We have been interested in solar energy ever since, many long years ago, we saw a fellow break the bottom out of a Coke bottle and use it to focus the sun's rays on a piece of paper and set it afire.

That was even more impressive than anything the Boy Scouts were doing with their friction method of starting fires without matches. It required less energy from the fire-builder and got more energy on the fire wood and kindling.

Now, it seems that the whole world has suddenly become interested in solar energy because there is so much of it and because other sources of energy appear to be fading out, or at least reaching their limits.

So, the latest issue of the Texas Energy Report brings us no surprise when it says that a number of Texans now are utilizing the power of the sun to heat their water, and that some are even using it to heat their homes and businesses. Moreover, experiments are underway to develop efficient and economical solar cooling systems as well.

Solar energy could be especially important to this area, it seems to us, because during any given year we usually have more sunshine than most folks. So far, they say that the most economical and easiest ways of using the sun's power are in heating water and in space heating. But the experts foresee the day when it will be practical to use solar energy for generating electricity. When this comes, we probably can say that we have our energy problem licked.

As matters stand now, we have too many of the so-called conveniences that require much energy and which we are reluctant to give up, even in the face of dwindling supplies of such energy sources as oil and gas.

For the fourth time in five rounds, it appeared that the weather was going to interfere with spraying operations in the boll weevil control program here. The fifth spraying was scheduled this week, but the sprayers need less wind and higher temperature than they had.

Meanwhile, Plains Cotton Growers, who have had a boll weevil control program going since 1964, reported that these insects were causing more problems than ever up on the Caprock. Their first spraying this year covered 230,000 acres of infested cotton, but the second was increased to cover 270,000 acres. In 1975, the first two sprayings there involved only 87,000 acres.

The Scurry County program this year calls for six sprayings over some 90,000 or more acres.—WACIL McNAIR.

Mutilated Tot Better

HOUSTON AP—Tiny Charles Scott is improving, his parents say, and they are confident he will pull through.

They weren't sure a week ago when the five-week old boy was nearly chewed to death by a raccoon.

"Poor little guy," said his father, Elmo Scott. "He had to get 86 stitches in his face alone-I think that was the final number-and that doesn't include what they (the doctors) did about his nose."

The infant was attacked in the bedroom of his grandmother's house last week while he slept.

He had improved to fair condition at a local hospital Monday.

Elmo and Evelyn Scott, the parents of two other children, said they agreed to talk about the incident in hopes of alerting others to the possible dangers of wild animals being kept as pets.

"No one should have to go through that," said Scott.

Scott said he was at his job with a private garbage pickup company Oct. 11 when his wife took Charles to visit her mother in north Houston.

Scott said the raccoon, a pet belonging to a neighbor, apparently got in the back door and went to the bedroom where the infant was sleeping.

He said his brother-in-law, Charles Mullenix, heard a "funny sound" and when he investigated he found the raccoon "all over" the baby.

Mullenix said he was bitten and scratched several times before he choked the animal to death.

Scott said the animal tore off the end of his son's nose, bit him all over the face, tore his lips and scratched him.

"We think his eyes will be okay" Scott said. "We're lucky there...the doctors say he's improving faster than they expected."

The Scotts alternate staying with Charles at the hospital or some other member of their families goes.

Although doctors at the hospital say the boy is improving they have not given a long-range prognosis for the infant.

Dr. R.D. Ward, rabies control director for Harris County Health Department, said the raccoon did not have rabies.

He said 80 per cent of rabies found in the county are in wild animals such as raccoons, skunks and bats. This year, so far, his office has confirmed seven rabies cases.

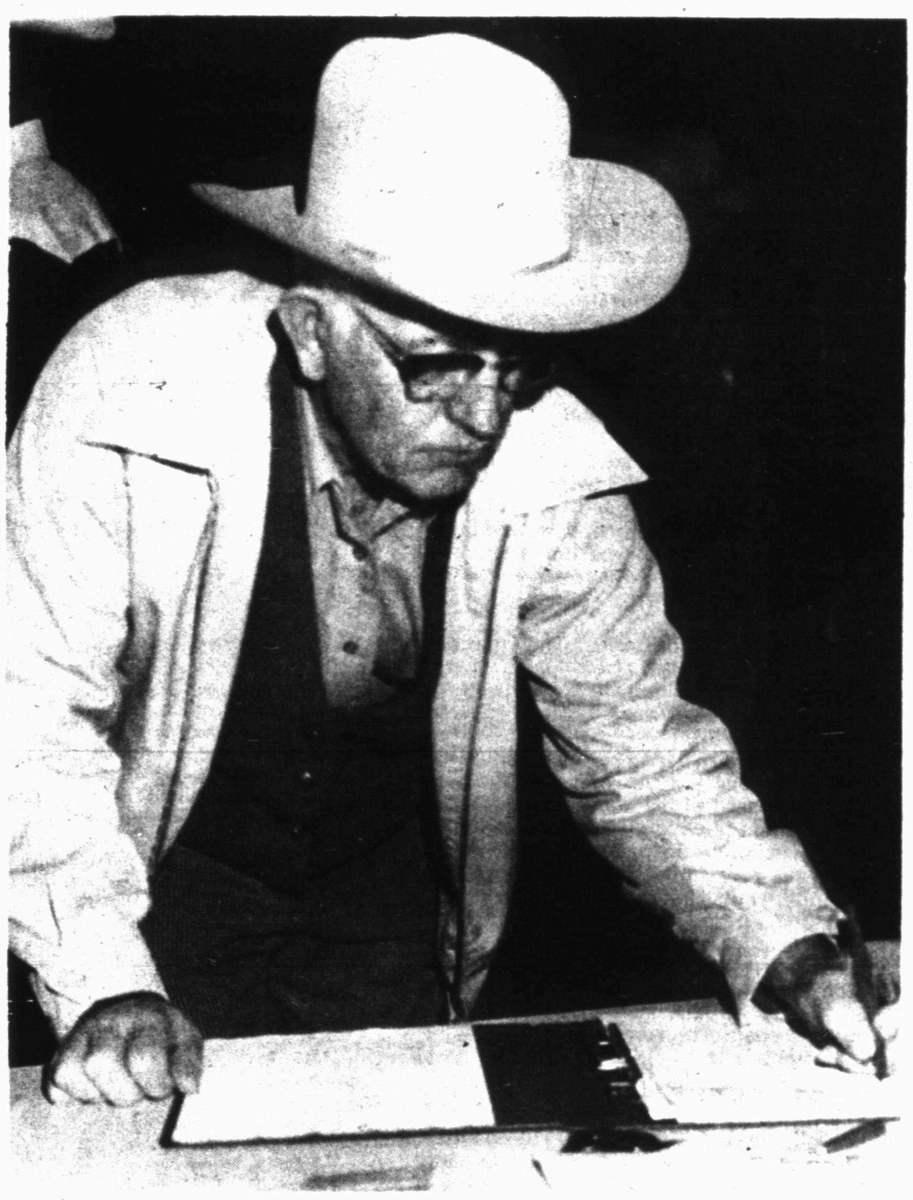

He said wild animals "never really become domesticated."

United Way Reports Due

Scurry County United Way campaigners were urged today to complete their assignments and report to their team captains as soon as possible.

The United Way hopes to conclude a successful campaign by Oct. 30, and the next general report session is set for 10 a.m. Wednesday at the city hall.

Carol Davis and Joe Williamson, co-chairmen of the campaign hoped all workers possible will have reports in by tomorrow and that all workers will have final reports in before Oct. 30.

The United Way is seeking $48,000 to support 13 participating agencies.

The show will begin at 9 a.m. Wednesday in the livestock exhibition building on the Scurry County Coliseum grounds, and the sale will follow at the same site at 12:30 p.m.

Bob Sale will judge the animals, and Stanley South will be the auctioneer.

The Anxiety 4th breeders will hold their annual banquet this evening at the Snyder Country Club, and their annual membership meeting will follow.

This is the second year in a row for Snyder to host the National Anxiety 4th Hereford Breeders show and sale, and visitors are due from several states. Some 400 to 450 are expected to be on hand by the time the auction sale begins Wednesday.

Over 70 animals have been consigned for the sale, including over 50 bulls. Consignors include W. A. Anderson of Lovington, N. M.; Lawrence E. Bartel of

US Economic Growth Slows Third Quarter

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's rate of economic growth faltered from July through September, a slowdown reflected in the increasing number of persons on the jobless rolls during the summer, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department said the Gross National Product, the total output of goods and services in the economy, expanded at an annual rate of 4 per cent in the third quarter.

The gross national product grew at an annual rate of 4.5 per cent in the second quarter and 9.2 per cent in the first three months of the year.

Most economists consider the growth rate during the second and third quarters adequate only to provide jobs for the expansion of the nation's labor force due to population growth. They believe it is inadequate to provide employment for persons thrown out of work because of the recession.

The Commerce report also showed that inflation, as measured in the Gross National Product, was less severe in the third quarter. Prices rose at an annual rate of 4.4 per cent, compared to 5.2 per cent from May through June.

The dollar value of the GNP in the third quarter was placed at $1,709.7 billion.

The percentage increase was the smallest since the 3.3 per cent growth rate recorded in the fourth quarter of 1975.

The growth rate was held down in part due to the slow build-up of business inventories and a slower pace of new investment in businesses and homes.

Inventories grew during the third quarter at an annual rate of $14.4 billion, compared to an annual rate of $16 billion in the previous three-month period.

Total investment expanded at an annual rate of 5 per cent during the summer months, compared to 11.5 per cent in the spring quarter, the department said.

The GNP figures represent the broadest measure of the nation's economic performance. Today's report is the last one due before the November election.

The 4 per cent growth rate was in line with economists' predictions during the past several weeks, although it was well below administration forecasts as recently as July.

In midsummer, the administration forecast the GNP growth rate would be about 7 per cent for the last six months of the year when computed on an annual basis, dropping unemployment below 7 per cent by December.

Snow Falls In Panhandle

Light snow and sleet fell in the Panhandle and South Plains and winds gusted to about 50 m.p.h. in the mountain passes of Southwest Texas as a cold front moved southeastward across the state.

Fagin Is Appointed Mayor Of Snyder

City Councilman John Fagin was appointed Mayor of Snyder last night to fill the vacancy created by the death on Oct. 12 of William A. Vestal.

Fagin's appointment extends until the city's general election next April. He had been serving as mayor pro tem since last April.

Mayor Vestal had been elected to a second two-year term in the April election this year. Thus, the mayor's office will be on the ballot again next April to elect a mayor to serve the remaining year of that term of office.

Fagin who is superintendent for Newmont Oil Co. here, was elected to place 4 on the City Council on April 2, 1974. He was re-elected to the council post this year.

His appointment as mayor leaves a vacancy on the council which also must be filled by appointment until the general election in April. The council indicated that it would consider making an appointment of a Place 4 Councilman at its meeting on Nov. 1.

Other members on the council are Jerry McWilliams, Place 1; Jack Cummins, Place 2; Truett Bryan, Place 3; Rod Waller, Place 5, and Vernon Rannefeld, Place 6.

In other business at the special meeting Monday night, the council named Jerry McWilliams to serve as Snyder's representative on the board of directors of the West Central Texas Council of Governments, a post Mayor Vestal had held; tabled for further study bids for erection of some highway signs; awarded a contract for operation of the hay farm next year at the city's wastewater treatment plant, and authorized the mayor to enter into an agreement for a pipeline easement.

The bid of Emmitt Hataway was accepted for the hay at the sewer farm. He submitted a proposal of $42.50, per ton the highest of four received, and agreeed to provide labor for operation of the irrigation system.

The pipeline easement is for the city to cross Santa Fe Railway property with a water line in North Snyder.

City Engineer Jim Dower reported to the council that the second cutting of hay at the city sewer farm was unusable because of heavy rains while it was on the ground. Whether another cutting will be possible depends on the weather, he said. The alfalfa at the farm is growing again, but an early freeze could wipe it out. The hay crop at the farm this year was sold on a bid of $30 per ton, with the contractor responsible for cutting, baling and hauling.

The city is using the hay field to dispose of wastewater from the treatment plant.

Homecoming At Hermleigh

HERMLEIGH—A pep rally and bonfire will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Hermleigh Baseball field to begin activities for the Hermleigh Homecoming.

On Friday, the Future Homemakers of America will sponsor a supper at the school. The cost of the meal, which will feature roast beef or ham, is $2.50 per plate and will be served from 5-6:30 p.m.

Kick-off time for the football game between Hermleigh and McCauley is 7:30 p.m.

The senior class will sponsor a country and western dance immediately following the game. Sidney Porter and The Country Boys from Sweetwater will play.

Tickets are $3 each or $5 per couple.

5-Year Census Law Inked

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. citizens will be counted every five years instead of every 10 years under a new law signed by President Ford.

Midwest Is Asked To Halt Expansion

The City of Snyder will ask Midwest Electric Copoperative to remove service lines it installed the past week in a new residential development in Southwest Snyder and to halt any further expansion of its lines in that area until a ruling is received from the State Utilities Commission on the franchise rights.

The City Council instructed City Attorney Ernie Armstrong to write a letter to that effect to Midwest, following a discussion of the situation at a special meeting of the council last night.

Midwest officials, Parker Wetsel and Gale Morgeson, along with Midwest's attorney, Dan Cotton, discussed the matter with the council, after which the council went into private conference with its attorney.

Following the executive session, the council reconvened its open session and announced it would request Midwest to hold up on expansion on the area involved in the discussion. The State Utilities Commission is expected to rule on the matter within a few days.

The situation arose when the residential development began the past summer and was subsequently annexed to the city at the request of the developer, Rodney Smith. Meanwhile, Midwest officials said they had made an agreement with Smith to provide electric service there prior to the annexation. At a meeting on July 19, the city rejected a request by Midwest for a franchise to serve that area. Texas Electric Service Co. has the franchise to serve customers inside the city limits, and it also has lines adjacent to the new residential development.

Midwest had run lines a few days ago to provide power for construction work on two houses, it was noted, and city officials said this was unauthorized.

Truce Plan May Not Be Effective

By FAROUK NASSAR
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Reaction to a proposed cease-fire and new peace plan aimed at ending Lebanon's civil war was divided here today, indicating the truce might be no more effective than 50 others in the 18 months of warfare.

The proposal for a cease-fire by midnight Wednesday and the plan to end the war were agreed on by Palestinian leader Yasir Arafat and Syrian President Hafez Assad and were announced Monday in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia.

Arafat and Assad met there in a two-day summit conference with Presidents Anwar Sadat of Egypt and Elias Sarkis of Lebanon, King Khaled of Saudi Arabia and Sheik Sabah al-Salem al-Sabah of Kuwait.

Pierre Gemayel's Phalangists, who have the largest militia fighting on the Christian side, endorsed the plan. But Camille Chamoun's National Liberals said it did not restrict the Palestinians enough. There was no comment from former President Suleiman Franjieh, the third major Christian warlord.

The Cedar Guards, numerically small but the most extreme of the Christian militias, vowed continued warfare "until the last Palestinian is either killed or kicked out of Lebanon."

Kamal Jumblatt, leader of the leftist Lebanese Moslems, was silent. But his supporters expressed fear the agreement would legitimize the presence of Syrian troops in Lebanon. They reiterated that there can be no peace until all Syrian forces withdraw.

The Palestine Rejection Front, made up of militant factions who broke with Arafat, was certain to reject the cease-fire.

Israeli government sources in Jerusalem said the agreement had little chance of success because so many participants in the fighting were not represented in the negotiations.

A joint communique broadcast from Riyadh said the conference agreed to expand the 2,300-man Arab League peace force in Beirut to a strength of 30,000 to enforce the peace agreement. It apeared likely that most of the reinforcements would come from the 21,000 Syrian troops Assad has sent into Lebanon since June to prevent a leftist victory and preserve a balance of pwoer between the Christians and Moslems.

Meanwhile, both Israel and the Christians denied that Israeli forces were involved in the Christian capture Monday of the town of Marjayoun, eight miles north of the Israeli border and the Palestinians' last gateway to the Arkoub region from which they harassed Israel before the Lebanese war.

Moslem military men who said they saw the fighting reported seeing Israeli helicopters and armored cars bringing troops to Marjayoun. But an Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv said: "From the beginning they have tried to involve Israel in the war. But this has not changed — Israel is not involved in the war."

American Hanged In Nassau

NASSAU, The Bahamas (AP) — American Michaiah Shobek, his head covered by a black hood, was hanged today in the small gallows room at Her Majesty's Prison at Fox Head.

The excution came 29 months after Shobek, a 22-year-old Milwaukee handyman and would-be songwriter, confessed to the murders of three fellow Americans he described as "angels of Lucifer."

The death was confirmed by criminal investigation department chief Addington Darville. He provided no details of the hanging.

In Milwaukee, meanwhile, a Legal Aid Society lawyer representing Shobek's mother, Juanita Spencer, said that he had tried Monday night to get President Ford to make a last-minute appeal but that a presidential aide refused.

"I talked around midnight to Richard Cheney, President Ford's chief of staff, and pleaded with him for about 45 minutes on the telephone to get Ford personally involved," attorney Thomas Cannon said.

"He told me that he felt the President simply could not get any further involved than he was because it would be a violation of the Commonwealth of the Bahamas' integrity."

Earlier, Ford had relayed an appeal from Mrs. Spencer to top government officials in the Bahamas.

Mrs. Spencer was in seclusion after the hanging.

"She is resting now, and she doesn't want to talk to anyone," a sister said of Mrs. Spencer.

The mother had heard the first news of the death on the radio after keeping a night-long vigil with family members. Reporter Bunny Raasch of WISN-TV was able to talk to her just after the hanging.

"She was obviously extremely distraught," said Miss Raasch. "She sobbed, she said they killed her innocent baby. Then she picked up her purse and walked upstairs, and her sisters and daughter followed."

Miss Raasch said Mrs. Spencer "held up very well" during the time she was waiting, but had little to say.

"She had a lot of faith," she said. "She told me a lot of people were praying for her."

Cannon said he had talked with the mother, a cleaning woman, after the phone call to the White House. "She's very depressed," he said.

The lawyer said Mrs. Spencer had talked with her son for about five or 10 minutes Monday afternoon. "She said he kept repeating, 'Today is Monday' over and over again," Cannon said.

He added that he had not talked with Mrs. Spencer after the hanging. He said that she had wanted to have Shobek's body brought back to Milwaukee but could not afford it.

Couple Bids Farewell To Ben

FOREST CITY, Iowa (AP) — John and Bonny Nelson said farewell to the Vietnamese boy they tried to adopt and wept as he drove off with his mother. But they plan to see him again soon.

"She invited us to visit him on his fifth birthday, May 16," Nelson said Monday. "We are planning on it."

Binh, 4, had spent the last 18 months with the Nelsons, who called him Ben. When his mother, Doan Tri Hoang Ahn, took him home to Great Falls, Mont., Nelson looked the other way and Mrs. Nelson hid her face. Both were sobbing.

Mrs. Doan urged her son to "Say goodbye, say goodbye." But Ben, who wore a blue denim suit and a white cowboy hat, climbed into a waiting car without a word.

The Nelsons, who have two other children, took Ben into their home after he was brought to the United States in the last days of the Vietnam war.

Mrs. Doan, whose husband was killed in the war, had escaped from the central highlands to Saigon and left her seven children with the Friends of Children of Vietnam orphanage. But she refused to consent to their adoption.

Snyderite's Mother Dies

Funeral service was held Monday at Longview for Mrs. E.B. English, the mother of Mrs. Joe League of Snyder. Mrs. English died Saturday.

Also surviving are two other daughters, Mrs. Geraldine Alford of Houston and Mrs. Jerry Runge of Longview. Mrs. English was preceded in death by her husband in 1975.

Your Chamber Needs You

By W. R. (BILL) HENRY
Executive Director

What does the Snyder Chamber of Commerce do for its members, you might ask. Not in the far-reaching sectors such as Austin and Washington, but right here in Snyder. What does the chamber do that we don't or can't do for ourselves as average shop owners?

Well, here is just a few:

...It answers your mail. The chamber replies to scores of inquiries about Snyder and the surrounding area, about your business and you. It answers every inquiry fully, promptly and courteously, creating a favorable impression and building public esteem for Snyder, your business and you.

...It's your business agent. The chamber is always ready to lend a helping hand. It performs services to existing industries and business firms, conducts surveys, collates labor market data and helps create more payroll dollars in Snyder.

...It's your sales manager. The chamber sells your city, your products and your services everywhere. It helps develop our trade area, creates new markets and brings thousands of people to Snyder each year to spend money with you and other businessmen.

...It's your information bureau. The chamber furnishes up-to-the-minute data to help you conduct your business such as trends, population, market potentials, taxes, employment practices and state and federal laws. It sends you bulletins and newsletters, and saves you time and money by announcing new developments affecting your business.

...It's your goodwill ambassador. The chamber tells the world about Snyder's tradition of friendliness, brings in new business to Snyder and increases your enjoyment of the city in which you live.

...It's the voice of Snyder. The chamber is the rallying point for every civic movement whose objective is the benefit of the community. It's the central organization in which you and your fellow businessmen join hands to promote the projects that benefit you, your family, your business and your community. It also keeps tabs on all levels of government and alerts you when possible anti-business measures comes before it.

...It makes you money. It's the only full-time organization continually seeking to maintain a prosperous and dynamic economy from which you profit. As your chamber grows and prospers, so does your business.

...It gives you a chance to share in your community responsibility while making it the kind of community you want it to be.

It makes you a member of the construction gang and not of the wrecking crew to make Snyder a better place to live and make a living through the free enterprise system.

CRMWD Revenues, Expenses Both Up

Revenues and expenditures continued to run ahead of last year through September, according to the monthly statement of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Steptember billings, however, are based on August deliveries and thus do not reflect sharp drops in consumption during a cool, wet September.

For the first three-quarters of this year, receipts have amounted to $4,897,543, or $822,949 over the corresponding period a year ago.

The September revenues were $632,824, up $132,215 from last year. Water sales to the cities through nine months stood at $3,078,267 to the oil companies $1,748,094, for recreation $63,042 and miscellaneous $8,138. Last year through September these were $2,476,574 from the cities, $1,534,614 from oil companies $56,734 from recreational facilities, and $6,670 miscellaneous.

Operating expenditures for the three quarter mark amounted to $1,771, 114, up $368,283 for the same period of 1975. Of this $254,070 was in increased energy costs.

The excess of revenues over operating expenditires was $3,126,429 for the nine months, up $464,679, occasioned by rate increases and higher deliveries in order to meet sharply increased debt service requirements which will hold at the present peak for about another five years.

Guilty Pleas Are Heard In District Court

Two guilty pleas were entered Monday in 132nd District Court.

Vance L. Montgomery pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary with intent to commit theft and to a charge of burglary of a vehicle.

Montgomery, 21, was indicted on the two charges Oct. 11. The charge of burglary with intent to commit theft stems from a Sept. 8 burglary of the office of Dr. Robert B. Pierce. The auto burglary charge stems from a Sept. 6 incident in which some stereo tapes were taken from a parked car.

Following his two guilty pleas, Montgomery received a probated seven-year sentence from presiding Judge Wayland G. Holt.

Fernando Luna, 21, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Luna had been arrested by city police officers Sept. 16 at the intersection of the East Highway and Avenue E. He was indicted for the DWI offense by a Scurry County grand jury Oct. 11.

Luna received a probated two-year sentence for the offense.

Bethel Launches On-The-Air- Diet

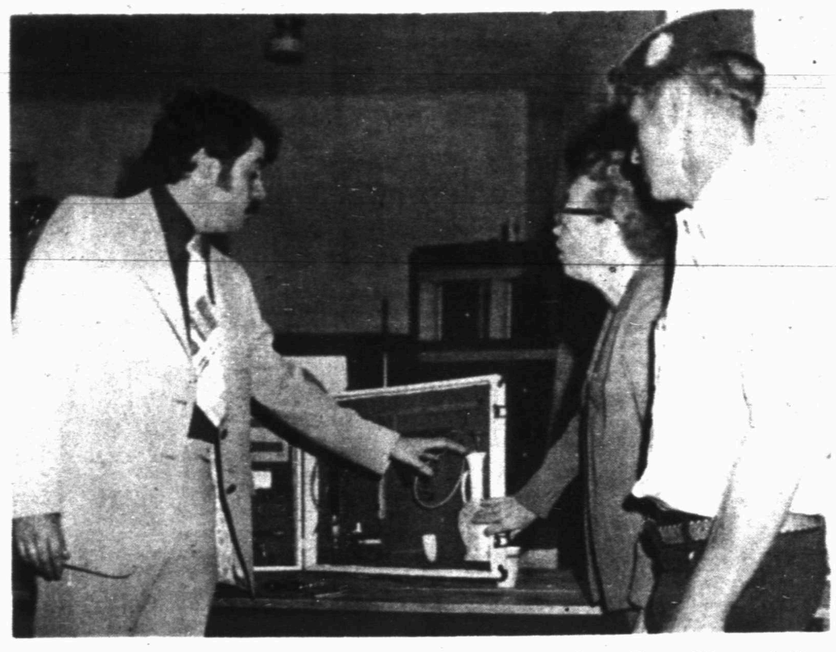

BETHEL, Alaska (AP) — A radio station thinks this western Alaska city of 1,000 can stand to "lose a ton" of fat.

So KYUK has started a program with subscribers signing up to lose weight. On the first day of the program, 300 pounds was pledged.

Progress reports will be read over the air with names of participants.

"We figured there were at least 200 people in town who wanted to lose up to 10 pounds each. That's our ton," said station manager Peter Twitchell.

Additional benefits include a reduction in food bills. Bethel's food prices are the second highest in Alaska, which has the highest prices in the nation.

PRESENTS PROGRAM—James Saunders, left, the juvenile officer of the Snyder Police Department, presented a drug abuse program Monday night to the women's auxiliary unit of the local 8231 chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Here, he is showing a member of the VFW and a member of the VFW Auxiliary some paraphernalia used by drug users.

Candidates Agree Election Too Close To Call Now

By DAVE RILEY
Associated Press Writer

President Ford and Jimmy Carter have found one thing to agree on: the election is just too close to call now.

It was a light campaign day for both major candidates. But as each managed in a separate way to point to the tightness of the race for the White House, Carter continued a brief, 32-hour campaign swing today through Florida, North Carolina and New York.

Earlier, he declared at a news conference that the election is "up for grabs" and made an emotional appeal in a Florida speech against voter apathy.

The Democratic standard-bearer outlined his ideas on health care to a Miami audience of about 2,000 persons, then visited a kosher bakery and addressed a senior citizens' rally.

He promised the American Public Health Association convention "aggressive leadership to provide comprehensive, nationwide, effective health care — and you can depend on it."

Carter said he favors national health insurance which "must be universal and mandatory," added that patients should have freedom to choose their physicians, and urged greater emphasis on preventive medicine as "both simpler and cheaper than cures."

Ford, remaining in Washington until Thursday, sent word through a group of Republican governors and senators who are his key party supporters that he views the race as "a dead heat" now. Major polls also show the race is tight.

But there was disagreement between the two candidates about remarks by the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, Gen. George S. Brown, who was quoted in an interview as saying Israel is a military burden and the United States does not have the stomach to stand up to the Soviets.

Carter said Brown's remarks are an example of failure by Ford to take strong action against errant officials. He compared Ford's unwillingness to rebuke Brown to the Earl Butz affair two weeks ago.

Butz resigned as secretary of agriculture after it became known that he had made an obscene racial slur against blacks during an airplane flight after the GOP convention.

Some congressmen, senators and civil rights leaders wanted Butz fired, but Butz quit, and Ford expressed sadness at accepting the resignation.

In a news conference Monday with Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld at his side, Brown said he did not intend in the interview to imply that he disagreed with U.S. policy on Israel. He denied saying the United States does not have the stomach to stand up to the Soviet Union.

Rumsfeld said Ford has no plans to reprimand the Air Force general, but said this does not mean he endorses the general's "obviously inelegant phraseology." White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford reviewed Brown's remarks and "made it clear to Secretary Rumsfeld that he does not agree with the general's poor choice of words in portions of the interview." He said, "the President considers the matter closed."

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap

City police officers reported one minor traffic accident.

The mishap occurred Monday at 2:23 p.m. in the 2700 block of College Avenue. A 1968 Ford driven by Santos Munoz was in collision with a 1970 Oldsmobile driven by Teresa Clark.

No one was injured in the accident and only minor damages were reported to the two cars.

Investors Lose In Oil, Gas Wells

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — About 22 Bellevue, Neb., residents apparently have lost a total of $120,000 they invested in prospective oil and gas wells in Texas, a Nebraska Department of Banking and Finance official said Monday.

Barry Lake, assistant director and general counsel, said a drilling company, J-Tex Corp., of Abilene, Tex., sold the investors, mostly personnel at Offut Air Force Base, shares in the prospective wells last December and January.

The majority invested $5,000 each. J-Tex representatives came to Bellevue from Texas to sell the stock, he said.

Lake said an investigation of the company began after one investor complained to the department that he hadn't been receiving information from J-Tex on the status of the wells.

Lake contacted the company and was told the drilling was unsuccessful and that the local investors would not receive any return on their investment.

The banking and finance department has forbidden J-Tex from seeking further investors in Nebraska because it is not registered with the State Bureau of Securities.

Lake said that since January, the company has tried to enlist local salesmen to attract investors in prospective wells.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) filed suit in Dallas against the company in July for not registering with that agency and for alleged fraud, Lake said.

Dance Students Present Jazz Routines For Musical Coterie

The Musical Coterie, affiliated with State and National Federation Music Clubs, met at Martha Ann Woman's Club Thursday for a delightful program "The Growth of Jazz." Hosting the event were Jerry Worsham, Mrs. Ben Brock, Dr. Sue Coffman, Mrs. Bob Hammack, and Mrs. Ophelia Blackard.

Mrs. Bob O'Day and Mrs. J.M. Kayser gave the history of jazz using as their text "America's Music" written by Gilbert Chase. They noted that it was in 1915 that the word "jazz" was publicly used in Chicago describing a dance band from New Orleans, "Brown's Dixieland Jass Band." The music that came to be called "Jazz" was rooted in the cultural, social and racial conditions of the entire south. Yet New Orleans was called the cradle and nursery of jazz. This music began to take shape at the end of the Civil War."

The most creative and influential of all of the big band leaders and composer-arrangers is Edward "Duke" Elington, born in Washington, D.C. in 1899. He studied piano from age 7, leading his own dance band at 19, and began playing at engagements in New York in 1923.

Ellington had a prominent role in the development of "swing". However, Benny Goodman, clarinetist and band leader from Chicago, became known as the "King of Swing." Swing was at its height from 1935 to 1945.

In 1944 the first recordings of "bebop" were made. Two leaders in this phase of jazz were "Bird" Parker and "Dizzy" Gillespie. The increased importance of string bass in bebop had significant results for modern jazz.

The "cool" movement in 1949 was followed by the late 1950's by "hard bop" and "funky," characteristic of early folk-rooted jazz with strong injections of earthy blues and hot gospel style. Ray Charles and Mahalia Jackson influenced the funky trend."

At the end of each period of jazz, the audience was entertained by dance students from the West Texas Theatric Arts Centre, under the direction of Mrs. Steve Burney, as they performed jazz dance routines of each era. Members of the dance group were Kellye Elrod, Laurie Donelson and Kim Harlin.

Hot Dog Thief

NEWPORT, Ore. (AP) — A hot dog restaurateur says he received a refund from a repentant robber.

Paul Hudson, owner of Lou's Dog House, says a man who held him up with a rifle telephoned him the next day. The man said he had never stolen before, was sorry he had done it, and would make restitution.

Hudson said Friday his $60 arrived in the mail one day later.

Fiancee Tore Other Worker to Shreds

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a nice, refined woman my age (45) and we planned to be married next month. But an incident occurred last week in the shop where she works that makes me wonder if I should go through with my marriage plans.

Another woman employee and my friend got into an argument when the other woman accused my friend of stealing one of her best customers. The name-calling graduated into hair-pulling, and my friend was getting the best of this other woman when the other woman yanked her dress off her.

Well, my lady friend just wouldn't quit. Minus her dress she tore into the other woman, and before the battle was over, both women stripped each other and were fighting naked when the boss called the police.

My question: Should I marry this woman who fought naked in front of both men and women when she could have quit when just her dress had been torn off?

WONDERING IN N.Y.

DEAR WONDERING: Among other things, your lady friend exhibited a violent temper. I'd have to know more about her before answering your question, but if you place a high premium on modesty, don't rush into anything.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it's all right for a man who is married and has four children to go out with other women as long as it doesn't interfere with his home life?

I can't receive mail at my place because nothing around here is private, but I need an answer fast.

BURLINGAME

DEAR BURLINGAME: It's NOT all right. Besides, regardless of what you may think, it HAS TO interfere with his home life.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in disagreement over something and want you to settle it.

When someone comes to our door asking for me, my husband will invite him (or her) in, and he sends them to whichever room of the house I happen to be in at the moment.

He's sent people to my bedroom when I'm lying down! He has directed them to the basement while I'm putting up pickles. He's even invited them to join me in the kitchen while I'm mopping up the floor!

Some of the people he's invited in I hardly know, such as the Avon lady.

I have asked him to please ask the caller to be seated, then come get me so I can go to THEM, but he never does. He continues to send them to me, which embarrasses me to no end.

He is a perfect gentleman otherwise, but now that he's retired and home all day, this habit of his is getting me nervous. We've been married 43 years, and this morning he sent a magazine salesman into my bedroom while I was dressing!

Please help me.

FURIOUS

DEAR FURIOUS: You've told your husband what I would have told him. Now it's two to one.

Boris Schapiro points out that the winning bridge player must be able to guess right when the losing player guesses wrong.

Of course, the winning player isn't really guessing. He is making an intelligent decision, while the loser is making an unintelligent one.

South liked his hand but had a slight problem about what to do over East's four-spade opening. Five hearts might well be an inadequate bid, but he made it anyway.

West jumped to six spades and when it came back to South he had a real problem. Was West bidding six spades as a gamble or did he really expect to make it? Finally, South came to the conclusion that West surely held a strong club suit for his bid and that his (South's) king of clubs was a sitting duck. South went to seven diamonds. North corrected to seven hearts and South was down three for a loss of 800 points.

At the other table East and West were allowed to play in six spades after a very different bidding sequence. South opened the king of hearts and shifted to a diamond, won by East's king. The ace of spades disclosed the trump break. West ruffed a heart, picked up trumps, led a club and had his slam when the king showed up in the right spot.

Many Kitchens High Risk Zones

By BRIAN B. KING
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government survey indicates that 63 per cent of American home kitchens are "high risk" zones for the 2 million to 10 million estimated cases of food poisoning each year.

The risks are higher if the cook is under 50 years old, better educated and part of a family with $15,000 or more income a year, according to the report by Judith L. Jones and Jon P. Weimer of the Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service.

The nationwide survey, using a scientifically selected sample of 2,503 representative households, was conducted in 1974. The analysis of the findings is being published this month.

The focus of the study is the "high risk" homemaker — those with an unnecessarily high potential of sickness due to possible contamination of food through such things as undercooking and poor refrigeration.

Too much faith on the part of the cook is a major part of the problem, the report says.

"Homemakers may place undue reliance upon government inspection functions for prevention of bacterial contamination of raw meat and poultry products," it concluded.

For example, Agriculture Department meat inspectors do not check or try to regulate the amount of salmonellae, the most common source of food poisoning, in slaughtered meat or processed products. The bacteria are present in the environment generally and it would be impractical to market sterile meat, the department said.

But 63 per cent of those surveyed thought it unlikely that government-inspected meat would carry such bacteria. The survey also found that 30 per cent would taste a suspected product to see if it were safe to eat, a potentially fatal act, the report said. About two-thirds of the respondents thought the leftovers from cooked foods should be left out to cool before refrigerating.

A homemaker earned a "high risk" designation for one or more of these "undesirable practices":

Eating hamburger rare, leaving meats at room temperature for more than two hours after cooking, leaving tuna, chicken or other salad-type sandwiches — including brown-bagged lunches — at room temperature for more than two hours, stuffing a turkey a day or more in advance, storing stuffing in the leftover turkey or cooking the turkey partially in one place and finishing it later.

Of the 63 per cent getting the label, about half committed only one of the errors, the researchers said, while 47 per cent hit on two to four.

The Jones-Weimer analysis commented that one reason for the apparently "safer" kitchens among the older, less-educated and lower-income families is they are less apt to be buying vulnerable whole turkeys or beef or pork roasts.

Even some of those who prepared the food safely were undone by their refrigerators, the survey found. About a third of the appliances checked were operating at temperatures higher than 45 degrees, the minimum needed to check bacterial growth. Twenty per cent of the homemakers erroneously thought refrigeration completely stopped the growth and that freezing killed the germs.

LET'S JUST PRAISE THE LORD.

Lake View Is Still Unbeaten

After seven weeks of competition, Lake View continues to sport the best record among District 3-AAA teams with seven victories against no losses.

Dunbar is 3-1-2 for the season while Lamesa and Estacado also have more victories than losses with 4-3 records. Snyder is even against its foes with a 3-3 mark while Sweetwater is 2-4 and Brownfield is 1-6.

The powerful Chiefs have tallied 235 points while holding the opposition to 21. Lake View and Lamesa are tied for the District 3-AAA lead with identical 3-0 marks. The only other team that still has a chance for the title is Dunbar with a 1-1 mark. Brownfield and Estacado both are 1-2 while Snyder and Sweetwater both are 0-2.

The big surprise in District 3-AAA last week was Lamesa's 21-0 triumph over Dunbar. Lake View thumped Snyder 27-0, and Estacado put down Brownfield 31-0.

Interest this week focuses on Lake View where the Chiefs host Lamesa in a showdown battle for the district lead. In other games, Dunbar hosts Brownfield Thursday night while Snyder visits Sweetwater Friday night. The Lake View-Lamesa game also is slated for Friday night.

Sweetwater Mustangs Are Much Improved Team

Sweetwater's Mustangs are a much improved team.

That was the word from Coach Albert Lewis, who gave a scouting report on Sweetwater, the next Tiger opponent, at the regular weekly meeting of the Tiger Booster Club, held last night at the high school cafeteria.

Lewis said they almost beat Lamesa and Brownfield but lost out in the fourth quarter of both games. Lamesa beat them by only three points, 10-7, and Brownfield won by only one point, 30-29.

Lewis said the Mustangs have an offensive line that averages 185 pounds per man with four seniors in the lineup. Defensively, they start seven seniors and have a defensive line that averages 216 pounds per man.

Sweetwater uses a "52" defense as well as an umbrella defense and 6-2 and 6-5 alignments, said Lewis. Offensively, they run the Winged T, power I and I, he said. They have two quarterbacks—Patterson, a good short passer; and, Joe Smith, who throws deep passes.

"They are aggressive and move the ball well," Lewis concluded.

The pep squad and cheer leaders were guests of the Booster Club.

Coach Mike Jenkins said the Tigers prepared well against Lake View, but just came up against a good team with a lot of experience.

"They've only had 21 points scored on them in seven football games," he pointed out.

Jenkins said the Tigers were disappointed they lost, but they appeared to bounce back in the workout Monday. The coach said he thought the defensive unit played well, especially early in the game.

Jenkins said Ricky Beard sustained a broken bone in a toe during the game. Doug Morrell sustained a hurt hand, but X-rays revealed it wasn't broken.

Anderson Not About To Write Off NY Yankees

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cincinnati Reds manager Sparky Anderson isn't about to write off the New York Yankees and Yankee manager Billy Martin thinks he's wise not to do so.

"I said before the World Series began that I thought it would go seven games," Anderson said before the Series resumed tonight with Game Three. "I think I'll stick with that.

"The Yanks are an excellent club. They have to be to be here in the Series. They've won three or four in a row before and they can always do it again," Anderson said.

They Yanks will have to do just that to get back into this Series. They lost the first two games in Cincinnati, 5-1 and 4-3. Only six times in 73 previous World Series has a team been down 2-0 and come back to win the championship. And two of those teams were Yankee teams, in 1956 against the Brooklyn Dodgers and two years later against the Milwaukee Braves.

"I think Sparky's right," Martin said of Anderson's conservative stance. "I think we have the edge at home because we're more used to the natural grass. And we're very easily capable of turning this thing around in a hurry.

"I'm not all that impressed with their pitching," Martin continued. "But I am impressed with the rest of their club. Still, I can't call them awesome the way some people have. The Yankee clubs that I played on, when we won five World Series in a row, that's awesome."

Martin sends 31-year-old right-hander Dock Ellis to the mound tonight in hopes of turning things around. Ellis turned himself around this year after coming to New York as a virtual throw-in in a trade with the Pittsburgh Pirates. After several stormy and ineffective seasons, he posted a 17-8 record this year.

"I hate cold weather. I don't like pitching in it. I don't think anyone likes playing in it," Ellis said, viewing the possibility of playing in sub-freezing temperatures in Yankee Stadium.

Ellis said he was in no way nervous about being the man on the spot. "It's just another game to me," he said. "You've got to take each game as it comes. You can't get all worked up over one game, no matter how important it may seem. You can only do what you are capable of doing. It's the same way all over, starting with Little League."

Going against Ellis will be rookie Pat Zachry, a 24-year old right-hander who was 14-7 this year.

Zachry finds himself in an unusual position, playing in a ball park he always wanted to play in — but in the wrong uniform.

Pastorini Hurt In Pickup Mishap

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oiler quarterback Dan Pastorini suffered cuts and bruises early today when his camper truck ran off a city street and struck several trees.

"I just lost control," Pastorini said. "I was just coming down the street and I didn't see the median."

Police said the truck ran off the road about 4 a.m. where the street zig-zags.

Pastorini was treated at Methodist Hospital.

Lake View Chiefs Are Ranked Ninth

By The Associated Press

ReShuffling in The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll would be the quietest of the season if it weren't for the war being waged for the No. 1 spot in Class 4A by Houston Kashmere, Odessa Permian and Longview.

Houston Kashmere retained its top rung for another week by a slim 164-161 margin over Permian with Longview also starting to make a strong showing for top billing.

Meanwhile, Beaumont Hebert in 3A, Rockdale in 2A, Aledo in A and Gorman in B, had an easier time in keeping their No. 1 rankings this week.

The 4A trio all had positive factors in last week's games, Kashmere whipped Houston Davis 28-0, not allowing the opposition a first down the entire game.

Permian humbled Big Spring 54-41 and possibly most impressive of all, Longview manhandled No. 4 ranked Tyler 22-12 and sent Tyler plunging to 10th this week.

Port Neches-Groves, the defending champions, moved into the vacated No. 4 spot after winning its 18th consecutive game, the longest current 4A string in the state.

Columbus, ranked No. 2 in 3A last week, was the only other loser among the 50 ranked teams in five classes, suffering a 13-7 setback to Bellville. Columbus dropped to 10th this week.

The only other blot in the rankings came in A where Big Sandy was held to a tie for the second time this season, this time a 20-20 deadlock with Sabine. Sabine missed an extra point in the final eight seconds of the game to preserve the tie.

Other voter interest in 4A included McAllen, 10 points and San Antonio Churchill and Cypress-Fairbanks, eight each.

Longview Pine Tree, unbeaten in seven games, received 12 points in the 3A roster. Pine Tree will throw its high scoring offense (31.7 points per game) against No. 6 Jacksonville's rugged defense (21 points in six games) in an East Texas showdown this week.

Dekalb with 16 points and Commerce with 12 narrowly missed the top 10 in 2A. Falls City, 15, points, Wellington, 10 and Brackettville, 9, were among the A also rans.

Wilson polled 16 points followed by Forsan's 13 in Class B. Union Hill got one first place vote.

Grogan Sparks Patriots' Win

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Steve Grogan, the New England Patriots' sophomore quarterback, isn't yet comparable to such National Football League scramblers as Fran Tarkenton and Roger Staubach, but he loves to run as much as pass.

The 23-year-old former Kansas State star has done both in making New England fans forget about traded Jim Plunkett while leading the Patriots to a surprising 4-2 record.

Grogan enjoys running so much that he even scores touchdowns on broken plays. He did that twice Monday night, sparking the Patriots to a 41-7 romp over the New York Jets before a national television audience.

Grogan, who received a telegram signed by about 500 hometown friends from Ottawa, Kan., celebrated his debut on national TV with a spectacular performance that stole the thunder from veteran quarterback Joe Namath of the Jets.

He completed 14 of 23 passes for 145 yards and one touchdown. He also carried seven times for 103 yards, including a 41-yard scoring sprint.

And he scooped up a fumble by teammate Don Calhoun at the New York six and ran for a touchdown.

"Grogan had an excellent game, a super game," Jets Coach Lou Holtz said. "The tale of the game was the offensive line.

"They protected Grogan and opened holes in play action. When we blitzed inside, he stepped outside. When we blitzed outside, he stepped inside. He sure has some horses in front of him and behind him."

Grogan's pickup of Calhoun's fumble for New England's second touchdown in the second period was the broken play. However, his run for the fourth touchdown in the third quarter was electrifying.

"A couple of his runs were planned, a couple weren't," New England Coach Chuck Fairbanks said. "The long one for the touchdown was not designed for him to carry the ball."

"Most plays are designed for me to run, but I took off about four times on my own tonight," Grogan said. "They were giving it (the quarterback run) to us."

However, the Jets didn't give Grogan the run when he took off for his sixth touchdown of the season. There was a mixup in signals in the New England backfield, so Grogan kept the ball himself, found a hole on his left side, picked up blocks from tackle Leon Gray and guard John Hannah and raced for the score.

Namath, 33, and in his 11th NFL campaign, completed 16 of 27 passes for 135 yards and one touchdown, only his second of the season, before retiring to rest a pulled hamstring in the third period.

Franklin Is Honored

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

As weapons go, Texas A&M's Tony Franklin doesn't impress you as a seige gun kicking specialist standing on the sidelines.

Quite candidly, young Franklin looks a little country with one shoe on and the other off.

And his size eight right foot hardly stands out as a propellant for record-book field goals.

But the 5-foot-10, 170-pound sophomore has a leg with the action of a buggy whip. It's strictly cross-country when he gets a ball in the air with the wind.

Franklin earned The Associated Press Southwest Conference Offensive Player of the Week laurels for his 64 and 65 yard field goals Saturday in a 24-0 victory over Baylor that put the Big Spring, Tex. native No. 1 and No. 2 in the NCAA record book.

Franklin says he kicks the ball barefoot because he can make better contact with the ball. He tries to connect with the top of his instep and the result is a towering kick with unusual accuracy for a soccer-style placekicker.

"My goal is to kick one 70 yards," says Franklin. "That third one Saturday (he also kicked a shorter field goal) would have been good from 70 yards."

Which would have put him one yard ahead of Ove Johannson of Abilene Christian who holds the NAIA record of 69 yards.

C. City Beats Gold

The Colorado City Freshmen defeated the 8th grade Gold in a girls volleyball game yesterday, 15-6, 13-15, 15-9.

The next game for the Gold will be in the Junior High gym here Monday, Oct. 25, against Lamesa at 6 p.m.

Freshmen Net Team Triumphs

The Snyder freshman tennis, after tying Sweetwater two weeks ago, made a better showing here yesterday, winning 10-8. Due to the time element, an intercollegiate match, consisting of the best of twelve games were played. The results follow:

Girls Singles

Donna McGee won over Sylvia Layfield, in a well played match 12-9, Belinda Scott lost a close match to Cindy Rister, in a tie breaker 8-7, Kim Harlin won over Susan Whisnant 12-7, Valerie Wilson lost to Gayle Goodwyn 12-8, Shelley Grosshans was defeated by Becky Rodawalt 12-3 and Debbie Tucker never could get started against Virginia Biles and lost 12-1.

Girls Doubles

McGee and Harlin defeated Rister and Layfield 12-10, Scott and Wilson to were defeated by Whisnant and Goodwyn 12-4. Tucker and Grosshans went down in defeat at the rackets of Rodawalt and Bills 12-2.

Boys Singles

Darrell Calvert lost to Roger Smith 12-5, Lyn Edimison defeated Bret Headrick 12-9. Mark Scott lost a real close match to David Grahamn 13-12, in a tie breaker that went to 4-5, Clay Youngkin defeated KTad Hampton 12-9, Scott Marler defeated Ross McDonald 12-5, John Melott closed out the single matches by defeating Roger Wells 12-5.

Boys Doubles

Calvert and Scott defeated Smith and Headrick 12-5, Edimison and Youngkin defeated Grahman and Hampton 12-6, Marler and Melott made it a "clean sweep" by defeating McDonald and Wells 12-5.

The next action for the locals will be Thursday when the Varsity will play Plainview on their way to the West Texas State tournament in Canyon.

A total of 797 games involve the nation's 138 major college football teams this fall. The season ends Dec. 4.

Tech Raiders Move Up In Poll To 8th Place

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Michigan, Pitt, Nebraska and UCLA held onto the first four spots in The Associated Press college football poll today while two-time defending champion Oklahoma moved into fifth place and four schools cracked the ratings for the first time this season.

The four newcomers are No. 16 Iowa State, No. 19 South Carolina and East Carolina and Mississippi State, tied for 20th.

Michigan remained atop the ratings for the sixth week in a row. The Wolverines trounced Northwestern 38-7 for their sixth consecutive triumph and received 58 first-place ballots and 1,232 of a possible 1,240 points from a nationwide panel of 62 sports writers and broadcasters.

The other four first-place votes went to Pitt, which defeated Miami, Fla. 36-19 without its top two quarterbacks. The Panthers received 1,088 points in holding onto second place for the fourth week in a row. Last week, Michigan led Pitt 1,194-1,057 with 60 voters participating.

Nebraska remained third with 930 points by walloping Kansas State 51-0 while UCLA clobbered Washington State 62-3 and stayed in fourth place with 896 points.

Oklahoma moved up from sixth to fifth with 718 points by defeating Kansas 28-10, dropping the Jayhawks from 15th place out of the rankings for the first time this season.

Meanwhile, Maryland slipped from fifth to sixth with 554 points after a hard-fought 17-15 victory over Wake Forest.

Rounding out the Top Ten are Southern California, Texas Tech, Ohio State and Georgia.

Southern Cal, idle last weekend, climbed from eighth to seventh while Texas Tech jumped from 10th to eighth by battering Rice 37-13. Ohio State, a 30-20 victor over Wisconsin, remained in ninth place while Georgia moved up from 11th to 10th with a 45-0 rout of Vanderbilt.

Missouri fell from seventh to 17th via a 21-17 loss to Iowa State, which also moved the Cyclones into the Top Twenty for the first time in several years.

The Second Ten consists of Florida, Notre Dame, Texas, Houston, Arkansas, Iowa State, Missouri, Alabama and South Carolina, with East Carolina and Mississippi State sharing the 20th position.

Last week's Second Ten was Texas Tech, Georgia, Florida, Texas, Notre Dame, Kansas, Louisiana State and Mississippi tied for 16th, followed by Arkansas, Houston and Alabama.

LSU lost to Kentucky 21-7 and Ole Miss was beaten by South Carolina 10-7. East Carolina, 6-0, cracked the Top Twenty with a 17-3 triumph over VMI while Mississippi State, 5-1, outlasted Memphis State 42-33.

Pension Fund Managers Are Investing Cautiously

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In doubt about the meaning of the "prudent man" standard of the 1974 retirement act, pension fund managers are investing cautiously and, it is claimed, starving small business.

This caution, investment sources say, has resulted in an even more pronounced funneling of funds into the very largest American corporations, accelerating a trend that may already have been under way.

As a result, top executives of corporations in the less-than-giant categories are complaining about difficulties in raising equity capital. Some pension consultants also are concerned about potential weakness of returns.

Involved in the issue are the country's ability to finance industry and keep the economy expanding. Important but lesser issues are the smooth functioning of stock markets and the rate of return on pension funds.

The prudent man standard, restated in the Employe Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, requires trustees to use the same diligence in choosing fund investments as they would in managing their own affairs.

Because of confusion about the precise responsibilities imposed by the standard, some portfolio managers have applied such a restrictive definition that it permits investments in only the largest, most stable corporations.

In that way, they feel, they will not be liable to personal charges of imprudence.

Critics claim, however, that the cautious portfolio managers are mistakenly applying the standard to each and every investment rather than to portfolios as a whole. In doing so, it is argued, they encourage oligopolies.

In no well-managed portfolio, they maintain, should the higher rewards of greater risk automatically be enjoined. The higher returns of selective investments in some smaller concerns often more than offset losses, they say.

"The prudent man rule should be clarified so as to be expressly appliable to a total portfolio of pension plan investments rather than to each individual investment," argues The Committee of Publicly Owned Companies.

The committee, formed in 1973 by chief executives, claims that the standard has intimidated institutional investors, that they have "taken refuge behind it," and that they have increasingly limited their investments.

Many of the companies involved in the nationwide organization, such as Chrysler Corp. and Reynolds Metals, are themselves large companies, but they often find themselves excluded from the 50 or 100 favored investments.

Because of the restrictive interpretation of the standard, they say, the vast majority of small and medium companies are systematically deprived of the more than $145 billion of investment funds held by pension funds, depriving them of capital needed to produce goods and services.

Treasure Find Puts Man In Jail

By VINCENTE MORALES
Associated Press Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Rafael Hurtado, an octupus fisherman, thought his troubles were over four months ago when he stumbled upon a Spanish treasure in shallow water off Mexico's Caribbean coast.

But the treasure of bars, bracelets and medallions of gold has led him to at least a year in jail.

Last Saturday, a federal judge declared that there was ample evidence Hurtado sold the treasure and had not told authorities of its discovery as is required by Mexican law.

Under the Napoleonic code of justice which Mexico still uses, Hurtado is guilty until proven innocent. He can be held in jail for up to a year until his innocence or guilt is proven.

If found guilty, the fisherman could get up to 10 more years in jail.

Hurtado, in an interview with a Mexican newsman, reportedly said he sold the treasure so he could buy shoes for his children and to buy materials for building his own house. Hurtado, federal investigators said, sold the treasure to a jeweler for $3,000.

The investigators estimate the value of the gold by its weight alone at $25,000. Authorities say the value is incalculable.

The treasures was recovered from the safe of the jeweler, who was also jailed for up to a year while awaiting trial.

"It was in the seas and didn't belong to anyone but me because I discovered it," the fisherman said after being arrested.

Hurtado says he found the gold in six feet of water just outside the port of Veracruz on Mexico's southern Caribbean coast.

Government archeologists say the discovery is the one of most important of gold in Mexico, exceeded in value only by that of a grave in Monte Alban and by the palace of the Indian chieftan Xochila in the Pacific Coast state of Aoxaca.

Hurtado's discovery includes 51 pieces in all—two gold bars marked with a double x, a golden horse shoe, medallions and bracelets.

Investigators have searched the reported locale of the discovery for more artifacts, but so far have been unable to find anything.

The archeologists say the treasure was part of a Spanish galleon that apparently was on its way to Spain in the early 16th Century.

TLA MEET—Gifts to be given participants in the Texas Library Association meeting here Saturday are displayed by Larry V. Anderson and Hattie Simpson. About 40 librarians and other interested persons are expected to attend.

Library Assn. To Meet Here

Western Texas College will host the annual Fall meeting of District I of the Texas Library Association on Saturday.

Larry V. Anderson, Director of Library Science at WTC, is chairman of District I, which covers 32 counties. Hattie Simpson, Associate Director of Library Science at WTC, is secretary-treasurer. Mary L. Bird, junior high school librarian in Brownwood, is vice-chairman.

Sydelle Popinsky, manager of the Continuing Education and Consulting Department of the Library Development Division of the Texas State Library, will be program speaker. She is to give a brief overview of the Texas State Library and elaborate on the Continuing Education Program offered by the Texas State Library.

Dr. Paul Parham from Texas Christian University, state TLA president, will present a report from the executive board and information on the state conference to be held in joint session with the New Mexico Library Association in El Paso in April.

Election of officers for the coming year is also on the agenda.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in the WTC Learning Resource Center. The registration fee of $5.50 includes a noon luncheon in the Student Center cafeteria.

Counties in District I are Brown, Callahan, Coke, Coleman, Comanche, Concho, Crockett, Eastland, Fisher, Haskell, Irion, Jones, Kent, Kimble, Knox, McCulloch, Mason, Menard, Mitchell, Nolan, Reagan, Runnels, Schleicher, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Sterling, Stonewall, Sutton, Taylor, Throckmorton and Tom Green.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A successful day is in store for you. You'll gain the cooperation of coworkers through your pleasant manner.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Lady Luck is on your side today. If you like to take a flyer on a long shot, this is the day to do it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Helping others is second nature for you today. Even though you do it unselfishly, there could be some handsome rewards.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Working gives you pleasure and holds your interest today. In the evening you'll have a fine time with true friends.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Look for assistance from those in high places. You're held in great regard. Favors will be readily granted.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You have excellent foresight today. If you act on it, changes for the better can be brought about for you and your family.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your mind is active today, but you're not that interested in being around others. Curl up with a good book.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Cooperation is your forte today. Much can be gained to bring about fruitful relationships.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You may be dealing for high stakes today, especially in career or work-related matters. It could be fortunate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Property or possessions you're instrumental in acquiring today will make your family's surroundings more comfortable.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Property or possessions you're instrumental in acquiring today will make your family's surroundings more comfortable.

Youthful Reject Gets Poster

WINK, Tex. (AP) — "The Marine Corps needs a few good men," said the poster, and Roger Woodrick didn't see any reason why he couldn't qualify.

Espirit de corps is a watchword of the Marines, and while Roger seems to exemplify this gung-ho attitude that the Marines are looking for, eight years old obviously is a little young for boot camp.

His mother, Mrs. Roger Woodrick, said her son was attracted to a Marine recruiting poster recently at an Odessa shopping center.

"He just filled out the card and mailed it off," she said. "It was about four days before he got a reply from the captain in Washington, D.C."

Capt. Curt Murray wrote: "We appreciate your interest in the Marine Corps. However, since you are eight, you won't be eligible to be a Marine for a while, but as our way of showing appreciation for your interest, we are enclosing a special Marine Corps poster."

"It's a huge poster," Mrs. Woodrick said. "Roger is real proud of it."

Dr. Lamb

Surgery helps some deafness

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—There is a great amount of industrial deafness in the area where I live and I have heard there is no remedy for it.

Then I read an item in the paper in which Florence Henderson said she had otosclerosis and had an operation so she could hear. I really do not know what kind of deafness I have or my friends have but I am wondering about this.

Maybe many will not know this type of operation is possible. A friend of mine who had the operation said it was just like flipping on a light switch, one minute deaf and the next minute she could hear. It was wonderful.

DEAR READER—I wish all those people who had deafness from exposure to noise in industry could be cured by a simple operation but it is not the same kind of deafness. The type Florence Henderson spoke of in the Sunday magazine involves degeneration of the bone and reformation of bone in the ear area. The new bone formation involves the small bones in the middle of the ear so they cannot vibrate and transmit sound.

The other type of deafness involves the nerve mechanism of the ear itself. This is the type of deafness that comes on with increasing age in most cases. It can also be caused by damage to the sound sensing mechanism in the internal ear and brain from noise. You cannot operate on the ear and correct this form of deafness.

The doctor can tell the difference in the type of hearing loss by using a simple tuning fork. The fork vibrates and he places the fork on the skull behind the ear (over the mastoid). The sounds are conducted to the internal ear by the bone. When the person can no longer hear the sound of the vibrating fork by bone conduction the doctor holds the fork in front of the ear. The normal ear will still hear the vibrations.

With otosclerosis or bone growth deafness the patient will not still hear the vibrations when the fork is held in front of the ear because hearing then depends upon the sound waves vibrating the tiny ear bones. The tiny bones have grown together from the abnormal bone formation. An operation frees the tiny bones or through other surgical techniques makes it possible to hear sound vibrations in the air.

The patient with otosclerosis hears the vibrations of the tuning fork pressed against the skull because the skull bones transmit the vibrations directly to the nerve mechanism. These people can often hear over the telephone much better than they can hear the spoken voice. Why? Because the receiver is held against the ear and the skull bones pick up the vibrations.

The tiny bones just inside the ear drum are called the hammer, anvil and stirrup because they resemble these small bones that are connected to each other. As they move in response to the vibration they set up vibrations which are picked up by the internal hearing device and transmitted to the brain. When these bones literally grow together they can no longer cause the vibrations for normal hearing.

What do we know about aging? Those who want information on this subject can send 50 cents for The Health Letter number 1-7, Perpetual Youth, Aging. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope, for mailing. Address your letter to Dr. Lamb in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Panty-Check To Be Cashed

TULSA,Okla. (AP) — The Bank of Oklahoma received an unusual item in its teller drawers Thursday: Drawers.

A pair of woman's panties, in fact, with a check form printed on their light blue backside.

The panty-check for $10.85, drawn on a California bank, was endorsed and made payable to Shell Oil Co.

The once-unmentionables arrived without comment in a bag of "uncollectables" from Shell's accounting department, said Jean Walker, the bank's supervisor for collections.

Although the panties say "100 per cent cotton," the check is negotiable if there's enough money in the account.

Bank officials weren't too happy over the irregular check form, but they said the panties will be cashed in California and credited to Shell's account.

Roloff Case Is Headed Toward A Higher Court

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Evangelist Lester Roloff's south Texas homes for wayward children are not exempt from the state's police power, Dist. Judge Charles Mathews ruled Monday.

Roloff listened to Mathews' ruling with a thick Bible resting on the counsel table near his left hand.

Several of his followers had nodded their heads in agreement as Roloff's lawyers tried to block state regulation.

The issue, Mathews said, was one "never decided before in the state" and he was anxious to get it before the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals and the Texas Supreme Court.

"I don't think there is any dispute as to the religious teachings of Brother Roloff, and there is no dispute as to the sincerity or as to the good Brother Roloff has done and is doing," Mathews said.

The question, Mathews said, is "whether the state is able to regulate the homes as they relate to the health and welfare of the people in these homes. Being the gentleman he is, the first person on earth who would want to know the answer is Brother Roloff.

In granting the state's motion for a summary judgment, Mathews imposed the lowest possible penalty for Roloff to pay for allegedly violating the 1975 Child Care Licensing Act.

The penalty is $150 a day—or $50 per home—from Jan. 1 through June 3—for a total of $23,250. Mathews said the state should work it out so Roloff would not have to pay anything pending appeal of Mathews' ruling.

June 3 was chosen as the cutoff date because that was when a hearing began on Roloff allegedly violating a temporary order instructing him to abide by the the act.

Roloff's lawyer, David Gibbs of Cleveland, Ohio, said Roloff's religious "convictions run headlong into the state standards."

Mathews said the case "is on its way up to the appellate courts, and that's where it should go."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Lynn Taylor said he was "not interested in the . . . destruction of the ministry of Brother Roloff," but "something should be done" to make him comply, for example, with state fire standards.

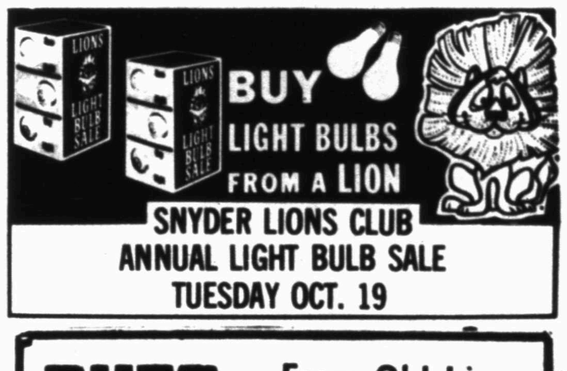

Roloff is president of the Roloff Evangelistic Enterprises, Inc., which runs the Rebekah Home for Girls in Corpus Christi, and the Anchor and Lighthouse homes for boys in Zapata and Port Isabel respectively.

"I hope you can work out something so Brother Roloff can keep the homes going," Mathews said.

Taylor said he would submit a proposed order by Friday.

"Our only purpose" in filing suit, Taylor said, "is the safety and welfare and protection of the children."

Idaho probably derived its name from an Indian word meaning "gem of the mountains."

"How is lignite coal helping my electric bill?"

By using lignite coal to generate electricity, Texas Electric will be saving its customers $44 million in 1976.

We've turned to lignite because natural gas, our main fuel, is running out. New supplies of gas just aren't available in the huge quantities we need. Those supplies that are available have soared in cost.

In 1976 the lignite and the plants that use it will cost less than new natural gas alone. Here's how:

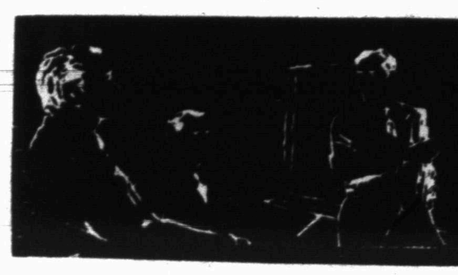

$86 million — The additional natural gas we would need in 1976 if we weren't using lignite
– 42 million — The cost of lignite and the one-year cost for plants to use it in 1976
$44 million — Money our customers won't have to pay in 1976 because we're using lignite coal

These savings will continue in the years ahead. In fact, they will increase as we add more lignite power plants and our nuclear plant.

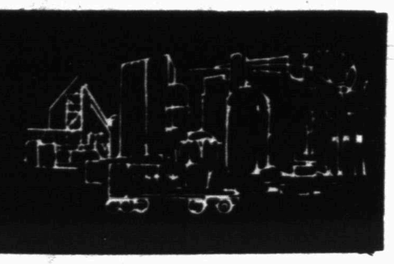

This doesn't mean rates will go down. But we will be able to keep increases in your electric bills as low as possible.

Friendly Flower Shop Ready To Assist With Your Floral Needs

Located at 3001 College Avenue, the Friendly Flower Shop features a large and attractive variety of flowers.

Flowers make excellent gifts and can express any feeling you may wish to convey. If you have friends getting married, send them flowers to express your love and good wishes. If a friend of yours is having a birthday, send him a bouquet of flowers for that special event. You don't even need a special occasion to send a friend flowers. You can send him flowers just to let him know that you are thinking about him.

Jo Ann Prince, the manager of the Friendly Flower Shop, said that floral arrangements can be custom made to suit your specific need. Floral arrangements can be made for weddings, birthdays, anniversaries, funerals, and for open house ceremonies. And remember, the Friendly Flower Shop offers free deliveries inside Snyder.

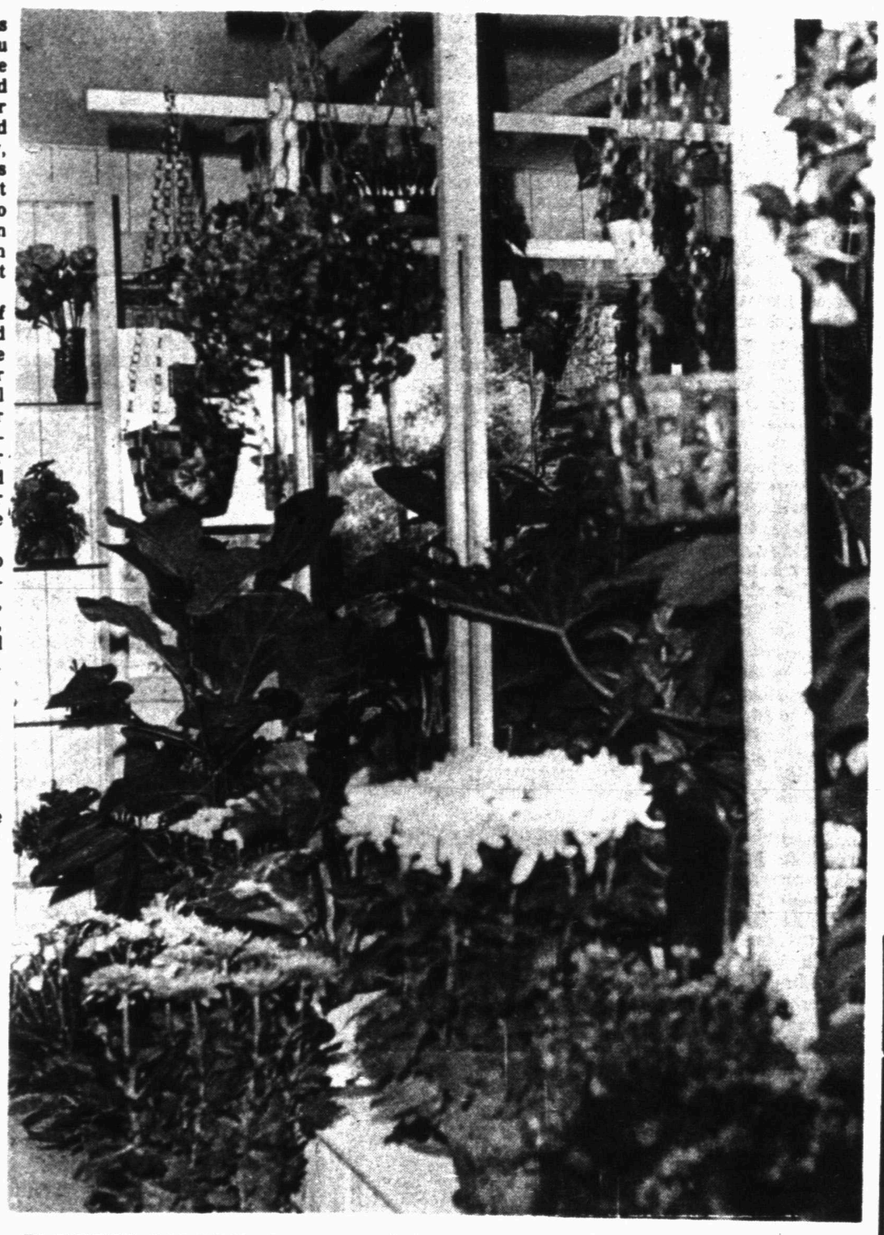

The Friendly Flower Shop features blooming and non-blooming plants. It has mums, carnations, roses, gladiolas, daisies, philodedrons, ivys and many other varieties of plants.

Thanksgiving is just around the corner and it is not too early to think about getting a dried floral arrangement to compliment your Thanksgiving dinner table. The Friendly Flower Shop offers a wide variety of dried arrangements in autumn colors.

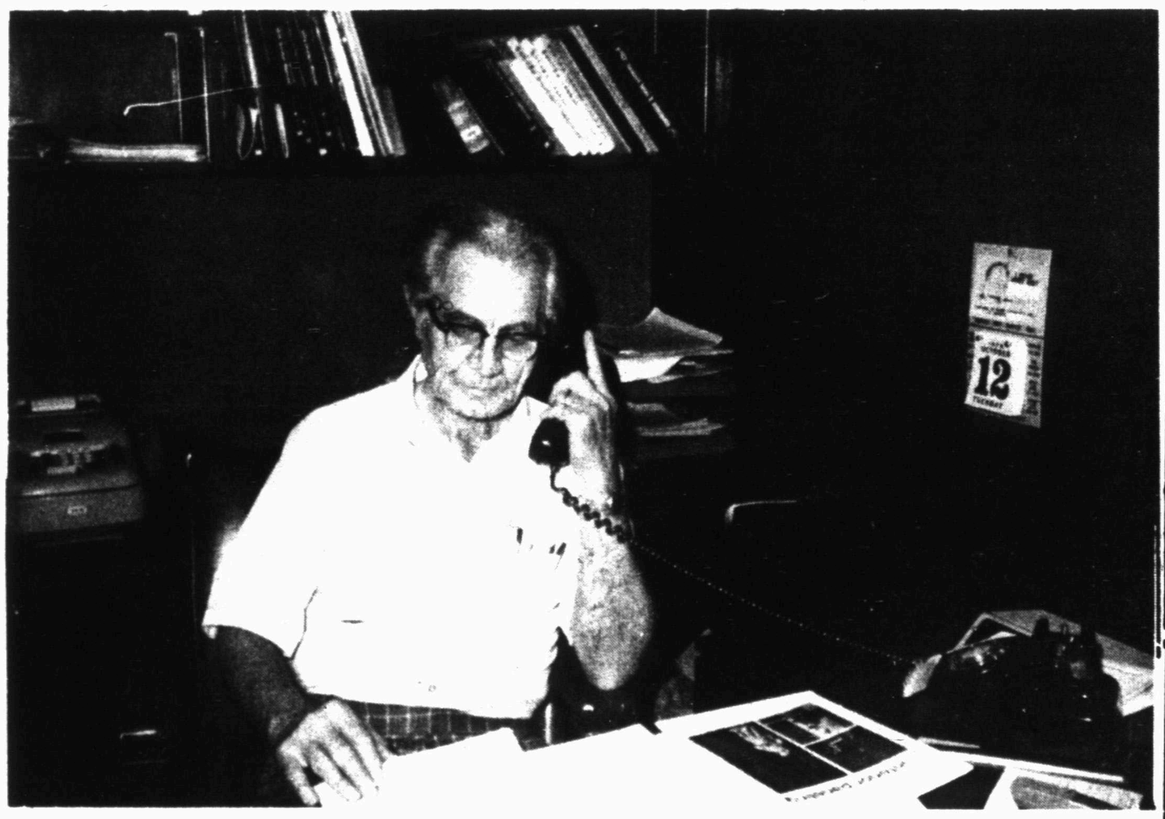

Christmas isn't too far away either, and the Friendly Flower Shop will offer beautiful poinsetta centerpieces for that occasion. Poinsettas represent the Christmas season better than any other plant and the Friendly Flower Shop will have a supply of them on hand for Christmas.

Mrs. Prince is a veteran of 20 years in floral work. She knows what customers want in their floral arrangements and strives to meet those needs. Since opening their flower shop over a year ago, the Prince family has made the Friendly Flower Shop into one of the best florist shops in Snyder.

So remember, whatever your floral needs are, go by the Friendly Flower Shop where you can get what you want at a reasonable price. The Friendly Flower Shop is open from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. until noon on Saturday.

FLOWERS GALORE—The Friendly Flower Shop features dozens of beautiful plants. It can make floral arrangements for any special occasion.

BUILDING SPECIALISTS—D.D. Shelburne, general manager of T. E. Shelburne & Son., Inc. 1611 Twenty-fourth Street, is busy talking about a job with a customer. Over the years, T. E. Shelburne and son has earned a good reputation in the building industry for their efficient business methods and prompt service. T. E. Shelburne can handle commercial, industrial, residential or remodeling work.

T. E. Shelburne & Son Specialists In The Construction Business

T. E. Shelburne & Son, Inc., 1611 Twenty-fourth Street, are specialists in the construction business. Over the years, their efficient business methods and prompt service have earned them a good reputation in the building industry.

They specialize in commercial and residential remodeling, add-ons, home improvements, custom cabinets, mill work and pre-engineered metal buildings.

Shelburne employes make sure all details of their work are thoroughly checked and specifications met. No job is too large or too small. Whether it is replacing a kitchen cabinet or building a new house, the building contractors of T. E. Shelburne can handle it.

T. E. Shelburne has been in the construction industry since 1937. Because of the company's continued growth and expansion of facilities, it has shown the people of Snyder the quality of work it performs. At the present Shelburne employes are building a church, constructing a welding shop, and building a building for a cosmetology business. Their work is varied.

The company employes 40 to 45 persons. Each man has been well trained in his line of work. T. E. Shelburne also is a dealer for Gulf States. Gulf States pre-engineers buildings and building parts so that you get faster construction allowing you a faster return on your investment money. Also with Gulf States, you get an attractive building with a modern design at a price you can afford.

If you have a wood working job, remember that T. E. Shelburne & Son has an excellent carpentry shop. The carpenters there can make everything from book cases to wooden frame houses.

If you have a building problem give T. E. Shelburne & Son a call at 573-6359. Office hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Shelburne has the equipment and experience to properly process any contract they make.
