Prediction of $1.07 for Oklahoma Oil Is Made Today

COMPANIES FOLLOWING INCREASES

Military Commander Thinks Majors to Meet Demands

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 25. (UP)—Cicero I. Murray, commanding guardsmen occupying the Oklahoma fields, predicted today that four major purchasers would post a price of $1.07 tomorrow for Oklahoma crude.

Officials of the Stanolind, Magnolia, Carter, and Texas companies made no comment.

Magnolia Increase In Etex Is Met

FORT WORTH, Aug. 25.—Sun Oil company Monday joined Magnolia Petroleum company in offering a flat price of 68 cents per barrel for East Texas crude oil. Phillips Petroleum company raised Panhandle crude prices and Pure Oil company increased its quotations in the Van pool of Van Zandt county.

Other price developments in the Midcontinent Monday included an offer of $1 per barrel for Oklahoma and Kansas production made by Phillips Petroleum company and two other buyers, who were not named at Oklahoma City due to the absence of Governor William H. Murray, who was in Memphis, Tenn., attending a unemployment conference.

Price Increases Extended

Magnolia Petroleum company extended its price increases of Saturday to Louisiana and Arkansas territories in which the company purchases. The Bull Bayou pool of Louisiana was accorded the highest price of any area in Louisiana and Arkansas in Magnolia's most recent increase, the price there being quoted at 68 cents per barrel, a gain of 28 cents.

Phillips Petroleum company through Standard Oil company and Phil-Tex Oil company announced a gravity table in Carson and Hutchinson counties of the Panhandle, scaling from 48 cents a barrel for below 35 gravity up to 60 cents for 40 gravity and above. This is seven cents per barrel above gravity tables posted by Texas Company and Humble, and the top flat price by Magnolia.

Gray county crude was quoted at 60 cents per barrel for oil below 35 gravity, up to 72 cents for 40 gravity and above. A two differential applies to schedules in Gray, Carson and Hutchinson counties. Phillips' new quotations in Gray county are 12 cents per barrel above those of Texas company, Gulf and Humble, and 12 cents above the flat posted price of Magnolia.

Hike Must Be Unanimous

Governor Murray's aids in this fight for $1 per barrel oil in Oklahoma declined to name the other two companies that had offered the demanded figure, but said the Governor probably would release the information on his return from Memphis.

Cicero I. Murray announced that the $1 per barrel bid would have to be unanimous among purchasers before his cousin would consider removing the lid from all prorated areas, which were shut down by martial law order.

Pure Oil company made its new schedules in the Van pool and on the Gulf coast effective Monday morning. Van crude was launched on the regular Central Texas gravity table ranging from 46 cents 29 gravity and below to 70 cents for 40 gravity and above. On the Gulf coast, Pure followed Humble's schedule ranging from 55 cents per barrel for 25 gravity and below up to 66 cents for 35 gravity and above.

BULLETIN

AUSTIN, Aug. 25. (UP)—E. V. Doran of Fort Worth testified before the railroad commission today that East Texas production must be limited under 325,000 barrels daily if physical waste is to be prevented. ANTI-CROP OPINIONS ASKED FOR

Farmers and Business Men Called for a Conference

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 25. (UP)—The Louisiana legislature holding a special cotton session meets tonight to take steps toward enacting Governor Huey P. Long's plan for a cotton production holiday.

Long, in issuing a call last night, predicted the law, prohibiting cotton production for one year, would be passed within five days. The session is restricted to cotton reduction.

Cotton farmers of Midland will have an opportunity Thursday afternoon to express opinions regarding the proposed legislation against growing cotton in 1932. Following the request Sunday by Governor Ross S. Sterling that the citizens of Texas give their views on the question, numbers of Midland farmers expressed to County Judge M. R. Hill their desire to hold a meeting on the subject.

Judge Hill is meeting the request by calling a mass meeting of farmers, land owners, tenants, business men and all who are interested in the question, to be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the county court room.

Outgrowth of Conference

The question is the outgrowth of the conference held in New Orleans last week end at which time Governor Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, requested cotton states to enact legislation forbidding the planting of a 1932 cotton crop.

Long, in a lengthy telegram to Texas newspapers Monday, declared that upon Texas rests the success or failure of the plan, that the bulk of the south's cotton is produced in this state and that if Texas takes the lead the price for this year can be forced to 20 cents as against five cents unless such action is taken.

Frank Dale, one of the county's leading cotton planters, declared that he would like to see the Texas legislature meet and pass a law against planting an acre of cotton in the entire state.

Cuts Own Acreage

S. O. Golladay expressed similar sentiments, backing his statement with a decided cut in his cotton this year. Out of 650 acres under cultivation, he has only 60 acres in cotton.

J. M. Prothro declared that legislation against cotton for 1932 would take care of this year's prices and that farmers would be in shape to operate without a cotton crop next year.

Judge Hill, in calling the meeting, asked that every farmer in the county attend and that business men of the city join in the discussions. It is pointed out that the crop this year may be the largest ever produced (See COTTON MEETING page 6)

Colorful "Coin" Harvey
 Again Battles for Reform

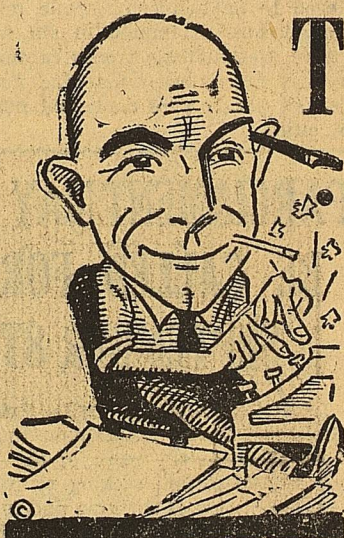

By NEA Service

MONTE NE, Ark., Aug. 25.—William H. "Coin" Harvey, who is again clamoring for political and monetary reform after a quarter century of silence is a true idealist. Unselfish, though ardent, in the espousal of his creed, he cares not a whit for political power. He believes that money is the clot on the brain of the body politic. He thinks that the will of the majority should be respected, and that the individual can be taught to wait the right thing.

This colorful character, who is projected into current presidential politics by the formation of the New Political Party, is little known today. But in the turbulent years from 1890 to 1900 he was hailed as a political savior.

"Permanent prosperity" is his platform.

It is like a reverberation of his famous book, "Coin's Financial School," which reached a paid circulation of 2,000,000 and had the whole nation talking in the nineties. It dealt with the question of free silver.

Another think: He would submit to the people all such important questions as prohibition to be decided by referendum.

He would reduce the number of office holders and the expenses of government to a minimum.

Candidates for president and vice president will be supported by the new party, and it will soon be ready for 1932.

Coin Harvey's final hopes for pulling the United States out of its slough of despond lie in the establishment of the new political party. He approaches the vast job of organization with confidence, feeling that in the success of this enterprise he will have succeeded in his idealistic life.

KEEPING DOWN THE "DRIVES"

One of the things that helps to make Midland a more pleasant city in which to live is the policy adopted by the chamber of commerce and the citizenship at large of keeping down the number of drives for funds per year.

At this time especially, the fact that committees are not out on the streets asking for money for this cause and that makes business more healthy and helps the business man to keep aboveboard.

The custom of "giving until it hurts" is carried too far in many communities and merchants have to dig into their coffers for funds which rightfully should be handled through existing organizations.

In Midland, the chamber of commerce has an annual budget which, although reduced in proportion to reduction of business revenues, takes care of many of the projects which are financed in some localities through public subscription.

A Midland merchant last week remarked that he had belonged to many chambers of commerce, some good and some bad, some active and strong and some weak, but the local organization proves its mettle through its ability to keep down the continual solicitation of funds from the merchants. The compliment is worthy.

STEADY WORK IS BEST

The commonwealth attorney of Harlan county, Kentucky, where 30 men have been indicted for murder following disorders incident to unemployment in the coal fields, complains that the jobless miners ought to "refuse to listen to radical agitators who are seeking to destroy the government and Christianity."

This, of course, is true enough. Unfortunately, men who have no work and no money, and who see no prospect of getting either in the near future, often have the perversity to listen to radical agitators; and when they do the solemn wagging of official heads doesn't help matters much.

Steady jobs and good wages—these, in the long run, are the only effective counter-agents to radical propaganda. Get them, and radicalism dissolves overnight. Fail to get them and you are in for trouble just as surely as the Almighty created small, green and somewhat sour apples.

THE PATHS YOUTH TAKES

The impulses that carry youth away sometimes are beyond the fathoming of grown-ups.

Those two California high school lads who turned bandits in order to buy books and finance a trip to a military training camp, and who wound up by killing a policeman, present a puzzle that seems almost insoluble.

They came from good families. They had been, until a few weeks before the final catastrophe, model high school students—well-behaved, studious, likable. Then, all of a sudden, for no reason that grown-ups can make out, they slipped over into disaster.

Why do these things happen? We do not know. Sometimes we never can find out. Youth needs our understanding and our sympathy. When it fails to get them it is apt to take strange and terrible paths. It might help if we worried before the tragedy instead of afterwards.

SPEEDY JUSTICE

The speed with which the state of Michigan caught, sentenced and imprisoned the three wretches who robbed and murdered an auto party of two young girls and their escorts ought to be a model to law enforcement agencies all over the country.

A few hours after they had been arrested the three criminals were on their way to the penitentiary—to stay there for life. Here is one case in which justice moved with encouraging speed and precision.

If the law moved that way regularly our "crime waves" would diminish to gentle ripples. The criminal does not fear severity of punishment half as much as speed and certainty. Contrast the Michigan case with the ordinary one, in which months elapse between arrest and trial and more months elapse between conviction and imprisonment.

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher

Looking Toward 1932, Franklin D. Roosevelt Is Likely to Give Tammany a Swift Kick in the Pants to Demonstrate That He Is in No Way Allied with the "Tiger"

WASHINGTON.—If and when Governor Roosevelt of New York is nominated for the presidency, his opponents will holler "Tammany" at him with all the lung-power at their command.

That, as things stand now, is the one best bet as a method of attack in which they can all participate. The drys can go after Roosevelt on their own hook and uphold the cause of prohibition in the dry sections. But the wet Republicans and those party speakers who operate in the electorally important eastern territory will have to depend on convincing the voters of the wisdom and greatness of Herbert Hoover, and, by way of an offensive, scaring all good citizens with the specter of the terrible Tiger. Unless of course, something else turns up to make Roosevelt a target for another type of brickbat.

The anti-Tammany campaign is likely to go flat, however, if the governor repudiates Tammany between now and the time of the national conventions. Thus the most important potential political news is that which indicates that Roosevelt is in no sense playing the Tammany game, is not afraid to proceed against Tammany and will not hesitate to do his share toward punishing Tammany for its sins. The more vigorously and obviously he proceeds against Tammany, the less likely Tammany can hurt him and the more likely his record in respect to Tammany can be used as an asset. For there is no question that the country detests Tammany Hall and will applaud everyone who gives it a swift kick in the pants.

Although it has not been ballyhooed or dramatized to any national extent, the governor's call for a special session of his state legislature has the appearance of just such a swift kick. It is the thing Tammany least wanted and the thing that was urged by those now investigating Tammany corruption.

Judge Samuel Seabury, counsel for the joint legislative investigating committee wrote Roosevelt that an extra session could remove the chief obstacle to exposing the New York political grafters by creating a statute which would permit the committee to grant immunity to its witnesses. In refusing to waive immunity and in opposing such a statute, Seabury said, Tammany leaders had made a "direct challenge to the public spirit and sense of decency of the people of New York state."

Roosevelt has not yet in any sense shirked his duty in the steps toward the exposure of Tammany. As in this latest instance, he has acted consistently in the public interest. He has not, however, shown any sign of personal animus toward Tammany which might suggest that he is one of those whom Boss John F. Curry accuses of "persecuting and crucifying" the organization. That is, the governor has not yet grasped a flaming sword and brandished it at Tammany for public effect, calling on his trumpeters to call attention to it and sound his praises. That may come in time, when and if Tammany leaders are definitely shown to be guilty of crimes harged but not yet proved against them.

Most politicians would advise Roosevelt to seize the opportunity as soon as it comes. The unanimity of Tammany leaders in refusing to waive constitutional immunity from John F. Curry down, has indicated that there is plenty of hot stuff to be discovered. If the anticipated exposures develop it might prove suicidal for Roosevelt to adopt anything but a strongly militant attitude. The growing belief is that a definite break with the organization would strengthen Roosevelt through the country and in New York state as well as to make Tammany's subsequent attempts to knife him quite unimportant.

Assuming Roosevelt's nomination, his most obvious bid to collect New York's electoral votes despite Tammany would be to put Judge Seabury on the ticket for governor, thereby dramatizing the issue for its utmost worth. All of which looks a long way ahead and assumes a lot, but the possibilities are distinctly in the cards.

Choice Cooks' Corner

Cutlets With Stuffed Peppers
Four veal cutlets, 1 egg, cracker crumbs, 2 large sweet green peppers, 1-2 cup diced green beans, 4 tablespoons tiny onions, 1-2 cup diced carrots, 1-2 cup tiny beets, 4 tablespoons diced celery, 4 tablespoons Hollandaise sauce or melted butter. Trim cutlets and dip in crumbs; dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon cold water, and roll in crumbs again. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and saute a rich brown on both sides. Reduce heat and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Place on a hot platter and on each cutlet put half a pepper stuffed with the combination of vegetables. Season with salt and pepper and pour the sauce or melted butter over each. After cutting the peppers in halves and removing the seeds, simmer for eight minutes in boiling salted water. Each of the vegetables is cooked separately. This is an excellent way to use left over vegetables.

Stuffed Eggplant
One medium-sized egg plant, 3 tomatoes, 1-2 cup fine dried bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon minced green pepper, 1 cup chopped lobster or shrimp, and coarse buttered crumbs. Boil eggplant until tender, drain and cut in halves the long way. Remove pulp and add tomatoes peeled and chopped. Add fine dried bread crumbs, butter, salt and pepper, the green pepper and lobster. Fill the eggplant shells with this mixture, cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven until brown on top.

LIFE

By Mrs. Vera Lively

LIFE is just a road to tread,
With many a crook and turn,
We cannot know what is ahead,
And our bridges behind we burn.

YET we must ever go onward,
We can neither go back nor stay,
We know not what is ahead of us,
And there is no yesterday.

WE cannot live in memory,
It knows not the needs of today,
We must always look toward the future,
Which is always one day away.

THEN when the journey is over,
And down lies the weary head,
The eyes will still be striving,
To see beyond the dead.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally (Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals) present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

Billy Moran out there on No. 1 tee, hitting 'em and finding what was wrong with his game Sunday.
His long wood shots weren't clicking.
A change in stance is helping,
we notice. He's one of the few fellows who can hit 36 bullseyes over the countrywide—and remember where they are—later going out and picking them up.

When Leon Cheung was fanned by Phil Roller Sneed in last night's thrilling encounter with the Rexall Stores the crowds made bedlam.
They say, those who sat on the sidelines, that Cheung's home run hit foul and that the ump didn't see it. One was aboard. In other words, had it not been for the decision, Rexall would have been tied with the leaders in the last of the seventh. Errors played a part in even that much of the scoring. Rexall played the Scroggsmen the best game except for one (that of the Bell telephone company in a 3-2 decision) of the season.

When we wrote a few weeks ago that the Betty Co-Eds threw more games away than they lost at bat—we must have been leading up to yesterday's encounter. Having a good run lead, they started throwing the ball late and wild all over the lot—and ended the season in third place rather than fourth. The Business Girls caught the small girls and beat them out. Stanton and the Petrols play this afternoon, in a game that ends the Women's Bi-City league.
Several Petrols are out of town, and a couple or three Betts will play with them. Ought to be a rather good game.

State Game Movies Shown

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—Moving picture films of game subjects are being distributed by the Pennsylvania Game commission to theaters within the state. One of the earliest releases presented phases of ringneck pheasant propagation and hunting.
Views were presented of bird dogs pointing the birds, the approach of the hunter, the flush, the kill and the retrieve, and other pictures of breeding the dogs on the state farms were included.

TENNIS BALLS ON ICE

PARIS. (UP)—Tennis balls kept on ice have proved a great asset to tennis matches. In order to keep the balls at a standard temperature during the Davis cup matches at the Stade Roland-Garros, to prevent them from expanding with the heat, an electric ice box was installed near the central court, and regulated to keep the balls at an even 18 degrees Centigrade. As the balls in play were changed frequently the temperature at which they were kept made them bound uniformly.

MINE TOLL WAS 109

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—One hundred and nine workers lost their lives in the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania during the first seven months of 1931, compared with 182 for the corresponding period of last year, the Department of Mines reported. In the anthracite region of the state 230 fatalities were recorded among miners during the seven month period this year compared with 251 for the same period last year.

Denver and Temple to Tangle

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (UP)—The University of Denver's football team, member of the Rocky Mountain conference, will play the Temple University squad in 1932 according to an announcement made by Earl R. Voemans, graduate manager of athletics at Temple. The game will complete the two-year agreement between the two universities, he said.

BUICK AND HARDWARE ARE MONDAY NIGHT PLAYGROUND WINNERS

CHEWNING-MEN ARE HELD 5-3 BY REXALL

The Rexall boys held Chewning and his Buick fixers to one of the best games seen in the second half of the nocturne league last night, the Scruggs Buick aggregation emerging with a 5 to 3 win.

Each team garnered only four hits, Willingham, going into the box for the Rexall boys in the fifth inning, worried the Buick batsmen considerably.

Contrasted to the more or less tight baseball played in the Buick-Rexall tussel was the wild orgy of hits and runs produced when the Midland Hardware snowed under the Bell Telephone team 21 to 9. The game was never in doubt. When Clark loosened to the extent that several Bell boys were walked, the telephone pitcher, Bunnell, allowed the nail-sackers to get hits that were good for everything from homers down to singles.

TACKLES WILL BE BACKBONE

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (UP).—Northwestern's 1931 football team will be built around a pair of great tackles and a pair of smashing backs.

Coach Dick Tanley lost about two-thirds of his 1930 team, which tied for the Big Ten title with Michigan and was defeated only by Notre Dame, but he has the material for another formidable eleven.

To start with Hanley has Captain Dallas Marvil and Jack Riley, two of the best tackles in the Big Ten last season, as a foundation for his line. Add to them "Pug" Rentner and "Red" Russell, two big husky, hard-hitting backs, and Northwestern again looms as a dangerous contender for the Western Conference championship.

Rentner was recognized as the greatest passer in the Big Ten last season, until his shoulder was injured in the Minnesota game and he was unable to play against Wisconsin and Notre Dame. Not only is Rentner an extraordinary passer, but he is a star at carrying the ball and backing up the line.

Russell had no peer at carrying the ball on short stabs into the line last season, and his terrific line punching almost carried Northwestern to victory over Notre Dame. Fumbles inside Notre Dame's five-yard line twice cost Northwestern chances to score.

Missing from this year's team will be Hank Bruder, Lee Hanley, and Lefty Leach, from the backfield; Bob Clark, center; Red Woodworth, guard; Bob Gonyea, 200-pound tackle, who is ineligible; Frank Baker and Larry Oliphant, ends. Bruder, Woodworth, and Baker were all Big Ten men and also were mentioned for several all-America teams.

Hanley plans to shift Paul Engbertsen, reserve tackle last year, to center. Jimmy Evans, regular last year, and Frank Dilley, who saw some service last year, will probably fill the guard positions.

One of the hardest places to fill will be Frank Baker's end. He was a real ball hawk. Dick Fencil, a second-year man, will play one end, while Ralph Eylar, reserve, and Art Jans, a sophomore, will battle for the other one.

Rentner and Russell will bear the brunt of the backfield work. Ken Meenan, Oak Park high school sensation a couple of years ago, will probably play quarterback, with Al Moore, halfback, who has seen service off and on for two years, calling signals.

Besides Meenan, there are several other promising sophomore backs who will see quite a bit of service. They are George Potter, Jake Sullivan and Oliver Olson.

Northwestern's eight-game schedule follows:

Oct. 3.—Nebraska at Evanston.
Oct. 10.—Notre Dame at Soldier Field.
Oct. 17.—U. C. L. A. at Evanston.
Oct. 24.—Ohio State at Columbus.
Oct. 31.—Illinois at Evanston.
Nov. 7.—Minnesota at Evanston.
Nov. 14.—Indiana at Evanston.
Nov. 21.—Iowa at Iowa City.

Irene Dunne Sings In Movie at Ritz

While "The Great Lover," a comedy-drama, is in no sense a "singing picture," the beautiful voice of Irene Dunne of "Show-boat" fame will be heard in it, presenting three charming and popular operatic numbers.

Miss Dunne's role in the M-G-M picture, which is now at the Ritz theatre for one day, is that of a young singer who is trying to make a hit in grand opera. Two of her songs are sung by Adolphe Menjou, playing Paurel, a great French baritone; the third she sings at an informal dinner of several opera stars.

The three selections are the "Waltz Song," from "Romeo and Juliet," the always popular "Ich Liebe Dich" (sung in English), and "There Is a Voice That I Enshrine," from "The Barber of Seville."

With Menjou, in a sequence laid in the Metropolitan Grand Opera House, Miss Dunne sings the great duet from "Don Giovanni," "Give Me Your Hand."

Texas farmers favor the curbing of cotton production by legislation.

At a meeting of Texas Cotton Co-operative association members in Abilene 49 or 56 farmers voting expressed a view favoring statute to limit cotton production. These opinions, revealed in answers to a questionnaire, varied on the type of legislation. The large majority—41—favored the Cunningham bill, which would make it unlawful to plant cotton on the same land two years in succession. The Huey Long proposal to prohibit absolutely the growing of any cotton in the South in the year 1932 had four proponents; and four growers favored a graduated tax on cotton to curb production, rather than a low to cut acreage.

Seven of the answers opposed any type of legislation to restrict cotton production.

head, Findings at the inquest disclosed he died of hemorrhage of the brain, said Justice Collins.

A physician taken to the scene of the trouble by Blackstock's son, said the man had been dead an hour when he arrived.

Johnson was arrested at his home three miles from where the fight occurred, by Deputy Andrew Merrick, Constable Mille Nichols and a T. & P. special officer.

Blackstock's body was being prepared for burial here tonight. Funeral arrangements had not been announced.

With his son he had planned to return home Monday morning.

OWSLEY CHANGES PROTEST SPEECH TO PALESTINE

KILGORE, Aug. 25. (UP).—As Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters

placed a rigid ban on mass meetings within the military zone, Colonel Alvin M. Owsley, former national commander of the American Legion, announced that he would speak in Palestine tonight instead of Tyler.

Rangers, county officers and citizens are aiding the 1,200 troopers in seeking the reds who are suspected of firing eight buildings here during the past two days.

Plenty of Fish for Anglers

BOSTON. (UP).—There should be plenty of good luck for Massachusetts fishermen this year. The state game and fish department has stocked ponds and streams with 1,373,934 game fish, more than 80 per cent of which were already of legal limit.

Baby Swallows Were "Spooks"

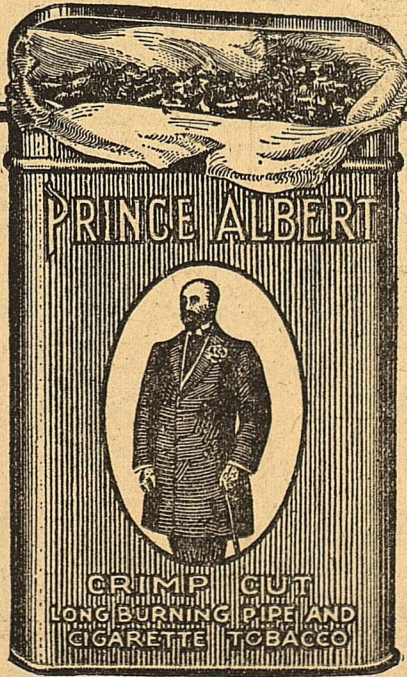

QUINCY, Mass. (UP).—Some residents of the neighborhood thought spooks were responsible for weird noises emanating from an abandoned chimney until firemen investigated. In the chimney they found three motherless baby swallows.
