Stained Glass Adds Beauty

As a little boy, Fred Griffin liked to draw. He enjoyed the activity so much that he was sometimes guilty of sketching designs along the margins of class assignments - even in math classes.

Today that artistic talent can be seen in the stained glass window installed just this week in First United Methodist Church. Windows from Griffin Stained Glass Studio may also be seen in First Baptist Church of Dimmitt and St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Plainview.

A window in St. Mark's was the beginning of stained glass work for Griffin and his wife, Nancy. Some memorial windows were being given the church, including one by his father, the late Meade Griffin.

"I was asked to make some preliminary designs," Fred recalls. The designs were drawn and inquiries made for someone to build them.

Fred and Nancy began reading books on the art, looked about at windows, visited studios and then made water color sketches of the proposed windows.

"We were hooked by then. I told my father I was going to build the window. He asked, 'Do you think you can?' and I told him I was sure I could."

That window launched Griffin Stained Glass Studio of El Paso. The ten memorized windows of St. Mark's were added only as windows were purchased and it was about five years before Fred and Nancy installed the last window.

The Griffin designed stained glass art of the local church fills the 19 windows in the sanctuary proper. Still other windows and door panels will be installed in the near future.

Stained glass windows in the traditional techniques of leaded sheet glass date back to the twelfth century. Early craftsmen placed small pieces of colored sheet glass with strips of lead into creations of beauty with only basic colors such as green, red, ruby, cobalt blue, brown, amethyst, flesh, yellow and white.

Today, Fred says, Blanko Glass of West Virginia can supply craftsmen with sheet glass in about 1400 colors. Faceted glass, such as that used in the local windows, comes in some 700 to 800 different colors.

Twelve of the 19 windows in the Methodist Church feature the disciples; the remaining carry religious symbols such as the Lamb of God, Dove of Peace and Crown of Crucifixion.

Basically, Fred says, the local windows are designed with the colors of the early craftsmen although more were used. Particularly there is more blue than was available by early craftsmen.

Fred says some of the glass the Griffins use comes from other sources but most comes from West Virginia. Blanko is also noted for glass objects d'art such as bottles, ash trays and such.

The glass which is used for faceted stained glass windows is made in 8" by 12" by 1" slabs, called dalles, a French derivative.

It is a bit difficult to get now, Fred says because of the "energy crunch."

"It takes heat to make glass and the gas shortage has forced them to cut down. Before the energy shortage, they were operating seven days a week, 24 hours a day."

When contacted by potential clients or customers, the Griffins' first step is to come up with proposed designs done in miniature scale with water color art.

Water colors, Fred says, come nearer reproducing the colors of glass than any other medium and yet they, too, fail to capture the true coloring in glass.

When approved, the design is then made in a full size water color drawing or pattern. This full scale drawing is done by Fred.

He estimates that approximately one-half day was needed to make the "proper window" for each of the windows he installed this week. Size of windows naturally varies. The length of time needed in the entire project of making a stained glass window.

When the pattern is completed, Nancy takes over and begins cutting the colored slabs into the proper designs. This is done with a large, heavy carbide-tip hammer on a small anvil. Using the full scale pattern, Nancy cuts the desired piece by first scoring the right color of glass with a glass cutter. Then, with hammer and chisel and anvil, she "begins chipping away." The chipped glass provides the faceted edges which capture light, reflecting it in a myriad of brilliant sparkles.

Faceted glass, Fred says, picks up light long before or after the sheet glass of the traditional sheet glass of leaded stained windows.

Nancy spends approximately a day and a half in cutting the pieces for a window the size of those installed here.

After the glass is cut, Fred takes over and casts the window. Put together with epoxy, a technique developed in France in the 1930's, the casting process takes perhaps one day.

This technique, Fred says, first used concrete rather than epoxy but with time concrete would crack and begin falling apart.

Apoxy resin becomes the contemporary medium and results in a window that is stronger and more impervious to the elements of nature. Each of the local windows, Fred says, weighs approximately 60 pounds.

The Griffins do work with both the traditional leaded sheet glass techniques and the faceted glass with epoxy.

"Probably about the same amount of each," Fred says. The traditional, he says, is used more in homes and some commercial projects.

"Faceted glass is not as subtle. You can't do as many things with it - not as much detail work. With it, the designs are bolder, stronger."

The Griffins do numerous "small jobs" - a kitchen window in a home, foyer window in another, and other little "commissions." We turn out perhaps one of those per week.

Larger commissions, he says, such as that of the local church, number three or four a year.

Begun as a husband and wife enterprise, the Griffins did at one time employ two persons to work with them.

"But I found myself just being a boss and telling someone else to do the work. Nancy and I agreed that wasn't what we wanted - what it was all about. So, when both of them chose to go back to school, we were happy to go back as we had been."

The Griffins have two children; Sarah, 14, and David, 11.

"In a pinch, they pitch in and help - especially if they're wanting some money for something," Fred says with a grin.

The younger Griffins do help out when they can and Sarah recently completed an English project in which she designed sheet glass into Pre-Revolutionary, Revolutionary and Post-Revolutionary flags.

"She did most of the work by herself, I helped her only a little," Fred says.

Fred began art lessons when he was only eight years old. Studying with Henrietta Ludeman of Plainview, he credits her basic instruction for his success today.

"She gave me a terrific basic, I've added some but it's really her sound foundation. She's a tremendous teacher."

He studied architecture at Texas Tech and received his degree there. Nancy, whom he married in 1958, studied advanced art and design at Tech.

After military service, the Griffins moved to El Paso and Fred worked with an architectural firm until he received his license in 1965.

STAINED GLASS ARTIST - Fred Griffin and his wife, Nancy designed, made stained glass windows for the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church. Fred is shown Thursday when installation was almost complete.

Fred and Nancy made two consecutive September visits to England to visit studios and study English stained glass. Of the three studios they visited, two were husband and wife teams who were predominately in window art.

Still a registered architect in Texas, Fred says he does only a little architectural work today.

"An architect," he says, "draws out plans on a piece of paper and turns it over to a builder." In stained glass, the talented artist designs, builds and follows through - not finished until the "glass paintings" are in place, capturing and reflecting their beauty through the marvels of man-made light and the glorious light placed here by God.

$30,000 Grant Designated For Lamb County

Word was received this week from the office of Congressman George M. Mahon that an Emergency Energy Conservation Program grant for $30,000 had been made to South Plains Community Action Association Incorporated of Levelland. Director is Howard Maddera.

South Plains Community Action Association serves 13 counties including Lamb County. The grant is effective Oct. 1, running 12 months.

Information from Mahon's states the program is aimed for "winterizing" for the elderly and some persons."

Hometown fans, former students and teachers and a large number of special guests are expected to partake of hamburgers and the trimmings, topped off with pie, at the annual PTA Hamburger Supper Friday, Oct. 10.

To be held in the school cafeteria, serving hours will be from 5 to 7 p.m. Supper price is unchanged from last year with adults and children enjoying super Mustang Hamburgers for just $1.50 per person. Proceeds of the supper will go into a scholarship fund to presented to an outstanding boy and girl member of the Class of '76. If possible, a third scholarship will be awarded next spring.

Food committee members are asking that PTA members and other interested persons contribute two pounds of hamburger meat or money (suggested donation, $2) to help purchase needed items for the supper. Also needed, if home gardeners still have the items available, are onions and tomatoes. Any person who has vegetables they can contribute to the project is asked to call Mrs. Joe Harrell, 285-3359.

Contributions of meat and money should be turned in at the school cafeteria by Wednesday, Oct. 8. Tomatoes and onions should also be taken that day.

McClure Wins Grid Contest

Carl McClure came very close to posting a perfect entry in last week's football guessing game, missing just one game and almost predicting the actual score of the Mustangs-Longhorns tie-breaker. The junior high school principal was kept from a flawless entry by Plainview's loss to Midland Lee; his tie-breaker prediction was 28-7 just one point less than the Mustangs score and one point over the Longhorns' number.

Five contestants missed just two games each with the tie-breaker determining second and third place monies to Pedro Rivera and Jack Williamson, respectively. Rivera was three points off with a 26-6 prediction; Williamson, five points away with a 25-7 guess.

Others who missed two games and their tie-breaker predictions were Deryl Clark, 12 points, 18-7; Basil Sherman, 15, 22-14; and Ruby Lee Sherman, 17, 20-14.

Two persons still share the season lead although neither was in the top spot a week ago. Jim Curtsinger and Ricky Smith hold 37 correct guesses each. Four persons are just one point back and a total of 41 contestants have 30 or more points. Season standings are listed elsewhere.

Contestants are reminded again that care should be taken in filling their entry blanks. One entry was received this week in which the name and address were left blank. That type error is very "costly" to contestants seeking the grand prize, $50 cash.

Any one can be a weekly winner. It costs nothing to enter and the contest is open to everyone. It's easy, select a winner in the games listed in each of the ads of the 15 sponsoring merchants listed on the contest page in the Enterprise. Circle that number on the entry blank and predict the tie-breaker score. Fill in the entry blank and deposit with any of the sponsoring merchants.

Be sure to tell the sponsor that you enjoy the contest and appreciate their making it possible. Trade with them, they appreciate your business.

'New Member Night' Set

"New Member Night" has been designated for Tuesday, Sept. 30 for boys who are interested in Cub Scouting and their parents. This includes boys eight, nine and ten years of age who are interested in becoming Cub Scouts and those who have already been Cubs.

Chuck Hornung, Haynes District Scout Executive, will meet with parents and sons in the 7:30 p.m. meeting in room 19 of H.P. Webb Elementary School.

"Cub Scouting is for boys to enjoy with their family," Hornung says. "It is fun and educational." He will assist pack leaders and help with the assignment of new dens. Mrs. Joe Riney, Den Leader Coach, will also attend and is available to help new den mothers become acquainted with Scouting. Persons who are interested but who cannot attend the meeting may contact her at 889-3369 for help in getting started.

At least one parent must accompany each boy; both are urged to attend.

"Boys today," Hornung says, "face an ever changing world, full of rockets, space, business and adventure. They will be called upon to face challenges yet undreamed. We can and must help them prepare for a better tomorrow."

"The whole family participates in the Cub Scout program. All activities are slanted toward the home and neighborhood, and are built around the changes and needs of the boys.

Bring the whole family Tuesday night - there's no need for a babysitter!"

Consumer Service Program Announced By Postmaster

A nationwide Consumer Service Program designed to improve and broaden the quality of mail service was announced today by Postmaster D.M. Holt.

Beginning Oct. 1 the U.S. Postal Service will introduce a program at the Olton Post Office and other offices across the nation to encourage mail users to register problems they may have with their mail service.

At the core of the program is a consumer service card, through which problems are identified and which postal managers attempt to expeditiously resolve.

Postmaster Holt urged customers in Olton to bring their inquiries and complaints to the attention of postal managers. And if people feel their problems have not been properly handled, the Postmaster said, they should see him personally.

The card should take no more than two minutes to fill out.

"We want you to come to us with your problems," concluded Postmaster Holt. "The whole point of this service program is to bring your problems and gripes out into the open where we can attempt to resolve them."

Guess & Win Contest Slated

"Guess the difference in yields and win a calculator" is the challenge thrown out by Olton Farm Supply as they open a brand new contest.

The "guess" is to be based upon the difference in the yield of the non-resistant sorghum and the Green Bug Resistant sorghum presently growing on the farm of Larry Witten, two miles east of the city.

Contestants are asked to visit the fields, make an estimate of the difference anticipated in the two varieties, and register the "guess" with Olton Farm Supply.

All guesses must be registered before the grain is harvested... the closest guess wins a useful calculator, according to statement made by Don Spain, owner.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Can't you just smell the homecoming excitement in the air? Or do you, like me, find the autumn season bringing the stuffy-yet-runny nose and the teary eyes of hay fever?

I blurted "Hay fever is for the birds." to a lady a few days ago and she answered "Yes, but the birds aren't the ones who get it." How right!

There are, though, so many activities being planned for the Homecoming-Bicentennial weekend Oct. 10-11. Oh it's going to be the very best yet!

If you aren't familiar with that ailment "lack of funds" you might not realize that the planning committee has no funds to pay for mailing letters to former students. There are letters written so why don't ya'll get together with classmates and delegate a committee to mail letters to your fellow classmates and graduates?

FROM OKLAHOMA

Mrs. R.K. Arnold of Duncan, Okla. came Tuesday to visit her niece, Miss Chestnut Thomas, and nephews and nieces-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Thomas. Also a nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Thomas of Littlefield.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

G.A. Bodkin was dismissed Monday from High Plains Baptist Hospital, Amarillo where he stayed two weeks.

RECENT VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Lewis of Comstock left Saturday after staying during the week with his father, Mr. O. Lewis and Derwood's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hyatt.

Come on, let's do it. The letters are to be picked up at the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture office.

The Arts and Crafts Show slated for that weekend promises to be something super too! Be sure you put that on your calendar!

We have so many very talented artists. I just drool when I see how very good they are. Then there's me! I can paint, too, though. I can paint a perfectly flat wall so well that you'd be willing to swear some kindergartner got hold of the paint can.

Seriously. Be sure to mark Oct. 10-11 on your calendar. You'll be extra glad you're an Oltonite!

IN HEREFORD

Dr. and Mr. Van E. Brimhall and Lisa were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mannschreck Jr. of Hereford. Other guests at the dinner observing the host's birthday were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mannschreck of Oklahoma City, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gardner of Hereford.

TORO GRAIN

The Lockney Longhorns, trying desperately to avenge two losses to the Olton Mustangs last year, came out flying as they scored on the first play of the game, but it wasn't enough as the Mustangs quickly recovered to take a 29-6 win before the home folks.

Lockney won the toss and elected to receive. Glenn Johnson's kick was recovered by the Longhorns at their own 38. On the first play from scrimmage, QB Bernie Ford found his flanker, Rolland Bennett, in the clear for 62 yds. and a touchdown. Leslie Gary foiled the attempt for two by tackling Ford before he could get untracked, but before the Mustangs could bat an eyelash they were behind 6-0.

David Johnson finally found the handle and returned Mark Sherman's kick-off to the 23, where the Mustangs started first and ten. Glenn Johnson came out running as he picked up 14 yards on his first two carries for the Mustangs first down of the night. After Gary plunged to the 40, the Longhorn defense stopped Johnson cold, leaving the Mustangs with a third and seven situation. Jimmy Parker's pass attempt to Steve Johnson fell incomplete and Olton was forced to punt.

A high snap from center went through Michael Franks' hands and Lockney recovered the ball on the Mustangs 16 yard line. The Longhorn's bid for another touchdown was halted as Glenn Johnson intercepted Ford's pass and returned it to the 23.

But the stubborn Longhorn defense dug in and stopped the Mustangs cold, forcing another punt. Franks' kick took a nice healthy bounce before rolling dead at the Longhorn's 25 yard line. The Longhorn's then started a drive of their own before penalties drove them back. Steve Johnson fielded Ford's punt at the 15 and returned it to the 27 before being brought down.

Three straight carries by Glenn Johnson netted 9 yards, and the Mustangs were faced with a fourth and one situation at their own 36 yard line. Again the Longhorn defense came to the rescue as they dropped Parker for a four yard loss and gained possession of the ball at the Mustang's 32, leaving Lockney with another chance of scoring.

Olton's defense rose to the occasion as they held Lockney to 3 yds. on their first two plays of this series. Then, Jimmy Parker broke up a pass attempt to Ricky Hrbacek, and Rolland Bennett was stopped short of a first down and Olton took over at their own 25. This ended first quarter action with the scoreboard reading Lockney-6, Olton-0.

After a holding penalty pushed the Mustangs back to the 17, Parker raced around right end to the 23 and on the next play hit Michael Franks on a pass good for 20 yards. Franks was shaken up on the play but later returned to action. On the very next play, Parker, who ended the night with 11 completions on 17 attempts, threw the bomb to Mark Stroebel down to Lockney's 21 yard line. Two plays later, Parker again tossed it to Stroebel in the end-zone to tie the score. The PAT was no good and the score stood 6-6 with 7:56 left in the half.

Kevin Workman recovered Johnson's onside kick-off at the 50 and Olton kept possession of the ball. Runs by Johnson, Stroebel, and Gary, moved the ball to the Lockney 31 where Parker connected with Franks who was brought down at the two. Johnson then provided Olton with the remaining two yards needed for the touchdown and Franks provided the PAT, and Olton had control of the game with a 14-6 pad. That ended all first half scoring as Lockney was content to run out the clock.

Lockney's Mark Sherman kicked-off to start the second half of play and Workman returned to the 40. The Mustangs then proceeded to march down to Lockney's three, sparked by another Parker to Stroebel pass. But, Gary fumbled at the three and Lockney took over. Neither team could get anything going for the rest of the quarter and the score remained 14-6. The fourth and final quarter of the game started with Olton fumbling the ball to Lockney. This Longhorn drive turned into the last real hope for Lockney. The Longhorn's offense got itself together and marched toward Olton's goal line. But another bad break, a fumble, gave the ball back to Olton at the eight.

The Mustangs controlled the ball for the majority of the rest of the game adding two more touchdowns. The first one a result of yet another Parker to Stroebel pass. The two point conversion was good and with the scoreboard reading 22-6, it appeared that Olton would defeat the Longhorns 22-6 for the third straight time. But Stroebel caught another pass, this one though was a Lockney pass and returned it to Lockney's two. Parker then went in to the end-zone on the next play, Workman added the PAT, and the final score was 29-6 in favor of the Mustangs.

Jr Hi Gridsters Win, Tie and Lose Couple

Seventh and eighth grade footballers played Levelland Thursday, Sept. 18 and emerged with one win; one tie.

Topping their opponents 28-18, the seventh grade gridsters' scoring came of TD's by Tommy Cabrera and David Smith. Cabrera tallied three times on runs of 35, 45, and 5 yards. Smith scored from 10 yards.

Lance Phares picked up two extra points; Kenny Smith, two. Other outstanding offensive performers were DeBerry, Garcia and Marquez. Outstanding defense was displayed by Luera, Sanchez, Perez and Hodges.

SCORING BY QUARTERS
Olton 0-14-6-8
Levelland 6-0-6-6

Eighth grade teams played a breath-stopper with the final whistle showing 0-0 on the scoreboard. Coach Tom Duncan said, "We beat them really, we had more first downs, more yardage and more penetrations." Levelland virtually out-manned the Colts by 20 pounds per man, he said, "sometimes 40 pounds per man."

Outstanding offensive players were Greg Davis, Charles Brown, Rudolfo Salinas and Marty Walters. Defense stand-outs were Matt Lloyd, Robert Harrell, Brad Burgess and Larry Perez.

Four days later, the OJHS footballers traveled to Floydada and were whipped 26-6 and 30-0.

Seventh graders took a 6-0 lead with a 65-yd run by K. Smith on the third play of the game. Extras were no good. The Breezers then piled up 26 points.

Offensive stand-outs were K. Smith, Sivley, Holland and LaDuke. Defense stand-outs were Sanchez, Boone and DePrang.

Blitzed 30-0 by a quicker Floydada squad, the eighth graders were paced offensively by C. Brown, Stroebel, Williams and Powers. Outstanding defense was by G. Davis, Rejino, and Perez. "So far this season," Coach Duncan says, "our players have given great effort and shown a winning attitude. We will continue to work hard. Just because we have one loss, we haven't lost the whole war."

"Our next opponent," he said, "will be Abernathy at Abernathy on Sept. 30. Seventh grade plays at 5 p.m.; eighth grade at 6 p.m. We'll begin district play here Oct. 8 against Dimmitt."

Grain Sale Curtailment Launched By GSPA

A call for a curtailment of any further sales of grain by producers has been launched by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association. This action came following an announcement by the U.S. State Department on Sept. 22 that the embargo of grain sales to Russia would be extended to other eastern European countries such as Poland.

GSPA president A.W. Anthony, Jr., of Friona stated, "It is time for the American producers to start speaking the only language the White House apparently understands - this being a boycott." Anthony asked that all grain producers join in this effort.

It should be the decision of all farmers not to sell any more grain until the administration gives complete and unqualified assurance that the American farmer has free access to all markets including Russia for the 1975 crop or until farmers are able to sell their grain for full parity, according to the GSPA official. The current parity on grain sorghum is $5.16 cwt. Corn parity is $3.07 per bushel.

Anthony stated, "Producers were given assurance at planting and also at the time of the farm bill veto that we would have free access to all world markets. The current embargo on sales to Russia is a complete reversal of these assurances and farmers should react by stopping all sales of grain until these requirements are met. It is time the administration and American consumers alike be concerned about farmers' problems."

Anthony said, "It is time that American consumers see whether the labor unions or the U.S. farmers control the food supply of this country. We have 'cooled it' long enough. At present, this is our only chance of making the farmers' views known."

Texas Fourth In Potato Production

Texas will rank fourth in the nation in production of summer Irish potatoes in 1975, according to figures recently released.

With summer potato harvest on the High Plains rapidly nearing completion, production is forecast at 1,785,000 pounds per hundredweight, twenty percent below 1974 production, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

The 1975 production figure compares with 2,244,000 pounds per hundredweight in 1974.

Harvested acreage is expected to be 8,500. Of that figure, 4,600 acres produced fresh market white potatoes and 2,600 acres produced fresh market red potatoes. Potatoes going to potato chip manufacturers were grown on 1,300 acres.

Yield per acre is estimated at 210 per hundredweight, nearly the same as 1974 yields.

A few fields in the Hereford area suffered some wind and hail losses, but the majority of the crop escaped damage.
