FDR Charges GOP Seeking Spite Fence

By HOWARD FLIEGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt declared tonight assertions that Congress will cooperate only with a Republican President constitute "a threat to build a party spite fence between us and the peace."

In a speech prepared for radio delivery under sponsorship of the Democratic National committee, the President proposed "continuance of the teamwork that we have demonstrated in this war." He said that by carrying forward plans already made the nation can:

"Provide employment for our veterans and our war workers—we can achieve an orderly reconversion.

Can Avoid False Boom

"Above all, we can avoid another false boom like that which burst in 1929, and a dismal collapse like that of 1930 to 1933."

Mr. Roosevelt said he was disappointed that work in Washington prevented him from speaking in Cleveland or Detroit but said "as I told the American people when I became President I follow the principle of first things first; and this war comes first."

The President said the presidential campaign "has been marred by even more than the usual crop of whisperings and rumorings" and declared "I do not propose to answer in kind."

"As we approach election day, more wicked charges may be made with the hope that someone or somebody will gain momentary advantage.

Others Are Expected

"Hysterical, last-minute accusations or sensational revelations, are trumped up in an attempt to panic the people on election day.

"But the American people are not panicked easily. Pearl Harbor proved that.

"This election will not be decided on a basis of malignant murmurings or shouts. It will be settled on the basis of the record."

Mr. Roosevelt said that the public has been told that unless the Republican presidential choice is elected "the Congress will not cooperate in peace. This is a threat to build a party spite fence between us and the peace."

He declared Congress agreed with his administration's foreign policy when it passed resolutions

Jap 'Attack' At Peleliu Flukes

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Nov. 2 (AP)—A Japanese PT boat was sunk while attempting to attack Peleliu beach in the Palau islands while cargo was being unloaded Oct. 26, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The enemy craft apparently launched a torpedo at the cargo vessel but failed to inflict any damage.

The PT boat's machinegun fire caused some American personnel casualties.

The enemy vessel was sunk as it tried to escape northward.

The Tokyo radio reported Wednesday that a "special torpedo assault unit" launched a close-range attack against an American convoy east of Peleliu on Nov. 1 (Oct. 31 U. S. time) and "sank four enemy transports and heavily damaged two others."

They Say Troops Landed

It added that assault troops, in a coordinated operation, "succeeded in effecting a landing on the northern coast" of Peleliu, which is in the Palau group of the western Carolines.

There has been no American confirmation of these enemy claims.

A raid by Marine fighter planes on shipping, installations and oil storage areas on Koror island, north of Peleliu, on Oct. 30 was reported in today's communique. The raiders also hit trucks and barges on nearby Babelthuap island.

Other American planes took the raiding trail the same day into the Marianas, Volcanos and Marshalls and smacked Yap island, in the Carolines northeast of Palau.

Session "Most Disgraceful Episode Of Last 60 Years In Houston"

Fights Feature Constant O'Daniel Boos

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 2. — The political campaign in Texas rose to a new stage of excitement tonight at Houston where Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Tex) was booed continuously for 25 minutes during a speech over a statewide network from Houston auditorium.

O'Daniel continued to read his speech into the microphone but he was heard with difficulty by the radio audience.

After he left the microphone, the chairman of the meeting apologized for the conduct of the audience.

Fist fights broke out on the floor and groups chanted "we want Roosevelt."

Despite the pandemonium the senator read his entire prepared manuscript into the microphone to a radio audience and then left the auditorium immediately under protection of a police escort headed by Captain Tom Sawyer of the traffic division of the uniformed police.

Several arrests were made. One egg was thrown during the disturbance and struck a man standing on the stage within three feet of the senator. At this point a crowd of about 50 persons flanked the senator on each side for protection.

Down below, in a police-estimated crowd of approximately 2,000 persons, fist fights and arguments were breaking out.

Efforts of the police and Wright Morrow, prominent Houston attorney and chairman of the meeting, to restore order were of little avail until the senator ended his talk. Then the commotion quieted somewhat.

John H. Crooker, one of the anti-Roosevelt leaders in the boisterous county convention fight, took a minute of the senator's radio time at the close and apologized for what he termed "the most disgraceful episode of the last 60 years in Houston."

O'Daniel is on a campaign tour through Texas on behalf of the Texas Regulars party. The tour began a week ago at Wichita Falls and extended through the Panhandle and West Texas. The senator continued his speeches in Waco, Austin, and last night at Corpus Christi. His speech at Houston is to be followed by a final O'Daniel rally in Fair Park auditorium, Dallas, Monday night.

FDR Flayed At Forum Session

An estimated 160 persons heard the Roosevelt administration slammed Thursday night at what had been heralded as a public forum sponsored by the Lubbock women's organization of the Texas Regulars.

The keynoters were George W. Dupree and James O. Cade, Lubbock attorneys.

Democrats, Republicans and Texas Regulars had been invited to the meeting, which was held in the second-floor courtroom of the courthouse.

Study Constitution

In an hour-long speech, Dupree urged his listeners to study history and the Constitution before they voted. He said the Constitution as formulated no longer existed, that it had been violated and swept away by the New Deal.

The attorney said the nation now has "one-man rule" and that the "voice of Congress has been stilled through ridicule, pressure and pressure groups:

Dupree decried the "interference" of the national government in state affairs. He asserted that the New Deal had lessened respect for courts of the land.

The speaker said that when a "communisitic government" is placed on a democracy then democracy is destroyed.

Cade Explains Ballot

Cade's talk dwelt on the mechanics of the ballot which voters will mark next Tuesday, explaining how voters might vote for Reglar electors.

Mrs. R. G. Porter, chairman of the women's Regular group, introduced E. L. Klett, chairman of the Lubbock county new party organization, who presented the speakers.

Preceding the talks Miss Joyce Halsey and her Drugstore Cowboys furnished a program of music, including songs by Maidie Claborn. Among their numbers was "God Bless America," composed and written by Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel.

Oil Workers Vote On Strike Nov. 16

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 2 (AP)—A strike vote requested by Local 316 Oil Workers International union (CIO) of the Humble Oil and Refining company's plant at Ingleside, Tex., has been set by the National Labor Relations Board for Nov. 16.

Hines H. Baker of Houston, vice-president of Humble, addressed employes of the plant yesterday, saying that the issue was squarely before them if they wished to interrupt production of vital war materials.

The company contends that the union proposes to call a strike because Humble failed to add a maintenance of membership provision to the collective bargaining contract.

Union officials were not immediately available for comment.

Humble, early in September, secured an injunction from federal district court in Dallas, restraining the War Labor Board from seizure of the plant to enforce maintenance of membership in the union. Hearing on the appeal was set by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for Nov. 6, but was postponed, at the request of the government, until Nov. 22.

O'Daniel Claims New Deal Bars Broadcast

VICTORIA, Nov. 2 (AP)—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, in an address here today, asserted that the reason his speech was not carried on the radio was because radio stations "have been told by the New Deal that they will be penalized if they carry my speeches."

H. H. Carr, program director for WOAI, control station for Texas Quality Networks, told the Victoria advocate over the telephone that he could not accept the speech unless it was approved in advance and then monitored by a station employe.

Hopes For Peace At Texas U. High

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—Representatives of students, ex-student and faculty groups tonight ended a long conference with Governor Coke R. Stevenson and expressed the opinion the University of Texas' administrative turmoil can be ironed out with full satisfaction to all elements.

Governor Stevenson concurred with Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson of Houston, spokesman for the conferees, that the exercise of judgment, wisdom and caution would solve the situation caused by the discharge of President Homer P. Rainey and resignation of three members of the board of regents.

The conference was ordered after university students marched on the capitol protesting Dr. Rainey's discharge.

Two student representatives attended the two and a half hour meeting in the governor's office.

Judge Hutcheson emphasized that the discussion was general in nature, that a condition and not a theory was discussed.

"Our only purpose was to discuss with the governor the situation in general, offer our assistance and to ask him for his assistance" he said.

"We tried to make it clear to each other that we are trying to work together. Our talk covered the selection of new regents but with no discussion of names."

Talk In Terms of Needs

Answering a question, he said that past happenings had been talked of but only as a predicate for discussion of what is needed in order to help the university.

As to the appointments of new regents, Judge Hutcheson added the group had sought to impress the importance of making the best possible selections.

"There is no doubt that the university will be as sound as it can be if the right persons are found," he continued.

Although the conferees generally expressed satisfaction at the outcome of their discussion, the student representatives returned to a campus mass meeting where Malcolm Wallace, student body president, said students will proceed with plans to petition regents to meet here Saturday and explain the reason why they discharged Dr. Rainey.

Still Not Satisfied

Students roared approval of Wallace's suggestion they remain away from classes until at least one regent accepted the invitation. If no answers are received, he said, they should return to classes Monday, under protest and to plan further action.

Wallace announced a protest pa-

Metcalfe Asserts Reasons Given By Regents Inadequate

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Chairman Penrose B. Metcalfe of the special Senate Educational Investigating committee tonight termed "inadequate," reasons given by the regents for discharging President Homer P. Rainey of the University of Texas.

In a prepared statement, he said: "In our conference with the regents at Houston, we assured them of our readiness to co-operate to promote a solution of the difficulties now confronting the university. We were not taking the side of either the regents or the administrative officers.

"Before we left Houston, some of the regents indicated to us that they thought a solution could be arrived at during their meeting, which would not disrupt operation of the school.

"When we left we were quite hopeful a compromise was effected and feel apprehensive that Dr. Rainey's dismissal will have a very adverse effect on the proper development of the university.

"I am very much disappointed that no compromise was effected, although the regents had full legal authority for the action they took, the reasons they gave in today's press dispatches for Dr. Rainey's dismissal, appear to me to be inadequate justification for such action."

FACULTY TO MEET TODAY FOR REPORT

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP) — Secretary M. R. Gutsch of the University of Texas general faculty said that group will meet tomorrow to receive a statement from a faculty committee which negotiated with the board of regents at Houston and to consider "other pertinent matters."

The faculty committee which offered its services in an attempt to conciliate differences between Dr. Homer P. Rainey and the board was composed of Dr. Frederick Duncalf, chairman, Dr. T. S. Painter, who has been named acting university president by the board, and Judge R. W. Stayton.

MEDICAL ALUMNI BACK BOARD BLAME RAINEY

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP) — Dr. W. D. Jones, Dallas, a member of the State Medical Alumni association of the University of Texas, said today he and Dr. George Underwood, the association's president-elect had sent a telegram to Chairman John L. Bickett jr. and others of the university's board of regents who resigned yesterday urging them to withdraw their resignations.

He said they also had urged the other regents not to resign.

In an interview with the Times-Herald, Jones charged "Dr. Rainey brought this whole thing on himself when the board refused to act on his request of recommending removal of the medical school to Austin and began criticizing the board publicly.

"We wholeheartedly back the board's judgement and have urged all members to remain," he added.

One Dies, Five Hurt In Automobile Crash

Mahaffey, 29, Galveston shipyards employe, was killed instantly today when the automobile in which he was a passenger smashed into a telephone pole and turned over several times on highway 75 about one and a quarter mile south of Dickinson, Deputy Sheriff Ed Salzman reported.

Five other persons, including Miss Evelyn Marie Jackson, driver of the car, were injured, three of them seriously.

Budapest Hears Red Guns Roar

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 2 — Russian troops swept to within 23 miles of the Hungarian capital of Budapest today, capturing 60 towns and villages between the Danube and Tisza rivers in a swift offensive aimed at knocking out the last big Axis war satellite.

A Moscow communique announced capture of Domsad, on the Danube's east bank 23 miles south of the great prize city; Kumszentmiklos, 27 miles south and slightly east of Budapest; and Tatarszentgyorgy, 26 miles southeast of the capital.

The roar of Russian guns could be heard in the imperilled capital, and by night the flash of the battles on the plains lit the skies, Moscow dispatches said.

Resistance Crumbling

Although German and Hungarian resistance was bitter it appeared to be crumbling as the Russians smashed through thick minefields and whittled down a staggered Axis defense of anti-tank guns.

In northeastern Hungary, where other units of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinoxsky's Second Ukraine Army were pushing westward just below the Czechslovok border, the Russians hurled the Germans across the Middle Tisza river on a winding 25-mile front.

Completely clearing the enemy from the east bank of the river, the Russians seized Tiszadada, 20 miles northwest of fallen Nyiregynaza; Tiszadob, three miles to the southwest; and Polgar, 27 miles west of Nyiregyhaza and only 93 miles northwest of Budapest.

Berlin acknowledged a Russian breach in Axis lines at Kunszentmiklos, 27 miles outside Budapest, admitted that German troops had been withdrawn to the west bank of the Middle Tisza, and also reported "very heavy fighting" west of Ungvar in Czechoslovakia.

Fresh Nazis Rushed In

The Germans said fresh Nazi troops were being rushed into the great conflict outside the Hungarian capital, but also said that Russian reserves constantly were entering the battleline.

Neither Berlin nor Moscow reported any important action on the German East Prussian front where a lull has existed all week after the Russians had stabbed 20 miles inside Reich territory.

It also had grown quieter on the western Latvian front, where powerful Russian forces were attacking in an effort to eliminate a huge Axis pocket of perhaps 100,000 troops cut off from East Prussia.

Cotton Warehousing Situation Is Acute

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP)—W. A. Brooks, jr., president of the Farmers and Merchants Compress association here, said today "cotton men have made every appeal possible to the United States Employment service that has tied up cotton in warehouses in the worst situation the industry has known."

Dallas and Fort Worth warehouses are embargoed, and Houston and Galveston are receiving cotton only on commitments, M. P. Hamby, traffic manager for the Dallas Cotton exchange, said. Of the 130 cotton belt presses on which he has record, Hamby said that 90 were embargoed to varying degrees. Some are accepting no cotton, others only on permit and a few only for transit.

The bottleneck in removal of cotton from the field to textile mills is principally a labor shortage, Brooks said.

Cadet Dies In Crash Of Training Plane

VICTORIA, Tex., Nov. 2 (AP) — Cadet Francis J. Ford, 25, New York City, was killed in the crash of his training plane north of Foster Field yesterday, Col. H. H. Van Aaken, commanding officer, announced today.

Second Lt. Rivon E. Jones, 21, of Phoenix, Ariz., an instructor, parachuted to safety, the announcement said.

Children Playing With Live Grenades

EL PASO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Frantic El Paso policemen tonight sought 16 live hand grenades they said were being used as toys by children, who picked them up in a dump near Fort Bliss.

Capt. J. E. Stowe said the mother of one boy had found her young son playing with a grenade and that he learned from the youth that there were many of the lethal weapons in the possession of children throughout the city.

Stowe said he had sent patrolmen to pick up two other youngsters whom he said had been trading grenades for cash or marbles.

MacArthur Has Close Escape As Jap Bullet Zings Past

By MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Friday, Nov. 3.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur had one of his closest escapes from death today when a Japanese strafing attack put a .50 calibre bullet into a wall just a foot from his head.

Hearing the bullet hit, Col. Lloyd Lehrbas, the general's aide, rushed into the room to find the American commander examining the hole.

Unconcernedly nodding to the hole just above his head, Gen. MacArthur said:

"Well, not yet!"

The general has had many close brushes with death. The closest also was in the Philippines, from a bombing attack shortly after the war began.

He was in the open when some Japanese planes appeared. One bomb exploded only a few feet away and wounded one of his Filipino orderlies standing by his side.

Leyte-Samar Campaign In Final Stages

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Friday, Nov. 3—The "end of the Leyte-Samar campaign is in sight," Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

American forces completed a juncture at Carigara, key town on the northwest coast of Leyte, and another column thrust across this central Philippines island in the south to tighten a gigantic clamp on Ormoc—last Japanese escape port.

The Japanese appeared to be attempting hasty and bomb-blasted withdrawal from Ormoc.

Jap Losses Set at 30,000

Estimated Nipponese battle casualties exceeded 30,000, including 12,000 counted dead on Leyte.

Disorganized Japanese remnants were being driven toward Ormoc from the north, where American control of Carigara bay was assured, and from the east, where Yank infantrymen pursuer enemy groups through the mountains.

Elements of the 24th division, 34th regiment, marched unopposed in Carigara yesterday from the interior, joining forces with the First dismounted Cavalry division, probing westward along the coast.

The Japanese had made a surprise withdrawal from Carigara, last maneuverable area of strategic Leyte valley, giving one of several indications they were abandoning the defense of Leyte.

Yanks Take Up Pursuit

Powerful American forces immediately struck out in pursuit of the retreating Japanese who evidently were attempting to reach an escape highway to Ormoc.

The enemy's coastal flight was so precipitate that Fred Hampson, Associated Press war correspondent with the 24th, said advance patrols already had penetrated Capoocan, three and one-half miles west of Carigara, and found it unoccupied. The only escape road to Ormoc turns south from the coast at Pinamopoan, four miles beyond Capoocan.

On the south, elements of the 7th division broke through to the west coast, capturing Baybay, 26 miles south of Ormoc.

Ormoc was surrounded on all three land sides by determined American forces and shipping in the bay was hammered ceaseless-

Dispersal Road Plan Approved

The City Planning commission in a meeting Thursday night approved the Texas Highway department's plan for a dispersal system of highways leading into Lubbock, and recommended that the City commission accept it "in principle" as a general plan for development of streets and highways.

S. C. McCarty, highway department engineer of the Lubbock division, explained the plan which was presented tentatively a few days ago by Jac Gubbels, director of urban planning for the state department, to a group of city and chamber of commerce officials.

Primary Arteries

The system probably would involve use of Nineteenth and Fourth streets and Avenues A and Q as main arteries.

As outlined by Gubbels, the plan would offer three routes into the city from every direction.

One announced objective of the proposal would be to "stabilize industrial, retail and wholesale areas."

The commission approved a plat of the Looney subdivision in the Roberts & McWhorter division. Zoning changes and right-of-way on Ave. J were discussed but no action was taken.

Members of the commission present were L. Wesley Read, W. L. Bradshaw, J. H. Murdough and K. N. Clapp. Present also were Marlin R. Smith, city manager, and Arch L. King, city engineer.

Time Off To Cast Ballot Held Legal

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—An opinion by the attorney general's department sought today by State Labor Commissioner John D. Reed said an employe may leave his work for a reasonable amount of time in which to vote.

The opinion added that an employer is within his rights in prescribing the time for voting, provided the time allowed is sufficient for the worker fully to exercise his suffrage.

First Army Opens Drive

Smash For Duren Explodes Suddenly

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS AEF, Paris, Nov. 2.—The U. S. First Army shattered the Siegfried line lull today with a new drive on a front of 4,000 yards southeast of Aachen that swept nearly two miles to within eight miles of the big German road center of Duren — 20 miles beyond which lies Cologne and the Rhine.

The drive rolled through the German villages of Vessenack and Germeter, 13 miles southeast of Aachen, and up to the fortified village of Hurtgen, often attacked but not yet conquered by Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' doughboys.

The attack, whose scope and objectives have not yet been disclosed, exploded in the face of hastily strengthened German defenses in the morning after a heavy artillery barrage that resounded through Hurtgen forest.

Resistance Stiffening

By evening American infantrymen still were slogging forward against stiffening resistance, it was announced at supreme headquarters.

Three hundred prisoners were rooted from pillboxes and foxholes as the Americans broke clear out of the eastern fringes of the battle-chewed forest, across the road leading south from Duren to Lammersdorf, and on into a smaller woodland beyond.

The battle was bulging into country behind the old prepared positions of the main Siegfried belt, but it was by no means in the open.

Germeter and Vossenach, adjacent villages, both had been reached before by patrols of the First Army, but the new thrust had carried beyond this area.

Not Like Real Offensive

From the width of the front in such heavily-defended country it appeared to be an assault of fair size, but it was pointed out at supreme headquarters that there was no indication yet that it was anything like an Army offensive.

The attack on the gun-studded rim of dunes on western and southern Walcheren has made "satisfactory progress," it was announced.

At supreme headquarters it was believed the town of Westkapelle was now in Allied hands along with a three-mile coastal strip to the north and south. More than half of Vlissingen (Flushing) also had been occupied, but up to 10 p. m. fighting was still reported continuing in the streets of the remainder of the town.

The British, hammering away at German rearguards battered against the Maas, drove a mile nearer the two vital bridges across the stream at Moerdijk, widened their hold on the south bank to four miles, and smashed into the enemy citadel of Geertruidenberg.

German accounts asserted the

Premium Gasoline Situation Improves

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP)—A slight increase in the amount of premium grade gasoline for civilians in December may be possible, according to information received from the Petroleum Administration for War today.

Walter Hochuli, Washington, PAW director of distribution and marketing, in a letter to J. S. Leach of Houston, chairman of the distribution and marketing committee for the Southwest, said that "it was our hope that the tetraethyl lead situation would permit our increasing the volume of premium gasoline manufactured for civilian use during November. Refiners are limited to one-fourth of the premium motor fuel based on total gasoline.

For the month of November, it is impossible to permit any relaxation. Some improvement in the stock pile situation is indicated from this point on. There is a possiblity that a slight increase may be permitted for the month of December."

Copy of Hochuli's letter was released by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, Dallas.

41 U. S. Bombers, 28 Fighters Lost

By ROBERT EUNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Friday, Nov. 3 — American fliers destroyed 208 German planes yesterday when the luftwaffe made its long-promised re-appearance and was whipped in one of the great all-time aerial battles—a savage, whirling dogfight of 2,400 U. S. and Nazi planes over Merseburg in central Germany.

Following quickly on this decisive Allied triumph, more than 1,000 RAF bombers roared out over western Germany after nightfall and delivered one of their heaviest blows at Dusseldorf, Rhineland industrial city behind the Western front.

Oil Plant Battered

In the huge daylight raid, 1,100 American heavy bombers blasted the Leuna synthetic oil plant at Merseburg and rail yards at Bellefield and Rheine. Yank fliers in 900 escorting Mustangs and Thunderbolts set a new fighter record of 155 planes destroyed in the air and on the ground. Another fighter record of 130 shot down and a new combination bomber-fighter record—208—in planes destroyed this year during one day were compiled.

Officials reported that, of the 2,000 American planes, 41 bombers and 28 fighters failed to return.

In shooting down the 130 Nazis, the American fighter pilots surpassed the previous mark of 117 kills in aerial combat. They were opposed by many jet planes, four of which officially were reported shot down.

Anticipated Trouble

The Americans, apparently anticipated fierce opposition, sent out the second largest fighter escort ever dispatched by the Eighth Airforce to shepherd the heavy bombers to their targets. The Germans, making a major attempt to save the synthetic oil plant at Merseburg, ordered up their biggest force of interceptors against the Americans over that sector.

The heavy bombers were attacked by waves of jet-propelled planes as they thundered over the oil plant. The Nazi fliers slashed at the U. S. formations from the rear and sides during the bombing runs.

Mississippi Set To Block "Bolt"

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 2 (AP)—The Senate passed in extraordinary session tonight, an act by the House of Representatives which would permit drafting of a supplemental slate of presidential elector nominees supporting Democratic party nominees in the Nov. 7 presidential election.

The proposed supplemental ballot would be attached to the ballot already distributed.

New Nominees Named

Also contained in the bill were the names of five new presidential elector-nominees who would appear on the supplemental ballot. Three were to oppose electors who announcd previously that they would support Senator Byrd (D-Va), and two were selected to run against two other convention-selected electors who are regarded as "doubtful supporters" of the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.

Also on the supplemental Democratic ticket would be those of the remainder of the nine present regular electors who are considered favorable to the party's national nominees.

Earlier Gov. Thomas L. Bailey told a joint session of the legislature that the elector "revolt" in the party would keep Mississippi Democrats from supporting President Roosevelt for reelection.

Yanks Suffer 90,000 Casualties In Italy, With No Letup Sighted

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, Nov. 2. — American troops alone have suffered at least 90,000 casualties in the 14-months-old Italian campaign and there still is no sign the Germans are pulling out of the war-torn country, Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Allied ground commander, said today.

(This apparently represented an increase of nearly 8,000 in the U. S. casualty toll in Italy since the Sept. 21 figure by Secretary Stimson).

Mud Aids In Deadlock

In acknowledging that the Allied assault on the enemy's Gothic line had come to an almost complete halt in the mud of the Po valley and the peaks of the Apennine mountains, Gen. Alexander said "I can't tell how long it will take to drive them out, but it will be done."

The Germans have continued to send reinforcements into Italy, despite their reverses on the Eastern and Western fronts, the Allied commander disclosed. He admitted puzzlement at this enemy strategy, pointing out that Hitler already had suffered 194,000 casualties in Italy, including 34,000 killed and 104,000 wounded.

Some Troops Diverted

Gen. Alexander said that the original plan for attacking the Gothic line had had to be altered because of the withdrawal of all French divisions and some American divisions for the invasion of southern France.

In their present defense of Bologna and the Po valley the Nazis are taking full advantage of an excellent road network to supply their troops. The Allies have extremely limited road facilities and have been additionally hampered recently by almost continuous rains.

Sloshing Through Mud

Front dispatches today reported that Canadian troops of the British Eighth Army, sloshing through country dotted with great expanses of flood water, were only five miles from Ravenna, Adriatic coastal center.

Waterlogged and mudbound American Fifth Army troops kept the hilly front below Bologna fluid with probing patrols, resulting in several sharp clashes. In one such engagement near Imola, Yank units drove the Nazis out of the village of Casetta. German artillery poured shells into American positions.

Former Corpus State Representative Dies

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — Gov. Coke R. Stevenson was notified here today of the death at Corpus Christi of former State Rep. Walter E. Pope, for many years known to legislators as "Uncle Elmer."

Pope was a member of the Texas House of Representatives in all but two sessions held between 1917 and 1939.

The funeral was to be held tomorrow at Corpus Christi.

Ten Thousand Boxcars Asked For Grain Crop

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 2. (AP) — A demand that 10,000 boxcars be released immediately by five Eastern railroads to relieve the grain shipping situation in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas was made today by grainmen and representatives of flour interests at a meeting with Sen. Clyde M. Reed (R-Kas.)

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Priority Increased On Assault Ships

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP) — Production of high priority assault ships increased "very materially" in October, the Maritime commission disclosed today.

Refusing to reveal actual figures for security reasons, the commission said the upturn brought production almost up to sharply increased schedules.

High Navy officials have described the assault ship program as "the key to the early success of the war in the Pacific."

Natural Gas Pipeline In Midwest Proposed

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. (AP)—William G. Woolfolk, president of the United Light & Power company, today announced plans for construction of a $70,000,000 natural gas pipeline from the Hugoton fields of Kansas and Oklahoma to serve cities and towns in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan.

Woolfolk said the project would be undertaken if the Federal Securities and Exchange commission approves a proposal to liquidate and dissolve the American Light & Traction Co., subsidiary of United Light and Power Co. Filing of the petition was announced in Philadelphia yesterday.

The money spent for each hour of Nazi occupation in France would support 500 French families of three people for an entire year.

Scientists say the activity required in "counting sheep" deters rather than encourages sleep.

$100 A MONTH FOR LIFE!

...OR $20,000 NOW...IF YOU WIN THIS CONTEST!

Security for Life! Just think—if you win the Grand Prize in Swan's wonderful contest, you'll be financially independent as long as you live!

You get $100 coming in regularly, month after month! Or $20,000 in a lump sum paid now!

A New Home! A new business! A richer life for your children! You can have any one of these things if you're the lucky winner!

506 Other Prizes! Generous, big-money prizes! You have lots of chances to be a winner! And this contest is so easy. Here's all you do...

First—Refresh your memory about Mama Swan. She's the lovable white bird that appears in Swan Soap ads and stands for Swan Soap. You can read about her in the hints below.

Second—Think up a first name for Mama Swan. You might call her "Mrs. Sudsy Swan" because Swan Soap is so rich and extra sudsy. Or "June Swan" because Swan Soap is mild as a day in June.

These suggestions can't be sent in. We want your ideas for a good name for Mama Swan.

Third—Complete this sentence in 25 words or less: "I like Swan Soap better because . . ."

IMPORTANT: Mail the wrapper from a cake of Swan Soap along with your name for Mama Swan to Swan, Box 36, New York 8, N. Y. Send in as many names as you wish—as long as EACH NAME is accompanied by a Swan wrapper. Also, you must send us the name of your Swan dealer. Hurry! Contest closes December 15th. Get your entry in now!

FOLLOW THESE EASY RULES:

1. Send in a first name which you think is appropriate for Mama Swan. Then complete this sentence in 25 words or less: "I like Swan Soap better because . . ."
2. You may secure an official entry blank from your dealer, or write on your own stationery. Use pen, pencil, or typewriter, but be sure to print clearly your own name and address and that of the dealer where you bought Swan. Let your dealer help you . . . and if you win a prize, he wins one, too. Write on one side of paper only.
3. Mail your entry to Swan, Box 36, New York 8, N. Y. Submit as many entries as you wish, but each entry must be accompanied by a Swan Soap wrapper (large or regular size). Each entry must include both a suggestion for Swan's first name and the 25-word statement. Use sufficient postage.
4. The winning names will be selected for their originality and appropriateness by an independent organization of experienced contest judges. In case of ties, the 25-word statement (which must accompany each suggestion for Mama Swan's first name) will be the deciding factor . . . on the basis of originality, sincerity, and aptness of thought. If there are any remaining ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded to each tying contestant. Decision of the judges will be final. No entries can be returned. All entries and ideas therein become the property of Lever Brothers Company.
5. Any person 18 years of age or older in the continental United States or Puerto Rico and Hawaii may compete, except employees of Lever Bros. Company, their advertising agencies, and their families. Contest subject to all Federal and State regulations. All entries must be the original work of contestants submitted in his or her own name. All members of a family may compete, but no more than one prize will be awarded to one family.
6. Names of major prize winners will be announced on the George Burns & Gracie Allen and "Bright Horizon" radio programs as soon as possible after the contest closes. Complete list of winners will be sent to anyone sending stamped, self-addressed envelope.
7. Contest closes December 15, 1944, and all entries must be postmarked before midnight of that date, and received before January 8th, 1945.

Dewey In Pennsylvania "Mop-Up" Renews Sell-Out Charge On FDR

By GARDNER BRIDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

EN ROUTE WITH DEWEY, Nov. 2.—Governor Thomas E. Dewey traveled through Pennsylvania tonight in what some of his aides described as a "mopping up" campaign for that state's 35 electoral votes after a quick but rousing reception in the border state of Maryland.

It was the Republican presidential candidate's third sortie into Pennsylvania since his nomination, and followed a fourth term campaign trip to Philadelphia by President Roosevelt last Friday.

Dewey, declaring Mr. Roosevelt's New Deal regime had "failed miserably for eight peacetime years," told a cheering Baltimore theatre audience this noon that the President, "in his desperate desire for 16 years in the White House, is straining every conceivable effort, including offering to sell our government for a thousand dollars to any man."

Peddled In Every State

"The offer is being peddled in every state in the union," he declared "that for $1,000 you may have special privilege in our government. You may help to shape its policies and have tea on Thursday afternoons with the President."

But, as he said last night in a major broadcast from Boston, Dewey went on "they are being taken for a ride."

"They won't get what they think they are going to get," he said, "because the higher bidders are Sidney Hillman and Earl Browder and the PAC and the Communists.

"The deal is made and it is time that we decide that we here in America are going to go forward to preserve freedom and not accept any form of totalitarianism however much desperate men may be willing to use its methods to achieve perpetual power."

Boos Amid Cheers

Dewey addressed an overflow audience in a Baltimore theater seating 3,000 after a five mile motor parade through downtown streets. Boos mingled with cheers along the route, but reporters got the impression that most of the derisive shouts were directed at Baltimore's former mayor, Howard W. Jackson, a Democrat, who has joined the Dewey ranks.

Later, during a brief stop at York, Pa., however, Dewey himself received as many boos as cheers when he appeared on his train platform.

From Baltimore, the New York governor rode to Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, and then planned to return to Albany for a day of rest before his wind up rally in Madison Square Garden, New York City, Saturday night. Mrs. Dewey, who has accompanied her husband throughout his campaign, left the party at Baltimore and went to New York for a reception in honor of her and Mrs. John W. Bricker, wife of the GOP vice presidential nominee.

Fears For Peace Plan

Dewey told his Baltimore audience that unless a new administration is elected next Tuesday, which his campaign staff has come to refer to as "E-day" there is danger that the program for setting up a world peace organization will be "wrecked upon the rock of one man's arbitrary will."

He appealed directly for Democratic support, declaring:

"This is not a contest between Democrats and Republicans. It is a contest, between, on the one hand those who believe in our system of government—Republicans and Democrats alike—and on the other, those who have kidnaped the Democratic party in order to change our system of government.

"The only way for the real membership of the Democratic party to win in this election, the only way for the Democrats to recapture their party," he said, "is to join with the Republicans in defeating the New Deal, the Political Action committee and the Communists."

Governor Edward Martin and former Lieutenant Governor Samuel Lewis boarded the Dewey campaign special to York for the swing through Pennsylvania. It was in Philadelphia that the GOP nominee opened his campaign on September 7. Later he journeyed to Pittsburgh for his major labor speech.

Chaos Predicted If Roosevelt Defeated

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 2. (AP)—Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, former United States minister to Norway, said at a press conference here today that defeat of President Roosevelt at the election "would upset the apple cart of the whole world."

"The whole of Europe looks up to and admires President Roosevelt," she said, adding "I have lived close to several administrations in Washington and I know what it means to change governments. It means perfect chaos for months."

Charge As Common Scold Is Pending

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2. (AP) — Four Common Pleas court judges were in a huddle today over the question:

Can a man be indicted as a common scold?

Such an indictment was sought after an argument between a woman and a man about a dog.

The defense relied on the old English law definition and, quoting an 1866 opinion, argued, "a common scold can be only a woman."

The jurists took time out for research.

PRETENDER IN LISBON

LONDON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Reports reaching here from Madrid today said Archduke Otto of Hapsburg, pretender to the thrones of Austria and Hungary, had arrived in Lisbon, Portugal, by plane from New York.

Envoy To Mexico Visiting In Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP)—Near the end of his first holiday trip in four years, George S. Messersmith, United States ambassador to Mexico, arrived here at noon to spend three days as the guest of Mayor and Mrs. Woodall Rodgers before proceeding to Mexico City where, he said urgent business awaits him.

"I spent one week in Washington working," Messersmith said, "and while I am in Dallas I plan to enjoy meeting and visiting people."

TROOPS TO GET RESULTS

LONDON, Nov. 2. (AP)—American troops will hear results of the presidential election all next Tuesday night through broadcasts by the American forces network of the European theater of operations. The British broadcasting corporation will broadcast returns regularly on Wednesday.

ECZEMA- BEFORE AND 12 DAYS AFTER STARTING TO USE COLUSA NATURAL OIL AND CAPSULES

Thousands of DOCTORS Are COLUSA Customers

NEW YORK, Dr. C. reports (Case A) "Eczema 6 years. Steadily getting worse. Colusa oil and capsules used 3 days with good results, completely cleared in 4 weeks". (Case B) Poison Ivy entire body. Intense itching and swelling, itching stopped almost immediately on application of Colusa, entirely cleared in 5 days." (Case C) "Athletes foot 15 years couldn't wear shoes for 3 weeks. Entirely cleared in 10 days." (Other cases) "Leg ulcer 2 years standing cleared in 8 weeks with Colusa oil. I have used Colusa oil on several burns and psoriasis with excellent results." OHIO, Dr. H. reports (Case A) "Psoriasis on legs, case cleared of all signs in two months." (Case B) "Acne, 3 cases all improving. (Case C) "Leg ulcer of several years now nearly healed." MARYLAND, Dr. K. reports (Case A) "Psoriasis—beneficial results. Patient recovered. (Case B) "Ringworm, 3 cases, patients recovered.

SUMMARY OF CLINICAL REPORT ON 82 CASES

A doctor who owns a hospital in Texas reported under oath that in a clinic of 20 cases of psoriasis, "16 cleared of all lesions completely in 30 days—4 were 70% clear and continued treatment; that out of 40 cases of eczema all but 3 were cleared of all lesions in 3 weeks to a month with prognosis of the 3 good for recovery, that out of 11 cases of athletes foot all, save one who did not return for treatment, were dismissed completely cured—8 to 14 days for acute cases and 3 weeks for chronic cases; that out of 3 cases of leg ulcers complete healing resulted in all 3 of the cases in a month, and in 8 cases of poison ivy or oak, complete cures were effected in an average of 5 days." His report states, "not in a single case of this clinical group did I meet with toxic bad effects * * * intolerance or flare-ups * * Colusa may be used near the eyes without danger * * * it relieves itching quickly. A little of the oil covers large areas. It is non-irritating. Soothing to raw and denuded lesions and affected areas. Easily massaged into the skin."

Two other doctors make similar glowing clinic reports—one, a United States Government health physician reporting on 25 cases, and the other a Mexican Government health physician reporting on 43 cases.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

IF YOU like to argue please read this: "If argument were merely a harmless pastime it wouldn't be a bad practice to recommend. But it goes deeper and isn't harmless at all. Argument is a canker eating at the very core of a man's personality. It is emotional and it upsets the emotions, clogs the brain with prejudices, the blood cells with the poisons of anger and frustration."

SUNDAY DINNERS

WILL emancipation from the chore of cooking a big Sunday dinner be the next great freedom won by American women? Wartime help problems have taught housewives that many kitchen duties formerly thought essential can be eliminated or done in an easier way.

Within recent years the women of this country have instituted several radical changes that tend to make life more pleasant. They have discarded those sweeping skirts and hourglass corsets. They have obtained property ownership and suffrage. They have seized the advantages of co-education and wiped out the ancient belief that woman as a class was inferior to the male of the species. They have woman suffrage and what they do with this privilege will be known after next Tuesday.

* * *

WE THINK that another day is coming in behalf of womankind — it is when she rises up and throws off the slave-like custom of the Big Sunday Dinner. It is unnecessary and unfair that a mother should spend the greater part of the Sabbath day, as well as part of the afternoon before, in preparing an elaborate meal that the family will eat in a few minutes — then sit around radioing or reading the newspapers or catching a nap — while mother does the dishes.

The average housewife puts in as hard a work-week as the average man and, with help unavailable in many homes now, many of them harder. Why should a woman be expected to put in a busy Sunday getting up a meal for her husband and children to gorge themselves on? To go a bit further, why should Sunday be regarded as a day especially set aside for gorging by anybody?

* * *

Already many women have begun to lighten the tasks of preparing a Sunday meal. They prepare salads and desserts the afternoon or evening before and several friends have confessed recently they bake their roasts Saturday afternoon and serve the family either "warmed overs" or cold meat. Too, in a number of homes women have become accustomed to setting a light repast for Sunday since their men have gone to war and they are not obliged to cook "potatoes, steak and pie," those three items usually on most men's culinary want lists.

An experienced matron once remarked that the best way to hold a man's love is to "feed the brute." Sound logic, no doubt, but it is not stated that the woman needs to lead a dog's life in doing it.

WANT MAGAZINES

THERE'S not a magazine left down at the Santa Fe station at the Wives of Officers Overseas booth and young women in charge are asking again that Lubbockites bring their periodicals which are given to servicemen who come through on troops trains. A call Thursday afternoon found the WOOS unable to fill the need.

The men want comic booklets, mystery yarns, national pictorial magazines, news weekies and like "Reader's Digest," "Cosmopolitan" and "The American Magazine," according to Mrs. M. C. Goodpasture, although they aren't especially fond of reading magazines for women.

If you have a stack of current magazines but no way to get them to the station you may call 5385 and someone will call for them.

GETTING CLOSE

THE former governor Talmadge of Georgia was driving from his country home into Atlanta for a political rally. As his limousine rolled smoothly down the highway the governor saw a small boy trudging along by the side of the road. He told his chauffeur to stop and invited the boy to join him in the back seat. The ensuing conversation revealed the boy was headed to Atlanta to attend the rally.

"Have you ever seen the governor," asked Talmadge. "No sir." "Know what he looks like?" "No sir, but I've heard a lot about him."

As the car entered the city a police escort joined it. Accompanied by screaming whistles they rushed to the place of the rally. As the car moved down the crowded street, with people cheering on either side, the governor smiled down at the boy and said, "Now, do you know who the governor is?"

"No sir," said the boy, "But it must be one of us."

Speech Majors Give Program For Club

A program was presented by majors in the Speech department at Texas Tech for members of Tech Faculty Women's club Wednesday afternoon at Seaman hall.

Jo Hall Woffard gave a negro monologue and Jane Wilson gave "Importance of Being Ernest." "Be Thou Blessed" was given by Mary Nees and a Sis Hopkins monologue was presented by Jimmy Hopson. Louise Ince was master of ceremonies.

A business session was held and sewing was done by forty persons present.

Hostesses were Mesdames W. J. Davis, chairman; Ray Chappelle, O. V. Adams, A. J. Bahm, Olga Carter, C. D. Eaves, R. E. Garlin, T. Earl Hamilton, Clifford Jones, Arch Lamb, Elmer McBride, D. R. Parker, C. C. Schmidt, R. S. Underwood, Ernest Wallace, A. W. Young, Ray Mowery, J. H. Murdough, Misses Doris Nesbitt and Gussie Teague.

Golf Association Has Luncheon Here

Lubbock Country Club Ladies Golf association members enjoyed a driving and putting contest and were served lunch Wednesday with Mesdames J. H. Stiles and Joe Atherton as the hostesses at the club. In the driving contest Mrs. George W. Soash was high and Mrs. W. E. Eisenberg, second. Mrs. M. M. Brown was first in putting and Mrs. Morley Jennings, second.

The association is to be host at the USO Dec. 17. Members voted to each contribute a gift to the Christmas packages to be sent to McCloskey General hospital.

Herbert Schroeder, country club pro, discussed golfing rules.

Present, other than those mentioned, were Mesdames Roy Autrey, F. L. McRee, Ben Caswell, Schroeder, Charles Young, Sam Camp, Marilyn Dube, John Redding, A. A. Foster, Powell McWhirter, W. F. Helwig, George Johnson, Richard Shoop, Bob Mosher and a guest, Mrs. W. P. Att-Kisson of Sherman, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Atherton.

Officers Elected By Arnett-Benson Club

Girl Scout Leaders club met at the Little House Wednesday morning and elected the following officers: Mrs. H. J. Matejowsky, president; Mrs. C. R. Cagle, vice president; Mrs. Jack Blakeley, secretary-treasurer.

Twenty-five women were present. Mrs. C. I. Wall acted as president.

It was reported a recent rummage sale sponsored by the Leaders club netted $95.79.

Mrs. Robert J. Allen discussed the work of the Tuberculosis association in Lubbock county and outlined plans for the sales of Christmas seals.

Miss Rosemary Head, executive secretary, will open an office at the American Legion hall each Thursday from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. for the benefit of those Leaders who cannot come to the Little House when they need help.

Mrs. A. J. Holtkort Hostess To Needlers

Mrs. A. J. Holtkort, 2201 Eighth, was hostess to members of the 1941 Needle club Thursday afternoon in her home.

Members will meet next with Mrs. J. A. Jackson, 2215 Twenty-ninth, Nov. 16 at 3:30 p. m.

Those present were Mesdames W. A. Pettey, Olin Perryman, Merritt Clark, J. O. Pope, Pat Henry, E. R. Trego, Wesley Smith and Jackson.

Lubbock Junior Garden And Bud To Blossom Clubs Hear Interesting Programs Thursday

Interesting programs were given at separate meetings of the Lubbock Junior Garden club and Bud to Blossom club Thursday afternoon.

Unusual holiday and decorative arrangements for the Christmas season was discussed and demonstrated by Miss Edith Coleman, Tech instructor in applied arts, for members of the Lubbock Junior Garden club in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Kerr, 2818 Twenty-second, with Mesdames Allen Farmer and Garland Newsom as assistant hostesses.

Miss Coleman was assisted by Betty Jo Crisler and Audrey Melton, students in home economics.

Mrs. Reginald Rushing was present as a guest and twenty members attended.

* * *

J. C. Davis spoke on "Transplanting and Pruning Shrubs" at the session of the Bud to Blossom club in the home of Mrs. J. W. Harrison, 1507 Twenty-seventh, with Mrs. Frances Batsell as cohostess.

Mrs. Albert Symes, president, presided at the business meeting and roll call was answered with a garden hint.

Names were drawn for the Christmas party and Mrs. M. K. Woodard was voted in as a new member.

BLOND BEAUTIES who wish to keep their golden tresses brilliant and sparkling may take a tip from Candy Jones, popular magazine cover girl. To keep her hair clean looking, Candy shampoos it more than once a week. She uses a bit of witch hazel on some cotton and rubs it into the scalp to remove oiliness. To keep her hair from darkening she uses lemon or grapefruit juice rinses. Although she does not recommend bleaching, she says when this process is used it is wise to follow through with a weekly oil treatment.

Four Nation-Wide Polls Say Race Too Close To Try To Pick Winner

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Four nation-wide polls were agreed as of today that the race between President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was too close to warrant trying to pick the winner.

Three of the four opinion-samplings gave the President a slight lead. The fourth, the latest Gallup poll, indicated that his Republican opponent had the edge. All four were careful to point out that the margins were not conclusive.

Armed Services Estimated

Final results of the Crossley poll gave Roosevelt 52 per cent of the Major party vote on the basis of late October polling in 23 pivotal states, adjusted by estimates of the armed services vote. (Actual samplings of the service vote is prohibited by law—a factor, all four polls noted, adding to the difficulty of trying to estimate which way the total vote would go.)

An analysis accompanying the Crossley poll adds that the President's plurality "in several important states is so narrow that it is quite possible for Dewey to capture a majority of the electoral votes merely by minor changes, or increased Republican voting in these states."

A semi-final poll conducted for Fortune magazine by the Elmo Roper firm gives Roosevelt 53.5 per cent of the civilian vote. The magazine's survey of Public Opinion emphasizes several possibilities of an upset.

Gallup Has Dewey Ahead

Dr. George Gallup's American Institute of Public Opinion reports Dewey leading as of last week in 22 states with 255 electoral votes and Roosevelt ahead in 21 states with 206 electoral votes. (It takes 266 to win). The remaining five states, with 70 electoral votes, are listed as "on the line."

In the fourth poll, a Newsweek magazine survey representing state-by-state estimates of 118 political writers, Roosevelt is found leading in 27 states with 249 electoral votes and Dewey in 20 states with 247 electoral votes. Newsweek regards Pennsylvania (35 electoral votes) as the state of decision.

The Gallup, Newsweek, and Crossley polls find Roosevelt leading in these 20 states, which have a total of 198 electoral votes: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, North Carolina, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia and Washington.

Dewey is given the edge in these 12 states, whose combined electoral vote is 115: Colorado, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Scout Troop Works 80-Acre Farm Here

A war farm program which began as an individual and group victory gardening has grown into the cultivation of 80 acres of land three miles north of Lubbock by members of Troop 5 of the Lubbock Boy Scouts.

Under Scoutmaster W. A. "Mose" Hood's leadership, since the war began the boys have produced from the soil five bales of cotton, 35 tons of feed, 200 bushels of sweet potatoes, 10 bushels of beans, quantities of corn, enough truck vegetables to supply their families the year round and leave a considerable amount for marketing. They have raised 12 head of cattle, five of which were sold at a neat profit.

This year's crops haven't all been gathered. However estimates of the potential harvest stand at 150 bushels, 15 tons of feed, 16 bushels of Kentucky Wonder beans, corn and quantities of other truck garden vegetables. Late fall crops now in the ground cannot be estimated.

Heavy Demo Victory In County Forecast

Chairman of the Lubbock county Democratic Executive committee, L. C. Ellis, predicted the county in Tuesday's election will go "75 per cent for Roosevelt-Truman electors."

"That," he said, "presupposes, however, that loyal Democrats, those who will vote the ticket straight, go to the polls and vote—and that they see to it that their neighbors vote.

"It boils down to this: Reports coming to me are very encouraging; but loyal Democrats should not relax in work for their nominees."

Ellis predicted a general election vote of 10,000—which would establish a record for Lubbock county. He said he had arrived at his estimates on the total vote and on Democratic support by "checking closely" with leaders of labor, the vocations, the professions and business.

ZARA SAID CAPTURED

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Capture of the Dalmatian port of Zara after a three-day battle was announced in a broadcast communique from Marshal Tito's headquarters tonight.

Cotton Storage Space Lacking

DALLAS, Nov. 2 (AP)—All Dallas and Fort Worth compress warehouses have been embargoed and at least 75 per cent of all others in Texas are wholly or partially embargoed in one of the most serious congestions of cotton storage space cotton men have seen, the regional office of the OPA said today.

An OPA order designed to move bales into open yards was put into effect. Temporary ceiling prices for emergency storage of cotton in Texas and Oklahoma were established. They are the existing maximum prices for the storage of cotton in enclosed warehouses plus 25 cents per bale in Texas and 60 cents per bale in Oklahoma, Ralph Crocker, district price executive, said.

Labor Shortage Blamed

Acute labor shortage is blamed as the No. 1 reason for warehouse problems which have dammed the normal flow of cotton, and cotton merchants listed as others the storage of government-owned cotton (which last year accounted for 50 per cent of sales) and slowed up movement to textile mills.

The OPA temporary ceiling boost applies only to yards which will enter into agreement with the Commodity Credit corporation, government agency handling government-loan and government-owned cotton.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Ballot boxes will be ready by 5 o'clock this afternoon for election officials of the 26 county precincts, County Clerk Ed D. Allen announced Thursday. The boxes may be picked up today, Saturday or Monday, Allen said.

Four students from Lubbock were listed on the honor roll for the first six weeks at Abilene Christian college, according to information received here. The students are Noel Ellis of 1611 Main, Hershel L. Dyer, Jewell Christine White of 2315 Fifteenth, and Billie Louise McNabb of 2210 Ave. U.

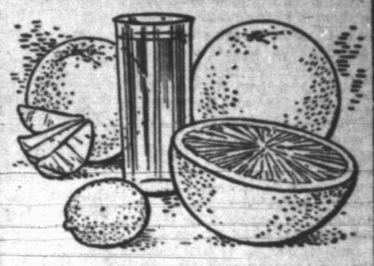

Over $300 in checks payable to McMurry college at Abilene was taken Wednesday night in a burglary at New Home in northwest Lynn county, Lubbock officers were informed Thursday by Lynn County Sheriff Sam Floyd. The amount had been contributed as a donation to the college from citizens of the community, Floyd said. The burglar also took a billfold containing $50.

Expressing that "foul play" may have been the fate of her husband, Mrs. Ambrose Oglesby of 1405 Ave. V Thursday night asked Lubbock police radio station KZGW to broadcast a description of 44-year-old Ambrose Oglesby who has been unheard of since Saturday night. Police said Mrs. Oglesby told them that her husband left Longview Saturday night en route to Lubbock.

Lubbock police Wednesday night held a man with a "lengthy record" of cold checking, counterfeiting and liquor law violations in connection with the forgery of two checks for more than $50. Officers indicated they might link him with other forged checks. The man said he was a painter.

Sharply Divergent Plans Offered At International Air Conference

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Aviation Editor

CHICAGO, Nov. 2—Central control of world air transport economics became the declared issue of the international civil aviation conference today, with Canada and the United States presenting opposing views before the delegates from 51 countries.

Canada's leading delegate declared the U. S. plan for making world air routes by two-party agreements among nations was "unrealistic" while the United States' spokesman called the British proposal for an international air authority a "splendid dream."

Canada Leads Empire Fight

Statements of policy by the leaders of the delegations from the two North American nations outlined sharply the basic differences in concept of the conference goal, and subsequent speeches indicated lines of support for the opposing views.

Canada clearly is spearheading a British empire plan for an international air authority tantamount to the United States Civil Aeronautics board (CAB) with power to allocate routes and schedules, fix rates and fares, and govern competitive practices for airlines connecting nations.

The United States, apparently with the support of southern neighbors and some nations in Europe, assumed, in its first public pronouncement on the subject, the position that such a plan is visionary and lacks any foundation in international law or experience.

Instead of a world CAB, the United States wants a broad agreement assuring equality in the air ocean for all nations, an international organization having power with respect to technical matters, but with only a consultative function as regards economic and political questions.

Adolf A. Berle, jr., the United States delegation leader, made it clear that his country regards the conference as an ideal place for making bi-lateral agreements for air routes in postwar expansion of its 100,000-mile prewar international operations.

Oil Companies Show Increased Earnings

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Large increases in oil company earnings helped lift the average corporation profit for the first nine months of the year 5.9 per cent above net for the comparable 1943 period, the National City Bank said today in a survey of 300 companies.

Outside the petroleum group, the bank commented, net incomes for the period were up only 2 per cent. The 13 oil concerns made an average of 27 per cent more than a year ago.

The profit increase of 5.9 per cent compared with an 11 per cent rise in sales, the bank said.

Voter For Lincoln To Vote Republican

SANDPOINT, Idaho, Nov. 2 (AP)—Israel A. Broadsword, 98, says he is going to vote Republican again. The first time he voted, he cast his ballot for Abraham Lincoln in 1864.

Idaho's oldest Civil war veteran, Broadsword explained that he cast his first vote at the age of 18 under a regulation which permitted Kansas soldiers to vote regardless of age.

Housing Units For Seismograph Crew Are Sought Here

"Are you Kiddin'?"

No, it's a fact. The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has had a request from an oil company for 38 housing units to be used by members of a seismograph crew being sent to Lubbock soon, M. D. Fanning, chamber staff member, said Thursday.

The company stated the crew would be here at least a year and leases would be signed for each unit six months or more. All sizes of houses and apartments are needed, furnished or unfurnished.

The Chamber of Commerce is practicularly anxious to get in touch with Lubbock property owners wishing to list rental houses.

The Union of Socialist Soviet Republics occupies one-sixth of the earth's land surface.

WITH the AEF

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, Oct. 27. (Delayed) (AP)—Just mention the frontline medics around the average bunch of doughboys and you'll start a story-telling session.

They'll tell you about Pfc. Gilbert Pardue of Booneville, N. C., an aid man who had two patients shot out of his hands while other medicos were cut down around him and his company was surrounded and forced to withdraw—and still he continued to roam the wooded hillside, rescuing seven other wounded infantrymen.

DIXON

His unit had advanced along a road when the Germans flanked it and gained control of the high ground paralelling the highway. From that vantage point, their machineguns cut a bloody swath through the doughboys.

Wounded Man In Bushes

Pardue saw a wounded man writhing in a clump of bushes. He ran to him and began treatment. He was standing, ignoring the bullets chopping the ground around him, when the wounded man was killed, a bullet through his head. Nearby another aid man was hit three times in the side, another doughboy was shot in both legs. Still another was hit in the head.

Without help, Pardue dragged the infantrymen to a nearby ditch and gave them aid. Then he stalked the still fire-lashed battlefield, gathering in five more wounded. He treated them and dragged them into the ditch.

Returns Next Morning

He carried two of them to the rear as the company was forced to withdraw temporarily, and he superintended the removal of others. The next morning, he took four littermen and a squad of riflemen and returned to the battle sector to get the rest of the wounded. He was busy giving treatments when again a German machinegun cut loose and swept the slope alongside the road.

Unable then to remove the wounded, the litter squad took cover. The riflemen opened fire on the machinegun position. But there was work an aidman could do, so Pardue kept going, man to man, along the slope, giving aid until the fighting subsided and he could get the wounded evacuated.

"He just stayed out there and took it," one of the men he had rescued said later. "He didn't have to do a damn thing, but he just stayed there with us and took it."

The doughboys also will tell you about four 36th division litterbearers — buck privates all. They included Eric Cooper, Levelland, Tex., and Guy White, Hamlin, Tex. They saw a wounded doughboy in an open section of the road directly in front of a German roadblock and tried to carry him out.

Three times they tried to get him. Three times the German riflemen ignored their red-crossed armbands and drove them back to cover under intense fire. Then they asked a nearby tank commander to give them cover. With tank guns firing at every sign of movement on the other side of the roadblock, they finally rescued the wounded soldier.

Majority Sentiment At Tech Favors FDR

In a recent survey of 122 representative Texas Tech students, 78 percent said if voting they would choose the Democrats for leadership and few showed any interest in the Texas Regulars.

Of the 122 interviewed, 83 percent of their mothers and 91 percent of their fathers would stick to the Democratic party, they said. Fourteen of the boys and nine girls with Democratic mothers and fathers would vote the Republican ballot, while only two of the students whose parents were Republicans would vote the Democratic ticket.

One student, when questioned said "I would hate to think that we have just one man capable of being president," while another fourth termer advocate said, "Roosevelt is the best qualified and now is no time to test new material." Someone who seems to be tired of it all replied, "I would just like a change."

City Discusses Engine Purchase

City commission, in recessed session Thursday afternoon, considered bids for the purchase of an additional engine and generating unit for the city light and power plant and then recessed until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for final decision on the matter.

Only one base bid, totaling $258,046, was submitted. It was from the Nordberg Manufacturing company of Milwaukee, Wis., and was presented by Chas. B. Trimple, southwestern representative of the company. The bid was for a Nordberg type TC-219, 3,600 bhp, 225 rpm Diesel engine, similar to several now in operation at the plant.

General Electric type generator was favored by the commission after representatives of Allis-Chalmers and Westinghouse and General Electric had been heard.

Final action on the bid will be taken at the Saturday meeting. A week or more will be required in processing of the city's application to the War Production board for priority on purchase of the engine and delivery of the unit is contingent upon release of materials. Delivery is expected within five months, Trimple told the commission.

Addition of the unit will give the city plant seven engines and generating units with a total capacity of 10,630 kilowats.

Mayor O. W. Ribble presided at the meeting and others present were: Commissioners Ray Dickey, W. B. Price and Fred Childress, City Manager Marlin Smith, Plant Superintendent John Graham, and City Attorney Durwood Bradley.

"Deal" Between GOP And Regulars Cited

HOUSTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Tom Tyson of Corsicana, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the state Democratic executive committee, said today he believes a "deal" has been completed whereby state Republican leaders are advising their followers to vote for the electors of the Texas Regulars.

Tyson, in an interview with the Houston Chronicle, said during the last few days of the presidential campaign the "deal" will be made "unmistakably plain."

(At Brownsville today R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas, denied knowledge of the plan.)

YUGOSLAVS IN NEED

Higher Citrus Prices Forecast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP) — Citrus growers from Texas, Arizona and California were confident here today that despite OPA opposition they would share in price boosts scheduled for Florida growers.

Their belief was bolstered by two developments:

1. The Floridians, who have been promised the higher ceilings because of heavy hurricane losses, threw their support behind the overall increase.

WFA Support Seen

2. War Food Administration officials decided to support such a plan.

The growers said WFA favors the proposal as a means of insuring continued production, which is its main responsibility.

The Floridians said they favor it, because of a belief the market would soon level off to the lowest figure prevailing. They would like some differential to Florida's advantage, but not too much.

Economic Stabilization Director Fred Vinson, however, is known still to favor "spot" increases only where damage occurred, if such a plan can be worked out.

Vinson, who must make the final decision, probably will announce his ruling some time this week, W. J. Steed of Orlando, Fla., reported.

"He is receiving reports from officials of both agencies and we are hopeful he will see things our way soon," Steed told a reporter.

Steed said the growers would hold additional conferences today with WFA to discuss processing problems.

Yesterday they met with OPA and following the session John Gismond, the agency's fruit and vegetable pricing section chief, reported general agreement on the Florida situation but no decision on what to do about the other states. The specific prices for Florida have not been decided.

Gismond also stressed that there "definitely is no chance of ceiling being lifted completely." Some growers have urged such action because of unusually heavy losses in the hurricane.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Edwards of route 3, Lubbock, were informed Thursday of the death of their infant grandson born in New York city Saturday. The parents are Boatswains Mate 1/c and Mrs. LaRue Edwards. Edwards has been in the Navy six years and formerly attended Lubbock schools and Texas Tech.

Four Kiwanis luncheon club speakers Thursday in Lubbock hotel were Mrs. Grace Dyess, Chas. Whiteacre, A. C. Hamilton and Maj. Bernard C. Morris. K. N. Clapp was program chairman and T. E. Buckner, president, presided.

Absentee voting in Tuesday's general election ends, today, the last day, in other words, to receive absentee ballots cast by those who paid poll taxes. Federal war ballots, the short form ballots, may be received by election judges up to the time polling places close Tuesday.

Mrs. J. G. Allen, assistant professor of journalism at Texas Tech, is to leave today for Austin to attend a joint meeting of the state board of Texas division of American Association of University Women and a neighborhood conference of branches in southwest Texas. Mrs. Allen is state bulletin chairman of the association.

The Texas Farm Bureau federation meeting, erroneously, announced as opening yesterday, will be held here next Thursday at the Lubbock hotel. The meeting should be of wide interest to farmers of the South Plains.

Three bicycles had been returned to their owners Thursday following a police request that persons who have lost bikes in recent months go to the police station and attempt identification of their property. Officials urged, "bring identification and claim the rest of 17 bikes and parts of bikes." Police want the "scrap pile" cleaned up by the end of the week.

Strict lookout was urged in police broadcasts Thursday for appearance of 25 or 30 "tractor gasoline stamps numbered from PO-283724 to PO283571," taken in burglary Wednesday of a service station at Thalia, in Foard county. Three youths in an automobile, license number of which was broadcast, are suspects. Money, ammunition and chewing gum also were taken.

Rosie Lee Hudson, 35, a negro woman, was fined $5 and costs Thursday in Justice of the Peace J. T. Inmon's court for use of abusive language on a 71-year-old negro man whose residence had been invaded by the woman.

Sixth War Loan Drive Started Early At LAAF

The "early birds" were out in force at Lubbock Army Air field Wednesday morning at LAAF started off on the Sixth War Loan drive. The opening day saw several purchasers for every denomination of bonds except the thousand-dollar variety. To the following go the honors for being first in line in a very gratifying rush to get the "Revenge Bataan" war loan drive off to a big start:

The first GI ($10) bond went to Sgt. Ernest F. Triplett of Section B. The first $25 bond was bought by Sgt. Harry H. Lockhart, jr., also of Section B; as a gift for Thomas J. Kaiser, a very young relative. The first $50 bond goes to the credit of Section I with Pvt. William C. Denault as the purchaser. Lt. William P. Fitch, jr. bought the first $100 bond of the campaign and the first bond to be credited toward the officer's quota. And the first $500 bond bought in the current drive was purchased by Sgt. Joe B. Cobb of Section B.

Not only were LAAF officials extremely happy over the initial day's results but Section B gave notice to the other organizations that they intend to be the first to reach their quota again in this drive. They were also the first over the line in the 5th War Loan drive. The civilian employees were still getting organized and this morning were looking around for someone to grab off first honors in the only available "first" catagory —the thousand dollar class.

East Texas Timber Threatened By Fire

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 2. (AP)—The East Texas commercial timberland is still in great danger of fire, J. O. Burnside, chief of the Texas forest service of A. & M. college, warned today, reporting that during October 260 fires burned over more than 8,000 acres.

With a south wind fanning fires in the piney woods for the last few days, the situation is steadily growing worse, Burnside said. He had reports from his ground and air patrolmen on 40 fires which burned 1,500 acres of timber Tuesday.

"The record is a lot worse than September's," Burnside said. "We have had our main trouble since Sunday. It is exceptionally dry all over East Texas. The principal trouble is in northeast and extreme southeast Texas."

There were a number of large fires reported Tuesday. Four near Karanack in Harrison county burned more than 100 acres, two near Kirbyville in Jasper county burned 350 acres, two in Liberty county burned 150 acres and nine in Polk county burned 600 acres, Burnside said.

Five Correspondents Have Narrow Escape

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — Five war correspondents narrowly escaped death or serious injury in an air raid on Leyte island in the Philippines which killed Asahel Bush, 32, of the Associated Press, and Stanley E. Gunn, 31, of the Fort Worth, Tex., Star-Telegram, a delayed dispatch from United Press War Correspondent Francis McCarthy disclosed today.

Four correspondents — John G. Dowling, New York, of the Chicago Sun; John H. Walker, New York, Time magazine; Frank P. Smith, Chicago, Chicago Times, and McCarthy, whose wife lives in Seattle — were blown from their cots by a bomb explosion. They were uninjured except for shock and bruises, McCarthy reported.

Frank Hewlett, also of the United Press, who was staying in a hut with OWI representatives, also narrowly escaped injury from shrapnel.

McCarthy's dispatch disclosed that the explosions came from two bombs dropped by a single low-flying raider on Tacloban, capital of the island. Bomb fragments tore through Bush's cot and entered the back of his head. He died instantly. Gunn died from his wounds—both legs broken and other severe shrapnel injuries—three days later.

Dried blood serum can be kept under all climatic conditions without deteriorating.

Drive For Improved Texas Cotton Slated

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP)—A cotton production campaign to help Texas growers bring their comparatively low yield and quality up to that of other states was planned by the Texas War Production cotton committee here today.

The committee was named recently by Maj. Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, chairman of the Statewide Cotton Committee of Texas.

Major Jackscon stressed the need for a vigorous, statewide educational campaign to improve cotton production practices in Texas.

Inventor Of Ethyl Gasoline Strangled

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2. (AP) — Thomas Midgley, who invented ethyl gasoline and did some of the first synthetic rubber research, died at his home near here today, apparently strangled in his sleep by a harness he had devised to help himself in and out of bed.

Midgley, who was 55 years old, had been an invalid for four years after suffering an attack of infantile paralysis.

Among his approximately 100 patients also was one for freon, a safe refrigerant for both commercial and domestic refrigerators and air conditioning systems.

He was president of the American Chemical society. He had received five different medals from chemical societies for his scientific achievements.

LAAF Chest Drive Is Over The Top

The War Chest drive at Lubbock Army Air field has gone over the top, field officials announced yesterday, although donations will be accepted until Armistice day.

Quota set for the field was $2,000 and a total of $2,326.06 had been raised to date with several boxes—placed at various points on the field—still to be accounted for.

Enlisted men on payday gave $510.06, officers have contributed $691.50 and the rest has come from various sources.

A prospective husband and wife must remain secluded together for 40 days before the wedding ceremony in Java.

Long-Standing Differences Mark Clash Of Regents And Dr. Rainey

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—Long standing differences in attitudes and opinions between Dr. Homer P. Rainey and the board of regents of the University of Texas exploded in the discharge of Dr. Rainey and the resignation of three board members.

Culminating the friction which began not long after Dr. Rainey became president in 1939, the rupture found Rainey and the regents in these opposing positions:

In a statement the regents said Dr. Rainey had failed and refused to conform to regulations and policies of the board and had made statements "reflecting on the motives and good faith of the boards."

Rainey's Reply

Dr. Rainey replied in a statement: "The views in this controversy go to the very roots of American higher education. They are the issues of academic freedom and sufficient freedom in academic management to enable the university to function in accordance with the principles of all great universities everywhere."

Between Dr. Rainey's appointment and his discharge yesterday were numerous manifestations of friction, some of them public, relating to the respective authorities of the administrator of the school and its policy making body.

A key item in disagreements between Dr. Rainey and the board was the university's medical branch at Galveston. Dr. Rainey's presidential honeymoon ended in a series of events which led to the board's failure to re-employ Dr. John W. Spies as dean of the medical branch.

Board Rejects Proposal

The split became acute when the board recently adopted a policy, contrary to a recommendation of Dr. Rainey, to leave the medical school at Galveston permanently. Dr. Rainey in a series of recommendations for long-range development of the university had proposed that the medical branch be removed to Austin.

The difficulties flared anew when it was reported to Dr. Rainey that Regent D. F. Strickland of Mission had asked Vice-President J. Alton Burdine to tell Rainey that he was making too many speeches, like "those before religious groups." This Strickland denied.

Dr. Rainey went before a general faculty meeting in October and listed 16 actual or attempted "restrictive measures" which he said the board had imposed or attempted to impose upon him. He declared that some of the regents individually had invaded his administrative field as early as June, 1939.

Province Of Leadership

He emphasized in the 16 citations, examples of what he characterized as failure of board members "to recognize the proper province of executive leadership."

Dr. Rainey reported that in one such clash Regent Lutcher Stark of Orange told him: "I am going to fight you like hell."

He also itemized instances involving "the principle of academic freedom of thought and teaching." These, said Dr. Rainey, included the board's order in January, 1943, in removing John Dos Passos' novel, U. S. A., from a supplementary reading list in English after it had already been removed by a faculty committee, and rejection of requests for research funds in the field of social sciences.

He complained also that the board's action more than a year ago in removing Arthur L. Brandon as head of the department of public relations had an unwholesome effect upon the staff. Brandon, long time associate of Dr. Rainey, was placed in a teaching position at lower salary but resigned declaring he had been given no hearing.

Policy Clashes

Dr. Rainey's bill of complaints also listed certain policy clashes which he won against the board or individual members.

One was a request in 1939 from Regent H. H. Weinert of Seguin that Dr. J. C. Dolley not be renominated to the chairmanship of the athletic council because "Dolley was personally unsatisfactory" to Weinert. Dr. Rainey recommended reappointment of Dr. Dolley and was upheld.

He listed another request from Regent Stark that three members of the staff of the division of extension be removed. Dr. Rainey opposed this request and was upheld by the board.

Another was a clash with Regent Strickland who, Dr. Rainey related, had repeatedly insisted on submitting faculty and employes to a "patriotism test." Dr. Rainey asserted that despite his assurances that the faculty was loyal and patriotic. Strickland presented to the board a resolution ordering such a test. The board again upheld Dr. Rainey and voted against Strickland.

Discharge Of Trio

The case of three economic instructors who were not re-employed after their actions following a Dallas mass meeting for discussion of the wage-hour law also entered the regents-Rainey controversy. In his report to the faculty Dr. Rainey described the regents' action toward the three instructors as a restriction on the principle of freedom of thought.

After Dr. Rainey addressed the faculty, the teaching staff voted confidence in his administration and later adopted a set of principles emphasizing the need for academic freedom and the importance of preserving proper relationships between regents and the president in administration of the university. The faculty named a committee to attempt to adjust differences between Dr. Rainey and the board on the basis of principles it enunciated.

Negro Suspect In Murder Case Dies

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2. (U.P.)—James McGuey, 29, negro, died in a hospital today before he could be brought to trial for the murder of Mrs. Julia Guynes, 60, Oct. 7.

McGuey was shot 11 times during his capture in Galveston on Oct. 9, but doctors thought he would recover.

Death resulted from a bullet lodged near his spine. The bullet had been removed earlier today in an emergency operation.

The negro confessed stabbing Mrs. Guynes several times and almost severing her head. Several hundred dollars were taken from a purse concealed in the woman's corset.

'Fighting Ninth Evacuation' Hospital Unit Builds Great Record With Overseas Yanks

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE 8th EVACUATION HOSPITAL In France, Oct. 25. (Delayed).—"The Ninth Evacuation will lead the way to health and victory!"

That was the refrain line of a pep song sung by nurses of the Ninth Evacuation hospital when they left England for Africa two years ago this month.

The girls don't sing that now—they are long past the pep song stage — but they still are living up to it in their daily lives.

In two years overseas most military outfits change personnel so much they hardly are recognizable, but not "The Fighting Ninth Evac."

Most of Original Personnel

"We still have about 75 per cent of our original personnel," said Col. William E. Stone of Boonville, Mo., their commander, "and that applies to doctors and nurses as well as enlisted men."

He has been a good shepherd. There have been only two deaths —both in auto accidents — among his 47 officers, 53 nurses, and 294 men.

"We've had a few shells land near our area, but no actual casualities," said Stone.

Idle Only Three Weeks

"We've been idle only three weeks in 25 months overseas," he continued, "and in that time we treated just under 40,000 soldiers—including about 7,000 since we landed in France."

That isn't a record. One or two other evacuation hospitals — those through which were funneled wounded from the bloody Anzio beachhead — have handled more casualties, and two hospitals beat the Ninth Evac. into action by a few days. But there isn't a better-known hospital along the battlefront.

Just as certain battle units such as the first and third infantry divisions distinguished themselves by combat vigor and valor, the Ninth Evac. has made a name for itself by its tight-knit unity and one of the finest surgical records in any theater. Its personnel is as proven as a scrappy football team.

They like being referred to as "The Fighting Ninth Evac." but are getting a little bashful about using it themselves.

WFA Warns Growers On Spinach Yield

HARLINGEN, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — Texas spinach growers were warned by the War Food administration today against overproduction of the vegetable.

Dennis M. Poe, supervisor of the WFA sub-district office in Harlingen, said he had been advised by telegram that "tentative spinach requirements in 1945 for civilian and military use" are to be "about 80 per cent" of this year's needs.

Poe said growers and producers are cautioned against producing more than the market can absorb.

The wire to the Harlingen WFA office said it appeared "unlikely" that the spinach crop would be supported by the War Food administration in 1945.

Texas produced 6,873,000 bushels of spinach last season.

The average weight of a bale of cotton in the United States is about 500 pounds.

PROPOSAL REJECTED

HOUSTON, Nov. 2 (U.P.) — The Houston city council voted unanimously Wednesday afternoon to reject the offer of the Houston Post commission to purchase the city-owned dock facilities on the ship channel for $1,250,000. The council countered with an offer to sell for $1,500,000.

FATE PROVES CRUEL

OGDEN, Utah, Nov. 2. (AP) — Three boys toiled hard to wash soap off an ice cream store window, as an aftermath of Hallowe-en. Then they tossed water on the glass to rinse it. The window broke.

THERE IS ANTI-FREEZE FOR ALL!

The War Production Board early this year made certain that there would be enough anti-freeze to meet the real needs of every car, bus, and truck owner. This was done for a double-barrelled reason:

First, automobiles that carry millions of war workers to their jobs must be kept running.

Secondly, Americans can't afford to have a single vehicle damaged by a freeze-up. Automobiles cannot be replaced, and such parts as radiators, cylinder heads and engine blocks are extremely hard to get.

While you may not always be able to get the type or brand of anti-freeze you prefer, your dealer will have enough anti-freeze of one kind or another to give you full winter protection. But remember, anti-freeze in your dealer's stockroom won't protect your car. Get it into your radiator before there's any danger of a freeze.

How to make anti-freeze last longer
Have your cooling system checked over before putting in anti-freeze. Leaking or clogged radiators, faulty hose connections or other cooling system defects waste anti-freeze. Since anti-freeze is made from war-critical materials, you won't want to waste it—and, of course, you should buy only as much as you need. Your motor service man can tell you exactly how much you need for full protection.

And remember, a Du Pont anti-freeze protects your engine not only from freezing, but from rust and corrosion as well.

Westerners Play Brownfield Cubs

* * *

A pair of ball clubs with their backs to the wall, as far as having a ghost of a chance of winning the District 1-AA championship is concerned, will square off tonight at 8:15 o'clock at Brownfield for the last ditch battle between.

The Lubbock Westerners move into Brownfield to battle Coach Aubra Nooncaster's Cubs in the second conference battle of the season for both teams. Both clubs lost conference openers last week, the Westerners to Plainview, and the Cubs to Pampa.

Lubbock Stock Falls

The Westerners roared to the top in Texas schoolboy football, and at one time was rated the third strongest team in the state. Then the team nose dived, and this week's selection on the Associated Press didn't even place them in the first 20 teams, and the United Press ranking had dipped them to No. 12.

Brownfield opened the season with a tie game with Lamesa, then moved along undefeated until last week's defeat at the hands of Pampa. The Cubs have a strong ball club, and one that will offer a battle to the best of the teams in the district, and tonight's battle looms as a toss up.

The Westerners appeared to be on the rocks earlier in the week when a shakeup of the ball club appeared in the making because of "indifference to training regulations" on the part of a number of the players. But this was straightened out without seemingly too much damage, and only two of the 15 boys involved in the shakeup remained out.

Westerners Crippled

But even with the return of the regulars, the team is far from being in top shape for the battle with the Cubs, and five men, four of them regulars, are on the hospital list, and one regular is out of the game for sure.

Billy Bob Harris, letterman end, injured his knee this week, and will be out of the ball game. O. C. Foster, tackle, and Johnny Cole, blocking back and defensive wizard, are on the list as doubtful of seeing any action in the game.

Co-Captain Johnny Pearson at guard and Dennie Sanders, another guard, are also slowed up with injuries, but likely will see some action in the game, but it will be limited.

Should Pearson be unable to start the game, Billy Harless will move into his guard position.

Coach J. Mule Davis announced Thursday night that he would probably start Clinton Benefield and Gerald Davis at ends, Eldon Giles and R. W. Moyers at tackle, Stoney Wall and Pearson or Harless at guards, Charles Pressley at center, Johnny Trout at quarterback, George Brewer and Johnny Davis at halfbacks, and Jim Lowrey at fullback.

Parker's Reds Pull Upset, Tie Purples

Coach Bob Parker's Lubbock Cowboys Red team pulled a major upset Thursday afternoon on junior high field by holding the vaunted Purples of Coach Roy Morris to a 6-6 tie by coming from behind in the last quarter.

The twice beaten Reds battled the undefeated, but twice tied, Purples on even terms throughout a scoreless first half. The Purples, who had won three out of four games with a potent show of offensive power were unable to crack the Red's forward wall.

In the third quarter, Pat Wallace, at end, intercepted a Red's pass and ran 35 yards before he was roped in on the 11 yard line. Jackie Davis then smashed into the line to buck it over for the touchdown from there.

In the fourth quarter, the Reds launched a 50 sustained drive, and Sherrill Lindsey smashed over from the 3-yard line to tie the score.

District 15 Has Feature Battle

(By The Associated Press)

Austin's undefeated, untied Maroons can take a long step toward the District 15 championship of Texas schoolboy football Friday night by turning back a once-beaten but very dangerous Thomas Jefferson eleven of San Antonio.

This is one of the feature games of an important week of conference battles during which the state's teams with perfect records may dwindle to fewer than a half-dozen.

Austin beat Temple 7-6 and Temple handed Jefferson its only defeat of the season—a 9-6 reversal more than a month ago. Thus it would appear the clubs are pretty well matched. The winner will be tied with undefeated, untied Kerrville for the district lead if Kerrville downs San Antonio Tech, which it is expected to do.

At least four of the state's nine teams with unsullied records are in danger. Austin is one of them. Sweetwater, which goes against rugged Abilene, is another. North Side (Fort Worth) also could stumble before Poly (Fort Worth) and Goose Creek might find Orange too tough. All of these games are conference affairs.

Highland Park of Dallas, ranked No. three in the state, meets No. 12 Marshall at Dallas in the top interdistrict joust with the Scotties favored but due for plenty of trouble. In fact, it would be no upset should Marshall, which battled second-ranking Waco all over the field before losing by a touchdown, bounce Highland Park.

Three games were played Thursday night while 37 are scheduled Friday night and five Saturday. Here is the week-end card:

Friday—Borger at Plainview, Lubbock at Brownfield, Olney at Electra, Quanah at Wichita Falls, Vernon at Childress, San Angelo at Midland, Sweetwater at Abilene, El Paso High vs Bowie (El Paso), Greenville at Sherman, Texarkana at Bonham, McKinney at Arlington, Sulphur Springs at Denton, Marshall at Highland Park (Dallas), Poly (Fort Worth) at North Side (Fort Worth), Forest (Dallas) vs Crozier Tech (Dallas), Brownwood at Cisco, Weatherford at Breckenridge, Ranger at Mineral Wells, Stephenville at Dublin, Corsicana at Waco, Bryan at Waxahachie, Cleburne at Temple, Hillsboro at Ennis, Kilgore at Gladewater, Huntsville at Lufkin, Jacksonville at Henderson, Fort Worth Tech at Palestine, Livingston at Nacogdoches, Reagan (Houston) vs Milby (Houston), Galveston at Port Arthur, Conroe at South Park (Beaumont), Goose Creek at Orange, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at Laredo, Brackenridge (San Antonio) at Corpus Christi, Jefferson (San Antonio) at Austin, San Antonio Tech at Kerrville, McAllen at Kingsville.

Saturday—Pampa at Amarillo, Ysleta at Odessa, Sunset (Dallas) vs Adamson (Dallas), Austin (Houston) vs San Jacinto (Houston), Nederland at Port Neches.

Cowhands Win Over Lamesa B Club, 18-0

LAMESA, Nov. 2—Coach George Philbrick's Lubbock Cowhands Blacks wore down a stubbornly battling Lamesa Breezes eleven here this afternoon and won an 18-0 victory.

Arthur Rampy was the star of the victory for the Cowhands, and sparked their offense in all three scoring thrusts. It was Rampy who gave the Cowhands a lead in the second quarter when he blasted off tackle and romped 35 yards for the first score.

There was no more scoring until the final quarter, when the Cowhands took to the air to establish a more comfortable lead. Rampy heaved a long one down the field to Hawkins from midfield, Hawkins took the ball on the Lamesa 10-yard line and went over. A few minutes later, Rampy fired a 20-yard pass to Strout, who ran the remaining 30 yards for a touchdown.

Lamesa was never able to solve the stubborn defense of the Cowhands, but late in the ball game started its best drive, but it bogged down 30 yards short of a score.

Hunt Pioneers Romp Over Sanders Steers

The Hunt Pioneers remained undefeated in the grade school touch football league race Thursday afternoon, by winning a 12-6 decision over the Sanders Steers.

Glenn Adair took a pass from Weldon Waller for one touchdown, and Kenneth Young circled left end for ten yards and the second touchdown. Britt Price scored for Sanders on a brilliant 50 yard punt return.

Morris Moyers, 185 pound lineman, and Bob Newell, another lineman, were outstanding performers for the Hunt club.

LAAF Set For Tilt With Buffs

"Buster" Dixon, Lubbock Army Air Field's candidate for all-American honors, will be one of the main attractions when the Lubbock airmen clash with an improved West Texas State Teachers team Saturday night.

Dixon's businesslike manner of going about his many chores in a ballgame make him very popular with the stands. Seldom spectacular, he nevertheless is one of the high scorers of the Southwest, making most of his team's touchdowns this season and all of their extra points. He is a better-than-average passer, a powerful punter, and on defense he has the uncanny ability of being at the wrong place at the right time so far as the opposing ball carrier is concerned.

The Fliers are not a one-man team by any means, however. Jimmie Williamson, who scored against Fort Bliss, Saturday night, with the longest run of the game, can match speed with Castleberry of the Buffaloes, and the visitors also have a pair of speed merchants in Kelejian and Keeler, who alternate with Williamson and Castle at the regular half back spot.

The Buffaloes are conceded an edge in pass effectiveness, but with Cauley and Servante, the visitors hope to offset the pass snagging ability of the Buffaloes' LaFollette. In Schmidt the Fliers also have a great defensive end, who is just beginning to hit his stride after an early season injury. In the center of the line the Fliers have one of the top tackles in the country in "Big Mac" McWhorter, who is starring for the third straight year for the air field. Elvin Lyon will be in the LAAF lineup at left guard as co-captain, with brother Dwaine Lyon in the same position for the Buffaloes. These Olton, Texas, brothers are both husky and dependable performers.

The game promises to be a free scoring affair, with both teams using a similar style of play.

El Paso College To Resume Cage Playing

EL PASO, Nov. 2 (U.P.)—Varsity basketball, wartime casualty at the Texas College of Mines for the last three years, will be resumed this winter, college authorities announced today.

Charles (Chuck) Finley, former coach at New Mexico School of Mines, will take over the Texas team.

Finley replaces Marshall Pennington, who is now a Naval lieutenant.

First games will be played with Hardin-Simmons in El Paso on Dec. 13-14. Other games have been scheduled with New Mexico university, New Mexico Aggies, West Texas State Teachers, Texas Tech, Eastern New Mexico Normal and George Pepperdine of Los Angeles.

Favorites Beaten In Wichita Falls Meet

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 2 (AP)—Two ranking favorites of the tourney, Mrs. Betty Mims White of Dallas and Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, were eliminated in the quarter-finals of the Southwest Women's golf tournament at the Wichita Falls Country club today.

Mrs. White was defeated by Mrs. Joanne Barr Tracy, Dallas, 5 and 4. Mrs. Goldthwaite was defeated by Mrs. George Noble, Dallas, won by the same margin, 5-4.

Mrs. H. R. Behrens, Brownwood, eliminated Mrs. H. L. Reynolds, Amarillo, 1 up.

Coyotes Nose Spurs On Penetration Rule

The K. Carter Coyotes and the Central Ward Spurs battled to a 0-0 tie Thursday afternoon in a grade school tough football conference game, with the Coyotes winning on 20-yard line penetrations.

The passing combination of Jimmy Grace to Giles Florence sparked the Coyotes, and proved a constant threat. Don Jones, left handed passing halback of the Spurs, was outstanding for the Central Ward team.

Littlefield Wildcats Get Tough Test With Hereford

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 2. (Special).—The Littlefield Wildcats are champions of District 5-A, and are marking time until the playoffs start early in December, but still fans wonder just how good Coach J. S. Fikes' youngsters really are.

The Wildcats run smack into one of the classiest Class A outfits in the Panhandle Friday night in Seely Stadium when they clash with the powerful Hereford Whitefaces.

The Whitefaces lost two non-conference games early in the season to Panhandle and White Deer. But since then, they have been "on the beam" and seem to be gathering steam. Hereford has a perfect record in conference play, and has only Tulia to beat to sew up the flag.

Hereford Starts Rolling

Since those two early season losses, Hereford has gone "touchdown crazy" and have rolled over Dumas, 27-6, beat Friona, 19-6, smacked Dimmitt, 75-6, and roared over Dalhart, 57 to 7. These last four games has helped them pile up 203 points to 51 for their opponents.

But the undefeated, untied Wildcats have been even more impressive, and rank among the top scoring ball clubs in the state. The Wildcats have struck pay dirt for a dizzy average of 36 plus points per game and a season's total of 257 points.

The Wildcats defense has held down the opposition to 26 points in seven games, less than four points per game.

The only chances for comparative scores between the two teams would indicate more or less a toss up. Hereford defeated Dimmitt 25 to 6 early in the year, and Hereford slapped down the same Dimmitt club two weeks ago, 75-6. But in Hereford's opening game, it won 19-0 over Olton, while in midseason, Littlefield plastered the same club 40-0.

It all points to a real test for the Wildcats, who have been tested only twice, when they beat Sudan 14-7 and Levelland 19-13, and also it indicates a free scoring battle between two great offensive machines.

Denver City Featured

The Wildcats are standing by, waiting for a decision on the torrid race in District 6-A, which likely will be settled Friday night at Denver City where Coach Wilson Head's speedy Mustangs face their last tough hurdle in the Seagraves Eagles.

Denver City, undefeated, but once tied, has undisputed possession of first place and at 8 o'clock Friday battle a dangerous foe in the game that contests the Littlefield struggle for the Class A feature of the South Plains.

Other Class A games in the area will send Muleshoe to Sudan for a conference game in District 5-A, while Seminole rolls into Tahoka for the only other conference game in 6-A.

Tulia plays at Olton and O'Donnell entertains the Lubbock Cowhands Gold team. Other games in the area will send Petersburg to Spur and Hale Center to Abernathy.

Cowboys Map Plans For Return To Cage

ABILENE, Nov. 2 (AP) — Hardin-Simmons university today announced that it would resume its part in the Border Conference basketball conference after a year's lapse. On its schedule for next season are the College of Mines and Texas Tech and the school said negotiations for other games are underway.

WAKEFIELD CALLED UP

DETROIT, Nov. 2 (U.P.) — Dick Wakefield, Detroit Tiger left fielder, said that he had been ordered to report for induction at Detroit today, and that he would ask for re-assignment to the Navy.

He joined the Navy as a Naval aviation cadet after the 1943 baseball season and was sent to the Iowa Preflight school, but later discharged when the quota of cadets was found to be filled.

Pampa-Amarillo Top Game On 1-AA Card

AMARILLO, Nov. 2 (Spl.)—The Amarillo Golden Sandies and the Pampa Harvesters will renew their gridiron rivalry on Butler Field in Amarillo Saturday afternoon.

It will mark the 15th meeting of the two teams since Pampa entered Class AA competition in 1930. During their previous meetings, the Sandies have come out on the long end of the score 11 times. The Harvesters won their games in 1931, 1941 and 1943. They have yet to defeat an Amarillo team in Amarillo.

The Sandies will enter the game with the best record—five victories and one loss—against the Harvesters' four victories and two defeats. Amarillo has defeated Childress, Vernon, Abilene, Borger and Norman, Okla., and has lost to San Angelo. Pampa holds victories over Phillips, Quanah, Brownfield and Clovis, N. M., and has lost to Central of Oklahoma City and Midland.

Both teams will enter the tilt nursing injuries. Missing from the Sandie lineup will be Donald Mulkey, Billy Murray and Nolan Murr, all reserves, while Center John Bob Watts will be a doubtful starter. Pampa will have Merle McCracken, ace fullback, and Joe Turner, 190-pound tackle, on the injured list but both may start.

Amarillo will have a wide advantage in weight — about 15 pounds per man—and will be playing on their home field.

But anything can happen when Pampa and Amarillo football teams clash. Just a year ago, a highly favored Sandie team went to Pampa and lost, 7-0.

GRID SCORES

Paschal (Fort Worth) 38; Masonic Home 0.

PASCHAL STILL UNBEATEN

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2 — The Paschal High grid eleven remained among the state schoolboy elevens still undefeated and untied by beating the Masonic Home club 38-0 here tonight.

MAY BUY MILLERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (U.P.)—Connie Mack, 81 year old president and manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, has proposed purchase of the Minneapolis Millers, Mike Kelley, owner of the club, said today.

VALLEY PIONEER BURIED

HARLINGT..., Nov. 2. (AP)—Funeral services were held here today at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Mary Augusta Weller, 82, who died yesterday. She was the daughter of Capt. Charles Bock, one of the first Texas Rangers, and had resided in the Rio Grande valley 40 years.

Red Raiders On Way To Houston

MASON, Nov. 2 — The Texas Tech Red Raiders, enroute to Houston, where they battle the high flying Rice Owls Saturday, stopped off here today and unlimbered their fast striking T formation in a brisk workout before bedding down for the night.

The Red Raiders will leave here early Friday morning for the final leg of the journey to Houston, planning to arrive there in time for another workout late Friday evening.

OWLS ADD STRENGTH

HOUSTON, Nov. 2 (U.P.)—Rice Institute, current leader in the Southwest Conference title race, picked up eight gridders in the Nov. 1 Naval trainee transfer, including Fred Parker, 180-pound tackle from the University of Oklahoma, Coach Jess Neely announced today.

Neely said he didn't believe the players could become familiar enough with the Rice footballing technique in time for Saturday's game here against Texas Tech.

Major Rice loss in the Navy shift was big Bucky Sheffield, standout veteran back.

Coach Dell Morgan announced his probable starters would include one junior, one sophomore and nine freshmen when the Red Raiders take the field against the Southwest Conference powerhouse. The only probable change in the starting lineup would shove a sophomore into the place of a freshman.

Morgan announced that his probable starters would be Jim Taylor of Sweetwater and Luke Thompson of Eldorado at ends; Billy Snodgrass of Brownfield and Clyde Black of Ben Franklin at tackles; Homer Lawson of Lubbock and John Birdwell of Shreveport, La., at guards; Otis Turner of Wink at center, and a backfield of Gene Hardey of Hugoton, Kansas, Arthur Shahan of Graham, Coston Bufkin of Hobbs, New Mexico, and Walter Schlinkman of Dumas.

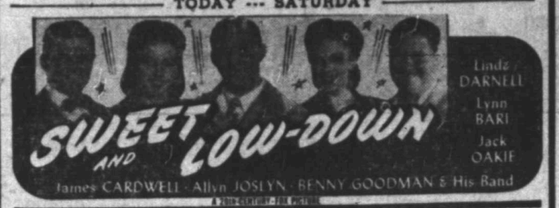

The only change that may be made in this lineup would be the moving of Don Dudley, letterman end from Wichita Falls, into the end position in the place of Taylor.

One Dead, Two Hurt When Car Overturns

GEORGETOWN, Tex., Nov. 2 (AP)—Miss Frances Janaja, 18, of Taylor, civilian employe at Camp Hood, was fatally injured when the car in which she was riding overturned on highway 81, one mile north of here, early today.

Pvt. Eugene Kuivinen of Camp Hood and Miss Claudine Ford, Taylor, were seriously injured.

RECOVERY LEANINGS DISPLAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Stocks generally displayed recovery leanings in today's market although a few recently strong aircrafts succumbed to profit cashing and investment conservatism still served as a brake on the advance.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .4 of a point at 55.3. The market lacked breadth, only 826 issues registering. Of these, 454 were up against 372 down or unchanged. Transfers totalled 790,140 shares compared with 708,060 Wednesday.

Bonds tilted higher in spots.

Forward curb leaners were American Republics, Cities Service, Electric Bond and Share and Cuban Atlantic Sugar. Turnover here was 240,650 shares versus 228,270 yesterday.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—The persistent pressure of hedge selling which has featured trading throughout the week continued to depress the cotton futures market today. The offerings met only scattered support and closing prices were unchanged to 25 cents a bale lower.

Hedging operations were associated with the substantial sales of spot cotton at primary markets which totaled 40,511 bales on Wednesday. Since prices are well under the level at which the Commodity Credit corporation is offering to buy the staple, traders concluded that farmers in many instances are forced to sell cotton in the open market because of the lack of suitable warehouse facilities.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton at ten designated Southern spot markets was 25 cents a bale lower at 21.29 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 21.63; middling 15ths-inch average 20.11.

Great Air Battle

ported that the jet-propelled planes also employed new tactics, rising from the ground and attacking the heavy planes from underneath, where the Fortresses and Liberators have the least fire power. Previously, the jets only had swooped down from above or in from the sides.

Today's large-scale appearance of the luftwaffe was the first time that the Germans had come up in numbers to fight since Oct. 7. The German fliers—many of them apparently newly-trained—were no match for the Americans.

The record for Nazi planes shot down in one day by fighters and bombers was not bettered. This all-time high was set at 307 planes Aug. 18, 1943, when Flying Fortress gunners bagged 287 and their escorting fighters accounted for 20 in a double-barrelled raid on Schweinfurt and Regensburg.

Furious Battle

At Merseburg, the raiders met intense antiaircraft fire as the bombers thundered over the battered Leuna oil plant in formation after formation. Thunderbolts and Mustangs slashed viciously at Messerschmitts, Rocke Wulfs and jet fighters encountered on this run in a terrific battle. One Yank outfit was said to have knocked down more than 19 Nazis here.

Moderate flak and some fighter opposition was met at Bellefield and Rheine. Destruction of the rail yards at these points would snip off the last two remaining main rail routes between central Germany and the western front.

German Commander Reported Injured

BERN, Switzerland, Nov. 2 (AP)—Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring, German commander-in-chief in Italy, was reported tonight to have been wounded in Italy during an attack similar to the one that eventually cost Field Marshal Erwin Rommel his life in France.

Kesselring's automobile, according to information from Italy, overturned when it was machine gunned by an Allied plane near Bologna. The extent of his injuries is not yet known here.

Roosevelt Speech

pledging the nation to cooperation in a world peace organization.

Military Developments

The President, speaking from the White House before his departure later this week on the last political trip of the campaign, reviewed briefly the military developments of recent days and said "our success has been the result of planning and organization and building."

Calling for what he termed a continuance of national teamwork, the President said he looks forward "to an era of expansion and production and employment—to new industries and increased security.

"I look forward to millions of new homes for decent living; to new low-priced automobiles; new highways; new airplanes and airports; to television; and miraculous new inventions and discoveries, made during this war, which will be adapted to the peacetime uses of a peace loving people."

Huge Task Still Ahead

Mr. Roosevelt outlined the huge task still lying ahead in the war—"all the long rough miles to Berlin, all the major landings yet to be made in the Pacific"—and declared delays in performing the job at home will mean prolonging the war and increasing the toll of lives.

"All of our able commanders in the field know this and so do our soldiers and sailors. And we at home must never forget it."

He paid tribute to the war job done by the women of the nation, saying they are greatly responsible for the fact that military supplies and munitions have gone through on time.

Reviewing his conversations with statesmen "of smaller nations as well as our larger allies," the president declared:

Understanding Acquired

"It is only through an understanding acquired by years of consultation, that one can get a viewpoint of their problems and their innate yearnings for freedom.

"And all of them have this in common — that they yearn for peace and stability and they look to America with hope and faith.

"The world is rising from the agony of the past, the world is turning with hope to the future. It would be a sorry and cynical thing to betray this hope for the sake of mere political advantage, and a tragic thing to shatter it because of the failure of vision."

Former Shallowater Woman Dies Here

Mrs. Wayne Burford, 23, of Clovis, formerly of Shallowater, died at midnight in Lubbock General hospital.

Mrs. Burford is survived by her husband, a two-weeks-old daughter; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Evans of Shallowater; two brothers, Billy Joe Evans of Shallowater and R. D. Evans of Abernathy.

Funeral arrangments had not been made, according to Sanders Funeral home. It was known, however, that burial will be in a local cemetery.

Wayne Burford is a nephew of Raymond Burford, manager of Baldridge bakery.

Hopes Rise For Texas U. Peace

rade tomorrow and asked students to wear black arm bands and "more sombre clothing than usual." A pep rally also was slated for tomorrow night.

Dr. Blake Smith, pastor of the University Baptist church who addressed the student mass meeting asserted:

"If Stevenson is really a friend of the university, let him appoint new regents who will reinstate Dr. Rainey."

Students cheered loudly.

Bullington May Quit

The university's administrative row hit a climax yesterday with Dr. Rainey's discharge and resignation of three regents. In Wichita Falls, Regent Orville Bullington said that unless he changes his mind he too will resign as soon as the governor has an opportunity to fill the vacancies created at Houston yesterday.

He said he and two other members whom he declined to name would resign when present vacancies are filled.

Closeted with the conferees were two student representatives, ex-Marine Malcolm Wallace of Dallas, president of the student association, and Jimmie Fogartie of Longview, chief justice of the student court.

Ex-students were represented by W. H. Francis of Dallas, Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson of Houston, Hines Baker of Houston, H. O. Pipkin of Amarillo and R. L. Bobbitt of San Antonio.

Painter Undecided

The faculty was represented by Dr. Frederick Duncalf, Judge R W. Stayton and Dr. T. S. Painter, professor of zoology who was named acting president by the regents following the discharge of Dr. Rainey.

Dr. Painter, before entering the conference room, said he had neither accepted nor rejected the appointment because he had not been notified officially of the board's action.

Meanwhile, Dr. W. J. Battle, University of Texas professor, made public a telegram from Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina and public member of the National Labor Relations board, protesting as a "teacher jealous of the good name of a great university . . the outcome of the dismissal of an able, courageous and distinguished educator from the presidency of the University of Texas."

Action Said Tragic

Dr. J. Alton Burdine, vice-president of the university, issued a statement upon his return from the Houston meeting where Dr. Rainey was discharged, declaring the board's action was "tragic and unwarranted."

The statement asserted:

"Upon the advice of Dr. Rainey and certain members of both the faculty and ex-student committee, I refrained from submitting to the board of regents my resignation as vice-president, as I wanted to do immediately after the board's announced decision to remove Dr. Rainey as president.

"I should like to state, however, that to my mind the action of a majority of the board in removing Dr. Homer P. Rainey as president is one of the most tragic and unwarranted acts to be found in the annals of American education."

Students under Wallace's direction cut classes on the first day of the winter term to march on the state capitol, howling protests over Dr. Rainey's discharge.

Crepe-Shrouded Coffins

Depositing a crepe-shrouded coffin labelled "academic freedom" over a mosaic of the Lone Star of Texas in the rotunda of the capitol, they demonstrated with shouts of "we want Rainey" while Wallace handed Gov. Coke R. Stevenson a student demand that he send each member of the board of regents this telegram.

"On behalf of the university student body whose degrees are at stake, I request you and other members to convene in Gregory gym at 1 a. m. Saturday Nov. 4 in open meeting in order to explain to the students the basis of the Houston decision, and to elect a president. I am accepting no resignations."

The march to the capitol followed a student convocation where banners proclaimed: "We fight Hitlerism abroad and we'll fight it at home," "Youth fights the war—the regents fight youth." An unsigned handbill distributed at the noisy gathering said in part: "Move over Georgia for a wounded Texas. With Rainey out of the way the faculty will be purged of all thinkers."

The pamphlet did not explain the reference to Georgia, but it was presumed to refer to the recent difficulties between former Gov. Eugene Talmadge and the University of Georgia.

Other developments today in the final blow-up between Rainey and the regents were:

A statement by Rainey in Houston that he could not meet the regent's demands that he withdraw his declaration to the faculty of Oct. 12, in which he cited 16 instances of "restrictive measures" attempted or imposed during his five-year administration;

A statement by members of a committee representing the executive council of the ex-students association, expressing great disappointment at the discharge of Rainey and the resignation of the board members. The statement announced the executive council would meet in Austin Saturday;

Board's Statement

The board, in discharging Rainey, issued a statement in which it said that the president's declarations to the faculty were considered "as reflecting on the motives and good faith of the board." The regents said these statements by Rainey were "all unprovoked, unexpected and calculated to discredit the board and members."

The university crisis left Gov. Stevenson with the responsibility for the future of the school because of the action he possibility must take in naming a brand new board of regents. This is particularly true if the three regents who were reportedly considering handing in their resignations do so. Three have filed resignations and the terms of three others expire Jan. 1, 1945.

Stevenson received the resignations of Chairman John H. Bickett of Dallas, H. H. Weinert of Seguin, and Dan J. Harrison of Houston. Those reportedly planning such a step Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, D. F. Strickland of Mission, and W. Scott Schreiner of Kerrville. The terms of Mrs. I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin, Lutcher Stark of Orange and Dr. C. O. Terrell of Fort Worth expire in January. Dr. Terrell was named to the board yesterday to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. K. H. Aynesworth of Waco. He did not participate in the Houston meetings that led to Rainey's discharge.

Governor Remains Calm

The governor told his press conference he would not act immediately upon the resignations. He said:

"It's not my nature to rush into anything. I've been around the campfire long enough to know you can't drink coffee out of a boiling pot without burning your lips."

Affairs of the university are under investigation by the National Association of University Professors and the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The former is an organization of university teachers. Its executive secretary, Ralph Himstead of Washington, told the regents the association is concerned primarily with cademic freedom and related matters of tenure. The Southern association is an accrediting agency.

Yank Bombers Sink Two More Jap Ships

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Friday, Nov. 3. (AP)—Far-reaching American bombers sank a 7,000-ton tanker and a 1,000-ton freighter and slashed at targets from Cebu, in the central Philippines, to the Solomons, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today in a supplement to his main communique.

Night patrols bagged the tanker off Tawitawi in the Sulu archipelago. Other night patrols sank the freighter and damaged two others northeast of Sandakan, Borneo.

FOR REGULARS

Editor, The Avalanche: I read in the paper a few days ago where someone stated that it had been suggested that the Senate isolate O'Daniel from the Democrats in the Chamber. Why didn't this man report who made this statement? I think he was ashamed to. I will say that it was one of the unions that made this statement. No, I don't believe it I was this man I would repeat this anymore.

I think if this little handful of men that likes to holler so big and loud, because the other fellow does not see like they do, would listen instead of hollering so much they would see that O'Daniel does not claim to be any part of this New Deal CIO Communist party. Yes, I think this New Deal has isolated themselves from the Democratic party by selling out to this CIO Communist gang.

The idea of a group of men, or one man, saying a man should go back to the state where the climate suits his politics. When these New Dealers get so thirsty for a man to leave his state to go to another so he can get more men of his kind, it is time the voters were waking up and doing something about this bunch of self-seekers.

It seems that we have some folks that think they can say lots of hard things about someone else and get by with it by trying to make the people believe they are all right. They will say they are a great believer of the Bible, and at the same time pour it on the other fellow, then turn around and boast big and loud about themselves. What does the Bible say about one of these boasters? If these criticizers were not so blind to the truth they would see things so much better.

I think the climate suits O'Daniel politics fine in Texas. Of course, O'Daniel politics does not suit this New Deal CIO Communist group. And this New Deal does not suit O'Daniel. The way everything looks now O'Daniel has lots of friends. On the other hand, I don't think it makes any difference with O'Daniel whether this New Deal likes him or not.

I am proud we have a few men left in Texas that has enough backbone to stand up for the Democratic party instead of following this New Deal CIO Communist gang. I have voted for Roosevelt three times, but he has been gradually drifted away from the Democratic party until the Communist party has almost got him, so now I have decided to vote with the Regulars.

Yours truly,
C. R. Styles,
Lubbock.

Army Bomber Crash Claims Seven Lives

LAREDO ARMY AIR FIELD, Nov. 2 (AP)—The names of seven men, killed in the crash of a B-24 bomber fifteen miles north of the Laredo Army Air field yesterday were announced today by the field's public relations office.

The dead included: Second Lt. Richard W. Bancroft, pilot, Detroit, Mich.; Second Lt. Horace P. Crudo, Vineland, N. J.; Sgt. Edwin E. Helton, Indianapolis, Ind.; Sgt. Ralph Owens, son of Mrs. Roberta Owens, Harlingen, Tex.; Pvt. George T. Malone, New Market, Tenn., husband of Mrs. Addie F. Malone, Laredo; Second Lt. Earl W. Canterbury, co-pilot, Hopkins, Minn.

Romania Breaks Off Relations With Japan

BUCHAREST, Oct. 31 (Delayed) (AP)—Romania has broken off relations with Japan following a communication to the Romanian government from London.

The breach will be a considerable service to the United Nations inasmuch as the Japanese had a military attache in Bucharest to gather information, particularly on the results of bombing raids on the Ploesti oil fields. This survey might be of value in protecting similar installations in the Japanese-held Dutch East Indies.

KIRTLAND TO EXPAND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — The War department announced today authorization of construction to cost $1,260,400 at Kirtland Field, Albuquerque, N. M. The work will include widening existing taxiway, hangars, navigation trainer buildings and other items.

First Launches Hurtgen Attack

British some four miles to the west of Geertruidenberg had tried to force their way across the Maas and were repulsed, but this account was without Allied substantiation.

While the final hour of reckoning neared for the 7,000 to 10,000 Germans holding out on Walcheren island, enemy defenses across the Schelde estuary to the south collapsed.

The Germans' last three strongholds, the Belgian seaside towns of Knocke and Heyst and the Dutch frontier village of Sluis, five miles east, fell in swift succession, and 1,700 more prisoners swelled the Canadian total of captives in the Schelde pocket to 11,700.

Among the captives was Major Gen. Eberding, commander of the now-destroyed 64th division, who admitted the German's day was done on the swampy southern banks of the Schelde.

In Eastern Holland

British in eastern Holland, eating up at least half the ground taken by the Germans in an abortive offensive east of the Allied base at Eindhoven, drove more than three miles southeast of Lieseel. It was announced the Germans lost 49 tanks in this futile counterblow.

In northern France, the German communique asserted, the U. S. Third Army was attacking on a broad front between Metz and Nancy and gained ground in fierce fighting.

A field dispatch mentioned only that the Third had driven the last German from the Seille river bend, 13 miles northeast of Nancy, to put an end to further infiltration attacks.

The U. S. Seventh Army, pushing units of Hitler's "Peoples' Army" before it, hammered out substantial gains and pulled up to within three to eight miles of six fog-shrouded passes which lead through the formidable barrier of the Vosges mountains to the Rhine and Germany.

First Army Assault

The U. S. First Army assault, carrying through the easternmost fringes of Hurtgen forest, also swept up the village of Germeter, just to the north of Vossenack, a front dispatch said.

There was no counterfire from German batteries, for the American guns that blasted a path for the infantry were so well hidden the enemy could not tell from which direction the shells were coming.

Supreme headquarters reported gratifying progress in the mop-up of Walcheren island, and said reinforcements were being landed to bolster the bridgeheads at Vlissingen and at Weskapelle to the west.

The Germans were savagely defending Middelburg, their main base near the center of the island, pouring in such heavy fire that Canadians were forced from their slender bridgehead near the causeway leading to South Beveland island to the east.

Equally desperate fighting raged to the east along the southern banks of the Maas, where counterattacks drove the Americans and Poles from two bridgeheads across the Mark river, five miles south of the Maas.

Churchill And Eden To Visit In France

LONDON, Nov. 2(AP) — Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will visit Paris soon at the invitation of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the British foreign office announced tonight. The date will be arranged later.

Except for Churchill's inspection trips in Normandy, this will be the first time that he has gone to France since the tragic days of 1940, when he flew to the headquarters of the French government and sought to persuade the French to remain in the fight.

Eden Due Home Soon

Eden, now visiting the Italian front, is expected to return to Britain within a few days. He has been away since the last Moscow talks began. Before going to Italy, he visited Cairo and Athens.

There was a strong possibility that Churchill and Eden would be in France at the time of the Armistice day celebrations.

It was understood the visit would be principally an occasion for rejoicing over the liberation of France, although Churchill and Eden undoubtedly would avail themselves of the opportunity to discuss matters of common interest with de Gaulle and his minister of foreign affairs, Georges Bidault.

The Nipponese withdrawal from Carigara town, evidently made at night, climaxed bitter delaying battles for both the community and supporting points deeped in Leyte valley.

Filipino guerrillas marched in the American ranks as Carigara was entered.

On the southern end of the Allied sweep, the 7th division was pursuing "disorganized enemy parties" into the mountains, the communique said.

Coast Reached In South

Yank infantrymen reached Baybay on the west coast, thus completing the southern arm of the giant squeeze against the Japanese who may stage their final ditch fight at Ormoc.

Japanese air activity, the communique said, was directed "principally against our shipping, which sustained some damage." American fighters shot down 27 enemy planes in numerous interceptions.

The Japanese along Carigara bay fought savagely to hold open their escape highway, hurling mortar, artillery and light arms fire at the converging Yanks.

Smash By First Army May Herald Major Phase In Siegfried Battle

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Allied success in clearing Schelde estuary approaches to Antwerp of all substantial enemy resistance coupled with the forward surge of American First Army troops in Hurtgen forest southeast of captured Aachen could herald the opening of the next major phase of the battle of the Siegfried line.

SIMPSON

There was no definite indication of that in preliminary accounts from the front. They told of American seizure in surprise operations of villages close to the eastern edge of the forest.

At that point, in Hurtgen woods, Allied troops stand closer to the Rhine than at any other except in the Nijmegen-Arnhem sector to the north. The span of the river between Cologne and Bonn to the south, flanked on both sides by an intricate network of roalroads, highways and power lines, is less than 30 miles from American positions in the forest.

May Outflank Duren

The scene of operations suggests impending First Army efforts to outflank from the south the important road junction town of Duren, guarding the direct approach to Cologne from the southwest. First Army advance lines have been poised for many days in the north-eastern edge of Hurtgen forest directly west of the town.

Duren's capture or investment would seem to be the next imperative step if an immediate advance on bomb-blasted Cologne is in prospect. Isolating Duren and the whole northern end of the Siegfried line from river and riverside communications would be another step in preparation for a major British-American offensive from Holland. Nazi commanders cannot ignore that possibility now that early Allied use of the Antwerp sea base virtually has been assured by concerted British and Canadian Army operations.

Importance Of Antwerp

Nazi recognition of the importance to the Allies of Antwerp and its undamaged port facilities and the road, rail and canal network south of the Maas has been obvious in the bitter-end defense the Germans have put up. The battle has been lost, Berlin admits, however, and with still time before the depth of winter for General Eisenhower to build upon that victory.

Surrender of the Nazi commonder and his troops in pockets south of the Schelde estuary virtually clears the south bank of the foe. Combined British and Canadian land and amphibious attacks on Walcheren island north of the waterway mean its complete occupation with in hours or days at most. That will not only insure Allied use of the Antwerp communication hub, but release powerful elements of Field Marshal Montgomery's forces for concentration elsewhere.

OPPOSES ROOSEVELT

Editor, The Avalanche: I always voted the Democratic ticket. The party name amounts to nothing, it's the fundamental principles a party adheres to that counts.

Slick politicians know, we who never think for ourselves can be led by a party name we have become accustomed to following, though our party changes its fundamental principles.

I had confidence in President Roosevelt, approved many things he did. But like many elected to office by large majority, it gave him an over-dose of self-conceit.

Hasn't our President made Congress look like a "big dumb stepson?"

Our President fell a victim to that great fault of human nature, that of going to an extreme. Many smart people do. He has squandered the public funds, coddled labor unions, which do not respect the rights of others.

We never know what anyone will do unless we know every thought that passes through the silent recesses of his mind, and that is impossible.

Lincoln said "You can fool all the people some of the time, some of them all the time, but you cannot fool all the people all of the time."

I think President Roosevelt's ambition now is to perpetuate himself in power, and get more power. The slick politician the President is, he has adopted the most effective scheme to attain that end, dishing out, on the least pretense, the public funds. Playing to those who may value money above all other things. No one despises money, unless the other fellow has it.

The administration should spend all necessary money to carry on the war. This war has given the administration excuses for squandering huge sums of money to get votes, then keep us unthinking people blindfolded.

Investigate for yourself the inflated wages the administration is paying. Take off one half, then most government employees get more clear money than our soldiers, who are stood up to be shot at.

Our good President bawled Congress out for not enacting a tax law, that would have collected huge sums of money. We must pay taxes. We haven't yet been forced to buy bonds.

It "burns me up" to even think about some of the policies the administration has adopted. For instance:

(a) When a "free born American citizen" can not work on some certain government jobs that are paid for with the people's money without joining some labor union. paying a huge sum of money and buying something which is a birthright of every American born citizen.

(b) Under the pretense of peaceful picketing, strikers can gang up and take charge of other people's property.

(c) Where any person cannot work on any job where his services are wanted without taking the risk of being beaten up or beaten to death.

Are these administration policies personal liberty and the rights of property under Democracy? If so, I say to hell with Democracy! But they are not. I call them Bolshevism blended with a mild form of Despotism.

Connally Says Peace Plans Progressing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Plans for completing the structure of an international peace organization are "going along satisfactorily," Senator Connally (D-Tex) said today.

The Texan, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, told a news conference that while the date for a United Nations meeting has not yet been fixed it will be called "as soon as practicable after Congress reconvenes."

Discussing the recall of General Joseph W. Stilwell from China, Connally said it "presents rather a serious situation," adding:

"Large policies are involved and the details are not known, but I feel sure the high command and the President will work out the matter so as to keep unity of action in that area. General Stilwell is a magnificent officer and has had many difficulties since he was sent to China."

Asked if in his opinion China remains one of the "big four powers," Connally replied: "certainly. We expect to use Chinese bases in attacking Japan. She's got to stay in the war until it's over."

U. S. Casualties Rise To 487,692

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—United States battle casualties have risen to 487,692, an increase of 14,913 over the number reported last week.

The War department said today the latest Army total is 417,121 as of October 21, an increase of 14,047 since last week's report, which covered the period through October 14.

The latest Navy compilation placed the figure at 70,571, an increase for the same interval of 866.

Army casualties: killed 80,666; wounded 229,212; missing 53,622 and prisoners 53,621.

Navy casualties: killed 28,231; wounded 28,441; missing 9,421 and prisoners 4,478.

Latin-American Conference Seen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — Latin-American diplomats predicted today that most of the American republics will second Argentina's request for an early consultative meeting of foreign ministers and that the United States eventually will fall in line.

Unofficial sources said the conference—long desired by many of the Latin-American republics but opposed by the United States—probably would be held within two months. Some thought it might be held late this year or early in January, before the full United Nations conference on the world security organization.

Time And Place Undecided

Several Latin American sources said they understood the question of holding a conference had been all but decided, except for the formalities; that only the time and place needed to be set. Mexico City, Santiago, Chile, and Caracas, Venezuela, are being mentioned prominently as sites.

United States approval of the holding of such a conference would be a complete reversal of this country's attitude on that problem. For many months it has been no secret here that several of the Latin-Americans have wanted such a meeting to discuss the manifold postwar problems confronting the hemisphere, and to thrash out the Argentine problem which has plagued all of them for three years.

Ironically, it appears to have been a formal Argentine request for a consultative meeting that may be the springboard for it. The governing board of the Pan-American union yesterday referred that request to the various governments.

The Union of Socialist Soviet Republics is the largest country in the world in area.

Texas Division Commended For Performance In Italian Battles

(By The Associated Press)

Exceptional performance from May 26 to June 26 in the 240-mile push from Anzio beachhead through Rome to the hills of Pisa has brought unit citations for the 141st, 142 and 143rd infantry regiments of the 36th Texas division from Major Gen. John E. Danlquist, division commander, the Seventh Army public relations officer in France reported.

"In the monumental 29-day push," said the citation for the 141st, "the 141st regiment broke through stubborn enemy resistance in the key city of Velletri. Carrying out orders implicitly and coordinating movements skillfully, the regiment reached the outskirts of Rome on June 4 and on the following day moved in the triumphal march through the Eternal City.

Drive Unabated

"Without relaxing the tightening grip on the demoralized enemy, the drive continued forward despite heavy losses in materiel until the 240-mile advance was concluded on the high ground commanding the approaches to Piza."

In the 142nd's citation, special mention was made of an attack on Mount Artemisio.

"The mountain, located behind the enemy stronghold of Velleuri," the citation read, "was seized and defended against savage counter attacks. This was all accomplished in spite of a sudden change in plans which prevented preliminary reconnaisance."

Spectacular Advance

The 143rd regiment, General Danlquist's citation said, "struggling over difficult terrain infested with enemy snipers, drove from the Anzio beachhead area toward Velletri and attacked enemy mountain defenses near the town. After clearing the first major stronghold the regiment pressed its advantage and swept forward in the spectacular advance on the Eternal City. Although the officers and men of the 143rd were tired by the ceaseless cycle of forward movements and attacks, morale was high and each new enemy counterattack was repelled with heavy losses to the hostile troops."

The three regiments, formerly units of the Texas National Guard, were mobilized as units of the 36th Texas division Nov. 25, 1940. They went overseas to North Africa 1, 1943.

Sgt. Orbin E. Houchin Participated In Raid On Vital Nazi Target

HEADQUARTERS, 13TH AAF, Southwest Pacific—Technical Sergeant Orbin E. Houchin of Slaton, Texas, was one of the gunners in the formation of 13th AAF's "Long Rangers" who struck at the vital aviation gas production center at Balikpapen in eastern Borneo.

In the first daylight strike against that target, "Long Rangers" Liberators carried on their history of making the longest range flights against new Jap targets. Recorded as the longest flight ever made by Liberators in formation, this crack outfit struck at Pandansari refinery, containing the greater portion of the Japanese aviation fuel production facilities in that area, and at the paraffin base nearby. The formations knocked out the important power plant, a fractionating tower, started a huge fire with smoke billowing to 6,000 feet, and in addition to numerous smaller fires, planted two direct hits on a 1,000 ton cargo ship at a nearby pier.

From 25-30 Zeros attacked the Liberators in eager passes that went straight through the formation. Anti-aircraft fire was the worst many of the veteran crews had seen since the early days of Munda, in the Northern Solomons, from where the "Long Rangers" made their first history in the Pacific aerial warfare.

Sgt. Houchin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Houchin of Motor Route "B," Lamesa, Texas, and the husband of the former Anita June White of Slaton, Texas. Prior to entering the services, he attended Wilson High school at Wilson, and was later employed by Consolidated Aircraft corporation of San Diego, Calif. and Fort Worth, Texas.

Democratic Leader In Minnesota Will Welcome Inquiry

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 2 (AP)—Robert Butler of St. Paul, Democratic state finance director, today asserted he would welcome a congressional investigation of claims that improper methods were used to collect Democratic contribution in Minnesota.

Butler announced in a normal statement issued today he will ask the Mutual Broadcasting company to provide him with time on the air to answer the charges which were broadcast over Mutual Wednesday night by Fulton Lewis, jr., a Washington radio commentator.

Asserting that he had been advised by his attorney that the broadcast and newspaper articles in connection with it are "false and actionable," Butler said that he would "welcome a congressional investigation of this matter."

Fall Is Favorite Time For Backyard Sausage Supper

Fall's a favorite time for sausage. In fall comes sausage, with buckwheat cakes and sirup—or sizzling frankfurts and buns near an open fire—or a braunschweiger barbecue.

But whether it's fall or not, sausage items are tops. They don't depend upon seasons or conditions, but are available any time of year. They have no waste and usually require no preparation.

Every country has its own styles and grades of sausage—beef and pork, fresh and dried, smoked and unsmoked, cooked and raw, seasoned and unseasoned. Each style is distinctive of a certain nationality, and many sizes, shapes and appearances of casings are needed to identify them. Sausage in this country has been developed from old world sausage and we are gradually educating ourselves to fully appreciate it.

Fresh sausage, such as pork sausage, is made from fresh meats and sold fresh. This sausage doesn't keep long at normal temperatures and must be thoroughly cooked before eaten.

Should Be Kept Cold

Smoked or cooked sausage, which keeps well in cold places, does not need to be cooked before serving. Frankfurts and liver sausage are included in this group and should be kept cold with cut surfaces covered to keep meat fresher and to preserve its flavor.

Dry or summer sausage requires no cooking before serving, for it is so cured and dried that is has good keeping qualities even at rather high temperatures.

Braunschweiger barbecue is a favorite supper suggestion for crisp fall weather. In the backyard or the park, grill liver sausage slices over a hot fire and serve in toasted buns with fried tomato slices, fried onion slices and crisp bacon. Supplement it with toasted frankfurts, for franks are the most popular of all sausage products. They represent about a third of all sausage sold in this country. Mugs of cold milk and apple pie bring the whole to a good finish.

There are many other tasty sausage suggestions for an outdoor supper. Following are some of them:

Varied Suggestions

(1) Stuffy Franks — Split frankfurts lengthwise, fill with strips of cheese, pickle or tart apple, wrap with bacon and toast over fire to serve in long buns.

(2) Red Skins—Heat frankfurts in simmering barbecue sauce over an open fire. Serve in toasted buns

(3) Beach Fries — Panfry half-inch slices of liver sausage over open fire and serve hot in toasted buns with thin slices of cheese, tomato and onion.

(4) Club "Cappies"—Between rye bread put cottage cheese, mixed with chopped green onions, caraway seeds and salt, and sliced capicolla.

(5) Frankfurt Toasties—Between bun halves put tomato slices and frankfurts, sliced lengthwise and spread with mustard. Fasten with toothpick and toast on a fork over the open fire.

(6) Sausage Rolls—Panfry link sausage, roll in thin slices of bread and fasten with toothpicks to toast over an open fire.

(7) Pork Patties—Fry pork sausage patties to a nice brown and serve with a thin slice of cheese and tomato in toasted buns.

Leftovers Can Add To Monday's Drab Meals

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Leftovers in the refrigerator challenge the housekeeper. Every scrap of meat must be used. A few leftover stewed tomatoes, a slice or two of dry bread—these may just start the list of foods that must not be wasted. Serve attractively. Here are some second appearance favorites.

Meat Timbals
(Serves 4)

One cup ground leftover cooked meat, 2 large carrots, 1 large onion, 1 slice stale bread, bread crumbs, 1 egg, salt, pepper, 1-4 teaspoon thyme, 1-2 cup milk, 2 tablespoons fortified margarine.

Grind together meat, carrots, onion. Soak the slice of bread in water and press dry. Add to meat mixture. Add egg, salt, pepper, thyme, milk. Pour into 4 individual greased baking cups. Cover with bread crumbs and do top with bit sof margarine. Set cups in pan of hot water. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 30 minutes or until timbals are set. Serve in baking cups or turn out on platter to serve.

Scalloped Corn and Tomatoes

One can corn, 1 cup cooked leftover tomatoes, 1-2 teaspoon garlic salt or 1 teaspoon finely minced onion, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 1 tablespoon fortified margarine.

Heat together corn, tomatoes, salt or onion, and margaine. Turn into greased casserole, top with grated cheese. Brown quickly under broiler heat. Serves 4.

When storing clothes, choose a clean dry place away from furnace or heating pipes because heat, light, dust or moisture may harm clothes.

BRAUNSCHWEIGER BARBECUE—Braunschweiger barbecue is a favorite supper suggestion for crisp fall weather. In the backyard or the park, grill liver sausage slices over a hot fire and serve in toasted buns with fried tomato, onion slices and crisp bacon. Supplement it with toasted frankfurts, for franks are the most popular of all sausage products. They represent about a third of all sausage sold in this country. Mugs of cold milk and apple pie bring the whole to a good finish.

Nuts can be substituted for part of the fat in a recipe, since pecans are over 70 per cent fat and walnuts, hickory, filberts and butternuts over 60 per cent fat.

When pork sausage is to be preserved by quick freezing, omit the salt but add the other seasonings like peppers, sage or mace.

As a guide to retaining vitamins use the minimum amount of water that will cook the food without sticking.

Green stems of young onions will flavor soup and stews.

You can remove egg stains from silver by rubbing it with a cloth that has been dipped in wet salt.

Yellow corn meal is more valuable for Vitamin A than white corn meal.

Keep salt, pepper, sugar bowl, salad dressing, napkins and preserves on a tray and take them to the table in one trip.

If your beef fat is yellow, it is likely to be superior to white in food value because of the Vitamin A it contributes.

In ice cream or candy, nuts like almonds or English walnuts usually give the best flavor if they are first roasted and salted.

CAN MINCEMEAT NOW

Since mince pie's a "must" for Thanksgiving and Christmas, make it early—using the lean non-rationed beef now on the market:

Homemade Mincemeat

2 pounds beef
1 pound suet
4 pounds tart apples
4 cups sugar
4 pounds raisins
4 candided orange rinds
4 candied lemon rinds
Juice and grated rind of 2 oranges
Juice and grated rind of 2 lemons
2 cups grape juice or other fruit juice
1 tablespoon salt
1¼ teaspoon a grated nutmeg
½ teaspoon mace

Cook beef slowly in hot water to cover until quite tender, about 3 hours. Cool and force through food chopper with suet, apples and candied fruits, using coarse blade. Add remaining ingredients; mix thoroughly. Cook slowly 1 hour. Seal in sterilized jars. Makes 12 pints. Use 1 pint or 2 cups for 8-inch pie.

New Postal Note To Be Ready By 1945

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — The Post Office department said today the new postal note probably will not be distributed to post offices until the first of the year.

The note, a simplified form of money order with a five-cent rate for amounts from one cent to $10. was included in a series of authorized postal changes which became effective yesterday but preparation and printing has delayed its distribution.

Sightseeing Steers Tour Tulsa Streets

TULSA, Nov. 2. (AP)—A squad of policemen, the dog catcher, a cowboy, a group of howling youngsters and a housewife with a broom all joined in a chase after two steers which scattered terror and pedestrains about downtown Tulsa today.

The steers hurdled the side of a truck and trotted 12 blocks to the downtown district, occasionally lunging at citizens along the way. They scorned the medical arts building, circled the courthouse twice for a good look and then headed into a residential district.

One ultimately was shot, the other lassoed under a viaduct.

The housewife with broom?

Oh, she was irate because one of the animals tracked up her nice clean porch.

As a guide to retaining vitamins use the minimum amount of water that will cook the food without sticking.

Japanazis Use Salacious Extreme In Propaganda Leaflets For Yanks

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. — You know what those Germans, the dirty bums, are doing now? Scattering counterfeit dollar bills around on the Franco-German border.

So an unsuspecting G.I. stoops down to pick up an unearned buck and it turns out to be a trick folder with printing inside, denouncing Jews. This is propaganda, Nazi style, and it's managing to make American soldiers madder than hell at the Germans.

I found out about this today at Elmer Davis' OWI propaganda headquarters, where the first phoney dollars had just arrived, and where it turned out that the Germans and the Japanese are in the "feelthy" picture business. That's their idea of propaganda, too.

The Jap leaflets fluttering down to our troops are in full color, mostly, and nastier than the German postcards, though the Nazi pornography is bad enough.

The Germans have issued a series titled "the girl you left behind," revealing a beautiful blonde in a number of naked and semi-naked poses. She's supposed to be the GI's girl back home.

One of the less-offensive cards shows the girl in an office with her dress around her hips, while a fat citizen in horn-rimmed glasses fingers her legs. The caption says: "Today she is pulling down 60 bucks."

Wierd Results By Japs

The Japs combine the sentimental with the profane for some weird results. Their only nonlewd leaflet isa lithograph of a young man and a fully-clothed red-head in tight embrace. Underneath is this legend:

"That unforgettable embrace under the beautiful moon with the warmth of her shapely body nestled against yours; that blood-tingling kiss; these and many other pleasant memories you'll be able to relive again if you'll throw down your arms and surrender."

Current front-page news stories indicate the Japs got no converts with that one, nor with dozens of other leaflets so salacious as to make even a callous citizen, upon looking at them, feel the need of a bath.

These pictures, plus hundreds of books, leaflets, pamphlets and magazines in all languages, Davis keeps in a propaganda sample room at his headquarters. The room is presided over by two girls, pretty ones, and that brings up something I think is funny.

Some of the best American propaganda consists of cans of soup, packages of cookies, and consignment of cooked meat, all plastered with American flags and the insignia in big red letters: US. The idea is that anybody anywhere eating these things knows immediately where they came from. So all right.

Among the products so labled are packages of all thes most popular brands of American cigarettes with flags on 'em. Davis' two girls have been guarding these sample cigarettes with their lives these many months. They've looked longingly at the cigarette shelf, and so far they haven't swiped a single propaganda smoke. They swear it and I believe them.

Vets Returning To College Increasing

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—The number of veterans returning to college continues to increase, Walter R. T. Rolfe, coordinator of the Veterans' administration at the University of Texas said today.

"We had 100 boys last term and although registration has not finished for this terms, we have already topped that number."

Rolfe said the scope of interest is as varied as before the war. "Although many boys through their military training have found they possessed abilities hitherto unrecognized, they are registering for much the same courses as during peace times — law, business, engineering, architecture, science, music."

In order that every Texas boy "serving in any brach of the service, in the mountains, plains and foxholes" may know exactly what is due him under the GI bill of rights, the university is preparing a pamphlet outlining what veterans may expect in the field of education.

WE SALUTE THE GIRL SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Donald Nelson To Return To China To Help Nation With War Effort

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (U.P.)—Former War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson will return to China at President Roosevelt's request to help reorganize the Chinese war effort and to set up a Chinese "war production board," the White House announced today.

Nelson's return was requested by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, the White House said in a statement issued shortly after Nelson conferred with Mr. Roosevelt.

Coonley To Be Deputy

Nelson will take with him, as a deputy, Howard Coonley, WPB executive and chairman of the Walworth Co., value manufacturers.

Also accompanying the former WPB chief will be Eugene M. Stallings, an alcohol production expert, and a mission of five steel experts headed by Herbert W. Graham, chief metallurgist of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp.

As the President's personal representative, Nelson will continue his work with Chiang "on measures aimed at strengthening the Chinese war effort and notably in organizing a war production board to increase the output of China's war industries," the announcement said.

Early Return Asked

The White House said the President asked Nelson to set "the earliest possible date for his return to China."

Nelson told reporters he was "going back" but declined to say when or to go into detail on his talk with the President.

Nelson visited China for about two weeks early this fall, together with Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley. Nelson returned to report to Mr. Roosevelt, but Hurley still is in China.

The Chinese situation was brought to a head last weekend by disclosure that Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell had been relieved of his three-way far eastern command and recalled to this country at Chiang's request. Mr. Roosevelt told a news conference the dispute stemmed from a clash of personalities between the two men. There has been general agreement that this country must try to get China to step up the tempo of her part in the war against Japan, and Nelson's return is one action for that purpose.

Toys To Be Somewhat Better This Season

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Toys will be somewhat better this Christmas, for Santa got a priority.

Playthings won't be of pre-war quality but on the whole they'll last "much longer" than the gadgets of a year ago.

The Commerce department said so today.

Toys may be more numerous, too, especially in some categories like dolls and wooden toys. Toy sales are expected to be nearly $250,000,000 at retail. Last season they were believed to be slightly less than that.

News Briefs

Recruiting of labor for West Coast naval establishments will be conducted by Ronald A. Beckman, labor recruiter for the U. S. Employment services, in the Lubbock USES office at 1207 Thirteenth, Nov. 6 through 9. Full information concerning job openings, wage rates, free transportation and guaranteed housing may be obtained at the Lubbock office.

Absentee ballots numbering 562 had been voted in person or arrived in the mails, County Clerk Ed D. Allen said Thursday morning, five days before Tuesday's general election. Requests from overseas for regular ballots totaled 389 and 146 federal (bobtail) ballots had been received; civilians had asked 309 regular ballots, and had returned 98; 77 or 456 regular ballots mailed to servicemen had been returned; 241 ballots had been marked in Allen's office.

Specialists in the field of art will discuss "Creative Arts in Lubbock" on the American Association of University Women program at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the home economics building at Texas Tech. Program members will be Mrs. Grace Dyess, superintendent of city recreation; Miss Claudia Neeley, co-ordinator of arts in the Lubbock public schools; and Miss Elizabeth Hawley, assistant instructor of applied arts at Tech.

Army Nurse, In Third Winter Overseas, Hasn't Had A Raise

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE NINTH EVACUATION HOSPITAL In France, Oct. 24. (Delayed)—Mary T. Pattie has not had a raise in pay in more than two years—but that does not bother her so much as the fact that, in the same length of time, she has not been able to buy or wear "a real fussy hat."

Now—with her third winter overseas coming up—she still is worrying more about "the boys" than about herself.

"The boys" are wounded American soldiers, hundreds of whom Mary has tended in Africa, Sicily, Italy and France. And they remember her—this pretty, freckly girl who knows how to ease an aching wound with a soft bandage or soothe a hurt and battle-troubled spirit with a kind word or a wry bit of humor.

Mary, a second lieutenant, is one of those hardworking Army nurses who receive their main recognition from the unspoken gratitude that shines in the eyes of their warsick soldier-patients.

I first met her in Tebessa in January, 1943, during the Tunisian campaign. She and the other nurses in the ninth evacuation hospital were shivering in cold, unheated tents and leading anything but the life of Riley—but they loved it.

"It was all so new to us then," said Mary. "We only had three blankets and it was so cold in those Algerian hills that water froze in our helmets overnight and in the morning before we could wash our faces we had to break up the ice. Yes, we had fewer conveniences and more difficulties then—but we didn't really mind them."

Mary and the other nurses still live in stoveless tents through which leak the chill autumn winds. And they are camped in a pasture turned into a calf-deep quagmire by churning ambulance wheels.

Crop Goals For 1945 Considered

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — Crop goals for 1945 totaling 8,000,000 acres below the 1944 goals but 4,000,000 above actual plantings this year, probably will be recommended to states by the War Food administration.

Food Administrator Marvin Jones is considering 1945 feed and fiber crop goals totaling around 363,000,000 acroes. This year's goal was 371,000,000 acres but farmers actually planted only 359,000,000.

The WFA said that Jones already had approved goals for many of the crops but he has not decided finally on feed and hog production. He hopes to announce all of them by Nov. 20 when they will have been submitted to the various states for consideration.

Foster Cadet Killed; Instructor Parachutes

VICTORIA, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — A training plane crash seven miles north of Foster field Wednesday claimed the life of an aviation cadet, but the instructor parachuted to safety, field authorities announced today.

Killed in the accident was Cadet Francis J. Ford, 25, of New York City. The instructor was 2nd Lt. Rivon E. Jones, 21, of Phoenix, Ariz.

Greek Government To Stabilize The Drachma

ATHENS, Nov. 2. (AP)—The Greek government is expected to nationalize leading banks Sunday in an effort to combat inflation and stabilize the drachma, which has sunk to fantastic levels.

It is understood that the drachma will be tied to sterling instead of the gold sovereign.

FDR Sets Nov. 23 As Thanksgiving Day

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — President Roosevelt today proclaimed Nov. 23, the fourth Thursday of this month, as Thanksgiving day, thus following the law enacted by Congress Dec. 26, 1941. Five states plan to observe Nov. 30, the last Thursday, through local choice.

In his annual proclamation, the president called on the nation to read the Holy Scriptures from Thanksgiving until Christmas in thanking God for restoring freedom to many millions in "this year of liberation" and for the "promise of an enduring peace."

Forty states and the District of Columbia have fixed Nov. 23 for the holiday in line with a federal statute, but Florida, Idaho, Nebraska, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia plan to observe Nov. 30.

In two states, Arkansas and Georgia, there is a possibility that both dates will be recognized.

So precisely constructed are the Admiral engines that the Sterling Engine Co. of Buffalo makes for Coast Guard cutters and other boats that the only gasket ever used between the upper and lower bases is a fine cotton thread—but even without a thread the parts fit so tight that no leakage occurs.

Drop off whatever brand of coffee you've been using and buy a pound of Admiration instead. But don't let the family in on your secret. Just serve up this delicious blend in the usual way. You won't have long to wait for the broad smiles of satisfaction. Up and down the table warm and hearty applause will attend the first sip. For in Admiration—at last—you'll find all the rich, mellow goodness you've always wanted, all the full-bodied flavor, all the room-filling aroma. Most of all you'll have in Admiration coffee that's the same today as 25 years ago—and that will be the same tomorrow and for years to come. Many roasters have cheapened their blends with inferior coffees, thus to "save" money. But not Admiration. The wholesome, delightful flavor never varies, even from package to package. By all means buy a pound today.

Gibson Outlines Regulars Plans For Use Of "Balance Of Power"

By MARY L. KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Nov. 1—Merritt H. Gibson, campaign manager of the Texas Regulars, says if their anti-Roosevelt electors win on November 7, they will be in a "supreme trading position with both the Democratic and Republican parties."

Their plan, as outlined by Gibson, is:

1. To wait for about a week in order to definitely determine the complexion of the new national Congress. "The Senate undoubtedly will be Democratic as there is not sufficient turnover to change it, but it is a toss-up whether the House will be Republican or Democratic," Gibson believes.

If House Democratic

2. If the House goes Democratic the Regulars consider they have strong leverage with the Republican electors to whom they will say: "You join with us in defeating Roosevelt or we will throw the election into the House."

3. If the House goes Republican, the Regulars will then concentrate first on the other unpledged electors of the South (there are about six in Mississippi, some in Georgia). They will hold a private convention of free southern electors and strive to swing their votes to some Democrat other than Roosevelt.

In the event it is a Democratic House, and the Republican electors agree to work with the Texas Regulars on every phase but selecting someone other than Dewey for President, the Regulars consider agreeing to support Dewey in the electoral college on one provision:—that the Republicans unite their votes with those of the Regulars to elect a Democratic President and vice president.

Byrd Or Stevenson

"Someone like Sen. Byrd of Virginia, Coke Stevenson of Texas, or some other good Democrat who believes in constitutional government," says Gibson.

He sees nothing out-of-line, however unusual, in having the president and vice-president of different party faiths. In fact, he thinks it would be a healthy thing. "We aren't supposed to be concerned about this war as Democrats or Republicans, but as Americans," avows Gibson, "and since everything else is run on a coalition basis, why not our government."

In the event the House goes GOP, and the Democratic electors refuse to deal with the Regulars, the Regulars will say: "All right, we will throw our votes away (i. e., give them to someone who obviously cannot win the election), and send the election into the House, which being Republican, will make Dewey president."

But, even in this contingency, the Regulars will continue to jockey for control of the vice-presidency by considering a trade of their electoral votes for Dewey provided the Republicans will support their Democratic candidate for vice-president.

"We prefer to beat Roosevelt with a good Democrat, but since our primary purpose is to defeat him, we would rather see Dewey elected than Sidney Hillman, et al," says Gibson.

He claims that if the Regulars win they will strive to bring the Roosevelt-Democrats back into the fold and drop the name Texas Regulars which was "just an expedient to get on the ballot."

"If they refuse to join us, we will continue to fight for restoration of constitutional government and states' rights. The men in our party are not in it for any political gain and as long as they live they will fight for what they consider the real principles of the Democratic party," maintains Gibson.

Sculptor Believes Beef Money Would Salve Argentina

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2. (AP) — Urbici Soler, Spanish sculptor who "ate all the beefsteak — 20 cents for a big thick one—I could like a camel hoping to store up," arrived here today from Argentina. He is en route to El Paso, to supervise landscaping of a mountain upon which stands his 40-foot statue of Christ.

"Beefsteak is a big bone of contention between your countries," Soler said. "The Argentinians love to demonstrate and are fond of shouting against the United States, but if this country bought more beef from them things would be well."

Soler said he believed Argentinians were "pro-Allied at heart. When Paris fell to the Allies," he said, "residents of Buenos Aires gathered in the street to shout 'Paris is ours'."

The sculptor, who for the past 24 years has worked in the United States and South America, said he would be joined here by his wife, the former Alba Salgado, Madrid poet, whom he married recently in Uruguay.

Again, "L'Affaire Rainey"

REGENTS of the University of Texas had no course other than the one they finally took in discharging Dr. Homer P. Rainey as the institution's president. The only wonder of the whole thing to us is that the university's governing board did not take the action a long time ago.

Although we do not agree with Doctor Rainey's educational philosophies, we should be unfair if we did not point out here that the dismissed president is not alone at fault in the long struggle which has done much to weaken the effectiveness of the state's largest educational institution. Sharing the blame for the whole situation are members of the board of regents—none of whom still held office at the time Doctor Rainey was discharged—who employed him in the first place. They should have known from the Rainey record in the North, and from his connection with the so-called "National Youth administration" in Washington that his philosophies and those of the majority of Texans would sharply differ and frequently clash.

We do not feel capable of judging Doctor Rainey's professional ability, but knowing majority public opinion in Texas and the doctor's theories along educational and social lines, we do feel entirely safe in saying the twain show no signs of meeting any time soon. Texas taxpayers, who, after all, own—and through the board of regents, control—the University of Texas not only fail to agree with the doctor in many matters of policy, but also do not approve of the sort of insubordination to vested authority which he began exhibiting almost on the first day he took office.

Although operation of state-supported schools vests policy-making with governing boards of the institution, and administrative prerogatives in their presidents, Doctor Rainey has wanted to exert both powers. He adopted a "rule, or else" policy which ended with his holding the "or else" end of the rope—the only way "l'affaire Rainey" could have ended unless the university's regents were unfaithful to their responsibilities to the people of this state.

Now that the regents have affirmed that control of the university must be in the hands of recognized authority, we hope they will also, in similar positive fashion, inform the American Association of University Professors that Texans feel perfectly capable of operating their own institutions of higher learning without any sideline coaching from the academic union, which feels it incumbent upon itself to dictate to college boards and presidents concerning matters of faculty personnel. Twice in the past Texas Tech has declined to be dictated to by the AAUP and the University of Texas will do likewise if it expects to retain freedom of action regarding who shall, and who shall not, be employed for classroom duties.

The fact that university students, not yet "dry behind the ears," are "acting up" in the Rainey matter is of no importance, other than their actions indicate that the philosophy of insubordination so aptly displayed by Doctor Rainey has permeated the ranks of the youngsters. If they do not wish to attend classes and take advantage of educational opportunities afforded them by their elders, there is real work for them to do in this war period which is still marked by manpower shortages in many essential fields of endeavor.

For our part, we are ready to mark the tombstone of the lamentable Rainey era in Austin with a succinct: "Requiescat in Pace!"

Here's "Umpy" Again!

THE Editor of The Morning Avalanche does not have the pleasure—and we are sure it would be a distinct one—of being personally acquainted with Miss Elizabeth Robinson, winner of a recent contest for the title of "Miss Lubbock," and the right to represent this city in a state-wide charm contest soon to be held in Waco.

Albeit, we have been at least mildly interested in Miss Robertson for some time, since for the past year or so we have never been in a group otherwise composed of high schoolers, and/or collegians, without hearing some laudatory comment about "Umpy." Fact it, it was reference to "Umpy" which first prompted us to inquire about her, because we figured anybody called "Umpy" must be outstanding in some way or another, else why such an unusual cognomen?

We noted last spring, in the high school yearbook, that Miss Robinson was the recipient of a rousing accolade from her fellow students. This fall, noting the activities of a most enthusiastic young co-ed cheer leader at Tech football games, we inquired regarding her identity—and up jumped the name "Umpy," again.

As we said in the beginning, we do not personally know Miss Robinson, or, better, "Umpy." But—and when we say this we're fully cognizant of our thinning locks, our bulging middle and all our other indications of stodgy middle age—we wish we did. As the more modern would put it, she must "have something" very special in the way of personality and fresh, young charm, marking her as one of life's fortunates whose natural talents enable them to win friends and influence people.

Good luck to "Umpy," and may she win the state title!

Believe It Or Not --- By Robert Ripley

Germany Will Try It Again

By Sigrid Schultz

(Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.)

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1919 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she saw the behind-the-scenes preparation for the coming "war-in-peace" that she warns may culminate in World War III. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

* * *

XXI

Under the Versailles Treaty about 20 German factories were allowed to continue producing war equipment for the Reichswehr and the number of the standing army was set at 100,000 men.

As the creator of the Reichswehr, and consequently of the Wehrmacht, General von Seeckt put it, "We know how to make the best of the situation." In the early 1920's ranking German officers admitted that they had evolved a perfect system of training men for two years and then sending them out to other parts of the country to drill recruits. The Allies had stipulated that Reichswehr soldiers must serve 12 years, in order to prevent the short-term enlistments which the Prussians had introduced into the army with which they chased Napoleon out of their territory. But making a rule and enforcing it are two different things. By the end of the 1820's, there should have been a great number of men in the Reichwehr nearing or over 30. Nobody watching a Reichswehr parade ever saw more than a few.

* * *

Before long the restrictions on the construction of German planes, on their speed and power, were dropped. They had to be commercial planes, of course. But the most casual traveler in Europe soon knew that Germany flew passengers, to innumerable towns where there could be no air freight, so that the crews could gain experience.

Nobody needs reminding of the importance of the gliders which German "enthusiasts" took up to compensate for lack of regular planes with engines. We know how their use was co-ordinated with powered planes for war transport.

Often at army maneuvers I saw odd little cardboard contraptions bearing huge signs. "Tanks," they said. The Germans pointed to them indignantly as symbols of the humiliation and shackles of Versailles. Thsi complaint was fine propaganda to stir up German resentment. In reality German tank builders circumvented those restrictions, too.

During the 1920's we saw huge busses on German city streets, with six and eight-wheel chassis. The authorities assured us that they had no military significance. But those undercarriages had been designed for war trucks and were developed and so used after 1939.

* * *

With open rearmament, with the German army constantly enlarging and training its personnel, and backed by the full industrial might of the nation, Hitler took three bold steps. He invaded the Rhineland, he proclaimed conscription, he announced through Goering the creation of a superlative air force.

But with the Beer Hall Putsch General Ludendorff's pupil had learned one indelible lesson in caution. How could be be absolutely sure that the armaments, the troops, were as fine as the High Command said they were? He must try them out before he risked the big game.

Secretly, by devious methods, German soldiers reached Spain. Ambassador von Stohrer, General von Faupel, the whole considerable body of Germans in Spain, reinforced by all the young men who could, under some pretext, claim Spanish or South American citizenship, prepared the big rehearsal of the German army. When the friction between the different Spanish groups broke out, the Germans were there, ready to try their organizations and successive deliveries of weapons.

The weapons were good. The men and the reinforcements which followed the first groups got battle training. The officers' tactics were found satisfactory, although some of the new ones had still to be kept secret.

Germany was ready for war.

* * *

But Germany's didn't want war; she was "encircled" by her enemies, who "forced" war upon her.

Nobody who has seen German officials and German businessmen work overtime, for very little money, will insult his own intelligence or their industry by assuming that they had no plan. We will hear again and again for years after the Second World War that we wrong them, that they had no world conquest.

But there was a time when they gave themselves away. During the period when victory seemed to be within grasp, the Nazis in Berlin not only gloated over their triumphs but they over talked freely of the long preparations they had undertaken and of the limitless horizon of their future campaigns.

And not only the big fellows talked. Little men who had grown colorless in their work, men of the Ministry of Economics, plant officials, people who had never made enough money to keep their teeth in repair, suddenly came to life. They talked about the glittering future of Germany, or the years of secret preparations, of study and scheming behind them, and they made one realize that nothing in the world would make them give up their vision of world mastery for Germany.

They were the unknown soldiers of bureaucracy, humble men, yet dangerous enough. For they have worked for the German secret general staff to bring about World War II and to win it. And they will continue to work during the war-in-peace to follow.

TO LOCATE HOSPITAL

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 2 (AP)—Brownwood may be the site of a veterans hospital, Gene Mattox of Brownwood said. He has been informed by Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo that a survey would be made shortly to determine a location. San Angelo also has filed a brief requesting a hospital.

DFC Is Awarded To Pfc. Douglas Chism

AIR TRANSPORTATION COMMAND BASE, India—The Distinguished Flying Cross has been awarded to Pfc. Douglas A. Chism, of 2016 Sixth, Lubbock, Texas, for "extraordinary achievement," according to an announcement by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding general of the India-China, Division, Air Transport Command.

Pfc. Chism has been serving with the division since September 2, 1943, as an aerial radio operator on the giant transport airplanes which haul vital military cargo to Allied forces fighting the Japanese in China, crossing the treacherous north Burma "Hump" of the Himalayas.

The citation making the award credited Pfc. Chism with "more than 300 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the difficult and dangerous Assam-China air routes where enemy interceptions and attack was probable and expected." The order adds:

"Flying at night as well as by day at high altitudes over impassable mountainous terrain through areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments . . . requiring courageous and superior performance of duties to overcome . . . he accomplished his mission with distinction . . ."

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

I JUST went into the livingroom where my wife was sitting at her desk writing something.

"May I bother you a minute?" I said.

"Well, I'm just making out my shopping list and trying to think what to buy for dinner tonight and for breakfast and luncheon tomorrow. You know how hard it is to make up any menus these days."

So I went out pouting. Important, indeed—when I had really wanted to ask her something that is important.

I had wanted to ask her for an idea for tomorrow's column.

Here, I said to myself, are millions of readers breathlessly waiting for my wisdom and my inspiration, and she considers dinner, luncheon and breakfast important.

I usually don't get my ideas from my wife, but I have my first autumn cold, and my head is stuffed up, and my throat is sore and my nose is trying to play Niagara Falls, and my brain is apparently somewhat congealed.

And she talks about menus!

* * *

But wait a minute.

Let us suppose that I can't write my column for tomorrow and you'd miss these pearls of wisdom of mine, which one reader called "moronic necklaces."

How much worse would you be off? What would you lose?

Now let us suppose that my wife were to be sick. And there wouldn't be any breakfast. And I'd have to concoct my own lunch and maybe go out to some dump for an unpalatable dinner?

Maybe her shopping list is more important, after all, than my column.

And maybe your wife's shopping list is more important than those tremendous business problems of yours which, when you try to talk to her about them, suddenly seem so unimportant when you look at the somewhat bored expression of her face.

* * *

AFTER all, what is so important about my column or about business?

Could I write, could you make that big deal or do an honest day's work without that bacon-and-eggs or that corned-beef-and-cabbage, which you consider as such inconsequential detail when your wife talks about it and which is, yet, such tragical failure on her part if you don't get it?

After all, why do you work and why do I write? (Some people call that work, too).

Isn't it for the very things that our wives consider so vital and we so inconsequential?

Isn't a missing sock, a half-a-pound of butter, a clean bed and a well-run household every bit as important as your ledgers, your lathes and your bank account?

By gosh, I am going right back into the living room and tell my wife what I want for dinner.

Even if she doesn't give me any ideas for my column.

Or does she?

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

A BACKSTAGE row has broken out within the Petroleum Industry War council over prospective Senate ratification of the Anglo-American oil treaty, which allocates production totals and world markets between British and domestic producers.

The council consists of representatives of the trade who have cooperated with Administrator Harold Ickes since Pearl Harbor. Even the Secretary of the Interior concedes that their services have been invaluable in mobilizing fuel facilities for our fighting forces and home consumers.

Now, however, the oil men and Ickes have reached a sword-point showdown. The businessmen charge that the proposed agreement creates a world cartel which will be dominated by the Washington and London officials. In their opinion, it runs directly counter to the anti-trust laws aimed at monopolistic organizations in the United States. They allege that it will make the industry a mere tool of Government, kill the private enterprise system and result in smaller production as well as higher prices.

At a secret meeting some weeks ago, council members framed a statement condemning the tentative pact and urging the Senate to reject it. When word of their attitude was rushed to Ickes, he ordered Ralph Davies, his petroleum aide, and Charles Rayner of the State department to attend the conference and issue several sharp warnings.

Davies took these instructions literally. He notified the petroleum spokesmen that if they pursued their rebellious course Ickes might denounce them and dissolve their body.

The oil men agreed to defer action for the moment, although making clear that they had not changed their minds. They regard the pending treaty as a forerunner of future global deals that will subject all industries, agriculture and export-import trade to a federal strait jacket.

* * *

CONDEMNS: The oil men assembled in Washington again last week in an even more rambunctious mood. They came prepared to assail the treaty as an instrument designed to regiment their business and to warn everybody concerned that "the time to fight this menace to the American petroleum industry, its workers and the public is today."

They were also ready to buttonhole their senators and propagandize them against the proposed agreement, which is now in the Senate Foreign Relations committee awaiting postelection discussion and action. Once again, however, Davis issued an ultimatum suggesting that their council might be dissolved with a scathing indictment from the Secretary of the Interior. The corporation representatives did not want to be placed in a prejudiced position, as they saw it, and again they agreed to soft-pedal their resentment.

But the Republican mogul and party financier from Pennsylvania, President J. Howard Pew of the Sun Oil company, would not be silenced. He blew the works. His statement received hardly any notice because it was overshadowed by the news of our crushing defeat of the Japanese fleet in the Philippines.

Although Washington condemns private cartels, the GOP leader declared that the only difference between those and governmental setups is "that the latter are far more reprehensible and detrimental to the public welfare." He warned that the "economic planners" were using the oil industry as a guinea pig for an experiment that would be applied to all private enterprise.

Chief significance of the feud lies in its indication that, as the nation prepares for the handling of postwar reconstruction problems, the four-year honeymoon of business and government is waning.

WINNING THE WAR

By Albert Leman

A DISCHARGED war veteran who buys a left-over Army "Duck" or "Water Buffalo" may make a neat profit as an independent contractor.

That's only one of the postwar money-making possibilities described in this space today.

GI Joe, backed by federal loans and a fat bonus, has an excellent chance of becoming his own boss. So have venturous war workers whose nest eggs are included in the 40-billion-dollar savings now slated away in the nation's banks.

But before we discuss tips on job opportunities given by successful executives, let's look at a few pertinent statistics. Dun and Bradstreet analysts announce that so far this year there have been only 980 failures in the USA. In the entire year 1940 more than 13,000 went to the wall, and in the 1930s the annual average was 17,000.

No one can predict with certainty what the conditions will be after Hitler and Hirohito quit. But most of New York's financial leaders believe that if buying power can be maintained, the prospect for operating a business on one's own is good.

* * *

ENTERPRISING: "If I were a returning veteran or a war worker with a little something in the sugar crock," a prosperous automotive executive from Indiana told the writer this week, "I certainly would give much thought to a type of business which is out of the ordinary—provided, of course, that it meets a need. The public only buys what it wants at the price it is willing to pay."

Here is one novelty to dream about . . . Uncle Sam will sell at bargain rates the amphibious vehicles of the war. Shrewd contractors say that a "Water Buffalo" or a "Duck" will be valuable in oil prospecting, lumbering, hydraulic gold mining and salt mining. It wades through swamps and can reach remote places that lack roads.

An enterprising young owner in this "out of the ordinary" field could operate a regular service or he could rent his contraption for special tasks.

SECRETS: Bankers say that openings are developing in less spectacular lines—for specialty sellers, service outfits, auto and electric dealers.

Popular demands recently listed with them call for tourist camps, small machine plants, tool and die shops, beer gardens, filling stations, neighborhood variety and grocery stores. Before the war 16 of every 100 employed persons were engaged in retail business.

Success in retailing stems from a knowledge of the trade and an understanding of human nature. Here are a few tips passed on by the big fellows:

It takes three stores to make a profitable shopping center.

When a merchant founds a new establishment or modernizes an old one, the customers expect something fresh and different. They may enter the building from curiosity, but if these desires are not fulfilled, they will not return.

One of the great secrets is accessible merchandise—articles that are placed within sight and easy reach of the shopper—articles she can see quickly and can handle. A top-notch firm discontinued accepting telephone orders for delivery. Its alert proprietor discovered that women only ask for a few things over the phone, but when they visit the store, look around and listen to the salesmen they purchase many extra items.

SELLING: Many New York experts think that an increased number of grocers will push other types of goods.

"If the druggists sell groceries," predicts one, "we shall sell drugs." In fact, wide-awake managements are branching out into meats, produce drugs and cosmetics so that a housekeeper can find under one roof the things regularly needed by her family and in her house. This means a single bundle and only one place to visit in the rain.

The newer emporium will not be a hodge-podge as were some of the old-fashioned country stores. It will utilize all the approved modern methods of counter display linked with advertising promotion and salesmanship. A leading merchant, for example, found that it is easier to sell to a housewife three cans of soup that are marked at 39 cents than a single can for 13 cents.

Clarence Francis, resident of General Foods, declares, "We are on the edge of the greatest marketing era in all history." But the money won't shower down like manna. The returning soldier or former Victory plant worker must learn all he can about the type of business he plans to own or he will end up behind the eight ball.

Southwestern Carriers Ask Increase In Their Rates

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3. — A spokesman for Southwestern Rail Carriers holds that Texas' share of "abnormal" rail movements since Pearl Harbor will fall off and contends rate increases must be granted to finance post-war rehabilitation.

T. B. Duggan, a Missouri Pacific executive, advising the Interstate Commerce commission that traffic already is decreasing, cited these instances of above normal business:

One line handled 10,109 cars of sulphur in 1943 as compared with 3,029 cars in 1940. Another moved 12,573 cars of tonnage to shipyards in Beaumont, Houston and New Orleans, where there had been no such movement in 1940.

Still another line in 1943 used 1,034 cars in moving Texas cotton to New England mills, a movement normally made by ships. One carried 2,527 cars of wools and hides to the northeast in 1943 in the way of added traffic, and another hauled 305 cars of airplane parts to Fort Worth.

Splawn Hears Arguments

Submarines interrupted the normal transportation of oil to the East via tankers. Until the "Big Inch" pipe line started operating Feb. 19, 1943, the rails had to bear the blunt of the petroleum traffic. In May, 1943, a southwestern line averaged 933 cars a day. This dropped to 642 cars in September 1944.

C. R. McNamee, director of the rate division of the Texas Railroad commission, opposed the plea of the carriers for restoration of a 4.7 per cent rate increase ordered effective in 1942 and suspended in May of 1943.

A member of the federal commission hearing the arguments is Dr. Walter M. W. Splawn, formerly of the University of Texas.

FROM a hospital in France, Sgt. William A. Spain of Paris, Texas, writes his mother, Mrs. Lucille Spain, secretary to Rep. Wright Patman, that he is doing fine and that he became a patient on his 21st birthday, Sept. 20. What happened to him his mother doesn't know. He left this country in August, was in England three days, then went with his infantry outfit to the front lines in France.

Secrecy Policy Followed

The American - Mexican Claims commission, headed by former Lt. Gov. Edgar E. Witt of Waco, keeps secret the names of those to whom it awards shares in the $40,000,000 which Mexico has agreed to pay over to this country in settlement of all damage claims filed by American citizens arising out of border cattle raids and land expropriations.

Reason: The commission figures announcements would bring salesmen, solicitors and disputing relatives down upon the award winners. However, when the work of the commission is completed, its findings, including the names of successful claimants, will be published in a document of public record. That may be years.

* * *

MUCH of the work of the present commission is in reviewing the adjudications of former claims groups which have been unacceptable to the claimants. One such claim is that of the estate of Richard King. Founder of the famous King ranch, now partly owned by Rep. Richard Kleberg, the pioneer Texan was alleged to have lost $396,000 in raids of Mexican cattle rustlers upon his herds. A previous special claims body, holding that the claimant should prove that Mexican authorities were negligent in their attempts to recover stolen properties, several years ago awarded the King estate only $385. The decision was appealed.

In charge of the distribution division of the commission is James A. Langston, formerly of El Paso and Dallas, who has served with various American-Mexican claims bodies for 25 years.

Wool Order Issued

Major General C. L. Corbin, acting Quartermaster general, writes Rep. Ewing Thomason of El Paso and Vestel Askew, Fort Stockton, secretary of Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association:

"The Quartermaster corps has, during the period of the emergency, used domestic wool in all of its contracts to the maximum amount possible and practicable. As a matter of fact, up until the present time the Quartermaster corps has consumed the larger part of the domestic wool clip.

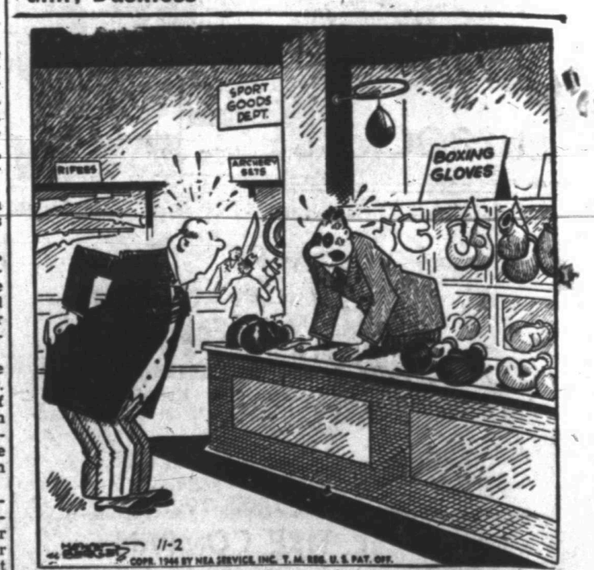

"On our future procurements for the first quarter of 1945 the same policy will continue. However, in order to expedite production on early deliveries it will be necessary to use at the beginning of the contracts some foreign wool and some tops, now in the hands of contractors, on the contracts for blankets and serge.

"Contractors will not be allowed to use more than 25 per cent of foreign wool and will be required to use 75 per cent or more domestic wool."

Women Of City Give Their Reasons For Choice Between Candidates

Women have been courted romantically since the beginning of time—wedding bells, orange blossoms, tra-la-la—but not in the annals of national oratory have they been so frankly courted politically as in this presidential campaign.

There is a reason of course.

It is estimated more women will cast ballots than men in the election next Tuesday. For the first time, there are more women of voting age than men, 600,000 more of them.

If Bosses Only Knew

In view of her sudden rise to political prominence—and because of her innate whimsicality—everybody wants to know how a woman selects her presidential candidate. If political bosses knew the answer they would lose no time in coaching their candidates.

Nobody knows why a woman does anything, and last of all, why she votes for a certain candidate. Is she influenced by his radio voice, personality or his polka dot ties? Or does she first consider his views on national or international affairs?

A group of Lubbock women were selected indiscriminately for interviews in an effort to partially answer the question. No attempt has been made to summarize the answers or figure out percentages. Read the answers and draw your own conclusions:

Not Too Interested

Mrs. J. L. Rosamond, 2320 Twenty-ninth, housewife and business woman: "In my opinion, the average housewife is not as interested in politics as she should be. I have worked with the public for 13 years and I have always taken an interest in national affairs. Frankly, I am confused about the present campaign. I have never taken my husband's viewpoint, necessarily, and at present, I am trying to make up my mind by looking at all the angles. This is the important question to consider now in selecting a president—How will he stand up at the peace table?"

Mrs. T. C. Ingram, 2411 Twenty-fifth, housewife: "The mental capacity of a candidate appeals to me, also his views on national and international affairs and his plans for our future. I suppose it is natural for women to consider a candidate's personality. Women are more vitally interested in their right to vote than ever before."

One Views Background

Mrs. L. L. Miller, 2218 Twenty-fifth, housewife; "In considering a candidate, I think it wise to look at his background and what he has stood for in civic groups. It is an indication of what he will do in the White House. A man's personality will sway the people a great deal. Good old American humor and down-to-earth philosophy are hard to beat."

Mrs. Allie M. Dyer, 2020 Seventeenth, business woman: "To a certain extent, a man's personality and radio voice are considered by the average woman, but the smarter woman trys to figure out the best man on the basis for what he stands. Don't ever forget it, business women have a mind of their own. They are taking this election seriously."

Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, 2124 Thirtieth, housewife: "I was born and reared a Democrat, but I think in this election more women will vote for the man rather than the party. Yes, I think Roosevelt has a charming voice and fireside manner. Dewey sounds very well too, in fact, almost like Roosevelt. Maybe he has been practicing."

Not So Gullible

Mrs. T. R. Prideaux, 3123 Nineteenth, housewife: "Women are not as gullible as some men think. There isn't a household that hasn't been touched by this war, consequently, women will be more careful about the selection of a candidate. Women of my acquaintance are forming their own voting opinions regardless of what other people have decided. Some people might be swayed by delivery of speech and personality, but I believe most of us are looking beyond that . . . sincerety, integrity, experience and intelligence."

Mrs. Hubert L. Allen, 2124 Seventeenth, housewife: "At this time it is more important than ever to vote for a man because of his ability instead of his ersonal appeal and appearance."

Mrs. J. Ben Cole, jr., 3006 Twentieth, housewife: "We owe it to our fighting men to elect the man who will carry out the ideals for which the Allies fight today. I certainly think women feel their voting responsibility. In fact, people are so strongly on one side or the other that I have hesitated to discuss the campaign."

Personality Counts

Mrs. R. S. Miller, 2711 Twenty-second, housewife: "Primarily, I choose my presidential candidate for what he stands on national and international affairs, but I do think personality goes a long way. Take Dewey for instance. He has a cold and impersonal voice while Roosevelt's is warm and friendly. Dewey is egotistical, and of course, so is Roosevelt but somehow you don't mind so much. Dewey lacks experience. He is reported to have said he didn't know anything about world affairs but he was reading up on it. Willkie didn't know about such thing either, but he soon acquired a world viewpoint. I wonder about Dewey's ability to do likewise."

Mrs. Dick Cozby, 1802 Ave. V, teacher: "More and more this time the voters are weighing the qualities of a candidate and thinking less of his personal appearance and mannerisms. Roosevelt's radio personality and his ability to handle words have been a big factor in getting votes through the years. Willkie probably was a bigger man than we ever admitted but I objected to his appearance and voice."

Radio Voice And Speech

Mrs. Clark W. Abbott, 2505 Twenty-first, housewife: "I think I choose my candidate mostly for what he stands, but his radio voice and speech probably have a great deal to do with it."

Mrs. J. I. Kirkpatrick, 2220 Thirteenth, housewife: "It is difficult to evaluate the presidential candidates. Even in voting for local candidates it is hard to decide because I don't really know the men running for office. I know women are not influenced any more by a man's apearance, voice and personality than the men are—both are guilty of that."

Mrs. Sam Henry, 1901 Thirteenth, housewife: "At this time we need a man of experience and one of vision and conviction. I consider those qualities first, however, I do not find Dewey's criminal-lawyer voice very appealing."

Specialists Added For Sale Of Planes

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP)—The Dallas Reconstruction Finance corporation today had added 11 aircraft-trained men to its staff for sale of several thousand planes stored in five Texas depots, the first of the armed forces surplus which will be handled through Defense Plant corporation, RFC subsidiary.

Following announcement by Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones that DPC would assume the sales, formerly handled by Civil Aeronautics administration, the local RFC hired eleven CAA employes who've been working in the field, Powell D. Harris, assistant manager of the Dallas RFC loan agency, said.

The planes, bought by the government for training and transportation uses when all civilian flying was grounded, are now available for resale to civilians, Harris said.

Planes are located at the Army Air forces fields in Lamesa, Fort Stockton, Vernon, Stamford and Fort Worth, where Hicks field serves as the nearest storage and sales depot, Harris explained.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
