SHERIFF ISSUES PUBLIC WARNING

Friendly Suggestion Made To Avoid Trouble In Celebrating 4th

Sheriff Pierce came to the Leader office Tuesday and asked that this newspaper carry a message of warning to those who might for some reason take advantage of the occasion the 4th to drive while intoxicated.

"The law says intoxicated to any degree subjects the driver of an auto to a heavy fine or prison sentence," the Sheriff stated.

"We invite all the folks to come to Clarendon July 4th and have a good time, but we won't tolerate any drunkeness of any kind," Pierce stated. Accidents are avoided by driving carefully, he said, and the best judgment is required at times to avoid a smash.

The crowd which is expected to be large, will be carefully policed for the protection of the public—life and property alike.

Schmelling-Louis Fight Here 2 Days

Complete Moving Picture Of Boxing Match Scheduled At Pastime Theatre

The moving picture of the Schmelling-Louis boxing match went over so big at Amarillo the past few days, that fight fans prevailed upon Mr. Mulkey to show the picture at the Pastime in Clarendon.

As a consequence, this picture will be shown here two days, Wednesday and Thursday, July 8th and 9th.

The picture shows the principals only, no filler of the crowd has been thrown in to mar the fun. A portion of the picture is made on the "slow motion" process so that the onlooker can see just how the white man knocked the negro about the ring. This is especially noticeable in the 4th round when the white man knocked the negro down the first time.

The main part of the picture travels along just at the right speed to show the fighting as it actually occurred, and just as it would have looked at the ring side.

The fight occurred at Madison Square Garden in New York City the night of June 19th. Schmelling was the first white man to stop the negro Joe Louis. It is also claimed that the vibration produced when the negro hit the mat also caused the earthquake in the Panhandle at about the same hour. Anyway, it is a great picture and is drawing repeat crowds. Many want to and do see it the second time. Don't forget the date, at the Pastime, Wednesday and Thursday.

LARGE NUMBER AT MUSEUM OPENING

Many More Relics Are Placed In Rapidly Growing Exhibit

Large numbers visited the Museum Sunday. Just as many were agreeably surprised at the large collection of relics, trophies and heirlooms. The opening was all that could be desired by the ladies in charge.

Visitors who had never given the matter much thought, were astounded to learn of so worthy a project right at home. More than six hundred articles are now on exhibit. Many more have been received the past few days. More have been promised.

The Museum is open from 4 to 6 p. m. every Monday. No admission charge.

Those who wish, may see the exhibit any time Saturday. The Museum will be open all day.

The opening Sunday was under the direction of the Les Beaux Arts Club, sponsors of the Museum, and punch was served to the visitors.

President

MRS. B. F. KIRTLEY

Schools of this day would be sorely tried without the assistance of a live Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Kirtley is president of the Sims P-T. A. During the school term, programs are presented weekly. Assistance in a multitude of ways is given by the Association toward making the Clarendon schools so well known for their excellent records.

Mrs. Bruce is Buried Here Thursday Afternoon

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. Perry King at the Baptist church Thursday at 5 p. m. for Mrs. Clara Bruce who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Brown, near Claude Wednesday.

Mrs. Bruce was the widow of A. Bruce, who formerly conducted a nursery four miles west of town, and where the family resided for many years.

She is survived by three sons and a daughter. The sons are Paul of Alanreed, Albert and Dayton of Amarillo. The daughter is a Mrs. Dora Brown who resides about 14 miles southeast of Claude, and with whom Mrs. Bruce had made her home for several years.

Those attending the casket were Edwin Baley, W. E. Hodges, A. J. Subley, Geo. Bullman, J. D. Wood and A. Cayton of Claude.

Hudgins School Board Buys School Bus Tuesday

The Board of Trustees of Hudgins Common School District met in the County Superintendent's office Tuesday and purchased a Superior-International School Bus for the transportation of pupils in Hudgins District. This is the latest all-steel equipment for the transportation of pupils in safety and comfort.

The members of the Hudgins Board negotiating this deal are L. M. Putman, President of the Board, T. J. Talley and O. L. Jacobs.

Old Fiddlers Are Lining Up For Contest the 4th

Several fiddlers of this section have accepted the invitation to get in on the fiddler's contest here at 7 p. m. the 4th of July. Invitations have been sent out by J. C. Estlack, chairman of that section, to all the names that could be had of those who drag a bow.

W. E. Reeves, Bill Walling, Earl Teel of Lakeview, T. E. Clark, Joe David and a lot of others will get into the mad race to show what skill really means.

The prizes will be cash money in amounts of $5, $3 and $2. Those who expect to take a part in the scrimmage, should register as early as possible.

Curtis Douglass to Speak Here July 4th

A notice has been received from the Douglass for Senator Club at Panhandle in which they advise that Hon. Curtis Douglass will be in Clarendon July 4th, and will speak at 9:45 from the courthouse steps.

Mr. Douglass is a candidate for the office of State Senator. The office is now held by Senator Clint Small, who also is making the race for re-election.

President

MRS. C. R. SKINNER

As president of the Friendship club, Mrs. Skinner has demonstrated a leadership in many ways that has meant much to the progress being made by this club. The object of the club being domestic in nature, fine needle work is a favorite in a wide variety. The ladies 'treat' their husbands to an annual dinner which is one of the highlights of the social side of the Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greene and daughter Jeannine and J. M. Mc Spaddin of Quanah, were dinner guests in the home of C. L. Polk and Miss Lucile Sunday. Mr. Polk had not seen Mr. McSpaddin for 14 years.

Leader Travels Half Round the Globe

Speaking of "going places," when Andrew Jay gets through reading the Leader each week, it is sent to his brother, Al Jay at 1671 West 4th Street, Brooklyn. Al passes it on to a sister, Mrs. Elanor Ribner, a near neighbor. From there it is sent to another sister, Mrs. Chas. Eirmann at Englewood, N. J. From there it is frequently sent to relatives in Holland.

Singers To Gather At Sunnyview Sun.

Special Numbers Will Be On Program by Visiting Singers

The Donley County Singing convention will hold a regular monthly session at the Sunnyview schoolhouse next Sunday, the first Sunday in each month is "song day" in Donley county.

The places of gathering is changed each time. Rural schools and churches are given consideration, and meetings have been held in Hedley and Clarendon at times.

The prime movers in the song business are not selfish. Neither are they lacking in talent. Some of the best singers in the state reside in this section. The best part of it is that they give of their talent for the enjoyment of the public.

The public is invited. The program will begin at 2 p. m.

Man Beats Wife---Is Jailed

Arrested near Jericho Saturday, "Bud" Reed was lodged in the local jail in default of a $200 bond on a charge of aggravated assault on his wife. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Arthur Brown of Jericho.

An examination showed Mrs. Reed, mother of four children, to have abrasions on her head, said to have been caused from being struck on the head by her husband's fist while in a drunken frenzy.

A neighbor woman is said to have interceded causing Reed to desist in an attack on his wife and children while allegedly armed with a wrench.

Reed is also being held on an old fine charge of drunkeness at Hedley in 1934, according to Sheriff Pierce.

Liquor Control Man Stops In Clarendon

Two Arrests Made and Some Questionable Places Are Searched

As a result of the visit of a liquor control man here the last of the week, Johnny Campbell plead guilty to possession and paid a fine of $100. Albert "Marble Eye" Boyd, colored, is under a $500 bond to answer to a possession charge. Both arrests were made by Deputy Marion Quisenberry.

Questionable places were searched during the time the liquor control man was here. He expects to make frequent visits to Donley county along with other counties of his district.

In discussing the matter, Sheriff Pierce stated that "there are some things we can't help, but there are others we can.

J. R. Tucker Rites Will Be Held Today

Death Comes Within a Short Time After Well Known Barber is Stricken

The death of Mr. Tucker from an attack of acute indigestion just before five o'clock Tuesday afternoon, came as a shock to friends who had seen him on the street early that morning. Feeling ill, he returned to his home about 8:30, and died as above stated.

Funeral services will be conducted at 6 p. m. today by Rev. Paul J. Smith of Amarillo, Rev. J. Perry King and Rev. E. D. Landreth at the First Christian church.

Active pallbearers will be Frank Whitlock, Ralph Keys, Bert Smith, Odos Caraway, Homer Mulkey and Bryan Parker.

Honorary pallbearers will be W. L. Butler, C. Huffman, G. A. Anderson, J. D. and Y. O. McAdams, O. D. Liesberg, Nat Woods, W. W. Taylor, Loyd Johnson, Frank Johnson, Roy Clampitt, J. E. Teer, S. W. Lowe, R. I. McGowan, J. A. Potts, Merle Lynn, Albert Johnson, T. M. Pyle, M. G. Cottingham, F. A. White, Frank White Jr., Geo. Kemp.

Flower bearers: Edna Thomas, Billie Jo Wilson, Nell Cook, Mary Lois Hayter, Dorothy Kerbow, Ruby and Zoy Fronabarger, Robbie Reed.

Funeral arrangements will be in charge of the Buntin Mortuary, with interment in Citizens cemetery.

James Richard Tucker, born near Jonesboro, Georgia December 14, 1877, came to Texas at the age of 16 with his mother, and settled at Palmer, Ellis county, Texas residing there four years. The home was then moved to Hunt county. In September 7, 1898, he was married to Miss Carrie M. Duggan at Caddo Mills, Texas. To this union, eleven children were born, all of whom are living, and were here for the last funeral rites.

Clarendon first became the family home in 1904 at which time he engaged in the bakery business. A return to Caddo Mills was made within a few years, but Clarendon again was made the family home in 1918 where he had resided since.

He was united with the Christian church at Caddo Mills July 15, 1914, and became a member of the Christian church here in 1918.

He has served in every capacity of the church here since becoming a member. Was Sunday school superintendent for seven years without missing a single Sunday. He has served in the capacity of elder since being united with the church. He was president of the "Come-As-You-Are" Sunday school class also at the time of his death.

Quiet, modest and of a natural friendly turn, Mr. Tucker enjoyed a wide acquaintance of loyal friends who regret his passing.

County School Board Will Meet August 3rd

The County Board of Donley County will meet at ten a. m. Monday August the third in regular session in the District Court Room in Clarendon to approve transfer of pupils, designate school bus routes, make contract with bus drivers and take care of other routine business.

Members of the Board are W. A. Poovey, President; Edwin Baley, W. M. Pickering, Claud Nash and H. T. Burton. County Superintendent Sloan Baker is secretary of the Board.

Donley County Museum

The ladies of the Les Beaux Arts club have made arrangements to keep the Museum open all day Saturday. More than 600 articles have been catalogued. The exhibit has grown to take its place among the foremost museums of the state. No admission will be charged. Should you have a relic, the management would appreciate the gift, or the loan of such article. The Museum is in the basement of the Junior College building.

Merchants to Decorate

Oddities in the form of interesting relics will be shown in the windows of the merchants of Clarendon. Take your time, make the rounds and enjoy it all. Jerome D. Stocking has charge of this feature, and will appreciate the loan of relics and freaks for these exhibits.

Committees have worked faithfully and well to enable the public to enjoy Clarendon's biggest day in her history of 49 years. Not the least of the minor committeemen is O. C. Watson, who has charge of the ice water for the day. He will see that no one goes thirsty, plenty of pure cold water being provided

Part of Donley Receives Rain Monday Night

The rain that came from the west Monday night extending to this side of Ashtola, also covered a portion of the north end of the county.

A half inch is reported at the W. M. Pickering farm, and a quarter to a half across the north end of the county. From Ashtola west, the fall is reported to have been around an inch for several miles.

Special Program at Christian Church July 12th

A group of Amarillo musicians will appear at the First Christian church here Sunday July 12th at 8:15. About 15 members compose the orchestra. Piano and vocal solos and quartets will be on the program.

Among the group of gifted artists are Mrs. W. B. Holland, director, Margaret Harris pianist, Mrs. Powell Smith soloist.

Turkey Lays Freak Eggs In Great Demand

Hon. Tom Messer of McKnight operates a turkey that lays a freak egg, in fact one each day. Judge Penn Johnson of Hedley, hearing of the freakish nature of America's choice bird, hastened to invest. When the eggs hatched out, they were more acquatic than terrefirmas, he says, because, in common parlance, they are simply duck eggs—nothing else but.

GROCERS CHANGE LOCATIONS SOON

Clarendon Food Store Buys Brick Building and Will Remodel to Suit

A number of changes are to be made in the grocery store locations soon according to late information, changes effective August 1st.

The Clarendon Food Store will be moved to the building now occupied by the Farmers Exchange. The owners have purchased the brick building which was owned by Clifford & Ray, and will remodel to suit their business. They will specialize in cream and egg purchases.

Clifford & Ray will move their grocery stock to their newly acquired brick building now occupied by Shelton & Sanford. Some remodeling will be done before the firm moves in which is stated to be August 1st.

Shelton & Sanford have moved to the building next door to the Watson & Antrobus hardware and will carry a more complete stock of groceries than in the former location.

Lelia Lake Chosen Hunter's Paradise

Buffalo Found Fresh Spring Water and Succulent Grass In Time of Drouth

Buffalo hunters of the early 70's knew of the advantages to be found at Barton springs as the Lelia Lake section was then known. Among the hunters was a man by the name of Stanford Barton, a relative by marriage of Mrs. Kate Johnston who has made her home there for many years, and who taught school there long ago.

Barton had ox wagons and was accompanied by a Mexican and an Indian. Because of the watering, and the green grass on the subirrigated land, game of all kinds gathered in and near Lelia Lakes.

Mrs. Johnston (nee Kate Thompson), has a Sharps rifle bearing the date of 1864, and formerly used by Standford Barton. The gun weighs about fourteen pounds, she states.

Barton creek north of the river was named for Standford Barton. It was on Barton creek that one of a party of buffalo hunters was killed in 1874, relates Rev. Emanuel Dubbs in his history of incidents of the Panhandle.

No Trades Day at Hedley July 4th—Saturday

A fine spirit of cooperation is being shown by the business men of Hedley in foregoing their trades day next Saturday that all the folks may come to Clarendon to help celebrate the Pioneer Round-Up.

Clarendon Stores to Remain Open All Day the 4th

In order that all persons may have access to the windows displaying relics, the stores of Clarendon will remain open all day during the Centennial Day and Pioneer Round-Up here July 4th.

Relief Cannery is Again In Operation

Mrs. J. M. Acord has been instructed to operate the local cannery, and the work was going full blast today, Thursday. The plant had been shut down for a few days pending instructions of reopening from headquarters.

FARMING BECOMES MORE BAFFLING.

In times past one has heard the expression that successful farming was a science. It has become even more than that during the past few years. A planting method, for instance, one year may be a total failure the next. Some may plant wheat deep and find his neighbor shy a crop after using the same method. The same could be said of shallow planting this year. So many right now have poor stands of cotton. Farmers state that all methods fail them. It has gotten to a mere matter of 'trust to luck.'

WHY NOT TAX INTER-STATE PRODUCTS?

There may be a better way, but we haven't heard of it yet. Why not hang a meter on the gas and oil lines going outside the state from the Panhandle, and let some one else pay us some tax money instead of allowing other states to get this revenue.

The gas lines are taxed, and the product is taxed in every state from Texas to Detroit or Chicago. It really makes no difference to what point the gas and oil is piped, we need the tax right in Texas.

Some day a sensible bunch of lawmakers will get together and work to the interests of the people of Texas. When that time comes, the gas and oil companies will have to dig up at the state line instead of taking it out of the state free as is done now. A meter will beat all the bookkeeping at the headquarters plant. Let's have the meters.

FIRST SUNDAY SINGINGS.

On the first Sunday in each month, the Donley County Singing convention meets at some rural school, or in a town in the county. The meeting places are changed each month.

Officers of the Convention are elected annually. It is no one man affair. The public is invited each time to take a part. Singers from outside the county are invited, and often do appear on the program.

Often the sessions are held all day. That enables the singers to put in full time, and it permits others to enjoy wholesome neighborly visits. The food may be termed of secondary importance, but it is not. It means a lot toward getting folks together.

The next session will be held the coming Sunday at the Sunnyview school building east of Clarendon. The meeting place cuts little figure because the crowd is made up from over a wide area.

BUY "MADE IN AMERICA" PRODUCTS.

The reader will recall that a few years ago Japan had slipped up on our blind side and flooded the nation with a long list of products that were sold cheaper in our local stores than our own manufacturers could sell them. The products were of an inferior grade made by cheap labor and were sold by local merchants simply because the American buyers demanded cheap products. Take for instance, light globes. Buyers bought them for a song, but they also soon found out that the globes were of varying wattage. Then the Japs began to stamp the "watts" on the globes. No matter what figures they bore, the wattage ran anywhere from 10 to 50. Consequently the consumer of electricity found the bill going up without very much light service. Sales dropped off something great when the test was made.

At this time the writer is in receipt of a letter from F. X. A. Eble, Managing Director of the Made in America Club, Inc. Headquarters in the Graybar Building, New York City. The movement is sponsored by at least 154 corporations whose names appear on the back of the letter. Publishers are asked to run "free" advertising to educate the public to avoid buying foreign made products. The corporations have the money to make the fight or cease to exist. The only place the people are involved is in the fact that our manufacturers use our raw farm products. We need a market at home at a price the farmer can make a profit.

Quality products cannot be sold for a song. Our nation needs to be taught to buy at home, and the manufacturers need to be taught that they must be content with a reasonable profit that the producer may have a share in the distribution of money because it all hinges on the producer of the raw material.

The publishers of the nation have only space to sell. They cannot afford to donate it to every Dick, Tom and Harry simply to pull him out of a rut. Of the 154 corporations represented, not one is what might be termed an advertiser.

Mrs. Ralph Keys and children Mary Nel and Mack returned home Tuesday from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Reasonover and sister, Mrs. Tom Kyger at Kauffman. Mr. Tom Kyger and daughter Julian accompanied them home.

THE DONLEY COUNTY LEADER
CENTENNIAL EDITION

Those who read and compare special editions will just have to pass the orchids to J. C. Estlack and his fine sons for the Centennial edition of the Donley County Leader this week. It is to use the language of the street a "dilly." The edition has 24 pages in three sections, is generously patronized by the advertisers, and is filled with interesting historical information and news stories and features.

That many of the historical articles have more than the usual mark of accuracy can be attributed to Mr. Estlack's long residence in the Panhandle and his intimate knowledge of its history. He was a line rider in the Tascosa section in the early days, a friend of Will Rogers and a real cowpuncher long before he ever took pen in hand and began helping shape the destines of this region.

Congratulations to the Leader. The News is filing the edition for future reference.—Amarillo Daily News.

* * *

The following letter was received from that gifted poetess and writer, Mrs. Blanche Pumphrey, in which she is joined by her husband, Mr. B. F. Pumphrey who are identified with the Amarillo Paper company of Amarillo:

"May I compliment you most heartily on the Centennial Edition of your issue of June 25th? This marvelous edition would give credit to a paper many times in size and circulation to yours, and I am sure that the citizens and your friends in Donley county feel largely as we do—that they are extremely fortunate to have one so capable as their local editor.

"I have read, with a great deal of interest, any number of articles and stories in this particular issue and have greatly enjoyed all of them. If I were to list the numerous articles that impressed me, this letter would require several pages; so I will just conclude by saying that you have a right to be very proud of this Centennial Edition as it is surely complete in every respect and chock full of interesting news, features, attractive advertisements, and last but not least, your great personality."

Then Deskins Wells, editor of the Wellington Leader, he who has gained national renown by bringing down the prize for the best weekly in the Nation, along with numerous lesser prizes and honorable mention:

"I want to extend my sincere congratulations on your recent Centennial Edition. It was a worthy achievement, and I thought that the historical had a great value. The publication of such stories serves a desirable purpose as well as furnishing your readers with interesting material.

"We are reprinting that heart-throb editorial of yours—"Daddy Goes To The Railroad" along with a brief introduction of our own."

* * *

Then from far off Connecticut comes a letter from R. M. Sperry, editor of the Bridgeport Press:

"Your Centennial Edition is filled with that living, breathing human interest so seldom seen in print in this age. We took occasion to enclose it in a special binding, and presented it to the City Library where it has been viewed by hundreds eager to learn of the early history of the Centennial state."

* * *

Then from that sentimental Mississippi poet, Pearl Gayle Dalmont: "While the entire issue is vivid with fire of the ancestral spirit of the old west, your editorials—"Daddy Goes To The Railroad," and "The Autograph Album," more clearly define the talent of one who injects a "song in every syllable, and an anthem in every word."

* * *

In behalf of all those who assisted in producing the Centennial Edition, the management expresses most grateful appreciation for the words of appreciation and encouragement from those who took 'time out' to write. Personal expressions were many and deeply appreciated. The large orders for extra copies has about exhausted the stock. Thanks a lot, folks, thanks a lot.

ALLRED and PENSIONS

Several candidates for Governor Allred's post as Governor have made statements that have some of his friends mixed up a bit. If you listen to some of their speeches it might easily be thought that Allred is against the Old Age Assistance Law, and that he is trying to keep the state from paying it, or that he is trying to cut down the payments.

Allred was the first Governor of Texas to recommend Old Age Assistance legislation to the legislature. After his election he recommended submission of an amendment to the State Constitution that would allow the payment of an Old Age pension. The legislature submitted the amendment to the people and it was adopted.

Allred then called a special session of the 44th Legislature and submitted to it the question of Old Age Assistance. This called session failed to arrive at a satisfactory law that could pass both houses.

Allred, on the next day, called another special session of the Legislature, and this second called session finally passed a law, but not a two-thirds majority.

The Texas law is as liberal as the Federal law will permit in order to comply with the specifications of the National Security Act, the pension, or Assistance is to be given in accordance to need, or on a basis of need.

The whole difficulty, it seems to us, is that Governor Allred is faced with the problem of actually DOING something, or a REALITY. Therefore he encounters real problems that are baffling. He is facing these questions resolutely, and is solving the problems as fast as is humanly possible.

His political opponents have only to TALK ABOUT THEM. And it is easier to talk than it is to DO. It is easier to work out plans on paper than in fact.

"Rome was not built in a day."

Texans do not expect the impossible of a Governor. They are depending upon him to guide the good ship Texas on its course for the remainder of his term of office, and they will re-elect James V. Allred to the Captain's post in the coming election because he has done, and is doing a good job.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

What has become of the old geezer who came to the picnic with his vest front covered with lodge buttons and badges?

Pink Rodgers tells of a mule he owned that held the record for being slow. Once when he had it staked to a stump, the hired hand rode the mule all day before he discovered that it was tied.

One thing about this prairie country, styles never cut in on our personal liberty far enough to make us wear ties, sox or hats. Some of the women wear shorts, but the men folks are trying to maintain that bashful attitude of the pioneer cow hand.

A politician prates the fact that the bath towel and the scren door are a part of our daily existance. The screen door may be, but the statement about the towel just shows how durn dirty politicians really can be.

Bachelor Bill, laid up from rheumatism in a squeaky knee for three months, has found out it was only a cricket that had crawled up his pant leg.

What a lot of difference a little thing can make. Take the "r" out of the word "free", for instance and--well it's anything else but.

Well come on. You have as much right to celebrate the 4th of July as any one.

As a morning bracer, we are advised to take a "dive" into---wheat breakfast food. We have known for some time that it made a desirable salve for a number of ailments, but we never before had thought of substituting the shredded grain for bathing salts. After all, we are just beginning to realize just how dumb Ponce de Leon was in lookfor the fountain of youth, when he might have staid closer home and found it in a grain field.

Motion picture actors have started "mugging" contests to see who can make the ugliest face for a new film that is designed to make us laugh.

The less learned people are, the more willingly they jump up to make public addresses, thinks the editor of Liberty Magazine. He may be right, on second thought--or any thought thereafter.

Distance may lend enchantment, but it doesn't do anything for bean and bread when you are hungry.

Bachelor Bill says he could have held his own had it not been for the public schools in this Panhandle.

Does life really begin at 40, or does it just look that way when you begin to wear glasses?

A bright future some times turns out to be merely a tail light.

Hastoon Yazzies says he's got to the point to where he "ain't fitten for nuthin." In a political argument with a neighbor Saturday, his mule started to bray, and he didn't even slap its mouth shut.

In buying a used house you have one advantage, they can't turn the speedometer back.

The Gainsville community circus, world-wide reputation, has about everything that you will see in a first-class circus. Home talent alone has been used for the past dozen years. The only things that have possibly been overlooked, is the woman who walks like a cow, the dog-faced man, the boy with ears like a baboon, the boy who squirts water out his eyes, etc. But they'll be added by fall.

VISITING WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Of course you are coming in Saturday for the Pioneer Round-Up and Centennial celebration. There will be a lot of excitement, but to the mind of the writer, the best part will be where the old folks get together and talk over old times. The good ladies of the Christian church who are to serve the complimentary dinner to the old folks, have arranged for them to remain in the cool church basement all afternoon, if they wish. Now if any one wants to tear out over to the opera house to the square dance, it will be their glorious privilege to scoot the moment the tingle starts in their toes.

Mr. Patrick will again act as toastmaster. He has a lot of pep for an old man, a lot of history for a busy man, and is a mighty fine fellow or he couldn't have held the same job here 47 years. It is told of him that he wore the same frown the first two years of the depression until he presided at the Pioneer Round-Up here last year. He has worn a smile ever since. There isn't a man in Texas who can beat Mr. Patrick in handling a job like this, and the old folks are plum tickled that he has agreed to get the job done in person. There won't be any lunch at the noon hour. It will be dinner and plenty of it. To talk about "lunch" to an old-timer at the noon hour would be like asking Hilassie's opinion of "Little Dogy." By golly, we still like some of the old-fashioned things, and cooking is one the mainest of the things of the relics of a past civilization when you didn't have to lock your door and bar all your windows just because you started to the sheds to gather in the eggs.

Those who come to the Panhandle more than 50 years ago, will wear a pink ribbon with gold letters. The gold letters signify the golden anniversary. It applies to wedding anniversaries mostly, but it could apply to a cementing of friendships for 50 years just as well. Bless 'em, these old folks have meant a lot to we younger folks in paving the way over hardships and handicaps, and we can't do much to show our appreciation.

There will be plenty of ice water at plenty of places for everybody. O. C. Watson is in charge of this feature. He did a fine job of it last year, and for that reason, he was asked to look after this important part of the affair this year.

Pioneers who came to the Panhandle 40 or more years ago, will be served the free dinner in the besement of the Christian church. When you register with Mr. and Mrs. John T. Sims at the News office, you will receive a card and badge. Present that card ticket at the door of the church as you enter. Admittance may be had only by card, so don't forget it, or lose it. The dinner will be at noon--no waiting. If you want to hear it all, get there a little ahead of time.

Mrs. Kate Thompson-Johnston of Lelia Lake was in a few days ago and gave a bit of history of that section. The old buffalo hunters dug a well that was used by the public as late as 1892. She has a buffalo gun with a bit of history. This she expects to give to the Donley County Museum here, She says, which is the best way to preserve old relics. An article appears in this issue of the Leader relative to her gun.

Among the very best citizens of this section is Charley Murphey, who came here in 1887. He was a cowman for years, and when the ranches were cut up as land got high, Charley became a stock-farmer.

Two of our boys married during the month of June. Phifer the 6th, and Homer the 27th. When I saw Homer begin to wash his neck every day a few months ago, I knew the astute goddess had the boy and gone with him. He changed neckties frequently and cut down on his appetite. His mother thought that he was sick, but the old man just leaned back and let nature take her course. There ain't anything that can be done, and another thing, parents are foolish to fool with young folk's affairs. They bring upon themselves a lot of grief and worry that is not necessary. The ones doing the marrying can attend to the trouble end of the episode. That makes four of them to leave the family nest. Their mother sobs around quite a bit because they are babies yet in her estimation, and she will miss them. The "old man" is in the same boat, but he'll be doggoned if he is going to admit it. Men are like that, you know.

Of the four who got married, three of them married motherless girls. The whole bunch are a fine flock of women, and GW and their Pa just spread out a bit farther and take them under our wings as our very own. The only time the "old man" expects to take a hand in their personal affairs is when one of them gets mean to one of those girls, which they never will. But no boy of mine can be mean to his woman. GW has always ruled the roost in our house, and we get along fine. I once knew a man who even dictated to his wife as to the variety of chickens she kept. Of all the narrow-minded foolishness. I'd be plum tickled if GW didn't keep a one, only she keeps upwards of 500 counting the fryars. I always considered myself lucky that she did not take a notion to specialize in geese. She tried a milk goat for a few years, but boy, howdy! She sure cut loose from the goat business. What that goat could not eat she chewed up and spat out on the porch. She could clean a chothesline of a day's wash and never bat an eye. But this is getting off the subject, going from matrimony to goats, but I hope the boys do not let the girls "get their goat" like their old man, and become henpecked for life. It's a great life if you don't weaken, only the writer 'weakened' early in the game. I feel like Hailie Salassie after they slapped him and took his niggers away from him, only mine happen to be custard pies instead of niggers.

"SOURCE OF DIVISION"

We have already observed that religious division comes from men, in as much at it has no divine sanction. The question naturally arises, How do men cause division? We may learn from the Bible, for even in the days of its compiliation men were causing division among the churches in several different places

First of all, men cause division by feeling false teachers-(2 Pet. 2:1, 2 Secondly, it comes as a result of men departing from THE FAITH—(I Tim. 4:1) Thirdly, it is caused by preaching a perverted gospel—(Gal. 1:6, 7) If you will read these references you can see that men are not to bend the gospel to fit their wills, but their wills to fit the Gospel. Man hasn't any right to change one iota of the Gospel of God. Even angels who so do are damned. "And though I or an angel from heaven preach any other gospel unto you than which was preached let him be accursed" (Gal. 1:8)

Let us here inspect a few warnings and admonitions relative to the question under consideration. Paul explicitly says—(I Cor. 1:10) "I beseech ye therefore brethern that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no division among you". And from a wise sage of antiquity comes this warning (Prov. 14:12) "There is a way that seemeth right unto man, but the end thereof are the ways of death." Not every way that seems right can be the right way. Isaiah said there would be one way—(Isa. 35:8) Jesus declared there would be one way to heaven—(Matt. 7:13, 14) But we continue with God's warnings. "But in vain do they worship me teachings as their doctrines the commandments of men" (Matt. 15:9) "Handle not, taste not, nor touch (all which things are to perish with the using), after the precepts and doctrines of men" (Col. 1:22, 23) "If the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the pit" (Matt. 15:14) It is possible to believe a lie to the damnation of ones soul. "And with all deceit of unrighteousness to them that perish, because they received not a love for the truth, and for this cause God sendeth a strong delusion that they might bebieve a lie and might all be damned, who had no love for the truth" (2 These. 2:10, 12)

Air Thrills Form Theme of New Movie

Romance, intrigue and excitement aloft are the themes of "Thirteen Hours By Air," the new Paramount drama which opens Wednesday at the Pastime Theatre.

Fred MacMurray and Joan Bennett play the leading roles in the film, with ZaSu Pitts, John Howard, Bennie Bartlett, Grace Bradley, Alan Baxter, Brian Donlevy, Ruth Donnelly and Fred Keating heading the supporting cast. It's based on a magazine serial by Bogart Rogers.

Filmed in the sky and at regular transcontinental airports through the cooperation of United Air Lines, "Thirteen Hours By Air" is authentic in every detail. It's the story of a New York-San Francisco flight in a transport plane piloted by MacMurray and Howard. Among the passengers are pretty Miss Bennett, who says she is a prominent socialite, but who MacMurray suspects is involved in a big jewel robbery; a nine-year-old heir to millions and his distracted governess, played respectively by Bennie Bartlett and ZaSu Pitts; and three suspicious-looking male passengers.

As the plane roars across the continent, there is an attempted killing, an attempt to crash the ship, and a number of other dramatic incidents. How the plot is finally untangled brings the film to a dramtic climax.

Mitchell Leisen directed the production.

THIS TIRE Doubles Safe Mileage

Double your safe tire mileage by putting Seiberling two-tread Air-Cooled tires on your car today.

DANGER Point becomes SAFETY Point

The danger point in ordinary tires becomes the safety point in Two-Tread Seiberlings.

When the first tread design wears off, a new tread appears as if by magic with new hard-gripping tread cleats.

These tires are safe—not just for the first few thousand miles but as long as the tires are on your car.

Bring your car up to date with 1935 Tires

When you re-tire your car insist on the new 1935 Two-Tread Air-Cooled tire. There is no other tire on the market as good from the standpoint of mileage, safety and traction.

PATRICK—MARSH NUPTIALS

The wedding of Miss Lorraine Bugbee Patrick and Mr. Victor Burton Marsh was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Sunday evening, June 28, at the St. John's Episcopal Church of Clarendon. Bishop E. Cecil Seaman of Amarillo officiated at the ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. Newton C. Smith.

The bridal party entered to the strains of "Hearts and Flowers" played on the organ by Mrs. Mike McAnerny of Oklahoma City. The church was beautifully decorated with pink and blue as the color keynote. Pale pink snapdragons were used on the altar and tall baskets of pink gladiola, bluebells, and fern were placed on either side.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was a picture of loveliness in a pink lace gown, simply cut, with a beautifully draped, full, floor-length skirt. With the gown she wore a cape of pink lace. Her hat was of ice blue straw with a broad brim, trimmed with chiffon bluebells and she wore evening sandals of pink satin. The bridal bouquet was of pink rosebuds, bluebells and baby's breath.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John O. Maberry of Oklahoma City, sang "Because" before the ceremony. Mrs. Maberry wore a flowered chiffon frock in pastel shades, with white accessories. Her flowers were also pink roses, bluebells, and baby's breath.

The groom was attended by his father, O. M. Marsh as best man, and Mr. P. B. Gentry of Clarendon acted as usher.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the church services. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Marsh, parents of the bride and groom. A white organdy gown was worn by the bride's mother and Mrs. Marsh's gown was of dusty pink georgette crepe. Both Mrs. Patrick and Mrs. Marsh wore corsages of white gardenias.

The flowers used in decorating the home were of the same variety and colors as those used in the church. The dining table was covered with a lace cloth and crystal and silver appointments were used. The centerpiece was of pink roses in a crystal vase and four tall pink tapers in crystal holders. The unusual tiered white wedding cake drew exclamations of appreciation from all those present before it was cut by the bride. With the punch and cake, pale yellow ice cream in the shape of roses was served.

Mrs. Wesley Knorpp and Mrs. Allen Jefferies presided at the punch bowl and the cake was served by Mrs. Carroll Knorpp, Mrs. Bill Carroll, and Miss Lillian Murphy. Miss Mary Cooke presided at the bride's book.

Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Marsh left on a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home at the Chandler Hotel, Chandler, Oklahoma. Mrs. Marsh's going away suit was of navy blue triple sheer and her accessories were blue and white.

Mrs. Marsh is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patrick, who are prominent in the social and civic life of Clarendon. Mr. Patrick is president of the First National Bank of Clarendon. Mrs. Marsh is the granddaughter of the late T. S. Bugbee, Panhandle pioneer. She graduated from the Clarendon High School and Clarendon College, and attended Southern Methodist University at Dallas, and is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. She spent a year with the Universal Production Corporation of Fairview, Iowa, and since January has been connected with the credit department of Neiman Marcus in Dallas. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Marsh of Sayre, Oklahoma. Mr. O. M. Marsh is the president of the Beckham County National Bank.

The groom attended Phillips University of Enid, Oklahoma, and received his degree as petroleum engineer from the University of Oklahoma. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity. He is now connected with the Stanolin Oil Corporation, Chandler, Oklahoma.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Marsh of Sayre, Oklahoma, Mrs. Jack Rayner and son, John Marsh of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Ed Meek of Dallas, Mrs. John O. Maberry of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Mike Mc Anerny of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Ida McMurtry of Amarillo, Mrs. H. G. Officer and Thos. B. Officer of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Davis of Amarillo, Bishop E. C. Seaman of Amarillo, Rev. and Mrs. Newton Smith of Quanah, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Knorpp of Long Beach, California, Mrs. Wesley Knorpp of Long Beach, California, Miss Mary I. Bugbee of Long Beach, California, and Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Payne of Turkey.

GOFORTH—THOMAS

Mr. William B. Thomas and Miss Lorene Goforth were united in marriage at 10 o'clock Friday morning, June 25. W. Wallace Layton, minister of the Church of Christ, read the marriage vows and the ceremony was performed at the home of the groom.

Mrs. Thomas is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Goforth of Erick, Oklahoma.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Thomas of Clarendon. He is well known here, his father having been in business in Donley county for several years.

There were present at the ceremony, the mother of the bride, Mrs. W. A. Goforth, also Mrs. W. Hammons and daughter Opal, Mrs. Sullivan Cooper all of Erick. Relatives of the groom were also present.

The young couple will be at home in Clarendon.

RECEPTION HONORS MRS. FRANK WHITE

Mrs. Frank White, Jr., formerly Miss Dorothy Blanton of Amarillo, was honored at a lovely reception given by Mrs. Lloyd Benson, Miss Dorothy White and Mrs. Frank White, Sr., Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Benson.

The home was beautifully decorated with pink roses, blue delphinium and snapdragon. Punch was served from a table covered with an heirloom lace cloth.

In the receiving line were: Mesdames Frank White, Sr., Frank White, Jr., Mary K. Blanton of Amarillo, Lloyd Benson, John Oakes of Amarillo, and Miss White.

Miss Jessie Ingram entertained with several readings.

Those who signed the guest book were: Mesdames Carroll Knorpp, C. L. Benson, Harold Bugbee, B. F. Kirtley, John Knorpp, Simmons Powell, Floyd Lumpkin, Urbin Boston, Houston Bell, Bob Webster, James Edward Teer, Keith Stegall, George Norwood, Bill Carroll, Dude Gentry, Otto Beach, Fred Williams, Seldon Bagby, Frank White, Sr., Lloyd Benson, Frank White, Jr., Mary K. Blanton, F. P. Miller and John E. Oakes.

Misses Anna Moore, Lotta Bourland, Jessie Ingram, Rhoda Wiedman, Herloise Burrell, Katherine Cole, Lillian Murphy, Eunice Griggs, Nettie Sims, Ruth Tucker, and Naomi Allison.

JOHNNY JOHNSON HAS BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Johnny Johnson entertained with a birthday party in honor of her daughter Johnnie Lorene Tuesday afternoon. Games were played and gifts opened and admired. A large birthday cake with nine pink candles was a special feature of the entertainment.

The candles were blown by the honored little lady, then the cake was cut and served with punch to Cora Lee Muse, Bettie Jo Bain, Vernell McKee, Martha Jane Wright, June Atteberry, Jurene Lasater and Johnnie Lorene Johnson.

LAS TRES MESAS ENJOY PICNIC

The Las Tres Mesas Club enjoyed a call meeting in the form of a picnic at the Lelia Lake school Saturday evening. The business of the evening was the election of some new members to replace the couples who resigned.

The members to enjoy this bounteous feast and thorough good time were Messrs. and Mesdames John Naylor, Edwin Eanes, Eugene Estlack and daughter Rochelle and Royce Hall and daughter, Wanda Joyce.

JOE WORD ENTERTAINS WITH WAFFLE BREAKFAST

Ethel Wilder of Pampa was complimented when Joe Word was hostess to a waffle breakfast at her home Wednesday morning.

Those present were Ethel Wilder of Pampa, honoree, Jean Teat, Dorothy Kerbow, Ethlyn Drennan, Lucile Hollers, Joe Ann Thompson, Phoebe Ann Buntin and Louise Tucker and Joe Word.

S. S. CLASS HAS MOONLIGHT SUPPER

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell escorted the Rosalyn Bass Sunday school class to the river Tuesday night for a moonlight supper. The gay group played on the white sands and ran races.

Those to enjoy this delightful outing of youngsters were Louise Russell, Lettie Wardlow, Jean Meadows, Ruth Blackman, Ruby Blackman, Yvonne Smith, Mary Lee Lawson, Dorothy Rhodes, Sarah Virginia McGowen and Rosalyn Bass.

DRENNAN-ESTLACK

Rev. E. D. Landreth united Miss Athlyn Drennan and A. Homer Estlack in marriage in a beautiful ring ceremony at the Methodist church at 8 p. m. Saturday.

The marriage was a surprise affair with only Homer, Athlyn, Harold Hams and George Wayne Estlack present, and culminated a schoolday sweetheart period of some years.

The bride is a daughter of J. C. Drennan, formerly an Ashtola merchant, but who has purchased a business near Vernon. She graduated from the Clarendon High school this term.

The bridegroom began in the kindergarten of Mrs. J. A. McKillop in Clarendon and completed the school course through Clarendon College. He grew up in the Donley County Leader plant and has had charge of the advertising and financial department for the past two years.

After a short wedding tour, they will be at home near Vernon where they will be identified with the business of Mr. Drennan.

NEW DEAL CARD CLUB

A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed when Ethlyn Drennan entertained the members and guests of her Club at her home Thursday afternoon. Games of bridge were played. Jane Kerbow received prize for high score and Joe Word received prize for low.

Lovely refrshments were served to Phoebe Ann Buntin, Maxine Ellis, Dorothy Kerbow, Jean Mc Donald, Joe Ann Thompson, Joe Word, Jane Kerbow, Edith Shelton, Louise Tucker and guest, Ethel Wilder of Pampa, Joe Ann Lewis of Dallas, Lucile Hollers of Frederick, Okla., Martine Barnett of Ardmore.

THE PATHFINDER STORY HOUR

A nice crowd of children ranging in age from 4 to 12 years gathered on the front steps of Clarendon College Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock to enjoy stories and play games. Mrs. W. C. Stewart told animal stories in her usual charming manner. The children showed unusual delight and appreciation.

Mrs. A. T. Cole directed play on the lawn in front of the College.

The story hour is held every Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock in front of Clarendon College and all children of the community are invited to be guests of The Pathfinder Club at that time.

KILL KARE KNEEDLE KLUB

Mrs. Cap Lane entertained the needle club at her home Thursday afternoon. A very pleasant afternoon was spent in fancy needle work and visiting.

In the late afternoon, Mrs. Lane served a lovely salad plate to guests, Mrs. Vada King Ballenger, Mrs. Garland Reeves and Mrs. A. W. Simpson; Club members Mesdames Joe Cluck, W. H. Brumley, J. R. Bartlett, J. Perry King, W. A. Land, Sam Lowe, E. M. Ozier, Homer Mulkey, Henry Williams, Buel Sanford, W. B. Sims, Glen Rieger and hostess, Mrs. Lane.

The club will meet with Mrs. E. M. Ozier July 9th.

Douglass Demands Legislators Tell Source of Income

Candidate for Senator Says Small Voice of Chain Stores

Panhandle, Texas, July 2—Launching a bitter attack on members of the State Senate who refused to divulge the sources of private income, Curtis Douglass of Panhandle, candidate for Senator for the 31st senatorial district, in his addresses this week, promised that if elected to the State Senate he would not accept retainers from corporate interests and would vote for a resolution calling for such information from members of the senate and house of represenatives.

He showed the audiences a list of clients of Senator Clint Small and asserted that Senator Small was attorney for various big oil and gas companies, saying, "Senator Small said in his opening speech at Spearman that he had never received as much as $500.00 from corporations. If that is true, he has been working mighty cheap, because the record shows that he has been representing the Humble Oil and Refining Company, Phillips Petroleum Company, Smith Brothers Refining Company, the Cargray Corporation and many others. I promise you that if I am elected to your State Senate, my allegiance will be undivided and I will not use my public office for private gain."

Douglass pledged himself to a prompt payment of old age pensions, promised to vote for economy in state expense and pledged himself to a tax program based on the capacity of the tax payer to pay.

Criticising Senator Small's vote on the Chain Store Bill, Douglass said that Small was "The mouthpiece of the Wall Street chain store operators, and when the bill finally passed taxing the chains, Senator Small was so outraged he burst into tears."

Douglass said that if elected he would vote to retain the chain store tax measure and pledged his allegiance to the independent home owned merchant as against the foreign owned chain store, saying, "If we do not curb the chain stores, we will, in the language of President Roosevelt, 'cease to be home owners and become a nation of boarding-house inmates.' Our whole social structure depends upon the ability and opportunity of the individual to do something for himself."

Speeds Pay Visit To Dust Bowl Area

People Continue to Expend Energy With Undying Faith in Country

That undying loyalty to purpose is never to die. The home instinct is yet strong in the "dust bowl" area of Oklahoma according to Chas. G. Speed, who, accompanied by Mrs. Speed, paid a visit to Boise City, Oklahoma and vicinity over the week end where they have relatives.

"Lots of people have given up and gone," Mr. Speed says, "but a lot of them are still carrying on, and some have good crops where too much of the top soil has not blown away."

They saw tractors tearing up fields into oceans of clods that looked like concrete slabs. This was being done to stop blowing of the soil, and to create a rough surface to catch drifting soil to be used in rebuilding the fields and pastures.

Some parts of that section are still dry, Mr. Speed says, but some fields have had enough moisture to plant on, and the field crops are looking fine. At least a few farmers used methods that prevented soil erosion from wind, he states, and these fields are yet in good shape.

Since the soil is removed, Indian trophies are found in large numbers. Mr. Speed found a number of arrow points, some of which are metal, presumably traded to the Indians by early Spanish explorers. Some pottery is also found. So numerous have been the relic seekers that very little is left on the exposed soil.

Old Donley looks mighty good after one has been up in that section. "How does that Dalhart country look?", he was asked. "Well sir, they are greening up right along and have some good crops, but the soil erosion projects appear to be a joke," Mr. Speed states after giving it a careful scrutiny.

Give Child Chance To Enjoy Summer

Austin, June 30.—Schools are closed for the summer all over the State, and citizens interested in the welfare of the future generations are confronted with the fact that a vast amount of energy and ability may go to waste if skill and patience are not employed in directing growing children in this play time season, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"The civic, moral and educational value of developing the natural talents of each child," Dr. Brown said, "has a far-reaching influence on the health, knowledge, and character of the future men and women of this State. The child need not be directed in each little act that he performs. Let the summer vacation season be the time when the child has a chance to develop his own individuality. Many an artist, statesman, or competent executive has come from humble surroundings. But looking back of this, we probably will find that this outstanding individual had a chance to develop his natural talent.

"It has been observed that children grow faster during the summer months than at any other time. This is explainable, perhaps, because it is then that they are out in the sunshine and fresh air. Good health is essential to physical and mental growth. The prime factors of good health are care of the body, nourishing food of the right kind, regular habits, sufficient sleep, rest and play, and a happy state of mind.

"Of course, where the child lives and under what conditions, means a great deal as to the type of recreation he will find during the summer. The city child will look forward to trips to the country or hours spent in the play grounds and swimming pools. The child living in the country will have many things to do that will keep him in the sunshine most of the time.

"Let us all work toward the end that each child may feel at the end of summer that he has worked out some of his own ideas and dreams, and still developed his physical and mental capacities during these few months of play."

College Station—When the Federal Government's new business with farmers came into the State of Texas four months ago, action and speed became the keynotes of the agricultural centers at the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

The two-wing building, shown in the upper left, was built by the A&M College in which to house the 325 trained workers of the General Auditing and General Accounting divisions. It has 18,820 square feet of floor space.

The brick building, on the campus of A&M College, shown upper right, with a floor space of 4,000 square feet, was rapidly turned into the Disbursing Office, a branch of the U. S. Treasury with a personnel of 83 who are busy writing checks for the Texas farmers participating in the various agricultural programs.

Lower left to right—Here are the 325 men and women carrying on the auditing and accounting work of clearing the remaining old AAA contracts, the checking and certifying of the Cotton Price Adjustment Program applications and the working out of the details of the Agricultural Conservation Program with its more than 300,000 farmer cooperators.

A majority of the work of these divisions, during the last few months, has been on the Cotton Price Adjustment Program. An average of 4,000 Cotton Price Adjustment applications per day are being certified for payment, amounting in number up to date to 186,082 and totaling $6,880,503.28.

Lower middle—The State Agricultural Conservation Committee holding its first meeting at A&M College to plan for the tabulation of the work sheets of the 300,000 farmers who have indicated their intention to cooperate in the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program.

CATHEDRAL OF THE SOUL

I've a little place of yearning;
Just a little hall of fame,
It's a place I'm oft returning,
To inscribe another name.
There I keep my list of friendships
Some, I offtimes must remove
Pleasures framed in work and hardship,
Every memory has its groove.

Here I keep my rarest treasures
Nothing enters that is bad
Although with my sweetest pleasures,
By their side is something sad.
Life is hard where ere one finds it,
And yet, in my hall of fame
There are none there who would mind it,
None who would not play the game.

In this secret, hidden fortress;
You have guessed it from the start,
I am King—with none to witness
Uncrowned ruler of my heart.

Marvin Jones, Joe Eagle Voted Against

Jones Wants Congressman Job Again and Eagle Wants U. S. Senate Job

May 20, 1936.

Dear Friends:

I am sorry to have to report that the Frazier-Lemke farm refinance bill was defeated on the final vote in the House of Representatives the afternoon of May 13th. Two days before this, the House had voted to bring the bill up for consideration, 220 to 153.

In the time that elapsed between the votes, every possible kind of pressure was brought to bear on the supporters of the bill to make them change their votes. A letter was obtained from President Green of the American Federation of Labor that the bill was against the interests of Labor as it would raise the price of farm products. However, I do not believe that he expressed the views of the rank and file of Labor as in the past the Farm Congressmen have been the strongest supporters of Labor legislation, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen supported us in our fight.

If your Congressman voted against the bill and you are satisfied with his vote, or his excuses, that is your affair. If, however, you do not agree, ask him, when he appears requesting your support in the coming election, how he can countenance the Government letting the bankers have money at the average cost of only 30c per thousand dollars (cost of printing), and yet refuse to let the farmers have money at 3c on a dollar or $30 per thousand. Ask him why the bankers can obtain money at 30c a thousand on security of "notes, drafts, bills of exchange or acceptances" and yet the farmer was refused money at $30 a thousand with their farms and homes as security.

Your Congressman is your hired man sent to Washington to represent you. If he did not do so, it is your privilege and duty in the coming election to change your Representative. Do not be satisfied with defeating the one now in Congress. Put up and elect a person who will support the program for which you stand.

Do not confuse the above bill with the Frazier-Lemke farm moratorium amendment to the Bankruptacy Act, which is now a law and still in force in most of the States although it has been held invalid by some of the Federal Supreme Court for decision until some time next winter.

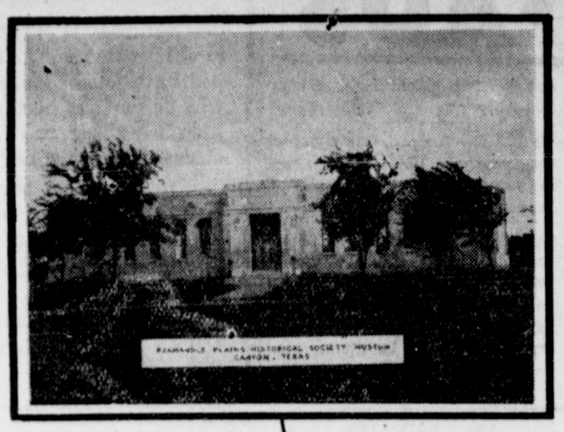

With best wishes, I am

Yours truly,

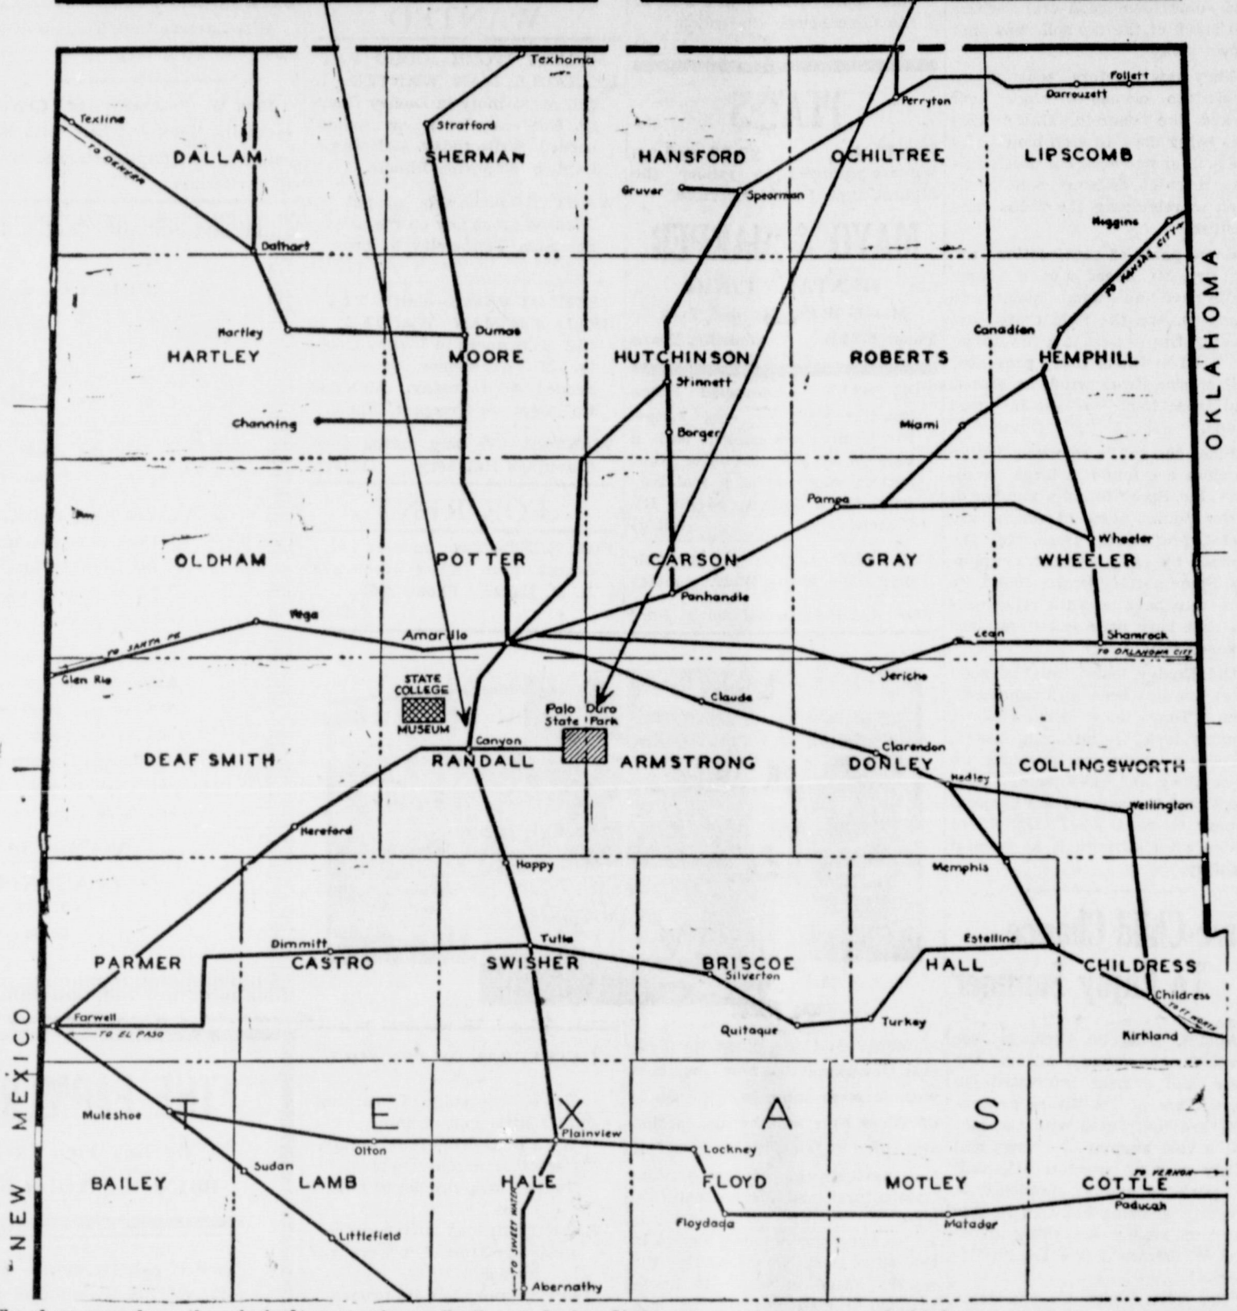

LYNN FRAZIER.

TEXAS PANHANDLE OFFERS UNUSUAL CENTENNIAL ATTRACTIONS!

The above map shows the principal state and national highways in Northwest Texas and how they lead to Canyon, Texas, where the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum is located on the campus of the State College. Nearby is the colorful Palo Duro State Park. In the museum, photographed above, is one of the largest and most unique collections to be found anywhere in the Southwest. The historical display consists of paleontological, archaeological and mineral collections, Indian relics and artifacts, cowboy paraphernalia, tools and utensils of early Plains settlers and a large variety of miscellaneous materials. More than 100,000 people have visited the museum since it was opened to the public in 1933. Located as it is on or near all of the state and national highways in Northwest Texas, it is expected to become the mecca for the thousands of Centennial visitors to West Texas this year. The museum is connected with the Palo Duro State Park, upper right, by a twelve-mile paved highway known as the Goodnight Trail. Preparations are being made now for many special visitors to these two outstanding Centennial attractions in West Texas. During the Centennial celebration the museum will be open daily. There is no admission charge.

Artists in Summer School Palo Duro State Park

Canyon, Texas, June 30.—The Palo Duro School of Art, encamped in the State Park near here recently formed itself into a club of 30 members under the name, Palo Duro Art Club.

The organization took place at the Palo Duro ranch home of Amy Jackson, artist, where the School had assembled for a special visit.

Hester Gates, Canyon, was elected president with T. M. Moore, Canyon, vice president; Mrs. Ira Cochran Young, Borger, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Cecil Foster, Sudan, historian.

The Club agreed to have one indoor meeting annually, an outdoor summer colony each year in the Canyons, and an exhibit of work once a year in the Mary E. Hudspeth Room of Pioneer Hall, Historical Museum at Canyon.

A. W. Mack, artist of San Antonio, recently joined the Palo Duro Art Colony for a three weeks stay, to do painting and lecturing before the group.

Harold Bugbee of Clarendon will join the group of artists later in the summer for a similar length of time.

E. O. Thompson Gives Views On Important Issues

The stable condition of the oil industry and the stopping of waste of Texas oil and gas resources were cited by Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Railroad Commission, as proof of the wisdom of the commission's oil conservation policies.

Pointing out the huge amount oil pays in Taxes for support of Texas schools and other branches of the government, Thompson has strongly urged the conservation of Texas' oil resources and the prevention of waste of petroleum.

The permanent school fund of the state, he pointed out, has grown to $100,000,000 from oil revenues.

"It is only necessary that you be interested in the education of Texas school children to be interested in oil," Thompson declared in a recent address. "In the hands of our youngsters soon will rest the future of our state. Theirs is to be the torch. Oil today is paying a very large portion of the money that is necessary in maintaining our schools, and it is most important that this oil not be wasted and jeoparize the future of our schools."

Oil pays $37,500,000 of Texas' annual $150,000,000 tax bill, and it is under the railroad commission that the oil regulatory laws are administered.

Thompson cited the huge losses suffered by the state from the indiscriminate use and lack of conservation of soil and forestlands, but reminded citizens of the state that unlike soil and forests, which can be rebuilt and replanted, oil, once taken from the ground, can not be replaced by man.

Before scientific methods of oil production were discovered, vast quantities of oil were left in the ground because petroleum was taken out in a rapid wasteful manner.

The commission, he pointed out, has found that the best way to recover the maximum amount of oil from the sands and prevent physical waste is to take it out no faster than the gas or water, which create the pressure to force it from the ground, can refill the voids left by removal of the oil.

Since the railroad commission's conservation policies have been put into effect in East Texas, estimates of the ultimate recovery from the field have grown from two billion barrels to four billion barrels.

"This," said Thompson, "is 100 per cent return upon the investment of conservation."

Thompson's strong advocacy of and successful efforts for conservation of oil resources have gained him widespread support over the entire state, and friends from all quarters confidently have predicted his re-election to office this year by a large majority.

Handling Traffic Is Easy At Centennial

Dallas, Texas, June 30.—Parking rates from five cents an hour to 25 cents a day, tourist caravan camping spots from nothing a day up and regulation tourist camps from $1.50 a night up for a couple. That's what the tourist to Texas finds and with the $25,000,000 Texas Centennial Exposition on in full swing, the travel trend is to the Lone Star State.

The thousands of motorists coming here for the first World's Fair of the Southwest are experiencing no difficulty in finding quarters for themselves and their cars. In addition to an abundance of garages, there are many parking lots in the immediate vicinity of the 200-acre exposition inclosure. All-day parking fees range from 10 cents to 25 cents and motorists are taking advantage of these low rates in great numbers.

Tourist camps for the "tin-can" caravans have sprung up like villages on the outskirts of Dallas to take care of Centennial Exposition visitors. Most of these are thoroughly modern in design and equipment, supplying running hot and cold water, private bathrooms with showers and really comfortable accomodations in hygenic surroundings. Many of the camps have electrical facilities for those who prefer to live in their trailers.

Although Dallas is crowded with motorists from throughout the nation, traffic is being handled with a minimum of new and special regulations. A few streets in the Centennial Exposition area have been made one-way thoroughfares, but the three-light system, the amber caution light accompanied by the ringing of a bell has served to keep traffic moving without need of much assistance from traffic officers.

In the Dallas business district, visitors have found the parking meters of great convenience. For five cents an hour motorists get undisturbed possession of a parking space near all hotels and shops, without necessity of traveling for blocks to locate an open spot.

Officials from various American cities always seek information regarding the success of the parking meter system. Dallas is second large city to install the system. Tulsa, Oklahoma, where the parking meter was invented by Carl C. Magee, militant news paper editor, was the first city to put parking meters in its business district. Many other cities have followed suit.

Dallas officials declare the system is a success, both financially and from the standpoint of regulating traffic. The meters are on iron-pipe standards, about four feet high. When a motorist parks in the space marked off within proper range of the meter, he inserts a five cent piece and a green light signifies that the space is reserved for an hour. At the end of the hour, the meter light goes red and a police ticket charging overparking is placed on the car unless another five cent piece is inserted.

The meters are declared by officials to have paid for themselves within the first two months of operation.

We are glad that the Revival season is here again. Revival days are happy days for the Christian. David prayed that God would restore unto him the joy of salvation, so that sinners might be converted and transgressors taught the ways of God. A genuine revival is to a community and Christianity what refreshing rain is to withering crops. Let us all join in the prayer of the Psalmist, "Wilt thou not revive us again; that thy people may rejoice in thee?" We feel sure that the meeting that will be in progress for the next two weeks under the direction of pastor E. D. Landreth, and the First Methodist Church will be a blessing to our town and community. This meeting is being held in the interest of those who are lost and need a Savior. Surely every Christian is sufficiently interested to the extent that they want their friends rightly related to God.

The First Baptist Church will join in the open air meeting Sunday evening, otherwise the regular services will be held at the church.

Old-Age Pension Checks To Be In Mails On July 1

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

Of the 35,000 On Rolls On July 1st, Most Needy Will Be Paid First

On July 1st, around 10,000 Old Age Assistance checks will be in the mails going to the most needy. Checks at the same rate will be mailed out daily until the approved list of names is exhausted, Director O. S. Carpenter stated at the head office of the Old Age Assistance commission in Austin Tuesday.

Many who are eligible will not receive any money on July 1. A start will be made, however, on the deadline fixed by the legislature and the needy persons whose petitions for aid are pending on that date will receive payments retroactive to July 1 after their applications have been approved.

Orville S. Carpenter, director of the Old Age Assistance commission, estimated today that 35,000 to 40,000 persons would be on the pension rolls by July 1. Forces here and in the 20 district offices are working night and day in an effort to clear as many applications as possible before that date. Approximately 30,000 additional applicants will be found eligible with completion of investigations, Carpenter believes.

Investigations Thorough.

"I am not ashamed of our record so far," Carpenter said. "It was impossible to make a careful examination of each application and at the same time complete all investigations by July 1. I believe the people of Texas approve our policy of investigating thoroughly to determine which of the applicants are in need and the extent of that need.

"We have been giving prior consideration to those who appear to need aid the worst. Of the 28,900 applicants approved through yesterday, at least 90 per cent were on relief. We regret that some of the old people will be a few weeks late in getting their pensions but they will receive as much money as though their applications already had been approved."

While Carpenter estimated that the number of Texans eligible for pensions was around 65,000 about 35 percent of the applications, he admitted that later reports of investigators might revise the estimate upward. Thus far, approvals have outnumbered rejections about three to one but Carpenter attributed that to the fact that the organization was considering the neediest applicants first.

Some of those on the rolls will receive only a few dollars each month while others will receive the $30 maximum. Carpenter said that since June 1 the organization had been sending out notices telling each applicant what he would receive and that so far none of them had complained.

Children Don't Matter.

Some persons will not be given the $30 maximum even though they have no income and no property because the investigator decided that amount of cash was not necessary to meet their living expenses, the director explained.

Carpenter stated that the Texas old age assistance law was the most liberal in the nation and that "under it, we likely will pay old age assistance to more people than any other state." He pointed out that the Texas statute did not permit refusal of applicaions on grounds that sons or daughters were able to support the applicants.

TEXAS DONKEY THROWN OUT OF GARNER OFFICE

Clarendon Man Rides Mule To Phillie Convention

By Eddie Gilmore

Philadelphia, June 25.—Col. Arthur Lee Yowell's donkey that he rode all the way from Texas got thrown out of Vice-President Garner's headquarters today.

As a fitting climax to the two months' journey from Clarendon, Texas, Col. Yowell thought it would be appropriate to enter the Garner suite astraddle the living model of the Democratic mascot.

He started into the hotel but did not get as far as the lobby before uniformed help blockaded his path.

"You can't bring that horse in here," said a bell captain.

"Who's got a horse?" asked the colonel.

"Well, whatever it is, you can't bring it in here unless you get permission."

Leaving the reins with a fellow Texan, Col. Yowell edged thru the mass of delegates to the manager's office and finally received permission.

After receiving a round of applause in the lobby, the colonel got the animal up the broad marble stairs to the floor which houses the Democratic national committee.

While Texans whooped up he rode into the Garner headquarters.

First the donkey made for a vase of flowers. The ladies screamed. Then he began to paw the deep carpet and generally misbehave.

"Get him out of here," someone yelled.

Bell boys and chamber maids who had been standing by nervously rushed up and escorted the colonel and his mount out of the headquarters, down the steps and into the street.

"You just can't tell about animals," sighed the colonel.

Clarendon Student Goes To West Point

No Entrance Examination To Be Required of Clarendon College Honor Student

Sam Hardy Barrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Allensworth of this city, left Sunday to enter the United States Military Academy at West Point. He received his appointment through Congressman Marvin Jones some time ago.

Young Barrow, a graduate of Clarendon High School, was an honor student the past term in his first year in Clarendon College.

He plans to spend some time viewing interesting sights at Washington and New York City before settling down to his years of close study that will be required of him in Uncle Sam's greatest military training school.

Cagle Boys Get Together Here Over Week End

"We had a mighty fine visit talking over old times beginning with the old home in Georgia in our boyhood and coming right down the line," W. P. Cagle stated Monday. His brother, H. I. Cagle of Quail came over for a few days to 'rest a spell' and catch up on conversation.

Mr. Cagle has been a county commissioner in Collingsworth county since "Heck" was a pup, and is a stronger candidate this time for re-election. He is one of the real pioneers of that section.

SENATOR SMALL'S RECORD IS BARED

Pampa Attorney Speaks For Curtis Douglass Here Saturday

A large crowd was present at 5 p. m. Saturday to hear former district Judge N. P. Willis speak in behalf of the candidacy of Curtis Douglass of Panhandle, candidate for the office of state senator to succeed Senator Clint C. Small.

In beginning his talk, Judge Willis gave the family and official record of Douglass. Douglass was formerly district attorney of the Borger district, being appointed by Gov. Dan Moody when the oil boom was at its height there.

"Curtis Douglass is a tee-totaler and a man of out-standing character," the speaker announced in citing the qualifications of the man whose cause he championed.

Later, the speaker took up the record of Senator Small, showing by court records, private letters, etc. his close connection with the large oil corporations. The speaker stated to his hearers that Senator Small represented large oil corporations apparently while he was drawing money from the state as a senator, and was supposed to be helping pass laws to govern the large corporations.

He cited an instance where a bill was introduced into the state senate that would have required a senator to file an affidavit as to what corporations he was representing while helping to pass laws. He showed by senator records that Senator Small voted against requiring senators to publicly acknowledge their connections with large corporations.

The speaker was given a careful hearing throughout his talk of plain every day language so that he might not be misunderstood. He used a loud speaker and spoke on the street near the M System grocery. His next talk was made the same evening at Hedley where it is said he got a big hand.

Museum Collection Enriched By Donors

Priceless Heirlooms Added To Collection Through Gifts Local People

Few things carry one back to old ranch days more than branding irons. In this respect the Museum has a rich collection that is rapidly growing. Only recently, such gifts were received from A. R. Letts, Chas. Bairfield, Allan Jeffries and the JA Ranch.

Other gifts received the past few days include an old-time cake basket from Mrs. T. W. Welch; volcanic lava given by Mrs. T. Jones; sewing machine over a hundred years old loaned by Mrs. Cap Lane.

Fred W. Rathjen has loaned an organ whose age extends into the dim past. S. B. Kutch caps the climax with an ox bow, used in Parker county more than 70 years ago. Other gifts by Mr. Kutch includes a real Indian bow and arrow such as they used in war time, with perhaps many white deaths to the credit of the savage weapon. Branding irons are in vogue and he gave that too. The old family sterescope that entertained the girl's beau before the days of the phonograph, was an improvement on the family album. Yes, he gave one of those, and a number of books, one being an old Masonic book.

Will Chamberlain collected several beautiful specimens of agatized wood which he imbedded in an ornamental cement block for the Museum. A young lady contributed a powder horn, creamer and an aged bowl.

Almost daily the list continues to grow. The specimens may be contributed or loaned. Either will be most graciously appreciated by the management.

Frank Bourland gives a branding iron, and Miss Dorothy Kerbow a Hawaiian dancing costume, and a cocoanut in its natural setting.

The Museum management is deeply grateful to J. E. Teer and John M. Bass for reconditioning the show cases contributed by Homer Mulkey. The same degree of appreciation is extended Andis brothers for trucking the materials for which they refused payment.

Ashtola Business Donley County Asset

In passing over Highway 5 through Ashtola, one is instantly struck with the neatness of the building in general, and the modern design of the Ben Lovell building.

First, it is a service station, local transient and Centennial. Just back of the station is a brand new stock of groceries and auto accessories. This part of the storage space is screened against flies. The interior is white with counters to match. It really looks like a parlor.

The west portion of the building is devoted to a repair shop for autos. Ben Lovell has been an auto mechanic for many years--and a good one, honest, skilled and conscientious.

His shop is equipped with practically every modern device for doing a first-class job at a minimum of expense. There is method in the shop as in and around the main building of stucco with a concrete floor.

The business is an asset to Donley county as well to Ashtola. It will mean much to the traveler who wishes to seek help an a pilgrimage, because Ben Lovell treats the stranger with the same courtesy and consideration that he would his best friend, and Ben certainly has a lot of friends.

County Agent Says Encampment July 6

Gives Final Instructions To His 4-H Club Boys In Letter Wednesday

The following letter has been mailed out to each of the 4-H club boys of the county by county agent H. M. Breedlove:

There will be an encampment of all 4-H Club boys in Donley County at the Rowe Ranch Swimming hole on the 6th of July, which is Monday. The location of this place selected for the encampment is about 5 miles past the Midway school house on the river road, directly across the river from the Rowe Ranch headquarters. I will put a sign on the road where to turn in the pasture so you will not miss it. Remember it is on the river road and directly across the river from the headquarters.

I am counting on every 4-H Club boy being at this encampment. It will start about five in the evening and last all night. We will go home the next morning. There will be swimming, baseball, and other kinds of games. I have arranged for fiddlers to play music for us at night.

All boys planning to make the trip to College Station must be at the encampment as plans will be discussed for this trip. We will leave for College Station on the eighteenth of July, which is not long.

Bring a blanket with you and a big lunch as we will all spread our lunches and have a feast. Bring your dad with you, if he wants to come along and enjoy the fun.

If you do not know the location of the place selected for the encampment, get in touch with me at once and I will explain it

Remember I am counting on you being there. Bring a big lunch and we will all eat and have a big time and make our plans for the trip to Colelge Station to attend the short course. I'll see you Monday evening, the 6th of July at the swimming hole.

Your friend,
H. M. Breedlove,
County Agent.

J. Les Hawkins, a retiring politician of Hedley, was up Wed.
