Keeping tab on our neighbors:

Kim Pease of the Rotan Advance and Roby Star-Record says the complications of modern life are somehow symbolized by this traffic sign near a large intersection in a Midwestern city: "To make a left turn, make two right turns."

That's going pretty far to the right. But some political observers say you can go so far to the right that you wind up "left" and vice versa.

Some environmentalists have questioned the ferocity of coyotes, but perhaps you saw the picture in the paper Wednesday of the New Jersey boy who had been attacked by a coyote that had escaped from a zoo.

Farmland News says coyote kills of sheep in 1974 in the United States have been estimated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture at 503,000 lambs and 230 stock sheep. A 15-state area was surveyed to rate the coyote as the leading cause of lamb deaths and second highest cause of sheep mortalities.

There's still a lot of unrest over a ruling by Texas Attorney General John Hill that public school districts must quit collecting fees from pupils for several items.

Says the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal: "A 'free education' as guaranteed by the constitution does not in our opinion mean public financing of every extra-curricular activity that comes along. That principle should not be abandoned."

It seems that a lot of people misinterpret, or flat mis-read the constitution. Some seem to think they are entitled to "life, liberty and happiness" when actually they are promised "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness." Too few are willing to pursue on their own.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Jan. 30, the 30th day of 1976. There are 336 days left in the year.

On this date in 1933, Adolf Hitler became Chancellor of Germany.

On this date:

In 1649, King Charles I of England was beheaded.

In 1835, a would-be assassin fired two shots at President Andrew Jackson at the Capitol in Washington, but missed. It was the first attempt to assassinate an American president.

In 1847, the California town of Yerba Buena was renamed San Francisco.

In 1889, Crown Prince Archduke Rudolf of Austria committed suicide.

In 1882, Franklin Roosevelt was born at Hyde Park, N.Y.

In 1948, the Indian nationalist leader, Mohandas Gandhi, was assassinated in New Delhi.

Ten years ago: A massive blizzard crippled the eastern United States and some Southern states registered the lowest temperatures on their records.

Five years ago: Some 400 U.S. Bombers pounded southern Laos and the northwestern corner of South Vietnam in raids aimed at disrupting an enemy buildup.

One year ago: The U.S. program of conditional amnesty for military draft evaders and deserters was extended one month to March 1.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, a petition submitted by a number of non-commissioned officers of the militia in New York asked for back pay due them and said their services should be confined to the city, where their friends and relatives lived.

COURT UPHOLDS OTHER PROVISIONS OF ACT

Campaign Fund Limit Off

By W. DALE NELSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A divided Supreme Court today ruled that candidates for President or Congress may spend umlimited amounts of money in their political campaigns.

It upheld federal subsidies to presidential candidates, ordered changes in the new Federal Election Commission, and left intact the legal limits on what private citizens may give to federal candidates.

In its historic opinion the court also struck down limits on what federal candidates themselves may spend from their own or their family's money.

But the court ruled that federal candidates must continue to disclose what they spend in their election campaigns and where they get the money.

The decision was hailed as a victory by John Gardner, president of Common Cause, the citizen group that fought to defend the year-old federal election law against sweeping challenges.

There was no immediate reaction from Sen. James Buckley, R-N.Y., who was among the chief attackers of the law.

Initial reactions from candidates indicated the ruling would have only a slight effect on campaign strategies. It would allow better financed candidates, such as Republican challenger Ronald Reagan or Democrat Sen. Henry M. Jackson, to mount big advertising campaigns in the Feb. 14 New Hampshire primary if they wish. The law had limited spending in New Hampshire to about $200,000 per candidate.

Jackson, however, said he would abide by the old spending ceiling, even though it is no longer binding.

But the ruling means most candidates will continue to have difficulty raising money. Private citizens may give no more than $1,000 to any single campaign. Political committees may give no more than $5,000 per campaign.

Federal subsidies to the presidential candidates will continue, with the Treasury matching up to the first $250 of each private donation to presidential candidates.

Because of this difficulty in raising money, it appears unlikely that more than a few of the present candidates would be able to raise enough money to spend beyond the old limits.

As to the spending limits, the court said in its unsigned opinion that they "impose direct and substantial restraints on the quantity of political speech."

SPEARHEADS SOLAR ENERGY USE—Bridgeport, Tex., City Manager Maury Brown stands in the downtown area of the city he hopes someday soon will be using solar energy to produce electrical power. Threatened with an electricity blackout because of a rate dispute with a power company, Bridgeport is negotiating to become the first community in the nation powered by solar energy. "If we can make solar energy work, all people will benefit. We have done something to control the cost of living," remarked Brown. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Ford, Bush Look To CIA Future

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following victory in his fight with the House intelligence committee over disclosure of CIA secrets, President Ford said today that "we cannot improve this agency by destroying it" but instead must make it "an instrument of peace and an object of pride for all Americans."

Ford spoke at the swearing-in ceremonies in nearby Langley, Va., of George Bush, former Texas congressman and U.S. envoy to Peking, as new director of the CIA.

Describing Bush as "fully prepared" for his duties, Ford said the new CIA director's first job would be "to restore public confidence in this agency."

But Ford said that cannot be accomplished by dismantling, paralyzing or undermining the CIA.

After taking his oath from Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart, Bush declared that "the emphasis now will be on the future."

The House, by a vote of 246 to 124, ordered its intelligence committee Thursday to either deliver the panel's final report on U.S. intelligence activites to the House as a secret document or get Ford's approval to release it publicly.

GEORGE BUSH
....Sworn In Today

Ford hailed the step, saying the vote "shows the House members recognize that the American people want a strong and effective foreign intelligence capability.... Today's House vote demonstrates that it also takes seriously its responsiblity to protect national security secrets."

A different view came from Rep. Otis Pike, D-N.Y., chairman of the intelligence panel, who said the House order gives Ford and the CIA the power to censor the committee's report on the CIA and other intelligence agencies.

Pike said he'd rather issue no final report at all but said he did not know what the committee will decide.

"I do indeed see a cover-up in which I think the Congress is regretfully participating," Pike charged. "... I think they (Ford's advisers) have managed to block the report."

The House followed the recommendation of the committee's senior Republican, Rep. Robert McClory of Illinois, who said the question was whether the House could be trusted to keep its word.

McClory said that publication of secret information on covert operations without consulting Ford would violate a committee-Ford agreement giving Ford the final word on releasing secrets.

OVERRIDE SECOND SPENDING BILL

Democrats Are Pushing Antirecession Program

By EDMOND Le BRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Riding high on two straight spending victories, congressional Democrats are planning to push their antirecession program despite President Ford's demand for budgetary restraint.

The House voted 321 to 80 on Thursday to pass a $6.1-billion bill featuring grants for public works projects and funds to help state and local governments avoid employe layoffs and tax hikes. Sponsers claim the bill would create or preserve up to 800,000 jobs.

Hours before it was passed, Ford's press secretary, Ron Nessen, told reporters the President would veto the bill. A day earlier, Democrats won their first spending battle of the year, overriding Ford's veto of a $45-billion money bill for labor, health and welfare programs.

Ford made no direct comment on passage of the public works bill, but there was no indication he had changed his mind about vetoing it. The House vote margin was far above the two-thirds needed to override a veto. The Senate approved the bill by voice vote Dec. 17.

Talking to a delegation of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, a group that lobbied hard for the public works bill, Ford said he was "not going for some of these quick fixes that some of these people advocate."

Suggesting that his strategy would be to press for extension of general revenue-sharing instead of specific programs backed by Democrats, Ford later told a group from the Young Republican Leadership Conference there had been no forward movement in Congress on his 8-month-old request for the extension.

Revenue-sharing, inaugurated in the administration of former President Richard M. Nixon, gives state and local governments a share of federal revenues with virtually no strings.

Some Democrats advocate putting requirements into the plan if it is extended.

"I think general revenue-sharing is in very deep trouble," Ford said. "We have to launch a massive effort to get some action."

He told the Young Republicans their economic future looks bright "if we keep our cool and don't try some quick fix that won't work."

But jubilant Democrats hailed Thursday's House vote as evidence that their economy-priming program is rolling. Only 13 Democrats voted against the bill, while Republicans divided 52 for and 67 against.

Democratic Whip John J. McFall of California said the House will act soon on a bill to increase from 310,000 to 600,000 the number of federally funded jobs for the unemployed in state and local governments. Ford has recommended phasing out the jobs program.

3 Charged In Murder Of 'Prof'

ATLANTA (AP) — Three young Atlanta men were charged today with murder and robbery in the slaying of James E. Edmondson, the "Professor Backwards" familiar to many television viewers.

Police identified the three as Roy Anthony Brown, 20; Michael Gantt, 22, and Willie Bell, 17.

All three lived within a mile of the northwest Atlanta area where Edmondson's body was found Thursday, detective Douglas Young said.

Atlanta police charged the three with murder and robbery. Police in College Park, the suburb where Edmondson lived with a housekeeper, said additional charges were pending.

"We'll issue warrants today charging all three with kidnaping and two of them with rape — Bell and Brown," said Sgt. Marvin Parrott.

According to police reports, three men appeared at Edmondson's modest suburban home Wednesday night and asked to use the telephone.

Before the three fled about 9 a.m. Thursday in the entertainer's Cadillac, Edmondson's 25-year-old housekeeper was raped, police said.

Two US Planes Crash Today

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force F4D Phantom II fighter-bombers collided in the air and crashed today near Taejon, 85 miles southeast of Seoul, an Air Force spokesman said.

He said the fate of the four crew members was not immediately known but that a rescue team was being sent to the remote crash site.

He said the planes were assigned to the 8th Tactical Fighter Wing at Kunsan Air Base on the west coast, 120 miles south of Seoul.

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman said the Air Force in Seoul reported no sighting of parachutes after the collision. The cause of the crash was unknown immediately, he said.

The spokesman said the two fighter-bombers were part of a three-plane air combat training mission.

Fed Gas Hike Claims Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading House opponent of price controls on natural gas claims deregulation would add much less to the average residential gas bill than government reports predict.

Rep. Bob Krueger, a freshman Democrat from Texas who has been in the forefront of House efforts to lift the controls, provided no dollar figures but said Thursday that prices probably would rise 4 per cent a year without government regulation.

The Federal Power Commission says residential users of natural gas paid an average of $170 in 1974. A rise of 4 per cent a year, beginning with that base figure, would bring the average cost to a residential user to $215 by 1980 and $261 a year by 1985.

The General Accounting Office, in a report earlier this month on the impact of deregulation on prices, estimated that by 1980 through 1985 residential users could expect to pay an average of $331 a year.

Earlier this week a private consulting firm called to testify before the energy and power subcommittee on which Krueger serves, concluded from a study it had conducted that by 1980 the average yearly cost of natural gas to consumers, without price controls, would be $243 in 1980. That is $28 more than under Krueger's 4 per cent formula.

Krueger won approval late last year to offer on the House floor an amendment that would substitute his plan for deregulation for an emergency natural gas bill that avoided the issue.

That bill probably will be called up next week, at which time Krueger's substitute amendment is expected to be offered.

Meanwhile, Krueger continues to speak out against government reports he says are erroneous.

One of these is a study by the Library of Congress, released last year, that he describes as "remarkably naive ... and naive is the most generous term you can use."

He said the study confused the price of delivered gas to the consumer and the price of the gas at the wellhead, "which is about the same as confusing the price of wheat and a loaf of bread."

Morocco Claims Win In Sahara

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Morocco today claimed victory in three days of fighting in the Spanish Sahara and said its forces captured 101 Algerian troops and pro-Algerian nationalists. Algeria said its forces withdrew "in good order" and made no mention of any losses.

A Moroccan communique said the Amghala region 175 miles southwest of the Algerian frontier had been "cleansed of all rebel elements" of the Polisario Front, the independence movement in the Spanish Sahara which the Algerian government supports.

The fighting ended early Thursday after "several dozen" guerrillas were killed, the Moroccans said. No other casualty figures were given by either side, but the Moroccans claimed they captured "important quantities" of heavy equipment, including artillry mortars and antiaircraft missiles.

Foreign observers were barred from the remote area on the eastern side of the desert territory, and the official Moroccan and Algerian reports gave no indication of the size of the forces involved.

Algeria claimed its troops were attacked while convoying food and medicine to refugees from Moroccan rule; military sources in Paris said tanks and artillery were used, and there was "heavy" fighting. The official Algerian news agency said Algerian forces withdrew "after they admirably carried out their mission."

Spain is turning over the Spanish Sahara to neighboring Morocco and Mauritania on Feb. 28 despite Algerian opposition. The Algerians, who have a 10-mile frontier with the northeast corner of the territory, want an independent government run by the Polisario Front so that they can build a railroad to haul Algerian iron ore to the Atlantic coast. Morocco, already the world's largest exporter of phosphates, wants the rich phosphates in the northern part of the territory.

Moroccan troops have taken over the main towns of the sparsely populated, Colorado-size territory and sizable stretches of the desert hinterland.

Safety Mark By Welex Is Recognized

Employes of Welex in Snyder and their wives were guests at a dinner Wednesday night honoring the Welex men's outstanding safe driving achievement---two million consecutive miles in company vehicles without an accident.

Welex provides electric well logging and jet perforating services to the oil industry throughout the world and is a division of Halliburton Company.

Harold Campbell, manager of operations engineering from Welex headquarters in Houston, was on hand to see Roland W. Gay, manager of safety from Duncan, Okla., present the Two Million Mile Club plaque to Nealon Carter, district manager in charge of the Snyder location.

Welex men at Snyder have not had a vehicle accident in company equipment since Halliburton began keeping a mileage record for Welex in Snyder in January, 1961.

Snyder employees reached a million accident-free miles on June 15, 1968. They achieved the two million mile mark on Oct. 25, 1975.

Others attending the Two Million Mile Club dinner were Wayne Satterwhite, division manager; Wendall Lewis, assistant division manager, and Benton Riddel, division safety director; all from Midland.

Dinner Show Tickets Are On Sale Now

Tickets for the third annual Western Texas College dinner theatre are now on sale at Snyder Drug, Snyder National Bank, West Texas State Bank and the WTC Fine Arts Division office.

Admission prices are $7.50 for adults and $6 for students. Due to the limited seating capacity, no telephone reservations can be accepted for the dinner theatre and no tickets will be sold at the door.

All tickets must be purchased prior to noon on Feb. 18. Performances are scheduled Feb. 19-21 and Feb. 26-28 in the WTC Student Center cafeteria.

"Play It Again, Sam" has been selected for the dinner theatre production. Woody Allen wrote the play and starred in the movie version. The comedy deals with the attempts of the leading character, Allan Felix, to find romance in his life as he tries to take his cues from his concept of Humphrey Bogart. The title of the play was taken from the Bogie movie "Casablanca."

Dinner theatre patrons will be treated to a candlelight dinner with a choice of roast beef or ham for the entree. Dessert will be served at intermission.

AT&T Hike To Up Bill Dime

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you make long distance telephone calls, the chances are your monthly telephone bill will be going up on Feb. 12.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co., filing for rate adjustments Thursday, said the average residential telephone bill will increase by about 10 cents per month. The average business customer will pay about $2 a month more if the Federal Communications Commission approves the new rates as expected.

The new rates submitted to the FCC would increase the cost of long distance calls made over short distances, while reducing the cost of calls made over longer distances. Calls in which operator assistance is required would undergo the sharpest increase.

For instance, a three minute direct-dialed evening call from Chicago to San Francisco would drop from 84 cents to 80 cents, but a station-to-station call between the same cities requiring operator assistance would rise from $1.90 for three minutes to $2.15.

AT&T says the hikes will make long distance calls about as expensive as in 1953 when the company began lowering its long distance rates.

The FCC approved a similar rate pattern on an interim basis last March 9, increasing about two-thirds of the interstate long-distance rates and either decreasing or keeping the others the same.

The precise amount of increases faced by each customer would depend upon the number and type of interstate calls made, their distance and duration, the time of the day and the day of the week.

Under the proposal, the shorter the distance the more the increase.

For instance, a one-minute daytime customer-dialed call from New York to Los Angeles would drop from 56 to 54 cents. A one-minute daytime call from New York to St. Louis would stay at 50 cents and a call from New York to Detroit would rise from 49 cents to 50 cents.

The AT&T filings followed an FCC decision Jan. 19 raising the company's rate of return on its interstate service rate from 8.74 per cent to 9.5 per cent for a $225 million a year increase.

AT&T has won five rate increases since Jan. 26, 1971. Previously, there were nine reductions, starting in 1953.

Consumers also have been hit with a flurry of local telephone increases the past year. AT&T, which through its Bell System operates about 85 per cent of the nation's telephones, reported rate increases were approved in 38 states last year and new increases are pending in 25 states and the District of Columbia.

Dallas Gas Rate Hike Requested

DALLAS (AP) — Lone Star Gas Co. has asked the city of Dallas for permission to raise residential and commercial gas rates to cover more than $5 million in operating losses last year.

Lone Star officials said Thursday the increase, an average of 46 cents per thousand cubic feet, would mean a $30-a-month gas bill would go up to about $40.

Enserch Corp.'s Utility Division, which has 233,000 customers in the Dallas distribution system, also asked for residential and commercial gas rate increases of 46 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Lone Star said, "In the 12-month period ending Oct. 31, 1975, upon which period this application is based, a loss of over $2.5 million was incurred. An additional loss of about $2.5 million occurred in November, 1975."

Dorm Has Making Love Room

By MALCOLM N. CARTER
Associated Press Writer

STONY BROOK, N.Y. (AP) — In the basement of a dormitory at the State University of New York, there is a room for playing games, a room for cracking books and a room for making rafts. There is also a room for making love.

On a water bed.

"It works out very well," says Rob Gross, a 19-year-old junior from Pelham who helped install it. "People sign up in advance, so there's no confusion. There's only one key to the room."

He says there is now a two-week wait — longer for weekend nights — among the dormitory's 200 residents for a turn at the room. There is no charge, and the students bring their own linen. Checkout time is 24 hours after the 9 p.m. occupancy time.

Gross says the dormitory legislature voted last September to use about $40 of its $1,000 in student activity fees for a particular activity.

He bought a second-hand water bed, patched together a wooden frame, filled the bed with water and posted sign-up sheets.

"It's no strain, no pain," the engineering major says. "Everybody likes it. Nobody abuses it."

Gross says his dorm, a coeducational one with no visiting restrictions, wasn't the first to promote such rooms.

The water bed is housed behind a brown door in a room with rust-colored carpet and a big window, "with curtains." There is an overhead light, but the remains of candles attest to more romantic sources of illumination.

Gross says that a variety of students, not just the same ones, seem to use the water bed, including him.

A university spokesman says that "at this point we have no definite evidence that irregularities have occurred."

Irregularities?

"That's not an irregularity," Gross counters. "At least I don't think so. Who knows?"

SMOKING AND YOU

Some Group Case Histories

By ROBIN FRAMES and MARK FUERST
(Sixth of 10 Parts)

If you suspect that tips on quitting smoking are workable only on paper, join a group. Not only for the techniques of the clinic itself, but to see, in the flesh, how giving up smoking is done.

For example, there is Joseph K., who recalls: "I smoked for 27 years and tried for 12 of them to give it up by myself, but I failed. At one point I was smoking three packs a day. I coughed so badly that at times I coughed blood or coughed so hard that I would throw up. I also had frequent bronchial infections. But I kept on smoking.

"Finally, I was forced by sheer physical necessity to cut down to one pack a day. Then a few months ago I decided to try the American Cancer Society's quit-smoking program. I was committed intellectually, but had almost no faith in my ability to stop."

Mr. K. failed the first time he tried to quit while in the program -- "I stayed off cigarettes 18 hours and then smoked four in a row." But he tried again the next day, and hasn't smoked since.

"I kind of slipped into it," he says, "I went for 10 hours and decided I could stretch it out a few more. 'Why not make it 24?' was the next step, and then one more day and one more. It's been four months now."

He says he's still having a difficult time, but adds that "it's easier now than it was a month ago. I really want a cigarette – I can even taste it in my mind – but I have no intention of ever smoking again. I've invested a lot of energy into something that I'm proud of having achieved. I just can't see letting all that go down the drain."

Mr. K. chews on cinnamon sticks and eats candy when the cigarette temptation gets too great, but he is now able to use reason too. "The ACS program helps you to change your approach to smoking from an irrational habit to a conscious thing."

Another ex-smoker is Mrs. Celia F., who smoked over a pack a day for years. She took notes on her smoking after joining a group and found she was reaching for a cigarette whenever she felt low, impatient or in need of a lift. But she also found that a number of cigarettes were smoked out of habit, not really needed.

"So far I haven't had any problem about craving cigarettes, and it's so great to go swimming without puffing and blowing." She says she finds she even can play scrabble with a room full of smokers without being tempted to light up.

Mrs. Shirley D., a smoker for 30 years, was consuming two-and-one-half packs a day when she came to an ACS clinic.

"I knew I had to quit for my health's sake, and needed help. It wasn't so much the stopping – I had done that before – it was the reinforcement of the group that I needed to help me stay off cigarettes.

"Wrapping my cigarettes and taking notes showed me I could hardly do any daily task without smoking. But after a week I decided the whole thing wasn't worth dragging out any longer and I quit.

"It's been nearly four months and I'm still fighting hard, but it's working. I'm chewing a lot of gum and have found that keeping my hands busy is important. I've started hooking a rug."

HAVE ROLES IN PLAY—Jeanne McCormick, Marsha Parham and Sherri Bullard, from left to right, have roles in "No No Nannette," a musical which will be presented Saturday and Monday evenings by the Snyder High School Fine Arts Department. Curtain time for each performance will be 7:30 p.m.

'No No Nannette' Opens At 7:30 P.M. Saturday

Roles not previously announced in the upcoming SHS Musical production of "No No Nanette" will be played by JaneAnn Womack, Jeanne McCormick, Marsha Parham and Sherri Bullard. The show will premiere tomorrow night at 7:30 on the SHS stage and play again Monday evening at the same time.

The show, under the direction of Bill Lyon and Jerry Worsham, music and drama instructors at the school will be in tradition with a long string of Musical Comedies which have been presented by the school during the past number of years. Portions of it were presented this morning to 200 Junior High School students who are part of the Integrated Fine Arts program at Snyder Jr. High.

Miss Womack, a senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Womack of 2317 Forty-second Street. She began her "musical experience" by playing the role of one of the children in the 1967 SHS production of "South Pacific." She is active in Choir work at SHS and is a member of the Swingers. She has appeared in a number of local club and organization shows as both guitarist and singer. She is a member of First Methodist Church. Her role in the musical is that of "plain Jane" wife of Jimmy Smith (Dane Witherspoon). She wants to save money, is conservative, but finally comes alive as the show progresses.

A trio which causes most of the "upsets" in No No Nannette consists of Jeanne McCormick, as Betty, Marsha Parham as Winnie and Sherri Bullard as Flora. They are a group of "con artists" who seek to do the leading man out of a good portion of his money. How they succeed in doing so, is a large part of the plot of the show.

Jeanne is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude McCormick Jr. of 3106 Avenue U. She is a sophomore, was involved in the Musical Production at Lamar Jr. High last year, is a member of SHS Choir and Swingers and SHS Drama Department. "She appeared in Bi-Centennial Follies" earlier this year. She is a member of East Side Church of Christ.

Marsha is a sophomore and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Parham of 2111 Thirtieth Street. She also began her SHS "Musical experience" at an early age, as her mother (Sue) was Drama Director and Co-Director of such musicals as "Brigadoon" in 1966. She is a Sophomore and transferred to SHS this year from Ira High where last year she was involved in their one-act play. She is a member of SHS Choir and Drama Departments and is a member of Girl Scouts of America. She attends the Church of Christ.

JANE ANN WOMACK

Sherri Bullard is a junior and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bullard. She has won numerous awards in choral competition and is a member of SHS Choir and SHS Swingers as well as the Drama Department. An older sister, Jana, and an older brother, Joe, preceded her on the SHS Stage and will be remembered in shows such as "A Tour of Broadway; Music Man; and Ondine." She appeared in "Bi-Centennial Follies" earlier this year. She is also a member of the Church of Christ.

Tickets are on sale for the production and may be bought from students or at the door. Curtain time is 7:30 and ticket prices are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Smoker Acquitted

HOUSTON (AP) — Jack Lanerie, 61, the first person to be tried under the city's anti-smoking ordinance, has been acquitted.

Lanerie, an independent truck driver, was cleared in municipal court Tuesday. His $52.50 bond was returned.

Judge A. B. Green said, "The evidence presented to me does not support a conviction."

Green said the manager of the store where the alleged incident occurred did not testify.

The complaint was filed by Frank Stiver, 38, newly elected president of a Houston organization called Texans Against Public Smoking.

Persons convicted of violating the ordinance can be fined up to $200.

Temple Names Comissiona Adviser

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sergiu Comissiona, conductor of the Baltimore Symphony, has been appointed musical adviser for the Temple University Music Festival.

Comissiona already has taken an active role in advising on the selection of artists and programs being developed for the 1976 season. He also will conduct the resident Pittsburgh Symphony on several occasions next summer.

More on Mail to Unmarried Oldsters

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc

DEAR ABBY: In reply to FLORIDA RETIREES, who questioned how to address mail to couples living together though not married:

My preference may not be proper etiquette, but it solves the problem for me.

I address mail to "Mary and John Smith"—using neither Mr. or Mrs. I use Mary's name first because I know that she is Mary Jones and not Mary Smith, but the mailman doesn't have to know.

GRACE IN MICHIGAN

DEAR GRACE: The mailman probably knows as much as you know, but couldn't care less.

DEAR ABBY: For years I wore my wedding ring first with my diamond on the outside. I had been told by the jeweler that that was the "correct" way to wear them, but I didn't know that it was to keep the wedding ring "closest to the heart" until I read it in your column.

But let me tell you why I don't wear them that way anymore: About five years ago, I was eating peanuts at a ball game, and my diamond ring slipped off my finger into the peanut sack. Luckily, I found it among the peanut shells, and when I put it back on my finger, I put it on first and put on my wedding band on the outside. Sign me...

"BETTER SAFE THAN RIGHT"

DEAR BETTER: Speaking from a materialistic point of view, you're protecting the more "valuable" ring. But symbolically speaking, it's easier to replace a diamond than a wedding band.

DEAR ABBY: Concerning the boy who expects a girl to kiss on the first date after he has gone to all the trouble of giving her a free show, dinner, etc.:

Your answer was: "A kiss should not be expected in return for an evening's entertainment or anything else. It's strictly a voluntary show of real affection."

You are all wrong.

If the girl doesn't like the guy enough to kiss him, she shouldn't go out with him in the first place!

18-YEAR-OLD GIRL

DEAR "18": How is the girl supposed to know how much (or little) she likes a guy until she goes out with him?

DEAR ABBY: This is for D, who was concerned about her male friend because he carried his own salad dressing in a little jar and sprinkled wheatgerm on his food.

D's main concern should be keeping up with him in the bedroom. I don't know about the salad dressing, but I know a man who uses wheatgerm regularly on his cereal, and he's dynamite in that department.

Opening lead—Q ♦

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The game was board-a-match team of four and both West's opened with three diamonds. At one table East elected to pass and it was up to South to do something. He looked at what appeared to be eight sure tricks and tried three notrump. Everyone passed and after West opened the queen of diamonds South ran off 12 tricks.

Everyone laughed when they noted that a spade lead, diamond return, second spade, second diamond, etc. would have given the defenders a grand slam.

North and South were so happy that they overlooked the fact that they could have made a suit slam.

This wasn't overlooked at the other table. East bid three spades, South four spades and eventually South wound up at six clubs. He needed to exercise a little care to bring it home. He wasn't happy with the result since six hearts would make even easier, but he had a winner while his lucky opponent at the other table had a loser.

Ask the Jacobys

An Iowa reader wants to know if you should open a forcing two bid with:

♠ A K x x ♥ A K x ♦ K x ♣ A K Q x.

The answer is that in standard American you should open three notrump. You have 26 high-card points and want the lead to come up to your hand if notrump is going to be the final contract.

Johnny Replaces Elvis

SEATTLE (AP) — Jeanette Erickson had it bad for Elvis, but it's all over now.

Once, Mrs. Erickson, founder of the Elvis Presley Flaming Star Club, offered to donate her eye to the rock superstar. She had heard his left eye was going blind.

A middle-aged widow on welfare, she passed up necessities and instead used about $1,000 of her money to buy Elvis birthday presents, or to call him long-distance to wish him well.

All she wanted in return was a short thank you note. And that, she says, she never got.

"He couldn't care less," she said. "I've been the club's president for four years, and what have I got for it? Nothing! Just my dreams and my hopes."

The 88-member club is dead because of Mrs. Erickson's broken heart.

The end came recently as the woman, suffering with a bad back and other ailments, rested in a hospital bed for two weeks. She had torn ligaments in her right knee.

As she lay there, she thought of how she had sent Elvis get-well cards when he was in a hospital last year for an enlarged colon and fatigue. Then she remembered how Elvis and his organization shunned her all those years.

Now, Mrs. Erickson is taking down the 1,000 pictures of the star from her living room walls. She's going to write the club's last members and explain they are disbanded.

She also has a new idol.

He is Johnny Rusk, a Seattle-based singer who does a lounge show called "A Tribute to Elvis." She sees his shows, and while Mrs. Erickson was in hospital, he paid her a short visit.

He wrote on her knee cast, "To a real sweetheart, all my love, Johnny Rusk."

"Johnny is going to be my second Elvis," she said. "He is kind and considerate."

The Johnny Rusk Fan Club, she said, is born.

BABY SHOWER—John Blaine Rowbotham, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rowbotham, was honored with a baby shower last evening at the home of Mrs. Doyle Farmer. Assisting with hostess duties was Mrs. Lester Gagan. Pictured with the infant are his mother and sister, Tina.

The Western Texas College Westerners held onto their Western Conference leadership last night by surging past Clarendon, 86-62, in the Scurry County Coliseum.

The victory ran the WTC conference record to 8-2. The Westerners are now 18-3 for the season.

In other Western Conference action last night Amarillo nipped Midland College, 72-71, Odessa downed South Plains, 92-87, Frank Phillips edged New Mexico Junior College, 82-80, and New Mexico military Institute defeated Howard College, 83-71.

The Westerners were in full command of proceedings last night, as Lawrence Butler led a potent scoring attack. Butler roped 15 field goals and six free throws to stack up 36 points for the evening. Larry Orton had 17, Darryl Smith had 12 and Butch Smith 10 to round out the double-figures scoring for the Westerners.

Terry Blanks got 18 points on nine field goals to pace the Clarendon team. Charles Quisenberry and Anthony Morris also were in double figures for Clarendon with 13 and 11 points, respectively.

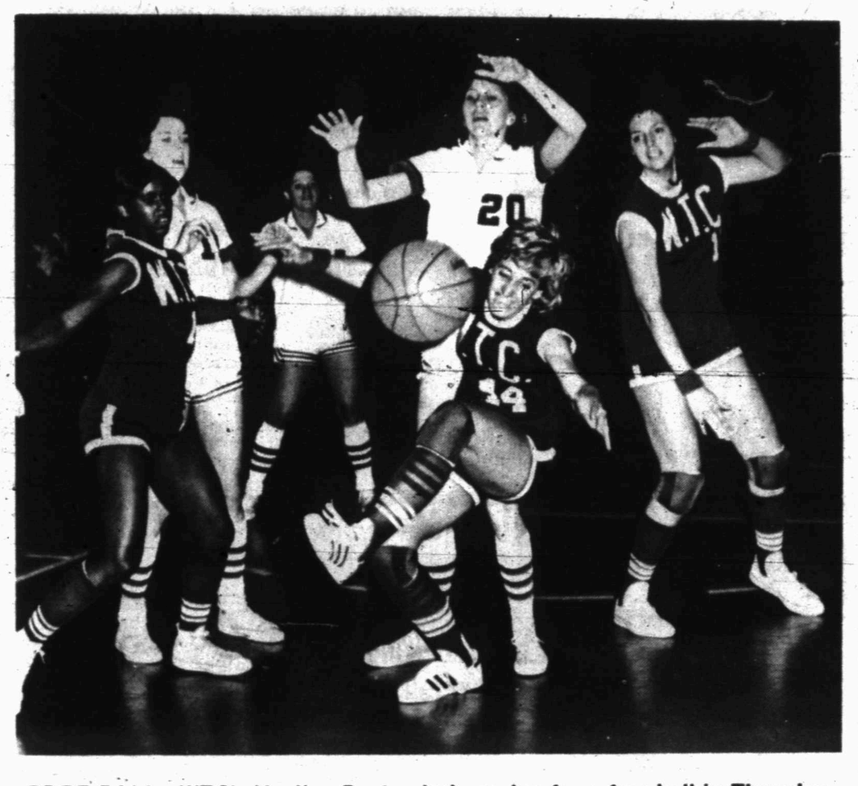

The victory kept the Westerners a game ahead of Amarillo.

The Westerners are scheduled for non-conference action Saturday at Abilene when they will meet the McMurry College junior varsity.

WTC teams have a doubleheader scheduled at McMurry, with the Dusters meeting the McMurry women's team at 3 p.m. and the Westerner-McMurry JV tilt following.

Dusters Decision SPC For 57-44 Loop Victory

BY JEFF BOX

LEVELLAND—The Green Machine of Western Texas College squeezed the juice out of the Big Orange here Thursday night as the Dusters captured a 57-44 decision to spoil the Texanettes' perfect record.

Taking an early two-point lead, the Dusters quickly lost it, only to regain it, lose it and regain it again in the first five minutes of action.

With the clock reading 15:45, Marilyn Payton hit a jump shot from the key, giving the Dusters a 6-5 advantage. Here there on, the Green had the score on their side.

The Dusters steadily built on to their margin and at 4:12, Annie Tillman hit one of two free shots to give WTC a 10 point handle at 25-15, their biggest margin of the first half.

Lisa Risinger started South Plains' attack with two charity shots. In the next four minutes, WTC was held to three points while SPC racked up 12 for a 28-27 intermission score.

Both squads were utilizing a full-court press as well as other defenses. The fast-moving game surprised many people.

"South Plains is better than we expected," said WTC Coach Sid Simpson.

So, the second half started, with anything expected. Payton rang up the first point of the half at the charity line. Brenda Jurecek followed with a basket, South Plains retaliated and the score stood at 31-30 at 17:17. The Dusters widened it to eight, but SPC chipped away and closed it to 40-39 with 7:47 showing on the clock. Theresa Beal dampened the Texanettes' hopes which she poured in two points to put the score at 42-39 and SPC never got closer the rest of the evening.

SPC's Lisa Risinger fouled out at 4:52. A minute later, Jane Goheen walked off via fouls and then with 1:30, Capri Kimbrow left the games on fouls. With SPC's top three girls gone, WTC put on the finishing touches. Fouls also were being felt by WTC, as five had four infractions each—Payton, Dale Mitchel, Jurecek, Rosemary Scott and Tillman. Theresa Beal was tagged with three.

The WTC game plan was the decisive factor, said Simpson. His strategy called for a continuous press and free substitutions and he changed players 31 times during the game.

Payton set a new record for steals with eight. She also nabbed 10 rebounds to lead in that department. Tillman had eight rebounds and nine points, hitting 50 per cent from the floor.

In fact, WTC had five players hitting 50 per cent of their shots. Beal led in scoring with 15 points, and Payton followed with 12.

The Dusters dominated the boards, with 36 rebounds to 25 by SPC.

WTC now has a 14-2 season record and a 3-0 loop mark. while South Plains is 12-1 and 2-1. The Dusters will go to Abilene Saturday to meet McMurry at 3 p.m.

Hunter Could Be Free Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Believe it or not, Catfish Hunter may be a free agent again.

Hunter, whose free agency 13 months ago brought him a five-year, $3.75 million contract with the New York Yankees, may be on the open market once again if the owners carry out their no-play threat for spring training.

That's the opinion of Marvin Miller, executive director of the major league baseball players association, who responded on Thursday to the owners' threatened shutdown of spring training camps if the players and owners don't reach agreement on a labor contract by then.

"If the owners delay the opening of spring training, it would constitute a breach of every players' contract similar to what happened in the Catfish Hunter case," Miller said.

Hunter, who led the Oakland A's to three world championships, left them in 1974 because Charles O. Finley breached his star pitcher's contract. Arbitrator Peter Seitz ruled in December of 1974 that because Hunter was not paid in the manner stipulated by his contract, he was a free agent.

Instead of one free agent roaming the hills of North Carolina, there soon could be hundreds all over the country if the players don't get paid for the spring training period.

"If the owners close down the camps, the players would demand to be paid," Miller said. "If they were not paid, then their contracts would be breached. It's that simple."

Patience Pays For Curl

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP) — Patience paid off for Rod Curl.

"I'd been playing good. If you're playing good, it's just a matter of time until the putting comes around. It came around today," the happy little guy said after his brilliant eight-under-par 64 had set the pace in the first round of the $230,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

"It could have been better, but how do you complain about a 64?" Curl asked.

"I touched the cup on five putts that didn't fall. It might have been a 60."

He paused and grinned broadly.

"But I more than made up for it on those long ones. You can't figure to make those."

He scored three times from 30-35 feet, didn't make a bogey and didn't miss a green, but keyed his round by the surprising power that is packed in his 5-foot-5 frame. He reached one par-five in two and two-putted for birdie and scored two others when his massive drives let him use a nine iron for approaches on par four holes measuring 411 and 447 yards.

"It was the most perfect day you could have," Curl said. The temperature was in the 80s. The tropic sun was bright and warm. The trade winds were but gentle breezes, swirling through the palms and banyan trees.

The weather set up some of the lowest scoring of the year on the pro tour. There were 16 scores of 67 or better. There were 71 scores — almost half the field — at 70, two under par on the 7,219-yard Waialae Country Club course.

Big John Jacobs, like Curl one of the game's long hitters, was alone in second at 65. The group at 66 included Hale Irwin, Bob Murphy, Al Geiberger, Ed Sneed and rookie Barry Jaeckel, son of movie actor Richard Jaeckel.

There were nine at 67, including U.S. Open champion Lou Graham. Arnold Palmer, who blew a chance to win this tournament a year ago, had a 68 and Lee Trevino was five strokes off the pace at 69. Defending champion Gary Groh shot 73 and must improve if he is to qualify for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Jack Nicklaus and Johnny Miller are not competing.

Warner Pilots Twins' Farm

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Twins announced Thursday the appointment of Harry Warner as manager of the team's farm club at Wisconsin Rapids in the Midwest League.

Warner has been managing in the Twins' system since 1960. Last year, he led Reno to the California League championship.

Matadors Host Tigers In Crucial 3-3A Tilt

The Snyder Tigers take their District 3-3A basketball campaign to Lubbock this afternoon for a set-to with the Estacado Matadors. And they are not expecting much hospitality on the court.

The Matadors, who battled the Tigers down to the wire on Jan. 6 in Scurry County Coliseum, are fresh off a 57-47 loss to first-half winner Lubbock Dunbar, while the Tigers launched their second half of district play with a relatively easy 91-53 triumph over the Brownfield Cubs.

The game, as well as the scene, is expected to change tonight as the Tigers battle to keep pace with Dunbar and Estacado fights to keep its head above water in the district race.

There will be a sophomore game beginning around 4:30 p.m., followed by a junior varsity tilt and the varsity encounter, which will tipoff at 8 p.m. in the Estacado gymnasium.

Coach Bob Moore will depend on his consistent crew of Chester Cobb, Ray Brandon, Randy Gressett, Kelly Ragland and either Kenny Thompson or Dane Witherspoon, with Joey Arnold, Tony Cobb, Randy Courtney and Alvin Selmon also ready to see action.

They will especially be trying to put the brakes on Estacado's young giant, Ronnie Phenix, who stands six feet, six inches. Phenix roped 35 points against the Tigers when they appeared in the first round district game.

Girls Win In Over-Time

The Snyder Junior High girls basketball team edged Sweetwater, 32-31, in an over-time game Thursday night at Sweetwater.

The score was tied at 28-28 at the end of the regulation game. The Snyder team had to come from behind in the second half, as Sweetwater had taken an 18-6 lead at half-time. The Snyder girls rallied on the shooting of Connie Weber and Suzanne Fisher who scored 16 and 12 points, respectively.

The Snyder Junior High Gold girls team will play its final game of the season at 5:30 p.m. Monday in the high school gym when they face Levelland.

SNYDER—Weber 8-0-16; Fisher 6-0-12; Hataway 2-0-4; Totals 16-0-32.

The Big Spring 9th grade team nipped the Snyder 9th Grade boys team, 69-67, here Thursday night.

Snyder took a 17-11 lead in the first quarter and still held a three-point advantage at 30-27 at half-time. But the Big Spring team came back to score 25 points in the third period while the locals were held to only 18.

Crayton had 25 points to lead the Snyder scorers. Poss paced Big Spring with 15.

Bill Lee Signs His Contract

BOSTON (AP) — Boston pitcher Bill Lee signed a three-year contract with the Red Sox Thursday for an undisclosed amount.

"I'm not greedy," Lee said, "but they were amenable to the long term contract. No hassle over it at all. They were very fair." The left-hander signed with the American League champion club after a 15-minute conference with assistant manager John Claiborne.

"The multiyear pacts are going to be the wave of the future," said Claiborne, who is handling Boston's contract negotiations.

"It works as protection for each party, and of course, a gamble, too. Let's say a player gets hurt. He's got insurance. But let's say Bill wins 23 or 25 games. It insures us against his coming in for a wild raise."

Lake View Meets SHS Girls Here

The Snyder High School girls basketball team, still seeking their first conference victory, are not expected to find it tonight, but they will again have the opportunity to face one of the toughest women's cage teams in the region.

The Lake View Maidens, district leaders, will be the guests tonight in the Scurry County Coliseum.

The Maidens feature the red hot shooting of Loann Phillips and Charlotte Dehnel, who are rolling up points by the dozens. They scored 30 and 33, respectively, when they took an 84-29 decision from the Snyder team on Jan. 20.

But Snyder, despite inexperience in its first year of competition, has its own scoring star in Cathy Minton, whose latest feat was a 42-point out-put at Fort Stockton the past Tuesday night.

She will be joined in the front court by Diana Underwood and Thelecia Hopper, while Geanene Martin, Patty Ayers and Debra Waltz are due to start at guards for Coach Gerald Mac Greene's forces.

The juior varsity teams of the two schools will play in a game beginning at 6 p.m., and the varsity encounter will follow at 7:30 p.m.

Snyder Gold Wins, 43-26

The Snyder Junior High 8th Grade Gold basketball team shut out the Sweetwater 8th graders in the second period and went on to take a 43-26 decision at Sweetwater last night.

Paul Gafford roped 8 field goals and 5 free throws to score 21 points and pace the Snyder Gold team. Sweetwater took an 8-6 lead in the first quarter, but in the second quarter they drew a blank as the Snyder team tallied 9 points. The hosts were never able to catch up after the disastrous second period.

SNYDER GOLD—Selmon 5-3-15; Willis 1-1-3; Degrate 3-0-6; Gafford 8-5-21; Totals 17-9-43.

SWEETWATER—Head 2-0-4; Amos 4-2-8; Kinney 3-0-6; Menifee 2-0-4; McCummings 2-0-4; Totals 13-0-26.

The Snyder Freshman girls basketball team dropped a 60-17 decision to the Midland Optimists last night in the SHS gym.

The Midland team had four players scoring in double figures, led by Cargile with 18 points. Lynn Robinson scored five points to lead the Snyder freshmen.

SNYDER—Boydstun 1-0-2; Williams 1-0-2; Musick 2-0-4; Robinson 2-1-5; Cotton 0-4-4: totals 6-5-17.

Attacks On Zionism May Affect Jews

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Attacks on Zionism in the United Nations may be paving the way for attacks on Jews in general in the future, a high Israeli representative to the United States says.

Dr. Yitzhack Rager, Israeli consul in New York, said efforts by Arabs and the Soviet Union are taking the same tact as the Nazi's did before World War II.

He said the Nazis spoke against Jews but told German Jews, "We don't mean you."

"Now the Arabs and the Soviets say they are not anti-semitic. They say we can all live in peace if Israel just rids itself of the Zionist element," Rager said.

The Israeli consul is touring the Southwest, sponsored by the Zionist Organization of America.

"The U.N. resolution and Arab policy permits them to dillute their anti-semitic intentions and prepare the world for future actions against Jews," he said.

Rager questioned also the Arab contention that Israel is a threat to the region.

Emphysema causes fatigue

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 68-year-old man and exercise every morning, push-ups and similar exercises. I bowl three nights a week. I have been smoking cigarettes for about 58 years, I started young.

Now I am told I have acute emphysema. Is there anything I can do to stop the shortness of breath, any special exercises? Is it still OK for me to continue my exercises and bowling?

I have stopped smoking for a month now and would appreciate your comments.

DEAR READER — The most important exercise for you was exercising your will power and stopping smoking entirely.

If you do not get too tired or short of breath you can continue to exercise. I would think that if you are experiencing shortness of breath, though, that you should cut back on exercising until you get an okay from your doctor.

There are breathing exercises that help some people with lung disease such as you have. Each case has to be evaluated on its own merits. If available to you it would be wise to have an evaluation at a pulmonary care center to know exactly how much damage to lung function you have and what you can expect.

Fatigue is often a sign of emphysema because the diseased lungs are not able to deliver sufficiently increased amounts of oxygen to permit too much increased activity.

For more information on your lungs send 50 cents for The Health Letter number 24, Keeping Your Lungs, Fit. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to me in care of this newspaper P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Our TOPS Club would appreciate it very much if you would publish in one of your columns how long it takes excess calories to become fat.

DEAR READER—Just a matter of hours. Remember the fat deposits are the way your body stores excess calories. The body is a simple energy converter. That food energy must be accommodated as soon as it is absorbed into the circulation.

The excess fat in the bloodstream is stored in your fat cells. The fat in the fat cells is constantly turning over. It is not "old fat." It can be as dynamic as the wildest checking account.

People don't lose fat very fast because it takes a long time to run up a deficit of 3500 calories, the number of calories in a pound of fat. Most of the sudden weight loss in the first few days of dieting is not fat at all. You must consume 500 calories less than your body uses every day for seven days to rack up a deficit of 3500 calories and lose an actual pound of fat.

When the body fat is used for energy there will be residual water. The body may hold this for days or even weeks and then suddenly the water is eliminated and there is a sharp drop in weight.

The slow process of losing fat (as opposed to water and waste material) makes some people think that it takes a long time to get fat: The truth is you can get fat just as fast as you can shovel the calories in to form the pounds of stored energy. If you can consume 3500 extra calories above your body needs in a day's time, the next day you will be one pound fatter.

Civilians Warned

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Some 80,000 civilian workers nationwide under the Air Force Logistics Command may be forced to take a six-day unpaid furlough next summer.

"Our money may run out before the fiscal year does," said a spokesman at Kelly AFB, where 18,500 civilians are employed.

He said the new federal budget would not take effect until July 1 and that the command might not have the money to pay its civilians.

There is nothing definite and nothing official, but AFLC gave us this notice so workers could prepare for a six-day furlough without pay," the spokesman said.

SECURITY FOR OUR Old Age

We are all concerned about our financial security, and rightfully so. Yet, we all know those who are financially secure and can find no spiritual peace.

Perfect security lies in more than a substantial savings account. It lies in our relationship with God–in the knowledge that God is always with us.

As the 23rd Psalm expresses it: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil for Thou art with me."

This is real security for our old age.
