DECORATIVE—SO SHE'S DECORATED

Dancing is just as popular under the republic as it was in the old days of the kings in Spain. The decorative La Terasina, below, is the present toast of the nation and President Alcala Zamora recently awarded her a medal of merit for her dancing.

Tech Grads And Exes In City For Homecoming

Slightly over 100 reservations had been made at 11 o'clock this morning for the Tech home-coming luncheon to be served at the Hilton hotel at noon. A large number of out-of-town grads and exes had made reservations, according to Miss Mamie Wolffarth, secretary of the alumni association. W. E. Street, alumni president, is presiding at the luncheon.

Members of the college board of directors, President Bradford Knapp and other college officials were to be special guests.

The visitors will attend the Baylor-Tech football game this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A home-coming dance at the college gymnasium will climax the annual affair.

Baylor exes were also having a luncheon at the Hilton today, nearly a 100 having reserved plates for the affair. Vaughn Wilson, county attorney, is toastmaster.

RED CROSS TO START DRIVE

GOAL OF 2,000 SET FOR LUBBOCK BY ORGANIZATION

Annual Roll Call drive for membership in the American Red Cross is to start Saturday morning, Rev. Walter P. Jennings, secretary of the Lubbock county chapter, announced Friday, with K. L. Riggs as roll call chairman. Mrs. J. S. Johnson is chapter chairman.

"The goal for Lubbock county is 2,000 members," Rev. Jennings said. "We hope that we can attain that figure."

Headquarters Set

"Chairman Riggs has a group of 40 to 50 workers who will make a thorough drive all over the city for members. Headquarters will be in an office on the ground floor of the Citizens National bank."

During the past two years the American Red Cross has sent to Lubbock county more than $7,000 worth of merchandise for relief work.

This past summer and fall, 11,000 yards of cotton cloth, outing, shirting, sheeting and prints, have been received for distribution to the needy. Two car loads of flour also has been received here by the local chapter. Carlton Benson is distributor at the commissary of the local group.

ICE MEN PLAY SANTA

HOUSTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The ice man in Houston is going to act as Santa Claus for poor children this Christmas. A group of ice men have taken it on themselves to collect broken and discarded toys at homes on their daily visits. They are having the toys repaired.

JOURNAL COMES OUT EARLY FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Due to observation of a half-holiday for Armistice Day, The Evening Journal press time was stepped up to noon today.

The circulation department will receive any reports of non-delivery up to 6 p. m. and any special deliveries made thus essential will be made.

No Journal deliveries will be made after 6 p. m. Friday.

MRS. FERGUSON'S LEAD IS REDUCED

DALLAS, Nov. 11. (AP)—The lead of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, successful Democratic candidate for governor, over Orville Bullington, Republican nominee, was reduced slightly by overnight returns to the Texas Election Bureau.

A tabulation at 9 a. m., today gave Mrs. Ferguson 360,854 and Bullington 215,568, a majority of 145,286 as compared with 146,538 on the 6 o'clock report of the bureau last night.

However, the national Democratic ticket continued to gain this morning, Franklin D. Roosevelt showing 478,214 and President Hoover 63,998.

The latest tabulation was from 198 out of 254 counties, with 58 complete.

Abernathy Editor And Wife Parents

ABERNATHY, Nov. 11 (Special)—Vic (Old Archibald) Lamb, editor of the Abernathy Review and Mrs. Lamb are the parents of a baby girl born Tuesday, November 8. She has been named Ann Kathleen.

TRIBUTE PAID TO UNKNOWN SOLDIER

WORLD PAUSES TODAY TO HONOR DEAD OF PAST WAR

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—In the soft silence of Arlington cemetery's historic hills, the nation and capital today renew their homage to the unknown soldier, on the fourteenth Armistice anniversary.

Dedication of the newly-finished tomb that replaced the plain marble slab under which the unknown was laid to rest in 1921 and a memorial tribute to Woodrow Wilson under the vaulted arch of the national cathedral are parts of the observance.

Preparedness Stressed

The day was looked on by Louis C. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, in a speech prepared for delivery at the tomb, as emphasizing a necessity for preparedness.

"Loyalty to our departed comrades makes us stress this necessity for a reasonable arming and preparation," was Johnson's expression, continuing later to add:

"The young manhood of America that went forth a decade and a half ago to represent this country on the field of battle have erected a monument to themselves that shall live as long as the history of this nation is perused."

Hoover In California

President Hoover, not yet returned from California, had issued his Armistice day message in advance, but sent Secretary Hurley to lay the annual wreath which has hitherto been placed upon the tomb by a president's own hand ever since the unknown soldier was buried there, eleven years ago today.

Forty-eight wreaths, from the American Legion posts of the forty-eight states, joined in the dedicatory exercises with that of the president.

No previous dedication of the tomb has ever been made, the understanding being that it would

Railroads To Ask Rate Continuance

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—The railroads of the country will shortly petition the Interstate Commerce Commission to continue the "emergency" ten per cent increase in freight rates authorized by the commission last year.

The roads decided to take this step at annual session of the association of railway executives here Thursday. The session of the association followed an earlier meeting of advisory council of the association.

ARMISTICE DAY PARADE HELD

SHORT CEREMONY IS HELD AT COLLEGE BY LEGION

BY BOB McCALL
Journal Staff Writer

Some of them marched again this morning, the men who went to war in 1917-18, and this afternoon many of them will wrap themselves in sporty blankets at Matador field to see a younger generation in a gridiron skirmish in which spiraling balls will be projectiles and off-tackle thrusts will mean "over the top."

Led by the natty khaki clad band of service battery, 131st field artillery, of the Texas National Guard, a three-block-long parade moved from City hall block about 9:55 oclock this morning, went southward to the courthouse square, rounded three sides of it, and proceeded westward on Broadway to the Texas Technological college campus, where a flag ceremony was conducted.

Post To Attend Game

The afternoon's principal event in Lubbock this Armistice day is the Texas Tech Matador-Baylor Bear football game, which will begin at 2:30 o'clock. Allen Brothers post, No. 148, of the American Legion, which sponsored the parade, has announced it will attend in a body.

Legionnaires attended a reveille breakfast at 6:30 o'clock this morning in the Hilton hotel. Comic epi-

Bill To Levy Tax On Oil Considered

AUSTIN, Nov. 11 (AP)—A bill to levy a graduated tax on oil production was ordered printed on minority report by a vote of the house of the Texas legislature late Thursday. It had been given an unfavorable report by the committee on oil, gas and mining.

The bill would levy a graduated tax on the value of the oil produced, starting at two percent on production to ten barrels and reaching a maximum of ten per cent on production in excess of 75 barrels. The tax would apply to daily production from each well.

HURRICANE IS DEVASTATING OVER ISLE

WIDE STRIP PROSTRATE BY WIND; THOUSANDS ARE REFUGEES

BY J. P. McKNIGHT,
Copyright, 1932, By The Associated Press

CAMAGUEY, Cuba, Nov. 11.—A wide strip of Central Cuba lay prostrate today amid the devastation of a tropical hurricane that left an estimated 1,300 or more dead in its path.

Camaguey province, the richest growing province of the nation, bore the brunt of the storm. Milling men said they believed the cane crop had been virtually destroyed.

Drowned In Wave

Most of the dead were drowned in a tidal wave that swept the Caribbean port of Santa Cruz Del Sur. The hurricane whipped a wall of water 20-feet high through the town and hundreds of the 4,000 villagers were trapped in their homes.

Elsewhere through Camaguey and adjoining parts of Santa Clara and Oriente provinces, the destructive winds damaged dozens of cities and towns and leveled vast areas of cultivated lands.

Estimates of the dead varied because it was impossible to obtain

FOUR KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

AGED COUPLE, WOMAN AND CHILD DIE; GIRL INJURED

(By The Associated Press)

KEMPVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 11.—Four persons were killed and another was injured so seriously that little hope of recovery was held when their airplane crashed in a woods near here about last midnight.

Two of the dead were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Hirt of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. A young woman, presumably their daughter, and a boy about 5 years old were the others killed. The injured was a girl of about 4 years. The children were believed to be grandchildren of the Hirts.

Dr. C. W. Robinson, who was with the searching party that found the demolished plane in the woods on the edge of a steep hillside, said four of the occupants apparently had been killed instantly. The little girl was unconscious and it was feared she suffered a concussion of the brain.

The plane landed at Sky Harbor, near Nashville, yesterday afternoon from Chicago.

"ELECTRIC PALATE" IS LATEST OF INVENTIONS; CAN DETECT TASTES

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Invention of an "electric palate," a new meter which detects certain fundamentals of flavor in food, was announced last night by the Westinghouse company.

The meter, measuring one-millionth of an ampere, or one-tenth the power of a house fly's wing, detects electric currents constantly flowing in fruit, drinks and meats. It reveals an unending profusion of such currents.

Tests Ripeness

It indicates the acidity and ripeness of fruit, saltiness of meats and acid contents of tea and coffee.

The meter, called an electrynx, and smaller than a baseball, was invented by R. C. Hitchcock, electronic engineer. It is a cylindrical object, a dial on one face and two needle-like legs on the other.

When these needles are thrust into an unripe apple, Mr. Hitchcock said, the electric current is high. When the apple is ripe the current becomes low. Rot is shown by a rising current.

Tech Directors Meeting Today

MEMBERS GUESTS AT ALUMNI LUNCHEON IN HILTON

Directors of Texas Technological college arrived this morning for a business meeting, a football game and a luncheon with homecoming alumni, it was announced at the college shortly before noon. Every director was on hand.

The directorate's first business session got under way a little before 11 o'clock but members were to stop at noon to gather with Tech-exes in their annual homecoming luncheon.

Chairman Clifford B. Jones, of Spur, said the business meeting would be resumed at 1 o'clock but would be halted again in time for the board to attend the Baylor-Tech grid combat in a body. Most of the business matters to come up today are purely routine, Mr. Jones said.

Wilbur C. Hawk, Amarillo newspaperman and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; D. A. Bandeen, Stamford, manager of that organization; State Senator-elect Arthur Duggan, Littlefield; State Representative-elect John N. Thomas, Tahoka, and C. A. Jones, Los Angeles, were guests at the board sessions. Mr. Jones is the father of the board chairman.

Directors, other than the chairman, include Houston Harte, San Augelo; Roscoe Wilson, Lubbock; R. A. Underwood and Riley Strickland, Amarillo; Thomas Johnson, McKinney; John W. Carpenter, Dallas, and Major General John A. Hulen, Ft. Worth.

President Bradford Knapp and Business Manager W. T. Gaston, of the college, also met with the board.

News Of Armistice Told In Papers In Local Man's Trunk

Copies of three newspapers, carrying datelines of November 11 and November 12, 1918, and giving details of the signing of the armistice were dug from an old trunk this morning by W. L. Smith, of Lubbock.

The papers are the St. Louis Times, the Ft. Worth Record and the Amarillo Daily news.

The papers filled their entire front pages and practically all of the inside ones, too, with armistice news and reports of the flight of the Kaiser.

Top front age banner on the St. Louis paper was "Germans Forced Beyond the Rhine By Armistice"; the Amarillo paper announced "Germans Fully Crushed" and the Ft. Worth Record "Germany's Sword Broken Into Bits."

NEW RECORD IN CORNHUSKING SET BY LEFT-HANDER

GALVA, Ill., Nov. 11. (AP)—Out of the gumbo mud of an Illinois corn field has emerged a new American corn husking champion.

He is Carl Seiler, 29-year-old, left-hander who boasts that no mechanical corn pickers have been used on his father's farm near Oneida, Ill.

Forty thousand persons watched Seiler win from 17 other contestants by husking 36.914 bushels in 80 minutes—a new national record. The previous high of 35.8 was held by Elmer Williams of Henry County Illinois.

Walter Johansen, Audubon county, Ia., with 35.2 was the runnerup, while Clarency Maley of Minnesota, with 35.142 was third.

Excitement was so high that two women fainted.

TREASURY RECEIPTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Treasury receipts for November 9 were $76,995,171.18; expenditures $85,363,742.85; balance $693,896,351.34.

NEXT SESSION OF CONGRESS MAY ACT

LEADERS OF BOTH DRY AND WET FACTIONS PLAN FIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—As late returns continued to pile up a big anti-prohibition majority in the new congress, wets and drys were marshalling their forces for a battle royal at the coming short session.

Post-election day figures also augmented the margins by which eleven states approve anti-prohibition referenda, nine of them repealing either their constitutional or statutory dry laws to join the six states previously without any prohibition statues whatever.

Short Session to Forego

Senator Borah, Republican prohibitionist from Idaho, expressed to newspapermen the opinion the short session beginning next month would leave untouched the present prohibition set-up.

Saying he had not changed his views on prohibition and that he was ready to fight now and in the next congress to retain the dry statutes, the Idahoan added he had never before seen a controversial question disposed of at a three-month's sitting of the congress.

Vote Is Sought

On the other hand, house and senate Democrats continued to predict enactment of beer legislation at the short session, or at least a vote on the subject.

Senator Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, said: "I believe the question of modification of the Volstead act will be out of the way by Christmas. The pending business in the senate will be the Glass resolution submitting to the states the repeal of the 18th amendment, and it is probable that this resolution will be acted upon within ten days after the senate convenes."

Views Are Asked

In a letter addressed to every member of the present house and to every representative-elect, Rep. O'Connor, Democrat, New York, sought individual views on the form modification legislation should take.

With only a few congressional districts yet to report, election returns late today showed that on the basis of classifications made by anti-prohibition organizations 340 members already elected to the house favor repeal or submission and 27 in the senate. Counting holdovers the senate lineup shows 51 for

Barley Futures Trading Revived After Nine Years

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 11—Barley, a foundation stock of beer, Thursday was recalled from a nine-year exile by traders on the Chicago board of trade.

Apparently believing that modification of the Volstead act to permit the manufacture of beer was imminent as a result of Tuesday's election, traders gathered around the small rye pit as the gong boomed to start the day and quickly began dealings in barley. It was the first time in nine years that future deliveries of barley had been traded in on the exchange.

Prohibition Cut Demanded

Barley was fairly active in the days when a great amount of the grain was used for beer. With the advent of the Eighteenth amendment, demand began to lag and eventually trading was discontinued by common consent.

The first deal completed was for barley to be delivered next month. The initial price was 25 cents a bushel. Bidding was brisk, however, and the grain quickly ran up in price. The final sale was at 29 cents with 29 1-2 cents bid just before the close.

Directors of the board of trade will meet next Tuesday to consider a change in the grading of barley. The present requirements were said to be based almost entirely on export and feed requirements, rather than on malting types. The malting types have been quoted in Milwaukee daily for many years.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Fair, frost in southeast portion tonight; Saturday fair, somewhat warmer in northwest portion.

EAST TEXAS: Fair, colder in east and south portions, frost to the coast except on extreme west coast, freezing in north portion tonight; Saturday fair. Light to moderate northerly winds on the coast.

ARKANSAS and OKLAHOMA: Fair, continued cold with frost and temperature below freezing tonight; Saturday fair.

FOR GARNER AND ROOSEVELT, IT WILL MEAN GETTING JOBS THEY WANTED BUT THEIR WIVES WILL BE LOSING THEIRS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—For the men of the winning ticket, March 4 will mean getting the jobs they wanted; for both their wives it will mean quitting the jobs they have loved.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who has long combined official hostess duties with personal career in about fifty-fifty proportions, will make but a partial sacrifice—her salaried teaching position.

Loses 30-Year Post

But Mrs. Garner will lose her entire $325 per month salary and the work in which she has been engaged for thirty years—secretary to her husband with her special task the correspondence with the Texas constituents.

As vice president, Garner will have no Texas constitutents, whatever work she does for her husband from March 4 on will be unremunerated, done "just for the love of it."

Both women will put off the inevitable relinquishment until the last possible moment. Mrs. Roosevelt continuing to teach civics and modern history the first three days each week in a private school for girls; Mrs. Garner working early and late in her homey office on the first floor of the capital through the short session.

While Mrs. Roosevelt has announced her intention of continuing the second of her salaried jobs, editing a magazine, Mrs. Garner must perform the social duties of the vice-president's wife.

In times past, these duties

Reunions, Luncheons, Parties And Other Socials Are Inspired By Armistice

Regular Club Parties Are Booked For Women's Societies; Tech Is To Dance

With football games holding much of the attention today, the holiday is to be an occasion of festivity and visiting.

With many high school students in Pampa for the game or visiting at other points with their families, college students have remained in Lubbock for the home-coming game at Texas Technological college. Morning hours were party hours for these collegians who had late breakfasts, dancing and other affairs to precede the game this afternoon. Several of the campus clubs had planned events for the late morning hours. An all-college home-coming dance will climax events this evening at the college gymnasium.

Luncheons for Baylor and Texas Tech exes were to draw other people at the noon hour. A number of former students of the two institutions are among the visitors in the city today.

Have Regular Parties

In spite of the holiday occasion, several Lubbock women are continuing with their regular club programs. Members of the Fellowship club are to play games of forty-two this afternoon at 3 o'clock as guests of Mesdames A. T. Biggers and J. C. Hardgrave in the Hardgrave home, 2418 20th street. The Friday Needle club is to meet with Mrs. J. C. Stansell, 1714 Broadway, at 3 o'clock and the Friday Night Readers group is to meet at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. D. T. Jennings, 2122 16th street. Mrs. J. T. Howell is to be the other hostess.

With women from the class of Harry Blocker attending for this occasion, the First Presbyterian Stephens Memorial class is to have a monthly social gathering at the church this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The two groups are to make aprons to be given to Mexican girls in a school at Taft for Christmas.

Other events of today and this week-end will include dancing at the Country club in the evening, a Las Leales open house at the C. E. Maedgen home Saturday evening and a Sans Souci dance at the Country club Saturday evening.

The Lubbock Music club has scheduled a regular program for 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Hotel Hilton.

Occasions Changes

Armistice Day has occasioned several changes in club routines. Because the Sanders school is closed today, the Sanders Aid society will not meet this afternoon, it has been announced. The society will meet at the school next Friday afternoon in regular program, however.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club, who meet regularly on Friday evenings, changed this week's business session to Thursday afternoon at 6 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock. Fifteen were at the meeting.

Names of four new members were announced. These are Misses Pauline Parker, Adelia Anderson, Margaret Weeks and Hallie Carlton. Mrs. Viola Long made a report on the 10 year objective, a program that has been adopted by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women. An annual Christmas party and other activities of the club were discussed. Reports were heard from chairmen.

Meet For Reunion

Among the events inspired by the holiday today is an Edwards family reunion at the A. N. Gamble home, 2402 20th street, this city. Mrs. Gamble's mother, Mrs. J. C. Edwards, of Slaton; two brothers, Curtis Edwards and John Edwards of Waco, the latter a Baylor University football player; a sister, Mrs. G. R. May, Mr. May and their children, and a brother, Earl Edwards, Mrs. Edwards and their family of Floydada; another sister, Mrs. W. L. Holloman, Mr. Holloman and their children of Slaton, are all here for the event.

Miss Emily Davis, 1724 Main street, is entertaining following the game this afternoon with a coffee at her home. Members of La Vivarachas and several special guests have been invited to this affair.

Centaur club members are entertaining with a supper at their house, 2406 Broadway, this evening as a courtesy to alumnae members who are here for the game. This is a stag organization at Texas Tech college.

The campus gymnasium will be the scene of a home-coming dance from 9 until 12 o'clock this evening.

Honoring alumni members and visitors in the club house, 2609 19th street, the Wranglers are entertaining with a dinner tonight. Joe Fawcett and Milton Harber are to furnish musical numbers.

Miss Elizabeth Adams, teacher in the Seagraves school, is to attend Tech home-coming activities and will be the week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Adams, 1420 Broadway.

Boy Passes a Year in Coma

Exactly one year ago on the 21st of October Joe Huggins, then 8, was stricken by sleeping sickness and went into a coma. He has never been conscious since. But physicians now believe that time may effect a cure and that he may suddenly awaken. Joe is able to open his eyes now, something he couldn't do a few months ago, although he doesn't see what is going on around him. Here you see the unconscious boy being fed with goat-milk, his only food, by Mrs. J. T. Rider. She took Joe into her Memphis, Tenn., home when his father was unable to care for the boy.

TECH SUPPORTERS RALLY LAST NIGHT AROUND BONFIRE

As pajama clad freshmen circled the pyre, a huge pile of wood and pasteboard boxes was fired about 8 o'clock last night on the Texas Technological college campus while hundreds of Matador supporters hoped the Baylor university Bears would wither on the gridiron today like fuel before the flames. It was the second bonfire on the campus in 15 hours.

Wholly unexpected, the first collection of combustibles gathered on the campus flared up at 5:05 o'clock Thursday morning only a short time after a group of student guards had left the scene.

Enthusiastic over the prospect of today's Matador-Bear clash here and confident of the bullfighters' ability, students, ex-students, alumni, and townspeople attended a noisy rally in the gymnasium preceding the fire. While flames from the huge torch were settling, about 150 Texas Tech freshmen, still wearing their pajamas, paraded downtown.

George Dupree, Lubbock attorney, was principal speaker at the pep rally.

The crowd roared its applause for five minutes when Dupree told them that Texas Tech had "the greatest football team in the United States."

With all other gymnasium lights turned out, Dupree stood in front of a large double "T," lighted with red bulbs. He discussed football in general, and the prospects of Tech's becoming a Southwest conference member.

Cheers were led by Rob O'Hair and Bob Walker and Chas. Landers, the frosh pep leader.

The attendance was swelled by many ex-students who will be here for the annual home-coming today.

After early morning burning of a 25-foot stack, students were aided by the city, officials sending a collection of pasteboard boxes and other kindling from the rear of city stores to the campus.

1932 Bridge Club Is At Party Thursday

Mrs. Jimmy Alls, 1917 Avenue N, entertained for the 1932 Bridge club Thursday afternoon in her home. Autumn flowers were floral decorations. Mrs. Raymond Painter scored high in the games and Mrs. Edward Blackwell was second high. Other guests were Mesdames Ernest Wisdom, Milas McCoy, Douglas McGehee, Doyle Jordan, Ray Johnson, Aubrey Woodfin, Huddleston Wright and J. P. Hudson.

Miss Pauline Warren of Dalhart is a week-end visitor in Lubbock.

Mrs. J. T. Shaver Is Speaker For P-TA

"Books for Children" was the subject discussed by Mrs. J. T. Shaver at a meeting of the K. Carter Parent-Teacher association meeting Thursday afternoon at the school. Children in the room taught by Miss Dimple Watson presented a playlet. Musical numbers were played by Mesdames S. E. Cone and Gettys Tucker.

Delphian Meeting Is Held On Thursday

on November 30 instead of on Thanksgiving day, since the regular meeting falls on the latter date. This decision was reached Thursday afternoon at a meeting at Hotel Lubbock. The program was on "The Greek Romance" and was presented by Mesdames R. D. Moxley and Calvin Henson.

MRS. HERRELL IS BURIED THURSDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Flora Herrell, 49, a sister of Mrs. W. P. Florence of Slaton, were conducted at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Presbyterian church at Slaton by a Seymour minister. Burial was in Englewood cemetery at Slaton.

Mrs. Herrell died late Wednesday night in a hospital here after a short illness. She lived here, and a daughter, Miss Ida Lynn Herrell, is a Texas Technological college student.

Other survivors are another daughter, Mrs. A. K. Boyd of Sudan, and two brothers, R. C. Spinks, of Vera, Tex., and M. J. Spinks, bookkeeper at the Methodist hospital in Dallas.

W. P. Florence is a Lubbock county commissioner-elect.

Federation Closes Annual Convention

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 11 (AP)—The thirty-fifth annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, which produced three important changes in organization policy, ended here late yesterday.

The Federation had voted to extend the term of its president from two to three years, to have the retiring president automatically become director in Texas for General Federation, and to hold state conventions hereafter in May rather than in November.

The latter action meant that some six months would be cut from the term of Mrs. J. W. Fincher of Houston, president, since elections are held in conventions and thus will fall, in the last year of her term, in May rather than in November. She was elected last year.

Supported By Presidents

The move to change the convention date, inaugurated and adopted unanimously, was supported by seven district presidents. They were Mrs. Bob Barker of Fort Worth, Mrs. A. S. Lewis of Dallas, Miss Elizabeth Phillips of Tyler, Mrs. J. L. Brock of Bryan, Mrs. Alex Adams of San Antonio, Miss Carrie Reaves of Brownwood and Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon. It was adopted by a vote of 89 to 22.

Mrs. Fincher protested that it came as a complete surprise to her and that it would upset the "whole routine" of the organization.

Mrs. Brock, on behalf of district presidents, insisted it was a wise move because those presidents are elected in April, and "can't really take charge until after the state convention. Having that convention in November, she added, had meant the loss of "practically the entire club year" to the incoming district officers.

Mrs. Fincher, remarking she had not been consulted in the matter add that "this seems to be a convention of surprises."

The next convention probably will be held at Austin but the city will not be definitely chosen until the board of directors meets in January.

Mrs. D. J. Wilhelm and daughter, Amy Gladys Wilhelm, and Marion Turner left this morning for Crowell where they will be the week-end guests of Mrs. James R. Self.

The little Girl who wouldn't
EAT
When a youngster has no appetite, it's probably due to stasis. A little syrup of figs will soon correct this condition—then watch the child eat.

Nature knows best! Never coax a child to eat! Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite—get rid of stasis. Children who don't eat are sluggish. Not to correct this is inexcusable. It is so easy to do, if you will only use the "California treatment." Read what it is doing for listless children in every part of the country!

When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, don't give small children any constipating cathartic that drains the system and weakens twenty feet of tender bowels! California syrup of figs is the only "medicine" they need!

Sluggishness ended in 2 Weeks!

That girl or boy with a furry tongue and a bad breath should not be dosed with salts! California syrup of figs will gently stimulate the colon muscles—and the child you used to coax to eat will fairly devour his food, digest it, gain weight.

Try the California treatment! Begin tonight, with enough of the pure syrup of figs to cleanse the colon thoroughly. Give less tomorrow, then every other day, or twice a week until the child's appetite, digestion, weight, complexion, tell you the stasis is gone.

Be sure to get the real California syrup of figs. Any druggist has it, all bottled, with directions. It's a natural, vegetable laxative. Just as good for babes of two years as boys of ten. They all love its taste!

NOTICE TO MOTHERS
There are imitations of California Syrup of Figs and those who would sell you some substitute even when a child's health is concerned. Don't ever take any bottle that is not plainly labeled CALIFORNIA.

BAPTISTS ARE TO CONVENE

ABILENE PREPARES TO ENTERTAIN 5,000 AT ANNUAL MEETING

ABILENE, Nov. 11. (AP)—This city is preparing to entertain approximately 5,000 Texas Baptists and their friends during the week of November 14 at the 84th annual general convention of the denomination.

Many prominent leaders of the church in Texas, and several from the Southern Baptist convention are to have parts on the program, that, in the words of Dr. Lee Scarborough, convention president, includes "taking care of 10,000 young men and women, hundreds of preachers of our nine important educational centers, looking after the interests of 700 parentless children, of hundreds of aged preachers and thousands who will soon become aged and helpless."

Women To Meet

The convention is to open Wednesday, November 16 for three days. Preceding the convention proper, however, will be a one-day women's conference, and a two-day pastors' and laymen's conference that are expected to draw hundreds of workers from all parts of the state.

Among important business slated to come before the convention proper will be reports on evangelism and baptisms during the year, the co-operative campaign of the church, as well as on the special Baylor college fund, and the missionary emergency fund for home and foreign missions.

Goal for the state in the co-operative campaign during September and October was $200,000, and the year's objective for Baylor college at Belton was $150,000. The emergency fund for Texas was set at $40,000 by convention time.

To Report On Drive

Report on the Baylor campaign is to be heard on the opening day of the convention, and that night Simmons university here will have an hour on the program, under plans for the tentative program, outlined subject to adoption by the convention. Three feature sessions are on Thursday's slate. Morning meeting includes an address by C. E. Maddry, secretary of the promotional committee and secretary-elect of the foreign missions board of the Southern Baptist convention, Nashville.

The afternoon session includes an address by Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor university on "civic righteousness," and at 8:30 a report is to be made on foreign missions, followed by an address on the subject by Dr. W. R. White, Fort Worth pastor, former executive secretary of the convention.

Dr. Sampy To Talk

Friday's sessions include an address by Dr. John R. Sampy of Louisville, Ky., on the Southern Seminary and the Baptist Bible institute, and one by Dr. Scarborough on the Southern Seminary.

An address by Dr. George W. Truett, Dallas pastor and one of the church's outstanding leaders in the south, Friday night will conclude the convention.

Host church will be the First Baptist, joined by University Baptist and others, with all convention sessions slated at the First Baptist building. Dr. Millard A. Jenkens is host pastor.

Many Ducks Being Shot In Hardeman

QUANAH, Nov. 11 (AP)—Early morning hunters are bagging many ducks in Hardeman county since the season opened November 1st. Lake Pauline, the 1300 acre body of water four miles east of Quanah on Highway 5, is the scene of much bombarding at dawn, and many of the fowl are being brought in by the gunners. Nearly every tank, pond and stream in the county has some of the birds, and it is a matter of choice which direction the hunter selects for his morning outing.

A piece of bread placed on a custard while it is baking will keep it from becoming watery.

Heart-Break

Smiling happily and apparently completely recovered from the depression attendant upon his divorce from Ann Harding, Harry Bannister, well-known stage and screen actor, is shown as he attended the opening of a new night club in New York. With Bannister is Fay Marbe, also well known on stage and screen.

HIS WIRES CROSSED

COLUMBUS, O.—Forrest Lewis, 40-year-old negro, walked into the Columbus Fuel Supply Co., and attempted to steal 30 feet of heavy copper wire. As he did so he unknowingly picked up the wire connected to a burglar alarm, setting it off and bringing police to the scene. They captured him with the loot in his arms.

"TUNNEL OF THE DEAD" HELPS SOLVE LEGEND OF MIRACLE ARMIES OF PAST

(By The Associated Press)

OAXACA CITY, Mexico, Nov. 11.—The exploration of an ancient "tunnel of the dead" under Monte Alban today was apparently helping solve a Zapotec legend of miracle armies that appeared or disappeared at will.

The legend is that more than 500 years ago during the Mixtec Zapotec wars for control of this section of Mexico, there were many battles around Monte Alban, the center of Zapotecan culture.

The tale relates that Zapotec armies, when hard pressed, often dissappeared as if by magic and reappeared at the enemy's rear, or wherever convenient to surprise him.

Dr. Alfonso Caso, government archaeologist, discovered the "tunnel of the dead" early this week, his third such discovery in recent months.

He noted today that the mouths of these tunnels are very difficult to find and the tunnels themselves are very small near their entrances, becoming larger under the mountainside.

His tracings of the tunnels to date indicate they may all be connected under Monte Alban, and the whole territory literally honeycombed with these engineering works of the ancients. If so, he mystery of their original use would be solved and it would be clear that they were used to transport Zapotec troops in secret, so they could appear where needed.

The third tunnel, it was found yesterday, was later used as a burial tomb for warriors of some race, probably the Mixtecs who finally won Monte Alban. Yesterday a skeleton was found, and with it small quantities of gold, red and white onyx beads and an ornate funeral urn. Other skeletons wete found earlier in the week.

Meanwhile, work proceeded on main "tomb No. 10," which Dr. Caso believes may yield great treasures, like those taken from Tunnel No. 7 in January. The January find was hailed as the greatest in America.

The archaeologist are unable to find an entrance to Tunnel No. 10. The plaster walls and outer floor work that characterize all these Mixtec tombs are proving difficult material, and work must needs be slow to prevent destruction of rare art.

NEW RACKET

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—A man and a woman left a punch board in the store of Purbis Briner, Habelton, Ind. Fifteen minutes later a man entered and asked to play the board. On his first punch he got a number which entitled him to $15 worth of merchandise. As he walked out with his bundles, Briner became suspicious. He discovered that the couple had planted a marked board with him and that a friend had followed and punched the lucky number.

Okla. A. & M. To Battle Jefferson

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (AP)—Each confident of victory, the invading Oklahoma A. and M. Aggies and the local Jefferson university Rangers rested today in preparation for their game tonight at fair park stadium.

Jefferson, undefeated and untied this season, is at the peak of condition for a hard battle. The Oklahoma Aggies, undefeated but tied by Tulsa university, led the Missouri Valley conference race, and rule a slight favorite over the Rangers. It will be the supreme test of the season for the Rangers and if they win, hey will be in line for a major post-season game here Christmas day. A crowd of about 15,000 is expected to witness the game.

From the extreme south point of Texas, due north to the boundary of the United States, the air line distance is about 1600 miles.

BULGARIAN HONESTY

SOFIA—Bulgarians are turning once more to the "God'sloan," a simple method of lending money. Such a transaction involves neither promisory note, witness nor interest. The borrower promises to return, on a given date, a little more money than he received and in very few instances does the borrower break faith.

"WELL" DONE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Whilst tramping through a field in search of a liquor cache, Deputy Charlie Calhoun walked into a dry well 14 feet deep. He climbed from the well unassisted, and discovered 41 gallons of rye liquor near the well. His only injury was a small cut on the back of his hand.

SCHOOL CRISIS IS TO BE DISCUSSED

TEAGUE, Nov. 11 (AP)—Representatives of the Central Texas Schoolmasters' club, East Texas Schoolmasters' club, and Southeast Texas Schoolmasters' club meeting at Fairfield arranged a joint program for the three organizations for an evening meeting on November 19 in Palestine. Three prominent speakers will lead in fifteen minute discussions and six or eight others will lead in four minute discussions. The theme for the meeting is "Our Present School Crisis and Ways Out."

It is expected that some two or three hundred business and professional leaders will meet around the banquet board where they will view and discuss the present pressing school problems.

Superintendent H. O. Whitehurst, Groesbeck; P. D. Brown, Fairfield; Bonner Frizzell, Palestine; Principal G. H. Blackman, Humble; Larue Cox, Jacksonville and Prof. R. L. Bunting, Sam Houston State Teachers' college, comprised the committee representing the three organizations.

Three Bandits Rob San Antonio Hotel

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Three armed bandits yesterday entered the lobby of the Plaza hotel and robbed employees and guests of $215 in cash and a $35 ring and made away with $700 worth of unsigned travelers checks.

Two of the men entered the lobby from a side entrance while a third remained outside as lookout. The men forced H. C. Ray, assistant manager, C. C. Raborn, clerk, and F. F. Snyder, a bellboy, to hand over $14 in cash from their pockets. Meanwhile Diana Lea and Sam Demarr, dancers at the Plaza roof garden, entered the lobby and were forced to surrender a $35 ring and $2 in cash.

Lumber Is Shipped To Foreign Ports

BEAUMONT, Nov. 11 (AP)—A heavy movement of lumber to foreign ports has been taking place from Port Beaumont. Recent shipments included 1,560,000 feet of pine lumber, 806,000 feet of pine timber and 641,000 feet of hardwood, all cut from forests in the Beaumont district, for distribution in Europe, while one ship took 236,000 feet of pine timber for the West Indies.

The lumber will be distributed in Italy, Spain, England Belgium, Holland and Germany.

A foreign born person can become a member of the president's cabinet, providing he is a United States citizen.

"Bourbon Brook" is the name residents of Saugus, Mass., have attached to the stream from which George H. Blood, a local man is shown taking a sample. Analysis by the Massachusetts State Department of Health show the water to have a strong alcoholic content. So going on the water wagon here doesn't mean much.

Man Marries, Then Rushed To Prison

LONGVIEW, Nov. 11 (AP)—Fifteen minutes after Jess Nolen, under a 15-year sentence on a robbery with firearms charge, had been [illegible] to Ruby Lee French in the Gregg county jailyard here yesterday, he was shackled and hustled off to Huntsville to the state penitentiary to begin serving his sentence.

Tom Henderson, justice of the peace, performed the ceremony. Jess' brother, James, also under a 15-year sentence in a companion conviction, was best man and left for Huntsville with the groom.

CAMPAIGN PLANNED

LONGVIEW, Nov. 11 (AP)—An intensive rate extermination campaign throughout Smith, Rusk, Upshur, and Gregg counties will be conducted from November 14 to December 10. The fear of typhus fever becoming epidemic has led the East Texas oil field area to wage war on the carriers of the disease. Trained workers of the U. S. biological survey will be in active charge of the campaign.

AVIATION AT FAIR

CHICAGO—Aviation's exhibit at the World's Fair to be staged here next winter will be quite extensive. In addition to the many manufacturers' displays, there will be model air transport demonstration flights, using the latest and largest types of flying boats, from the lake front site near the Travel and Transport Building.

DIZZINESS
relieved by Black-Draught

"I decided to take Thedford's Black-Draught, as I had been having billious spells," writes Mr. Chas. E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get billous, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That, to me, is a very bad feeling." Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

BAYLOR BEARS HERE FOR ARMISTICE DAY CLASH WITH TECH

T. C. U.-TEXAS CLASH IN SOUTHWEST GRID SPOTLIGHT

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

If the Tech Matadors are successful in handling the Baylor Bears this afternoon, a post-season football game for Pete Cawthon's crew is practically certain.

The Matadors will be big favorites to smash Simmons and the University of New Mexico in the two remaining games if they beat Baylor today, thus finishing the regular season with eleven victories and one defeat. That lonesome defeat shouldn't be there. We cannot explain it. Tech should have beaten Texas A. and M. at Amarillo, and those who saw the game will tell you likewise.

Centenary and the Texas College of Mines are seeking a game in December with Texas Tech. Cawthon has not said he would accept the offer of either. Kansas Wesleyan also seeks a post season game, but the Matador professor is looking for bigger game, game which will provide a good game and a big gate.

Lubbock's Westerners were greeted in Pampa yesterday with the sight of an inch of snow and several potential inches which were still falling late yesterday. Another freak of West Texas weather. Here at Lubbock it was one of the most beautiful days of the season, while snow fell heavily at Amarillo and Pampa. Word from Pampa late yesterday indicated that dope favored the Westerners, due partly to the fact that about four of Coach Odus Mitchell's regulars were on the injured list. How come? They haven't played Tech yet?

Don't lay too much store in these reports of injuries. Half of them aren't half as bad as they're said to be and the other half is exaggerated, like the unfriendly reports about Tech.

Here's tomorrow's schedule of 50 outstanding college games. A number of big games are being played today, but these below are listed for tomorrow. Colleges in caps are the department's selection as winners:

That takes care of Saturday's games. Since this is being written several hours before any of today's games start, we are passing along the suggestions that Tech will smear Baylor, that Texas and T. C. U. will battle to a tie, that Lubbock will barely nose out Pampa, that the Parris Island Marines will trounce Bowdon, that Kalamazoo will topple to Alma and that dear old Chillicothe Business college will beat Haskell Res., also that old Tusculum will play old Milligan to a 2-2 tie.

BEARS ADD HALFBACK

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Chicago Bears of the National football league have added John Doehring, a southpaw halfback, to their roster. Doehring comes from Milwaukee, and played at Kentucky Military institute, and Illinois Military academy.

WACO ELEVEN'S LINE MATCHES TECH CREW

BAYLOR PLAYER HURT LAST NIGHT; GOOD CROWD EXPECTED

Greeted by a big gathering of students, fans and bands the Baylor university football squad and a couple of handsful of Waco rooters arrived in ubbock this morning for the game this afternoon between the Bears and Texas Tech Matadors. The occasion is Tech's annual homecoming.

Coaches Morley Jennings and Botchey Koch brought 26 players to Lubbock. They started with 27, but an automobile collision in Waco last night as the Bears were traveling from dormitory to railroad station preparatory to leaving for Lubbock caught Murrell Freels, regular fullback, who was critically injured.

Freels was taken to a hospital where he bled profusely from a severed artery in his arm.

BAYLOR	POS.	TECH

Lines To Feature

Today's game, starting at 2:30 o'clock, finds two great lines opposing each other. The Baylor line is known to be tough, and Tech's line has shown signs of toughness, too.

The game this afternoon features Texas Tech's annual Homecoming day program, and is also a feature in Lubbock's Armistice day celebrations.

Color Prominent

Tech's flaming scarlet uniforms will have their counterpart in Baylor's flashing green suits this afternoon, adding to the color of the battle. Baylor's suits are said to be similar to Tech's except in color scheme.

Tech coaches and players would have been grateful for another day or so of practice. As it is, they are in high spirits, keyed up to top notch and mentally ready. Whether they are physically prepared remains to be seen this afternoon. They have had three days for hard work and one day of lighter exercise.

Respect For Baylor Line

It is with a wholesome respect for Baylor's great line, through which no Southwest team has been able to gain consistently all season, through which Texas university gained a total of about 25 yards last Saturday, that the Matadors take the field this afternoon.

Particular attention has been given to getting off punts in rapid and high style, against Baylor's fast charging line. The return of Adrian Clark, whose punting played a big part in Tech's victory over S. M. U., to the starting lineup this afternoon gives Tech a punting threat. If Clark fails, big Leonard Curfman will be there to help out. Yancy Price, regular end, will match wits and punting ability with Baylor's great Frank James when Cawthon sends his regulars on the field.

With a center in Captain John Edwards that is said to be the best in the conference, and with guards in Norton and Clem that tip the scales at 200-pounds each, the middle of Baylor's line is well nigh impregnable. Therefore, Tech plans to match pass for pass and try the overhead game. Baylor has indicated that it will take to the air today. Fans should see a wide-open passing game nearly all the way.

An Eye To Mr. James

Frank James, one of the leading candidates for all-Southwest honors at end, will be the man in the corner of Tech's eye today. They say he's a hard man to handle, the best punter in the conference and a whing-ding on offense and defense. What else could a man be?

Baylor's backfield combination of Pearce, Price, Parks and Wells may not be the best in the Southwest, but it has a passing attack that has threatened many times to win ball games. Baylor matched Texas' four first downs with four more in last week's game. Mr. James has been known to shag a few long heaves.

Jim Tom Petty is Baylor's other end, and from all reports, he's something of a whiz himself. Jim Weatherby and Bennie Clark are two other reasons why Baylor's line is respected.

Moffett Directs Regulars

Speedy Moffett will direct Cawthon's regulars today, with Harold Crites, Lefty Sollis and Mac McElroy associated with him. Elva Baker and Juicy Owen, 200-pound tackles, have been assigned to the regular team today to give more weight to the line. Yancy Price and Matt Hitchcock at ends, Captain Ayers and Toby Greer at guards and Lester Tribble at center comprises the rest of the regular team.

Baylor students and ex-students who accompanied the Bears to Lubbock or who drifted in for the ball game are to be feted with a dinner at the Hotel Hilton at noon today, carrying out the homecoming motif to the visitors.

STAGG MAY TAKE UP FARMING OR MISSIONARY WORK

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 11—Amos Alonzo Stagg, the University of Chicago's football coach, may become Amos Alonzo Stagg the farmer or missionary, if a coaching position does not present itself when he is retired next June.

At a banquet last night given by Maroon alumni for the team which meets Michigan Saturday, Stagg hinted at what he may do next year. He already has been offered the position of chairman of the committee on intercollegiate athletics, created for him when his retirement was announced, and has tentatively accepted it.

However, he said he had been offered the opportunity of doing missionary work in the west, and might accept.

"I came into the west to do my work at Chicago, and perhaps could go west again," he said. "I still have the missionary spirit within me."

He revealed that there is a farm owned by the Stagg family and that he might have a go at farming.

LUBBOCK HIGH FACES PAMPA TODAY

OUTCOME OF CONTEST HAS BEARING ON DISTRICT RACE

(Special To The Journal)

PAMPA, Nov. 11—Battle lines of Pampa and Lubbock High school football teams were drawn up here today and the Harvesters and Westerners prepared to enter one of the most important tilts of the District 1 race in the Texas Interscholastic league.

The Westerners arrived yesterday to find a heavy layer of snow on the field. This afternoon's contest promises to be a muddy affair. A special train of Lubbock rooters followed the Westerners, arriving today at noon. They were accorded a big welcome by Pampa fans.

The Westerners, because of their rapid improvement since the start of the season which gave them top-heavy wins over Borger and Plainview in conference games, are favorites to beat Pampa, according to local dopesters. The Harvesters will be handicapped by injuries which may keep four prominent players completely out of the lineup. Captain Jim Poole is one of the injured players. Powell, Fullingim, Walker, Hamilton and Sullins, all injured in the game with Capitol Hill at Oklahoma City, are not likely to see much service.

Loss Would Stop Pampa

A Lubbock victory today will eliminate Pampa from the district race, and make the Lubbock-Amarillo game at Butler Field on Thanksgiving day the championship tilt. Neither Lubbock nor Amarillo has been defeated in conference play. Should Pampa win, Lubbock would be tied for second place with the Harvesters, and a Westerner victory over Amarillo, thereby throwing the race into a three-way tie, would be necessary to keep Lubbock and Pampa in the running.

Chapman intimated that he would start Rufus Ryan, quarterback; Bill Davidson and Tol Terrell, halfbacks, and Truman Hutson, fullback, in the backfield with Possum Blackwell and Richard Godeke, ends; Robert Hale and Captain Louis Spear, tackles; Hugh Newton and Bob Vaught, guards and Chester McCarty, center. Mitchell would not hazard a guess at his probable starting lineup.

Barney Ross Meets Goldie Hess Tonight

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Barney Ross, young Chicago 135-pounder, will engage in a bout calculated to further his candidacy as challenger for Tony Canzoneri's world lightweight championship when he meets Goldie Hess of Los Angeles tonight at the Chicago stadium.

Ross' most recent and constructive step in his campaign was a decisive ten round decision over rugged Bat Battalino at the stadium last month. If his work that night was a good sample of what he can do, Hess probably will take a similar beating in tonight's ten rounder.

The prison population for each 100,000 persons decreased from 119 in 1880 to 95 in 1932.

THOUSANDS TO SEE ELEVENS IN COWTOWN

SOUTHWEST TITLE IS AT STAKE; BOTH TEAMS EVEN

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Southwest conference football public, having digested reams of sports page copy relating just how completely each team expects to demolish the other, flocked to the Texas Christian stadium today to witness the Armistice day gridiron war between the Longhorns of Texas University and the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian.

Having worked hard all week in preparation for the game, the Longhorns and Horned Frogs tapered off with light drills yesterday, enjoyed a peaceful night of rest and woke up to find the weather cold, the ground dry and thousands of fans waiting for Referee Fortier to blow the whistle that sent these two teams against each other in the southwest's most important football combat.

Things About Even

There was little to choose between the two clubs as they trotted from under the stadium to the gridiron. Both had three conference wins and no defeats. Their game today breaks the leadership deadlock unless it terminates in a tie. On a full season campaign, Texas Christian was undefeated, but did play a 3-all tie against Louisiana State. On the same basis, the University of Texas has been defeated once, by Centenary college.

Powerful charging lines with plenty of beef opposed each other today. Backfields capable of accomplishing most everything backfields are supposed to do, installed confidence in both teams.

Dan Salkeld, senior end, was not a probable starter because of injuries. Otherwise, the Christians presented an all-senior lineup against the Longhorns. Myers, replacing Salkeld, is a junior.

Probable starting lineups:

TEXAS	POS.	T. C. U
Earl	L E	Myers
Blanton	L T	Boswell
Braly	L G	Evans
Smith	C	Townsend
Cook	R G	Vaught
Moody	R T	Howell
Bibby	RE	Pruitt
Clewis	Q B	Brannon
Hilliard	L H B	Oliver
Stafford	R H B	Spearman
Koy	F B	Sumner

Fortier (Washington State) referee; Minton (Indiana) umpire; Fouts (Baylor) head linesman; Moore (Texas A. and M.) field judge.

RICE OWLS BATTLE AGGIES AT KYLE FIELD

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 11. (AP)—The Rice Institute Owls, a good traveling team, and the Texas Aggies, terrors on their home soil, pitted their good and bad points against each other here today.

The fact that the Owls previously had made their best showing this year in foreign games, beating Southern Methodist at Dallas and Arkansas at Fayetteville, encouraged their followers to hope they would continue the practice. The well-known penchant of the Farmers to battle harder when attacked on Kyle field, however, made most people chary of forecasting the outcome.

Game Important To Rice

The game was more important to the Owls, in some respects, than to the Aggies. A victory for Rice meant getting back into the Southwest conference championship tussle, that is, in the event Texas Christian defeated the Texas Longhorns at Fort Worth. A loss spelled a final season average estimated by sports writers as not likely to exceed .500.

Probable starting lineups:

Rice	POS.	Aggies
Richardson	L.E.	Connelley
Hinman	L.T.	Jordan
Michelson	L.G.	Woodland
Harris	C.	Nolan
Lagow	R.G.	Maxwell
Lauterbach	R.T.	Irwin
Knight	R.E.	Cummings
Driscoll	Q.B.	Domingue
McCauley	L.H.	Williams
Thrasher	R.H.	Barfield
Nicholson	F.B.	Spencer

Officials: Harry Viner (Missouri), referee; Hal Winters (Ohio State), umpire; Jack Roach (Baylor), head linesman; Cooper Kinney (Miss. A. & M.), field judge.

INTERCOLLEGIATE FOOTBALL LOSES ONE OF ITS WISEST COUNSELLORS

BY HERBERT W. BARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Intercollegiate football lost one of its wisest counsellors in the death of Edward Kimball Hall, yesterday, at his home in Hanover, N. H.

For more than a quarter-century he had been a dominating figure on the national football rules committee, a powerful influence in the correcting of conditions that led to the two major crises the game has faced in that span.

First, in 1906, when football was in danger of being thoroughly discredited because of the uninteresting mass plays and the unsportsmanlike actions of the players, Hall was summoned to the newly-organized rules committee to bring about, through changes in the code, a new era in which the emphasis could be placed on speed and intelligence rather than the brute strength that then was intercollegiate football.

Then again last year, he was a leader in the fight to make the game safer for the players after an unprecedented list of deaths and injuries had precipitated another crisis.

The dangers that faced the game in 1906 were overcome in a few years by closed supervision, strict enforcement of the rules, the introduction of new plays, especially the forward pass, that "opened up" the game and made it a much more interesting spectacle to the public.

In just as drastic fashion, did Hall and his fellow-members of the rules committee take steps last spring to reduce injuries. The flying block and tackle were barred, the use of the hands by defensive linemen was curbed, a new "dead ball" rule was adopted to prevent "crawling," the substitutions rule was liberalized, and changes were made in equipment specifications.

Thought For Today

For to him is joined to all the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion.—Ecclesiastes 9:4

Long life is denied us; therefore let us do something to show that we have lived.—Cicero.

The Real Curse

American newspapers have seldom carried a stranger or more pathetic story than the one they drew out of Pottsville, Pa., recently.

This story was a little one-paragraph affair about the life and death of John Connor.

Connor was born 69 years ago in the county poorhouse. He lived there all of his life, of his own choice. When he was little he was sent to school, but the other children jeered at him for being a pauper and he refused to continue; when he became of age he begged poorhouse authorities to let him stay in the only home he had ever known, and he worked the rest of his life on the county farm to pay for his keep.

And the other day he died in the poorhouse, and now he has been buried in the potter's field.

Things like this, apparently, will happen now and then no matter how prosperous a nation may be or how thoughtfully it tries to take care of its unfortunates. The day when even the most unfortunate of children gets a fair shot at a good life will be the day of the millenium.

But the picture which this little story of John Connor creates is enough to make us heartsick.

It tells about a man who had somehow, through the cruel pressure of circumstance, become something less than a man. Life had him beaten before he even knew that he was in a fight. Somewhere, in those years of childhood—and how unutterably painful they must have been—something vital was knocked out of him. Those 69 years in the poorhouse were simply the shadow of a life, the thin and distorted reflection of human existence as it ought to be.

And there, in the last analysis, is the real tragedy of all poverty. Poverty brings pain and suffering and hunger and deprivation—but those, after all, are things that can be endured. They are things some men have even heroically invited. What makes poverty a curse is that it destroys life itself. It reduces its victim to a machine for eating and sleeping. It is a thing that must always stir a thinking man to the profoundest indignation.

Flapper Fanny

It takes more than a dose of soda to cure a sour disposition.

That Girl on Broadway says if you don't like the present just wait a little while and it will become the past.

"Do your neighbors borrow much?" one lady asked another.

"Do they borrow? Why," was the reply, "I feel more at home in their house than I do in my own."

THE State Board of Education is very logically giving a lot of time and thought to the state's educational problems.

Since that is the duty and function of the board, its members must be commended for their activity.

* * *

Because of economic stress which has attracted more than usual attention to public expenditure of all kinds, many citizens are persuaded that something radical must be done in the matter of regulating public education in Texas.

The phrase "duplication of effort" is being worked to death.

Proponents of the "let's change" system are crying long and loudly for changes but The Plainsman wonders if they are giving as much thought to the good of public education as they are to merely changing the established custom.

SPONSORING, for instance, the placing of all state educational institutions of higher learning under a single board of directors is The Dallas News, which takes its lead from Mr. Chas. A. Jay, an economist employed by many of the state's big business concerns.

The News apparently has not looked very deeply into the proposition or it would know that unpaid college board men already are giving as much time as they can to running the various colleges. Uniting the state's institutions under a single board would be to ask too much of generous citizens—as well as to give one board more work than it could possibly do.

Here's another angle to the proposition.

The suggestion has been made, roughly, that the state colleges divide their curricula.

In other words, agriculture would be chiefly taught at A. & M.; law and medicine at the university; education in the teachers colleges; textile engineering at Texas Tech—and so on.

That would be a very brilliant move, particularly for the South Plains or Northwest Texas boy who wanted to be a farmer in his home section and had to go to College Station, in the gumbo country, to get it.

Soil and climatic conditions are more similar to Northwest Texas in Nebraska than they are in Brazos county, where the very fine Texas A. & M. is located.

* * *

WHAT would happen under the Dallas News-Jay plan would be a forcing of every state college in Texas to become a subservient department of the University of Texas.

Proud of the university's prowess, The Plainsman hasn't 'got it in' for the Austin institution at all—or for any other college in Texas.

But there is room in this state for more than one great school—or more than three, for that matter.

It's all right to be economic in public affairs and interested in improving educational institutions but it isn't all right when changes work against the best interests of the youth and the future of the state.

That Man on Avenue Q says many people wonder why they don't get along while they're just trying to get by.

A teacher in the local system swooped down on her youthful target and collared him in a jiffy.

"Willie!" she commanded. "Give me what you've got in your mouth!"

"I wish I could," groaned Willie. "It's the toothache!"

THERE has been some criticism of the decision of the City-County Welfare association to withhold public charity from everyone not residents of the city or county for a year's time.

It is noticeable, however, that the criticism is not coming from taxpayers who are ready to help Lubbock county to do its share by the unfortunates but not to accept the responsibility for all West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

The Plainsman is for the new plan.

"Cast Poor, Play Was Worse" Would Be Criticism Of The 1932 Presidential Campaign As Drama; Audience Agrees

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—If political writers performed the function of dramatic critics they would now be reporting the close of perhaps the sourest season which it had ever been their misfortune to cover.

Those in the audience are likely to agree. There are always dissenters, of course but most of the voters who think the 1932 campaign was perfectly swell are either friends and relatives of the actors or become ecstatic on the ground that the villain got it in the neck as the last curtain fell.

Dutcher

Briefly—

Not more than one of the four principal characters could be described even as "adequate" by any imaginative stretch. The supporting cast was weak. The setting was so built as to endow the whole opus with a drab and futile aspect.

The lines, for the most part, were dull and uninspiring. And an unprecedented number of spectators became so suspicious of the present tendency of this form of art that they wanted to tear down the theater and build a new one on different lines.

Perhaps no two presidential candidates ever entered a campaign with such a low sum total of personal popularity. Anyone who saw them chosen for their parts at Chicago early last summer will recall the very low ebb of enthusiasm which prevailed.

And it can hardly be said that either ever did much to correct the general impression.

The last days of the campaign found one candidate weaving about the stage rather desperately, mumbling dire threats that the roof would fall in if the audience didn't stop giving the other male lead all the applause. And the other candidate was playing the part of the handsome, smiling hero, just highhatting the other candidate and displaying no other especial prowess.

As for the vice presidential candidates, no campaign ever produced a more pathetic pair.

Charlie Curtis went campaigning and apparently he never got his name in print except in the local newspapers of the town in which he happened to be appearing.

Jack Garner, the smarter of the two, got much more publicity because so many folks thought he was even more of a liability to his party than Curtis and because Jack carefully laid his plans so that there might be a wide and furious discussion as to just what had become of him. True, Jack made one speech and issued a statement now and then, but the Democrats were forced to answer the attacks upon him with the defiant query: "Well, what about Curtis?"

Posterity, fortunately, will have a higher opinion of this campaign than it really deserves. Posterity will be spared the experience of listening to the final speeches and thus can never realize just how bad they really were.

Posterity, living in a more enlightened age, probably will refuse to believe that any group of candidates and supporting speakers had the nerve to assail 120,000,000 people with the type of campaign to which we have listened this fall.

But despite the hopes of those who decided to help swell the "protest vote," the same type of show may be repeated in years to come.

The old-fashioned politicians of both major parties, it seems, are like the Bourbons—who never seemed to be able to learn anything, or to forget anything.

Il Duce Remembers

TURIN, Italy—Premier Mussolini has a long memory.

While he was visiting here a priest stepped up to him, and to the astonishment of Il Duce's entourage, said to the premier:

"I am cold. Give me a blanket."

A smile broke slowly over Mussolini's face. He grasped the churchman's hand and, to the added perplexity of his attendants, answered:

"I was indeed very cold."

The priest's words had taken him back 15 years to the time when Corp. Benito Mussolini, badly wounded, found a friend in this same Don Bernardo Chiara. It was Mussolini then who said: "I am cold. Bring me a blanket."

"I am very glad to see you again," said the Duce this time to Don Bernardo. "You did bring me the blanket and I did very much need it."

Happier Days Seen By James A. Farley

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Declaring "no man or set of men has a mortgage" on Franklin D. Roosevelt, national Democratic Chairman James A. Farley expressed a belief that "the dawn of happier days will not be long delayed."

"It is one of the blessings of the present situation," Farley said, "that the governor becomes the president without any committments of any kind. I mean this literally. No man or set of men has a mortgage on him or on his opinions, or on his acts. No bargains were attached either to his nomination or to his election."

Reception Planned In Garner's Honor

LAREDO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Congressman John N. Garner has been invited by the Laredo Chamber of Commerce to attend a grand international reception to be held here in his honor any time up to December 1. The president of Mexico and governors of Mexican and American states will be invited to attend the reception. Mr. Garner was first nominated for congress at Laredo 32 years ago.

IT'S GOING TO BE PLAIN, ORDINARY MRS. ROOSEVELT AT THE WHITE HOUSE

BY LORENA HICKOK
(Copyright, 1932, By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 11. (AP)—"If I wanted to be selfish," said Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, "I could wish that he had not been elected."

The voters settled that matter Tuesday, however, and on March 4 Mrs. Roosevelt will acquire the title bestowed upon her so often in the last few months by the toastmasters.

No "First Lady"

"I suppose they will call me that," she said, "but there isn't going to be any 'first lady of the land.' There is going to be plain, ordinary Mrs. Roosevelt, and that's all."

She was smiling, but the expression in her eyes was serious.

"I never wanted it," she said, "even though people have said my ambition for myself drove him on—even that I had some such idea in the back of my mind when I married him.

"I never wanted to be a president's wife, and I don't want it now. You don't quite believe me, do you? Very likely no one would—except perhaps some woman who has had the job. Well, I don't anyway.

Glad For Him

"For him, of course, I'm glad—sincerely. I couldn't really have wanted it to go the other way. I am a Democrat, too. Being a Democrat I believe this change is for the better.

"And now—I shall have to work out my own salvation.

"I am afraid it may be a little difficult. I know what Washington is like. I've lived there. I shall very likely be criticized. But I can't help it."

The next mistress of the White House has two salaried jobs. One of them she is going to keep. The other—the one she likes best—she is going to give up.

Mrs. Roosevelt will continue as editor of "Babies—Just Babies." March 1 she will discontinue her teaching in the private school for girls of which she is assistant principal and part owner.

Hates To Do It

"I hate to do it," she said. "I wonder if you have any idea how I hate to do it. I've like it more than anything else I've ever done. But it's got to go.

"For one thing, I don't think it would be fair to the pupils for me to keep on. I've managed these last four years, since we've been in Albany, but I realize that the job in the White House will probably make much heavier demands than the job in the executive mansion made.

"I'm going to keep my interest in the school, though. I hope to get up here every two or three weeks and meet and talk with the parents, as I've always done. And perhaps occasionally some of the girls can come down to see me in Washington."

"Another Matter"

The magazine "Babies—Just Babies," Mrs. Roosevelt explained, is "quite another matter."

"I'm under contract there," she said. "The contract was signed months ago, with my husband's consent. I have the absolute say as to what goes into it—advertising, as well as editorial matter. The work does not require so much time as the teaching job takes.

"I went into it because I wanted money. I have a small income of my own, but I need more money to do a lot of things that I like to do. They're not important things at all. Just things that give me fun."

Among those "things," according to Mrs. Roosevelt's friends is giving money away. Not in large sums to organized charities, but directly to people who need help. Sometimes it runs into hundreds of dollars. Sometimes it is a $5 bill. On herself she spends little. Recently she wore on a trip to Boston a dress that cost $10.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B.C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded off a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B.C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. JOHN N. GARNER'S LIFE : : : : Sketched by R. J. Scott

Like many another American prominent in politics, John Nance Garner, Democratic speaker of the house of representatives, was born in a log cabin. At Blossom Prairie, in Red River county, Tex., on Nov. 22, 1868, he made his debut into the world.

There were Garners and Nances in Virginia before the revolution. They began leaving the east in 1803; some sailed down the Ohio river in flat boats, on their way to the unsettled western territory. One branch finally settled in northeastern Texas.

As a boy, John Nance Garner was greatly handicapped by poor health. It was not until he left his teens that the effect of out-of-doors life strengthened him and enabled the youth to hunt, fish and ride horseback. He eventually acquired rugged strength.

John Nance Garner when he first ran for congress.

His early schooling was at his mother's knee; it was she who taught him his alphabet and grounded him in the rudiments of spelling. When he began to attend school John had to walk three miles to the country school, a small, unpainted building in a clearing.

The territory surrounding Garner's home was in undeveloped country, frequently traversed by bands of Indians. As the children recited their lessons to the schoolmaster they often could see whole tribes passing through the forest, just outside the windows.

As the boy grew older he did his share of chores on his parents' farm. There were cows to be milked, stock to be fed, planting to be done in the spring and harvesting in the fall. He rode horseback to inspect fences, and became an expert horseman.

OLD MURDER IS RECALLED

CROSBY COUNTY CASE OF 1920 FIGURES IN SHELBY COURT

A murder which occurred more than 12 1-2 years ago was recalled here as a result of a request by Sam Cates, charged with burglary in Shelby county, Tex., that he be given a suspended sentence. Cates was convicted of murder in 72nd district court here and a 14-year sentence was imposed on him, court records show.

That was disclosed when Charles B. Metcalfe, district courts clerk here, received a letter from County Attorney Wardlow Lane at Center, Shelby county, asking for certified copies of cases in which Cates figured in Crosby and Lubbock counties. The court clerk's office was preparing the copies Thursday.

Denies Conviction

Cates swore he never had been convicted of a felony in a first burglary trial in Shelby county, the county prosecutor said. Authorities here learned from the United States bureau of identification that Cates had a criminal record. A jury in the Shelby county trial was unable to agree, and another trial is set.

Temporary court victories are not new to Cates either. He has escaped confinement at least twice by direct methods also. He escaped from Lubbock county jail while awaiting trial. He got out of the state prison at Huntsville, April 10, 1923, and was recaptured the same day.

Charged with the murder of J. W. Burton in Crosby county, March 8, 1920, in an indictment returned May 20, 1920, by a grand jury, of which Pink L. Parrish, now a state senator, was foreman, Cates first was tried in 72nd district court in Crosby county. He received a 99-year sentence and the state court of criminal appeals reversed the case. The second trial was in 72nd court in Lubbock county. Cates was dealt a 14-year penitentiary term, and had an additional two years to serve as a result of a trial for forgery in Crosby county.

W. R. Spencer was 72nd district judge then; Gordon B. McGuire, now 106th district court judge, was 72nd district attorney.

When Cates broke jail here, a second appeal was pending. He now is charged with burglary of a wholesale house at Center.

fruit and vegetables," said Mr. Hitchcock, "may be able to keep the flavors of their products at a given standard with this instrument, because it will be possible for the samplers at orchards and fruit exchanges to select raw products more scientifically. With further development it may be that the whole system of sampling and testing will be affected."

Fruit with a very sour taste registers a higher current than a sweet fruit. Of those tested California lemons went highest, with 19 points on the dial, Italian lemons were second with 15 and oranges were lowest with five and one-half."

Vegetables registered like fruits, but no general averages have been looked for yet in the vegetable kingdom.

May Abolish Custom

"Other tests," said Mr. Hitchcock, "were with the acid condition of the mouth, the palm of the hand, the hair and other parts of the body. It is predicted that with further development of this apparatus the days of sticking out your tongue for the physician may be past."

The needles are only touched to the tongue or the body, without penetrating the skin. The readings appear to register body acidity and alkalinity. If this proves a fact, the meter may be found useful in determining the "Ph" of living things. The "Ph" if the scientific term for the universal condition of men, plants and animals, which requires them to maintain an extremely fine balance between acidity and alkalinity. Even small departures from this narrow zone mean illness or death.

States Approve Measures

Meanwhile, additional election returns increased the margins by which 11 states approved anti-prohibition measures. They were Louisiana, Michigan, New Jersey, California, Washington, Oregon, Colorado, Arizona, North Dakota, Connecticut, and Wyoming.

All but Connecticut and Wyoming whose voters expressed themselves against federal constitutional prohibition, voted to repeal state constitutional or statuory dry laws.

In formal statements, F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, and Matthew Woll, chairman of labor's national committee for modification of the Volstead act, took opposite sides of the prohibition outlook.

"If the party (Democratic) misinterprets th eelection as a mandate for beer and a demand for repeal it need not hope to succeed," McBride said.

"We are confident of modification in the short session and our organization is bending every effort to assure that result," Woll said.

BELGIUM'S UNKNOWN WARRIOR HONORED

BRUSSELS, Nov. 11 (AP)—Armistice day was observed throughout Belgium, the chief interest centering in the ceremony at the tomb of the unknown warrior in the capital, which was attended by the royal family and representatives of the government.

HOMAGE IS PAID TO HEROES IN FRANCE

PARIS, Nov. 11 (AP)—The booming of cannon, the shrill notes of the bugle and the sharp click of hobnailed boots joining at "attention" preceded France's one-minute of silence on Armistice day today, the fourteenth anniversary of the end of the World war.

As in the past, the French army had the honors of commemoration, and it started by rendering homage to the unknown soldier under the Arc De Triomphe De L'Etoile in Paris.

The tombs of Marshals Joffre and Foch in the Invalides were banked with flowers.

The veterans of foreign wars paid tribute to American dead in the cemetery at Suresnes. Later wreaths were laid on behalf of the city of Paris at the home of Clemenceau in Rue Franklin, and on the "Tiger's" grave at Colombier Vendee.

SOLEMN CEREMONY HELD IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—A solemnly majestic ceremony at the Cenotaph this morning marked England's Armistice day remembrance.

King George, for the first time since his illness which followed a chill at the 1928 Armistice day ceremonies, laid a wreath at the base of the sad symbol. His son, the Duke of York, laid another.

As always, the most dramatic moment of the ceremonies came at 11 o'clock. For two long, hushed moments the packed thousands stood so still and silent that the cries of birds and the muffled rumblings of trains in the subway could be heard.

communication with many remote parts of the stricken provinces.

First definite news of the disastrous tidal wave was brought from Santa Cruz Del Sur by a train filled with injured villagers. After talking with them authorities here estimated the Santa Cruz dead at between 1,300 and 1,800.

The police department of Camaguey estimated the Santa Cruz death list at 1,300; Mayor Humberto Rodriguez of Camaguey said he believed 1,500 had perished, and Manuel Dupuy Aguilera, a Santa Cruz survivor, thought 1,800 had been drowned.

Refugees Aided

Camaguey turned from her own destruction this afternoon, to give aid to the refugees from Santa Cruz. The few hospitals here already had been taxed by the local emergency, so the Florida railway boxcars, the hotel Inglaterra, numerous homes of the wealthy, the Carmen convent, and empty buildings were prepared for emergency hospital work.

Three trains, each bearing scores of injured, had arrived by 2 a. m., today. Authorities were busy throughout the night sorting out the critically hurt for hospitalization. Throughout the night doctors were operating on the injured by candle light, the power plant here having been seriously crippled.

260 Bodies Brought In

The last train this morning brought word 260 bodies had already been buried at Santa Cruz and that hundreds of corpses were lodged in trees and debris. Sanitary conditions were declared serious, and sanitary officials were ready to order cremation of the remaining corpses tomorrow.

Another nine car train bearing 450 more injured was due here later today.

The hurricane, which had been lashing its way around the Caribbean for a week, struck Santa Cruz early Wednesday morning. It cut a diagonal path northeastward through Cuba, leaving from the neighborhood of Nuevitas on the northern coast. Today, slowed by its overland passage, the disturbance was going through the Bahamas.

GROVESVILLE TO HOLD GATHERING

Lubbock musicians will appear on the program of a monthly meeting of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau federation tonight at Grovesville school house.

Giant Plane Here—On a barnstorming tour, four pilots from the Dallas School of Aviation are at Lubbock municipal airport with a tri-motored 14-passenger Ford plane, which will be available for rides day and night, today, Saturday, and Sunday.

The men, F. C. Harmon, R. L. Lowry, Ben Proffit and E. B. Pettit, came here from Amarillo where they have been the last few days.

The plane, which has a gross weight of 10130 lbs., has a wing spread of 78 feet and is a little more than 50 feet in length. W. C. Breedlove, manager of the airport, said that there has never been a larger plane at the port available for passengers.

A complimentary trip honoring W. H. Rodgers, city manager, A. B. Davis, manager of the chamber of commerce, Charles A. Guy, publisher of the Avalanche-Journal and their families has been offered for Friday evening at 7 o'clock. This party will go up as special guests of Mr. and Mrs. Breedlove.

In The Courts—Two guilty pleas and a jury conviction were had in Lubbock county court Thursday.

J. F. Bumpass, who pleaded not guilty of aggravated assault, was convicted and fined $25 and costs. Ruby Brown, charged with theft, changed her plea of guilty during the trial. She was fined 1$ and costs of $22.40 by Judge E. L. Pitts. W. E. McClendon was fined $1 and costs after he had pleaded guilty of passing a worthless check.

Negro Held—Accused of levying $15 "hush money" from $36 a negro woman allegedly picked up after a white man lost it in The Flats, local negro quarter, a Lubbock negro was held by authorities here late Thursday. County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson indicated the nature of a complaint contemplated against the negro man had not been determined.

sodes of "somewhere in France," related at a post meeting last night, were resurrected again.

Parade units and the crowd at the college campus paused silently from 11 to 11:01 o'clock, in memory of those sacrificed on war's red altar before the principal nations of the civilized world loosed death grips at 11 o'clock, November 11, 1918. The flag was raised to full staff, a 21-gun salute to the dead was fired by National Guardsmen, and the flag was lowered to half staff for the rest of the day.

Celebration of Armistice day began last night with dances and private affairs. Breakfasts, dances, and other social events were scheduled for today, which is Homecoming as well as Armistice day at Technological college.

Business Suspended

Banks, Retail Merchants association member-agencies, union barber shops, public offices and other places of business were closed today The postoffice was closed at noon

Capt. Harvey J. Thornton and Col. Charles A. Davis, both of the United States army, directed the parade and the flag ceremony, respectively.

Units which were to be in the parade, which had nearly all them, were:

The band, the American Legion, World war veterans, the American Legion auxiliary, Confederate veterans and United Daughters of the Confederacy, Spanish War veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Gold Star mothers, Disabled American Veterans, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, service battery of the 131st field artillery of the National Guard, battery C of the 131st field artillery of the National Guard, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Camp Fire Girls.

TRIO CHARGED IN COUNTERFEITING

One of three men charged in cotton thefts, Fred Baldwin was free today in bond of $500 and $750 on two charges. The three men, one a negro, were charged Thursday in complaints filed in county court by County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson as a result of investigations by the sheriff's department of theft of Lubbock county seed cotton.

Baldwin was charged with receiving and concealing cotton obtained through S. B. (Shafus) Beard, a negro, and Joe Choate. Baldwin was charged with theft of a bale of cotton, valued at $35, from Alex Weaver. Choate was charged with theft of cotton from L. B. Germany. Beard also faced a theft complaint.

Two negroes, who had not been charged, were held in jail today as officers continued the cotton theft investigations. Loss of at least seven bales from Lubbock county fields are unexplained, Sheriff Wade Hardy said.

Texas Extension service at College Station, residing here, and Miss Isla Mae Chitwood, home demonstration agent.

A one-act play will be presented. Residents of County Line will assist Grovesville people in giving the play.

Judges from Lubbock will take note of the program and will check it against the records of other communities that have given programs this year. An award is to be given the community adjudged to be the best in the series.

TEMPERATURE HITS 24 DEGREES AGAIN

For the second time in four days, a temperature of 24 degrees—the season's minimum here—was recorded this morning at Lubbock municipal airport, W. C. Breedlove, manager, said. The mercury was at the 31-degree level there at 9 o'clock this morning, two hours after the lowest point had been reached.

Thursday's temperatures here were 66 and 39 degrees, maximum and minimum, the silvery line of the thermometer skidding through the night. From 66 degrees Thursday afternoon, the temperature had dropped to 39 at 10 o'clock Thursday night at municipal airport. As it was Tuesday, the minimum of 24 degrees occurred at 7 a. m. today. Freezing temperatures had been forecast for today in this region.

Snow At Amarillo

Overcast skies last night indicated that rain, sleet, and possibly snow might visit the South Plains section before the incoming cold snap moved southward. A small amount of snow was reported at Amarillo and Canyon by the South Plains Pipe Line company last night. Amarillo temperature was 34 at 6 p. m., and Plainview reading at the same time was 36 degrees.

Gas Tax Evasion In Texas To Be Fought

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Texas Petroleum Marketers' Association initiated a campaign today upon gasoline tax evasion, which with cigaret tax evasion, speakers asserted, is costing Texas schools $750,000 yearly.

After an address by State Comptroller George H. Sheppard, a committee was named Thursday to work for passage of a proposed law making evasion of gasoline taxes a felony. The committee was composed of Roy B. Jones of Wichita Falls, W. B. Ellis of Hillsboro, Chester A. Slimp of San Antonio, Arthur E. Blohm of Temple, George Irvin of Houston and J. C. Gaither of Fort Worth.

TWO WIVES

have been very heavy socially, and Ettie Garner has been so absorbed in the day's developments under the capitol dome, and in answering the letters of constituents for the last thirty years, she has scarcely glimpsed the social scene.

Only once last season did she don formal evening attire—on the occasion of the speaker's dinner at the White House.

But photographs of young Mrs. Garner before she was completely swept into the compelling current of public events show her in very fashionable attire, with many-plumed hat and distinctive dress.

They Will Be Met

"If there are added social requirements, they will be met," was her pre-election promise.

But she also suggested the social duties of the office might be somewhat simplified, and though sacrificing a paid job, she didn't promise not to give volunteer service.

"Have you ever seen the vice-president's office? I haven't,' she said. "But maybe if you look there sometime you'll find me tucked away, just about every day, darning socks or knitting or something!"

Nor did Mrs. Garner promise to junk her famous coffee-percolator, which bubbling merrily every lunch hour, has enabled her to save working time.

"You may find that coffee-pot somewhere about the vice president's offices too!" she prophesied.

Baptist Men Asked To Meeting Tonight

A meeting of the men of the First Baptist church has been called for tonight, Rev. R. C. Campbell announced this morning in urging a large attendance.

The gathering will begin at 7:30 o'clock and will be held in the third floor of the Educational building.

Village Theater Is Courtroom As Judge Views Film Showing

NORWICH, N. Y., Nov. 11. (AP)—A village theatre became the supreme court last night, and a movie film the evidence as Supreme Court Justice Riley Heath sought to decide a motion in a $150,000 damage suit against the producers of the protoplay "An American Tragedy."

The motion was brought by Paramount Publix corporation, seeking dismissal of the complaint of Mrs. Minerva Brown, of Smyrna, N. Y., who contends she was libelled by the picture. Mrs. Brown is the mother of Grace Brown, murdered by Chester Gillette at Big Moose in the Adirondacks in 1906. Her complaint sets forth that she and her husband were represented in the picture as slovenly and unkempt.

Justice Heath reserved decision after viewing the picture. A private showing was given for him.

YOUR CAR WILL NEED ANTI-FREEZE TONIGHT

EVEREADY PRESTONE

You're right—it's cold. And you need anti-freeze in the cooling-system of your car at once! In unheated garages, and out on the street, cars won't be safe tonight without an anti-freeze. You must act quickly—go to your dealer or garage-man and have him put in Eveready Prestone without delay. Why Eveready Prestone rather than something else . . . ?

BEFORE YOU BUY ANY ANTI-FREEZE,

read these facts

EVEREADY PRESTONE is different from all other anti-freezes — there is nothing else like it.

In developing Eveready Prestone, the laboratories of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation, keeping in mind the requirements of the U. S. Bureau of Standards for an ideal anti-freeze, have perfected a product that satisfies the following specifications:

Eveready Prestone does not boil away. So it does not require frequent renewals, nor does it leave the car unprotected when a cold snap follows warm weather.

The fumes of boil-away products may mar the finish of fine cars. Smelly fumes also make winter driving unpleasant, and inflammable mixtures increase the hazard of accidents. Eveready Prestone is non-inflammable and odorless. It will not affect your car finish. And it is thoroughly effective in preventing freezing.

Eveready Prestone circulates freely at the lowest operating temperatures. Yet it will not "creep." A heavy, viscous fluid, which is not free-flowing, is a poor cooling agent. Other substances in use may "creep"— leak from systems that are watertight, but not tight enough to hold these liquids.

Many products, because of their thickness in the concentrated form, are sold as water-diluted solutions. The cost of canning and shipping plain water is thus borne by the public. Eveready Prestone is packaged as a concentrated product, not water-diluted. It's ALL anti-freeze! You know what you are getting for your money!

NOW REDUCED IN PRICE

Eveready Prestone now comes to you at a substantial reduction in price. Today it offers the safest and most economical anti-freeze you can buy for all-winter protection.

And Eveready Prestone also brings you protection against rust and corrosion. On brass, copper, solder, aluminum and zinc, it reduces the corrosive action of the water in the cooling-system at least 75%. On cast iron, 95%.

Eveready Prestone is approved by all car-manufacturers and guaranteed by National Carbon Company. Put it in — today.

NATIONAL CARBON COMPANY, INC.
General Offices: New York, N. Y.
Unit of Union Carbide UCC and Carbon Corporation

● THIS POPULAR-PRICE CAR, operating in a cold-weather zone, needs only one-half gallon of concentrated Eveready Prestone to protect it all winter long. Cost $2.25. No scale, no corrosion—absolute safety.

If you buy a water-diluted anti-freeze for this car, remember that you are paying for a large amount of plain, ordinary water, as well as for anti-freeze material. The low cost per gallon, therefore, cannot be compared with the cost per gallon of concentrated Eveready Prestone. Obviously, you will need a much greater amount of the diluted product to get the same protection.

If boil-away anti-freeze is used, there must be one-half gallon in the cooling-system every time the thermometer drops to 20° F. Cost (?) . . . it depends on the number of cold snaps. Meanwhile, frequent renewals, checking, trouble and bother.

● THIS MEDIUM-SIZE CAR, in an average-weather zone, needs only one gallon of concentrated Eveready Prestone. Cost $4.45. All-winter protection against freezing, rust, clogging and corrosion.

The cost of enough water-diluted anti-freeze to give this car the same protection cannot be computed unless you know how much anti-freeze and how much water there is in the product you buy. Some brands contain as much as 55% plain water. Low cost per gallon, therefore, means nothing.

If boil-away anti-freeze is used, the cost per season may be a great deal more than the cost of Eveready Prestone. Meanwhile, no certain, sure protection through all weather changes. No protection against rust and corrosion.

● THIS LARGE CAR, operating in a zero-weather zone, needs only two gallons of concentrated Eveready Prestone. Cost $8.90. Complete peace of mind for the owner of a valuable car.

You can buy a water-diluted anti-freeze at a lower cost per gallon, but you will have to buy much more than two gallons to get the same protection. How much more will depend on the amount of water in the product. Therefore, the cost per gallon of such anti-freeze means nothing.

If boil-away anti-freeze is used, two full gallons must be present every time the temperature drops to zero. The cost may easily exceed the cost of Eveready Prestone. Meanwhile, no certain protection against freezing — none at all against corrosion.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the 17th Judicial District Court of Tarrant County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said court on the 27th day of September, 1932, in favor of the Federal Life Insurance Company, a corporation, against H. E. Blocker, Rachel S. Blocker, R. A. Logan, Reynolds Mortgage Company, R. R. Aikin, H. H. Roberts, Nora E. Jones and Roy V. Jones, No. 248TA on the docket of said court, I did, on the 9th day of November, A. D. 1932 at 11 o'clock a. m. levy upon the following described tracts and parcels of land situated in the County of Lubbock and Hockley, State of Texas and belonging to the said above named defendants, to-wit:

Being part of 478 acres known as the S. 3-4 of Section No. 2, Block D, Public Free School Lands, patented to R. L. Johnson, Assignee of J. W. Peeler, January 25, 1924, by patent No. 384, Vol. 21-A, situated in Hockley County; part of 640 acres known as Section No. 3, Block D Public Free School lands in Hockley County, also patented to R. L. Johnson, Assignee, October 8th, 1923, by patent No 84, Vol. 20-A, and part of 157 acres known as survey No. 8, Block D, S. P. 78-90, J. W. Peeler, in Lubbock County, patented to J. W. Peeler, November 12th, 1923, by Patent No. 316, Vol. 20, and being all of lots, or blocks, Nos. 3 and 4 of the subdivision of said above mentioned three surveys according to plats made by Sylvan Sanders, surveyor, October 11, 1923, and recorded in ol 88, page 273, of the Deed Records of Lubbock County, Texas, and in Vol. 7, page 620, of the Deed Records of Hockley County, Texas, to which reference is hereby made; said lots or blocks Nos. 3 and 4, containing 354 acres out of said Sections Nos. 2 and 3 in Hockley County, Texas, and 43.3 acres out of said Section No. 8, in Lubbock County, Texas, or a total of 397.9 acres of land, more or less.

And on the 6th day of December, 1932, the same being the first Tuesday of said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. on said day, at the court house door of Lubbock County, Texas, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all the right, title and interest of the said named defendants in and to said property.

This the 9th day of November, A. D. 1932.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL PLAYS

"THE MINNESOTA SHIFT"

SOME credit Dr. Harry Williams, former coach of the University of Minnesota, with the development of shift plays. His first shift, now known as the "Minnesota shift," was produced in 1909, and had a lot of opposing teams guessing.

It is worked this way: The six forwards line up a few yards back of center, with the backs in formation behind them. At the signal, the linemen "hip" into line, followed by the backs, who take up the position before the play. This position can be either to right or left of center, in order to outflank the opposing defense.

Numerous plays can be worked from this shift, from line bucks and end runs, to passes and trick reverses.

"UNCLE JIM" ROBINSON, CHIEF HOUSE CLERK, CAN BOAST OF LONG SERVICE

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Nov. 11 (AP)—There may be veterans in Texas public life who are proud of their records, but few of them can coast of the record made by "Uncle Jim" Robinson, chief journal clerk of the house of representatives.

Uncle Jim has witnessed the coming and going of many legislatures. He has outlasted even the oldest of the members and plans to keep going "for a spell yet."

Served 20 Sessions

Uncle Jim has been in the employ of the house during 20 regular sessions. Most of that time he has been the chief journal clerk, charged with keeping straight the record of the house proceedings.

In addition to the 20 regular sessions, he estimated that during the two score years he has been around the legislature halls he has worked through at least 60 special sessions, making a grand total of 80 sessions of the legislature that Uncle Jim had something to do with.

This, it is believed, will be something for other veterans to shoot at for years to come.

When Robinson started his legislative career, there were only approximately 90 members of the house of representatives. Since that time the number has increased to the constitutional limit of 150.

Favorite of Pages

Robinson stands over six feet and even at 69 years presents a commanding figure. He is a favorite of the pages who usually crowd around his desk during their spare moments until he sends them off on willing errands.

It has become more or less of a custom for members to greet Uncle Jim the first thing on arriving in the legislative sanctum and inquire about his health and wish him well. He usually puts the "green" members at ease and is always ready with kindly advice—whenever they ask for it.

One of the remarkable things about his record is that the occasion is rare when he has an opponent for his position, despite the usually hot fight over most positions in the legislature. Most persons simply take it for granted that the job of chief journal clerk is Uncle Jim's and that it would be useless to wrest it from him.

"Things just wouldn't seem natural without Jim around to keep our records straight," was the way one member put it.

TEXAS RANGER WHO FOUGHT BAD MEN OF BIG BEND AREA RECALLS FIGHTS

ALPINE, Nov. 11. (AP) —Frank Dalton, 82, who helped clean the last bad men out of the Big Bend country of Texas, recalls that he found plenty of excitement when he quit the United States army and joined the Texas Rangers back in 1877.

In that year Dalton's regiment was stationed at San Angelo. The Indians had been scattered and there was little fighting, so he "quit the army and joined the Texas rangers in hope there would be more action."

Bands Organized

In those days outlaw bands were well organized, and horse and cattle stealing were done on a large scale in Texas. Stock stolen in Mexico would be taken to Wyoming and Montana. Sometimes whole herds would be stolen from ranchmen on the Texas side and run into Mexico. In addition, the country was overrun with bank and train robbers who had been driven out other sections of the country.

"Guarding the vast territory was up to the rangers, and considering how few of us there were, we had a pretty big job of it," Dalton said.

"Most of the crooks and out-laws from other states picked Brewster county as the base of their operations because its rugged typography made it ideal for outlaw dens."

Trailed Bandits

"Our ranger company was stationed at Fort Davis when we got word to be on the lookout for a bunch of Mexicans and white men who had robbed a train near Deming, N. M. So six of us rangers (we were always short handed in those days) saddled our horses and rode out to head off the outlaws. We struck their trail near where Alpine is now located, and followed them into the roughest section of the Big Bend. We came upon them while they were eating dinner about two miles from the Rio Grande.

"When the smoke had cleared away six of the ten outlaws were killed, two were so badly wounded they died later and two were captured. Our casualties were one dead and two badly wounded. I was one of the wounded, and it took me nearly a year to get patched up and ready for duty again.

"Well that was the ranger's life back in the 70's and 80,s".

A ranger not only had to be cool and courageous but he had to have patience and physical endurance, Dalton said. The law-breakers were tough and cunning and many of them ocul rise as hard and shoot as straight as the rangers.

Holm-Made Movie

A momentous moment in the life of a future star is depicted here as Elinor Holm, of New York, already a star of the first magnitude in the aquatic world and one of Uncle Sam's heroines in the 1932 Olympics, is shown the result of her first screen test in Hollywood. Miss Holm recently embarked upon a screen career, but will not swim in her first picture.

Vegetable Shipping Season Under Way

LAREDO, Nov. 11. (AP) — The vegetable shipping season in Laredo district has been started with an initial movement of three car loads. Early november will find shipments of broccoli, beets, spinach, carrots and other vegetables in progress, with carloads moving from Laredo to the various markets of the country. Heavy movements of spinach are not expected to begin until the latter part of November.

The agricultural activities also usher in the season when unemployment will get relief in the Laredo district, as hundreds of labors will be engaged in the harvesting and packing of vegetables, supplmented late in November by the transplanting of the bermuda onion crop from the seedbeds to the open fields. This work will give employment to entire families. From this time until next summer, concluding with the harvesting, sorting, packing and shipping the Bermuda onion crop.

BENNY'S IN AGAIN

TOLEDO, O.—Arrests soared to a new high for Benny Harris, when he refused to let Patrolmen Emanuel Burand and William Grove of the gambling squad enter his store. Within an hour of the above occurrence, he was again arrested for interfering with an officer, bringing his record for the year to 19 arrests. The manager of his store, Claude Wise, 34, was also arrested for interfering.
