

McLellan Takes Office Temporary Postmaster

Leo McLellan was this week named to the temporary office of postmaster at Friona.

McLellan and incumbent Sloan H. Osborn were notified of the appointment Tuesday morning in a letter from the postal inspector of this district.

The change was made at noon yesterday.

McLellan, Republican County Chairman, had placed his application some months ago for the position. Osborn, postmaster for the past twenty years, submitted his

Understand the city is compelled to do something about trash being burned in trash barrels (seems that the garbage truck has been known to catch on fire from such practices).

So don't be surprised if the fire alarm is sounded and the fire department is called out next time you burn that trash!

We never did get that last fishing trip this year. And now the trout season is over. But guess we aren't the only ones felled in our fishing plans.

Carl Maurer just received two fine rods from Tokyo, Japan, one a super-uper fly rod and the other for deep sea fishing. Mutt Hollis, local boy and former employee of the Maurer firm, sent these two rods from his station in Japan.

We'll bet Carl heads somewhere to use one of them the very first day of the season next Spring.

It had to happen! Got a card this week from a party wanting their subscription stopped, for obvious reasons. Checking found that the subscription hadn't been paid since 1951!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Friends:

In my mind I have started at least a dozen letters to you all since last spring, but the words never materialized on paper; how-CALITY was just too much of a headline to resist — had to sit right down and let you know that I got just as much of a thrill out of that as if I had been right there praying for rain with everyone else all these months. Seems like we were always praying for rain to help the crops or not for rain to ruin the crops when I was little, and apparently times haven't changed — nor the Panhandle either. Certainly hope this is an indication of a change and that there will be some wheat to harvest next summer, although irrigation and a wider variety in type of crops have made a vast difference in the area. At least there's a chance that everyone won't starve at once, which definitely wasn't the case in the old days of wheat, wheat everywhere — and not a drop of rain, if you'll forgive the paraphrasing of Coleridge.

Also overjoyed to see that the Chieftains won a game — hope they took Farwell Friday night. Do they still have the big rallies downtown and then parade out to the football field? May's the night my poor little flute and I nearly froze tooting our way up Main street and down the highway to the field.

Have been reading the letter Big Minnie with interest, and was duly impressed to see that the school system has developed to the point of being called a "campus" complete with an inter-com setup. There's not two ways about it — FRIONA IS GROWING.

Speaking of growth, from what I read and hear, in the 10 months since I was last home, Friona has a new drug store, a children's clothing store, a drive-in theatre, a fancy Piggy Wiggly, the Lewi's have remodelled their store, the Knox's store has moved to a new

Funeral services will be held this afternoon in Littlefield for Billie Joe Dohser, Friona man who died Tuesday afternoon from injuries suffered in a highway accident Monday night.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church at Littlefield.

Dohser, an employee of the Massey Bros. Drilling Company since February, was injured when the company 1953 International pickup was overturned near St. Francis, 10 miles northeast of Amarillo. He was returning from a visit at Borger, accompanied by a cousin, Norman P. Lane of Lubbock who was on leave from the Navy. Lane was hospitalized at the Amarillo Air Force Base hospital, but his condition was not considered critical. It is not known here which of the two was driving the pickup which overturned several times, resulting in total loss.

Mr. Dohser was born Aug. 8, 1929, at Tipton, Okla. He served in the navy during the last war, and had made his home at Littlefield until coming to Friona. Survivors included the wife, Mrs. Dorothy Louise Dohser, a son, Terry Randall, and his father, A. L. Dohser of Littlefield.

Among the pallbearers will be Ed Hall, Everett Horner, R. A. Massey, Jim Rule and C. T. Stowers of Friona.

Trash Burning Is Prohibited

Trash burning in the Friona city limits is strictly against city ordinances, Mayor Charles Allen and the commissioners emphasized again this week.

There have been several instances recently of trash being burned in the garbage disposal barrels, later igniting the garbage disposal truck. Luckily these fires have been put out by the attendants, but such a fire could destroy the city disposal truck, resulting in costly loss.

With only one man assigned to the truck, it also is doubly important that the trash containers be of such nature that one man can handle them. The barrels must be covered and have good bottoms. Any other container results in waste of time that eventually means inadequate service and costly service to the taxpayer, the mayor added.

Singers Invited To Sing Messiah

Friona singers again this year are invited to join the Hereford Civic Chorus in the Christmas presentation of Handel's Messiah, word has been received this week from Miss Mattie Mae Swisher.

Rehearsals will be held this Sunday at 3 o'clock in the First Methodist Church at Hereford.

Dr. A. Clyde Roller of Amarillo will be director of the special musical and he will bring the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra for the December 6th presentation at the First Baptist Church in Hereford.

Legion Membership Drive In Full Swing

Annual membership drive of the Friona American Legion Post 206 was launched Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the post.

Two team captains were named, with the two teams competing in securing members, the losers to entertain the group at the December meeting. Bill Flippin and Ralph Taylor were the captains named.

Thirty-seven paid up members now are listed in the post of which Glen Sparkman is commander.

FRIONA SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

November 4, 1953

Dear Uncle Bert:

Uncle Bert, do you realize that this is the ninth week of school? This school year sure is passing fast. The first thing we know the Christmas holidays will be here. Speaking of holidays, I noticed on the school calendar that we will turn out school the 26th and 27th of November for Thanksgiving holidays. Sure hope you are preparing for a big event, as I am coming to see you with a hearty appetite. Ha.

Speaking of an appetite, that reminds me that the faculty have enjoyed a week of feasting this week. Mr. Parish, Miss Hanson, and Miss Phillips entertained the faculty Monday night with games and refreshments. There were about 33 present, and those that did not attend sure missed an enjoyable evening. Tuesday evening the faculty went to Farwell to the county teachers meeting, and enjoyed a very wholesome meal, and were entertained by the Farwell High School Music Department. According to Mr. Caffey, the Farwell High School sure has a lovely cafeteria, and the teachers were given a very hearty welcome to visit the different departments in the school and discuss and compare the work being done in each school.

The Grade School football team will go to Lazbuddie Thursday afternoon to play that school a game of eleven-man football. Mr. Parish said that this is the first time that Lazbuddie has attempted to play eleven-man football. This should be a very interesting game, and hope the boys continue with their excellent record. The Grade School team has one more game to play after Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Melton, from the Melton Studio, in Clovis, N. Mex., was in our school this week taking Senior picture orders, and taking favorite pictures. I heard Don Lewis, the Chieftain Editor, say that he believes the favorite section in the annual will be the best ever. This seems that the annual staff is really putting their hearts into the yearbook this year.

The Senior football team will go to Whitharal for another conference game.

TV Sets Given Each Saturday for 6 Weeks

"Good Will Days" are here.

Friona merchants this week launched the most pretentious pre-Christmas program yet conducted here, with special trade inducements and give-aways amounting to several hundred dollars total to be distributed between now and December 19th.

Beginning Saturday, Nov. 14, a quality television set will be given each Saturday for six consecutive weeks. Tickets on the sets already are available at the Friona business houses, and the public is urged to take full advantage of this opportunity, asking for tickets with purchases.

The first TV set, a Hallcraft 20-inch screen model, will be awarded at 3 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 14, on the lot across from the post office. Sets will be bought by the Chamber of Commerce from the local dealers, the first set supplied by Plains Hardware and Furniture where it is now on display.

Further details of the Good Will Days are carried on Page 5 of this issue of The Star.

The Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, sponsors of the program, has long recognized the desire of local merchants for awards of this type, and the group is quite enthusiastic about the present plan. The organization is working through its Retail Activities Committee in conducting the mechanics of the Good Will program.

The delegates, officers and the sponsor of the Student-Faculty Congress attended a Student Council meeting Monday in Brownfield. The students seem to have enjoyed the trip, and came back with a number of good ideas on how to put the Student-Faculty Congress to work. Miss Smith said that Mr. and Mrs. Carr greeted them there, and ask that they extend to all the students and faculty their best wishes. Miss Smith said they seemed very happy to see them, and stated that they were enjoying their teaching job in Brownfield.

Your loving niece,

BIG MINNIE

It's Big Business - Providing Highways To Meet the Challenge of American Motoring

Motor vehicle traffic is perhaps the biggest business in America.

Last week we were on a business trip which included stops at Tulsa and Oklahoma City, and it was interesting and revealing to us to listen to discussions of the giant strides in road-building and planning that is making headlines there. Governor Turner's administration is responsible for the Turner Turnpike, a recently constructed and opened super-highway extending from Tulsa down to the state capital, more or less parallel to Highway 66.

The four-lane arrow-straight highway frees the motorist from meeting any oncoming or even cross traffic. All intersections have been solved with overpasses. At only four points, we believe this number correct, can one enter the system between its terminals. Even farmers living adjacent to the road must use the dirt county roads, as the throughway is fenced throughout its length. Toll fee is $1 for its entire length, with proportionately scaled fare for the shorter distances—well worth the cost for the driver who fears the heavy, badly regulated traffic too often noted on the principal nation spanning arteries.

Why are the millions being spent for the road construction? We found many residents bitter toward the super system, citing the heavy costs.

When one sums up the phenomenal advances in the motor industry, on the other hand, we wonder why more of these highway advances have not been made, in every state and county.

For example:

Motor vehicle traffic in the United States surpasses one-half trillion miles in 1952.

Thirty-one million families in the U. S. own automobiles.

Twenty-nine per cent of automobile drivers are women.

BUT—in terms of constant dollars, 1952 highway expenditures were at or below prewar levels.

AND, despite traffic congestion on the roads, and streets, several states are spending as much as 30 to 50 per cent of their motor vehicle taxes for non-highway purposes.

No wonder rapid adjustments are necessary and are being made in many cases; the public will be in for a lot of education on the matter, as we admit its a bit fast for ourselves and probably most of us.

will continue, to discharge this obligation properly and invites all readers to submit their thoughts, or news items, for inclusion in these pages.

(From The Shelbyville (Ind.) News)

The United States as the land of opportunity was brought forcefully to mind in a little news story from New York, which told of an Italian-born cobbler who is putting the finishing touches on a pair of gold-embroidered slippers which he will present to President Eisenhower to express his "love and gratitude for being an American citizen." The cobbler presented a similar pair to President Truman in 1952, for the same reason. In his words, "It does not make any difference to me who won as far as the shoes go. The main thing is, I make a pair for the President."

(From The (S. C.) Enterprise)

Someone remarked not long ago that we devoted too much space to education and to the problems of our schools and teachers. Our answer to that remark is to quote one of America's greatest educators.

Said Horace Mann, "Republics one after another have perished through a want of intelligence and virtue in the masses of the people. They have been delivered over to anarchy and thence to despotism . . . if we do not prepare children to become good citizens . . . if we do not enrich their minds with knowledge, imbue their hearts with love of truth and duty and a reverence for all things sacred and holy, then our republic must go down to destruction, as others have gone before it."

Plotting against the Texas conservative Democrats are carried on when the state Young Democratic clubs were reactivated at a San Antonio meeting.

As far as the official state Democratic organization is concerned, the San Antonio gathering had no official status.

But the group went ahead anyhow, bent on furthering the interests of the loyal Democratic group, as opposed to the conservatives who strung along with Governor Allan Shivers and President Eisenhower last year.

A speaker at San Antonio was Ralph Yarbrough of Austin, who ran against Shivers last year and who is expected to be a candidate for governor again in 1954.

Yarbrough will get the loyal-liberal Democratic support—plus, perhaps, aid and comfort from a large number of teachers who are not happy with the way their salary increase proposals have been handled.

Yarbrough has stated publicly that he favors more money for the teachers.

Shivers let it be known, meanwhile, that he is ready to serve again as leader for the conservative Democrats if they want him to function in that capacity.

Whether or not he will run for a third term as governor is a matter of conjecture, but he has said privately that he does not intend to oppose Lyndon B. Johnson in his race for the U. S. Senate.

That Johnson will have competition, however, is sure.

In the first place, the Republicans have guaranteed that an opponent for Johnson will be in the running.

In the second place, there is another movement afoot—reported in this column two or three weeks ago—to put a Democrat in the race against Johnson.

This project is coming along smoothly, and the likelihood is that an announcement will be made before you hear Santa Claus' sleighbells.

There is a possibility that the anti-Johnson Democrats and the Texas Republicans will get together on their choice of a candidate.

There was a political flavor to the pleadings of Texas cattlemen and those of other states for price supports.

A caravan of livestock people went to Washington—and got nothing.

Each delegate thereupon vowed to go home and take up the problem with his senator and congressmen.

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association is opposed to beef price supports.

In favor of supports is the Unit-

WASHINGTON AND—

"Small Business"

—By C. WILSON HARDER

Many in Washington feel unless tariffs are boosted immediately, a depression can strike the nation with cyclone speed.

Cited as example is fact in five years U. S. metal mines employment has dropped 35%, still plummets.

Hard hit are nation's lead and zinc operators protected from foreign imports by a tariff of less than cent per pound. Miners are closing as low priced foreign metal floods market.

Naturally interest lacks in finding new domestic ore reserves despite belief mineral resources are still largely unknown.

Paradoxically the government encouraged flood of cheap foreign metal with purposeful plan. At Korea outbreak to obtain more zinc and lead, government gave foreign producers long term contracts. In addition, foreign nations owning metal production colonies in North Africa received millions through Marshall Plan to develop mineral resources.

Situation poses problem at base of forthcoming debate.

The hard core of the "free trade" group, those with foreign holdings, aided by mushy-minded sentimentalists, plus those espousing world socialism, raise cry that to sell abroad America must take foreign goods on free basis. And thereby is the crux.

As any retailer knows, people cannot buy, unless they have means with which to buy. Zinc and lead pouring into nation is being mined with labor paid from $5 cents to $2 per day.

Thus into the rosy dreams © National Federation of Independent Business of a socialistic world by the impractical plus rapacious desires of those with foreign holdings who wish to flood U. S. market to knock out competitors, could be injected a realistic appraisal.

A bank, or finance company, will accept a contract from employed American miners to buy homes, cars, appliances, other goods that in turn produce employment. But there is an understandable reluctance to accept a contract from an unemployed American miner. And now comes the 844 question. Who will accept contracts from African miners making $5 cents per day to buy U. S. products that unemployed Americans cannot buy.

Facetiously, it has been suggested that before free trade John L. Lewis should be shared with the world.

Seriously some assert U. S. wages are too high, foreign competition would be readjusting force.

There is need for readjustment.

But majority view is that the readjustment has to start from way back of home plate. Employed Americans must not only be able to consume U. S. farm & industrial production but must also bear huge tax burden, much of it caused by foreign aid and relief appropriations.

The saying on this point is "you may pluck a goose, even skin him a little, but when you start digging into the meat you're going to have a dead bird".

Thus many see behind drive to destroy U. S. tariff protection emergence of same old unholy trio; domestic business interests with world wide cartel understandings aided by world socialists and by mushy-headed sentimentalists.

It is interesting to note that even though various new media have brought the news to many American families, the newspaper remains the primary source of news and provides readers a permanent record which may be kept as a source of reference. It is also interesting to note that newspaper advertising and general growth have continued, even as radio and television have taken their places in the presentation of news.

It has often been said that the people in any area are only as informed as the newspaper, or newspapers, which serve them. In our country the press has the obligation to print informative and accurate news, impartially. This newspaper has, and

Farm Bureau Report

By RAYMOND EULER

Cynthia Bell, our office secretary and her husband, Bill, left Sunday for Michigan where they will attend to business and spend Christmas with her parents before returning to Friona. Consequently, on Tuesday mornings there will be no one in the Friona office while the service agent is in Farwell.

Next week the office will be vacant until about Thursday or Friday while the state convention is being held in Mineral Wells. Bill Hannold has agreed to assist with any emergency claims that may arise those few days, since he is planning to be around.

Parmer County Farm Bureau has grown and gained in prestige and influence in a remarkable degree in the last three years. Part of this growth, of course, came quite naturally for an organization that offered something to its members and then began to make the offer good. At the same time, however, Bruce Parr became president and entered into the duties of office with a determination to see if such an organization could serve the farmers needs.

This spirit of determination resulted in a net increase of 325 memberships at the close of the first drive under his leadership. Since that time, membership has shown a marked increase each year. No one, except those closely associated with the projects on which he worked, knows how many hours he gave, and how many miles he drove to discharge his responsibility to the membership.

Aubrey Ellison of Bovina, assuming these responsibilities, is a man who has, particularly in the last year, spent much time in exploring the possibilities of Farm Bureau. He has attended conventions, committee meetings, training institutes, etc., whenever opportunity presented itself, in order that he might qualify himself to lead his community organization of which he was president. As president of Parmer County Farm Bureau, we feel that Mr. Ellison is destined to write another successful chapter in the activities of the bureau. We are proud to have such men as these devote themselves to the task of assisting their fellow farmers in seeking to improve the lot of agricultural people, with full consideration for every other segment of our population. T. E. Lovett, succeeding Carl Schlenker as vice president, is another farmer of unsung interest in the welfare of all people. He was one of the high men (with the cooperation of Mrs. Lovett), in membership acquisition this year.

With few exceptions, every director elected from each community has performed his duty well. Remember, when one of them discusses a farm problem with you, he is interested in knowing your views, so that he may present them at meetings of import which officers and directors serve without pay.

A. L. Black assisted in game supervision, and Johnnie Walters and Oma Lee Williams assisted in party planning.

Refreshments of cookies, coffee and cocoa were served to the following and their families: Alvin Glasscocks, Arville Lee Black, R. E. BLACK NEWS

Harvest has surely been slow in this community this week, but everyone was so proud of the very nice rains, which seemed to be general.

Ronnie Shackelford of Shawnee, Okla., is visiting the Ralph Prices.

The Black Club members are busy remodeling and decorating the clubhouse. They hope to have it ready to move into in about two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Presley bought the old clubhouse and are moving it to their place at Black for a rent house.

The Vernon Christians and the Glenn Robersons were business visitors in Wichita Falls this week.

Marie Roberson visited with her grandparents at Summerfield while her parents were away.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Woods of San Benito, Calif., have been visitors in the Ralph Price home. Mrs. Price and Mrs. Woods are sisters and Mr. Woods is on his way overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Fern Barnett and Betty Jane attended the ball game at Farwell Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Christian and daughters, Ann and Lou, visited relatives in Oklahoma and East Texas this week.

Mary and Weldon Tatum had as their guests over the weekend Eugenia Landrum, Lynda Miller, O'Neal Greeson, Larry Fairchild, Carlos Nelson and Nolan Johnson.

Sorry I didn't get my news in last week, but had just a little too much of the Dallas Fair.

In the old days, it took three or four blankets to keep the Chief warm when the wintry winds began to blow across the reservation. But, now that he's "wired for winter", with one electric blanket, he finds that one does the job—even better than a big pile of old-fashioned blankets did.

You, too, can enjoy complete winter-time sleeping comfort with one blanket—electric, of course. And don't forget, they come with dual controls, so that each sleeper can have the comfort setting desired.

WASHINGTON—Earl O. Shreve (right) is sworn in as National Director of the United States Savings Bonds Division of the Treasury Department by Chief Justice Warren. Holding the Bible for the ceremony is Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey.

Introducing the Chief Justice at the Treasury, Secretary Humphrey said: "Chief Justice Warren's taking part in this ceremony is indicative of the support of the Savings Bonds program at the very highest levels of the Government. More than 40 million individuals own $50 billion in these Bonds. The continued and expanding investment in America by Americans through these bond purchases helps to spread the ownership of the public debt and so contributes to our goal of sound money. It also develops the virtues of thrift and savings—virtues which have made America great."

Mr. Shreve, of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, formerly vice-president of the General Electric Company in charge of sales and of customer relations, came out of retirement to serve the Nation in the promotion of thrift through the sale of Savings Bonds. Among his many public services were two terms as president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

ed Livestock Producers Association of Dalhart

John C. White, Texas commissioner of agriculture who stuck with Adlai Stevenson last time, is pecking away at the Eisenhower administration in general and Secretary of Agriculture Benson in particular.

In White's opinion, the Eisenhower administration is undermining the three keystones of American farm policy—rural electrification, soil conservation, and 90 per cent of parity.

Opposition to support prices, said White in a speech at Giddings, is based on "calculated, deliberate untruth."

Southern states will vote Democratic in local and state elections for a long time. But in national elections they will support the candidates standing for the best interest of the country.

That is the prediction of J. Strom Thurmond, former Dixiecrat candidate for president, who came to Texas on a speaking tour in the interest of the armed forces reserves.

Thurmond, who is a former governor of South Carolina, said, "I'm a great admirer of General Eisenhower," and, "I'm a Southern Democrat. That's the kind of Democrat I think the people of the State of Texas are."

Faster but safer—that's the way Texans are driving.

Figures released by the State highway Department reveal that all vehicles on Texas roads are hitting up higher rates of speed than they did last year.

In 1952 only 15.2 per cent of the vehicles exceeded 60 miles per hour, but this year the ration is 23.4 per cent.

State Highway Engineer D. O. Greer said vehicles were checked over a measured distance by clocking devices placed in rural areas and near large cities.

At the same time, the Department of Public Safety reported a drop of six per cent in traffic fatalities on Texas roads this year to date as compared with last year's toll.

When it is considered that highway travel this year is up four per cent, that makes the fatality record even better, in terms of deaths per traveled mile.

Through September of this year, traffic fatalities in Texas totaled 1,661.

Nearly 36,000 persons were injured in the nine-months period this year, and property loss was estimated at $104 million.

What the traffic situation requires is more roads, or a limit on the number of vehicles using them, says Texas Highway Commission Chairman E. H. Thornton, Jr.

Limiting vehicles is not a very good alternative, Thornton believes. It is, on the other hand, a "defeatist attitude," he said, adding:

"Certainly it ought not to be invoked without first giving the people the facts and ascertaining from them which of the alternatives they want. It is their decision to make, and if we proceed on this premise, I have no fear as to what their answer will be."

Phillip B. Gilliam, judge of a famed juvenile court at Denver, said in a speech here that America may fall beneath a tide of juvenile delinquency.

Increasing delinquency is a greater threat to security than is Communism," the judge declared, "and possibly greater than the atom bomb. There is great danger that the nation could fall from within."

These remarks were made at a meeting of Texas judges.

Annexation laws of the state be studied by the Texas Legislative Council.

"Annexation has become a game of chess between the big cities and the small," said Representative Tom King of Dallas, member of the committee which will direct the study.

Six cities, King asserted, have taken in territory without the consent of residents therein, and without a promise of city services.

To protect themselves, small cities have taken in large areas, including farms and ranches, the legislator said.

pressure group the world has ever seen" and wants to run the government of this country, Dr. Leo Wolman of Columbia University said at a personnel and management conference here.

Labor and farm pressure is making the government nervous, the speaker said, "and a nervous government won't govern well."

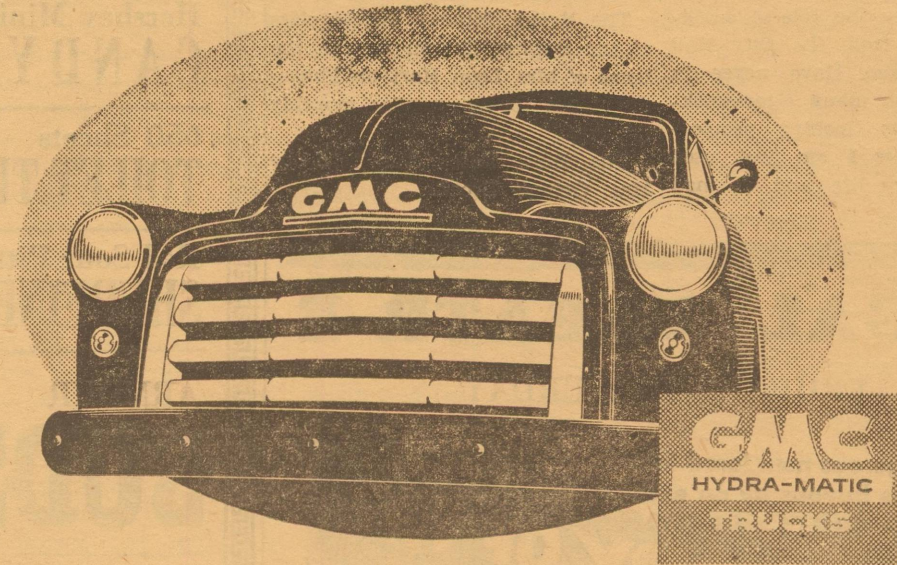

SHORT SORTS: Byron Skelton of Temple, a liberal Democrat was chosen as a member of the advisory council of the national Democratic party . . . The oldest tree in Texas, the "Lamar Oak" at Goose Island State Park near Rockport, is estimated to be 1,000 to 3,000 years old, and a recent inspection indicates that it is in good health and may live another 3,000 years . . . Six whooping cranes were in the first flight returning to Aransas wildlife refuge from their summer breeding grounds somewhere near the Arctic Circle . . . The whoopers are near extinction, only 21 of them having flown north last April.

For a real bargain— get a real truck!

SURE, you can save a few dollars now on a truck price-tagged slightly less than a GMC. But if you want a bargain that will still be a bargain after years of hard truck-work, ask these questions before you buy:

Does the truck give you a GMC's 105 H.P.? That's up to 19% more power than comparable sixes. It hustles a GMC's top loads up tough pulls—without engine strain.

Does it have a GMC's 8.0 to 1 super-high-compression? That gives you quicker getaways—more drive—better mileage. All on regular gas.

Does it offer a GMC's engine-sparing Truck Hydra-Matic*? With it, you say good-bye to gearshift wrestling. No more clutch repairs. Maintenance costs shrink.

Does it have the extra protection of a GMC's self-energizing brakes? The extra comfort of a GMC's "Six-Footer" cab? The handling ease of a GMC's ball-bearing steering action?

If all the answers are "yes," you have a real bargain—a GMC. And there are 19 handsome 1/2- to 1-ton models to choose from. How can you lose?

*Standard equipment on Package Delivery chassis; optional at moderate extra cost on all others.

and modernized location, and I don't know what else. If it grows any more I won't recognize the place when I get home. Don't mistake me, I think it's wonderful, and it proves what we've all known for a long time—Friona is a good place to live and more people are obviously becoming aware of this fact. (Please send me my Chamber of Commerce membership card!)

Ella Mae Hall, a converted Friona-ite, told me a lot of the local news this summer while she was studying up here. In case you all weren't aware of it, she had some exciting experiences working as an anesthetist in Cook County Hospital—one of the largest and busiest hospitals in Chicago and definitely the site of more drama than the writers of "Suspense" ever dreamed of. I'd be willing to bet she could give a fascinating account of her work. Whether we realize it or not, we literally put our lives in the hands of the anesthetist when we have an operation, and we should be just as concerned that we have someone trained and conscientious as that we have a capable physician and not a quack to perform the operation. From what I've seen, I'm convinced that patients of Parmer County Hospital have nothing to worry about on either score.

Was interested in the editorial reprinted from the "Industrial News Review" in last week's Star. Can't help but remark that they are wasting their breath moaning about Truman now—when, it seems to me, they should be explaining the general reluctance of the Republicans to back President Eisenhower. Personally, I'm still a Stevenson admirer. (I have one question—how many Texans are going to benefit even indirectly from the tidelands oil deal?) Enough, or perhaps this was too much, of politics.

From the rise in traffic deaths all over the country, the Friona schools are to be commended for the driver training course, and Reeve Chevrolet deserves a gold medal for its contribution of a new car.

Since I last wrote I have taken a new job. Am working in the Examination Division of the Chicago Civil Service Commission. Believe me, have decided that Hollywood gets most of its characters who play the role of crooked politicians from the City Hall here in Chicago. Have never in my life seen so many cigar-smoking, suspicious looking people—but then, guess I am just used to the country life and a small town where people speak right out instead of standing around mumbling furtively to each other. However, there are many honest and dedicated people working here trying to improve the situation.

Have finally succumbed to the philosophy that one of the chief advantages of living in a big city is the chance for culture—so have been taking it in large doses this fall—everything from the rodeo at the International Dairy Show to Jose Greco and his Spanish Ballet, as well as a magnificent reading of Benet's "John Brown's Body" one by Cyrene Power, Raymond Massey and Anne Baxter. The Spanish ballet was extremely colorful and the costumes were gorgeous, authentic to the last detail—thanks to a powerful pair of binoculars we could see what was going on, our seats were in the upper balcony (you have to take an elevator to the fifth floor to reach it, so you can guess how far we were from the stage). Melanie, our four-year-old daughter, casts her vote for the rodeo—a true Texan at heart. Personally, I preferred the reading of "John Brown's Body." There were no props or scenery of any type, no acting other than the gestures, and a chorus who chanted or sang at appropriate times—yet so convincing was it that you could actually hear the shots at Harper's Ferry, and could see Lincoln as he knelt in prayer. More of this type of thing could make high school English the most popular course in the curriculum.

Would still like to hear from some of you—Chicago is a lonely place and a long way from Texas. Am certain Mr. Neelley would forward any letters on to me. If any of you would like to hear about anything in Chicago, let me know and I'll see what I can do.

All for now,
June M. Cleveland.
