

P. T. Jeffus Dies In Car Accident; Charges Filed

P. T. Jeffus, Wellington filling station and cafe owner, was killed early Friday morning, May 15, when he was apparently run over by his own car, in the hands of a stranger, and while he was attempting to help a third man get his car out of the bar ditch.

The accident occurred at about 1:00 a. m., seven miles north of Wheeler on Highway 83. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffus were returning from Mobeetie, where they had attended the graduation exercises in which their daughter, Arletta, received her diploma.

Charges of murder without malice were filed against Emmett Cecil Smith of Hereford, driver of the Jeffus car at the time its owner was killed.

Highway Patrolman J. T. Ellison of Shamrock, who with Sheriff Jess Swink investigated the case, said that the incident which led up to Mr. Jeffus' death, occurred when the car in which Smith and two other men were riding stuck in the sandy bar ditch of the highway. The occupants of a second car stopped to give assistance, and their car, too, became stuck in the sand.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffus and two men riding in a truck came to the scene a short time later, and Mr. Jeffus and two others stopped to help.

While the men were working at the second car which had also become stuck, Patrolman Ellison stated that Smith jumped in the Jeffus car, started the motor, and began to drive off. Mrs. Jeffus screamed, and Mr. Jeffus jumped onto the running board, from where he attempted to push Smith away from the steering wheel.

The car went a short distance down the road, cut across the pavement and bar ditch, and ran through a wire fence. Mr. Jeffus was dragged from the running board and was apparently run over by the back wheels of his own car. The vehicle went on for approximately 50 yards and was Twenty-two tax suits were disposed of by the court Monday and Tuesday, according to J. McBroom, district clerk.

In addition to the tax suits, one civil case was disposed of. Three suits were settled out of court during the time.

The remaining tax suits will be continued, Mr. McBroom said.

The criminal docket will be resumed next week, and the court will also dispose of a few remaining civil cases.

Determined to make this county's Salvage Drive 100 per cent effective, A. B. Mears, county chairman, and Mayor Pink Sullivan announced the appointment of permanent salvage committees for each community of the county.

These committees will function for the duration of the war. It will be the duty of the members to contact their neighbors and have them round up their scrap metal, and to urge them to bring it in to junk dealers.

"Bring in your scrap iron, aluminum, brass and old rubber. Bring it in as quick as possible. There is no way to give it to the government, the thing to do is to sell it through regular channels, then if you wish to donate the money, you may give it to the U. S. O., China Relief, or buy bonds," Mr. Mears urged.

"If you have no way to get in, have your neighbors to bring it—Americans have not lost the ability to cooperate and pool their resources in a common effort," he continued.

The scrap iron must be mixed with new ore to make the steel now needed in the war effort.

Concerning old paper, Mr. Mears pointed out that it was to be saved, but should not be brought to concentration points now, as there is enough for the present. But it will be needed in about two months.

The committees named for each of the communities include:

Kelley: D. C. Camp and F. L. White.

Ring: J. B. Riddle and J. L. O'Hair.

Lutie: Claude Simpson and Jess Deger.

Marella: Frank Coleman and B. F. Farmer.

Lillie: C. S. Graham and G. D. Thomas.

Indian Creek: Andy Bell and Marvin Seale.

No Graduation For 8th Graders

No county-wide graduation exercises for students completing grammar school work will be held this year, B. W. Beard, county superintendent, said Tuesday.

The plan, which has proved popular here for the last few years, was abandoned when it was learned that there are only six students who will complete the eighth grade in the common school districts of the county this year.

Only two of these common schools, Midway and Buck Creek, are now teaching through the eighth grades.

The County Agricultural Victory Council, the basis of a countywide set-up to gather and deliver information in case of an emergency, was formed here recently under the direction of Miss Rose Erisman, county home demonstration agent, and B. A. Zorns, county agent. C. E. Roberts is chairman.

Under this plan, the county is divided into eight communities, with a farm man and farm woman elected to serve as its leaders.

"The community leaders have divided the communities into neighborhoods and appointed a farm man and farm woman to serve as neighborhood leaders," Miss Erisman said. These neighborhoods correspond roughly to the school districts, it was added.

"A map of each neighborhood was drawn up and sent to the neighborhood leaders to locate and name every farm family in his or her neighborhood. When this information is placed on a large map of the county, it will link every farm family and will serve as a 'human chain' with the purpose of getting information to and from the farm people in the shortest possible time in cases of emergency.

Members of the Collingsworth County Agricultural Victory Council include the following community leaders:

Dozier Community, Mrs. C. H. Caperton and A. E. Tate.

Samnorwood: Mrs. Barney Walker and Bill Knoll.

Lutie: Mrs. Charles L. Graves and W. A. Bennett.

Quail: Mrs. J. P. Cummings and Gordon Peters.

Wellington: Mrs. R. W. Brantley and W. M. Williams.

Shinnery: Mrs. E. L. Hively and Floyd Nipper.

Neighborhood Victory Leaders include the following men and women:

Vandiver Out For Commissioner

B. A. Vandiver has authorized The Leader to announce his candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Precinct 1, subject to the action of the democratic primary.

Mr. Vandiver, who has lived in this county for the past 18 years, has been employed by the highway department for the past 14 years in maintaining and building roads. As a result of this experience he says that he will be able to give the people the type of service they expect on their county roads.

It is possible, Mr. Vandiver said, that due to the war there may be a shortage of labor in counties such as ours. It may be difficult to get men to get out and work the roads. If this happens, and I am your Commissioner, the roads in my precinct will be worked, because I intend to get out and do it myself and I do know how.

But, I realize, Mr. Vandiver said, that there are other functions of the county government that are vital to the welfare of the people. If I am elected, you can depend upon me to co-operate in all matters that are for the betterment and advancement of the community.

On this basis I earnestly solicit your consideration and support.

Dodson Senior Series

Elbert Warren

The happenings of the senior class have been reported this year by Elbert Warren, a student who has managed to combine both his studies and athletics with success.

Elbert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Warren of Route 2, Hollis. Although a native Texan—he was born at Bonham Sept. 27, 1922—he took eight years of his schooling at Westview and La-casa, Oklahoma.

A good student and a good athlete, he has played baseball three years, football a year, and placed first in the county and district interscholastic league meets in the discus throw.

Elbert is undecided if he will continue his education after he graduates.

Margaret Nell Wynn

Singing and speech arts have had a definite part in Margaret Wynn's outside activities in Dodson High School. You'll be sure of that when you learn she's sung in the Glee Club four years, taken part in declamation two years and participated in the junior and senior plays.

Margaret's other activities include serving as vice president of the junior class, and membership in the Homemaking Club three years.

She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wynn, and she's lived in Dodson all her life. Incidentally, her birthday was Sept. 26, 1924.

Margaret has no definite plans after graduating.

Norma Jean Fisher

Typing and bookkeeping were Jean Fisher's favorite subjects in high school, and she plans to continue them after graduation, studying at Draughon's Business College in Wichita Falls.

Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fisher of Route 5, Wellington. She was born January 25, 1925, at Rio Vista. All of her schooling has been in this county, five at Pleasant Point and five at Dodson.

She has played volleyball one year, baseball five years, and sang in the Glee Club four years.

Jean plans to be a secretary after her business course is finished.

Bernie Anna Hamman

One of the school's best musicians, who graduates this year, is Bernie Anna Hamman. She has had seven years of piano and four of Glee Club. And together, that exactly equals the number of years of schooling it takes to graduate.

Typing and bookkeeping have been her favorite subjects, and like a number of her classmates, Bernie Anna will attend Draughon's Business College at Wichita Falls to prepare herself for a secretary.

She also played volleyball six years, and baseball five years at Dodson. She took part in both the junior and senior plays.

Bernie Anna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hamman of Route 1, Dodson. This is her native town, and the date of her birth was July 25, 1924.

Margaret Hill

Two of the highest honors of the senior class have gone to Margaret Hill. She has served as president of the senior class, and now, at the end of school, it is learned that she is the valedictorian as well. She had also had that honor when she graduated from grammar school.

Margaret is the daughter of Mrs. W. D. Hill of Route 1, Dodson. She was born here July 13, 1923. Before coming to Dodson to attend school three years ago, she went to Victoria five years, Loco two, and Arlie one. She was captain of her volleyball team one year and has also played baseball. For two years she was a member of the 4-H Club; one of these she served as president.

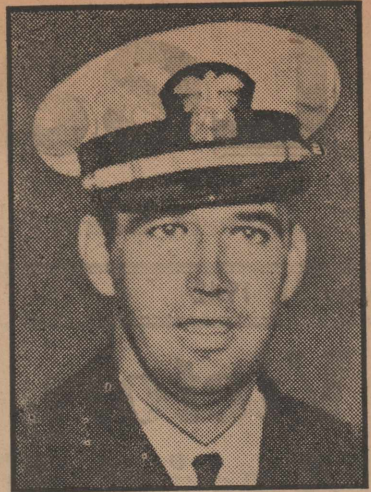

Margaret is quite a writer, too, and last year she was the regional winner in the interscholastic league essay contest.

Although she hasn't picked her college yet, Margaret wants to do newspaper work when her education is finished.

Doris Jean Dabney

Doris Jean Dabney is the only Californian among the seniors this year, and she lived there so long that Texas is still rather new to her.

Doris is the daughter of Orin Dabney, Route 5, Wellington. She was born at Brawley, Calif., March 31, 1924, and lived in that town until two years ago, when she came with her father to this county.

Typing and Spanish have been her favorite subjects, but she has sung in the Glee Club a year and was a member of the senior play cast.

Doris plans to attend Draughon's Business College next year and study to be a secretary.

Mildred Laverne Akin

Variety seems to have been the note in Mildred Akin's schooling, for she attended four other schools before settling at Dodson.

Mildred, who is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. P. Akin, was born at McKinney on September 16, 1924. She lived at Cider Hill, Burk Burnett, and Minerall Wells prior to coming here with her family two and a half years ago.

A combination of sports and academic activities is seen in her program, for she has played volleyball, baseball, and tennis on one hand, and she sang in the Glee Club and has been a member of the FHT on the other. She was FHT secretary one year.

She was in the senior play and the sophomore nominee for May Queen.

Mildred will attend Bethany Peniel College at Bethany, Okla. She hopes to become an English teacher.

Harold Max Scott

Harold Max Scott, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Scott, was born in Dodson December 22, 1924, and this has been his home all of his life.

An outstanding student, Harold Max was president of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes, and this year he is treasurer of the senior class.

All his outside activities have been athletics. He lettered in football two years, played baseball during his freshman year and tennis during his sophomore and junior years.

Harold Max hopes to enter the Army or Navy flying forces, in other words, to do what he can for his country as quick as he can.

Virginia Gay Stewart

Virginia Gay Stewart, the senior daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Stewart of Arlie Route, Loco, was born November 27, 1923, at Paris. Most of her life, however, has been spent here.

After attending Arlie school five years, Virginia came to Dodson to finish her education. Typing and bookkeeping have been her favorite subjects. She has taken time out for four years of volleyball and one of baseball; four years for Glee Club and four for Future Homemaking work.

Virginia plans to attend a beauty school in Dallas, and later to work in—or own—a beauty shop.

Minnie Belle Scott

Youngest member of this year's graduating class is Minnie Belle Scott, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Scott of Route 1, Wellington. She was born July 11, 1925, at Wellington.

Of her schooling, four years have been spent in Dodson and seven years at Kesler. Home-making, typing and bookkeeping have been her favorite subjects, and three years of Glee Club and three in the homemaking club make up her outside activities.

Minnie Bell plans to study at Texas Tech, Lubbock, next year, and to prepare herself to become a homemaking teacher.

Harry Lowell Patterson

Harry Lowell Patterson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patterson of Route 1, Wellington, was born April 17, 1924. He, too, is a native of Dodson.

All his schooling has been received in this county, and includes eight years at Dodson, a year at Kesler, and two at Kelley.

Typing, geometry and civics have been his favorite subjects.

Outside activities have included three years of baseball and a year of tennis.

Harry doesn't say what he plans to do in the future, or if he plans to attend college.

Morgan Painter

One of Dodson's outstanding athletes is Morgan Painter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Painter of this town.

Morgan is another of that group of graduates who has spent his entire life at Dodson, where he was born September 23, 1924.

As for his athletic accomplishments, he lettered three years in football, and had four years in baseball, and three in track.

Civics, history and boy's home-making have been his favorite subjects.

"I don't intend to attend any school next year," Morgan says.

Perry Mack Scott

This year's senior vice president is Perry Mack Scott, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Scott of Dodson. This isn't the first time he has held a class office, for he served as president during his sophomore year.

Perry Mack was born November 21, 1924, at Hollis, Okla., but all his schooling has been received at Dodson.

One of the school's dependable athletes, he lettered two years in football. Civics and history are his favorite subjects.

"I do not plan to go to school," Perry Mack says, commenting on his future plans.

Dewey Max Hodel

Salutatorian of this year's graduating class is Dewey Max Hodel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hodel. In a way, that's not such an unexpected honor, for he was also the salutatorian of the seventh grade.

Max was born here May 23, 1925, and all of his schooling has been at Dodson. While attending school, geometry, history and bookkeeping have been his favorite subjects.

On the side, he has played tennis five years, and softball four years. He also took part in both the junior and senior plays.

He doesn't plan to attend college now, but he doesn't say about the future.

Velma Merle Carter

Velma Carter holds one honor no other student in school can boast—she has held one class office, that of secretary, for all four years she has been in high school.

Velma is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Carter. She was born here May 16, 1925, and all of her life has been spent in Dodson.

Another honor she has had was to win a trip to San Antonio to the state homemaking rally. Other outside activities have included four years of piano study, two years of volleyball and three of Glee Club. She has also served as secretary of the FHA, and was in the senior play.

Velma will attend Draughon's Business College to study for secretarial work.

Norma Doris Copeland

Norma Copeland's friends can't understand how she has found time for all the things she has done in outside activities, and at the same time is consistently listed on the honor roll.

Most of her interests have been in the field of music, for she played in the band three years at Norma was born May 28, 1925, at Mangum, Okla., and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Copeland of Dodson. She has an impressive list of schools behind her, including Burk Burnett, Wellington, Altus, and Gould.

After graduating, Norma will attend Draughon's Business College and study stenography.

Jackie Allen

The artist and poet among the seniors is Jackie Allen, who during the eleven years he has attended school here has proved himself gifted in both these lines.

Jackie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. U. Allen of Dodson. He was born March 32, 1925, at Roff, Oklahoma.

He is class poet this year, as well as class reporter.

Of him, his friends have summed up his activity. "Jackie Allen won first in the high jump division in the county and district meet, and third in the regional, and he is a first class artist."

Jackie plans to attend Chicago Institute of Fine Arts after his graduation here.

Now If You'll Roll Up Your Sleeves . . .

Congratulations and welcome!

Now, if you will roll up your sleeves and join us in this business of winning the war, we will be mighty grateful. Frankly, we need you. We need you in the factories, on the farms, in business, in the armed forces. We need you in civilian defense, in the Red Cross, just about everywhere. So, if you will pitch in and lend a hand, victory will be ours.

Begin now to plan for that day when the war is won, and life is normal once again. Perhaps this bank can help you with your plans, as it has helped many of your parents before you. If so, feel free to call upon us.

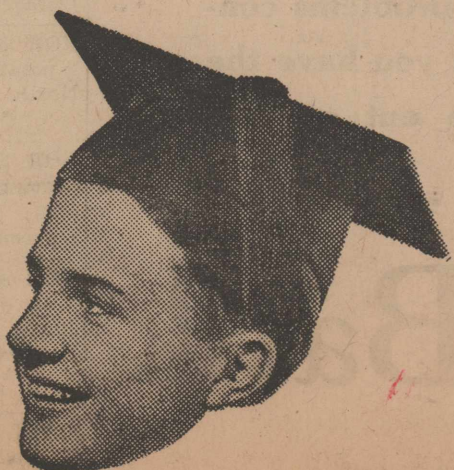

Our best wishes go with you in whatever walk of life you may find yourselves.

WE CHEERED, too, when Uncle Sam called on industry to work 24 hours a day, seven days a week, until the war is won.

Continuous production, you see, is nothing new to us. We've always worked that way. It's one big reason why we were prepared to serve the army training camps, the flying schools, and the new war plants in West Texas—all in addition to serving your home and business.

We are proud that our service to you has not suffered despite the unforeseen problems created by the war. We believe that it is a credit to the American way of doing things... a tribute to the American system of free initiative and free enterprise.

The electric industry throughout the nation is providing power where it's needed, when it's needed... more than the combined total of all the enemy nations!

This is in contrast to claims by proponents of socialization who, many months ago, predicted an immediate and disastrous shortage of electric power—and calling for political management rather than business management.

Hundreds of millions of tax dollars were diverted from useful production to subsidize political projects in competition with electric systems already owned by the public (through millions of small stockholders) and regulated by the government.

Buy
War Bonds

Countless thousands of tons of strategic materials were wasted in building unnecessary socialized plants and transmission lines that duplicated existing systems adequately serving the public.

Here are the results of this long conflict between two theories—free enterprise as against tax-free competition built with tax dollars:

- Today, in time of America's greatest need, the country's electric operating companies are supplying over 90 per cent of all the power commercially generated;
- Last year they paid $510,000,000 in taxes, enough money to equip 2,400,000 soldiers or build 9,273 fighting planes;
- The average home now gets over twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.

It represents American genius at its best. In little more than two generations, an "experiment," at which wisecracks scoffed, has become indispensable in American homes and in America's war effort.

It has been possible simply because America's electric companies have been built and operated the American way—by good business management.

Sidney Erleen Williams

The girl who is familiar to all of us, working diligently in the library, is Sidney Erleen Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Williams, who reside at 1009 Haskell street.

Erleen was born April 17, 1925, here, and she has attended Wellington High School for three years; the other eight years of her schooling were spent in Rolla. While attending the Rolla school, Erleen participated in playground ball, volley ball, and basketball. She also entered declamation training in Rolla.

Here Erleen has been a member of the Skyrocket staff for one and a half years, a member of the F.H.T. for one year, Girl Scout for half a year, and choral singing group for one year.

Erleen also plans to attend a business college next year and study stenographic work. Wellington High is really producing stenographers.

We appreciate your work on the school paper, Erleen. Best wishes for the future.

Melba Pearl Williams

Sister of the former coach and principal of Wellington High, Mr. John Williams, is a classmate whom we all know and respect—Melba Pearl Williams.

Melba is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Williams of Route 3, Wellington, and she was born December 28, 1924, here. Melba has attended school at Cross Roads for six years, Cottonwood one year, and Wellington four years.

She was a member of the Glee Club two years and the Commercial Club one year, besides having participated in playground ball and volley ball. Her favorite subject is typing.

Melba is undecided as to whether she will attend school next year or not. However, if she does, she will study stenographic work.

Melba, we shall be reluctant to lose you as we were to lose your brother. Do not forget your old schoolmates.

Wandalin Genice Young

The "Queen" of neatness and one of the best dressed girls in Wellington High School is Wandalin Genice Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Young of Route 5, Wellington.

Wandalin was born January 14, 1925, in Childress County. She has attended school at Pleasant Point six years and Dodson three years. The remaining two years were spent in Wellington. During these two years, Wandalin has been clerk of the student council, president of the F.H.T., and president of the home room and home nursing classes.

While in Dodson she participated in volley ball, tennis, basketball, and declamation. She was also a member of the Glee Club.

Wandalin is undecided as to what school she will attend, but she plans to attend a business college and study business administration next year.

Wandalin, we will always be "rooting" for you.

Margaret Sue Wolf

One of the best sports in the senior class is that "happy-go-lucky" Margaret Sue Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wolf of Arlie Route, Childress.

Margaret was born July 15, 1924, in Annona, Texas, and she has attended Wellington High School four years. The other seven years of her schooling were spent at Loco. Margaret is interested in sports as it is plain to see, for she has participated in volley ball four years, baseball two years, girls' doubles in tennis one year, and basketball one year.

Margaret is another senior who is undecided as to what school she will attend, but she will study stenographic work. Typing and home nursing are her favorite subjects.

Best wishes for the future, Margaret.

YEARS AHEAD...by Our Calendar

Natural Gas in the Gulf South today was planned and provided for years ago. Fortunately this farsighted planning has made possible this efficient fuel for war production now.

It's a big undertaking to locate, produce and deliver a continuous dependable supply of Natural Gas for more than three hundred cities and towns and to industries in the Gulf South. It takes careful planning in advance to anticipate the needs of the future. It takes, too, the fine skill and knowledge of engineers, draftsmen, survveyors, prospecting and drilling crews and many other workers. All of these men work YEARS AHEAD of today's needs.

This has been made possible by seasoned management—men with vision—men with the ability to measure tomorrow's requirements today. Because of this preparedness your Natural Gas Service is not only DEPENDABLE today, but is efficiently serving industry with a minimum use of critical materials—materials vitally needed for production of guns, battleships, and other implements of war.

DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

When it comes to doing their patriotic duty you've got to hand it to the people of Collingsworth County. They may be no different from those of the rest of this section, but they do hold up their end of the load. For example the USO drive is going over with a bang. The special gifts committee that was created to see the business men of Wellington exceeded their quota. Congratulations to J. B. Castleberry, Cameron Beam, John D. Glenn, J. W. Wells, Sandy Parsons, Jr., Kelly Pigg, and Sandy Parsons, Sr., for their splendid work.

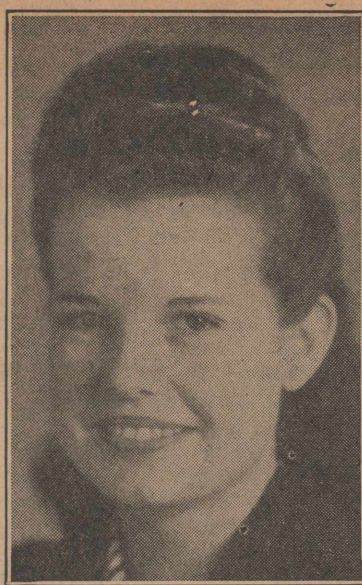

Swearingen has completed their drive and Dozier has sent in a nice contribution that they raised before the drive ever started. E. J. Smith reports that the work at Dodson is well under way.

Look up the name of your community chairman and turn the money over to him. It will save him some of the time he is donating as well as his money.

Rev. J. P. Neal showed me a letter that he received from his brother who has been in the Navy 19 years. Except the battle of the Coral Sea, his brother has been in all the major engagements of this war. There was a strong confidence in the letter that let you know without putting it into words that the morale and fighting spirit of the men in the Navy is very high.

Incidentally, Rev. Neal preached a sermon in a Methodist Church while on his recent trip to San Antonio. It was well received. But that sort of thing is happening frequently these days. Gov. Coke Stevenson, a Methodist, made a speech before the Baptists and it was also received with appreciation. In this day and time when the churches are under direct attack in much of the world and are undergoing a baptism of fire in all the world, it is meet that religious people stand together.

Dr. E. W. Jones did a notable job in arranging a program for the Obstetrics and Gynecology section at the meeting of the State Medical Association in Houston. There were many nationally known men on this part of the program, but the most interesting to me was A. E. Hertzler of Halstead, Kansas. He is the author of "Horse and Buggy Doctor." His work in a small Kansas town has made him nationally famous. He is a great surgeon, a great psychologist and a very human and interesting man. It isn't how big your town is—it is how big you are.

Mrs. Francis Roberts, who was before her recent marriage, Miss Hughetta Lowe, is a member of the Wellington graduating class.

Scrap iron is needed. You farmers look over your old piles and bring it to town and turn it into money. Iron, brass, aluminum and old rubber are needed now. Don't try to give it to the Government. They have no way to handle it. Sell it through regular channels and then if you wish to give donate the money to USO, China Relief or buy war saving stamps. The important thing is to get the metal rolling now.

Save your old paper and magazines, but do not bring them to concentration points. At the present time the warehouses are crowded, but the paper will be needed in about two months.

Virginia Anderson of the Shamrock Texan did a neat job of spiking a rumor that was flitting up and down the alleys and over the county in Wheeler last week. It was the same rumor that is going the rounds of this county this week and the one which gave the tongue thinkers of Clarendon a mental feast last week. The only difference is that all three concerned three different people. Officers knew nothing about any of them.

My own notion is that some of these people who repeat and amplify everything they hear could not catch a real spy or saboteur if he were operating across the street from them. Here are a few simple rules. If you have observed something yourself and I don't mean something you heard, take your information direct to Sheriff Paul Bell. He is in direct contact with the FBI and has definite instructions from them, and they know exactly what to do. Specific information given to authorities is welcomed, but repeating the idle gossip of dim-wits will not help win the war.

You might say that the gentle rain Tuesday night was a counter offensive that saved the strategic Wearing the dress her mother graduated in twenty-two years ago Miss Neva Clay, sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Clay, took part in the local high school graduation exercises Wednesday evening, May 20.

Sugar Allowed For Canning

Provision has been made whereby sugar can be secured for canning fruits this summer, the local Rationing Office announced this week.

Each person will be allowed five pounds per year over and above what he receives by use of his ration card. This is for canning fresh fruit only, and cannot be used to make preserves or other items from fruit already canned.

The Ration Board also warned that a number of people who did not receive ration books because they had too much sugar believe that they may get a book as soon as the sugar is used. Since the amount of sugar each person has is known, the excess sugar must be used at the rate of one-half pound per person per week. When the sugar is used up, based on this rate, only then will the person receive his ration card.

Editorial

CORREGIDOR

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following editorial on the fall of Corrigidor fortress was written by Alton Dewlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wewlen of Memphis, Texas. Alton is a journalism major in Baylor University.

So Corregidor has fallen. The blood of heroes runs warm about the gory skeleton of the shell-torn fortress. The mortal remains of thousands of Filipino and American youths dot the hideous terrain, martyrs to a cause. Thousands more survive as captives, soon to face the barbaric carnage of Nipponese bayonet practice. Black clouds of smoke from the ravished allied installations rise heavenward to offend the nostrils of an outraged God. The yellow invader stands with his heel on the flag of America and surveys the sickening scene of his debauchery.

He grins at the wreckage of a bombed hospital. He revels in the fiendish glee of his savage heart as he washes the dust of battle from his hands with a stream of American blood. He feasts his gaze on the fallen farm boy from Ohio and gloats that the forces of freedom are beaten. He glories in the success typified in the grotesquely twisted remains of a former Brooklyn butcher boy, and in the future he sees symbolized in the mortal residue of a soft-spoken Texas lad who had always dreamed of seeing New York. He looks confidently at the dead and his deduction is that freedom too is dying.

Murderer, fool, those boys are not dead! Even as you prop your boot against the head of that sleeping Ohio boy, legions are rallying around him for the cause of freedom. Even while you stare derisively at the vanquished Texan, he is stirring the very soul of a great nation to a vengeance that you shall reap. Add to the list of your accomplishments, already replete with epics of treachery and cowardice, the murder of scores of men who loved peace. But with it add the hate of the greatest nation ever to fly the flag of freedom, add the hate of the greatest soldiers ever born of woman, and add the wrath of a God who has promised to protect His children.

America's men will come to Corrigidor again. Murderers, you too will know defeat. You too will be visited by the fraternal partners of hardship and pain and death. Old Glory will shout defiance from

OTHER EDITORS SAY--

• Your Part In The War Effort

What are you doing to help the war effort? From our own personal observation, a lot of folks around Perryton must think that the definition for helping out in this war is to devote all of their time to making every possible cent of profit for themselves and let the other fellow give all the time and effort to carry on the many necessary civilian programs.

Some fellows are always too busy to do anything for their community or their country. They seem to think that their own personal business is so all fired important. Why not discard that time worn excuse in times like these? You're not fooling anybody. You can just as well admit that you're too darned selfish and unpatriotic to carry your part of the battle on the home front.

The sooner every American that is worthy of the name realizes there is a job for every single one of us in this war, the sooner we will be on the road to victory. Be a real American citizen and do your part whether you're on the battle line or on the home front. Don't be a slacker in your duty to the United States.—Van Stewart in the Ochiltree County News.

• Spanish For The Little Tots
As part of the nation's "good neighbor" policy, there is a move on foot to introduce the study of Spanish in the elementary grades of the Texas school system.

The conception now applied to the study of Spanish is whether or not the student can speak the language. It should be an encouragement to him or to her—because it is giving the student a new tool with which to work or to play—something he or she can actually use. And in Sweetwater there are plenty of opportunities for a Spanish speaking student to try out his accomplishments, for there are a number of Spanish speaking students he can try it on.—Luther M. Watson in the Nolan County News.

• The Soldiers Didn't Strike
It might be noted that the increase in pay voted the American soldiers did not come as a result of a strike, sit down or walk out, on the part of the soldiers. Nor did it come as a result of soldiers being egged on to demand it by a well paid radical leader. The boys on the firing line are a notable exception when it comes to matters of this kind. They would have gone clear through the piece to the end for $21 a month without a squawk.—The Tulia Herald.

• Farmers Could Do It
If farmers could be turned loose to raise all they want to, the food problem would be solved. All they need is the word to go, with the assurance that a fair price could be obtained for their products.—T. A. Landers in The McLean News.

every flagpole now defiled by the Rising Sun, and the people of a restored Philippine nation will plant their crops over your graves. Enjoy your plunder today, tyrant, for tomorrow you are destined to abide in the mire of failure and debasement.

This America promises!—Alton Dewlen in the Memphis Democrat.

Washington Week

By RALPH HERBERT

Of great importance to practically every farmer in the United States is an order issued by the Office of Price Administration and effective May 11, establishing the maximum retail prices for farm equipment.

These prices will be based on the manufacturer's suggested list prices, plus freight and handling costs. What has been sought has been a formula for determining the specific maximum prices at approximately the levels prevailing in March, 1942, when farm equipment dealers were operating under a voluntary price control program. The big difference is that now price control is mandatory.

With a universal price freezing order, special cognizance had to be taken of the farm situation. Farmers this year are estimated to have in sight a total income of $13,000,000,000,000. With many lines of consumer goods being withdrawn from the market, the farmers will have more money for the purchase of more farm equipment. Last year 34,500 retail dealers sold $950,000,000 worth of farm equipment. But this year the War Production Board is limiting production of this equipment to less than two-thirds of the 1941 figure.

In regulating the retail prices of farm equipment, the OPA has stipulated that the dealer must give the purchaser an itemized invoice showing the manufacturer's suggested retail price, the freight charge, the handling charge and the sales tax, if any. Some dealers objected to this, saying their trade secrets might be revealed, but they were overruled, it being held that the itemized invoice would enable purchaser and government to know whether the price-fixing regulation was being obeyed.

The maximum price applicable to the retail sale of any new completed farm equipment for which the manufacturer has issued a suggested retail price will be the sum of the six following:

- 1—The suggested retail price f. o. b. factory.
- 2—Allowance for transportation, calculated on the basis of the average combined freight rate per hundredweight from factory to dealer for complete farm equipment of the same general type.
- 3—The manufacturer's handling charge paid by the dealer, if not included in the manufacturer's charge for freight.
- 4—An allowance for dealer's handling not to exceed the sum of the following:

- A—Five per cent of the manufacturer's suggested retail price exceeds $400.
- B—For each truck trip required for delivery to a purchaser located more than 30 road miles from the dealer, 10 cents for each mile going and coming outside the 30-mile zones, on the basis of the most direct route. Certain reductions in this are to be made if the dealer does not erect the equipment, install the attachments, etc.

- 5—A charge for special installation of fixed equipment, not to exceed the charge customarily made on or before April 1, 1942. This charge shall take the place of and not be in addition to the allowance for dealer's handling.
- 6—The amount of any federal excise tax billed separately by the manufacturer and stated by him not to be included in the suggested retail price.

The maximum retail price of farm equipment parts shall be the manufacturer's suggested retail price, plus actual freight cost from factory to dealer, and any extra expense in connection with the sale, such as long-distance phone calls incurred at request of the purchaser.

The maximum price applicable to the sale by the dealer of any trade-in equipment shall be the sum of the following:

The trade-in allowance or purchase price paid for such equipment, plus 5 per cent of such price, plus the maximum prices specified for such parts as are needed and used in reconditioning the equipment, plus a charge for the labor used in reconditioning.

Among services specifically excluded from the OPA's Maximum Price Regulation are professional, advertising, insurance, entertainment, transportation, and barber shop.

Your Town And Mine

—By CHARLES L. ALLEN

Things haven't been the same around our house for the past two weeks. Meals have been late, early, or forgotten entirely.

Father has hurried home from work with a strange, worried look in his eye and an eager question on his lips. Grandma has been walking around on tip-toe, almost breathless, and even rough-and-ready Brother has learned to tread softly.

Charlie Allen

There's only one catastrophe that can make our house so uncomfortable still and somber—baby's been sick. Of course, if you have a baby in your house you understand immediately what we've been going through for a fortnight, and if you don't have a baby in your house I suppose nothing I can say will make you realize the situation. For a baby is something like the "seven-year itch"—you've either had one or you haven't, and until you have the experience other people can tell you about it but it won't mean much to you.

Well, our baby somehow ran smack into a vigorous pneumonia germ and for a few days we thought the germ was winning. Now, after ten days of anxiety and generous doses of the new "sulfa—" drugs we have hopes that the whole army of germs are being routed as surely as the "little yellow devils" will eventually be routed from their conquered territory in the Pacific.

The siege of illness was a lot harder on Ma and Pa than if we had undergone the ordeal ourselves.

selves. In fact, it is always easier to endure a hardship than it is to see your children have the same experience. And that circumstance has set me to thinking about the whole relationship of parents and children in our modern world.

When Grandpa was a boy his father got him up at 4 or 5 in the morning and gave him a few cows to milk and chores to do before he went to school. And after walking a mile or more to school, and sitting on a hard board bench for seven hours, Grandpa walked the mile back home again and did some more chores before he could get his studies or go to bed. At least—that's always been Grandpa's story. But nowadays the young son is the last one to be called in the morning, and he has no chores to do, either before or after school. Life is very much easier and simpler.

Perhaps this tendency to try to soften all the experiences of life for our children is having its inevitable effect both on the children and on us, the parents. Certainly our youngsters are ill-prepared for any difficult task they happen to encounter. They cannot work because they have not had to work, and because they never have had to work they see no sound reason why they should start it. There's an old saying of "easy come, easy go," which applies in full force to the dimes and dollars which a child gets from his parents for no reason whatever.

The daughter of a splendid couple who are good friends of ours is one of those over-indulged youngsters. (Of course, OUR children are not spoiled in the least). This young lady had everything she wanted all through her childhood, from expensive clothes to expensive

E. Brumbelow, county trapper, saying that shortly after the cyclone he found in a rough section just south of Salt Fork a piece of tin lying in the sand, beaten in holes, and nearby it a leaf from a song book, rather dirty, but perfectly whole . . . a little black boy going down the street, singing in a high tenor, and not too melodiously, "The stars at night are big and bright, Deep in the Heart of Texas."

Mrs. L. G. Yarbrough saying that her Mother's Day gift from her son, Herman, who is in Trinidad Island, didn't reach her until this week. But she was mighty glad to get it anyway . . . Miss Delia Cowan starting to school in a pretty rust colored dress with a full pleated skirt . . . Mary Johnson guessing maybe her vacation did her some good, she'd gotten to work early both mornings since she came back.

A stalk of safflower in the First National Bank that Dick Wiley had gotten. A quick-drying oil is extracted from the seeds, and that part of the seed that remains is made into stock feed. T. C. Raper is raising some in the northeast part of the county as an experiment.

Virginia Ann Williams saying she guessed she'd stay at home this summer, for she couldn't quite get up the courage to look for a job. Virginia is the salutatorian of the Wellington seniors this year . . . Lyna Mae Lowry running errands for the senior class at Samnorwood . . . Jack Redding of Lutie hooking up his mules to start plowing . . . A letter from the S. A. Welch family renewing the subscription to The Leader for Mrs. Lela Coffey of Tipton, Okla.

Emily McBroom, daughter of District Clerk J. McBroom, didn't have much of a vacation, for no sooner were the seniors let out of school than Emily began work typing court records in her father's office.

Trick of the Week: Ralph Lewis of Wilcox, Arizona, twin brother of Gene Lewis, chairman of the county rationing board, was here last week, and the two—for the fun of it—agreed that the former would go over and see how things were getting along at the rationing office and give some orders. Over he went. Merle Hays was a little doubtful, but Willene Stafford wasn't. Gene Lewis just then peeped around the corner of the building to see how things were coming, and the girls saw him.

Mack Saied saying that the price ceiling didn't hurt the big chain stores like it did the little independent merchants. "The chains have men who study price fluctuations and who go around to the stores telling the managers what to sell the various items for. Their prices go up and down with the market. The little merchants have a few items for 'leaders,' to attract trade, and the price ceiling has caught them with these prices low. Some of them, when their present stock of the item is out, won't be able to replace it, because they'd have to pay more for it than they could sell it for," he explained.

pleasures, and she has learned to expect the best merely by asking for it. Now, however, the father's business is very poor and the family income is quite meager. Certainly this is a time for the grown daughter to get to work and start to repay some small portion of the tremendous debt she owes her parents. Instead, she is as demanding as ever, and it sorely grieves her indulgent parents that they can not grant her every request.

Well, there may be something to that story of Grandpa after all. Perhaps he did learn an important lesson that our children fail to learn today. And now, if you folks will kindly excuse me, I'll go back and trundle the baby up and down the living room for another half hour. She's sick, you know. And anyhow, she's so nearly spoiled that I may as well finish the job.

THERE IS NOTHING YOU CAN POSSIBLY DO THAT'S MORE IMPORTANT.

By far the biggest pile of scrap metal in America is on farms. Three millions tons of it or more. And it's going to take every pound of this scrap to win this war. That's why it's up to you to collect all your scrap and get it moving before you do anything else. It may take a day or two of your time, but it's the most important thing you can do.

Ice Delivery Service Restrictions Now In Effect

The Office of Defense Transportation, by order No. 6, dated April 20, 1942 has placed certain restrictions on ice deliveries, effective May 15, 1942, to conserve rubber and transportation equipment. The principal restrictions are as follows:

1. ONLY ONE DELIVERY DAILY to any one customer for any purpose.
2. NO SPECIAL DELIVERIES except to hospitals, to the armed forces, or in emergencies in which the public health, life, and safety are imperiled.
3. NO CALL BACKS on any given day for any purpose. A call back is defined to mean any call by a vehicle at the premises of any person or customer subsequent to the first call on any given day, regardless of what the call is made for.

The order also requires that, effective June 1, each ice company shall reduce the total monthly mileage of its trucks to 75 percent or less of the total mileage of such trucks in operation during the same month last year, exclusive of the mileage eliminated as a result of discontinuing special deliveries, call backs and more than one call per day to any one customer.

With only one delivery a day to each customer permitted under this order, all users of ice should anticipate a full day's requirements and obtain them from our ice service man on his regular daily trip.

Ice users may of course continue to purchase ice at our plant and dock at any time as in the past. The restrictions apply to the delivery system.

Junior-Senior Banquet At Quail Last Week Has Victory Theme

The largest social event of the season for the Quail High School graduates occurred last week when the Juniors honored the seniors at a victory banquet.

Small liberty bell place cards held American flags, and favors were airplanes, made of mints, gum and candy. Large U. S. dirigible balloons floated overhead.

The program was composed of patriotic numbers given by Lur-

The Totties, then, all splashing 'round, Discovered they could not touch ground. "We'll have to swim," wee Scouty said. "Toward shore it's best that we do head."

"Let's have a race," said Doty, "Gee, I'll bet nobody can beat me." All of the others tried in fun To beat her. It could not be done.

She reached the shore, hand over hand, And then she crawled up on the sand. With Duncy's help she gathered wood. A little fire would feel real good.

NEXT WEEK: The submarine is attacked by a swordfish.

The other Totties waded out And soon they heard wee Scouty shout, "You gather wood and pile it high. A blaze will soon rise toward the sky."

Then Duncy said, "I hear a sound. Just wait here 'til I look around. Hey, it's a submarine!" he cried. "I wonder if someone's inside."

And then a little man appeared. He said, "Now youngsters, don't get skeered. My name is Shrimpy. I'm alone. This submarine's my very own."

Quail School Ends Successful Year On May 27

The Quail School will close its doors Friday, May 29, ending the 7th year of the school's history. The school has completed one of its most successful years, teachers and administrators report.

Twenty-two teachers have been employed, and additional affiliation has been obtained in music and farm engineering. Two new buses have been added to the transportation system. Swearingin, McKnight and Cottonwood school pupils joined the Quail school.

Other items of progress reported by the teachers include a modern school cafeteria where more than 300 students eat their noon meal each day.

Both boys' and girls' basketball teams won the district championship, and the girls won fourth place in the state meet.

Approximately $600 worth of new furniture has been added to the various departments of the school. A National Defense School has been operated continuously in auto mechanics and welding. The school has gone over the top in its pledge to the Junior Red Cross, the Senior Red Cross drive, the Navy Relief Fund, and teachers and pupils are daily purchasing War Bonds and Stamps.
