FLOWERS ARE PLACED ON GRAVES SUNDAY IN CEREMONY

Gathering at the Lubbock cemetery at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, some 50 people placed flowers on the graves of Confederate veterans and took part in a program commemorating lives of leaders of the Civil War. The occasion was sponsored by the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Dr. John C. Granbery of Texas Technological college delivered the principal address and said in part: "We are gathered today to do honor to the memory of our Confederate dead. We are not concerned with the merits and demerits of the issues involved in the titanic struggle. All such matters we can leave to historians.

"Whatever may have been decided or left undecided by the Civil war, there was one tragic consequence for the South which to my

MORE RAINS REPORTED

CROP FUTURE IS BRIGHTER; TODAY CLOUDY

AREAS IN WEST TEXAS REPORT GOOD FALL; ROADS HEAVY

Following last week's helpful rainfall, moisture in varying degrees fell over the South Plains Saturday night and Sunday, to give brighter outlook to the agricultural situation for the coming crop season. With heavy clouds still hovering near, indications were that more rain would be deposited upon the section before the sky is clear again.

The precipitation here, only amounted to .01 of an inch since Saturday. Other areas of the section reported fall amounting to 1 1/2 inches.

Bus Service Delayed
Bus service was delayed between this city and Muleshoe, due to heavy rains throughout the route. At Muleshoe the precipitation is said to have reached one and one-half inches.

A precipitation of .59 of an inch fell at Crosbyton, increasing the moisture for the week to 1.26 inches in that city. A similar amount of moisture fell at Spur and Falls.

Northern Area Benefits
Approximately three-fourths of an inch fell at Hale Center, Plainview, Leckney and Floydada, the downpours extending as far north as Amarillo, according to bus drivers.

Brownfield and Tahoka reported light showers. Midland, Big Spring and Sweetwater were under heavy rains. Motorists were having considerable difficulty in negotiating the route from Sweetwater to Post, the entire territory being reported as drenched by Sunday's rains.

Levelland and Littlefield were covered by one-half inch rains. Eastern New Mexico cities likewise reported good rains.

A heavy dust storm was reported from Littlefield, and the storm also swept over most of the country between Muleshoe and Shallowater. Rainfall was not heavy enough to stop traffic between Littlefield and Lubbock during the afternoon.

AMARILLO, April 28 (AP)—One-half inch of rain fell in this vicinity last night and reports here indicated the fall was general of the country.

Bonds Election Is Voted Down

THEY HAVE GOOD START, ALREADY

EVANSTON, Ill., April 28 (AP)—Mrs. Elsie Richards' neck bore finger marks, and Thomas Joranger's head had a deep gash in it.

Police got a call last night from Mrs. Richards, a widow. She said a man had choked her and was even then in an alleyway near her apartment. The police found Joranger, rubbing his head. Mrs. Richards, he said, had heaved a milk bottle with unerring aim. This episode apparently was subsequent to an encounter during which the finger marks were inflicted on Mrs. Richards' neck.

As the law was about to lock Joranger up, Mrs. Richards stepped forward.

"Don't jail him," she said. "He couldn't pay a fine. Besides, we intended to get married next week."

BALLOTS GO 913 FOR AND 960 AGAINST NEW BUILDING

Defeat of the $250,000 court and jail building bond issue became a certainty when 31 of the 32 precincts, polling a total of 1,864, revealed 913 against the proposal, and 960 in favor of the same, at the polls in Lubbock county Saturday.

Lubbock county officials virtually covered defeat Saturday night when 27 of the total precincts showed 905 for the bonds and 904 against, while the remaining five precincts were thought to have the margin of defeat.

Center, where a total of 20 votes were polled in the road bond election last December, reported 17 against and 3 for, this morning.

Unofficial results of New Hope, Slide and Foster precincts were obtained Sunday by a member of the Avalanche-Journal staff who made special trips to those communities, after communication facilities had proved futile Saturday night. Returns were obtained similarly late Saturday at Monroeville, Grovesville and Hasty.

Official returns from Caldwell were brought in by election judges this morning.

Members of the Commissioners court announced today that another election would be proposed probably within the next few weeks. "We plan to have representative citizens of practically every community in the county meet with the commissioners court so that we may explain our needs in a more effective way," said Judge Robert H. Bean. "We plan to take them through the jail building and show them first-hand the conditions existing there, and then we shall out."

(By Associated Press)
PAYETTEVILLE, Tenn., April 28.—Eight members of nearby farming communities who climbed to a railroad embankment to watch a Sunday airplane exhibition lay dead today, victims of a sight-seeing plane which crashed into the spectators. More than a dozen others were injured, four critically.

The pilot, Milton P. Covert, 23, Columbia, Tenn., who with two companions escaped uninjured, was held in jail in another county on a technical charge of murder pending a hearing today. Covert was exonerated of blame by the manager of the exhibition and Sheriff M. W. Rhea, but the officer said he removed the pilot to a neighboring jail as a precautionary measure against possible violence.

The dead: Jasper Hirston, 40; Boone Beard, 14; Kelly Towery, 23; Lawrence Smith, 28; Monroe Marbury, 37; Marvin Asby, 30; Hurley Spray and Rufus Wade Bonner, 9, negro.

Dropped Suddenly
Spectators in a crowd of several thousand which had surrounded the landing field, said the plane was heading for a landing at an elevation of only ten feet when it dropped suddenly on the group gathered on the embankment. Al Gombert, manager of the flying organization which sponsored the exhibition with the American Legion post, said he believed the plane struck a downward current.

FOUR KILLED IN GAS BLAST IN OKLAHOMA

PIPE LINE BURSTS AND WRECKED HOME; 3 KIDDIES DIE

(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28.—Natural gas from the south Oklahoma field where exploits of the mighty wild gusher, Mary Sudik, No. 1 recently attracted wide attention, today was blamed for the death of a mother and three children.

Last night Mrs. H. E. Shipman, 35, wife of a restaurant man, gathered her family at the supper table. Outside the home gas hissed through the pipe line of the Pioneer Gas company.

The pipe burst under the heavy pressure, and investigators said the contents poured into the kitchen range, and a terrific explosion occurred.

Later the bodies of Mrs. Shipman, and her children, Dale, 12, Lois, 10, and Fuller were taken from the wreckage.

COLLECTION PROCEEDS ARE TAKEN SUNDAY

SAFE IS KNOCKED OPEN LAST NIGHT; $400 CASH TAKEN

Proceeds of Sunday's collections and two banquets of last week, $400 in cash and checks valued at about $150, were stolen last night when the safe of the First Baptist church was knocked open by some one who entered the church office with a key.

City police and church authorities started an investigation early this morning but had obtained no clues this afternoon.

Receipts Heavy
Included in the loot were $25, proceeds of a brotherhood banquet held at the church Friday night; $51, realized from a student banquet Saturday night; $23, Sunday school change, and Sunday's receipts, which were unusually heavy.

"The office was entered by some one who had a skeleton key or one which fits the door to the room where the safe is located," said Chief of Police John Lemond. "All doors to the office were locked this morning when church authorities arrived at the building. The thief supposedly was aware of the heavy collections of Sunday."

On January 21, 1929, a similar robbery was reported at the church, approximately $500 in cash and checks having been taken at that time. At that time, indications were that the robbery was committed by someone who knew the 'lay' of the church, police and church officials stated.

MOVIE FASHIONS SHOW NEW TREND IN LINES AND LENGTH

By MME. LISBETH
Whether they will fit or not, stage and screen actresses have a tremendous effect on feminine clothes. Many a woman has become reconciled to the new mode by seeing how graceful women in these lines of work look in the longer, fuller skirts and the closer fitting bodices. While the dresses these women wear are usually more elaborate than those of the average housewife or business woman, the latter get the general effects and then adapt them to their own needs.

Flies to Work
Helen Johnson, stage star, who believes in new modes of travel as well as up-to-the-minute fashions, since she flew from New York to California to appear in a picture, may have done the delicate shell pink negligee, pictured next after her flight. The long graceful lines of the soft material mark the skirt of the gown, while very full cuffs fall over the hands.

An evening frock built on classic Grecian lines is shown next, worn by Catherine Dale Owen. It is made of light blue chiffon, with a slender hand-tucked blouse and skirt yoke, the bertha collar capturing the arms. The ankle length skirt is draped from the tucked yoke. Bracelets and a linked necklace of crystals add a smart touch to this costume.

The combination of purple-shaded blue and Chinese red is striking for a blonde, and Catherine Owen, having fair hair, wears this gown very cleverly. The dress is fashioned of the blue, while tie and sash are red velvet. The dress has a crushed collar, a bloused bodice and two-tiered skirt which shows a godet side flare.

Dr. John Caylor Speaks For Banquet At First Baptist Church On Saturday

Seventy-five guests attended the annual banquet given for Baptist students of Texas Technological college Saturday evening in the basement of the First Baptist church.

The room was elaborately decorated in scarlet and black, B. S. U. colors, while roses formed the chief table decorations. Place cards were cut in the shape of the administration building, Texas Technological college, and the initials, "B. S. U." could be seen through the entrance. The banquet was served in three courses.

Dr. Caylor Speaks
Dr. John Caylor, president of Burleson college, and statewide student worker, was principal speaker for the evening, basing his lecture on the theme subject, "Christ in the Modern Home." The same subject was used by Miss Helen Jackson and Warren Huff, student speakers, and Dr. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the church. Clyde Fincher, B. S. U. president, was toastmaster for the occasion, and special entertainment was furnished by Lankford Shaw and O'Brien Thompson, who, impersonating bums, recited interesting experiences with various guests present. CONGRESS HAS BUSY PERIOD DURING WEEK

PARKER NOMINATION, TARIFF AND PROBE REPORTS UP

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 28.—Congress today contemplated one of its busiest weeks of the session as preparations were forward to consider unemployment, the Parker nomination, and the tariff, and programs for two of three far reaching senatorial investigations.

With immigration restriction legislation regarded as sidetracked until December, the senate will take up late today the nomination of Federal Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina, to be an associate justice of the supreme court, and a bitter contest is in sight.

To Debate Wagner Bill
Before reaching the second Hoover appointment to the highest tribunal, debate will be started on the Wagner bill to authorize a $450,000,000 long-range program to remedy unemployment.

This has been made the senate's unfinished business.

With disposition of this measure, Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, its author, plans to seek action on his bills providing for the collection of more accurate statistics on unemployment and for a federal employment agency to work in cooperation with the states early action on all three measures is promised.

Tariff Report Coming
Miscellaneous measures will occupy the senate until Thursday, when the tariff bill conference report is scheduled for consideration.

It is estimated that three or four days will be required to dispose of the report.

Another conference on the tariff is expected before the senate act, and Chairman Smoot of the finance committee expressed the opinion today that it would be at least June 1 before the bill could be made ready for action by the president.

Special committees appointed by the senate to inquire into expenditures of senatorial candidates and federal leases of postoffice buildings have been called to meet early to map programs of procedure.

DR. ROLLO POINTS OUT IMPORTANCE OF KEEPING HOME CLEAN; STILL IS GREATEST FACTOR IN CIVILIZATION

"The greatest economic factor of our modern civilization is still the home," declared Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, in a statement made Saturday regarding the Clean-Up and Paint-Up campaign which started in Lubbock today.

"When we stop to consider that more than 250,000 deaths, not to mention 4,500,000 cases of sickness, every year result in this country from neglect to take simple precautions that would prevent the spread of typhoid fever, dysentery and many other diseases, these diseases are primarily due to filth and could be eliminated if not entirely prevented by adopting proper sanitary conditions."

Home Is Our Castle
"The home is one's castle and must not be disturbed, according to several written state and national laws, Dr. Rollo said. The right of the public has been recognized during all recorded history and was laid out by many of the prophets to the minutest detail."

Those who are familiar with ancient history as recorded in the Bible will recall that Moses and Aaron required that each man police his own camp and that each elate these voices, we thank God that we have an even plainer, a more authoritative voice. Thank God for God's answer to the question.

"If a man die shall he live again?" And what is His answer? "Look at the tomb in the garden of Joseph of Arimathea near the mount called Golgotha," says He. Yes, the Christ of Easter morning is God's indisputable answer to our question.

"But," I hear some one say, "I see not how Christ's resurrection has anything to do with the question of whether or not my soul lives on after death, whether or not my body is to come forth from the grave." To see the connection between the two, listen to the Christ as He speaks on just this phase of the matter, says He, "Because I live ye shall live also."

And if you give due emphasis to the word, "Because," if you notice that He does not say "You may live," or "You might live," but "You shall live," you will not only see the connection between Christ's resurrection and your own but in your heart, and conscience you will feel the force of divine authority that is behind the statement, "Ye shall live also." O word that causes so many to fear and tremble! O word that causes others to sing.

person cleanse himself before he could assist with public functions; therefore, despite the sanctity of the home it is still a recognized privilege of the protection of the health of the public to have the right to enter, especially the outlying premises, and see whether there may be some unclean or unsanitary objects that should be removed.

Nuisance May Be Used
"If such is found, and there is no law or regulation governing it, the broad term nuisance may be used to secure its correction."

"In consideration of this subject some may ask, 'Why the necessity of inspection in this enlightened age?'"

"First the ignorant are ever among us and not only must be watched, but educated into why

Cleanliness is Next to Godliness. "Second, a large per cent of our more educated and thinking people are careless and must be reminded occasionally that they should make regular tours in cleaning their premises."

"Third, there are a number of the don't care type who feel that it is too much trouble unless forced to do so by some recognized authority."

Fourth, a still more dangerous type who, through stubbornness, either to aggravate a neighbor, to show their political pull or otherwise, insist upon refusing improvements until their minds are changed by the health department.

"When we stop and consider the rapid growth Lubbock has made in the past few years we can readily see why we must put forth a greater effort each year to instruct the citizens of our city to make it a better place in which to live."

We cannot fail to appreciate what the Clean-Up campaign means to us from a standpoint of health.

"Lubbock's Clean-Up and Paint-Up campaign starts Monday, April 28, and lasts through Saturday, May 10. In addition to the promotion of health it is also designed to promote thrift, further fire prevention, stimulate civic pride and make the home and city beautiful."

Seniors In Lamesa To Present Gift

LAMESA, April 28.—(Special)—As a parting gift, members of the senior class of the Lamesa high school this week announced that they will finance paving a sidewalk from the steps of the school building to the street. One block of Bryson street, running in front of the school, is being paved at present. The walk will be 65 feet long and 15 feet wide.

Beauty and Health in Bathing

HEALTH IN BATHING

Everyone appreciates the wonderful satisfaction a soft water bath gives. That velvety feeling and invigorating cleansing can be obtained in no other way. Infants should never be bathed in hard water. The tallow from the soap combining with the lime in the water forms a greasy, sticky mass which clogs up the pores and causes skin irritations.

A Great Toilet Aid

A quick shave with soft water starts the day right. A heavy beard is covered with a rich, creamy lather which is rare where hard water is used. Beauty parlors and barber shops are especially loud in their praise of the Paramount softened water for all purposes, and those who are now using it marvel at how they have gotten along without it. Hair washed in softened water is restored to its beautiful natural lustre and fluffiness. For the woman who wants to preserve her complexion Paramount softened water restores it to its natural velvety smoothness.

An Aid In Cooking And Dishwashing

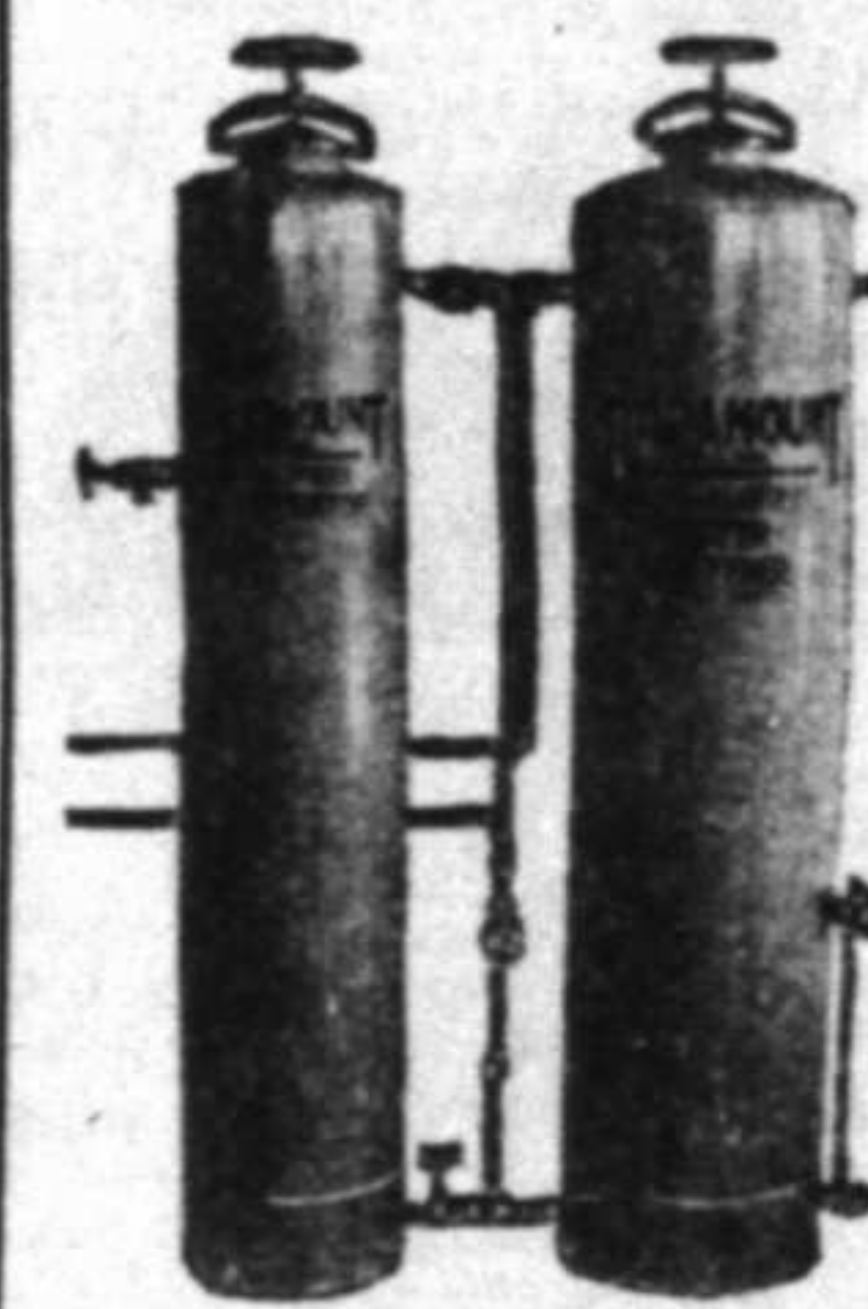

Foods cooked in soft water have a more pleasing taste; peas, beans, potatoes and all skinned vegetables cooked in Paramount Softened water retain their original flavor and cook in less time, because both lime and magnesium are absent. The skin pores remain open and the heat penetrates to the center and the food is evenly cooked throughout. Coffee making thus requires less coffee and the full aroma is developed—likewise tea.

Ideal For Laundering

For the laundry it has been proved that clothing washed in hard water deteriorates much faster, become faded and discolored, and do not last as long as when soft water is used. Clothing washed in soft water comes out snow white, clean smelling and soft. The meshes of the fabric do not contain soap curd or scum that causes yellow or dirty looking spots when ironed. The daintiest linens and lingerie can quickly and easily be handled. Dainty hands are kept soft and smooth and the housewife feels a real pleasure in working with Paramount softened water.

Eliminates Scale

For heating plant and water pipes in homes or industrial plants or any place where a boiler is used for generating steam or hot water for any purpose whatsoever, conditions are improved by the use of Paramount softened water. The lime in hard water forms a scale which clogs the pipes and runs up the plumbing bills, scale is completely eliminated by the use of Paramount soft water.

IF A MAN DIE SHALL HE LIVE AGAIN

SERMON DELIVERED BY H. C. ZIECHE, LUTHERAN
PASTOR, TO CONGREGATION HERE

Text, Job 14, 14. "If A Man Die Shall He Live Again?"

What think ye, is it too late to think on a subject that stands in a direct relation to Easter? When we consider the fact that the happenings of yesterday are recorded in the annals of history and then, as a rule, dismissed from the mind of man it may seem so. And yet I think not. For, even as the soldiers of Christ are marching forward with the song of victory on their lips, "The Lord is risen again," I hear a challenge. From out of the tomb of the dead, from out of the hearts of the living I hear the cry, expressed by Job, "If a man die shall he live again?" It is a challenge that cuts short our song, that calls halt to our march. It is a challenge that bids us pause and give answer, as I here shall endeavor to do.

Some Doubt
There are some people who express doubt or ignorance when asked, "If a man die shall he live again?" They remind us of the natives of Africa who were puzzled when Livingston asked, "What becomes of this great river, the Nile?" Then, because they had never followed it to its mouth, because they had no knowledge of the Mediterranean Sea, they finally said, "We suppose that it is lost in the sands of the great desert." Yes, because they have not yet sailed to the mouth of the river of life, because they have had no personal experience of the realities of the other world, because they have no knowledge of Scripture, no faith in God and Christ, they shrug their shoulders and say, "We do not know. We suppose that life is lost somewhere in the sands of time." But in this study we can well afford to pass by this group of people, if for no other reason than already because they give no definite answer to the question.

But, if we leave behind those that speak on the negative side of this question are we not doomed to pass out into eternal silence. No, never. Rather is it a fact that we pass into a world where to each voice raised to doubt or deny a million voices are raised to affirm, not an uncertain hope, not a vague faith, but a positive assurance, a firm conviction, in the immortality of the soul as also in the resurrection of the body.

What Say The Nations

But let us go on to ask the nations, ancient and modern, "If a man die shall he live again?" Ancient Egypt answers, "I enshrine my dead that when the spirits return they will find their earthly house uninjured." Ancient Greece answers with a question of surprise, "Know you not of the river Styx that flows thru the region called Hades, across which Charon ferries the shades of the departed? The old Testaments and Norsemen tell you of Valhalla where, thruout the ages, men dwell with the gods." The North American Indian tells you with joy of going over to the Great Spirit, of entering and abiding forever in the happy hunting grounds. The Brahmin of India declares that he shall rise from this mortal existence, thru the transmigration of his soul, until he finally becomes a part of his god. The Turk reaches for his Koran and reads, "There is a hell for the faithless and a heaven for the faithful."

What say the men

Now let us ask those men that have made their mark in the world. Socrates, of ancient Greece, says, "You can not bury Socrates. You can bury my body, but you can not put me, my real self, into the tomb." Immanuel Kant, that prince of German intellectuals, insists, "To attain to moral perfection man must have a continued personal existence."

John Q. Adams, sixth president of the United States, and one of America's greatest orators, diplomats and statesmen, though old and feeble, faces you and says, "True this house, this body, I am living in is getting old and shaky, and soon I'll have to move out. But I am quite well, never better than now." Sir James Simpson, famous physician and discover of anaesthesia, represents the medical college and points to the monument reared on the grave of his child where are carved the words, "Nevertheless I live." Every student of astronomy, who has seen the grandeur of the immortal God inscribed in the wonders of heaven, argues in favor of immortality. Every student of physics, who knows that nothing in nature ever gets to waste, answers our question by asking, "How then can man, the crown of nature, be lost?"

GIANTS AGAIN STARTING OUT TO UPSET DOPE SHIPPERS HOLD LEAD; CATS WIN AGAIN

CLUB LEADS UNDEFEATED IN NATIONAL

EVEN VICTORIES ARE CHALKED UP; A'S BEATEN AGAIN

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
John McGraw and his New York Giants once more are starting out to upset the baseball dope. The Giants suffered severely from bad spring training weather and seemed due for a lot of early beatings. Whereupon they stepped to the front by winning seven successive games and now are the only undefeated team in either major league.

The Giants have shown everything a club needs to win a pennant. The first three games were close, but effective pitching and fine fielding gave them the edge. Then they started hitting and still retained the other points of advantage. Four Giant pitchers have gone the full distance in the seven games, while the other three could easily have lasted.

Robins 7th Victim
The Brooklyn Robins became the seventh victim of the Giants yesterday as the New Yorkers hit the deliveries of Bill Clark and Johnny Morrison for 14 solid blows which produced a 10 to 4 score.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, chief threat to Giant supremacy, in the National league, continued their brilliant progress by defeating the champion Chicago Cubs, 9 to 5, for their seventh straight victory.

The Boston Braves likewise broke out as heavy hitters when Burleigh Grimes in his debut as a Hub pitcher made 17 blows good for a 13 to 4 victory over Philadelphia.

Cards Red Reds
The St. Louis Cardinals used their blows effectively, combining them with seven walks to beat Cincinnati 10 to 6.

Washington's Senators continued to strengthen their hold on the top rung of the American league ladder by defeating the world champion Athletics for the third time in succession, 11 to 6.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns produced some surprising results in a double-header battle that went to Chicago by a 2 to 1 score. A record which had stood for 39 years without being seriously threatened was equalled in this game when Clarence White Sox first baseman, went through nine innings without a putout or an assist.

The Detroit Tigers broke a losing streak of seven games by hammering Wes Ferrell of Cleveland for five runs in the first inning and taking the last game of the series 7 to 1.

Nineteen hits by the Boston Red Sox proved better than Babe Ruth's second home run of the year although the home came with two on base in the ninth inning, and the Sox gained an 8 to 7 victory over the New York Yankees.

MORELAND WINS AT MINERAL WELLS

MINERAL WELLS, April 28. (AP)—Gus Moreland, Dallas, today possessed the title in the fourth annual Mineral Wells Invitation golf tournament, by reason of a 4 to 2 victory yesterday over S. J. Barnett, Eastland youth in the finals match. An eagle 2 on the 29th hole proved the winning factor. Barnett missed a putt on the 34th hole and conceded Moreland a par three and the match.

The Duke baseball squad opens and closes practice to the ringing of the school clock. Coach Jack Combs is the bell ringer.

seriously in a major league baseball campaign, but this year they have definitely established the fact that Joe McCarthy's Cubs will have to recover quickly and do some great hustling if they are to repeat their national league championship.

Injuries have jinxed the team from the start, and the end is still far from sight. Rogers Hornsby is still lame from the spur growth on his right heel, and his batting punch may be missing from the team for a month, and possibly the rest of the season, despite cheerful reports of physicians.

Best Suffering Too
Lester Bell, big Cub investment in the attempt to plug up the third base post, still is suffering from a lame arm, and he, too, may not get in any more games than the "Rabbit".

Added to that, the pitching staff is far from ready, and the big flock of promising rookies, obtained over winter to bolster the pitching staff, is not so promising now.

Added to all these "bearish" developments has been the break in the weather. Of all the teams in the National league, the Cubs need stalling time. Yet, they are the only ones in the circuit to be denied it. They have planned every day since the season opened.

'Cast-Off' Now Cards' Hero

GEORGE FISHER NOW LEADING HITTER IN LEAGUE

BY E. K. BUTLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—Cast off by the New York Cardinals, and given to the St. Louis Cardinals as boot in a trade, George Fisher has slugged his way into an outfield post and is destined to be a fixture there this season if his sensational hitting continues.

Fisher, formerly with Buffalo in the International league is the new idol of St. Louis fans as the result of his stick work in early games. His slugging started in the annual city series between the Cardinals and St. Louis Browns. In the first game of the series the rookie was given a tryout, and against the offerings of the American league team's best fingers, he poked a triple and a double.

As a result of his showing in the city series Fisher was placed in right field when the Cubs and Cardinals opened the season here. Four hits out of five times up were registered by the castoff. The next day he added four more wallops to his record, by reason of a 4 to 2 victory yesterday over S. J. Barnett, Eastland youth in the finals match. An eagle 2 on the 29th hole proved the winning factor. Barnett missed a putt on the 34th hole and conceded Moreland a par three and the match.

Fisher hasn't always been an outfielder. In fact he once pitched the Minneapolis team of the American Association to victory over Kansas City. Born in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1901, Fisher early moved to Minnesota. He started playing semi-pro ball in his home town of Avon and in nearby cities. With a good record as a pitcher, he was given a trial with Miller, South Dakota of the Dakota league.

ADVERTISERS WIN FROM TAHOKA NINE

A four-run rally in the ninth inning enabled the Lubbock Advertisers to beat out the Tahoka All-stars at the Lynn county capital Sunday afternoon by the score of 10 to 7.

Wallace hurled a steady game for the locals but was given loose support at times, a majority of the Tahoka runs coming as a result of errors. Watkins, Brothers, Hodges, Marshall and Young led the batting attack for Lubbock.

Squyers took over the mound for Lubbock early in the game and held the Lubbock sluggers well in check until the fatal ninth.

TUFFY GRIFFITHS TO TRY TO ERASE ONE OF MOST SERIOUS BLOTS ON HIS RING RECORD AGAINST JACK GAGNON

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City, Ia., heavyweight, this week will try to erase one of the most serious blots on his list record.

Griffiths, who some experts have declared, is destined to be champion of the world, meets Jack Gagnon, Boston heavyweight, in a return bout at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night. It was Gagnon who halted Griffiths when the Sioux City puncher was bowling over all opposition early this year.

Heavyweights also held the spotlight at Philadelphia tonight. Tommy Loughran, retired heavyweight champion, meeting Ernie Schaf of Boston in the top ten rounder. Made Rosenbloom, who won from Larry Johnson, Chicago negro light heavyweight, on a foul in his first meeting, will face Johnson again in the feature of Madison Square Garden's re-opening card Wednesday night.

AUSTIN, April 28.—A four per cent reduction in the cotton acreage in Texas was noted in reports received April 15, from 296 counties, according to a statement issued by Geo. B. All crops are in need of rain. Terrell reported saying a heavy rainfall has been so scarce in some sections of the state that cattle have not been turned into the pastures, he said.

A two per cent increase in the acreage planted in corn and a slight decrease in the wheat and oats acreages were noted.

INDIANS STOP SPORTS; SPUDS LOSE TO BEAUMONT

(By Associated Press)
Henry Hardaway's relief pitching and timely hitting led the Port Worth Panthers to their third consecutive victory at La Grava field Sunday afternoon as the men of Frank Snyder turned back the invading Waco Cubs, 5 to 4.

Relieving Ferdie Schupp at the start of the second frame, Hardaway allowed the Panthers four hits and two earned runs. He also delivered three hits including a double. Manager Snyder drove in the tying and winning runs with a double in the seventh. Today they were matched for another tilt.

The Sunnyside Sports used six pitchers, but were unable to stop San Antonio in a combat at Shreveport, where the Indians conquered, 15 to 8. They also were to meet again today.

The Beaumont Exporters invading Wichita Falls, were scheduled for another game today after defeating the Spudders yesterday 6 to 2. Eastwelling hit a homer with one on.

Celebrating their new major dome, Sol Dreyfus, who had purchased the controlling stock in the club, the Dallas Steers were awamped 12 to 2 yesterday before the Houston Buffs in the opener of a three game series here. New Indictment Is Given On Herrera MASON, April 28. (AP)—A new indictment was returned Saturday against Ofilio Herrera, convicted of murdering Sheriff A. T. Murray of Mason county and saved from the electric chair by a ruling of the Court of Criminal Appeals finding the indictment against him was faulty.

The old indictment, which did not include the phrase "with malice aforethought," which the appeals court held necessary, was dismissed. Antonio Chavez, named when Herrera was originally indicted in February, 1929, also was re-indicted, and both cases were transferred to Llano county for trial May 13.

HOUSE OF DAVID NINE, FASTEST OF SEMI-PRO TEAMS IN UNITED STATES, TO MEET LUBBOCK PLAYERS, FRIDAY

What is believed to be the fastest amateur baseball aggregation outside of professional ranks will be in Lubbock Friday when the powerful House of David ball nine from Benton Harbor, Mich., stop off at Merrill Park for a skirmish with the Lubbock Hubbers.

Wearing the traditional long beard and flowing tresses of the Israelite belief, the barnstorming sluggers will spend one day in Lubbock on their way to the Pacific coast. The club will arrive here in mid-season form, having played exhibition games with the major league clubs throughout the spring training season.

Tally Is Star
While all players on the Whiskered team wear hair that extends below the shoulders, the long tresses interfere in no way with the performance of the team. Doc Tally, the "Bearded Babe Ruth" of the Israelite brigade, has been with the club for the past 15 years, playing the left outer garden and furnishing the clean-up punch for the team.

John Tucker, House of David first baseman, is a comedy artist for the traveling aggregation. He has been offered numerous big league contracts but could not accept because of his refusal to cut off his long locks.

Doc Puckett is manager of the club that meets the Whiskered aggregation here Friday and has not yet hit upon the combination he will send out to face the invaders.

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Louis R. Dailey, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, is going abroad with the United States Wightman cup team this year to direct the team and at the same time gather first hand impressions as to the tennis problems of a score of European nations.

One subject into which he intends to inquire, says an official announcement by the U. S. L. T. A., will be the action of the international lawn tennis federation in rejecting at its annual meeting in Paris on March 21, the proposed amendment which would have permitted the holding of an open championship in this country.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME IS OBSERVED

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Daylight saving—a boon to city workers but still from most upon in rural communities—started officially at 2 a. m. Sunday in cities of 16 states in the United States and 17 cities in Canada.

Clocks were turned up an hour throughout the Massachusetts and Rhode Island and in nearly every city and town in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

The larger cities in Pennsylvania, Chicago and suburban cities in Northern Illinois and Indiana and several cities and towns in Maine also observe daylight saving time. Similar plans are followed in part by Ohio, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Vermont, Delaware, Michigan and New Hampshire.

Ralls Tennis Team Makes Good Record

RALLS, April 28. (Special)—The tennis team of the Ralls high school under the direction of G. F. "Froggie" Lovorn, T. C. U. graduate, has made a remarkable record for a new group of players. The boys got into the semi-finals of the doubles at the district meet.

Lovorn has brought the athletic work of the school up from Class B to Class A. He has been head of the department for five years and his teams are well known over the entire South Plains.

Besides handling the coaching work, Mr. Lovorn teaches social science in the senior school.

Ralls was advanced from Class B to Class A in 1929.

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS CHATTER

BY J. EAM LEWIS
Field Correspondent

Sunday one of the Pioneer Motor line drivers had considerable fun with a dragging exhaust pipe. The pipe is really a rubber tube and the last time it was fixed, the job was done too good and the tube became unfixed Sunday morning. All the way from Lubbock to Littlefield, from five to ten or fifteen people at the several towns would stop to advise him "your exhaust pipe is dragging." At Littlefield where he had a bit of trouble with the motor while in front of the postoffice, a dozen men stopped to tell him they thought his trouble was with the dragging pipe. He had it repaired at Muleshoe.

Ed Abbott always wears a round hat in his coat lapel. He starts out each morning with a fresh bud.

Sunday afternoon north and west of Lubbock half a dozen baseball games were postponed on account of the storm. At Anton the boys had just got well started when the storm came, followed by a rain. Between Amberst and Littlefield two teams were in a field getting ready to play when the storm came.

Drivers of the North Plains coaches are much exercised over the slow paying job between Abernathy and Hale Center. Owing to unexpected delays, the contractor will not be able to finish until sometime this summer. "We sure need that paving bad," one driver said.

One of the coaches into Lubbock Sunday was called by one man an "Arkansas" coach. "When its dry it doesn't need to have the roof fixed," he said. "When its wet, its too late, like the old fellow with the leaky roof down in Arkansas."

"We issued 3,000 poll tax receipts," he said. "This is more than in 1929 and about the same as in 1928."
Owing to a number of spirited contests in the primaries in July the voting is expected to be very heavy.

RECORDS OF TWO FAMOUS OLD RANCHES OF SECTION GIVEN TO TECH LIBRARY; MATERIAL RICH IN HISTORICAL DATA

Records of the famous Spur and Matador ranches, two of the well known early day ranches of this section of the great plains, have been presented to the library of Texas Technological college. The records cover the period from the middle 30's to around 1900 or later books, dairies, account books, journals, the board of directors of the college and also manager of the Spur ranch was largely instrumental also in securing the Matador records. He suggested to Manager Riley that he present the records to the school.

Consolid Of Accounts
Both records consist of letters, books, dairies, account books, journals, ledgers, trail records, branding records, etc. The letter books are of the old-fashioned letter press type, hard to decipher in many instances but yet interesting. The original records for the most part can be easily read.

Operations on their ranch covered long periods starting with the early 30's. English and Scotch capitalists were large owners of the properties and insisted upon full and complete accounting of everything. As a result they knew just how their money was spent and these records are said to be among the most complete in this section. The Spur ranch records were presented through Prof. W. C. Holden and the Matador ranch through Prof. Bailey Carroll, both of the history department.

Lamesa Man 1st To Split Plains Rails

LAMESA, April 28. (Special).—Baker Clayton, Lamesa newspaper agent, probably has the distinction of being the first person on the Plains to split a native Plains tree into fence posts. Advice was handed to him generously when he felled a dead tree on the courthouse lawn recently and began splitting it into posts. Some one in the crowd that gathered suggested that Clayton was probably the first person to split rails on the Plains, especially native trees, and a thorough search reveals that he probably owns the title.

Reassuring

Every now and then you find a little story in the newspaper that sounds as if it had been written just to reassure discouraged men and women that their fellow-mortals are pretty fine people, after all.

In Seattle the other day a physician,
Dr. U. C. Bates, was performing an operation on a young sailor who had been critically injured in a shipwreck. The lad was at the point of death; unless an intricate operation were performed promptly he could not recover.

Now it happened that this doctor,
a man of considerable means
liked to dabble in the stock market.
And on this particular morning he had a big deal pending, with a lot of money involved. So it happened that just as the operation was about to begin the doctor's broker called the hospital and intimated that the doctor came to the telephone immediately.

"Stock prices were taking a sudden slide. The doctor stood to lose a fortune unless he could get to the telephone at once and give his broker some instructions."

But there was the young sailor,
to whom every minute was priceless,
ready for the operation that must be performed at once if it was to save him.

A nurse told the doctor of the broker's call. The doctor's answer came quickly.

"Tell him to go jump in the lake,"
he said. "I'm busy!"

So he went ahead and finished the operation. It was a success. The sailor lived. The time it took, however, was expensive. By the time the doctor was able to get to his broker's office he found that his fortune had shrunk by just $250,000.

The sailor, by the way, was a charity patient. The doctor got no fee for the operation.

And there's the story.

No doctor, of course, will see anything extraordinary in it. To the medical profession, the Seattle physician physician surgeon did the only thing
he could have done. But the story is pretty significant, at that.

The mere fact that it represents a course of action so taken for granted by a large group of men proves that selfishness isn't quite such an overwhelming power in human affairs
as we sometimes suppose. Self-interest, after all, is not the ruling
motive for most people.

You'll never begin to understand this world until you realize that unselfishness devotion to duty,
care for the welfare of others—
whatever name you choose to give it—is as common as ragweed.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That girl on Broadway says all

all except wall-flowers.

DON'T FORGET
On Wednesday afternoon The Plainsman is turning over this column to the young smart who work on the paper and think they can do a better job.

About 12 of 'em are going to collaborate on the proposition
so plan to read it, just to make
'em feel good.

YOU pessimistically inclined folk,
who have been looking down
your noses and talking hard times
in Lubbock, will get a direct jolt
as the result of a recent city-wide survey made by members of the Lubbock Real Estate board. For your information, in the entire city of Lubbock, there are vacant today only 77 homes. In other words, out of approximately 4,500 homes in Lubbock—from 'The Flats' to 'Silk-Stocking Row' and from north canyon to Highland Heights—there are 4,423 of 'em occupied.

Realtors, through their national association, say when 5 percent of the homes in any city are vacant there shouldn't be more than the normal amount of building. Over 5 percent in vacancies calls for no building at all but under that mark, much building is essential. Lubbock's percentage, made under the survey, is 1.7 percent—figure it out.

That means there is plenty of room for additional residential building in Lubbock right now and indicates, beyond any argument,
that people are moving IN to Lubbock and not moving OUT, as some of our leading calamity howlers might let you believe.

AND HERE'S some more dope on the proposition. Last September the realtors made a city-wide survey and there were 139 vacant houses. Last March—the first part of the month—another survey was made and showed 81 empty houses.
The last survey, made Friday, disclosed 77 vacancies, despite the fact that from 130 to 150 new homes
have been constructed in Lubbock
since the original survey last September. That tells the story of Lubbock and its steady growth.

Of the 77 vacancies here now,
only about 40 of them are available for immediate occupancy.
About 20 others can be made livable with a little improvement and the balance of them are so dilapidated that it is doubtful if they can be made livable at all. So Lubbock, it would appear, is in pretty good shape as far as population and growth is concerned.

If you'd like the 'low-down' on the vacancies, The Plainsman takes great pleasure in furnishing it.
Streets, and avenues, with their vacancies, are listed as follows: 30th,
1: 29th, 2: 28th, 3: 27th, 4: 26th, 5:
25th, 3: 24th, 3: 23rd, 4: 22nd,
21st, 1: 20th, 3: 19th, 2: Dixie Drive,
3: Avenue N, 2: M, 1: Texas, 2:
Ave. H, 2: Ave. E, 1: Ave. D, 2: 18th,
1: 17th, 2: 15th, 1: 14th, 2: 13th, 1:
10th, 1: 9th, 4: 8th, 6: 7th, 5: 6th,
2: Ave. Q, 2: Ave. R, 2: Ave. S, 1:
All streets and avenues not listed here show no vacancies.

This survey was made by A.
H. Martin and Pete Murray, a couple of local realtors, at the request of the new president of the Lubbock Real Estate board, who is L. Wesley Reed. They not only stand behind the figures they have compiled but offer to take any Doubting Thomas over the whole city and prove to him they are right
in their computations.

The Plainsman compliments the Real Estate board on its survey and Messrs. Martin and Murray for their getting it up in such good shape. News like this is reassuring to us all and this column is glad to see that Lubbock is going along in such fine shape. The old cry of 'Too Much Building' that we heard around here last year doesn't sound
so logical now.

California Exclusion Act Brings Wails From Filipinos
Again; They Still Want Independence, Dutcher Reports

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, April 28.—Once again the Filipinos are complaining that we hold them by the scruff
of the neck and try to kick them
all over the house at the same time.

An eloquent little group of brown
skinned men, who are known as the Filipino American League, has been telling a congressional committee in Manila recent and impassioned tones
that it would be outrageously unjust while the Philippine Islands
under the American flag to deny them
the right to be heard
in their own defense.
They are asking for a hearing before the committee on the exclusion act.

United States as we do Chinese and Japanese and as is proposed in a resolution introduced by Congressman Richard J. Welch of California.

A determined group of whites
from Congressman Welch's state has been arguing that there are already too many Filipinos in this country already and that only harm
can come from allowing the entry
of more.

Backs Flap For Freedom
All of which gives the Filipinos
another chance to show for themselves. The new exclusion act is now the law of the land and the Filipino American League is now the only group of Filipinos in the United States who are not in the
country already and that only harm
can come from allowing the entry
of more.

Also, came rushing from Los Angeles for the hearings Dr. Hillario Moncada, president of the Filipino Federation of America, headed a delegation to speak for Filipinos now living in the United States.

They all stressed the desire of the Filipinos for independence and protested exclusion on grounds of morals, law and precedent while admitting their helplessness. Whereas the Californians had pointed out that England had permitted Canada and Australia to bar Hindus—Subjects of the British Empire—they pointed out that Hindus were not barred from England itself and that dependent people had never at any time been barred from moving to the 'mother country.'

Oppose Color Line
Roxas expressed his own pride of race in a dramatic speech, protesting discrimination against Filipino because their faces were yellow and hinting that the future might hold much for the yellow race.

Guevara protested that it would be "un-American, unfair and extremely unjust to consider the Filipino people domestic for one purpose and foreign for another."

He said they were much better off in the islands and admitted a Filipino-American "conflict of interest" accentuated by economic social and racial problems. But he contended that 80 per cent of Filipino in this country were not laborers in the true sense of the word, though many had to become domestic servants or fruitpickers when they run out of money.

Moncada said exclusion would be a "distinct slap in the face at Christianity because 90 per cent of the Filipinos are of Christian faith." Filipinos were not aliens, he said, and although the American laboring man was justified in not wanting lower wage competition for Filipinos he should be patient until the islands were granted independence. The doctrine of exclusion with a passionate appeal for freedom and good will.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The fashion belts, like other items that make up New York, have a tragic transiency.

The "proper" section in which to live and the swanky marts have an almost overnight capacity for change.

At the moment, the more sacrosanct sections of Park Avenue,
where tradition dared not cast their shadow, are threatened with commercial invasion. The official O. K. has been placed on this adulteration of a residential section, and it's only a short time before these very smart Madison Avenue and Park Avenue emporiums will find competition threatening them a block or so away.

It's a long trek from the Bowling Green, where it all started, to the other side of the Grand Central station, where changes are coming fast, if not so furious.

What once was known as P.
Amsterdam was once clustered
with the residences of the fashionable; only a few years ago Riverside Drive was a name to con-jure with; Fifth Avenue was greedily swallowed by a rapidly growing trade area; Madison Avenue hastily blossomed with the advanced assortment of expensive shopping places to be found this side of the Rue de la Paix; moving vans began to take the luxuriously minded to Park Avenue.

But to give you a picture of this changing metropolis the Bowling Green held its own until after the Revolutionary War; the window shoppers of their time seldom got much farther than the Battery;
and then a friend of a certain George Washington moved his lares
and penates to lower Broadway—
and thus the street of streets got its start.

This individual was one McComb,
into whose home 'George Washington' moved. Thus giving it much prestige. Even then the rental was some $2500 a year, a truly fabulous sum considering the times.

Washington Square, heart of Greenwich Village, became the next center of swanky population. And lower Fifth Avenue thus came into its own.

President Roosevelt's home on the fringe of Gramercy Park, helped to put that section on the social map.

But, in the interim, the smart theatrical crowd had been gathering in and about the very Union Square which now stages arguments between the reds, the unemployed and the police. This became both a theatrical and a dining center with Luchow's as a pivotal point.

Gramercy came into its own
after one Sam Ruggles had deeded
a considerable portion of his property there to the city after his death.

Meanwhile, also, Madison Square
was not to be overlooked. Had not Stanford White, the town's leading architect, designed the now famous Madison Square tower?

And, with the city spreading eastward and southward, other sections had fashionable connotations. The Hudson river finally attracted the swankier dwellers "way up town" to the Drive and when then Chateau de Charles Schwab appeared in the upper Seventies it seemed as though the last word in swank had been said for that neighborhood. But the Rockefeller-ers, the Astors, the Vanderbilts and all the rest had taken to Fifth Avenue, which definitely sent all the who's-who's to the moving vans, surprising to be in the same section.

Today, the Rockefeller's are fighting to keep business property from moving next door and a new generation of riches has moved over to Park Avenue.

WRONG PLACE

Man Mistakes
Hospital For Mortuary

MINOT, N. D., April 28.—(P)—
There is, Thompson Fox once heard, a time and a place for everything.

The time, he thought was today. He had died in an attempted reconciliation with his former wife. The place, he decided should be a mortuary.

Cox, who lives in Denver,
picked his building, walked in and, as several persons watched, took poison with a grandilo-quent gesture.

But it wasn't a mortuary; it was a hospital. Physicians grabbed him and pumped out his stomach. He's alive and, on top of that, he's in jail, a vagrant, police say.

The court will see about it.

Students Shown

Discourtesies
MEXICO CITY, April 28. (AP)—The newspaper La Prensa today published a story stating a group of students at the University of Mexico had shown discourtesy to a group of visiting journalism students of Oklahoma City university who called at the Mexican university to pay their compliments. The paper says the minority group called the American students representatives of "Yankee imperialism which caused all of Mexico's troubles," and forced partial cancellation of the reception program to the visitors.

Wants Everyone To Know The Good Organo Has Done Him: Gains Daily
"I was determined to try Organo after hearing and reading about the good results it was accomplishing so I bought a bottle and began taking it and the results are, I have gained in health and feel better than I have in four years. This is what C. J. Springer residing on rural route 2, Plainview, Texas said.

"I have suffered from indigestion and stomach trouble until it just seemed as if nothing was ever going to help me at all. I hardly knew what it was to have a well day in five years until Organo straightened me out. I had gotten to where I couldn't eat any thing without suffering from it. After every meal I would feel full and bloated for hours after and cause me all sorts of trouble.

"I was in a very bad run down condition and had no appetite at all and what I did eat would turn sour on my stomach. No one but those who are troubled with indigestion know how I did suffer and although I tried everything nothing seemed to reach my case or do me any good.

"I kept on going down hill and the day I started on Organo I was suffering with the same old troubles. I started to feel better a few days after I began taking Organo and have gradually picked up ever since. I now feel like my old self again and have not only gained strength but can eat any thing I want and as much as I want without it bothering me in the least. My constitution is broken up I sleep like a dog and simply feel like a different man."

Genuine Aspiroline may be purchased in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

constituted a grave discourtesy, says the paper, adding that the Oklahoma City students themselves minimized the affair, saying that only a few Mexican students had participated while the great body received them courteously and in a friendly manner.

We have two companies, the one operating in Lubbock, one in Oklahoma City. The Lubbock organization has approximately 1,000 members and the one in Oklahoma City 600 members.

We pay policy holders who marry approximately $250 at the end of 3 months; $500 at end of 6 months; $1,000 at the end of one year. You do not have to know at the time that you take your policy just when you are to marry. We have one 200 policy holders living in the city of Lubbock. That too, is a record for any city in the state.

STOCK PRICES DRIFT LOWER

RECESSIONS OF POINT OR SO MADE BY SEVERAL SHARES

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Stock prices drifted irregularly lower at the opening of today's market. New York Central, Atchafalaya and Union Carbide showed initial recessions of a point or so and U. S. Steel common, Sears Roebuck, General Motors, Consolidated Gas and Westinghouse Electric yielded fractionally. Standard Oil of New Jersey opened with a block of 5,000 shares at 83 1/2, up 7-8, and a new high record. Worthington Pump jumped 2 points on the first sale. Public utilities were reactionary, presumably on selling inspired by predictions that control and regulation of power will be one of the chief issues of the next political campaign. Detroit Edison dropped 3/4 and Western Union 1-1/4. Oils were in fairly brisk demand. Standards of New York and New Jersey both reaching new top prices. Columbia Graphophone crossed 37 to a new high.

Renewal of selling pressure against John Manville carried that stock down 3 points. Foreign exchanges opened irregular, with sterling quoted a shade lower at $4.86 3/16.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP)—Influenced by estimates that Europe had taken 3,000,000 bushels of North American wheat Saturday, wheat scored price gains today after setbacks at the start.

Opening 1-2-1 1/4 off, Chicago wheat afterward went well above Saturdays finish. Corn and oats declined, firmness also, with corn starting at 1-1/4 decline to an equal advance, and sagging a little more, but then swinging up. Provisions were easy.

The London naval treaty having been signed last week, the world's greatest news came from seething India and its serious demonstrations against the British rule.

The naval conference ended Tuesday with signing of the treaty amid ceremony. Shortly afterward the delegates were off for home, the Americans sailing on the Leviathan.

Rules Until 1930

Briefly, the treaty contains a five power agreement for a battleship holiday and fixes new limits, until 1930, for the fleets of the three greatest sea powers.

The week's events in India gave the government cause for grave thought. The most serious disorder was at Peshawar Wednesday. THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tiniest fished the live long day and it was quite a heap of play. At first wee Scouty had the luck and pulled the fish in fast. Said he, "I am the best of all, I guess. I'm catching such a dandy mess. It seems that my luck is so good, it simply cannot last."

"Oh, look! Another's on my line. I'm glad we came here, this is fine." He jerked his line in quickly, as his pole began to sag. And then he found it was no use. He jerked too quick! The fish dropped loose and Clowny shouted loudly. "That will teach you not to brag."

Right soon the others had some luck. It seemed that everyone had struck right in a school of little fish and my, what fun they had. Each time they'd pull a nice fish in, the Travel Man would broadly grin. To see the bunch enjoy themselves of course made him feel glad.

The water soon grew rather rough and Copy said, "We've had enough. Let's call the fishing off now and find something else to do. It would be fun if we could find a cave where they wouldn't mind cooking this mess of fish for us. What say the rest of you?"

They all agreed to this fine plan. "Well, we will do the best we can," replied one of the Tiniest. And they soon found a cave where everything was worked out great. The Tiniest could hardly wait. And when the fish was served to them they all cried out, "Hurray!"

Soon they all walked about a block and once again were at the dock. "We'll take a sailboat now and cross the pretty Zinder Zee," exclaimed the friendly Travel Man. And to the sailboat they all ran. The trip across the water was as nice as it could be.
