West Base To Be Advanced Training Field

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE roar of training planes again may sound over Lubbock Air Field within a year, according to an Air Force announcement from Washington Monday.

The Air Forces said it plans to reopen 19 air bases and one gunnery and bombing range before June 30, 1949, the Associated Press reported Monday afternoon.

The announcement did not come as a complete surprise to Lubbock civic leaders and Chamber of Commerce officials who have kept close watch upon the "situation" at Lubbock Air field and Air Force plans for expansion.

Includes Large Force

Unofficial sources said that from 3,500 to 5,000 men would be stationed at the field when it is reactivated. One of these would hold the rank of brigadier general, probably three full colonels, 165 lieutenant colonels, majors and captains, several hundred lieutenants. The bulk of the field personnel would be made up of noncommissioned officers and enlisted men and civilian workers.

The probable annual payroll was estimated at from $5 million to $10 million depending upon the actual number of men operating and training at the field.

Delay Is Indicated

Advanced twin-engine flight training will be offered at the field, according to unofficial reports.

It was pointed out that due to the fact the field will be engaged in advanced flight training, its reactivation may lag behind other fields placed on an active status.

Basic and primary training, which precede advanced training, required approximately nine months under the wartime schedule, and the Air Force is expected to require as much training, and possibly more, in each division before certifying the student for advanced work.

Unofficially it was expected that the station would actually be activated sometime after June, 1949 with actual training programs beginning sometime later as the first cadets move up for advanced flight work.

Housing To Be Problem

It was learned here that LAF might have been activated prior to the present announced date but Air Force and civic leaders wished to avoid inconveniencing approx-

Truman Signs Global Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—America's $6,030,710,225 investment in global recovery became law today, President Truman, signing the act, called it concrete proof of this country's will toward "enduring peace and prosperity among all nations."

The appropriation, passed in the closing hours of Congress, carries $4,000,000,000 for the European recovery program. The fund, providing for a 15-month program, may all be spent in a year if the President considers it necessary.

Two Agreements Signed

At almost the same moment the money act was made effective, the State department announced the first two formal agreements governing use of the funds and guaranteeing against wastage. Ireland signed in Dublin this morning and Italy in Rome this afternoon.

"Closely similar" pacts will be signed this week by most of the rest of western Europe, it was announced. The agreements pledge each Marshall plan country to strive for greater production, steady currency and increased trade as a basis for economic strength. Not mentioned is the further aim—to erect strong bulwarks against the spread of Communism.

The agreements also contain concessions to the United States, notably pledges to make available materials that are vitally needed for this country's national defense stockpile.

Secretary of State Marshall, in a statement aimed mainly for ears across the Atlantic, emphasized that Europe must carry its share of the load.

State Official Reviews Road Program

City's Highway Plan Praised By Wemple

By R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche Staff Writer

LUBBOCK'S highway dispersal plan, when completed, will be "one of the finest urban systems anywhere," Fred Wemple, state highway commissioner of Midland, said in Lubbock Monday.

A past district governor of the organization, Wemple was here for the district assembly, 127th District Rotary International. He was one of the principal speakers.

But, typical of the big and affable commissioner, he found time to go minutely over road construction of Lubbock and the 19 counties of state highway district 5 while here.

Projects Are Outlined

Using his portable desk — the Wemple knees — he spread out blueprints of the Lubbock highway dispersal system and followed its tracery step by step as S. C. McCarty, of 2812 Twenty-first, district highway engineer, outlined which projects of the plan had been completed and which remained to be done.

In a word, McCarty explained that $963,400 in projects—out of the $3,000,000 total dispersal plan cost over the long-range plan—had been completed or was under construction, and that one major project now sought to be contracted would cost another $343,000. It would be a segment along Ave. A from Broadway through the new underpass to the southeast corner of Lubbock Country club.

Work Is Underway

Contracting and completion of the segment would give a paved route all along Ave. A from Country club to the traffic circle a mile and three-quarters south of Thirty-fourth.

With Wemple following on the map with his pencil, McCarty explained that Ernest Lloyd now is engaged in work that will be completed with grading, drainage and base and asphalt surface starting at Seventeenth on Ave. A and proceeding southward to the traffic circle.

Also, on Ave. Q, starting at Thirty-fourth and extending southward to the traffic circle, some of the curb and gutter has been built.

And an additional piece of paving ties in on Ave. Q at Fourth and goes northwestward along the Santa Fe right of way back of

Anybody Seen Stray Bus? It Failed To Report At Carbarn

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28—Anybody seen a stray municipal railway bus?

No. 206 was missing at the lineup this morning and hadn't been found all day. Bright green and white it is, too.

D. C. Ormsby, superintendent of the Geary street carbarn, said No. 206 probably had been involved in a little trouble.

An irate automobile owner complained that a green and white bus had smashed into his parked car late last night and then sped off; 206, he thought the number was.

Federal Grand Jury To Probe Alleged Frauds In Vet Housing

FORT WORTH, June 28 (AP)—Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson has called the federal grand jury to reconvene July 14 to investigate 16 cases alleging frauds in veterans housing.

The action was at the request of U. S. Attorney Frank B. Potter.

The legal staff of the Veterans administration in Dallas gave Potter 16 cases for presentation to the grand jury.

Potter, after an attack upon him by Drew Pearson, radio commentator, stated that he would ask the grand jury be reconvened when the VA legal staff gave him 25 cases, fully investigated and complete for consideration by the grand jury. Cases previously given him by the VA legal staff were incomplete, Potter said, and had to be returned for further investigation.

LOAN REFUSED

WASHINGTON, June 28 (INS)—The World bank refused today to loan the United Nations $65,000,000 to build the projected UN headquarters building in New York. Congress earlier failed to act on a similar loan request.

New Increase In Refined Sugar Prices Is Expected

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—Refined sugar prices are on the way up again at the refinery level, with hikes in retail stores possible later.

Seasonal increase in consumption, coupled with advancing raw sugar prices supported by the government under the sugar act of 1948, will send refined sugar up an average of 25 cents a hundredweight in the next few days, sugar brokers said today.

Two major refiners have announced the impending increase and others are expected to follow suit.

Rip-Snorting Ballot Drive By Republicans, Demos Indicated

(By The Associated Press)

THE outlines of a rip-snorting vote drive this fall and late summer by both Republican and Democratic standard bearers began to take shape Monday. There were these two main indicators:

A. The White House said that President Truman, if he is nominated, will make an "active speaking campaign."

B. Gov. Earl Warren, Republican vice presidential nominee who already has promised a "crusade" among the voters, arranged a campaign plans talk today with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, head of the party's ticket.

The White House plans were disclosed by presidential secretary Charles G. Ross.

To Dedicate Statue

Ross said no details had been worked out. He added in response to questions that the President has no speaking dates set after July 5 when he will appear with the president of Venezuela at Bolivar, Mo., to help dedicate a statue of the South American liberator Simon Bolivar.

Whether Mr. Truman will get started on his campaign tours ahead of Dewey was left uncertain. Aides to the New York gov-

Violent Quake Jolts Japan

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Tuesday, June 29 — A violent earthquake jolted western Honshu late Monday, but Allied headquarters said today initial reports of damage to Fukui and other towns "were greatly exaggerated."

A statement by headquarters' public health and welfare section said later reports from Japanese police and Red Cross units, and disaster workers indicated the disaster was not as severe as at first reported.

Japanese are prone to inflate their estimates of death and damage resulting from earthquakes.

However, an earlier report from a U. S. military government team at Fukui described the city of 85,000 about 70 per cent destroyed by the earthquake and fires which followed. (The city was rebuilt after being nearly destroyed by American superfortress raids in July, 1945.)

Large Area Jolted

Headquarters said it had no confirmation of a report of 600 casualties in Fukui. The statement said seven were killed at neighboring Daishoji, instead of 300 reported by the Japanese press; and no one killed at Kanazawa, which earlier was reported destroyed.

All earlier indications pointed toward a heavy toll.

The earthquake, its heaviest tremor lasting a minute, jolted a 20 by 10 miles area 200 miles west of Tokyo along the coast of the sea of Japan. The earth shocks began at 5:14 p.m. Japanese daylight time (1:14 a.m., Monday, CST) and continued intermittently nearly 12 hours.

U. S. Installations Hit

The Maizuru military government team said all U. S. military installations at Fukui, except four houses for dependents, were destroyed in the fire which followed the 'quake.

Syria Protests U. S. Ship Action

CAIRO, June 28. (AP)—The Syrian government has protested that a U. S. warship off the Palestine coast shelled Arab lines, a high Syrian official said tonight.

The protest was made to the United States and to Count Folke Bernadotte, the United Nations Palestine mediator, the official said.

This disclosure was made by Muhsen Al Barazi, Syrian minister of the interior, who described the warship as one of those which the U. S. recently placed at the disposal of Bernadotte.

Battle Was Raging

Al Barazi, who claimed the action occurred during an Arab-Jewish battle in northern Palestine two days ago, arrived in Cairo today for tomorrow's Arab league political committee meeting. He told this story to newsmen:

"Zionist forces recently attacked the town of Al Barwa about 12 kilometers along the coast inside Palestine, and occupied it in spite of the truce.

"The Arab liberation army headed by Fawzi Pasha Alkaukji launched a counterattack, restoring the positions to those as when the truce started. During the battle, American planes circled over

Communists May Kill Slav Leader, Czech Speculates

LAKE SUCCESS, June 28 (AP) — Jan Papanek, an anti-Communist Czechoslovak, speculated today that Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia might be killed by Communists.

He told reporters also that Ales Bebler, one of the top Communists of Yugoslavia, would be likely to emerge from the party struggle there with much greater power. Bebler is deputy foreign minister and has been a delegate to the United Nations assembly.

Papanek, who was ousted last March as the Czechoslovak UN delegate, said Tito apparently is being disgraced by Moscow because he became too independent and that he is in grave danger of losing his life.

Papanek broke with the Communist regime in Prague last March 10 charging it came into power with Russia's help.

Slav Leaders Warned To Follow Moscow Policies

Communist Bloc Blasts Tito's Leadership Of Yugoslav Reds

By A. I. GOLDBERG
Associated Press Staff Writer

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 28—The Cominform denounced Marshal Tito's leadership of Yugoslav Communists today and declared he and other top Communists at Belgrade must hew to the Moscow line or get out.

The Cominform is the Moscow-blessed Communist International Information bureau. It accused the Yugoslav leaders of pursuing a hateful and slanderous policy toward Russia and leaning their sympathies toward western methods.

The blast came in a 3,000-word resolution adopted at a meeting of the Cominform this month in Romania—a meeting where Yugoslav Communists, among the Cominform's founders, were not represented. It was published here today.

Four Men Criticized

Marshal Tito and his top aides were accused of retreating from Marxism-Leninism by "undertaking an entirely wrong policy on the principal question of foreign and international politics." The statement called for "either a true return to Marxism policy or a change of Communist leaders in Yugoslavia."

Singled out for criticism were Tito, Vice-Premier Edvard Kardelj —one of the founders of the Cominform—Milovan Djilas, minister for Montenegro, one of the Yugoslav states, and Lt. Gen. Alexander Rankovic, who as minister of the interior has bossed Yugoslavia's police force.

There was immediate speculation that such a blast would be issued only after specific action had been taken against Tito, but no confirmation of this came from Belgrade.

Slander Charged

A. Zhdanov, a member of Russia's Politburo and often rated one of the three most powerful men in the Soviet Union, attended the meeting and signed its official statement.

Russian "private specialists" in Yugoslavia were put under guard "of the organs of state security and they were watched," the statement said, adding that the Soviet representative of the Cominform in Belgrade also was watched and guarded.

The Cominform further contended that a slander propaganda campaign "borrowed from the arsenal of counter-revolutionary Trotzkyism" was conducted against Russia. This campaign, it said, pictured Russia as degenerate.

It said they began to identify Russia's foreign policy "with that of the imperialistic powers" and to treat Russia "in the same manner as they treat the bourgeois states."

Inside Yugoslavia, the statement said, Communist leaders "are retreating from positions of the working class and are parting

Foreign News Blamed For Market Slump

NEW YORK, June 28. (AP)—Leading stocks dropped $1 to an extreme of $4 a share in today's market. The decline was one of the sharpest since Wall Street's bull market started in February.

Financial quarters said foreign news was mainly responsible for the setback. They found nothing in the domestic scene to account for the sudden drop in quotations.

Two Events Cause Concern

Selling was not vigorous. But to find buyers, the owners of stock had to lower their prices rather sharply in some cases.

Specifically, the mounting tension in Berlin and the surprise denouncement of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito by a Communist agency caused considerable concern in the financial district. Many believed that Washington was not taking as firm a stand as necessary in the German capital.

Among issues losing $1 or more a share were Skelly Oil, Gulf Oil, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, U. S. Steel, General Motors, American Woolen, and Consolidated Natural Gas.

American Telephone & Telegraph advanced a trifle.

Hearing Date Is Set For Men Accused Of Lobbying Violations

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—Four men will be given preliminary hearings July 12 on indictments charging violation of the federal lobbying act.

The date was announced by the Justice department The men, accused specifically of lobbying for higher commodity prices without registering with Congress, are:

James E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture of Texas; Tom Linder, commissioner of agriculture of Georgia; Ralph W. Moore, Washington, D. C., secretary of the National Farm committee, and Robert M. Harriss of the cotton brokerage firm of Harriss and Vose, New York.

HAIL DOES DAMAGE—Cotton was like match stems sticking out of the ground over a wide area of east Lubbock county from Acuff to Idalou Monday after a heavy hail and rainstorm Sunday afternoon. CROSBY, LYNN COUNTY CROPS HIT

Hail Damages One-Seventh Of Lubbock County Cotton Crop

THE heavy hail storm Sunday afternoon damaged about one-seventh of the Lubbock county cotton crop, and caused considerable damage to crops in Crosby and northern Lynn counties, according to surveys made Monday of the stricken areas.

Approximately 50,000 acres of cotton in Lubbock county was believed to be from 50 per cent to 100 per cent lost, according to County Agent D. W. Sherrill who toured the areas yesterday. Most of this area would have to be replanted in feed, he said.

The storm swept a strip of land from nine miles east of Lubbock to Ralls. A farmer's house in its path was lifted from the foundation.

Crosby Area Hit

Damaged crops in Crosby county were in a strip three miles wide and ten miles long, County Agent Bill Kimbro estimated. He said that it would require about two weeks to determine the full extent of the damage, adding that if only the leaves were knocked off and the stalks undamaged, there would be a chance for the cotton to come out.

Sherrill said that the damaged area in Lubbock county extended from four or five miles west of Acuff to Lorenzo, and from Idalou south to the canyon, including the Roosevelt and Midway communities.

He reported some damage north and south of Slaton and as far west as Union. Damaged crop lands in that area was estimated at 5,000 acres.

No reports of rain in the area were received Monday. Partly cloudy skies were forecast for today and Wednesday, with warmer temperatures this afternoon. The high temperature Monday was 83 degrees and the low 62 degrees. A high reading of 90 degrees was predicted for today.

From Idalou, information was received that the house of B. W.

Flood Threatens Crops In Valley

(By The Associated Press)

Thousands of acres of South Texas cotton and other summer crops were lying last night in the path of the flood-swollen Rio Grande, in places four miles wide.

The raging river, usually wading deep, was expected to surge into the inlet of one of the lower Rio Grande valley's two floodways upriver from Hidalgo during the night.

The crops growing in the floors of the floodways, dry for three years, were expected to be washed away.

Hidalgo is situated on the Texas side of the border river, nine miles south of McAllen. On the Mexico side of the river is Reynosa.

The flood originated more than 300 miles upstream from Hidalgo last Thursday when drought-breaking rains came down in torrents and drowned the Del Rio area.

So far no loss of life has been reported.

Thousands of acres of farmland, timbered areas and bottomland wastes are under water between Roma and Mission, said reporter Wilbur Mackey of the McAllen Monitor, who flew over the flood area yesterday.

The international river is approximately two and a half miles wide below Rio Grande City, he

30,000 Draftees Each Month May Be Called For Army Duty

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Uncle Sam figures on calling about 30,000 of his draft-age nephews into the Army every month between next fall and next summer.

The Army estimated today it will need between 225,000 and 250,000 (in addition to a hoped-for 250,000 to 300,000 volunteers) to start expanding toward the 837,000-man size strength authorized by Congress when it passed the peacetime selective service act. Drafting will start about September 22.

Today's estimate of the induction rate was a substantial increase over previous estimates. A month ago defense officials were talking about inducting between 200,000 and 225,000 the first year.

Plan Set Forth

But the 30,000 a month draft call of men 19 through 25 years old is a pretty modest affair compared with the huge manpower levies made during the war. The peak induction rate then was reached in February, 1943, when 460,374 men received greetings from the President and their draft board. And between August, 1941, and

Russians Ease Ban On Travel

By OMER ANDERSON
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, June 28 — American transport planes operating on 'round-the-clock schedule dented the Soviet "hunger" blockade of Berlin today.

Tonight in their first reaction to the shuttle flights the Russians eased the ban on inter-zonal travel by Germans. It was the first lifting of Soviet restrictions in the current siege of encircled Berlin.

An unconfirmed report said that Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, Soviet commander in Germany, conferred today with Gen Lucius D. Clay, the American occupation chief.

Ban Is Lifted

Russian announcement of the easing of the German travel ban came a few hours after the U. S. Air force launched its biggest supply operation since the wartime flights over China's "hump."

The Soviet news agency ADN announced that the Russians were lifting the travel ban for all Germans who have inter-zonal travel permits issued since June 19.

The type of travel now permitted Germans was not specified, but it was announced that the ban on all train travel, including travel by Allied personnel, will continue.

U. S. Officials Arrive

It was also announced that the Berlin railroad at Helmsted, about 90 miles to the west inside the British occupation zone, will take a considerable time to repair. This formerly was the chief link between the west and Berlin.

The first results of the operation to stave off famine were witnessed by Army Undersecretary William Draper and Chief of Plans Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer.

They headed a party of 30 War department experts who arrived in the German capital to gather information on the famine-threatening Soviet blockade of western Berlin.

American officials cautioned,

No Clues Found In Jewel Theft

No arrest had been made last night in the theft of $1,039.25 worth of jewelry early Monday from a smashed window of Zale Jewelry company at 1110 Texas Ave., according to officers.

Watches Are Taken

Watches and diamond rings were included in the loot.

A brick lying in the alley near the window was believed to have been used to break the glass.

Bill Kuhn, store manager, said that eight diamonds, two women's bridal setes, and three women's watches were taken.

Police late last night investigated reports that a man had made threatening gestures toward pickets at the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Bus company. Patrolmen Bob West and Lynn Campbell arrested the man at the station and said that he possessed a black jack and a large knife. He later was released. Police said the investigation would be continued today.

Thefts Are Probed

Police were also investigating theft of a gold watch and band from Dorothy Medlin, of 2312 Thirteenth, and several other thefts.

The watch was described as yellow gold, valued at $80, and the gold band was valued at $46. It was reported missing from the residence.

Mrs. J. T. Morgan, of 1508 Ave L, reported that $7 in cash had been stolen from her home.

Three Killed In Shooting Fray

(By The United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 28—Police answered a routine disturbance call today near the downtown district that exploded in a mass shooting which left a patrolman and two negroes dead, another officer riddled and a third negro hurt.

Police identification of the enraged negro whose shotgun blasts killed Officer Floyd Montgomery and felled Officer Paul Warrington said he was Erskine Stephenson, 65.

said he was Erskine Stephenson, 65.

Stephenson was slain. So was Mrs. Lorraine Hughes, 27-year-old negro, with whom he had been living. They died inside the apartment. The officers fell outside, between their patrol car and the building.

Rosemary Chriswell, sister of Emile Jones, negro, who was shot, also witnessed the shooting in complete terror.

She said her brother had called the police after Stephenson had "cursed us."

Stephenson first fired at Jones. The charge crashed into Jones' back, dropping him near the police patrol car.

Montgomery shouted: "Drop that gun. Stop shooting."

His answer came in new blasts. Montgomery dropped dead after firing one shot. Warrington was felled only after he had emptied his pistol and a sawed-off shot gun at the wild negro.

Warrington was taken to Menorah hospital with slugs in his arm and side. The injured negro was rushed to General hospital No. 2, where his condition was "critical."

Men Prefer Dainty, Feminine Women, Psychoanalyst Says

BY BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 28 — No matter what the man says, he'd rather his lady-love played Chopin on the piano than a tinkling tune on her cocktail glass, a New York psychoanalyst said today.

And he'd rather she took up her needlework than a cigaret.

The doctor, who wouldn't stick his neck out so far as to be quoted by name, said:

Want Girls Like Mother

"The woman who smokes or drinks to excess does not stand as good a chance of making a successful marriage as one who does other things that are more ladylike."

The men will pay lip service to the equality of the sexes, the doctor said. But when it gets down to cases, they'll marry the girls who are dainty, feminine and just like mother used to be.

The doctor doesn't classify smoking and drinking as vices. He figures they're both useful in relieving the tensions of high-speed modern life. But he says they're looked upon by our society as masculine fun.

Substitutes Given

"Most men judge a woman at first not by what she is but by what she does," the doctor said.

Piano playing, knitting and needlework are all good substitutes for smoking and drinking as time killers and hand-busiers, he said.

"When he sees a woman knitting, a man thinks of Whistler's mother," the doctor said.

"That's what most men want. They may deride it. But it gives them that inner glow.

"What men believe isn't always what they say. Most of them like a certain, unexpressed Victorianism."

The doctor allows that "a smart woman realizes this is nonsense.

"But if she's out to get her man —then it's smart."

The period of gestation of the Indian elephant is not accurately known but is believed to be about 18 months. It sometimes lives to be 60 years old.

W. Kerr Scott Assured Of Job As Governor Of North Carolina

RALEIGH, N. C., June 28 (AP)—W. Kerr Scott, former state commissioner of agriculture, is the Democratic candidate for the North Carolina governor, which virtually assures him of the job next January.

Scott defeated state Treasurer Charles M. Johnson in Saturday's primary runoff. This heavily Democratic state is expected to see Scott into office after the formality of next November's general election.

Unofficial but nearly complete figures on the balloting gave Scott 216,270 votes to Johnson's 180,155.

In another runoff race F. Ertel Carlyle of Lumberton won the party's nomination as seventh district representative in Congress over Hargrove Bellamy of Wilmington. The seat is now held by Rep J. Bayard Clark, a Democrat, who is retiring.

40,000 More Men To Receive Training At Camps In State

SAN ANTONIO, June 28. (AP)—The draft will mean an increase of 40,000 men at three Texas Army installations, Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio said today. He received the information from his Washington office.

In addition the 49th armored divisions of the Texas National guard will be brought up to full strength. Kilday reported.

Camp Hood will be brought up to capacity with 17,000 trainees, Kilday said. Tentative plans call for training of 17,000 draftees at Fort Bliss, El Paso. These will arrive the latter part of August or the first of September.

Fort Sam Houston will receive 6,000 additional personnel, Kilday said. The increase will be in trainees for the medical field service at Brooke Army Medical center.

SNAPS OVER ANY LIGHT BULB

heat from the bulb vaporizes the insect-killing crystals in the shade

SURE DEATH TO PRACTICALLY ALL FLYING AND CRAWLING INSECTS

HOW INSECT-O-LITE WORKS

Insect-o-lites are impregnated with powerful insect-killing crystals which vaporize and are dispersed invisibly through the entire room by the heat given off from an ordinary lamp bulb. JUST SNAP ON THE SWITCH, and Insect-o-lite goes to work in these two important ways:

(1) Insects are attracted by the light, contact the Insect-o-lite and absorb the insect-killing crystals.

(2) Heat from the light vaporizes the crystals and air currents distribute the insecticide to all room surfaces. Even though insects don't contact the Insect-o-lite directly they pick up the crystals from walls and ceiling surfaces.

The length of time required for Insect-o-lite to reach maximum effectiveness depends on how long the light is burned, and the size of the room to be covered.

HOW EFFECTIVE IS INSECT-O-LITE?

Triplett & Barton, nationally known testing laboratory, proved in exhaustive tests that the insect-killing crystals in the Insect-o-lite are disseminated to all room surfaces, and Dr. C. H. Curran of the American Museum of Natural History states, that the crystals thus spread are lethal to insects, yet are harmless to humans and warm blooded animals.

INSECT-O-LITE IS EFFECTIVE AGAINST FLIES, MOSQUITOES, MOTHS, SILVERFISH AND HUNDREDS OF OTHER COMMON FLYING AND CRAWLING INSECT PESTS.

U. S. Treasury Chalks Up Huge Surplus As Fiscal Year Ends

By ALBRO B. GREGORY
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 28—Government bookkeepers are dipping deep into the black ink to wind up the nation's financial activities this year.

Which is to say that the treasury took in a lot more money than it spent in the past fiscal year. Among the money records set is the all-time high surplus of about $8,000,000,000

The fiscal year ends with the close of business Wednesday. The government, like most businesses, operates on a fiscal year beginning July 1 and ending June 30.

High Taxes Cited

The final figures aren't all in, but the new records look something like this:

Surplus: $8,000,000,000.

Peacetime income: $45,000,000,000.

National debt payment: $7,000,000,000.

The surplus is the second since the pre-New Deal days. Last fiscal year there was a surplus of $754,000,000. The surplus this year and last was achieved through the highest peace-time tax rates in the nation's history.

If taxes had not been cut by Congress this year, the government's income would have even topped the all-time flow of cash into the treasury in the 1945 war year.

As it was, the $45,000,000,000 which the government took in this year, was only slightly less than in 1945. If there had been no cut, experts estimate that $600,000,000 more would have gone to the treasury.

The government spent $37,000,000,000 this year. Of the $8,000,000,000 surplus, $7,000,000,000 was used during the year as payments on the national debt. About $1,000,000,000 was used to increase the treasury's cash balance to make sure the government's checks don't bounce.

Consequently, the staggering public debt has been reduced to $251,712,000,000 from almost $259,000,000,000 in the past 12 months. That, of course, reduced the interest charges which the government must pay on the debt.

In the three main categories of taxes, receipts all were higher than last year.

Postwar Income Higher

The government got $12,000,000,000 through withholding taxes, or about $2,000,000,000 more than last year; $20,000,000,000 from other income tax levies, or $700,000,000 more than last year; and $9,000,000,000 from business taxes as compared to $8,000,000,000 in fiscal 1947.

It is interesting to note that in the three postwar fiscal (1946-47-48) years the government took in a total of $131,287,000,000, compared with $18,159,000,000 in the three prewar years (1939-40-41).

Spending in the three postwar fiscal years totalled $144,524,000,000, as compared to $30,416,000,000 in the three prewar years.

Consequently, income in the postwar years was more than seven times that of the three prewar years. Spending has been almost five times that of the prewar period.

Prominent Texas GOP Leader Is Recovering From Mishap

DALLAS, June 28 (U.P.)—Orville Bullington prominent Texas Republican, was in "good" condition at Methodist hospital today but was held for further observation of a head injury.

Bullington, 66, Wichita Falls, tripped over a rail and fell at the train station in Longview yesterday. He was returning home from the Republican national convention and had left the train to send a telegram.

Bullington was a delegate to the convention. Long active in state GOP circles, he once was the party's candidate for governor.

Funeral Services Conducted For Billy Ray Milner, Polio Victim

Last rites were read at 4 p. m. Monday in Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home chapel for Billy Ray Milner, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Milner of 1403 Ave. L, who died at 7 p. m. Saturday in Lubbock Memorial hospital from what was diagnosed as poliomyelitis. Officiating pastor was Rev. W. O. Wilson of the County Line Baptist church.

Burial was in Tech Memorial Park. Pallbearers were E. E. Booker, Carl Jones, A. L. Mangrum, D. N. Carrell, W. S. McClatchy and Oscar White.

Young Milner had been sick since the previous Sunday, and had entered the hospital Friday morning. Definite diagnosis of his case was made upon entrance at the hospital. His death was the first from polio in the city this summer.

He is survived by his parents, a sister, Hattie M. Milner, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther King of Anton.

The Rosetta Stone, containing inscriptions in three ancient languages, provided the key that unlocked the mystery of ancient Egyptian hieroglyphics.

Divorce Action Is Filed Against Musician Al Dexter

LOS ANGELES, June 28 (AP)—Songwriter Clarence Albert Poindexter—better known as Al Dexter of "Pistol Packin Mama" fame—was sued for divorce today.

Mrs. Bernice Heath Poindexter, 35, charged that the musician "associated with strange women in Fort Worth and Dallas" on a recent personal appearance tour.

She also accused him of causing her great mental anguish and physical suffering by leaving her two months ago when she told him she needed money for a major operation.

"I can get a new wife cheaper than I can pay for your operation," her complaint quoted Poindexter. "And I intend to look for one."

She said she followed him to Texas to verify the alleged associations with other women.

The couple was married at Longview, Texas, Jan. 24, 1947.

Women's Missionary Organizations Meet Monday For Programs And Elections

Programs were presented and officers were elected at meetings of women's church groups Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Reuby Rhodes, a guest of First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary who was presented by Mrs. A. W. Young, gave a paper on "Emotional Maturity." Mrs. O. L. Fredricks presided for business.

Approximately 50 women attended the program and social hour which followed. Members of Circle 3 were hostesses.

WSCS PLANS IDLY STUDY

When St John's Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the church, Mrs. C. Y. Parson presided and Mrs. Paul Cates brought a devotion from Psalms 11.

Plans were announced for a study on China to be led by Rev. Hubert Bratcher in July. The first lesson is to be July 7 at 8 p. m. at the church. During the study, guests will speak and a movie on China is to be shown.

After the meeting, refreshments were served to the 25 persons who were present.

A program, "Training for World Missions," was directed by Mrs. J. M. Hardin for Parkdale Baptist Women's Missionary society at the church.

Following the program, a business session was conducted.

Fifteen members attended and nine Sunbeams met in a separate group.

TWO SUBJECTS ARE DISCUSSED

First Baptist WMS attended a combined program on Christian Education and Ministerial Relief in the church chapel. Miss Doris Stoneham, Youth director of the church, spoke on Christian Education and Wanece Bownds and Ruth Breazeale gave a devotion and talk, respectively, on Ministerial Relief.

Mrs. A. C. Bowden offered a vocal solo, "No One Ever Cared For Me, But Jesus."

An offering for the Relief was taken.

Asbury Methodist Woman's Society of Christian service met in Fellowship hall of the church.

A devotional on "Hands" was brought by Mrs. H. C. Leon, vice-president. "Take My Life And Let It Be" was the opening song. Mrs. J. W. Hendryx, president, conducted a business meeting and Dr. C. A. Bickley led a closing prayer.

COUNCIL CIRCLES ELECT OFFICERS

Circle I of First Christian church attended a coffee in the home of Mrs. W. A. Fix to reorganize and to honor Mrs W. K. Baxter who is moving from Lubbock to Odessa. Nursery Mothers and the Circle presented a parting gift to the honoree.

Thirty-six members and six guests, Mesdames C. M. Neel, R. M. Wiser, Fred Stone, Brady Lowe, E. A. McClure and W. P. Jennings, attended.

New officers of the group are as follows: Mrs. Dave Leaverton, jr., chairman; Mrs. William Howe, co-chairman; Mrs. J. L. Nix, secretary; Mrs. Clyde Mathus, treasurer; Mesdames Fix, C. H. Cale and Joe Nislar, calling chairmen; Mrs. R. A. Mills, World Call chairman; Mrs. R. H. Canady, social chairman; and Mesdames J. H. Brock, Bill Marquis, Truman Hutson and L. O. Armstrong, teachers.

Officers of Circle 2 of the church's Women's council are as follows: Mrs. Floyd Read, jr., chairman; Mrs. Sidney Keeton, co-chairman; Mrs. Max Wiser, secretary; Mrs. Dale W. Douglas, treasurer; Mrs. Ralph Keeton, social chairman; Mrs. Darwin Bigness, World Call Chairman; Mrs. Allan Marcus, flower chairman; and Mrs. Frank Haden, teacher.

Wedding Performed At Baptist Church

In a double ring wedding ceremony read by Dr. J. Ralph Grant at First Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Mrs. Margauriete D. Wofford and Kenneth Brown of Fort Worth were married. Baskets of white and peach gladioli were placed on either side of the altar. Candles were lighted by Eugene Faulkner and Luke Rampy.

Mrs. Rex Webster sang "Because," accompanied by Miss Imogene Webster, organist, who played other wedding selections.

The bride, who entered the church with her son, John Dalton Wofford, wore a original dress of summer gold styled with a fitted bodice, a buttoned front and a full skirt. She wore a matching off-face hat and carried an orchid on a white Bible. For something old, she wore a gold watch worn by her aunt, Mrs. W. J. Morris, on her wedding day and for something borrowed, she wore a friendship ring belonging to Mrs. Ray Hefner, matron of honor.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Wofford, daughter of the bride and maid of honor, Miss Naoma Dalton, sister of the bride and bridesmaid, and Mrs. Hefner wore frocks in pastel shades with gardenia corsages.

W. D. Norris served as best man, and Joe Smith and Kenneth McWhorter were ushers.

At the reception which followed the ceremony, a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was served. Mrs. Rudie Smith and Miss Lucille Norris presided at the bride's table.

Mrs. Brown is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dalton of Lubbock and the granddaughter of Mrs. G. I. Johnston of 1623 Fifteenth and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dalton of San Saba. Mr. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Brown of Breckenridge. Following a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Lubbock.

Billie Yelvington And Heflin Miller Marry At Church

Miss Billie Louise Yelvington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yelvington, Route 6, and Heflin Miller, son of Rev. and Mrs. Isarel Miller of Port Arthur, were married Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in St. John's Methodist church. The father of the bridegroom read a double ring service before an altar decorated with candles, palms and pink gladioli.

The bired, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white brocaded satin and net designed with long sleeves coming to points over the hands, a high neckline and a full skirt extending into a train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a headband of talisman roses and she carried a bouquet of the same variety of roses. Miss Ruby Branch, aunt of the bride and maid of honor, wore a yellow marquisette dress fashioned with a tight fitting bodice, short puff sleeves and a full skirt. She carried an arrangement of yellow carnations and wore a matching halo in her hair. Misses Pearl Miller and Billy Joe Corcorran, bridesmaids, wore yellow marquisette dresses and carnation headbands and carried carnation bouquets. Marla Kay and Carla Fay Pope, flower girls wore blue organdy dresses and matching carnation halos and carried baskets filled with rose petals.

Attendants Listed

Preston Simon, uncle of the bridegroom from Port Arthur, was best man, and ushers were Ronald Simon, uncle of the bridegroom and Tommy Joe Yelvington, brother of the bride.

Pink gladioli and pink and white carnations decorated the room at the reception held in the home of the bride's grandparents, 1211 Nineteenth. Mothers of the couple assisted in receiving. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a two tiered cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom standing before a wedding bell.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the couple will be at home in Lubbock. For traveling, the bride wore a white gabardine suit with white accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

The bride graduated from Lubbock High school this year and the bridegroom is attending Texas Tech.

Altrusa Program Is Outlined For Year

"Altruism in Action," the theme of the 1948-49 program of Altrusa International, Inc., is concentrating upon bettering community relations, world relations and individual human relations, according to an announcement made by the new Lubbock Altrusa president, Miss Mary Boyd

In its program of improving human relations, Altrusa will deal with problems of educational opportunities for all, housing, health, juvenile delinquency, divorce, child welfare, the best use of leisure time and the safegaurding of the family group. In work relations, Altrusa is concerned with available sound guidance services and to eliminate the quackery so prevalent in this field since the end of World War II.

Altrusa, in world relations, will endeavor to know the facts behind today's issues and to disseminate them in the community, through symposiums, forums, panels and speakers. The club in the United States will continue to furnish food and materials to communities in Europe and Asia.

During 1948-49, all Altrusa will continue sponsorship of two projects: (1) the Inter-American Grants-in-Aid Fund which, in three years, has provided approximately $20,000 to enable qualified Latin-American women to study or travel in the United States; (2) the Founder's Fund which is used for vocational guidance work.

"Altruism In Action" is being presented in its entirety to some 7,500 members in the forthcoming issue of the "International Altrusan." The program for this club year represented ideas of almost 250 cities throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Guatemala, Bermuda, Europe and Asia.

Thirty-two new clubs have been added to the Altrusa list within the past year; the organization which is a service club for executive and professional women was founded in Nashville, Tenn., April 11, 1917. Membership is limited to one outstanding representative of a business or a profession.

OUTMODED SYSTEM IS REVIEWED

Mexico Swings Away From One Party System Of Government

MEXICO CITY June 28. (AP)—A political evolution is under way in Mexico, a trend away from the one party system of government.

With more political freedom than the country ever has known, new parties are winning government recognition which will permit them to participate in the 1952 presidential election.

URI Is Most Powerful

Partido Revolucionario institucional (PRI) backed by the government, is still the most powerful organization in the country It controls most of the elective offices.

The department of the interior, however, has given the green light to Fuerza Popular (popular force) party organized by the Sinarquista union, a rightist organization which has strong support within the Catholic church.

Two other newcomers to the political field are the leftwing Partido Popular (PP) and rightwing Partido Accion Nacional (PAN) Both will make applications to the department of interior for recognition.

The constitution requires a party to prove at least 30,000 members in 22 states before it can be recognized Both parties claim more than the minimum.

Other Groups Grow

Partido Popular headed by leftist labor leader Vincente Lombardo Toledano, counts among its members some of Mexico's best known Communists. Lombardo Toledano often has denied he is a Communist but has said he is a Marxist.

Partido Popular is composed of dissident groups which broke away from PRI and from the Mexican Federation of Labor (CTM) after Lombardo Toledano resigned and was expelled by the labor organization he founded.

Partido Accion Nacional draws almost all of its support from among Catholics, largest religious group in Mexico.

Although there is no open affinity between PRI and the leftist Partido Popular, political observers believe in a showdown PP would support PRI.

On the other hand the two rightist groups PP and PAN apparently would align their forces.

Funeral Services Set For Former Dallas FBI Agent

DALLAS, June 28 (AP)—Sixty-four-year-old Franke Blake, whose FBI career included a leading part in the capture of machine gun Kelley, will be buried tomorrow at Midlothian. He died at his home there yesterday.

Blake was a small, wiry man with a soft Texas drawl. He headed the FBI office here for 21 years. He retired because of ill health in 1942 and moved to the little town 25 miles southeast of here.

When Kelley, one of America's most widely known criminals, kidnaped Charles Urschel, prominent Oklahoma City oilman, the crime occurred in Blake's territory. He directed the pursuit and final capture.

Youngster Is Found After Wandering On Range For 24 Hours

GRAHAM, June 28 (AP)—Little Bobby Brown, who isn't far past the toddler age, is safe back home with his parents after wandering alone for 24 hours on the open range.

Scratches and bruises are all he has to show for his lost meanderings through the rough, rattlesnake-infested North Texas ranch land.

The cotton-topped two-and-a-half-year-old was wearing only a T-shirt when D. D. St. John found him yesterday.

"Where are you going?" asked St. John.

"Looking for my dog, Shorty," said Bobby.

Even Used Planes

Shorty got home before Bobby did. Mr. and Mrs. Houston Brown, the youngster's parents, said the shaggy, black and white spotted dog returned to their farm house near here "just a barking and howling."

"I guess he was trying to tell us where Bobby was," Brown said.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who have seven children older than Bobby, missed the boy before noon Saturday. They went to nearby Farmer community and notified Sheriff Bert Bunnell.

The sheriff called for a searching party, and some 300 men took up the hunt for Bobby by plane and foot.

Ralph Ellis of Olney, first sighted Bobby from his plane and circled overhead until St. John and others reached the boy.

Bobby had wandered about eight miles from home.

When Mrs. Brown and her husband took him to an Olney hospital, doctors said he had suffered no harm.

Ten Contestants Entered In Annual Jaycee Event To Name Miss Lubbock; Deadline Set

With only two more days remaining before the entry deadline, officials conducting the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored Miss Lubbock contest announced today that 10 Lubbock girls have signed to compete.

Dr. P. K. Palmer, local Jaycee who is heading arrangements, expressed satisfaction over the number of signers "in view of such a late start," but said that he would sincerely like to see at least seven or eight additional Lubbock county girls enter the contest that will take the winner to Port Arthur, all expenses paid, on July 9 to compete in the Miss Texas pageant scheduled there as the climax to a week-long Golden Jubilee celebration in that city.

Judging Set July 5

Miss Lubbock hopefuls will appear individually in a floor show revue set for 8 p. m. Monday, July 5, at the Lubbock Supper club, and Palmer stressed again Monday that this will not be a "leg show" or a beauty contest" in the common interpretation of the term, but a competition based on charm, talent, and beauty.

Tickets for the revue and for dancing afterward are $1.80, tax included, and Palmer expressed the hope that there will be a good turnout for the show that may vault a Lubbock girl into a Miss America title or runner-up spot, and the accompanying chance at $25,000 worth of scholarships.

Ducats for the revue are currently on sale at the Jaycee office in the city hall, and club officials are making plans to have the tickets on sale in at least one downtown business concern later in the week. Palmer said that those buying tickets should call the Supper Club for reservations if they want assurance of a top seat for the show, but added that the club will so arrange the revue that all attending "will be able to see what's going on."

Contestants Are Named

The complete list of entries to date includes Doris Quisenberry, 18, of 1902 Tenth; Bennye Joyce Brown, 19, of 2430 Twenty-fourth; Martha Jane Thurman, 20, of 1917 Twenty-fifth; Carolyn Koonce, 18, of 1412 Ave. T; Jonona Boyett, 19, of 118 Ave. W; LaRue Malouf, 20, of 2317 Thirteenth; Betty Helen Bledsoe, 18, of 1801 Thirteenth; Janice Blake, 18, of 2906 Twenty-first; Ann Elkins, 21, of 2606 Thirty-first; LaJuana Sue Payne, 18, of 2512 N. Third.

Contest committee heads explained again Monday that anyone desirous of entering the name of a Lubbock county girl in the competition should feel free to do so, and that local Jaycee members will contact the girl to establish her eligibility under the state rules, and her willingness to enter.

To be eligible to compete, the girl must be a resident of Lubbock county or a registered student at Texas Tech, must be single, having never been married or divorced, must be a high school graduate or a senior attending high school at time of contest, must be between 18 and 28 years of age, and must be able to display a three minute routine of talent.

Entries may be made by contacting the Jaycee office (telephone 6861).

'Politics' Breaks Up Home Of 'Ideal' Hollywood Couple

HOLLYWOOD, June 28 (INS) — The "ideal marriage" of film stars Jane Wyman and Ronald Reagan ended in divorce court today, with the Missouri-born actress charging that "politics" broke up their home.

She testified that Reagan, who is president of the Screen Actor's guild and prominent in political activities, ignored her political beliefs and told her they were unimportant.

She also charged that the actor inflicted "grievous mental suffering" on her during their eight years' marriage, making it "impossible to live together as man and wife."

Miss Wyman won custody of their two children and $500 monthly for their support.

The couple was married in Glendale in 1940. Their first separation shocked Hollywood which had long considered that the couple had embarked on movieville's "ideal and perfect marriage."

ODDS AGAINST THEM

COLUMBUS, O. (U.P.)—The odds against a family with children finding housing in Ohio's capital city today are 2,581 to 1, the city housing board reported. The board has had only one recent offer of housing for couples with children. There were 2,581 applicants for that vacancy.

KING DECLARES EMERGENCY

British Government Prepares To Fight Dock Strike Leaders

LONDON, June 28 (AP) — King George VI armed Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government tonight with sweeping powers to wage a finish fight with leaders of Britain's spreading dock strike.

At the government's request the king declared a state of national emergency. The monarch's proclamation, when published tomorrow in the Royal Gazette, will enable Attlee's cabinet to invoke the national emergency act of 1920. That act has not been used since the British general strike of 1926.

Attlee regards "Communist mischief" as being partly responsible for the unauthorized 15-day-old walkout. In a radio address tonight he declared his government "must see that the people are fed."

Addressing himself directly to the dockworkers he described the walkout as "a strike against your mates, a strike against the housewives and a strike against the ordinary common people."

"I am sure the people of this country will support the government in the steps they have taken and are taking," the prime minister declared.

"Who advised you to do this?" Attlee asked the strikers.

"No people of great influence," Attlee continued, "but only a small nucleus instructed for political reasons to take advantage of any situation for the disruption of the British economy and the undermining of the government."

Earlier, Attlee told the House of Commons that he had no intention of suggesting a compromise with the strike leaders.

Under the national emergency act his government can requisition buildings and equipment and take over billeting for troops or voluntary workers. As an extreme measure persons found guilty of offenses against regulations set up under the act can be jailed for three months and fined $400.

The act does not, however, permit conscription of industry or workers, neither does it provide any penalty for continuing a strike.

South Plains Men Go On Naval Reserve Training Cruise

"Join the Navy and see the world" is becoming an actuality for five South Plains men who were to leave New Orleans Sunday on a 14-day Naval Reserve training cruise which will take them to Vera Cruz, Mexico, and Havana, Cuba.

The men, who left Lubbock by train Friday night are Booth H. Robbins 2608 Jackson Ave., Bill D. Echols, 2106 College, Lowell S. Cato, and Marshall A. Pharr 2608 Twenty-second, and Hubert A. Colbert, Brownfield.

Roundtrip train fare and full pay and allowances are given by the Navy department to Naval Reserve men who go on the cruises.

Rites Set For Crash Victims

DENVER CITY, June 28. (Special)—M. L. Henderson, about 35, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident which killed two other Denver City men near here Sunday, was reported in satisfactory condition at Tomb hospital in Seminole tonight. He suffered a concussion of the brain and a fractured right leg.

Funeral services for Lowell Thomas, 23, son of Mrs. Gladys Coleman of Denver City and H. U. Thomas of Modesto, Calif., were tentatively set at 10 a. m. Tuesday in Seagraves, pending the arrival of his father from California. Following the morning services at Webb Funeral Home chapel, the body will be taken to Slaton for services at the Church of Christ at 3 p. m. Burial will be in Slaton cemetery.

Crash Was Headon

Thomas is survived by his parents, a sister Marlene, of Modesto, Calif., and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Simmons, of Denver City

Services for Sunny Whisenhunt, about 20, will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Methodist church here Burial will be in Hobbs, N M.

He is survived by his father, Jay Whisenhunt of Denver City, and his mother and a sister, who reside in California

The headon collision occurred a half mile east and a half mile north of here on the Plains-Seminole highway about 3:30 a. m. Sunday.

Thomas, driving alone, collided with Henderson's car, which was driven by Whisenhunt. Two of the men were killed almost instantly, according to W. W. Anderson, Denver City deputy sheriff.

MIXED WITH A BANG

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A bottle of hair dye and a small keg of bleaching powder tumbled from a cart at a branch postoffice. They mixed and a small explosion, fire and smoke resulted. Five men were injured, none seriously.

Final Rites Planned Today For Miss Bernie L. Addison

Funeral services for Miss Bernie L. Addison, 44, daughter of Mrs. O. M. Addison of 2216 Main and the late Rev. Addison, will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at St. John's Methodist church. Rev. Lloyd Jones, pastor of Floydada Methodist church will officiate. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery under the direction of Rix Funeral home.

Miss Addison died in a Big Spring hospital late Sunday following an illness of several years duration.

She attended Clarendon Junior college and received her B.A. degree at TSCW at Denton. Later she received a degree in journalism at the University of Missouri. She had taught school in Hansford and Wheeler counties, and one year in Cuba.

Survivors include her mother, a sister, Mrs. A. B. Jones, of Lefors, and a brother, Max C. Addison, of Austin.

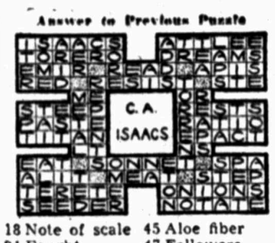

Frost chocolate cookies with whipped cream, stack and spread some of the sweetened cream over the outside of the stack. Chill in refrigerator for several hours, then slice and serve. Ginger snaps are also delicious used this way.

GIVEN GUARD POST

AUSTIN, June 28 (AP)—Federal recognition of Gen. John W. Naylor of Fort Worth as a brigidier general of the National Guard was announced today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester. Gov. Jester selected Gen. Naylor as commanding general, Combat Command A, 49th armored division of Texas.

Houston Man Claims New Gadget Will Be Revolution In Radio

HOUSTON, June 28 (U.P.) — A mysterious 55-year-old Frenchman claimed today an invention that would establish a direct link between radio stations and listening audiences, and at the same time could affect the fluctuation of Hooper ratings.

Ellis Victor Montez, reticently gave out a few details of his revolutionary gadget. He added that it would be the answer to tens of thousands of listeners who have often wished they could tell a radio station just what they think of a broadcast.

With the Montez invention attached to your radio, you'd first press a button. Then, a control board operator at the radio station would see one of a whole network of red lights flash on, indicating listener disapproval of the program in progress.

If too many lights flash on when any one program is being aired, Montez believes audience-conscious program directors would cancel the program.

From a littered corner of his tiny watch shop, Montez (who speaks with a heavy Spanish accent, but insists he's French) awaits fame and fortune. He's certain his invention will be recognized.

"A rich fellow I've known for about 20 years is backing me," he said proudly.

And how soon can you buy his gadget at your nearest appliance shop? Well, not in the near future.

"It's like television," he said. "It may be several years before the public gets the benefit of my informer."

Cook books often suggest, in preparing cauliflower, that the whole head be soaked in cold salted water for a half hour or so before cooking. This direction is given because the soaking helps draw out insects.

WELCOME SIGNS STILL OUT

Philadelphia Turning Attention To Invasion Of Demo Delegates

PHILADELPHIA, June 28 (AP)—Philadelphians shook the last bit of Republican confetti from their hair today and began preparing for their next political party—the Democratic National convention starting July 12.

Although the Democrats do not officially open their sessions for two weeks, the ground work has been underway for some time.

The changeover from elephant theme to donkey motif is noticeable throughout the city. Hotels, restaurant and night spots are rearranging their decorations to meet the occasion.

The most commonly seen signs, however, will remain intact. These read merely — "Welcome delegates."

Convention Hall Cleaned

The city's huge convention hall —site of the recent G.O.P. nominating sessions—was being given a thorough cleaning today by workmen who were granted a week-end holiday after the close of the Republican conclave last Friday.

Leading the Democrats' vanguard is Mrs. Dorothy Vredenburgh, secretary of the Democratic National committee, who has been here for the past several weeks.

Mrs. Vredenburgh and her coworkers were confined to limited hotel quarters during the Republican convention.

Suites Become Available

Today, she and her staff made arrangements to move into the hotel suits being vacated by the G.O.P. high command.

Hotel rooms are expected to be at as great a permium during the Democratic convention as they were last week. There will be 3,192 Democratic delegates and alternates while the Republicans totaled 2,188.

And next week, while the advance Democratic contingents are trickling into town, there will be another convention in session.

The eight-day national conclave of the Benevelent and Protective Order of Elks opens next Friday with nearly 30,000 members of the organization, their wives and families descending on Philadelphia.

Committee Meets July 9

The Democrats' pre-convention calendar calls for a meeting of the National committee July 9. Seven members of President Truman's cabinet are expected to attend as well as Senator Alven W. Barkley, the convention keynoter from Kentucky.

Before Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath, Senator from Rhode Island, brings the convention to order at 12:30 P. M., Eastern Standard time, July 12, the National committee will attempt to unravel any delegate seating contests.

The platform committee also will be in pre-convention session—and there will be a round of tours, parties dinners and meetings.

Mrs. Slaton Funeral Is Held At Seminole

SEMINOLE, June 28 (Special)—Funeral services were held here at 4 p. m. today in the Methodist church for Mrs. W. R. Slaton, a resident of Seminole for over 30 years and the mother of the late mayor of Lubbock, Carl Slaton. She died here at 3:30 p. m. Sunday in Gaines Clinic hospital following an extended illness.

Rev. H. B. Coggin, pastor, officiated, assisted by Rev. Sam Malone of the Spearman Baptist church and Rev. Preston Florence, retired Methodist minister of Seminole. Interment was in Seminole cemetery under direction of Alpha Funeral home.

Mrs. Slaton had lived here for 41 years with the exception of an interlude when she and her late husband resided at Channing. When her husband died in 1941, Mrs. Slaton accepted appointment to fill his place as county judge of Hartley county, and became the first woman county judge ever to have held office in the state. She returned here in 1942.

She is survived by 3 sons, W. D. of Tahoka, Paul W. of Seminole, and W. R. Slaton of Albuquerque, 2 daughters, Mrs. H. N. Stone of Seminole and Mrs. T. H. Payne, jr., of Wichita, Kans., 9 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Pallbearers were Reeves Cothes, F. D. Stark, Roy Sherman, W. E. Cox, M. S. Doss and W. R. Pittman.

Services To Be Conducted Today For Brownfield Man

BROWNFIELD, June 28 (Special)—Funeral services will be conducted here at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Westside Baptist Mission for E. B. Wilkinson, 72, a resident of this city for two years and a former resident of Denver City, who died at Treadaway-Daniell hospital here early Sunday morning following a short illness. Rev. W. T. Sparkman, pastor, will officiate, with burial in Brownfield cemetery under direction of Brownfield Funeral home.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. L. Davis and Mrs. E. J. Perkins of Brownfield, Mrs. M. N. Malmsten of Long Island City, N. Y., and Mrs. A. A. Bessire of Littlefield, two sons, T. E. of Jerome, Ariz., and C. A. Wilkinson of Aquilla, 17 grandchildren, and 5 great grandchildren.

New Features To Be Added To Annual XIT Reunion

DALHART, June 28. (U.P.)—New Zip and zoom will be added to the annual XIT reunion set for July 30 and 31, according to information released today.

The XIT Rangers, an organization of men and women bound together by the love of horses and things western, told the reunion directors they will provide a free baseball game and horse races both afternoons.

The reunion will be presaged by a memorial service on the evening of July 29. Former Gov. Coke Stevenson will be the speaker.

The annual parade will be held the following day. A rodeo and dances are planned each night.

The human body contains approximately 35,000 miles of capillaries, the smallest vessels used by the circulatory system.

Empty Bottles Part Of Loot Taken In Slaton Burglary

SLATON, June 28 (Special) — Burglars who entered the Richard Hughes grocery, 300 East Panhandle, sometime Sunday night did not emerge empty-handed — but their loot included a dozen or so cases of empty pop bottles.

Mrs. Hughes informed city and county officers of Slaton and Lubbock that filled pop bottles had not been disturbed.

That led to a theory that someone had taken the bottles for storage of home brew.

The theory was partly contributed to by the taking of approximately $25 worth of groceries — principally cheese, lunch meat, bacon and cigarets. All that would "go well with beer," one official said. Three 10-pound sacks of flour also were taken. No money was in the cash register.

The entrance was at a back door, a panel of which was kicked out after a screen was cut. Mr and Mrs. Hughes have owned the store since moving here last July from Arvin, Calif.

SEEING EYE TRIPS HUNTER

LOS ANGELES (U.P.) — John C. Bowman was fined $25 for firing a gun inside the city limits without a permit. He was shooting rabbits near his home with a .22 caliber rifle. A police officer was following his hunting through field glasses.

Funeral Services Are Held For Showman Earl Carroll

HOLLYWOOD, June 28 (INS)—The showgirls he glorified wept without restraint at funeral services today for master showman Earl Carroll.

The last rites were held at Forest Lawn Memorial park. The rites included services for Beryl Wallace, leading lady in Carroll revues for the past 12 years. The two lost their lives in a plane crash in Pennsylvania on June 17.

The "most beautiful girls in the world" from Carroll's famed Hollywood theater-restaurant sent floral tributes shaped like life-sized girls in costumes to the service.

Two automobile loads of flowers, including 65 varieties of roses picked from the showman's Beverly Hills estate filled the chapel. Carroll had often remarked to intimates that flowers for his funeral be taken from his own own garden.

Jimmy Nolan, vocal star of the Earl Carroll's vanities, sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery Of Life" at the service and the Rev. A. J. Soldan, pastor of the little village church of Westwood officiated. There were no pallbearers.

Ashes of Carroll and Miss Wallace will be placed together in a niche at the Forest Lawn Mausoleum.

Fire Causes More Than $75,000 Damage To Company At Austin

AUSTIN, June 28. (U.P.)—Officials of the Longhorn Sash and Door company counted damage today at from $75,000 to $100,000 after a fire swept a storage building and destroyed some 100,000 feet of lumber.

Flames threatened a nearby lumber yard and oil mill, but firemen put out the blaze and halted further damage, bringing the fire under control within an hour. The fire destroyed the northwest corner of the building, where the blaze started.

Plant owner G. R. Ogletree said the plant would be rebuilt. Loss from the fire yesterday was covered by insurance. Officials believed that the fire was started in a sawdust bin lodged in the rafters in a corner of the building.

A call by watchman Jose Saladonia brought eight fire companies to the scene in two alarms.

Cases Of Beer Are Auctioned

Lubbock shipped 446 cases of beer to Big Spring Monday.

It was the largest shipment of contraband sent from here since Charley Fuller has been deputy supervisor and commanding officer of the Lubbock district of the Texas Liquor Control board.

It brought $1,291.70 from Pinkie's Liquor Store, Inc., highest bidder, Fuller said.

Almost $3 A Case

The beverage brought almost $3 a case—approximately the price that would have been charged by beer wholesalers in wet areas, officials said.

The beer was seized in May and June raids—and does not include approximately 100 cases seized in the same period and stored at Tahoka and another 100 cases stored at Morton. Those 200 cases will be delivered here for inventory within a few days, it was indicated. Eventually they too will be sold.

In addition, storage space in the basement of the courthouse has been taxed by about 200 cases of whisky. Fuller was uncertain exactly how much "hard likker" was there without a study of his records.

"We've simply had too much stuff down there to get around among," he said. It was seized in the same period as the beer. Its sale, however, will be through the state office in Austin.

Included in the beer shipment was a "batch" of 60 cases that, along with 28 cases of whisky, recently was "caught" by the sheriff's department to make the "largest individual seizure we've had," Fuller said.

South Plains Youths Taking Naval Training At San Diego

Six youths from the South Plains have enlisted in the Navy this past week and now are taking recruit training at the Naval Training center at San Diego, the Lubbock Navy recruiting office has announced.

Included in the group are Eugene Whitney, 2301 Thirty-first, Lubbock; Fred Paul Stolle, route 1, Slaton; Raymond Wade Neagle, Crosbyton; Charles Menix, jr., route 1, Ackerly; Anthony Wayne Latham, Crosbyton; and James Benton Ellis, route 1, Crosbyton.

Young Ellis entered the Navy under the high school graduate training program. Upon completion of recruit training, he will go to Yeoman school.

A total of 14 enlistments were made by the Lubbock Navy recruiting office during the past week, and 32 enlistments have been made so far this month, the local recruiting office has announced.

'Mystery Melody' Of Radio Program On Tech Band Schedule

Want to know the name of the "mystery melody" of a national network radio program — and eliminate guesswork?

D. O. Wiley, band director of Texas Technological college, plans to identify it on tonight's program in the band school concert series, which is free to the public.

The director said he found the selection, first played on the "Stop The Music" radio program Sunday night, in the band library at the college this morning. The selection will be played, then the title, composer and publisher announced, he said.

The concert will be presented at 8:15 p. m. north of the band building, which is south of the driveway in front of the gymnasium.

Net Income Of Santa Fe For May Totals Over $4,300,000

GALVESTON, June 28. (U.P.)—The net income of the Santa Fe railroad for May was $4,370,009, according to a statement today by President F. G. Gurley.

The figure included new credit adjustment of $1,047,429 applicable to the first four months of 1948.

Net income for the first five months of the year was $18,093,250, compared with $15,594,233 for the corresponding period of 1947.

and other complaints such as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality and Energy, Poor Appetite, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health

IF YOU ARE a sufferer of these ailments, try GEO-MINERAL. You may be astounded at the results. You need not guess—you will see fact's. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth—Nature's Laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. Lack of minerals in the blood causes anemia, headaches, nervousness. Minerals generate mental brilliancy, give sparkling eyes, red cheeks, fight disease, build up health.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain of these ills. Doctors send people to mineral springs to find cure or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Amazing Results

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your eliminations from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines, thoroughly relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis and rheumatism leaving, and Nature starting to complete the recovery.

We Guarantee

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Come to this drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

Hubbers Trample Borger, 11-4

Lubbock Scores Seven In Ninth

BORGER, June 28. (Special)—The Lubbock Hubbers exploded for seven runs in the ninth inning here tonight to win their second consecutive game from the slipping Borger Gassers, home runs by Virgil Richardson and Gene Hixson sparking the 11-4 victory.

Fred Pollack, the new lefthander of the Hubbers, scattered eight Gasser hits and seldom was in trouble, while his mates supported him with fine fielding work. Pollack gave up Tommy Fox's 24th homer of the year in the second, but held Gordon Nell hitless and throttled the Gassers.

Hubbers Take Lead

The Hubbers, who now have won ten of their last 13 games to climb from seventh place to fourth, allowed the Gassers to take a one-run lead in the second on the homer by Fox. Then they came back to go ahead.

Frank McAlexander walked and stole second, from where he scored on Jackie Wilcox's single. Wilcox came around on a long single by Charley Scarborough.

The Hubbers upped their margin to 3-1 in the sixth on Manager Jackie Sullivan's base-empty homer, only to have Borger tie the count the same frame. Manager Eddie Carnett doubled, Fox walked and Verdun Gilchrist scored both runners with a double.

Ninth Is Big Inning

In the eighth, Sullivan walked and Richardson pumped a double into the outer pasture to send the Hubbers into a 4-3 lead. And then the roof caved in on Ray Edwards, a rookie righthander making his first start for the Gassers.

McAlexander opened the final frame with a double and, after Pollack fanned, went to third on Wilcox's single. Scarborough then lifted a high pop fly that Kramolisch called for Fox to take. But Fox let the ball drop for a single and McAlexander scored. Sullivan forced Scarborough at second, with Wilcox going to third. Richardson promptly homered over the centerfield fence for three more runs.

Victory Clinches Series

The rally wasn't over. Don Moore was hit by a pitched ball and Chick Fowler singled to send Moore to third. Gene Hixson then lifted a fast ball over the left-field wall to end the scoring.

The victory clinched the three-game series for the Hubbers and constituted their fourth straight victory. Tomorrow night they will play their 35th road game of the year, bringing the season to the half-way mark. Manager Sullivan may nominate Lefty John Grove for the starting assignment, or he might use Bob Clodfelter, who has not hurled since he lost a six-inning game Friday to Amarillo.

A crowd of 1,074 persons watched the Gassers slip to a game and a half behind the Hubbers, who remained half a game behind the Amarillo Gold Sox.

WHY YANKS THREATEN—Bobby Brown, shown making the pivot on a double play, is the best reason why the New York Yankees are threatening to overhaul the Philadelphia Athletics and the Cleveland Indians in the American League race. Young Bobby steps into an infield spot any time a regular is injured and carries on without any noticeable difference. Brown is hammering the ball at such a clip that Manager Bucky Harris hates to remove him, but his defensive work doesn't measure up to the other Yankee players. The Yanks are the defending champions in the league.

Challenger Floored For Nine Count

Sugar Ray Robinson Decisions Docusen

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—Leg-weary Ray "Sugar" Robinson, World's welterweight champion, successfully defended his title tonight by defeating Bernard Docusen, New Orleans challenger, in a blistering 15 round battle in Comiskey Park, home of the Chicago White Sox. The decision of the two judges and referee Walter Brightmore was unanimous.

The 21-year-old challenger, never before floored in 60 bouts, gamely survived a 9-count knockdown in the 11th round to bring cheers from a slim crowd estimated at 8,500.

The lean and hungry Robinson, forced to reduce eight pounds in as many days to make the required weight limit, looked like the Robinson of old in the first four rounds. He punched with precision and speed. He was accurate with his right and left hand shots to the head. But Docusen gamely withstood the champion's superior attack without breaking ground.

Robinson was guilty of throwing low blows in the second round and the ninth was taken away from him because of another barrage that landed in foul territory.

Docusen, heretofore beaten only twice, traded punches with the titlist and stayed on top of him until the 10th. Then he lost ground in a furious exchange just before the round ended. Robinson was punching desperately to the body and head. With the "Dook" failing to make a return.

The 10th started the youngster's downfall and in the 11th he was nailed.

Optimist Nine Downs Rotary Club, 11-3

The Optimist baseball team swamped the Rotary club nine 11-3 yesterday afternoon in an American Legion Junior League baseball game.

The Optimists, making 11 hits good for nine runs, were never threatened by the losers, who were able to reach Hulen T. Hillin for only four safeties. Hillin was in command all the way and fanned 10 batters.

The winners reached Bill Lingle early in the game and built up a good lead. Ray Weed was the leading Optimist batsman with three hits in four plate appearances.

Hillin's catcher for the game was Hodges, while Jack Weldon was behind the plate for the losers.

In another Junior League game, the ABC trampled the Exchange club nine, 14-9 in a ding-dong battle. Duane Rampy put the Exchange club in the lead in the third inning with a circuit clout that scored two men ahead of him to make the score 7-4.

But the ABC diamond men rallied to overcome this margin and go in front to stay. Bobby Tollison led the attack with a home run and two singles in three official trips. Bobby Craig led the Exchange club with three hits in four trips.

Kirkpatrick Wins Publinx Play

Clint Kirkpatrick, veteran Lubbock golfer, romped away with the low net score in the First Annual Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club's Presidents Cup tourney which ended Sunday.

Kirkpatrick was chased across the finish line by Dexter Walthal, while H. B. Blair finished third. A fourth place tie was recorded among Jeff Jeffreys, Dave Lawson and Sam McMillan.

The winning golfer, with a seven handicap for each 18 holes of play, giving him a total of 21 strokes on the 54-hole match, didn't stop him from winning. He thus joined a select group of handicap golfers winning tournaments, when popular fiction says that it is next to impossible.

Kirkpatrick had a 73 on the first 18 holes, a 76 on the next round and came in with a 75 for a total of 224. With his handicap of 21, he ended up with 203 for first place.

Walthal came in with a sub-par 69 to go with his 75-82 and a 21-stroke handicap for 205. Blair, also with a 21-stroke handicap, toured the course in 76-73-78 for a score of 206.

The three fourth-place golfers ended up with total scores of 208, Jeffreys, with a 39-stroke handicap, shot a gross 247; Lawson, with a 15-stroke handicap, had a gross 223; and McMillan, with a 36-stroke handicap, had a gross 244.

The next tournament, in which a majority of the Meadowbrook golfers will be entered, will be the Optimist club's Open tourney at Meadowbrook. The tourney opens July 10 and a $5 entry, or contestant's, fee is being charged.

Tom Adams Goes Down In Olympic Boxing Tryouts

BOSTON, June 28 (AP)—The Army and Navy amateur boxing teams dominated the opening action tonight in the final Olympic tryouts by qualifying five and four representatives respectively for the semi-finals before a slim 2,311 crowd at the Boston Garden.

Four of the five 1948 National AAU champions were among the 32 survivors for tomorrow night's decisive action.

Coley Wallace, the stiff-punching AAU heavyweight titlist from New York gave two convincing demonstrations with his dynamite-packed fists by scoring knockouts over Art Saey of the University of Miami, in the third round, and over aggressive Charlie Narcus, the Navy's representative, in the second session.

National flyweight champion, Frank Sodano of Philadelphia, gave Leonard Alvarez of New Orleans a neat going-over in a second-round bout and Grant Butcher of San Francisco, the current light heavyweight titlist, prevailed in two rugged encounters with Tom Adams of Brownfield, Tex., and rugged Mike Franco of Jersey City, N. J.

Seagraves Tramples Post Nine, 11 To 7

SEAGRAVES, June 28. (Special)—Seagraves blasted across five runs in the home half of the seventh inning here yesterday to ice away an Oil Belt league victory over Post, 11-7. The victory brings the Seagraves nine to an even .500 standing for the league season, having won five and lost five.

Top sticker for the winners was Balch, who had a double and a triple. Outstanding performance for Post was by third baseman Locke, who turned in several sparkling defensive plays, and reached base safely six times for six tries with two hits, two errors, a walk, and another pass when he was hit by a pitched ball.

Legion A Downs Slaton

SLATON, June 28. (Special)—Lubbock's hard-hitting American Legion A nine backed up the efficient hurling of Hulen Fowler and Lefty Jackie Martyn with an 11-hit attack to defeat the Slaton team, 20-8, here this afternoon in a District 2 conference tilt. The win was the third in loop play for the Hub city squad, still undefeated in the district.

Billy Tatum, Lubbock third-sacker, led the assault on three Slaton pitchers with a double and three singles in five trips to the plate. Garnett Reeves blasted two doubles in three official times at bat, while Dorrance Guy and Jimmy Richards each connected for two safeties.

It was the sparkling twirling exhibition turned in by Fowler and Martyn that gave the Lubbock nine the triumph, however. Fowler gave up only three scattered hits in four full frames, then Martyn—although the victim of poor fielding that let in two unearned runs—coasted to the finish, allowing five safeties.

Lanky Wayland Stephens started on the mound for the Slaton nine, but couldn't find the plate. He struck out the first batter to face him—Bob Brown—then hit Tatum with a pitched ball and issued walks to Jack Cook and Guy. Fullerton reached first on an error, Reeves was hit by a pitch and Richards was given a free pass. Jack Whitehead was safe at first on an error, and that was all for Stephens.

Reliefer Alton Perry retired the side to put out the fire, but the Lubbock team tallied twice more in the second, once in the third, and three runs each in the fourth and fifth frames to clinch the victory.

The Lubbock A team will battle the Spur Legion nine at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Chapman field diamond in Lubbock, officials announced today. The game was re-scheduled from a later date because of a conflict in the original slate.

Two South Plains Loop Games Slated

Two South Plains Softball league games will be unreeled at 8:30 o'clock tonight at Jumbo Webster park, with Sunbeam tangling with Golden Light Coffee in the opener and Cloverlake Dairy battling Baldridge Bakery in the nightcap.

Two make-up tilts are also scheduled Wednesday, with a regular twin bill Thursday night. In the Wednesday tussles, Baldridge meets Sunbeam and Thomas clashes with Golden Light. Thursday, Cloverlake is slated to test Golden Light, with Sunbeam battling Thomas Jewelers.

Lubbock Legion B Team Drubs Morton Nine Behind Taylor

MORTON, June 28. (Special)—Lubbock's American Legion "B" nine capitalized on a five-run first inning and steady pitching by Mack Taylor to drub Morton, 12-5, here this afternoon.

Tom Brown, flashy outfielder, punched out a triple in the big initial stanza to lead the Hub city offensive, then turned in several spectacular fielding plays during the tilt.

The victory was the fifth of the season for the Lubbock B team, against a single forfeit defeat.

Curious Italians See Baseball Game; They Hate Umpire

Some 5,000 curious Italians watched the first regularly-organized baseball game in Milan today and they caught on quickly. They called Sergio, the umpire, a robber.

Dukes Trounce Lamesa, 4 To 1

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 28. (Special)—Five-hit hurling by Lee Zamora gave the surging Albuquerque Dukes a 4-1 victory over the Lamesa Loboes here tonight.

The Dukes took the lead in the first stanza, when Len Attyd beat out a bunt, Frank Okrie tripled and Dixon blasted a fly to deep right field, then added another tally in the sixth and eighth frames.

Lamesa was able to push across only one run with Zamora pitching near-perfect ball to notch his fifth win of the season, that in the fourth inning I. B. Palmer led off with a freak triple, then came in as Eddie Skrabacz grounded to Okrie.

Veteran Chris Haskins was charged with the defeat.

Henderson's Bout Is Postponed

NEW YORK, June 28. (AP)—A downpour caused postponement tonight of the weekly fight show at the outdoor Croke Stadium arena. Tony Pellone of New York and Roger Whynott of Quebec, welterweights, were scheduled to go eight rounds in the main go.

The same card will be held next Monday night.

BILL HENDERSON IDLED BY RAIN; FIGHTS NEXT WEEK

CLIFFSIDE PARK, N. J., June 28. (Special)—Bill Henderson of Lubbock, scheduled to make his debut in six-round fights at Croke Stadium, was forced to forego another metropolitan appearance by the rain.

As a result, Henderson returned to his gym work in preparation for his appearance on the same card next Monday. It will be his last fight in the New York area before returning to Lubbock, where he will be one of the principals on a Junior Chamber of Commerce fight card.

Rally In Ninth Gives Plainview Legion Win Over Littlefield

PLAINVIEW, June 28. (Special)—A three-run rally in the home half of the ninth gave the Plainview American Legion nine a narrow 6-5 triumph over Littlefield in a District 2 game here this afternoon.

Jackie Howton, youthful right-hander, went the route on the mound for the home nine.

Fresh apricots add a delicious note to fruit salads. They may be halved and each hollow stuffed with a nutted cream cheese ball.

Hubbers Suspend Ralph Ketcher

Ralph Ketcher, ambidextrous hurler with the Lubbock Hubbers, has been suspended and his contract will be returned to Texarkana of the Big State League, General Manager Larry Larsen announced yesterday.

Larsen said that Ketcher had violated club rules and that, upon his return to Lubbock, he would be sent back to the Bears. His leaving finds the Hubbers with six hurlers, including reliefer Royce Mills.

KETCHER

Ketcher, according to the latest statistics in the West Texas-New Mexico League, had appeared in two games and had hurled only 10 innings, facing 45 men and giving up 16 hits good for 12 runs, all earned. He walked five men and fanned six, with one wild pitch against him. He lost both games.

He had been to the plate three times and had gotten a single for an average of .333 at bat.

Almost Beat Amarillo

In Ketcher's first appearance, he hurled against Amarillo and made a good showing, although losing his game. Part of his inefficiency in this contest was due to a blister he rubbed on his pitching hand.

His second start was against Abilene and again he was shelled from the mound, this time saying that his arm was sore in the elbow.

He is a native of Stillwell, Okla., and was a lefthanded pitcher before he went into the army. There he hurt his left arm and changed to the right. After his army tour, he found that his left arm was responding to treatment and that he could throw with either hand.

Barnes Sparks Detroit Senator Win Over Black Hubber Nine

Frank Barnes of the Detroit Senators of the Negro American League set the Black Hubbers down with two hits last night at Rosenthal Field as the visitors won their third game of the year over the locals, 7-0.

Friday night the same two teams will meet again in Gold Sox Park at Amarillo in an 8:30 p. m. game and Sunday the Black Hubbers will go to San Angelo to play the Sheepherders.

Byron Nelson Says Maxwell Toughest Rival

ABILENE, June 28. (AP)—Byron Nelson, a pretty fair judge of golfing talent, says his toughest rival these days—17-year-old Billy Maxwell—is a good bet to carry on when the Texans now in the big-time fade.

That is, if Maxwell choses to turn pro. Billy has just finished high school and is going to college to continue his amateur career.

Nelson, greatest money-winner on the links until he retired a couple of years ago, keeps his game sharpened with his friendly feud against the Abilene amateur.

Maxwell Bested Nelson

They've met three times and Nelson has had trouble staying ahead. Last year Maxwell bested Byron in a match. This year they've gotten together twice. In the first match Nelson had to birdie the last hole for a 63 in order to edge Maxwell by a stroke. In the other — the Texas PGA open—Maxwell battled him all even for 71 holes. On the seventy-second green Byron shot a birdie and Maxwell went one over after getting into a trap Nelson finished first with a six-under-par 278. Maxwell was second with 280.

"Maxwell has just the right temperament and a great competitive spirit," says Nelson who plays against Maxwell in an exhibition here tomorrow.

Maxwell started cleaning up in amateur golf last year when he took the Texas Junior title and won the Midland and Lubbock, Texas., and Cloudcroft, N. M., invitations. This season he has won the state high school crown, the San Angelo invitation and the West Texas championship.

Billy becomes 18 in August. He is expected to go to either Hardin-Simmons university or Texas Christian university.

Sundown's Smooth-Working Team Rallies To Edge Brownfield, 4-3

BROWNFIELD, June 28. (Spl.)—Sundown's smooth-working nine pushed across a single tally in the twelfth inning to edge by the Brownfield team, 4-3, in an Oil Belt encounter here Sunday afternoon.

Hap Wright went the route for the Sundown nine, giving up 11 hits while striking out 14. Blue Graham and Charley Dillon shared mound chores for the Brownfield nine, limiting the visitors to eight safties.

Thomson, De Vincenzo Spark British Open

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, June 28. (AP)—Frank Stranahan, the Toledo amateur, had to take a back seat with the other "name" golfers today in the British Open golf tournament.

Touring the Gullane links shortly before sunset, the last of an assorted crew of 275 contestants, A. Tibbles seized the course record from Jimmy Thomson, long-driving American, and Roberto De-Vicenzo, an Argentine pro. Tibbles shot a 67.

Thomson and De Vincenzo set the early pace with a pair of 68s in this first qualifying round for the British title.

The players switch courses tomorrow for the final 18 hole qualifying round.

Americans In Good Shape

It is expected that 154 will be safe for qualifying purposes. If it is, most of the 13-man American contingent appear to be in fairly good shape.

The 30-year-old Tibbles, who never played in a major tournament and was unknown even to veteran British golf writers, was all alone at 67. Then came De-Vincenzo and Thomson. All three played the Gullane course, which is supposed to be slightly easier than Muirfield.

Henry Cotton, aging but able British pro, stood alone among the players allotted to Murifield for the first half of the qualifying play. Cotton had a 69, only two strokes over Walter Hagen's record 67 that has stood for 19 years.

Marion Gonzalez, a Brazilian amateur with a buggy whip build, also had a 69—but over the Gullane course. So did Tom Pearson, a Scottish football player and John Carroll of Dublin.

California's Lawson Little was crowding Cotton with a 70 at Muirfield, a score also marked up by Britian's Alf Badgham, the 1936, open champ, and jack Jacobs.

Stranahan ran up a 70 on the Gullane course, sharing his position with a couple of Britons, A. G. Lacey and W. S. Collins.

Williams Sets Pace With Scorching .415

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—Only the immortal Ty Cobb and George Sisler ever finished an American League batting race higher than the scorching .415 with which Boston's Ted Williams now is setting the pace.

Continuing his amazing climb at a time of the season when the pitchers usually are ahead of the batters, Williams last week surged four percentage points with nine hits in 20 trips to the plate.

That put him 52 points ahead of runner-up Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's manager - storpstop, who had .363.

Cobb, in 1911, and Sisler, in 1922, posted the highest batting percentage in the American League, .420.

It's been 18 years since a National Leaguer batted .400 or better, but St. Louis' Stan Musial is making a game try this season with his league leading .405.

Sanders Motors Leads League With Win Over First Baptist

Sanders Motor company, the leading team in the Industrial Softball league, edged the First Baptist church nine, which is leading the City Church League, 7-6 in a tight game played yesterday afternoon.

Pitcher Lyman Branch won his own game in the last half of the seventh, when he singled home Gerald Bullock with the winning counter. Up to that point the game and lead had see-sawed back and forth.

Branch pitched to J. O. Pierce for the winners, while Rainwater and Bowden formed the loser's batteries. It was an exhibition game.

Sports Study

South Plains boxing fans will be interested in a recent statement by a prominent ring authority, in which he said that "the next Joe Louis, if you include the little men,, will be Connie Stamps." Stamps, as most fight fans will remember, is the Kansas City negro clouter who defeated Bill Henderson on the third night of the 1947 Golden Gloves "Tournament of Champions" at Chicago. Henderson had won several bouts in the tourney at the time he tangled with Stamps, and needed only one more win to enter the quarter-final round. But Stamps halted Bill's long win streak with a barrage of left and rights to gain the victory.

According to the boxing official, Stamps is far above his nearest competitor in the lightweight division. Stamps has chalked up a sensational knockout series and recently defeated a young fighter who had been described as the "most promising" in the division. If Stamps and Keith Nuttall, Henry Armstrong's young protege, ever meet, the next world titleholder may be determined.

Don't be surprised if LaVern Roach, the Plainview puncher, is matched with one of the top young newcomers in the middleweight division for a main event in Madison Square Garden in July. Object of the bout will be to give Roach some additional experience and polish before he starts the important grind this fall. Garden "bigwigs" definitely have some great plans for LaVern.

Coach C. R. (Paf) Pattison is making little progress in finding a location for a Westerner football camp in August. He ruled out Colorado because of inadequate facilities and "too many mosquitoes," then started searching Southwest Texas for a possible site. At last report he still had not found the right combination of climate and facilities.

TOP TEXAS TRACKMEN IN MEET

Tech's Reynolds Among Texas Entrants In AAU Field Meet

SAN ANTONIO, June 28 (AP)—Heading for Milwaukee and the National AAU track and field championships there Friday and Saturday, a nine-man local group will leave here at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday to be joined by 10 more athletes along the way and five others at their final destination.

The entire delegation, coached by Texas A & M's Col. Frank Anderson and managed by local AAU registration chairman Enrich Pohl, will compete under the colors of the San Antonio Athletic club, which last year won the National Junior title at Lincoln, Neb.

Leaving from here will be weightman Jack Crawley of Southwest Texas state, sprinter Perry Samuels, 400-meter hurdler Kenneth Boren, sprinter Morris Arnold of the University of Houston, 5,000-meter runner S. B. Escoto of Alice high school, low hurdler Lloyd Parker of Trinity university, distance runner Charles Reid of Fort Sam Houston, and pole-vaulters Malcolm Marks of Fort Sam Houston and Billy Barfield of the University of Houston.

Frank Guess, University of Texas javelin tosser, will join the group at Austin.

Reynolds Entered

At Dallas nine more athletes will entrain. They are distance man C. B. Shepherd and sprinter Wendell Davis of Texas College for Negroes, sprinters and jumpers Matthews Clay and Eural Davis of Prairie View university, quarter-miler Ray Holbrook of Texas A & M, sprinter Charles Reynolds of Texas Tech, hurdler Hollis Robertson and half-miler Mike Mercado of East Texas state, and high jumper Pete Watkins, former Texas A & M star.

Meeting the group in Milwaukee will be hop-step, and jump star Jimmy Gerhardt of the Rice freshmen, quarter-miler Art Harnden of Texas A & M, distance ace Jerry Thompson of the University of Texas, weightman George Kadera of Texas A & M, and shot-putter George Raborn, former Texas Longhorn. This will bring the total of San Antonio A. C. contestants to 23 men.

Dodger Nine Defeats Tigers In Pee Wee League Game

The Dodgers tripped the Tigers 18-12 in a baseball game at the Lubbock Boys club yesterday afternoon as the Pee Wee League resumed its weekly play.

Bobby Tyner, who opened the game with a home run for the losers, was his team's hitting star, getting two singles for three hits in five times he was plated.

Dave Allen collected three singles in four appearances to pace the winning Dodger nine. This afternoon the Red Sox oppose the Cardinals in the league.

MULESHOE AL WINS

MULESHOE, June 28. (Special)—Muleshoe's American Legion nine nosed out Brownfield, 11-10, in a District 2 tilt here this afternoon. Bill Ragsdale limited the Brownfield team to two hits.

Louis Calls Himself Ex-Boxer; Suggests Elimination Tourney

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—Joe Louis today called himself "an ex-boxer," suggested an elimination tournament to determine his successor, and declared he would make known his political stand after the Democratic convention.

"But I definitely won't be for Wallace or any third party," the retired, undefeated heavyweight champion of the world added. Louis also denied reports he planned to run for Congress.

Two Texans Lose Decisions In Olympic Boxing Tryouts

BOSTON, June 28. (AP)—Two Texans lost decisions in the final Olympic boxing tryouts here.

In the lightweight class, Tom Adams of Abilene dropped a decision to Grant Butcher of San Francisco. In the welterweight division, Wallace Willard of Houston lost the duke to Charles Lvottn of Toledo, Ohio. Both bouts were three rounders.

Bear Crew Favored In Olympic Trials

PRINCETON, N. J., June 28 (INS)—Harvard is big and smooth, Washington is wiry and fast but it is the hard-hitting California eight which suddenly became one of the most feared crews on Lake Carnegie as all the entries in the Olympic trials wound up their hard work tonight.

Observers claim the Bear boat which caught Navy at Poughkeepsie and was gaining on Washington at the finish has turned in the fastest time trial of them all.

For that good reason, California has been made a favorite to beat the big-booming Navy crew in the most important heat of Wednesday's opening round of the Olympic trials.

A tipoff that all records for the 2,000 meter course will be pulverized before the week of rowing is over, is the fact that several eights have approached the six minute figure in the trial runs.

The Hawaiian word ukelele means literally "jumping flea," and was applied to the instrument because of the swift motions of players' fingers over it.

Methodists Take Stand On Draft

EL PASO, June 28 (AP)—Delegates to the south central jurisdictional conference of the Methodist church today urged repeal of the draft as soon as the present emergency is over.

A report submitted by the committee on the state of the church said the draft should be considered an emergency measure only.

The report was adopted as an amendment to a pervious report which urged prohibition of the sale and use of all alcoholic beverages on or near military posts where draftees are in training.

Other Recommendations Made

Also adopted were the committee's recommendations that vice and immorality of all kinds be banned in areas where inducted men are stationed; that draftees be provided with wholesome recreation; that inducted men be freed from duties one day in seven; and that the armed forces provide facilities and time for religious worship.

The same committee's report demanding separation of church and state and recall of the U. S. representative to the Vatican also was approved.

The resolution said: "We reiterate and reaffirm the position taken many times in recent years by our own church and other protestant churches in urging the President of the United States to recall immediately his personal representative, with rank of ambassador, to his holiness, the Pope, and refrain from appointing successor."

Bishop-elect Dana Dawson was assigned to the Kansas-Nebraska area, with episcopal residence in Topeka.

Other Changes Made

Dr. Dawson, now pastor of the First Methodist church of Shreveport, La., was consecrated in a ceremony at 8 p.m. today. The ceremony will close the five-day quadrennial conference.

He succeeds Bishop William G. Martin of Topeka, who was transferred to the Dallas area to fill a vacancy left by retirement of Bishop Charles C. Selecman.

Other bishops of the south central conference were re-assigned to their same posts for the next four years.

Vote Drive Planned

ernor have indicated he may not get going before September.

The Dewey-Warren meeting will be at Dewey's farm home at Pawling, N. Y., where the presidential nominee is resting after the strain of last week's nomination drive in Philadelphia.

With Republican nominating chores out of the way, a measure of interest shifted back to Democratic maneuvering in advance of the July 12 party convention, also in Philadelphia.

Mr. Truman's supporters are going into that meeting with 670 pledges and claimed votes, well over the necessary half of the 1,234 convention votes. Two weekend events, however, indicated that there may be at least a lot of talk in Philadelphia before a Truman walkaway.

"Draft Ike" Talked

California's big delegation of 62 signed standard party pledges to back the President, but John F. Shelley, San Francisco labor leader and delegation chairman, said the group will caucus in Philadelphia and chart a course "according to conditions at that time." Some "draft Eisenhower" sentiment was known to exist in the delegation.

In Wisconsin a state Democratic convention broke up amid "we want Eisenhower" shouts after failing to give the President a specific endorsement. Chairman Leland McParland ruled that a motion to adjourn had been passed before a vote could be reached on a motion to draft the retired Army chief of staff.

The Eisenhower question was raised also in the District of Columbia where voters were picking six Democratic delegates, next to the last group to be named for the Philadelphia meeting. "Veterans for Eisenhower" distributed sample ballots showing how to write in his name in preference to Mr. Truman, whose name was printed on the ticket.

Conference Announced

The Eisenhower draft idea might come to the stage of boom or bust Tuesday in a meeting in New York. Harry Carlson, New Hampshire Democratic national committeeman, said in Meriden that he and party leaders from Alabama, Florida, South Carolina and New York "among others" will confer then with the general, now president of Columbia university. However, a Columbia university spokesman said in New York there were no plans for any such appointment Tuesday.

Eisenhower himself is still standing on statements, made before the Republicans nominated, that he is not available.

Funeral Rites Are Slated Sunday For Slaton Veteran

SLATON, June 28 (Special)—Funeral services for Pfc. George L. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Green who was killed March 14, 1944 while serving with the armed forces in the Pacific, will be held at 3:30 p. m. Sunday at Williams Funeral home chapel with Rev. W. F. Ferguson, pastor First Baptist church, officiating.

Burial will be in Slaton cemetery with the Legion post in charge of military rites.

Field To Reopen

imately 400 families that make their homes in buildings on the field, and bringing a sudden influx of people into Lubbock before proper plans could be made to care for them.

"With the reactivation of the field, Lubbock faces the pressure of an increasing housing shortage," a chamber of commerce official said," but every effort will be made to meet this problem and have housing available for the families who live at LAF now, and for those families that will come here when the field becomes active."

The chamber official said the only "possible hitch" to supplying housing appeared to be that a sudden rush of defense construction might again make building materials and equipment impossible to obtain, or prices might advance until it would become uneconomical to construct such housing. He did not foresee such a condition however.

Meetings Were Conducted

The Chamber of Commerce, through its Lubbock Air Field committee, has, since the field was closed in December, 1945, kept in close contact with Air Force officials and governmental officials in regard to again training fliers at the field here, or using it in some other phase of Air Force operations.

The C. of C. LAF committee, which is composed of S. A. Wells, chairman, H. D. Grant, L. E. Davis, Homer Maxey, Earl B. Collins, Chas. A. Guy and Don Davis, have contacted Gen. James P. Hodges, commander of Flying Division, Air Training command, USAF, at Randolph field twice since the first of the year in regard to the activation of LAF.

Congressman George Mahon, who has been one of the leading advocates of an expanded air force and who fought for the 70 group plan in Congress, also cooperated with the committee.

Lyndon B. Johnson, candidate for U. S. Senate, also has assured Lubbock leaders that he will support the project to get the field reactivated as soon as possible in keeping with the local situation upon his election to the Senate.

LAAF, before it closed in 1945, trained 7,008 bomber, fighter and transport pilots and 1,718 instrument pilots. Lt. Col. William G. Snaith was acting commanding officer when the field officially became a "sub-base of Goodfellow field, San Angelo" and to inactive status. However the field was retained on a standby basis, one of five such fields so rated in the nation.

Idalou Lions Club Reorganized Monday

IDALOU, June 28. (Special)—The Idalou Lions club was reorganized here tonight at a meeting of approximately 25 former members with officers of the Lubbock chapter of the club. The local chapter had been inactive for about six months.

The following officers were elected: R. J. Quinlivan, president, Merle Walker first vice-president, Foy Hudson, second vice-president, G. O. Smith, third vice-president, Frank Guess, secretary-treasurer, Carroll Turner, Lion tamer, Rev. Clive B. Drake, tailwister.

Bailey Guess and W. C. Bayes were elected to two-year terms as directors, and Bill Knutson and Ottis Isom to four-year terms.

Lubbock Lions who attended the meeting included Wayne Henly, president, Groves Denman, secretary, Dr. Doyle Jackson, and Dallas Whaley.

The club will meet on the first and third Monday nights of each month.

Draft Needs Hiked

March, 1943, the monthly total never fell below 300,000.

Secretary of the Army Royall made the estimate of monthly quotas today while answering a number of news conference questions about the plans for the second peacetime draft in history. He noted there are problems to be worked in getting the program started, but set fourth the broad plan. It is this:

The Army now has 542,000 men. It won't jump to the 837,000 immediately because funds for the next fiscal year, starting July 1, are not sufficient. So, by July 1, 1949, the size of the Army will be about 790,000.

Guard To Be Strong

When the Army does attain the full 837,000 strength it will consist of 12 regular Army divisions. Backstopping these regular divisions will be six National Guard divisions, and supporting elements such as anti-aircraft artillery and service troops. The guard divisions, like the regular Army outfits, will be at full strength, fully equipped and ready to go.

The six guard divisions will not be the only ones, but will be those picked for building up quickly to fighting strength. Royall said when the new regular Army-National Guard strength goal is attained "we will be able to organize for the first time since the close of hostilities a really effective mobile striking force."

Training Centers Set

The new draftees and recruits will get their basic military schooling at training centers established by eight regular Army training divisions, located at these places: Forts Ord., Calif.; Jackson, S. C.; Dix, N. J.; Knox, Ky.; Riley, Kans., and Camps Chafee, Ark.; Breckenridge, Ky., Pickett, Va. The first four centers already are in operation, the others will be made ready.

In addition to the divisions training units, there will be training in units of sub-division size at Fort Bliss, Tex.; Camp Carson, Colo.; Fort Meade, Md.; Camp Cooke, Calif., Fort Devens, Mass., and Fort Worden, Wash.

Along with the inductees and volunteers for the regular Army, there will be training for 18-year olds who volunteer for one year service.

However, the draftee may serve that part of his 21 months left after eight weeks of basic training either in the United States or overseas. Expiration of enlistments among overseas troops has developed a substantial troop replacement problem.

The draftee will be put into that branch of the Army for which he is found to be best adapted—except that he will go into airborne training only if he volunteers for such a unit.

Registering of draft-age men is expected to get under way about mid-August and the first inductions will be pretty close to the September 22 date fixed indirectly by the law. Royall said the initial call would be "relatively small," but then increase to make possible the 30,000 per month rate.

The Army doesn't have enough officers, especially captains and lieutenants, to take care of its planned expansion and will need about 20,000 more, Royall said.

He was particularly concerned about a shortage of doctors and dentists.

Army officials attending Royall's conference today said that although the deadline for non-veterans to join reserve units was midnight Thursday, veterans with less than 12 months service still can join and be exempt.

from the Marxist theory of class war. Capitalist elements in their country are growing." It added:

"The Cominform believes that the present leadership of the Yugoslav Communist party is revising the Marxist-Lenin theory of the Communist party. Whereas this theory says that the Communist party stands for the leading and guarding strength in a country, in Yugoslavia the people's front, not the Communist party, is considered the main, principal strength. This means devaluating the Communist party."

The statement condemned the "purging and arresting" of two Yugoslav Communists "because they had dared to criticize the anti-Soviet conceptions of the leaders and to express themselves for the friendship of Yugoslavia with Soviet Russia." (M. Zuljovic was dismissed as finance minister and Andrew Hebrang as chairman of light industry in a government shakeup last month.)

a flight over the city to report that two trains at Fukui were lying on their sides. Rail and highway bridges north of the city were out, they said, but one bridge on the southern outskirts seemed intact. They were over the city 45 minutes in a small observation plane.

A report from another military government team at Takefu, about 15 miles south of Fukui, said large cracks opened in the earth in that area. In some places concrete pavement buckled like ribbon, with folds up to two feet high, the team added.

In Fukui the first shock was followed immediately by fire which destroyed almost all the city's 37,000 buildings still standing. American and Japanese reports from the scene said only the city hall, telephone exchange and prefectural government offices remained relatively undamaged.

Japanese reports said the last of three major fires finally was brought under control shortly before dawn today. At their height the flames were visible 30 miles.

Cracks in the street eight inches wide burst water mains and hampered firefighting.

One Japanese eyewitness said he saw a seven-story department store collapse instantly into rubble, while destruction of a theater and the Fukui and Kanazu railway stations also pointed to heavy casualties.

Japanese papers estimated 5,000 casualties—an admitted guess but neither American nor Japanese officials would hazard a figure.

That the loss of life might be extremely large, however, was indicated by Lt. Ben Evans of Crawfordsville, Ind., of the Fukui military government team.

Reaching Takefu, 12 miles south of the stricken city, he reported by telephone that one crowded theater in Fukui had collapsed, with only three persons known to have escaped, and that the busy railway station was demolished, with no known survivors.

Fukui, with 85,000 population, is 200 miles west of Tokyo near the sea of Japan. By Japanese standards, the area is sparsely populated.

The Tokyo newspaper Ashai said the lightly-hit Ishikawa prefecture, adjoining Fukui prefecture on the north, had 23 known dead, 150 missing and 123 injured, with more than 3,000 buildings destroyed.

U. S. Army reports from Takefu said a series of secondary earth shocks continued for about 12 hours after the major tremor.

The U. S. military government unit in Fukui reported to Tokyo that all Americans were safe but they lost almost all their possessions except their jeeps and a few office records when fire destroyed their headquarters and homes.

Carl Mydans, Time-Life staff man who happened to be in Fukui on another assignment, said the American unit headed by Lt. Col. James Hyland of Manhattan, (state unspecified) consisted of ten officers, 17 men and seven dependent families.

Tidal Waves Rumored

Mydans reported the military government moved to the courtyard of Fukui's old palace, and that the dependents also went there after failing to get out of the burning city due to blocked roads and wrecked bridges.

QUAKE CAUSES DAMAGE IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

HONOLULU, June 28 (AP) — A series of sharp earthquakes starting at 1:38 a. m. (5:38 a. m., CST) today broke some store windows, dislodged plaster and briefly disrupted electricity in some sections of Honolulu.

The principal effect was on Oahu in the Honolulu area, where damage was not great but the quake was strong enough to cause a landslide that blocked one road. Laurie Burgess, observer at the U. S. Coast and Geodetic survey seismograph station, said there was no possible connection between the shocks and those in Japan.

Naval Reserve Officers In Chicago For Training Course

Marvin Hunter, Naval Reserve lieutenant on active duty with the Naval Reserve training center at Texas Tech, and Harvey S. Dunn, Naval Reserve lieutenant commander, are in Chicago for four days' schooling in procedures for Naval Reserve training.

Upon return, they will inspect Naval Reserve armories in Amarillo, Abilene, San Angelo and Lubbock for purpose of making recommendations for betterment of training centers for building morale and other suggestions for full utilization of facilities.

Dunn, basketball coach of Lubbock High school, is on active duty this summer Hunter is assistant instructor-inspector of the Reserve training center at Tech.

Attorneys Claim ITU 'Unfair' In Dealings

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—National Labor Relations board attorneys today recommended that an NLRB trial examiner hold the AFL International Typographical union guilty of unfair labor practices in its dealings with newspapers from coast to coast.

NLRB attorneys Allen Sinsheimer, jr., and Caroll La Martin, acting for NLRB general counsel Robert N. Denham, made the recommendations as a suggested order for NLRB trial examiner Arthur Leff.

Hearings Take Six Months

Leff presided over six-month-long hearings on charges brought against the ITU and its officers, including union President Woodruff Randolph, by the American Newspaper Publishers association and the Chicago Newspaper Publishers association.

The attorney and briefs, as well as the recommended order filed today, will be considered by Leff in making his report to the NLRB. The case probably will be considered by the five-man NLRB itself eventually.

The ITU and its officers have been restrained by a federal court injunction, obtained March 27, against continuing the alleged unfair labor practices involved in the case until Leff and the NLRB has a chance to pass on them.

Hail Damage

Garner, farmer of about three miles south of Idalou, was moved from its foundations and the roofs of the house and barn were lifted off by high wind an deposited on the ground nearby. Mr. and Mrs. Garner were away on a vacation and no one was injured.

Thousands of acres were pounded with heavy hail. Jake Snodgrass, Idalou business man, estimated the damaged area to be five or six miles wide, north and south, in Idalou vicinity, and to extend about 18 miles east and west. Almost all the damage occurred south of the highway.

Snodgrass had visited the Garner farm and said furnishings had been removed from the house, probably to a place of storage. Of the cotton crop, he said "only the stems were sticking up" on the Garner farm and other farms in that vicinity. He estimated 7 or 8 inches of rain had fallen in that vicinity, south of Idalou. The Santa Fe estimate in the town was 1 1-2 inches.

Homer Dodds, business man at Acuff said cotton appeared to be a "total loss" from Acuff northward to the Crosbyton highway and to Lorenzo and also four miles westward from Acuff. South and southeast of Acuff, the damage did not appear so severe. Many farmers were in Acuff today, hunting maize seed. Some estimated about four inches rainfall had fallen around Acuff. Hail in Acuff vicinity lasted about 40 minutes. Dodds estimated that about 80 per cent of the cotton in that vicinity was a total loss.

Damage in Ralls vicinity was estimated by M. M. Joiner of the Ralls Banner. He estimated 50 to 75 per cent loss in Owens community and 50 per cent around Caprock community. In Ralls area the strip was about 10 miles wide, extending that far south of Ralls.

At Lorenzo, W. O. Weston said heavy hail started at the city limits and extended southward to Robertson, almost completely destroying cotton. Farmers were making plans to plant maize.

In Lubbock and immediate vicinity, the wide variation in amount of rainfall within a few miles was indicated by the following rainfall measurements: Weather station, north of the city, .10 inch; Texas Technological college, .16 inch; Central fire station in downtown Lubbock, about .76 or .77 inch, and experiment station east of the city, .30 inch.

Hail also fell in Lubbock. None was reported at the weather station or on Tech farms. It was reported at the weather station hail in the city probably would be classified as "moderate."

From Floydada, A. L. Hartzog, county agent, reported rainfall of 3.5 inches Sunday afternoon. He said about one-half inch fell at South Plains and about 2 inches about midway between Floydada and Daughtery. He said it was beneficial except on irrigated farms, where farmers may be unable to work and keep weeds down in locations which have received heavy rainfall in addition to previous irrigation.

M. O. Hood gauged .12 inch rainfall at Abernathy Sunday after noon and 1.10 inches during the night, a total of 1.22 inches.

The Santa Fe Dispatcher reported 2 inches of rain at Slaton, 1 inch at Crosbyton, 1½ inches at Ralls, 1½ inches at Lorenzo, ½ inch at Lamesa, .35 inch at Plainview, light showers fell from Slaton to Sweetwater, a light shower was received at Texico and about one-fourth inch generally from Texico to Lubbock, no rain was received generally from Lubbock to Plainview and from there to Canyon, none between Lubbock and Seagraves, a light shower at Levelland.

During the rainfall Sunday afternoon, wind rose to 46 miles per hour velocity at the weather station.

Tahoka Woman Is Injured In Collision On Lamesa Highway

Mrs. Coy Fielder, of Tahoka, was slightly injured about 8 o'clock last night when the car her husband was driving collided with another vehicle south of there at the intersection of the Lamesa highway and Wells Draw road

A car driven by Doyle Mize, who was driving east on the road, was turned over, according to the highway patrol Mize was not injured, however, an officer said.

The Fielder car was going north. Following the accident Mrs Fielder was taken to a Tahoka hospital for treatment of scratches and bruises.

Road Plan Praised

Hubber field to a juncture with U. S. highway 84 where it intersects with College Ave.

And 410 miles of secondary—farm and ranch to market— roads have been constructed in the district or are under contract, at a cost of $3,056,000, Wemple was informed.

Funds Setup Explained

The commissioner spoke of the allocation of funds for a new highway-building program in which states, to participate, must match federal funds. That new program will offer only $450,000,000 a year for two years—as compared with the old program of $500,000,000 a year for the three years from 1946 through 1948.

"Reduction in the total sum will materially cut our next program unless funds are forthcoming from other sources," Wemple observed.

Pointing out how money has been divided—43 per cent for the primary roads system, 40 per cent for farm and ranch to market roads, and 17 per cent for urban construction, Wemple told newsmen:

"The primary problem of the highway department now is to maintain a balanced program as between construction and maintenance, and an equitable and practical allocation of funds between the primary, farm and ranch to market and urban systems.

Farm-To-Market Plan Given

"I also have the conviction," he said, "that this present farm and ranch to market program ending this year, in which the state with federal matching funds has constructed more than 7,000 miles of farm and ranch to market roads and an additional 1,200 miles of farm and ranch to market roads on a state and county matching program, has contributed to a development of our rural area that has made for rehabilitation and morale building of the communities served by such paved roads."

He explained that the state and county matching program works thus: "The state pays 25 per cent and furnishes engineering and permanent maintenance on such roads where counties elect to accelerate the program by paying 75 per cent of the construction, rather than delay for an ensuing program on the federal-state level."

"I also feel that the people are going to require a continuation of this progress in farm and ranch to market construction and that it should be the responsibility of the highway department not only to construct such land service roads as are financed by the Legislature, but it should be its obligation to provide permanent maintenance for farm and ranch to market roads in order to protect and preserve the taxpayers' investment in the highways," Wemple continued.

Referring to increased costs of highway construction, Wemple said:

"Through improved machinery, costs of highway construction have been kept within a ratio of expense with less increase than that experienced in other lines of construction and industry. By effecting savings in construction cost and through ample bidding on the part of contractors, costs of highway construction are no more than 40 per cent above the pre-war costs of 1941—with exception of drainage structures, which are approximately double that pre-war level."

At the May letting, he said, there was an average of eight contractors bidding on each project offered — "indicating that Texas has at its disposal ample equipment and facilities for its enlarged highway program."

Resourcefulness of Texas is more than a word, the commissioner said by inference. It, he said, was one of only four or five states able to take advantage of the first federal-aid program by raking together funds required for matching the federal outlay.

"That financial ability is a tribute to those who preceded me and saw to it that the state accumulated enough money to match federal funds," he said.

The inability of more than a handful of states to match government aid is the reason for the curtailment of the new program, Wemple said.

"But Texas will be able to go ahead in the new program as it did in the first," Wemple said, "and I think the program will go forward without hitch."

He reiterated three elements that must govern: 1. Equitable distribution of moneys between the various areas of the state; 2. Maintenance of proper balance in primary, secondary and urban construction; and 3. Logical and safe distribution as between new construction and maintenance so as to safeguard the tremendous investment in existing highways.

noon at Meadow Brook golf course.

The extension building at Texas Tech was broken and entered from the roof, but nothing was believed taken from an office there, police were informed by J. H. Millikin, director of extension.

Investigators found that a hole had been "stomped" in the roof, and entrance made into the office. A filing cabinet was pried open, but no money had been left in it.

Two negroes were reported stabbed, but neither was hurt sufficiently for medical treatment, officials were informed. One stabbed in the head, "fell down but it was not because of the wound. He was drunk." The other, Johnny Thomas, was stabbed in the left arm by a woman. Thomas told officials it was an "accident."

A James motorcycle, license YJ 1756 and valued at $420, was reported stolen from James McCall of Lubbock, route 6. It was parked at Thirteenth and Texas Ave.

Bobbie Sinclair of 1629 Sixteenth said a $30 bike had been stolen from him.

Arrangements To Be Made For Visit Of Lyndon Johnson

Arrangements will be made today by the Lubbock County Johnson-for-Senator club for a greeting for Cong. Lyndon B. Johnson, candidate for U. S. Senator, when he arrives Thursday by helicopter in a campaign stop in Lubbock.

Johnson will be on a swing through the South Plains area in the modern aircraft, in which he has been covering the state. He will leave Big Spring at 9:30 a. m. Thursday, July 1 and will land at 10:45 a. m. at Lamesa.

To Visit Brownfield

He is scheduled to land at Brownfield at noon, where he will speak and eat lunch. A 3 p. m. stop is scheduled for Levelland and he will drop down at Littlefield at 4:30 p. m.

His arrival in Lubbock has been set for 5:30 o'clock but Lloyd Croslin, district campaign manager, said Monday the time may be changed to a later hour. Croslin said announcement would be made today on all plans for Johnson's visit here.

In addition to his talk to an outdoor crowd at some designated spot, Johnson is also scheduled to make a broadcast talk over the Lubbock radio stations.

Rio Grande Flood

said, and is backed up into Mexican farmlands.

South of Roma, he said, the river is four miles wide.

Manuel I. Zuazua of Matamoros Mex., across the Rio Grande from Brownsville, near the Gulf of Mexico, ordered all floodway outlets on the Mexican side opened yesterday, including Retamal canal south of Donna.

The international boundry and water commission office at San Benito said the valley floodways were ready to carry off the major part of the overflow.

The commission reported that the flow yesterday morning at Rio Grande City was 110,000 cubic feet a second contrasted to a rate of less than 600 feet a second a few days ago.

J. L. Lytel, international boundry and water commission engineer, said the $10,000,000 floodway and levee system is expected to accomodate the flood.

Damage Is Heavy

The crest late Monday was in the vicinity of Roma, midway between McAllen and Zapata. It was expected to reach Hidalgo late Tuesday.

Traffic was resumed Monday over the suspension bridge at Zapata after the border structure had been submerged by a 54-foot rise. Communications and highway and rail travel also returned to normal farther upstream.

A survey of damage in the Laredo-Nuevo Laredo area showed the loss on the American side to be almost negligible, but homes, farms and livestock suffered on the Mexican side. The damage in the Nuevo Laredo area was placed at about $1,000,000.

While the Rio Grande's watershed was comparatively free of rain Monday, the situation was different in other areas, especially in North and West Texas.

Flood Warning Given

An all-day rain at Dallas resulted in the U. S. Weather bureau issuing flood warnings for the upper Trinity river. The bureau said a light to moderate overflow was expected by Tuesday, and warned that livestock be moved to high ground. Nearly two and a half inches of rain fell.

Heavy rains also fell in West Texas, Seymour reported 2.40 inches that will assure a fine maize crop. Cisco welcomed a one and a half inch fall.

Other points reporting rain were Abilene, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells, Borger, Henrietta, Graham, Haskell, Pampa, Clarendon, Childress, Olney and Amarillo.

Al Barazi said Syria also had protested against a U. S. exchange of diplomatic representatives with Israel on grounds the action gives the Jews a political advantage during the truce.

Bernadotte's special Cairo representative, J. Escarati, said he knew nothing about the warship incident.

ARAB LEAGUE WILL CONSIDER PROPOSALS

CAIRO, June 28. (AP)—The Arab league will meet tomorrow to consider permanent Palestine peace proposals advanced by Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator.

Syrian Premier Jamil Mardam Bey, who announced the league meeting from Damascus, said the proposals "will in no way modify our attitude of rejecting partition and a Jewish state in Palestine."

The proposals also have been forwarded to the Jews in Tel Aviv.

Bernadotte, who affected the four-week truce in Palestine, said he had asked both parties to refrain from suggestions or publishing the proposals until he had received their replies.

In Tel Aviv the Israeli army took the last step toward becoming a formal state army with a mass oath of allegiance.

Bulldogging averages were: Louis Fields, 32.8 seconds, George Pettigrew, 33.3, Eddie Cain, 37.6, Charley Lynn, 43.

Bullriding placements were Gene Pettigrew, Knowland Fincher, Carl King, Buck Rutherford, and Hull.

The girls' clover-leaf barrel race tonight resulted as follows: Sue Norton, 22.9 seconds, Lena Klebold, second place, Allene Rowe, third, and Jo Ann Davis, fourth.

Planes Dent 'Siege'

however, that any relief for Berlin under the stepped-up air service must be considered temporary.

A string of flour-laden British barges which got through the blockade helped ease the Soviet noose around the city.

The British officials said they started their journey before the recent Soviet traffic restrictions were imposed and were long overdue. They added that barge traffic is "far from normal."

American planes left the Frankfurt base to the west at the rate of one every ten minutes. At least three planes were in the air corridor to Berlin at all times in the 'round-the-clock operation.

Planes Unloaded Quickly

Fifty-five of the big planes brought 125 tons of food and other supplies into the city in the first phase of a "two-a-day" flight schedule.

They were unloaded hurriedly with the aid of expert ground crews at Tempelhof airport, and returned to the western occupation zones for another 125-ton load.

The British said seven barges were able to pierce the Soviet blockade. Arrival of the barges brought to 11 the number that passed through the Russian controls in two days.

Other Barges Enroute

They carried 825 tons of vital flour. British officials said they started their journey to Berlin before the drastic new Soviet traffic restrictions were imposed.

They added that 26 additional barges are enroute with 2,600 tons of flour, and if the Russians permit them to enter Berlin despite "still unclear" restrictions, the city's flour supply will be extended another four days.

Berlin Is Tense

(The meeting was held before Draper and Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. Army plans chief, left for Berlin).

Leon Steck, American food chief, said Berlin has sufficient food to last less than a month, and indicated even the fleet of C-54 transports assigned to Germany from the United States could not break the back of the blockade.

The western parts of the city require 2,000 tons of food daily from the outside.

Berlin was tense as most of the population watched the big American planes roar in from the west.

Crowd Riots

The Germans' state of nerves was indicated by a riot at the Karlshorst racetrack where Germans from the western parts of city went to exchange old bank notes for new under the Soviet currency reform.

Part of a crowd of 5,000 persons broke through a fence before the exchange windows and when police dispersed them, seven were found to have been injured, including four seriously.

Col. Frank Howley, the American commandant in Berlin assailed the Soviet blockade for its "brutality" in denying milk to 6,000 children in the western sectors.

He said "Commuism, which has taken a great defeat in Berlin, is now unmasked and naked terror devoid of humanitarian instincts."

VIGOROUS U. S. PROTEST TO MOSCOW IS SEEN

BERLIN, June 28 (INS)—High American sources said tonight they expect the United States to deliver a vigorous note to Moscow in 10 days aimed at ending the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

The situation is now regarded as deadlocked beyond the capacities of the local military commanders to solve the problem.

The informants do not exclude the possibility Washington may suggest that President Truman and Premier Stalin arrange a meeting at which the problem could be explored and possibly ironed out.

But they consider a more likely proposal will be to call another meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers' council and give it the task of paving the way for a solution.

The American move would be designed to prevent the danger to world peace from becoming more acute.

BLOOD TYPING SET

Typing of blood for the Lubbock County Blood bank service will be continued today when Red Cross workers visit Hemphill-Wells Co. in the plan to visit all large business firms and industries with more than 15 workers Two of the workers will visit the Lions club today to explain plans for opening of the blood bank and obtain recruits to give blood.

Tito Regime Probably Ousted As Result Of Communists' Blast

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Cominform denunciation of Marshall Tito and his major associates in Yugoslavia suggests strongly that his regime has been ousted or that a bitter fight to do so is under way. Ordinarily, such a denunciation would mean not only that the castigated machine was through but also that Communists in better standing with Moscow already had the situation in hand.

An accurate answer on this may not be known until Tito's exact circumstances are established. He might be out he might be "isolated" from government control pending a reorganization of the Yugoslav Communist party, or he might just be taking a terrific spanking. The vehemence of the attack, however, would be unusual in the latter circumstance.

Whole Story Not Told

Although Tito's regime is charged with pulling away from the Marxist-Lenin line, and of accusing Russia of imperialism, there is a lot that still remains to be told.

On the basis of early evidence, upon which you can never count too strongly in appraising developments behind the iron curtain, this appears to have been a fight within the Communist family rather than an effort on Tito's part to make peace with the western powers.

Until there is evidence otherwise, I'm inclined to feel that somebody "got" little Joe.

There have been small but recurrent indications for a long time that some day there would be a showdown between Tito and Georgi Dimitrov of Bulgaria to see who would be Stalin's chief pro-consul in the Balkans.

No Definite News

There are strong indications that the Kremlin prefers to keep its satellites separate for easier handling. A Balkan federation might beocme a United States of eastern Europe which no one power could easily control.* This Russian line also is evident in China, where the pro-Russian Communists want to set up a series of small states in the area they control along the Soviet boundary, but where the "Chinese" Communists prefer one great state to stand over against the Nanking government.

Just when the dispute between Tito and the Kremlin's Cominform (a new name for comintern) became serious is not clear. There have been little things which might have been indicative.

Tito has seen Yugoslavia as the jumping-off place for Communist conquest of Italy, Austria, France and Greece. Stalin and Dimitrov might not agree.

Some diplomatic passages have been taking place between Bulgaria and Greece. No important counter action has been taken from Hungary and Bulgaria to relieve pressure on the Greek Communists now crowded back against the border of Albania, one of Tito's provinces. This may indicate differences within the Communist hierarchy over the conduct of the Greek civil war.

Whatever it is, and whatever has happened to Tito, until there is evidence to the contrary I'm going to give Georgi Dimitrova lot of credit for it.

Allowable Production Order For Andrews Field Reduced

AUSTIN, June 28 (AP) — The Railroad commission today adopted special orders as follows, by counties:

Nueces—Net gas-oil ratio set at 2,000 cubic feet of gas per barrel of oil produced from the Dabney sand reservoir of the Agua Dulce field.

Andrews — Allowable production for the Fullerton field reduced from 75 to 66 barrels per well per day, effective July 1.

Sherman, Moore and Hansford —Field rules for the Texas-Hugoton field adopted as follows: Spacing set at 2,500 feet between wells and 1,250 feet from any property line.

Lubbock Jaycees Plan Annual Installation Rites Thursday

Homer Hensley announced final plans for the annual Jaycee installation banquet scheduled for 8 p. m. Thursday at the Lubbock Supper club at Monday's luncheon of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Hilton hotel. Tickets for the banquet are on sale at Peters jewelry.

The club also heard a report by state Jaycee vice-president-elect L. D. Whiteley on the organization meeting of incoming state officers held at Corpus Christi this past week end, and an announcement by Dr. P. K. Palmer that the Jaycee-sponsored Miss Lubbock contest revue has been set for Monday night, July 5, at the Lubbock Supper club.

Jack Wheat was introduced as a new member. The club voted to cancel the scheduled July 5 luncheon. Roy Forkner presided.

Project For Fight Against Heart Disease Is Favored By Public

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 28—The National Heart Institute set up by this session of Congress for research on heart disease would become one of the nation's largest and most important health projects if the public had its way.

A coast to coast survey by the Institute shows that approximately eight out of every ten persons polled would be in favor of appropriating the huge sum of $100,000,000 for the Heart Institute to conduct intensive research on the causes and possible cure of diseases of the heart, which are the nation's number one killer. Vital statistics collected by the United States Public Health Service indicate that heart diseases kill nearly two and a half times as many people annually as cancer and other tumors and eight times as many as tuberculosis.

GALLUP

Early this month Congress set up the National Heart Institute to be administered by the Surgeon General, United States Public Health Service. An appropriation of $15,000,000 for the work was suggested by the National Heart Committee and other interested groups, but in the closing days of the session Congress appropriated only $500,000 for the Heart Institute.

The general attitude of the public can be seen from the following poll:

"Would you approve or disapprove of having the Government spend 100 million dollars for research to find the causes and cure of diseases of the heart?"

The vote:

Approve	79%
Disapprove	11
Qualified answers	3
No Opinion	7

All those who indicated approval were next asked:

"Would you be willing to pay more taxes to provide this money?"

The vote:

Yes	80%
No	14
No Opinion	6

The survey also found that the public would not balk at spending double the amount, or $200,000,000, on heart research. A separate but comparable cross-section was asked the question with the larger sum mentioned and, again, the vote was 79 per cent in favor, with four out of every five of those indicating a willingness to pay more taxes to raise the money.

The widespread public approval of large sums for such research comes as no surprise to anyone familiar with public opinion trends on health matters.

In 1946 Institute surveys found the public overwhelmingly (87 per cent) in favor of government expenditures of $100,000,000 for cancer research, as proposed in the Neely-Pepper bills. Apparently the public is ready to foot the bill for a massive, large-scale attack on major diseases if a practical program of spending for research can be worked out.

While the average American is not well-versed in medical statistics he does know fairly accurately which diseases are the most prevalent as a cause of death.

This is shown in the replies to another question in the Institute survey as follows:

"Will you tell me what disease causes the greatest number of deaths in this country today?"

The replies list heart disease first and cancer second, which is the correct order according to public health statistics. However the public has a somewhat exaggerated notion of the prevalence of deaths from tuberculosis and infantile paralysis. Those are named by the voters in the survey as the next most important killers whereas actually diseases of the nervous system rank next.

The public's vote follows:

Heart disease	47%
Cancer	38
Tuberculosis	8
Infantile paralysis	1
Miscellaneous	3
Don't know	3

Those who named heart disease as the number one killer were found to be slightly more in favor of the $100,000,000 research proposal than the average for the country.

STRANGER IN TOWN

AUSTIN (U.P.)—When a tramp asked an Austin housewife for a glass of water, she handed him one out of the tap. Apparently it was the first time he had tasted chlorinated water. He denounced the housewife, even accusing her of putting something in the glass. She called police and the tramp went to jail.

Entertainer Escapes In Narcotics Raid

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 28 (AP)—Customs agents today related how a woman entertainer from New York jumped from a train and escaped in a waiting car in cloak and dagger fashion as the agents bagged 100 pounds of marijuana in a narcotics raid.

The officers charged four persons before U. S. Commissioner J. A. Mount.

Alvin F. Scharff, U. S. customs agent in charge at Houston, identified the wanted woman as Rio Marisno, a singer of West Indian songs in New York.

Scharff said the arrests were made as officers attempted to break up a narcotics ring operating from Mexico through Corpus Christi to New York.

The four persons charged are the woman, Wade Turner, negro cafe owner; Jose Rodriguez and Arturo Cantu. Their bonds were set at from $1,000 to $2,500.

Officers seized two automobiles in the raid.

Funeral Services Are Held Monday For C. E. Carroll

Last rites were read at 4 p. m. Monday in the Arnett-Benson Baptist church for Clifford E. Carroll, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Carroll of 2704 Second, who died about 9 a. m. Sunday in Lubbock Memorial hospital from critical injuries received in an automobile collision Thursday night.

Rev. Cecil Ray, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Tech Memorial Park under direction of Rix Funeral home.

Survivors include his parents, a brother, Jimmie Don, and a sister, Joyce Ann.

Kansas' Wheat Outlook Bright

HAYS, Kans., June 28 (INS)—Agronomists said tonight that the Kansas wheat crop—which "didn't have a chance in January"—is well on its way toward bettering a "normal" year's production of 168,000,000 bushels.

A survey of farm agents and grain buyers in the famed wheat state showed today that county after county had acre yields nearly double what had been expected earlier this year.

Strike Is Threatened

However, there were two developments today which seriously jeopardized the movement of this big crop to market.

At Kansas City, Mo., workers at 14 terminal grain elevators threatened to go on strike tomorrow morning because of a wage dispute.

The walkout threat followed the arrival today in Kansas City of the first 1,000-car run of winter wheat. The peak run is expected a week from tomorrow because of accumulations over the Fourth of July holiday.

Meantime in Kansas harvesting activities were brought to a standstill by heavy rains which have drenched the state for 48 hours. The Weather bureau has forecast a break in the weather, however, which may permit a resumption of operations by Wednesday.

Good Yield Reported

An example of the way the Kansas wheat crop has come through despite bad planting weather last fall and misfortunes, was provided in a report from Scott county. There farmers are reaping 40 to 50 bushels per acre on summer-fallowed land. One farmer near Modoc reported the finest crop he ever produced—a yield of 43 bushels per acre.

Meade county farmers report a harvest of 20-25 bushels from fields where early estimates of 15 bushels an acre were considered optimistic.

A. L. Halstead, a retired federal agronomist now farming in Rush county, described the wheat harvest this year as a "phenomenal thing."

He added: "It came up late, it suffered heavy frosts, it was too thin and plagued by weeds and yet it is making a crop."

Although grain buyers lately say the wheat has a rather high moisture content because of rains during the last two weeks, they report that the test is excellent—ranging from 59 to 62 pounds with a fine, full kernel.

Area Rotary Groups Hold Meeting Here

Importance Of Youth Work Stressed In Talk By Wayland College Leader

The importance of youth work and the relationship of participating in civic work as a way of getting out of life what one puts into it, were cited as challenges for Rotarians who gathered in an assembly session here Monday.

Attendance is one of the most important phases of Rotary club work according to Rex Webster, outgoing president of the Lubbock Rotary club, who spoke to the last session of the 127th district Rotary club assembly on "If I were Incoming Instead of Outgoing." He told the assembly that it all stems back to the old adage, "You get out of anything only what you put into it."

ROGER KUYKENDALL

Dr. Marshall Speaks

Charles Paxton of Sweetwater, past president, addressed the group of 125 Rotarians and 10 Rotary-Anns, on the subject of club service, and Jim Willson, Floydada, also past president, spoke on international club service. Other past presidents who spoke were J. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls, who spoke on vocational club service, and Fred Wemple of Midland. Wemple's talk concerned community service.

The highlight of the luncheon was the address of Dr. J. W. (Bill) Marshall, president of Wayland college at Plainview, in which he told the assembly that there are boys and girls here who will not have much chance in life unless given a helping hand by those who are in a position to offer such aid.

Speaking to representatives from 34 of the 35 local clubs engulfed by the 127th district, Marshall said that youth work, whether it be a Rotary club or other group, is one of the most important works because it deals with probably the world's most important commodities—boys and girls who will some day take over world leadership. The luncheon was held in the main ballroom of the Hilton hotel.

Dr. Marshall suggested as "not too fantastic," a conference of youth here or at some other place in the district, where the boys and girls would represent various nations of the world in discussions of means to attain and preserve peace and understanding.

Aims Of Group Discussed

Another luncheon speaker was E. A. Bills of Littlefield, whose remarks on "Rotary Foundations and Foundation Fellowship," which had been mentioned by Marshall as one of the more important projects of Rotary. The speakers were introduced by Webster.

The morning session, held at the Lindsey theater, featured an address on Rotary aims and objects, by Jim McColloch of Abilene, district governor. McColloch, whose term expires July 1, outlined plans he suggested would lead to wider service by the club, standing principally on the aim and objects sec-

Roger Kuykendall To Head State Group

Roger L. Kuykendall of 2810 Twenty-second has been named state Exchange Club president to succeed Russell Purner of Alice, according to information received here late Monday afternoon by Warlick Carr, president of the Lubbock Exchange Club.

Kuykendall was named to the top spot in the state organization in a meeting of the board of directors held in Austin Saturday and Sunday.

The position was left open when Purner changed his residence from Houston to Alice, where there was no Exchange Club, and was forced into an inactive status. The board promptly named Kuykendall, who was at the time serving as state vice-president, as top man.

Kuykendall, who is sales manager of the Kuykendall Chevrolet company here, has been active in local Exchange Club work, and retired as first president of the local chapter in December, 1947.

The board set Sept. 10-11 for the state convention in San Antonio.

Candidates Step Up Vote Drives

(By The Associated Press)

George Peddy Monday accused "someone who wants to defeat me" in the race for U. S. Senate of spreading "malicious propaganda" that he ran on the Republican ticket for the Senate in 1922.

The candidates harked back to the race in which he was a write-in candidate, saying in a speech prepared for radio delivery from Waco that the issue then was his opposition to the Ku Klux Klan. Any charge that he ran as a Republican, the candidate said, is "false propaganda."

March Blasts Jester

Lyndon Johnson rode his helicopter to seven major speaking stops across west Central Texas, while Cove Stevenson was handshaking, conferring and radio-speaking in the Sabine area.

Terrell Sledge of Kyle, another senatorial candidate, halted his slogan-plastered 1936 sedan in front of the state capitol at Austin. It displayed many signs, such as "this ain't no helicopter," "folks, this is your flying fortress."

Candidates for governor were also stirring.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester rededicated famous Hancock park at Lampasas, and prepared to issue another report on his administration's accomplishments and aims Wednesday.

Caso March blasted Jester in a radio speech prepared for delivery from Dallas saying the governor made the people of Texas 17 promises two years ago and kept

County To Study Tax Reappraisal Plan

Proposal To Be Considered Soon

The second step toward a guaranty of tax equalization in Lubbock county was taken when the county commissioners court Monday afternoon arranged that the commission, on July 26, would have before it for study a complete proposal for reappraisal of rural sections of the county for tax purposes.

Gilbert Smith, of Southwestern Appraisal company, of Fort Worth, said he would lay a complete proposal before the court at that time. That would entail costs of the appraisal and methods of taking it. His proposal would mean taking of renditions between Sept. 1 and Dec. 1, he said in an appearance before the court—so there would be plenty of new values to appear on the next tax roll.

Step Taken Thursday

The first step in the equalization program was taken last Thursday when the court, sitting as a board of equalization, took cognizance of the protests of urbanites that they were paying a disproportionate share of county and state taxes, because of low appraisal of rural land and a failure to assess improvements on it.

Under the new appraisal plan, improvements would be appraised and land values would be jacked up somewhat.

Smith recently appraised the city of Slaton and Slaton Independent school district—on a yardstick used by another concern in assessing the city of Lubbock and Lubbock Independent school district.

Proposal To Be Considered

It was emphasized by the commissioners court, however, that Smith's proposal had not been accepted, but that it would be considered. "The court is not committed," Judge Walter Davies and the commissioners said. Commissioners are R. O. Short, Ben Mansker, Ottis Isom and Pat Corley.

Commissioners said, however, that the proposed plan of reappraisement definitely will be put into effect "in plenty of time."

The court at the morning session let a $14,352.72 contract for road construction inside Lubbock county to L. A. Purtell of Lubbock, low bidder.

Four other bids were studied before the contract was announced. The four projects included are:

Others Projects Listed

1. Asphalt seal coating on an existing asphalt road beginning at U. S. highway 87 in Monroe and extending eastward 3.1 miles.

2. Grading, caliche base course and triple asphalt surface treatment on a road known as the "Old Idalou highway" from its intersection with U. S. highway 87, near Purina mills plant, and extending

HEAT PRIZES STILL NEEDED

Inspection Of Soap Box Derby Cars To Continue Here Today

Lubbock and South Plains youngsters started rolling the Soap Box racers through the inspection line at Kuykendall Chevrolet company's parking lot and by late Monday afternoon more than 90 racers had been inspected in the first day.

The preliminary inspection of the racers will continue through today with E. E. Key, director of manual training at Lubbock High school and his assistant, G. N. Manning, checking the cars carefully.

All Should Be Inspected

Only a few of the youngsters' cars which had not been finished were inspected, but Derby officials emphasized that each and every boy entered in the race should bring his car down for inspection so that he can be given advice on any requirements he has failed to meet.

The parking lot and adjacent garage service space was a beehive of activity throughout the morning and most of the afternoon Monday as the boys reported for the inspection.

It was an interesting sight to see the boys unload their racers and start through the inspection line. Some were nervous as they feared their racers would be "knocked out" for some reason or another, but as they passed through the line and over the scales smiles began to spread on their faces. They were beaming as their race numbers were glued to their cars.

Heat Prizes Still Needed

George Miller, local representative of Toledo Scales, and Ray Kinney, his assistant, encountered only one youngster who was overweight. He and his car ran over the 250-pound limit by 58 pounds, but the car can be lightened considerably and the boy plans to reduce all this week in an attempt to make the weight limit.

Derby officials emphasized that those boys who do not have their cars ready for inspection should go ahead and finish them and they will be inspected Monday morning at the Dickinson Motor company's truck plant on East Broadway.

Monday Is Declared Holiday In Lubbock Summer Schools

"Due to the fact that many Lubbock families undoubtedly will want to take weekend vacations over the Fourth of July, we have deemed it advisable to declare Monday, July 5, an official holiday in the free Lubbock summer schools," Supt. R. W. Matthews said Monday afternoon.

Matthews said he understood that the action of school officials in declaring the holiday is in accord with the policy announced by local business concerns and government offices.

JOHNSON GAINING

Drive Bears Fruit

AS THE days and weeks slip by and the "home stretch" period of Texas politics approaches, Congressman Lyndon Johnson's rip-roaring campaign for the U. S. Senate is bearing fruit from one end of Texas to the other. The vigorous young congressman from Austin is seeing the people. What is more important, he is telling the people what he is for and what he is against, and why. And backing up his progressive, forward-looking platform is his sparkling 11-year record in the national House of Representatives — a record which discloses his all around sanity, his fairness and his thorough grasp of national, international and domestic affairs.

The Johnson campaign—going right to the grass-roots of all parts of Texas—is pointing the way to a new day in Texas politics. Behind the energetic, 39-year-old veteran of the Congress are trooping not only the younger and more progressive elements of Texas' urban and rural population. Also in the Johnson camp, and swelling its number daily, are many of the older citizens whose sound thinking has caused them to realize that the state needs in the Senate a man young enough to stand up to the gruelling task; energetic and courageous enough to tackle any job which needs tackling.

Texans, more of them every day, are "looking ahead with Lyndon Johnson." In greater numbers, they are declining to "look behind" with other candidates who are already aging and whose experience can give them no conception whatever of the many-sided demands of the Washington post. As a result of the swing to Johnson, his suggestion of two weeks ago, that he might well win without an August run-off, is no longer in the category of a campaign claim. It is now a possibility—a possibility which will become a probability if Mr. Johnson can keep his statewide drive in the next three weeks apace with that of the past two.

It's Rodeo Time!

THIS is the rodeo season on the South Plains. Some dandies already have been held. Others lie in the future, all within easy driving distance of Lubbock.

For the information of the many newcomers in our city and area, the rodeos usually are the feature of an annual community celebration. They invariably offer many opportunities for an outing long to be remembered by those who attend.

Also for the information of the newcomers, the rodeos usually are of the highest quality. The fact that many are held attracts the very finest rodeo performers as competitors. The aggregate of their possible winnings is sufficient to interest the best. The competitive exhibitions seen at any of the numerous rodeos held each Summer on the South Plains will compare favorably with or surpass those anywhere, including New York's Madison Square garden.

So, if you've never seen a rodeo or are a rodeo fan, watch for the dates of those held in this area. A treat almost certainly will await all who attend any of them.

Burglars Can Read, ~~Too~~

The Innocent Impostor

By RENEE SHANN
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: After the party, Dwight and Roger take the twins home to Charlotte's flat. Roger tells Patience he'll be seeing her. Charlotte questions Patience about Paul. When she learns the story, she calls Patience a ninny for not standing up to her aunts, advises her to try and win him back. Patience should either write Paul—or waylay him on the train.)

XXII

PATIENCE slept on this advice. And awoke the next morning determined to take it. If Paul wasn't on the usual train then she'd wait and see if he was traveling down by a later one. She would go right up to him as he came along the station platform and tell him she wanted to talk to him. She would say: "I know it was my fault. You were right. I should have stood up to my aunts, and insisted I was going on seeing you. Well, I'm going to now. I don't care what they say. I'm so terribly in love with you, Paul, and I'm so utterly miserable without you that nothing else in the world matters."

But as the day wore on she realized how uncertain she felt that such a scene might really take place. Fifty things might prevent it. Paul might be with the blonde. She could hardly butt in on him then. Or he might be with some other friends. Or he might just cut her dead and refuse to have a word to say to her. Or there might be Roger Dickson—

There was indeed Roger Dickson. She saw him the moment she came out of the building with Peggy. And was astonished to find that until that moment she'd forgotten that he'd said he'd be meeting her. Peggy gaped, her eyes round as gooseberries.

"Patience, that's—why surely it's Roger Dickson!"

"I is. Want to meet him?"

Peggy gave a little excited squeak.

"I'll say I do."

Patience strolled over to where he stood waiting for her beside his long, low, gleaming car.

"Hello, Roger."

"Hello, darling! How are you after last night's dissipation?"

"I'm grand. Peggy, this is Roger Dickson. Roger—Peggy Cooper."

PEGGY gave a high-pitched giggle. "I was ever so thrilled when I found out that Patience knew you," she gushed.

Roger acknowledged her enthusiasm with a courtly bow. "The pleasure is mine, Miss Cooper," he said.

Patience glanced at her watch and said she'd have to be going. She'd a train to catch.

"A late train?" suggested Roger. "Oh, no. I've got to get back by my usual one this evening."

Peggy knew when to make herself scarce.

"Goodby, Mr. Dickson. It's been lovely meeting you."

She was gone, with a wave of her hand, and a flash of her ankles. Roger opened the door of his car.

"Get in," he said to Patience. "The tube's quicker. Traffic's always so slow at this time of the evening."

His face fell.

"After I've taken all the trouble to come and meet you!"

He looked at her gravely.

"Would the world come to an end?"

It wouldn't, of course. Besides there was Charlotte's advice that she should defy Aunt Helen. And her own growing determination that she was going to. But it wasn't that. Paul would more likely be on the six-thirty than on any other train this evening.

"Mine might," she said firmly.

He hesitated. Then he said resolutely: "All right. Get in. I'll see you catch it."

They slid through the London traffic, taking the back streets and reaching the station at six-twenty. He drew the car into the curb and turned to smile at her.

"Now say 'thank you' prettily."

"Thank you very much indeed," and Patience gave him a quick little smile that was entirely her own and not in the least like a smile of Charlotte's.

"STRANGE, but you're the first girl who's brought out the best in me," he said as they walked along the platform. "Because it would have been very easy indeed for me to see to it that you didn't catch this train."

Patience slid her arm through his, her heart suddenly warming towards him in the friendliest way possible.

"I think you're sweet, Roger," she said, utterly without guile.

"That's the way I feel about you. Listen, next time you're up, could you perhaps go back on a later train?"

She thought of Paul and her determination to do all she could to put things right between them.

"I—I don't know. Can't we sort of leave things as they are? I'll be running into you some time."

"You certainly will."

They passed through the barrier. Patience looked anxiously at the crowded carriages as they walked up the train, searching for a seat. Paul wasn't in any of them. But the blonde was hanging out of one of the windows. She too, no doubt, was looking out for him. And it was in a carriage next to hers that Roger found a corner seat for Patience.

"Here's a piece of luck. Grab it before someone else does."

She put her gloves, and the magazines he'd bought her, down on it, and stepped out again onto the platform. She looked up at the clock to see that in another moment now the train would be leaving. She thought: "Paul isn't going to be on it. I shan't see him. I shan't be able to try to explain about last night. I—"

And then at that moment she saw him hurrying through the barrier and walking quickly along the platform. And at that moment, too, Roger suddenly swept her into his arms and kissed her, hard and long, full on the lips.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

"WHEN are we going to return to normalcy?"

I have been asked that question a number of times of late, and I daresay that the same question has come up in your conversations.

Until the tenure of the late President Warren Harding, word "normalcy" had not been part of the average American's vocabulary.

BRANDEIS

He popularized it when he said in a speech at Boston in May, 1920:

"America's present need is not heroics but healing; not nostrums but normalcy."

What is normalcy? When are things normal?

According to my dictionary, normal means "according to an established norm, rule, principal, standard."

When have our standards ever been "established"?

When have things ever been permanent, regular,—normal?

Apparently things weren't normal in 1920, or Harding would not have made that speech.

Let us look at the record.

In 1920 we were suffering greatly from the effects of the first world war. People were kicking about high prices. Prohibition had become effective the year before and as a result, crime was rampant, drunkenness increasing day by day. It was the era of the "flapper" and parents were complaining bitterly about the waywardness of the younger generation. Only it was not called juvenile delinquency in those days.

Also in 1920 Frederick Parmenter, a shoe factory paymaster was robbed and shot to death. It was the crime for which Sacco and Vanzetti were put to death. Only in those days we were not nearly as communism-conscious as we are today.

"Well," you may say, "those certainly were not normal days."

All right, I'll agree.

What then were normal days?

We are having a lot of labor troubles. Abnormal? New?

In 1892—on July 6, to be precise—there was a terrific battle between 300 Pinkerton guards and thousands of strikers at the Homestead, Pa., steel mills. Seven guards and 11 strikers were shot to death, many wounded. The National Guard was called out and martial law was declared.

Normal?

AN election is in the offing.

Abnormal.

In July, 1863, 1,000 people were killed in draft riots in New York, many of them hanged by angry mobs. The property damage was two million dollars, a lot for those days.

My reference book remarks "It was asserted that the Republican officials in charge of the draft had stuffed the lists with names of Democrats."

When are we going to return to normalcy?

We are in the midst of normalcy right now.

Today is normal. Yesterday is gone. Tomorrow may never come —as thousands of cemetery crosses on Europe's battlefield can testify.

You buy today's food, pay today's rent, live today's living at today's prices with today's wages. That's normal. That's standard.

And that's enough.

GOP UNDER PRESSURE

Aid Program Okayed

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA — The Republican Party finally buried the international ghost that has haunted it for amost a generation, and oddly enough, it laid it to rest in the very city where the Founding Fathers declared their independence of England and foreign nations in general.

The G.O.P. here accepted the responsibilities for world action and cooperation which such non-political agencies as the atomic bomb, radio and the airplane impose upon a group of men who may be entrusted with control of the government next November.

TUCKER

It is not the platform alone which seeks to eliminate this great issue from the presidential campaign. In their speeches and private statements at Albany, Sacramento, Washington and elsewhere, and especially since they assembled here more than a week ago, responsible leaders of the party have conceded that there was no sensible alternative to general endorsement of the Truman-Marshall-Vandenberg program of far-flung aid to a still shattered universe, if only to prevent Russia from becoming the sole receiver in bankruptcy.

HAPPY: The Republicans, especially the more cautious Taft-Martin-Halleck faction, did not embark upon this enterprise in an altogether happy mood. They were persuaded and pressured into the experiment only reluctantly. Their reasons for bowing to the Vandenberg arguments are varied, but they are also compelling.

For one thing, they believe that it might be disastrous for them to hide behind isolation barriers at this hour in the world crisis. Such a choice at the current crossroads might prove as ruinous a burden to the G.O.P. as did the Democrats' support of slavery in 1860 and thereafter. It was against a historical as well as a political background that the problem was considered by the platform makers.

SUPPORT: There were also more immediate factors. Although the idea of advancing billions to Europe and other nations is not wildly popular in certain sections, especially the Middle West, it commands tremendous support in New England, along the Atlantic seaboard and among influential groups on the Pacific Coast.

It will make it easier for the money-getters to fill their bags among interests which recognize E.R.P. as one of the many moves which may help to rebuild world trade and finance. It will appeal to the humanitarian elements and the feminine bloc which President Truman had wooed so grandiloquently. Most important of all from the ballot-box standpoint, perhaps, it should ring the bell in the hearts of those of foreign descent whose kin's lot in the old country may be ameliorated by what the G.O.P. did here this week. It could win back many of the great metropolitan centers—New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit etc.—which contributed so heavily to Franklin D. Roosevelt's four triumphs.

SELFISHNESS: Tinged with the idealism which lay behind the shift was the same sort of political strategy and selfishness in which all organizations and individuals must indulge now and then if they wish to survive.

"We made a great mistake and may have changed history when we turned isolationist in 1920," said Resolutions Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge, whose grandfather headed the League of Nations dynamiting squad. "And we cannot afford to repeat that blunder. Besides, forgetting politics, I would not want that burden on my conscience."

As the Massachusetts Senator suggested, the party of Abraham Lincoln believes that it still has a conscience, or at least that it rediscovered that spirit in this historic shrine.

VULNERABLE: The shelving of all foreign disputes, in the opinion of the political planners, will enable the G.O.P. to concentrate its artillery on the Truman Administration's domestic record, where the Democrats are believed to be more vulnerable. And, despite the bigwags' decision in this matter, it is almost a truism that the vast majority of the several thousand delegates, alternates and hangers-on are far more interested in bread-and-butter concerns.

If they thought that they were paying outrageous prices for lodgings and food at home, they learned how tough things are for fellow-Americans in the great cities. Even allowing for the expected convention markups, and Philadelphia has behaved no worse than most cities, the bill for meat, bread, transportation, a hotel room and sundries was unbelievably high. Visitors from smaller towns and cities were constantly shocked at the lack of distance which a twenty-dollar bill would carry them.

Aside from inflation, which may become more severe with the coming of autumn and the election, the Republicans are now free to swing hard on shortages of many light and heavy commodities, general financial uneasiness, spotty business conditions, labor troubles and the general lack of a strong hand at Washington. In short, they think that they have picked their own battleground with an eye to their strength and the enemy's weakness.

CHANGES: The weary windup of a great national convention always sends veteran delegates and observers home with the distinct belief that a less hysterical and more orderly method of choosing a possible President and Vice President should be substituted for the present system, which has grown up in Topsy-like manner.

Although it may seem like heresy which J. Parnell Thomas would denounce as both "subversive and un-American," nobody who has attended many of these unique American carnivals will contend that they are democratic, logical or inspiring affairs. They are a combination of side-show, picnic and church revival.

SHOCK: Delegates present for the first time, as well as young reporters and visitors, suffer a severe shock as they watch how a national ticket is selected and how a platform is fixed up.

Although more than 2,000 delegates and alternatives arrive at the convention city with the comfortable conviction that they are to participate in the solemn ceremony of naming candidates for the two highest political posts in the land, they quickly discover that not more than a hundred men and women, sometimes only a handful, actually run the show.

The spectacle of the patient, obedient and bewildered delegates strolling through hotel corridors, parading the streets and listening to dull speeches and committee reports until the comparatively few manipulators make final decisions behind closed and well guarded doors, constitutes a travesty on so-called democratic processes. Few seem to realize it under the pressure of excitement, reunions and the usual entertainment, however.

Believe It Or Not-By Robert Ripley

CONSERVATIVE GROUP STILL ACTIVE

Dewey Still Facing Problems

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The Republican party, under its Dewey-Warren ticket, will close ranks for the campaign despite wounds left here and there by the denial of personal ambitious usual in every national convention and necessarily so, since everybody can't win.

The confidence of victory—and the Republican party has that—tends to bind up such wounds temporarily in a campaign, for everybody eventually gets something out of a party triumph that brings control of the national government.

STOKES

But the conservative, nationalist congressional clique that was brushed aside at its convention in its ticket and platform by Governor Dewey's leadership, with considerable assistance from Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, still occupies a powerful position in the actual process of government, as it demonstrated in the 80th Congress. That it is only biding its time is revealed by the comment of one prominent member of that group after it had been denied second place on the ticket, to wit:

"We'll go along in the campaign and do everything to carry the ticket to victory. But don't let anybody think that what has happened here has changed our convictions. We will continue to fight for them in Congress."

Poses Problem For Dewey

This poses a problem for Governor Dewey, assuming he will be elected. How aware he is of that problem is indicated not only in his conciliatory words and gestures at the convention but in careful plans for the campaign.

For example, at every opportunity he lauded the 80th Congress, to which he attributed a "remarkable record," and in his acceptance speech he named after appropriate words of praise all the men who had been candidates at the convention, including the rejected congressional leaders. That gave the supporters of each of those another and final opportunity to console themselves by blowing off steam in rousing cheers.

Also, the New York governor, in his first press conference after his nomination, took pains to emphasize that the selection of a vice-presidential candidate was by a committee of leaders who sat with him in a conference lasting several hours, at which every candidate or prospective candidate for second place had been consulted, either directly or through a representative. From that he went on to describe how, similarly, he worked with his own legislative leaders in Albany by holding dinner sessions once a week lasting several hours at which all views were sought in reaching policy decisions.

Of course, the Republican candidate's professions of modesty can not conceal the fact that his influence is predominant in all such decisions, for he would not have achieved his position of leadership otherwise. But his stress on the conference - compromise process as a foretaste of his plans for dealing with Congress is interesting in light of the problem that would confront him if elected. His technique recalls the comment to this writer by a Senate Republican leader after the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's first big conference with congressional leaders the night after he entered the White House when they faced the banking crisis:

"That man is interesting to watch. He started out to get a certain result. He let everybody talk. But he kept a straight line all the way through, interpolating politely here and there, and at the end they all came to the decision he wanted when he started. It was very skillful."

South Holds Power

Governor Dewey seemingly is up against a problem in his own party somewhat similar to that which constantly plagued the late Mr. Roosevelt and his successor in handling the southern Democrats in their party. Southern Democrats are elected regularly because of the one-party system and so, under the seniority rule in Congress, they move up to the key posts and acquire an influence far beyond their numerical strength in Congress.

Likewise, Midwest Republicans generally are assured long tenure because the Midwest is a bulwark of Republicanism in lean years and fat. Consequently they move up to the key posts and exercise controlling influence in the party, particularly in the House. They are even stronger there today because their general viewpoint is shared by the New Englander who is speaker, Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, and by the New Yorker who is chairman of the Appropriations committee, Rep. John Taber.

It is a powerful combination and Gov. Dewey may find it one of his chief problems when, and if, he gets to the White House. This explains the conciliatory course he has adopted now that he has got what he wanted in platform and running-mate.

Chicago Printers Reported To Have Accepted Wage Boost

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP) — A wage boost of $11.89 a week was reported yesterday to have been accepted by about 1,800 Chicago commercial printers.

A spokesman for Local 16 of the International Typographical Union said the members voted "about 1,300 to 300" to accept the raise, proposed by the Franklin association which represents the city's major job printing companies.

The new scale provides for $92 for 36¼ hours of day work a week, $97.08 for 36¼ hours of work of night work, and $97.08 for 32½ hours on the third shift starting about midnight.

The settlement involves the Commercial printers only. About 1,500 other members of the union are continuing their strike, now seven-months old, against the city's five major daily newspapers.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, June 28. (AP)—The stock market dropped 1 to 4 points today in one of the worst overall declines of the year.

Foreign developments were blamed almost entirely for the sudden weakness.

Turnover amounted to only 1,210,000 shares, one of the slowest sessions of the month.

Brokers interpreted this to mean that sluggish buying interest, rather than an aggressive campaign of selling, forced prices downward. Professional interests dominated the market, they added, with public participation small.

Rails, oils, steels, motors and metals took the worst beating.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 9 of one point to 70.4, the lowest level since July 7.

Union Oil of California closed 1½ points higher at 35½.

American Telephone managed a fractional gain, along with Lockheed, Distillers Corp.-Seagrams, and U. S. Rubber. Douglas Aircraft at 39 was ahead 2 points.

Down around a point or more were Skelly Oil 152, Ohio Oil 39, Pacific Western 55, Santa Fe 112¾, Southern Pacific 58⅞, U. S. Steel 80, Bethlehem 35⅞, General Motors 62⅞, J. I. Case 47⅞, Anaconda Copper 38⅛, and U. S. Gypsum 108½.

Evans To Speak In City

Roger Q. Evans was busy building up his gubernatorial campaign organization. He was in Austin headquarters Wednesday and planned to set up offices in Houston, Port Arthur and Orange this week. He will be in Dallas and Fort Worth Friday, and speak at a Lubbock rally Saturday night.

Stevenson emphasized his plea for lower taxes in a Port Arthur speech, and called for a United States strong enough "that we can look with a fishy eye at the men who tell us we ought to be afraid." He also hit at politicians who run for office on promises.

"I have always tried, as a candidate and public official, to avoid making any statements designed to stir up hatred, fear, personal animosity, or uneasiness among the people," Stevenson said.

Johnson at Goldthwaite proposed to bring back to Texas some 46 million dollars in federal government taxes taken out of Texas. The money, he said, would be used to build roads, aid education, light rural homes.

"We're going to bring the federal government back to Texas instead of taking anybody's court house to Washington," he said, jabbing anew at Stevenson's early campaign remark against "moving the Kimble county court house to Washington."

Johnson spoke from the air over Marble Falls, Cherokee and Kingsland. He was honor guest at Goldthwaite barbecue.

Plans Are Pushed

In the meantime, members of the Lubbock Exchange club, cosponsors with the Avalanche-Journal and Kuykendall Chevrolet company in staging the Derby, are rounding out preparations for their participation in the day's activities.

It is estimated that a crowd of from 10,000 to 15,000 persons will be on hand Monday morning at 10 o'clock as the race starts. Exchange club members are to handle the crowd, traffic, parking and other details.

The Exchange club will also have charge of concessions for the race and spectators are assured there will be plenty of cold drinks, hot dogs and other refreshments during the five or six hours required to run off the big race.

Dewey, Warren Plan Important Meeting On Campaign Today

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

PAWLING, N. Y., June 28—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Gov. Earl Warren, the G.O.P. 1948 standard bearers, will hold an important conference at the Dewey farm at Pawling tomorrow — their first "real chat" since they were nominated in Philadelphia.

Foreign and domestic policy, as well as their plans for an active campaign for election, are expected to be thoroughly discussed.

The California governor, accompanied by Mrs. Warren and their three girls—Virginia, 19, Dorothy, 17, and Nina, 14—will motor up from New York City to Pawling tomorrow morning.

Both Are Confident

The conference between Dewey and Warren is set to begin at 11:30 a.m.

Both are supremely confident of victory at the polls in November. Therefore, in addition to discussing the general outlines of the forthcoming Republican campaign they will, in all likelihood, go deeply into the subject of foreign policy.

Dewey and Warren are both "all out" in favor of the European recovery plan. Dewey has stated his approval of the Republican platform adopted at the convention in Philadelphia.

There is nothing in the foreign policy plank or in the records of the nominees to suggest that any attempt would be made to greatly change the present trend of American foreign policy.

On foreign aid, particularly for Europe, Dewey takes the position that the money should be used with the objective of bringing about a "United States of Europe."

Backed Aid Program

Both Dewey and Warren protested against slashing the amount of money destined for aid in European recovery.

Dewey, however, wants the money used in a practical manner and is against it being "frittered" away in an aimless program.

The presidential nominee has declared the United States should stop acting like "soft-headed saps" and see to it that the money is used realistically. He said we have spent twenty billion dollars on foreign rehabilitation and have little to show for it.

In consideration of foreign affairs, Dewey has worked in close harmony with his foreign adviser, John Foster Dulles, who has been in frequent contact with Senator Arthur H. Vandenburg of Michigan, head of the Senate Foreign Affairs committee.

Many persons believe Dulles is certain to be Secretary of State if Dewey is elected.

Favors Strong UN

Dewey has been in favor of a strong United Nations as a means of preserving peace. He was for the partition of Palestine, as recommended by the U.N.

At home, Dewey is in favor of a strong military force, he advocated universal military training and was for an enlarged air corps.

He believes the United States should be strong as it can possibly be—not for aggression but for defense.

He thinks the same should apply to the nations of Western Europe. He would like to see the western nations working together much as do the states in the United States—that is, without trade barriers and in harmony for mutual benefit.

Prior to his talkfest with Warren, Dewey was reported to be contemplating several transcontinental speaking trips. He was said to be under pressure to make appearances in Missouri, President Truman's home state, and in Oklahoma, West Virginia and Kentucky where Senate seats now held by Republicans are at stake.

Farm Cash Income Boosted During May

AUSTIN, June 28 (U.P.)—Texas farmers gained a cash income of $106,629,000 in May, nine per cent over the same month in 1947, the University of Texas bureau of business research said today.

The biggest item for the farmer was the sale of cotton, which brought $41,223,000 in May.

But while most farm products were showing boosts in income, decreases were registered for wool, sheep, eggs, corn, milk products, peanuts and fruits and vegetables.

Second ranking income for the month was in fruits and vegetables, which accounted for $13,225,000, while milk products netted $10,449,000.

Edwards Plateau farmers reported income of $12,471,000 in May, the red bed Plains district gained $15,992,000 and South Texas prairie farmers brought in $11,713,000.

Overall farm income increased three per cent over May, on marketing of calves, sheep, wool and flaxseed.

GOP CHAIRMAN—Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., (above) of Philadelphia, was reported by Rep. Clarence Brown (Ohio) to have been designated Chairman of the Republican National Committee. (AP Wirephoto)
