No further suspects sought in local homicide

Scurry County sheriff's investigators said Monday morning that 23-year-old Steven Williams of Fort Worth is the only suspect currently being considered in the killing of lifelong Snyder resident William Roland Davis.

Prior to Williams' arrest in Fort Worth Friday evening, investigators had held out the prospect of other suspects which might be linked to the homicide.

Sheriff's Deputy Joe Cheyne — in charge of the investigation since Davis' body was discovered last Wednesday morning — said Monday morning that no other suspects were being sought at this time.

Williams — who investigators now believe was hired as a bodyguard by the victim two days before his death — was taken into custody Friday evening at a relative's residence in Fort Worth. The residence was only two blocks from where Davis' car had been found abandonded Thursday morning.

He was returned to Scurry County late Saturday with bond set at $100,000 on a charge of murder. The bond was originally issued by a Fort Worth magistrate and the suspect was scheduled to go before Justice of the Peace Dan Callaway for bond setting Monday morning.

District Attorney Pete Green is expected to review a statement given by Williams regarding the incident.

It was noted that the charges might be elevated to capital murder — carrying the possibility of a death penalty sentence — after a complete review is completed of the statement and available physical evidence.

Davis, age 52, had been a paraplegic since being injured in a rodeo accident in 1955. He was found by his mother shortly before 11 a.m. last Wednesday at his residence about ½ mile west of Snyder.

Detailed reports from an autopsy performed on the victim's body in Dallas last week have not been returned to investigators, authorities say.

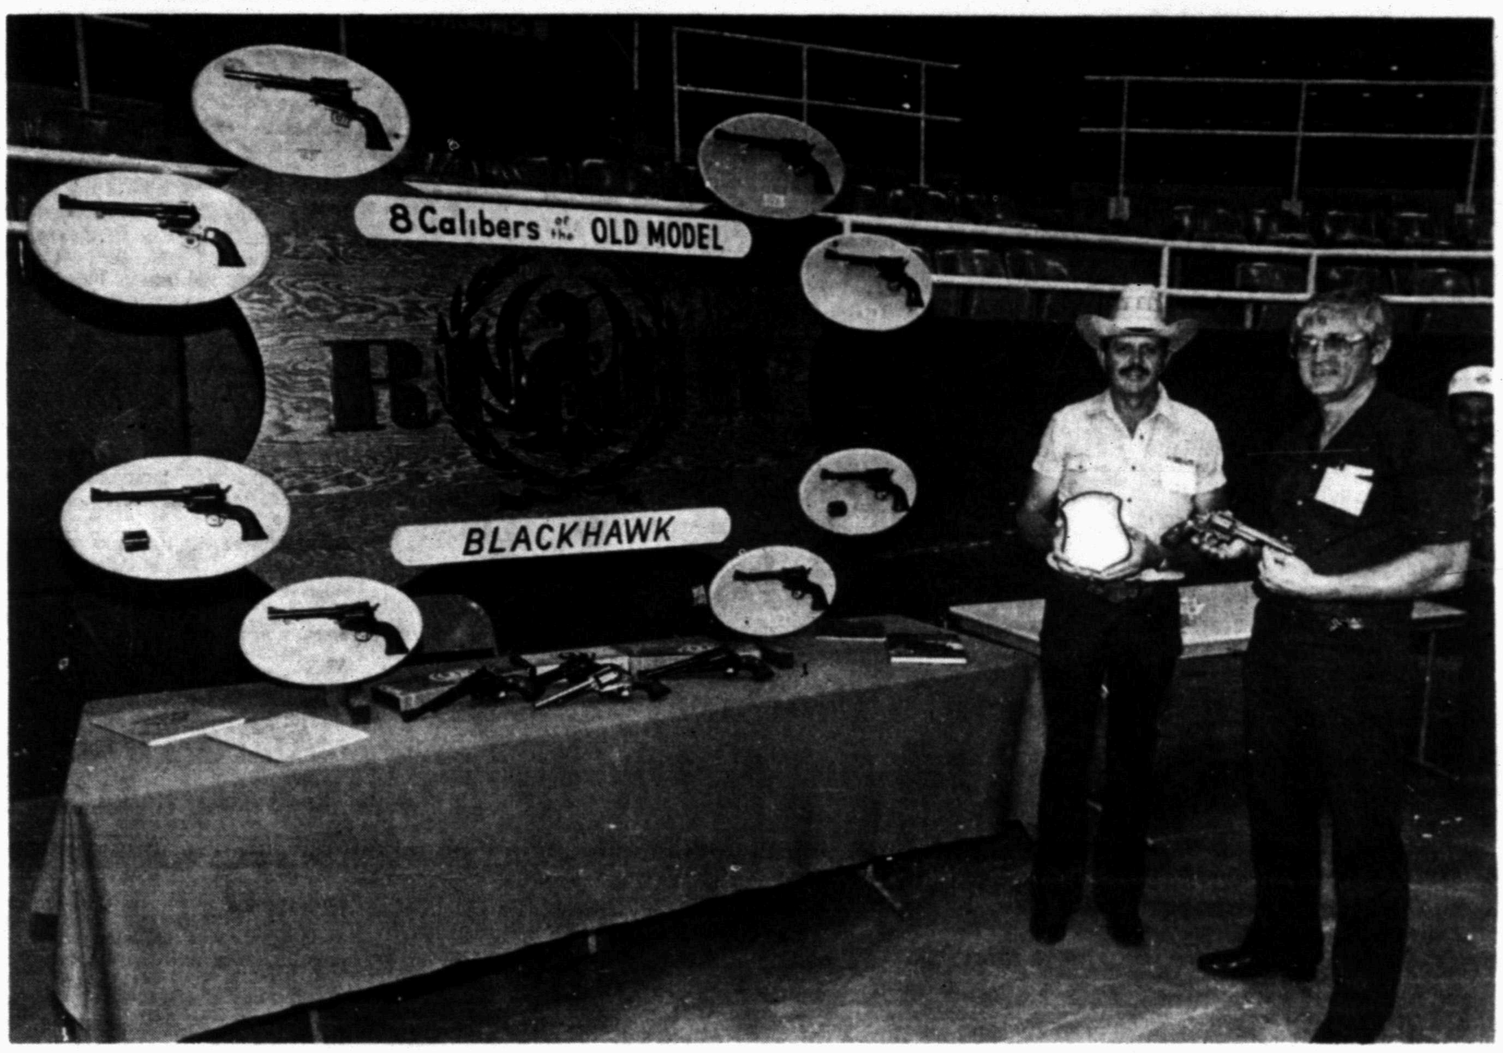

Davis is believed to have been killed by several blows to the head from a claw hammer sometime between 2 a.m. and 11 a.m. on the morning of Aug. 22.

Sheriff's investigators, along with Texas Rangers and Tarrant County authorities, began looking for the suspect in Fort Worth after it was learned that Davis' car had been found in that city.

They had been told also of a "stranger" identified as a newly hired bodyguard from Fort Worth who had been seen at the Davis residence prior to the discovery of the homicide.

Noble returns to ASU

After leaving coaching for two years, Snyder High School Athletic Director David Noble is returning to Angelo State University as track and cross country coach.

Noble, who had been with the Snyder school system for two years, resigned effective Monday. He was to begin coaching duties at Angelo State immediately, returning to virtually the same post he held before coming to Snyder.

"I miss coaching. I really do," said Noble, who had coached at ASU from 1972-1982 and at Howard Payne before that. "It's been on my mind for months, probably brought to a head at coaching school. I had three previous athletes that are now coaching sitting beside me and I decided that was where I needed to be - not knowing at that time that a job would come open."

Bob Hawes, school superintendent, said the board has been aware that Noble was being considered for the position at Angelo State.

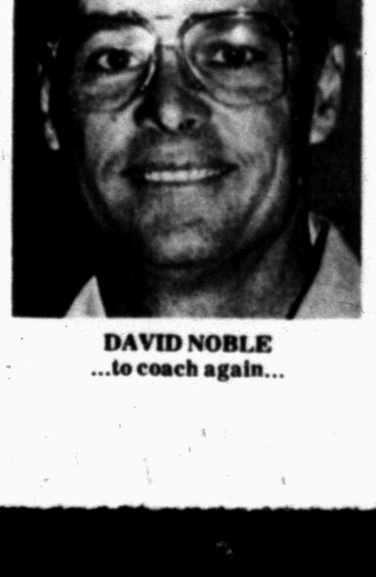

"They've been thinking about what they want to do but we have no immediate plans at this time," he said. "We hate to lose him, I'll say that. I think I can speak for the board of education when I say we know it's going to be our loss and San Angelo's gain to lose a person of David's caliber," said Hawes.

Though Noble stressed that he was not instrumental in all of the athletic improvements within the school system for the past two years, he leaves behind a program that is prospering. Among the achievments during his reign were:

- A combined effort to rework Moffett Field.
- A new eight-lane track now under construction.
- Updating of junior high school locker rooms.
- Partial renovation of the old field house.
- An additional women's coach at the junior high.
- An increase in coaches' salaries.
- Improvement of practice fields.

"It was a combination of efforts on a lot of people's part to get these things done," said Noble. "The (school) board has been very gracious in taking ideas we had and following through with them. I'd like to thank the board for their support. People think coaches are under a lot of pressure but nobody

No radioactivity discovered

By The Associated Press

A Belgian research vessel found no traces of radioactivity in the North Sea area where the French freighter Mont Louis sank with a cargo of radioactive gas, a public health official said today.

Another Belgian expert cautioned, however, that the radioactive cargo should not be allowed to remain in the sea for long.

The ship's owners,the Paris-based Compagnie General, are seeking ways to recover the cargo and refloat the ship, a company official said Sunday.The Mont Louis was reported lying in 40 to 46 feet of water at low tide.

The 5,000-ton cargo ship sank about 12 miles off Ostend, Belgium, after colliding Saturday with the 15,000-ton ferry Olau Britannia, carrying 935 people and a crew of 80 from the Netherlands to England. No one was injured in the crash. The ferry was only slightly damaged.

The owners said the Mont Louis was carrying 225 tons of uranium hexafluoride gas, used in the uranium refinement process, which were stored in 15 containers designed to be watertight for up to a year. It had been reported that the cargo consisted of 450 tons of radioactive gas, but the company said today that figure included the weight of the steel drums and tar inside the containers.

Lake gets 1-2 inches...

Rainfall heavy in select spots

A fierce electrical storm accompanied heavy rains Saturday night which deposited much needed moisture in varying amounts throughout Scurry County.

The storm began earlier in the evening, but did not reach full strength until around 9 p.m. Area rain reports range from a high of 3½ inches to "just a trace."

Lake J.B. Thomas, said to be at the third lowest level in its 30-year history, received 1 inch at the dam and up to 2 inches at its western end.

A spokesman for the Colorado River Municipal Water District said by Sunday the lake had risen one-tenth of a foot, a "fairly insignificant amount," he said.

Heavier rains near Fluvanna may eventually see this level go higher, however, as flow from Bull Creek goes into the lake.

In Snyder, Saturday's storm caused a brief electrical blackout plus electrical problems at several locations due to lightning, according to Frank Bates, service center supervisor for Texas Electric.

Bates said servicemen began answering the first round of calls around 9 p.m. Saturday and continued through 4 a.m. Sunday. The second batch of calls from county oil field workers and other county locations began at 8 a.m. Sunday and continued through 6 p.m., Bates said.

Lightning also struck a utility pole at 22nd Street and Avenue O, setting it on fire. Local firemen were called to extinguish the fire at 10:40 p.m. Saturday.

Bates said also lightning struck lines causing fuses to blow in scattered areas throughout Snyder.

The blackout in the west part of the city occured at 10:21 p.m. Saturday with service resuming at 12:10 a.m. Sunday morning.

Bates described the electrical damage reports as "normal for this time of year and type of storm."

The Polar community adjacent to northeast Scurry County received the highest moisture count — 3½ inches. Ira and Fluvanna were close seconds with reports of 2.4 inches for Ira and 2 inches in Fluvanna proper and 2.3 inches 4½ miles southwest of Fluvanna. Select areas around Fluvanna also reportedly received up to 3 inches.

Snyder received 1.14 inches, upping the year's total to 6.94 inches. Other city rain guages recorded up to 1.5 inches.

The Dermott community north of Snyder received up to 2 inches. and points west of Snyder reported 2½ inches of moisture. Hermleigh, Dunn and Lloyd Mountain generally received measurements of less than ½ inch.

Farm policy sessions show farming 'crisis'

An overview of opinions expressed during 11 farm policy workshops — including an Aug. 10 meeting in Snyder — was released Monday by U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm.

The meetings sought the views of farmers and ranchers from the 17th Congressional District. "There's broad agreement that American agriculture is in a crisis," Stenholm noted in the prepared news release.

Stenholm said he and his staff are preparing for major farm legislation next year, when Congress must revise the nation's basic agricultural policies.

From the sessions, Stenholm notes "wide agreement" that exports are "vital to the health of U.S. agriculture." In addition, the "need to control surpluses" was characterized as a major concern.

"I intend to make my best effort to put a workable farm and ranch policy into a bill to be introduced early next year. These meetings were intended to help us get ready for that," Stenholm said.

Dale King and Randy Green, members of Stenholm's staff, held the series of farm policy workshops between Aug. 9-16.

In addition to Snyder, meetings were held in Big Spring, Post, Haskell, Breckenridge, Abilene, Ballinger, DeLeon, Stephenville, Weatherford and Gainesville.

The 17th Congressional District entails 35 predominantly rural counties.

Gas prices up

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The average gasoline price has climbed slightly this month and a "real run-up" is possible if oil-producing nations are serious about production cutbacks, says an oil industry analyst who conducts a biweekly nationwide price survey.

The price rise, halting a 15-week price decline, came because the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries is curbing the overproduction that had sprung up during the Iran-Iraq war, Dan Lundberg, publisher of the Lundberg Letter said Sunday.

Tanker hit

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — A Panamanian tanker was hit amidships by a rocket today in the Persian Gulf off the kingdom of Qatar, said shipping sources and Lloyd's Shipping Intelligence Unit in London.

No mines

ADABIYA NAVAL BASE, Egypt (AP) — British minehunters working the northern end of the Gulf of Suez have found everything from oil drums to coils of wire, steel pipes and even a lavatory sitting upright on the seabed. But no mines.

The British have checked about 140 square miles of sea since Aug. 17, and "for the moment we have seen no mines in our area," Cmdr. Antony Chilton, who heads the British contingent, said Sunday.

Autopsy doesn't show cause of Truman Capote's death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An autopsy on Truman Capote showed signs of epilepsy and phlebitis but nothing conclusive about what caused the flamboyant author's death at age 59, before he could finish what he had said would be his last novel.

The death came just one week after Capote collapsed from phlebitis at the home of writer Kurt Vonnegut on New York's Long Island, Vonnegut said Sunday.

Capote, who pioneered the "non-fiction" novel with "In Cold Blood," died Saturday at the Bel-Air home of Janne Carson, the second ex-wife of "Tonight Show" host Johnny Carson.

First winning acclaim at age 23 for "Other Voices, Other Rooms" and again a decade later for "Breakfast at Tiffany's," Capote had a yearning for celebrity that sometimes overshadowed his gifts, friends said.

Mrs. Carson said she found Capote dead when she went to wake him from a nap. He would have been 60 on Sept. 30.

A three-hour autopsy Sunday by the Los Angeles County coroner's office proved "inconclusive," spokesman Bill Gold said. "It was noted during autopsy that there were signs of infection in the legs and there was evidence of epilepsy," he said.

Prescription drugs found with Capote will be analyzed, Gold said.

The U.N.'s World Population Conference in Mexico City confirmed that we have learned how to add but not how to subtract.

Three-fourths of the world's people live in Asia, Africa and Latin America. They overflow toward us.

Our nation's tiny 6 percent of the world's land surface is already running out of enough water for homefolks.

While uncounted millions more outsiders invite themselves in.

Each one minute, 150 babies are born. Each year, 80 million.

And the poorest nations are having the most babies. Today fully half of the population of the backward nations is less than 16 years old. Forty percent are under 14.

The average family in the Western world has two children. The average family in the Third World has 4.4.

Eighty-five countries in the Third World are trying to do someting about it, providing some kind of public support for family planning. China is enforcing a limit of no more than one child per family; if necessary, enforced abortions.

While the United States — at the Population Conference — announced that it wpuld discontinue foreign aid to any country which uses the money for "family planning."

THE PROBLEM PEOPLE

People who help illegal aliens enter the United States from Central America are naive and, if inadvertently, subversive.

Whether the illegals are brought in for love or money, it's a mistake for them to do it and misfeasance for our government to allow it.

Georgie Anne Geyer has observed social ferment worldwide.

Recently she took her idealism to Miami and left it there.

She spent days and nights in police patrol cars visiting Little Havana and Little Haiti and concluded that Miami has been invaded and has surrendered to a horde of illegal immigrants.

Illegal employment, fraudulent marriages, illicit drugs and welfare fraud are pandemic.

Geyer writes, "Those Americans who think they are idealists wanting to aid all the people of the world to come here actually are achieving the opposite of what they want."

Instead of the compassionate world they dream of, they are helping create a world in which the law and restraints of society are breaking down. They are creating a world of corrupt users.

Peyronie's has no known cause

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Two years ago I developed Peyronie's disease. My sex drive is as good as ever, but this is causing some problems. I am 64. My organ curves upwards at the end and causes trouble holding an erection. The psychological problem is the worst.

The doctor says there isn't much that can be done. He put me on vitamin E, 400 IU twice a day, to try to stabilize the condition. It doesn't seem to be getting either better or worse. Will there be any change? Is there a new treatment?

DEAR READER — Before I started writing this column, I considered this to be a rare problem. I have been surprised to find it is one of the more frequent complaints that people write to me about. I suspect that, in the past, a lot of men endured this problem in silence.

In Peyronie's disease, an area of fibrosis, and perhaps low-grade inflammation, develops in the penis' tough elastic shaft. This is called a plaque; no one really knows what causes it. It has no elasticity. As a result, when the rest of the shaft expands, this area does not, causing the bending and deformity that some describe as the "bent nail" syndrome.

Vitamin E has been recommended for this condition, but there is little evidence that it helps. Sometimes the condition improves spontaneously.

I have discussed this problem in The Health Letter 17-4, Male Reproductive Functions, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

You may wish to consult a urologist. In some instances injections of steroid hormones, such as cortiscosteroids, helps. These are not male hormones. Surgery is sometimes indicated, but you would need a careful examination to decide what would be best for you.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Can you tell me something about heart catheterization? I may have to have this done.

DEAR READER — The simplest form is to take a hollow tube (catheter) and pass it through a large vein, usually in the arm for an adult, to the heart. The veins get larger and larger as it approaches the heart until it passes into the right upper chamber, the right atrium.

The catheter can be passed through the valve that separates the atrium from the lower chamber, the right ventricle. Then it can be passed out the right ventricle and through the pulmonary artery to the lungs, where you have to stop. The catheter literally follows the flow of blood.

A more difficult procedure is to catheterize the left side of the heart, which is connected to the arteries for your body. The artery in the upper thigh is located and the catheter passed against the flow of blood back to the heart. Here the catheter must pass through the aortic valve and into the left ventricle. That is the heavy muscular chamber that pumps blood to make the blood pressure you measure. While in the arterial side, the coronary arteries may be injected with dye to do a coronary arteriogram, which will determine if your coronary arteries are open.

The catheter can measure pressure in the chambers, and blood samples to measure oxygen can be obtained. These are important in measuring how your heart functions.

Woman's Clothes Are Nearly New But Not Nearly Enough

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell your readers not to ask, "Is that a new dress you're wearing?" or "Where did you get those shoes?" or purse, or whatever.

I can't afford to spend a bundle on clothes, so I usually shop at a "near-new" thrift shop, or Goodwill, and it's embarrassing for me to have to say, "No, it's not new, I got it at Goodwill." Once in a while I may splurge and buy a dress at K-Mart or Target, but not often.

And while I'm on the subject of embarrassing questions, I wish people wouldn't ask their single friends, "Are you seeing anyone special?"

I'm 39, divorced and nobody has asked me for a date in two years. I'm too embarrassed to tell anyone, so I just say, "There's no one special in my life right now."

SENSITIVE IN A SMALL TOWN

DEAR SENSITIVE: Most people mean to be complimentary when they ask, "Is that new?" They don't realize it's a very personal question, and also that it's none of their business. And the inquiry "Are you seeing anyone special?" is another well-meaning question better left unasked.

A good rule to follow: Be generous with compliments and stingy with questions.

DEAR ABBY: I have been reading your column since you started writing—nearly 30 years ago. Last year you told your readers to call or write to a school teacher who made a difference in their lives—a teacher who stayed after school to give a slow learner a little extra help, a teacher who encouraged a student to finish school when he wanted to quit and get a job.

Well, can you imagine how thrilled I was to receive a letter from a student I taught 62 years ago! He wanted to thank me for staying after school to teach him how to tell time when he was in the second grade!

Abby, I am 95 years old and live in a nursing home, and I don't expect to have many more surprises as happy as this one. Thank you!

MISS ANDERSON

DEAR MISS ANDERSON: I hope your letter inspires others to pick up on the suggestion. Thank you for writing. Flowers mean so much more when the recipients can still smell them.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a handsome guy I'll call Joe. We had plans to get married next month.

Well, Joe rented a motel room for the two of us to be alone on the weekend. He called me on the phone and told me to go to the desk and ask for the key to Room 103 and he would be there. I was supposed to meet him at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday.

I got there 20 minutes early and found Joe in bed with another girl! I told him the wedding was off and I gave him back his ring. He says he still loves me and the girl I caught him with means nothing to him.

My friends say I should give Joe another chance. My family says I should forget him. Please help me make the right decision.

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: I vote with your family. "Joe must go!"

(Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Astro-Graph

By Bernice Bede Osol

Aug. 28, 1984

Your financial trends look hopeful for the coming year. Opportunities for substantial gains could develop through extremely unusual circumstances and involve persons you'd least expect.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It will be impossible to keep your checkbook in balance today if you are both impulsive and extravagant. Try to be sensibly consistent. The Matchmaker wheel reveals your compatibility to all signs, as well as showing you to which signs you are best suited romantically. To get yours, mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You could be quite ingenious today in getting yourself out of tight scrapes. However, be wise and don't get yourself into them in the first place.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Lady Luck tends to favor you today in ways you'd least expect. You could be especially fortunate where finances are concerned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In your fun involvements with friends today, don't feel that you are obligated to pay for their good time. Let each ante up a fair share.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Ambitions can be fulfilled today but not necessarily on the first try. When rejected, regroup your forces and charge again.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today, in your dealings with a friend, you may have to give more than you receive in return. Later, however, the account will be balanced.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Conditions early in the day may be a trifle uncertain but by afternoon there will be a sudden improvement and all will run like clockwork.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Rely upon your own intellect and abilities today, rather than Lady Luck or promises made to you by others. Try to be self-sufficient.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Regardless of how good your ideas are today, they will count for nothing unless they are put into action. Be both a thinker and a doer.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's important that you be able to distinguish today between hopeful judgment or merely wishful thinking. The latter will lead you astray.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Much can be accomplished today, provided you get off to an early start. Keep your priorities in order and don't be sidetracked by irrelevant projects.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This is one of those unusual days where you might be better at managing things for others than you will be at handling your own affairs.

Stargazers EH hold meeting

With Pauline Withers, vice president, presiding, members of the Stargazers Extension Homemakers met for their regular monthly meeting on Aug. 8 at the TESCO Reddy Room.

Kaye Clawson and Mildred Rogers reported plans for craft day scheduled for Oct. 23 with the theme, "New Life, New Interest, New Members."

After a discussion of possible programs for the coming year, Kaye Clawson gave a pomander making demonstration. Each member brought fruit and spices.

Four regular and one new member attended the meeting with Kathy Roberts, extension agent, also attending.

Solomon Islands

Few people ever heard of the western Pacific's Solomon Islands in the Melanesian archipelago until World War II, when they were the scenes of many battles. The islands were discovered by an expedition from Peru in 1568, and the British establihsed a protectorate over them in the 1890s. Self-government came in 1976 and full independence in 1978.

Old-fashioned chili sauce

By Cecily Brownstone
AP Food Editor

How do you make real old fashioned chili sauce using fresh tomatoes and other good things? At our house we're particularly partial to the following recipe.

CHILI SAUCE

2½-inch-long cinnamon stick
¾ teaspoon whole cloves
5 pounds fully ripe tomatoes, peeled and cut into chunks (10 cups)
1½ cups finely chopped celery
1 cup finely chopped onion
1 cup finely chopped green pepper
1½ cups cider vinegar
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
3 teaspoons salt
2½ teaspoons dry mustard
¼ teaspoon chili powder

Tie the cinnamon stick and cloves in cheesecloth to make a spicebag; set aside.

Into a 5-quart non-corrosive saucepot turn the tomatoes. Stirring often, cook over medium-high heat until tomatoes are soft and almost completely covered with liquid — about 20 minutes. Stir in celery, onion and green pepper. Bring to a boil. Stirring occasionally, boil gently for 1½ hours. Stir in the vinegar, sugar, corn syrup, salt, mustard and spicebag. Bring to a boil again. Stirring often, boil gently for another 1½ hours; stir in chili powder. Stirring often, simmer 30 minutes or until as thick as you like. Remove spicebag.

At once ladle into clean, hot ½-pint jars, leaving ½-inch headspace. Wipe top edge with damp towel. Seal according to jar manufacturer's directions. Process in boiling water bath 15 minutes. Cool jars on wire rack or folded towel.

Beating the drum for an entry

By James Jacoby

When your partner believes that you'll be able to ruff, he should signal the suit that will provide the entry. Don't forget, sometimes that entry exists in the trump suit.

West led the 10 of spades against four hearts, and declarer played low from dummy. East won the spade queen and played back a club, which West took with the ace. West led another spade, but South hopped right up with the ace and played a high club, discarding the spade jack. Next a low trump was played from the table. If East went up with the ace of hearts to lead a third spade, declarer would simply trump high and draw trumps. If East ducked the heart lead, another heart would be played and West would have no more trumps left to do damage.

How can the contract be set?

The answer is not so obvious. At trick two, East should return the king of spades. Although this lead sacrifices a potential spade trick, it is a drumbeat, telling partner that something unusual is needed in defending the hand. Declarer should win the ace of spades and lead the king of clubs from dummy. West wins the ace. Now what?

The king of spades was a suit preference card, asking for the highest of the remaining suits. Although suit preference usually excludes the trump suit, East must have been asking for a heart lead, not a diamond. Dummy's diamonds do look formidable and declarer bid them. There is another reason why West should play his partner for the heart ace. Declarer has not led trumps, and so is probably missing the ace.

Solves an unsolvable case

SWITCH. By William Bayer. Linden-Simon & Schuster. 320 Pages. $14.95.

Two murders have been committed when "Switch" opens.

Both of the victims are young women, both have been decapitated, and the heads on the bodies have been switched. Neither knew the other and they had nothing in common, one being a Manhattan prostitute and the other a schoolteacher.

But if they had nothing in common in life, they do in death, and New York City Detective Frank Janek is handed the job of finding out who killed them and why the killer switched their heads.

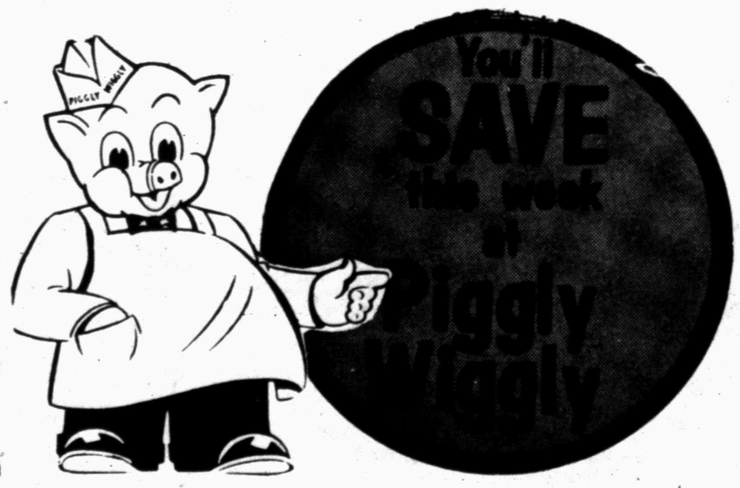

It's not an ordinary case, but Janek is no ordinary detective. He is highly intelligent, with a mind that can be logical when necessary but is not frozen by routine and is willing to look at things from all angles, even those which do not seem to relate at all to the subject at hand.

William Bayer does a marvelous job of detailing Janek's meticulous solving of the seemingly unsolvable crime, and he also takes the reader on a most entertaining tour of New York's meaner streets.

Bayer also gives the reader an unneeded but welcome bonus by having Janek solve a quarter-century-old crime that involves corrupt cops and tainted money. This secondary story does not detract from Janek's solving of the switch murders but runs smoothly parallel.

Coaches burn midnight oil to reach player roster limit

by The Associated Press

They have been burning the midnight oil, looking to make a late trade or two, checking the waiver wire and paring their rosters to 49 players, all leading to this - decision day in the National Football League.

The preseason has ended and with it the experiments of 26 head coaches who must now sink or swim on the basis of today's decisions on who to keep and who to cut; who to acquire and who to trade; who to start and who to sit.

The latter is of particular interest in Dallas, where the quarterback controversy has been item No. 1.

Will it be incumbent Danny White, the man who replaced Roger Staubach? Or will it be Gary Hogeboom, who was named on 80 percent of the ballots in a pre-training camp poll by a newspaper which asked unidentified Cowboy players to state their preference? Coach Tom Landry, seemingly perturbed by the incessant questioning of reporters, isn't saying - just yet.

"I'll give the starting lineup (for the Sept. 3 Cowboy opener with the Los Angeles Rams) on Tuesday," said Landry. "Who knows what I'm going to do?"

Hogeboom was impressive Saturday, hitting seven of 12 passes for 130 yards and a touchdown as the Cowboys beat the Houston Oilers 31-24 to finish with a 3-1 preseason record. White was 4-of-11 for 48 yards and a touchdown.

Neither quarterback threw an interception, but the Texas Stadium crowd, in the spirit of the controversy, booed both of them.

"White is the quarterback until I replace him," Landry said.

"As far as I'm concerned, I am the No. 1 quarterback," White said. "There have been no announcements otherwise."

Hogeboom said he deserved to be the starter.

"I've worked hard for it," he said. "I am happy with the way I played and that's all I can do. Now the decision is up to Landry."

Rookie cornerback Victor Scott's 30-yard touchdown interception return and Tony Dorsett's 69-yard scoring run helped beat the Oilers, winners of the Warren Moon quarterback sweepstakes but just one preseason game. Moon, a former University of Washington star who led Edmonton to five straight Grey Cup titles in Canada, had been sought by several NFL clubs.

The preseason ended Sunday when Chicago routed Buffalo 38-7 at Indianapolis. Quarterback Jim McMahon ran for two touchdowns and hit Dennis McKinnon with a 39-yard scoring pass.

The Bears, intercepting five passes and sacking Buffalo quarterbacks four times, raced to a 24-point halftime lead.

In other games Saturday, Washington edged New Orleans 14-9, Green Bay routed Indianapolis 34-17 and the New York Giants defeated Pittsburgh 16-9.

On Friday night, it was: New England 36, Kansas City 7; Denver 24, Atlanta 13; Cincinnati 35, Detroit 14; Tampa Bay 14, Miami 13; St. Louis 31, Minnesota 0; New York Jets 20, Los Angeles Raiders 14; and San Francisco 17, Seattle 7. In Thursday night contests, Philadelphia beat Cleveland 20-19 and the Los Angeles Rams ripped San Diego 47-14.

Washington, 2-2, registered seven sacks, three by defensive end Dexter Manley, against three New Orleans quarterbacks. The Saints, 3-1, got three field goals from Morten Andersen.

Gerry Ellis scored twice from two yards out and John Jefferson and James Lofton caught TD passes in Green Bay's manhandling of the Colts. Green Bay finished at 2-2 and Indianapolis 1-3.

Jeff Rutledge, who lost his quarterback battle with Phil Simms, hit Byron Williams with an 87-yard TD pass with 1:45 left to give the Giants, 3-1, their victory over Pittsburgh. The Steelers, no longer spearheaded by departed veterans Terry Bradshaw and Franco Harris, also finished 3-1.

Atlanta, which finished the preseason 1-3 and lost running back William Andrews for the season, made two trades Sunday. The Falcons sent former Pro Bowl tight end Junior Miller to New Orleans for an undisclosed draft choice and traded offensive lineman Ron Lee and an undisclosed draft pick to Miami for cornerback Gerald Small.

The Falcons also waived offensive tackle Glen Howe and linebacker Kirk Dodge to bring their roster to 58.

San Francisco waived several veterans, including former Philadelphia linebacker Frank LeMaster. Also cut were tight end Al Dixon, punter Tom Skladany, guard Ed Moore and wide receiver Kirk Pendleton.

Cuts must be made today, but the teams have until Tuesday to make their announcements. Then it's time to line up and play ball.

Next Sunday's schedule has Atlanta at New Orleans, Kansas City at Pittsburgh, Miami at Washington, New England at Buffalo, Philadelphia at the Giants, St. Louis at Green Bay, San Diego at Minnesota, San Francisco at Detroit, Tampa Bay at Chicago, Cincinnati at Denver, the Raiders at Houston and the Jets at Indianapolis.

In addition to Dallas at the Rams, Cleveland visits Seattle on Monday.

Central's Cats trip up Snyder varsity

MONAHANS – Snyder's girls fell to San Angelo Central here Saturday and were knocked out of the Monahans Tournament.

Coach Penny Bane, who takes the Tigers to San Angelo for their next match Tuesday, was not disappointed with the 15-10, 15-9 loss.

"The girls played excellent. It was probably the closest match that Central has played all year long. Everybody played real well. I thought it was a good showing even though we lost," said the coach.

Kima McLarty scored 4 points off of serves in the first game and Sabrina Sullivan had four in game two.

The Tigers play San Angelo Central at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Junior varsity units play at 6:30.

In upcoming matches, the Tigers trek to Midland to play Lee High School at 7:30 Thursday and will test Monahans at 9:30 a.m. Friday in the San Angelo Tournament.

Boosters meeting scheduled tonight

Fans of Snyder High School athletics are urged to attend a booster club meeting at 7:30 this evening in the Student Center.

The purpose of the meeting is to organize a Tiger Booster Club, combining the men and women booster clubs into one unit.

Everyone is urged to attend.

Cross country newest sport at Snyder High

SHS boy's track coach and assistant football coach Kevin Wiseman has brought a new sport to Snyder - cross country.

Students at Snyder may enroll in the cross country program. It meets from 7 to 8 a.m.

The sport is sanctioned by the UIL and holds district, regional and state meets. Boys run a three-mile course. Girls run a two-mile course.

"We hope to get it established as soon as possible," said Coach Wiseman. "Our first meet will be on September 15. The season lasts from mid-September through the first of November.

High School students interested in cross country should contact Coach Wiseman at the school. The course, taken for credit, is held in the morning and will not affect regular schedules.

Auburn picked No. 1 in AP preseason poll

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) - Auburn Coach Pat Dye answered his own question.

"Why did they pick us No. 1 this year and not last year? We haven't played a game yet," Dye wondered upon learning that his Tigers had been voted the nation's top team in the Associated Press preseason college football poll.

Auburn gets the 1984 season under way here tonight against defending national champion Miami - the Hurricanes are No. 10 in the preseason ratings - in the second annual Kickoff Classic.

One reason for Auburn's ranking is that the Tigers have 11 returning starters - including All-American halfback Bo Jackson - from last year's 11-1 team that won the Southeastern Conference title and finished third in the final AP rankings. Dye then disclosed another reason why the voters may have such high regard for Auburn.

"We have more talent and pure raw physical ability than any team I've ever been around in my life," he said. "A lot of it is young and I don't know how good we'll be, but we have the potential to do that (win the national championship). We'll have to win all the close games and it will be difficult because we play so many good teams on the road."

Auburn received 30 of 60 first-place votes and 1,057 of a possible 1,200 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Runner-up Nebraska - the Cornhuskers also finished second to Miami a year ago - received five first-place votes and 922 points while third-ranked Pitt got two first-place ballots and 890 points. Clemson received 11 first-place votes, the second highest, but its 817 points were only good for fourth place, one ahead of UCLA, which received five first-place votes and 816 points.

Sixth-place Texas, which opens its season against Auburn on Sept. 15, received 734 points, followed by Ohio State with 661. Neither team got a first-place vote.

'D' Watson wins golf World Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) - Denis Watson shot a final-round even-par 70 Sunday to win the NEC World Series of Golf by two strokes over Bruce Leitzke, who lost his chance to win when he hit into the water on the 16th hole.

Watson finished the tournament with a 72-hole total of 271, 9 under par, to win the $126,000 first prize.

King cops victory in Savings classic

DENVER (AP) - Betsy King, enjoying her finest season in eight years on the LPGA tour, countered bogeys with timely birdies Sunday to win the $200,000 Columbia Savings Classic by 1 stroke.

Pell will retire after '84 season

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) - Charley Pell told his team Sunday that he will not return as football coach at the University of Florida after the 1984 season, according to a published report.

Ragin' Tiger report

Coach Dennis Tomlin is happy with the way his Ragin' Tigers performed in their first scrimmage last weekend and was handing out praises Saturday.

"The places that we didn't play well were places where we haven't gotten our techniques down. When we get more time in, that will come around. Overall, I was real pleased," said the coach.

Snyder will stage its final scrimmage Friday in a triple-header with Colorado City. Freshmen scrimmage at 5, junior varsity players at approximately 6, and varsity players at 7:30. All three will be held at Tiger Stadium.

Tomlin commented on the scrimmage with Vernon:

"(Quarterback) Jimmy Cain ran the team well. He executed about like I expected him too.

"Justin Webb nailed down a starting job at tailback. He broke three or four good runs. He hit well in the defensive secondary too.

"Willie Greathouse played well on both sides of the ball. he caught the ball well. He gives us an added threat. He's got excellent speed and a 39-inch vertical jump.

"Harley Vineyard showed a lot of progress in a week's time after moving from guard to tackle.

"Kyle Freeman had a good game defensively.

"Abey Munoz, recruited by our band director, is making fine progress at guard and linebacker.

"Mike McCravey, our center, has shown a lot of stability. We have been pleased with his progress since two-a-days began.

"Robert Patterson, outside linebacker, made two or three big hits that impressed us.

"Juan Benetiz, 3-technique, has gotten better and better as we go along.

"James Powell has had a good scrimmage in the secondary. Jay Mayo, our right halfback, did, too.

"We had some young running backs - Jeff Rose and Earl Ware - than impressed us. And Patrick Malone. They all improved their position on the team, as did Mike Carter at fullback.

"I was pleased with Mike McWilliams and Tony Pineda, our other quarterbacks. They handled their units well and are progressing like we want them to."

Officer's death still mystery

FARMERS BRANCH, Texas (AP) — One year after police officer Lowell Tribble was shot to death in his patrol car in this Dallas suburb, authorities have more theories than evidence about he died — despite a $25,000 reward for information leading to the kiler.

"We've gone full circle and are back at square one," said Capt. Gus Rose of the Dallas County Sheriff's Department, who investigated Tribble's killing. "Any lead has dried up."

Tribble, 38 and a 19-year police veteran, was shot in the face about 11:15 a.m. on Aug. 27, 1983 in the parking lot of the apartment complex where he and his family lived. He was killed about 100 feet from his apartment, where he had been visiting his wife and young son.

The officer, who was on duty at the time, became the first officer killed since the Farmers Branch Police Department was formed in the mid-1950s.

Authorities say about the only evidence garnered from the year-long probe has been three spent .45-caliber shells found at the scene and composite drawings of two men seen running from the scene.

"If we had a motive, we'd have found a suspect," said Farmers Branch police Capt. Al Wagner. "We're still looking for the right key to open the door."

Several family members and friends say that Tribble's past as a union organizer in Farmers Branch may be why the case remains unsolved, the Dallas Times Herald reported. Tribble's family also says police waited too long before calling in other law enforcement agencies to help in the investigation.

Tribble began organizing a police union after he was fired and reinstated following a dispute with the department.

"Tribble was a pain ... to the city of Farmers Branch," said Ron DeLord, president of the Combined Law Enforcement Agencies of Texas, a statewide police union that represented Tribble in a federal suit against Farmers Branch that was settled a few weeks before he was killed.

Wagner said investigators made a cursory check of Tribble's union background, looking for a possible motive.

"We checked that possibility, but I don't think it has anything to do with it," Wagner said. "Other than that I would prefer not to discuss it."

Police Chief Roger Robbins and City Manager Paul West said they would not comment on the Tribble investigation or the family's allegations.

But Larry Lippincott, Tribble's half brother, said the police department had "at the very least ... a conflict of interest." Lippincott said he has written a letter to President Reagan asking for an investigation by the Justice Department.

"My brother caused them a lot of problems while he was there, problems that ended when he was shot," Lippincott said.

But investigators say they have interviewed 300 people considered witnesses or suspects, test-fired more than 100 guns seized in arrests, tracked fruitless leads to Oklahoma and Arkansas and talked with Texas prison inmates who falsely claimed to have information about the killing.

Tribble's widow, Frances Tribble, and his daughter by a previous marriage, Sheila Tribble, 19, say they were given polygraph tests during which they were asked whether and why they killed the officer. Police said they are not considered suspects.

Texas Ranger Ronald McBride said investigators used known contacts in the underworld in an attempt to find the killer.

"Those kind of guys would turn in their friends and cut their mama's throat for that kind of (reward) money, but nobody knew much of anything," McBride said.

Wagner, who initially thought Tribble was shot by a drug dealer, said he believes Tribble either was confronted by a fugitive or was ambushed by somebody with a gun.

"A lot of people out there didn't like him, a lot did," he said.

Tribble was police chief in Bowie, Texas, in the late 1960s, but resigned after an FBI investigation into allegations that he had beaten a man during an arrest. He was absolved of wrongdoing and joined the Farmers Branch department in 1970.

Tribble was fired in November 1980, then reinstated following a dispute over a worker's compensation claim. With his job back, Tribble recruited 20 of the department's 40 to 45 police officers into the Farmers Branch Police Officers' Association in June 1981. Tribble was elected president.

After two probationary officers who had joined the union were fired in 1982, Tribble joined in a federal civil rights suit against Robbins and the department. Tribble contended he had been denied promotion because of his union-organizing activities.

"My husband just wanted to do his job, mind his own business," Mrs. Tribble said. "But they started putting pressure on him to quit, so he chose to stick it out."

A few weeks before the suit was settled out of court with a payment of $86,000 to the plaintiffs, Tribble dropped out of the action. Mrs. Tribble said her husband hoped to better his chances for the next round of promotions.

On Aug. 15, Tribble failed to be promoted to detective. Two weeks later, he was killed. The union disbanded and sent Mrs. Tribble all its money — $42.

UP WITH PEOPLE--Up With People will be performing at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Sweetwater High School Auditorium. Tickets are $6.50 for adults and $5.50 for students/senior citizens. Reagan talks to students on education

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, back in town for a week before the traditional Labor Day kickoff of his re-election campaign, returns today to his theme that parents and local communities should spearhead a drive toward excellence in education.

Although schools don't open here until next week, the students and faculty of Jefferson Junior High School in southwest Washington were invited to come back to school early to listen to Reagan speak to them today about education.

A White House spokesman, Robin Gray, said Jefferson has been doing "an extraordinary job" of improving academic performance. The school was among 152 schools in the country honored last year for excellence in education.

The school's principal, Vera White, referred all queries about the school to the White House, where Gray said the 700-student junior high has placed unusual emphasis on academic achievement, particularly in math and science. Gray also said the community around the school, which has a 91 percent black enrollment, has been "highly supportive."

After his visit, Reagan planned to address representatives of more than 200 secondary schools being recognized for excellence.

The education issue promises to be a focus of the campaign between Reagan and Democrat Walter F. Mondale, who has proposed major increases in federal spending for public schools.

Reagan and Mondale differ on such issues as tuition tax credits, which Reagan has proposed to help parents who send their children to private and parochial schools; school prayer, which Reagan has sought to reinstitute through a constitutional amendment; and merit pay, which Mondale has reluctantly agreed to study despite the vehement opposition of one of his strongest labor union supporters, the National Education Association.

On Sunday, Reagan observed Women's Equality Day, the 64th anniversary of women winning the vote, by inviting woman appointees in his administration to a picnic on the White House lawn with entertainment by female country rock singer Juice Newton.

Before they sat down for hot dogs and hamburgers, Reagan posed for photographs with nearly 1,000 women gathered around him in a made-for-television extravaganza.

Before the president came outside, White House organizers had positioned the women appointees several deep along the Truman Balcony on the south front of the mansion and down the curving stairs, making it appear that hundreds of admiring women were cascading down around the president. With the entire audience gathered behind him, there weren't any left for the president to face when he addressed them. He faced the cameras instead.

After a few brief remarks, he said, "I guess it's time to picnic now — after we have our picture taken."

Noble to return to Angelo State

realizes the pressure these people (board members) are going through. I congratulate them on the new raises they just approved. It's very important to keeping people in Snyder.

"I still think because of the discipline maintained at the school, under the guidance of (principal) Ray Courtney, Snyder is ahead of many of the high schools I've been in," Noble added.

Of the football program and new head coach Dennis Tomlin, Noble added, "If people will just not expect miracles of him, the football program will bring some real recogintion to Snyder in the next few years."

Noble said he felt like the next major athletic project needed in the school system is an athletic gym facility for the junior high, possibly located between the junior high and West Elementry.

"They are working at a real handicap down there, especially in trying to schedule volleyball and basketball workouts. There just isn't enough space for all the kids," he said.

Noble's wife - a teacher at Western Texas College - and his daughter - a senior at Snyder High - will remain in Snyder through the current school year.

Fritz Mondale flying to Dallas

NORTH OAKS, Minn. (AP) — Walter F. Mondale, accusing President Reagan of waging an "entirely negative" campaign, is flying to Dallas today where the Republicans last week renominated the president and spent four days bashing Mondale and the Democrats.

The major reason the Democratic presidential nominee is going to Dallas is to raise money. He plans to return to Minnesota on Tuesday after stopping for a rally at the University of Illinois.

In a five-minute paid political radio speech on Sunday, Mondale continued attacking the president on the issue of arms control.

Many indictments are anticipated

CHICAGO (AP) — Federal officials reportedly expect "hundreds of indictments" from Operation Safe Bet, a newly disclosed 3-year-old undercover probe of organized crime's ties to a multimillion-dollar prostitution industry in suburban Chicago.

According to one published report, authorities consider it their largest sting operation ever.

The probe, under way since the spring of 1981, focuses on extortion, prostitution, corruption of public officials and the distribution of controlled substances, Edward D. Hegarty, special agent in charge of the FBI in Chicago, said Sunday.

The FBI has arrested four Colombians in Illinois on drug charges and had issued an arrest warrant for a fifth based on evidence gained in part from the probe, he said.

Cook County State's Attorney Richard M. Daley said his office has cooperated in the probe, working "closely with the Justice Department in a number of raids."

The disclosures came after The Washington Post reported Sunday that FBI agents had operated a bogus credit-card company as a front to get information on sex clubs, massage parlors, go-go bars, "modeling studios" and their customers.

The newspaper quoted unidentified FBI officials as saying they expect the operation to yield "hundreds of indictments" in a $75 million a year prostitution industry.

It reported that evidence in the sting includes 30,000 payment vouchers, secret tape recordings and photographs of customers. The operation also has given the government information on how payoff money was paid to racketeers and how businessmen wrote off their bills at sex clubs as business expenses on their income taxes, the Post said.

The newspaper said a key informant was a man who had run a lucrative credit card business which allowed customers of prostitutes and massage parlors to use credit cards to pay for sexual favors.

Miami is no longer really the United States; Miami today is the CApital of the Caribbean.

It, and other cities — El Paso and San Diego — are becoming simply social service centers for other peoples for whom we have no responsibility yet whom we cannot control.

Once upon a time, heroically, we imagined that we could absorb all the world's problems and problem people.

Not anymore.

Berry's World

"HOW ABOUT GIVING US A LITTLE BREAK WITH THE OIL GLUT SITUATION!"

Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Jim West, Manager-Community Relations

Tele-Help has the answers

"My phone's not working . . . who should I call? What can I do to save money on my phone service? Why are there so many pages in my phone bill? How do I pick the long distance service company that's right for me?"

These are some of the questions I've been getting from many of you since Southwestern Bell Telephone became an independent company on Jan. 1.

Last year we anticipated many of these questions and began telling our customers about the changes in our business using advertising, bill inserts, news stories, brochures and public talks by our employees.

But we found that people aren't likely to listen until the message directly affects them. Our research shows that only about 17 percent of our customers fully understand the changes brought on by the Bell System split up.

We're concerned about this confusion. That's why we've started a new informative program to help you. It's in the public interest. You've been good customers too long. We split from AT&T, not you.

The new program is called "Tele-Help," and it will give you more information about your phone service, what to do, when and how. Perhaps you've already seen and heard some of the advertising. It's all designed to help clear up any confusion and make sure your phone service remains as useful as we can make it.

You can still "call on us" for help

Tele-Help is our way of saying we hope you'll still "call on us." Just as you've turned to us in the past, we want you to continue to do so in the future.

In talking with you, we identified six major areas that most of you want to know more about. These topics comprise the first six Tele-Help booklets: phone service in general, phone bills, repair, telephone sets, long distance service and money-saving tips. Other booklets are in the works, and I'll tell you more about them in subsequent columns.

We feel the booklets are easy to understand and they're available at no charge. You can order the entire set if you like.

To get Tele-Help is easy! Just call toll-free 1-800-325-2686 (and ask for "extension 84") Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-8 p.m. Or, fill out the coupon below and mail it to us.

Yes, I want Tele-Help! Please send me the booklet(s) checked here:

- ☐ A Guide to Your Phone Service
- ☐ A Guide to Your Phone Bill
- ☐ A Guide to Home Phone Repair
- ☐ A Guide to Telephone Equipment
- ☐ A Guide to Long Distance Service
