Manila Freed, Yanks Set For Japan Next

Mercy Task Starts As 3,700 Liberated

By DEAN SCHEDLER and FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writers

SANTO TOMAS PRISON CAMP, Manila, Feb. 5—Battle-tough American troopers emptied their packs today for some 3,700 half-starved men, women and children released from three years of Japanese captivity.

From the moment a tank of the First (motorized) Cavalry crashed through the prison gate Saturday night, the mercy task of bringing food and comfort to the prisoners started.

Mostly Americans

Most of them were Americans, caught by the Japanese when they swarmed down the Philippines and overwhelmed the thin line of defenders three years ago. The next largest group was British and Australian internees.

The cavalrymen, hardened as they were by sights and sounds of war, were shocked at the emaciated condition of some of the prisoners. All were thin and weak from malnutrition.

Packs were turned over immediately, with rations, cigarets and candy. These served as emergency relief until the arrival of a caravan of supplies, already rolling down the highway to Manila.

The work of evacuating them to other quarters was started almost at once.

Jap Guards Retreat

Most of the prioners were free the instant the tank smashed the gate, after the commander had shouted: "Open the goddam thing or I'm coming in anyway."

Japanese guards still in the camp retreated into the education building of the former Santo Tomas university, taking more than 200 intenrnees with them as hostages. These were released 34 hours later in a truce exchange.

In order to save the internees, Brig Gen. William C. Chase of Providence, R. I., and El Paso, Tex., commanding the First Cavalry brigade which made the rescue, allowed the 65 Japanese guards to leave. They were escorted to the edge of Manila and released.

Almost Afraid To Hope

The prisoners near the gate appeared almost afraid to hope when the tank—it's white star marking and 75 mm gun serving as symbols of freedom—crashed into the enclosure.

Then, as from a single threat, a great cry arose. It was an agonized prayer of thanks and a shrill scream of welcome.

A sharp struggle took place as the Japanese retreated with their hostages. Some cavalrymen and prisoners were injured.

Thousands More Liberated From Japanese Torture

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILLA, Tuesday, Feb. 6. (AP)—Manila, America's bright jewel of the Orient, was reconquered today.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur officially proclaimed its liberation as three Yank columns from north, south and east struck for the kill against any Japanese left in the city. He said "complete destruction" of the enemy is imminent.

Freedom came to 800 prisoners of war and 550 civilian internees at filthy, torture-chambered Bilibid penitentiary. Released from the vermin-infested prison by 37th division Yanks, they made a total of about 5,500 when added to others liberated earlier at Santo Tomas by the First Cavalry division.

Japan Is Final Goal

"Japan is our final goal," General MacArthur said in his statement officially announcing the reconquest of the city which the Japanese occupied Jan. 2, 1942, one week ofter it was proclaimed an "open city."

The doom of any lingering Nipponese was sealed when the 11th Airborne division of the Eighth Army, which earlier seized Tagaytay ridge by paratroop action, rolled 35 miles to enter Manila from the south.

The First Cavalry made the original entry Saturday night from the east, followed by the 37th from the north. Both are elements of the Sixth Army.

Bid For Command

The wording of MacArthur's statement could be interpreted as a bid for continuing command in the campaigns against Japan proper and a move to spike rumors that the Philippines would be the end of the road for the general.

The official proclamation made it clear a lightning cleanup could be expected.

Johnny Doughboy thus won the city 28 days after the landing at Lingayen gulf and 80 days after the original Philippines landing at Leyte.

The three-way push left the Japanese no avenue of escape other than in the direction of Manila bay, an area under the constant bombsights of American planes.

Bataan Temporary Haven

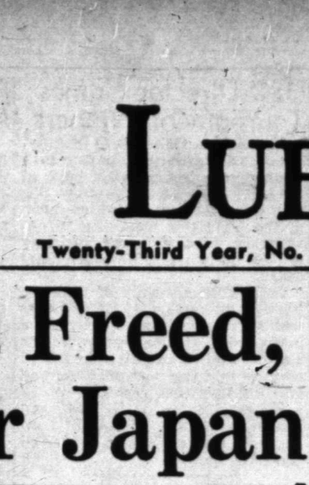

One temporary haven could be Bataan peninsula, where Americans and Filipinos made their heroic stand in 1942. Today's communique announced Eighth and Sixth Army columns have junctured at the base of the peninsula and control all roads leading into it.

The Yank troops captured ancient Bilibid penetentiary in heart of Manila and liberated 800 military prisoners and 500 civilians still held there. Only yesterday liberated 3,700 civilian prisoners at the Santos Tomas camp.

MacArthur's communique today said a total of approximately 5,050 prisoners of war and civilian internees now had been released. Four thousand of these are Americans and the balance British, Dutch Australians and other nationals.

Two of the main bridges spanning the Pasig river through the center of Manila were blown up by the enemy. These were the beautiful Quezon bridge and a

BRIG. GEN. EGAN

General Here On LAAF Inspection

Brig. Gen. John F. Egan, commanding general of the 77th Flying Training wing and members of his staff are today making their first official visit to Lubbock Army Air field. The local field was recently changed from the 33rd Flying Training wing to the 77th and becomes the ninth installation to come under General Egan's present command.

The 77th Wing is composed of stations specializing in single engine training. Two of the stations under the command of the wing are AAF Instrument schools, LAAF and Bryan Field. The wing headquarters are at Foster Field, Victoria, and Foster is in the process of changing over from advanced single engine training to a central instructors school in aerial gunnery. Matagorda Island and Matagorda Peninsula are also concerned with gunnery training but the former instructors school located on the peninsula is now being moved to Foster. The other fields in the 77th Wing are Aloe Field, advanced single engine, at Victoria; Moore Field, Mission, Texas and fields at Miami, Okla. and Terrell, Texas.

General Egan is a veteran airman who recently returned from the China, Burma, India theater where he commanded a sector

Veterans' Fund Increase Asked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—A 113 per cent increase in funds for the Veterans administration was recommended today by the House Appropriations committee.

Sending to the floor a $3,218,808,000 over-all measure to finance more than a score of agencies during the 12 months starting July 1, the committee cited the increased load on the Veterans administration as a result of climbing casualties of World war II and new duties imposed by veterans' aid laws.

Except for the Veterans administration, virtually every agency financed by the independent offices supply bill, first big appropriation measure of the 79th Congress, was listed for reduced funds.

Full Budget Approved

The committee approved almost to the penny the budget of the Veterans administration, calling for an overall outlay of $2,707,119,250, an increase of $1,436,707,185 over current year appropriations.

Construction of new hospital facilities, providing 14,100 additional beds and including 18 new hospitals, will account for $79,339,886 of the total. Most of the balance will be used for administering existing facilities, paying pensions to veterans and their dependents, and handling benefits provided by the GI bill of rights.

THREE AREAS IN TEXAS INVOLVED IN PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Additions to existing facilities costing $2,588,905 at the Dallas Veterans hospital at Lisbon and $2,071,124 at the Veterans hospital at Legion, Tex., are included in the independent offices appropriations bill recommended today to Congress by those House Appropriations committee.

Also included is $1,940,262 for 250 beds, general medical and surgical, for "Western Texas." Five hundred extra beds would be established at Lisbon, which is designated general medical and surgical, and 400 at Legion, Tex., tuberculosis.

Eleven Texas Nurses Among Those Freed

(By The Associated Press)

Eleven nurses, captured on Bataan and Corregidor, joined the ranks of Texans liberated from the Japanese in the Philippines and eleven more Texas families rejoiced today.

The nurses were among 69 released by sweeping American forces, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters at Luzon announced. In less than an hour after being freed from their long captivity some of them were back at familiar tasks, caring for cavalrymen wounded in the fight which opened by the gate of Santo Tomas.

"It was worth all that mud on Leyte and the grind through Luzon to have an honest to goodness nurse looking after me," one wounded soldier said.

The list of Texas nurses released today:

Myra V. Burris, San Antonio; Clara Bickford, Tivoli; Dorcas Easterling, Abbott, Geneva Jenkins, Severville (not in postal guide), Frankie T. Lewey, Dalhart, Agnes Barre, Victoria, Maude D. Williams, Guthrie, Earlyn Black, Groesbeck, Bertha Dworsky, Halletsville, Eula F. Fails, Houston.

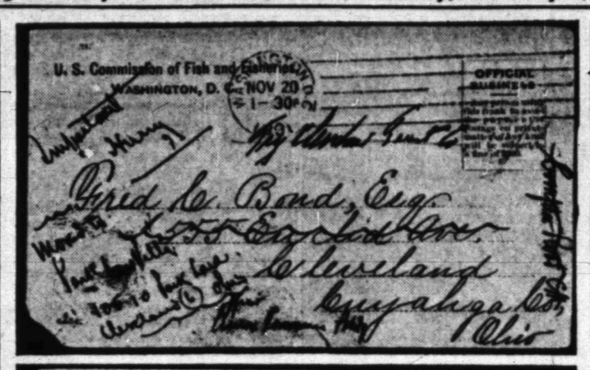

Uncle Sam Asked To List Texas Property

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—Uncle Sam, who about this time each year calls on everyone to list his holdings, had the shoe placed on earnings, business transactions and the other foot today in reverse legislative procedure.

Under provisions of a polite but firmly worded concurrent resolution introduced by Sen. Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo, the federal government was called on to submit a complete compilation of its real estate holdings in Texas.

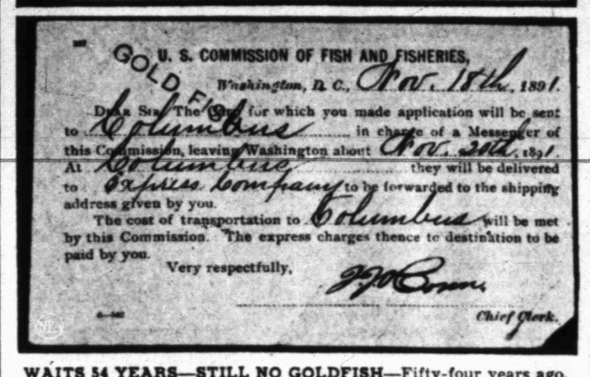

The resolution was passed unanimously.

U. S. COMMISSION OF FISH AND FISHERIES,
Washington, D. C., Nov. 18th, 1891.

Dear Sir: The GOLD FISH for which you made application will be sent to Columbus in charge of a Messenger of this Commission, leaving Washington about Nov. 20th, 1891. At Columbus they will be delivered to Express Company to be forwarded to the shipping address given by you.

The cost of transportation to Columbus will be met by this Commission. The express charges thence to destination to be paid by you.

Very respectfully,

Chief Clerk.

WAITS 54 YEARS—STILL NO GOLDFISH—Fifty-four years ago, Fred C. Bond of Cleveland, O., ordered a dozen goldfish from the U. S. Commission on Fish and Fisheries. But he still hasn't received them. A few days ago, however, he did receive the postcard pictured above, postmarked Nov. 20, 1891, telling him that the fish were being delivered to Columbus. A note on the card said in part: "We hope the delay in transmitting the enclosed notice has not inconvenienced you."

Claims On German Territory Mount

By JOHN A. PARRIS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 5—Claims on German territory by bordering nations which felt the first crushing blows of the Nazi armies would reduce Germany's pre-war territory by one-third, Allied officials said today as it became generally accepted that the Big Three conference deciding the Reich's fate was under way.

High on the agenda of the conference, it was believed, were the questions of border annexations, industrial supervision and the division of Germany for occupation by the various Allied armies—measures aimed at rendering Germany incapable of making war in the future.

French Participation

The spheres of Allied military occupation were more or less agreed upon by the Big Three men, with French participation apparently the only issue left for agreement. The British, it was believed, would occupy northwest Germany with the Ruhr valley and the large seaports; the U. S. Army would occupy southwest Germany, and Russia would take over east and northeast Germany. Austria and Berlin would be occupied jointly.

Most observers believed the Big Three would consider occupying Germany for at leats six years, possibly longer. Some quarters say the occupation must endure for at least a quarter of a century to teach the Germans that war does not pay.

Annexation Claims

Before the three leaders were the claims of France, Poland and Czechoslovakia for border annexations and there was also the possibility that some German territory might go to Holland and Belgium. Moscow evidently favors Austria as an independent nation.

The provisional, Soviet-sponsored Polish government now sit-

Braniff Proudly Claims "Quints"

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5. (AP)—Parenthood of the quintuplet airlines of Texas and Oklahoma was proudly claimed today by Braniff Airways at the Civil Aeronautics board hearing at Hotel Texas.

The action ended three days of hinting by independent feeder line operators that the quints, Oklahoma Airways, Great Plains Airways, Texas Central Airways, Houston Airways and Lone Star Airways, were bound to be kin because their exhibits obviously had been prepared by the same printer; the exhibits were all mailed out from the same spot at the same time, and paragraph after paragraph of their language was identical, and the exhibits even had a common congenital flaw.

Trade Area Systems

T. E. Braniff, president of the Braniff company, declined to term the systems as feeder airlines. He preferred the designation, trade area systems, basing his nomenclature on the fact that his company's study shows that only 30 per cent of the business that would patronize the system would "feed" into trunk line carriers.

Braniff was on the witness stand for four hours as proponents of other airline systems and the CAB public counsel sought to find ulterior motives behind his company's motion to the CAB to own 25 per cent of the stock of each of the quints — namely Braniff domination.

Yanks Enter Manila Right On Schedule

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP) — Yanks entered Manila right on schedule.

It can be disclosed now that February 4 had been known among highest War department officials for many days as the date General MacArthur's schedule called for. MacArthur's formal announcement was flashed to the United States at 6:01 p. m., eastern war time, Sunday.

Gen. Doolittle Lauds Work Of 8th And RAF

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—Team work between the U. S. Eighth Air force and the Royal Air force was assigned as a basic factor in the effective bombing of Germany, in a transcribed overseas broadcast last night by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, commander of the Eighth Air force.

He reported that 500,000 tons of bombs had been dropped on the enemy and 12,000 of his aircraft destroyed in the three years since the two air forces joined.

Doolittle spoke in observance of the third anniversary of the landing of the Eighth Air force in Britain. In that period, he said, 500,000 aircraft had been dispatched, 5,000 of our airplanes failed to return and "some 40,000 of our men have been killed or are missing."

Third Army Through Crumbling Westwall

Whole Front Is Astir; Bradley Back In Command

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Feb. 5.—The battle for western Germany took on a more ominous aspect for the enemy today as the U. S. Third Army fought all the way through the westwall in one sector and knocked out a key bastion before Prum, and the First Army to the north seized control of two vital Roer river dams.

Lt. Gen Omar N. Bradley was back in the driver's seat, resuming command over the U. S. First Army, supreme headquarters announced. Bradley's 12th Army group of the first, Third and Ninth Army was reduced to the Third only when the Ardennes breakthrough split his forces.

Whole Front Stirs

As the whole front stirred restlessly, U. S. tanks and French colonial infantry slammed the door of escape on German forces in southern Alsace which supreme headquarters reports said might total 10,000 but which a front dispatch said probably would number no more than 1,000.

The Third Army was tearing at the vitals of the westwall defenses and meeting surprisingly light opposition.

Its drive overran the bunker and pillbox-studded communications center of Brandscheid, which had defied assaults when the First Army invaded there last September. Brandscheid is four and a half miles west of Prum, and is the road center for that sector of the line.

System Of Dams Menaced

While the eastward push of the U. S. First Army, now entirely inside the Reich farther north, was slowed, a gain of nearly two miles northeastward was threatening the system of five dams which the Germans control the water level of the Roer, main barrier to the Cologne plain.

Vanguards of the 78th Infantry division 17 miles southeast of Aachen were battling up the west bank of the Roer and were about two miles from the largest of the

Man Held Here On Check Count

A 22-year-old Fort Worth man who allegedly cashed $50,000 in bad checks from Dec. 6 to Jan. 9 was in jail here Monday night to stand trial in the next term of federal court on a charge of violation of the national stolen property act.

A fugitive complaint, filed in the office of Mrs. Olive Fluke U. S. clerk here, named the man as Troy Kelton Teague.

Mail Charge Involved

United States District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus, quoted in an Associated Press dispatch, said the charges involve passage in the mails of checks for expensive automobiles on a bank account established in Lubbock with a spurious bank draft for $5,000.

The largest check was for $25,000, given in payment for a ranch, Eastus said.

The district attorney stated that the man began a check cashing spree shortly after he was released from a Texas asylum.

Teague was delivered to Lubbock county jail Sunday night by U. S. Marshal D. O. Wood of Montana, where the fugitive was arrested.

Here Last December

Bill Mabray, assistant chief of police, said Teague appeared in Lubbock last December and opened a $5,000 account at a local bank on a draft drawn on an Albuquerque bank naming a prominent contractor there. Teague, Mabray said, represented himself to be an emissary of the contractor.

Mabray said Teague left the city after passing a few checks for small sums.

He said that the man had been sought for investigation in connection with similar operations in El Paso, Reno, Nev. and at other points in several western states.

Filipino Risks Life For His Chickens

By DEAN SCHEDLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH U. S. FORCES AFIELD, Luzon, Philippines, (Delayed) — American naval guns and planes were pouring shells and bombs into a small sector on the northern Luzon front. A lot of Nipa palm leaf shacks had been reduced to rubble and the better buildings fared a like fate.

In one shell-bomb ripped sector—the very heart of the shack destroyed area—I came upon a Filipino tao (a poor laboring man). He was quite old. He squatted beside the ruins of his shack. I gave him a cigarette and asked "what the hell are yo'a doing sitting around here with all that hot steel flying everywhere?"

In broken English—mixed with quite a bit of Ilacano dialect—he replied "If I go someone will get my two chickens. If I stay someone might get me. I need chickens most so I stay."

Reds Surge To Oder On 73-Mile Front

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Tuesday, Feb. 6—The Red Army in massive strength surged up to the Oder river's east bank on a 73-mile front yesterday, capturing Zellin, 32 miles northeast of Berlin, while the German radio reported Soviet troops had crossed the strategic water barrier and were fighting on its west bank.

Moscow claimed no bridgeheads over the Oder, but Col. Ernst von Hammer, German military commentator, announced from Berlin:

Establish Bridgehead

"Northwest of Kustrin, they succeeded, after heavy fighting lasting several days, in establishing a bridgehead on the western bank of the Oder which is subjected to continuous artillery fire."

At Zellin, Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army is 15 miles northwest of Kustrin and six miles southwest of Barwalde, captured Sunday.

The nightly communique broadcast from Moscow reported that Zhukov's troops had won positions on the Oder from Zellin south and southeast of Radnitz, 58 miles southeast of Frankfurt.

Moscow also announced further advances in clearing the enemy from the Samland peninsula in East Prussia and in the Budapest area. The communique said Soviet troops had penetrated Rosnan, Poland, where a German garrison estimated at 20,000 had been encircled for 10 days, and captured an armaments factory, collecting much booty.

Nazi Account Of Fighting

One German broadcast said of the fighting northeast of Berlin:

"The Russians are trying with every means in their power to widen the small bridgeheads they have set up in the Kustrin sector. The weather has become colder and the ground harder, but recent warm winds have played havoc with ice on the Oder.

"Russian tanks which tried to cross the ice broke through and sank.

"The Russians have not been able to make much progress in bridgeheads farther north on the Oder."

This disclosure by the Germans of crossings farther north, although it did not locate them specifically, indicated the Russians might be even less than 30 miles from Berlin.

With the capture of Goritz and other communications centers along the Oder, the Russians won

Reds Choke Off Balkans' News

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5—Soviet Russia has a virtual strangle-hold on news reporting in the Balkans and insists on maintaining it despite American urgings that correspondents be admitted freely into the area.

This was disclosed today in a series of developments here and in Rome, bringing to light one of the more delicate problems currently involving the leading Allied powers.

In Rome, public relations officers at Allied headquarters said nagotiations had failed to gain access for American and British correspondents as a group to any of the Balkan countries except Greece.

Greece Under British

Greece is a British military area. The rest of the Balkans is a sphere of Russian military operations. While those countries which were formerly enemy nations are controlled by Allied commissions, Russian officials and Russian policies generally predominate.

At his news conference today acting Secretary of State Joseph C. Grew was asked to comment on the Rome disclosures and he outlined the situation this way:

For some time the United States has asked that American correspondents be admitted freely into the Balkan countries and that the Soviet head of the control commission in each country be authorized to act on applications for admittance.

Considered Separately

As the matter now stands the Soviet government prefers to consider each application separately.

The Rome report said that Marshal Tito's government had permitted one British correspondent to go into Yugoslavia but that otherwise no American or British correspondents had been given official permission to go from Italy to Yugoslavia since a press party made a brief trip to Belgrade in November.

Four SPAAF Men Die In Plane Crash

Four South Plains Army Air field men were killed Jan. 26 in a plane at Birmingham, Ala., it was learned in Lubbock Monday night from non-military sources.

Lt. Fred T. Heise, 24, of Luling, Tex., pilot, was among those killed. Names of the three other persons were immediately unavailable.

The crash reportedly occurred when a SPAAF tow-plane pulling two gliders was unable to take off. The plane crashed into the side of a hill after the tow ropes were cut and the gliders released. Reports said the gliders landed safely.

The accident had not previously been announced by military authorities here.

The flight was being made to Laurinburg-Maxton Air base at Maxton, N. C., where the glider training program formerly carried on at SPAFF has been transferred.

Lt. Heise and Mrs. Heise and their small daughter lived at 2216 Twenty-eighth. He was a Master mason and held membership in a local chapter. He was assigned as a power pilot to the Lubbock base early in 1943.

Tanker Collision Is Fatal To At Least 17

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP) — At least 17 persons were killed and 122 others injured today when two tankers collided in New York bay, setting both and a third afire, said the medical examiners office and police at Staten Island.

Police said 12 bodies were pulled out of the bay and that five men died from their injuries in a hospital.

Rescue workers said the ships were still so hot they could not be boarded to see if any other bodies were aboard. The flames on each ship were brought under control three hours after the collision.

Nazis Plead As Unrest Mounts

LONDON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Nazi authorities today urged Germans not to desert their present leaders and demanded "unconditional resistance as the military situation grew worse and as neutral sources reported new internal clashes were occurring in the Reich.

The Ankara radio reported that several clashes had occurred in still-smoking Berlin between the Gestapo and civilian peace rioters.

The Moscow radio also reported "numerous" clashes at the front between German Army and SS formations, with the Army men "killing SS officers and men who demanded futile resistance."

Berlin was proclaimed a "front line city" by labor front leader Dr. Robert Ley in a speech to arms workers reported by the German radio.

Aged Men Are Armed

The Ankara radio, commenting on these German preparations, said arms were issued even "to men as old as eighty."

Meanwhile, Nazi propogandists, attempting to stiffen the people against the expected "last surrender call" from the Big Three meeting, urged the masses not to desert them but to have only one slogan, "unconditional resistance."

The German DNB agency, in an English broadcast, denounced Americans as "air war criminals" for raiding Berlin when it was refugee-packed.

Control Of Demo Party In Texas Argued As Governor Is Flayed For "Naming Texas Regulars" To High Places

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—The struggles for control of the Democratic party in Texas and for control of the state's institutions of higher learning were pitched on a common plane today.

Developments in the office of Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, on the floor of the senate, and in a downtown meeting of the state Democratic executive committee's subcommittee on legislative affairs, put the issues flatly on a political basis. These developments were:

1. A resolution by the sub-committee, in an official party meeting, urging the state Senate to reject confirmation of such appointees as may be members of the Texas Regular party, a political organization stemming from last summer's Democratic split;

2. A statement by Gov. Stevenson in his press conference that in his opinion his six appointees to the board of regents of the University of Texas were Democrats;

3. A statement by Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center, in a personal privilege speech in the Senate, that the question of confirmations had resolved itself into this: "Are we going to represent Texas or are we going to be a party to turning the university over to those who only represent 10 per cent or less of Texas?"

Coming before the Senate tomorrow are Stevenson's nominations of six members of the nine-member board of regents of the University of Texas; four directors of Texas A. and M. college; and of Sidney Latham of Longview as secretary of state. Latham incurred the ill-will of leaders of the pro-Roosevelt September Democratic convention when he refused to certify names of its presidential electors.

When the state Supreme court forced this certification, anti-Roosevelt Democrats organized the Texas Regular party.

The resolution approved in a two-hour executive session of the Democratic organization's subcommittee on legislative affairs declared "Governor Coke Stevenson has adopted the policy of appointing members of the Texas Regular political party to the governing boards of Texas institutions of higher learning and to other state offices."

It added that Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith "is using his office to secure the confirmation of appointments so made," and noted that Stevenson, Smith and members of the Senate were elected as Democratic nominees. The resolution "deplored and condemned" "the policy of Governor Coke Stevenson in making a vast majority of the appointments to the governing boards x x x and other state offices from the Texas Regular political party," urged the Senate to reject such appointees, and urged the governor to consider as appointees "men and women of the highest qualifications obtainable who are loyal members of the Democratic party in Texas."

Chairman Woodville Rogers of San Antonio, heading the subcommittee, said the resolutions would be mailed to the governor and members of the Senate. The resolution did not specify which appointees the sub-committee believed to be Texas Regulars.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

OVER a million veterans were discharged from our armed forces in 1944. More are coming every day. And at a date we hope is not too far distant the war will be over and thousands—millions—will be back to readjust their lives to civilian ways.

Who is to help these men with their problems, with their personal relationships, with the difficulties they face in finding the road back?

The answer, naturally, is the federal and state agencies, the community, the folks at home. But since the problem is not immediate, many will say "Let's win the war first and then take care of the returned veterans." Yet, wouldn't it be a better policy to set up the machinery now and be prepared to meet the problems as they arise?

What will the returned veteran expect of his community and of his family? He will expect a job, understanding, love. He will want to feel that at the time he was risking his life, the civilians at home were trying to understand what he was facing and were participating to the best of their abilities.

ONE of the complaints of almost every man who has come home on furlough is that "everyone has changed so much. Nothing is the same." The man who has hung up his gun and laid away his country's uniform will sense a difference, but an understanding civilian can help him surmount the barrier that lies between the life he has led as a soldier and the new way that lies before.

You are always hearing about "the road back" but if you yourself aren't sure of the day, your directions won't amount to much, will they?

HERE'S A BOOK

IF you are seriously concerned in the case of the discharged service man, you'll read a book, "The Veteran Comes Back," by Willard Waller, a veteran of World War I and a professional student of war and its effects upon soldiers and upon society for the last two decades. He is an associate professor at Columbia university but don't let that scare you away from the book because it is written in a popular vein. Waller says in the foreword the soldier's future is in our hands but just as surely our future is his. The book is written to help promote understand.

The volume is an exhaustive investigation into the life of the former civilian as he is made into a professional soldier, thereby being alienated from the world he left behind. In chapter headings Waller suggests the soldier "learns the deep meaning of comradeship," "to be cruel and merciful," "to live with fear, horror and guilt. He learns a "new code of morals, courage is all"; he "revalues 'civilized' attitudes' and religion," "he is bored and rebels."

The writer describes how the veteran is embittered and with reason as he notes how the war has not affected the lives of many except to make them better off financially. He described the obstacles that get in the way of his adjustment to civilian life and presents the various types of veterans, only a few of whom are "psycho-neurotic" cases.

"VETERANS can be reassimilated into society only through participating in social life," Waller suggests. "The veteran must learn to participate in civilian life; he must find satisfactions there, form habits, readjust his emotions, acquire a stake in the moral order, learn to plan for himself and to discipline himself from within."

The community has a keen responsibility in rehabilitation of the returned veteran, helping him to find a job to work out a pattern of family and community relationships, Waller says.

These objecives cannot be accomplished overnight and the Woman's Angle doubts that a bonus, written advice or a series of lectures will make the soldier a civilian again. He may be challenged but he must join of his own free will.

Already we have heard civilians express doubt that the men, especially those in the airforce, will be content to settle down to civilian life such as they knew before the war. Well normal lives are subject to routine and without it would disintegrate. It's up to those who spent the war years at home to show the returned veterans that that normal life need not be boring.

Woman Is Honored On 80th Birthday

Seventy-four persons from several counties of two states gathered Sunday at the Larkin Taylor resident on the Slaton-Cooper road to observe the 80th birthday of Mr. Taylor's mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Taylor of Slaton.

Two of the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Barron, flew to the Taylor farm in their private plane, landing on pasturage near the residence.

A 36-foot table was set up on the yard. There were many gifts for the honoree, who had lived at Slaton since 1916.

Rev. G. E. Anthony of 809 Ave. C in Lubbock preached after dinner.

The honoree's husband died in 1926, at Slaton. She was born in Arkansas, moved to Missouri, was married in 1882 in Missouri, gave birth to seven children, all but one of which survive, then moved in 1906 to Knox county and then to Slaton.

A Vital Message To Men Who Feel Old
Why not regain the vim and vitality you once enjoyed?
If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a simple method that may change your whole outlook on life. Just ask your druggist for CASELLA stimulating tablets. Take as directed on label. Don't feel old and worn out at 40, 60 or more. Take these tablets regularly until you feel that you have regained the pleasure of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged? Why not try CASELLA tablets and regain the verve and zest of a much younger man? There is nothing harmful in these tablets. They contain Celery seed, Thiamin Chloride, Passion Flower, Iron. Ask your doctor or druggist about this formula.

TRY THIS AMAZING BARCEL RECIPE TO TAKE OFF UGLY FAT
Right in Your Own Home, You Can Lose Pounds of Excess Weight Without Starvation
Diet or Strenuous Exercise
It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcel Concentrate. Pour this into a bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.
If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.
Perhaps you are overweight due to over indulgence in food or the wrong kind of food. With the Barcel home recipe method, you do not have to starve yourself or go hungry. Just follow the simple instructions given on the label and you should get satisfactory results quickly. The very first pint you make up should show results.
LOSE UGLY FAT WITH BARCEL
Why not slim down your figure without a lot of fuss and bother? Try the Barcel way. Wear your streamlined frocks and slacks gracefully. Remember, if the very first bottle of Barcel doesn't show you the sensible way to lose weight, your money will be refunded.

Mother, Mix Your Own Cough Syrup. It's Fine

Quick, Comforting Relief. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

This well-known medicine, mixed in your own kitchen, costs little, but it gives delightful, swift-acting relief from coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare—it's so easy a child could do it. It saves real money.

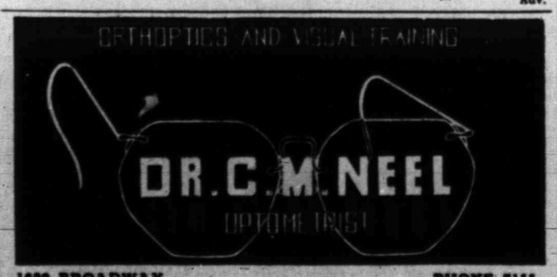

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and 1 cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time and children love its taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, you'll say it is truly wonderful. It has a remarkable action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Internees Wild With Joy As Full Realization Of Liberation Dawns

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Robert Crabb, a former member of the United Press staff in Manila, was interned at Santo Tomas university with his wife and two children when the Japanese captured the city in 1942. In the following dispatch he gives the first eyewitness account of how approximately 3700 internees greeted their liberators—soldiers of the U. S. First Cavalry division.)

By ROBERT CRABB
United Press Staff Writer

SANTO TOMAS INTERNMENT CAMP, Manila, Feb. 3. (Delayed)—The grounds and buildings of ancient Santo Tomas university were a joyous sight tonight as 3700 internees—mostly Americans—sought the strength to carry on their shoulders the husky young Yank cavalrymen who freed them from the Japanese.

Almost hysterical joy swept all of us internees as we heard the first shots, then realized American soldiers at last had arrived to free us. We hung from windows and rushed from buildings to shout encouragement, unheeding Jap defense fire.

Detachment Holds Out

As I write, a small enemy detachment is holding out in the education building where about 300 internees still are held, but even there the prisoners are in high spirits, they are shouting constant advice to the carefully-attacking Americans.

Cpl. John Hencke, New York City, was in command of the jeep which first crashed through the gates of Santo Tomas, spearheading the cavalry force which made a dramatic dash through the city's back door. With Hencke were Alfonso Truaillo, Salt Lake City, the driver, and Gunner Peter Dillon, New York.

As the camp began celebrating its liberation, the first question asked all troops was, "did you bring any food?"

The soldiers broke out their field rations, although they themselves were hungry after their spectacular dash. They gave out all their rations in a few minutes. For the first time in many months the internees ate without worrying where the next meal was coming from. Camp administration officials promptly announced that tomorrow morning's mush rations would be 125 grams instead of the usual 70.

He's Tops With Family

For years to come, Cpl. Hencke will be a household word for the Crabb family. He gave my wife, our two children now in internment and me a meal consisting of Salmon, marmalade, coffee and condensed milk. My wife, who is an Australian, cried when she saw the "made in Australia" label on the marmalade container.

Even more than 36 hours after their liberation American internees are finding it difficult to realize they actually are under the American flag again. Hundreds wept openly this morning as the Stars and Stripes were run up on the university's flagstaff for the first time in more than three years.

George W. Ellington Dies Here Monday

George W. Ellington, 95, died at his home, 2009 Fifteenth, Monday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock after a long illness. He had lived in Lubbock for 20 years and was formerly a resident of Meadow.

Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of a son, Sanders Funeral home said, but burial will be in Meadow cemetery at the side of his wife who died in 1925.

Mr. Ellington was born in Bates County,, Kentucky, in 1849 and came to Texas in 1870. He was a member of the Frontier Battalion of the Texas Rangers and was an early day trail driver.

Survivors are four sons, Forrest M. of Tokio, Marlin W. of Bledsoe, Millard E. of Clayton, N. M., and Floyd of Alameda, Calif.; two daughters, Miss Grace Ellington, secretary to the superintendent of schools and Miss Pearl Ellington, both of Lubbock.

Officer To Run For Arkansas Governor

JONESBORO, Ark., Feb. 5. (U.P.)—A 25-year-old Army Air force officer with over 300 combat hours to his credit looked beyond the war today and visioned himself in the Arkansas governor's office.

Lt.-Col. Paul P. Douglas, about to return to action after a brief leave, said that since schoolboy days he had wanted to be governor of his state. "And the war hasn't changed that ambition a bit," he said. "When it's over, I guess I'll get into politics."

Douglas was formerly deputy group commander of a Thunderbolt fighter squadron of the Ninth Air Force in France.

"Share-The-Ride" Is Declared Necessity By Rationing Chief

"Share-the-ride is more than a patriotic slogan—it is a downright necessity," Ely Fonville, rationing executive of the Lubbock District Office of Price administration, said Monday, advising that more effort must be made to conserve gasoline in this 71-county district.

The rationing executive appealed to the public to place more emphasis on the importance of ride-sharing, pointing to the good record of the 46 war plants in the Lubbock district which have an average of 2.87 riders per automobile.

"If the drivers who do not work in wark plants could equal that record, the car sharing program here would not only be successful but would be about the best in the enire country," Fonville said.

He reminded all motorists, at the same time, that the requirement that at least three riders share each car with the driver remains an essential qualification for those who seek home-to-work gasoline on the "B" ration book For coupe owners, he said, two extra riders are a "must."

"Boards are not authorized to issue 'B' rations for home-to-work driving unless the driver has at least three riders other than himself, or a good reason why he hasn't," Fonville said. "Both gasoline and automobiles are critically short and must be shared as much as possible."

MacArthur Calls His Shots On Manila Entry

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (U.P.)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur called his shots in advance on when American forces would enter Manila, and his troops more than made good on the prediction.

H. D. Quigg, United Press war correspondent, filed an exclusive dispatch at 3 p. m. Saturday (Philippines time) quoting MacArthur as saying "it looks like we'll make it tomorrow." Actually units of the First cavalry entered Manila Saturday night.

Twenty four hours before MacArthur made his prediction, William B. Dickinson, in charge of the UP staff in the Philippines, filed an exclusive dispatch saying the fall of Manila was imminent and that plans were being made for the general's entry into the city.

VALLEY CROP HALF OVER

McALLEN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Lower Rio Grande valley farmers, at the midway mark of their big winter citrus deal, already have produced 26,000 carlots of fruit and truck crops and still have ahead of them the prospect of 15,000 to 20,000 more.

Steel Production To Be Cut This Week

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—Continued bad weather and the shortage of gas and coal will cut steel production this week 1,610,800 tons, the lowest full week's output since Jan. 26, 1942, the American Iron & Steel institute said today.

Mills will operate at 89.3 per cent of capacity, the lowest point since July 22, 1940. Operations last week were at the rate of 90.1 per cent of capacity, with output at 1,625,200 tons.

A month ago mills operated at 93 per cent of capcity, with production 1,677,500 tons, and a year ago the figures were 97.2 per cent up 1,741,800 tons.

Gallup Poll Finds 4-To-1 Agreement

Most Americans Approve Army-Navy Nurse Draft

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—President Roosevelt's proposal that nurses be drafted to serve with the Army and Navy finds substantial approval from the American public, judging by the results of a public opinion survey just completed.

GALLUP

Approximately three persons out of every four in the poll expressed approval of taking this drastic step to end the nursing deficiency in the armed forces. The President made his proposal in his annual message to Congress early last month.

The country's reaction was sounded by the Institute in the following poll:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the proposal now before Congress to draft nurses to serve with the army and navy?"

The vote is:

Approve	73%
Disapprove	19
No Opinion	8

The Institute concurrently conducted another poll on the issue, using the so-called "open" type of question, namely: "What is your opinion of the proposal now before Congress to draft nurses to serve with the Army and Navy?" An analysis of the replies shows that 73 per cent indicated an attitude favorable to drafting nurses if volunteering proves inadequate.

The results above constitute a poll of the eligible voting population in civilian life, excluding servicemen.

In making election predictions the Institute must of necessity correct the cross-section or sample to cover only the estimated percentage of eligible voters who will actually vote. In 1944 the Institute's final election report was based on a sample of 47,000,000 estimated civilian voters, and came within 1.8 per cent of absolute accuracy in forecasting President Roosevelt's winning majority in terms of civilian votes.

The White House and medical officers of the Army and Navy will be especially interested in what today's poll reveals as to public awareness of the shortage of nurses.

The shortage had received widespread publicity from coast to coast only a comparatively short time before the President emphasized its importance in his annual message. But the publicity and the President's action apparently had considerable effect, because the survey finds that 78 per cent of the civilian population is aware of the fact that a shortage of nurses in the armed forces does exist.

"Do you think there is a shortage of nurses in the armed forces now?"

Yes	78%
No	2
Don't know	20

Air Express Rates For Periodicals Decreased

DALLAS, Feb. 5. (U.P.)—Reductions of 30 per cent in Braniff Airways' domestic air express rates of newspapers, magazines and other periodicals have gone into effect, it was announced by Guy M. Springer, jr., air mail and cargo traffic manager.

The new rates apply to all cities on the Braniff system from Chicago, Kansas City, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and Denver. The lower rates are an experiment to determine what volume of traffic may be developed at lower cost to the shipper.

Behind their fortifications, the Japs confidently waited for MacArthur to attempt a landing along the eastern coast of Lingayen Gulf. Instead the Yanks, in "Water Buffalos" (LVT amphibious tanks), swarmed ashore on the southern shore of the Gulf, where the Japs thought no landing was possible because of the high, pounding surf and innumerable pools of the Agno River delta. Wrecked, Once Wealthy Aachen, Off To Good Start Under Allies

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

AACHEN, Germany, Feb. 1. (Delayed)—Amid the wreck of this city that once was the flourishing abode of Charlemagne, one would not suspect that its bombed-out citizens still possessed at least one and one-half million reichsmarks (the pre-war value of the reichsmark was about 40 cents).

Yet Aachen's only bank, opened under Allied Military government supervision, boasts deposits in that amount made by Aachen residents since American occupation. The bank has reserves totaling approximately the same amount.

Was Wealthy City

Supervising the city's finances is Maj. William P. Clark of Westport, Conn.

"Aachen evidently was an unusually rich German city," Clark said. "Bank deposits at the time of the evacuation totalled 400,000,000 marks, but all currency as well as bank records were taken into the interior of Germany except that 1,600,000 marks were forgotten. With this as a starter we opened the bank last Nov. 27. The acting mayor appealed to the people to entrust their funds to this venture. They did so.

"The city administration was without funds. So 500,000 marks credit was extended, of which 300,000 marks have been used.

Many Elect To Remain

"But the people who elected to remain in Aachen or who have returned since the occupation are chiefly merchants, artisans and laborers. It took a long time to find someone versed in taxation.

"This man worked up a group of taxes. From these levies, 100,000 reichsmarks flowed into the city coffers during January. The taxes are levied on business turnover, rents, incomes, beer and real estate. The income from rent is the most important. Evacuated, ownerless properties, if at all livable, are rented to returning citizens whose own homes were destroyed.

"The income tax amounts to 6 per cent on all wages in excess of 1000 reichsmarks per month.

"As two Aachen breweries still function, there's a sizeable revenue from beer.

Salvaged Property Sold

"A further source of income is the city's sale of salvaged property. The city administration gathered from destroyed and abandoned houses whatever was usable. The AMG commission on arts and monuments sees to it that really valuable items of art are safeguarded. But ordinary furniture and household goods can be bought from the city by Aachen residents whose dwellings were destroyed. The city credits the actual owner, if that is determinable, with monies thus realized."

Clark said that income from rented houses and flats is credited to the owners.

"All this is makeshift," Clark added. "The real problem arises when these temporary measures are exhausted. It will not be easy to solve because out of Aachen's present population of 12,000 to 14,000, only 2,000 are men between 21 and 65. The rest are old folks and women."

Stevens Hotel Bought By Hilton Associates

The Hilton national chain of hotels has added one more to the chain, The Stevens in Chicago, and has relinquished the managerial contract on the Hilton hotel at Abilene, C. N. Hilton, president of the chain, has announced.

The Stevens, the world's largest hotel, was built in 1927 at a cost of $28,000,000 and has 3,000 rooms. Hilton has been interested in the hotel since 1938 as a stockholder and bondholder.

The Burger-Yard management company succeeds Hilton as holder of the Abilene Hilton hotel managerial contract. The name of the hotel has been changed to Hotel Windsor. Don Burger, who is head of the management company, formerly was manager of the Lubbock Hilton hotel.

"Our acquisition of a hotel in Chicago," said Hilton, "gives more meaning than ever to our slogan 'coast to coast.' We have two hotels in New York, five in Texas, two in California, and one each in New Mexico, Ohio, and Chihuahua, Old Mexico."

Ellenburger Topped In County Wildcat

A top of the Ellenburger lower Ordovician has been tentatively picked at 10,066 feet on an elevation of 3,166 feet in Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1 Johnston wildcat in east central Lubbock county, section 88 block C D&W survey.

The project is coring below 10,096 feet in a core at 10,086-096 feet the dolomite which was recovered had a little porosity but no oil stains.

This is one of the few wildcats in the northeast section of the Permian Basin which has encountered Ellenburger. That formation has carried some oil in the majority of the places where it has been found in the West Texas-New Mexico area.

Veterans' Hospital Site Inspection Set

Sites that might be considered suitable for a Veteran's administration hospital proposed for West Texas will be inspected here within the next few days by L. A. Warren, representative of the Veteran's administration, it was announced here yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce.

Appropriation of almost two million dollars has been asked by the Veteran's administration for the construction of a 250-bed hospital to be located somewhere in West Texas. Several other towns in this area are also making bids for the facilities.

A joint committee of the American Legion and the Chamber of Commerce has been at work here for some time preparing data and prosecuting a brief demonstrating Lubbock's desirability as a location for the hospital. The brief is now on file in Washington, and representatives from here have appeared before the Veteran's administration in Washington on two occasions in the past six months in the interest of establishing the hospital here.

Full Week Scheduled For Red Cross Groups

A full week has been scheduled for the Lubbock county chapter, American Red Cross, beginning with a Prisoner of War meeting last night at the American Legion hall, at which Mrs. Lester Morrell of Chicago was speaker.

Tomorrow night at 7 o'clock there will be a first aid instructor's meeting at the Red Cross offices in the City hall with W. A. Hood, chairman of the first aid committee, in charge.

Junior Red Cross will meet in the executive offices at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the staff assistance corps will meet at the home of Mrs. George Pierce at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

A meeting of the camp and hospital council of all chapters in this area will be held at Lubbock Army Air field at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and the Motor corps will meet in the home of Miss Kathryn Weaver 1901 Broadway at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

Friday at 10 a. m. the camp and hospital committee will meet at the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel and at 4 o'clock that afternoon there will be a meeting of the home service committee in the Red Cross office.

Pvt. Day Reported Killed In Action

Pvt. Johnny Day, 22, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Day of 2124 Sixth, who was reported missing in action several days ago, was killed in action in France, the War department informed his parents.

Pvt. Day, brother of Pvt. Herman Day, 28, with the Ninth Army in France and Germany at various times in the last few heavily-contested weeks, had written his parents:

"Tell everybody hello and never come to France." That was several weeks ago, before von Rundstedt burst from the Ardennes in a counter-offensive.

His widow and two children, Johnnie Jo, 3, and Virginia Mae, 16 months, live in an apartment at 2124 Sixth.

Pvt. Day was inducted June 1, trained at Camp Robinson, Ark., and went overseas unassigned. He had been assistant foreman as a civilian employe at a wood mill at Camp Strother, Kas., before his induction. He was a graduate of Senior High school in Lubbock.

He and his brother, like their father, were carpenters in civil life.

Poland To Govern Liberated Countries

WARSAW, Feb. 2 (Delayed) (AP)—Boleslaw Bierut, President of the Polish National council, announced at a press conference today that Poland is immediately assuming control of civil administration in German Silesia and East Prussia.

A representative of the Warsaw provisional government has already arrived at Oppeln, first large city on the Oder to be occupied by the Red army in its drive through Silesia, he disclosed.

Similar steps to organize civil affairs will be taken elsewhere in Silesia, including Breslau, and in East Prussia "as soon as military conditions permit," Bierut said.

"There will be Polish administration on what we regard as Polish soil, regardless of opinions to be expressed in international conferences," he asserted. "We've seen the attitude of the major powers. We don't think anyone will interfere with us."

He declared flatly that there is "no basis for rapproachement between the Polish exile government in London and the Warsaw government now, or in the future."

Big Three May Set Policy On Mandates

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—A general policy for handling the vexing problem of mandates and colonies may come from the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting.

This is the expectation of reliable sources, here, who pointed out that the question of league mandates was left open in the Dumbarton-Oaks security plan.

The future of the mandates must be met, however, before the old League of Nations can be dissolved because the mandates were granted under the authority of the Geneva group.

Officials are not counting on a detailed program to emerge from the big three meeting, but they expect a general decision on the principle of international rather than single power control of mandates.

This applies especially to greatly populated and developed areas such as parts of Africa and Palestine as against Pacific islands whose prime value is for air-sea bases.

CITY VIRTUALLY DESTROYED

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 5. (AP) — Julius Haga Der, Swedish consul who has just returned from Germany, was quoted in an interview in Svenska Bagladet today as saying that the Rhine city of Mannheim was virtually destroyed, but that 100,000 of its normal 300,000 population still live there.

Sadistic Brutality On Russians Is Reported

MOSCOW, Feb. 5. (AP)—A story of Nazi housewives' brutality to Russian "slave laborers" in Silesia, related today by Pravda Correspondent Boris Polevoy, told of sadistic lashing, of fugitives being torn apart by hunting dogs upon recapture.

Two Russian girls told Polevoy they were among 120 women held on the estate of a German colonel on the Oder river west of Kreuzberg.

They said the colonel's wife took a sadistic pleasure in watching them beaten with sticks and lashed for the slightest disobedience. One girl was reported to have died from the beatings. Another hanged herself. Others drowned themselves or were killed by dogs in attempts to escape.

Ten to 50 lashes with a strap and five to 25 blows with a stick were standard punishments for such things as reporting late or failing to do their work satisfactorily.

Farris Rites Held Monday At Tokio

TOKIO, Terry County, Feb. 5. (Special)—Funeral services for W. A. Farris, 56, son of W. N. Farris of Lubbock, were conducted at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Tokio First Baptist church. Burial was in the Brownfield cemtery, Rix Funeral home of Lubbock announced.

Farris, who had lived in Terry county for 20 years, died about 8:30 o'clock Sunday night at his home following an illness of several months.

Other survivors are his wife; one sister who lives in Lubbock; two sons, T. C. Farris of Tokio, B. C. Farris of Sundown; one daughter, Lola May Farris of Tokio; six grandchildren.

Approximately 15,000,000 people inhabit the Nile Valley.

Institutions Said To Be Improved

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Improvements in all ellemosynary institutions over conditions found two years ago, was reported to the House today by a special investigating committee.

M. A. Bundy of Wichita Falls, chairman ,and Omar Burkett of Eastland ,and John P. Stubbs of Wortham were members of the committee named by the 48th legislature. They conducted their investigation between June 14, 1943 and April 18, 1944.

Closer Attention Given

Their report states in part: "Conditions in all institutions have been much improved over two years ago, as much more interest is being manifested in the care of the patients and property.

"Superintendents are giving close attention to their work, more harmony exists among employees, cruelty to patients, as reported to the 48th legislature has been reduced to a minimum. Very few cases of cruelty were discovered."

The cooperation of Weaver Baker, chairman of the State Board of Control, and members Tom Deberry and Harry Knox, was commended by the committee which said:

"The board has cooperated with us in every way and we feel that the chairman and members are rendering a good service to the state of Texas."

War engendered conditions were listed as: shortage of doctors, nurses, dietitians and general help sometimes as great as 50 per cent in an institution.

Recommendations include uniformity of salaries, stricter check on supplies, construction of new buildings or hospital wards at cramped institutions, an enlarged vocational and recreational facilities, particularly at the reform schools.

Soldier Unable To Write His Feelings About Trip Home

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

IN FRANCE, Jan. 28. (Delayed) —For three days he tried to write what it felt like to be going home. He had always figured it would be simple—just one big outpouring of delight.

But it was more than that.

He got the news while working along the front. One thing that dulled its edge was the realization he would have to go back up there a few times more. Suddenly now, he found himself flinching from ordinary sounds —friendly artillery, for instance.

Kenneth Dixon

He kept going until the job was done but had to drive himself. Being alive was much more important than doing his work. Being alive was everything now.

Ashamed Of Feelings

He felt the expected surge of delight all right but once back up along the line he was ashamed. There was bitter fighting in the Ardennes forest then with snow several feet deep and zero winds stabbing like icy bayonets through the heaviest clothes.

Before going back up there he had been chattering, wildly happy, but now he was silent. You can't remind men in hell there still is a heaven somewhere.

He told a few of his old friends and took their wives' and mothers' and sweethearts' phone numbers. They didn't resent his going, although they knew their right and need was much greater than his.

But they couldn't go—yet at least— and he could, and that was that. But still he fell silent.

Some Never Return

He tried reminding himself he had been over much longer than most of them but then he passed the bodies of a few who would stay forever and that didn't help either.

Sometimes he would just let himself think a little about knocking on the front door at home and then happiness would well up so strong and thick he could scarcely contain it.

Just saying goodby wasn't simple. It went without saying that many of them he would never see again even if he returned to this outfit after his home leave.

All those days he remained superstitious about writing home and saying he was coming. And so he became tongue-tied and did not write at all.

Happiness stayed a strong emotion, but it wasn't pure any more. A lot of it had been swapped for sadness from Tunisia to Ardennes. A lot more had been swapped for humility at San Pietro, for hopelessness at Anzio, for a terrible, unchanneled, helpless wrath at every cemetery all along the way.

Then suddenly he thought that probably the average soldier going home felt much the same mixed up way, with happiness and humility, pride and fear and futility all stirred up together.

And so even if it still did not seem to make sense, he thought he might as well write it that way.

Salary Increase Demands Pile Up

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (U.P) — The Texas House of Representatives was flooded today with new demands for salary raises to follow the increase in rural school teachers' pay effective last week.

Bills read in the House called for raises for jurors, sheriffs, sheriffs' deputies, school trustees and county officers of various types in large counties. One would doubled the pay of members of the state pardon board giving them $7,500 a year and requiring personal intervews with all prisoners. Beside the pay raise proposals there were bills to increase fees of the state land office, agricultural department and the barber examining board.

Spending Proposals Also

There were also spending proposals to appropriate $1,212,181 for the state board of vocational training and $500,00 to compensate persons for losses in enforcement of cattle tick eradication.

To raise more funds there were bills for a two per cent gross receipts tax on bottling soft drinks and an increase in the tax on carbon black manufacture.

Other bills called for refund of gasoline tax on fuel for school busses and require school busses to be striped red, white and blue. Other vehicles would be bared from using such painting.

Amendments Proposed

A "stop, Look, Listen" bill was proposed for vehicles carrying combustibles across a railway track.

Proposed constitutional amendment would allow voting at 18 years, do away with poll tax for service men and require annual sessions of the state legislature. Special sessions could be called by the lieut. governor and House speaker. Now only the governor can call a special session.

Three Sessions Set For Summer School

Directors of Texas Technological college went over several matters of routine in their meeting in Fort Worth Saturday, Dr. William M. Whyburn, president, said Monday upon return to his office after attending the session.

The directors approved plans of the summer school committee for another 15-week session set up so students may have three choices of attendance. First six-week period starts June 2 and closes July 12; second such session starts July 14 and closes August 22. But for those who desire to go either nine weeks, or 15 weeks, work will be continued for three weeks after August 22, closing on September 7.

The directors approved purchase and installation of a water softener to protect boilers from corrosion, and also purchase of pipe to tie in the college's fourth well to the water distribution system. Approval was given to Tech's holding an area meet in connection with Interscholastic League competition in April, contestants to come here from six adjacent districts.

The board gave consideration to the biennial budget, Doctor Whyburn said, placing considerable stress on ways and means to secure funds to add to pens and sheds used in feeding beef cattle in the animal husbandry department; and to securing equipment which would finish the library.

Westerners Go To Plainview Tonight

Coach Dixie White's Lubbock Westerners, defending District 1-AA basketball champions, and undisputed leaders in the south half playoff, go to Plainview tonight for the second game of the conference playoff.

The Westerners opened the playoff race Friday night with a 32-26 win over the Brownfield Cubs, who had earlier beaten Plainview, 21-17, in the opening game.

Expect Tough Fight

But the Westerners are looking for one of the toughest battles of the year tonight at Plainview, and will be playing one of the teams that early season pickers gave the favorite's nod.

The complete record of the Plainview club is not known here, but the club has been much like the Westerners in one respect, they have blown hot and cold during the pre-conference schedule.

The Westerners seem to have hit their stride in the recent games, and since losing two in a row to Amarillo and the Section C Hanger team from LAAF, the Westerners have won their last three games by impressive scores.

Bulldogs In Slump

At the same time, the Plainview five have won but one out of the last four played. After dropping a 38-32 game to Amarillo at Amarillo, the Bulldogs evened the count at Plainview with a 38-18 victory. Last week, the Bulldogs lost to Brownfield in the early week conference starter, then were beaten 29-24 in the Abernathy tourney by Friona.

Reports from Plainview indicate that Malone has been the most consistent scoring threat of that ball club.

The Westerner attack has been well distributed among the starting five, with George Brewer and Verdell Turner staging a merry battle for the top honors of the club.

Brewer has connnected for 44 field goals, five free pitches for 93 points for top honors. Turner has hit 41 field goals, seven free pitches for 89 points, and second high. The two have accounted for 182 of the 333 points scored by the Westerners.

The other three starters are closely bunched in scoring for the season, and four points separte them. Gerald Davis is leading the parade with 50, R. W. Moyers comes next with 49, and Charles Pressley brings up the rear with 46.

White announced Monday night that he would likely start his regular five starters, but indicated that Lawrence Balch might get the starting nod in Davis' guard position.

Brownfield Cubs To Invade Tahoka Gym

TAHOKA, Feb. 5. (Special)—Coach Leo Jackson's high scoring Tahoka Bulldogs put the final touch of polish to their offensive machine here today, and will shoot the works Tuesday night when the Brownfield Cubs will move into the local gym for the third meeting of the year between the two clubs.

The Cubs won the opening game of the series, at Brownfield, by a score of 36-31, but Tahoka later evened the count with the Cubs in the Meadow tournament, the Bulldogs winning 23-17 in the semi-finals. Tuesday's battle will determine the "edge" in the season's play.

It will be the last tuneup game before the Bulldogs move into the district tournament Friday and Saturday at Denver City.

Golf Stars Book Two Exhibition Matches

ALEXANDRIA, La., Feb. 5 (AP) Byron Nelson and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, leading national golf tournament winners for 1944, tee off against two soldier golfers at the Rapides Golf and Country club here for an 18-hole exhibition match at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Playing against the two champions will be Sgt. Jack Stoddard, former Fort Worth, Tex., assistant professional and Sgt. Frank Arch, former Pittsburgh, Pa., assistant professional now at Camp Livingston.

Nelson and McSpaden will appear in an 18-hold exhibition match at the Shreveport Country club Tuesday afternoon. They will be pitted against Ross McDade, Louisiana State golf champion, and Irving King, professional of the Shreveport Country club.

The tongue has 16 muscles, and it takes all of them to pronounce the letter "R".

Twelve Clubs In Junior Tourney

Entries from twelve junior basketball teams have been received by E. J. "Pinkey" Lowery, athletic director of Lubbock schools, and Lowery indicated Monday night that a third night might have to be added to the planned tournament.

Dates have been set as Feb. 23-24, with the goal set for 16 teams. Lowery said Monday that if more than this would be available, the schedule would be started Thursday, Feb. 22.

Lowery Urges Haste

Lowrey urged that all schools interested in joining the junior cage touranment send their entries in as soon as possible. A number of schools over this area have indicated they planned to enter teams, but the formal entries have not been received.

The entries to come in have included the three junior high teams from Lubbock. They are Coach Ressull Wimberley's Whites, Coach Bob Parker's Reds and Coach Curtis Barrett's Blues.

Tahoka came through with entries of three teams from that school, the Purples, Golds and Blues. Two entries have been from the Lubbock Boys club, and will be the Blues and Reds.

Other entries have been received from Meadow, Frenship, Sundown and Bula, to round out the first dozen entries to come into Lowery's office.

Other Teams Expected

Officials from Idalou, Cooper and Wilson are among those who have indicated they would have teams in the meet, but their entries had not been received up to Monday night.

Lowery indicated Monday that he expected "from six to eight" more teams to enter the meet.

The Junior High basektball tournament is the first if it's kind to be attempted in this area, and is designed to give the juniors "something to play for" in junior high basketball, and to serve as an interest to encourage more boys of the junior high age brackets to take part in the sport.

Lowery promoted the tournament this year, with the hopes that it would become an annual feature to the sports picture on the South Plains, and would grow each year. With the close of the war, Lowrey hopes to extend the area covered by the present meet, and go along with the annual junior high track meet, restarted last year along with the enlarged sports program of Lubbock schools.

LAAF Squadron Loop Starts Second Half

Four teams got the jump as the second half of the Lubbock Army Air field squadron league basketball race started anew Monday night at the local field.

Secton 1 rolled to a 35-26 victory over Section F in the opener, Section C line upset the Finance five, 27-24, in the second battle. The favored Section C Hanger nosed out the Flying officers, 27-21, in the third game. In the finale of the night, Section A turned on the scoring, and romped to an easy 40-17 win over Section B.

Bob Brewer of Section A and John Carlson of Section 1 shared scoring honors of the night, each pouring in 14 points. They were closely followed by Guida Kolla of Section C Line, who dropped in 13 points.

Cowhands Play Cooper Tonight

Local cage fans will get their regular Tuesday night entertainment at the Westerner gym tonight with a twin bill booked with the powerful Cooper High school cagers tangling with the Lubbock Cowhand Blacks. The "B" game starts at 7:30.

The Cooper cagers have one of the smoothest working cage teams in this area, and have been winning consistently this year. Cooper defeated the Cowhands Gold, 25-19, last week at Cooper, and followed this game with another win, beating Wilson last Friday night, 46-21.

Gooper has a rangy ball club that has been one of the most colorful in this area. The Cowhands club from Lubbock have not been setting the world on fire with winning records, but have proven they could make a battle of it, and have turned in some good games this year.

Crosbyton To Battle Lockney Five Tonight

CROSBYTON, Feb. 5. (Special)—The Crosbyton Chiefs, tied with Spur for the cellar slot in the 4-A conference cage chase, will take on the loop-leading Lockney Longhorns here Tuesday night in a game commencing at 8 o'clock.

The Chiefs hold one victory this season over the powerful Longhorns, having nosed them out 20 to 19 in a pre-Christmas tilt.

The Lockney five has won all its conference games with the exception of one lost to Floydada, runner-up in the current standings.

The Chiefs are without a coach, working out on "their own," under direction of the captain, Guard Billy Dee Collier. Other first-string players are Lawrence Simmons and Howard Bishop, forwards; Bob Hefley, center, and James Tyler, guard.

Raymond Green, superintendent of Crosbyton schools, "sits in" at the players' bench during games, handling substitutions and passing out bits of strategy.

4-A CHAMPIONSHIP MEET IS SLATED AT MATADOR

The district 4-A basketball championship will be determined, at least in part, at a tournament to be conducted Feb. 17-18 at Matador, said Raymond Green, superintendent of Crosbyton schools, while visiting in Lubbock Monday.

The winner of the tourney will meet the leader in conference standings in a play-off for the title; if the tournament winner was top team in conference play, the championship automatically would be decided.

All teams in the district will participate in the tourney. They are Lockney ,leading the league; Floydada, second; Matador, third; Paducah, fourth; Crosbyton and Spur, tie for fifth.

Ernest Hawkins Returns To Texas Tech Basketball Club

With two tough games on the schedule for this week, the Texas Tech Red Raiders cage squad was given a big shot in the arm this week with the return to school of Ernest Hawkins, regular starter from Lamesa.

Hawkins left the squad shortly after the Christmas holidays, and entered the Navy Air crew and was placed on alert for an early call. The program Hawkins entered shut down shortly after he entered, and Hawkins was placed in the reserve and told to await another call.

When told the call might come in a month , and might be six months, Hawkins returned to school, and hopes to finish out the season with the Red Raiders.

With a battle Wednesday night at Lubbock Army Air field, and another struggle Saturday night at the Tech gym with the powerful New Mexico Lobos, the return of Hawkins to the club will be a welcomed addition.

The Red Raiders have had nothing but bad breaks this season, and many boys counted upon as regulars have been clipped from the squad by calls to service. These constant losses have kept the club from developing the smooth team work that have been so noticeable in Tech teams of other years.

Another new addition to squad has been added in the past few days with the return to school of Malcolm Mitchell, who was with the Red Raider football team of 1943. Mitchell, a product of San-Angelo, has been added to the cage squad, and has been looking very promising in workouts since his return.

Another ray of hope has shown up in the improvement of the injured knee of Gene Hardey, another cage regular, who has been slowed up all season with knee injuries developed during the football season.

Denver City May Be Tourney Darkhorse

DENVER CITY, Feb. 5—Boasting of a season's record of seven wins in 12 starts, Coach Wilson Head's Denver City Mustangs move into the final week of drills for the district tournament here Friday and Saturday to determine the winners and runnerups in the south half of District 4-A.

The favorites of the tournament will be O'Donnell and Tahoka, but the critics in the south half of the district are not inclined to count out the chances of the Mustangs to be the dark horse in the two day scramble.

The tournament will be a double elimination affair, starting at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, with the final game scheduled for 8 o'clock Saturday night. Teams entered in the tournament are Seagraves, Seminole, Slaton, O'Donnell, Post, Tahoka and Denver City.

Officials for the tournament will be Armstrong of Union (Dawson county) and Tubbs of Andrews.

The Denver City season record is:

Denver City 38, Seagraves 31.
Denver City 24, Plains 20.
Denver City 32, Brownfield 17.
Denver City 14, Plains 21.
Denver City 32, Andrews 26.

Baseball To Try To Halt Gamblers

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP) — Gambling on baseball games will be subjected to a searching investigation by both major leagues and steps will be taken to ban advance information of pitching selections and other "inside" dope that might promote the illegal practice.

Presidents Will Harridge of the American League and Ford Frick

COULDN'T GET BET

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5. (AP) — Frank Callahan, Philadelphia Record sports writer, roamed the stands at the St. John's-St. Joseph's Temple-West Virginia basketball doubleheader at Convention hall Saturday night, trying to place a $25 bet—on anything. He failed.

"If there were gamblers," he wrote, "I couldn't find a one."

of the National League today declared an open war on the gambling element that they fear will swing toward baseball if the race tracks still are closed in April when the season opens.

"I note that the International League has forbidden managers to give out pitcher's names in advance," observed Harridge. 'We will proceed along the same line."

Frick said he had similar moves in mind and other more direct checks that could not be disclosed for obvious reasons.

Both league executives said they had no immediate plans for a trip to Washington as a result of the joint declaration naming them as baseball's representatives in the nation's capital.

No date has been set for the next joint meeting and no owner has asked either president to request Secretary Leslie M. O'Connor to make such a call. By baseball law there must be a 15-day lapse between a request and a session.

Skyscrapers To Play In Chicago Feature

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP) — A couple of basketballers who really got up in the world, seven-foot Bob Kurland of Oklahoma A. & M., and 6-foot, 9-inch George Mikan of De Paul, renew their "skyscraper" feud here Saturady as their respective schools try to fatten impressive records.

The last time these long boys met, officially, was in Madison Square Garden a year ago when Kurland outscored Mikan, 14 to 9, but De Paul edged the Aggies 41-38 in the semi-finals of the Metropolitan Invitational.

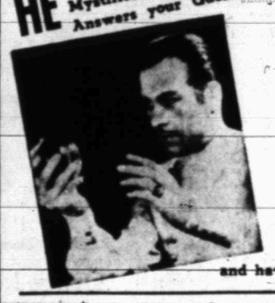

In an off-the-record scrimmage last December between De Paul and the College All-Stars, however, 'tis said that George gave Big Bob something of a scoring lesson. The game was played before wounded veterans here.

Mikan, whose De Paul Blue Demons have lost only to Illinois in 17 starts, has piled up 360 points for an average of 21.17, compared with Kurland's 16.44 average in 17 games. The Aggies have a 14-3 record.

A.—You have been disappointed several times the past year, but he is on his way home at this time and will be here soon.
Q.—Is there any important change for me soon?
A.—Yes, two important changes are shown soon. One is a marriage next month and the other a move to the east coast in April.
Q.—When will I get the money I am expecting?
A.—I'm sorry to disappoint you, but delay is shown. You won't get it before the first of May.
Q.—When and to whom will I be married?
A.—You will be married in June to the man with whom you have been keeping company for the past eighteen months.
Q.—I had a quarrel with C. three weeks ago. Will we make up?
A.—He will give up G. and you will be seeing him again this month.
Q.—Will we have any word from our brother soon?
A.—I know you are very worried, and I feel you had some unfavorable news about him a few weeks ago. The Red Cross will have news for you within two weeks, and he will be released from the German prison camp in April.
Q.—Will I have a change in location soon?
A.—A transfer is indicated for March, and it will take you to Oklahoma.
Q.—When will I get a promotion?
A.—Your planetary aspects are favorable and you will get the desired promotion between the 12th and 20th of March.

U. S. Tanker Lost To Japs In Indian Ocean

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP) — The loss of an American tanker, the Fort Lee, in the Indian ocean last November from an enemy torpedo was announced today by the Navy.

The brief announcement said only:

"The SS Fort Lee, a medium-sized U. S. tanker, was torpedoed and sunk in the Indian ocean early in November, 1944.

"Survivors have landed in the United States."

Recapture Of Manila

Victory Seen By Rocket's Glare

ALTHOUGH it would be foolish to even hint that the recapture of Manila means the war against the Japanese is "all but over," the fact remains that the fall of the Philippine capital to American fighting men, Sunday, is a symbol of our success in the Pacific sector of the global war.

The first few months of the conflict to the west were agonizing ones—agonizing to patriots on the home front, but a thousand times more agonizing to those on the battle lines. Then we caught our balance, started our slow but sure reclamation of eastern, central and southern segments of the Pacific and pushed that reclamation for more than three, long years. Now, with most of Luzon in firm American grip and with Old Glory again flying over Manila, the sun begins to gleam through "the dawn's early light." We are making progress — magnificent progress—in our war against the Japs and the recapture of Manila hightlights the fact.

Those in best position to know warn that the biggest part of the job of defeating the Japs is still ahead. We must accept that counsel, and keep it in mind as the days roll on.

The recapture of Manila, instead of making us overly confident, or overly optimistic, should encourage us on the home front to increase, whenever and however possible, our support of those who, by their bravery and prowess, are driving the Japanese enemy back into its home lair, or to prepared "last-ditch" areas on the Chinese mainland.

In short, we now confidently may see victory in the Orient by light of "the rocket's red glare." But we must not forget that the rockets still fall there, along with "bombs bursting in air," and will continue thus until the complete capitulation of the Jap foe.

Revamping Political Lines

DISCLOSURE in Ray Tucker's National Whirligig column on this page today that Henry Wallace has as his goal election to the Presidency in 1948 as the candidate of the extreme liberals and radicals is interesting to contemplate. It also presages a change in our time-honored, but now outmoded, party system under which neither major political organization has been either all-out radical, or all-out conservative.

That's what we should have in this country now: one party pledged to radicalism, the other to conservatism. If such a thing occurs, as we hope it will, the political air will be cleared for millions of Americans who, in the past two national elections have been sorely puzzled. Then an individual will know how to vote—as he should vote—on issues involved, rather than on tradition, custom, or habit. He will know, for instance, that the party headed by Mr. Wallace—should the Iowan's dreams come true—is the radical party from top to bottom and that the other party is the conservative one. The old tags of "Democratic" and "Republican," which have meant literally nothing since 1936, will go onto the ash-heap where they belong and people will be able to shuck the yoke which geography and ancient history have, politically speaking, chained around their necks.

In 1940, and again last fall, millions of American voters—more than enough to change the election's complexion—didn't know "which way to jump." Mr. Roosevelt's appeals were so neatly dove-tailed that they were radical one day, conservative the next. So were those of Wendell Willkie and Thomas E. Dewey. There was little choice between Messrs. Roosevelt and Willkie in 1940—and not enough, last November, between the President and the Governor of New York. For candidates and principal parties to be so close together on so many issues is not good for the country, nor is the voter given a clean-cut choice.

If Mr. Wallace is successful in completely remaking the Democratic party—a remodeling which has been begun by Mr. Roosevelt—the party now tagged "Democratic" then officially will cease to be the party of the South and of the more liberal North. Instead, it officially will be the party—the political voice—by, of and for all those whose thinking veers to the Left. Therefore, any other party will become the haven for those whose thinking is toward the Right, of those who believe the government with the consent of the free, rather than freedom with the consent of the government.

Webster defines political radicalism as "advocating radical and sweeping changes in laws and methods of government with the least delay;" political conservatism as "favoring the maintenance of extisting institutions . . .and forms of government." There is a sharp cleavage there, a cleavage discernible to all.

That is why we would welcome reorganization of the major political parties as radical and conservative, under those very names, thus plainly described and characterized. Only when that happens will any of us be able to read in election returns the clear-cut thinking of the people.

Yes, of course, there's such a thing as being too conservative. We once heard of a man who slept on the floor to avoid the risk of falling out of bed.

A DAY IN A VIRGINIA PLANTER'S LIFE (1713)

IV

The road was merely a lane, or so it would be called today. It was not wide enough for two carriages to pass while going in opposite directions, but this was no hardship, for carriages were so few in Virginia that two of them were not likely to meet on this quiet road. It was a beautiful high way, running under a green arch of trees, and it would take the four riders to Phillips' ordinary on the Pamunkey River. From there another road along the river led to Belmore, which was the name of Swain's plantation.

As they approached tidewater the woods gave way to great fields of growing tobacco. Here and there they saw the huge barns to which the tobacco leaf was taken to dry, and near by were the plantation buildings—a mansion of brick or of heavy timber for the master, and behind it a little village of the cabins in which the servants and slaves lived. The huts of the slaves were always separated by a small field or vegetable garden from those occupied by the white indentured servants.

At that period of Virginia history, and for many years thereafter, tobacco was the life blood, heart and bones of the colony. It was an economic error of the most vicious kind for the colonist to turn all their attention to tobacco planting, but their motive may be readily understood. Tobacco was the only agricultural crop that could be sold immediately in Europe for cash on the spot. It was therefore looked upon as ready money. As a result the Virginians neglected every kind of manufacture.

With leaf tobacco occupying such a powerful position in the economic life of Virginia it is not surprising that it became a form of currency. People carried silver coins in their purses and had some more locked up in their houses, but metallic money was used only in small transactions. Substantial payments of every kind were made in tobacco.

A clergyman was paid a yearly salary of sixteen thousand pounds of tobacco; a schoolmaster received about half as much. The wages of carpenters, bricklayers and mechanics were stated in terms of tobacco. But tobacco varied greatly in value from time to time. These fluctuations gave a gambling uncertainty to business affairs.

The economic pattern of Virginia life was disastrous to the small farmer, and in the end it produced a permanent class of poverty-stricken whites.

Swain and Randall, with their servants, reached the Phillips' inn shortly after noon, which was fortunate since Phillips always had the midday meal served promptly at half-past twelve.

At the dining table there were three men and two women besides Swain and Randall. One of the men was a professor—or teacher, as he was called—at William and Mary College in Williamsburg, and the women were his wife and daughter. He was on his way to his brother's plantation on the Potomac. Both Swain and Randall knew him and his ladies, and there was much friendly conversation.

The party lingered long over the meal. It was not served in courses, but all the dishes were put down on the table at once. There was a vegetable soup, fried oysters with a hot sauce, fish chowder, roast goose stuffed with boiled peanuts, sweet potatoes, carrots, preserved fruit, apple pie and the patrons had their choice of variety of drinks, such as ale, beer, cider, rum punch, flip, sherry and peach brandy. The ladies wanted coffee after the meal, and it was finally brought in cups as large as bowls. While waiting for it the professor's wife remarked that at home they had coffee every day. "Also tea, mother," said the young lady. "Yes, coffee and tea," the mother agreed, and anyone could see that the professor's wife considered the habitual use of tea and coffee a step upward in social prestige.

The professor paid no attention to the discussion of coffee; he was eager to set forth his views on an important matter. He thought, and said, that there should be a gazette in every colony—a gazette which would print and publish the news of the colony, of all the colonies, of the world.

"Heartily do I agree with you sir," said a stranger who had not, until then, said a word to anyone. "Every colony ought to have at least one gazette—two would be better—for knowledge, and that means news and information, is one of the foundation stones of civilized life. As far as I know there is not a news sheet in any of the colonies."

"Yes, there is," Swain said. "There's one in Boston alled the News-Letter. I've seen it."

"Do you call that flimsy little thing a public gazette?" the professor demanded. "It is just one sheet, about the size of writing paper, and—"

"The Boston postmaster gets it out," said the stranger. All he puts in it is what he hears in taverns and nearly everything in it is a lie."

After much more talk about this and that, the smoking of pipes and the drinking of toasts, the professor remarked that he and his ladies must be on their way.

Swain seemed startled, not at the departure of the professor and his family, but at the flight of time. "Why, it's half-past three," Swain said hurriedly. "We should have been on our way long ago. Landlord, bring our bill."

Graves Of U. S. Dead Said Not Desecrated

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP) — Congress received assurance today that the graves of 30,439 American dead of World war I in France and Belgium, were nöt desecrated by the retreating German army, in recent fighting.

Maj. Charles B. Shaw, officer in charge of the American Battle Monuments commission, told the House appropriations committee the cemeteries suffered very little damage in the World war II fighting in France and Belgium.

Explaining, he said: "The Germans went by them so fast they made no stand."

Record Is Claimed In Changing Plane Motor

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 5. (AP) —A World's record for removing and installing an engine in an airplane was claimed today by a three-man crew in the engine installation unit of the San Antonio Air Technical Service command, Kelly field.

The new record, 55 minutes, beat the best previous record known—established by a service crew about a year ago—by 35 minutes, it was claimed.

The plane was a BT-13.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

THE Massachusetts legislature has been asked to exonerate six persons who were hanged during the witchcraft excitement at Salem in 1692.

It seems that H. Vance Greenlit of New Orleans, La., a descendant of the family of Ann Pudeator, one of those hanged, filed a petition in the Massachusetts Senate and a bill to that effect was introduced by Sen. J. Elmer Callahan of Salem.

While only one descendant of a hangee (this is my own word, you won't find it in the dictionary), asked for an exoneration of his family tree, Senator Callahan thinks they might might just as well include the other five victims of the witchcraft delusion, Susanna Martin, Bridget Bishop, Alice Parker, Margaret Scott and Wilmot Read.

BRANDEIS

Well, if you feel that way about your ancestors, it's all right with me.

But personally I don't give a fig what my ancestors did in 1692 or even in 1892. For all I know my family may have contained a goodly number of horse thieves, hijackers, buccaneers and loafers.

I would not only not ask for any exoneration but I would sort of get a kick out of it.

What difference does it make about your family tree?

Who cares anything whether your great great grandfather was a thief or an earl as long as you are all right?

I have no patience with those people who always boast about their ancestors and who have never done one single thing to deserve them.

You all know that breed. Looking down on everybody else because a great uncle of theirs came over on the Mayflower. Catty, narrow-minded, intolerant people who bask in the shabby reflected glory of a long-gone past.

I'LL NEVER forget an incident that happened more than 20 years ago. I was a young newspaper reporter then and I was sent to cover the opening of a swanky hotel in Atlantic City.

The place was crowded to the walls with prominent people and all society was there. And there was particularly a certain dowager who was always bragging about her aristocratic lineage.

At the gala dinner that evening she and her guests were sitting a few tables away from us all dressed up like the neon signs on Broadway.

The press table was right near the screen that covered the entrance to the kitchen. The waiters were dressed in silk knee breeches and wore white coats and gloves. It was magnificent.

As one of the waiters came out of the kitchen, another waiter bumped in to him and knocked a chicken off his silver tray into the sawdust. The chicken, too was properly dressed for the occasion, in white paper cuffs.

The waiter removed his gloves, picked up the chicken with his hands, dusted the sawdust off with a napkin, put it back on the platter and re-donned his gloves.

Then with a great flourish he gingerly served the rescued chicken with fork and spoon to my very dowager a few tables away.

Somehow, when I read the story about the fellow who wants his ancestors purified that incident of the Atlantic City chicken came back to me.

There is a resemblance, isn't there?

Wallace Looks To 1948

He Has Presidential Ambitions

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

HENRY AGARD WALLACE'S labor and liberal backers regard him as President Roosevelt's rightful heir in 1948, as they did at the Chicago convention last July. And they will whoop it up all the more noisily for his nomination if a conservative Senate coalition withholds confirmation of his appointment as Secretary of Commerce. They will depict him as a "martyr" sacrificed on the high altar by "the interests" in New York and Washington.

The Iowan, who possesses more political canniness and stamina than most people realize, for all his seeming naivete and star-gazing, fosters Presidential ambitions. Indeed, his anxiety to sit in the White House motivated his deliberate selection of Commerce as the reward he claimed from FDR for campaign services rendered.

TUCKER

Mr. Roosevelt, as exclusively reported in this column, told the Chicago rejectee that he could have any cabinet assignment save State, War, Navy and, possibly, Treasury. With that limited field, Mr. Wallace looked over the national lot carefully.

He took counsel with his friends, especially those former aides now serving as Sidney Hillman's CIO assistants—Leo Pressman, union counsel, and C. B. ("Beanie") Baldwin, Mr. Hillman's No. 2 man.

The counselors immediately concluded that there would be no political future for their favorite in the Postoffice or Interior portfolios. He is obviously not qualified for the Attorney Generalship, as he is not a lawyer.

It would have been a comedown for Mr. Wallace to return to his old job at Agriculture. In postwar controversies over tariffs, subsidies and kindred questions affecting the farmers, his role would have been extremely difficult. Moreover, the agricultural states have shown Republican tendencies in recent elections.

He would have been exposed to attack from all sides, especially from the AFL and the United Mine Workers, if this darling of the CIO stepped into "Miss Frances Perkins's" shoes. Too many conflicting and squabbling agencies have been clothed with authority over the workingman's problems for anybody to win acclaim in this position.

CONFLICT: The 1944 election returns, in the final analysis, dictated Mr. Wallace's choice. He noted that tremendous pluralities in about 12 metropolitan centers dominated by the Hillmanites supplied the decisive electoral votes for the President.

The men and women who cast those ballots are chiefly concerned about postwar trade, prosperity, high wages and jobs—60 million, according to FDR's campaign pledge.

The Commerce post occupant even without the Government's vast lending powers, will have a large hand in providing opportunities for the millions of urban dwellers. Herbert Hoover's experience in that office during the prosperity of the 1920s indicated that this cabinet position could again be utilized as a springboard to the Presidency.

So, Mr. Wallace chose the one place which, in his opinion, would enable him to dramatize his sympathies for the "common man" and broaden the lines of his battle against Wall Street and its allies. His striking at Jesse Holman Jones also highlighted the class and economic conflict which his boosters envisaged as a vehicle that would transport him to the Executive Mansion.

COMPLAINTS: President Roosevelt has quietly put himself in a stronger position for bargaining with Winston Churchill and Josef Stalin in their diplomatic conference. By a judicious mixture of veiled threats and offers, looking toward postwar relationships and problems, he has equipped himself for exerting the "influence" which he said he would use in his last message to Congress.

Our remarkable military successes in the China Sea and the Philippines cannot fail to impress the British and Russian statesmen as to our power—especially if they are climaxed with a major offensive against the Germans on the western front. Neither of them is waging two major wars simultaneously. Most impressive feature is the revelation of our naval power.

FDR has also discounted Anglo-Russian hints that we have not organized our domestic economy for the kill. White House endorsement of a National Service act, together with tighter restrictions on food, travel, sports, heat and manpower allowances, should dispose of our Allies' complaints on this score.

CONSERVATIVES: But Washington has also extended olive branches. The nomination of Mr. Wallace, with his well-known views on huge foreign loans and virtual free trade, should appease the British. It shows that the President meant well, even though Capitol Hill disputes him.

The restaffing of the State department with conservatives of the Stettinius-Grew-Clayton type, pleased the British Tories. The Senate round robin pledging American cooperation in a postwar organization may allay our friends' fears that the United States will stage another Pontinus Pilate hand-washing act.

Note: The Senate rebellion against the Wallace nomination may arouse Stalin-Churchill suspicion that FDR cannot control the treaty-ratifying body. But his answer, which his spokesmen here already advance, will probably be:

"Oh! Don't worry about that incident. It is only a minor matter involving domestic politics!"

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

NO matter what happens overseas, the housewife should not expect to find much change in the amount and variety of groceries for the greater part of the year.

Food trade specialists in New York declare that even if V-E day were tomorrow, it would be at least six months before extra quantities of provisions commenced to reach the market, as military and rehabilitation requirements will remain high.

LEMAN

Under all circumstances pork, chicken, potatoes, fresh vegetables, butter and sugar will continue to be tight. There will be fewer canned fruits and vegetables after July. The sugar situation will be worst about August and will improve thereafter if the beet crop is heavy.

More butter may become available if federal price control is revised. Dairymen say that today it is more profitable to sell milk as milk than to churn it. When Army-Navy demands ease late in the spring, civilians may look for more beef. Fresh fruits and turkeys should also be more plentiful.

MEAT: Prospects for the food industry are bright. Except for more vegetable dehydration plants, our processing establishments have remained at about the 1941 level, although the population has increased by four million since then. This presages an expansion of our facilities—especially in baby food manufacturing—as soon as construction has the green light.

The trade is eager to market all sorts of new edibles which cannot be promoted until the conflict is over. Packers want to distribute the various canned meat and gravy combinations that now tickle the GI palate. They have a new ice cream, with flavor and quality said to be better than the prewar dish, extracted from beef by-products.

(Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

We became a bit mixed up the other evening while simultaneously reading war news in an English-language newspaper and listening to a news broadcast in Spanish.

If you feel a bad cold coming on, don't go to the doctor—go to bed.

Side Glances --- By Galbraith

"I'm so glad to have them all home together I don't mind their loud talk—besides, it's only a little argument about who's winning the war!"

Here And There In Texas

"Furriner" Cheers For Texas!

By BILL KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

THE modest Texan who hesitates to speak expansively about his native land can now sit back and listen to a veteran observer and world traveller who really knows his Texas talk.

Frederick Simpich, assistant editor of the National Geographic magazine, in "The Yield of Texas" in the current issue of the Geographic, presents a picture of the war time economic significance of the Lone Star state that will impress the average Texan and astonish the outlanders.

No boom in American history has been greater than changes now sweeping Texas, says Simpich, and then hastens to add that it really isn't a boom, but industrial upheaval due anyway, and only accelerated by war.

Nearly all our helium and carbon black, most of our sulphur and trainloads of synthetic rubber, and worlds of toluene, butadiene, sulphuric acid, caustic soda, magnesium and high octane gasoline now all come from Texas.

This is our chief source of natural gas.

Still Leads In Cotton

In growing cotton, Texas still leads. But gone are the foreign markets.

More soldiers are trained in Texas than in any other state.

Still, acre for acre, Texas primarily is a farm and ranch country.

But, dollar for dollar, oil tops everything.

Texas now produces 78 per cent as much crude oil as the rest of the world put together, exclusive of the United States.

A mere item: The "Big Inch"—24-inch pipe line from Longview to Pennsylvania, 1,363 miles, delivers 300,000 barrels of oil daily.

More valuable even than oil is natural gas.

More than half of America's known gas reserves underlie the soil of Texas. It is being piped out over the nation; wastefully, uneconomically, some say.

Half of America's butadiene, made from natural gas, comes from Texas. The nation's biggest synthetic rubber plant is here.

In 1944 Texas made nearly 900 million pounds of carbon black. Carbon black helps fight the war, too.

SINCE Pearl Harbor, the Geographic magazine says 40 million men in uniform have ridden on Texas trains, training, or getting to and from the wars. About 550,000 Texans are in the services.

Long the leading livestock state, Texas may yield to Iowa and Kansas on sales, but the critters went from Texas to be fattened on northern grass and grain.

From a million to two million animals move to the corn belt annually.

About one-fifth of all shorn wool in the country comes from Texas.

The triumph of chemistry, the retreat of cotton, population shifts and the birth of new industries are changing the big face of Texas.

Limit Not Reached

There's a limit to oil and gas, irreplacable natural wealth. Geologists may differ on how long this underground wealth will last, but lavish expenditure doesn't delay the day when Texans again will have to make their living on top of ground, as they did in the days of the Texas republic.

Texas has provided natural resources, but like countries with "colonial economy" has sent most of its raw materials to be processed elsewhere. Industrialization is changing this.

The Rio Grande valley drips with money.

"There ain't plenty of nothin' but money," said an old negro man as he eyed the half empty shelves of a country store.

Of course, as many a soldier who has trained in Texas will tell you, a lot of her 267,339 square miles is short of water and sparsely peopled, but the point the writer makes is that even with its vast wartime production, Texas has never produced to capacity.

Texas is so big that even its own people can't see it whole. Most of them know only that part of the state where they live.

Mere visitors, looking down from planes or peering out car windows, get only glimpses of its kaleidoscopic life.

TO A TEXAN goes the nation's first farm loan under the "GI Bill of Rights."

He is Roy R. Hays whose robust six-foot-three stature landed him an Army MP assignment.

Now returned to private life he looks forward to settling on a farm of his own choice in his native Cass county.

This was made possible through a government guaranteed farm loan under provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment act, popularly known as the "GI Bill of Rights."

Speedy action by the Farm Security administration county committee, sitting as a loan certifying committee, and by the Veterans administration regional office in Dallas, which must give final approval of all loan guarantees, gave Hays the distinction of being the first veteran to get a GI loan in a program expected to assist hundreds of thousands servicemen to become farm operators and owners.

The longest prize fight on record was fought April 6, 1893, between Andy Bowen and Jack Burke. It went 110 rounds and lasted seven hours and 19 minutes.

Texas Demo Scrap

press conference, Stevenson said he had not determined in appointing regents that they were not identified with any public controversy "but I didn't inquire into the secrecy of the ballot."

He was answering questions as to whether he had determined whether any of the appointees had been identified with the Texas Regulars.

The governor said he was "trying to find educators and men with cultured minds." He continued that "all groups" in Nacogdoches recommended Ed B. Tucker and the same applied to E. E. Kirkpatrick of Brownwood.

"Citizens there said Kirkpatrick had voted the Democratic ticket for 40 years," Stevenson declared.

Referring to David M. Warren of Panhandle, Woodward and Dr. C. O. Terrell of Fort Worth, Stevenson said he thought it was absolutely certain they were openminded on the University of Texas controversy that led to the discharge of Dr. Homer P. Rainey as president when they came on the board.

Three Oppose Rainey

Woodward, Warren and Terrell last week voted as regents against the reinstatement of Dr. Rainey. They were serving as recess appointees.

Lane referred to this, particularly Woodward's explanatory statement at the board meeting, in his Senate speech.

"The new chairman of the board of regents says he has dug deep and long into the matter," he asserted.

"He is pinch-hitting in cleanup position in the ninth inning, and I think the whole thing is a move to decoy away from the main issues.

"I do not think the main issues are U.S.A. (a book which was a center of discussion in the legislative investion of Dr. Rainey's discharge), or homosexualism (also brought into the hearing).

Tossed In Senate's Lap

"He (Woodward) has tossed the whole thing in the Senate's lap. It has been indicated that a vote for confirmation of the regents is a vote against Rainey and that a vote against confirmation is a vote for Rainey. The question before us is the selection of regents, not the selection of a president.

"One thing goes down to the last. That is they are Texas Regulars. I do not criticize the Regulars. They think they are doing right and they may be.

"Don't you think instead of it being a question to put Rainey back, we should say it is a question of selecting a representative board? The question is, are we going to represent Texas, or are we going to be a party to turning the university over to those who represent ten per cent or less of Texans?"

Hill Funeral Set At Tahoka Today

MARKET GAINS CONTINUE

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP) — The stock market today made it five rising sessions in a row with buyers concentrating on motors and other peace-rated industrials while more or less ignoring armament-connected issues.

Dealings from the start were among the liveliest of the year todate although there were slow intervals.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .2 of a point at 59.7 where it was only .2 under its 7-year peak of early January. The market was broad, 955 issues registering. Of these, 506 were up, 235 down and 214 unchanged.

Railway bonds improved.

Lifted in the Curb were anchor Post Fence, Hecla Mining, F. L. Jacobs and Pantepec. Turnover here was 570,385 shares versus 715,164 in the previous 5-hour stretch.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP) — New Orleans, commission house and mill buying rallied cotton futures sharply today as the demand met a scarcity of offerings. The advance was partly due to pending proposals in Congress to liberalize the parity formula to raise farm prices substantially and the tightening situation in spot cotton.

Futures closed 65 to 85 cents a bale higher.

said their food allowances dwindled as the war turned against the Japanese. The death rate rose sharply, the major cause being starvation, in the last few months.

Somber Note For Relatives

There was a somber note in the story, a forewarning to relatives of those who failed to survive the three years confinement.

(The list of prisoners freed will be announced by the War department from Washington, as soon as relatives of military personnel and civilian employes of the Army and Navy are notified.)

Among the rescued were 69 American Army nurses and medical technicians, who had been captured with the fall of Bataan and Corregidor.

There also were 32 members of the clergy, including the Dominican faculty at Santa Tomas university.

Weight Loss Heavy

Some of the men prisoners had lost as much as 100 pounds. The average loss among them was 51 pounds. The average among the women was 32 pounds. The children were spindle-legged and pale.

Other evidences of malnutrition included swollen legs and ankles.

The prisoners said they had lived almost entirely on rice, camotes (resembling sweet potato roots) and garbage can salvage.

This was the largest number of Allied nationals held by the enemy anywhere in the South Pacific. The delivery followed by a few days the release of more than 500, mostly American Army and Navy prisoners, from a camp north of Manila by Army Rangers and Scouts.

Grand Jury Continues Wheeler Case Probe

CROSBYTON, Feb. 5. (Special) —A 72nd district grand jury investigating charges against three persons in connection with the December death of Eric Wheeler, Crosby county farmer, will continue deliberations Tuesday.

Approximately a dozen witnesses were heard today and "several more" will appear today, court officials said.

Charged are the farmer's 51-year-old widow; his son, E. C., 28, and Mrs. E. C. Wheeler, 24.

Grain..

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 5 (AP) — Grain futures markets were firm to strong today with wheat and rye leading the upturn and at times gaining a cent. Offerings were light except on the bulges, shorts covered and commission houses and professional traders were on the buying side.

Demand was stimulated by reports that Senator Thomas (D-Okla) chairman of the Senate Agriculture committee, had completed drafting a bill to increase parity prices for basic crops.

Trade reports said 30-cent cotton and $1.83 wheat were among the goals of the Thomas bill, not yet introduced in Congress, which would raise farm prices by advancing the base period for determining parity from the average for the five years, 1909-1914, to the average for the 10 years, 1919-1929.

At the finish wheat was ⅛ to ⅝ higher than Saturday's close, May $1.63⅛-¼. Corn was up ⅛ to ⅜, May $1.12¾. Oats were ¼ to ¾ higher, May 68¼. Rye was up ⅛ to ¾, May $1.14⅜-½. Barley was ⅝ higher, May $1.11⅝.

force in a tactical air force. From February, 1943 until July, 1944 the force under General Egan's command was charged with the defense of the ferry route to China and with supporting the ground operations of the Chinese-American forces in Burma. For his achievements General Egan received the Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal.

The military career of the 77th Wing commander dates back to World War 1 when he enlisted in the air service soon after graduating from Stuyvesant High school in 1917. He won his wings at Souther Field, Ga., in September, 1918, and was assigned to Carlstron Field, Fla., a pursuit school, where he remained until after the war.

When he left the service, General Egan enrolled at New York university and later attended Pace institute in New York City. He remained in civilian life until 1926 when he resumed his flying career with the army.

First assignment after his return to active duty took General Egan to Langley Field, Va., and from there he served at Selfridge Field, Mich., Brooks and Kelly Fields before serving a tour of foreign duty in Hawaii. After returning to the United States he again was assigned to Selfridge Field and was on duty at Mitchell Field when ordered to the CBI theater.

The general's wife and their 14-year-old daughter Alice are currently residing in Hempstead, N. Y. His mother, Mrs. John F. Egan, lives in River Edge, N. J.

General Egan and his staff will inspect not only the training activities at LAAF but also the technical and administrative departments as well.

School Vacations May Be Cancelled

Recommendation that schools and colleges cancel vacations this year, to relieve the overburdened transportation facilities of the nation, was made Monday in Washington by Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of the Office of Defense Transportation.

John W. Studebaker, United States commissioner of education who endorsed the recommendation, said as many as 300,000 students normally would be taking such vacations. Nonessential travel must be curbed and omission of school vacations will be especially desirable as it will affect students who must travel to reach their homes, Col. Johnson pointed out.

Spring vacations will come during the existing extremely critical period in wartime transportation, and students and parents should be willing to do their part in relieving the overburdened transportation facilities of the nation, Col. Johnson said.

Claims On Reich

ting in Warsaw has staked a claim to East Prussia and additional German territory east of the Oder river. France may claim all Germany west of the Rhine. Some quarters expressed belief it was likely that southern Schleswig and north Frisia would be awarded to Denmark as a move to internationalize the Kiel canal.

DE GAULLE MAKES THREE MAJOR PEACE DEMANDS

PARIS, Feb 5 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle put forth three major demands for peace today, declared France would seek their fulfillment in her own way if necessary, and asserted that the French nation will not be bound by any inter-Allied decisions unless it has an equal voice in framing them.

In a radio fireside chat which probably coincided with the Anglo-American-Soviet meeting, the chief of the French provisional government demanded the occupation of the entire length of the Rhine, the separation of the river's western banks and the Ruhr industrial area from the remainder of Germany, and the assurance of independence for the smaller nations of Europe.

Rhineland Occupation

Commenting on the exclusion of France from the Big Three conference, de Gaulle said the Allies had "shown great comprehension" of the French request for sole occupation of the Rhineland and predicted that French troops gradually would become the predominant element in the occupation of the Reich.

France intends to negotiate pacts of mutual security and economic cooperation with Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands, and in time to resume good relations with "renovated Italy," de Gaulle said. He omitted Spain from his list of French neighbor countries.

Finally de Gaulle asserted that France would be ready—after the battles of Europe and the Far East are finished and France has recovered all her territories—to participate in "studies and negotiations from which no doubt will emerge a world organization to maintain peace."

Manila Liberated

structure named the Ayala to the south.

The Japanese blew up the bridges in a futile effort to halt the American advance into the southern half of Manila.

Bilibid penitentiary was such a filthy hole just before the war started that the Philippine government abandoned it as a penal institution, yet the Japanese confined thousands of American military and civilian prisoners in the vermin-ridden stone structure.

On the western Luzon front the Americans gained complete control of the base of the Bataan peninsula, trapping any Japanese in that area. The peninsula was sealed off as the American forces from Zambales on the west joined other Yanks coming west from San Fernando in Pampanga province.

Jap Sealed In North

The Japanese in the Cagayan valley of northeast Luzon, figured at many thousand strong, were definitely sealed into that area when American troops took the town of San Jose and also captured Balete pass, southern doorway to the valley.

MacArthur, announcing the knockout punches against the Manila Japanese, said "our forces are rapidly cleaning the enemy from Manila.

"Our converging columns of the First Cavalry division from the east, the 37th Infantry division from the north and the Eleventh Airborne division from the south after an overnight 35-mile advance from Tagaytay, simultaneously entered the city and surrounded the Japanese defenders.

"There complete destruction is imminent."

Elements of the First (motorized) Cavalry division, culminating a spectacular 144-mile dash in a little more than 60 hours, were the first into Manila, entering Saturday night and spearing directly into the Santos Tomas internment camp. The 37th division entered the capital from the north after capturing the Grace Park airdrome.

The Eleventh Airborne division drive took on fresh impetus Friday when the 511th Paratroop regiment floated to earth and captured Tagaytay ridge which commands roads to the Cavite naval base and Manila itself.

The Eleventh Airborne troops, finding no natural obstacles such as the wide and deep Pasig river which hindered the drive from the north, rolled straight into Manila down a fine highway.

In support of the ground operations, American heavy bombers raked the Cavite naval base and Corregidor fortress at the entrance to Manila bay while attack planes swept enemy-held airdromes south of the capital city.

Nazis Are Pocketed

The southbound U. S. 12th Armored division — disclosed for the first time to be in action — met the northbound French Fourth Moroccan Mountain Infantry division this morning at Rouffach, eight miles south of Colmar.

Germans west of them found themselves in a 15-mile wide sack with French and Aemrican troops closing relentlessly.

Germans east of them were boxed against the Rhine and were racing back into the Reich, saved from the usual aerial scouring by the arrival of low rain clouds which blanketed the entire Western front.

French and American forces met furious resistance, but they captured Neufbrisach near the Rhine due east of Colmar, and Wolfgantzen, a mile to the west straddling the main railroad.

Key Centers Menaced

The drive by four of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army divisions as deep as 13 miles in western German menaced two key communications centers in the Monschau area southeast of Aachen 28 miles from the Rhine.

Supreme headquarters said it had no confirmation of front dispatches yesterday that the Ninth Infantry division had broken all the way through the westwall due east of Monschau.

Nine FFA Chapters Hold Contests Here

Nine chapters of the Future Farmers of America from the Lubbock district and surrounding area took part in a leadership contest which was held at Texas Tech Monday night, according to O. T. Ryan, supervisor of vocational agriculture in Area 1.

Cooper won the first event, a farm demonstration, with Lubbock second, Idalou third, and Roosevelt fourth.

In the senior chapter conducting division Cooper was again first with Slaton second, Frenship third, Wilson fourth, and Idalou fifth.

Schools participating in the contest were Lubbock, Slaton, Roosevelt, Idalou, Cooper, Frenship, Wilson, Snyder and Hermleigh.

Judges for the chapter conducting were J. D. Strickland and Cecil Ayres, both of Texas Tech; and Manuel Ayres, assistant county agent, judging the farm demonstration.

POW Routine, Postal Rules Are Discussed

Detailed information on the daily routine of prisoners of war and a discussion of postal regulations pertaining to the sending of letters and packages to captives were presented Monday night by Mrs. Lester Morrell of Chicago to an audience of approximately 200 persons, most of whom were parents of prisoners, at the Legion hall, 910 Texas Ave.

Mrs. Morrell, who has traveled extensively abroad, is a volunteer worker of the Chicago Red Cross office.

Representatives of the Lubbock office announced at the meeting that families of liberated prisoners may send brief wireless messages to their kinsmen.

The messages, which must be limited to 25 words, must be sent by army press wireless, it was explained. Only one message will be allowed each family. They should be addressed to "Adjutant General, attention casualty branch; room 3050, Munitions building, Washington, D. C." The prisoner's name and serial number must be included.

Mail for freed Americans should be addressed directly to the individual through "American Red Cross, Civilian War relief, section APO 428, care of postmaster, San Francisco."

Soviet Smashes

a firm grip on all railroads and highways east of the Oder.

German accounts of the war on the Eastern front gave the Red Army control of nearly all the Oder's east bank, winding 350 miles southward from the Baltic port of Stettin to Ratibor near the Czechoslovak border.

The Moscow bulletin ignored large sectors of this front, notably that southeast of Stettin in Pomerania and that in Silesia, where the Germans asserted Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukraine Army has established at least half-a-dozen bridgeheads.

Dispatches from Moscow indicated both Zhukov and Konev were preparing to move en masse across the Oder for the second stage of the mighty Russian winter offensive.

The question confronting the German defenders was whether Zhukov would strike straight for Berlin, or whether Konev would strike first, swinging south of the capital.

Zhukov's control of the Oder, according to German accounts, began in the region west of Pyritz and about 20 miles south of Stettin, and reached its full strength around Kustrin, 40 miles to the south, which was under heavy assault. At least one attempt to force a crossing of the Oder northwest of Kustrin has been made by the Russians, Berlin said.

Russians Push On

From Kustrin to the area south of Frankfurt, second of the Oder line fortress cities, Zhukov's troops were pressing to the east bank of the river in increasing numbers. In this sector, the Russians were 40 miles from Berlin.

Fifty miles southeast of Frankfurt, Zhukov's First White Russian Army was ranged along another sector of the river in the neighborhood of Grunberg.

Meanwhile, the savage battle of East Prussia continued, the Soviets pressing forward to reduce the capital, Konigsberg, and annihilate the estimated 20 German divisions compressed into a fraction of the Junker province's territory by the veteran armies of Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky and Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky.

U. S. Sub Overdue And Presumed Lost

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP) — The submarine Tang has failed to return from a war patrol and is presumed lost, the Navy announced today.

The Tang was the 37th submarine lost since the start of the war. Thirty-one have been lost on patrol, four sunk accidentally and two destroyed to prevent capture.

While the Navy communique did not state the area in which the Tang disappeared, virtually all American submersibles now operate in the western Pacific.

The Tang, the normal complement of which was about 65 to 70, men, was skippered by Com. Richard H. O'Kane, 34. His wife, the former Ernestine Groves of Chapel Hill, N. C., lives at San Rafael, Calif.

Opening Of Manila Bay For Next Blow On Japs Believed Due Soon

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Even before General MacArthur's columns have driven the last Japanese sniper from Manila, it is a reasonable guess that the American commander's next step in his triumphant campaign to reclaim the Philippines, will be the reopening of Manila bay.

That is the potential main forward base for American forces which will relatively soon sweep on toward China or against Japan itself.

SIMPSON Who holds Luzon and Manila bay dominates the South and East China seas. Japan's wrecked dream of Asiatic conquest was founded on that military axiom of the Pacific. It explains Pearl Harbor.

Only hopelessly trapped Japanese garrisons on Bataan and Corregidor remain to deny full use of Manila bay and all west central Luzon as the mustering place for the fleets of sea and sky and the armies to finish off Japan.

Bombers Pound Corregidor

In the flood of jubilant reports from Manila telling of its quick seizure, except for mopping-up operations ,and of the liberation of hundreds of American and other internees long under Japanese ruthless rule, the fact that MacArthur's heavy bombers were already at work on Corregidor got only passing mention. The air blasting, however, must be merely a preliminary to the thing the American commander has next in mind.

It was not Japanese air-bombs that finally broke the back of American resistance on Corregidor three years ago, but the lunging fire of Nipponese guns massed on the heights of Bataan. Corregidor was doomed when Bataan fell. Now it seems certain that the clearing of the Bataan peninsula, very possibly in less time than it took the foe to break the American and Filipino stand there, is the task MacArthur has next set for himself.

Cafes Here Urged To Aid Health Campaign

Food establishment owners and managers are asked to cooperate with the city health department in a stricter enforcement of sanitation laws by requiring prospective employes to have health certificates before hiring them.

Complaints are now being filed against food handlers who do not have health certificates, and Dr. J. W. Rollo warns that any food establishment employe working without a permit is in violation of city and state law and is subject to the penalties as set forth in state and city statutes.

The public is asked to help in a more rigid enforcement of health and sanitation laws by avoiding establishments that willfully disregard the state laws regarding streilization of dishes, glassware and utensils, and those operating under generally unsanitary conditions.

Fifth Army Troops Reoccupy Gallicano

ROME, Feb. 5. (AP)—Fifth Army troops have reoccupied Gallicano in the Serchio valley area on the Italian west coast against only slight enemy opposition, Allied Headquarters announced today.

Other advances were made along the Serchio river, regaining ground lost in December when the Nazis launched a short-lived offensive in the direction of Lucca.

In the central front area south and southeast of Bologna strong Fifth Army raiding patrols ran into considerable German resistance. Casualties were suffered on both sides, and a number of Germans were captured.

The Mediterranean Allied tactical air force yesterday continued the assault on enemy communications in northern Italy, with concentrated attacks on bridges and transport.

Army Hospitals To Increase Capacities

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP) — The Army announced today that the bed capacity of its general and convalescent hospitals will be increased by 70,000.

Sick and wounded soldiers are being returned from overseas at the rate of 30,000 a month, an increase of approximately 21,000 a month over the first six months of 1944.

At the time the hospital expansion was first contemplated six months ago, the Army had 61 general hospitals with 21,000 beds and nine convalescent hospitals with 30,000. Since then, some facilities have been added.

Tailor Needed After Man Struck By Car

HOUSTON, Feb. 5. (UP)—Charles Hoop, 65-year-old Houston churchgoer, is a man of durable faith and quick-thinking.

Hoop, enroute to church last night, was knocked down by an auto and dragged three-tenths of a mile in the rain—and his most serious injury was the loss of the seat of his pants.

Fearing that the rear wheels would crush him, Hoop grabbed the car's front axle and hung on for dead life. The motorist, unaware of the accident, drove three-tenths of a mile before another motorist stopped him.

Hoop, needing a tailor more than a doctor, was treated at a Houston hospital and released.

AUTOMOBILE KILLS MAN

HOUSTON, Feb. 5 (UP) — William Elton Robert, 47, of Houston, was killed last night when struck by an automobile driven by Jerry L. Cass of Orange on the Hempstead highway, Harris county deputies reported today.

News Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Strange are leaving today for Olney where Mr. Strange will address an annual banquet of the Olney Chamber of Commerce there tonight. They will return to Lubbock Wednesday.

Boy Scout cub pack No. 1 meets tonight at 8 o'clock at Roscoe Wilson school, Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, cubmaster, announced.

A 99th district petit jury that reported to Judge G. V. Pardue Monday was dismissed until Friday, court officials said Monday afternoon.

Mrs. George Young, chairman of the Lubbock Red Cross Prisoner of War committee, said Monday that cartons designed for sending packages to American prisoners of war in Germany, long overdue, had arrived and were available to those who call for them.

Garbage collections, because of a shortage of help in the city sanitation department, cannot be made so frequently as in normal times. As a result, Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, asked Monday that householders ascertain that they have adequate trash barrels and prevent litter from collecting in allys. Tree limbs, he said, should be hauled away by householders, and grass clippings and rakings, if hauled away by garbage trucks, must be placed in boxes.

Charro Days Fiesta Opens Thursday For Texans, Mexicans

BROWNSVILLE, Feb. 5. (UP) — That fantastic Charro Days fiesta, a festival in which thousands of townspeople don brilliantly colored costumes and take over to make their own show, opens here Thursday for four days.

Charro Days is one of the few Texas festivals which has carried through the war, and again it will be presented on a streamlined, wartime basis. It was decided to continue the fiesta during the war because of its peculiar value in bringing together the people of Mexico and Texas here at the border.

Plan Post-War Expansion

There will be even a more pronounced accent on international relations this year with many thousands of people crossing from the sister city of Matamoros to join in the celebration.

But even though it is being staged on a wartime basis, Charro Days has branched out in many ways that are indicative of what is to be in store in the post-war period. One is that the city plans to build an entire Charro village on the banks of the Rio Grande and expand the occasion into an international fiesta of the first magnitude.

Charro Days in its entertainment has broken with most of the traditional features of such festivals. There will be no speeches, no kings and queens to be crowned, no visiting celebrities to be honored.

Thousands To Take Part

Instead, there will be singing, dancing and merrymaking throughout the four days—and it is the people themselves who call the tune. Between 15,000 and 20,000 persons, from the graybeards to babes in arms, show up on the streets wearing gay costumes — costumes typical of various parts of Mexico and other Latin-American nations and noticeable for their bright colors and striking designs.

There will be, however, many special events such as a parade in which 5,000 costumed children will march, a grand roundup with men and women riding horseback, strolling troubadors singing the ballads of old Mexico, costume dances, Mexican style night clubs, quarters horse racing typical of the old border, a speedboat regatta, a song and dance show featuring costumes, music and dances of old Mexico, and many other similar events.

Exhibits To Be Interesting

On Sunday, the last day, the fiesta will be turned over to the sister city of Matamoros across the Rio Grande where the festivities will continue at the same whirling pace.

There will be dozens of interesting exhibits on the streets—most of them typical of old Mexico; there will be a Mexican village and a Mexican baile of the old ranch type.

As it has in past years, the festival will add up to a distinctive occasion in which everybody forgets and lets himself go for a good time.

Public Asked To Aid War Effort

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (UP) — A message to the public from the Office of War Information:

The government needs and asks its citizens in this 165th week of the war to:

1. Fill a war job to make heavy duty tires, which are worn out at the rate of one every 15 seconds on the battle front. Thirty-five plants urgently needed 3,2000 men to help meet a 30 per cent increase in tire needs this year.

Stick To Car Pool

2. Employ special nurses only when you are critically ill. Call on your visiting nurse association, nurses registry or your local health department for advice and home care.

3. Stick to your car pool; avoid useless driving. In the recent German offensive 500,000 gallons of American gas were captured or destroyed—enough to fuel 20,000 "A" cars for more than three months.

4. Take good care of your electrical and mechanical appliances Stepped-up war production makes repairs difficult to get.

5. Keep saving your wastepaper. In some areas collections are lagging, but the need continues critical.

TRIAL DEFERRED

ATHENS, Feb. 5. (AP)— Preparations for trial of ELAS partisans accuesd of treason in connection with the recent civil strife in Greece were deferred today by order of the government pending conclusion of peace negotiations with the leftwingers.

Sentences already passed will not be carried out until further notice.

Millions Switching To Mutton Suet And Medication

"Old Reliable" For Relieving Chest Muscle Tightness-Coughing, Rheumatic Pain, Simple Bruises and Many Other Home Uses.

Grandma liked to "rub" miseries of chest colds and other simple pain. She medicated her rub but insisted it contain mutton suet. She liked the way mutton suet disappeared as it helped carry medication to nerve ends in skin to relieve pain. Today science has modernized Grandma's old-time pain relief principle to bring you Penetro, the salve that contains mutton suet plus 5 active ingredients. Mothers now thank Grandma for her old idea that created this newer relief.

In this colds' season, Penetro is especially helpful in easing chest muscle tightness, chest rawness, loosening phlegm, relieving coughs. That's because Penetro melts instantly, quickly vanishes to act 3 ways (1) To relieve pain at nerve ends in skin. (2) To ease chest muscle tightness by counter-irritation. (3) To soothe irritated breath passages through inhaled aromatic vapors. Penetro is so helpful, too, in easing rheumatic and neuralgic pain, taking sting from chapped lips and nostrils, and as a soothing dressing for bruises, minor cuts. Today get clean, white, easy-to-use Penetro. Adv.
