New Defense Treaty Signed

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 4—Amid solemn diplomatic pageantry, 12 North Atlantic nations today signed a treaty designed to confront any Russian aggression with a united defense.

After hearing President Truman hail it as a "shield against aggression," the foreign ministers stepped up one by one to put their names to the historic 1,040-word pact.

Previously they, like Mr. Truman, had proclaimed to Russia and all the world that their only purpose was peace and security.

Blunt Warnings Given

But several of them added blunt warnings to any nation contemplating violence. Britain's foreign minister, Ernest Bevin, declared:

"Our peoples do not want war and do not glorify war, but they will not shrink from it if aggression is threatened."

Secretary of State Dean Acheson drew on the Bible. "For those who set their feet upon the path of aggression," he said, "it (the pact) is a warning that if it must needs be that offenses come, then woe unto them by whom the offense cometh."

Solons Witness Signing

Only some 28 senators witnessed signing of the treaty which has to muster a two-thirds vote of the Senate to become effective. The State department had invited only about half the Senate, including senior committeemen, leaders and members of the foreign affairs group. But it hurriedly authorized, a blanket invitation to all senators a few hours before the ceremony when majority leader Lucas of Illinois vigorously protested.

Mr. Truman spoke after each of the visiting foreign ministers and Secretary Acheson stepped forward on the flag-bedecked platform to make brief addresses. Then came the actual signing. Belgium's foreign minister, Paul-Henri Spaak, was the first to put his name down. The others followed in alphabetical order—representatives of Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, the United Kingdom, and the United States.

No Trace Of Lone Bandit Is Found After Houston Holdup Nets $4,500; Official Given Death Threat

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, April 4 — Police have found no trace of a lone gunman who took $4,500 in cash from the suburban Almeda State bank shortly before noon today.

One suspect was taken to the bank by police but was released. He was a University of Houston student who just happened to be wearing blue trousers.

The quiet-spoken gunman had been described as wearing portions of a blue-gray Merchant Marine officer uniform.

Asks About Account

He had entered the bank and calmly departed with only William P. Traylor, vice president and cashier, and Robert Schmidt, a teller, knowing of the holdup. Twelve other people, including six customers, and two bank examiners, were present.

Traylor said the bank has no burglary system and that he and the teller were unable to indicate to others in the building what was taking place.

The bank official gave this account of the robbery:

Shortly after 10:30 a.m. a man approached Schmidt and asked how he could open an account. He was referred to Traylor, who said the man kept a newspaper over his lap as he talked about the new account.

He suddenly pulled an automatic pistol from a brown trench coat he was wearing.

"I want your money," he told Traylor, pointing the pistol across the banker's desk. "I'll blow your head off."

"How much do you want," Traylor parried.

"Fill it up," the man replied, pulling a paper sack from his pocket.

The gunman concealed the pistol beneath his coat as he and the

Notes Sent To Four Nations

By THOMAS C. WATSON
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 4—Russia delivered protests against the Atlantic pact today to four more participating nations—Italy, Norway, Denmark and Iceland—in pressing her attack on the alliance as it was being signed in Washington.

The protests were similar to those sent the seven sponsoring nations last week by Moscow which charged that pact is aggressive and directed against the Soviet Union.

The Russian charges have been rejected by all 12 members of the pact, including those receiving protests today.

Italy Warns Communists

In Rome the Italian government confined troops and police to barracks ready to back up a warning by Interior Minister Mario Scelba that any Communist attempt to sabatage the pact by insurrection or otherwise would be quickly crushed.

The Soviet Communist newspaper Pravda charged signing of the Atlantic pact "is coupled with intense preparations for aggression, one of the most important tasks of American foreign policy."

Pravda claimed signatories of the pact are working out "aggressive plans" for a Pacific ocean bloc, with "Japan as the chief instrument for their plans" and asked:

"Is this not an American version of the German-Japanese anti-Comintern pact?"

Radio Moscow reported that the current bulletin of the Cominform, representing Russia and its satellites in Europe, echoed the Soviet attack on the Atlantic alliance.

The Cominform organ claimed the Atlantic pact "relies on high treason on the part of the European bourgeoise" who fear "the growing strength of popular forces" in Communist lands.

The Cominform bulletin reiterated old charges that "Anglo-American imperialists are preparing a new war" and labeled them "modern followers of Hitler."

The bulletin asserted that the "attitude of political parties and their leaders toward peace or war could be defined by their attitude toward the pact."

UN Opening Is Slated Today

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 4—Aloof as ever, Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko stayed in seclusion here today during the ceremonial signing of the North Atlantic pact in Washington. Some United Nations delegation sources believed he was preparing a blast at the treaty some time during the General Assembly opening tomorrow at 2 p.m. (CST).

Gromyko, new first deputy foreign minister, has been a familiar figure at UN meetings. He is an old hand at keeping his plans to himself. But this time he appears to have outdone himself.

He arrived last Wednesday, refusing to talk about the North Atlantic pact. He sped to the Soviet delegation home on Park avenue. As far as is known he has stayed there.

Attack Believed Sure

He has not attended any meeting at Lake Success. Not even the working committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy committee, which he once insisted on attending every time it met.

No one in the UN will venture to speculate on Russia's course in coming debates on a variety of issues in the assembly.

But some UN observers who follow Russian moves are sure an attack on the North Atlantic treaty is in the works.

They point out that Moscow already has laid the groundwork by its protest that the pact is aggressive and is aimed at Soviet Russia. Moscow also argues that the pact violates the United Nations charter.

But old hands at the UN are left wondering when Gromyko will open the assault and how he will do it.

Australian Herbert V. Evatt, president of the assembly, went to Lake Success during the day for last-minute conferences. He plans to open the spring session in Flushing Meadow park with another plea for big power co-operation and then push the business along as rapidly as possible. The UN is aiming toward adjournment by May 7 or 14 if possible.

Striking Cab Drivers Are Offered Terms

(By The Associated Press)

New York's union taxi drivers were offered terms Monday for settlement of their three-day strike.

Mayor William O'Dwyer made the proposals but did not make them public. Meanwhile, operators claimed the strike is already broken. The union, however, said it was 94 per cent effective.

Striking brewery workers picketed the six tunnel and bridge portals to Manhattan from New Jersey a second day in an effort to dry up the borough's beer supplies. Several beer trucks were turned back.

A strike of 400 trolley and bus workers kept the Scranton, Pa., transit facilities motionless. The strike began Sunday, but its full effect was felt Monday when workers scrambled for other means to get to their jobs.

Numerous Towns To Name New Officials

Municipal Elections Set In Area Today

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

VOTERS in cities and towns throughout the South Plains today will go to their respective polling places to name mayors, city commissioners, councilmen, and aldermen, depending on each city's particular form of government.

For most communities, today's election will be the second conducted in less than one week's time. Saturday, voters over the area elected school board trustees in their respective school districts, and county trustees.

Candidates in the majority of cases have opposition and better than average interest has been reported in several towns, although no unusually heavy vote is indicated in any of the surrounding counties, a survey showed Monday night. Lubbock does not hold a city election this year.

Matador Slates Election

At Levelland, four commissioners and a mayor are to be elected today. Kenneth Harper, who has been serving as a commisioner, is the only candidate for mayor, and will succeed Ray Watson, who has served as mayor for the past two years. Homer Johnson, incumbent, is unopposed for commissioner from Place 1, while in Place 2, D. N. Bills, incumbent, is opposed by Forrest Jones. C. C. Woodson, sr., incumbent, and Gene Yeager, who seeks the post vacated by Harper, are candidates from Places 3 and 4 respectively.

Three aldermen are to be elected at Matador today. Candidates, none of whom are opposed, are John Briscoe, Loyd Latimer, and Joe Campbell. Two other aldermen and Matador's mayor, Douglas Meador, are not up for re-election at this time.

Lockney Candidates Unopposed

At Lockney, incumbent candidates for municipal posts are unopposed. They include G. M. Brunnier, mayor; J. B. Seale and J. E. Cox, aldermen; and Mrs. Faye Messer, city secretary.

Incumbents who seek re-election in today's election at Post have no opposition. They are John T. Herd, mayor; and Vachel Anderson and Dr. Glenn Kahler, commissioners.

At O'Donnell, three commissioners are to be elected from the following candidates: Paul Mansell, John Earles, J. W. Gates,

Former Lubbock Man Missing

FREEPORT, April 4 (AP)—Coast Guard searchers docked again here tonight after another long day in the Gulf on a hunt for the missing shrimp trawler Gull.

One of the men aboard the missing ship is a former Lubbock resident, whose parents still reside in Lubbock.

Chief Boatswain L. H. White of the Coast Guard station here said his searchers had found no trace of the Gull and the crew of two, Capt. Robt. Broussard of Freeport and Lloyd G. Cobb, 36, of Aransas Pass, and formerly of Lubbock.

Attended Area School

(Cobb is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cobb of 2516 Thirty-third street, Lubbock.

(Cobb was a resident of Lubbock from 1925 until 1942, and since the end of the war has been working on the Gulf coast. He was a paratrooper in World War II and was wounded in action at Salerno, Italy.

(The missing man attended high school at Levelland and Seminole and graduated from Levelland High School.

Chief White said two Navy planes will take off from Corpus Christi early tomorrow to comb the coastal area from Port Isabel to Freeport in a final effort to locate the missing boat and its crew.

The 50-foot trawler left here early Thursday and was last seen that afternoon, 10 miles out from Freeport.

Search today was made west of Pass Cavallo a distance of 25 miles out into the Gulf, both by plane and by Coast Guard vessels.

The boat is owned by Alcus Greer, Houston assistant city fire marshal. He said the boat is valued at $15,000.

SLATON, April 4. (Special) — Samuel Sidney Forrest, 82, of Slaton, pioneer South Plains resident and lumberman, died about 1 p. m. today in Mercy hospital hospital here after suffering a sudden stroke early this morning.

Son of a Civil War captain in the Confederate army, he was born in Midway, Madison county, July 23, 1866. He attended the public schools of Madisonville and Southwestern university in Georgetown. In December, 1889, he married Ora Celia Robinson, daughter of a Confederate veteran.

Senate Okays Bill To Expand Firemen's Civil Service Act

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill expanding the provisions of the firemen and policemen's civil service act passed by the last legislature.

The vote was 22-8.

In its original form the bill, by Senator Kyle Vick of Waco, would have made civil service administration mandatory in all cities with more than 10,000 population. It was amended in committee to keep it optional.

On the Senate floor two more amendments were attached. One removed penalties for non-enforcement of the act. Another would allow cities to set up their own standards for promotion of firemen and policemen.

Several attempts were made to exempt certain areas or cities of the state but all were defeated.

Changes For Airlines Made

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 4—Texas feeder airlines won some partial victories today from the Civil Aeronautics board, Senator Lyndon Johnson's office announced. Appeals may be made to the board and eventually to a federal court.

Pioneer airlines won an extension of its operating permit for five years but Trans-Texas airways was ordered to suspend operations by May 13, 1950.

Up to now, Pioneer had faced termination of its contract by Nov. 14, 1949.

Schedule Changes Ordered

Some changes in the air schedules of the Southwest along these lines were ordered.

For example, Pioneer was ordered to eliminate its Amarillo to El Paso segment.

Continental airlines was ordered to stop service for Las Vegas, New Mexico for five years.

Braniff's certificate to serve Waco and Lubbock was suspended for five years and American airlines' certificate to serve Midland-Odessa was suspended for five years.

Order Not Explained

(The order by the CAB relating to the suspension of Braniff service to Waco and Lubbock was not fully explained and efforts to reach top officials to determine what was meant by the order were unavailing in Lubbock Monday night.

(Local Braniff personnel said they had not heard of any plans whatsoever to halt Braniff service to Lubbock. In Dallas, Walter Henschel, Braniff information chief, said that the home office had not received an original copy of the "proposal" as yet, and until Braniff's officers, legal experts and research men digest it, can not tell what service changes will be made.

(No local official contacted could see any reason for the Braniff Dallas-Lubbock service being suspended.)

Ex-Convict Charged In $1,700 Holdup Of Byers Bank Cashier

WICHITA FALLS, April 4. (AP)—Jesm Richard Rogers, 32-year-old ex-convict, was charged here today with armed robbery in the $1,700 holdup last Friday of a Byers, Tex., bank cashier.

The charges were filed before Justice of the Peace C. B. McConnell by Assistant District Attorney Alan Haley. Detective C. E. Wilson said the charges were filed after officers talked with a witness to the holdup.

W. J. Graves, the bank cashier, had drawn the $1,700 from a bank here for use by the Byers bank. As he took a short cut behind the bank to reach his automobile, he was held up and the money taken. Rogers was arrested by Baylor county Sheriff Lott Keffer at Seymour. He has denied the robbery claim.

End To Area's Cold Weather Forecast

APRIL continued to have trouble Monday shaking off a siege of wintry weather but indications last night were that today would be a good "baseball day."

A light snow flurry early Monday morning, and chill damp winds most of yesterday held the mercury down to a high of 55 degrees. The low was 34 degrees.

An end to the cold spell which settled over the South Plains and Panhandle last Friday was predicted by the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport.

Partly cloudy skies are expected with the mercury climbing from a low of 32 degrees this morning to a high of 60 to 65 degrees this afternoon. Wednesday will be "about the same," the station said.

Light southeast winds are foreseen during the day, but no precipitation for this area is forecast. Showery weather south and southeast of the Plains area is moving eastward, the forecaster said.

Area baseball followers have much at stake today as an exhibition game between the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants is scheduled at 3 p. m. at Rosenthal field here.

Elsewhere over the state there was snow, rain and overcast skies, The Associated Press reported.

The snow fell in the Guadalupe Pass-Midland area; rain was fairly general, and overcast skies blanketed the state.

Most of the rain was concentrated in the west central part of Texas, the weather bureau said, but rain fell at San Antonio, Austin, Beaumont, Bryan and other sections of the state.

Temperatures ranged from the mid-40s to the mid-50s generally Several points had warmer weather.

At Odessa, snow fell from Sunday afternoon until near midnight last night and Monday a light drizzle took its place. Snow at other points fell during the early morning hour.

Dallas and Fort Worth had chill, drizzly weather.

Farmer Frees Sow Entomed In Snow For Three Months

DUPREE, S. D., April 4.—The big blizzard of 1949 is still giving up its victims.

Farmer John Lemke of near Dupree dug into a large snow drift deposited Jan. 2 and freed what had been a 300 pound sow. The porker still had strength enough to walk three-quarters of a mile to a feed trough, Lemke said today.

Shortly after the blizzard Lemke dug out 38 live hogs and two dead ones from the same drift. Now he has hope of finding one sow still missing.

'Token' Aid For China Approved

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Senate and House today overwhelmingly approved a $54,000 00 "token" of American aid to non-Communist areas of China.

In the Senate, the action was unanimous.

The House tally was 279 to 70.

Differing only slightly in form, the two bills would let President Truman decide how the money can best be spent to help China.

The House authorizes Mr. Truman to aid any democratic Chinese government, with the money available until Feb. 15, 1950. The Senate measure bans aid to Red China, but leaves Mr. Truman free to determine when an area is not Communist-controlled.

No Other Plans Presented

The House Foreign Affairs committee said the money is intended to tide Nationalist China over until Congress decides on long-range aid. But Senate foreign policy experts said it apparently represents the only aid-to-China program planned by the Truman administration at present. So far, no other China-aid proposals have been submitted to the Senate by the State department.

Actually, the China fund does not represent "new" money.

Earlier auto manufacturers to announce price cuts include General Motors, Kaiser-Frazer and Willys-Overland.

House Opens Debate On Committee Okayed $701,122,079 Agriculture Department Money Bill

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 4—Launching one of its biggest peacetime spending weeks in history, the House Appropriations committee today appropriated a $701,122,079 money bill for the Agriculture department.

And it promptly was accused by its top Republican member, Rep. Taber of New York, of "juggling of figures" in an effort to reflect a savings.

The agriculture bill is one of four big money measures the committee plans to send to the House floor this week. The others finance the State, Justice and Commerce departments; the Army, Navy and Air Force, and a group of miscellaneous agencies including the Atomic Energy commission.

Their overall total accounts for about half of the President's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The agriculture bill, scheduled for House debate tomorrow, emerged from the committee with a note of caution that the problems facing farmers "will perhaps become worse before they become better."

Insisting on the "right of the farmers of this nation to export surpluses," the committee said two-nation trade agreements, or even a two-price farm system, should be used to retain America's fair share of the world markets. (Under a two-price system, products are sold abroad at a lower price than at home, with the government making up the difference to farmers.)

To strengthen the department's position in foreign trade matters, the committee added $50,000 to es-

Russia Protests Frontier Changes

LONDON, Tuesday, April 5 (AP)—Russia has protested to the United States, Britain and France that recent changes in the frontiers of western Germany break existing agreements with the Soviet Union, Tass said today.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said in a broadcast Moscow dispatch that Russian ambassadors to Washington, London and Paris had delivered the protest note to the respective foreign ministries.

The note, as quoted by Tass, said the frontier changes violate a "declaration on the position of Germany" of June 5, 1945. Russia said this provides that German boundary changes "may be effected only by joint decision of the governments of the USSR, United States, Great Britain and France."

STATE DEPARTMENT SILENT ON NEW RUSSIAN PROTEST

WASHINGTON, April 4 (INS)—The State department tonight had "no comment" on Russia's protest against what the Soviet Union termed "unlawful alteration of the western frontier of Germany."

department spokesman said that the United States had received the protest "over the weekend."

It was anticipated that a statement might be forthcoming sometime Tuesday.

The Russian protest was lodged in Paris and London at the same time it was registered in Washington.

The protest was against a temporary agreement among the "Big Three" changing the border of western Germany in the interests of administrative efficiency pending a final German peace pact.

U. S. And Canada Exchange Army Officers To Plan Defense Setup

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP) — The armed forces of Canada and the United States are exchanging officers to work on the mutual defense problems of the two nations, the national military establishment said today.

The signatures of the two nations on the North Atlantic treaty, joining them with ten other countries in a defensive alliance against aggression, actually will be a reaffirmation of a nine-year-old defensive agreement between Canada and the United States. The two countries set up a joint defense board in 1940, and have carried on the co-operative agreement since.

The Canadian - United States agreement, like the new North Atlantic pact, mentions no names of possible aggressor nations. But now it is directed against attack from the north, over the polar area or across the North Atlantic or Pacific, by Russia.

Officers In Canada

In answer to a question, the national military establishment said today that "selected individual officers of the Army, Navy and Air Force (are) presently in Canada for the purpose of increasing familiarity with defense establishments, and arrangements in that country pursuant to the joint United States - Canada mutual defense agreement."

The number of officers exchanged varies from time to time, the NME said, but the group is comparatively small. Most of the officers are Army or Air Force colonels or lieutenant colonels or Navy captains or commanders.

This group of officers, most of whom work at military headquarters in Ottawa or Washington, apparently are in addition to other more technical groups. These groups, of both officers and enlisted men, are working in the field on such projects as testing of equipment, weather stations and radar installations high up along the rim of the North American continent.

Army Highly Mobile

Canada's ground forces are small (probably about 25,000) but uniquely fitted to defend the vast frontier land.

The army consists of two components — the active or regular force and the reserve force. There is no national guard such as exists in the United States.

The army is built around a hard-hitting, highly mobile striking force, able to move quickly into a threatened area, whatever the terrain or weather.

Instead of attempting to stretch out her force in a thin line along the far north, Canada seeks to man strong points and patrol areas of less strategic importance.

Patrols Watch Areas

To guard against surprise, she relies on intelligence from many sources — patrols of Canadian mounted police which visit hamlets and remote trading posts; air patrols and aerial photography; radar and radio; small groups of military personnel whose routine duties are weather observation but who can keep an eye on the skies and ground for unfriendly visitations.

Backing up that intelligence network is another dominion unit, the Canadian rangers. They are trappers, woodsmen, farmers, whose work take them into distant places.

Upon this integrated system of observation, Canada hopes to be warned of any stealthy infiltration by an enemy seeking to gain bases in her hinterland.

The United States and Canada now are currently looking to development of a radar net across the north to warn of approach of enemy aircraft. Weather stations already in operation provide a start.

Pittsburgh Police, Reds Disagree Over Handling Of Fight

PITTSBURGH, April 4 (AP) — Pittsburgh's police superintendent and a Communist party official were in sharp disagreement today over the manner in which police broke up a near riot after a Communist rally.

No one was injured seriously as police held a crowd of 4,000 to 5,000 at bay outside north side Carnegie hall Saturday night. Six persons — none of them Communists — were arrested, five charged with disorderly conduct and one with inciting to riot.

Communist Bitter

William Albertson, executive secretary of the Communists party in northwestern Pennsylvania, was bitter yesterday in his denunciation of the near riot.

Saying he had asked police to prevent violence, Albertson declared in a statement:

"Pittsburgh had a taste last night of Fascism in action. The violent attack on the Communist rally was organized and carried through by Pittsburgh's blueshirted Hitler - like storm troopers. . . . The police did not do their duty. The police condoned the attack, permitting the maltreatment of innocent bystanders and refused aid when called upon.

Police Defended

Police Superintendent Harvey J. Scott jumped to the defense of his men. Scott said Albertson's comments about the police department "were just about what we expect from Communists." adding:

"We will continue to enforce the law and see that order is maintained at and after every public gathering, whether it's Communist-sponsored or not . . . As far as I am concerned, the Communists should be thankful we were not on hand last night."

Scott said about 250 pickets were outside the hall Saturday night along with the spectators. He said none of the pickets or Communists were among those arrested, adding "the trouble came from the spectators."

Scott identified the pickets as members of the AMVETS, the Catholic war veterans. Catholic trade unions, and local 601, CIO-United Electrical, Radio and Macine Workers union.

The police official said only 179 persons attended the rally at which, Scott said, the principal speaker was Henry Winston, one of the top Communists now on trial in New York.

USDA Announces Production Goals

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced the final production goals for crops and livestock for the year 1949. The announced goals represent figures approved by the secretary of agriculture after review and recommendations by state USDA councils. Few changes, all minor, were recommended by the states.

The basic program was developed on anticipated continued high consumer demands, increased attention to balanced farming and restoration of better crop rotation on American farms.

Some of the national goals which have effect on, or are effected by, the Plains area are;

Cattle and calf slaughter, 32,000,000 head.

Beef cows on farms, 15,500,000 head.

Sheep and lambs on farms, 30,500,000 head.

Cotton, 21,894,000 planted acres.

Wheat, 71,850,000 planted acres.

The wheat goal is 92 per cent of last year's production and that of cotton is 94 per cent. Cattle and calf slaughter is 93 per cent of last year. Cows on farms holds at about the same as last year. Lambs will be boosted to 110 per cent of 1948

Sorghums, excluding syrup, will have the same overall acreage that was put into cultivation last year, 13,704,000 acres.

Grain sorghum loans and purchase agreements for Texas, reported through the last day of February, amounted to 12,023,471 hundredweight. Of this total 1,108,705 hundredweight was farmstored, 9,982,149 hundredweight was warehoused and the balance, 932,617 hundredweight, was under purchase agreement. Texas had 57 per cent of the grain sorghums under these contracts. Kansas ranked in second place.

Terry County To Equip Cars Of Sheriff, Deputy With Radios

BROWNFIELD, April 4 (Special) —Terry county commissioners voted at a recent meeting to equip the automobiles of Sheriff Ocie H. Murry and Deputy B. W. Powell with radio sending and receiving sets at an estimated cost of $1,200.

The commissioners had considered adding another deputy to the sheriff's force, but decided that equipping of the cars with the radio sets would serve the same purpose and be more economical.

The set-up will enable the sheriff's department to keep in touch with law enforcement officials at Lubbock, although a "booster" station may be required at Meadow.

Tech French Club To Sponsor Benefit Move Thursday, Friday

La Cercle Francais, French club at Texas Tech, will sponsor a benefit movie, "Le Collier de la Reine," which will be shown at 3 p. m. and at 7 p. m. Thursday and Friday in the Extension auditorium at the college.

Mrs. Beatrice Alexander, French instructor, said the money raised would go to the Americans Aid to France, Inc., which is assisting Centre National des Oeuvres with its program of aid to French students. The program is helping to provide the students with lodging, restaurants, clothing, student sanitoriums, student unions, employment bureaus and vocational guidance centers, she added.

The movie itself, the title of which means "The Queens Necklace" in English, is a highly engrossing historical picture photographed at Versaille palace. The story, which was written by Alexandre Dumas, tells of a tragic plot involving the famous Marie Antoinette. It is in French with English sub-titles.

Tickets for the movie may be purchased in a booth in the lobby of the Hilton hotel. The price of admission is 35 cents per person.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 56, Whitewright, Texas, wrote us:

"I want to tell you what Barcentrate has done for me. I weighed 256 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212.

"I have taken my dress size down from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nicer I look than I did.

"I am still taking Barcentrate as I want to get my weight down to 165 or 170 pounds."

Cold Facts can sometimes be very heartwarming, too...

WE HAVE just published our 104th Annual Report to Policyholders as a 40-page illustrated booklet. It tells about the progress New York Life made in 1948 and contains important facts and figures dealing with the financial condition of the Company.

Set off by themselves, the figures tell a story of financial stability. But behind them lie many warm and human stories about the benefits life insurance brings to people in all walks of life everywhere.

It is a fact, for example, that in 1948 New York Life paid over $200,000,000 to policyholders and beneficiaries. This money is helping widows maintain their homes and bring up their children without hardship. It is helping to send sons and daughters to college who otherwise might not have gone. It is helping families enjoy the peace of mind that comes of knowing that the future is financially more secure. It is helping men and women in their old age live without financial worry.

It would be impossible to tell all the stories about all the people who benefit through life insurance policies. But in our Report this year we try, at least, to show what human values the facts and figures of our business often have.

In addition, the Report contains helpful information on "The Problem of Growing Older," as well as a description of an improved service for policyholders so that death benefit payments and policy loans may be expedited, a review of the way the Company has made mortgage money available for housing, and a discussion of the Company's policy in making its investments in 1948.

The essential facts and figures of our 1948 operations will be mailed to policyholders as usual with premium notices. The larger illustrated booklet will gladly be sent upon request.

A few figures from our 104th Annual Report to Policyholders December 31, 1948

Assets totalled $4,448,369,759, an increase of $214,185,161 over the close of the previous year. After deducting $4,181,863,874 of reserves and other liabilities, surplus was $266,505,885, or $35,387,161 more than at the end of 1947.

Sales of new life insurance in 1948 amounted to $857,719,600, which is $335,600 greater than in 1947.

The Company had 3,779,541 policies in force for $9,539,584,229 of life insurance protection on December 31, 1948. The net growth of the Company during the year, as measured by the increase in life insurance in force, was $475,979,615.

The provision for 1949 dividends to policyholders is $45,741,294. New York Life has always been a mutual company and pays dividends to policyholders only.

A copy of the 40-page illustrated 104th Annual Report to Policyholders will gladly be sent to anyone requesting it.

Official Explains Various Soil Saving Methods Used In Area

"The solutions to soil saving problems are as many and varied as the types of soils and terrains" Marshall Howard, soil conservationist for the USDA in the Lubbock area, states.

Some of the operations such as terracing and leveling require the use of considerable machinery. In some instances special machines are required to get the job done, Howard points out. On the other hand, he says, there are a great many fields that can be handled without machines and without any special effort on the part of the landowner.

The land that falls in this category includes the level or near level field that is unprotected from the winds. Fields of this kind are subject to wind erosion and blowing sand and dust. Recently studies have been made which show that fields in which stubble and stalks have been allowed to stand have a minimum of dust and not noticeable erosion. This method requires no effort at all. In fact, it is achieved by not doing something.

Trash An Aid

A few years ago, Howard said, no farmer would think of leaving trash in his fields. But experience here on the South Plains has proved that the benefit is twofold. First, it serves a sa binder to prevent drifting and blowing; secondly, the trash helps to retain precious moisture in the surface soil. The so-called trash includes combined sorghum and wheat fields, natural grasses growing in the cotton rows and other volunteer binders.

Other methods of solving the problem include planting of adaptable grasses, winter peas, vetch, clover or wheat. These plantings, in addition to retaining erosion, serve as forage for stock. While they can not be expected to provide a money crop, they so increase the value and productivity of the land that they return their costs, Howard point sout.

Rain Run-Off Reduced

Fields that have such cover will utilize rain and irrigation water to receive the maximum benefit On the J. E. Hancock farm, seven miles north of Lubbock, 33 acres of land were recently bench terraced. Austrian winter peas were planted to served as binder for terrace walls, provide legumes and increase the nitrogen content in the soil and also serve for stock grazing.

Where grasses and legumes are used for binder on sloping terrain they not only help to eliminate wind erosion but slow up the rainfall run-off and reduce water erosion.

Last week a planting of grass was made on 150 acres of the Howard Hampton ranch in southwest Crosby county. Most of these 150 acres were sandy and shallow soil. Though nearly level, extensive wind erosion was noticed. This year combine and drilled sorghum stubble was left on the fields and the grass was planted between the rows of stubble. The mixture of sideoats grama, bluestem and lovegrass with several of their variations was planted at the rate of ten pounds per acre with a seven box seed drill.

Windbreak Urged

Another highly recommended protection against erosion and blowing sand and dust is the windbreak for use around farm and rural dwellings. The windbreak serves as a protection for shrubs, flowers and landscaping. Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of A. and M. college, believes every farm home in Texas should have this type of protection.

Some of the trees and shrubs that have proven satisfactory for windbreaks are the Chinese elm, because of its rapid growth black walnut, cedar elm ,red cedar and Chinese pistacia. A variety of these is preferable to single type, the A. and M. specialist says. Desert willow, tamarix and salt cedars can also be used successfully.

Experts claim that a windbreak of trees and shrubs not only serve to lessen the damage and force of the wind but modifys the temperature around the home.

New Long-Range Transport Plane To Be Completed By November

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April (U.P.)—Douglas Aircraft company disclosed today that the first flying model of its huge C-124 long-range strategic transport would be in the air by November.

A wooden mockup of the clam-shell-nosed plane which "carries anything that rolls on a highway" was shown yesterday by Douglas. The plane builders said the craft, part of the five-year, 70 group Air Force program, will go into "heavy production" early next year. The government gave Dougles a 30-plane order for the C-124 last July.

Air Force mockup board and Army officers have made demonstrations and tests of the wooden model of the transport, designed to carry anything from a 20-ton tank to 200 fully equipped paratroopers.

Douglas officials admitted the plane could carry V-2 rockets or guided missiles but said that was not its primary mission.

Traffic Jammed As Photographer 'Snaps' Washington Monument

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP) — The Washington monument got its picture taken and thereby came a traffic jam.

An automobile stopped in a traffic lane near the Treasury department.

A taxicab driver behind assumed the car had stalled, so he gave it a friendly nudge to help get it going.

Indignant, the first driver got out, and ordered the taxi driver to back up so he could get a camera tripol out of the trunk.

While irked motorists honked their horns, the motorist set up his camera in the midst of the street and aimed it at the monument, a quarter mile away.

He told investigating police he wanted to get the picture before the sun went behind the clouds.

MAN CLAIMED STILL DEVELOPING

Noted Scientist Foresees World Of Supermen In Years To Come

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 4—Science is finding evidence that the human being is the result of a great planner or creator, Dr. Robert Broom, 82-year-old anthropologist, said today.

Furthermore, according to this scientist, man is the only animal on earth still developing. All the other animals, particularly the mammals, have reached their end result.

In fact, the world will have a superman in years to come, he said. He said the time limit was not important, that the superman, free of evil and disease, may arrive in 10,000 years or perhaps a million years.

Dr. Broom, who last found the Swartkrans man jaw estimated to be 1,000,000 years old, was interviewed at the American Museum of Natural History, his host, before departing for the University of California, which is sponsoring the current expenditures to Africa where present day man is digging up the bones and fossils of his prehistoric ancestors.

Dr. Broom, born in 1866 in Paisley, Scotland, and now one of Great Britain's most famous scientists, has the energy of a 21-year-old. He moves around with the agility of a lightweight boxer. That's about what he is a lightweight in poundage. He's too busy to keep his trousers pressed and he doesn't like to be interrupted when talking about his favorite science — anthropology.

When this correspondent broke in with a question, he snapped:

"You just wait until I get through, and then ask your question."

Dr. Broom said there have been no new types of animals developed, although there have been endless variations.

"They have all reached their end result — except one," he said. "That one is man. He is still developing and we will have supermen on earth."

He admitted that some other scientists would not agree with him, but that he believes man is part of a plan.

"It looks as if," he said, "that some great power had planned the evolution of man, but subsidiary agents have made many mistakes in working out the evolution.

"Here is a clue to the origin of evil and disease. But most mistakes have been put right."

Recalling the work of Dr. J. B. Rhine at Duke university, Dr. Broom said that variations in the makeup of man might be caused by the effect of sub-conscious thought on the chromosones.

"Man, as of today," he said, "is clearly not a fully satisfactory product. We can see how he is progressing. We shall have a superman, who will have powers presently undreamed of."

He held up the cast of the jaw of the 1,000,000 years old Swartkrans man — which is now believed to be that of a female. The creature, he believes, probably was about four feet tall, with the male probably being five feet.

"We've come a long way," he said. "We're going still a longer way."

UNEMPLOYMENT DROP REPORTED

Economists Believe April Will Determine Business, Job Trend

By RAYMOND H. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 4. — Economists said today that the next four weeks should tell much about how good a year this is going to be for business and jobs.

The Census bureau—in a statement abruptly released a week ahead of time—reported that unemployment had dropped 54,000 from 3,221,000 in February to 3,167,000 in March. Employment rose at the same time from 57,168,000 to 57,647,000. The changes were not big enough to satisfy economists as to the extent of the trend.

To Study Report

But by the end of April, things should be much clearer, they said. Agricultural employment will be building up rapidly in all but the northernmost states. The extent of spring construction will be evident. It will be possible to judge the comparative volume of retail sales for the Easter season.

The economists also want to see a breakdown on the March employment figures released suddenly by the Census bureau last Friday.

Workers laid off for 30 days or less are considered by the Census bureau to be employed. Some think that the bureau's sub-category "with a job but not at work" may be larger than usual in March because of mass layoffs by railroads and other large industries.

A breakdown also is needed, these economists say, in the number of hours a person worked during the Census bureau's sampling week in March. The bureau normally estimates the percentage of job-holders who were employed for one to 14 hours, 15 to 34 and 35 or more hours. All are considered employed, however.

The breakdown of hours, it is suggested, will reflect the March trend in some industries to reduce hours (resulting in lower wages) because of lack of orders.

Cow With Wooden Leg Becomes Top Producer For Iowa Farmer

UNION, Ia., April 4 (AP)—A cow with a wooden leg is one of the highest producers in the blooded brown Swiss herd of Howard Martir near here.

The wooden leg was the outgrowth of a fall in which the cow, "Crip" suffered a broken leg almost two years ago.

Because "Crip" represented one of the best blood lines in the herd, Martin wanted to save her unborn calf. When veterinarians had to amputate her right rear leg at the hock, Martin fashioned an artificial leg for "Crip."

She gave birth to a bull calf two months later and became a high producer.

Average Grade For '48 Cotton Lower Than For '47 Crop

The average grade of the 1948 cotton crop was lower than that of 1947, the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced in its quality report this week. However, the report continued, the average staple length was considered longer. The 1947 crop was exceptionally high in quality and was the only year since 1943 that was superior to last year's crop.

The lower grade is attributed mainly to the rapid harvesting necessitated by the large crop, early November freezes and frequent rainy spells in some cotton areas. The increased staple length was attributed to the favorable weather in the areas where medium lengths are produced.

Texas Not Involved

Texas was among the five states that were not included in the downward grading. North Carolina, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona were the other states maintaining the higher quality.

The sharpest drop in grade occurred in Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas. Mississippi production increased by 75,000 bales or better than 50 per cent.

The total 1948 ginnings amounted to 14,540,000 bales as compared with 11,557,000 bales for the 1947 season. It was the largest crop since 1937 and nearly twice as much as was produced two years ago.

Demands for the lower grades of cotton have been steady and much of it has gone to export. This movement of the lower qualities into the trade channels and out of supply stocks has resulted in a remaining late season of relatively high quality cotton.

New York Blasts 15-10 Win Over Cleveland Nine

By CHAS. A. GUY
Editor Of The Avalanche

EL PASO, April 4 — Mixing solid base knocks, including home runs by Walker Cooper, Clint Hartung and Tommy Thomson, with the wildness of Indian Pitchers Bob Lemon and Sam Zoldak, the New York Giants of the National League defeated the World Champion Cleveland Indians here today by 15-10.

Exactly 6,036 cash customers packed the grandstand and bleachers of Dudley Field and slopped over onto sidelines and along the outfield fences as the two clubs played what was strictly an exhibition tilt. A slight drizzle fell during most of the game and the spectators, who paid approximately $5,250 to see the big boys in action, sat shivering in top coats with numerous feminine fans wearking furs.

Manager Leo Durocher announced that his starting pitcher in Lubbock would be Andy Hansen and Manager Lou Boudreau will send Frank Papish to the Rosenthal Field hill for the American Leaguers. Each team likely will use two or three chunkers, but there is little chance for Lubbockites to see Bob Feller, who hurled Sunday, beating Pittsburgh 3-0 in Tucson.

Two slight mishaps marred today's tilt. Giant Infielder Bill Rigney, running for Walker Cooper, pulled a tendon sliding into the plate in the sixth and Cleveland Thirdsacker Ken Keltner left the field in the same inning after stopping a crazily bouncing hopper high on his left cheekbone.

The two teams pulled out of El Paso at 7:30 tonight, Lubbock time, traveling in special Pullmans along the T&P to Sweetwater. From Sweetwater they will roll into Lubbock shortly before noon on the Santa Fe.

Ten ground rule doubles, caused by spectators in the outfield, featured today's game and on two occasions the big leaguers were caught with their thin-tanks down. Tribe First Baseman Mickey Vernon stopped to count his change while holding the ball at first base with a runner scoring in the third inning. In the seventh, big Johnny Mize, Giant initial sacker, forgot to put his foot on first base, giving Roberto Avila life on what otherwise would have been an easy infield out.

Good Weather Predicted For Game; Starting Time Is 3 P. M.

Weathermen sometimes make mistakes, but this is once they have a personal interest in being right.

The forecaster at the Lubbock weather station will be one of the spectators at the New York Giant-Cleveland Indian game at Rosenthal Field this afternoon at 3. He swears that the weather will be almost perfect by game time.

As a result, a crowd of almost 8,000 is expected to jam its way into the park for this second annual invasoin of the Class C Lubbock Hubbers' home. Gates will open at 11 a.m. and a good crowd is expected in the stands long before the clubs make their appearance.

LEO DUROCHER

LOU BOUDREAU

RIVALS TODAY — Leo Durocher, top, manager of the New York Giants, will be in one dugout while Lou Boudreau, manager of the Cleveland Indians, will be on shortstop for his club. The two men are the masterminds of any strategy that will be used in the game here today.

Hansen vs. Papish

Andy Hansen will be on the mound for the Giants and Frank Papish, a better than average hurler with the Chicago White Sox last year, will chuck for the Indians. Both clubs will have their full lineups, although Ken Keltner of Cleveland and Bill Rigney of the Giants, both infielders, may be sidelined. They suffered slight injuries at El Paso yesterday, although how severe is not known.

Tickets still are plentiful for the game, with approximately 3,000 remaining to be sold. Fans have plenty of time to get the $1.20 per pasteboards at either the Hub Clothiers or at the Sport Center. Tickets also will be sold at the ball park.

In consideration of the crowd that is expected, Mrs. Sam Rosenthal yesterday urged that motorists leave their cars at home and ride city buses. The bus company has agreed to run special buses to the park. These will leave the bus stand every 15 minutes beginning at 1 p. m. and will be in addition to the regular buses servicing the park.

Diamond Stars Galore

As for the weather, the forecaster at the local weather station on the Plainview Highway is optimistic. He predicts only partly cloudy skies with temperatures going into the upper 60s by game time. There is no indication of rain.

And the forecaster went a step farther. He declared that if the clouds drifted into scattered forces, the temperatures might well go into the low 70s. The wind, at best, shouldn't exceed 15 miles an hour and overcoats probably can be left at home.

Giant and Indian followers today will revel in the chance to see their diamond heroes in action. And there will be plenty of them, for the Indians and Giants are getting along toward home. That means that the rookies are on their last legs and the veterans are going into the home stretch.

Two Texans Here

Two Texas players will be with the clubs, but only one is likely to see action. Clint Hartung of Hondo hurled yesterday in El Paso for the Giants and certainly won't repeat here. But Thurman Tucker, who played centerfield yesterday for the Indians, is bound to play.

Tucker is a native of Gordon now living in Mineral Wells. He has been a visitor here many times this winter, since his sister is the wife of William T. Dennis, 1104 Thirty-seventh street. Tucker is one of the outstanding players on the Indian roster and currently is engaged in trying to beat out Larry Doby for the starting center garden spot.

Both teams are loaded with names familiar to every ball fan. The Giants will bring with them such fence-busters as Johnny Mize, Whitey Lockman and Bob Thomson in the outfield, while the Indians have the great Joe Gordon, Lou Boudreau, Keltner and Mickey Vernon in the infield.

Manager Leo Durocher, lately of Brooklyn, will direct the Giants, while Boudreau, the brilliant shortstop, is again guiding the Indians.

Press Bulls Go Ahead In Bowling Tourney

In the first night of team bowling in the Men's City Bowling League tourney, the Press Bulls finished ahead of the other teams with an aggregate score of 2,780 pins.

The Shamrock Rollers were second with 2,695 pins, and the Termites rolled 2,674. The three teams are in the College league.

High individual for the night was Jerry Henderson with a series of 615. Hershey, of the Termites, was high for his team with 587, and Williams rolled 573 for the Shamrock Rollers.

Team games will be rolled this week through Friday night at Lubbock Bowling club. Friday and Saturday the doubles and singles will be at Playmor Lanes.

Members of the Major bowling league will take to the lanes tonight. The teams are Westerner Cafe, Walton's, Hemphill - Wells, McFarland - Maisen, Mission Orange, and Hub Clothiers.

Newspaperman Rolls High Single Game In American Bowling Meet

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., April 4 (INS)—Jimmy De Brucque, Fairmount, West Va., newspaper advertising manager, became the fourth man to roll the high single game of the American Bowling Congress championships when he stored a 289 in the doubles today.

Top double score of the day was a 1228 by Stanley Thaden (605) and William Hoven (623), of Madison, Wis.

TRADES THAT HELPED—These four players with the Cleveland Indians were picked up in winter trades and are expected to help the World Series winners. Left to right they are Early Wynn, former Washington pitcher; Mike Tresh, former Chicago catcher; Frank Papish, former Chicago pitcher, who will start today's game; and Mickey Vernon, former Washington first baseman. Wynn threw Sunday and probably will not see action today at Rosenthal Field, but the other trio probably will be in action.

CLASS AA, A SQUADS COMPETE

Track Records On The Firing Line Saturday At Texas Tech

The District 2-AA track meet to decide participants for the region meet will be held this Saturday at Texas Tech cinder track. The District 4-A tracksters will hold their meet at the same time.

Expected in the AA division are Brownfield, Lamesa, Plainview and Lubbock. Competition will begin at 9:30 with preliminary events in District 4-A. The four larger schools will not begin their preliminaries until 1 o'clock that afternoon.

Lubbock will probably have the favorites role in the meet, although the Westerners have been crippled all season. Only the top three places in each event will be eligible for the region meet, to be held here April 23.

Last year the Westerners won the meet with 100 points. Plainview was second with 28, and Lamesa had 12. Winner in the Class A division was Seminole with 58 points. Following were Andrews, Denver City, and O'Donnell.

The same Class A teams will probably be battling it out for point honors again this year.

Eighteen new records were set last year, with six being lowered in Class AA.

Bill Howton of Plainview had a good day as he set the 120-yard high hurdle mark at 15.0 and the 220-yard low hurdles at 23.3. The old 880-yard run record was lowered by Howkins of Lamesa to 2:11.4, and Richard Johnson of Lubbock ran the mile in 4:48.4.

Douglas Ross, Lubbock, threw the discus 120 feet, 9 and three-fourth inches for a new mark, and Jack Alderson cleared 5 feet, 9 inches in the high jump event.

Expected to enter the Class A meet are Seminole, Levelland, Andrews, Littlefield, Abernathy Denver City, Morton, Muleshoe, O'Donnell, Olton, Post, Seagraves, Sudan, Sundown, and Tahoka.

Women Set Golf Date In June

Directors of the Women's West Texas Golf association, meeting at the Lubbock Country club Sunday, set June 14 through June 19 as the date for play in their annual tournament on the local links.

Twelve officers and directors met here and golf was not on the program, other than in the discussion phase of the meeting.

Slight wording changes were made in the by-laws and constitution, which was gone over thoroughly before adjournment came. No rules of the association were changed, but simplification of wording was accomplished.

This year's tournament is expected to bring at least 50 to 60 women golfers to Lubbock to fight for the title won the last three years by Mrs. Sam O'Neal of Odessa.

Attending Sunday's meeting here were Mrs. Howard Edmiston, Brownwood, president; Mrs. H. H. Lockaby, San Angelo, vice-president; Mrs. J. Hooper Stiles, Lubbock, secretary; and Directors Mrs. Giles Day of Fort Worth, Mrs. Izzie Carson of San Angelo, Mrs. Vic Williams of Plainview, Mrs. Hugh Pull of Amarillo, Mrs. Hubert Ingraham of Abilene, Mrs. Frank Flournoy of Midland, Miss Rita Kassner of Sweetwater, and Mrs. T. E. Patterson and Mrs. Fenner Tubbs, both of Lubbock.

District Track, Field Meet Will Be Held Here

With the District track and field meets coming up this week, the Westerner track squad will be kept busy getting in shape for that event and making up for lost time.

Alfred Adair of Lubbock finished first in the Big Spring Relays in individual points with 7 and three-fourth points. It had been announced that Sonny Mobley of Odessa was first with 7 and one-half markers.

Adair tied for first place in the pole vault with W. J. Blake, another Westerner, tied for second in the high jump, placed fourth in the discus, and ran on the 440-yard relay team which finished fourth.

Bad Weather Again

Although bad weather limited cinder practice last week the team finished in the third spot at the Big Spring Relays Saturday. With the District meet being held this week, the team will have to buckle down.

Each weekend for the last three has been full for the tracksters, beginning with the Southwestern Recreation meet in Fort Worth, March 20. The next week, March 27, the team finished third at Odessa, but this week Coach Fred Brown is expecting a winning team.

But, as has been the case all-season, injuries will be a big factor in the Westerner chances. Charlie Williams should be near top form after being slowed with a leg injury for the past three weeks. Another sprinter Malcolm Young, pulled a muscle before the Big Spring meet and will be hobbling around a few days, and Wayne Stroud is suffering from a cold after being out of uniform for two weeks with a throat infection.

Decker Is Hope

Expected to be strong in the sprints and low hurdles is Donald Decker. He has been improving every week, and last week took first in the 220-yard dash and third in the century. No hurdle events were run.

Two, and possibly three, baseball games will be played by the Westerner nine this week.

Wednesday afternoon Coach Fred Taylor will send his squad against the Boys Club team, and Saturday a return match will be played with a group from Texas Tech. Tentative plans call for a game with Childress. The two teams were scheduled to play last week, but rain broke up the plans.

The Westerners still boast a perfect record with five victories and no defeats. Included in the list are four wins by one run. In the first game with Boys Club, the high school team won a 4-3 decision. Two games were won from the Tech team by 10-7 and 8-7 margins.

Both of the teams have improved very much in the past few weeks, and it would not be a surprise if Tech and Boys Club both defeated the Westerners. Errors have been a sore spot in each of the games to date and with improvement in fielding the teams have fine chances.

Jackie Martyn, Boys Club pitcher, has shown up well in his last start, and Friday pitched a five inning no-hitter against Tech Independents, allowing only two men to reach first base.

Against his portsided hurling the Westerners have three boys as possible starters. Lefty Bennie Day might be the choice Wednesday.

Five-Bout Card Expected To Be Sellout

Ringside Seats For Friday Fights Gone

All ringside tickets for the Bill Henderson-Paul Guerrera fight Friday night at Sled Allen's arena have been sold, and only 100 of the original 300 reserved seats are left.

Monday night 600 general admission tickets remained to be sold, but they were expected to be sold in the next few days. Fans wishing to purchase tickets may get them at O. C. Foster's gym, 2417 Main, and Wylies Drug store Thursday and Friday.

For his sixteenth professional fight, Henderson has picked a rough fighter in Guerrera. The Juarez Mexico, native has had 32 fights and is a wise man in the ring.

Henderson has never seen his opponent box, but on several occasions at El Paso Guerrera witnessed Henderson fight and respects the Texas Tech student's ability, although he says he can beat him in the ring.

In a little over a year, Henderson has had 15 fights, winning 14 of them. Only two were 10-rounders, and he won the first one. The last bout was fought against Jean Mougin, former French lightweight champion, who knocked out the Lubbock and Plainview product. So this match will be the first on the road back for Henderson. He will enter the ring in better shape for this fight than he was for the last one.

Also on the card beginning at 8 o'clock are four good bouts, with three local boxers appearing. Charley Neff, Petersburg, takes on Conrado Castunou of Juarez, a 22-year-old fighter with eight fights under his belt, and he will have to extend himself to win the six-rounder.

Twice winner of regional Golden Glove titles, Gene James will make his initial professional performance against Jack Wortham of Amarillo as a light heavyweight. He failed twice in his efforts to capture the title in the state tournament at Fort Worth.

James will have a weight advantage over Wortham, but the Amarillo boxer is more experienced.

In a welterweight bout, Bill Pollard, Lubbock, meets Frankie Guzman of Juarez. Guzman has a good record of 13 victories in 18 fights, with three draws. Though Pollard has been improving he will find the more experienced Guzman hard to beat.

Dickie Weinhold, Amarillo, will fight Jessie Robles in the other match preceding the main bout. Managed by Denby Woodring, Weinhold has appeared in several bouts in New York. Robles has won 21 of his 23 fights, two being draws, and the bout appears to be evenly matched.

Nelson Choice In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 4. (AP)—This may be the Masters where everyone is a champion but the favorites are nearly the same as those in otner shows on golf's winter circuit.

Also the golf-wise gallery gathering at the Augusta National for Thursday's opening for once agree with the players on who they think will win.

Arrange these names in whatever order you like here are the men picked by the experts and second guessing gallerites—Byron Nelson, Cary Middlecoff Lloyd Mangrum, Sammy Snead Jimmy Demaret, Jim Ferrier Frank Stranahan and Skip Alexander.

Only one name makes that list different from the favorites for other tournaments. Byron Nelson, the abdicated Texas golfer turned rancher, is here and he's on everybody's list, usually up high. Doubtless Lord Byron would be choice pickings for all tournaments if he still played the circuit. Annually the king of the long iron shot comes out of Texas for the Masters and annually he takes prize money back to his cow castle.

Last year he tied with Harry Todd for sixth place. In 1947 he tied with amateur Stranahan for second.

Practice rounds in the past two weeks make Nelson a favorite for many reasons. Among the first five players asked to guess the winner, Nelson is the only one who did not list Nelson.

Herman Barron picked Byron for first place, then Mangrum, Middlecoff and Snead. Vic Ghezzi named Nelson the No. 1 man entered. After him Ghezzi picks the most consistent winners on the circuit — Middlecoff, Demaret. Mangrum, Snead and Ferrier.

Jug McSpaden played with Nelson yesterday and after the match, Mangrum and Demaret dropped to second and third place. Nelson took first.

Although Jimmy Thompson can't play this year, he can pick favorites — Mangrum, Nelson, Snead, Demaret and Middlecoff.

The likenings of Nelson himself are Mangrum, Middlecoff and strongboy Stranahan.

Idalou And Roosevelt Split Softball Games

IDALOU, April 4 (Special) — Idalou and Roosevelt boys and girls softball teams played here Monday, the local girls winning their game, 39-14, while the boys were defeated, 10-7. Teams were composed of seventh and eighth graders.

Power at the plate led to the overwhelming victory by the girls, and each Idalou player hit at least one home run.

Errors by the Idalou boys proved to be the deciding factor in the outcome of their game, which was close all the way.

Next Wednesday afternoon the teams go to the Roosevelt school for a return match to be played at 1 o'clock.

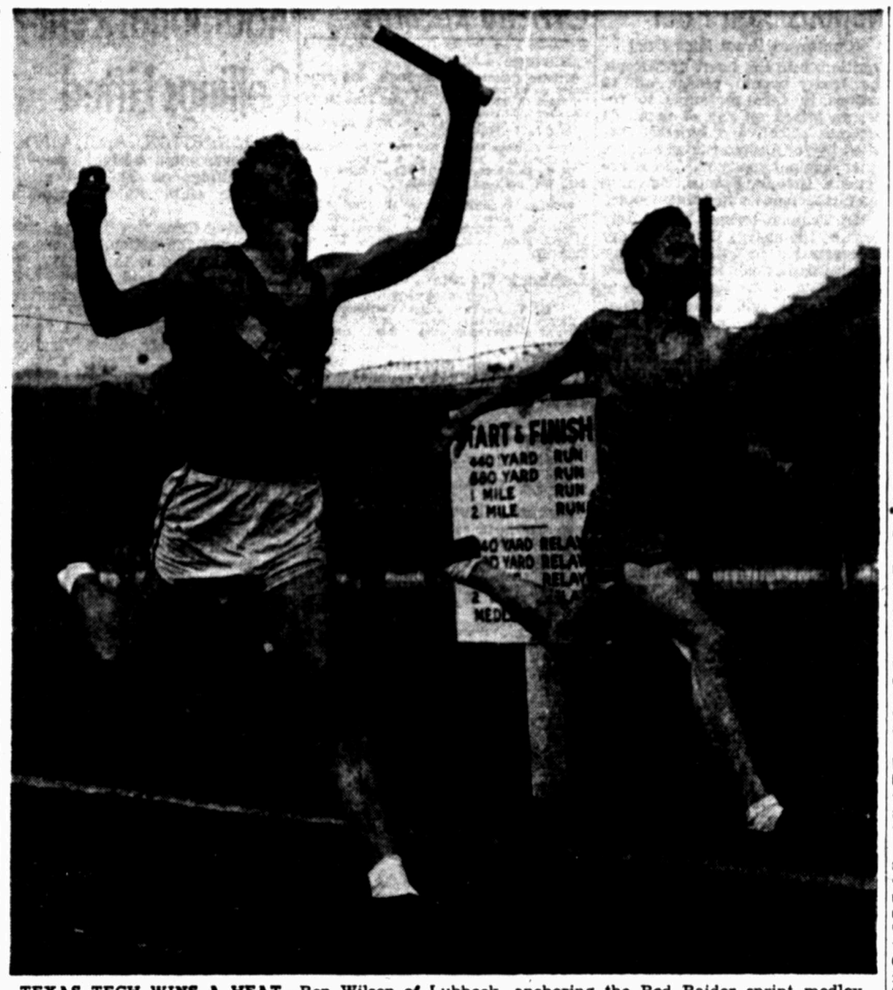

Players on the Idalou girls team include Mavaline Underwood, Sandra Johnson, Patricia Derrick, Norma Sue Boyd, Rita Jones, Barbara Johnson, Norma Jean Jacobs, Greta Heck, Doris Jean Harris, and Nelia Mae King.

Playing for the boys are Gene Reid, Jimmie Joiner, Billy Sisk, Lawrence Ray, Pete Wilbanks, Billy Jacobs, James Dawson, Charles Perry, and Arthur Newton.

Former Card Players Forcing Court Case

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—Fred Martin and Max Lanier, former St. Louis Cardinal pitchers, today obtained from the U.S. Court of Appeals an order directing organized baseball to show cause tomorrow why the court should not hear immediately an appeal from a decision last week by Federal Judge Edward A. Conger.

Judge Conger's decision denied the players' application for a preliminary injunction restraining baseball from keeping them on the suspended list.

TEXAS TECH WINS A HEAT—Ben Wilson of Lubbock, anchoring the Red Raider sprint medley relay team, crosses the finish line barely ahead of LSU's Dan Newsome at the Texas Relays in Austin. Wilson had to come from behind to catch the LSU runner to win the heat for Tech. The Raider time of 3:34.3 was not quite as good as Oklahoma A & M's 3:32.4, but it gave the Lubbock team second place. Other runners on the quartet were Costin Bufkin, Charley Reynolds and Moon Mullins in that order.

Leo Durocher Once Praised His Spirit

Varied Career Marks Fitzsimmons' Life

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 4—Freddy Fitzsimmons, in the penalty box since the start of spring training, has emerged to give Leo Durocher a lift with his New York Giants, and another phase of the varied career of the big guy starts.

Star pitcher of the Giants . . . traded to other arch rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers . . . a hero in flatbush in the rocking-chair stage of his career . . . abruptly hired as manager of the Phils . . . abruptly fired from that job . . . business manager of a football team . . . coach of the Boston Braves. Portly Freddy really has been around.

It was his carelessness in neglecting to notify the Braves of his intention to approach Durocher for a Giant coaching job which led to his suspension by Commissioner Happy Chandler.

The suspension really didn't have much of a bite, and probably was tougher on Durocher than it was on Fitzsimmons, as Leo probably had to do his own ball retrieving. Fitzsimmons is the best ball retriever we ever saw during workouts.

How much he will help the Giants we don't know, but if hard work brings results he should help tremendously.

He always was a tremendous competitor. In fact, in Durocher's ill-advised book, "The Dodgers and Me," he used Freddy as an example of fighting spirit. He also, unfortunately, used Johnny Mize as the victim of Fitzsimmons' will to win, picturing Mize as something of an oaf up at the plate, putty in the hands of the fiery pitcher. Leo didn't know at the time he some way would have Mize on his squad.

Anyway, whether he did it with his arm or with spirit, Fitz piled up the impressive record of 16 victories against two defeats for the Dodgers in 1940, at the age of 39.

He stuck around with the club until midseason in 1943, when he was released to succeed Bucky Harris as manager of the Phils.

The Phils finished seventh that year, and eighth the next, and when it still was in eighth place on June 30 the following year Fitzsimmons joined the not-too-exclusive fraternity of ex-Phil pilots.

Whether or not he gave the Braves a fair shake in applying for a job with the Giants is problematical. Chandler, obviously, didn't think so. At any rate he's back with the Giants, and with Durocher. He should be happy.

Jockey Ties Maryland Track Record With Six Winners

BOWIE, Md., April 4 (INS)—Apprentice Jockey Benjamin Civitello tied a Maryland record today by riding six winners on an eight-race program at Bowie.

The only jockeys to perform this feat in Maryland's 100-year racing history were Earle Sande in 1919 and Albert Adams in 1930.

Four of Civitello's winners were favorites, but Roy Jay in the seventh paid $28.80 and Art Brown in the final paid $20.20.

Raiders Eye Abilene Meet

Temperatures that plagued runners in Austin may have been a few degrees warmer than they were here in Lubbock yesterday. but you couldn't prove it to the Texas Tech track squad

Coach Maxey McKnight called off work on the cinder-paths yesterday, despite the fact that the Raiders have a meet with Hardin-Simmons, McMurry and Abilene Christian college coming up Saturday in Abilene.

The north wind whistled just a shade too sharply for the runners, although the football squad reveled in temperatures that made the grid season ideal. One or two Raider cindermen had the courage to trot around the track heavily bundled up, but the rest decided to enjoy the day of rest.

Coach McKnight was well satisfied with the showing the Raiders made in the Texas Relays The runners showed up well and Ed Clepper barely missed bringing home second place in the high jump. The relay teams, particularly the sprint medley team, covered themselves with credit. Times were only a shade off records, despite the rain-wetten field, and the Tech times were all good.

Seth Murphey and Moon Mullins failed in the 100-yard dash, but neither got going. Murphey was ruled off for two false starts and Mullins, after one false start, was left at the blocks.

Charley Reynolds showed signs of getting in shape rapidly and should be ready to again take his place at the head of the dash men. The 440-yard runners, Costin Bufkin, Ben and Joe Wilson all turned in good times, while Charley Pinnell and Clepper both did all right in the hurdles and the high jump.

At Abilene Saturday, McKnight will have a chance to use other runners, as well as his field men. ACC has the squad to beat, gaining seven and a half points in the college division at the Relays and showing general strength.

With a break in the weather, McKnight hopes to have his runners ready for the competition at Abilene.

Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes Add Three Coaches To Grid Staff

LAMESA, April 4 (Special)—Lamesa high school, in the midst of an expansion program which includes the construction of a new senior high school and football field, has increased its athletic staff with the hiring of three additional coaches.

The new members of the staff will serve as fulltime teachers and carry out their coaching activities on the side. The trio are John P. Mason, Plainview; Everett Martin, Spur; and Elvin Dawson, Greenville.

Mason will be the head track coach and serve as backfield coach of the football B team. He was a star in football and track at Abilene Christian college.

Dawson will coach all sports in the seventh and eighth grades. An all-district lineman at Greenville under Lamesa's head coach, Bob Harrell, he attended East Texas State Teachers college.

The seven-man coaching staff will be headed by Harrell. Other members of the staff include O. W. Follis, basketball coach and assistant football coach; Jack Wetzel, head baseball coach and ninth grade football and B team basketball coach; and Gaylon Roberts, coach of all fifth and sixth grade sports.

Baseball Leader Collapses, Dies

SAN ANTONIO, April 4 (AP)—A cerebral hemorrhage was blamed for the death late last night of William L. Osley, 51, president of the San Antonio Missions of the Texas League.

Osley collapsed as he drove back to San Antonio from a dinner party given outside the city for the St. Louis Browns. He was taken to a hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Dr. Jack Scull listed a cerebral hemorrhage as the cause of death.

Funeral services will be held here at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Osley is survived by his widow.

Osley was president of the Rio Grande League as well as president of the Missions, a Browns farm club.

Osley slowed his car as he neared the city limits last night and complained of feeling nauseated. He stopped the car, opened the door and tumbled out.

Charles W. DeWitt, vice president of the Browns, drove Osley to a hospital. Mrs. sley was in the car following her husband's.

William O. DeWitt, Browns president, said he has not had time to think about replacing Osley.

Two exhibition games scheduled today at Mission Stadium were cancelled.

Blue Sox Are Needle Shy

ABILENE, April 4 (U.P.)—Seven baseball players, members of the Abilene team of the West Texas-New Mexico League, were hospitalized here today as an aftermath of inoculations they received before they entered the United States from Cuba.

Physicians said the illness was a "natural reaction" and was no cause for worry.

The players hospitalized were Ernie Klein, Art Bosch, Rene Escalero, Hector Bonet, Mike Martin, Mannie Rodriguez and Alfred Padron.

Thirteen players in the National Hockey League have played ten or more years in hockey's big tent.

China Aid Okayed

ation, expired April 2.

The dual actions on China came shortly before both houses of Congress recessed for the day, so members could attend the historic signing of the 12-nation North Atlantic defense treaty.

President Truman is expected to send the treaty to the Senate immediately, but prolonged debate is almost certain before the Senate finally acts on it. It requires a two-thirds vote to confirm.

HALE CENTER, April 4 (Spl.)—The third annual membership meeting of the Hale County Co-Operative hospital will be held Tuesday, April 12, at 2:30 p. m. in the Hale Center high school auditorium, Ray Bailey, manager of the institution, has announced.

Re-election of Boyd, or election of a successor for him, will be among business matters to be undertaken. Annual report of the association's finances and progress will be made, Bailey said.

States' Rights To Curb Labor Upheld

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—The Supreme court held unanimously today that states have the right to curb labor union activities which restrain trade.

"The state's power to govern in this field is paramount," Justice Black said for the court, "and . . . nothing in the constitutional guarantees of speech or press compels a state to apply or not to apply its antitrade restraint law to groups of workers, businessmen or others."

Missouri Law Upheld

The court held that under Missouri law a union had no right to picket an ice plant with the aim of forcing it to stop sales to non-union ice peddlers. The plant itself had no dispute with its own unionized workers.

State courts ordered the union, an AFL ice and coal drivers and handlers local in Kansas City, to stop picketing. They held the purpose of the action was to force the Empire Ice and Storage Co., to violate the state law against restraint of trade.

The union then appealed to the Supreme court, arguing that the picketing only informed the public that the plant "sells ice to non-union peddlers."

Black said that while Congress and th states may grant exemptions from freedom of trade laws to unions, organized workers are not entitled to "special constitutional protection denied all other people."

The court split 5-4 in holding invalid a section of New York's agriculture and markets law authorizing the state to license dealers who buy milk for export to other states.

Talks On Texas Names

Mrs. A. T. Cocanhougher presided during the dinner and introduced Mrs. Kinard. The dinner speaker, Mrs. Ben F. Brewer, spoke on "Place Names of Texas" by J. Frank Dobie as published by the Texas Folklore society. In her discussion, she mentioned Texas towns which were named for animals, cattle brands, Biblical places, plants, Greek mythology and literary and other famous persons. Mrs. Brewer told about many towns having changed their proasic names to something more romantis. Origin of the state name "Texas" was a part of the talk as was the poem, "The Little Towns of Texas," by Clyde Walton Hill.

Mrs. Lloyd Croslin, pianist, played "Hungarian Rhapsody," (Listz) and accompanied Mrs. Asher Thompson as she sang "How We Love You Ione," a composition by Mrs. Glenn Truax of Canyon written in honor of Mrs. John J. Perry, and "Into the Night" (Edwards) and "Let My Song Fill Your Heart." (Ernest Charles). The invocation was by Miss Mae Murfee.

Nosegays of pansies, violets daffodils an dcarnations, orchid tapers and purple runners decorated the dinner tables at which 74 persons were seated. Lubbock garden clubs arranged the decorations and the dinner was given with the compliments of Hemphill-Wells.

Mesdames Cocanhougher, T. E. Buckner, Carroll Smyers, F. A. Kleinschmidt, Bryan Edwards, George Lemon and Miss Murfee, local members of the state and district boards, were dinner hostesses.

Bank Robbery

banker moved across the bank to Schmidt's teller cage.

"I want the fifties and hundreds," the man said, "I know they're in there and I want them."

Traylor explained the bills of large denomination were under time lock and could not be reached.

Money Dumped Into Sack

"Fill up the sack, then," the man replied.

Traylor dumped bundles of $1 and $20 bills into the paper sack.

The man took the sack from Traylor and left the building, calmly walking down a side street that intersects Almeda at the bank.

Traylor and others in the bank said they did not see the man enter a waiting automobile. Later, a woman who lives immediately behind the bank said an automobile had been parked in the entrance to the driveway at her home.

She went to the bank to see if the vehicle belonged to a bank customer. The gunman was leaving the building as she entered. When she returned to her home the automobile was gone.

Police, deputy sheriffs, state highway patrolmen and Texas Rangers combed the southeast Houston area following the robbery but could find no clues.

The FBI also was called into the investigation.

Bulgarian Vice-Premier Relieved Of Post, Placed Under Arrest

SOFIA, April 4. (INS)—The Bulgarian news agency reported tonight that Trajcho Kostov, vice-premier and chairman of the Bulgarian Committee for economic and financial questions, has been relieved of his posts and arrested.

Kostov's removal in a purge of Communist party officials in Bulgaria long has been predicted in the Yugoslav press.

The Yugoslav newspaper, Politika, said last week that at least 100 ranking Bulgarian party and state officials, including Kostov, had been arrested in Sofia and the provinces.

According to the reports of the Yugoslav papers, the arrested officials were accused of espionage for the Western powers.

Kostov ranked second only to Premier Georgi Dimitrov in the Bulgarian government hierarchy and was a member of the National Politburo in charge of the country's economy.

House Debate Slated

tablish a foreign contact service.

Taber told the House the bill is $66,412,071 above budget estimates and $218,953,126 over current year appropriations.

This "large scale juggling," Taber said, included substitution of lending "authority" for a direct appropriation for the Farmers Home administration, and shifting of the school lunch fund.

The President had asked for $103,000,000 in cash for the farmers Home Administration for loans to farm tenants and for water facilities and production and subsistence loans.

Instead, the committee approved the same amount in contract authority and claimed a budget cut for the entire sum. However, Taber contended it will necessitate future appropriations.

Republican Ticket Takes Lead In Michigan Spring Election

DETROIT, April 4. (AP)—The Republican ticket in today's spring election, rolling downstate with a three-to-two margin over the Democrats, encountered a two-to-one Democratic trend in the first unofficial returns from populous Wayne county.

With 709 precincts reporting out of 4,215, including the first 200 from Wayne county, Republican state highway commissioner Charles M. Ziegler held an 20,180 vote lead over his Democratic opponent, John H. McCarthy of Mt. Clemens.

The vote was 74,911 for Ziegler and 54,731 for McCarthy. The rest of the GOP ticket was swimming along behind Ziegler at about the same rate, but it had still to meet possible breakers in normally-Democratic Wayne county.

Nations Sign Pact

frontiers into the heart of Europe, the treaty would pledge all 12 nations to take measures to resist an attack on any of them. It becomes effective only when ratified by the United States and six other original sponsors. These are Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Mr. Truman termed "absolutely untrue" the charge that the treaty is aggressive in intent, a charge which Russia made in formal notes on the eve of the signing.

"The pact will be a positive, not a negative, influence for peace, and its influence will be felt not only in the area it specifically covers, but throughout the world," he declared.

Hope To Create Shield

"Twice in recent years, nations have felt the sickening blow of unprovoked aggression," he went on. "Our peoples, to whom our governments are responsible, demand that these things shall not happen again. We are determined that they shall not happen again."

He said that in the pact "we hope to create a shield against aggression and the fear of aggression —a bulwark which will permit us to get on with the real business of government and society, the business of achieving a fuller and happier life for our citizens."

By contrast with the western nations, who unite despite differing governmental and economic systems, the "police state" tries to achieve unity by imposing uniform beliefs and a rule of force on everyone, he said. At no time did he name Russia, however.

Acheson spoke at the start of the two hour ceremony and introduced the others.

Others Make Statements

Belgium's Spaak said the treaty should "disturb no one, save, of course, any person or persons who might foster the criminal idea of having recourse to war."

For Canada, Lester B. Pearson, secretary of state for external affairs, urged that the treaty's promise be converted into performance lest it "remain no more than yet another expression of high but unattained ideals."

Danish Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen declared that the very nature of the signers' institutions "makes a calculated plan of aggression a virtual impossibility."

Schuman Defends Treaty

France's Robert Schuman, speaking in his native tongue, made one of the rare direct references to Russia in saying the treaty represented no contradiction of France's non-aggression treaty with the Soviet Union. This is directed against a possible future German menace.

For Iceland, Foreign Minister Bjarni Benedikasson referred with feeling to the Communist foes of the pact who last week at Reykjavik took part in a violent demonstration while parliament was voting to adhere.

Bearded 75-year-old Count Carlo Sforza, Italian foreign minister, declared that "no nation in the world can feel secure in its prosperity and peace if all its neighbors are not as safely marching toward the same goals of prosperity and security."

Peaceful Intent Stressed

From Foreign Minister Joseph Bech of Luxembourg came the prediction that the Atlantic pact might provide only a "lasting truce" rather than a firmly established peace.

Netherlands Foreign Minister Dirk U. Stikker, a former businessman, used undiplomatic language in denouncing the charge that the pact aims at war. He said sharply: "That is a lie."

The same assurances of peaceful intent were given by Halvard Lange of Norway and Portugal's Jose Da Matta.

British Foreign Secretary Bevin said the new treaty "will bring a great feeling of relief to millions of people."

Democracy Organized

"At last democracy is no longer a series of isolated units," he said. "It has become a cohesive organism determined to fulfill its great purpose. But it is not the final end."

Mr. Truman called the signing a "neighborly act." He said that had the treaty existed in 1914 and in 1939, "supported by the nations which are represented here today, I believe it would have prevented the acts of aggression which began two world wars."

The President at the same time restated an earlier declaration by Acheson that joining the North Atlantic agreement "does not signify lessening of American concern for the security and welfare of other nations, such as the near East."

War Not Inevitable

He said at the outset that by this treaty the North Atlantic nations undertake to carry on their affairs in accordance with the United Nations charter.

The charter, he noted, binds all UN members to settle international disputes by peaceful means and refrain from the threat or use of force.

"That solemn pledge — that abiding obligation — we reaffirm here today," he added.

Without mentioning Soviet Russia by name, Mr. Truman said that "one of the major powers" blocked formation of an international force to enable the United Nations to preserve world peace.

tion to suspend service at Abilene and Big Spring which are also served by Pioneer, but no final action was taken on these two cities in today's order.

Pioneer's five-year extension is to continue service on its Houston-to-Amarillo segment, Houston to Dallas, and Dallas to Midland-Odessa. Pioneer received only a one-year extension of its route from Lubbock to Albuquerque.

The five-year extension of Pioneer applies to the Dallas-Waco-Temple portion of the Dallas-Houston segment to Austin with the addition of Temple and Bryan as the alternate intermediate points between Austin and Houston on the Houston to Amarillo segment.

Pioneer's route will also be modified by the addition of segments of Trans-Texas' route between Dallas and Houston, and Dallas and San Angelo by a certain intermediate point.

The decision was handed down in the board's survey of the nation's air routes. One purpose of the study was to eliminate smaller cities from the big lines and give these cities to feeder lines.

The board said while it felt so far feeder lines had not demonstrated that they could be commercially self-sustaining, at the same time they had demonstrated a definite contribution to the nation's air and postal service. No specific feeder line was singled out as making this contribution but each was taken as an individual case.

Additional Rent Ceilings Lifted

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—The government tonight removed rent ceilings on 29,000 dwelling units in eight states, including Texas.

Housing Expediter Tighe Woods announced the action, the second decontrol move in three days. By week's end, he said, ceilings will be removed from approximately 148,000 rental units in 27 states.

Twenty-six areas of Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, West Virginia, North Carolina, North Dakota, Minnesota and Texas are covered by Woods' latest action. He previously lifted ceilings on 36,500 houses, apartments and rooms in Alabama, Indiana, New Jersey and Texas.

In disclosing the new decontrols, Woods repeated an earlier statement that his agency — and local rental advisory boards—will continue to police areas in which ceilings are abolished. He promised a "reimposition of controls" if severe rent gouging occurs.

Congress last week gave Woods authority to replace ceilings in any part of the nation under provisions of the newly enacted 15-month extension of the Rent Control act.

Ceilings were removed today on 4,000 units in Texas, and 792 in Arizona.

A third announcement is expected Wednesday lifting ceilings on approximately 25,000 more dwellings scattered across the country.

A breakdown of the areas and the states affected by today's action includes:

Texas—4,000 units; in Randall county (except the city of Amarillo) in the Amarillo area; San Patricio county in the Corpus Christi area. These two areas are in addition to ten previously announced decontrols made Saturday.

Chinese Nationalist Chief May Issue Cease Fire Order Today

By GEORGE VINE
INS Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, April 4—The possibility that acting President Li Tsung-Jen will order a cease fire tomorrow in the Chinese civil war was reported today in Shanghai.

The reports, originating in Nanking, said such an armistice would affect the entire fighting fronts strung out for 1,000 miles along the Yangtze river.

(Official sources in Nanking said formal peace talks in Communist-occupied Peiping would begin tomorrow but that the government did not know whether a cease fire would be discussed.

Few Bridge Heads Held

(Representatives from both sides have concluded four days of preliminary negotiation.

(Communist radio broadcasts from the northern city made no mention of a possible cease fire order.)

The reported armistice, if true, would be the first full scale cessation of hostilities in the dragging conflict since Japan surrendered in 1945.

At last reports, the Chinese Nationalists held a few remaining bridgeheads on the north bank of the river barrier. It was not known whether these would be relinquished in the event of a cease fire.

Communist troops have reportedly been deploying in the area for full scale spring attacks against Nanking and Shanghai but thus far there has been only minor skirmishing since the main body of government troops retreated to the south bank of the river.

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., April 4 (AP)—Even a magician has a hard time getting his hands on a rabbit in a country where meat is as scarce as it is in Britain.

At a show of the British Magical society here over the weekend, one slight-of-hand artist reached into a hat to pull out a bunny.

The best he could do was a stuffed one.

UN To Resume Work Today, But World Watches U. S., Russia

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The United Nations General Assembly resumes its work today in an atmosphere of unreality. Major attention centers on what is being done in Washington and Moscow, rather than at Flushing Meadows or Lake Success.

Observers seem to be generally agreed that tension is not so great today as at the opening session in Paris last September. Then there was widespread fear that the Berlin dispute might turn into immediate war or that its reverberations might disrupt UN.

But the Assembly hall at Flushing and the corridors at Lake Success were chill with the drafts set up by yesterday's signing of the pact, and by the obvious centering of interest by the foreign ministers on their activities at Washington.

UN was more than ever relegated to a waiting role, while the real dynamic action of nations merely skirted its edges. Washington had recognized the two worlds which UN had hope to make one. At Washington the western leaders were trying to settle the problems of Germany and Italy's former colonies. From Washington would come the word of what the world was doing, and from Moscow would come wordy counterattacks. The UN again would become a forum, a place where decisions would be explained, attacked and defended, but not a place where many of them would be made.

Colonial Question Slated

The UN remained the "open door" through which it was hoped that Russia might be enticed one day to assume a co-operative role in world affairs.

Realistic observers take the view that Russia will remain in the UN just as long as it is useful to her—and no longer.

The Italian colonial question will be passed on to the Assembly by the big powers, after they have decided what they want. The veto will be discussed again. Human rights — those of a cardinal in Hungary, Hindus in South Africa, perhaps those of negroes in the United States—will be brought to the fore again.

The UN, designed to keep the peace when peace shall have been made by the great powers, has as yet no peace to keep. It is a member of the defensive squad—and the world teams are still on offense.

Church School Meet Is Slated Wednesday

A Vacation Church School Institute for persons from Methodist churches of the Lubbock district who will work in vacation schools in the various churches this summer will be conducted from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Wednesday at Asbury Methodist church.

Approximately 125 persons are expected to attend. The institute will be held under direction of Mrs. W. P. Layne of Slaton, district director of children's work.

Courses to be taught are:

Kindergarten, course from the book, "My Home and Family" (Roorbach) by Mrs. Russell Mitchell, Levelland; primary, from book, "Friend: at Home and in the Community" (Eddy), by Mrs. King Sides of Lubbock; junior, from "Friends at Work" (Ball), by Mrs. Martin Collins of Slaton; intermediate, from "Exploring the Bible with Intermediates" (Desjardins), Miss Lucille Rucker of Lubbock; and a course for pastors and directors on how to set up vacation Bible school, by Mrs. Uel D. Crosby of Lubbock, Northwest Texas conference director of children's work.

Registration will open at 10 a. m., followed by opening worship led by Dr. J. O. Haymes, Lubbock district superintendent. Luncheon will be served in Fellowship hall at 12 noon, At 2:30, a sharing period for the different groups will be conducted. The meeting will close with brief worship led by Mrs. Crosby.

HOME NOT SO SAFE

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (U.P.)—For 20 years, Edward B. Williams, fire bureau captain-inspector, slid down the brass poles at department fire houses without a scratch. But he wasn't so fortunate at home. He tripped on a flight of stairs and rolled to the bottom, suffering severe bruises.

Floral Firm's Open House Here Attended By Estimated 15,000

An estimated 15,000 persons visited the Texas Floral company, 2107 Twenty-first, Friday, Saturday and Sunday during open house for the company's remodeled plant, J. C. Davis, owner, said Monday.

Sunday afternoon saw the largest crowd when traffic was snarled for several blocks by parked cars as people sought to visit the flower shop and greenhouses. Ninety-five different towns and 16 states were represented in Sunday's visitors who registered, Davis said.

During this month, an estimated 250 florists from Northwest Texas and eastern New Mexico will visit the plant, Davis said.

President Andrew Jackson's so-called "Kitchen Cabinet" was composed of close friends and advisers who dropped in at the White House with great informality.

Jaycees Hear Report On State Convention

Reports on last weekend's state Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in Galveston highlighted Monday's weekly Jaycee luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

Local Jaycees who attended the convention termed it the most successful in the organization's history. Giving reports today on the Galveston activities were Harold Chapman, R. S. Wilkinson, Asher Thompson, Arvol Hays, Barney Stagner and Horace Gearhart.

Thompson introduced committee chairmen whose groups won awards at the state meet. Chairmen of first place winners included Ralph Krebbs and Gordon Sanders, extension; Rolan Simpson, Americanism; Allen Todd, inter-club relations; Arles Graham and Rufus Rush, agriculture; and Gene Quest, safety. Chairmen of second place committees were Reagan Howell, aviation; Rod MacDougall, public relations; and Homer Roper and Hoyse McMurtry, membership and personnel.

The winning chairmen were introduced and recognized by club members for their outstanding records during the last year.

Asher Thompson, who was chosen as the outstanding state director, and L. D. Whiteley, who was selected as the outstanding state officer and also elected to a national director's post, were also recognized by the club for their work.

Clifton Haynie presided at the luncheon, with invocation by Rufus Rush.

Haynie reminded all members of the Texas Tech sports carnival Saturday night at Jones stadium, for which tickets are now on sale.

House Cuts Proposed Tax On Gas

Final Vote On Plan Is Blocked

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 4—The 51st legislature's first new tax bill today was amended to cut sharply the amount of revenue it would raise.

The House voted 68 to 58 to reduce Rep. C. S. McLellan's proposed production tax on natural gas from one cent to three-fourths of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet.

An attempt to bring the bill to a final vote failed, and the House adjourned until tomorrow morning. This means debate on McLellan's measure will not be resumed until next Monday, the day the House sets aside for special orders of business.

Opposition Is Strong

The tax proposal had come out on top of the heap after three early test votes, but McLellan considered the tax rate reduction a crippling blow.

The amendment was offered by Rep. M. K. Thomas of Wills Point. It would lower revenue from an estimated 22 to 23 million dollars a year to about $17 million. Thomas said he thought the lower rate was a "fair one that all gas producers can afford to pay."

Even with the modification, the bill still was opposed vigorously.

McLellan urged passage of his bill as a measure that would provide thousands of miles of hard-surface roads to get Texas farmers out of the mud. He said it would add those additional miles to roads now provided under a "wonderful" state highway system and a "well-planned" secondary or farm-to-market road plan. The type of road contemplated under his bill would supplement the present rural road program.

More Study Sought

McLellan's bill would provide roads of a type not included in the recently-adopted $15 million a year rural road program, which would have to meet rigid federal aid specifications.

Opponents of McLellan's bill said a vote against it was not a vote against the farmers in view of the legislature's adoption of the $15 million program. They said it would not help relieve the state's fiscal crisis because revenue from it would not go into the general fund. They said they thought the House needed more time to study the measure.

Both House and Senate ordered afternoon sessions. The Senate continued in effect re-writing its clogged calendar by advancing seven bills for special consideration.

The Senate's afternoon session lasted only an hour. It passed and sent to the House a bill by Senator Kyle Vick of Waco to set up examination requirements for firemen and policemen civil service systems in cities of 10,000 popula-

Brownfield Picked For 1950 Convention

Levelland Man Will Head Legion Group

W. T. Bridges of Levelland's post No. 417 was elected commander of the 19th district, American Legion, during final sessions of the annual district convention in Lubbock Sunday afternoon.

By unanimous vote of the convention Brownfield was selected as the 1950 convention host.

Samuel R. Hurd of post 187 at Petersburg was elected vice commander of the district. All other officials will be appointed by Bridges.

Auxiliary Names Officers

Meeting concurrently, the American Legion auxiliary elected Mrs. L. B. Elliott of Colorado City, president of the 19th district, and Mrs. Riley Duff of Lubbock vice president. The two posts were the only elective offices to be filled.

More than 600 Legionnaires representing 43 American Legion Legion posts of the 19th Congressional district attended Sunday sessions of the convention.

Principal speaker was William (Bill) McCraw, of Dallas, former attorney general of Texas and currently the Legion department commander.

Speaks Sunday Morning

McCraw, speaking at a meeting Sunday morning in the Legion post home, 910 Texas avenue, emphasized the importance of strong Legion membership and its direct bearing on legislation, pensions, hospitalization, the Veterans administration and its authority and limitations as granted and controlled by Congress.

Mrs. Albert Morrow of Morton, outgoing district president of the Legion auxiliary, introduced the auxiliary department president of Texas, Mrs. O. E. Duey of Graham.

Mrs. Duey presented a picture of the auxiliary activities during the past year.

The convention went on record with 10 resolutions. Seven of them thanked Mayor W. H. Rodgers, Lubbock business firms, newspapers, the 40 & 8 organization the American Legion auxiliary, post commanders and members of the Legion and Robert W. Sisson, regional VA office manager and his staff, for their parts in making the convention one of the most successful in history.

One resolution expressed the convention's opposition to a proposal to remove veterans' outpatient treatment from regional offices to VA-hospitals.

Another favored extension of the veterans' readjustment allowance through Juluy 25, 1954, as proposed by House Resolution 1374. The resolution mentioned that 880,000 veterans in Texas were entitled to this allowance and that approximately half of them have taken advantage of it, although veterans entering the labor market from colleges and universities will need to take advantage of the extension.

The tenth resolution protested a proposal that the Veterans Readjustment allowance agent for each state be eliminated and agents for several states combined for economy purposes. The resolution urged that the Texas agent be retained.

Registration for the convention opened at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. A "40 & 8" wreck re-establishing Lubbock voiture No. 332 of the 40 & 8 was the principal event of Saturday's program The auxiliary had a tea in the Hilton hotel Saturday afternoon, and a funfest and dance was conducted there Saturday night

Hearing On Repeal Of Cattle Quarantine Set

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 4—Hearings will be held Wednesday morning before a House Agriculture sub-committee on a bill offered by Rep. Eugene Worley, Shamrock, to repeal the law setting up a quarantine station for cattle from countries having foot-and-mouth disease.

Worley is chairman of the sub-committee.

The guarantine station, at Swan island in the Caribbean, has not yet been used because of the threatened congressional repeal and because of repeated urging by Worley and Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson, who acted at the request of Texas cattlemen.

orley said there is too much threat to the U. S. cattle industry in a quarantine station. He recalls the cattle which are alleged to have started the present outbreak of the diseases in Mexico were thought to have been immune after quarantine but were not apparently.

"Besides the bill as now written gives the secretary of agriculture too much power in drafting regulations," said Worley. "I do not think the secretary would use this power but then he ought not by law to have it. I doubt if regulations sufficient to control the matter could be written."

Corrosion-resistant stainless steel drums now are used to ship acids and other chemicals in solid or liquid form.

PROGRAM SET AGAIN TONIGHT

Tech Varsity Show Makes Hit With First Night Audience

By JERRY HALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

'Milestones in Melody," annual Tech varsity show was presented for the first of three performances, to a well pleased crowd of 800 persons in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium last night.

The show which is produced and directed by students at the college lived up to advance billing by producing a full evening's entertainment of lively singing and dancing.

Dedicated To Dr. Wiggins

The first act of the musical comedy, which was written by Ruth Cook, senior from Orchard, dealt with the antics of two Tech students on vacation in New York. The two students played by David Fawcett and Gordon Hilton, both of Lubbock, kept the audience roaring with the problems they faced in trying to select the right girl from Madam Toujour's date bureau. The girls were presented in various themes of song and dance. Patti Jo Musson and Billie Hutchins both of Lubbock as the 'St. Louis Woman" and 'Rambling Rose" were two highlights in the first act. De Lois Utterback of Amarillo was also very pleasing in her rendition of "Laura."

Between the first and second acts the formal dedication of the first performance was made to Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Tech president. Dr. Wiggins said he spoke for the entire cast who had made the show possible in welcoming everyone to this year's varsity show.

"I want to thank each and everyone of you for coming tonight and helping make this show a success," he said.

Dance Takes Spotlight

The second act, composed of the day dream which a veteran janitor at Tech had, was the strong part of the show. "Pops" Greenwood, the janitor was played to perfection by Joe Meador of Matador. Meador kept the crowd laughing with his timely jokes and observations. Especially enjoyable in "Pops" dreams was an "Apache" dance number done by Jimmy Carter of Big Spring and Jo Simmons of Lubbock.

The lead-off number of "Pop's" dream, a dance routine of the Charleston danced to "Yes Sir, That My Baby," very nearly stopped the show. The girls in the Charleston line were Helen Moore, Fort Worth; Betty Willis, Amarillo; Janet Moore, Amarillo; Mary Ruth Norris, Waco; Pat Flanigan, Midland; Carol Sherrod, Lubbock and Jane Armstrong of Wichita Falls. Jester Offers Plan To Cut Property Taxes

AUSTIN, April 4 (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today suggested to the legislature a plan to reduce property taxes.

Jester said there already is enough money accumulated in the Confederate pension fund to pay all pensions in full—or even more liberal pensions—for the next five years. The fund will have a $3,200,000 balance by the end of August.

He suggested suspending the levy of two cents per $100 evaluation on property to cover the pensions until Jan. 1, 1953, with the automatic tax board empowered after that date to restore as much of the tax as necessary to continue the payment of "generous" pensions.

The governor also endorsed pending legislation to raise the amount of the pensions.

Jester said there are now six veterans and 891 widows claiming pensions in the state. He estimated suspension of the tax would save taxpayers almost a million dollars a year.

Texas Tech Board To Hold Meeting Monday In Austin

The board of directors of Texas Technological college will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting in the Stephen F. Austin hotel in Austin Monday.

Plans for taking charge of Pantex Ordinance plant in Amarillo and action on paving of Tech parking lots are some of the business that will be discussed at the meeting.

Congress Faces Special Session Prospect As Work Piles Higher

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 4—A special session of Congress in late summer or fall to act on European rearmament and unfinished phases of the Truman domestic program appeared inevitable today.

Senate majority leader Lucas (D-Ill) warned the Senate that a special session or an extension beyond the scheduled adjournment July 31 will be ordered if the President's program is not disposed of by that time.

Lucas later told newsmen that "we are going to act on the President's program if it takes all summer and fall to do it."

Treaty Is Major Business

He said he was not accusing "anyone" of delaying tactics to hold up the Truman program but that "it does seem there has been extraneous talk."

Democratic leaders admitted that they do not know when they can squeeze ratification of the North Atlantic security pact into the jammed Senate timetable.

The pact, signed today, must be approved by the Senate before Congress can even begin to consider huge outlay for European rearmament which Mr. Truman is expected to request within a month.

Republican policy leaders have disclosed privately the possibility of delaying ratification of the Atlantic pact until August. Senate GOP policy chief Taft, Ohio, is said to favor this plan.

Democratic leaders, however, made it plain they will not allow any such postponement. But, they conceded, it is impossible to say now when the pact can get to the Senate floor.

A leading Democrat estimated that Senate Foreign Relations committee hearings on the pact, scheduled to start soon, will run a month and that floor debate will take another month.

Congress faces a staggering amount of work. Included are the long-range housing bill, a measure to raise the minimum wage, extension of social security coverage, and legislation to reauthorize reciprocal trade agreements.

In addition, there is the controversial bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley labor act. Mr. Truman campaigned on a promise to repeal the act. Labor leaders are described as impatient with the delay.

Piled up too, are such bills as federal aid to education, health insurance and a proposal to strengthen unification of the armed services, and the administration reorganization bill.

Farm interests are urging action on a price support program. They contend it should be on the lawbooks by July 31 at the latest if it is to fully effect next year's planting.

Other work includes the regular appropriation bills which must be passed by June 30 and the bill to repeal restrictions on oleomargarine.

President Truman in addition has asked for an increase in taxes and for an anti-inflation program. However, it seems practically certain that Congress will not pass either.

The automotive industry provides the chief market for gasoline, rubber, steel, upholstery leather, mohair, lead, and nickel.

DIRECTS VISITING CHOIR—Robert W. Bedford, above, is director of the Austin college A Cappella choir, which will appear in concert in the First Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. Bedford, who is also head of the Austin college fine arts department, and his group of student singers are making their fifth annual concert tour on a ten-day trip to Texas cities. The concert here will be open to the public, and all interested persons have been invited to attend.

Legion Post At Hale Center To Sponsor Citizenship Projects

HALE CENTER, April 4 (Special)—Hale Center Post No. 203 of the American Legion has voted to sponsor two "citizenship" projects, Commander Glenn Thomas announced this week.

Members voted unanimously at the last meeting of the post to pay expenses of a junior class boy from Hale Center High school to attend the annual "Boys' State" program at Austin. The members also voted to present individual awards to the outstanding boy and girl graduates of Hale Center High school this school term. Nature of the awards and manner of selection will be worked out by a special committee later, Thomas announced.

Slight Damage Reported In Weekend Blazes In Lubbock

City firemen answered five alarms over the weekend, B. Black, fire marshal, said, but damage was slight.

The well house at the O. C. Ewing residence at Cain Terrace, on the Levelland road, caused a run at 4:27 a.m. Monday. Less than an hour later, an electric motor overheated at Acme Feed and Seed company, 508 Broadway.

Sunday fires were: Clothing caught over a gas stove in the Avinger addition east of Lubbock; filter powder caught fire from a welding torch at the rear of Modern cleaners, 1629 Broadway.

The other alarm answered was "false," Black said. It asked firemen to go to 1600-block Ave. B.

KATYDID DID

A katydid, hitched to a paper sled, was able to pull a load consisting of 12 sheets of paper, two steel pens, a large screw, a two-ounce stone, and three and one-half lead pencils, but it moistened its feet in its mouth to get better traction.

CLASS PLAY PLANNED

HALE CENTER, April 4 (Special)—"Shock of His Life" and "Sure As You're Born," two one-act plays relating incidents from the life of the same fictional family, will be presented here Wednesday night, April 13, by members of the Hale Center High school senior class. The plays, directed by Mrs. M. A. Payne and R. C. Bird, class sponsors, are to be presented instead of the customary three-act comedy or drama which have been given by graduating classes each year in the past here.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Results Pleasing

THE RESULTS of the trustee election last Saturday should be highly satisfactory to residents of Lubbock Independent School District for several reasons. The quality of the men elected and the balance they represent are among the reasons.

The reelection of Trustee Chairman Clyde G. Tatum to a second term was recognition of faithful and efficient service as well as the importance of experience in conducting board and school affairs.

Of the two new members, Ruel C. Martin is a successful and practical business man. Don L. Jones knows the people and problems in rural areas of the district as well as any person. All those elected know Lubbock by reason of long residence. They have the personal interest in schools which derives from the fact that all are parents.

Also most satisfying was the participation of more than 1,500 persons in the election. The turnout was remarkable, considering the absence of controversial issues and the lack of campaign, acrimony. In fact, there was no real campaigning, openly or quietly, in behalf of any of the five men, all well qualified, whose names appeared on the ballot. The large poll, circumstances considered, was primarily a testimonial of the interest of Lubbock people in our truly splendid public school system.

Saturday's election experiences gave strong assurances that improvements in our schools will continue with Messrs. Tatum, Martin and Jones available to give the board and system the benefit of their varied experience, interest and abilities.

An Unhappy Picture

FEW Americans have ever kidded themselves as to the nature of much of the fruit which would result from their foreign relief program.

They have known from experience that, instead of gratitude for what is done, Uncle Sam could expect vindictive criticism from recipients of his bounty because he did not give more. Few Americans have forgotten that the favorite designation for the French and British for the United States after World War I was "Uncle Shylock."

Americans know from human nature, too, that present recipients of aid are going to get all they can as long as they can—long after the real need for assistance has ceased.

Corroborative of this certainty of human selfishness has been the instant vigor with which the British government has discouraged, if not suppressed, information which indicates conclusively that economic conditions in the island have improved greatly. They are going to keep the flow of supplies, paid for by American taxpayers, running at full volume just as long as they can.

If we let them get away with that kind of business, we shall have ourselves chiefly to blame. We know, to a moral certainty, that they probably will try to do it—that we, in their shoes, might do the same.

The indications are that the supplies of aid probably will continue in larger volume and longer than needs will justify. But there is encouragement in the evidences, by such leaders as Sen. Robert Taft, of Ohio, that the Senate is not entirely asleep in this matter.

The alertness of such men inspires hope that relief from the enormous burden of foreign aid will be forthcoming, perhaps reluctantly, before the abuses of our charity have become too scandalously extreme.

It's A Wonderful Show, John

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, vacationing at a swank resort in the California desert, are deeply involved in a murder. Trying to extricate themselves, Sin is nearly kidnaped by Gaynor and Vernon, two employes of Mr. Barselou, who owns the resort, and Johnny is drugged at a gambling ranch where he was taken by Faye Jordan, a mysterious girl. When the Conovers are brought together again by Mr. Trim, who is supervising the Conovers' expense-paid vacation, they decide to go home. Johnny finds his car keys were taken when he was searched at the gambling ranch. Then they spy Gaynor and Vernon hunting for them. They find Faye Jordan's car with the keys in the ignition and escape in it.)

XXIII

THE coupe swerved to the right, cut around the parked cars and hurtled without a pause onto Coachella Street. At the corner, John Henry spun the car left and gunned off down Date toward Highway 99 and escape from Azure.

Sin squirmed around for a last look at the hotel. "Johnny!" she squealed.

"Hurt yourself?"

"They're following us!"

The Mercury raced recklessly onto Highway 99. John Henry flicked his eyes at the rearview mirror and swore defiantly. A big black Buick sedan danced in the polished surface. It looked like Vernon behind the wheel. Sin studied her husband's frown. "What can we do, honey?"

"Let me think a minute," John Henry begged. He kept the accelerator flat against the floor mat. The shivering needle of the speedometer rocked past the black 60, heading for 70 with no hesitation.

John Henry's cheerless face went suddenly incandescent. "The ranch!" he shouted. "There's a crowd at the ranch. They can't do anything to us in a crowd."

"But Johnny, that's where—"

"Faye's back at the hotel—we've got her car. And Lieutenant Lav's at the ranch, isn't he? It's the safest place in the world right now!"

THE Buick seemed to be lagging behind. John Henry, keeping anxious watch in the rearview mirror, lost sight of the big black car for moments at a time as they raced up and down the rolling hillocks. The highway now curved slightly to the south. They were nearly to the dirt road which led to the Bar C Ranch. John Henry strained his eyes for the juncture of the two roads. At last, he sighted it, rushing at them at seventy miles an hour.

Vernon and the Buick were hidden behind a rise of ground. He jammed on the brakes, easy at first, then harder. Tires screamed in protest as the convertible checked its headlong rush and slowed down to fifty.

John Henry braked, gassed and swung the wheel simultaneously.

The Mercury bounced off Highway 99 onto the dirt road, swayed sickeningly for a moment, then righted itself proudly to shoot off at right angles to the highway. Fifty yards off the pavement, Conover brought the coupe to a complete stop behind the screen of trees.

Sin peeked out from behind her arms. "Johnny! What are you stopping for? They'll—"

John Henry waved her silent. He was half-turned in the seat, watching what he could see of the main road through the back window. There was a furious rush of sound and the Buick sedan tore by them, its driver's eyes fixed unswervingly on the highway ahead. Vernon was alone in the car.

Only when the black car had topped another hump in the ground and disappeared did John Henry blow out his breath. He grinned at his wife and let out the clutch again. The Mercury lurched forward over the uneven road. "I think we shook him for a while," he said. "By the time he finds we're not in front of him, we'll be in safe company."

A few minutes later the Bar C Ranch sprawled before the windshield.

THEY whisked under the log arch, up the driveway past the tamarisks and oleanders and came to a stop in the parking area. The drove of untended automobiles had vanished from the rocky pasture. "H'm," mused John Henry, "I hope the place isn't closed."

They didn't knock. John Henry had no admittance card and he didn't want to summon Sidney. The door opened easily, sliding silently into the dim foyer of the ranch house. The Conovers stepped in tentatively.

"I don't hear anything. You don't hear anything, do you?" Sin pressed the point nervously.

"It's in a back wing. That's where everybody is." They crept cautiously down the long gloomy corridor and John Henry pulled aside the drape. Then he felt happier. Through the heavy arched door to the gambling solon he could hear the familiar raucous song of the juke box and the clang of the slot machine just inside.

"We made it all right, honey!" he cried joyously, seizing his wife by one hand. He threw open the big door and plunged into the casino.

They stopped short on the threshold. The juke box was lit up crimsonly and blared noise of merrymaking but the great square room was empty of gamblers.

Only two men remained of the crowd that John Henry had expected to mingle with.

"Well, look who came," said Barselou from where he stood before the one-armed bandit. He had pulled down the lever and the machine made buzzing sounds. It stopped whirring with a click and then a flood of quarters began to pour from the metal mouth.

"Jack pot," commented the other man and got up from his impromptu seat on a covered faro table. It was the plump waiter from the Ship of the Desert, but dressed now in a brown suit. In one fat hand he held a revolver.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

THERE are two games in which I always lose.

One is cards. Any card game, no matter how simple.

I have tried Bridge, Gin Rummy, Poker, Pinochle, Oklahoma. Now I am busy with Canasta.

If I hold three aces, four kings, and seven or eight other swell cards, at the end of the game I am the booby.

BRANDEIS

Just a few evenings ago I needed only one more card for a Canasta. I drew and I drew and I drew. Nothing happened.

We played all evening long and when the thing was over, my score was 1950 with the next lowest player away over 3,000, and the winner with 5,000.

What's the answer?

"No card sense,' they tell me. What is card sense, anyway?

I have played with some pretty dumb people, people whose I.Q. would have shown a minus.

They walked away from me in cards.

They knew what I had in my hand, what every other player had in his, what was in the discard and in the deck.

I don't even know what I have in my own hand.

I have never learned to shuffle.

Usually when it's my turn, all the cards fall on the floor and I have to start over again.

Maybe being good at cards is just like having a green thumb.

Hazel Benjamin, one of our neighbors, can take a sick-looking petuna slip and produce a beautiful plant.

Just imagine, early in March she brought over a lovely arrangement of snapdragons, azaleas and petunias.

"I didn't know florists had that kind of flowers in March," I said.

"These didn't come from any florists," she replied. "They came from my little greenhouse upstairs. And the petunias are from a slip your own wife gave me last November."

(You ought to see the petunia slips we planted at the same time. Except that you can't see them. They wilted and died a long time ago).

• • •

IT just seems that there isn't a thing you can do about either card sense or the green thumb. If you haven't got it you haven't got it. That's all.

Here is the other game in which I always lose.

It's the game called "Let me pay the check."

You know it well. You go out to lunch or dinner with a friend or a party of friends.

The check comes around and everybody at the table reaches for it.

A violent squabble ensues, though a friendly one.

All present seem anxious to get that check.

I always get it.

ON DETAILS OF PACT

Allies Put On Spot

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Members of the proposed North Atlantic military alliance must report their preparations for war to Russia unless, in the event of defensive operations or a conflict, they refuse flatly to fulfill their obligations under the United Nations Charter.

This dilemma, which will be highlighted during Senate committee hearings and floor debate on the proposal, has caused considerable embarrassment inside the State Department. How the signatories can escape their awkward plight, especially such powers as the United States, Britain and France, will not be determined until and when actual use of armed force under the pact is contemplated.

TUCKER

ALTERNATIVE: The only alternative would be rewriting of Article 54 of the United Nations Charter, and Russian objection could block that move. Indeed, it is expected that Foreign Minister Vishinsky will insist on the utmost fulfillment of the pledge incorporated in that provision.

Should this country and its allies decline, Moscow's sharp-shooting diplomats would undoubtedly brand them as violators of their promises. He will certainly cite our action as proof of his persistent contention that it is the western nations, not the Soviet government, which have not lived up to wartime and postwar obligations.

ARGUMENT: The difficult predicament derives directly from the Truman-Acheson insistence that the pending pact, like the Rio agreement for guarantees of hemispheric security, is sanctioned specifically by the United Nations' recognition of the right of various countries to enter into "regional" arrangements, irrespective of their UN responsibilities.

The President and the Secretary of State have made this argument publicly and privately in an attempt to refute the Kremlin's statement that the treaty is not a peaceful gesure, but an actual coalition aimed at the U. S. S. R.

In fact, Mr. Truman has said that the North Atlantic Treaty "will strengthen and support" the world organization.

LANGUAGE: But here is the language of Article 54 of the UN Charter:

"The Security Council shall at all times be kept fully informed of activities undertaken or in contemplation under regional arrangements for the maintenance of international peace and security."

Foreign Minister Vishinsky is a member of the Security Council, and Russia has permanent representation on the staff of the secretariat.

Article 5 of the North Atlantic Pact first declares that an attack on one member shall be regarded as an attack on all of them, and pledges them to take retaliatory action, "including the use of armed force."

COMMITTED: Although pact spokesmen deny that this is a hard-and-fast commitment, and that Congress remains free to decide whether military action should be undertaken, that is not the belief abroad.

Foreign Ministers Schuman of France and Rasmussen of Denmark have told their parliaments that the United States is committed to war in the event they are invaded.

But the second paragraph of Article 5 of the pact carries the requirement that any defensive or aggressive measures taken under it shall become the information of the UN Security Council. It reads:

"Any such armed attack and all measures taken as a result thereof shall immediately be reported to the Security Council."

PENSION: The original Rankin pension proposal would not have received so many votes as it did, although it was defeated by only one ballot, if it had not been for the growing suspicion that certain Administration leaders fought it in order to force veterans into an enlarged social security system. The same feeling will mean enactment of some sort of diluted pension plan at this session.

Many spokesmen for the White House made this argument, especially in their cloakroom discussions and in their attempts to win over wavering members. While it probably defeated the measure in view of the closeness of the count, it also aroused considerable animosity.

BENEFITS: Official statistics tend to discount the advantages of Social Security, especially with respect to World War I men. When these laws went into effect in 1937 only forty percent of the then living W.W.I fighters were covered. Their average age was forty-four in 1937.

Thus, if the average vet paid on the maximum salary of $3,000 until he became sixty-five, he would receive only $48.40 a month. If he had earned $2,000 annually, he would get only $38.32.

Even if the amount of the monthly benefits is doubled in accord with President Truman's proposal, veterans now reaching or nearing sixty-five would be no better off, for they would not collect much by reason of the increase. Moreover, farming and self-employed vets of 1917-1918, in the twenties and the depression years of the thirties, rarely made enough to entitle them to social security payments of any great amount.

A newspaperman is a person who never has time to read a book, but who thinks within the next six months he will find time to write one.

Don't work when you don't feel like it," advises a physician. If a number of us were to follow this advice, we couldn't eat when we felt like eating.

But is it tolerance to concede the other fellow is well within his rights for holding an opinion that runs counter to yours, and yet consider him a pluperfect fool for doing so?

It does seem that the world would establish permanent peace, now that conditions have become such that no nation can afford to lose or to win a war.

Nature is kind in providing the rhinocerous with poor eye-sight. If he could see clearly what he looks like, he'd probably be too ashamed to live.

Another thing an old person can't understand is how he got old so quick.

In these modern times only a few years elapse between the time a girl stops playing with teddy bears and begins to play with wolves.

Subject for debate: Which makes a man act more foolishly—love or liquor?

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

VARIOUS GROUPS SEEK ACTION

Solons Under Terrific Pressure

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman's publicly dramatized troubles with Congress thus far have been largely in the Senate.

There was, first, the setback in the anti-filibuster fight which was followed, in turn, by the campaign to reduce European Recovery Program funds, both promoted by Democrat - Republican coalitions. In perspective, these skirmishes perhaps will be found to have been exaggerated.

But the President's long-range difficulty is likely to be at the other side of the capitol — in the House — as has been the case now for some years. President Truman has been frustrated in the House on his social and economic welfare program as was Franklin D. Roosevelt before him.

STOKES

House Closer To Voters

There is a simple rule of thumb for this. For one thing, the winds of national issues that blow in national elections frequently do not penetrate into the cranny which is a congressional district. Personalities and local issues often are predominant. Sometimes, too, if there is general dissatisfaction with the way things are going, voters are apt to devote more attention to getting in exchange.

For another thing, a House member usually is more susceptible to pressure groups than is a senator. Such groups can concentrate more easily in a congressional district. In the area of a whole state, which is a senator's constituency, their influence is likely to be diffused. The shorter tenure of House members also is a factor. The average House member begins to run for re-election two years away as soon as he takes his seat and is constantly conscious that one or another pressure group may provide that block of votes that may defeat him. He is most sensitive.

A survey of the temper of the House just now yields some very interesting symptoms bearing on all of this.

Its temper is pittery. This is due, in part, to one of the most active campaigns in history by pressure groups of all sorts, both for the President's program and against it, which reveals itself physically in the greatest barrage of mail in a long time, much of it, of course, organized and inspired, but all of it ostensibly representing blocks of voters back home. This prolific "write-your-congressman" campaign undoubtedly owes something to the spotlight President Truman played upon Congress in the last campaign and the pen-to-paper energy he released.

Another cause of the jitters is the general business situation. Members are plainly worried about that. There's no easier and simpler issue against anybody in office than bad times. But what to do is perplexing.

Another disturbing influence is the disillusionment among some of the new members—and there are many freshmen in this House. They came here fresh and eager to get lots of things done—tomorrow morning preferably—as new members have since our government was founded, and have run up against the delays and parliamentary maneuvers and over-all confusion. This is only normal, but it adds to the jitters in the House.

Significant of all this is the fact that the pressure to shorten the legislative program for this first session comes largely from the House leadership. The plan, as previously revealed here, is to confine the social and economic welfare program to a labor bill, wage-and-hour act extension, and housing. Social security expansion and federal aid to education would be left to the next session probably. Health insurance would be abandoned for this session, and the health program limited to hospital construction and medical education.

Three Groups Seen

An analysis of the Democratic party in the House shows it is really divided into three groups—the right in the southern conservatives; the left in big-city representatives elected with labor support, and a middle group which is most numerous. All of this magnifies the problem of leaders.

Typical of the zeal that harasses the leadership is that of the leftist, or labor, group which was hell-bent on sending the rent control bill back to get everything it wanted, which would only have meant defeat of rent control, and their insistence on bringing in the Taft-Hartley act repealer under a "gag" rule preventing amendments, an unDemocratic procedure which the same group would have protested to high heaven on other measures, as for instance, a tax bill.

On the other hand, there is the zealous campaign by the rightists to put over a substitute labor bill that would practically re-enact the Taft-Hartley act, which is going to the extreme in the other direction.

These are some of the facts of life today about your Congress which it is well to keep in mind.

opened Sunday's program.

T. A. Thigpen of Big Spring, outgoing district commander, presided at a joint session of the Legion and auxiliary at the post home Sunday morning. George Berry extended a welcome, responded to by Bob Weaver of Spur. J. R. Eagan, commander of Allen Bros. post here, introduced guests.

Al Dillon of Big Spring spoke briefly.

A memorial service Sunday morning began with lighting of candles. A prayer was said by Dr Lewis B. Cooper. Robert Dennis of Lubbock sang a solo and Fred Young of Lubbock spoke briefly. A quartet composed of Jim Black, Dick Richards, J. Ray Dickey and "Tiny" Jones sang a spiritual, "Goin' Home," at the conclusion of the service.

A barbecue lunch, "Army and Navy style,' was held at noon, and Thigpen again presided at the joint afternoon business session.

Wife Of Escaped Convict Killed Near Panhandle Attends Services

PANHANDLE, April 4 (AP) — Mrs. Jack Hudspeth was released from Carson county jail here last night to attend funeral services for her husband, an escaped Texas convict shot to death Saturday afternoon.

Hudspeth, 27, was shot and killed by Texas Highway patrolman Joe Cantrell as he ran across a field five miles north of here. He had been spotted in Borger, Tex., about 30 miles north of Panhandle.

Sheriff Clarence Williams said no charges had been filed against the 24-year-old widow but that authorities wanted to question her about her husband's activities since his escape from the state penitentiary at Huntsville, Tex., in 1945.

Hudspeth's body was flown to Ardmore, Okla., for funeral services today. The sheriff said arrangements were made by Hudspeth's father, Thomas Hudspeth of Ardmore, and Mrs. Hudspeth's father, Bryan Keeran, Williams, Okla.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 4 (AP) — Grain prices hardly changed on the board of trade today. When there was a movement it was mainly on the downside, but not enough to cause any alarm.

Wheat closed ⅛-⅜ lower, May $2.14⅞-2.13; corn was ⅛-¾ lower, May $1.33½-⅝; oats were ⅛-½ lower, May 69; rye was unchanged to ¼ lower, May $1.26; soybeans were ¼ lower to ¼ higher, May $2.20½-2.20; and lard was 7 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $11.60.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in active dealings today. Old crop deliveries were firm, with particular strength in the July, 1949, delivery. Traders believed that the delay in action by Congress on ECA funds meant that the full impact of the new cotton export program will be felt in the July delivery rather than nearby May where first notice day comes up April 26. New crop deliveries, which were strong Saturday, reacted on profit taking, but later firmed in sympathy with the old crop months.

Futures closed $1.10 a bale higher to 30 cents lower than the previous close.

Wall Street

MARKET HOLDS GROUND

NEW YORK, April 4. (AP)—Oils were the bright spot in today's stock market with advance of fractions to nearly 2 points and extreme gains of around 4.

Otherwise the day was about a standoff with the list spreading out into a pattern of losses in fractions and gains of fractions to around a point.

An early rising tendency throughout slowed down through mid-day and then reversed itself in many of the major groups. The high point of the oils advance was lost in late trading.

Industry sources believe the ½ cent a gallon rise in gasoline prices posted by Socony Vacuum will be followed by others.

Gains in the oil group included Superior Oil of California 4 at 157, Amerada Petroleum 4½ at 105, Texas Pacific Land Trust 1⅝ at 45⅜, Plymouth 1¾ at 48, Standard Oil (NJ) ¾ at 68½, Seaboard Oil 1⅝ at 40¾, and Pure Oil 1½ at 32.

Railroad shares eased away from their best and closed virtually unchanged. Steels, motors, metals and farm implements were mostly lower. Utilities, aircraft, airlines and distillers were mixed. The rail average was off .1 of a point. Of the 978 issues traded, 366 advanced and 357 declined.

Among the gains among leading issues were Nickel Plate ¾ at 74¼, Atlantic Coast Line ½ at 37¾, Consolidated Natural Gas 1½ at 42½, Pan American Airways 1¼ at 10¾, Paramount ¼ at 22⅜, Du Pont 1⅜ at 191⅜, Pittston Con. 3½ at 28½, Pullman 2¼ at 34¾, Caterpillar Tractor ¼ at 58, and Montgomery Ward ¼ at 56.

Losses included Santa Fe at 92, U. S. Steel ½ at 72¼, National Steel 1 at 78, Chrysler ⅝ at 51¾, Sears Roebuck ⅝ at 37¾, J. I. Case ¼ at 33¾, United Aircraft ⅛ at 26¼.

Tax Bill Amended

tion and over. Recess until 10:30 a.m. tomorrow was voted 16-to-14 with discussion underway on a proposed constitutional amendment by Senator Fred Harris of Dallas to allow women to serve on juries.

Other Action Taken

There were these additional legislative developments today:

Gov. Beauford H. Jester asked that the Confederate pension levy be dropped until Jan. 1, 1953, under a plan which he said would save property tax payers a million dollars a year. There is enough cash on hand to pay increased Confederate pensions for nine years without levying the tax, he told the lawmakers in a special message.

Jester also asked that the legislature give hurry-up consideration to a bill making an emergency appropriation of $800,000 for eleemosynary institutions for the balance of the fiscal year. They are about to run out of operating funds.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert informed the House he could not comply with its request for an estimate on how much the Gilmer-Aikin school bills will cost. This would take an extensive survey, he said, and he could not conduct it in time to make the estimate useful. Debate on these bills will be resumed Wednesday.

The House voted 75 to 52 to send a measure limiting the number of representatives from any one county to six, to the committee on highways and roads. Its author said it was buried for deep-freeze in a subcommittee on the committee on constitutional amendments.

Rep. Miller Walker of Beaumont told the House his proposed constitutional amendment to provide $300,000,000 for loans to veterans for small businesses and homes was also buried in a subcommittee.

Walker wanted to re-refer it to another committee, but withdrew his motion when he was told a subcommittee of the constitutional amendments panel would report Wednesday on the measure.

The Senate calendar - revision action came as legislators struggled to advance pet measures, realizing many bills will die of inattention in the session's closing days unless they are moved up out of regular order. Advanced were these measures:

April 6—A House bill to raise bar association membership fees from $4 to $5 annually. A House bill to raise salaries of tax-assessor collectors in counties over 100,000 to 150,000 population to $7,200 a year.

April 7—A House bill to create a Sabine river authority.

April 8—A Senate bill to authorize university regents to lease lands for development of minerals other than gas and oil.

April 11—A Senate bill to create a council to study legislative matters between sessions.

Tech Varsity Show

were called back for two curtain calls.

Another highlight in this act was Farrel Reeder, of Weatherford, whose smooth rendition of "Its Magic," drew good applause.

An interlude between acts brought on the "Too Tired Trio" composed of Lamar Jackson, Lubbock; Bob Parkinson, Pampa and Bill, "Bull Moose," Jackson, Houston. These three went over big with their rendition of "Cigarettes and Whuskey and Wild Wild Women" and a parody on Tech entitled "I've Been Here A Mighty Long Time."

The third and final act dealt with the dreams of a Tech student, Larry Billings, well played by Bill Wright of Midland. He and his good "friend" the sandman, played by Bill Beal of Lubbock, installed themselves in the midst of a host of beauties and Larry was introduced as a famous judge of beauty. The 1949 beauties of Texas Tech were introduced at this point.

The crowd was also well pleased with a tumbling act presented by Jimmy Carter, Dingy Davis and Harriet Moltz. This was brought in as a special number in the third act. Carter's brilliant work of balancing himself with a chair on another chair supported by coke bottles on a table top brought the audience to the edge of their seats.

The music of this year's show, directed by Ted Crager, featured five original songs written by Carolyn Cole and Lloyd Alsup. The production was directed by Bill Parsley of Lubbock.

Tickets for the second and third performances may be purchased in the lobby of both the Lubbock and Hilton hotels and in Dunlap's and Hemphill-Wells. The price of admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students and children. The show will be presented tonight and Wednesday night.

Hale Center Disabled Vet First In Area To Get Full Home Loan

HALE CENTER, April 4 (Spl.)—A local disabled veteran is among the first in West Texas to secure a 100 per cent home loan, he said he was told by the lending agency at the time his loan was approved. Johnnie Johnson, engineer for the two local theaters, who was wounded seriously when he was forced to bail out of a bomber during a raid over North Africa, secured the loan to construct a four-room residence here. Johnson was a patient for many months in Army hospitals.

Johnson's home is one of seven new houses on which construction is now underway or which have been moved into Hale Center in the last three weeks.
