Russia Is Said Ready For War With Japanese

SOVIET DICTATOR GIVES FRANK INTERVIEW TO ROY HOWARD; SAYS NATION IS READY, IF NECESSARY TO AID OUTER MONGOLIA

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 4—Russia under Joseph Stalin is ready to war with Japan if necessary to preserve Outer Mongolia's independence, the Soviet dictator said in an interview given Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of Scripps-Howard newspapers, and published today under a world copyright by the New York World-Telegram.

"If Japan ventures to attack the Mongolian peoples' republic and seeks to destroy its independence, we have to be able to help that republic," Howard quoted Stalin as saying in reply to a direct question.

The interview was held in Stalin's office in the Kremlin, in Moscow, and lasted for three hours, in which the soft spoken Soviet leader discussed the Far East situation, particularly the war threat, the possibility of war in central Europe, and Soviet-American relations.

"Neutral military observers believe Japan is seeking to drive a wedge into Outer Mongolia by way of Manchoukuo, intended to block off assistance for the Soviet by way of China proper in the event of war," Howard commented.

Would Be In Advantageous Spot

"With possession of Ulan Bator, the capital of Outer Mongolia, the Japanese air forces would be in an advantageous position to threaten the Trans-Siberian line at one of its most vulnerable points."

"Would a Japanese attempt to seize Ulan Bator make positive action by the Soviet union necessary?" Stalin was asked.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Have recent events developed any new Japanese activities in this region which have been construed

TWO KILLED AS CAR PLUNGES OFF BRIDGE

AUTOMOBILE HURTLED 120 FEET IN RED RIVER WASHOUT

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Mar. 4—A washout in the interstate bridge across Red River, north of Burkburnett, Wednesday morning took its sixth life since the floods which carried the bridge away in May 1935, when a car hurtled across the 120-foot gap and crashed against the underpinning of the bridge.

Thomas Harrell and Miss Vera Hand were the two victims.

Harrell lived in Wichita Falls and was employed by the National Biscuit company. He moved here about four years ago from Waco.

Was On WPA Roll

Miss Hand had been living in Wichita Falls since last December when she moved here from Iowa Park. She was registered on the WPA roll.

Harrell, about 26, was married. His wife was visiting relatives in Waco at the time of his death. Besides his wife he is survived by his father, J. Harrell, a Waco grocer.

Body Thrown Clear

When the wrecked machine was found at 7 o'clock this morning Harrell's body was approximately 20 feet from the car and was lying in the shallow water of the river bed. The body of Miss Hand was in the automobile, under the steering wheel in the driver's position.

The car had jumped the gap of 120 feet without having touched the river bottom, according to officers who investigated the wreck. The accident was discovered by an Oklahoma produce truck driver who notified Burkburnett officials. The bodies were taken in charge by a Burkburnett undertaker.

DEATH PENALTIES UPHELD BY COURT

AUSTIN, Mar. 4. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the death penalty conviction of Aria Tance in Harris county and denied a rehearing for Willie Green, under death sentence from Liberty county.

Both men, negroes, were convicted of murder. Green's sentence was affirmed by the court Jan. 22.

Tance, 28, was convicted of murder in the death of S. M. Roberts, 73, Houston compress night watchman, Feb. 12, 1935, who was slugged with an iron pipe. Tance said in a statement that he intended to rob the nightwatchman. A pistol and a watch were taken.

Green was convicted on circumstantial evidence in the killing of Lee Atkins, Aug. 22, 1934. Atkins was shot through a screen window at his tenant farm home near Liberty. Green claimed he knew nothing of the shooting.

JAPAN POST IS STILL VACANT

PREMIER'S SELECTION IS STILL IN HANDS OF THE EMPEROR

BY GLENN BABB

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

TOKYO, March 4—The aristocratic Prince Konoye declined today an opportunity to become Japan's youngest premier, sending Emperor Hirohito and his advisers on a new search for a man who will be able to head the government in its crisis.

Indications from the imperial palace tonight were that the aged Prince Saionji, having advised the nomination of Prince Konoye unsuccessfully, would not make another attempt to find a new premier before tomorrow.

The capital became greatly excited upon the announcement that Prince Konoye, popular with virtually all elements, had been summoned to the palace and commanded to form a cabinet to replace that of Premier Keisuke Okada, which was shattered by last week's militarist rebellion and assassinations.

Merit System Is In Effect At Prison

HOUSTON, March 4 (AP)—A scientific classification and merit system for convicts was in the installation stage at the Texas prison today.

The prison board, after a long-time study of possible segregation and rehabilitation programs, adopted the classification plan advocated by Frank Loveland, former Massachusetts prison criminologist.

Rockerfellow foundation funds will support the work until Sept. 1, 1937.

Officials said many convicts would be given the opportunity to shorten sentences and otherwise receive credit under a merit system.

Four Charged In Slaying Of McBee

EASTLAND, Mar. 4. (AP)—Four persons were under murder indictments today in connection with the slaying of H. L. McBee, highway department employe, at Rising Star in 1933.

Raymond Henry and wife, Della, indicted in the case soon after a skeleton identified as that of McBee was found near Rising Star, were re-indicted and their bonds set at $6,000 and $3,000, respectively. Others indicted were Jack and Lynn Smith, brothers, who formerly lived at Rising Star but moved to Joshua in Johnson county.

Transfer Of Fish's Heart Is Reported

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—The successful transfer of a living heart from one fish's body into another was described today at George Washington university by Professor George Bain Jenkins.

He told of keeping transplanted hearts living in embryos of sea minnows for from eight to ten days.

The achievement resulted from three years' of effort by Dr. Jenkins and Professor F. J. Brinley of the North Dakota Agricultural college.

Movie Lioness Is Felled By Bullet Of Prospector

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Mar. 4. (AP)—Spunky, famed movie lioness that had the star animal role in the picture "Sequoia," is dead.

The six-year-old puma fell victim yesterday to a bullet from the rifle of a prospector who expected to collect the $80 bounty the state of California pays for the hide of a mountain lion.

Spunky was valued by her owner, Rennie Renfro, at $10,000.

The puma had been in the Kernville camp of a movie company making a picture. Yesterday she broke from the camp and headed for the rugged mountain country to the east. Members of the movie crew paid no attention to her departure, for she always came back. A short time later a shot was heard.

AWAIT REPLY ON PROPOSAL FOR PEACE

ITALY'S ANSWER IS TO DETERMINE ACTION BY LEAGUE GROUP

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
Associated Press Foreign Staff

GENEVA, Mar. 4—The League of Nations strengthened its threat of sanctions against Italy today while awaiting a reply from Italy and Ethiopia to the conciliation committee's plea for East African peace.

The sanctions committee of 18 assembled to instruct its technical committee to proceed with a drafting of a detailed plan for enforcement of an oil embargo, to have it ready in the event that the campaign for conciliation failed.

Whether the oil embargo plans ever would be used, league sources said, depended primarily on Premier Mussolini's answer to the league appeal for immediate opening of negotiations for an end to hostilities and a definite East African settlement.

One member of the sanctions committee expressed the opinion privately that the oil embargo died automatically when the conciliation committee of 13 issued its new peace

STRIKE MAY BE CITY-WIDE

LABOR LEADERS TODAY WERE THREATENING TO EXTEND BAN

BY TAYLOR HENRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—On the heels of a clash between police and an unofficially estimated crowd of 5,000 strike sympathizers, a federal government official intervened today in an effort to halt the walkout which has seriously crippled service in hundreds of New York's office and apartment buildings.

MAY BE NATION-WIDE

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—A threat of a nation-wide strike of building service employes was added today to indications by strike leaders that the walk-out of building workers in New York might be extended to other labor fields.

George Scalise, international vice president of the Building Service Employes union, announced receipt from international headquarters of the organization in Chicago of the following telegram:

"If necessary, and at your discretion, we will call out every building service employe in the United States."

At almost the same time labor leaders were threatening to turn the already-widespread walkout into a city-wide strike.

The clash between the strike sympathizers and police broke out on fashionable Park avenue shortly after a mass meeting of strikers heard James J. Bambrick, local president of the International Building Service Employes' union shout:

"If they don't come across by Wednesday, we're going to give the order to tear down the entire town."

He was referring to owners of the buildings who have refused to accede to the strikers' demands.

"Your president is ready to call a general strike that will paralyze New York," Bambrick said.

This was the signal for workmen to lower the sluiceway gates, blocking the eight openings in the dam through which waters of the Clinch river have been running.

As the waters began backing up to form the 34,200-acre reservoir, the program was to open with speeches by A. E. Morgan, David Lilienthal and H. A. Morgan, TVA directors, and others.

LONDON, March 4 (AP)—The little Count Haugwitz-Reventlow, already known as the world's richest baby, may also be the world's most costly baby, an authoritative source said today.

His mother, the former Barbara Hutton who is now pronounced well on the road to recovery after complications followed the birth of her first child, is likely to pay about $6,000 in doctor's fees for him, this source said — but will have an opportunity to contribute $600,000 more to hospital charities as a thanks offering.

QUICK VOTE ON BILL SOUGHT

NORRIS' FARM POWER MEASURE EXPECTED TO BE PASSED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4—Senator Norris (R-Neb) set out today to get quick action on his farm power bill now calling for expenditure of $420,000,000 over a 10-year period.

Trimmed down in a conference from the initial billion dollar estimate, the bill to help provide electricity for rural consumers was not expected by its author to meet much opposition.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), however, attacked a proposal to obtain the first two years' allotment from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, rather than by direct appropriation. Vandenberg, who says congress should control such allotments, called the proposal "more of the black magic."

Compromise Reached

Compromise on the amount to be spent was reached yesterday after a conference between Norris and administration officials.

The president expressed satisfaction with the modified bill. It now would provide $50,000,000 a year for the first two years, and for the remaining eight years a $40,000,000 annual expenditure would be permitted. The original plan called for $100,000,000 annually for ten years.

Black Cloud Turns Out To Be All Ants

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Mar. 4. (AP)—A great, black cloud appeared suddenly and ominously over the Malibu Hills Tuesday.

It swirled as if driven by the breeze, and it lay like a smothering smoke pall over the land.

Assistant County Fire Warden Al Weinert saw the cloud from his lookout tower. He flashed the alarm.

A fire crew hurried to the scene —and found a cloud of flying ants, billions of them.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED ON PROCEDURE

COURT IS TO NAME A COMMISSION TO STUDY CASE

Trial of the municipal gas bonds election contest case in 99th district court was halted at noon today as attorneys for both sides and Judge Clark M. Mullican reached an agreement to provide for a change in procedure.

Appointment of a court commission to "rehash" the Oct. 3 gas bonds election will be made this afternoon, it was indicated.

Unclear Records Seen

The action was taken when it appeared that, because of complications which have arisen since the trial was started Monday, several more days would be required for the presentation of additional testimony and at the conclusion the records would not be clear.

Three members likely will be appointed to the commission, which will work under directions of the court in checking the entire poll list of 1,576 voters against property rendition sheets of the city, and other records. The commission will

DUST BLOWS IN NEW MEXICO

WORST STORM OF YEAR IS REPORTED TODAY OVER WIDE AREA

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 4—The worst dust storm of 1936 struck eastern New Mexico suddenly today sand-blasting the cities of Tucumcari, Clovis and Roswell and hanging a heavy black pall over the Plains region and the Pecos valley.

The duster, the U. S. Weather bureau reported at Albuquerque, gave evidence of becoming as severe as those which scoured that area, taking a heavy toll of crop and property damage, last year.

No immediate relief is in sight, the weather bureau said, predicting the high northeast winds, which swept in from Kansas and Oklahoma, would extend before nightfall across the western section of the state.

The storm apparently centered at Clovis, where visibility was reported reduced to about two blocks at 8 a. m. It moved in on Roswell, cutting visibility to half a mile, after an overhanging pall had foreshadowed its approach early in the morning.

At Tucumcari, the weather bureau reported visibility of two miles, with a 27-mile wind whipping up new clouds. The storm apparently had spent its strength in most of the Texas Panhandle, Amarillo reported only a one-mile wind, although a heavy dust pall remained.

Renewed Talk Of Coalition Heard

NEW YORKER DECLARES THERE IS MERIT IN THE SUGGESTION

BY LEONARD B. SHUBERT
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4. (AP)—Renewed Republican talk of a coalition with anti-administration Democrats arose today on the New Deal's third anniversary.

Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman from New York, declared "there is much merit in the suggestion of utilizing in important roles thoroughly competent Democrats who are courageously resisting the president and his destructive doctrines."

Recalls Suggestion

Hilles' remark recalled a suggestion by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan in a Lincoln day speech. Vandenberg invited "Jeffersonian" Democrats to join Republicans against President Roosevelt during the campaign and "in the council chamber after next November's victory is won."

At the time Rep. Snell (R-NY), the minority leader, frowned upon that suggestion. Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee, said he had heard talk of a coalition but declined to discuss it.

Oppose Al Smith

Another political development discussed today was the appearance of eleventh hour opposition to Tammany's designation of Alfred E. Smith as a delegate to the Democratic convention—from which he has threatened to "take a walk" if the New Deal is endorsed.

Before filing time expired at midnight Joseph O'Neill, Staten Island lawyer, filed a petition nominating himself from the 11th New York congressional district. Smith and William A. Fetherston had been designated from that district, which embraces not only Staten Island, but part of lower Manhattan including Smith's old district. The opposition will be carried to the primary election.

Lull In Speech Making

So far as political speech-making is concerned, there was a lull yesterday and today. New Dealers were silent for the time being, while preparing addresses for future delivery. In the opposite camp one of the few speeches was given by Rep. Bilton (R-Ohio), who attacked the New Deal as "a reckless ride to ruin."

"Thoughtful men and women . . . are becoming aware that it is subversive to our form and theory of government," he said.

Supporters of Senator Borah (R-Ida) went on in New York with their fight to "liberalize" the Republican delegation to the national convention.

Mr. Stanley was formerly at El Paso. He has been with the Dallas Chamber of Commerce for over six years and holds an average of 50 2-day institute, such as the one he is conducting here, a year.

CONGRESS MAY CHANGE NEW PROPOSAL

WARRING CAMPS BEING FORMED; PROGRAM STUNS SOLONS

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4—Powerful Democrats hinted today that congress may make drastic changes in President Roosevelt's tax program, under which the government would dip into corporation profits and stockholders' dividends to pay a $620,000,000 annual bill for farm subsidies and the soldiers' bonus.

Congress swiftly divided into bitterly warring camps over the executive's call for his sweeping revision of the corporate tax structure.

Republicans Assail Plan

Some Republicans assailed the plan as an "assault on thrift" and a menace to business confidence; some Democrats also frowned on it.

New Dealers hailed it as a means to speed the velocity of money turnover, force "distribution of wealth" and hasten recovery.

Only A "Suggestion"

Administration leaders emphasized that the plan was only a "suggestion" to congress. As a seven-man house ways and means subcommittee gathered to discuss the proposal behind locked doors, there was much talk in congressional corridors of revisions in the program.

Congress was still somewhat stunned over the breadth of the proposal. The president suggested that present corporate income taxes and other related levies be wiped out. In their stead he would slap a drastic tax on profits which corporations hold in their treasuries as surplus instead of distributing as dividends.

Might Average Third

Administration advisers indicated this graduated tax might average 33 1-2 per cent. This, it is held, would tend to drive such funds into the hands of stockholders as dividends. (Stocks jumped $1 to $5 a share in New York yesterday

TREASURY OFFERING OVERSUBSCRIBED FROM FIVE TO SEVEN TIMES MONDAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—Secretary Morgenthau said today that the treasury's $1,250,000,000 March borrowing was over-subscribed from five to seven times.

While final figures have not been completed, he said, reports already received indicated the cash offering of bonds would run well over seven times the $650,000,000 asked. Subscriptions for the notes, of which $600,000,000 were offered, were well over five times that amount.

The bonds have a maturity of 12 to 15 years, and pay interest at the rate of 2 3-4 per cent. The notes have a maturity of 5 years, and pay 1 1-2 per cent.

Subscription books on the offering were opened last Monday and closed the same day.

Books will close Thursday night on the offer to exchange either the bonds or note for $559,000,000 of 2 7-8 per cent notes maturing April 15.

Three Hundred And Fifty Persons Hear Talented Miss Hortense Ragland Sing

Three hundred 50 guests of Lubbock Music club heard talented Hortense Ragland of New York City sing a program varying from grand opera to a torch song Tuesday night in the lounge of the women's residence hall at Texas Technological college. The young mezzo-soprano, whose appearance was received with enthusiasm, was accompanied at the piano by her former teacher, Miss Margaret Huff.

The artist wore a black evening dress that exposed beautifully shaped shoulders. Entirely at ease she won the instant approval of her audience with her graciousness in introducing Miss Lois Watson, who played violin obligato to one selection; in her explanations of her varied program, and in her delightful teasing of Miss Huff with "can you imagine Miss Huff playing a torch song?"

Massenet Is First

Her program was opened, appropriately enough, with Massenet's "Elegie," which with "Vale", a song of farewell by Russell and the aria, One Fine Day, from "Madam Butterfly" by Puccini showed excellent vocal training.

Her voice was especially pleasing in Johnny Green's "Body and Soul," a torch song and in Nevin's "The Rosary."

Other numbers were "La Rosita," a Spanish song by Du Pont; "Mah Lindy Lou" by Lilly Strickland, a tale of the love of a Southern negro for his sweetheart which was delivered in rich, Southern tones; "One Night of Love" by Schertizinger, and "I'll See You Again" by Noel Coward.

Promises Even More

Miss Ragland, an unusually attractive, auburn-haired woman, should have no fear of television in radio broadcasts. Her remarkable musicianship showed that she will demand attention in even wider circles than those at her command. She is known in broadcasts as Kay Foster.

The artist, in private life Mrs. John E. McInerney, with her young son, Jackie, is spending several weeks with her mother, Mrs. W. N. Woods.

Mrs. A. W. McKee, president of the host club, introduced Miss Ragland. Other club members were in the receiving line and in the house party.

Alderson Home Is Scene Of Program

Members of Lubbock circle, Child Conservation league, and guests heard a miscellaneous program of talks Tuesday afternoon in the W. G. Alderson home, 2222 Seventeenth street. Topics were:

The hostess served salad and coffee.

Special guests were Mesdames R. E. Ponce, Thomas E. Pirtle and H. B. Cannon. Members, other than those on the program, attending were Mesdames W. E. Boyd, Marlin R. Smith, jr., and Ethridge W. Eagan.

Seriously hurt several months ago, in an airplane accident at Troy, N. Y., Ruth Nichols, young society aviatrix, is up and around again in her New York home and predicts she soon will be back in a plane.

BRIGHT SPOTS

They're Simple!

BOSTON—A girl's marks at college have little to do with her possibilities as a wife, Mrs. Grace L. Elliott, who lectures to co-eds at Boston university, has found. To be good wives, Mrs. Elliott says, they must know the answers to these questions:

"How would you spend $1,000 if there were no strings attached?"

"If you could have one wish, what would you wish for?"

Off Again

COINJOCK, N. C.—The chain letter craze is still going strong hereabouts.

Only it hasn't to do with dimes or quarters, but quilt squares—those pieces of cloth with which "crazy" quilts are made.

The objects to get enough squares to make a home-made quilt, of course.

Still An Exile

BOSTON—The name of Roger Williams, now centuries dead, must bear the stigma of his expulsion from Massachusetts a little longer.

Gov. James M. Curley announced he will delay until May signing a bill formally revoking the sentence of expulsion passed by the Massachusetts Bay colony 300 years ago. The occasion then will be the governor's participation with Rhode Island in observing the tercentenary of the founding of the state by Williams.

Death Dodger Loses

DALLAS—A negro shot at Leonard Bowser, 21, saw him dodge to one side, then fall dead.

Examination failed to disclose a bullet wound. Physicians said Bowser's neck broke when he ducked.

Got Their Goat

CHELAN, Wash. — A field mouse family's home has gone to the animal hospital.

A group of school teachers said they found an injured goat on a lake shore near here. Taking advantage of the animal's inability to move, the field mice had built a nest in his wool.

Cheer Up

HUTCHINSON, Kas.—The next time you start complaining remember the Newells.

Last week H. B. Newell's hand was broken in an accident. Six days later Mrs. Newell suffered a stroke. The same afternoon daughter Kathleen broke an arm. Two days afterward son Boyd's automobile piled up against a tree. A leg and five ribs were broken.

Vitamin A more than a hundred times as potent as that in cod liver oil has been found in the liver of the halibut.

"MAIN EVENT" BOYS CARDED TONIGHT

MORAN-BOZINIS, TORRE AND SHARMAN; ESTES MEETS HADDOCK

Sled Allen considers himself fortunate in lining up half a dozen "main event" boys for his regular weekly mat show at the Auditorium tonight, and he vouches for an entertaining card.

Sailor Moran and Nick Bozinis are on the main event, Hy Sharman of Salt Lake City and Luis de la Torre of Mexico City on the special event, Dale Haddock of Detroit and Balk Estes of Elk City, Okla., on the curtain raiser.

The program begins at 8 o'clock, ticket prices remain the same and the big hall probably will be full.

Sailor Moran, the cunning, clever, rough-and-tumble ex-champion of the navy, may be the man to send Nick Bozinis on his way. Nick has been around several weeks now, winning a big majority of his matches. Entry of Sailor Moran into a grappling circuit usually is the signal for other top flighters to begin pulling stakes, but Nick stayed around and welcomed the opportunity of meeting the publicized ex-gob.

It should be a fast, rough match, yet including clever wrestling stunts as well as a variety of illegal punches.

Newcomer Is Popular

Hy Sharman, newcomer from Salt Lake City, comes well recommended. Dory Detton, most consistently popular fighter ever to hang around here, was one of the several wrestlers and promoters who recommended Sharman. Detton admits knowing from experience that Sharman is quite a lad. They worked together and against each other in the Mormon town. Sharman is one of the few who ever licked Jack Reynolds, but it was a non-title affair and Reynolds retained his welterweight championship.

Luis de la Torre, the spic and span Spaniard, is considered a tough enough foe for any newcomer, and if Sharman throws la Torre, he can qualify here.

Estes is the clean-looking, clean-fighting youngster who opposed Sailor Moran in the semi-final last week, holding the Arkansan to a draw.

SPRING TRAINING CAMP NOTES

(By The Associated Press)

CASEY GETS WORK OUT

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Casey Stengel is getting more exercise than his Dodgers, it would seem. With more than 20 pitchers in camp, including rookies, Casey hit more than 400 grounders to them with a fungoe bat, knocking down 20 for each one to field. This batting effort, along with his chatter, makes for a real afternoon's work.

LOU MISSES 'EM

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Lou Gehrig was anxious to get the hickory in his hands at the Yankee training camp today to see if he could do a little better in the way of giving the ball a ride than he did yesterday. Steven Sundra made Lou miss five successive balls that would have been called strikes in any league yesterday.

LEIBER STILL HOLDOUT

PENSACOLA, Fla. — Despite the fact that Manager Bill Terry was back in Memphis today, seeking to get his bum knee fixed up, there was no indication that the boys in the Giants camp would let up in their training activities. The gang is all together now, with the exception of Hank Leiber who hasn't even answered Terry's ultimatum.

LIST RUBBED OUT

SAN ANTONIO — The Pirates' hospital list is being rubbed out and Pie Traynor is glad. Hal Finney, out for a year with bad eyes, is on the way for a comeback as catcher while Aubrey Epps, also a catcher, seems to have recovered fully from a siege of pneumonia.

CROWDER HAS TROUBLE

LAKELAND — Alvin (General) Crowder is the first of the Tiger hurling staff to suffer wing trouble. The veteran, who showed up in camp minus his tonsils and ten pounds heavier, kinked his arm while trying for a double play in a scrub game.

HAAS LOOKS GOOD

PASADENA, Calif.—George Haas, veteran outfielder whose career appeared to be on the wane last season, has looked so good in training that he is expected to start the season in centerfield for the Chicago White Sox Recovered from injuries, he has been setting the pace in hitting drills.

SAYS HE'LL OPEN

ORLANDO, Fla. — Buck Newsom, in top pre-season form and smoking them over when Manager Bucky Harris isn't looking, has been telling the lads around camp he will pitch the season opener April 13. Bucky hasn't heard him. Earl Whitehill will argue the point with Newsom.

OLD DIZ ARRIVES

BRADENTON, Fla. — A big yellow automobile shot over the Manatee river bridge, its loud horn blasting.

Dizzy Dean, accompanied by his wife, stepped out.

"I'll be around a few days, so if the officials of the Cardinals want to talk to me about a contract they can look me up," announced this prize holdout who shouted from a vantage point in Dallas a few days ago that he was going to get $40,000 this year or go into the furniture business.

GOAT GETTERS ..... BY ART KRENZ

SPORTOGRAPHER by COLLIER PARRIS

NICK BOZINIS asks the indulgence of local mat fandom for yet another night. He's on the main tonight with Sailor Moran. Sailor Moran doesn't ask for anything, doesn't give a hoot. Nor does he put out anything—in the way of mercy or calling cards.

But Nick is more conscientious. He's just about as popular, in the ring, as Sailor Moran, who is popular like the villain in any other drama. They're both a lot smarter than they get credit for being. The Sailor, for instance, can talk a blue streak, when you get him wound up, about this, that and anything, escpecially boxing and wrestling. (He was a boxer before he was a rassler). Nick can talk, too, and does, but he's a lot harder to understand.

The Bozinis is a queer sort of a Greek. Friendly and accommodating like most of his fellow countrymen, only more so. Wrestling is his religion. To see him up there in the arena and not know him elsewhere, one would think he just lives between gongs, enters the ring only to make cake and coffee shekels. But Nick isn't through wrestling when the match is over.

Offhand, you wouldn't think a wrestler cared much about his body and the advantages of keeping limbs and torso together. But most of them are quite proud of the physical house they live in, and they train more courageously and conscientiously than any other branch of athletes. Nick is one of the most consistent trainer of all. Sheik Mar Allah was another great trainer. The Masked Marvel another. Others go in for plenty of workout, but these three really take their training seriously.

Bozinis, for instance, is a great believer in road work. He does from 10 to 20 miles each day, running and walking. He takes other exercises, too, for particular muscles. But on days he doesn't wrestle you might see him ten or twelve miles from town, trotting one way or the other.

He galloped over to Idalou the other day. A bunch of the fans over there recognized him, surrounded him, started asking questions about wrestling. Several of the fans got to guessing at his weight. A few wagers were laid. They guessed anywhere from 175 to 190 pounds. Nick asked for a pair of scales, stripped down to trunks and sox, stepped on the approved scales. The idicator stopped at 168. That was early in the week. Nick hadn't wrestled in several days. He'll weigh in at 165 or 166 tonight, because he's had more road work, and he won't eat today until after the match. Most of the rasslers in this circuit cut their fighting weight to approximately 165 pounds on the night of the fight, although they may tip the scale at 170 or more on off days.

We've heard a lot of criticism around the ringside when Promoter Allen announces the weights. The weights he announces are taken from the wrestler's doctor's certificate, and the certificates are given the wrestlers at the doc's office a few hours, sometimes a few minutes, before gong time. A wrestler must have a new certificate every time he works.

Wrestlers look big when they're in the ring, especially to ringsiders and first row bleacher fans, because these fans are looking "up" at the athletes, getting the wrong perspective, or something. Look at them on the floor, stand up by one of them sometime, or try sitting in the bleachers. They look pretty small from those angles. Weights will fool you, anyway. Sometimes wrestlers are contrasts for size, but weights will be nearly the same. Compare them with Tech football players who attend the matches. Few of the wrestlers in this circuit would be considered by Coach Pete Cawthon as candidates for his team. They're all about the size of Captain Walker Nichols, the watch-charm guard who wouldn't be run off.

Or, better still, if you don't agree with Promoter Allen's weight announcements, just ask one of the gladiators to accompany you to the nearest scales. He'll gladly accommodate you.

But we were talking about Bozinis. One of his favorite stunts is "bridging." You "bridge" when you put all your weight on the back of your head and your feet or hips, just so you keep your shoulders off the mat. Bozinis is an artist at this. Not only is he one of the best "bridgers" in the business — Jack Van Bebber is a good one —but he can come to a standing pose from a bridge, more often than not bearing up the upper body weight of his opponent.

They were talking about this over at Idalou. There was a youngster in the crowd who looked heavier than the rest. "How much you weigh, Mister?" ask Nick. "Only 297," replied the subject, and it was proven. "I'll try to bridge and hold your weight, but I won't guarantee it," said Iron Man Bozinis. So he lay on his back, the 297-pounder climbed aboard, and Nick "bridged."

There is other wrestling tonight besides the Bozinis-Moran match. In fact, it's an all-star card, with main eventers in every spot. This newcomer, Hy Sharman, is supposed to be quite the berries, another Dory Detton maybe. Anyway, Dory said he was good, and he ought to know. Sharman mixes with the spiffy Spaniard, Luis de la Torre, who should give Mr. Hy a good test. Couple of good boys in the preliminary, too. Dale Haddock and Balk Estes. Estes being the nifty number in the semi-final with Sailor Moran last week. Haddock being the Detroiter who almost, but not quite, licked Bozinis in the main last Wednesday night.

TRIBE IN HEAP BIG TOUGH SITUATION

NIEHOFF NEEDS THREE OR MORE GOOD MEN TO OPEN SEASON

BY CHARLES SAULSBERRY
Sports Editor, Oklahoma City Times

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 4 (AP)—"Humph! Heap big tough spot!"

It's a guttural grunt from Chief Make - Em - Run - Think - Fast, an adopted warrior who led the Indians of Oklahoma City in wholesale devilry last summer.

His paleface title is Manager Bert Niehoff, a handle by which the Texas league and its Southern association rivals know him as skipper of the Dixie champions.

Shoot From Trees

"Ugh! Palefaces shoot from trees! Need 'em pitcher! Need 'em catcher! Need 'em outfielder!"

The big chief's gruntings summarize the general condition of the Tribe as it goes on the Texas league warpath. What the war council of Jack Holland, Jack Humphries and Niehoff need most to have a fair shot at repeating as the Texas league pennant winners are replacements for the eccentric Russell (Red) Evans and the loose-jointed John Niggeling. Evans is now with the Chicago White Sox and Niggeling with the Kansas City Blues.

Expect Hurler From Chicago

The three worthies left, Southpaws Jack Brillheart and Fred Stiely and Righthander Eddie Marleau, are a solid enough foundation for what building Niehoff may do with the rookies, who are the only new acquisitions. The Indians expect a pitcher from Chicago in the Evans deal.

Of the recruits, Hugo Klaerner, righthander from Longview of the old West Dixie league, boasts the most experience. His three years of stowing away victuals at the better and worse training tables of various baseball hostelries, has included a cup of coffee with the White Sox, Oadis Swigart, a farm chattel who righthanded successfully for Jackson, Miss., is another lad with professional experience.

Wants Good Hitter

The same infield and outfield that finished the last season are back, but Niehoff would like to get a more consistent righthanded hitter in lineup somewhere.

Billy Bancroft, second baseman sold to Fort Worth, left in mid-August when the Tribe was in the heat of the pennant fight, taking over coaching of the Howard college eleven that tied Alabama. The Indians kept right on winning with Del Young, acquired from the New York-Pennsylvania league, in his place.

To Have Fine Defense

The steadying influence of Lou Brower at Shortstop, the improvement Joe Bilgere is expected to show at third following an appendicitis operation and Jim Keesey's plugging at first will give the Tribe the finest defensive inner works in the league if Young fills the bill.

Likewise, Roy Myers, 20-year-old sandlot fielding sensation who made good last year, is expected to "make" the outfield. Ray Flood, right fielder, and "Pound 'Em Paul" Easterling, left fielder, are back but Carl Beason, most valuable player in the Oklahoma state sandlot tournament, may make one of them hustle for a job.

Jack Fitzpatrick is the only veteran on a catching staff of five which includes Albert McNulty, Oklahoma sandlot prospect. Carl Kott may solve the outfield quandry, except that Niehoff likes him as a general utility man.

The complete squad will be at Shreveport by March 16 for spring training.

Hillbillies Defeat Kangaroos, 68-33

BROWNWOOD, March 4 (AP)—The Daniel Baker Hillbillies defeated the Austin college Kangaroos, 68 to 33, last night to remain in the Texas conference basketball title race.

It was the Billies' eighth victory in ten starts and the top-heavy score set a season's record in the conference.

The winners led all the way and held a 29-18 advantage at the intermission. Davenport of Daniel Baker, conference scoring leader, copped individual honors with 26 points, which also was a record for the season. Winfrey accounted for 11 of the Kangaroos' points.

ABILENE, March 4 (AP)—The Abilene Christian college Wildcats closed their basketball season last night with a 55 to 26 victory over the McMurry Indians in a Texas conference game.

Mangin Termed Friend Of The Sheep Raisers; Uses 48 Racquets A Year

THIRTY SHEEP TO ONE STRING; NEEDS TEN THOUSAND A YEAR

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 4—It takes 10,000 sheep a year to keep Gregory Mangin in tennis racquets.

Mangin, three times winner of the National Indoor tennis championship and seeker after his fourth title, is the game's most prolific racquet consumer and that's why the sheep raisers profit.

30 Sheep To One String.

The Newark, N. J., champion uses an average of 48 racquets a year and usually has each restrung twice. It takes 30 sheep to provide the gut for one string and two strings are required for each tennis bat. As a matter of simple mathematics that means about 10,000 sheep for one player.

Delving further into statistical matters, Mangin's racquets, frame and stringing, cost him $11.50 each. That amounts to $552 a year. With each restringing at $6.50, the work of fixing up those 48 racquets cost $6.24 more for a grand total of $1,176.

Needs Hard Surface

"There's a reason for it," explained Stephen J. Feron, jr., who has the task of keeping Mangin supplied. "Greg requires that the gut be strung tighter than any other player because he says he needs a hard surface to bring off volleys at the net."

Dr. Eugene McCauliff of Chicago can explain the effect of the tight stringing, plus Mangin's ability to swing one of his numerous racquets with deadly effect. McCaulifff met the sheep raisers' friend yesterday when Mangin was at the very peak of his game and lost 6-2, 6-2.

Today's championship program was given over to men's and women's doubles. Singles quarter finals in both divisions will be played tomorrow.

TOP ROW, TIME SUPPLY MAY RUN IN TEXAS SPRING MEETING

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 4—Racing interest in Texas centered today on prospects for a race at the Arlington Downs spring meeting between Top Row and Time Supply, first and second place winners, respectively, of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap.

Frank A. Carreaud, owner of Time Supply, has notified Trav Daniels, resident manager at Arlington, that he plans to ship 14 horses to the Texas track next week and that he "will enter Time Supply against Top Row if A. A. Baroni accepts."

Daniels said that if the two turf stars are entered they will run in the $10,000 Fort Worth handicap April 12.

Anton Tourney In 2nd Round Tonight

ANTON, March 4 (Special)—With three other teams, Texas Tech freshmen, coached by Aubrey Butts, advanced through first round games in the Anton independent team basketball tournament last night. The Anton Independents, Clausen's Pharmacy of Anton and the Spade team also advanced.

The Tech Picadors, coached by Audrey Butts, showed a fine defensive game and a hot-shot goal shooter to defeat Sudan, 31 to 24. Elmer Tarbox scored 21 points to lead all individual scorers the first day. Curry and McWhorter played good defensive games.

Anton's tall Independents, averaging better than 6 feet high, defeated Ropesville, equally tall timbered team, 29 to 25, in an exciting game. Bob Rich led Anton with 6 points, Jackson led Ropesville with 9.

Clausen's Pharmacy team won from Pettit, 35 to 7, in the most one-sided game. Gerron, six-six forward, led the scoring with 15 points.

Spade won by forfeit from the Lubbock Independents, who failed to show up.

The schedule for tonight: 7 o'clock—Sudan vs. Slaton; 8 o'clock—Spade vs. Littlefield; 9 o'clock—Clausen's Pharmacy vs. Shallowater; 10 o'clock—Ropesville vs. Levelland. The tournament ends Friday night.

TEXAS SWIMMERS WIN

LAWRENCE, Kas., March 4 (AP)—University of Texas swimmers won a dual meet from the University of Kansas here last night, 59 to 24. New Robinson gymnasium pool records were set in the 400-yard relay, 200-yard dash and 220-yard free style.

To keep good time, the interval between ticks of a watch must not vary more than 1-86,000th of a second.

Steam-Heated Golf Course

A golf course such as the one at Rotorua, on the north island of New Zealand, would be held in esteem by golfers in the northern part of the United States and Canada. The reason is that it is steam-heated. Underground springs and boiling mudholes furnish the steam, which is ejected through stone cairns. Two of them are shown here offering hazards to the shot maker.

CARDS' "SILENT TREATMENT" MAY WORK

"COMPROMISE" FOR 25 GRAND IS SEEN BY SPORTS WRITER

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Mar. 4. (AP)—The Cardinal strategy in dealing with the Great Dean reminds us of that pre-war collegiate tune, "Ragging The Scale." All the notes, sour and sweet, have been tried over a five-year period. Perhaps the current use of the "silent treatment" will succeed where other methods failed to quench Dizzy's unquenchable spirit.

Back in 1931, as a loud rookie from the Texas league, Dean popped off so much that he damaged his tonsils, exhausted the patience of Gabby Street and received a return ticket to Houston. He bounced right back the next year and promptly established himself as the new National league strikeout king, which he still is.

Dizzy's friends insist he's the "most misunderstood" player in baseball. His critics add that it's difficult to understand him because he tells everyone a different story and is, as they say on Broadway, a "sucker for a suggestion."

Branch Rickey, the Cardinal business boss, suggested Dis make it worth while as a holdout so the pitcher promptly demanded $40,000. But he will "compromise" for $25,000, which he's worth. And he will promise, as part of the agreement, to cast no aspersions, publicly or otherwise, upon the earnestness or fortitude of his teammates this season.

MAY GO HIGHER

BRADENTON, Fla., Mar. 4 (AP) Dizzy Dean rolled into camp last night with a $40,000 chip on his shoulder.

It's that or nothing if the Cardinals want him, he asserted. Furthermore, they could come to him to make the arrangements; he isn't going to them, the "Dix" said.

"If there's much more delay the price is going to be $45,000," Dean added.

Dean says he'll spent the next couple of weeks golfing and fishing and if he doesn't sign on the dotted line he and Mrs. Dean are going to enter a business in California. What the business is he refused to say, but hinted it is connected with the movies.

TECH BEAUTIES ARE SELECTED

JANET HAMBRIGHT IS MOST BEAUTIFUL ON COLLEGE CAMPUS

The eight Texas Technological college co-eds to be pictured in the college yearbook as the most beautiful girls on the campus have been chosen by Howard Chandler Christy, noted New York artist. Miss Janet Hambright of Lubbock, junior student who has been chosen a beauty each year she has attended the college, was placed first by the artist.

The artist, selecting the winners from 32 photographs of co-eds nominated by students, chose the following other seven girls, in the order named: Lillian Heard, Lubbock; Annie Ruth Williams, Chillicothe; Dorothy Ann Neuhardt, Amarillo; Julia Moore, Brownwood; Dollie Feagan, San Angelo; Elva Mae Hunt, Lubbock; Lela May Zorns, Meadow.

Miss Hambright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Hambright of 2222 Sixteenth street, was one of the eight beauties chosen in the 1933-34 session and 1934-35 session.

Christy in a letter to Zorns, complimented the college on its "fine and wholesome group of girls" and said he chose the girls whose photographs expressed to him the greater beauty and personality. "With congratulations to you all for having so fine a group of real American girls," he wrote.

Request Was Accepted

Having refused a large number of requests to select college beauties, Christy said he accepted this request because Admiral Richard E. Byrd had recommended it when in Lubbock recently.

Miss Zorns, the only other co-ed chosen this year who had been selected another year, was pictured in last year's La Ventana as the most beautiful girl on the campus. She was elected junior queen recently by students of that class.

Pictures of the girls are to appear in the personality section of the 1936 yearbook, which will be issued at the end of this semester. A large round picture and a smaller one of each girl are to be shown in the book, Zorns said.

Fifty girls recently were selected by students as nominees. Only 33 had their photographs made.

ADVISORY BOARD FOR ARMY NAMED

Personnel of the Salvation Army advisory board was increased to 21 with election of six members Tuesday night at a meeting in Chimayo room at Hilton hotel.

Elected were George Berry, Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, Dr. J. M. Lewis, C. A. Sanford, W. H. Wright, and Morris Levine.

Officers Are Named

Officers were elected: President of the board, Berry; vice-president, Dr. H. H. Bidwell. Secretary-treasurer Paul Hardwick was reelected.

Other board members are E. A. Patterson, Durwood H. Bradley, Dr. J. W. Rollo, Riley F. Huie, A. F. Holt, Hardwick, E. Kancher, Dr. Bidwell, Mrs. G. W. Scott, Mrs. Fred Higbee, Mrs. W. H. McDonald, Mrs. W. B. Price, Sam Rosenthal, Rev. W. R. Vivrett, and James I. Kilpatrick.

An executive committee composed of officers elected that night, Bradley, immediate past president, and Capt. John G. Churchill, was set up. It was announced that six other committees will be named at the executive committee's first meeting, not announced.

As had been indicated, $1,000 was set aside toward a building fund, out of a recent financial drive. Another drive will be initiated later. The proposed building would cost $5,000, half of which is necessary to begin construction, said Capt. Churchill, who left Tuesday night for Dallas for discussion of building plans. Sanford is chairman of a citizens committee which will arrange date and other details of the approaching drive.

Capt. Eula Trummell of Austin temporarily has been assigned to the Lubbock corps, which, with Cadet Hazel Bowley, will continue to number three.

SWEETBRIAR SHOP OPENS THURSDAY; FIRST IN TEXAS

Lubbock's newest ready-to-wear shop, Sweetbriar Shop, will be opened at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at 1101 Broadway.

Interior of the store space, formerly used by the Fashion Corner, has been remodeled, refinished, and new fixtures have been installd.

Lubbock is the first Texas town chosen for a Sweetbriar Shop, said W. L. Rucker, supervisor of nine of the company's 17 stores, of Denver.

"We believe Lubbock has more possibilities than any other town in West Texas," Rucker declared.

Miss Fern McFall, formerly of Denver, has been chosen as manager.

E. E. Warwick, who formerly had a shoe store in the Fashion corner, and Phil Rosenthal, who has been employed in a local store, will operate the shoe department. The shoe department has been moved to the front of the building.

New merchandise has been purchased for the shop, some clothing being scheduled to arrive today.

TEMPE, Ariz., March 4 (AP)—New Mexico university defeated Arizona State Teachers college of Tempe, 53 to 31, in a poorly played game here last night to wind up the Border conference basketball season.

The game had no effect on conference standings, Arizona State remaining in second place despite the loss.

Stockton, New Mexico forward, scored 23 points to increase his margin as leading scorer of the conference.

Day Is Attending Memphis Session

Participation in pre-conference meetings of a regional gathering at Memphis, Tenn., to discuss proposed AAA substitutes, was expected to be had today in the Tennessee city by Cliff H. Day, Plainview, vice-president of the Texas Argicultural association and former Texas cotton advisory board member. Mr. Day was to have arrived in Memphis last night or this morning.

The meeting is to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Leading officials of the old AAA, the department of agriculture and other government agencies, are to participate.

Cotton is expected to be the main topic discussed at Memphis, one of four regional meetings at strategic points.

Day has cancelled a number of farm meeting engagements in this section, in order to attend the Memphis meeting.

ACTION ON OIL TEST AWAITED

NO DECISION IS MADE ON BENNETT TEST, HIT SALT WATER

(Special To The Journal)

SEAGRAVES, March 4—Oil men are eagerly awaiting decision in the No. 1 L. P. Bennett of Honolulu-Cascade, in Yoakum county, 18 miles northwest of here. The test, a wildcat that showed promise of oil production at 5,090 feet, was shut down at 5,112 feet, in salt water.

C. J. (Red) Davidson, Fort Worth independent driller and head of the Cascade Oil company, with William Adkins, his head driller, was to confer with Honolulu and others interested in the test. They left Monday.

Depth Is 5,096 Feet

The hole filled quickly with water after it was struck at 5,112 feet, late Saturday. First reports said 1,500 feet of water was in the hole.

Before deepening, the hole's depth was corrected, showing it to be actually 5,096 feet. The oil bearing lime was thus changed from 5,088-90 to 5,094-6 feet.

Eighty barrels of oil ran into storage tanks in 18 minutes Thursday, when the test was swabbed. Conservative oil men estimated that production might run from 200 to 2,000 barrels.

Royalty Sales Fall Off

Following report of the water, sale of royalty at what oil men held to be considerably higher prices than warranted, fell off. The sale had affected prices in sections distant from the Bennett ranch.

Observers here believe that the Honolulu and the Cascade will decide to acidize, providing the lime is of a character to permit it. Otherwise, it may be shot. The hole would be plugged at the bottom.

Should the well come in as a producer, it will be the farthest point north for the Permian basin. It is 40 miles north of the Means ranch pool of the Humble Oil and Refining Co., in North Central Andrews county.

Location is in section 678, Block D, John H. Gibson survey. It is on the ranch of L. P. Bennett of Abilene, former Yoakum county rancher, who gave two and a half sections to Abilene Christian college. Mr. Bennett, with two members of the board of directors, witnessed the cleaning of the hole Thursday.

"GOLIAD" WINS MARCH TITLE

FORT STOCKTON MAN IS WINNER OF OFFICIAL CENTENNIAL TITLE

A concert march in two-four time, probably to become familiar throught the state this year, was chosen by six judges Tuesday night as the official Texas Centennial march after the Texas Technological college band had played 11 marches which had been submitted by Texas composers. The march chosen, entitled "Goliad", was written by Joe Berryman of Fort Stockton.

The selection has incidental solos for various instruments. It presents contrasting tonal color.

Will Be Published

It is to be published in about three weeks, to be publicized as the Centennial march and will be played at the Texas Centennial celebration by 16 bands which will have won in sectional contests.

Several hundred persons attended the persentation in Senior High school auditorium.

Judges in the contest were Oscar Wise, director of the Amarillo Senior High school band; Starsell Bagwell, director of the Sam Houston Junior High school band at Amarillo; R. C. Davidson, director of the Plainview High school band; Clyde Rowe, Slaton band; H. A. Anderson, Lubbock Senior High school band; and Ellis Hall, director of the Amarillo Academy of Music.

Hall Was Chairman

Hall is to publish the march. He was chairman of the committee appointed by the Texas Federation of Music Clubs to select the march. The federation had been asked by Frank N. Watson, Centennial promotion director, to supervise the selection. D. O. Wiley, Tech band director, was a member of the committee.

Berryman is vice president of the Texas School Band and Orchestra association and president of the West Texas division of the association.

Contests will be held in the four sections of the state: East, West South and North. Class A, class B class C and Junior High school band winners will be chosen and at various times are to go to the Centennial, their expenses to be paid while there by the Centennial.

Band Now Rehearsing

Berryman said the Fort Stockton High school band now is rehearsing the march and will play it at the West Texas contests in Big Spring April 17-18.

Composers who submitted marches for the contest were George E. Hurt, Dallas; John Victor, Abilene; Earl D. Irons, Arlington; N. W. Allphin, Tahoka; R. L. Meyers, Levelland; Rudolph Willman, Seguin; J. M. Edwards, Childress; May Kendall Wilhoit, Fort Worth; Camille Gillmour; and Berryman. Mrs. Earl McCoy of Carollton submitted a march written by the late Earl McCoy.

Hall described the march chosen as "outstanding". The name is not characteristic, the march not depicting a battle.

CO-ED CLUB MEMBERS AT TECH EXCEL IN GRADES BUT BOYS LAGGING BEHIND

Socially minded co-eds at Texas Technological college again surpassed their sister students and socially minded men lagged behind their fellows, according to grade-point averages for the fall semester.

Part-time work is an incentive to study, averages of students with National Youth administration jobs would indicate. Making an average of 3.18 grade points or a grade of approximately 81, NYA employes ranked seventh in a list of 39 college groups.

Athletes Are Low

Grades of varsity football, varsity basketball and freshmen football team members ranked near the bottom. Those groups tend to raise their averages in the spring semester, Dr. Bradford Knapp, Tech president, said.

Bachelor apartments and high comparative scholastic averages evidently don't combine. Men living in bachelor apartments made an average of slightly more than 75, less than the all-college average.

Women Higher Than Men

Women in the dormitory ranked higher than men in the dormitory, and all women in the college higher than all men in the college.

According to the grade-point system adopted last year, "A" equal 6 grade points; "B", 4; "C", 2; "D", none; "F", minus 2.

Averages Compiled

Grade-point averages, as compiled by Registrar W. P. Clement and announced by Dr. Knapp, follows:

Graduates, 4.6; San Souci social club, 3.76; Las Vivarachas social club, 3.57; Block and Bridle club, 3.55; seniors, 3.39; A. I. E. E., engineering group, 3.28; NYA students, 3.18; women in social clubs, 3.15; Home Economics club, 3.1; D. F. D. social clubs, 3.07; Dairy club, 2.93; Ko Shari social club, 2.86; juniors, 2.85; all women in college, 2.81; A. S. M. E. engineering group, 2.8; women not in social clubs, 2.78; women in dormitory, 2.74; Aggie club, 2.66; Las Chaparritas, 2.66; Phi Psi club, 2.44; all college average, 2.41; A. S. C. E., engineering group, 2.41; men in dormitory, 2.4; sophomores, 2.37; Gargoyle club, 2.21; Kemas, 2.2; Los Camaradas, 2.19; men not in social clubs, 2.18; all men in college, 2.17; Silver Key social club, 2.17; men living in bachelor apartments, 2.16; men in social clubs, 1.86; freshmen, 1.81; varsity football, 1.77; College club, 1.55; Wranglers social club, 1.49; varsity basketball, 1.48; freshmen football, 1.35; Centaur social club, 1.18.

Graduates, seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen thus were in that order scholastically.

Co-eds in social clubs also had a higher average than other women students the fall semester last session.

JUDGING CONTEST SCHEDULED HERE

Vocational agriculture students from West Texas are to be invited here March 30 for the 11th annual Vocational Agriculture judging contest, sponsored by Texas Technological college, Dean A. H. Leidigh of the division of agriculture said yesterday.

As was tried last year, the contests will be held the first day of the Lubbock Quality Meat show. This permits vocational students with entries in the Lubbock show to take in both programs, without additional loss of time from their work.

Mowery Superintendent

Ray C. Mowery, acting head of the animal husbandry department will be general superintendent of the show, assisted by O. T. Ryan, vocational agriculture supervisor in this area, Ray L. Chappelle, vocational agriculture teacher trainer at the college, and others.

There will be five contests, Mowery said. They are in judging dairy cattle, farm shop, livestock, plant production and grain judging, and poultry.

The contests last year attracted approximately 90 teams from about 35 schools. Three students compose each team. Area from which students may come is not restricted.

Bad Elimination Makes It Easier To Catch a Cold

With the right sort of food and proper exercise, constipation might be rare, but in actual living conditions, how few manage to escape it!

Mr. Clyde Martin, of Ona, W. Va., recently very aptly wrote that "constipation is the root of a lot of sickness, but if Black-Draught is taken right it will keep down constipation."

"If I let myself get constipated," he explains, "and my system filled with impure matter, I feel bloated, take cold easily, and feel out of sorts in a lot of ways. I will take about two good doses of Black-Draught. It seems to cleanse my whole system and I feel like doing my work."

Sold in 25-cent packages.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

a few facts why . . .

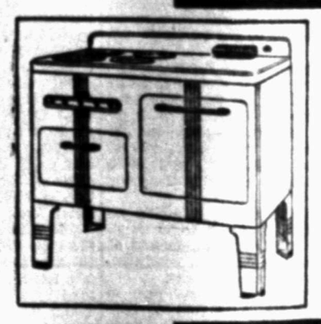

ELECTRIC COOKERY will continue to increase in popularity during 1936.

IT IS FAST . . . because by using little or no water and flat-bottomed utensils cooking starts quickly and foods are cooked in the steam of their natural juices. Boiling is never necessary on an electric range.

IT IS COOL . . . because there is no flame . . . and consequently, there is no wasted heat . . . because the ovens are properly insulated to honestly hold the heat.

IT IS CLEAN . . . because there is no flame, there is no smoke and soot to settle on the drapes and the walls of the kitchen . . . . all ranges are porcelain inside and out and are easily kept clean.

UP in the Northeast there sure is a big demand for public jobs. There sure is—and there are not enough jobs to go 'round.

Illustrating the point is a story about a rescue crew dragging the body of a drowned office-holder out of a lake.

One of the rescuers rushed up to the ward boss, panting:

"I've just pulled Joe Hoozis' body out of the lake. He drowned. Can I have his job?"

"Sorry", said the ward boss, "you're too late. I promised it five minutes ago to the fellow who saw Joe fall in!"

It seems that he came over to Lubbock in his car for the first time after we'd put in the traffic lights and the "no U turn" signs. He'd lingered a little too long with the bottle and was a little bit teed up.

Starting to make a "U" turn he saw the sign and instead of straightening his wheel out after the "U", completed the circle and went on up the street in the same direction he had been taking before he started to turn.

"What are you doing?" asked a companion.

"That sign says no 'U' turn", he explained, "so I made an 'O' out of the 'U'. There ain't no law against that!"

MEMBERS of the Democratic high command are frankly worried over the new twist taxes have taken. Of course, as everyone has known all along, more taxes will be necessary to pay the bill for recovery. But most politicians hoped the country could get by until after the votes were counted next November.

Now, with necessity for new taxes to be approved before Congress goes home, there is some fretting.

Every effort will be made to call the new tax setup Congress' baby.

It will be cited that passage of the bonus over the President's veto and the farm subsidy bill was Congress' move, not FDR's, and leading New Dealers will hope for the best.

THE President is confident that the average voter will understand why more taxes are needed and will "stand hitched" for the New Deal.

He is supremely confident that better conditions of today will satisfy the average American that we are pulling out of depression and that John Public won't want to change horses in the middle of the stream—especially since he hasn't got another horse!

The Plainsman agrees with Mr. Roosevelt in the main, although it is certain that increased taxes will lose some support at the polls.

No matter what it costs to bring the country back to normalcy; no matter what it costs to bring on a more abundant life to millions of our people whose necks, for generations, have been used for stepping stones; no matter what it costs to bring about some measure of economic security—it will be worth it to the nation.

You don't hear the Liberty leaguers howling about the cost of the war—because most of them made piles of money out of the war.

You hear them squawk about expenditures to whip the depression and to make life better and happier, because they're not making anything out of these moves and, in some cases, are being forced to help pay the bill.

That's the whole thing in a nutshell!

MEMBERS of the "anvil chorus", including Messrs. Smith, DuPont and Shouse, might take note of the fact that a treasury issue of one billion, 250 millions of dollars in cash was snapped up Monday within a few hours after it was announced. In fact, oversubscription was the order of the day.

If the country has gone to the bow-wows it's a funny thing that a treasury issue can be over-subscribed in a few hours.

There's sumpin' wrong, somewhere—and it's not with the treasury's credit!

The Spring Thaw!

Directors Smile When You Snub Film Music; Orchestration Meant Only As Background Harmony To Create Right Mood

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 4.—There's more music than you'd guess in the average photoplay. About as much, in fact, as in the average symphony.

Hollywood musical directors are pleased, though, when fans don't notice the background music in a picture. That's an indication that the melodies are truly in the mood. Such a defeatist attitude is pretty painful, at first, to those who compose the music and orchestrate the scores for movies. But they get over it. Carlo Alberto Colombo did.

Colombo — Manhattan-born Italian, one-time child prodigy, symphony cellist, Broadway conductor, and arranger for Paul Whiteman—is the RKO musical director. He also is one of the most prolific composers in the world. Has to be.

After the action of a picture is filmed, they toss it over to him and say: "Score this, please—it is scheduled for release in 10 days. Vaya con Dios!"

So Colombo writes like mad, recording by day what he has composed and arranged the night before. He wrote 200 pages of music for "Seven Keys to Baldpate" in one week.

Most of his tune-ideas come to him while he is driving his car, or during the few hours he spends in bed. He stops his car or springs from the covers, as the case may be, and jots them down.

Escape Royalties

Nearly every note of music in pictures these days is original, except when trick arrangements are made of very old tunes to help with the re-creation of some period.

One reason most of the music is original is because it's cheaper to hire a composer than to pay royalties on copyrighted stuff. For example, a studio must pay royalty if an actor whistles just a snatch of "In the Good Old Summer-time".

Tempo Is Of The Essence

Colombo's method of working is to see a picture several times and catch its mood and tempo. (Every picture has tempo.) He takes notes, figures about what's needed, then crouches over his piano and writes.

When the musical theme is developed, he writes various chapters which are to be fitted into specified intervals in the picture.

Knowing the tempo of the music, and the number of bars, he can tell to the second how long a piece will run.

Everything is orchestrated next, and Colombo and his men retire to the scoring room, where the orchestra players watch him and he watches the screen. Marks on the side of the film, visible on the screen, tell him exactly when music should begin and finish. They have to record right on the dot, because Colombo says some spectators can discern a mistake in synchronization of 1-8 of a second.

Tunes Must Fit

There's often difficulty about dubbing in a singing voice, because spectators closely watch the lips of a vocalist and feel they've been fooled if a note lingers an instant after the singer's lips are closed. Colombo solves that by studying the sound track and cutting a little out of the middle of the long notes. Then he matches up the vibration waves, pastes the film together, and nobody could tell the difference.

Reverse English

When RKO made a South Seas picture, titled "Red Morning," the action called for a chorus of native voices, but there was no time to bring natives from the South Seas. The music director came to the rescue with a sound track which had recorded an ordinary American chorus singing an ordinary song. He doesn't even recall what the song was—"Yes, We Have No Bananas" or "Old Kentucky Home" or something.

Anyway, he ran the film backward! The rhythm, the weird music, and even the resulting gibberish sounded just as you'd expect a South Seas chorus to sound.

Colombo did 22 pictures in 1935, the equivalent of about 20 symphonies. In his spare time he works on a symphony of his own. Been working on it for years, and it's about half finished.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

LET 'EM WRITE BETTER SONGS!

Try as it might The Journal can't squeeze out a single tear for the organization of American song writers who are trying to hobble radio and the dance orchestra business by law.

"We must do something", moan the maestros of Tin Pan Alley. "The radio takes one of our songs, plays it on scores of stations dozens of times over a two week period and the people grow tired of it. A song has no life span now like it used to have".

Mebby so, mebby so. But there is one way to solve the problem and only one way—let the song writers write songs the people won't tire of in two weeks!

People aren't yet tired of "St. Louis Blues", of "When You and I Were Young, Maggie", of "Always", of "I Want A Girl Just Like the Girl Who Married Dear, Old Dad", or of a dozen other "popular songs" which have lasted years and years longer than two weeks. The reason, of course, is that they are good songs.

Tin Pan Alley-ites can remedy the situation by improving their product both in words and music. If they write good stuff the people will want more, not less of it.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

(Copyright, 1936 NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 4 — The new farm program in its first year will be a crude makeshift insofar as its administration and operation are concerned.

It would be absurd to expect anything else. The administration will be politically silly if it pretends to do more than that.

Transforming farm relief into a soil conservation plan is a gigantically complicated administrative job. Farm experts believe they could work out a good sound system within a year which would achieve their goals.

They are doing the best they can in a few weeks and there is more confusion and difference of opinion than progress.

The individual farmer, planning his crops for the year, wonders what he must do to qualify for the program and its payments. He won't know for weeks, perhaps months, whether, assuming he has a 300-acre farm, he will be expected to plant 50, 100, or 150 acres in soil-building or soil-conserving crops or both.

Cotton planting already has begun in part of the south. The corn belt begins planting oats late in March.

Congress passed a law giving Secretary Wallace and Administrator Chester Davis enormous power and left them with a correspondingly enormous job of planning and administration.

What Must Be Determined

Six million farmers theoretically are eligible to receive money for participation in the program. Fewer than 3,000,000 received AAA benefits. Now must be determined:

1. Standards of performance on each farm which will make the producer eligible for payments.
2. Amounts of grants for which each farmer will be eligible if he participates.
3. Mechanism for checking up on his compliance with the standards which he agrees to maintain for this year.

Net effects of the standards are supposed to be prevention of soil erosion and the building up of soil by planting of crops which draw nitrogen (plant food) from the air into the soil. "Cover crops" to be planted include grass, beans, soya beans, clover, alfalfa, cow peas, field peas, and lespedeza (bush clover).

Administrative technique — reaching the long arm of the national plan down to individual farms — will be similar to AAA's. Theoretically, at least, local committees will have to visit each farm and appraise its desirabilities from the standpoint of conservation and sound farming methods in relation to general standards handed down to them and to the rate of payments-per acre-per commodity as decided in Washington.

Face Monumental Task

The local groups, to be charged with laying down uniform and equitable standards, will have a terrific job. A farm-by-farm appraisal might take until mid-summer and probably is impracticable now. The farm administration may lay down temporary production formulae based on averages for individual counties.

After the farmer is told what he must do to qualify, he will have to decide for himself whether the standards are more profitable than his own differing judgment, if any.

The completely voluntary nature of the program and the fact that it extends to all crops—instead of a few basic commodities, as under AAA—seems to leave a huge element of guesswork in plans here. The innumerable types of farming to be found in individual areas and states add to the problem.

How Program Might Work

Here's a typical example, highly theoretical, of the way the program might work out for an individual farmer. Assume he has 100 acres—70 in cotton, 10 in sorghums, 10 in corn, and 10 in soil-improving or soil-conserving crops.

The committee might decide he should have 30, 40 or 50 acres in soil crops—depending on factors of national standards, soil condition, and good farm management.

If the soil-crop acreage were to be 50, he might be told to keep five in corn and five in sorghums for his own needs and remove 30 acres from the 70 in cotton production to make up the total. He would be paid so much per cotton acre retired, so much per retired sorghum acre, so much per retired corn acre and perhaps a small sum per acre for reseeding of land already in soil crops.

Presumably he would be told what he might sell and might not sell, as some soil crops must be plowed under if the soil is to be improved.

How Payment Is Based

Another possibility is that of a farmer with 100 acres — 60 in good farm land, 20 in second growth timber, 20 in marginal hills, gullied, and eroded land. The local group would have to decide whether his pasture land were being used in a soil-depleting way or not and the extent to which his good land was being worn out.

If he were found to be operating on 100 per cent conservation and farm management, he might or might not be rewarded in cash — that's to be decided.

The soil conservation act now says payments are to be made on annual basis of:

1. Total acreage of crop land.
2. Acreage of soil crops.
3. Changes in use of land, such as letting land lie fallow or planting new types of crop.
4. Percentage of farmer's crop which corresponds to percentage of national crop in the same commodity which is consumed domestically.

Erosion Perils Huge Area

Wallace and Davis start with the National Resources Board's survey, which says 35,000,000 to 35,000,000 acres have been ruined for farm purposes by erosion, about 100,000,000 acres are moving rapidly in that direction, more than 100,000,000 are beginning to erode badly, and most of the remaining 300,000,000 tend to decline in productivity.

Obviously impossible is the task in the first year of moving to save the 200,000,000 endangered acres while trying to maintain fertility of the other 300,000,000. The extent to which a small start can be made is limited by the appropriation of $500,000,000 for the 1936-37 fiscal year.

The administration might spend $2.50 an acre to take care of 200,000,000 acres — which would attract few farmers — or $500 an acre to take care of a million, which would be absurd. A current semi-official guess is that money will be paid out on 25 or 30 million acres affected by the program this year.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

by Dick Morgan

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANE WESTON loses her job as secretary to the business manager of Oceanic Magazine when the magazine suspends publication.

JERRY SEAL, her employer, tells her to take the afternoon off and hunt for another position. Jane's roommate, ALICE, makes the rounds of the employment agencies with her, but their efforts are unrewarded.

Tired and discouraged, they stop to look at a window advertising tropical cruises. Jane notices a handsome young man, also studying the display, and sees him go inside, apparently to buy a ticket.

Back at the office, the business manager tells Jane there is no cash to pay the three weeks' salary due her. He offers her, in place of the cash, a ticket for a three weeks' ocean cruise.

Jane accepts, delighted. The boat is to leave next day.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

From the stern of the S. S. Oceanic Jane watched the great towers of the city, their tips wreathed in clouds, until they were dimmed by fog. It was enchanting, unreal, this sailing away into the unknown. As the ship plowed its way through the harbor, and out toward the ocean, she said to herself: "Here I am on a big liner headed for the high seas, but nowhere in particular. I had always dreamed that this would happen to me on my honeymoon."

This was a lonely thought which held her until the ship had passed into the open sea. She hated to be alone. People milled, up and down the deck. She began to look about her, for she had found the crowded ship as lonely as a big hotel.

Her roommate had seen her off on the cruise. Alice had said, "This is not a cruise. For you it's a reckless adventure. When you get back to town a week from today you'll still be without a job. And if you expect anything to happen on this cruise, let me put you wise. A few drinks in the bar, ogles by a lot of strange men, a touch of seasickness—that's all the romance and adventure you'll find."

Jane had scarcely listened to her. "I wonder who'll be on board!" she had said, conjuring up in her vivid imagination the romantic personages on this cruise ship.

Now, standing on the promenade deck, watching the giant twin-screw propellers churning up the waters behind the ship, she sighed. "Get busy, old girl. Powder your nose!" she said inwardly. For Jane had a practical bent in her imaginative nature.

She walked up the deck and saw that people were being assigned deckchairs. They walked back and forth, young couples and old couples, selecting the best places to bask in the sun. Some stood in line. A white-haired dowager with a sour, tremolo voice was having quite a job of finding hers. She was querulous and fussy. There were two deck stewards and a mousy little girl, with eager hands, more like claws—who Jane judged was her companion—to get the old lady settled.

"I'm an old woman," the dowager said tartly, "but you two white monkeys can't put me where I'm out of the sun."

With her cane the dowager cleared a way through the throng to a choice place in the sun. "There!" she commanded hoarsely. "Where are my blankets? I came on this cruise for a rest, and I intend to start right now. Go on away. All of you. Clear the deck."

The deck steward was ready to write her name on the place-card. "Your name, please, madame?"

The dowager tapped him on a leg with her cane. "You impertinent young rascal!" she said, her voice high-pitched and shrill. "To you I'm just Madame Doremus."

"Madame Doremus," he said politely, and tipped his fingers to his cap. He looked at Jane, who was standing close by, and vaguely smiled.

Jane stood by the rail and pointed out a deckchair close by. "I'll take that one," she said. "Jane Weston is the name."

The steward hesitated. One was supposed to stand in line with the others. But Jane gave him her best smile, and he said, "Yes, Ma'am!" Jane gloried a little in that feat. There was something about her that made men eager to help her at any time.

Then all of a sudden the crowd seemed to melt away. People went to the bar, or downstairs to their cabins to unpack their things. She was almost alone.

But then she saw him standing by the rail, not 20 feet away. He had on a raglan coat which made his shoulders appear monstrously broad, but she recognized him by the blond head of unruly hair. He had his face to the stiff, cold breeze, breathing in the salt air.

It was the tanned young man she had seen in the city yesterday, arranging for passage on a cruise. And she hadn't ever expected to see him again! Now he, too, was looking back at the soaring, crenelated towers of the city which were rapidly disappearing from view. He was restless. He tapped a cigaret on his wrist, and lighted it.

Jane kept thinking how easy it should be, on shipboard, to get to know a young man who was good-looking and ready to say easy, bright things. She had always imagined that an ocean voyage would be filled with glamour. New, important people. Easy contacts and intimacy. She was honest enough to admit that she had hoped for romance on her first ocean trip. It was the bucolic ideal, she realized now, but there was nothing she could do about it.

The young man stood there with his hair blowing in the wind. The raglan coat and the suit he wore looked terribly expensive.

Jane remembered the news story she had read of the Danish sardine prince visiting in America, and her eager mind built such a role for this young man. But of course he was an American. "Swell tub!" he had said to her casually yesterday in the street. Yet he was like some blond Viking.

As if in answer to the thoughts which went on in her mind he turned and looked at her. It was an interested gaze, the gaze he had bestowed on her yesterday in New York. It was not the rude look of a bystander in the street. He seemed to smile, and then turned to the sea again. He had not recognized her!

Jane knew, by the sharp disappointment she felt, that she was definitely interested in that young man. Why, she wondered, couldn't two people without companions on shipboard simply say: "Hello, are you all alone on this cruise? I am.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

READER PLEADS FOR CLEAN, SAFE CITY

Dear Plainsman: As I look around our town and see people going about their different businesses and home tasks, I often wonder if they see the dangerous fire hazards on all sides of our city? So many lots covered with dry weeds, tumbleweeds ;trash all ready for a stray spark in a dusty, combustible electrical condition. Oil or gasoline carelessly spilled about makes another fire hazard. The Chicago fire, the greatest fire horror in our near history was caused by less than that. We do not dare to neglect any longer such carelessness which, any moment, may turn to just such a horror in Lubbock, and with this dreadful dry weather and high winds prevailing, makes it doubly dangerous.

My family and I have just recently experienced a fire that might have proved disastrous and for no fault of our own. A lot next to our house full of weeds and trash caught fire and scorched their garage and damaged the west side of our fence. Many plants, shrubs, and vines of years of labor were destroyed. This was disappointing to us, but the real issue and danger was this: if we had been away from home the whole of our fence, trees, some coal and wood piled in the rear of our lot would have caught fire, the garage situated on the east side, and our neighbor's house would have suffered terribly by burning connected fences. All this worry could be eliminated if more thoughtful citizens definately made voice to the city management of such hazards.

To be constantly aware of such conditions that deteriorate our city welfare and appearances is but real citizenship. We need more real constructive dissatisfaction in Lubbock, I think, real forward-movers looking not in the past, but straight into the future. Such citizens make communities livable, worthwhile, and make for real democracy.

All alleys and back yards are as important as the front lawns, and to keep them spotless is as important as pools and flower beds. Citizens are reprived of calm minds with danger on every hand. How can we be free from the city's "ancient growing pains" unless we all band together with determination in making our city absolutely safe so that people may live in perfect peace and contentment?

In being constantly awake to such seemingly harmless dangers about us, where lurk disease germs deep in filth, trash, weeds, and unsightly buildings, we cannot be too careful in our personal surroundings. Do let us be different than many towns. We must give Lubbock a good house cleaning which is, after all, a great home in which we are each a unit. New citizens coming here will then truly say that our city is not only a friendly one, but a very clean, safe place to live in.

Mrs. C. Henninger,
Lubbock, Texas.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—The stock market today apparently continued to hold bullish views on the new national tax program and buyers again bid up industrial specialties.

While many of the leaders moved up fractions to 2 or more points to new highs, numerous others, including the motors and rails, were only slightly ahead. A fast opening, which pressed the ticker tape for a time, was followed by a slowing of the pace. Some profit taking was evident in scattered issues.

Among the best share performers were Allied Chemical, Du Pont, American Can, Westinghouse, International Harvester, National Cash Register, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Montgomery Ward, Seaboard Oil, Schenley, Budd Mfg., Container Corp., U. S. Steel, Consolidated Gas and Western Union. American Telephone drifted somewhat lower.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 4 (AP)—Advances of wheat prices early today resulted from overnight virtual absence of moisture southwest, and from Liverpool market firmness. Buying, however, lacked volume.

Opening 1-8 to 1-2 cent higher, May 1.00 3-4 to 7-8, July 90 1-8 to 1-4, wheat then held near to this range. Corn started 1-8 to 3-8 up, May 61 1-8 to 1-4.

WAR SITUATION

plea.

Foregin Secretary Anthony Eden, however, made Britain's acceptance of the peace move conditional on uninterrupted preparation for oil sanctions in the event that the league's peace gesture came to naught.

In line with this policy of uninterrupted work, the sanctions committee met to turn over technical details of a plan for enforcement of the oil embargo to its subcommittee.

Eden arranged to go to Paris late today and to continue on to London by plane.

Italy and Ethiopia had one week to reply to the peace appeal, the conciliation committee to meet again March 10 to consider the replies.

Conflicting reports that German Foreign Minister Konstantin Von Neurath was going to Rome to confer with Premier Mussolini caused some excitement in league corridors.

The French particularly were anxious over rumors that Adolf Hitler and Mussolini were planning to denounce the Locarno pact, and were reported to have asked Eden what Britain would do in such an event, especially if Germany remilitarized the Rhineland.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 4 (AP)—In further reaction to resumption of selling by the government cotton pool the cotton market here today showed some weakness in early trading, mostly on speculative short selling.

After opening quiet but steady on cables that were a shade better than due with the initial prices one point down to three points up from the previous close, the list sagged a bit under freer offerings.

March opened at 11.06, or 3 points up and then dipped to 10.97, working below the 11-cent level for the first time in nearly a month.

May which was one point better at the opening sold off to 10.53, or 6 points below yesterday's close.

New crop months apparently found support from mill interests as they tapered off a point or two with Oct. holding at 9.92, or 4 points down.

After the early offerings had been absorbed the market developed steadiness and most months held around the lows at noon.

Cotton did not find the same bullish stimulants in the president's tax message that stocks saw and the apparent depressing effect of government pool operations was somewhat offset by mill purchases on the downward scale.

Short coverings and some profit taking also lent support to the market.

After selling to 10.53, or 6 points net lower, May rallied 2 points and around noon was selling at 10.55. Other months were at the lows with March at 10.97, July at 10.26 and Oct and Dec. at 10.92, four to six points under yesterday's close.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Mar. 4. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1 higher to 2 lower with trading quiet aside from some small trade operations. Mch 11.17, May 10.68; Jly 10.37; Oct 9.99; Dec 10.00; Jan 10.01b-bid.

There was some further selling attributed to operations in pool cotton and with demand light prices eased slightly after the call.

March sold off from 11.17 to 11.11 and Oct. from 9.99 to 9.96, making net losses of 3 to 8 points on the general list. This decline was checked by trade buying or covering but the market was quiet within a point of the lowest at the end of the first hour.

After the early decline of about 5 to 8 points prices rallied slightly on trade buying and covering. May sold up from 10.61 to 10.64 but increased offerings were encountered on the bulge and prices eased again with the mid-day market showing net losses of about 6 to 9 points.

Private reports were issued this morning with reference to planting intentions in the south, one of which pointed to an acreage of 32,890,000 acres while the other placed it at 32,115,000 acres.

ELECTION SUIT

open the ballot boxes and tally votes of only those persons qualified.

Court will be convened at 2 o'clock this afternoon for naming the commissioners and drawing instructions. Further trial of the case will await completion of the work assigned to the commission.

Only those who rendered their property for taxation between Jan. 1 and April 30, 1935, besides other regular qualifications were classed as legal voters in the election by a court ruling Tuesday afternoon.

Probability that more lists of alleged voters who were ruled ineligible because of failure to duly render property would be presented in addition to those already checked brought about the agreement.

Testimony during the morning session was based on a new list of 59 persons presented by the defense as having voted illegally since they had not duly rendered property for taxation.

Of the 59 persons, Carl Henninger, Mrs. S. C. Arnett, Mrs. Jess Lockhart and J. A. Lowrance were instated definitely as legal voters. Several others had rendered property, but after April 30, 1935, and were accordingly ruled as illegal voters.

At least 145 more votes were cast out Tuesday afternoon when Judge Mullican delivered his ruling, declaring:

"It seems clear to me that under the constitution a man must duly render his property, and the statute then fixes the date between the first of January and the thirtieth of April." He defined "duly rendered" as "in accordance with terms of the law."

Exception to the ruling was taken by W. W. Campbell for the defense because of the "reason that the statutes, nor the city charter, nor the constitution provide that the taxes be paid or property rendered before April 30."

The bill of exceptions included lists of 73 persons, who did not render their property but who paid taxes; 51 persons, homeowners, who failed to render property and pay taxes; 21 persons, who rendered property on the day of the election. The defense contended they were entitled to vote.

Added to the 145 votes affected by the ruling are 228 votes of persons whose names do not appear on regular tax rolls of the city and who, the plaintiffs allege, voted in the election; and 43 votes of persons who for the same reason are cited by the defense.

While the total would make 416 votes illegally cast, numerous duplications in the respective lists of both the plaintiffs and defendants can be found to reduce the number.

It was to establish a number of legal votes among the 228 allegedly illegal, according to one list of plaintiffs, that the defense attorneys examined tax records, the city directory, and directed testimony from Ed C. Young, city tax official, Tuesday morning and continued the procedure in the afternoon.

Votes of J. L. Hinsley, J. E. Cagle, Mr. and Mrs. Jot Smyth, Mrs. A. E. Brooks, Mrs. R. G. Wright, W. T. Murray, G. W. Bownds, Fred Litton, H. A. C. Brummett and A. A. Roberts were established definitely by the procedure.

Ballot boxes of the election, in which 800 votes for, 776 against the issuance of $1,200,000 gas system revenue bonds had been cast, were delivered by Floyd Jackson, district court clerk, in whose hands they had been placed last November.

Persons alleged to have voted in the election who were home owners but had failed to render property or pay taxes in 1935 and whose votes were cast out by the court, are:

S. E. Arnold, Mrs. S. E. Arnold, G. L. Boyd, D. H. Brown, (deceased), Mrs. D. H. Brown, W. H. Bloys, Mrs. W. H. Bloys, J. W. Clinton, A. B. Davis, Mrs. A. B. Davis, Jewell Davis, L. C. Ellis, Mrs. L. C. Ellis, V. L. Ellis, Mrs. V. L. Ellis, R. W. Graves, M. E. Heard, H. H. Halsell, Mrs. H. H. Halsell, J. A. Hall, S. M. Hufstedler, Mrs. S. M. (E. B.) Hufstedler, W. E. Johnson, Eva Johnson, Arch L. King, Jesse Lane, Mrs. O. W. Langlots, Veal Manley, Jno. R. McGee, B. O. McWhorter, C. R. McLaurin, J. I. Noah, Mrs. Maty Nail, Pink L. Parrish, Mrs. Pink L. Parrish, C. H. Quinby, J. Lee Royalty, Mrs. N. J. Raybon, Mattie Randolph, E. H. Robertson, J. C. Street, Mrs. J. C. Street, S. H. Scott, C. F. Stewart, M. A. Sanders, A. W. Tilory, Mrs. A. W. Tilory, J. H. Williams, Oran Wilson, Grady Ashley, Mrs. Grady (Gladys) Ashley.

Names of the foregoing 51 persons are from the bill of exceptions prepared by the defense attorneys.

The list of 73 persons who allegedly voted in the election and had paid taxes but had failed to render property on which they were paid are:

E. C. Abbott, Mrs. W. J. Anderson, W. Bogart, H. C. Bucker, Mrs. H. C. Bruckner, Walter Clark, Mrs. Walter Clark, Roscoe Cowart, N. T. Cellum, L. C. Denton, Mrs. L. C. Denton, Bill W. Wright, Mrs. Pearl Wright, Mrs. J. M. Wright, C. G. Wright, Delia Wilkinson, A. O. Graydon.

Above names are from another list which was submitted as a bill of exceptions by the defense.

Only one new name, that of Lucile B. Smith, was added by the defense in the list, presented in court Monday by the plaintiffs, of those who allegedly had rendered property the day of the election and voted. The list of 21 was entered as item 3 of the bill of exceptions.

TAX FIGHT

as traders heard of the president's message.)

Once in the hands of stockholders, the money would be subject to the normal income tax rate of 4 per cent and the graduated surtax. At present a stockholder pays only the surtax on income from dividends.

Would Raise $620,000,000

The net result, the president argued, would be a $620,000,000 gain in federal revenue, with which to support the $500,000,000 farm subsidy program and to amortize the additional cost of paying the bonus now instead of in 1945.

So intense was the discussion of these points that comparatively little attention was paid for the time being to other points in the president's message. He suggested that $500,000,000 be obtained over two or three years by a special tax to retrieve AAA processing levies which were refunded to processors and by new excises on the processing of farm commodities.

Not To Apply To Reserve

President Roosevelt was quick to declare in a press conference that the proposed taxes on corporation profits would not apply to reserves set up to cover depreciation and to provide working capital.

What he aimed at, he indicated, was profit which is held by corporations in the form of surplus. He argued this was a means of escaping taxation and was unfair to small stockholders who need the dividend money.

Assailing the president's plan on the house floor, Rep. Snell of New York, minority leader, said "accumulated surpluses enabled many corporations to carry on and give employment."

The president, talking on this point, said reserves would not be taxable and could be used in lean years to pay wages or dividends. One aim of the program, he said, is to increase the velocity of money.

JOSEF STALIN

by the Soviets as of an aggressive nature?" Howard continued.

Concentrating On Frontier

"The Japanese seem to be continuing to concentrate their troops on the frontier of the Mongolian peoples' republic," he quoted Stalin as answering, "but so far there have been no new attempts to create border incidents."

Stalin, recalling that Red troops supported the Mongolians against Japanese-assisted white Russians as an aftermath of the Russian revolution, asserted, Howard wrote, that:

Would Help Republic

"We would help the republic as we did in 1921."

In swift transition from Far East to middle Europe, Howard and Stalin discussed the possibilities of German aggression against Russia.

"The Soviet union appears to believe that Germany and Poland have aggressive designs against the Soviet union and are planning military cooperation," remarked Howard in construing the next question.

"Poland, however, has protested her unwillingness to permit any foreign troops to use her territory as a base for operation against a third nation. How does the Soviet union envisage such aggression by Germany? From what position and in what direction would the German military forces operate?"

Seek Immediate State

"History shows," was Stalin's reply, "that when a state is intent on war against another state, even one not adjacent, the aggressor seeks an intermediate state whose frontiers touch those of the object of her aggression.

"Usually it is successful in finding such a frontier.

"This is accomplished sometimes by force, as in 1914 in Belgium, or by other means, as in 1918, when the Germans 'borrowed' the Latvian frontier in a drive against Leningrad.

"I do not know what specific frontiers would be best adapted to the German purposes, but I think they would find a people prepared to lend them a frontier."

"They Simply Start"

It is "impossible to say" when the next war will come, Stalin asserted, added:

"Nowadays wars are not declared. They simply start."

He asserted Japan and Germany were the focal points of war danger.

"Where are the war clouds more menacing, in the east or in the west?" Howard inquired.

"It is difficult to say," was the answer. "They both exist and both are smouldering.

"Compared to either of these, the Italian-Ethiopian conflict is an episode.

"For the moment, perhaps, the situation in the Far East is more menacing but the center of danger may shift to Europe . . . . It is symptomatic that even when Herr Hitler speaks peace he cannot dispense with threats."

Stalin, genial, without dramatics, displaying little of the power that makes him supreme in a land of 173,000,000 people, declared in simple, straightforward language that capitalism furnished the "chief war menace today."

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

by Deck Morgan

Can't we just say how-de-do, and start talking about the weather?"

He was probably only shy, Jane thought happily. She was glad that he was not adept at picking up girls. But what if he should walk away, down the deck and never see her again? Her heart felt sudden panic—

A small boy in a coat that made him look like a little general came striding down the deck between them. He was a manly little chap with an insolent snub nose. The young man at the rail turned and beamed down on him. "The first trip, fellow?" he asked comradely.

The little boy frowned, and kept on walking. "No, the eleventh!" he sneered.

The young man blushed sharply. "Friendly little cuss!" he said, half-aloud, and Jane smiled. When she smiled, the young man's eyes widened, and she was sure he recognized her from that one glimpse he had had of her yesterday. But now she realized that people on the big liners might not indulge in easy back-slapping of strangers. It seemed to make her lonelier.

The man edged toward Jane now on the rail. But as he made this obvious move the dowager who sat immersed in furs and a rug looked at him through a lorgnette and sniffed audibly. "It is outrageous!" she said distinctly to the companion at her side. "See"—she nodded at the bold young man—"I told you we should never have come on this cruise. It is like an excursion boat on a river. A cruise to nowhere! The idea is preposterous!"

The young Viking stopped. He eyed the dowager hopefully. But when he got no response he was embarrassed and sat down in the deckchair nearest him, picking up a magazine.

Jane's heart sank again. Give him courage! In another minute he might be lost!

From the corner of an eye he watched the old woman. Despite her sagging jaws and querulous manner she seemed to be merely a kindly old woman. He straightened his tie, and ventured a remark.

"It's warmer out here on the ocean," he said. "New York was damp and cold."

She stared at him for a moment, but, arising, beamed down amiably on him. "It's quite nice, thank you!" she said, then turned to go. She shivered, as if the deck were too cold for her now.

"Young man, I'm an old woman, long past the age for flirting with strangers. You can't practice on me. If you want to try your luck, there's a pretty young girl standing there by the rail. Now, go away and leave me alone. I want to rest. I don't want to see anybody. I don't want to talk. I don't want to listen. I don't want anything to happen. I want quiet, quiet."

Madame Doremus hobbled a few steps, and then turned to him again, waggling the cane in his face. "When I was a girl—well, faint heart never won fair maiden." She went away, cackling at her witticism, like an old barnyard fowl.

The young man grinned appreciatively. He got up and approached Jane, casually this time, but with the firm audacity of youth.

He stood at her side looking down at the eddying foam, as brown as a river flood. He spoke without hedging comment.

"Tomorrow the water will be green—when we cross the Gulf Stream," he said. "We're almost out of sight. The skyline of the city was grand, wasn't it?"

Through all of these maneuvers Jane had smiled to herself. She looked up quickly and studied his face, and it struck her with a force that bewildered her: she had fallen for him! Here he was, speaking to her, and she liked everything about him, his clean good looks, the wrinkles about his eyes, his smile, his shyness, and what was apparently his sunny disposition.

"It is grand. I never realized it before." She trifled with his searching look, and turned away. She couldn't be too familiar with a strange man at first. But she sensed the effect her contrary move had on him, and leaned closer to the rail.

"When you live in a place too long, you fail to see the nice things about it," she volunteered.

"Oh, you live in the city," he said.

She gave him her face again. "You don't, I know. You've an eye that has looked over great distances, probably the western plains. I know. Your eyes are clear as crystal. You see, I had a chance to study you yesterday in New York. I saw you standing in front of the steamship window—"

"Then it was you!" he said quickly. "I've never lived in New York. I'm from California. I've been skiing up at Lake Placid."

She said, "Oh!" Inside her Jane experienced sudden panic again. That one sentence, "I've been skiing up at Lake Placid," seemed to place him miles apart from her. When he found out she was only a little typist in the canyons of the city, he wouldn't be interested in her. He was probably a lumber king or a rancher's son.

Couples passed them now, arm in arm, promenading on the deck. "Will you walk around the deck with me?" he said. "It seems to be the thing to do."

"Why not?" she said. "But don't ask me my name. You haven't just picked me up, have you?"

They both laughed and, arm in arm, began to promenade.

TECH DEBATERS ON TRIP TO DURANT

Debate competition in the annual Savage Inter-State Speech tournament will be entered by a team from Texas Technological college which is leaving today with Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, coach, for Durant, Okla. The tournament is being held on the campus of Southeastern State Teachers college.

Alton Hankins and Clay Thompson are to represent the college.

The team, which has lost only two of 16 debates entered this year, expects its greatest competition, the entry list expecting to be made up of 50 colleges, any of which may send as many as four teams.

Each team debates four times in the preliminaries, and the meet begins Friday and is concluded with finals Saturday night.

Tech debaters won second place at an inter-state tourney at Winfield, Kas., where 61 teams were entered, and won the ACC meet which attracted 35 entries. No ACC meet winner has won the Durant tournament and the Tech team considers the "jinx" constructively challenging.

Miss Pendleton said University of Southern California will send a debating club here March 24 for a two-school tilt and said Tech will go to the west coast for a return engagement either next year or in 1938.

An effort, too, will be made to send Tech debaters to Gainesville, Fla., for a Southern Association of Teachers of Speech regional meeting in April.

Question being debated is: "Resolved that congress should have the right by a two-thirds majority vote to override decisions of the supreme court declaring acts of congress unconstitutional."
