

for Want of a Nail

*For want of a nail, a shoe was lost;
For want of a shoe, a horse was lost;
For want of a horse, a rider was lost;
For want of a rider, a kingdom was lost.*

THROUGH the centuries this bit of philosophy has been used to bring home a fact we've all observed . . . how an insignificant event can lead to more and more important occurrences . . . and eventually to great calamities . . . or to great good.

Trade in Colorado City

. . . so your dollars will work longer for you

The casual purchase of a pair of shoes . . . a garden hose . . .
. . . an occasional chair . . . a tube of toothpaste . . . multiplied thousands of times . . . is the base upon which the prosperity of every community is erected.

Better-paying jobs, more profitable business, more valuable property . . . better schools, stronger churches, fuller living . . . depend on these thousands of little transactions . . .
each important as each brick is important in a great structure, and as the fabled nail was important to all the people of a great kingdom.

One drop of water out of the ocean makes the ocean smaller;
every penny of local money that is spent in some other town makes this community smaller and less prosperous . . . and every penny that is spent here at home means a little better living in a little better place to live for all of us who make our homes here.

FOR WESLEYAN GUILD

Christian Concerns Topic of Program

A panel discussion of "Christian Concerns of North Americans" was the highlight of a program Monday, Oct. 13, of the Wesleyan Service Guild of First Methodist Church.

Mrs. W. D. McClure and Mrs. J. W. Hill were co-hostess for the business meeting and program in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Mrs. Elmer Martin, program leader, presented the story of "The Good Samaritan" read-following topics: Mrs. Wilma Reynolds, The Caribbean Area; Mrs. Arnel Smith, Mexico; Miss Nelda Garrett, Churches in Canada.

Also, Mrs. Tommie Verner, Our Christian Neighbors in Alaska; Mrs. L. B. Elliott, Hawaii; Mrs. Myrtle Womack, The United States and Its Churches.

Mrs. H. E. Maniss, worship leader, presented the story of "The Good Samaritan" read-

Luke, preceding the panel discussion.

Mrs. Ethel Hardegree directed the meditation. She spoke of the Gospels translated into modern English, which uses the phrase—practical sympathy—to describe what the Samaritan gave, after the bandits had left their victim by the wayside. It cost the Good Samaritan something to offer practical sympathy. He went beyond what was expected of him, Mrs. Hardegree explained to the group.

The hostesses served pumpkin pie and coffee to Mrs. Roy Dozier, Miss Effie Copeland, Mrs. Verner, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Wilfred Fox, Mrs. Maniss, Mrs. Winnie Quinney, Mrs. Tom Glover, Mrs. Womack, Mrs. S. M. Wood, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Jo Wyatt, Mrs.

Rev. Sullivan Speaks To P-T-A Association

"Keeping Faith With the Younger Generation" was the devotion topic presented by the Rev. P. D. Sullivan for a meeting of the Westbrook Parent-Teacher Association.

Rev. Sullivan was introduced by Mrs. Mattie Hines at a regular meeting of the group, when they met recently in the lunchroom of the school.

Other features of the afternoon program included a film, "The Twentieth Century," shown by Earl Cook, principal. Also, musical selections were presented by Janella Williamson and Rita Sue Henderson. Mrs. Loyd Smith, P-T-A president, presided during the business session and the group voted to sponsor Girl Scouts again this year.

Announcements were presented concerning the forthcoming "Harvest Festival" scheduled for Nov. 21 at the school.

Highlights of the festival will be the crowning of a king and queen from Westbrook High School and a prince and princess from Westbrook Grade School. Votes for various candidates may be cast at a charge of one cent each. Any class of the school may participate in the Harvest Festival by entering and building a booth.

The executive committee of the P-T-A voted, at a recent meeting, to let the senior class use the coffee urn for their concessions.

The Westbrook P-T-A membership contest closed Oct. 15 and results of the number of new members of the organization will be announced at a later meeting.

FRIDAY, 7:30 P.M. IN SNYDER

Snyder Given Nod Over C-City in 3-AAA Opener

Snyder High School's powerful Tigers will be favored to romp over Colorado High Wolves Friday night in the District 3-AAA opener for both teams.

The 7:30 p. m. game is scheduled in Tiger Stadium. Snyder, with its line averaging almost 190 pounds and a host of speedy backs, has whipped Borger, Andrews, Big Spring and Midland while losing to Breckenridge and Levelland.

Pacing the Snyder backfield is halfback Dick Hayes, 170-pound speedster who has scored 50 points this season to lead all scorers in District 3-AAA.

In that same backfield are Jimmy Allen, 152, who has scored 16 points and fullback Paul Stanley, 165, who has racked up 26.

Brains of Snyder backfield is Dick Mahan, sharp 153-pound quarterback who has a keen passing eye and a swift hand for hand-offs.

The big and experienced Tiger line is anchored by all-district center Bill Rinehart, 190.

Running right beside Rinehart is Mickey McGrew, stocky 210-pounder who performed at fullback last year but moved into the line to plug up the gaps left by 1957 graduation.

Snyder Coach John Conley was counting heavily on all-district guard Gene Williamson but he got married and quit football.

But evidently that hasn't hurt the Tiger line with squadman Tom Minton, 190, filling in Williamson's post.

Tackles are Ronnie Giles, 203, and Terry Lee, 196, each a letterman from last year.

Kenneth Drake, 165, and Bob Brown, 160, a newcomer to the Snyder team, handle the end positions capably.

Sophomore John Weaver, 168, may see plenty of action since he's considered one of Snyder's better running backs.

Coach Homer Jefferson's Wolf team came out of the Andrews game in good physical condition. Halfback Freddie Womack was slightly injured but will be ready for Friday night's action.

Fullback Dickie Richardson, out since the Kermit game with a leg injury, may see limited action.

Jefferson will give converted end James Shoemaker the starting role at fullback. The 172-pound senior will join Lucky Merket, 140, and Womack 138, in the running department for the Wolves. Don Welter, switched from quarterback to halfback, will give the Wolves added strenght at halfback.

Junior Jay Shimer will start at quarterback with relief from sophomore Jerry McKay.

The Wolf line will feature Schoolcraft, 142, and Phillip Bates, 155, at ends. Bates, a sophomore, was moved up to the starting terminal position when Shoemaker was pulled into the backfield.

Ken Simmons, 194, and Raymond Weaver, 184, will start at tackle while Bobby Caffey, 182, and Larry Hardcastle, 170, hold down the guard positions. Rumaldo Lujan, 180, will complete the starting forward wall at center.

Jefferson said this week that if the Wolves are able to hold the swift Snyder backs during the first half, they stand a good chance to whip the Tigers.

"We can't do like we did at Andrews — let the opposition get 30 points ahead before we start playing ball," the Wolf head coach added.

At Andrews, the Mustangs were able to score only one touchdown the last half, that coming in the last minute of play, after chalking up four the first half.

LAST NON-CONFERENCE GAME

Brice & Mustangs Throttle C-City Wolf Gridmen, 36-0

Four touchdowns in the first half spelled defeat for Colorado High Wolves as they dropped a 36-0 non-conference grid game to Andrews Saturday night.

Playing before an Andrews homecoming crowd, the Mustangs romped for two touchdowns in the first and second quarters.

Wolves tightened down their defense the last half to hold the power-packed Mustangs to one lone touchdown.

It was a swift pack of running backs led by Ronnie Brice, plus a big and mobile Andrews line that did the damage.

Brice, the potential all-state quarterback, lateralled to halfback Tommy Walker for a 23-yard scoring run in the first quarter. Brice skirted end for the two-point conversion.

Walker sprinted 12 yards for the Mustangs' second TD with Brice again circling end for the two-pointer.

End and Fullback

Joe Comanche raced across the goal line from 12 yards out on an Andrews spread play and Brice rammed over the points after.

Brice completed the first half scoring with a two-yard plunge to hand the Mustangs a 30-0 halftime advantage.

A pass from Bill Betenbough to Ted Nelson accounted for the last Andrews touchdown in the final quarter.

Colorado City's ground and air attack netted a 3 yards Wolves had three of their eight pass attempts intercepted by the alert Mustang secondary.

The C-City pass defense allowed five completions in 12 attempts for a total of 118 yards.

Wolves were hampered greatly by 11 penalties for a total of 110 yards.

FIRST AND SECOND PLACES

McMullens Win Top Places In Picking Grid Winners

The McMullen family dominated the Record's football guessing contest the past week.

James E. (Moon) McMullen took first place with 11 correct selections out of the 12 game field and picked a key score of Andrews 38, C-City 0, only two points off the actual score of 36-0.

McMullen's daughter, Janet Earle, followed her father's selections right down the line but picked a key score of 45-0 good enough to win second place.

First prize was two reserve seat tickets to the Hardin-Simmons vs. Wichita University game Saturday night in Abilene. Second prize was a one-year subscription to the Record.

The only game they missed was the Rice upset of S. M. U.

Winning third place was Willie O. Davis of Snyder, who missed the same game and had a key score of 31-6. He wins two movie passes.

Tieing for fourth place were Mrs. R. A. (Buddy) Moore, 1120 Walnut and Jimmy House, 845 E. 6th. They each win two movie passes. They too, missed the Rice-S. M. U. game.

Five other persons missed only one game — the Rice, S. M. U. tilt — Jerry C. Putnam of Westbrook, Maberry Willbanks, Wm. L. Penny, Glenn Thomas and Mrs. Pat Shields, last weeks winner. They were all further off on the key score.

Winning honorable mention for 10 correct picks were Mrs. J. V. Bolin Jr., Jerry Lady, Jess Bolin Sr., John Galey, Rhodes Arnold of Roscoe, Mrs. Maberry Willbanks, Mrs. Jess Bolin Sr., Ocie Lambeth, Steve Smith, Mrs. Al Byrd, John

Charles Arnold of Roscoe, Hoyt Roberts of Westbrook, R. A. (Buddy) Moore and Gene Garner.

This week's contest may prove to be the toughest of the year. Games that have a strong possibility of going either way are ACC at Southwest Texas State, McNeese State at McMurry (Monday night game in Abilene), Texas A&M at Baylor, Texas at Rice, Georgia at S. M. U., Wisconsin at Ohio State and Purdue at Notre Dame.

Key game is C-City's conference debut at Snyder while Sweetwater goes to Lamesa in the only other District 3-AAA contest.

First prize is two reserve seat tickets to the Texas Tech vs. Arizona game Nov. 8 in Lubbock.

Entry blanks should be brought to the Record office by 5 p. m. Friday or mailed prior to 7:30 p. m.

Browns-Cards Meet In Sunday TV Tilt

The pace-setting Cleveland Browns, winners in last Sunday's tilt with Pittsburgh, take on the Chicago Cardinals in Sunday's televised professional football game. The Cardinals will be fresh from an upset victory over the powerful New York Giants.

If Lamar McHan's right elbow has healed completely, the Cards stand a chance of upsetting the Eastern Division leaders. It is expected that the famous Razorback will get good assistance from other former Southwestern grunts, including John Crow and Bobby Joe Conrad.

The Browns seem to be doing all right with their Rookie Bob Mitchell and Fullback Jim Brown. Milt Plum, the Penn State ace, is gaining considerable confidence in the pro ranks, and will probably see more action on Sunday.

Only One Word For The Fair: Success

One word, success aptly describes the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce effort for reviving the annual Mitchell County Fair.

Any person who joined the throngs in the spectator packed Civic House and National Guard Armory Friday night knows exactly the degree of success attained in the two-day fair program.

There were numerous doubts about the fair prior to its actual opening. In fact, the doubts had been built up in the minds of local citizens over a long period of years. And more than once in late years, those same doubts had caused plans for revival of the fair to be turned aside and abandoned more than once.

But the fine response for leadership in planning and staging the fair, the interest of citizens and firms for entries and exhibits at the fair, the quick cooperation of organizations for operating concessions, plus the splendid spectator interest—all erased those doubts and stamped the fair as program to be welcomed for years to come.

In fact, the business firms of Colorado City should be demanding the annual continuance of the fair. For the 3,500-person attendance and the registration of more than 1,000 persons in one evening at a single commercial booth emphasizes the importance of the fair to the retail industry of this community.

The plain fact of success for the 1953 fair, however, rests squarely on the shoulders of the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee which decided to have a try with the fair.

gardless of time, conditions or doubts. The committee, chairmaned by Elmer Martin, received fine assistance from farm agencies here in Colorado City, from the county agents and individuals like Mrs. C. C. Thompson and Mrs. J. S. (Jay) Craddock Jr.

But more than any other person, Chamber of Commerce Manager Ernie Larmer, had more to do with the fair success than any one individual. And while he was guiding and coordinating all fair committees and projects, he also was the man behind-the-scenes for Mitchell County United Fund's 1953 finance campaign, the organization of Colorado City's fall and Christmas shopping promotion, the staging of Oil Progress Week observances and dozens of other jobs originating out of his Chamber of Commerce office.

Our Opportunity

Hundreds of citizens—your next door neighbor or your business friend across the street—are now conducting one of Mitchell County's finest programs.

They are at the busiest stage of the finance drive for Mitchell County United Fund. They seek in one, concentrated campaign to obtain pledges and funds for nine deserving agencies in health, welfare and character-building programs.

These volunteers are soliciting for United Fund because their belief in its worthiness, the essential goodness of the agencies United Fund finances. At the same time, they know the value to the community as a whole for putting the finance campaigns of all nine agencies into one roundup, thus saving time and money for individuals and firms.

Put more than that, even. United Fund is all-community embracing. It offers the opportunity for all citizens to participate, to contribute—allowing an individual to designate his entire contribution for just one agency, if he chooses.

So let's call United Fund exactly what it is: An opportunity for all citizens. Then, let us all make the best of it.

SHIFT IN INDUSTRY

New Era Definite For Agriculture

Almost two out of every five Texans are engaged in agricultural production or in supplying machinery and other farm and ranch needs or in processing and distributing farm and ranch products.

This amounts, says John McHaney, extension economist, to approximately 40 per cent of the State's population. It is true, he points out, that 34 per cent of all Texans lived on farms in 1940 compared with only 11 per cent today, but this in no way means that agriculture is of less importance.

Today 11 per cent of those engaged in agriculture are classified as suppliers as compared to four per cent in 1940 and 18 per cent process and distribute farm products compared with only seven per cent in 1940.

THIS SHIFT IS of great importance, says the economist, for it means that others are now doing jobs which once were performed in a large measure by the producer. It has added efficiency to the industry and permitted the producer to concentrate on production. In 1940 the average farm in Texas consisted of 367 acres. Today's farm contains over 500 acres and is highly commercialized with thousands of dollars invested in capital operation.

Farmers are buying more items in town and marketing more agricultural products than ever before in history but it must also be remembered, says McHaney, that costs of operation are also much higher.

THE SELF-SUFFICIENT farm is no more. Texas farmers and ranchmen annually go to the market place for about $59,000,000 worth of machinery; $106,000,000 worth of petroleum products; spend $44,000,000 for construction materials; $18,000,000 for pesticides; $31,000,000 for lime and commercial fertilizers; $221,000,000 for feed and approximately $884,000,000 for other goods and services.

Such business transactions, says the economist, are very important to the entire economy of Texas.

Because about 96 per cent of the total agricultural production goes into the channels of industry and business, town and city dwellers benefit, says McHaney, for this production passes through many hands before finally reaching the consumer.

BIBLE COMMENT

Unity Evidenced At Pope's Death

The unity of Christians and Jews throughout the world was brought into focus sharply by the death of Pope Pius XII. Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders, heads of state and most Canterbury, leader of the Anglican Church of England, and Dr. Norman Smith, president of the British Methodist Council.

In East Germany, deep in the grip of communism, church bells tolled every 15 minutes after the Pope's death, as a constant reminder to their congregations of their loss.

THE NATIONAL Council of Churches, representing most of the Protestant denominations in the United States, called "deepest sympathy" to the College of Cardinals and to Roman Catholics everywhere.

The Synagogue Council of America, in what it said was an unprecedented action, drafted a message of condolence to the Roman Catholic world.

Other messages of sympathy came from other far-flung points of the globe: Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker; Australian Labor party leader H. V. Evatt; the Rt. Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of New York; the Archbishop of unusual for our time, these men stood together, bridging oceans, and political religious leanings, to mourn the passing of a man who worked for peace in our age until he was called to his final rest.

From such an exhibition of devotion to the cause of peace and good will, religious leaders have set an example to their congregations everywhere.

These who would emphasize the differences rather than the common goals of the world's great creeds must be reminded by this singular action that the measure of a man rests upon his contribution to humanity.

State Hale-Aiken Committee Reverses Federal Aid Stand

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Austin is up to its ears in opinions and pronouncements as the pre-legislative debate of state issues blows through the city. Taxes and schools are leading topics.

Committees, study groups and associations, both public and private, come to town, hold a meeting, hear speakers and, usually, pass some recommendations. They are part of the sifting, sounding out and solidifying of thinking that precedes a legislative session.

ON SECOND thought, yes—Hale-Aiken committee reconsidered and reversed its previous stand that Texas schools should not take federal aid for lunch rooms and vocational education.

New statement, passed 11 to 8, was offered by Ed Ray, San Antonio Express-News editor. It affirmed the committee's belief in state control of education but said it did not feel this would be lost by accepting federal aid for lunches, vocational education and for large numbers of children brought into a district by federal activities.

It also endorsed the desirability of the federally-financed activities covered by the National Defense Education Act.

Hale-Aiken Committee of 24 lawmakers, educators and other citizens was set up by the Legislature to advise it on public school needs and problems. Some six weeks ago it stirred up a hornet's nest by recommending that Texas quit accepting several million dollars a year in federal school aid.

Arguments, pro and con, flared over the state, and many legislators were rendered uncomfortable by the necessity to take a stand. In many cases, the lawmakers disapproved federal centralization in principle but were hesitant to get in a position where they might be accused of taking milk from the school kids.

Hale-Aiken Committee also gave final approval to a recommended program of public school improvements. It would raise school costs by about $112,000,000 a year—mostly for teacher salary raises, sick leave, building upkeep and transportation.

CALLS FOR BIG TAX—A meeting of the Texas Association of School Boards was the sounding board for more ideas on school financing.

Only a state income tax or general sales tax can produce enough revenue to cover school program improvements, a spokesman for the Texas State Teachers Association told the meeting.

TSTA—man L. P. Sturgeon said other taxes proposed thus far would hardly get the state treasury out of the hole, let alone cover new needs.

School Board members also heard Dr. B. F. Pittenger, one-time dean of the University of Texas College of Education, say he had felt for 30 years that public schools need "a considerable amount of federal aid."

Also urged by Dr. Pittenger: more discipline in school, more attention to students "most highly endowed with brains."

NO FAT, THEY SAY—Gov. Price Daniel's request that state department heads try to pare down their budget requests for the next two years brought no dramatic tax-saving slashes.

General reaction of the department heads was that they were already being as economical as they could be and still maintain the services expected of them.

Altogether the requests totaled $225,000,000 more than is being spent during the present two-year period. But some are, indeed, "not cuttable" under present law. Biggest increase—$90,000,000—is for public schools whose costs go up automatically with the number of students. Similar unavoidable increases occur in welfare, highway and retirement costs.

In other areas, department heads declare there is "no fat" in their budgets.

FORMULA FOR COLLEGES—Commission on Higher Education has adopted two major policies on division of students and funds among the state's 18 colleges and universities.

Better Selling Is Key to Progress

By JOE ED BOATRIGHT
Record Advertising Mgr.

"We need advertising to advance the standard of living of our American population to a level more nearly in line with our production capacity."

This is the opinion of Dr. G. Herbert True, noted lecturer and Notre Dame University professor.

Dr. True's studies show that we could enjoy a standard of living much higher than we actually have if American business could do a better job of selling.

"ADVERTISING OFFERS our only hope to build and keep the kind of high level consumption we must have to maintain our growing productivity," he says.

Improvements in our standard of living can take place only if Americans change their habits and their level of demand for the great variety of goods and services which the American system is capable of producing, according to Dr. True.

Advertising is the activating force which can bring about such changes.

Dr. True points out that advertising is the most effective weapon which can be used against a depression caused by over-production.

"We have a productive capacity well above present levels in America. If we raise our sights in advertising and selling."

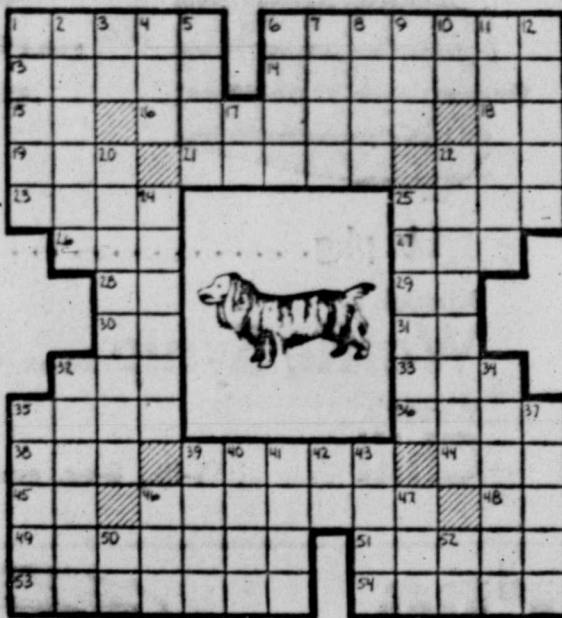

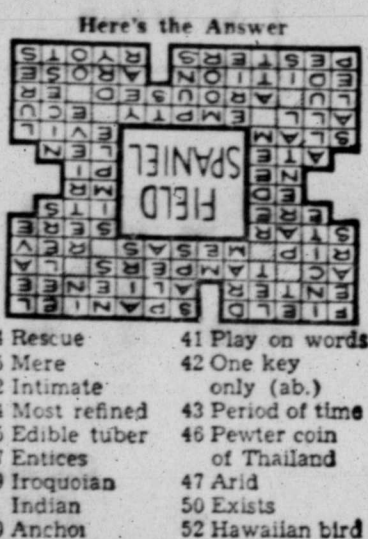

HOWEVER, WHEN advertising is not aggressive and effective consumer buying is postponed. Production bogs down and the entire economy suffers.

Thus, advertising of a worthy product or service serves more than the profit interests of the businessman. It makes an important contribution to our economy in "educating many people to enjoy the higher standard of living justified by our national resources."

Moon Better Be Careful of Man

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek claims to be worried this week, but we doubt it.

Dear editor, In all this excitement over trying to get a rocket to the moon, most people seem to be concentrating on the sheer fact of getting one there, while some of us deeper thinkers have been concentrating on other aspects of the matter.

There's no point in rushing into space or a farming year without first doing some heavy thinking.

I read the other day where a scientist is deeply concerned about man's contaminating the moon with radiation and possibly disease germs, and he wants the explorers to go easy on this. Maybe circle the moon, but don't land.

I don't know anything about germs, except they're the biggest friend a doctor has in explaining some forms of virus sickness he can't explain otherwise, but germs aren't the only thing we ought to be worrying about when it comes to contaminating the moon or any of the other planets. Take Johnson grass. The last thing man wants to do, if he's planning on colonizing the moon, is get Johnson grass started up there, not to mention all sorts of weeds, mosquitoes, ants, chiggers, wasps, motor scooters, etc.

Also, some scientists are worried about the effect the impact of a rocket may have on the moon if one hits it, and one is liable to if they keep shooting in that direction. It's sort of like a woman who talks all the time. Sooner or later she's bound to say something accurate.

But it's not the shock of a rocket hitting the moon that concerns me. As I see it, if we reach it, sooner or later we'll find some people there, and then later on somebody will want to bring in a car, and if we get as many as two up there, they'll bound sooner or later to hit head-on. If the moon can't stand sudden impacts, it's doomed.

In fact, come to think of it, if we want to avoid contaminating the moon completely, we'd better not land any people there at all.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

New Features for '59 Ford Trucks

Ford's 1959 line of trucks introduces new economy, durability, styling and driver comfort features in a full range of 371 models.

"SEND AWAY GLOOMY FEARS"

Authors' Name Below

In ancient days, as soon as people became sick, most of them immediately gave up hope and prepared for the end. Positive cures were almost unknown. One really had to be very lucky to recover.

Nowadays we have many medicines that can be depended upon to give positive help. Physicians know more about the cause of most diseases. They prescribe from the thousands of different drugs pharmacists stock, the one that will help most. They are no longer restricted to the few they can carry in their bag or office. Do not fear any sickness, just visit your physician quickly.

YOUR PHYSICIAN CAN PHONE RA 8-3484 WHEN YOU NEED MEDICINES

Pick up your prescription if shopping near us, or let us deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with the responsibility of filling their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

The new Ford Trucks are now on display here in Colorado City at Craddock-Witten. Ford's new four-wheel drive models, which will be available soon, in the F-100 and F-250 series, will cruise along the highway in two-wheel drive, or pull through deep mud, snow or sand when shifted into four-wheel drive.

Equipped with the optional 292 V-8 engine, the new four-wheel drive trucks in the F-250 series will climb grades of more than 60 per cent.

Another new truck model Ford introduces this year is the tilt cab tandem. Ford sold more tilt cab models in 1958 than any of its competitors. The new model combines the serviceability and advantages of the tilt cab with the proven features of the powerful tandem axle and chassis.

New front-end styling of the 1958 Ford Trucks includes a new hood on lights and medium, new "floating type" grille with a horizontal design, new rectangular parking lights mounted in the grille area, under the safety twin headlights and on the light trucks, a new contoured integral bumper with a center recess area that protects the license plate.

A new Ford nameplate is superimposed on a broad anodized aluminum strip across the front of the hood of light and medium trucks.

A new tractor package for heavy and extra heavy duty Ford trucks includes ICC-approved air brake and electrical connections, hand-control valve, tractor protection valve and dash control, clearance light, trailer circuit breaker and relay, emergency stop light switch and turn signals.

Custom cabs in the 1959 Ford trucks feature brighter interiors for greater driver appeal, including a two-tone instrument panel that blends with the side panel colors, white life-guard steering wheel with bright metal horn ring, candy-striped seat upholstery color-keyed to the cab's exterior colors, two sun visors, foam rubber seat pad and seat back pad, and an arm rest on

Popular In Ford Fleet

The popular F-100 pickup is one of 371 Ford truck models available for 1959. Dual headlights and new Ford nameplate on hood are standard features on the pickup models now on display here at Craddock-Witten.

Wallace Motors Shows De Soto '59 Models

New 1959 De Soto models, marking the firm's 30th anniversary in automobile manufacturing — are on display at Wallace Motor Company, 1213 E. Highway 80.

In its 30 anniversary line of 18 models in four series, De Soto at Wallace Motors is offering swivel seats, push button air conditioning and heating with its push-button transmission.

And the fin-shaped "forward look" styling has culminated in a design which makes the 1959 model more massive and eye-appealing in appearance.

Along with these features, the sports-type Adventurer engine, delivering 350 horsepower, is available for the first time on all models.

Thirteen accessories which were optional equipment last year have been made standard on many De Soto models, including power brakes and power steering which are now standard on Firelite and Adventurer models. Safety cushion instrument panel is standard on Firelite and Adventurer models.

Push-button three-speed Torqueflite transmission is standard on Firelite, Firelite and Adventurer models. Other extra accessories which now become standard on certain models: wheel covers, plastic steering wheel, front and rear floor carpets, airfoam cushions, electric clock, color sweep moulding, handbrake warning light, windshield washers, and back-up lights.

Another new feature on the 1959 De Soto is Level-Cruise air suspensions, available with Torsion-Aire. The latter is standard on all models. Air suspension ride adds air springs to the rear suspension to achieve automatic car leveling under all load conditions.

New styling gives De Soto a lower and wider appearance. Outstanding styling features include new massive integrated two-section front bumper with a long horizontal air scoop dividing lower and upper section; eyebrow dual headlamps, and a new sculptured roof line on four-door hardtop models which adds 3 1/2 inches to leg room and 1 3/4 inches to headroom.

Running the length of the car and flaring upward is a broad new spear-like color sweep. It is also available with a fluted anodized aluminum insert.

Full styling treatment has been given the rear of the New De Soto, incorporating an integrated rear bumper. The trademark of the De Soto Division, its tree-tiered tail-lights, has been retained for the fourth consecutive year.

De Soto is offering 18 models in four series, Firesweep, Firelite, Firelite and the limited production Adventurer. The Adventurer series is available only in the two-door hardtop and the convertible.

The swivel seat, provides individual accommodations for both the driver and the front-seat passenger. Each seat pivots outward in a 40-degree arc to facilitate ease of entry and exit. A pull-down padded arm rest divides the swivel seats.

After opening the car door,

Spikes Returns to Knox City Home

Mrs. Fay McCollum and Miss Gladys Spikes accompanied their brother, Howard Spikes, to his home in Knox City after he had visited at Loraine last week with them and their mother, Mrs. J. E. Spikes.

Also visiting here Sunday with Mrs. Spikes were her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burr Brown of Coahoma, and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sarg Spikes of Snyder.

McAlister Began With Lone Van

From one small van in 1950, McAlister Van Lines, Inc., has grown during the succeeding years to the point that the firm now operates warehouses in four cities and 17 vans of its own, plus a number of additional leased units.

"The growth has resulted from the widespread acceptance of the sincere, conscientious service which has been the keynote of the firm since it was organized by O. A. McAlister in 1950," Bob McAlister, vice-president of the corporation said.

Now a family owned corporation, the firm has O. A. McAlister as its president; his son, Bob McAlister, as vice-president; and another son, Theodore McAlister, as secretary-treasurer. Bob McAlister, who was manager of the firm's Sweetwater office until August this year, is now general manager of the three West Texas offices of Snyder, Sweetwater, and Colorado City. O. A. McAlister and Theodore McAlister, who came into the business in 1953 after graduation from Columbia University, are guiding the expansion of the South Texas phase of the firm's operation from the office in San Antonio.

In July, McAlister purchased the firm of Talley Transfer and Storage Co. of San Antonio. Talley Transfer has been, during the past decade, one of the leading moving concerns in South Texas. "It was with pride that McAlister added the large volume of business and the competent personnel from the Talley organization to its own. The goal of everyone is the firm is to continue the same spirit of personalized service which has typified McAlister's operation from the beginning," Bob McAlister said.
