Dixiecrats Lose In State Demo Meeting

Truman-Barkley Ticket Certified; Fight Looms At State Convention

AUSTIN, Aug. 9—The state Democratic executive committee today certified the names of Truman and Barkley as party nominees for president and vice-president over protests of the Texas Dixiecrats.

At the same time the executive committee rejected a Dixiecrat demand that it submit a referendum on the Truman-Thurmond issue to party voters in the Aug. 28 primary.

The vote was 42 to 18 to table a resolution providing for such referendum.

Arguments Hot

Opponents—the so-called Loyalist party faction headed by Gov. Beauford H. Jester, argued the committee had no authority to submit such referendum and that it was part of a scheme to disrupt the party. They said this would lead to destruction of the two-party system.

Proponents centered their arguments on contentions that the Truman civil rights proposals were aimed at destruction of the southern social system and the party's long standing principles, and that the Democratic voters of the state should have an opportunity to speak directly on the issue.

Separate Ballot

The States' Rights Democrats, or Dixiecrats, wanted the committee to authorize a separate ballot on this question:

"For J. Strom Thurmond and Fielding S. Wright as the nominees of the Democratic party for president and vice-president, respectively.

"For Harry S. Truman and Alben W. Barkley as the nominees of the Democratic party for president and vice-president respectively."

The voters would have been instructed to scratch one.

Jester Scored

The executive committee in effect said it had no authority to rescind the May convention's party loyalty pledge.

The action was taken after proponents of the referendum sharply criticized Gov. Jester as having helped to start the Dixiecrat movement, then swapped to the side of Truman.

Executive Committee Chairman Robert W. Calvert defended Jes-

GOP Tries To Get Jump On Truman Blast

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 — Republicans jumped in ahead of a predicted White House blast at Congress today with the argument that the extra session gave President Truman all he needs to curb inflation.

They added that the price problem may soon solve itself anyway.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee, set forth these contentions in a statement and a news conference. He said:

1. War and administration policies of the last 14 years are the real cause of inflation; the tight controls Mr. Truman asked would "tie down the safety valve" while the furnace is being stoked.

2. When the President called Congress together he already had enough powers to put a rein on inflation but the lawmakers gave him more.

Situation Serious

3. While the present economic situation is "serious" there is nothing in it "likely to produce an extreme inflation or a depression;" he doesn't even see now any need for new Congress action on the subject at the new session in January.

4. Prices already show signs of leveling out and "by the time we get back we may be trying to do something about deflation."

The argument revolves around the consumer credit controls and increased bank reserve requirements which were all Congress voted out of the list of anti-inflation measures Mr. Truman requested. The President wanted selective price and wage controls and rationing powers, among other things.

Associates predicted freely today that Mr. Truman will sign the bill and at the same time unburden his mind publicly on what he thinks are its shortcomings.

The same prediction was made with reference to the other major measure passed at the special session ended Saturday night—a housing bill shorn of the public housing features Mr. Truman wanted.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) chairman of the Democratic campaign speakers committee, said the measures represent "some advance

Reds Claimed Sending Guns To Frontiers

By GEORGE BRIA
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Aug. 9—Russian army commanders were reported today to be concentrating strong forces, building defenses and sending weapons, including rocket guns, to the border between the Soviet occupation zone and Western Germany.

The reports came from the British-licensed newspaper Telegraf and from a German journalist who said he fled Russian arrest. Telegraf quoted Germans who said they were pressed into service by the Russians. At Hof, along the American-Russian zonal frontier, German and U. S. border officials said, however, they had no indication the Russians were erecting weapon points there.

It was difficult to assess the meaning of the reports. Troop activity could be normal maneuvers. American officials said tightening of frontier controls has been going on for months to cut down the flow of illegal German border crossers.

Commenting on the Telegraf's account, an American military government official in Berlin said: "We can't say precisely what it means because the Russians always have liked to put up such physical barriers."

Reports Food Shortage

The German journalist, Alfred Bienert, 29, evaded border police in a weekend flight with his wife. He said in Hamburg that strong Soviet forces were concentrated 30 miles east of the Brtiish zone and contended border control points had been strengthened with both German and Red army guards.

Bienert also brought fresh reports of a critical food shortage in the Soviet zone. He said only about three ounces of the official 10-ounce monthly fat ration is being delivered and that sugar and cheese are being substituted for some missing items.

As the Berlin blockade passed its 45th day, Dr. Ferdinand Friedensburg, Christian Democrat deputy mayor of Berlin, said the city government was marking time to "avoid hasty actions that might prejudice the negotiations in Moscow."

Allied Diplomats, Molotov Confer

MOSCOW, Aug. 9 (AP) — American, British and French diplomats conferred for three hours tonight with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. They were believed to have heard Russian views on proposals for negotiating East-West differences on Germany and perhaps all of Europe.

U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, British special envoy Frank Roberts and French ambassador Yves Chataigneau left the Kremlin at 7:45 p.m.

All three appeared in good spirits. As was the case after the previous conferences here, the western envoys had nothing to divulge beyond the fact that they had seen Molotov.

Envoys Confer

Subsequently Smith, Roberts and Chataigneau met at the British embassy, just across the Moscow river from the Kremlin, for a conference among themselves. Advisory staffs of all three missions were at the embassy awaiting their arrival.

The British embassy meeting was believed concerned with the informative telegrams the envoys will send their home governments concerning their talks with Molotov. Previously the envoy's post-Kremlin sessions were held at the

Return Of Russian Teacher Demanded

State Department Rejects Soviet Charges Pending Full Investigation

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—Soviet Russia charged formally tonight that Russian citizens in the United States are being kidnapped and terrorized, and demanded that Russian school teacher Mikhail I. Samarin be returned to Soviet custody.

Undersecretary of State Lovett rejected the charges and the demand for Samarin's release, pending a complete examination by the American government of all facts.

Rep. Mundt (R-S.D.), acting chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, said Samarin and his wife will be served with a subpoena tomorrow for appearance at a future date.

Kidnapping Charged

He described Samarin as being in "a safe place" and expressed belief that within 24 hours he will renounce his Soviet citizenship and ask to remain in the U. S.

The charges and the demand for Samarin were made by Soviet Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin. He said he handed Lovett a note from his government alleging that Samarin and Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, another Russian school teacher, had been kidnapped by force.

Panyushkin made his announcement at a hastily-called news conference at the Russian embassy shortly after conferring for a half hour with Lovett.

Russian In Custody

The envoy presented his case to Lovett and was immediately informed that the United States intended to ascertain all the facts of the admittedly conflicting incident before taking its next steps.

(In New York the Daily Mirror said it has learned that Samarin, who informed the FBI he wishes to testify before Congress, is in the "custody" of the House Un-American Activities committee.)

Panyushkin referred scornfully to Rep. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, who has said that Samarin wants to stay in the U. S.

The ambassador called Mundt "a political youth, sick of some nightmares." When Mundt's name came up later, Panyushkin repeated: "I have already said he is full of nightmares."

The ambassador also inferred

Probers' Key Witness Balks

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—A mystery witness billed as the man who could "break" the whole Red spy ring case refused to talk today, but a congressman declared the man once confessed a part in Soviet espionage.

An investigator for the House Un-American Activities committee testified the witness had served as a courier for an alleged Soviet agent and had dealt with U. S. government officials in Washington.

Sticks To Silence

The Witness, 51-year-old, London-born Alexander Koral, stuck to his policy of silence on the ground that to answer queries flung at him by the committee might incriminate him.

He refused time after time to answer questions on whether he was or ever had been a Communist, whether he knew Elizabeth T. Bentley who first told in the open the story of a network of Red pipelines running into the government's most secret places, or had dealings with persons named as links in the Red chain.

When Rep. Herbert (D-La) asked Koral whether he had "signed a statement confessing membership in an espionage ring related to the Soviet government," Koral stood on his constitutional rights not to answer.

"If I told you that I know you signed a confession, what would you say about that?" Herbert asked then.

"I would not say anything

Rains Benefit Cotton Crops

CROP prospects for dryland farmers were looking up today after rainfall ranging from light showers to one and two-inch downpours fell over the South Plains yesterday afternoon and last night.

Lubbock, however, was not so fortunate, as the thermometer hit the 100-degree mark for the third time in four days and rainfall measured only .03 of an inch at the Municipal Airport.

Heavy Near Anton

The Anton and Shallowater area received the most rain, with weather observers in those points reporting rains up to two inches, the heaviest falling south of Anton. A light sprinkle was reported from Shallowater late last night.

Only a trace was reported at Tahoka but light showers were general in Lynn county. Traces were also reported from Slaton and Littlefield, while low clouds were hanging over most South Plains points.

Weather reports from Lorenzo, however, were not so bright.

Hail Damages Cotton

Bert Flowers, a Lorenzo cotton ginner, reported that a hailstorm Sunday had severely damaged a three-mile strip north of the city. The strip reportedly extends as far as Crosbyton on the East and Estacado on the west. Some of the cotton in the Lorenzo vicinity had been damaged as much as 50 per cent by a hail storm July 10.

Little relief from the heat was reported in sight for residents of the Lubbock vicinity. The forecast was for partly cloudy today and Wednesday with scattered thundershowers this evening but little change in temperature.

Six Missing After Dallas Fire Found

DALLAS, Aug. 9 (AP) — Fire Marshal W. G. Burns said tonight six missing occupants of an apartment house swept by fire were accounted for following an extensive check.

Burns said four persons were rescued by firemen and one other leaped to safety from the second floor of the 10-unit two-story brick building.

Burns estimated damage at $75,000. He said the fire started as the result of a faulty air conditioner.

J. W. Gaines, 50, an auto mechanic, jumped from a window. His fall was broken by an awning on the first floor. He suffered minor cuts.

Business houses occupy the first floor of the building.

SOVIET ENVOY ARRIVES

TEL AVIV, Aug. 9 (INS)—Russia's first envoy to Israel, 34-year-old Pavel Ivanovitch Yershov, arrived in Tel Aviv tonight. James MacDonal, the American envoy, is due in Tel Aviv Friday. The 17-member Russian mission and the American embassy staff will live in the same hotel.

REA Dedication Scheduled Today

TAHOKA, Aug. 9. (Special)—Another milestone in the history of South Plains and rural electrification progress will be marked here Tuesday when the new office building of the Lyntegar Electric Co-operative is dedicated before what is expected to be the largest crowd ever to assemble in this city.

More than 5,000 persons are expected to attend the ceremonies, which will be highlighted by an address by Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock.

Barbecue Planned

The ceremonies, to begin at 10 a. m., will also include a barbecue, addresses and reports by co-operative officials and election of officers.

Master of ceremonies will be Tom Garrad of Tahoka, attorney for the co-operative. The dedication events will be opened with group singing led by Sheldon Russell, music director of the Tahoka First Baptist church, to be followed by an invocation by Rev. C. A. Holcomb, pastor of the First Methodist church in Tahoka.

The welcome address is to be delivered by District Attorney Calloway Huffaker.

Officials of the co-operative scheduled to make reports include John Heck of Wilson, president, and G. Q. Hensley, secretary.

The co-operative's 1,900 miles of lines—with over 4,700 connections—now serve ten counties; Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Hockley, Cochran, Garza, Borden, Dawson, Gaines and Martin.

First Draftees May Not Be In Army Until Mid-November

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP) — The first draftees won't be in the Army until some time in November, Major Gen. John E. Dahlquist estimated tonight.

Dahlquist, who is deputy director of personnel and administration, emphasized that plans are very tentative but he expected small numbers of men would be taken about mid-November.

Winston Brummett, assistant county attorney, presented the cases before Ralph Brock, acting county judge in the absence of Judge Walter Davies.

Bumper Crop Is Forecast For Texas

Cotton Prices Drop After U.S. Estimate

(By The Associated Press)

Texas spot cotton markets dropped quickly Monday after the government issued a 1948 bumper cotton crop forecast.

The government's estimate for this year's yield was 15,169,000 bales, the seventh largest crop on record with 3,318,000 bales more than last year's.

The Texas forecast was 3,500,000 bales. The crop was reported 79 percent of normal with an indicated 187 pounds per acre yield.

Spot Cotton Down

Cotton futures broke $3 a bale on the Dallas cotton exchange.

Spot cotton was down 55 at Dallas and 50 at Houston and Galveston. The quotation at Dallas and Houston was 31.10 and at Galveston 31.15.

"The market has been declining gradually the past few weeks in anticipation of a full report," said K. G. Hunt, secretary-treasurer of the Dallas Cotton exchange, "but no one had expected it to be this full."

Hunt said the break might have been larger if cotton had not been approaching the government loan level.

On the New Orleans cotton exchange prices slumped $2.35 to $2.90 a bale under last week's closing figure. At New York the decline ranged from $2.05 to $.65 a bale.

Active selling of future deliveries came immediately after traders learned that the Agriculture department's estimate of a 15,169,000 bale crop was more than a million bales higher than the average of previous private estimates.

This could mean that large stocks would be carried over into the 1949 crop year.

In the presence of heavy supplies of cotton, some dealers said, buyers of textiles might be expected to curtail purchases for forward delivery. However, increasing costs in the textile industry probably would cause resistance to pressure for lower prices.

It was pointed out that cotton futures are not far above the level at which government loans are available. Trade sources said this limited the severity of today's decline. In fact, some deliveries closed slightly above their lows for the day.

Honest Negro Finds Guards Barring Way Back Into Prison

(By International News Service)

SANTA FE, N. M., Aug. 9 Honest Norman Darrow found it hard to get into the state penitentiary in Santa Fe today when he returned voluntarily to complete a life sentence as a habitual criminal.

Guards refused to admit the 41-year-old negro until Warden Howell Gate intervened.

Darrow had been conditionally released from the New Mexico prison early this year. He went to Spokane, Wash., where he was picked up for vagrancy and sentenced to a short term in jail. When Warden Gate heard of the incident he sent Darrow a return bus ticket and $10. Darrow returned to New Mexico from Washington alone.

The Spokane sentence made Darrow a parole violator. He was originally sent to the state penitentiary from Lea county in 1940.

U. S. Presents List Of 'Musts' For Agreement On Danube Pact

(By The Associated Press)

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 9. —With little hope of success, the United States today introduced its major requirements for a new international pact on control of Danube river shipping.

They represented, as a whole, the American price for any agreement with eastern Europe's Communist bloc which would open the Danube to unrestricted traffic from Germany to the Black sea.

The United States' list of musts was represented in the form of amendments to a Soviet draft plan for a Danube convention which would give the Communist states exclusive control over the waterway.

Britain and France filed several amendments along parallell lines. Members of the western powers' delegations, outnumbered seven to three, held a series of private meetings today to chart a unified course of action when detailed debate on the Soviet plan opens tomorrow.

The major terms upon which the western powers will insist—and their differences with the Russian draft—are these:

1. Hard and fast guarantees of free navigation for vessels of all nations on a footing of entire

Meat Sales Are Reported Near Normal Despite Price Campaign

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

A survey made Monday night among grocery store owners and officials revealed meat buying in local stores to be at about normal level, with no noticeable drop in meat sales as a result of the campaign which opened today against high meat prices.

Almost all the grocers contacted commented, however, that today—first day of the campaign—was too early to indicate how effective the campaign might be later in the week.

A spokesman for Piggly Wiggly stores in the city said that the meat boycott campaign Monday did not affect meat sales in any of the seven stores.

A Furr Food official reported substantially the same thing. He said the meat sales in most of the seven local Furr stores were up with the Monday before, and that some were a little above.

All things considered, he said, Monday's meat sales were "a good average."

H. T. Stovall of the ABC Food store at 1002 Ave. T said yesterday's meat sales at his store were about equal to meat sales of any other recent Monday. He explain-

Tech Given $35,000 For Cotton Research

Texas Technological college Monday was allocated $35,000 for the conducting of research on cotton fibers during the fiscal year beginning September 1, according to a report from the Associated Press on the Cotton Research committee meeting in Abilene.

The amount of last year's allocation to Texas Tech for this purpose was not available here last night.

Seed research being carried on at Texas A. & M. was allocated $50,000, and study of economic conditions, at Texas university, was allocated $45,000.

Additional Funds Urged

The Cotton Research committee is composed of the president of Texas Tech, Dr. W. M. Whyburn, the chancellor of Texas A. & M., Dr. Gibb Gilcrest, and Dr. T. S. Painter, president of Texas university. Mark Wood is director of the research being carried on at Tech.

The committee also approved a recommendation of John Leahy, administrative director, College Station, that it ask the next Texas Legislature for an appropriation of $250,850 per year for the research projects for 1950 and 1951.

Reds Hurl Arms Reduction Blast

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 9 (AP)—Russia declared today the United States and Britain are wrecking United Nations talks on arms reductions.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik made his charge before the UN commission for conventional armaments in a scathing attack on the two western powers.

He was particularly bitter about the United States which he said was steadily increasing its armed forces while talking about slashing armaments. This, Malik said, was undermining international confidence.

U. S. Claimed Threatening

Malik declared the United States and Britain already had wrecked atomic control talks, discussions on creation of a world police force and efforts to agree on peace treaties for Germany and Japan.

Now, he said, they are saying that arms cannot be reduced until the peace treaties are signed, atomic controls are established and the UN military force is set up.

Dmitri Z. Manuilsky, foreign minister of Soviet Ukraine, joined in the attack. He said Russia had demobilized class after class of her troops, while the U. S. went ahead building up her strength.

Manuilsky said the whole world knows there is not a single nation threatening the United States, but that it is the U. S. which is threatening other countries.

AUTO DEALERS NOT WORRIED

Tight Credit Controls May Hit Ordinary Wage Earner Hardest

By SAM DAWSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—The little fellow who buys on time may be in for a rude jolt.

To get those things he's been drooling over, he may have to put up more cash and then try to find more money for bigger monthly payments. A lot of businessmen are afraid the little fellow won't be able to do it.

Some Sales May Drop

If the Federal Reserve board goes back to wartime controls on installment buying, as authorized under legislation Congress sent to the White House, sales of home appliances, home furnishing and furniture may drop by 10 percent or more. Retailers who have been finding business slow even under the present liberal credit terms are pretty pessimistic about the outlook.

Automobile dealers, however, say: "So what? Our total sales won't be affected. A few little fellows may not be able to meet the new terms. But these controls would expire next March 15, anyway. And we have such long lists of people waiting for new cars that the little fellow who is squeezed out won't be missed."

Other Goods May Sell

But, if 15-month payments are the new rule, that might mean around $95 a month—too rich for the blood of many a wage-earner.

Department stores expect to lose business on some floors and gain on others. Furniture sales on time may be hurt. But many of the little fellows who can't buy durable goods under stricter credit terms will have a little more money in pocket to buy more soft goods and notions.

The heavy goods industries and those dealing with products still in short supply say the sales picture will not be changed in any way—the problem there is time delivery and not terms of payment.

The Federal Reserve board's intentions have not been announced, but its rules on consumer credit before regulation was ditched last November called for:

Down payment of one third and 15 months to pay on automobiles, electrical and household appliances. Down payment of 20 percent and 15 months to pay on furniture.

There has been no extensive migration of workers from the Rio Grande valley and the current estimate is that 96,000 persons are busy in the cotton harvest.

HOFFMAN TIGHTENS RULES

ECA Chief Sounds Warning On Inflationary Foreign Aid Buying

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 — The Economic Cooperation administration joined the government's anti-inflation drive today with a double-barreled warning to buyers and sellers of Marshall plan supplies.

ECA administrator Paul G. Hoffman said he is personally taking charge of the matter, and that new regulations effective tomorrow will require:

New Rules Outlined

1. That all foreign aid suppliers must sign an oath that "the purchase price is no higher than the market prevailing in the United States."

2. That Marshall plan countries must pay from their own treasury funds for any American goods bought at premium rates, and must also refund promptly to ECA the full amount of the purchase price.

The latter rule will enable the foreign aid administration to penalize countries making inflationary purchases, by deducting the amounts of the purchases from their ECA allocations.

Hoffman said further stringent regulations and penalties will be drafted if necessary to prevent Marshall plan buying from bidding up prices in this country.

Price Experts Ready

Up to now, the ECA has merely "screened" foreign aid bills to determine roughly whether they were in line with the general market.

Beginning tomorrow, it will have a staff of price experts to ferret out over-charges.

One concession allowed in the new regulations permits adding transportation costs to the "adjusted price" of bulk commodities.

Former automotive executive Hoffman, however, will retain a czar-like power to decide whether any price is fair or would be inflationary.

Hoffman said the price-determining machinery will be drastically tightened in every respect.

The ECA's basic allotments of funds to Marshall plan buyers reached $1,140,000,000 today when new allocations were made to Belgium - Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

The Belgium-Luxembourg customs union was given $21,000,000 and the Netherlands $30,000,000 for the July-September period.

In addition, the Netherlands received $12,000,000 from the world bank to buy six American aircraft carriers, so-called "flattops," which are being converted to cargo vessels.

Defeat Of Greek Guerrillas Seen

JOSEPH L. RANFT
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 9 — Dwight P. Griswold, head of the American mission to Greece, predicted today the complete destruction of the Greek guerrilla army "in a couple of weeks."

He said success is in sight despite failure of Greek officials to co-operate wholeheartedly with the U. S. aid mission.

Griswold en route home after a year in Greece, said in Berlin that he expects the current Greek government campaign in northern Greece to end with the wiping out of 6,000 to 8,000 Communist-led guerrillas.

He said, however, that it "may be a couple of years before the bandits are cleared out completely" with results depending on "forces outside the control of Greece." This apparently was a reference to aid that may come from Greece's northern neighbors.

(An Athens communique claimed new government gains in the Nestorian area of the Grammos range where the guerrillas were said to have evacuated a string of villages.

(Maj. Gen. James Van Fleet, chief of the U. S. military mission, said guerrilla chief Markos Vathiades "has lost the game.")

Griswold expressed dissatisfaction with the way Greek officials have been co-operating with his mission. He said:

"They have not been willing to make hard, tough decisions which are politically unpopular.

"They are inclined to take the easy road, giving salary raises and subsidies to every pressure group.

"That habit is not unknown among politicians elsewhere."

Griswold added, however, that his mission did get considerable constructive help in building roads and bridges in Greece, developing the port areas and re-opening the Corinth canal. He said:

"The outlook in Greece has greatly improved militarily and economically compared with a year ago when I arrived in Athens. I am very optimistic."

While stopping in Berlin, he and his wife visited their daughter, Mrs. John Gayer, wife of a military government official.

Over 120 Pounds Horse Meat Seized From Houston Grocery

HOUSTON, Aug. 9. (U.P)—More than 120 pounds of what was believed to be horse meat was seized from a Houston retail grocery and impounded, Dr. Fred K. Laurentz, city health officer, revealed today.

Laurentz said the meat was taken by Dr. J. W. Williamson, new chief veterinarian who last week charged that a horse meat gang still was operating here.

"PALE AS A GHOST"

That's one of the signs of a Borderline Anemia

Nearly everyone looks pale at times. Some people naturally have less color in their cheeks than others.

But if your complexion is too often pale and sallow—if your manner is jaded, your energy under par—faded red blood cells may be the reason. You may have a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency. Medical studies indicate that up to 68% of women—many men and children—have this blood condition.

Weariness and pallor have many causes—always consult your doctor regularly. But if you have this Borderline Anemia, remember: Ironized Yeast Tablets can help you reclaim your vitality and healthy good looks. They are specially formulated to help build up faded, shrunken and fagged-out blood cells. To feel better—to look better—to act more alert and alive—try IRONIZED YEAST TABLETS!

*Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.

FELT LIKE SHE WOULD "FLY TO PIECES"; FINDS RELIEF IN RETONGA

Famous Gastric Tonic Brings Help to California Woman Who Suffered for Years with All the Agonies of Acid Indigestion

"It seemed like I couldn't eat anything that would digest properly, until I started taking Retonga," says Mrs. S. M. Bennett of 1818 No. Roosevelt Ave., Altadena, Cal., whose husband is a well-known automobile salesman.

"Acid indigestion had made me miserable for years," Mrs. Bennett continues. "After meals I suffered the most awful gas pains in my stomach and would bloat up alarmingly. Often I couldn't keep food in my stomach at all. Bothered as I was with gas pains, it was hard to get any sleep. I'd sleep for an hour or so and then wake up and toss and turn all night. I lost weight and became so jittery and jumpy that I thought I would fly to pieces. I grew low in my mind and just didn't know what to do or where to turn. Then I read about Retonga in the newspaper.

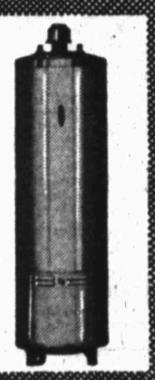

"I bless the day I started taking Retonga. The prompt relief it brought seemed almost too good to be true. Today those horrible gas pains are just an unpleasant memory. I eat well, sleep well and have a whole new outlook on life. Retonga did it all for me, and I only wish that everybody, who is suffering as I did, knew about this great medicine."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to give you gratifying relief, your money will be refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Walgreen Drug Store. Adv.

ANOTHER interesting letter, a series of scatterings, arrives from Ernestine Wheelock, who is spending six weeks in Mexico City as a member of a Tech advanced Spanish class. She writes:

Seen Around the City— Monuments and statues almost anywhere one glances . . . Movies in all languages with Spanish subtitles. . . . Drug stores called "farmacias," which sell medicines only. . . Small downtown grocery stores interspersed with banks, dress shops, book stores, photography shops, jewelry stores, etc. . . . A shiny black car outfitted for a bridal pair, gleaming in white satin seat covers and curtains and bouquets of white flowers; . . Communistic frescoes painted in the patio of the National Preparatory school by Jose Clemente Orozco, eminent Mexican painter. . . Daring Texan Narrowly Misses Death In Setting 'Chute Record

CONROE, Tex., Aug. 9 (U.P.)—It was just an accident, and one that brought him within less than a second of death, that Clifton Cheshire bested the free parachute fall record by 6,000 feet.

The 24-year-old Houstonian set the new record by falling 21,000 feet before opening his 'chute only 200 feet above the ground at Conroe Air Field yesterday.

Cheshire, veteran of 31 months fighting with the 82nd Airborne Division, jumped from the wing of the plane at 22,000 feet.

"As I inhaled the last bit from my oxygen bottle, which I had been nipping at on the way up, I clutched my left arm to look at my wrist watch and blacked out," he recounted.

When Cheshire regained consciousness, he smelled fresh, growing things and realized he was near the ground.

"I kicked and flipped myself over, and saw the treetops rushing up to meet me. I snatched at the release on my 'chute. Then I jerked open the reserve 'chute. I busted out just over the treetops and less than a second later I hit the ground as the parachute fouled up in the trees."

Cheshire had fallen 6,000 feet farther, and opened his 'chute 1,200 feet closer to the ground than the record set by Spud Manning in Los Angeles in 1931.

Love's Truest Test Is During Bridge Game, Expert Says

(By The United Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 9—There's no truer test of love than a bridge game, an expert at the National Bridge tournament here said today.

Joseph J. Stedem, a host at the tournament, said it is unfortunate the way so many couples go to the bridge table brimming over with tender sentiment, only to depart in sullen silence or loud discord.

"Husbands and wives are worst of all," he said. "They blow their tops at the drop of a card. The sightest boner seems to be enough spark to set off a battle on all the burning domestic issues they can think of."

Wonderful Starting Gun

Stedem said bridge was just an excuse to blow off steam, not the cause. He estimated that about 15,000,0000 Americans play bridge. Most of these know little about the game, he said.

"That's what makes bridge such a wonderful starting gun for family squabbles," he said. "There are hundreds of things that will stir a partner to anger. Once that happens there's no stopping a major conflict.

Local Boy Admitted To Naval Academy

Bruce Kilroy Brown, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Brown of 2802 Thirtieth, has been admitted to the U. S. Naval academy, Annapolis, Md., as a midshipmen, class of 1952.

Young Brown, an honor graduate of Lubbock High school in the class of 1948, is spending the summer months being indoctrinated in the fundamentals of Navy life and will begin the regular academic course in September. The indoctrination includes instruction in infantry drill, small arms, signals, and other basic subjects.

The new midshipman also had qualified among 1,700 other young men in the nation out of 24,000 applicants for Naval ROTC training, but chose the academy appointment in preference to the ROTC course.

He received his appointment through Cong. George Mahon of the 19th Congressional district. While attending high school he was a carrier boy for the Avalanche-Journal.

Seminole Man Recalls Visiting Lubbock On Way To His Present Home Thirty Years Ago

SEMINOLE, Aug. 9 (Special)—Thirty years ago a young man, A. L. Duff by name, stopped overnight in Lubbock on his way from Paducah to Seminole.

Talking with some Lubbock men that night, he found they were surprised and even amused that he was going to Seminole, which was then considered pretty far out in the wilderness. The late M. M. Dupre, then superintendent of Lubbock schools, went so far as to offer him a job in the 16-teacher Lubbock system.

Duff declined, with thanks, saying: "I have signed a one-year contract to teach school for those people, and I'm going to live up to my bargain, at least for that one year."

A. L. DUFF

Still Lives in Seminole

A. L. Duff lived up to his bargain, and today he still lives in Seminole. There is very little chance that he would live anywhere else.

Today A. L. Duff is Gaines county's foremost authority on Gaines county oil development, and in his abstract business, which he has operated since 1919, he has also become an expert in land and mineral values in this county. He has seen development of the county from a sparsely settled ranching country to a wealthy oil center.

Duff served as superintendent of the Seminole Common Consolidated School district for two years before buying the abstract business. He also served as county attorney for 18 years, retiring in 1937.

Recalls Many Changes

Referring to the county attorney's post, he jokingly says:

"They finally kicked me out. You can see how far they kicked me."

His office is located some 200 yards from the courthouse.

Recalling the changes that have come to Seminole since his arrival, Duff rates the paved highway system the biggest change. Since Seminole has no railroad, these highways are all the more important.

He said that when highway 51 was paved in 1932, it was financed by a county bond issue which passed with only four dissenting votes. And two of the voters who cast those opposing votes now operate a truck line which serves Seminole and Seagraves.

Born in 1883 in Coryell county, Mr. Duff spent his childhood around Hico. He graduated from Hico High school and attended Baylor university. He taught school a total of 14 years before entering the abstract business.

Seminole's first Boy Scout troop was organized by Duff in 1918 with approximately 18 boys in the troop.

Temporary offices in Austin have been located. Six to eight persons associated with the headquarters here, including Dr. Harold Williams, executive secretary, will move to Austin.

Headquarters have been in Fort Worth since 1904. The removal was voted last April by the house of delegates in state convention at Houston.

Hubbers Smash Borger Gassers Twice, 12-4, 5-1; Homers Help

Hubs Gain Fourth Straight Victory

BORGER, Aug. 9 (Special)—Borger hurling was made to order for the Lubbock Hubbers tonight and they made the most of it, pounding out a double win over the Gassers, 12-4 and 5-1.

Chris Haskins, the refugee from Lamesa, won his second start on the mound for Lubbock and his first in a complete game, while chipping in a second inning home run that prevented Borger from taking a lead.

Fourth Straight Win

Lefty Fred Pollock, although relieved by Royce Mills, won the second game behind a three-run first inning that handed him a good markin. Pollock was yanked in the fifth inning for a pinch hitter and watched Mills protect his margin from that point on.

The double victory gave the Hubbers their fourth straight victory and their tenth in their last 14 games. It also sent them into tomorrow night's finale with Borger here with almost an identical record that they had while winning ten straight over a month ago.

Bob Frye was generous in the first game, giving the Hubbers a run in the first on four walks that forced in the first marker. Haskins hit his homer in the second frame to put them ahead, but Manager Eddie Carnett evened the score with a homer. After that it was all Lubbock.

Homers Get Six Runs

Two runs scored in the third on Virgil Richardson's single, Floyd Walker's single, Don Moore's sacrifice and a two-run error on a grounder by Frank McAlexander.

And six runs scored in the fourth, all on home runs. Jackie Wilcox fanned to lead off, but Gene Hixson doubled and Manager Jackie Sullivan walked, before Richardson flied out for the second death. Walker came up, looked at three pitches and smacked a fourmaster over the left field fence. Moore singled, McAlexander singled and Chick Fowler bunted a pitch over the centerfield fence.

Two more runs scored in the seventh when, with one out, Sullivan walked and Richardson drove a Jack Crowe fast ball over the rightfield fence for the final Hubber runs.

Big Initial Frame

The second game was a tighter duel, with Pollock and Mills outhurling Glass and Carnett, although the latter fanned 10 men. Glass dropped his fifth game of the year and failed to last out the initial frame.

Wilcox started the trouble on a walk and moved to third on Hixson's double. Sullivan lifted a high fly to left, which the fielder dropped, allowing Wilcox to score. Richardson walked to load the bases and when Walker also strolled, Hixson scored. Moore lofted a fly to left that sent Sullivan across the plate.

Carnett opened the Borger second with a triple that Hixson misplayed and when Hixson threw badly to McAlexander, Carnett continued around third to score the Gassers' only run.

Series Ends Tuesday

Sullivan homered in the sixth with no one on to give Lubbock a 4-1 lead and the final run scored in the seventh when Moore singled, stole second and scored on McAlexander's single.

Pollock and Mills were aided by three fast double plays in the second game that eliminated trouble in each case. And in the fifth inning of the second game, Hixson made a great throw to catch Mountie King at third. King had doubled to center, but was caught by Hixson's fine throw as he tried to stretch the drive.

The same two teams end the current series tomorrow night, when Jim Cain, a new Borger hurler, goes to the mound against either Fred Groth or Red Ramsey for Lubbock.

Cotton Russell Will Rejoin Hubber Nine

Cotton Russell, ailing Hubber pitcher, will return to the club here in time for the home stand against Clovis, Borger and Albuquerque, it was announced yesterday.

Larry Larsen, general manager, said that Russell, afflicted with chronic appendicitis, had been resting since his return to Fort Worth. Yesterday the doctor told him he definitely would not need an operation and could return Tuesday. Russell will return to Lubbock today and wait for the club's return from Borger.

The righthander is counted on to take his regular place on the mound staff and help the club in its fight to finish higher in the first division. When the Hubbers return here, they will be faced with a 28-game stretch to the finish line. Half the games will be played at home.

Cloverlake Noses Out Thomas Jewelers, 4-3

Cloverlake Dairy's hard-hitting nine took the lead in the final round of the South Plains Softball league Shaughnessy playoff Monday night at Jumbo Webster field, nosing out the Thomas Jewelers, 4-3.

The Dairymen, working behind the steady hurling of Cecil (Smoky) Hale, punched across one run in the first inning, added single tallies in the third and fourth, then scored the winning run in the bottom of the sixth.

The Thomas crew staged a two-run rally in the fourth and added another run in the sixth, but failed to deadlock the count in the top of the seventh.

Willie Holder, who went the route for the Jewelers was charged with the defeat.

The two teams will meet again at 8:30 o'clock tonight in a one or two game bill that will decide the loop championship. Cloverlake could win the title with a win in the first game, but a Thomas win in the opener would make a second tilt necessary.

Thomas' squad entered the finals of the South Plains playoff with a 2-0 triumph over Baldridge Bakery in the opening game of the Monday night double bill.

G. W. Warden, ace twirler, pitched the Thomas nine to the crucial victory which ousted the Bakerymen from the Shaughnessy. Loy Hubbard was charged with the defeat.

The Black Hubbers will go to Hobbs, N. M., for a game Sunday.

PLAY IN STATE ASA MEET THURSDAY

Sunbeamer Nine Schedules Workouts At Webster Field

The Thomas-Sunbeamers softball nine, which will go to the state A. S. A. softball tournament in Wichita Falls this week, will hold daily workouts at Jumbo Webster Field.

Second drill of the week is scheduled for this afternoon beginning about 4:30. The team will drill for about an hour, taking it easy and keeping limber. Jackie Neel and G. W. Warden, the ace hurlers, will throw a little to stay in form and there will be both hitting and fielding practice.

The Thomas - Sunbeamers nine, winners of the recent A. S. A. tournament in Lubbock, through which they won the right to compete in the state contest, will play their first game Thursday night, meeting the Lysaught Furniture company.

The game, which may be a pitcher's battle between Neel and Lefty Tolar, opposition hurler, will begin at 9:30 p. m., Thursday on Hamilton Field diamond No. 2. KSEL will carry a play by play description of the game and, if the local nine wins, will carry all ensuing Lubbock contests.

Twins On Team

The Sunbeamers nine, which captured first place in the Texas Softball League has been strengthened with players from the Thomas Jewelers of the South Plains Softball League. This combination recently won the A. S. A tourney here.

In addition to Neel and Warden, the Lubbock nine boasts such outstanding players as Willis James, a hard-hitting catcher who is also a top receiver; Wally Fowler, a light hitter, but a top-notch first baseman; Charley Reynolds, Texas Tech football speedster, who covers centerfield and hits well; Roy and Ray Butler, the only twins in the South Plains loop, who can both hit and field with the best of them; and several other fine players. Boyd Watkins, a former Hubber and Oil Belt player, also is on the team at shortstop replacing Ralph Earhart, who left to join the Green Bay Packers.

The Thomas - Sunbeamers are relying on these men to take them to the state title and on to the national championships.

The win was the seventeenth of the season for the right-hander—and his eleventh straight triumph.

A homer by Bill Mulcahy in the fifth frame and a three-run double by Frank Okrie in the sixth were the big blows for the Dukes.

Parker, Schroeder Pace Tennis Play

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 9. (AP)—Automatic Frankie Parker and top Davis Cupper Ted Schroeder, seeded No's. 1 and 2, respectively, marched into the third round of the Eastern Grass Courts tennis championships today, but each met with unexpected opposition from comparative unknowns.

Parker, still shooting for a Davis Cup berth, apparently took some time to get the feel of the turf before he tripped Dick Savitt, an East Orange, N. J., youngster, 9-7; 6-2, while Schroeder, making his first eastern start, polished off William Madamba of the Philippine Islands, 6-3, 6-4.

During the first set, the Parker-Savitt match see-sawed back and forth on service until Savitt had a 5-4 lead. Savitt took two more games, but from that point on, Parker was in command, and ran out the second set with no undue difficulty.

Schroeder, who had a couple of days of practice on grass in Forest Hills behind him, kept Madamba on the run during the first set, but when the latter changed his tactics and began charging the net in the second set, he took a 4-3 lead. Schroeder settled down, though, and ran the match out by grabbing off the next three games.

In the second round of the men's singles,

W. Eugene Garrett, San Diego, Calif., defeated James Saunders, Amarillo, Texas, 6-1, 7-5.

BROOKLYN, Aug 9 (AP)—Ed (Duke) Snider's seventh inning two-bagger on a bouncer which struck the bag and bounded past first baseman Dick Sisler, followed by two outs, sent the Brooklyn centerfielder all the way around to give the Dodgers a 2-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies before 33,665 fans tonight. Carl Erskine went the route for the Dodgers, posting his fourth victory without a defeat.

Erskine, up from Fort Worth, permitted only five hits, one of them a home run by Del Ennis. It was No. 17 for the Philly outfielder. Erskine fanned four and walked only one.

Blix Donelly, working the first seven innings for the Phils, was the hard luck loser. The winning run came over in the seventh.

The losing Cardinals were paced by Dean Fawcett, who got the only hit and a double in three times up. Ronald Hall gained credit for the mound win.

Ross Craig's two homers, a single and a double led the Junior League Jaycee attack. Donald Presley and Carroll Walker followed Craig's onslaught with four singles each in four times up. Legion To Leave Wednesday

Lubbock To Meet Dallas Thursday

Lubbock's Area 1 championship American Legion junior baseball team will leave early Wednesday morning for Paris, where the Hub city representatives will compete against Adamson of Dallas, South Park of Beaumont and Austin for the state Legion diamond crown.

The double elimination state tourney will get underway with a twin bill Thursday night, with Lubbock battling Adamson— the defending champions—and Beaumont meeting Austin. Losers of the first night tussles will tangle in the opening tilt Friday night, with the winners of the Thursday settos clashing in the nightcap. Final game of the tourney, for the state title and the right to enter the national eliminations, will be played Sunday afternoon.

Bus May Be Chartered

Transportation plans for the Lubbock squad have not been completed, officials announced Monday night. All squad trips this summer have been made in private cars, but one of the local civic clubs is reportedly considering a plan to charter an air-conditioned Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma bus for the trip to Paris. An announcement on the final decision is expected later today.

The Lubbock players face the tourney favorite in the Thursday night opener, when they tangle with the undefeated Adamson Leopards of Dallas.

The Leopards have won 25 consecutive victories this summer and are rated as one of the most outstanding teen-age ball clubs to ever compete in the state Legion program. The Adamson squad chalked up victory No. 25 last Sunday at Longview, when they defeated the Longview representatives, 5-1, for the Area 2 championship.

McGhee May Not Play

In the title tussle with Longview, Adamson hurler Billy Cowan pitched a two-hit game and the only Longview run was unearned. But the ace of the Adamson mound staff, Robert McGhee, has been sidelined for several days by a sore shoulder and may not be in top shape for the state tourney.

Kal Segrist, stellar second-sacker, paces the Dallas nine at the plate. Segrist, batting in the clean-up position, is a power hitter with a reported average of .370 for the season. Tommy Millican, first baseman, is also a key player in the Adamson slugging department.

The Lubbock squad went through a brief drill Monday afternoon at the Chapman field diamond in preparation for the meet, with the players concentrating on boosting their hitting. The squad batted around twice in the session and coaches reported some improvement at the plate.

Cowhand Grid Meet Slated For Tonight

Prospective members of the Cowhands football team for this season are urged to attend a meeting at 7 o'clock tonight at the Chapman field clubhouse.

General organization plans will probably be completed at the session, officials announced.

Kurland's 19 Points Paces Attack

Yank Cage Squad Beats Uruguayans

LONDON, Aug. 9 (AP)—The towering American basketball powerhouse, paced by seven-foot Bob Kurland's 19 points and the ace defensive work of Jesse (Cab) Renick, advanced into the semi-finals of the Olympic basketball tournament tonight by overwhelming Uruguay, 63-28.

The victory come in the night-cap of a four-game quarterfinal program.

Mexico's six-foot plus boys, laughing all the way, breezed past a stubborn but too sturdy Korean team, 43-32, and will engage the Americans Wednesday night in the semifinals.

France squeezed a nip-and-tuck overtimer, 53-52, out of Chile to keep European hopes for the title alive. But the Frenchmen must get by Brazil Wednesday. The Brazilians rallied in the last half to dump Czechoslovakia, 28-23.

Uruguay Tried Everything

Uruguay used every device in the book, including a bit of apparent play-acting, in an effort to upset the American giant. But Kurland couldn't be stopped.

The sight of the night was Renick sticking to the Uruguay scoring whiz, Adesio Lombardo. Renick clung to him like a wet shirt and Lombardo got only three field goals in the 30 minutes that the Oklahoma indian played.

Lombardo has accustomed himself to making more than 20 points a game in the Olympic tournament.

In the last ten minutes, six-foot seven-inch Alex Groza, the Martin's Ferry, Ohio, lad who plays for the University of Kentucky, took over as Lombardo's keeper. By then the Americans led, 36-19, and Groza didn't have to be so careful with Lombardo's south American ways.

The Uruguayan got two goals, including a beautiful one-hand pivot shot.

California Wins Shells

Up the Thames at Henley, California's great eight-oared crew beat the British shell by three lengths in a stirring 1,900-meter final rowed in bright sunshine. Norway finished third. The time was five minutes, 56.7 seconds.

The University of Washington's four with coxswain beat Switzerland and Denmark in the final of that event. Britain won the double sculls and pairs without coxswain. Mervyn Wood of Australia won the singles schulls. Yale's four without coxswain placed behind Italy and Denmark.

The boxers began whaling each other in Empire stadium, where the swimmers and divers were cavorting only days ago. First on the program were the featherweights, and three South Americans made a big impression by banging their way into the second round.

Edward Johnson, 20-year-old Kansas City negro and air force private, won his first round match by a technical knockout over Bob Gosslin of New Zealand. In the day's only heavyweight bout, Jay Lambert, 22-year-old Utah university student, beat Vincente Dos Santos of Brazil, knocking him down three times.

Two other club tourneys are nearing the final championship battles. J. K. Bradshaw defeated Armond Samson, 4 and 3, to enter the finals of the Director's Cup meet against Chick Trout, sr., with Ross Mitchell slated to meet the winner of the Bob Smith-Chick Trout, jr., setto in the finals of the Young Men's tourney.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Monday's mail brought us a letter from Larry H. Boggs and Robert L. Dryden, Levelland sportsmen, in which they pointed out a mistake in connection with the annual all-star football game at Abilene Friday night. Say Boggs and Dryden, "In the first place, you didn't put Bobby Hart on the starting lineup. He did start, from the very first kick off. I will admit he went in and out of the game very often in the first half, but the last half was when the North made both their threats.

"It was also Hart who was quarterback on those two long drives and tried to give Townsend the glory. I sincerely believe Hart has as good a chance of making it as Townsend. We have seen him do it many times.

"We Levellanders are very proud of Bobby and like to see him get all the breaks he can, when he deserves them, and we feel he did last night. We who saw, and those who heard the game, really believe he deserves more credit than you gave him in your article."

* * *

Well, chalk up an error for the official statisticians as well as this corner. Bobby Hart apparently did start for the North, although that fact escaped the representatives of the Associated Press and the other wire services as well as the statisticians. We knew Bobby was in the game early, but whether it was the first or third play we honestly were not able to say. Incidentally, the starting lineups and substitutions used by The Morning Avalanche were those "official" figures released by the statisticians and the Associated Press.

* * *

Bobby played a very good game in the coaching school classic. He completed four of seven passes attempted, for a total gain of 21 yards, and did a good job of following instructions. Of course, Coach Dodd's method of calling the plays from the bench and sending in a new quarterback every couple of plays robbed both Hart and Jerry Robertson of Highland Park of any glory for mapping strategy. But Bobby did handle his assignments capably and, in the opinion of most observers, turned in a better performance than the heralded Robertson.

* * *

As far as "not receiving enough credit," we can only point out that the game was an "All-Star" tilt. Every player on each squad was selected by experts in all sections of the state because of their ability and above-average records. It was the highest honor for a player to even be named to one of the teams.

And, when it came to the game performances, practically all of the boys turned in fine jobs. One or two boys, especially Rusty Russell, jr., of Highland Park, failed to live up to their reputations, but the majority of the gridders amazed the 12,000 fans with some brilliant exhibitions of running, blocking and tackling. There was just not enough time nor space to recount all the accomplishments of all the players. It was necessary to just barely mention two or three of the top players, as generally recognized, and let it go at that.

* * *

Yes, Bobby Hart played a fine game. But so did Jerrell Price of Brownfield, who was named the "outstanding lineman" of the game; Howard Hurt, battering guard from Borger; Bill Howton, fine Plainview end, aided in marking up the first safety for the North and caught a couple of passes; Carl (Red) Mayes of Pampa turned in some brilliant runs late in the game; Amarillo's Guard Sam Attebury performed creditably when he was in the contest; and Dick Schmidt, Lubbock center, played well enough to get the starting pivot assignment at the opening of the second half. Stars? The game was full of them.

* * *

Actually, our nominations for "outstanding backs" of the game, (other than Byron Townsend), would be little Glenn Lippman of El Campo and Gilbert Bartosh of Granger. Lippman, with a running style very similar to that used by Rice's George Walmsley and Texas' Jack Crain, brought the fans to their feet every time he carried the ball. His twisting, high-stepping runs through the North eleven were one of the high points of the game. And Bartosh, an "unknown," drew praise for his power-running and brilliant punt returns.

* * *

But, to paraphrase a little, "you can't please all of the people all of the time."

OIL BELT WINNERS

In Oil Belt League baseball games played over the South Plains Sunday, Littlefield, playing at home nosed out Slaton, 4-3, Denver City edged past Levelland, 9-8, at Levelland, and Sundown turned away the visiting Post aggregation, 8-4.

Mangrum Wins Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (INS)—All-American champion Lloyd Mangrum completed the richest double-slam in golfing history today when he came from behind in approved thriller fashion to nip Sam Snead for the $10,000 so-called "World's Championship."

Dutch Harrison also participated in the three-man playoff viewed by 10,000 enthusiasts, said to comprise the largest assembly ever to follow a single golfing match.

70 Stroke Card

Mangrum, who had birdie-par for the last two holes to Snead's par bogey, emerged with the medal card of 70 strokes, two below par for Tam O'Shanter's extended fairways. Snead had 71 and Harrison 73.

Thus ended seven days of golf at George May's Tom O'Shanter course, and Mangrum's one-man gold rush. His prize-money total, in winning the All-American Friday and the "World's Championship" today, zoomed to the happy tune of $22,500.

Breaks Course Record

As winner of the All-American, Mangrum collected $5 000. As so-called home professional at Tam O' Shanter, he collected an extra $5,000 from May for being the leading money-winner on the circuit.

For breaking the course record with a nine-under-par yesterday, to tie Harrison and Snead at 135 for the 36-hole "World's Championship," the dapper Texan pulled down a bonus of $2,500. And today's $10,000 plum was winner-take-all.

For Snead, 1946 winner of the "World's Championship," the climax today proved a suitable addition to his prize collection of golfing nightmares.

The apt mountaineer from West Virginia, who missed one U. S. Open title by taking an 8 on the final hole and another by missing a 30-inch putt, led the way today through the 13th hole, where a second successive bogey on his part enabled Mangrum to draw even.

Snead dropped a five-footer for a birdie 4 on the 15th to regain a one-stroke edge, but Mangrum duplicated the feat on the 17th to even things coming up on 18.

MANNERS IN BASEBALL—Eddie Joost, Philadelphia shortstop, might be imitating a Spanish bull fighter, or he might be stepping aside in politeness to Dale Mitchell, Cleveland outfielder. Actually Joost isn't doing either. He had just tagged Mitchell out and leaped back to avoid a collision, making possible this excellent shot for an alert photographer. The play happened in a recent Philadelphia-Cleveland game.

ITALY WINS SWORD PLAY

LONDON, Aug. 9 (INS)—Italy was the biggest point winner in the men's final of the Olympic epee sword singles today, placing Luigi Cantone first and E. Mangiarotti third. Sandwiched in between the Italian pair was Oswald Zappelli of Switzerland. H. Guerin of France was fourth, J. M. Radoux of Belgium fifth, and H. Lepage of France sixth. Norman Lewis of New York was ninth among the ten finalists.

FIRST METHODISTS WIN

Chuck Dunnam hurled the First Methodists to a 3-2 victory over the Baptists in a City loop softball tilt Monday afternoon at Wagner park.

Demon Favored To Win Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—From all indications, veteran harness horsemen are preparing to give Harrison Hoyt and the favored Demon Hanover a hard time at Good Time track in the $60,000 Hambletonian stake Wednesday.

The latest "roll call" through the stable area today showed that only about 10, and not more than a dozen, three year-olds would answer the starter's signal for the premier American sulky classic. They're the cream of the trotting world.

Birds are more closely related to crocodiles than the latter are to turtles.

Russia Claims Loyal Citizens Are Being Mistreated In U. S.

that the FBI and the New York police were in a position to have known that the rights of loyal Russian subjects were being infringed upon.

He expressed confidence that the State department would act immediately to give them full protection.

Panyushkin charged that the White Russian organization, headed by Countess Tolstoy, youngest daughter of the Russian novelist, had kidnaped Mrs. Kosenkina.

He said Countess Tolstoy had subjected her "to injections," threatened her, blackmailed her, and had taken advantage of her "nervous condition" to reduce her to a state of terror.

Claims Family Seized

He also charged at a news conference that "organs" of the United States government had spirited the family of Samarin, the other teacher, away as well as the man himself.

The envoy, however, was told by the State department that the U. S. could not accept his assertions because there apparently were greatly conflicting stories.

He was also informed that proper American authorities were looking into the matter in order to establish the facts.

Panyushkin met with the press 20 minutes after he left the State department.

The unique conference, conducted through an interpreter, was held in the ornate red-furnished mansion on 16th street originally built by the Pullman family.

Russian Note Revealed

Panyushkin said that on instructions from Moscow he had just handed a note to Under Secretary Lovett concerning "the kidnapping by the organization of the Tolstoy faction" of Mrs. Kosenkina, and also of Samarin and his family.

"In the note," the ambassador said, "it is stated that the organization headed by the Tolstoy operation was carrying on activities which were aimed at the Soviet Union.

"This organization uses forceful kidnapping of Soviet citizens, and this anti-Soviet activity has been going on while some organs of the government of the United States saw it—which organizations should be aware of the criminal activities of the Tolstoy organization."

The State department in its reply told Panyushkin if there is evidence of any criminal action on the part of anybody that proper authorites will take necessary steps.

Samarin Called Veteran

Panyushkin, on leaving his meeting with Lovett, had described Samarin as a wounded war veteran.

He said Samarin was in a "highly nervous state" as a result of the "pressure" put on him and "could not be responsible for the statements he made."

Mahon Returns From Work In Washington

Congressman George Mahon, his work at the special session of Congress ended just in time to fill a South Plains speaking engagement Tuesday, arrived in Lubbock last night from Washington and began making plans for an extensive tour of the district he serves.

Mahon, who flew from the capitol in less than 10 hours, is to be the principal speaker at the dedication of the new Lyntegar Electric Co-operative office building in Tahoka tomorrow.

To Open Office

On his arrivel here, Mahon revealed that he will open offices in Lubbock September 1, when his first secretary, Miss Dorothy Rylander of Lubbock, returns from Washington.

Commenting on the international situation, Mahon said there is no fear of immediate war in Washington, and that ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman told members of the Texas delegation in Congress last week that most informed Europeans do not believe war is imminent.

Following his address at Tahoka, Mahon will go to Colorado City where his wife is at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. O. E. Stevenson, who is seriously ill. Following the Colorado City visit, Mahon will begin his tour of the district.

Police Guard Plane Wreckage In Alps

MILAN, Italy, Aug. 9. (AP) — A police patrol stood watch today over the snow-entombed plane high in the French-Italian Alps identified by the U. S. Air Force in Germany as a C-47 missing eight months with 20 persons aboard.

The police commander at nearby Borgo San Dalmazzo said by telephone that only one wing and the two motors of the craft were visible. Two frozen bodies were found outside the wreckage.

The commander described the scene where the plane crashed on a flight from Pisa to Frankfurt Nov. 28, 1947, as high, craggy country eight hours' walking distance from the nearest settlement.

Ferguson Has No Plans To Push Truman's Impeachment

DETROIT, Aug. 9 (AP) — Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) won't undertake to have President Truman impeached.

He said here last night he had no intention of pressing impeachment proceedings against the President. Then he added:

"I think the American citizen will use his own method during the presidential election to remove President Truman."

Sought To Borrow Money

Flores and Agrelio (Pepe) Lucero of 1412 Second had returned from a dance at Slaton, and Lucero had gone across the street to see if he could borrow money from Elias Garcia. A woman answered his knock and said Elias Garcia was not there.

About that time, Elias Garcia drove up in his car and got out, a shotgun in his hand, witnesses further said. Some said he wanted to know who had been at his house. It was related by some that Antonio Urtado sought to knock the pointed gun aside and that one shot struck him in the left breast. It was about 5:30 a. m.

He was dead upon arrival at a hospital, officials said.

Arresting police said a 20-gauge shotgun was found at the shooting scene.

The Logan woman was cut under the left shoulder into the lung, Dr. J. A. Chapman, a negro physician, informed police at 4 a. m. She also was knifed in several other places.

Police said Jones and his wife, both of 2509 Ave. F, earlier in the night, together with another negro, had been fined $15 for disturbance in connection with another fight, and had been released. That was at 2:15 a. m., they said.

The physician said the Logan woman would not be out of danger for eight to 10 days, in his opinion.

Charged With Burglary

Another felony complaint was filed, charging Paul Henry Ross, 23, with burglary.

Police said the charge grew out of a call from Pauline Benton, of 1008 Ave. A, that someone had torn a screen off a window of her residence and had taken a radio and a billfold containing $10. Police later said they recovered from Ross a radio and $9.

Bond of $5,000 had been set for Garcia, the sheriff's department said.

Bond of $1,000 had been set for Ross, similar bond for Jones. None had been reported posted.

Brother Is Arrested

Alfonso Urtado, brother of the slain Mexican, was arrested and placed under peace bond, officials said, after he reputedly had sworn he would "get even" for the slaying. Juan Garcia, of 1412 Second told officials Alfonso Urtado had said he would injure him or Stephen Garcia. Stephen Garcia told officials that Antonio Urtado had stabbed him in a fight about three weeks ago. Other witnesses said unofficially, but in the presence of several policemen, that Elias Garcia recently had pointed a gun at Antonio Urtado but that Antonio had grabbed it away from him and sold it.

Garcia, it was related, was to have been married Monday to the woman he was charged with having raped.

Brown, whose body was recently returned from overseas, was killed in action on Luzon island Jan. 10, 1945.

He will be buried in Dickens beside his sister, Maurine Brown, who died in Ralls several years ago. Survivors also include a brother, Jeff, of El Paso.

Mississippi Solon Demands End To U. S. Steel Exports

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (INS)—Rep. Ploeser (R-Miss.), today demanded an immediate reduction of American steel exports and a "crack down" on steel shipments which might be diverted to Russian satellite countries.

Ploeser, chairman of the House committee on small business, in a letter to Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, declared:

"Almost every basic industry in the United States needs steel at this time.

"Yet in the face of this greatly increased domestic demand, it appears that we are continuing to export steel to various European countries to the great disadvantage of our own economy and national security, and particularly to the disadvantage of small business."

GOP Defends Action

over what we have now" and expressed the hope the President would sign.

Taft left it up to time and the voters to decide whether he is right in contending Congress has provided President Truman with enough weapons to fight inflation.

Taft argued to reimpose price controls would only make the situation worse.

"The difficulty with price control is: (1) That it won't work in time of peace; (2) that no one knows enough about the infinitely complicated economy of this country to do the job right; and (3) that if prices were held down arbitrarily production is discouraged and consumtpion increased," Taft said.

GOP Determined

Taft covered a number of other points in his statement and at a news conference, among them:

Civil rights: Mr. Truman called for civil rights legislation "knowing full well that the present cloture rule is completely inoculous against a determined filibuster of 20 senators," as Taft said was proved at a special session. The Republicans are determined to change the debate limit rule early next year, he said.

Housing: A Republican Congress has already given Mr. Truman most of the legislation he needs, and the special session tried to direct the flow of available capital into more small houses and rental units. Taft said he abandoned "with must regret" his fight for public housing and slum clearance, and will press for action next year.

Politics: GOP prospects "looks very favorable" although about nine Senate seats are in doubt. He thinks the Republicans have a chance of winning in Rhode Island, Montana, Colorado, New Mexico and Tennessee, where seats are now held by Democrats. He conceded the Democrats a chance to pick up seats in West Virginia, Kentucky, Oklahoma and Wyoming.

Results Of Pasture Project Announced

A report on the mixed pastures feeding project in operation at Texas Technological college shows that the eight beef cattle being rotated between different kinds of pastures have made the greatest gains during the periods they were on Alfalfa and perennial rye grass.

Eight steers are divided into two lots of four each and rotated at regular intervals between three one-acre pastures, each of a different type, to determine the respective values of the pastures. The experiment, or test, was started in 1947 and will be completed in 1950.

Report Is Given

Lot number one was grazed on alfalfa and perennial rye grass for two periods, May 29 to June 19 and July 10 to July 31, for a total of 49 days, during which time the four steers gained a total of 434 pounds from the one-acre pasture. The average gain per steer per day was 2.58 pounds.

This same lot was grazed on alfalfa pasture from May 1 to May 29 and from June 19 to July 10, a total of 49 days, during which time they only gained a total of 299 pounds, or an average of 1.54 pounds per steer per day. The total gain for the four steers during the four periods was 721 pounds, gained in 98 days.

Lot number two grazed on alfalfa, brome and perennial rye grass for two periods, May 1 to May 29 and June 19 to July 10, a total of 49 days, gaining only 263 pounds, or 1.34 pounds per steer per day

On alfalfa and brome grass, this lot gained an average of 1.96 pounds per steer per day grazing alfalfa and brome grass for the 49 days included from May 21 to June 19 and July 10 to July 31. The total gain was slightly over 384 pounds.

Dean W. L. Stangel, head of agriculture and in charge of the feeding tests, said that lot one is now back on straight alfalfa, and lot two is on alfalfa, brome and perennial rye grass.

Funeral services will be held at 4:30 p. m. Huesday in the Joe H. Webb Funeral Home chapel, and burial will follow in Brownfield cemetery.

Huff, who was born in Danville, Ind., was a retired railroader and had extensive farming interests here.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Laura Labrier of Corpus Christi, and Mrs. Frank Stuckey, Dallas; two sons, L. O. Thompson, Dallas, and T. L. Thompson, Houston; and five gandchildren.

Soviets Told Little Of Crisis In Berlin

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9. (AP)—Apparently the Russian people are told little about the seriousness of the Berlin situation, a Los Angeles business man said today upon his return from Moscow.

F. H. Lindus, vice president of Refining Associates, Inc., said:

"It seems to me, from reading Pravda, that the (Russian) government is not trying to alarm the people to an immediate war. They would present their side of the Berlin situation if they were."

Lindus and three other Californians made the two and a half week trip together to survey Russian business conditions. Other members of the party were Harold Hutton, president of Refining Associates, Mrs. Hutton and Morris Bach, San Francisco importer.

Hutton found living costs high in the Russian capital. Meals, he said, cost about six times what they do here. He paid $50 for a 25-mile taxicab ride.

Indications are, he added, that Russians are getting more food and clothing than a year ago. All rationing has been discontinued, he said.

Gives Brooklyn Address

Throughout his appearance on the Stand Koral relied on the constitution's provision that a witness may not be required to give answers that would tend to incriminate or degrade him.

Koral gave a Brooklyn, N. Y., address—290 Empire boulevard. He said that except for a 21-month layoff he had been employed by the New York Board of Education since 1922. But that was about all he would say.

He would not tell whether he knew an individual called "Frank." Miss Bentley, who describes herself as a former Communist and former courier for a spy network, has named "Frank" as one of her Coviet contacts.

Appeared Before Grand Jury

Shortly before Koral went on the stand the Justice department said he had testified "at length" before a New York grand jury which recently indicted a dozen Communist leaders. None of the testimony was disclosed.

Koral was followed on the stand by Louis Russell, committee investigator who said that in 1939 "Frank" heard that Koral needed money to pay medical costs for his son.

"Koral subsequently became a courier for Frank and made 12 contacts for him," Russell, a former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, testified.

Under the name of 'Al," Russell went on, Koral came to Washington on at least two occasions and contacted Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, one of two former government officials Miss Bentley named as heading rings which supplied secrets that she carried back to Red agents in New York.

The second man named by Miss Bentley as a Washington ring leader—Victor Perlo—was today's lead-off witness.

Except for an assertion in a written statement that he was a loyal American and that the charges against him were "inventions of irresponsible sensation seekers," Perlo made about as unproductive a witness as Koral.

Taking the same constitutional ground as Koral, Perlo would not answer questions about Communist affiliations, nor say whether he knew Miss Bentley or other government workers she named as information sources.

Another unexpected witness today was Mrs. Gilda Burke, former secretary to Silvermaster. She identified a mechanical telephone index she said she used while working for Silvermaster. It contained the names of about a dozen persons mentioned in the inquiry. Asked about each of them, Mrs. Burke said Silvermaster had communicated with them.

Tobin Uncertain On Labor Post

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—President Truman appears to be in the dark today over whether he actually has found a secretary of labor.

In a surprise move just before the special session adjourned Saturday night, Mr. Truman nominated former Gov. Maurice J. Tobin of Massachusetts.

But Tobin, who is seeking to regain the governorship, has refused so far to say whether he will accept.

Congress quit without Senate action on any of the more than 100 nominations submitted by Mr. Truman, including that of Tobin as a successor to Lewis B. Schwellenbach, who died June 10.

Tobin said at Gilbertville, Mass., yesterday:

"I am still a candidate for governor.

"I am going to visit the President in the course of the next few days and beyond that I have nothing to say."

Tobin, 47, said he agreed to let his name be submitted to the Senate. He added, however, that the question of actual acceptance still is "under consideration."

ter's position. He said Jester had informed the southern governors he could not speak for the state Democratic party when he protested with them against asserted violations of states rights in the President's civil rights program.

To Continue Fight

The Dixiecrats immediately announced they would carry the fight to the Sept. 14 convention at Fort Worth, and go on the stump to urge their position between now and then.

They hope to gain control of the convention and then attempt to have the names of Thurmond and Wright printed on the November election ballot as the Democratic nominees in Texas.

Calvert and Committee Secretary Vann M. Kennedy today got in the first blow in what is likely to turn out to be a court fight similar to the 1944 battle over electors.

They complied with a statute authorizing them to certify the names of Truman and Barkley as the party nominees. Their certification was accepted by Secretary of State Paul H. Brown. Dixiecrats called the certification an "unlawful act."

Its certifications showed Gov. Beauford H. Jester nominated for governor without a runoff and Coke Stevenson and Lyndon Johnson as runoff candidates for U. S. senator.

The official canvass showed 1,198,857 votes cast in the governor's race, with Jester commanding a clear majority, 642,025. Roger Q. Evans ran second with 273,202 votes and Caso March third with 187,658.

There were a little more than 71,000 votes difference between the two high candidates in the Senate race, Stevenson getting 477,077 and Johnson 405,617. George Peddy ran third with 237,195.

The closest race was shown by the canvass to be between W. St. John Garwood with 560,847 votes and Jefferson G. Smith with 499,100 votes for associate justice of the supreme court, place 3.

The committee also certified the following as party nominees determined by the July 24 primary: Allan Shivers for lieutenant governor, Price Daniel for attorney general, J. E. Hickman for chief justice of the supreme court, Few Brewster for associate justice of the supreme court, place 1; James P. Hart for associate justice of the supreme court place 2; Harry N. Graves for judge of the court of criminal appeals; Ernest O. Thompson for railroad commissioner; William J. Murray for railroad commissioner (unexpired term); George H. Sheppard for comptroller, Bascom Giles for commissioner of the general land office, Jesse James for treasurer, L. A. Woods for superintendent of public instruction, and J. E. McDonald for commissioner of agriculture.

Omission Of Atom 'Plank' Explained

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (INS)—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., explained today that a proposal to back international control of atomic energy was omitted from the Republican national platform because there was no testimony on the issue.

Sen. Lodge, who was chairman of the platform committee at the GOP national convention, made this statement in a letter released today by the "Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists."

Answers Inquiry

Sen. Lodge's letter was in answer to an inquiry made by the bulletin, which noted there had been charges that the issue of international control of atomic energy had been dropped from the Republican platform as a "concession to isolationist sectors" of the party.

Sen. Lodge said in his letter:

"The resolutions committee . . . consisted of 104 men and women from the 48 states and territories. In the space of three days, this committee, most of the members of which had never seen each other before, were required to conduct hearings for a large number of witnesses who desired to be heard.

"At these hearing no testimony was recived from any source on the matter of international control of atomic energy."

Meat Sales 'Normal'

ed that Mondays usually are one of the slowest days in the week for meat sales, since many people eat the "left-overs" from their Sunday roast or ham or whatever.

Beef Sales Lighter

Stovall's brother, H. L. Stovall, who operates the Service Food store at Fifteenth and Ave. W, reported Monday to be "as good as ever" from a meat sales standpoint.

Sales of beef were a little lighter Monday at the Food Mart, 1904 Nineteenth, officials said, but all other meats sold in just about much volume as ever.

H. G. Burchett Grocery, 207 Broadway, reported that meats sold yesterday in just about as much volume as on any other Monday. Meat sales were good Sunday, the store said, and there was no noticeable difference in Monday's sales over or below previous Mondays. Like most other stores, spokesmen at the grocery thought it yet too early to tell about the effect of the campaign later in the week.

Meanwhile the man who started the local campaign, Frank G Husted, Lubbock cement salesman, was planning to leave Monday for a week's trip and said he won't know the result of his many calls until he gets back. He said response had been in favor of refusing to buy meat until prices drop to a lower level.

Typical Ideas Given

Meanwhile, Lubbock housewives had varied comments on the idea. Typical reaction this morning included:

"It's hard to decide about this thing. It looks to me that there will be a hardship either way. It's hard for us to buy meat right now, but any concerted action will make it awfully hard on the cattlemen."

Another housewife had this to say: "Why is all the complaint against meat prices alone? I go in the grocery store and see prices being marked up on canned goods and other things—things that are old stock and which have already been paid for. I could understand if it were new stock, but it isn't. Meat is not the only thing we should be concerned about."

And another: "I think Mr. Husted has something there. I hope we can get meat prices down."

Others interviewed followed the same trend, "We'd like to see the prices come down."

Meat sales were reported anywhere from zero to normal Monday on the first day of the housewives' warfare against high meat prices, the Associated Press reported.

It was too early to tell the effect of the butcher boycott declared by women in at least 18 Texas cities. No price changes were reported.

THREE HURT IN BLAST

ST. CHARLES, Mo., Aug. 9 (INS)—Three persons were injured critically today and a fourth was reported missing in an explosion which wrecked a one-story building of the Machens Motor company at St. Charles. The injured were identified as Carl Limpert, St. Charles, co-owner of the motor company; Clarence White, 35, Pattonville, a mechanic for the company, and Melvin Mounds, St. Charles, an insurance salesman.

Solon Warns On Economy Blasts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (INS)—Sen. Bridges (R NH), chairman of the Senate Appropriations committee, warned government officials today against attempting "squeeze plays" to obtain larger amounts of money for the federal treasury.

Bridges, in a formal statement, denounced efforts to misrepresent the effect of congressional economies. He said:

No Kick Back

"The Senate Appropriations will not kick back weakly and submit to a smear campaign of agencies and departments of the executive branch.

"These subversive attacks by the government's own employes are dangerously destructive of public confidence. They undermine every serious effort on the part of economy-mined members of Congress to see to it that the American taxpayer gets a full dollar's worth for every dollar spent in taxes."

Bridges said it had been the practice of some bureaus in limiting their services to the public to explain that this action was due to budgetary curtailment. Bridges declared:

Departments Warned

"In fact the public employes who scheme day and night to hold and expand their jobs have become too adept to distorting the intentions of the elected representatives of the people.

"In numerous instances where overall cuts have been made in departmental budgets, these fenagiers have deliberately applied the cuts to necessary and proper public services. They have done this to raise a public howl.

"By doing this they have proved that they are past masters of the squeeze play. At the same time they have shown bad administrative leadership."

Bridges served notice that the Senate Appropriations committee would "go after" all agencies and departments which misrepresent the appropriations cuts ordered by Congress.

British Writer Gets Berlin Exit Order

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (U.P.)—British authorities tonight ordered John Peter Nettl, 24, correspondent for the British Weekly Economist, to leave Berlin under guard within six hours.

The order meant Nettl had to be out of Germany by tomorrow. armed guards will accompany him until he is out.

A British official who announced the ouster said it was "not in the general interest to give details."

U. S. embassy.

An informed source described tonight's meeting with Molotov as one of the most important held thus far in the negotiations which have been in progress here for more than a week.

Secrecy Covers Talks

As in earlier talks Smith went to the Kremlin alone while Roberts and Chataigneau took translators. Smith conferred with Roberts for more than an hour before going to the Kremlin.

The three western envoys had met with Molotov Friday evening and a week ago had talked with both Molotov and Prime Minister Stalin.

A cloak of secrecy has covered all phases of the negotiations.

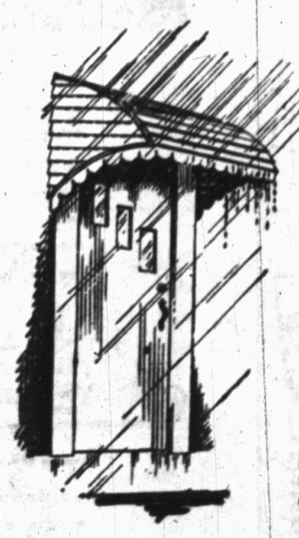

The meeting in the British embassy lasted 45 minutes. The western envoys then went to work on their reports to their home governments.

It appeared there would be at least one more meeting with Molotov before the conclusions of the conversations are taken to Stalin.

The next meeting probably will take place after Washington, London and Paris have messaged back and Molotov once more is available. Asked if there would be more meetings, one authoritative source said: "Yes, I suppose so."

EAST, WEST IN ARMS RACE

UN Leader Calls On Nations To Make Peace, Avoid 'Final' War

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The annual report of Secretary General Trygve Lie of the United Nations is a pointed reminder of what has happened in the last three years to our wartime hopes of world disarmament and universal cooperation for peace and economic stability.

His reference to the race for production of chemical and bacteriological weapons seeks to focus attention on a field whose prospects, in case of war, are as "scary" as the atomic bomb.

Compromise Urged

Make peace, the U. N. leader urges, and put these weapons under control before mankind is visited with new horror.

Compromise, he suggests. Recognize that the world is not going to accept any one economic system, whether it be Russian or American. The old nationalisms of the West and the new nationalisms of the East can adjust themselves peacefully to each other, he insists. Ideological competition, he says, can be kept within bounds provided no group tries to impose its will by force or threat of force.

Lie thus approaches peace from the only angle from which it can be approached. Peace will make for disarmament, but there is no slightest indication now that disarmament will make peace. While Soviet Russia strengthens herself for open competition with the West, the democracies have dissipated their military power. Only recently have they begun to realize the danger in such a program. Rearmament is under way, with every indication that, until a better balance has been restored, Communists expansion will not check its drive in favor of compromise.

Arms Talks Fail

The United Nations commissions charged with fostering disarmament have thrown up their hands in despair. The Atomic Energy commission, also designed to control other mass destruction weapons, long ago recognized that pending peace between the great powers, its efforts are futile. The conventional arms commission has reached the same conclusion.

Instead of expending further effort on obtaining controls, the United States is out to maintain and expand its preeminence in destruction.

There is little question that this arms race is responsible for much of today's international tension. Yet it seems required if Russia is to be brought to the point of diminishing returns, and therefore to the point of compromise on her aspirations. The purpose of the current negotiations in Moscow is to see if she can be brought to that point through reason rather than through the ultimate display of force. But the odds are that the Allies will have to go right ahead with preparedness before anything real can be accomplished.

This is true because there is a factor, repeatedly mentioned in this column, which lies at the very root of the trouble. Economic rivalries can be compromised. Military rivalries can be compromised. The history of imperialism produces its own most damning indictments. But when all of these things are embodied in an evangelical religion such as Communism, with its call to conquer the whole earth and its peoples, compromise seems a long way off.

Hundreds Starve To Death In China City

PEIPING, Aug. 9. (AP)—Five hundred persons a day are starving to death in Red besieged Changchun and its environs, the newspaper Shih Chieh Jih Pao said today.

Within the Manchurian city 200 are dying daily from hunger, the newspaper said, and in the no-man's land around 300 more are dying.

Dog meat, the paper added, is selling for 24,000,000 Chinese dollars a pound ($2.40 U. S.), horse meat 50,000,000 ($5) and kaoliang, a Chinese variety of sorghum at 100,000,000 ($10) a pound.

The people, trapped between National and Red forces, are having a terrible time because neither side will admit many through their lines. Some few get through the Red lines after paying. The current safe conduct cost for six persons through the Red lines is a pistol.

Fort Worth Bride Wins Radio Jackpot

FORT WORTH, Aug. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Skelton, a bride of two weeks, was still excited today over being able to "Stop the Music," and win $19,000 in prizes.

She correctly identified "Sun Dance" as the mystery song when she was called long distance from New York by Bert Parks, the master of ceremonies on the radio program "Stop the Music." She said she had just walked in the door of her home a few minutes before after returning from a visit with her mother, Mrs. C. W. Russell of Vera, (Knox county.)

Mrs. Skelton became the second Fort Worth woman in nine months to win a radio quiz show. Mrs. Ruth Annette Subbie identified radio's mystery woman, "Miss Hush," in December, and won $22,500 in prizes on another program.

Fort Worth radio officials said a listener has about one chance in 22,000,000, according to mathematical calculations, of being called by a radio quiz show.

Prizes won by Mrs. Skelton include bonds, a new car, trailer house, mink coat, television set, Caribbean cruise, diamond bracelet, and even a horse.

Before the war, about 30 million pounds of walnuts were shipped annually from North China.

Most Voters In Favor Of Close Military Ties With West Europe

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 9—Public sentiment for a military alliance between the United States and the Marshall Plan nations of Europe is on the increase.

This step toward more solid unity of the Western powers in facing Russia is today approved by nearly three out of four American voters polled by the Institute—an overwhelming majority.

GALLUP

The vote is one good indication that sentiment in the United States does not favor pulling out of Europe or returning to isolationism.

In fact, American public opinion in the wake of World War II seems to be reacting in exactly the opposite manner from World War I. Whereas after the first war there was a general desire to have as little as possible to do with Europe and her affairs, today three years after the end of the second world war sentiment runs overwhelmingly in favor of so far-reaching a step as a military alliance in peacetime with a whole group of European states.

The sounding of opinion was on the following issue:

"Do you think the United States and all the Western European countries participating in the Marshall Plan should join together in a permanent military alliance—that is, agree to come to each other's defense immediately if any one of them is attacked?"

The same question was put to voters in May. The trend of sentiment follows:

	May	Today
Favor alliance	65%	73%
Opposed	21	16
No opinion	14	11

The one-sided vote in the poll is symptomatic of the fact that there is comparatively little disagreement or conflict in the minds of the American people today over foreign policy. The basic ideas of that policy—playing an active role in Europe while displaying firmness toward Russia—finds widespread public support, and are causing none of the deep rifts in public opinion that Communist supporters are reported to hope they will cause.

On the explosive issue of Berlin, there is virtual unanimity of American opinion. American voters have signified their willingness to see us stay in Berlin even at the risk of war with Russia. As reported last week, the Institute found in a nation-wide poll that only 11 percent want the United States to give up Berlin, while 80 percent say we should remain even if it means war with Russia, and 9 percent have no opinion.

On the issue of a military alliance with the Marshall Plan countries, Republican and Democratic voters see very much alike, with approximately 75 out of every 100 in both parties favoring such an alliance.

The followers of Henry A. Wallace, who has opposed the Marshall Plan and who favors a softer American policy toward Russia, were found about evenly divided in today's poll, with a slight preponderance in favor of the military alliance.

River Cruise Ends In Dance Floor Battle

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9. (AP)—A moonlight cruise aboard a Delaware river excursion steamer turned into a riot last night as crew-members battled passengers—and the band played on.

When the melee had been quelled, police reported six injured persons had been taken to a hospital and nine men were under arrest.

Edgar Turk, 32, one of four special police officers attached to the S. S. Delaware Belle, gave this version of events:

Shortly after the ship left a Philadelphia pier with 1,200 passengers aboard, a youth displayed a blackjack on the dance floor and threatened Turk with the weapon.

Fight Gets Underway

Turk attempted to take the blackjack from him and several other youths stepped in. The three remaining special offciers came to Turk's rescue and the fight was on.

The battle raged back and forth across the dance floor as the ship's dance band continued playing.

Finally, when the Delaware Belle reached Chester, Pa., Capt. Edward Savin went ashore and returned with a squad of Chester police who arrested five men. Four others were taken from the ship on its return to Philadelphia.

Doctors at Chester hospital said those treated were Dolores Tolley, 19, Paul Misurico, 22, David Needleman, 37, Joseph Cole, 36, all of Philadelphia; Joseph Wallace, 43, Wyoming, Del., and Donald Olson, 16, Salem, N.J. all suffered cuts and bruises.

The names of those held were not disclosed.

Lubbock will be able to see it from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. either day at Faulkner Motor company, 1933 Texas avenue. The long-awaited mystery car was to arrive in the Hub City last night after a Monday showing at Big Spring. A. H. Faulkner, local Tucker agency spokesman, says today's will be the first South Plains showing of the car.

What Lubbock will see today is a 4-door sedan model. That's because it is the only model being turned out by the Tucker factory at the present time. Two-door jobs and club coupes will come along "at a later date."

Can you place an order for one? Well, —y-e-s.

If you want to look at the Tucker motor tomorrow, don't peek under the hood. You won't find anything there but a spare tire and a felt covered luggage compartment. It (the motor) is in the rear.

People wanting answers to their questions on operation of the car can get them from J. W. Tallent, a Tucker Co. representative on tour with the car in West Texas. He's already given some of them:

It'll cost about $2450 at the factory and will sell in Lubbock for about $2800, fully equipped with radio, heater, etc. It'll easily make 95 miles per hour and 120 miles per hour if you're really in a hurry.

It will be advertised at 166 horsepower, but it has been tested even higher than that. The gas mileage at 65 mph, Tallent said, "would double any other car of similar horsepower."

The Tucker has a 130-inch wheel base and is 219 inches overall and is 79 3-4 inches wide. It's five feet high.

Other features on the Tucker besides having the engine in the rear and the streamlining are the three headlights and the six exhaust pipes, one for each cylinder. The center light, a "Cyclop" eye turns with the front wheels and peaks around corners to see if danger is ahead. Tires used on the Tucker will be tubeless, puncture-proof, according to Faulkner.

Faulkner says it'll really go. In a speed test run at the factory, he reported, the driver reached 60 mph in 10 seconds from a parked position.

Twenty-Year-Old Private Faces Trial In Death Of Chaplain

YOKOHAMA, Aug. 9 (INS) — A twenty-year-old private, accused of shooting a Tokyo prison chaplain because of discussions with him over a Japanese girl friend, pleaded not guilty today at the opening of his trial.

The soldier, Pvt. William Manis, 20, of Churchill, Tenn., faced a nine man U. S. Army court martial in Yokohama.

Manis is charged with fatally shotting Capt. John Ryan, Catholic chaplain.

The article of war under which Manis is being tried makes death or life imprisonment mandatory in the event he is convicted.

The prosecution charges that Manis shot the chaplain last April 5 while taking an evening walk with him. The shooting is alleged to have occurred as the aftermath of a discussion in which Capt. Ryan was trying to dissuade the soldier from associating with a Japanese girl.

UN Mediator Declares Palestine Truce Now Threatened By Underground Organizations

RHODES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte says "there are rumors of impending coups by irregular elements" in Palestine.

"These irregular elements," the United Nations mediator said yesterday, "are alleged to be uncontrollable, or to be used as spearheads of regular forces."

He urged the demilitarization of Jerusalem as the "best remedy for this tense situation."

Bernadotte did not identify these "irregular elements." His statement was interpreted here to mean the Jewish extremist organization Irgun Zvai Leumi.

Good Faith Missing

Officially, Irgun has been absorbed into the Israeli army. But Irgun forces have clashed with Haganah units. Irgun demands all of Trans-Jordan and Palestine for the Jews.

Of the general Palestine situation, Bernadotte said:

"On a government level both sides desire to continue the peace. An adequate supervision is all the more necessary as there are signs of tension from a lack of trust in the good faith of the other party, and from a fear that hostilities may shortly be resumed despite the truce ordered by the Security Council."

Bernadotte said both Arabs and Jews have agreed to begin talks "with a view to making arrangements to keep Jerusalem out of the conflict."

In Amman, Trans-Jordan, King Abdullah discussed the Jerusalem situation yesterday with United Nations representatives and his highest military advisers.

Arab medical authorities in Amman reported an outbreak of typhoid among 12,000 regugees in the Ramallah area, north of Jerusalem.

Burglar Suffers Less, Returns Jewelry, Postage Prepaid

MARINETTE, Wis., Aug. 9 (AP)—The burglar who made a $1,500 haul at the Carlson jewelry store last Thursday still has his freedom, along with a conscience that turned the job into a deficit.

The store received a package today from Milwaukee. It contained what apparently was all the loot—129 rings, 16 watches, a compact and a locket set.

And the sender paid the postage.

Man Exchanges Real Ball And Chain For Marital Happiness

(By The Associated Press)

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 9 — Freed of his ball and chain, Larry Flaugher was wed-locked today the way he planned it in the beginning.

The 23-year-old engineering college graduate and his bride, Lucille, 19, were on their honeymoon.

And the 24-pound ball and chain which student pranksters at Tulsa, had fastened to Larry's ankle was stowed away "for a souvenir."

Larry and Lucille spoke their vows at the Methodist church in nearby Edmore Sunday after some earlier concern over his getting rid of the ball and chain.

As the prank players had said, the key got to Lucille in the mails, late Saturday, and she unlocked the chain. Larry had been forced to wear it since Friday when he left Tulsa.

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 9 (AP) — A critical shortage of elementary and high school teachers in Texas was reported today by Sam Houston State college.

Lubbock Naval Reserve Officer Ordered To New Orleans Post

Lt. Marvin Hunter, assistant inspector-instructor of the Lubbock organized division of the Naval Reserve, has received orders to report to eighth district naval headquarters at New Orleans Monday as assistant to the district director of the Naval Reserve.

Hunter went back on active duty July 1 last year as assistant district director of the Naval Reserve, local, with office in the federal building, where he had charge of the Naval Reserve recruiting office. He moved to the organized division training center on Texas Technological college campus this summer.

His wife and small daughter plan to join him in New Orleans later. He expects to remain there until July 1 next year.

Bandit Using Fake Arm Bandage To Conceal Gun Is Captured

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (INS) — A young man who used a gun concealed in a fake arm bandage to rob a loan company of $400 and seize a girl employee as a hostage was captured in Chicago's loop today as hundreds of shoppers watched.

The gunman, identified as Russell Smith, 24, held up the Family Loan Corp., and took Miss June Rolfes, 23, secretary to the manager, with him at gunpoint.

Office Manager Charles Everett followed Smith to the street until he spotted Policeman Bernard McLaughlin.

McLaughlin slipped up behind Smith, struck him on the neck with the butt of his service revolver and disarmed him.

Miss Rolfes kept calm during the whole incident, but several of her girl co-workers fainted.

Creager Controls GOP Session

Dewey's Backer Suffers Defeat

WACO, Aug. 9 (AP) — R. B. Creager drew first blood as he and George Hopkins of Dallas squared off today preliminary to tomorrow's state Republican convention.

Creager, Texas national committeeman from Brownsville, demonstrated that he has even more control over the state executive committee than he himself had predicted.

Hopkins' Protests Futile

With Hopkins protesting futilely, the committee voted overwhelmingly to approve actions taken at the meeting of the Republican state headquarters committee at San Antonio July 6.

Creager, in pre-meeting predictions, had said he would have "at least two thirds of the committee votes." Actually, the vote on numerous roll calls seldom varied from 43 to 14 in his favor—more than the two-thirds support he had claimed.

Hopkins supported Thomas E. Dewey prior to the Republican national convention. Creager supported Senator Robert Taft of Ohio. The Creager-Hopkins fight was the focus of interest as the annual GOP parley staffed.

Dallasite Hurls Charges

Hopkins fought for two hours to rally committeemen for what he called "a share" in Republican state control. He charged the July 6 San Antonio meeting was planned to prevent him from setting up state control. He further charged that everything offered by Creager followers at today's meeting was "cut and dried" long ago.

Meanwhile talk of extending the Republican senate nomination to W. Lee O'Daniel, retiring Democratic senator from Texas, died down. Nothing was said officially today regarding the published reports that such a move would be made. Several Republicans said unofficially they would like to nominate him for governor. Official action would have to come Tuesday at the meeting of the nominating committee.

Hopkins also threatened to use the patronage axe on Creager followers, assuming the Hopkins group will be recognized by the Dewey administration if the latter is elected. "Just wait until after January 1," he warned several times.

The slate of temporary officers for the convention, named at the San Antonio committee meeting, was ratified today. They are L. J. Benchkenstein of Beaumont, temporary chairman; Carlos G. Watson of Brownsville, temporary secretary, and Ed R. McNabb of Burnett county, temporary sergeant at arms.

MORE BALLOTING AREAS PLANNED

Commissioners Order New Map Of All County Voting Precincts

County commissioners court Monday authorized Bob Miller, a civil engineer, to prepare a new map of all county voting precincts, to make field notes for each, and to submit his drawing for final approval of the court at the Aug. 23 meeting.

The court, upon recommendations of political parties and business and professional men, has planned adding several voting precincts to the 26 already established. That would make for added convenience of voters, some of which are having to travel too far to voting places, and by dividing some of the so-called heavy voting precincts facilitate the making of election returns, officials said.

Orders Consecutive Numbering

The court also ordered that all voting precincts be renumbered "from No. 1 up."

Commissioners also:

Approved appointment of Winston Brummett as assistant county attorney.

Ordered that work commence in repairing plumbing, and adding new plumbing where required, in Lubbock county jail. J. R. McKinley Plumbing company made the low estimate of costs, $4,800. Work would commence Aug. 16. Plumbing at the jail has been in bad condition for years, and is worsening in condition, the court found in a recent inspection.

Buys Radio Equipment

Approved $1,103 expenditure on installation of light fixtures by Lowrey Electric company in the courthouse.

Voted to pay $3,706.21 for machinery parts and repairs, to West Texas Equipment company.

And voted $490 for two transmitters and other radio equipment for cars of the sheriff's department.

County Judge Walter Davies was absent on vacation. Ralph Brock, elected special county judge Saturday by the Lubbock bar, as provided by statute, presided over the Monday meeting. All commissioners, R. O. Short, Ben Mansker, Ottis Isom, and Pat Corley, attended. Louie F. Moore, county clerk, took notes of the proceedings.

Grand Jury Has Heavy 'Docket'

A grand jury impaneled Monday morning by Judge Dan Blair of the 72nd judicial district today will commence its second day of investigations. Approximately 60 cases were referred to the group.

Included were eight murder cases—which had been filed at the rate of one a week since a 99th district grand jury was recessed June 8 by Judge G. V. Pardue.

Murder Cases Set Record

That was a record number of such cases ever referred to a Lubbock grand jury, court officials indicated their belief.

It probably will be Wednesday, at least, before investigations can be completed, it was estimated.

Grand jurors are:

Ross A. McWhorter of 1923 Monroe; Tom B. Simmons, Lubbock route 1; G. A. Edwards, jr., Lubbock route 5. B. A. Darby, Lubbock route 1; William Alspaugh, Slaton route 2; J. R. Snodgrass, Lorenzo Star route; W. B. Copeland, foreman, Lubbock route 4; Baxter Harrist, Shallowater; Charles Sedberry, a negro, 1810 Ave. B; S. N. Gentry, Slaton route 1; R. D. Sherrod, Lubbock route 1; John H. Reagan, Lubbock route 3.

Assisting the grand jury in its work are District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr.

L. D. Pendleton was appointed door bailiff, by lot.

Jury Selected In Damage Suit

A jury was selected Monday afternoon in the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair for trial of three consolidated civil actions that together ask what counsel said was an approximate quarter-million dollars in damages.

The cases, all growing out of the June 12, 1947, collision of two trucks five miles west of Lubbock and the burning of their drivers, are: Emma Levetia Pigg and others against J. W. Starr, doing business as Starr Gas Co., Inc.; J. W. Starr, doing business as Starr Gas Co., Inc., against Homer Johnson; and Sadie Stidham and others against Homer Johnson.

Judge Blair ordered the cases consolidated, after agreement of counsel, inasmuch as all suits grew out of the same transaction and would require similar proof. "All pleas of privilege heretofore filed in the causes have been expressly waived by stipulation, and should more than one party appeal, one record shall be sufficient for all who shall appeal," the court's order further said.

Killed in the crash were two 38-year-old Levelland men: Leslie Dewey Pigg, driver of a Phillips 66 truck and semi-trailer owned by Johnson, also a Levelland resident; and Carlton Stidham, driver of a butane bobtail truck with two tanks, owned by Starr, who lives in Midland.

Stidham was driving westward toward Levelland, and Pigg was driving eastward, en route to Pampa to get a load of gasoline.

Fire enveloped the 13,000-pound vehicles after they had crashed almost headon.

Hay and Hudspeth of Lubbock are counsel for Mrs. Pigg, widow of the Leslie Dewey Pigg, and others; Vickers and Vickers represent Starr and Mrs. Stidham, widow of Carlton Stidham, and others; and Johnson is represented by the Dallas firm of Strasburger, Price, Holland, Kelton and Miller.

The jury was seated soon after 3 p. m., and counsel commenced reading lengthy pleadings.

The remainder of the jury panel was recessed by Judge Blair for the remainder of the week, and defense witnesses for Johnson were informed they need not appear in court until 1 p. m. today.

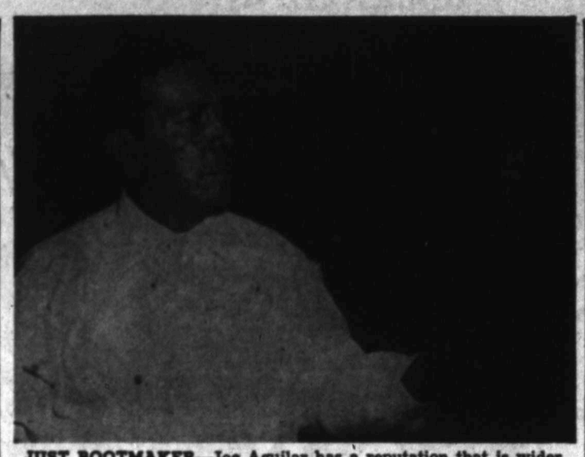

The jury is composed of Joe Cox, G. L. Jackson, H. R. Redwine, Dalton J. Holt, W. L. Bednarz, J. C. Powell, Alvin W. Becker, George Langford, Ruel C. Martin, S. P. Halbardier, Harry Van Horn, and J. P. Leonard.

Officers At Farwell Awaiting Arrests

FARWELL, Aug. 9 (Special) — Apprehension of five persons wanted for questioning in the death of a Melrose, N. M., man found dead in his automobile near here was being awaited today.

Justice of Peace Jess Newton said he would deliver no verdict in an inquest in the death of the victim, O. T. McDaniel, 55, of Melrose, until further developments take place.

Five warrants were issued here Saturday for persons wanted for questioning.

JUST BOOTMAKER—Joe Aguilar has a reputation that is wider than the Seminole where he makes cowboy boots. He gets orders from Montana, Wyoming, North Dakota, and New Mexico, to name a few of his far-flung market places. Joe doesn't bother with belts, purses, or the like, he just makes boots. He turns out three or four pair of boots each week, doing all the work himself. (Staff Photo).

AGUILAR MAKING NAME FOR HIMSELF

Bootmaker At Seminole Has Built Impressive Business

SEMINOLE, Aug. 9 Special)—Cowboys and ranchers in Gaines county are familiar with the name of Joe Aguilar, but his reputation goes farther than that.

Joe is a bootmaker. He still makes cowboys boot, slowly and carefully, by hand. He doesn't makes belts, or ladies' purses, or chaps. Just boots.

He lives with his wife and seven children behind his small shop near the courthouse square in Seminole. He turns out three, sometimes four pairs of boots a week, doing all the work himself.

He gets $40 to $45 per pair of boots.

Aguilar was born in Morelia, Mexico, a town in Michoacan state not too far from Mexico City, 54 years ago.

He first started to learn the leather business in 1908, or when he was 14 years old, he recalls.

When he was 21 he came to seek his fortune in the United States and wandered about working on railroad crews for about two years. Then he had a chance to go to work for a bootmaker in Amarillo, and he stayed there 20 years.

Then, 10 years ago, he came to Seminole to open his own little business. Why did he pick Seminole? He shrugs in the Latin way, "It is a good town."

Today his reputation extends farther than his volume would indicate. He receives orders from Montana, Wyoming, North Dakota, New Mexico, Arizona and Kansas, from satisfied boot-wearers whom he has fitted in the past.

He hasn't struck it rich, but he modestly admits that in the 10 years he has been in Seminole, he has been able to purchase seven lots and build three small houses on them.

Dixie Demos Set Up Offices At Jackson

The campaign committee has appointed Ken Deshotel, president of the Louisiana State university student body, to head a college and university campaign division.

Oil Producing Possibilities In New Upton County Field Rise

The Neal No. 1 ran a two hour test from 9,871 to 10,096 feet and recovered 1,980 feet of oil and mud, estimated 75 per cent 42.7 gravity oil.

Rail Unions Throw Support To Johnson

(By The Associated Press)

Coke Stevenson was shaking hands in small Texas towns again Monday as the U. S. Senate race picked up speed.

While the former governor campaigned in North Texas, these developments marked the senatorial campaign of Rep. Lyndon Johnson:

1. In Washington, heads of four railroad unions endorsed Johnson in the senatorial runoff.

2. Johnson himself, in a radio broadcast Monday night, declared Stevenson is dodging every issue or making statements that can be read either way.

Coke Heads For Alvarado

3. Horace H. Shelton of Austin, longtime Texas veterans' leader, asked in a radio broadcast Monday that veterans support Johnson.

Stevenson visited the main streets of Bowie, Saint Jo, Montague and Nocona Monday morning. Then he headed for Alvarado, where he was the feature attraction of the Johnson county pioneers and old settlers reunion.

The former governor was scheduled to lead the old settlers reunion parade before making a radio broadcast.

Johnson spent Monday resting at his Austin headquarters and talking with local backers but Monday night hammered at Stevenson again in a transcribed radio address from the state capital.

Stevenson Is Blasted

The congressman said Stevenson has failed to state his stand on the Taft-Hartley law and has said he is for lower prices and lower taxes without explaining to the people why prices and taxes are high.

"My opponent knows and you know and everybody knows that we are in a period of inflation," Johnson said. "And its origin was simply this. During the war we put into the channels of trade in round figures some sixty billion more than we collected in taxes.

"We built up a debt of nearly three hundred billion dollars. And why did we do this? We did it because we were doing everything we possibly could do to bring the war to an end and thereby save the lives of American boys.

"And we did save the lives of many American boys and I for one think it was wonderful that we could save lives by putting into the channels of trade every year some sixty billion dollars more than we collected in taxes."

He also declared Stevenson has failed to mention that the government guaranteed to the farmers a fair price for their products after the war.

The endorsement by heads of four railroad brotherhoods was published in the current issue of "Labor," a rail union weekly newspaper in Washington. They are Alvanley Johnson of the engineers, David B. Robertson of the firemen and enginemen, Harry W. Fraser of the conductors

Labor 'Deal' Is Claimed By Coke

AUSTIN, Aug. 9 (AP)—Lyndon Johnson and headquarters for Coke Stevenson today issued prepared statements commenting on the endorsement of Johnson for U. S. senator by representatives of four railway brotherhood groups in Washington, D. C.

Stevenson accused Johnson of making a deal with eastern labor leaders to get the endorsement.

Johnson said the support apparently came "simply and solely on my record."

Stevenson Claims "Deal"

"This development is no surprise to Texans who are familiar with the real issues in this race for United States senator and with the past records of both candidates.

Coke Stevenson explained frankly long ago that he had made no secret deals with any group to obtain support. He is known as a man of his word.

"Can the other candidate say the same? Can he truthfully deny his endorsement by these labor groups is a result of a pledge made to eastern labor leaders in Washington week before last that he would go along with the Democratic platform on the repeal or drastic amendment of the Taft-Hartley law?

"The people of Texas would like to know about that undercover meeting in Washington."

Johnson's statement said in part: "I welcome the vote of all the good laboring people everywhere — in and out of unions. I have always tried to be a friend in Congress to every citizen, and I never asked a man who wanted my help whether he carried in his wallet a railroad brotherhood card, an AFL card, a Rotary club card, a country club card, or any other kind of card.

"Frankly, I believe that if the great rank and file of the working people of Texas would examine my record and see what I have done for the general benefit of all working people, I ought to receive the votes of all of these workers, in the union or out of it.

"I have said over and

UNLUCKY GAMBLE

HST Loses His Bet

THE 11-day special session of Congress can be written off as an expensive washout from the standpoints both of legislative achievement and as a personal vote-getting maneuver by President Truman.

The bills passed during the meeting can do little, if anything, toward easing the nation's No. 1 problem—that of high prices. Not even those who sponsored the measure claim otherwise. Basically, the problems of prices and housing are exactly where they were before the session convened. Their positions are very bad, indeed.

As a Presidential political maneuver, the insistence on the session clearly has weakened rather than strengthened Mr. Truman's already perilous position. He took a gamble and lost, because the session turned out almost a complete failure.

The President sought to put Congress on a hot spot as to prices and housing and he muffed the ball. If he had demanded relief action on those two problems, and only those two, his maneuver might have succeeded. But he messed up the possibility of any constructive action by demanding approval of a huge program, including his vote-seeking civil rights bills. It would insult his intelligence to suggest he could not anticipate that civil rights were a 10-to-1 bet to stymie action on prices and housing.

The whole experience shows that, as his detractors claimed, Mr. Truman was playing strictly to the grandstand. His sincerity of motive is in question because, while pretending to seek price and housing relief, he set up the conditions under which he is bound to have known that such relief would be impossible of realization. There are grounds for doubt as to whether he actually wanted legislation which might offend the powerful interests which profit from price and housing conditions as they now exist.

It remains to be seen whether Americans are going to pay off with votes for this sort of stuff. We don't think they will. They definitely should not feel indebted to Mr. Truman for an expensive special session which never should have been called.

To Our Advantage

A great deal of favorable significance for the South Plains can be read into a prediction before an Illinois soil conservation conference recently that the United States will be short of farm land needs by more than 10,000,000 acres by 1980. The forecast was that of Lachlan MacLeay, of St. Louis, president of the Mississippi Valley association.

The favorable implications of such predictions lie in the fact that the South Plains counties have, conservatively, some 4,000,000 acres of virgin land as fertile, on the whole, as the areas now being farmed. The existence of this great reserve resource is the nearest thing to an absolute guarantee that any region could have of a continuing growth of population and enduring prosperity as the virgin lands are developed.

Such predictions serve as a reminder that the development of the South Plains, which has been phenomenal, actually is little past the threshold of that which seems assured for the relatively close future.

I Have Not Even Begun To Fight

Bitter Reprieve

By DREXEL DRAKE
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Playboy Marcus Sterling has stolen his wife's diamond necklace and handed it over as security on a $10,000 gambling debt to racketeer Harry Bindle. To cover the theft, perpetrated while his wife slept, Sterling makes it appear a professional burglary. He then goes to Edgecraft Country Club to spend the night and establish an alibi. Along with the necklace, he has taken a sealed packet from his wife's safe. This, Marcus discovers later, is $10,000 in cash which Miriam had withdrawn from the bank to give him.

Next morning, Police Lt. Talent arrives at the Sterling household. Sgt. Gable shows him over the disarranged library, then takes him upstairs to see the body of Miriam Sterling. The face has been bashed in with a heavy candlestick that still lies on the bed. Near one hand is a small, pearl-handled revolver. The doctor says she has been dead six or seven hours.

* * *

"HAVE a look at this, doc," Talent said. He was standing in front of the dressing-table. "A drink, most of it still in the glass, and a bottle of poison alongside it."

The doctor was all interest. He squinted at the label on the bottle. "Poison, yes, but only sleeping drops. Still . . . " He bent down and sniffed at the liquid in the glass. "Something besides whiskey and soda in that, all right, and plenty." Picking up the small vial by the lip of the neck, he uncorked it, sniffed. "Same stuff." He uncorked the bottle and put it down beside the glass. "Doesn't add up, does it?"

"Not immediately," Talent said. "Everything else spells burglary."

Talent said that absently. His attention was suddenly centered on a small sheet of note paper wedged at one side against the mirror.

"Hmmm. So Mrs. Sterling must have been at home alone, the maid being over in Jersey with her folks for the night. Unless there were other servants. This is a big house. Well, that tells us where to get hold of Mr. Sterling."

"What's that, Lieut?" Walker asked.

Talent pointed to the note with a long finger Walker read:

Miriam:

Driving out to Edgecraft. Will stay overnight. Hope to have some morning golf that may lead to some business. Wish me luck.

Marcus.

"Golf! That means Edgecraft County Club, Lieut."

"Yes. Over near the Sound. Easy drive from here."

The three men turned at a terror-tinged exclamation from the door.

"Kee-risus, what a job!"

Hal Jordan stood just inside the room, camera hanging at his side, his eyes bulging at the spectacle on the bed. Detective Ripley, although without vocal affirmation, appeared to be sharing the lab man's reaction.

* * *

"YOU can get to work right away," Talent said to Jordan. To Ripley, "Stick along with him, Gus. We'll want prints on this glass and bottle but be careful. We'll want a chemical analysis of what's in the glass."

"Okay, Lieut. Gosh what a mess."

"Not nice, Gus."

Talent rounded the bed and went to the open wall safe. The key was still in the lock of the door, the ring and other keys suspended from it. Papers were strewn on the floor beneath the safe. Dr. Walker stood watching him. "Thorough job, Lieut?"

"Looks like it. Somebody knew about this safe."

"And knew where to find the key." Walker volunteered.

"Possibly. Possibly not."

Talent crossed to the chair on which the contents of Miriam Sterling's bag lay scattered. "This may be taken to suggest a part of the search for the keys," he said.

He picked up the single item that attracted him . . . a small folded checkbook. He opened it and discovered that it was a personal account checkbook on the Fifty-Seventh Street Branch of the Central National Bank. The stubs of used checks were all carefully filled in. Talent looked at the last stub. It bore the date of the preceding day. It was made out to Cash. Talent whistled softly. The amount was for $10,000. Could that money have been in the wall safe, and could someone . . . the murderer . . . have known it, he wondered. Unobserved by Gable and Walker, he slipped the checkbook into a coat pocket.

* * *

MOVING toward the door of the room, Talent said to Walker, "Much more for you to do with the body, doc?"

"With that stuff in the glass, you'll want a stomach analysis, won't you?"

"But there's no question what killed her?"

"Oh, no. The blow did that."

"And just before she got it she was reaching for her gun."

"Right, Lieutenant. I see your point. What she drank couldn't have hurt her much, you mean?"

"But what's still in the glass, could have hurt her if she'd taken it. But what I really meant, doc, was whether you'd be in a hurry to have the body. Like to leave it here for an hour or two, if it's all the same to you."

"Sure. I can get after it this afternoon."

Talent walked back to Detective Ripley. "Gus, I may be away for an hour or so," he said. "When the camera boys are through here, get a sheet and cover the top half of the bed with it, but be sure the body isn't moved."

"Right, Lieutenant."

"And, Gus, wait until a little after 9 and then get the D. A.'s office on the phone. By that time you may be able to get your call direct to Dick Trapgood. I like to have him along on a case. Tell him it's a burglary homicide, with some angles, and leave the rest for him to find out when he gets here."

Downstairs Talent joined Gable. "Sergeant, let's have another try with your Miss Nelson," he said.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IT IS a bright, cool morning, the beginning of a perfect midsummer day.

I am sitting out in the garden, contented after a good breakfast, with that lazy, soft feeling out of which comes either a nap or a good idea for my column.

BRANDEIS

What is that I see in the grass below?

A brown beetle of some kind, on its back, but floating in the air just above the ground.

I look again. No, it isn't floating. It is being carried by two little ants, one in front, one in back.

The ants are struggling. The beetle is much bigger than they and ever so much heavier than both of them together.

I am experimenting now. I take a little stick and push the ants away.

But ants are stubborn—and clever.

They maneuver around a bit, probably hoping to fool me. Then they come back, a roundabout way, get back to the beetle and off they go with their prey.

I don't know where they are going, I don't know why they are working so hard on that beetle.

And they, foolish ants, don't know that with one stomp of my foot I could have crushed both them and their beetle.

So much now for the ants and the beetle.

Here is the morning paper. Headline: "180 - PASSENGER DOUBLE - DECKED PLANE FLIES U. S."

The story starts "A new giant of the airways, the 180-passenger Lockheed Constitution, spanned the continent today in 10 hours, 19 minutes."

But, the story goes on, this new giant was not trying for any new speed records. It was simply being delivered to the Navy.

* * *

ANOTHER wonderwork of wondrous man!

Not so wondrous as the atomic bomb, but wondrous indeed.

The atomic bomb, after which a whole new era in history is being named "the atomic age," was promptly turned over to our fighting forces.

This new giant of the air, which may well be the beginning of a new era in aviation, also goes to our fighting forces.

Both the atom and that new plane might well be tremendously important factors in the development of science, of communications, of economics, of health.

Indeed, both of them, like most of man's masterworks, are first utilized as instruments of destruction and war.

I looked at a picture of that new plane. A magnificent achievement.

Then I thought what one storm could do to that plane with its 180 passengers and its crew of twelve.

Just what one of my feet could have done to those two ants who carried that beetle which was so much bigger than they.

"Not out, eh? Well, just read tomorrow's newspaper!"

SYSTEM IS EXPLAINED

The Electoral College

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Many readers have asked for details on the composition and operation of the presidential electoral college, which has the final and authoritative say on who shall be the President of the United States, in 1948 and every four years thereafter.

At first I thought that questions about this ancient but important institution were so elementary, and so kindergartenish, that it would be a waste of costly white newsprint to answer them.

TUCKER

But I have put these same questions to supposedly intelligent politicians, federal office-holders, members of Congress and newspaper friends, and it seems that their ignorance about the makeup and behavior of the electoral college is quite abysmal, to put it mildly.

* * *

TIMELY: So, let's have a talk on this quadrennial school, with thanks to Faculty Members Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, Senate President Pro Tem Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan and House Parliamentarian Louis Deschler of Ohio and wayplaces.

Curiosity about the electoral college powers is especially timely now, because anti-Truman southerners in Alabama and Mississippi, and possibly in other states, may use or abuse the ancient and creaking vote-toting machinery to rob President Truman of their electoral ballot, even though he may command a popular majority in every state in the Deep South.

* * *

NUMBER: First, as to the number of electoral college members to which each state is entitled.

Each commonwealth has as many electoral college votes as the total of its representation in the House and Senate. New York, for instance, has forty-five members of the House and two men in the Senate. Therefore, Governor Thomas E. Dewey's Empire State has forty-seven electoral ballots, the largest in the nation.

It is for this reason that the major parties, when advisable and politically practicable, try to nominate for President a New York Governor, Senator or some outstanding figure from that electorally important area.

* * *

ELECTORS: The average voter does not realize it, but when he pulls the curtain of the polling booth behind him next November, he will not sign his name for Dewey, Truman, Wallace, Norman Thomas or other also-rans.

He will be voting for the electors on the Democratic, Republican, Socialist and Wallace tickets. These electors, according to the Constitution, may be chosen in accord with the decision of each State Legislature.

As a rule, these purely honorary and temporary appointments are given to "fat cats" who have kicked in with heavy contributions to the party treasury.

* * *

CHOICE: These electoral collegiates get together, usually at their respective state capitals, after the November election. They write down, certify and mail the vote of their states to the President of the Senate, who is normally the Vice-President, but in this instance happens to be Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

On January sixth, two weeks before the inauguration of the next President, and three days after Congress has convened, the President of the Senate opens before a joint session of Congress the certificates which he has received from the electoral college members of the forty-eight states.

After House Parliamentarian "Lou" Deschler and his statistical aides have compiled the figures, the President of the Senate then declares that the man having 266 or more electoral votes, which is a majority of the combined membership of the House and Senate, as explained above, is the people's choice for the White House.

* * *

VOTE: Here is the political catch, however, which anti-Truman southerners hope to use to the President's electoral college disadvantage.

The founding fathers, with the French revolution of 1789 and the violent, Rousseau-Robespierre philosophy in mind, were fearful of the mob, although it was more than a hundred years before the birth of Lenin, Stalin and Henry Wallace, not to mention Betty Bentley.

So, the state electors, without regard for their state's vote on the presidential candidates, may vote for Joe Doakes or Joe Roosevelt.

* * *

DEFEAT: Due to the wealthy founding fathers' dread of mobocracy, or, if you please, democracy, they framed the Constitution so that the electoral college members, most of whom are profit-sharing partners in our economic setup, may disregard the popular majority of their states, and vote for whomever they please.

There has never been an instance of such flaunting of the people's will as expressed at the ballot box and recorded a la Charley McCarthy by the honorific electoral college.

But if several southern states break away from President Truman, as they have the right to do under electoral college vagaries, it will mean almost certain defeat for the man in the White House.

Our economic system is terribly erratic. Most of the time we're either flying high without a parachute or milling around in a hole without a ladder.

According to President Truman, Washington wasn't the first President to have his troubles. If Truman cant make history, at least he can rewrite it.

"Most people can't stand prosperity," asserts a sociologist. Most people don't have to.

Now it is a British psychologist who says American women are the most miserable creatures in the whole world. We do wish the mind-pickers would lay off our women, a large number of whom enjoy being miserable.

A certain man, whose name we can't recall, is pushing a wheelbarrow around the world. The world needs a lot of things, but we doubt if it needs a wheelbarrow pushed around it.

We have freedom of speech in this country, and you may say anything you think and keep right on living and enjoying your accustomed health, provided you are willing to apologize for a lot of things you say.

Never before have people talked so much about so many things and known so little about what they were talking.

Inflation frightens and deflation plain scares us. Maybe we ought to do away with our economic system.

"What causes me to have an almost continual pain in the neck?" some one asks. In many cases, living in this world brings on this condition.

Believe It Or Not-By Robert Ripley

TRIESTE ISSUE IS BLAMED

Tito Again Under Fire By Reds

By RANDOLPH CHURCHILL
Special Correspondent

LONDON — New light has been shed on Tito's quarrel with the Kremlin by reports coming from Belgrade that Russian-inspired leaflets are being circulated there. Among other crimes, the leaflets accuse Tito of having run the risk three years ago of involving the Soviet union in a new war for which it was not ready. They also include what purports to be the text of a telegram in which Stalin attacks Tito for his attitude over Trieste and warns him that he will be denounced unless he gives way.

The telegram is dated June, 1945. This was the very time of the Anglo-American ultimatum that forced Tito to evacuate Trieste. At the time many observers wondered what part Stalin had played in the situation. Then it was only possible to speculate; for Stalin never communicated with the allies in the matter or sought to take any credit for Tito's withdrawal. Now it is possible to re-appraise the whole affair in a new light and to draw new conclusions on the nature of Tito's quarrel with the Kremlin.

* * *

Claims Believed Reliable

There seems little reason to question the authenticity of the telegram in the pamphlets now circulating in an underground way in Belgrade. The telegram not only explains the suddeness with which Tito yielded but also gives an important clue to the real reasons for the rift in the Communist lute.

Trieste was a symbol of immense significance to the whole Partisan movement in Yugoslavia throughout the war. The belief that Tito would obtain this tremendous prize as a reward of his eventual victory rallied tens of thousands of non-Communists to his banner. It gave him a hold on the ordinary Yugoslav, which far transcended his position as the leader of the Communist party.

* * *

Tito did succeed in obtaining most of the province of Venezia Giulia and in annexing it to his embryonic Communist state. So great was his desire to reach Trieste itself ahead of the Western Allies that his armored column actually bypassed the Slovenian capital of Ljubljana, leaving it in the hands of the Germans so as to arrive at the gates of Trieste with the minimum of delay.

After holding Trieste for a few weeks (which were a reign of terror for most of the inhabitants), Tito was ejected by the Anglo-American ultimatum and, it would now seem reasonable to suppose the strong order of Marshal Stalin.

Looking back on all these events with after-knowledge, it seems probable that Stalin may have sent his order to Tito mainly because he was not ready at that time for a war with the West. But it looks as if there may have been another reason, Tito, with Trieste in his hands, would hold title deeds of national renown, which would make make him less and less the puppet of the Kremlin.

* * *

Blow At Tito's Power

It may well be that the Russians, scenting that Tito was going to prove a difficult man to control, were far from anxious that he should win this attractive feather for his cap. Certainly, they have done little enough since that time to help him get it.

From the moment when Stalin called Tito out of Trieste he must have known that he was dealing with an angry and disappointed man. It would seem likely that the struggle which culminated in the Cominform's denunciation of Tito a few weeks ago, may very likely be one of three years' duration, and that it was only when all other methods of removing Tito had failed that this deadly quarrel was allowed to become public.

* * *

Tito's Communist have, however stood by him despite the fact that he has not yet obtained Trieste for them.

This may be partly due to the fact that they, like him, know their eviction from Trieste was as much due to Russian indifference as it was to the firm attitude adopted quite independently by Great Britain and the United States.

New York Grand Jury Begins Probe Of Penthouse Gambling

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (U.P.) — A New York county grand jury began an investigation today into Park avenue penthouse parties in which professional gamblers allegedly fleeced socialites under the guise of aiding charity organizations.

Deputy Chief Inspector Conrad H. Rothengast of the detective bureau, was the first witness called.

Earlier, District Attorney Frank S. Hogan again questioned Mrs. Vivienne Wooley-Hart, the cafe society matron who provided a penthouse for one of the alleged parties. Asked what line her discussions with Hogan were following, she said:

"The D. A. won't let me, but I'm just dying to talk—like all women."

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, Aug. 9. (AP)—Soybeans and lard led a general retreat in all commodities on the board of trade today. Losses in soybeans extended to 10 cents, the daily limit.

The selling started after a government estimate of a much larger cotton crop than had been expected. More cotton will also mean more cottonseed oil, traders reasoned, helping to undermine prices of all fats and oils.

Selling then spread to grains with September corn showing particular weakness.

Wheat closed 2 to 2½ lower, September $2.22½-$2.22, corn was 1¾-3⅝ lower, September $1.61¾-$1.62, oats were ⅝-⅞ lower, September 72½-⅝.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, Aug. 9. (AP)—Cotton futures broke more than $3.00 a bale under pressure of liquidation following the issuance of a government cotton crop report much higher than trade expectations.

The Department of Agriculture 1948 forecast of 15,162,000 bales compared with the 1947 crop of 11,851,000 bales and an average trade forecast of 13,870,000 bales. Traders felt the decline in futures would have been more severe if prics had not already been not far above the loan level.

On the basis of the government forecast traders foresaw the possibility of a substantial increase in carry-over stocks this season and a large volume of cotton in the government loan, perhaps well in excess of 3,000,000 bales. Larger supplies were also expected to curb forward buying of textiles. Prices in later dealings moved up 50 cents a bale from the extreme lows on mill buying and short covering.

Futures closed $2.00 to $2.05 a bale lower than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 9. (AP)—A surprisingly large government crop estimate caused heavy long liquidation in cotton futures here today.

Closing prices were steady $2.35 to $2.90 a bale lower. At the lowest levels prices were over a $3 a bale lower but near the close the market made a feeble attempt to rally.

'Scramblers' Used During War Thwart Telephone Wire Tappers

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 — An expert in communications had a tip today for those persons who fear that their telephone wires may be tapped.

The tip was: get a "scrambler."

A "scrambler" is an electronic device developed to a high degree during the war, and was used by high military men and other government officials in transmitting confidential telephone conversations.

Tap a wire with a scrambler attached and what you get is coherent, jumbled, double-talk, this scientist said. He requested that his name not be used, because he might be accused of helping the bookie, or interfering with law enforcement officers.

Technique Explained

The technique of a scrambler, it was explained, is to send the transmitted conversation over a wire—or by radio—on extremely high frequencies. Such "inverted" conversation changes the sound of a low frequency vowel letter—such as an "O"—to a high-frequency, causing it to sound like an "E."

The scramblers, he said, are about the size of a portable radio but "not nearly as complicated." they are fastened on the wire beyound the transmitter—and the words from there on jumble with no coherency.

As an example, he said, when the words, "telephone company", are said through the scrambler, they sound like this:

"Play-o-fine krin-ken-ope."

May Furnish Device

There are several other methods of talking by code, the expert pointed out, but said that the scrambler was one of the most effective. It has been reported that the telephone company has looked into the matter of furnishing "scramblers" to those subscribers who show they have a need for it.

Already the telephone company has approved an accessory that can be attached to the telephone and make a recording of calls received while the subscriber was away from home.

One catch of having a scrambler to keep telephone conversations confidential is the fact that an unscrambler also must be on hand to receive scrambled telephone talks.

Such un-scramblers have been developed.

Another catch, the expert pointed out, is that a wire-tapper could have his own un-scrambler, and decode the conversation.

That could be whipped, however, by getting a scrambler that further complicates the conversation.

Forty-seven states accept adultry as a ground for divorce; 45 recognize desertion; 42, extreme cruelty; 41, conviction for a felony; 39, habitual drunkenness.

ALHAMBRA, Calif., Aug. 9—After a 20-mile foot chase in the best Hollywood tradition, Deputy Donald Doughty got his man—three men in fact.

The chase, which started at Ontario in San Bernardino county where Doughty is on the sheriff's staff, wound up here in Los Angeles county. It was conducted mostly on the top of a long, moving freight train.

Doughty reported he was chasing five men who had robbed Jerrold Samuels, 18. They hopped aboard the caboose of the outgoing freight at Ontario and he clambered after.

Skittering from box car to box car, Doughty said he finally cornered three of the men at the coal tender.

The other two jumped off, but Doughty figured three-for-five was a pretty good average in that fast-moving league.

A touch of paprika added to a cheese sauce gives it good color and flavor. Use such cheese sauce to top ham broiled with bananas, cooked vegetables, or over broiled fish.
