MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

Postmaster George D. Armistead of San Antonio is a game bird. He had a year to serve. Postmaster General Will Hays called for his resignation. His record was flawless. It did not contain a black mark. Republican politicians demanded the job for one of the faithful. Armistead wired his resignation, telling the man who swung the battle axe to go to Hades. Now the ousted postmaster will be the democratic nominee next year against Harry Wurzbach in the fourteenth district. Wurzbach is alarmed. This is what he said: "The flurry that has been caused over the request for Postmaster Armistead's resignation, with which request by the way I had absolutely nothing to do, goes a long way to bear out what I have been contending for a long time—that some of the republican leaders in Texas are more worried about patronage than they are about doing things which will build up the party in Texas." Wurzbach has a grouch. R. B. Creager of Brownsville has the ear of the president. He is the official dispenser of patronage. There are millions of hungry republicans in the United States. They need jobs. They are the truly loyal. Their leaders promised prosperity and peace and now they must make good on patronage. "To the victors belong the spoils."

Hon. W. F. Ramsey of the Dallas Reserve bank, in the monthly review of conditions says July cotton exports through Galveston amounted to 291,085 bales, an increase of 82,000 bales over last June and 232,000 bales over July, 1920. Wholesale conditions generally showed improvements. Reports from the western sections of the district show considerable improvement in crop conditions. Rice is doing well in Texas and Louisana. In Southern Oklahoma a bumper crop has reached maturity, the yield being reported at 40 to 60 bushels an acre. Excellent crop and range conditions particularly in West Texas and the inauguration of the long expected readjustment of wages of skilled labor has increased trade activity and a greater degree of stability in prices, both of raw and manufactured products. Unemployment in most cities decreased. Judge Ramsey isn't a pessimist.

Williford B. Smith is a newspaperman free lance. He edits and publishes the Texas Pitchfork. It is appropriate that Dallas claims him whenever the census returns are made public. They call him Pitchfork Smith. He calls himself a Jeffersonian democrat. Pitchfork is fluent of speech and vitrolic of pen. He has a remarkable vocabulary as well as a remarkable storehouse of knowledge and information. Pitchfork loathes shams; abhors hypocrites and has a holy horror of pharisees. It is his mission to puncture all these pretenders with his Pitchfork and most of the time its tines are as sharp as a razor. Pitchfork has a great admirer in Wichita Falls. He may have many admirers here but "Sut" is strong for Pitchfork. "Sut's" other name is C. T. Sutton and has been a citizen of Texas for fifteen years. He ran down to Dallas the other day and broke bread with Pitchfork. After breaking bread he listened to Pitchfork orate for the edification of an audience of 4000. Pitchfork is as eloquent as Cyclone Davis but he isn't a long winded speaker. He captured Sut. "In my time," said Sut to H. N. F., "I have breakfasted with William Jennings Bryan, lunched with Joseph Weldon Bailey and dined with Pitchfork Smith. I have heard them all speak and believe me Pitchfork is some orator, some writer, some genius." Pitchfork is the son of a preacher. His father was a presiding elder thirty years. In his really days Pitchfork saturated himself with Karl Marxism and became a socialist. He must have been a powerful expounder of socialism as he converted his father, a staid and dignified and scholarly Methodist preacher. Pitchfork continued to drink at the fount of knowledge. As he grew older he grew wiser and finally he abandoned Karl Marxism for Thomas Jeffersonism and now he is a fervid apostle of that ancient and dying dogma state rights. He has taken the corpse out of its grave and made it a thing of life wherever he circulates. He hooked Sut all right and all his friends agree that Sut "ain't no gudgeon."

Another of boyhood's idols turns out to possess feet of clay. The historical expert of the London Morning Post today discovers that King Arthur, instead of being an heroic, chivalrous Briton, was in reality a Dutchman from Friesland. The expert describes Arthur as "a filibustering Frieslander, who had rebelled against the Roman empire and waged a constant guerrila warfare against his Teutonic rivals in England." The same authority takes an awful fall out of Irish history and tradition by asserting positively that the two Irish heroes, Konofogen and Brian Born, were Norsemen. If Brian Boru was a Norseman he was some performer. Edward D. Valera, the president of Ireland, is a native of New York City and was an American citizen before he crossed the pond and aided in organizing the forces of the Irish republic. His father came from Madrid and his mother from Cork, and the newspaper portraits of the gentleman who is giving Lloyd George

SIX KILLED IN RENEWAL OF RIOTING IN IRELAND

By VICTOR McNAUGHT.

DUBLIN, Aug. 30.—Evidently holding a firm conviction that American millions and American sympathy for the Irish cause may be depended upon for a long time to come, Sinn Fein at the moment of writing, seems bent upon final rejection of the proposed home rule settlement.

While the door has not been closed, the signs are ominous. The members of Dail Eirann have pledged themselves against compromise. Constant reference is made to the American war of revolution, and paraphrases from the Declaration of Independence are common. The voice of Oswald Garrison Villard of the New York Nation has been taken for the voice of the country.

Sinn Fein declares the English officer of Dominion home rule is not complete and genuine; that real minion home rule would include the right to rule the people of Ulster. As Canada controls French Quebec, so Sinn Fein would control the Protestant counties.

Ulster Considered Irish Irredenta.

To Southern Ireland, Ulster is another Alsace-Lorraine, a province lost 300 years ago to settlers from Scotland. Several attempts to reconquer this terrain have failed, and the resulting hatreds are unfortunately enduring.

For purposes of comparison, let us think of Ireland in terms of the state of Kentucky as it was and might have been a generation ago. Consider the fertile blue grass region with its peaceful farmers and its gentle folk its cities on the Ohio, and its fued-distracted mountain regions whose inhabitants then preferred fighting to eating. Imagine, a section in one corner of the state peopled with descendants of sober, hard-working, determined New Englanders who settled there (let us say) over a century ago. Assume deep-seated antagonisms on account of differences in race, temperament, and religion, resulting in a determination on the part of the rest of Kentucky to control or drive out the stubborn Yankees. Conceive desire on the part of Kentucky to secede from the Union, the Yankee corner remaining loyal. The rest of the analogy is simple.

Lloyd-George has offered fiscal autonomy to Ireland, including the right to levy taxes and duties, manage its banking system, and conduct its own state administration. This is good

WOMAN MINISTER STARTLES BOSTON BY LIBERAL VIEWS

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—Staid New Englanders are considerably "worked up" at the liberal views expressed by a woman minister, the Rev. Julia N. Budlong, of aKlamazoo, Mich., who is attending the Harvard Summer School of Theology, who publicly declared it was all right for young girls or women of any age to smoke cigarettes. Miss Budlong of Kalamazoo, Mich., who is approval of girls wearing knee-high skirts and roll stockings in public.

As far as the wearing of knee-length skirts was concerned. Miss Budlong asserted, "that is their own business and a small matter."

Miss Budlong's fellow students at Harvard, as well as clergymen throughout this section, have stated most emphatically their belief that those practices are "scandalous" for women and cause a distinct lowering of woman's standard.

"Girls may have the 'right' to adorn themselves with as much or as litlte as they please, but these radical styles do a distinct disservice to society," the Rev. Henry Stuart Paynter, of the St. James Episcopal church of Bristol, Pa., told the correspondent.

PRESIDENT STEPS TO FRONT FOR FATHER OF SIXTEEN CHILDREN, WHO EARNS TWENTY DOLLARS PER WEEK

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Harding stepped to the front today in behalf of the father of nineteen children, sixteen of them living, who is working as a porter in a New York department store at $20 a week.

In sending his congratulations to the mother, Mrs. Domenico Zccahea of New York City, whose family group picture recently was printed in a newspaper, the President went back to his own home to tell how his mother who had brought up eight children, had expressed the hope prior to her death that she might have been the mother of eight more.

After Mrs. Zaccahea had replied to the President, telling of the great burden on the father in feeding and clothing the big family, Mr. Harding wrote John Wanamaker, the merchant, asking if something could not be done for him, and Mr. Wanamaker promised to help.

LAST SECOND BROUGHT AUTO TO THIS GIRL

Miss Irene Revard Returned Winner in Bartlesville, O., Contest by "Pep" and Toil.

Was Trailing Field of Contestants, But Hard Work During Closing Hours Rewarded by Victory.

BY E. B. W. IN THE BARTLESVILLE ENTERPRISE

"I worked until the last second." That's the way Miss Irene Revard, 1832 Jackson avenue, explains her success in winning a big motor car in the recent Bartlesville Daily Enterprise big automobile and prize campaign.

"I called up Miss Helen Hayes recently and asked her if I could come over and talk to her about the best way to win a prize?"

"Come take a ride with me in my car," she said, "and I'll tell you all about it."

So I did. Say, if you want to know if the prize is worth working for, just take a ride with Miss Revard. We skimmed out through the Forest Park and out on the Dewey road with the ease of a bird. Miss Hayes is some driver.

"Well," she said, "I had been just dying for a car and when I saw the announcement of the Enterprise contest it seemed too good to be true. I jumped right into it with the determination to win. At first my friends laughed at me.

Just Pep and Hard Work.

"Do you really think, with all the people working for the big prizes like that, that you'd have a chance," mother asked me. "If it's just pep and hard work that will win it, I'm going to be the winner," I told mother.

"I had been out of town at the opening of the contest, and when I returned most of the candidates had a four weeks' start on me. Everyone tried to discourage me. But those machines looked too good to lose, so I dived in."

"I called up about 20 friends that first night, and they said they'd help me till the last."

"If you could have seen Miss Revard's rosy cheeks, and her snappy brown eyes, framed in a tailored little brown hat, as she steered the car and told me the story, you would easily believe that her friends were tickled to death to help her "till the last."

"It seemed easy sailing at first," she went on, "and then four of my girl friends entered the contest. We had many friends in common, and I began to see lots of my votes going their way. But I kept on working. I never let a day go by without getting a few subscriptions, and now and then I'd nail a two-year subscription that would send my hopes sailing to the moon."

"Honestly, I dreamed about this car," she said, looking proudly over the beautiful lines of the hood, "and I knew I had to win it somehow.

"About a week before the contest closed I talked to a girl who said she had many thousand more votes than

By Associated Press.

Other leaders from prisoners, described in detail the capture of Mount Arruit, where Spanish airplanes supplied the Spanish forces with small supplies and ice until they surrendered. Street Fighting Resumed in Factory District, Snipers Shooting at Loaded Tramcars.

By Associated Press.

BELFAST, Aug. 30.—Six persons were killed today during renewed rioting in the city and many others were wounded, some of them seriously. Numerous cases of gun shot wounds are under treatment in the hospitals.

During the day in the factory district there was considerable fighting, especially this afternoon when the shipyard workers on the way home, passing through York street, came under the guns of snipers. The sniping operations continued in this district until late in the evening, and there also was desultory firing in the center of the city.

In the course of the evening persons who had to use tramcars became so nervous that they lay upon the floors of the cars in order to avoid possible bullets.

Up to tonight there has been eight deaths as a result of the rioting.

Heavy firing continued until the curfew hour. Among those killed today were Harry Bowers and Thomas McMullan. McMullan's death brought the number of today's fatalities up to six.

DETECTIVES HUNT COUNTERFEITER

FORT WORTH BANKS FLOODED WITH SPURIOUS $50 NOTES.

Special to the Record News.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 30. United States secret service operatives Monday began investigations into the reported activities of clever counterfeiters, who cashed spurious federal reserve notes at a number of local banks and business houses. The notes were of $50 denomination.

Examination of the spurious notes, secret service men said, showed the work to have been done by experts. The notes were said to have been made from photographic engravings of the genuine notes and, but for a flaw in the color, detection would have been exceedingly difficult even for experienced bankers. The back of the spurious notes was blue, while that of the genuine is green.

OIL MEN PAY BRIEF VISIT TO OBREGON

American Operators Make Formal Call on Mexican President, But Accomplish Nothing.

Secretar yof Treasury de la Huerta Receives Committee During Morning; Discuss Mission.

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 30.—After a two hour meeting this morning with Secretary of the Treasury De La Huerta, the American oil company representatives, who have come to Mexico to discuss oil questions with the government, paid a brief visit of courtesy to President Obregon.

W. C. Teagle, of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, speaking for the committee, said this morning's conference, said the meeting was not an important one, having been occupied with outlining the general program to be followed in the later discussions. He said that no arrangements had been made for a conference the day, but it is understood the oil men will act at the suggestion of President Obregon who will formulate the conference plans after his initial meeting with the Mexican petroleum heads today.

The oil men have asserted that every effort will be made to speed up the discussions. It is believed improbable however, that the sessions will be concluded before the end of the week, since President Obregon and his cabinet will be occupied all day Thursday with the opening of congress.

Consideration of the Amparo suit brought in 1919 by the Texas company against the Mexican president and department of commerce and industry was continued today by the supreme court. As the various members of the court are expressing their opinions at great length, it is not believed a decision will be handed down for several days.

Supreme Court Justice Benito Flores, speaking to the Associated Press, today declared the pending decision was "of vast importance, inasmuch as it will establish the general principle upon which all the other Amparo cases will be based," he explained that the court was performing, in an unprecedented manner in classifying more than one hundred Amparo suits, upon which it would pass and decide according rather than individuals.

The chamber of deputies ended its extraordinary session today without touching on the oil question.

HARDING DIRECTED IMMIGRANT REFUND

SAYS PRESIDENT FELT MUST MAKE REFUND FOR HONOR'S SAKE.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, it was said officially today, acted at the direction of President Harding in ruling that the government should make good steamship tickets purchased by immigrants, the money for which is alleged to have been devoted to prior use by the United States mail steamship company.

The President, it was stated, felt that even though the guarantee of the tickets might involve a million dollars the government could not act otherwise and preserve American honor.

SMOOT PLANS NEW SYSTEM OF TAXATION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—A new basis of taxation to take the place of the house revenue measure and practically all present tax laws was proposed today by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, who announced he was preparing a bill embodying the plan which he estimated would yield $8,895,000,000 this year. He added that he would take the question up with the senate finance committee when it begins consideration of revenue questions Thursday.

The use of only six sources of taxation, including a tax on manufacturer's sales instead of the more than thirty-five now on the statute books was advocated by Senator Smoot. The six wells from which the Utah senator proposed to pump revenue and the amounts which he estimated each would yield annually follows:

Income taxes (maximum rate of 32 per cent) $830,000,000.

Ten per cent tax on net corporation profits, $445,000,000.

Tobacco taxes (present rates), $255,000,000.

Estate taxes, $150,000,000.

Manufacturers' sales tax (three per cent) $1,200,000,000.

Import taxes (tariff) $400,000,000.

While the six sources would produce only $3,280,000,000, Mr. Smoot estimated that the other $615,000,000 would be obtained from collection of unpaid taxes, receipts from war salvage and the old tax on withdrawals of liquor from bonded warehouses.

HARDING DEMANDS MALCONTENTS GET OUT OF VIRGINIA

Issues Statement Saying Martial Law Will Be Declared Thursday Noon Unless Troublemakers Desist by That Time and Federal Soldiers Will Be Sent to Police Zone.

By Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 30.—Armed men tonight commandeered the regular Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train running from St. Albans to Clothier, according to information received at the offices of Governor Morgan tonight. The men first ran the train up the pond fork branch, bringing back a number of armed men and then took the train to Danville where another body of men guarded it and proceeded to Clothier, the governor was informed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Harding, in a proclamation late today commanded all persons engaged in "unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings" in the West Virginia coal fields to disperse and retire peacefully to their homes before noon of Thursday, September 1.

Unless there is prompt compliance, the administration let it be known that martial law would be declared and Governor Morgan's appeal for federal troops granted.

Meanwhile Brigadier General H. H. Bandholtz, who made a preliminary investigation around the Mingo district last week, was ordered back to West Virginia to watch the situation and advise the war department how the proclamation was received. In a report made public yesterday at the White House, General Bandholtz expressed the opinion that the state authorities had made "only feeble attempts" to restore order.

The proclamation was issued by the president after a day of conferences with Secretary Weeks, General Bandholtz and Major General Harbord, assistant chief of staff. A West Virginia delegation, headed by Senator Sutherland, was also in conference with the president and Secretary Weeks, and strongly urged the immediate despatch of troops to the scene of trouble.

LABOR READY TO ASSIST IN WORK PROBLEM —GOMPERS.

Veteran Leader Expresses Willingness to Aid President Harding in Solving Unemployment.

By Associated Press

ATTLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 30.—Organized labor is ready to consider any invitation from the government to participate in a conference with a view of solving the unemployment situation, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced today at the closing session of the federation's executive council.

"Such a council," he declares, "is not to be opposed when the workers of the country are suffering from unemployment and there is no work in sight."

Mr. Gompers indicated such a conference would have the federation's full support.

He said the council today discussed the proposed conference and adopted a motion instructing him to notify the council members if an invitation was received from the government to participate in such a meeting. The council will then take action accordingly, he added.

"We have not been invited to participate in such a conference," he continued, "but as labor is the primary factor in the unemployment situation, it would be absurd for labor not to be represented."

While the unemployment conference was discussed behind closed doors, it was learned that there was some opposition to representatives of the federation participating in any such meeting.

The council in any event, it was stated, will press its program calling upon federal and state governments to furnish work to thousands of unemployed by starting up public works and building. Mr. Gompers will take the matter up with President Harding upon his return to Washington.

Mr. Gompers announced that efforts would be made within the next 60 days to bring about the reaffiliation of the brotherhood of maintenance of way employes and railway shop laborers with its membership of 200,000.

No Child's Play.

The intimation was given by administration officials that if troops were sent there would be an adequate force and that "there would be no child's play."

The text of the proclamation follows:

"Whereas, the governor of the state of West Virginia has represented that domestic violence exists in said state which the authorities of said state are unable to suppress; and,

Whereas, it is provided in the constitution of the United States that the United States shall protect each state in this union, on application of the legislature, or of the executive when the legislature cannot be convened, against domestic violence; and,

"Whereas, by the law of the United States in pursuance of the above it is provided that in all cases of insurrection in any state or of obstruction to the laws thereof it shall be lawful for the president of the United States on application of the legislature of such state or of the executive when the legislature cannot be convened to call forth the militia of any other state or states or to employ such part of the land and naval forces of the United States as shall be judged necessary for the purpose of suppressing such insurrection and causing the laws to be duly executed; and,

Protection Asked.

"Whereas, the legislature of the state of West Virginia, is not now in session and cannot be convened in time to meet the present emergency and executive of said state under section four of article four of the constitution of the United States and the laws passed in pursuance thereof, has made due application to me in the premises for such part of military forces of the United States as may be necessary and adequate to protect the state of West Virginia and the citizens thereof, against domestic violence and to enforce the due execution of the laws, and execution of the laws, and,

"Whereas, it is required that whenever it may be necessary in the judgment of the president, to use the military forces of the United States for the purpose, he shall by proclamation command such insurgents to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective homes within a limited time.

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States, do hereby make proclamation and I do hereby command all persons engaged in said unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes on or before 12 o'clock of the first day of September, 1921, and hereafter abandon said combinations and submit themselves to the laws and constituted authorities of said state;

Asks Co-operation.

"And I invoke the aid and co-operation of all good citizens thereof

FINE CLOTHES, HE CLAIMS, LURED WIFE AWAY FROM HEARTH AND HOME: HE NOW ASKS $100.000 HEART BALM

Special to the Record News

FORT WORTH, Aug. 30.—Marvin E. Hudson today filed suit against C. U. Connellee in the Seventeenth district court asking $100,000 damages for alleged alienation of the affections of Mrs. Edith Viola Hudson.

Connellee is a wealthy oil operator of Eastland and is reported to have amassed a considerable fortune from the Eastland county field.

The petition alleges that Connellee met Mrs. Hudson either late last year or early this year. It is also alleged in the petition that he told her he was going to get a divorce from his wife and that he and Mrs. Hudson could be very happy."

The petition alleges that on April 10, Connellee gave Mrs. Hudson a sum of money with which to purchase fine clothes.

Hudson alleges that he and his wife had been very happy in their marital relations and that he has been caused great humiliation and much mental anguish. The petition asks $50,000 actual and $50,000 exemplary damages.

Hudson also filed a petition in the same court asking a divorce and naming Connelles as co-respondent.

On hearing their testimony the coroner commented on the fact that General Maitland's last act was directed to doing what was possible to save the vessel and her crew. The proceedings before the coroner today were purely formal.

It is said here that the body of Lieutenant Commander Emery Coil, of Marietta, Ohio, will be buried at sea in accordance with a wish Coil often had expressed to his wife.

TARIFF THREATENS CUBAN INDUSTRIES

MINISTER PROTESTS FORDNEY MEASURE AS DETRIMENTAL TO BUSINESS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Tariffs proposed in the Fordney bill "threaten the economic stability of the Cuban government," Minister De Cespedes of Cuba, declared today in a formal memorandum presented to Secretary Hughes in behalf of the Cuban commercial mission representing growers of tobacco sugar and other island products.

The economic and industrial future of Cuba, the commercial relations between the two countries and American investments in Cuba will be seriously impaired by the proposed increase duty on sugar alone the memorandum said, while the Fordney bill imposes upon leaf tobacco was declared to be "detrimental to all concerned, including the American farmer." Specific objection also was filed to the proposed rates on imports of pineapples and honey, which Cuba is said to supply practically all purchased by the United States.

VARSITY CLUB ENJOYS VARIED OPEN MEETING

Excellent music by Jarrell Goss, talented young violinist, and Prof. Frank Loew, pianist, and a vivid description of the evacuation of the Dardenelles and toher incidents of his service in the Australian army during the late war by Captain R. S. Healy, local oil man associated with Henry Hobbs and Governor J. N. Haskell, featured an open session and social gathering of members of the University club, their friends and wives Tuesday evening at the Wichita club rooms.

Captain Healy was in his usual trim as an after dinner speaker and delighted his audience with his droll tales of army life as well as gripped the feelings of his audience with his dramatic recounting of the terrific slaughter and privations undergone by the soldiers of the crown in this futile campaign and subsequent withdrawal.

The evacuation of the Dardenelles, with the withdrawal of the English forces after the staff heads had decided that the taking of the narrow segment of hills on the Agean sea, from the Turks was impossible, the working out of the plans and the complete surprise of the enemy at the retreat was told by the speaker.

A compliment was passed on the popularly called "Unspeakable Turk" by Captain Healy, who said that the Turks, with all their religious fanaticism in fighting were the cleanest fighters he had ever seen on a battlefield.

Following the program an ice course was served.

SIX KILLED IN RENEWAL OF RIOTING

to a degree, but Sinn Fein objects to the stipulation of free trade with all parts of the British empire. How can Southern Ireland develop its manufactures if it can not build a tariff war against imports from England? It is perhaps assumed that England should admit Irish products duty free.

Then there is the war debt. Ireland would be asked to assume part of it, but the amount that Ireland would agree to pay would be the subject of much controversy. It has been freely stated in Dublin that under the Dominion plan, Southern Ireland would likely pay income tax of six pence to the pound, as compared with the six shillings that Englishmen pay for each pound of income. This low rate, it is said, would attract capital and business enterprises from England and Ulster.

Lloyd-George Favors Separate Parliaments.

Southern Ireland and Ulster, under the Lloyd-George plan, would not only have distinctive state governments, each with its own parliament, but would also have the privilege of sending members to the Westminster parliament, to help govern England and the empire generally. A central Irish legislative body, with representatives from the two states, would have at the outset power to regulate such matters as railways, fisheries, and treatment of infectious diseases among cattle.

Ulster and the south would each manage its own school system, and there coimes another source of discord. Sinn Fein wishes to control the schools of Ulster, as it does not take kindly to the idea of leaving the education of Catholic children in the north to Protestant authorities.

Great Britain, in granting Dominion home rule, would reserve rights to control foreign policy, and provisions for national defense. It would maintain fortifications at Irish posts and keep military forces for a while in both Ulster and Southern Ireland.

While such subjects as this afford opportunity for almost endless discussion, they are of minor character composed with the one great issue of Ulster. The north must bow to Dublin, if by any human calculation this can be brought about.

OIL NOT RUN IN NEW TEXHOMA PIPE

FLOW EXPECTED TO BE STARTED AFTER FINAL TESTS MADE FRIDAY.

Although the laying and connecting up of the Texhoma Oil and Refining company's pipe line from the Wichita Falls refinery to the new Texhoma-Archer county pool has been completed, and the pump station also ready for operation, oil will not be run through the new line before Friday or Saturday of this week, according to information received at the offices Tuesday.

The line has been tested out with water and workmen are now going over its entire length, attending to the usual final details of completion. The pump station, located on the W. H. Taylor lease, has also been completed.

FITTS SUGGESTS "JIM CROW" CARS

POLICE COMMISSIONER DECLARES BLACKS SHOULD BE SEGREGATED.

Separate compartments for whites and blacks on every street car on which mixed races are hauled was urged Tuesday afternoon by Police Commissioner Fitts before the adjourned session of the city council. Mr. Fitts declared that a Texas statute provides that every street car shall be provided with such compartments and insisted that the law should be enforced in Wichita Falls.

Supporting his contention, Mr. Fitts declared it his belief that the enforcement of this rule would, should it be enacted, prove of great value in the prevention of any possible racial discord.

The matter was not officially taken up by the city council, Mr. Fitts, however, indicated that he intends to attempt to enfocce this regulation, if after further investigation, it is considered feasible.

The government must decide whether it will call the reichstag into session before September 27, the date fixed for that body to meet. Chancellor Wirth opposes this action because of his desire to avoid debate on the American peace treaty before the United States senate ratifies it. The government would be unable to prevent such debate, in view of the overheated political atmosphere engendered by the murder of Herr Erzberger.

JACKRABBITS GETTING WILD NEAR VERNON

Feeding mesquite beans and "white mule" to jack rabbits is the present chief occupation of members of the Vernon Shrine club, according to a letter received Tuesday by C. O. Fritz, recorder for Maskat Shrine, from L. G. Hawkins, president of the Vernon Shrine club and master of ceremonies for the Vernon Labor Day celebration to which all shiners are invited.

Mr. Hawkins declared that the jack rabbits are getting sleek, fat and fuzzy and that as fast as the sheriff breaks upo one of their "moonshine stills" another one is put into operation so that none need fear but that the rabbits will be properly fed for the occasion.

Aside from canning "hot air" of the above variety and working like Turks in preparation to make Vernon's Labor Day event a memorable one in Shrinedom's history, Mr. Hawkins declared that their biggest hope now is for a ral cool day on September 5.

to uphold the laws and preserve the public peace.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed,

"Done at the city of Washington, this thirteenth day of August, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and twenty-one, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-sixth."

While some disquieting reports reached here during the day from West Virginia officials there was apparently a feeling among government officials that the people commanded by the President to return to their homes would do so and that Thursday noon would see a restoration of order, which would make the presence of troops unnecessary. At the same time, however, there was a firm determination on the part of the administration to meet any serious situation that might arise.

"We will cross the bridge when we get to it Thursday noon," was the way one official expressed it.

"But we hope and believe that troops will not be needed."

PREPARE TO REPEL THREATENED ADVANCE

By Associated Press.

LOGAN, W. Va., Aug. 30.—Extraordinary preparations went forward tonight and continued tonight following reports of a gathering of armed men at Jeffrey in the adjacent county of Boone. Reported estimates of the number vary from hundreds to thousands. Lack of telephone communication with Jeffery precluded confirmation of figures.

Fearing that the men would cross the hills to the Logan county side, companies of ex-service men were being formed today to reinforce detachments of deputy sheriffs and state police now guarding the border. In this little town, the county seat a battalion drilled through the afternoon. Additional forces of former soldiers were reported to be coming from Welch and McDowell.

Hatfield Confident.

No word has been received from adjutant general John H. Charnock, who left Charleston today on a special train for the "district of uncertainty" on the east slope of Spruce Fork Ridge, separating Logan county from Boone.

For the first time since the Logan and McDowell men took up arms to repel a possible invasion, a newspaper man today was permitted to view part of the defense works on the Logan county side. These defenses were those of McDowell men guarding the state highway leading from Logan to Jeffery. Sheriff "Bill" Hatfield, commanding the McDowell contingent this morning, made a tour of inspection. He traveled by automobile and on his return to Logan expressed himself as being satisfied with the morale of his force of deputies.

The road leads through one of the wildest sections of southern West Virginia mountains. On the tour the sheriff frequently stopped in front of hillside homes and assured the dwellers that the McDowell men were their friends and that more forces could be obtained from his county, if necessary.

Upon his return to Logan from Mill Creek and Peck's Creek, the first and second lines of defense, respectively, Sheriff Hatfield was informed that Governor Morgan had requested him to call more McDowell deputies to Logan county. He immediately made arrangements for other forces. Other roads leading from Logan into Boone county are guarded by state troops under command of Captain J. R. Brockus, summoned from Mingo, and by Logan deputies and volunteers commanded by Sheriff Don Chafin.

While everything was reported quiet on the Logan side today advices indicate much restlessness on the part of the armed band just across the ridge.

A special train, one coach of which was loaded with arms and ammunition arrived here tonight coming from Charleston. The munitions were guarded by deputies.

HOPE FOR CANADIAN IMPORTER GIVEN UP

By Associated Press.

VAN COUVER, B. C., Aug. 30.—Practically all hope for the government's steamer Canadian Importer has been given up, Captain Wingate of the Canadian Winner, who has been searching sinc Saturday, reported today.

GRISWOLD BUYS LEASE AT ELECTRA

Acquires Acreage Developed by Three Other Companies.

Purchase of the Barr-Davis 60-acre lease and production in the South Electra district developed by this company, the Planet Petroleum, the Bryan and the Gladiolus, by the Griswold Oil corporation was reported Tuesday. The consideration, while it was not made public in connection with the deal, is reported to have exceeded $200,000.

The Barr-Davis company was among the first to engage in this development. It drilled a total of 12 wells, with a present production of 250 barrels from shallow and semi-shallow sands, which are involved in the deal.

The Griswold Oil corporation has a number of holdings in various pools in this district, with a nice production from a total of 40 wells, mostly in shallow and semi-shallow areas.

SECOND BANK HERE CLOSES DURING WEEK

Announcement of intention to withdraw from the banking business, with notice to depositors to call at convenience and withdraw their balances was issued Tuesday by officials of the Exchange National bank, corner of Indiana and Seventh.

Presence of sufficient banks in Wichita Falls to fully handle the banking business of one city, and inability, for this reason, to build up sufficient business for this bank, the newest bank here, to make money on their capital invested, was assigned as the reason for quitting business.

The bank was organized about 18 months ago by Oklahoma banking interests who were operating banks at a number of points in that state. The business done by the bank has from the first been smaller than was the hope at the time of its opening.

MAY URGE ADDITIONAL VOTE BOXES

At least 4 and possibly 5 new voting boxes will be recommended for Wichita Falls at the next meeting of the county commissioners, it was indicated Tuesday by members of the committee named to redistrict the voting precincts. At present there are five, but two of these, Nos. 12 and 13, which includes all Wichita Falls from Austin street, through Floral Heights and Southland to the city limits, have been found to be far too unwelldy. Under the new system, Wichita Falls will have 9 to 10 boxes.

The only additional boxes which will be created, it is indicated, is one additional in each Burkburnett and Electra. The dividing line for the former will be the Northwestern railroad, and for the latter the county's concrete highway. Provision for an additional box at Iowa Park seemed problematical Tuesday. The two new county boxes and five for the city would raise the number in the county from 14 to 21.

Members of the committee are: W. S. Curlee, J. L. Jackson, N. O. Monroe, M. L. Tittle, Irvan Deaton, and W. T. Harris. The detail work of marking out the boundaries has been turned over to a sub-committee composed of Messrs. Tittle and Deaton.

It is a foregone conclusion that the nationalists, if the reichstag should convene, would promptly attack the government because of its acceptance of paragraph 231 of the treaty, by which Germany and her allies accepted responsibility for the war.

COUNCIL WILL URGE LIGHTS FOR SCOTLAND

The city council will request that the Wichita Falls Electric company extend their lines to the residens of Scotland addition, it was decided at an adjourned session of the council Tuesday afternoon. The formal request will be prepared by City attorney E. M. Mann and will be formally passed on at the next regular meeting of the city council, according to the unanimous decision reached Tuesday afternoon.

The councilmen declared that it is their belief that the electric company is refraining from extending its service because of a suit against them, filed by A. L. Huey as representative of the company which promoted the sale of the lots in the addition.

Mr. Huey who appeared before the council, declared that the suits now before the court of civil appals at Fort Worth has nothing whatever to do with the request of residents of the addition for service. The suits he asserted were brought by the promotion company and claim pecuniary losses to his company, because of the failure of the electric company to extend the lines.

The council members were unanimous in the belief that the extensions should be made.

HOLD DRILLER FOR HIJACKING TEXAS OIL MAN

By Associated Press.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 30.—Albert Pickard, an oil well driller was arrested here today and $20,000 he had in his possession was impounded by the police, who charged he had obtained it from I. M. Bradley, said to be a wealty Texas oil man.

Bradley said Pickard entered his office today and produced a revolver and threatened to kill him unless he turned over $100,000.

"I told him," said Bradley, "that I could not give him that sum but would give him $20,000 and a note for $80,000 due in thirty days."

Pickard said he came to this section after his wife, who is in Collinsville, Texas, with their son and her mother, had told him she had entertained an affection for Bradley. "I did not know what I would do when I got here," the police quote Pickard as saying. "I tried to see Bradley yesterday, but I could not find him, although I waited around his office all day.

"When I walked into his office today and confronted him he at once offered a financia settlement. I thought it would be best to take it."

The police say they found two revolvers on Pickard when they arrested him.

I had, and my heart went clear down to my boots. I began to think there was no use. And that day I walked out through the park to think it over. I saw so many women driving good looking cars that I felt that I must have one or die. So hurried to a telephone."

"I rang up a man who was getting votes for me and asked him if he thought it was worth while."

"Worth while?" he yelled. "Say, they roll in if you'll only catch them. Stop dreaming and get busy."

"I took his advice and I worked that last week like a maniac. I didn't know I could make so many new friends through collecting subscriptions."

"The day the contest closed was the day of the opening of the free bridge. I'll never forget it. The contest closed at 9 p. m. At 8 o'clock I rang up my last prospect.

"What are you going to do to help me," I gasped. "The time is fleeting."

"I'm going to give you a two-year subscription," he said. "I gave one little yelp of joy and ran down to the Enterprise office and deposited my votes.

"When I heard that I had won the third car, I couldn't wait to get into it. The instructor was waiting for me down at the Enterprise office.

"Can you run it?" he asked.

"Oh, easiest thing in the world," I said, as if I'd run a car all my life. I jumped in it and rode away."

Miss Reward turned to look at it again.

"That's about all," she said, "but isn't it a dream?"

"I'll say it is.

sleepless nights make him look like a college professor taken after legislative retrenchers had reduced his salary and stipulated in his new contract that he should labor more than three hours a day. But think of it? King Arthur a Dutchman. There is something new under the sun.

Speaking of water it rains in the Panhandle. Editor Seth B. Holman of the Hereford Brand tells the story. Read it: "What is said to have been the hardest downpour of rain in one spot ever recorded in the Panhandle occurred on the E. W. Kimble farm, twelve miles northwest of Hereford, Sunday a week ago. Mr. Kimble had his granary elevated six inches from the ground and then he lost fourteen inches of grain at the bottom. The water rose in his house, flooded every room in it, swept chickens off his back porch and actually drowned twenty-one young turkeys in his kitchen, where he had taken them for safety. He estimated the fall at fourteen inches. It was a regular water spout but confined to a small area. Jim Lipscomb, who lives nearby, had between six and seven inches at his place at the same time." This item should make interesting reading in the black land counties of Texas where the natives say they live in "the rain belt" and where many of them are enjoying a ninety days drouth. And these aforesaid natives speak of West Texas and the Panhandle and the Plains section as "the arid belt." There is rain for all in the Panhandle; there is rain for all in the Plains country and in the city that faith built the downpour came Tuesday morning and reminded the people that Jupiter Pluvius is doing business at the old stand.

Representative Ben L. Cox of Abilene, Taylor county, is one of the fighting members of and for West Texas. On his return home he penned these lines: "We passed a representative redistricting bill which will give West Texas a few more representatives. I think the governor will approve this bill. The senatorial redistricting bill which we passed is not only unfair but it is unconstitutional, because it provides it shall not take effect until 1924 which is after the next election. Governor Neff ought to veto it. This 1924 provision was placed in the bill by amendment in the senate. Midsummer is a very undesirable time for a called session. The governor ought never to call a special session at such time if it can possibly be avoided." What would happen to the Austin boarding house keeper if the governor never called a mid-summer session of the legislature? Have a heart.

Many times you have passed some one on the street carrying home a bag of ground coffee. The wonderful aroma it gave off made you hungry for a cup of it too. That was the flavor, the real life of the coffee, passing into the atmosphere. Think of it—paying a good price to get a quality coffee and then losing much of what you pay for—flavor—simply because it is not packed right.

Hills Bros. "Red Can" is vacuum packed which insures you of coffee that is as fresh and flavory as when it left the roaster.

Not Bad for a Novice.

"You look like a smart young chap," said the head of a detective agency, "and I'm willing to give you a trial. Now, suppose a multimillionaire were to tell you he wanted you to trail his wife. How would you set?"

"I'd take the matter under advisement."

"Well?"

"Then I'd see if his wife wouldn't make me a better offer to trail him."

"You'll do."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Mr. Barker, who claims to be at home is all that pertains to good cooking, was sitting on the hotel's plazza one evening explaining to his friends, Lawyers Thompson and Robb, the manner of preparing the snail for the breakfast table.

Thompson was interested, but Robb was quiet and seemed drowsy. Suddenly he brightened up.

"I saw three of them playing marbles in front of the postoffice this morning," he remarked.

"Why, what's the matter with you, Robb?" asked Barker. "I'm talking about snails."

"Well, I'm talking about messenger boys," said Robb. "Go on with your conversation."—Los Angeles Times.

CALOMEL DYING FAST IN SOUTH

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Is Taking Place of Dangerous, Sickening Drug.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's Dodson's guarantee: Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick, I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.—Adv.

POETS WHO MADE MONEY

"What does your husband do?" a new acquaintance asked the wife of a moderately successful verse maker.

"Why, he is a poet!" the wife replied, obviously surprised that anyone should not be aware of her husband's fame.

"Oh, yes, I know he is," the new acquaintance assured her. "But I mean, what does he do for a living?"

That little passage is fairly illustrative of the popular idea about the earnings of poets, who traditionally are associated with crusts and garrets. It would not be difficult to point out several modern verse manufacturers, not to say poets, who dine very well, thank you, and the same was the case in many instances in earlier days.

Winburne left an estate valued at more than 1 million dollars, while emphatically removed him from the poverty-stricken class. Tennyson left 57,208 English pounds, or more than 1-4 million dollars, and the continuing income from his works provided a very handsome annuity for Lady Tennyson. Robert Browning left personal property in England valued at $90-000. Browning's will was in his own handwriting, and one of the witnesses was "A. Tennyson."

Matthew Arnold's estate amounted to more than $60,000. His will, also in his own handwriting, was one of the shortest ever to come under probate. It said: "I leave everything of which I die possessed to my wife, Frances Lucy."

When it is remembered money was worth far more at the times these estates were left than now, it seems some poets did not do so badly, in a financial way, after all.—Kansas City Star.

SMART SUGGESTIONS

Several evening gowns imported for fashionable American women show long garlands of flowers or fruit fastened at the right side of a narrow belt. In one mauve georgette frock these are currants in a deeper violet. Another shows velvet fuchsias in the whole range of fuchsias tones.

Some of the new black hats show ornaments of brilliant in different shapes that are pinned into the hat. There are jet ornaments of all descriptions, some consisting of rings or pendants—fastened to the side of the hat like earrings.

Black chiffon printed in rose design is used in a new evening frock that is edged at sleeve and neck line with large jet beads placed at regular intervals.

The tendency to get away from transparent blouses in favor of those made of opaque materials. Some women compromise by having blouses made of three thicknesses of georgette, thus made opaque, but still possessing the softness of the transparent fabric.

Many hats show no trimmings but elaborate veils. Large shapes in black velvet or hatters' plush are draped with black lace in Spanish style, the lace usually being draped over the shoulder.

Spanish lace shawls and embroidered shawls from the Orient are much in demand in France, and are coming into favor here. In some of the most expensive of the embroidered shawls you can find the signature of the artist who made the original design.

Feather ornaments are growing in popularity and many women are buying the ornamental combs set with bright plumage.

Strips of pearl embroidery are used lavishly on some of the evening frocks designed for matrons. Sometimes a single strip will extend from the top of the low neck line to below the bottom of the skirt line.

In an elaborate evening gown of chiffon brocade the design of the brocade is picked out in beads to form a band about the bottom of the skirt and across the front of the bodice.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

ATTRACTIVE BOUDOIR CAPS USE LACE AND RIBBON TO CATCH FEMININE EYE

Milady's wardrobe is never complete unless she has a variety of boudoir caps for wear in the intimacy of her own room. So charming are the new caps and so varied are the models that the choice is almost as wide as that afforded in the regular millinery modes. Here are some of the captivating, lacey styles which are now on display at the Bush terminal building in New York City. That they are only a few of the many styles may be judged by the fact that one manufacturer alone is showing no less than 150 new models.

Lace, net, satin, ribbon streamers, satin flowers, ruffles, beading and other such furbelows are the usual features which combine to make one of these dainty frames for a winsome face. Here are six styles which may easily be copied by the clever needle woman.

At the upper left is a dainty little cap of sheerest linen, the entire crown of which is drawn work. A double ruffle of lace adds a bit of trimming as well as a finishing touch at the elastic band. The fetching little bonnet at the upper right is made of dotted net. A wide band of heavy lace confines the gathers and this in turn is finished with a lace edged ruffle of net. A narrow satin ribbon of any color to match the negligee forms a band across the front and hangs on each side in longer streamer effect.

The two caps at the lower left show the long cape effect in the back. One is all lace in a lovely design while the other is satin with lace. Chantilly lace and satin ribbons fashion the frilly cap at the lower right.

STYLES BETRAY ANCIENT FILMS

The "movie crank," who goes to the show merely to watch with eagle eye whether or not the hero has parted his hair the same way in one scene as the "cutback" of the same, the man who writes long letters to the magazines protesting because the villian wears his top hat and evening clothes when the pictures show it to be nearly noon, has nothing on the latest and most accurate critique, according to the managers of the houses and directors of the pictures.

It is the young woman of fashion, who, upon seeing a film, immediately can place the date of photographing by the syles of the costumes shown therein.

It is a known fact that some films are dug out of the "storehouse" and used several years later by some of the producers. A case of this was recently noticed in which the styles were so pronounced as to draw comment from several male members of the audience, who are not experts on the matter of fashions. The eagle eye of the smart young female follower of the latest thing in fashion lets not a single mistake of this sort get by. She knows just what season that gown was the vogue, and she sometimes audibly announces to those nearby that the manager or producer has been "putting something over" on the public by the use of his old film.—The New York Sun.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

ARLINE'S HOPES RISE.

From that day Arline commenced to lay her plans. The old adage, "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned," found its truth in the pampered girl who had had her deepest hopes thwarted at the eleventh hour.

Day after day, while Cherry and her Ned were dreaming among the mountains of their retreat, Arline was sitting her thinking cap in motion as deftly as she knew how. It was due to this that Ned received a letter from her stating that conditions at home were so impossible she had decided to strike out for herself again. Would he consider her as a perfectly good secretary? "She was so used to him and the work of his office, she hesitated to try other fields in the business world. It was doubly hard for a girl like herself," etc., etc. The very stuff that would be sure to make Ned sympathetic and willing to take her as his own private secretary, as Arline well knew.

No mention of the past was made in that discreet letter, and as far as Ned was concerned, there was no past. Arline was just a good friend with whom he had had some splendid times and to whom he owed but the friendly consideration due to any girl he had chummed with.

Accordingly he wired her that she was accepted and that she might go to the office ahead of him, as he was still on his honeymoon and in no hurry to leave. These words were a knife in the heart of the expectant Arline, as may be imagined.

At the end of her two weeks' visit with her father, she therefore went to Chicago, bought herself some lovely clothes and prepared in every way for a heavy campaign.

Mrs. Randall had welcomed her to Wellsburg upon her arrival, for Ned had often written of the girl in his letters from Kansas City. That astute lady had always secretly hoped that her boy would marry Arline, for the name of Bates was a famous one in the moneyed world, and Mrs. Randall was eager for a social life, even at this late stage. She had been bitterly disappointed when the news of Ned's marriage had come to her and had run from neighbor to neighbor with her woe. This wife of his was a nobody, a working girl. Her dreams fell heavily about her.

She took pleasure in being extra kind to Arline upon her arrival and secretly guessed at the girl's hidden heartache.

In this way had the new life begun for Cherry's rival. And under her very nose she had laid the plans to destroy the home of her former admirer, Edward Randall.

The night of the party had proved to her that Ned still had some feeling for her left. It only needed coaxing. He would yet be hers, for she had noticed from day to day his growing look of depression when he arrived at the office as things at home grew from bad to worse. And once more had Arline's heart sung within her breast at the full realization of what it all meant.

"MORE TO BE PITIED THAN CENSURED."

It is said by those well acquainted with Representative Manuel Herrick, congressman from the Eighth Oklahoma district, that his eccentricities are not exaggerated but only partially revealed by the stories which come from Washington concerning him.

Indeed, it is said that when one speaks of Herrick's "peculiarities" he is speaking charitably.

This, of course, is not Herrick's fault—but his misfortune. He is more to be pitied than censured.

The presence of Herrick in congress is discreditable to the state of Oklahoma. But so far as the people of the Eighth district are concerned, they are not entitled to any sympathy whatever.

Herrick's mental calibre must have been fairly well understood over the district as it was a matter of notoriety elsewhere in the state.

Opposed to him was a man of intellectual attainments, highly educated, of fine character, a minister of the gospel.

But the minister happened to be on the democratic ticket and the buffoon on the republican ticket and the latter was elected by a large majority.

The Eighth district has its indiscriminating partisanship to blame for the fact that it is represented in congress by a clown.—Frederick Leader.

Why call Herrick a buffoon; why pity him; why censure the voters of his district for electing him to a seat in the American Congress? A public servant is just as wise or just as weak as those who are responsible for his place in legislative halls.

The Leader says that Herrick defeated an intellectual, a man of the cloth, a citizen of the highest standard.

Perhaps they did not want an intellectual, a highbrow, a preacher, man who represented the fundamentals of democracy or the ideals of those who would lift their fellows out of the mire of materialism.

John C. Calhoun, Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Samuel J. Tilden, James G. Blaine and Roscoe Conkling were intellectuals. They ran last when it came to votes and first when it came to achievements.

William Jennings Bryan is an intellectual. He had three shots at the White House and the first shot was the best. He lost all. William Jennings Bryan has intellectual attainments of the highest; his personal integrity has never been questioned; his moral courage is of the fibre of which martyrs are made; but his policies did not appeal to the business interests of the country nor his state craft to many of the brilliant leaders of his own party.

Manuel Herrick is a freak. They happen in political upheavals. They strut the stage for one brief hour and then disappear. There were many freaks who came to the surface last year. Political freaks always come when there is unrest and unsettled conditions and millions of voters strike madly and vote unthinkingly.

Why not give Herrick a change? Remember this, "Every dog has his way."

BUT THE RECORD NEWS LANDED HIM FIRST.

The Record's announcement that it has secured Roger W. Babson as a financial writer on its staff has caused a sensation in business circles. Babson is paid over $1,600,000 by the business men of this country for his financial and business studies and forecasts. He has studied and applied the law of action-reaction to business and the result has been a remarkable series of successes in business advice and prediction. Mr. Babson will write a short forecast each week for The Record. He has the reputation of being able to say more in 200 words than most writers can say in a page. His articles will be pithy and valuable. They will give Record readers the best thought of a man whose words are listened to by the business world. They appear exclusively in The Record, the business man's paper.—Fort Worth Record.

Roger W. Babson is the foremost financial writer of America. He writes for the business man, the old and the young who read and think and for all classes and conditions who wish to move onward and climb out of the rut. EUROPE'S GOLD RESERVES.

While Europe sent to the United States more than two hundred and fifty million dollars in gold during the first six months of the current year, above receipts from this country, nevertheless a slight gain occurred in that period in the total gold reserves of Europe held by central banks or government agents, says the September bulletin of the Bank of Commerce of New York.

Only three of the fourteen chief European gold holding countries showed a diminution in their gold stocks from January 1 to July 1, and these losses were relatively slight, their combined total amounting to less than twelve million dollars. This loss was more than offset by gains among the other countries, the net increase of the fourteen combined amounting to $1,199,000.

Yet between January 1 and July 1, the gold stock held by the Federal Reserve banks in the United States increased by $402,601,000 or nearly 20 per cent. of the $2,059,330,000 they held the first of the year, almost two-thirds of the increase being made up by the gold from European shipping points, the rest coming from non-European and domestic sources.

An analysis of this gold movement shows that present European gold reserves are not being drained to swell America's holdings, but that the increments to this country's hoard since the first of the year, in so far as shipments from European points are concerned, are chiefly accounted for by three great streams of the metal consisting of newly mined supplies from Africa coming by way of London; of gold yielded up by India, also coming by way of London; and of metal thought to have originated from Russian sources, eventually coming to America through various European countries.

Europe's centralized reserves were built up subsequent to the outbreak of the great war far above pre-war figures, and were further increased since the Armistice, by concentrating in them as far as possible all gold privately held. While these reserves have been, by continued government impoundage, kept rigidly stabilized at the points attained as a result of these extraordinary war and post-war measures, in the face of the recent tremendous suction toward America, nevertheless the three great streams have flowed through these countries to the United States with little impediment during the last six months. No material effort has been made in Europe to divert the gold from them for the purpose of building up further the reserves there. The gold has served to reduce European indebtedness in America rather than to aid in restoring the gold standard in Europe.

It was stated in the Federal Reserve Bulletin for June, 1921, that the director of the Swedish Mint had recently estimated that seventy tons of Russian gold were received in Sweden since 1920. He was quoted as saying that after refining it was re-exported, chiefly to the United States, representing an assayed value here of about $40,000,000. The bulletin also said that not less than another $60,000,000 of Russian gold or its equivalent had found its way to the United States through France and other channels.

The movement of gold from Russia to the United States is not definitely traceable. It is thought to have come to this country indirectly through various continental countries in addition to those mentioned above. At the outbreak of the war in 1914, the Russian State Bank held $779,750,000 in gold; by the end of 1917, the date of the last definite statement of gold held in the bank, the stock had dwindled to $633,000,000. It has been reported that this balance has since largely dispersed and the amount remaining is unknown, but is thought to be small.

It appears therefore that the United States received between January 1 and July 10, the equivalent of $106,500,000 of African and Indian gold by way of London and the equivalent of more than $100,000,000 of Russian gold by way of Continental Europe. These three chief sources account for the fact that Europe as a whole has been able to make substantial gold payments to the United States without further impairing her existing centralized gold stocks.

MR. BULL AND HIS PROGRAM.

Frank H. Simmonds is an American correspondent and historian. He predicts an Anglo-American Alliance and he also predicts that if the alliance is made, Great Britain will dominate it. Impossible. In his campaign for election, President Harding declared against all alliances, entangling or otherwise and the republican platform declared against it. Frank H. Simmonds says something else. "Great Britain is dominating Europe through the supreme counsel. If the British could dominate the Far East through an Anglo-Japanese-American alliance they would then be the masters of the world." Frank H. Simmonds is an American, a republican; he cast his ballot for Harding and Coolidge. In addition to all this, he has vision as well as imagination. John Bull dominates Europe. If Mr. Bull creates an alliance with Japan and America as his partners, Mr. Bull will dominate the world. Of course six or seven million democrats and independents voted for a change in November last. They should be willing to take their medicine.

FARMERS AND THEIR AUTOS.

More than thirty per cent. of all the farms in the United States are recorded as having automobiles. There are 436,033 farms in Texas and 105,292 farmers own automobiles. There are 5,399 motor trucks on Texas farms. American states best supplied with automobiles are Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas, Minnesota, North Dakota, California and Illinois. Oklahoma shows a fine percentage since 25.5 per cent. of its farms have automobiles, 1.1 per cent. motor trucks and 8 per cent. are farmed with tractors. Only 8,084 Texas farms are farmed with tractors. This should be a rich field for the tractor manufacturers.

Fort Worth reports the organization of a secret clan. This is the name of the organization, "Ghosts of American Patriots." This makes the second organization of regulators in the City of Fort Worth and the county of Tarrant. They must be all "jiners" in that city, but when prosperity comes again "jiners" will forget their worries and return to work.

Secretary Herbert Hoover makes the interesting announcement that few are to be asked to the employment conference. Secretary Hoover is violently opposed to turning the conference into a debating society. He watched congress perform during the spring and summer months and is of the opinion that the sage who said there is wisdom in great numbers was an intellectual nut.

THE COOK BOOK.

The cook book is a noble tome, it's bound in modest gray; the women in my humble home consult it every day; and thus with queenly grace they sling together noble meals, and that is why I smile and sing and kick up both my heels. The cook book's shunned by many dames who look with scorn on grub; their hearts are fixed on tinhorn games out at the country club. They're wise to all the fiction books that sell best at the store, but gems of thought by gifted cooks they look on as a bore. I'm thankful that my womenfolk are not so blamed refined they look on cooking as a joke, or as a beastly grind. They'd rather frame a tempting pie, compound a fragrant stew, than argue long and sagely why "Main Street" is false or true. They like to have their share of fun, the joyride and the dance, but when the jamboree is done, the cook book has a chance. That cherished volume then they take, and spread its leaves apart, and yearn just how to make a cake, a doughnut or a tart. And when the cook book shows neglect no happy home is there; Tired Father's works are nearly wrecked, his heart is full of care. Bad cooking creases many domes and makes men's tresses gray; bad cooking darkens many homes that should be bright and gay.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

M'ADOO ON THE ROAD AGAIN.

Now it is announced that the congress will send a tax bill to President Harding in November; that the tariff will go to the regular session and that the rail funding bill is certain to go to the regular session. William Gibbs McAdoo is hammering the rail fund plan. He says the government has claims against the railroads for $1,500,000,000 for equipment and betterments and that the government claims more than offset the rail claims. McAdoo is not in a comatose condition, politically speaking. He has some old scores to settle.

THEY HID IT OUT.

Chicago bandits looted the vaults of a big trust company and obtained $240,000. A newsboy lost $11,000 in cash. The brigands overlooked $40,00 in one thousand dollar bills in one box. If the victims of the robbery had deposited their money in a bank they would not have been robbed. They hid it out. They withdrew it from circulation. They made it dead money. It wasn't working. It did not draw interest. It was of no use to the world of enterprise. It is in circulation now.

RESUME WORK ON PAVING OF ELECTRA ROAD

Work was resumed Tuesday morning at both mixers of the Potts & Prentice concrete road contract between Iowa Park and Electra and also the sub-contract of the Zimmerman Construction company at Iowa Park. It is the first time that any work has been done of the Zimmerman contract.

It is not expected that the work at either of the contracts will last more than a day or two due to the shortage of stone. The Potts and Prentice work has been shut down for a week awaiting stone. Some stone is being shipped daily from the Lone Star Company quarry at Chico but not as much as needed.

Breakfast Stories

The tanned vacationist returned gloomily to his office.

"Oh, mother, here's a thing like father coming!"

"Funny how some people try to get along with no household equipment at all," remarked Juggings. "Why, those new neighbors of mine haven't a lawn mower, a hose, a stepladder, a saw, a fishing rod, an ice cream freezer or any new books."

"How in the world do you know they haven't?" asked Muggins.

"Why, the day after they moved in I stepped over in a neighborly way and—had to borrow those things."

AUTRIANS MEET WITH RESISTANCE

HUNGARIANS OCCUPY TERRITORY AWARDED FORMER BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, Aug. 30.—The Austrians have met with resistance from the Hungarians in the occupation of Burgenland, the little strip of West Hungary awarded Austria by the peace treaty, according to reports reaching here.

Late Sunday night, Lieutenant Hejjas, one of the recalcitrant leaders in West Hungary appeared, heading a large detachment of his irregular forces, seized the railway station at Odenburg and filled the streets with uniformed men and armed with pistols.

One detachment of 170 men advanced to Pinkafeld, where they were met with hand grenades and machine guns by the Austrians who were coming in to take over the territory.

It is believd the casualties were not great.

A demonstration by the Czechs is expected unless the allies forbid the occupation of Burland. The forces are known to have concentrated a full division on the frontier near Pressburg and other forces along the Hungarian border.

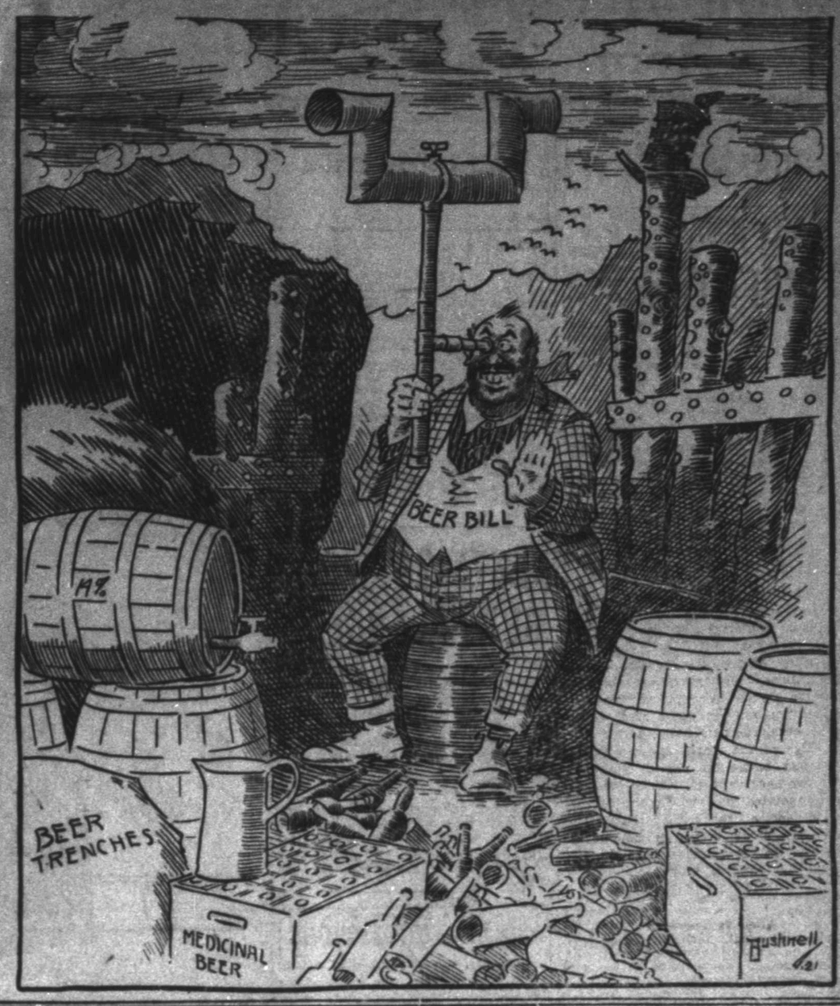

CORK PRISONERS THREATEN STRIKE

By Associated Press.

CORK, Aug. 30.—Four hundred and fifty republicans held in the Spike Island internment camp have served notice on the governor that unless they are released tomorrow they will start a hunger strike. They base their demands on the ground that the English government has no legal or moral right to detain them.

A score of those interned started a hunger strike on the refusal of previous demands for release. The question has been put to a vote and 450 agreed to refuse food in order "to bring our inhuman treatment before the world."

A LULL IN THE BATTLE

BUYING PUBLIC EXERCISING MORE DISCRIMINATION THAN FOR MANY YEARS, SAYS BUSINESS LETTER

The buying public is analyzing its needs more thoughtfully than for half a dozen years, and regulatig its purchases accordingly. The merchant who, not many months ago, was willing to pay almost any price to stock his shelves, is making his replacements with unwonted discrimination.

The attitude of the merchant reacts upon the jobber, and that of the jobber upon the manufacturer and the producer of raw materials. As a result, commodities are moving slowly elsewhere. And they are moving safely and surely; that is the big thing.

When present surpluses have been aborbed and the demand of the consumer has its inevitable quickening effect all down the line, the revived business will be on a foundation far more stable than at any time since 1914.

A condition such as this is well worth waiting for, but we need not be idle while we wait. Ordered theift and honest work will hasten the day when the demand for every product again presses the supply. We all know this, but it is important that we think about it more frequently. And it is altogether essential that we act upon it.—Foreword of September business letter issued by the City National Bank of Commerce.

This business letter is a concise and most intelligent review of business conditions the world over. The reader is told that the Alaskan gold output is shrinking every year but the 1920 report of the United States geological survey indicates that the nation's gain from the mineral deposits in the territory increases every year. Copper output increased in value by more than $4,000,000,000 and the silver output was five times as great as in 1910.—While the production of lead, platinum, petroleum, marble and gypsum more than doubled that of the previous year. Fifty-four years ago William H. Seward was secretary of state. He purchased Alaska from Russia and the consideration was $7,200,000. His political enemies referred to the new possession as "Seward's Folly." The bank's statement shows that the mineral output in fifty-four years has been worth almost half a billion dollars and only its surface wealth has been developed.

Reminding the reader that the great bulk of rubber consumed in America comes from British rubber growers who control approximately 2,000,000 acres of rubber plantation in the Far East, the letter states that the British rubber men have pooled their interests by forming a fifty million dollar syndicate in the hope of stabilizing industry which has been hard hit in these last two years. Moreover the British government is expected to approve the syndicates arrangement. Price of crude rubber has been lower for some months than ever before in the history of the industry. American interests have not been invited to join in the British pool, the bank's letter reads, but some agreement with the British is probable. The public is warned that the British scheme for the protection of rubber producers can not but have a determining effect upon prices in this country where most of the world's crude rubber is consumed.

China, a former consumer of American flour, has now become a competitor of American millers in European markets. Chinese sold more than $18,000,000 worth in 1920, mostly in England. They imported less than $500,000 from America. A great expansion of the flour milling industry is to be expected, the letter reads, in view of the fact the Manchurian plains are admirably adapted for wheat production while labor is about the cheapest thing in China. Millions of Chinese are wheat eaters. All the Chinese do not eat rice.

"America oil producers who have been distrubed by Great Britain activity in the oil field have really nothing to worry about" according to the statement. "Authorities on these production and refining of petroleum declare that it will be twenty years at the least before any other nation can threaten our supremacy in this field and that there is no reason to suppose that even that period will bring a noticeable change. Home production, although limited just now by market conditions, is still sufficient to make American producers dominant and they are also taking a chief share in the development of the Mexican fields and the opening of those of Central and South America. Those who have been disturbed at the fear of the British supremacy will be interested to know that last year, of the $290,000,000 worth of petroleum products which Great Britain imported, 61 per cent in quantity and 68 per cent in value came from this country, 37 per cent in quantity and 30 per cent in value from other foreign countries and scarcely 2 per cent of either from British possessions. During the war Great Britain's annual petroleum imports were 70 per cent higher than last year."

Cooperative movements and credit associations in European countries are given their place in the letter. One concern in Sweden did a $53,000,000 business last year. "Oddly enough the cooperative idea has never taken deep root in this country except where the sale of fruits and vegetables by agricultural organization is concerned" as the information given in Carolina has been hard hit this year. Wheat exports have been great. Rice and grain exports and those of meats are also far below normal. High rate of exchange on the dollar offers Americans an unusual opportunity to purchase in the Argentina.

Germany's beet sugar production will double that of 1913 and the government is considering exchanging a state sugar monopoly. Asia Minor may soon become an important source of the world's sugar supply; the Russian government is planning a 20 per cent reduction in the cost of operations as a means of preparation for the payment of interest on the Imperial debt to the United States. Russia is in the throes of a famine which threatens the lives of millions.

Under Bolshevist rule the peasants have ceased to raise enough cereal to supply their own needs and yet eight years ago Russia was one of the world's great granaries. China reports the sandalwood market overstock and the pearling industry in a similar plight while the Swedish government is negotiating with President Obregon and his advisors in the hope of obtaining fuel oil concessions in Mexico as a means of safe guarding its supply for the future. But back to the fore word: "Ordered thrift and honest work will hasten the day when the demand for every product again presses the supply. We all know this, but it is important that we think about it more frequently."

And they wouldn't have gained a half an inch,
Except for the schedule makers!

The Spudders kicked the Crabs for another "goof" yesterday, 5 to 3, but some nut who made out the Texas league schedule last winter had to arrange, by shrewd connivance with the weather, for the Panthers to play a doubleheader with San Antonio on August 30, 1921—and the Cats won both games and thereby crawled up a game and a half on our own sweet li'l ol' league leaders.

'Tis nothing to lose sleep over, and the Spudders should go into the "crooshul serious" with the Cats today favorites in the betting. They have shown themselves to be fighting ball players under the most adverse conditions, and under accidents and misfortunes that would have broken the courage of the ordinary club. Despite injuries and handicaps, however, the Spuds have played championship baseball without a break for many weeks, and personally, with full knowledge of the strain under which they must battle the cats in Jakey Atz's own back yard, we will be greatly disappointed if they do not take the big end of the series. No, we didn't say break even; we honestly expect to see the Spudders take three out of four—and if they don't we'll be still stronger than horse radish for the fightin'est ball club west of the Mississippi.

Allen Is There.

Rabbit Dorough hurled an in-and-out brand of ball yesterday, but a continuation of the famous Spudder stick work was too much for Roy Elam's crew. Allen, the Spuds' new center gardener, was a prominent figure in the battle, displaying a beautiful whip in the outfield, and kicking in handsomely with two singles and a triple. One of his singles drove in two runs, while his triple proved the means of scoring the tally that made the game safe for our gang. Allen may have hit only .230 with Mobile last year—but he sure hit a warm spot in our heart yesterday.

Tex McDonald, "old 30-30," also earned his salary, Tex's fielding being the shining feature of the afternoon. And don't forget to give Skipper Salm considerable credit for a chunk of brain work in the ninth inning, when with two out and two men on the paths Ellam sent Bill Fincher in to hit for Knight. Salm at once yanked Dorough and ordered Uncle Jimmy Sewell to the hin. You may recall that when Uncle Jimmy relieved Abe Bowman t'other day against these same Crabs, he fanned Bill Fincher for the third out—and Salm hadn't forgotten that Sewell has Bill Fincher's number. Uncle Jimmy yesterday pulled a repeater; struck out Bill Fincher on four pitched balls.

Buddy Tanner started the scoring in the opening frame when with one out he doubled to left, and went to third when Bittle foozled the pill. Tex McDonald brought Buddy home with a left field single.

After the Crabs had tied the score in the second on a triple by Trash and a single my Mickey O'Brien, the Spuds started to work in earnest in the third:

Dirty Work in Third.

Dorough fanned, McElwee singled to center, and was thrown out soon after trying to pilfer second. Buddy, who has been gloriously fattening his batting average lately, singled to center and went to third when Tex again shot a single to left. Perryman purposely walked Danny Clark to get a crack at Allen—and the new Spudder smote himself a single to left that brought Buddy and Tex home, Ceci Griggs singled to right, scoring Clark, and Works filed to Thrash for the third out.

The Crabs made trouble again in the fifth and shoved two tallies over on a triple by Dutch Schliebner, a base on balls, a double by Trash and a sacrifice fly—while the Spudders put the game on ice for keeps with one more in the eighth. B. Allen figured, poling the first ball potched to left for three cushions. After Griggs had been thrown out by Sam Knight, Works brought Allen over the plate with a perfect squeeze play. Kitchens lifted one to R. Allen in right for the final out.

Today, unless someone has grossly misinformed us, the Spudders will tackle the Stockyards heroes. The game will start at 4 p. m., with Red Phillips and 'Gene Leopold leading the wild yells for the home brew.

POUR IT ON 'EM!!

The Marquis of Queensberry many years ago devised a certain code of rules to govern prize ring combats. They were adopted, with the result that science to a large degree began gradually to take the place of brute strength in the ring—BUT THIS AFTERNOON IN FORT WORTH THE SPUDDERS AND THE PANTHERS, WITH JAKEY ATZ IN ONE CORNER AND WALTER SALM IN THE OTHER, WILL BATTLE FOR THE HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE TEXAS LEAGUE WITHOUT ANY GOSHDURN RULES WHATSOEVER!!

The lid is off, gang. There may be a few umpires on the ball field, and a few policemen hanging around, but believe you me, Mawruss, that battle today is going to be a reg'lar old-style bar room brawl! Jakey Atz will make a flying dive and endeavor to put Strangler Lewis' headlock on Walter Salm; Skipper Salm will counter by applying Frank Gotch's toe-hold to Jakie Atz. The Fort Worth fans, as usual, will be crying for blood, and urging the Panther pitchers to bean the Spudder batters—as we have heard them do on other occasions this season.

There will be no hand-shaking, and Rube Marshall even will forget his clownish antics. There will be two small armies of ball players on the field, and neither bench will hold them all. The player limit lid has been removed, and the Cats and Spuds will each have more pinch hitters hanging around than regulars.

Red Josefson will be in the melee, unless his train has gone wrong somewhere between here and Huntington, Pa. Bob Bescher will be out in uniform, ready to work if the desperate need arises. Jack Johnston will be testily swinging a big bat, and praying for a chance to use it. Jake Miller will be limping around swearing his leg feels fine, and "Smiler" Bischoff will declare there isn't a thing the matter with his finger.

For every Spudder wants a crack at the Cats. The Fort Worth fans have been on the necks of our gang for many moons, and while we may love Fort Worth in the winter—gosh, how we hate that dad-blamed burg during a Texas league summer!!

Oh, all ye fans who do not make the hike to Fort Worth, go somewhere this afternoon where there is a ball player board and yell your lungs loose for the Slug-gin' Spudders, the Dixie Champions of 1921!! Remember the Wichita Falls slogan:

POUR IT ON 'EM! POUR IT ON 'EM!! POUR IT ON 'EM!!!

INDIANS HOLD BIG "POW WOW" ON OLD TRIBAL GROUNDS

By Associated Press.

MACY, Neb., Aug. 30.—When the sun set one Sunday evening recently, over more than 200 tepees and 1,200 Omaha Indians it marked the conclusion of the annual "pow-wow" and ceremonies of the Omaha tribe that yearly have brought hundreds of Indians and families to this little spot to renew, with less vigor to be sure, the customs and dances of their forefathers.

The tract of forty acres upon which this annual ceremony has been conducted, once the stamping-ground and seat of government of the Omaha nation, has been platted into town lots and one block reserved for the erection of a $40,000 school building.

The last of the reunions, participated in by Omahas and Indians of visiting tribes from Kansas and Oklahoma, was the most elaborate ever held in the way of re-enacting the habits of old, but it was not devoid of its sorrow—Charles A. Parker, one of the most prominent members of his tribe succumbing to death after participating in the tribal dance.

The mescal ceremony, attended by the entire representation, was held after the chieftain's body had laid in his tent for four days, the period of state to the Omahas.

The final celebration began August 14 and closed a week later. The Indians brought their entire families, horses, dogs, pigs, and chickens, the latter two for butchering for the tribunal feasts. The venison which in former days was the choice of the tribal meats, no longer runs wild for the Omaha's arrows.

Together with their household, the Indians brought their collection of ancient ornaments, beaded, feathered or decked with porcupine quills, handed down in his tribue for many generations.

The midnight dance of the moon was revived, apparently leaving its mysterious and dramatic flavors as of old. The peace pipe was smoked one night with all the attendant ceremony, the Indians in full native costume.

Tuesday evening at sunset the Indians played a "hand game," which was followed by the big feast and the presentation of gifts. Four horses and a trunkful of Indian blankets, shawls, bead work, silks and other ornaments and wearing apparel were given away.

SURVIVED ITS BROTHERS BY SIMPLE LIFE

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—For 3,000,000 years one of the few survivors of the fossil animals has lived in fastnesses of what is now South America. Nine years it was discovered by an exploring expedition of the Field Museum of Natural History. The museum has just published its first scientific report on its find.

Speaking today of his discovery, Dr. Wilfred H. Osgood, of the Field Museum, named some of its features:

Through all those ages this animal has continued to reproduce itself without important change.

It is one of the most notable examples of the "simple life."

All other animals of its group have vanished utterly or been turned to stone hundreds of thousands of years.

A little animal, it looks like a sharp-nosed rat. It is only about six inches long. But its size has helped to preserve it. It has small eyes, rounded ears, a slender tail and soft brown hair.

Dr. Osgood made his discovery in Venezuela in 1912. He secured his specimens in the heart of a dense forest of the mountains there. Access to the spot was gained by laboriously cutting narrow trails for long distances through the heavy undergrowth.

"Three million years ago," Dr. Osgood said, "in all probability, its tastes were the same and insects were just as easy to find then as now.

"One of its assets has been its small size. It has seen the giants of the past come and go while it went on serenely.

"If all the early mammals had led the same 'simple life' the world now would not be the sort of place it is. Those that developed along special lines often found themselves in fatal difficulties, but some of them took the lines that have led to the higher mammals of today. So far as evolutionary progress is concerned, therefore, perhaps Caenolestes might as well have ceased to exist millions of years ago."

He Slipped.

Recently at a railway station a boy who looked to be about 14 years old who was smoking a cigarette went up to the booking office and said "Half a return to Birmingham."

"What! A kid like you smoking?" ventured the booking clerk, noticing the boy's cigarette.

"Who're you calling a kid, aw'm 16," replied the lad, impertinently.

"Oh, you are; well, full fare, please!"—Edinburgh Scotsman.

MASKED BALL AND 'BOCKERS' CAUSE DEATH

By Associated Press.

ALLENHURST, N. J., Aug. 29.—Further official investigation was made today as the result of the death of a guest from a fist fight involving the belle of the annual masked ball which forms the summer's social climax for the fashionable beach colony here.

Cecil Adrian Arthur of New York, son of Mrs. J. Charles Taite of London, Eng., died as the result of a quarrel during the dance.

Savadore Laborde, a student in the college of mechanical engineering at Cornell University, whose home is in Havana, Cuba, is under arrest.

The prosecution's chief witness is expected to be Mrs. John Stutphen, Jr., of New York, who with her husband, was Arthur's guest at the ball. She was dancing in a masquerade costume of which black silk knickerbockers were a feature. Laborde, thinking he knew her, asked her to dance and was refused. Then, according to detectives, an insistence led to the quarrel with Arthur. Arthur's skull was fractured and Laborde arrested.

Laborde's friends declared two other women at the dance were dressed like Mrs. Stutphen with black knickerbockers, blouse and tam o' shanter and one of them was a member of the Cuban's party. This and the fact that Mrs. Stutphen's back was turned when Laborde approached to ask for a dance led to the mistaken identity, it was said.

POWER BOAT RACES ARE CALLED OFF BY RAIN

DETROIT, Aug. 30.—The third and final heat of the gold cup power boat race here today was abandoned on account of rain, after Miss America I, of Detroit, and Miss Chicago of the Chicago yacht club had covered ten laps of the thirty-mile heat.

It was decided not to run off the heat as both two hats in the race, Miss America had a winning margin on the trophy. The victory carried with it possession of the Wood-Fisher trophy.

FLORAL HEIGHTS PASTOR RETURNS

The Rev. W. L. Tittle, pastor of Floral Heights Methodist church, reports that his "vacation" is now over, and that he is busy working out plans for future work in his new church at Tenth and Polk streets.

This pastor spent his vacation in a somewhat unusual way. Instead of going away to the mountains or to some "watering place" he took short trips which required only four or five days at a time. His Sundays were spent in attending religious services in other cities. One Sunday was spent in Oklahoma City and one in Dallas. Last Sunday he surprised the congregation at home by slipping in unannounced and taking his seat in the congregation with his wife. He laughingly called himself a "visitor" and stated that in his round of visitation he had purposedly kept the best for the last.

It was announced at the services last Sunday that Rev. Mr. Tittle would be in his pulpit at both morning and evening services next Sunday.

Many people are returning from their summer trips, and the work of the Sunday School and Church are both expected to take on new lift with the beginning of the fall work.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Tittle his pulpit has been filled by the assistant pastor, the Rev. C. B. Garrett, the presiding elder, the Rev. S. M. Black, and a number of prominent laymen of the congregation.

MANY YOUTHFUL ATHLETIC WONDERS FROM ALL SECTIONS OF THE COUNTRY HAVE BEEN DEVELOPED DURING 1921

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The youthful wonders, representing every section of the country, have been developed this year in the American field of sport. The names of Alex Stirling and Robert T. "Bobby" Jones, the golf marvels of Atlanta, and Vincent Richards, the New York tennis star, have been on the lips of sport lovers for several seasons.

To this select group there has been added this year:

Miss Helen Wills, 15 years old, of Berkley, Cal., winner of the national girl's singles tennis championship.

Julius Saglowsky, 15 years old, of Indianapolis, winner of the national boys' singles tennis championship.

Elmer Harold, 16 years old, of Ashkum, Ill, winner of the American junior championship for marksmen with a score of 48 hits in 50.

Dorothy Smith, 18 years old, of Cotuit, Mass., winner of the women's national archery championship.

Miss Miriam Burns, 17 years old, of Kansas City, whose sensational play in the Western Women's golf tournament carried her into the third round. She was defeated by a veteran in a brilliant match.

The pan-Germans have been holding battle anniversaries, "steel helmet," athletic meets, "front troops reunions" and other affairs at which Field Marshal von Hindenburg, General Ludendorff and other military leaders have been present. These functions have for the most part taken on the character of anti-republican manifestations.

Ask the man who owns one

When you come right down to reason, what is there to "discount" tires—

THE next time a friend comes to you all excited about some wonderful tire bargain—ask him how much value he ought to get for each dollar of tire money.

It's astonishing that any car owner today should not know all the tire service he is entitled to.

Nor how to check up between the economy of par quality on one hand—and big discounts, surplus stocks, discontinued lines and retreads on the other.

For two years U. S. Tire makers have been telling the American people all about tires.

They have laid open the tire business from every angle.

They have always led the fight for better tires.

They have consistently maintained quality first standards with certain economy for the tire buyer.

They have established 92 Factory Branches all over the country. Perfecting U. S. distribution so that you get a fresh, live tire every time you buy a U. S. Tire.

So when a man once decides on U. S. Tires he knows what he is getting in quality—service—economy.

In support of his own judgment he gets the pledged word and reputation of the largest and most successful tire concern in the world.

A sound reason for the fact that you see more U. S. Tires on more cars than ever this year.

"You get a fresh, live tire every time you buy a U. S. Tire."

The U. S. CHAIN TREAD
One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

HEALTH THE KEYNOTE TO BEAUTY

Beauty means so much to women—power, social triumph, admiration and love.—Beauty implies good health—who ever saw a woman racked with pain, struggling with weakness or disease, who could be called beautiful? The woman of today in this high-strung nervous age is continually overdoing with the result that ills peculiar to her sex develop which, unchecked, will ruin all chances for her happiness. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been recognized as a standard remedy for women's ills, and has done much to relieve pain and restore good health to women.—Adv.

STOCKS SHOW FURTHER GAIN; TONE STRONGER

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The stock market today continued its upward course, the only conspicuous exceptions being the local traction and diverse specialties concerning which further dividend reductions or suspensions were apprehended.

Strength of rails and steels at gains of 1 to 3 points seemed to be based mainly on better earnings reported by the transportations and the probability that leading railway systems soon would come into the market for equipment and other supplies.

Mexican Petroleum and affiliated issues rose one to five and a half points on intimations that the impending conference between the Mexican government and American concessionaries would result in an adjustment of existing vexatious conditions.

Shipments, motors, leather, tobaccos and numerous specialties came forward in the comprehensive advance, cancelling much of their recent reversal. The close was strong.

Call money opened at five per cent, but dropped to 4 1-2 before noon on the exchange with a free supply at four per cent on good collateral outside. Foreign exchanges again strengthened.

Stimulated by the quick absorption of the Brazilian issue, the general bond list developed many strong features in the domestic and foreign divisions. The liberty group, however, was moderately irregular.

ROTARIANS OF STAMFORD HAVE ALL-DAY OUTING

Special to the Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Aug. 30.—About one hundred Rotarians and their wives enjoyed an out door picnic on the western side of the College Lake this afternoon. The speakers of the occasion were J. H. Allison, president of the Fort Worth Rotary club, and Dr. S. M. Martin, an evangelist of Seattle, Washington, who is conducting a meeting in this city.

The affair was informal for the most part, and was one of the typical Rotary affairs. President McDonald, presided and the Rotarians themselves acted as waiters in serving the repast.

The Stamford Rotary Club has about forty-four members comprising as many lines of professions and businesses and is now arranging for a giant Father and Son Get-To-Gether meeting that is to be had one day during the coming week.

TEXAS LEADS MANUFACTURE OF BUTTER

Special to the Record News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—While Wisconsin and New York are usually regarded as the leading dairy states, and Texas is considered a beef cattle state, the Census Bureau in tone of its reports on the 1920 census made public today shows that more butter is made on the farms of Texas than by the farmers in any other state. And while New York and Wisconsin rank respectively first and second in the production of milk, neither one of them is among the leading states in the production of butter.

Something more than seventy gallons of milk was produced in the United States in 1919 for each person in the country. More than seven pounds of butter for every person in the United States was made on the farms of the country in 1919.

Wisconsin produced the largest quantity of milk of any of the states in 1919, with a total of 858,258,521 gallons, an increase of 69.5 per cent in 10 years. New York ranked second with a production of 756,045,942 gallons, an increase of 13.2 per cent. Minnesota was third. Pennsylvania fourth and Ohio fifth in the production of milk for 1919. Wisconsin and New York combined produced about one-fifth of the entire quantity of milk produced on the farms of the United States in 1919.

The states with the greatest milk production do not always report the largest sales of milk, and the report of the Census Bureau shows that New York lead all the states in the sale of milk off the farms, with a total of 573,161,952 gallons. Wisconsin came next with 473,816,832 gallons, and Pennsylvania third with 250,444,940 gallons. These three states reported more than one-half the milk sold from all farms in the United States in 1919.

In 1919 there were 707,666,492 pounds of butter made on farms in the United States, compared with 994,650,610 pounds in 1919, a decrease of 28.9 per cent. This decrease is stated to be due principally to the fact that the making of butter is being rapidly transferred from the farms to factories. There were six states in 1919 which reported more than 30,000,000 pounds of butter made on farms, as follows: Texas, 49,405,132 pounds; Pennsylvania, 38,468,607 pounds; Tennessee, 37,166,063 pounds; Kentucky, 34,080,415 pounds, Ohio, 30,264,265 pounds; and Georgia 30,257,153 pounds.

The quantity of cheese made on farms in 1919 was 6,371,396 pounds, a decrease of 33.3 per cent during the decade. Only a very small per cent of the total production of cheese is made on farms, the rest being produced in factories.

The quantity of cream sold in 1919 was 82,247,580 gallons as compared with 54,933,583 gallons in 1919, an increase of almost 50 per cent.

While there has been a decrease in the quantity of butter and cheese made on farms and in the quantity of butter sold, there has been a marked increase in the sales of milk, cream and butterfat. This is due chiefly to the change in the method of disposing of dairy products, many farmers now selling milk, cream or butterfat to butter and cheese factories instead of making butter or cheese on the farm. The total sales of butterfat from farms in 1919 amounted to 532,244,072 pounds, an increase of 74.1 per cent. Five states reported sales of more than 30,000,000 pounds of butterfat in 1919, as follows: Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, California, and Michigan.

While Texas lead all states in the quantity of butter made on farms with a total production of 49,405,152 pounds in 1919, this was a considerable decrease from the quantity made in 1909, which is reported as 64,993,214 pounds. Texas lead all the states in that year also in the production of butter on farms, and the decrease in last ten years has been in about the same proportion as the decrease throughout the United States. Most of this butter produced on Texas farms seems to be consumed at home, for in 1919 only 8,947,297 pounds of butter were sold in the state.

In the production of milk Texas also shows a decrease in the last ten years for which report has been made, the total production for 1919 is given at 202,074,353 gallons, a decrease of 11.3 per cent in ten years. Most of the milk was used on the farm as well as the butter since the report shows that in 1919 only 19,380,445 gallons of milk were sold.

The report shows the sale in 1919 of 650,758 gallons of cream from Texas farms compared with 452,072 gallons in 1909.

The sale of butterfat is increasing in Texas as well as in other states, the report showing the sales for 1919 to have been 3,103,449 pounds compared with 1,247,018 pounds in 1909.

WHEAT EASES OFF TO LOW PRICE ON MAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 30—The fact that Canadian May wheat sold at a discount under the same delivery in Chicago, allowing for exchange rates was chiefly responsible for unloading by discouraged longs on the Chicago board of trade today. Wheat closed 1 3-4 to 2 under yesterday's finish. Corn was 1@1 1-4 off at the close while oats followed suit to the extent of being 5-8 to 7-8 lower.

Insufficient support gave all grain markets a tone of weakness. Corn broke over one cent from yesterday's finish with sellers of bids forced to protect themselves on the way down. Support was lacking although when around 53 cents for September and December resting orders checked the break.

Stop loss orders were uncovered in September oats early and prices for all deliveries dropped sharply.

Weakness in grains and hogs gave provisions a heavy undertone at times.

ASK DAMAGES FROM PACKERS AND OIL KING

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—A damage suit for $120,000,000 charging packing concerns here with conspiracy to form a trust and naming John D. Rockefeller Sr., and his son in addition to several national banks, was filed today in United States district court by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Osborn Fesson, of Omaha, Neb.

The bill, originally filed in Omaha, was amended to be filed in Chicago, due to the number of local firms involved, and sets up that "due to the scandal caused by embalmed beef fed the soldiers during the Spanish-American war, your complainants were inspired to manufacture pork and bean biscuit which would be at once edible and nourishing. They approached Swift and Company, for the use of their laboratories.

"The use of the laboratories was promised but the packing companies, maliciously, unlawfully and wickedly conspired to stifle competition by forming a trust and making it impossible to make or sell these biscuits and your complainants feel that they have been damaged to the amount of $120,000,000 and they pray for a judgment for this sum," the bill states.

The alleged conspirators named in the bill are Armour and Company, Swift and Company, Morris and Company, Cudahy Packing company, John D. Rockefeller Sr. and John D. Rockefeller Jr., Union Stock Yards, Logan and Bryan, First National Bank of Chicago, J. B. Forgan and David R. Forgan of the National City Bank, Henry S. Robbins, Max Pam, brother of Judge Hugo Pam, Charles M. Schwab, Theodore Shonts, now deceased, Ward Baking company, Standard Oil company of all states, and the Riggs National Bank of Washington, D. C.

CLAY COUNTY TO ASK ELECTION ON HIGHWAY BONDS

Special to the Record News.

STAMFORD, Aug. 30.—Plans for the further expansion of work along the Gulf-to-Colorado highway between Fort Worth and Wichita Falls were further advanced by the decision of Clay county enthusiasts to call a $1,000,000 road bond election immediately. Enthusiastic meetings have already been held in Henrietta and Petrolia.

The ultimate plan of the advocates of the Gulf-to-Colorado highway association is a completely paved road between Fort Worth and Amarillo, and hence to Denver. Three counties in Colorado already have paved roads, and since Wichita, Potter and Tarrant, and parts of Wilbarger and Hardeman either have or have arranged for paved roads the day is drawing closer when a paved road between Fort Worth and Wichita Falls and the Pandhandle plains metropolis is not so far distant.

CATTLE MART. MORE ACTIVE AT FT. WORTH

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 30.—Due to a decrease in receipts, the cattle market was more active today and any quotable change in prices was toward strength. Calves also went freely at rates that were strong to 25c higher. Receipts amounted to 2000 head of cattle and 3000 calves. Good steers sold around $5.00 to $5.15, the best cows went at $3.50, yearlings brought $6.60 and heavy calves notched $6.25.

With 1500 hogs here the market opened about steady, the top being $9.10. Later the trade weakened and the close was 10 to 15 cents lower, the closing top being $8.85. Bulk sales ranged from $8.50 to $8.75. Pigs sold steady at $6.00 to $7.00.

The sheep market was weak, receipts reaching 2000 head. Lambs remained generally steady, but the sheep demand was easily met and sales were weak to 25c lower. Quotations.

COMPLETE SHOULDERS ON ROAD

The three and quarter miles of gravel shouders on the Lake road extending from a short distance within the city limits to the Archer county line has been completed according to information Tuesday from J. P. Jackson county commissioner from precinct 1 in charge of the work.

The shoulders which are four feet wide on either side of the pavement with an average depth of 7 inches cost the county $10,559.51 according to Tom McHaim, county treasurer. The cost is in excess of original estimates of the county engineer's department.

Mr. Jackson said Tuesday that as soon as it rained sufficiently the shoulders would be rolled down even to the concrete paving making a smoother surface than it has at the present time.

COTTON SETS HIGHER PRICE FOR DECEMBER

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Still higher prices were established in the cotton market today with December contracts selling at 16.98 while March and later deliveries went through the 17-cent level, with March selling at 17.08. December closed at 16.87 with the general market closing steady at a net advance of 55 to 61 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 2 9to 40 points in response to unexpectedly strong Liverpool cables, accompanied by reports of an increasing trade demand for futures, and a continued good demand for spots in the market later. There was very heavy realizing and some southern hedge selling on the local advance, but it was absorbed on reactions of 20 to 30 points and he market became very strong and excited during early afternoon owing to an active demand for October. Three or four prominent brokers supposed to be operating for western or Wall street interests were credited with buying fully 70,000 bales of October sending the price up to 16.60 and the general list 50 to 16 points above last night's closing figures. As soon as the October demand slackened the market broke sharply under renewed realizing and more confident selling for a reaction. A decline of 28 or 40 points from the best brought in a renewed demand late in the afternoon however, and the best prices of the day were touched in late trading with October selling at 16.63 and aJnuary 16.96. 9The close was only a few points off from the best. Better weather in the southwest seemed to make very little impression on the sentiment and a number of reports were received claiming that rains now would be too late to help the crop.

N. O. COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—Speculative driving power sent the cotton market to higher levels today in face of almost constant realizing from the long element and warnings from brokers and professional traders that the market was in great danger of becoming overbought. The demand was great enough to absorb all offerings and to put prices to new high record levels for the season, at the same time allowing only narrow reactions, which did not last. Highest prices came late in the day when trading months were 58 to 61 points over the close of yesterday. The close was 47 to 51 points net higher. October went to 16.21 and closed at 16.10; March went to 16.76 and closed at 16.68.

The same influences were at work that have constantly lifted values of late claims of crop damage in almost all sections of the belt, evidences of about the most severe August crop deterioration on record, belief in a very low condition from the government Thursday and a growing disposition to believe in extremely small estimates of the yield for this season.

The opening was excited with prices bulging in strong fashion in response to a sensationally good Liverpool market. Heavy realizing met the gains but, after reactions of about a dollar a bale, the market came back strnogly and this was the program throughout the session.

N. Y. SUGAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Raw sugar was quiet and unchanged on the basis of 4.61 for centrifugal uncontrolled sugars and 4.86 for the Cuban committee prices. Sales 2,800 bags San Domingos at 2 3-4 cif. Raw sugar futures were quiet, but steady and raws opening and closing at 1 to 7 points net advance. September closed 2.95; December 2.62; March 2.49; May 2.54.

Refined sugar continued firm at 45.90 to 6.00 for fine granulated by all refiners. Refined sugar futures were firm and closed unchanged to 10 points net higher.

LIVERPOOL SPOTS.

By Associated Press.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 30.—Spot cotton in good demand; prices hardening. Good middling, 11.16; fully middling, 10.76; middling, 10.36; low middling, 9.56; good ordinary, 8.56; ordinary, 7.81.

Sales 12,000 bales, including 10,200 American. Receipts 16,000 bales, including 8900 American. Futures closed quiet and steady; August, 10.66; October, 10.64; December, 10.65; January, 10.59; March, 10.53; May, 10.47; July, 10.39.

OIL-GAS-POTASH.

One or all three may be discovered in the same well. Mitchell county, Texas, is in the Permian red bed formation, similar to that of Electra and Burkburnett, with their long-lived wells. The first three wells drilled in Mitchell county hit the oil. Two of these wells are seven miles apart. Mitchell county has thick beds of salt and gypsum. The great potash beds near Stassfurt, Germany, were discovered in salt mining. The United States imports 80 per cent of its potash. United States Geological Bulletin, issued June 7, says:

"Two oil companies boring 80 miles apart in Western Texas, report salt strata of nearly same geological age and general character as potash-bearing beds of Western Europe of at least the richness of potash deposits of Alsace and Germany. Thickness unknown, however. Even if deposits in these two wells are not commercially valuable, richer deposits may be found elsewhere. The potash area, at any rate, is large."

I own 8,000 acres leases in solid body, want capital to join me in development on liberal terms. I own oil and gas leases in Eastland, Shackelford, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Howard, Mitchell, Scurry and Brewster counties, Texas. My prices are attractive.

DEMOCRACY RULES WORLD, ROOT ASSERTS

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 30.—Stating that public opinion required institutions for its expression, Elihu Root, former secretary of state, told delegates to the American Bar association that aiding the rule of democracy was the highest public service which the legal fraternity could perform.

"Let no one think that these meetings are perfunctory," Mr. Root said. "Like our own country, the whole world is coming under the rule of democracy—and democracy depends on enlightened public opinion. The people, in each county, rule the world today.

"Public opinion requires institutions for the expression. Otherwise, it is dissipated in thin air like the angry murmurs of a mob which lead to nothing but indiscriminate violence. In aiding the formation of public opinion, the bar is doing the highest public good."

A step toward heightening the influence of the American Bar association was proposed in a committee report by Judge Clarence N. Goodwin of Chicago. His committee suggested compulsory membership in the bar association, instead of voluntary as at present, and the right to educate, admit and disbar members at the discretion of the association.

SAYS CENSORSHIP OF MOVIE POSTERS PROVES SUCCESS

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Censorship of the poster advertising that adorns movie snow entrances has worked out splendidly in Chicago the past year and a half, according to Miss Menita McGinnis, acting chief censor of the Chicago censor board. Miss McGinnis said that this city is the only one she knows of that has such an ordinance.

It has enabled the censor board to eliminate nudes from street display as well as from the film. It used to be that the board would cut out a nude every time it appeared in the picture, and then find posters of prohibited scenes in the lobby and by the sidewalk. Those days are past.

A great deal of suggestive advertising of pictures that were perfectly harmless has also been eliminated through the ordinance(Chicago's acting chief censor said.

"That was quite a trick in some of the downtown shows," Miss McGinnis observed. "Managers liked to make it appear they had a very savory picture inside, and there the public flocked and were bitten. Poster advertising of such picture houses is now much better.

"Just a little while ago, to illustrate, we passed a harmless picture, efaturing a well known star, without a cut. A little later people began writing in to the censor board asking why it allowed such a dreadful picture to be shown. We received several hundred letters.

"At the picture house big colored posters were hung outside with legends like this 'The White Slave Mart,' and 'Do you know your daughter may at any moment step off the curb into a life of nameless degradation?'

"I asked the manager who wrote his copy.

"His chest puffed out a bit as he said, 'I do.'

"Then I gave him a little light on poster advertising. 'You know that's a perfectly innocent picture,' I told him. 'What ever did you mean by putting up this line of stuff? Why even the policeman at the corner wanted to know what kind of a picture the censor bureau was passing, and when a policeman complains—'

"So he got some new ideas, and though he remonstrated I was making him 'lose a lot of sheckles,' he took his spectacular advertising in and replaced it with something more nearly approaching the truth."

GULF OFFICERS DELIGHTED WITH WICHITA FALLS

"We are delighted with Wichita Falls," declared R. G. Oberstetter and R. G. Wilson of the land department of the Gulf Production company, who were among the first arrivals of the office force of the company which is moving here from Fort Worth, to a Record News representative Tuesday. "We have been here for only a day but have been pleasantly located and believe that the atmosphere of the city and the people here will suit us exactly," they both said.

Mr. Oberstetter was in this city with the Gulf company about four years ago, he said, and the transformations of the city are a revelation to him, he said. At that time none of the new office buildings had been built and the business section of the city extended about one-half of the present extent.

"Such changes a few years can make," Mr. Oberstetter said, "give promise of greater growth in future years."

The new citizens of Wichita Falls, coming here with the Gulf are ardent supporters of the Spudders, Mr. Wilson said. "I am glad we moved here just at this time," he said, "so we can live in the town which is going to win the Texas league pennant."

ERZBERGER MURDER SUSPECT RELEASED

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—Oltwig Hirschfield, for whom the police had been searching on suspicion that he might have some knowledge concerning the assassination of Mathias Erzberger, came to Berlin today and informed the state's attorney that he had nothing to do with the shooting of the former vice chancellor. Thereupon the police permitted the man to go.

Hirschfield sometime ago tried to murder Herr Erzberger. He was sent to prison but was released recently owing to ill health. One of the men arrested in Heidelberg on suspicion that they know something regarding the details of the assassination of Erzberger has attempted to commit suicide, according to the Acht Uhr Abendblatt.

GRAND JURY WILL MEET ON FRIDAY

Unusual and interesting developments are expected as a result of the sudden calling into special session of the June term granted jury by Judge H. F. Weldon Tuesday morning. The call is for 1:00 p. m. Friday. Among other things which will be taken up, it is expected, is the recent killing on Lake street when Patrolman C. M. Waggoner shot and killed W. M. Webb in making an arrest. Four or five other routine cases will probably be disposed of while the grand jury is in session.

While expected to be interesting, the session will "be short and sweet," according to court house gossip, it being expected that the body will finish their work late Friday.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH DELEGATES HOLD WORLD WIDE MEET

VINONA LAKE, Ind., Aug. 30—Progress made by the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) will be discussed at its international convention which opens here tomorrow. Sessions continue through Sept. 4.

An interesting piece of work which the convention will hear of is the building of churches through a permanent loan fund. This fund was established in 1889 with a gift of $5,000 from General F. M. Drake, a former governor of Iowa. By re-loaning the money, ninety-three churches have been erected in thirty-two years.

During the last nine months sixty-six churches have been built by the denomination in twenty-nine states and one Canadian province.

Report of the missionary activities of the church will be an important feature of the convention. Recently the church has opened a mission to the Indians at White Swan, Washington, where 3,500 Indians are living on a reseveratoin. Oriental missions are maintained in San Francisco, Portland and Los Angeles and a mission for Mexicans is maintained in San Antonio, Tex. An appeal of 100,000 Bibles to be sent to Russia will be made at the convention, it is said.

Thirty colleges maintained by the denomination have doubled their enrollment since 1918, according to the report prepared by its board of education. An orphans' home has been established in Dallas, Texas, while a home for the aged nearing completionn at Jacksonville, Fla., will accomodate seventy-five persons.

Fifty-one new missionaries were sent to foriegn fields this summer. In the Congo the church is carrying on extensive and successful work amoung the natives. Recently a fully equipped American saw-mill was shipped there and is now in operation in the African forests under missionary supervision. The church also maintains a mission at Thibet, where eight missionaries are stationed.

It was there that Dr. A. L. Shelton was captured by bandits several years ago and held for ransom for seventy days. Doctor Shelton is now returning to his station after a furlough in this country. Next spring on special invitation from Dalai Lama, ruler of Tibet, he expects to visit its capital, the "forbidden city" of Lhasa. He will carry supplies for two years.

GREEKS ABANDON FLANK MOVEMENT AGAINST TURKS

By Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 30.—The Greek troops in Asia Minor have abandoned their flank movement in the Salt desert against the Turkish nationalist positions along the Sakaria river.

The Greek troops are suffering terribly from lack of water and also are being badly punished by the Turkish second corps operating in the center of the Turkish lines.

The Turkish army now numbers about 100,000 men.

FIND BANKER SHOT TEN DAYS AFTER BANK IS ROBBED

By Associated Press.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Aug. 30.—V. W. Fisk, cashier of the Citizens Savings Bank at Curlew, Iowa was shot and physicians say fatally wounded this afternoon by men believed to be bandits.

Fisk was found lying behind his automobile a mile north of town with a bullet wound in his right breast. He was on his way to Emmetsburg on business when shot.

The bank of which he was cashier was held up and robbed ten days ago.

FOUR INJURED IN AUTO SMASH-UP NEAR BEAUMONT

By Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 30.—Four people were injured when the left hand wheel of an automobile driven by Ray Stewart gave way on a curve this side of Amelia early today, causing the car to turn over and pin all of the six occupants beneath it. Of the injured, Mrs. Hattie Russell of Woodville, Mrs. C. W. Evans of Helmic and Ray Stewart are reported to be in most painful condition.

MOPLAH DISORDERS ARE SUBSIDING

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A dispatch from Simla reports that the Moplah disturbances in some district are subsiding and a favorable turn to the situation is expected shortly.

Public spirited native Christian civilians are aiding in beating off the rebels as they appear. This is due to the belief which is confirmed by local newspapers, the dispatch adds that the rising is directed not merely against the government, but against all non-Moslems.

IOWANS PLAN TO FEED CORN TO LIVE STOCK

By Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 30—Iowa's corn crop, estimated at 405,220,000 bushels, will probably be fed to livestock on the farms of the state, according to farmers and farm experts.

The main reason for this is that the cost of marketing corn is so high that there is no profit for the farmers at the present market price, the experts declare.

Corn is the basic ration for livestock in the middle west, and under normal conditions Iowa ships only twenty-two per cent. of its corn to outside markets. The 1021 crop is ninety-two per cent. of normal, according to the government report, indicating that if conditions were normal only 80,150,380 bushels would be shipped out of the state this year.

It is pointed out that there is a wider margin between the prices of corn and of pork at this time than has recently occurred hence farmers believe that the only logical thing to do with their corn is to feed it to their swine and thus realize a real profit by shipping their corn to market as meat products. Cheap corn means merely that feeding operations can be handled with more profit to feeders.

Investigators at Iowa State College at Ames have found that corn would, at best, be expensive fuel. They declare that it does not burn well, gives comparatively little heat and if used as fuel would have to be replaced with more expensive feed for live stock. These investigators state that the price of coal would have to be doubled to make corn a profitable fuel.

The total number of live stock now on Iowa farms is estimated at 16,078,000 head. This year's corn crop will furnish about 25 bushels a head for these animals, or about thirty per cent. of their feed. Hay, pasture, oats and other grains make up the balance of the feed.

UNCLE JOE CANNON NOT TO RUN AGAIN

REPRESENTATIVE DECLARES VETERAN CONGRESSMAN VOLUNTARILY RETIRES.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Representative William A. Rodenberg of East St. Louis, while passing through the city today informed newspaper men that Joseph G. "Uncle Joe" Cannon will not be a candidate for re-nomination and re-election to congress from the Danville Illinois district.

According to Mr. Rodenberg the services of "Uncle Joe" will terminate at his own wish at the end of the present congress.

Representative Cannon has been a member of congress since 1872 with the exception of two terms, being defeated in 1890 and 1912. He is serving his twenty-third term.

SENATOR PAGE TO QUIT PUBLIC LIFE AFTER FIFTY YEARS

HYDE PARK, Vt., Aug. 30.—Half a century of public service entitles a man to a rest, Senator Carroll S. Page said today in announcing that upon completion of his present term in March, 1923, he would not be a candidate for re-election. He felt, he said, that he had done his full duty, adding that he was the oldest member of the senate.

"The time has come when home is the dearest spot on earth and I want to spend the years remaining with me back with my old friends in Vermont," he said.

Senator Page's health is good and many of his supporters had hoped he might be prevailed upon to accept re-election in 1922. Senator Page first entered public life as a member of the state legislature in 1869. He has been in the United States senate since 1908.

CHINA URGES NOVEL SET OF AUTOIST RULES

By Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 30.—As a means of preventing automobile accidents the 'Health Precautionary Association,' organization composed of leading Chinese of Shanghai, recently prepared a list of suggestions among which are several of engaging novelty. The suggestions which were adopted at a meeting after lengthy debate were submitted to the municipal council of the International Settlement. Among the measures that the organization advocates are the following:

"All motor cars have rubber tired wheels and run without noise. It is too late to blow a horn when a car has already collided with a pedestrian. A car should have a small bell attached to one of the front wheels and this bell should be kept ringing all the time so that when pedestrians hear it they can get out of the way. This bell should be half the size of a bicycle bell. Each car should have a speed limit, but the fire brigade, doctors' and police motor cars should be exempted.

"A chauffeur should wear a brass badge on his breast. The badge should be three inches in diameter and should have his name and the number of his license in English and Chinese inscribed thereon. The badge should be issued by the municipal council at a few taels each. Then a man not licensed will not dare drive a car.

"All motor trucks should have rails or iron chains around the cars to insure safety and in case of collision cargo will be prevented from falling and injuring pedestrians. Cargo should not be piled too high to prevent danger when passing over bridges.

"There should be one licensed chauffeur and an assistant to take charge of each motor car or truck. The assistant should sit behind and keep a lookout when the car turns around, goes backward enters or leaves the garage. The owner of the car will not mind spending a little money in employing an assistant chauffeur.

"After a person is killed by a motor car, a wax image of the deceased should be made and placed in a room and any chauffeur who causes injuries to others should be locked up in this room so that he will see the image and feel sorry. This may cause him to repent. This has been introduced in America and has produced successful results."

HARDING TO SPEAK BY WIRELESS AT RADIO CONVENTION

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 30.—The National Radio Show, the first of its kind ever held in this country, will open here tomorrow, with manufacturers from all over the country represented amid the plaudits of the many wireless men whom the show has drawn to Chicago.

The Radio Show, besides containing the exhibits of hundreds of manufacturers of radio appartus, will also show the various developments of wireless communication since the day when Marconi flashed his famous message across the Atlantic. Ardient sets of fifteen and twenty years ago, with their coherers and detector crystals, will be displayed alongside of the very latest in radio construction. Instruments capable of sending and receiving messages half way round the globe.

Seated in his chair in the White House at Washington, President Harding will talk over a land wire to the Naval Station a few miles distant, where his voice will be broadcasted by wireless telephone. The message will be picked up at the Radio Show, where it will be amplified and scattered through the hall by loud speakers. Other prominent officials in Washington will also be heard by this method.

The entire wireless exhibit used by the Great Lakes Naval Training Station at the Pageant Progress held here has been installed, and will be operated. Fort Sheridan has sent down a rival exhibit.

E. P. Glaven, inventor of the radio controlled automobile, will have his machine in working order during the show, demonstrating the method of wireless control used on a battleship during the recent airplane bombing tests. Special wireless telephone transmitting outfits have been set up and music and speeches will be sent out nightly. An airplane will be equipped with instruments and the pilot directed in his evolutions by radio.

DOUBLE PLATOON SYSTEM WILL BE USED IN CHICAGO

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Schools will open here early next month with the "double platoon" system in effect, according to a statement of Ernest R. Cole, first assistant superintendent today. Shifts of students from eight in the morning until one in the afternoon and from noon until five o'clock are necessary, he said, because of a shortage of 1,000 teachers.

The shortage is due, Cole said, to better salaries paid business women. He stated many high school graduates with teaching ambitions abandoned normal school plans for office positions.

SAFE BLOWN BUT ROBBERS ARE FOILED

After smashing the combination knob to an office safe of the Wichita Produce Co., at the south end of Ohio street, with a heavy sledge hammer burglars Monday night walked empty handed out the back door, leaving untouched about $10 in currency in the cash drawer, according to the report filed with police by G. D. Keith, manager. The safe contained about $200 in currency.

The burglars, believed by police to have been boys, gained their entrance by prying the iron bar screening off the lower part of a window. They left through the back door, which was found open Tuesday morning. A heavy sledge hammer was found near the safe.

Employes of the company expressed a belief that the attempted robbery was staged early Monday night. An electric light, usually kept burning near the safe, they asserted, was noticed by one of their number, who passed, to have been out about 9 o'clock Monday night.

The fact that nothing was stolen, police asserted, leads to the belief that the burglars became frightened and fled. The use of the hammer was said to indicate that the robbery was attempted by rank amateurs.

ENGLISHMEN SEEK WIDOWS WHO HAVE HAD EXPERIENCE

The proportion of marriages in which the bride-to-be is a widow is very large just now.

A somewhat conservative estimate puts the percentage of widows as brides at 20 to 30 of the whole. This is a phenomenal figure and points to a definite preference for widows on the part of modern men.

Nor can we explain this change of taste entirely in terms of the war. When all the circumstances of that upheaval have been allowed for—the shortness of many married lives, the comradeship often existing between brother officers, the extreme youth of many of the widows—there remains an unexplained factor.

Indeed, we are compelled to believe either that it takes the experience of a widow to make many modern men marry at all or that the modern girl does not really understand her business.

The Kind That Men Seek.

Masculine opinion so far as it is available favors the latter view. Summarized it would run in this fashion; We are tired; we want rest and quiet and comfort after our exertions and hardships. The last thing on earth we desire is to be forced into a round of so-called amusements. Yet we see the girls of our acquaintance growing hungrier and hungrier for excitement and less and less ready to do what they contemptuously describe as "orderly duty" at home.

Moreover, we are busy. We have lost years of our working lives and have no time and no money to spare. We must have thrift and we must have freedom to devote ourselves to our work. How shall we get either of these from girls whose minds are set on pleasure?

To men of this way of thinking a widow appeals very strongly. She knows what married life is, and she promises security from disaster. Safe marriage rather than romantic marriage is her trump card.

Young Girls Too Uncertain.

The girls who resent her rivalry would do well to understand this. The present-day wife must above all things be free from illusion. She must pull her weight. She must deny herself.

From this point of view a widow is an accredited person, while a girl is, at best, uncertain. You have a guarantee with the one which you cannot obtain with the other. The men who manned the trenches have had their fill of uncertainty.

A widow, in fact, represents anti-waste in home life at a moment when money, time and temper are all rather short. She is less of a responsibility than a young, inexperienced girl, and she can be counted on, to some extent, not to indulge in exhausting sentimentalities. arriage with her is likely to be marriage without tears.

And at the present moment that is no light consideration.—Wilson in the Continental edition of the London nil.

CALLS SPECIAL CONCLAVE OF COMMANDERY

Charles R. Hartsook, eminent commander of Wichita Falls Commandery No. 59, has called a special conclave of the commandery, to commence at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon for the purpose of conferring the order of Knighthood on a large class of candidates.

Dinner will be served in the banquet hall at 6:30 o'clock.

Several prominent Templars from the adjoining towns, including Grand Commander Hawkins, of Vernon, have been invited to be present at the meeting, and it is anticipated that the attendance will be unusually large.

The commandery at the present time, has a long list of petitioners to receive the work during the next few weeks. Wichita Falls Commandery No. 59 has established a nw record in numerical increase. Over 125 members have been added to the Commandery since January 1st.

The drill team, under the leadership of Otto Stehlik, captain general, is making phenomenal progress and all the members are enthusiastic over their work. The drill team of over fifty members, will attend the Grand Commandery of the State of Texas, to be held in Fort Worth during the month of April next year and also the Triennial Encampment of the Grand Commandery of the United States of America, to be held in the city of New Orleans during the same month. It is estimated now that at least one hundred members of the local Commandery will make the trip to New Orleans.

At the last regular meeting the Transportation Committee was authorized to engage two special Pullman sleepers and to arrange for parking space at Fort Worth and New Orleans.

Some months ago an appropriation of $3,500 was made for these trips.

Gee Whiz! How'd You Like To Live Here?

ZION, Ill., Aug. 30.—Wilbur Glenn, overseer of Zion, today banned baseball and brass bands from the city when he signed an ordinance against both.

"Baseball is a crime," he declared. "And these brass bands! These too are criminal."

The official order prohibiting the youths of the city from playing "catch" and distances bands to within 300 feet of any street or alley in the city.

The independents see a joker in the edict against the bands. Two portions of the city are the required legal distance from any street or alley—the city park and the temple site controlled by Volva.

RICKENBACKER ONCE CHISELED TOMBSTONES

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 30.—Sixteen years ago in a small tombstone works here, a gambling youth of 15 wrestled with mallet and chisel, learning the art of monument making, physically on the job, mentally behind the steering wheel of a racing automobile.

That was the first job Captain Edward V. Rickenbacher, American ace of aces in the World War, ever held in his life. He was getting $6 a week. Later he gladly accepted a job in a garage. It payed $4 a week.

Rickenbacher was born in a little frame cottage close to the Columbus Driving Park. From the days when he was big enough to pear through the fence, the track fascinated him. When automobile racing started, the Driving Park was his mecca. His crowning ambition was to drive a racing automobile. He reached his goal when he was 18 years of age. At that time, he was sent to Texas by a local automobile concern, in whose factory he had been working, to demonstrate its speedsters.

From then on his career was meteoric. He became one of the best known automobile racers in the country.

Rickenbacher entered the world war as chauffeur to General Pershing. His rise to American Ace of aces was as sensational as the jump from the obscurity of his Columbus home to the highest pinnacle of racing fame.

Rickenbacher became a part of the A. E. F. after a series of rebuffs. When the United States entered the war, he was in England buying racing cars. He immediately returned to this country and offered his services. He tried to get governmental sanction to a plan of his to enlist a flying squadron fgrom among racing drivers of the country, but army officials turned the proffer down.

A few weeks later Rickenbacher was on his way overseas as chauffeur to General Pershing. A Short time after arriving abroad, he was in an avaition training camp, placed there through the personal intervention of General Pershing.

Richenbacher bagged his first German early in 1918. Within a month he had won the Croix de Guerre, and despite his delayed entrance into avaition, he was second American to be given the title of ace.

At this juncture, he met with an accident that nearly ended his career as a flyer.

His ear drums were split as the result of a 6000-foot fall which came after a single-handed fight against three German planes. The tip of one of the wings of the plane Rickenbaker was piloting was carried away by a hostile Fokker, and he plunged to earth. He was pronounced incapacitated for further service.

The former racing driver refused to be put out of the running and carried his case direct to General Pershing. The latter ruled that he still might fight.

When he became a captain, Rickenbacher commanded the famous Hat-in-the-Ring Squadron. His exploits continued to pile up, one after the other, until he was acclaimed American ace of aces.

Many of the medals and cups won and conferred upon Rickenbacher during his career, are packed carefully away in the little frame cottage here, but there are four things Mrs. Elizabeth Rickenbacher, his mother, values more than anything else. They are:

A piece of marble chisled in the shape of a book, and bearing the inscription "Holy Bible."

A small wooden chest.

A silver cup, embossed with gold, the championship trophy won by Rickenbacher in a bitter contest at Sioux City, Ia., in July, 1914, when he drove a Dusenberg car to victory in a three-hundred mile race on a gumbo dirt track.

A citation from the French government, accompanying the award of the Croix de Guerre.

Rickenbacher chisled the marble book in his monument making apprentjee days. The wooden chest is a memento of a short time spent in the shops of a railroad here.

His mother value them as symbolic of the steps in her son's life.
