farmers were concerned mainly for their trees because most of the small fruit crop has been harvested. Wallace said citrus wood did not appear to be hurt.

Watch Out For Paris Before You Accept Those Fashions

BY INEZ ROBB

Persons who run around crying "Wolf! Wolf!" never win popularity contests. But I feel it is my bounden duty to drop a fly in the ointment.

It occurs to me that the present period of euphoria in the fashion world may be that fatal lull before the catastrophic hurricane. The semi-annual showings of American fashions by America's top designers have just ended in New York without any really drastic change or any startling innovations that would cause a woman to scrap her whole wardrobe and start all over again — or a loving husband and father to contemplate a simple declaration of bankruptcy as the best way out.

I not only read the newspaper copy that resulted from the extensive fashion showings, but I know a number of designers and fashion writers personally. And no matter how skillfully they skirted the situation of fashion shows, any between-the-line reading or the hard fact that, fashionwise, the status quo is still — so to speak — in the saddle.

Oh, skirts may be a quarter of an inch longer, but only a really experienced girl-watcher on a windy corner is going to be able to detect this infinitesimal change. And waistlines may be a mite higher, but waistlines have been a sometime thing for so long that this change, too, is imperceptible.

There was a lot of fancy talk and writing about new colors and new materials but unless and until these are used in a spectacular way that negates everything hanging in a woman's wardrobe, mama is going to feel that she can get another season's wear out of that pink suit and that blue chiffon evening dress — and Papa's going to feel that he's had a reprieve.

Nothing that I have seen or read leads me to an inescapable itch to kindle a bonfire in my clothes closet. All of which has made the Head of Clan Robb delirious.

Truth to tell, it has had a soothing effect on me. There is great security in the fact that hems seem to be stabilized — lowering or lifting them every six months can make a woman old before her time. And the efforts to update a suddenly dated wardrobe will make any woman think wistfully of the cloistered life.

But, before we women relapse into complacency and the men snap the rubber band back on their rolls we might as well face the tense weeks ahead. The moment of truth is not yet. There can be no relaxing at the oars until Paris is heard from toward the end of this month and the Ides of February.

Like it or lump it, Paris still has the last word, and its designers will begin saying it within the next few weeks. Despite the eminence of American designers and the ability of many to hold their own with their French confreres the Paris couture still rules the roost.

During the past few seasons the French designers, like the American, have been content to roll with the tide. There have been no great, sweeping innovations such as those with which the original Dior used to make strong women weep and their menfolk faint dead away when they saw the holocaust in the closets.

But let's not get complacent; let's not believe it can't happen here, there and again. Heaven alone knows what Paris has in store for us within the next four or five weeks. It can be more of the same or a New Look that will turn women the world over into pyromaniacs.

I am hoping for peace of mind. I want to be hem-happy and just rock along for another season or so. But it is only air to cry "En Garde!" I am prayerfully hoping for the best. But I have a box of matches at the ready.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Junior Editors Quiz on LEAVES

QUESTION: Why do leaves fall off the trees?

* * *

ANSWER: The little hard working food factories called leaves make sugar and starch for the trees to live on. After a period of work, a leaf becomes exhausted; it must fall and give way to a new one. Even in places where the climate is warm the year round, old leaves keep falling and new ones appearing. But since this happens leaf by leaf throughout the year, the tree always looks green. Evergreens, too, lose their leaves in this way and yet are always green. But trees with big flat leaves such as oaks and maples need the summer warmth and are useless in the winter. So, in the fall, the base of the stem or "petiole" begins to grow a ring of cells which turn into cork and cut right across the stem, shutting off the tiny pipe lines which connect the leaf with the tree. Now the green chlorophyll in the leaf disappears and other chemicals are uncovered whose brilliant colors of yellow, orange and red make the blaze of autumn. As these go, too, the leaf falls to the ground. But during the previous summer, a minute bud with a tiny rolled up leaf inside had appeared where the petiole joined the twig. This remains alive during the winter, ready to burst open in the warmth of spring.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: If you live in a country where leaves fall, check on the tiny "axillary" buds which are waiting for spring. If you live further south, look out for old leaves falling and find where the new ones are coming in.

Eastern Stars Win 'Comedy Of Errors'

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Allie Sherman finally has a victory today over Vince Lombardi, his old New York buddy, even if it took one of Jim Brown's finest days, five fumbles, two dropped touchdown passes and a field goal by a guy with the shakes.

Sherman, the young scholarly coach of the New York Giants, got his revenge Sunday in the Eastern Conference's 30-20 victory over Lombardi's Western Conference stars in the 13th National Football League Pro Bowl All-Star game.

Sherman called it "a great team victory and a well played game under the circumstances." Lombardi, like Sherman a Giant assistant before starting his championship reign at Green Bay, called it a "comedy of errors."

Most of the 61,374 who watched the sloppy, but exciting struggle at the Coliseum under sunny skies and 60-degree temperatures probably would agree the answer was somewhere in the middle.

On the positive side, the East had the brilliant running of Cleveland's Brown, who proved he's just as good as ever by carrying 17 times for a record 141 yards, scoring two touchdowns on a 50-yard gallop and a one-yard power plunge and setting up a third score with a 33-yard burst through three or four would-be tacklers.

There was the clutch 19-yard touchdown pass from Y. A. Tittle to Pres Carpenter that pulled the East into a 20-20 tie early in the fourth quarter after it blew a two-touchdown lead, and the field goal by flu victim Lou Michaels that snapped the tie. And there was the tremendous defensive play of Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb and Jim Katcavage.

But that side of the East's first victory over the West in four years and Sherman's first over Lombardi in six tries since he became New York coach tended to be lost in the shuffle of fumbles by Abe Woodson of San Francisco that cost two touchdowns, a bobble by Johnny Unitas that led to Michaels' field goal, and sure touchdown passes dropped by Gail Cogdill and Ron Kramer of the West.

"It was a comedy of errors," insisted Lombardi. "You can't win ball games on mistakes. I mean when you drop the ball three times in the open, twice when it means sure scores, then you are making mistakes."

"We just handed it to them in the fourth quarter," echoed Unitas, whose passing—including a record 87-yard completion to Cogdill—had rallied the West into the lead on a 17-point third period burst.

The key play came with 6 minutes left, the score tied, and Unitas back to pass. He was hit by Lipscomb and Katcavage, dropped the ball, and Big Daddy plopped his 6-foot-8, 290-pound frame on the football on the West 25.

Michaels, so wobbly that Sherman was reluctant to let him play, kicked a 27-yard field goal three plays later.

On the kickoff, Woodson jitterbugged looking for an opening as he headed up field. He ran smack into Cleveland's Galen Fiss, who separated him from the ball with a ferocious tackle. Dallas' Don Bishop picked it up and raced 20 yards for the clinching touchdown.

Happiest man was Bishop, who received the game ball while Brown was named the outstanding player for the second straight year and Lipscomb was chosen the top lineman.

Bishop had an uncomplicated explanation of his touchdown run.

"Somebody hit him and I just picked up the ball and somebody yelled run," he said. "So I did."

TALKING IT OVER—Texas Tech freshman football and varsity baseball coach Berl Huffman (right) addressed a large number of local gridders and adult fans Saturday night as a highlight of the annual football banquet sponsored by the Quarterback Club. Tripucka Pitches West Mates Home

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Old pro Frank Tripucka came off the bench Sunday and passed the West team to a 21-14 victory in the second annual American Football League All-Star clash—then said it was his final game.

The 35-year-old quarterback relieved Len Dawson of Dallas in the final quarter with the score 14-14. He cranked up the faltering West players and guided them 89 yards in seven plays to the winning touchdown.

The score was set up on a 49-yard toss to Tripucka's Denver Bronco teammate Lionel Taylor. The same Tripucka-Taylor combination worked on a 20-yarder two plays later for the touchdown.

A crowd of more than 27,000 fans at Balboa Stadium watched the West jump off to a 14-0 halftime lead.

West scores came on a 64-yard run by Curtis McClinton of Dallas and an 11-yard pass play from Dawson to San Diego end Dave Kocourek.

McClinton, AFL rookie of the year, was also named outstanding back of the game. The 230-pound fullback was the leading rusher with 94 yards.

He broke through a hole at right tackle on the West's third play from scrimmage, threw off one defender and sprinted for the opening touchdown. McClinton also set up the second West score with a bull-like rush that moved the ball 22 yards to the East 11.

Dawson hit Kocurek on the next play for the TD.

The sputtering East offense—plagued by five intercepted passes—caught hold late in the third period. Quarterback George Blanda of Houston used only four plays to move the Easterners 68 yards to a score.

Enroute he connected with Houston flanker Charlie Hennigan on throws of 48 and 8 yards—the second going for a touchdown.

Two minutes later, New York defensive back Larry Grantham intercepted a Dawson aerial and went untouched 29 yards into the end zone.

Tripucka took the helm at the start of the final period. He threw two incomplete passes during his first series of downs. After an exchange of punts he got another chance.

This time the former Notre Dame star was on target with his next four passes—including the one that won the game.

"Tripucka and Taylor knew each other's moves and got us the winning score," said West Coach Hank Stram of Dallas.

Tripucka told newsmen it was his final game.

East Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy said interceptions and a fumble on the West 11 killed his squad's scoring chances.

Substitution Rules Change Draws Coaches' Plaudits

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The country's college football coaches tossed away their scorecards today, verbally approved the newly adopted free substitution rule as "good for the game" and indicated they now have enough room to manipulate their forces despite a couple of annoying strings.

"I think it will make a better game," said Coach Dan Devine of Missouri. "It's a great rule change," said North Carolina's Jim Hickey. "I'm delighted." "Very wise — very sound," said Bump Elliott of Michigan.

There was no hue and cry from the opposition replying to an Associated Press survey—only a lone determined voice dissenting. "It's a tremendous step backward," said Ralph Jordan of Auburn. "I had a feeling when Gen. Bob Neyland passed on something like this would take place."

Neyland was strongly opposed to platoon football, calling it a "rat race" that robbed the game of its "character building aspects." Others like Holy Cross' Eddie Anderson, the dean of the nation's coaches, have always felt "the more boys who get to play the better the game gets."

The new rule, as adopted by the football rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in Coronado, Calif., last Saturday, calls for more liberalized substitution. There are certain restrictions, however.

Completely free substitution will be permitted any time the clock stops and on all plays in a series except fourth down and when the ball changes hands. In each of the restrictive cases, only two men can be sent in.

"I've always liked two-platoon football," said Army's Paul Dietzel, the inventor and prime developed of the three-platoon system. "I think it's better — technically and for the boys."

Pitt's John Michelosen said, "It will alleviate the problem of always trying to keep track of the subs on the sidelines. Now the coach has more time to concentrate on the game."

"You can't imagine," said Vanderbilt's Jack Green, "how much thought coaches have been giving to substitution instead of strategy."

"I think free substitution will bring better football to the colleges," said Baylor's John Bridgers.

"I've been for free substitution ever since they took it away from us," said Earle Edwards of North Carolina State.

"VMI's John McKenna said, "The old rule was supposed to equalize the haves and have-nots and at first we liked it because we were short-handed. But each year they liberalized the rules a bit and pretty soon the whole idea was neglected. We ended up playing our two platoons against everybody's three."

There were some voices not raised in complete accord.

Said Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd: "I have preferred and will still prefer free substitution with no strings attached." Johnny Griffith of Georgia said, "I'm for free substitution and I think this is about as close as we can get."

Ara Parseghian of Northwestern said, "I'm greatly disappointed. As I interpret the rules, you can't platoon on first or fourth down. Who wants to platoon on second and third down? Why don't they go all out and give us unlimited substitution?"

Duke's Bill Murray, a member of the rules committee, had an explanation. "There are basic philosophies of football. A majority of the coaches favored a return to unlimited substitution, but there were some who favored the idea that the boys should learn both offense and defense."

Kansas' Jack Mitchell called the rule "a great break for the boys with somewhat limited abilities, allowing them to play more; it's not so good for the outstanding boys—they won't have a chance to use all of their abilities because it's seldom they will play both ways."

Texas Coach Darrell Royal said it didn't matter. "Material is going to win games for you, not rules," he said.

Virginia Coach Bill Elias said, "It may be good for football, but it won't make much difference in the long run. The strong will stay strong, the weak will stay weak."

Wills Chosen Athlete Of The Year

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If all the awards received by Maury Wills this fall were lined up side by side they probably would match the 104 bases the fleet-footed Los Angeles star stole last season.

The latest—and most important to Wills—is the Athlete of the Year for 1962 award which was voted him by a wide margin Saturday in the annual Associated Press poll.

"I've received many awards," said Wills today, "but this is perhaps the daddy of 'em all. I'm real happy about the honor."

"Everyone has been wonderful to me," said Wills. "My main aim from now on is to try and make myself worthy of all these honors. I have been trying to and hope I can pay back all these nice people."

Wills captured 72 first place votes and 338 points on a 3-2-1 basis from a national panel of 302 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll.

Golfer Jack Nicklaus was second with 38 first place votes and 208 points. Y.A. Tittle of the New York Football Giants, golfer Arnold Palmer, Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers, and quarterback Terry Baker of the University of Southern California, rounded out the first six.

The runaway victory for Wills was fitting. He captured the national fancy as he passed Bob Bescher's National League record of 80 stolen bases in August and closed in on Ty Cobb's major league mark of 96 a month later. He finally passed Cobb on Sept. 17, reached the 100 mark the last week of the regular season and added four more in the 3-game playoff with the Giants to finish with 104 stolen bases in 165 games.

WAGING A COMEBACK—Frankie Ryff, former lightweight boxer, shown with his wife, is making a comeback nearly a year after he fell eight floors on a construction job in New York's Rockefeller Center. Ryff, who will be 30 in April, is being treated at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in New York. "He was in a coma for three months," said Mrs. Ryff, "doctors told me he was a fraction away from death." (AP Wirephoto)

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

"I'll not bore ya long," the man said. "I can do that quick."

The man speaking was Texas Tech Coach Berl Huffman in his opening remarks at Saturday night's Quarterback Club banquet here. Boredom never took hold, though, for he went on to delight the crowd of near 300 by drawing on his numerous experiences as a coach and sometime politician.

Huffman is a large, outgoing type of individual, and the type you would like your son to be associated with in athletics. His range of coaching experience covers a wide territory, too. In the '30s and '40s he was head basketball coach at Tech, as an example, while in contrast he is currently serving as varsity baseball and freshman football coach at the school.

During his talk he took a tongue - in - cheek poke at former Tiger gridders Charlie Gladson and Reg Scarborough, both of whom are now sophomore footballers at Tech. He commented that he had hit them up to come along with him to the banquet, but that they both begged off by telling him that finals were coming up this week and that they had both better stick around and hit the books a lick.

"Uh-huh," was Huffman's knowing reply. "What's 'er name?"

From a football - playing angle, Gladson was later described by Huffman as "tougher than the rear end of a shootin' gallery."

"Things were pretty rough up at Tech this past season," he commented, referring to the Raiders' losing grid string. "In fact, it got so bad that they even got to hanging sportwriters in effigy. As for me, I don't mind them hanging me in effigy if they want to," he mused as an afterthought, "just so long as they don't hang ME!"

Before the program began Speedy Moffett had queried him as to just why he had returned to the coaching profession (he is a past Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce manager and director of the New Mexico Economic Development Corporation). "New Mexico politics is the roughest game in the world," he said, grinning, "and it lasts 12 months a year."

He went on to relate one incident that happened while he was head football coach at New Mexico University. His boys were getting waxed pretty well at the time, and Huffman and the officials calling the game couldn't for the life of them see eye-to-eye on the decisions. Huffman, on occasion, would call out little things like "lousy" and "rotten" when a call went against his team, which wasn't easing tensions any to speak of.

Finally, one of the officials threw a hanky near the New Mexico bench, and Huffman seized on the opportunity by sputtering, "Ref, you STINK!!"

The official said not a word, but instead picked up the ball and stepped off 15 big yards. Then it was that he turned around and yelled, "Hey, Berl, can you still smell me from here??"

Another anecdote that conceivably COULD have happened revolved around Tiger Coach Horrace Bostick and Tim Hardin. It was during a game and Coach Bostick — perplexed with how things were going —called Hardin over and told him, "Now, Tim, I want you to go in there and get FEROCIOUS, see?"

Hardin began trotting out to his position, stopped halfway, scratched his helmet, and called back, "Uhhh, coach, what's Ferocious' number, anyway?"

BC Glovers Whip Down Sweetwater

Scurry County Boys' Club boxers took on Sweetwater here Saturday night at the Boys' Club and nailed down decisions in five of nine matches.

One bout — in the 60-pound division — ended in a draw. Fighting to that standoff were Snyder's Danny Rios and Sweetwater's Johnny Claxton.

Snyder victories — all decisions — included Bobby Payne (47) over Jack Bentle, Eloy (Tiger) Benitez (76) over Vern Sutterfield, Delbert Hirst (85) over Freddy Claxton, Martin Benitez (127) over George Diaz, and Raymond Rios (125) over Hodge Lee.

The Benitez - Sutterfield clash represented the fourth time in which the two have met in the ring. Benitez has emerged as victor in three of those four battles.

Sweetwater's triumphs included Noah Rodriquez (60) over Rickey Rios, Pedro Perez (84) over Joe Rios, Eddie Guana (135) over Louis Molina, and J. D. Sims (139) over Vince Gaona.

The Guana - Molina scrap ended in a split decision, while the Sims - Gaona duel was a TKO. The TKO was ruled when the Snyder coach stepped in and stopped the match in the first round when he felt that Sims had too great an edge in experience.

Rounding out the 12-bout card of the night were two matches involving Snyder fighters. Results in those included Freddy Benitez (100) over Ray Rios and Rudy Benitez (101) over Carrol Marsh.

Blue Devils Hosts; Lamar In Big Spring

Snyder's Travis 8th Blue Devils, steaming along at the height of a four-game winning streak, go in quest of number five in Travis Gym this evening at 6:30 when they take on the powerful Big Spring Runnels Yearlings.

For the year, the Blue Devils stand 5-6. Runnels felled them in their season opener, 48-24.

Following that contest—at 7:45 —Travis 9th (2-7) will engage Runnels 9th for the second time this year. The Yearlings nipped and snorted to a 52-16 victory in the earlier meeting.

Lamar 8th (8-2) and 9th (5-4) are both in Big Spring early this evening for a pair of conflicts with Goliad beginning at 5 and 6:15 o'clock, respectively.

Lamar opened its campaign last month against Goliad. The Mavericks copped a 40-28 decision in the 9th grade game at that time, while Lamar's 8th grade Texans cut down the Mavs 31-26 in their duel.

The local cage scene will be dolled up this weekend with the reeling off of the Snyder 9th Grade Tournament. It ranks as a two-day affair beginning on Friday.

Replacement Rumors Running Rampant

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Blanton Collier was offered the job as head coach of the Cleveland Browns Sunday and is leaning toward acceptance, the Louisville Courier-Journal quoted a reliable source as saying.

The newspaper added that Paul Brown, fired as Browns' head coach last week, "is reported" to be going to the U.S. Naval Academy as head coach to succeed Wayne Hardin, whom the newspaper said reportedly is going to Stanford to replace the ousted Jack Curtice.

Tax Depletion Case Is Won By Farmer

AMARILLO (AP) — Under a new federal court decision, farmers could claim a tax depletion allowance for irreplaceable ground water used to grow crops.

Unless the ruling is set aside, it upholds a West Texas farmer's argument he should be able to claim an income tax deduction. He contended the water was a mineral and should be subject to the allowance granted oil and gas producers.

The case is considered of prime importance to the economy of the Panhandle-Plains area where underground water is used extensively for irrigation.

Lawyers for the High Plains Underground Water District were informed at weekend by U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph B. Dooley that he was ruling for the farmer, Marvin Shurbet of Petersburg.

At the end of a trial at Lubbock in January, 1962, both sides indicated they would appeal an adverse decision.

One of the lawyers who represented Shurbet, George McClesky of Lubbock, said he had no doubt the government will appeal.

"The first step will be to the Circuit Court of Appeals at New Olreans and then to the Supreme Court of the United States," he said.

Davidians In Israel Grow

HAIFA, Israel (AP)—A former Odessa, Tex., woman leading the Davidian Seventh Day Adventists, who started coming to Israel in 1959, says the sect is growing in numbers.

Mrs. Ben Roden, the leader, said she has applications from 68 people in North and South America who want to join the sect here. Already in Israel are about 30 members of the religious group, which was expelled from the Seventh Day Adventist Church in the United States.

Its members were ousted from the Seventh Day Adventist Church for their avowed belief that "the world is nearing the end of 6,000 years of probationary time in which people can be saved."

They came to Israel to establish an agricultural and religious colony and "prepare for the restoration of God's kingdom."

Mrs. Roden said theirs is the original Adventist belief, as reached by Ellen J. White in the United States more than 100 years ago.

Until now, the Davidans have lived at the village of Amirim in Galilee, also inhabited by a group of Jewish vegetarains. Mrs. Roden said because of differences of opinion, the Davidans will found a village of their own at another site in Galilee.

The original group which planned to migrate to Israel included 27 West Texas families from the Kermit-Odessa-Fort Davis area.

Minister Has Some Advice For Brides

ARMTHORPE, England AP)—The Rev. Charles Grice, 38, urges brides to pass up plunging necklines when they pick their wedding gowns.

"The person who gets the benefit of your decollete is the minister — and he doesn't want it," the Church of England parson wrote in his parish magazine today.

"Bear in mind that it is a wedding you are arranging, not a chorus lineup."

One body was recovered. At least 12 persons were missing. Five persons were hurt.

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

SPECIAL CARE is needed in cleaning of many of today's fashion fabrics. One such type of fabric which is becoming increasingly popular and needs this special care is shown above by Mrs. Vera Evans, silk finisher at Highland Park Cleaners. It is the knit dress, each of which cleaned by Highland Park Cleaners receives individual care.

Highland Park Cleaners Is Abreast Of Fashion Changes

No one is more conscious of changing styles than is the staff at Highland Park Cleaners.

Because with the changes in fashion they often have to change cleaning methods and procedures

A perfect example are the knit dresses which are so popular today.

Many of these new dresses are made of yarns imported from Italy and Belgium. This fact, along with the natural tendency of knit garments to lose their shape, demands that careful handling be given each piece.

The experts at Highland Park Cleaners take the measurements of each knit garment before they do anything else to it. Then, after the careful hand cleaning of the garment it is finished out to exactly the same measurements.

The customer often does not realize the effort that has gone into the preparing of her dress, said Shelby Coker, owner of the firm. "But she sure would know the difference if we didn't take the extra care with it," he said.

Another change in fashion is the increasing popularity of leather clothing. Highland Park Cleaners is capable and prepared to handle leather. They can refinish either leather or part-leather clothing and restore that "new" look.

Kid gloves, too, are cleaned to perfection at Highland Park Cleaners. In years past, once a kid glove was cleaned, it was never as soft as when it was new. But now those days are gone. Gloves cleaned at Highland Park Cleaners are returned to their owners, not only clean, but soft and supple. The problem of cleaning gloves has been solved at Highland Park Cleaners.

S & H Green Stamps are given with all services at Highland Park Cleaners, and prompt pick-up and delivery service may be had by phoning HI 3-7261. For those who prefer to come by the plant at 3803 Big Spring Highway, a drive-up window is provided for their convenience.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Football coaches have a new strategy problem to cope with today: is it better to try for a one-point conversion after a touchdown, or gamble for a two-pointer.

That option-one point if kicked, two points if by a run or a pass-was written into football law today along with a more liberal substitution rule.

Asks Orderly Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., says the South should proceed with racial desegregation in an orderly manner but he coupled the statement with a plea for understanding of the South's problems.

Tower, in a television interview Sunday, gave his view on the rights of Negroes.

"I think Negroes are entitled to their rights under the Constitution. I think that we have to recognize that the case of Brown versus the Board of Education is the law of the land. They are entitled to have that precedent enforced. They certainly should have voting rights.

"And, as a matter of fact, we have not provided equal opportunities for them in the South. I think we of course should proceed to desegregate in an orderly fashion.

"But our problems must be recognized at the same time."

Ice Blamed For Blasts

OPELIKA, Tex. (AP)—Fire and explosions laid to icy weather raged for more than three hours at a Lone Star Gas Co. recycling plant near here Sunday night.

Company officials estimated the loss from explosions and flames at $500,000. Opelika is between Tyler and Athens in East Texas.

Ice formed atop a cooling tower, broke free and hit the cooling coils, a company spokesman said, and escaping fumes blew up in an oil reclaimer. Several liquid gas tanks in the vicinity also exploded as the fire spread.

Four men working at the plant escaped injury. They are N. W. Mayfield, Ralph Halton, N. A. Wright and Dave Brand.

There was fear of further explosions for a time, and all persons were barred from the area.

A spokesman said the blast and fire would have no effect on delivery of fuel to domestic customers of Lone Star Gas Co. He said there was a possibility of slight additional curtailment of gas for industrial users, whose supplies already had been reduced because of extreme cold weather.

New Session On Strike Due Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Mediators met with newspaper publishers and striking printers rallied in support of their leaders Sunday in the 37th day of the city's costliest newspaper strike.

There was no clue to what the publishers of the nine shut-down dailies and federal mediators said.

The strikers at a mass meeting gave loud approval to continuance of the strike.

They loudly booed the name of retired federal Judge Harold R. Medina, head of a three-man "board of accountability" which last Friday turned in a report blaming the lengthy shutdown mostly on the printers' union.

During negotiation sessions Saturday both sides changed positions slightly for the first time since the printer struck four newspapers Dec. 8.

The printers lowered their two-year wage increase demand from $19 to $18 a week, and the publishers moved up from a two-year package offer of $9.20 weekly to one of slightly more than $10, including $8 in wages.

Mediators said they would meet with the printers today, and hoped to set up a joint bargaining session Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the printers union and the mailers union voted $30,000 and $5,000, respectively, to assist "less fortunate" unions affected by the shutdown.

Bertram A. Powers, president of striking Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, said those attending the mass meeting Sunday voted unanimously to "remain on strike indefinitely until a just contract is achieved."

Powers said the dispute could be settled in three hours of "real negotiations."

In the Cleveland newspaper shutdown, negotiations between the publishers and the AFL-CIO Cleveland Newspaper Guild resume today. Negotiations with Local 473 of the independent Teamsters Union resume Tuesday.

The strike shutdown of Cleveland's two newspapers—the Plain Dealer and the Press & News—is in its seventh week. Wages, working conditions and union security are main issues.

NYC Luncheonette Operator Is Singing Blackout Blues

By ED DENNEHY

NEW YORK (AP)—"My business is off $60 to $700 weekly.

"Because I have almost no evening papers, most of my regular customers have lost the habit of dropping in, afternoons and evenings. Cigars, cigarettes, candy, soda fountain, short order meals—all these are off.

"You can say I'm singing the blackout blues," the newspaper blackout, that is. I've had a month-long headache, and I'm not kidding. Some of the stores like this have had a 50 per cent drop in business. Luckily, I haven't been hit that bad."

Phil Simon is proprietor of a small luncheonette located in the Queens section of New York City. He usually has a quick smile and a bright quip. A frown often creases his face these days as he tries to cope with the effects of the newspaper strike. Like other dealers he has been able to get deliveries of Newark and Philadelphia papers and this helps.

The luncheonette is in an excellent business location at the eastern end of the 6th and 8th Ave. subway system that traverses the city. Thousands of commuters come by car or bus from scores of suburban Long Island communities to get the subway for the boring, jolting ride into Manhattan.

"Before the strike, they would buy a New York paper or two to make the 30 to 45 minutes spent on the subway an interesting period," Simon said. "Many would break the trip from Long Island by having breakfast, or a cup of coffee here. On the way out they'd get their smokes for the day. Many people now dash right into the subway without stopping."

Simon was interrupted by a well-dressed man who picked up the Newark Star-Ledger and handed him a nickel.

"Star-Ledger's a dime," Simon said.

"A dime? What are you doing—profiteering?"

"Listen, go someplace else. They'll charge you 15 cents. I make no profit selling out-of-state papers for 10 cents. I'm doing my customers a favor," Simon said.

"Aggravations like this all day long," Simon sighed. "I'm only able to get a limited number of out-of-state papers from these guys who buy them at the plants and bring them into the city.

"Some of my customers already they're experts on editions of the Philadelphia Inquirer, the Newark Evening News, the Star-Ledger. They'll say, 'Hey, that's an early edition. I want a later one.' I tell 'em, 'Brother, take it or leave it. It'll go fast.' People are so hungry for good papers that I think the Boston, Chicago or West Coast dailies would move quickly, if I could get them.

Simon's spot is only a few blocks from the Long Island Press building. Ironically, he can't get deliveries of this daily paper. The Press is publishing editions only for Nassau and Suffolk counties out on Long Island.

Newsday, published in suburban Garden City, is delivered to the store. But Simon is able to get only the same amount he received daily before the strike started.

What's his biggest single problem?

"The loss of the New York afternoon papers. I sold 700 copies of the Journal-American, Post, Press and World Telegram & Sun nightly. Now I get 50 copies of the Newark Evening News from the dealer. The store often is as quiet as a morgue from 3 p.m. on. To cut the overhead, I've had to lay off one man, reduce another man's hours and close up earlier."

Togo Regime May Be Less Friendly

By STANLEY MEISLER

EDITORS NOTE—Stanley Meisler, now a member of the Washington AP staff, interviewed Togo leaders last year while spending several months touring African nations.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States likely can expect a far less friendly regime to succeed the one of murdered Sylvanus Olympio in the little land of Togo in West Africa.

The situation in Togo still is unclear. But the first cloudy signs indicate that the men who assassinated President Olympio and left his body outside the U.S. Embassy Sunday want a militantly nationalist government, less tied to the West.

The White House, when informed of Olympio's death, issued a statement that "the United States government is profoundly shocked by the news of the assassination. President Olympio was one of Africa's most distinguished leaders and was warmly received here on his recent visit to the United States."

Three forces figure in the background of Togo's troubles: the persistance of tribalism, the influence of President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, and—most important, the impatience of radical youths.

In Africa, young people, because they usually are more educated than their elders, occupy posts of greater importance than young people anywhere else in the world. Nevertheless, an older generation still controls the key positions of power.

This frustrates and angers the young. They are so close to power and yet it eludes them. Throughout Africa, a class of angry young men is growing.

During his regime, which began four years ago, Olympio, 60, had been plagued with opposition from the Juvento—a party that sprang out of the youth wing of his own party. The powerful Juvento — forbidden to run candidates in Togo—long had criticized Olympio for his poor relations with Ghana.

It is not yet known whether Idrissou Antoine Meatchi, reportedly returning from exile in Ghana to succeed Olympio, is a leader of Juvento. But at 27, he surely is identified as a leader of Togo's angry young men.

Friends of Olympio will put much blame for his death on Ghana's Nkrumah, whose Pan-African magnetism attracts radical young who oppose the pro-Western governments in other African nations near Ghana. Although young intellectuals inside Ghana dislike Nkrumah, young intellectuals outside Ghana look to him to lead them in militant nationalism, cold war neutralism and intense socialism.

The Ghana-Togo situation is further aggravated by the fact that the border cuts through the Ewe tribe. Nkrumah has insisted that the Togo Ewes become part of Ghana—a position supported by Juvento.

Red Nations Join Electric Systems

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—The electric systems of seven Communist countries have been joined by a power grid since the beginning of the year, the official news agency Ceteka reports.

The grid is governed by a modern, automatic power dispatching center in Prague, the report said. The countries linked are Bulgaria, Hungary, East Germany, Poland, Romania, Czechoslovakia and the Ukraine in the Soviet Union.

People In The News

By The Associated Press

W. Averell Harriman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, said in New York City that he feels a settlement of the Kashmir dispute would lead to economic and defensive cooperation between India and Pakistan.

Ex-King Michael of Romania arrived in The Hague by plane from Geneva to hunt deer and boar with Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands.

The Rev. Kenneth Toovey, Church of England vicar at St. Peter and St. Paul church in Teddington, England, is using pin-up pictures to help sell religion. A cheesecake photo appeared on the front page of his parish magazine.

The 35-year-old vicar, who has a wife and a baby son, said of the picture: "I think it will help circulation. I don't want to offend my older members, but I will stand by what I have done."

State Death Toll Declines

By The Associated Press

Wintry weather restricted travel and Texas counted a reduced toll of 16 violent deaths during the weekend.

Five persons died in traffic accidents, far fewer than usual. Fires took three lives and an elderly man and woman were asphyxiated at Amarillo.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. George Hardman were found in their home at Amarillo early Sunday while the Panhandle was chilled by sub-zero weather. Hardman was 77 and his wife 70.

Investigators said a gas heater was burning and another stove had an open valve but was unlighted. They believed flames of the second stove went out for lack of oxygen.

Oscar Downs, 47, an oil field worker, died early Sunday when his car crashed into a parked gravel truck 3 miles east of Victoria on U.S. 59.

Isaac Menchaca, 44, plunged three stories down an elevator shaft to death at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Dallas.

William Dixon, 46, died early Sunday when fire destroyed his home at Palacios. His wife and 16-year-old son escaped.
