He was a member of Vinson Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Myers, of Vinson; one son, Wayne Myers of Edna; one daughter, Mrs. Janice Brown of McAllen; a sister, Mrs. Grover Smith of Mangum; two brothers, Emory Myers and Perk Myers of Mangum; seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mrs. E.C. Pease Retired Store Owner, Dies

Mrs. Blanche Pease, retired hardware store owner, died in Collingsworth General Hospital at 6:20 a.m. Saturday, July 16, at the age of 89.

She lived at Thomas Nursing Center, but is not many years ago that she retired from the active management of her business, after her 80th birthday.

She and her husband, the late Everette C. Pease, came to Wellington in 1941 to take over the store her father, the late C.A. Faulk operated, which later became Pease Hardware.

She was born May 27, 1888, at Joplin, Mo. and was married to Mr. Pease December 16, 1911, in Bakersfield, Calif. He died December 16, 1959.

She taught school at Melrose, N.M. for a number of years, and lived in Kentucky 18 years before coming to Wellington.

Funeral services were conducted at Kelso Chapel Sunday, July 17, at 4:00 p.m., Tom Anderson, minister of the Church of Christ, officiated and burial was in Memorial Gardens by Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Herald Yeager, Cecil Browning, Raymond Lee, Rufus Hays, Shelton Nunnally, and Jack Neeley.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Claud Smith of Wellington; two grandchildren, Mrs. James Lee of Pampa and Larry Flint of Oklahoma City; and four great grandchildren.

TO FARM BUREAU SEMINAR

This trio represented Collingsworth County at the 15th annual Texas Farm Bureau High School Students Citizenship Seminar at Baylor University, Waco, July 11 to 15. They are John Birkey, of Wellington; Melissa Guthrie of Quail, center, and DiAnna Schaub of Samnorwood.

Women's Softball Tourney Scheduled Through Weekend

Wellington Women's softball teams are sponsoring a tournament Friday through Sunday, July 22, 23 and 24, with nine teams entered.

Play will begin at 8:00 p.m. Friday, and will continue all day Saturday and Sunday. The final game should be about 2:00 p.m. according to Mrs. Richard Keller, one of those working on plans.

Brackets are being worked out and specific times will be available when these are finished.

Of the 9 teams entered, two are from Amarillo, Grant Trucking and Tonca. Childress has one team in the tournament and Memphis three, Rocha, Memphis Compress and Pizza Box.

The other three are from Wellington, Cherokee Inn, Thomas Music and H&H.

At the end of play, an all-tournament team will be chosen and individual trophies will be presented to each girl.

A large trophy will go to Teachers Elected at Samnorwood

In high school, he was named to Who's Who in American High Schools, to the All South Plains football team; and the all-district football team as a junior and senior. He is a member of First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Messer, whose home town is Plainview, has a B.S. Degree in education from Wayland College in that city. She formerly taught first grade in Amherst. Her husband is pastor of Quail Baptist Church.

The addition of two faculty members was announced this week by Rex Peeples, superintendent of Samnorwood Schools.

Mark Barnes of Lazbuddie was elected to teach in the fifth and sixth grade area, and Mrs. Jeff Messer of Quail will teach kindergarten, first and second.

Barnes graduated from Lazbuddie High School in 1973, and received his degree from West Texas State University this spring.

Council Looks at Golf Course, Airport Improvements, Budget

City Council members considered an agenda Monday night, July 18, that was aimed at improved services and expansion of facilities.

They had their initial look at a proposed budget that tops the half million mark, presented as a first draft by City Manager Tiny Taylor. This will be studied and revisions will be made before the final adoption.

But this budget, which totaled $532,646.80, provided for the purchase of a new fire truck and a new trash collection system.

Council members revived the Marian Airpark improvement project, this time seeking state rather than federal funding.

Four members of Hay Camp Golf Club, acting as spokesmen for other golfers, asked the city's help in securing a new golf course near town.

Wayne Martin was spokesman for the group, and other members were Bill Long, Alvin Horton and Mrs. R.L. Mabery. They told the council that Hay Camp Country Club Golf Course is to be closed at the end of July, and asked the council's help in securing a new course.

The plan most strongly considered Monday night is to seek financing through the Small Business Administration and the four assured the council they can raise the 10 percent for the sponsor's part with out any problem.

Two possible locations were suggested before the meeting ended, and these will be looked into.

In reviving the airport improvement project, Taylor and Mayor Bill Hatch explained a new program by the Texas Aeronautics Commission which would provide 50 percent state funding for airport improvement.

The city's application for funding through the Federal Aviation Agency is still current, but that body has run out of money and future funding is uncertain, Taylor has been told.

The council agreed that Taylor is to consult the city's engineer, Bill McMorries of Amarillo in view of making TAC application. This would provide for a new 4,000 foot runway, but the overall airport would be smaller with fewer improvements.

Taylor pointed out what is a

County Bank Deposits Top $26 Million for New High

Deposits of Wellington's two banks topped the $26 million mark when the second quarter bank call was made June 30, 1977, and this is approximately one and three-quarter million more than the deposit figure a year ago. It is almost five million more than Collingsworth people had on deposit two years ago.

Reports made to the State Banking Commissioner and Federal Reserve Banks show deposits of $26,706,000. A year ago, the deposits were $24,930,000, and two years ago they were $21,773,714.28. (Only round figures are now used in the reports.)

Additionally, customers of Wellington State Bank and City State Bank have on deposit almost $6 million more than they did three years ago, when the figure was $20,786,280.

Combined assets on June 30, 1977, were nearing the $29 million mark, $28,860,000.

Assets a year ago were $26,851,000 and two years ago they were $23,767,885, and three years ago $22,545,520.

Four years ago, assets were $16,986,125, and these figures reveal growth of around $11.5 million for the period.

Of money on deposit June 30, $9,172,000 is in demand deposits, down a little from a year ago.

Time and savings deposits now total $17,534,000. A year ago that figure was $15,192,000. This is $2.3 million that the banks customers have drawing interest at a good rate above what they had one year ago. Time and savings deposits have grown steadily over the past year, as Collingsworth bank customers put more of their money to work. Today's figure is up nearly $5 million from two years ago and up approximately 12 million over the last four-year period.

Loans on June 30, totaled $18,599,000, and this is up around $3.5 million from a year ago.

Wellington's First Open Tennis Tournament Scheduled Aug. 10-12

The Wellington Open Tennis Tournament has been scheduled for August 10, 11, 12 at Ellison Park in Wellington with Junior High School, High School and Open Divisions.

This site has been the scene of several UIL District competitions but this is the first open tennis tourney in Wellington. Area participation is invited and encouraged both for entries and for spectators. The Chamber of Commerce is the local sponsor.

Thursday, August 11, will be for those entries who will be in the eighth grade and down for the 1977-78 school year; boys, singles and doubles; girls, singles and doubles.

Friday, August 12, will feature those entries who will be freshmen through seniors for the 1977-78 high school year; boys, singles, and doubles; girls, singles and doubles.

Saturday, August 13, will be for the open division entries: men's, singles, and doubles; women's, singles and doubles; also, mixed doubles.

Each division is to begin on the designated day at 9:00 a.m. (If play is needed on Sunday, August 14, it will begin at 1:00 p.m.)

Entry fee is $3.50 per person per event; $7.00 for a doubles team.

The right is reserved to cancel an event if not enough entries warrant said event.

Equine Encephalitis Found in Horse Here

Western Equine Encephalitis has been positively diagnosed in a horse south of Wellington, and there is another suspected case in the same area, Dr. Mark Fires, of Wellington Veterinary Hospital announced this week.

Better known as sleeping sickness, this form of encephalitis in horses is also transmissible to humans, and care should be exercised by those who handle horses, he warned.

He emphasized the need to vaccinate horses before the disease is more widespread and pointed out a combination vaccine is available for the Eastern and Western Equine Encephalitis.

"We're not worrying much about Venezuelan Equine Encephalitis (VEE), but it can be included with the other vaccine," Dr. Fires said.

This is a viral disease, spread by mosquitoes and flies, he pointed out.

The disease is highly transmissible to people and is also spread by flies and mosquitoes.

In horses, symptoms are stupor, grinding of teeth and the bottom lip hanging down.

Vaccine will prevent the disease, but after it is contracted, early treatment usually can effect a cure. There is little help for the disease in the advanced stage.

"The major thing now is the control of flies and mosquitoes in so far as is possible," Dr. Fires pointed out.

Trophies, made available by Wells and Wells Insurance and Abstracts, City State Bank and Wellington State Bank, will be presented to the winner and runnerup in each event.

Any Wellington High School Ex-Students planning to attend the Ex-Students reunion on Saturday, August 13 are encouraged to enter.

Mail entries to Randall Sims or Richard Sims, P.O. Box 248, Wellington, 79095 or call 806/447-2709.

Deadline for entries is Tuesday, August 8.

Softball Tourney Will Benefit Satellite Center

Wellington Softball League is sponsoring a tournament Friday and Saturday, July 29 and 30, to benefit the Satellite Training and Work Center.

Announcement of the event was made by Mrs. Almeda White, teacher, and Tony Stephens, president of the softball league.

This is an inter-league tournament with 13 games scheduled. Brackets are being worked out, Stephens said, and complete arrangements will be announced next week.

Mrs. White explained that salaries for the satellite center are paid by the state, but certain other expenses must be paid locally. It is to raise money for these that the tournament is planned.

County in Crisis Evacuation Plan

If nuclear attack should come to Amarillo, Collingsworth might be one of the outlying counties which would become host to evacuated residents, Mrs. Vern Barton, said after attending a Nuclear Civil Protection Seminar in Amarillo Wednesday, July 13. The meeting was sponsored by the Texas Department of Public Safety and Amarillo Defense and Disaster Relief office. Civil Defense and public officials from throughout the Panhandle attended.

Those present considered the crisis relocation plan which the Disaster Emergency Services branch of DPS is preparing. DPS officials will mount of the firefighting equipment on the present truck could be used.

The city is considering a dumpster type garbage collection system at an estimated cost of $90,000. This would include the collection boxes for the alleys, and a truck with automatic dumping mechanism which would be operated by one man.

Three men are required on the present truck, which is 10 years old and almost worn out, Taylor said. If the new system is put in operation, two men will move to other city jobs and this would mean a saving of $12,000 per year in the sanitation department. "Over a 10-year period, that would be a $120,000 saving," he pointed out.

Paul Spillman, the city's legal counsel, reported on the pre-trial hearing with representatives of other towns due to appear before the Railroad Commission to oppose higher gas rates. This meeting was held in Austin, Tuesday, July 12. More than 20 towns are involved, and Spillman told the council that Wellington has been grouped (by the Railroad Commission, with Plano, McKinney, Leonard, Canton, and Stamford, rather than with Childress, Memphis, Quanah and other area towns. The present grouping makes it difficult for representatives of those towns to get together to plan their case, he pointed out.

In other business, the council approved an eight-foot easement to First United Methodist Church for a driveway on the north side of the new building it will construct.

Alvin Horton and Hiram Cudd accepted appointments to serve as the city's representatives on the Combined Law Enforcement advisory board. Mr. Horton is a former deputy sheriff and long-time cement contractor, Mr. Cudd has served as a special deputy, is a former chief of the Wellington Fire Department, and is a partner in Cudd Brothers Trucking.

Easements were also given on alley and unclaimed lots for guy wires which would brace the new communications tower which will serve the law enforcement, volunteer ambulance and fire department needs.

SOLAR HEAT IN WASHINGTON
The roof of this office building in Washington, D.C., only a few blocks from the Capitol, contains solar panels.

New Energy Industry Growing in US

In November, Texans are due to vote on a constitutional amendment which will give voters an opportunity to approve a tax break for homeowners installing solar heating units in new or already existing buildings.

Farm Exports Paying for Imported Goods

COLLEGE STATION--The wheat a local farmer is raising could very well pay for your foreign car, imported wine or new camera.

This is because America exports more food and fiber products than it imports. This "favorable balance of trade" pays for many foreign products, a leading one today being the huge amounts of imported oil, points out Dr. William E. Black, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The 'balance of trade' is the dollar difference between how much we buy from overseas and how much we sell to the overseas markets," says Black. To buy the foreign goods we want, we have to sell overseas to get the money to buy. It's much the same as in your own personal finances--you have to have an income before you can buy.

"If you buy more than you make, you go in debt. The more debt you have, the more shaky your financial situation is. After awhile, your credit isn't as good," notes Black.

The same applies to this country, the economist explains. If we buy more on the foreign market than we sell, we have a negative balance of trade. If that gets too big, our dollar gets shaky in the international market. After awhile, foreign markets lose faith in the value of the dollar and it won't buy as much overseas.

"When the value of our imports is greater than the value of what we export, the deficit saps the strength of the gy sources available today, the use of solar energy is creating the most interest.

There is nothing new or mysterious about trapping sunlight to produce heat. That was done with the first greenhouse. But today's solar energy through modern technology, has the potential to satisfy a substantial portion of the Nation's space heating and cooling and hot water needs.

There are two types of solar power systems, passive and active. In a passive system, such as a greenhouse, glass surfaces trap solar heat during the day and release it slowly at night, keeping the air inside consistently warmer than the air outside.

In an active system, such as those being installed in homes and offices today, this principle is carried one step farther. Heat trapped in air or water by "flat plate" collectors placed on a roof or in a wall is circulated to a storage unit, which might be a water tank or a bin of rocks, where it is stored. The storage unit is then tapped as needed to provide hot water, space heating or even, by the principle of absorption, air conditioning.

The practicality and simplicity of solar energy in U.S. dollar in foreign markets. As the deficit grows, the value of the dollar weakens and it takes more dollars to buy foreign products. That creates problems for the American consumer," asserts Black.

In 1971, American farm exports cancelled one-half of a $4 billion potential deficit in total U.S. trade. Overseas farm sales reduced by 23 percent what would have been a huge $9 billion deficit in 1972.

Agricultural exports in 1973 made a record-breaking "net" contribution of $9.3 billion to the American balance of trade while the nonagricultural sector turned in an $8 billion deficit. In 1974, farm exports contributed an incredible $11.7 billion net, and the favorable trade balance reached $12.6 billion in 1975. This balance should show a similar level for 1976.

Between 1965 and 1975, net city of solar power has already moved it out of the laboratory and into the market place. Virtually all of the elements of a solar power system can be bought "off the shelf." Of course, while the sun's energy is free, an "up front," investment of up to several thousand dollars on the part of the consumer is required to harness it.

Who is converting to solar energy? In Colorado, the Community College of Denver, faced with a prospective 300 percent increase in natural gas prices by 1990, has installed a solar system that supplies 70 percent of the total space heating need of the new North Campus. In Hemet, Calif., a developer is constructing a 33-house subdivision of one to four bedroom houses that will rely on solar power for their hot water and space heating needs. These homes will sell for prices ranging from $37,900 to $46,000 and will have gas-powered back-up systems to take over during prolonged spells of cloudy weather.

States are lending a hand to encourage the use of solar energy. New Mexico gives those who install solar equipment in their residences tax credits equal to 25 percent of the cost up to $1,000. Massachusetts exempts solar agricultural exports have made a total contribution of $49 billion to America's balance of trade. This more than offset the $28 billion deficit chalked up by the non agricultural sector.

"The export market plays an important role in Texas agriculture," adds Black. "Currently, the production from one out of every four acres is imported. Leading imports include rice, sorghum, wheat and cotton."

So, the next time you purchase an imported item, think about American agriculture. It opens the door for man imported products.

improvements from property taxes. The California Public Utilities Commission is collecting data in order to draw up new regulations that will encourage and accelerate solar development.

The tulip originated in central Asia and gets its name from the Turkish word for turban.

Portable Gardens Give Pleasant Change of Scene

In this age of mobility, even gardens can be portable so that they can provide for a changing landscape scene.

Everett Janne, a horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that shrubs, trees, vines and flowers can be grown in portable containers and moved from the service or growing area when at their prime to supplement the permanent landscape planting.

"There can be instant beauty with pots of geraniums, begonias or petunias. Plants can be in the spotlight when they look their best and can be banished when they decline in beauty."

Janne suggests using sturdy containers such as tubs, barrel halves, clay pots or wooden boxes. Wooden containers should be made of moisture resistant wood such as redwood or cedar. All containers should provide adequate drainage.

Potting soil that is both porous and moisture retentive should be used.

Health Tips

Texas Medical Association

IRRITATING INSECTS CAN KILL

Bees, wasps and spiders send many people running. But a small percent of the population should run for their lives, the Texas Medical Association says.

Estimates show about 2% or 3% of the population is hypersensitive to insect stings and bites. These hypersensitive reactions are more serious than the usual pain, itching and swelling around a bite site. Check with a physician if a victim has any reactions other than localized problems. Or if there is a severe local reaction on the face and neck, some doctors recommend administering drugs to prevent more serious reactions.

Hypersensitive reactions to insect bites can include headache, vomiting, diarrhea, a feeling of heat throughout the body, itching all over the body, breathing difficulty and anaphylactic shock. This last condition can occur in the very small percentage of people supersensitive to insect venom. It may be fatal. Anaphylactic shock symptoms can include weakness, faintness and pale, cold, clammy skin.

Many severe reactions occur within 20 minutes to an hour after a bite. But a few severe reactions may not occur until about two weeks after a sting. Sometimes hypersensitive reactions hit people who never have had major problems with insect bites previously.

winners of first, second, third and consolation places.

"We urge everyone who likes women's softball to come out for these games. You will see some of the finest players in the Panhandle, and altogether, it will offer a weekend of good fun," said Mrs. Keller.

Most reactions to insect bites are caused by ants, bees, wasps, hornets, and spiders. However, some people have hypersensitive reactions to lice, flies, bed bugs and other insects. Bees seem to be the most common offender. Bees also have the distinction of being one of the few insects to leave the stinger in the victim. Attached to the stinger is a venom sac that can keep pumping venom into a victim for awhile. The best way to remove the stinger is to gently scrape across it with a fingernail or knife edge or carefully pull it out with tweezers so more venom will not be injected.

Treatment for bee and other insect stings also may include applying cold compresses to slow venom absorption and reduce swelling. Calamine lotion often can relieve itching. Other lotions may be used but victims, need to be careful not to apply anything that will further irritate the skin.

The majority of insect bites and stings can be taken care of with such simple treatment but it is important to remember more serious reactions could be a life and death situation if a person does not get immediate medical attention.

visit area towns during 1977-78 fiscal year to make arrangements for these towns to handle evacuations from Amarillo if nuclear attack appears eminent.

The Panhandle is the only part of the state having more counties than are needed for such an evacuation.

Col. Larry Ayers of Austin discussed current threat and policies of the USSR which demonstrate need for crisis relocation planning.

James W. Roby of the Austin DPS office said such a crisis relocation would triple the size of host cities.

On this basis, Wellington could receive a possible 6,000 evacuees if nuclear attack becomes eminent, pointed out Mrs. Barton, who is secretary to CD director Zook Thomas.

Roby said the Defense Civil Preparedness Agency, part of the U.S. Department of Defense, had considered a crisis relocation plan because Russia has increased its nuclear and launched a heavy 'civil defense program, complete with such evacuation plans.

The evacuation would be voluntary, Roby said, and only public and commercial buildings will be used. No crisis evacuees will be stationed in private homes, he added.

Community Cleanup Can Reap Cash Dividends

COLLEGE STATION--Improving the appearance of your community may pay cash dividends. The community resource development staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service may be able to show your community how to receive cash for a community cleanup project.

"With the increased interest in fuel conservation and recycling, community sponsored removal of junk cars has paid cash dividends to many rural areas," points out Tim Shaunty, Extension area resource development specialist. "Depending on the location, some towns or clubs have received $35 per car." Shaunty suggests that anyone interested in participating in a program of junk car removal for profit or any other cleanup project should contact the local county Extension office for assistance with the legal requirements, ordinances and collection procedures. "Not only will such a project help make the community a better place in which to live, but it can also lead to some income to support certain community activities," adds the specialist.

Rainbow Trout at Possum Kingdom

DALLAS--Rainbow trout usually are associated with cold weather and cold water but June 24 some 500 to 600 trout will be stocked in the tailrace of Possum Kingdom Reservoir on the Brazos River.

Inland fisheries officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department say this is the latest stocking of rainbow trout in the state. The fish are 12 to 14 inches long and weigh one to 1½ pounds.

Accidents' Hidden Costs Staggering

COLLEGE STATION--A staggering total of some 2,000 farm workers are killed on the job every year in this country. But in addition to these human losses, accidents cost much, much more!

"Generally, people do not recognize the true size of accident losses. The word 'accident' is often used incorrectly as a synonym for 'injury,'" says Dr. Gary S. Nelson, a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "More correctly, an 'accident' is any unplanned, uncontrolled interruption of a planned activity which results or has the potential to result in a variety of losses."

Sometimes accidents cause personal injury, but often they cause a combination of economic losses which may not at first be obvious, notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Individuals not only lose full earning power during injury recovery but may suffer decreased lifetime earning power as well as decreased educational and vocational opportunities due to permanent physical injury," explains Nelson.

"Besides the obvious direct costs of medical care and equipment damage, accidents cause businesses to lose the valued talent and skill of their workers, cause increased insurance costs, and may trigger public liability and litigation costs. Production may also be lost due to unavailability of processing equipment due to damage."

When an accident occurs businesses lose the productivity of the injured worker as well as that of other workers who are disrupted while attending to the accident victim's needs. Businesses owned and operated by one individual suffer the greatest losses of productivity and profits, emphasizes the safety engineer.

Other losses involve the cost of hiring replacement workers, the supervisor's time in training new workers, and the wage cost due to lower output of replacement workers during the break-in period.

"Further costs are incurred," explains Nelson, "when products spoil because the injured worker is detained or unavailable to process them. Also, products may be damaged or spoiled by a worker because he is less efficient due to his injury or by a replacement worker due to inexperience."

Wage and production losses may be incurred further when workers are affected by the injured's lack of output or teamwork.

DRYING FOODS

Drying is one of the oldest methods of food preservation. For thousands of years people have dried many foods to preserve them for leaner times. Preserving seasonal foods by drying is still useful and convenient and has the added advantage of conserving storage space.

How does drying preserve food? Basically, sufficient moisture is removed from a food to prevent its decay.

What nutritional changes occur during drying? Bulk and energy are not affected. Some mineral and vitamin loss occurs.

What foods can be dried? Most fruits and vegetables and some meats and fish are suitable for drying.

How are foods dried? In hot, dry climates, foods to be sun dried, can be reduced in a few days to a moisture level that preserves them. In any climate, however, satisfactory drying conditions can be created at a moderate cost by using artificial heat and circulating air over the food.

Methods for drying foods and some necessary equipment include:

--A kitchen oven (you need drying trays, an oven thermometer, and a small fan).

--A portable food dehydrator (such as a natural-draft vegetable dehydrator or an electric food dehydrator).

--The sun (you need drying trays, cheesecloth, temperatures over 98 degrees F., and low relative humidity).

Some tips to keep in mind about drying fruits and vegetables:

--Drying does not improve the quality of foods, so only fresh, top quality foods should be used.

--Vegetables in prime condition should be selected and prepared for drying on the day they are harvested.

--Only fully-ripened fruits should be used. If the fruit is not suitable for eating fresh, it is not suitable for drying.

All foods need some preparation or pre-treatment before drying.

--Vegetables may be blanched with hot water or steam. This inactivates enzymes in the food which otherwise would cause deterioration of color and flavor during drying and storage.

--Blanching causes some loss of nutrients through leaching: To keep leaching to a minimum, blanch only as long as required. However, do not under-blanch or enzymes will not be inactivated and the dried vegetable will be of inferior quality.

--Prepare only the amount of food that you can dry at one time.

--Although fruits may be blanched before drying, sulfuring (exposing to sulfure fumes) is preferred. Sulfuring effectively maintains the quality and nutrients of the food during drying and storage. However, oven drying is NOT recommended for sulfured fruits because of the objectionable odor of the sulfur fumes.

--Sulfuring should always be done outdoors away from close contact with plants, shrubs, trees, and children.

Procedures for drying, packaging and storing both fruits and vegetables are similar:

--Fruits and vegetable pieces should be distributed on trays in single layers. The total amount of food being dried at one time with artificial heat should not exceed that recommended by reliable instructions.

--Do not use galvanized screen on drying trays. There is an acid reaction that darkens food and may cause a dangerous reaction. Also do not use fiberglass, vinyl and copper screening. Wood slats are excellent. May be covered with cheesecloth.

--More than one kind of fruit or vegetable can be dried at the same time. However, strong-smelling vegetables should be dried separately.

--Drying times vary according to the types of food, size of pieces and load on the tray. While tables giving approximate drying times can serve as a guide to judge proper dryness, experience is usually the best teacher. Some foods should be dried to the brittle state; others should be pliable

Max Sherman WTSU President

WTSU--After a lengthy closed-door session on July 16, the West Texas State University board of regents unanimously elected State Senator Max R. Sherman the new president for WTSU. Sherman is scheduled to take office on or before Sept. 1, according to Regents Chairman James Lovell, a Dumas attorney. He is replacing Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, who is now president at Illinois State University.

The presidential search committee reviewed 92 applications for WT's top post before giving the regents their top recommendations of Sherman and WTSU Dean of Agriculture Charles Smallwood.

Both applicants were so well-qualified, according to Lovell, that making a choice was quite difficult and all regents joined together in praise of Smallwood.

Sherman, 42, has represented the Texas Panhandle in the Texas State Senate since 1971 and, in that time, has earned two "Texas Monthly" magazine accolades for being one of the ten best legislators. This last session he was named the top legislator in Austin.

A partner in Amarillo's Gibson, Ochsner, Adkins, Harlan & Hankins law firm, WT's new president earned his undergraduate degree from Baylor University and his doctorate of jurisprudence from the University of Texas Law School.

The long-time Phillips resident is married to the former Gene Alice Weinbroer of Borger. Sherman's mother and sister and Mrs. Sherman's mother all live in Borger.

Max and Gene Alice have a son, Lynn, age 14, and a daughter, Holly, age 12.

Accident Prevention A Good Investment

AUSTIN--The week of July 25-31 is Farm Safety Week--an annual nationwide observance launched in 1944 to help reduce accident losses impairing wartime farm production. A sampling of the 169 accidental farm deaths recorded by the Texas Farm Bureau for 1976 indicated that accident prevention efforts are still timely and necessary today.

In Anderson County, for instance, a man fishing from the bank, fell into a stock pond and drowned. A house fire in Leon County resulted in a woman's death when she was cleaning with gasoline. In Willacy, a tractor rolled over into a drainage ditch killing its driver. And, more than half of the 34 firearms deaths were attributed to guns accidentally discharging while being unloaded or carried.

Built around the theme, "Safety is a Good Investment," this year's Farm Safety Week activities emphasize the wisdom of making a personal and financial investment in safety to help cut the human and economic costs of accidents.

"Farm and ranch people can achieve much by investing a little time and personal effort into adopting safer ways of working, driving and playing," notes Joe L. Smetana, Texas Safety Association Vice President for Farm and Ranch. "And that costs nothing!" Extra protection can be had, he says, with a modest financial investment in: safety training, personal protective equipment (goggles, safety shoes, bump caps), tractor overturn protection, smoke detectors, fire extinguishers and other safety devices. Further investment in prompt repair or replacement of faulty or worn parts and equipment and in seeking well-designed, quality products also can add to accident-free farm operation.

Lockhart to Compete in State TAAF

To qualify for the state meet, Scotty won first place in the 880 yard run and third in the 440 at the TAAF meet in Lubbock July 16.

Prior to the Lubbock meet, Scotty won second in the 440 yard dash and third in the 880 yard run in the Junior Division of the Junior AAU Olympic Track and Field meet in Borger.

In this program, the younger divisions, midget, bantam and junior, ran in the Lubbock meet to qualify for the state event at Pasadena. Older athletes, intermediate and senior, go directly from Borger to their Region IX meet at Corpus Christi.

Scotty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lockhart of Memphis and his father is one of the local sponsors of the program in that town.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie G'Sell and son of St. Louis, Mo., spent several days last week with her mother, Mrs. Eva Needham and other relatives. She will be remembered as Wanda Needham.

Accident Statistics Indicate Need For Safer Farm-Ranch Practices

COLLEGE STATION--Accident data being received from individual states provide national estimates indicating that 5,400 farm residents were killed and 500,000 disabled in work, home, recreation and traffic accidents during the past year, points out Dr. Gary S. Nelson, a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The occupationally related portion of these totals indicates that work related accidents claimed the lives of nearly 1,900 persons (200 in Texas) and about 180,000 suffered disabling injuries, of which 1,300 and 130,000, respectively, were farm residents as opposed to employees.

President Carter has accepted the challenge to help reduce farm and ranch accidents by declaring July 25-31, as National Farm Safety Week. The theme for the week is "Safety Is a Good Investment," notes Nelson. This theme emphasizes that in addition to personal injury, accidents result in costly equipment damage, medical expense, loss of valued talent and skill of agricultural producers and workers, and

Little League Drops Game To Childress

BY JUDY HALL

Wellington Little League All-Star met the Childress All-Star Monday July 18, at Childress.

The opening game of the district play found Childress over Wellington 9-1.

Errors in the first inning got four on base for Childress, with each one scoring. Again, errors in the third allowed four more runs for Childress, with their final run in the top of the fifth.

Wellington displayed a strong defense in the second, fourth innings, but no runs developed and no one got on base.

The only Wellington run was scored in the bottom of the fifth by Darren Hall.

Joe Bill Munn was the pitcher for Wellington with Eddy Trimble in relief.

This defeat has eliminated Wellington from tournament play.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Starkey have returned from a fishing vacation at South Fork, Colorado. He reported that while they got their limit, the streams were low and that part of Colorado is suffering from dry weather as much as Wellington is.

She will model the outfit in the District I contest at Amarillo Tuesday, July 26, as she competes for the right to participate in the state 4-H Dress Revue, said Jean Chandler, home extension agent.

The runner up in this division was Cheryl Birkey, wearing a long-sleeved blue floral jersey and velveteen formal dress. She will represent the county if Kay is unable to go to Amarillo.

Junior two winners was Melanie Pendleton, in a blue suede cloth jump suit, while the alternate was Renee Owens, in a white cotton eyelet dress.

Winners in the junior division will go to Amarillo, but they do not participate at the state meet in College Station.

Kay's ensemble was a beige polyester gabardine, with top stitching along most of the seams. The coat was cinched with a tie belt. A personal touch was the braided belt she made for the pants and which was repeated in the hatband. Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coffee.

Three from each age group received other honors.

Stephanie made the best garment from a synthetic material, Lori from cotton and Vanda Bell was the best model. These are in Junior I.

In Junior II, Melanie Pendleton had the best synthetic, Debbie Bergvall the best cotton and Jannon Thomason was best model.

Alexander Coleman Descendants Gather for Reunion on Sunday

Cousins by the dozens met at Bura Handley Community Building Sunday, July 17, for the annual Coleman family reunion.

This family has lived in Texas since the Texas-Mexican War, and something of the background adds interest to the present generation that gathered in Wellington.

They are the descendants of Alexander Coleman, who was born in Hickman County, Tenn., in 1827.

After serving in the Texas-Mexican War, he settled in Grime County, where he married Mary Ann McCune. They had 5 children, Jim, who moved to Montana when he was grown; John Scott, who married Sarah Leon Nelson and moved to what is now the Dozier Community in 1892; Sally, who married Ed Childers and lived in Wellington many years; Ellen (Bush) who married Tom Wall and lived in the Aberdeen Community. Mary Ann McCune Coleman died the day her fifth child, Mary Jane was born in 1863.

About three years later, Alexander Coleman married Sally Jean Foster, and they had 9 children. Three, all boys, died in infancy, and this left Alexander with a family of two boys and eight girls. Of his and Sally Jean's children, Zoeda married C.C. Ralls and Eula married Jeff Mankins. Neither of these couples had children Julia (Tee) married Jack Muse.

Annie was the first teacher in the Enterprise School before her marriage to Gene Simmons. Mattie married John Simmons, brother of Gene, and Dea married Will Allison. Most of these were a part of the early Collingsworth scene.

Alexander and Sally Jean Coleman lived at Giles for a time, then moved to the Dozier area in their later years to be near their children. He died in 1903 and she died the following year.

There were representatives of all these families, except Jim Coleman and Annie Simmons, at the 1977 reunion.

A business meeting was held after the basket dinner, and officers for 1978 were elected. Dee Coleman was chosen president; Byron Bell, vice president; and Mrs. Dee Coleman, secretary-treasurer.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Lettie Shepherd, the oldest, and Charla Roberts, the youngest family members present, and to Brenda Littlejohn, who traveled the most miles to be present.

In addition to visiting and picture taking, John Simmons III entertained the group with his guitar and singing.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. N.W. (Nell) Muse Saunders and Mrs. Mary Jean Muse Bassett of Waskom; Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons, Jr., of New London; John Simmons III of Lubbock;

Mrs. Geraldine Simmons Butler of Brownwood; Mrs. Marie Wall Shaw of Shamrock; Mrs. Jean Allison Anderson, Shelly and Jeffrey of Beaumont; Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Jones of Kerrville; Mrs. Rena Ward of Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. Dale Ward of Chelsea, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. David Fite of Weatherford, Oklahoma;

Mrs. Lettie Shepherd of Panhandle; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Littlejohn, Bryan and Donald of Ft. Campbell, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Trostle of Amarillo; Dr. and Mrs. John D. Coleman, Susan and Scott and Miss Sabrina Coleman of Canyon;

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts and Charla of Stratford; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Thompson, William and Walt of Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Max Coleman, Shane, Jarrett and Vance of McLean.

From the Dozier area were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Coleman, Doug, Jr., and Cindy; Col. and Mrs. Dudley Coleman, LeEd and Shawn; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Bell and Beau; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bentley, Ricky, Mike, Steve and John; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bradley and Paul; Mrs. Wood Coleman; and Miss Lynn Caperton.

Wellington members were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coleman, Jr., and Jody; Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. N.E. Childers and Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. Monte Ferguson; Mrs. Jewel Donnell; Mrs. B.M. Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman.

Roy Horn At Reunion

Roy Horn has returned home after attending the annual Horn Reunion at Winslow, Ark.

Joining him here for the trip to Arkansas was a brother, Seth Horn of Iraan. He returned with his son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Joe Horn.

Mr. Horn, his two brothers and a sister represented the first generation of those present. All four are more than eighty years of age. Oren Horn of Winslow is 89; Seth Horn, 87; Roy Horn, 82; and Mrs. Effie Hutchins was honored on her 80th birthday.

WTU Capable Of Supplying Any Demands

Abilene-West Texas Utilities Co. customers are using record amounts of electricity this summer, but generation engineers say the system is capable of supplying any demands.

Three new record peaks have been set and daily consumption is running above average. But in response to questions prompted by the recent New York blackout, WTU officials said that even though usage likely will continue increasing if the weather stays hot, the projected peak will be within the system's generation and transmission capacity.

Carl Yancy, WTU systems operation manager, said it is "highly unlikely" that a blackout similar to the one in New York could occur here.

"Of course no one can be absolutely certain, but there is no doubt in my mind that our system is reliable," Yancy said.

He explained that WTU's eight major power stations are strategically located near the load centers and that the transmission network is designed to eliminate too much dependence on one plant.

Total generating capacity is 1,055,500 kilowatts, Yancy said, and the all-time consumption peak so far was 747,000 kilowatts, which was recorded at 5 p.m. on Monday, July 11. Last year's record peak was 725,000 kilowatts on Aug. 11.

WTU officials have forecast a summer peak of 785,000 kilowatts, which is 270,000 kilowatts below the company's generating capacity. This reserve of about 26 percent is considered good by national standards.

And the reserve would more than make up for the loss of the company's largest generating facility, which is the new 200,000 kilowatt unit at the Fort Phantom Power Plant near Abilene.

The system also could receive back-up from neighboring companies, Yancy pointed out.

Heavy consumption occurring this summer in spite of customer efforts at conservation, company officials said. They attribute the increase to the hot weather and to the fact that WTU is serving about 3,000 more residential customers now than at the same

Hospital Staff at Respiratory Meet

Nursing personnel from Childress General Hospital and Collingsworth General Hospital attended a two-hour in-service training session sponsored by the American Lung Association of Texas, Top of Texas Area Wednesday evening, July 13.

Instructor for the program was Dave Clark, Director of the Respiratory Therapy Department at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. The session was held at Childress.

Attending from Collingsworth General were Marie Page, R.N.; Brend Jovero, GN; Alpha Remolona, GN; Cecilia Lacza, GN; Myrna Miteria, GN; Ma Lou Bautista, GN; Eva Enrile, GN; and Fraya Hammons, R.N., director of nursing services.

Accompanying his lecture with a specially developed set of color slides, Mr. Clark discussed respiratory distress syndrome in the newborn, emphasizing the importance of recognizing which obstetrical patients are likely to deliver high risk infants, early detection of respiratory distress symptoms, and what can time last year. Though the system is geared up for any emergency, company spokesmen acknowledge there is no sure guarantee against an electrical outage, particularly those caused by acts of nature.

Yancy said the last system-wide blackout occurred in April, 1961, when a phone wire broke and fell into the Paint Creek substation. The outage spread throughout the system, although all service was restored completely within 40 minutes.

Since then, automatic oil circuit breakers have been installed to prevent a recurrence.

be done in the local hospital to alleviate causes.

He then explained what expert personnel, equipment and services are available to the physician in an out-lying hospital, should he decide to transport his critically ill newborn patient to the Infant Intensive Care Unit at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. These services include on-call, free-of-charge EMS helicopter pickup which Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service has on call, and which is being used with increasing frequency and marked success in helping to save infants suffering from respiratory distress.

This program at Childress General Hospital was part of the Lung Association's Top of Texas efforts to help in reducing the panhandle's high infant mortality rate.

Mrs. Jimmie Sessions represents Collingsworth County on the Top of Texas Area Advisory Council of the American Lung Association of Texas.

Bob Hamilton Heads Texas Press Assn.

Bob Hamilton, publisher of the Iowa Park Leader for the past eight years, but a longtime Texas newspaperman, was elected president of the Texas Press Association at its annual summer convention in Galveston in June.

An almost record crowd of Texas editors and publishers elevated Hamilton from first vice-president to the top position in the 97-year-old newspaper association. He succeeds J.C. Chatmas, Jr., Marlin Daily Democrat publisher, who has become chairman of the board.

Hamilton has had approximately 37 years of varied newspaper experience, beginning with the job of selling his hometown newspaper on the streets of Hereford.

Actually, the 46-year-old publisher was born in Grandfield, Oklahoma, but spent his youth in Hereford. He dropped out of school at one time to spend four years in the U.S. Air Force. While stationed at Anchorage, Alaska, he wrote a ski column for the base newspaper.

When he returned to the Panhandle of Texas, he finished his schooling, which included earning a degree from Amarillo Junior College in 1956.

He immediately went to work for the Moore County News, Dumas, and soon married Dolores, who was to become his partner in production of their newspapers.

Writing, as well as editing, overseeing the back shop and performing business management duties, came natural to Hamilton—he was destined to be the publisher of his own newspaper.

On his first full-time newspaper job in Dumas he got fast-paced experience in a hurry—covering the Shamrock McKee Refinery explosion.

During his coverage, he was burned and hospitalized along with 28 others (19 had died in the explosion). For his writings of this disaster, he was nominated for a Pulitzer prize. A follow-up story on living victims received the Texas Medical Association's coveted Anson Jones Award. This was the first time for a weekly reporter to win the high honor. After two years in Dumas, the Hamiltons made three quick moves to jobs on the Hereford Brand, Olton Enterprise and at the Portales, N.M., Afternoon Daily.

In June of 1959, Hamilton founded a weekly newspaper for irrigation farmers, covering nine counties, at Plainview. Here he had his first experience with offset publication. His farm paper, Plains Farmer, was printed at the state's first web offset central printing plant in Friona.

The same year, he acquired the Kress News, publishing both of them until 1967. He says at that time "hard times hit," so he closed the farm paper and moved to Littlefield to work for Bill Turner on the Leader-News.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Hamilton continued to operate the Kress weekly, commuting to Kress, returning to set type and paste it up in their home in Littlefield, driving to Hereford to print, back to Kress to mail, etc. This was all done while she maintained their home and took care of five small children. "It became too much for her, naturally," says Hamilton, "so we closed out Kress too."

After some two years with the Littlefield newspaper, the Hamilton family moved to Iowa Park and founded the Leader which, under Bob and Dolores' direction, has progressed, been a consistent prize-winner and is one of the state's leading weeklies.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hall and grandson, Jason, of Fort Worth spent from Tuesday until Saturday here visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.S. Hall, Jr., and with other relatives here.

Bob Hamilton

Hamilton is a past president of the West Texas Press Association, Iowa Park's Noon Lions Club and Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce.

Currently, he serves as a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and is chairman of its information committee.

He was chairman of his area's Bicentennial committee which built the city's only public swimming pool.

Hamilton is also active in the Presbyterian Church, Booster Club, Little League baseball, United Way and other civic and community organizations.

The Hamilton's five children include Kellie, a junior at Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls; Kevin, a recent graduate of Iowa Park High School who is deciding on a college to attend; Kim, a senior at the high school; Kay, a high school sophomore; and Kari, a seventh grader.

Owens Named FB Farm Tool Outlet

Owens Farm Supply, 1305 8th Street, has been appointed the official Farm Bureau sales outlet for Safemark Tillage Tool Program, according to T.L. Wilkerson, county FB economic service committee chairman.

These tools are designed to self-sharpen and are manufactured by Osmundson Manufacturing Company, Perry, Iowa, which has been in business since 1903, according to Wilkerson.

"Your Farm Bureau Board of directors believes this new program will help lower costs of production," Wilkerson said.

Mrs. George Henry was in Floydada, Saturday, to visit with her mother, Mrs. Janie Shurbet, and with an uncle, H.A. Ryals of San Angelo, who was visiting in the Shurbet home.

You can BANK on It!

By BILLY MOSELEY President

CITY STATE BANK Sometimes it only takes a little to stir up a major controversy. Right now one such controversy concerns about as little as possible since the center of attention is worth only one cent. In fact, the center of attention IS one cent... more exactly a penny. Copper pennies.

The US Mint puts about 10 billion new pennies in circulation each year. Therein lies the problem. Primarily for two reasons; one, they cost as much to make as they're worth and at the present rate they'll cost twice as much within 15 years and two, they seem to keep disappearing. Fifteen years ago only about five out of every one hundred pennies disappeared... now 65 out of every 100 vanish.

Researchers speculate the penny is becoming invisible simply because it is no longer worth keeping up with. Therefore, the tops of dressers, bottoms of drawers and children's piggy banks are gathering some 650-million dollars a year in copper dust.

Dr. Holton Speaks For TANE July 24

Dr. R.R. Holton, executive director of Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education (TANE) will speak at First Baptist Church, Wellington at 11:00 p.m. on Sunday, July 24.

Reared in Wellington, Dr. Holton has been associated with TANE for over 20 years. After serving as associate director for 12 years, he was named the executive director in February of 1973. He was graduated from Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, Texas, and did graduate work at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas.

He also studied at the Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism at Loma Linda Medical College, Loma Linda, California, and the National Temperance Training School, Louisville, Kentucky. He received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the Atlanta Law School, Atlanta, Georgia. Dr. Holton is a member of the Downtown Dallas Rotary Club.

Under the leadership of Dr. Holton, TANE recently organized a singing-acting group, called DESTINY, which is made up of six college-age young people and performs for an average of 30,000 young people a month in school assemblies, university campuses, civic clubs, conventions and churches.

DESTINY challenges young people to keep America free by keeping themselves free from the fake highs and lows brought on by the unreal world of alcohol and drugs. They encourage young people to turn onto life and realize that they already have within themselves what it takes to "make it" in life, and that there is never a problem that they can't solve with the help of God.

Dr. Holton was host for a three-day Conference on Abstinence held in Dallas in August. The Conference, sponsored by the Task Force on Responsible Decisions about Alcohol of the Education Commission of the States (ECS), was designed to bring together a select group of knowledgeable participants from the areas of government, education, religion, health, youth, and the community at large. The prime goal of the Conference was to develop a rationale for the abstinence point of view in making responsible decisions about alcohol. The output of the Conference is being edited and consolidated into recommendations which will be presented to the ECS at their next meeting. These recommendations will then be presented to HEW and the President.

Other programs include a 175-member speakers' bureau, members of which speak to churches, schools and other organizations across Texas; publishing books; production of audio-visual teaching aids, and multimedia drug education packages for public schools. (TANE's educational materials are used nationally and in 15 foreign countries.); a free film-lending library for Texas churches, schools, organizations; public information service; legislation information service; and an annual seminar on alcohol and drug education co-sponsored with Baylor University.

Bullock Warns Delinquents

AUSTIN--Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday that a new law passed by the Legislature will take all the fun out of being delinquent in paying corporate franchise taxes.

Bullock said that H.B. 1860, effective August 29, increases the risk of personal liability on the part of officers and directors of delinquent firms and provides for swift collection action against new corporations failing to file their first tax report.

The Comptroller explained that annual franchise tax reports are due on June 15 and that those corporations failing to file will have their right to do business forfeited on September 15.

Under current law, he said, officials of these delinquent corporations would not become liable for debts and taxes of the firm until after September 15 and only if it can be shown that they had "knowledge, approval and consent" of the debts.

Under H.B. 1860, he said, officials of corporations losing their right to do business become liable as of the due date of the report--June 15--unless they can show the debt was incurred over their objection or without their knowledge.

Why Not Tax Weeds?

Even the big towns have their troubles keeping weeds from growing up and making property unsightly. A news item in an Oklahoma City weekly newspaper reports 446 Oklahoma City residents were assessed a $57 weed tax last summer for each 25 foot lot they didn't tend to. There, the city-county health department mows the untended lots, then socks the owners with the weed tax. We wonder what the Oklahoma City-County Health Department would think of some Hollis' lots.

Last Farming Frontier

Although the acknowledged leader in agricultural production, America is sadly lagging in aquaculture—the cultivation of water to increase natural seafood supplies or to produce commercial seafood products. Texas' Democratic Senator Lloyd Bentsen offers some staggering figures on this subject. Although by 1973, fish and shellfish production had become a $191 million industry in the U.S., only three percent of our consumption of fish and shellfish was produced through aquaculture. Compare this to Japan and Czechoslovakia where 10 percent of the fish and shellfish consumed come from aquaculture. Currently, the United States is having to import more than 50 percent of its needed fish products, and in 1974, this amounted to $1.5 billion. Should the Bentsen Aquaculture Bill be approved by Congress, it would enable the U.S. to increase supplies of seafood, and at the same time, lower our dependence on the seafood production of other countries.

With more emphasis of aquaculture, we could both seed the oceans for greater seafood production and farm fish inland. At the present, we seem on the verge of a breakthrough in breeding salt water shrimp in captivity.

In Corpus Christi, there have been encouraging experiments in breeding shrimp in thermal effluent from a nearby power plant. As a result, it may be possible to spawn shrimp in bays and estuaries the length of the Texas Coast in a commercial process that has become known as "ocean ranching."

Aquaculture can be an inland activity as well. Near Pecos, hundreds of miles from the coast, promising experiments involving commercial shrimp ponds that are fed by salt water pumped from an ancient ocean deep underground are being carried out. Applications of the program might be used at Lake Kemp—which contains a high mineral content.

Wichita Falls Record News

Good News

There may be good news, not bad, for Middle and Western America in the debate up on Capitol Hill over the tactical use of nuclear weapons.

Instead of beating our breasts over the proliferation of nuclear power, why not promote it in the field of nuclear construction?

Doing what? Producing water, of course. Back some 15 years ago, Dr. Edward Teller, director of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, University of California, Berkeley, came out to the rugged terrain of the Carlsbad region of Eastern New Mexico. He was directing a project named "Gnome" a few miles from Carlsbad. The climax of the Gnome experiment came when a relatively small nuclear device was detonated in a passageway far below the earth's surface.

It went off as planned, shaking the countryside for miles around. But it didn't hurt anybody and destroyed on the surface only what it was meant to destroy.

Dr. Teller interpreted the results minutely and explained how such experiments might one day prove valuable. He spent a day or so in Amarillo and talked largely about the possibility of developing new devices that could move vast areas of earth or destroy whole mountains.

So what can we do now? We could begin searching for water and explore the possibilities of creating new reservoirs where old ones have failed.

Where there is such unlimited power, there is also unlimited good from which to exert it.

STATE CAPITAL

by Lyndell Williams
Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN—Atty. Gen. John Hill and Gov. Dolph Briscoe have rival polls which convince them they can win the 1978 governor's race.

Hill's pollsters concede Briscoe is still out front, but they claim his advantage of incumbency is receding.

The attorney general's problems, the Hill survey maintains, "is to penetrate the consciousness of the masses who don't know him, to impress them favorably and to gain their support while maintaining the support of those who already prefer him over Briscoe."

The Hill poll concluded in one segment that 44 per cent of likely Democratic primary voters surveyed favored Briscoe, while 29 per cent favored Hill, and 27 per cent were undecided. Pollsters for Hill also found a majority of voters are balky about re-electing a governor who would have served 10 years in office by the end of his next four-year term.

Briscoe's campaign manager said the governor has lost no basic strength and even has made gains since November, based on another private survey's findings.

Both Briscoe and Hill have campaign headquarters open here—although Hill has not formally announced.

Former Gov. Preston Smith is regarded as another possible candidate for governor in the 1978 Democratic primary election.

Judges Busy

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals judges and commissioners wrote nearly 19 times as many opinions as State Supreme Court justices last year, according to Texas Judicial Council statistics.

The top criminal court judges turned out 2,177 opinions, compared with 115 (and 667 dispositions of applications for writs of error) by the nine Supreme Court justices.

Fourteen courts of civil appeals wrote 1,562 opinions last year, while 329,373 cases were disposed of in 261 district, domestic relations and special juvenile courts—a two per cent increase over 1975.

Another 286,415 cases

ABERDEEN SCHOOL

This photograph, believed to have been taken around 1912, shows students of north and 4 miles east of Lutie around 1915. Aberdeen community. The school was moved 1 mile west to a location 1 mile were disposed of in county courts, and 918,000 traffic cases were filed in reporting justice of the peace courts—70 per cent of all cases for the j.p.'s.

The Court of Criminal Appeals must write an opinion in every case it decides.

Economizing?

Twenty per cent of Texas visitors travelling by auto last spring stayed in homes of friends or relatives.

The percentage is five times above the in-home visiting level last year.

In spite of generosity of Texas hosts, the visitors did lots of spending, however. The average group traveling by car left $443.46 in the state, an increase of more than $40 above the spring of 1976.

The visitors stayed an average of 10.2 days this spring, 9.91 days in 1976.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court unanimously removed from office District Judge Garth C. Bates of Houston, who was convicted of accepting a bribe.

In other recent action, the high court:

Invalidated an antiquities code provision used to stop demolition of three downtown Dallas buildings. Took under consideration an appeal in an $800,000 judgment against Bristol-Myers drug company favoring a Corpus Christi man who lost his hearing after using an antibiotic for a hip injury.

Heard an argument that a Wichita Falls man should be compensated by Mexico for 218,000 acres of land confiscated from him in the Mexican state of Zacatecas.

A federal judge ordered a stay of execution for Wilbur Charles Collins sentenced to die in the electric chair Sunday for killing a Waco convenience store operator. The State Court of Criminal Appeals earlier had turned down the stay.

AG Opinions

In guidelines to the legislature on school finance,

Atty. Gen. John Hill noted that property taxes must be assessed on the basis of market value and that one kind of property cannot be assessed at a lower percentage of value than others.

ANGELA DAY VIRGINIA RAILLARD JERRY PAUL ALLEN

DAVID GROVES AND ALFRED

Wellington Influence Strong At 1977 Production of "TEXAS"

At least six of those who have a part in the 1977 production of "TEXAS" are former Wellington residents or have close ties here. They are actors, singers, dancers, riders and members of the technical or hospitality staffs.

This is the twelfth season Paul Green's musical drama has played in Palo Duro Canyon.

They are Virginia Fortenberry Raillard, David Groves and his son, Alfred, Jerry Paul Allen, Angela Day and Sam Jones.

They will perform nightly except Sunday through August 20.

Mrs. Raillard is in charge of gifts at "TEXAS". She works closely with her husband who is executive vice president and general manager of the Heritage Foundation. For the first time since the opening of the drama, none of the Raillards' three sons are in the production. She graduated from Wellington High School, attended Mary Hardin-Baylor in Belton and received her B.A. degree from West Texas State University.

She taught school at Mail, Spearman, Texarkana and Wellington before moving to Canyon.

David Groves, sound director for "TEXAS" returned for his fifth season. For the past three years he has been working toward a Doctor of Musical Arts degree at North Texas State University. He holds the B.M. and M.M. degrees from West Texas State University. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Groves.

He redesigned the sound control system in 1974 and heard at the beginning of the show each evening for the "TEXAS" drama.

Groves' son, Alfred, four years old, has the role of Duncan Tatum, one of the children in "TEXAS". This is his first official season, although he has made numerous private appearances before.

SAM JONES

Allen, who has the role of Ray Morgan, is a Wellington native, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Starr and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen, who now live at Canyon.

He is a student in Canyon High School where he is a member of the Chorale, Thespians, National Honor Society, and was president of the Sophomore Class. At CHS he has earned credits in "Hello Dolly", "Scapino!", "Antigone", "All My Sons", "You Can't Take it With You," "Carousel", and the UIL contest play, "Hamlet".

Allen appeared in "The Bacchae", University of Texas at Austin, Drama Workshop in the summer of 1976.

He is a member of the Neil Hess School of Dance and performed in the WTSU production of "Music Man".

Miss Day is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Derryberry and has the part of Mamie Sue Polk in "TEXAS". She will be a freshman at the University of Oklahoma this fall.

It is his trumpet that is built the pushbutton patching system in present use. He is an audio consultant with Illumineering, Inc. and is helping design a sound and light installation for the memorial carving area at Stone Mountain, Georgia.

Groves holds membership in Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

DPW Changes Name Sept. 1

The name of the Texas Department of Public Welfare (DPW) will change to Texas Department of Human Resources effective September 1, according to Nathan C. Martin, of Amarillo, regional administrator.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe signed the bill providing for the change on June 16.

Only one of DPW's programs provides any direct cash grant to the needy, Martin explained. That is the Aid to Families with Dependent Children, (AFDC), a grant to assist the children deprived of the support of at least one parent.

Approximately two-thirds of the money the Legislature appropriates for welfare goes to the Medicaid program, paying nursing homes, hospitals, physicians, and other providers for care and treatment of eligible recipients. In Texas DPW also determines eligibility for persons wishing to participate in the federal Food Stamp program.

Providing social services to abused and neglected children is a major responsibility, also to needy children, and low-income aged, blind and disabled adults. The department also administers state and federal funds in contact agreements with various provider agencies. Assisting communities develop services to the needy.

Governor Proclaims Farm Safety Week

AUSTIN—Governor Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed July 25-31, Texas Farm Safety Week built around the theme "Safety is a Good Investment." Purpose of the observance is to call attention to methods of preventing the needless accidents on Texas farms and ranches that annually take 200 lives and cause multi-million dollar losses.

Governor Briscoe pointed out that safety must be a personal commitment and an integral part of everyday living. It's up to each farmer, he said, to protect priceless human resources through such practices as: developing a home fire escape plan, storing clearly marked poisons well out of children's reach, training family and workers to perform tasks safely, and providing and wearing appropriate protective equipment so that accidents aren't given a chance to happen.

Since traffic, firearms and drowning accidents pose the greatest hazards for Texas farm families, a specific investment in their prevention would be well during Farm Safety Week.

Social Security Warns of Imposter

The Social Security Administration District Office in Amarillo has received reports from the public that they are being contacted by a man who is falsely representing himself as an employee of the Social Security Administration, reports Jim Talbot, District Manager.

"He uses the guise of one of our employees and tells the people that if they are receiving Supplemental Security Income, they are now required to pay eight dollars a month just to receive SSI," says Talbot. "Those who are on SSI are in no way obligated to pay a fee for receiving these benefits."

Federal employees are required to carry proper identification and Talbot urges the public to ask for identification before giving information to anyone. It is a federal offense for a person to falsely identify himself as a federal employee.

"If anyone in the Panhandle area is contacted by someone alleging to be an employee of Social Security and asking for money, please contact me at this office," said Talbot.

DEBRA FLEMING

VICTOR WILLIAMS

No Generation Gap in Wellington Background

An Austin band director and his star pupil have more than the usual teacher-student friendship and it stems from one thing--both have a Wellington background.

Victor Williams, band director at J. Frank Dobie Junior High had already noticed his bright young bass clarinet player, Debra Fleming, but it took a chance visit with her mother, Mrs. Robert Fleming, in an Austin music store one day to bring out that both she and Williams grew up in Wellington--some years apart.

Last year Debra-Deb her friends call her--won first chair in her instrument for the all-region band, one of 9 Williams students to win the honor. Altogether, 1200 Austin ex-students tried out.

The concert was held on the University of Texas Campus.

It was the second time Debra was chosen for the regional band. She also plays in the stage band and has received outstanding rating in contests. Band in the Austin Schools is a credit course.

More honors came to Deb this spring, but the climax was her selection as one of 8 students from all Austin schools chosen to play at the Texas Music Teachers Association 63rd annual convention in Ft. Worth. Their number was "Rhondo."

Besides being such a talented musician, Deb is a straight A student and is listed consistently in the highest bracket of the school's honor roll.

Debra, with her parents, Mary Beth and Robert Fleming, and her brother, Daron, are in Wellington frequently to visit her grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Kelso.

Williams, on the other hand, did not visit his home town for 33 years, until he, his wife and their daughter, Vicki, stopped in 1974 en route home from a Colorado vacation.

His father, was with the Ft. Worth and Denver Railway here, and they moved in 1940.

Williams holds a bachelor's and masters' degrees from Texas Tech University.

Childress Golf Tournaments Set

Childress Country Club will host its annual Greenbelt Bowl Partnership Golf Tournament on August 6 and 7, in conjunction with Childress' Annual Greenbelt Bowl Football Game.

The tournament will be limited to the first 48 paid teams, and teams will be flighted before the tournament from attested handicap scores. There will be shot-gun starts both Saturday and Sunday at 9:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. with 2 flights each time.

Also, Childress Country Club will host an 18 Hole Coaches Tournament Friday morning, August 5, to tee off between 8:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon, for coaches who will be attending the Greenbelt Football Game on Friday night.

All interested teams and coaches are urged to contact Childress Country Club.

As a tribute to his outstanding talent for teaching band to young students, in a recent year, almost one third of the Texas Longhorn Band had been at one time or another, a student of Victor Williams.

SOW CARE REAP FARM SAFETY

Your farm — it's your life's work, pride and happiness, and it's your private piece of the world. That makes it worth worrying about . . . worth caring for. Take the extra time to check safety features, to assure yourself that all equipment, building and electrical components are in A-1 shape. Keep eyes on lookout for fire hazards. Make sure lofts, ladders, silos are secure to avoid injury. Store tools away carefully for added safety.

Keep a constant look-out. When precautions are followed diligently, there is less room for error. Farm safety-checks, most importantly, guarantee your family a financially sound future.

In using electricity YOUR SAFETY is Greenbelt's concern

YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO BE CARELESS WITH ELECTRICITY.

ASK YOURSELF THESE QUESTIONS:

- * Are poles free of any kind of sign?--they're hazardous to our linemen.
- * Are electric circuits equipped with proper fuses?
- * Do you cut off current when working on electric equipment?
- * Are you using approved commercial electric fence controllers?
- * Is the pathway to the main switchbox clear of all obstructions?
- * Do you use moisture proof cords for outside and heavy cords for motors and motor-driven appliances?

If you have one or more of these hazards on your farm we urge you to correct them now.

Bushland, Texas--With the prospect of new taxes on energy, growers will be looking for ways to farm with less fuel.

Recent research on limited tillage in the Great Plains will help solve the problem, concludes Ron Allen and Dr. Bill Fryrear, Agricultural Engineers at USDA Research Centers at Bushland and Big Spring, Texas.

The two engineers with the Agricultural Research Service say that conservation tillage research has been underway in the Southern Great Plains since 1942. In that landmark year a sweep plow was built and tested at the Bushland Center. At that time scientists at Bushland were looking for ways to control wind erosion.

Their machine not only controlled wind and water erosion but conserved soil moisture and increased yield. Since the advent of the sweep plow many other limited tillage practices that conserve water have been developed in the Great Plains. Recent experiments with tractor power requirements show that fuel conservation is an added benefit for limited tillage systems.

The scientists point out that efficient agricultural production will not solve the national energy crisis because farmers only use 3 to 4 percent of the nation's energy budget to produce food and haul it to market. From the growers' standpoint conserving fuel will help farming profitable in an era of constantly rising energy prices.

"Limited tillage will definitely help control wind and water erosion," the scientist pointed out. They found examples of research that prove this in the Great Plains as far north as Madison, South Dakota, where investigators conducted experiments on a 5.8 percent slope.

In the southern Great Plains, controlling wind erosion is a big conservation challenge, the scientist stated. At Bushland, sweep plowing leaves more residue on the soil surface and gives better wind erosion control than oneway plowing. The two plowing methods have been compared in a wheat-fallow cropping sequence since 1942. In addition to decreasing erosion, soil moisture storage during the fallow was increased 1.5 inches per year by sweep tillage. This extra soil moisture increased wheat yield 13 percent or 1.3 bushels per acre. "Over the long haul, that makes a lot of difference in the potential for profit," Engineer Allen pointed out.

In a recent experiment at Bushland, Jack Musick and Dr. Allen Wiese used herbicides to replace disking during fallow periods in irrigated wheat-sorghum-fallow cropping sequence. Weeds were controlled with AATrex and 2,4-D from wheat harvest to sorghum planting. This new procedure increased soil moisture storage 1.5 inches during the 11-month fallow over disk tillage. Grain sorghum yields after the fallow were increased 900 pounds per acre in the 3-year study. Fuel needed to control weeds between the crops was cut from 18 to 5 gallons per acre when herbicides were substituted for tillage. This included fuel used to manufacture herbicides. Life Preservers Must Be Checked

AUSTIN--The aged life preserver which has been sitting in your attic for long periods probably needs some attention before use again for boating and other water sports.

Water safety officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department remind boaters that game wardens check personal flotation devices (PFDs) on state waters and the devices are required to be in serviceable condition.

Fabric on PFDs wears after years of service. Yank of the straps. If the fabric tears, it's rotten and the jacket or cushion should be replaced.

Many lifesaving devices are filled with kapok, a material which remains buoyant only as long as it's dry. The kapok inside should be light and fluffy. If the preserver feels heavy, one of the bags may have ruptured and be waterlogged.

As the weather warms, Parks and Wildlife Department game wardens plan to devote more time and personnel to patrolling Texas' inland and coastal waters.

Furnishings for Famous Inn Sought

AUSTIN--A refurbishing plan and budget has been approved by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission for the purchase of furnishings at the Landmark Inn State Historic Site in Castroville southwest of San Antonio.

The 19th century inn was donated to the state in 1974 by Miss Ruth Lawler. The Parks and Wildlife Department staff has negotiated with Miss Lawler to buy numerous items of furniture for refurbishing eight guest rooms, the office and lounge.

Landmark Inn had its beginnings in 1848, soon after the founding of Castroville. The place became a rest stop for travelers on the busy route between Mexico and San Antonio.
