

Gas Users, BEWARE!

Members of Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association have been alerted by their attorney, John Aiken of Hereford, that an opinion has been handed down for Federal Power Commission that may pose a threat to South Plains farmers.

Farmers gas usage has been changed from Commercial Priority, Number 2, to Industrial Priority, Number 3. This means, according to a spokesman, that gas usage might be halted during the busy summer irrigation season.

A meeting of Gas Users Association has been set for Monday, Mar 3 at 7 p.m. in Holiday Inn, Plainview, to consider this ruling.

Olton Board members, named by the Hereford office, are Elmer McGill and Raymond Lewis.

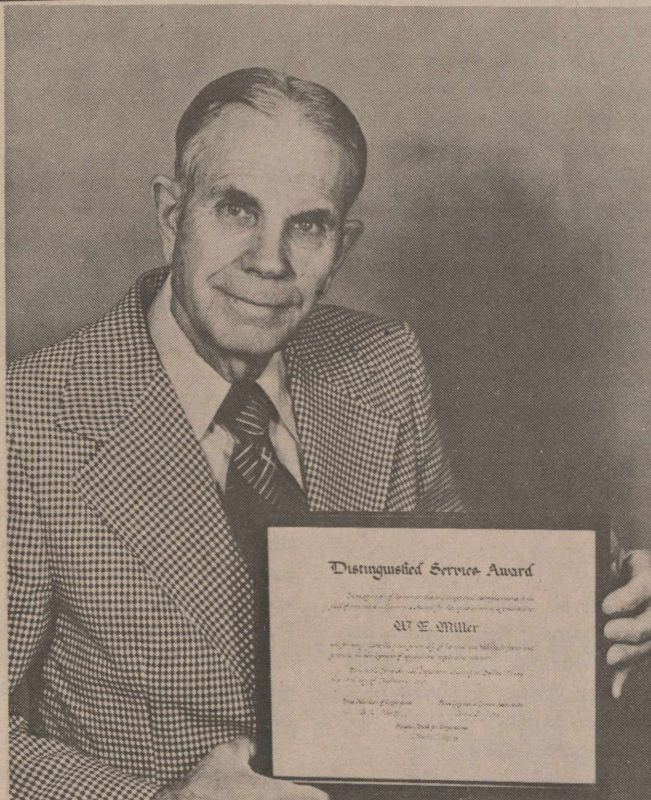

Persons interested in attending the Monday night dinner meeting may contact Amos Walden for reservations.

Tax Office Rated 'AA'

Olton Independent School Tax Assessor-Collector Virginia Moss was notified recently that the school tax office had earned the "AA" rating, according to standards set up by the Texas School Assessors Association.

Outstanding key areas noted were the fact that the staff "is knowledgeable and well trained, planning and organization is superior, appraisal program is good, maps are good and delinquent tax collections are efficient."

In continuing praise, the association stated, "Mrs. Moss is one of the most progressive and knowledgeable assessors in the State. Your tax office is in good hands."

W.E. "DOC" MILLER

Miller Receives Honor In Texas CoOp Meeting

Local farmer, W.E. "Doc" Miller was one of two area men honored last week at the 23rd joint annual meeting of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives, Houston Bank for Cooperative and Texas Cooperative Ginners Association. Also honored by John F. Herzer, general manager of Plains Cooperative Oil Mill of Lubbock.

Miller, who has farmed near Olton since 1930, has served as president and vice president of PCOM and is a director and member of the mill's executive committee.

A member of Lamb County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee since 1960, he was recently re-elected to a three-year ASCS term. He is a trustee of High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway and has been a member and director of Farmers Cooperative Association of Springlake since 1952. He is a member of the Olton Grain Cooperative and Dimmitt Agri-Industries.

An alternate board member of National Cotton Council, Miller is on the board of Cotton Incorporated. He helped organize Plains Cotton Cooperative Association and Growers Seed Association. He is a director of Texas Federation of Cooperatives.

Miller is a member of Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and is a deacon in First Baptist Church. He teaches a Sunday School class for ten-year-old boys.

Miller and his wife, Bert, are parents of one son, Elza, who farms here, and three daughters, Mrs. Dub (Nova) Holley of Hart, Mrs. Ronnie (Liz) Ball of Arlington and Mrs. Terri Sopher, a student at Texas Women's University, Denton.

The Millers have seven grandchildren, Suzanne, Daryl, Doug and Dana Holley; Wendi Ball and Stephanie and Nikki Miller.

Local Elections Slated; Deadline For Filing Near

A check with city officials and school officials Friday morning indicated that there was more interest in the city election than the school election, both slated April 5. Filing for one of three vacancies on the school board was one lone contender, Leslie Kennedy Jr.

Terms of Royce Collins, Uil Gunter and Elmo Bryant expire this year. Filing deadline is March 4, 5 p.m. Filing for mayor's post in the city election is K.Y. Givens, who has been serving as a city alderman for the past several years. His term as councilman expires this year.

Others making a bid for councilmen spots include Raymond Powers, who has served and is seeking re-election; Larry Garvin and Stephen Smith, each filing for councilman.

Elections will be held April 5, with deadline for placing names on ballots in each election set for March 4, 5 p.m.

Grandson Of Oltonite Wounded In Midland

Larry Bledsoe, grandson of Mrs. Era May Walthall and Mrs. J.O. Bledsoe, is "holding his own" in the intensive care unit of Odessa Medical Center Hospital where he was taken after being shot late Wednesday night.

A member of the Midland Police Department, Bledsoe and other Midland officers were trying to apprehend a felony theft suspect when the shooting occurred.

Bert Louis Sabvino, 25, the suspect, was shot and killed after refusing to surrender and firing five shots at Bledsoe and a fellow officer, Doug Glover.

The Midland officers had been called by a woman acquaintance of Sabvino's that she believed he was hiding out in her home. The woman had been visiting several days with her parents.

Arriving at her home, the officers found the suspect in the attic and when he refused to surrender, attempted to crawl into the attic to apprehend him. He fired five shots with a .22 caliber pistol with two shots striking Bledsoe in the right chest.

Bledsoe and Glover returned fire and the suspect was apparently killed immediately. Bledsoe, after being struck by the bullets, fell through the attic into the hallway below.

The injured policeman is the son of Jean and James Bledsoe of Odessa.

New Feature Begins Today

A new feature begins this week in The Enterprise, aimed primarily at the youth of the city. Written by the youth director of Main Street Church of Christ, Rex Boyles, the article will appear each week with bits of wisdom and wit.

Even though the attention of the youth is sought, the older generation will find it very informative also. So be sure and look on page two and read the new feature.

Open House To Be Held At School Next Week

Texas Public Schools Week will be observed March 3 to 7, according to Joe Turner, superintendent.

Open House will be held Monday, March 3 in the local schools. Opening session for the event will be a short band concert beginning at 7 p.m.

The Mustang Band will be performing in the school cafeteria under the direction of Fred Stockdale.

Parents and visitors are urged to begin their visit with the concert, after which all classrooms will be opened and visitors will be welcome.

Classroom visitors will be welcome throughout the week, according to the administrator.

Church Schedules Trio

Monterey Singers Trio of Lubbock will be presented by the Olton Church of the Nazarene Sunday, March 2, in the morning service at 10:45 and the evening service which begins at 6 o'clock.

A basket lunch will be served in the Fellowship Hall at the noon hour. The Trio will conduct the entire program Sunday evening. They were slated to be in Olton last Sunday but their appearance was postponed because of the snow storm.

Rev. Richard Cook, pastor of the Olton Church, invites everyone to attend these worship hours.

Ag Building Rules Determined By Board

Rules and regulations regarding the use and care of the new agricultural community building have been drawn up by the officials in charge of the building, according to Dewey Hukill, president of the Olton Stock Show Board.

Person wishing to use the building, who qualify, must contact K.Y. Givens at Givens Texaco. A calendar is in his business for the purpose of recording the dates for which the building is being requested for use.

6. Rental fee is $25.00 per meeting or per day, payable upon signing this contract.

7. There will be no athletic events in the building.

8. The individual who signs for the building is responsible and liable for the building and to see that all the above rules and regulations are strictly adhered to.

'Adopted American' Memories Of Japan Shared

By Mrs. John H. Baumgardner

(Editor's note: John H. Baumgardner of Halfway, professor in the school of agriculture of Texas Tech University, returned home early in February after spending six months in Japan as supervisor in the construction of a model feed lot by the U.S. Feed Grain Council. He spent Christmas in Holland visiting with a brother who was there on Sabbatical leave from Purdue University and then went to Poland to aid in an advisory capacity in a program to recycle feed lot manure. From Poland, Baumgardner then traveled to Rome for a similar service.

Mrs. Baumgardner jotted down notes for the Enterprise to relay some of her husband's impressions. Her account takes the reader on a delightful visit with Baumgardner and we could not find ourselves re-writing what she had intended to be mere notes.)

John's feed-lot consultant work sent him to the more remote areas where he had to adjust from the very beginning to Japanese ways.

The U.S. Feed Grains Council's model feed-lot is located on the southernmost island, Kyushu, in the vicinity of Kagoshima. Here the people have seen few Americans.

Of course, only Japanese is spoken, so John had to learn the way of chop sticks fast or starve to death. All food is cut into bite-sized pieces so there is no need for knives and chop sticks pick up the bites quite easily.

Soups and noodles are "slurped" from bowls, the more noise one can make while slurping the more enjoyable the food seems to be. The interpreter told John several times that he needed to make more noise when he ate, as anyone who eats without sounds might be considered odd.

Fish is served raw in slices and when dipped in the various sauces is quite tasty. The Japanese diet is a good one nutritionally - no food value lost in long cooking or storage and most foods are eaten almost raw.

One of the nicest customs, before food is served, each guest is provided a hot towel, in winter; a cold towel in summer, to wipe the face and hands before eating. This John liked very much because there are no wash basins in the baths or "powder rooms" - we're talking here of Japanese hotels or public places, of course.

There is one LARGE tub (accommodate 15 to 20 people, if necessary) in most Japanese hotels, but not for washing, just for relaxing. Hot spring water runs in and out at all times. Unless the proper ritual is followed, the whole bathing process could turn out to be an uncomfortable experience.

One is expected to wash the most obviously dirty parts of the body before entering the tub. For this purpose a small basin and a dwarfish stool whose sitting area seems to be only half enough space is provided, along with ONE SMALL hand-towel sized towel.

You sit on this stool and draw water into the basin from a tap, at a small area a bit removed from the tub area. Here you soap and pour water over your head and body to wash away the soap and grim until you are sufficiently clean to enter the tub. After this you climb into the tub for a good long soak.

When you are warmed up to the bone, you get out of the tub and wash your entire body again with soap. Rinse off all the soap by splashing yourself with plenty of water, the slip back into the tub for a second long soak, after which one takes a cold shower.

Oh yes, the only hand towel provided has been soaking wet long before now!

One merely dons his cotton kimono, hugs it to his frame, returns to his room thru the hotel lobby and realizes he is quite relaxed and the day's tensions most forgotten.

The Japanese bath can take as long as three hours, especially in the wintertime when there is little heat and one can only get warmed thru and thru in the bath. John did not come across any baths where there were women attendants or where there was mixed bathing as we often hear about.

There is no unemployment there, seemingly everyone works. Work is their religion. There is no welfare programs. The Japanese feel "hand-outs" kill the soul of a man. If a person becomes too old or incapable of performing his job, the employer provides a job the person can do and he remains on the payroll.

People were cleaning out a riverbed with buckets and shovels one place where John visited. When he looked perplexed, he was told, "To be sure we can use steam shovels but our people need the work!"

John shakes his head recalling the rush hours - all hours are rush hours when boarding plane, train or elevators, it seems. He says, "I guess I was about ready to come home because I would find myself getting most annoyed at being pushed and shoved and given the run-around when trying to board a plane, etc. We Americans still have a polite streak in us regardless of what one may think. The Japanese do not consider this rudeness - if one doesn't push, he doesn't get there!"

John says he has been on elevators and trains, subways and cars where one wondered if the door would close, when uniformed attendants pushed passengers, CRAMMING them bodily into the cars so doors could close. One "people pusher" was asked if he weren't afraid of hurting someone. "Not so dangerous," he smiled. "We push men mostly, since they are the ones who try to get on packed trains. It is useful work. We can add 30 more passengers to a car by pushing."

John says, "That's no lie!" But when it comes to eating and bathing and opening stores and offices

Who Really Cares?

Local merchants are offering extra good buys for Dollar Day, Monday, March 3. You, Mr. and Ms. Olton are the ones to benefit from their bargain offers.

Every cent spent in this community helps make it a little better place in which to live and work and enjoy life -- and it helps you to find the services and things you want and need WHEN you want and need them.

It takes trade volume in any community to build and support its schools, churches and public services to make jobs for more people... to improve property value...and to keep suppliers and service people around to take care of the community's needs.

About one-third of the dollar you spend at retail goes for upkeep and upbuilding in the community in which it is spent. When it's spent in your own home town, YOU get what that part of your money buys FOR YOU. When you trade in some other community, SOMEONE else gets it.

If the big-city store doesn't have what you need, the clerk who waits on you probably could care less -- someone else will be standing behind you to buy what the store does have.

It takes a lot of time, love, money and sacrifice to bring up our children to useful citizens. But it does not take much city shopping fever in a small community such as ours to force the young people to look somewhere else for opportunity. Keeping more of our money in Olton would keep more of our young people here...to enrich and brighten our lives.

The poor, old and sick cities need our help. We can ease their traffic problems, alleviate their parking woes by doing more of our trading at home.

Hometown business people must try harder to meet our daily and emergency needs because they have no constant throngs of out-of-town customers helping them prosper.

The USA has a lot of ghost towns that would not be ghost towns if the people who once lived and worked and owned businesses and other property there had not "city shopped" so much.

Doesn't that tell us something?

I Believe

By Rex Boyles

Do you believe in peanut butter? I do! I believe it sticks to the roof of your mouth when you are lonely. I believe that no matter how smooth it is, you will always tear your bread when you try to spread it. I BELIEVE IN PEANUT BUTTER! As much as I believe in it though, I've got to tell you something: I BELIEVE IN JESUS MORE! Folks, we can get through life easy and never believe in peanut butter, but there is no way to really live in life without believing in Jesus.

The important question then is not whether we like this spread or that, but do we believe in Jesus? The answer to that question will determine our walk and our talk, our joys and our hurts, our successes and our failures. Most important of all, that answer will determine whether we LIVE gloriously at home with Jesus, or whether we DIE forever in hell. The choice is ours. Will we choose to believe in Jesus and be blessed, or will we choose not to believe and be damned (John 3:36)?

If it is then so vital to believe in Jesus, we need to consider just exactly what faith is and what it demands. (When you have time, please read Mark 2:1-8 and Hebrews 11:1-10). In Mark 2, Jesus is in a house teaching and healing. The place is packed. There is no room for anyone else, even the door is blocked by people. Four men approach carrying a lame man. They desperately want to see the one man who can help their friend. They believe that Jesus is that man, but they cannot reach Him for the room is jammed and the crowd unyielding. Their confidence in Jesus causes them to climb to the roof of the house. Believing that Jesus can heal their lame friend, they tear a hole in the roof and lower the man before Jesus. Mark records, "And Jesus seeing their faith..."

We just learned something about faith, didn't we? Faith can be seen. If I believe as those men did, that belief will cause me to act, to move. The faith of the men caused them to do whatever they had to do to get to Jesus. I must understand then that my belief will cause me to do whatever I must do to reach Jesus. So that regardless of family or friends, if you believe in Jesus, you will do whatever is necessary in order to be with him. Do you Believe in Jesus? Are you willing to do whatever is necessary to get to Jesus? If changing your mind about sin is necessary (Acts 17:30), are you willing? If denying yourself is necessary (Mark 8:34), are you willing? If obeying Jesus is necessary (Hebrews 5:8-9), are you willing? DO YOU REALLY BELIEVE IN JESUS? I do...

If you have any questions, write or call me...

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

By Mozelle Trotter

What ever happened to "Jack Armstrong - the All American Boy" and "Ma Perkins" and good family-type fare like "Lum and Abner," "Fibber McGee and Molly" and even "Inner Sanctum"?

The "golden days of radio" vanished to be replaced by the skin-toned era of television. Now you see the plots unfold in living color and today it's pretty living!

Great-grandmother may have been too modest in the day when showing an ankle was considered outrageous. But the very-little-left-to-the imagination by stars such as Cher is presenting this generation no such recollections for some future day.

"Inner Sanctum" may have thrilled and chilled and the "Lone Ranger" might have been forced to use a silver bullet on the "Mean Guys" but radio at least saved us from seeing the splatter of blood and all that goes with it.

Yet television is one of the great marvels of our age. Its existence is a feat of accomplishment almost beyond belief. To be able to see some happening just as it occurs thousands of miles

IN DIMMITT

Mrs. W.M. Keating stayed several days last week with her granddaughter Katrina who had chickenpox. Katrina's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Max Keating of Dimmitt.

IN SAN ANTONIO

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harrell were in San Antonio recently attending the Stock Show. Staying in the Harrell home with Pam and Robert were their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Lawson of Levelland.

So, why do we sit back and allow it to become an instrument of everything that's ugly in our world, aiding and abetting the continuing existence of such wrongs?

"I am one and only one and my voice would not matter" we say. Sure enough, one voice, one protest isn't enough. But one, joined by many, becomes an army that can defeat any enemy.

If each of us spoke out and each of us got just one other person to speak out, do you think the TV networks would not listen?

We can do something! We can write our objections. And we can write the sponsors of those programs - the final "powers that be" for any program. If we let it be known we'd rather "switch" than be one person who helps them continue to bring the unwanted into our home, enough "ones" could strike the blow that hurts the most - that one to the pocketbook!

If there is no objection, then who's to suspect that all is not approval? There's still just two sides - "Nay" and "Aye."

And it is not enough to object to the objectionable! There's lots that's good and it should be noted, too! Everyone in the world likes to hear an occasional "well done" and rightly so! So, for the good programs, acknowledge them too!

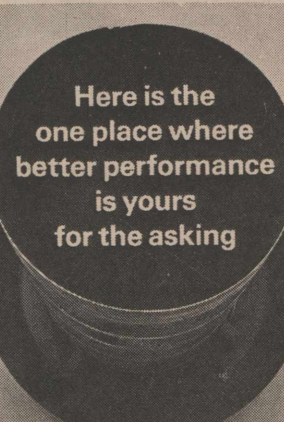

Besides, as Mary Poppins would say, "A spoonful of sugar helps the medicine go down." Maybe, the Big Brass would value our comments more and listen a little closer if we gave them just a little bit of gratitude with our gripes!

Write, right now!

RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Struve returned Saturday from Zapata where they had stayed a month.

FROM AMARILLO

Debra Sweatt of Amarillo stayed during the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Sweatt.

Lullaby Courtesy Fetes Master Don Dickenson

Mrs. Gary Dickenson and her son Christopher Don were complimented with a lullaby courtesy Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dewey Hukill. Calling hours were from 3 to 5.

The refreshment table was covered by a white lace cloth over red. The centerpiece and napkins featured "Raggedy Ann" and "Raggedy Andy" themes.

Mrs. Royce McFadden presided at the table serving from milk glass appointments.

Special guests were Christopher Don's grandmother, Mrs. W.B. Dickenson, Jr., and his great-grandmother, Mrs. W.B. Dickenson and his brother Ron.

Hostess gifts were a money bow, car seat and warming plate.

Family Dinner

Fetes Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Struve hosted a fish fry Monday evening observing the second birthday of their grandson Michael Ramage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramage of Hale Center.

Guests were the honoree, his parents and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ramage of Spade. The host couple's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Struve, Shelli and Tullie Hugh and the children's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Covington of Cotton Center.

IN LUBBOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Carson and Rachel were Monday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith and Tucker of Lubbock.

IN HEREFORD

Dr. and Mrs. Van E. Brimhall were recent over night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Mannschreck, Hereford.

MRS. REX BOYLES

(Refrigerate if desired but remove from refrigerator 30 minutes before cooking). Bake 30 minutes in 350° oven.

PIZZA-FLAVORED CASSEROLE

1 lb ground beef
1/2 c chopped onion
1 med clove garlic, minced
1 t oregano
1/2 t salt
1 can condensed tomato soup
1/2 c water
2 c cooked shell macaroni
1/2 c shredded Velveeta cheese

Brown beef with onion, garlic and seasoning, stirring to separate meat. Combine all ingredients in casserole dish. Sprinkle cheese on top. Bake 30 mins. in 350° oven. Note - 1/2 t. onion salt + 1/2 t garlic may be used instead of onion and garlic.

Treat for Kids

PEANUT BUTTER TREAT

1 c. peanut butter - 1 small jar
1 c. white Karo
1 c. powdered sugar
1 1/2 c. non-fat dry milk

Mix sugar and milk until very smooth. Add Karo and peanut butter. Knead these till blended smoothly. Press into a long roll. Wrap in wax paper and refrigerate. Sprinkle nuts on top if desired.

A recent newcomer to Olton shares recipes with Enterprise cooks this week. Mrs. Rex Boyles offers two casserole recipes that have earned her family's seal of approval plus a "treat for kids" which sounds good for "kids" of any age.

Meloni and Rex just recently moved to Olton from Lubbock after he completed studies at Sunset School of Preaching. Youth director of Main Street Church of Christ, Rex had been working with the local youth on a part time basis during his studies and the young Boyleses lived here a short time last summer.

They are parents of a small son, David, 16 months old.

Meloni and Rex met during high school days when both were employed as Christmastime help at Ware's Department Store in Littlefield. Meloni worked in gift wrapping; Rex, in the men's department. A fellow worker encouraged Rex to ask for their first date.

Littlefield is "home" for Meloni, who graduated from high school there. Rex grew up and graduated from Sudan High School.

Cooking and sewing are favorite pastimes for Meloni. She also enjoys handcrafts and says she likes "anything to do with my hands." She admits that crafts take lots of time but finds them very rewarding.

TUNA MACARONI CASSEROLE

2 c cooked macaroni (I use small shell macaroni)
1 can cream mushroom soup
1/2 c milk
1 - 6 1/2 oz. can tuna
1/4 c minced onion
1/2 c shredded Velveeta cheese

Mix soup with milk in casserole dish. Add tuna (drained and flaked), minced onion and cheese to soup/milk mixture. Then add cooked macaroni and mix well. Sprinkle some grated cheese on top.

Party Honors Kevin Hukill

Kevin Hukill, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hukill was feted with a birthday party Friday afternoon in the family home.

The birthday cake with its seven candles was baked in the form of "Raggedy Andy." The decorations of plates, cups and napkins used in serving cake and punch carried out the "Raggedy Andy" theme.

Flowers Shown In Littlefield

Tuesday Mrs. Jack Estes, Mrs. Athol Light and Mrs. L.G. Elkins attended the meeting of Littlefield Garden Club in the Reddy Room of the Pioneer Gas Company.

Mrs. Light and Mrs. Estes displayed dried flowers under glass which presented a three dimensional appearance.

Mrs. Estes demonstrated the art of making pictures using pressed flowers.

L.L. LaDukes Tour Hawaiian Highlights

Mr. and Mrs. L.L. LaDuke recently went to Hawaii as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pannell of Hereford. Six couples of the Hereford area went to Denver, Colo. where they joined a party of 239 farmers and their wives who went by chartered plane to the Islands.

The trip was sponsored by Weather Master Seed Company, Inc. which made no charge for the flight or the food served the passengers while on the plane. The Seed Company also paid the cost of the hotel reservations in Hawaii with the members of the group paying the expenses of the side trips and of their food.

The Oltonites made the Polynesian tour which had among special attractions entertainment provided by some five or six groups representing customs of as many races. The demonstrations were presented from boats.

They viewed the Veterans Memorial Park which covers one hundred eighteen acres and is at the site of an extinct volcanic crater. Among those honored there is the famed, Ernie Pyle, news reporter.

The party went by boat to Pearl Harbor memorial to the battleship "Arizona." LaDuke said there appeared to be thousands of elderly people on the beach of Waikiki. A bus tour was made of City Honolulu.

Members of the party were from the states of Minnesota, Louisiana, Iowa, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, Missouri, Kansas, South Dakota and Nebraska as well as Texas.

Among those from Hereford were Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hollingsworth, formerly of Springlake.

Laurie Brown Earns Honors

Laurie Brown received a trophy as high point girl in the recent FFA, FHA, 4-H show held in Olton.

Laurie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown, is a high school sophomore.

She won first place with entries in the categories of hooked rugs, crocheted toboggans, shirts, jackets, pants, bean bag toys, German chocolate cakes and Italian cream cakes.

She placed second on a hand embroidered shirt, bean bag toy, two pillows, pants, crewel embroidery, needlepoint work and cookies. She won third place on a shirt, a pillow and a Macrame purse. Laurie earned a total of 200 points in the show.

IN NEVADA

The Rev. Sherman Lawson has been assisting this week in revival services in Las Vegas, Nev. Accompanying him to Las Vegas were his wife and their son, Lyle.

FROM STRATFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jones have as houseguests this week their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Jackie Burkhalter and Kellie Stratford.

Japan Memories

for work, everyone is most relaxed and casual.

When John recalls the millions on the move there and how little energy there is there - the marvelous transit system with the bullet trains arriving and leaving every 15 minutes, he says it is inconceivable that we here in America have come to rely on a "transit system" for every man, even if it requires three cars or more to a family. The utter waste!

The stay in Japan was thoroughly enjoyed, particularly because he was privileged to live not as a tourist but as an "adopted American" most of the time.

There are worlds of cattle being fed in Japan and the lockers are overstocked with meat, regardless of what we hear and read over here. Their steaks are cut as thin as bacon, then into bite sized portions. Steak as we know it is not seen in a Japanese restaurant.

Japan is a nation on the move!

are not lighted at night because of lack of energy). The streets at night, to a westerner, might seem scary.

P.S. One more thing -

John was amazed at the honesty he encountered there, living out of suitcases most of the time as he traveled from the top most island to the southern most, he would leave items in hotel rooms, always to find them waiting when he returned weeks later.

Also, he was surprised to find that altho Tokyo is a monster of a city, it is one of the safest. Even on dark, lonely streets, in the dead of night one need not be afraid of lurking shadows. He was told mugging is unheard of. Many were the times he saw women going and coming from work alone late at night along almost deserted streets (streets and shops

FROM CANYON

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gabehart of Canyon were her Monday until Wednesday with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gabehart.

CLEAN WINDOWS

Before cleaning window screens, write a number in chalk in each window and the same number on its screen. Put any screws or bolts in a bag and write the same number on it. This makes it easier to return a clean screen to the same window. Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System points out.

Obituaries

Tom Collins

Funeral services were held Saturday morning in Resthaven - Singleton, Wilson Funeral Home Chapel in Lubbock for Tom R. Collins, 57, brother of Mrs. Bob Worley.

The Rev. Hardy Clemons, pastor of Second Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Collins, who was reared in Littlefield and graduated from Littlefield High School, died about 5 p.m. Thursday at his home in Lubbock of an apparent heart attack. He was a retired salesman and veteran of World War II, having served in the U. S. Navy. He moved to Lubbock in 1952.

Other survivors include his wife, Xie, a son, Terry of Lubbock; one other sister, Mrs. Eloise Pate of Houston; his step-mother, Mrs. Audie Collins of Littlefield and two grandchildren.

Albert Arp

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Southcrest Baptist Church, Lubbock, for Albert R. Arp, 73, father of Mrs. Margie Towery and brother of Mrs. Bill Nichols. The Rev. Charles Broadhurst, pastor, officiated. Interment was in Peaceful Gardens Memorial Park under direction of Rix Funeral Directors.

Arp was dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital Sunday afternoon after suffering an apparent heart attack. He had been a resident of Lubbock for eleven years. He and Ruby Blackwell were married in 1920 in Lott. He was a member of Southeast Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Joe of Kerrville, Ernest of Lubbock, and R.W. of Ropesville; four other daughters, Mrs. Tommie Berryhill, Lubbock, Mrs. Jean Neighbors, Big Spring, Mrs. Louise Raines, Houston, Mrs. Martha Haynie, Andrews; one other sister, Mrs. Sally Payne of Caddo Mills; two brothers, Tom of Decatur and O.C. of Monahans; 27 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

ATTEND CONCERT

Mr. and Mrs. G.T. Sides of Littlefield, Mrs. E.W. Walden, their grandson, Cory Walden of Hereford and Mrs. Inez Yates attended the Community Concert presented by the King Family Friday evening in the High School Auditorium at Hereford.

FROM ARIZONA

Mr. and Mrs. John Laurence of Wilcox, Ariz., came Sunday to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Foster, and a brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Culwell, Steve and Susie. Laurence returned to Wilcox Tuesday but his wife will be in Olton several days.

IN DENTON

Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Miller were recent guests of their daughter, Mrs. Terry Sopher who is a student of Texas Womens' University, Denton.

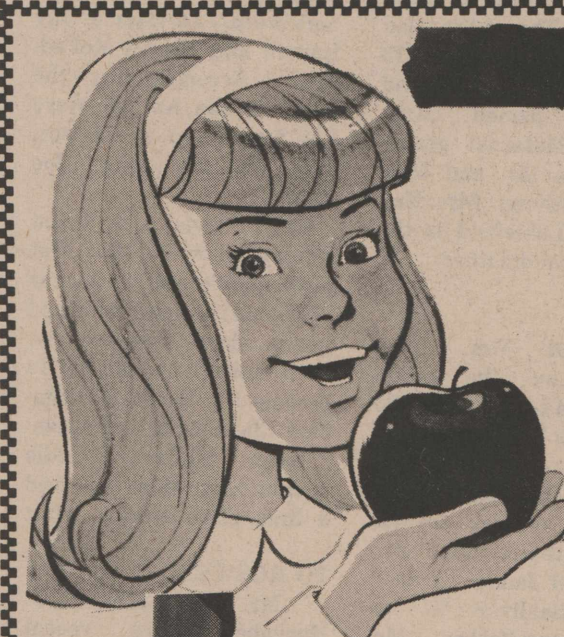

BROTHER VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Greer Hamill have visiting them his brother, Weldon Hamill of Grand Prairie.

SAFE TOYS

Buy toys which are safe for all children in the family.

A toy designed for an older child may injure a curious younger brother or sister, reminds Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the A&M University System.

TEXAS TALK
By Billy Davis

Q: What do the terms "canner" and "cutter" mean?
A: Canner and cutter are two of the terms used to describe beef cattle carcass classification. Specifically, "canner" is the lowest of the eight common quality grades of mature beef. The designation canner would indicate virtually no marbling in the meat and mean the animal was at an advanced age when slaughtered. "Cutter" is essentially the same except generally there would be less maturity and at least a trace of marbling. Canner and cutter grades are used only for the older or mature animals and may include steers, heifers, cows, bulls and stags. The other six quality grades used in the beef class include: Prime, choice, good, standard, commercial and utility. Southwestern beef, usually finished in the feedlot, customarily falls into either the choice or prime categories.

Friends, Romans, countrymen
Lend me your ears;
Especially if your water heater has a lot of years.
It's easy to forget
An appliance such as this,
But cold water at those urgent times
Could be a real crisis.
Your Reddy friends remind you
With this little poem
An electric water heater's perfect
For each and every home.
