Highway Dept. To Eliminate Danger Spot

The intersection of Highway 35 North and Fulton Beach Road at the north edge of Rockport is a hazardous spot—particularly for southbound drivers on Fulton Beach Road who carelessly dart onto Highway 35, sometimes unsuccessfully.

Now comes the news that State Highway Department is going to eliminate this danger spot.

Mayor Delmar R. Hiller reported at Monday night's City Council meeting that Travis Long of the Highway Department had informed him that the following steps will be taken:

Fulton Beach Road, from its intersection with Highway 35 and continuing a short distance north will be designated as one-way north.

For the southbound motorists traveling on Fulton Beach Road and heading for 35, a new road will be built from Fulton Beach Road to 35, meeting 35 at a right angle, which will produce a safer way to get on 35.

R. L. Eckman Burned In Accident

R. L. Eckman is recovering at his home from painful burns to his face and body resulting from a fire in his backyard last Saturday.

He had attempted to burn some dead cactus and, thinking that the flame had died out he poured on some gasoline.

Flames shot up immediately and in attempting to move quickly from the spot Eckman spilled gasoline on his shirt. In less than a second, his shirt was in flames.

While he was tearing his shirt off, Mrs. Eckman picked up a hose and and drenched him with water.

The caption says, "The idea of the month award goes to Gordon Stanley, Marineland, Rockport, Texas. In Texas you pay extra for special license plates. Gordon decided it was worth the money to have plates which read: MOTORS. He's received a lot of comment from customers and prospects on the plates."

He is also featured in Evinrude advertisement in The Boating Industry Magazine and Marine Products Magazine saying:

"In Texas we think big . . . big sales, big profits, and big crowds. That's why we're now selling Evinrudes." Gordon Stanley, Marineland, Rockport, Texas.

Firemen From 438 Cities At School

The Texas A&M Firemen's Training School at College Station, which was attended by three Rockport volunteer firemen, attracted fire fighters from 438 Texas cities.

Representing Rockport were Fire Marshal Elva Mullinax, Fire Chief Coy C. Truelove and First Assistant Chief John Ray, Jr. By sending two men and the fire marshal, Rockport receives a five per cent insurance key rate credit.

The 1,681 participants from 25 states and five military installations impressed visitors with a spectacular fire fighting show at the $100,000 Brayton Training Field.

Mullinax said all fire marshals attending the school were urged to warn people in their home towns that strict enforcement of two regulations in particular is expected.

No. 1 is the regulation which forbids service stations from pouring gasoline into glass containers. The containers must be metal.

No. 2 is the law regarding removal of latches from ald refrigerators, so it is impossible for any child to lock himself inside and suffocate.

Shrimp Landings Lower Than '65

Landings of headless shrimp in Texas during June amounted to 2.6 millions pounds, which was 559,000 pounds below the landings in June 1965, according to Orman H. Farley of the U S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

The sharp over-all decline in current landings resulted from a drop of over 100 per cent in pink shrimp landings from Campeche and small brown shrimp from the Galveston and Matagorda Bay systems.

Landings from Aransas and San Antonio Bays were up, compared to June 1965. The Brownsville-Port Isabel area accounted for 42 per cent of the current June landings and 50 per cent of the state's total January-June landings.

A breakdown of the production figures showed:

Port Arthur-Sabine area: 76,600 pounds, January 1966; 542,600 pounds, January-June, 1966; 525.400 pounds, January-June 1965.

Galveston - Seabrook area: 296,400, June 1966; 849,000, January-June 1966; 1,035,900, January-June 1965.

Freeport area: 229,400, June 1966; 1,028,800, January-June 1966; 920,900, January-June 1965.

Matagorda - Palacios area: 32,200, June 1966; 131,900, January-June 1966; 267,400 January-June 1965.

Port Lavaca-Port O'Connor Seadrift area: 177,500, June 1966; 438,600, January-June 1966; 486,900, January-June 1965.

Aransas Pass -Rockport area: 690,300, June 1966; 2,387,200, January-June 1966; 2,286,500, January-June 1965.

Brownsville - Port Isabel area: 1,111,300, June 1966; 5,319,700, January-June 1966; 6,309,400, January-June 1965.

Totals: 2,619,700, June 1966; 10,697,800, January-June 1966; 11,832,400, January-June 1965.

Trawl vessels working inshore Gulf waters made fair to good catches of large white shrimp from Cameron, La., to the Matagorda area. Some vessel captains reported trip averages of 300 pounds per 12 hours' work.

The 45 days' statutory closed season along the Texas coast was in effect throughout June; thus Gulf vessels with large trawls could not legally work waters inside of three leagues (10½ miles.)

Vessels working large brown shrimp in adjacent waters caught about 200 pounds per 12 hours in depths out to 40 fathoms. Small brown shrimp from bay areas moved offshore in erratic patterns in early June and did not show any massive concentration as is normal.

Blue crab landings totaled 370,000 pounds in June. This was 70,000 pounds below the landings in June 1965 Three major processors were operating in June 1966 and four in June 1965.

Several vessels were taken into custody by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and charged with fishing in closed waters regulated by this agency. In some cases vessel owners paid assessed penalties and forfeited part or all shrimp aboard the vessel. Others maintain they were outside the Texas statutory limits and are awaiting further legal processing.

New vessels entered the fishery weekly throughout June. Most are of ultra steel hull design and are having a profound effect upon the quality and quantity of the domestic Gulf fleet.

Another vessel was lost on the Freeport jetties in June as is a fairly common occurrence along the Texas coast. This hazard to disabled vessels could be easily and economically eliminated by a heavy cable suspended by buoys upon the large boulders that reinforce the jetty structure.

The ex-vessel value of shrimp remained near the record level over $1 per pound for the top three sizes and indications are thet the not too promising 1966 Texas crop may necessitate higher record

Little Bay Annexation Moves One Step Closer

The City Council took action Monday night which moved annexation of Little Bay Shores subdivision Unit No. 1 one step closer to reality.

The Council set Monday, Aug. 8 as the date for a public hearing at the City Hall in connection with the annexation proceedings. The hearing will begin at 7:30 p.m.

This action came after the Council received a petition from residents of Little Bay Shores requesting annexation. The petition contained the names of 57 out of 81 qualified voters living in the area, or approximately 70 per cent.

The petition was accompanied by an affidavit signed by Mrs. Pat Smith, Homer V. Faber and John P. Mitchell, Jr.

As pointed out in the July 1 issue of The Rockport Pilot, one of the leaders in the annexation move said, "It is recognized that most home owners (in Little Bay Shores) could pay city taxes now being assessed and still save money by being taken into the city."

As an example, he said, "If the water bill of a resident is now $10.43 a month, he would save $41.76 a year. If he had one bathroom he would save $10.56 per year. He would save $6 per year on garbage collection, and $10.92 on electricity."

In summarizing, he said the following yearly savings would be effected by annexation to the city: Water, $41.76; sewer, $10.55; garbage collection, $6; electricity, $10.92; fire insurance, $10.

Using a tax assessed valuation of $12,000, it was stated that this would produce city taxes of $60 which would mean that the home owner would save $18.24 a year by annexation.

In another matter considered by the Council, the aldermen heard a request by Robert Turk of the Key Allegro Island Development Corporation asking the city to assist Key Allegro increase its water supply.

Turk asked the city to consider laying approximately 2,875 feet of 10-inch pipe from a point near the Masonic Temple to a point near the edge of Little Bay Shores.

From that point, Turk said, Key Allegro would run an 8-inch pipe to its water system.

He said about 60,000 gallons of water a day are now being used at Key Allegro and that the corporation wishes to increase its water supply for future expansion.

Regarding the cost, Turk said Key Allegro is prepared to pay for part of the city expenditure which would amount to more than 30 per cent. This would cut the city's cost from something over $9,000 to a figure in the $5,400 to $5,600 range, according to rough estimates.

The Council voted to accept the proposal subject to acceptance of a formal, detailed contract regarding the project.

The next action by the Council was agreement to accept a $59,160 Federal grant which will help finance the cost of a new sewage treatment plant at a later date.

On Dec. 7, Rockport residents voted in favor of a $300,000 water and sewer bond issue, with $175,000 for expansion and improvement of water facilities, and $125,000 for expansion and improvement of sewer facilities.

With these funds available, plus the Federal Grant, the city now is considering plans for the new sewage treatment plant. At the Council meeting, it was pointed out that the new plant will increase the capacity to take care of a population of 5,000 as compared to the present capacity for 3,800 people.

Also, it was explained by Consulting Engineer William McClendon that the new plant can be expanded later to take care of the needs of up to 10,000 people.

Regarding zoning matters, the Council set Tuesday, Aug. 16 for a public hearing before the Council and the Planning and Zoning Commission to conseder requests for special permits in connection with the zoning ordinance. The hearing will be held in the City Hall at 8 p.m. Applications for matters to be considered at the hearing must be made at the City Hall by Thursday, July 27, Mayor Hiller said.

Mrs. Ruth Gwynn asked the Council for permission to let her trailer remain on a lot she owns. It was placed there after the zoning ordinance was passed requiring city permission to place a trailer on a private lot (other than trailer courts.)

The Council agreed to let it remain, subject to any actions that might take place at the Aug. 16 hearing.

Race Horse Story Brings Response

Recently The Pilot published a story about John McLester carrying in his pocket a 1955 newspaper clipping telling about a race horse named after Rockport.

This week The Pilot received the following letter from Edwin A. Warren who maintains homes in Middleton, Ohio and Fulton:

"The news story is correct. Clifford Mooers did own Old Rockport and he was named for your town. To my knowledge, Old Rockport was never run in the Derby but he did run at Keeneland, that beautiful track in Lexington, Ky.

"Enclosed is a photo of Old Rockport taken with my daughter, Martha Anne, during the spring meet at Keeneland in 1958. She was a student at the University of Kentucky at the time.

"I understood that Mr. Mooers was an admirer of the Kentucy Blue Grass country and maintained a horse farm near Boerne, Texas, styled after the Kentucky farms.

"At the time the photo was taken we were attracted to Old Rockport because of our love for the Rockport-Fulton area. It's a small world."

BENEFIT BALL GAME SUNDAY

On Sunday, July 31 at 3 p.m., the Seamen's Lions Club will sponsor a benefit baseball game between the Rockport Tigers and the Corpus Christi Colts at Merchants Field. This promises to be an exciting game. The Tigers played in Mexico July 24 and lost by only one run.

There will be refreshments such as watermelon by the slice, sandwiches and popcorn.

Mrs. Bill Straley, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, will attend the School of Missions at Mount Wesley in Kerrville, Aug. 1-5.

Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Mrs. D. L. Kight, Jo Dale Roden of Rockport, Kay Oliver of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Dewey Wilson and daughters, and Onie Knudsen spent three days at Six Flags over Texas.

Sportsmen to See Two Fishing Films

The Rockport Sportsmen Conservation Association will see two outstanding fishing films at a meeting in the Colony Room at the Sandollar Motel at 8 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 6.

Alec S. Alexandre, vice president of Club de Panama of Dallas, will show the films which are sound color movies with a running time of 27 minutes each.

One film, tilted "Fabulous Fishing in Panama," was chosen as the best sports fishing film of 1964, and the second, "Panama Paradise," recently received an "Outstanding Award" in the Michigan Film Festival.

Some of the highlights of these films will be shots taken at the annual Club de Pesca de Panama fishing tournament in Pinas Bay 140 miles southeast of the Panama Canal.

The current tourney, which started May 15 and will continue to Sept. 30, will offer as first prize a 1966 Cadillac.

Accident Rate Up In July

Chief of Police Bob Hewes reports that the accident rate and property damage this month is higher than a year ago but the number of injuries remains the same.

With two accidents last weekend, one on July 24 and one on July 25, total accidents for the month reached six as compared to five a year ago.

Property damage so far this year was estimated at $2,091 compared to $1,225 in 1965. Injuries totaled two, the same as a year ago.

On July 24, a collision occured at Broadway and Laurel Streets involving cars driven by Robert McGehee of Rockported and Ed Chovanetz of Hallettsville. No one was injured, and the estimated damage was $450.

In an accident July 25 in front of Wagley Lumber Co., Charlie W. Hamm of Fort Worth was slightly injured and taken to a physician's office by Deputy Sheriff Ernest Stautzenberger. Driver of the other car involved was Oscar Dameron of Rockport.

Both accidents were investigated by Chief Hewes. Deputy Sheriff Joe De La Garza and City Patrolman Joe Dominguez assisted Hewes at the first accident, and Stautzenberger at the second.

Twice, readers have suggested items related to the Post Office: 1) pointing out the proper way to back out of the diagonal parking places and proceed on your way, and 2) recommending that people do NOT sit in their parked cars and read their mail.

Now another reader suggests a third item pertaining to the Post Office.

"Tell people," she urges, "that when they park PLEASE stay within the diagonal markers; don't straddle them and take up two places."

Last week he was driving around Rockport in a long, low sports car with right hand drive. Tho those of you who are car buffs and may have wondered what make of car it was—it was an English-built Allard chassis powered by a Ford engine.

Some women cook the hard way

They're the women who have the kind of ranges they have to wait on. They turn on a burner and wait for the heat. Then if they need to adjust the heat, they have to wait for that too. And when they turn the heat off their ranges keep right on cooking.

They're the ones that have to leave the oven door open to broil a steak, so their kitchens get hot and smoky. And they get those whooping electric bills every month.

They're NOT the women who cook on modern gas ranges of course. There's no waiting for them. When they turn a burner on they have heat immediately. It's easy for them to adjust the heat because they can control it at once with the flick of a finger. And when they turn off the heat, it's really off.

They don't heat up or smoke up their kitchens when they broil, and all their cooking costs only pennies.

Stop by our showrooms and let us show you a modern gas range. Start cooking the EASY way.

MISS GENEVA SUE WEST IS BRIDE OF GERALD DEE DUPNIK OF ROCKPORT

In a double ring ceremony Friday night, Miss Geneva Sue West of Ingleside became the bride of Gerald Dee Dupnik of Rockport. The wedding was held in the First Christian Church in Aransas Pass with the Rev. Ron Hansen, Pastor reading the vows.

Baskets of gladioli and an archway of greenery formed the settiing for the ceremony. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Homer McCullough, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bill Tinsley of Ingleside and C. M. West of Aransas Pass. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dupnik of Rockport.

The bride's step-father, Bill Tinsley, escorted her to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride wore a formal length gown of white silk organza styled with an Empire bodice of Chantilly lace and a A-line skirt.

Her viel of illusion fell from a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of French carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Geraldine West, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marie West of Aransas Pass and Miss Patricia Green of Corpus Christi.

They wore dresses of yellow nylon dotted Swiss with matching pill box hats. The dresses were styled with Empire waist lines and were accented with white lace. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

Serving the groom as best man was Charles Cady Jr., nephew of the groom. Ushers were David West, brother of the bride, and Wayne Tinsley, stepbrother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a pink suit with white accessories. The groom's mother was unable to attend due to illness in the family.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over yellow clusters of bells tied with yellow streamers placed at intervals around the edge.

After a short wedding trip, the couple is at at home at 201 Humble St., Ingleside. For her going-away attire, the bride chose a pink linen suit with white accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

Guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor of Bay City, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cady of Rockport, Mrs. Ursula Green and daughter, Patricia of Corpus Christi and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Grisom of Gregory.

prices by November 1966. The ever-increasing cost of production and handling of both the raw and furnished product is an agonizing reality among all facets of the industry.

For years, many persons from fishing ports and adjacent areas have obtained varying degrees of their annual income from a family type operation wherein children could accompany parents in shrimp heading plants.

A family of five could make $30 to $40 a day with none of the children 16 or older. Under present labor laws, however, children under 16 years of age cannot work in these plants. In addition, persons who cannot meet piecework standards of $1.25 per hour are necessarily discharged by plant owners as their margin of profit will not allow the luxury of subsidizing older and/or less efficient employees.

South Zone Sports Get Dove Break

Austin.—South Zone hunters will again open the mourning dove season just preceding the peak population of this popular feathered migrant, according to E. A. Walker, director of wildlife services for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

He said this was assured when the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission set September 24 as the opening South Zone date.

Walker pointed out that the Department had collected considerable data on the mourning dove population trends during the last five years and the Department's recommendation for the early opening date to the Commission was based on this material.

Walker pointed out that 1965 was the first year for this type of study. However, over 19,500 wings were collected and the percentage of young birds in the bag remained rather constant during the four week check period.

He stated that difference in the number of young birds in the harvest from the first week as compared to the fourth week was on the order of 2 birds out of 100.

The season on mourning doves will be the same as last year in the North Zone.

Dates are Sept. 1 through Oct. 30 for 60 "half days" of shooting. The South Zone season will run from Sept. 24 through Nov. 22, except in those counties having a whitewing season where it will be Sept. 3, 4, 5, 9, 10, and 11, and Sept. 24 through Nov. 16.

The white-winged dove season has been increased by two "half days" and the bag and possession limit on this species was increased by 2 and 4 birds. respectively. This increase in the length of season and in the bag limit was provided by the Commission because of a significant increase in the number of breeding birds in the Rio Grande Valley. Dates for the whitewing season will be Sept. 3, 4, 5 and Sept. 9, 10, and 11.

Shooting hours for both species will be from noon to sunset. The daily bag limit for each species will be 12 birds each and the possession limit after the first day will be 24 birds of each species.

Counties in the whitewing zone are: Brewster, Brooks, Cameron, Culberson, Dimmit, El Paso, Hidalgo, Hudspeth, Jeff Davis, Jim Hogg, Kenedy, Kenny, La Salle, Maverick, Presidio, Starr, Terrell, Val Verde, Webb, Willacy and Zapata.

Financial Aid Available To Needy Students

A $10,000,000 state bond sale has launched a new "opportunity plan" designed to bring college educations within financial reach of all qualified Texas youth.

"Never again will students of this state be denied higher education because of lack of funds," commented John E. Gray of Beaumont, chairman of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. Initial bond sale was awarded to a Chicago bank.

Action by the Coordinating Board set in motion the loan plan approved by Texas voters as a Constitutional amendment last year. Amendment authorized a total of $85,000,000 in bonds to provide funds for students unable to continue education beyond high school without financial assistance. Initial $10,000,000 sale is believed to be more than adequate to carry the program through the first year.

Ceiling on available loans is $1,000 a year for undergraduates and $1,500 for graduates. Although a six per cent interest rate is authorized, the U. S. government will pay all interest while a student is in school—and half of it afterward for borrowers eligible for federal interest subsidy.

A borrower's family income must be less than $15,000. Loans are limited to the difference between available resources and reasonable expenses. Money will be available for the 1966 fall semester.

Interested students are advised to contact the financial assistance officer at the school of their choice. Applicants must be accepted for enrollment and have two recommendations.

Fire Prevention and You

Fire Marshall Elva Mullinax asks everyone in this area to remember the following basic precautions to help prevent fires:

—A collection of litter is a fertile spot for spontaneous combustion. Check your attic and garage and remove any combustibles that would spread a fire.

—Your dry cleaning plant is best qualified to do your cleaning, but if you do some of it at home, use safety solvents. Do not use gasoline, naptha, benzine or other highly flammable liquids.

—Defective wiring is a leading cause of home fires. Putting up with frayed wires, broken plugs and overloaded outlets is inviting trouble. Have your electrician check your wiring and fuse boxes.

—Keep matches in a closed container and, most important, out of reach of children.

—If you have the habit of smoking in bed—break it! Use safe ash trays and keep them in convenient places. Empty ash trays often and only in safe receptacles.

—Have furnaces and cleaning equipment cleaned and checked at least once a year by competent men.

—If clothing ignites, never run—it fans the flames. Roll up in a rug, blanket or anything else handy.

—An escape plan should be worked out for your particular home. Each member of the family should know what to do before a fire starts.

—Post you fire department number near your phone. When calling fire department, give correct address clearly and completely.
