Along The Waterfront

Rockport trout fishing has been good, Ed Harper of Sandollar Motel said, "but it was a little rough last Thursday."

Harper guided Rep. Leroy Weiting of Portland to about 60 trout Thursday.

J. C. Arlla, Jr., operating a charter boat out of the Anchor Motel, reports the following catches:

July 13: Ray and Bobbie Sultemeier caught 43 nice trout up to two and a half pounds.

July 13: R. A. Tadusch and party from Austin, caught 38 trout.

July 15: J. B. Gregory and Ray Singleton caught 86 trout.

July 16: Taylor Boyd, II, of Dallas and Millard Measan caught 127 trout.

* * *

Captain Brown, skipper of the motor vessel "Whooping Crane," reported fine catches of speckled trout this past week. Good water and plenty of live shrimp accounted for much of the action at the head of Copano Bay.

The "Whooping Crane" makes regular fishing excursions each day, leaving the Sea Gun marina at 7:30 p.m.

A young Sea Gun guest hooked a fine 6¾ pound trout fishing in Sea Gun's marina basin. The big trout nearly persuaded the little seven year old to join the perch club before she finally landed it.

* * *

The Mary Lou reported two big catches this week, as follows: On Tuesday Willian B. Knight and H. E. Dyal of Houston and their party caught 374 trout. On Wednesday Dr. W. A. Stansbury, Ft. Collins, Colo., caught 207 nice trout.

Mrs. Lampas, grandsons Jim, Mike, and Ted, of San Antonio fishing with Roy Hebisen on the Lola-L, caught 55 real nice trout.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Galloway of Mesquite, fishing with Fred Christilles on the Christie, caught a 6½ foot sailfish and lost another one. Eleven kings were also part of the gulf catch. The Rockport charter boats don't fish for sailfish and it is a real feat when they do catch one. When fishing for kings, a wire leader of only 2

Commissioners Asked to Okay Drag Races

Gene Cannon, president of the Jaycees, Bob Morrison and Dr. J. M. Shaw met with the Commissioners Court July 15 and requested permission to use the NS runway at Aransas County Airport for a drag race event. After considering the matter, the commissioners voted to announce their decision at their next meeting.

The court voted to pay $100 annual dues for membership in the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas.

The contract for the structure was awarded by the School Board to Chas T. Picton Lumber Co. which submitted the low bid of $20,385.

A subcontractor, Mesco Buildings Co., erected the metal prefabrication for the building, using attractive green and white panels. Brick veneer trim at the front adds to the appearance.

The building is 75 by 50 feet is located north of the high school across the street from the industrial arts building.

When the building is completed and ready for fall classes, the high school for the first time will offer a metals vocational course. It will be under the direction of Melvin Mills.

GRAY ATTENDS SCHOOL SESSION

Supt. J. D. Gray of the Aransas County Independent School District was one of 55 top level Texas public school administrators who recently attended the three-day Public School Administrators Conference at Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas.

Boat Licensing Is Discussed

The examination and licensing of all boat operators may soon be a requisite to water safety.

This possibility was discussed at a public hearing last Friday morning conducted by the Recreational Water Safety Committee, composed of five members of the state legislature.

Chairman Ben Atwell of Dallas invited those attending the hearing to express opinions on requiring boat operators to be licensed as are operators of motor vehicles.

Stephen Atwood, harbor superintendent for the Aransas County Navigation District, favored licensing and said all boat operators should be required to know the Rules of the Road, safety regulations and be familiar with the equipment they operate.

He added that he thinks there should be a minimum age limit set for boat operators.

Pat Greene and Ed Harper, both of Rockport, said they believe licensing will soon become a necessity with the growing number of boats used for recreation.

Directors of the navigation district and members of the commissioners court asked for information on enforcement of regulations governing speed on the beaches and areas set aside for specific recreation such as swimming and skiing.

County Commissioner Raymond Owens said the overlapping authority of the county and the navigation district presents problems of enforcement.

"There's not only the question of who has the authority to regulate speed of boats and motorists along the beaches, but one of authority to enforce regulations adopted," Owens said.

Atwell said it is his opinion that either the court or the district has regulating authority and that county and state officers have the required authority to enforce the regulations.

C. L. Burdett, warden with the Texas Parks and Wildlife, said any political subdivision of the state has authority under the Water Safety Act to zone water areas and enforcement can be by state and county officers.

Discussing enforcement, Atwell said the state is just now getting the needed funds for the personnel and equipment for enforcement. He said approximately $2 million a year is obtained for this purpose from unclaimed tax refunds on marine fuels.

Other suggestions given the committee included:

—Requiring oil companies to permanently mark channels and spoil banks resulting in drilling operations in the bay for the protection and convenience of the boating public.

—Prohibiting air boats from pulling skiers or operating near swimming areas.

—Use of a sticker for relicensing boats.

Members of the legislative committee in addition to Atwell are Leroy Wieting of Portland, Otha Birkner of Bay City, James D. Cole of Greenville and Henry Fletcher of Lockhart.

Work Progresses On New United Savings Building

Work is progressing on the new United Savings Association building which R.A.R., Inc., contracting firm, is building at the corner of Austin and Main Streets. It is expected that the building will be completed by the latter part of October.

The structure will have 3600 square feet of floor space including 1200 feet on the mezzanine floor which will be available for rent as office space. H. L. Rymal, oil operator, has leased part of this space.

The building will be all masonry construction with exterior walls of glazed brick in colors shading from light blue through varying shades of blue to sand color.

Interior walls will be brick painted white to provide a background for periodic art displays.

The ground floor will contain a lobby, workroom and a conference room.

The building is set back from the street to provide a landscaped area in the center of the city. Plants native to this area, and attractive walks will be incorporated in the landscaping.

Firm Adopts Name of Sipe Real Estate, Inc.

CASH TIPS ARE NOW INCLUDED FOR SOCIAL SECURITY

Employees who receive cash tips as part of their pay now pay social security tax on their tips, according to Mrs. Connie Balsley, field representative of the Social Security office in Corpus Christi. If the tips amount to $20 or more a month they will count towards social security along with other wages.

All social security payments are figured from a worker's average earnings; therefore, tips plus regular wages will increase an employee's social security protection. This will also add to the benefits of an employee's dependents when he retires or in case the worker becomes disabled or dies.

"It is important for an employee who receives tips amounting to $20 or more in a month working for one employer, to report the total amount of tips he receives in a month," Mrs. Balsley says. "The report must be given to the employer by the 10th day after the month in which the tips were received. The employer then includes the tips along with the employee's other wages on the report he makes to the Internal Revenue Service every three months."

Interested persons may secure further information from Social Security Administration, 1802 South Staples Street, Corpus Christi. A new leaflet, OASI-6, gives a brief, but complete explanation of tips as wages under Social Security.

Rockport Area Praised In Magazine Article

TEXAS PARADE, a magazine illustrated with beautiful color pictures, had many good things to say about the Rockport area in a recent article titled "Everything Under the Sun."

The Rockport Pilot received a copy of this publication from the Texas Tourist Development Agency's headquarters in Austin. Following is the article:

Rockport, nine miles up the coast from Port Aransas on Highway 35, features outstanding live and mounted specimens of Gulf Coast aquatic life at its Marine Laboratory and Aquarium. Nearby Fulton has fine homes with seascape views, including the privately-owned, open-to-visitors Fulton Mansion. The magnificent weathered edifice was built in 1872 by a wealthy kinsman of the steamboat's invention. The mansion suggests that invention is hereditary, for it features cunning, pre-electricity air-conditioning, washing machines, central heat. (A celebrated resident of Fulton is "Peg-Leg" Furlong, globe-trotting operator of a store-of-all-merchandise, whose artificial limb is equipped with radio, compass, clock, and a bottle-opener. A celebrated resident of Rockport is Mrs. Connie Hagar, a famous amateur ornithologist who once identified hereabouts 204 different kinds of birds in a single day, a world's record.)

Speaking of birds, the Aransas Wildlife Refugio, across the causeway east of Rockport-Fulton, is renowned as the winter home of fewer than 50 whooping cranes in the world. Visitors are welcome, and they may see a family of them —or any of 300-odd other species—from a tower constructed especially for whooper watchers. This area is famous among bird watchers (they come from as far away as Canada, where whooping cranes summer!) One facility in particular caters to their hobby, as well as those who would hunt game species — duck, geese—in season.

It's the Sea Gun Inn, across Copano Bay from Fulton. Colorfully patterned after a Bermuda resort, it features regular excursions through whooper territory aboard its two-deck vessel, the "Whooping Crane." Nearby on Goose Island is the only state-maintained park offering salt water fishing (there are many operated by cities and counties). Goose Island harbors the largest live oak tree in the world, a 2,000-year-old oak, example of thousands of wind-sculptured oaks characterizing this part of the Texas coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Tomes and son, Mark, from San Diego, Calif, have been visiting in the home of Mrs. Geraldine Stevens and son, Robert. The Tomes family and Mrs. Stevens have been friends for 18 years.

Food Costs Include Service Of Maid

Our food costs include a lot of extra maid service, too, reminds Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketiing specialist.

This maid service is included in such food items as quick frozen dinners, cake mixes, frozen fruit and vegetables, and commercially baked bread, rolls and cookies.

The specialist says that while food prices did go up in 1965 and this year, too, incomes generally advanced more rapidly than food costs.

In this country, food now takes only 18 per cent of our after-taxes income, compared with approximately 25 per cent required a few years ago. In England, consumers spent 29 per cent for food; in Italy, 45 per cent; in Japan, 47 per cent; in Russia, 53 per cent; and in most South American countries, 66 per cent.

People in science and agriculture are constantly working to provide more food that we may enjoy and share with others, Mrs. Clyatt adds.

Food shoppers this week will want to pay special attention to beef steaks that are being featured in some stores. There's nice values to be found in chuck roasts, round roasts, rumps and better rib roasts. Scattered specials on pork are to be found on fresh shoulder roasts, bacon and some hams.

Better quality vegetables are to be found at somewhat lower prices. You may make selections from pole beans, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, celery, sweet corn, cucumbers, eggplant, cooking greens, peppers and squash. Tomatoes are showing some improvement.

Oranges, grapefruit, pineapples, bananas, apples and avocados are good fruit selections.

ARMOUR GROUP MEETS HERE

Armour Agriculture Chemical Co. held a three-day conference at Sea Gun Inn this past week. Sales managers and representatives from several states attended the seminar covering new products and methods to increase farm yields. The conference was directed by Armour's R. A. Bracy.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Christian this week are Mr. and Mrs. Julian Craven and Mr. and Mrs. John Hawkins of San Antonio. Miss Didi Hudson of Dallas is spending the summer with the Christians.

How Medicare Works

This is the fifth in a series of articles from H. M. Cleveland, district manager, Social Security Administration, Corpus Christi, on how medicare will work starting in July. The information is based on "Your Medicare Handbook," the guide that has been mailed to all medicare beneficiaries during June.

When to Claim Medical Insurance Benefits

You can claim medical insurance benefits as soon as you have expenses for covered services, but no payment can be made until you meet the $50 deductible amount for the year. It would be better to hold your small bills until they amount to more than $50 and just make one claim rather than making several claims for small amounts.

Under the payment to patient method, after you have met the $50 deductible, you can send in a claim as soon as you have paid all or part of the bill for the covered services. Remember that no medical insurance benefit can be paid under the payment to patient method unless you have attached a receipted bill with your claim or have the doctor show in the place provided on the form how much of the bill has been paid.

Under the payment to the doctor method, the doctor who provided the services may file the claim immediately without waiting for you to pay your share of the bill. He can then bill you directly for the amount you owe him. Which method of payment is used is a matter strictly between the patient and the doctor. If the doctor has agreed to your assignment, he agrees that, if the $50 deductible is met, he will accept the amount paid to him by the medical insurance program as covering 80 percent of his bill. In this case, he can bill the patient for the remaining 20 percent of the reasonable charge and any amount of the $50 deductible still owed him.

Your Benefits for Doctor Bills

The benefits to help you pay doctor bills will be your most important protection under the medical insurance program. Benefits may be paid for the medical services you receive from a physician wherever they are furnished—in a hospital, in his office, in your own home, or in a clinic.

The medicare law specifically guarantees each person the right to select his own doctor. Nor does a doctor have to sign up or make any special arrangements in connection with his treatment of medicare beneficiaries. All this necessary is that he be legally authorized to practice medicine or osteopathy in his state.

Kinds of Physicians' Services Medical Insurance Covers

Medical and surgical services by a physician—in a hospital, in his office, at a clinic, or at your home—wherever they are furnished.

Services in connection with your physician's treatment, such as: Diagnostic tests, medical supplies, the services of his nurse, drugs which cannot be self administered, and similar services which he would ordinarily include in his bill.

Dental surgery, by a doctor of dentistry or a doctor of surgery, but only if it involves major dental surgery and is not just ordinary dental care.

Medical insurance does not cover routine physical checkups, eye examinations for glasses or hearing examinations for hearing aids, routine dental care, or immunizations.

Spring Cleaning Old-Fashioned

Spring house cleaning is old-fashioned, says Mrs. Doris Myers, Texas A&M University Extension home management specialist.

A good home manager will rotate cleaning jobs each week or each month. She thus avoids ever having to do a total cleaning job at any one time.

"This practice will keep the house looking presentable throughout the year. You'll have more free time in the spring to devote to other important family activities," Mrs. Myers adds.

There are few safety rules for you to remember about household products used in cleaning, however.

Be sure to read the labels on all household products, and follow instructions given. Teach other members of your family to do the same.

Do not mix liquid bleach with any other cleaning compound or a different kind of bleach. If liquid bleach is added to an acid or acid-producing material, chlorine gas may be formed. There have been several serious incidents involving use of this mixture, the specialist reminds.

Household ammonia, when mixed with bleach, produces highly irritating fumes. And an explosion may result if ammonia is poured into bleach, cautions Mrs. Myers.

Mrs. George Bohn, Jr., and children and Rupert Surcouf of New Orleans, La., left Monday after a month's vacation. Rocky Rouquette accompanied them home for a visit.

J. R. BROWN NOW ASSISTANT PROF.

J. Roland Brown of Beaumont received a promotion in faculty rank from instructor to assistant professor of biology at Southern State Collegt, according to President Imon E. Bruce.

He is a member of the American Ornithologists Union, Arkansas Audubon Society, AEA and NEA, and before coming to Southern State, taught at the Liberty, Texas and Port Neches-Groves High Schools.

Literacy Council Annual Meeting

The Aransas Literacy Council held its annual meeting at the Chamber of Commerce building July 13.

The retiring president, Thomas M. Rogers, introduced the new president, Frank W. Wells, who in turn presented his new officers as follows: Vice president, Major Donald C. Meek; secretary, Mrs. James B. Jackson; treasurer, Alfred Pena; cordinator, Mrs. Fay E. Hartman.

Reports were presented by Mrs. Jackson, Alfred Pena, and retiring coordinator Miss Winona McFall. A review of the past year's work was interesting and informative. The Literacy School term coincided with the regular public school year, opening a week after school started and closing on May 24.

Twelve enthusiastic students were enrolled and this number increased to 16. Regular attendance of the students proved to be difficult since all were adults and most were heads of families; however, some progressed very well.

One student, besides finishing the course, has completed the first part of three books preparing him for the United States citizenship.

Teachers were dedicated, earnest volunteers. Those teaching were Mrs. M. W. Cochran, Mrs. H. H. Dick, Mrs. Harold W. Edmonson, Mrs. G. L. Godwin, Mrs. J. W. Ingersoll, Mrs. R. L. Pomeroy, Mrs. Seth Steele, Mrs. Gene Sprinkle, Frank Wells, and Mrs. W. M. Wills.

Classes were held every Tuesday night for an hour and a half at the Rockport Elementary school except for one lesson which was taught regularly at the home of the student.

An increasing interest in the council's work is evident by the fact that the member ship now totals 63 and contributions have been received from various religious and civic groups, as well as private businesses. Recognition is made of the work and assistance given through the office of County Judge John Wendell.

Plans for the next year's work were discussed. An Advisory Board will be appointed in the near future so that work can begin on enrollment of students for the fall term. Businesses of the community are especially asked to encourage employees who might be prospective students to contact the Literacy Council for information on the term which will start in September.

This and That

JOHN KINSEY

When we get ready to trade a car in on a new one, most of us go through a lot of mental turmoil, trying to figure out what is the best thing to do.

Some people acquire a real affection for their car and feel like traitors for even thinking about selling "Old Faithful" which has given the family much service and pleasure over the years.

But even when you steel yourself that the practical thing is to get rid of the old car, then you're just beginning in your quest for the right move, the right deal, the right car.

You read the ads proclaiming, "You name your own deal! You don't have to wait—September close-out prices now! July clearance sale! What a sale."

So you visit a dealer, look over a new job get a figure on how much it will take to move into the shiny new model. Somehow, "Old Faithful" seems to be worth much more to you than to the other fellow.

"You've got a nice car here," you are told, "and it's in fine shape, but for us to sell it, the right man will have to come along. Might be quite a while before he comes in. That's why we can offer you only the figure I mentioned."

So you drag yourself home, visions of that new model still blinding you. Got to do some thinking, some figuring.

Flash! Why don't I sell the car myself, get the cash, then go see the dealer and get a real good deal. So you run an ad, describing your car in good condition, which it is, and sit back and wait for the calls.

From the lack of calls, you again decide "Old Faithful" is endeared more by you than by others. When you do get a few calls and quote the price you have in mind, you get reactions such as, "You got holes in your head," "Did I hear you right?" "What do you think you're selling, a Rolls Royce?"

We all go through it. This business of buying cars is one of the main cogs in the nation's economy.

But it's misery to the prospective purchaser until he finally makes his deal.

Letters to the Editor

June 27, 1966

As on nearly every Sunday, five families from Portland made the trip to the ski basin in your city. We were anticipating an afternoon of carefree fun. What a surprise we had! It seems the beach in front of the tables has been turned into a race track for speed-happpy teens and young adults. Having an even dozen children between us, our afternoon consisted of holding on to our children in order to preserve life and limb. When our nerves and tempers gave out we returned home. Cutting our afternoon short. We were very distressed about the situation. Needless to say not a police officer was seen all afternoon.

May we suggest a traffic officer and/or speed limit signs on the beach? The amount of money spent at local business establishments by skiers and others using this part of the beach would more than pay the cost of this.

If this is not possible this "drag strip" could be placed behind the tables instead of in the direct path of children going from boats to refreshments and back again.

Since the ski basin is a source of much enjoyment to so many it seems a shame to let it be spoiled by these "idiots with wheels."

Thank you,
