Wildcat Staked In Northwest Part Of County

The Texas Co. has staked location for its No. 4 M. A. Fuller as a wildcat in Northwest Scurry County.

It will be 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 62-5-H&GN, about 18 miles northwest of Snyder. Projected depth is 2,600 feet.

HOWARD TEST

Robert Zonne and Coronet Oil Co. of Midland No. 1-574 E. G. Browning in Northwest Scurry County is trying for a drillstem test in the Ellenburger.

A previous attempt to drillstem test this section failed when the packer slipped. Top of the Ellenburger is at 8,150 feet, with the hole bottomed at 8,215 feet. This project has reported no shows for production.

Location is in section 574-97-H&TC, three miles northeast of Fluvanna and four miles east of the Winfield-Ellenburger field.

TWO FAILURES

Two wildcat locations in Crosby and Garza Counties are preparing to plug and abandon as failures.

In Crosby County, Westlund and Stewart No. 1 Wahlemmaier has been quit as a failure. It was drilled 16 miles southwest of Crosbyton in block 4, E. J. Moore Pre-Emption survey 3, abstract 1318.

W. A. Stockard No. 1 Esther Bird, guardian, is to be plugged on total depth of 2,864 feet in lime. It was drilled 330 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 89-5-GH&H.

BORDEN COUNTY

Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. has filed application to drill the No. 3-A R. H. Jordan in the Winfield-Ellenburger field of Borden County. Drillsite is 2,006 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 579-97H&TC, three miles northwest of Fluvanna. It is in the same section as the No. 4-A Jordan, a previously reported location. Both are to drill to 8,700 feet.

Pure Oil Co. has reported location for the No. 5 J. S. Head in the Kelley-Snyder field eight miles west of Snyder. It is 1,074 feet from north and 743 feet from west lines of section 255-97-H&TC, and is to drill to 7,000 feet.

Skelly Oil is to begin operations soon on the No. 21 Frances Gunn in the East Vealmoor field of Howard County. Location is 4,900 feet from south and 1,150 feet from west lines of fractional section 1-31-T&P and seven miles west of Vincent. Rotary contract is to 7,700 feet.

DRILLING REPORT

Texaco No. 1 C. D. Jones, Northeast Borden project, is reported preparing to run the potential test.

Hill, Roark, Hooker and Roark No. 1 Charles Branch, extreme Southeast Kent wildcat, is drilling in shale below 3,245 feet. It is slated to 7,500 feet to test the Ellenburger.

Stanolind No. 1-A Girard Trust-Corn Exchange Bank, Kent prospector, is drilling in lime and shale below 7,277 feet. A 39-minute drillstem test from 6,437-460 feet recovered 85 feet of slightly gascut mud and 125 feet of salt water.

Texaco No. 213 P. L. Fuller, North Scurry stepout, is drilling in lime and chert below 7,383 feet.

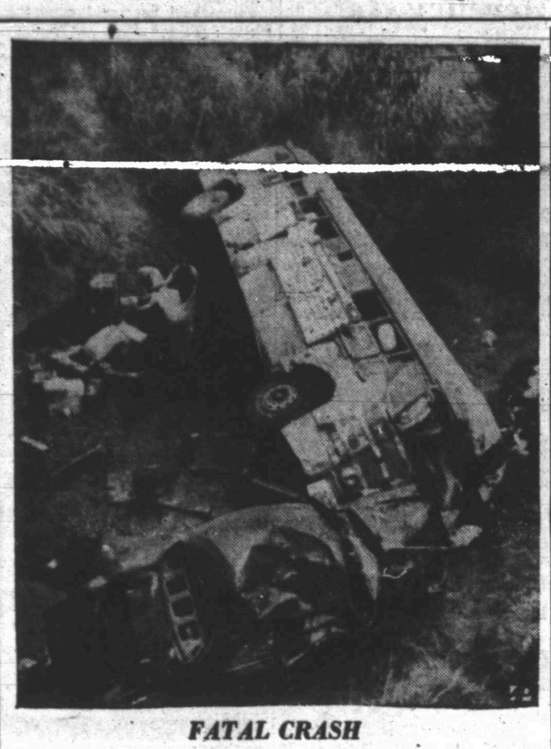

Gulf Oil No. 1 Cannon, West-Central Borden wildcat, is drilling in lime and chert below 10,047 feet. A drillstem test from 9,978-10,012 feet recovered 11 feet of mud with no shows. All pressures were zero.

Seaboard Oil No. 1 Pettaway, Dawson wildcat, is at total depth of 7,840 feet and trying for a drillstem test. A previous attempt to test failed when operator was unable to get the tool on bottom.

Oceanic Oil, Green and McSpadden No. 1 Winans, Howard wildcat which was indicated as a producer, is waiting on cement.

95-Degree High Here

Summer sunshine pushed the temperature up to 95 degrees in Snyder yesterday, five degrees cooler than the previous day by the record if not by the feel. A low of 70 degrees was recorded early this morning, with the temperature back to 75 degrees by 7:30.

FATAL CRASH

Six persons were killed and 24 others were injured, many critically, when this Greyhound bus and a car pulling a house trailer collided on a bridge on U. S. Highway 66 three miles west of Hydro, Okla., and then plunged 25 feet into a ravine.

DOPE FLOWS IN FROM RED CHINA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agents have been struggling for more than a year to dam a persistent flow of dope from Communist China to the U. S. West Coast via Hong Kong.

Government officials told reporters of this battle today after the Narcotics Bureau made public its annual report for 1952 on traffic in opium and other dangerous drugs.

The report said simply that "pure heroin has appeared in the traffic on the West Coast in considerable quantities," and added:

"The source of this heroin is Communist China."

B. T. Mitchell, the bureau's enforcement officer, said the heroin traffic by way of Hong Kong, a British crown colony, was first noticed when customs inspectors wondered why anybody would want to mail old American magazines back to this country.

It turned out the magazines were hollowed and filled with vials containing about an ounce of heroin each.

Heroin is one of many drugs made from opium. In its pure state, it is worth about $1,000 an ounce.

Chinese in Hong Kong, Mitchell said, sent the dope mainly to other Chinese in this country. Post office boxes were rented in small, out-of-the-way towns to receive it, he said.

U. S. agents here and abroad have been cooperating with Hong Kong police and there have been many arrests. But Mitchell said is hard to tell just what headway is being made toward choking off the illicit traffic.

Use of the mails to ship the narcotic has been sharply reduced, bureau officials said, but heroin is still smuggled from the Far East by merchant seamen and other travelers across the Pacific.

Mitchell said agents so far had detected no large overall organization directing the smuggling. It seems, he added, that there are numerous small systems in operation.

Contact is made by letter, by personal messenger, or by some other means hard to trace, the narcotics officer said.

Up to now, federal agents have not found any of this Chinese heroin in the East. Experts are able to distinguish Chinese heroin from the European and Mexican varieties.

Government Ready To Sell Rubber Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower signed today a bill setting up a three-member commission to sell to private industry the government's synthetic rubber plants, built for 518 million dollars during the war.

The measure, hemmed with anti-monopoly safeguards, gives the commission until Jan. 1, 1955, to receive bids and negotiate sales.

Congress then has 30 days to review the sale. It can veto sales if it finds they do not give the taxpayer an adequate return.

The measure contains these other safeguards:

1. The attorney general must advise and consult with the commission to make sure no sale violates anti-trust laws.

2. If a veto by congress of any individual sales contract should lower annul production of the plants below 500 million pounds, all other sales contracts would be voided.

3. Even if a congressional veto did not drop production below that point, all other buyers would have 30 days in which to draw their offers of purchase.

A group of Democratic senators insisted on what they called anti-monopoly safeguards to prevent major rubber companies from acquiring most or all of the government-owned industry.

Immigration Law Is Signed By President

WASHINGTON (AP) President Eisenhower signed into law today a bill to admit 214,000 extra refugees, orphans and other aliens into the United States in three years.

He called the law "a significant humanitarian act and an important contribution toward greater understanding and cooperation among the nations of the free world."

"It is a dramatic contrast to the tragic events taking place in Eastern Germany and in other captive nations," Eisenhower said.

Gasoline Hike Probe Sought By Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department is investigating recent gasoline price increases in an effort to determine "whether collusive action among the oil companies can be established."

The probe for possible anti-trust law violation was disclosed today in a letter received by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) from Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes, who wrote the department was finding it "extremely difficult" to collect evidence that would justify an action.

Humphrey said in a statement making the letter public that he had received complaints from "Minnesota gasoline jobbers and consumers against what they termed "unwarranted price increases in the face of heavy available stocks" and had referred the complaints to the Justice Dpartment.

Barnes said the Minnesota gasoline price increases to which Humphrey referred "appear to be general throughout the United States east of the Rocky Mountains."

His letter of July 7 continued: "These increases are receiving careful consideration by the department to determine whether a violation of the federal anti-trust laws has been committed. In order to establish a violation of these laws it is necessary to prove the existence of an agreement among the oil companies concerning the prices each of them are charging.

"It appears that each of the companies is adopting the increases of the so-called market leader and we find it extremely difficult to collect evidence which will sustain an action charging an agreement or conspiracy among the companies to follow such market leader.

"However, we are going forward with collecting and studying all information obtainable with a view of determining whether collusive action among the oil companies can be established."

Barnes wrote Humphrey that the Justice Department would be glad to have any evidence of "collusive action" his constituents could furnish.

Treaty With South Korea Being Drawn

SEOUL, Aug. 7 (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and President Syngman Rhee will initial the draft of a security treaty between the United States and South Korea tomorrow, it was announced officially tonight.

The ceremony is scheduled for 10 a. m. (8 p. m. EST today).

Agreement was reached on the treaty today.

The announcement was made by members of Dulles' party and the office of President Rhee. A joint statement from Rhee and Dulles is expected tomorrow and the secretary of state will hold a news conference here before leaving for Tokyo.

Rhee has demanded the treaty as one condition for South Korea going along with an armistice in Korea. President Eisenhower promised in June to negotiate a security pact, which still must be approved by the U. S. Senate.

The treaty was reported patterned closely after the security pact between the United States and The Philippines. It provides that the United States will come to the aid of South Korea in the event of new Communist aggression. It also provides for basing American troops in South Korea.

Dulles met two hours and 45 minutes with Rhee today. He said he would have "some progress" to report tomorrow.

Dulles said he would have a final meeting with the South Korean President at 10 a. m. Saturday (8 p. m. EST Friday) then would fly to Tokyo.

Haymes Denies He Used Draft Dodge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Crooner Dick Haymes today awaits a hearing in about two weeks that may mean deportation to his native Argentina.

Immigration officials arrested the 34-year-old singer yesterday on a charge of entering the United States illegally last June 1 after a Honolulu sojourn with his newest heart interest, actress Rita Hayworth.

Haymes posted a $500 surety bond pending the hearing. He said the arrest was just a technicality and expressed belief it could be straightened out.

The McCarran Immigration Act, adopted last year, provides that an alien who leaves continental United States may not re-enter.

Herman R. Landon, District director of the U. S. Immigration Service, said it would take an act of Congress for the crooner to become a citizen.

Landon said Haymes claimed draft exemption in 1944 as a neutral alien, a citizen of Argentina. Landon said that when Haymes' Philadelphia draft board honored his claim he signed a statement that "I am forever ineligible to become a citizen of the United States."

Haymes denied he claimed Argentine citizenship to evade the draft. He said he twice tried to enlist but was rejected for hypertension (high blood pressure).

His estranged wife, Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes, confirmed this and said: "After he was turned down, he went all over the country on USO tours."

Haymes said he applied for American citizenship some time ago and has his first papers. The son of an Irish mother and an English father, he left Argentina when he was four months old. The family lived in Paris throughout most of the 20s.

Dick Haymes

Haymes and the former Mrs. Errol Flynn were married in 1949 after his divorce from actress Joanne Dru, by whom he had three children.

Nora's attorney said she would postpone a contemplated divorce action until the immigration matter is settled. The lawyer said previously that Haymes wants a quick divorce.

The crooner has acknowledged he is in love with Miss Hayworth, ex-wife of Moslem Prince Aly Khan. But when a reporter asked Haymes yesterday whether he plans to marry Rita, the crooner halted the interview with "Goodbye!"

Victims Of Propaganda In Prisons

FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP)—Liberated Americans said today some American prisoners of war and at least one Briton have swapped freedom for life under Communist rule.

An Ohio soldier said three Americans in his group went back even as their truck rumbled toward the Panmunjom exchange site.

Cpl. Charles Bryant Jr., of Cincinnati said they apparently wanted to remain with the Reds.

Many South Koreans also were reported to have chosen to remain in the north, some as the result of intense Communist propaganda, others because they believed Chinese warnings they would be killed if they returned.

Pfc. William Davis of Hearne, Texas, said "10 or 12" Americans were being held in Red camps awaiting trial on various charges—most of them "instigating against the peace."

He said one enlisted man at Pyoktong had already been sentenced to a year and was being held back from the prisoner exchange.

Two U. S. soliders just released said they knew of about seven Americans who had refused repatriation, apparently convinced by Red propaganda lectures.

Four other repatriates said at least three Americans they knew probably will remain behind of their own free will.

Cpl. James Davis of Bradshaw, Md., said the three got special treatment.

"If you hit one of them you'd be going down the road—two to five years in prison," Davis said.

"We called them G. I. Chinks or Chink lovers."

Pfc. Donald Stewart, 20, of Cincinnati; Pfc. Theopilus Parris of Huntsville, Ala.; and Pfc. Harrison West of Gary, Ind., concurred with Davis that the three, all Negroes, could not return.

The four were freed from a Red prison camp at Pyoktong near the Manchurian border.

Under the armistice terms, Allied and Red prisoners who refuse repatriation are to be turned over to a five nation commission, during which time agents from their homelands will have a chance to convince them to return.

If they still refuse repatriation they will be freed within six months after the armistice was signed.

The Communists, in a Peiping broadcast, said they have never screened prisoners to determine whether they want to return home.

The broadcast said the Reds will tell the U. N. "as soon as possible" the number of captives they hold who refuse repatriation.

Other Americans returned in today's exchange added to the mounting evidence of Communist brutality and disregard for human life.

They told of mass burials of up to 2,000 Allied prisoners, jail sentences for "instigating against the peace" and intense attempts to convert captives to communism.

Cpl. Ulysses Baugh of Little Rock told of a Chinese company commander who "threatened to cut my head off" if he didn't write an article for Communist propagandists.

Baugh said he was branded a "reactionary" because "I told him I could not write them."

"They said I was sabotaging their teaching. They had me stand at attention in the cold."

He said the commander kept pressuring him to write the article. Baugh said instead he penned a letter on his army experiences.

"I didn't sign it. They came over again threatened me with a boat ride down the Yalu River.

"I know of people who got the boat ride and I haven't seen them since."

Tax Interventions Laid At Snyder's Doorstep

WASHINGTON (AP)—House tax investigators heard testimony today that a 21 million dollar tax refund claim by Universal Pictures Corp. got swift, out of channels action at the urgent request of John Snyder, then secretary of the Treasury.

Frederick Olsen, an official of the New York office of the Internal Revenue Bureau, testified the 1948 incident was the only case in his experience where strict Treasury review regulations were "violated" in an excess profits tax case.

Although revenue agents recommended refund of almost all the company asked, the sum ultimately allowed was about 3 million dollars—some 18 millions less than Universal's claim.

Olsen and other revenue bureau officials were before a House ways and means subcommittee investigating charges of "undue influence" by high treasury officials on tax cases during the Truman administration.

Snyder's intervention in the case was detailed by extracts from the office log of former revenue bureau counsel Charles Oliphant, who resigned under fire.

Oliphant's log recounted numerous conversations in 1948 with Henry Merry, chairman of the excess profits council of the Treasury, which passes on all excess profits tax refunds, and other officials including Snyder.

The gist of the telephoning was that Snyder insisted that handling of the case be speeded.

Committee counsel John Tobin said the company stood to save considerable money as interest on the unpaid tax claim by getting the case closed out quickly.

Chairman Kean (R-NJ) of the House committee said his group means to see to it that no taxpayers bypass internal revenue officials and get treasury help at the top level from now on.

The committee had just heard that former Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder took a personal interest in a 1948 tax ruling which saved a St. Louis corporation $1,600,000 in taxes.

Kean said he did not think a secretary of the treasury ought to ask consideration for any taxpayer.

The hearings, he said, "show that in the past certain taxpayers seeking technical rulings, instead of dealing with technical officials as they should have, went to the highest spot in the Treasury—the secretary himself—for aid in influencing the ruling which they did receive."

Testimony was received yesterday that Snyder intervened personally to obtain a favorable tax ruling for Monsanto Chemical Co.

The case developed from an appeal for a ruling to the Treasury whether Monsanto should be taxed on insurance proceeds resulting from a fire and explosion destroying part of the company's plant at Texas City in 1947.

A technical question involved was whether insurance proceeds should be taxed if they were not used directly for rebuilding but to repay loans obtained earlier to get the rebuilding under way. A plan finally was worked out under which contractors obtained the loans, underwritten by Monsanto. The Treasury gave Monsanto a favorable tax ruling under this procedure.

DESERTERS IN BERLIN

A commissar of the East German people's police-force partly shields her face as she chats with a fellow policewoman in West Berlin police headquarters after both had deserted from the Soviet sector of the city. The women, waiting to be interrogated, shed their uniforms after reaching the western sector with 15 fellow policemen in a mass desertion from their Soviet-dominated jobs.

Pleads Innocent To Stomping Infant Twins

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Juanita Santine, 21, who officers said signed a statement admitting stomping her 2½-week-old twin girls, has pleaded innocent to charges of murdering the twin who died. The other is in critical condition.

The woman said she stomped the children when they wouldn't stop crying Wednesday. She was held without bond.

Ft. Worth In Thunderstorm

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather that hit Fort Worth with thunderstorms and high winds two days in a row had calmed down Friday.

Winds were gentle and the only cloudiness reported was at Del Rio.

Forecasts called for generally fair skies Friday and Saturday over all of the state except for late showers. Temperatures were expected to remain in the high 90s.

Winds and hail accompanied the high winds and locally heavy rains that were dumped on Fort Worth Thursday for the second straight day. Almost two inches of rain fell in some sections of the city.

The storm toppled trees and TV antennas. High water ran in some streets in several sections of Fort Worth, slowed traffic, and cluttered the street with debris.

Texarkana, which received .37 of an inch of rain to midnight, received more during the early morning hours Friday. It was the only thunderstorm area in the state that produced rain. The thunderheads which rose over North Central and East Texas Thursday night were all of the dry variety.

WEATHER

NORTH CENTRAL and WEST TEXAS: Generally fair through Saturday except for late afternoon and evening thundershowers. Not much change in temperatures.

EAST and SOUTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Generally fair through Saturday except for late afternoon thundershowers, mostly in north. Not much change in temperatures. Gentle to moderate southerly winds on the coast.

French Civil Workers Show Who Is Going To Cut Costs

PARIS (AP)—France's vast army of two million civil servants slapped Premier Joseph Laniel with a crippling 24-to-48 hour nationwide general strike today. They demanded he cut defense costs instead of upping their retirement age and trimming their ranks.

The protest against the Premier's rumored plans for government economies was France's worst strike since the 1936 days of Socialist Leon Blum's popular front government.

Trains ground to a halt throughout the country. Telephones were dead. Gas flickered feebly. Garbage piled up in the streets. Non-government mine workers also joined in.

Paris buses and subways ran throughout the morning, but unions decided just before noon to call out their operators immediately. That left only taxis and private automobiles for capital riders.

Otherwise the nation's business and commercial life rapidly approached paralysis. It looked like much of it would stay that way until Monday.

This was the strike picture this morning:

Postal, telegraph and telephone service—220,000 workers on indefinite strike for the last two days; mail and telegrams stopped, telephone communications slashed 90 per cent.

Railroads, mines and municipal services (street cleaners, garbage collectors, undertakers, etc.)—on 24-hour strike until midnight Saturday; gas and electricity operating on reserves; gas pressure low and expected to drop drastically; electric power likely to decline in some sections; water pressure expected to dwindle.

Unlike most French strikes, this one was not called by the Communists but by the Socialist Labor Force (Force Ouvriere) and the Christian (Catholic) Labor Federation. The Red CGT (General Confederation of Labor) joined in happily, however.

The walkout was ordered to protest reports that Laniel's 6-week-old government planned to up the retirement age for government workers from 57 to 62 and lop many employes off the public payroll.

The Premier launched an offensive of appeals and threats against the walkout. He ordered the striking telephone workers back on their jobs, threatened to suspend all striking civil service employes and warned that workers would not be paid for time off the job.

Such threats are usually not enforced, however, once a strike ends.

The Premier's retrenchment program, designed to pull the government out of near-bankruptcy, has not been announced. The rumors of its details have been widely broadcast among workers, however. To the lower-level public servants, who work long years at an average pay of less than $65 a month with retirement as their principal reward, the idea of adding several more years of duty is unthinkable.

These workers argue, like the Communist-led CGT, that the government should cut down first on military spending—38 per cent of this year's 10½-million-dollar budget.

Eisenhower Says Good Start Made By His Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower staked out a claim today that his administration has made "a good start" toward building an honest, efficient regime at home while exerting its power in the cause of world peace.

But Eisenhower conceded that his administration has by no means "seen and conquered all the problems of our nation" in its first six months.

In an all-network radio address to the American public last night, the chief executive declared this to be his "single, supreme purpose":

"To serve and to strengthen our people, all our people, in their faith in freedom and in their quest of peace; and to strengthen all peoples who share with us that faith and that quest."

It was a let's-take-a-look-at-the-record address, much of it already said before but brought up to date and keyed to last Monday's adjournment of Congress.

In it, he mentioned an even dozen actions by Congress—on such items as revised programs for defense and aid to America's allies, admission of refugees, lifting of economic controls, extension of needed if "onerous" taxes.

Even though the executive and legislative branches have had their differences, Eisenhower said, good will between them has been built up rapidly and firmly.

Overseas, he said, there has been the fostering of Western untiy, U. S. food shipments for rebellious East Germans, and a Korea truce in which "two precious victories" have been gained:

An opportunity has been won, he said, to demonstrate that free people can build in peace as boldly as they fight in war. And, in an apparent warning to Russia not to start anything elsewhere, he said Korea has shown "that the collective resolve of the free world can and will meet aggression in Asia—or anywhere in the world."

What it all adds up to, the chief executive said, is "only a little more than a beginning." And it was with caution and concern that he peered into a future he said is still filled with trial and hazard.

In effect, if not actual intent, the speech was a comeback at those Democrats who have been saying the administration record is far from impressive up to now. House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas said only yesterday that the only 1952 campaign promise the GOP has kept was that of "hard money"—they have "made it harder to get."

Immediate reaction to the Eisenhower address was almost entirely lacking among members of Congress. Many have gone home. Several senators said they had not tuned in. Some who listened declined to comment.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) did call the speech "a pretty good job and a good review of legislation passed." He said it showed that "The foundation has been laid for better things to come in the next session."

Eisenhower Very Cautious In Appraisal Of Administration

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's radio report to the nation last night on the first half-year of his administration was a pretty modest appraisal, and a very careful one.

He took some cracks at the Democrats, but not by name. He aimed his criticism at the Truman administration, not at the Democrats in the present Congress. For them he had words of praise.

In listing what he considered the accomplishments of his administration Eisenhower did not try to grab exclusive Republican credit for what was done by Congress, where the Republicans had control by the slimmest of margins.

Any time a few Republicans voted against one of his programs in Congress it was sentenced to death unless enough Democrats teamed up on his side to carry the day for him.

He praised the Democrats for their cooperation with him, indirectly, by repeated use of the word "unity." For example, in mentioning the lop-sided Senate vote, 69-10, for the foreign aid program, he said:

It "signifies an unprecedented unity that crosses party lines . . ." Again, in patting Congress on the back for simplifying customs regulations and extending the reciprocal trade program, he said: "These actions again testify to that growing unity of opinion which rises above party lines."

This was strictly in keeping with the policy he laid down for himself from the beginning in dealing with the lawmakers: avoid criticism and try for peace and harmony between Congress and the executive branch.

As a practical political matter, the Democrats probably would have been on his neck today if he had sought to make the work of Congress in 1953 look one-sidedly Republican.

Right after Congress this week put up the shutters for the year, the Democratic leader in the Senate, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, publicly reminded the Republicans of the part the Democrats had played in helping Eisenhower.

Johnson said "practically every major item of the President's program" had been supported by the Democrats and that much of it "could not have been passed without the Democrats."

By this careful handling of the congressional Democrats last night, Eisenhower not only reduced to a minimum any chance they might have for being critical of him today but left the way clear for similar good relations next year.

Next year, though, should put to a strenuous test any hope he may have now that his peaceful dealings with Congress can go on indefinitely, particularly with the Democrats. It's a congressional election year.

Eisenhower showed less restraint in the parts of his talk dealing with the Truman administration, although he did not mention it by name, either. He implied he inherited from Presisent Truman a big mess, for he said:

"The repair and reorganization of so huge a piece of political machinery as the United States government is a colossal undertaking." He explained some of what he meant:

There were still some security risks in the government when he took over and they had to be cleaned out, along with "some incompetents," and "too many people" on the payroll. And there was implied blame of the 20 years of Democratic administration for the size of the public debt.

After citing the things done by his administration, Eisenhower said:

"They all total—I repeat—only a little more than a beginning. I know of no official of this administration so foolish as to believe that we, who in January came to Washington, have seen and conquered all the problems of our nation.

"The future, both immediate and distant, remains full of trial and hazard."

Britons Ask Co-operation With Europe

LONDON (AP)—Twenty-two distinguished Britons called on the nation today to weave a closer association with continental Europe.

They demanded "a gesture from this country to match the enterprise and imagination" of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—the six nations now working toward European integration.

The 22, who included philosopher Bertrand Russell, liberal leader Clement Davies and Historian G. M. Young, issued a statement urging:

1. British participation in the common coal and steel market set up by the six nations under the Schuman Plan.

2. Full exchange of technical information and coordination of capital investment.

3. A British contingent to serve with the projected 6-nation European Army and the greatest possible standardization of equipment and organization between other British forces and the European army.

"We believe it would be in the interest of Britain no less than of Europe and of the British Commonwealth that we should formulate the terms of our association more precisely than we have yet done," the statement said.

Britain has given sideline support to the Schuman Plan coal and steel pool and the European army projects, but has fought shy of actually joining in, partly because of fear that a closer association with Europe might conflict with responsibilities to the British Commonwealth.

Foreign ministers of the six European nations are meeting in the German resort city of Baden Baden today to examine their next move toward creating a continental federation and to discuss the role of free Europe in any East-West settlement.

Border Thieves To Be Punished

EDINBURG (AP)—Juvenile thieves who operate in Texas but take refuge in Mexico have a surprise in store for them.

Hidalgo County Dist. Atty. Joe R. Alamia today said Mexican authorities have joined forces with the United States in an effort to halt the teen-age bandits.

Alamia said Mexico plans to set up an institution at Juarez where the United States may commit these juveniles for rehabilitation. In addition, Mexico plans to establish what it calls "clinics" in the principal border towns to take care of the kids who aren't sent to the institution.

Alamia was informed of the new plan today by Heraclio Rodriguez P., chief of the Department of Social Welfare, a division of the Interior Department.

The Texas Youth Council had refused to admit these alien juvenile delinquents to institutions at Gatesville and Gainesville because most of them spoke no English and there was no provision for rehabilitating them.

Previously when the children were arrested they were turned over to immigration authorities for deportation.

"They were back across the river in Texas the next day," Alamia said.

Boy Finds Whistle Is Charged Electric Wire

HICKORY, N. C., (AP)—There'll be no more whistles for little Jimmy Preslar—not for a while.

Jimmy saw a whistle on the floor of Zion Lutheran Church. Well, he thought it was a whistle.

The 4-year-old, idle while his parents cleaned the church rugs, picked up the whistle and placed it in his mouth.

His father glanced around to find Jimmy down on his knees, his face buried in the carpet.

The child was pinned fast by 120 volts of electricity from the plug of a vacuum cleaner extension cord which he had placed in his mouth. Fred Preslar jerked the cord from the socket, freeing his son.

Jimmy wound up in Hickory Memorial Hospital with severe burns of the mouth — and no whistle.

Three Fines In Liquor Cases Paid Yesterday

Three fines of $123.50 each, including court cost, were paid in county court yesterday, all concerning cases in connection with the operation of Allene's Ranch, a long-time "closed" eating establishment on the Lubbock highway.

William D. (Red) Lawhon, who presently resides at the establishment's building and is now employed in oil field supply work, paid a fine in the only case pending against him.

The charge was filed against the 36-year-old man Feb. 20 when raiding officers found liquor on his premises. Another man arrested with Lawhon claimed the liquor was his, but he was later acquitted by a jury here.

The other two fines were paid yesterday for two other men, formerly bootlegging at Allene's, by their attorney, Fred Chandler of Pecos, formerly of Colorado City.

Chandler is listed as one of two sureties on bonds for the two bootleggers, which bonds were ordered forfeited by the court when the cases were previously called and neither the sureties nor principals were present.

The bond forfeiture suits filed in civil county court are still pending, according to Wayland Holt, county attorney, who said today that the fact that the original cases against the principals had been disposed of did not alter the bond forfeiture cases.

The bootleggers for which fines of $123.50 each, including court cases were previously called and J. W. Phelps and W. H. Morehead, formerly connected with Allene's Ranch. Both men had previously been convicted here numerous times.

Two other bond forfeiture suits still pending were filed at the same time as these were. They concern the bootlegging cases of Phelps' brother, A. D. Phelps, and L. L. Hamilton, formerly of Allene's Ranch, who paid fines in their cases last May.

Bullfrog Season Set

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—New Mexico statutes call the bullfrog an animal but the State Game Commisson says bullfrogs are fish.

Season on bullfrogs: Sept. 1-15. Says the game commission:

They must be hunted with fishing equipment and eight is the daily limit.

Samuel Geddie Dies In Rotan; Rites Saturday

Funeral services for Samuel Allen Geddie, 52, Scurry County farmer, will be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Colfax Methodist Church near Van, Tex.

Martin of Lindale, Mrs. Geraldine Crowder of Snyder and Mrs. Minnie Fay Emfinger of Snyder; a son, Earle Deen Geddie of Snyder; two sisters, Mrs. A. A. Smith of Garden Valley, Tex., and Mrs. Roxie Taylor of Houston; four brothers, Oscar Geddie of Van, Jess Geddie of California, Miles Geddie of Colorado City, and Frank Geddie of Dallas, and seven grandchildren.

Naughty Goose Gets Sauce For The Gander

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Answering a complaint yesterday, Patrolman R. G. Schmudlach found that a goose had severely flogged Irving Davis Jr., 6. The boy had numerous cuts and bruises.

Other boys appeared while Irving was talking to Schmudlach and showed bruises they said the goose had inflicted.

"The goose has a mean temper," the owner admitted. "She just blows her top occasionally."

Cook it, keep it penned or get rid of it, advised Schmudlach. The owner decided on goose dinner.

Mixed Grain Range Cube Is Not Available

One type of feed is no longer available on the governments's disaster relief feed program here, Irelan Finley, PMA director, said.

The feed is a mixed grain range cube.

Finley said he received a telegram yesterday that was to notify all United State Department of Agriculture drouth committees immediately to approve no more applications for the grain cubes. because reduced freight rates are no longer applicable on commodity credit corporation shipments.

Finley said that about 12 orders had been delivered here before the ban, however.

He said the PMA county committee would continue to approve applications for other drouth emergency feeds which are still available.

Seven Texans Are In Young Presidents' Club Chapter In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Seven Young Texas business men will meet here Friday night to found a local chapter of the Young Presidents' Organization, called one of the country's most exclusive clubs.

For admission to the club you must be president of a business with a million dollar annual volume, or one that has 100 employes, before your 39th birthday.

The members are Miss Elsie Frankfurt, Page Boy Maternity Co., Dallas; John Justin Jr., H. J. Justin & Sons; W. L Spitler, Air Accessories, Fort Worth; H. E. Chiles Jr., the Western Co., Midland; Melvin Shell, Gorman Peanut Co., Gorman; and M. C. Chiles, Chiles Well Servicing Co., Alice.

The national organization is four years old. It was founded to develop modern management methods. It has 500 members to date.

Cash Across Square To Start Off Day

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Twice a day for five minutes each time all activity stops dead on busy Medford Square for a million dollars in cash.

The currency is pushed across the square in a hand cart at the start of each business day, and then back again at day's end.

The money is taken from the Middlesex County National Bank to temporary quarters in a store on the opposite sidewalk because a remodelling project is underway at the bank.

P. S.—A squad of heavily armed policemen stands guard during the transfer.

Branch Dealer For Lincoln, Mercury Here

Donald G. Brown, manager of the Wayne Smith Motors in Sweetwater, announced today the official opening of a branch of the firm here Saturday.

The Suyder branch, of the firm for new Lincolns and Mercurys, will also be known as Wayne Smith Motors, Brown said. The firm in Sweetwater, is the franchised Lincoln-Mercury dealership there.

The branch here will be operated by Brown, who is to remain general manager of the Sweetwater business.

Brown said he would open the business with a good selection of new automobiles, all of which are entirely unused and have factory warranties. The business will open with several used cars on its lot also.

The business is located at 503 East Highway.

Brown, 33, plans to move here from Sweetwater. He is married and has a daughter, 6, and a son, 4. Brown is a Mason, a Shriner, member of the First Baptist Church at Sweetwater, and has attended Texas Technological College. He was an officer and pilot in the Air Force during World War II.

Hermleigh Boy Is Playing In All-Star Game

Jimmy Cooper, all-district 5-B end from Hermleigh will be in the all-star North-South football game tonight in Houston.

The game, part of the week-long coaching school now in progress, matches the best grid players from the north part of the state against those of the south part.

Cooper is believed to be the only player selected from a class B team. He led Hermleigh in pass receiving last year with 31 catches for 945 yards. His average gain per pass caught was 30.5 yards.

With the 18-year-old gridder in Houston are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cooper and Hermleigh High School Coach Charlie White. White is attending the coaching school.

A three-year letterman, Cooper plans to enter Texas Christian University in Fort Worth this fall.

Ira Revival Meeting Will Begin On Sunday

A week of revival meetings has been scheduled at the Ira Baptist Church beginning Sunday, according to its pastor, the Rev. C. J. Smith.

The evangelist will be the Rev. Marvin E. Burgess of St. Paul, Minn., former instructor at Hardin - Simmons University.

An electric amplifier with outside speaker will be used for benefit of any aged or invalid persons who wish to remain in cars at the services, Mr. Smith said.

The pastor announced services would begin at 10 o'clock each morning and 8 o'clock each night.

LAUGHING POPLARS

The trees whose wavering branches droop to the earth are called weeping willows. Why not call these tall fellows, with the firm upward-reaching branches, laughing poplars?

People are like trees. Some droop listlessly under the burden of their own existence. They spend most of their days weeping.

Others stand upright and firm, undaunted by life's threatening storms. They can laugh, and their laughter spreads courage through the world.

Trees never change. The willow remains a willow; the poplar, a poplar.

But people do change. For centuries the Christian religion has been turning man's sorrow into joy, his weakness into strength.

Start worshipping every Sunday, and discover why churches are the back-bone of our civilization!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

ZERNIAL GOES DOWN

Gus Zernial, Philadelphia Athletics outfielder, is tagged out at the plate in the first inning of game with the Chicago White Sox in Philadelphia. Gus tried to score from second on Eddie Robinson's single to right. Sam Mele's throw to Sox catcher Sherman Lollar cut him down at the plate. Umpire Art Passarolla called the play.

Yankees Can Wrap Up Their Fifth Pennant This Week End

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Mathematicians to the contrary, the New York Yankees have an opportunity this weekend to wrap up their fifth straight American League pennant.

The figure fiberts can show you this isn't so, that no matter what happens in the Yanks' four games with the Chicago White Sox starting today all eight teams in the league will still remain potential flag winners.

But if the Yankees should win all four those fellows with the figures are going to have a mighty hard time convincing many folks that the race isn't over.

New York led Chicago by five games going into today's contest. Following tomorrow's doubleheader and a single game Sunday the Yankees will have 46 games left to play. The White Sox will have 44.

A 9-game lead this late in the season normally is as good as gold. A White Sox sweep on the other hand—cutting the Yankee margin to a single game—would turn it into a real dog fight.

The White Sox are bound to be the sentimental favorites the country over since they represent hope and opportunity against the long entrenched Yankees. It might seem a lot to expect of them, or any other club, to win four in a row from the Yankees on their own home grounds. The Sox, however, have done it before. They have won their last outing at Yankee Stadium, dating back to July, 1952.

In their final preps for the big series the Yankees defeated Detroit 5-2 yesterday without much effort while the White Sox rallied for five runs in the eighth to edge Philadelphia, 6-4. Chicago has won eight out of 10 on its Eastern road trip; the Yankees have taken seven of nine on their current home stand.

Milwaukee kept alive its fleeting pennant hopes in the National League with a split against first place Brooklyn. The Dodgers took the first game 4-3 on Pee Wee Reese's bases-loaded single in the 11th inning. Milwaukee won the nightcap as sub Harry Hanebrink turned Frank Merriwell and delivered a triple with two out, the bases loaded and the Braves trailing by two runs in the last of the ninth inning. The score was 3-2.

Warren Spahn, who hasn't beaten Brooklyn in two seasons, blew an early lead in the first game, was saved temporarily when Del Crandall tied the score with a home run in the eighth, and then lost as Billy Cox and Carl Erskine singled and Junior Gilliam walked prior to Reese's single.

Russ Meyer, who shut out the Braves in the first game of the series, almost saved the nightcap as he came on with two aboard and retired the next two batters in the ninth. But Sid Gordon worked him for a walk and he grooved a pitch to Hanebrink that lost the game.

In other National League action Harvey Haddix of the St. Louis Cardinals had a no-hitter going for eight innings before Philadelphia nicked him for a pair of singles in the ninth. He escaped with a 2-0 shutout, his 14th victory of the year. New York broke a 6-game losing streak at the expense of Chicago, 12-6. Pittsburgh won its third in a row from Cincinnati, 4-3.

Ted Williams returned to the Boston Red Sox as a futile pinch hitter as the Sox bowed to St. Louis 8-7 in 10 innings. Bobby Young homered in the 10th. Williams, batting with two on and one out in the ninth, popped out.

Washington dumped Cleveland 4-1 with Frank Shea winning his ninth game. Jackie Jensen collected three singles as Bobby Feller suffered his sixth loss.

The Giants came out of their slump with an eight run eighth inning that featured 3-run home runs by Monte Irvin and Al Dark.

Ted Williams At Bat Again

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, the last of the .400-hitters, is back in competitive action and most likely will be the Boston Red Sox' starting left fielder again in about two weeks.

Williams went to bat for the first time since April 30, 1952 in a crucial pinch-hitting situation during yesterday's game with the St. Louis Browns.

With the Red Sox trailing, 6-7, in the ninth with runners on third and first with one out, Manager Lou Boudreau told Williams: "Ted, I've got to use you now."

Thereupon Williams batted for rookie outfielder Tom Umphlett and lofted relief pitcher Marlin Stuart's fourth pitch into the eager hands of first baseman Dick Kryhoski.

Stuart's first pitch to Williams was a strike and the next a ball. Williams then brought the 6,792 spectators to their feet by lashing a foul into the right field stand.

After the dejected Williams returned to the dugout, Jim Piersall singled in the tying run. But Bob Young homered the Browns into an 8-7 victory in the 10th.

"I saw the ball good all the way," Williams explained. "Stuart threw me four screwballs. That's a good ball to hit on the ground but I wanted to get it up in the air, not into a double play. But I got under it too much."

"Yes, that's all I gave Ted," Stuart agreed. "You see a screwball goes away from a lefthanded hitter and it's fairly effective. But I wasn't worried about Williams doing anything much against me. He's only got one single off me—to left field—since I came into the league."

Actually Williams, who rejoined the Red Sox only 10 days ago after 15 months service as a Marine jetfighter pilot, is delighted about his physical condition despite his blistered hands.

"I'm much farther advanced than I expected to be at this time," he explained.

South Edges North 54-53 Last Night

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

HOUSTON (AP)—The South held its third victory in nine times of trying today in the All-star basketball game of the Texas Coaching School but there were those who contended the North was deprived of an opportunity to win by failure of officials to call time on an out-of-bounds in the final six seconds.

The game went into the records as 54-53 last night and it was the South's second decision in three years, after it had won the first game of the series in 1946.

What happened in those last tense seconds confused the players and the crowd of 4,000 that turned out to see the schoolboy stars hook up in a run-and-shoot game in which Jim Swink of Rusk and giant Ellis Olmstead of Galveston were the difference.

Jack McCall of Temple, playing forward for the South, had taken the ball on an out-of-bounds. In attempting to pass, he struck his leg with the ball and it rolled between two North players and went into the stands. By the time it was retrieved time had run out.

Bill Henderson, coach of Baylor who was tutoring the North, said the officials were correct—that it was a matter of judgement with them as to whether the ball was in such a position as to call for a time out in order to retrieve it. "I was satisfied with the rulings and have no complaint," Henderson said.

Basketball coaches who saw the game were divided in their opinions as to whether time out should have been called.

But anyway, it was a thriller-diller of a ball game despite the 94 degrees in the steaming gymnasium and the North, a decided underdog, led until five minutes remained in the third period when the South pulled up even. The South led 38-36 as the whistle blew ending the quarter. But it wasn't long until the North had tied it up only to see the South go ahead by five points on the shooting of McCall, Olmstead and Glen Fields of Big Sandy. Then Delbert Shofner of Center and Stanley Airington of Bowie went to work and pulled into a tie with three minutes to go.

Shofner sank a layup to put the North ahead but Swink looped in a free throw and a layup to pull the South back ahead. Then little Ramon Towry of Vernon sifted through for a field goal to again shoot the North in front. Swink tied it up with a free throw but Fred Woods of Pampa put the North back ahead with a free throw. McCall hit a fielder to again shove the South in front and Jerry Mallet of South Park (Beaumont) put on the clincher with two free throws. Jim Skinner of Irving rammed home a field goal for the North to complete the scoring for the ninth but it was one point short.

The South had the edge in controlling the ball, showing 39 rebounds to 27 for the North. Dick O'Neal of Poly (Fort Worth) was the leader at taking the ball off the backboard, the great North center capturing 11. But Olmstead wasn't far behind—he came up with the ball 10 times. Olmstead, a 6-foot-9½ youngster, had two tip-in field goals.

Swink was voted outstanding player of the game although Olmstead was high point man with 14. Swink made 11 points. O'Neal looped in 12.

Tigers Take Undisputed Lead In Pony League Last Night

TWO TIES BROKEN

The Courthouse Tigers downed the Lions Club Phillies 6 to 2 last night to take uncontested leadership in the Pony League.

In the first game last night the Scurry Butane Dodgers had downed the Von Roeder Red Sox 10-3 to break the tie for third place.

Last nights games gives the teams season records of: Tigers 4-1, Phillies 3-2, Dodgers 2-3, and Red Sox 1-4.

A big fourth inning for the Dodgers put the game on ice. They had led off with two runs in the first inning and two more in the second. The Red Sox made one run in the second inning, and had a rally going in the seventh which netted two runs before it died, leaving the losers seven runs behind.

John Partain, winning pitcher for the Dodgers gave up only 2 hits, fanned 10 batters, and passed four on balls. The loser, J. T. Meyers, gave up eight hits, walked three, and had three strikeouts. Meyers was relieved in the fifth inning by Kenneth Keyser, who fanned none, walked one, and gave up one hit.

Powell Berry started scoring for the Dodgers when as first batter he knocked the ball out of the park for a homer. Tommy Falls got the Dodgers second run in the first inning when he got on base on a fielder's choice and was pushed around to score on a three-base hit off the bat of Milton Hamm.

The Red Sox in the top of the second, got their first run when Orville Faulk got on base on an error, went to second on an overthrow, then stole third and home bases. In the bottom of the second Harley Merritt and John Partain scored for the Dodgers.

In their big six-run fourth inning the Dodger's Ronnie Baker got on via a fielder's choice and came around the bags on a long fly ball by Partain. Berry got a hit to score Partain, and Falls got one to score Berry. Then a base on balls put Hamm on, and a homer by Ronald Smith accounted for three runs to end scoring in the game.

For the Dodgers it was 10 runs from nine hits and three errors, and for the Red Sox it was three runs, two hits, and two errors.

In the second game, the Tigers made six runs from three hits and had two errors, and the Phillies two runs from two hits and five errors.

Winning pitcher was Duane Prince, with 10 strikeouts, four walks, and two hits. The loser was Robbie Robbinson who fanned 13, walked seven, and gave up three hits. Tommy Pritchard who relieved Prince in the sixth struck out one and allowed no walks or hits.

Scoring for the Phillies was Carol Wiley and Richard Snyder who both stole home base for their only runs of the game.

Tiger scorers were Joe Reeves, driven in by three-base hit by Jimmy Allen in the third.

Humble Wins First Game Of Playoffs

Humble won the first game of the final playoff for championship of the City Softball League 1-0 over Texaco last night.

A second win tonight would make the Humble team the league champs for this season, but if Texaco wins tonight, a third game to be played next week will be necessary.

Clay Feagan was the winning pitcher for Humble. He gave up four hits. Potsi Neeper was the loser. He allowed two hits, and Humble's winning run was unearned.

Humble had one run, two hits, and no errors, and Texaco had no runs from four hits, and two errors.

Late Summer Flowers Make Good Arrangements

By DOLORES KETCHERSID

Although hot dry winds have ruined flowers in the yards of most Snyder residents some of the blossoms, although slightly bedraggled, can be arranged pleasingly, according to a local gardner, Mrs. WADE WINSTON.

Zinnias which have proved to be about the hardiest flower in this section of the country can be arranged with their own foliage in pottery, brass or wicker containers. A simple line arrangement may be used with the largest and darkest flower on the bottom and tapering off to the lightest and smaller one at the top. A mass arrangment with the center of interest in the center of the bouquet is also effective with zinnias, she said.

But regardless of the arrangement or kind of flower used, the best rule to follow during the hot weather season is to keep the arrangments simple and airy. Mrs. Winston likes to float a single flower in cool-looking water. She also likes transparent crystal set on a mirror which would reflect the greenery and water. Flowers for a psychological cooling off are necessarily softly colored. Brilliant colors are saved for winter use, Mrs. Winston said. Dried arrangements shouldn't be used until winter, she said. Blossoms which are available for arrangements now are cockscomb, peonies, dahlias, marigolds, snapdragons and some roses.

Although she prefers to use the plant's own foliage for filler, bells of Ireland "make a handsome filler for just nearly anthing," Mrs. Winston said. Another filler which is popular here is hedge, she said.

Other rules to observe when placing flowers in a vase are that the blossoms must harmonize in arrangement with the shape of the container. (In an aside Mrs. Winston quipped that it was a "container" until it reached the $20 bracket at which point it abruptly becomes a "vial.") Care also must be taken that formal flowers such as roses or dahlias must not be mixed with informal ones such as zinnias.

The flowers must be placed so that they not only blend with the color but also the furniture in a room, the gardener said. For example, when she places flowers on the oblong coffee table, she chooses a long low arrangement instead of a high massive one. She saves modern arrangements in blocky vases for other rooms of the house than the ones that have her eighteenth century furniture.

Mrs. Winston cautioned that when arranging flowers one must not stay too close to rules that their own personality isn't expressed in the arrangements.

HERE FROM HAWAII

Mrs. ARTHUR JANK greeted her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. KEEBLE, with leis of orchids, ginger blossoms and carnations when she stepped from a plane in Midland Monday night. She has been vacationing and working in Hawaii but will live in Snyder while her husband in stationed in Germany.

Although she has been in the states only a few days she is already missing the noise of the palm trees, she said. Her deep sun tan is not of the caliber acquired under a sun lamp, but came from spending most of the day at Waikiki Beach. However, she wasn't playing all that time. At least about two hours every day she was taking dictation from a psychiatrist, Franz Alexander.

A Hungarian by birth, Alexander was a contempary of Freud's, she said. He is now head of the psychology department of the University of Chicago. Mrs. Jank and her husband met the psychiartrist on the ship going to Hawaii. The three got to know each other well, and, as a result, Mrs. Jank was employed by him when she decided to stay on the island for a short time.

She said Alexanler never tried to psychoanalyze his friends because he said he preferred "not to see what is underneath."

Do you have a recipe for orange coffee cake? H. A.

The recipe calls for 1 and ½ cups sifted enriched flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 1 beaten egg, 2-3 to ¾ cup milk, 3 tablespoons melted shortening, 2 teaspoons shredded orange rind, orange topping.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine egg, milk, shortening and orange rind. Add to flour mixture, stirring until mixture is smooth. Pour into greased 8-inch square pan. Sprinkle with orange topping. Bake in hot oven for about 25 minutes.

The topping can be made from 2 teaspoons shredded orange rind and ¼ cup sugar. Mix rind and sugar.

We are preparing for a vacation. What foods should we avoid when eating at restaurants in strange towns? J. S.

Avoid cold fish, meat or eggs. Cakes or pastries with moist fillings also might be spoiled if they aren't refrigerated well. All are easily contaminated. Make sure milk is a standard brand, served in a sealed container or bottle.

Incidentally, since most persons don't usually confine their eating to mealtime you might pack raisins, dates apricots or raw carrots for munching. Evaporated milk and canned fruit juices are easy to store and useful to carry. Spills can be avoided by punching a hole in the can and drinking through a straw.

INDISPENSABLE THINGS

Ted Norton

Without faith it is impossible to please God. (Heb. 11:5, 6). Even as Enoch pleased God with his faith so must the Christian. Man without faith is without excuse in God's sight, for "the invisible things" of God are clearly seen "by the things that are made" (Rom. 1:18-21).

Apart from Christ Jesus, a man can do nothing (John 15: 1-6). It is just as impossible for one to be saved and not be in Christ as it is for a branch to bear fruit and not be in the vine. "The branches" are men, individuals—not churches see verse 6.

Without a preacher, a man cannot know of Jesus (Rom. 10: 13, 14). One may ask, "Is it not possible for a person to read and study the New Testament and learn the will of God?" There are some isolated instances where this has been done Even then, the reader was learning from the pen of inspired preachers such as Peter, Paul, John and others.

Without the shedding of blood, there is no remission of sin. (Heb. 9:22). The blood of animals did not take away sin (Heb. 10: 1-4). The precious blood of Christ is that which redeems man from sin (1 Pet. 1:18, 19). But a person must be in Christ "in whom" he has redemption through His blood (Eph. 1: 7). Now the question, "How does a person enter Christ?" The New Testament says men are "baptized into Christ," (Rom. 6: 3, 4; Gal. 3:26, 27).

Wthout holiness (sanctification) no man shall see the Lord (Heb. 12: 14-16). To be holy, a child of God must think of pure thoughts (Phil. 4: 8). Thoughts express themselves in words and actions. One who keeps his speech pure and his conduct above reproach reveals that he is holy.

Wthout chastisement no one can be a faithful son of God (Heb. 12:8). Parents chasten their children for their profit, because they love their children. God chasteneth whom He loveth (Heb. 12: 5-7). Everyone who "Strives against sin" is chastened, but it will yield "peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby," (Heb. 12: 3, 4, 11).

Without works, faith is dead (James 2: 25). "Faith only" will not save (James 2:24). Neither does James teach that one is saved by "works only." But as Paul says, "faith which worketh by love" will avail (Gal. 5: 6).

Without love, our deeds profit nothing (1 Cor. 13: 1-3). Jesus said "If ye love me, keep my commandments" (John 14:15). This love motivates obedience to His word. There are two extremes: One is zeal over what the New Testament says but does not obey—this is "faith only." The other is zeal over "good works" but cares little what the New Testament says—this is "works only." The New Testamest teaches man to combine the two. "I will show thee my faith by my works" (James 2:18). A tree is known by its fruits. So are people.

Science-Fiction Films Are Big Business For Carlson

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A joke making the Hollywood rounds:

"How come that Richard Carlson appears in so many science fiction movies?"

"Oh, he's part Martian!"

The person who is most amused by the gag is Richard Carlson. He can afford to laugh—he's the busiest actor in Hollywood.

Carlson has been working like a beaver in such pseudo-science epics as "The Magnetic Monster," "It Came From Outer Space," 'Riders to the Stars" and "The Maze" (although he classifies the latter as more of a horror story).

Why is he so much in demand for such films?

"I guess it's because in every science fiction story there has to be a scientist," he theorized. "I'm one of the few actors who look the academic type. People believe that I might have just stepped out of a laboratory."

The actor's professorial look comes naturally. He was a Phi Beta Kappa at the University of Minnesota, where he graduated Summa Cum Laude in English and European history. He also studied at Harvard for a semester before he decided to follow the less bookish life of being an actor.

I asked him if he thought his educational background helped or hindered his career.

"Of course, it has helped," he replied. "The more an actor knows, the better he is in his job.

"But I'll admit that some people have looked at me askance. I remember my first big stage job, a long run in the road company of 'Three Men On a Horse,' Hume Cronyn and I were the only ones in the cast who had even been to high school. The other actors viewed us as something of an oddity."

Carlson's career has not been limited to plotting space travel and combatting invaders from other planets. He also keeps busy in other, not so breathless films. He does a number of TV dramatic shows when he has the time. He is now starring in a 39-part TV film series called "I Led Three Lives," based on the true adventures of a Communist spy for the FBI.

"A lot of actors won't touch TV," he observed. "I think they are making a bad decision. When I do a show like Robert Montgomery's, I am seen by a huge audience. I figured it would take me 36 years of playing 'Mister Roberts' in Chicago to reach as big an audience. It would take a movie 13 years of playing four shows a day at the Radio City Music Hall."

Busy enough as an actor, Carlson has now branched out as a director. He directed "Riders to the Stars" for the company which he, producer Ivan Tors and writer Curt Siodmak have together.

GOP Hit For Not Passing New Civil Rights Law In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D, Lib-NY) said today the record of the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress in the field of civil rights completed was a total blank on civil rights legislation.

But Sen. Ives (R-NY), in a separate interview, said he is convinced the Republicans have a better chance of enacting civil rights legislation than the Democrats.

Lehman said that, of more than a dozen civil rights bills introduced in the Senate this year, not a single one even got so far as a committee hearing.

In recent Democratic Congresses, he said, Senate committees not only held hearings on such measures but reported them to the floor. Some of these were called up for debate but never passed, largely because of Southern Democratic opposition which used lengthy speeches to block them.

The New York Democrat emphasized that former President Truman often spoke out for civil rights bills. But the White House this year provided Congress no leadership on the issue, Lehman said, adding: "They just sat on their hands."

President Eisenhower, in his nationwide radio report on his administration and Congress, asserted last night, without elaboration:

"We have used the power of the federal government, wherever it clearly extends, to combat and erase racial discrimination and segregation—so that no man of any color or creed will ever be able to cry, 'This is not a free land.'"

This appeared to be a re-statement of Eisenhower's previously expressed view that there should be no racial segregation, but that the states should handle their own problems except in cases falling under federal jurisdiction.

Eisenhower's administration recently banned racial segregation in schools on U. S. military reservations. The Justice Department is taking a hand in several segregation suits now before the Supreme Court.

Ives was one of 16 prominent Eastern Republicans who signed a statement last August declaring that a GOP victory in November would hasten enactment of a civil rights program.

As to this contention Lehman commented "It certainly did not work out that way this year."

However, Ives said today the Democrats never had succeeded in getting key civil rights measures enacted.

He said he planned to push ahead in the second week of January next year with hearings on a Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) measure.

Ives and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) wrote it, and introduced it with 17 co-sponsors last January.

The bill would give the proposed commission compulsory powers to enforce its rulings against discrimination in employment but only as a last resort. Small businesses would not be affected.

A voluntary FEPC measure, with persuasion and publicity as its weapons, was introduced on the first day of the 1953 session by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill).

Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), head of a judiciary subcommittee to which it was referred, said he hoped to have hearings on it next year.

President's 'Gradualism' Gets Results On His Key Measures

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower stressed, in his speech to the governors Conference yesterday, the importance of the 400 million dollars Congress voted for fighting the Communists in Indochina.

The money was important to his foreign program. The way his administration went about getting it illustrates Eisenhower's own development in handling Congress.

He has a theory of government he called gradualism. In a news conference July 22 he said he considers it his job to bring people in Congress and the executive branch together to achieve progress for the United States.

This was more than six months after he began dealing with Congress. In that time he himself showed some of this gradualism: in the sense of a gradual change in handling the lawmakers.

He started off the 1953 session by having members of Congress into the White House for breakfast or lunch, trying for a very personal and friendly relationship. That was still his goal at the end of the session.

But in the beginning he seemed to rely on an attitude of "after I lay my proposals before Congress it can suit itself and things should work out all right."

At the end he had reached a point of putting heat on Congress, or individual members, to get approval for what he thought important.

Shortly after becoming president he asked Congress' okay on a resolution condemning Russia for breaking agreements and enslaving people.

It suited the Democrats. But the Republicans wanted to add a paragraph critical of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, who made the agreements. The Democrats would not stand for that. The Republicans, with Eisenhower apparently keeping hands off, let the whole business drop.

The President persisted, pretty well in trying to get some main parts of his program through without making anyone mad until Rep. Daniel A. Reed, New York Republican, strode directly into his path and stood there like a wall.

Reed, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, wanted the excess profits tax on corporations to die, as it had been scheduled to die, on June 30. Eisenhower wanted it extended to next Dec. 31.

Through his influence with the other Republican leaders in the House, Eisenhower rammed the extension through over Reed's head. This was a humiliating experience for a man as powerful as Reed. But Eisenhower got what he wanted.

And he particularly wanted 400 million dollars for aid to Indochina, where the French and Indochinese are fighting Communists. The House voted the money. The Senate decided 300 millions was enough.

State Department officials urged key senators to vote the full 400 millions. Officials of the Mutual Security Administration explained some of the reasons why they wanted 400 millions. Some reasons involved secret uses of the money.

The result: Just a few hours before it quit Monday night, the Senate voted for 400 millions also.

Just how far Eisenhower may have to go, or be willing to go, in getting Congress to do what he wants is something he will have to work out for himself between now and the end of his term.

It is in trying to prove his theory of gradualism—getting Congress and the administration to work better together—that Eisenhower will miss the late Sen. Robert A. Taft most. And just because Taft is gone, Eisenhower will be forced more and more into his own personal gradualism: his own development in dealing with Congress.

Fish Makes Very Good Fishing Barometer

DURANGO, Colo. (AP)—Hoyt Miller, junior high school principal in season and a fisherman whenever opportunity presents, keeps a fishing barometer in his back yard.

It's a trout in the Miller pool. When the trout is frisky, Miller says, fishing usually is good.

When the trout appears lazy and disinterested — well, Miller goes fishing anyway. But he says he doesn't bring many home those days.

Pvt. Smith With 2nd Infantry In Korea

Pvt. Bobby J. Smith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith, 1010 Twenty-eighth Street, has been assigned to the Second Infantry Division in Korea.

Pvt. Smith, 18, entered the army last November and underwent basic training at Fort Bliss. He is a graduate of Snyder High School and was employed in oil field work before entering the army.

Shrine To Be Put In Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP)—Every state in the nation will participate in building a national historical shrine that may cost as much as 40 million dollars on Pine Mountain near Warm Springs, Ga.

Plans for the gigantic memorial were announced by Charles F. Palmer of Atlanta, war-time special assistant to President Franklin D. Roosevelt whose vacation retreat was near the site.

Palmer, chairman of the Hall of Our History, a non-profit educational corporation organized in 1952, estimated it will take 10 years to complete the monolithic structure.

The shrine to American history will be 400 feet long, 280 feet wide and 90 feet high. It will be in the form of an open hall upon whose walls will be inscribed in high relief a chronological history of the United States.

About $145,000, contributed by two sources of private wealth that prefer to remain anonymous, have spent on research, plans and models for the project.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay of New York is vice-chairman, and Robert V. Fleming of Washington, D. C. is treasurer of the organization sponsoring the shrine.

Palmer, a prominent Atlanta real estate developer, said he expects ground breaking ceremonies to be held later this year. Public participation in support of the monument will begin in February, 1954, he said.
