South Koreans Take Vital Hill In Battle

SEOUL Oct. 8 (AP)—South Korean infantrymen, fighting with bayonets, tonight recaptured a vital shell-cratered peak overlooking the ancient invasion route to Seoul in a brutal battle that has raged since Monday night.

A front line officer said the Korean troops cut a Chinese battalion of 700 men down to 150 in recapturing the crest of White Horse Hill on the Western Front.

The peak—main objective of the biggest Communist attack in a year—has changed hands more than a dozen times as both sides threw tanks, artillery and men into the raging battle.

A few hours earlier, the Chinese recklessly charged through an Allied artillery barrage and captured the crest. Then they hit the Korean defenders on the south slope but the Republicans held fast.

Fighting was only slightly less bitter elsewhere along the front as the big Red offensive moved into its third day.

Allied warplanes rocketed overhead, plastering Red lines directly behind the front.

Earlier today in Seoul, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, said:

"The Eighth Army has stopped all attacks without any penetration of its main battle positions. Action has been limited to outposts, and the enemy has been clobbered in that area.

"The troops which have participated in the current action are as elated over the good shooting as I am. Morale never has been higher."

And U. N. negotiators postponed indefinitely the armistice talks at Panmunjom. Top U. N. officials stressed that the talks were not necessarily at an end.

AP correspondent Milo Farneti reported from the front that the crest of White Horse Mountain was a shell-shattered no man's land. It had changed hands 12 times in 42 hours of almost continuous fighting.

White Horse, and nearby Arrowhead ridge, guard the sprawling Chorwon Valley and the gateway to the South. The peaks have been the main target of the Red offensive.

Farneti said the battered remnants of a Red battalion were dug in on one slope. South Koreans were just off the peak on the other side.

Felony Cases Postponed In District Court

Trial of contested criminal district court cases, scheduled to begin Monday, has been indefinitely postponed because of the district attorney's resignation, Ben F. Thorpe, district judge, said today.

Judge Thorpe said he had scheduled calling of the criminal docket next Monday but would have to postpone it in fairness to the district attorney's successor.

Robert S. Davie, incumbent attorney, has offered his resignation to the governor, effective Saturday. Judge Thorpe said he was of the opinion the governor was required by law to appoint the district attorney elect to fill the remainder of Davie's unexpired term.

Renal B. Rosson, nominated in the second primary election, said he had not received any word from the governor. Asked whether he could assume the duties of the office Saturday, Rosson said he would if appointed.

Davie was appointed to the office by Governor Allan Shivers when the new district was created more than a year ago and sought an elective term this year.

Guill Speaker At Rally Here Thurs. Night

Ben Guill of Pampa, former Republican congressman and present manager of the state Eisenhower campaign headquarters in Fort Worth, has notified Republicans here of his acceptance of an invitation to speak at a rally tomorrow night.

Mrs. S. L. Surratt, manager of the Eisenhower headquarters here and state committeewoman from this district said she had been notified by Guill that he would arrive here tomorrow afternoon. The rally is planned for 8 o'clock in the district courtroom.

Although Guill will be chief speaker, a brief speech is to be made by Mrs. R. C. Rich, a leader in the league of women voters at Houston.

Mrs. Surratt, who is keeping the headquarters office in the lobby of the Manhattan Hotel, said she knew of several Democrats who favored the Republican candidates and were planning to attend the rally. "This is pleasing to us," she said, "since we are anticipating the event as non-partisan rally of people who want Eisenhower as a good American."

French Police Make New Raids On Reds

PARIS, Oct. 8 (AP) — Police launched a series of lightning raids today on Communist and Red front organizations and newspapers in nearly every big city in France.

An authorized official source said the Paris military tribunal had ordered the raids to investigate alleged threats to the security of the state and of "demoralization of the army."

Offices of 16 organizations in Paris was searched.

Superfort Is Believed Shot Near Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A B29 Superfort disappeared yesterday shortly after radar picked up an unidentified plane approaching it from the direction of the Russian-held Kuriles, the Far East Air Forces said today.

The Air Force said radar tracks of the two planes merged.

It did not say the unidentified plane was Russian or that the Superfort was attacked.

The FEAF reported armed F84 Thunderjet fighters were guarding planes searching for the missing B29. It disappeared off Eastern Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island, which is separated by a narrow strait from the Kuriles.

The spokesman said a voice distress call in English, presumably from the bomber, was heard and then a crew member shouted:

"Let's get the hell out of here."

The newspaper Asahi said Japanese police reported a plane, belching black smoke, crashed into the sea near Nemuro, Northeast Hokkaido, at about 2:20 p.m. yesterday. They said the plane hit in Russian-controlled territory.

The spokesman refused comment on that.

The Air Force said the Japan-based Superfort was on a routine flight at 15,000 feet and "was under the customary U. S. radar observation." The radar plot showed it was heading east. The Air Force added:

"A second but unidentified sighting was plotted at about 2:15 p.m. on a westerly heading about seven miles inside Japanese territory.

"The tracks of the unidentified aircraft and the B29 were followed until they merged on the radar scope about eight miles northwest of Nemuro, which point is in Japanese territory about 15 miles from the international border.

Freezing Over Parts Of State

By The Associated Press

A bright sun shining through crystal-clear skies warmed Texas a bit Wednesday after freezing thermometer dropped to a shiver the state before dawn.

At Lufkin in East Texas, the thermometer dropped to a shivering 27 degrees—the lowest morning temperature reported in the state.

One of the earliest frosts on record covered much of the Paris area in North Texas. The official temperature was 32 degrees. But it wasn't believed the frost would damage crops.

Rain still was needed badly.

Not a drop was recorded in the state through 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m.

Chilly dry air that swept in behind a recent cold front brought clear skies over the state.

Latest Government Estimate Shows Cotton Crop Up Some

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—The department of Agriculture today estimated Texas' 1952 cotton crop at 3,600,000 bales—a boost of 100,000 bales over last month's estimate of 3½ million.

For the nation as a whole, the crop was estimated at 14,413,000 bales, up 524,000 bales from last month but still short of 1951's 15,144,000. The 10-year U. S. average (1941-50) is 11,775,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

The better outlook for the Texas crop may reflect the fairly heavy rains and breaks in the heat recorded in parts of the state in September. Today's estimate is based on Oct. 1 conditions.

The USDA left unchanged its estimate of the Texas acreage for harvest — 10,114,000 acres — but boosted from 166 to 171 its estimate of the expected yield of pounds per acre.

The predicted 3,600,000-bale crop would be a bountiful one for Texas, well above the 1941-50 10-year average of 3,020,000 bales. But last year's crop was even better at 4,074,000 bales.

Nationally, the 1952 cotton crop does not measure up to the government's hopes.

Production of American-Egyptian type cotton was estimated at 9,800 bales compared with 47,200 last year and 28,400 for the 10-year average.

Production of lint cotton was estimated at 280.2 pounds per harvested acre compared with 271.9 last year and 267.6 for the 10-year average.

Condition of the crop Oct. 1 was at 71 per cent of normal compared with 74 a year ago and 72 for the 10-year Oct. 1 average.

No estimate of cottonseed production will be made until after the full crop has been ginned. But if the ratio of lint to cottonseed is the same as the average for the past five years, production would be 5,858,000 tons compared with 6,325,000 last year.

No figures on the per cent of the planted acreage abandoned by states was given. The acreage for harvest, the Oct. 1 condition of the crop, the yield per acre, and production, respectively, by states included:

Arkansas 1,865,000, 70, 322 and 1,250,000; Louisiana 884,000, 80, 388 and 715,000; Oklahoma 1,100,00, 39, 94 and 215,000; Texas 10,114,000, 61, 171 and 3,600,000; New Mexico 296,000, 93, 486, and 300,000.

Production of American-Egyptian cotton by states was estimated as follows: Texas 27,000 bales, New Mexico 12,000, Arizona 40,000.

MARINE ROCKET LIFT

When the enemy in Korea began hitting back at rocket launching batteries, guided by smoke and dust trails, the Marines devised this helicopter operation. Usually, two of the craft are used, carrying personnel plus ammunition in cage (left) and the rocket launcher (beneath wheels). The battery is fired, then flown to another spot just back of front lines before the Reds can reply.

Ike Answers Some Of HST Charges

Aboard Eisenhower Train (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower drove his slam-bang attack against the administration and President Truman to California today, hoping to win its 32 electoral votes.

There were indications that he'll personally fight back at criticisms thrown at him by Truman.

He struck back last night at Democratic accusations that he's now trying to disclaim responsibility for foreign policies that he helped to decide.

Truman has said Eisenhower perilled the United States by not sizing up the Russian threat after the war.

Eisenhower answered that in Eugene, Ore., last night. He said:

"As you know, ladies and gentlemen, through this region another Truman's campaign train preceded mine some time back. From its back platform, many red hot salvoes were loosed at me. Now one of those charges made was that in 1945 I expressed the hope and belief that Russia wanted to establish a workable friendship with us. I was testifying for increased Army strength. I proposed that we hope for the best and be prepared for the worst.

"Now, I think if we had not pursued such a policy at that time, today in view of the chaos in which the world exists, we would be terribly blaming ourselves for not having done our best. Yet from the back platform of a campaign train came the charge that because of that hope and that belief I had done much to destroy the safety of my country.

"And that charge came from the very same man who only three years later, remember, in 1948, came to this town, and said:

"I like old Uncle Joe Stalin. Joe is a decent fellow. But the people that run the government won't let him be as decent as he would like to be."

Eugene Mayor Edwin Johnson estimated the crowd at 6,000.

Truce Talks Are Off Again

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP)—The Allies today indefinitely postponed Korean armistice negotiations and bluntly told the Reds the next move was up to them.

The dramatic action was taken on "higher authority," Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters said without elaboration.

The postponement was taken until the Communists either accept an Allied proposal for settling the stalemate over prisoner of war exchange or make "a constructive proposal of their own."

What may prove to be the final break in the talks, started 15 months ago, resulted from a deadlock in the knotty problem of prisoner of war exchange, last unsolved item on the agenda.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison senior Allied negotiator, said the Allied team would return to the truce site any time the Reds were ready to accept one of three alternate Allied plans for settling the POW question or were willing to make "a constructive proposal" in writing.

Crashes Occur In Suburban Station

HARROW, England, Oct. 8 (AP)—Two collisions involving three trains killed at least 82 persons here today and piled wooden coaches 50 feet high in a mass of wreckage.

Some of the dead were in the coaches; others were mowed down at they waited on a station platform.

Officials to the government-operated railways said the death toll may top 120. More than 130 persons were treated at hospitals and hundreds received first aid.

The wreck came just after 8 a.m., at the height of the morning commuting rush. The scene was the station in this Middlesex village 10 miles northwest of London.

Eight hours later, rescue workers still were digging through the debris in search of additional victims.

ONE EXPRESS LATE

The collisions involved two fast expresses and a packed suburban train.

First, an express running 95 minutes late from Perth, Scotland, to London rocketed into the rear of a stationary suburban train. The express locomotive sheared through the wooden coaches, jammed with 600 passengers seated and standing, and blocked both main lines.

Seconds later, another express, bound from London to Manchester, plowed into the wreckage. Its two locomotives leaped from the tracks and skittered along a platform full of commuters waiting for other trains, mowing them down like a giant scythe.

SMASHES CROSSWALK

Derailed coaches rode up on each other until the topmost smashed into a crosswalk 45 feet above the tracks, knocking a huge segment out of it and plummeting pedestrians into the wreckage.

The terrific double impact threw chunks of debris clear through one wall of the Harrow Station and into a shopping center 150 feet away.

When the known dead passed 80, about eight hours after the wreck, a railways official said:

"If our worst fears prove right there will be another 40 dead in the wreckage we haven't been able to reach yet."

One American serviceman was on the first death list. His name was given as Donald G. Woodvale, Air Force serial No. 19372075, stationed at a maintenance depot.

A suburban train standing in the station was hit from behind by an express bound for London from Scotland. As the wreckage of the first two trains sprawled over the tracks, the London-to-Manchester express plowed into it.

Two of the three locomotives were flung broadside across the tracks. At one point three splintered carriages were piled on top of one another.

The overhead bridge connecting the northbound and southbound station platforms was ripped down on the wreckage.

Ambulances and doctors rushed from all main communities in west London. All available ambulances were called out and moving vans and other trucks were pressed into service to help carry the injured to hospitals.

Volunteer rescue workers clawed at the wreckage with their bare hands to remove victims.

Bodies of the dead were lined up alongside the tracks. One passenger likened the scene to that of a wartime air raid. Clouds of burning steam rolled through the battered coaches, adding to the panic of passengers trying to grope their way to safety.

William Ingham of Wembley, riding in the fourth carriage of the London-Manchester Express, said, "It just fell to pieces around us.

"The carriage just seemed to float up into the air. Then there was a crash and our coach was on the platform, or what was left of it."

Mrs. Elsie Webber, the tobacco vendor on the station platform, said the double impact almost knocked her little shop down.

"I ran out and saw smoke and steam coming all over the place," she said. "The station was all twisted. There was wreckage piled 15 feet around my stand."

A flying chunk of debris smashed the station clock, fixing the exact time of the crash—8:19 a.m.

Russian Jets Fire On Air Force Plane

BERLIN, Oct. 8 (AP)—Two Soviet jet fighters fired several machine-gun bursts—apparently as a warning—across the path of a U. S. Air Force ambulance plane enroute to Berlin to pick up patients today. The American plane escaped in a cloud and landed here unhit.

After interviewing the plane's crew, Maj. Gen. Lemuel B. Mathewson, U. S. commandant in Berlin, said an immediate protest would be made to the Soviet high command.

The plane, a twin-engine DC, was en route to Berlin with an Army nurse aboard to evacuate Army patients for special treatment at base hospitals in West Germany.

The crew reported the two Soviet MIG15 jets swooped on them and fired several machine-gun bursts across their path.

The American pilot "flew directly into cloud cover which happened to be at hand and got away," Gen. Mathewson said.

Iran's Leader Makes Demand

LONDON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh has demanded 56 million dollars from Britain within a week to clear the way for a swift "final" settlement of the British-Iranian oil dispute, it was officially disclosed today.

The demand was made in the Iranian reply to joint British-American proposals for settling the dispute that has plunged Iran to near bankruptcy and left virtually idle the nationalized 1½ billion dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

The figure represented a drop from $137,200,000 requested at first by Mossadegh as the amount due his country in disputed oil royalties. Mossadegh sought that amount also as a condition for resuming oil talks.

Adlai Takes After McCarthy In Wisconsin Speech Today

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson carried his presidential campaign into the Wisconsin bailiwick of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today with the assertion that the "voice of the accuser" must not still all others in the land.

The Democratic nominee—in an apparent team operation with President Truman and Sen. John Sparkman, the vice presidential candidate—geared up a fresh onslaught on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Republican record on domestic and foreign policies.

Stevenson was preparing to sail into Eisenhower as representing only a mouthpiece for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in a major address in Milwaukee tonight.

He picked McCarthy—without naming the senator in the advance text handed to newsmen—as the object for attack in a speech prepared for a University of Wisconsin Field House audience.

Declaring that "the pillorying of the innocent has caused the wise to stammer and the timid to retreat," the Illinois governor left no doubt he was aiming at McCarthy when he asserted:

"I hope the time will never come in America when charges are taken as the equivalent of facts, when suspicions are confused with certainties and when the voice of the accuser stills every other voice in the land."

Stevenson has chided Eisenhower for supporting McCarthy's bid for re-election, despite the Wisconsin senator's attack on the patriotism of Gen. George C. Marshall the Republican nominee's old friend.

Eisenhower has said that while he will support all of the Republican nominees for Congress—including McCarthy, who conferred with him when the general was campaigning in Wisconsin—he does not condone "besmirching the reputation of any innocent man or condemning by loose association."

Democrats contend McCarthy has done just that. And Stevenson told an enthusiastic, overflow audience in Detroit's 4,500-seat Masonic Temple last night that McCarthy had failed to turn up a single Communist with "wild and reckless" charges.

"Catching real Communist agents, like killing poisonous snakes or tigers, is not a job for amateurs or children, especially noisy ones," he said coldly. "It is a job for professionals who know their business and their adversaries."

Truman Praises Brannan; Hits Ike's Farm Speeches

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN, Oct. 8 (AP)—President Truman said today Dwight D. Eisenhower's farm speeches show he doesn't know much about what's being going on in the U. S. during the 40 years he's been in the Army.

The President carried into the Midwest farm belt his fight to convince voters the general isn't qualified for the presidency. Truman said the GOP nominee is talking downright silly and insulting the intelligence of farm men and women.

Truman said that in an address prepared for delivery at the Harvest Jubilee at Shenandoah, Ia.

The President declared the Democratic Party has regimented farmers so badly that the vast majority of them now own their own farms.

With the help of the biggest agriculture research program ever undertaken he said American farmers have stepped up farm output by 50 per cent in 20 years. No longer do we have 15-cent corn and 3-cent hogs he said. But we remember them.

Truman took issue with Eisenhower for his speech at Kasson, Minn., describing the Brannan Plan for price supports for perishables moral bankruptcy.

LAUDS BRANNAN

The President said Agriculture Secretary Brannan has done one of history's greatest jobs in that office and that last fiscal year his price support operations gave the treasury a net income of more than 100 million dollars.

He said Brannan made to Congress the best recommendations any one had thought of up to that time for providing supports for perishable commodities like hogs, eggs and milk, and better than anyone has thought of since.

They were presented as the basis for discussion, Truman went on, but his political opponents decided to make a campaign issue of it instead.

They decided to call it a plan and to call it "socialism and thought that if they could say it often enough people would believe it," the President said.

Truman said that in Kasson, the Republican candidate "fell in with this little scheme and he indulged in some cheap name calling. He called the Brannan Plan 'moral bankruptcy' and other names. Did he say what was wrong with the Brannan Plan? No, not a word of specific criticism. He just promised that the Republicans would find some way to accomplish the same objectives that Secretary Brannan would accomplish—only without any bankruptcy in their morals."

At Colorado Spring, Colo., yesterday reporters thought Truman was as grim as they'd ever seen him in his assault on Eisenhower. Truman is making a coast-to-coast tour in behalf of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate.

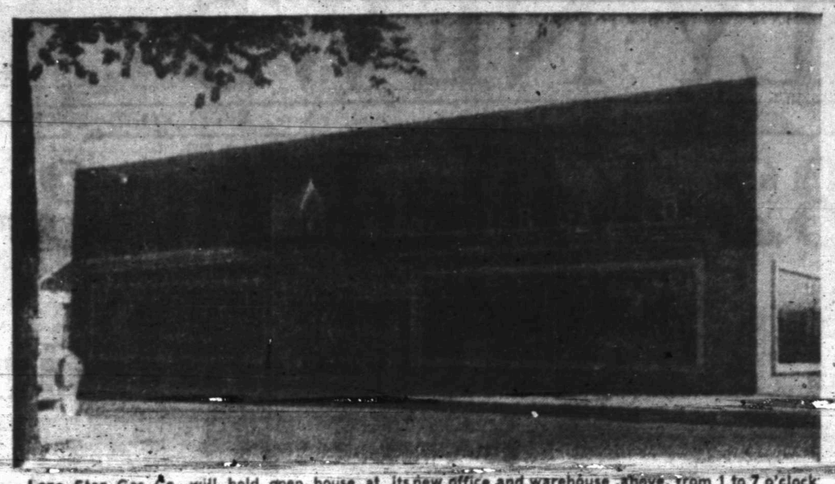

The President accused Eisenhower of betraying life-long principles and his best friends by supporting what he called such "morel pigmies" as Republican Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and William E. Jenner of Indiana.

Truman admitted that he once considered Eisenhower qualified for the presidency and went on to say that "I am now convinced that I was absolutely wrong."

He contended that Eisenhower betrayed his principles and supporters by adopting "reactionary" views on foreign policy and national defense.

He accused Eisenhower of declaring support for every Republican candidate "whether that man is the blackest of reactionaries, a diehard isolationist, or even a moral scoundrel."

And there he tied into Eisenhower for failing the President said, to defend Gen. George C. Marshall, World War II chief of staff and former secretary of state, against attacks by McCarthy and Jenner. He did not mention the Senators by name.

Reporter And Principal Vie

HOUSTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—A Houston elementary school principal said he was only "trying to help" the reporter who accused the principal of snatching away his notes.

Joe Maranto, Houston Chronicle reporter, said he was at the Smiley Elementary School to get information about overcrowding. Maranto said classes were being held on the ground under a tree.

The principal, Andrew P. Davis, said that the school had only "normal overcrowding." He said that no classes other than physical education classes were held outside.

Davis said he had taken "some stories from Maranto because Maranto had promised to have them checked by the school superintendent's office.

Maranto said Davis had asked for the notes, that the reporter refused but said he would check with the superintendent. Maranto said Davis then told him everything Davis had told him about overcrowded conditions was false and snatched the notes away.

Gossip Brings Slander Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Wendy Barrie is suing her former husband for $250,000 for alleged slander. She charges he gossiped that she was living immorally with a man and supporting him.

Miss Barrie denied the charges in a complaint filed yesterday in Federal Court against David L. Meyer. She said he slandered her thrice last spring by telling various persons here and in Florida that she was "openly living with 'Cappy' Smith as man and wife without being married, and is supporting him."

Smith was not identified in the suit. However, her attorneys describe Smith as a "mere acquaintance."

Meyer, a textile manufacturer, and Miss Barrie were married 1946 and divorced in 1950.

The suit gave a Palm Beach Shores, Fla., address for Meyer.

Shivers Asks Help On Vote Code Of State

AUSTIN, Oct. 8 (AP)—Further improvement of the Texas Election Code is needed despite long strides by last year's Legislature, Gov. Shivers said yesterday.

He asked the president of the State Bar Assn. to name a committee of attorneys to work on the faults in the new code and to make recommendations which the governor could make to the Legislature meeting in January.

Shivers listed eight major problems to be studied and said other discrepancies also made the need for revision of the code obvious.

"Among the provisions needing clarification, amplification or correction are the following," he wrote:

1. The law does not make it clear whether the deadline for candidates to file for a place on the ballot is also the deadline for payment of the filing fee.

2. The formula for determining filing fees cannot be applied to the office of lieutenant governor, and, therefore, there is doubt as to what the correct filing fee for this office should be.

3. Absentee voting for the second primary starts before the returns of the first primary are certified by the executive committee.

4. There is question whether the code provides for the cross-filing of candidates. If it does, the provisions governing it are obscure and inadequate.

5. The date on which reports of campaign expenditures must be in the secretary of state's office needs clarifying.

6. It is not clear whether a vacancy on the ballot must be filled if the nominee of a convention or primary withdraws.

7. It is not clear how many loyalty affidavits are required of the candidates. Is one required for the primary and also the general election?

8. Moving the primaries to an earlier date has been suggested.

Lighter Side Of Politics Can Be Seen In Battles Over State

By The Associated Press

Big grins and slight chuckles took over usually serious Texas politics Tuesday, at a giggle-a-minute pace.

But it was still politics...

Take the scene at the State Fair of Texas. A pretty blonde in the Stevenson - Sparkman Democratic booth, busy sorting literature to hand out, had time to say a cheery "good morning" to passersby.

She apparently didn't know what was about to happen across the boulevard.

When the fair opened Saturday, the Democrats had a fair-sized white booth with large placards and a neon sign telling Texans to vote for Adlai Stevenson and his running mate, John Sparkman.

GOP TURQUOISE

Across the wide street, the Republicans—or Democrats helping them—had a turquoise-painted Eisenhower-Nixon booth, a bit smaller.

That was too much for the GOP. Tuesday morning they finished work on a new booth with windows on all sides and painted red, white and blue. Big billboards went up, and Republicans launched a huge silver balloon with "Ike" printed on it. But still no blonde...

In Houston, Eisenhower-Supporter John Blaffer had let his enthusiasm for the Republican candidate get him in a slight jam.

Blaffer, an oil man, ordered some confetti to throw on a parade planned for Eisenhower next Tuesday when he is in Houston for a speech. But because of a tight schedule, the parade has been cancelled.

WHAT TO DO?

Now [illegible] has his confetti—a whole truckload—and no place to throw it.

On a [illegible] Dallas street, a Stevenson backer was telling an "undecided" voter why he should "stay with the Democrats."

"Remember, those 33-cent steak you didn't have the money to buy?" asked the Stevenson man. "Look what the Democrats have done for you!"

"Yeah," said the wavering Democrat, "but they ain't done nothing for me this year!

"The Dallas Morning News, supporting Eisenhower in the present campaign, joyfully announced that Adlai Stevenson was backing Ike.

Of course it was another man—not the Democratic Party's candidate.

ADLAI FOR IKE

The News quoted Caddo Mills Druggist Adlai Stevenson, 59, as saying "it was my name long before the Democratic nominee was born."

Both men were named for the same man—the nominee's grandfather—but are not kinsmen.

About the only serious news of the day, politically speaking, came from State Democratic Headquarters.

The Democrats announced Senator Tom Connally would introduce the presidential nominee when he speaks in Houston, Oct. 18. And Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, the Democrats said, would introduce Stevenson, Oct. 17, when he's in Dallas.

Speaker Rayburn also announced that in case of rain Stevenson would speak at the Sportatorium, a wrestling arena, instead of at the State Fair grounds...

Mrs. Bess Fish of the Vogue Beauty Shop combs Miss Donna Scarlett's hair into the new "cosma direct trend".

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

The ducktail, ponytail and poodle have been replaced by another member of the animal kingdom, the "winged movement". Or, at least that is the story told to us by local beauticians.

The part in the hair has been omitted and the top swept up into an almost pompadour. The back is either sleek or short. The real ducktail is now non-existent, but a variation of it has been brushed up.

The hair is being worn a little longer, also, so that it shows under the new style hats. However according to Mrs. Velma Randolph of the Charm Beauty Shop, the hair will not be longer than three or four inches. She stated that hair styles always get longer in the fall, so when next spring comes, we may start cutting again.

A new fad in Paris that has worked its way to Snyder is called the "cosmo direct trend" in which the hair will not be longer than sides. A high wave rises above the forehead line and is directed to the left and swirled down over the forehead in a bang effect over one temple. The hair at the nape is brushed out and molded to the head. Distinct curls are taboo this season.

The reason given by hairdressers for the longer lengths is that it will provide an opportunity for style. Instead of every head looking alike regardless of head and face structure as with the poodle, there can be personal hair styling.

The new vogue of no part and brushed out curls even extends to hair-dos for little girls. However, there will be a variation inasmuch as bangs extend completely across the forehead, but the hair is just as short.

Regardless of how Snyder will decide to model fashions after Paris it is doubtful that the final drastic step will be taken. A traveling artist reported that "no fashionable woman in Europe would dream of wearing her hair in its natural color. Color interest—and color variation—is tremendous."

Is there an easy way to unmold a salad without mishap? E. L.

When ready to unmold the food, a knife should be slipped inside the edge of the mold to loosen it. Then the mold is placed in hot water with a plate on top. Turn it upside down and if it does not slip out easily, place it in hot water again, invert over the plate and thump the pan lightly. To prevent the risk of cracking the food should be molded six to 12 hours before. The molds should be filled as full as possible, and when making a ring mold, make the mixture slightly stiffer.

On the labels of sheets I see the phrase "made of combed yarn" and "carded". What is the difference? D. W.

Carding straightens and smoothes the fibers, cleans, untangles and opens them so they can be spun into even yarn. All yarns are carded, no matter what the final quality of the sheet. Combing is an additional process to carding. This removes short fibers left after carding, leaving uniform fibers which are twisted into yarn. Percale sheets made of all combed yarns are smoother than those made of carded yarns, and consequently, higher in price.

To keep washables smoother and easier to iron, after drying hang dresses, blouses, gowns and pajama tops by the shoulder seams. Slips should be hung by the underarm section and shirts by their tails. Hankerchiefs and napkins can be grouped to save space and hung over the line like other flat pieces—never by one corner. Hang sheets and table cloths doubled with hems together one-third over the line to avoid dog-eared corners. Cup towels and pillow cases also should be hung one-third over the line. Steps and labor may be saved if flat clothes are folded as they are taken from the line and placed in a basket on a laundry cart, or a child's wagon.

How can I remove a coffee stain? M. L.

For either coffee or chocolate nothing is better than hot glycerine, apply it to the spot, let it stand for a minute or two, then wash with water or alcohol. Padding or sponging often makes the process more effective. Place a heavy cloth beneath the stain with the right side of the stain down. With a soft cloth moistened light with the cleaning solvent sponge the stain with light brushing motions, working from the outside of the stain to the center. The trick is to "feather out" the liquid around the stain until there is no definite edge when the material dries.

Rain Causing Farmers In Florida Trouble

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)—Flood waters from heavy rains have covered about 10,000 acres of muckland along the southeastern shore of Lake Okeechobee.

Pumps were working around the clock today as farmers sought to drain off from four to six inches of rain which saturated this section of South Florida in a 24-hour period.

Officials of the U. S. Sugar Corp. said harvesting of sugar cane would be delayed. Vegetable crops were threatened.

More rain was forecast for today and tomorrow.

Rhinestone In Navel And Cuban Cigar In Her Mouth

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What's happened to our Anne Baxter?

Long considered one of the most able and more conservative of the younger actress, she started busting loose on her last picture. She played Cleopatra in one sequence and wore a rhinestone in her navel. That did it.

Then she started saying that Hollywood wasn't glamerous enough any more. She also said that conversation is virtually a dead art in the movie town. She dyed her hair blonde, making her look like Marilyn Monroe's sister. And now she's smoking cigars.

Yep, real Havana stogies. But not the long kind.

"They're short and thin, like a cigarette," she told me. "But they're the same makings as the cigars men smoke."

She credits Alfred Hitchcock, her director on "I Confess," with introducing her to cigars.

"We were on location in Quebec," she said. "After dinner, Hitch took out a cigar. It smelled heavenly: light and fragrant. Not the foul, heavy kind of smoke that clings to men's clothes. I tried it and was delighted. So Hitch sent to Cuba for the short, thin cigars, which are more suitable for women. I've been smoking them with coffee after dinner, and they're wonderful."

Miss Baxter said cigar-smoking by women is prevalent in Europe. She sees no reason why American women shouldn't follow suit.

"Of course, the men will raise a fuss," she remarked. "They always complain when they think their domain is being invaded. It was the same way with cigarettes and cocktails. Women might as well get some pleasure out of smoking, too. Cigarettes have become so pure, they're nothing but a nervous habit now."

The actress was dressed at lunch in keeping with her new character. She sported a filmy negligee, which she explained was part of her costume in the picture. She amplified her remarks about the dearth of good conversation in Hollywood.

"I said that most conversation in Hollywood has a boring sameness," she declared. "It's all shop talk. Nobody talks about anything but the movie business. After working in it all day, it bores me stiff to go to a dinner party and hear nothing but talk about the recent movies."

And she actually plans to do something about it. Screen writer Helen Deutsch has offered her home as the locale for some Sunday brunches aimed at producing stimulating conversation.

P. S. Cheering note for pipe smokers: Anne has tried pipes, too, but gave them up. Too messy.

New Ambassador To Czechoslovakia Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman is expected soon to name a new envoy to Communist Czechoslovakia to succeed Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs.

Officials expect the post will go to George Wadsworth, former ambassador to Turkey.

Jap Communist Freed

TOKYO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Nine Communists charged with illegally publishing the Communist paper, "Peace and Independence," were set free yesterday when the Tokyo District Court quashed the indictment against them, Kyodo News Agency reported today.

The court ruled that the anti-occupation activities ordinance No. 325, based on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's past directive, had become invalid.

Tropical Disturbance Being Investigated

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hurricane-hunting plane was to go out from San Juan, Puerto Rico, today to investigate the fifth tropical disturbance of the season.

The storm—not yet a hurricane—was located yesterday about 720 miles east of Antigua, British West Indies, and 2,000 miles southeast of Miami.

It had winds of 55 miles per hour whirling around a well-defined center and was moving north-northwestward at about 11 miles per hour but offered no immediate threat to any land areas.

When eaten, about 96 per cent of edible fats can be digested.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

No Doubt About What Mickey Mantle Do After World Series

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Two main conclusions may be drawn from the World Series which ended yesterday with Brooklyn again in mourning, for the sixth time.

The first is that Mickey Mantle, a 20-year-old from Oklahoma, is destined to become recognized within a few more seasons as the greatest baseball player in the history of the game. The kid can't miss. There's no defense against him.

The second, equally inescapable, is that Casey Stengel, the bemused manager of the New York Yankees, gets advance information from the elves before he makes each move. It would be difficult to prove that he isn't the smartest pilot the game has seen. His coaches are convinced that he is.

Mantle's contributions to his club's 4-2 Series clincher yesterday at Ebbets Field were more spectacular than Stengel's. Everyone in the arena saw the "Pheenom" clout the home run and the single in successive innings—the first lefthanded, the second righthanded—to put victory beyond reach of the Dodgers.

Nobody saw the wheels whirring in Casey's head when he waved in Bob Kuzava, to pitch to Duke Snider, the hottest of the Dodgers, with the bases filled and only one out in the seventh inning. But they were whirring, all right, and it is almost certain that Stengel knew the blond southpaw from Wyandotte, Mich., would stop the National Leaguers lead from there on.

Provided he does not go into the service, Mantle will be still better next year. In only his second season the kid has done everything for the Yanks that Joe DiMaggio did, in an inspirational way.

There was some debate last night whether Mantle or Johnny Mize, the old codger, was the outstanding Yankee in the Series. In this spectator's opinion, it was no contest.

Mize, it is true, came in when things were not looking too good midway of the series and made a number of tremendous contributions to the Yankee cause. In fact, he put them back in the contention when they appeared to be licked.

But Mantle was in there all the way, scaring Brooklyn pitchers to death and fielding like an angel. He led the assault which enabled the Yanks to tie it at 1-1 behind Vic Raschi on Thursday. He provided the insurance second run in Allie Reynolds' Saturday shutout by tripling in the ninth and scoring on Peewee Reese's error.

His home run on Monday proved the winning run in the 3-2 Yankee victory which sent the playoff to the seventh game, and he killed the Dodgers completely dead with his two big ones yesterday.

In all, the Mick propelled 10 hits in 29 appearances for an average of .345. By an amazing coincidence, this was exactly what Reese and Duke Snider did for the Brooklyn cause.

Snider, for a time, looked like being the hero of the Series. In fact, the big swinger from California battled the Yanks right down to the wire while others on his company failed to last. But in the end he had to yield honors to Mantle.

The most unfortunate figure was Joe Black, the big Negro rookie who rocketed the Dodgers in front with a beautifully pitched triumph over Reynolds in the opening game but was turned back by Allie's shutout in the fourth. Manager Charlie Dressen obstinately held Black out of Monday's Yankee equalizer in order to have him well rested for yesterday's big one—and then Joe didn't have it!

Black sat the Yanks down very smartly for the first three innings yesterday, and we like to feel, as an expert second-guesser, that he would have done the same thing the previous day if Dressen had only put him in to protect a 1-0 lead in the last three innings.

After yesterday's third inning, it may be conceded, Black was tired and wavering. So was Ed Lopat, and Vic Raschi, who tried to take Reynolds off the hook.

Preacher Roe, who came in after Black had given up, didn't have a thing except a long time between pitches.

And that was the point at which Stengel wheeled out his secret weapon, Kuzava, the only pitcher in the park who wasn't about to collapse of the blind staggers. Casey used the same tactics against the New York Giants a year ago. It was Kuzava, perhaps the most obscure southpaw in modern history, who snuffed out the final three Giants in the '51 World Series.

He did it again. The Dodgers popped up or struck out or sent harmless flies into the stiff breeze blowing into the plate. When Reese flied to Gene Woodling for the final out in short left field, the Yanks climbed all over Kuzava and gave him a wonderful drubbing.

And Stengel went around thanking each of the little men whom nobody else could see, he told each of them, personally, that he had done a whale of a job all year, and that he would see him next spring at the same old stand.

Squibs About World Series

BROOKLYN (AP)—Things you'll always remember about the 1952 World Series, one of the most dramatic of them all:

First game: Joe Black, Brooklyn's giant rookie, blowing his fast one past Yankees bats...sitting in the locker room afterwards, calmly chewing gum and looking cool as an ice cube..."Nervous?" he says. "I was scared to death."

Second game: The roof falls on Brooklyn's young Carl Erskine, but Carl falls first...in one of the weirdest accidents in series annals, the Dodger righthander climbs a ladder an hour before gametime...he tumbles, bangs an old football knee and puts a knot on his head...Yankees add to the damage in a 7-1 victory.

Third game: Brooklyn wins, 5-3, and Dressen says, "Legs won for us—we stole the game right out from under them with our baserunning."...The hapless victim: the Yanks' squat catcher, Yogi Berra...Pirate-bold, the Dodgers' Peewee Reese and Jackie Robinson steal second and third in the ninth inning, then scamper home on a passed ball...Berra, thumb on his catching hand bleeding, stands there dazed as the two runs score..."All my fault," says Yogi.

Fourth game: It's Black against Reynolds again but this time Reynolds is the master...Jackie Robinson, one of the game's great hitters, three times looking sheepishly at third called strikes..."Can't hit 'em when you can't see em," says Jackie. "But nobody'll ever do that to me again."

Fifth game: The 11-inning thriller at Yankee Stadium goes to the audacious Dodgers, 6-5...Johnny Mize's third home run in as many days—a three-run blast into the rightfield stands that sends a seat-shaking roar through the stadium...But it's Duke Snider's day...Snider hits second homer, then wins the game in the 11th with a ringing double.

Sixth game: Vic Raschi and Allie Reynolds, Yankees' two big siege guns, double team Dodgers, 3-2...Two more home runs by Duke Snider, bracketing him with Ruth and Gehrig as only players to hit four home runs in one series..."Good, gosh, is that true?" asks the Duke, unbelieving.

State Senior Golf Tourney In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 8 (AP)—The defending champion and the medalist were players to beat today after first round victories yesterday in the 16th annual State Senior Golf Tournament.

Medalist Earl Rowe, San Antonio, edged Dave Snelling, Houston, 2 and 1, while Defending Champ John Marston, Houston, defeated Joe Halligan, Fort Worth, 3 and 2.

Former Champ Ed Anderson, Houston, bowed out after a torrid duel of the San Antonio Country Club course with Ed Brady Sr., San Benito. Brady won, 2 and 1.

No real upset were carded in the 16 championship flight matches.

Linam Regains Title

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 8 (AP)-Bert Linam, 147, rugged Austin slugger regained his Texas welterweight boxing title here last night with Machete Garcia, 146½, Corpus Christi.

McKown On Way To Record Grid Season

FORT WORTH, Oct. 8 (AP)—Ray McKown, the "Dumas Dandy," is on the way to a bunch of records this football season.

If he maintains his present pace, the jack-of-all-trades in the Texas Christian backfield will surpass the great records of Lindy Berry and Davey O'Brien, Horned Frogs stars of the past.

In three games this year McKown has completed 40 of 75 passes for 547 yards. He also has gained 110 yards rushing for a total offense of 657—an average of 219 yards per game. By continuing at that pace the young man from Dumas could be the first TCU player to rack up more than 2,000 yards in many a season.

By way of comparison, it might be noted that McKown as a sophomore in 1951 gained 911 yards passing and 430 running for a 1,341 total in eight games. He did not play offense in the first three games but did operate in all the others including the Cotton Bowl. Ray's passing record last year was 62 completions in 128 tries. He seems certain to pass that mark this season.

Another interesting aspect is the number of plays in which McKown has taken part. While he has not played all of the three games so far, he has already thrown or passed the ball on 139 occasions. That's 46 per contest and could add up to more than 400 for the season.

In 1949, Berry was the "workingest back" in the nation with 350 plays. Lindy was third in the nation in total offense with 1,700 yards.

O'Brien, great little quarterback of the 1938 team, holds the Southwest Conference record for yards gained passing. He racked up 1,733 yards on 110 completions in 1938. Fred Benners of Southern Methodist in 1951 and Adrian Burke of Baylor in 1949 also completed 110 throws.

McKown is also one of the circuit's leading punters. In three games, he has kicked 19 times for an average of just over 35 yards. He's also doing all the kickoff work.

Tournament Manager

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 8 (AP)—M. P. Wilson has been appointed by Fred Corcoran, tournament manager of the Ladies Professional Golf Association, to arrange women's open tournaments in this session of the country.

Wilson, director of the recent Betty Jameson Tournament here, said Harlingen and Monterrey had expressed interest in sponsoring women's open tournaments next year.

Wilson is the permanent director the Texas Open and also is a director of the Texas Golf Association.

OPEN SEASON

By DALE WALTON

Dan Burns, 140-pound halfback on the Tiger football eleven, is far out in front of his fellow players in offensive ground gain.

Dan Burns

Burns, a senior and captain on the squad, has chalked up a total of 198 yards in three games. He has accounted for 18 of the 33 points scored so far this year, and he was scorer of 12 of last year's total of 46 points for the Tigers.

Following Burns on the list is Jackie Grimmett, fullback, who has 104 yards and six points to his credit. Next comes Gerald Crawford with 54 yards, Burney Hagin with 43, Alan Snead with 18, Kenneth Brotherton with 18, Jack Spikes with 16, and Joe Baxter with 13.

One six-point tally was scored on a pass. The remaining three points go to Royce Pierce, guard, who has made three out of four extra point kicks good.

* * *

Quarterback Club members are urging all persons interested in the Tigers and their football to attend the school pep rally at the high school gym tomorrow morning.

The noise begins at 10:35 o'clock.

* * *

Speaking of the Quarterback Club, game scouts told club members last night they couldn't figure out why Pecos beat Bowie, Snyder's opponent Friday night.

The score was close, only 27-26 Scouts said Bowie, though beaten, had a much better team, small but smart. The Bears gained a total of about 500 yards on the ground and in the air against Pecos.

So far this year, they have one win and two losses. In other games they lost to Carlsbad, N. M., 20-0 and defeated Cathedral of El Paso 39-14.

Two Teams In Lamesa Friday

Two Snyder football teams will go to Lamesa for games tomorrow afternoon, and both will play there at 3 o'clock.

The freshman team, coached by Gene Gibson, and the junior high team, headed by Jimmy Williams, will play Lamesa teams on different fields at the same time.

Gibson's squad has lost both its tries, one to Hamlin 12-0 and one to Big Spring 18-0. The junior high group has won both its games, defeating Rotan 12-7 and Colorado City 13-6.

The frosh team, led by quarterback Richard Dickerson, who was recently drafted from the junior high eleven, has scored about 11 first downs to opponents' 18. Don McNew, 125-pound fullback is chief ball carrier.

Twenty boys on the team will go to Lamesa. Included in the starting lineup, which averages 126 pounds, will be Dickerson, McNew, Lloyd Blackwell and Lee Milligan, halfbacks; Richard Snyder and Milton Hamm, ends; Robert James and Blue Morris, tackles; Hal Holliday and Arnold Castleman, guards; and Harold Hooks, center.

The junior high squad, averaging about 114 pounds, will travel in a group of 60 boys. Probable starters are Dwain Prince and Powell Berry, ends; John Partain and Allen Skaggs, tackles; John Reed and Gary Hill, guards; Joe Reeves, center; Billy Hattaway and Bud Morgan, halfbacks; Ronald Smith, quarterback; and Bobby Pollard, fullback.

Four-State Invitation Golf Meet Has Been Set

TEXARKANA, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Four-State Invitation Golf Tournament will be held at Texarkana Country Club, Oct. 24-26, with Raleigh Selby of New London returning to defend his champion ship.

Entires include Charley Coe of Oklahoma City, captain of the Walker Cup team, and members of the North Texas State College Golf team, national collegiate champions.

Golfers will compete from Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas.

Tournament At Galveston Set

GALVESTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—A one-day pro amateur tournament was to begin the 32nd annual Texas PGA Championship Golf Tournament at the Galveston County Club.

The 72-hole medal play tournament gets started in earnest tomorrow with some 120 golfers, 75 professionals included, expected for the event.

Big-name players competing will include such links stars as Defending Champion Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret, Ray Gafford, Harry Todd, Fred Hawkins, and Wally and Jack Hardin.

Practice rounds already have given the par-72 course a terrific beating. But high winds which came up yesterday were expected to add to the scores.

Elroy Martin, Houston, posted a 65 in practice to come within a stroke of tying the course record held by Don Addington of Dallas. Demaret toured the course last week in a 68.

DISTANCE makes the Heart grow Fonder

You'll discover this about a Buick:
The more you drive it, the more you like it; the longer your trip, the louder your praise.
That's what people tell us. And we'll tell you why.
You can drive a Buick three, four, five hundred miles in a single day, and feel fresh enough to keep right on going.
You can romp up high hills, cruise straightaways, ease through traffic-tangled towns, clock off hour after hour of relaxed and pleasurable driving—and be no more tired than a neighborhood jaunt would make you.
How come this comfort-rich ground-covering ability in a Buick?
There's the ease of deep, soft seats for one thing—and plenty of move-about room for arms, legs, shoulders.
There's Dynaflow Drive* taking all the chore out of driving, and giving your whole ride a satiny smoothness without trace of jerkiness or driving tension.
There's a hoodful of thrilling, tireless power from a high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball 8 Engine that whips out miles like a tarpon reels off line.
There's the soft, steady, solid, swerve-free going of a coil-spring-cushioned ride that's well worth the million-plus dollars it cost to engineer.
There's all this and more—much more—that makes your heart grow fonder of this trim and thrifty traveler.
But words can't do justice to a Buick in motion. Only you can.
When will you come sample this experience yourself?

CROWD SWAMPS IKE

General Eisenhower, Republican presidential candidate, had some trouble getting into his car when the crowd moved in after his train arrived in Seattle, Wash., on his campaign tour of the Northwest. Signs in the background were carried by boys dressed as janitors and carrying brooms to clean up "the government mess."

Huge Refugee Problem Must Be Solved By West Germans

BONN, Germany (AP)—What if all the people in New England were homeless refugees?

Western Germany faces a comparable problem with refugees there now nudging the fantastic total of 10 million. This is over a fifth of the total population.

American and German officials see these millions of stranded people as a potential tinderbox for a social explosion.

Already, failure to integrate the refugees into the life of West Germany has led to a wave of discontent. Large numbers of refugees are threatening to take the law into their own hands and march into more prosperous areas of West Germany unless their plight is eased.

The West German government is so alarmed over the flood of refugees that officials recently made a heart-breaking decision: to tell the East Germans to stay put under Soviet oppression.

In a special broadcast beamed to the East, the government said all East Germans except those lives are in danger must "hold on to the earth of the fatherland" and keep up a core of resistance against communism.

Government officials say Western Germany has spent the equivalent of six billion dollars since 1945 on the care of refugees. The United States has chipped in additional millions.

Still the plight of the refugee in Germany is desperate.

The government says: "In spite of enormous sums spent ... only 35 per cent of them have become fully integrated, another 45 per cent have been provided with some kind of work but are far from feeling integrated, while the remaining 20 per cent are still without work and without hope of becoming integrated in the future."

The bulk of the refugees—8,200,000—consists of Germans herded out of areas east of the Oder-Neisse line or from such countries as Poland, Hungary, Romania and Czechoslovakia.

In addition, there are some 1,700,000 who have bolted to the West from Soviet-occupied East Germany or East Berlin.

One of the chief causes of the misery of these new citizens is their uneven distribution. American officials say the refugee population is mainly concentrated in the agricultural states of Bavaria, Schleswig-Holstein and Lower Saxony. In Schleswig-Holstein, 37 per cent of the population are refugees.

While these agricultural states are overcrowded by job seekers, many industrial regions are short of labor. In the industrial Ruhr, the shortage of miners long has plagued the coal industry.

The obvious solution is to transplant the unused refugee manpower to the available job opportunities. But this has proved difficult to carry out.

During 1951 only 5,000 refugees were shifted from agricultural to industrial states. A shortage of funds and housing is holding up large-scale resettlement.

Probers Get Few Answers About Reds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities will continue its inquiry into Communist infiltration among the professors in Southern California when its hearing resumes here Oct. 17.

The hearing was recessed yesterday after a week of testimony from 64 witnesses, including 22 doctors, 25 attorneys, six actors, four writers, a pharmacist, a film studio [illegible] social worker and an "organizational worker."

Of the eight women witnesses, three were actresses and three were attorneys.

Sixty-one of the witnesses refused on constitutional grounds to answer questions regarding membership in the Communist party.

Only three—two writers and an actor—were co-operative. They named some 30 writers and actors, chiefly in radio, as members of a Hollywood "cell" of the party.

After yesterday's session, Miss Betty Selden was fired from her job as a Los Angeles County social case worker, a post she had held for 17 years.

Lutherans Hold Big Meeting

SEATTLE (AP)—Subjects ranging from the opening of a new mission field in Malaya to adoption of a 12-million-dollar budget are on the program for the 18th biennial United Lutheran Church of America Convention opening here tonight.

A communion service in University Methodist Temple, chosen because of its large auditorium, will open the meeting of the largest Lutheran body in this country.

The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, New York, president of the church, will preach at the opening service. Six hundred official delegates and about 1,400 visitors are expected to attend the week-long meeting.

Business sessions will start tomorrow morning. The agenda includes Dr. Fry's biennial report, reception of the Caribbean Synod into the church and election of officers.

The convention also is expected to act on ministerial pensions and acceptance of the new Revised Standard Version of the Bible in the church's service books.

Pinkies Stores Get Licenses

AUSTIN, Oct. 8 (AP)—Eight Pinkie's Liquor Stores," now under new ownership in Odessa, Big Spring and San Angelo, got new state permits and licenses yesterday.

Coke Stevenson Jr., Liquor Control Board administrator, said applications from three new corporations which own the stores were approved because his office had "found no reason to refuse."

The stores voluntarily surrendered their permits and licenses for liquor and beer last week and Tom (Pinkie) Roden announced he no longer held an interest in the chain.

Operations of the stores were closely checked two weeks ago by the House Crime Committee during investigation of an alleged West Texas bootlegging syndicate.

Only one incorporator in one of three new corporations taking over the stores is a former owner. He is A. W. Ellington, president of Samco, Inc., which will have two stores at San Angelo.

Battle Casualties Listed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 193 battle casualties in Korea. A new list (No. 666) included 19 killed, 138 wounded, 27 missing and nine injured.

War Orphan Enters College

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—Insoo Skippy Kwak, 19, formerly of Korea, is a new member of the West Virginia University freshman class.

The gate to a university education and maybe a degree in medicine was opened to Skippy seven years ago when he met Sgt. Gus Farr of Hinton, W.Va.

A forlorn little waif of 12, Skippy was sitting by a roadside in the rain when Gus first met him in Korea. Skippy became Gus' mascot. Gus ordered books from home and began teaching English to the youngster.

In a couple of years Farr sent Skippy home to Hinton, [illegible] there later and completed formal adoption of the youth. Skippy went on to school and Gus re-entered service.

Today Skippy is much closer to his goal of becoming a doctor—thanks to Sgt. Gus Farr.

And Gus? He was killed last month fighting to free the native country of his adopted son.

Young Negro Gets Life For Beating Woman

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 8 (AP)—A Negro high school football star from Burkburnett was sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment on his guilty plea to the robbery-beating of a woman storekeeper.

Marlin Wayne Bishop, 17, told officers he attacked Mrs. May Dalton, 44, in her grocery store at Burkburnett on Aug. 23. He said he needed money because his five brothers ribbed him about football playing while they worked to support the family.

Mrs. Dalton was beaten with an iron pipe. She had two broken arms, a compound skull fracture and a broken shoulder. Bishop was an all-state tackle selection in 1951 at Washington High School in Wichita Falls.

Pro-Communist Acts Can Be Grounds For Firing Man, Court Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—A court-appointed arbitrator has upheld an employer who fired a union printer on the grounds he neglected duty by participating in pro-Communist propaganda during a vacation in Europe.

The arbitrator, Theodore W. Kheel, ruled yesterday in a dispute involving the Publishers Printing Co. and linotype operator Arthur Deutsch, a member of the AFL New York Typographical Union.

Kheel found that Deutsch toured Europe early this year, visited Moscow with a group of trade unionists, and upon his return repeated anti-American propaganda of the Communists in speeches before labor groups.

Deutsch harmed the company that employed him by his alleged activities, Kheel said as he quoted a document tending to show the firm might lose its eligibily to handle federal government printing.

EL PASO, Oct. 8 (AP)—A resolution asking an end to restrictions and ing session of the Texas Automocontrols on the auto industry was passed here yesterday by the closlive Dealers Association.

The action followed criticism of the Office of Price Stabilization by James C. Moore general counsel of the National Automotive Dealers Association.

He said the OPS caused nothing but confusion throughout the industry.

The dealers named E. A. Kinsel, Beaumont, president to succeed Harry E. Kelly, Austin, E. J. Pennington, Galveston, was named first vice-president.

Others elected were Floyd Randel, Wichita Falls, second vice-president, and Frank Gillispie Sr., San Antonio, third vice-president.

Tom J. Crooks, San Antonio, was named manager and treasurer.

The retiring manager is W. A. Williams, Austin, who organized the association 35 years ago.

Directors, whose terms expired, were re-elected. They included H. D. Shepard, Plainview, and Tom J. Dromgoole, Laredo. Three new directors elected were Tom Davis, Odessa; C. B. Smith, Austin, and J. A. Welch, San Benito.

Pioneers Die In San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Two West Texas pioneers, each 90 years old, died here yesterday.

They were John Y. Rust Sr., founder of the San Angelo Telephone Co., and William Ethan (Bill) West, Crockett County ranchman and banker.

Rust, who retired from active management in 1948, brought the telephone company here in 1899. It grew from 75 customers to 11,000 telephones.

West divided his extensive ranch holdings among his children in 1936 and became chairman of the board of directors of the Ozona National Bank. Some 25 years ago he had 107 sections and 3,000 cattle.

West came to West Texas from Navarro County in the 1870's. Rust was born in Virginia and came to Texas when he was 19. He was the father of Mayor Armistead Rust of San Angelo.

Russian Delegate Chooses Not To Talk Ex-countryman In Shop

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—An annoyed look came over the face of Jacob A. Malik, retiring permanent delegate of the Soviet Union at the United Nations: He apparently realized he was being ribbed by an emigre Russian professor and he didn't like it.

Mikhail Koriakov, professor of Russian literature at Fordham, ran into the diplomat from Moscow in a Manhattan bookstore yesterday. Malik was leafing through a folio of reproductions from the Tretyakov Gallery in Mossow. His wife was with him.

Then, the New York Times reports, this took place:

"Mr. Malik," ventured the professor politely in Russian, "I would like to ask you something."

"How did you know who I am?"

"Ah, everyone around here knows you and that's why I'd like to ask you ——"

"Usually I avoid answering questions," Malik pointed out, laying aside the folio.

"Yes, of course, but this question interests me personally, believe me, very, very much," insisted the smiling Koriakov.

"Well, then, if it is personal, go ahead.

"I've always been puzzled why they don't open a bookshop in Moscow like this one, a shop where all kinds of American, French, British and Russian books would be available."

"Well," Malik replied, "this question doesn't concern me at all. I'm not in the publishing business."

"I know that," the professor said, "yet, you know, the question is of general interest."

"What can I tell you? I haven't been home for four years. Perhaps there are such bookshops in Moscow now."

"Frankly," countered Koriakov, "I doubt it, for I come from Moscow myself."

"When?"

"In 1944."

"Who are you, anyway?" Malik demanded, his irritation beginning to show.

"Oh, just a Russian, I am living here now," the professor said without explaining his work or identifying himself as the author of "Ill 'Never Go Back," published four years ago.

"If you are a Russian," Malik observed, "you must know that there is an international bookstore in Moscow."

"Indeed I am aware of it; it is on the corner of Pushkin Square and Gorki Street," was the reply. "Before the war, though, when I was studying in the Moscow Institute of Philosophy and Literature, the only French book I could get in that shop was Maurice Thorez' 'Le Fils du Peuple.'"

"That's a very good book, isn't it?" Malik said.

"I'm not sure," the professor replied, "but if Thorez (the French Communist leader) were to write another volume saying how he deserted from the Army with German help and escaped to the U. S. S. R., that would be a very interesting study."

"I see your point of view," Malik announced, "and I don't want to talk to you any longer."

Smiling, Koriakov murmured his thanks and left the shop.

The Dutchman Talks To Jury

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald's belated testimony before a federal grand jury in Brooklyn has won him dismissal of a government motion that he be cited for criminal contempt.

The contempt motion against the Washington mystery man was dismissed yesterday by Federal Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo, who acted at the request of the U. S. attorney's office.

Grunewald first was threatened with the contempt charge last August when he failed to answer a subpoena. He blamed his absence on illness.

But since that time he has given testimony at six appearances before the grand jury, which is probing tax corruption.

Fruit Growers In State Elect New Officers

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 8 (AP)—New officers of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association were to be announced today.

The delegates took time off from their annual convention here yesterday to watch the televised windup of the World Series.

In the morning Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., McAllen, told them "we are the best vendors in the world when it comes to selling toothpaste, soap—and vegetables. But we are the worst when we come to selling Democracy, the greatest idea conceived in the minds of men."

The executive manager of the association, Austin E. Anson of Harlingen, said the Rio Grande Valley, hard hit by the 1951 freeze and drought, should be back to normal production in 1956—"if things go our way."

Anson said replanting of trees had been held up some because of the shortage of trees and water. Recent rains have helped, he said, to some extent.

Anson said the freeze cut the citrus tree population from 11 million to three million. Some two million new plantings are expected to be completed by the end of the year.

Truman's Whistle Stop Makes This Campaign Very Unusual

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's an old political saw that in an ordinary election year the voters make up their minds by October and nothing the candidates say thereafter will change them.

But this is no ordinary election year.

If this campaign were limited strictly to an expression of views on the issues — like corruption, Korea or high taxes—it would seem Eisenhower and Stevenson already had laid down theirs by Oct. 1.

Since then they've been repeating themselves on the obvious issues just mentioned.

But this campaign has gone beyond simple statements on the issues: President Truman, although not running, is campaigning as hard as if he were; there was the Nixon expense fund episode; and Stevenson and Sen. John J. Sparkman disclosed their income tax returns.

Nevertheless all the foregoing—statements and episodes—had been known or occurred around Oct. 1. So there wouldn't be much to change any minds after that date if the campaign then hit a flat plane and tapered off in monotony.

This one hasn't. Since September it has picked up in intensity. At the rate it's going—and in view of the previous sensations—there should be no surprise if the campaign reaches explosive force by election day.

One of the puzzling performances has been Truman's. In a little over a week on the road he has turned on Eisenhower with a mounting fierceness which yesterday seemed to reach a climax.

He said the general had betrayed his principles and was unfit for the presidency. It would seem he could hardly say anything worse in the month of the campaign still left.

Yet, Truman is an experienced politician who knows the value of building up steadily toward a climax at election, not throwing the Sunday punch too soon.

So perhaps Truman's attack on Eisenhower, rough as it's been, is still far from a climax.

Eisenhower, who has shown no inclination to take a clubbing lying down, can be expected to respond to heat with heat. In that kind of fiery furnace, with the voters watching, anything might happen.

Actually, Eisenhower is getting the old one-two punch, with Stevenson slugging from the other side.

Stevenson, who spent his first campaign month talking on the issues, is showing signs of going after Eisenhower with his bare hands. So the general will have to take him on, too.

Fines Higher During Sept.

Fines totaling more than $2,132 or $520 more than those in August were collected in corporation court during the month of September, Walter Suttle, chief of police., reported to the city council.

In his report, Suttle said 86 persons were arrested during the month and booked in the city jail. Fifteen prisoners were transferred from corporation to county court and to different city and county offices.

Charges for the month included 46 intoxication, 10 intoxication in auto, 5 vagrancy, 12 investigation, 15 reckless driving, 2 theft under $50, 2 driving while intoxicated, 2 felony warrants, 10 burglary, 1 investigation of robbery, 1 simple assault.

Average age of prisoners during the month was 29.

Suttle said the department issued 35 traffic citations during the month, annd it investigated 17 traffic accidents within the city limits. A total of 59 criminal cases were investigated by officers, and 69 public assistance calls were answered.

In answering 127 calls, the police vehicles traveled 9,351 miles, using 7,441 gallons of gasoline and 47 quarts of oil.

Ship Goes Aground On Swedish Coast

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, (AP)—Raging waters in the gale-swept Gulf of Bothnia today held at bay rescue ships trying to reach a grounded tanker believed to have 10 men aboard.

The ship's identity was not known but she was believed to be German or Dutch. Rescue personnel described her situation as "serious."

She ran aground late last night about 15 miles off the Eastern Coast of Sweden. The crew messaged for help by lamp signals to a lighthouse.

A film showing highlights of last year's Southwest Conference football games was shown as entertainment at the Lion's Club luncheon yesterday.

Cecil Boren and Wayne Boren presented the program.

Two special guests at the luncheon were Robert Wansborough and Mary Alice Richardson, high school juniors. Each Tuesday the Lion's Club has two outstanding high school students as the club's guests for the luncheon.

Beginning To Ride Herd On Armed Forces

FORT WORTH, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Secretary of Defense is beginning "to ride herd on the military services," Lt. Col. Rush Gibbs of the Air Force said yesterday.

Gibbs is chairman of the Southwest Armed Forces Regional Council of the Munitions Board. He addressed a joint meeting of the council with the Southwest Regional Defense Mobilization Committee.

He said the Air Force, Army and Navy have learned to work together in the Southwest. He also reminded the groups that the last session of congress "put teeth into the 1947 unification act."

Members of the two groups heard reports from representatives of governmental agencies on defense procurement activities.

Coal Miners Against Ike

CINCINNATI (AP)—John L. Lewis still hasn't said in so many words whom he favors for the nation's next president but he declared yesterday he didn't see how anyone could vote for a man "whom Taft may lead around by the collar."

The reference to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was taken to mean by 3,000 United Mine Workers delegates that Lewis, their long-time president, does not favor the candidacy of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential candidate.

Taft currently is on a speaking tour in behalf of Eisenhower and Democratic leaders have claimed Taft is bossing the Eisenhower campaign.

Lewis' speech yesterday started off the mine workers' convention, which is expected to last at least a week in Sen. Taft's home town.

Terming the Ohio senator "the articulate zombie of predatory and oppressive wealth in America," Lewis said:

"I think it is beyond human comprehension that an American with a child to rear and a wife to protect should ever deign to support him, Taft, for public office or any other man whom Taft may lead around with a collar around his neck."

The United Mine Workers, as an organization, haven't come out in support of a presidential candidate since they went along with former President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936. In the last three elections, however, Lewis has supported the Republican nominees.

A financial report submitted to the delegates showed the union had a balance of $4,032,833.48 on hand as of last June 30. Four years ago it was $13,184,834.

Big Still Is Found On Sheriff's Farm

HODGENVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Somebody played a dirty trick on Wayne County Sheriff Joe Burnett.

A 220-gallon moonshine still was set up on the sheriff's farm, located about 10 miles northeast of here.

The sheriff and his tenant, Earl West, notified officers here yesterday the still—one of the largest ever discovered in Larue County, of which Hodgenville is the county seat—had been found in a heavily wooded ravine in a remote section of the farm.

Raiding officers destroyed the steam-operated still, 43 barrels of mash, 500 pounds of corn meal, 200 pounds of sugar, 500 pounds of malt and 13 gallons of moonshine whisky. No arrests were made.
