Mercury Rise Brings Relief To This Area

Schools And Some Industrial Users Are Still Closed

Sunshine and rising temperatures were bringing relief on the South Plains today not only from bitter cold weather but from a gas shortage and the threat of suffering for residents.

Conditions which caused Lubbock city officials and West Texas Gas Co. officials to say Thursday that some homes might be without gas for heat were past, although conservative use of gas through today was still urged by the gas company.

Schools Still Closed

Public schools and a few heavy industrial users remained closed today. Business houses were open, after the emergency business holiday in 44 towns served by the gas company had been declared at an end late Thursday night.

In Lubbock, Mayor C. A. Bestwick issued a proclamation ending the emergency shutdown after the gas company's announcement at 10:15 p. m. had indicated pressure was being restored in the company's mains, after having taken an alarming drop of as much as 10 pounds per hour during the day and until 8 p. m.

Forecast Is Given

The weatherman gave this forecast this morning from the U. S. Weather bureau station north of Lubbock: No clouds, mostly fair with high temperatures today and Saturday.

Wind velocity had risen again at noon today, reaching 48 miles per hour sustained velocity at 1 p. m. and 60 miles per hour gusts about the same time. Dust began blowing at 12:44 p. m. at the weather station and at 1 o'clock visibility was only one-eighth mile. Snow which has fallen lightly at intervals this week has not caused precipitation sufficient to measure and therefore has not brought enough moisture to keep dust from blowing.

Temperature at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon had risen to 44 degrees and wind with the higher temperature was not creating the drain on gas supplies which had accompanied cold winds Thursday. The 44 degrees was 28 degrees higher than temperature of 16 at the same time Thursday.

Minimum 12 Here

Minimum temperature during the night was 12 degrees, recorded at 11 p. m. Minimum after midnight was 13 degrees. Temperature had risen to 21 degrees at 8:30 a.m. Minimum Saturday morning probably will be about 18, the weather station forecast showed.

Gas company representatives in the 44 towns served by the company were notified Thursday night that the emergency business holiday was ended. The holiday had been previously announced in Lubbock as having been extended through today and each of the 44 towns had been notified businesses

Floods Follow Up Cold Wave

Rain today brought floods to areas south of the Ohio river and spread a sheet of ice to the north as most of the nation shivered in sub-normal temperatures.

The first improvement in the industrial fuel picture was reported. Natural gas deliveries to Detroit were scheduled for Tuesday, permitting 150,000 workers, idle for weeks, to go back to work.

Cold Wave On Way

Warmer temperatures moved eastward with the rain. But a cold wave rolled behind the first respite in weeks of below-normal temperatures.

The mercury was below the average mark in the rest of the country with the exception of Florida. A three-day blizzard in the Rocky mountain area ended and highway and rail traffic returned slowly to normal.

Rain-swollen creeks and rivers overflowed in Tennessee. Shelbyville, with a population of 15,000 persons was isolated when a small river rose eight inches in an hour and spread over one-third of the town.

Evacuation Starts

The Red Cross began evacuation of families at Knoxville, where a flood stage of 10 feet was expected on a creek there. A flood stage of 30 feet was predicted for the Tennessee river at Chattanooga.

Rainfall in the area totalled three to four inches.

The band of freezing rain extended from the Mississippi river through northern Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

Travel by road was snarled. Bus and truck transportation was seriously hampered or curtailed, but railroads at Chicago reported near-normal running times. Air traffic at Detroit was halted. Motorists were asked to exercise extreme caution.

Utilities expected damage to

FREEZE IN PRICES TO BE SOUGHT

Inflation Fight Is Pushed In Britain

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 13 — The board of trade moved today to freeze prices on virtually all consumer goods.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, told Parliament last night the freeze, at December-January levels, would be on manufacturers' ceiling prices and distributors' profits.

Cripps coupled the new effort to arrest the cost of living with a warning to labor and industry to curb wages and profits voluntarily or face government compulsion.

Debate Is Opened

He opened debate in the House of Commons on a labor government proposal to fix wages and incomes voluntary. The program, offered last week in a white paper, has stirred revolt in some powerful British labor unions, backbone of Prime Minister Attlee's regime.

The French government also moved against price boosts. It sent the national assembly in Paris a bill to outlaw all price increases since Jan. 15 not justified by production costs. A lawbreaker could be jailed for a year and put out of business.

Insist On Pay Hike

British unions some 5,000,000 strong have been insisting upon higher pay despite Prime Minister Attlee's hold-the-line plea in last week's government white paper.

Cripps reiterated the appeal for voluntary measures to stem wage and profit rises. Then he asked the House:

"Can we take them in a democratic way by free choice, or are we to demand the imposition of them by force?"

Sir Stafford asked that wage negotiations either be postponed or "conducted in the light of the principles laid down in the white

OOPS, WRONG JOE!

Club Owner Takes Poke At Champion

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (U.P.)—Tom Delaney, a Harlem night club owner, tried to trade punches at 3 a. m. today with a guy named Joe—Joe Louis, that is.

The heavyweight champion was leaving the Ebony club with a party of friends, when Delaney took a few tentative swings at him.

The champion held him at arm's length, winking at his companions.

On the street, Delaney attempted to resume the sparring session, but Louis got into his automobile and sped away.

Police took the six-foot, 200 pound Delaney to a police station, where Lieut. James Giattini told him it was Louis he had challenged.

"Joe Louis," Delaney gasped. "Holy smokes, look me up for protection."

Long Night Of Terror Bared

ELKINS, W. Va., Feb. 13 (U.P.)—When the teacher asked 11-year-old Bonnie Champ why her cousin Beatrice Johnson, 8, was absent from school, the child stammered out. "She's dead. Cousin Denver shot her."

Then she described a night of horror in a tiny mountain home, where double murder and suicide were committed. And she said she lay awake all night beside her cousin's body, afraid to move.

Also Was Wounded

The teacher noticed blood on the child, found she too had been wounded in the shooting spree and sent her to a hospital. Police went to the isolated home to investigate.

They found the body of Mrs. Lydia Johnson, 55, a miner's wife, lying outside the house, four bullets in her body. Inside they found the body of her little granddaughter lying in bed with six bullet wounds, her 17-year-old nephew, Denver Johnson, lay dead where he had killed himself.

Bonnie told hospital authorities

The last bridge death took place a week ago when Albert "Dusty" Rhodes leaped from the bridge in a publicity stunt. The other 90 deaths were suicides.

Food Costs Drop In Lubbock Housewives Of City Save On Their Budget

Leading Items In Local Stores Off 15 To 30 Percent

By A. B. SLAGLE
Journal Staff Writer

Plummeting stock, grain, and livestock prices on the nation's markets, which appeared to be levelling off some today after the Lincoln holiday yesterday, were reflected in lower retail prices, particularly on the food front, and the housewife is paying much less this week than last week for many table items.

Based on advertisements in the Avalanche-Journal, retail prices for some leading table items are off 15 to 30 per cent. These items include bacon, flour, pork chops and sausage, shortening, and butter.

Bacon Prices Down

First grade bacon, which last week sold for 89 cents a pound and has been higher, was 65 cents this week. Second grade bacon, which last week was 59 cents and two weeks ago was 69 cents, was 39 cents today.

Sausage, labeled as pure pork, packed by major companies, showed a smaller decline, from 59 cents to 49, but pork chops prices were more precipiate, dropping from 79 cents last week to 53 cents today.

Shortening was similar to sausage, dropping from $1.39 to $1.14, and butter took about the same trend despite the continuing scarcity. Butter prices are 79 cents today, compared with 90 cents a week ago. Pork lard was at 70 cents compared with 90 the previous week.

Flour In Decline

High patent flour which last week sold for 99 cents on 10-pound sack was 67 cents this week, and the 5-pound bag, which last week was 59 cents was 36 cents today.

Another significant indication of the general trend was prices on cocoa, which this week were down 10 cents from previous weeks.

He Couldn't Believe "Granny" Was Dead

Little Boy Puzzled When Grandmother Doesn't Wake Up From Her Long Sleep

NEW YORK, Feb. 13— The little boy couldn't believe his "Granny" was dead.

He sat on the stairs in the cold house and pulled his thin pajamas around his shivering body.

"Granny went to bed last Thursday and I couldn't wake her up," he explained to police who came to investigate.

Neighbors became suspicious last night when they heard water pouring from frozen and broken pipes in the house where Mrs. Tilly Borman, 70, lived alone with her seven-year-old adopted son, Murray Green.

Police who came to the house received no answer to their knock. They forced the back door and went inside where they found the child huddled on the stairs.

The boy, an orphan, said he had tried for a week to tell his "granny" how cold and hungry he was.

Upstairs, police found Mrs. Borman's body in bed. An ambulance doctor said she apparently died of a heart attack about a week ago.

The boy apparently had been sleeping with Mrs. Borman during

REFUSES TO WITHHOLD LEVIES

Employer To Defy Federal Tax Laws

(By The United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13—Vivien Kellems, Westport, Conn., manufacturer, said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Los Angeles Rotary club today that effective at 4 p. m. EST she "deliberately" would stop withholding federal income taxes from her employes' wages.

"From this day I am not collecting nor paying their income taxes for them," Miss Kellems said. She called for the abolition of the income tax as a substitute for another round of wage increases.

"There are many sincere people who will censure me for breaking the law. Knowing this and having been through one New Deal smear and persecution, I still break this law, deliberately," she said.

She said the taxes were deducted as usual from the paychecks received today by the 100 workers she employs at Westport making steel and copper cable grips. She said a court decision would be necessary before she would do it again.

"If High Tax Harry (President Truman) wants me to get the money for him, then he must appoint me an agent for the Internal Revenue department, he must pay me a salary for my work, and he must reimburse me for my expenses incurred in collecting that debt.

Not A Tax Collector

"I am not a tax collector and if an American citizen can be fined and thrown into prison for not collecting taxes from his workers, then let's know about it now. Let's see what the court has to say about this law—it's not the first one passed in violation of the constitution."

Miss Kellems said she realized she was running a risk, but said that she had discovered that "like all bullies and blood-sucking parasites, those mangy, Communistic bureaucrats are at heart yellow cowards. So no matter what they do, I'm standing on my rights until the court hands down its verdict."

Burglary Loot Is Small Here

Burglary of Sun Ray courts, at 3320 Ave. H, and the theft of $5 in nickels from a cigaret machine and $1 in pennies from a cash register, were reported this morning to police by Jack McLarty, courts manager.

Three Lubbock men who outdistanced a Slaton police officer in their new automobile were arrested when they entered Lubbock by South Ave. A about 2:30 a. m., and were jailed for investigation into their alleged possession of pistols.

Had Two Pistols

They are 22, 26, and 30 years old. The car was said to contain a pair of metal knuckles, a pair of opera glasses, a knife, a .380 Russian Tokarev pistol fully loaded, and a Japanese Nambu 8mm 1914 automatic pistol.

The car belongs to a Big Spring man, and had not been reported stolen, a shortwave police radio check disclosed.

Juvenile officials said they had learned that a horse and saddle found in possession of a 10-year-old Lubbock boy who claimed to have made a "down-payment" of $25 on the property is owned by Bud Roberts, a Lubbock county youth who had tied the horse behind a downtown store.

In Pen Six Times

The district attorney's department said it had been informed by records supplied by the FBI that Willie Roberson, a negro under indictment charging him with burglary and as an habitual criminal, had been to the state penitentiary six times, under total assessments of 14 years for burglary. The latest indictment charged a Jan. 30 break and entering of

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 13 (AP) — Judge Frank T. Echezabal today sentenced George Davis, 28-year-old Texan, to die in the electric chair for the slaying of Cyril Reichert, a Mississippi highway patrolman, several months ago.

Davis was convicted of murder. His electrocution date is not set.

"Death To Americans!" Greek Order

(By The United Press)

SALONIKA, Feb. 13.—Greek guerrilla have been ordered to kill any American military observers found "interfering with operations" on the battlefield, a captured guerrilla political leader who participated in Tuesday's attack on Salonika said today.

The guerrilla, John Fotiades, a staff officer in the Stefamides battalion, said these orders were issued to him in October, 1947, at the Greek guerrilla training camp at Boulkes, Yugoslavia.

Fotiades said he fought with the Greek guerrillas against the Germans in 1944 and 1945. He was taken to Boulkes for political training in September, 1946, and ordered back into Greece a year later.

"Before I left Boulkes I was told: 'You must kill Americans and drive them away because they are the conquerers of Greece'," he said.

"'You must shoot Americans whenever they interfere in operations'."

He sneered, spread his hands and shrugged his shoulders when questioned about Americans, although previously he had answered other questions freely and without expression.

Fotiades was one of 121 guerillas who were captured by the Greek army after they shelled Salonika early Tuesday with a 75 millimeter cannon and several mortars. The captives were marched through the streets of Salonika yesterday in a victory parade

Tragic Victims Are Members Of One Family

Six Bodies Have Been Recovered; 14 Make Escape

(By The Associated Press)

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 13—Eleven members of one family perished today in a fire that swept a two-story frame dwelling in Utica's west side.

Six bodies were recovered by firemen from the smoking ruins. Four were children. One was a woman, clasping an infant.

Victims included Mrs. Ruth Hoage and nine children ranging in age from five months to 19 years.

Fourteen Make Escape

Fourteen scantily clad persons fled from the building, Fire Chief Leo Barry said.

The walls of the long, ramshackle building near the New York Central railroad tracks, collapsed before most of the second floor occupants who had been asleep could get out.

The list of dead, compiled by Capt. Eugene McNally of the fire prevention bureau, included Mrs. Ruth Hoage, 24, and Mrs. Shirley Hoage, 29, and these children:

Virginia, 19; Dana, 3; Mark, eight months; Catherine, two; Geraldine, 10; Audrey, five; Charity, seven; Michael, 11 months, and Lee, five months.

Injured In Hospital

The injured, all in St. Elizabeth's hospital:

Mrs. Ella Paye, 48, critical; Dana Paye, sr., and their daughter, Catherine, 19.

Mary Hoage, 13, who jumped from a second story porch into a snow bank, said other members of her family were huddled in one room waiting for rescue when the building collapsed. Her father, Richard, was at work.

The eleven persons who reached safety without apparent injury stood weeping at the ruins while firemen searched.

Cause Not Determined

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

The Hoage girl said Dana Paye, 16, and Herman Paye, 52, of Sandy Creek, who had been visiting the Paye family, had escaped.

Fortis Sprague, 41, who fled through a first floor window said Henry Alquire, his wife, and two children, Gail, 5, and Dolores, 3, had made their way out.

Mary Hoage gave this account: "I was sleeping with my sister-in-law, Mrs. Shirley Hoage. There

Four Are Reported Killed In Twister

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 13. (AP)—Four persons were reported killed, an undetermined number injured and several homes destroyed today when a "twister" hit east and south of Newton, Miss.

Attaches at Thrash funeral home listed two of the dead as Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Phillips. A third was listed as "a Mrs. Page" whose full name was not available.

A fourth body was reported en route to the funeral home.

The funeral home said a storm, which workers there called a "twister" struck first east and then south of Newton, killing two persons in each vicinity.

They said it cut a swath a quarter mile wide east of Newton, collapsing "a number of homes."

High Pressure Line In Tulsa Explodes

TULSA, Feb. 13 (U.P.)—A high pressure gas line supplying the Tulsa area blew up and caught fire 10 miles south of Oklahoma City today, causing fuel to be shut off from all industrial users here.

D. W. Reeves, general sales manager of the Oklahoma Natural Gas Co. announced at 8:30 a. m. that "industrial users in Tulsa will not have fuel for part of the day." He said residential areas, however, would be served.

The blast and fire apparently were not as serious at the scene as were their consequences here. Reeves said no one was injured, and in Oklahoma City, Tom Sterling, district manager for the gas company, said the break in the 12-inch line had been repaired by 8 a. m.

Schools Face Big Problem

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (U.P.) — American schools—like the old woman who lived in the shoe—have so many children they don't know what to do.

What's more, experts of the U. S. Office of Education figure that things are going to get worse for the next six weeks or longer.

Official announcement that 3,900,000 babies were born last year is giving far-sighted educators new worries. This number considerably exceeds previous estimates for 1947. And it tops by 500,000 the previous record birth of 3,400,000 in 1946.

Something Must Be Done

Dr. John W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education, says this means the country's classrooms will be bursting with pupils in a few years unless something is done—and soon.

He estimates that about 3,666,000 of last year's bumper baby crop will be going to school for the first time in 1953. He figures the public school system will need about 30,000 more first grade teachers and a like number of additional classrooms to get these youngsters property started on their three R's.

But that is only the beginning, as Studebaker sees it. Pupils are staying in school longer, he points out. This means an overall increase in school population which will continue for many years.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Happily Married For Eleven Years, Woman Sees Husband Falling In Love With Best Friend

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: This is an age-old problem and one that I find impossible to face. My husband and I have been very happily married for eleven years and have three children; and now he is falling in love—if he hasn't already done so—with my best friend, who is also happily married and has three children.

He is extremely attractive and always has been so to other women; and I also have always been popular with other men, but this meant nothing to either of us in our married relationship, as we have always been sure of each other, and completely compatible, mentally, physically and spiritually.

Now he is behaving in a manner completely unlike himself. He makes every sort of excuse to see Myra and in her company he behaves in a really adolescent, fatuous way. She is an extremely nice attractive person and this sort of thing is not her usual game, but obviously she is very much attracted by his attentions.

WOULD PROTESTS FUEL ROMANCE?

HER husband appears to be unaware of what is going on, but I find myself in the position of being a "jealous wife." I am terribly in love with John and don't want to be second in his thoughts or emotions. I have tried to be gay and casual about the whole thing so far, but it is hard play-acting and I think he knows I am jealous.

I am confused about what to do. I wonder whether to issue an ultimatum that we shan't see the other couple any more, or whether to close my eyes and hope it is only a temporary infatuation.

I doubt that it would do much good to stop seeing them as a couple, because John sees Myra alone now—for lunch and via frequent calls and stops at her house, and forbidden fruit might become even more tempting. I am badly in need of, and shall be most grateful for, your sane advice.

(Signed) E. B.

TWO WERE LOOKING FOR DIVERTISSEMENT

DEAR E. B.: In a sense, John and Myra are playing the fool just to enliven the erstwhile monotony of placid conjugal happiness which each possesses and takes for granted.

In an entranced sort of way at present, I suppose, they are thinking in terms of having "discovered" each other, and also wondering—and perhaps marveling in confidence—at how they could have been so blind as not to have recognized their supposed affinity on first meeting, at first glance.

What happened to spark their infatuation—the usual preface to this sort of thing—was that their impulses collided and paused, as it were for a "double-take," when each was unconsciously casting about for romantic divertissement on a flirtation-basis with somebody charming (but safe!) of the opposite sex—said divertissement to be the jam on the bread-and-butter of their solid routine domestic contentment.

Now they are emotionally involved to some degee in the mischievous game they started; but beyond that they are getting progressively tangled up in the multiplying tensions which sub rosa intrigue invarjably breeds; and in consequence, infer themselves to be spell-bound by irresistible mutual attraction—a snare-and-delusion that ordinarily develops in triangle escapades, to become a secondary incitation to mounting folly.

PAIR NEEDS JOLT FROM REAL WORLD

IN the circumstances, somebody needs to behave with clear head; and in my opinion, you're elected. Given eyes to see and a grain of sense, how could you miss the implications of what goes on? And why be apologetic about your disturbed awareness? The good relationship you've had with your husband is your dearest treasure; and my advice is to meet the challenge of Myra's tacit piracy in head-on contest.

This isn't being jealous; rather it's being adult and realistic in acting to protect your most vital interests. Talk things out with John, [illegible] your absolute love of him now furrowed by deep distress, and lamenting Myra's coy unscrupulous rivalry—for such it is—and let him know that having his devotion and being his wife are all-important to your happiness.

When he finds himself between two fires, Myra will hear of it, her ingenue pose will go up in smoke, their dream-world romance will crash to a discomfited defensive level, and the game will seem far less worth the candle—since in the all-married triangle, it's not the "forbidden" but rather the [illegible] available that seems most tempting.

Wind Is "Terrific Factor" In South Plains Gas Emergency

Why did a gas shortage develop this week quicker than during the extended sub-freezing period in late January—and what are the possibilities of another gas shortage this winter?

The answer to the first question, said an executive of the gas company, is that wind is a "terrific factor" in the amount of gas used and high wind this week caused a fast drain on gas pressure. "The heat loss when the wind is blowing in this country is very high."

Depends On Weather

The answer to the second depends entirely on the weather. "We will not be able to make improvements necessary until summer," said the gas company spokesman.

The U. S. Weather bureau station was consulted to determine whether another cold siege of proportions sufficient to cause a gas shortage is likely to develop. Twenty-five-year records considered necessary by the weather bureau before average weather conditions can be specified are not available to the station here, since it opened in November, 1946. Forecasts cannot be made for the long period remaining in which a cold wave could develop. If conditions are similar to those last year, there will not be another extended cold period.

February's minimum last year, was 15 degrees, and the minimum this month already has gone to 9 degrees. In March last year, the minimum was 13 degrees and in April, the minimum was 28 degrees.

Effect Of Wind Explained

Elaborating on the importance of wind in effect on gas pressure, C. I. Wall vice president and assistant general manager of the company, said:

During the sandstorm all the windows in a house can be shut and the sand still seeps in. The same is true of high wind such as that occurring this week. With all the windows shut, cold wind still came in, causing residents to keep the gas turned high in order to keep warm.

If cold weather without high wind had been occurring, gas could have been turned low after a few hours and a place normally more gas was saved there would be serious suffering before night—was that the strong wind was causing a heavy pull on gas and the business holiday which was in effect was not stopping the decline in pressure in the same ratio as during the late January emergency.

Pressure did not go as low at any time this week as during the emergency in late January, but was dropping at an alarming rate, more rapid than in January, and could have gone to the point in a relatively short period that gas supplies would not have been sufficient to meet the need for homes and places necessary for health and public welfare.

Company representatives have pointed out that there has not been time since the January emergency for improvements. Ray F. Hinchey, vice president and general manager of the company, last Saturday had announced the company is revising a huge expansion program in an effort to provide "absolute protection" against shortage and enough of the work will be finished before next winter to insure ample gas for the entire area served by the company during cold waves even worse than the January emergency.

Social Is For Senior Class

Thirty-eight members and visitors of the Central Baptist Senior Sunday school class attended a monthly social Thursday night in the home of the teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Crooks, 2602 Twenty eighth.

A birthday motif in the four seasons of the year was carried out in appointments.

Refreshments were served after which a quiet hour was observed. Mrs. Crooks reviewed high points in the lives of several characters in the book of Genesis, using colored pictures to tell of episodes related for Adam, Noah, Abraham Isaac, Jacob and Joseph.

During a business session, Alton Ammons, supervisor of the senior department, appointed a committee to assist in organizing details for the new church library. Ray Irwin, class president, distributed names to the members of their "brothers and sisters" for the next quarter.

Rockefeller Wedding Takes Place Tonight

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 13 (U.P.)—Fabulously wealthy Winthrop Rockefeller and blonde divorcee Mrs. Barbara Sears will be married here tonight after a "love at first sight" romance, and they have set the ceremony for midnight to make sure it is legal.

This exclusive winter resort town where social columns read like the Blue Book hummed with excitement as news of the secretly-planned marriage slippe dout over the diamond-studded grapevine.

Rockefeller, 36-year-old grandson of the late famed John D. Rockefeller, applied for a license to wed the ex-actress Tuesday afternoon at Okeechobee, a tiny fishing village about 60 miles from here.

Florida law requires a three-day waiting period after application for a wedding license, and while Rockefeller's lawyers believed it would be legal for the marriage to take place this afternoon 12 hours after the application was filed, the happy couple decided to wait till midnight to play safe.

Mexican Wheat Crop Increase Reported

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13 (U.P.) — Agriculture Minister Nazario Ortiz Garzia today predicted that Mexico will be growing enough wheat by 1951 to allow cessation of imports of that food commodity.

Ortiz Garza predicted the 1948 wheat harvest will be about 440,000 tons, a sizeable increase over 1947's figure of 360,000 tons.

First Robin Here To Herald Spring

Maybe spring is here, but there must be a mixup somewhere.

An excited citizen, who did not give his name, called at noon to say that "there is a robin on the lawn at Main and Ave. X."

This, he added, is a definite indication of spring, although the weather feels otherwise. He explained it is the nature of the robin to migrate with warmer weather, but fears the winged visitor may be rushing the season.

Possibly there's a housing shortage among birds also, and early arrival counts.

Prediction On Market Denied

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 13 (U.P.) — Robert P. Boylan, chairman of the board of the New York Stock exchange, today denied a quotation attributed to him by the United Press reporter who attended his press conference at the Biltmore hotel.

The quotation which Boylan denied was a prediction attributed to him that markets apparently have started a general decline which would continue for about two years.

Boylan Questioned

Those attending the press conference in addition to Boylan were Homer Vilas, president of the Association of Stock Exchange firms; William E. Huger, of Courts and Co., Atlanta; Jouett Davenport, Atlanta Journal; Haynes McFadden and Willis Johnson, jr., The Southern Banker, Atlanta; Al Kuettner, United Press; and D. D. Hogate, public relations official of the New York Stock exchange.

After Boylan denied the quotation attributed to him, Kuettner gave his office the following memo:

We were questioning Boylan about the drop in commodity prices. I asked Boylan why the commodity markets had a severe break last week and he explained it was due to government action in getting out of the wheat program, good crops and buyer resistance.

"I asked him if he thought the trend would lead to anything serious and he said no. I asked him how long he thought the trend would continue.

"In reply he referred to a prediction he had previously made that the break in commodities was coming and my notes show he said the down-trend would last about two years when prices would level off at a somewhat lower figure than they are now."

Boylan denied he said the down-trend would last about two years.

Peddy said a committee from Tenaha had invited him to open his campaign there.

Peddy said he plans to carry his campaign to each of Texas' 254 counties.

Correspondent Tells Story Of Ministers And How They Saved A Seaman From Death

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—Did you ever hear how Abraham Lincoln gave a gold watch to a native missionary for saving an American seaman from being eaten by South Sea cannibals?

This little-known story is better remembered in Honolulu than in Washington. Wilmon Menard tells it in the current issue of "Natural History," magazine of the American Museum of Natural History.

Sailor Moves In

The scene was the island of Hiva-Oa in the Marquesesas group below the Pacific equator. A Peruvian crew shelled this green paradise, landed, ravished the women and seized many native men for labor in the mines of Peru.

The cannibal tribes swore to get revenge by putting on their bill of fare the next white sailors to land.

Later an American whaler hove to offshore. Hearing of the remarkable beauty of the Polynesian girls, First Mate Jonathan Whalon rowed in.

The merry cannibals locked their arms in his, told him the prize beauties lived further up the valley—away from the island's mission station.

Whalon—neither the first nor the last American wolf to fall for this bait—went along cheerfully. As soon as they were out of sight the cannibals trussed him up and threw him before a stone altar.

Vegetarians Tell

As the faggots were piled, word was spread around that the menu for the day would be good old "Puaka Enata," which can only be translated as "Long-Pig."

Some vegetarians on the island, however, ran to the native missionary, James Kekela, and snitched:

"A white man is about to be roasted."

The Rev. Alexander Kaukau, Hawaiian associate of Kekela, meanwhile had got in touch with Mato, the cannibal chieftain, but failed to dissuade him from his program for solving the tourist problem.

Heedless of personal peril, Kekela dressed up in his Sunday best. Carrying only a Bible, he and the Rev. Kaukau went to the cannibal's outdoor kitchen. They arrived just in time. Under the angry gaze of the natives, Kekela boldly strode up to the terrified sailor, knelt, and prayed over him.

Chief Mato was overawed by Kekela's Sabbath finery. But he refused to call off the barbecue until the missionary offered to give him his own boat and another friend promised him a gun.

Thus was spared Jonathan Whalon, the man who came for romance and almost stayed for dinner. When his ship returned to America, the story of his novel rescue reached President Lincoln.

Lincoln promptly sent $500 to the U. S. Minister in Honolulu to buy gold watches for both Kekela and the Rev. Kaukau.

Lincoln Buys Gifts

In a simple and eloquent letter of gratitude, Kekela wrote:

"Ah! I greatly honor your interest in this countryman of yours, it is, indeed, in keeping with all I have known of your acts as President of the United States."

Robert Louis Stevenson, who loved the natives and thought the white man's civilization a curse to them, once saw Kekela's letter and said:

"I do not envy the man who can read it without emotion."

In time the gold watch became battered as the proud Kekela beat it against his pulpit, exhorting his people to give up eating the "Puaka Enata" forever.

The watch now belongs to the Hawaiian Mission Children's society in Honolulu. Inside the case is this inscription in Hawaiian:

"From the President of the United States to Rev. J. Kekela for his noble conduct in rescuing an American citizen from death on the island of Hiva-Oa, January 14, 1864."

Your share, $1,782,472,718

For your livestock and your dairy and poultry products, soybeans, cottonseed, etc. . . . you ranchers and farmers of America received in 1947 almost thirty billion dollars, a new high.

Out of that amount, $1,782,472,718 came to you from Swift & Company in payment for the products you sold to us. Of every dollar that we took in from the sale of our products, we paid to you an average of 79.3¢ for your products.

Together we are doing a big, vital job of helping feed millions of families in America and in many foreign lands. Neither of us can do that job without the other. Since we are in this together and dependent upon each other, we feel that you have an interest in knowing how we have handled our end of this "joint operation." This page is our way of telling you. It shows you how we handled, in 1947, our business of processing and marketing. It shows how much money we took in, where it went to, and what services we performed to earn our 1¢ profit per dollar of sales.

HOW SWIFT'S DOLLAR WAS DIVIDED

79.3 Cents to Producers—Swift & Company, during 1947, returned to millions of producers of agricultural products an average of 79.3 cents out of each dollar received from sales. We provide a daily cash market for your livestock, dairy, poultry and other products.

9.7 Cents to Employes—In 1947, Swift's 73,000 employes earned $217,072,169 in wages and salaries, or an average of 9.7 cents out of each dollar of Swift sales. It takes many skilled people to process livestock and other raw agricultural products into Swift's quality foods.

3.8 Cents for Supplies—Last year, out of each dollar of sales, Swift spent an average of 3.8 cents, or a total of $86,005,885, on supplies of all kinds—mountains of salt and sugar; trainloads of boxes, barrels, other containers; miles of twine, tons of paper; fuel, electricity, etc.

1.8 Cents for Transportation—Swift's transportation bill was $41,053,244 in 1947, or an average of 1.8 cents of each sales dollar. Approximately ¾ of the livestock is produced west of the Mississippi River, ¾ of the meat is eaten east of it. Swift service bridges this average 1,000-mile gap between America's producers and consumers.

1.3 Cents for Taxes—Our total tax bill in 1947 was $25,915,888. This averaged 1.3 cents out of each dollar Swift received for the products it sold. In addition to federal taxes, Swift & Company paid taxes during 1947 in each of the 48 states, and in hundreds of municipalities where the company owns plants or other property.

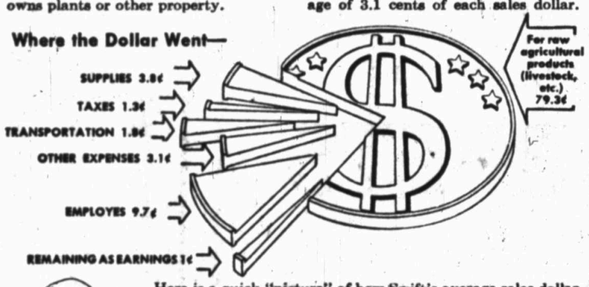

3.1 Cents for Other Expenses—Among other necessary business costs are depreciation, interest, employe benefits, sales promotion, rent, research, insurance, development of new products, advertising, stationery, postage, telephone, telegraph, passenger travel, etc. These necessary expenses took an average of 3.1 cents of each sales dollar.

1 Cent as Earnings—The Company's 1947 net earnings were $22,334,977, after provision of $12,000,000 for high cost additions to fixed assets. This represents an average of only 1 cent of each sales dollar. Swift & Company is owned by 64,000 stockholders, whose savings provide the money for capital, plants, equipment, tools and raw materials. Of the net earnings, the stockholders received $12,436,612 in dividends. The balance has been kept in the company as a reserve for future needs of the business.

Where the Dollar Went—

Here is a quick "picture" of how Swift's average sales dollar was divided in 1947. Smallest slice is Swift & Company's net earnings for many essential services in the processing and marketing of the agricultural products you produce. It averaged a fraction of a cent a pound on the millions of pounds handled.

How We EARN Our Profit

In addition to providing a market for livestock and many other agricultural products, Swift performs many essential services for producers and consumers. Most people can't go to farms to buy their meat—neither can retail dealers. Swift brings the meat to them. We have been doing this big, necessary job for 62 years, efficiently and economically.

Here are the services Swift & Company performs to earn its small profit:

1) We buy livestock and many other products that farmers and ranchers raise; then process and distribute them.
2) We process, brand, and perform all the many necessary operations to prepare our products for market and consumption.
3) We utilize all by-products. Every part that can be used is processed and sold in various forms. The income from this source increases the price of livestock to producers, decreases the cost of meat to consumers.
4) Our research finds new uses and new markets for farmers' and ranchers' products.
5) Our Martha Logan experimental kitchens test foods under home conditions, so that Swift products may give consumers the greatest possible satisfaction and value per dollar.
6) We pay transportation charges on our finished products, delivering them to dealers in all parts of the United States. This makes a broad, nationwide market instead of a limited local market for the products of livestock producers.
7) We provide employment and a livelihood—good wages, good working conditions and security—for 73,000 people who work for Swift & Company.

Our earnings for all this were one cent on each dollar of sales.

Conservation of Our Land Resources

by H. H. Kildee, Dean of Agriculture
Iowa State College

H. H. Kildee

During recent years we have become increasingly conscious of the importance of conserving our land resources. Accordingly, we have initiated conservation programs and practices which are sound and logical. Such action was and is urgently needed, not alone for the current generation, but as an obligation to generations yet unborn. As one result of the programs adopted, much land (which because of its character and slope was being destroyed by erosion) has been turned back to grass. Thus, expanding livestock production has become an increasingly important part of the program of conserving our natural resources.

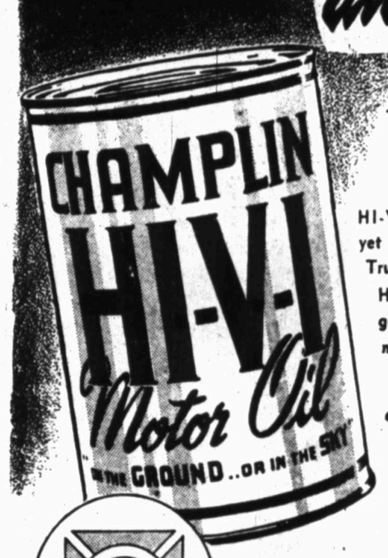

Continual sale of crops off a farm or ranch results in serious loss of plant food. But the maintenance of plant food elements in the soil is urgently needed if our crop land is to continue to provide adequate quantities of human food. Livestock farming is helping accomplish this. For when land is used for grazing, rather than for crops, soil erosion ceases and the unnecessary loss of plant foods is checked.

Henderson, James Cop Gloves Bouts

WILL ROGERS COLISEUM, FORT WORTH, Feb. 13.—Two more Lubbock Golden Gloves fighters will make their 1948 ring debuts here tonight, seeking two additional team points to add to those posted by team mates with victories in the first two nights of the 12th annual state tournament.

Frank Telles, the lightweight, and Lonnie Balch, the middleweight, see their first state tourney battle action tonight, and they will have to put steam behind their punches if they match the performances put on here last night by Lubbock's two winners, Bill Henderson, featherweight, and Gene James, the heavyweight.

Knockout By Henderson

Henderson, punching harder and oftener and faster, leveled Howard Van Sickle of San Antonio, for a knockout in the first round to continue defense of his state feather title with triumph number two in the annual Gloves meet.

James, slower and more cautious than during his one appearance here in the Lubbock-Amarillo inter-regional bouts, drummed out a decision over Tech Sgt. Relius Broussard of Camp Hood and Temple. The Lubbock heavy clinched it with a knockdown in the third round, and had his man "on the spot," set for the kill, when the round ended.

Have Four Points

Lubbock's fighters now have four points toward the state team championship on first night triumphs by Henderson and J. D. Kirkpatrick, and on wins scored last night by Henderson and James. Each bout won counts a point toward the team title.

Henderson, James and Kirkpatrick rest tonight while Telles and Balch take over the tasks of piling up team points.

Telles, back to his usual sharpness, and with his right again packing the wallop which won him two fights in the Lubbock regional, will tangle with Weldon Arbuckle of Wichita Falls. It's the first time out in pursuit of state Golden Gloves honors for both these fighters, and neither knows any too much about the other's style.

Faces Tough Bout

Balch, as is his usual luck, goes into the ring against one of the state's toughest middleweights, Defending Champion Tommy Barron of Dallas. The Lubbock boy looked good during yesterday's workout. His punches appeared to carry plenty of sting and his timing was down to perfection.

The second night's fighting in this four-night tournament was featured by three knockouts and eight technical knockouts. Two defending champions, Charlie Simmons, the heavyweight, and Jack Woodruff, welterweight, both of Dallas, continued successful defense of their crowns.

Simmons, meeting Lou Haddad of Corpus Christi, did much clowning, got himself knocked down in the third round, then hammered out a TKO.

Tech Lamb Feeding Day Is Cancelled

The lamb feeding day at Texas Technological college, scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 14, at which time the farmers and ranchers of this area had been invited to the college to observe the lamb feeding project being carried on there has been cancelled, W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture announced Thursday.

The day would have marked the conclusion of the lamb feeding project which is for the purpose of determining the relative values of Plainsman milo and Martin milo for fattening lambs, finding the value of shelter during the fattening period and determining the value of allowing fattening lambs to harvest Plainsman milo.

Due to the inclement weather, the project has been held up considerably and because of this and the poor traveling conditions it was decided to cancel plans for the lamb feeding day, Dean Stangel said.

More American automobiles are purchased in South Africa than in any other country in the world.

FORT WORTH — They're still talking about the most brazen holdup since the days of the Great Train Robbery, the decision Wednesday night that took away what some sportswriters and fans thought was an obvious victory from Earl C. Pollard in the welterweight division. A crowd of 3,884 paid spectators watched Pollard apparently take a wide margin over the defending chapion, Jack over the defending champion, Jack and a referee virtually give the decision to the Dallas puncher.

The clever-stepping Lubbock fighter piled up points galore in the first two rounds and, if you want to split hairs with a honed razor, he dropped the third round by the thinnest possible margin. When the decision was announced, the booing was genuine, prolonged and well-directed.

Lubbock had the biggest complaint of the evening, but the Amarillo group could well have set up a first class beef over the decision giving Tom Adams the fight from Clifford Bradley. The Golden Sandie end showed the same fine boxing skill he used against J. D. Kirkpatrick in Lubbock and had Adams in trouble in the first two rounds. Adams, the defending champion, came back strong in the final canto, although he looked far from the champ on basis of form. The answer to both the Pollard and Bradley fights is that the challenger, unless he scores a knockout, is not supposed to win.

Going down into the lobby for lunch Thursday we met Rev. Howard Johnson of Fort Worth, formerly a pastor in San Antonio and our Protestant chaplain in the First Air Task force overseas. It was the first time we had seen him since March, 1945. He introduced "Punk" Smith of Fort Worth, a former athlete active in church athletics.

Punk said that he was interested in athletics, even though the fact that his doctor warned him to stay away from such events. Despite the warning, he continues to follow baseball closely and football, although he has little interest in boxing. Baseball is his first love and he continues to follow players and teams closely.

The former semi-pro player from Fort Worth recalled that he took Rogers Hornsby, the immortal National league player, on his first road trip. Punk says it jokingly, adding that the Rajah was batboy for the church baseball team at the time. Punk said that whenever he is in Chicago, or Hornsby in Fort Worth, they get together and swap baseball tales.

The roundup — Bill Henderson, always a gentleman out of, and in the ring, has a most of friends in the boxing fraternity. He greeted old associates in the hotel lobby and, when he entered the ring Wednesday night, drew a big round of applause. He stood calmly in his corner, smiling and waving to sportswriter friends, as well as judges and other officials. . . . Pollard's wife and sister, Hester, a beautiful red-haired girl, came over from Dallas for the fight Wednesday and spent the day Thursday. They didn't have any desire to remain for the other fights, after Earl dropped out. . . . Gene James' father also is in town for the fights, watching quietly from the sidelines, but pulling for his boy.

J. D. Kirkpatrick drew a gasp from the crowd with his quick knockout of Williams in the second round. The short right was so fast and so unexpected that it took the spectators by surprise and they didn't realize the power in that blow. Actually, the boy's eyesight was paralyzed until 2 a. m. from the strength behind the punch. J. D. said that he knew he had connected, for he felt it up between his finger joints through the gloves . . . Frank Telles Thursday afternoon was up to 141 pounds, feeling strong, but not as fast as when he fought as a welter. Bert Kahn feels that he still has the power to win a lot of fights . . . Few big college coaches are here, with Dell Morgan the top name present. The absence of the others is hard to explain . . . The grapevine says that Joe Smith may remain at Tech as assistant football coach instead of playing pro ball . . . The fights are beautifully handled here, with each succeeding pair of fighters in the ring before the others have left. In fact, it sounded like Kirkpatrick was being booed Wednesday night when actually the crowd was venting its dislike of Charlie Simmons, the Dallas heavyweight champ, who was crawling through the ropes as J. D. left the ring.

Race Is Close In Valley Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

HARLINGEN, Tex., Feb. 13 — Veteran campaigners Jimmy Demaret and Clayton Heafner led the way today as a field of 105 moved into the second round of the $10,000 Lower Rio Grande valley open.

Sixty spots in the final 36-hole battle for the money were on the line and the race was as close as a new girdle. Twenty-nine crack shots who bettered 35-36—71 par over the Harlingen municipal course's 6,045-yards yesterday were within a range of five strokes.

Two 65's Posted

Demaret, the links troubador from Ojai, Calif., and Heafner, the big blond from Charlotte, N. C., whittled par by six blows apiece as they came in with brilliant 65's. Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., who hasn't been getting any of the cash and glory this year, was just one stroke back while three more professionals were tied at 67. They were Ky Laffoon of St. Andrews, Ill.; Otto Greiner of Baltimore and Stewart (Skip) Alexander of Mid-Pines, N. C.

A whole flock of pros were in the 68 class—nine to be exact. They were Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va.; Dave Douglas, Wilmington, Del.; Ed Furgol, Detroit; Al Smith, Winston Salem, N. C.; Frank Strazza, Greenwich, Conn.; Lawson Little, Cleveland; E. J. Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., and Llovd Mangrum, Chicago.

Locke Withdraws

One of the top money-winners and gallery favorites was missing as the tournament hot-shots entered the second 18 holes. Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, turned in a 75—his second worst round of the year—and then withdrew because of sore ahnds. Locke said he hurt his hands drivin goff rubber mats at the Texas open in San Antonio, something to which he was not accustomed.

A cold wave which struck here yesterday morning was to continue but a slight moderation was expected with possible rain during the afternoon.

A feature of the first round was a hole-in-one by Gene Webb, Springfield, Mo., professional. It came on the 160-yard second hole and was the fourth in his golfing career. It didn't help him much, however. He still took a three-over-par 74.

Not a single amateur was among the first 29. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., shot an even par 71 to tie for thirtieth place.

Bears In SWC Lead By Win Over Texas

(By The Associated Press)

It was all Baylor in the Southwest conference basketball race today.

The Bears knocked defending champion Texas out of the undefeated ranks and a share of the lead last night, 48-39, to move within three games of a perfect conference season and the championship.

Don Heathington's deadly shooting accounted for exactly half of Baylor's score, while Texas' speedy sharp-shooter Slater Martin was held to eight and Tom Hamilton garnered only nine. Al Madsen paced Texas' scoring with 11 points.

The result left the Bears with nine straight conference victories, put Texas in second place with a five and one record and shoved Arkansas into third.

Two conference games are scheduled today, but they mean very little in the championship race.

Arkansas is host to Texas Christian at Fayetteville, Ark., in the first of a two-game series and Rice plays Texas A. & M. at College Station.

GAME SET TONIGHT

Lubbock Boys club basketball team will meet a quintet from the Lubbock chapter of Demolays at 7 o'clock tonight at the Boys club, 2323 Avenue K, it was announced this morning. The club will be opened today at 3:45, John Wilson, said.

Abernathy, Sundown, Levelland And Sudan Wind Up Campaign

Abernathy and Sundown High school basketball teams will meet in Texas Tech gym Tuesday night in a game which will determine the second place winner in District 4-A's south zone.

Both teams were listed as early favorites in the south zone race, but Tahoka High school's Bulldogs, gaining poise and punch as the campaign progressed, finished out front as the winner with only one loss.

Sundown High's Roughnecks fashioned that triumph over the Bulldogs, a two-point margin win, while Abernathy was not near so fortunate against Coach Jake Jacobs' Tahoka five. The Bulldogs took both their loop frays with Coach Purvis' Abernathy Antelopes.

Abernathy and Sundown have each lost three conference games O'Donnell came through with a mild upset to down the Antelopes in O'Donnell Abernathy has previously beaten Sundown.

All plans hinged on the outcome of the Abernathy-Post game which is scheduled for Friday night. If weather doesn't permit the teams to play this postponed game in Abernathy Friday night the standings would be unchanged.

The one game playoff will determine which, Abernathy or Sundown, accompanies Tahoka into the District 4-A championship tournament against Sudan and Levelland in the north zone.

Date and site of the tournament will be decided during a Saturday afternoon meeting of school officials from Sudan, Levelland, Tahoka, Abernathy and Sundown, beginning at 2 p. m.

LEVELLAND, SUDAN TO BATTLE TONIGHT

LEVELLAND, Feb. 13 (Special) —Wintry weather just doesn't mean a thing when Levelland and Sudan have a basketball duel on tap.

Meaning that, come what will in the way of frigid weather, the Levelland High school Lobos and the Sudan high Hornets feel duty bound to carry out their schedule, and meet here in a Friday-the-13th duel which winds up their part in the District 4-A cage campaign.

Both Are "In"

Both Lobos and Hornets have, to this point, clinched the one-two spots in the north zone, but where rivalry is as regular as it is in that area the schools, the coaches, the players, and fandom all want to know "who won it."

Levelland will still go into the District 4-A championship tournament next week should Sudan's unbeaten Hornets hand them another backset. The Lobos lost their only conference game to these Hornets early, much earlier in the season by six points. The last time they tangled Levelland narrowed the margin to two points.

If the Lobos should trip Sudan in Levelland Friday night then these two rivals will go into the district tourney co-holders of the north zone championship.

In the south zone, from which annually come two teams to meet the north zone fives in tournament play to determine the pair of quintets to represent District 4-A in the regional meet at Canyon, Tahoka high is the winner. Abernathy and Sundown must play off for the runnerup spot.

Mack Signs York

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics lifted Rudy York out of the American league discard today—with the approval of his future teammates.

Assistant Manager Earle Mack disclosed that the A's had polled several players before offering the onetime Detroit slugger a contract. He said this was done to insure there would be no resentment that might impair club morale.

And, Mack added, "everyone on the club is glad he is coming with us. We're going to move up higher in the standings."

York thought so too. At his Cartersville, Ga., home, Big Rudy said he is "very pleased to be with the A's. They have a good ball club and should finish one-two-three."

1-AA Race Is Nearing Close

One of the final shots of the nearly completed District 1-AA cage race will be fired at Brownfield tonight when the Lubbock High Westerners battle the winless, but always dangerous, Cubs.

The cold weather and gas shortage have resulted in some doubt as to whether or not the game will be played, but last night officials said the tussle was still scheduled "as far as we know." Lubbock High Mentor Harvey Dunn reported that he has not been notified of any cancellation and that he plans to take a full squad to the Terry county city this afternoon for the district clash and a "B" team encounter.

Hold Third Place

The Westerners hold third place in the conference chase and are driving determinedly toward the runner-up post. A victory over the Cubs tonight, combined with a Pampa defeat by Plainview or Amarillo, would give the Lubbock crew a deadlock for the second spot.

The Brownfield five is the "tough luck" quint of the district, having failed to register a victory during the 1948 season. The Cubs have pressed some of the top teams in several tussles, including Pampa and Plainview, but have always failed to clinch the win. The Cubs have been erratic in district competition showing a potent offense in one tussle and ragged play in the next game.

Coach Dunn plans to start his regular five in tonight's clash, with Virgil Johnson and Jack Alderson at forward posts, Bob Schmidt at center and Charles Galey and Billy Max Henry at guards.

MEET IS POSTPONED

A West Texas Pro Amateur Golf association meet, scheduled to open in Big Spring today, has been postponed indefinitely because of unfavorable weather, Morgan Hampton, program chairman, announced from Abilene last night.

Sun Devils Defeat Raiders, 55 To 53

Texas Tech's scrappy Red Raider cagers, battling desperately to stay near the top of the Border conference basketball title chase, face another Arizona foe tonight when they play host to the highly-rated Lumberjacks from Arizona State of Flagstaff at 7 o'clock tonight in Tech gym.

The Lumberjacks won two home games last weekend, defeating the New Mexico Aggies and New Mexico university, but were defeated last night by the West Texas state Teachers college Buffs at Canyon. The 'Jacks boast one of the best scoring machines in the loop, with rangy Wayne See and Larry Baroldy as the point-making specialists, and should be one of the roughest tests of the season for the Tech quint.

Sun Devils Win

Center Ed Long's three net-swishing set shots in the final 90 seconds of play earned the Sun Devils of Arizona State at Tempe a narrow 55-53 Border conference cage victory over the Red Raiders Thursday night at the Tech gym.

A capacity crowd of Tech students and Lubbock fans cheered wildly as the Raiders surged from behind late in the tussle to deadlock the count at 49-49, then saw the rangly Long connect with the game-winning field goals from far out toward the center stripe. The defeat was Tech's fourth in conference play, against five victories, and dropped the Raiders far behind the loop-leading Arizona university Wildcats.

Grove Meshes 21

Big Don Grove set a sizzling scoring pace for the Techsans, copping individual honors for the tilt with 21 points on eight field goals and five charity tosses. Guard Verl Heap topped the visiting Sun Devils with a total of 17 points on eight field goals and a single free throw.

In the initial tilt on the program last night the potent Wayland college Pioneers from Plainview, paced by the deadly shooting accuracy of D. W. Harkins and Leon Burch, blasted the Tech freshmen, 56-39. The Pioneers battled to a slender 23-18 halftime margin, then stepped up the pace in the final period to coast to the win. Rangy Verdell Turner topped the Tech frosh with 13 points on six field goals and a charity throw.

GOP "Social" Laws Stalled

BY FRED W. PERKINS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13—Republicans in Congress are taking their time in advancing new social legislation.

This is despite forecasts of some leaders that laws of this type would be pushed to the forefront this session because it is an election year and a counteracting influence is needed to union contentions that the Taft-Hartley act is a "slave labor law."

With six weeks of this session gone, no "social" legislation is anywhere near a vote in either House. Committees in most cases have not acted.

Hearings Delayed

Extension of the social security system, for example, has not been touched by the House Ways and Means committee. More than a hundred bills dealing with many aspects of the subject are on the committee calendar but Chairman Harold Knutson (R., Minn.) has made no move for hearings.

The Senate finance committee, also has not scheduled social security hearings, but it has an advisory committee at work and it may make recommendations in March. Principal members are Edward R. Stettinius, jr., former Secretary of State, and Professor Sumner Schlieter of Harward university.

Many bills to raise the minimum wage of 40 cents an hour under the Fair Labor Standards act have been introduced in both branches. The Senate Labor committee headed by Senator Robert A. Taft (R., O.,) has done nothing about them yet, but a House Labor subcommittee headed by Rep. Samuel K. McConnell, jr., (R., Pa.,) has completed a long series of hearings.

Wage Raise Likely

There is a good chance that Congress will vote, probably in this session, to raise the minimum wage to 65 cents. But Mr. McConnell sees need for some "clarifications" in the law, and union leaders are expected to charge attempted emasculation.

Another labor-backed proposal that is given a fair chance of enactment would establish an "extension service" in the Labor department. This would operate through colleges and universities, giving instruction to union members and others on collective bargaining, industry problems and labor and social legislation. Senators Elbert D. Thomas (D., Utah) and Wayne Morse (R., Ore.,) the sponsors, want $10 million for the first year of operation.

Hearings on this proposal will start Monday before the Senate committees.

The "anti-discrimination" bill has strong Republican backing, but is expected to run into the usual determined filibuster by southern Senators.

HAD FRESH EGGS

Empress Carlotta, of Mexico, fearing death after her return to Belgium, would eat nothing but eggs laid in her presence. She kept a flock of hens in her hotel suite.

About 42 per cent of the available commercial timber in the United States is publicly owned.

WHEN IT'S ROUNDUP TIME IN WINTER—Roundup time takes on a new slant as ranch hands haul a frozen steer across the ice on a lake near Pueblo, Colo. Eighty-two Hereford steers, valued at $10,000, broke through the ice, quickly downed and froze. Workmen retrieved some of the frozen carcasses, right background. The cattle is said to be unfit for dressing and eating because exteriors froze, forcing body heat inward and causing instant spoilage.

Mother Would Aid Murderer

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13. (AP)—Mrs. Marie Conn says she will do anything she can to help 15-year-old Tommy Marsh who, police say, admitted that he shot and killed her daughter, Dolores (Patsy) Conn, 16.

"I can't believe he shot Pat intentionally," the grief-stricken mother said last night. "I love Tommy and I'll do anything I can to help him."

Juvenile Officer C. W. Lillywhite said yesterday Marsh signed a written statement admitting that he shot his schoolgirl sweetheart in a fit of jealousy.

Signs Confession

The youth, booked on suspicion of murder, previously had told police the shooting in the girl's home Monday was accidental.

Lillywhite said that Marsh broke down when told that blood spots on a sofa where the body was found contradicted his original story.

Lillywhite quoted the youth as saying:

"All right, I'll tell you. I killed her. She started talking about this guy (her former boy-friend). I guess I saw red and I shot her. She talked about other guys all the time."

Allison Funeral Is To Be Held Sunday

Funeral services for Joe Allison, 73, of Lubbock, resident of this vicinity since 1910 who died unexpectedly Thursday afternoon, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock in First Church of the Nazarene, Fourteenth and Ave. Q, with Rev. Albert F. Laing, pastor, officiating.

Sanders Funeral home will direct burial in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mr. Allison died at the home of his son, Alvis Allison, about four miles southwest of Lubbock.

He had been working as a night watchman and sleeping during the day, it was reported. When a member of the family went to wake him shortly before 4:30 p.m., he was found apparently lifeless in his bed. He was dead upon arrival of the physician. Cause of death was believed to be due to a heart attack, although he had suffered no previous attacks to the family's knowledge.

His wife died several years ago.

Survivors include a son, Alvis of Lubbock; one daughter, Mrs. Voda Yarbrough, Albuquerque, N. M.; six adopted daughters, Mrs. O. A. Mayberry of Willows, Calif., Mrs. Henry Elmore of Dickens, Mrs. Henry Culbert of Clovis, N. M., and Mrs. Fannie King, Mrs. Albert Grace and Mrs. Wesley Hickson, all of Matador; four adopted sons, Dell and John Fulfer of Clovis, N. M., Preston Fulfer, Fayetteville, Ark., and Lester Fulfer, Novice; one brother, Mack Allison, Mineral Wells; three sisters, Mrs. C. A. Hunt of Stephenville, Mrs. Rich Gordon of Favens, and Mrs. Linnie Johnson, Oklahoma City, Okla.; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Fair And Warmer Is New Mexico Forecast

(By The United Press)

Temperatures slowly started an upward climb today following a three-day cold wave that closed many schools, blocked roads, and brought sub-zero weather to northern New Mexico.

The storm moved out of the southeastern portion of the state after travelling down from the northwest and leaving a wide belt of snow and ice in its wake.

Temperatures sank to 18 degrees below zero at the height of the storm yesterday in northern New Mexico. Albuquerque had a reading of one degree below, the coldest Feb. 12 in 5 years.

Only one death was attributed to the storm that sometimes reached blizzard-like proportions. Near Clayton, Ben Davis, 55, was found frozen to death in a snow bank. Sheriff Claude Goodson said that Davis' automobile had evidently stalled and the rancher tried to reach a friend's house.

The U. S. Weather bureau reported that skies would be clear in most sections of the state and the weekend would see a gradual warming up of the entire state.

Rites Saturday For Former School Head

HALE CENTER, Feb. 13 (Special)—Funeral services will be read at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Hale Center Church of Christ for W. G. Sears, 69, superintendent of schools here several years before he entered insurance business. Death was late Thursday.

Rev. Joe Bangs will officiate. Burial will be in Hale Center cemetery.

Sears, a resident of Hale Center since 1918, is the grandfather of Army All-American grid star Glen Davis.

Survivors include his wife and five daughters, Mrs. Ralph Davis of Claremont, Calif., Mrs. Fred Alexander of Fort Worth, Mrs. Al Harwood of La Verne, Calif., Mrs. Inez King of Plainview, and Mrs. Nick Alley, jr., of Hale Center.

Whammy, Whammy, Whammy—It May Get You In A Jammy

Today is Friday—the 13th—so watch your step! All the jinxes, gremlins, imps and bogies in the world are out to put the whammy on you. Don't walk under a ladder—especially if there's an absent-minded painter up on it with a bucket of paint.

And don't touch a mirror—if you do, sure as shootin' you'll bust it and end up doing seven years behind the eight-ball, with no time off for good behavior.

You'd be better off facing up to an angry lion than to allow yourself to get within jinxing-distance of a black cat.

Another pitfall to guard against is jay-walking. You may get away with it all year, but on Friday, the 13th—beware! And stay bewared.

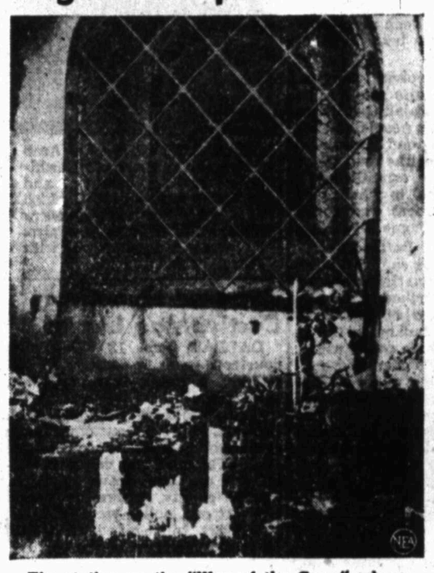

Certain gestures are considered unlucky. Typical of these is shaking a fist under a cop's nose. Come to think of it, the danger attached to this isn't confined to Friday, the 13th.

Finally, when walking with your girl friend don't let any object, such as a lamppost or another man separate you.

Pilgrims Report 'Miracle' Cures Where Luxembourg Children 'Saw' The Virgin Mary

The station on the "Way of the Cross" where Virgin Mary is said to have first appeared.

Milly Winandy, right and Jean Denter lie on the ground, say a rosary and await a vision.

Amazing cures have been claimed by pilgrims who have visited the area in Luxembourg where three school children reported they saw visions of the Virgin Mary. The place is the fourth station of a "Way of the Cross" in the forest between the village of Kayl and a chapel called "The Miner's Grotto." The children, Milly Winandy, 10, and her two cousins, Jean and Nicole Denter, go into trances; they are said to lose consciousness for about an hour after they see "The Lady." Authorities have examined them and judged them perfectly normal. A Swiss doctor is donating money to build a chapel on the site.

Milly Winandy, at left, center, and Jean Denter beside her, finger rosaries as they lead pilgrims through the forest to the "miracle" site. There all will pray for another vision of the Virgin Mary.

Business Club Hears Wayland President

Wayland college at Plainview has embarked on an educational program aimed at creating better international good will and understanding in the training of students for diplomatic work, Dr. J. W. (Bill) Marshall, Wayland president, said in a talk at the luncheon of the American Business club at the Hilton hotel today noon.

Dr. Marshall cited instances of where better relations by Americans abroad created better good will for our country.

"It is highly important we carefully select the right young people to go abroad," Dr. Marshall said. He said choice young people were being selected for such training in the program at Wayland.

Prior to his talk, Sam Allen, member of the Wayland faculty, sang two songs, accompanied at the piano by Miss Eulalia Burk.

Dr. Marshall was introduced by J. A. Fortenberry.

property controlled by W. A. Conwell of Lubbock.

Police said a 29-year-old Lubbock negro was being held for investigation into theft. Night patrolmen had received a radio call to go to an oil mill. The night manager said the suspect had gone there and asked the manager to call a cab for him. The manager, instead, called police because the black had been loitering there and upsetting the work schedule of mill employes, and because he had a quantity of canned goods in his pockets.

Local Prices

lower butter market as not stabilized because of the continuing shortage of butterfat, but there was no indication that other items were not taking a normal course with the downward trend in markets generally.

Prices Continue Strong

Prices paid to the farmer and other producers for butterfat continued strong in wholesale markets here. One major buyer posted 88 cents a pound today, and said there is no immediate indication of a drop. It was explained that many small producers have disposed of dairy cows due to high feed costs and the formerly high prices for animals, and that the volume of production is far under the average.

Feed prices also trended downward except in cases of some concentrates, such as cottonseed meal and soybean meal, which were off some but not precipitately like some other items. Animal proteins, such as fish oil and similar concentrates, were holding steady.

Mill feeds, like bran and shorts were off about $1 a hundred pounds from the highs attained recently, and commercial mixed feeds for poultry and livestock were 25 to 30 a hundred lower than last week.

Alfalfa Remains Steady

Alfalfa remained about steady, due partly to a short crop, with prices running around $45 to $47.50 per ton. Sources said bundle feed was not down in proportion to concentrates.

Cottonseed meal, which has been retailing here for more than $5 a hundred pounds, and is 50 to 60 cents higher in eastern New Mexico, showed a downward trend.

It appeared that business generally welcomed the declining prices along with the housewife and other consumers, feeling that much benefit will come from lower prices if they level off generally at some reasonable figure.

At least the housewife is happy over the fact that the grocery budget will reach much further this week than last.

Drive For Soldier Bonus Is Underway

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 (U.P.)—A small group of University of Texas students were embarked today on a program to obtain state-wide support of a soldier bonus from student veterans and push its enactment by the 51st Legislature next spring.

Thirty-five veterans last night at the university heard Rep. Roger Q. Evans of Denison, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, warn that bonus advocates face "corporate greed interests" in any campaign for a bonus.

The students voted to inform other colleges and universities of a campus poll here which showed 83 per cent of the veterans interviewed favored the bonus.

RECOVERIES ACHIEVED

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP) — Post-holiday recoveries were achieved by individual rail and industrial stocks today although many market leaders suffered from neglect.

Dealings turned quiet after a fairly active start. Early hardening of some recently weak commodities bolstered sentiment for securities to a certain extent. While gains running to a point or so predominated for pivotals at the close, declines of as much were plentiful. Top marks were reduced or cancelled here and there. Volume for the five hours tapered to around 1,000,000 shares.

Ahead most of the time were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, American Can, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, American Woolen, Gulf Oil and United Air Lines.

American Telephone touched a 1947-48 low. Occasional losers included Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Paramount Pictures, J. C. Penney, Dow Chemical, U. S. Gypsum and United Fruit.

Bidding, mainly by professionals, was attributed to the thought that the list had been oversold in sympathy with diving staples and was due for a technical revival. Numerous doubters regarding business, labor, taxes and foreign economic situations remained on the selling side.

Bonds were narrowly irregular.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP) — Cotton futures turned irregular in nervous dealings today, with traders still apprehensive over the price outlook.

The market initially sold off as much as $3.90 a bale on an accumulation of liquidating and hedging orders over the holiday. Thereafter prices worked higher, with the recovery extending more than $4 a bale from the lows of the day before the market eased partially again on further liquidation.

New crop deliveries were steady since prices were around the possible government loan level on the next cotton crop.

Cotton closed barely steady.

were to remain closed until further announcement.

Will Be Notified

An executive of the gas company said this morning that heavy industrial users would be notified individually when they could resume use of gas without endangering pressure.

Not a home in the 44 towns was without gas at any time during this week's shortage, said a spokesman for the company.

The Associated Press summary of Texas weather conditions stated skies were clearing rapidly over Texas today and lifting temperatures promised early relief from paralyzing conditions brought on by snow in the west, ice in the north and central sections.

Clouds Have Lifted

Clouds had lifted as far east as Dallas at 8 a. m. Light rains were still falling in the extreme east and along the Gulf coast.

The temperature dropped to zero, the lowest level of the current cold wave, at Amarillo and Pampa. The Dallas weather bureau said warmer weather was in store tonight and tomorrow for the Panhandle, swept Wednesday and yesterday by the winter's worst blizzard, which claimed three lives and virtually stopped travel.

Despite the severity of the blizzard which covered the Panhandle and most of the South Plains, total snowfall was light. The weather bureau said that an average of only one to two inches on the level remained on the ground over most of the area.

Rainfall Also Light

Total rainfall also was light in the east, with Houston's .15 inch the heaviest.

Quick disappearance of the ice sheath which brought highway traffic to a near standstill in most of East Texas the last two days was promised by the presence of sunshine and rising temperatures.

While the norther which blew in the Northwest Texas blizzard passed on into Mexico the length of the Rio Grande, its freezing cold did not extend to the valley tip at Brownsville. The overnight low there was 36 degrees.

Hillsboro Man Is Still Taking No Chances On 13th

(By The Associated Press)

A lot of Texans joined Hillsboro's Jimmy Spears in staying home on this morning of Friday the 13th.

Superstitious or not, it was the sensible thing to do.

Although the sun shone brightly everywhere except the extreme east and the Gulf coast, ice still lurked on sidewalks to toss unwary pedestrians on their ears.

And, in the early hours, highways over most of the state were still more suitable for sleighs and skates than for rubber-tired traffic.

And so the prudent stayed home if possible.

At Hillsboro, Jimmy Spears has remained in bed on every Friday the 13th for many years. He became convinced at an early age that it was not an auspicious day for him.

Despite the date, spirits lifted in the Panhandle, scene of a blinding blizzard Wednesday and Thursday. David Rasco of the Amarillo Globe-News chanted in a telegram to the Associated Press at Dallas:

"Sun is shining, skies are clear, temperature should hit 30 today. It's great to live in the Panhandle."

Daniel Leaves For Oil Probe

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 (U.P.)—Attorney General Price Daniel left today for Washington where he will meet with other state officials in preparation for congressional hearings on legislation to recognize state ownership of the oil-rich tidelands.

In addition to hearing testimony on a Senate bill which would recognize state ownership of the submerged lands, Senate and House committees will also conduct hearings on a proposal for federal control of the tidelands.

Control Denounced

The latter proposal, submitted last week by Secretary of the Interior Julius Krug, was denounced by Daniel as a measure that would cost Texas "over $12,000,000 from recent gulf leases."

Senate Judiciary committee hearings will begin on Feb. 23, and hearings on a similar House bill will be started by the House Judiciary sub-committee No. 1 on Feb. 25.

Daniel charged that "the peculiar feature" of the Krug Bill is "that is takes care of the private oil interests so much better than it would take care of the sovereign states."

He said that it would allow exchange of federal leases for present state leases and would relieve oil operators from accounting for receipts on past oil runs.

Against Compromise

"If the federal government prevails in this fight, the least it could do," the Attorney General said, "is to treat the states fairly and as equitably as it does private oil interests."

He said that the governors and attorneys general of the coastal states "are committed against any compromise measures . . . we will fight to win full and complete recognition of state ownership, just as it has been recognized for the past 100 years."

The Attorney General's office said he would be joined next week in Washington by Gov. Beauford H. Jester, Assistant Attorney General Elton M. Hyder and Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

The cold wave already sent temperatures tumbling as it entered the United States in Montana and the Dakotas. The thermometer would fall to give to 15 below in those areas tonight, forecasters said. The cold wave should hit Illinois by tomorrow night.

Writer Furnishes Incidents To Illustrate Views On Tolerance

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Surely newspaper columnists must have been in mind when it was pointed out in the Book of Proverbs that "The way of transgressors is hard."

Your columnist has had his knuckles soundly rapped by a reader for views expressed at the time of Mahatma Gandhi's assassination.

Exodus Quotation

My reader critic demands how I explain that statement about Gandhi's life encompassing Christianity, "in the light of Exodus 20:3—'Thou shalt have no other Gods before me'?"

I'm too old a hand to get involved in technical religious arguments, being the son of a Methodist minister and thus knowing something of the pitfalls for amateurs—especially on Friday the Thirteenth. So I am going to stand pat and add a couple of stories about some little incidents which long have seemed to me to be an invitation to tolerance.

On my first visit to India a generation ago I was the guest of the late Maharajah of Bikanir, an Arabian prince among the greatest of the sub-continent's potentates. He was a grand gentleman who followed the highest moral code and insisted on the same from his officials and court.

But this highness was a Hindu and through his own friendly connivance I saw him in a ceremony which probably no other non-Hindu ever had witnessed.

Maharajah Prays

I saw him and his two little princes prostrated on the floor of the temple before a stone idol. I was shocked and troubled as I tried to weigh that sight against his grand morals. Then came that incident inviting tolerance.

The day I left Bikanir the Maharajah also was traveling by train to Delhi and he invited me to ride in his private car. We pulled out of the capital at sunset, and I stood by a window admiring the picture made by the golden rays striking across the city. Suddenly I became aware that the prince was on his knees in prayer, and when he arose he turned to me and said:

"I owe you an explanation. When I leave my capital I always pray God to keep my people safe, and bring me back to them again."

The story involves another great prince who also was a Hindu—the late Maharajah Gwaliorm. He was good to his people and his morals were beyond reproach. You get a gauge of the man when you know that he establishing a famous boys' school in which lads of all religious, races and social standing were welcome

"Christian" Defined

There were in his capital a large number of missionaries and the Maharajah (an Orthodox Hindu) not only raised no objections to their proselyting but made things as pleasant for them as he could. He was fond of children and during my stay he gave a big garden party on the palace lawn for the missionary youngsters. The prince joined in the fun with some of the kids. As I stood watching this wholly happy picture an American missionary said to me:

"What a pity, Mr. McKenzie, that his highness isn't a Christian."

That remark got under my skin. I gave him an answer which I probably should not have done, but I still let it lie where it fell:

"Well, if you don't spell it with a capital "C" he seems to be a pretty good one to me."

Whereupon the missionary stalked away in indignation.

Life On Mars Still Sought

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—The big telescopes of the world are being pointed these days toward Mars in new observations seeking to determine whether life exists on that planet.

The closest look, however, will come next week when Mars will be only 63,000,000 miles away. Scientists atthe MacDonald observatory already have the 82-inch reflecting telescope in action.

The telescope, third largest in the world, will magnify the planet 500 to 600 times, making it appear as an oversized full moon to the eye.

Use New Development

Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, director of Yerkes and MacDonald observatories, hopes to learn whether water (ice or water vapor) and green vegetation are present on Mars. If this is determined, then it might be speculated that animal life, too, exists on the planet.

The MacDonald astronomers will use a wartime development—an extremely infra-red spectrograph—to observe the infra-red spectrum of both the polar cap and the green areas of Mars. The spectograph already has revealed the presence of ammonia in the atmosphere of Mars.

The scientists point out that if the polar caps on Mars are frost caps, the spectrum should appear black in the lower limits of the infra-red. Snow and ice found on Earth record black. They explained that if the green areas are trees, grass, or weeds, they, too, will give a similar black record because of the water they contain.

Navasota Woman Will Run For Legislature

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 (AP) — Mrs. Neveille Colson of Navasota, Grimes county, today formally announced her candidacy for State Senator from Senatorial District Five.

"In announcing for the office of State Senator, I am asking for a promotion based upon my record as a member of the House of Representatives," she said. "It will be my purpose as State Senator to continue my efforts toward the preservation of Texas' traditions and ideals."

Mrs. Colson is the first announced opponent of Sen. Roger A. Knight of Madisonville.

She is now completing her fifth term as state representative of District 27-F, composed of Montgomery and Grimes counties.

Mrs. Colson is a widow and a former school teacher. She is the only woman member of the House of Repuresentatives ever to have a constitutional amendment submitted and adopted. The amendment, freezing revenue from road users for road purposes only, was introduced in the 49th Legislature.

Mrs. Lacy Stewart of Houston, elected State Senator last year to fill the vacancy created by the death of her husband, is the only woman senator at present.

Courtesy Sometimes Costly, Man Learns

DALLAS, Feb. 13 (U.P.)—Being courteous can be costly, C. M. Gilbert, a liquor store operator, said today.

Gilbert told an employe, A. J. Stewart, to drive a customer home last night to keep him out of the cold. The customer commandeered the car and drove to Paris, Lamar county, where he forced Stewart out, police were told.

Stewart hitch-hiked to Dallas to report the theft of the car.

College Vet Faces Charge Of Assault

HOUSTON, Feb. 13 (U.P.)—James Robert Cade, 22-year-old student at the University of Houston, was charged with assault to murder today in connection with the shooting of his 38-year-old father-in-law last night.

J. B. Bass was in serious condition from gunshot wounds in the left thigh.

Witnesses to the shooting at the trailer village said Bass beat on the door of Cade's trailer with a plank. Cade told police he shot in self defense after Bass tried to break in.

Cade, a veteran, said the shooting climaxed domestic difficulties. His bride of 18 months, Mrs. Gloria Cade, 17, has been separated from him for about two weeks. The couple has a son, James Robert Cade, jr., two months.

Poll Tax Payments Reach Record High

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 (U.P.) — Travis county will have more qualified voters for the 1948 election year than at any time in history, County Tax Collector Steve Heffington forecast today.

Heffington said poll tax payments exceeded 36,500, as compared with the previous high of 26,841 in 1945, and estimated that some 6,000 persons are holding poll tax exemptions.

The total number of qualified voters, he said, is expected to reach approximately 42,500.

Vitamin B May Be Boon To Hairless Head

Japanese University Professors Claim They Have Found A Cure For Baldness

TOKYO, Feb. 13. (U.P.) — Two Nagoya university professors claimed today they have cured baldness by injecting vitamin B into the scalp.

More htan 20 bald men who acted as quinea pigs for the professors' experiments have recovered a luxuriant growth of hair under the vitamin B treatment, according to a report in the newspaper Ashai.

The professors were said to be working on a theory that baldness is nont hereditary but is due chiefly to skin malnutrition arising from mental worries and physical overwork.

By stimulating the scalp with vitamin B injections, and other medicines, the professors said they produced a fuzzy growth in one month and a normal crop of hair in three.

Jury Fails To Agree In Frat Damage Suit

DALLAS, Feb. 13 (AP)—A jury failed to agree on who damaged who, and how much, in the trial for alleged rent overcharge brought by a Baylor Dental college fraternity.

The fraternity, Alpha Pi chapter of Alpha Psi Phi, claimed it paid rentals amounting to $1,500 over ceiling to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Echols of Dallas.

Members of the fraternity sought treble damages under Office of Price Administration legislation and also $1,000 for attorney fees.

In a cross action Mr. and Mrs. Echols claimed they, not the fraternity, were the injured party. The prospective dentists wrecked their furniture to the tune of $2,500, Mrs. Echols testified.

Oil Firm Plans Huge Expansion Program

BAYTOWN, Feb. 13 (U.P.) — The Baytown plant of the Humble Oil & Refinery Co., one of the world's largest refineries, will be the scene of a $19,000,000 expansion program, President Harry C. Weiss announced today.

Weiss said the company was embarking on the vast expansion program in order to supply the increasing demand for petroleum products.

The company president pointed out that Humble was now producing more heating oil and less gasoline to meet the winter's demand for fuel oil.

The Baytown refinery is running about 10,000,000 gallons of crude oil daily and of this amount, about 4,000,000 gallons is processed for heating oil.

Expansion plans call for a new pipe still which will increase the daily run by 45,000 barrels of crude oil. At present the Baytown refinery is running over design capacity about 25 per cent.

Two Men Injured In New Mexico Affray

SILVER CITY, N. M., Feb. 13 (U.P.)—Charges of assault with intent to kill were on file here today against Ben Martinez following a shooting in which two men were seriously injured by one bullet.

Hodges said that an object was thrown through the tavern's glass door after the men were forced out of the bar. Martinez then fired, Hodges said. The bullet went through Buck's body and hit Hulse in the chest.

Lubbock May Open New Fire Station Soon

City Expects That Equipment Will Arrive In Near Future

Significant developments in Lubbock's ability to fight fires were indicated in announcements of City Manager Homer Hunter and Fire Chief W. E. Twitty this morning that sufficient new equipment may arrive within a few days to enable opening of the city's large fire station No. 3, at Thirtieth and Texas Ave.

Two 20-foot electrically-operated steel curtain doors, similar to those at Central Fire station, are en route by rail.

A 220-horsepower Mack straight pumper and hose wagon that will throw 750 or more gallons of water a minute is expected "any day now."

Finishing modification work is being done on a recently-purchased Chevrolet straight booster that will pump 40 gallons a minute from a 250-gallon pump Chief Twitty's men manufactured.

Construction of the new station, except for the doors and installation of furniture which has been bought, was completed weeks ago.

Staffing of the station with firemen can be accomplished within a comparatively brief period, Hunter said.

To Shift Manpower

He explained that opening of the No. 3 station would entail a resultant shift of manpower and equipment from Central and Nineteenth Street stations.

A cadre of experienced men from the two older stations would be transferred to the No. 3 station to work with 18 to 20 men who would be selected from applications on file," he said. Thirty-eight firemen are on duty at Central and No. 2 stations.

Chief Twitty outlined the distribution of rolling equipment among the three stations.

Central station would have two 750-gallon Mack pumpers, two 250-gallon GMC straight boosters, and a 1000-foot Packard hose wagon.

May Add Aerial Truck

Sometime this year, it is hoped, an 85-foot Peter Pirsch aerial truck that has been on order since January, two years ago, may be added to Central station's equipment. It would be equipped with a hydraulic lift, and would offer the utmost in speed and utility Cost—it was contracted for at a fixed price—would approximate $15,000.

No. 2 station, on Nineteenth, would be equipped with a 750-gallon American La France pumper, and the Chevrolet straight booster being equipped by firemen who built for $17 a two-reel hose unit that would have cost $108 on the market and a rear step assembly that saved the city approximately $50. There is room for no more equipment in the residential-type fire station there.

No. 3 station would get unit No. 5, a No. 6, another Chevrolet booster wagon; and No. 8, a Packard 1000-foot hose wagon.

Have More Horsepower

The new straight pumper and hose wagon would cost $12,800 without hose, but would have 20 more horsepower than the other Mack unit resembling it.

A speedy piece of equipment, it would run well over 65 miles an hour were governors not installed to prevent more speed than that.

Its powerful engine turns up 1,532 revolutions a minute to throw the 750 gallons. Its governors would not "grab it off" until it tried to exceed approximately 2,200 revolutions, Chief Twitty said.

Its five-inch intake on suction line "goes out" with four two-and-a-half-inch lines — which offers particular advantage in combatting spread of fire, the chief said.

All-Weather Vehicle

It is an all-weather vehicle, contrary to the old La France units that were bought since 1921. Seven men can ride in the cab of the Mack pumper and "feel no more discomfort than in riding in a bus," Chief Twitty said.

Unit No. 2, a La France pumper bought in 1921, was followed with purchase in 1925 of a La France ladder wagon and, in 1929, No. 5, another La France pumper.

Tops when bought, those pieces of equipment now are slower and more difficult of operation than the newer, lighter trucks and wagons. They are not enclosed and premanent type anti-freeze will not be retained in their great radiators.

Scarcely Enough Money

The new station cost $78,400, which leaves scarcely enough earmarked money for construction of a station that had been planned for Fourth and College, on ground owned by the city. Also it rules out for the moment a station proposed for southwest Lubbock. It had been hoped that three new stations could be built for approximately $101,000.

The cost is in sharp contrast to that entailed in building Central station which, larger to extent of a mechanical shop and a hose-drying tower, cost only $45,000 when built in 1940. The host tower alone cost $10,000 of that.

However, it was conceded that unforeseen costs of construction still would make the city's investments logical—inasmuch as the

NO REGRETS — Fort Worth Transit Co. bus driver, L. E. Henry, says he has no regrets at returning $1500 which was lost on the steps of his bus. He returned the money to an unidentified couple who returned to his bus to ask if he'd found the money. Henry refused a reward.

Official Named By Red Cross

Appointment of Mrs. Vernice Ford as chairman of home service of the Lubbock county chapter of the Red Cross has been announced by W. C. O'Mara, chapter chairman.

Mrs. O. T. Williams has served the last two years in that office and recently resigned.

The chapter chairman said Mrs. Ford is especially well qualified for chairmanship of the committee because of her affiliation with the chapter several years, during which she served over two years as home service secretary. Previous to that, she had been a case worker in home service as well as bookkeeper and cashier for the chapter. She has attended training courses and at one time taught a class of case workers.

Since she resigned as home service secretary, she has been a volunteer case worker at the local Red Cross office.

As chairman of the home service committee, she will decide policies and procedures along with members of her committee on cases involving home situations of servicemen, veterans and in many instances of civilians and transients. In 1947, the case load of such cases totaled 2,956, the Red Cross office announced.

U.S. Marines Held By Reds

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Chinese Communist radio today confirmed the capture of five United States marines in North China. It said the Reds demanded that the U. S. Navy "apologize."

The broadcast said one marine, Pfc. Charles J. Brayton, died of wounds received in a fight preceding the capture. He was from Fort Jay, Governor's Island, N. Y.

U. S. Adm. Charles N. Cooke, jr., said in Shanghai Monday he could not confirm the reported death of one marine. He added there was no news concerning the five since their presumed capture on a hunting trip Christmas day.

Broadcast Quoted

The Communist broadcast, from a secret station in North China, was recorded here by the Associated Press. It said:

"Five American marines in a jeep advanced against a position of the Peoples Liberation (Communist) army at Wanglintago (north of Tsingtao on the Shantung peninsula) on the 25th of December as fieree fighting raged in this area between the Peoples Liberation army and eight Kuomintang (government) brigades.

"In a defensive action, the Peoples Liberation army captured the five marines together with five rifles, wounding one of the marines in the process."

Russia Abbreviates Words The Hard Way

MOSCOW, Feb. 13 (AP)—"Mosgorproizvodbytkoopinsoyuz" is not a sentence in the Eskimo language and not the longest word in the Russian dictionary. It represents the carrying to great lengths—no pun—of a custom of "abbreviating" the name of an organization by using the first one or two syllables of each word making up its title.

"Mosgorproizvodbytkoopinsoyus" can be decoded as "the Moscow City League of Producers and Essential Services Invalids' Cooperatives.

The Literary Gazette cites it as an example of what should not be done.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING PROJECT

Tech Offers New Service To Dairymen, Farmers Of Area

A recently developed artificial breeding project at the Texas Technological college dairy farm is now ready to supply artificial breeding service from Holstein and Jersey males, N. C. Fine, associate professor of animal husbandry, announced Thursday.

The plan provides for sending an artificial breeding technician to the farms of those who request the service provided that it is located within 25 to 28 miles of Lubbock.

Will Take Requests

Due to a delay in the installation of telephone facilities at the project headquarters, a temporary arrangement with the milk plants of Lubbock, the Lubbock County Agent's office and the Lubbock County Vocational School for Veterans has been made to receive calls from prospective patrons for transmital to the college.

For example, a dairyman selling milk to one of the milk plants should send or phone his request to the plant which buys his milk; veterans enrolled in the Lubbock County Vocational school should leave his request at the school; and others can leave their requests at the county agent's office.

Charge Is Assessed

To secure the service in the first place, the farmer should contact N. C. Fine in the agriculture building at the college or J. L. Walker or W. T. Hayden at the dairy farm, any of whom will make a specific record of directions for reaching his farm.

When the service is desired, the

Wheat Export Bill Opposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Two midwest senators today proposed repeal of a law which shuts off wheat exports when reserve supplies in this country fall to 150,000,000 bushels.

Senator Young (R-ND) said he thinks this provision in a foreign aid bill passed last December is one of the reasons for the sharp break in grain prices.

He said it forces foreign buyers to look for wheat in other exporting countries when U. S. supplies fall to the fixed level. That, he declared, tends to shut American producers out of the world market and depress prices in this country.

Investigate Motives

Young said Congress should investigate the motives of officials of all four major commodity exchanges who supported the reserve requirement before it was adopted.

The automatic ban on exports, he said, (1) helps speculators who gamble on a drop in the cost of wheat and (2) penalizes U. S. farmers.

The North Dakotan gave his views in a statement explaining a bill he has prepared with Senator Bushfield (R-SD) to wipe out the wheat carry-over clause.

Damage Is Heavy In Wildcat Well Fire

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 13. (AP)—A roaring wildcat oil well fire caused damage estimated at "hundreds of thousands of dollars" before extinguishing itself.

The Refugio county well extinguished itself late yesterday when the crater blown out by the run away well caved in on the hole and put out the flames.

Officials of the Seaboard Oil company estimated the damage.

Hundreds of feet of pipe and other equipment was sucked into the crater by the blowout.

DEVELOPED METHODS

Development of artificial breeding methods for draft horses is credited to Dr. G. L. Carlson, of Norfolk, Nebr., who was born Jan. 1, 1853.

City Penalized 10 Percent On Fire Policies

Lubbock will be penalized 1(per cent on its fire insurance rates while many other Texas cities receive credits, but if serious fires are prevented this year the city's penalties should be lessened somewhat in 1949.

The 10 per cent penalty for Lubbock was announced by State Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall in Austin Thursday, The Associated Press reported. Four hundred ninety Texas cities and towns received credits, while 118 received penalties.

Lubbock's fire standing improved during 1947 in spite of one major fire, the Texas Tech stadium, which accounted for more than two-thirds of the total estimated 1947 fire loss of $300,000.

The 1947 loss was less than half of the 1946 loss, which totaled some $675,000, according to Bradley Black, city fire marshall.

The 10 per cent penalty is 5 per cent less than last year's penalty of 15 per cent. But in 1946 Lubbock enjoyed a 15 per cent credit and a 10 per cent "good fire record" credit. So in 1947 the total rating decline in Lubbock was 25 per cent, Bradley explained.

Setup Is Explained

Glenn Smith, assistant fire chief, explained that the state Fire Insurance commission bases its penalties and credits for each city on a five-year ratio comparison of the yearly fire losses and yearly premium income.

For example, the 1948 rate is based on the ratio of fire losses and premium incomes for the years 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946 and 1947. The 1949 rate will be based on the figures for 1944 through 1948.

Therefore, the full effect of Lubbock's 1946 large fire losses will not be dissipated for several years.

Smith explained how the penalty and credit losses are figured.

If the ratio of net losses suffered to net premiums paid is over 75%, the penalty is 15 per cent; if the ratio is 65 to 75 per cent, the penalty is 10 per cent; ratio 58 to 65 per cent, penalty 5 per cent; 52 to 58 per cent, no penalty and no credit.

Figures Are Given

If the ratio of losses to premiums is 45 to 52 per cent, there is a 5 per cent credit; 38 to 45 per cent, 10 per cent credit; 31 to 38 per cent, 15 per cent credit; 24 to 31 per cent, 20 per cent credit; less than 24 per cent, 25 per cent credit, the maximum credit allowed.

The fire department records show the following premiums, losses and five-year period

Grains Continue Plunge After Showing Strength At Opening

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—Grain prices showed tendencies to slide down again today near the final hour of trading after gaining a little strength earlier.

A violent downswing hit the wholesale butter market at the same time. The corner grocery store reported further and larger price reductions.

A rally that pushed wheat, corn and oats a few rungs up the price ladder from opening lows was short lived.

Corn broke as much as 5½ cents a bushel from the day's high in the Chicago pits near the final hour. It opened down the full limit, then rallied a few cents.

Others Join Slump

Wheat and oats joined corn in the late downswing, the former falling off 4½ cents from the day's best price and oats sliding 1½ cents.

The price of wholesale butter nose-dived 5 to 6½ cents at New York and as much as 5½ cents a pound at Chicago.

Retail outlets showed immediate reaction to the butter drop. The corner grocery store at the same time clipped meat prices considerably.

Dealers reported both retailers and shopper buying cautiously in anticipation of further reductions.

Survey Is Made

The National Association of Retail Grocers said a key city survey showed reductions in flour, bacon, ham, lard, vegetable shortening, eggs and butter, and in some cases beef.

These price cuts were not loss leaders posted to attract trade, said Patsy D'Agostino, president of the association. They are genuine reductions, made possible by the flexibility of grocers to adjust to market conditions quickly, he said.

Grains showed widely divergent tendencies. Corn swung down as much as the full limit at the start, but wheat and oat deliveries were steady to slightly higher. Corn prices subsequently came back from the lows.

Cotton Falls, Recovers

Cotton fell almost $4 a bale at New York. Shortly after the opening, however, mills began buying and there was a rebound that brought the price about $2 above the lows at the start.

At New Orleans, cotton was $1.25 to $2.60 a bale lower.

Stocks were irregular and activity was moderate. Price changes were small.

At Chicago, sellers were holding hogs at about yesterday's prices of $23.75 to $24.25 a hundred pounds.

The pits hardly more than opened at Chicago when soybeans were offered at the eight cent limit decline from Wednesday's prices.

The question in economic and political circles was whether the problem was inflation or deflation.

Dangers Not Removed

President Truman saw in the recent commodity price drops, a step in the right direction. But inflationary dangers have not been removed by the market decline, he said.

The President said he felt as strongly as ever that Congress should give him legal powers to curb living costs.

Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece said the downward trend in commodity prices was what Republicans had expected would happen once "normal forces were permitted to operate."

The National Association of Retail Grocers surveyed independent food stores and found price cuts ranged from 10 cents a pound in bacon and porkchops to 4 cents a pound for hamburger. Flour, lard, butter and eggs were lower in many stores.

Husband Of Slain Socialite Is Dead

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 13. (U.P.)—Paul Refoule, French artist husband of Socialite Peggy Alston Refoule who was murdered here nearly a year ago, died early today in Emory University hospital.

Hospital attaches said Refoule died at 4:31 a. m. He underwent an operation for lung congestion several weeks ago and complications developed.

Refoule's wife was the victim of a brutal murder here last spring, and the case has not yet been solved.

Refoule himself was the central figure in the investigation of the murder as late as last summer. He was indicted by Fulton county grand jury on morals charges and countered with a suit against Fulton county police, charging they had violated his civil rights.

He said they had treated him brutally in questioning him about his wife's slaying and won a court order in U. S. District court restraining police from questioning him further.

New Home Scene Of Cage Tournament

New Home school gymnasium will be the scene tonight of opening games of a District 9-B boys' basketball tournament. The girls teams from four schools will also compete in games.

Opening game in the boys' division will be at 8 o'clock tonight between New Home and Wellman teams. Second game will be at 9 o'clock between Ropes or Whiteface and Meadow. The Meadow "B" and New Home "B" girls teams will play at 7 o'clock.

Saturday night at 8 o'clock, New Home and Ropes are scheduled with a second game between Meadow and Wellman at 9 o'clock. The Meadow and New Home "A" girls teams will play in a game at 7 o'clock.

White and Blanchard of Texas Tech will be officials in the tournament.

Corpus Christi Site Of Rate Control Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (U.P.) — Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug said today that Corpus Christi, Texas, will be the first city asked to clean up its garbage in the current rat-control campaign.

The National Urban Rat Control committee, in cooperation with the Interior department, is about to launch a campaign to kill rats that are currently eating 200,000,000 bushels of grain a year.

Corpus Christi has a "well-organized and active health unit," Krug said, "but was chosen as the first demonstration site because it is a grain concentration point for South Texas."

Later, 24 other medium sized cities will be chosen for more demonstrations. The committee hopes eventually to reach all towns of 10,000 population or more.

Negro Boy Dies From Accident Injuries

WACO, Feb. 13 (U.P.)—Woodrow Wood, 8, Riesel negro, died in a Waco hospital this morning from injuries he suffered Wednesday morning when he was hit by a car on the Waco-Marlin highway as he stepped from a school bus.

The road was wet and vision obscured at the time. The driver of the car was arrested and later released. District Attorney Gene Maddin said an investigation was continuing.

BODY IS FOUND

HOUSTON, Feb. 13 (AP) — The decomposed body of a man police identified as William Earl Wolk, Covington, Tenn., was found in a gondola railroad car at the Houston metal works.

Detectives said the man had apparently been struck by a large door which had been jolted loose by movement of the train.

South Hears Rebel Yells

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 13 (AP) — Shouting rebel yells and waving the Confederate flag, Mississippi Democrats met here yesterday to spearhead a nationwide revolt against their party's leadership.

Judge Herbert Holmes of Senatobia, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, said Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va) might be asked to head a revolt.

Byrd Not Contacted

The judge said Senator Byrd, who often has been critical of party leaders, had not been contacted but was being considered for a leading role in the conference authorized yesterday by a mass meeting of 5,000 Mississippians.

After singing "Dixie," the group backed a resolution for the conference "of all true white Jeffersonian Democrats."

They thereby heeded the call of their governor, Fielding L. Wright, for action against the Democratic party's sponsorship of measures which he termed "anti-southern," such as anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and FEPC bills.

To Set Conference

Judge Holmes said he will convene the state committee next week to set a date for the conference against President Truman's civil rights program.

He said that Gov. William Tuck of Virginia, who recently said he would give an invitation to visit Jackson "my most serious consideration," was being counted upon for a principal part in the movement.

Yesterday's meeting adopted resolutions opposing the Truman program and warning party leaders that Mississippians will "make every effort within the party to defeat such proposals."

"Stromsperre" Puts Berlin In The Dark

BERLIN, Feb. 13 (AP)—"Stromsperre" — cutting off of electric power because of coal shortage—plays strange tricks in Berlin. Court proceedings, domestic chores, even police raids, have to stop.

That's what happened recently when German police were staging a large raid against blackmarketeers in the northern sector of the city. They had cornered eighty-two persons for arrest in an evening operation but suddenly the lights went off.

The police showed up in court with only fifteen captives. The other 67 had slipped away in the dark.

In 1947, the United States had about four times more money in circulation than before World War II.

U. S. Troops They Called Green Weren't To Blame At Kasserine

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. — Five years ago this week "The Desert Rat" paid a valentine visit to the American forces in North Africa.

In the next few days this tempestuous Teuton—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel—sent the overwhelmed Yanks spinning back forty miles.

That was the only time I ever led troops. I ran back 41½ miles.

After a week of wild rampaging, Rommel trundled his panzers back into the Tunisian coastal hills, leaving behind the hulk of 86 American tanks and thirty overrun field guns.

Slur On Our Men

Since then it has been the fashion to treat the battle of Kasserine gap as a great defeat caused by the greenness of American troops.

This ready explanation puts a needless and untrue slur on the men who fought there, men who really had done considerable fighting already. And it hides the fact that much of the blame belongs on the top brass.

Many of the men went to their deaths believing they were fighting the battle the wrong way. I know this because one evening they told me so, and the next evening they were dead.

There will always be some controversy over the battle of Kasserine. Many American officers who fought there believe the record would have been considerably better if their units hadn't been fed to Rommel a battalion at a time.

Here's How It Looks

Taking the evidence of all I saw and heard, this is how it looks to me five years after:

There was no American "army" in Tunisia—only the second corps, made up of the first infantry and first armored division with supporting units.

They were strung out along a 150-mile north-south front with British Maj. Kenneth A. N. Anderson in overall command.

It was foreseen that Rommel would try to break out to grab the supplies of gasoline he needed desperately. He could strike at the British through the mountain pass at Pichon or through Faid pass near the center of the thin American line.

Anderson thought Rommel would choose Pichon. But "The Desert Rat" came through Faid pass—with three full veteran panzer divisions.

Wanted To Regroup

Maj. Gen. Lloyd R. Fredendall, second corps commander, frantically demanded that he be permitted to regroup the first armored and first infantry and fight them as full divisions.

Anderson refused, believing that the Faid attack was only a division and that the main German blow would still some at him through Pichon.

"I'm going to be the goat in this," Fredendall said when Anderson's reply came.

So the first day one battalion from the first armored was sent against the Germans. Outgunned, outnumbered—but not outfought—it was destroyed. The next day a second American tank battalion was ordered out and met the same piecemeal fate.

This left Fredendall only one heavy tank battalion. It was under Brig. Gen. Paul McDonald Robinett—slim, small cantankerous commander of combat command "B."

A brilliant tactician, Robinett and his men stubbornly held off a German force at least five times their size until the infantry could withdraw. Then they pulled out in perfect order.

CHOKES TO DEATH

ROCHESTER, Minn., Feb. 13 (AP) A chicken dinner caused the death last night of an 89-year-old retired Rochester farmer. The victim, W. H. McIntire, choked to death on a piece of chicken gizzard.

FINDS UNPUBLISHED LINCOLN PORTRAIT—A hitherto unpublished photograph of Abraham Lincoln, made 90 years ago, has been discovered by Stefan Lorant, Hungarian-born Lincoln authority and author of "Lincoln: His Life in Photographs." The picture, an original ambrotype portrait, hangs on the wall of Lorant's Lenox, Mass., home. It was made on May 7, 1858, after Lawyer Lincoln successfully defended Duff Armstrong on a murder charge. After the acquittal, a young photographer invited Lincoln into his study where the future President posed for his only portrait wearing a white linen duster.

Pat O'Brien A Busy Irishman; Cowboy Star Goes To Hawaii

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13.—You might call Pat O'Brien the Busy Irishman. Here's an account of his current activities:

1. He is set for "The Harder They Fall," the film version of the Budd Schulberg novel. Starting date is undecided, as RKO fears there are too many fight pictures on the present market.

Rodeo In Hawaii

2. He is performing diverse chores in "The Boy with The Green Hair," in which he plays a middle-aged waiter. He'll sing three Irish songs, dance, juggle and do magic tricks.

3. He is working on three radio shows—a transcribed series of Damon Runyon stories, a weekly stint as a small-town druggist and a possible series with a circus background.

Bill Boyd has taken a rodeo to Hawaii and then plans to go on to Manila. The movie Hopalong Cassidy is enjoying his first experience as a rodeo star, and if all goes well, may take the show to Mexico City and Rio De Janeiro . . .

Wanda Hendrix will star with John Lund in "The Tatlock Millions," and Ilka Chase, Monty Woolley and Barry Fitzgerald are being sought for other roles. Incidentally, Wanda, who will be a full-fledged star after "Abigail, Dear Heart," is claimed to possess Hollywood's smallest waist—a mere 18 inches . . .

Too Busy To Wed

MGM can expect June Allyson to adopt a firmer attitude toward the studio. Her easy nature has caused her to do several pictures she didn't like and she has been working too hard on "Three Musketeers." She has ammunition for a new attitude since the Photoplay poll named her one of the five most popular actresses . . .

Joan Leslie will be the last Brodell girl at home after her sister Betty marries Joseph Franzalia in June. Joan tells me she is still married to her career and can't think of marriage. Which may or may not be a wise viewpoint. What do you think?

Pop Gets Cash, Son When Bangtail Wins

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13 (AP)—Jerry King, 26, a teleprinter operator, placed a $6 across-the-board hunch bet on "Baby Shower" in the eighth race at Santa Anita park.

Just about the time the race was being run yesterday, King's wife, Rae Jean, 21, gave birth to an eight pound boy at Monte Sand hospital, the couple's first child.

"Baby Shower" came home first, paying $17.40 to win, $8.30 to place and $4.80 to show. King collected $30.50.

Lead consumption in the United States during 1947 was more than a million tons.

The cat's hide soon will be a rug on which Bro. Moore says he shall rest his poor, old feet, badly damaged by much tromping around the country in never-ending studies of Maw Nature's doings.

A resident of Cincinnati has quit his $50,000-per-year job with a large manufacturing concern in order that he may secure a master's degree and then start teaching "at $5,000 or $6,000 per year" if, indeed, he can find such a teaching job.

Crazy, you say?

Maybe so. Maybe not.

It all depends upon how happy the man has been in his $50,000-per-year job and how happy he will be if and when he gets his teaching post.

If the man has been unhappy, dissatisfied and disinterested in his high-paying work, he's smart to quit if he can make a satisfactory living otherwise. He'll live longer, contribute more to the happiness of those around him.

On the other hand, life being as it is, the Cincinnatian may be unhappy in his teaching job, if and when he gets it, and decide he was a chump for quitting $50,000 per year.

Life's pretty much a gamble sometimes. What looks good today looks sour tomorrow — and vice versa.

We all find that out — and without swapping a $50,000 job for one paying a tenth as much!

SINCE there is a possibility—if not an actual probability — that in the near future Lubbock will get some new and legible street-marking signs, it might be a good idea to consider a change in the naming plan of our avenues.

The original method of naming north-south thoroughfares alphabetically is not a bad one, on the whole. But it does make for considerable misunderstanding at times, especially on the telephone.

Avenue E, for instance, gets mixed up with Avenue G; B and T get balled up, as do V and B, C and G, etc., etc., and etc. What used to be for years called "Avenue I" had to be changed to Texas avenue, for reasons that much mail addressed to addresses on "I" turned out to read the Arabic figue 1. The same sort of confusion frequently is noted in Avenue J, A, K; M and N; V and U, although mail mixups are relatively confined to M, N U, V and W.

We could hold onto the alphabetical plan, but substitute names of cities, for instance, starting with the proper letter.

For instance, Avenue A could be Austin avenue, Avenue B, Breckenridge, Avenue C, Chicago — and so on. Confusion could be avoided by not choosing any name which might be mistaken for another. Therefore, if we had an Austin, we shouldn't have a Boston; if we had a Fort Worth, we shouldn't have a Fort Smith.

SINCE today's Lubbock has many of the characteristics of the Tulsa of 30 years ago — ours is an up-and-coming, rapidly growing, never-say-die city as Tulsa was then — we might also take a leaf from the Oil Capital's book in the matter of street-naming.

Tulsa has the easiest-to-remember method we've ever run across. Here's how it works:

Tulsa is divided, east and west, by a north south street called Main. Thoroughfares to the east and west are avenues. Those to the east of Main run alphabetically, named for cities east of the Mississippi: Boston, Cincinnati, Detroit, etc. Those to the west of Main run alphabetically, named for cities west of the Mississippi: Boulder, Cheyenne, Denver, etc.

The Oil Capital likewise is divided, north and south, by the tracks of the Frisco railroad. All east-west cross streets south of the Frisco tracks are numbered, First, Second, third, etc. All east-west streets north of the tracks are named alphabetically, after pioneer citizens: Brady, Cameron, etc.

As Tulsa grew and spread, a second alphabetical designation was started to the east. To the southeast, designations were sandwiched to read "place," instead of "avenue."

Thus it didn't take long for newcomers to "get the swing" of things and Tulsa remains to this day a very easy place to get around in.

Perhaps The Plainsman is just dumb. But whether or not, it seems to us that Lubbock already is all balled up like a billiard table in the matter of street designations.

As these lines are written, we are looking at the telephone directory, on Page 74, to which we opened at random.

As we run through addresses on that page we find Maple, Edna, Merthel, Morrom Addition, Arnett, Uvalde, and Allen as residential designations. Although we have a general idea where Uvalde and Arnett are, we couldn't go directly to either. As for the rest, we have no idea which way they lie — and we've been in this town since January 4, 1924.

Even if we are dumb about Lubbock streets, there must be a few other oldtimers just as dumb — and countless newcomers who are even more at sea over the city as a whole.

SINCE most people hereabouts will fight you if you suggest that Lubbock won't have at least 75,000 people by 1955, and others swear we'll have 100,000 by 1960, maybe the idea of renaming — or rather redesignating — streets isn't such a bad one.

Life is full of enough difficulties which cannot be avoided, without adding to the list other woes that can be sidestepped.

If Lubbock does make a big city —and it's a cinch it's going to be bigger than it is now — we might as well make it simple for newcomers and oldtimers to get around, and to "know where they're at."

We'd like to hear from citizens who approve, or disapprove, of the idea.

BY DREW PEARSON: MORE ABOUT THOMAS' MARKET SPECULATIONS

Solon Opposed Cotton Controls To Advantage

WASHINGTON—Memo to Senator Ferguson of Michigan:

Believing in your sincere desire to get to the bottom of Senator Thomas and his use of the Senate for private speculation, I am sending you the results of my own investigation. These may furnish you with additional leads for your own probe.

PEARSON

I think you will find that during most of Senator Thomas's career in the U. S. Senate, he has been active in the stock market and has not hesitated to use his position of trust to influence the market. I suggest that first you look into 128 shares of Cities Service stock held by the Senator around 1928.

Following this, I suggest that you examine the Senator's dealing in silver and cotton in 1933. At around this time his son Wilfred was employed by the old stock-brokerage firm of Fenner and Beane at its Oklahoma City office, while the Senator traded through the firm's Washington office.

During the summer of 1933 you will find that Thomas was active in the silver market, in fact had bought a considerable quantity of silver on margin, and when the silver bubble burst in July, Thomas was caught short. John Mothershed, then manager of Fenner and Beane's Washington office, called on him for more collateral which the Senator did not put up. Accordingly, he was sold out, at a heavy loss.

I think you will find that the next day, July 19, 1933, Senator Thomas then sent two blistering telegrams to the presidents of the New York Stock exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade demanding stricter regulation. The two telegrams read in part: "Today's activity in your exchange demonstrates absolute necessity for immediate adoption of a rule limiting the amount of loss on any stock during any one session."

It is interesting that the Senator did not reveal that he himself was caught short. He put his protest on the high moral plane of protecting the investing public. It is also interesting that some years later, in the spring of 1946 when the OPA urged stricter control of the cotton market, Thomas took an exactly opposite view and opposed those controls. At that time he and his wife were long on cotton and gambling on a continued rise in prices. The Senator didn't want OPA controls to interfere with such a rise.

Father Coughlin's Adviser

Going back to 1933, 1934 and 1935, I believe you will find that at about the time Senator Thomas was speculating in silver, he was also making speeches calculated to increase the price of silver. He was, for instance, an active member of Senator Key Pitman's silver bloc, and also described himself as "silver adviser to Father Coughlin," in attacking the Federal Reserve act. Coughlin later turned out to be the biggest individual buyer (through his secretary) of silver in the United States.

In speech after speech Thomas urged passage of his silver-buying bill, the remonetization of silver and the payment of soldier bonuses from silver. But he said nothing to the public about the fact that he himself had been buying up silver.

On Feb. 18, 1935, Thomas offered an amendment to the WPA-relief appropriation bill directing the Secretary of the Treasury to buy silver at the rate of 50,000,000 ounces a month until one-fourth of our total metallic reserve was silver instead of gold.

To check on the Senator's early commodity market transactions, look in an old warehouse at 818 Gravier street, New Orleans, La., where the records of Fenner and Beane are stored. To check on some of his other silver transactions, look up the records of Harriss and Vose, 60 Beaver street, New York, though these may have been destroyed.

In other words the Senator from Oklahoma seems to have been in the stock and commodity markets during practically all of his long career.

Regarding more recent operations, it might be interesting to check the account listed under "Farm Products Co." with Bache and company and also for a short time with Merrill Lynch, Fenner and Beane. This account was handled by Dyke Cullum, about whom Senator Thomas recently said: "From time to time I have turned money over to Dyke Cullum and asked him to invest in cotton for me."

IF your investigators check carefully, I think you will find that in February 1946, Dyke Cullum proposed opening an account under "Farm Products Co" with Merrill Lynch, Fenner and Beane. The brokers, however, were suspicious that it was a blind for Senator Thomas and queried Cullum closely. He replied that he wanted to use the account for himself, Ralph Moore and one other.

The brokers told him they would ask their New York office whether the account was acceptable. They also examined him closely as to why he wanted a separate account under Farm Products Co. when he was already trading heavily under his own name, while Ralph Moore was trading heavily under his own name.

Suspicious, Merrill Lynch, Fenner and Beane finally turned down the "Farm Products Co." account, though later, on October 22, 1946, by accident they accepted it. On Oct. 26, however, they asked Cullum to take the account elsewhere.

Ralph Moore, who has used the offices of both Senator Thomas and Senator Pappy O'Daniel of Texas, is now under investigation by the Justice department.

Incidentally, it might be worth while also to examine the accounts of Kiki Cullum and Dyke Cullum, jr. These are Cullum's children, but I suspect that their father handles the accounts for them.

(These are a few leads which I hope may be useful to your committee).

Declining Presidential Bid Replete With Difficulties

WASHINGTON — Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg sits in the ornate red and gold vice-presidential room just off the Senate floor and ponders his own future and the future of the world. Both he finds filled with uncertainties, with high promise and at the same time with potential perils.

CHILDS

Looking out at the snow-covered lawn of the Capitol, he recalls the first sentence of his statement in Life magazine of nearly a year ago, when he said he was not a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination. It is harder not to run for President, the Senator said then, than it is to run for that high office.

Everything that has happened since seems to prove the truth of this paradox. It was General Eisenhower's experience. If the General had been content simply to drift, saying nothing, the Eisenhower boom would certainly have continued to expand. Now that Eisenhower is out, the focus is again on Vandenberg in spite of his real reluctance and the deep doubts that trouble him. The Draft-Vandenberg stimulus comes, as it did in the instance of Eisenhower, from those who feel that times demand a man above and beyond the ordinary political mould.

The Senator's Viewpoints

In a deadlocked convention Vandenberg could be drafted. But he could be expected to lay down two conditions before he accepted such a draft. The Vandenberg terms would be:

1. That he would be a one-term President if he were elected.

2. That he make no barnstorming coast to coast campaign tour.

The Senator believes a one-term declaration would put a candidate in a very strong position. He said as much four years ago when he came out for General MacArthur as the 1944 Republican standard bearer.

In the Senator's view a one-term President would be freed from politics in making his major decisions. He would not be constantly pressed by friends ad cohorts reminding him of the effect that his actions were having on his chances for re-election. Furthermore, his appeal to the country would be stronger since it woud be evident that continuing in power was not his chief objective.

There is also the practical fact of the senator's age. On his birthday on the 22nd of next month, Vandenberg will be 64 years old. He is less than two months older than President Truman, who will be 64 on May 8.

RUMORS about the state of Vandenberg's health are a part of the current of political speculation. To friends who inquire on this score, he replies that he had a thorough physical examination at a clinic in his home town of Grand Rapids, Mich., last fall. The doctors at that time pronounced him organically sound. He has had a mild heart condition which has been brought under control by digitalis administered over a considerable period of time.

During the past two years, the Senator has proved that he can carry a heavy burden of work. As chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee he conducted the five weeks of hearings on the Marshall plan with patience and courtesy. If the rumored compromise comes off and the plan is speedily approved, no small share of the credit will go to Vandenberg.

Senator Vandenberg is still in the position of not running for President. He talks of the possibility of some sort of pre-convention agreement between Senator Taft and Governor Dewey which would prevent a deadlock, lifting the threat of the kind of long-drawn-out hair-pulling that ruined the Democrats at their convention in Madison Square Garden in 1924. But the Senator is a politician and not a general. He can hardly rule out a draft as General Eisenhower did, even if he wanted to.

Testimony Presented In Marshal's Trial

DALLAS, Feb. 13. (AP)—A former Mabank, Tex., city marshal, G. A. McFaul, testified in his second trial that he shot Jeff Pledger, Kaufman county veterinarian, after Pledger "swung on me with a whisky bottle."

"I shot him because he resisted arrest," McFaul testified yesterday.

Earlier, S. E. Beavers of Mabank, testified he saw McFaul shoot Pledger three times while Pledger sat in his own automobile with his hands in the air. The shooting occurred July 25, 1945.

In an earlier trial McFaul was given four years. He was granted a new trial and the case was transferred to Dalals.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

A WOMAN is foolish to be coy about her age, whatever it is.

In the first place, there is nothing disgraceful about age. What possible difference can it make that Susie Smith is 35 while Jane Brown is only 32? So why should Susie try to keep Jane from knowing her exact age?

MILLETT

In the second place, the woman who is coy about her age makes people more curious about it than they would otherwise be. One of women's pet diversions is trying to guess the age of the woman who keeps her age a secret.

In the third place, keeping one's age a secret is a hard thing to do. There are so many things you have to be vague about. Like when you were graduated from high school or college.

And last but not least, though this apparently never occurs to women, it is just possible that if you keep your age a secret you may be thought to be older instead of younger than you are.

WHY BOTHER?

SO why all the bother to hide a fact that is as harmless as one's age? Why not just be as free with that bit of information as with any other facts about oneself?

Besides, it is still rare enough to be refreshing to hear a woman over 30 casually mention her age. And once she has mentioned it of her own free will, it no longer is a matter of interest.

Today's Journal Editorial

AN AID TO THE RECOVERY PLAN

Strengthened popular support which further insures the approval of some sort of European recovery plan is virtually certain to result from recommendations this week of the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Most of the criticism of the plan as proposed by Secretary Marshall has stemmed from his insistence that its administration be entrusted solely to the State department. The iron secrecy practiced by that department in practically all of its operations has not inspired support for General Marshall's wishes.

The recommendations of the Senate committee, if followed, should dispose of the chief objections to Marshall's plan. The proposal that relief be operated under an independent administrator of cabinet rank, assisted by a 12-member advisory committee of private citizens, would offer assurance that the interests of the American people—who will pay the bill—would be protected. It also should offer ample guarantee that they would be kept informed as to what goes on after the plan is in operation.

The indications are that most, if not all, the recommendations will be incorporated in whatever plan may be approved, and the prospects are brightened that a suitable relief measure can be speeded toward final enactment.

Russia Will Sponsor Eastern Germany Economic Commission

BERLIN, Feb. 13. (AP)—Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, Russian commander-in Germany, ordered the establishment today of an economic commission for eastern Germany—the Soviet occupation zone.

In so doing, he spurned repeated invitations to integrate the economy of the Russian zone with that of western Germany.

His order obviously was the Soviet answer to a strong economic union of the British and American zones. Sokolovsky previously demanded dissilution of that merger.

Has Broad Power

Sokolovsky granted the commission power "to issue orders and instructions binding on all German organizations in the Soviet zone of Germany in harmony with orders of the Soviet military administration."

The commission was empowered also to "examine questions of the re-establishment and development of peacetime industry in the Soviet zone of Germany as well as coordination of the activity of the central German administrative organs for individual branches of the economy."

The commission was ordered "to carry through according to plan reparations deliveries and to satisfy the needs of Soviet occupation forces in Germany."

In an authorized interview, an official of the central Soviet administration for finance denied the move represented establishment of an "east German government." He said the aim simply was "to reorganize the administrative body" for the Soviet zone.

The commission was told to set up an "executive committee" similar to that established for the economic council of the British and American forces.

Tech Exhibit Steers Bring High Price

Eight steers exhibited by Texas Technological college at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show brought an unofficial record price of from 43 to 45 cents per pound which brought an average of $484.69 for each steer, W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture announced Thursday.

Of the 12 steers entered in the show eight were sold at the auction Feb. 6 and the other four were returned to the college for further feeding. Six of those sold were Aberdeen Angus and two were Herefords. The average weight of all the steers was 1,095 pounds.

"The price received for these steers is the highest ever paid for show steers at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show," Dean Stangel stated.

Engineer Graduates Receive Recognition

Five graduates of Texas Technological college were recently voted registration by the Texas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and will be issued certificates, O. V. Adams, dean of engineering announced Thursday.

When issued a certificate of registration, they will be authorized to practice professional engineering and to affix their seals to plans and specifications in accordance with the state law. Such laws are now in effect in all 48 states.

Those voted registration are: H. H. Hinson, a graduate of 1934 and now employed by the Bureau of Mines at Amarillo; L. J. Powers, a 1939 graduate and now a professor of mechanical engineering at Texas Tech; Homer Ray, date of his graduation and his present position are not available; B. A. Schmidt, a graduate of 1929 and now an electrical engineer employed by the government; and T. C. Williams, jr., a 1941 petroleum engineering graduate. His present position is unknown but it is believed that he may still be in the service.

In order to be voted registration, the candidate must practice engineering for a period of four years and successfully pass certain conditions and specifications laid down by the government.

Midland Youth Specializes In Collection Of Animal Skulls

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Earl Chapman, Jr., lanky, sober-eyed youth of Midland, Tex., has the flair and fire of a collector.

"I just naturally hate to throw interesting things away," he explains. He hasn't.

A 14-year-old high school freshman who plays bass horn in the Midland high school band, he dotes especially on his skull collection.

Wants Human Skull

Suspended eerily from the ceiling of his trophy room are the skulls of a crow, hawk, skunk, prairie dog, fox, possum, cat, horse, cow, coyote, badger, bass, alligator gar, turtle, goat, ram and pheasant.

Young Chapman says he is begging an uncle, Dr. W. Purvince of Pampa, Tex., to send him a human skull. The doctor hasn't done it.

Possum, skunk and fox skins cover the floor and the window is full of animal bones.

A desk supports a general assortment of shells, skeletons, a turtle hull and relics of both world wars. A stuffed fish, smoky lantern and rifles decorate the walls.

Earl's pets have included an armadillo, white rats, possums, guinea pigs, a variety of live worms and 11 garter snakes.

Mother Is Tolerant

Mrs. Chapman says a mother who hasn't come home to find her son staging a snake race in the middle of the living room hasn't lived. It happened to her.

"What is your ambition?" we asked Earl, and got the following reply:

"I would like to just hunt, boy do I love to hunt. Man, would it be fun to go off on one of those long African safairis, but where would I get that kind of money? Do you have any ideas? I thought if I couldn't do that I would like to be an archeologist or anything that doesn't have arithmetic in it."

Labor's Plan For Settlement Of Disputes Nearing Reality

DALLAS, Feb. 13 (AP)—Labor's plan for settlement of jurisdictional disputes in the building industry is moving toward reality.

The Associated General Contractors of America yesterday approved the plan proposed by Richard J. Gray, American Federation of Labor official.

The group then appointed four members to a board of trustees created in the plan.

Gray's proposal calls for a five-man board. Jurisdictional disputes not settled locally within 10 days would be referred to it for action.

Two members of labor and two of business would serve on the board with an impartial chairman.

The four employer representatives appointed will, with four from labor, select the impartial chairman. He will then appoint the two members of labor and business to serve on the joint board.

Named here were Edward P. Palmer, New York City, and James D. Marshall, Washington, D. C., to represent general contractors.

Paul M. Geary, Washington, D. C., and H. R. Cole, Washington, D. C. to represent the seven national organizations of specialty contractors, which had ratified the joint board action on Feb. 10.

Gray told the contractors he expected the AFL council to ratify the plan and that "we can proceed immediately with representatives of the employers to put the board into operation."

The group selected New York City as site for its 30th annual meeting next year.

Officers elected included:

A. L. Atherton, Seattle, Wash., chairman of the Building division; S. L. Fuller, Pittsburgh, chairman of Heavy Construction and Railroad Contractor's division, and George C. Koss, Highway Contractors division.

Directors named were:

Donald W. Hall, Portland, Ore.; George Nilson, Great Falls, Mont.; William Curlett, Long Beach, Calif.; E. J. Maupin, Jr., Fallon, Nev.; Ellis W. Barker, Salt Lake City, Utah; Herman Brown, Houston, Texas; J. L. Allhands, Dallas; M. C Miller, McPherson, Kan.; E. W. Menefee, Sedalia, Mo.; J. R. Sweitzer, St. Paul, Minn.; L. C. Song Writer Of Another Era Happy In Piano-Playing Job

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—A bald-headed man called "Curly," who thirty years ago wrote hit dance tunes for Vernon and Irene Castle, is still tinkling a tuneful past for people who are homesick for yesterday.

He is Arthur N. Green, now billed as "The Man of A Million Melodies" but once known as America's dance king.

Pleasant Refuge

In his sixtieth year Curly pulses a battered piano in the Knickerbocker Music hall, a Manhattan theater cafe. It features old-time songs, variety acts and "The Wayward Maiden," a satire on the old-fashioned melodramas.

Green has found pleasant anchorage in this last refuge of vaudeville, which is popular both with college kids and old-timers who come to shed an alcoholic tear over the songs of their youth.

"It's funny about the old tunes —they're like life itself," said Curly, whose fingers are a rippling anthology of the last half century of music. "They're popular for a while and then lose out. But every so often they come back again—as a new generation comes along to enjoy them."

Each night he lives over his life again as he tinkles out 200 to 300 tunes.

Few people now request any of the thirty numbers he wrote himself, except lonely, beleagured Elks who call for "Hello Bill," the official lodge song. But more than three decades ago people in the streets hummed his now half-forgotten novelty, "If I Catch The Guy Who Wrote Poor Butterfly."

Quits Song Writing

And an American weary of the waltz turned eagerly to the new dance rhythms Green composed for the famous Castle team—"Tango Argentino," the first tango written in this country, "Innovation Tango," "Sans Souci," the "Half and Half" and "Raggin' The Old Virginia Reel."

The death of Vernon Castle in an air crash in 1918 broke up his hit parade. Castle had been his close friend.

"For twenty years I couldn't write a note," Curly said.

He went into vaudeville with his wife. They were a featured act on the "four-a-day" circuits for years until something happened to vaudeville that shouldn't happen—even to vaudeville.

Green retired but he's back again now. He's turned out a new catchy dance temno—"kind of a boogie-woogie with a rhumba rhythm"—which he says is catching on in Harlem.

"Writing a melody is easy," he said, "I can do it in 15 minutes and base it on anything—a phone number, a car license, the figures on a dollar bill.

Hit Tune Enigma

"But turning out a hit tune? There's no rhyme or reason to that. Writing a hit song is like throwing dice—you can come up with a natural any time."

Green believes women may write the best American songs in the next generation.

"There've been only a few in the history of popular music," he said. "But women are turning more and more to new fields, and some are bound to put their thoughts in music."

I asked Curly if through the years he hadn't developed a phobia against familiar tunes he has played thousands of times.

The Proudest Memory

"How can you dislike anything that has a melody?" he said.

One of his proudest memories is the day in 1917 when the late George M. Cohan stepped into a music house humming a tune he had just composed. He wanted it written down. Green volunteered.

"I think Cohan got the tune from listening to the railroad wheels that morning as he rode in," he recalled. "There wasn't a piano handy, so I just wrote down the notes as he hummed them."

The tune was "Over There." Green still has the original copy, signed by Cohan, in the scrapbook all show people keep to cheer them through the rainy days.

Enrollment At Texas Tech Totals 5,562

Spring enrollment at Texas Technological college has reached a record with 5,562 students having paid their fees up to late Thursday afternoon, the office of the registrar has announced.

"Although enrollment usually drops off considerably in the spring, we are losing a minimum of students this year and final enrollment will probably reach 5,600," W. P. Clement, registrar, stated, pointing out that these are not official figures, which may be considerably higher.

Of the above total, approximately 2,809 are veterans, according to an estimate by the coordinator of veterans affairs. Records show that 2,863 started the registration process with 54 being dropped so far. Final registration for the fall semester showed 6,114 students enrolled, 2,806 of whom were veterans.

Official figures on the enrollment are being delayed due to the fact that the IBM machines ordered by the college have not arrived as yet and, until they do, the handling of registration material is being done by machines at Lubbock Army Air Field and down town which causes some confusion and slows down the process.

Drastic Efforts Made To Evict Tenants

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13 (AP)—A landlord admitted today, Fire Marshal George Gallagher announced, that he deliberately started a fire in his West Philadelphia building to smoke out two second floor tenants he was trying to evict.

Richard Light, 55, was slated on arson charges after signing a statement, Gallagher reported.

Chemical Company Strike Postponed

GALVESTON, Feb. 13 (AP) — The Galveston News said a strike "deadline" today of six crafts at the Dow Chemical company's Freeport installation had been postponed.

The newspaper said its Freeport correspondent said developments in union-management negotiations at midnight last night was the reason.

A. P. Veutel, general manager of Dow's Texas division, told employes Wednesday that notice had been served by the Boilermakers, Brickmasons, Electricians, Painters, Pipefitters and Machinists unions that they would strike at 8 a. m. today "unless the company makes a higher offer on wages."

Veutel said five of the unions had notified Dow of the proposed action Tuesday and said the Machinists union filed its notice Feb. 3.

The News correspondent said he had been informed the unions seek an average $1.99 hourly wage scale and that the company has offered a 10 to 12 cent increase over its average $1.81 hourly rate.

Woman Dead 4 Days Before Body Found

GALVESTON, Feb. 13 (AP) — Iris Marie Thompson, 34-year-old native of Houston was found dead at her residence here today by neighbors. Investigating officers said she had been dead for at least four days.

Justice of The Peace James L. McKenna ordered an inquest and returned a verdict of death "due to natural causes."

On the "ounce of prevention" theory, here's a simple method to "de-lump" gravies. For the flour-water paste to thicken gravy, put flour into a small jar of luke-warm water. Cover the jar and shake once or twice. You'll find a smooth creamy mixture with nary a lump. Add gradually to the boiling gravy, stirring constantly. Season, serve . . . then listen to the "'h-m-mm's!"

MEADOLAKE MARGARINE is easier to color if you dissolve the contents of the color packet in a teaspoon of warm water in the bowl. Add the softened margarine and mix. You'll find the color MORE evenly distributed and LESS MEADOLAKE sticks to the bowl.

SAVING STUNT: Serve a hot vegetable in the bowl you used for coloring MEADOLAKE to enjoy every last molecule of food value and delicious flavor.

APPLE ROLLS
(Like Grandma used to make)
*2 cups Biscuit Mix
Milk (about 3/4 cup)
1 cup thick applesauce
1/2 cup MEADOLAKE Margarine
2 cups sugar 1 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla

Boil sugar and water together 5 minutes. Add vanilla. Add milk to Biscuit Mix to make a soft dough. Roll into a rectangle about 7 x 10 inches and spread with applesauce. Roll as a jelly roll then cut crosswise into 6 slices. Melt MEADOLAKE MARGARINE in a 9x9x2" pan. Place slices, cut side down, in pan and pour boiling syrup over all. Place at once in a hot oven (450 degrees) and bake 30 minutes or until done. Serve with plain or whipped cream or hot with hard sauce.

"FEATURING QUALITY FOODS"

Only Senate Approval Remains To Give Statehood To Hawaii

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. — Statehood for Hawaii this year depends on the Senate. It may approve.

An okay by both houses of Congress is all that's needed to make any territory like Hawaii a state. The House approved last summer.

Statehood Opposed

There's less chance for Alaska, also a territory, to become a state this year. Neither House has acted on Alaska.

Hawaii—eight islands in the Pacific 2,300 miles from the West Coast—has a population of about 500,000.

In area it's larger than Delaware, Connecticut and Rhode Island. Its three biggest products: Pifieapples, sugar, coffee.

Not everyone in Hawaii wants statehood. The majority do. The people there voted on the question in 1940 .The result: 67 per cent voted for it.

Some congressmen oppose it. Some arguments against making it a state go this way:

1. This country's 48 states, solidly grouped together, have two oceans for a frontier. Making Hawaii a state would extend the frontier 2,300 miles into the Pacific.

2. The citizens there who are of Japanese descent might control the islands if they voted together as a group.

3. Rep. Sabath, Illinois Democrat, says the islands are under the thumb of five big corporations which control the sugar-pineapple output.

He says "I feel it would be a dangerous thing to allow that combination to control the sovereign state of Hawaii."

Statehood Favored

For the rest of this story here are arguments for letting it become a state:

As citizens of a territory, the people there have had local self-government more than 40 years, so they're experienced in government.

They elect their own legislature of 30 House members and 15 Senators. The people there—or 85 per cent of them—are U. S. citizens. They pay the same taxes people in the states pay.

But, except for the legislature and a delegate to Congress, they can't elect their officials:

The President of the United States appoints the governor and all the judges.

Although the Hawaiians elect a delegate to Congress he can't vote there. He is a representative without power.

Which means the Hawaiians have no say-so in the U. S. government although it's controlled by that government.

If it became a state it could elect its own governor, have two full-fledged U. S. Senators and at least one voting congressman.

Islands Can't Vote

Now the people of the islands can't even vote for the President and vice-president of the United States.

In 1900 Congress passed an act making Hawaii a territory. Congress at any time can, by another act, take away even that benefit. If Hawaii were a state, Congress couldn't do anything to it that can't be done to any other state.

For instance: There's a law forbidding Hawaiians to refine the sugar they grow except for what they eat themselves. The sugar has to be sent to the U. S. mainland to be refined.

Congress couldn't discriminate against a state like that.

Hawaiians of Japanese descent had a notable war record. There's no need to fear bloc voting by the Japanese. Like other peoples, they're divided among themselves by social, political and economic differences.

Hawaii has, with its more than 500,000 people, a population larger than any other state, except Oklahoma, when it was admitted to the Union.

Domination of a large part of Hawaiia's economy by the "Big Five" companies hasn't prevented many and varied businesses from opening up.

This country annexed Hawaii in 1898. It had been a kingdom until 1891.

There are few full-blooded Hawaiians left. They've declined from an estimated 300,000 persons in 1778 to about 10,000 now.

Girl's 54-Year-Old Suitor In Custody

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Shirley Auld, 13, was in custody of juvenile authorities today after police said they thwarted her plans to elope to Kentucky with Harry Rees, her 54-year-old suitor.

The pretty teen-age Shirley, showing police her wedding gown, told Acting Lieut. Rupert Fallon: "I still love him and I still want to get married."

Rees, co-owner of a tourist camp in suburban Harvey where Shirley had been living with her parents and three other children, was held on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

They were seized in a North Side hotel where they had registered as uncle and niece and stayed in separate rooms. Shirley said she left the tourist camp with Rees last Saturday and they planned to be married in Kentucky, where they believed the legal marrying age is 15.

GOP Nominees Pledge Support Of Stassen

DALLAS, Feb. 13. (AP)—Four candidates for nomination as delegates to the Republican national convention today had pledged themselves to vote for Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota for GOP presidential nominee.

The four, all from Dallas county, are Mrs. James C. Oehler, Coburn A. Buxton, seeking delegate posts; Joseph W. Riley and Mrs. J. A. Avant for alternate places.

The group sent a telegram last night to Stassen saying they will enter precinct and county conventions.

All of the four are representatives of the Citizens for Stassen club of Dallas.

Mrs. Oehler is a member of the Republican state executive committee.

GOP Lincoln Day Orators Hurl Charges Of Bungling At Demos

(By The United Press)

Republican Lincoln Day speakers accused the Democratic administration of bungling at home and bungling abroad, and predicted the election of a GOP President in November.

In the flurry of Republican oratory in the past 24 hours, Gov Thomas E. Dewey, Sen. Robert A. Taft and Harold E. Stassen trained their guns on the foreign policy of President Truman whom each hopes to succeed in the White House. Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr., Senate Whip Kenneth Wherry and others blasted the President's domestic policies.

Democrats will reply next Thursday at their annual Jackson-Jefferson Day dinners.

Dewey, in his first major address since announcing his availability for the GOP nomination, denounced some administration foreign policies as a "betrayal of the American ideal." The New York governor told a Boston audience that U. S. mistakes and compromises have helped the "very scheme of Soviet world conquest."

Taft declared that the "losing of the peace thus far" is a "clear-cut Democratic responsibility."

Speaking in Stassen's home city of St. Paul, Minn., Taft pledged himself to an "entirely courteous" campaign for delegates against his rival in Ohio. He recalled having asked Stassen to steer clear of the Ohio primary and added with a smile: By May 4, I think he will find that my advice was good."

Stassen, in a speech at Germantown, Pa., urged that this country stop sending machinery to Russia unless the Soviet government cooperates in the rehabilitation of Europe. He cautioned against a surrender to 'the insidious whisper that war is inevitable."

Highlights of other major addresses:

Gov. Earl Warren of California (an avowed Presidential candidate) speaking from Los Angeles: "The Republican party will go forward if we, like Lincoln, are people who care."

Speaker Martin, from New York: "What we need is more of the spirit of '76, and less of the spirit of 76,000 bureaucratic regulations. To get that spirit we must have a Republican president and a Republican Congress. And that is what we will have next January."

Senate Whip Wherry from Huntington, W. Va.: "The President is confused on domestic issues and foreign issues also . . . It's the old story—the New Deal technique—demanding the blank check and the rubber stamp."

Human Liberty Ignored

Chairman Carroll Reece of the GOP national committee from Indianapolis, Ind.: "The administration . . . has sought to subvert or destroy the things for which Lincoln fought and for which he died."

Former Rep. Clare Boothe Luce, Conn., speaking from San Bernardino, Cal.: "Human liberty isn't the thing the Democratic party cares most about. Maybe you'd like to see the poll tax abolished, and an anti-lynching bill passed. Well then, I expect you'll have to go for the party of Abraham Lincoln.

Two Pupils At Texas Tech Award Winners

Two architecture students at Texas Technological college have won an honorable mention and an award of $15 each for plans submitted to the Interdenominational Bureau of Architecture in a contest for the best design for church buildings, F. A. Kleinschmidt, head of the architecture department announced Thursday.

Those receiving the awards are Sidney Key, senior from Lubbock and Barbara Gilbert, senior from San Antonio.

Deadline for the contest, sponsored by the Church Architectural Guild of America and the Christian Herald, and held in New York, was May 21, 1947 and was judged by a five man jury of architects. Due to the great volume of designs received it was not possible to judge them and notify all winners until early this year.

In addition to the two who won honorable mentions there were three other students from Texas Tech who entered drawings, including Marion Wilson, Hugh English and George Padillo.

The Interdenominational Bureau of Architecture exists for the purpose of studying church building and improvement problems and assemble a building program and is the church building council for 25 denominations. Headquarters are in New York City.

Bride Relates Ride With Ex-Boy Friend

BLACKSHEAR, Ga., Feb. 13 (AP)—A 14-year-old high school bride, whisked away from her husband 15 minutes after she was married, returned to her rural home near here tonight and told authorities the details of a week-long escapade with a former boy friend.

Blonde, blue-eyed Mildred Aspinwall Teston told Sheriff L. L. Taylor that James B. Davis drove off with her in a motor car as her husband stood bewildered at a roadside soft drink place. She said he took her to Savannah, Ga., where they had sexual relations, then led her on a wild ride to Lookout mountain, Tenn.

The girl's 19-year-old farmer husband, Doniver Teston, said he was ready and eager to take Mildred back "if all this is not her fault."

Sheriff Taylor said the girl told him that Davis put her on a bus at Macon, Ga., gave her $2, and told her to go on back home.

Sheriff Taylor said he had a kidnap warrant for Davis' arrest.

Press Association Secretary Resigns

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 13 (AP) Morris P. Moore has resigned as secretary-manager of the Oklahoma Press association to accept the position of general manager of the Brownsville, Texas, Herald.

Moore announced his resignation only since last December, when Vernon Sanford quit to take a Texas job.

ILLNESS ENDS ON A HAPPY NOTE—The lullabies that Mrs. Edna Beeler, of Knoxville, Tenn., always wanted to sing to her 15-month-old daughter, Brenda Sue, were locked in her heart because a throat infection had kept her from speaking above a whisper for 15 of her 21 years. A recent operation in a Philadelphia, Pa., hospital restored her voice to full power and now she sings a song of happiness.

Retired Naval Officer Recalls Ship Blast That Started A War

By ALAN WADE
United Press Staff Writer

WORCESTER, Mass., Feb. 13—Remember the Maine?

Rear Admiral Wat Tyler Cluverius does—as vividly as though the disaster occurred only yesterday instead of 50 years ago Sunday.

268 Are Killed

This retired naval officer is one of the few living survivors of the blast that started the Spanish-American war—the blowing up of the U. S. Battleship Maine in Havana harbor.

Admiral Cluverius, now 73, recalled today how 268 of his shipmates drowned or burned to death in their hammocks as the 6,000-ton warship went down after two mysterious explosions.

Then a midshipman, Cluverius was stripped down to his undershirt and pants on the hot stifling night of Feb. 15, 1898 when, at 9:40 p. m., "there was a small explosion followed by a terrific detonation."

"The after part of the ship seemed to sink under my feet," he recalled today.

"I found myself trying desperately to crawl out through a tiny porthole. The salt water poured in over me and I jumped back into the officers' mess, splashing through the darkness.

Eight Living Survivors

"I joined up with (the late) Amon Bronson of Rochester, N. Y., and we started forward where we could hear screams," Cluverius—now president of Worcester Polytechnic institute—said.

"We couldn't get through the steel ladders and wreckage and the water was up to our waist by this time. We finally got out by pulling ourselves up over a hatch coaming."

"Up on the poop deck we found everyone who had escaped, including the only other living survivor with whom I have maintained contact, David F. Boyd, now a retired captain, of Santa Fe, N. M."

Cluverius said he thought six sailors from the ship also were living today.

Mine Believed Cause

"We finally got off in a boat from the civilian ship City of Washington," Culverius said. "We tried to get forward to the others but could not. Some of them were trapped and burned as they lay in their hammocks."

Culverius said the court of inquiry into the disaster determined that an "external force," perhaps a mine, had exploded under the ship and touched off the Maine's forward magazine.

City Penalized

credits for 1942 through 1946:

Year	Net Premiums	Net Losses	5-Year Credits (Or Penalties)
1942	$151,157	$122,665	15, 20, 20, 20, 15
1943	188,970	103,523	20, 20, 20, 15, 15
1944	239,865	66,997	20, 20, 15, 15, 10
1945	345,706	143,035	20, 15, 15, 10, 10
1946	520,693	675,730	15, 15, 10, 10,-15

The figures for 1947 have not yet been received from Austin.

Two of the largest fires in 1946 were the Standard Milling company and Dunlap's department store fires.

Credits for good fire records range from 5 to 25 percent, and penalties vary from 5 to 15 percent, State Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall said at Austin in issuing the list, the Associated Press reported.

Thirty-one towns were neutral, receiving neither credit nor penalty on fire insurance rates for 1948.

"Present credits and penalties are compiled from records of the past five years," Hall explained. "So 1948 compilations were derived from the total losses of each town from its fire losses from 1943 through 1947."

Many Given Credits

As compared with last year, 1,932 towns improved their fire insurance records, while 135 were penalized for their high losses, and 372 towns have the exact standing they had in 1947.

Cities and towns receiving fire insurance credits include:

Abilene, 10 percent; Amarillo, 10; Austin, 10; Big Spring 10; Borger, 15; Corpus Christi, 15; Corsicana, 15; Denison, 5; Denton, 15; El Paso, 5; Gladewater 15; Kilgore, 15; Laredo, 5; Longview, 10; Lufkin, 15; McAllen, 25; Marlin, 5; Midland, 15; Odessa, 25; Pampa, 25; Plainview, 15; San Angelo, 10; Texas City, 20—complete losses from the Texas City disaster have not been paid off, and there has not been final determination of whether certain losses were the result of fire or explosion; this partly explains why Texas City has an insurance credit.

Texas City Heights, 25; Tyler, 15; Vernon, 5.

Fort Worth, Marshall and Waco were among the cities receiving neither credit nor penalty.

Penalized cities included:

Bryan, 15 per cent; Galveston, 5; Greenville, 5; Harlingen, 15; Garden Villas, 10; Lubbock, 10; Paris, 5 Temple, 10; Texarkana, 10; Wichita Falls, 15.

high-priced equipment would be used to protect private, commercial and business properties that have advanced in value just as fast.

OFFERS HIS HAND—After reading about the plight of Ursual Bauer, German girl who must become an American citizen, probably by marrying an American, to claim $19 million inheritance, John T. Martin, 22, Memphis, Tenn., wrote her a letter. He extolled the Memphis climate, Cotton Carnival, magnolias, river bluffs, cleanliness and beauty. "I tried to be subtle," he explained, adding that he made it clear he was not averse to marriage.

Women Wait To Hear Lincoln Day Speech

HOUSTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—The Republican Women's club of Houston had a four-hour wait to hear their Lincoln Day speaker.

Harry P. Cain, U. S. Senator from Washington state, was delayed by weather on his plane flight from Denver, Colo., here last night.

Cain was scheduled to speak at 7 p. m., and he arrived at 11 p. m.

Many of the 200 Republican women and their guests were still present when the Senator finally arrived.

Negro Is Victim In Pool Hall Affray

DALLAS, Feb. 13 (AP) — Edward Brookins, Dallas negro, was shot to death early today in a pool hall, and police immediately filed murder charges against Richard Clark, another negro.

Officers' statements said the two had a dispute a week ago.

Today, Clark came into the pool hall and said he wanted to see Brookins, the officers said. Brookins started toward Clark, who whipped a blue steel automatic out of a coat pocket and fired. Brookins crumpled to the floor. He had been hit in the chest and neck, and died instantly.

Tech Service

farmer needs only to transmit his request to one of the offices mentioned, stating the number of the cows and the breed. A charge of six dollars will be made at the time of insimination and if the service fails, as many as two additional services will be performed without charge. Results of the program compare favorably with results shown in herds where records of natural service have been kept.

Initial financial assitance in setting up the project was given by the Great National Life Insurance company and by the milk distributors of Lubbock. In addition to providing artificial breeding service to local farmers, the project plan contemplates producing semen for shipment to areas adjacent to Lubbock county. At the present time, however, it is not prepared or equipped to make such shipments, Fine said.
