

Moore... ABOUT EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

"Holiday drivers were warned today that glasses have a dangerous effect on vision. That is, if they've been emptied several times." So says the National Safety Council.

The YWCA Talent Show sounds like a wonderful thing. In fact, it would seem to us that it would be nice to have such a show several times a year. A talent show does two things. It gives some talented folks a chance to show their talent off, and it gives folks such as Moore About, who can't even play the radio, a chance to enjoy their talent.

Milton Day got the fattest deer in Texas, we've been told. His buck weighed out at 103 pounds, after being dressed.

Herb Tanner, C.C. manager, was talking to Boyce House the other day on the phone about Eastland's day at the Fort Worth Stock Show. Tanner took the opportunity to remind Boyce, ex-Eastland newsman, that Eastland was still out here. Boyce admitted it's been too long since he has visited here, and promised a trip soon.

Comes one of those brave unsigned postcards with words of wisdom for the editor. We usually don't print folks letters and cards unless they have enough courage of their convictions to sign their names to 'em, but since this one concerns only Moore About we suppose it won't hurt.

The card, postmarked Austin, says, "It is the opinion of this reader that the editor would be less inclined to call other people stupid if he would pause to reread his own column occasionally."

It may interest the party to know that back in the 1940's we tried that system. In fact we wrote, then rewrote everything which we planned to put in print. Of course we were in college then, and what we put in print was limited enough that we could submit it with very few errors. Back then we read The Dallas Morning News and found fault with the professional's writing. Things have changed, we can tell you.

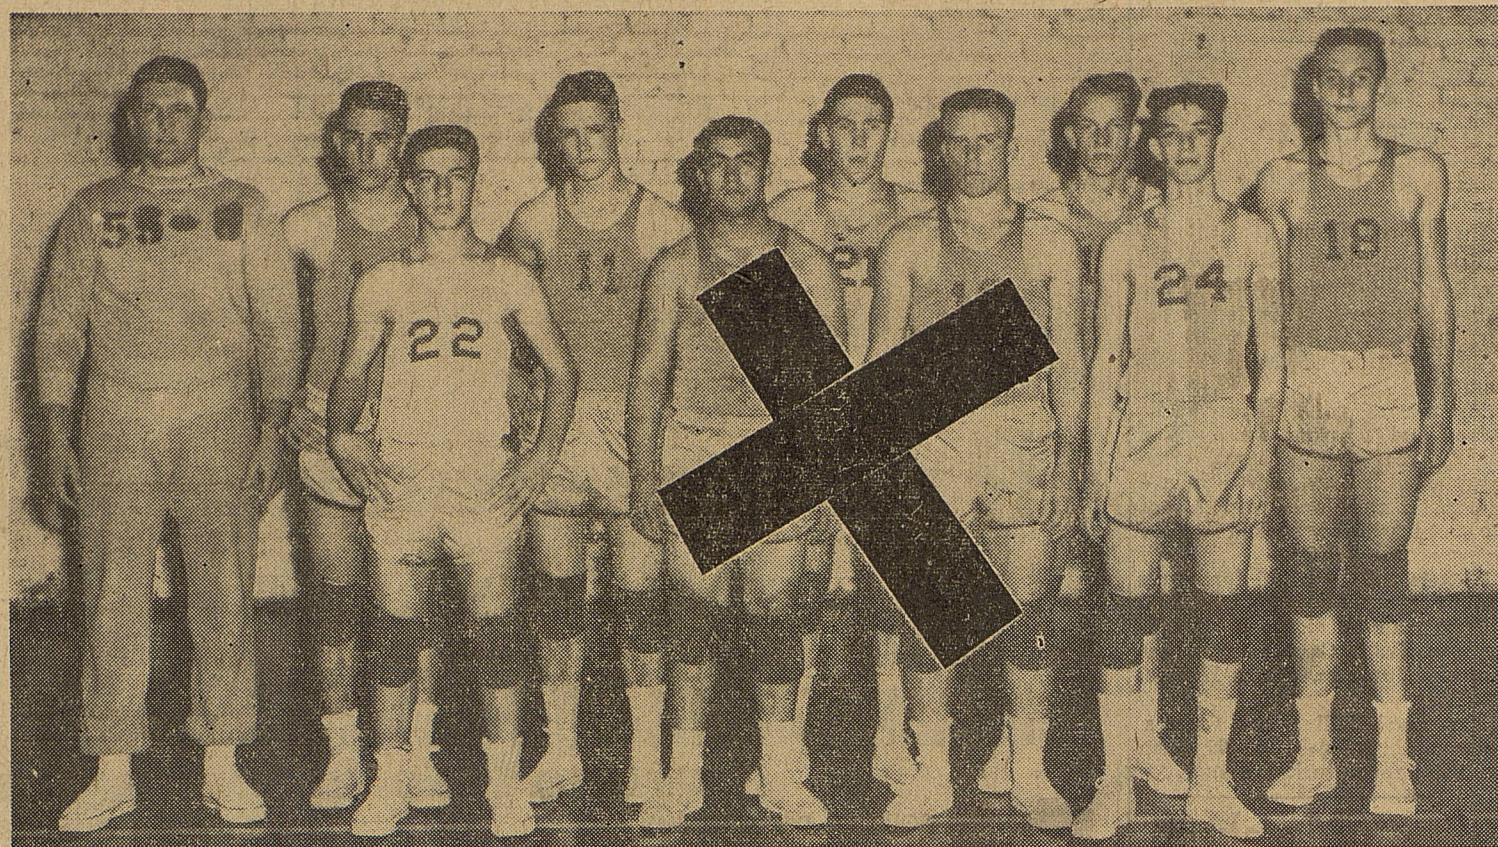

Our writing today may not be the prettiest you can find in this State, and it may not be the best edited. But you can sure tell which side of the fence we are standing on, and we've got our name right up at the top of it!

The Texas Electric Service Co. annual Quarter Century Club banquet, as in the past, was a wonderful occasion.

As always, the meeting had a lot of "good column material" remarks. For instance, when J. B. Thomas, president of TESCO, pointed out that only two employees in the entire company received their 25 year service pins, he added quickly, "And I don't know how they got in for I certainly didn't want to hire anyone in 1932."

Leon Hale, a 1939 graduate of Eastland High School, has one of the best jobs in journalism, of that we are convinced. Leon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hale, writes a column, "Box 1011," for the Houston Post. He has been with the Post since 1948, after graduating from Texas Tech in 1946. Hale and his family live in College Station and he travels quite a bit gathering material. His column is strictly human interest type stuff—the most pleasant type of reporting one can find.

One other pick-up on that TESCO banquet. Frank Sayre, district manager, couldn't help but rib Jim Golden a bit from (Continued on Page Six)

MARK THREE OFF—Three of last year's starting five—some will not be around Friday when Coach Jon Tate issues his first call for basketball workouts. Missing will be Lupe Herrera (17), Harvey Lewis (21) and Dale Slatton (12). That's why the three lads are "marked off" the picture above. Some other promising players will return, however. Pictured above, from left to right, are Coach Tate, Mike Manning, Larry Hollis, Knicky Arther, Herreera, Lewis, Slatton, Johnny McMahan, Clint Humphreys and Otis Green. (Staff Photo).

Texas Electric Honors Employees at Banquet

Thirty-one members of the Texas Electric Service Co. Quarter Century Club were honored Tuesday night at the 10th annual TESCO employees banquet held in the National Guard armory in Ranger.

Texas Electric, as in the past, rolled out the red carpet for their employees and guests. Members of the Ranger Guard unit parked automobiles of all attending, and District Manager Frank Sayre and Mrs. Sayre greeted the TESCO family at the door.

No new members of the Quarter Century Club received the traditional watch at the banquet. J. B. Thomas, president, explained, "We just were not hiring many folks during the depression years."

The 31 members of the club from the Eastland District were seated as a group below the speakers platform, however, and Thomas and Sayre both had high praise for them. Sayre introduced Raymond Alvarado, G. A. Barker, C. L. Bigby, Wayne Caton, J. F. Collins, H. E. Craven, A. Fauth, J. L. Funderburgh, J. K. Golden, H. M. Hart, S. B. Harbison, F. T. Hightower.

O. L. Hooper, H. R. Jones, J. J. Kuhn, A. N. Larson, R. E. Lee, C. L. Little, A. R. Lowmire, Howard McDonald, R. A. Medley, C. L. Mitchell, G. S. Quinn, H. R. Shackelford, Hugh Swindell, J. M. Taylor, Miss M. van Hoose, O. M. White, Earl Woody and R. L. Young.

Following a dinner featuring K. C. steak, Thomas spoke briefly to his "team." He outlined another successful year for the company, pointing out the expansions Texas Electric made during the past year. The prominent West Texas said no man could predict the future, but he said he saw no reason why the coming year should not be another successful year.

He stressed that service was the company's product, saying, "We have built up a good reputation, but it still can be improved."

Leonard E. Read, president of The Foundation for Economic Education, Inc., delivered the main address of the evening. His topic: "What You Can Do About It."

"Wider acceptance of the private enterprise concept cannot be brought about until its adherents themselves fully understand the private enterprise philosophy," Read declared.

"The government has departed from its limited position and entered enterprise after enterprise and assumed more and more responsibility for the welfare of its citizens, with the result that its take of all earned income today is about 33 percent. Little more than a century ago, the average citizen had between 95 and 98 percent freedom of choice with his income dollar. At that time all governments—Federal, state and local—took two to five percent of personal income."

Those in the power and light business "must not remain idle except when socialism poses a direct threat to this industry," he said. "It ought to be clear how woefully ineffective all of us are who come to life only when our own ox is gored. Imagine how effective it would be for medics and others to come to the aid of the power and light industry when 'public ownership' campaigns are on the rampage, and how equally effective this industry would be when making the private property case for others."

In speaking for furthering the understanding of private enterprise, he said, "Our philosophy will prevail only when it has thousands of sources, individual well-springs from numerous walks of life, from persons qualified as teachers. It is a learning problem and the learning process presupposes two conditions: 1.—a person must have a desire to learn a given subject, and 2.—a source from which the learning may be drawn."

He added that "the development-of-self or improvement-of-source method is the only way of improving private property understanding."

It is not enough just to be against so-called public ownership, he declares; nor is it enough to be for private ownership. "The right to control the fruits of one's own labor—without which neither private property nor liberty can exist—depends on nothing short of eloquence, the skillful articulation of the ideas and ideals on which this right rests."

Read said, "Every last one of us can and should make the effort, not half-heartedly, not as an off-hour exercise, but as an integral part of our every word and deed. Nothing less is at stake than the fulfillment of our personal obligations as business stewards, the existence of productive enterprise, and the open door to opportunity to all, now and as far into the future as we can see," he concluded.

Applications for Surplus Foods Must be Complete

J. J. Porter Sr., head of the county surplus foods program, said today that he still has a number of applications in Eastland, Ranger, and Olden which were not completed.

"In order for us to serve these people, we need for them to come to the Eastland office before our next distribution time," Porter said, "and complete the applications. We are not permitted to give time to complete these applications, nor to take new applications during the days that we serve."

Mav Cagers Open Workouts Friday Six Lettermen Are Nucleus of Squad

Coach Jon Tate throws the roundball out here Friday and for the next three months Eastland sports fans will think of basketball.

The Mavericks, who saw their chances spoiled last year by a late start due to their semi-final football performance, will get off to an equal start for a change.

The initial basketball session will start at about 3:30 p.m. Friday in Maverick Gymnasium. Tate will work out his squad for a week, then take a few days off for the Thanksgiving holidays. Then the Mavs will return to get down to serious business. They open their 1957-58 season against Gorman in the home gym Dec. 6.

The Mavs lost three starters off last year's team. Gone are all-district Dale Slatton, Lupe Herrera and Harvey Lewis. Returning from last year's starting team are Clint (Button) Humphrey and Johnny McMahan. Then there's big Otis Green, a very promising sophomore and sure-shot Larry Hollis. Who the other starter will be is anyone's guess. Knicky Arther and Mike Manning are the only other returning lettermen. With those six men to build around, Tate may be able to come up with a winning ball club. He is due to pick up some strength from last year's good B team.

The Mavs will play in District 10-A, along with Wylie, Throckmorton, Clyde and Albany. It's anybody's guess who will win the title this year.

Eastland will play in two tournaments. The Mavs enter the Carbon tourney Dec. 12, 13 and 14 and play in the Olden tournament Jan. 2, 3 and 4. Both tournaments promise to be rough ones, with a number of the larger schools entering teams at both places.

Here's the schedule as released by Coach Tate:

Eleven Eastland Football Players Will Graduate

Eleven Eastland boys have played their last game of football for EHS.

Two of the seniors were starting backs on this year's team and five started at offense or defense for the Mavs as linemen. Seniors on this year's squad were Johnny McMahan, co-captain end; Kenneth Watson, center; Saul Pullman, co-captain fullback; Fred Tucker, center; Charles Thompson, end; Bill Norwood, halfback; Hampton Shipey, tackle; Ronald Robertson, co-captain halfback; Henry Van Geem, guard; Leo (Continued On Page Six.)

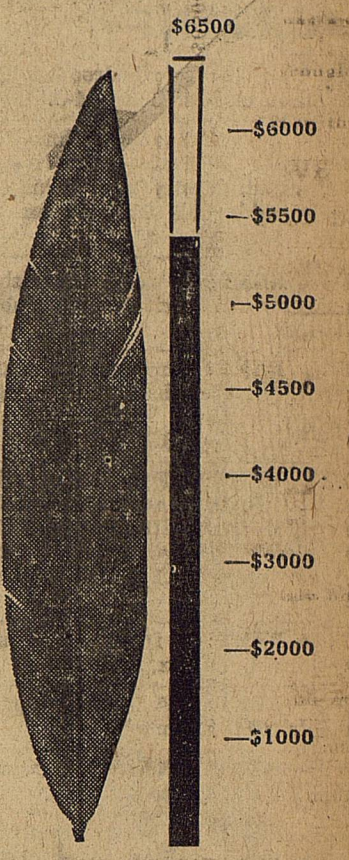

Two Eastland Beauties Named... ...To Represent City at Shows

Two Eastland girls have been selected to represent the city in two different shows. Miss Carol Macmoy will be cowgirl sweetheart from Eastland at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show Jan. 24, and Mary Ann Toombs has been named Eastland princess for the County Pecan Show.

Both girls were named this week by H. J. Tanner, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Jan. 24, opening day of the Fort Worth show, has been proclaimed Eastland Day. The pecan show begins Dec. 6.

at what is known as "One Handred Mile Mountain." Here a battle was fought and the victorious Ranger stuck tent in the luxurious valley, where the Watson Ranch is now situated. The exact date of this battle could not be learned, but it is thought that Captain Whiteside, who lost his life in the Cyclone at Cisco, was in command of the Rangers.

Twenty-five years ago the valley was dotted with tents. One year later A. J. Sims and a Mr. Griffin formed a partnership and carried a stock of general merchandise in a tent store. Mr. Griffin did a thriving hotel business, also in a tent, prior to forming this partnership. There were tent schools and tent churches. Tom Cooper, brother of one of Rangers' most popular teachers, was the first boy born in the town. A little girl made her advent one day before Tom's arrival. In the Ranger valley some 200 or 300 people lived in tents until the railroad came, then houses went up as if by magic. Ranger was built a couple of miles west of where the tent town had its existence. The oldest settler living in Ranger today is John Bryant, who came in 1881.

Ranger has three good church buildings, Methodist, Baptist and Cumberland Presbyterian, with leagues and young people's societies; a high school, which is correlated with the State University, a phone system and water works, bank five doctors and the usual number of stores, eating houses, etc.

In the tent town there were schools and gambling dens. In the Ranger of today there are no houses of vice of any kind.

Ranger has a population of about 750. The Ranger '03 Club—a woman's literary club—has founded a public library and is gradually increasing the number of volumes. (Next: "C. E. Frost, M.D.; A. B. A.M.")

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

The first time I ever saw Dan Moody, he came to Eastland to assist in the prosecution of a man accused of murder. At that time he was the prosecuting attorney of Williamson County and soon afterward he was elected Attorney General.

The trial resulted in a hung jury. The case was transferred to another county and the defendant was freed. (I don't know whether Moody took part in the later trial or not.)

Years later, I sat down beside him at the counter in the Stephen F. Austin Hotel coffee shop in Austin and he related an incident of his first campaign for governor.

He said, in substance: "I made about the same speech everywhere, after making the local references, and I had given it so many times that it was almost automatic. As I was speaking in one town my eyes were roving over the audience when I saw a face that I had seen before. I began to wonder who he was and then it came to me; he was the man I had prosecuted in Eastland. It further occurred to me that he might try to make some trouble. You will recall he was a husky man with cold eyes and he was looking at me intently.

"All this time, I was going on with my speech. "When it was over, a good many in the audience lined up to shake hands and I suddenly found myself face to face with him.

"As he shook my hand, he said in a tone that everyone around could hear, 'You tried to send me to the electric chair but you are a good man and I'm for you.'

"I shook his hand extra heartily."

Jane Mayers Acts As President of Bumble Bee Club

Jane Mayers, acting president, presided over the meeting of the Bumble Bee Junior Music Club meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Felton Hollaway Monday evening.

During the business meeting the group drew names for Christmas. For the program played "Swans on the Lake" and "Man and the Moon," Eileen Smith, "Swans on the Lake," Bill Garner, "Largo," Linda Hollaway, "Minuet In G," and Jane Mayers, "To a Sky-scraper."

Mrs. Hollaway served cocoa and candy to Joe Basham, Bill Garner, Linda Hollaway, Danny Massingill, Jane Mayers and Eileen Smith.

Holiday Salad Is Demonstrated by Miss Weathers

Miss Nancy Weathers, assistant home demonstration agent, demonstrated the way to make a Holiday Salad at the meeting of the Eastland 4-H Club Wednesday in the sixth grade room.

Susan Johnson called the meeting to order and led the motto, pledge and prayer. Julie Frost read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll.

Miss Weathers told the group of the Christmas Party to be held Dec. 9 in the Cisco Junior College gymnasium. She also demonstrated the proper way to demonstrate foods.

Miss Weathers demonstrated how to make a Holiday Salad from cream cheese and fruits. When the salad was finished the group sampled it. They reported, "It sure was good."

After Miss Weathers discussed their projects with them she adjourned the meeting.

Carbon School News

By LINDA COLLINS
Telegram School Reporter

This week is almost over and I think most of us will be glad to see it end because this is the week for six week's test. Hope all passed.

Our football game! Thursday night did not turn out so well. We lost 70-14. But we are still proud of our boys and I think we had a pretty good season. Ronald Cook and James Wyatt are the ones who made the touchdowns.

This was our last football game of the season and basketball season has already made its entry. The first basketball was played Friday night at Gustine. The girls had a victory of 52-48 and the boys lost with the score of 45-39. It was a couple of good ballgames.

They also played Tuesday night at Desdemona but at the time of this writing the score was not known. The first home game will be Friday night at 7 p.m. Carbon girls (only) will play DeLeon girls. Admission will be 35c for adults and 25c for students.

In case you would like to see a few of Carbon basketball games here is the schedule for the year: Nov. 22, DeLeon (girls only); here; Nov. 26, May, there; Nov. 28, 29 and 30, Desdemona tournament; Dec. 3, Brooksmith, here; Dec. 6, Desdemona, here; Dec. 10, Brooksmith, there; Dec. 12, 13 and 14, Carbon Tournament; Dec. 17, Bangs, here; Dec. 20, Gordon, there; Dec. 31, Gustine, here; Jan. 2, 3 and 4 Olden tournament; Jan. 7, Gordon, here; Jan. 10, Bangs, there; Jan. 14, Olden, there; Jan. 17, Gorman, there; Jan. 21, Desdemona, here; Jan. 24, Strawn, here; Jan. 31, Olden, here; Feb. 4, Gorman, here; Feb. 4, Desdemona, there; Feb. 11, Strawn, here.

Conference games will begin on Jan. 17 with Gorman at Gorman. Back to football for just a minute. Football season would not be complete if we did not have a football banquet. Plans are just about complete and we will begin decorating the cafeteria Friday afternoon. We will finish the decorating in time for the banquet Saturday night at 7 p.m.

Dr. Price Ashton, president of the Ranger College, will be speaker at the banquet. I think the banquet is going to be really nice and I wouldn't miss it for anything. One thing for sure that it will be one of the highlights of the evening will be presentation of the football sweetheart and football hero. Their names remain a secret until the night of the banquet.

Pep squad met for their last meeting Tuesday afternoon. They are the ones that are responsible for the banquet that is given at the end of each football season. Mrs. Ed Willman is their sponsor.

A called F.F.A. meeting was held Friday for the purpose of presenting Kathy Underwood, F.F.A. sweetheart, with a sweetheart jacket. She acts very proud and I know she is. It sure is pretty.

That's it for now.

The column today will feature briefs on foods and nutrition. In adding a special touch to a meal, "little things mean a lot."

Quick loaf breads add extra energy and interest to meals—delicious served hot, in sandwiches, or as toast for breakfast. To make tasty banana nut, prune, or peanut butter bread, get a copy of Extension Bulletin, "Quick Loaf Breads," from the agents' office.

Try new garnishes for soup... Everyday food items which make unusual soup garnishes are thin strips of canned pimiento, paper thin slices of lemon, orange or lime, slices of stuffed olive, and grated or crumbled cheese. Whipped cream with a dash of horseradish is good with some types of soups. With tomato soup, try pop-eit corn.

Eating tossed green salads is an easy way to "take" vitamins and minerals. Dark green and yellow vegetables are excellent sources of vitamin A. High on this list of vegetables are fresh cabbage and other salad greens, carrots, asparagus, broccoli and green peppers.

IN 58 DAYS A '58 PLYMOUTH RAN 58,000 MILES—EQUAL TO

MORE THAN TWICE AROUND THE WORLD

AND IT DROVE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY!

We knew this car was tough.

We designed it that way.

That's why we weren't afraid to give Plymouth the toughest test run of all time... with all America as the "track."

We didn't coddle this Plymouth. Didn't crate it and ship it carefully from place to place. Instead, we aimed it out of Los Angeles one misty morning and sent it through a course that ran 58,000 miles through 37 states.

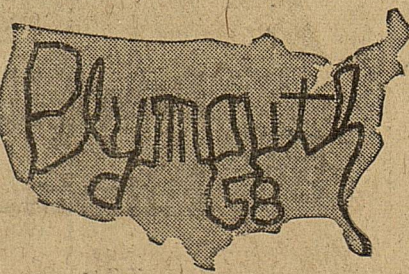

The time limit? Only 58 days.

A thousand miles a day!

The equivalent of 6 years' driving crammed into little more than 8 weeks!

Three times this Plymouth crossed the Rockies. Three times it wound its way up and down across the country... passing through more than 1200 cities and towns. Whipping over turnpikes... creeping through city traffic... arrowing down super-highways... feeling its way through 500 miles of rutted detours. And when the drivers turned the key to end the marathon, it still looked, ran and rode like new.

This is what lasting value really means. The ability to take everything that American roads and weather can dish out—and come up grinning. Why don't you give Plymouth a test drive yourself—today? You'll see what we mean.

That's the Plymouth "track"... and just look at that route! Every possible road and weather condition. Plymouth ran every inch of that murderous route 3 times in just 58 days. What greater proof of lasting, built-in stamina!

Star of the Forward Look...

ahead for keeps!

Brazil Nuts Make Special Stuffing

Brazil nut's chopped with all their creamy richness contribute a provocative flavor and texture to poultry dressings. This dressing will get as much interest and praise as the turkey.

If you're baking one of the smaller turkeys this holiday season, you may want to serve part of the dressing as a side dish. The turkey cavity will probably not hold an adequate supply for all guests. This extra portion can be baked in aluminum foil the last hour the turkey is in the oven. Put the envelope of dressing in the corner of the roasting pan with the turkey.

Particularly excellent of flavor is a Brazil nut, raisin and bread crumb stuffing. The nuts and raisins give moisture to the bread crumbs, and this fruit-nut addition doubly steps up the flavor of the bread base.

Brazil Nut Raisin Stuffing

3/4 cup butter or margarine	2 cups raisins
1/2 cup finely chopped onion	1/2 cup chopped parsley
3 quarts soft bread crumbs	1 tablespoon salt
2 cups finely chopped Brazil nuts	1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups finely diced celery	3/4 cup water or stock
	1 8-10 pound turkey

Melt butter, add onion and cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add bread crumbs, Brazil nuts, celery, raisins, parsley and seasonings. Cook about 5 minutes over medium heat, stirring constantly. Add water or stock, toss lightly. Stuff turkey with part of the stuffing. Put remaining stuffing in center of square of aluminum foil. Fold and press sides tightly together. Roast turkey. Place aluminum-wrapped stuffing in oven during last hour of roasting. YIELD: 10 cups.

Mrs. Jay Whatley presented "The Burnished Sword" by J. H. Mac Lelese, Monday evening at the Thanksgiving party for members of Las Leales Club.

Mrs. Whatley told the story of the translation, printing and distribution of the Bible in English. She pictured the turbulent times of 1526, which was the beginning of the Restoration period. The setting was in Antwerp. It was beautifully told and well received.

The party was in the Woman's Club where the hostesses had prepared tables for groups of four. They were laid with brown linen cloths and centered with miniature cornucopias filled with flowers and nuts.

Pie, nuts and coffee were served. Other hostesses were Mrs. H. L. Hassell and Misses Verna Johnson and Gladys Green.

The Club room was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums. The table held fruits, nuts and flowers.

Miss Johnson read President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving proclamation setting Thanksgiving Day Nov. 28.
