JUDICIAL AXE FALLS ON GREAT CHAIN STORES MONOPOLY

DISSOLUTION OF FOOD MERGER IS COURT'S RULING

NATIONAL PRODUCTS CO. MUST SELL HUGE HOLDINGS

By United News. NEW YORK, March 4.—The greatest pool of food companies ever attempted was blocked by the government Thursday when Federal Judge Bondy signed a decree ordering the National Food Products Corporation, a $160,000,000 body to dispose of within 60 days stock it had acquired in competing companies.

The corporation, which was organized last October, filed a brief consenting to divert itself of all such interests.

The decree restricts the corporation to ownership of stocks in one company and in one kind of business located in one section of the country. It prohibits National Food Products directors from being directors in any competing company.

The action was the result of an equity suit filed by the government February 13, under the Clayton anti-trust act.

It was the claim of the corporation that the bankers and prominent food merchants has organized it along the lines of public utility holding companies and that its activities would be to purchase, sell, own and underwrite securities of concerns in the food trade.

Official announcement of plans said that the corporation did not plan to take full control of its constituent companies nor contemplate a merger of the properties. It was to be an investment corporation, according to the organization officers to afford the investor an opportunity to "benefit from a diversified group of selected investments in the food industry."

The government, however, charged that an investigation had convinced federal authorities that the National Food Products Corporation was regarded as an attempt to combine in restraint of trade. The suit, United States District Attorney Buckner said, was an effort to prevent what would be practical monopoly in the retail selling of food and dairy products in 17 states through more than 18,000 chain stores.

The corporation, the government charged would fix prices as it desired.

YOU CAN GIVE BLOOD, BUT CAN'T SELL IT TO U.S. NAVY

Smangler, an enlisted man in the navy, who recently gave some of his blood to save the life of Lieutenant Commander Thomas M. Cochran. Subsequently he billed the navy, seeking $25 for "service rendered."

The navy asked that the bill be allowed, but McCarl ruled that the giving of blood was a "personal service and not the sale of a commodity."

BUSINESS GOOD DESPITE STOCK MARKET BREAK

MELLON AND OTHERS JOIN IN ASSURANCE THAT NO SLUMP IS DUE

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Administration spokesmen join in a chorus of reassuring words regarding the break in the New York stock market. All emphasize that business is as good or better than it was a year ago and that the market fluctuations are purely speculative.

Three of the best informed administration leaders making statements to this effect Thursday were Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, and Senator Smoot, chairman of the senate finance committee. All are men of large private financial affairs and occupy official positions which keep them in the closest contact with under currents in business.

The most detailed discussion came from Hoover.

"This is the usual reverse of a speculative rise," he said. "There is no danger to intrinsic values or earnings. Employment is at a very high level. There is practically no unemployment except that of a seasonal nature. Production is higher than it was a year ago. All commodities are moving quickly. No undue stocks are accumulating. Earnings are on a very high level. Building is on a larger scale than a year ago."

All members are asked to attend the meeting today.

AGGIES TO MEET ENGINEERS IN CAGE CONTEST

Quite a bit of rivalry has been stirred up between the School of Agriculture and the School of Engineering in the past week or so. In the Engineering edition of the Toreador several slurring statements were slung at the boys who have chosen farm life. A little spirit has been manifested since then by both schools. The Aggies plan to get back at the Blue Shirts in their edition which is to be published Saturday week.

In the meantime, the Aggies have challenged the Engineers for a basketball game. The game will be played sometime next week, probably Thursday night. The Aggies boast of a good combination and have pledged themselves to give the boys on the north side of the campus a sound whipping. They have several good players in: Grimes, O. Burroughs, J. Burroughs, Kelly, Walker, Horn and Hayhurst. The Engineers will be handicapped a little by the ruling which prohibits any player to participate who have played in a varsity game. They have a wealth of material though in: Osborne, Pitt, Craddock, Witherspoon, Miles, McDonald, Ratliff and several others. Students of both schools are pledging themselves to be there and back their team to the finish.

Rivalry of this sort develops college spirit and promotes competition among the schools and different departments. It is hoped that this situation shall continue.

LAS CHAPARRITAS TO LUNCH AT CAFETERIA TODAY

Las Chaparritas, the co-ed club of the college who have been busy the past few days selling annuals will have luncheon at the college cafeteria today. A total of over thirty books were sold in the first two days of the campaign. The contest will close the tenth of this month and the girls are working earnestly for the prize.

Miss Rozzell is also an advanced student and does fine work. Grady Moore was also recently added to the force to take the place of Nance who was forced to resign on account of sickness.

President Horn had the first consultation with the officers of the first student association of the Tech yesterday. They decided that the first half of the next convocation would be turned over to the students for discussing problems. The next convocation will be held March 15th at 10 o'clock.

STANGEL GOES TO STOCK SHOW

W. L. Stangel, professor of Animal Husbandry of the School of Agriculture will leave today for Fort Worth where he will attend the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. He was invited as a guest of the Exposition and will act as superintendent of the swine division. He has been in the position at the show for a number of years and has always had a winning team. Because of the infancy of the Tech no team will be sent this year to the show, but it is hoped that a team may be sent in 1927.

Mr. Stangel will also visit the farm of J. T. Orr, president of the Texas Farm Bureau. Mr. Orr recently donated a Holstein bull to the college. Stangel will accept him while there. He is the grandson of Sees Peterie, promoter, the world's champion milk producer. She holds the record of a year's production of 37,380 pounds of milk.

The Lamesa boys, winners of the Boys Club Contest held at College Station last July were visitors at the college with C. T. Watson, county agent and secretary of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce. These boys will represent Texas in an inter-state contest at the Stock Show next week. They spent the day with Stangel making practice judges for the contest.

MAHONEY TALKS AT KIWANIS LUNCHEON

C. H. Mahoney, professor of Horticulture of the School of Agriculture made a talk at the luncheon of the Kiwanis Club yesterday. The subject of his talk was "Flowers and Bedding Plants." He suggested several things for the city to do in co-operating with the citizens in making the city of Lubbock a beautiful place to live in. Available facilities for water is one of the main factors in aiding. Helping the property owners to find their property, line and setting the curb was named as another aid. Public grounds and school yards should be beautified as ## one of the first steps in making a city beautiful.

The club voted to have a Home Beautiful Contest and seek co-operation of the other clubs and organizations of the city. A committee composed of Gamel, Clapp and Wagborne was named to take charge of the campaign. At the next meeting of the club, Professor Wagborne will conduct an old-fashioned singing and Miss Grayum was requested to be present and sing some of the old songs.

Urof. Edgar Shelton, professor of Architecture of the School of Engineering was initiated as a new member of the club. The members enjoyed Mahoney's talk very much. It was instructive as well as entertaining. Mahoney is working on plans for the beautifying of the grounds of the Gen. M. Hunt school in co-operation with the Parent-Teachers' Association.

ARMOUR MAN VISITS TECH

E. N. Wentworth of the Armour Institute of Scientific Research was a visitor in Lubbock yesterday and especially at the Tech. He was formerly in charge of the Genetic Research of Kansas Experiment Station and is a friend of Dean Leidigh of the Tech. He was shown over the properties by Dean Leidigh and Stangel and was very much interested in the work of the School of Agriculture. He was on his way to Spur having just attended the Cattleman's Convention at Amarillo.

Raymond Dean is ill with a case of the mumps. Dean was one of the regular players on the Matador squad and it is hoped that he will be able to attend classes soon.

BLOOD AND SAND FROM EL TORO

So the old Horned Frogs are to make an attempt at impaling our Bull-Fighters along next November. Well, well, well! Here's to the time, be when it may that they do! If they can.

Dark, damp, gray days. Pretty they were, while they lasted—and in the big middle of it all, we heard a mocking-bird on the campus, the other morning, as we were going up to the gullotine at nine o'clock.

In English class one learns just lots of things. We heard someone say yesterday that they liked violin music and poetry. Now, we're in no means prepared to give any of the former, but we can compose poetry. Just listen:

My Ford
The Ford is my auto, I shall not want
It maketh me lie down in muddy roads
It leadeth me into much trouble.
It draweth on my purse; I go into the paths of debt for its sake.
Yea, though I understand my Ford perfectly,
I fear much evil, lest the radius rods
or the axle might break;
It hath a blow-out in the presence of mine enemies.
I anoint the tire with patches,
The radiator boileth over.
Surely this thing will not follow me all the day of my life or
I shall dwell in the house of poverty for ever.

And people wonder why the school bus is in such great demand. Even if it does leave a minute or two or three minutes early and cause some

There is a man not far away, who teaches pullets how to lay, then figures out what each egg costs and how much he has gained or lost. He knows just what a dozen eggs cost him in feed (or so he said) and if a hen don't lay enough he very promptly treats her rough. This man says his leghorn pullets shell out eggs like raining bullets, and even on the coldest day they never do forget to lay. He feeds them good substantial food, don't crowd them too much for their good, and makes them scratch to find their grain. A loafing hen gives him a pain. He says his Long-Bell hen house tight, helps him to keep his profits right, and when he needs a plan or lumber he always calls the well known number.

Funny thing is that had the Chapp's their way there might be a very definite system of credit established. "Borrow the money till' after the tenth" is their pass-word!

Is Heir to Soldier Son He Never Saw

CHICAGO, March 4.—Heir to a son he had never seen, Harry Wilson, of Pittsburgh was awarded $6,500 by Probate Judge Henry Horner here Thursday.

The son was Vernon Ogden Wilson, a United States marine, killed in action at Chateau Thierry. The estate was mostly war insurance. The father left the boy's mother several months before he was born, the court procedure disclosed. He suspected her of a romance with another man.

Later the son enlisted using the name of the "other man" Gardner, to whom he had formed a strong attachment. In 1922, however, Gardner was adjudged insane and sent to an asylum in New York. This prevented him from collecting Vernon's life insurance, despite the fact that he had been listed as the beneficiary.

Learning of his son's death through an aunt, who lives here, Wilson brought suit to obtain a share of the estate for himself and the remainder for the aunt.

The countess, now Mrs. Elmer Schlessinger is a cousin of the late Senator McCormick and a sister of Joseph Medill Patterson of Chicago. She says Washington society finds the "hicks" more interesting than the mere polish "old guard" and the former now are "the fashion" in smart drawing rooms. The hick Senators are more amusing than the old guard type who are all snuffed up in their own technique and afraid to tell any thing," the countess, has one of her characters, a young society woman, say in discussion of a new fad. "The hicks are unafraid, most of them don't take themselves any too seriously. Sooner or later, you work hard enough they'll tell you what they really think." Another character is a debutante who doesn't drink, smoke or "pet" she has a terrible time and loses the man she wanted to marry. Another is a perfect flapper, and she has a lovely time in the book. There is a lion-hunting hostess and a fortune-hunting French diplomat.

FAILURES.

The story is told of Christy Mathewson, the great baseball pitcher, that a new recruit once faced him at the bat. During the first game he got three hits off of Matty. This was a phenomenal record, but one of his team-mates said: "Do you remember what kind of balls Matty gave you for those hits?" "No," said recruit, "why should I remember?" "Because Matty will," said the old-timer, "and he will never give them to you again. You might as well start in practicing hitting the ball in any and every other place, because that's where he will put them hereafter."

It does not require any magic to remember the way in which other men have failed. Why go on giving old man Defeat the same balls? He is certain to get a hit off of you, pitching.

BRITAIN'S COAL PROBLEM

The British government's attempt to rescue the coal industry from disaster by granting subsidy amounting to over 20,000,000 pounds sterling has proved an utter failure and as a result the nation stands under the shadow of the most appalling crisis since the world war.

The program of the powerful labor party demands nationalization of the coal industry, which in turn would force nationalization of the railroads. Meanwhile German mine owners are withholding action on their future plans in anticipation of a fierce trade war or an international system regulating production and a division of world markets.

Great Britain feels that America has reaped vast prosperity from the war and let them down and for that reason they are anxious to form an American alliance that will be all powerful. With half a dozen open or concealed dictatorships in Europe and another threatening in France the old parliamentary democracy seems to have broken down under the war strain and a class war such as threatens Great Britain may change the entire political and social structure of that continent.

SOCIALISM IN ANOTHER GUISE

When the Sherman anti-trust law was enacted it was because statesmen and economists recognized the menace of monopolies and combinations to restrain trade as a precursor of socialism—in fact a pronounced phase of economic socialism. It was argued that where the laws of supply and demand have free play and individual effort a fair field socialism will not thrive.

During the past years, however, the Sherman and Clayton laws have been openly flouted by great corporations and the government seems to be helpless.

Senator King of Utah asserts that wealth unrestrained, no matter in whose hands it may be, sooner or later becomes a despot. When it controls wages, production and distribution it controls the people and holds their lives and liberty in its all-powerful hand. Our railroads are to be consolidated. Most of the raw materials and the manufactured products are controlled by corporations exercising monopolistic control, either actually or potentially.

The safety and security of this republic, not only political but industrial, depends upon the preservation of the competitive system in our economic life. There must be a free and fair field for individual initiative and for the efforts of young men of courage and genius.

The people of America seem to be "asleep at the switch," but when they wake up there will be trouble a plenty.

THE RIGHT TO COMBINE

Like the traffic commission the creation of the federal trade commission was hailed with great satisfaction by those opposed to unfair competition, but it has failed to realize the hopes of its sponsors. In most cases where it issued "cease and desist" orders the courts have reversed the decision of the commission and it looks as though those having a real grievance could get quicker relief by a direct appeal to those courts.

GERMANY AND THE LEAGUE

European diplomats are at swords points over the question of enlarging the permanent membership of the League of Nations Council. This council is the real controlling power of the league. Poland, backed by France, has made a formal bid for a permanent seat. Germany feels that admission to the league is important enough to entitle her to a vote on the question of admitting Poland.

Sweden will exercise its veto power to prevent any enlargement of the league, and the powerful voice of Great Britain will no doubt be heard in the same direction.

STAGE COACH RETURNS

In the evolution of transportation the United States abandoned the stage coach for the railroad; now large numbers of people are returning to stage, or rather motor bus travel. The public highway is again an important artery of transportation. Towns that were put to sleep by railroads have taken on new life. In 1925 more than 7,300 auto bus companies operated over 200,000 miles of public roads.

In 1923 a bold writer on transportation ventured to predict 50,000 buses by 1933. At the end of 1925 the number of buses had reached the 100,000 mark with a capital investment exceeding $300,000,000. What may be expected in the next ten years?

Little Avalanches

Seventy-five Waltham, Mass., citizens have contributed $10 each to a trust fund that is to be held by the Waltham Trust Company for 300 years at compound interest. At the end of this period the fund will amount to $75,000,000 and is then to be used for civic improvements.

Work does not break minds and bodies. Worry does that. Mr. Edison has not worried because he has had no time to worry. He has been too occupied in watching the result of his experiments, too busy in thinking of the needs of others and they can be supplied by science and but few men have ever enjoyed life as he has.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's statistical department has developed the fact that the cost of the child born in the average family ranges from $200 to $300, barring unusual complications. If specialists are employed the cost ranges from $500 to $1000.

A congressional investigation recently completed showed that 49 cents of every dollar paid for goods was consumed in the process of getting the merchandise from producer to consumer.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson asks for a second term because she is not satisfied with the amnesty act which was passed by the last legislature which sought to remove the legal disabilities which the impeachment verdict had imposed upon her husband. She wants the impeachment judgment expunged from the record.

The president doesn't think the government should buy up all the medicinal whiskey in the land as General Andrews recommends. The plan seems to clash with his principle of not interfering with private industry, enterprise and initiative.

In anticipation of recovering a large amount of personal property from the German government the ex-kaiser is reported to have revived much of his old pomp and is entering society.

Tapping Season

SO THINK WE

We think that "hooky" playing is a mighty bad thing among boys and girls of the school age, and some kind of punishment should be dealt out to them, but we doubt very much whether confinement in the county or city jail is the proper thing to do.

We think that several thousand trees should be planted in Lubbock within the next two weeks. This is one year that should not be let get by without planting trees.

We think the county park is one of the prettiest places in the city and we are sure that a lake of several times the size of the county lake could be created and maintained as a recreational park, and be made one of the attractions of the entire southwest.

We think Lubbock should begin to look out for the entertainment features of the development of the city at this time. Are we to devote all of our attention to business and industry and overlook the other things. We can have one of the greatest recreational parks on the canyon in the edge of the city that can be found in Texas if we will just give the matter some serious thought and attention.

We think that Lubbock is probably one of the best watered towns anywhere. The wells are supplying ample water for every need at this time, but we are of the opinion that the big lake system will have to be adopted before the city reaches the fifty thousand mark and that is not very far in the future. We believe that now is the time to look into the matter.

We think the board of directors of the South Plains Fair is doing the proper thing by getting the catalog out early. This has been rather a draw back to the fair heretofore and we are sure the change will greatly benefit the fair.

We think that Lubbock should have a potato curing plant. Several train loads of potatoes might be produced in this section of the country if we can just put them in marketing condition.

We think that Lubbock should try to create a market for all of the produce that the South Plains will furnish. It will make the South Plains farming, dairying and poultry raising more profitable to those who produce it, and will also help to build Lubbock to where it should be.

We think the property owners on Nineteenth street are going after paving in earnest, we understand quite a number have already signed the petition to pave. It would be a great improvement and should be done.

We think there is only one time when one should balk on the job and that is when you feel that you are being driven to desperation.

We think Lubbock could well use fifty good rent houses. We do not mean shacks, or the high priced houses, but just moderate priced good houses.

We think the one who hesitates before he starts across the street is not apt to get run down by an automobile, but he should not stop in the middle of the street, for the same reason.

IT IS REPORTED

That oil and gas may be found in unlimited quantities in the Lubbock territory. Probably if it is some other community will claim Lubbock tried to steal the honor.

That the government is going to try to ban the trashy literature. Wonder who is going to be the judge of when it is trashy and when it is not. We are afraid there will be a chance for some more graft there.

That there are just as big fish in the pool as has ever been pulled out. We believe it is hardly possible after some of Lubbock men have gotten those fellows out that they tell about when they return from a fishing trip.

That the blanks for the income tax reports are now coming in. They are quite different this year from any previous ones. That is to be expected. The United States never gets in a rut. There is something different every year, to tangle the people up, and collect some back taxes with penalties attached.

That there will not be less than 1,500 students in attendance at the Tech College next year. This school has made a wonderful record for the first year. And we are all expecting some great things from this institution in the future. There is nothing strange about this wonderful showing to those of this country, but the fellows back in some of the older settled sections of the state can not see how it can be possible that a new school should make such wonderful strides.

That many people are getting ready to beautify their yards in Lubbock. That's fine. The more the better.

That there will be much more corn raised this year than ever before. Possibly they think there will be a greater demand for it. There might be if it is in liquid form.

That there may soon be a railroad built from Chipley to Enochs.

That the Santa Fe is increasing its yard trackage in nearly every South Plains town this year. That is a good indication that business is increasing.

This and That

Still Life Photographer—"Man you're remarkable. I never photographed any one who could hold the same position for so long without moving. How do you do it?" "Oh, I'm used to it. I'm a bricklayer."

The modern woman is more like a moth than a butterfly—judging from the way she goes through clothes.

TEXAS

By J. MARVIN NICHOLS

EMPIRE BUILDERS

From the dawn of Texas history until this very hour, there have been those dauntless spirits whose daring and heroism have made their names household words in all our homes. From father to son, the story has been told until they have become the immortals among us.

The coming of the first American Colonists found some Mexicans who stood shoulder to shoulder with the pioneers in their struggles for liberty. Among these are:

- 1. The Garza Family—Ancestors settled in San Antonio in 1541. For 200 years they have been identified with that city. The sons of this heroic family stood with an for Texas when a Province of Spain, when a Mexican state, when an independent, when admitted into the Union when in the Southern Confederacy, and when admitted into the Union. 2. Miguel Hidalgo—A patriotic priest of vast learning. On September 14, 1810, he issued his famous war cry for liberty. This was the opening wedge in the revolution which freed Mexico from Spain and planted the seed from which grew the freedom of Texas from Mexico. Hidalgo was a martyr at the hands of the Royalists, only to be immortalized in the days of President Diaz in 1878. 3. Guadalupe Victoria—Born in Mexico, he was active in the struggle of Mexico to free herself from Spain. He was the first President of the Republic of Mexico, and was universally popular. In the passing of Texas from Spanish rule into the hands of the Mexican dominion, so greatly was he loved that the Municipality was named for him, as was also the town. 4. Juan Antonio Navarro—Was born in San Antonio in 1795. He was an uncompromising foe of despotism in every form and everywhere. For this reason he had the unmeasured hatred of Santa Anna. Was Land Commissioner for De Witt's Colony in 1831, and Land Commissioner for the Department of Texas in 1834-35. Santa Anna sentenced him for life, but Herrera, a liberal, released him. Navarro was a member of the Convention which framed the Texas Constitution and at which her independence was declared. 5. Lorenzo de Zavala—Born of Spanish parents in Tuxcan in 1788. He was an ardent supporter of Mexico in her struggle to free herself from Spain. He helped to write the Constitution of the Mexican Republic. While an ardent friend and ally of Santa Anna, he broke with him forever upon his announcement as dictator. Zavala came to Texas in 1836 and threw himself heart and soul with the Texas pioneers. He helped to write our Constitution and was a signer of our Declaration of Independence.

WHEN IS A MAN NOT A MAN?

By HON. CHARLES E. COMBBS, Mayor of Abilene

This leads me to the discussion of the crime wave measured by our contribution to the general disregard of the subject I have most in mind, that is our share of the responsibility for law.

I think, in the first place, that the bootlegger is entitled to as much consideration and respect as the citizen who buys his goods. He can not thrive unless we bought. It is estimated that of the eleven thousand murders committed in the United States annually one in ten is punished. It would be better if one in ten escaped punishment. It would be still better if we hung or electrocuted a few every now and then. I believe in stopping the breed of these criminals who are a menace to society. If criminals are not punished who are responsible but those of us who sit on the jury and acquit them when the proof is evident?

I think it is time we rebuild our homes after the fashion of our fathers and stay in them enough to become acquainted with an to govern our children. We should remember too that sparing the rod spoils the child. If the youth of the country had more punishment administered at home they would be less inclined to violate the rules of organized society.

Much has been said about the pardons granted by the present governor. I hold no brief for her, but allow me to inquire, who is responsible? If you have kept up with the situation you must know that pardons have been granted to convicted criminals because the grand juries that indicted them, the petit juries that convicted them, the district judges who tried them and the district attorneys who prosecuted them and the citizens of the countries in which they were convicted petitioned the governor to pardon them. The people, or a considerable number of them, want the criminals at large or they would not be at large.

It is said, "a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump." Whose leaven is it that leaveneth the lump? If it ours? Are we contributing our share to lawlessness? Can we escape responsibility when it takes eleven traffic officers to regulate our

A SONG

Oh, it's home when the tasks are all done, And the laughter is sweetest and best; It is home to the loved ones, and rest; Where, rather and slip, As I frequently may, There's a kiss for the lip At the end of the day. Oh, it's home where the windows are bright, With a welcoming light which I know! And though stormy and dark be the night, It is home, where no storms ever blow! And though weary the trip, And though heavy the load, There's a kiss for the lip At the end of the road.

TRI-CITY MEET OF POST, SLATON AND LUBBOCK HIGH SCHOOLS WILL BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON AT TECH

Today the high school Westerners will compete in Tri-City Meet with Slaton and Post City Cinder Path Clubs. Coach Lowery has arranged a good card for the afternoon and will be carried out in the most beneficial way possible.

The Slaton club will present some strong men in both the field and track events, having some old letter men in the line again. For this reason Coach Miller will put up a stiff show for both the Lubbock and Post clubs.

Little is known of the ability of the cinder men of Post. However, they are being coached by one of the strongest track coaches in the South Plains high schools, Coach Otis Mitchell, a former Canyon Buff, who at present holds the T. I. A. record in the pole vault. Mitchell has been training his club consistently and steadily since the first of February and will no doubt have a good club here for the meet.

The Westerners have been training hard for the past few weeks and will have a good conditioned club to represent the high school in the events this afternoon. Several of the veterans, who have been under Coach Lowery for several years will again be in action this afternoon.

At the present time the contests will be held on the Texas Tech track as it is the best condition of any of the former meeting places of the track and field events.

This will be the first meet of this kind to be held in Lubbock other than the regular district and county meets.

Wills Wins Again

By United News. MENTONE, March 4.—Helen Wills cleared the way for entrance in the semi-finals of the Metone tournament Thursday by defeating Emily Dearman, 6-1, 6-1. Miss Wills and J. H. Van Allen of Brooklyn defeated Miss Marriot and Charles S. Kingsley of England, 6-4, 6-2 in the mixed doubles quarter finale.

PICK NEW CHALLENGER FOR WELTERWEIGHT CROWN

By United News. NEW YORK, March 4.—With Milligan pushed out of the picture not only once but twice, the New York boxing commission will go ahead Friday and nominate Joe Dundee of Baltimore as the challenger of Mickey Walker for the world's welterweight championship.

Milligan, welterweight and middleweight champion of Europe, had been decided upon by the commission as the appointee for the Walker job, but he was beaten decisively Wednesday night in Brooklyn by George Levine.

Walker will have to accept a challenge on or before March 21.

FANNING WITH FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL. NEW YORK, March 2, (U-P)—Some complaint has been made by correspondents that the writer, among others, was unnecessarily severe in criticizing French tennis officials for permitting the flagrant commercialization of the Riviera tournaments.

The indignation that almost caused Helen Wills, the American champion, to withdraw from the recent tournaments at the Carlton Club in Cannes are so fresh in mind that they need no elaboration.

Miss Wills, repeating briefly, became so upset over the activities of the gamblers and the open exploitation of her name that she would have withdrawn if it would not have looked as if she were retiring through fear of Mlle. Lengien, the French tennis queen.

Why criticize the French people for betting on the outcome of a Wills-Lengien match, it has been asked. Why blame French officials for disposing of the motion picture rights for $200,000, when the same thing is done in this country? Why? Because the same things are not done in this country.

Here's the idea and the reason for severe criticism: Supposing that Mlle. Lengien and Miss Wills were to meet in the Forest Hills stadium.

The Forest Hills stadium is the property of the West Side Tennis Club, a club which is directly under the supervision of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Supposing that John Smith or Bill Green or Sol Bloom or Mike Casey went to Louis Carruthers, president of the West Side Tennis Club and put up this proposition:

"We'll rent the stadium from you for $250,000. That's plenty of dough for a guarantee. We'll handle the tickets and pay all the expenses and you can cash in big on the restaurant business your club will get from the crowds."

Supposing that a movie speculator went to Carruthers and said: "I'll give you $200,000 for the exclusive picture rights. I'm not going to take the pictures but I'm going to soak everyone $25,000 who wants to take pictures."

Do you think for a minute that Carruthers, the West Side Tennis Club or the United States Lawn Tennis Association would entertain such propositions for a fraction of a second?

You know beyond all doubt they wouldn't. Yes, they do gamble on big tennis matches in this country. Thousands of dollars were wagered in Wall Street before the Carlton Club finale but they were largely "gentlemen bets."

It has never been of record, however, that taxi drivers in New York, bell boys and doormen around the hotels and news butchers on the streets solicited bets on any tennis match or any other big sport event. But they did that in Paris and it was quite obvious that the solicitors were merely agents as they certainly could not have had personal funds of the amount they offered.

It may be true that some commercialism is connected with tennis in this country but the profits go mostly to the maintenance of the game and its development. It is a dead cinch that none of the money goes to gamblers or speculators and you can find the figures on the books.

SWIMMING

HONOLULU (U-P)—Plans for an extensive swimming rivaling in importance those of old, when Duke Kahanamoku and other famous Hawaiian swimmers were first breaking into the limelight, to be held as a mid-winter carnival in Honolulu next year, have been announced by Judge W. T. Rawlins, president of the Hawaiian Amateur Athletic Union.

According to the announcement, swimming stars from many countries would be invited to compete, in an effort to create more interest in the sport, as well as to uncover more champions.

There have been no swimming meets of national importance held in Honolulu since 1919, and since many able performers have been found among the young Hawaiians here, local sport enthusiasts believe that with proper encouragement, other world record-breakers will be developed.

At one time last year Landlad made the 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds, a speed considered about as fast as any runner in the Southwestern Conference has ever made it. Landlad was a freshman last year, and was not eligible to participate on the varsity squad. Cockrell is as good on the track as his competitor, and so far this year has been showing up slightly better. He out ran Landlad by a slight margin recently.

Two Steer Track Men Expected To Break Record

AUSTIN, Texas, March 2.—Aubrey Cockrell of Alvin and Jerome Landad of Eagle Lake, two members of track coach Clyde Littlefield's University of Texas cinder path squad are very likely to set a new Southwestern Conference record in the 100 and 200 yard dashes this year. Both of these men are consistent runners and make the 100 yards in 10 seconds regularly.

Alton Baggett of Cameron is another good dash man on Littlefield's squad this season, and will most likely complete the team of three men for the meets this year. Although he can not come up to the time of the first two men, he is a consistent

WOLVERINE STUDENT HELD FOR AUTO THEFT

By United News. SHREVEPORT, La., March 4.—H. B. Mothersill, 20, was held by police here today charged with the theft of several automobiles. Mothersill says that he is a University of Michigan student and was expelled 5 days ago.

He admitted theft of a car in New Orleans and also one in Ann Arbor, authorities say.

SEES DEATH OF 50 IN SMUGGLING PACT OK

EL PASO, Texas, March 4.—Their return to Mexico where they will be greeted by a firing squad is the fate which awaits more than fifty political refugees following the United States government's approval of the Andrews anti-smuggling act, is the belief of Ismael Palafox, former secretary of foreign affairs in Mexico.

MODERN '49ERS GO BY PLANE TO GOLD FIELD

By United News. WINNIPEG, March 4.—A modern gold rush, with gold seeking prospectors using airplanes to reach the new bonanza, is under way here with reports of vast findings in the vicinity of Red Lake, 200 miles north of here.

Already 500 miners have pushed their way northward to the new gold field and by spring there will be a greater rush on than was seen in the Klondike, old mining men say.

For the prospectors who are in a hurry in their dash to the new field of fortune, airplane pilots are charging a dollar a gallon for the 200 mile flight. Many have used the planes to sweep northward.

But the old methods of northern travel also are popular. Dog teams, snow shoes and skis are being pressed into service in the dash to gold. The field is in an almost inaccessible area of bushes and lakes and so far the snow mofors have been unable to push across the waste strip into the mining field.

Husky dogs for the northern trip are selling at a premium, from $100 upwards. The new gold district has been staked for 40 miles along the edge of the proposed strike and prospectors of all sections of the world are en route north to "work" the new bonanza.

Kiwanis to Hear Songs of Long Ago

Music of older days will be featured at the next weekly meeting of the Lubbock Kiwanis Club which Prof. Wagborne of the Tech College, in charge.

Miss Violet Grayum, who with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Frank Barclay yesterday sang two numbers for the Kiwanians, will sing "My Old Kentucky Home," by a request made of her yesterday, by the chairman of the program.

Chapman Tries to Dodge Death Again

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Gerald Chapman, the notorious bandit who is now under death sentence in Connecticut has asked the United States supreme court to review his case.

Chapman based his appeal on the ground that the president has no power to commute the sentence of a prisoner against his will. Chapman was serving a term in Atlanta federal prison for robbing the mails. Connecticut authorities desired to try him on a murder charge, and accordingly sought his release from Atlanta.

Chapman opposed being released but the president handed him over to the Connecticut courts. He is under sentence to hang for murder. He asserts that he has been deprived of his liberty without due process of law, and is being subjected to a state criminal prosecution without first being allowed to serve a federal sentence.

KIWANIANS FOSTER HOME BEAUTIFUL CAMPAIGN

J. B. Maxey, Prof. Wagborne and J. W. Gamel were yesterday appointed members of a committee to launch a "Home Beautiful" contest here following talks on the subject by Kiwanians J. B. Maxey and M. H. Mahoney at the regular meeting of the club yesterday.

The campaign will be launched at once, and out-of-town judges will be called in to judge the homes entered in the contest at its termination.

"The home beautiful contest is as hazardous and dangerous as judging a baby show, and it's not safe to leave the job to home men," Mr. Maxey told the Kiwanians.

WITH DOUD LINE OF SANTA FE WEST TO BLEDSOE COMPLETED ENGINEER AND STAFF GO TO OKLAHOMA BUILDING JOB

L. G. Harris, construction engineer for the Santa Fe system who during the past several months has been engaged in the construction of the Doud line to Bledsoe, which is 93 miles long, has completed all details in connection with the construction of that line and yesterday left for Pawhuska, Oklahoma, with his staff to begin work on a 27-mile out-off on the direct line from Kansas City to the Gulf.

The cut-off is being built from Pawhuska to Fairfax.

Harris was accompanied by R. L. McDaniel, resident engineer at Loveland during the construction of the Doud line; C. A. Mappa, chief clerk and Mrs. Mappa; John Reidglan, clerk; and Arthur Jacobson, stenographer.

Upon the supervision of Engineer Harris the Doud line has been made what experienced railroad men declare is one of the best constructed lines possible, minute attention to details and to the larger engineering problems as given by Mr. Harrison and his co-workers being responsible for these qualities being built into the new line.

Sharp & Fellows, the contractors who built the Bledsoe line, have been awarded the contract for the erection of the Pawhuska cut-off, and a large amount of the equipment used in the construction of the Doud line has been shipped to that place. No time will be lost in the construction of the cut-off, according to information received by men connected with the Santa Fe here.

Engineer Harris has been looked upon as one of the best benefactors of this section, all Santa Fe construction that has been carried out under his direction being of the very best type.

JOLIET, Ill., March 4.—Believing that 90 per cent of the citizens of the United States have violated the Volstead law and will sympathize with him, Richard J. Burrill of this city is going to run for state representative.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

If all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

personal conduct while nine do regular police patrol in detecting and apprehending crime involving moral turpitude.

Why should it be necessary to station officers on our streets, on almost every busy corner, to prevent you and me from running a red light, or turning left when we should turn right, driving a car without lights or numbers, parking overtime, jay-walking, cutting a corner, or from violating other traffic regulations? Why should officers be employed to watch the supposedly law-abiding citizens and prevent them from speeding and endangering the life and limb of the people or from running down innocent children when passing our public schools?

When is man not a man? When behind the steering wheel of an automobile. We used to have some courtesy when we traveled in horse-drawn vehicles. When we met a traveler then we gave him part of the road and we gave a pedestrian a chance to escape with his life. Now we hog all the road, beat him past the corner whether he is on the right or not, even at the risk of his life and ours. We run over a pedestrian if he don't keep jumpin', hank at him with our horn, and laugh because he is scared. Is this good citizenship? Is this contributing our best law enforcement and respect for the law?

At the Majestic theatre the night of the eleventh, when we went there to hear May Peterson sing, I saw a charming young woman in a high powered car. She was beautiful, accomplished and educated. I heard another lady say that she was one of the most attractive young married women in Athlens, and do you know" said she, "this young lady is daring she paid $21.75 for speeding last week?" So, it is credit to speed, to break the law. One thinks you are daring.

When the commission passed an ordinance some months ago in an effort to preserve and protect human life, making it an offense to walk across our busy streets, except at street intersections, a number of our leading citizens banded together and jay-walked just to show the officers how futile it was to try to enforce

MORE DEADLY NARCOTICS DISPLACING OPIUM AS "DOPE" FOR CHINESE

By RERT L. KUHN United Press Staff Correspondent SHANGHAI, China, Mar. 2.—Morphine, cocaine, heroin and other of the more deadly narcotics are gradually assuming a position which puts them on a par with opium in the total of China's illicit imports. Reports of huge importations of drugs are circulated here from time to time, and in many instances they seem to have a substantial foundation. Even a cursory investigation by an untrained observer shows that narcotics are on sale quite openly in many sections of Shanghai, and the number of purchasers in recent years shows a steady growth.

Farmers At Lorenzo Find That Diversification Pays

CITY THRIVES AS CENTER OF RICH COUNTRY

BY RAY B. MCCORKLE
Staff Correspondent

LORENZO, March 4.—Although farmers in this section have not gathered anything like a normal cotton crop local growers report that more than 5,000 bales have been baled here this season. Primarily this is a cotton section, though grain farmers are very successful and many cars of grain have been shipped out of here during the past year.

"A majority of farmers in this section are following the diversified program," said Emzy Pierati, cashier of the First State Bank, "and they find that it pays." Mr. Pierati has been a resident here for almost ten years and has seen the town grow from a village of only a hundred or so people into a thriving city of a thousand souls. Since the town was organized in 1913 it has enjoyed a continuous and substantial growth.

Lorenzo may well be mentioned as one of the liveliest and most progressive towns of its size on the south plains. There is no discord in the city, and factions are unknown. Every man and woman here is for Lorenzo first and then the south plains. They are willing for a neighbor to prosper without becoming jealous.

In 1923 the city was incorporated, and since that time many modern city improvements have been added. Business men and farmers support their chamber of commerce in a most admirable manner, and the entire city is pleased with the services of Secretary Aubrey Ashley, Methodist minister.

There are four cotton gins in Lorenzo, and during the fall months all of them run to full capacity. There is also one large grain elevator here.

A majority of business houses are of brick, and some of the neatest and best arranged stores to be found in this section of the state will be found in Lorenzo. The high school building, a modern brick structure, would do credit to a city twice the size of Lorenzo.

As has been said before, farmers in the Lorenzo territory are strongly in favor of diversification. There are very few farm houses where you will find a few hogs and a flock of chickens. So far poultry has been one of the leading products of the county, and the number of birds raised is being increased each year. As a rule only standard-bred varieties will be found.

In December poultry growers of this territory staged their first poultry show, and to say that it was a success from every point of view is not an exaggeration. There were more birds on display than promoters of the show anticipated, and the class of birds surprised many on the sidelines. The show will be made an annual affair, and the 1925 county poultry show will meet here each year in December.

Lorenzo is steadily growing, yet there has never been what might be termed a boom. The town is surrounded by some of the richest farming land to be found anywhere, and after all it is agriculture that counts on the south plains.

HALE COUNTY SENDS CHECK TO STATE FOR TAXES

PLAINVIEW, March 4.—The January remittances of state and county taxes for Hale County were over $155,000 according to S. H. Towery, tax collector.

Checks issued by Mr. Towery are as follows: $59,825.13 to the State Comptroller for current state taxes; $15,537.87 to the State Highway Department for their portion of the automobile taxes collected; the county receiving $5,917.33 as its portion; $24,769.75 to county school depository (Third National Bank) for use in common school districts. Mrs. Maggie Magee, county treasurer, received checks for the following funds: $18,198.14 for the general fund; $10,884.58, road and bridge fund; $50,849.58, court house and jail fund; $4,269.95, jury fund, and $9,945.46, special road tax in Precinct No. 1.

TO RESTOCK FLOYD WITH HIGH GRADE HOGS

FLOYDADA, March 4.—Bankers in this city working in conjunction with farmers in the Floydada territory, have started a campaign to restock this district with high grade hogs. During the past few years there has been very little market for hogs and as a result farmers have found it unprofitable to raise them. But in order to carry out the diversified program it is necessary for each farmer to raise his own meat even if he has no surplus in market.

The two banks, the Floyd County National and the First National, expect their first car of registered pigs in this week. They will be distributed over the territory to as many farmers as may desire them. J. I. Hammons, hog expert of this city, has been in Nebraska, for several days buying up the stock to other shipments will in all probability be made at a later date.

PLAINVIEW, March 4.—Construction on C. R. Veigle's 100 x 125 foot, two-story office building at Plainview will start soon as contractors Tilton and Dennis, clear the lots that the building will occupy between 7th and 8th on Broadway of two frame buildings that are now being torn down.

The building will be modern in every respect and will contain three store buildings and wide lobby entrance downstairs with 21 suites of rooms upstairs. All upstairs rooms will be lighted through an air shaft on each side of the building. The front of the building will be of dark red brick, except in east store. ## WICHITA BANKERS ARE DEVELOPING DAIRYING

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, March 4.—Co-operation between the banks of Wichita County, the farmers of the irrigated valley region and the Valley Development Committee of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, promises at an early date to develop the dairy industry in this section and especially in the valley region. The main consideration promises to increase interest in the same industry. The plan is for the purchase of blooded stock, to be sold to responsible farmers at cost. Banks will carry the notes to be paid within twelve months. County Farm Agent Gay R. Jones, will assist the committee in making the purchases. ## NEARLY ONE INCH AND HALF RAIN AT CROSBYTON

CROSBYTON, March 4.—Nearly one-half inch of rain has fallen here today. This will put the ground in excellent shape for finishing of the preparing of farms for planting. Many of the farmers are now winding up their plowing and it is the general opinion that this work is farther advanced than usual at this time of year. The weather is ideal for the growing wheat.

BRISCOE COUNTY FARMERS GATHER GOOD COTTON CROP LAST YEAR

SILVERTON, March 4.—It may be that the South Plains is not a cotton country, yet there are many farmers in Briscoe County who will be only too glad to compete with farmers in any other farmers in any other section of Texas.

One man who resides three miles northwest of Silvertown has gathered 19 bales from a 30 acre field, and his neighbor 32 bales from a 40 acre field.

There are five gins in Briscoe County that have ginned approximately 15,000 bales this season. Two of the gins are still running.

Seven Thousand Eggs Set Weekly By Floydadaian

Setting 7,000 eggs per week may sound like a fairy story for a poultry man of the plains; but it is just an average week's run for L. A. Marshall of Floydada who has two large incubators in the basement of his home.

"I look for an even greater year this year than last when we hatched out over 50,000 chicks," said Mr. Marshall. There is an unusual "fever" on the plains generally and Floydada in particular.

The big outlook in the poultry game is the capon business, to quote Mr. Marshall, for the reason the chickens can be used for brooding purposes, varying from forty to fifty chicks at a time and as soon as they are reared, are ready for more, and can be sold in March, when the best price (thirty-five to forty-five cents per pound) is paid for meat. This theory has been suc-

GOOD RAIN IS REPORTED AT SNYDER LAST THURSDAY

SNYDER, March 4.—A slow rain has been falling the greater part of yesterday and today. It will be a great benefit to the wheat and oat a good season in the land where it has been plowed.

The farmers in this section of the country are well advanced in their work this year. More so than previous years. The majority of them have their land ready for planting now.

The Payment of the Book of Job will be presented at the Lubbock High School auditorium. Prices 25c, 35c and 50c.

Roasted in clean, fresh air a few pounds at a time

HILLS BROS. COFFEE is not roasted in bulk, but rather, a few pounds at a time. This patented continuous-roasting process permits of even temperature and constant ventilation. Clean, fresh air circulates through the roast, developing that inimitable flavor that has made Hills Bros. Red Can the pride of the coffee-loving West.

To prove what controlled roasting does for coffee, break the vacuum seal of a tin of Hills Bros. Release an aroma the like of which you never met before. Then—brew a cup and raise it to your lips. In all the world, no flavor to compare to this! Ask for Hills Bros. by name and look for the Arab on the can. It's quite important.

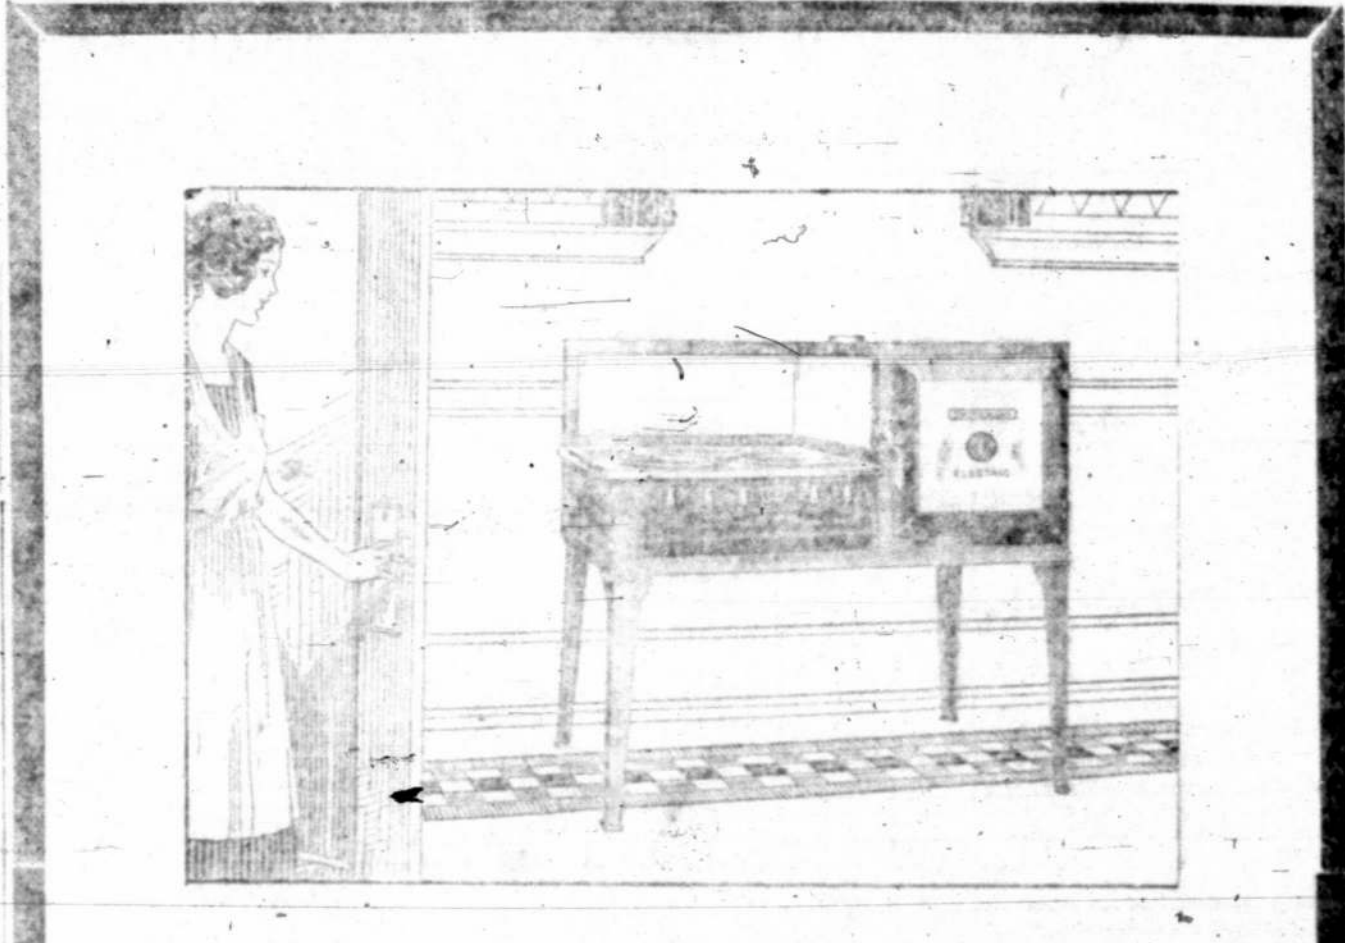

To make a perfect cup of coffee, brew as described in "The Art of Entertaining," mailed free upon request. Write Hills Bros., San Francisco.

STOCKS

NEW YORK FINANCE
BY E. WALTER MOCKLER
Financial Editor United News
NEW YORK, March 4.—Technical conditions assorted themselves Thursday and it required only the impetus of strong buying orders from banking interests to turn the market into more constructive channels.

For the past few days it has been known that banking interests were inclined to view the rout of stocks with considerable concern. Such a near panic is always fraught with considerable danger and steps were necessary to halt selling for at least a sufficient period to permit the market to gather sufficient stability to allow full consideration of the factors entering into the decline.

There has been nothing of a really unfavorable nature to account for the sudden panicky conditions. The rush to throw stocks overboard was started by the action of bears who opened up weak accounts near the top and started the landslide moving. With no new incentive to buy and a natural desire to protect a long position, this was not difficult. Once the movement gathered headway, outside influences were powerless to check the drive.

It would have required some improvement of very decided importance to bring in sufficient buying power to give the market the abrupt check that was needed. Lacking this natural brake, bankers evidently decided to throw money in the market as a means of artificial respiration.

Menstrine traders who had sold stock short at the higher levels were faced with much the same problem as had handicapped bulls during the trading around the previous top. The violent break had forced stocks into the market at an abnormal rate. Short selling continued merrily all through this debacle of trading and a tremendous volume of shorts were trapped at the bottom.

As selling pressure subsided and new bulls appeared, these shorts were forced to compute with actual buying orders for the stocks necessary to close out their commitments. This competition, growing keener as the market recovered, eliminated the need of banking support. The landslide, fed as it was by the distress liquidation, had turned into a relentless climb, forced upward by forced buying.

Cashmatters had broken to 77 1/2 under stress of forced selling earlier in the week. On Wednesday this figure had fallen to 92 and Thursday the issue shot up to par. At the close it was up seven points for the day.

Inasmuch there was nothing in this strength to account for this recovery, it was apparent that forced selling by bears had been responsible for the sharp rally. The close was above the previous high for the year.

FOSTER PARENTS USUALLY EXCEL NATURAL PARENTS IN CHILD CARE SAYS JUVENILE JUDGE LINDSEY

By STANLEY WHITAKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

DENVER, Colo., March 4.—Ben B. Lindsey, nationally known juvenile judge of this city, believes that foster parents are often more fitted to rear children than are natural parents.

"Children born into homes are often unwanted, unloved and uncared for, said Judge Lindsey, 'while every child adopted is wanted otherwise it would not have been taken.'

"The care and training these foster children get is shown by their record in school and their behavior. I do not recall a single instance of an adopted child being brought before the juvenile court for criminal conduct."

Judge Lindsey said that the "doorstep" waif was largely fiction. He said the large number of adopted children come from maternity hospitals and homes and that a large number of the mothers of these children are receiving aid under the state maternity law. These benefits do not necessarily come from tax-payers' money. The father may be paying the bills.

"From founding to a brilliant career may seem a long step, but there are hundreds of young Denver people who have made it," Judge Lindsey said. "The explanation is the adoption home. Few of the 200 to 300 waifs which come under the care of the juvenile court each year are sent to institutions. Most of them are adopted."

"Although Denver does not dream of it, hundreds of the most promising girls and boys in its schools began their lives as homeless babies, deprived of the heritage of being raised by their own mothers."

"The brightest child in Denver, according to reports of educational experts, was one adopted in the juvenile court here."

In 26 years on the juvenile bench here Judge Lindsey has seen thousands of waifs settled in happy homes and made as many mothers' happy who came to him with the question: "What can I do with it?"

Linking marital tangles of divorce court with problems of the waif Judge Lindsey pointed out that in Denver there are more separations and divorces annually than marriages.

"However, there are fewer separations and divorces of foster parents than there are of natural parents. The child that is left with a terrific handicap to overcome by headless father and mother is often painstakingly reared by some kindly couple with room in their hearts for the child of another," the juvenile judge said.

"It seems that the waif has an advantage over the child that opens its eyes in its own home."

SYMPATHETIC SENATE ELEVATOR BOY KNOWS INSIDE OF SENATE

By JOHN T. MOUTOUZ
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—William Watts of Washington hasn't published his diary yet, but if and when he does—if he has kept one, which is unlikely—he will have some interesting stories to tell.

William Watts of Washington has been an elevator man in the senate office building for 25 years. During that time he has learned a lot about certain senators that neither their constituents nor the newspapermen have ever known. Cooped with him in his elevator cage, senators by their words or lack of words have revealed themselves to Watts in a most intimate fashion.

This experience has taught Watts many things useful to him in his job, but none of more importance than in knowing when to speak and when not to speak to the senator he is carrying up or down in the elevator. By the expressions on their faces he knows how to act.

Watts has also trained his ear to know by the buzz of the bell which senator is ringing. This is not as difficult as it might seem, because a senator, to distinguish himself from the general public (rings three times). By the interval between the three rings Watts says he knows who is calling.

"I didn't have to tell that way when former Senator Gorman of New York wanted me," said Watts. "He was the most impatient man I ever knew. If I didn't come right away he would shake the door and kick it."

"Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania was also impatient, but he had his own private elevator. The elevator boy in charge had to keep the elevator on whatever floor Penrose was, and had to have the door open so that the senator wouldn't lose a minute. He never talked to anybody."

Senator Gillett, Republican, Mass., is the only senator who rides in Watts' elevator, who doesn't carry himself of the instant service by ringing three times. "The Senator says what is good enough for him, public is good enough for him," Watts explained.

Senator Underwood, Democratic Ala., is the most generous man in the senate, Watts has found. The dollar tips are nothing unusual from him. Senator McLean, Republican Conn., is the most generous ordinarily generous to Watts, he says.

But all the senators are generous to his Christmas, with cash gifts of from $10 to $20 from each. The elevator man's wage is $120 a month. Watts thinks there hasn't ever been a man in the senate more kind and considerate than former President Harding.

"Every day at noon," he related, "Mrs. Harding would drive here in her electric car. The Senator would notify another operator and myself and the three of us would join Mrs. Harding out in the car, and there, car rattles, Mrs. Harding had brought. We all sat there together and ate our lunch."

Because of his long service here Watts has long been one of the pets of the senators. Senator Lodge took him up to his home on the bay and fished with him, and Senator Shipstead, Republican, Minn., finds Watts a most agreeable companion for a fishing trip down the Potomac. Watts thinks the funniest thing that has happened to him during the work here was the time he tried to get President Coolidge, at that time the Vice President, a job.

"Every morning for more than a year I used to see a rather small man standing out here in the corridor, smoking a cigar, and looking as if he were out of a job and trying to get up enough courage to stop a senator and ask him for a job."

"So one day I went to see Al Warner, the superintendent in charge over here, to see if I couldn't get him to do something for the man in the corridor. Al got in the elevator with me as I went to answer a bell, and the man I wanted to get a job for stepped in. I pointed him out to Al, and Al, has never got over joking me about it."

WELSH HORSE SHOWS DISPLACED BY AUTO

LONDON (United Press)—Due to the increasing interest in motorizing and the decreasing interest in horses a number of horse show societies in South Wales have decided not to attempt to hold any shows during the present year.

This is an abandonment of a custom that has endured in Wales for hundreds of years. Some of the individual horse show societies have been in constant existence for more than 250 years.

Be sure and see the Pageant of the Book of Job—a play that would cost you from $2.50 to $3.00 in the larger cities—see it at the High School auditorium for 25c, 35c and 50c.

February Fally of Overparkers is 103

Well they are keeping 'em off the streets now, but during the month of February just 103 Lubbock citizens were haled into police court to explain why it was necessary for them to keep the family car parked on Lubbock's best streets all the time.

Some of these people did some real explaining, but most of them left a small amount of silver with the chief—just as a gentle reminder you know. Fines were light, but they were fines.

A few weeks ago a traffic cop was added to the force, and he was instructed to enforce the law without favor or favor. He may not carry a gun, but he carries a blue pencil and more than one car owner has seen him use it. "It is all right to have a mark on your car—just one, but be sure that you move the car before he gets back one hour later," the police say. "In other words if you are going to spend the day in town you will find it to your advantage to park old Liz on a 'side street.'"

During the past two weeks there have been very few violations.

More than a score of realtors from Wichita Falls will attend the meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at Tulsa, Oklahoma, June 8 to 11. Among other things they are going to tell the National Association of the Wichita irrigated valley.

LARGE ATTENDANCE WANTED TO SEE "BOOK OF JOB"

Members of the Mary Helm Auxiliary of the local First Methodist church are eager to have "The Book of Job," a biblical play that will be presented at the High School Auditorium, Friday evening, well attended, according to Mrs. Rufus Rusk, President of the club.

The play will be presented by the Women's Study Club of Lamesa, who were accorded large audiences at Lamesa, Tahoka and Big Springs, where much favorable comment was made about the play and its unusual educational merit.

Ministers, school men and heads of women's clubs who have witnessed the play declare it is one of the best ever offered in this section. Attractive and expensive costumes some of which were brought from the Orient, will be used, according to Mrs. Rusk.

Artificial Silk Invading Japan

TOKYO (United Press)—Japan, the home of real silk, is soon to be among the largest producers of artificial silk. At least two large firms are planning the erection of plants.

Until recently the Japanese silk industry looked upon artificial silk with some amusement, regarding it as a substitute that would be rejected by the average consumer. The Japanese people, however, compared the press and began buying the products of English and American looms. In 1918 artificial silk first appeared in the commodities listed by the department of commerce, when 100,000 pounds were bought in Japan. Last year the imports reached 1,016,776 pounds, of an import value of Yen 3,524,760.

Now the silk worm is to have a human competitor in its own land. See the Book of Job at the High School auditorium on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Admission 25c, 35c and 50c. 122-4
