Farm Program Due Before Committees

Emphasis On Livestock Products At Lower Prices Has Consumer Appeal

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Truman administration plans to lay before Congress tomorrow a farm program designed to use the American appetite for meat, poultry and dairy products in such a way as to prevent troublesome crop surpluses.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will outline the long-awaited program before a joint session of the House and Senate agriculture committees. It is the administration's substitute for the controversial Aiken long-range farm law passed by the Republican 80th Congress.

Consumer Helped

The program is expected to have a broad consumer appeal because of its emphasis upon a greater supply of livestock products at lower retail prices than would be possible under the present farm program.

In brief, it would seek to divert millions of surplus acres from cotton, wheat, peanuts and some other cash crops to grass, pastures and hay. Such land would enable farmers to produce many additional head of meat animals and dairy cows, and hence a larger supply of meat and milk.

Unlike the present program, the new plan would not support prices of livestock, poultry and dairy products. It would allow them to drop to low levels. As a consequence, many consumers would be able to buy much more of these products than at present.

Three Goals Cited

The incentive for farmers to increase livestock production would be in the form of government payments.

Such a program would be expected to help accomplish three ends desired by the administration: (1) adjustment of crop production from abnormally high war and postwar levels to peacetime demands; (2) placing of greater emphasis on soil conservation, and (3) improvement of the national diet.

Brannan is expected to tell Congress that various economic devices would be needed to make such a program work. They would include price supports for

Senate Final Vote Sought On European Aid

GOP Leader Picks Today For Passage

Lucas Pessimistic As Another Effort For Action Starts

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Republican floor leader Wherry of Nebraska picked today for Senate passage of the $5,580,000,000 European recovery program.

But Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois was pessimistic as he called senators into the 11th session since March 23 in an effort to get final action.

Lucas openly charged that some GOP leaders "don't want the Congress to get anything done."

Wherry told a reporter, however, he saw no reason why a final vote can't be reached by nightfall.

Connally Confident

And Senator Connally (D-Texas), chairman of the foreign relations committee and floor manager for the ECA bill, agreed with Wherry.

"I think we'll finally make it," Connally said after a 11-hour session yesterday failed again to bring this. "There is only one real issue remaining and that should be compromised."

Connally was referring to protests by both Democratic and Republican senators against Dutch activities in Indonesia despite United Nations attempts to adjust difficulties there.

He mentioned a compromise worked out by Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich), Pepper (D-Fla) and Brewster (R-Maine).

It would withdraw Marshall plan aid to the Netherlands if the United Nations decides to use sanctions to enforce its order for the Dutch to cease fire, release Indonesian authorities and in general restore the status quo in Indonesia.

Proposals Blocked

Originally Brewster proposed that the aid be halted unless the Dutch comply with the U. N. order. But Vandenberg pointed out the U.N. has not completed its procedures in the dispute.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) was primed with what was advertised as a long speech on it.

In saying some Republicans were blocking Senate progress, Lucas had an angry exchange with Senators Langer (R-N D) and Taft (R-Ohio).

Lucas had sought an agreement to limit debate in order to speed action on more than 20 amendments still due for consideration. This required unanimous consent and Langer blocked it.

Bond Elections Are Conducted In Some Areas

Straw Polls Also Held On Opinions Of Rent Control

(By The Associated Press)

Many Texas cities are looking toward new municipal administrations today. Others retain their old officials for a new term. Some cities know their people oppose rent control. Some have new bond issues and some are ready to expand their territory.

It is all an aftermath of a big day of municipal elections yesterday.

Most of the cities registered light votes. But in Fort Worth, Bryan, Dallas, Lufkin and Tyler the turnout was heavy.

Straw Polls Taken

Voters in Dallas and Burkburnett took straw votes on rent control. They decided for removal of rent ceilings. The Dallas vote (much less than the 23,696 cast in its city council election) was 6,638 against rent controls and 5,242 for. In Burkburnett 75 voted against and 37 favored rent controls. Palestine voters earlier in the week voted against rent control.

At Tyler a negro ran sixth in a slate of twelve candidates for three city commission posts.

Denton voters favored four city limit expansion proposals and voted for a minimum wage proposal for firemen and policemen.

Write-in candidates won offices in some places. At Pecos, Raymond Pouncey was named a councilman in this manner. W I. Bishop was named mayor of Justin on a write-in vote.

Bonds Are Voted

At Quanah, its people voted $12,000 in bonds to buy new fire fighting equipment. Childress voted to keep parking meters.

Archer City voters favored a $40,000 bond issue to build a dam on the Little Wichita river. At Seymour $425,000 in bonds was voted for a new school building.

Dallas people put their citizens charter association back in office by a 2 to 1 majority in the city council election. All candidates endorsed by the committee for a greater Fort Worth were elected in that city.

The Dallas vote was the heaviest ever cast in a city council election there. The largest individual vote, 15,257, was polled by J. B. Adoue, jr., banker and former mayor pro tem. His opponent, W. J. Harris, Dallas Voters association candidate and president of the State

Leaders Hint Long Tour For GIs In Europe

Bradley Calls For Bolstered Defense In European Areas

(By The Associated Press)

Secretary of the Army Royall said today that if the United States lets an aggressor army sweep over Europe, the resulting war would last 10 or 20 years—"perhaps more."

Royall added his voice to those of other top military officials who warned in separate Army day speeches that this country cannot afford to let European ground forces bear the brunt of any lightning attack on the continent.

The Atlantic pact nations, Royall said in Chicago, are counting on American equipment for their own armies—and also on the support of an American Army overseas.

Retirement Hinted

Right now, he said in his prepared speech, the United States has "the best army in American history—peace or war—barring none."

Shortly before Royall spoke, former Undersecretary of War William H. Draper had indicated in a St. Louis speech that American troops will have to remain in Europe until the cold war ends, to help guard against any sudden attack.

A similar theme ran through a talk delivered in New York last night by Gen. Omar Bradley, the Army's chief of staff.

Royall included in his address a strong hint that he may soon retire—as has been rumored for some time.

Like the other Army day speakers, Royall questioned the belief that the Air Force could handle at least the initial phases of any attack on Europe.

Bradley Quoted

On the same subject, Draper commented:

"If western Europe is to be defended from attack we dare not attempt a strategic plan that relies on air bombardment alone. . . . Our strategic plan must envision a retention of strength on the continent of Europe."

His remarks about strategy paralleled those of Bradley almost exactly. Bradley said in a New York speech:

"Strategically, the North Atlantic pact would enable free nations of the old world and the new to funnel the great strength of our new world to the ramparts of the old, and thus challenge an enemy

CAUSE OF TRAGEDY IS PROBED

Toll Placed At 69 In Hospital Blaze

(By The Associated Press)

EFFINGHAM, Ill., April 6—The toll of known dead and reported missing in the nation's second most tragic hospital fire was placed at 69 today by hospital officials.

They said 55 bodies have been recovered—two still unidentified—and 14 persons are listed as missing in Tuesday's fire at St. Anthony's hospital.

Earlier, a list compiled by Associated Press reporters and official sources at the scene showed 50 bodies recovered and had 30 persons reported missing.

The 62-year-old hospital was destroyed within an hour early Tuesday.

Cause Is Probed

Fire inspectors, meanwhile, investigated unconfirmed reports that stored paint or an arsonist might have caused the fire. The FBI in Chicago and state police at Effingham denied a published story that they were investigating an arson report. The mother superior of the hospital said the only stored paint was in the undamaged boiler room.

Records at the hospital, the only one in this south central Illinois community of 8,600, were lost.

However, the hospital believed there were 124 persons—patients and staff members—in the 62 year old institution, operated by the Catholic order of St. Francis, when the fire broke.

The number of survivors was estimated at 54 by the Red Cross. Firemen said most of the survivors suffered in some degree from burns or smoke, but only one was reported in critical condition.

Among the known dead were two nuns, the hospital's chaplain, and three nurses.

Inspectors from the Illinois state fire marshal's office, headed by Chief Pat Kelly, investigated the fire. Fire Chief Fred Wilkins of Effingham, said he would cooperate with inspectors in an attempt to determine cause of the fire.

China Rejects Red Ultimatum

NANKING, April 6 (AP)—Acting President Li Tsung Jen tonight was reported to have rejected a Communist ultimatum for the virtual surrender of the Nanking government.

Semi-official Chinese quarters said Li still was making a desperate attempt to bargain with the Reds for better terms.

Li also was said to have turned down a proposal that he go to Peiping, where peace talks now are in progress.

He was reportedly invited (presumably by the Reds) to go to Peiping and serve on a joint committee which would supervise the handing over of the Nationalist armies to the Communists.

Reds Keep Up Attack

While the peace talks took a turn for the worse, the Red radio kept up its attacks. An editorial broadcast by the station demanded the immediate surrender of the government.

The report of the Red ultimatum circulated in Nanking a few hours earlier. It was attributed to authoritative sources.

The ultimatum, these sources said, was handed to acting President Li Tsung-Jen by two Communist representatives.

These sources said the Reds de-

Inspection Of State Institutions Asked

AUSTIN, April 6. (AP)—The Senate today asked that all state institutions be inspected immediately for fire hazards.

The resolution, by Senator Fred Harris of Dallas, was prompted by news of the midnight fire that swept through St. Anthony's hospital in Effingham, Ill., trapping many bed-ridden patients and nurses.

The resolution must go to the House for approval before it becomes effective.

"We feel that such a catastrophe shall not happen in our great state if it is at all possible to prevent it," Harris' resolution said.

British Meat Ration Is Cut

LONDON, April 6 (U.P.) — Meat-hungry Britons received the bad news today in the chancellor of the exchequer's budget message—less meat for the year, and at a higher price.

Sir Stafford Cripps announced increases of four pence (about 7 cents) a pound in meat. The British ration is only 10 pence worth of meat each week.

Cripps cautiously forecast an increase in the supply of foodstuffs generally, "with the exception of meat."

Payments Anticipated

He anticipated that payments for food subsidies—mostly on Britain's own products — would amount to $2,272,000,000. To which he added, "that cannot go on." For this year, he said, subsidies are reduced to $1,760,000,000.

He announced increased prices of 4 pence per pound for cheese and meat, 1 pence for margarine, and 2 pence for butter.

The increases, he said, would boost the cost of living index less than two points. British prices have remained relatively stable.

Cripps blasted hopes of some for lower taxes when he said: "There is no room for a downward tendency in taxation this year."

He announced a big increase in the socialized medicine plan, with estimated expenditures of $1,040,000,000 compared with $832,000,000 last year.

It is not possible, he observed, to get increased health benefits and at the same time decreased taxation.

School Issue Delay Refused

AUSTIN, April 6 (AP) — The House today refused by 85 to 54 vote to put off consideration of the torrid Gilmer-Aikin school issue.

Rep. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth wanted Senator Jim Taylor's reorganization bill recommitted to the House as a committee of the whole. He said that would let the House call in witnesses beginning netx Monday to testify on the probable cost of the proposed new program of education.

Mrs. Rae Files Still, representative from Waxahachie, fought the motion.

Taylor Bill Approved

The Taylor bill has been approved by the House education committee. Willis wanted the entire House to make a further study, as committee, before acting.

Meanwhile, House and Senate joined in quick action to send to Gov. Beauford H. Jester's desk a bill designed to bar Louisiana fishermen from shrimping in Texas waters.

House galleries were jammed again as the Gilmer-Aikin school proposals came on deck. The House was in session for more than an hour before Taylor's bill was laid out for debate. It is the first of three measures putting the

Man Held Here On Charge Of Assault

A. A. (Andy) Tipton, 38, of Lubbock was held in county jail this afternoon in lieu of $1,000 bond set by County Judge Walter Davies after Tipton had pleaded innocent of a charge of aggravated assault upon a 14-year-old Lubbock girl.

Officials said the charge supplanted an earlier complaint accusing Tipton of a Feb. 6 sex assault on the girl.

A charge of $5 and court costs were assessed against S. J. Bowers, 34, of Dallas who pleaded guilty of check law violation.

Armed Force Chiefs Will Go To Key West

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—Operating chiefs of the three armed services will go to Key West Thursday to resume conferences with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The general, recalled from the presidency of Columbia university for temporary duty as chairman of the point chiefs of staff, is recuperating there from a stomach ailment.

The staff discussions are expected to last into next week, the Department of National Defense said.

A blunt warning that if they violate orders against public squabbles they will face a congressional investigation goes with the generals and admirals to Key West. The House armed services committee posted that notice yesterday in a resolution.

HOUNDS TRACK ESCAPED CONVICT

Prisoner Taken By Henderson Officers

(By The United Press)

HENDERSON, April 6—Walter Lamay, one of the two convicts who escaped from the Clemens state prison farm Monday night, was tracked down by bloodhounds and captured inside the city limits of Henderson early today.

The 41-year-old convict under 50-year sentence for robbery and forgery from Dallas county first was spotted driving a 1948 Chevrolet which he had stolen in Nacogdoches about 1 p. m. yesterday, in the east part of Henderson.

Two Henderson police patrolmen, Horace Gamble and Louis Waller, pulled up beside the stolen car and sounded their siren. Lamay then cut across the street in front of the patrol car, collided with a parked pickup truck and took to a nearby ravine on foot.

Thrown From Car

Gamble, who was holding the right door of the patrol car open as it pulled up beside th car Lamay was driving, was thrown from the vehicle as Waller braked to avoid collision with the other auto.

As Waller went to see if Gamble was hurt, Lamay hid himself in the ravine.

The two officers radioed for the bloodhounds, which were being used to hunt for the two criminals near Nacogdoches, and the dogs arrived some 45 minutes later.

Lamay was quickly tracked down. He was unarmed and standing waist deep in mud and water when the dogs bayed him. Credited with the arrest were Waller, Gamble and Sheriff Gordon Strong.

The captured man was taken

Capital Short Of News Today

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — A surprise strike of pressmen today left thousands of government officials, Congress members and others in the nation's capital without local newspapers.

Since much government activity is keyed to developments elsewhere, there was a scramble to find out what is going on in the world.

Many officials sought reports from news service wires.

Radio stations quickly shifted their programs to feed out more news. Even comic strips were read over the air.

Papers Snatched Up

The few thousand newspapers that reached the city from New York, Baltimore and other cities were quickly snatched up. Newsstands handling out-of-town papers reported they were sold out by 8:30 a. m.

The walkout halted publication of all editions of both morning newspapers, the Washington Post and the Times-Herald. And the pressmen failed to show up for work this morning at the afternoon newspapers, the Evening Star, Daily News and the Times-Herald which publishes both morning and afternoon editions.

All of the newspapers kept their editorial staffs and other workers on the job, ready to roll if the

Auto Insurance Rate Decreases Announced

AUSTIN, April 6 (U.P.)—Automobile insurance rate reductions, estimated to save Texans more than $5,000,000 during the coming year, was announced today by J. P. Gibbs, casualty insurance commissioner.

The reductions, he said, will become effective May 1.

Gibbs said that private passenger car owners will be benefited the most by reductions averaging 20 per cent for comprehensive coverage.

Other decreases included full coverage and eighty per cent collision, private passenger fire and theft, bodily injury liability and commercial fire and theft.

The fact that traffic deaths have increased only 1½ per cent during the past 12 months while the vehicular miles traveled have increased 82 per cent was one reason for the reductions, Gibbs said.

Russian Protest Of Pact To Be Ignored

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—The United States will officially ignore Russia's formal protest against the North Atlantic pact.

In a statement, the State department said today that "the Soviet government's interpretation of both the objectives and provisions of the pact is erroneous."

It added that "in view of the many published statements which have been made on this subject, it is not believed that any further statement is necessary."

Press Officer Michael J. McDermott told reporters he did not know whether theother 11 signers of the treaty will adopt the same cold shoulder attitude toward the Russian protest.

Cab Strike Seems To Be Breaking Up

NEW YORK, April 6. (U.P.)—John L. Lewis's six-day city-wide taxi strike appeared to be breaking up today. More cabs appeared on the streets and the union's organizing director resigned.

Leon Zwicker, regional director of the United Mine Workers (Ind) who had been directing the strike, announced his resignation at the same time police reported that 40 per cent of the city's taxis were back in operation.

Texas Parents Make Pleas For Help

Release Of Soldier Held On Spy Charges Is Being Asked

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 6 — Rep. Worley (D-Tex) urged government officials today to do all possible to obtain release of a Texas soldier who was arrested in Czechoslovakia on espionage charges and sentenced to 12 years at hard labor.

The soldier is Clarence R. Hill, whose wife and two daughters now live in Pampa, Tex., with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hill.

He was arrested in December. His companion, sentenced to 10 years, was George R. Jones, Owensboro, Ky. The pair were seized as they walked along a railroad track near the frontier in the Russia-dominated land.

Worley took the matter up with Army officials, who have been studying the case with State department authorities.

The congressman acted after receiving pleas for help from the Texas soldier's parents. In their letter to Worley they enclosed a copy of a letter they had written President Truman asking for

East And West Square Off For UN Battle Over Church Trials

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Russia and the Western powers squared off today for their opening U. N. battle over Communist treatment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and other churchmen in Hungary and Bulgaria.

This fight may serve as a curtain-raiser for the expected East-West clash over the newly-signed Atlantic pact.

Rusia's No. 1 deputy foreign minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, failed to launch his expected blast at the pact at yesterday's opening session of the general assembly. Most delegates, however, feel sure he is preparing an attack.

The first round of the fight over Mindszenty and 15 imprisoned Bulgarian Portestant leaders was scheduled to take place in the assembly's 14-nation steering committee today.

Russia is expected to try to keep the committee from recommending assembly debate as requested by Bolivia and Australia. The Hungarian government, although not a member of the U. N., has sent a formal protest to assembly President Herbert V. Evatt of Australia against U. N. intervention.

Mindszenty and other Hungarians were convicted by a Hungarian court in January of black-market activities and of plotting to overthrow the government. He was sentenced to life imprisonment. Fifteen Bulgarian Protestant leaders were sentenced to varying terms on similar charges in Sofia.

The United States and other Western powers already have protested against the trials as violations of the peace treaty provisions which guarantee the respect of religious freedom.

Assembly activities for the day were limited to the steering committee deliberations which were expected to continue through morning and afternoon sessions.

In addition to the Bulgarian and Hungarian issues, the committee had to decide whether to recommend assembly discussion on these other questions: the Dutch-Indonesian conflict, Israel's bid for U. N. membership and Russia's veto of Ceylon's membership application.

The 58-member political committee may be ready to begin debate later this week on the disposition of the pre-war Italian colonies. Count Carlo Sforza, Italian foreign minister, was due in from Washington during the day to lead Italy's fight for the return of the colonies.

A dispatch from Addis Ababa meanwhile said Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia had messaged the U. N. expressing "trust that a just decision regarding Italy's former colonies will at least be reached," Ethiopian Moslems were reported praying for the return of Eritria and Somaliland to "their fatherland Ethiopia."

The opening day of the assembly yesterday was devoted mostly to formalities. Secretary of State Acheson issued a statement defending the Atlantic pact as essential to the success of the U. N. He was photographed shaking hands with Gromyko.

In the evening Acheson greeted top delegates of the 58 nations, including Russians, at a Waldorf-Astoria reception. Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin then turned the U. N. business over to subordinates and headed for Washington.

In a speech last night at the Foreign Press association, Evatt called on all nations to place their faith in the U. N. above all alliances and pacts.

"The supreme pact," he said, "is the charter of the United Nations."

Norris Will Speak Again At Abilene

ABILENE, April 6 (AP)—Dr. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth will speak here tonight on "Exactly What I Think."

He addressed a crowd of about 300 last night on the Abilene high school lawn after his permission to use the high school auditorium was cancelled.

After Norris was denied use of the auditorium his friends sought a court injunction. District Judge Owen Thomas ruled out a hearing because of insufficient time to give both sides a hearing.

Superintendent of Schools Nat Williams said permission for Dr. Norris to use the auditorium was cancelled because an assistant principal who granted the original request did not know of a school board policy of not renting it to religious groups.

Rev. L. T. Grantham, pastor of the Corinth Baptist church, was sponsoring Norris' appearance here. Rev. Grantham filed the motion for an injunction.

Scientist Annoyed By Snoring Rabbit

PHILADELPHIA, April 6 (AP)—Dr. Roy G. Williams of the University of Pennsylvania wishes his brown rabbit would stop snoring in the middle of cancer experiments.

Dr. Williams said today that for the last year he has been observing cells in the ears of a big brown bunny with the aid of a microscope.

The rabbit has become so used to the routine now, Dr. Williams said, that as soon as the microscope is moved into position, the cottontail dozes off and starts to snore, throwing the professor's instruments out of adjustment.

It just seems, Dr. Williams said, that rabbits are easily bored.

Britain Offers Trade Pact With Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, April 6 (U.P.) — Britain has expressed its willingness to ship 5,000,000 tons of oil and 1,000,000 tons of coal to Argentina annually, Argentine sources reported today.

These sources said the offer was conveyed by British Ambassador Sir John Balfour to Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia.

Balfour also was reported to have requested a delay until Friday of negotiations on an Argentine-British meat agreement. The negotiations now are deadlocked on the question of how much Britain will pay for Argentine meat under a new agreement.

Balfour was reported to have said that he was awaiting new instructions from London.

Pitcher Rests After Emergency Operation

ORLANDO, Fla., April 6. (U.P.)—Pitcher Walt Masterson was resting comfortably today following an emergency appendicitis operation, but the Washington Senators resigned themselves to being without his services for at least the next four weeks.'

Masterson was set to pitch against the Chattanooga Lookouts yesterday when he was stricken. The game never came off, anyway, rain cancelling the contest. The bespectacled Masterson, who won eight and lost 15 last season, said prior to the operation that he had licked the arm trouble which hampered him in 1948.

Kansas City of the American association today will supply the opposition for the Senators.

MAN SUFFOCATED

WACO, April 6 (U.P.)—The death of Troy Carmichael of Fort Worth, whose body was found in a Waco tourist court yesterday, was attributed today to suffocation. Carmichael, about 27, was an employe of Terrell Supply Co. of Fort Worth.

32 Years Ago Today U. S. Took Position Among Allies In War

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

This date 32 years ago the United States took her place among the allies in World War I with a declaration of hostilities against an aggressive Germany.

Basically that war was the outgrowth of Germanic greed — an urge for expansion at the expense of the other fellow. Or to employ the German euphemism, it was caused by the need for greater lebensraum (living space).

Even More Terrible

Approximately 22 years later the globe was torn by an even more terrible conflict. Naturally America was among the allies. And of course they called it World War II. Again the basic cause was greed or, if you wish, the demand for lebensraum.

Day before yesterday twelve Western allies, meeting in Washington, signed the Atlantic pact. This is a defensive alliance, aimed at protection against aggression whose evil spirit again is hunting trouble. President Truman said in an address regarding this historic treaty:

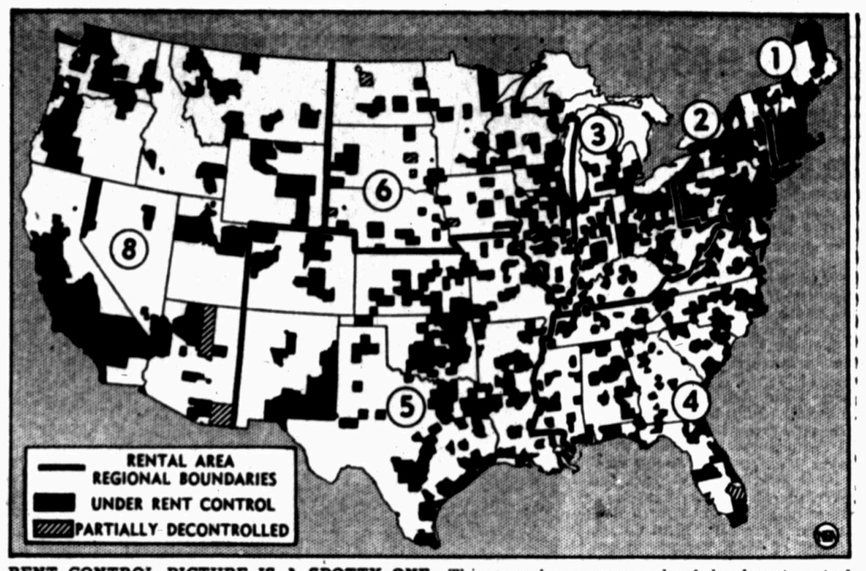

"It is a simple document, but if it had existed in 1914 and in 1939, supported by the nations who are represented here today, I believe it would have prevented the acts of aggression which led to two world wars."

Easy To Believe

It's easy to believe that this might have been so. However, one has the feeling that even if the two wars had been prevented then, the world still might have had to endure the agony of an upheaval.

There were great political, territorial and economic problems to be adjusted. There were imperial revisions which inevitably must have come. There were racial freedom to be established. These reforms could only be achieved by major operations.

Many of these things were brought about by the two world wars. Perhaps in the course of many generations they would have been accomplished through the peaceful development of mankind. Who can say? Certainly if one could choose between quick progress by war and slow progress through peace, the latter must be the choice. Heaven forgive the maker of war!

RENT CONTROL PICTURE IS A SPOTTY ONE—This map shows areas under federal rent control as the Housing and Rent Act of 1947 expired and the new "compromise" rent control bill enacted by Congress went into effect. In the areas shown on the map are approximately 14,250,000 controlled rental units, plus 500,000 others under lease, which were not controlled. Under the new law, the latter will return to control at current lease rents. Map data from Office of the Housing Expediter. Numbers designate control areas. Note that there is no Area Seven.

See the new DESOTO before you decide on any other car at any price!

Compare the others with "The Car Designed with YOU in Mind"

You cannot compare the new cars merely by looking at pictures . . . or by watching them on the highway. You've got to get behind the wheel yourself.

That's why we urge you to come and see this new De Soto before you decide on any other car.

You notice the difference right away. De Soto's doors are wide. You walk in . . . and keep your hat on. The steering wheel doesn't hit your knees. You're on chair-high seats, so that you get all the benefit of the larger windows and windshield.

You've got full stretch-out leg room, front and back. And you've got more luggage space in that flush-floor trunk than you ever dreamed of before.

Yes, De Soto is lower. It's got a longer wheelbase (all passengers ride between the axles). But there's no penalty for these advantages. Overall length and breadth are not increased. You needn't rebuild your garage. You can still change a tire. And a dented fender doesn't mean an expensive body repair job.

Let us show you all the new features of the car that lets you drive without shifting. Compare it for beauty, comfort, safety and value. Then decide.

Mrs. Harry Sharp of Lubbock, chairman of the registration committee, reported this morning that attendance included: 56 district officers, 13 state officers, 147 official delegates, 224 registered visitors and 169 other Lubbock women.

Mrs. James A. Allen of Childress was installed as president; Mrs. O. M. McGinty of Spur, as first vice-president; and Mrs. A. B. Boyd of Plainview, as second vice-president.

Appointive officers installed were Mrs. Kenneth E. Fink, Childress, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. H. Jernigan of Childress and Mrs. Raymond W. Harrah of Pampa, appointed members to the executive board; and Mrs. J. M. Crews of Childress, trustee of Seventh district, to the state executive board. Mrs. John J. Perry of Sweetwater, president of the state federation, acted as installing officer.

Date of the state convention in Austin, Nov. 16-18, was announced this morning.

Dr. Wiggins, speaking on "A Look at the World Today," said that refusal to accept individual responsibility is among the grave dangers currently facing people of the world.

As people move from a rural to an industrialized society, the tendency is to turn responsibility over to others to a great extent, he said. When responsibility is delegated on and on, until it reaches state capitals and eventually Washington, the people at home then criticize the state of the world, but make no effort to remedy bad conditions, he declared.

"Individual responsibility is not a magic thing, and it is not innate in us," the college president stated. "It is a very important trait that each person must learn.

"It is not the duty of the school to save society or to build a new social system. Rather, the school should help individuals learn proper thinking, good attitudes and acquire abilities.

"Education at its highest level is that education teaching individuals to accept responsibility. We should teach our children responsibility on a world-wide basis, but it must start at home. Responsibility is within each individual, or it does not exist at all," Dr. Wiggins concluded.

In a salute to Texas club women, Mrs. Hodge paid tribute to their work in varied fields, especially their international goodwill program, citizenship programs and welfare activities.

"Achievements of Texas club women are many," Mrs. Hodge declared, "and deepest and finest of all is their sincere desire and earnest efforts to make their homes, communities, state and world a better place."

Memorial services for eight club women who have died during the past year were conducted by Mrs. James H. Goodman of Lubbock. The late members of this district were Mrs. Tommy G. Lyle, Ralls, past president of Ralls Study club; Mrs. T. D. Hobart, Pampa, charter member of El Progresso club; Mrs. Lucy Ford Myers, Amarillo, member of Pierian club; Mrs. Lera Watson Shugart, Spur, member of Twentieth Century club; Mrs. Annie Stone, Memphis, member of Delphian club; Mrs. E. M. Congdon, Higgins, member for 40 years and past president of Magazine club; Mrs. Ethel Boyd Prewitt, pioneer citizen of Estelline and honorary member of 1932 Culture club; and Miss Tennessee Malone, Canyon, member of Woman's Book club.

Mary Haworth's Mail...

Mother Who Scorns Men Makes Effort To Break Her Daughter's Engagement

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 23, and for seven years my father has been ill in a tuberculosis sanitarium. I am living with my mother in a small home of our own, and both of us are employed. We earn just enough to keep the home going.

For the past two years I have been engaged to Bill, who is 27; and now I would like to get married this year if possible, for I don't think that tediously lengthy engagements are wise.

Mother accepted the idea of my engagement at first; but she wasn't fond of the idea of my approaching marriage; and now she says she can't understand why I want to "waste my life on a man, when I could have such an easy existence with trips, pretty clothes, etc." Those are her words.

SHOULD GIRL AWAIT FATHER'S RECOVERY?

MOTHER couldn't manage to keep the home on her wages alone; but she has said that she wouldn't want us to live with her. She says she would rather sell the home. I believe she is very bitter about my father's being ill for such a long time; but I think if she would get out amongst people more, she probably would get a better perspective on my situation.

My problem is whether to postpone marriage to Bill until my father is entirely well again and financially on his feet; or to go ahead and marry this year, breaking relations with my mother, as would be the case? Please answer at your earliest convenience.

(Signed) F. H.

MOTHER'S SLANT IS UNREASONABLE

DEAR F. H.: In my opinion, your wish to get married this year is sensible and entitled to respect; and I am sure it could be sensibly arranged with due regard for your mother's welfare, if she were open to reason and would behave cooperatively.

But obviously she has made up her mind to be difficult, with intent to punish your conscience for "leaving" her; and in view of her attitude, I think you might as well marry without further waiting around?

Your father may never recover sufficiently to leave the sanitarium and get back on his feet financially. And your mother's dour attitude towards life and men may partially account for his perennial invadilism. Possibly, unconsciously, he dreads and resists full recovery, lest it bring him back to "life with mother,"—the badgered victim of her cantakerousness at close range.

It's just as well that your mother says "no" to the idea of housing a son-in-law. Her disposition to "make the worst" of things would be a critical load to add to the inevitable strain of getting adjusted to married disciplines; and might estrange you and Bill before you had a chance to develop good teamwork. So be thankful for her contrariness on that score. It is a blessing in disguise.

MOTHER HAD BETTER KEEP HER PROPERTY

IF she were to sell the house, acting in haste, that would be an economic mistake, one that she is sure to regret; a case of cutting off her nose to spite her face. But what of your father's "say?" Would he agree? And hasn't he got co-owner authority in the matter?

If she can't keep the home going alone, and won't share it with you and Bill (thank heaven), she can make it produce maintenance income in other ways. For example: 1. By renting the house, adding the income to her wages and "boarding" elsewhere at a savings. 2. By sharing the home on a cost-plus basis with another employed widow, or neat couple of congenial age. 3. Renting the house to you and Bill, if you'd have it, at a mutual-aid bargain, etc.

So long as she owns habitable property, she has home-security or source of income in back of her, preferable to small funds in the bank; and she ought to think of that before she hangs herself with spitework. What she does with the house is her own business, however, so don't argue the topic. Go ahead and marry, a normal next-step you're entitled to take.—M. H.

Study Given Report Of Soviet War Preparations In Poland

WASHINGTON, April 6. (U.P.)—A report that Russia has stepped up war preparation in Poland was under study today at the State department.

The statement was issued at a press conference here yesterday by two non-Communist Polish officials who recently escaped from their homeland. They are StanislawBanczyk, vice chairman of the Polish peasant party, and the party's secretary general, Stanislaw Wojoek.

State department officials refused to comment on the report, other than to say it is under study.

Neither Speak English

Neither of the Polish officials speaks English. But a statement handed out in their name by former Polish Vice Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, whose escape from Poland made headlines in 1947, listed the alleged Soviet war preparations.

The statement said the Soviet Union is preparing Poland as "a springboard of aggression against the west." Banczyk and Wojcik, in reply to a question said they felt the attack "may come this year."

They reported:

There has been a steady increase in numbers of Soviet troops in Poland, particularly western Poland, since last year when the total number there was estimated at 300,000.

Construction Speeded

Under Russian direction, road, bridge and railroad construction has been intensified.

A purge of the Polish army has been stepped up, with particular emphasis on the air force, where both Soviet officers and Soviet soldiers have been placed in Polish uniform.

Larger amounts of Polish industrial production, including steel, coal, textiles and food, have been funneled to the Soviet army.

Russia has rebuilt several former German air fields and installations in Silesia; and the Soviet army recently held large scale maneuvers, with tanks and planes, along the Baltic coast of Poland.

Five Plays Slated By Theater Group

Enthusiastic reception of past productions has prompted the Lubbock Little Theater board of directors to make plans for five plays here next season.

The group is staging four plays during the current season.

The directors, meeting Tuesday night in the home of Charles Musson, 3012 Twentieth, also made plans to have each play run two nights, instead of one, next season, Mrs. Musson, secretary, reported.

Plans for a buffet dinner for patrons, casts and crews of previous plays were discussed at the meeting, but no definite date was set. Mrs. Musson requested that all interested persons contact her concerning the event.

Date of the group's next presentation, "Claudia," was set tentatively for late this month or early May. A conflict in booking of the high school auditorium prevented presentation of the play on the date originally planned.

TAX MAN INDICTED

Oklahoma's Senator Eying Presidency, Magazine Suggests

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 6. (U.P.)—Oklahoma's U. S. Senator Robert S. Kerr, "perhaps the richest man in the Senate," has presidential ambitions, a magazine article suggested today.

Entitled "The Bib Boom From Oklahoma," the article was written for this week's' issue of the Saturday Evening Post by Marquis W. Childs, well-known Washington columnist.

Born In Cabin

The article pointed out that the Oklahoma Democrat was born in a log cabin near Ada. "The cabin is still standing, and Kerr, who has a strong belief in his destiny and his lucky star, is not unaware that presidential candidates in the past have been helped by alog-cabin origin," thearticle said.

Reciting the freshman senator's rise to great wealth, Childs said that Kerr once borrowed $5,000 from Lew Wentz, Republican national committeeman and oil millionaire, to get ahead in the oil business.

Close Ties Described

The senator's close tie in years past with the Phillips Petroleum Co. were described by Chidls, who said that Kerr's big oil fortune, estimated at $10,000,000, began when he made a real to drill wells for Phillips.

"The association with Phillips petroleum has been so close ever since that there are those in Oklahoma City who suggest Kerr is merely a cog in the big Phillips machine," Childs wrote.

Lubbock Industrial Survey Is Expected To Reveal Vital Data

Facts of inestimable value to Lubbock are expected to be uncovered in an approaching industrial survey of the business firms of the city and county.

Approximately 100 senior students of Texas Technological college will participate in the survey, which is being sponsored by the Texas Employment commission.

Students Begin Study

At its completion, TEC will know—not approximately, but exactly—the answers to such questions as these: How many persons are employed in Lubbock county? How many men and how many women? What do they do? What months of the year do they work?

In classes this morning the college students, members of Dr. Vernon Clover's course in business research, will begin study of methods and instructions to be followed in conducting the survey among Lubbock businessmen.

Within a short time the actual process of contacting every business operator in the county will begin.

Will Have Other Value

The project has received the approval of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. The composite facts the survey reveals will be of value to other organizations than the TEC.

For example, Veterans administration officials plan to use the information as a basis for determining what classifications of on-the-job training can be made available to veterans in Lubbock county.

B. T. O'Connell, manager of the Lubbock district office of TEC, explained, "The results of the survey will give us a 'bench marker' by which we may anticipate local trends in employment, and will furnish a basis of comparisons in the future."

Totals To Be Revealed

O'Connell emphasized that the results of the survey will be confidential so far as the individual business firm is concerned. In other words, no information will get out regarding the number or types of workers an individual business employs. Only the composite total will be announced.

The questions, which probably would require five minutes to answer, call for these facts: Total number of employes, number of women employed, both full-time and regular part-time; a breakdown by occupations or job titles; and the number employed each month of the year.

O'Connell's original plans called for a question that would be of much value, the yearly payroll of each business firm.

Question Eliminated

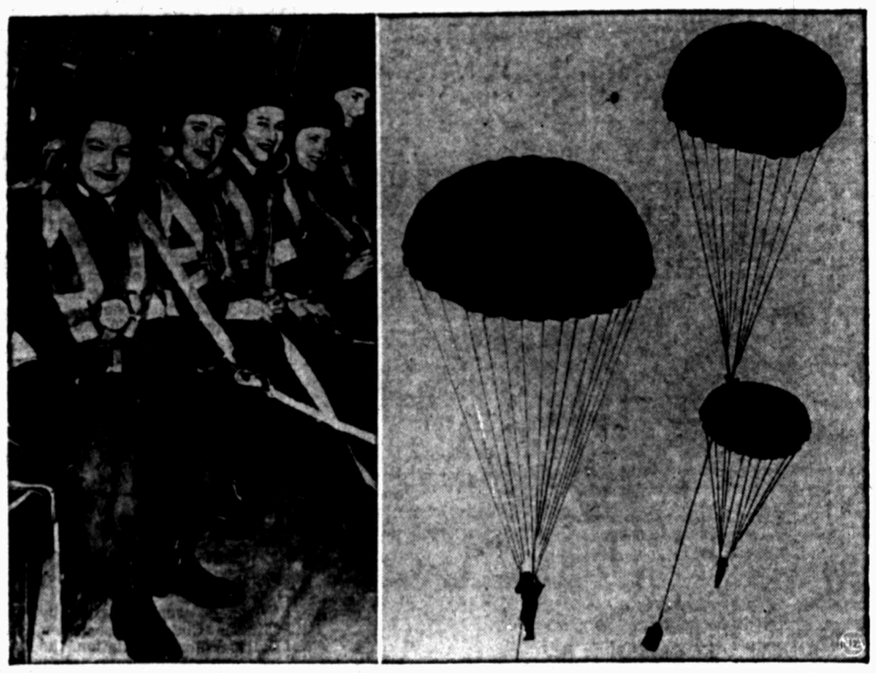

However, he personally made a survey of a selected group of business firms and found most of them reluctant to release such information, even with the assurance that it would be kept confidential.

So the question was eliminated from the survey, although the resultant figure, Lubbock's total annual payroll, would undoubtedly be an impressive figure.

Plans drafted by O'Connell and Dr. Clover call for the county to be divided into a number of districts. Students will be assigned to each district and will personally interview the owner or manager of business in the district. The survey is expected to require about two weeks.

Upon completion of the interviewing, the college is expected to make available IBM machines upon which the results will be mechanically tabulated.

It is expected that total figures resulting from the survey will be ready for publication about the middle of May.

Tech's Seismology Laboratory Praised By Federal Official

Texas Tech's seismology laboratory is filling a vital gap in the record network of the United States Coast and Geodetic survey, Dr. Frank Neuman, chief of the seismology branch of the U.S. survey assured college officials during a day-long inspection of the seismograph facilities Tuesday.

Dr. Neuman, en route from his Washington, D. C. offices to the annual Seismology Society of America conference in Berkeley, Calif., and to inspect the survey sub-station at San Francisco, made the first official visit of the relatively new laboratory at Tech, established only last year.

He said the modern equipment and supervision of the Tech station rank tops among the upper 20 stations co-operating with the U.S. survey. The Tech station is the only complete station in the southwest between Tucson, Ariz., and Little Rock, Ark.

Interest of colleges and universities is steadily mounting in seismology laboratories, Dr. Neuman said, pointing out institutional interest is important because of the part seismology is playing in exploration for oil, the important relationship between normal earth vibration and the weather, and it forms a basis for engineering investigation of earthquake areas.

With the present service, the U.S. survey expects to report data on 250 tremors and quakes this year. Last year the total was 130.

Dr. Leroy T. Patton, professor of geology, set up the Tech laboratory and interprets the recorded information which is forwarded regularly to the Washington headquarters.

Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.
FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hipocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.
Amazing Results
MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.
RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid coddition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgie. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.
Wonder Minerals
YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miracuous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.
GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.
Read What They Say!

MONEY BILLS BEING TACKLED

House Pushing For An Easter Recess

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 6—Driving hard for an Easter recess, the House tackled today the annual State-Justice-Commerce appropriation bill. It passed the agriculture money measure yesterday.

It waited, too, for its appropriation committee to put the final touches on a catch-all deficiency measure carrying an estimated $100,000,000 for the atomic energy commission. That will tentatively is carded for House debate tomorrow.

There then will be only two big regular money bills between the House and a planned Easter holiday starting April 15 and ending April 25.

No Fight Seen

No fights are in prospect on the $684,616,102 State-Justice-Commerce bill, which the appropriations committee cut $55,407,354 below the President's budget suggestions.

It carries these cash funds for the fiscal year starting next July 1:

State department: $271,405,656, including $34,000,000 for the Voice of America radio broadcasts.

Justice department: $132,579,141, including $52,585,141 for the FBI.

Commerce department: $259,927,605.

Federal judiciary: $20,703,700.

Additional Amounts

In addition, there are contract authorizations of $2,900,000 for the State department, $900,000 for Justice, and $58,800,000 for Commerce. These are additional amounts which the agencies may obligate for future appropriation.

The annual $701,122,079 agriculture bill skimmed through the House and went to the Senate by voice vote and without major change from appropriations committee recommendations.

There was a short but spirited scrap over an amendment to hold to $750 the payment any individual farmer may receive for soil conservation practices. But the House upheld the committee recommendation boosting the maximum to $2,500.

Backers of the amendment argued the higher payment would deprive many small farmers of benefits by cutting in chain or commercitl, farmers for larger amounts.

Opponents insisted that the higher top was fair because the payments are made at the rate of $1 of federal money for each $3 of individual expenditure on soil conservation.

where he would transgress.

"At present, the balance of military power is centered in the United States, 3,000 miles from the heart of Europe.

Strategy Important

"It must be perfectly apparent to the people of the United States that we cannot count on friends in western Europe if our straetgy in the event of war dictates that we shall first abandon them to the enemy with a promise of later liberation.

"Yet that is the only strategy that can prevail if the military balance of power in Europe is to be carried on the wings of our bombers and deposited in reserves this side of the ocean.

"It is a strategy that would produce nothing better than impotent and disillusioned allies in the event of a war."

The Army chief thus rejected any idea that, in case of an attack, European ground forces should bear the brunt, while the United States devoted its initial efforts to air strikes.

In Washington the general's call for "common defense" of western Europe's borders brought fresh Senate demands for estimates on the cost of re-arming the pact members.

Celebrations Planned

Behind Bradley's words were his own experiment in European warfare. The general was Army ground force commander in the Normandy invasion, and later led the million and a half combat troops which crashed through the German lines.

Bradley said he had planned to devote his talk to a report on the state of the Army, but at the invitation of the State department had included comment on the military significance of the pact.

However, other speakers and stabilizer, both extensively used by the Air Force during the last war.

Lt. Col. Ross Ayers, commanding officer of the National Guard here, will speak to the Kiwanis club luncheon meeting on Thursday on a military subject, but the title of his topic has not been announced.

The American Legion, which held its annual two-day district convention here Saturday and Sunday, will not observe Army Day with any special activities. Commander J. R. Eagan said, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, commanded by William Earl Creel, will also observe the day quietly.

manded that a joint committee be set up by Saturday to supervise within three days the transfer of Nationalist armies to Communist command.

As a result of the ultimatum, acting President Li Tsung-Jen was said to have advised Western power diplomats the Reds may cross the Yangtze river within 10 days.

The Yangtze has been the line of demarcation between Nationalist and Red forces for some months.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

LOSSES IN MAJORITY

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP) — The stock market closed today with losses of fractions to around a point in a majority.

The general run of stocks coasted along at slightly lower levels most of the time. Highly selective buying, though, raised some issues to the year's top prices. Utility shares were among those favored.

Turnover was at the rate of about 900,000 shares.

Interest in a couple of gold shares revived following a brisk rise late last week. Dome reached a 1949 high at one time and Homestake, largest U. S. producer of the yellow metal, improved.

Republic Pictures common and preferred moved up for a while in response to news the preferred dividend had been resumed but full advances were not maintained.

Others tending lower included U. S. Steel, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Kennecott Copper, Dupont, Southern Pacific, Pan American airways and Mission Corp.

Leaning ahead were Montgomery Ward; U. S. Lines, North American Co., consolidated Natural Gas, Allied Chemical, Richfield Oil, and Paramount Pictures.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm today on Washington reports that Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will recommend continuance of high price supports on some basic export commodities, such as cotton in his statement on farm legislation to be delivered to Congress Thursday. Commission house and trade buying, coupled with short covering extended gains to 60 cents a bale before the market reacted partially on increased hedging and liquidation.

A good deal of offerings in nearby May came out on the advance partly in anticipation of first notive day April 26.

Increased hedging and profit taking depressed prices in the final hour.

Futures closed 30 cents a bale lower to 5 cents higher than the previous close.

Ginners' Conclave Scheduled To End

DALLAS, April 6. (U.P.)—A three-day convention of the Cotton Ginners association was scheduled to end here at noon today.

Some 3,000 delegates yesterday heard a talk by Texas commissioner of agriculture, J. E. McDonald.

McDonald said that a two-price system of marketing cotton was an alternate to acreage control or abandonment of government price support. He said that a government order to reduce acreage would be ruinous to the cotton industry.

The commissioner suggested that cotton raisers be allowed to sell to the domestic market at parity price that part of the cotton crop allocated for sale in the United States.

McDonald also advised that the farmers be left free to produce any amount of cotton in excess of his domestic allotment for the world market, to be sold at the world price.

Texas Flexes Its Muscles And Shines Buttons For Army Day

(By The Associated Press)

Texas—cradle of military power—flexed its muscles and polished its buttons for Army day, today.

Flags were out, veterans paraded and dozens of military installations put out welcome mats for the public.

Master Sgt. Davis A. Brown, recruiter at Pampa, had an idea.

He urged veterans to "wear as much of your uniforms as will still fit." Some did.

Trains Haul Visitors

Nine tanks and 30 other motor vehicles of the 49th armored division paraded through downtown Fort Worth while escorting planes droned overhead. Trailer trains hauled visitors through the Army quartermaster depot south of Fort Worth—an estimated 7,000 were expected. And Lt. Gen. Raymond S. McLain, Army public information chief, was in town for two speeches.

Mayor Harold Jones made a speech, stores spread service displays in their windows and Sheppard field staged a concert at Wichita Falls. A military ball will be given tonight.

Members and veterans of all branches of the service attended a luncheon at Waco and fighting equipment was displayed on the city hall square. Flags were out.

While visitors sat on bleachers, a thunderous demonstration of the fire power of the Second armored division artillery units was staged at Camp Hood. The public had a perfect view of targets as well as the belching guns.

The fortress city of San Antonio put on a big military parade in the early afternoon and great Fort Sam Houston was thrown open to visitors. On display were a recoilless 75 millimeter rifle and a rocket launcher. The post chapel at Fort Sam Houston held special services.

At Dallas, 2,300 students of various high school ROTC units paraded with 49th armored division units and the Air Force ROTC unit at Southern Methodist university.

Courthouse Being Readied For Trial

FRANKLIN, April 6 (U.P.) — The small Robertson county courthouse was being readied today for the fraud trial of insuranceman Sylvan Blum Jones, promising to be one of the most sensational trials in the county's history.

Jones, whose home is in Hearne, was scheduled to be tried in district court here Monday on three fraud counts. He is charged with an $81,000 juggling of checks that bankrupted the First State bank of Franklin and forced it to merge with its competitor.

Defense Attorney Mack L. Bennett, jr., of Normangee, said he would present "eight or 10" witnesses to show that Jones did not intentionally defraud persons who had to make up the deficit caused by lack of funds in Jones' account.

Jones was to be tried before Judge W. S. Barron on one of eight indictments, including two charges of swindling by worthless check and one of theft by false pretense.

Plant Growth, Field Activity Retarded

AUSTIN, April 6 (U.P.)—Field activity was delayed and plant growth retarded by unseasonably cool weather and showers over much of the state during the past week, the United States department of agriculture reported today.

However, no serious losses were evident, the USDA said, but warm, open weather is now needed.

Commercial vegetable crops, the report said, had been making good proggress in most areas until the cool spell over the week end checked development of many tender types of vegetables

Discovery allowable for the Akers well No. 1, was granted Jerome McLester of Austin with the production to be carried in the Fish creek (Mississippi) field. The commission also set a gas-oil ratio of 2,000 to one.

Texas Elephant Stampede For Cameraman Horrifies Motorist

GONZALES, April 6 (U.P.) — Things had more or less returned to normal in this south Texas town today after a herd of 18 circus elephants stampeded over a two-mile area yesterday as a "show" for a newsreel cameraman.

Trumpeting loudly, the elephants ripped through fences, knocked a porch from a farm house and injured two men.

A part of the Bailey brothers circus menargerie, they had been led into the woodlands near the Guadalupe river to stage a "fake" stampede for Lee Orr, Dallas newsreel cameraman.

Abandoned Camera

Having been put through a dress rehearsal earlier in the day, the herd was not too enthusiastic about performing before the camera, and horsemen riding herd on the animals fired several pistol shots into the air to get them started.

After that, the job was getting them stopped. One elephant tossed head trainer Rex Williams some 20 feet. Also injured was Raymond Sreivogal, a utility man, who said he probably would have been trampled to death if he had not fallen between two logs.

Orr, who had set up his camera before the stampede started, abandoned it for the shelter of a nearby tree. He nevertheless said he got some excellent animal pictures.

Motorists Horrified

As the elephants reached the highway, motorists were horrified. One driver, after swerving into a ditch and pulling out again, violated all speed laws trying to outrun the stampede.

When he reached Gonzales, he shouted to dumfounded citizens: "I'm being chased by an elephant."

Ben Davenport, owner of the circus, which maintains its winter quarters here, said it took two hours to round up the beasts and return them to their barns.

Observers remarked that Texas was becoming known for its "elephant trouble." Last week a King Brothers circus elephant at Baytown, brooding over the illness of her mate, bowled over her trainer and did a stand on his head.

"Talking" Fish May Be Heard At Park

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6. (U.P.) — "Talking" fish may soon be heard in the Steinhart aquarium in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park.

Sounds made by the spotfin croakers will become audible to visitors by use of a hydrophone, a device similar to sonar, the Navy's war-time submarine listening equipment.

If any visitor is interested in hearing the croaker emit its many fish noises he merely presses a button connected to a suspended microphone in the pool. The mike is then cut into a loudspeaker in the corridor and the fish obliges —usually.

School Bills

Gilmer-Aikin school proposals into effect.

Debate on the Senate-approved Taylor bill started a week ago. Proponents of the plan had the upper hand then.

Willis denied today that he was engaged in stalling tactics. He said he had been voting with proponents of the Gilmer-Aikin plan, but argued that even the comptroller was unable to say now what it would cost.

"If it's on the point of finance, why do you want to recommit this bill that has nothing to do with finance?" Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso asked.

Senate bill 116, the second of the Gilmer-Aikin bills, deals with financing of the suggested minimum foundation program.

Willis said he planned to ask for all three measures to be recommitted because they are related legislation.

The House also adopted an amendment providing for the election of the 21-member state board of education this year and then staggering the elections so that seven new members would be elected each year beginning in 1950.

It then recessed until 2:45 p. m. The Senate also ordered an afternoon session.

immediately to Houston and was expected to be returned to the state prison system today.

Still at large was Willard Ward, 35, who was serving a life term from Tarrant county as an habitual criminal.

State and county officers still pressed the search for him today in the densely wooded area around Nacogdoches.

Officers here said Lamay refused to indicate when he had last seen his companion.

After sawing their way from the Clemens prison farm Monday night, the two fugitives kidnapped two oil field workers and stole their automobile. They released their captives near Houston and abandoned their car near Nacogdoches and took to the woods after it blew a tire.

Army Day

other celebrations today in dozens of cities proclaimed the achievements of the Army and explained its many missions.

The other services joined in to pay tribute, with scheduled talks by Secretary of the Navy Sullivan at Syracuse, N. Y., Secretary of Aid Symington at Montgomery, Ala., and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, at Baltimore, Md.

The Army's civilian chief, Secretary Royall, went to Chicago to make an Army day address there, with Assistant Secretary Gray listed for a talk at Milwaukee. And Army chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, was due for another in Philadelphia.

This may be the last "army day" celebraetion. The national military establishment is studying suggestions that, in the spirit of unification, it might be well to abandon the separate "days" for the Army, Navy and Air Force and observe a single day for the combined armed forces.

Farm Program

some farm products, incentive payments for others, consumer subsidy programs, and government production controls for such crops as cotton, tobacco, wheat, rice and peanuts.

Cotton Supports Included

He is expected to say that the current controversy over the Aiken law puts too much emphasis upon price supports. That law provides for a system of flexible supports, ranging between 60 and 90 per cent of parity, for most storable products, and zero to 90 for others.

(Parity is a standard for measuring farm product prices, designed to be equally fair to farmers and non-farmers.)

Brannan may advocate relatively high price supports and production controls for such export crops as cotton, tobacco, wheat and rice.

Corn and other livestock feeds, on the other hand, would depend chiefly on the livestock incentive program for their support. By maintaining a broad consumer demand for livestock products, farmers would be encouraged to turn their feed grains into those products rather than to store them up under government support programs.

Press Strike

pressmen return to their posts.

The work stoppage came in the midst of negotiations between publish and the Washington local of AFL pressmen's union. Publishers promptly served notice that the talks will not be renewed until the men are back on the job.

Pressmen claimed the walkout resulted from failure to agree on a new contract.

Some of the demands to which the papers would not agree included a further reduction in the 37½ hour work week, time and a half pay for the sixth day of work regardless of hours previously worked, three weeks vacation after a year's service, wage increases "in excess of that granted other crafts," and extra men on the presses.

High Court Spanks Fort Worth Attorney

AUSTIN, April 6 (U.P.)—The State supreme court spanked a Fort Worth attorney today, striking from the record a brief he filed because it was "couched in language disrespectful to the court and unbecoming a member of the bar and officer of this court."

The attorney was Sterling Holloway, who filed a brief seeking a rehearing of an adverse decision handed down by the court involving title to land in Concho county.

"This court," said Holloway in the brief, "has intentionally overruled its former decision in this case, stating that the prior decision was 'clearly erroneous,' and did so without the citation of a single authority and without even a casual consideration of the authorities and arguments of the respondents.

The entire brief was ordered stricken from the files of the court and returned to the author.

Hopes For Taft-Hartley Labor Law Repeal Fall To New Low

By FRED W. PERKINS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Hopes of union supporters in Congress for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law have fallen so low that now much talk is about maintaining the issue in next year's congressional elections.

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (D., Minn.), who won last fall largely on the Taft-Hartley question, is quoted by a labor newspaper as saying that it will take the election of a new Congress to put over repeal.

Unions Eye Election

The newspaper is "Justice," organ of the international ladies garment workers union (AFL), which wants this law repealed—and the sooner the better. The Minnesota senator was elected over former Republican Senator Joseph H. Ball, who was a leading Taft-Hartley advocate.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO, also points toward next year. After a White House call yesterday, in which he told President Truman that Taft-Hartley repeal was still what organized labor wanted most, he was questioned about poor prospects for that particularly in the Senate. His reply was, "remember there will be an election in 1950."

Senator Wayne Morse (R., Ore.), who wants a "moderate" labor law to protect and satisfy both labor and management, said today, "I'm not as encouraged as I was three weeks ago on getting a good bill to take collective bargaining out of politics.

"There are many indications in the Senate of the Republican-Dixiecrat coalition that will make it impossible to pass some of the most needed amendments. But I still hope that before it is too late the Republicans will recognize they must support legislation equally fair to both labor and management."

Senator Robert A. Taft (R., O) has not disclosed his plans in detail, but has said he favors changes in the law to remove what he thinks experience has shown to be unfair or unnecessary. These changes also might remove some of the targets for union attack.

Labor lobbyists express disappointment at the slow progress in both branches of Congress and the dim prospects for even the administration bill which, though restoring the Wagner act, would place in it some restrictions on unions—much less than in Taft-Hartley.

The House bill is now hung up before the rules committee, and according to Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Texas), will not be brought up for floor debate until after April 25. Prospects for Senate action are even more remote.

Navy Temporarily Sets Aside Its "NoWomen-Aboard" Policy

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — The Navy has finally set aside its no-women-aboard policy — but only temporary.

Politely, but grimly, up until now the Navy has held out against having women on its combat ships on trips to sea that last overnight.

"Sorry, no — er — accommodations" was the standard explanation of admirals and captains.

That's how the Navy stood when May Craig, Washington correspondent for a Portland, Me., newspaper, sought to board the battleship Missouri with Washington newsmen assigned to cover President Truman's trip to Brazil. That was about two years ago.

Names Thought Masculine

But today the Navy confirmed that it will take three women to sea aboard the aircraft carrier Midway on an overnight trip the weekend of April 30.

The trio? Rep. Chase Going Woodhouse (D) of Connecticut and Rep. Reva Bosone (D) of Utah and Captain Joyce Bright Hancock, director of the Waves.

The Navy capitulation resulted from a routine invitation.

It couldn't be confirmed, but there is a suspicion that someone thought the names "Chase" and "Reva" were masculine.

Anyway, when they found that they'd invited the ladies—well, it's a little difficult to say, "no, no, you can't come." And the U. S. Navy is nothing if not gallant.

Fear Of FPC Power Told To Congress

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — Congress heard today that fear of some independent gas producers that they might come under Federal Power commission jurisdiction has indirectly caused the shutdown of some gas wells.

Rep. Lyle of Corpus Christi, Tex., made the statement at a House Interstate Commerce subcommittee hearing. It is considering bills by Lyle and others to prevent the commission from taking jurisdiction over the gathering and production of natural gas.

Declaring the oil and gas industry has been thrown into chaos and confusion by misinterpretation of the natural gas act, Lyle added:

"In and adjoining my district there are more than 50 gas fields which are shut in for lack of market, primarily because the producers in those fields have refused to enter into contract with the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., which owns an interstate pipeline presently taking gas from the area and other similar pipelines which are proposed to be extended into the area.

"The producers in these fields have great fear—and it is justifiable—that they would be classed as natural gas companies by and under the jurisdiction of the Federal Power commission if they entered into contract sale of their gas to interstate pipeline companies."

World War II Cost Set At $4 Trillion

NEW YORK, April 6 (INS) — A noted economist estimated the cost of World War II today at 40 million lives and four trillion (four thousand thousand million) dollars.

C. Hartley Grattan, writing in the April issue of Harper's magazine, said military expenditures in national budgets totaled $1,117,000,000,000 and that the cost of destruction, principally from air bombardment, was "at least twice that figure."

The economist said the "life-cost" of the second world war fell far more heavily on civilians than on men in uniform, including bombing deaths, and killing of civilians in concentration camps.

Grattan estimated that at least three times as many civilians died because of the war as the 15 million who died in the armed forces.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Fall From Airplane Was Not Very Far

ATLANTA, April 6 (U.P.)— When people get curious about his plaster chest, Richard L. Sawyer dismisses their questions with a nonchalant: "Oh, I fell out of an airplane."

He not only survived the accident but didn't know he was hurt until three days later when X-rays showed two broken vertebrae.

Pressed for details, Richard will admit that his fall was not as spectacular as it might seem.

Richard is 11. The plane he fell from while playing in in the cockpit was an abandoned war plane, parked on the ground.

German-Jew Girl To Seek Mate In Texas

NEW ORLEANS, April 6 (U.P.)— A glamorous 21-year-old German-Jewish girl, who arrived here yesterday with 876 other displaced persons, headed for Houston, Tex., today with the announced intention of catching a husband.

Margarete Weisz, fashionably clad in a red and black dress and a fur-trimmed coat, said she was confident she could find a man, even though she knows there are too many girls in the United States.

"American men like very much European girls," she said, "because we are such good housewives."

She said she worked as a dressmaker in Budapest, where she fled in 1933 with her family. She believes her parents died in concentration camp gas chambers.

Miss Weisz said she would live with a cousin in Houston.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Some scientists believe thought control is possible in the far, far future.

Experiments at Duke university and at half dozen other laboratories in the world indicate, these scientists say, that certain persons have a so-far unexplainable power to transmit thought and perhaps that power may continue after death.

Dr. J. B. Rhine, head of the parapsychology laboratory at Duke, believes his experiments also have shown that some persons have power of mind over matter. He has conducted experiments in which subjects have "influenced" the roll of cubes—dice without spots.

Power Far Off

The idea of one man being able to control the thoughts of other men opens up an infinite field of speculation. Wars might be prevented or stopped or started. The ideology with the strongest minds presumably could control the world. Scientists hasten to add that any such power is so far off that none need worry about it now. But a start has been made, they say, in plumbing the power of the human mind.

Dr. Rhine has "pierced" the iron curtain in experiments with scientists in Czechoslovakia. The experiments are timed to run simultaneously with subjects in this country calling the identity of upturned cards. The subjects made better-than-chance scores.

Military Interested

Dr. Rhine believes the results are caused by thought transmission.

Many orthodox scientists view Dr, Rhine's work as useless but Rhine and his assistant are carrying on and have been winning some support. Recently, Dr. Robert Broom, British anthropologist, expressed confidence in the results obtained at Duke and elsewhere.

Dr. Rhine says that some military men have been interested in extra sensory perception, called ESP, which is the power to receive or transmit thoughts. The military applications, he believes, would be enormous.

The Duke experiments have not reached the point where attempts were made to influence the thoughts of other persons. But "daily runs" are being made, showing that moving objects can be influenced by the mind.

Breakfast Program Is Slated Thursday

The Aqui-Pri class of the Asbury Methodist church has the table set for "Breakfast in Hollywood" tomorrow afternoon at the Plaza theater, 2705 Twenty-sixth street.

The local version of this national hook-up radio show will begin at 3 p. m. with Mac Preusch, KSEL program director, acting as master of ceremonies. The program will be broadcast from the stage of the theater from 3:15 until 3:45.

Following the pattern of the original show in Hollywood, there will be gifts for women and couples for having come the greatest distance, having been married longest and the most recent bride. There are scores of prizes for other reasons that will be given to those who attend the show. The majority of the prizes have been donated by Lubbock merchants.

Mrs. A. S. Westbrook, president of the newly formed Aqui-Pri class, said that all money raised by "Breakfast in Hollywood" will be used to furnish the church classroom and for other church purposes.

Higher prices are reported to have wiped out French workers' 15 per cent raise.

City Elections Held In Area

Heavy Voting In Some Races

Cities and towns over the South Plains Tuesday conducted municipal elections, at which time voters named councilmen and commissioners, depending upon a particular city's form of government. In addition, many of the towns also named mayors.

Most of the city officials elected Tuesday will serve two-year terms.

Although voting was light in many of the towns, heavy voting was reported in several communities, particularly in Abernathy, Slaton, and Floydada. The light vote in some other communities was attributed to the fact that candidates were unopposed in their races.

No Election In Lubbock

By and large, re-election of incumbents and election of new candidates seemed to be about evenly balanced, as reflected by voting over the area.

Lubbock was among several cities over the South Plains not holding elections this year. Several other points over the state conducted elections, voting interest varying according to the city and issues involved.

THREE CITY OFFICIALS AT POST RE-ELECTED

POST, April 6 (Special)—A total of 50 votes were cast in Tuesday's city election here. John T. Herd was elected mayor, and Dr. Glenn Kahler and Vachel Anderson were named commissioners. None was opposed, and all were up for re-election.

A tabulation of the voting was: Herd, 43; Kahler, 48; and Anderson, 46. There were several write-in votes for mayor and commissioners.

HOGAN IS RE-ELECTED MAYOR OF SPUR

SPUR, April 6 (Special) — Ned Hogan, unopposed in his candidacy for the mayorship here, received 148 votes in Tuesday's election. Edgar C. McGee, also unopposed, was named water commissioner with 147 votes. In the race for street commissioner, Bynum Britton won over his opponent, Fred Kinney, by 119 to 32.

One hundred fifty-one votes were cast today out of a possible 750, election officials here said.

MAYOR, 4 COMMISSIONERS ARE NAMED AT LEVELLAND

LEVELLAND, April 6 (Special)—Voters here Tuesday named a mayor and four commissioners. Voting was fairly light, election officials reported.

Kenneth Harper, who has been serving as commissioner, was unopposed for mayor of Levelland. He succeeds Ray Watson, mayor for the past two years, who did not seek re-election. Harper, who owns a drug store here in addition to other business interests,

OPAL DIXON

THE QUESTION

Do you think parents should raise their voices in correcting their children?

THE ANSWERS

FLOYD HONEY, 2305 Thirtieth, Senior High school principal: "No. Raising the voice in correcting the child disturbs him emotionally. When an individual makes a mistake, he is entitled to know what the mistake is and how to correct it. There should be no lack of firmness in correcting the child, but raising the voice will detract from rather than emphasize the correction."

MRS. W. T. MILAM, 3800 South Ave. H, superintendent of Milam's orphanage: "No, I don't. I think it's best to be as calm as you can in trying to put anything over to a child. If you do raise your voice, especially in a harsh tone, I don't think they can accept what you are trying to put over to them."

MRS. L. F. HOOKER, 1923 Twenty - seventh, housewife: "They should be calm with children and not lose their temper. It is according to what they are doing whether you raise your voice or not. Sometimes, it is necessary to raise your voice to impress on them that you're not joking."

KYLE B. RATISSEAU, 2512 Twenty -Third, owner of Kyle B. Ratisseau Claims service: "No. I don't think so. I may be guilty of it at times. I know it's wrong. I think a parent should attempt to correct his children when he is not in a mood which will cause him to raise his voice. I've found from personal experience that if you do correct them in a loud manner, it only tends to excite the child and the point you are trying to put over is missed entirely."

GARNET REEVES, 2510 Twenty-first, owner of Garnet Reeves Insurance agency: "Yes, when the correction is of an unusual measure. Children are given many luxuries and privileges today and many of them are actually on the verge of being a little spoiled. A little emphasis with the voice is very effective and necessary at times. With four boys around our house, it is often necessary to raise your voice, even to be heard."

MRS. V. G. ALLEN, 2721 Twenty-ninth, owner of Turner's: "I don't suppose one would consider it good taste, but as human nature goes, we will do it every once in a while. Parents should not lose their temper. At times, they need to speak very firmly, but they need not do it in a loud voice."

Poultry Meet Slated Here

The South Plains Poultry conference, one of the most extensive ever planned in this area, will be held at Texas Tech, Friday and Saturday, April 8 and 9. Several hundred visitors are expected to attend.

Jack Creel, farm service expert for radio station KFYO and the Lubbock National Bank who is general chairman of the conference, said today that poultrymen from the entire South Plains and Panhandle area have been invited.

"If a farmer has as much as one chicken he will be interested in the poultry conference and exhibits this year," Creel said. He added that those who contemplated entering the poultry business or those who want to develop a profitable side-line will find a wealth of information made available to them during the two-day meeting.

"Poultry, for meat and for eggs, can become a major project in the Plains section," Creel said.

Recent reports from the office of country agent D. W. Sherrill indicated that egg consumption in the metropolitan Lubbock area alone exceeded 4,000,000 per week. Of this total only about 20 per cent were produced in Lubbock county and the balance were shipped in from as far away as Oklahoma and Kansas.

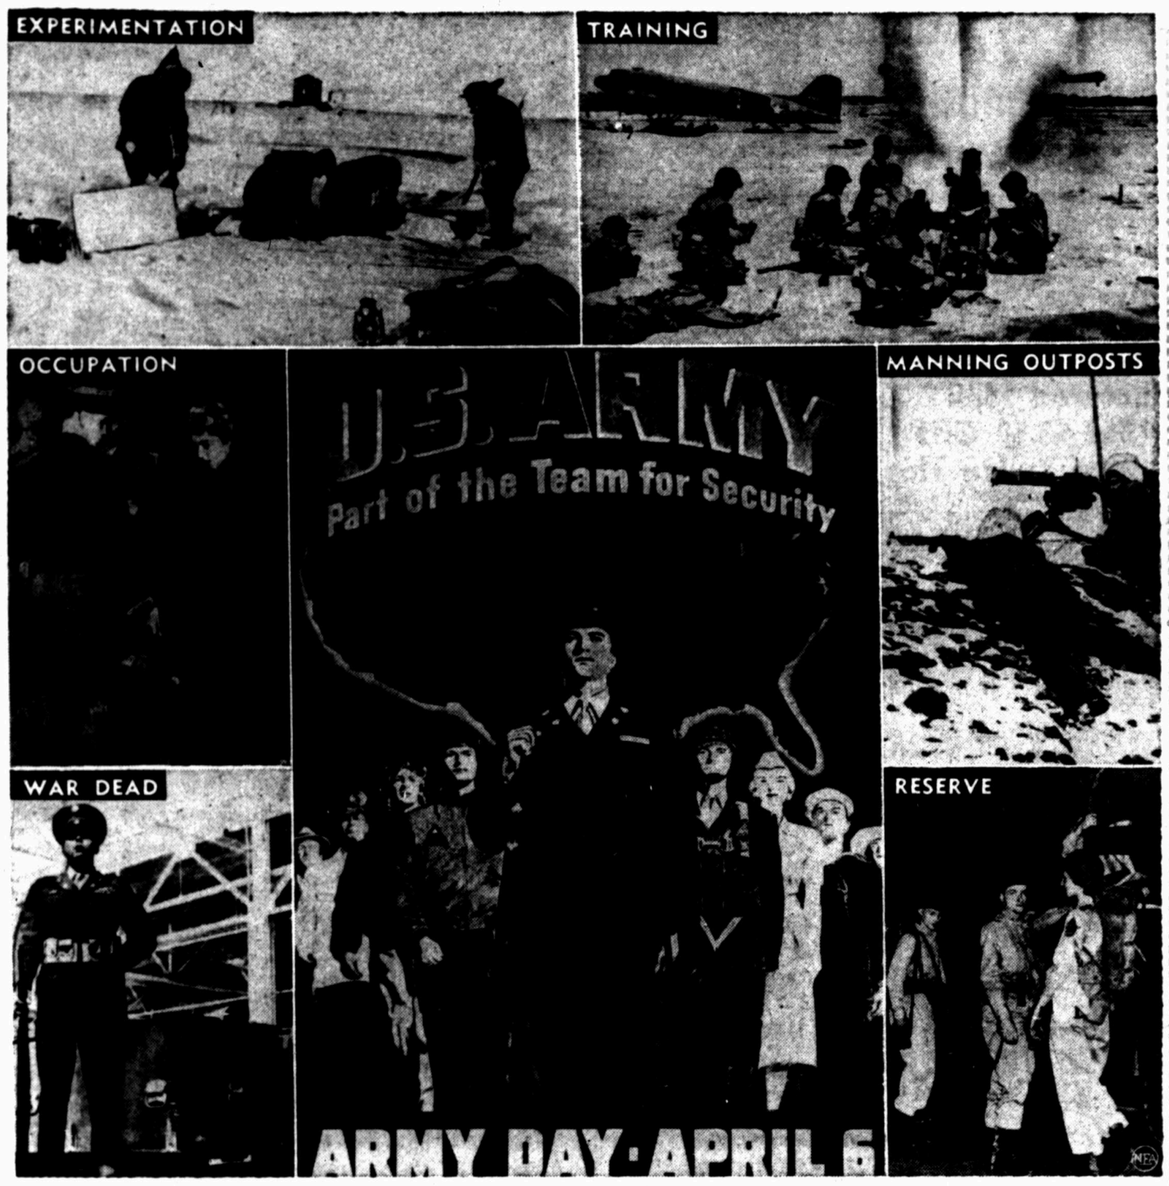

Program Is Announced

Sherrill will be chairman of the first morning's events which will begin with registration at 9 a.m. in the Agricultural auditorium. At 9:45 a.m. a welcome address will be given by W. L. Stangel, dean of the Texas Tech College of Agriculture.

At 10 a.m. a series of lectures will begin that have been designed to give poultrymen and prospective poultrymen a maximum of practical information in understandable terms. The talks will include: Brooding and Developing Pullets"—Kirk B. Turner; "Tests For Pullorum"—J. R. Grubbs; "Controlling Parasites"—L. H. McElroy; "Chicken Diseases"—Dr. W. C. Banks; "Breeding For High Production"—W. C. Homeyer.

11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. will be devoted to the lunch period and then the afternoon session will begin with N. J. Robnett, voca-

Psychiatrist Advises Parents To Observe Animals For Key To Children's Behavior

CHICAGO, April 6 (INS)—A psychiatrist advised harrassed parents today that the way to learn all about children is to make a study of the behavior of chickens, dogs and monkeys.

Dr. David M. Levy, clinical professor of psychiatry at Yale university, said the behavior of a strange hen when put into a pen with a group that has been living together is just like that of a new boy trying to get into the neighborhood gang.

He said the strange hen, like the child, will do everything possible to adjust to the group.

Dr. Levy spoke at the annual convention of the American Orthopsychiatric association, which includes doctors, psychiatrists, social workers, educators and jurists interested in behavior problems.

He said:

"When two grownup roosters, or hens, or rats, or dogs or monkeys, each a stranger to the other, are brought together for the first time, one invariably attempts to dominate the other.

"Dominance is achieved, whether by bluff or by battle, in a few minutes.

"The animals in their first contact also appear to size each other up, just as humans do."

He said the study of animals brings into "sharper focus" the study of behavior problems of children and adults.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.)—Harold K. Wood waited three weeks for his puppy to return home. Then a friend offered him another dog. To Wood's surprise, the friend had found Wood's puppy, sheltering the animal until he could find a home for it.

More Pay Section Proven In South-Central Borden County

More pay section has been proven in the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian for Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Production Company No. 1 T. J. Good, wildcat discovery from that formation in South-Central Borden County.

After cementing a string of 5½-inch casing on 7,940 feet, to the bottom of the zone which primarily showed production, the prospector made hole to 7,970 feet.

With packer set at 7,940 feet, the development drillstem tested and had gas in three minutes, drilling mud in 14 minutes and oil in 16 minutes.

Through a ¾-inch bottom hole choke, the well flowed 176 barrels of 42.5-gravity oil in 10 hours. On last report, operator was coming out of the hole with the test tool.

This strike is about six miles northwest of the Canyon-Pennsylvanian production in the Vealmoor field of North-Central Howard County and 1,985 feet from south, 2,004 feet from west lines of section 37, block 33, T-4-N, TP survey.

Extension Completed

An extension to production from the Devonian in the Dollarhide field of Southwest Andrews County has been completed by Union Oil Company of California.

The concern's No. 1-H E. P. Cowden, 330 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of the Cowden lease in section 14, block A-35, psl survey, flowed 24 hours through a one-half inch choke to make a potential test of 408 barrels of oil.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,242-1. Gravity of the petroleum was 40 degrees. There was no water.

Production was through perforations opposite the Devonian at 8,215-8,280 feet and 8,319-8,352 feet, following a 3,500-gallon acid treatment in that formation. Total depth of the well is 8,370 feet. Top of the Devonian pay was called on 8,215 feet.

Two Tests Run

Humble Oil & Refining Company ran two drillstem tests in a Pennsylvanian lime and shale formation, probably Canyon, at its No. 1 Edmondson, wildcat two and one-third miles west and one-quarter mile north of the North Snyder-Canyon pool in North-Central Scurry.

The first examination was for 33 minutes at 7,148-7,190 feet, showing a slight blow of air for five minutes and recovering 15 feet of drilling mud. There were no shows of oil, gas or water.

On the second test, the tool was open one hour at 7,199-7,210 feet. A fair blow of air reached the surface immediately and continued for 54 minutes. Recovery was 150 feet of gas cut drilling mud.

The prospector has now deepened to 7,230 feet in lime and shale. Another drillstem test was in process.

Location is 330 feet from north and east lines of section 437, block 97, H&TC survey, about eight and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.

Show Of Oil Logged

In South-Central Garza County, Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 Sims has drilled to 8,261 feet in chert. A fair fluorescent show of oil was logged on that depth and the venture was circulating for samples.

It is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 8, block 2, T&NO survey.

Water Develops

C. H. Murphy & Son developed water in the San Andres-Permian of Central Gaines County with their No. 1 E. T. O'Daniel, wildcat two miles southeast of Seminole and 660 feet from east, 1,980 feet from south lines of section 16, block C-44, psl survey.

A two-hour drillstem test was run at 5,309-35 feet, recovering 90 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud and 310 feet of salty sulphur water. Operator was coring ahead.

The prospect has shown possibilities of oil in the San Andres at a lesser depth.

Early Action By Congress On Bigger Jobless Pay Unlikely

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—CIO desires to the contrary, there seems to be little if any prospect for early congressional action on legislation to provide bigger unemployment benefits.

CIO President Philip Murray called yesterday at the White House and urged President Truman to send a special message to Congress emphasizing the need for more benefits to the jobless. He told newsmen he found the President concerned over a rise in unemployment.

But Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the House ways and means committee said today: "We already have about as big an order as we can fill right now."

Logjam Possible

The committee is in the middle of public hearings on Mr. Truman's proposed legislation for expanding other parts of the social security system.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee also foresaw the possibility of a legislative logjam that might prevent any early consideration of new jobless benefits legislation.

How bad the logjam gets, he said, will depend on what kind of a tax program is offered. The present measures seek $4,000,000,000 more in general taxes. Congress is not enthusiastic about it. The tax issue might tie up the legislative machinery for weeks, if not months.

Unemployment Higher

Rep. Mills (D-Ark), a ways and means member, said Congress might "find itself swamped." He voiced the hope that "it will be satisfactory to everyone" for the ways and means committee to complete the old age and survivors insurance and public assistance legislation, before it takes up anything else.

The various states now set the amount of unemployment benefits and their duration. There have been various proposals in time past for federal supplements to these benefits. Congress rejected these proposals shortly after the end of the last war.

Murray did not predict what the President will propose. Leaving the White House he said:

"Unemployment has been growing in the course of the past few months. Besides the 3,200,000 who are present unemployed there are several millions who are working on a part-time basis from 15 to 20 hours a week."

Final Production Of Varsity Show Slated

The last night of the 1949 Varsity show will be staged in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight. The performance will be dedicated to the faculty sponsors of "Milestones in Melody," Dr. D. D. Jackson, professor of education and W. H. (Bill) Tenny, lecturer in the Dairy Manufacturing department.

Over 1,200 people attended the second night of the show last night in the Lubbock High school auditorium. The show, which is produced and directed by the students of Texas Tech, was closed with applause approval from the crowd.

At the end of the first act the show was dedicated to Dr. E. N. Jones, the first vice-president of the college. The cast had voted unanimously to dedicate this show to Dr. Jones.

The vice-president said that he could only say that it gave him pleasure to have the show dedicated to him.

Indians Fall Before Giant Onslaught 8-4 As 6,781 Watch

New Yorkers Have Batting Field Day

The Cleveland Indians may be the World Champions of organized ball, but few of the 6,871 fans, paid fans that is, came away from Rosenthal Field convinced after watching the New York Giants club two hurlers for an 8-to-4 victory.

Giant batters had a field day, driving out nine doubles and two home runs to jump into an early lead and hold it. And with Ray Poat and Handy Andy Hansen keeping Indian hits scattered, there wasn't much work involved.

Picked Up In Deal

Frank Papish, picked up in a winter deal with the Chicago White Sox, labored as though under the apprehension he was still on the Sox payroll. He was far from effective and not much of a mystery to Giant stickers, who enjoyed a field day at his expense.

In defense of Papish, it might be noted that every double yesterday was of the ground rule variety, but even so, he failed to mystify the New Yorkers. They began calling him cousin in the first frame and climbed aboard him as though he were under contract to Horace Stoneham.

Workmanlike Job

Poat did a workmanlike job on the Indians, except for a brief splurge in the third, when they scored three of their four runs. Mickey Vernon lofted one over the rightfield fence, Manager Lou Boudreau walked and Jor Gordon smashed a drive over the centerfield barrier.

That was that for the Indians, who meekly succumbed in fashion anything resembling World Champions. As for Papish, he was not long for this ball game.

By the time Manager Boudreau got him out of there—and Mike Garcia in—Manager Leo Durocher's tribe was ready to catch the train. The Jints pounded Papish for six of their nine ground rules doubles and one of their two home runs. It was pretty bad.

Garcia Shows Up Good

Garcia, with Oklahoma City last season, came on in the fifth to give a homer to Bobby Thomson, first man to face him, then pitched tight ball. He fanned five, walked two and gave a pretty good imitation of a young man about to stick in the majors.

But Garcia arrived on the scene too late to help much, what with Poat having only one bad inning and Hansen not having any. Handy Andy gave up seven hits in five frames, but only one run trickled across the platter—and that in the dying gasp effort by the Indians in the ninth.

It was a hitter's paradise yesterday, with 14 doubles driven into the crowd, which was circling the outfield fences. But four blows that the crowd had nothing to do with were solid clouts.

Mickey Vernon and Joe Gordon slammed foremasters well over the fence tops, with Sid Gordon, who hit one here last year, and Thomson also getting four bases for the price of one.

Three fast double plays were turned in, with two of the really top grade work. Bob Hoffman started one in the first inning when he grabbed Boudreau's grounder, flipped it to Buddy Kerr, who made a beautiful evasive roll in tossing to Johnny Mize for the twin killing.

Durocher Enjoys Sunshine

In the fourth, Kerr started a double death, timing Al Rosen's low liner to his right to perfection. He palmed the ball and threw to Hoffman in time to double Larry Doby off the bag.

Lippy Durocher enjoyed the Texas sunshine from a private box, talking to Branch Rickey, jr., here on a trade that has the writers guessing. From all appearances, it will be a big one.

Goat of today's game was Rosen, the promising young third sacker, who replaced the injured Ken Keltner. Rosen played soccer with a grounder in the third inning, giving Walker Cooper life, then heaved wildly to first sending Cooper to second. In addition, Rosen lined into a double play.

Thurman Tucker of Gordon and Mineral Wells, failed to play, and neither did Clint Hartung of Hondo. They were the only Texans on the two squads.

Congress May Act As Umpire

WASHINGTON, April 6 — Congress may take the role of umpire in professional baseball's "reserve clause" controversy.

Without ruling directly on that issue, it may get a chance soon to determine whether baseball and other organized sports are subjects to interstate commerce restrictions and can be sued in federal courts.

The Supreme court held some years ago that baseball is not interstate commerce.

Court Could Rule

But since then a federal district court said it could rule on a suit against baseball by Danny Gardella, former New York Giant outfielder, because radio broadcasts and television now carry ball games across state lines.

Gardella is seeking a court order to end his suspension from organized baseball for jumping to the Mexican league in 1946. He also has filed a $300,000 anti-trust suit against baseball.

The Gardella case and other suits now pending in federal courts would not be affected by any congressional action.

But bills to exempt organized professional sports from anti-trust prosecution were introduced yesterday in the house by Reps. Mills (D-Ark) and Herlong (D-Fla), the latter a former president of the Florida state baseball league.

To Call Big Names

Chairman Crosser (D-Ohio) disclosed today that some of the big names of the sports world may be called to testify at a House commerce committee hearing tentatively set for April 14.

The reserve clause, in effect, says that a team holding a player contract may, as it pleases, renew, amend or drop it from year to year. It prevents a player from making a deal for his own services without the consent of the team holding his contract.

Some players claim this amounts to peonage and prevents them from negotiating to their best advantage.

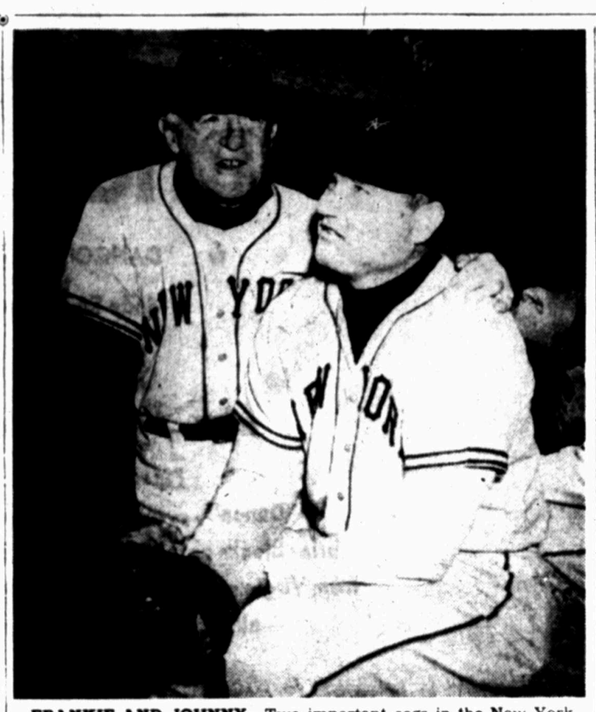

Country Club Golf Play Will Continue

With the promiseof better golfing weather in the offing, play in the Lubbock Country club High-Low Golf tournament is expected to continue without the postponements that have marked play the last three weeks.

Play in the High-Low Golf tournament at Lubbock Country club has been interrupted the past two weeks, and several matches have been postponed until this week.

Winners have advanced each week since the tournament started, and the field has narrowed to six matches this week.

Matches to be played include Bill Tatum and Hiram Parks Vs. C. O. Campbell and Ray Biggers; C. E. Fish and Jack Stone Vs. Hugh Anderson and Kyle Rattiseau; F. L. McRae and Johnny Powers Vs. Cecil Horne and Dr. J. M. Campbell; Bill Buckley and Bob Lavender Vs. Wayman Newton and F. L. Lindsay; Raymond Marshall and K. N. Clapp Vs. Jimmy Marshall and Paul Pugh; Olan Stewart and Tom Pendergraff Vs. J. A. Raley and Dick Green.

FELLER COOLS OFF—Bob Feller, mainstay of the Cleveland Indian pitching staff, cools off with a cup of water in the Indian dugout after a brisk workout prior to Tuesday's Indian-New York Giant exhibition game here. After a poor start last season, Feller finished strong to help the Indians to the American league pennant. Cleveland observers are of the concensus that the ex-Iowa farmboy is ready for another 20-victory season this year. Staff Photo.)

Shea Is Principal Problem Of Yankees

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 6 (U.P.) — One of the New York Yankees' principal problems today was Pitcher Frank (Spec) Shea.

Shea made an inauspicious spring debut yesterday when he was raked for seven runs, five hits and five walks in two innings of an intra-squad game. Manager Casey Stengel, however, blamed high winds for Shea's showing although the elements didn't bother the regulars as much. They beat Shea and the Yannigans, 9 to 2.

Stengel, whose club played host to the Philadelphia Athletics here today, said the entire present squad would be kept intact until it reached New York.

Al Severance, Villanova basketball coach, scouted North Carolina State by television, and his squad defeated the Wolfpack.

Four Heavyweights Slug Way Into AAU Tourney Semi-Finals

BY WILLIAM J. DUNCLIFFE
(INS) Sports Writer

BOSTON, April 6 — Four bombarding heavyweights slugged their way today into the semi-final round of the 61st annual national amateur boxing championships.

Perry Sykes, of Chicago, won a jungle-style brawl with youthful Joseph Sanchez, of Baltimore, Md., that had the crowd on its feet throughout the three rounds.

Sykes Dumps Sanchez

Sykes dumped Sanchez three times in the first round with a series of hard lefts and rights to the head. Sanchez came back in the second, and several times had Sykes seemingly on the verge of a knockout. However, Sykes' bombs had the Baltimore battler hanging on at the finish.

Layne Scores Kayo

Rex Layne, of Salt Lake City, finished off the day with a second rond kayo of James Tientindo, of Greenville, S. C.

Featherweight Benny Apostadiro, of Honolulu, became the fourth Hawaiian to enter the semi-finals when he slugged out a unanimous decision over Albert Zulaica, of Oakland, Cal.

The first two days of the tournament have seen 137 bouts spiced by 35 knockouts.

The second day of the tourney was dominated almost completely by the hard-punching battlers from the West Coast and Hawaii.

Coaches At Baylor Get Salary Boosts

WACO, April 6 (U.P.)—Bob Woodruff, head football coach at Baylor university, and his entire staff were extended undisclosed salary increases by the board of trustees at their annual spring meeting here yesterday.

Woodruff was also given a new five-year contract, which will be extended beyond Jan. 1, 1950, when his present contract expires.

The board of trustees also promoted Dr. Roy J. McKnight from business manager to vice-president and comptroller of the university at Waco, Dallas, and Houston. Dr. W. T. Gooch was named administrative vice president.

The trustees set a precedent by ruling that local boards could handle all faculty appointments for their various units, and all financial business under McKnight's coordination.

The board had previously handled these affairs at their Waco meeting.

Satchell Paige May Hurl In Texas Today

HOUSTON, April 6 (AP) — Satchell Paige was scheduled to pitch the last three innings for the Cleveland Indians against the New York Giants here today. If he does, Old Satchmo will be the first negro pitcher to oppose white players in the history of organized baseball in Texas.

Two other negro players with the Tribe, Third Baseman Orestes Minoso and Center Fielder Larry Doby, were generously applauded when the team met the Giants in El Paso and Lubbock Monday and yesterday.

MARGIN OF VICTORY

SAN ANTONIO, April 6 (U.P.) — Joe Tipton's three-run homer was the margin of victory last night as the Chicago White Sox beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 6. Tipton's blow was struck off Murry Dickson. The two clubs meet here again today and then part company.

Tourney Lead Goes To Mission Orange

With a top team score of 2,894 pins in the second night of bowling, the Mission Orange bowlers took over the first position in the Men's City Bowling league tournament Tuesday night.

Competition last night was on a higher level than the first night when the Press Bulls of the College league started off in the lead of the week-long tournament with 2,780 pins for the team high. Only one team, McFarland-Maisen, failed to better that score, topling 2,701 pins.

Walton's Men store turned in the second best score for the night, just 10 pins behind Mission Orange, with 2,884. Third was Hub Clothiers with 2,871, just 10 pins ahead of Westerner Cafe, whose team rolled strikes and spares for 2,861. In fifth place was Hemphill-Wells with 2,849, and McFarland-Maisen finished last.

Top individual game for the night was rolled by Ben Brown, a sizzling 256 exhibition. Unfortunately his first two games were below par for the course and he did not register a 600 series.

Struve Is High

Marvin Struve had the high series with 618, just two pins ahead of Mac McCallum, who finished with 616. Morris Cooper had 615 to toe with last night's individual high rolled by Jerry Henderson. Clyde Curlee came in with 613, and Jack Goodgion registered 609.

Tonight at Lubbock Bowling club City Employees, Sears, Hub Laundry, Carl Maxey, Household Supply, West Texas Gas, Reeves Insurance, and Cunningham's will take to the lanes in the third night of team bowling. Friday and Saturday singles and dougles will be rolled at Playmor lanes.

SMU Golfers Again Defeat Texas Tech

Southern Methodist university golfers paid a return visit to Texas Tech today and repeated their performance of two weeks ago by winning four matches to two in play over the Lubbock Country club course Tuesday afternoon.

Johnny Trout of Tech won over King of SMU, 6-5. In the following match, Henry of SMU downed Cook of Tech, 5-4. Nail of SMU won over Carpenter of Tech, 6-4. SMU's Weaver then defeated Norman of Tech, 6-4.

Trout and Cook of Tech teamed up to beat King and Henry of SMU, one up. In the second foursome match, Nail and Weaver of SMU won over Carpenter and Norman of Tech, 5-4.

Tech's Trout and SMU's Weaver and Nail all shot par golf over the country club course.

Two weeks ago the Techsans journeyed to Dallas and lost all six matches to the Methodists.

BEARS, NEBRASKA SPLIT

WACO, April 6 (AP)—The Baylor university Bears and Nebraska's touring Cornhuskers battled in a team split a double-header yesterday. Nebraska won the first game 7-5 and the Bears came back to take the nightcap 4-3.

Blackley Will Meet Weaver

Top grappling thrills await the fans at Sled Allen's arena tonight in the three bout card, beginning at 8:15.

In the headliner two rough exponents of the grunt and groan, Buck Weaver and Gene Blackley, tangle in the main and final event.

Returning to the local arena after a lengthy absence, Blackley has picked a rough boy for himself in Weaver. Buck has proven to be the top man around here of late, and Blackley seems to be the logical man to test him further. Combined with a "win by any means" attitude is plenty of skill and muscle in Blackley's makeup, and he should prove to be a tough customer.

Can Take Roughness

But Weaver has been known to take the roughness in his stride, and a fast, rugged match is in prospect since he is the man to beat at present in the local arena. The hour limit, with two out of three falls, should give both wrestlers long enough to display their ability.

In the semi-final event Alex Kasaboski takes on Elmer Davis of El Paso. Hailing from Russia, the newcomer to this area has a reputation as one of the roughest men in the ring, and the facts back up the claims.

Davis No Unknown

Davis is no unknown, although he has not appeared here for some time, and he is a hard man to beat himself. He may prove to be the man for the task of handling Kasabosk. Although Davis prefers to win by pure science and skill, he will most likely have to fight fire with fire.

In the preliminary another newcomer, Steve Nenoff, will tackle Glen Detton. Nenoff is a veteran of the ring and may prove too much grappler, but Detton has shown lots of hustle in his other bouts here and should put up a good fight.

Bobby Layne Will Appear In Tech Show

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

They've come, we've seen and they've gone for another year, of course, that the Giants and Indians have played their annual exhibition game for the edification of the local baseball gentry. Now we shall have to wait another year for the major leagues to send their representatives back. And there's a strong possibility that in addition to the two clubs that played here yesterday, others may follow. They like it in Lubbock and vica versa.

The autograph hounds had a field day yesterday, nailing players on the street, in the hotels, on the field, at the railroad station —anywhere they could trap them. And the players were more than generous in responding. We saw one young tyke standing patiently in front of the elevators at the Hilton. Whenever a player came out, the kid had him stopped before he had gone two feet. Most of the players all had a good word to pass on, smiling cheerfully all the while. We saw Bobby Feller offered some cash for his signature and he turned it down—flat. Bobby said that they was out. He'd be glad to sign any time, but no money.

Wes Youngblood of KFYO will get some national publicity out of the Indian visit. He did a special wire interview with Manager Lou Boudreau for Joe Hasel's sports parade, heard over ABCs network. Wes understands that the wire recording will be played a week from tonight over the network. It's about six minutes in length and the Indian's skipper forecasts his opinions of the Cleveland chances for the coming year. We know you'll want to hear it.

El Paso passed on a bum steer to the Indians and Giants and publicly we wish to put salt in Chuck Whitlock's coffee. Chuck is sports editor of the El Paso Times and apparently he thinks that the weather they have in El Paso is general and typical of West Texas. Nothing could be more left of center. They had rain and cold in the Border City Monday and some one passed on the word that it would be worse in Lubbock. Sports writers and players were all set to debark in parkas and fur-lined playing shoes when they reached this city. Instead, they arrived to find the best weather they have seen in several days, with the temperature hitting 70.

We had a long and pleasant talk with Marsh Samuels, the genial chief of publicity for the Indians. Marsh, always helpful and obliging, is looking for the Indians to win the pennant again. He says that the Indians definitely are a stronger team this year and that winter trades helped them a lot. At present, the outlook is dreary, for the Tribe is short of hurlers. Russ Christopher, the tall, lanky former Athletics star, finally has retired. The final papers haven't gone through, but he's quit baseball. Don Black, who suffered a cerebral hemmorhage last year while batting, has no resistence and has gone to Marianna, Fla., to rest. He may be back, but it won't be this year.

Gene Bearden is out with a pulled muscle right where he, ah, sits down. It's in such a location that no treatment can get to it and he can only let it heal naturally. Steve Gromek had a death in the family and is missing several valuable days. It leaves the Indians with only seven hurlers with the season only 14 days away. But Marsh says that there's a silver lining, that the rest of the chuckers look good, therefore they must be fine. After watching Frank Papish yesterday, we agree. If he's a sample of the Indian best, we shudder. Mike Garcia, who did look good, is being touted as a possible 20-game winner. At least off his showing yesterday, he should win a heap of games.

Yesterday's game was a lot like last year's tilt, except that there wasn't quite as much slugging. But curiously enough, the same number of runs were made, 12. Last year the Giants won 10-2 and this year it was 8-4. The Indians are coming up. Next year it might be a tie. Several of the doubles yesterday, of course, were cheap ones and the score might well have been lower and closer if there hadn't been such a crowd in the outfield. The good-natured crowd basked in the sunshine and the players soaked it up. It was sort of a dull game, especially to a crowd used to the free-slugging of a West Texas-New Mexico League game. But we didn't hear anyone griping about it.

Spotlight Brightens On Colts; Favorite Out Of Derby Race

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Blue Peter, the winter book favorite, is out of the Kentucky Derby and the spotlight shone a little stronger today on a pair of swift-footed colts named Olympia and Capot.

These two aspirants to three-year-old honors jumped into joint favor when Blue Peter's owner, Joseph M. Roebling, announced that an internal ailment would keep his stout contender out of the "Run of the Roses" May 7.

Malady Called Caecum

Roebling said War Admiral's son, the two-year-old champion of 1948, had turned up with an ailment similar to appendicitis in human beings. But horses don't have an appendix. The technical term for the malady is impacted caecum.

"We do not plan to start him in the Wood memorial race here, the derby or the preakness in Baltimore," the owner added. "If he continues to improve he may be ready for the Belmont stakes in June."

Blue Peter was the Kentucky Derby favorite at 3-1. Right behind him at 4-1 came Olympia, owned by Fred Hooper, jr., and the Greentree stable's Capot.

Greentree's Wine List, which scored an impresive victory at Jamaica Monday over five and a half furlongs, is listed at 8-1. Other prices are Old Rockport, 10-1; Johns Joy and Sports Page, 15-1, and Stone Age and Deluxe, 29-1.

Barring any ill fortune for either, Olympia and Capot may be bracketed as favorites to win the time-honored race at Churchill Downs.

Blue Peter won eight of his ten starts last year to take juvenile honors. He won the futurity at Belmont and the Hopeful stakes at Saratoga to earn a total for the year of $18,185.

Owen-Pasquel Court Fight In Second Day

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 6 (AP) —The well-aged squabble between Mickey Owen, former major leigue catcher, and Jorge Pasquel, ex-promoter of baseball in Mexico, entered its second day in federal court today.

Owen, who jumped to the Mexican league, organized by Pasquel in 1946, is being sued by Pasquel for breach of contract. Amount of the suit is $127,500.

The former Brooklyn Dodgers catcher has a counter suit charging breach of contract against Pasquel totaling $93,000.

St. Louis Cardinals Breaking Camp Today

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 6. (U.P.)—The St. Louis Cardinals bade good-bye today to the city of St. Petersburg and Rookie Greg Mason, Sid Cangston and Charley Bishop.

Upon breaking camp here, the Redbirds assigned Catcher Mason to Rochester of the International league; Outfielder Cangston to Omaha of the Western league and Pitcher Bishop to Columbus, Ga., of the South Atlantic league.

Garver Pitches Nine Innings Against Cubs

DALLAS, April 6 (U.P.)—Youthful Ned Garver became the first St. Louis Brown pitcher to hurl nine innings yesterday when he beat the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 2, at Austin.

Garver yielded only seven hits while the Browns collected 10 off Bob Rush and Dwain Sloat. The Browns and Cubs will face each other here thrice during the next three days.

Great Passer To Show Skill

A passing demonstration by the incomparable Bobby Layne, former All-American at Texas and quarterback for the Chicago Bears, will be conducted during the half-time entertainment on the Double T Sports Parade program in Jones Stadium Saturday night.

The fine back, one of the all-time Texas passing greats, has been assisting with spring practice at Texas Tech. The spring grind comes to a close Saturday night with an intra-squad game between the Farmers and the Ranchers. Layne will pass to Raider ends during the demonstration.

Meanwhile, Coach Glenn Lewis of the Farmers is so unconcerned about Saturday night's game that he hardly has appeared on the practice field. Lewis can't even be reached for a statement. He turned the squad over to Coach Tipp Mooney and went off, possibly scouting for additional material.

Coach Bill Kelley of the Ranchers also feels no qualms about the game, using Coach G. B. Morris to tutor the line and Coach Dell Morgan for the backfield. Coach Kelley has been imparting wisdom to his squad and casting aspersions on the Farmers.

"The only reason Lewis isn't on the practice field is because he's scared," Kelley declared. "He knows that he doesn't have a chance against this team. Why, it won't even be close."

The Idalou player pointed to such outstanding men as Ernest Hawkins, Bud Conley, Cal Steveson, Walter Maloney, J. B. Mahler and a host of other fine players. He declared that Lewis' squad couldn't compare.

The Farmers won't be exactly weak, with such men as Dick and Hugh Jackson at ends, Bobby Williams at center, Dan Pursel at guard, John Moughan at quarterback and a raft of good backs.

It shapes up as a rough battle, with the two squads equally divided as to strength. It also shapes up as a scoring tilt, with wide open plays and plenty of action.

Tickets for the game are on sale daily at the Tech athletic office and in the Hilton hotel lobby. Prices are $1 for adults, 60 cents for students. Children, when accompanied by parents, will be admitted free. Approximately 1,500 tickets have been sold, with proceeds going into the dormitory fund.

Hank Bartnicki, ace scorer on the University of Connecticut basketball team, was in the first squadron of B-29's to go over Tokyo.

Masters Golf Play Starts Tomorrow

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—The best of the soggy ground golfers will have their day in the first round of the masters tomorrow at the drenched Augusto national course.

Week-end rains held off Monday but came back strong yesterday.

A long playing course such as national gives long, high ball hitters like Sammy Snead, Chick Harbert, Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret and Lawson Little an advantage. Snead has climbed from about seventh or eighth favorite up on a level with Cary Middlecoff, Nelson, Lloyd Mangrum and Demaret.

Shortstop Enjoying New Lease On Life

TULSA, Okla., April 6 (U.P.) — Shortstop Billy Cox, filling in for the ailing Pee Wee Reese, appeared to be enjoying a new lease on life with the Brooklyn Dodgers today.

Cox and Rookie Cal Abrams each chipped in with three hits at Oklahoma City yesterday to pace the Dodgers to a 7-to-5 victory over Oklahoma City of the Texas league. Ralph Branca went the distance for the second time this spring and, although nicked for 12 hits, was only in trouble in the ninth.

The Dodgers tangle with the Tulsa Oilers today.

Boston Braves, Reds To Try Again Today

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 6. (U.P.)—The Boston Braves and Cincinnati Reds rained out here yesterday, were ready to try again today.

The Braves took advantage of the off-day to cut from the squad batting practice Catchers Eddie Irons and Bob Potenger. Irons who wasn't under contract, received his expenses while Potenger received a train ticket to Myrtle Beach, S. C., the Braves minor league training base.

Henrietta Baseball Player In Hospital

HENRIETTA, April 6 (AP) — One of five Henrietta high school baseballers injured in the wreck of a bus remains hospitalized.

He is Bob Holloway, 18. Hospital authorities at Henrietta said he had minor head hurts.

Others injured in the wreck were released from hospitals.

The bus ran into a deep ditch when the team was on the way yesterday to Saint Jo for a ball game.

Westerners, Boys Club Nine To Hold Diamond Clash Today

In a game scheduled for 4:30 this afternoon, Lubbock Westerners play Boys Club at the club diamond in their second baseball engagement of the current season.

In their first encounter the Westerners defeated the club team 4-3, with the aid of numerous errors, but the two teams have improved since then and it will probably take base knocks to win the game.

Have Settled Down

Two Boys Club hurlers have settled down to hard work, and recently Jackie Martyn pitched a five inning no-hitter against Tech Independents, composed of Texas Tech students. Probable starter on the mound today, however, will be Joe Hall. If needed, Martyn and Carroll Walker will also be ready.

Likely to start as pitcher for the Westerners is Jimmy Hamilton. The young righthander has been doing very well in previous games and should hold the Boys Club in check. If he runs into trouble Sophomore Bennie Day or Mac Taylor can take over the mound duties.

Starters Listed

Starters for the Westerners will be Hamilton, pitcher; Morris Turner, catcher; Jessie Fullerton, first base; Charles Galey, second base; Powell Hinson, third base; Bobby Brown, shortstop; Jimmy Richards, left field; Garnet Reeves, center field; and James Burgess, right field.

Slated to start for Boys Club are Hall, pitcher; Jackie Cook or M. D. Stevens, catcher; Gerald Hise, first base; Jack Whitehead, second base; Mackie Lawrence, third base; Buddy Maynor, shortstop; and either Jack McLarty, Royce Jones, Wayne Noland, or Bennie Scott in the three outfield positions.

Conspiracy In U. S. Charged

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—The American Communist party maintained secret funds to carry on parts of a Moscow-dominated program for revolution in the United States, a government witness testified yesterday.

The witness, ex-Communist Louis F. Budenz, said the party had sent him on secret missions to help spread the program of the Communist international in this country.

Budenz said he knew about the secret funds because he borrowed from them while managing editor of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper.

The witness, under defense cross-examination in the Communist conspiracy trial, said part of his borrowings were for special expenses for party work.

Budenz, who quit the party in 1945 after a decade of service, said Robert William Weiner was in charge of the secret Communist funds.

The witness said he considered he was conspiring to overthrow the U. S. government when he was a Communist party official. He declared, however, that he joined the party with the mistaken belief that it was throwing off Moscow control.

Budenz has been the only government witness so far in the trial of eleven top Communist leaders on charges of conspiracy to teach and advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina became involved in new clashes with defense counsel as he ordered that the cross-examination be conducted with "a little less of this heat and excitement."

Harry Sacher, a defense lawyer, complained at one point that he was being "treated like a dog in court."

Sacher also accused the judge of making a "provocative" comment.

The judge reprimanded Sacher twice for "insolence," and also rebuked Richard Gladstein of defense counsel for "pressure" on Budenz in cross-examination.

Mitchum's Smoking Party Cost Him $25,000; Advice Pours In

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, April 6—That little party up in Laurel canyon last September cost Robert Mitchum about $25,000.

This is one of the things the actor disclosed as he returned to work after serving 50 days in jail on a marijuana conspiracy conviction. He shrugged off the sum.

"What's 25 grand?" he said. "I'm broke all the time, no matter how you look at it."

Mitchum's first morning at work was as though he had never been gone. He kidded with the crew as usual. He greeted welcomes with "nothing to it." His first scene for "The Big Steal" had him walking down a hotel hallway, pulling out a pistol and entering a room.

Mail Sympathetic

After he finished the scene, I asked him if he had made any resolutions. "Resolutions!" he said in denial.

How did he think the jail term would affect him?

"Personally—not at all, except that I can't act like a scoutmaster anymore. Professionally — that's someone else's problem, not mine."

Mitchum has been reading some of his vast mail. He said it is mostly sympathetic. Many of the correspondents were of the soul-saving type. One woman writer even claimed that he married her at the age of 15. "Please come and get me," she wrote, "because they say I can get out if someone will take care of me."

Another proposition came from a fellow inmate.

"This Sunday you ought to go very quietly to church service," the jailbird said. "Then when you get sprung, you tell people you've been 'saved.' Then you hire a big hall and sell tickets at 50 cents a head. There are 50 million kids in this country who would pay four-bits to hear how you were 'saved.' You could give up the movie business."

Teamed With Russell

When Mitchum failed to display interest in the plan, the inmate added, "that's the difference between you and a criminal."

Far from being saved, he seems to be the same Mitchum as before, though perhaps a bit more cautious. As for his future plans, he leaves soon for location shots in Mexico. After that comes a film with Jane Russell, to start in June.

And in the distant future is the longstanding Mitchum plan to make enough money to retire from the picture business. "I'll get out some day," he said.

What Hollywood is talking about . . . the latest split-ups — Goddard-Meredith and Garland-Minnelli. Who's next? . . . The bout between "Champion" and "The Set-up," the two boxing films . . . The continued low state of production, despite the rosy predictions of things to come . . . . The academy haggle, latest of a long history of disputes . . . The rush to get films on negro subjects to the screen . . . The summer weather, which makes one think longingly of the beach.

Bond Placed At $100,000 For Banker In Embezzlement Case

TAMPA, Fla., April 6 (U.P.) — Richard Henderson Crowe, brought to book here for embezzlement of $884,660 from his New York bank employers, today awaited return there to face trial.

He gave up without argument when he was arrested in a bar, and he shrugged his shoulders at the thought of getting an attorney t resist removal to New York. He said nothing when reminded that his family would suffer more than he.

Crowe, 41, was arraigned here yesterday and placed under $100,000 bond, then spent the night in the Hillsborough county jail.

Picked Up In Bar

Crowe readily signed a waiver permitting his return to New York, and Federal Judge William J. Barker signed a removal order a short time later.

There was a possibility that his wife, Honoria, might come here to see him before New York officers arrive.

She disappeared from the $30,000 Crowe home on Staten Island yesterday, shortly after FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover announced the arrest. Crowe was picked up in a bar at Daytona Beach, Fla., after an alert traffic cop spotted the second of two new cars he had bought and abandoned in the past week.

Some $60,000 of the cash taken from coffers of the National City bank of New York was apparently still unaccounted for. Crowe had sent about that much back to his family and to pay off debts, and nearly $55,000 was found in his Daytona Beach apartment, rented only three days before his arrest.

Questioning Futile

As for the bonds, which made up $691,000 of the total, he said only that he had thrown them into the Atlantic ocean "to make bank officials angry." The FBI professed no further knowledge of them.

At the brief bond hearing, U. S. District Attorney Herbert S. Phillips questioned Crowe about details of his act and flight, but with little results.

In a brief interval while he was being shunted from one federal office to another for the signing of legal papers, Crowe relaxed with the comic section of a newspaper in the U. S. marshal's wire cage. Reporters who tried to question him got a curt rejection.

He would not elaborate on the story already told: that he packed the money and bonds into a suitcase after bank closing hours March 25, took the suitcase home for the weekend, and disappeared Sunday, March 27, before the theft was discovered.

Witness In Canada Spy Trial Recalled

OTTAWA, April 6 (AP)—The prosecution recalled its star witness in the Sam Carr spy trial today to complete his story of Russian spying and intrigue in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Carr, a former Communist organizer, is on trial here on charges that he conspired with Russian embassy officials to provide a Russian spy with a fake Canadian passport.

Igor Gouzenko, former cipher clerk in the Soviet embassy here, whom the crown describes as its chief witness, testified yesterday that a Russian intelligence officer visited Ottawa in 1944 to check up and overhaul his government's spy network in the three American countries.

He named the intelligence officer as a Col. Milstein, posing as a diplomatic courier and using the name of Milsky. Gouzenko said Milstein, at a meeting with Carr, arranged for the Canadian Communist to contact Russian representatives periodically.

Gouzenko identified documents he said he took from the Soviet embassy, including a file on Carr. That file, he said, indicated Milstein and Carr discussed the problem of obtaining passports.

The crown contends Carr arranged to have a Russian spy's stolen passport renewed in 1945 through some unidentified person in the Canadian passport office, so the spy could work in the United States.

Scientists Studying Texas Cattle Disease

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP) — United States scientists at Johns Hopkins university are studying a mysterious cattle ailment called x-disease which has hit Texas ranges.

Dr. Peter Olafson of Cornell university yesterday told a group that one of the worst effects of the disease is that it makes animals vulnerable to every bacterial illness. It was first noted by Cornell scientists in 1941.

Thickening of the skin, emaciation and increasing signs of lassitude are symptoms, Dr. Olafson said.

U. S., Britain, France Seeking To Agree On Rule Of Germany

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—The United States, Britain and France are undertaking a major effort to iron out their differences over three-power control of western Germany.

Diplomatic officials agreed today that if the three can get together on basic German policies it will mark another milestone in the growing unity of the non-Communist west.

Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman held preliminary talks on the German problem last week while Atlantic power foreign ministers were gathering here to sign the North Atlantic treaty.

Having devoted Monday to the treaty signing and yesterday to the opening of the United Nations assembly in New York, Acheson, Bevin and Schuman now can set to work in earnest. They will try in the next few days to reach basic agreements which they can then pass on to subordinates in London, Paris and Berlin with instructions to work out details.

Controls Question

Bevin is prepared to remain here until next week if necessary for the success of the talks. Schuman is reported prepared to remain indefinitely, if need be.

Diplomatic informations said the preliminary talks had pointed up five issues:

These basically involve the questions of what kind of government the Germans themselves should be permitted to set up over the American, British and French zones, and what kind of controls the western occupation powers should exercise.

The issue, as authoritatively reported, are:

1. The extent of occupation machinery over western Germany in connection with proposed merger of all three zones. The French are understood to favor creation of three-power control agencies for each German state. The alternative would be to merge the zones with three-power agencies at the top but leave administration in each zone in the hands of the occupation authority.

Powers To Be Discussed

2. Development of an occupation statute. This document would spell out the powers reserved to the occupation governors of Germany and specify those which the German government could exercise. The United States in general has favored broad definitions of authority and the French are understood to favor setting down a detailed list of matters on which the German government could act only with allied approval.

3. How to vote in the three-power control agencies. Many experts consider this the key question. The basic difficulty is whether each of the three powers should have a veto or whether decisions should be reached by an affirmative vote of two of them. This in turn leads into fundamental policy questions with the United States generally favoring actions for German reconstruction and self sufficiency. The Freach, at the other extreme, view with concern any moves which they feel would revive Germany too fast or make it too powerful.

Centralization Is Issue

4. Centralization versus decentralization within the proposed new German government system. Essentially the question is whether Germany should have a strong or a weak central government. If the central government is to be sharply restrictd in its powers, the German state government will be relatively stronger. The British are reported thus far to have favored the German socialist insistence on a highly centralized government, whereas the French at the other extreme want a federalized government structure with the states retaining considerable power.

5. Shifts in the zonal boundary between the American occupation area and the French occupation area in order to facilitate administration. This is regarded as a fairly minor though persistent issue.

One of the problems which German experts expect will have to be worked out in connection with these issues is the extent to which the United States may continue to have a majority voice in German economic affairs. When the British and American zones were merged two years ago, the British accepted the principle that since the United States was supplying the bulk of the money to keep the German economy running, the Americans should have a dominant voice in deciding how the money would be spent. It is understood that the British would like to modify this American dominance now and presumably the French share that desire.

Concert Dates Are Changed

Dates of the final concerts this season of the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra have been changed from April 20 and 21 to May 6 and 7, it was announced Tuesday by officials of the symphony orchestra.

Miss Leona Gelin, business manager of the organization, said Tuesday that the change was made because of conflicting schedules of Amparo Iturbi, internationally-known pianist and sister of Jose Iturbi, who is to appear with the Lubbock Symphony in the final concerts of the 1948-49 season.

Miss Iturbi is booked for a number of performances in Great Britain, and the local orchestra relinquished the April dates, which were made last fall, in order that she would be able to finish her appearances in that country before flying to Lubbock for her concerts here. As the original booking was arranged, Miss Iturbi had dates for performances in London both before and after her dates with the Lubbock Symphony.

Miss Gelin said yesterday that all season tickets for the Lubbock Symphony subscription series will be honored on the night of Friday, May 6. Individual admission tickets will be sold for the concert Saturday night, May 7, in addition to the approximately 300 tickets available for Friday night.

She also announced that, since the concerts come on the closing days of National Music week, and, in honor of the number of music students in the South Plains area, student tickets for the concerts will be sold.

Illinois Town Wipes Out Sunday Blue Law

ZION, Ill., April 16 (AP)—Zion wiped out the last of its famous Sunday blue laws today.

By a count of 1,597 to 1,305, citizens voted out laws which forbade business and entertainment on Sundays.

The laws have been on the books since 1901, when the city was founded by the late overseer John Alexander Dowie as the home of the Christian Catholic Apostolic church. They were rigidly enforced by Dowie and his successor, the late Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who preached that the world is flat.

After Volia's death in 1942, enforcement slackened as far as operation of business houses was concerned.

However, last December the citizens voted to prohibit their only motion picture theater from operating, 1,756 to 1,564. The theater had started to operate and had been banned by court order.

After that vote, Mayor Richard F. Hire stopped all business on Sunday, including milk deliveries, sales of newspapers, operation of drug stores and restaurants.

Merchants obeyed the mayor's edict for two Sundays and then obtained a temporary injunction against its enforcement. Movement for the new referendum followed.

NO SAFETY ANYWHERE

SALT LAKE CITY (U.P.)—Red-faced Salt Lake City police were embarrassed by a theft report of a motorist who had a hub cap stolen from his car. The motorist said he parked his car between two police patrol cars of the same model as his automobile. When he came back, the hub cap was missing.

Congress To Check Service Squabbles

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — Army,, Air Force and Navy officials received blunt notice today if they violate orders against public squabbles they will face a congressional investigation.

This warning was posted by the House Armed Services committee.

Only last week Secretary of defense Johnson moved to end inter-service rivalry and bickering by commanding that "there will be no vying between the three services for headlines, no release of things that are secret."

Johnson, however, has no clearly-defined authority as yet to enforce this ruling—aside from White House support for his drive to make unification of the services a practical reality instead of a paper policy.

So pending congressional action on President Truman's proposal to give the new Defense secretary real authority to carry out the unification program, the House committee's investigation threat will serve as a potent stand-by club.

BEN MOORE, Sr., of O'Donnell, agrees with us that interesting though the old Indian legend is, there can't be anything certain about crop forecasts based on wind direction at sunrise on each March 22.

Mr. Moore, who has been a close student of nature and Indian lore for many years, says fallacies are apparent to anyone contemplating the legend.

In the first place, Mr. Moore asks: "How did the Indians know when March 22 rolled around?"

"They didn't have any calendars," he says, "and Indians were notoriously poor at keeping track of the years. Old Indians never knew their ages and resented being asked how old they were."

Further, Mr. Moore points out, Plains Indians weren't agriculturally-minded. "Their agricultural pursuits," he says, "consisted largely of gathering acorns in shinnery sections, where good acorn crops always were made, rain or shine. They utilized mesquite beans, which produce more heavily in dry years than in wet ones. They picked some wild plums, some of which were dried for Winter eating, but mostly they lived on buffalo meat."

Mr. Moore, who knew the late J. I. Wilborn, of Garza county, originator of the forecasts in this section, believes Mr. Wilborn got his crop forecasting legend from Indians not indigenous to the Plains. "Down in the lower country," Mr. Moore says, "the Indians did go in for some primitive agriculture, so, of course, were interested in weather from the crop standpoint."

He doesn't say, though, whether down-country Indians had available to them any more calendars than the Plains Indians had.

Maybe the down-country Indians hit on March 22 by the moon, hey?

Mr. Moore points out, too, that the wind at sunrise—or at any other given time—may differ in direction of various points over the Plains. At sunrise last March 22, the wind direction in Lubbock was from the northeast, but at O'Donnell, where Mr. Moore checked it, it was coming out of the east.

However, he admits that if there were a scientific basis for the crop forecasting legend, difference in wind directions might account for "spotted" crop yields in any given section.

BUT regardless of whether or not there is sound basis—scientific or otherwise—for the crop forecasting legend, The Avalanche-Journal isn't going to quit publishing it, year after year.

A lot of people are interested in the darn thing, whether they believe in it, or not. They check up, year after year, to see whether the Indians were smarter than we are—or as stupid as some benighted folks suspect.

Anything that gives people innocent pleasure, and keeps them interested, ought not be tossed onto the scrap pile simply because "it ain't scientific."

So watch The Avalanche-Journal come next March 22 for the wind direction crop forecast, started in this country a quarter century ago by the late J. I. Wilborn, of Post, and faithfully carried on since by the late W. O. Stevens and by Judge Clark M. Mullican.

It's all in good, clean fun!

BY DREW PEARSON: LEGIONNAIRES BEAR NO GRUDGE FOR VOTES AGAINST PENSIONS

U.S. Minister To Syria Is Wide Awake Operative

WASHINGTON — A handful of World War II congressmen who dared to oppose Representative Rankin's multibillion-dollar pension scheme had a showdown the other day with Perry Brown, national commander of the American Legion. The tight-lipped Texan not only promised to hold no grudges, but agreed with the anti-pension voting stand of the war veterans in Congress.

PEARSON

This was a backhanded slap at the Legion's crusty chief lobbyist, retired Brig. Gen. John Thomas Taylor, who had threatened to stir up local Legion posts against the young congressmen.

Because of his threats, Congressman Olin "Tiger" Teague of Texas wired the American Legion commander and brought him up to Capitol hill. While Brown waited in the House restaurant, Teague herded other young congressmen down to see him. Those joining the huddle included Congressman Glenn Davis of Wisconsin, Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts, Jim Nolan of Indiana, Harold Patten of Arizona and George Smathers of Florida.

All had voted against fireball John Rankin's costly pension plan—known as "Rankin's revenge"—because he sponsored it more to embarrass the administration than to help the veterans.

Speaking privately to the congressmen, Commander Brown gave his unofficial views on veterans' pensions. He couldn't speak for the record, he explained, because he couldn't afford to antagonize Rankin, who happens to be chairman of the House veterans committee and who is a wildcat-by-the-tail when riled.

However, Brown agreed privately that Rankin's motives were 90 per cent political and that his bill went too far. The commander stressed that he would still fight for a veterans' pension, but that he thought it should be limited to "needy veterans."

Brown also promised that the Legion would not campaign against the congressmen who opposed Rankin—despite Taylor's threats. Brown added, however, that he would not discipline Taylor, who has served the Legion faithfully for two decades and is scheduled to retire next year. Instead, Brown praised the old man for his long record of battling for the veterans when public sentiment was not always with them.

Truman Won't Go To Dinner

President Truman really let a friend down when he cancelled his scheduled speech at the testimonial dinner for Claim Weizmann, first president of the new state of Israel.

The man who originally arranged for Truman's appearance at the dinner in New York was Col. Louis Johnson, forthright new secretary of national defense. Several months ago, Johnson dropped in at the White House and asked:

"Mr. President, do you remember when things were toughest during the campaign and we couldn't raise a cent? And do you remember who the first man was to stand up and say, 'I pledge $100,000 to re-elect President Truman'? Well, it was Abe Feinberg."

"Oh, yes, I remember Abe," said the President. "He certainly did come through for us."

"Well, do you know what would make Abe Feinberg the happiest man in the whole world?" pursued Johnson.

"Do you think Abe wants an ambassadorship or a job or a medal?" Johnson continued.

The President then asked what would make him happy.

"Well, Mr. President," said Johnson, "the thing you could do to make Abe Feinberg happy would be to accept that invitation to speak for Claim Weizmann in New York. You'd be honoring two great men if you did, Weizmann and Abe."

"All right Louie," said the President, "I'll do it. You call up Abe and tell him it's O.K."

Johnson didn't call Feinberg, but presidential secretary Matt Connally did. Johnson was right. Feinberg was about the happiest man in the U.S.A.—until suddenly Truman changed his mind, decided he couldn't go to New York to attend the dinner.

NOTE—Despite heavy contributions from Jewish friends, the President has indicated to intimates that the Jews let him down in the November campaign. He points out that they failed to carry New York.

THIS column has sometimes knocked the diplomats, but here's something it's a pleasure to report. It's about an American diplomat who was not asleep at the switch.

His name is James Hugh Keeley, U. S. minister to Syria, where a revolution has just overthrown the government in power. This revolt came as a complete surprise to almost every country but the United States—thanks to Mr. Keeley.

As early as nine months ago, Keeley cabled the State department predicting revolt in Syria. He followed this up with more reports in which he did everything but call the day for the revolt. He even named the leader of the rebels—Brigadier Hosney El Zaim, the French-trained army leader.

Keeley now reports that the shooting is over, that there is nothing for the United States to worry about because the rebels are pro-American. Reason for the revolt, he says, is that Hosney El Zaim got disgusted with corruption in the old Syrian government and took things into his own hands to give the younger men in Syria a chance at running things.

Business recession — the President's council of economic advisers has been alerted to the fact that business optimism will taper off even further in the next 60 days when reports of first-quarter earnings begin pouring in. These will show that hundreds of important business firms either operated at a loss or showed sharply diminished first-quarter profits for the first time in 10 years. The council still thinks there will be no depression in 1949, but is worried about 1950 unless stringent steps are taken immediately.

Discrimination under Marshall plan—French authorities have refused to turn loose 500 pounds of passover bread for the Jewish holidays. The Bread, purchased with ECA funds, was supposed to be distributed fee to the Jewish population in Casablanca. Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin cites this as another example of how certain officials in French Morocco have been using American aid to discriminate against Jews and Moslems—and also to squeeze out American business. McCarthy is offering an amendment to withhold Marshall plan funds from any nation that uses the money to discriminate against any race or religion.

Churchill's soap — Charlie Campbell of the British information service was idling through some 40-year-old magazines the other day while waiting to greet Winston Churchill. In one magazine Campbell came across an advertisement for a British soap company containing an endorsement by none other than Winston Churchill, then a war correspondent. The endorsement not only was prophetic, but is still true. Forty years ago, Churchill wrote:

"The peoples of Britain and the United States are divided by a large ocean of salt water. But, they are united by a bathtub full of fresh water and soap."

Hawaiian statehood — Joe Farrington, Hawaii's able delegate to Congress, is burned up over congressional delays in making Hawaii the 49th state. He finally lost his temper last week when Congress shoved aside consideration of Hawaii statehood in favor of daylight saving and a sales tax for the District of Columbia. Farrington is now urging the Hawiian legislature to take the initiative and proceed to set up the machinery for a constitutional convention. This would demonstrate to Congress that the people of Hawaii are solidly backing the statehood movement — despite selfish pressure groups in the islands.

Plans Slated For Farm With Bigger, Brighter Younguns

NEW YORK, April 6.—Well, it looks as if I am finally forced to buy a farm, on which we hope to grow children. Desperation demands that this be done, or get out of the column - writing dodge.

RUARK

I am sick of being a sharecropper on Fred Othman's farm and a part-time kibitzer on Bob Considine's kids. Everyone knows, today, that a writer must have a farm or kids if he is going to stay in business. Subject matter, you know.

Freddy's had more columnar mileage out of his farm already than he ever got out of the patent bureau, which is to say he has probably paid for it in pieces about it.

As for kids—well, Bob was saying the other day that they were going to find another one, because the three they've got already have shot their wad as typewriter fodder. And I've noticed, lately, that Othman is being a lot more closemouthed about his farm, while Considine won't let a competitor near his spawn, for fear a bright saying will be pilfered in his absence.

Beatings Not True

It is positively not true that Considine beats his brood until they provide him with a subject for his daily sermon. Nor that Othman owns no mechanized plow at all, but harnesses his Hilda to the shares when spring-plantin' time comes on.

I say this despite the fact that both have run out on a bargain we made. The bargain was as follows: In return for a half interest in Sherman Billingsley and Toots Shor, I was to receive secondary writing privileges on the Othman farm.

In return for part-time literary custody of Mike, Dennis and Barry Considine, I was to allow father Considine to have occasional access to my dog, for as any fool knows, a pooch is as necessary to daily journalism as newsprint.

IT HASN'T worked out at all. I have upheld my part of the bargain but Othman is as secretive about his miserable little hard-scrabble acreage as if he were raising microbes on it. He won't even tell me the name of the new cow.

The Considine nurse has been instructed to scream for the cops if I so much as pass within a block of the park where the children play. Not that they're such hot subjects for interview, either. But they're all I've ever had to work with. And as for that dog of mine—well, he never does anything noteworthy any more, when I'm around. He's saving his best material for the opposition.

About all I'm left with in the way of props right now is grandpa and mama. And they just aren't stout enough to lean on week in, week out. So it looks like a farm is the only answer.

I can meet selfishness with selfishness, and I aim to teach 'em all a lesson. One of these days I will have a bigger farm than Othman's. It will be posted against poaching columnists, and the hired man will have orders to shoot on sight.

To Raise Youngsters

As for younguns, I intend to raise more younguns than Considine has—bigger younguns, brighter younguns, and most of all, loyal younguns. They will talk for publication to nobody but father. They will not even be allowed to play with the Considine kids, for fear of a leak.

The dog will be guarded as zealously as an atom foundry. If he lets out even one yip in the presence of the enemy I will take away his rubber cat with the squeaker in it.

Out there on the farm, columns will breed like rabbits. Cosy anecdotes about the cow. Play-by-play on poison ivy versus juveniles. Dogs and fish and flowers and children and seeds and fertilizer. A million stories.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

WHAT every woman should know about women:

Never trust a woman who tells you something someone else has told her in confidence, even though she makes the flattering statement that she wouldn't tell anyone else in thee world but she knows she can trust you.

MILLETT

A perfectionist housekeeper and a happy-go-lucky one seldom become real friends, for in each one there's a certain amount of disapproval of the other.

A happily married woman rarely causes her women friends any trouble.

Only a woman who is inclined to cattiness herself looks beneath another woman's remarks for a hidden meaning or dirty dig.

THEY DON'T FORGET

IN a little while you may forget the quarrel you had with your husband, but the woman you told about it won't forget it in 20 years.

Any woman who refuses to tell her age runs the risk of having her women friends think she is older than she is and wonder if she isn't older than her husband.

If you want to keep your good opinion of women, avoid them in large groups, however noble the avowed aims of the group.

Some women will tell you their troubles for no other reason than to get you to admit that all isn't perfect in your own setup.

Today's Thought

'Try And Stop Me"

HAVE you heard the story of the bookseller who had occasion to telephone the legal firm of Shapiro, Shapiro, Shapiro and Shapiro? The conversation went as follows:

"Hello. I'd like to talk to Mr. Shapiro."

"Oh. Then I'll talk to Mr. Shapiro."

"Mr. Shapiro can't come to the phone. He's in conference with an important client."

"Oh. Then I'll talk to Mr. Shapiro."

"Mr. Shapiro isn't in today. He's playing golf at Bonnie Brae."

"Oh. In that case, can I talk to Mr Shapiro?"

"Speaking."

Today's Journal Editorial

AN ANNIVERSARY OF LEADERSHIP

Thirty-two years ago today, the United States entered what now is known as World War I, marking our first active participation in affairs basically European.

As history correctly records, American entrance into World War I tipped the scales of victory from the side of imperialism to the side of democracy. Since that day, off and on and in varying degrees, the military, industrial, scientific, financial and moral power of this nation has been exerted against imperialism and for freedom. When we entered World War I, we unwittingly became first a world-wide power; latterly, the greatest of the powers in world affairs.

Two world wars have been fought since April 6, 1917. A third one threatens. Yet despite the terrific drain upon our resources, human and otherwise, we of this nation are firmer today than ever before in our insistence upon having a full part in world affairs.

The isolationism which was so good for us prior to 1917 since has become impossible for either us, or for the world.

Whether we want it, or not, ours is the position of primary world leadership and the action we took on April 6, 1917, embarked us upon that course. May our world leadership continue, grow stronger and improve, not only for our own good but for the good of all humanity.

Authors Of Children's Books Visit Roscoe Wilson School

Tuesday was an eventful day for the fourth-graders in Miss Gertrude Herm's room at Roscoe Wilson school.

Emilie and Fritz Toepperwein of Boerne, authors and publishers of children's books, were honored guests of the class during most of the day—and very entertaining guests they were, too, as the children will testify.

Mr. and Mrs. Toepperwein came to Lubbock principally to present 10-year-old Bob Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Parsons of 2503 Twenty-fourth street, with the grand prize he won last Christmas in the Toepperwein's annual Santa Claus letter contest.

Author Good Story Teller

The prize will be an expenses-paid trip to any camp of his choosing this summer.

Fritz Toepperwein is as good at story-telling as he is at story-writing, the children found.

He told them about his career as an author and how he and Mrs. Toepperwein traveled 27,000 miles last year gathering materials for books.

Then he told them children's stories, and Mrs. Toepperwein illustrated them on the blackboard while he talked.

Toepperwein said he was especially pleased at Bob's winning the latest Christmas letter contest because Bob is from an urban area. The two previous winners were from rural areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Toepperwein operate the Highland Press at Boerne. Their Santa Claus letter contests result in an annual flood of letters into the Boerne post office. The postmaster, a kind and patient man, doesn't blink an eye any more when he receives letters addressed to "Santa Claus, North Pole, Boerne, Texas. Letters like that come in by the tons just before Christmas time.

The Toepperweins personally follow up their contests, just as they are doing now, by visiting the town where the prize winner lives and encouraging him in his writing. They travel a great deal in response to requests for autograph and library parties over the state.

Their publishing house sounds like a story-book place in itself. Situated among the hills and streams just west of Boerne, the 36-acre place has publishing equipment handed down five generations through the Toepperwein family and brought over originally in 1851 from Europe where the family followed the book-binding trade.

The Highland Press books are printed, bound and sewn by hand. Mrs. Toepperwein illustrates her husband's text with linoleum blocks.

They have two books soon to hit the market. One is called "Through the Window," with a release date in July. The other, "The Little Deputy," is a sequel to a popular book about Topperwein's father who lives in Boerne. The first book was titled "Uncle Kris and His Pets."

The Toepperweins were favorably impressed with Lubbock's schools, and particularly with Roscoe Wilson.

"We've seldom visited a school where everybody was as much on their toes as at Roscoe Wilson," Toepperwein said.

At lunch they were the guests of Miss Herm's room at the school cafeteria. Other guests included Ishmael Hill, assistant superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Ivy Savage, principal.

Tuesday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Toepperwein were honored at a coffee at the L. E. Parsons home.

Tuesday night they spoke at a meeting of 100 teachers and school administrators in J. T. Hutchinson Junior High auditorium. The occasion was a meeting of the Association for Childhood Education.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Matthews, Misses Dorothy Lomax and Grace Padley and Hill.

Ice On Parking Lot Starts Auto Spree

ST. LOUIS, April 6 (U.P.) — Driverless autos played tag all over the river front parking lot when a sudden drop in temperature created a half-inch ice cover.

The skidding autos didn't stop until they hit other parked cars. Some were dented on three sides when two vehicles converged on them.

Informed of the situation, the department of streets sent a truckload of ashes to the scene. The truck slid into the lot broadside and crashed into four autos.

Circus Star Nervous When Partner Faints During Knife Routine

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 6—Sometime one of them is going to get hurt if his partner blacks out again, Antonio Ona said today.

Antonio stood atop a 12-foot ladder balanced on the feet of his partner, Frederico, today. He was dropping knives at Frederico's chest.

Frederico lay on his back and with machine-like precision grabbed the knives an inch from his vest button and tossed them aside.

It's a good act, but sometimes Frederico faints.

Catches By 'Reflex'

"Only two times with the knives in the air," Antonio said. "Each time he catches them by reflex. But sometime, who knows?"

The two little Spaniards, Antonio, height five feet, weight 110 pounds, and Frederico, five feet four, 152½ pounds, practiced their split second timing in the midst of confusion.

The greatest show on earth, Ringling Brothers Barnum & Bailey circus, was rehearsing in Madison Square Garden for the opening tomorrow of its 1949 season.

Only the Onas in one corner of the Garden seemed calm.

"I am sorry, senor, that we do not speak the English so good," said Antonio.

"We just come from Spain. For years I am with a juggling act and my partner is with some Japanese tumblers. Then we decided to strike out on our own. Life is to short to wait forever," he said.

"Pardon us while we try it again."

Frederico, who is 50, lay on his back and balanced the metal ladder on his feet. He juggled three hoops while Antonio scooted to the top and began juggling three knives. Carefully, Frederico removed one foot from under the ladder. He turned it around on the other foot. Then, in a lightning movement, he changed feet.

Antonio, juggling the knives at the top of the ladder, waited for the second that the ladder regained its balance.

That was the signal. Antonio aimed a knife for his partner's chest and turned it loose.

Fredirico caught it.

"He is very good, no?" said Antonio. "Never once has he dropped me."

Braniff Lines Hopes To Maintain Service

Officials of Braniff airlines still awaited clarification today of a Washington news report Monday that its certificate to serve Lubbock and Waco via Dallas has been suspended for five years by the Civil Aeronautics board.

But a spokesman for the airline told officials of the chamber of commerce that Braniff has not suspended and does not expect any interruption of service to Lubbock.

On the contrary, the line official was quoted as saying that Braniff expects and plans to improve service here.

The spokesman acknowledged, however, he has not seen the reported CAB order and emphasized that statements from the airline do not imply defiance of the official body. They do not believe, however, that the effects of the order will be as drastic as suggested by the dispatch from Washington, they said.

If the certificate to serve Lubbock has been suspended, they said, it cannot be put into effect without giving Braniff opportunity to show cause at a public hearing why the service should not be continued.

Line officials gave assurance that they will make every effort to maintain present service, and to improve. They were assured of chamber of commerce support to those ends.

Demos, Republicans Disagree On Meaning Of Michigan Vote

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—Republicans insisted today the votes that bloomed for their ticket in Michigan's spring election are the first signs of a Midwest GOP harvest in 1950.

But Democrats contended that the sweep which gave the Republicans all of the state offices not appointed by a Democratic governor has nothing to do with the case elsewhere.

Senator Taft of Ohio, head of the Senate GOP policy committee, told a reporter the Michigan results confirm what he has thought all along.

"This country has been Republican all the time if we just get out the votes," he declared.

Democrat Skeptical

Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, the assistant Democratic leader, said he sees nothing significant in the fact that a state which went for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey—although it elected Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams—is putting Republicans in other offices.

"I don't know, but I suspect that local issues may have had something to do with the outcome," Myers said.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the floor leader, read into the Michigan victory what he called a "terrific reaction" by the people against President Truman's program.

"I think the people have awakened to what the election of last November means in the way of intrusion into their business and private lives," Wherry said. "Once the people are aroused, they make their views known in local as well as national elections."

Both major parties have been looking to the Widwest as the battleground in the 1950 congressional elections.

Hot Races In Prospect

Michigan, for instance, has three Republican congressmen who were elected by less than 55 per cent of the vote in their districts in last November's election. In fact, one of them, Rep. William W. Blackney won by only 49.6 per cent of the ballots cast in a race with more than two entries.

Hot Senate races are in prospect in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Ohio. Those same states have 42 congressional districts in which a change of 5 per cent or less in the vote could have altered the last November results when 21 of the seats went to Democrats and an equal number to Republicans.

Victor A. Johnston, campaign director of the national Republican senatorial campaign, said today he is starting a "down to the earth" campaign to win control of the Senate for the GOP. Johnston, beginning a tour of key states, said: "I am not predicting, but hope to pick up seven additional seats to give the Republicans control next year." Democrats now control by 54 to 42 seats.

Farm Vote At Stake

What could be an opening gun for the GOP battle to win over farm support in the Midwest was fired yesterday in the Senate. It was an unsuccessful attempt by Senator Jenner (R-Ind) to force the European recovery chiefs to buy only American farm products when these crops are in surplus supply or are selling below government price supports.

Jenner's amendment to the Marshall plan bill was beaten, 48 to 32, in a fight led by Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture.

Anderson said the amendment was a "dangerous" change in the definition of surpluses. Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the foreign relations committee said farm products already had been given "special consideration" under the bill.

But 26 Republicans, all of them from the Midwest and Far West, voted for Jenner's plan. Ten Republicans—all of them easterners except Senators Vandenberg of Michigan and Wiley of Wisconsin—voted against the amendment. It was supported by six Democrats and opposed by 38.

Wherry told a reporter the Republicans are going to talk "plenty" about this vote in the farming west.

DELIVERY CLERK—Nils Asther, who 20 years ago was earning $3,000 a week as one of the movies' great lovers, lights a cigar between deliveries of election equipment and ballots to polling places in Los Angeles. Now earning $1 per hour, he says he enjoys his work—"never felt better in my life"—but hopes something will turn up in his line "one of these days."

SLEEPS ON DYNAMITE

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.P.)—Mrs. A. C. Dodson has been sleeping on dynamite for years. She found 100 dynamite blasting caps under her bed. The caps were stored in a suitcase, which Mrs. Dodson surmises must have come from a relative in whose home she visited during the war. The relative worked in a blasting crew.
