P. O. Receipts Climb to New Record in '55

Postal receipts here in 1955 climbed to a new all-time high. Postmaster S. A. Palmer reported Thursday that receipts at the Post Office totaled $61,983 during the last year.

That is $158 more than the previous record year of 1954. The total in 1954 was $61,825.

Contributing factor for the record year in 1955 was the all-time Christmas mailing business.

Colorado City had an increase of 7.5 per cent in postal revenue during the December quarter of the year, according to Palmer.

At the same time office work hours were reduced, seven per cent here.

City carrier hours, however, climbed almost 10 per cent.

The 7.5 per cent increase in postal revenue for Colorado City during the December quarter is higher than the average increase reported for the Post Office Department's entire Texas-Louisiana region.

There was no delayed mail anywhere in the Texas and Louisiana region, Christmas Eve, said Sims. The no-delay mail record prevailed in Colorado City during the entire month of December despite the increased mailing.

STOCK SHOW CIRCUIT

Future Farmers to Enter at El Paso

Livestock of Colorado High Future Farmers, who won just about every honor in the calf divisions of Mitchell County 4-H & FFA Livestock Show, hits the road Feb. 5.

That's the date at least four FFA animals will be taken to the El Paso Fat Stock Show, according to R. E. (Bob) Post, vocational education instructor.

Taking calves to El Paso will be Waymon Thurman, who showed the grand champion dry lot calf at the county show; John Mayse, who exhibited county show's grand champion milk fed calf; and Lyndall Carpenter.

Mayse will enter two animals at El Paso. In addition to his grand champion milk fed calf, he also a calf that was No. 2 behind Dwayne Carpenter's first place milk fed lightweight.

Thurman will not enter his county dry lot champion at El Paso, but instead will have an entry in the Angus show there. Also taking a black Angus to El Paso will be Carpenter.

All dry lot calves of Colorado High FFA exhibitors will enter the Sweetwater Livestock in February. Entered in the same

IN 7 P.M. CIVIC HOUSE MEETING

Prospective Caged Layer Group To Organize Here Friday Night

A meeting is scheduled here Friday at 7 p.m. for the purpose of organizing a caged layer program within Mitchell County.

The organizational meeting is the outgrowth of a Jan. 17 meeting where farmers and other individuals set a goal of at least 25 caged layer houses for the county.

Scheduling the meeting Friday night in Civic House are County

Agent Jack Burkhalter and Associate County Agent James Trammell, who were named at the first meeting to head the caged layer project through the organizational stage.

Cosponsoring the meeting is the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, which scheduled the original meeting attended by more than 50 persons from Mitchell and surrounding counties.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served Friday night to persons and their families attending the meeting, Burkhalter said.

The organizational session, the county agent emphasized, is open to all persons interested in the caged layer program.

"Main purpose of the meeting, of course," Burkhalter said, "will be to organize and plan operation of a caged layer program within our communities."

"Financing possibilities will be discussed and information will be supplied for obtaining initial chicks and replacements."

Color slides will show best principles in caged layering management and representatives of feed companies will be on hand with technical data.

Both Burkhalter and Trammell report more county-wide interest in the caged layer program than for any project proposed for Mitchell County in years.

"We have had as many as 20 inquiries in a single day at our office concerning caged layers," Trammell said.

"I've never seen so much interest since I have been in the county," he added.

The county agents emphasized that the meeting Friday night will be to place the organization, planning and operation of a caged layer program into the hands of those persons who plan to get into the caged layer business.

"Speakers and specialists from caged layer counties have given us their information," Burkhalter said.

Behind Thurman's champion in the dry lot heavyweight class were Lyndall Carpenter, second; Thurman, third; Bill Strubling, fourth; Micky Cooper, fifth; and Dwayne McFerrin, sixth, all FFA.

Mayse's milk fed grand champion won the heavyweight class over a calf shown by Kenneth Stinson, 4th. His calf, bred by Francis Winn, was judged best calf bred in Mitchell County.

Thurman won showmanship honors in the calf division.

Monday, Tuesday Last Chance for Poll Tax

Last chance to obtain poll tax receipts—key to presidential, state and county voting in 1956—comes Monday and Tuesday.

For an expected last-minute rush the county tax office at the Courthouse will remain open Tuesday until midnight, according to County Tax Assessor Collector Tom Glover.

He said membership in Fisher had climbed to more than 300 members with an attendance of more than 112 members, he said, last monthly meeting.

A one-week organization effort in Scurry County resulted in more than 112 members, he said. "Remedies" listed a score of "remedies" Farmers Union was advocating to overcome current critical problems facing farmers. Those include:

1. Hundred per cent parity on all farm commodities to provide farmers an "even break" in the nation's economy.

2. A more reasonable approach to marketing quota.

3. Greater exploitation of domestic market for "so-called surplus," especially in regard to populations that are in need.

4. A sensible, non-isolationist expansion of the nation's foreign market in world that could use 75 million bales of cotton if the

TB Group Studies Budget for Nurse

Mitchell County Tuberculosis Association may seek to increase its budget to aid in securing a public health nurse for the county.

Need for a public health nurse was discussed at a meeting of the association's directors Thursday in the Courthouse.

Work by the nurse among needy families and in aiding the TB control program was emphasized by the directors in their discussion.

Special fund raising projects in conjunction with the traditional Christmas Seal Sale by the TB Association will be studied by the organization.

Increased funds would allow the association to allot a sizeable portion of its budget as a salary assist for employment of a nurse.

Last year the TB Association, with support from doctors, asked Commissioners Court to consider hiring a public health nurse. But the request brought no action from the commissioners.

At that time the local association, along with TB Association officials in San Angelo, told the court the role a public health nurse plays in discovering TB cases, securing early medical attention for TB victims, supervising home care and rehabilitation of patients.

Money in the Christmas Seal Sale is still arriving for the TB Association, according to a report to the directors by Mrs.

Committee Goes to Work for Local Farmers Union Members

A drive began Saturday in Mitchell County to recruit members for National Farmers Union.

Goal in the movement is for at least 100 members—minimum number for obtaining a Farmers Union charter.

Temporary chairman of the organizational project is Doyle Hester, Loraine farmer.

Named to the membership committee are Jack Linam, A. K. McCarley Jr., Don Henderson, Pete Barkley, Guy Hildebrandt, Warren Anderson and Royce Mahon.

The move to organize a Farmers Union unit in Mitchell County began at a meeting Friday night in 32nd District Courtroom here.

Detailing aims and policy of the Farmers Union at the public meeting were Max Carriker, president of Fisher County Farmers Union; Willard Burt, secretary-treasurer and insurance representative for the Fisher group; and Alex Dickie of Denton, president of Texas Farmers Union.

Carriker, Roby farmer who represented this cotton area in Washington and before Senate Agriculture Committee hearing Fort Worth last year in a request for more equitable cotton allotments, told the audience of 30 persons that Fisher County was "sold" on the Farmers Union.

He said membership in Fisher had climbed to more than 300 members with an attendance of more than 112 members, he said, last monthly meeting.

A one-week organization effort in Scurry County resulted in more than 112 members, he said. "Remedies" listed a score of "remedies" Farmers Union was advocating to overcome current critical problems facing farmers. Those include:

1. Hundred per cent parity on all farm commodities to provide farmers an "even break" in the nation's economy.

2. A more reasonable approach to marketing quota.

3. Greater exploitation of domestic market for "so-called surplus," especially in regard to populations that are in need.

4. A sensible, non-isolationist expansion of the nation's foreign market in world that could use 75 million bales of cotton if the world demand was for only half the uses of cotton within the U.S.

5. Insist that agriculture be an integral part of the nation's economy, not a stepchild.

6. Continued fight against portion of the Hoover Commission report that would erase the "REA program as we know it today and put in the hands of private power companies."

"The Farmers Union," Carriker said, "is the only farmers organization that has fought the Hoover Commission report."

"And some farm organizations have even endorsed the Hoover report."

Carriker pointed out numerous programs subsidizing industry and other segments of the industry.

"In five years the tax write-off provision alone for industry—a subsidy to industry," he said, "has taken 40 times more money from the government than the whole agriculture program across the nation."

"Yet they tell us subsidy for the farmers is bad... that it will bankrupt the country."

Carriker told the group that the farmers had to organize to fight for their rights or be "pushed off the cliff backwards."

Construction plans are almost complete for Colorado City's entire new school building program. Bids will be opened here Feb. 6 at 4 p.m. for sale of $500,000 in bonds that will finance the improvements.

Target date for calling for construction bids is around March 1.

The bond bid opening was announced Saturday by W. R. (Jinks) Powell, president of Colorado Independent School District's board of trustees.

His announcement came after architect William R. Lane and engineer R. S. Smith of Fort Worth were here two days studying final planning details for the $500,000 program.

Lane and Smith have been employed by the school district to plan and supervise the building project.

They are rushing preparation of final plans and specifications so that one overall contract can be let as an economy measure and, also, so that construction can be started soon enough to assure completion of the Hutchinson Elementary School addition before next fall's school opening.

School officials already have approved plans for the Hutchinson expansion, construction of a new west wing at Colorado High, remodeling High School's old gym space into two-story music and classroom area.

Plans drafted for enlargement of the High School stage, also have been okayed by trustees, but study is still under way on proposal to air-condition the auditorium—and to renovate auditorium windows.

Recommendations are expected within the next week or two from Lane for one other project in the $500,000 program—repair and renovation of the present High School building.

The west wing addition to High School will be one-story with a home economics department including food laboratory, clothing laboratory, living room, bedroom

LONE STAR FARMER

Farmer's Share in Food Dollar Less

By JOHN WHITE, Agriculture Commissioner

Built-in maid service on our grocery shelves may be a big boon to time-saving for today's housewife, but it has been a big factor in making food process cost more than the food itself. Ten years ago the farmer got more than half 53 cents to be exact, of every retail food dollar. Today his share has shrunk to a miserable 39 cents, little more than a third of the total, and three cents less than it was only a year ago.

The lion's portion, or 61 cents out of every food dollar, goes to the "middlemen"—those who take charge of the foodstuffs after the "preliminary" stage of raising them is completed.

And while the service of the middlemen is generally essential in bringing food from the farmer's market to the food store in good condition, his fancy labels often save little time while costing a lot more money.

I doubt that the average housewife can thaw out a package of frozen french fried potatoes and have them on the table any quicker than if she took a paring knife in hand and went to work. Most women can cut up a potato while the grease is getting hot. Yet this little built-in convenience can cost you more than the potato itself is worth and put the cash conveniently into the middleman's pocket.

Of course, frozen food processes are the best means we've ever had for enjoying the food we like whether in season or not, and without danger of spoilage. But when the housewife selects a package of in-season vegetables from the frozen food counter she's not helping herself much, and certainly not the food bud get.

The housewife can avoid buying the box and getting the beans thrown in incidentally by sensible marketing.

But what about the farmer? Unfortunately, a saving to the housewife is not a saving to the

Texas Cash Farm Income Drops 8 Per Cent With Big Decline in Stock, Major Crops

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports Texas cash farm income for the first 11 months of 1955 totaled $1.55 billion, 8 per cent below the comparable 1954 period.

The 1954-55 comparison for January-November shows 12 of the 19 major farm commodities registered decreases.

Cotton was down seven per cent; cottonseed, 20 per cent; wheat, 33 per cent; oats, 21 per cent; flaxseed, 61 per cent; rice, seven per cent; cattle, five per cent; calves, 35 per cent; hogs, 27 per cent; wool, 24 per cent; poultry, one per cent, and milk and milk products, one per cent.

Peanuts showed the greatest gain among farm commodities, with a 133 per cent increase. Other crops showing gains were corn, two per cent; grain sorghum, six per cent; sheep and lambs, 10 per cent; mohair, 67 per cent; eggs, four per cent, and fruit and vegetables, nine per cent.

The Bureau notes that many East and Central Texas counties will be allotted increased acreage in 1956, under county acreage allotments established by the U.S. Agriculture Department. However, allotments show a seven per cent overall reduction for the state, and a number of counties on the Plains and in the Rio Grande Valley, were cut materially.

Preliminary statistics point to a continued shift of Texas beef cattle population from the western part of the state to the eastern regions. However, a 1954 census shows the total number of cattle in Texas has declined 12.7 per cent since 1900, from 9,429,296 to 8,235,535.

Texas construction projects totaled $949,213,349 for 1955, making it the fifth best year on record. An all-time high $174,600,000 program of road building scheduled by the Texas Highway Department brightens the construction industry's outlook for 1956. . . . Travis County's three district courts, in which venue of nearly all state cases is placed, are overflowing with veterans land insurance and other state cases. District Judge D. B. Wood of Georgetown has been assigned to Austin in an effort to catch up with the overloaded dockets.

Texas' juvenile delinquency rate has jumped from 15 per 1,000 children in 1953 to 19 per 1,000 children in 1955, reports the Texas Youth Development Council. . . . Former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, 67, and his second wife, who is 38, now are the proud parents of a daughter born at their ranch home near Junction. . . . John Wood, 72, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission in 1934-35, while Miriam Ferguson was governor, is seriously ill with an intestinal ailment. He was admitted to an Austin hospital on January 21.

An Award of Merit was presented the Texas Highway Department by the Lions Club of Texas for outstanding public service "in designing and building of modern highways."

Reports from the Railway Commission are that oil well completions are lagging behind last year, with 695 wells brought in so far as compared with 713 in the same period of 1955. Gas well completions were 75 this year, 49 last year, for the same early part of January.

Ten forgery and 10 felony theft indictments against B. R. Sheffield of Brady, one-time business associate of former land commission Bascom Giles, all growing out of veterans' land transactions, have been scheduled for call in Travis County District Court on Feb. 1, for setting and probable trial during February. . . . Texas' population has increased 11 per cent between the 1950 census and July 1, 1955, reaching a total of 8,563,000, according to the latest census report.

WATER PROBLEMS STUDIED—To conserve water, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson recommends the proration of water much the same as oil now is prorated. He made his recommendation at a meeting of the Texas Water Resources Committee. At the same session, members of the Brazos River Authority, said that in some years as much as 600,000 tons of salt and other chlorides are washed into Possum Kingdom Reservoir. Suggested was a dam to block off a salt flat in Northwest Texas and permanently impound the flow of brine springs and the runoff from the area. This would prevent intrusion of 200,000 tons of salt a year into the Brazos reservoirs and stream flow. BRA's aim is a six-dam program costing $173,000,000.

YARBOROUGH HONORED—Austin Attorney Ralph W. Yarbrough, 1954 candidate for governor, has been named to membership on the national legal committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was recommended for the appointment by Ted C. Connell of Killean, Texas VFW Department Commander. MILITARY DISCHARGES—More Texans were discharged from military service in 1955 than were drafted or volunteered. A total of 46,545 entered service while 54,499 were discharged. Draftees totaled 7,954, as compared with 38,591 volunteers. Nearly four out of every ten men examined were turned down.

MORE VACCINE—Because of steadily increasing supplies, Salk polio vaccine priority in Texas has been extended to persons up to 20 years of age and to pregnant women. Total polio cases in 1955 was 1,931. It was a sharp drop from the previous year's 3,037.

SHORT SNORTS—John A. McCurdy has retired as executive secretary of the U. T. Ex-Students Association, after nearly 30 years of service. He has been replaced by Jack R. Maguire, public relations director of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association. Maguire's successor has not been chosen.

IN CULTURAL PROGRAM

Mrs. Melton Traces History of Ballet for Beta Sigma Phi

"Dance is the oldest art known to mankind," members of the Beta Sigma Phi Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi were told Tuesday evening by Mrs. M. L. Melton.

Religion and love were the first two emotions humans experienced.

And dance was the primitive medium through which they were expressed, Mrs. Melton said during the cultural program in the home of Mrs. R. H. (Bob) Ratliff.

Another primary art is architecture, the group heard.

Both arts came before mankind and derived from birds and animals.

"Like architecture ballet is the result of geometrical spatial thinking," the speaker commented.

"Ballet technique is complete control over the muscles of the body and it takes years to accomplish that control."

Mrs. Melton traced the history of ballet from the reign of Louis XIV through the romantic period in the early 30's. Women made public performances for the first time in 1681, she said. And even then they wore masks and such heavy clothing they could not accomplish much.

"Marie Camargo was one of the first women who dared wearing shorter costumes," the speaker continued. "Her costume struck just above her ankles."

In the early 30's the ballerina raised herself on her toes for the first time.

In closing Mrs. Melton reviewed the life of Paulovna, who was considered by many to be the greatest dancer on earth.

In the business meeting members voted to enter a skit in the Leap Year Varieties, a show to be sponsored by the Band Boosters Club next month.

A letter from Mrs. Willard Myer, a former member, was read. Mrs. Ratliff discussed policies of the Howdy Hack, which is sponsored by the chapter. Mrs. Charles Harrell announced that date for the group's Valentine dinner dance had been reset for Feb. 10.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Jim Rogers, Miss Alvina Atkinson, Mrs. Hazel Burdine, Mrs. Frank King, Mrs. Jerry DeVore, Mrs. James Kelley, Miss La Verne Springer, Mrs. Harrell, Miss Sallie Tharp, Mrs. Melton, Mrs. W. D. McClure, director, and the hostess.

CHS Class Studies Family Living

Study in the personal relations class at Colorado High School is highlighted by movies.

"Crystal Clear" was shown to the group last week, according to Mrs. Harry Bishop, teacher. The story explained the history of crystal and discussed what type of crystal is best suited for various entertaining.

The group saw a another movie Wednesday during class period. "Beauty and the Bride" was about a young people who remodeled an old house to make an attractive home.

Topic of study for the group now is family living.

New students of Colorado High School include Joann Reid, a sophomore from San Angelo, and Sharon Rutledge, a senior student from Ogden, Utah.

Date for Howl presentation of school favorites has been reset for Friday night, Mrs. Gerald Gordon, Howl sponsor, announced recently.

Previously set date was Feb. 11. Also featured on the program will be the presentation of new Quil and Scroll members by Mrs. Gordon.

Presbyterian Circle Elects New Officers

TWO MINDS WITH BUT A SINGLE THOUGHT...

Meet Jeff and Kim! (Jeff's the one with the curly ears!) They're inseparable pals. They both go around on all fours, and they're generally interested in the same things.

For instance, right now they're both wondering just what Daddy and Mama are talking about.

They seem to be discussing something called "religious education." It is carried on weekly by all the churches. It is the bulwark of America's moral strength and her religious faith.

Daddy is saying that he wants Kim to have the priceless advantage of religious training in Sunday School. And Mother is saying that she has been thinking the same thing.

That's the way it ought to be in every home! Two minds with but a single thought... wise parents planning together the moral and spiritual development of their child.

Wag your tail, Jeff! Things look mighty bright for your pal Kim!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

$33,464 Set Up For First ACP Quarter

Mitchell County's ASC Committee has approved $33,464 for Agricultural Practice Conservation cost-sharing payments during the first quarter of '56.

And in the first 20 days of January Mitchell County farmers and ranchers already had made application for $20,576.86 of the first-quarter allocation.

The ACP program was set up by the ASC committee over four periods of the year. Allocation for the initial period amounts to the total of the other three.

After the opening period the allocations are set up with $10,000 for each succeeding period.

Mike Custer, office manager here for the ASC, said the committee administering the ACP cost-sharing program is meeting once each week to approve applications for payments.

Refinery, who are cooperating with Jaycee in the free service. The analysis reveal whether water samples have characteristics suitable for crop irrigation.

Elmer Martin, chairman of the Jaycee committee, said more than 70 farmers and ranchers in the Colorado City area have used the free service.

And the program has saved the farmers and ranchers more than $700. The $700 sum is based on the $10 fee for water analysis in major West Texas cities that have firms offering the service.

Among the latest to have water samples tested in the program were Kelley Treadway, who has a 750-gallon water well five miles north of Lorraine; Waddell Strain; R. Y. Hammond; Goodwin Simpson; Frank Stewart; Henry Taylor; Grady Ezell; Jimmy Merket; J. C. Pritchett; Brooks Stewart; R. T. Manuel plus two from Nolan county, E. O. Mahon and Max Wright, and one from Sterling County, Gene Smith.

FOR DISTRICT LEAD

Dog Quintet Edges Colorado, 42-39

It took only 25 seconds Friday night for Colorado High to virtually lose the District 4-AA basketball championship. Wolves lost to Stamford 42-39 in a thriller on the Stamford court.

Wolves were leading 39-38 with 25 seconds remaining when Stamford center Dallas Christian hit a field goal to place the Bulldogs ahead 40-39.

A Wolf player fouled Christian and he dropped in both charity tosses in the final seconds to clinch the win.

If the Wolves had won the contest, they would have practically clinched the crown. Stamford is now favored to walk on through the conference schedule without another defeat.

Both teams were cold from the floor with defensive play at its best.

Wolves went ahead 5-0 early in the game after Stamford missed 19 consecutive tries at the basket.

Colorado had an eight-point lead going into the final quarter but Stamford put on a full-court press to cut down the margin.

Bulldogs Charles Saunders and

Wolf Jimmy Hock exchanged goals to make it 36-28 and Wolf forward Jimmy Richardson, hit two points to give the Wolves a 19-point margin, 38-28.

Ball-hawking payed off for the Bulldogs as they quickly netted four points to make it 38-32.

Christian came through with a bucket and Saunders hit one from the side to cut C-City's lead to two points, 38-36.

A Wolf free shot made it 39-36 but Truman Childress fired in one for Stamford as the Wolves attempted to stall the ball to make it 39-38.

Stamford bottled up Wolves' high scoring center Billy Simmons with as many as three men guarding him when he attempted to shoot.

Then Christian hit his big bucket that virtually won the game for Stamford.

Wolves play Abilene Christian College High School here Tuesday.
