Jury Indicts Clay Shaw In JFK Plot

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A grand jury has indicted Clay L. Shaw on a charge of "wilfully and unlawfully conspiring" to murder President John F. Kennedy.

Shaw, 54, headed for a hideaway today on the Mississippi Gulf Coast with Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's approval.

Shaw, who retired in October 1965 as managing director of the International Trade Mart here, has been free on $10,000 bond since his arrest March 1.

The district attorney had said earlier he would bypass the grand jury and file a bill of information before bringing Shaw to trial.

Garrison risked a "no true bill" by taking the case before the grand jury. He had already won a ruling from a three-judge state court panel that sufficient evidence was presented at a preliminary hearing to warrant holding Shaw for trial.

However, he still could have filed a bill of information in the case if the grand jury refused to indict Shaw.

By filing a bill of information, the district attorney would have had to divulge specific details of the case. In Louisiana, which patterns its laws on the Napoleonic code of France, a prosecutor has a choice of bringing a man to trial either by a grand jury indictment or a bill of information.

Shaw was charged by the grand jury's true bill with "wilfully and unlawfully conspiring with David W. Ferrie, Lee Harvey Oswald and unnamed others to murder John F. Kennedy."

Perry Raymond Russo, 25, star witness for Garrison in last week's emotional court hearing, made a surprise appearance before the grand jury before the announcement of the indictment.

Russo told the three-judge court last week he heard Shaw, Ferrie and Oswald plotting in mid-September 1963 to kill Kennedy. Shaw is the only one of the conspirators named in the indictment still alive.

Several minutes of radio silence passed before the patrolman radio back:

"I don't find any nude woman, but there certainly are a lot of police cars out here looking."

Crisis Looms In Milk War

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rebellious farmers spilling milk on pastures and streets is marking a price struggle many persons believe is reaching a crisis with repercussions from rural voting booths to big city supermarkets.

The milk holding and dumping initiated in 25 states is the most dramatic expression of what farmers and their representatives in Congress describe as deep unrest over declining prices, rising costs — and the seemingly greener pasture on the city side of the fence.

A march by 100 farmers on the New Jersey state house in Trenton, dynamiting of a milk truck in Tennessee, vandalism spoilage to stored milk in Minnesota — these were among developments Wednesday as the week-long National Farmers Organization campaign to boost milk prices heightened in intensity.

More demonstrations, boycotts and strikes are expected, said a Midwestern congressman. "He wants to be part of the affluent society."

With farm prices skidding for six consecutive months, farmers charge they are being shortchanged in a booming economy.

Conscious of declining power at the polls, some farmers argue the administration simply is using its support tools to tamp down prices and court the favor of urban consumers.

Farmer Cyril Habiger of Bavaria, Kan., figures it adds up to this: "There are fewer farmers, more votes among consumers, so policies favor consumers."

Many farm leaders feel the same way. At a recent conference in Washington, one after another rose to complain about prices for wheat, feed grains, milk and other dairy products, beef cattle, rice. Many felt the government could do more to bolster prices if it wanted to.

Democrats and Republicans agree the situation foreshadows trouble for the administration, a battle in Congress and a key conflict in the 1968 presidential campaign.

Recalling past election oratory in Grange halls and corn fields, Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., observed: "I think a politician who goes around the country now telling farmers they never had it so good will be rebuffed."

There is no agreement on the depth and scope of the farm problem. Some contend it is a temporary matter of overproduction, the recurring bugaboo of the American agriculture cornucopia.

King Turns To More Active Role

By DON McKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., moving into a far more active antiwar role, plans major efforts this year to build support for a guaranteed annual income and better jobs for Negroes.

"I am personally planning to take a much stronger stand against the war in Vietnam," King said in an interview. The war, he said, has become the major obstacle to the civil rights movement.

"I feel it's playing such havoc with our domestic programs that I'm forced into (opposing the war)," King said. The war has shifted attention and resources from the civil rights struggle, he said.

King said he believes civil rights programs will suffer less from his actively opposing the war than from not opposing it. The criticisms, he said, "will be much less than the frustrations and anxieties we will face in not opposing it."

King will speak at an antiwar rally next Saturday in Chicago and then join his first antiwar demonstration in New York April 15.

He said the nation and President Lyndon B. Johnson have become obsessed with the war.

King disclosed he recently made plans for intensive organizing of Negro slums as a base to seek a guaranteed annual income and a nationwide campaign for economic improvement of Negroes through bargaining with major businesses.

"We have got to go all out to grapple with this economic problem," he said, talking of his plans for the first time since finishing a book about the racial struggle. Negro slums still retain explosive conditions, he said.

"Nothing much has changed," King said. "I'm afraid we're going to get a repetition of last summer." Rioting erupted in Chicago, Cleveland, Omaha, Neb., and several other cities in 1966.

Chicago again will be a target, King said, in an effort to "highlight or expose the problems of the ghettos through demonstrations." The demonstrations will center on housing and school segregation, he said, and might include marches by Negro pupils to predominantly white schools.

N. Viet Commanders Said Softening Casualty Reports

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Intercepted military messages indicate Communist battlefield commanders are holding back or toning down reports to Hanoi about their Vietnam war casualties, U.S. officials report.

Captured documents discussed by Gen. William C. Westmoreland at this week's Guam conference were said to show the Viet Cong deliberately understate their battle losses while exaggerating American casualties 20 to 40 times.

American figures reflect 60 per cent higher enemy casualties this year compared with 1966.

Officials said this masking of the true situation by Communist fighters in the field may be one reason the North Vietnamese leadership presses the war despite increasing allied power.

These officials, who refused to be publicly named, said that until Hanoi's will is broken by military pressure, the conflict could drag on indefinitely.

Officials refused to say the war will be intensified to force the enemy to negotiate a peace, but disclosed American B52s will be moved to Thailand in April to be nearer Communist targets in Vietnam.

This shift of some of the big jets from Guam, where strikes now originate, will cut the B52s' base to target time from six hours to two.

It will mean more B52 bombing missions can be conducted in a 24-hour period against enemy infiltration routes through Laos as well as troop concentrations and supply stores in South Vietnam.

The planned yearend U.S. manpower goal remains unchanged, officials said. Sources report that plans are to have 470,000 men in South Vietnam by the end of December, up some 50,000 from current levels.

Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, was said to believe the 470,000 will be adequate to meet priority objectives of striking at Communist base camps and pressing the so-called pacification program.

SUNRISE SERVICE SET HERE

The annual Easter Sunrise service will be held Sunday morning at the Snyder High School football stadium.

Sponsors of the event each year are the Snyder Jaycees and the Scurry County Ministerial Alliance.

The service Sunday morning will begin at 6:30 a.m. Dr. John English, pastor of First Methodist Church, will bring the message. Music will be under the direction of Jim Casey, Snyder High School choral music director and director of music at Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

In the event of unfavorable weather the service will be held in the high school auditorium. The public is invited.

Sunday-Closing Vote Delayed By Filibuster

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. A. R. Schwartz made a second start today on his filibuster against Sunday closing laws.

Five minutes after the Senate convened, the Galveston senator was on his feet condemning the measure as "a bill designed to deny free enterprise, to throttle competition."

Resumption of the delaying tactics kept an apparent restless majority from voting on the bill then quitting for a long Easter holiday.

Schwartz, who called the shots on a 20-hour filibuster last week, talked against the Sunday closing law change for an hour Wednesday before the Senate recessed.

"If this bill passes it will make people drink beer on Sunday afternoon instead of shopping to buy furniture for their children's play room," he shouted. "Beer sales are legal but you wouldn't be able to buy furniture."

Schwartz told reporters he planned to continue talking until other senators either changed their minds on the bill or agree to adjourn without taking a final vote on the House-approved measure.

Schwartz indicated the primary aim was to get the Senate to adjourn for Easter holidays without acting on the bill, thus postponing any final vote until next Wednesday at least.

"Unless the other members want to take a final vote on Easter Sunday they had better think about putting this bill aside for a while," he said.

Schwartz began his direct verbal attack on the Sunday closing law change, already approved by the House, after the Senate approved 20-11 and sent to the governor a bill authorizing local option city sales taxes. The Galvestonian, considered by most as the leader of the liberal faction in the Senate, led delaying tactics last Wednesday and Thursday that kept the measure from being tentatively approved for about 20 hours. However, during his filibuster Schwartz said he would finally vote for the municipal levy and indicated his real concern was for the Sunday closing law next on the calendar.

"If there was ever a snake that needed killing, this is it," Schwartz said of the bill. The measure would remove the present emergency certificate provision which allows certain Sunday purchases if the buyer will sign a certificate saying it is an emergency.

Opponents argue the law discriminates against discount houses by saying about 45 specific items may not be sold on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays.

Schwartz claimed the bill is wanted only "by the peanut merchants on Main Street who want to put their competition out of business. . .This is a lobby bill pure and simple, a lousy, special interest bill."

RELEASED AFTER DEATH SENTENCE REVERSED — Lloyd Miller, Canton, Ill., cab driver who was sentenced to death more than a decade ago, gets a kiss from his mother, Jewel, after he was released from the Illinois State Penitentiary at Joliet. Miller was released on order from a U.S. District Court Judge following a U.S. Supreme Court decision reversing his conviction on a charge of murdering 8-year-old Janice May in Canton in November 1955. The Supreme Court overturned the conviction on grounds that the prosecution used faked evidence. (AP Wirephoto)

Defection Prompts Kidnap Charges

By K. P. HONG

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — North Korea accused the U.N. Command today of kidnaping a Communist newsman who defected at this truce village, and demanded his immediate return.

U.S. Army Col. George F. Charlton, secretary of the U.N. Command, rejected the Red demand and said that Lee Sookeun, 44, vice president of the official North Korean Central News Agency, had defected to South Korea of his own initiative.

"The choice of an individual to decide where to live is a basic right of the peoples in all free nations," Charlton told North Korean Col. Han Chu-kyong.

Lee fled from the Armistice Commission hut Wednesday in a car with U.S. Lt. Col. Donald E. Thomson as Communist guards fired at least 40 bullets at them. Charlton protested the guards' action and accused them of "reckless" shooting.

Col. Han retorted that the guards fired because it was an "abnormal" situation in which a Communist newsman was being abducted.

A North Korean broadcast earlier today also charged that Lee was kidnaped and accused U.S. military police of forcing him into the car. It said the incident was "part of the aggressive maneuvers of the U.S. imperialists to undermine the Korean armistice agreement, increase tension and ignite a new war."

Lee had come to Panmunjom with other Communist reporters to cover an Armistice Commission meeting.

Canary Bird Heads For Atlantic Station

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Canary Bird, a new commercial communications satellite intended to link four continents, soared through a preliminary transfer orbit today en route to a fixed outpost high above the Atlantic Ocean.

The Communications Satellite Corp. payload initially will be used to expand communications between North America and Europe. Next year, when ground stations are ready, it will extend service to Africa and Latin America.

The 357-pound Canary Bird was launched Wednesday night from Cape Kennedy.

Rains, Hail Hit Lubbock

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Torrential rains and enough hail to whiten the ground in places flailed the South Plains of West Texas again late Wednesday, continuing past midnight.

In rural areas northwest of Lubbock, residents estimated up to four inches of rain poured down around Spade and a farmer's gauge measured 2½ inches near Anton. Hail stones drifted three to four inches deep around those places.

Thunderstorm activity slacked off last around Lubbock itself. The rainfall measurement was .95 inch.

The wild weather started developing in late afternoon with the appearance south of Farwell of what was described as a long and thin tornado funnel. It spun westward and dissipated south of Clovis, N.M., after churning up the dust.

Lighter showers and hail moved across several other counties in the same section.

Other parts of the state had a mixture of clear to partly cloudy skies and rising temperatures.

Overnight lows were mostly in the 50s to high 60s. These compared with top marks Wednesday from 70 at Galveston and Lubbock to 85 at Presidio.

Widely spaced showers were predicted in all areas of the state tonight and Friday with more temperatures in the 80s.

FISHING VIOLATIONS

Reds Towed In By US Cutter

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — A Soviet fishing vessel — the second to be accused this month of violating U.S. rights in Alaskan waters — was being towed toward Kodiak today by a Coast Guard cutter.

Capt. Robert Emerson, commander of the Coast Guard station at Kodiak, said the Soviet skipper refused to follow the cutter Storis to port so the vessel was taken under tow. If the Soviet changes his mind and proceeds under his own power the vessels could arrive by late afternoon. The tow would take nearly two days.

The 178-foot trawler, SRTM 8-457, was boarded south of the Shumagin Islands Wednesday after a Coast Guard aircraft had engaged in "hot pursuit" of the vessel for 10 miles.

The Coast Guard said the aircraft, on routine law-enforcement patrol, spotted the trawler fishing 5.5 miles east of Seal Cape in the Shumagins, a violation of the U.S. 12-mile exclusive fisheries zone which went into effect March 17.

The aircraft signaled the ship to heave-to and await arrival of a government ship. Instead, the trawler picked up her fishing gear and headed toward international waters. The Storis overtook the ship 15 miles off shore.

The scene was about 100 miles southwest of the spot the Soviet trawler SRTM 8-413 was seized March 2 for violation of the three-mile territorial limit at Mitrofania Island, some 40 miles southwest of Chignik on the Alaska Peninsula.

Nicolai G. Zernov, skipper of that vessel, was fined $5,000, an amount Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel called "measly."

The latest incident, Gov. Hickel said, is strictly a federal problem because the Soviet ship was not accused of violating the three-mile territorial limit.

The maximum penalty would be a $10,000 fine and one year in prison for each person aboard. Soviet trawlers usually carry a crew of 25-30. The vessel is also subject to seizure, forfeiture of cargo and any fish taken in violation of law.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were going over our guest list for a series of dinner parties we will be giving this winter. I have several widow friends. My husband said, "Please don't ask any widows for it is too tiring and worrisome having to carry them home afterwards."

Even tho they are financially able to take a taxi, they feel that as long as we have a car and both my husband and I drive we should give them chauffeur service home.

Please tell widows that they would get more invitations if they wouldn't expect so much.

DAYTON

DEAR DAYTON: If your widow friends expect "too much" it's up to you to straighten them out, but please don't generalize. Most widows are so tickled to get a dinner invitation they are delighted to provide their own transportation.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for all patrolmen to see. One evening I was driving my own car and my boyfriend was sitting beside me.

A patrolman came alongside me and signaled for me to pull over, which I did. I had been exceeding the speed limit slightly, but that didn't bother me. What did was this: The patrolman looked at my driver's license, then he looked at me and said, "Is this YOURS?"

I assured him that it was and asked why he questioned it. He said, "You sure don't LOOK 46 years old," Abby, I wanted to hit him. I can easily pass for early thirties, and sometimes do. Needless to say, I was humiliated, embarrassed, and annoyed.

OLDER THAN I LOOK

DEAR OLDER: No wonder the police are discouraged. Here a cop compliments you — and you get sore. The cops can't win!

DEAR ABBY: A rather embarrassing thing happened to me and I need some advice. The other day I received a very appreciative note from a friend of mine, thanking me for a baby gift I did not send. The worst part of it is, I never go around to sending her baby anything, altho I had been meaning to.

Should I let this person know of her mistake? Or should I ignore the whole thing so she'll never know I didn't send anything?

B.

DEAR B: Let your friend know at once that a mistake has been made. Then she can try to find out who sent the gift and thank her for it.

Letters To Editor

To The Daily News:

Patriotism, loyalty, self-respect, decency, honor, work. These are the labels of the ideals which built this country, saved the world, still feed the hungry and support the old and sick. These things are the only hope of the future.

Courts may seem to condone treason, labor leaders downgrade hard work, theaters show filth, politicians smirk at dishonor, and too many sneer at self-respect.

But in spite of all these, there are still hundreds of thousands of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts; thousands who work without pay for Red Cross and Family Service; there is still Junior Achievement; there are churches so crowded they hold two services every Sunday; still Americans who volunteer for dangerous action in the Armed Service; still hundreds of thousands too self-respecting to go on relief so long as they can get any work of any kind, there are still countless boys who get up at 5 in the morning to carry newspapers or shovel snow or run errands; still hundreds of thousands of men and women who do two jobs so they can help buy an education for a son or a home for old parents.

Yes, somehow, in spite of the greedy who want something for nothing, most of America is still the land of the free and the home of the brave. Don't anyone dare try to change it.

"This is my stand. I will not retreat from it. It will not compromise."

Experts Fight To Save Rare Dolphin

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A touch and go effort to save the life of a rare dolphin is being waged by officials of an oceanarium and San Diego State College.

The dolphin is reported to be the first of the rare Grampus Grisseus, or Risso's dolphin, to be captured in the eastern Pacific. The 11-foot-long mammal weighs 850 pounds.

It was rescued Tuesday from a nearby beach which authorities said the animal probably approached to die of an intestinal disorder.

Dr. David W. Kenney of the Sea World Oceanarium said he knows of only one other such dolphin in captivity.

BARLEY-MUSHROOM GO-ALONG to serve with baked chicken in cream and other poultry and meat dishes.

Give Barley Interesting Treatment

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Any cook who is tired of serving the same old go - alongs for meat and poultry might consider offering a barley casserole with the main course.

Some years ago James Beard — one of the best cooks and cookbook writers this country has produced — began to sing the praises of baked barley. It took up a while to catch up with Jim. Now that we have, we know why this dish deserves such praise.

Here, then, is the latest recipe of this sort that we have tired. It differs a little from similar rules because it contains more liquid and is baked longer. This treatment allows the barley to become softer than usual and to swell to an interesting size.

When recently I served the barley casserole prepared this way, my brother-in-law was one of the tasters. "Where on earth did you ever get barley this size?" he wanted to know as he helped thimself to a third portion. Then he told me that "big barley" was something he remembered from his childhood.

We like both ways of baking barley and sometimes use one method, sometimes the other. The two-way approach adds pleasant variation.

The fresh mushrooms called for in the following recipe are a great addition. When the baking dish comes out of the oven, just lift the cover and catch a whiff of their delectable scent.

Serve this barley - mushroom casserole with beef, veal, lamb. Or offer it with chicken baked with cream. Take your choice!

Barley-Mushroom Casserole

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup finely chopped onion
½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
2 beef bouillon cubes
1 quart boiling water
1 cup regular barley
1 teaspoon salt

In a 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat, melt the butter. Add the onion and mushrooms and cook, stirring often, until wilted. Dissolve the bouillon cubes in the boiling water. Into an ungreased 2-quart ovenproff glass or similar casserole (about 8 by 2¾ inches) turn the barley and salt; stir in the onion-mushroom mixture and the bouillon. Bake, uncovered, in a moderate (350 degrees) oven, stirring several times, for 1 hour. Cover; bake 30 minutes more at 350 degrees. Makes 8 servings.

The barley we used in testing this recipe comes in a 1-pound package and is marked "pearled" and "medium;" it is widely available in food markets.

To measure the barley, just pour it right from the package into a measuring cup and level off with your hand.

It's usually not necessary to wash mushrooms; thoroughly wiping the caps and stems with a damp cloth is enough.

In preparing the mushrooms, slice them right through cap and stem. Do this just before sauteeing them so they won't turn brown.

Use a kitchen spoon with a long handle for stirring the barley-mushroom casserole during its first hour of baking.

Date Nut Torte

¼ cup unsifted regular flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup fine graham cracker crumbs
1 cup chopped pitted dates (not packed down)
1 cup coarsely broken walnuts
3 large eggs
1 cup sugar

On wax paper stir together the flour, baking powder and salt; mix in graham cracker crumbs, then dates and walnuts. In a medium bowl beat eggs until thickened and lemon color; gradually beat in sugar so mixture is very thick and ivory color. Fold in date-nut mixture. Turn into a buttered square cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 45 minutes. Loosen sides of torte with a small spatula and turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool. Torte will have meringue-like top that will crack when cut; serve squares of the dessert covered with whipped cream.

First Novel Attempts Too Much

THE PAST AND PRESENT OF SOLOMON SORGE. By Judith Barnard Papier.

The story begins when Solomon Sorge, a middle-aged professor of political science, discovers in the middle of the night that his wife Trudi has evaporated into thin air. No sign that she has money, transportation, luggage. No farewell note.

Solomon, instead of trying to find her, wanders around guessing as to why she left. By the time the novel ends the reader — but not Solomon — may be wondering why she waited so long to depart.

For Solomon is revealed gradually as the humorless social scientist who would think of his family in terms of his professional techniques with questionnaires, poll-taking and behavioral statistics.

The couple's two sons, a physician and a doctor, are disclosed as equally humorless, equally pompous. Their daughter, because she is able to feel a little emotion over what may have happened to the mother, is treated as a neurotic.

A subtheme in the story, developed through flashbacks, is Solomon's racial, religious and ideological disorientation. And for good measure, there are some ironical digs at academic life.

This is a first novel, and it shows considerable skill. Certainly the writing is not amateurish. But it attempts too many diffuse things. The plot line contains some holes. For example, wouldn't someone in this story have tried to trace Trudi? All the police do is to see whether any bodies have been buried in the cellar. The novel is a good try, but it leaves the reader wondering where he came in.

New Flavor To Pork 'N Cabbage

Nothing beats the robust, old-fashioned, homey flavor of a "boiled" pork 'n cabbage dinner. There's a certain nostalgia about it that calls to mind the warm, delicious smells and delightful tastes of grandmother's kitchen. Once considered a staple of plain and frugal farm folk, the boiled dinner has now become a mainstay in homes where superb eating is the rule.

Here's a new version of the Pork 'n Cabbage Boil with a flavor bonus — a rich, beefy broth in which the smoked pork butt, cabbage, and carrots simmer to tenderness. The good beef flavor is simply accomplished. All that's required is a can of condensed beef broth, that full - bodied, well - seasoned savory beef broth ready at your finger tips. At the end of the cooking time, thicken the stock with flour for a delicious sauce to spoon over meat and vegetables.

One evening soon, serve this Pork 'n Cabbage Boil with deep dish apple pie, milk, and coffee. It's a grand way to welcome your family home at the end of the day.

PORK 'N CABBAGE BOIL

1 smoked pork shoulder butt (about 2 pounds)
Water
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef broth
1 cup water
1 medium onion, sliced
1 large bay leaf
1 teaspoon leaf thyme, crushed
6 carrots
1 medium head cabbage, cut into 6 wedges
¼ cut water
3 tablespoons flour

In large heavy pan, cover pork with water. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes. Drain water. Add soup, water onion, bay, thyme, and carrots. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes. Add cabbage; cook 30 minutes more or until tender. Remove meat and vegetables to a heated platter. Gradually blend water into flour until smooth; slowly stir into sauce. Cook, stirring until thickened. Makes 6 servings.

Cottage Cheese Loaf

(Makes one 8 x 4 x 2-inch loaf)

2 cups (1-lb.) large or small curd creamed cottage cheese
1 large green pepper finely chopped
2 large carrots, peeled and finely grated
1 tablespoon dehydrated instant minced onions
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups fine dry bread crumbs
2 eggs, well beaten
¼ cup homogenized milk
1 package (1-¾ oz.) mushroom soup mix and gravy base, optional

Butter an 8-½ x 4-½ x 2-½ inch loaf pan. Line with waxed paper, butter again. In a large-size mixing bowl, combine all ingredients until thoroughly blended. Turn mixture into prepared pan. Press firmly. Bake in a moderate (350 degree F.) oven about 35-40 minutes, or until golden brown. Invert pan over serving dish; lift to remove and very gently peel off paper. If desired, serve with mushroom soup mix and gravy base prepared as directed on package for gravy.

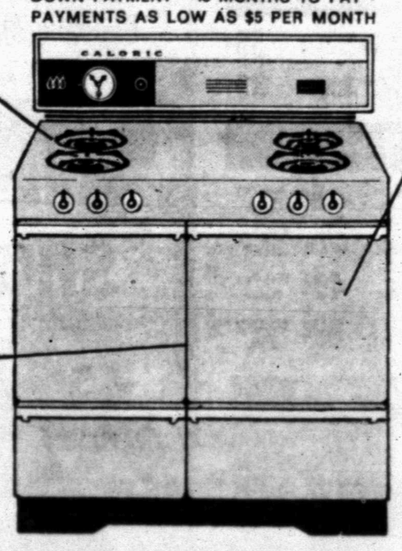

Beat a leftover egg white until foamy; gradually beat in a couple of tablespoons of sugar; continue to beat until very stiff. Use this uncooked meringue as a garnish for chocolate pudding.

Snyder Track Team In Bobcat Meet

Another big challenge faces the Snyder High School track team when it journeys to San Angelo Friday for the two-day Bobcat Relays, which features the top teams of West Texas vying for honors in four divisions.

Division II in which Snyder will compete also has attracted Monahans, Odessa Ector, Lubbock Dunbar, Lake View, Brownwood, Kermit, Andrews, Ft. Stockton, Sweetwater, Brownfield and Beeville.

Snyder and Monahans are expected to battle it out for top honors in Division II. Favorites in the other divisions are San Angelo (Division I), Ozona, Abilene Woodson and Colorado City (Division III), and McCamey (Division I).

Most of the attention will be in Division II where the Tigers will be challenging Dunbar in the sprint relay. The Lubbock unit has the third best time in the state with a 41.8 clocking. Snyder has the third best time in the mile relay with a time of 3.20.

Interest also will be focused on the 330 yard intermediate hurdles. Top entries include Monahans' Danny Thompson (39.4), Snyder's Leon Riggins (39.9), Lake View's Rocky Woods (39.8) and Dunbar's Wayne Davis (39.0).

A new record also could be set in the century. Dunbar has two boys — Robert Medlock and Claudell Morgan — who have both registered 9.8 times. Ector's Johnny Gentry has been clocked in 9.6 for the event.

Snyder's Jerry Simons and Monahans' David Warren also will be gunning for new marks in the shot put and discus respectively. And Woods, Lake View's great athlete, could surmount his height of 6-6½ in the high jump.

The 220 and 440 yard dash events will not be held. This fact should dim hopes for the Tiger team since Snyder has top competitors in these events in Curtis Clay and Teddy Brown.

Nevertheless, these two will combine forces with Riggins and M. C. Powell in the 440, 880 and mile relays. This will be the first time this season that the Tiger foursome has run the 880 relay in competition.

Snyder entries in the various events were listed by Coach Bob Carter, as follows:

shot put — Jerry Simons and Joe Breeden.

discus — Jerry Simons.

high jump — John Schiebel, Leon Riggins and Drake Snyder.

broad jump — M. C. Powell, Leon Riggins and Dwaine Boydstun.

mile relay — Leon Riggins, M. C. Powell, Teddy Brown and Curtis Clay.

880 relay — Riggins, Powell, Brown and Clay.

mile relay — Riggins, Powell, Brown and Clay.

sprint medley relay — Morris Smith, Kent Noble, Larry Lofton and Tommy Bullard.

mile run — Freddie Benitez.

pole vault — Howard Newsome, Steve Burney and Drake Snyder.

KC Wants To Keep Athletic Franchise

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A number of Kansas City businesses are pledging up to $10,000 worth of advertising in order to keep the Athletics' major league baseball team here.

"If the team has good attendance, reasonable ticket sales and good broadcasting revenue," Kansas City Mayor Ilus Davis said, "then we will be in a good position to negotiate to keep the franchise here next year."

The A's contract with the city expires at the end of this season. In the past, the fiery A's owner, Charles Findley, has tried to move the club to various other cities, including Louisville, Oakland and Seattle.

Files $465,000 Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rudy LaRusso, who was suspended from the National Basketball Association after refusing to participate in a triangle swap last January, is sueing the association for $465,000.

LaRusso filed suit Wednesday in federal court charging the NBA with conspiracy and monopoly.

The strapping 30-year-old former Los Angeles Laker forward says that because of the trade and subsequent suspensions he "is, in effect, blacklisted by all of the other teams and is a victim of group boycott."

Earlie Fires, who led the nation's apprentice jockeys with 224 winners in 1965, won 229 races in 1966.

Former third baseban Bobby Morgan scouts for the Kansas City Athletics.

RETAINS CROWN

Cassius Kayos Folley In 7th

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay has finished off the last of a list of fighters who could be called — with kindness — contenders with his seventh-round knockout of Zora Folley.

Argentina's Oscar Bonavena will be the next sacrificial lamb for the super-fast, invincible champion. The match will be in Tokyo, May 27, unless Clay's legal appeal for a stay from Army induction April 11 is rejected.

Folley, the 34-year-old, No. 1 contender, was knocked out when the supremely confident Clay, or Muhammad Ali as he prefers, decided he wanted to pull the trigger on Wednesday night.

The end came at 1:48 of the seventh round from a chopping right to the jaw. Another right had dropped the bloody-nosed veteran for nine in the fourth round.

These were the highlight rounds of a bout that became one-sided when Clay decided the time had become ripe to open up in the third round. Before that he danced around the ring, virtually conceding the first two rounds to the plodding, methodical challenger.

Bonavena, is a 24-year-old, crude, muscular swinger, who was virtually blanked in 10 rounds by Folley nearly 13 months ago in Madison Square Garden. His greatest defensive skill is blocking left jabs with his head.

Folley was a prohibitive 7-1 long shot for his first shot at the title. What odds against Oscar? 100 to 1?

"There is no one around today who can beat him," said Folley in an interview in the Garden's basement after the fight. "I know, I've fought them all.

"All I remember of the end of the fight was a right — right on the chin. After that I just don't remember."

Clay heatedly denied, in answer to a question, that he had carried Folley.

"I was not carrying him," he said. "He was a better fighter than Sonny Liston, or Floyd Patterson or Ernie Terrell.

He was slick, tricky and a good boxer."

Folley's greatest moment came after he was floored in the fourth round. A left-right combination to the jaw dropped him on his face. He sat up with a startled look at the five-count and was up at nine.

When Clay came after him, Folley fought back like a wounded tiger. Although he may still have been dazed, he instinctively fired back with both hands, and a hard right sent Clay to the ropes.

"He hurt me with that punch," said Clay, superbly fit at 211½ pounds over his 6-foot-3 frame. Folley weighed 202½.

Clay started chopping away in the next two rounds with streams of left jabs to the bleeding nose and the lump under Folley's left eye. He didn't let go with the big punch.

But in the seventh Folley scored with a good right to the head that brought a roar from the crowd of 13,780. The roar had barely died down when Clay let loose with his finishing right that dropped Folley for the second and last time.

The 6-foot challenger, blood spewing from his nose, fell flast on his stomach. He rolled over slowly at the count of seven, wobbled to his feet on rubbery legs, and then fell back to his knees. Referee Johnny LoBianco waves his hands. It was all over.

Wilt-Led 76ers Clip Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — "Their game strategy was obvious with the first play and that was with Wilt going to the basket. At that point we knew what we were in for," Coach Jack McMahon of the Cincinnati Royals, said quietly.

What the Royals were in for was a dazzling one-man show as Wilt Chamberlain poured in 37 points to lead Philadelphia to a 123-102 victory that evened the National Basketball Association's best-of-5 Eastern Division playoffs at 1-1 Wednesday night.

Chamberlain scored the 76ers' first basket to tie the score and the Royals never went ahead. Wilt also pulled down 27 rebounds and was credited with 11 assists as the 76ers avenged their series-opening upset in Wednesday's only playoff game.

"Wilt showed why he should be recognized as the greatest player in the history of the game," Coach Alex Hannum said in the 76ers' dressing room.

"We also tried to key in on (Oscar) Robertson a little more tonight and since Wally Jones is smaller we tried to shift other men on him too."

"We've got two tough ball clubs, but I feel Philadelphia is physically stronger than the Royals," said Hannum. "I would like to play them again tomorrow (Thursday) instead of Friday."

Over in the Royals' dressing room, McMahon said it was not just a matter of strength.

"I was not at all surprised at their going to Wilt," he said. "We knew what to expect. We just didn't play well enough.

"You know, I know and all the rest know that Philadelphia plays zone defense at least partially and the basic adjustment against zone defense is to move the ball. In the final analysis, it was the shooting that killed us."

Statistics bore out McMahon's view. The Royals hit with 40 of 92 shots from the field, while the 76ers connected with 49 of 101 field goal attempts.

Robertson scored 29 points to lead the Royals and Connie Dierking — the star of Tuesday night's game — added 21, plus 17 rebounds. Hal Greer scored 28 for Philadelphia.

Hannum said the 76ers took no special measures to keep Dierking down.

"No, we didn't do anything different against Dierking," he said, "I thought Connie was great Tuesday night, but I just didn't think he could play like that again."

While the 76ers and Royals rested, Los Angeles prepared to take on San Francisco and the Chicago Bulls moved to St. Louis to continue their playoffs tonight.

Bruins Aim For Tie

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baylor aims at a first place tie in Southwest Conference baseball today. The Bears meet slumping Texas at Austin in the only conference game of the week.

Southern Methodist tops the race with a 3-1 record but Baylor, 2-1, can move into a deadlock for the lead by thumping Texas.

Meanwhile Southern Methodist and Texas Christian continue against teams that gave them lickings Wednesday.

Southern Methodist lost 5-3 to Louisiana State. Texas Christian was edged by Loyola today while Texas A&M moves back into competition, clashing with St. Mary's at San Antonio.

Tony Bianco was too much for Texas Christian Wednesday as he hit a homer and two singles to drive in three runs and give Loyola the victory.

Steer Coach To A&I

KINGSVILLE (AP) — The new basketball coach of Texas A&I is Don McDonald, a former A&I player who has been coaching Big Spring High School.

Listless Mood Prevails As Solons Depart For Easter

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 90th Congress, departing today for its Easter recess and due back April 3, could stay away longer without being missed. It didn't do much, although that's par for the course at this time of year.

Even when it returns it won't come close to matching the fabulous record of the 89th Congress of 1965-66. This is a much more negative, carping kind of Congress, more bent on cutting costs than launching big, new programs.

But the 89th, elected in 1964, also dawdled in its first few months in 1965. It was in the months after returning from Easter vacation that the 89th set a production record for Congresses in this century.

President Johnson had a lot easier time getting what he wanted from the 89th where, thanks to the 1964 elections, his Democrats had overwhelming control of both houses.

Nevertheless, the voters weren't satisfied with the 89th's performance and in the 1966 elections gave the Republicans 48 Democratic seats in the House and three in the Senate.

After its first year, even the 89th calmed down. In their 1966 session the House and Senate acted as if they had done enough and given the executive branch enough new programs to handle for years.

That mood seems to prevail in this Congress although the energetic Johnson has dumped a wagon-load of proposals on it.

So far it has done little except to make headlines with the financial dealings of two of its members: Adam Clayton Powell, a New York Negro Democrat, and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.

The House threw out Powell and the Senate Ethics Committee, whose report isn't in yet, exposed for all to see how Dodd got money from testimonial dinners and used it for his own private needs.

But there's another basic reason why this Congress doesn't have much spark. In 1965, the year in which he began to intensify the war in Vietnam, Johnson could still concentrate on twisting the arm of House and Senate.

He got what he wanted. But now he is up to his neck in the war, just as he was in 1966, but more so, taking a clubbing from his critics, defending himself, and, as recent events revealed, trying to get North Vietnam to talk peace.

This doesn't give him — and it wouldn't give any president — the time he needs to do missionary work for his domestic programs in Congress. Since he can't spend as much time on this as he otherwise could, it does much to explain why he hasn't been in any brawls with Congress.

Besides, the far-outnumbered Republicans were fairly docile in 1965. Now, because of the 1966 elections, they're getting their spunk back, talking up and back.

Since they have their eyes and their hopes on the 1968 elections, they can't afford to act like Johnson's sheep, which makes it harder for him to do business.

The biggest, most heated legislative achievement of the year up till now was Senate approval of this country's consular treaty with the Soviet Union, an approval Johnson badly wanted as a step toward better relations with Moscow.

Perhaps nothing better expressed the mood of the place than what happened Wednesday.

With almost solid Republican backing, the economy-bent members of the House sought to cut by 5 per cent a $7.5 billion appropriation bill to finance the Treasury and the Post Office departments and the executive office of the President.

If it ever passed both House and Senate, it would have cut the President's salary and spending allowances which come to $150,000 a year. But the effort failed and the House-approved bill went to the Senate.

Junior Editors Quiz on 5th SYMPHONY

QUESTION: Why is Beethoven's 5th Symphony so famous?

ANSWER: Ludwig van Beethoven is regarded by many as the greatest musician who ever lived. He was born in 1770, in Bonn, Germany, at a time when musicians were composing in a way which stressed a certain style rather than freedom of individual expression. Beethoven understood the musical styles of the time, but he went far beyond them, composing from the heart, expressing his own feelings of beauty and nobility with an unrivalled simplicity and power. There was also a stormy quality to Beethoven's music. He suffered from deafness, and after 1802 realized that this was incurable. This situation, so tragic for a musician, is reflected in the music of the 5th Symphony, which begins with three short notes and a longer one, as noted in our illustration, an arrangement which sounds like someone knocking. Beethoven is supposed to have said of these notes: "Thus fate knocks at the door." In spite of this threat of tragedy, the symphony contains exquisite melodies, and so is famous for its resemblance to life itself, which often contrasts moments of sorrow with those of joy.

Star Would Like To Be Perfect

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Ursula Andress, whose body is a poem, is having a love affair with life. "I would like to be perfect," she said. "I would like to see the whole world, to know everything, to take full advantage of the beauty of the earth."

Ursula — her name means "little bear" — is the Swiss-born miss who stepped to stardom in a tiny bikini as the romantic buddy of James Bond in "Dr. No."

In her latest film, "Casino Royale," based on another Ian Fleming spy fable, Ursula is cast as "the richest woman in the world," a role which appeals to her Swiss sense of thrift and which she would just as soon play in real life.

"I love beautiful things," she said frankly. "If I had a million dollars, I wouldn't be bored in my life. I would buy houses and paintings — and invest the rest, and make it a little more."

The honey-blonde actress, who has the kind of shape that haunts the dreams of hermits, doesn't particularly care to be regarded as a sex symbol. According to her studio form sheet, her mathematical measurements are 37-22-35, and in her case figures certainly don't lie.

"I really don't know my dimensions," said Miss Andress. "Only my dressmaker knows them, I suppose. The rest is visual."

Although she has now made 13 pictures, Ursula has no ambition to wind up the dean of the film industry.

"I am a strong person, mentally and physically," she said. "I like to work, and work is good because it helps you to know and enjoy things, and it broadens your mind.

"But if I had enough security, I might want to do other things, such as decorating people's houses, or writing poems or playing the piano."

Ursula is divorced from actor John Derek and has been escorted recently by Jean Paul Belmondo, who also stars in "Casino Royale."

"But I am not engaged," she said. "I am not married. I am simply me. But I can never tell you whether I want to stay that way.

"I just want to live as much as I can. I feel I am born too late already. If it were possible, I would like to have done everything and known everybody. Time goes so fast."

21 Beavers Bagged On The Red River

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Ronald Aytes, Gainesville hunter and trapper, has bagged 21 beaver around Red River in Cooke County.

Aytes has trapped the amphibious rodents during the past several months. Most of his trapping has been done along the Red River, although Aytes says beavers are found in the Moss Lake area also.

Since starting out on his trapping venture, Aytes has learned a lot about beaver. He's also discovered that he can get anywhere from $10 to $12 per pelt.

Liquid from the beavers' oil glands is being used by Aytes to trap other animals. The liquid, according to Aytes, attracts all sorts of animals.

Austin Man Selected As New Swedish Ambassador

AUSTIN (AP) — President Johnson called Wednesday on an influential Texas friend, whose hobby is work, to be the new U.S. ambassador to Sweden.

William W. Heath, 63, comes from the same high-level Austin business, law and political circles from which Johnson selected Edward Clark as ambassador to Australia in 1965.

"I've been close enough to look across a body of water and see Sweden, but I've never been there," says Heath.

He said he has been to Europe several times, including a trip to Copenhagen. It was from Denmark that he once looked across a narrow strait and saw the country where he will represent the United States.

Heath is a large, dignified East Texan with gray hair, bushy eyebrows over deep-set eyes, and a hoarse voice.

Born at Normangee, Tex., in 1903 and raised there, he admits he "started out opposed to integration" when he joined the University of Texas board of regents in 1958. But he led the university to complete desegregation as board chairman from 1962 to 1966.

"The facts that we were able to fully accomplish complete desegregation without violence, bloodshed, incidents, federal troops or marshals—that I think is the thing of which I am proudest," he says.

Like Ed Clark, Heath was both a prominent lawyer and a director of Capital National Bank here when nominated. Heath also is a sheep, goat and cattle rancher.

Apart from a "small amount of hunting, a small amount of fishing" and an occasional football game, Heath's work takes most of his time.

"I expect work would come as near being my avocation as anything," he said.

He still is called "Judge Heath"—a holdover from his two years as an East Texas county judge in 1931-32.

Heath came to Austin in 1933 and entered private law practice. He later served as an assistant state attorney general and as Texas secretary of state.

A frequent visitor to the LBJ Ranch—the last time during the Christmas holidays—Heath says, "I have known the President for a great many years," when asked about their friendship.

"The only thing I can appropriately say is that I am highly honored and deeply appreciative of the President's confidence," he said of the nomination. "My future business will be to try to represent my country in Sweden to the best of my ability."

He is married to the former Mavis Barnett, and they have two daughters.

SCHLITZ MUST HAVE HIS SHADES — Schlitz, a fashion-minded dachshund owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Maloney of Falmouth, Mass., insists on sun glasses to go with his ski parka and mittens. The moment the Maloneys put on their own sun glasses, Schlitz barks until his "shades" are in place. Drawstring of hood helps take care of the droopy-ear problem. (AP Wirephoto)

Fatal Spacecraft Blaze Blamed On Electric Spark

By PAUL RECER

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Supervisors made no rigorous attempts to keep flammable materials out of the highly-volatile pure oxygen atmosphere of a space chamber, an Air Force Board investigating a fatal Jan. 31 fire reported Wednesday.

The board, reporting on its study of the oxygen atmosphere fire which killed two airmen in the space chamber at Brooks Air Force Base here, said "standard operating procedures did not exclude excessive flammable solid materials from being used routinely in experimental programs. . ."

The board found that "supervisory procedures were not rigorous to the point of demanding exclusion of all possible ignition sources from the chamber," and called for measures in the future to minimize use of such materials.

An electric spark from a wire with faulty insulation was found to be the ignition source of the fire, the board said.

The blaze was similar to the Jan. 27 fire which killed the Apollo I crew in the space cabin at Cape Kennedy. Both fires occurred in pure oxygen atmospheres.

Airman 3.C. Richard A. Harmon, 21, Auburn, N.Y. and Airman 3.C. William F. Bartley Jr., 20, of Indianapolis, were fatally burned in the fire here. They were doing routine maintenance of rabbits caged inside the space cabin simulator. The rabbits were being used in an experiment using an atmosphere of concentrated oxygen.

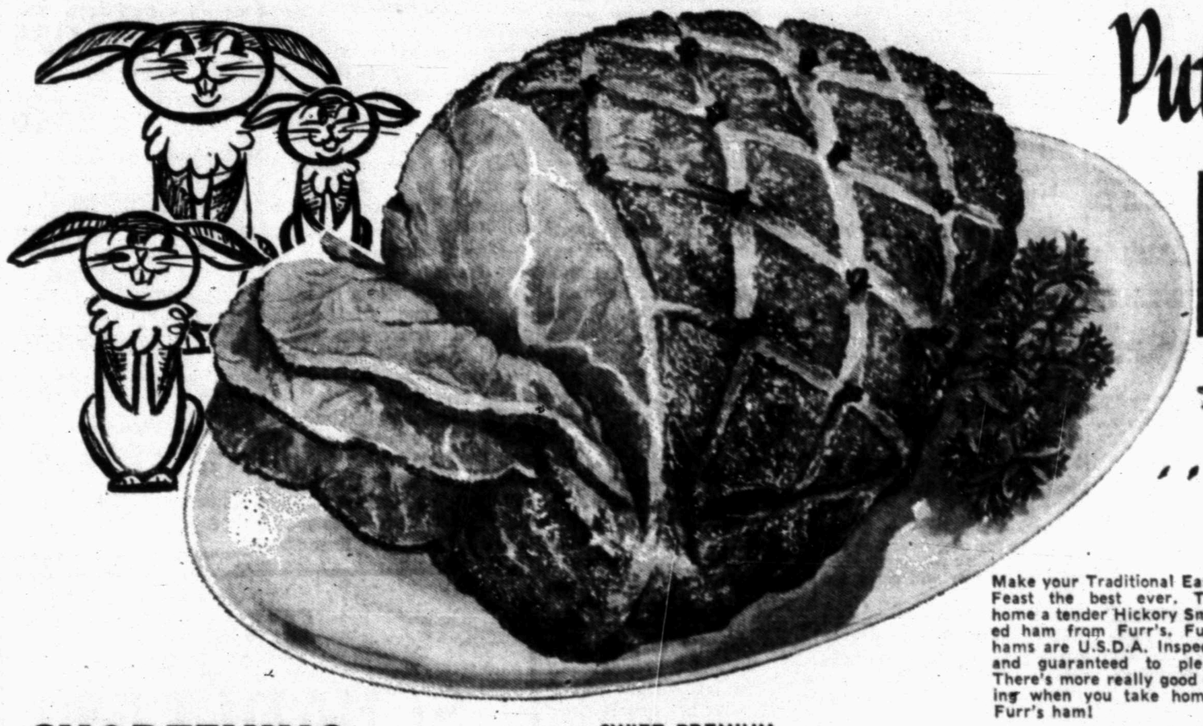

While calling for rigorous efforts to minimize use of flammable materials in future experiments, the board, however, said that "complete exclusion of all flammable materials and all ignition sources is unrealistic. To take such measures. . .would preclude further investigation of the physiologic response to high oxygen concentrations."

Pension Systems Under Scrutiny

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As was bound to happen eventually to any bundle of money weighing $90 billion, the nation's private pension systems are coming under increasing scrutiny from Congress.

As a result, everyone from unions to the National Association of Manufacturers is betting that these funds, now largely unregulated, will come under more and more federal control.

The consensus ends abruptly, however. Some critics feel regulation is needed to prevent abuses that almost certainly coexist with such sizable funds. Others view control as more welfareism.

Congress' interest, as represented in bills introduced into both houses, is in setting minimum standards for the operation of these funds and with establishing governmental control so that the standards are enforced.

This pressure on Congress comes from various sources, including President Johnson, who feel these pension systems have grown to such an enormous size that the interests of workers must be protected.

As of now, the reserve funds of these private systems — trusteed by unions, corporations, life insurance companies, banks — total four times those of the Social Security system, which has reserves of $22 billion.

The pensions total is growing swiftly, having swelled from almost nothing in the early 1940s and having nearly tripled in the past 10 years or so. By 1970 it certainly will exceed $100 billion.

These private funds already receive incomes from their investments of $8 billion a year and pay out more than $3 billion to some three million beneficiaries.

However, these figures raise as much suspicion as praise. Too little is known of their significance because of a near absence of regulation, the stiffest federal requirement being the filing of an annual report.

This in effect makes the funds the greatest unregulated financial institution in the nation. And not only do they represent the security of the worker, but they also are a source of corporate financing and they exert an enormous influence on the price of stocks.

The questions now being asked as a guide to regulation are such as these:

—Where is this money being invested?

—Is the system properly funded so as to insure each member the retirement pay he is promised?

—Should individual funds be tax exempt?

One measure sought by legislation is to make trustees and managers responsible under federal law should they be negligent in the investment of money they receive.

"The game is politics and the stake is everybody's future," says the NAM.

As viewed by that organization, the present federal interest in the private plans is tied into a desire to "integarte" these systems into Social Security.

In turn, the NAM feels, Social Security may become the substitute for welfare, which reportedly has acquired a bad image and needs a new name.

Budget Cutters Study Finances

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Their ranks swollen by last year's elections, House budget-cutters have indicated in the first test vote this year that President Johnson's domestic programs face real trouble.

They showed considerable muscle Wednesday as the House passed and sent to the Senate the first of a series of appropriations bills financing domestic programs for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The action came on the eve of recess by the House and Senate for a 10-day Easter vacation. The legislators were to meet briefly today — with no major action scheduled — and won't return until April 3.

The appropriations bill carried $7.5 billion for the Treasury and Post Office departments and the executive office of the President. Since it finances the jobs of thousands of mail carriers and other postal employes, it is one of the most difficult to cut.

Yet it reached the House floor trimmed $112 million below the President's request. And, with almost solid Republican backing, the House chopped out another $2.4 million earmarked for more postal field employes and more personnel for the office of the Treasury secretary.

More significantly, the budget-cutters came much closer than in any recent year to imposing an across the board reduction in spending next year for activities financed in the bill.

One of the items is the President's salary and allowances of $150,000.

The over-all cut, proposed by Rep. Charles R. Jones, R-N.C., and supported by most Republicans, would have in essence trimmed spending next year 5 per cent from amounts set out in the President's budget.

Jonas estimated the saving at $109 million.

Jonas' amendment lost 217 to 168, with 153 Republicans and 15 Democrats supporting it and 198 Democrats and 19 Republicans opposed.

Earlier, in the day, Republican leaders set a goal of $5 billion to $6 billion in spending reductions for next year and singled out such things as rent subsidies, the war on poverty, the Teachers Corps and some phases of the foreign-aid program as potential targets.

In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's renewed call for cutbacks in U.S. troops levels in Europe drew support from freshman Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill.

Percy said, "It's time we ad just our position in Europe to the changing facts of life," and cited lessened East-West tension, a stronger European ecgnomy and the U.S. balance of payments deficit.

Cisco School On Pecan Budding Set

EASTLAND — The 14th annual Eastland County Pecan Budding and Grafting School will be held at Cisco April 14, according to DeMarquis Gordon, county agricultural agent.

The school will be sponsored by the agent, the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association. The morning session will be held in the cafeteria at the Cisco Junior College. It will begin at 9 a.m. and will be devoted to lectures and demonstrations on budding and grafting. After lunch the afternoon practice session will be at the B. T. Graham orchard, one mile west of town on the old Abilene highway.

J. M. Cooper, former county agent, who orignated the school several years ago will be the instructor. Cooper is the president of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association. In the past years more than 1,000 people from over central and west Texas have learned the basic fundamentals of pecan propagation at one of these schools.

A supply of dormant budwood of some of the new pecan varieties including the Choctaw, Apache, Wichita and Comanche as well as others will be available. Also a supply of the two bladed budding knives and plastic budding tape will be available.

Out of the county residents including both men and women are welcome to attend the school. There is no charge as the school is free, according to County Agent Gordon.

VARIETY OF GIRLWATCHERS — Twiggy, 17, queen of London fashion models, and Yvonne D'Angers, a topless dancer in San Francisco, were both in New York for personal appearances. And their appearances are quite disparate. Twiggy measures 31-23-32 and says: "I'm thin . . . spindly legs." Court Hands 'Bama Officials Burden Of Enforcing Rule

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An unprecedented federal court decision has placed the burden of enforcing desegregation of 99 Alabama school systems on state officials.

An indication of how state officials will react may come during a statewide radio and television address by Gov. Lurlee Wallace, according to a source close to the governor. Thus far, however, there has been no comment from the governor's office or state school officials on Wednesday's ruling.

The source said Mrs. Wallace's address will probably take place in the near future and may be the "most important and historic speech ever made by a governor in modern times." It was not specified, but the address is expected to deal with the court's order for statewide school desegregation.

A member of the State Board of Education said the decision means "HEW(the Department of Health, Education and Welfare) is out of it now."

Ed Dannelly of Andalusia said the most important factor is that "now we'll be dealing with judges and not a bunch of (federal) bureaucrats. I think the whole school system will be better off under a federal judge who perhaps can interpret the Civil Rights Act of 1964."

The three judges unanimously ordered the state to require the 99 systems not under previous court orders to submit desegregation plans for the term beginning this fall. Albama has 118 school systems.

The decree is the first to call for statewide, state-enforced school desegregation.

Alabama's governor and state education officials were told to "take affirmative action to disestablish all state enforced or encouraged public school segregation."

The court said, "The defendant state officials have engaged in a wide range of activities to maintain segregated public education throughout the state."

To provide a remedy for Negro complainants, the only effective means according to the court is "a uniform statewide plan for school desegregation made applicable to each local county and city system not already under court order to desegregate."

Florist Firm Is Almost Destroyed

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A roaring fire that quickly went to five alarms virtually destroyed a wholesale florist firm in North Dallas Wednesday night.

Fire department officials estimated damage around $200,000.

A police dispatcher said a "secondary explosion" occurred during the fire's rampage through the plant of the San Lorenzo Co.

Dallas Plans Bigger Park

DALLAS (AP) — The head man of the State Fair of Texas envisions a 700-acre park area rivaling New York's Central Park and with enough parking space for 75,000 people to gain easy access to the Cotton Bowl.

Robert B. Cullum, chairman of the fair's board of directors, said in a speech to Dallas business and civic leaders Wednesday that plans have been made to expand Fair Park from 200 acres to 700 and a new Cotton Bowl, costing $29 million would be built south of the present stadium.

If the plan is approved by the city and voters authorize the bonds, he said the project in its first phase would provide 11,000 parking places within 12 minutes walking distance of the new stadium. The number eventually would be increased to 23,000 parking places.

Permian Basin Tired Of Waiting For 4-Year College

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Odessa-Midland residents are tired of waiting for a four-year college, Rep. Ace Pickens, Odessa, told the House Education Committee Wednesdey night.

"We were told to wait in 1961 by the State Affairs Committee, we were told to wait in 1963 by the legislature, we were told to wait in 1965 by the governor and we were told to wait in 1967 by the coordinating board . . . we are tired of waiting," Pickens said.

That ended the testimony by three representatives of a 40-member delegation favoring a bill to authorize a college between Midland and Odessa, and Rep. Maurice Pipkin, Brownsville, committee chairman, asked: "Is there anyone to testify against the proposal?"

"They wouldn't dare," cracked a committee member.

The bill, which would qualify the Permian Basin for a regional college district, was sent to a subcommittee.

"There should be no question in your minds of the ability of the basin to support such an institution," said Dr. Jack Rogers, president of Odessa College, a two-year school.

Rogers said the Odessa school had grown from 184 students and 7 teachers in 1946 to 2,523 students and 104 teachers in 1966, and added that Midland County already has approved $2.5 million for future development of a four-year school.

John Woodward, co-chairman of the Permain Basin Committee for a Four-Year College, said the Midland-Odessa area is the only metropolitan area in the state without a four-year college within 100 miles.

He said the college is needed because the cost of attending four-year schools outside the basin often prohibits students from attending college and because there is a shortage of trained technical personnel in the area.

"The shortage of technical people has, in some instances, curtailed industrial growth and kept industry out of the area," said Charles Perry, member of the Odessa college regents. "Most engineers insist on locating where there is a four-year college so they can get an extra degree.

"The chemical engineers of West Texas—and I'm sure the other engineers feel the same way—feel higher education is essential for the growth of process industries."

There've been some changes made

There was a time when our telephone operators wore "floor duster" dresses and sat on high wooden stools. Not so today.

New equipment and new work techniques have revolutionized the familiar world of "Number, please." And the operating room of the future incorporates the most dramatic and far-reaching changes ever. In these new rooms, there are no plugs, cords or jacks. Instead of being lined up along a multi-position switchboard, operators sit at desk-like consoles widely spaced through the room. Everything is bright and modern.

Already operational in a few Southwestern Bell cities, these newest operating rooms represent more than a change in looks. The new consoles make many new services possible. Customers can dial person-to-person, credit card and collect Long Distance calls. Service is faster and more efficient.

More and more of these new consoles will be installed as time goes by. But despite the changes in equipment and techniques, one thing will remain the same. Our operators will still be dedicated to giving the best possible service to our customers. The "voice with a smile" is as important and meaningful as ever.

Some things just don't need changing.
