Hearing On Charges Against Leverett Set Today

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Savings deposits in American banks are the highest ever recorded having gained several hundred millions of dollars in this year of depression. We are told that right here in Wichita Falls savings deposits are larger than ever before.

In view of these facts it does seem there is merit in the advice to those with jobs and money to buy now. We like the advice that Irwin S. Chanin, New York builder, gave his employes. Here it is:

"You, like other wage earners, have been saving your money for a rainy day instead of buying things you need, because you have been afraid you might lose your jobs. That rainy day hasn't come and we believe it will not.

"In return for our assurance that your jobs look safe, buy that new clothing, that household furniture or whatever you would be buying if times were normal. Buy now, because prices in most lines are at rock bottom, and because your buying with that of other wage earners will bring us all back to prosperity.

"Think and work with enthusiasm and without worrying about the depression."

And the same advice will apply to the business man or any other person with an income. If we are not on the bottom now we are certainly close to it. Conditions are certain to improve soon—as certain as anything in the future can be—and the sooner all who have money or credit resume our normal spending the sooner normal conditions will return.

This is written before the mass meeting Friday night and as it is written Talker has high hopes that good will come out of this meeting. He expects reports to show that many thousands of dollars of work has already been pledged as a result of this movement and that the meeting will be the starter only of a great program.

Such a meeting would be worse than useless unless it did not untie some purse strings and put some men to work and some goods and materials to moving. Wichita Falls is like a lot of other places—fed up on talk and wanting to see real accomplishment.

Talk and promise without enough in deeds and accomplishments were responsible in part for the overturn in the recent election. The unemployed man wants employment, the hungry man wants bread, the merchant wants trade. All of them have heard a lot of conversation. Now is the time to loosen purse strings and show them it isn't all hooey.

It's good news that comes from the Wichita General hospital that Andrew Jensen, young Dakota farmer shot by a Wichita Falls policeman, is improving and has a good chance for recovery. It's not only his friends and the Wichita Falls policeman who fired the shot who are interested in his recovery. It is the whole community which must share in the responsibility.

With Maurice Chevalier in the "Playboy of Paris" at the Majestic and Harold Lloyd in "Feet First" at the Strand Wichita Falls is getting two feature pictures on their national release date. In addition there will be Bert Lytell in "the Last of the Lone Wolf" at the State and for a midnight preview at the Majestic tonight "Only a Sap Works." The other theaters in town are also showing popular programs.

Talker would not set himself up as a critic of drama in any form but he would like to express his appreciation, which he believes is shared by the public, to the Wichita Falls picture houses for their efforts to bring high class pictures to Wichita Falls at the earliest time possible. Two pictures on their national release dates is a mighty fine showing for Wichita Falls. Among other expressions of "Better Business," Wichita Falls would do well to give generous patronage to its theaters this week.

The Pathfinder tells us that our belief it is frost that causes leaves to turn color is wrong. "That such is not the case," says the Pathfinder, "is proved by the fact that some of the most brilliant red and yellow tints precede the first frost. Chemical processes in the tree are responsible for the change in color. During the spring and summer numberless tiny cells in the leaves serve as factories for the manufacture of plant food. The chief agent in this process is chlorophyll, which gives the leaves their green color. Sunlight promotes the production of chlorophyll, and therefore the leaves on trees in the open are usually darker green in color than those on less exposed trees in a forest. Plant food is manufactured by combining carbon from the carbonic acid gas taken from the air by the leaves with hydrogen, oxygen and various minerals taken from the water absorbed by the roots."

Oil Export Company Cancels Price Schedule

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—The export Petroleum Association, Inc., announced today it had cancelled all of its export price schedules. The statement was issued by Gilbert Montague vice president and general counsel, who declined to comment further, but it was believed in Wall street that it was due to the unsettled condition of the oil industry.

CITY OFFICER RELEASED ON $1,000 BOND

District Attorney Spence Files Charges in Shooting Here

JENSEN HOLDING OWN

Justice 'Guesses' Guessers At Courthouse May Prove Wrong

By MARJORIE MATHIS
The Record News Staff

Preliminary hearing for Jess Leverett, suspended city detective, charged with assault to murder in the shooting early Monday morning of Andrew Jensen, young South Dakota farmer, will be held before Judge R. V. Gwinn, justice of the peace, at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Leverett was freed under a $1,000 bond, signed by a Wilbarger county man Friday afternoon.

May Reach Grand Jury

The preliminary hearing will determine whether or not Leverett will be put under bond pending a grand jury investigation. It will not affect the jury inquiry in any way, officials explained.

Informed by The Record News that opinion at the court house, where Leverett has many friends, held that the case was to be dismissed Saturday, Judge Gwinn replied the report would probably not prove true.

"I have heard no testimony and have formed no opinion," the magistrate declared, "but if guessing is being done I'll guess that the case will reach the grand jury."

Sam Spence, district attorney, said Friday night that William and Arthur Greenlund, Jensen's companions at the time of the shooting, would be the only state witnesses. He said it would be impossible to introduce any evidence from the wounded man, and that the records of the three South Dakota farmers could not be brought before the court by the state.

Mr. Spence said he had filed the charges at this time in order to preserve the testimony of the two Greenlund boys. Ahe attorney said the youths, who were passing through Wichita Falls in quest of jobs, want to leave the state, and their sworn testimony can be used if Leverett is bound over to the grand jury, he explained.

The shooting, which occurred when the officer stopped the boys for questioning, has attracted such widespread attention that a crowded courtroom is expected for the hearing. Leverett Friday night declined to reveal the name of his attorneys.

Jensen, who has been at the point of death since two bullets entered the upper chest at the back, was reported holding his own at the Wichita General hospital Friday night. No change in his condition, still dangerous, was indicated during the day, but physicians hoped

Leaders Of Both Parties Pledge Full Cooperation To Avert Congress Chaos

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties pledged themselves to cooperation in the nation's interests Friday as Tuesday's biennial congressional election ended in a virtual deadlock that threatened legislative chaos.

Still confident and fighting to overtake an apparent majority of one for the Republicans in house, seven national Democratic leaders tonight issued a joint statement declaring, in part:

"The Democratic party faces its duty with a firm determination to permit no thought of political advantage to swerve it from the course that is best for the country. It has neither the time nor the desire to punish anybody or to exalt itself.

"To the extent of its ability it will steer the legislation of the nation in a straight line toward the goal of prosperity, nor permit itself to be diverted either by political expediency or a desire to show that it now dominates the enacting branch of the government.

Cooperation Assured

"To this end the 72nd congress will not be an obstructive body. It will not seek to embarrass the president of the United States, but will be glad to cooperate with him and with the members of the opposite party in the house and senate in every measure that conduces to the welfare of the country."

This statement was signed by the Democratic leaders in congress, Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Representative Garner of Texas; by the Democratic presidential nominees in 1920, 1924 and 1928—James M. Cox of Ohio; John W. Davis of New York; Alfred E. Smith of New York, respectively; by John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee; and by Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee.

Hoover Quoted

At the same time, President Hoover, in his first conference with newspaper men since the election which carried the Democrats to the threshold of power in congress, said simply the task ahead of the nation now is to "concentrate on measures of cooperation for economy recovery."

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, likewise pleaded that "Whoever controls the next congress, let us all join together in a spirit of cooperation to bring back prosperity to the nation."

Final unofficial returns from Tuesday's election tonight showed the following results:

House:
Republicans—218.
Democrats—216.
Farmer-Labor—1.
Senate:
Republicans—48.
Democrats—47.
Farmer-Labor—1.

Slim Margins

But the Republican majority of one in the house included victories in Indiana of two Republicans by margins of less than 15 votes. Rep-

Republican outlook for 1932 is plenty dark.

They might as well be using a rubber boot for a telescope.

Democrats claim victory in congress. Their majority is only one man.

But he's fat.

A two-hundred-pound majority ain't to be sneezed at in a saucer of red pepper.

The spokesman for the G. O. P. issued his statement on the wet and dry situation in the suburbs.

"We waited to hear from the outlying counties. All we heard was a low gurgle.

"We put up the wrong candidate. If he is the life of the party—we're dead.

"We are willing to allow the Democrats to run the country for the next four years if they can find it.

"A Republican administration with a Democratic congress is a marvelous arrangement.

"We'll pull together like knots in a shoe lace.

"What difference does a lonely Democratic plurality make? We welcome him. When they're handing out nothing but kicks in the face, we can afford to feed another mouth."

$1,600 LIQUOR STORE SEIZED

Wichitan Held After Raid Nets 100 Gallons

One man was arrested and 100 gallons of whisky was seized late Friday afternoon in a sheriff's department raid upon a home on Grant street. The liquor, contained in nine 10-gallon kegs and a number of glass jars, was hidden in a closet at the back of the duplex apartment. Charges against the prisoner will be filed Saturday, Sheriff W. G. Brelley said. At retail bootleg prices the haul was valued at around $1600.

Two automobiles were required to transport the whisky to the county court house. Fourteen cases of empty pint bottles and a score of empty jars were also seized. Mr. Bralley was accompanied on the raid by Deputies Warren Belcher, George Garrett and Dick Morris.

Officers were of the opinion the supplies had been concentrated here in anticipation of a heavy demand for Christmas liquor.

SEVEN CHIEFS OF DEMO PARTY OUTLINE PLANS

Still Confident of Ruling Congress, Leaders Ask Cooperation

NO TARIFF REVISION

Task of 'Repairing Damage' Principal Object of New Lineup

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—Seven national Democratic leaders joined in a pronouncement tonight pledging the party to a constructive legislative program and to cooperation in avoiding the chaos which might develop from the congressional deadlock resulting from Tuesday's election.

Apparently still hopeful of controlling the next house, the Democratic chieftains asserted:

"The Democratic party faces its duty with a firm determination to permit no thought of political advantage to swerve it from the course that is best for the country."

The statement was signed by Democratic leaders in congress—Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Representative Garner of Texas; the last three presidential candidates of the party—James M. Cox, John W. Davis and Alfred E. Smith, and John J. Raskob and Jouett Shouse of the national committee.

Tariff Policy

The Democrats disclaimed any intention of planning a general revision of the tariff and said the party still stood on its last national platform which called for periodic individual rate changes recommended by a non-partisan tariff commission. The statement in part follows:

"A remarkable victory has come to the Democratic party. We, however, regard it less as a political triumph than as a great opportunity for constructive service.

Vigorous Campaign

"For a year and a half the Democrats have conducted as vigorous a campaign as they could, not to destroy the administration, not to accomplish the downfall of any political figure but to resist and to correct a situation that had become well-nigh intolerable. The minority in the senate and the house of representatives fought bravely and sincerely to prevent the enactment of a tariff bill which was not only the apothesis of bad economy but was doubly dangerous because of the conditions in the country. Certainly with the nation in the throes of a ghastly business depression it was no time to place a greater burden upon consumers and an additional handicap on business.

"Despite the opposition of the Democrats and the progressive wing of the Republican party and over the protests of leading economists of the nation, that bill was forced on the country by the brutal strength of numbers and was signed by the president. Some of the effects of its unwise, unjust and uneconomic provisions are already apparent.

Task Is to Repair

"Of course, the leaders of De-

Dancer Sues Heiress For $500,000 Damage

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—Adele Ryan, granddaughter of the late Thomas Fortune Ryan and heir to part of his $125,000,000 fortune, has been notified through her attorney, of a suit for a half a million dollars in damage prepared by Muriel Johnson, night club dancer.

Miss Ryan is not in New York, but Nathan Burkan, her counsel, called the suit "a damage action of some sort or other."

Muriel Johnson began a divorce action two months ago against her husband and dancing partner, Bob Johnson, with whom she had won popularity in New York's Greenwich Village and European cities.

Bandits Take Diamond Haul From Tulsa Store

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 7. (AP)—Police today sought two men for a shoplifting act which netted them $9,250 in diamonds from the A. Y. Boswell Jewelry company's store here. Entering the store together yesterday afternoon, one of the men engaged a clerk to show him costume jewelry while his companion stood near a case of diamond rings. After their departure, it was discovered the case had been opened and eight rings, valued at from $500 to $2,000 each, taken.

Nye Charges Election Violations in Memphis

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—Senator Nye, chairman of the senate campaign funds investigating committee, said today a situation had been found in Memphis, Tenn., which convinced the committee that the city, so far as elections was concerned, was the "Philadelphia of the South."

Nye said testimony and evidence found in Memphis had shown that, in a large measure, there had been an utter disregard of the election laws in the primaries.

Boynton Reaches Chicago In Air Record Attempt

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Stanley Boynton, 18, landed his plane at the municipal airport at 4:30 p. m., today from Kansas City in his attempt to set a new West-East junior transcontinental flight record.

He said he would take off at daybreak tomorrow for New York and did not know where he would stop for refueling.

Boynton left Amarillo, Texas, at 7:15 a. m. today and made stops at Wichita, Kansas City, and Moline before reaching Chicago.

Greatest Crowd In Civic History Jams Auditorium

$101,000 in New Construction Announced for Next 30 Days; Speakers Stir Throngs to Renewed Faith in City

By W. L. UNDERWOOD
The Record News Staff

Absorbing in their enthusiasm and community-wide response plans laid carefully during the past week by a Better Business committee, more than 5,000 persons crowded the Memorial auditorium Friday night to stage the greatest civic rally in the history of the city, and to declare a new doctrine of community development designed to provide for every able-bodied resident of Wichita Falls and vicinity an opportunity to earn a fair living for himself and his family.

Consuming interest and a spontaneous determination to "throw a shoulder to the wheel" which motivated a gigantic parade from the downtown section to the Memorial auditorium about 7:30 o'clock continued unabated during the two-hour forum directed by the committee. Patriotic participation of the thousands present for the rally was rewarded by the unusual precision with which the night's program was carried out, the vast assembly being dismissed within 10 minutes of the hour promised in advance by those in charge as the "dead-line."

Greatest Country—Greatest People

Closing the program of brief talks on the plane set by W. B. Hamilton in an opening "key-note" speech and subsequently revived dynamically by James V. Allred in an impassioned tribute to his home city, Frank Kell said:

"We are living in the greatest country in the world, the greatest that has been known in any age of the world's history. We are living in the most vital and important period the world has yet seen. We have the greatest government that has thus far existed under the sun. We should be proud indeed that we are a part of America. We live in the greatest state of this great country, and we have surrounding us, I sincerely and affectionately believe, the greatest people to be found in the land. Yet more than all that, tonight we know that we live in the greatest city of the entire country for us, and the attention of the thousands here tonight prove conclusively that the heart of our splendid citizenship is in this patriotic movement."

Referring to observation of economic conditions in many parts of the United States during 60 days of travel recently, Mr. Kell declared that business depression not only is not local to Wichita Falls, but that hard times have been felt only slightly here compared to their severity in other sections.

"You have been told that the depression is not peculiar to our community," he said. "That is too true. It prevails throughout the country—and throughout the world. To look intimately at conditions which people of some northern states are facing now makes us feel certain that we in Wichita Falls may have magnified considerably during the past two years our own financial troubles. Nor are we yet out of a depression, but we do see signs of definite improvement."

The principal factor in plunging the entire nation into financial chaos, Mr. Kell continued, was an "orgy of wild, drunken, speculation in which many—too many—who had no more knowledge of the game than they had money to lose, participated—to their sorrow, and our present distress. Stock of the Santa Fe railway, for instance, which sold today for $192 jumped from $195 to $298 within a few months in the feverish buying of 1929. It was paying then the same sure 10 per cent dividend which it is paying now. Like an individual, a great market can not recover in a day from such a drunken orgy. It will take months—or years, for complete recovery."

One of the most encouraging proofs of improving conditions, the speaker continued, is the restoration of hundreds of workers to their jobs during the past few days by many railway companies in the country. That development, he said, indicates definitely that rail companies are rebuilding their plants, buying materials, and are staging a general revival of activity.

"We are past the most serious part of the rough ways we had to travel," said Mr. Kell. "Among the states of the nation, Texas is better off than any other state I can name. I lean also to the belief that much of our depression has been mental more than material. More than all else, we need now a psychological revival—a determination to make the very most of what we have. We have much with which to do."

Improved Conditions Ahead for City

Dependability of property values in Wichita Falls was mentioned by Mr. Kell as one of the city's chiefest recommendations.

"No one ever has lost money on real estate investments here unless he got scared and jumped out," he declared. "I can remember when conditions here were much worse than we have seen during the past two years; when property values were much lower; when we thought that good conditions would never return. But they did. And we know that vastly improved conditions are coming now, and not far distant.

"The history of Dallas, of Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis, and others of which we think now as the greatest cities in the Central West, shows these periods of low economic tide. They have seen times when the best building lot in the city could hardly be given away. Dallas—the pride of the Southwest—has gone many times, but always has come back—and is coming forward with each new experience. A glance at the banking conditions of 1921 compared with those of today show how much worse off we were then than now. We are just as safe today as we were three years ago before the first signs of a speculative debauch were evidenced."

Receiving almost an ovation when introduced to the immense throng after a forced and hurried trip from Beaumont during the afternoon, James V. Allred, Texas attorney general-elect, rapidly moved from entertaining humor to a stirring plea for greater and continued loyalty to Wichita Falls and her trade territory.

"Regardless of whether you choose to call these past two years of unpleasant reactions 'Republican prosperity' or 'Democratic depression,'" the speaker said, "I feel that the psychological elements have been the most potent factor in the situation. I am convinced to my own shame that we have been somewhat like a neighborhood cry baby. There is nothing so detestable as a neighbor's baby who having all the playthings that a childish fancy could dream of, raises a tremendous howl to high Heaven if the least of his toys should fall into the possession of another child.

"Now I fear that since 'the good old days' have passed, we have been something like that. With wealth literally thrown into our faces over a long period from intensive oil development, we have forgotten how to get along satisfactorily with normdal opportunities. Conse-

GOLD DIGGERS VANISH

Trail of Auto Carrying Vast Fortune Lost at Border City

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 7. (AP)—Indian Hot Springs, Texas, was excited today over a report that $46,000 worth of gold bullion, cached 19 years ago during the forays of Pancho Villa, Mexican bandit and revolutionist, had been dug up by two men.

The men, known there as J. E. Martin and Archie Hill, of El Paso, could not be traced here or in Juarez. It was said they took from a secret place in the Quitman mountains a large quantity of gold bars.

Going to the district Oct. 29, the men quietly hired some horses from a rancher and daily rode into the mountains, shrouding their business and movements in secrecy.

On the fourth day, the men, tight-lipped and dressed in hiking clothes, took an automobile instead of saddle horses over the trail they had been following. They returned that night with the automobile loaded with sacks, which, some of the residents of the village believed, contained the long-missing gold bullion, a part of $280,000 worth said to have been smuggled across the border during the Villa revolution.

After carefully guarding their automobile through the night, the mysterious strangers early next day headed towards El Paso, but here their trail disappeared.

Search Finds Texas Woman Burned to Death

CISCO, Texas, Nov. 7. (UP)—The body of a woman, identified as Mrs. Emma Prather, 34, of Clifton, was found in a pasture in the southern part of Cisco today where she evidently had been burned to death. Her clothing was burned from her body and nearby was a pile of brush under which a handful of leaves had been thrown and partially burned. A coroner's verdict of death by accidental burning was returned.

Mrs. Prather had been in Cisco a month undergoing treatment for a nervous breakdown. She disappeared from the home of her brother-in-law, Lee Custer, late last night and a search was instituted which resulted in the finding of her body today.

Woman Pays $2.50 Each For Shots at Ex-Husband

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 7. (AP)—The list price for shots at ex-husbands was quoted at $2.50 each today in police court here. Mrs. Roy Bingham took two shots and was fined $5. She was accused of firing through a window into the home occupied by Bingham and his second wife two nights ago. One bullet lodged in Bingham's pillow but he was sitting up listening to the radio.

CONGRESS RACE STILL TIED UP

Brookhart May Sit With Democrats

resentative Vestal's nine votes in the eighth Indiana district was immediately challenged by the Democrats. Representative Purnell's margin of 13 votes in the ninth Indiana district also was under attack.

Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, threatened the Republican plurality in the senate with a statement asserting he would join the Democrats for organization of that body if they would support a program he outlined, including the export debenture principle of farm relief.

Thus, it is obvious that until the next congress actually convenes it probably will not be certain whether the Republicans or the Democrats will organize either the senate or the house. Deaths, resignations and contests in the meantime may constantly vary the standing.

The new congress does not meet in regular session until a year from next December. It could be called into special session any time after March 4, when the present congress dies.

Brookhart Wants Session

While Senator Brookhart is advocating such a special session next spring unless the export debenture farm relief plan, to which President Hoover is opposed, and unemployment legislation are enacted at the short term, there was no indication from the Democratic leaders that they would seek to force it.

While the Republican majority in the house rested on such slim decisions in many places, the Republicans were expecting a recount in the 24th Illinois district to give them back a seat listed as Democratic in first returns. James P. Heidinger, Republican, and Claude V. Parsons, Democrat, were involved in a contest in this district. They were separated by only a few votes.

The election of Representative Yates, Republican member at large in Illinois, who finally overtook a Democratic opponent Friday, gave the Republicans the 218 majority on the face of the final but unofficial returns.

Charity Worker Leaps To Death From Steamer

GALVESTON, Nov. 7. (UP)—A few minutes after she addressed and sealed five letters, Mrs. Gray Leavell, of New York City, well known charity worker, drank a bottle of poison and leaped to her death from the deck of the Malloy line steamer, Mohawk, today.

Seamen recovered her body from Galveston harbor a few minutes later. No reason was given for her act.

In a letter to Capt. D. W. Leak, of the vessel, which was bound from New York to Galveston, the woman said she intended to end her life and attached a $5 bill to pay for several telegrams which she asked to be sent.

Cough Ejects Safety Pin Lodged Seven Years in Woman's Lung

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Fred Birdwell of North Ninth street was probably the happiest person in Frederick when after coughing she accidently ejected half of a safety pin which she had inhaled in her right lung seven years ago. Many unsuccessful attempts had been made to remove it in Frederick and Wichita Falls recently. A few days ago when she suffered from some ailment which she could not understand she went to Dr. Coyne H. Campbell for treatment.

After taking an X-ray picture imbedded in her right lung. He Campbell discovered a safety pin then asked her if she had not swallowed a pin sometime and after thinking a moment she replied that she had seven years before. This had caused an abcess which for a while she thought might be a cancer. Failing to remove the intruder Campbell suggested she go to a specialist at Wichita Falls. The specialist spent three hours in a futile effort when he gave it up and advised that she go to Mayo Brothers at Rochester, Minn. She returned home intending to go to Rochester as soon as she could.

Dr. Campbell was unable to state Wednesday afternoon how the remaining half of the safety pin will affect her.

GLASS REMOVED AFTER 11 YEARS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7. (AP)—Miss Dorothy Wahl, 19, of Key West, Fla., was reported recovering here today after removal of a piece of glass that had been "roaming around" in her body for the past 11 years and causing her intense pain at times.

The object was described as being two and a half inches long and one inch wide. The operation, removing it from her lower abdomen, was performed by Dr. D. L. Watson before a group of other surgeons.

Miss Wahl's mother said that her daughter tripped 11 years ago while running with a milk bottle in her hand and smashed it causing an ugly gash just under the heart.

She apparently had recovered from the effects of the accident and physicians at the time believed that all the glass had been removed.

The large piece left in her body was discovered by means of the X-ray.

Train Robbers Blend Methods Of Old West Modern Thug in Big Haul

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 7. (AP)—With the dispatch of modern racketeering and some of the flare of the old West, a band of outlaws held up a Southern Pacific passenger train near Nobel today and escaped with loot estimated at $60,000 or more.

Passengers were not molested, but were thrown into a panic when a transformer on an adjoining electric line blew out. Eyewitnesses agreed but one shot was fired by six or seven armed and masked men. The escape was made in a stolen motor car.

The train was number 36 which runs daily between Oakland and Tracy, Calif., leaving Oakland at 7 a. m. Authorities believed two men boarded the train at Berkeley as passengers.

Near Nobl, seven miles from here, an armed, masked man, who had climbed across coaches and tender, jumped into the locomotive and in a high, calm voice commanded the engineer and fireman to stop the engine.

R. E. Lemery, engineer, and S. E. O'Brien, fireman, were forced to lie down on the ground. A large sedan was waiting beside the track with other robbers in it. Machine guns were mounted on the car and each robber was armed with a high power rifle, except one who had a shotgun and the man who climbed into the cab with a pistol.

Methodically the robbers entered the baggage car, held up John McClintock, baggage man, and took an undetermined number of bags of mail including approximately $55,000 consigned by the federal reserve bank in San Francisco to the American Trust company branch at at Pittsburgh to be used in cashing pay roll checks for the Columbia Steel Works company.

The workers were lined up ready to receive their checks when news of the robbery came. Company officials held up the checks tentatively.

The bandits fled in the sedan and the train pulled on to Stege, where authorities were notified.

Postal inspectors, federal reserve officers, sheriff's deputies and Southern Pacific special police organized for a search of northern central California. All roads were ordered blocked for miles around.

The sedan was stolen last night from an Oakland garage by two men who held up an attendant. The attendant gave the police a good description of the men, who were thought to have been members of the holdup gang. Passengers expected to be robbed. They got out their money and valuables and had them ready. But the robbers were after bigger game.

After the robbery C. F. Fredericks, station agent at Stege, found $1,000 in currency in grass behind a huge fence. An empty pistol holster and an empty mail sack, slashed open, also was found not far from the scene.

June 22, 1929, the same train was held up and robbed of several thousand dollars by a gang that functioned in a similar manner. That gang was believed to have been led by the late Jack Fleagle, notorious outlaw who was shot and killed in Missouri recently by detectives who sought him in connection with a bank robbery and murder at Lamar, Colo.

DEMO CHIEFS OUTLINE PLANS

Seven Leaders of Party Urge Cooperation

mocracy are thrilled by the demonstration of confidence the country has given. But they and the others who must now assume legislative responsibility do not regard the present occasion as one for celebration or for self-gratification. . . . The task ahead is to repair the damage, to get the ship of state back on even keel and to go ahead on a course which will bring us out of the tempest with the least disturbance and the greatest speed consistent with safety.

"The Democratic party faces its duty with a firm determination to permit no thought of political advance to swerve it from the course that is best for the country. It has neither the time nor the desire to punish anybody or to exalt itself. To the extent of its ability it will steer the legislation of the nation in a straight line toward the goal of prosperity, nor permit itself to be diverted either by political expediency or a desire to show that it now dominates the enacting branch of the government.

Remedy Evils

"To this end the 72nd congress will not be an obstructive body. It will not seek to embarrass the president of the United States, but will be glad to cooperate with him and with members of the opposite party in the house and senate in every measure that conduces to the welfare of the country. . . . It has in mind no rash policies, but will seek as carefully as possible to remedy the evils that are afflicting the nation. . . .

"As to the tariff, the Democratic policy, announced in its platform and through its candidates in the last presidential campaign, is directly opposed to periodic general revisions, which inevitably bring in their trail a shameful load of scandal and hideous dislocation of our whole industrial and commercial system. Democrats in the present congress sought the enactment of a plan that would limit changes to those obviously required—changes in individual schedules on the recommendation of non-partisan experts in consonance with the dictates of economic science. With such a process tariff alteration would proceed with the maximum of patience and caution, and would cause no earthquakes in our business structure.

Reserve System Praised

"Whatever changes may be considered necessary to rid the present act of its outstanding enormities, nothing is further from the minds of those who will direct legislation on the Democratic side than a general revision of the tariff.

"The one bright spot in the financial gloom of the present situation is the federal reserve system. That feature of our government, a Democratic accomplishment, has been praised by President Coolidge, by President Hoover and by Secretary Mellon. . . .

"If there are delays, embarrassments and confusion in the 72nd congress the fault will lie with the failure of the other party to join with us in a conscientious effort to subordinate politics to the public good.

"The Democratic party realizes that it has not been given a charter of autocratic authority but has merely been entrusted with a great task, and that on its ability to perform this task fearlessly, justly, honestly, and skillfully depends the length of its tenure and the extension of its authority in the government."

Injured Burk Girl Slowly Improving

The condition of Frances Brady, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brady of Burkburnett, was so much improved Friday that attending physicians believed the child would recover from injuries sustained in an automobile crash in Burkburnett Monday.

The jugular vein and another important artery were severed when flying glass struck the child's throat. Almost instant death was averted by the mother who managed to check the blood flow immediately after the accident. Three blood transfusions have been administered since the little girl was placed in the Wichita General hospital here Monday.

Flaming Oil Converts Texan Into Human Torch

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 7. (UP)—Sprayed with flaming oil, Jease E. Griffith, 46, was probably fatally burned today when an asphalt distributor tank exploded as he was unloading the device.

He was converted into a human torch by the burning oil and burned beyond recognition. Physicians said tonight he had no chance of recovery.

Missing College Head Volunteers As Farm Hand and Milks Four Cows

CROCKETT, Texas, Nov. 7. (AP)—Dr. E. W. Provence, president of Burleson college at Greenville, who disappeared Monday while on a business visit in Dallas, was reunited with Mrs. Provence here today.

The college president spent last night in a hotel here, ate his breakfast leisurely, played a few games of dominoes with guests and left unceremoniously to be overtaken a short time later six miles out on the Houston highway.

Mrs. Provence and Dr. E. P. Goode of Greenville came here to get the educator, having been notified of his whereabouts before he set out towards Houston.

"If I do not get away from teaching I am going to have a serious nervous breakdown," he told P. E. Walden, who has a dairy farm on the edge of town, when he appeared there last night.

Walden said Dr. Provence introduced himself and presented some credentials to prove his identity. Walden had not heard of the search being made for him.

"I was milking my cows when Dr. Provence walked up to my place," Walden said. "I readily saw he was a man of culture. I went about my work and pretty soon he shucked his coat, got a bucket and started in to help me at my task. He milked four cows."

Walden said Dr. Provence expressed a desire to spend the night, but he did not have room and took him to a hotel.

After playing dominoes and talking over long distance telephone to Fort Worth, Dr. Provence told hotel guests he believed he would go to Palestine.

When he could not be found, a party drove an automobile towards Palestine but could not locate him. Will L. Ellis of Houston, who knew of the search for the college head, was driving towards his home when he saw a man walking along the highway about six miles out of town. He recognized him from a description as Dr. Provence. He stopped his car and invited the doctor to ride.

"He got into the car willingly and when I told him Mrs. Provence was on her way to Crockett to meet him Dr. Provence said he would be glad to ride back to Crockett," Ellis said. "We drove back, but he had little to say during the trip."

"I am very tired," he told acquaintances at the hotel as he awaited the arrival of Mrs. Provence, and refused to talk about his travels since leaving Dallas, where he had gone to consult persons about financial difficulties of Burleson college.

He drove to Dallas with a friend, leaving the automobile in a residential section with the explanation he intended visiting with a relative. He was not seen since until he appeared at Walden's dairy farm last night.

Dr. Goode said he believed Dr. Provence was suffering from a slight attack of aphasia.

Mrs. Provence said she planned to take her husband to Houston for a rest. Dr. Goode said a few days quiet would restore him to his normal condition.

Dr. Provence told his wife he did not remember how he arrived in Crockett, nor could he recall spending the night here. He showed signs of physical and mental exhaustion. He showed happiness when greeted by his wife and inquired about their children.

Leverett Faces Hearing Today

for his recovery. Flowers and expressions of sympathy continued to pour into the hospital.

LEVERETT DEFENDED BY COUNTS

Editor, The Record News:

I wish to state that Neal Hall of Burkburnett is rather rash about his views of Wichita officers. Mr. Hall surely can exaggerate.

Mr. Hall your letter was uncalled for inasmuch as it was a reflection on the Wichita officers. I might say it was a slur.

I know Mr. Leverett as a good officer and a gentleman and I am sure he was honest in his opinion that he was right. Also I believe the boys thought they were justified.

We need more officers like Jess Leverett. Investigate Mr. Leverett's record as an officer and a man. There is no mark against his name.

You who are censoring the police of Wichita Falls and Mr. Leverett had better judge yourselves first.

WOMAN QUESTIONS USE OF SOFT-NOSED BULLETS

Editor, The Record News:

I want to thank and congratulate you on putting before the public the true facts of the shooting in the Country Club Estates.

It is only one among many instances where the laws are not instead of protectors. Some of them read 10-cent novels and go to the movies and think they have to do likewise—portray the drama on screen and in novels.

Who wouldn't make an effort to push a person off the running board of his car at 3 o'clock in the morning, especially when he has $125 on his person?

Also let me call attention to facts in 1917-1918 when we were at war. Every newspaper carried screaming headlines of the Germans using soft nosed bullets to do more deadly harm. Hence the inquiry: Which is worse or where is the difference? Jensen was shot with soft nosed bullets.

Let us have a thorough investigation and let the public know the true facts.

Wichitan Named On Methodist Board

J. W. Thorne of Wichita Falls, Rev. Paul E. Martin of Iowa Park, and Sam Householder of Byers were among the members of the executive committee of the board of Christian education of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, named Friday in Dallas. According to Associated Press dispatches Rev. Mr. Martin is secretary of the committee.

The board was named to replace three groups formerly supervising Sunday school, Epworth league, and educational work. Dr. A. Norman Evans of Dallas was made president of the board and of the executive committee. The committee will meet in Dallas Monday to plan work for the year ahead.

Consolidation of the three former boards was one of the major legislative measures passed at the Methodist general conference last May.

Robbed of Liquor, Victim Asks Aid of Police

HEARNE, Texas, Nov. 8. (AP)—A Mexican living near Hearne was in jail and minus several gallons of whisky today as a result of calling on Robertson county officers for aid.

The Mexican told a story of having been hi-jacked by three masked men riding in a truck early today. He refused to say what the road bandits had stolen. The officers became suspicious and followed him home. There they found a 60-gallon still, 12 barrels of mash, some whisky and jars.

The Mexican admitted he had been robbed of 18 gallons of whisky.

Farmer Faces Charge After Blocking Road

FORT WORTH, Nov. 7. (AP)—Carl Yates, Grapevine farmer who blocked traffic on the new Fort Worth-Grapevine road yesterday with two wire fences and the authority of a shotgun, was a friendly visitor at the Tarrant county court house today.

Yates complied with the request of officers and came to the city to discuss his case with Assistant District Attorney Walter H. Morris, who filed a complaint against Yates charging obstruction of a public highway.

3 OKLAHOMANS HURT IN CRASH

Trio Taken to Hospital at El Paso

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 7. (AP)—Three Oklahoma business men were injured in an automobile accident near Santa Rosa, N. M., last night, and brought to a hospital here.

They were:

Theodore Johnson, 45, of Okauchee, Okla., internal injuries that may prove fatal.

Harry Lindy, 42, of Tulsa, Okla., three broken ribs, suffering from shock.

Clayton Walker, 35, of Tulsa, fractured hip bone, sprained right knee and deep cut across nose.

Turning to avoid an automobile parked on the side of the road, the automobile they occupied collided with another car.

Lindy is secretary-treasurer of the American Engineering corporation, Walker is a livestock broker and Johnson is a real estate man.

HOLLOWAY AND MURRAY CHAT

Governor and Successor Talk 10 Minutes

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7. (UP)—What Gov. Bill Holloway and Governor-elect Bill Murray said to each other when they had a 10-minute private conference today may never be known but apparently the conversation was satisfactory to both because each left Holloway's private office smiling.

Governor Holloway was among those whom Murray visited today at the capitol.

He also visited Judge Thomas H. Doyle, chairman of the state industrial commission; Secretary of State Graves Leeper and Howard Parker, state reporter.

Murray also met numerous acquaintances as he walked through the capitol corridors.

Wherever the "sage of Tishomingo" stopped, a crowd soon gathered to hear what the governor-elect had to say.

Among those whom Murray talked with was Jim Noble, negro, who has worked at the state capitol since it was first established at Guthrie and later moved to Oklahoma City.

Noble claims to be the first original Murray man in the capitol, and suggested today that the state election board save the state money by abandoning an official count of the vote in Tuesday's election and merely sack Murray's ballots and declare him elected by so many pounds of votes.

Murray, dressed in a new suit and wearing an overcoat, apparently was feeling happy over his overwhelming victory in Tuesday's election. He smiled, told jokes, and declared that the Republican house member elected was "just that number too many Republicans."

HERE'S THE ELEVENTH PUZZLE IN THE TIMES-RECORD NEWS "SCRAMBLED LETTER CONTEST"

The Times-Record News is conducting one of the most absorbing contests ever designed for the entertainment of its readers. To stimulate interest in it, and to make it a profitable as well as an enjoyable pastime for the next few weeks, a grand total of 39 prizes aggregating $100 will be awarded for the winning solutions.

Every other day there will be printed a letter of the alphabet in scrambled form, similar to the "H" above. These scrambled sections, when cut apart and properly assembled, will form the accompanying letter indicated. Each letter will be printed once in The Times and Record News.

This new game is extremely fascinating. It requires a high degree of skill to arrange these apparently simple sections in such forms as to make a perfect capital letter. "Scrambled Letters" has swept the country like a storm. Big business executives have taken it up as a genuine test of their ingenuity. Parties are formed in hundreds of communities to work out the puzzle in interested groups.

Each letter will appear in both papers. Full details about entering the contest are published herewith. Remember, 39 prizes make it well worth your time in matching your wits against this brand new intelligence test.

PRIZES ARE AS FOLLOWS

First prize	$25.00
Second prize	15.00
Third prize	10.00
Fourth prize	5.00
Ten prizes at $2 each	20.00
Twenty-five prizes at $1 each	25.00
Grand total	$100.00

Read These Rules

The Times-Record News Nu-Way alphabet puzzles include the 26 letters of the alphabet. The publication of the various letters of the alphabet will cover a period of several weeks. These letters appearing in the paper are cut into pieces of varying shapes, the object being to place these parts together so they will form the respective letters as illustrated in outline accompanying the pieces.

An outline and its entire parts will be published in the Times and Record News every other day, a different letter of the alphabet being presented. The publication of all letters of the alphabet will cover a period of several weeks.

Anyone who is a resident of Wichita Falls or this section may participate in this profitable fun, except employes of the Times and Record News or their families. You pay nothing to enter. Each letter, as it appears in the Times and Record News may be traced or copied free of charge from the files at the office of this newspaper.

The Times and Record News will pay $100 in cash prizes to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved complete set of puzzles in accordance with the rules. This does not necessarily mean that you have to solve all the puzzles to win. The prizes will be paid to the persons whose entries rank the highest. Neatness, accuracy and simplicity are the prime requisites. Accurate cutting and correct assembling of the pieces to form each respective letter. Entries that are elaborate will receive no more consideration than the simplest ones. Young and old thus have an equal chance to win.

Take the page of the Times or Record News wherein the puzzles are published. Cut the pieces carefully along the outside of the black border and paste these pieces neatly so that you completely cover the letter appearing opposite, and repeat this operation every week with the new letters in the Nu-Way alphabet puzzles published in the Times and Record News until you complete the full alphabet.

Puzzle solutions are to be submitted only in complete sets five days after all letters of the alphabet have been published in the Times and Record News. Do not send in each puzzle separately. When you have the complete set of 26 puzzles, or parts thereof, mail first class, postage prepaid, or bring them to the Times and Record News alphabet puzzle department. All entries must be in by midnight five days after the last puzzle has been published in the Times and Record News. The winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Be sure that mailed entries have name and address of sender and sufficient postage is used.

In addition to your entry, you must send an advertisement of one of the advertisers shown on any of the letters clipped from the Times or Record News during this contest period, and a letter not exceeding 50 words in length telling why you can profitably deal with this concern.

The Times and Record News will appoint judges, and their decision will be final. In the event of a tie for any of the prizes offered, the full amount of the prize tied for will be awarded each tying contestant.

RECIPES

Roast Goose

Geese are best from October to March and generally weigh from four to eight pounds. A four-months-old goose is best for roasting—an old goose is better braised.

Singe, remove pinfeathers, wash and scrub the goose in hot soap suds. Then remove the entrails and wash and rinse the bird in hot soda water, using one teaspoonful soda to each quart of water. Dry thoroughly, and rub inside with a mixture of salt, thyme and marjoram, or sprinkle inside and out with lemon juice, or rub it with an onion cut in half. Stuff with bread, potato or raisin and apple stuffing; truss, weigh and arrange on a rack in a roasting pan. Dredge with flour and tie two slices of fat salt pork over the breast of the bird. If an uncovered roaster is used roast at 500 degrees F. for 15 minutes and 350 degrees for the remaining time allowing 20 minutes to the pound. If a covered roaster is used cook at 500 degrees for 30 minutes and 350 degrees F. for the remaining time allowing 20 minutes to the pound.

When done remove skewers and string, and place on a hot platter. Make gravy from drippings in the pan in which the bird was roasted. If there is too much fat for the gravy, pour off some and measure what remains. Place pan over the heat, add flour equal in amount to the fat. Blend well, and stir until golden brown. Add three-fourths cupful of cold water, milk, vegetable liquor, or a mixture of all three for each tablespoonful of flour. Boil until perfectly smooth, stirring constantly. Color with a little dark caramel or kitchen bouquet and season with salt and pepper to taste.

Dark caramel is made by melting one cupful of sugar until it is a very dark sirup, stirring constantly as it melts. Then stir in carefully (for much steam will rise) one cupful of boiling water, and stir until smooth. Cool and keep for use in a covered glass container.

The salt pork should be removed at the end of 30 minutes if a covered roaster is used and in time for the breast to brown if an uncovered roaster is used.

Raisin and Apple Stuffing
One cupful chopped apples.
Two cupfuls soft bread crumbs.
One teaspoonful minced onion.
One teaspoonful salt.
One-eighth teaspoonful pepper.
One-half teaspoonful poultry seasoning.
One-fourth teaspoonful ground sage.
One-half cupful raisins.
Two tablespoonfuls butter.
Three-fourths cupful hot water.

Mix the chopped apples, crumbs, onion, and seasonings; then add raisins cut in pieces. Melt butter in the hot water, and add. This stuffing is good with duck, goose or roast pork.

Sweet Potato Boulettes
Six medium sweet potatoes.
Two teaspoonfuls salt.
One-fourth teaspoonful pepper.
Four tablespoonfuls melted butter or margarine.
Three slices cooked bacon.
Parsley.

Cook the potatoes until tender; rice and mash well. Add the salt, pepper and three tablespoonfuls melted fat. When cool enough to handle, form into round balls two inches in diameter. Sprinkle with the chopped bacon, brush with one tablespoonful melted fat and brown in a moderate oven 375 degrees F. for 12 minutes. Garnish with parsley. Serves six.

Squash Pie
One cupful cooked squash.
One cupful cream.
Three-fourths cupful sugar, white or brown.
Three eggs.
Bread crumbs.
One egg white.
One-half teaspoonful ginger.
One-half teaspoonful nutmeg.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
One-fourth teaspoonful mace.
Three tablespoonfuls vanilla.

To cooked or canned squash which has been put through sieve, add cream and sugar. Beat eggs slightly and add to the squash and cream mixture with vanilla, ginger, nutmeg, salt and mace. Line a pie plate with pastry. Brush pastry with egg-white and sprinkle lightly with bread crumbs. Pour in the squash mixture and bake in hot oven of 450 degrees F. for 10 minutes, then in a slow oven of 320 degrees F. for 30 minutes. This pie is delicious spread with honey and topped with whipped cream. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Broiled Sweetbreads and Pineapple
Three pairs of sweetbreads.
Six pineapple rings.
Three tablespoonfuls butter or margarine.
Two cupfuls mushroom sauce.

Skin and trim sweetbreads after parboiling, dividing each pair. Dip sweetbreads and pineapple rings in melted fat and broil or saute in a frying pan to a golden brown. Arrange a sweetbread on each pineapple ring and serve with mushroom sauce. Before sweetbreads can be used for any purpose, they must first be soaked in cold water for one hour, changing the water two or three times. Then drain and plunge into boiling water to which one tablespoonful of vinegar has been added and cook for 15 minutes. Next drain and place immediately into ice cold water to blanch. Let stand 10 minutes. Wipe dry and chill. Then they are ready to broil, saute, cream or use in any other way desired.

Mushroom Sauce
Two cupfuls mushroom liquor and milk.
Four tablespoonfuls flour.
Dash of pepper.
Slice of onion.
Four tablespoonfuls butter.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
One-half pound mushrooms.

Remove the stems from one-half pound of mushrooms and cook them slowly in two cupfuls of water about 20 minutes. Discard the stems and measure liquor, using it and enough milk to make two cups. Melt the butter in the top of a double boiler and add the flour, salt and pepper. Blend thoroughly. Pour in the cool liquid and still constantly until thick. Cover and cook without stirring 20 minutes. Saute the sliced caps until golden brown in butter and add to the sauce. A slice of onion cooked with the stems improves the flavor. Serves six.

Ginger Pudding
One-fourth cupful shortening.
One-fourth cupful brown sugar.
One egg, well beaten.
One-half cupful sour milk.
One-half cupful molasses.
One teaspoonful ginger.
One and a half cupfuls flour.
One-half teaspoonful soda.
One teaspoonful baking powder.
One-half teaspoonful cinnamon.
One-half teaspoonful salt.

Cream the shortening; add sugar and well-beaten egg. Mix and sift dry ingredients; combine sour milk and molasses and add alternately with flour mixture to the first mixture. Turn into a greased cake pan. Bake in a slow oven of 350 degrees for 45 minutes, or pour into greased individual molds and steam one hour. Serve with foamy sauce. Serves six.

Foamy Sauce
Three tablespoonfuls butter.
Two eggs, separated.
One cupful powdered sugar.
One-half teaspoonful vanilla.
One-half cupful cream, whipped.

Cream the butter and sugar together. Add the well-beaten egg yolks and beat thoroughly over hot water in a double-boiler. Remove from the heat and fold in the stiffly beaten egg-whites, the vanilla and the whipped cream. Serve with hot ginger bread, steamed or baked pudding. Serves six.

Date Muffins
Two and one-half cupfuls flour.
Three tablespoonfuls sugar.
One package dates, chopped fine and floured with one-fourth cupful flour.
One and one-fourth cupfuls milk.
Three tablespoonfuls butter.
One teaspoonful salt.
Four and one-half teaspoonfuls baking powder.
Two eggs.

Sift the dry ingredients together; add milk, beaten egg and melted butter; beat until thoroughly mixed and bake at 425 degrees Fahrenheit. This makes 27 small muffins. These muffins would be delicious if served with the supper menu instead of the sandwiches.

FRUIT AND NUT BREADS

As the weather becomes cooler, the season for parties, luncheons and dinners opens. The question of refreshments is an important one. Many hostesses try to keep on hands things that may be easily and quickly converted into delicious and appetizing eats to be served during the afternoon to callers. The quick fruit and nut breads are easy to make and are a welcome change from plain bread. Many of these breads will keep for several days and grow better in flavor the longer that they are kept—that is, after a reasonable length of days.

They are delicious when served at meals, and are excellent sliced thin or made in sandwiches to serve with a cup of afternoon tea or at a bridge luncheon or after theater party. The fruit breads are liked by children and are good for them.

Loaf breads are made from standard thick or drop batters, therefore, the flour is in the proportion of two cupfuls to one cupful of liquod.

As in practically all flour mixtures, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder are added for each cupful of flour when sweet milk is the liquid. Whenever sour milk or molasses is used instead of sweet milk, one-half teaspoonful of soda is required to neutralize the acid in one cupful of sour milk or molasses. One-half teaspoonful of soda with one cupful of sour milk or molasses is approximately equivalent in lightening power to two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Therefore, the baking powder should be decreased two teaspoonfuls for each half teaspoonful of soda used.

The amount of sugar used may be varied according to taste, to the other ingredients, and to the use that the bread is intended. Some people prefer a sweeter bread than others. If dates, raisins, prunes, or other sweet fruits are used not so much sweetening is required. Then, bread that is to be given to children should not be too sweet, as it is not wise to let children acquire a taste for very sweet things.

Breads may be steamed or baked but are more moist if steamed. One-pound baking powder cans make excellent molds for steamed breads. They should not be filled more than two-thirds full, as the lid may be pushed off if more is used. A covered container makes a desirable steamer. The boiling water should come about half way up on the molds.

When guests are served the following breads, they ask for the recipe, as they are very delicious:

Ripe Olive Bread

Sift 2½ cupfuls of whole-wheat flour with one-half cupful each of graham and bread flour, six teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one teaspoonful of salt. Add two tablespoonfuls of olive oil or other cooking oil or melted shortening and one and one-quarter cupfuls of milk and stir into the dry ingredients. Then fold in one cupful of ripe olives, stoned, sliced lengthwise and thoroughly drained. Add just a whiff of paprika and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees F.—about one hour. Ripe olive is a novelty bread, hailing from California. Serve it cut thin in long, narrow strips, well buttered as a salad accompaniment.

Nut Bread

Sift together two cups of pastry flour with four and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one teaspoonful of salt. Mix with one cup of wholewheat flour and one cup of sugar. Beat one egg until very light, add one cup of milk and turn the dry ingredients into this mixture. Add one and three-fourths cupfuls of chopped nuts and knead lightly to a soft dough. Place in a well-greased brick-shaped bread pan, and let stand for 20 minutes. Bake for an hour at 325 degrees F., or until the loaf is thoroughly baked. (The nuts supply the fat for this bread).

Date Bread

Mix together two cupfuls of pastry flour sifted with one teaspoonful of salt, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder and two cupfuls of Graham flour. Add one cupful of chopped pitted dates, one cupful of broken walnut meats and one-half cupful of light brown sugar. Whip one egg and stir in two cupfuls of milk and add to the dry ingredients. Beat well and turn into a greased bread pan; let stand 10 minutes, then bake in a slow oven, 300 degrees F. about an hour and a quarter, for a full-sized loaf. For "baby size" loaves that make small tea sandwiches, reduce the time.

Honey Bran Bread

Mix together one and one-fourth cupfuls of bran, one and one-fourth cupfuls of wholewheat flour, one and one-fourth cupfuls of pastry flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and two tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar. To these ingredients add one-half cupful each of chopped pitted dates, chopped seedless raisins and broken walnuts. Moisten the mixture with one and one-half cupfuls of sweet milk, mixed with one beaten egg, one tablespoonful of melted shortening and one-half cupful of honey. Beat hard, pour into well-greased shallow bread pan and bake in a moderate oven, 325 degrees F. for one hour, or as much longer as required. Rub the crust over with melted butter when removing from the pans. This bread, spread with quince honey and chopped nut meats makes delicious sandwiches.

Steamed Peanut Bread

Sift together one cupful of cornmeal, white or yellow, and one-half cupful of pastry flour, three-fourths teaspoonful of soda and one teaspoonful of salt. Mix one-half cupful of sweet milk with one cupful of sour milk or buttermilk, one-fourth cupful of molasses and one well-beaten egg, add to the meal mixture and fold in three-fourths cupful of coarsely chopped peanuts. Turn into well-greased pound baking powder tins or small molds, filling only two-thirds full and steam two and one-half hours. Serve hot, sliced very thin and generously buttered; or, when cold, toast and buttered generously.

DIRTY WORK

Prison Guard Robbed of Football Tickets in Jailhouse

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7. (AP)—Even jail is no protection against pickpockets.

Anyone who doubts this should ask James F. Dealy, a guard at the house of correction. Twelve tickets for the Notre Dame-Pennsylvania football game tomorrow were taken from his pocket.

Every prisoner in the place who stood within gunshot of Dealy is under suspicion.

HALL HIGHWAY WORK PUSHED

150 Men Employed on Road Surfacing Project

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 7.—With 150 men at work the new highway being constructed from Memphis to Mulberry bridge, a distance of 25 miles, which will be hard surfaced, the work is progressing rapidly. The first section of the new highway will be opened to traffic within the next two weeks, according to C. L. Hasle, county engineer. The section to be opened enters Memphis on West Noel street and extends about six or seven miles, going beyond Indian creek.

The work on this roadbed is expected to be completed around Feb. 1. The roadbed is beginning to take form throughout the entire distance, and work on the bridges and approaches is in its last stages.

The work on this highway, according to Hasle, is being done principally by men living in Hall county, and the pay roll amounts to between $2,500 and $3,000, which is a substantial help to citizens of this immediate section.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7. (UP)—Four home demonstration agents were named today by the state board of agriculture.

Those named were Billie Grace Pahmeyer, Wagoner county; Babe Herrin, Ottawa county Lula Elizabeth Harris, Comanche county, and Lois Whisler, Nowata county.

Clifton S. Mitchell was named assistant county agent of Okfuskee county.

Olustee Pioneer Finds Formula for Long Life, Health and Happiness

Special to The Record News.

OLUSTEE, Okla., Nov. 7.—A recipe for long life, health and happiness, evolved from 40 years on an Oklahoma farm with wide civic and religious interests added, comes from B. M. Moreau, pioneer farmer, carpenter, and church man of Olustee.

At 71, Mr. Moreau, as active and agile as a man of 50 gives the simple advice: "Keep busy." His record during the past 40 years tells the story of how he has taken his own medicine and with what success.

Mr. and Mrs. Moreau moved from Missouri to Old Frasier in 1890. In the spring of 1891, flood waters covered the little village in water to the depth of four feet. The residents moved about three miles east to the present site of Altus. A few months later, Mr. Moreau bought a farm on Salt Fork, two miles north of Olustee, and moved his family to it. He walked from his farm to Altus daily and did carpenter work and walked back home at night, a distance of 14 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Moreau are still living on the first farm they bought and their home is modern in every respect. They now own 700 acres of land, which they bought as they prospered. They own valuable city property in Altus. In fact Mr. Moreau has been one of the most successful farmers in the Olustee district.

In 1903, he organized the First Baptist church at Olustee in his own home with less than a dozen members. Later he helped to build the First Baptist church of the town, and has always been a loyal member and served as a church official.

In the spring of 1930, he was overseer in repairing and modernizing the pastor's home and was usually the first man on the job every morning. His regular rising hour, rain or shine, is 5 o'clock, and in his earlier farming days it was 4 o'clock.

Mr. Moreau's side line is cows and chickens and his regularity in feeding and milking gives interesting results.

Mr. and Mrs. Moreau have reared four boys, all live near him. J. M. Moreau, druggist at Olustee, W. A. Moreau, Floyd and Ira are successful farmers. All of the boys are married and own their own homes. Ira Moreau, the youngest son, is serving his second term as member of the school board. All four take an active interest in community work.

Negro Held After Fatal Affray Near Grandfield

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 7.—Elson Kidd, negro, is in the county jail and Tom Burton, another negro, 45, is dead, following a fight which took place between the two about 10:30 Sunday night on the Sutherland farm near Grandfield over possession of some coal oil. When given a preliminary hearing at Grandfield before J. M. Taylor, justice of the peace, Kidd entered a plea of guilty. It is expected he will change this to a plea of not guilty when arraigned before Frank Mathews, district judge, who will hold court here next week. Kidd is reported to have said the shooting was in self-defense.

While attempting to separate the combatants, Tom Carter, a third negro, was stabbed. His wound is not believed to be serious and he is being held as a witness.

The FRYING PAN asks a favor . . .

"Give me a chance to do my best work for you. Give me the opportunity you have given my friend, the cake-pan. I can fry food wonderfully good-to-eat, if you'll give me the right things to work with.

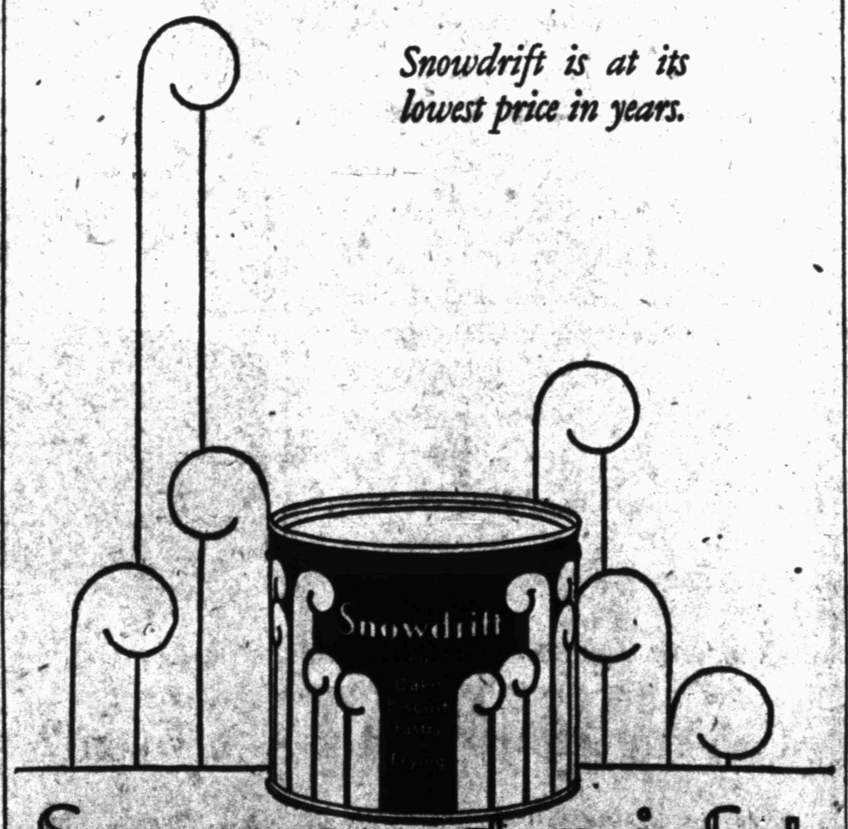

"For instance, you use the best ingredients when you make a cake . . . fresh eggs, rich milk, Snowdrift. But you are likely to use almost anything, even drippings, for frying. Then the frying pan is blamed when you don't like the taste. Whatever you use for frying makes the crust, the best part of fried food. So the crust and the flavor can be only as good as whatever made it. Let me fry with Snowdrift."

Because nothing can be too good to come to your table as the crust of fried food, the Wesson Oil people make Snowdrift of an oil as choice as fine salad oil . . . free of all animal fats. It's brought to you sealed in air-tight cans, so it keeps fresh and sweet. Snowdrift is pure-white and appetizing when you put it into the frying pan . . . and it's every bit as pure as it looks.

You know that one of the secrets of good frying is to "fry hot." Many fats smoke and burn before they are hot enough. Snowdrift helps you by heating easily to the right temperature for perfect frying.

Snowdrift is at its lowest price in years.

FOOD SHOW TO OPEN TODAY

Display Arranged at Store Of C. H. Parker

A food show and carnival will be held all day Saturday at Parker's No. 1 store, 500 Indiana avenue. The show is being conducted by the General Foods Sales company, distributors of several nationally advertised lines of food products.

Manager Allen Bilbrey planned the event as a celebration of the remodeling and expansion of the store. The improvements have just been completed and the area of the store doubled in size. The store now has 4,000 square feet of floor space.

The show opens at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. Hot waffles with Log Cabin brand maple syrup and Maxwell House coffee will be served free from that hour until 10 o'clock. During the entire day Wilson certified ham with Merchants biscuits and crackers will be served with both Maxwell House and Sanka (no caffeine) coffees, also Jello with whipped cream and Minute Tapioca pudding.

The store will have souvenirs to give away and upon request recipe books will be given free, says Welch Morgan, superintendent of the Parker stores.

The history of C. H. Parker, founder of the stores and now president of the Wichita Wholesale Grocery company, is very interesting. Mr. Parker came to Wichita Falls 22 years ago from Denton and his first job was with a pick and shovel in digging ditches for the Clayco Oil and Pipe Line company, which concern was laying the first natural gas line in Wichita Falls to supply domestic gas from the Petrolia field. Mr. Parker's boss on the job was Stribling Moore, who is yet a citizen of Wichita Falls. Parker got $1.25 for a 10-hour day.

After the gas lines were laid in Wichita Falls Mr. Parker got a job as connection foreman with the company when the 16-inch gas line was laid to Fort Worth from Petrolia. He made all field connections and bossed the connection work on the big line as far east as Bowie.

Returns in 1917

After finishing the pipe line work Mr. Parker engaged in the construction business. He built the Fourth street viaduct under the railroad tracks, which required a year's time. Following this work he bid in several miles of dirt work on the Northwestern railroad. From this job he went to Dodge City, Kan., and did the grading for the Dodge City and Cimmaron Valley railroad. Finishing this contract he moved his outfit to Paul's Valley, Okla., and for four years did grading work for the Santa Fe.

Mr. Parker and his family lived in a tent for eight years during the time he was a railroad dirt contractor. Four of his children spent their baby days in tents.

In 1917 Mr. Parker returned to Wichita Falls and opened a grocery store at 611 Indiana. From that store he has expanded until today he has 15 stores. Seven are in Wichita Falls and the others in Electra, Holliday, Archer City, Burkburnett, Charlie, Henrietta and Nocona. Forty-seven men are given employment.

The wholesale store in Wichita Falls keeps in stock from 50 to 60 carloads of food stuffs. The wholesale house has a floor area of 75 by 150 feet. There are cold storage vaults with a capacity of eight carloads.

The wholesale department does a large business with merchants in the Wichita Falls trade area. The firm specializes in nationally advertised food products.

Another interesting part of this story is that it was Welch Morgan who delivered the first basket of groceries to the Parker home when the family came from Denton. Mr. Morgan is part owner with Mr. Parker in the No. 1 store, and superintendent of all the Parker stores.

Husband Held After Woman Dies of Burns

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 7 (UP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Swavely died in City hospital today from burns which she said were inflicted by her husband, Howard, who wanted to collect $2,000 insurance on her life. Swavely was charged with murder after his wife died.

STAMFORD HOST TO ECO CLUBS

District Assembly Called for Friday

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Nov. 7.—The district meeting of the Home Economics club will be held here Friday since Stamford was the place designated for such meetings when the state contest in clothing was held in Houston last year. Schools represented in this meeting will include Jayton, Swenson, Aspermont, Knox City, Munday, Haskell, Rule, Anson, Hamlin, Sylvester, Sweetwater, Roby, Rotan, Snyder, Colorado, Throckmorton, Seymour and Blackwell.

The local work in home economics is conducted in a model cottage of red brick where practical projects can be successfully carried out. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. H. K. Lankford and Miss Ethel Rowell, teachers of this phase of the work, the "Home Eckers" club has been organized, with the following officers: Pauline Thompson, president; Julia Harver, vice president; Evelyn Bushell, secretary-treasurer; Willie Marie Lyone, reporter, and Lois Kinney, parliamentarian.

Bears are nearly all left-handed. A wild bear will practicaly always throw its weight on the right paw and work with its left.

The committee desires those who may be overlooked to sign and mail in the pledge card that is appearing daily in The Record News and Daily Times.

Wichitan Testifies In Dallas Murder Case

DALLAS, Nov. 7. (AP)—Testimony intended to prove that Jack Daugherty, who was shot to death in a card room here Feb. 27, had the reputation of being an overbearing "man-about-town" who enforced his will with knives and pistols, was given by defense witnesses today in the murder trial of Sam Correnti, charged with Daugherty's death.

Judge Grover C. Adams ordered a session for tonight.

H. McDowell, checker for a rent car company, testified that at one time he hit Daugherty over the head with a piece of iron after he had been threatened with a knife.

R. B. Stephens of Wichita Falls, traveling salesman, said he heard Daugherty threaten to cut Correnti.

Testimony of a similar nature was given by several other witnesses.

Greatest Crowd In Civic History Of City Pledges Wichita Business Revival

quently, I'm afraid we have gone into some of the neighboring communities crying 'the old town ain't what she used to be.' I say she is. But some of us may not be what we used to be, or ought to be."

Other Cities Envy Wichita Falls

Referring to his campaigns over the entire state during the past several months, the new attorney general said:

"I had not been on the road long when I realized that being from Wichita Falls—of Wichita Falls—was a considerable asset to me in my campaign. Folks elsewhere in the state hold this city in high regard. They envy you your residence here, the opportunities you have, the potential assets Wichita Falls has—and your good ball team. One of our sad mistakes has been to tell important communities in our territory that things have gone all wrong with us. I remember when Saturday was the big horse-trading day in Bowie, where I was raised; but I can't remember any horse-trader ever trying to drive a long bargain by telling his prospect dolefully that old Dobbin was in a bad way with the heaves."

Eulogizing the advantages enjoyed by this city for continued growth because of the territory which it serves, Mr. Allred concluded: "I think we ought to go out into every community telling them what we feel in our own hearts: that Wichita Falls is the best city on God's earth in which to live; that better values can be had here now in real estate or in portable merchandise than ever was offered here before, than can be found elsewhere, or than will be offered here again in the future, in all probability."

Friday night's meeting, held for the purpose of crystallizing determined sentiment for better financial conditions, was characterized by W. B. Hamilton as typical of a new age in human relationships.

"We are living now in a new era," he said, "because we are now thinking as a mob. Collective thought ony any issue formerly was limited quite largely to a given community. Mass thinking has resulted quickly and naturally from the perfection of easy communication; we read newspapers by which the world's news is instantly received; we listen to the same radio programs of entertainment and education; travel has become easy, and general. In times past, a break down of market values, a depression, probably would have been much more local. But our depression of the past two years resulted directly from the fact that when one community developed hard times, it became immediately general. Everybody quit spending money at the same time."

Small Jobs Needed

Viciousness and fear are holding the American people back from large scale investment to a large degree, in remembrance of a 1929 stock market crash, Mr. Hamilton said, but he declared that tremendous improvement in the local condition may be effected by doing work which is limited strictly to our own city.

"There are many little jobs about our homes that have needed doing for a long time," he said, "but we have put it off, always to a 'better time.' You never have, and never will have, gotten more for your dollar than you can get now. Now is the time to turn loose what dollars you have to spend—and turn it loose in such a way that it will provide employment for some workman here in Wichita Falls. Repairs to your house, building of the home garage, putting in of pavement and driveways, and other similar items of improvement are exactly what unemployed workmen here are seeking, rather than donations."

Declaring that he did not approve putting men on a city pay roll only that they might nominally be listed as employed, Mr. Hamilton declared that such enlistment of men should be for the purpose of prosecuting real and needed community improvements.

"Nor am I afraid of a bond issue for water improvements, right now," he exclaimed. "I think this community would get under such a proposition, despite our talk of hard times, and do a real bit of constructive work while providing needed employment for many men."

Urging that tentative property exchanges be consummated by those concerned now, rather than waiting for "better values," Mr. Hamilton declared:

Don't Wait Too Long

"There are always, in every city, those barnacles and parasites who sit around waiting to pick up property into which some valuable citizen may have put so much money that for the time he is crowded, and depend upon getting it from him at a steal-price. I say, if there's a piece of ground in this town you want, and need, buy it now: don't wait. You'll never get better values. If you wait, expecting still lower prices to be forced upon the present owner, I hope to Heaven you never get it."

Outlining the results thus far obtained by the Better Business committee in the way of assuring employment for residents here during the coming months, Mr. Hamilton said that pledges calling for the expenditure of $56,039.52 for property repairs, etc., have been received by the committee from local citizens within the past few days. Besides that bulk of work, he continued, improvements amounting to about $45,000 are to be made at once by the city, making a total of more than $100,000 to be spent here directly to workmen all over the city. Later it was announced the Cities Service company would spend $45,000.

Pointing to other projects which will represent employment for a large number of men over an extended period, Mr. Hamilton mentioned the new federal building recently provided for by congressional appropriation. The structure will cost $650,000, according to specifications already announced, and its erection will employ local labor to the maximum degree. Incident to preparing the site at Tenth and Lamar for that building, the old First Methodist church building is to be torn down, it was said, in the near future, and architects were set to work Friday drawing plans for a new $125,000 educational department building to be erected by the First Methodist church at Eleventh and Travis. All told, Mr. Hamilton pointed out, small and large projects already assured which will provide employment for working men amount to almost $1,000,000.

"About other current developments," he continued, "I can only say here that there are written options taken recently on downtown property which promise extensive employment-producing activities in the near future."

The oil industry, a "key-industry" in Wichita Falls during the past 20 years, was discussed in its present phases by Joe S. Bridwell, president of the chamber of commerce, and one of the pioneer independent producers in this area.

"Urged to be optimistic in this talk," Mr. Bridwell said, "I had purposed definitely to carry out that instruction to the best of my imagination. This committee seated me tonight, however, alongside the pastor of my church here on this platform, and I have had to formulate a new speech, more closely related to fact than that which was in my mind."

Oil Industry's Outlook

Importance of the oil industry to Wichita Falls today, despite proration and low prices, was outlined by Mr. Bridwell.

"More than any other oil field of which I have ever heard," he said, "the Wichita Falls fields truly represent a perpetual production of oil. We are now running about 72,000 barrels daily. This territory, consisting of eight counties, has been producing about $50,000,000 annually in recent years.

"In September, these eight counties sold 64,800 barrels of oil. That represents one-tenth of Texas' production, and one-fortieth of the nation's production. This is a permanent asset, one which will bless your children, and their children, as well as go far toward caring for you safely in this present crisis.

"Besides that, there are more than $3,000,000 being paid out annually in this district by local oil companies and producers—companies having refineries attached to their business—for their help. I checked up purposely for this meeting, to find that one company here had a pay roll of $73,000 in October. Another paid out $66,000 in wages and salaries. Another, $38,000. It would surprise you to number the oil men and oil companies which have monthly pay rolls here of more than $5,000 each. Now that is an asset not to be sneezed at by any city."

Mr. Bridwell made a plea to those who have such pay rolls not to turn men off in case even further curtailment becomes necessary. Division of work so that all employes could be retained, even at reduced wages if inevitable, was urged in preference to placing a man on the list of unemployed.

"Wichita Falls and her territory has more independent oil producers than any other oil community in the world," Mr. Bridwell continued. "With more than 500 independent producers, 2,600 producing wells, this community has a tremendous industry. It is now on its back, and can only look up. But it will work itself into a more prosperous condition eventually."

It is folly, Mr. Bridwell said, to talk of urging the public to consume more petroleum products, merely to use up an over supply.

"The production of oil must be brought down to consumption needs, instead of asking the public to increase its consumption above what it actually needs."

Walter D. Cline's remarks upon "Buy It Now" were interspersed with humorous jibes and tart phrases, to the obvious enjoyment of his audience.

"You folks are now in for a lot of wholesome advice about nothing," he opened. "And most of it will be worth it. At such a meeting as this, someone by all means should be permitted to repeat that old axiom which says that you always get out of anything just what you put into it. But I shall not use that saying, for it is not so — it doesn't apply to slot machines or the 1929 stock market.

Investments Urged

"I am going to admit freely," continued Mr. Cline, "that these have been hard times. Experience and responsibility make conservatives of us all. For that reason, much of the space in this 'nigher heaven' we have been occupying around here for about 10 years is now for rent. We are ready to admit that something is at least a little bit wrong economically somewhere, and to insist that economic ills cannot be remedied by conversation."

The question for each citizen to ask himself, said Mr. Cline, in connection with the present community-wide campaign to improve business conditions, is "What Can I Do About It?"

"I am supposed to tell you something about 'Buy It Now'," he continued, "but I want you to know that in beginning that discussion, I exclude part of this audience. I shall have nothing to say on this subject to those of you who may have, like myself, nothing to spend; nor to you who have a little bit laid by for a Christmas at home; or a little reserve for a rainy day; or a little pile in the building and loan association, or in the savings bank. That part of this audience is excluded. I am talking to those who have money available for investment purposes, and there are a considerable number of such folks here. You could invest some of that money now with everisastingly good effect. I wouldn't recommend that you put all of it in dry oil holes. But I would suggest that you try some industrial development here.

Marlow Recalls Old Times

"There's another trade I'd like to see made," Mr. Cline said. "I believe there are hundreds of persons in this city tonight who are more or less worried to know whether or not they are to have their jobs through the coming winter, and year. Who don't feel positive that their jobs and incomes are secure. People can not spend money freely unless they know that so long as they do satisfactory work, they will be continued in their work at their present salaries. I verily believe that if you who employ people to work for you would declare yourselves frankly to them, with assurances such as I have suggested, it would do worlds for your business. My conviction is that the present situation can be answered by deciding that it is not so much the wolfishness of the wolves as it is the sheepishness of us sheep."

Reminiscences of early incidents in the city's history featured a talk by J. B. Marlow on "Chamber of Commerce History" in the city.

"I can't remember just when we first organized," he said, "but I can remember that whenever we decided a proposition ought to be put over, we put it over without loss of time. And that's more, maybe, than the organization could say of its 10 year period prior to 1930. What we need today is for every man to get his shoulder to the wheel, and if he can't pull, get behind and push."

Mr. Marlow paid a tribute to John Boswell, general manager of the chamber of comerce since the first of this year, declaring him "one of the biggest chamber of commerce executives in the entire state of Texas."

J. C. Mytinger, chairman of the Better Business committee, which arranged the mass meeting, presided as chairman. During the course of the evening telegrams were read from a number of prominent citizens of the state, commending the movement under way here, and pledging all possible aid from such sources to its successful completion.

Many Messages

Among those from whom messages were received were J. A. Kemp of this city, detained because of illness in Austin; S. E. Hickman, mayor of Altus, Okla.; Charles S. Richardson, mayor of Olney; George A. Sager, mayor of Quanah; Ed J. Williams, president of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce; James W. Knox of Jacksboro; J. C. Watson, secretary of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce; John Z. Martin, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Breckenridge; Finley McLaury, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Snyder, Okla.; A. J. Duncan, president of the Texas Electric Service company, Fort Worth; John W. Carpenter, executive vice president of the Texas Electric Service company; and L. G. Hawkins, Vernon.

Enthusiasm which featured the entire program Friday night marked the down-town parade which preceded the mass meeting. Heralded by a corps of motorcycle officers with screaming sirens, members of the fire department marked the line of march in the business district by planting red flares at street intersections. Residents of the city were reminded further of the event scheduled for 7:30 at the Memorial auditorium by a resounding blast from factory and railroad whistles.

Following Paul Seeds' Caballeros, several hundred persons, including many women, fell into the line of march as it formed in the business streets. Seemingly by instinct, or by vivid recollection of wartime scenes, the marchers formed a column of squads, individuals four-abreast, with almost military precision in alignment and movement. Increasing in numbers as it moved toward the auditorium, the parade was mightily augmented at the Panhandle building, Seventh and Travis, where a large corps of Panhandle employes, carrying a large banner, joined the column in a body.

In the meantime, their entrance stimulated by a concert of martial music delivered from the front of the auditorium by the Lions Club Boys' band, approximately 3,000 persons had found seats inside the building. With the arrival of the marching body from downtown, the room was suddenly filled almost to capacity. Within a few minutes after the program opened, every seat in the auditorium was filled, and at least 300 more persons were seated on the platform or standing at the rear. Fully 1,000, according to those in charge, were turned away for lack of seating accommodations, and returned to their homes to get the program by radio. Station KGKO placed its microphone at the speaker's table at 8:15, and placed the remainder of the platform program on the air by remote control.

Pep Squad Seats Crowd

Conspicuous among the delegations participating in the rally, a 20-piece negro band made up of local colored musicians accompanied the parade to the auditorium, took its place in the balcony, and furnished several selections before and after the program given from the stage.

Members of the high school pep squad, brilliant in scarlet dresses, acted as ushers, and seated with remarkable dispatch the largest crowd housed in the city's auditorium since its completion. They were directed by Misses Davida Olinger and Fay Rackley.

Out-of-town business men known to have been present were F. L. Aulich, Bellevue; W. T. McNeill, J. F. Wetsel, L. B. Moore, Bellevue; Mack Boswell, H. E. Ferguson, B. W. Self, Dr. R. L. Kincaid, T. B. Kelpepper, Crowell; F. D. Brock, Donald Mann, J. A. Brite, O. W. Watson, Bowie; John P. Fleming, Archer City; N. T. Gaines, mayor, Bellevue; W. G. Medlock, mayor of Grandfield, Okla.; R. L. Wichell, G. H. Wearer, C. M. Stamford, H. N. Patterson, Grandfield; F. E. Hill, J. C. Searle, Iowa Park; R. S. Cox, C. W. Scheurer, W. R. Skinner, J. L. Chowning, W. L. Horn, Robert P. Hall, Electra; Grady Bell, Archer City; Grady Shipp, Vernon.

Associated with Mr. Mytinger on the committee in charge of the meeting were Burton Stayton, Roscoe Staton, Harry Gray, and Lester Jones.

KEMP WIRES

Pioneer Builder Tells Of Faith in City And People

J. C. Mytinger,
Chairman, Better Business meeting Wichita Falls.

It is with keen regret that I am not strong enough to be with you tonight. Our citizenship should take the opportunity at this meeting to reassure themselves that business conditions in Wichita Falls are no worse than in many cities of the country.

No one of us dreamed 30 years ago that Wichita Falls could boast of so many resources and opportunities as we have since come to know. Certainly now no sane one of us believes that these resources and opportunities are more than barely realized. The greatest asset that we have ever had is our citizenship. We need only put our shoulders to the wheel now as we have done in the past. I join with you all in again expressing my sincerest faith in our city, and in the return of brighter days.

J. A. KEMP.

DUNCAN'S TELEGRAM

We are with you in your plan to improve business conditions in your community. We have every faith in Wichita Falls and its trade territory and our company will in the future as in the past do our share to improve your community.

A. J. DUNCAN,
President Texas Electric Service company.

HARD TO BELIEVE

If YOU'VE been using ordinary household soaps in hard water you probably won't believe how little hard water means to White King. Rich, creamy suds, thorough cleansing and swift rinsing—you can have all these no matter how hard the water may be.

White King Granulated Soap is made from pure vegetable and nut oils good enough to eat. That's the reason. Its purity makes it safe for the filmiest silken lingerie, effective for the heaviest blankets, kind to the most tender hands. It contains no "filler" to yellow your white goods. It's the one soap that solves every household washing problem.

Try White King today. Its economy will surprise you. A teaspoonful is plenty for the wash basin, a cupful ample for the washing machine. At your grocer's.

Credit Men From Sixty West Texas Counties Meet in Quanah Monday

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Nov. 7.—Credit bureau secretaries and workers who assemble here Monday, Nov. 10, in the regular quarterly meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Credit Bureau Secretaries association will carry out a program of varied topics covering operation and working methods of a modern retail merchants association. The program for each meeting is made up by the local organization of the host city, and the Quanah Retail Merchants association has completed assignments for the following program:

Registration from 9:30 to 10 a. m. at council rooms, city hall; call to order by Mrs. Daisy E. Burton, vice president, Quanah; welcome to Quanah, Mayor T. D. Frizzell. "How to Secure Finance, Insurance and Other Outside Reporting," C. C. Powell Clarendon; "Why Our Bureau Operates a Collection Department," C. C. Bishop, Wellington; "Benefits of Prompt Pay Campaign," J. K. Crews, Matador; "Co-operation Between Employer, Bureau and Employe," P. W. Campbell, general offices, West Texas Utilities Company, Abilene; "Plans for Building and Keeping Up Membership Under Present Conditions," M. Y. Lewis, Childress; Round Table Discussion on Above; 12:15—luncheon and program at Quanah hotel as guests of Quanah Retail Merchants association.

Luncheon Program

Features of the luncheon program will include singsong led by Elvin W. Watkins, who broadcasts each Sunday over station KGKO at Wichita Falls; a reading by Rev. C. W. Foote, pastor of First Methodist church, Quanah; and under the heading "What Co-operation With the Credit Bureau Meant in Dollars and Cents." Geo. A. Sager, secretary Quanah Chamber of Commerce, former secretary retail merchants association and chamber of commerce of Memphis, Texas, will give a short talk, which will be followed by "Testimonials" by the visiting secretaries and merchant members of Quanah R. M. A. These will be one minute examples of actual sums of money made through co-operation with credit bureaus.

The afternoon session will open at 1:45 o'clock with "What the Small Town Merchant Expects of a Credit Bureau" by a member of Quanah R. M. A.; followed by report of state secretaries school, San Antonio, Oct. 20-21, prepared by C. E. Dinkle, secretary of retail merchants association, Greenville, and past president of Texas Retail Credit Bureaus, Inc. This report will be generally discussed along with the new constitution of the Texas Retail Credit Bureaus, Inc., which is to be submitted to the joint meeting of retail merchants, retail credit men and secretaries to be held in Lubbock in May, 1931.

The "Efficiency Certificate" and questionnaire quiz and round table discussion will be led by John W. Thomas, manager Wichita Falls Retail Merchants association. Adjournment at 4:15.

The district covered by this association includes about 60 counties in Panhandle-Plains section of West Texas.

LIQUOR 'RING' HEARING HELD

20 of 29 Tillman Suspects Plead Not Guilty

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7. (AP)—Twenty of the 29 persons indicted for conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws in Tillman and surrounding counties, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in federal district court here today.

Several demurrers to the federal grand jury indictments were sought but Judge Edgar S. Vaught delayed action until attorneys file their formal applications, probably tomorrow.

J. B. Dudley, attorney for P. V. Ruch, Tillman county attorney indicted in connection with the alleged Tillman county protection ring, said the indictment was vague and uncertain and that he and his associates were unable to determine on what they must base their defense.

Judge Vaught indicated he will order Herbert K. Hyde, assistant United States attorney in charge of prosecution to file a bill of particulars setting out in greater detail two allegations that money was paid by bootleggers to officials.

TASTY CEREAL HELPS STOP CONSTIPATION

DID YOU know that you can overcome constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal each day? Read this enthusiastic letter from Mrs. Kiell:

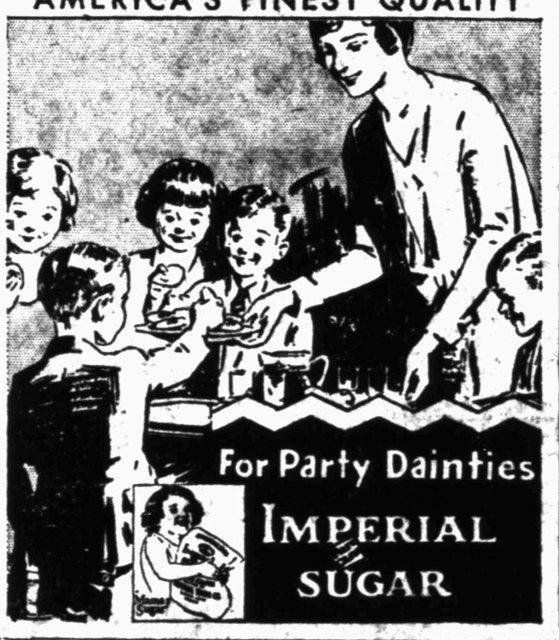

"I have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a sure-cure for constipation, and know it is a remarkable regulator for the stomach. After using it my family and I certainly will not be without it. I have even gone so far as to send some of it to my mother in Poland, Europe." Mrs. Anna Kiell, 77 Wolcott Terrace, Newark, N. J.

How easy to prevent constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoonfuls daily. In stubborn cases, serve with each meal. Do this and banish pills and drugs from your life.

Delicious with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Cook into bran muffins, breads, omelets, etc. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also adds needed iron to the diet. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Ask An Old-Timer....

"Away back when I was a boy, some of the fine stores in this city today were in existence, yes, even then. Wichita Falls has become considerably bigger since then ... and I can say sincerely that among the men who helped it grow were ... and are ... the independent grocers. Back in '97 when money was scarce they were glad to carry over a lot of "poor accounts' until better times. Later, when such movements as the Community Chest were organized, the merchants contributed most generously. Now ... after the city has been developed, in step the chains ... to take what they can ... to give nothing in return. I trade with home-town boosters, and won't touch 'em!"

MAGNOLIA GASOLINE — SOCONY MOTOR OIL

5 reasons for changing today to the new SOCONY MOTOR OIL

1. Perfected Lubrication ... Refined by the new and exclusive Socony process, which gives additional lubricating value, the new Socony reduces wear on your motor.

2. Easy Starting in Coldest Weather ... It will flow more freely at zero temperature than asphalt base oils do that have the same consistency at like atmospheric or operating temperature.

3. Fuel Economy and Increased Power ... Maintains proper "body" at all engine temperatures. Result: perfect piston seal, maximum power and minimum fuel consumption.

4. A Clean Motor ... A minimum of sludge and carbon, insuring more oil and a clean motor.

5. Minimum Oil Consumption ... No engine heat or pressure severe enough to break this new oil. Gives 25% to 50% greater mileage, with subsequent saving in money.

Beebe's Useless Work
It Keeps Him Busy
A Restless World
Listing the Great Women

By EMILE GAUREAU

"I am proud to say that my work is of no practical value," declares Dr. William Beebe, scientist, home from Bermuda with 150,000 specimens of fish and crustacean, many new to science. It keeps him busy.

Work that has no practical value had better be left undone. The discredited slogan, "art for art's sake," must not be allowed to revive in "science for science's sake." Even Einstein, the most highly imaginative theorist in the world, always looks to the practical application of his concepts.

This restless world is undergoing a subtle change. For better or worse, no one knows. It hardly had time to recover from turbulence in Argentina when revolution broke out in Brazil. Now, while a semblance of order seems to be established there, revolution breaks out in Greece. Curiously, these revolutions are aimed, not at overthrowing a despotic form of government, but rather at restoring it in the form of a dictatorship, oligarchy or monarchy.

Albania tried republicanism after the war, abandoned it and is now a kingdom. The republicanism of Germany hangs on a thread. Russia is more czaristic today, as a Communistic state, than under the regime of Nicholas. A weak government today is no government at all. Italy proves it is better to have a despot at the helm than a weakling.

The lists of the modern great seem to be without end. Ambassador Gerard started something when he gave us his roster of the "nation's rulers." Dr. Wise follows with a list of the most significant preachers. Miss Ida Tarbell names 50 of the country's foremost women. A popular magazine boils down her list to 12.

Now comes Professor Pitkin and limits the great women of the world to 10, omitting, to the consternation of many, in this decalog, such names as Dr. Annie Jump Cannon, Lillian Wald, Margaret Sanger, Rose Livingston, Prof. Alice Hamilton.

It must be confessed, however, that any list of the world's really great women could be boiled down further. It could be limited to three: Mme. Curie, Helen Keller, Jane Addams.

Art, too, has its rackets and racketeers. Fake antiques and fake antique dealers have not only public for years, but beat the entry tax besides.

Under the existing tariff laws, anything is an antique which was made prior to 1830. Antiques are admitted free. Consequently, few things come out of Europe in the way of furniture and paintings that have not a century-old look to them.

Treasury officials at Washington, waking up to the racket, have decided to check the flow into the United States of spurious "masterpieces." Expert examiners will be stationed at the principal ports to bar these "modern antiques" from crashing the gates as the real thing.

There is a racket in almost everything.

The virtue of the annual Nobel prize is that it brings into the focus of world interest persons who would otherwise be unknown to the general public.

To the man in the street the name of a New York doctor, Karl Landsteiner, winner of the 1930 Nobel prize in medicine, was unfamiliar until today. The recognition of his contributions in bacteriology and pathology is well deserved.

The British government is considering several plans to increase the consumption of oil fuel made from coal, including a proposed increase in its use by the navy.

A Voyage of Discovery

A MICHIGAN LIBRARIAN is getting ready to take a long series of canoe trips in which he will cover the famous voyages of Father Marquette, who made his way into the Great Lakes region when everything west of Quebec was a howling wilderness. His jaunt will take him from Quebec to Sault Ste. Marie, by way of the St. Lawrence, Ottawa and French rivers, Georgian bay on Lake Huron and the St. Mary's river to the Soo. He plans to spend five summers at it.

It is hard to imagine a much pleasanter task to set one's self. But like all real travelers, this librarian has an intangible goal which is more important than the visible one. He wants to duplicate Father Marquette's experiences, as far as possible; he explains himself as follows:

"It is to get something of the feeling those early explorers had and to learn something of what they were up against that I have determined to follow their route by canoe."

This, of course, makes it much more interesting; but one would like to talk to the man five years from now, when he has completed his long trip, and ask him if he really succeeded in recapturing that lost sense of daring, discovery and lofty purpose that sent the Jesuits into the Canadian interior.

A feeling like that is hard to regain in this age. Historic Sault Ste. Marie is not quite what it was in Marquette's day, nor is the Ottawa river the avenue of lurking death it was then. Any Indians this man meets will be wearing store clothes, and neither starvation nor death at the stake are apt to prove very immediate dangers. It is just possible that this canoeist is in for a little disappointment.

Just the same, the effort is worth making. The life that Father Marquette and his confrerers lived was more dangerous and uncomfortable than ours, by an almost unimaginable margin; but it must have been, in many ways, a great deal more satisfying. Like us, those men had immortal souls; the difference is that they knew it, and we often forget it. They were able to get into their lives the feeling that the Creator of the world was in a sense depending on their efforts, and they surrounded themselves with an air of wonder and terror. If, now and then, one or another of them was tortured to death by naked savages, was it too high a price to pay?

The one great defect of modern life is that it has robbed us of the chance to get into that atmosphere except through books. Let's hope that this chap in the canoe has better luck than most of us.

Taken by and Large

FROM the lips of zealous Laertes, in Shakespeare's "Hamlet," youthful Horatio learned that "there are more things in heaven and earth than had been dreamed of in his philosophy." Reversing the statement for application to a modern situation, it may be quite as true that there is more philosophy involved in this country's present "better business campaign" than we take time to think of in our activity.

To such as may decry the existence, or the need, of humanitarian and spiritual elements in the onward movement of civilization, the present spectacle of a nation trying to lift its economic self by its bootstraps should contain a striking refutation of their theories. Those disciples of an uncompromising "survival of the fittest"; of an absolute reign of heartless competition, should find the vision to witness now the damages wrought when any pendulum governing human welfare swings excessively to either side of a satisfactory mean.

Thousands of communities are organized today, as is our own city, for the purpose of dispelling "business depression!" Mass meetings are being held; sensational parades are being staged; exhortations are being eloquently delivered—all efforts of a 1930 civilization to untangle knots of its own enactment. Ills whose development was as certain as the morrow's sun are recognized and deplored as though their occurrence had never been dreamed of, and the aroused citizenry now hurls itself heroically at an imprisoning wall of its own erection.

Efforts at relief are as commendable as they are necessary; they will alleviate distressing conditions to some extent. But is there not dire need for more emphasis upon social principles which will make less probable a recurrence of the evil against which we fight?

Michigan Leads the Way

ROAD CONTRACTORS in Michigan reduced the wages of laborers to 20 and 25 cents an hour. Governor Fred W. Green and members of the highway committee of the state administration board held a session and fixed a minimum wage of 35 cents an hour to laborers on all highway projects and directed that all contracts awarded in the future contain this specification. Governor Green declared that the wage paid by the road contractors was not a living wage. Another significant sidelight of the ecomonic depression was the action of the Hudson Motor Car company of Detroit adopting the five-day working week as a fixed employment policy and placed its plants on that basis. A pathetic moan came from the capital of the nation in a message from Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, in charge of the woman's section of President Hoover's emergency employment committee. Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the children's bureau of the United States government, urged "a speeding up of relief, saying we must get the children out of the bread lines and no child must suffer in the United States." Textile mills in the Carolinas are running full time after an idle summer and railroad shops in many states have recalled their employes who were idle during the summer months. History repeats itself. Depressions come. They linger a while. When the pinching process is over, normal conditions (as they are called) return.

HEARTBREAK GIRL

By ROB EDEN

Gail Stuart, befriended by Nick Walther after she has hitch-hiked to Hollywood, fails to get into the movies. She works as secretary to Carla Cross, the star, and by means of a "white lie" gets a job for Ross Hardy, her fiance, as Carla's leading man. Fame turns his head, and he falls in love with Carla. Gail breaks their engagement. Nick takes Gail to dinner and proposes to her. She tells him she still loves Ross. Carla, hearing of the dinner engagement, is furious and discharges Gail. Ross, who is living far beyond his means, refuses to help her get a job in his picture. She meets Rita Billings, Carla's former secretary, who gets her a job working in a department store. Sarah Morton, a former star trying to make a comeback, runs into Gail and invites her to visit her.

CHAPTER XXVIII

Sarah hadn't come in yet when Gail reached her apartment. A trim maid led the girl into the living room, where she was to wait. Miss Morton had had a call from the studio at five, but she would be back for dinner.

The apartment was not large. Gail could see that. Five rooms, simply furnished. None of the luxuries that Sarah had had while she was famous. The rooms, in fact, seemed ascetic after the plush and soft rugs of Carla's house, which had been Sarah's before it had been Carla's. Through the French doors Gail could see the dining room, a table set for two people.

Dinner Excellent

Sarah came in at 7:30, apologizing for being late. She had been called to a conference at the studio, she said, and it had lasted longer than she had thought it would.

The dinner was excellent, served by the same maid who had let Gail in. Her only one, Sarah said.

"I'm afraid our friend, Ross Hardy, isn't going to be so pleasant on this picture," Sarah remarked when they were back in the living room. "He's getting temperamental. Clara fed him some blah about the story—said it wasn't worthy of him, so he wanted Max to change it. After the casting had been done and everything. That's what the conference was about. Max squelched Ross, so the picture is to go on, thank goodness. I thought at first it would be shelved.

"His success is going to his head. Too bad because he's a nice boy and will go far if he is careful. Wanted Carla in on the conference this afternoon, but Max said no. So Ross had to be content."

"Is he still going around with Carla?" Gail asked. She hated to be inquisitive, but she wanted to know more about Ross.

"Oh, yes. Madly in love with her. Mentions her name every two minutes. Carla this and Carla that."

"And Carla? Is she in love with him?

"Carla? I doubt it. Carla is never in love with anyone."

"What else do you hear about Ross?"

"Oh, lots of things. Everybody's talking about him. There's studio gossip, too, that isn't as pleasant as his fan gossip."

"What do you mean?"

"Ross wants more money. He's getting $200 a week, you know, and says it isn't enough. That Weber's took advantage of him when they forced him to sign the contract. Forced him to sign! He was only too glad to sign. I remember how thrilled he was when he had the chance. I was in the office at the same time he was, and he couldn't sign his name fast enough! He'd have signed for $50 a week for 10 years.

Borrows Money

"Then, he's spending too much money. Much too much money. Has a new car that isn't paid for, and he's rented a house. Yesterday I heard he had taken a house down on the beach, too, for the rest of the summer, at Malibu. Paying $200 a month for that. I imagine those three items alone take up all his month's salary. Two hundred dollars a week doesn't go any too far, when you've a car to pay for and two houses to keep up. Money evidently doesn't mean anything to him at all—it's there for him to spend.

"I know, too, he's borrowed some money—and he's drawn what he can on his salary. In other words, the boy is living as if he had an income of $150,000 a year. Hog wild with money. He'll wake up some day and wonder what it's all about. I suppose he's given a lot of gifts to Carla, too. That takes money, and she likes gifts.

"Of course Werber's won't let him go on spending money like that. They'll put a stop to it soon, but by that time it'll be too late. Just a case of Hollywood spoiling a nice, clean boy. I've seen it happen before too many times. It happened to me, until I got wise to myself."

"Shouldn't some one tell him?" Gail suggested.

"Who, Ross? He wouldn't listen, child. He'd listen to Carla, that's all, and she's just the same as he is—extravagant as the devil."

Once, Gail thought, he would have listened to her . . .

Sarah went on. "You mustn't take the problems of these young actors too much to heart. They don't appreciate it. No one could tell Ross Hardy now that he's making a mistake, not even his own mother, if he has one. He knows it all. Nobody else knows anything. I hope for my sake, though, that this new picture will make a hit. It means a lot—to me. Everything. If I do a good job in it, I may get a contract with Werber's—may be a star again soon."

All too soon Gail had to go home. It was so pleasant sitting here talking to Sarah. Knowing Sarah liked her. She tried to express her thanks, but failed. Sarah laughed as she bade her goodnight.

"Now don't worry about that young scamp, Ross. You're in love with him, of course. Don't deny it, child. I know you are. I guessed that first time I saw you at Carla's—but I imagine I was the only one who did. Forget him."

"What if—what if I can't?"

"You can, Gail, and you'd better. You'll be happier if you do, much happier. Remember, I'm giving you good advice."

"Won't you talk to—him?"

"I'll try, if I get the chance, but I know he won't listen."

The door closed, shutting out Sarah and her bright, cheery living room. Gail walked down the hall thoughtfully. How had Sarah guessed her secret? She didn't think any one knew about her and Ross—except Nick Walther, of course. And she had told him.

Instead of taking the street car to Mrs. Green's, she decided to walk. Ross spending too much money. Gossip all around Hollywood. And Gail knew just how fast gossip traveled in Hollywood.

It would do no good for her to go to Ross. He wouldn't listen to her. He would think she was meddling, that she wanted to revive the old affair. . . . Perhaps Sarah had been exaggerating in the Hollywood way. But Gail dismissed the idea immediately. Sarah hadn't been exaggerating. Even she had guessed, when she had seen the new car, the new house, that Ross was spending too much money.

Her mind was as fatigued as her body, when she finally reached Mrs. Green's. The walk had been longer than she thought. Putting the key in the door, she went softly upstairs. It wasn't late, only 10, but she wanted to get right to bed. It was hard standing on her feet all day long at Frank's, although it was infinitely easier than running in and out of Carla Cross' bedroom night and day . . .

She stood for a long time in front of Ross' picture on her dresser. It wasn't good, having it there where she could see it all the time. She should put it away. So she placed the picture in a drawer. This last reminder of Ross was painful. She wondered if she could ever look on it casually, without feeling a stab of pain. Look at it as if Ross had been a friend . . .

"Miss Stuart?" A sharp rap on the door. Gail opened it, recognizing Mrs. Green's voice.

Woman on Crutches

"I didn't hear you come in. There's someone waiting down in the parlor for you. She's been there since 8:30."

"For me?"

"Yes, a lady."

"Thanks, I'll be right down. Who is she, do you know?"

"No, she didn't give me her name, but she's walking on crutches."

Mrs. Green went grumbling down the stairs, and Gail followed her. A caller. The first she had had since she had come to the rooming house. A lady on crutches.

All the way down the girl puzzled about her visitor. She didn't know anyone who was lame.

Pushing aside the tasseled portieres that led into the uncomfortable room which Mrs. Green called the "parlor," she saw a frail, middle-aged woman sitting on a hard sofa. A pair of crutches stood upright beside her. The woman's hands, gloved in black cotton, were folded primly in her lap.

"I'm Gail Stuart. Did you want to see me?"

"Yes. I'm Mrs. Mendenhall. You remember? I just got out of the hospital—"

The woman Carla had struck when she was driving Ross' car! How ill she looked. How pale. Gail had seen her once at the hospital, when it was thought that Mrs. Mendenhall would die.

"I went to Miss Cross' house to see you, and someone there gave me this address," the woman was saying.

What did she want? Why had she come? The girl was a little afraid as she took a chair and placed it near the sofa. Yet she was sorry for the woman. She was so evidently sick, so fragile.

Monday—Gail forces her way into Carla's apartment.

Fire Evicts Nurses From Brookline Home

BROOKLINE, Mass., Nov. 7. (UP)—Wind-whipped flames raced through the nurses' home atop Corey hill here early today, forcing nurses to leap from windows and imperilling the lives of some 40 patients at nearby Brooks hospital.

Firemen from here, Boston and Newton, handicapped by below-freezing temperature, battled the spectacular blaze for more than an hour and a half before it was controlled.

An almost gale-like wind lashed the burning building, located on one of the highest points in Greater Boston, and had the breeze been in another direction, the adjoining hospital doubtless would have been doomed. No casualties were reported.

Woman Injured When Bank Bandits Shoot

PLAINFIELD, Ill., Nov. 7. (INS)—Mrs. Lulu Foss, 45, was seriously injured today and several bank employes narrowly escaped death when two bandits, foiled in an attempt to hold up the Plainfield State bank, opened fire on Cashier Clyde Wolf.

Slugs from the bandits' guns were deflected by the bullet-proof glass on the cashier's cage. Deflected, the splattered about the bank and one struck Mrs. Foss. Physicians said she will recover.

The bandits fired when they entered the bank and saw Wolf seize a gun. Running out when they saw the woman fall, the pair escaped in a maroon Chrysler automobile.

Answers to Questions

This newspaper puts at your disposal a corps of trained researchers in Washington who will answer questions for you. They have access to the government departments, the libraries, museums, galleries, and public buildings, and to the numberous associations which maintain headquarters in the nation's capital. If they can be of assistance to you, write your question plainly, and send with two cents in coin or stamps to the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—How many people were killed by automobiles last year?—M. C. K.

A.—There were 31,000 people killed by motor vehicles in 1929. Preliminary figures in 1930 show that there will be more persons killed than in 1929. The increase will probably be in excess of 8 per cent, which means 33,000 lives.

Q.—Please give the Army recipe for griddle cakes.—W. L.

A.—This recipe will serve 60 people. Make a batter of eight pounds of flour, two pounds of sugar, one and three-fifths ounces of salt, 16 eggs, and enough milk for proper consistency (if practicable about 10 hours before the cakes are to be cooked). Add eight ounces of baking powder just before cooking. Have a griddle hot and cook until a light brown. Serve with butter and syrup.

Q.—Where is the Oregon Trail?—M. A.

A.—The Oregon Trail which is 2000 miles in length, extends from Independence, Missouri, to the Columbia river. For 41 miles it follows the Santa Fe Trail. It originated in the trails of Indians and trappers, a well defined trail existing for some miles made by Verendrye in 1742. Lewis and Clark passed over this in 1804. In 1810 J. J. Astor established trading posts at intervals along the trail. In 1830 Sublette guided the first wagon train over the trail. In 1842 Fremont made his official expedition and under government authority surveyed a practical route to the Pacific coast. The trail was used by Methodist missionaries and by Mormon pioneers.

Q.—Has the Piedmont valley in Virginia had its normal amount of rain this year?—P. L. B.

A.—The average rainfall of the Piedmont, Virginia, district is about 40 inches per year. The average fall from January 1 to August 1 is about 24 inches; the total amount recorded from January 1 to July 31, 1930, was about 50 per cent of normal.

Q.—How many people visit the Art Institute of Chicago on Sundays?—C. H. B.

A.—On Sundays when the weather is favorable there are between 5000 and 6000 visitors to this place.

Q.—Are tourists permitted to use cameras in Crater Lake national park?—G. K.

A.—A ruling on this subject reads: "Still and motion picture cameras may be freely used in the park for general scenic purposes. For the filming of motion pictures requiring the use of artificial or special settings, or involving the performance of a professional cast, permission must first be obtained from the superintendent of the park."

Q.—What is the difference between a doughnut and a cruller?—F. H. C.

A.—Years ago the difference was marked. A doughnut was made of raised bread dough, to which sugar, spice and eggs were added; while the cruller was made of a mixture containing baking powder, or cream of tartar and soda. Now the terms doughnut is made to include both kinds offried cakes.

Q.—How many graduates are there each year from the schools of journalism in this country?—L. M.

A.—There are 20 four-year university schools of journalism, including the two-year schools that require two years of previous college work. These schools graduate about 1000 students each year.

Q.—Why do they call it rouge?—J. A. R.

A.—Because of its color, rouge being French for red.

Q.—Where is the state of Minas Geraes?—C. W.

A.—It is in Brazil. Minas Geraes is north of the cities of Rio de Janeiro and Sa Paulo. It is bounded on the north by the state of Bahia and on the west by Matto Grosso. It is fifth of the states in area and ranked first in population in 1920. It has rich iron deposits and was the location of Brazil's once rich gold mines, now exhausted.

Q.—Who was the little boy who was buried in Arlington cemetery and was called the Little Corporal?—V. C. D.

A.—The Little Corporal was the son of Sergt. Frank Lankton, General Pershing's orderly during the world war and was always called the Little Corporal by the general. He is buried in the civilian portion of the Fort Meyer post section of Arlington.

The Record News Offers A New Booklet, The Fifteenth Census

In response to a widespread demand for data gathered in the 1930 census The Record News Washington Information bureau has compiled this booklet, a copy of which will be sent to any address for a cost, handling, and postage charge of 10 cents. There is no similar publication available at this time, and none may be issued for months.

It gives the populations of all cities and towns of 2,500 or over in the United States, of the 200 largest cities in the order of their rank, of each of the several states, of the country as a whole, and of the detached territories over which the American flag flies. All figures are compared with those of the fourteenth or 1920 census.

In ordering a copy of The Fifteenth Census, use this coupon.

The Record News Information Bureau,
Frederic J. Haskin, director,
Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith 10 cents in coin or stamps for a copy of the booklet on The Fifteenth Census.

"Let's Settle HERE..."

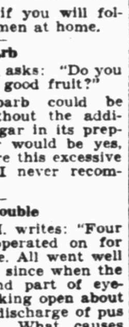

The travel-worn pioneers pause on the crest of a hill; before them stretches the verdant promised valley of their dreams. Then the wagon-train winds slowly down the slopes into the pleasant land that is to give the settlers shelter and sustenance for generations to come.

"Let's settle here..." is the cry as old as the race. Good soil, abundant game, plentiful water; these were the factors that influenced the home-making selections of our ancestors.

Today there are other... different reasons. We decide to move to a chosen locality because of its beauty, easy access to business centers, neighborly environment, increasing land values. And... instead of relying on the trained eye and woodcraft of a prairie scout to show us the way, it is advertising that influences our decision... the advertising of reliable realty firms and home development companies. Each year hundreds of families move to newer, better home sites informed solely by real estate advertisements in the daily newspapers.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.
(Copyright, 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Daily Menus

(Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Nov. 9:)

Sunday

Breakfast—Grapefruit, all desired; lunch, baked eggplant and tomatoes, celery; dinner, roast veal with Melba toast dressing, McCoy salad, ice cream.

Monday

Breakfast, coddled eggs, toasted shredded wheat biscuits, stewed raisins; lunch, lettuce soup, baked parsnips, salad of chopped cabbage and pineapple dinner, Salisbury steak, small green peas, cooked celery, salad of shredded lettuce, pear sauce.

Tuesday

Breakfast, cornmeal mush with butter or cream, no sugar; lunch, combination salad of cooked and raw vegetables, such as celery, tomatoes and string beans, glass of milk dinner, roast mutton, grated turnips and carrots baked together, salad of raw cauliflower, jello or jell-well.

Wednesday

Breakfast, French omelet, waffle, stewed apricots; lunch, baked potato, celery, ripe olives; dinner, vegetable coup, broiled steak, baked stuffed tomatoes, salad of shredded raw spinach and parsley, prune whip.

Thursday

Breakfast, baked apple with cream, Melba toast; lunch, okra, buttered beets, lettuce; dinner, baked Belgian hare, string beans, vegetable salad molded in gelatin (celery, cucumber and peas), carrot pudding.

Friday

Breakfast, poached eggs on Melba toast, stewed figs; lunch, cornbread, spinach, celery; dinner, broiled fillet of sole, eggplant, stewed tomatoes, salad of cold cooked asparagus (canned), no dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast, cottage cheese, pineapple; lunch, eight-ounce glass of grapejuice; dinner, *roast beef, mashed turnips, green peas, combination salad of celery, cucumber, and lettuce, jello or jell-well.

*Roast Beef—Select a roast with as little fat as possible, wipe with a clean cloth, and place skin side down in a pan rubbed with a little vegetable oil. Never add water. Sear for 10 minutes in a very hot oven, 500 degrees Fahrenheit, and then reduce the heat to 350 degrees Fahrenheit for the remainder of cooking time, which varies with different meats. Beef is cooked 30 minutes for each pound, mutton 20 minutes, and pork 30 minutes per pound. Baste every 10 minutes with its own juice. When about half done turn it, that the skin may be uppermost for fine browning. Carrots or parsnips may be placed around the meat about 20 minutes before removing from oven, and served on the platter with the roast.

Note—The term baking is generally used for meats that are cooked until almost tender by steaming or boiling and then boiled in the oven, as baked ham.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Eczema

Question—I. T. writes: "I am 60 years of age and have had eczema for 12 years. Will you kindly name the foods I should use? Is there a sanitarium that you would advise for a few weeks or longer?"

Answer—Take a fast for a few days and follow the menus I give you each week in this column. Any ordinary case of eczema can be cured by the use of a correctly balanced diet. No sanitarium treatment is necessary if you will follow the proper regimen at home.

Rhubarb

Question—Mrs. R. asks: "Do you consider rhubarb a good fruit?"

Answer—If rhubarb could be made palatable without the addition of so much sugar in its preparation, my answer would be yes, but as it does require this excessive amount of sugar, I never recommend it.

Sinus Trouble

Question—J. K. H. writes: "Four years ago I was operated on for frontal sinus trouble. All went well till this past month, since when the incision in nose and part of eyebrow has been breaking open about every week with a discharge of pus and blood serum. What causes this, and how can it be stopped?"

Answer—Operations for sinus and antrum trouble are usually disappointing, as one operation follows the other in an attempt to get rid of the pus condition which can be cured only through cleaning up the blood stream. A ten days' fast should clear up your trouble, and if you will then live on a suitable diet it should not return.

Hardeman Rural School Dedicated

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Nov. 7.—King high school, the rural consolidated school located about six miles east of Quanah, recently completed at a cost of $40,000, was dedicated with an appropriate program with Dean James M. Gordon of Texas Technological college, Lubbock, as principal speaker.

This school is the consolidation of the Groesbeck chapel and Truehart and White chapel and was formerly known as Truehart. L. P. King gave the land upon which the present school is located and the name was changed to King high school in his honor.

The consolidated district covers an area of 72.12 square miles; holds a nine-month term; employs nine teachers, with fully accredited course of study. Children are transported in five busses operated by the school.

Santa Fe to Purchase $6,000,000 Equipment

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 7. (INS)—The purchase of $6,000,000 worth of rolling stock, for delivery next year, will be made by the Santa Fe railroad, it was announced at the Santa Fe offices here today.

The purchase will include 1,000 box cars, 500 refrigerator cars, 22 cabooses, 16 gas electric motor cars, 10 horse express cars, 10 drovers and two cafe observation cars.

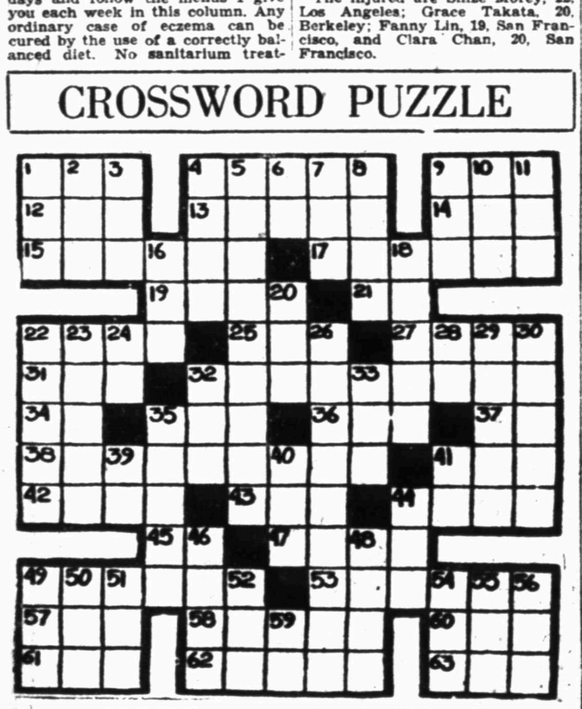

All of the new cars will be delivered in advance of the peak crops movements in 1931.

PAMPA'S HARVESTERS BOWL OVER ELECTRA TIGERS, 47 TO 13

WINNERS BOAST HEFTY LUGGERS

Saulsbury and Lard Deal Hosts Misery

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 7.—Behind the brilliant ball carrying of Saulsbury and Lard, the Pampa High school football squad registered an overwhelming victory over the Electra Tigers Friday afternoon piling up a total of 47 points while the local squad staged a rally in the last quarter that netted them 13.

The Tiger forward wall was never able to stop the hard charging Harvestar backfield, but the secondary defense seldom weakened.

It was always the fast stepping Lard and Saulsbury that dealt havoc to the Electra defense and registered many nice gains, not sensational but consistent, always good for not less than five yards. Marshdale and Chastain also made their presence felt in advancing the ball but their drive fell far short of two other mentioned.

Sandefer Stars

Coye Sandefer was the outstanding Tiger performer in the initial half of the game, stopping the Harvester offense always entirely as far as his side of the line was concerned but an injured shoulder forced him from the field at the beginning of the second half.

Paul Groves, who substituted for Brooks Adams in the second quarter of the game, proved the power and punch in the Electra line but his fight and charging was insufficient to stop the hard driving Pampa backfield but nevertheless he figured in almost every tackle.

Lee Parnell played an excellent game at end but he only played one-fourth of the tilt and did not have time to hit his stride.

Poe and Schmidt played consistently in the Pampa line but the Harvesters' yardage resulted mostly in the hard charging backfield. Almost the entire Pampa backfield figured in their scoring with Saulsbury leading the list with three touchdowns. Others who scored are Chastain 2; Lard and Martindale.

Smith Makes Counter

Capt. Aubrey Smith made the Tigers' first counter in the last quarter when he broke through on an off tackle play and ran about 20 yards across the line. Curtman kicked goal for extra point.

Electra's final counter came in the last minute of play when Eual Sandefer intercepted a pass on his own 40-yard line and made a sensational run for the remaining distance and a touchdown. Curtman failed to kick goal.

The lineups:

ELECTRA (13)	Pos.	PAMPA (47)
C. Smith	F.B.	Saulsbury, c
A. Smith, c	L.H.	Chastain
C. Sandefer	R.H.	Benton
Cloninger	Q.	Lard
Adams	L.G.	Schmidt
J. Smith	L.T.	Reno
Welch	L.E.	Moore
Curtman	R.G.	Ratford
Birdsong	R.T.	Birch

McDannald	C.	Poe

Officials—Dayvault, (Texas U.), referee; Medley, (Baylor), umpire; Weir, (Texas A. & M.), head linesman.

Nocona Indians Whip Decatur 54-0

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Nov. 7.—In a practice game here today the Nocona Indians swooped down on the Decatur High school football team and scalped right and left for a 54 to 0 score.

The first quarter of the game netted Nocona one touchdown, which was made against a stiff defensive. It was also in the first quarter that Decatur made its greatest threat to score, taking the ball to the Nocona eight-yard line after several long passes.

In the second quarter, Nocona again made a touchdown, after which the entire second team was run in, including four ineligibles, since it was a practice tilt.

In the third period Decatur's kick-off was received and rushed down the field for a touchdown. In the latter part of the third period the first team took the field again, to go on a rampage in the last period to score almost at will. Carriker, Evans, Fenoglio, Zachery and Cunningham completely baffled the Decatur warriors and took the ball across time and again. Goodspeed also featured well by taking a run for a 40-yard gain.

Decatur showed fight in the first quarter, but later in the game proved no match for the Indians, although several of the Decatur players exhibited a high grade of football.

Nocona will engage in another practice game here Armistice day with Henrietta.

Crowell Defeats Throckmorton, 12-0

Special to The Record News

THROCKMORTON, Texas, Nov. 7.—Crowell journeyed to Throckmorton today and came out on the long end of a 12-0 score in a practice game. It was a hard fought battle from start to finish and only in the last stages of the game were the visitors able to push over the winning markers.

Coach Roy Smith's proteges went into the game with several of their first team men incapacitated by injuries. Both teams went at it, hammer and tongs, and made it a thrilling battle from start to finish. Harry Craft was the outstanding performer for the Greyhounds.

Tipton High Trounces Olustee Eleven, 13 to 0

Special to The Record News.

OLUSTEE, Okla., Nov. 7.—The Tipton High school journeyed here today to win a 13 to 0 victory from the Olustee football team.

Cochran, big and husky Tipton back, was a stellar ground gainer and seemed to carry the ball wherever he pleased. He accounted for both the Tipton touchdowns, one in the early part of the game and another in the third period when he raced 65 yards across the Olustee goal.

In one respect only did the Olustee eleven outshine the Tipton outfit. Olustee completed seven passes for a total of 40 yards while Tipton made 10 yards on three passes.

QUANAH'S FIGHTING TRIBE OVERWHELMED BY LUBBOCK, 39 TO 7

REDSKINS MAKE SCORE ON PASS

Losers Scrap Gamely Against Big Odds

Special to The Record News

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 7.—The Lubbock High school Westerners took a short workout today at the expense of Quanah High school in a conference game that ended with the score 39 to 7. The Hub City boys pranced all over Tech field in rolling up the six touchdowns and three extra points and did it without their star groundgainer, Moody Smith, who was injured in the Amarillo melee last Saturday.

Both teams banned the open style of attack and took to the air only once or twice during the game. Quanah presented a deceptive style of attack and for the first period had the Gold and Black eleven guessing where the play was going next. With Hall, Lovell, Shields and Saircloth clicking off the deceptive reverse play in a grand style, Lubbock had their hands full with the fighting Indians during the first half. The winners used only straight football and were seldom pressed for lack of first downs.

Westerners Never Headed

Jumping into the lead in the first stanza, Coach Henry Frnka's charges piled up a big lead and then added to it. The home eleven scored 13 points in the first period and were never headed. Coach Stallworth's proteges scored in the second frame when the Indians completed their only pass that they attempted in the game, the heave carrying the ball to Lubbock's three yard stripe. Saircloth went over for the score. The victors amassed a surprising total of 24 first downs while the losers were garnering only 11. The Westerners attempted three passes, none being complete.

Individual stars were hard to pick, especially among the visiting Redskins. The Quanahites fought from beginning to end, and backed by loyal supporters who made the trip, along with their band, the Redskins hit the Westerners hard on every play. Norman, flashy Indian wingman, was a hero for his Tribe with his heroic defensive work and speedy end-around plays. Captain Hall was another shining light in the Quanah lineup. Lawson turned in a great game for the victors, scoring four touchdowns. Johnson, substitute for the injured Moody Smith, was the stellar performer for the Westerners and played the best game on the field.

Plainview Next

Plainview will journey to the encampment of the Westerners next Friday in another conference scrap. Coach Frnka's charges hope to finish the season with a clean slate after losing, 12 to 9, to Pampa and holding the Amarillo Sandies to a scoreless tie.

The lineup:

QUANAH	Pos.	LUBBOCK
Norman	L.E.	Martin
Harrill	L.T.	Williams
Hurst	L.G.	Abbott
Roberts	C.	Pace
O'Hair	R.G.	McGehee

Horne	R.E.	Watson
Hall (c)	Q.	Lawson (co-cap)
Lovell	L.H.	Johnson
Faircloth	R.H.	Scoggin
Shields	F.	Watkins (co-cap)

Mickey Walker Wins Over Risko

OLYMPIA ARENA, DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 7. (UP)—Mickey Walker, middle-weight titleholder, stepped out of his class tonight and proved his right to heavyweight consideration by whipping Johnny Risko, Cleveland, in a rousing 10-round fight.

Walker gave away 28 pounds in his debut as a heavy, but never backed away from the ponderous bulk of Risko. The two mixed willingly in one of the best fights seen here in years. Walker weighed 186 pounds and Risko 194½.

Fort Sill Indians Defeat Zundy, 25-0

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 7.—Coach Roy Golden's Zundelowitz Junior High gridders went down in defeat here this afternoon at the hands of the Fort Sill Indian school eleven by a score of 25 to 0. The melee was a practice game and did not affect Zundy's conference standing. It was the second time this season that the Red and Gray eleven from Wichita Falls has succumbed to the raids of the Fort Sill Indian aggregation.

Two of the home team's scores came on long sprints around end by Groves of the Indians. Twice he toured around end and raced 65 yards for scores. The other two tallies came on line bucks by W. Parker and Seala. The visitors were never outplayed but were considerably outweighed by the opposition. The Zundy team put up a great heroic fight but could not cope with the power attack of the Redskins.

Both teams stuck to straight football and only six passes were attempted during the entire game. The Zundyites tried four and completed one while the victors threw two passes, both of which were completed. The Lawton athletes had a decided edge in punting. Groves consistently out-kicked several Zundy kickers. Zundy averaged 28 yards on the boots while the Lawtonians averaged 36 yards. That Zundy was clearly out-classed is shown in the number of first downs made by each team. Zundy could make the required yardage only three times while the Indians were rolling up 22 first downs.

The lineup:

FORT SILL (25)	Pos.	ZUNDY (0)
Seal	L.E.	McCracken
Wilson	L.T.	Rice
O. Parker	L.G.	Johnson
Mikeeffy	C.	Ben Kelley

Waurika Eagles Advance Into Third Place With 13-6 Victory Over Walters

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., Nov. 7.—Waurika High school advanced into third place in the conference standing Friday by defeating the Walters High school Purple Devils on the local field by a 13 to 6 score. Temple leads the conference while Ryan occupies the runnerup position.

BEARCAT TEAM RALLIES TO WIN

Frederick Beats Weatherford in Last Quarter

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 7.—Starting the fourth quarter with a 7 to 6 score in favor of the visitors, the Frederick Bearcats bewildered Weatherford in the last few minutes, garnering four touchdowns in quick succession. The final score was 31 to 7.

The speedy and shifty Steinbock was easily the star, making two of the touchdowns, in each case dodging and outrunning the opponents for 65 yards. He also threw passes to two of his teammates, Clarke and Burt, each of which yielded touchdowns, and kicked the final goal. The other Frederick touchdown was made by addition.

Weatherford' a touchdown was made by England in the third quarter and Fast added the extra point.

Frederick won this game without Byrns, hard-hitting halfback, and Pope, brilliant end, who had contributed so much to the Bearcats' victories in preceding games.

Duncan Whips Undefeated Ardmore Team, 27 to 19

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Nov. 7.—Duncan downed the undefeated Ardmore team, 27 to 19, in a fast moving game here today. Johnnie Angle and Herbert Frie, Duncan backs, went through the Ardmore line almost at will after Duncan gave up an aerial campaign early in the game and turned to straight football.

Ardmore's superior passing machine was a constant threat but the visitors weakened after holding Duncan, 13 to 12, at the end of the half.

Borger and Perryton Game Ends in Tie

Special to The Record News.

PERRYTON, Texas, Nov. 7.—With a blocked punt, a line plunge and pass, Borger tied the score at 7-all in the last few minutes of play here Friday afternoon. The Rangers scored in the second quarter and held advantage in three periods. Morrison starred for the visitors whole Johnson, Grogan and Witt shone for the locals. Stratford meets the Rangers here Armistice day.

Spur Runs Up 186 Points Against Lorenzo

Special to The Record News

SPUR, Texas, Nov. 7.—Spur Bulldogs scored 186 points against Lorenzo here today to set a new state record. Jim Hahn scored 10 of the touchdowns. Captain Brode Puckett bucked the line 22 times for the extra point and make six touchdowns to be second high scorer. Spur plays Post Armistice day for the sub-district title. Lorenzo failed to score.

LIONS PRIMED FOR SANDIES

Vernon Last Ditch Champs Must Hurdle

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Nov. 7.—The Amarillo Sandies, heavy favorites to win their fourth successive district No. 1 class A football title, and the Vernon Lions, the only formidable opponents left in the championship path of the Sandies, are primed for their encounter at Amarillo Saturday, with both squads expected to be in top physical and mental condition. Should the Sandies hurdle this last obstacle, and they are heavily favored to win, they will sail on to a comparatively easy district crown.

Coaches Weir and Binnion and 25 members of the Lion football squad left here Friday for Amarillo where they will meet Coach Blair Cherry's charges. Cherry, in his first year in the Panhandle city, has welded an efficient machine, especially powerful on defense, with only two letter men from last year's team playing on this year's first string. Mike Montgomery, line ace and co-captain, is one of the letter men, while Burl Bufkin, mainstay of the backfield and co-captain, is the other.

Both Lines Powerful

Although not boasting the experience of some of the forward walls in this district, the Sandies are reported to have the most powerful line in this division, while the Vernon forwards have yet to bow to a superior line this year, and the Lions' opposition has been Pampa, Wichita Falls, Childress, Quanah, Plainview, Grandfield, Okla., and others.

In the backfield, however, the Sandies boast a decided edge, with the Amarillo quartet specializing in double and single reverses, and off tackle slashes. Bufkin and Fowler, former North Side, Fort Worth, stars, are the aces in the Sandy backfield, and Fowler is rated as one of the best punters in the district as well as an able passer and field general, and a fine ball carrier. Bufkin is easily one of the outstanding ball toters in this part of the state.

Sandies Have Edge

The Sandy backfield has the Lion quartet bested in almost every department of the game. The Lion running attack, built around either Lawrence or Christian, does not have the necessary scoring punch, while due to incapability on the part of Lion receivers, the aerial attack is practically nothing. The Lions are rated as good defensive organization, however, but are not expected to halt the Sandies.

The probable lineup:

AMARILLO	Pos.	VERNON
Floyd	L.E.	Judd
Allen	L.T.	Colwell
Foster	L.G.	Watson
Glass	C.	Jones
Montgomery (c)	R.G.	Brent
Estes	R.T.	Dolan
Comsley	R.E.	Love
Fowler	Q.	Nixon (c)
Scanlan	L.H.	Lawrence
Hancock	R.H.	Williams
Bufkin (c)	F.B.	Smith

Bowie Beats Coyote B Team on Trick Play

BOWIE, Texas, Nov. 7.—Failing to score on modern tactics, Bowie High school went back through the ages today and dug up an old trick to defeat the B squad of Wichita Falls High school, 6-0. The Bulldogs pulled the ancient trick of the hidden end to bring victory to the home eleven.

At least once in each quarter the Coyotes marched down to the Bowie scoring territory only to have the Bowie athletes brace and take the ball on downs or fumbles. It was in the second quarter that the Bowie wingman lined up on the opposite side of the field. The ball was snapped and was passed to the hidden end who scampered down the sidelines for the score and the victory. The Bowie aggregation settled down and held their lead in spite of the frenzied effort of the Junior Coyotes to push over a touchdown.

For the Pack Parrish was the outstanding performer with his hard fighting game. He stopped the Bowie ball toters for loss after loss and was the best man on the field for the afternoon.

LEOPARDS PLAY SCORELESS TIE

Local Negro Team Repels Fort Worth Outfit

A scoreless tie was the best the Washington High Leopards could get Friday afternoon when they encountered the husky, well-coached team from the Terrell negro school at Fort Worth. The locals were heavily outweighed and soon discovered that they had a tough assignment on their hands after the easy pickings of the three preceding Fridays. The tie leaves both teams still in the running for the negro high school championship of the state.

Fumbles, frequent and usually costly, kept the Leopards from threatening the Terrell goal. They staged several impressive marches up the field, but each was interrupted by a fumble that the opposition recovered. The Leopards did more fumbling than they had done in all their previous games put together. Their passing game was not up to the usual mark.

The repelled several Terrell threats to score. The visitors were within 25 yards of the Leopards' goal five times, but each time met a stubborn defense that prevented further advance.

The game was better handled than usual from the standpoint of officiating but one argument threatened for a time to bring the referee and the Fort Worth coach to blows.

A crowd of about 600, two-thirds of which was white spectators, attended the contest.

The two teams will probably play again soon and the winner is likely to meet the Bryan High school team, negro champions of South Texas for the state title.

Hawks Trounce Fairview, 13 to 7

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Nov. 7.—Displaying a superior brand of football, Coach Neal's Iowa Park Hawks trounced the Fairview high Bearcats on the local field today by a 13-7 tally. After a rather bad start the Hawks swung into form and avenged the defeat handed them by the Bearcats in a previous meeting between the two teams.

The Hawks were the first to score in the second quarter when Walker pranced around left end for 30 yards and a score. Fairview swept into the lead in the third stanza when Hill flagged one of the Hawk aerial attempts and raced 40 yards for the visitor's only score. The Bearcats kicked goal to go one point up. The Birds swooped down on the Cats in the final period and pushed over the final and deciding score. Wilson crossed the last line after a 25-yard smash at the line.

Both elevens kept up a constant aerial attack and some neat passing and grabbing kept the stands on edge. One of the highlights of the game was a 90-yard kick by Wilson of Iowa Park. Standing on his 10-yard stripe he booted the pigskin to the enemy 10-yard line.

Wilson and Walker were outstanding for the victors as was Hill for the vanquished. Iowa Park will play Burk High at Burkburnett next Saturday, according to Coach Neal.

Fannin Nine Defeats Travis Team, 12 to 4

The Fannin school first team defeated the Travis first team in seven-inning playground baseball game at the Travis school Friday afternoon, 12 to 4. Score:

THIS GAME OF FOOTBALL

A Series of Articles by

BARRY HOLTON, COACH OF THE WICHITA FALLS HIGH SCHOOL COYOTES

The article below concludes a series of explanatory essays on the game of football written for The Record News by Barry Holton, coach of the Coyotes. It is the eleventh of the series, which started two weeks ago.

TRAINING

Thought I might give you a few bits of information on the training side of the game. Men are required to undergo a very rigid routine in order that they be always ready to play good football. Before I mention some of the things demanded of the players along this line, I think I will explain a few more of the expressions common to the game.

HOLTON

"Forward progress of the ball" is much discussed and certainly unclear to most outsiders. The rule says that the ball is dead and play shall cease when the forward progress of the ball has been stopped. This progress may be stopped while the player with the ball is in any position. He has to be brought to a dead stop and the whistle should blow. Many times a player is stopped while half standing. The whistle blows and the player will fall either forward or backward. This failing is not considered and the referee places the ball on the spot where it was when the whistle blows. Often you see a play near goal line and when progress is stopped the ball is killed by the referee. Now when the fellows untangle the ball may be over the goal line and the play would look like a touchdown. If the whistle blew before the ball was carried across, it is not a touchdown. This happening is very common and people are quick to decide against the judgment of the referee. He is a man with experience and is nearer than anyone else and his judgment is final.

"Shift" is a term applied to the movement of a team before the ball is passed. Some teams shift their backfield and others do not. Some lines of players move either to the right or the left of the center. In any case of two or more of the players moving just before the ball is passed is a shift. After the shift all men must come to complete stop for one second.

"Use of arms" is, I suppose, the most common penalty inflicted against a team. Off side penalties are very numerous also. By use of arms we mean that a man on the team with the ball will use his hands or arms to push a player out of the way or will hold with the hands. Any of this is against the rules and if a player whose team has the ball uses his hands or arms unless close to his body his team is penalized 15 yards from spot of foul. Nice run through center of line is made and ball is brought back and team with ball is given this penalty. This is use of arms.

"Kicking free ball." A ball in possession of neither side cannot be kicked or kicked at. Penalty of loss of ball at spot. Striking, hitting with closed hands, hitting in the face is never allowed. When a man throws forward pass it is against the rules to rough him.

"Coaching from sideline" is prohibited in football and if any one connected with a team gives information to a team on the field a penalty of 15 yards is drawn.

Some of the common requirements of training are first of all the desirability of regular and undisturbed sleep. Nine hours or more are needed and the team whose men don't get this sleep will not head the list. Milk and water, both free of ice, are suggested. Moderation of food is demanded. Eat the proper amount. Not too much or too little. Eat only things which are wholesome and agreeable. It is impossible to prescribe a menu for all because what one man likes, another cannot stand. Eating between meals or after supper is forbidden.

I guess the finest quality developed in football is the sense of individual responsibility. From what I have said of the game you will see how necessary it is for each man to fully appreciate his value as an individual on the team. After all, nothing is cut and dried and the fellows meet all of the time new conditions which must be met with effectiveness.

Hope that I have given you at least some of the fine points, and I will now leave you, knowing that you will enjoy a good game.

CUBS' GAME IS CALLED OFF

Denton-Vernon Officials Disagree on Players

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Nov. 7.—The scheduled contest for Friday here between the Denton Junior High school football eleven and the Vernon Cubs was not played, according to Coach E. N. Backus of the Cubs because of failure of the two clubs to agree on rules governing the playing of certain players.

Since the calling off of the Denton-Vernon game, the Vernon team ends its 1930 Northwest Texas Junior High school conference football season with a record of one victory and one loss. The Cubs lost to Zundelowitz Junior high of Wichita Falls in an early season game by a 6-0 score, but later defeated Reagan Junior high of Wichita Falls, 12-0, at Reagan.

First Christians Set Out for Cage Title

The First Christian church basket ball team gave fair warning that they will be strong bidders for the city Sunday school league title by nosing out the First Presbyterians, 22 to 19, in a practice game on the Floral Heights courts, corner Avenue J and Buchanan streets, Thursday evening.

Birchfield, forward on the Christians' team, led his mates in scoring with eight points. Janeway was a close second with seven points. Hogan led the scoring for the Presbyterians with nine points.

While the game as a whole was far from jam-up good basket ball yet at times there was flashed some excellent passing. If the remaining teams in the leagues look as good as the two last night some mighty close contests can be looked forward to.

The First Christians are members of the Sunday School league and the First Presbyterians, the Church league.

The line-ups were: First Christians, Coleman, f; Birchfield, f; Janeway, f; Brashear, c; Janeway, g; McLarry g; First Presbyterians, Hogan, f; Robertson, f; Beaty, c; Windham, g; Fudge, g; Robinson, g; Volz, g.

In a second contest the First Presbyterians bewildered the Floral Heights Presbyterians, 42 to 9. The Floral Heights team found few openings for score.

Those playing for the Floral Heights team were West, Ragsdale, Dennell, Ray, Eason, Willis, Smith, Tinsley.

The first successful parachute jump of which there is record was made in 1787, in Strassburg, by a man named Blanchard.

PACK CHEERED BY PEP RALLY

Holton's Charges Determined to Win One

The Coyotes Friday tapered off a great week of training and expected to greet the opening gun with gusto today when they clash with the Plainview Bulldogs at Athletic park. Coaches Barry Holton and Bill Morris pronounced the squad in excellent physical condition, and the pep rally last night at Memorial auditorium added zest to the Coyotes' already whetted appetite for a conference victory ere the season closes.

The mentors asserted the Pack will charge into battle today armed with capable reserves in the form of youngsters on the second string who will be eligible for the first team next year. For the last two weeks, these youngsters have been trained hard. The past week, especially, they have been put through the grind, and the Coyotes today will depend on the freshness of the younger men as much as the experience of the veterans in their efforts toward a conference victory.

The game will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

Those Will Play

Among the youngsters expected to see action against the Bulldogs today are Deerr and Jenkins, quarterbacks; Daugherty, fullback; Hudging and Keys, left guards; Gentry, center; Reynolds, guard, and Decker, tackle.

The veterans, however, are listed to start, including Danny Cox at quarterback, Harkin Ray and Benny Withrow, halfbacks and Johnny White, fullback. The ends will be selected from Mauldin, Holton, Greenwood and Brandon. Daniel and Gough are starters at tackle, and Max Sepkovitch will be in his regular berth at right guard.

Plainview will enter the battle favorites, if their 7 to 0 night victory over Electra at Plainview last Saturday means anything. They are expected to start Captain Pierce at fullback, Wester and Terrell at halfback, and Hamilton at quarter. The forwards probably will be Walker and Workmen, ends; Scaling and Hart, tackles; Mitchell and Tilson, guards, and Goodwin, center.

Their Last Chance

Today's foray by the Coyotes may be their last chance at a league victory, inasmuch as Sherman, Pampa, and Amarillo are next on the card. The Sherman affair will be a practice game, and even if the Coyotes should whip the Shermanites, it would bring the Pack no credit for a victory in the official ledger. Nothing but a terrific jolt of the dope, a la Texas university over S. M. U., would bring the Pack a victory over either Pampa or Amarillo.

The pep rally last night served to put the team in excellent spirits, and the Pack is expected to look its best against the invaders this afternoon.

Dalhart Wins Sectional Title

Special to The Record News

DALHART, Texas, Nov. 7.—When the second team failed to score after Coach Bolton's Dalhart Wolves had run up 20 points against the light Dumas eleven here Friday, the first team was sent back in the game in the last quarter and ran the score to 47 to 0. This was the conference game to decide the winner of section A, district 1, class B, and Dalhart wins the honor of meeting the winner of the Canyon-Tulia game.

The local lads have not allowed their goal line to be crossed this season.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—An opening advance of relatively steady Liverpool cables was followed by partial reactions in cotton here today, but prices firmed up again on trade buying and covering. March contracts, after selling off from 11.27 to 11.23, advanced to 11.35 in the late trading and closed at 11.32 compared with 11.17 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed very steady at net advances of 11 to 15 points.

Offerings were comparatively light and the failure of Southern hedging to develop increased volume toward the close, seemed to bring in a final spurt of covering or re-buying by recent sellers. Considerable trading buying was also reported on the advance which carried new December up to 10.92 and May to 11.57, or about 14 to 18 points net higher. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the best on active positions.

Advances were accompanied by talk of an improved technical position following reactions of about 75 to 81 points from the high prices of early last week. The smaller volume of offerings was regarded as indicating that the scattering long interest had been pretty well liquidated, and there seemed to be some disposition to cover short contracts in advance of tomorrow's government crop report.

Liverpool cables reported trade calling with London and continental buying. Exports today 40,211 making 2,480,135 so far this season. Port receipts 86,875. United States port stocks 3,772,723.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7. (AP)—Evening up of commitments in advance of the government crop report due tomorrow morning was the main feature in the cotton market here today. More favorable Liverpool cables than looked for and covering by cautious shorts in advance of the report caused prices to advance 12 to 13 points during the morning, but around the middle of the day this advance was checked and the market turned reactionary on belated long liquidation and some selling due to weakness in stocks and rather a bearish view of the weekly statistics.

Right at the end there was a sharp rally due to fears that the government report may not show as large an increase in the estimate of the crop as had been expected. The general market closed very steady at the top, showing net gains for the way of 11 to 14 points.

Liverpool was 2 to 4 penny points better than due at the opening here and private cables stated the trade called and London and the continent bought. The favorable Liverpool advices and covering by nervous shorts were responsible for the morning advance which carried December up to 10.91 and January to 11.04.

The morning advance and weakness in the stock market coupled with rather large movement into sight for the week and disappointing mill takings induced renewed liquidation and prices eased off 8 to 9 points from the highs of the morning.

After small and inconsequential fluctuations during the afternoon the market firmed sharply at the end, making new highs with January at 11.05, up 10 points from the lows owing to active short covering, and the market closed at the top on most of the active months.

The average of 12 private crop estimates issued in advance of the bureau report is 14,430,000 bales which is smaller than generally looked for.

Port receipts 103,916, for week 423,413, for season 4,904,245, last season 4,646,242. Exports 45,161, for week 297,674, for season 2,434,045, last season 2,410,947. Port stocks 3,805,711, last year 2,481,582. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 131,360, last year 161,-453. Spot sales at Southern markets 40,231, last year 39,343.

Stock Market Yields Further Under Steady Selling Pressure

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (US)—The stock market witnessed continuation of liquidation today. Volume of offerings expanded 50 per cent above previous days of the week, totaling more than 3,300,000 shares.

Prices yielded steadily before the selling wave with offerings increasing as quotations declined, and rather substantial blocks of prominent stocks changed ownership in the final minutes of the market. The net loss for the day was rather severe, with the same persistent pressure against the Utility and Railroad shares discouraging any attempt to maintain price levels among the industrials.

New explanations of the weakness are unnecessary. The selling reflects the same bearish sentiment which has of late become deeper in speculative quarters than it has been for many months.

Somewhat more cheering performance by commodities and vague evidences of distinct improvement in fundamental conditions in certain industries were ignored in the anxiety to liquidate stocks.

To those who observe the market's own action, rather than external developments, for guidance on prospective price fluctuations, the substantial expansion in volume of transactions was one of the encouraging items. A "selling climax," which would inaugurate at least temporary recovery in prices, usually develops out of severe weakness accompanied by sudden substantial increase in volume of transactions.

This was experienced today in various stocks. Steel common, for example, broke to 140, where it closed for a net loss of 3¾ points, but large blocks of the stock were absorbed at this price, the offerings probably representing chiefly "stop" stock at the 140 level, which many have accepted as marking the end of the speculative price range for Steel. Through 140, at which the yield on the stock would rise above 5 per cent, it has been confidently expected that scale investment buying would appear, although large-scale support might be delayed until the industry's outlook becomes more promising.

The heaviest pressure again today was exerted against the Utilities and the Rails. Selling was attributed to investment trusts embarrassed by prevailing prices, but a good deal of the selling in the Utilities particularly has been induced by recognition of their high ratios of pre-share earnings. The Utilities are now paying for the tremendous unwarranted inflation they underwent for many years. The average of leading Utilities finally broke through the 1929 low point.

The Railroads are suffering from general recognition of their poor earnings this year, but many of the Rails are selling at levels which seemingly have discounted all reasonable near-term adverse prospects. No group held up against the selling, but the extreme weakness undoubtedly induced considerable short covering, although the size of the short interest remains a mooted question.

Drastic decline in such railroad issues as Union Pacific, which broke nine points, in New York Central, off five points at the low, and similar losses in other leading rails, along with new lows recorded in American Telephone & Telegraph and Consolidated Gas, completely overshadowed the few potentially cheering developments of the day.

Confirmation of the expected price reduction on the Chevrolet was interpreted unfavorably, yet this tendency to lower prices to the public may very well bring about a revival in buying.

The Copper group made no response to the definite indications that an agreement has been reached among the leading producers of the metal with respect to curtailing output. It is known, however, that the industry's position has been greatly strengthened and that the next monthly statement of surplus copper supplies may mark the final bearish statistical report on the industry.

SPOT COTTON PRICES

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7. (AP)—Spot cotton closed steady, 12 points up. Sales 5,-372; low middling 9.15; middling 10.65; good middling 11.15; receipts 20,417; stock 622,761.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Cotton futures closed: Jan. 11.10; March 11.38; Dec. 10.97.

DALLAS, Nov. 7. (AP)—Middling cotton 10.10, Houston 10.65, Galveston 10.75.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—Cotton goods were in moderate demand today, buyers not being ready to pay advanced gray goods prices. Rayon in fine deniers was in better request. Silk houses will open several new lines of 100 denier rayon crepes for spring next week. Wool goods were in good spot request, but spring business was slow. Raw silk showed little change. Burlap market were quiet.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Nov. 7. (AP)—Trade continued slow today on the cash grain market with light offerings of wheat, oats and barley tending to help those grains while increased receipts of corn and sorghums were hard selling. Wheat was worth around 83½-83½ on the basis of last sales for No. 1 hard of any protein. Estimated receipts: wheat, 1 car; corn 10; oats 2; barley 1, and sorghums 10.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn, No. 2 mixed 80-81; No. 2 white or yellow 85-86.

Oats, No. 2 red, according to desirability for seed 47-48, No. 2 white delivered Texas group one 41¼-42¾.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. nominally 1.25-1.30; No. 2 kaffir 1.20-1.25 with most offerings of lower grades.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Forced backward by heavy selling that resulted from unsettlement of stock market quotations, all grain today receded from an early advance. Striped rust, which last year caused havoc in the wheat crop of Argentina, was reported today as having spread to every province of that country and was chiefly responsible for the transient advance of grain prices. Despite stubborn resistance to selling pressure, however, the influence of fresh breaks in values of securities practically nullified stimulating factors concerning cereals as the day's trading ended.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅛c a bushel higher. Corn closed ⅜c off to ¼c up, oats at ¼c decline to ⅜c gain, and provisions varying from 5c setback to a rise of 27c.

At first, the wheat market led the way in a brisk upturn of grain values, weather conditions prevailing over Agentina being cloudy and hot, the exact kind that would make the rust menace worse.

Contributing impetus to the temporary rise of the wheat market was an authoritative trade report indicating the outlook is only for an average yield of wheat in Australia this season, and that an official forecast of a bumper crop was exaggerated.

Corn and oats swayed with wheat, and failed to maintain advantages in prices. Reports were current telling of likelihood that Argentine railways will try burning of unshelled corn instead of coal, owing to prevailing low prices for corn.

Decreasing stocks of lard helped to make the provision market average higher.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. (US)—From all reports, the rust situation in Argentina is such that a short period of weather favorable to development of the infection might cause serious damage and cause it rapidly. As a result, though the market sold off substantially, shorts were not inclined to remain in an extended position overnight.

Indications pointing to a short duration of the run of new corn are a strengthening factor in the futures market.

Private reports carried a story that corn might be burned in locomotives in Argentina because of its cheapness.

Word from Omaha was to the effect that a big decrease in wheat stocks was looked for there, owing to the increased demand. Receipts at that market were only 32 cars and shipments were 252 cars.

A local cash house had a report that the feeding demand for wheat in Ohio is increasing daily and stocks in both Ohio and Indiana are rapidly disappearing.

NORTHWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7. (AP) (USDA)—Receipts of cattle were estimated at 12,900 today. Trade consisted chiefly of the usual Friday cleanup affair with prices unchanged. Finished steers and yearlings were scarce with upturns of 50c@$1.00 reported.

Fat lambs trade around the 11 market circuit reponded to the stimulating influence of curtailed receipts and prices were strong to unevenly higher. On the close, Chicago showed upturns of 25@50c with quality considered. Choice native lambs in Chicago scored $8.25 while at Kansas City choice rangers sold up to $8.00. The supply approximated 29,700.

Hogs were steady to slightly higher than Thursday's average market with trade at some centers rather slow. The day's extreme top of $9.40 was paid at Chicago. Offerings were around 68,800.

OKLAHOMA CITY DRILLS ACTIVE

New Wells Go Ahead Despite Stricter Rules

Special to The Record News.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7.—Regardless of more stringent proration regulations governing producing wells in the Oklahoma City field with three new locations staked in the field Wednesday and Thursday, drilling is going on at an uninterrupted rate.

Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company have staked a location for its No. 4 Viewpoint on lot 11, block 6, of the Viewpoint addition, in the southwest of the southeast of 10-11-3w.

Tom Slick Oil company have staked two new locations. Its No. 1 Owens is to be drilled on block 15, of the Walnut Grove addition, in the southwest of the southeast of the northeast of 3-11-3w.

Its No. 1 Frisco is located in the southeast of the northeast of the northeast of the southeast of 3-11-3w.

Corrections have been made on two old wells.

Hall & Briscoe No. 5 Holmes is relocated as in the northeast of the southwest of the northwest of the southeast of 10-11-3w.

Johnson & Dabney's well is relocated in the northwest of the southeast of the northeast of 10-11-3w.

Kedberg Oil company No. 1 Burris in the northwest of the southwest of the southwest which came in a few days ago has gone dead, and the operators are rigging up rotary tools. The well is now bottomed at 6522 feet.

Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas company and Ramsey Petroleum corporation No. 1 Messer in the southwest corner of 32-14-3w, near Edmond, is awaiting pine line connections.

Skelly Oil company's No. 1 Hurt in the northwest corner of 2-11-3w, one of the largest producers in the Oklahoma City field when it was brought in, flowed 5,839 barrels of oil in one hour and 55 minutes when opened late Wednesday for a test.

Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas company No. 1 Ball, in the northwest corner of the northeast of 19-12-1w, was bailing mud Thursday preparatory to drilling out the concrete plug and testing. The well is bottomed at 6166 feet. The sand was found at 6163 feet. The well is an offset to the discovery well at Nicoma park, east of Oklahoma City.

Educators Urge New Legislation

FORT WORTH, Nov. 7. (AP)—Three recommendations to the 42nd legislature pertaining to Texas educational measures were passed on by members of the Texas Educational commission at their opening session today.

Recommendations were: First, that the state board of education be authorized to appoint the state superintendent of public instruction; second, that the board be charged with responsibility to detrmine all matters pertaining to certification of teachers in public schools; and third, that the board establish within the department of education a division of curriculum, such division to be under the direction of an expert.

Lexington, Ky., Adopts City Manager Form

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 7. (AP)—A city manager commission form of government will become effective here Jan. 1, 1931, as a result of Tuesday's election. The new type of government was approved by a vote of 4,325 to 2,199. Four commissioners, who will appoint a city manager, will be elected next November.

NEWS of the FIELD

NORTH OF NEWCASTLE

The Petroleum Producers company staked out location for its No. 4 J. G. Graham to be drilled 300 feet west of No. 1 producer in section 2249, T. E. & L. survey in Young county.

Two Men Injured In Saving Baby's Life

AUSTIN, Nov. 7. (AP)—Their successful attempts to save a toddling infant from possible death beneath the wheels of an automobile cost two Austin men injuries here yesterday.

John Littleton and Billy Bourke both sprang to the rescue of the infant, knocked him from in front of the oncoming car and were struck themselves by the automobile. Littleton suffered a broken leg and Bourke was severely bruised. The baby was unharmed.

The driver of the car was in jail. No charges had been filed.

Waddy Tate 'Exempts' 'Pint or Less' Cases

DALLAS, Nov. 7. (UP)—"Wee Nips" will go unheeded by city police in Dallas following an edict of Mayor J. Waddy Tate.

Declaring that liquor law violations involving a pint or less would be ignored, the mayor asserted the Dallas prohibition squad would be directed toward the big sources of liquor supply and sale.

Tate regretted, however, the addition of bicycle delivery boys to the liquor racket here.

200 SHRINERS TO STAMFORD

Special Train to Carry Wichitans on Tour

Maskat temple's good willers are to tread the sands to Stamford Saturday afternoon and assurance is given that it will be the largest group ever to leave Wichita Falls on a like mission. Two hundred round trip tickets on a special train at a dollar each were offered to first comers and the entire lot was absorbed early Friday morning, according to J. Marshall Franklin, chairman of the tour.

The special train will leave Wichita Falls Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Brief stops will be made in Seymour, Munday and Haskell, where parades will be made through the business sections. A number of nobles from those towns will also join in the good will trip.

The banquet for Shriners and their ladies, will be held at the Stamford Presbyterian church, 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock. J. C. Pinson, potentate's aide, will be in charge. Admission will be by 1930 card and fez.

A street concert will be given between 7:35 and 7:55. All will then proceed to the city auditorium where an open meeting will be held for the public, at which there is no charge. The program follows:

Concert—Maskat temple band.
Address of Welcome—Mayor Tayman.
Response—Illustrious Potentate Ed Peterson.
Introduction of Walter Nelson Jr., mayor of Wichita Falls, as master of ceremonies—J. Marshall Franklin.
Solo—Miss Katherine Ralston; Miss Jewel Thompson at piano.
Solo—Dr. J. H. Fletcher; J. S. Pitman at piano.
Solo—Miss Tilla Schaefer; J. S. Pitman at piano.
Solo—Ed Reeder; Miss Adams at piano.
Reading—Mrs. J. S. Pittman.
Black face act and tap dance—Truxton Box.
Solo—Luther R. Thurman.
Masonic Address—Walter D. Cline.
Royal Hawaiian Trio—From station WKCO.
Solo—Dr. O. T. Kimbrough.
Just Talk—Albert Ellis, recorder.
Announcements—Kindel Paulk.
Stage Directors—Kindel Paulk and C. G. Williamson.
Dance from 9:30 to 12 p. m., city auditorium for Shriners and their ladies only. Admission by 1930 card and fez. J. T. Bargin, chairman.

The train captain is Sydney A. Gaines. Tilers are G. W. L. Spencer and C. C. Randle.

Man Held Here On Embezzlement Charge

H. W. Hoffman was arrested here Friday by Sheriff W. G. Bralley following the filing of a complaint with District Attorney Sam B. Spence charging embezzlement in an amount of more than $50, according to information given by Assistant District Attorney George Anderson.

Hoffman formerly was secretary-treasurer of the Bell Drilling company of this city, it was said. By agreement, bond was fixed at $2,000, according to Mr. Anderson. The accused remained in jail Friday night, according to Sheriff Bralley.

Spence Prepares Cases For Young Grand Jury

Investigation of cases which he plans to bring before the Young county grand jury on the first Monday in December was being carried on at Graham Friday by District Attorney Sam B. Spence, it was said at his local office.

Opening of the 30th district court in Graham at that time with Judge Allan D. Montgomery on the bench will occasion the grand jury's assembly, it was stated.

LAX-ANA
DOUBLE STRENGTH

Harold Lloyd is the Colossus of Hollywood, standing with one foot still firmly planted in the realm of ever-expressive pantomime and the other just as securely established on the articulate stage. No other has so successfully bridged the gap between the movie and the talkie. Harold Lloyd has all the silent eloquence of Charlie Chaplin and all the effective squawks of Laurel and Hardy.

"Feet First" is about twice as funny and three times as breathtaking as "Welcome Danger" and "Safety Last" put together. The famous skyscraper scene in the latter is recalled in the 30 minutes (or was it two hours and a half?) of fearful suspense which ends "Feet First"—and which also ends the audience.

Those who wonder how Walt Disney thinks up new twists for Mickey Mouse cartoons and silly symphonies so often will be compelled to admit that Harold is just about as resourceful in this matter of ideas as Walt. He must have spent his entire time since making "Welcome Danger" in hunting new ways to fall off the side of a building. There couldn't be any more ideas on the subject. He has cornered the market.

From the time that he starts up on a rickety scaffold, tied up in a mail bag, until he goes to the top of the building in a heart-rending, unendurable, dizzying series of slow ascents and hasty descents, staggers drunkenly about the top of the building, falls off again and finally reaches the street, the audience squirms, squeals, gasps, chokes, yells, sticks its collective head under the seat and its fingers in its ears, beats on the person in the next seat and screams in ecstatic horror. If all the fingernails swept up at the Strand each day by Oscar, the janitor, could be placed end to end, they would reach from slapstick to drama.

Somehow, after a lapse of several weeks, all the theaters have started on the same idea, and it's kids' week in Wichita Falls again! The hundreds who squeal at Harold Lloyd's antics are only a small portion of those who will enjoy a part of an unusual week's program here.

Opening on Wednesday with a big Tom Sawyer treasure hunt (described elsewhere in this issue), the Majestic will present the classic of the talkies that is said to compare with "Peter Pan" and the latter's position in the world of the silent film—"Tom Sawyer." Little Jackie Coogan, now a 15-year-old young man, will play the title role, with Junior Durkin and Mitzi Green, recently seen in "The Santa Fe Trail," as Huck Finn and Becky Thatcher, respectively.

Saturday afternoon at the State theater, a "Shadowball contest" will be held, and the 10 children who show the most proficiency in throwing a shadowball, whatever that is, will be given a ball. Manager D. L. Johnson, who pretends to know all there is to know about shadow ballology, will be instructor and judge at the contest.

COWEN SEES BIG GROWTH

Opportunity in Wichita Falls, Says Visitor

"In another 10 years, Wichita Falls can be made an industrial center second to none in the state," Harry Cowen of Santa Monica, Calif., said in a brief talk before the Wichita Falls Junior chamber of commerce Friday noon.

"Great achievements in the past 10 years are visible and there is no limit to what can be done for Wichita Falls if the citizenship will spend its money.

Plans Apartment House

"The present situation is strictly a mental attitude," Mr. Cowen said. "It can be compared to the market crash last year. Businesses were worth actually just as much after the crash as they were before. It was a mental condition that caused stocks to skyrocket and then to fall. Property in Wichita Falls is just as valuable now as it was several years and certainly this city has less to worry about than the industrial centers of the East. I have confidence in the future of Wichita Falls and have made arrangements to improve my own property here and am now negotiating for a site on which I propose to erect an apartment house."

Mr. Cowen is a nephew of the late A. Zundelowitz.

C. Y. Tully cited an instance in Jacksonville, Fla., where an organization similar to the Junior chamber of commerce here developed trade by advertising the advantages of the city throughout the country. Mr. Tully suggested that the organization here sponsor a lodge or organization and enlist every citizen in the community to spread confidence in the future of Wichita Falls at home and to the world.

Concerted Effort Needed

"Optimism is contagious," Mr. Tully said. "An organization of every member of the community will shortly inoculate all with confidence. We should adopt an emblem in the form of a button bearing "Believers in Wichita Falls" or "I Believe in Wichita Falls" and then should hang that button on every citizen in Wichita Falls. Every business executive in the city in writing his letters should follow his signature with the words "Believer in Wichita Falls" in large letters typewritten with red ink. There are several thousand firms in the city with a large volume of first class mail leaving every day for cities in our trade territory. Several years ago I tried the plan with excellent results."

Mr. Tully's suggestion will be placed before the next directors' meeting of the Junior chamber of commerce, it was said.

J. C. Mytinger, chairman of the Better Business campaign, outlined plans for the drive, urging that a large attendance be given the mass meeting at the Memorial auditorium Friday night.

"Two weeks ago here today, this move started and it has already made some history," he said. "Tonight at the auditorium more history will be made. I believe that the proceeding will go down in history as the most important meeting ever held in Wichita Falls. It is the first opportunity citizens have had of showing their loyalty. It could be no greater misfortune than for a small crowd to turn out for the meeting. Nothing could kill quicker the progress we have already made than a slim meeting. This move should be supported just as forcibly as we mobilized for war in 1917. If a man failed to fight or buy liberty bonds then, he was a slacker. If he refuses to back the city in this movement, he is just as much a slacker."

Lester Jones in a brief talk declared that the stage is set for the Better Business campaign and that he believed in the future of Wichita Falls and the integrity of its people.

Many Guests

Jerry Vinson, president of the Junior chamber of commerce, introduced a large number of guests, including J. G. Dickson; T. E. Cradock, Lloyd Jones, Dutton J. Bailes, W. M. Huskinson, F. B. McKnight, J. T. Hodges, W. N. Hart, R. S. Cockrell and J. A. Wheat.

Miss Maybelle Parker of Tipton, Okla., and Miss Margaret Hines of Wichita Falls, who were entrants in the contest to select the Oklahoma cotton queen recently, were introduced by Paul Hines. Miss Margaret Bryan of Altus, who was crowned Queen of Cotton, was unable to be present and wired her regrets. Mr. Hines also requested members of the organization to donate any surplus ducks to the provisions for the annual banquet next month.

John Boswell, manager of the senior chamber, announced that several hundred Wichitans were expected to attend the business council meeting on Nov. 14, when a large number of Oklahoma City citizens would be here to discuss plans for making the highway between here and Oklahoma City an "all-weather" road.

Walter Nelson Jr. announced plans for the annual banquet to be held Dec. 9 at the Wichita club. The fall dance, he said, would be held Friday, Nov. 21, either at the Wichita club or the Kemp hotel, with Ligon Smith's orchestra of Fort Worth playing the dance music.

ZUNDY AWARD
Cowen Gives Award For Scholarship In School Here

In memory of Albert Zundelowitz, founder of Zundelowitz school here, a cash prize and medal will be awarded by the Zundelowitz estate for the next 10 years to honor pupils in English, history and mathematics at Zundelowitz Junior high, Harry Cowen, nephew of the late philanthropist, announced here Friday.

The award will be made for the first time at the conclusion of the present long session, it was announced.

West Texas Agents Plan Demonstration

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 7.—Specialists in home demonstration work from the A. & M. college of Texas will conduct demonstrations at the C. A. Williams farm seven miles south of Memphis near Salisbury next Tuesday and Wednesday, and between 20 and 30 home and farm agents from the 22 counties, comprising district No. 1, are expected to be present for this two-day demonstration, hog killing, cutting and curing and canning of meats.

The demonstration will be given by Roy W. Snyder, extension meat specialist; E. M. Ragenbrecht, extension swine husbandman; Miss Zetha D. McInnis, extension specialist in home industry; Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs, district home demonstration agent for district No. 1, and John Edmonds, district farm agent for district No. 1, all of the A. & M. college, College Station, Texas.

Three Hotels Held Up By Cleveland Bandits

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7. (AP)—Three East Side residential hotels were held up in rapid succession early today by a quartet of robbers.

Four young men, well dressed and wearing spectacles, strolled into the lobby of the Hotel Belmont, lined 21 guests against a wall and relieved them of an amount estimated at $1,000 in cash and jewelry.

Shortly afterwards the holdup gang entered the Bolton Square hotel, where they obtained $40 from the night clerk, and then went to the Hotel Perkins, where another night clerk yielded only $25.

Suit to Collect 25c Election Debt Planned

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 7. (AP)—John R. Dyer of Webster Springs will bring suit against Dr. J. B. Dodril, W. T. Talbott, Dyer's attorney said today, to collect a 25-cent election bet.

Dr. Dodrill, according to Talbott, bet Dyer 25 cents that M. M. Neely would defeat James Ellwood Jones by more than 10,000 votes in the race for election to the United States senate. Neely, the Democratic candidate, defeated his Republican opponent by approximately 130,000. Dr. Dodrill was alleged to have refused to pay off.

New York C.-C. Against Recognition of Soviet

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—With only three dissenting votes the New York State Chamber of Commerce declined today to favor United States recognition of the Soviet Russian government, and adopted a resolution asking the government to protect the country from "undermining Soviet influence."

DEATH CLAIMS E. F. GEBERT

First National Bookkeeper Dies Suddenly

Erich F. Gebert, 24, died at his home, 2502 Brook avenue, Friday morning following a heart attack.

Mr. Gebert, who has been bookkeeper at the First National bank for four years, had been slightly ill for several days but his condition had not been thought dangerous.

Funeral services will be held from the home at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon followed by a service at the Trinity Lutheran church. Arrangements are in charge of the Merkle Undertaking company.

Mr. Gebert has been a resident of Wichita Falls for a number of years, graduating from the high school here in 1923. He was at one time caddy master at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club and was well known to golfers here as well as to numerous business men. His first business experience was gained at the First National bank, it was said, where he had received several promotions after starting in a minor capacity some years ago.

Surviving are his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Gebert; two brothers, Ernest and Paul; and one sister, Caroline, all of Wichita Falls.

Vernon Negro Dies As Car Overturns

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Nov. 7.—A negro man about 40 years of age, thought to be James Brown of Vernon, was instantly killed about 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon on state highway No. 5 six miles west of this city when the touring car which he was driving hooked another car it had just passed, took to the ditch, turned over twice, and came to an upright position about 20 feet from where it left the pavement.

Brown's neck was broken as the car rolled over his body on its first revolution, it was reported.

Charlie Boyd, negro, Longview, Texas, was seriously injured, and George Cavanaugh, negro, was slightly bruised and scratched, in the accident. Both were passengers with the man who was killed, but could not identify him. The victim's body and the two injured survivors were brought to Vernon.

The car with which the wrecked vehicle connected to precipitate the turnover was a Dodge sedan driven by M. M. Williams of Odell, who was accompanied by his wife and two small children. The Williams car did not leave the pavement, nor were any of its occupants injured.

Galveston Man Shot After Calling Police

GALVESTON, Nov. 7. (UP)—Five minutes after W. C. Ruenbuhl, 62, had telephoned police he was afraid he was going to be killed, he was shot three times as he started to open the front door of his home here last night.

Ruenbuhl, who died instantly, had filed a charge against John Sedgwick, husband of his stepdaughter for making threats against his life several days ago. Sedgwick was arrested.

White Resigns As Deputy Constable

H. L. White, appointed as a deputy by Constable Frank Morgan on Nov. 1, resigned that position on Tuesday of this week, he announced Friday.

TWO TO ONE
1 Vote Makes Stephens County Demo Victory Complete

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Nov. 7.—Republicans came within one vote of electing an official in Stephens county, despite a landslide which swept other Democratic candidates into office by majorities ranging from 1,000 to 3,000 votes.

This fact was discovered Thursday when the county election board met to canvass the returns of Tuesday's election.

There was no candidate for county surveyor on either ticket. Some enthusiastic Republican wrote in the name of John Ault of Comanche. The Democratic record for a clean sweep was preserved only by the fact that two other voters had written in the name of Fred McCune, Duncan Democrat, for county surveyor.

Treasure Hunt Waits Kids

Youngsters to Match Skill With Tom Sawyer

A real treasure hunt, with dozens of prizes hid about over the city, will open a three-day showing of "Tom Sawyer" at the Majestic theater next Wednesday afternoon.

Children all over the city and those in the surrounding territory will congregate at the Hub Clothiers immediately after school is out, where they will be given directions for the hunt.

Prizes will include Tom Sawyer suits and shirts from the Hub Clothiers, a few cash prizes, and several guest tickets to "Tom Sawyer." Tickets entitling the bearer to these prizes will be hidden about on various vacant lots and the children will be directed toward these lots.

"Tom Sawyer," based on the famous Mark Twain story, features Jackie Coogan, Mitzi Green and Junior Durkin, and includes as its climax the finding of treasure in a cave. Manager Victor B. Lowrey of the Majestic will act as joint host with the Hub Clothiers at the hunt.

Stolen Tires Recovered, Driver Jailed by Police

Two of four automobile casings stolen from H. G. Harris on the Iowa Park road on the night of Oct. 1 were recovered by A. E. Roberson, city plainclothes officer, and Homer Bentley, city motorcycle officer, Friday morning on North Broadway street.

The tires were found on an automobile, the owner of which is being held in jail for investigation.
