Money Squeeze Returns

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board, showing deepening concern over the threat of inflation, has reversed its recession policy and moved toward tightening the money supply.

The change in direction — the first since last November—came with the announcement that effective today the discount rate at the San Francisco Reserve Bank would go up from 1¾ per cent to 2 per cent.

The discount rate represents the interest charged Federal Reserve member banks borrowing money from the reserve system. A boost in discount rates normally goes hand in hand with a general increase in interest charges.

Thus, the reserve board action yesterday held broad implications for anyone planning to go into debt to buy a factory, an automobile or a living room rug.

The general feeling in financial circles was that only a worsening of the economic picture could make it cheaper to borrow money.

With the discount rate boost taking effect in San Francisco, similar increases by the other 11 reserve banks are expected to follow, although there may be some time lag.

A board spokesman said the decision to switch policy direction was influenced in part by an increase in inflation sentiment which has been reflected in a rising stock market. He said another factor was the apparent bottoming out of the recession. The spokesman also noted recent upward moves in some interest rates.

Directors of the San Francisco bank initiated the discount rate action there, the board spokesman said.

In San Francisco, Reserve Bank President Herman N. Mangels said the prime factor in the directors' decision was "a fear of a continuance or even an accentuation of inflationary pressures."

A year ago — before the recession got a foothold — discount rates reached a peak of 3½ per cent. But last November the reserve board abandoned its tight money policy and began easing the money supply to combat the growing recession. In four successive steps, the discount rate was lowered until it reached 1¾ per cent last April.

Although the reserve board's new action was in the direction of tighter money, it can't be said the board is putting any real squeeze on credit. The system's member banks have idle reserves of nearly half a billion dollars, which means they have available plenty of money for lending.

The effects of the action are thus expected to be largely psychological, affecting the sentiment of both borrowers and lenders. Any change in sentiment can have real effect, however, in the prices of stocks and bonds.

News of the board decision had an immediate impact on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange. It brought a flurry of selling and increased volume.

MORE THAN ONE REASON TO BE HAPPY—Mr. and Mrs. John Pennock bestow kisses on daughter Marijke, 17, center, after her arrival from The Netherlands at Idlewild Airport, N. Y. No Hope For Survivors In Plane Crash

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — All hope was given up today of finding any survivors among the 99 persons aboard the Dutch airliner that crashed in the stormy Atlantic off Ireland's coast.

The Canadian destroyer Crusader announced the hunt was being abandoned after a thorough search of the area, where the New York-bound KLM airliner crashed Thursday, failed to show any sign of life.

Ships of five nations had scoured the crash scene, picking up bodies and wreckage.

By noon today, 35 bodies had been recovered from a square mile of floating debris found about 100 miles west of Ireland's Galway Bay.

An undertaker said the first bodies brought ashore were in "Pretty bad shape, indicating an explosion on board the plane."

Evidence piled up that the Super Constellation, carrying 91 passengers including 52 Americans, either exploded or hit the sea with terrific force.

Pieces of wreckage were found scattered over an area of four miles. Life jackets had been ripped to bits.

The plane had climbed into a violent storm. A KLM official said whatever occurred came suddenly, possibly an explosion.

A spokesman for KLM, announcing the search for survivors was being given up, said, "nothing further has been seen today in the area."

He said that in the event of "some special circumstances developing there, a further search may be carried out, but at the moment there is no possibility of this arising."

The deaths of all 99 — including 31 Americans — would be the highest toll of any single-plane commercial accident. The American-built Super-Constellation was the first commercial plane to go down at sea on the North Atlantic route flown by more than five million persons since World War II.

KLM began an investigation to find out why the plane crashed without even a radio report of trouble.

Flight 607E from Amsterdam to New York was last heard from 35 minutes after taking off from Shannon Airport for Gander, Nfld., after a refueling stop. Capt. F. A. E. Roelofs radioed that it was flying normally at 16,000 feet.

Then silence. Some 10 hours later a British airline pilot saw spots on his radar screen. A Royal Air Force patrol plane flew over and sighted wreckage.

The French trawler General Le Clerc sped to the scene and picked up eight bodies.

The British tanker B. P. Distributor picked up another three bodies plus a passport, personal papers and other flotsam. Twelve other ships hurried into the area.

The search continued throughout the night.

"It was an eerie scene lit by our flares," said Flight Lt. Keith McDonald, pilot of the plane that first spotted the wreckage.

2 Camps Searched For Arms

By REINHOLD ENSZ

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Police and soldiers searched the two largest Palestine refugee camps in Amman today, looking for arms in these tinderboxes of opposition to King Hussein's government.

A top Jordanian army officer said 140 persons were taken into custody for questioning. About five of them had Communist leaflets, he reported. Police sources said blasting powder and ammunition was found in one camp.

The searches were carried out under a curfew imposed on the two camps before dawn. By noon the police and soldiers had completed their raids and the curfew was lifted.

The two camps contain about 50,000 refugees out of 250,000 persons in Amman. The other 25 U.N. relief agency camps in Jordan, housing about 450,000 refugees, were not affected.

A top Jordanian source denied an Israeli radio report that about a dozen top Jordanian officers were arrested Thursday in the Nablus area of Jordan-held Palestine for plotting a coup. A number of officers were arrested last month for plotting against Hussein.

The clampdown opened the Moslem sabbath, a day of possible trouble because it brings emotional easily inflamed crowds into the streets. Another 500 to 800 security troops were added Thursday night to the already heavy military guard in Amman.

Rumors rocketed through the Jordanian capital. One said that antiroyalist riots might occur today. Another said an attempted coup was frustrated Thursday.

The refugees have been in camps since the new state of Israel was found 10 years ago. Most of the half-million refugees in Jordan live on U. N. relief. They have tended to follow the brand of violently anti-Israel Arab nationalism preached by President Nasser of the United Arab Republica, who has issued veiled calls for Hussein's assassination.

Tax Increase Still Possible, Solons Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Anderson said today he would not rule out a tax increase as a possible method of cutting down huge budget deficits and checking inflation.

But, under sharp questioning by Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) of the Senate Finance Committee, Anderson said the Treasury is not now prepared to come forward with any tax recommendations.

The secretary appeared before the committee to ask approval of a House-passed bill raising the federal debt limit to 288 billion dollars.

Before he got into the exchange with Byrd on a possible tax increase, Anderson testified the government may go so deeply into the financial hole that the debt limit may have to be boosted even higher than that.

The committee is considering a bill to raise the permanent debt ceiling from 275 billion dollars to 285 and add an extra 3 billion for a temporary limit of 288 billion.

West Nations Line Up Behind Norwegian Plan

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Western Diplomats were reported today to be backing a Norwegian plan giving Dag Hammarskjold a major role in initiating President Eisenhower's Middle East peace plan.

Informed quarters said Norway was busy lining up sponsors for a resolution, which may be submitted before nightfall, to the emergency session of the 81-nation General Assembly.

The United States and Britain, while working with Norway, have decided for tactical reasons not to be sponsors, informants said. Some neutral diplomats indicated the plan had a good chance of winning the required two-thirds majority.

Main points were:

1. The U.N. secretary general would be given responsibility for making whatever arrangements he believes necessary to safeguard the independence of Lebanon and Jordan so as to permit the withdrawal of U.S. and British troops from those countries.

2. Hammarskjold would be asked to study the question of setting up an economic foundation for the Middle East to help raise living standards.

3. Hammarskjold would also be asked to study the problem of establishing a mobile U.N. peace force for the Middle East.

Under the proposed plan, the secretary general would report back to the Assembly by Sept. 30. This means the Eisenhower proposals for economic development and a U.N. peace force would come before the regular Assembly session opening Sept. 16.

Informed quarters said there was no specific directive that Hammarskjold go to the Middle East personally, but it was pointed out he had ample authority to do so if he felt it necessary.

Details of the plan became known as the Assembly pushed ahead with its third day of general debate.

The situation was complicated Thursday when Jordan unexpectedly announced it would not accept a widely-backed plan to station U.N. observers in Jordan to replace British forces.

Sheriff Says Youth Admits Firing Shot

FORT WORTH (AP) — Wise County Sheriff Rook Ramsey told the Star-Telegram today that Joseph Earl Henderson, 21, of Boyd, signed a statement last night admitting he shot Boyd police chief Lee Cockrell Wednesday.

But, Ramsey said, he's been unable to find the .22 caliber pistol, which Henderson said he "threw down" after the burst of gunfire.

"I expect some kid in Boyd picked it up," the sheriff mused, "I guess I'll have to maneuver around in Boyd and try to talk to the kids."

Ramsey admitted he was irked over what he called bad reports about him bringing the rangers into Boyd.

"One ranger was passing through (Sgt. Jim Paulk of Lubbock), and he spent the night there," Ramsey related. "He'll go on today."

Ramsey said Henderson related in his statement that he shot Cockrell because the police chief had shot him. Ramsey said he still believed Henderson was shot by patrolman A. G. Smith, who was helping Cockrell arrest Henderson and two companions.

Assault to murder charges were filed at Decatur against Henderson, Warren Saulter, 23, and Orville Lee Peel, 22.

The latter two were released on $5,000 bonds. Henderson was reported in good condition at a Azle hospital.

Boyd, a town of 550 persons, was peaceful today, and Ramsey said the whole case would be settled by the Wise County grand jury soon.

Cockrell, shot three times, was reported improved in a Fort Worth hospital. He was visited yesterday by Boyd mayor W. B. Horn, who has pledged his support to the chief.

PEDESTRAIN SAFETY AWARD TO CITY

County's Record Shows 75 Traffic Deaths In 10 Years

Scurry County has had 75 traffic deaths outside the city limits in the past 10 years, according to Sgt. Paul Allen of the Texas Highway Patrol.

Allen told members of the Rotary Club here yesterday that the 75 deaths came in 62 different accidents.

During the same period, a total of 651 persons have been injured in 362 accidents, Allen said, adding that all accidents outside the city limits in the past 10 years have totaled 1,075.

Property damage to vehicles alone and not counting lost earning power and other losses to victims, has totaled $595,525 in the 10 years. "And every one of you is paying for it with your automobile insurance," Allen said.

Allen asked for cooperation of motorists in using highways. There is a set of rules, he said, which is made up mostly of common sense and made into traffic laws for enforcement purposes.

During the program, Allen presented to Travis Steele, Snyder police chief, an award from the American Automobile Association for two years without a pedestrian fatality in Snyder.

Also on the Rotary program was Ben Walker of Abilene, district safety officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety, who discussed driving while intoxicated and chemical tests.

Texas now has no chemical test law for use in DWI cases, but a proposed law will be presented to the Legislature next January, Walker said.

Presently a person suspected of DWI can voluntarily submit to a chemical test, and it could be used in court provided a state laboratory man could be on hand to testify. Shortage of personnel prevents that, except sometimes in felony DWI cases, however.

The proposed law would provide for written reports of the chemical tests in state labs to be acceptable in courts as evidence.

The chemical blood test is made not to determine how much alcohol a person has been drinking but how much effect it has had on the body. In Texas, a person is considered under the influence of alcohol if his body has more than .15 milligrams of alcohol per cubic centimeter of blood. By U. S. standards, anything below .05 is not considered, while up to .10 is possible, .10 to .15 probable, and over .15 definite. In Norway, all .05 or over is considered enough for a person to be under the influence of alcohol, while several other countries use figures ranging from .07 to .10. In the U. S., all but three states use the .15 figure.

Walker said that of all those killed in traffic accidents in Texas last year, 34 per cent were a direct result from driving while drinking.

The safety officer pointed out that DWI charges are filed against those who are driving while under the influence of alcohol, not just those driving while drunk. He cited an experiment conducted by one researcher, who used 37 driving instructors and had them drive through an obstacle course as rapidly as they could. Then he gave half the men each four ounces of 90-proof whisky. That half took 20 per cent longer to drive through the same course again, even though all were familiar with it, while some of those who had nothing to drink improved their time on the second round by as much as 50 per cent.

Alcohol tends to slow reactions, give false confidence, dull judgment, and impair vision, Walker said, urging that those who drink be cautious and not drive.

Talk About Surrender Ridiculous, Says Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today described as ridiculous nonsense any thought that the United States might surrender to an enemy in the event of atomic war.

Reacting to published reports of such a study, Eisenhower authorized his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, to say:

"As far as the President is concerned all this talk about surrender is nonsense."

The whole subject was heatedly debated in the Senate Thursday night, with Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee leading a fight against voting any funds for possible surrender study purposes.

"There has been no public money spent to study how or when the United States might surrender," Hagerty said. "There will be no such money spent for such a purpose."

Hagerty said Eisenhower, after approving the prepared statement, authorized him to say in addition:

"Even if he (Eisenhower) were given money for this purpose it would not be spent. The whole matter is too ridiculous for any further comment."

A new flurry of Senate debate was in prospect for today.

The subject set off a veritable storm of criticism in speeches last night. At one point an attempt was made to close the galleries to the press and public because of the seriousness of the topic. But it wasn't done.

The United States has never lost a war and the legislators were indignant that the military should be having even the slightest thought of any American surrender.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) proposed tacking onto a $3,594,000,000 supplemental appropriations bill a rider that would nullify any surrender study contract and bar any payments in connection with it.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said most Americans would rather die than see their country under the yoke of another power.

At the White House, press secretary James C. Hagerty said President Eisenhower "certainly wouldn't agree to any talk about surrender of the United States." Hagerty said Eisenhower had ordered an immediate investigation of the reports about the surrender study.

But even as the furor raged there was no solid confirmation that the Pentagon was undertaking any special surrender study. A spokesman would only say that it was standard military practice to consider all eventualities, even those unlikely to arise.

The rumors apparently traced back to a study begun in 1951 by the Rand Corp., an independent, nonprofit organization which engages in national security research. Rand, which has a contract with the Air Force, analyzed the ways in which other countries have surrendered in the past.

The study, completed last year, was recently published in book form with the title "Strategic Surrender, the Politics of Victory and Defeat."

But Rand denied that the study dealt with any possible American setback.

Zapas Denies Any 'Hot Money' Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gus Zapas, an Indianapolis Teamster official and former convict, today denied in the Senate rackets hearings that he talked with two Chicagoans in 1953 about getting rid of "hot money"—stolen money, kidnap money."

The hearing was recessed for luncheon without development of this reference.

Some time ago, Robert F. Kennedy, the committee counsel, said it was seeking information about the missing $300,000 from the ransom paid in 1954 by the parents of little Robert Greenlease of Kansas City, kidnaped and slain in 1953.

Kennedy was asked by reporters during the recess whether his question related to this.

"I'm not going to say," Kennedy replied, then added:

"I expect it will come up some time during the hearings."

"We don't have the solution to what happened to the ransom," Kennedy said.

Kennedy threw the question at Zapas against a background of inquiry into the case of Dave Probstein, an Indianapolis lawyer-businessman who mysteriously disappeared in 1955 on a trip to St. Louis.

The Greenlease kidnapers were caught in St. Louis and about half the $600,000 ransom from the October 1953 crime was recovered or accounted for.

Zapas had denied earlier that he ever threatened to kill Probstein.

Blonde secretary Betty Starrett told the committee Thursday that she once heard Zapas threaten to kill Probstein. But she said that was a normal manner of speaking for Zapas.

Among Probstein's Indianapolis business interests was a taxi company financed partly through a loan from Teamsters President James R. Hoffa. There has been testimony that Zapas and other Indianapolis Teamsters officials finally took over the company.

Another witness today, Joseph G. Wood, an Indianapolis attorney, testified that Probstein called him to his home June 5 and told him he was about to undertake a dangerous mission. He said Probstein was a scared man, and asked him to help look after Mrs. Probstein's interests if he did not return.

Wife Accused Of Plotting Man's Death

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Police have accused Mrs. Frances Marjorie Miller, 31, of trying to have her husband, William, 34, killed for a $500 fee.

She pleaded guilty before an alderman yesterday to a charge of solicitation to commit a felony.

Dist. Atty. Michael A. Hanna charged Mrs. Miller last week approached a young man and asked him to shoot her husband during a fake robbery.

Hanna said the man whose identity is kept secret, informed Deputy Constable Charles Carpenter of Washington.

Police quoted Mrs. Miller, attractive mother of a seven-year-old boy, as saying she wanted to dispose of her husband "because of unbearable home conditions."

Officers quoted the husband, an operator of heavy construction equipment, as saying his domestic difficulties were "no more than usual."

ANIMAL QUIZ

QUESTION: Where does the phrase "crocodile tears" come from?

• • •

ANSWER: We say a person is shedding "crocodile tears" when he cries or expresses sorrow but really doesn't mean it. This expression comes from the fact that long ago some people thought that a crocodile cried over the victims it had eaten because it appeared to be weeping when it came out of the water. Actually, what appeared to be tears was water dripping off the crocodile.

A crocodile's victims are usually small animals, fish, birds, which they seize and swallow whole. Occasionally, they attack large animals or men, and a person traveling on crocodile-infested waters has to be on the lookout for this dangerous reptile.

Crocodiles live in tropical countries all over the world. In America, they are found in the extreme south of Florida, along with their relatives, alligators.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Consult an encyclopedia for the difference between a crocodile and an alligator.

Mother, Husband Of Child Bride Held

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The husband and mother of a child bride were held in jail today while police sought the girl.

Mackley Stidham, 25, and Mrs. Marriam Clary were under charges of contributing to the delinquency of 12-year-old Edna Clary.

Mrs. Clary said in an interview yesterday that she approved of her daughter's marriage which occurred after a cotton patch romance near Plainview.

"I sure did approve of this marriage," Mrs. Clary said. "If I hadn't I know she would have run away and got married anyway. She told me that if I didn't let her marry Stidham she was going to run off with him. I didn't like the idea of losing my daughter so I agreed to the wedding." Officers said they assumed the girl was with San Antonio relatives.

Dist. Atty. Hubert Green Jr. said he would ask a court to take Mrs. Clary's six other children away from her.

The county clerk at Plainview, Mildred Tucker, said she issued a marriage license July 31 to the man and girl after a woman identifying herself as Menniom Bishop made an affidavit saying the child was 15 years old. The marriage license was returned a few days later signed by H. G. Byars, Plainview Church of God minister.

It is against Texas law for a girl to marry before she is 14 even with the consent of a parent.

Officers said the romance blossomed while the bride and bridegroom, her mother and six other children were chopping cotton last month. Officers said Stidham had been married before and had served a prison term for burglary.

The marriage came to light early this week on a bad check charge. The girl called to make bond for him and told officers she was his wife.

She disappeared before the arrest of her mother yesterday.

Here's How Farm Bill Would Work

WASHINGTON (AP)— Here is how the House-passed farm bill would work:

Cotton: Planting allotments totaling 16 million acres would be assigned growers for 1959 and subsequent years unless shortages develop and larger production is needed. Without congressional action, the allotments would drop to about 13¾ million acres under the present farm law formula.

In addition, the bill would keep in effect the present 4-acre minimum allotment. Without action all allotments would have to take about the same percentage cut.

Under the proposed legislation, the escalator clause of the present price support law would be repealed for cotton. This clause requires that supports—within the present range of 75 to 90 per cent of parity, be raised as supplies decline, to permit them to be lowered as supplies increase.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

The House legislation fixes 80 per cent of parity as the legal minimum base support for cotton next year and permits a 5 percentage point drop each year thereafter until the level reaches 65 per cent. By comparison, the present support is 81 per cent of parity. Because of declining supplies, next year's rate would go up to 85 per cent of parity or higher under the escalator clause of the present law.

The House bill—as does a similar Senate—passed measure—would allow growers to exceed their planting allotments by as much as 40 per cent. But price supports for such growers would be 15 percentage points less than the regular rate.

For example, next year's rates for those complying with their basic allotments would be 80 per cent of parity and for those who planted more it would be 65 per cent.

The market price of cotton next year would be expected to drop to this lower price support level —that is, 65 per cent of parity. The big reason for this is that more cotton would be expected to be grown under the new bill's terms than under the more restrictive rules of existing law.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was lower today in a mild reaction to a move toward tighter credit by the Federal Reserve Board.

Key stocks were down fractions to more than a point in early afternoon. Chemicals were weakest, with several off a point or so. Trading was moderately active.

After an opening decline, stocks held close to those levels. Small losses dotted all key groups.

The Federal Reserve Board late Thursday approved a boost in the discount rate in the San Francisco district from 1¾ to 2 per cent, considered a trend toward credit restraint.

About midday, Secretary of the Treasury Anderson said he would not rule out a tax increase as a possible method of cutting huge budget deficits and checking inflation.

Schering, Union Oil of California and Lorillard were up fractions.

U.S. Gypsum declined more than two points. Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical, Boeing and American Telephone & Telegraph lost one point or so.

Off ½ or so were Jones & Laughlin, Goodyear, Raytheon, Consolidated Edison, American Cyanamid, General Electric, Loew's, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and United Air Lines.

Long range government bonds dropped sharply.

Heat Wave Grips Nation

By The Associated Press

The season's longest heat wave showed no indication of a general breakup today. Only minor temperature changes have occurred in most parts of the country during the last 24 hours.

In the Northeast, which got a brief spell of relief from the warm and humid weather Thursday, southerly winds fanned hot air in from the southern and eastern Great Lakes region in to northern New England. Temperatures of 70 degrees were reported during the night as far north as northern Vermont.

A northwesterly flow of cooler air from Canada dipped into northern parts of Minnesota and Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Temperatures dropped into the 50s or near 60. Showers brought temporary relief to some parts of the country.

Supermarket Selling Spurs Variety Breads

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

THE SUPERMARKET, with its crowded shelves, has already changed a nation's shopping habits. Now it is broadening the American's taste in bread.

True most shoppers demand the spongy, fine - textured, paper-wrapped baker's loaf — deliberately made spongy because the housewife cannot be disabused of the once - true idea that softness to the squeeze is the only test of freshness.

But increasingly we Americans are coming to know and to love the specialty breads — hearth-baked, raisin, cracked wheat and rye breads; French, Italian, Vienna breads and pumpernickel; bread with few calories; bread which stimulates the old - fashioned home-baked look and flavor, and many others.

None of this, however, has worked to make the nation's bakers happier or richer.

For one thing, consumption of flour and cereal products has been dropping over the past four decades as higher incomes have enabled more people to buy fruits, vegetables, meat, fish and eggs in greater quantities. And bakers have been harried always by health enthusiasts shouting that in supplying the demand for the softer, finer - grained loaf of commerce they have refined most of the nutriment out of the staff of life. Today about half the states have laws requiring that bread be enriched.

Now there is a need for them to provide a variety of breads.

"With supermarkets stocking their shelves with many types of breads, people are exposed to them," explained Edwin Gilbert, marketing research expert for Continental Baking Co., one of the industry's giants.

And if one bakery won't provide variety, the supermarket finds another which will — and the reluctant baker loses precious supermarket display space for his product and product name.

Trying to find out what type of specialty bread will go over with the public is quite a problem. And the risks are great, since American taste for bread appears to vary by region. Fortunately for the bakers, a sort of national barometer exists in Southern California.

"That's where trends show up fast," says one bakery executive. "That's where they started cellophane - wrapped bread — and sesame seed bread. It's a fast-growing place, the population is mobile, and they come from all over so there are no problems of regional preferences and food habits."

Even with modern automatic dryers, there is the problem of keeping track of small items. Tiebacks for summer curtains can get tangled in the laundry, for example. Keep them together in a mesh bag or pillow case and also pin them on the line together.

Simple garments during summer mean less work in the laundry department. For sunbathing or lounging comfortably at home, there are toga-size towels. No ironing is necessary, just throw them in with the bath laundry.

If you are investing in cookie pans for your kitchen, buy standard ones: either 14 by 10 inches or 15½ by 12 inches. These have no sides but one end may be turned up.

OUR VIEW

Unvarnished Propaganda

"There is a continuous buildup of American armed forces in Lebanon. According to press reports every five minutes American transport planes land on the Halde Airfield; arms, ammunition and equipment dumps are being set up on Lebanese territory. Over 70 ships of the American Sixth Fleet are cruising off the Lebanese Coast. These ships carry hundreds of military aircraft ready to go into combat at a moment's notice.

"The number of British paratroopers in Jordan is steadily growing and has now reached more than five thousand officers and men. Ordered by his foreign patrons, King Hussein of Jordan is sabre-rattling and openly declaring that with the help of the interventionist troops he is ready to march on to Iraq."

Does the above seem harsh and inflammatory?

It probably was intended to. It is an excerpt from a statement by Tass, the Russian news agency, on the recent Baghdad Pact meeting.

Of the Pact, itself, the Russian voice said, "In an effort to save this aggressive bloc which was bursting at the seams, the United States had to discard its mask and proclaim its readiness to undertake completely the commitments following from this pact. . .Facts make it plain beyond a shred of doubt that actually the London Conference was nothing else but a conclave of plotters designing fresh acts of agression against the Arab countries which recently embarked on the road of independent development primarily against the United Arab Republic (UAR) and the Iraq Republic. The United States and Britain having carried out an armed intervention in Lebanon and Jordan, now jointly with their Baghdad Pact accomplices are preparing to extend aggression."

And there you have some unvarnished Soviet propaganda, which constitutes the only "news" report reaching millions of people behind the iron curtain.

4-Quarter School Plan Considered

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP) — A research committee of the Texas Education Agency has recommended that school systems give serious thought to a four quarter plan to ease overcrowded facilities.

Each student would attend three consecutive quarters of 12 weeks each. This would eliminate much of the need for building more classrooms, the committee reported.

The committee also recommended that Texans take a long look at the possibility of lengthening the school year to 10 months and to stretch the school day to 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

A 25-page research report was made by an advisory group headed by Thomas Ramey of Tyler, retiring chairman of the State Board of Education. The study was authorized by the board and the committee included representaives of the board and 47 organizations.

The report also included an examination of these proposals: Greater utilization of shops, labs, art rooms, etc. which are empty part of the day; use of outdoor assembly and cafeteria areas, when weather permits; reassignment of the teacher's clerical and nonprofessional duties; and the use of television for teaching larger groups of students.

"No school district will be expected to adopt, without due consideration, any of the experiments suggested in the report," Ramey said. "Any experimental program must be based on an understanding of its implications, adequate planning and if possible, the sympathy and active support of the school staff and the community."

The four quarter plan is used in about 50 U.S. school systems. The disadvantages include the conflict within families when the children are all not in school together; high summer temperatures; difficulty in scheduling athletic activities; unwillingness to the community to accept the program; and little time for building renovations.

The committee said it would be "most interested" in seeing several Texas school systems try the plan although it realized the plan's drawbacks.

The committee said it believed some school districts could experiment on a 10-month plan providing a minimum of 190 days of instruction compared to the 175 minimum now. The plan would provide more time to teach an expanding curriculum and would enable students to get more instruction over the years than now is possible.

At present the state's foundation program, which supports the school systems, is based on a nine month plan and local funds would have to be made available if a 10-month program is adopted.

The committee said it was essential that each school district reexamine the use of classrooms. Nationwide surveys show they are vacant 7 to 25 per cent of the time on a regular school day.

The committee said TV could be used to make courses available in smaller schools for certain subjects where it was difficult to find competent teachers; to teach foreign language to elementary pupils; to enrich instruction in science and government; to supplement correspondence courses; to provide in-service teacher education; to reach home-bound pupils; and to acquaint the community with the school program's objectives and accomplishments.

Average hourly earnings of factory workers increased by a cent to $2.13. This was attributed to wage increases in the steel, aircraft, shipbuilding, paper and chemical industries. As a result, weekly earnings rose by 40 cents to $83.50.

Today's Business

Not Good, Not Bad

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With the year's third quarter at the midpoint, business today can strike a trial balance on a so-so summer.

It isn't so good as many would like. But is isn't so bad as it might have been.

Employment has risen — but not so much as it usually does in summer.

Jobless ranks have thinned a bit — but not so much as they usually do in summer.

Industrial production isn't so flourishing as last year — but it's better than many had feared earlier and it's up a trifle from its March and April low point.

On the other hand, housing construction, while off a little in July from June, is holding up better than it usually does in midsummer. It is running nearly 14 per cent ahead of last summer.

Electric power production has reached a new high — thanks largely to increased use of air conditioners during long spells of muggy weather. Output is now 5 per cent ahead of a year ago, despite some loss in use by industry.

Total personal income has climbed to a record despite the fact that some 7 per cent of the labor force is out of a job. Also, many of those who get their income from business profits find this source trailing the year-ago figures. Wages and salaries in manufacturing, although a little higher than in June, are well below last summer's levels.

Helping sustain personal incomes in the face of such losses have been the large payments of government unemployment benefits plus jobless pay contributions by a number of corporations.

The federal government has just given personal income totals a nice boost by raising the pay of its employes and a number of industries are raising hourly wage scales.

But one of the factors that helped cushion the recession — a healthy rise in farm incomes — has suffered a setback this summer. Farmers' cash intake has fallen the last two months.

The steel industry is far less active than a year ago. But the summer lull isn't so bad as first predicted. Hopes are high for a moderate fall pickup in orders and a successful testing of the recent price raises on many of its products.

The bellwether auto industry isn't having one of its best summers. But it too has high hopes for fall when the new models make their bow. This debut could be sadly spoiled, however, if the threatening auto workers' strike materializes.

The usual summer bull market has been going strong in the stock exchanges. But this time there's a not so usual factor involved: the bulls aren't just responding to the summer heat as a matter of tradition. They're motivated by a strong belief that further inflation will develop in the fall along with a hoped for pickup in business activity and in corporate earnings.

So at the mid-point the summer's good and bad points pretty well balance each other.

The big question is still with us: Will the usual fall pickup arrive on schedule? And if it does, will it be a big one or just a token one?

Ike Plan Reflects Emphasis Change

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's idea for some organization to develop the Mideast has been kicking around in one form or another for at least two years. He proposed it this week to the United Nations.

This was a switch. Until now the Eisenhower administration had relied mainly on a different approach to the problem of helping the Arab countries develop industrially, agriculturally, and so on.

The emphasis had been on dealing with the nations individually and giving them help individually.

What Eisenhower offers now is a broad, regional Mideast development organization to be run by the Arabs themselves with the money and technical help coming from interested countries, like the United States, and from private capital.

This would, if the President's words can be interpreted correctly, put the Arab-run organization outside the U. N.

Almost two years ago—on Dec. 20, 1956—Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) suggested a regional, rather than individual country-by-country, development plan. But he differed from Eisenhower in suggesting it be handled through the U. N.

The idea, in various forms, has grown since then.

Humphrey laid out his idea after the Suez Canal crisis of 1956. That was when Britain, France and Israel attacked Egypt after Egyptian President Nasser's seizure of the canal that summer.

Nasser—perhaps during a temper tantrum—took the canal after Secretary of State Dulles suddenly and curtly canceled an American proposal to help Nasser build the Aswan dam on the Nile. Dulles offended Nasser by doubting Egypt's ability to pay back.

Since that time American difficulties with the Arabs have multiplied. Western influence in the area has dwindled shockingly. Nasser has increased his grip on the Mideast Arabs. Soviet influence among them has steadily grown.

So what Eisenhower offers now, besides its intention of trying to create peace and stability in the area, is obviously an attempt to keep a bad situation for the West from getting worse.

There is bound to be speculation now on what might have happened if Eisenhower had suggested a couple of years ago what he now proposes. That speculation now, for all practical purposes, is like water over the unbuilt Aswan dam.

Eisenhower made no specific promises on what this country will do if the Arabs agree on his idea —and that's questionable—for the simple reason that he couldn't until he saw what the United States was getting into.

Mystery Girl Is Improving

OMAHA (AP)—Elivera Felan, the mute girl known only as Jane Doe here for months, is responding to treatment, and her physician says he is "slightly encouraged."

Clinical psychologist Jack Dabney said the San Antonio girl has reacted to the point where, under prompting, she names different people who work with her in the hospital ward.

"She has not yet spoken in sentences," he said.

No decision has been made on her possible transfer to a state hospital, her physician said.

"We will only keep her here if we can see good enough results to warrant such a decision," he said.

Miss Felan was found wandering here May 27. She was identified last week from photographs as a missing San Antonio, Tex., girl.

(Question) "Don't you think the Bible is too difficult for the average person to understand"

(Answer) Many have concluded that the Bible is to great a mystery for them to understand. Feeling thus, they have placed their confidence in men to lead and guide them. True, there are some things in the Bible difficult to comprehend. In the Old Testament, mysterious passages are found, only to be made clear by our Lord as He explained their meaning. The simplicity, however, of Christ's will toward man is seen from a prophet of old. "And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein." (Isa. 35:8) It is obvious that the Lord expects us to understand his will from the following verses:

(1) "Be not unwise but understand what the will of the Lord is." Eph. 5:17
(2) "Go teach all nations . . ." Matt. 28:19
(3) ". . . and learn of me." Matt. 11:29
(4) ". . . and they shall be all taught of God . . ." John 6:45

Truths that pertain to our salvation, how to be saved, how to live so we may reach the mansions prepared for the faithful, are clearly marked out in our Bibles.

1st Baptist To Open Building On Sept. 7

The First Baptist Church has set Sept. 7 as official "moving in day" for its new $400,000 educational building, according to the Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor.

Dedication services will be held during the regular 10:55 a.m. service that day at the church, and open house will be held for the public from 2:30 to 5 p.m., when each department will be represented by one or more departmental officers. The dedication service will be broadcast on KSNY.

R. Virgil Mott, director of religious education and music for the church, said goals have been set at 700 in Sunday school by R. C. Patton, Sunday school superintendent, and 300 in training union by Dr. Clyde Dawson, training union director, for that day.

In commenting on the increase in the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment, the report said the low June figure of 6.8 per cent "resulted primarily from difficulties in achieving a precise seasonal adjustment at a time when large numbers of students enter the labor force."

Seven First Baptist RAs Attend Congress

Seven boys who are members of the Royal Ambassadors at the First Baptist Church this week attended the Royal Ambassador Congress at Fort Worth.

Boys from that church attending were Louis and Stacy Cole, Gary Worley, Jackie and Billy Stewart, Gene Shelburne, and Johnny Mac Patton.

Texans Get Bid To Demo Conference

OMAHA (AP) — Democratic Party leaders from Texas were among officeholders and candidates for three states added yesterday to the list invited to a conference here Sept. 13.

National Committeeman Bernard J. Boyle of Omaha said the invitations to Arkansas, Texas, and Louisiana leaders came from National Chairman Paul Butler.

The meeting will be held in connection with a session of the Democratic Midwest Conference in Omaha Sept. 11-13.

Democratic leaders from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, and Ohio.

Butler said in a letter to Boyle that the object of the Sept. 13 conferences will be "to provide an opportunity for our leaders and candidates to exchange ideas on the campaign as of that date and to discuss fund-raising and organizational activities."

Invitations to attend have been accepted by Sens. Estes Keauver of Tennessee, John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Stuart Symington of Missouri, and Hubert M. Humphrey of Minnesota. All have presidential ambitions.

South Korea Celebrating

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea sent wave after wave of big guns and battle-arrayed troops surging through Seoul today to mark the 10th anniversary of the Korean republic.

For 30 minutes, troops and giant guns filled tree-bordered Capital Avenue, less than 40 miles from the front lines of the war with North Korean.

Reviewing the decade of "tragedy and triumph," President Syngman Rhee told a crowd of 40,000 massed in Seoul Stadium, "We remain free . . . Asia's bulwark against the further spread of communism."

The invaders were repulsed, he continued, but the war was stalemated, not won. He called on his people to dedicate themselves again to unifying the divided nation.

The address opened a daylong celebration of art displays, folk dances, concerts and athletic contests highlighted by the giant military parade.

Korean Thunderjets and a lone American B47 jet bomber flew over.

Forests in New York state have increased more than 20 per cent in the past three decades. The state now has 14,450,000 acres compared to 12,000,000 acres in 1933.

Well Is Filled By Truck Operator

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Dump truck operator Larence McMahan filled a well yesterday—with his dump truck.

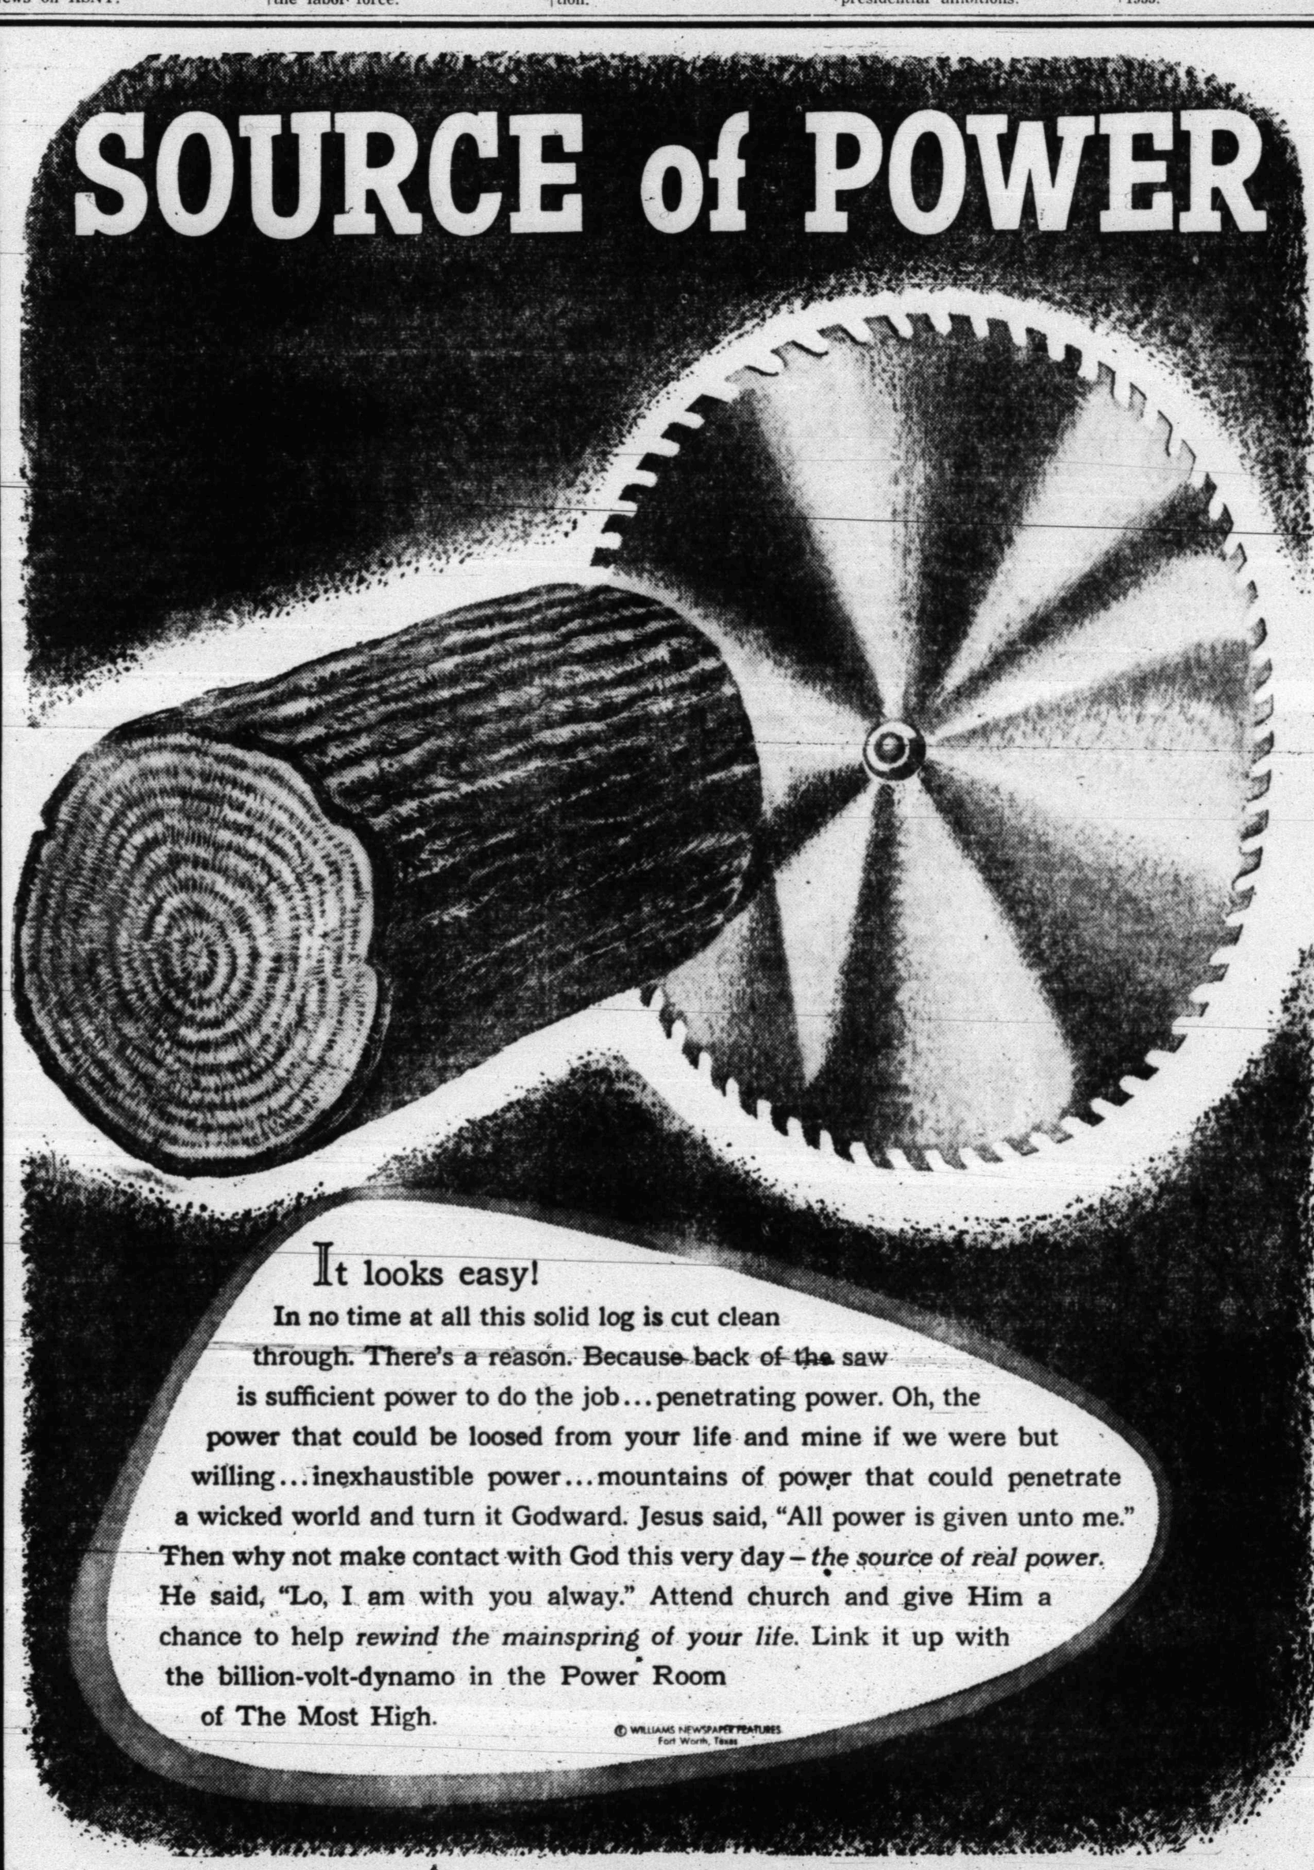

He arrived at a new construction project and looked out of the cab for instructions. A man motioned for him to back up and then signaled a halt, shouting "Okay, dump 'er right here."

Suddenly, there was a great rending and crashing and McMahan found himself, truck and all, at the bottom of a rock-walled, 20-foot farm well.

McMahan climbed out of the hole where the windshield had been. The truck is still in the well.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS

MUTT HEROD, A VALUABLE COG in the Little League machine here, has informed us that Snyder is going to make a strong bid to host the State Little League Tournament next summer.

The state tournament has never been held in West Texas and we believe Snyder has as good facilities if not better than any city in this part of the state for holding a state tournament.

By starting this early in making plans for bidding for next year's state tourney, chances of getting the tournament are good.

"I believe if we could get the state tournament director, Johnny Barnard of San Antonio, out here to look over our facilities, we'd be a "cinch" to get the tournament," Herod, — coordinator of Snyder Little Leagues, said.

You're Good, Son, But—

Have you heard this story?

A baseball scout had just finished visiting with a promising young rookie.

"Sorry bub," the baseball scout told him, "you gotta lotta stuff but you'll never make the big leagues."

"How come?" asked the youngster. "I got a 21-3 record, a red-hot fast ball, a sharp curve, change of pace, perfect control, fielded .998 and hit .346 last season. What's my trouble?"

"You shave with an electric razor," the scout told him sadly.

A Cheerleader For Each Athlete

There's a cheerleader for each athlete in the families of Snyder's schoolboy coaches.

When the Hal Battle's became the parents of a new daughter a week ago, it "caught" the girls up with the boys.

If our figures are correct and we believe they are, there are 13 boys and 13 girls in the coaches' families.

These 26 kiddoes range in ages from one week to 15 years. Mike Moffett, son of baseball coach Speedy Moffett, is the oldest of the group at 15. And, as aforementioned, the Battle's new daughter, Belle, is the youngest at one week.

Here's a break down of the coaches' offsprings:

John Conley, athletic director and head football coach—one boy.

Hal Battle, line coach, Freshman basketball coach and head golf coach—one boy, three girls.

Horrace Bostick, backfield coach and assistant baseball coach—two boys.

Jim Stehley, "B" football coach and head track coach—two girls.

V. V. Shearburn, "B" football, basketball and track coach—one boy, one girl.

J. P. Ward, Freshman football coach, head basketball and tennis coach—three boys, one girl.

Speedy Moffett, assistant Freshman football coach and head baseball coach—two boys, one girl.

Ace Amos, Junior High athletic director and 8th grade football coach—one boy, three girls.

Bill Hartsfield, 7th grade football coach and head track coach at junior high—one boy, one girl.

Ned Underwood, assistant 7th grade football coach and head basketball coach at junior high—one boy, one girl.

TEBBETTS RESIGNS AS CINCY MANAGER—George "Birdie" Tebbetts, right, reads his statement in the office of Redleg general manager Gabe Paul, left, as he announced that he was resigning as field manager of the Cincinnati baseball team. Braves Beat 'Cousin' Reds Again To Hike Lead To Six

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A very conservative guy, this Fred Haney who manages the world champion Milwaukee Braves.

He went into the last of the ninth leading 3-0 at Cincinnati last night with young Joey Jay pitching a one-hitter. But when Joey gave up his eighth walk to the leadoff man, Haney, up to his tobacco pocket in pitching, pulled no less than 15-game winner Warren Spahn out of the bullpen for a mopup job against the last-place Reds.

Spahn did just that, completing the one-hit shutout and padding the Braves' National League lead to six games over Pittsburgh's idle second-place Pirates.

The third-place San Francisco Giants defeated St. Louis 4-3, and Los Angeles rapped the Chicago Cubs 7-3 in the only other NL games scheduled.

Jay walked the Cincinnati leadoff man in six innings. But the Braves backed him up with two double plays. The only hit he allowed was a leadoff single by Jerry Lynch in the sixth inning.

Billy Bruton homered for the Braves off Don Newcombe in the first and Wes Covington scored on a triple and error for a 2-0 edge in the second.

The Giants cracked a 1-all tie on Daryl Spencer's 13th home run in the seventh inning then put it away when Willie Mays homered and Orlando Cepeda hit an RBI double in a two-run eighth. Johnny Antonelli won his 13th.

Marv Grissom was touched for a single by Curt Flood, but only one run scored when Wally Moon, running from second, tripped rounding third. Grissom then retired Gene Freese, who had driven in the Cards' first two runs with doubles, on a ground ball. Billy Muffett (4-4) lost it.

Duke Snider's solo 11th home run, a 430-foot poke to dead center in the spacious Los Angeles Coliseum, gave the Dodgers a 2-2 tie in the third and Junior Gilliam's two-run single wrapped it up in the fourth. Don Drysdale, who hit a two-run homer, his fourth, was the winner, but needed relief help for a 7-11 record. Johnny Briggs (4-3) was the loser.

TONIGHT IN CHICAGO

70,000 Due For All-Star Game

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
AP Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The All-Stars start Operation Ozone tonight.

They are expected to make a daring effort to beat the Detroit Lions, champions of the National Football League.

The 25th All-Star promises to draw 70,000 spectators to Soldier Field. It will be televised and broadcast nationally by ABC starting at 8:30 p. m. EST.

The Lions rule a solid 13½ point favorite to gain a 16th decision for the pros in the rivalry. The All-Stars have won seven times, the last being 30-27 over the Cleveland Browns in 1955, and have held the pro champs to two standstills.

In two other appearances in the classic the Lions have treated the All-Stars as morsels. They beat them 24-10 in 1953 and 31-6 in 1954.

With Tobin Rote and Bobby Layne giving a powerful one-two punch at quarterback, the Lions again are preparing for a feast.

Probably their two busiest men will be Darris McCord and Gene Cronin, defensive ends. They are assigned to barge into the All-Stars backfield in an attempt to smear passing plans.

But don't get the idea the collegiate sensations of 1957—many of whom already are under contract to NHL clubs—are lambs being led to slaughter. They have the passers, speedy receivers and break-away runners to make the Lions pant.

And they have Otto Graham as head coach with a staff of former pros who know what to expect.

Perhaps their offense will be leyed by a series of flat passes from King Hill of Rice or Jim Ninowski of Michigan State to such quick-footed halfbacks as Jim Pace of Michigan; Dick Christy of North Carolina; Bob Mitchell of Illinois; Phil King of Vanderbilt, and Len Lyles of Louisville.

Other targets are such ball-grasping ends as Fred Dugan of Dayton; Jim Gibbons of Iowa; Bob Jewett of Michigan State, and Tom Shulte of East Kentucky State.

The game will be played under pro rules permitting free substitution. The forecast is for fair and pleasant weather with temperatures in the 70's.

New Match In The Mill For Harris

MURDO, S.D. (AP)—A fight between Roy Harris and Dale Valburg, the last man to beat the Texan, is reported in the works.

In 1955 Valburg won over Harris by a technical knockout in the Chicago Golden Gloves. Now Valburg says a promoter in Akron, Ohio, has offered to set up a return match.

First, though, Harris must finish up some business with Floyd Patterson, the world's heavyweight champion, in a title fight at Los Angeles next Monday.

Not since that 1955 amateur reversal has Harris lost a match but Valburg's father, William Valburg, says Vince Raines of Akron has offered Dale $10,000 to enter the ring and try to turn the trick.

"For that kind of money I'll fight Harris," said Valburg.

He explained how he beat Harris in the Golden Gloves bout. "I decided to go for broke and rushed him, but nobody ever hit me like Harris did," said Valburg.

The 26-year-old Valburg, now a rancher here, said Harris was "one of the best counterpunchers I ever fought. He had won the first two rounds but hadn't hurt me any. They told me in my corner that I'd have to win by a knockout in the third. I floored him once for nine counts before the referee stopped it."

Valburg lost in the tournament semi-finals. He fought four times as a professional in 1956 but quit to devote full time to his 1,200-acre ranch.

Harris turned pro a month after his match with Valburg.

Power Steals Home Twice For AL Mark

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Because the Detroit Tigers mistook the improbable for the impossible, Cleveland's Vic Power stands alone today as the only man in American League history to steal home twice in one game.

No one had done it in the majors in 47 years and only two National Leaguers before that. Power hadn't stolen even one base through 106 games this season, and had managed just seven thefts in 636 games in the majors.

Yet he slipped in for Cleveland's last two runs yesterday, scooting home with the winner in the 10th inning as the Injuns beat the Tigers 10-9.

Joe Tinker of the Chicago Cubs set the record by stealing home twice June 28, 1910. The only other man to do it was Larry Doyle of the old New York Giants, Sept. 18, 1911.

Tom Morgan was pitching when Power's first steal capped a five-run eighth that overcame a 7-4 lead. Frank Lary was caught by the second steal.

The Tigers were left in a third-place tie with the Boston Red Sox, who were belted 8-2 by the league-leading New York Yankees. The Chicago White Sox, 14½ games behind, strengthened their hold on second by beating Kansas City 5-2 in the only other AL game.

The Indians blew a 3-0 first-inning lead, falling behind when Harvey Kuenn's three-run seventh homer capped a four-run Tiger sixth. Rocky Colavito's 26th homer, his second of the game, got the Indians rolling in the eighth and the long-injured Vic Wertz added a two-run, pinch-hit homer, his first of the year, for a 7-7 tie. Power singled home the tie-breaking run and moved around on an error and wild pitch for his dash home.

The Tigers scored two in the ninth for another tie before winner Gary Bell (7-8) came on for two perfect innings of relief. Singles by Power and Russ Nixon and a walk loaded the bases and set up Powers' payoff steal.

Johnny Kucks won his eighth for the Yanks with six innings of shutout relief. The Yankees scored three in the first off loser Dave Sisler (7-6), who went out with a bruise above the left ankle after being hit by a Tony Kubek drive that batted in the deciding run.

Luis Aparicio, who got things started with a double, lined an RBI single that capped a four-run sixth for the White Sox. Ray Moore won his ninth with a five-hitter, blanking the A's until the eighth. Bud Daley (2-2) lost it.

West Favored In Greenbelt

CHILDRESS (AP)—The Greenbelt Bowl football game goes on for the ninth time tonight with the massive West team favored to win.

Averaging 198.2 pounds to the man and featuring Jesse McGuire of Plainview, a talented passer, and Ronny Payne of Breckenridge, ace pass receiver and defensive star, the West is expected to rely on its aerial game for victory.

The East, averaging 184.8 and led by the quarterbacking of Billy Ryan of Seymour and the running of Doyce Walker of Burkburnett, James Holder of Wichita Falls and Jim Hollingsworth of Vernon has indicated it will stick to the ground.

McGuire is a halfback but was shifted to quarterback in this game in order to better utilize his passing.

A crowd of 4,000—a sellout—is expected for the kickoff at 8 p.m.

Coaching the East are Claude Gilstrap and Burley Bearden of Arlington State. The West is piloted by Sandy Sanford and Johnny Dunn of Tarleton State.

Sun Oil Wins 3-0 Behind Whiteside

Sun Oil blanked Hermleigh 3-0 last night in one of the fastest City League games played this season. The game was unreeled in one hour and 20 minutes.

Wayne Whiteside tossed a neat two-hitter for Sun last night and drove in what proved to be the winning run.

Whiteside singled Alan Snead home with the game's first run in the fifth inning. Snead had singled and had moved around to third on a sacrifice and an error.

Snead then put the game on ice for Sun with a two-run triple in the sixth. Curtis Rivers and Jimmy Smith, who had hit back-to-back singles, scored on Snead's three-bagger.

The only scoring threat made by Hermleigh was in the sixth inning when Don McNew tripled with two away. Whiteside then got the dangerous hitting Doug Chitsey on strikes to avoid further damage.

Whiteside struck out seven and walked two. His mound rival, Bill Voss, struck out nine and didn't issue a free pass while dishing out eight hits.

Last night's victory moved Sun into second place in the second half race with a 4-2 record, one-half game behing the league leading Tigers who have won four and dropped one.

The Tigers take on the Blue Sox in tonight's tilt. Tentatively set for tomorrow night is a make-up game between the Tigers and Hermleigh. Definite announcement of tomorrow's makeup game will be made at tonight's game.

Galveston, Lufkin In Pony Grad Finals

SAN ANTONIO (AP)— Galveston scored a pair of wins here last night to advance to the finals of the Pony Grads Baseball Tournament. Galveston meets Lufkin tonight for the crown.

Galveston was forced to 11 innings in the semifinal with San Antonio, but the Islanders scored 5 runs in the 11th to take a 13-8 victory.

Galveston then beat Lufkin 11-4 in a final round tilt of the double elimination affair. Due to the lengthy opener this feature game wasn't over until early today.

Homeruns by Carlo Gott, Kenneth Carlson, Mike Mussenblatt and Benny Holland sparked Galveston's victory over Lufkin.

Winner of the tournament goes to Springfield, Ill., the national meet Aug. 29.

Yank Boss Stengel Not Taking Chances

BOSTON (AP) — New York Manager Casey Stengel was asked Thursday why he sent Enos Salughter to pinchhit for pitcher Duke Maas against Boston in the fourth inning with the Yanks ahead 3-2.

"I had heard in the third inning that a manager (Birdie Tebbetts) just lost a job," Stengel replied. "So I got a little nervous and decided to get some runs."

Slaughter came through with a two-run double and the New Yorkers romped 8-2.

Death Ends Career Of Popular Football Coach, Red Sanders

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Death apparently from a heart attack Thursday ended the career of one of America's great football coaches, Henry (Red) Sanders of UCLA. He was 53.

Sanders, who came here from Vanderbilt in 1949 and developed UCLA Bruin teams of powerful pre-eminence, died in a second-floor room of a small hotel near the downtown area.

A blonde woman, about 30, who identified herself as Ernestine Drake, was sitting in a chair a few feet from Sanders' body when police arrived. She said she was with him when he died. He was wearing pants, shoes and socks but no shirt.

Miss Drake said she was introduced to Sanders by the room's registered occupant, W.T. Grimes. The elderly Grimes said he was an old friend of the coach. Grimes said he was not present when Sanders was stricken.

"He complained of the heat," Miss Drake said. "He ordered two soft drinks brought to the room. We talked of football and I said I didn't follow the game. 'Football is a great game,' he said. 'You should come out this fall and see a few games.' Those were his last words."

Miss Drake said Sanders suddenly clutched his chest and rolled over on one side of the bed. She said she ran for help, and when she returned she found him on the floor.

She told a reporter she is a clothes model, born in Vienna.

"I didn't know he was a famous football coach," she said.

Sanders had no record of a heart ailment, but homicide detective R. T. Reid said a heart attack apparently caused death. An autopsy will be performed.

Sanders was a progressive, imaginative, inventive coach who had a 27-year coaching record of 102 wins, 41 defeats and 3 ties. He was Coach of the Year in 1954. That was the year the Bruins won nine games and became UCLA's first undefeated and untied team.

UCLA tore up a long-term contract with Red last year and signed him to a 10-year agreement at $20,000 a year. He signed after going to College Station, Tex., to discuss a lucrative offer to coach Texas A. & M. Florida once tried to lure Sanders away.

The UCLA student body reacted to every outside offer with noisy campus demonstrations urging that Red's salary be raised or his contract extended.

Sanders' coach pyramided from the time he came here. Members of his coaching staff got good jobs elsewhere, with his blessing, but his teams kept winning.

In a 1950 newspaper poll Sanders was named Los Angeles' outstanding citizen.

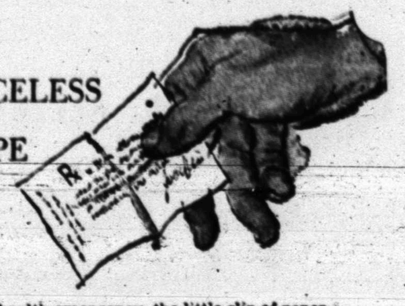

He leaves his widow, Ann Daniels Sanders.

A PRICELESS RECIPE

In a health emergency, the little slip of paper on which your physician writes his prescription is priceless. You wouldn't part with it under any circumstances.

However, once the emergency has passed, human nature being what it is, you are apt to forget how valuable the prescription really was. Maybe you even grumble a little at its out-of-pocket cost, failing to remember the doctor's professional skill, the countless hours of pharmaceutical research and many other factors that made the "recipe" possible in a health crisis.

Permit our prescription department to fill your next "recipe for health."

Strange Case Is Finally Cleared Up

JEFFERSON, Ga. (AP) — The strange murder case of Charles H. Drake Sr. has been cleared up more than two years after the 60-year-old Jefferson merchant was shot to death during a robbery.

Here's what happened in Superior Court yesterday:

1. A. D. Allen Jr., a 37-year-old bootlegger who formerly lived in Winder, Ga., was convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment as an accomplice in the Drake death.

2. Charles Paul (Rocky) Rothschild, 33-year-old former policeman from Cairo, Ill., entered a plea of guilty to the murder and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

3. James Fulton Foster, 40-year-old house painter from Greer, S.C., was acquitted by directed verdict and walked from the court room a free man. He twice had been sentenced to death in the Drake slaying.

Allen, who now is serving a five-year liquor sentence in the Atlanta federal prison, was convicted by a Jackson County Superior Court jury after it deliberated 21 hours and 50 minutes.

Allen and his attorney filed a motion for a new trial and Judge Maylon B. Clinkscales set a hearing on the motion for Dec. 18.

Immediately after court adjourned, Allen was taken back to the Atlanta prison and Rothschild was returned to the South Carolina State Penitentiary.

Rothschild, who is serving a five-yea. robbery-conspiracy sentence in South Carolina, signed a confession July 4 admitting he fired the fatal shots at Drake's home June 19, 1956.

New Rocket Is Launched

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An advanced research rocket has been fired from the Air Force Missile Test Center to probe the earth's atmosphere.

The huge missile roared aloft last night, flashing on and off in a brief climb through the cloud-filled Florida sky. The rocket's type was not made known immediately.

The Air Force announced the rocket was a test vehicle for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Officials said the missile is being used in a program of atmospheric sampling to gain basic research information.

Scientists hope the missile will shed light on such problems as manned space flight and an intense field of radiation 600 miles up in space.

Existence of the deadly rays, which could considerably delay man's first venture in space, was discovered by Explorer satellites.

The radiation data is being analyzed at the physics department of the University of Iowa.

Lum Duk, 83-year-old Chinese who came to Vancouver from Hong Kong 61 years ago, has now applied for Canadian citizenship. "I find I like Canada," he explained.

Doolittle Chairman Of Firm's Board

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gen. James H. Doolittle has been named board chairman of Space Technology Laboratories, a firm devoted to the study of missile and space problems.

The laboratories, now a division of Ramo-Wooldridge Corp., will become a separate corporation in the near future, and Doolittle will assume his new position Jan. 1.

The famed flying hero, who led the first bombing raid on Tokyo during World War II, will be in charge of the largest concentration of scientists in the nation working exclusively on missiles and space technology, Ramo-Wooldridge said.

Brussels, Belgium, has four-lane freeways which encircle the city.

Missing AF Colonel Found

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—an Air Force colonel who disappeared Monday was found walking along a highway near Iowa Park, 10 miles west of here, late yesterday.

Air Force officials said Lt. Col. William K. Cummings, 43, was taken to Shepperd Air Force Base Hospital in a dazed condition. His car was found abandoned about two miles from where he was found.

State police first reported that Col. Cummings was carrying highly classified information, but Capt. J. E. Marshall of Shepperd AFB said an inventory showed nothing of this nature was missing.

M.AJ. L. H. Robeson, base provost marshal, and sheriff's deputies found the colonel.

Vernon police reported that he fled from a Vernon motel shortly before they closed in on it Wednesday. Roadblocks were set up near Electra in an attempt to stop him.

Co. Cummings, group commander of intelligence training at Shepperd, is a 1941 graduate of West Point. He served 8 years overseas and holds the Air Medal and Bronze Star. His wife is Maj. Kathleen V. Cummings, with the department of non-resident training at Shepperd.

Bird Sanctuary Set

MIDLAND (AP)—Midland now is an official sanctuary for birds.

The city council this week declared the city a bird sanctuary and outlawed any shooting of the feathery little creatures. Action followed a request of the Midland Garden Clubs.

Teen-Ager Thrives On Responsibility

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Worried about teen-agers?

Well, consider the case of Judy Moore.

She's 15 and cute. She has a steady boy friend and likes rock 'n' roll. She grew up in a twice broken home. She lives in a low income housing project.

Her mother is in a hospital after major surgery.

Neighbors called juvenile officers to the Moore home the other day.

Trouble? Not at all.

They thought Judy was carrying too big a burden for a 15-year-old.

This is what amazed juvenile officers found:

Judy in charge of seven younger brothers and sisters. All were clean and well fed. The refrigerator and cupboards were stocked with nourishing food.

Judy's role as head of the house began when her mother Mrs. Bonita Moore Kenny went to the hospital 10 days ago. The mother gave Judy $20 for food and left more money with neighbors.

In Judy's care were 8-month-old twins Darlene and Debbie; Randy, 2; Jacqueline, 5; Nancy, 8; Billy, 9; and Bonnie Jean, 10.

The officers took the children to Juvenile Hall. They kept them a day and sent them back home with a housekeeper to oversee things.

Judy had proved herself quite a homemaking executive. She delegated duties — dry the dishes, make the beds, dust and mop — to the older children.

Judy and the housekeeper are running the house together. But it's easy to see who is still at the helm:

Judy ordered: "Billy, I told you to change that shirt.

"Bonnie Jean, the dishes are ready to dry.

"Nancy, go bring Randy in here so I can wash his face . . ."

Divorce Suit Cites Biblical Reference

DETROIT (AP) — Charles W. Cornwall has filed suit for divorce.

In it he claims his son was given a cat two years ago; that the cat has since had some 36 kittens and his wife has refused to give any of them away.

His bill adds that "The vermin and flea situation is worse than that inflicted upon the Egyptians at the time the Pharaohs first refused to allow the Hebrews to leave Egypt under the banner of their leader Moses."
