Sewing Room To Be Established In Loraine

Loraine has been granted a sewing room as a CWA project and unemployed ladies in Loraine who really need work will get to sewing within the next few days. Arrangements have not been completed for a building in which to house the enterprise and as soon as such arrangements are made work will start.

This project will mean a great deal to destitute families in and around Loraine who are badly in need of clothing. Old garments will be taken and repaired into garments suitable for wear, quilts will be made from scraps and some new material may be bought. These quilts and garments will be given to those who are not able to buy them.

People in Loraine and surrounding country who have old clothes that can be repaired, or scraps of goods suitable for use in this project are asked to leave them at the city hall or notify either Miss Fern Coon or J. W. King. The call is urgent and the people are respectfully asked to respond.

AUTO CODE GAVE JOBS TO 25,000 UNEMPLOYED

Washington.—When President Roosevelt approved the application of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce for extension of the code of fair competition of the automobile industry from December 31 to September 1, 1934, he considered a report of National Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson which revealed interesting statistics. These showed that the members of the organization, representing 78 percent of production capacity and 95 percent of the units in the industry, increased employment from 125,600 last July to 150,700 in September, when the code went into effect, or 20 percent, with pay rolls increased from $12,700,000 to $14,700,000, or 16 percent. That re-employment was not the result of increased production was obvious. Man-hours were decreased from 21,300,000 in July to 19,600,000 in September, or 8 percent.

181 CODES HAVE BEEN APPROVED BY PRESIDENT

Washington.—Approval by President Roosevelt of 7 more codes brought the total now effective to 181. The latest approvals were for the following industries, all resulting in increased employment and higher minimum rates of pay: Paper distributing trade, commercial refrigerator, watch-case manufacturing, medium and low priced jewelry, silverware manufacturing, photo engraving, and electrotyping.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Attendance for the first Sunday of the new year was good and a very great manifestation of interest was evident as classes began a six-months course of study of the book of Mathew, which will deal principally with the life, teachings and events in the ministry of Jesus.

Bro. Phillips read as the devotional lesson Mathew 1:1-25: 2:1-23 and Micah 5:2 which was the lesson material for Sunday school study.

There were 76 in class attendance, 38 of whom were daily readers and a total of 409 chapters read. There were five present who had not missed attending Sunday school a Sunday during 1933. There were two who reported that they had read every day during the past year. We hope there will be a larger percentage to read daily and attend services regularly for 1934.

We began Sunday school services promptly at 10 a. m. Communion service at 11 a. m. We welcome your presence at all services. Reporter.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Rev. Meador's message at the 11 o'clock hour was from the 11 chapter of Acts, 24th verse. The subject was "Barbanis a good man." Our presiding elder, Rev. Long, brought the message at the evening hour.

A short session of quarterly conference was held after services.

Mrs. Meador asks that all intermediates meet with her at 6 o'clock to organize an Intermediate League. She earnestly requests all to meet in her home Friday night.

J. A. Faulkenberry has just finished the S. W. Erving house at Pleasant Valley, and says it is a very nice structure.

Work on graveling twenty blocks of streets in Loraine has been delayed until further word is received from Austin. The project was approved with the understanding that the city would furnish $317 of the team and truck hire. The city has agreed to furnish this amount but approval from Austin has not yet been received.

Work on leveling the school ground and building a rock fence around the ground has been started and about fifty men are at work on the project.

ELECTRICAL TRADE REPORTS CODE BRINGS 'DEFINITE STABILIZATION'

Washington.—Four months of operation under its code of fair competition, including the filing of price lists, "have resulted in a definite and desirable stabilization of the electrical manufacturing industry," according to a report submitted to NRA by the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, constituting the industry's code authority. The code was the fourth approved by the President, and became effective August 15.

The complexity of the industry has "involved a mass of detailed work, which is still in progress, in bringing the industry into conformity with the code provisions, but such organization as has been accomplished," according to the report, "has provided a means for the systematic consideration of the problems specific to each branch of the industry and their solution, in the light of the specific interest of each, which coincidentally providing a centralized consideration of problems common to all."

The extreme diversity in the electrical trade was recognized in approving the code, and its provisions were confined to essentials in operation. The main thing was to spread hours and give more work to unemployed. The report states that provisions have been prepared which, upon careful study, "should be found to have general industry application." These have been approved by the industry and will shortly be submitted to NRA for approval. In addition, 26 supplemental codes, specific to individual products, are in various stages of completion, and others are under consideration.

Data on labor conditions was collected from 871 plants employing 179,000 workers. Sixty percent of plants reporting are now paying their lower-rated employees at rates higher than in 1929. Minimum rates for men are 40 cents an hour or more in 47 percent of the plants. Of plants that employ women, 38 percent are paying minimum rates of 40 cents or more.

Comparing data for 367 identical plants employing 85,543 workers, 191 had minimum rates in 1929 of less than 32 cents an hour. In June 1933, the number of these plants had increased to 256. In 1929, 80 plants paid minimum rates of 40 cents an hour or over; in June 1933, only 57. Of the 367 identical plants, 150 now pay 40 cents or more. Learners restricted by the code to 5 percent of total processing employees, now number 3.4 percent.

Approximately 2,700 manufacturers in 65 branches have filed price lists and "a definite and desirable stabilization has resulted," the report states. There is "little if any indication that prices are being unreasonably increased, although some complaints have been received," the report continues, and concludes: "The complaints so far received have been so few in number as to permit individual investigation."

New Year's passed quietly in official Washington. The usual White House reception was omitted, and the President put in the day at work. Some persons make it a point to keep busy on the first of January, under the superstition that if they are employed on that day, they will have work for a twelvemonth thereafter. It is not necessary for a President of the United States to resort to any such theory, and of course Mr. Roosevelt will find plenty for his hands to do during 1934.

The first change in the President's official family has taken place. Mr. Woodin is out, under resignation, due to ill health, his office as Secretary of the Treasury having been taken, as was expected, by Mr. Henry Morgenthau, Jr. Mr. Morgenthau has been looked upon with suspicion in some quarters, but states that the policy of the treasury, under his administration, will remain unchanged. Perhaps Mr. Morgenthau is known best by his handling of the Farm Credit Administration, although that is not his only achievement, by any means. The papers have a good deal to say about Mr. Morgenthau, and not much to say about Mr. Woodin. That however, represents the difference between coming in and going out. The one man welcome quiet, the other looks forward to a wider activity. So far as the public is concerned, it may rest assured that although the workman may perish, the work will go on.

By the time these words are in print, the 73rd Congress of the United States will be in session. Few legislative bodies in this country have opened for business with more serious problems confronting them. There will be the old question of spending freely, or passing out the public funds under greater check and restriction. To most of us, a dollar is a dollar, but Congress may have to decide what a dollar is. It would be strange if Congress did not have to undo some of the things that it has done in the past, as emergency legislation. Perhaps the most difficult task will be the drawing of the line of demarcation between the powers of legislative and executive branches. In a body so numerous as Congress, it will not be possible to pick out any one man as responsible for a misstep. All will be tarred with the same stick if things go wrong and all participate in the glory of accomplishments, if things turn out well. Representatives and senators come in for some hard knocks and bitter criticism, in part justified, and in part unwarranted. Until some thing occurs to justify a contrary conclusion, let it be assumed that the 73rd session opens with no other object in view than to do just what the country needs, and in the most efficient and speedy manner.

BAUMAN NEWS

(Too late for last week)
On Dec. 31, a family reunion was given for the D. H. Pace family by his daughter Mrs. C. L. Hale. The following members of the Pace family were present; Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Pace, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Pace and family, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Pace, Mr. and Mrs. McMillian and family, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pace. Friends that were visiting were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Forbus and daughter Noveline and son Doyle. In the afternoon string music was furnished by Mr. Lee Forbus and family. Every one expressed themselves as having enjoyed the occasion and expressed the hope that many other such reunions could be held.

Next Saturday night and Sunday is preaching time at Bethel Church. We are expecting a large number at these services. Remember Sunday School at 10: o'clock and B. Y. P. U. at 6:30 each Sunday, morning and Night.

Last Sunday afternoon was regular singing time at Bethel Church. A large crowd was present and a good singing was enjoyed. Remember each first Sunday afternoon at 2:30 is regular singing time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wimberley of Landers visited with their daughter Mrs. C. L. Lee and family last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Meredith of Champion visited with her brother G. W. Foy and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homon Lee and family from Landers visited with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lee and family Sunday.

Miss Ada Pearl Collier from Sylvester visited at home from Saturday until Monday.

W. L. Sanders has moved into the Bauman community from Silver. We welcome them to our community.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lee visited with their daughter Mrs. Clyde Slaughter at Wastella Sunday.

Clarence Bagwell has moved to the Bauman community. We extend a welcome to him.

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Lee visited with Mrs. Lee's brother Mr. R. N. Compton at Landers last Sunday.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday School attendance rose again Sunday, but can still be better. Why not have 200 Sunday. Mr. Leggett's class made the highest grade Sunday and Mrs. Fain's class was second. Mrs. Brame's class continues to lead the adult department. Rev. A. C. Hardin's class was first in giving Sunday and the Dorcas class was second. The Budget went over the top Sunday. Mrs. Dan Butler will teach in the junior department, taking Mrs. Ray's class of 10 years olds. We are greatly missing Mr. and Mrs. Ben Shultz from our midst. Mrs. Shultz teaches in the Junior department.

A very enjoyable teachers' and officers' meeting was held in interest of the Sunday School last Wednesday evening. Three very interesting discussions were given by Rev. A. C. Hardin, J. C. Hall and Mrs. Lester Jarratt. Reports were heard from all classes present. The next meeting will be on Wednesday before the first Sunday in February.

Rev. Geo. Britton preached a powerful sermon at the morning hour Sunday, using for his subject, "and God has Made Flesh." We greatly appreciate having Bro. Britton with us.

Sunday evening the pastor brought an unusually inspiring message from Psalm 37:5. "Commit thy way unto the Lord, trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass."

B. T. S. attendance was about 50 percent Sunday evening. We hope that other members and new members may come. The Primary union was the banner union with a grade of 82. The Intermediates were second. The primaries had 7 present and 7 who had heard the Bible read daily. We don't believe any other union in Mitchell or Seurry county can beat that. We urge more adults and Seniors to come back.

The state B. T. S. goal for 1934 is "Every member of every Baptist Church a member of B. T. S. Why not Loraine?"

WESTBROOK CITIZEN WILL SEEK ELECTION TO OFFICE OF SHERIFF THIS COUNTY

F. F. Oglesby Enters Politics For First Time; Lived In County Since 1913

F. F. Oglesby, Westbrook business man, announced while in Loraine Monday afternoon that he had consented to offer his candidacy for the office of sheriff, subject to action of the Democratic primary election July 28.

The candidate, a resident citizen of Mitchell county since 1913, has entered the campaign after suggestions that he do so came from several admirers. "I have no political promises to offer the voters of this county, but if elected, I shall stand foursquare for law and order and here shall be no partisan favoritism influencing the sheriff's office," Oglesby declared.

"I have entered my candidacy in belief that my record as a citizen of Mitchell county for some twenty years will sustain my claims for consideration of the voters as they go to the polls in July."

Oglesby is a member of the Westbrook Baptist church and carries affiliation in the local Masonic lodge. He has stood for the better things in his home community. This is the first time he has ever offered his name as a candidate for election to a political office.

The candidate plans launching a campaign that will take him into every voting precinct of the county. It is his ambition to meet every voter and discuss claims of his candidacy personally before the primary election. In the meantime Mr. Oglesby states that he will appreciate consideration of his candidacy, and especially invites an investigation of his record as a citizen.

J. H. BALLARD OFFERS FOR RE-ELECTION

J. H. Ballard is again offering himself as a candidate for re-election to the office of District Clerk of Mitchell County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary next summer.

Mr. Ballard is now serving in that capacity and he says he is making the race for re-election on the grounds of efficiency and courtesy in office. He is willing for his past record to stand as he has made it.

"On account of the duties of the office I may not be able to see all the voters before election time, and I want them to know that I will appreciate their vote and influence regardless of whether I see them or not. I feel like I owe my first duty to the office, and therefore will have to be there during the sessions of court. I am running for re-election on my past record and believe that my efficiency in office will warrant your careful consideration."

You can get it in Loraine if it is carried in a Modern Hardware Store, John S. Doshier Hardware Co.

J. B. HOLT ASKS FOR ASSESSOR AND COLLECTOR OFFICE IN JULY PRIMARY

J. B. Holt, present Tax Collector for Mitchell County, has authorized The News to announce his candidacy for the combined office of Assessor and Collector of Taxes, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Mr. Holt has been in Mitchell County for 27 years and is now serving his second term as Tax Collector, and is making the race for the combined office on the record he has made in the present office. His efficiency in his present office has given him every qualification for the combined office.

"I am now serving the people of Mitchell County and if they see fit to elect me to the office I will have nothing to offer but Service," said Mr. Holt. "I will appreciate the consideration of every voter."

MORE JOBS, HIGHER PAY UNDER CODE APPROVALS

Washington—Approval of 8 more codes brings the total number that have been signed by the President to 168, of which 35 have been during December. A rare exception during the depression has been the domestic freight forwarding industry, which increased employment 55 percent from 1929 to July 1933, since which time, under the Blue Eagle, workers have increased 18.4 percent and pay rolls 14.7 percent. The approved code consolidates these gains. Under the nonferrous foundry code annual increase in pay rolls of $7,500,000 is anticipated, and about $250,000 under the code of the waxed-paper industry. The number of employees in the refractories industry has been increased 80 percent since last March, and pay-roll increases 150 percent. From 40,000 workers in 1929, the set-up book industry dropped to 29,000 in 1932. Under the code this has been brought up to 35,000, with 20 percent increase in pay.

THE W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of the Methodist Church met at the church Monday afternoon at three o'clock in Bible study with ten members and one visitor present. We extend a cordial welcome to all visitors.

The lesson was the first six chapters of 1 King. The opening song was "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" and "Have Thine Own Way, Lord." The Lord's Prayer was given in unison.

The class will take as its study next Monday a new book "The Never Failing Light" which will be taught by Mrs. Hester. Ladies, lets come to these meetings. I am sure you will enjoy them and get a blessing.

We were dismissed in prayer by Mrs. Marshall Bruce.

Frank Crownover, present commissioner for precinct 4 of Mitchell County, is announcing this week that he will be a candidate for re-election, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Mr. Crownover is now serving his first term as commissioner and has made an enviable record for efficiency. During his tenure of office he has had a great deal more to do than commissioners who served in normal times, but he has met the problems as they arose in a very satisfactory manner.

Mr. Crownover made the following statement: "I have done the best I knew how during this term in office and if the voters see fit to return me for second term I will continue to attend to the duties of the office to the best of my ability. I will appreciate the continued support and influence of the voters."

GEO. W. OUTLAW FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Geo. W. Outlaw, of Sweetwater, Nolan County attorney for the past five years and who has been active in the investigation and prosecution of some major criminal cases during that time, announced this week that he is a candidate for the office of district attorney.

Mr. Outlaw has been a resident of Sweetwater since 1815, except for the time he served in the army during the world war, and his attendance at the University of Texas, where he received his law training. He practiced law in Sweetwater from 1921 to 1928 when he became county attorney. Mr. Outlaw has been prominent identified in the investigation and prosecution of several noted criminal cases, including the L. M. Parks murder case in which he directed the investigation leading to the arrest of Parks, and assisted in the prosecution.

The office of district attorney is to be left open by George Mahon who is a candidate for congress from the new 19th district.

"I promise, if elected, that I will devote my efforts to efficiency and fair enforcement of the laws," Mr. Outlaw stated. "I will appreciate the consideration and support of the voters of the district."

Mr. Scown made the following statement: "I wish to announce that I am in the race for Public Weigher of this precinct. "I have lived in and near Lorraine all my life and feel that I know most everyone. The only promise I have to make is that I will give you the efficient service that you expect. I have learned the work and know the requirements of the office as I have worked the past two years as Deputy Weigher and I know I am fully qualified to hold the office.
